

THE ARROW

OF PI BETA PHI SUMMER 1975

Dear Editor . . .

A Kappa Reader

My daughter's copy of The ARROW came this morning, and as an interested Kappa, I sat down at once to see what the Pi Phis were doing. Thank goodness I did. First the picture of Mrs. Spring caught my eye—then the name Agnes Wright. I'd heard it before but not until I read the article did everything fall in place.

My mother left the comparative civilization of Nebraska in 1906 for the wilds of Wyoming, going the final part of the journey to Buffalo by stage coach for her job as librarian. From there she went to the library in Cheyenne where she worked with Agnes Wright.

I would be grateful if you would forward the enclosed note to her. Thank you so much for the help and for publishing her story.

→ We welcome our Kappa Kappa Gamma reader, and were happy to forward her note to the fascinating Mrs. Spring. msf

Thank you, Ma'm!

I must tell you—The ARROW is the best edited of any ARROWs since I've been receiving them (1915). There is a system—and one can find something without searching!

More "Little Sister" Info

I have just finished reading "What's Wrong With 'Little Sister' Groups?" in The ARROW (Winter, 1974). In my opinion, this article does not shed a real light on all little sisters auxiliaries. My basis for disagreement is through my own experience. I am a member of a little sister organization at the University of Arizona, and never has my auxiliary resembled the one presented in the article!

. . . The writer said such an organization takes up too much time . . . An auxiliary doesn't take up one-fourth the time another activity such as cheerleading does. However, girls involved in such more time consuming activities are regularly honored in such magazines as The ARROW for their achievements. . . Every single fraternity member is a true gentleman whenever he sees one of us . . . We are their sisters. We are not degraded—they are our ego-inflaters! . . . How can an organization such as this one possibly hurt the Greek system? As they tell us in sorority rush, do not generalize about an organization or house until you know more about it. Not all of them are the same.

→ There are always exceptions, and judging from the mail we received concerning the article, the majority of exceptions are located on campuses in the great southwest. msf

Add Michigan Beta

In the spring 1975 issue of The ARROW I was interested in the letter from Elise Ely Upham in which she calls attention to the fact that Michigan Beta was the first chapter to win permanent possession of the Balfour Cup. She is entirely correct. The years were 1929, 1930, and 1931.

For confirmation I refer you to The ARROW of February, 1936, a special issue covering the history of Pi Beta Phi from 1867-1936. On page 347, the history of the Balfour Cup to that date is clearly traced, and shows that Michigan Beta should have received credit with the other three chapters for having won permanent possession of the cup.

→ The February, 1936, issue of The ARROW states, "When a chapter wins the Balfour Cup three successive times, the cup becomes its permanent possession. This feat was accomplished by Michigan B. University of Michigan, in 1931." We are happy to correct the record. msf

A Splendid Shelter

I just had to write and let you know that the Pi Phi chapter at the University of Kansas is a group to be proud of.

As a recent Ohio University graduate and Pi Phi alum, I was driving from Ohio to Colorado to seek employment. I knew no one in between the drive so planned to stay at the Pi Phi house at Univ. of Kansas. I can honestly say that I've never felt so at home while being a stranger. The girls were so friendly and took time out from studying to show me around the house. It certainly is a pleasure to know that the Greek system, especially Pi Phi, has some warm and enthusiastic members.

I've sent my thanks to the house but I wanted everyone to know of some Pi Phi kindness.

→ Emerson said it: "Happy is the house that shelters a friend." msf

Sun City Contributes

In January, I had a brain storm. I found there were 78 Pi Phis from 40 chapters in Sun City. I thought if the ten cents for each year were added, we would have a nice sum to send for a birthday gift to Holt House.

Since the first 6 Golden Arrows to respond that day, I've had some real dear notes in answer to the "invitations" I sent. Today I'm sending a check for $224.30 from 45 of us. We hope to help restore the old portraits.

Thought maybe you might get a kick out of the efforts of an "old" Golden Arrow from Nebraska.

→ We are delighted to hear of Mrs. Junge's efforts. She's been a friend of many years, dating back to those years when her daughter, Joyce Junge Ferguson, now a member of the Holt House Committee, and this editor were Pi Phis together at Nebraska. msf

As of April 12, Pi Beta Phi added another chapter to the roster. Virginia Epsilon, University of Virginia in Charlottesville, was duly installed that weekend and it is pure pleasure to welcome them to the fold. Once again the timing was off, so we won't have stories and pictures of the event until the winter issue, but we know all Pi Phis join us in congratulations. An especially nice gesture we heard about concerned Minnesota Alpha. Carolyn Houpt of that chapter was the graduate counselor who has been guiding the affairs of the new Colony since last January. Minnesota Alpha sent letters to individual members of the Colony and, as initiation gifts, sent them Pi Phi pillows. This certainly demonstrated the love and special sisterhood that comes from being a Pi Phi.

With graduating seniors scattering over the nation, many may be wondering whether or not to become active in their local alumnæ groups. We recommend that everyone read the Operation Brass Tacks article, "Maintain the Bridge For a Future Crossing," found on page 36 of this issue. It should be of interest to many inactive alumnæ, as well as the brand new ones.

Because so many schools don't open in the fall till very late in September, we would like all chapter correspondents to make special note that DEADLINE FOR THE WINTER ARROW IS SEPTEMBER 12. That may mean that some advance work will need to be done this summer, but never let anyone say that she wasn't sufficiently warned!

While we're on the subject of contributions to THE ARROW, this may be a good time and place to do some memory refreshing. If each correspondent, whether alumna or collegian, would send her contribution to the correct place, by deadline, each would be assured that proper consideration would be given to the publication of the information. All news stories and pictures should be sent directly to this editor, whether from chapters, clubs, or individuals. The annual alumnæ club letters go to the Alumnæ Club Letter Editor, Lindsey Siegfried. All news about books written by Pi Phi should go to the From Pi Phi Pens editor, Eleanor Lehner. Statistics of any kind—In Memoriam notices, changes of address, chapter and club officer lists—all go to Central Office. This seems so simple to those of us who are involved with our own ARROW activities, but Eleanor continues to get pledge and active lists, and Central Office continues to have to forward all kinds of stories and lists. We all would appreciate a little closer attention to these details.

By the time you read this, the 50th Biennial Convention will be a thing of the past, but as we write this, we still are anticipating the reunion with old friends and the meeting of new ones. Many names of the latter will be familiar through the pages of The ARROW. Convention is always inspiring, and we know that delegates, alternates, and visitors find it so. It is our hope that if you have never attended a Convention, you plan to do so as soon and as often as possible. You'll ne'er regret!

Did you know that some people are easily entertained? All you have to do is sit down and listen to them!

Three Pi Beta Phi Fellowships Awarded For Advanced Studies In 1975-76

For the first time since the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship was established in 1909, Grand Council has selected three winners for 1975-76. Two have chosen the field of medicine for advanced study, while the third will enter the field of clinical psychology.

An endowment fund of $10,000 was first created in 1925, the interest from which would finance the annual $500 scholarship. In 1950 the Fellowship Fund was raised to $20,000 and, in 1969, the annual Fellowship was raised to $1,000. It is open to any Pi Phi holding a bachelor's degree and can be used at any university desired. Scholastic standing and all-around development of character with its resultant ability worthy to represent the Fraternity are the two points considered in awarding the Fellowship.

Clare Buie, Texas Alpha, expects to pursue her Ph.D. in the research, teaching, and therapy in the area of clinical psychology. She received her B.A. in psychology in May with an overall GPA of 3.5.

Jennifer Larson, Iowa Gamma, is a 1975 graduate also. She received a B.S. degree in zoology in May and will be attending the University of Iowa Medical School in the fall.

The third Fellowship recipient is Carol Wolf, Pennsylvania Beta, a June, 1974, graduate of Bucknell University who is currently enrolled at Stanford University School of Medicine.

Carol Wolf

Carol received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Biology and was graduated summa cum laude. In both her junior and senior years, Carol was a Resident Assistant. Her classmates elected her secretary-treasurer for two years and the Pi Phis used her many talents in a number of offices—particularly as Panhellenic representative. She was chairman and editor of the Panhellenic Handbook when she was a junior and was one of the most responsible and hard working members of the Council.

In 1974 Carol received the National Alpha Lambda Delta Fellowship. She also received several graduation prizes for her achievements at Bucknell. She had a cumulative grade point average of 4.0, placing her in the top one percent of her class of 717 members. She was accepted at five medical schools, and chose Stanford. According to one recommender, Carol is "straight forwardly honest and trustworthy at all times. She is also tactful, considerate and appreciative. Socially well adjusted, she gained the respect of both her peers and the staff."

A sister Pi Phi wrote, "I admire and respect (Carol) more than any other woman I know. While at Bucknell, Carol was an active, involved Pi Phi and all her sisters in Pennsylvania Beta are proud of her accomplishments."

Clare Buie, Texas Alpha

Jennifer Larson, Iowa Gamma

Carol Wolf, Pennsylvania Beta

Jennifer Larson

One of seven children in her family, Jennifer is thoroughly familiar with working and achieving. She earned a grade point average of 3.92 out of a possible 4.0 and was accepted by the University of Iowa's Medical School on their Early Decision Program last October to become part of the 1975 freshman class.

In his letter of recommendation, one of her professors wrote, "Miss Larson is a person of mature and stable character. She is fully honest and forthright, is poised and well-spoken, is good natured and interacts very well with others."

Jennifer served as president of Lampos, an all science honorary that selects for its members only those who are outstanding in character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Juniors and seniors are selected for membership. She is also a member of Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa, and has been awarded the McFarland Clinic Scholarship in Premedicine. She was accepted as one of three girls to be a part of an exchange program with the University of Indiana, for which, after meeting specific requirements, credit was given through the Iowa State sociology department.

