Announcements

Convention Tour to the Settlement School

WITH Convention definitely set for the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago from June 21 to 27, it is with pleasure that we announce the possibility of a tour to Gatlinburg and the Settlement School either immediately before or immediately following Convention. Plans are being formulated for such a trip, with a special train or special cars, according to the number who wish to go. It will start from Chicago, take about fifteen hours, and the inclusive cost will be thirty-five or forty dollars—exact details will be announced in February. Grand Council is anxious to know how many will be interested in the tour, and also whether you prefer it before or after Convention. Will you write your intention to go and your preference as to time to the Grand President, as soon as possible?

The trip is especially timely, since the fact that Convention is located in Chicago does away with our usual special trains from that point to Chicago. To many of our members, this is a long-awaited opportunity to visit the Settlement School—and in what a delightful, easy way!

Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for Graduate Study

For the year 1935-36, the Fraternity will offer one graduate fellowship with a value of $500. This fellowship is open to any member of the Fraternity who has received her bachelor's degree, and it may be used at any university, either in this country or in Europe, which offers special opportunities in graduate work along the particular line desired by its holder.

Two points will be considered by the Grand Council in awarding the fellowship: scholastic standing and all-round development of character with its resulting ability worthily to represent the Fraternity. Each applicant must state definitely the university which she wishes to enter, the courses which she desires to pursue, and the ultimate aim of her graduate study.

Applications accompanied by photographs of the applicants, transcripts of college grades, credentials from college professors, and other recommendations must be in the hands of the Grand President, not later than January 1, 1936.

All material should be collected by the applicant and submitted as a whole. Blank forms for applications for the fellowship may be obtained from the Grand President at any time. If she so desires, any applicant of former years who has not received the fellowship may make a new application.

Call to Convention

☞ FEW THINGS give greater confidence in the future than does certainty of a splendid, constructive, fine, and progressively strong past. More than twenty-two thousand Pi Beta Phis will, this year, have the opportunity to know the past of their Fraternity as they read for themselves "The History of Pi Beta Phi" as it comes to them as a regular issue of the ARROW. What finer background for a Convention could a Fraternity have than that which Pi Beta Phi will have in the freshly intensified interest and pride in the Fraternity which will result from this increased knowledge of the things for which it has stood and of the results which it has achieved during the almost sixty-nine years since its founding?

☞ BECAUSE the Fraternity will have, this year, the most fraternity-intelligent personnel that it has ever had, issuing a call to Convention seems an especially great privilege. Come to Convention, Pi Beta Phis, active and alumnæ! Come because you want to help build worthily upon the foundation of whose strength and fineness you will be newly appreciative! Come because you want to find still deeper meaning in the priceless riches of Pi Beta Phi fellowship and friendships!

☞ COME to the Thirty-second Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, June 21 to 26, 1936!

Amy Brundage Clark

Grand President

EDITORIAL

WITH DEEP regret the Fraternity world hears of the death of George Banta, Senior, on September 23 last. For many years he was a forceful figure, interested not only in his own beloved fraternity, Phi Delta Theta, but in the general system as well. For many years the company which he founded has published the magazines of many fraternities, including our own, and all will be sorry to hear of his passing. To his family and to Phi Delta Theta, we express our very real sympathy.

The coming meeting of National Panhellenic Congress, to be held at Edgewater Gulf Hotel, Biloxi, Miss., Dec. 4-7, should be one of great interest. So many problems crowd on us these days for solution, so many new situations must be faced with the changing conditions in the world—the fabled wisdom of Solomon could not solve the questions that come daily across the desks of those who administer the affairs of college fraternities. In the consultation of many minds there should be an interplay of ideas equal even to the questions before us today.

To N.P.C. we look for definite forward-looking counsel. Through our delegates we have each one of us a share in its proceedings. We should have a keen interest in the outcome of its discussion.

To Pi Beta Phi a special interest is added to this meeting by the fact that the speaker at the banquet on the first night of the Congress is to be Mary Alice Jones, Tennessee A. Her work towards her doctorate at Yale has been brilliant, her subject vital to us all. Her subject, her conclusions reached after long study, are based on a questionnaire that was sent out to all chapters of the women's fraternities, to Deans of Women, and national officers all over the country. Her conclusions reach into the very life of the fraternity system. It is a real privilege to be able in this number to present an article on the subject by Mary Alice Jones, herself. It merits thoughtful reading by us all.

Are we too modest about our own accomplishments?

We are forced to say "yes" to that. Not that we want to boast, but fulsome boasting is unnecessary. All that we have to do is tell the truth when we are asked questions about our organization! Truth-telling presupposes knowledge—and knowledge implies interest! If someone says "Have you a chapter at a certain college?" and you answer, "I don't know," or if someone asks, "How is your Settlement School supported?" and you don't know the answer, at once you weaken the structure of faith in what the college fraternity has always meant in the eyes of the world that is interested in college affairs. One disinterested member does more to harm her organization than anything else can possibly do. The finest thing that can be said of a fraternity is "How loyal its members are! How devoted they are to its interest!"

Nor is merely interest enough. We must let people know that we belong to one of the greatest of the fraternities. We must not make a secret of that fact! The day of the modest flower blushing in the corner seems to be gone, and however we may regret the days when we never even mentioned the greatness of Pi Beta Phi in rushing, those days are not now. A fair and just estimate of ourselves, based on actual knowledge of what our clubs and chapters are doing, and of what fine women make up their membership—this is the picture of the fraternity we must give to our world. We are judged by our standing and our accomplishments—judged by what we prove ourselves to be. Let us make that something very fine and true.

The call to Convention in this issue brings to chapters a definite responsibility which must soon be met—the selection of the best possible delegate to that Convention. So much depends on that choice! Not only must the delegate meet the constitutional requirements—she must also truly represent her chapter. She must be able to hold her own in discussion on the floor of Convention. She must be capable of making her own decisions. She must not be too easily swayed by a passing breeze of enthusiasm; she must possess faith in the national organization and knowledge of its workings; she must be attractive enough in personality to make friends in the brief days of our meeting; she must be soundly intelligent; she must be faithful to a trust, sure to bring back to her chapter the real meaning of Convention; she must be able to make up her mind on new questions that may come up, besides presenting truly her chapter's sentiment on prepared questions. She must enter into all activities of Convention with equal joy in business sessions, fancy dress parties, and province get-togethers. Perfection? No! Just the all-around college girl to be found in every chapter.

Now that rushing and pledging are over in many colleges, let us take stock of our results and what we are going to make of them.

Everywhere colleges have reported the largest enrollment for years. Pledge classes are correspondingly large, and we feel a glow of pride in the fine girls we have been strong enough to attract to our chapters.

But now that pledging is past, what are we going to do with these girls? How are we going to meet the heaviest task that comes to us? How are we going to help them find happiness in our houses, and at the same time give them the lessons in group living which will fit them for the richer, fuller life they should be able to live?

Instruction in the Fraternity course of pledge training will do much—but not all. We must make these girls feel really a part of our chapters, eager to work for their development, eager to do their full share towards that end. In this so much rests on the older members—not only upperclass active members, but alumnae all through the Fraternity. As we are, so will these younger sisters want to be. We must not fail them!

A national committee, newly authorized by Grand Council, is to receive and present to Convention, suggestions for an improved alumnae department. The members are:

Mrs. William Phelan, 3709 Walnut, Kansas City, Mo., Chairman.

Miss Emilie Margaret White, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. R. W. Noyes, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mrs. Robert Trow, La Grange, Ill.

Mrs. Vernon Wright, Los Angeles, Calif.

Please give this committee your assistance. Mrs. Phelan asks that your suggestions be in the hands of the committee by December 1 in order to receive proper consideration. She adds, "If you are satisfied with the organization of our alumnae department as it is now, please write and tell us. If you are not satisfied, send us your suggestions for improvement."

EDGEWATER BEACH HOTEL, CHICAGO

Convention

THE Edgewater Beach Hotel, as a meeting place for conventions of varied sizes, has no peer in Chicago. It offers first of all, an unexcelled location on the shores of Lake Michigan with more than a thousand feet of wide beach promenade along the water's edge. Its outdoor recreational facilities include a miniature golf course; tennis courts, lighted for night play; children's playgrounds; and beautiful lawns and gardens. The Hotel's private bathing beach is a decided attraction.

Sheridan Road, an artery to practically every important motor route in the United States, is at the door of the hotel, and the hotel, on its own property, and a part of the buildings themselves, provides a modern fire-proof garage accommodating 200 cars, for the use of resident guests, with access to both the Addition and Main buildings without setting foot outside. For those not motoring to Chicago in their own cars, there is the special service provided to and from the "Loop" business, shopping, and theatrical district, in private motor coaches operating on a regular schedule—taxicab service at one-sixth the cost. However, taxicabs are at the door, too, as well as public motor coaches; and elevated and street cars are two and three blocks distant.

The advantages and atmosphere of an ex-rooms greet the guest—lounges and lobbies patterned after the finest examples of Renaissance architecture; furniture and fixtures copied from the contents of fine old palaces of Spain and Italy—heavy crystal and wrought-iron lighting fixtures, too. Here can be arranged card parties, musicales, or affording an excellent opportunity for visits with friends with whom one might wish to talk quietly.

In the Marine Dining Room is found the perfect setting for breakfast, luncheon, tea, or dinner—overlooking the broad sweep of the beautiful, ever-changing Lake. The room, tropical in its setting of palms and hanging vines in profusion; the center under a movable glass roof; trellised posts with painted birds of elaborate and colorful plumage, and live canaries in brilliant cages singing gloriously. Added to this, the hum of conversation, the swishing of the waves; sunlight on the marble floor—a delightful experience—dining in the Edgewater Beach Hotel Marine Dining Room. The Grill, which serves the same foods as those in the other dining room, except for simpler service and lower prices, also provides a light, clean and comfortable place for breakfast, luncheon, or dinner.

The bedrooms, too, are colorful and cheery with their bright flowered spreads and hangings, painted furniture in a soft green; wide windows admitting a maximum of sunlight and air—a place to rest and regain one's "equilibrium" after strenuous days and nights of entertaining, shopping, or business conferences.

Dedication of Memorial Tablets at Monmouth

(By Action of the Convention of 1934 Grand Council was authorized to choose a suitable marker for the graves of deceased Founders. A simple bronze tablet was chosen and for the following account we are indebted to Amy Burnham Onken, Grand President.)

OCTOBER 27, 1935, a large gathering of Pi Phis met at Monmouth to join in dedicating the new memorial tablets to be placed on the graves of the Founders buried there. Because of the rainy weather the services were held in a small auditorium in the library of Monmouth College, and a great many found standing room only. There were eleven actives from Knox, and five or six alumnæ from Burlington, in addition to the actives and alumnæ from Monmouth, other Pi Phis, various college officials, and relatives of the Founders, including two sisters of Mrs. Turnbull. Mrs. Turnbull's daughter who lives in Philadelphia had definitely planned to attend, but was forced at the last to change her plans, because of family responsibilities. She will be in Monmouth later.

The ceremony used was written by Hallie Chapman Collins and was read by Dr. Grier, son of Ada Bruen Grier. Dr. McMichael's ability to say just the right thing in a most beautiful way was evident in his two prayers which were truly perfect.

Following the ceremony at the library most of those present drove to the cemetery for the unveiling of the markers. Since it was raining most people simply sat in their cars, but there were quite a few who got out and stood at the graves during the unveiling. The granddaughter of Mrs. Hutchinson unveiled her marker. The president of the Monmouth chapter unveiled Mrs. Kilgore's marker, and the Knox chapter president unveiled the marker for Mrs. Turnbull. Frances Ann Thompson and Jennie Nicol were mentioned in the ceremony and markers for them were later placed in their cemeteries.

Later in the day the Monmouth alumnæ held a delightful open house for all those who were present at the ceremony.

College Women Look at Their Fraternities

By MARY ALICE JONES, Tennessee Alpha

THERE ARE few questions being asked to-day regarding student life in colleges which receive answers more varied, both in content and in temper, than the question, "What do you think of fraternities?" In the effort to find some of the facts in this situation in so far as it relates to women students, an investigation was undertaken of the actual functioning of the women's fraternities today in their influence upon the personality development of their members.

Visits to a number of campuses in all parts of the country, and interviews with several hundred students, conferences with deans of women, religious workers among students, college faculty members, national and province officers of a number of fraternities, provided an array of interesting—and diverse—opinion. A careful study of the official manuals and periodicals of the fraternities, generously provided by the officers, gave additional information. It was felt, however, that the undergraduate members, themselves, those who are actually participating in the active life of the college chapters, should have a large opportunity to express themselves on a number of important questions. The officers of the fraternities were approached for permission to get in touch with the chapters and to secure directly from them, without any supervision, their first hand reports. The officers of twenty-one of the twenty-three fraternities which are members of National Panhellenic Congress were most cordial in their response and cooperated wholeheartedly by sending notice to their chapters that the material was coming and urging them to treat it seriously. One other fraternity gave permission, but requested that the returns be sent through the fraternity officers. By the time the misunderstanding was cleared up it was too late for this fraternity to be included. Only one fraternity refused permission for the investigator to approach its chapters.

It was not possible to get in touch with all of the 40,000 women students related to the 1165 college chapters on 155 campuses. It was felt, however, that some contact with each chapter was desirable; so a questionnaire asking for information regarding the relationships of the chapter to its college, to other student organizations, to its national organization, was sent to the president of each active chapter of each fraternity cooperating. In addition, twenty-five institutions were selected, representing all sections of the country, all types of institutions, and all fraternities, and in these institutions a questionnaire asking for information regarding the student's own personal attitude toward her fraternity was sent to each student member of each chapter on the campus. Over 2100 replies were received.

Each of these questionnaires contained eighty questions, and some of the questions contained a number of parts. Several fraternity officers and deans of women expressed some doubt about the students taking the time to answer the questions thoughtfully. Knowing how busy modern college students are, the investigator, herself, was rather uneasy! But the returns were most gratifying—over 70% replying—a very much larger return than that usually received from questionnaires sent out in connection with educational studies. There was practically no evidence of carelessness or lack of sympathy with the study. Only two questionnaires had to be thrown out for these reasons. In addition to the questions asked, opportunity was provided on each questionnaire for a free expression of opinion from the student regarding any aspect of her fraternity experience. Approximately three-fourths of the students made these additional comments, many of which were carefully written and very illuminating.

The study attempted to bring together the reports of deans of women, fraternity officers, and students and, after analyzing all the factors, to indicate certain situations which need thoughtful attention from all those concerned. This present article will concern itself only with the replies of the student officers and members. It will not, of course, be possible to present in a brief article all the data received from the students, but a summary of representative material will be attempted.

One section of the chapter members' questionnaire dealt with the ideals and purposes of the fraternity. Among the questions asked were: "What in your opinion is the worth and dignity of the ideals of your fraternity?" and "What in your opinion is the relation of the standards and ideals of your fraternity to your every day activities and conduct?" Following each question five possible answers were proposed and the student was asked to check the one which most satisfactorily described her own attitude. A very large majority, 81%, reported that they considered the ideals and standards of their fraternity beautiful, attractive, and inspiring. The only other proposed answer which received the check of any significant number was, "The ideals are beautiful but impractical," 11% checking this answer.

Closely related to the matter of attitude toward standards and ideals, is the reaction to the ceremonials and rites of the fraternity. It was almost the unanimous opinion of the members replying to the questions asked that the ceremony left them with a satisfying sense of its dignity and worth, over 90% so reporting. A large majority also reported that the ceremony stood out as one of the high moments in their lives, and that it made the ideals of the fraternity appear desirable for their own lives. Only 9% felt that the ceremony was futile or sentimental.

When it comes to the matter of acknowledging that the ideals and ceremonies of the fraternities actually make a difference in the every day attitudes and conduct of students the opinion is not nearly so unanimous. Just a bare majority of the students report that the standards of the fraternity help them to do what they know is right, to avoid what they know is wrong, and a similar number say that the initiation ceremony influences conduct.

It is not surprising, of course, that these differences should appear in the report. It is much easier to recognize that an ideal is beautiful or that an initiation ceremony makes noble aspirations appear desirable than it is to go contrary to the majority opinion on the campus in actually putting into practice the ideals which are appreciated as being worthy of allegiance. But this discrepancy between professed ideals and actual conduct is being made the center of a good deal of criticism, and if it continues it is likely to increase the misunderstanding of the fraternity among certain college administrators. Moreover, to pay verbal homage to standards which one is not willing to translate into conduct is a practice which leads to serious consequences in the personality development of the individual.

Fraternity women have a real responsibility to their campus in this area. One of the deans of women said specifically:

The woman's fraternity is the only social agency whose code of morals and standards of social conduct seem important or valid to the undergraduate. If leading social fraternities can be induced to keep their codes high and to live up to them, the rest of the campus will conform.

Another one in a similar vein says:

The sororities can regulate moral and social conditions on the campus much more easily than can the administration. They determine student public opinion in such matters.

Related also to the student's general attitude toward her fraternity are the reasons which led her to desire to join. Each student was asked to check from among twelve proposed reasons, the three which were most influential in leading her to desire to join the fraternity of her choice. The fact that she liked the girls in the group and wanted to be better friends with them was the reason which received by far the largest number of checks and was the only one which received the vote of more than half of the respondents. The reason next most influential was the national standing of the fraternity, and the third most important matter was the prestige of the chapter on the local campus. Less than one-fourth of the members checked the appeal of the ideals as one of the three most influential reasons, and only 14%, its interest in intellectual and scholarship activities.

It appears from this report that fellowship within the chapter group is what the new members most eagerly seek. Do they find this fellowship? According to their replies to other questions, it seems clear that, in a large measure, they do. Over 80% reported that they had found in their chapter understanding, companionship, satisfying good times, and that membership in the group had increased interest in others and their ability to get along with others. In the free responses made by the students on their questionnaires this matter was mentioned more than any other—the fact that the chapter group provided real fellowship and support, and that living with others in the intimate relationships of the chapter had taught the member tolerance and adaptability. However, less than half of the students expressed any positive conviction that the fraternity fellowship had helped them to "find themselves," to develop their own individual interests and talents. Though this would appear to give some support to the contention that the fraternity standardizes its members, when the students were asked the direct question regarding the fraternity's insistence upon conformity, only 9% reported that this insistence "cramped their style."

A number of specific questions were asked regarding the helpfulness to the individual of the program of the fraternity for personal growth. The responses to the questions regarding the pledge training show that in helping the new member to feel herself a part of the chapter fellowship, the pledge program is very effective, and in giving a sense of pride in the fraternity's history and purpose, it is even more effective. But in the matter of help in understanding the purposes and standards of the college and in the matter of the pledges's personal attitudes and conduct, the evidence indicates that the fraternity program of pledge training has been successful in only about half of the cases. The response to the questions regarding the initiation ceremony have already been considered, showing that the students regard with appreciation this phase of the fraternity program.

Assuming responsibility for the welfare of the group through committee work, holding offices, and so on, appears to be the experience within the chapter which is most universally recognized as having large value in personal growth. The individual conferences with older members of the chapter regarding specific matters of attitude and conduct seem also to be highly appreciated as a means of becoming a better person, while fraternity publications and group conferences with fraternity officers are likewise reported by a substantial majority of the student members as affording real help in personal development.

Though a majority of the members say that their fraternity experiences have helped them in developing a personal standard of values, only one-fourth of them indicate that the specific practices of religious observances and discussions, and participation in enterprises of a service nature on the campus or in the community are definitely encouraged by their chapters. The official literature of almost all of the organizations places emphasis upon such matters, but it does not appear that they have become a vital part of the real life of the active chapter. Questions were also asked regarding the influence of the fraternity upon the student's interest in problems in the general fields of social, economic and civic relationships. The prevailing attitude of the chapters toward such enterprises and problems as reported by the chapter presidents is one of neutrality.

Some critics are saying of fraternities today that they encourage artificial social distinctions among the members of the college community, that they tend to the establishment of a "caste" system, create snobbishness, and the like. A number of questions were asked the student members to try to discover whether or not they were aware of difficulties in these areas. The answers indicate that they are. Almost half of them, 47%, said that they had felt troubled by the thought that they were enjoying in their fraternity relationships and privileges denied to other worthy girls and that they thought the present system of the selection of new members made for snobbishness. However, only a small minority felt that their fraternity membership interfered with the making of friends outside the group or restricted their choice of men friends.

The deans of women were most critical of the attitude of snobbishness on the part of the "large" groups toward the "small" groups on the campus. Questions asked the students revealed the fact that almost unanimously they recognized "rating" of groups on their campus. A large number in their free responses commented upon this problem as a major one interfering with the harmonious functioning of fraternities on their campus.

Whether fraternities are helping or hindering the intellectual development of their members is another question on which there has been a good deal of disagreement. All of the organizations emphasize scholarship in their program and offer many awards for individuals and chapters which win high place on their campus. Questions asked the student members brought answers which indicated that 62% felt that their fraternity helped them to do their best in college work, and only a small minority felt that the fraternity emphasized so many social and campus activities that it interfered with scholarship. The reports of the deans of women show that during the past two years a majority of Φ B K awards to women on the campuses studied have gone to fraternity women, though less than half of the women students concerned are members of a fraternity. The scholarship rankings, where comparative figures are available, show that the fraternity women are higher than non-fraternity women on almost two-thirds of the campuses.

These reports, however, deal primarily with grades received. When questions were asked the students regarding the stimulation of genuine interest in philosophical, scientific, religious, literary, artistic, and civic matters, only about one-third of the students reported that their fraternity fellowship had been helpful. Similarly, when the chapter presidents were asked whether serious discussions of intellectual matters were considered "good form" in the chapter life, just half of them answered in the affirmative.

A careful review of the personal statements of college women regarding their fraternity relationships, made under conditions which offered the largest possible opportunity for frankness, indicates a wholesome state of affairs. There was criticism—sometimes pretty severe criticism—on the part of the student members. But the criticism was not of the basic idea of fraternity fellowship but of certain undesirable practices which have grown up connected with it. It was the more mature students and the students who held important campus offices from whom came the most thoughtful criticisms. They feel irritated with the over-emphasis upon social activities, impatient with the artificial distinctions among groups, out of sympathy with the undue importance attached to "social prestige," deeply dissatisfied with the present competitive system of rushing. It is just these aspects of the present fraternity situation which are being attacked by unfriendly college administrators and the public at large. These aspects are, of course, out of harmony with the basic purpose of the fraternities. But to say they are out of harmony with the purposes of the fraternity and to allow them to continue is to put the fraternity in a very undesirable position before the college world. The criticisms of thoughtful student members must be faced frankly and intelligently by the entire membership.

The very large amount of appreciation of the fraternity expressed by the members, and the sincere affection in which it appears to be held place it in a strategic position on the college campus to become increasingly influential in the personal development of the women students. In spite of the questioning which is present on many campuses, the results of the study that was made show that women students want to join fraternities, and that those who have joined find the experience satisfying and rewarding. Only 5% of the students answering reported that if they had the experience yet before them but knew what they now do about fraternities they would not join again. An additional 10% were uncertain, and 85% were sure that they would join again. This is a remarkably high per cent in view of the present conditions.

Moreover the organizational set-up of the fraternity, providing for fellowship between the mature and the immature members of the organization through the alumnae advisory boards and the visiting officers, and the opportunity within the chapter group for intimate, small-group comradeship with one's peers holds within itself large possibilities. The results of the Character Education Inquiry show that the group life is essential to individual growth. Recent studies of student life reveal a great need for stimulating fellowship in the search for real values in life. A fraternity is primarily a fellowship, and where there are harmony of purpose, sincere affection, a spirit of mutual helpfulness among the members, it is good fellowship, making for personal development and social efficiency. It is the quality of the fellowship within the chapter and between the chapter and the alumnae which is the determining factor in evaluating the contribution which the woman's fraternity is to make to student life today.

Amy B. Onken Awards

THESE are awarded this year for the first time. They are the gift of Mr. L. G. Balfour, and are to be given each year hereafter to the girl in each province who possesses the highest qualifications in scholarship, personality, fraternity service, and student activities. The province winners are chosen by the province presidents, and from these twelve names Grand Council chooses in turn the one with the most outstanding qualifications.

Personalities

The $\Pi B \Phi$ Fellowship for 1935-1936 was won by a girl who richly deserved it, Katherine Finney, Arkansas A, who will be remembered by those who were at the Yellowstone Convention. Her name is listed among the honor graduates for 1935, and she is a member of $\Phi B K$.

A recent graduate whose career should be interesting to watch is Helen Evans Reid, charter member of Alberta A, Vegreville, Alberta. She was graduated from the University of Alberta in May, 1935, as a Doctor of Medicine, with first class honors in clinical medicine.

A New Opportunity

THE arts have their Prix de Rome. Now fashion has its Prix de Paris.

A year's employment in the Paris and New York offices of Vogue will be the reward of each year's college senior who comes most successfully through a fashion career contest to appear in coming issues of Vogue magazine.

This is the message which Edna Woolman Chase, Editor-in-Chief of Vogue, addresses to young women now entering their senior year in the colleges and universities of America. To the graduating classes of 1936, she says:

"Every day in the year young women come to us looking for jobs. And every day in the year we look for young women who have the ideas and the fashion sense which help keep Vogue fresh, alive, and authoritative. Vogue's Prix de Paris offers the winner a definite job with salary attached, as well as an opportunity for the best kind of training for a career—actual experience. She will spend at least six months in the Paris office of Vogue, attending the famous openings of the great salons de couture and learning at their very source how fashions are created. In New York, she will learn to report fashions and will gain a practical knowledge of American markets and methods of merchandising."

Pointing out the importance of fashion to everyone, whether he is consciously fashion-minded or not, Mrs. Chase continues:

"To you who are interested more in facts than in philosophy, the national ledgers have shown that except for food, women's clothes form the biggest retail business in the United States. And fashion dominates every sale—not only of dresses or hats, but of cars and radios and refrigerators. Good taste is no longer a polite formula; it is a vast economic force in the world of today."

In conclusion, Vogue's spokesman says, "Fashion is one of the most fruitful and fascinating professions open to the women of today. We hope this prize will serve as a long needed encouragement to the young women who want to adopt publishing, advertising, or merchandising of fashion as a career. As a consolation prize, to the runner-up in the contest we are offering six months' employment in Vogue's New York office."

Mrs. Chase, who makes the announcement of Vogue's Prix de Paris, was recently made a member of the French Legion of Honour in recognition of her outstanding work in the interest of French art and fashions.

Entrance blanks may be obtained from Vogue's Prix de Paris, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Golden Days Ahead

WE KNOW that at last our summer and vacation days are over. But, something better is beginning—the great winter season—the time of many wonderful sports—glorious school days with their many happy fraternity hours—and, also, best of all—the winter season brings us harvest time for the magazine Agency—time of more money, larger orders, and more plentiful prospects.

The orders which the clubs are beginning to send in are a splendid indication of what we expect to do through the winter months. I feel certain we will pile up some big profits this year. We have just finished another year of over $2,000 profit.

One publisher recently wrote me, "It may help us to remember that, 'A new season always suggests new things.'"

It suggests clothes and new decorations for the home. Now is the ideal time to display to our prospects our Fashion and Home magazine pages, alive with color, beauty, and warmth.

Then comes the busy season—Christmas. Christmas shopping is made easy this year by sending subscriptions to magazines to your friends.

The other day an early shopper said, "I'm so happy! I've just found a marvelous way of getting some one else to do my shopping. Almost anyone would like a magazine for Christmas. Men enjoy the Saturday Evening Post, American, and News Week, while mothers and daughters enjoy Vogue, Good Housekeeping, American Home, and others. For the youngsters, Child Life, American Boy, Popular Science, and many others have a great appeal. Best of all, Christmas magazines bring a year-long reminder of the giver."

Side-step the worry of selecting gifts, avoid the jostle of crowded stores, and save money by making this a "Magazine Christmas." We are asking all Christmas orders to be in to the Agency by December 10 as all publishers require three to four weeks on delivery of magazines.

The different clubs and chairmen are planning a campaign of action for this year. Here are a few basic suggestions which were given to me.

Check the list of regular clients and prospects. Watch renewals carefully. One of the most unpleasant experiences an ardent reader can encounter is that of having his or her favorite magazine suddenly stop arriving—just because the renewal was not sent in on time.

Go after the "lost sheep," those customers who formerly gave us their subscriptions and are no longer our customers. Visit, telephone, or write them. Pay them the courtesy of giving them a sample copy.

Edith Updegraff Stephenson (Mrs. Everett S.),
Kansas B, National Director of Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agency.

Have you noticed any new neighbors? Have there been any changes in your favorite shop or at the bank? Wherever you transact business there should be prospects for you.

Since last spring we have added many new members to our ever increasing family of clubs. The Agency takes great pleasure in extending to you all a warm and very friendly welcome.

The Agency has met with great success this past year and hopes for even greater prosperity this coming year. We are expecting a season with the greatest business we have ever had.

Do not disappoint us!

EDITH UPDEGRAFF STEPHENSON

Are you transferring to another college this year? If so, please notify the Committee on Transfers whose address is given in the Directory at the front of this issue.

Pi Phi Gatherings

Florida State Convention

RENEWED enthusiasm among Pi Beta Phis in Florida was inspired by their first state Convention held May 11 and 12, 1935, at the Colonial Orange Court Hotel, Orlando. The local club, assisted by the Tampa Alumnae, were hostesses to 146 alumnae and active members from all parts of the state. The Convention was most fortunate in having Miss Onken as guest of honor.

Miss Lillian Eldredge, general Convention chairman, opened the Convention with a luncheon, and a general business meeting. Mrs. Phil J. Laurence, once Grand Vice-President, gave the welcoming address. Miss Onken responded graciously. Four round table discussion groups in which the entire assembly participated made up the main business of the meeting.

A tea honoring Miss Onken was given by the Florida I chapter in their house at Winter Park.

The Convention banquet took place on the evening of May 11 at the Colonial Court Dining Room with Lucy Pope, Zeta Province President, as toastmistress, and Miss Onken as the principal speaker. One of the most enjoyable features of the Convention was the model initiation held on the morning of May 12 at 6:30 when Miss Onken as presiding officer initiated Mary Carnes, Florida B pledge of Tampa. During an informal breakfast after the initiation, Miss Onken delighted her listeners with fascinating stories of $\Pi B \Phi$ and the Settlement School.

The Orlando Alumnae had charge of a display of Settlement School articles during the entire Convention.

At the last business session, it was unanimously decided to continue, annually, Florida state meetings. Florida B chapter and the Tallahassee Alumnae Club will have charge of the 1936 Convention when it meets at Tallahassee next April or May. Mary Lou Perkins of the local alumnae club will be Convention chairman. Officers of the Convention will be: President, Mrs. Phil J. Laurence, Miami; vice-president, Mrs. L. J. Larzelere, Jacksonville; secretary, Lucille E. LeRoy, Lakeland; treasurer, Mrs. Albert S. Wing, Tampa.

Kappa Province Convention

KAPPA PROVINCE held a convention at Shreveport, Louisiana, June 20 and 21, 1935. The convention opened with a tea in the garden of Cressie Martha Atkinson (Mrs. J. S.), Oklahoma B. A large group of mothers, rushees, and representatives from all women's fraternities called during the tea hour.

A general meeting on the morning of June 21 opened the first business of the convention. Myrtle Day, presiding officer, led the Round Table discussions which pertained to the fostering and strengthening of the national viewpoint, the responsibility of an alumnae club in rushing, and the value of alumnae club recommendations. The Settlement School as a motif was emphasized at the noon luncheon. A log cabin, huge straw sunhats and fans woven of straw, all products of the school, were featured in addition to the regular display of Arrow Craft articles. In the afternoon, two conferences, one for the actives and one for the alumnae, embracing the vital problems of each group, completed the main business of the Convention. With Mrs. Lewis K. Forrester, president-elect of the Shreveport Alumnae Club as toastmistress, the Convention closed with a banquet at the Washington-Youree Hotel. Representatives of every chapter in Kappa Province gave short farewell talks and Miss Gladys Scivally (Oklahoma A) Kappa Province President, gave the closing address.

La Fonda Founders' Day

FOUNDERS' DAY was celebrated in La Fonda, New Mexico, when five stray Pi Phis, located through the Directory Issue of the

ARROW, met for luncheon. Those attending were Frances Bickley, Colorado A; Florence Biggs Sheldon, Colorado B; Grace Wiseman

Linder, Illinois H; Constance Connor Modrall, Wisconsin A; and Ursula Patton Slye, Colorado A. Anna L. Cockins, Kansas A, was too ill to attend and Eleanor Stanton Cowles, D.C. Alpha, could not be located.

It is hoped that this small group may grow to be an active alumnæ club.

Pi Phis in Mexico

By ELSIE SIDERIUS, South Dakota A

TWO OF US met on the train talking about the Settlement School, chapters, and Conventions. We decided what great fun it would be to meet again in enchanting Old Mexico.

Came the Fourth of July, an invitation from Ambassador and Mrs. Daniels to visit the American Embassy. The six Pi Phis who responded agreed to spread the word around to meet at Paolo for dinner the next week. This meeting increased our number to nine members, all students of Mexico University. We talked enthusiastically of our varied experiences and novel living in Mexico. There were descriptions of patios, serenades, charming Mexican families we had met, shops we had explored, where we could bargain best, places to buy China Poblana costumes, the fiestas and theatres, and a never ending chatter such as we always have when good Pi Phis get together. With reluctance we separated, each to go back to talking Spanish to natives in shops, classes and homes.

August 1, a tea at Lady Baltimore brought two charming additions to our group. There were present: Emilie H. Salomon, Pennsylvania Δ; Mrs. Welthy Fisher, New York A; Lillian Eldredge, Florida A; Zane Irwin, Iowa Z; Claudia Harwin, Louisiana A; Elizabeth Dodd and Frances Hamilton, Texas A; Allece Locke and Frances Rinehart, Oklahoma A; Gertrude Danielson and Elsie Siderius, South Dakota A.

One of the group had passed through Gatlinburg on the way down. She gave a vivid description of the school and its recent changes. Each one was enthusiastic to have the others take the excursions around Mexico City that she had enjoyed and gave her impressions of Orizaba, Taxco, Oaxaca, and other fascinating towns. In the land of orchids, burros, and sombreros, we said "adios" to a group created and beloved by the ties of Π Β Φ.

Paradise of the Pacific Pi Phis

By MADELINE BRADLEY WILSON, Oklahoma B

WHY WRITE about us? We're no different from any Pi Phi alumnæ club on the mainland," chorused a group when, shortly after my arrival here a year ago, I announced I wanted to write an article about the Honolulu Pi Phis for the ARROW.

Well, perhaps they are right. Perhaps not.

For instance, take that June meeting when we drove nine miles to Pearl Harbor, then boarded a sailor-manned naval officers' gig (not jig as I called it the first time, never having had experience with gigs in Oklahoma!) for a half-mile stretch over the blue Pacific to the Fleet Air Base on Ford Island where another ride, this time about a mile in the navy bus, brought us to the beautifully landscaped quarters of Mrs. James D. Benjamin (Elizabeth Dinehart, New York A), wife of Lieutenant-Commander Benjamin.

Or take the July meeting when Maude Schaeffer (California B), principal of Kamehameha Girls' School, entertained us at tea on the dormitory lanai high up in the hills overlooking Honolulu from Diamond Head to Pearl Harbor, and where Hawaiian girl pupils did the serving.

Or the August meeting over at Lanikai on windward Oahu when Mrs. W. C. Pohlman (Flora Ann Sigel, Pennsylvania B and Michigan B) greeted us in her beach-side home with the suggestion we might enjoy an exhilarating swim in the ocean prior to playing bridge.

Of course the other monthly meetings have been in more prosaic homes where perhaps frayed-leaf banana trees, heavy with fruit, swayed outside the windows or ripe mangoes fell intermittently to the lawn with dull klunks to bring shrill chattering from the numerous mynah birds in the monkey-pod trees, or where, perhaps, the tea refreshments included coconut ice cream made from coconuts that had grown high in the back garden.

HONOLULU ALUMNÆ CLUB

Seated, left to right: Mrs. James Bergstrom, Grace Ziegler, Mrs. E. R. Menhennet, Mrs. R. C. Wilson, Mrs. C. R. King, and Mrs. W. R. Dunham. Standing, left to right: Mrs. R. G. Cole, Mrs. Harry Denison, Mrs. W. A. White, Mrs. F. E. Overholser, Mrs. H. S. Bowers, Mrs. W. L. McCabe, Mrs. W. C. Pohlman, Eugenie Langwith, and Mrs. M. O. Clement.

Maybe I'm funny that way—but belonging to the Honolulu Pi Phi club isn't, I insist, quite like belonging to those in Oklahoma City, Lincoln, Kansas City, or San Francisco.

Thirty-three Pi Phis live on the Island of Oahu (about five more on Maui and Hawaii), but only about 20 are members of the alumnae club, and the average attendance is about 14. This is mainly because many of the girls are army and navy wives and live from 9 to 25 miles away at Pearl Harbor and Schofield. We have colonel's wives, school teachers, business girls, Junior League members, prominent organization members in our midst, so that in that respect we do not differ from mainland clubs. Most of the members are mainland girls who have come here with their husbands, while a few are Island girls who were sent away to coast universities. In my stubborn way I even like to believe the charm of the Islands has extended itself to these Island born and bred girls so that they too are just a bit different. Certainly they seem more at home at wearing flower leis (though it's astounding how quickly one can adopt this pretty fashion—for none ever goes to the Royal Hawaiian or the Young Roof dancing without a lei around her neck—white ginger, pikake, carnation, plumeria, crown flower, gardenia).

However, life in Hawaii isn't all white ginger leis and blue surf on a white beach. Rents and groceries are higher here, with houses in a desirable haole (howley—meaning white) neighborhood rather scarce. Furnished one-bedroom cottages at Waikiki near the beach are $45 up; furnished and unfurnished three-bedroom houses in Manoa and Nuuanu valleys may cost $85 to $125. Sixty dollars would be, I'd say, average rent. Canned goods and meats shipped over the ocean naturally have their freight charges paid by the consumer. California eggs are around 35 cents; Island eggs 45 cents; fresh milk 17, 19 and 22 cents—local dairy products being high because feedstuff has to be shipped in.

Right here I am going to publish a secret and one that kamaainas (old-timers) will argue over; I think Hawaii doesn't know what "depression" means.

Temperatures are moderate the year round so a crepe jacket is appropriate for December and June, especially at night when a cool breeze always blows down from the Pali. Evening dresses and bathing suits are the two most popular garments of wearing apparel. Due to what influence, I do not know, but Honolulu goes formal after sundown.

Hawaii is often referred to as a "human laboratory," and with its many races this might be true. Of the 380,000 population, 146,000 or 40% are Japanese; 45,000 are Caucasians (20,000 of this number being soldiers and sailors), and the remainder includes 65,000 Filipinos, 28,000 Portuguese, 27,000 Chinese, 22,000 Hawaiians, 7,000 Puerto Ricans, 6,000 Koreans, and so on. There are 183 public schools in the Islands, 67 private schools and one public university.

The educational system is quite satisfactory.

Round-trip boat fares from California are $150 cabin class and $220 first class. One may reside at the exotic Royal Hawaiian hotel at Waikiki for $12 a day up, or at one of the numerous pleasant smaller hotels for as low as $3.50, American plan.

Once you get here, by all means come to one of our monthly Pi Phi meetings. I'll bet you will agree with me that the Honolulu club is a little bit different!