Jennifer was vice president of mental advancement in her chapter as a sophomore and she contributed greatly to Iowa Gamma in many areas. She was totally respected by the chapter for her insights and comments, and consistently steady high character. She tackles a situation with confidence after giving it critical and careful consideration.

Clare Buie

Clare's interest in the behavioral sciences has evolved through her experiences as a medical outreach worker and community health teacher in remote villages of Nicaragua, as a teaching assistant at state schools for the blind and the deaf, and as a research assistant in the fields of community and social psychology.

Clare's honors have been many during her collegiate career. She was named the Most Outstanding Woman Student at the University of Texas with a student population of nearly 42,000; was president of Mortar Board; is a member of Psi Chi, national psychology honorary; received the 1974 Honor's Day Award from the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences; is listed in Who's Who; and was program chairman for Orange Jackets, women's honorary service organization.

In a letter concerning Clare's application for the Fellowship, one doctor wrote, "Miss Buie is superior in every respect. She is attractive in appearance and delightful and rewarding in human relationships with any age. She has demonstrated her abilities by appointments as research assistant in several programs of study and was closely associated with one of the finer research and study endeavors in Texas."

Clare's experiences in Nicaragua gave her teaching experience in community health as well as in practical services. She traveled by donkey and her duties ranged from assisting with inoculations and care of wounds to the delivery of babies.

Clare has the "demonstrated capacity to function with distinction in every life field as a student and the promise of a rich and distinguished future. She will always have the ability to laugh, to thoroughly enjoy living, and to give of herself with full generosity in every area of life which she may choose."

Ann Miller, left, and Kathy Klem, Indiana Zeta Pi Phi, are members of the Ball State University Singers. Kathy was art director for the Singers' annual show. Both are on the Honors Program and are members of Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary.

Two Travelers and a Consultant Chosen As Graduate Counselors

Dependable, attractive, intelligent, understanding, flexible, warm, outgoing, spirited, mature, tactful, personable, kind—the ideal Pi Phi! But was ever such a young lady in existence? Obviously yes—for these traits and many more have exemplified the Traveling Graduate Counselors of the Fraternity since the program was begun in 1968.

Travelers for 1975-76 will be no different. Each has the above qualities as well as a knowledge of and love for her Fraternity and an eagerness to transmit that knowledge and love to Pi Phis wherever she goes.

Bobbi Brown, Wyoming Alpha, was graduated from the University of Wyoming in the Bobbi was chapter president when Wyoming Alpha was awarded the Elizabeth Koza Award for the chapter which best meets Fraternity standards. A sister writes, ". . . (Bobbi) could step into any chapter with ideas, leadership, sincerity, and fun. She could accept the bad with the good and weigh them critically. But most of all Bobbi would leave the chapter as a Pi Phi sister."

Cindy Kralis, Indiana Delta, received her B.S. in foods and nutrition in May and hopes to return to school for graduate work in the food science field sometime in the future. Cindy, too, held many chapter offices as well as serving as rush counselor for the Purdue Panhellenic. She was named the Most Outstanding Pledge in her class, and, as a result, was the logical one to handle the demanding and important position of pledge trainer.

"My family background has much to do with why I feel I am qualified for this job," writes Cindy. "As the second oldest of twelve children ranging from 22 to 4 years old, I have been put in the position of mother, sister, confessor, and entertainer (along with chief cook and bottle-washer)! Having been living, working, playing, and growing in a miniature 'fraternity' all my life, strong ideals have been passed to me from my family which Pi Phi has further reinforced."

Indiana Delta was particularly pleased to learn that Cindy was selected to be a TGC. Returning to Purdue after a spring vacation in Mexico, Cindy found a huge sheet sign hanging from the front pillars of the house informing her that she'd DONE IT AGAIN! The seniors spent a great deal of time preparing a surprise party for Cindy by painting the sign, hanging it, and preparing a special note which was presented at a Cooky-shine. Her chapter is very proud of Cindy and they are sure that her warmth and love for people will make her one of the best counselors ever.

New Position

A new traveling counselor position has been added to the Pi Phi roster beginning with the coming year. A third traveler will be called Chapter Consultant and she will spend more time with individual chapters than is possible for spring with a B.S. in speech pathology and audiology. She has held many chapter offices including president, and has been very active on her campus in Panhellenic, Mortar Board, Theatre, WYO Gals (the University hostess group), Angel Flight and the Women's Awareness Movement. She was Homecoming Queen and was selected for Who's Who.

Bobbi has a sincere desire to serve Pi Phi. She says, "I have found something of great personal value in Pi Beta Phi and I would like nothing better than to share it with others! I am anxious to help other young women learn of the wealth to be gained through our Fraternity."

the TGCs to do. Inaugurating this post will be Kathy Hays, Ohio Zeta.

One of the more intricate chapter positions is that of treasurer, and since Kathy is a past chapter treasurer, she will be highly qualified to assist with answers and ideas for this office. She received her B.S. in education in June and she hopes to be a teacher and guidance counselor in the future.

Kathy was active on campus as well as within her chapter. She was a member of the Home Economics Club, the Chorale Union, the dorm council, and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary. She was a Dean's List student and won the chapter's coveted Debutante Award at Founders' Day as the girl who epitomizes all that a Pi Phi should be.

Enthusiasm is a necessary trait for a traveling counselor, and Kathy exudes that enthusiasm when she writes, "Holding the position . . . would be the most fantastic situation I would ever dream of experiencing in my after college years. Ohio Zeta is a second home for me. This is where I have found the true, lasting friendships I know I will always treasure. I am very proud of my chapter and all we have done to strengthen Pi Beta Phi Fraternity nationally."

Kathy Hays, Ohio Zeta, Pi Phi's first Chapter Consultant.

One of Kathy's instructors says, "Kathy genuinely enjoys people and goes out of her way to make them feel comfortable and liked. Her exuberance and cheerful attitude are contagious, yet she also appears to analyze and think things through carefully before acting."

So there they are—Pi Beta Phi's traveling counselors for the coming year. Are they ideal Pi Phis? Obviously yes. But they are also ideal young women who will enthusiastically fulfill the hopes and promises held for them by family, friends, and Fraternity.

Paper Wins Award For Dental Hygienist

by KAREN DE VINCENT, West Virginia Alpha

It was just an ordinary evening around the West Virginia Alpha house. A few of the girls had wandered to the kitchen to make popcorn and chat around the table when they heard their president mumble something about "a thousand dollars." All faces turned toward Jane Johnson with interest.

Finally the secret was out. Humbly Jane explained that she had entered the annual American Dental Association's preventive dentistry program. During the summer Jane had been a member of the staff at Greenbrier Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center at Lewisburg, W.Va. While there she discovered the need for a program designed to teach residents the need for preventive dental care. Being a senior in dental hygiene at West Virginia University, Jane decided to undertake this task. She wrote a paper on the program which she developed at Greenbrier and entered it at the contest.

It came as a great surprise to Jane when she was informed that she had been chosen to receive the first place award. Doctors and professors from all over the nation were listed in the lower prize categories and this is the first time

Miss Turnbull Tells Of Experiences As Dr. Keller's Secretary

by PHYLLIS FOSTER PARKER
Delta APP

Seventeen trunks of memorabilia—the disposition of Dr. May L. Keller's family history from her first school exercise to a family tree descended from Priscilla and John Alden, rested on the shoulders of Pauline Turnbull, New York Alpha, her secretary, companion, and confidant. It was during Mae Keller's "reign" as Grand President of Pi Beta Phi that the site for the Settlement School in Gatlinburg was selected.

Miss Turnbull initially met Miss Keller at the installation of New York Gamma at St. Lawrence University. "I was a junior at Syracuse University and was one of three juniors chosen to go up there; we were all giants, tall as can be, and here was this little bit of a mite, Miss Keller. The girls were so embarrassed when the President of St. Lawrence made a speech about the Dean of West Hampton College and called her 'the belle from Baltimore and the high mucky mick of Pi Beta Phi.'"

After Miss Turnbull's graduation in 1915, she was invited to be Miss Keller's secretary. She later served as assistant registrar at West Hampton College, registrar, assistant professor of Latin and registrar. She was made professor emerita upon her retirement in 1960. For more than forty years Miss Turnbull lived with Miss

Miss Pauline Turnbull, New York Alpha

Keller at the "Deanery" on the college campus. They traveled widely together, bringing home a wealth of unusual knowledge which they generously shared by slides and stimulating commentary with their students and friends. Theirs was a rare and wonderful friendship, a friendship which was broken only by the death of Miss Keller. During the past year Pauline has been writing a book about Miss Keller which will be published in August of this year.

As Miss Keller's secretary she attended conventions "for twenty or thirty years" and "some time in there I was also a Province President," she relates.

The Iron Dean

Miss Keller, West Hampton's first dean, was also the first woman in Virginia appointed as a dean. She was known as the "iron dean" whose voice could, on occasion, "snap like steel scissors." Even Miss Turnbull never suspected a romance in the woman's life. With Miss Keller's death in 1964, it was a complete surprise to Miss Turnbull to find 17 trunks loaded with "love letters" belonging to the former dean.

She uses two words to describe Miss Keller's character—courage and control. One of the earliest examples was when she was three years old; her parents went to hunt her at 11 o'clock at night expecting to find her in bed and found her sitting on the back steps. A nurse, in trying to make her be a good little girl, had told her,

Dr. May L. Keller

"the devil will come up the back stairs and he will get you and he has a big red coat and horns." The devil had been made so attractive that, since she had been bad that day, she thought she'd like to get it over with and see what the devil was like, explains Miss Turnbull.

Other examples of Dr. Keller's courage and control cited by Miss Turnbull were the selection of Gatlinburg as the location for the Settlement School, conducting Convention with no one knowing of the suicide of her fiance on the eve of the first session, and an experience aboard a threatened ship.

To Tennessee

Letters written during her trip to Tennessee tell of . . . "practically all day spent in interviewing politicians and educators; arose at five o'clock this morning, took a six o'clock train, went up into the mountains on a little railroad to a school meeting. The President of the University of Tennessee and the State Superintendent of Education went with us. And they have some mighty clever men here in getting what they want. There is one place that we wish to inspect which my wily friend the politician steered us clear of; so I kept very quiet. I interviewed the man who came from that section (Gatlinburg); he agreed to meet me with the County Superintendent of Sevier County on Thursday morning at six o'clock; so I split up our party who were going to do the lady-like part of seeing the model high school where this superintendent wanted to go—where there was a school, and, of course, Pi Phi wanted to pick a place that was absolutely isolated; then I drove 25 miles back."

She told of going in a wagon on a dry creek bed as there was no road up into this gap in the mountains. She went on, "Furthermore I have to keep my wits working so as not to commit ourselves to any proposition, but just hear the other side."

She went back to Washington to present the possible sites to Grand Council—the one the superintendent advised, and, to quote Miss Turnbull, "this strange little Gatlinburg; the people in there couldn't read nor write; they'd never seen an American flag; they'd never seen any money; they used barter and didn't celebrate Christmas." Miss Keller had related that they had lumber and would build a school and a house.

A Nightmare

Courage was exemplified in the letter describing the threatened voyage—"This morning at 4:40 we passed the glacier, the largest in Norway . . . last night we had a terrible accident to the Neptune, and, but for a miracle, your little sweetheart would probably be at the bottom of the North Sea. We had all gone below after a foggy, misty evening. We were running along the coast but well out to sea, several miles in fact with a high sea and although we had two pilots, the captain and the first officer on the bridge, just at midnight we ran into a heavy fog, and ten minutes later struck on some hidden rocks.

"I was in bed when it struck. It ground a while and then tore along the bottom lurching to one side. I knew instantly we were on the rocks, so I jumped out of the top berth and Anna and I put on our shoes, kimona, sweater and coat and fished out two life preservers immediately; then I caught up some skirts and a rug and we rushed for the deck.

"There were 80 passengers representing 16 nationalities and after the first awful scramble there was not a sound. People were on deck in every degree of undress—Anna and I being the most dressed of the lot, but even I was frozen . . . A French man tied me up in a life preserver, and every moment we expected the ship to be beaten to pieces on the rocks. Just at this juncture someone started 'Jesus Lover of My Soul' and in the foggy twilight of that unearthly light and the grinding sound below I never expect to experience anything more weird.

"Physical fear, I do not know; so there was no credit to me in not being afraid, but when I calmly gave my address to have them cable Mother if anything happened, I couldn't help in thinking of you and how you would feel for we were told quite frankly there was no ship anywhere near and we knew the nearest shores were uninhabited and miles away. After a time they found the holes were in the water tight compartment and if they could get us off the rock there was a chance. The water was not yet in the engine room, so they started the engine full force and after a mighty effort we slid off the rock and arrived in port badly crippled this morning . . . I'm all right, my nerves intact, but naturally I am tired. . . . I could hardly believe that last night was that dreadful nightmare."

Launches College

Miss Keller's contribution to women's education in the South was measurable. She was professor of English and head of the department at Goucher College in Baltimore when she was invited to go to West Hampton and start a Women's College. She knew the standards of Goucher and from her New England heritage those of Holyoke, Smith, and Vassar. She made it plain she wanted West Hampton to be on a par with the best women's colleges. She had already been working with the Southern Association of College Women as their president—an organization which preceded the American Association of University Women.

According to Miss Turnbull, Dr. Keller "really did in a way set the standards for the University of Richmond itself by pulling Richmond College up by the bootstraps, you might say, because she was so insistent on her West Hampton graduates being eligible for any graduate school in this country or in Europe."

"From 1914 to 1964 she lived a whole new life" describes Miss Turnbull in telling of the many things Miss Keller wanted to do. One scholarly work she worked on never was published—an old Estonian folk tale she translated from the German, as it had never been translated into English. She had always said she wouldn't be satisfied to publish it unless she could go to Estonia, but she never had that opportunity.

She started the College Club in Richmond, and the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club, as well as the club's local philanthropy—working with the women at the state farm. She was honored by being "Volunteer of the Year" for her work as Executive Secretary for the Cancer Society and serving on the board of the Collegiate School.

Miss Keller had been president of her chapter at Goucher and had gone to Berlin to work on her Ph.D. in 1900; her letters from there "are interesting because she couldn't side track the English speaking group, and she had a lot of entree letters; but she found the social life—dances, opera, everything Berlin had to offer—was too distracting. Realizing she could never get her doctor's degree there, she decided to go to Heidelberg—interesting about a woman getting her education in a male dominated University, prejudiced against women," injected Miss Turnbull.

A few quotes selected from her love letters: "The particular qualities I demand in a friend: high sense of humor; a keen sense of beauty in everything—nature, art, and literature; high intelligence; loyalty to one's friends under all circumstances." "A true friend never inquires as to how much he gives or receives in return." "I very seldom trust a person entirely without any reservations, so that when I do there is no occasion to try them any further." "No man could ask more of any woman than her love and trust." "The love that is worth while always teaches consideration for the other's feelings."

Miss Turnbull gave Dr. Keller's memorabilia to the University of Richmond Library where it is kept in the vault awaiting any research from interested Pi Phis anywhere.

Has Three Rodeo Titles

Montana Alpha is very proud of one of its members, Cathy Tvedt. In the past year Cathy has won three rodeo queen titles.

Last April she participated in the MSU Rodeo and became Miss MSU Rodeo Queen. In June she then went on to win the title of National College Rodeo Queen. In Dillon, Mont., last September, she also captured the title of Miss Rodeo Montana.

Cathy will participate in the Miss Rodeo America Pageant to be held next December during the National Finals Rodeo.

Jane said that she had promised her little sister a ten-speed bike if she won when asked what she intended to do with the money.

In addition to the excitement over winning the award, Jane was also invited to be a special guest at the first meeting of the American Dental Association House of Delegates in Washington, D.C.

Alabama Gamma singers sparkle and smile through a medley during Step-Sing.

Songs Snare Second

by MINDY SAWYER, Alabama Gamma

Each year at Auburn University a contest is held involving all sororities and fraternities which is called "Step-Sing." This year Pi Phi's Alabama Gamma received the second place trophy!

In Step-Sing each sorority presents a song or medley of songs, along with choreography, to be judged by selected members of the faculty. The judging is based on originality, quality of singing, costumes, and over-all effect. This year Alabama Gamma chose a medley of songs by the Supremes. It included such smash hits as "Stop in the Name of Love," "Baby Love," and "I Hear a Symphony." All of the movements incorporated into the performance were choreographed by two of the sisters, Pam Dyas and Cyndi Herbert.

Since it is a rule that no money may be spent on costumes, we used our long rush dresses and added elbow-length white gloves and as much rhinestone jewelry as we could find places to wear it. The effect was great under the lights on stage.

It was a fun night at Step-Sing and even more fun to bring home a new trophy.

Dorothy Stuck Given High Civilian Award

Dorothy Davis Stuck, former ARROW editor and now director of HEW's regional office for Civil Rights in Dallas, Texas, has been given the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's highest civilian award for distinguished service. The award was presented to Dorothy in special ceremonies in Washington, D.C., last summer, and was made "in recognition of her dedication to the cause of civil rights and her outstanding leadership and service in the office for Civil Rights."

Mrs. Stuck is the first woman to head the Dallas-Fort Worth Federal Executive Board, comprised of agency heads of federal government field installations. Major functions of an FEB are to coordinate interdepartmental programs of mutual concern, to improve management processes, and to serve as a link between the federal agencies and the citizens and service organizations.

Dorothy has been responsible for the administration in Region VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and subsequent Executive Orders on Civil Rights.

She directs a staff of 60.

Queen Smith Named Honorary Trustee

by MARGE PEMBERTON MCKINNEY
Columbia A.C.

Columbia College, Columbia, Mo., Board of Trustees named three women as honorary trustees recently, one of whom is Miss Queen Smith, Golden Arrow Pi Phi from Missouri Alpha. Actives and alumnae have always taken great pride in the accomplishments of Queen Smith; until her retirement, she was a professor in the School of Journalism at Missouri University. Prior to this, she was the society editor for the Columbia Daily Tribune. Her dedication to Missouri Alpha spans a lifetime in which she has written a history of the chapter and loyally supported chapter and alumnae activities. Each pledge class is treated to Queen's amusing and informative history lecture on Missouri Alpha. It is a highlight of pledgship and eagerly anticipated by active members.

Six years ago, Columbia College was fading into the oblivion that traps many private colleges today. Dr. Merle Hill, President, pioneered three changes that spelled the difference for C.C.—in May 1969, admissions began accepting male students, changed its name from 'Christian' to 'Columbia' and announced plans to become a four-year school. The academic program has been totally revamped to stress study for careers. In keeping with this forward approach to higher education, it is only logical for C.C. to include women on its Board of Trustees who have had successful careers in university and college programs.

A former student was questioned on recollections of her days as a reporter in Queen Smith's society editing course; "My first memory of Queen Smith was that of a sweet little lady, rimless glasses on her nose and a halo of white hair. She was addressing a big, burly linotype operator, hairy arms resplendent with gaudy tattoos. Due to the difference in height, Queen was addressing him at the level of his belt buckle! She was explaining in ladylike fashion how he had changed the meaning of a society story. There was no doubt in anyone's mind, listening to the onesided conversation, that the linotype operator was going to reset the story."