Pi Phis out here in the Pacific (all of these are not members of the alumnae club) include: Mrs. J. Garner Anthony (Dorothy McClaren, Pennsylvania A); Mrs. James D. Benjamin (Elizabeth Dinehart, New York A); Mrs. James W. Bergstrom (Muriel James, California A); Mrs. Herbert Bowers (Fayne Burdin, Oregon B); Mrs. Leroy C. Bush (Octavia Johnson, California B); Mrs. William N. Chaffee (Sara Herron, Colorado A); Herron Chaffee (Colorado A); Mrs. Mark O. Clement (Mary Spafford, Wyoming A); Mrs. Harold Coffin (Jane O'Sullivan, Nevada A); Mrs. Ralph G. Cole (Louise Carter, California A); Mrs. Harry Denison (Geraldine Ridings, New York A); Mrs.

Walter R. Dunham (Virginia Watson, Washington A); Mrs. Leslie Eichelberger (Elma McClelland, Colorado B); Charlotte Gibner (California A); Mrs. Eli Helmick (Elizabeth Clarke, Michigan A); Anna E. Johnson (D.C. Alpha); Mrs. Claude R. King (Catherine Burgess, Colorado B); Eugenie Langwith (Nevada A); Mrs. Pierre LeBourdais (Ellen Shope, Iowa Z); Mrs. John Macauley (Florence Helmick, Michigan B); Mrs. William L. McCabe (Muriel McHenry, Oregon B); Mrs. E. R. Menhennet (Marion Scott, Arizona A); Mrs. F. E. Overholser (Winifred Thompson, Iowa I); Mrs. William Pohlman (Flora Ann Sigel, Michigan B); Mrs. R. R. Rohlfing (Kathryn Coe, California B); Maude Schaeffer (California B); Mrs. Harry Steiner (Margaret Langwith, Nevada A); Mrs. W. Shirley Stovall (Elizabeth Sanborn, Oklahoma B); Mrs. W. A. White (Mary Stewart, Missouri A); Mrs. D. G. Williamson (Genevieve Tillery, Oregon B); Mrs. Richard C. Wilson (Madelaine Bradley, Oklahoma B); Mrs. Robert M. Yates (Genevieve Alvord, Illinois Z); and Grace Ziegler (Kansas B).

About three-fourths of the fraternities and sororities on the University of Iowa campus are now members of the University Fraternity and Sorority Business Service, a new non-profit corporation organized last spring.

Operated by the participating member chapters on a confidential basis, the organization provides an accounting and budgetary service to handle details of fraternity and sorority business, and makes it possible for members to participate in co-operative buying.

The services of the University Fraternity and Sorority Business Service may be divided into four sections: accounting, bookkeeping and clerical services; buying service; collecting service; and general services. No effort is made to dictate in matters of policy or operation to any group; as a matter of fact, the only object of the corporation is to provide a service department to take care of the business and finances of the participating groups, extending to them all of the facilities of a well equipped business office and trained personnel for every possible use they can make it.—

The Alpha Xi Delta

New Officers

SOME of them not so new in point of service, but lack of space has prevented publication of their pictures before.

A picture of Agnes Wright Spring, National Historian, appeared under the Editors Section of the Anniversary ARROW, May 1935—she needs no further introduction to the Fraternity.

Province Vice-Presidents will be presented in the May issue of this year, if they will send pictures and information about themselves to the Editor.

FLORENCE HUNT WEBSTER, Illinois B, Assistant to the Grand President

Graduated from Lombard College with General Honors, Mrs. Webster has held many offices in the fraternity, former chairman of the advisory board of Illinois B, former president Galesburg Alumnae Club, Epsilon Province Vice-President, Eta Province President, 1931-34. She has found time also to be on the Board of Directors of the Y.W.C.A., and the Board of Directors of the local A.A.U.W., besides having a husband and three daughters.

MARIANNE REID WILD, Kansas A, Assistant to Grand Vice President

Marianne Reid Wild (Mrs. Robert S.) Assist. G.V.P. Kansas Alpha. University of Kansas. President Indianapolis Alumnae Club 1929-1931. Alumnae delegate to Pasadena Convention. Member Indiana Gamma Advisory Committee since 1929, serving as its chairman for the last two years. Delta Province Vice-President 1931—

MARGARET WILLIS SMITH, Chairman National Scholarship Committee

Born in Washington, D.C., Margaret Willis Smith (Mrs. Donald F.) is the daughter of Professor-emeritus Bailey Willis of Stanford, geologist, seismologist, and author. Upon completing high school, Mrs. Smith accompanied her parents to the Pan-Pacific Science Congress in Tokio, and has been one of the few foreigners to attend the Imperial Garden Party given by the Japanese royal family. Traveling thence around the world, she returned to the United States and entered Stanford University where she was initiated into California A of Pi Beta Phi. During her freshman year, she became one of the first twenty women in the United States to hold a pilot's license, and was a charter member of the Ninety-Nine Club, the national women pilots' club. Her husband is a Los Angeles attorney and a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

CECIL RIGBY NUSSBAUM, Illinois E, Chairman of Committee on Endowment Fund

Mrs. Nussbaum was born in Chicago, educated in private schools there and in California, and attended Northwestern University, where she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in 1915. In March, 1918, she was married to Lt. Frederick L. Nussbaum, of the History Department of Northwestern, and during his absence in France, she worked in the Division of Planning and Statistics of the Shipping Board. Her $\Pi B \Phi$ acquaintance is a wide one; she belonged to the Philadelphia Alumnae Club after the war, when Mr. Nussbaum was at Temple University, and in 1924 they were at the University of Southern California. Since 1925, they have been at the University of Wyoming, where Mrs. Nussbaum has twice been president of the Laramie Alumnae Club, and has served for the last three years on the advisory board of Wyoming A. Intensely interested in music, Mrs. Nussbaum in 1929 took the degree of Bachelor of Music at the University of Wyoming, spent the next year in Paris studying piano at Cortot's École Normale de Musique. She was one of the Founders and for two years president, of the Laramie Musical Arts Club.

LILLIAN BECK HOLTON (Mrs. E. L.), Settlement School Committee

Maryland A. A.B. Goucher. Was president of her chapter and delegate to the St. Louis convention. After teaching four years, she married Edwin Lee Holton, Dean of Education at Kansas State. Two daughters, Ruth and Mary, are members of Kansas B. Mrs. Holton helped to establish Kansas B, and keeps in close touch as faculty adviser. She was first president of the Manhattan Alumnae Club. Active in social, club and community work, she is now president of the local A.A.U.W. Branch. Her father M. M. Beck was a pioneer editor, and she has two editor brothers, E. S. Beck of the Chicago Tribune and W. T. Beck of the Holton, Kansas Recorder. Her sister, Martha M. Beck, and brother's wife, Mabel McLaughlin Beck, Kansas A, are both active newspaper women.

ADAIR TAYLOR AIKEN (Mrs. WYATT), Gamma Province President

Born in Louisville, Kentucky. Attended Sophie Newcomb College for Women; initiated into Louisiana Alpha October 1902. Is the widow of the late Wyatt Aiken of Abbeville, South Carolina, former Congressman from his district. Mrs. Aiken since his death has been with State Banking Department in Columbia, and is secretary to the Chief Bank Examiner. Her two daughters are charter members of South Carolina A, for whose petitioning group Mrs. Aiken presented petition at Convention in Asbury Park, 1931.

LUCY POPE, Zeta Province President

Florida B, 1933. Won all possible honorary and social distinction while in college, was a member of Mortar Board, Φ A Θ , national history fraternity, and A X A, national journalistic fraternity. She is teacher of history in the Palm Beach High School, and has worked as assistant to the Dean of Students and as Director of Social and Religious Activities in her college. She is especially interested in college personnel work.

INEZ WEBSTER, Illinois Δ , Eta Province President

She attended National Park Seminary, Knox College, and Lombard College, and was Convention Guide for the Charlevoix Convention in 1918. She has done interesting things, before the war as superintendent of the Children's Home in Galesburg, Illinois, where she lives. During the war, she did canteen work in France for a year, then went to Syria for two years as Director of an orphanage under the Near East Relief, and finally went to Russia as Director of the largest orphanage in the world, with six thousand children. Since her return she has been with the Education Department of Marshall Fields, in Chicago.

FAITH MARTIN HANNA, Iota Province President

Kansas B, Chairman, Committee on Social Exchange, B.S., Kansas State Agricultural College, General Science scholastic honors, Mortar Board (the Senior organization was only petitioning when she was in school, but is now Mortar Board); chapter delegate to the Estes Park Convention. Present occupation is caring for her home and family, with outside interests in 4-H club work, and County Child Health work. She was chosen Iota Province President in 1934.

GLADYS HAYES SCIVALLY, Kappa Province President

Oklahoma A, 1917, brings to us a background of fine experience and a close knowledge of chapter problems gained in her three years of work as chaperon and housemanager of Oklahoma A. Of her work there she says, "this is to me decidedly the most interesting and inspiring work I have yet undertaken." She has had a varied business career, for six years in a successful gift shop and tea room business of her own, later as hostess in two country clubs. In 1929 she was a member of the National Committee on Fraternity Study and Examination.

ANN McDONALD D'AULÉ, California Gamma, Mu Province President

A member of Entre Nous, local at University of Southern California, she was a charter member and the first president of California Gamma, graduating in 1918, and returning for her Teachers' Certificate in 1919. She was married in 1920 to John D'Aulé, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and they have a daughter, Diane. Mrs. D'Aulé has been an ardent worker in the Los Angeles alumnae club ever since her graduation, and has been its president. She was on the advisory board of California Gamma for nine years, for seven of them as chairman. She was for six years on the national Extension Committee, and has attended two Conventions—Breezy Point and Pasadena. Outside of the fraternity, she is greatly interested in Ebell Club, and is this year assistant to the general curator of that club.

The Los Angeles Alumnae Club Plans a Cook Book

WITH THE receipt of the official sanction of the Grand Council, work on the Pi Phi Cook Book is going ahead under all available pressure. By the time you read this, your chapter will have received the recipe request blanks.

JUANITA DAY CARMAN

Mrs. Ernest Carman, 832 South Plymouth Boulevard, Los Angeles, has been appointed editor, and she asks that whether or not you have received a blank, you will send your favorite recipe to her as soon as possible. Here are some rules for you to follow:

1. Be sure to try it out first.
2. Either print or type it.
3. Take special care in your quantities.
4. Do not abbreviate anything.
5. Give oven temperature.

An excellent group of Pi Phis have been appointed as judges—their names will be announced in a later ARROW.

This project is entirely non-profit, as even the publishing is being taken care of by the committee; every bit of money taken in above actual expenses is to go to the Settlement School.

Members of $\Pi B \Phi$ have an opportunity in this Cook Book to do a real service to the fraternity, and at the same time to obtain something of real merit. In it each club and chapter has a new means of raising money for the Settlement School.

A national Pi Phi Cook Book—it can be put over successfully if each and every $\Pi B \Phi$ gives it her support! Watch for further details.

The Fraternity chapter should be a great training school in tact. Thirty or forty personalities and interests come together several times every day. A fraternal feeling cannot exist or be fostered if there be one or more tactless brothers. One selfish brother can make a whole chapter unhappy. One to four years of living in the chapter house should help every member to know more of human dispositions and what it takes to keep them in an agreeable state. Obviously this companionship should react on the individual and show him his own weakness and teach him to use that quality which we designate as agreeableness.

Perhaps there is nothing so important in the success of an individual as tact. It is more important than learning, skill, dress, or figure. To live co-operatively and helpfully with our fellows should be our main objective and it cannot be done without constant adjustment to the ideas and whims of others.—M. L. FISHER, Dean of Men, Purdue University, in The Emerald of Sigma Pi

English Life . . . A Contrast

By DOROTHY MOULD, Manitoba A

COMPARISONS are odious" so says the critic and "he who contrasts continually has not travelled far"—but in defiance of the above, I am going to contrast and compare.

When I say England or English repeatedly, I include the Irish, Scotch, and Welsh, and use the term "English" merely as a generality. I could have chosen to tell you of the glorious abbeys and cathedrals and castles that lift their turrets and spires above the trees wherever you look, but of these you may read elsewhere. One cannot really see these on a short tour—one must get into the history of the thing until one is awed by the realization of the footsteps of the mighty who have trodden those crumbling stones—stones which could perhaps shock or shatter our illusions of certain historical characters.

Over there, life is different in many ways. One cannot hunt for bargains in England. Cheap clothes look just that, cheap, and good clothes cost much, much more than you pay for them here. Their woolens and tweeds are par excellence, but one must pay for them. To get good things, one must go to a really good shop which specializes in that sort of thing. Here in our own country one may buy a French model upstairs in a store and get a good bargain in the basement of the same store; but there for a French model one goes to a French store specializing in that feature.

Foodstuffs—The British housewife has the world at her door. On the table one may prefer New Zealand to Australian or English lamb, Irish potatoes, Danish butter, Canadian apples, fruits from the Mediterranean or America. Their fruits are much less expensive, but their meats are more expensive. The English people make the most marvellous savory dishes, but their sweets, cakes, and desserts are not so dainty, and frozen sweets are not as common as here. In the majority, their ice cream is abominable, but their meat and fish dishes are really unsurpassable. One gets marvellous teas and high teas over there, but their coffee, as a general rule, is not as good as ours. It is fashionable over there now for ladies out shopping in the morning to call at their dainty little cafes for a morning talk and a cup of coffee at eleven o'clock—university students do the same thing. Even the lady of a large establishment feels she must do her own shopping and supervision, and in provincial towns they carry little shopping baskets when they go out to order their provisions.

year, but for all those pupils making over a certain very high percentage average. These give tuition and books at University, paid by the government, and at the end of the year all pupils having the same high percentage again acquire free tuition—often these scholarships include board too. In the lower schools underweight children get their pint of milk at playtime, also supplied by the government and they have district doctors and nurses who supervise from time to time.

For the more exclusive people, their sons go to Public Schools (these are what we call private schools) and one's name must be entered years before he is admitted. At Eton the names of Princess Mary's two boys are on the waiting list now to get in. A gentleman sends his sons to make social contacts with his friends' sons, mostly generation after generation. These Public Schools are the foundation of the social friendships and standings of generations. They are tremendously expensive, easily $2,500 a year. The University boy at Oxford or Cambridge must have his apartment consisting of study and bedroom, costing in the neighborhood of $125 a month. They pay for their privacy. Often our Rhodes scholars can show how much cheaper it can be done. The girls' schools are the same. They have no sororities or fraternities as yet, but there are University Clubs for the young ladies and men.

Economic Conditions—England is wealthy.

DURHAM CASTLE AND CATHEDRAL

When we were there, the trains were packed, the buses always buzzing. I never heard the word depression all the time I was there. After a deficit a year or two ago, the government of Britain this year announced a surplus of thirty million. They have a just faith in their country and invest their money cautiously. They are very public spirited and have kept many lovely things from leaving their country. Take for example Holbein's "Duchess of Milan" which now stands in the National Art Gallery off Trafalgar Square, stately and lovely as the lady herself. In order to save it from passing out of the country a lady sent £90,000 ($450,000) anonymously to be added to the public subscription and thus saved it. During the war many ancient families lost all heirs and bequeathed their estates and priceless treasures of centuries collecting to the public. An example of this is lovely Bowes Museum at Barnard Castle—it was formerly a private estate.

The country homes of the English landed gentry are miniature palaces—those of the laborer, quaint thatched cottages covered with ivy and rambler roses. But half of her charm is her unpretentiousness—the most gorgeous things are hidden in chests or cupboards.

There are many exclusive clubs in London which are beautiful within but most ordinary outside. Scotland Yard, the home of the detective service of the British Isles, is housed in a most unobtrusive building and yet accomplishes so much. A millionaire over there must have one million pounds, or around the neighborhood of five million dollars.

Pleasure—The theatres have many fine actors and actresses who are fairly sure of a following, if once they have aroused public enthusiasm. Their age does not seem to matter as long as they grow old gracefully—and give a good performance. The cinemas or movies are as beautifully fitted up as many of ours but Elstree, of course, has still much to learn from Hollywood. People queue up for blocks in order to get into a movie, or else 'phone ahead and engage seats. (By the way, 'phones are not as common as here, but one finds red telephone boxes stationed here and there for business, etc. In London the blue telephone box is the trans-continental 'phone from which one may call Canada or the United States.) Radio is interesting and the music lover finds much pleasure in dialing Munich, Leipzig, or gay Vienna, always getting a string orchestra giving one dreams of Schubert or Chopin or else a jolly old Gilbert and Sullivan. Their jazz is inferior to ours. Advertising is not allowed, as expenses are taken care of by means of a tax on every radio set.

Artists, including musicians, painters, sculptors, etc., have a much more appreciative public than here. There are always private or public art exhibitions, which are well attended. There are marvellous museums and picture galleries with free lectures three times a week and these are invariably attended by scores of people trailing after the lecturing professor to the next picture or treasure, taking their hired camp stools with them.

Sports mean much over there. Most of the tennis courts are grass. Grass hockey is a great game for girls. They do a tremendous amount of walking. They have a system of what they call Hostess Clubs—this is for the educated classes of girls, teachers, university students, private school girls. These homes are scattered all over the country—charming country homes, each one under the supervision of a charming lady who is the hostess. A party of girls dressed in shorts with walking sticks, knapsacks on their backs, with a change of undies, mostly woollies, and the inevitable raincoat often go for a tramp. It is nothing for them to accomplish twenty or twenty-five miles a day over the countryside—they have booked ahead for dinner, etc., at the nearest hostess club. They will stop for tea some place and those who are tired often take the inevitable bus which seems to buzz everywhere, and go ahead, while others "dilly dally" along "winding lanes and verduous glooms" until the light of their temporary home peeks through moss and ivy covered trees. There are Hikers' Clubs also, but these are mixed and not nearly so nice. People who have motors often have delightful caravans as trailers, which they set in a farmer's field at a small rate while they cover the countryside.

At a good second-rate hotel prices are 14/6 or around $3.50 for bedroom and breakfast in the provincial towns, or in London 10/6 or $2.50 at the Strand Palace, but you can get rooms at some of the hotels at $18.00 to $25.00 a night.

Quaint Customs—One cannot get at these unless one delves into the folk-lore of the countryside. It is most interesting to talk to some of the old shepherds with their wonderfully clever sheep dogs. Every Hall seems to have some legend or ghost story attached to it. Quaint little villages have market days once a week. There are stalls, selling pots and pans, fish, fruit, flowers, meats, butter, eggs, cheeses, dressgoods, etc. Then there are cattle markets where the farmers barter their stock. Even in London there are markets such as the Caledonian Market, Tuesdays and Thursdays. It was at this market place recently that Princess Mary picked up at one of the stalls a real old Georgian silver candleholder.

One can buy even fur coats at the London markets. The famous Jewish Market in Petticoat Lane is held every Sunday and is as dangerous as it is full of smells. One can find the quaintest things if one wants to nose around—but hang onto your purse.

Twice a year in the country there are country fairs and all the country people, country gentlemen, farmers, helpers, etc., go. There are merry-go-rounds, cocoanut shies, fortune tellers, etc. It is all very colorful. There is a quaint custom in some places of hiring or dismissing servants for the half-year at the fair, and every servant who signs on to a master accepts a shilling which binds him until the fall fair. One finds something of the same idea in the operetta Martha and the pastoral musical Dorothe.

It is all beautiful, so mild and green, especially the glorious lake district of Wordsworth and the lovely hills of heather. The trees are so old—I saw one under whose branches John Wesley had preached and Cromwell had sheltered part of his army. No wonder Wordsworth could say of the lovely countryside—"To me the meanest flower that blows, can give thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears."

Plans for the second annual Panhellenic Essay Contest were completed by the Panhellenic House Association during the week's visit to New York City of Miss Sylva Goodman, sophomore at Wayne University, Detroit, whose manuscript on "What I Should Like to See When I Visit New York" was selected for first prize by the Panhellenic House Association, sponsors of the contest.

Miss Goodman spent the last week of August in New York City as the guest of the Beekman Tower Hotel. Besides the week's stay, with entertainment, the first prize included a fifty-dollars cash award. The Jury of award was composed of Miss Helen Worden, feature writer for the New York World-Telegram; Ed Sullivan, columnist on the New York Daily News; Hans V. Kaltenborn, radio columnist; Lyman Beecher Stowe and Alice Duer Miller, authors.

The Panhellenic House Association, Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, president, has announced March 31, 1936 as closing date for the second Panhellenic Essay Contest. Essays must be limited to 1,000 words, and written on: "Why I Should See New York." The contest is open to all college students.

One hundred dollars in cash or transportation to and from New York City and a week's stay in New York at the Beekman Tower will make up first prize in the second contest.

Second prize in the contest was won by Miss Bernice Espy, of Denver, Colorado, student at the University of Colorado; and third prize by John L. Dahl, junior at Wayne University, Detroit. Week-end trips to New York, part of the second and third prizes, will be taken later by Miss Espy and Mr. Dahl.

Pi Phi Personalities

MILDRED DU BOIS, WASHINGTON ALPHA

Mildred DuBois, Washington A, was one of eight students in the United States to be presented with an appointment to the Women's Industrial and Educational Union of Boston for an eleven months' administrative course. These appointments are based on scholastic standing, personality, leadership, and administrative ability. She was graduated last year from the University of Washington with a Bachelor of Science degree. Her work in Boston has been highly praised, and should form the basis for an interesting career.

LOREL PRUITT MCKILLOP, INDIANA ALPHA

A woman who is doing many interesting things in connection with education and child guidance is Lorel Pruitt McKillop.

She combined study with travel when her husband, Dr. Alan Dugald McKillop, was a research fellow of the Guggenheim Foundation, working for fifteen months in 1928 and 1929 at the British Museum in London.

She is living in Houston where she is active in many organizations. She is chairman of the Faculty Women's Club of Rice Institute, program director of Junior Chautauqua, educational director of the University Guild, chairman of the House committee, and one of the Board of Directors of the Houston Child Guidance Clinic.

GENEVIEVE DOUGLASS TALIAFERRO

When the Montreal Grand Opera Company began its season last year, Genevieve Douglass Taliaferro was cast in leading contralto roles. She joined the company last year and sang the leading contralto roles in "Die Walküre," "Pelleas and Melisande," and "Carmen."

In the fall of 1920 Genevieve Douglass of Muskogee, Oklahoma, enrolled in school at the University of Oklahoma at Norman. She was initiated into Oklahoma A in the early spring of 1921. While at the University she was active in musical organizations, and sang the leading contralto role in the production of "Il Trovatore." The year previous was spent at Sullins College in Bristol, Virginia, where she was also prominent in the school of music.

Remaining in Muskogee the next year, Genevieve continued her musical studies and work in civic organizations. She played a leading role in the civic production of "Pirates of Penzance." Her teacher, Mr. Alan Hinkley, a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, advised her to go to New York and continue her studies. This she did, and she became a pupil of Frank LaForge. Under him, she gave several recitals and broadcast on his program over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

For two years the "Charm Quartette" toured the United States on the Keith Circuit. Each member of the quartette was a college woman, and each possessed a voice of exceptional quality, and personality of exceptional charm. Genevieve not only sang, but also was the accompanist for the quartette.

When not on tour, she is the contralto soloist at the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church in Brooklyn.

A GARDEN CLUB LADY

By FAE ROWLEY HUTTONLOCHER

Some six years ago, while serving as president of the Des Moines Garden Club (400 members), the selection of a civic project for the year was one of my duties. Child education in garden, flower and nature appreciation was chosen. Going to the City School Superintendent with the idea, we decided that the best method of approach would be to give a free garden club membership ticket for one year, to a representative from each school, to carry back to her school assemblies and P.T.A. meetings, our monthly message on gardening. The result was far beyond our expectation. Citywide interest was awakened among both juniors and adults, in the beautification of school grounds and individual plots. Teachers with the assistance of garden club members worked out interesting garden, flower, and nature projects that could be correlated in the regular school curriculum.

Mr. A. C. Hottes, Associate Editor of Better Homes & Gardens, became interested, and called me to conference concerning the organization of the Junior Garden Clubs of America, to be conducted through the medium of his magazine, Better Homes and Gardens. A medium of exchange between the clubs and civic organizations of America was established in the pages of The Garden Club Exchange, which I had the pleasure of editing. It is sent free of charge monthly, to any organized group that desires its program and news service.

Each year the Junior Garden Clubs of America plan new courses in garden, flower and nature study. These may be followed by the individual child, used by adult Junior Garden Club counselors, or correlated to the tion in garden, flower and nature appreciation was chosen. Going to the City School Superintendent with the idea, we decided that the best method of approach would be to give a free garden club membership ticket for one regular school curriculum. It is interesting to note that most of our enrolled Junior Garden Clubs are organized in the schools by teachers who find garden, flower, and Nature study a stimulating correlation to the regular subjects in the school curriculum.

Five years ago, a Junior Garden Club was almost unheard of. From the pioneering of the Junior Garden Clubs of America, there are now more than a quarter million Juniors enrolled in this national organization, most of them in the schools. One seldom heard of, or saw Junior classes and interest, in the flower shows of a few years ago, while recent reports record that 90,000 children attended the last big flower show in St. Louis. In Cincinnati, 108,000 children entered the doors, many taking part in its displays. In Detroit, 90,000, Minneapolis, 72,000; Rochester, N.Y., 64,000. At the world's fair in Chicago, on the first free day for children, when trains, and other attractions of the Enchanted Island were competing for nickels, it is interesting to learn that 6000 boys and girls paid an entrance fee to see the Horticultural Garden Exhibit.

The highway of gardening has led to many a delightful byway of interest such as flower arrangement, artistic table settings, holiday house decorations, collecting modern glass flower containers, and flower paintings.

ENGINEER . . . FEMININE STYLE

Sprung from the vision of a generation of pioneers and accustomed as it is even today to the sturdy and picturesque quality that is theirs, the University of Nevada is still looking a little astonished and curious on a new type of pioneer . . . a girl student in the school of mines.

She is Betty Bowman, 18-year-old member of Nevada A chapter of $\Pi B \Phi$.

A decidedly attractive and very feminine co-ed, Betty made a further bid for the attention of her fellow mining students (all male) by outstripping the members of her class for scholastic honors. Carrying 20 hours of work she led all the engineering students on the honor roll in her freshman year with the exception of one, a senior.

Betty plans to lead a feminine invasion into the hitherto man-monopolized profession of research geologist and mining engineer.

Born in Los Angeles, she attended Antelope Valley Joint Union high school in Lancaster, California, for three and one-half years and Reno high school for one-half year, maintaining an average for the four years of 97 per cent.

SETTLEMENT SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

Gatlinburg, June 19-26, 1935

It was with a mingled feeling of pleasurable anticipation and fearful inadequacy that the new member of the committee journeyed to Gatlinburg. The chairman had written that the meeting would take all of a week. She could not imagine what could fill that much time. However she soon found out. For seven days the committee met, morning, noon and night, with the final meeting on the morning of the eighth day.

First the minutes of last year's meeting were read after which it was noted that the improvements and repairs ordered had all been made. Everyone was pleased with the general appearance of the buildings and grounds. The reports of the members of the committee were read and their recommendations discussed. Reports were given by the director and other members of the staff and their recommendations considered. These reports showed the excellent work done and they reflected the fine spirit of the staff. Several resignations were received and accepted with regret.

The buildings were all inspected and the most needed repairs allowed after costs had been carefully considered. The crowded condition of the grade and high school buildings was considered and it was decided to move the weaving into the woodcraft building, thus relieving the congestion.

At a meeting with the local committee, the question of the third and fourth years of high school was brought up and discussed. After careful investigation, it was decided that, if the local people would get the required number, which is fifty, of high school pupils and the county would furnish another teacher, the third year would be added.

The articles of incorporation of the Southern Highlanders, Inc., were carefully studied and it was decided to buy the shares of stock which allow our products to be sold at the Norris shop.

The budgets for the school and for Arrow Craft were carefully worked out. Applications for teaching positions were gone over and all vacancies filled. Winogene Redding was employed as weaving supervisor. County and state officials were consulted and as much financial aid as possible was obtained. Many matters of less importance were taken up and settled.

It was the great pleasure of the committee to have the Grand Council at several of the meetings and their advice was most valuable. Visits with them around the dining table and on the porches in rest periods were delightful. The committee enjoyed with them the dinner given by Stella Huff at the Mountain View Hotel and the first meeting of the Gatlinburg Alumnae Club.

Thus the new member was duly initiated into the committee and she came away from Gatlinburg with a feeling of wonder at the work which $\Pi B \Phi$ has done and has still to do.

POSTSCRIPT

It was decided at the meeting that the new member should take up the editing of the News from Little Pigeon, which has been so ably done by Mary Cooper Frost whose term of office has expired. As the new member writes this review, that feeling of inadequacy again assails her and she begs your indulgence hoping that her love for $\Pi B \Phi$ and her great interest in the school may help her to keep the department up to the high standard attained by Miss Frost.

THE STAFF

By EUNICE WEAVER

Let us introduce to you the new members of our staff for 1935-36, a most interesting and welcome group.

Elmer Kite, Tennessee University, Smith-Hughes teacher at the Claiborne county high school last year, is our vocational agriculture teacher, and is very shy and dignified. Gussie Smith, Tennessee University, our home economics teacher, who has had four years of elementary experience in the state, is small, vivacious, and much interested in her work.

Ben Fleming, one of our own former dormitory students, who worked his way through the Settlement School six years ago, graduated at Tusculum College with honors last spring and is now one of our high school teachers. He lives at Pigeon Forge and brings six students with him every morning to school.

Mary Louise Durkee, Nevada A, Reno, Nevada, came a long way to take charge of the third and fourth grades, and Pauline Campbell, Oregon B, whose former home was California, has second and third grades. These attractive western girls have adjusted themselves to the settlement work easily, and Mary Louise plays accompaniments to the children's songs.

Rosemary Moorehead, Illinois H, fifth and sixth grade teacher, and Pauline Requarth, Illinois H, our new bookkeeper, are from Decatur, Illinois, graduates of James Millikin University last spring. They won the family from the start and Rosemary's music is a joy.

Those who returned to us and need no introduction are William King, principal; Eleanor Brabson, primary; Miriam Swann, first grade; and Stella Huff, high school teacher, all Tennesseans. After a year and a half absence, spent with the Tennessee Valley Authority at Norris, Gene Redding, weaving supervisor and teacher, is with us again. Her assistant is Lura Ownby.

Ethel Snow, Iowa Γ , continues as Arrow Craft manager with her two assistants, Veatress Parton and Bill McCarter. Mrs. Georgia Duffield is in her usual place, in charge of the Mountain View Hotel Shop, and Mrs. Mary Ellen McDonald, housekeeper for the past four years, continues with that position and has charge of the dormitories.

Virginia Moore has returned from New York, after finishing her summer course at Columbia, to take up her work as school and public health nurse.

Arlie Watson and Ambers Ogle, native mountaineers, are still in charge of the farm, and Bess McCarter of the cooking.

NORRIS SHOP VISITED BY ARROW CRAFT DIRECTOR

By ETHEL SNOW

Many of you have read of the Norris Dam as it is being built. It is situated only sixty miles from Gatlinburg and visited by as many as eight thousand sightseers on some Sundays. It was conceived by members of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild as an ideal spot for a handicraft shop. Other members of the guild have not been as fortunate as Arrow Craft in having a ready or extended market. With the help of the Tennessee Valley Authority, a corporation has been formed including the outstanding centers of this region.

The first order from the new shop gave me a chance to visit it in person and see in perspective our own handwoven products among those chosen from all the different kinds of handicrafts. A modest little colonial cottage sits near the site of the dam. Across the front runs a fair sized display room finished with the handicrafts in mind. The walls and ceiling are panelled in wood with an antique brown finish. The furniture comes from the different centers. There are artistic shelves with carved animals, hand-hammered pewter, and lovely pottery. The weaving on display comes from as many as six different localities, but I was glad to add one of our prize winning peasant runners along with others not quite so famous. It was nice to have someone come in to our Arrow Craft shop not long after and tell us how well our natural linen luncheon set had looked on the table. I am sure there must have been some hot days there this summer from the number of fans of Arlena's making that were carried away.

I hope many of you this coming year may see this Norris shop in person and it is my greatest wish that you all come to "The Great Smoky Mountain Park" and say hello to your Settlement School in passing.

FIRST LADY WEARS DRESS OF ARROW CRAFT HOMESPUN

An Associated Press story of September 11, 1935, reads in part: "The rest of Mrs. Roosevelt's travel outfit is being made from homespun material as part of the President's plan for stimulating home industries. One of the garments is a double-breasted tailored model, with skirt and short jacket and a matching swagger coat.

"The other will be a skirt and polo jacket outfit of egg-shell homespun. The sleeveless jacket is to be worn with white silk blouses, completing the style of costume Mrs. Roosevelt likes to wear when driving her own car."

The February, 1934, ARROW carried a story "Arrow Crafters present dress to Mrs. Roosevelt" from which the following is taken: "and presented it to Mrs. Roosevelt, telling her that Maggie Parton, a graduate of our school, had woven especially for her the beautiful white dress goods, edged with its three-inch band of white Angora."

A letter to Mrs. Roosevelt brought the following reply:

WASHINGTON

September 19, 1935

MY DEAR MRS. HOLTON:

Mrs. Roosevelt asks me to tell you in reply to your letter of September 12 that one of the outfits was made of material woven in your Arrow Craft shop, the other was made here.

Very sincerely yours,
MALVINA T. SCHEIDER
Secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt

DO YOU KNOW:

That our school begins in August and teachers' salaries start at the same time?
That all repairs must be made in July in order to be ready for the opening of school?
That for these reasons our balance is low this time of the year?
And that consequently early contributions from clubs and individuals are greatly appreciated?

Seen by WINOGENE B. REDDING

Gatlinburg again! And how happy I am to be back here in my old job. Since I came back, I have been thinking of the changes that have taken place since I came here ten years ago. Then the new road was completed as far as our front gate and a journey beyond there was an endurance test for the most hardy. The road has gone through various stages since then. It has been widened twice, each time taking off a slice of Pi Phi land. Then the "black road" came with a bridge over Baskin's Creek down by the Arrow Craft Shop and we could count ourselves as actually being a part of the world. Now they tell us that we are to have another newer road that will be a modern concrete highway. We are hoping that sidewalks will be provided, because our winding, narrow road through the Burg is a dangerous highway for both pedestrians and cars, and wrecks are frequent occurrences.

When I think of the lovely little country road that wound along beside the Little Pigeon river with no views obstructed by buildings, and now walk along our road cluttered with the hot-dog stands, four filling stations, seven gift shops not including two of Arrow Craft, dance halls, tea rooms, and tourist camps, I wonder if the world has not descended upon us too rapidly. Is it possible for the hundreds of young people living here to have the highest ideals of life among it all? Pi Phi has the greatest opportunity for service that has ever been here, to work among the young people who are through school and to show them how much healthy and clean recreation can mean in their lives.

Almost more amazing than the change in the road is the growth of the rest of the town. From the hill above the hotel overlooking the Roaring Fork valley road where ten years ago we could see four houses, one can now see sixty-five. It looks like a city subdivision, and that is only one small section. Last year when a survey of the town was made for telephone service purposes, they found 1,000 people living within a half mile of the post office. Now we have a telephone exchange and the school number is Gatlinburg 64.

As the Park bought up the land and homes in the mountains, the families have moved into the burg or to better mountain farms in nearby sections that are not included in the Park area. The Smoky Mountain National Park offices are located in the yard of Mr. Huff's Mountain View Hotel, there are three CCC camps nearby, Knoxville people have summer homes here, and tourists pour into the town by thousands during the year, for our mountains are still unspoiled and beautiful.

All this contributes to the hustle and bustle of this little town. No wonder Arrow Craft sales increase each year. We have the distinction of being the only people with two shops in town, one in the lobby of the Mountain View Hotel, and our little white, tree-shaded shop at the junction of the Mill Creek road and the main highway.

To me the most interesting growth has been in the Arrow Craft Shop. It was an idea ten years ago, now it is a very important part of the lives of these mountain people. When I came, there were about twelve people weaving for the school. Last year there were eighty-five.

I started teaching under the porch of Stuart Cottage and my office was any chair I happened to be sitting in at the moment. In three years I progressed to fine quarters in the new high school, and now we have just moved into the wonderfully equipped building, formerly the Woodcraft Shop, that Mr. L. E. Voorheis so generously gave to the school. We have five well-lighted and ventilated rooms for our supplies, office, waiting room for the women, and the large loom room for the twelve looms that are used by the eighth grade girls. The weavers are as thrilled as I am over our spacious new quarters.

We are having a house warming this month to pridefully show our new home to all of Gatlinburg. I wish all of our Pi Phi friends could be here to enjoy the occasion with us. Do come sometime!

OLD TIMERS' DAY

Grand Council and the committee were delighted that Old Timers' Day was scheduled for June 22, making it possible for all of them to attend. The weather was fine and at seven A.M. people could be seen coming from all directions, although the program did not begin until nine. At that time the school auditorium was full to capacity, with every seat taken and as many more standing. There were two or three hundred more in the grounds, making close to a thousand in attendance.

The program was varied, the various contests such as hog calling, husband calling, ugliest man, oldest woman, spinning, weaving, and carding were interspersed with all kinds of mountain singing. The ballad and harp singing, and the guitar and banjo playing were most popular. The address was given by Judge Paine of Sevierville. Out-of-door contests of corn shucking, wrestling, horse-shoe pitching, target, and baseball took place. One of the most interesting contests was when twenty beautiful babies were carried on to the stage by proud mothers and a group of men had to decide which was the prettiest. Much credit for the fine and sturdy appearance of these youngsters should go to Virginia Moore, the school nurse, and her health program.

A group of the oldest of the settlers were entertained at the school for a noonday dinner. Others enjoyed picnic dinners. The program was resumed in the afternoon. Mr. E. N. Clabo, president of the organization, made an excellent presiding officer. This day, which was started by the school in order to preserve the old time customs, is a most interesting and worthwhile community project.

THE THIRD YEAR

The committee agreed to add the third year to the high school if the local committee would canvass the community and obtain the number of pupils required, and if the county would pay for the additional teacher required. The state law of Tennessee requires fifty pupils for a high school in transitional stage from a two-year to a four-year course. Our local people worked assiduously and by the time school started fifty-eight enrolled. The county furnished the teacher, Ben Fleming, so the third year is an accomplished fact. The moving of the weaving to Wood Craft made room available for the extra classes. Next year these third year pupils will be ready for the fourth. In order to add the fourth year and get county funds for the teachers' salaries there must be seventy-five enrolled in high school. The local committee is working toward that end.

SCHOOL NOTES

From MRS. WEAVER'S LETTERS

Dr. Kendall, Northwestern bacteriologist, made a fine address on opening day, and the gymnasium was filled.

The Parent-Teacher Association gave a play at which they cleared about $40. This will be used to help defray the expense of the school lunches of which the Parent-Teacher Association has charge.

Virginia Moore has fixed up a rest room in the Wood Craft building for the children who do not feel well.

Veatress Parton was offered a position as weaving instructor at Murphy College, but has decided to stay as assistant to Mrs. Snow at Arrow Craft.

Lucile Ownby, the cook, has left to attend Tennessee University.

The Log Cabin Cafe, which was destroyed by fire, is being rebuilt with cement blocks, but has not changed its name.

On August 28 thirteen Greyhound buses unloaded 350 farm women who had an all-day meeting at the school. Miss Ambrose, state supervisor of home demonstration, had charge and short talks were given by Mrs. Weaver, Mr. King, and Gussie Smith. The women saw the shops, the hotel and the school and left saying they had had a good time and would be back next year. There was just one Pi Phi among them, Mrs. Raymond Mitchell, Virginia A, Union City, Tennessee. She had not been to the school before and had not seen a Pi Phi since 1920, so the visit gave her quite a thrill.