Another student recalls . . . "the Brenda Starr image was big in those days, and women students approached journalism classes with complete dedication. Queen Smith ruled supreme at the desk for society reporting. 'Her girls' adored her and always felt a cut above the female reporters on the news desk, because of their special relationship with Queen."

Another student and Pi Phi alumna adds, "we were used to tough-speaking editors who, with a word, could send a reporter flying to the rewrite desk. That's why we appreciated the genteel atmosphere of Queen Smith's classes."

Queen's mother graduated from Columbia College in 1890 when it was known as Christian College, a distinguished boarding school for young ladies. Her father, Stanley Smith, twice mayor of Columbia and a highly successful veterinarian for 78 years, proceeded to the University of Missouri as a clinician and special lecturer in veterinary medicine and surgery—and remained for 10 years!

Queen Smith's contribution to the Board of Trustees of Columbia College will reflect her years of experience and abiding interest in young people, and C.C. will be a better college for her influence.

On February 7, 1975, Cornelia Ward Paton, Illinois Beta, class of 1897, celebrated her 100th birthday. A member of the Cleveland East Alumnae Club since 1918, Cornelia now lives with her daughter in Waukegan, Ill. The Cleveland alumnae helped celebrate her birthday by sending many cards and a dozen wine carnations. Although Mrs. Paton's step and sight are slowed by the years, her Pi Phi associations remain dearest to her heart.

Oklahoma Alpha Burns Mortgage

by KATHY L. TAYLOR Oklahoma Alpha

At a tea with over 45 alumnae of the chapter attending, Oklahoma Alpha Pi Phi burned their house mortgage, symbolizing the actual ownership of the beautiful two-story colonial home.

The mortgage burning tea and day filled with special events was attended by Pi Phi from across the nation. Three alumnae attended from California: Anne Stueve Iverson, Jane Simmon Stockwell and Rosemary Kneeland Walbert. Anne Field Elder flew from Jenkintown, Pennsylvania. These four women were in the same pledge class at Oklahoma Alpha. Also from a great distance was Mrs. Olive Malumphy from Berlin, Conn.

Taking part in the Oklahoma Alpha mortgage burning ceremony are Emily Denning, chapter president; Betty Dolman Symcox, retiring House Corporation treasurer; Margaret Rice Knuckolls, president of House Corporation when the house was built; and Ruth Tarpley Johnson, House Corporation president.

Over ten alumnae who attended the tea were Golden Arrow Pi Phi. Elizabeth Boyd Reynolds, Oklahoma City, boasted the longest Pi Phi membership of any alumna in attendance. Mrs. Reynolds pledged in 1913, only three years after the Oklahoma Alpha chapter was founded.

Also announced at the tea were recipients of the Margaret Ann Nuckolls Scholarship. The scholarship was named in honor of Margaret Ann Rice Nuckolls, the retiring house corporation president. Mrs. Nuckolls was president of house corporation when the money was first being raised for the present $419,879.50 structure. This was the ninth Pi Phi house on the University of Oklahoma campus. The girls receiving the Nuckolls scholarship were Emily Denning, Ann Rogers, and Kathy L. Taylor.

A history of various antiques in the house was compiled and presented at the tea to our province president, Mary Lou Schmausser Wooten and the former house corporation board: Margaret Ann Rice Nuckolls, Helen Alford

The Oklahoma Alpha mortgage-free chapter house.

Johnston, Mary Elizabeth Hill Brittain, Dorothy Synnot Landsaw, Ver Griffin Willard, and Betty Dolman Syncox, treasurer. The current house corporation board who are all from the same pledge class, also received a copy of the history. The current board members are: Ruth Tarpley Johnson, president, Patty Price Castle, Barbara Berry Bass, Elinor Love Volker, and Betty Oliver O'Neal.

The history information was compiled by two new initiates, Candy Williams and Vicki Tebow, who spent Christmas break calling and writing alumnae to find out the unique stories about the beautiful antiques in the house. A permanent copy of the history is kept in the house on display. The chapter plans eventually to cover every antique in the house and consistently add to the history.

Four Are Princesses

The Indiana Betas in Bloomington are pleased and proud that four of the thirty-three 500 princesses belong to their chapter. The princesses were chosen in March and will reign over the 500 Mile Race activities in Indianapolis. The Pi Phi princesses are Sandy Bennett, and Stephony Lyons, who are still on the Bloomington campus; Barbara Boyd, who is at the I.U. Medical Center in Indianapolis; and Glenda Robinson who is now in Muncie attending Ball State University.

Virginia Gamma Celebrates Anniversary

by LISA GRABLE Virginia Gamma

On September 25, 1925, Virginia Gamma was installed when seventeen girls were initiated by Amy Burnham Onken. The local group, Delta Phi Kappa, petitioned Pi Beta Phi and was granted a charter at the 1925 Bigwin Convention. In honor of the Fiftieth Anniversary of our installation, 150 actives and alumnae of Virginia Gamma held a birthday celebration on March 7 and 8, 1975.

The fun began with a social hour held at the Hospitality House in Williamsburg. Old friendships were renewed with joyous squeals, and many alums were amazed at the way they remembered familiar faces they had not seen in many years. The actives had spent over a month getting the past 50 years of histories in shape for display (they received new brightly colored plastic binders, new glue on photographs, and a whole lot of reinforcers) and these histories, special messages sent to the chapter, and other memorabilia were arranged around the room. The actives found it surprisingly easy to talk to another Pi Phi, even if she were 40 years older! As Marietta Henderson, charter member, remarked, "The school was much smaller in those days, but we had as much fun as you all do!"

The banquet, also held at the Hospitality House, was highlighted by an amazing birthday cake for dessert—a seven foot long arrow! Our president, Nancy Long, and former president, Leanne Dorman, cut the cake as "Ring Ching Ching" was sung. After dessert, Nancy introduced Mary Liz Smith Sadler, Virginia Gamma's AAC chairman. Mary Liz recognized special guests, including Alice Person and Marietta Henderson, charter members. Also recognized were Phyllis Foster Parker, Delta Province Alumnae Province President; Diane Ahnfelt Hughes, Delta Province Coordinator for Fraternity Education; Maurine Stuart Dulin, chairman of the Ritual and Ceremonies Revision Committee; Micki Leef Stout, president of the May L. Keller Alumnae Club in Richmond; and Jimmie Parrott Espick, president of the Hampton Roads Alumnae Club. The planning committee for the celebration, made up entirely of actives headed by Lisa Grable, former vice president of moral advancement, was given recognition also.

Messages Received

Phyllis Parker spoke briefly, recognizing those present who were members of Delta Province alumnae clubs, and encouraging the active members to be active alumnae. Lisa Grable read special messages that had been received from the charter members—Marguerite Young, Irene Osborn Gay, Elizabeth Lee Fearn, Cabell Ferneyhough, Nancy Featherstone, Louise Sale Cassady Johnson, and Elizabeth Mercer Siersema. A quote from Ms. Gay's letter was the first sentimental note of the evening: "I recall so vividly the day of initiation. If I live another fifty years, I shall never forget the angelic face of Amy Burnham Onken who initiated us. As I walked into the room and saw her at the other end, I thought I had died and gone to heaven, for no person on earth ever looked so beautiful." Portions of the letters written by those inspecting the chapter in 1925 were read, and Marietta Henderson regaled us with a few stories of what Pi Phis were like at William and Mary in the 1920s.

The actives, led by Melissa Wright, performed a Memories Through the Decades skit. Chapter histories had been researched for interesting tidbits, and the actives appeared in authentic dress of the period. Marion Cody, in her flaming red flapper outfit, and Melissa, in her 50's mid-calf skirt and back-buttoned cardigan, stole the show.

Next the spring 1975 pledge class performed the "Founders' Day Song" (which they learned from the Centennial Convention record), complete with blue arrows in their hair.

Traditions Born

Actives announced two new traditions in honor of the anniversary. Leanne Dorman explained the Thelma Kite Stiffler Award, recognizing the sophomore who had contributed the most to chapter spirit and unity. A committee made up of officers who would know the contributions of sophomores had nominated four, and a secret chapter vote determined the winner. A beautiful plaque was designed with Mrs. Stiffler's generously donated badge placed on the upper plate, and 25 spaces for the names of annual winners. The name of Pam Cutler, new assistant rush chairman, was the first engraved on the plaque. Lisa Grable explained the Bess Ferguson Ayers Bride's Pin. Mrs. Ayers was the Wisconsin Alpha alum who did so much work with the petitioning group, helped them achieve Pi Beta Phi, and served for many years as AAC chairman. We were proud to have her daughter, Jane Ayers Davis, in attendance. Each Virginia Gamma who is about to be married, or have a 25th or 50th wedding anniversary, may write to the chapter requesting the pin, and wear it somewhere on her wedding costume as something borrowed.

The highlight of the evening was the last-night-of-rush skit performed by the actives. The skit is a candlelight ceremony, telling what Pi Phi means to us, accompanied by songs. A member of AAC, wrote, "Your final presentation of Pi Phi rush week program to us made me sit a little taller—you all have made the Fraternity so relevant, so much a part of "NOW"! How important that is in the "health" of a fraternity at the end of the 20th century!"

Saturday morning alumnae, collegians, and friends met again for an open house and coffee at the Pi Phi house. The alums and their husbands took the opportunity to re-inspect the old house, and admire our new shag carpeting.

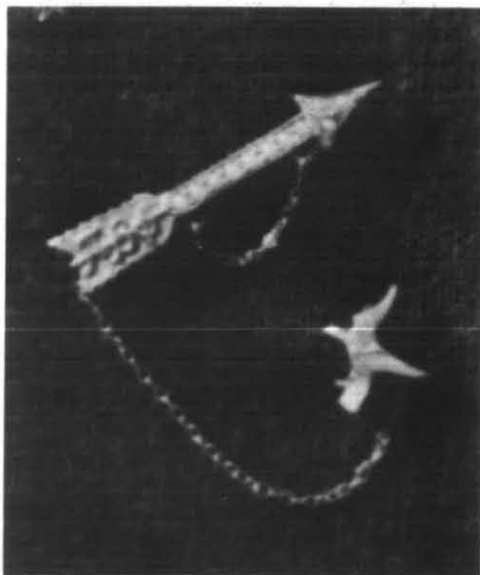

If the "Loved it!!—Delta APP," written on the welcoming banner outside, is any indication, everyone enjoyed this final hospitality in celebration of Virginia Gamma's Golden Anniversary weekend.

Special Badge Is Given To Chapter

by BARBARA LAHR, Indiana Gamma

On March 25 of this year, Indiana Gamma Pi Phis were greatly honored by the presentation to our chapter of the pin worn by the late Marion Webb Prince.

Mrs. Prince was an Indiana Gamma and an active alum. In 1953 Marion went to Gatlinburg, Tenn., where she was associated with the Settlement School as Arrowcraft manager. After 18 months of serving the school, she was named its director and held that position for fifteen years. During her time as director she performed a key role in the successful transition from Settlement School to Arrowmont and shared in the great expansion of the Workshop program.

Our chapter felt that since Mrs. Prince was so closely connected to Arrowmont and because of the pin's significance we would award the pin to the vice president of moral advancement each year.

Presentation of the pin was made by Virginia Brackett Green, a close friend of Marion Prince. They were active Indiana Gammas together, and Mrs. Green was chairman of the Settlement School at the time Marion was manager of the Arrowcraft shop. Mrs. Green spoke to our chapter of her experiences at the Settlement School and her hopes for Arrowmont in the future.

Arrowcraft Presents THE HERITAGE HANGING

This lovely handwoven hanging, designed by Tina McMorran, is approximately 16 × 18 inches. It uses overlaid vegetable dyed yards, and commemorates the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Arrowcraft Shop in 1926.

The hanging depicts the Arrowcraft Shop, the Little Pigeon River which flows nearby, Teachers' Cottage, the flowering countryside, and the splendor of the Great Smoky Mountains. All who have visited Gatlinburg and are familiar with Pi Phi's unique history and involvement there will find this a treasure.

The background fabric is rayon and linen in a natural tone. Other colors are mellow, soft earth tones. The hanging is suspended between two strips of carefully finished walnut.

The beautiful hanging can be ordered now. Cost is $40.00.

About The Designer . . .

Tina McMorran, weaver, dyes her own wools with "vegetable" dyes—that is, dyes made from plants such as indigo, sassafras, sumach, and poke. Many of her handwoven pieces are used as background for stitchery designs, and in some the design is carried out partly in weaving, partly in stitchery.

Vegetable dyed yarns are distinctive because of their soft, muted colors, and these are particularly fitting for Tina's designs, which usually have nature as their theme. Tina's love for the mountains and for trees and birds and flowers is apparent in nearly all her creations.

Tina McMorran studied weaving in her native town of Eugene, Oregon. She went to Pi Beta Phi Summer School of Crafts to continue her studies. While she was there she was offered the position as designer for the weavers at Arrowcraft, where she remained from 1947 to 1957. Since then she has devoted most of her time to weaving in her own studio in Gatlinburg. She weaves tapestries for churches, contemporary hangings, as well as traditional; much of her work she is commissioned to do. She is a member of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild and the 12 Designer Craftsmen; she demonstrates weaving each year at the Guild Fairs and continues to consult with the weaving department at Arrowcraft Shop.

Watson House Is Newest Dormitory

Watson House, Arrowmont's newest dormitory, has a long and varied history. Situated on the land purchased by Pi Beta Phi for the Settlement School in 1912, it had housed the Andrew Ogle family.

Pi Phi converted the building into a much needed health center. Marjorie Chalmers, whose career as Settlement School nurse lasted for more than 30 years, described it thus in her recently published book, Better I Stay:

"The Health Center was a white frame cottage with screened porches surrounded by trees and shrubs. Inside there were four rooms. The office was very business-like with big desk, filing cases, typewriter and two phones. One . . . was an inter-school, battery-powered wall phone.

"The work room had cupboards and cabinets, sinks and sterilizers and a well stocked surgical dressing table. In the class room was a bed for emergencies, demonstrations and instruction, a folding operating table, dental equipment, and baby scales.

"The big room to the east of the office was bare and ugly with an old white hospital bed and a couple of chairs. The second year I was there, this room was converted into nurse's living quarters, and took a new lease on life. With its fireplace of native stone, a rose and blue rug, bright draperies, well filled book shelves, growing plants and easy chairs, it was a pleasant place to relax after a busy day."

When the Health Center was moved to the newly constructed building beside the Arrowcraft Shop, in 1948 (now the Administration Building), the cottage became a home for the family of Orlie Watson, caretaker for the Pi Phi properties. The Watsons' three sons, Neal, Warren, and Grant, grew up in the house. Mrs. Watson (Josephine McCarter) wove for the Arrowcraft Shop for 25 years and passed away in 1970.

After Orlie Watson's death in 1973 the Board of Governors approved remodelling the building for use as a dormitory by Arrowmont graduate assistants. The four large, comfortable rooms can accommodate eight girls at a time.

In the fall of 1974 the "new" Watson House was officially dedicated. After a luncheon attended by members of the Board of Governors and the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club, Neal Watson cut the wine and blue ribbons across the front door, and the guests were treated to a tour of Arrowmont's newest "addition."

Pi Phi visitors mount the steps for an inspection tour of Watson House.

"Room for Strength and Courage" in the Smokies

In a tiny mountain village, almost hidden from the world, Pi Beta Phi established a Settlement School and staffed it with gallant women whose ruggedness matched the very real challenges they faced. For them the never ending problems and hardships seemed to serve as a stimulus and tonic, perhaps because they knew they were involved in a truly meaningful endeavor.

First of all they needed a rare combination of courage and compassion—a love of service and a willingness to sacrifice themselves. But even this would have been too little to sustain them had they lacked one further essential—an almost passionate devotion to the physical environment in which they found themselves, an enchanting world of forests and peaks and rivers and streams known as the Great Smoky Mountains.

What this environment meant to these particular women has never been more beautifully expressed than in the words of Marjorie Chalmers as she recalls her experiences in the pages of a book entitled Better I Stay, in which she recounts samples of the adventures she experienced during her more than thirty years as Settlement School and community nurse.

If her years of service brought her any special honors or awards she does not mention them; but no one could read this simple account without recognizing that it was written by an unusually sensitive and capable human being who repeatedly and willingly risked her own life in the service of others.

If Miss Chalmers had not decided to become a nurse she could have made a name for herself as a professional writer. She has the heart of a poet, the eyes and ears of a journalist, and a sense of humor that is irresistible. What her efforts contributed to Pi Beta Phi's image in the Great Smoky Mountains can never be measured.

The risks that were part of the fabric of her life cannot be recounted here. The colorful samples of picturesque mountain dialect cannot be repeated. But her poetic descriptions of the setting that sustained her cannot be resisted.

"Surely, I thought, one should have the happy gift of patience in these hills. They stand, serene and strong, never-changing, yet ever-changing. One can stand in prosaic fashion, feet firmly set on earth, while the spirit seems to stand a-tiptoe on the heights. Mental arms fling wide to embrace such beauty. Life permeates every cell, flooding away grief and fear, to make room for strength and courage. How often that feeling brought an uplift of soul that seems like a psalmist's exaltation."

"There is so much beauty all around us, no matter where we look. Should the tier on tier of mountain ranges, the sheer drop of a cliff, the towering height of magnificent old trees awe you with over-much grandeur, rest your eyes on the daintiness at your feet. Lacy, delicate lichen like fairy beds of fern, great blue violets, starry in their setting of blue green leaves, fragile tiny slender-leaved pansy-like miniatures—the daintiest and the sweetest of the violet family."

"It had been a silver gray day. Mt. Harrison and old Sugarlands Ridge had wrapped their shoulders 'round with wooly lengths of cloud. The air was coolly moist against the face—not cold—and little tendrils of hair curled tightly, as if for warmth, against cheek and neck. Low gray clouds enfolded the valley and the smoke curled downward like tawny plumes, stirring gently with the wind's slow breathing."

"The hills are always beautiful, and I never weary of them. They have become the very background of my life—strong and calm, untouched by the busyness of every day. They are like old friends, dependable and sure. Changes pass over them, like storm of grief and joy's sunlight. But still they stand, serene."

Better I Stay has been printed through the efforts of the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club in Gatlinburg. It is on sale at the Arrowcraft Shop for $2.75 plus Tennessee state tax. Out-of-state would be tax free but subject to a small fee for postage and handling. Direct inquiries to the Arrowcraft Shop.

French Society Initiates Author

by DORRIS KARCHER WELLING
Little Rock A.C.

Ruth Moore Malone, Arkansas Alpha, was inducted recently into the Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin in a ceremony at the Chateau du Clos de Vougeot at Corton, France.

A robed member of the Grand Council of the Chevaliers du Tastevin tapped Ruth on the shoulder with an ancient, gnarled vine root, thus signifying her acceptance in the Chevaliers. The ceremony, held in France's burgundy country, was followed by an elegant dinner in the chateau's great hall, accompanied by Burgundian wine songs.