Dorothy MacLean, who now lives in Gatlinburg, does excellent photography. She took the pictures which appear in this department.

The Future Farmer boys were pleased with receiving four blue ribbons at the County Fair, Jim Hatcher's flower stand, Joy Clabo's and Harrison Kerley's hog trough, Von and Ralph Reagan's stepladder. Doyle Loveday's hammer handle took a red ribbon. Two young heifers brought home first and second ribbons.

Arrow Craft entered seven articles, Whig Rose runner and Harriet towel taking first, and Peasant runner, Tapestry towel, Natural Linen luncheon set, coverlet and curtains, second place.

Our school enrollment is 335, and of these 58 are in the high school.

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed with the L. G. Balfour Company, official jewelers to the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, whereby their representatives will hereafter present official cards, bearing the signature of the Grand Treasurer to permit them to display in the chapter houses of the Fraternity.

We are depending upon the cooperation of chapter officers to maintain and assist us in the plan and to refuse to permit jewelry displays unless the official cards have been presented.

The purpose of this plan is two-fold. First, it will give each chapter a legitimate excuse to refuse the numerous requests received from many different sources for entry into the chapter house, which waste valuable time and frequently are of annoyance to the members of the organization.

Second, the plan will definitely protect you and the Fraternity with respect to quality. Under contract, our official jeweler guarantees his products without reservation or exception, and you can make necessary purchases with the assurance that you will be fully protected.

Your assistance in making this plan a success will be of mutual benefit to your chapter, the Fraternity, and the official jeweler.

The Editor Hears That . . .

LILLIAN CRAIG COFFMAN, Iowa A, is a writer of charming songs. Of them, one called "Joy" was recently commended by Lotta Lehmann, Metropolitan star.

ELIZABETH WILSON, charter member of Kentucky A, is Dramatic Director in the Division of Recreation of the Department of Welfare in the city of Louisville, in addition to being part time worker at the Neighborhood Settlement House. As Dramatic Director she wrote (with the assistance of Katherine Seebolt Kirwan, a K Δ) "An Arabian Night's Entertainment" which was produced as a pageant at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville on September 11. About 350 were in the cast, and Elizabeth supervised the making of the costumes, and personally dyed 1675 yards of cheese cloth for costumes. She also personally supervised the entire production. It was a great success and was viewed by all the notable Kentuckians who came to see the Fair. Another Π Β Φ, Juanita Sullivan, had charge of directing the chorus work.

MR. AND MRS. FRANCIS RUGG (Sarah Pomeroy) reopened The Carriage House Studio for their second summer season this year. The Carriage House is located on the old Canfield estate belonging to Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher in Arlington, Vermont. Arlington is on Route 7 between Bennington and Manchester. The sign of the carriage wheel is opposite the old stone church in the heart of the village.

DR. ICIE MACEY, Virginia A, once holder of the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship, and one of the outstanding scientists of the present day, has been given a new distinction. She has been made Director of the Children's Fund of Michigan. Her friends in the fraternity who remember her for her charm and friendliness will be happy over the news of the new recognition that has come to her.

HELEN VINSON, star of the movies, is a member of Texas B. She was recently married to Fred Perry, international tennis star.

PEARL HILL, West Virginia A, is Dean of Women at West Liberty Teachers College, in Ohio.

VYVYAN MOEUR PARMELEE, Arizona A, daughter of Governor Moeur of Arizona, has been appointed Director of Social Service in the FERA for the state of Utah. Mrs. Parmelee has been a resident of Salt Lake City for twelve years, and has been active in similar social service work there.

DR. F. C. KRACAW, of Oakland, California, discoverer of a new non-surgical method of treatment for sinus infections, is the husband of Betty Johnston Kracaw, Iowa A.

THEODOSIA PAYNTER, Illinois E, is having great success in an unusual line of writing—librettos. Written especially for children, her work has a fairy quality, and a delicious vein of nonsense. We hope to hear more about her work in the future.

ALICE BERRY, Minnesota A, has an important position in charge of Federal Relief in the New Orleans district, with a force of 100 people working under her.

AGNES WENTWORTH, Vermont A, is starting her fifth year as dietitian of the Beekman Tower (Panhellenic).

KATE HEACOCK SMILEY, Nebraska B, is secretary-treasurer of the Educational Athletic Foundation, has done interesting research work in old New York history, and makes her home at the Beekman Tower (Panhellenic).

WHEN Tyler, Texas, commemorated its prolific rose growing season this year with its annual Rose Festival it chose as its Queen, Louise Boren, attractive undergraduate of the University of Texas.

The Festival opened with a tea at Louise's home to honor the princesses of her court, and was followed by her coronation ceremonies. A colorful rose parade and a Queen's Ball ended the two days' celebration. Louise, charming in her coronation robe with its train of real roses, presided so graciously over her court of princesses and their escorts as to inspire the noted rosarian Mr. Jean Henri Nichols to breed a rose emblematic of the South which he has named the Queen Louise Boren.

CALISTA COOPER, province winner in the Amy B. Onken awards, after her graduation in June sailed for Japan, where she will remain indefinitely as hostess for her brother at the Embassy of the United States in Tokio.

JENNIE TURNBULL, D.C. Alpha, has been chosen for a team of women who will be the first women's team in that sport to go abroad and play at the All-England Ladies' Lacrosse Association events in London. This is her first year in Lacrosse, but she has before been a star in hockey, basketball, and tennis, and is now Director of Physical Education at the Friends' School in Washington.

MARY BADGER WILSON, D.C. Alpha, and New York B, was interviewed in the Washington Post for June 22, in connection with the publication of her latest novel, "Borrowed Plumes."

SOPHIE WOODMAN, New York B, is chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration of the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Panhellenic house in New York (now Beekman Tower). Representatives of twenty-one national groups will take part, and the speaker of the occasion will be Josephine Schain, Minnesota A, who has recently returned from abroad and will speak on "Geneva."

MRS. FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT was an interested visitor to the Federal Institution for Women at Alderson, West Virginia, of which Dr. Mary Harris, Pennsylvania B, is superintendent.

THE SEPTEMBER number of Fortune mentions Irma Proetz, Missouri B, as one of the outstanding business women of the country.

MISS MARGARET CAMPBELL, founder of Π B Φ, is now the earliest living graduate on Monmouth, and the only one still living of her class, 1867.

THE FRATERNITY MONTH for last January contains a fine article by Gail De Wolf, one of their series "The Greatest Living Greeks," about Amy Burnham Onken and her contribution to the fraternity world.

CHARLOTTE RAY, charter member of Pennsylvania Δ, is Dean of Women at Pennsylvania State College.

COSETTE NELSON, North Dakota A, has a Π B Φ pin that has been places! It was worn on a "Good Will Tour" of Europe in 1927 by Lorna Laney Phillips, and was present when she was presented to the Pope (the pin was blessed by him), the King and Queen of England, the Prince of Wales, the King and Queen of Belgium, and other famous people too numerous to mention.

FRANCES WILSON McNULTY, Virginia B, once Π B Φ Graduate Fellow, has had poems published in the New York Times, the Junior League Magazine, and the Lyric.

EMMA LOUISE FEENEY, Vermont A, is Associate Editor, Junior American Dietetic Association.

A committee, consisting of four faculty members and four fraternity presidents, has been appointed by President Hughes to outline a twenty-year plan for the fraternities of Iowa State College. A set of objectives to be aimed at for twenty years in the future will be drawn up. His idea is to enable such a thorough study of the fraternity situation that the Greek-letter organizations of this campus will rank with the best in the country. Ideas will be obtained from secretaries of the national fraternities concerning the aims, ideals and problems of social fraternities. As far as we know this plan is the first of its kind. We are looking forward to a great future and a new hope. We hope that such a plan can be carried out in other colleges and universities all over the country.—Chapter Correspondent, Alpha Chi Rho, Iowa State College.

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

Edited by JUANITA DAY CARMAN

Eleanor Bennett, Kappa Kappa Gamma Grand President, resigned because of ill health and is succeeded by Helen Snyder Andres.

The National Achievement Award for 1934, given annually by Chi Omega, was presented to Miss Josephine Roche, for her unique achievements in the fields of business as a director and president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company.

Conventions this past summer were Alpha Gamma Delta at Quebec, Alpha Chi Omega at White Sulphur Springs, Kappa Delta at Pasadena, Phi Omega Pi at Yellowstone.

The University of Oregon has installed a travelling fraternity library. The books, current fiction and non-fiction, are loaned in groups of twenty to a house for a month. Each house appoints a librarian. The aim is to interest the students in recreational reading.

Regional conferences last spring were held by Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Gamma, and Chi Omega.

The Aglaia of Phi Mu and the Key of Kappa Kappa Gamma in their recent issues devote a department to Mothers' Clubs.

Besides the Trident, quarterly magazine of Delta Delta Delta, there is a newly established Inter-Chapter News Service designed to furnish members with news of a more personal nature than could be run in the Trident and at the same time furnish members with more timely news. In addition they have organized a department to supervise publicity. Gamma Phi Beta also has a National Chairman of Publicity.

Corra Harris, distinguished writer of the South, who died last February, was a member of Chi Omega.

Alpha Chi Omega with fifty-eight active chapters, celebrates her fiftieth anniversary this year.

Alpha Omicron Pi chartered a colonized chapter at the University of Georgia.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon holds the record in having six United States Senators at the last session of Congress. Phi Delta Theta boasts of five.

The Delta of Sigma Nu has a most detailed study of the Sigma Nus in Who's Who. Among other acknowledgments for assistance in preparation of the articles, thanks are given to Miss Hetty Reid Turner, Louisiana A.

APOLOGY TO PI BETA PHI

An unintentional injustice which is greatly regretted was done to $\Pi B \Phi$ in the May issue in The Record in which the statement was made that it had withdrawn from North Carolina, Nebraska, and Michigan. There was no foundation in fact for this statement which was an inadvertance. Due apology to $\Pi B \Phi$ is cheerfully made.—The Record of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Appended to Ernestine Grigsby's intelligent and convincing refutation of current criticism of the American college fraternity system in the Fraternity Month, is a codification of advice that is worth perusal. We present it as a lucid statement of the aims and objectives of a sensible, working organization.

1. Be constructive, always.
2. Avoid expensive social activities.
3. Helps those less fortunate than yourselves.
4. Cooperate with the College ("The college comes first").
5. Be democratic, not snobbish!

6. Be fair in your rushing.
7. Abolish the paddle entirely.
8. No roughhousing or silly horseplay in initiations. Keep all initiation activities within the chapter house.
9. Don't overbuild, over-spend; be economical.
10. Avoid "dirty" politics. Better lose honorably than to win dishonestly.
11. Don't attempt to quell the individuality of your members.
12. Instruct and train your younger members in honor, character, unselfishness.
13. Remember that your prime reason for going to college is to learn: keep your scholarship high.
14. Keep constructive publicity flowing to the press.
15. Be decent, clean, honorable citizens.
—The Record of Sigma Alpha Epsilon

AMES AGREES TO PAY PART OF HOUSE MOTHERS' SALARY

The college officials have recently voted to aid the fraternities by donating $15 per month toward the salary of a house mother, provided the House pays an additional $25 per month. This practice has been carried out for a number of years for the sororities but it is a "new deal" for the fraternities.

CHAIRMAN NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONGRESS IS INTERESTING PERSONALITY

Gladys Pugh Redd, Chairman of the National Panhellenic Congress, is a delightful personality and one who represents the entire sorority world with honor. Although she really belongs to Kappa Delta, she seems to carry a larger fraternal spirit than can be limited to only one group, and so it makes her especially fitted to hold the office in N.P.C. Mrs. Redd is a typical "southern lady" with a gracious manner and affable disposition, and one easy to approach. As presiding officer of the next Congress meeting, to be held in December, at Gulfport, Miss., she will be in a decidedly important position and all indications are that she will handle her official duties in a most capable way.—The Pentagon of $\Phi \Omega \Pi$

Only one who has lived in Hartford, where ignorance of collegiate fraternities is so great that Kappa keys have been taken for Phi Beta Kappa keys, can quite appreciate what it meant to see over 100 fraternity women, representing 16 of the national groups, at a luncheon together, April 6, the second annual Panhellenic luncheon.

The whole thing was the inspiration, a year ago, of the local Pi Phi (numerous here!). At that first meeting seven Kappas each discovered that she was not the only Kappa in Hartford. Out of that meeting came our local alumnae association, chiefly through the efforts of Catherine Fitzbaugh Wood.

This year the Sigma Kappas had charge of the luncheon. People were seated alphabetically, in order to mix them up and to facilitate seating them by place cards. Name cards were prepared ahead of time, to be pinned on, so names and sororities were easily identified. The speaker was Miss Eleanor Little, State Emergency Relief administrator, who spoke of relief problems of the state and answered questions about them. Following her address, the chairman called for a roll call by sororities, each person giving her name and college. Pi Phi, Sigma Kappas, and Phi Mus had practically their whole local membership there. Kappa didn't do so well, I think there were only five of us. Because we have the next largest membership in our alumnae club, we had the chairmanship of the next annual luncheon thrust upon us with no warning.—Key of K K K.

VITAL STATISTICS

Births and mergers in the Greek Letter world of recent months have been as follows:

Installations have been: Alpha Phi, Zeta Beta Tau, and Phi Kappa Psi at Duke University; Kappa Sigma at Hobart College; Theta Upsilon, City Association in Denver; Phi Sigma Epsilon at State Teachers College, Conway, Ark.; Sigma Tau Gamma, Arkansas State Teachers College; Theta Tau and Tau Kappa Epsilon at George Washington University; Alpha Omega Pi and Delta Phi Epsilon at University of Georgia; Sigma Sigma Sigma at State Teachers College, Conway, Ark., Clarion and Lock Haven, Pa.; Phi Eta Sigma at University of Idaho; Sigma Iota Chi at the Portia Law School for Women; Kappa Psi at Howard College's School of Pharmacy; Delta Upsilon at the Universities of Alberta and British Columbia; Alpha Xi Delta at Michigan State College; Alpha Lambda Tau at University of Maryland; Tau Beta Pi at Rutgers University; Theta Kappa Psi at University of Southern California's School of Medicine; and Delta Tau Delta at Lawrence College. Mortar Board has a new chapter at Michigan State and Alpha Omega Pi has a new Alumnae Chapter in Toronto.

New charter grants have been: Kappa Nu at University of Tennessee; Omicron Epsilon Pi at University of Mississippi; Alpha Lambda Tau at Missouri School of Mines and Michigan State College; Delta Sigma Pi in the College of Business Administration of Rider College; Theta Kappa Nu at Washington College, and Beta Kappa at University of Akron.

Mergers have been: Omega Tau Delta and Phi Epsilon Pi at Ohio University; Sigma Mu Sigma and Tau Kappa Epsilon at Illinois, Purdue, and George Washington.

New developments have been:

1. The decision of Sigma Xi, scientific honorary fraternity to place its first chapter at a woman's college, at Smith. The decision, to quote the fraternity officials, "represents not only a departure from the historic policy of Sigma Xi, but also an entirely proper recognition by Sigma Xi of the scientific competency of women." Record of S.A.E.

2. The first sorority in the United States for women students from China, at the University of Michigan. Comprising 20 Chinese women, naming itself Sigma Sigma Phi, the organization is operating a chapter house and planning a chapter in Shanghai.

3. The application for a charter by the Negro butlers employed in fraternity houses at the University of Georgia, to incorporate a fraternity to be known as Sigma King. The first name indicates Greek origin and King means at "the top" in local Afro-American circles.—Record.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon pulls a new one. Announcement has been made that they are to train a number of their active workers at their first Camp and School of Instruction to be held at the Levere Temple at Evanston, during the last two weeks in August. It certainly is a forward and constructive step.

1. To instruct a selected group of leaders among the active chapters in fraternity history, ritual, traditions, and national laws, and up-to-date methods of chapter finance, house management, rushing, pledge training, duties of officers, chapter committees, alumni associations, province conventions, and initiations.

2. To inspire, through individuals, all the active chapters with the dignity, size, greatness, ideals, and destiny of the Σ A E fraternity.

3. To give a large number of brothers in Σ A E an opportunity to see and understand the Levere Memorial Temple under the best conditions possible.

4. To acquaint these brothers and, through them the various chapters, with the methods, purposes, and personnel of the national organization by having them live with their national officers for one week.

5. To give each member of the camp an individual experience in instruction, recreation, and fraternalism which will make him a better man and a better Σ A E.

6. To send to the chapters in September an irresistible impetus straight from the Shrine of Σ A E.—Record.

IN MEMORIAM

THE editor announces a new policy for this department. Hereafter, only brief notices, giving chapter, date of initiation, date and place of birth and death, and offices held in the national organization, will be used. Exceptions to this rule will be made only in the case of active officers of the fraternity, former Grand officers, and members of I.C. Deaths of generally known members of the families of Pi Beta Phis, will appear in the personal section of the chapter concerned.

SARAH ANN TAYLOR, charter member of Iowa A, was born in Bethlehem, Indiana, on April 2, 1848. She died in Omaha, Nebraska, on June 10, 1935. In her girlhood, Sarah moved with her family to Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, where she attended Iowa Wesleyan. She was graduated in 1869 with high scholastic honors. In 1888, she moved to Omaha, Nebraska, where she lived the greater part of her life, excepting twelve years when she made her home in San Diego, California. Throughout the sixty-six years of her Pi Phi sisterhood, Miss Taylor's interest in the development of the fraternity was a dominant note in her life. In 1929, when she attended her 60th class reunion in Mt. Pleasant, she was given an honored position at both college and Pi Phi affairs. She was an active member of the San Diego Alumnae Club and an honorary member of the Omaha Alumnae Club. Her sister was Mary Taylor Phillippi, also Iowa A. Surviving Miss Taylor are three Pi Phi nieces—Mrs. Orien W. Fifer, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Frank M. Wiehues, St. Paul, Minnesota, and Mary K. Phillippi, San Diego, California. All three are Iowa Alpha Pi Phis. A grand niece, Edith Lou Docekol, of Sheridan, Wyoming, is in the active chapter at Northwestern.

MARY IOWA SNYDER, initiated into I.C. in 1871 at Iowa A, transferred to Iowa I, passed away March 30, 1935.

ALICE COLLIER RANKIN (Mrs. D. J.), a member of I.C., Kansas A chapter, initiated in 1878, died after a long illness at Albuquerque, New Mexico, July, 1934.

MARIA WILSON ROSS (Mrs. Pitt), initiated into I.C. in 1873, a member of Kansas A chapter, died as a result of an automobile accident, September, 1934, at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

RACHEL LOUISE KINCADE, charter member of Maine A, died August 15, 1933.

HELEN BARRETT GROESBECK (Mrs. Hoadley R.), of Philadelphia, initiated into Illinois B in 1923, died October 30, 1933.

RUTH COVERDALE DENNETT (Mrs. Kenneth), of Chicago, initiated into Illinois Z in 1921, died June 8, 1935.

MAY DORRINGTON MARTIN (Mrs. John C.), Nebraska B, initiated 1897, died at her home August 14, 1935.

ALSACE SULLIVAN WICK (Mrs. W. M.), Illinois H, formerly of Evanston, died in Decatur, Illinois, August 3, 1935.

MARGARET TRUE, initiated into Colorado A in 1932, of Billings, Montana, died in a plane crash September 27, 1935.

ALMA ANDERSON BASTEDO (Mrs. Frank L.), charter member and first president of Ontario A, died at her home in Regina, Saskatchewan, May 26, 1935—the first break in the ranks of the charter members of that chapter.

LORETTA HOOD YOUNG (Mrs. Wilberforce H.), initiated 1891 into Illinois Δ, died at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York, August 3, 1935, after a long illness. Her mother, Mary Gault Hood, Illinois A, was an intimate friend of the Founders of Pi Beta Phi, and would herself have been one of their number had not illness kept her out of college when the fraternity was founded. Always active in the fraternity, and president of Beta province for four years, Mrs. Young was instrumental along with Grace Lass Sisson in founding Illinois E in 1894. She also helped obtain a charter for Texas A in 1902. She resided in Austin, Texas, until 1930, and since then has done splendid work at Smith College as head of Wilder House. She had two Pi Phi sisters, Helen Hood Graham, of Austin, Texas, a member of Texas A, and Edna Hood Lantz, Illinois Δ, of Holton, Kansas, who died in 1929.

The Editor regrets that no more information was available about the following members of I.C., whose recent deaths have been reported to her:

ETTA SPEARMAN CALHOUN (Mrs. Charles F.), Iowa A, I.C., died in Los Angeles.

DAISY DAVIS WITHEREL (Mrs. J. M.), Colorado A, I.C., died in Los Angeles.

MINNIE DURR CAMPBELL (Mrs. Eugene), Iowa E, I.C., died in Los Angeles.

MINNIE OWENS CHAMBERLIN (Mrs. H. M.), Illinois A, I.C., number twenty on the list of initiates into that chapter, died in Long Beach.

ELLA BUXTON COOPER (Mrs. W. L.), Iowa B, initiated 1877, died in Long Beach, California. She was one of a family of five sisters, who were all members of I.C. Sorosis.

ALPHA PROVINCE, EAST

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, October 8, 1935

INITIATED, April 25, 1935: Estelle Blanchard, Cumberland Center; Mildred Dauphinee, Bangor; Carolyn Hanscom, Ogunquit; Marian Hilton, Anson; Faith Holden, Millinocket; Laura Wesolowska, Shirley, Massachusetts.

Upon the opening of the University this fall, many changes and improvements in the buildings have been completed. The University Inn, formerly used for apartments for professors and instructors, has been remodeled as a cooperative dormitory and renamed South Hall.

Twenty-six new members have been added to the University staff of instructors, as well as three new house superintendents.

The Maine Bears, a dance band composed of university students, spent the summer touring the British Isles. On both voyages the band entertained the passengers each evening.

A fine new house is being erected by the ΣX fraternity on the site of the girls' dormitory which burned three years ago, Mount Vernon.

An unusually large number of transfers came to Maine this year, both from normal schools and other colleges and universities.

Virginia Nelson and Doris Lawrence were chosen in the spring as members of "All Maine Women," an honorary society composed of women students, who have done the most for the University both scholastically and in activities.

Betty Jordan was awarded an "M" for athletic skill. Velma Colson, Doris Lawrence, and Arlene Merrill were elected $\Phi K \Phi$, an honorary fraternity of the Arts College, and Doris Lawrence and Arlene Merrill to $\Phi B K$. Louise Calderwood is secretary of Panhellenic Council and assistant manager of hockey. Virginia Nelson is president of Sodalitas Latina, the Latin Club, and manager of tennis. Mildred Dauphinee was awarded a shingle as reporter of The Campus, the University newspaper, and Faith Holden is secretary of Sodalitas Latina.

Betty Jordan, as former president of Rifle Club, is organizing a drive for a rifle range for the girls of the University. Margaret Asnip is president of Contributor's Club, the honorary writing society.

During our first pledging date, October 8, only upper-class girls were permitted to be pledged. As yet no definite dates have been set for second semester rushing, at which time the freshmen will be pledged. A period of partially closed rushing is being observed in regard to the freshmen. Normal contacts are allowed during meal hours, but strictly closed rushing is enforced at all other times.

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1934

Pledge Day, November 1, 1934

This autumn sees the beginning of the chapter's second year in $\Pi B \Phi$. Last year it spent in more or less feeling its way. As there were only three members of $\Pi B \Phi$ in the whole of Nova Scotia and of these but one who lived in Halifax, the routine chapter procedure was often puzzling. The chapter regrets that Mrs. Wilson Smith, Missouri A, whose advice and cooperation were invaluable last year, has now left Halifax, but all the members join in best wishes for her future success at Radcliffe.

Owing to a University regulation which compels all woman undergraduates to live in residence, a chapter house is out of the question. However, the chapter plans to rent a sitting room near the campus, where meetings and social gatherings may be held.

Here the summer vacation is longer than is the rule farther south. It lasts from May until the end of September, so the college activities are scarcely under way. The chapter plans to distribute its interest so that each activity on the campus has its representative.

Ruth Skaling has received a glee club "D" for outstanding work in the club's productions. Janet MacGregor is president of the Dalhousie Girls' Association. Frances Drummie is vice-president of the glee club.

The rushing season starts in the middle of October. Each of the three sororities on the campus gives a rushing tea and formal dance. Choice of dates in these functions is arranged in rotation. This year $\Pi B \Phi$ has last choice.

GRADUATES, May, 1935: Maureen Crichton, M.A.; Margaret Burris, Diploma of Education; Catherine Fogo, B.A. (with distinction); Edythe Nelson, B.Comm.; Mary Worrell, B.A.; B.Comm.; Charlotte Smith, B.A.; Constance Smith, B.A.; Mary Harris, Diploma in H.Sc.

PLEGDED: Constance Jost, Doris Hobrecker, Halifax. MARGARET KERR

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, November 16, 1935

INITIATED, April 29, 1935: Elizabeth N. Gates, Enosburg Falls; Elizabeth E. Osborne, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Plans have been completed for the new Women's College at Middlebury. The total cost is estimated at about three and one-half million dollars. There is provision for three recitation halls, a gymnasium, chapel, library, and four dormitories, one of which is now being constructed.

The faculty has been changed somewhat for this year by the inclusion of two exchange professors: Prof. H. F. Barnum of Robert College, Istanbul, Turkey, and Prof. H. M. Turner of the University of Edinburgh.

A new plan of student government has been adopted by the Women's College. The organization is called the Student Union and is divided into executive, legislative, and judicial departments. This plan enables more women to have a chance to assist in their governing body and makes for a more efficient group. Janet Gray is vice-president of the union, and Evelyn Comesty is on the judicial council.

A discussion group has been organized under able leadership for the purpose of bringing current events to the attention of Middlebury women. A panel discussion of the Italian-Ethiopian situation was one of the first presentations of the group. Carol Bloom, Isabel Ingham, and Ruth van Sickle gave short speeches in connection with this discussion.

At Class Day in June three members of Vermont A received honors. Alice Emma Flagg was given valedictory honors; Faith Arnold, Magna cum laude, and Doris Hiller, cum laude.

Last spring Barbara Wishart was elected to Mortar Board and at the annual Junior Prom, Janet Gray was chosen sophomore attendant.

GRADUATES, June 1935: Faith Arnold, Waltham, Mass.; Alice Emma Flagg, Middlebury; Louise H. Fulton, Asbury Park, N.J.; Dorothy Gray, Katonah, N.Y.; Elizabeth Halpin, Rutherford, N.J.; Doris L. Hiller, Port Washington, N.Y.; Josephine Knox, Ridgefield Park, N.J.; Lois Mack, Dover, Del.; Marion W. Russell, Bridgeport, Conn.

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

The first twelve weeks of College are known as the "big-sister" period on the University of Vermont campus.

This enables the freshmen to meet many upper classmen, who make them feel at home. At the several fall events sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association upper classmen take their little sisters. The first, the Mortar Board picnic, was held September 26, with supper, stunts, and songs.

Two new ideas have been introduced in Vermont B this last year. One is holding Sunday morning open-house breakfasts after late dances. The other is having a large cookie, 9" in diameter made for cooky-shines.

The University owns a large tract of land on Mt. Mansfield. On October 5 the annual Mountain Day was held. Classes were suspended, and a chance was given the students to become acquainted with "our back-camp."

On June 1 a colorful pageant, "The Dream of the Lilac," sponsored by Mortar Board, was held on the lawn of the Redstone dormitory.

This year for the second time the University is maintaining a "Cooperative House." All work is done by the students, under the direction of a trained dietitian.

Three women's fraternities, $\Lambda \Xi \Delta$, $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, $\text{K} \Delta$, have new houses this year for the first time on this campus.

In May a most impressive Candle-Lighting Ceremony was given in honor of our new Patroness, Mrs. C. I. Taggart of Burlington, followed by a banquet. This was, incidentally, Founders' Day, which due to a local epidemic, Vermont B was unable to celebrate with Vermont A, as is its custom.

Soon after the opening of school this semester, work was started on a new Women's Student Union Building, which is being constructed in memory of Miss Mabel Southwick.

Esther Sinclair was elected to O N; Madeleine Davidson was elected to Mortar Board and is the present Chief Justice of Student Union; Natalie Hilliker was appointed to edit the Women's Freshman Handbook; Roberta Puckeridge was Women's Editor of the Junior Year Book, The Ariel; R. Mitchell White entered the College of Medicine this semester. Marion Herberg is Editor-in-Chief of the literary publication which appears quarterly, Winnings from the Mill; four representatives from $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$ were at Freshman Camp, held at South Hero on Lake Champlain, for three days before the official opening of College.

PLEGDED: Elsie Clark, Providence, R.I.; Dorothy Ouade, Gardener, Mass.; Waltina Szymon, Claremont, N.H.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Rosemary Cahill, 8787 116th Street, Richmond Hill, N.Y.

LUCY FROST

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, (Not yet decided)

At the beginning of another college year, Massachusetts A is looking forward to the many good times and interesting events that college life has to offer. Unfortunately two members have not returned this semester.

The first social event of the year was a Freshman Tea, sponsored by three organizations: Y.W.C.A., $\Gamma \Delta$, and W.A.A. Two senior members of $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$, Eleanor Martin and Barbara Young, were on the committee. $\Gamma \Delta$ is the all-women's society in the college. Eleanor Martin, a $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$, is its president. Incidentally, this is the third successive year that a $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$ has held that office. Three members, however, are on its executive cabinet: Constance Reuter, the treasurer, Barbara Huse, and Beatrice Warner.

Barbara Young is president of Y.W.C.A. and Constance Reuter is on the cabinet because of her position as chairman of Freshman Camp. She was assisted by Verina Rogers, a sophomore.

In W.A.A. too, $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$ takes an active part. Eleanor Martin and Astrid Malmsten are on the cabinet, and Constance Reuter is manager of Junior Volley Ball. W.A.A. is planning a house-party, and several Π Phi are planning to attend.

Two proctors, Constance Reuter and Barbara Young, who were chosen for their scholarship, personality and capability were selected from Massachusetts A. Vivian Greene is on the staff of the Beacon, the literary magazine of the college. Sue Harper is president of Panhellenic. Astrid Malmsten and Elsa Bates are in college choir.

Until this year the housing situation at Boston University was anything but satisfactory. Sororities were not allowed to maintain their own chapter houses, but had to be all together in one house, called the Panhellenic House. The arrangement was not pleasant because of the small rooms and lack of accommodations. This year, however, $\Pi \text{ B} \Phi$ and six other fraternities will be located at 131 Commonwealth Avenue, the former Wellesley College Club. Each fraternity will have its own chapter room and also the use of the general living rooms, study hall, and ping pong equipment on the first floor. On the top floor are the girls' rooms; two or three girls from each sorority will be able to live in the house. This new development was made possible by the cooperation of the seven national fraternities.

ELSA F. BATES

ALPHA PROVINCE, WEST

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, October 14, 1935

INITIATED, November 4, 1935: Martha Keefe and Leona Beebe.

A full social program was planned for the incoming freshmen at Syracuse University beginning with freshman camp, at which Beth Maxwell was a counselor. The next big event was the Big Chum party, where a new system was started off having a selected group of girls, each having ten little Chums. The party was held in the Chapel where dancing and games were enjoyed.

Formal rushing began with an Open House and lasted for two weeks, including six parties. The last two were the most interesting, one being a costume party and the other a formal dance. Rushing was aided greatly by the improvements in the chapter house made this summer. New bedroom furniture, new draperies, and remodelled furniture in the living rooms enhance the appearance of the rooms.

Informal pledging was held October 11, after which there was a cooky-shine, which impressed the pledges greatly, as it always does. Mrs. Carlton Fox, Province President, gave a short talk.

Martha Keefe is the vice-president of the Sophomore class. Flower Sheldon, Beth Maxwell, and Estelle Holdsworth are on Second Cabinet of Hendricks Chapel. Jane Williams is Social Chairman of the French Club. Dorothea Schramm and Estelle Holdsworth are on the Daily Orange staff. Doris Gillette is on the Convocation Committee and Assistant Manager of basketball. Esther Fernald is on the tennis team. Margaret Weber and Norma Cluver are on the Executive Committees of their classes.

PLEDGES: Norma Cluver, Roberta Cunningham, Brooklyn; Marjorie McElwain, Pauline Morris, Josephine Sullivan, Syracuse; Catherine Foland, Cooperstown; Sylvia Frampton, Whitehall; Marion Gardner, Tully; Jean Houghton, Washington, D.C.; Phyllis Kidwell, Martinsburg, W.Va.; Jane Newton, Rochester; Mildred Schupp, Port Chester; Margaret Snow, East Orange, N.J.; Lucille Stothard, Hillton; Mary Davis, West Pittston, Pa.; Marcia Jump, Buffalo; Lucille Barrett, Bethlehem, Pa.

The chapter house is undergoing extensive alterations. A new dormitory, three new sleeping rooms, and a new kitchen have been added. The repairs will probably be completed by Thanksgiving. The chapter is at present living in temporary quarters. The alumnae are redecorating the living room in the Victorian style.

New York Γ is happy to welcome a new chaperon, Miss Esther W. Buxton, of Morristown, N.J.

Under the new Panhellenic rushing system, which is being tried for the first time this year, each sorority gave a reception, three open houses, and a formal dinner for the freshmen.

Katherine Gill and Alice Shafto were elected to membership in Kalon, senior honorary society, on Moving Day, May 18.

Katherine Gill was initiated into T K A, national debating society, in June, 1935.

PLEDGES: Dorothy Foster, Jeannette Tyo, and Virginia Tyo, Ogdensburg; Virginia Joyce, Glen Ridge, N.J.; Alice Mackay, East Milton, Mass.; Althea Phillips, Faust;

Pledge Day, October 7, 1935

New York Δ is very pleased with its newly decorated chapter house. During the summer the alumnae supervised the repapering of the first floor and several rooms on the second floor. The entire third floor was repainted.

The chapter was very happy to have a visit from Mrs. Carleton Fox, Alpha Province President, shortly after college opened.

Cornell inaugurated the idea of a freshman orientation week-end this year. The new students arrived a few days before registration and were taken on tours of the campus by the upperclassmen. The plan was very successful and it is likely the faculty will sponsor it again.

The rushing parties this year were all very successful. During the first period a "take-off" on Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" afforded the rushees many laughs. A comic historical pageant was the entertainment for the teas of the second period, and a Bohemian party for the informal dinner. In the third period, the days of the "gay nineties" were portrayed by costumes, songs, and dances.

Several members of the New York Δ are outstanding on the campus this fall. Gladys Winters and Frank Ruth Zingerle are members of Mortar Board, the senior women's honorary society; and Flora Wood Daniel is a member of Raven and Serpent, the junior women's honorary society.

On the council of W.A.A. are Flora Wood Daniel, Mary Elizabeth Latham, Frank Ruth Zingerle and Martha Warren. Jean White, Jean Benham, Flora Wood Daniel, and Martha Warren are managers of the various sports. Elizabeth Trumpp has been elected to K & E the national honorary educational society. Flora Wood Daniel is now an active member of the dramatic club, and E. Sharrott Mayer and Marcia Brown are associate members. Helen Rogers has been elected the sophomore member of the Willard Straight Board.

Frank Ruth Zingerle is associate women's business manager of the Cornellian. Flora Wood Daniel is associate women's editor of the Cornell Daily Sun, and Ruth Jachens is a sophomore competitor for this publication. On the Widow board are Frances Charles and E. Sharrott Mayer, the latter serving as assistant advertising manager.

Frank Ruth Zingerle is president of Balch, unit three; Harriet Bennett is a vice-president in Balch, unit four; and Flora Wood Daniel is a vice-president in Sage College. Marcia Brown has been elected the fire chief of Sage College. Dorothy Shaw has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Panhellenic association.

The first big social event of the year will be the Mum Ball. E. Sharrott Mayer and Barbara Crandall are on the committee arranging for this affair.

Π B Φ is represented in C.U.R.W. by Gladys Winters, chairman of the membership committee; Jean Benham, chairman of the social committee; international relations are in charge of Elizabeth Trumpp; Flora Wood Daniel is in charge of publicity; and Frank Ruth Zingerle is the adviser of the freshman group.

New York Δ is very happy to welcome Martha Omenson, who has transferred to Cornell University from the University of Wyoming.

Marcia Brown has been appointed director of the North Side Settlement House.

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

Pledge Day, October 1, 1935

An extremely successful house party closed the academic year for Ontario A. The chapter as a whole, and several members of the alumnae group, went up to Sturgeon Lake in Eastern Ontario where Mary McLean had very kindly loaned her house. The nine days, well filled by badminton and golf tournaments, sailing, boating, swimming, long walks and drives, proved to be a thoroughly delightful holiday.

The reluctant return to city ways was greeted by the final examination results. Joyce Edwards maintained her high standard by achieving first class honors again. Now a full fledged graduate, she has gone to the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal to continue her work in Household Economics. Frances Mulligan also passed well and is now entering her fifth year of Medicine. Mary McLean, last term's president, completed her course in English and History, but has come back to do M.A. work. The other members of the fraternity were well up, and Ontario A has high hopes of retaining her good scholastic record.

Following graduation, a farewell luncheon was given for the seniors. At this gathering two new awards were instituted. These awards, the chapter's way of expressing its great sorrow in the loss of Frances Shenstone and Patricia Allen during the previous summer, were presented to two active members. Mary McLean, chosen for the graduating class, and Jean Hiller from the first year, are their first recipients in as much as they exemplify, to the highest possible degree, the ideals and characteristics of these two girls.

Students entering first year were welcomed by the customary week-end festivities. All the seniors went into residence for the two days in order to help the freshmen get into the swing of university activities. They assisted them in registering as well as introducing them to the various clubs. Ontario A is fortunate in this latter respect as several of the girls hold responsible executive positions. Marnie Hill is again vice-president of the Players' Guild; Mary Evans and Peggy Carson are on the second year executive; Ruth Cooper was on the committee which arranged the week-end, and Josephine de Pan holds office in the Student Christian Movement.

This fall term was the last during which second year residence girls are to be rushed separately. At Christmas the new rules which allow all first year girls, residents and non-residents, to be rushed in one period, comes into effect. Ontario A feels rather proud of her perfectly clear record in respect to the rushing regulations which, aside from being tiresome, have been extremely ambiguous and almost impossible to interpret.

PLEGDED: Margaret Allen, Brampton, Ontario.

ONTARIO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN ONTARIO

Chartered, 1934

INITIATED, April 20, 1935; Mary Kenny, Sarnia.

The Senior Farewell Ceremony was held at the last meeting at the end of the year on May 25, and the house was kept open until Convocation on June 6.

The Board of Governors Gold Medal in French was won by Margaret Escott-Beal, and Kathleen Milligan received the Board of Governors Scholarship in third year French and German, and the Sir Charles Saunders French Essay prize.

This year the chapter has rented a new house which was settled by the town members. The house was ready by the last week in September, and there are nine girls in residence.

The alumnae and the active chapter held a rummage sale on September 6 and made $60.00, part of which was spent on a rug for the dining room at the house. Other improvements in the house are curtains and furniture for the living room, donated by the parents of the active members and the alumnae club.

Invitations to pledge membership were issued during the summer and in September after the supplemental examinations, but all the answers have not yet been received.

Ontario B led the women's fraternities in scholarship for the year 1934-1935.

INITIATED, June 8, 1935: Alice Anderson, Latrobe; Dorothy Blix, Collingswood, N.J.; Carol Lee Davis, Lewisburg; June Grim, Lincoln University; Frances Jacobs, Harrisburg; Harriet Kaufman, Sunbury; Janet McMahan, Troy; Kathryn Shultz, Trenton, N.J.

INITIATED, September 17, 1935: Mary Hudson, Windber; Ruth Parker, Marion Ranck, Lewisburg; Bettie Stead, Crosswick, N.J.; Jane Furey, Williamsport.

Pennsylvania B chapter of $\Pi B \Phi$ won the Inter-Sorority Song Contest which was conducted by the honorary music fraternity, $M \Phi E$.

On Mothers' Day the chapter gave a breakfast in the suite for $\Pi B \Phi$, which gave its members a chance to meet each other.

Beth Druckemiller, who is the president of the chapter this year, won a prize of $25.00 for the greatest proficiency in English composition and literature in the junior class.

Carol Lee Davis received a prize of $10.00 for winning the Freshman Declamation Contest.

Eleanor Scureman, a pledge who transferred from the Junior College in Wilkes-Barre, has been elected to Cap and Dagger, a local dramatic organization, for the work which she did at the Junior College.

This year Bucknell University found at the beginning of the year 1935-36 it had a record enrollment and that it was necessary to turn students away as there is no place to house them.

The President of Bucknell University has resigned in order to become chairman of a national committee to investigate education in the United States. His successor has not yet been announced.

Dean of Students, J. Hillis Miller, resigned this summer to become President of Keuka College, Keuka, N.Y. The vacancy has been very adequately filled.

This year for the first time in many years the Bucknell Panhellenic ruled for open rushing. Rushing lasted from 8 A.M. to 10 P.M., with a party each day.

The chapter held pledging on October 1 and was honored by a visit from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Iowa I; Miss Alida Wilson, Iowa I; and Mrs. William H. Lough, Wisconsin A. Following pledging the actives, pledges, and some alumnae went to Sunbury and had a Pledge Banquet at the Homestead Tea Room.

The active chapter held a dance for the pledges on Saturday night, October 5, which began the social year for the University.

Miss Maryalice Chaffee visited Bucknell University on October 15. The alumnae, actives, and pledges had a joint meeting at which Miss Chaffee talked about the Settlement School.

Sunday, October 19, the actives and pledges cooked their breakfast out of doors.

PLEGGED: Margaret Anderson York; Alma Bloeker, Collingswood, N.J.; Ann Ellicott, Elkland; Margaret Evans, Towanda; Jane Gardner, Marjorie Hill, Ruth Winder, Johnstown; Beverly Jones, Forty Fort; Martha McCarty, Margaret Rees, Corning, N.Y.; Louise Mack, New York City; Hannah Mervine, Lock Haven; Dorothy Millward, Milton; Betty Nauman, Ridgewood, N.J.; Esther Peterson, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Jane Raymond, Corey; Eleanor Scureman, Kingston; June Snively, Hollidaysburg; Jane Snyder, Altoona; Frances Theiss, Lewisburg.

Last June, Lena Ritner, the president, was elected a member of $\Phi B K$. Another member of last June's Class, Ruth Shawfield, is studying in France this year on a scholarship awarded for fine work in the French department while in College.

The school year was started with the enrollment of 208 new students. Among these are two French girls, both of whom are living in the women's dormitory.

September 26 an All-College Picnic was held at Boiling Springs. Rushing rules were suspended for the afternoon and evening. In the afternoon a student team played a faculty team at mushball. This was followed by a tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomores. After a picnic supper, there was dancing in the pavilion until ten o'clock.

This season's rushing schedule has been on the same plan as last year's. On September 25, the Panhellenic Council held a tea for all the women at Metzger Hall, the women's dormitory. June Bietsch, senior representative on Panhellenic Council, poured and Nancy Hendrian, junior representative, was a hostess.

Ann Schuck, chairman of the house committee, was in charge of redecorating the rooms over the summer. New wall paper and new draperies make a marked improvement in their appearance.

The first meeting of the Young Peoples' Fellowship was held September 22. After a get-together supper, a vesper service was held with Dr. Lewis G. Rohrbach as speaker. The chapter is represented on the Fellowship Council by June Bietsch, Charlotte Chadwick, Elizabeth Shuck, and Helen Standing.

PLEGGED: Audra Ahl, Marian Rickenbaugh, Margaret Starner, Elizabeth Bietsch, Carlisle; Martha Deeter, Camp Hill; Virginia Heisey, Harrisburg; Eugenia Learned, Bala Cynwyd; Mary Swank, Beaver; Ann Ward, Beaver Falls; Anna Reese, Gladys Ward, Baltimore, Md.; Beatrice Whissel, Coatesville; Virginia Auburn, Penderly Spear, New York, N.Y.; Beatrice Sautter, Philadelphia; Mary Helen Person, Williamsport; Ruth Bartley, Riverton, N.J.

OHIO ALPHA—OHIO UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 2, 1935

School opened September 25 with the largest enrollment that Ohio University has ever known. The new president, Dr. H. G. James, has arrived from Vermilion, S.D., to take up his duties and has already instituted several changes. He has put into practice a plan whereby freshmen in the university all take practically the same courses, and are thus given an opportunity to choose their vocation after one year of college experience.

Dean of Women, Irma E. Voigt, gave a reception for all women students of the University. The members of Cresset, the senior women's honorary, assisted her in receiving the guests. This reception has become an annual custom and provides an early opportunity for the women students to meet the members of the faculty outside of classes.

According to the rushing rules two quiet days were observed during registration when no rushing was done. The third day was called contact day when students were permitted to pay brief calls on all the rushees. After contact day came four days of rushing. An Arrow Tea, a Bungalow party, a $\Pi B \Phi$ wedding, and a formal dinner at the house climaxed the parties.

The upstairs of the chapter house was completely redecorated during the summer and new bedroom furniture and curtains were added.

PLEGGED: Margaret Andrews, LaVerne Beebe, Jane Benbow, Betty Baker, Jean Ewalt, Margaret Alice Guthrie, Marjory Helser, Margaret McCarrell, Irene Morton, Betty Jane Minder, Carol Olsen, Mary Grace Robbins, Bette Seelbach, Betty Traxler, Ruth Thompson.

INITIATED, April 26, 1935: Betty Alberty, Jane Bangert, Myra Bresnahan, Columbus; Enid Sykes, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Hazel Tyson, Columbus; Marjorie Wills, Wellston.

The active and alumnae chapters of Ohio A and Ohio B shared the Founders' Day Luncheon last spring. At this time Mary Russell received the scholarship award offered by Ohio B to one of its members, and Mary Herron received the award for the greatest scholarship improvement. Josephine Baker of Ohio B chapter was awarded the Amy Burnham Onken award for this province.

Chimes, the junior honorary, elected Julia Hamlin, and Mortar Board elected Ann Worrell, Freda Postle, Marcia Fassig, Maxine Hengst, and Carol Hagaman, during Traditions Week last spring.

In June the Browning Dramatics Society presented "Much Ado About Nothing," with Ann Worrell, recently elected president of the organization, playing one of the leading roles.

The spring rushing tea was followed this September with a very successful summer party, which was a Penthouse Party with various forms of entertainment.

This year has proved to be one of the most successful rushing years for the chapter, and much credit is due to the rushing chairman, Carol Hagaman, and to the whole chapter for the splendid cooperation and grand spirit of every girl.

OHIO DELTA—OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 5, 1935

Another successful season has started for members of Ohio Delta chapter of $\Pi B \Phi$ with the pledging of fifteen freshmen, three transfers and two upperclassmen. As Ohio Wesleyan sororities are under the quota system no more than 15 freshmen can be pledged by any one group. $\Pi B \Phi$ was one of the eight of the 16 sororities on the campus to receive its quota of 15 freshmen.

Several days after pledging the girls gathered in the fraternity rooms where an informal dinner was served. After this the girls enjoyed an hour of singing.

Dora Louise Patton was elected secretary-treasurer of the junior class and Leha Gentle president of Austin hall, the senior dormitory, during the fall elections.

Fall initiation will be held soon with Peggy MacGregor, Wheeling, W. Va., and Betty Joan Lersch, Elyria, Ohio, receiving their arrows.

Three transfers have been pledged lately: Ann Gorrell, Tulsa, Okla.; Mary Ruth Smith, Wapakoneta; and Noel Pinkston, St. Joseph, Mo. Two upperclassmen, Helene Stevens, Dayton, and Patricia Wadsworth, Lancaster, were also added to the group. The chapter is fortunate in having two transfers, Rhea Dana, Oberlin, from North Carolina B, and Margaret Jones, Athens, Ohio, from Ohio A.

The attendance at Ohio Wesleyan is slightly larger this year, and there are a great many more transfers than ever before. There seems to be a great number of freshmen as well.

The president for the year, Thelma Abe, besides receiving the highest grades in the chapter, is also a member of Mortar Board, the only women's honorary society on the campus. This is the goal toward which all are striving, and though few obtain it, it is an objective worthy of every $\Pi B \Phi$.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA—WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1918

Pledge Day, October 4, 1935

Total enrollment of students for 1935 in the University is 2,464. This is an increase of thirty-six over last year. Rushing has been delayed this fall due to the deferred opening of school to allow for completion of the new men's dormitory and the addition of two new wings to women's hall.

Dr. C. S. Boucher, president-elect of the University, will be inaugurated in office October 1, 1935. Dr. Boucher was Dean of Arts and Science College at Chicago, which office he resigned in order to accept the presidency of West Virginia University.

Virginia Crowell, former chapter president, is now president of Women's Student Government Association. This is the highest office a woman can hold on this campus.

This year $\Pi B \Phi$ has four freshman guides. They are: Edna Duval, Virginia Crowell, Frances Reitz, and Mary Jane Baker.

The house has been completely redecorated. The alumnae have given loyal assistance to this work, and hopes are high for a successful rushing season.

Friday, September 27, the customary wedding was given for a rushing party. It is too early in the rushing season to report anything definite, but so far it has been most encouraging.

Mary Jane Baker was elected president of the chapter September 25.

PLEGDED: Margaret Wolf, Caroline O'Neile, Virginia Lee Frantz, Fairmont; Emma Jane Strawn, Betty Jane McWhorter, Lucy Jones, Morgantown; Ada Lee Rogers, Betty Caldwell, Susan Waugh, Adalade Grotz, Wellsburg; Jean Cole, Pittsburgh; Helen Yaut, Mary Elenora Shingleton, Lillian Pennington, Charleston; Frances Russell, Elkins; Caroline Maxwell, Clarksburg; Mary Lou Henderson, West Union; Mary Burt, Mannington; Rosemond Hooker, Buchannon; Virginia Davis, Morefield; Jane Grainger, Crystal, Va.; June Fennigan, Wheeling.

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 19, 1935

INITIATED, October 1, 1935: Vera Pergler, Washington, D.C.; Martha Flynn, Baltimore, Md.

Maryland A has been in a particularly busy whirl since the beginning of the new term. Owing to the late opening of Goucher and the imminence of fall rushing, the chapter rooms have been a scene of much activity.

Under the new Panhellenic ruling for this year, Open House was held on two days, October 5 and 6, each fraternity drawing for either Saturday or Sunday afternoon. $\Pi B \Phi$ was at home to the new students on Sunday. Following Open House there was a week of silence; formal rushing began on October 14 and 15, each fraternity drawing for a day as for Open House. Again $\Pi B \Phi$ drew the second of the two days, and its first parties were held on October 15.

Parties included a County Fair, traditional Black and White Night, and two evenings at the city homes of alumnae of Maryland A, who are always so generous in opening their homes to their undergraduate sisters.

This is the first year at Goucher that all freshmen will be studying under the "New Plan." President Robertson's recently adopted system of greater academic freedom for Goucher students. Naturally those who entered college before the New Plan was inaugurated are watching with great interest the study methods and curricula of the new students, some of whom are on the chapter roll of Maryland A.

Friday night, October 4, the first social event of the year was held, when new students were guests of the College at freshman reception. Kitty King, who is president of Goucher Christian Association, was in general charge of the reception and headed the receiving line. At the reception the freshmen were escorted by their "Junior Sisters." Five members of Maryland A were included in this Junior group.

LUCILLE McCORMICK

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, October 18

George Washington University began its college year September 25, and that night the annual freshman mixer was held. New students and alumnae come to this function and freshmen have the opportunity of meeting every one and getting acquainted. The university is constructing a large new science building; though not yet completed, classes are already meeting in it. When it is completed there will be available to students a cafeteria, soda fountain, lounges, and recreation room.

The Panhellenic Council gave a tea for the freshmen Sunday, September 29, at the Mayflower Hotel. This tea is given to enable the freshmen to have an opportunity to meet the girls in all the sororities. This year the freshmen were registered at the door and given name slips to wear so they could be distinguished from sorority girls.

Rushing starts the Sunday following the tea. Genevieve Hendricks, a $\Pi B \Phi$ who is an interior decorator from this chapter, is decorating the chapter rooms. The alumnae club gave \$50 last year, which is being used to finance this renovation.

Because five active members of $\Pi B \Phi$ this year were married and many others failed to return six new officers had to be elected. They are corresponding secretary, Harriet Brundage; treasurer, Virginia Pope; recording secretary, Marie Jorolemon; pledge mistress, Jane Burke; censor, Alice Buell; courtesy secretary, Julia Metcalf.

On Thursday, October 17, Betty Angus, Baby Jo Barlow, Betty Hewins, and Katherine Miles are to be initiated.

This year Columbia A is endeavoring to bring up its scholarship. Last year a temporary ruling was passed to the effect that if a girl failed to make her grades after two trials, she will not be repledged.

HARRIET BRUNDAGE

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, September 28, 1935

Randolph-Macon officially opened on September 20, and the first week was filled to the brim with freshman orientation, meetings, fraternity rush teas, and general mixers.

Virginia A is pleased to report a very successful rush week which ended with the pledging of nineteen girls. Monday, there was a formal garden tea and Thursday the chapter held their traditional silhouette tea. New Panhellenic rules this year allowed open rushing at the two teas and promising on Thursday before preferential bids were signed Friday.

Randolph-Macon has a larger enrollment this year than it has had in several years. There have been few outstanding changes made besides the addition of four new faculty members and the rearrangement of the chapel system. Only two assemblies a week are required of the students, Tuesday and Thursday, on which days student problems and activities are discussed. Wednesday is a chapel period, entirely elective with the students, and Friday, also elective, is given to music. The student government officers have high hopes for this new system.

Virginia A is very happy over the two transfers it has acquired this year: Frances Brunner, transfer from Ohio State, and Katharine Hamilton, transfer from James Millikin University. Mary Porter Echols, who graduated last year with a degree in music, is back on campus taking post graduate work.

When the last dean's list was published, it included the names of four members of $\Pi B \Phi$ whose scholarship was exceptionally high: Peggy Birch, Marian Carlisle, Dorothy Combs, and Jo Culp.

Mary Alice Shackleton, chapter president, is a member of the judiciary committee and student committee and was one of the training group leaders during freshman week. Peggy Birch is president of the International Relations Club, president of East Hall and was also a training group leader. Marian McAmbly is school fire chief, secretary of the Senior Class, and on the staff of the Sun Dial. Jo Culp is a member of the staff of the Helianthus, Sun Dial, and Old Maid. Marian Carlisle is head of the Junior play and Nancy Hart is a member of the playwrighting committee. Nancy is also vice-president of the French Club, and a member of the Sun Dial staff.

PLEDGED, September 28, 1935: Lynn Buchanan, Lynchburg; Frances Connally, Tyler, Tex.; Catherine Couch, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Frances Dilley, Palestine, Tex.; Frances Dowling, Birmingham, Ala.; Whitmel Gurley, Goldsboro, N.C.; Virginia Hutchinson, Tulsa, Okla.; Elizabeth Lucinda Kern, Van Wert, Ohio; Louise Lee, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Dorothy Noehren, Williamstown, Mass.; Phyllis Perrine, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Elizabeth Rand, Painesville, Ohio; Mary Alice Rowell, El Dorado, Ark.; Jean Sanders, Nacogdoches, Tex.; Eloise Simmons, Waco, Tex.; Marjorie Turner, Little Rock, Ark.; Julia Walker, Washington, D.C., and Katherine Davis, Lynchburg, and Carroll McPherson, Longview, Tex., repledged.

Virginia Γ is at the time of this writing in the midst of what bids fair to be a most successful rush season. The incoming class includes so many charming girls that the chapter is finding this rushing more interesting and enjoyable than ever before.

There are many new things about the campus for the old girls to rejoice in and for the freshmen to marvel at. During the summer a beautiful stadium has been erected which was formally dedicated on Saturday, September 21, with the University of Virginia as guests. The chapter welcomed several $\Pi B \Phi$ guests and alumnae who were among the 8,000 visitors attending the game. A new building, housing the Marshall Wythe School of Government and Citizenship and the Administration offices, was completed last summer.

In keeping with the Georgian architecture of all the buildings on campus the college has begun work on a formal, sunken garden to extend the length of the inner rectangle formed by the academic buildings. Now, although the College of William and Mary is the second oldest college in the country, the school is proud to have the most perfect architectural group of academic buildings that can be found anywhere. There is a dignity and simplicity about the entire school which never fails to impress both students and visitors.

We are sure that the freshmen will be pleased by the $\Pi B \Phi$ house which has been almost transformed since spring. The chapter returned to find all the floors of the house refinished and the upstairs rooms papered. Finding it necessary to live up to these improvements the chapter purchased a new studio couch for the hall and recovered the other upstairs furniture. The crowning achievement, however, is the new Wurlitzer studio piano for which the actives and the alumnae have been working and saving for a long time. The chapter has already received untold pleasure from it, and as far as rushing is concerned, it seems impossible to have gotten along without it.

Virginia Γ has found the social exchange bulletin an invaluable aid in rushing this year. The chapter has successfully used the County Fair party as described there, and also the Cinderella Ball for the preferential party.

The old members of Virginia Γ are again taking up their work in various representative and honorary organizations on campus. It is the aim of the chapter to interest freshmen in extra-curricular activities at once, and build them up for the major offices on campus. Meanwhile the active chapter is showing the way and hopes for new honors during the coming year.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Pledge Day, October 14, 1935

INITIATED, April 11, 1935: Nell Booker, Mary Henry, Eliza Rose, Chapel Hill, N.C.; Elizabeth Mansel, Williamsport, Pa.; Priscilla White (Mrs. Chas. Ridder, III), Graduate, Riverton, Pa.

INITIATED, October 4, 1935: Betty Crock, Greensburg, Pa.; Dorothy Douglas, Norfolk, Va.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina a new rule was passed which will effect the Fraternity. It was decided that girls would no longer be admitted to the freshman and sophomore classes. Though freshman and sophomore girls have been here for only the past few years, they added to the strength of the Fraternity and shall be missed. This shortens the length of time in which a girl is in school here and therefore shortens her period of activity in the fraternity. Another change is to be made. The Engineering School is to be moved to another unit of the University in Raleigh, N.C. Due to an increase in enrollment many instructors and professors have been added to the faculty. Dr. Yuan Zang Chang, exchange professor from China, is here for one year in the English department.

This year North Carolina A has a different house with ten girls living in it. It is very nice with large, comfortable living rooms and bed rooms. It is conveniently located and all the girls like it. Many girls came and worked four or five days before school started in order to have the house completely ready for the first of school and rushing.

The new housemother, Mrs. Elle Goode Hardeman, is doing much toward the advancement of the fraternity. She has helped the girls with the house and with rushing which started October 7.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

Pledge Day, October 5, 1935

The fall of 1935 finds Duke University with a total enrollment of 3214 students and the Women's College with a new high for the number of freshmen.

It also marks the largest rushing season in the history of the local Panhellenic Council. Freshman week was followed by five days to which the rules of freshman week applied and by one week of closed rushing.

North Carolina B started off crippled by the loss of nine seniors, but was fortunate in having three transfers: Bonny Pullman, Wisconsin B; Carol Patterson, Florida B; and Winifred Shaw, Tennessee A. Mary Louise Scott, Texas A, assisted the chapter ably during rushing week.

This fall marked the first rushing season in the new Panhellenic house, an old laboratory building remodelled by the University and turned over to the ten national sororities on the Duke campus. Each sorority has a room of its own, and shares a kitchenette with one or two others. The chapter was fortunate in being able to utilize most of the old furniture, and with the assistance of Mrs. Lon Fuller, a Durham alumna, the room has been made unusually attractive and comfortable.

The first rushing party was a formal lawn tea held by the Panhellenic Council for all new girls. Regular rushing began September 30 and continued through October 4, with parties every afternoon or evening except one. Deviating from the usual novelty parties, North Carolina B entertained at formal teas, since its room is furnished in Empire style, which does not lend itself gracefully to added decoration.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Pledge Day, October 2, 1935

There have occurred several changes on the campus of the University of South Carolina, as well as among the faculty members. The new Dean of Women, Mrs. A. R. Childs, assumed office September 1. She lives on the campus in the women's building. Dr. Calcutt, professor of history, a noted authority on Mexico, has taken a year's leave of absence to go to Duke University, Durham, N.C., and Dr. St. John Childs, recently of Johns Hopkins, is taking his place. A new English instructor, Mrs. J. R. Hawkins, was also appointed this year. Mrs. Hawkins is a member of $\Pi B \Phi$.

Numerous additions in buildings have come to our campus. A beautiful white stone memorial to war veterans has been erected on a prominent corner. This is the most imposing structure on the grounds. Flinn Hall was moved back to make room for the new memorial building. A $450,000 grant has been made for a student's activities building, which will be built in the near future.

Because of an extensive advertising scheme put on by the University this year, there are many more freshmen than previously. They will be a great aid to the institution.

Rushing this semester was very successful. Many delightful affairs were given about town for the $\Pi B \Phi$ members and the girls succeeded in exactly doubling their number. After pledging services, the pledges were treated to an informal social at the home of Margaret Hawkins. A new $\Pi B \Phi$ chapter house upon "Fraternity Row" has just been acquired. It is nicely furnished, and the girls will enjoy it. Susan Guinyard Sparks will be the temporary chaperon, until the housemother is appointed.

Among those who opened their homes so hospitably to the chapter during rush week were Mrs. Rion McKissick, Susan G. Sparks, Clara Ellen Owens, Josephine Philson, Katherine Townsend, Cheryl Dell Kelly, Cornelia Reamer, and Mary Lees Graham.

S.C.A. has greatly profited by the advice and aid of Mrs. Wyatt Aiken, of Columbia, S.C., who was recently made the Province President. Mrs. Aiken's charming personality and suggestions will certainly prove a great inspiration for this province.

PLEDGES: Sara Ahlgren, Virginia Townsend, Wilbur Kirkland, Columbia; Iva and Imogene Brooker, Ashland, Ky.; Bess Dowling and Anne Cone, Brunswick, S.C.; Harriet Holman, Warrenville; Margaret Rollins, Florence; Mary Virginia McDaniel, Walterboro.

Pledge Day, October 11, 1935

For the fourth successive semester Michigan A was awarded the inter-sorority scholarship cup. If it is won by this chapter for one more semester, it will come into the permanent possession of the chapter. The ninety-second year of Hillsdale College was formally opened September 24 with fall convocation. Six new professors have been added to the faculty. The college Little Theatre has been remodeled with a great deal of new equipment, and a season of seven plays has been planned.

Plans for homecoming, which is being held October 12, are being made by Dorothy Deuel, president of the senior class. Ninety-two freshmen are enrolled, and Phyllis Rasp, Lois McCarty, and Dorothy Deuel acted as upper-class mentors during freshman week. An all-college party was given on September 28, and open house at all the fraternity and sorority houses was held for the freshmen September 29.

Several improvements were made in the house during the summer. A new linoleum was laid on the kitchen floor, the dining room furniture was painted, and a new hi-boy was added to the dining room furniture. A $\Pi B \Phi$ week-end was held August 9, when all the girls had a house party on Baw Beese Lake, and worked on favors for rushing.

This year Phyllis Rasp is president of the Women's Undergraduate club; Eugenia Nystrom is president of the dramatics organization; Dorothy Deuel is president of the senior class, and editor of the Collegian, the weekly paper; Dorothy Seger is treasurer of International Relations club, and W.A.A.; Helen Faunce is secretary of the Y.W.C.A.; Dorothy Deuel and Bess Hagaman are on the debating team; Eugenia is vice-president of E & A, the honorary scholastic fraternity, and Lois McCarty, Dorothy Seger, Dorothy Deuel, Helen Faunce, and Agnes Gettman are also members; Martha Jose is the photography editor of the year book; Miriam Chapman is chairman of the homecoming banquet; Nellie Welch was listed in the upper ten per cent of the sophomore class, and Bess Hagaman, Dorothy Seger, and Helen Faunce were in the upper ten per cent of the junior class; Dorothy Seger is associate editor of the Collegian and Eugenia Nystrom is news editor.

Rushing was held from October 5 to 9. $\Pi B \Phi$ gave two parties: a formal dinner with white and silver decorations, and an informal shipboard tea. Last spring Arlene Thomas was elected by the senior men to reign as May Queen over the fraternity sing; she also was the Hillsdale delegate to the M.I.A.A. court of honor for two years.

With twenty-two active Michigan A is looking forward to one of its most successful seasons on campus and in cooperation with the Hillsdale alumnae club.

Four hundred and fifty freshman women and two hundred transfers entered the University of Michigan, September 30. An Orientation Committee, headed by Margaret Hiscock, $\Pi B \Phi$, planned an entire week's program for these new women. During this week, the new women were taken on a tour around the campus, introduced to the administration and faculty, entertained at sings and banquets and aided in classification and registration.

This committee is also sponsoring a series of eight lectures in which the outstanding problems of the campus will be discussed by the administration and faculty. "College Conduct" was the first of the series given by Alice Lloyd, Dean of Women. Margaret was assisted by Edith Zerbe, Josephine Cavanagh, Mary Margaret Barnes, Grace Snyder, and Dorothy Roth, from Michigan B.

Already campus activities are getting under way, and Michigan B claims the secretary of the Michigan League; chairmen of Michigan League committees, Social, Orientation, and Theater Arts; chairman of Junior Girls' Play; Society Editor of the Michigan Daily; Women's Night Editor, Michigan Daily, and Women's Editor of the Michiganiensian.

We have with us this year four transfers whom we are happy to welcome. Margaret Edwards, Arkansas A; Helen Jones, Ohio B; Lillian McGill, Tennessee A, and Ruth Kennedy, Wisconsin B.

Michigan B is especially proud of Mrs. Rebecca Downey White who obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree in June as well as $\Pi B K$ and $\Phi K \Phi$ honors.

INITIATED, September 7, 1935: Mary Boegaholtz, Edinburg; Betsy Cohn, Sarah Haas, Seymour; Mary Jane Cooke, Pauline Devore, Elizabeth Houghland, Jean Schaffer, Josephine Jeffrey, Kathryn Murphy, Martha Helen Brown, Betty Butler, Franklin; Virginia New, Washington.

Dr. John Cady accepted a position as head of the History department at Judson College, Burma, and Professor I. George Blake was made the Head of the History department here. Professor Hatlin replaced Professor Roy Erenberger, who accepted a position as faculty adviser for freshman men, at the University of Syracuse. Miss Virfel Rowe replaced Miss Eleanor Crawford as registrar.

The junior class sponsored the first social function of the year by throwing an all-college mixer. Homecoming was October 12, and the Senior Board had charge of all arrangements. The activities of the day consisted of a fraternity and sorority alumnae luncheon, a football game with Wabash, and a dance.

The annual alumnae dinner was held on the evening of Commencement at the Franklin Country Club. At that time Laura Duffy was awarded the scholarship ring, and Elizabeth Houghland, the model pledge, was given the recognition pin for one year. A dinner was given at Yc Wayside Inn, September 7, in honor of the initiates. The new faculty women, patronesses, and the Advisory Board were also entertained with a tea October 6. Other social functions have been a spread, a hamburger fry, and a serenade. The Advisory Board entertained the active chapter with a tea October 28, at the home of Mrs. I. George Blake.

During the summer the rooms were redecorated. Indiana A patronesses, the alumnae club, and the Mothers' Club were all very generous in helping.

Last spring, Traber Guthrie was prom Queen. This year Virginia Heavilin is Associate Editor of the Almanack, the college annual; Beatrice Bradley is Activities Editor; Martha Helen Brown, Woman's Sports Editor; and Sarah Haas, assistant Forensic Editor. On the Franklin, the college newspaper, Beatrice Bradley is Copy Editor. Sarah Briscoe is president of Gold Quill, local honorary for upperclasswomen, and she is also on the Senior Board. Virginia Heavilin is vice-president of the History Club.

INITIATED, November 2, 1935: Elizabeth May, Honora Rainbolt, Bloomington; Muriel Mayback, Terre Haute; Kathleen Simms, Indianapolis.

The pledge class was presented to the local alumnae group at a tea in September 22, held at the chapter house. Mrs. Schmidt, house chaperon, poured. The decorative scheme was carried out through wine and blue tapers, seasonal decorations, and even refreshments, including wine and blue mints and arrow cookies.

Designating the first home football game of the season was Dad's Day on October 5. The chapter feted forty fathers at a luncheon at the chapter house. Arrangements were made for reserving a special section from which the $\Pi B \Phi$ dads cheered the scrapping Hoosiers in their tussle with Center College.

The annual Bowery dance was held from nine to twelve on October 12. Costumes reminiscent of New York's lower East Side were worn, and appropriate novelty numbers were furnished by Paul Barker and his band. The house was formed into a characteristic setting by concealing the walls with wrapping paper, covering the windows with burlap, carpeting the floor with sawdust, and serving cider at barrel top tables. The house was grotesquely lighted by candles emerging from the necks of bottles.

Members of the chapter took a prominent part in campus activities at the beginning of the year. Beatrice Roehm is in the staff of the Student, the daily campus paper, and is vice-president of $\Theta \Sigma$, honorary journalistic fraternity. Dorothy Hamilton, Jeanne Pettinger, and Peggy Failing are on the Bored Walk staff.

After a succession of try-outs, Martha Faust, Melba Hamilton, and Edith Thornton were chosen for the University Glee Club. Try-outs are to be held soon for "Taps," the underclassmen's dramatic organization of $\Theta A \Phi$, and many of the girls are planning to try to obtain membership.

Jane Thompson was elected to Y.W.C.A. council, and Floy Frank was chosen to direct "Frills and Furbelows," the university musical fashion show.

PLEGGED: Martha Mull, Kay Hardin, Shelbyville; Dorothy Alsop, Dorothy Reel, Vincennes; Martha Faust, Covington; Myrna La Tourette, Perrysville; Doris Decker, Decker; Florence Black, Bedford; Faith Hildebrand, Plymouth; Lucretia Long, Richmond; Mary Elizabeth Crawford, Madison; Geraldine Kuss, Mishawaka; Mary McIndoo, Washington, D.C.; Jean Bielby, Lawrenceburg; Carolyn Shirkie, Dorothy Canady, Terre Haute; Peggy Leininger, Akron; Hetty Stewart, Owensburg, Ky.; Virginia Lewellyn, Josephine Miller, Muncie; Clarabelle Chenoweth, Edith Thornton, Ft. A new quota system has been put into practice this year, which is being carried out by all fraternities on the campus. The number of freshman pledges are limited to seventeen. However, there is no limit to the number of upperclassmen who may be pledged.

On September 9, ground was broken for a new house which is to be finished by the first of February. The new house is to be a revival of Greek architecture.

The new officers for Indiana Γ are Jeanne Helt, president; Jeanne Spiegel, vice-president; Ruth Repschlager, recording secretary; Maurine Warner, corresponding secretary; Margaret Kapp, treasurer; Virginia Reynolds, pledge sponsor; Jane Beasley and Martha Reynolds, censors; Marcella McDermit, pledge president.

Open house is scheduled for November 20. PLEGGED, September 19, 1935: Carol Fenner, Lucille Jamieson, Katie Lewis, Mary Lichtenauer, Phyllis Mingle, Julianne McIntosh, Jeanne Rettig, Dorothy Schilling, Betty Mae Smith, Peggy Underwood, Jean Wintz, Indianapolis; Helen Barton, Covington, Ky.; Winona Chamberlain, Rushville; Betty Mumford, Southport; Betty Peterson, Columbus.

IN TOWN RUSH CO-CHAIRMEN: Ruth Repschlager, 5411 N. Delaware St., Indianapolis, Ind.; Virginia Reynolds, 820 Eastern Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

OUT-OF-TOWN RUSH CAPTAIN: Martha Reynolds, 820 Eastern Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

Pledge Day, September 8, 1935

To assist each pledge in making adjustments to college life, special emphasis is being placed on a pledge-mother system. Each new girl has an upperclassman who acts as her sponsor. Realizing that cooperation is necessary for successful and profitable fraternity life, the chapter is endeavoring to maintain a closer and more harmonious relationship with the pledges.

Purdue University registered the largest number of new women students in its history in September. The new Women's Residence Hall is filled to its capacity with new women. Freshman women also have sponsors; these girls are called mentors and are chosen from the upperclassmen. The mentors acquaint the freshmen with the campus customs and help them with any problems; they escorted the freshmen, who were invited guests, to the annual freshman banquet given by President and Mrs. Elliott. Dr. Lillian Gilbreth spoke at the activity banquet in October.

Changes have been made in rush rules. After the formal rush, a period of two weeks silence followed, then a period of two weeks open rush. The second year of rush with quota system was unusually successful for $\Pi B \Phi$. The chapter filled its quota of twenty-one.

Since there were only two home football games this season, the traditional Cord Day for seniors was held at homecoming, October 26.

The chapter gave a series of fraternity teas in September and October in honor of the freshmen. October 2, the chapter was the guest of $\Sigma \Phi E$ for a buffet supper. An annual wiener roast was held early in September at Harrison Heights. The pledge dance was held October 4 at the Purdue Memorial Union. New dresser, rugs, and four new desks were placed in the upstairs rooms.

Lillian Peterson, Mary Jean Light, and Betty Ann Stewart are members of Student Senate. Mary Ann Phillips is a member of the judicial board of W.S.G.A. Elizabeth Ross is a candidate for vice-president of Y.W.C.A. Helen Creech is on the junior staff of the Purdue Exponent, the campus paper. Aline Marshall is on the junior staff of Debris. Mary Bell, Martha Wood, Jeanne Perkins, and Mary Schaffer are members of the Purdue Girls' Club. Mary Bell is a member of Playshop board. Janet Martin is debate manager.

PLEGDED: Eleanor Benton, Shelbyville; Marjorie Blocker, Hammond; Lois Blow, Park Ridge, Ill.; C Dale Boller, Oak Park, Ill.; Fern Botts, Monard; Dorothy Bryant, Cleveland, Ohio; Katherine Bunsan, Rushville; Betty Driscoll, Marion Kidd, Lafayette; Martha Gillespie, Miami, Okla.; Blanche Kernel, Indianapolis; Betty Klein, Mishawaka; Sara Alice McIntosh, Ruth Wiley, Martha Wood, West Lafayette; Jennette Meier, Huntington; Betty Morris Akron; Georgiana Pittman, Mary Alice Craig, Indianapolis; Mary Schaffer, Sullivan; Catherine Schroeder, Cheyenne, Wyo.

The following girls were pledged last April: Mary Bell, Indianapolis; Ada Mae Roe, Milwaukee, Wis.

MISSOURI ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

Chartered, 1899

Pledge Day, September 8, 1935

INITIATED, October 28, 1935: Frances Hockensmith, Okmulgee, Okla.; Franchelle Woody, Augusta, Ark.; Jane Wyman, Kansas City.

Missouri University sustained a great loss in the death, last summer, of one of her staunchest friends, Walter Williams, president of the university, and Dean and founder of the Journalism School. Dr. Frank A. Middlebush, former Dean of the Business School, has taken his place.

With the advent of a new president and a startling increase in enrollment, the "new deal" spirit is pervading Missouri University. In order to encourage wider participation in campus activities, the W.S.G.A. Board, of which Betty Le Vec, as Junior Representative, and Frances Ferguson, as president of Junior League of Women Voters, are members, installed a point system this year and sponsored an Activity Carnival for freshman women. Lagging school spirit is being revived. Instead of being consigned to traditional insignificance, the freshman class, the largest in the history of the university, is being treated with respect and friendliness.

The Women's Panhellenic Association also introduced several new policies this year. The program greatly simplified Rush Week by providing for the housing of all of the rushees on the top three floors of the Tiger Hotel. This eliminated many violations of the silence rules. New house rules have also been introduced.

Missouri A entertained with a tea on Sunday, September 22, to introduce her new pledges to the campus. For two confusing hours the girls smiled and nodded as boys from every fraternity filed past.

Evelyn Foreman was chosen as one of the beauty queens for the Savitar, Missouri University's yearbook, last spring; and Maxine Hurst has been selected by the students of the Agriculture School as one of five candidates for Barn-warming Queen.

This chapter was pleased to have placed third in scholarship among the women's fraternities last year.

Among the members of Missouri A who are prominent in activities on the campus is Mary Louise Theis who is secretary and treasurer of the Student Body and chairman of the S.G.A. dance committee. Elizabeth Ann Dickinson was elected to Mortar Board last spring. Frances Ferguson is vice-president of Workshop, Missouri University Dramatic Association, and also chairman of the S.G.A. dramatic committee. Jean Lightfoot is on the Executive Board of Workshop and is Society Editor of the Missouri Student. Margaret Waters, Mildred Bailey, and Evelyn Foreman have been elected to Cwens, honorary sorority for sophomore women. Frances Ferguson is vice-president of ΣZ , honorary inter-sorority organization. Betty Ann Payne is secretary of the women's division of Burrall Bible Class. No Homecoming Queen is to be elected this year but Evelyn Foreman has been appointed "Official Greeter" for Homecoming.

PLEGDED: Jane Alford, Washington, D.C.; Maxine Beard, Ann Boswell, Tulsa, Okla.; Betty Cabeen, Leon, Kan.; Juanita Daly, Chicago, Ill.; Claudia Dell Johnson, Lexington; Nan Latham, California; Harriet Patterson, Trenton; Frances Rippey, St. Louis; Jenny Sue Sparks, Paris; Martha Woodfill, Nevada; Jane Harrill, Eleanor Neff, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Julia Greenfield, Florence Ann McIninch, Betty Jane Royse, St. Joseph; Catherine Gibson, Louise Reynolds, Springfield; Loma Fouke, Frances Fouke, Texarkana, Ark.; Louise Forsythe, Virginia Lippard, Frances Logan, Alice Maughs, Mary Ellen Shinn, Columbia; Mary Ellen Brillhart, Kathleen Cole, Marion Cox, Katharyn Kelley, Betty North, Frankie Ricksecker, Betty Sue Stripp, Jean Taylor, Kansas City.

MISSOURI BETA—WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, September 26, 1935

INITIATED, November 7, 1935: Caroline Barrere, Elizabeth Fleck, Margaret Thacker, Marian Wenzlick, Barbara Lampe.

The tiresome round of rushing was greatly improved on the Washington University campus this year. Heretofore all parties were given within one week, five parties in five days for each sorority. Due to a total revision of rushing rules by Panhellenic the rush period this year extended through two weeks. With this change came the abolition of summer rush parties which meant a considerable decrease in the cost of rushing.

Social activities for the year began with the annual pledge dance, the freshman coming out party on October 25, in the Women's Building. Following it a house party, having as its main purpose the formation of closer bonds of friendship between actives and pledges, was held at the country home of a local alumna.