Relatively few American women are invited to join Tastevin, although there are some 1,900 members throughout the United States in chapters of major cities. They meet periodically to sample great French wines, particularly the burgundies.

The ceremony was conducted by officials in red robes and wearing red hats trimmed, like the robes, in gold brocade.

Ruth was presented a silver burgundy sampling cup worn on a ribbon around the neck in the same manner of sommeliers, or wine stewards.

Closer to home, Ruth is food editor of Holi-

Members Involved In Student Government

by JACKIE NICHOLS, Minnesota Alpha

Approximately 15% of the University of Minnesota's student senators are members of Minnesota Alpha. Louise Koste and Terri Wray were elected last spring. Besides being a senator, Terri holds a chairing position on the College of Liberal Arts Board.

Roxie Goertz, also elected to the senate last spring, is involved with the University Election's Commission, Senate Committee on Resources and Planning, and was recently appointed to be one of six student representatives to the University Board of Regents.

As a student senator, Jane Hartley was a hiring chairman for a Title IX University Committee and she is serving on the University Grant Fund Committee.

Other members of the Minnesota Alpha chapter hold respected positions on committees of the University of Minnesota. Last fall, Bobbie Kuller was elected to the University Fee's Committee. Debbie Searles serves on the campus committees on student behavior and on printing and publication. Melanie Snider is a member of the University Health Service Committee.

Minnesota Alpha's Diane Houpt is the chairman of the Committee on Convocations and the Arts, a planning committee of cultural programs for the University of Minnesota.

Minnesota Alpha Pi Phis are very well represented within the different committees of the University of Minnesota, and within the main governing body itself, the student senate.

Province President Is Outstanding Greek

When your husband not only suggests, but insists, that you attend some sort of function away from home, it should be "suspicious time." But Mary Lou Schmausser Wootten was all innocence as she left the house one evening last March.

Mary Lou, Omicron Province President since 1971, was headed for a complete surprise. She had been selected to receive the award as Outstanding Greek Alumna during Greek Week at the University of Oklahoma. The award is given annually by the University to one Greek woman and one Greek man "who have contributed in large measure to the success and furtherance of the Greek system at large and his or her own Fraternity in particular both on this campus and in the community."

The award was no surprise to the Oklahoma Alpha chapter, however, since they nominated Mrs. Wootten for the honor. Her family also knew all about it, and husband Bob had provided all the necessary information that led to the award.

Mrs. Wootten is an Iowa Beta initiate, and she has been a member of the Oklahoma City Alumnae Club for 21 years, having served in nearly every office in the club, including president in 1969-70. She was a founding member of the Oklahoma City Junior Alumnae Club. She was a member of the fund raising committee for housing at Oklahoma Alpha and Oklahoma Beta. She has attended five national Conventions.

The two Wootten children, Pam and Skeet, led Mary Lou into PTA, Cub Scout, and Camp Fire work and she has been very active in Episcopal Church work.

She is active with the Oklahoma City Symphony Orchestra Women's Committee, is an honorary member of the Women's Board Lyric Theatre, is a volunteer in nearly every philanthropic endeavor, and is listed in Who's Who in Oklahoma City.

But ask Mary Lou what was the biggest surprise in her life last March 26, and she'll tell how very honored she was to be named Outstanding Greek Alumna at the University of Oklahoma.

Kansas Alpha Pi Phis had an exciting night recently trying to retrieve their stolen composite. Disguised by sweat-shirts and with charcoal on their faces, a group of sophomores raided various houses until they found the missing composite and brought it home. Floridian Tells Of Three Careers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Because the following letter proved so interesting, we decided to use it as written, rather than trying to re-phrase it into a news story.)

Dear Editor:

Your request in The ARROW for news of Pi Phi members who are listed in Who's Who is belatedly answered, with apologies.

It has been my honor to be listed for many years, not only in Who's Who in America, but also in Who's Who of American Women, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Who's Who in American Politics, World Who's Who of Women, and Two Thousand Women of Achievement, published in England.

My Pi Phi membership, and my service as a province president are always proudly listed.

I graduated from Syracuse University in 1931, embarking upon my first career, as a teacher, drama coach, and department head. Then the excitement of merchandising lured me into becoming a buyer, and then a merchandise manager. I married Frank E. Williams, an attorney in St. Louis, in 1940, and retired from business shortly thereafter. And a good thing, too! I was glad to have time to serve as president of the St. Louis Alumnae Club, attend the Pi Phi Conventions, and know well, and admire fervently, our Amy Onken. She had conducted the initiation at Syracuse when I became a full-fledged Pi Phi. I was province president of the then Epsilon Province, working under Amy, a privilege I shall always treasure.

My husband's illness forced his retirement, and mine, in 1948, and we moved to Florida. You guessed it! Our first caller was a Pi Phi, and I continue to be active in the alumnae club in St. Petersburg, where we made our home.

Florida politics became my third career, working up the ranks to become the Republican National Committeewoman of Florida in 1956, and a member of the National Executive Committee that same year. After the death of my husband in 1957, I began traveling the country for the Republican Party. The next year President Eisenhower asked me to become co-chairman of the Republican Party's National Committee, and the director of all women's activities for the party, with the Washington Headquarters. It was a zestful challenge, being the top woman in the party—a post I held until 1964, when I remarried and retired.

We enjoy our leisure, and time to travel around the world. We follow philanthropic interests together, and I serve as president of the St. Petersburg Women's Club. Our Panhellenic group here is large and active. We have a Professional Panhellenic chapter here also, which my membership in Zeta Phi Eta, honorary drama fraternity, permits me to attend actively.

I cherish the fact that Syracuse University gave me its highest alumni award in 1959, the Arents Medal, "for high achievement in public affairs," for which I was also decorated by the Department of Defense.

It was fascinating to be on the Executive Arrangements Committee for two Republican National Conventions, and make major addresses before the Conventions. I was privileged to be the first woman to preside over any portion of any national political Convention, in 1960.

May I compliment you on the excellence of The ARROW?

Yours in Pi Beta Phi,

New Chapter's Dream Becomes A Reality

The members of Illinois Iota have recently learned the meaning of the expression "a dream come true." A year and a half ago, when they were told they would be living in a new home soon, it seemed like an impossible dream. Even as they watched the plans being drawn up and the construction progress, the girls found it hard to believe they ever would be living in the beautiful home. On March 1, the long awaited moving day finally arrived.

As the packing boxes have been stored away and the girls are settling into their new home they realize that their dream has at last come true. Currently there are thirty-nine very proud Pi Phis eagerly waiting to show off their new home. The chapter gives a thousand thanks to the Bloomington-Normal Alumnae Club and Illinois Iota House Corporation for their hard work and support. An extra special thank you goes to Mrs. Jean Freytag, whose tireless efforts and love helped turn the dream into reality.

Organizes Council Coordinating Greeks

by KAREN BARTELLONI
Vermont Beta

Since the spring of 1972, when Becky Pardee became an active Pi Phi sister, she has been involved in many activities which have helped support the Greek system at University of Vermont, as well as benefiting Pi Beta Phi. She was president of her pledge class and was named the most outstanding pledge.

During her 1974 term as Panhellenic president, she organized the Greek Coordinating Council for fraternities and sororities to handle social and academic activities. She has worked with the administration in support of the Greek system and has helped in planning Greek Week activities.

Despite all of her activities, she has kept high academic standing in her nursing curriculum and has been on the Dean's List. She has been selected for Who's Who.

Becky is the current president of the Northeast Panhellenic Council and planned a spring convention at Penn State. The convention offered workshops on rush ideas, pledging, and social activities.

Becky feels that Pi Phi has been a great learning and growing experience. It has given her a chance to meet people, to become involved in the community, and to communicate better with the administration.

When asked what kind of advice she would give to incoming freshman girls, she stated, "They should not come to college with any preconceived notions of what sororities are. They should become acquainted with each one and get an idea of what each is like."

Four Are Skaters

Four New York Delta Pi Phis are part of a dedicated women's ice hockey team. The Cornell Women's team, with an 11-2 league record, has traveled all over the Northeast. Membership on this team requires a great deal of commitment—Diane Muka, Mala Roenick, Teddi Covell and Sue Gurda all make the cold trek to 7:00 A.M. practices. Women's ice hockey is as serious and demanding as any intercollegiate sport.

Real Sisters Are Weekend Guests

by LAUREL BRAIN
Maryland Beta

An opportunity to experience sorority life was extended to the real little sisters of Maryland Beta. Younger sisters and close friends of high school age were invited to share in a variety of activities.

The weekend began Saturday morning when the little sisters toured the chapter house and were introduced to the Pi Phi actives.

We next proceeded to the National Zoo in Washington, D.C., where we spent the afternoon. The high point at the zoo was seeing the panda bears from the Peoples Republic of China.

For dinner we treated the little sisters at a pizza house. That night was the slumber party, spent lying on our sleeping bags watching horror movies and eating popcorn and other "munchies." The next morning the big sisters prepared a delicious brunch for the little sisters.

We then said farewell to the little sisters with songs and a friendship circle. It was a delightful experience for all those who participated.

Mardi Gras is a day when anything goes, especially in costumes. Louisiana Betas Colleen Kean and Nancy Bolton wear the costumes they chose when the chapter entertained Kappa Delta at a typical Mardi Gras dinner—red beans and rice, and King Cake, both New Orleans delicacies.

Susan Scace, left, and Kim Franks, both Alabama Betas, have been chosen "Ladies of the Realm" at the Memphis Cotton Carnival. They will act as ambassadors of good will throughout the cotton producing South. Susan represents Austin, Texas, while Kim hails from Harrisburg, Ill.