Among the members of Missouri B who hold positions of importance on the campus are: Helen Konesko, President of W.S.G.A. and member of Mortar Board; Jane Konesko, secretary of Thyrsus and vice-president of the Press Club; Joan Stealey, society editor of Student Life; Mary Jane Kerwin, Frosh Family leader and chairman of Chapel Committee of the campus; Y.W.C.A.; Gene Penney, Frosh Family leader; and Edith Wilson, basketball manager.

Mary Catherine Trueblood has been elected to $\Phi B K$ and $E Z$.

Ruth Leunig was chosen by the men of the R.O.T.C. as their Honorary Military Colonel. Gene Penney was selected to be the Honorary Captain at the same time.

Inez Wilson, a June graduate, is now Mrs. Frederick Deming.

PLEGDED: Virginia Ann Carter, Ann Frissel, Kathryn

INITIATED, October 16, 1935: Betty Ballantine, Elba Anne Denton, Mary Catherine Hine, Dorothy Hobbs, Betty Pinson, Frances Wilson, Greenfield, Mo.

Rushing by Missouri Γ was greatly restricted as a result of the Panhellenic rule adopting the quota system last year. The total number of actives and pledges cannot exceed thirty-two. In spite of this restriction, Missouri Γ pledged twelve and the rush season was considered quite successful.

An impressive rush party held this year was a formal dinner given at the Colonial Hotel. Each rushee was presented with a lovely corsage of roses. All the actives and pledges were present. The alumni helped with the dinner.

The chapter rooms have been redecorated. Draperies have been added and the pledges presented a chair, stool, and lamp as their gift. The wall paper has been changed and the rooms look very lovely.

Drury College has an increase in enrollment over last year which was the largest it has experienced for some years. Dean Lula Holmes, who has been in Japan the past year, has returned to her duties as Dean of Women.

Missouri Γ presented recognition pins to the following new initiates: Frances Wilson for highest scholarship in the pledge group and Betty Ballantine as best pledge.

Although the Scholarship Cup was lost by a fraction of a point, Missouri Γ is not discouraged and is very hopeful of regaining it next year.

KATY SQUIRES

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, September 29, 1935

Kentucky A has just started on its new year and is trying to make it even more successful than heretofore. The chapter was first on the campus in scholarship last semester and second for the year.

The rushees of the season were entertained with a Monte Carlo party at the home of Bonnie Bessire and a formal dinner in the Louis XVI Room of the Brown Hotel. The rushing season lasted one week as a result of a new local Panhellenic ruling. However, in spite of the short time, it was very successful.

Kentucky A is well represented in all the campus activities. The University of Louisville Players will present Tonkonogy's "Three Cornered Moon" as the first production of their 22nd season. Kentucky A is represented behind the scenes.

One of the actives visited the Settlement School this summer.

The W.S.G.A. is planning to give the first in a series of monthly tea dances very soon. These are to promote a social spirit on the campus. They will be given by various organizations in turn.

The University is resuming its radio series over WHAS which consists of speeches by faculty and students and programs conducted by the School of Music.

The Speed Scientific School of the University has been recognized by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. It is the first school south of the Ohio River to receive this honor and the twenty-third in the United States.

MARY FRANCES PIRKEY

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, October 11, 1935

INITIATED, October, 1935: Mary Elizabeth King.

Members of Tennessee A hold five of the six class offices held by girls on the University of Chattanooga campus. In the senior class, Mary Alice Witt is secretary and Mary Glenn Walker is treasurer; in the junior class Mary Lusk holds the office of treasurer; and in the sophomore class Sarah Lois Dent is secretary and Eleanor Overend is treasurer. Mary Alice Witt also holds the Student Body office of song-leader.

Mary Elizabeth King has won the leading role in the first production of the University Players, "Skidding," and Virginia Leeds and Gertrude Witt are in supporting parts. A II B Φ who graduated in the class of 1935, Marguerite Bacon, holds a place as assistant in the Dramatics department.

In the Y.W.C.A., members of Tennessee A hold three of the four offices: president, Virginia Keen, secretary, Jane Fergus; and treasurer, Mary Elizabeth King.

The University of Chattanooga has given valuable co-operation to fraternities this year, furnishing houses to the four men's fraternities, and coats of paint and other work on the houses of the women's fraternities. In addition to the work done by the school, the chapter has done a great deal of renovation on the interior of the chapter house. The walls were cleaned, the floors refinished, several pieces of furniture reupholstered, and a new radio purchased. After all the work was finished, the chapter had a housewarming to open officially the house for the fall semester, and each member brought a small gift for the house itself.

On the occasion of the housewarmings of the various men's fraternities, Tennessee A sent each of them a gift of a dozen glasses.

On the Dean's List for last semester, a list of those students making an average of B or better, Tennessee A placed the following members, Cornelia Samuel, Mary Lusk, Jane Fergus, Mary Elizabeth King, and Margaret Wasson.

GRADUATED: Marguerite Bacon, Virginia Landress, Dorothy Ridge, Catherine Wilber, Ruth Williamson.

Alabama A chapter of II B Φ feels that it has done unusually well this past year. Recently it was announced that this chapter had won first place in scholarship among the sororities of the campus. The pledges are showing great interest in the activities of the college. Last week they gave a tea honoring the pledges of all other sororities.

Campus elections were held October 2, and both II B Φ candidates, Gene McCoy and Mary Know, were elected to the Co-ed Council, the representative body for women in the student government.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Betty Bryant, Shades Mountain, Birmingham, Ala.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, October 7, 1935

INITIATED, October 2, 1935: Mary Ellen Lord, Orlando, Fla.

Rushing season opened at Stetson University on September 27, with the twenty-fourth annual progressive dinner party of $\Pi B \Phi$, the theme of which was a trip around the world. The cocktail course was given at a New York hotel from which the rushees were taken aboard ship for a sea-food dinner. A Paris Street Cafe was the setting for the salad course. The Alpine Ski Club entertained the party with ices. From Switzerland, the $\Pi B \Phi$ tour continued to Hawaii, where the guests were welcomed by an Hawaiian dancer, who presented them with leis. Several unique skits and clever entertainments, together with appropriate decorations, were characteristic of the affair.

On October 3 the rushees were entertained with an informal Chinese cafe party. The members of the active chapter were attired in Chinese pajamas completing the setting of wisteria, cherry blossoms, and lanterns. A menu of chop suey, Chinese chewing-balls, crystallized ginger, and tea was served.

Florida A is very happy to be able to say that all of the actives returned this September, giving a membership of twenty-three.

Seven members of the chapter served at a reception given for the faculty and new students by Dr. W. S. Allen, President of John B. Stetson University. Eighteen new members of the faculty were presented to the Student Body.

Dorothy Haines has been elected editor-in-chief of the Stetson yearbook, The Hatter. Maxine McLarty is also a member of the staff.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Helen Spaulding, W. Michigan Ave., Deland, Fla.

Pledge Day, September 15, 1935

INITIATED, October 11, 1935: Dorothy Bellamy, Tallahassee; Mary Kinser, Tampa; Betty Ann McKenzie, Miami Beach; Kasmir Mumby, Jacksonville, Marion Alice Rogers, Tavares.

The most outstanding event of this year was the Florida State Convention of $\Pi B \Phi$ held in Orlando, May 11 and 12. This Convention was made exceptional by the presence of our Grand President, Amy B. Onken. Mary Carnes, pledged to Florida B in September, 1929, and who was unable to return to school the following year, was initiated by Miss Onken at this time. Mary's active and untiring efforts in the interests of the fraternity resulted in this well-deserved honor. It has been planned to hold the next Convention in Tallahassee.

During the summer the chapter house was redecorated on the exterior and the girls have decorated their own bedrooms. Plans have been made for refurbishing the lower floor and for replanting the lawns.

Panhellenic introduced the quota system in rushing this year and shortened the period of formal rushing from one week to three days. This made rushing more difficult than usual. After pledging on September 15, a Cooky-shine was given at the chapter house. A banquet was given in honor of the pledges September 19 at the Woman's Club. In order for the freshmen to become better acquainted with the faculty an after-dinner coffee was given on September 25, to which all members of the faculty were invited.

The new initiates were honored at a breakfast October 12. Saturday night of the 12th there was a formal dance at the chapter house. Each sorority is allowed one dance a semester.

Ruth Mock has recently been elected treasurer and Betty Boggs, parliamentarian of $B \Phi \Theta$, French honorary. Arline Lockhart was made a member of executive council of Y.W.C.A. and a delegate to the Workers' Congressional Convention. Sarah Graham was appointed chairman and Ermine Lawrence, assistant chairman, of Torch Night, an annual ceremony of F.S.C.W. Phil Asher has an important roll in this ceremony. Jean Clark and Frances Morrow were appointed members of the Usher Committee.

All the members of Florida Beta are striving to make this one of the most successful years in the chapter's history.

FLORIDA GAMMA—ROLLINS

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, October 20, 1935

The freshman girls at Rollins outnumber the boys two to one this year so rushing promises to be very strenuous. The first event of this year's rushing is a formal Panhellenic tea October 1. Pledging is October 20, after a week of dutch rushing and a week of formal parties.

Florida Γ was very fortunate last spring when its president, Virginia Jaekel, was elected vice-president of the Rollins Student Council. This was the first election after Rollins' installation of a new political system which eliminates "politics." Under the new plan the students are governed by a body made up of one representative from each sorority and fraternity and four from the independents. So far this system has worked very well.

On honors day last spring, Virginia Jaekel was elected to ΦB , national dramatic and music honorary, and Dorothy Manwaring received her blazer, which is the highest athletic honor a girl can receive at Rollins.

This chapter is happy to have Virginia Lee Gettys with us again this year. She was at home in Louisville last winter making her debut. Another girl from Florida Γ is making her debut this fall in St. Louis, Isobel Moberley, a last year's initiate.

Eleanor White, who graduated last spring, and married Gordon Jones, a K A from here, in June, is back with her husband to help with rushing.

A very attractive transfer, Leila Neil, has come to Rollins from Texas A. She will be an addition to Florida Γ .

Wisconsin A has been very successful in scholarship attainments. The chapter was rated third highest in scholarship among all the chapters on the campus both semesters of this last year. Jean Eilenberger and Pauline Reinsch were elected to $\Phi B K$ and Jean Charters, Betty Daniel, Hannah Greeley, Jean Eilenberger, and Pauline Reinsch were elected to $\Phi K \Phi$. Pauline Reinsch was also elected to Mortar Board and Dorothy Teeple was elected to Crucible.

Wisconsin A was honored by a visit on October 20, 1935 from Miss Onken. The chapter gave a tea in her honor.

A tea was also given in honor of Mrs. V. E. McCaskill, new housemother.

About thirty members of $\Pi B \Phi$ from several different chapters attended the summer session at the University of Wisconsin this year. Helen Theiler of Wisconsin A was elected Queen of the Summer Prom.

A Halloween party was given in honor of the new initiates by the actives.

Pledged: Barbara Bloomhall, Joyce Palmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Barbara Dudley, Ruby Hinch, Kathleen Potter, Madison; Frances Harbutt, Hamilton, Ohio; Rosemary Hwlett, Detroit, Michigan; Louise Murdock, Brodhead; Portia Stone, Reedsburg; Ruth Tensfeldt, Jefferson.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT

Pledge Day, October 1, 1935

Over $25,000 has been spent this summer in remodeling college buildings and dormitories. The biological department of Science Hall has been completely remodeled and more fully equipped. Five new murals depicting Indian Life in the South West adorn the walls of the Logan Museum of Anthropology. All of the rooms of Chapin Hall, freshman women's dormitory, have been redecorated in pastel colors.

The appointment of Doctor Herman Conwell as new Dean was announced the second week of September. He succeeds Williams E. Alderman who was appointed Dean at Miami University. Montaigu Modder, S. E. Meer, Donald Quinsey, and Willis Bowen have been added to the faculty.

Actives holding prominent campus offices are Katherine Mitchell, Secretary of Associated Students, President of Ka Ne, honorary literary society, and Associate member of Chamberlain Science Club, honorary science society; Mary Lou Messner, President of W.A.A.; Joyce Hartman, Secretary of W.S.G.A.; and Marian Finlayson, President of Big Sisters, President of Y.W.C.A., and Secretary of the Senior Class.

George M. Cohan's melodramatic farce, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," has been chosen by the Beloit Players as their production for Dad's Day, October 19. Eileen McNellis has the leading rôle of Mary Norton, and Katherine Mitchell plays the important part of Myra Thornhill.

The chapter has kept pace with the college in its work of renovating buildings by the redecoration and refurnishing the chapter house. The interior of the house has been beautified by French doors, light woodwork, Venetian blinds, new draperies, floor carpeting, furniture, and modern light fixtures.

Wisconsin B won the scholarship cup for the second semester of 1934-35 with the high average of 1.93.

Sorority rushing closed September 28 with the customary formal banquets. The other functions allowed by the Panhellenic Council were a tea dance, and a supper sing.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Pledge Day, November 23, 1935

Again this year the Panhellenic Council has changed the rules governing fraternities on the campus. Each chapter is to be allowed two parties, a tea for one and for the other a formal, with one week of practically open rushing.

The second semester of the year 1934-1935 was brought to an appropriate close with a gala Cooky-shine. Ruth Graham was appointed as social chairman for the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Evelyn Ruskin was in charge of the Spring Style Show and the Fall Style Show this semester. Betty McClanahan was elected to T II, honorary senior women's Fraternity, and to National Collegiate Players, national honorary dramatic fraternity. Mary Alice Hill won an essay prize in the Waid Biographical Contest, sponsored annually for freshmen. Jane Hunt has been appointed as an assistant piano teacher. Evelyn Ruskin has been placed on the staff of the Ravelings, yearbook. Jane Bradley, Ruth Wiley and Jane Hunt are in the casts of the first group of one-act plays.

Plans are underway for redecorating the chapter room in bone white, wine and silver blue.

The college year was well started with the various traditional entertainment. Van Vliet, premier cellist, was heard in a concert here on September 29. Grant Wood and Carl Sandburg are two other artists tentatively scheduled for the coming months. There are a number of faculty changes this year. Dr. McCullough has been added to the Social Science department, Mr. Givens is new here as a journalism teacher, Mary Weir, II B Φ, is the Girls Gym instructor and Miss Mary Anderson has been assigned as the Registered Nurse. Edward Saville, an alumnus, is the new Basketball and Assistant Football coach. Miss Laura Hays, II B Φ, who had charge of the Women's Gym classes the past year, has gone to Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh to teach typewriting.

The homecoming luncheon for the chapter and alumnae is to be on November 9. The chapter is looking forward to a visit from Mrs. Nita Hill Stark, Grand Secretary.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Flora Hauhart, McMichael Dormitory.

ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA—KNOX

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 22, 1935

Illinois B-D chapter looks forward to a promising year on the Knox campus. The chapter was awarded the sorority scholarship cup as a result of the grades received by the members in June. Margaret Gessner, Virginia Kost, and Lorraine Lindsey were selected for membership in Mortar Board, and Virginia Kost was elected Mortar Board president. Margaret Gessner is president of the Knox Association of Women Students, and two other members of Illinois B-D serve on the K.A.W.S. board.

One of the pledges, Frances Lafferty, and Jane Pasche have parts in the homecoming play, "The Mad Hopes" by Romney Brent, now in rehearsal.

Virginia Gibson, Jane Ella McCanna, Mary Louise Gochenour, Helen Fuhr, Jean Fuhr, Wanda Goode, and Ada Marie Pierce are in the Women's Glee Club, and Virginia Scott and Jane Ella McCanna sing in the College Choir.

Beatrice Greene and Frances Lafferty were excused from freshman English as a result of the high standings they made on the examinations given to all freshman students.

Illinois B-D chapter is also prominent in athletics. Peg Dieterich is secretary of W.A.A., and Beatrice Greene is manager of the freshman hockey team. Alice May Dewey manages the Junior hockey team.

After the football game, September 28, the chapter entertained pledges and rushees at a steak fry at Lake Bracken to celebrate the first Knox victory since 1931.

PLEGDED: Dorothy Alsen, Marian Beatty, Helen Fuhr, Wanda Goode, Martha Johnson, Galesburg; Barbara Betzer, Delavan, Wis.; Marian Field, Oak Park; Beatrice Greene, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Harriet Hebard, Knoxville; Frances Lafferty, Alexis; Marjorie Niven, Pontiac; Betty Lynn Quillman, Pincneyville; Joy Scammen, Rock Port, Mo.

RUTH NICKLESS

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, September 28, 1935

INITIATED, June 8, 1935: Ruth Young, San Diego, Calif. Illinois E is represented in a great variety of campus activities. Mildred Evans was elected president of A A Δ, honorary scholastic sorority for women. In publications, Betty Smart has been appointed women's editor of the Syllabus; Edyth Lou Docekal is the women's editor of the Daily Northwestern; Betty Lee Shafer is fashion editor and Ann Lewis is a desk editor for the paper. The social chairman of the Panhellenic Council is Rita Pool. Rita was also a Syllabus beauty queen. In the spring elections to Mortar Board, Eleanor Rockwood Cooley was chosen as one of the members. Peggy Grigsby shot to fame by winning the Davis rifle cup for the second time. On the W.S.G.A. board are Mary Gibson and Mildred Evans, and Patsy Jones is a member of the Y.W.C.A. board.

At the annual Matrix dinner for women, held in the spring, Leota Bell Hall and Jane Orr were honored as two of the ten most outstanding women in the senior class.

Illinois E received one of the greatest thrills of her existence when she was hostess chapter for a Province Convention which was held on April 26 and 27. All members were greatly honored by the presence of Miss Onken, her assistant, Mrs. Florence Hunt Webster and Miss Inez Webster, Eta Province President. Round table discussions were held on Friday night and Saturday morning. All the delegates agreed that they had learned much of value to take back to their chapters, and the Convention was voted a great success by everyone. On Saturday noon the annual Founders' Day luncheon was held at the Orrington hotel; Miss Onken and Miss Webster both spoke. In the afternoon a tea dance was given in honor of the delegates at the Orrington. During the Convention, Margaret McNeil and Phyllis Thompson, both of Arkansas A, were affiliated to this chapter. The chapter delegate for Illinois E was Julia Ferguson. Betty Eichenberry was general chairman of the arrangements.

The Senior Farewell was held at the home of Peggy Grigsby in Barrington. Each graduating girl was presented with a bracelet bearing the $\Pi B \Phi$ crest, and the seniors gave the chapter a dish and candle-sticks for the dining room buffet.

On May 25 the spring formal was held at the Winsor-Brachun country club.

Illinois E has twenty-six new pledges this fall who promise to bring credit to the chapter in scholarship and activities. Rushing parties were held on September 17, 18, 20, 21, 23, 25 and 26. Rita Pool, was rush chairman.

INITIATED, September 25, 1935: Grace Ellis, Evanston; Bethel France, Freeport.

Illinois Z, for the third time in four semesters, won the Panhellenic scholarship cup awarded to that women's fraternity with the highest scholastic average. The chapter average was 3.7. If it is won again at the end of this fall semester, it will be the permanent possession of Illinois Z.

Dean Leonard entertained the chaperons of the ten women's fraternities with the highest scholastic averages at a tea, at which Miss Fleming, chaperon of Illinois Z, poured.

In Shi-Ai Sing, an inter-sorority sing, held during Mothers' day week-end, Illinois Z won second place.

Last May Mary Ann Price was honored by being one of the sixteen women to make Mortar Board. She was elected president of the Women's Athletic Association last spring and has been prominent in many other campus activities. Virginia Lee Swann and Jane Hadden were named for initiation into Torch, junior women's honorary activity and scholastic organization, at one of the all-university twilight band concerts in May. Virginia was active in Women's League and particularly in the Illinois Theatre Guild. Jane is junior women's editor of the Illio, the university yearbook.

Illinois Z was presented with the W.A.A. award, a plaque on which each year the name of the women's fraternity which has earned the largest number of points in the four seasons of interhouse sports, is engraved.

Last June Mary Jane Chandler was elected to be one of the attendants of the Senior Ball Queen.

Illinois Z held its pledge dance October 12, at the chapter house. The music was particularly good and everyone had a good time. The chapter is now looking forward to Homecoming and Dads' Day; we expect to have a great many visitors both week-ends.

A great many girls are working in activities. Helen Billows and Jean Fair are sophomore managers of Star Course, an organization which sponsors a series of artists' programs during the year. Gloria Crawford, Jean Fair, and Jane Chapeck are working at the Y.W.C.A. Patricia Warren, Helen Bellows, Grace Ellis, and Helen Wells are working on the Illio. Jane Chapeck and Jean Fair are working in Women's League.

Students report a much larger interest in activities this year. A much larger sale of Athletic Association books, student productions, and student publications have been noticed.

Illinois Z is planning to hold a dinner for the transfers in a week or so. Our dinner for the parents of the town girls was given October 6.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 21, 1935

INITIATED, October 4, 1935: Elinor Shoaff, Shelbyville.

The week of September 22-28 was Y.W.C.A. Week on the Millikin Campus. The purpose of this week is to get the freshman women interested in Y.W., and also to get them acquainted with the upperclassmen. Y.W. Week officially opened Sunday afternoon with a Vesper Service on the Millikin Campus. Helen Ruth Chodat, of Illinois Eta and vice-president of Y.W., sponsored the membership drive all through the week. On Wednesday afternoon the first Y.W.C.A. meeting was held, and Miss Flora Ross of the Millikin language department spoke. This was followed by an all Millikin women wiener roast.

A Ω , senior men's honorary fraternity, and $\Pi M \Theta$, senior women's honorary fraternity, sponsored its annual Freshman Frolic in the Millikin Gym Friday, September 27. The principal entertainment of the evening was the stunt contest in which each sorority and fraternity presented an original stunt. T K E won the cup, and $\Sigma A E$ and $\Pi B \Phi$ were given honorable mention.

On Thursday, September 26, the actives and pledges of Illinois H were hostesses at a luncheon given in the chapter house for the out of town freshman women on the campus who didn't pledge. A luncheon of this type is given every year for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with the freshman women.

Millikin homecoming was observed the week-end of October 10, 11, and 12. It started Friday afternoon with the freshman-sophomore fight. At eight o'clock in the evening a pep meeting was held around a bonfire, and this was followed by the annual homecoming play presented by the Town and Gown Players. The play this year was "Double Doors," and Marianna Hammer of Illinois H played one of the leading women's rôles. Saturday morning there was a homecoming chapel followed by a parade through the town. The game with Wesleyan was played Saturday afternoon, and an alumni dinner was served that evening at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. The annual homecoming dance was given at the Masonic Temple.

PLEGGED: Aileen Dipper, Elizabeth Geiger, Charlotte Griggs, Marianna Hammer, Beatrice Hill, Sullivan; Frances Johnson, Jessie McKeown, Rosemary Reid, Juanita Robertson, Susan Stoutenborough, Margaret Sweeney, Salem.

Manitoba A was very proud this year to be awarded the Stoolman vase for general proficiency. The chapter considered it a double honor to be the first Canadian group to win a trophy of this kind.

The chapter's activities have been comparatively limited during the summer months. Early in May, a very successful rummage sale was held. Later in the month, the sisters of the chapter members were entertained at a tea, and in June, the mothers.

Betty Banning won an Isbister Scholarship for obtaining one of the ten highest averages in her year.

Thelma Hermanson has introduced a new idea for dramatics at the University, which has attracted a good deal of attention and promises to be very popular.

Competition has been very keen in rushing this year but the chapter is looking forward to acquiring an even greater number of valuable members than usual.

Pledge Day, September 21, 1935

INITIATED, September 14, 1935: Claire Stromberg, Langdon; Marian Acker, Williston; Mary White, Bismarck; Elnora Hopper, Cando; Ruth Fiskum, Crosby.

Registration figures for the first semester for 1935 show a material increase over the 1934 mark. Men continue to outnumber women two to one. This year's freshman class is the largest since 1931.

II B Φ is beginning a new school year with definite aims in mind. Special efforts are being made toward high scholarship and toward active interest in extra-curricular activities. Alfa Transrud, who is president of Mortar Board, attended the Mortar Board Convention in North Carolina last June, and reports a wonderful experience. Harriet Miller and Alfa Transrud are officers in Σ A I, honorary music sorority. Virginia Rice and Alfa Transrud are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Geraldine Gibbens, Elnora Hopper, Claire Stromberg, Madelon Stephenson, and Enid Godwin are members of Madrigal, mixed chorus. North Dakota A is well represented in K P O, speech sorority, and Playmakers. Active members are helping the pledges to get a good start in outside activities.

More than 300 girls attended the Big-Little Sister party sponsored by Y.W.C.A. on October 3. The W.A.A. party entertained almost as many.

According to tradition, II B Φ pledges were hostesses at a tea for all new girls on the campus. Active members assisted with the serving.

II B Φ birthday party was held Monday evening, October 7.

Marian Acker, new initiate, was the recipient of the jeweled pin, awarded for the highest average among the pledges.

PLEGDED: Ruth Davies, Vaughn O'Keefe, Joyce Umlauf, Virginia Sinner, Eileen Stenson, Marie Cray, Janet Anderson, Grand Forks; Jean Hoagland, New Rockford; Jeanne Lorenzen, Elgin; Grace Johnson, Blanch Horton Stephenson, Madelon Stephenson, Williston; Enid Godwin, Mandan; Norma McKenzie, Crookston, Minn.; Donna Clayburgh, Scooby, Mont.; Olga Christenson, Bismarck.

INITIATED, May 5, 1935: Jane Dodd, Minneapolis; Carol Turnacliiff, Elizabeth Pettijohn, St. Paul.

INITIATED, September 29, 1935: Elinor Fegles, Jean Richardson, Minneapolis; Betty Palmer, St. Paul; Margaret McLachlan, Detroit Lakes; Dorothy Jonason, Aberdeen, S.D.; Jane Arveson, Sioux Falls, S.D.

In the spring, just before graduation time, twelve students from the University are chosen who, in the opinion of the committee, are the most outstanding and have contributed most in the line of activities. These twelve people are called Representative Minnesotans. Last spring Minnesota A had the distinction of having two of its members, Betsy Emmons and Helen Hoff, elected to this group. Betsy was also presented with a scholarship at Columbia for this year. Edith Reed, another graduating senior, was elected Saint Pat's Queen of Engineers' Day and rode on horseback at the head of the parade. Marion Nelson, a music major student, presented her senior recital in the Music Hall on May 14 and was very well received.

Several of the Pi Phi girls were elected to some of the campus organizations last spring. Juanita Hanson was chosen to serve on the All University Council. Margaret Hofacre was elected to the W.S.G.A. Board, and Mary Norby was asked to assist on the Freshman Week Committee.

The Panhellenic Council began a new tradition last year in the form of an annual competitive song fest among the sororities. Each sorority was given four minutes in which to present its favorite chapter songs. The groups were all judged and II B Φ was awarded first place. The girls sang "The Tribute" and also "There's a Pi Phi Way", in which half of the group were old-fashioned girls and the other half were modern.

Formal rushing began Sunday afternoon, September 29, with a tea for the town girls. The circus motif was predominant at the Sunday tea and also at the Monday tea which was for out of town girls. The other rushing parties included a classic tea Tuesday, a hill billy dinner Wednesday, Thursday, the Paul Bunyan dinner, and an under the sea motif was used for decorations at the Friday dinner. On Saturday the traditional wedding dinner was given with pledging and a slumber party on Monday. Rushing on the whole seemed most successful.

Wesleyan has five changes in its administrative and faculty ranks this fall. Dr. Harry De Witte Henry has come to the campus to fill the position of president of the college, vacated by Dr. James E. Coons, who has gone as headmaster to Tilton School, in Trenton, N.J. Inauguration services were held for President Henry on the week-end of homecoming, September 25, 26, 27. Many distinguished personages were present on the occasion. Traditional homecoming plans were altered to harmonize with the inauguration ceremony and events connected with it. A drama, "The Servant in the House," was presented on Saturday evening of homecoming after the football game with Penn College in the afternoon. Virginia Holland and Sally Fortune had parts in this production.

The Rev. Mr. Fred Miller comes as Assistant to the President, and Dr. Donald Taupe, Lloyd Burley, and Mrs. Pearl Burley have also been added to the staff.

Hershey Hall, the women's dormitory, has been redecorated during the summer months. Many improvements have been made.

Commencement breakfast for seniors was held June 3. Marjorie Holland was awarded "best pledge" prize and Alice Talbot received the scholarship ring. Farewell gifts were given to seniors.

Eleanor Stevens has made quite a showing in the golf world during the past season. She was eliminated in the quarter finals of the state tournament by the state champion, Edith Estabrooks.

Josephine Carper, '35, and Elna Stewart were initiated into I Φ last spring. Eleanor Stevens, Virginia Kiger, and Jane Hobbs became members of Ellen Richards.

Virginia Holland and Helen Weibley have been recently elected as officers of A Ψ Ω. Alice Talbot is secretary-treasurer of II K A. Sally Fortune is society editor of the Iowa Wesleyan Tiger, student publication. Alice Talbot, Virginia Holland, Charlotte Allen, Helen Weibley, and Marjorie Holland hold offices in W.A.A. Virginia Holland, Alice Talbot, Charlotte Allen, and Marjorie Holland are officers of their respective classes. Alice Talbot and Sally Fortune are members of the Hershey Hall house council.

There is a twenty-five per cent increase in the student body of the college this year. This is the result of a program organized last spring to add to the enrollment of the college.

PLEGDED: Jean Shaver, Sigourney; Margaret Hall, Centerville; Elizabeth Hunt, Mildred Hassler, Farmington; INITIATED, March 16, 1935: Elizabeth Gardner, Audubon, October 12, 1935: Mary Elizabeth Ingram, Indianola.

The opening of this year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of Simpson College. An increased enrollment has encouraged the faculty and students to make this the zenith of the seventy-five years. Simpson welcomed to the campus three new members on the college staff: Francis L. Casey, coach; Miss Bernice Borgman, home economics; and Miss Margianne Coyle, college nurse.

This year Iowa B had the largest number of pledges of all the fraternities and sororities on the campus. The rushing season was well organized as the result of the preparation made last spring by the rushing chairman.

A Ψ Ω , national honorary dramatic fraternity was established on the campus last spring. Dorothy Heaton was one of the five charter members. Eleanor Benson played a leading rôle in the play "The Importance of Being Earnest," presented by the Blackfriars dramatic club last spring. Marjorie Nelson and Sarah Jean Hooker were pledged this fall to Blackfriars, the pledge group of A Ψ Ω .

All the major presidencies on the campus are held by members of Iowa B. They are: Y.W.C.A., Martha Riggs; W.A.A., Mary Ida Nelson; A Ψ Ω , Louise Hartzler; Home Economics Club, Dorothy Heaton; Π κ Δ , Phyllis Emmons; Zetlethean literary club, Martha Riggs. There are many of the other members who have an active part in these organizations.

Grace Margaret Moist and Barbara Ann England are on the Simpsonian newspaper staff. Mary Ida Nelson, Eleanor Benson, and Gene Griffith are working on the Zenith, college yearbook.

Iowa B is proud to have seven daughters of Iowa B mothers, and four sets of sisters in the chapter this year.

PLEGGED: Virginia Wallace, Cedar Rapids; Evelyn Faucett, Ballia, India; Helen Bliss, Mt. INITIATED, September 5, 1935: Jean Cruikshank, Boone; Mary Louise Chapman, Valley Junction; Rebecca Hayward, Sioux City; Dorothy Perry, Barbara Towne, Des Moines; Thelma Harrell, Fairfield; Doris Kuhlmeier, Rockford, Ill.

The enrollment at Iowa State College on September 23, exceeded 4,300. The freshmen registered in such large numbers that a new women's dormitory is being erected to accommodate 120.

Panhellenic Council inaugurated a new system, that of open rushing for the rest of the quarter after formal rushing closes.

On Mortar Board, Iowa Γ of Π B Φ has Lucille Frech and Ruth Farnham, president. This year, too, Ruth is home economics president as well as Cardinal Guild Secretary.

Lucille Frech also holds the Big Sister Chief position on the campus along with A.W.S., and Naiad, honorary women's swimming fraternity. Other Naiads are Gretchen Merrick, Ednamay Schmidt, and Catherine Cooper. Another A.W.S. member is Dorothy Golden.

The Intramural Council elected Rebecca Hayward as chairman this year.

The Industrial Science Council has Catherine Cooper for secretary. Mary Stewart is active, as chairman of Child Development, in the home economics council. Betty Blanco, program chairman, and Louise Orr sit with the health council. Five girls, Annabell Havens, Dorothy Perry, Dorothy Golden, Lucille Frech, and Gretchen Merrick, were elected to the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet.

Many Iowa Γ members were recognized by varied honorary fraternities. Σ A I, musical honorary society, initiated Martha Roberts last spring. Caroline Castle wrote her way into X Δ Φ . Then the national journalistic fraternity, Θ Σ Φ , pledged Eleanor Zoller. Eleanor, along with Dorothy Golden, Martha Roberts, and Lucille Frech, represents Π Φ in Φ T O, national home economics honorary. For the junior year Dorothy Golden, Margaret Markert, Betty Bergman, and Martha Roberts, president, were recognized for scholarship and leadership by Jack O'Lantern.

Five chapter members lead the sophomore class in scholarship last year and gained recognition at the Honors' Day Banquet spring quarter.

INITIATED, October 4, 1935: Charlotte Dreyer, Ottumwa; Margaret Christensen, Eagle Grove.

The most important feature of Iowa Z program this year is the revised rushing system. The Quota system was abolished at the end of last year. The Panhellenic Council sponsored a reception at the Iowa Memorial Union on September 16th which started the official rushing week. This gave both the rushees and the sorority girls a chance to get into the swing of rushing. On September 17 and 18 the usual rushing parties were held and on Thursday the chapter pledged twenty-nine girls.

At the annual Rose Ceremony held at President's Point last spring, Florence Whitmore was elected to Mortar Board.

Mary Lou McQuillen was elected to Union Board at a student election last spring, and this fall was elected treasurer of the organization.

Π B Φ had several girls placed on Y.W.C.A. council for the year 1935-36. These were: Mary Hanneman, Florence Whitmore, Margaret Hickenlooper, and Jane Niles.

This fall the girls returned to a rejuvenated recreation room. The room which before was nothing but a basement room into which was put all the furniture too worn to stay upstairs, is now decked in red, white and black modernistic leather furniture. After but two weeks of school it is already the most popular room in the house.

PLEGGED: Helen Anderson, Canton, S.D.; Helen Anderson, Wellman; Alberta Baldwin, Creston; Mary Burke, Red Oak; Janet Coquette, Cedar Rapids; Nona Jane Duncan, Quincy, Ill.; Evelyn Fritz, Ottumwa; Kay Germann, Decorah; Gayle Gildner, Marshalltown; Marian Hurst, Cedar Rapids; Marcia Kiedaisch, Keokuk; Margaret LeMire, Kansas City, Mo.; Marion Loetcher, Dubuque; Virginia Middleton, Emmetsburg; Mary Lee Moore, Fort Madison; Mary Frances Nye, Shenandoah; Jeanette Peterson, Davenport; Martha Ann Richards, Ottumwa; Jean Roush, Wyoming; Maxine Shwalter, Vinton; Betty Tripp, Mapleton; Katherine Ulrich, Peoria, Ill.; Dorothy Voss, Jane Gotch, Charlotte Whitmore, Marjorie Innes, Dorothy Stronks, Iowa City; Barbara Workman, Glenwood; Margaret Yavorsky, Belle Plaine.

Pledge Day, September 20, 1935

Violet Hall, Betty Rempfer, and Frances Sinning were initiated.

The enrollment at the University of South Dakota increased eleven per cent this last year.

The greatest achievement of South Dakota A chapter of Π B Φ in the last year was the winning of the scholarship cup by having an 85.5 average which is the highest average ever attained under the present grading system. This average was almost four points higher than the second sorority which was K A Θ .

One of the outstanding activities was achieved by Helen Wolfe, a graduate of 1935, who was elected to membership in Φ B κ .

Four pledges last year were elected to A A Δ which is a national scholastic fraternity for freshman women. Betty Rempfer had the highest average of all freshman girls.

Gerda McClintic, senior, was elected national president of Guidon, woman's national auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade. She was also elected to Mortar Board due to her outstanding place in campus activities and high scholastic record. Gerda will also edit the 1936 Coyote, the yearbook of the University of South Dakota.

Formal rush week opened Sunday September 15, at ten o'clock. Each day consisted of two teas and one evening party. The yearly custom of having a rose dinner for the preference dinner was carried out again this year.

PLEDGED: Mary Barrett, Plankinton; Yvonne Belson, Vermilion; Virginia Berneau, Eileen Jenkinson, Sioux City, Iowa; Mary Brodsky, Floy Bratton, Newell; Virginia Coomes, Webster; Lois Dresselhus, Wagner; Betty Hecker, Rapid City; Jane Stewart, Kimball; and Claire Wilson, Spencer, Iowa.

The girls listed above had the honor of being initiated by Miss Onken.

The 1935 registration at the University of Nebraska shows a ten to twelve per cent increase over last year's registration.

The women's fraternities on the campus pledged 295 girls this fall, an increase of forty-six over last year's total. Nebraska B ranked second with twenty-eight pledges.

The first floor of the Nebraska B house was redecorated last summer. Contributions came from both the Lincoln and Omaha alumnae clubs and the Lincoln Mothers' club. This year the chapter house is well filled, with forty girls living in the house.

Last spring Sancha Kilbourn was one of the two junior attendants to the May Queen, Kathryn Garret was judged by McClelland Barclay, noted artist, as one of the Beauty Queens of Nebraska University and her picture was placed in the Cornhusker, Nebraska's yearbook. Mary Anne Rosencrans and Jean Fetter were chosen as this year's Tassels, women's pep organization. Sancha Kilbourn is the senior member of A.W.S. Board and chairman of the Judiciary Board of the Student Council. Sancha is also associated editor of the Argwan, a humor magazine published monthly and is a member of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, honorary journalism sorority. Pansy Mooney and Mary Anne Rosencrans belong to the Big Sister Organization. Maxine Clويد graduated last year, will be a countess, and Sancha Kilbourn will be a princess at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball to be held in Omaha, October 4. Elspeay Breen and Jerry Deines have had the honor of being chosen to sing in the choirs of two large Lincoln churches.

Pledge Day, September 12, 1935

Rush week activities started, and were in full swing, on Saturday, September 7. The quota system was tried out this year for the first time on this campus. The number of pledges was limited to fifteen for all chapters who had forty-five or more members; those who had smaller chapters could pledge enough girls to give them a total membership of forty-five. The object is to build up the smaller women's fraternities, and in the future to make them all a uniform size of forty-five.

This new system completely revised all rushing; instead of the former three days of rush week, it was extended to six days. Every woman's fraternity held open house for the first two days. During this time all rushees were to visit at least six houses in order to be eligible for pledging. On the third day, "date cards" were sent only to those girls in which the fraternities were definitely interested. Two more days of regular teas, dinners, and breakfasts followed, with pledging on the sixth day.

School officially opened on September 19, lacking only two students from having the largest enrollment in the first week, in the history of the University of Kansas. There are 4,253 students now enrolled in the University.

$\Pi \Phi \Theta$ held open house Saturday night, September 28, for the pledge class.

The Miami Triad, a farm party held annually in the ballroom of the Memorial Union building, by the $\Sigma \chi$, the $\Phi \Theta \Pi$ and the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, was held October 18.

Carolyn Bailey, '38, is a new member of the Women's Glee Club. Margaret Wilcox, '38, and Elizabeth Short, '39, a pledge, have been admitted to membership in Quack Club, the swimming organization.

INITIATED, September 5, 1935: Jean Cruikshank, Boone; Mary Louise Chapman, Valley Junction; Rebecca Hayward, Sioux City; Dorothy Perry, Barbara Towne, Des Moines; Thelma Harrell, Fairfield; Doris Kuhlmeier, Rockford, Ill.

The enrollment at Iowa State College on September 23, exceeded 4,300. The freshmen registered in such large numbers that a new women's dormitory is being erected to accommodate 120.

Panhellenic Council inaugurated a new system, that of open rushing for the rest of the quarter after formal rushing closes.

On Mortar Board, Iowa Γ of $\Pi\kappa\Phi$ had Lucille Frech and Ruth Farnham, president. This year, too, Ruth is home economics president as well as Cardinal Guild Secretary.

Lucille Frech also holds the Big Sister Chief position on the campus along with A.W.S., and Naiad, honorary women's swimming fraternity. Other Naiads are Gretchen Merrick, Ednamay Schmidt, and Catherine Cooper. Another A.W.S. member is Dorothy Golden.

The Intramural Council elected Rebecca Hayward as chairman this year.

The Industrial Science Council has Catherine Cooper for secretary. Mary Stewart is active, as chairman of Child Development, in the home economics council. Betty Blanco, program chairman, and Louise Orr sit with the health council. Five girls, Annabell Havens, Dorothy Perry, Dorothy Golden, Lucille Frech, and Gretchen Merrick, were elected to the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet.

Many Iowa Γ members were recognized by varied honorary fraternities. $\Sigma\Delta\Lambda$, musical honorary society, initiated Martha Roberts last spring. Caroline Castle wrote her way into $X\Delta\Phi$. Then the national journalistic fraternity, $\Theta\Sigma\Phi$, pledged Eleanor Zoller. Eleanor, along with Dorothy Golden, Martha Roberts, and Lucille Frech, represents $\Pi\Phi$ in $\Phi\tau\Theta$, national home economics honorary. For the junior year Dorothy Golden, Margaret Markert, Betty Bergman, and Martha Roberts, president, were recognized for scholarship and leadership by Jack O'Lantern.

Five chapter members lead the sophomore class in scholarship last year and gained recognition at the Honors' Day Banquet spring quarter.

IOWA ZETA—STATE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Chartered, 1882

Pledge Day, September 19, 1935

INITIATED, October 4, 1935: Charlotte Dreyer, Ottumwa; Margaret Christensen, Eagle Grove.

The most important feature of Iowa Z program this year is the revised rushing system. The Quota system was abolished at the end of last year. The Panhellenic Council sponsored a reception at the Iowa Memorial Union on September 16th which started the official rushing week. This gave both the rushees and the sorority girls a chance to get into the swing of rushing. On September 17 and 18 the usual rushing parties were held and on Thursday the chapter pledged twenty-nine girls.

At the annual Rose Ceremony held at President's Point last spring, Florence Whitmore was elected to Mortar Board.

Mary Lou McQuillen was elected to Union Board at a student election last spring, and this fall was elected treasurer of the organization.

$\Pi\kappa\Phi$ had several girls placed on Y.W.C.A. council for the year 1935-36. These were: Mary Hanneman, Florence Whitmore, Margaret Hickenlooper, and Jane Niles.

This fall the girls returned to a rejuvenated recreation room. The room which before was nothing but a basement room into which was put all the furniture too worn to stay upstairs, is now decked in red, white and black modernistic leather furniture. After but two weeks of school it is already the most popular room in the house.

IOTA PROVINCE

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, September 20, 1935

Violet Hall, Betty Rempfer, and Frances Sinning were initiated.

The enrollment at the University of South Dakota increased eleven per cent this year.

The greatest achievement of South Dakota A chapter of $\Pi\kappa\Phi$ in the last year was the winning of the scholarship cup by having an 85.5 average which is the highest average ever attained under the present grading system. This average was almost four points higher than the second sorority which was $K\Lambda\Theta$.

One of the outstanding activities was achieved by Helen Wolfe, a graduate of 1935, who was elected to membership in $\Phi\kappa\kappa$.

Four pledges last year were elected to A $\Delta\Delta$ which is a national scholastic fraternity for freshman women. Betty Rempfer had the highest average of all freshman girls.

Gerda McClintic, senior, was elected national president of Guidon, woman's national auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade. She was also elected to Mortar Board due to her outstanding place in campus activities and high scholastic record. Gerda will also edit the 1936 Coyote, the yearbook of the University of South Dakota.

Formal rush week opened Sunday September 15, at ten o'clock. Each day consisted of two teas and one evening party. The yearly custom of having a rose dinner for the preference dinner was carried out again this year.

NEBRASKA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, October 8, 1935

INITIATED, March 26, 1935: Mary Belle Bates, Rushville; Ruth Brown, Harlan, Iowa; Melba Devoe, Marion Edgren, Lincoln; Eda Clare Maxwell, St. Joseph, Mo.; Pansy Mooney, Franklin; Rosalie Rhinehart, Virginia Gould, Omaha; Mary Ann Rosencrans, Plattsmouth; Helen Thiehoff, St. Joseph, Mo.; Marguerite Wishart, Evansville, Ill.

The girls listed above had the honor of being initiated by Miss Onken.

The 1935 registration at the University of Nebraska shows a ten to twelve per cent increase over last year's registration.

The women's fraternities on the campus pledged 295 girls this fall, an increase of forty-six over last year's total. Nebraska B ranked second with twenty-eight pledges.

The first floor of the Nebraska B house was redecorated last summer. Contributions came from both the Lincoln and Omaha alumnae clubs and the Lincoln Mothers' club. This year the chapter house is well filled, with forty girls living in the house.

Last spring Sancha Kilbourn was one of the two junior attendants to the May Queen. Kathryn Garret was judged by McClelland Barclay, noted artist, as one of the Beauty Queens of Nebraska University and her picture was placed in the Cornhusker, Nebraska's yearbook. Mary Anne Rosencrans and Jean Fetter were chosen as this year's Tassels, women's pep organization. Sancha Kilbourn is the senior member of A.W.S. Board and chairman of the Judiciary Board of the Student Council. Sancha is also associated editor of the Augwan, a humor magazine published monthly and is a member of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, honorary journalism sorority. Pansy Mooney and Mary Anne Rosencrans belong to the Big Sister Organization. Maxine Cloidt graduated last year, will be a countess, and Sancha Kilbourn will be a princess at the Ak-Sar-Ben ball to be held in Omaha, October 4. Elspey Breon and Jerry Deines have had the honor of being chosen to sing in the choirs of two large Lincoln churches.

REPLEGDED: Jean Rogers, Minden.

PLEGDED: Beverly Ballantyne, Janice Gould, Marylouise Jones, Peggy Kennedy, Joyce Ballantyne, Omaha; Elspey Breon, St. Joseph, Mo.; Margaret Burke, Bancroft; Jane Cain, Falls City; Rita Alger, Pat Cain, Janet Caldwell, Patty Drummond, Betty Gilson, Alice Nimocks, Pat Scott, Jean Swift, Mary Jane Wilson, Lincoln; Jerre Deines, Bayard; Jean Fetter, North Platte; Marilyn Fordyce, Falls City; Helen Fox, Red Oak, Iowa; Lucretia Green, Scottsbluff; Elinor Rickel, Fort Morgan, Colo.; Mary Lu Schwartz, Casper, Wyo.; Anna Stone, Warrensburg, Mo.; Anna L. Trueblood, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Louise Turpit, Hastings; Ruth Van Slyke, Aberdeen, S.D.

GRADUATES: Maxine Cloidt, Plattsmouth; Calista Cooper, Humboldt; Jane Edwards, Lincoln; Mary Jane Hughes, Eva Mae Livermore, Omaha; Veronica Villnave, Casper, Wyo.

PANSY MOONEY

KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Chartered, 1873

Pledge Day, September 12, 1935

Rush week activities started, and were in full swing, on Saturday, September 7. The quota system was tried out this year for the first time on this campus. The number of pledges was limited to fifteen for all chapters who had forty-five or more members; those who had smaller chapters could pledge enough girls to give them a total membership of forty-five. The object is to build up the smaller women's fraternities, and in the future to make them all a uniform size of forty-five.

This new system completely revised all rushing; instead of the former three days of rush week, it was extended to six days. Every woman's fraternity held open house for the first two days. During this time all rushees were to visit at least six houses in order to be eligible for pledging. On the third day, "date cards" were sent only to those girls in which the fraternities were definitely interested. Two more days of regular teas, dinners, and breakfasts followed, with pledging on the sixth day.

School officially opened on September 19, lacking only two students from having the largest enrollment, in the first week, in the history of the University of Kansas. There are 4,253 students now enrolled in the University.

$\Pi B \Phi$ held open house Saturday night, September 28, for the pledge class.

The Miami Triad, a farm party held annually in the ballroom of the Memorial Union building, by the ΣX , the $B \Theta \Pi$ and the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, was held October 18.

Carolyn Bailey, '38, is a new member of the Women's Glee Club. Margaret Wilcox, '38, and Elizabeth Short, '39, a pledge, have been admitted to membership in Quack Club, the swimming organization.

PLEGDES: Sally Jo Demsey, Jeanette Jenkins, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Lou Borders, El Paso, Tex.; Ida Griffith, Laguna Beach, Calif.; Dorothy Lemon, Pratt; Elizabeth Short, Concordia; Mary K. Frith, Emporia; Mary Jane Haynes, Helen Jane Edwards, Kansas City; Lorraine Luther, Jodi Bell, Wichita.

GRADUATES: Helen Black, B.S. degree, Kansas City; Elizabeth Heaton, A.B. degree, Omaha, Neb.; Josephine Hellings, A.B. degree, Amy Hoffman, A.B. degree, Eleanor Nolan, A.B. degree, Kansas City, Mo.; Violet Mae Kisner, A.B. degree, Garden City; Jaquette Lawrence, A.B. degree, Council Groves; Josephine Marshall, B.S. degree, Lawrence.

INITIATED, October 12, 1935: Barbara Carr, Hutchinson; Dorothy Coldwell, Independence; Jacqueline Hanly, Manhattan; Betty Jean Hedges, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Jane Nesselrode, Kansas City.

The pledges entertained the housemothers, presidents, and pledges of the other women's fraternities on the campus at tea October 6.

The summer rush party was held at the Manhattan Country Club July 13.

Betty Jean Hedges, Mary Jane Nesselrode, Barbara Wilcox, and Marcella Downie were initiated into Purple Peppers. Caroline Dawley, Gertrude Tobias, and Betty Miller pledged $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, national honorary journalism fraternity for women.

Betty Winter received freshman honors in scholarship. Frances Farrell was initiated into Mortar Board. Mary Blackman is business manager of the Collegian. Marcella Downie, Winifred Winship, and Weldene Middlekauff were initiated into Enchilads. Kansas B won the intramural swimming meet.

A Cooky-shine was given after pledging by the alumnae. Open house for fraternities was held September 13.

This year Kansas State beauty queens will be chosen by a vote of the student body instead of being selected by a judge.

PLEGDED: Jane Auld, South Pasadena, Calif.; Lilian Auston, Alexander; Betsy Barnett, Ft. Leavenworth; Mary Frances Davis, Chardon, Ohio; Lucille Dunn, Lamar, Colo.; June Fleming, Council Grove; Mary Ann Haskard, Hutchinson; Mary Marron, Jacksonville, Fla.; Marjorie McCullough, Marion; Nancy McCroskey, Jeanne Morgan, Kansas City; Vera Mowery, Ann Wright, Salina; Elizabeth Nabours, Mary Jane Trusdale, Manhattan; Jane Phelan, Kansas City, Mo.; Norma Lee Quinlan, Lyons; Loberta Row, Larned; Lois Smith, Garden City; Mercedes Stratford, El Dorado; Josephine Wells, Iola.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 29, 1935

INITIATED, April 25, 1935: Gertrude Orahoad of Denver, Colo., and Patsy Varvel of Greeley, Colo.

Mortar Board pledged Mary Elizabeth Evans, president of Colorado A, last spring. Ruth Benwell and Marian Epperson were pledged to Spur, the sophomore honorary society. Hesperia, junior honorary society, pledged Jane Collins, Margaret Benwell, and Jane Sampson.

The chapter house of Colorado A was kept open for both terms of summer school this year. Several members of $\Pi B \Phi$ from other states lived in the house in addition to many other summer students. Because of its nearness to the mountains, the house was quite popular with the students who wanted to keep cool.

Rising prices have forced Colorado A to raise the flat rate to the level of the rates of the dormitory for freshmen women, and the success of the plan insures its continuation.

The University of Colorado authorities have established this year the "check-in and check-out" system in all sorority and girls' rooming houses. In this way it is planned that housemothers will know where every girl under their care will be found after eight o'clock in the evening. All housemothers have willingly cooperated with this new plan. Panhellenic Council also established a new rule for this rush week. No freshman girl or upperclasswoman who is a rushee was allowed to date during rush week. This rule was put in with a view to eliminating men in rushing and late hours which in the past have put too much strain on girls entering the University for the first time.

Five seniors were graduated in June, 1935. They were Louise Epperson, Elizabeth Knowles Anderson, Barbara Lee, Patsy True, and Julia Reeve. Elizabeth Seebass and Dorothy Knowles were graduated in August.

Pledged, September 29, 1935: Marjorie Morris, Denver; Ann Russ, Albany, Tex.; Alice Virginia Emerson, Joplin, Mo.; Helen Stants, Topeka, Kan.; Frances Kirkpatrick, Walsenburg; Mary Isabel Greenway, Boulder; Florence Sellery, Wilmette, Ill.; Kathleen Nye, Fort Mead, S.D.; Maxine Shipley, Helen Collins, Fredena Fankell, Marion Hackstaff, Sally Zimmerhackel, Jeanette Humphrey, Mary Kemp Wood, Helen Jones, Mary Catherine Phillips, Denver; Marjorie Helen Rice, Colorado Springs; Martha Mahoney, Casper, Wyo.; Jeanne Gibberson, Alton, Ill.; Mary Weidner, Topeka, Kan.; and Jacqueline Ward, Artesia, N.M.

LOUISE McALLISTER

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Chartered, 1885

Pledge Day, September 21, 1935

Before registration week this year, the Panhellenic Council held a series of teas for the rushees of all the women's groups. These teas provided the freshmen with an opportunity to become acquainted with the campus, all the groups and other students new to the school.

Registration was held the week of September 18. The University of Denver held homecoming on October 19. Wednesday preceding this event was Pioneer Day, at which time most of the students on the campus dressed in pioneer costumes. Prizes were awarded for the best individual costume and for the group which was most correctly dressed for the occasion. In the afternoon, the student body attended a jitney dance in the Student Union Building.

A new custom has been started on the campus: that of holding song contest. Each social organization on the campus competes for the prize by singing one of the university songs and any fraternity song of their choice.

Colorado B honored its pledges on the afternoon of September 29 at a tea for all the fraternity men on the campus.

Kedros, Senior Women's Honorary Fraternity tapped Dorothy Jean Armor, Genevieve Baker, and Muriel Greene for membership. Mary Elizabeth Foster was chosen president of Panhellenic. Genevieve Baker was unanimously selected president of A.W.S. Martha Fuller was elected president of the Chappell School of Fine Arts, a branch of the University. Katherine Gibson was also elected president of College Poetry Society. All of these girls are seniors of Colorado B.

Colorado B plans on again presenting a vaudeville for the University.

The Mothers Club presented the active chapter with a beautiful new silver service set and a complete new set of initiation robes.

PLEGDED: Helen Amesse, Margaret Babbitt, Betty Bloedorn, Eileen Bowman, Lois Braun, Bettina Caruso, Margery Forbes, Maxine Hanks, Maryanne Harrington, Maretta Lucas, Lucille McCrillis, Mary Margaret McGilvary, Mary Virginia Quinn, Frances Trott, Helen Ann Williams of Denver; Ernestine Edgar of Rocky Ford; Margaret Boose of La Grange, Ill.

DOROTHY FELLOWS

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Chartered, 1910

Pledge Day, September 27, 1935

INITIATED, September 23, 1935: Jeanne Diver, Dorothy Downing, Lois Rugg, Beverley Shields, Shirley Smith, and Elinor Stine.

The University of Wyoming is particularly fortunate this year in having a larger group of freshmen enrolled than ever before. All new women students were welcomed on to the campus by a progressive tea given by all the sororities.

New rushing rules made by Panhellenic last spring were adopted this fall. Instead of the usual entertaining at meal time the guests were invited only to open houses. No food or favors were used except at a dinner given the last evening of rushing. Only forty dollars were allowed for rushing expenses.

Wyoming A this year has a new chaperon who was affiliated with Illinois Z. She is Mrs. Madge Young of Champaign, Illinois.

Prominence in scholarship and activities is the aim of Wyoming A. Last spring they earned both the Panhellenic scholarship cup and the W.A.A. athletic cup.

Every year $\Theta A \Phi$ presents to the most outstanding boy and girl a cup. This was won by Maudie Doyle last spring.

$\Pi B \Phi$ this year holds three A.S.U.W. offices. Elizabeth Howard is the A.W.S. president, Eloine Cook, A.W.S. treasurer, and Harriet Tupper is serving on the Board of Publications for the school paper and annual. Charlotte Hayes is vice president of the senior class, Lois Horsch, president of A Z Π , and Harriet Tupper, president of the home economics club.

On the campus $\Pi B \Phi$ is well represented in all organizations. It is quite unusual for a girl to have the position as business manager on the school paper, but this year Helen Gottschalk is filling that place. Shirley Smith, Dorothy Downing, Thyra Godfrey and Lois Rugg were selected as Spurs. Helen Howard and Betty Burrage are now Big Sisters. Harriet Tupper is a member of $\Pi T O$, and Jean Diver has been initiated into $\Sigma A I$. Two Seniors, Maudie Doyle and Dorothy Fitch made $\Phi K \Phi$ and Elizabeth Howard was selected for Mortar Board. Lois Rugg and Thyra Godfrey were pledged to $\Phi \Gamma N$.

Open house for the fraternities and men's dormitory were held Friday and Saturday evenings starting October 11 and ending October 27.

The annual pledge dance has been set for November 16.

PLEGDES: Virginia Thompson, McFadden; Edith Williams, Anne Boyce, Helen Christensen, Laramie; Eleanor Burns, Margaret Lee, Eleanor Calber, Betty Daiber, Jeanne Stephens, Cheyenne; Donna Spence, Spearfish, S.D.; Ellen Pace, Rawlins; Glenn Poston, Lander; Gretchen Barlow, Margaret Maher, Sidney, Neb.; Betty Fish, Kathleen Ferguson, Wheatland; Dorothy Hares, Denver, Colo.; and Elizabeth Budd, Big Piney.

OKLAHOMA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA

Chartered, 1910

Pledge Day, September 11, 1935

INITIATED, October 5, 1935: Hope Adams, Amarillo, Tex.; Jane Clarke, Sarah Margaret Freeman, and Jane Marsh, Oklahoma City; Joyce Colley, Ardmore; Betty Conwell, Tucumcari, N.M.; Lucile MacKenzie, Carter; Alice Quigley, Ft. Worth, Tex.; Dorothy Walker, Tulsa.

The first event of fall rush at Oklahoma University was an afternoon tea held by all of the sororities on the campus. Rush week ended with a preferential luncheon at the chapter house on September 11 at which time $\Pi B \Phi$ received twenty-five pledges. A Cooky-shine was held in their honor after formal pledging.

This year the lounge has been furnished in red, yellow, and blue leather and chromium.

The aim this year is to place first in scholarship. A II B Φ tutor who is now working on her master's degree has been engaged. Last semester two hundred and eight hours of "A" were earned which is an unusual amount for fifty girls. Twenty-one hours of these were made by one girl, a record which members of Oklahoma A have never attained before. Besides scholarship the members and pledges are urged to take part in activities. Two members were selected for the glee club, two for the Sooner Annual staff, one for the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, Y.W.C.A. House Council, and one on the W.S.G.A.

PLEGDED: Judith Beth Berry, Sapulpa; Elsie Bowers, Barbara Campbell, Helen Ribeyre, and Dorothy Jane Rogers, Tulsa; Phoebe Jane Chenault, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Katherine Clonts, Muskogee; Helen Marie Cordell, Holdenville; Jean Delaney and Edna Earl King, Ada; Sarah Margaret Freeman, Pollyanna McBride, Caroline McElDowney, Joan McKowen, Ailene Simms, Mary Lee Verser, and Mary Margaret Whitehurst, Oklahoma City; Elizabeth Hedlund, Elk City; Betty Lambert, Okmulgee; Jane Lomax and Elizabeth Phillips, Norman; Emma Jean Mitchell, Houston, Tex.; Louise Niemann, Ponca City; Dorothy Ann Perkins, Midland, Tex.; Ruth Winn, Emporia, Kan.

OKLAHOMA BETA—OKLAHOMA A. AND M.

Pledge Day, September 7, 1935

Oklahoma B is elated over the remodeling of the chapter house, which was done during the summer of 1935. Several new rooms were added, and old ones enlarged. It is done in late Victorian style in keeping with the days of the founding of Pi Beta Phi. The colors, wine and blue, are used stunningly throughout the house.

The house was not quite ready in time for the first rush date, September 4, so a buffet supper was held at the country estate of Mrs. T. N. Berry, mother of three members of this chapter. The house was ready to enter on September 5, and rush turned out most successfully.

Murray Hall, the girls' dormitory which was under construction last spring, is now completed. The building is very attractive and accommodates 450 girls.

Study halls are held for the new pledges every night from eight o'clock until ten-thirty o'clock and from four until five-thirty on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

Maxine Moody, one of the new pledges was elected Band Queen.

Bernice Fields, was elected secretary of the freshman class, and Margaret Hope, treasurer.

Virginia Gunlach and Iredell Brown have been chosen for parts in the play, "The Romantic Young Lady," to be given by the Players Club.

Girls making the dean's honor roll second semester of last year were: Betty Price, Patricia Mills, Rozanne Truscott, Opal Marie Larason, Mary McCollum, Mary Catherine McGovern, Mary Margaret Reed, and Edith Rose Thompson.

Elsie Jarvis, Marvel Anderson, and Christine Mullenore have been elected to Peppers, a girls' pep organization on this campus.

Social activities are now in full swing. Open house, an annual affair in which the chapter introduces its pledges to the fraternity men on the campus, was held Sunday, September 22. One night each week representatives from a fraternity are guests at dinner.

Formal pledging was held Monday, September 30, followed by a cooky-shine.

Pledge Day, September 14, 1935

Arkansas A held the highest scholastic standing among women's fraternities on the campus at the end of the spring semester.

Louise McCulloch placed second in the beauty section of the Razorback, the yearbook of the university.

Two new building on the campus which have been under construction for the past year were completed and ready for occupancy by the library and the chemistry department at the beginning of the fall term this year.

On the University campus this year the membership in each woman's fraternity has been limited to fifty-eight. This number includes pledges. The object of this limitation is to promote the growth of the smaller chapters.

Arkansas A introduced its pledges to campus fraternities by entertaining with an informal open house Sunday afternoon, September 15. The chapter entertained with an informal open house September 29 to which all freshman boys on the campus were invited.

Margaret Jacoway is president of Women's League this year; Erlene Campbell, president of Y.W.C.A.

PLEGDED: Mary Jean Gray, Lorene Nims, Nadia and Martha Wood, Katherine Langley, Hot Springs; Margaret Briggs, Juliet Mayfield, Gloria Gooch, Rogers; Beulah Stone, Mary and Roberta Cummings, Prairie Grove; Louetta Kendrick, Beverly Sharp, Joplin, Mo.; Sally and Elizabeth Dudley, DeWitt; Ruth Wright, Coila Harding, Ft. Texas A proudly displays the Balfour Cup at the chapter house in Austin. The arrival, only last week, of this beautiful trophy was the cause of a great deal of excitement and celebration among members and pledges.

In accordance with a new Panhellenic ruling, rush week was conducted before the beginning of school. A most successful opening luncheon was held with striking decorations. A red table cover was used, as well as a lovely centerpiece of fruits spraved with red, flanked by red candles. The week was climaxed by an open house held in honor of forty-seven new pledges. The girls were formally presented and afterwards attended the Pledge Nite German held in the Gregory Gymnasium. Open rushing is now in progress, with regard to several girls who did not participate in official rush week.

Enthusiastic plans are being made for sorority participation in intramural sports. Success attained in this field last year has been very encouraging towards tryouts by all members and pledges. The actual contests are to be held within a few weeks.

Selection of members for honorary organizations on the campus has not taken place up to date.

The extensive building program of the University of Texas is being continued this year with the construction of a new dormitory for women students and one for men, as well as the work on the new Main Building and Tower.

A greater spirit of cooperation is being fostered by the fact that a number of town girls and dormitory residents are taking some of their meals at the house this year.

BETTY FEE SPEARS

TEXAS BETA—SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1916

Pledge Day, September 21, 1935

INITIATED, October 10, 1935: Louise Hallum.

In accordance with the new school rules, Texas B held only one summer rush party, for which the alumnae club prepared refreshments. The chapter had complete success during rush week, for Texas B and X Ω were the only two sororities to fill their quotas under the new official system. The seventeen pledges were introduced to the fraternity men at open house held at the Women's Forum. They were not formally pledged until September 25, at the home of Mary Knowles, chapter president, after which they took part in the traditional Cooky-shine. Mary Nell Cullum entertained with a slumber party for the entire chapter honoring the pledges October 6.

Elizabeth Daniels, Mary Knowles, Mary Yates Hurst, Frances Falvey, Polly LaRoche, and Louise Alsworth, the official delegate, attended the province convention at Shreveport the first part of the summer and brought back many suggestions for chapter improvement. Among them is the point system for pledges, which is based on scholarship, athletics, and loyalty to the school and the fraternity.

Another new feature of this year will be the presentation of a recognition pin to the girl showing the most scholastic improvement. For two years Frances Falvey has worn the diamond pin given the girl with the highest scholastic average, so a loving cup will be given the girl making grades which rank second in the chapter.

Frances Falvey was also elected to Mortar Board last spring. Carol Fritz, who was first beauty in the school year book, and Gene Higginbotham made A Δ Δ, honorary scholastic fraternity for freshmen women.

In the spring elections, Frances Falvey was elected to Student Council from the music school and Frances Hallam was elected associate editor of the school newspaper. Dorothy Wyatt received the highest number of votes of any of the five girls elected as "Representative Mustangs," and consequently went to the University of Texas Round-up as the sweetheart of S.M.U. More distinction came to the chapter through having the greatest number of favorites in the school annual.

Scholarship should be spurred this year by the prospect of a Φ B K chapter at S.M.U., for five Φ B K members have been added to the faculty. Intellectual interest has been stirred on the campus by the Student Movement, a drive to make collegiates aware of world affairs. Seminars are held to discuss world peace, international relations, and economics. The movement slogan, "It's no longer smart to be uninformed," is upheld 100% by this chapter, every member of which belongs to the Y.W.C.A., the sponsor of this activity.

The Student Council is swinging into action more vigorously than any council in years. An elaborate program, including constitution revision, has been planned and Mary Knowles and Ruth Allen, are serving on two of the committees.

The ever-generous alumnae club gave the chapter $50.00 to spend as it chooses and it voted to buy furniture for the sorority rooms.

PLEGGED, September 21: Betty Brown, Patsy Burgher, Virginia Carlisle, Polly Day, Betty Ellis, Virginia Garrett, Sarah Alla Hawley, Margaret McDowell, Dorothy Owens, Harriet Olmstead, Margaret Stroud, Catherine Wilson, Agnes Schoellkopf, and Margery Wood, Dallas; Mary Loving, Jermyn; Carolyn Potter, Gainesville; Frances Street, Graham.

INITIATED, February 18, 1935: Irving Allee, New Orleans; Helen Simpson, New Orleans; Lucille Hull, Tulsa, Okla.

With school starting and rushing in full swing, Louisiana A has started the school year actively and enthusiastically. New rush rules were enforced by Newcomb Panhellenic which made the season last two weeks, with only two formal parties to be given by each sorority. The chapter gave a baby party and a formal progressive dinner. Both affairs were delightful and successful.

Last June Newcomb College graduated fifteen actives. Mary Lee Baker, Lynne Hecht, Coco Jahncke, Pamela Robinson, Celeste Lyons, Louise Taylor, and Nancy Morris will make their debuts in New Orleans society this fall, with each participating in the various Mardi Gras balls.

The chapter lost Lucille Hull to Oklahoma A in Norman, Oklahoma. Lucy Kathryn Harper and Ruth Dixon are not returning to school. To take the places of the girls who have left are two transfers; Margery Hasseltine of Virginia Γ at College of William and Mary and Harriet Sutherland of Alabama A at Birmingham-Southern.

Immediately following the close of rush season the chapter will initiate fourteen new members.

The chapter including actives, pledges, repledges, and alumnae are anticipating the coming year with hopes that we may help further the spirit of II B Φ.

ALBERTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, March 19, 1935

INITIATED, March 26, 1935: Hazel McIntyre, Edmonton, Alberta; Maureen Hamilton, Kelowna, B.C.; Dorothy Howe, Calgary, Alberta.

In the joy of meeting old friends again, in the anticipation of making new ones, in the hustle and bustle of getting established in their new house, the members of Alberta A will be very busy the first week in October.

The house which accommodates fourteen girls is conveniently situated near the University buildings. Δ Δ Δ fraternity also opened a new house this year.

Rushing will take place from October 5 to October 12. A very interesting Chinese party was held by the Edmonton active members the last week in September for the rushees in the city.

The University grounds have been very much improved this year, new lawns and trees having been set out.

An interesting August event was the marriage of Miss Hazel Wilkinson to Dr. James Hamilton Russell of London, England. They will live in England.

Mr. Paul Althouse of the Metropolitan Opera sang in Edmonton in the early fall. His singing was enjoyed by many of the students.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Margaret Gershaw, Medicine Hat Alberta.

MONTANA ALPHA—MONTANA STATE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 13, 1935

INITIATED, May 12, 1935: Katherine Duncan, Butte; Patti Hopkins, Lewistown; Ruth Keithley, Billings; Margot Seamans, Huntley; Opal Winkes, Winnett; Marian Huntley, Betty Harrison, Bozeman. Initiated, October 3, 1935: Patricia Bell, Joliet; Bettie Mae Johnson, Helena; Jean Rogers, Lewistown; Betty Ross, Moline, Ill.

Montana A has just moved into a new home. The college has just had a six unit quadrangle constructed, which is occupied by three women's fraternities and three independent groups. There are three buildings, with two units in each, every one very different in plan from the other. They face a central court, which is to be landscaped and is to have a fountain in the center. The new sorority house is beautiful with every modern convenience and detail. It is furnished in classique moderne style. The six units have a central underground kitchen, which is said to be the only one of this type in the United States. Each house has its own private dining room and kitchen.

Montana A is also fortunate in welcoming Mrs. Mary Stranahan, of Fargo, North Dakota, as its new house mother.

In May, the annual spring party was held at the Bar 63 Ranch. Everyone enjoyed riding, dancing, and the dinner.

On Woman's Day, the climax of the year, Montana A received many honors to its members. Anne Sanders, president, was chosen as a member of Mortar Board. Katherine Duncan was also chosen for Mortar Board, and, in addition, she received the Woman's Cup for highest attainment, and the Wiggernhorn Oratorical Award. Marian Huntley, Betty Ross, Helen Edwards, Margot Seamans, Ruth Keithley, and Mary Ellen Wiggernhorn were pledged by Spurs, national service organization. $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ elected Wilda Parker as a new member of the art honorary. Eurodelphian pledged Wilda Parker, Margot Seamans, Mary Ellen Wiggernhorn, Elinor Heron, Marji Boles. Betty Ross received a basketball as a member of the first team. Doris Iten won an "M" sweater.

Brownie Green, soprano, played the lead in the spring production, "Robin Hood." The costumes and scenery for "Robin Hood" were designed respectively by Katherine Duncan and Lila Ross.

Alice MacDowell, '35, Billings, secured a teaching position in Ketchikan, Alaska, and reports that she is enjoying it very much. Lila Ross, '35, Moline, Illinois, is teaching in Ennis, Montana. Helen McArthur, '35, Butte, has a position with the General Utilities Corporation.

With the consent of the local Panhellenic, rushing was deferred for two weeks this fall, due to the incomplete condition of the new buildings. However, Montana A is looking forward to a very successful rushing season.

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Pledge Day, September 21, 1935

Idaho A started this year off with a completely redecorated and a slightly remodeled fraternity house.

A new high enrollment of 2406 students has been reached by the University of Idaho. This is an increase of 117 over the number registered at this time last year.

University of Idaho received this fall an allotment of $118,182 from the Public Works Administration to be used for a new infirmary. The new building, which is to replace two inadequate frame structures, will be two and one-half stories high, of modern reinforced brick construction. It will have approximately fifty rooms. Idaho also had built this summer a new boys' dormitory, an engineering laboratory, and a classroom building.

Associated Women Students have inaugurated a new system which is designed to aid beginning women students in learning how to study. A series of nine lectures are given by prominent faculty members. The subjects discussed by these speakers are ones dealing with study problems common to freshmen, which will bring to the girls' attention the value of education, and which will inspire them to study.

Ted Bank, former coach at Tulane University, is Idaho's new athletic director. With four new assistants and several new gridsters he has begun work with the Vandals, renewing confidence and loyalty toward the Idaho team.

On Campus Day, May 8, Hazel Gentry was elected to Mortar Board and was also chosen maid of honor to the May Queen. Margaret Mattes and Emmy Lou Smith were elected to Spurs. During the spring also Georgina Howarth was elected to $\Phi \Omega \Theta$ and Eleanor Stewart was pledged to Cardinal Key, a local scholarship and service honorary. Isobel Gibson, '35, secured a fellowship at the University of Iowa where she will work for her M.A. degree in home economics. Rachel Nelson was recently married to Hiram Everest. They both attended the University of Idaho last year, and are now living in Spokane, Washington.

$\Pi B \Phi$ had an extremely successful rushing season this fall. Fifteen bids were issued, and not one refusal was received. Two $\Pi B \Phi$ pledges were among the ten freshmen passing the English proficiency test, a distinct honor and an achievement which excites the students from taking English composition. These two girls were June Viel and Elizabeth Coffin.

Sunday, September 29, Idaho A had formal pledging for fifteen new girls followed by a fireside.

WASHINGTON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, January 5, 1907

Pledge Day, September 25, 1935

INITIATED, April 25, 1935: Jean Douglas, Katherine Phillips, Audre Lee Rice, Jean Severyns, Barbara Winn, Seattle; Mary Jane Buell, Keyport; Martha Burkhardt, Portland; Carol Byles, Montesano; Elizabeth Terhune, Juneau; Marjorie Faust, Ellensburg.

Pledge night was a memorable occasion for pledges and actives. An open house was held for parents of the pledges and for other fraternity members. Later a Cooky-shine was given in honor of the pledges.

After a summer of many changes, Washington A found its chapter house remodeled from top to bottom. Such a glorious start for a new college year!

The campus is to have five new buildings to be built at a cost of $2,262,000. One of the buildings is to be a much needed dormitory to house 330 women students. Attendance records have been broken by this quarter's registration. More than 9,500 students answered the call to classes on October 1.

Scholarship lists published by the administration showed the names of three $\Pi B \Phi$ members: Margaret Hartson, Mary Frances Hartson, and Barbara Jones. When Margaret Hartson graduated in June, she was a member of $\Phi B K$; Totem Club, activity honorary; Mortar Board, national activity and scholastic honorary; national sociology honorary; and was a chairman of several committees of the Associated Women Students. In addition to her activities on the campus, Margaret held offices in the chapter and won the Amy B. Onken award for Lambda Province.

Mary Frances Hartson was the University of Washington delegate to the Mortar Board Convention and is president of the Washington chapter of Mortar Board. She is also a member of Totem Club, as is Pat Fiset. Margaret Seamans is assistant chairman of the University Standards Committee. Barbara Jones has been reelected Women's Debate Manager, and Margaret Wilson was initiated into W Key Club, underclass women's activity honorary. Jean Douglas had the lead in two of the plays presented by the Drama Department during summer school and is to have the lead in their plays this year.

Nearly 400 pledges were presented at open houses held by the women's fraternities. Washington A presents nineteen, of whom eight are to be house girls.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 24, 1935

Washington B of $\Pi B \Phi$ has opened what appears to become a successful and interesting year, from the standpoint of the College as well as the fraternity.

Last June marked the graduation of five members: Betty Francisco, Pomeroy; Maurine Martin, Pullman; Kathryn Driscoll, Spokane; Polly Lockhart, Yakima; and Gertrude Nelson, Yakima.

A decided increase in the College enrollment has necessitated the building of a new men's dormitory, which was completed during the summer and is now being occupied. Another addition for which the campus is grateful is a new Chemistry Building, which was likewise constructed this summer. The many students attending classes there greatly enjoy the improved surroundings.

Drama heads the list of fall activities in which girls in our chapter are participating. Washington B was well represented in the first All-College play entitled "Cradle Song," by Katherine Bowden, who has been given the leading rôle, and Jane Marble, who portrays a minor rôle. Twelve members are now working on an act for the All-College Review, under the direction of Beryl Smith, a talented tap dancer. Katherine Steward, Mortar Board vice-president, was campus delegate to the national Mortar Board Convention this summer. Two $\Pi B \Phi$ girls hold positions on the Associated Women Student's Council: social chairman, Barbara Kimbrough, and building committee chairman, Joan Wickersham. Phyllis O'Day, active in the many programs presented by Orchestrations, national dancing honorary, has recently been elected vice-president of the organization.

With a larger number of old members back in school this semester than in many previous years, and with a large and enthusiastic group of pledges, the chapter hopes for a year of great accomplishment and interest.

PLEGGED: Helen Critchlow, Bellingham; Josephine Knox, Colfax; Jean Schultz, Lynn; Glenna Powell, Olympia; Virginia Hill, Pendleton; Eleanor Maguire, Margaret Summers, Seattle; Katherine Achre, Betty Jane Edson, Betty Hollenback, Hope Kimbrough, Edith Lyons, Spokane; Donna Hoy, Dorothy Hunt, Peggy Lou Stebbins, Tacoma; Jane Marble, Wapato; Helen Bryson, Virginia Larsen, Elsie Sherman, Wenatchee; Lucille Ramsey, West Valley.

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 29, 1935

Fall term rush week began with an "open-house" tea at every house on the campus. After a week of strenuous rushing Oregon A of $\Pi B \Phi$ pledged twenty-two girls.

During the summer needed improvements to the chapter house were made. The first floor was re-kalsomined, and the Mothers' Club gave the house a new set of sun-room furniture and carpets for the stairs.

Work is now being started on the new library, which is to be directly across from the $\Pi B \Phi$ house. It is to be finished in two years.

This summer three girls from Oregon A announced their marriages. They were Doris Houser, Janis Worley and Leone Baker.

Frances Watzek and Betty Tubbs, juniors, returned shortly before rush week from a trip to the Orient. They had an enjoyable trip and met many members of $\Pi B \Phi$ from other chapters.

The latter part of spring term brought many activities and honors to the Oregon A chapter. Catherine Coleman, President of the Associated Women Students, was sent to the annual Convention at Indiana. Martha McCall was elected Treasurer of the A.W.S., and W.A.A. Secretary, Frances Watzek, who is Vice-President of $\Phi \Theta$ and W.A.A., was sent to the convention of the W.A.A. in California. Elizabeth Turner, who was elected vice-president of the sophomore class was also chosen to Kwama, a sophomore honorary. This same honor was given to Doris Mabie, another outstanding freshman.