"Mrs. Orr" Helps With Practical Joke

by DAINA BENNETT, Louisiana Alpha

The Louisiana Alpha actives played a small joke on the pledges and it ended up being a big success. The pledges were told that Grand President Mrs. Orr was coming to visit our chapter. At the announcement the actives, who were "clued" in, reacted in a way that really convinced the pledges this was a very important event. In the week that followed, before Mrs. Orr's "arrival," the house was cleaned until it was shiny and songs were practiced to perfection. Pledge class president Linda Perez wrote and practiced a speech that she was to give while presenting the dozen red roses that were ordered.

Mrs. Orr was supposed to arrive in New Orleans on a flight around six o'clock and all the actives and pledges met to go to the airport. At the time of arrival, the dressed up Pi Phis went to the gate, ready to greet our Grand President with song, roses, and lots of Pi Phi love.

President Jodie Sartor and Pledge Trainer Carter Wells scouted the approaching people until they saw a lovely lady coming down alone. They went to meet her and told her that if she would help us with a joke, she could have a dozen roses. She agreed and played along with us beautifully. Even after our song she was still convincing the pledges. Linda gave her speech, then as we were all applauding, our "Mrs. Orr" walked away. For a few seconds there was a stunned look on our pledges faces, then slowly, everyone caught on to the joke.

The surprise ended with another surprise, a cooky-shine at the Pi Phi house and lots of laughs. We all knew this would develop into another of the many fond memories we will always have of Pi Phi.

Chapters Rush Together

It was an exciting time for West Virginia Alpha Pi Phis when they visited their sister chapter, West Virginia Gamma, at Bethany College. Gamma had invited the University chapter to the spring semester rush party.

Plans for the two chapters to get together had fallen through many times in the past, but this time they succeeded. It was a pleasant sharing of ideas at the Bethany chapter's rush. Pi Phis as well as the rushees truly enjoyed the afternoon.

Alum Interest Group Sews For Patients

by BETTY BAKER McDERMOTT
Kansas City A.C.

Pi Phi alumnae in the Kansas City, Missouri-Shawnee Mission, Kansas Club organized interest groups this past year to promote friendships and give members an opportunity to indulge in their favorite hobbies, such as antiques, theatre, gardening, choral singing, etc. One of the most active and dedicated of these groups is the Mercy Sewing section, which meets twice a month and is headed by Rose McCulloch Dressler, National Director of Chapter Histories.

Eight Pi Phi chapters are represented, with the following alumnae participating regularly: Margaret Mullison Hennessy, Edith Hibbard McClure, Dorothy Whitney Ruby, Illinois Zeta; Jane McGinness Stearns, Carolyn Combe DeGross, Shirley McGinness Havener and Rose Dressler, Kansas Alpha; Agnes Hildebrand Leonard and Mary Stone Fithian, Missouri Alpha; Helen Culbertson Stubbs, Kansas Beta; Betty Baker McDermott, Nebraska Beta; and Mary Custis Hart, Wisconsin Gamma.

Their main project has been making small stuffed dolls, girls dresses, and toy bags for Children's Mercy Hospital, which has been in existence since 1897 and serves sick and crippled children under 14 years of age, without regard to religion, race, residence, or ability to pay. Over 50,000 in-bed and 150,000 out patients are being treated each year. It is a favorite charity for Kansas City residents and those in the surrounding area.

In the months from June through November, 1974, the Pi Phi sewing group finished and donated 90 dolls, 70 dresses, and 30 toy bags. Old nylon hose are collected from Pi Phi alumnae and cut into strips for stuffing the dolls, and a constant search is on for inexpensive cotton prints and left-over remnants from alumnae sewing projects. Some ladies stuff the dolls or sew on buttons; others do basic sewing. One paints faces on the dolls. New recruits are welcome, and since there is a never-ending supply of such articles needed, this will be a continuing project.

Earns Cheering Honors

by Mary Helen Trouche, Georgia Alpha

Donna Gay Mathis, a Pi Phi at the University of Georgia, recently was named an All-American Cheerleader by the International Cheerleader Foundation. A friendly, outgoing girl, Donna is a great asset to the Georgia Alpha chapter as captain of the cheerleaders and as captain of the women's gymnastics team. In January she finished second in the gymnastics meet sponsored by the Georgia Intercollegiate Athletics for women.

Donna began her participation in gymnastics during her high school years, and has continued working faithfully throughout her four years at college. Even though she was married last summer, she has remained active in sorority and campus activities. Somehow she finds the time and energy to remain an "A" student, an active athlete, and a busy housewife. We are all very proud of Donna's accomplishments.

A Pi Beta Phi
Heritage
HOLT HOUSE

These Staffordshire dogs flanking the fireplace in the parlor were acquired by the Holt House Committee last fall from a Monmouth antique shop. They previously adorned another old Monmouth residence.

Restoration is the key word among Holt House Committee members this year. The portraits of Major and Mrs. Jacob Holt which hang in the large music room at Holt House are in desperate need of restoration.

The prized portraits were a gift of the Holt's granddaughter and were painted between 1837 and 1839. Both are in critical condition.

Illinois Pi Phi alumnae already are responding to a call for action by Alumnae Province Presidents Aline Sharp and Betsy Vogt. Well over $100 had been collected by The ARROW deadline. But the Holt Portrait Restoration Fund needs a bigger show of Pi Phi power. It is estimated the cost of renewing the two paintings will total about $1,000.

Holt House Treasurer Viola Cureton has consulted with highly qualified experts about the project. Because of the buckling of the canvases, it is felt that they probably will need new backing in addition to the restoration of the oil surfaces.

The Holt House Committee and many, many Pi Phis aware of the problem feel the portraits are much too important to allow their further deterioration. Contributions in any amount will be welcome indeed.

The newly redecorated Historical Room features several good pieces of antique furniture, including this walnut secretary. The doorway at right opens to the upstairs hall where a spinning wheel occupies a prominent spot. Directly across the hall is the bedroom rented by Ada Bruen and Libbie Brook in 1867.

Victorian sidechairs are newly upholstered in a lovely wine velvet, as is an elegant antique sofa in the Historical Room. The new wallpaper in a blue and white stripe motif is perfect with the draperies made of Swiss lace on net. The floral carpet was refit and laid wall-to-wall in the recent redecorating project.

A Mammy bench stands next to the black walnut showcase which houses the wax figurines of the twelve Pi Phi Founders. Photographs of Founders are hung above the bench, which is painted black and is decorated with gold stenciling.

Doing Unto Others . . .

Through Chapter Philanthropies

Local philanthropic activities are a constant source of pride within chapters, as young women on campuses everywhere realize the worth of helping others.

The Easter season provided an opportunity for several chapters to do something extra for someone else. LOUISIANA BETA shared their Easter celebration with children from the School for the Deaf. Thetas and Pi Phis dyed ten dozen eggs which they hid in the front yards of both houses. After the children collected the eggs, they played games and were treated to refreshments. Pamela Gray says, "When they left, each had a big smile on his face and an Easter basket in his hand. But if you think they had fun, you should have seen the Pi Phis! When it comes to Easter egg hunts, we're still children at heart!"

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA took Easter to a nursing home. As they approached, armed with baskets, refreshments, songs, and a lot of enthusiasm, the reception was overwhelming. According to Carol Dulin, the elderly citizens joined in the songs—from hymns to "Here Comes Peter Cottontail," "often singing louder than we did. Afterwards we talked with the patients and joined them in refreshments."

Fifty WYOMING ALPHA Pi Phis, along with Sigma Chi men, raised over $300 for the Easter Seal foundation by collecting donations for Easter lilies in downtown Laramie. Sally Ann Shurmur notes that the money raised in Laramie will help send handicapped children to an Easter Seal camp in Lander, Wyoming, this summer.

MISSISSIPPI BETAS sponsored an Easter egg hunt for the local day-care center. Sixteen 3- and 4-year olds hunted the eggs, enjoyed lemonade and "bunny cookies" after the hunt, and played their favorite games before going home. "Besides giving our group a chance to get involved with the Oxford community," says Katherine Williams, "we enjoyed every minute of it!"

Alpha Tau Omega at Washington State University sponsored a Dance Marathon with all the proceeds going to the National Association for Retarded Citizens and the Epileptic Foun-

ation of America. WASHINGTON BETA sponsored a dancing couple who, although finishing in 6th place, raised over $400. The A T O's goal of $10,000 was realized. Lorri Eby says, "With about 38 couples dancing, only 3 couples dropped out. This goes to show the spirit and enthusiasm within these young people, as they pushed themselves at the price of possibly making someone's life a little easier."

One of Pi Phi's newest chapters, CALIFORNIA ETA, sponsored a Valentine Party for junior high age girls of the Santa Ana Salvation Army. Pi Phis baked or bought all the treats and favors and each made a Valentine to present to each of the younger girls. Sally Steitz adds, "They all seemed thrilled and so appreciative of our efforts. Needless to say, all the Pi Phis enjoyed themselves immensely."

Debbie Searles tells of the annual Campus Carnival at the University of Minnesota, when MINNESOTA ALPHA and Sigma Alpha Epsilon based their Carni skit on Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour. Proceeds from the Carnival this year went to the Minnesota Association for Crippled Children and Debbie says that a lot of really hard work went into Carni so that there could be a generous donation to the charity.

OHIO ALPHA adopted a family of ten whose father is physically disabled and whose mother can't leave the children and work. The chapter collected food, clothing, and toys for the family's Christmas, gave them the chapter tree and decorations, and a turkey. On Valentine's Day, the children received candy and the family had a ham for dinner. "The family had no trouble expressing their joy and gratitude for our interest," says the ARROW Correspondent. "We will continue this as long as we possibly can. The experience of giving is our most treasured and rewarding event."