In scholarship Oregon A ranked fourth on the grade list, which put it nearly to the top.

The weekend which includes Mothers' Day is sponsored by the junior class and is known as Junior Weekend. Last spring Marvel Twiss was chosen to be a princess in the court of the Junior-Week Queen, who was elected by popular vote of the student body. There were many members of $\Pi B \Phi$ on the committees that aided in making it a successful event. All the mothers of Oregon students are invited to the campus to enjoy a few days especially devoted to them.

Jane Cook, Maritine New, Janet Cox, Betty Henry, Catherine Coleman were the five graduates of the spring class of 1935.

OREGON BETA—OREGON STATE

Pledge Day, October 2, 1935

Oregon State has welcomed a freshman class numbering about 1200. Dr. Frederick M. Hunter has accepted the chancellorship to the state system of higher education after the state board of higher education had accepted the resignation of Dr. William J. Kerr, now chancellor emeritus.

The death of Mildred Chamberlain, associate professor of clothing, textiles and related arts, greatly shocked the campus. Miss Chamberlain was well known nationally for her lectures and writings.

The Oregon B alumnae club is having the beau parlor redecorated in wine and blue, and the chapter purchased a new rug for the living room. The Mothers' Club gave the chapter a new living room lamp, four dozen butter knives and spoons and four dozen Italian linen napkins. The house was in splendid condition for fall rushing.

The chapter is very happy to have Mrs. Mary Ward Drake return to start her eleventh year as chaperon of Oregon B.

At the annual honor convocation the members' outstanding appointments were announced. Janet Millard was elected to Mortar Board. Virginia Cooper received the $\Phi X \Theta$ Senior Key, Kathryn Seeberger and Janet Millard were elected to O N. Mary Edwardes was elected to Euturpe, national music association. Janet Stephens and Mary Edwardes were selected for Orchesis membership. Lenore Reynolds and Ada Parcell were elected to A A Δ , national scholastic honorary for freshman women. Mary Price, Lenore Reynolds and Jean Managhan were elected to Talons, sophomore service organization. Jean Dutton and Janet Millard were selected for $\Phi K \Phi$ membership. Shirley Wheeler was elected second vice-president of the student body. Jean Managhan was elected secretary of Associated Women Students. Mary Hyslop was pledged to $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$.

PLEGDED, June 1, 1935: Jean Managhan, Portland.

MU PROVINCE

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—STANFORD

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, January 11, 1936

INITIATED, May 12, 1935: Janet Brownell, Boise, Idaho; Jane Wilson, San Diego; Margaret Woodward, Jean Harris, Los Angeles; Geraldine Reed, Portland, Ore.; Henrietta Watson, Fresno; Helen Zwick, St. Joseph, Mo.

In May of this year the president, Charlotte Gibner, received the Balfour award from $\Pi B \Phi$ as the most outstanding girl in the province.

During this year the members of the house have taken part in many more activities than in former years. That this extra curricular activity has not detracted from the scholastic record can be shown by the fact that the scholarship rating is also higher than before; in fact, statistics made for all fraternities show that California A is fourth on the campus. Adrienne Johnston and Barbara Jane Kegel received Lower Division Honors in scholarship; $\Pi B \Phi$ was the only fraternity to have more than one member given this award.

In the Y.W.C.A., which is very active on the campus, Barbara Steinbeck, who last year was chosen a member of Cap and Gown, has been made membership chairman; Adrienne Johnston, who is a member of the Student Body Executive Committee, has been appointed finance chairman; Catherine Bates is head of the Home Engineering group. Edith Hind is secretary-treasurer of the senior class, having occupied this position in her junior and sophomore years.

The Quad, Stanford yearbook, is represented by Janet Brownell and Barbara Jane Kegel, while the Stanford Daily has four of the members on its staff, including Virginia Johnson who holds an editorial position. Ruth Goodan is a member of the English Club, honorary literary society.

The Stanford campus is always interested in drama; readings are considered as important as well as plays. Henrietta Jones is secretary of the Masquers, an honorary dramatic group, and a sophomore, Henrietta Watson, had a leading part in the first reading of the year.

Efforts to raise funds to redecorate and enlarge the house have been extended during the summer by $\Pi \Phi$ s all over the United States. The downstairs woodwork and walls were painted a lighter shade, and a new color scheme is being followed throughout. A new wing of three floors has been added and there are many improvements in the lighting and heating systems. The alumnae of California A have been most helpful, and without them these changes and improvements could never have been made.

Never before has the number of women at Stanford reached the 1200 mark. There are many more women in the freshman class than usual, and this will make rushing more difficult. However, this condition is relieved by the fact that formal bidding does not take place until January. Thus, the members of the house are able to know something of the freshmen by that time. The old girls meet the new girls officially at a costume party in the middle of October.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Helen Shelton, $\Pi B \Phi$ house, Stanford.

INITIATED, September 16, 1935: Marian Barmby, Sacramento; Genevieve St. Clair, Lillian McNamara, Bakersfield; Jean Hagen, Oakland; Virginia Brainard, Berkeley.

Open house for the pledges took place on Wednesday, September 4. Since fifteen of our new pledges are living in the house, it has been necessary to enlarge it, and another sleeping porch is being added on. The tea for the new mothers took place on September 10, and there was a Mothers' Club luncheon October 8.

The initiation banquet took place in the chapter house on September 16. Hope Tschopik won the scholarship pin for the highest average of all the members, Jean Hagen won one for the highest grades of the new initiates, and Edith Loudon received one for the greatest improvement.

Marian Barmby has become a member of Ace of Clubs, an intersorority honor society; Catherine Genesey is a member of Thalian, a dramatic honor society, and had the lead in the first Little Theatre play this semester. Eleanor Holmes has been elected an officer in Intramural Sports, and Marian Colm who is president of California B, is also president of Phratres, a new organization on the campus primarily for those who do not belong to houses. It is a social club to promote friendliness among the women students on the campus.

PLEGDED: Mary Elizabeth Allen, Catherine O'Connor, Elinore Jane Faw, Oakland; Patricia Burke, San Francisco; Jean Campbell Avenal; Nancy Lou Glass, Martinez; Betty Hall, Merced; Betty Jane Hoffman, Florence Gaines, South Pasadena; Marjorie Kelley, Winnetka; Eleanor Mahan, Virginia Hulise, San Francisco; Alice Martin, Whittier; Mary Elizabeth Nye, Ventura; Margaret Ann Russell, Berkeley; Sara Jane Thompson, Peggy Edwards, Sacramento.

INITIATED, May 1, 1935: Nancy Nolen, Los Angeles. At the opening of the fall term, the members of California Gamma were pleased to find that during the summer the dining room and chapter room of the chapter house had been redecorated and repainted. The redecoration of the house was begun two summers ago and is now entirely completed. Among other things, the addition of venetian blinds has served to give the rooms an attractive, modern appearance. Also, the Mothers' Club aided the chapter by giving them a new electric refrigerator. All the improvements made helped to facilitate rushing this fall, particularly as California Gamma gives all of its formal dinners at the chapter house.

The University of Southern California made a number of changes this summer. One of the more interesting was the introduction of a course in astronomy for the first time in the history of the college. It is taught by Dr. Crull, a lecturer at the new Griffith Park Planetarium in Los Angeles; and the students are allowed to use the regular telescope of the planetarium for observational purposes. The students feel that this course will open the way for the establishment of a permanent Department of Astronomy at the university.

In acknowledgement of individual accomplishment, the chapter is very glad that Maxine Harris, who only attended the University of Southern California for a year and a half, was in that short time admitted to membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

INITIATED, October 5, 1935: Betty Martin, Upland; Katherine LeVitt, Nancy Klein, Jane Bell, Jean Heffelfinger, Virginia Keim, and Francis Wolfe, Los Angeles.

A new organization was recently established on the campus. It is called Guidon, an auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade honorary society. Marjorie Baird and Estelle Fowler are charter members. Mary Elizabeth Leonard is now treasurer.

Tic Toc, a junior-senior social honorary claims as its members Jane Dickey, Katherine Ambrose, Mary Elizabeth Leonard, Barbara Dunn, and Dorothea Elwell.

Sue Howard is on the A.W.S. council and the junior class council.

The system of student counseling was inaugurated on campus last spring. In this way each entering freshman is interviewed by an upper class student who finds out her interests, abilities, offers her suggestions, and generally helps her in becoming oriented. The idea was originated at this university and is now being used by other schools. Mary Elizabeth Leonard and Sue Howard were counselors this fall.

Once a month on Monday nights the student body attends an all U-Sing held at the Auditorium in Royce Hall. Here everyone joins together in singing school songs as well as popular ones, and enjoys the brief entertainment. This does much in creating a school spirit.

The university is to have a new administration building which has just been started and will be completed in the spring.

Chapter social events have included a Cookie-shine, Presentation of Pledges open-house dance, and an Initiation Dance. During the summer many informal rush parties were given at the homes of the various members.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 14, 1935

INITIATED, August 31, 1935: Virginia Crosby, Billie Geyer, Jessie McClure, and Jessie Sellman, Reno.

Enrollment at the University of Nevada for this semester came within two students of reaching 975, the highest all time record.

Many FERA projects are being carried on for the improvement of campus and buildings. The old chemistry building, which has been closed for several years, has been repaired and is being used for classes and as headquarters for the FERA work. Several other buildings have been repaired, the campus has been landscaped, and a retaining wall built on the north end of Manzanita Lake.

Rushing on the Nevada Campus has needed revision for a long time. Panhellenic decided to disregard the local by-laws this year, to allow summer rushing, and not to limit expenses for the various rushing parties. The purpose was to find the most satisfactory way to carry on rushing, and new rules are now being made, based on this season's experience.

Mary Louise Durkee, Nevada Alpha '35, is employed this year as a teacher at the II B Phi Settlement School. Her interesting letters, which are read in meeting, have been a decided influence for the development of a stronger national spirit among the members. The Settlement School has become a reality to the chapter.

Nevada Alpha was second in scholarship rating among Greek letter fraternities for last semester. Helen Wittenberg (Mrs. Ralph K.) Nevada Alpha, headed the honor roll with an average of 1.00.

The chapter has a charming new house chaperon, Mrs. Ila Preston. Mrs. Preston has returned to Reno after an absence of several years. When residing here she was a prominent leader in local social and club activities.

Cap and Scroll, an organization on the Nevada Campus which has requirements and aims similar to Mortar Board, elected five new members. Two members of the chapter, Evelyn Semenza and Winifred Walsh, were among those bid.

The mothers have organized a II B Φ Mothers' Club, and plan to hold bi-monthly luncheon meetings at the chapter house. This club managed the work in the kitchen during rushing and so made it possible for all the actives to be free to meet and entertain the rushees.

PLEGDED: Eloise Lyon, Gertrude Polander, Genevieve Wines, Winnemucca; Georgia McFadden, Ely; Elizabeth Brinkerhoff, Elma Jepson, Virginia Heany, Sparks; Isabelle Henderson, Nina Stinson, Elko; Betty Inda, Eurka; Charlotte Caton, Martadelle Cooper, Doris Chesnut, Dorothy Devore, Maxine Leonard, Jean Rice, and Martha Nelson, Reno.

Arizona A this year has an extremely interesting and very worthwhile goal before it. For two consecutive semesters it has led the campus in scholarship and has received the scholarship cup. If it is won a third time the cup becomes a permanent trophy of the house and needless to say every member of the chapter is eager to acquire first honors.

In a recent honor assembly three girls received class awards, Ruth Abbott, Ruth La Dow, and Kathryn Watkins.

The chapter float placed second in the annual homecoming parade for which a plaque was awarded.

Mrs. Ann MacDonald D'Aule, Mu Province President, visited the chapter this month. A formal dinner was given in her honor. Her visit was greatly enjoyed by all the girls in the chapter.

Formal pledging was held October 8, at which time twenty-one girls were pledged. The traditional cooky-shine was held after the ceremony.

Patty Skaggs, a graduate student, recently received a cup for the highest grade average in the women's dormitory. Miss Skaggs had a straight one average.

Frances Huddleson was pledged by Φ K Φ ; Lillian Gale was also pledged by Φ K Φ and Φ B K. She has been given a scholarship for graduate study by Tulane University.

Dolly Beville is president of A.W.S. and a member of Mortar Board; Helen Jimmerson and Joan Caldwell made K O Φ ; Jane Keel is social chairman of A.W.S.; Patty Dalzell and Virginia Narr participated in tennis and golf tournaments; Anne Hayden, Jane Keel and Jeanne Metcalf are active in F.S.T.; Jeanne Metcalf is society editor of the college publication; and Anne Holmes and Virginia Narr are members of Rattlers.

PLEGDED: Cynthia Chamberlin, Lakeside, Mich.; Lota Alice Clapp, Claremont, Calif.; Hope Cogswell, Denver, Colo.; Dorothy Flynn, Elinor Culbertson, Dorothy Crider, Tucson; Martha Denson, Mesa; Jean Duncan, Kansas City, Mo.; Virginia Lou Evans, St. Louis, Mo.; Alice

The installation of a chapter of Φ B K on the University of Utah campus was of much importance last spring. This was of special interest to Utah Alpha because Frances Parsons was taken in with the first group as well as being elected to Φ K Φ .

With spring elections, several girls attained offices. Mary Strange was elected vice-president of the A.S.U.U. Beth Papworth was elected president of the A.W.S. Both girls achieved the honor of Mortar Board.

Betty Faus was elected president of Spurs. Other II B Φ members taken into the organization were: Margaret Paine, Dorothy Stauffer, Ruth Hardy, and Harriett Smith.

Alice Murphy was chosen president of Trotters, selective riding organization.

Margaret Ellen Keyser achieved the honor of A A Δ , National honorary scholastic fraternity for freshman women.

The Faculty Tea given by Utah A in May was a most successful affair. II B Φ is the only fraternity on the Utah campus which entertains at such an event. The girls were all able to become better acquainted with their instructors and professors in a social manner. The faculty seemed to enjoy themselves and appreciated the recognition.

The Founders' Day Banquet at which the actives and alumnae joined in celebration was held at the Salt Lake Country Club with a Mother Goose II B Φ reigning as toastmistress.

The new Utah half million dollar library was completed this fall. It was dedicated as the George Thomas Library, honoring the present president of the University. This new addition offers innumerable advantages to the students.

Utah Alpha is sorry to have lost several of her outstanding girls. Mary Strange and Betty Butcher have transferred to Stanford University. Beverly Brown is attending the University of Idaho at Moscow. Jeannette Johnson has gone to the College of William and Mary. Suzanne Strobel received a scholarship to Barnard College at Columbia University, and Jane Wright is attending the State Teacher's College in Pennsylvania.

She represents $\Pi \Phi$ on the Board of Directors of the Panhellenic House Association and is chairman of the Seventh Annual Birthday Dinner, at Panhellenic, now Beekman Tower. Sophie reports a summer in the West where she was happily entertained in Spokane by Marjorie Neal, who rounded up some $\Pi B \Phi$ s for dinner at the Davenport; Gertrude Nelson, Marion Bailey, Jane Dunning, Margaret Bement and Mrs. Vernon Rice. In Portland, Mrs. Burton Beck and Mrs. Agnes Miller Turner were most hospitable, while at Emerald Lake she found Kay Stockton, from Alberta A.

Eleanor Murtha Pocock, of Cleveland, has many handsome bridge trophies. Last spring she became Ohio State champion. She and a friend also won the championship for the pair game at the Duplicate Club in which she plays.

Ethel Leveridge Ferrara spent the summer in Italy with her husband.

ALUMNAE CLUB LETTERS

Edited by LOTTA JOHNSON WEIR

We have 171 alumnae clubs.
65 of these are represented by letters in this issue.
The highest number of letters ever published in the ARROW, 123, appeared most appropriately in the Golden Anniversary Issue in May, 1935.

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

The only summer meeting of the Boston Alumnae Club was the summer reunion, held for the thirtieth consecutive year at the Quincy home of Mrs. D. D. Nickerson.

An interesting program for the year includes news from Little Pigeon at a Settlement School meeting at the Boston University Women's Council House in October; a meeting on the Constitution to be held in November at 131 Commonwealth Avenue, Inc., the new home of the active chapter, at which Miss Amy B. Onken will be the guest-speaker; Gentlemen's Night, a feature of which will be a Panel Discussion on Crime, which will occur in January at the Boston University Women's Council House; a Fashion Show modeled by the members of Massachusetts Alpha chapter which will take place in March at 131 Commonwealth Avenue; and as a climax, a Founders' Day Luncheon and Play at the Boston University Women's Council House on April 25.

All newcomers to Boston and nearby towns are urged to communicate with Virginia Crooker, 167 Tremont Street, Boston, Hancock 5470, so that they may be included in the alumnae club activities.

VIRGINIA CROOKER

BURLINGTON CLUB

At the six business meetings held during the college year an average attendance of fourteen was obtained by twenty-eight members.

In addition to these business meetings, gatherings of both social and monetary purpose were held. These included the successfully conducted rummage sale in October; S.S. sale and tea, which was more largely attended and more profitable than the previous year; a Christmas party given for the active girls; a delightful Valentine's supper party given to, and in appreciation of the mothers; a picnic in June to which the actives were again invited; and June Spread. The entertaining of Middlebury Pi Phis on Founders' Day was omitted because of an epidemic of Chickenpox.

Because of the acute financial situation felt by Burlington Alumnae Club, due to the purchasing of the chapter house, the contributions to various funds were not as large as we should like to have had them.

NEW YORK CLUB

The New York Club invites all members of II B Φ to participate in the activities for the coming season. In New York one makes many acquaintances, but true friendship is brought about only by common interests and mutual purposes. The meetings of the New York Alumnae Club are to be informal this season with the aim of enabling our members to have greater opportunity to visit with their old friends and to make new ones. With the memories or our Pi Phi life as a background and our Settlement School as an active and deserving interest for which to work, the members of our club have the foundation for the development of real and lasting friendships.

We were glad to welcome many new Pi Phis at the old-fashioned Cookie-shine at the home of our president, Mrs. E. L. McKendrew, on October 1. The second meeting will be on Saturday, November 9. We hope to welcome more newcomers at this tea with its display and sale of Settlement School Handicraft at the home of Mrs. Jerry B. Sullivan.

The "Deb Group" (girls out of college three years or less) under the co-chairmanship of Jo Baker and Charlotte Allen, Ohio B girls, held their first "spread" on October 16 at the home of Sue Zuber. They have planned many gay gatherings for the recent graduates who have come to New York from all over the country.

Beekman Tower, formerly the Panhellenic Hotel, celebrated the 7th anniversary of its opening with a Birthday Dinner and Dance on October 7. Sophie P. Woodman was chairman of this lovely and most successful party.

Coming Events

November 9—Tea with display and sale of Settlement School Handicraft at the home of Mrs. Jerry Sullivan, 601 Cathedral Pkwy (West 110th Street), N.Y.C. Time: 3 to 6 p.m. December 8—Annual II B Φ Tea in the Panhellenic clubroom at Beekman Tower, 49th Street and 1st Avenue, N.Y.C. Time: 4 to 6 p.m. Display and Sale of Settlement School Handicraft, February 1—Special meeting at the Evangeline, 123 West 13th Street, N.Y.C., at 2:30. Hostess, Mrs. Harold Smith, Director, March 3—Cookie-shine at 6 p.m. April 4—Annual meeting and tea. Election of officers. At the home of Mrs. W. L. Momsen, 1230 Park Avenue, N.Y.C. Time: 2:30. April 28—Founders' Day Banquet. Formal. May 16—Informal dance at the Panhellenic clubroom at Beekman Tower, 49th Street and 1st Avenue, N.Y.C. Time: 9 p.m.

KATHRYN HEARLE

ROCHESTER CLUB

The fall activities of the Rochester Club began with a very enjoyable sausage roast at Powder Mill Park, September 14, for members, husbands, and friends.

During the summer there have been two or three social gatherings of members who were in town at which some of the plans for the coming season were discussed. There are to be bridge groups meetings regularly to raise money for the Settlement School, and a book club in which each person interested will buy a book to be passed around.

For the regular monthly meetings interesting programs have been planned at the homes of members.

DOROTHY WRAY PULVER

SYRACUSE CLUB

The Syracuse Club is starting the year in an auspicious manner with plans for regular monthly meetings and interesting programs. We extend a cordial welcome to any Pi Phis who are in or near Syracuse to attend our meetings.

CHARLOTTE CHAFFEE

TORONTO CLUB

The Toronto Alumnae Club is planning to meet, when possible, on the first Tuesday evening of each month. We now have one hundred and twenty-six Ontario Alphas and twenty-one Pi Phis from other chapters living in Toronto: It is a great joy to welcome so many Pi Phis from elsewhere—it gives us such an international feeling. This year the executive has adopted a new plan to stimulate interest in the club—we feel that by letting each member share in the planning, entertainment, and expense of one meeting during the year she will become more active in the organization. Therefore the entire list of Pi Phi residents has been divided into seven groups—the Executive Committee taking charge of the eighth and last which will be the annual meeting next May.

One meeting is to be devoted to the Settlement School, another to the Constitution, Founders' Day, and so on. There will be a short business session at the beginning of each meeting. To our December meeting, which is also our chapter birthday party, celebrated always with the active chapter, the alumnae and actives bring huge Christmas stockings filled with necessary clothing, toys, and goodies for the children of the out-patients of the Toronto General Hospital. For several years the planning and distribution of these stockings has been carried on under the very able leadership of Mrs. Robertson Caven.

Mrs. Paul Harris is again in charge of the Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agency, through which we are able to send a fairly generous contribution to the fraternity Settlement School.

Last spring we had a most successful and enjoyable Founders' Day supper party in Hamilton, Ontario, with the Hamilton Pi Phis as our hostesses. Over one hundred Pi Phis attended, coming from far and near. Almost every member of the new chapter in London came. It was a happy reunion and we are hoping that it will become an annual event.

VIDA H. PEENE

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON CLUB

The first meeting of the Akron Club was a luncheon held at the Portage Country club with Mrs. U. M. McCaughey, Mrs. Gunther, and Mrs. E. G. Reed as hostesses. The program of the year was presented at this time.

The first of the events for the Settlement School will be a rummage sale in October. Following that a benefit bridge will be held. Continuing throughout the year individual benefit bridges will be held. This method of earning money proved very popular last year and it is hoped that it will be equally so this year.

Sometime in November a special article about the Settlement School, written by Mrs. Rhys Evans, will appear in the Sunday edition of the Akron Times Press as a publicity feature.

LOUISE SHOOP KIRCHNER

CINCINNATI CLUB

The Cincinnati Club opened their fall activities with a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. George Bond, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Burton Rivers. A short talk by Mr. David Kidd on "Rare and Old Books" proved to be most interesting. This talk inaugurates a new custom of having some prominent person speak for a few minutes at each meeting on a cultural subject. It is thought that these informal talks will sponsor a more social feeling among the members.

Plans for the year's activities were enthusiastically discussed. These involved the social function given each year before Christmas to sell Settlement School goods. Last year the club gave a theatre party, and two Pi Phis gave a tea to exhibit and sell the merchandise. This year the group seems to favor the idea of one large sale and tea with invitations extended to all women's fraternities on the campus of the University of Cincinnati.

Last spring an alumnae Panhellenic group was organized in the city and $\Pi \beta \Phi$, although not represented on the local campus, joined in the movement. This summer a charter was received from the National Panhellenic Congress, and the first meeting is scheduled for the middle of October. Mrs. George Bond, Jr., is the delegate from $\Pi \beta \Phi$, and the president this year, Mrs. A. E. Sandberg, is alternate. While $\Pi \beta \Phi$, due to greater chartered age, is entitled to the first year's presidency, that office was waived to $\Sigma \kappa$, which was the motivating impetus in the local movement. Next year the Pi Phi delegate will be president and from then on the office will rotate.

ELLEN ASTIN GRIESS

HARRISBURG-CARLISLE CLUB

The Harrisburg-Carlisle Alumnae Club was entertained at a luncheon at the Linden Tree Tea Room in Harrisburg on September 28. Mrs. O. E. Jackson, Mrs. Jack Harman, Miss Dorothy Sponsler, and Mrs. Clarence Rupp of York were the hostesses.

Miss Lucretia Heisey, the program chairman, outlined a very interesting series of meetings for the winter. In October the meeting will be devoted to Pi Phi projects. The club will celebrate its fifteenth birthday in November and will dress dolls for the Harrisburg Toy Mission. The annual Cooky-shine will be held in December, at which time toys will be collected for the Settlement School children. A panel discussion on fraternities will be the special feature of the February meeting. An old-fashioned tea is being planned for May. Each active fraternity in this vicinity will be invited to contribute to the program by presenting in some manner its national altruistic project. This promises to be an exceptionally interesting program.

One hundred and twenty-five dollars was contributed to the Settlement School for the year 1935-36.

SARA E. ROHRER

MORGANTOWN CLUB

Morgantown welcomes new members from Fairmont, there being three added to our two of last year. Our first meeting of the fall season took the form of a dinner at the country club on September 23. Twenty-five members were present and we had a guest, Mary Jane Baker, president of the active chapter here.

Elizabeth Reed gave a membership talk and Elizabeth Upton discussed the program for the year. The program sounds interesting. At the October meeting there will be a talk on International Relations. The benefit bridge for the Settlement School will be held in November. There will be no December meeting but in January Dorothy Stone will lead a program of music. From then on come the meetings on examinations, the constitution, health, our election of officers, a cooky-shine, and Founders' Day. The year closes with a tea for the seniors at the home of Elizabeth Reed.

At our first meeting we discussed rushing with Mary Jane Baker who represented the chapter, and planned to help with the rushing. Bessie Wade is to be in charge of the book exchange this year.

ANGIE REIDER

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The Northern New Jersey Alumnae Club has held its regular meetings during the past year and has found the companionship pleasant and profitable. In February the club had luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bancel, after which a business meeting was held. The March meeting was with Mrs. Beggs in Glen Ridge. The program was devoted to current events and foreign relations. The following week Mrs. Beggs sailed with Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt for Istanbul where they were members of a peace conference.

The spirit of the club is fine and we look forward to our meetings with much interest.

The September meeting was a tea at the Crestmont Golf Club in Orange, with thirty-six members present. There was a short business meeting and a discussion of plans for raising money for the Settlement School. Vibert Duncan was in charge of arrangements.

CHARLOTTE M. JORDAN

SOUTH HILLS CLUB

The South Hills Alumnae Club meets the third Tuesday evening of each month at the home of one of the club members. Any $\Pi \beta \Phi$ not affiliated elsewhere is urged to call Miss Fern Wein, Lehigh 2788-J.

The first meeting of the season was held on September 23, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Simmonds. Our aim this year is to stimulate new interest and definitely increase membership.

In October, at the home of Miss Fern Wein, our evening was devoted to packing boxes of fruits, jams, jellies, magazines, puzzles, etc., which were taken to the Veterans' Hospital. The enthusiasm with which the gifts were received assured us of time well spent.

November will find us busy at the home of Mrs. Oscar Luft, dressing dolls, and making wearing apparel for the Children's Welfare.

As has been our custom for several years, December is our "get-together" dinner and bridge for husbands and friends of our members with Mrs. T. M. Cox, hostess.

The January meeting will be at the home of Miss Madeline Stewart, at which time Mrs. Herbert Kimball will talk on the Settlement School.

The Constitutional quiz, followed by bridge, will be a part of the February meeting, at the home of Mrs. Charters Montgomery.

Mrs. Grant Clapperton will be in charge of the March meeting. Each member plans to compile a scrap book for the Children's Hospital.

Plans have not yet been completed for the remaining meetings: April, Founders' Day; May, Election of Officers, Mother's Day; June, Picnic.

MARY B. MONTGOMERY

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The 1935-36 program of the Southern New Jersey Alumnae Club will open with a Cooky-shine October 8 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Slifer, in Woodbury. A card party for the benefit of the Settlement School is planned for November, and will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Coolidge, in Merchantville. Miss Edna Baker will tell of her recent European trip at the December meeting, and in January club members will hear a lecture on "Asiatic Aims and Ambitions" to be given at the Woodbury Country Club by Mrs. Hope L. Roberts.

The February meeting will be an informal tea and bridge. Plans for the March meeting are still incomplete. Founders' Day will be celebrated in April and the club year will end late in May with a picnic being arranged by Mrs. Raymond Puff and Mrs. Frank Homan, at which husbands and children of members will be guests.

DOROTHY B. SHOLL

TOLEDO CLUB

Toledo Alumnae Club opened its 1935-36 season with a picnic at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hampe on the River Road. Twelve rushes were entertained at this time. Rushing was in charge of Miss Florence Bunnell.

A rummage sale was held September 26, 27 and 28, and was in charge of Mrs. George Bradley, with Helen Dineen and Phyllis Seim assisting. Seventy-three dollars was cleared, which will go towards the one hundred dollar pledge for Settlement School.

Mrs. Walter P. Hilton, Indiana I and Mary Smead, Wisconsin A, are welcomed into the club as new members.

MARIAN ELWELL

GAMMA PROVINCE

WASHINGTON CLUB

The program for this year includes eight evening meetings and seven afternoon ones. The first meeting on October 8 is to be a Cooky-shine followed by a program, "A Glimpse of the Chapter and Fraternity." On November 12 Mrs. T. N. Alford will be the guest of honor at the Settlement School meeting. The active chapter, District of Columbia A, will be the guests of the club at the Christmas meeting. A dinner at the American Association of University Women is to be given in January and in February the Washington, D.C. Panhellenic luncheon will be held, as well as the regular monthly meeting when the program will be "Pi Phi You've Heard About" introduced by Miss Ruth McGowan. The annual election of officers takes place in March and in addition the program will be "What's New in Pi Phi." Plans for Founders' Day will be announced later. The last meeting of the year will be the Annual May Supper with the installation of officers. The afternoon meetings will be social ones.

LOUISE DUBOSS

DELTA PROVINCE

ANN ARBOR CLUB

The Ann Arbor Alumnae Club began the year with a luncheon and business meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Jamison (Wisconsin A). We are very happy to welcome into our club five new members; Mrs. Otto W. Haisley, Mrs. Richard C. Armstrong, and Mrs. Bruce Palmer are Michigan B members now living in Ann Arbor, Mrs. R. M. Helton is a member of Oklahoma A, while Mrs. George King Wassell is from Texas A.

The Program Committee and the Executive Board have planned the events for the year. Our almost traditional fall rummage sale will be held in October with Carol Cook as general chairman. In November we shall hold our annual exhibition and sale of Settlement School products. Every year this event is bigger and better and it has now taken on the atmosphere of a social gathering with tea served each afternoon.

INEZ NOYES

CALUMET REGIONAL CLUB

The first meeting of the club this fall was a business and organization meeting. Plans for the year were discussed and hostesses were assigned.

Our November meeting is to be for guests. There will be a display of articles from the Settlement School and these articles will be for sale.

Last year we had a Gentlemen's Night at which the husbands and escorts were the honor guests. The evening was most entertaining so a similar party is planned for this year.

We plan to have a Cooky-shine at the December meeting. For the program we are going to have a few foreign children tell us how Christmas is observed in their native lands.

We are sorry to have lost some of our members because of a change of residence. However, we are happy to welcome Sara and Dorothy Scott who were Pi Phi at Arizona A and are now affiliated with our alumnae club.

Our club is looking forward to a pleasant and profitable year.

JUANITA SPORS

DETROIT CLUB

Under the guidance of our new president, Mrs. W. A. Gatward, the executive board made plans for the coming year, plans which hold promise of enjoyable meetings for the entire club. There will be a bridge luncheon October 19 at the Intercollegiate Club for all alumnae in Detroit. There will be the customary teas, one given by each of the three groups. At one of these teas, the date of which will coincide with Christmas or Easter recess, we hope to entertain the Detroit Pi Beta Phi who are now active members of Michigan A, B, or other chapters.

There will also be group meetings. Time, place, and entertainment are determined by the group.

The small bridge parties will continue. These were a twofold success last year. They were a means, first of swelling the Settlement School fund; second, of meeting members of other groups, an opportunity we too seldom have in a city of this size.

The magazines are in charge of Mrs. W. K. Groff, The Settlement School articles are in charge of Mrs. Laymon Long.

We anticipate a pleasant year and will welcome new members.

MARY THOMPSON BAUMANN

FLINT CLUB

The Flint Club has held three meetings since our last letter appeared in the spring issue of the ARROW. We will resume our year's work on October 14. All of our meetings are in the form of a cooperative dinner at the homes of our various members. At our April meeting, at the home of Mrs. A. H. Fessler, we planned to attend the Founders' Day Luncheon in Detroit together with the other Michigan Alumnae Clubs and two active chapters. We also, very reverently, passed around the new charter which had arrived for our club. It gave us an even closer feeling to the rest of II B Φ.

Nine of our nineteen members were able to motor to Detroit to the Founders' Day Luncheon, and we all thoroughly enjoyed it. Our last meeting on May 14, was held at the home of Mrs. Walter C. Klein. Because the Flint schools were to close in May, and so many of our members would not be in the city for a June meeting, we had to rush several things into this last one. We elected officers following our dinner, made plans for the fall work after the summer recess, and voted contributions to the Settlement School, Endowment and Undergraduate Loan funds, helping to make Delta Province Clubs 100%. We devoted the balance of the evening to social activities. Miriam Herron was to sail for the British Isles in June, so we dedicated part of our meeting to Bon Voyage good wishes for her. We then played bridge, using white elephant packages we had brought as rewards.

We are planning to take a much more active part in the various activities of alumnae clubs, now that we are entering upon our second year as a club. We expect to display Settlement products at various meetings of other organizations to which we belong in order to raise our contribution to the Settlement School Fund. We look forward to a visit from Mrs. Eskew and possibly from one of the National Officers this year.

MARGARET MATTESON

FORT WAYNE CLUB

The Fort Wayne Alumnae Club held its summer rush party August 20 in the form of a garden party at the home of Mrs. John E. Moring. The affair began at 7:30 o'clock and continued until 9:30. Japanese lanterns served as a most effective lighting to the lovely lawn and garden. After several harp selections, punch and cookies were served. Each rushee was presented with an attractive corsage.

Dorothy Graham, Marion Adair, Elizabeth Hattendorf, and Peggy Perrine, the new officers for the year, were the hostesses for the opening fall dinner meeting which was held at Dorothy Graham's home. This first of the fall meetings, after a summer of the usual let-up in sorority activities, was well attended, thirty of our thirty-six members being present. This augurs well for Pi Phi spirit during the coming season. As is our custom, our business meeting followed, at which time we discussed plans for a rummage sale to be held early in October, the proceeds to be used for the Settlement School Fund.

We are happy to announce new members as follows: Emmilou Bowser, Michigan B; Jean Meier, Indiana B; Orpha O'Rourke, Indiana A; and Betty Yarnelle, Wisconsin B. We heard with pride of the appointment of one of our members, Helene Foellinger, Illinois Z, to the National Scholarship Committee.

A Panhellenic tea held September 29 from 3:00 to 5:00 o'clock was attended by seven Pi Phis, Mrs. E. E. Dildine serving on the social committee.

The next activity of this group will be a membership bridge to be held on October 24.

PEGGY PERRINE

FRANKLIN CLUB

We are enthusiastic about our plans for the new year. First of all we have an excellent active chapter this year. We were fortunate in securing nine pledges making a total of thirty in the chapter.

The club so far this year has refurbished the chapter rooms of which we are very proud. We plan to do more later on. A scholarship has been given to one of our local girls.

We plan a tea in October for the advisory board. We are looking forward to our birthday party in January which is always a grand reunion as many of the alumnae never fail to return for this happy event. The pledges furnish the program at this meeting.

The club is larger this year than last. There are forty-five members and we hope to have a successful year.

Mildred Swift

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

As has become tradition with the Indianapolis Alumnae Club, we opened our season with a very elegant luncheon-bridge at Highland Country Club. After this first September "fling" which is really more or less of a celebration we have very simple luncheon and spread meetings throughout the year. A club membership is given as the bridge prize.

Great interest was shown during the Indiana T chapter's rush by the alumnae club. Our members assisted in calling and serving on committees. At the end of a most successful period for the chapter we were in turn entertained by the actives at a wienie roast. At this time all of the new pledges were presented.

MEMPHIS CLUB

The Memphis Alumnae Club opened the year's activities with a luncheon meeting in September. After a delicious luncheon, served buffet style, plans for the year were discussed, hostesses for the meetings were assigned and a yearbook committee appointed. The following meetings were planned, their programs to be announced later.

October, luncheon meeting; November, evening party; January, luncheon meeting; February, luncheon meeting; March, luncheon meeting; April, Founders' Day luncheon; May, luncheon meeting.

We had nine members present at this meeting and one visitor, a charter member from the chapter at the University of Arkansas.

Our club was co-hostess with the Sigma Kappas, Kappa Kappa Gammas, and Alpha Xi Deltas to Panhellenic on September 28. We had a tea at the Nineteenth Century Club. Reverend Edward Loring Clark gave a most interesting and enjoyable review of "The Inquisitor" by Hugh Walpole.

Our club has lost several members who have moved to other cities but we have an enthusiastic group and hope to have a very successful year.

ELIZABETH MARKHAM

NASHVILLE CLUB

Food and enthusiasm figured largely in a Cooky-shine which the Nashville Alumnae Club held at their first fall meeting. It seems that we are destined to lose more members than we gain, but still we carry on! We were very loath to lose Mrs. Donald Bernard (Mary Sleeper, Texas A) who has moved to Washington, D.C., where Mr. Bernard has taken a responsible position with the Washington Post. Invitations to the Cooky-shine included all Pi Phis in nearby towns and twelve came for the spread.

Following the Cooky-shine, a short business meeting was held. Mrs. Lawrence Wilkerson, president, outlined the program for the year which includes:

October 18, "Our Nearest Chapter," with Mrs. Fitzgerald Parker, Vanderbilt Campus, hostess.

November 15, Afternoon benefit bridge (open meeting) with display of Settlement School products at home of Mrs. Gilbert Marshall, Graybar Lane.

December 18, Christmas evening party for husbands at home of Mrs. Lawrence Wilkerson, Barton Ave.

January 17, Study of the Constitution and History at home of Mrs. E. B. Wagner, Saratoga Drive.

Other programs include a knitting party in February, a book review in March, the Founders' Day banquet in April, election of officers in May, and a picnic in June.

ELIZABETH MARCH MARSHALL

ZETA PROVINCE

ATLANTA CLUB

We entertained in September with a "Steak Fry," in honor of the girls leaving for college, at the suburban home of Mrs. Robt. McClarty. For our first meeting, Mrs. F. J. Henry and two other members, are giving a "Salamagundi" party and are sending out written invitations, hoping to interest even our inactive members. Our meetings are an afternoon tea one time and an evening Cooky-shine the next, with two hostesses for each. Two of our members live in the same apartment house and they are to have a benefit bridge for the occupants, other chapter members donating prizes and refreshments. We are sending for some articles from the Settlement School and will have other benefits during the year. We still use the birthday box and charge taxi fare to meetings. Several of our members have moved away but we have about six new ones, so we hope to have some very enthusiastic meetings.

MARIAN PAXTON

DE LAND CLUB

The De Land Club has been busy this fall helping the active chapter with rushing and with their plans for their annual progressive dinner party. Stetson is starting the scholastic year with a 25 per cent increase in enrollment. A new wing is being added to the girls' dormitory and we have twelve new additions to the faculty.

Our budget for the Settlement School will probably be raised from card parties as this has been our most successful way in the past.

MARIAN W. HULL

ORLANDO CLUB

The 1935-36 season for the Orlando Alumnae Club opened on the evening of October 8 with a new enthusiasm which is the outcome of the All-State Pi Beta Phi Convention held in Orlando last spring at which Miss Onken was guest of honor. The interest born out of that Convention has extended through the long summer for both the Club and the local chapter, Florida I, and is gaining momentum as the time goes by as evidenced at the meeting last night.

Miss Mary Lanier, our new president, began her duties with charm and vigor by introducing two new members, Virginia Tilden, Florida I, and Denzel Langston from Duke University.

Plans were made to give a tea at the chapter house Saturday afternoon, October 12 for the rushees. The contacts made by the alumnae and the actives at last spring's Convention have brought about a great feeling of fellowship and the Club is anxious to know and help the actives.

Plans were laid for the Christmas dance which has in the past been a very successful means of raising funds and a popular social event of the holiday season.

The club decided to meet every second Tuesday and to have a white elephant sale for raising funds at the next Cooky-shine.

Mrs. R. F. Leedy and Mrs. Jardner Sherman were hostesses for the evening.

The Club is looking forward to a happy and helpful year.

DAMARIS WILSON

TAMPA CLUB

The Tampa Alumnae Club was very active in rushing this summer. A number of parties were given which included a tea, a beach party, a treasure hunt, and a formal dinner all honoring a group of rushees who entered college this fall.

The club plans to continue with the evening meetings to be held on the second Monday of each month. The various members taking turns serving as hostesses. These meetings will be preceded by a Cooky-shine and followed by a regular business meeting at which different activities of the Fraternity will be discussed.

The method for raising funds for the Settlement School was the same that was used the previous year, a benefit bridge in June. Plans have also been made for a Script Tea Dance December 7th after the Florida-North Carolina football game for the purpose of raising money.

We are planning to have a formal dance during the Christmas holidays honoring new pledges and a group of rushees.

SARAH STUART

ETA PROVINCE

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

The opening of the new season was noted with an enthusiastic meeting in September. Luncheon was served and bridge followed the business meeting.

The program committee plans to make this year's meetings socially informal in the hope of attracting a larger attendance. Jolly as well as interesting times are in store for us with schedules of a Cooky-shine, walking rehearsal, poetry program, and constitution study. An evening party and children's Christmas party have become annual events.

Our club has a steady and satisfactory growth. Ten new members have been added this year. They more than compensate for members lost through change of residence.

The raffle last year of a hand-knit suit met with such great success that we plan to repeat it. That and the sale of Arrow Craft articles constitute our plans for raising funds.

CHARLOTTE H. WATSON

CHICAGO SOUTH CLUB

The year 1935-36 promises to be a successful one for Chicago Alumnae Club South. The group system is to continue with five groups already organized. Through the efforts of our new vice-president and membership chairman, Mrs. John F. McKee, we hope to inaugurate a new evening group. Her address is 1445 W. 93rd street. If any south side Pi Phi's wish to join us please get in touch with her.

A Settlement School display and tea is our big general event for the year. On Wednesday afternoon, November 6, the home of Mrs. Julian will be open to all Pi Phi's and their friends to show the lovely Settlement School articles. A Cooky-shine will be in order in February, an election tea in May, and a benefit bridge in June. The officers and members are eager for new names to be added to our list of 52 members. With the help of the marvelous directory we all received last year, we are trying to get in touch with all south side Pi Phi's and interest them in some of our activities.

BETTY NEWMAN SWANSON

CHICAGO NORTH CLUB

The Chicago North Club is looking forward to this year's work with renewed interest and enthusiasm. The most important coming event is the Cooky-shine scheduled for October 23. The Settlement School chairman, Mrs. Kiesau, is planning an attractive display of articles for that occasion. Many interesting ways to raise money for the Settlement School this year have been suggested by the Board, and plans will soon be made to carry them through. The sale of vanilla has been most profitable in this club.

Chicago North welcomes any new Pi Phi's who have moved to Chicago and would like to become affiliated with an alumnae group. The Alpha group meets every other Monday evening at seven-thirty. New Pi Phi's are urged to write or telephone Mrs. Donald Kiesau, 1904 Pratt Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois. Phone Sheldrake 1140. The Beta-Delta group meets every other Wednesday for dessert-bridge at one-thirty. Mrs. A. R. Mogge, president, may be reached by telephoning University 4607. The Gamma group meets every other Tuesday afternoon at one-thirty, with planned meetings for book reviews and speakers on various current topics. New Pi Phi's may telephone Mrs. H. E. Davis at Lakeview 4462.

LYNORE ANDRESS BARD

DECATUR CLUB

The Decatur Alumnae Club is this year more pleased than usual with the summer activity of the House Corporation, which has resulted in the extensive redecoration and repair of the chapter house. The Corporation Board was assisted in its efforts by town girls who are in the active chapter. Aside from the evident changes, there are essential repairs to furnace and plaster that add to the comfort and general upkeep of the house.

At the time of rushing this past season, the Alumnae Club had charge of an open house tea for all college women and of the final formal rush dinner. This Club has found that through the assistance of the alumnae members in planning details of parties and entertainment, the amount of extra time added to actives for real rushing activities is valuable and leads to a more successful season than can otherwise be had.

The Club program for the year is to follow, with only slight variations, the plan of other years. There are ten meetings to be expected, which are in turn devoted to Rushing, Homecoming, Settlement School, Christmas Party, Cooky-shine, House Shower, Constitutional Quiz, Founders' Day, Election and Installation of Officers and June Breakfast.

At June Breakfast of the past year the Club initiated a new custom which it hopes will become a tradition, that of rewarding four years in Pi Phi and college activities, with a tangible token of appreciation. Five girls of the 1935 class were given small silver link bracelets bearing an engraved monogram on the front.

KATHRYN REINHART

DU PAGE CLUB

We are all happy to begin another year in Pi Beta Phi. Our plans are being formed at present and we hope to make this an active and worthwhile year. Heretofore our meetings have been held in the evenings, but this year we plan to meet in the afternoons, having a dessert luncheon the third Tuesday of each month. Our first meeting will be a welcome to newcomers and in November we are to have a sale of Settlement School articles. The December meeting will be devoted to preparing a Christmas box for Little Pigeon. It is our aim to have each member turn in at least one magazine subscription during the year.

January will be given to a study of the constitution, our fraternity history, and the examination questions. In February each member is to give a review of her favorite magazine thus stimulating interest in future subscriptions. The March meeting will probably be a social one and the April meeting will be given to an observance of Founders' Day and the election of officers.

We have been rather negligent in helping with the altruistic work of our fraternity but this year we hope to have a birthday box for the Endowment Fund and a white elephant sale for the Loan Fund. We extend a welcome to any members living in our vicinity.

NESTOR MOORE THORWALDSON

GALESBURG CLUB

The Galesburg Club is anticipating a successful year under the leadership of Hortense Gehring. Attendance during the last year showed a marked increase and we hope this will continue. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of the month in the homes of members. They consist of a buffet supper followed by a business meeting.

Over one hundred members, rushees, and patronesses attended a formal dinner at the home of Mrs. C. E. Marsh on September 17. Preceding the dinner the rushees were entertained at the home of Mrs. Maynard Swanson where the actives presented several stunts.

PEARL OBERG

MADISON CLUB

The first meeting of the season was held September 18 at the home of Mrs. B. W. Huiskamp. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Myron Steven, Mrs. H. H. Bush, Mrs. Howard Duke and Miss Catherine Collins. The usual monthly meetings will be held throughout the winter at the homes of members. The active chapter will be entertained at one of the spring meetings.

Definite plans were made for a sale of Settlement School goods to be held early in November.

Continued ill health caused the resignation of Mrs. Ira L. Baldwin as president of the Alumnae Club, which was accepted with extreme regret. Mrs. Wayne Loveland was elected to fill the vacancy, necessitating also the election of Mrs. Walter Mabbett as the new vice-president.

Members were encouraged to attend as many rushing functions as possible, beginning with a tea at the chapter house on September 21 and closing with a formal dinner dance the following Friday night.

ROBERTA HALLEY STEHR (Mrs. A. C.)

MILWAUKEE CLUB

A luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Dale Shockley was the beginning of the year's activities for the Milwaukee Alumnae Club. A busy and interesting year is anticipated by the members since the program is to be a varied one. It will include literary evenings, bridges, luncheons, a garden party, and meetings at which leaders in the fraternity will speak.

Members are particularly looking forward to the October meeting when they hope to have Miss Onken as their guest.

At present all arrangements are being made for the rummage sale which will be held early in October to raise money for the Settlement School.

HELEN METCALF CROWELL

OAK PARK-RIVER FOREST CLUB

This year the plan of dividing into afternoon and evening groups is to be continued. In order to keep close contact and interest between the two groups, the first meeting of the year, the January and the May meetings, will be held jointly. Some of the members like to come to both meetings, both being held on the second Wednesday of each month.

The October meeting was a dinner at the home of Mrs. R. A. Kropp in River Forest. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Dolsen Carrigan, Mrs. Charles Mulliken, and Mrs. M. B. Knox. Four new members were welcomed. Several ways of making money were presented, and it was decided to sell monogrammed bridge tallies, Handy Wacks (wax) paper, and Christmas cards. The club plans to earn most of the money for the school by the first of the year.

It is customary to arrange the program of the year after the first meeting, when the entertainment committee investigates the trend of club interest and then makes plans around the four required meetings of the year.

HELEN DRUMMOND

PEORIA CLUB

Members of the Peoria Alumnae Club expect to be well informed concerning all phases of Pi Beta Phi fraternity by the time their meetings this season are ended. An extensive study of the Constitution and Ritual is planned as well as reviews of the current ARROW and practice in singing Pi Beta Phi songs.

It was with deep regret that the members learned that Mrs. Frederick Blazer, club president, would soon be moving to Rock Island, Illinois. She leaves a host of friends here and will be greatly missed by the club. A special meeting was called for September 17 to elect a new president and Mrs. Carl Triebel was chosen.

On September 30 the club members and their husbands and guests enjoyed a picnic at Detweiler Park. A slight rain at the outset dampened the food somewhat, but not the spirit of the crowd, and all joined in the singing of songs afterward.

At the November meeting the Constitution will be studied and the recent changes and amendments discussed. The January meeting will be devoted to a discussion of the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship. Instead of evening supper meetings as formerly the club is planning to have luncheon meetings this year in the hope of interesting those who have hitherto been unable to attend. These will be held the last Monday of each month.

RUTH GILLAN GOBBLE

ROCKFORD CLUB

Our annual June picnic was a most successful closing for the year. At Black Hawk, one of Rockford's picturesque parks, we enjoyed a loaded picnic table beside a brightly burning campfire.

With summer almost over we took advantage once more of our lovely nearby lakes. Early in September the club members received a most unique invitation in Italian for dinner at the summer cottage of Mrs. Hugh Wise, Jr., at Clear Lake, with Mrs. Jackson Hon assisting.

Every detail was carried out for a real Italian spaghetti meal. The red table cloth and Italian pottery created the necessary atmosphere. We sang and enjoyed an evening around the fireplace—returning home late by moonlight.

We are happy to have Sally Altekruze and Eleanor Dexter as new members of our club.

ANNA MARIE REYNOLDS

THETA PROVINCE

DES MOINES CLUB

The Des Moines club opened its year with a concentrated effort to increase its active membership. Pi Phi from near-by towns having no clubs have been invited to join us. Many inactive local girls have been called on by the membership committee in the hope of stimulating interest in the alumnae activities.

We plan to organize our work on magazine subscriptions with Mrs. Fred Ohmsted as chairman, so that the club will receive a percentage through the routine renewals of members, as well as soliciting new subscriptions.

The Settlement School committee with Miss Miriam Graham as chairman is already making plans for the annual sale early in December, which is always an affair of considerable interest in Des Moines.

Monthly meetings will be alternated between afternoon and evening programs held in the home of members with committee hostesses providing the luncheons and dinners. We look forward to an interesting and worth-while year.

LUELLA BURT REARICH

DULUTH CLUB

A picnic-meeting on Saturday, September 7, at Eleanor Abbott's summer home at Sunshine Lake pleasant initiated the 1935-36 season for our Club. Gladys Chatman was the assisting hostess. The program for the year was outlined as follows:

October

Hostesses—LaVerna Houghton and Ruby Olmstead.
Talk on Ethiopia by Helen Thompson.

November

Hostesses—Florence Collins and Elizabeth Collins.
Matters concerning nearest chapter—Minnesota Alpha.
Book review—Gladys Chatman.

December

Hostesses—Florence McDevitt and Gladys Bowman.
Talk on her European trip by Elizabeth Huey.

January

Hostesses—Elizabeth and Mildred Jones.
"Settlement School"—Gladys Bowman.

February

Evening Bridge for husbands and friends at the home of Nell Parker. Hostesses: Stella Oberg, Betty Bowman, Frances Leonard, Helen Thompson, Christine Hill and Clara Reed.

March

Hostesses—Genevieve Lounsbury and Marion Turnquist.
Examination and Constitution—Florence McDevitt and Ruby Olmstead.

April

Hostesses—Eloise Clark and Evelyn Deighton.
Founders' Day Meeting at home of Mrs. Houghton.
Novelty Program—Peggy Dunn, Evelyn Deighton and Ruby Olmstead.

May

Hostesses—Ruth Russell and Peggy Dunn.
"International Relations"—Genevieve Lounsbury.
"Flower Arrangement"—Eloise Clark.

RUBY BURTNES OLMSTED

INDIANOLA CLUB

The Indianola Club started the new year's activities by joining with the actives in the regular pledge day service followed by a dinner that evening at the chapter house. A committee from the club prepared and served the dinner to 75 members and pledges. The October meeting will be held at the home of June Slocum Cox. There will be a pot-luck luncheon followed by a regular business meeting at which plans for the coming year will be made.

A telephone committee is to call the members before each meeting and see that transportation is provided.

KATHLEEN MAYNARD

SIOUX CITY CLUB

The September meeting of the club was in the form of a rushing tea held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Harrington.

About twenty girls were entertained. At the October meeting plans for the year were discussed. In December we expect to have a tea and present articles from the Settlement School for sale. Another means of raising money will be by magazine subscriptions.

We are pleased to know that our province vice-president, Mrs. Knapp, will be with us at our November meeting. The club is happy to welcome six new members to our group. Because of the interest shown by all we hope to have a successful year.

ELIZABETH FLEIG

MT. PLEASANT CLUB

The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae club opened their club year with a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Bertha Augspurger Johnson on the first Friday in September. Vacation notes and news of Iowa Alpha sisters filled the afternoon. The club extended their thanks to Buelah Hayes for her fine work as chairman in charge of the sale of Settlement School articles.

The regular November afternoon meeting was held with Nona Spahr Donahue on October 4 instead because we anticipate the pleasure of a visit from our province vice-president, Laura Storms Knapp, in November at which time we intend to have our usual October party and social meeting with the actives so that we all may enjoy and benefit by her visit. We were glad to welcome Josephine Rogers Carper as a new member of our alumnae club.

We held our annual summer reunion picnic in Saunders Grove with a very large attendance. Out of town alumnae present were Grace Wallar Pescheret of New London, Grace Mehler Barringer of Boise, Idaho; Ethel Cowan Weibley and daughter Helen of Burlington.

A large delegation of actives and alumnae attended the Arrow Point picnic held every year in August for Pi Phi of southeastern Iowa and Illinois on the scenic Mississippi river bluffs near Hamilton, Illinois. Seventy-four attended the picnic, of whom twenty-six were from Iowa Alpha.

Our year's program will have two luncheon meetings, a party in October for the actives, a Christmas reunion tea, Founders' Day party, Commencement breakfast, Summer reunion and four regular business meetings. Each member of the club is assigned some topic of interest concerning Phi Phi and throughout the year reports anything she may find on her topic at each meeting. This makes a diversified program and we find it a most excellent way of keeping well informed on Pi Phi.

FLORENCE JERREL

ST. PAUL CLUB

The St. Paul Alumnae Club opened its year with a dinner meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Marcella Hunt, and plans for the coming year were made. The group takes an active part in rushing, assisting in any way possible. In November the annual Settlement School tea will be given, at which time articles from the School will be displayed and sold. For our December meeting we join with the Minneapolis club in entertaining the active chapter at a Christmas party. We also plan to entertain the seniors at a dinner meeting this fall. The ways and means committee is already busy and plans are under way for a rummage sale. Our group is a growing and enthusiastic one and we are looking forward to a pleasant and busy year.

MARIE COOPER HEALY

WINNIPEG CLUB

On August 27 the Club entertained at a dinner party in honor of Mrs. J. Ragnar Johnson (Marion Sellers) who has left with her husband to reside in Toronto, Canada. Marion was not only the first president of the local group which, three years after its formation was installed as Manitoba Alpha of Pi Beta Phi, but has also been most active on various committees, and held the office of president of the Alumnae Club. She will be missed more than we can say not only for her activities and very real contribution to our place on the campus, for ever ready advice and help both to the Alumnae Club and to the active chapter, and as a very real friend.

On September 13 the Club entertained at high tea, at the home of Lois Sellers, in honor of Mrs. E. Kernaghan, who has left with her husband to reside in Toronto. Mrs. Kernaghan (Gertrude McNeil) is another of the seven girls who first formed the chapter. Gertrude has also held various offices in both groups, and has been our particular stand-by in regard to our finances, not only officiating as treasurer at different times, but also investing our small surpluses from year to year, and keeping a business eye on us as a whole. Need we say how much she will be missed, as Marion, not only for her activities, but as a loyal and sincere friend. Both girls have the gift of friendship, and we hope to welcome them back some day.

Rushing on Manitoba campus opened on September 18. This year the entertainments were reduced by one, by order of the local Panhellenic. The Alumnae Club, which is responsible each year for one rushing party, entertained in honor of the rushees on September 21 at Betty Banning's, in the form of Deep Sea Party. Lois Sellers was in charge of the arrangements, and it was a most attractive party.

On September 30, was held the formal dinner, in honor of rushees, at the Marlborough Hotel. This was the largest party we have had, there being ninety-five guests, including the twenty-five rushees. About half of the group were members of the Alumnae Club.

Members of the club have felt for some time that we should be participating in the Social Welfare work of this city. At the joint meeting of the out-going and incoming executives held last spring this was discussed in detail. As a result of investigating various institutions, and their needs for volunteer workers, and correspondence, we are pleased to report that the Winnipeg Alumnae Club is now affiliated with the work in The Free Kindergarten. This does not entail us in a monetary way, as this institution is supported under the Federated Budget (by which monies are collected annually by public subscription for the support of hospitals, orphanages, and welfare institutions). The Ladies of the Board of the Kindergarten, and the executive, are delighted at our desire to help them in their excellent work, and we feel that we will be taking an actual part in the needy work of the city. The Board is most anxious that we take an active part in their meetings, and to further this, and show their appreciation of our affiliation, have appointed two members of the Club to the Board for this coming year. Mrs. Colin Fraser (Mary Murkar) and Katharine Middleton are representing the Club, as Board Members, and a separate committee under Glenn Morrison, are working with the children.

On Saturday, October 10 we are planning to hold a bridge and tea, with a fashion talk by the stylist of the T. Eaton Co., Ltd., in the Grill Room of the same store, in aid of Pi Beta Phi Settlement Work, the proceeds of which we shall divide between Pi Beta Phi Settlement School and the Free Kindergarten.

The Club is rejoicing at the news of the very recent appointment of Isobel Clarke as Province President of Theta Province. From the day of her pledging Isobel has been a very real part of the active and alumnae groups, not only on committees, but holding office of president of both groups, as secretary, and other offices. But her greatest contribution has been as a responsible member of the Alumnae Advisory committee, and Pledge Director. Each year has seen her participating in programs, advising with wisdom beyond her years, sincere, and loyal to the interests of Pi Beta Phi. No task has been too great or small for her to do, and do right. We have always been proud of her. She is the first member of any Fraternity represented on Manitoba campus to be appointed to a National Office.

KATHERINE MIDDLETON

IOTA PROVINCE

BOULDER CLUB

Fall activities of the Boulder Alumnae began on September 17 with an enthusiastic evening meeting at the home of Mrs. D. E. McAllister. The new president, Mrs. Harry A. Alexander, presided over the meeting, and outlined plans for the year. Aside from the regular scheduled meetings, the alumnae will give the annual freshman party in October, and the senior party in the spring. The alumnae also have charge of the initiation banquet in January, and join the active chapter in celebrating Founders' Day with Colorado B.

Two new members are welcomed into the club this year, Mrs. Forrest B. Cox, whose husband is the new basketball coach at the University, and Mrs. Willis Underwood (Lucille Mersereau).

The Boulder alumnae are fortunate in having Mrs. Collins, the Province vice-president, in Denver, only thirty miles away, always ready to give her help and counsel.

Various ways are being considered to raise money for the Settlement School. Special emphasis is to be given the magazine subscriptions, and the alumnae hope to join with the active chapter in conducting a sale of Settlement School articles.

LOU H. McALLISTER (Mrs. D. E.)

CASPER CLUB

The first meeting of the Casper Club for the new year was held September 3, 1935, at the home of Mrs. Fred Newman with Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Pelton assisting hostesses. The members all seem very enthusiastic for the coming year and a program is being formulated using the four required meetings alternating with bridge as entertainment.

Our annual rummage sale was held September 21, netting a profit of $40.00 for the Settlement School.

We are looking forward to a very interesting year with our new president, Mrs. Pelton.

GLADYS PHILLIPS BON

LINCOLN CLUB

This summer the Lincoln club gave a picnic for rushees at the home of one of our members with forty present. The first meeting of the year was held at the chapter house, the first floor of which has been newly decorated. The Omaha club helped finance the project.

The list of pledges this year is such an excellent one that we were doubly glad to give our help during rush week.

The Mothers' Club managed a successful rummage sale in September. We look forward to a visit from our vice-president, Mrs. Collins in October. For this year we are planning certain special meetings, the annual Cooky-shine, a Christmas tree for the children, a meeting to study the Constitution, one for fraternity history, one for the freshmen, one for the seniors, and a charter day banquet.

KAPPA PROVINCE

AUSTIN CLUB

The Austin club held its first regular meeting of the year on Thursday, September 12, at the chapter house. Rush week plans were discussed with the rush captain of the active chapter.

It was decided that the alumnae meetings would be held at the chapter house on the second Tuesday of each month. A luncheon will be served to actives and alumnae following the meeting.

Mrs. Frankie Hill was named chairman of the committee in charge of the Arrow Craft sale which will be held in November.

DALLAS CLUB

The Dallas Club met September 13 for the first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Arthur P. Dyer, 3813

Maplewood. Mrs. C. E. Granger, our new president, gave us an interesting summary of the Louisiana and Texas Alumnae convention which she attended at Shreveport in June. At this meeting the yearbooks, outlining another interesting and complete annual program, were passed to each member.

The Dallas Club is growing larger each year. We are happy to welcome our new members this season.

DELIA STEPHENS

HOUSTON CLUB

The Houston Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the year on the last Friday in September. We were pleased at an increase of twenty new members for this year. Plans were discussed for the coming sale of Settlement School articles. This is scheduled for the first week in November and we are hoping to make even a greater success of this one than we did of the one last year.

The products have been received and are already being shown preliminary to our sale. We advertise our sale by means of letters sent to our friends and to members of the club. The sale lasts three days.

Our Founders' Day party in April was held at the country home of Mrs. E. E. Townes and was a great success. We had a barbecue and an old fashioned barn dance which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Our rushing was systematic and successful this summer. Each Tuesday we had a luncheon and invited a few rushees to attend each function. Beside this there were also large teas and suppers when all the rushees attended.

KATHRYN HANBRAH SAUER

MUSKOGEE CLUB

August 1 we gave a very successful garden party for rushees at the home of Sarah Million.

Our meetings this year will be a luncheon held the last Saturday of each month, from October through May, in the home of a member with three hostesses.

The secretary of the club has been out of town all summer but will return the middle of October—until that time the former secretary has carried on her work.

LUCILE WILKINSON PATTERSON

STILLWATER CLUB

The Stillwater Alumnae Club was represented by three of its members at the Province convention at Shreveport: Mrs. H. W. Orr, the chairman of the Settlement School committee; Mrs. Sam Myers, Jr., the financial adviser; and Mrs. Thomas E. Berry, the president of the club.

Although there are no regular meetings in the summer, the club members supervised a formal dinner for the third date rush party of the active chapter. The rush was successful and the alumnae are proud of the girls of the active chapter for they have just won the band queen contest.

Miss Mary Tree Watson, an alumna of Oklahoma Beta chapter, has come back to Stillwater as the instructor of dancing in the Physical Education Department of the college. She studied at the Denishawn School of Dancing in New York and has been on the faculty of the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks.

The club is also glad to welcome Mrs. H. A. Graham (Hattie Hayman), a past president; Mrs. Harold J. Goley (Mary Boulton), an alumna of Oklahoma Beta; and Mrs. O. S. Willham (Susan Hurt), an alumna of Missouri Gamma at Springfield.

The Pi Beta Phis of Stillwater feel a new interest and inspiration this fall. Oklahoma Beta alumnae will be thrilled to know that the debt on the house was cleared last year. The active chapter has been in need of a larger and more adequate house, but instead of going deeply into debt again for a new house or giving up the location the girls have taken pleasure in having the old house extended and remodeled. Professor Philip A. Wilber, head of the School of Architecture at the college, drew up the plans. The front of the house was extended by the addition of two wings. These two wings allowed space for a new lounge, new quarters for the hostess, four new double bedrooms, additional storage space, room for the installation of a steam heating plant, and additional bathroom facilities. The improvements included the alteration and enlargement of the kitchen, new floor coverings for the lounge, corridors and dining room, painting of the exterior of the house, new shutters, and repainting and redecoration of the entire interior. The girls are pleased with the new Venetian blinds, the silver blue wall paper, wine colored carpets, wine colored draperies and new furniture harmonizing, and with the new mirror reaching from the top of the new black marble fireplace mantel to the ceiling.

Club members are planning a rummage sale to be held shortly before Christmas at which they will dispose of all old pieces of furniture, clothes, and cast-offs taken from the chapter house.

FANCHON MOFFETT MCINTOSH

TULSA CLUB

During the summer months the Tulsa Alumnae Club assisted the actives with several parties for rushees. The first was a tea in the home of Mrs. A. L. Farmer. The final rushing party was a progressive dinner given late in August.

The club has adopted the plan of having all business matters discussed and taken care of at meeting of the Executive Committee, which is composed of the officers and chairman of committees. The monthly social meetings will be held alternately in the evening and in the afternoon so that more members may be present.

The first meeting this fall was a Cooky-shine in the home of Mrs. Gentry Lee, President of the alumnae club, on September 26. At this time dues were collected and registrations made for the coming year. After dinner was served, songs were sung and reports were given by members who had gone to their chapters for rush week.

The program committee is working on plans for some interesting meetings, and we are looking forward to a successful year.

ESTHER KEENER HOWARD

LAMBDA PROVINCE

CALGARY CLUB

Our Club is looking forward to a splendid year with an ever-increasing membership, and under the direction of our new president, Miss Helen Ford. We did not hold regular meetings during the summer months, but we were active in helping with rushing, two very successful get-togethers having been arranged—a picnic and a Mother and Daughter tea.

A farewell tea was also held for Mrs. J. H. Russell, formerly Hazel Wilkinson, our last year's president, whose marriage was an event of this summer. Hazel has gone to England to live, and as she has always been very active in fraternity work, we all miss her a very great deal.

The first meeting of our Club for 1935-36 was held at the home of Miss Helen Smith on August 28 and plans for the year's activities were discussed. It was decided that meetings will be held the first Tuesday in each month at eight o'clock, with monthly dues of twenty-five cents. A schedule of meetings for the year was drawn up as follows:

October—Plans for rummage sale and study of the active chapter.

November—Play reading meeting.

December—Plans for Christmas rushing.

January—Charitable project and Settlement School.

February—Biography meeting.

March—History of Pi Beta Phi.

April—Founders' Day.

May—Election of officers and discussion of international affairs.

LOIS E. LATIMER

MU PROVINCE

BERKELEY CLUB

An increasing interest has been shown this year in alumnae club activities and we are starting the new year with more money in the treasury than any other preceding year. This is due largely to the successful handling of the Settlement School products by Mrs. W. H. Rings (Effie Paine, Wisconsin A) and also to the untiring efforts of the treasurer, Mrs. George Johnson (Sue Boot, Colorado A) in getting in the dues.

The club was fortunate in securing for the new president Mrs. V. A. Stout (Ella Moore, Missouri A). We are confident her enthusiasm will carry the club through a successful year.

The usual first two meetings of the year are being combined into one larger party at the home of Mrs. Dudley Smith. It will be a buffet luncheon.

The November meeting will be the yearly benefit bridge for the Settlement School under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Houston (Lucy Brennan, California B).

In January comes the initiation banquet held at the country club. This is always an enjoyable affair as it is the one time of the year when the active chapter and the alumnae come together, impressing us with the importance of the national scope of our fraternity.

A benefit drama tea is planned for February. The combined efforts of the Mothers' Club and the alumnae clubs always swell the Settlement School funds by the rummage sale in March. Founders' Day luncheon at one of the hotels in April ends the club year.

MARGUERITE EASTWOOD WELCH

GLENDALE CLUB

Glendale Alumnae Club opened the fall season at the home of Nelle Ayars September 12. The well attended meeting was conducted by the President, Jessie Wolfe, under whose able leadership Glendale is starting the year with great enthusiasm.

Nelle Core, Settlement School Chairman, presented plans for raising money. There will be the usual rummage sale in October under the direction of Eva Brook. The November meeting will be a guest tea, at which Settlement School goods will be displayed and a talk will be given by Blanche Curtis.

At the close of the business meeting, a program of vacation experiences was given, with Irma Simmons as chairman. Each member responded and various tales of trips to National Parks, the San Diego Fair, and other places of scenic beauty and interest, were revealed. The climax was the story told by Leila Warner, of her visit to the Settlement School, which was included in a three months trek across the country to New York, Washington, D.C., and Florida, then back to California.

A hearty welcome was given Blanche Curtis who has returned to Glendale after several years residence in Northern California.

An interesting program has been planned for the year, including a visit in October from Mu Province Vice-President, Mrs. H. J. Frost.

LOUISE SPAULDING MALIN

LONG BEACH CLUB

The Long Beach club opened the fall season with a delightful breakfast at the home of Mrs. G. A. Peterson, with Mrs. Eva Hatfield and Mrs. William Hatfield assisting.

The club is looking forward to a visit from our province vice-president, Mrs. Frost, in October, and will entertain in her honor with a buffet supper and bridge at the home of Mrs. G. D. Williams. The Grand Vice-President, Mrs. Ruth Barrett Smith, and the president of the Los Angeles alumnae club, Mrs. H. G. Hayward, are also to be with us at that time.

A Settlement School tea is planned for some time in November.

The regular November meeting will be a bridge tea at the home of our president, Mrs. Van Hall. She will be assisted by Mrs. Phil Humphreys and Elizabeth Nesle.

The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Morris. Mrs. Murray and Mrs. McGranahan will assist.

While we are happy to welcome several new members we feel deeply the loss of two of our members, both IC's, Mrs. Minnie Owens Chamberlin, Illinois A, and Ella Buxton Cooper, Iowa B.

FREDA COULTRAP LONG

LOS ANGELES CLUB

The club calendar of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club for 1935-36 is to be a most interesting one. Under the leadership of Enid Hayward, who is our president, the year promises to be one to which we all look forward to with a great deal of pleasure. A number of interesting programs are planned. The first is to be an "All Pi Phi Rally" which also is to honor the Mu Province Vice-President, Ethel Lunsford Frost.

The November meeting is to be a tea at the home of Mrs. Walter Harrison Fisher, who is well known in Los Angeles art circles and will give an exhibition of her art collection and a lecture.

Our yearly Christmas dinner party is one anticipated by all, and is to honor Ann D'Aule, our Mu Province president, and seniors of California Γ and Δ chapters are to be guests. There also is to be a program given by the University of Southern California School of Speech.

The January meeting is a social evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. von Kleinsmid. Husbands and escorts are to be honored.

February is the month set aside for our Settlement School benefit.

A tea is to be given in March, which will honor the presidents of Southern California Alumnae Clubs and a most interesting lecture on interior decoration and costume designing will be given.

In April is the Founders' Day banquet.

There will be a luncheon in May, honoring Ruth Barrett Smith, our Grand Vice-President. Flowers and their arrangement will be discussed.

The June meeting is to be a buffet supper and the annual bridge party and play-off.

The Book Group which was organized by Betty Wheat Hodges (California Γ) in 1932 is outstanding and is always a drawing card to Pi Phi.

We are taking subscriptions for magazines and this is being handled very efficiently by Irene Morgan (Kansas B).

Hope Evans (Nebraska B) is in charge of the Christmas cards, which we are selling this year.

All Pi Phi in Los Angeles will be anxious to attend as many meetings as possible and will be looking forward to a year of friendship and happiness.

HELEN HIGGINS MOSHIER

PALO ALTO CLUB

The members of the Palo Alto Alumnae Club assisted the California Alpha chapter in giving a benefit bridge party at the Mrs. John G. Sutton gardens in Atherton on September 4. The proceeds were used for helping decorate the newly enlarged chapter house. Much credit is due Roberta Pleas for the success of the project.

The new executive committee served as hostesses for a luncheon which was given at the home of Mrs. Dean W. Buchan on September 16. The members thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. I. S. Blackwelder's reminiscences of attending her 60th class reunion at the University of Kansas. She was a guest of Kansas A where she was a charter member in 1872. Then it was I. C. Sorosis and she still proudly wears the large pin of those days. Mrs. Hugh O'Neal read a few chapters from Anne Lindbergh's new book, "North to the Orient."

The club anticipates with pleasure visiting with Mrs. Harry J. Frost, Mu Province Vice-President, and realizes that much inspiration will be gained for the year's activities. In addition to the October luncheon, these include a Cooky-shine at the home of Sally Hinsey, November 18; another Cooky-shine on January 20 at Beatrice Needham's home; an evening meeting with husbands invited on February 17; the annual meeting, March 16; a Settlement School benefit bridge party at the California Alpha chapter house April 20; and a May picnic at the home of Roberta Pleas with seniors from the active chapter invited.

SALLY CALLEN HINSEY

NEVADA CLUB

The Nevada Alumnae Club opened its current season with a supper meeting August 27, at the home of Ruth Ferris, with Katharine Priest, our new president, as assisting hostess. Printed programs were distributed, promising interesting and varied meetings and benefit functions during the coming year.

Early in August, we enjoyed a delightful reunion meeting at the home of Dorothy Higgins Bell, where we greeted a number of our former members who were visiting in Reno. They included Ruth Pyle Walker, first president of Nevada A, now living in Beaumont, Texas; Louise Grubnau, who has spent the past two years in London and on the continent; Eva Walker Ogilvie, of Lee, Nevada; Laura Durkee Lichti, of Berkeley, California; Myrtle Cameron McInness, of Memphis, Tennessee; and Beatrice Langwith Springmeyer, of Carson City, who gave us news of her sisters and others in the Hawaiian Islands.

At our September meeting, with Katharine Riegelhuth and Dean Margaret Mack as hostesses, we enjoyed the official visit of our own Ethel Lunsford Frost, Mu Province Vice-President.

RUTH MILLER FERRIS

SAN DIEGO CLUB

The San Diego Alumnae Club gave a tea honoring local girls who went away to school at the home of Mrs. J. Terrell Scott (Vivian White, Colorado A). A buffet supper was given at the home of Mrs. O. J. Hinman (Alice Wyeth, California B), in La Jolla on October 7, honoring Mrs. Frost, province vice-president. About 40 members attended this first meeting of the year. Mrs. Alford gave a fascinating account of her visit to the Settlement School last summer when members of Grand Council met there for conference. A bridge tea to benefit the Settlement School took place at Casa de Manana in La Jolla on November 23. Mrs. Ralph Johnson (Alleen Nelson, Wyoming A) was general chairman, Miss Mary K. Phillippi (Iowa A) had charge of the ticket sale and Mrs. J. N. Thomas (Myrella Johnston, Illinois A) took charge of the Arrow Craft display. Baskets from the Arrow Craft Shop were given as door prizes and small finger towels were given as table prizes.

Meetings throughout the year will alternate monthly with noon luncheons and evening buffet suppers.

MARY EMERICH VAN BUREN

SAN JOSE CLUB

The San Jose alumnae club met for the first meeting of 1935-36 with Mrs. Lola Davis, September 10.

We enjoyed a delightful dinner and were very happy to welcome a new member, Mrs. Ethel Hart of Washington B. As a club we boast twelve members.

Our meetings will be once a month, the second Tuesday. There will be four main meetings.

A tea and program at the St. Claire Hotel is being arranged in December for our Settlement School sale.

The January meeting is the regular settlement school meeting and is being held with Mrs. Grace Aldrich.

In February we hope to have Mrs. Frost with us, also the Nevada chapter.

March, the Constitution meeting with Mrs. Ruth Smale. April, our Founders' Day activities.

The remaining meetings are very much enjoyed in a social way.

We hope for a more successful year with Settlement School products.

RUTH SMALE

SANTA MONICA CLUB

The first meeting of the year was held September 9 at the home of Mrs. Maurine Murray Conway. The date of the meetings has been changed to the first Monday evening of the month and will continue to begin at 7:30 with dessert and coffee.

The visit of the province vice-president, Mrs. Frost, is to be October 10. A buffet supper will be held in her honor at the home of Mrs. Bahnson. We look forward to having Mrs. Frost with us.

Louise McKeown has prepared an interesting program for the year which was presented to the members at the first meeting. In November there is to be a Settlement School tea at the Town and Country private school of Mrs. Kathryn Dye.

We are sorry to lose an active member, Mrs. Marjorie Woods Baird. Her husband, who is an army officer, has been transferred to Cheyenne, Wyoming.

GLADYS HARLAN FOREMAN

UTAH CLUB

The Utah Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi held its first meeting for 1935-36 on September 21 at the chapter house, with Mary Burnett, acting chairman of the nominating committee, presiding until the new president was selected.

Mary Caffey was unanimously elected to the office of alumnae president, which position was left open due to the resignation of Marjorie K. Pace in August.

Plans for the expected visit of Mrs. Ethel Frost were discussed and Aurelia Hampton, chairman of the Settlement School committee, gave a report on business transactions. Virginia C. Bryner was elected to the Advisory Board.

Tentative plans for the year's activities were presented by Mary Caffey, as follows:

September—Luncheon and election of new president, at chapter house, with Arleen Russon, chairman.

October—Visit of Mrs. Ethel Frost, Province Vice-President.

November—Settlement School luncheon and display, with Aurelia Hampton, chairman.

December—Evening "White Elephant" party (Christmas party), with Helen A. Tauffer, chairman.

January—Luncheon and literary program, with Mary Caffey, chairman.

March—Evening party and dessert bridge.

April—Founders' Day banquet.

May—Luncheon and election of officers.

On September 30 we were the honored hostesses of Mrs. Ethel Frost, vice-president of Mu Province. A delightful Cooky-shine was held at the chapter house, and the inspiring talk of Mrs. Frost created hearty enthusiasm for the coming year's activities.

The Advisory Board and Executive Council met with Mrs. Frost at a charming dinner given at the Hotel Utah on October 1. Many problems concerning fraternity life were discussed and various solutions were offered.

Mrs. Frost certainly impressed us with the importance of becoming "nationally minded." We enjoyed her visit immensely and hope to profit greatly thereby.