MAINE ALPHA sisters volunteered their services to a home for severely retarded children, helping in the feeding, dressing, and training of the children who range in age from two to eighteen. Other sisters volunteer in the Big Sister program and in local tutoring programs. According to Karen Connor, "Chapter members feel they have gained some much needed experience for future work in special education as well as a great deal of satisfaction in helping those less fortunate."

MAINE ALPHA Pi Phi and men of Sigma Phi Epsilon visited a nursing home one Saturday in March. Jane DeLois notes that "musical entertainment highlighted the afternoon as a Sig Ep played his guitar while the rest of the group joined in with singing and clapping. The enjoyment of the elderly was reflected by sparkling eyes and smiling faces."

NEW YORK GAMMA raised over $3000 for Cystic Fibrosis by sponsoring a dance marathon on the St. Lawrence University campus. Susan Pryzgodka writes, "As the dancers 'rocked around the clock,' Pi Phi could be found participating in all aspects of the event, from several sisters dancing, to the rest of the house preparing and serving the sandwiches, the fifteen gallons of coffee, and other nourishment which the dancers consumed over the forty-hour weekend, and offering encouragement and moral support to the couples."

Each year the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at the University of Nevada in Reno sponsors a Thanksgiving Day Food Drive, with the food being given to needy Indian families living in the area. NEVADA ALPHA gathered the most food in the door-to-door collection and won a first place trophy for the spirit award.

In February, KANSAS BETA sold singing valentines and netted over $100 for the American Cancer Society. In March, they teamed up with Sigma Chi, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Alpha Delta Pi and Lambda Chi Alpha for a "Bump-a-thon." This dance marathon, where everybody does the "bump," earned nearly $3,000 for Muscular Dystrophy. Jan Nelson says, "The highlights of the marathon were the four couples who made it the whole sixty hours 'bumping,' and the telegram we received from Jerry Lewis praising our efforts."

Muscular Dystrophy also benefited from a Dancathon at the University of Utah. UTAH ALPHA Sue Tracy vowed to be the second national winner in a row from the chapter, but after obtaining many pledges from friends, neighbors, and several companies, she had an unfortunate skiing accident and was unable to participate in the dancing. Barbara Roethke explains, "An energetic pledge, Ann Verbeck, came to Sue's rescue and successfully danced the full 36 hours. Together their efforts brought their pledges to a winning total of over $100 an hour."

Still another dance marathon was held at the University of South Carolina, in preparation for Derby Day, with proceeds going to the Midlands Center for Retarded Children. Carol Dulin says that "although SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA didn't win, we feel happy to have participated in this charity event."

Spring activities seemed to be non-stop events for IDAHO ALPHA, not the least being participants in the University of Idaho Campus Chest Week, where all funds made and contributed by the chapter went to charity.

CLASS OF '75 and what it can expect of the job situation is being discussed by everyone. With statistics available to support any line of thinking, the projections are reminiscent of Charles Dickens' "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times . . ." It does seem clear that the days of the giant rush for new degree holders is over, but jobs are there and waiting for the man or woman who is not tied into a single job expectation image or location.

FRESHMEN, FALL 1974. Educational publications eagerly await the results of studies and polls which focus on the newest crop of college freshmen. This interest was no doubt further generated by the student of the late 'sixties and his effect on the college campus. This year the pollsters report a "middle of the road" crop who seem to believe what most other people believe. The Chronicle of Higher Education says they are more cautious and more conservative than their recent predecessors in political, social, and academic views. Applied sciences are growing in career choices while the number of freshmen aiming toward a teacher's certificate is the lowest in many years.

CAN'T READ, CAN'T WRITE is the continued cry of persons dealing with the student population, and it is a subject which has already received comment in this column. Many critics are quick to blame, and there are remedial trends in the making: (1) a number of colleges are returning to required basic English courses—though they feel the meat and potatoes should have been offered and digested in high school; (2) remedial reading is offered for those who know they don't read well, and (3) in at least one academic area (economics) a new text finds the subject matter presented in basic, common sense words which the author says might be pretty dull to a bright student.

BICYCLES have a place on campus, but a place for on-campus bicycles has proved to be a problem in parking, protection, and vacation storage. Locked garage space is rented some places, while in dorms where it is allowed, students tote their bikes with them to their rooms. Sorority house lounges and formerly gracious entrance halls have become cycle parking areas, and the University of Illinois offered an indoor tennis court for bike storage with guaranteed protection from theft and damage over the Christmas holidays.

CONTINUING EDUCATION was a new term a decade ago. It meant programs encompassing courses, primarily in the self-enrichment areas, available to women who either wanted to continue an education interrupted by marriage and children or women bored with bridge and shopping and in search of new dimensions. Today about 500 institutions offering continuing education programs—and many others where women enroll like other students—report that this segment of the student body has continued to grow and to develop new directions. These are mature women, serious about their studies, with well formed direction and dedication, women who "won't put up with irrelevant learning." One literature professor, who had anticipated his continuing education class as an assignment he had to put up with, reported that this could be the most exciting audience he had met in his years of teaching. "These women read with perception and understanding. They relate to literature and experience because they have had a lifetime of experiences, too." The current term for these students is "reentry women."

IN THE BOOKSTORES: As 1974 ended the campus reading survey reported that across the nation How To Be Your Own Best Friend, The Joy of Sex, and Tales of Power were one, two, and three respectively. Centennial, number eight, surprisingly made the top ten within weeks of publication in hardback and without paperback yet on the market.

WATTS LINE: More than a decade ago telephone companies contemplated a new discovery, that a small segment of the population—the college student—was the greatest user of long distance during the late evening hours when businesses were closed and most other people had gone to bed. Heady thoughts indeed when one considered the possibilities: an existing market ready to be doubled, even tripled, with such incentives as lower evening rates, direct dialing, etc. Habits could be formed which could result in a lifetime of phone revenues. And so, as not only the college student but the entire population learned to direct dial and was convinced that it was cheaper and more satisfactory to phone than write, the word WATTS line entered the vocabulary of further convenience. Students, though not considered a market for WATTS, were quick to realize its potential and anxious to make it fit their well-formed phone habits. They did some figuring. A state-wide WATTS line installed in a fraternity or sorority house could save money and eliminate those troublesome individual bills. At the University of Mississippi one chapter with 100 members installed a state-wide WATTS line and bills its Mississippi members $7.50 each month, out-of-staters $2.00. Everybody has ample phone time, everybody saves money, everybody is happy—the treasurer happiest of all.

PUTTING WEEKENDS TO WORK is the goal of a growing number of institutions which are loath to see campus facilities idle and at the same time are aware of potential students out there. Employed persons say that the weekend class time is preferable to evenings because "we have more energy then." Where the idea has been put to work, both students and schools are agreeing that it is a success. Class hours are between 7 and 10 Friday evening, 9 til 4 Saturday, 1 til 4 on Sunday, and courses range from judo or square dancing to graduate seminars, often advanced degree requirements which a student may attend for three hours on Saturday rather than shorter evening sessions two evenings a week. This also makes the same course available to the person beyond commuting range, possibly driving 100 miles or more for the single Saturday or Sunday session.

INFLUENTIAL LOBBIERS: The University of California Student Lobby was rated among the 12 most influential lobbies in the state capital, according to a poll of legislators by the California Journal.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE requirements, either for entrance to college or for graduation or both, have brought generations of groans and grumbling from all but language majors. In the past decade the number of schools dropping this requirement has increased significantly. The Association of Departments of Foreign Languages' survey shows that 1965's 90% with degree requirements in foreign language diminished to 76% in 1970 and 56% this year. Half of these schools do have at least one department retaining language in curriculum requirements, however.

FOR ENGLISH MAJORS the job hunting scene has never been easy, and many secured a teacher's certificate as a sort of insurance. The University of Missouri may be a pioneer in amending this situation. It has established its first placement bureau for the College of Arts and Science with an emphasis on aid to this silent majority who are "qualified for a variety of jobs because they are trained to be competent researchers, careful readers, skilled writers and orderly, creative thinkers," according to a University spokesman.

NEW LOOK AT GRADES is being implemented by a program in the California university system. After a five year waiting period, a student may erase an entire year of poor grades and start over. The same approach is being applied to disciplinary records at the University of Miami where students can clean the disciplinary slate by serving a period of community volunteer work.

FOOD AND WOMEN in athletics top all other subjects in space occupied in college publications during the second half of the 1974-75 school year. "Food" as a subject has been discussed under shortage of, cost of, gripes about, nutritive value of, and waste of. Campaigns to cut waste continue with success; Tufts reported that serving hamburgers from one table and the buns from another saved $1,500-worth of unused buns—a fact which may also be related to current campus interest in weight watching.

EXCESS WEIGHT and what to do to eradicate or prevent it is a matter of considerable attention at many schools. The approach to the problem ranges from courses of study (some for credit, some not), volunteer seminars, weight watching tables in cafeterias and commons, to exercise sessions. At least one campus offers a mutual support program so that participants may offer each other encouragement and help each other continue a mental attitude which will help maintain the weight loss when accomplished.

WOMEN may be the most talked about aspect of college athletic programs, but in Canada interest in this area is only part of the total picture. A recent study (a joint project of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada and the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union) has resulted in a recommendation that Canadian institutions begin restricting recruitment of American players and spend their savings on women's athletic programs. Though most Canadian schools oppose American recruitment, they fell into the recruitment trap as sports-writers and fans mourned the number of Canadian stars being lured to American schools through athletic scholarships. A. W. Matthews, who conducted the study, says that Canadian universities must choose between dropping football and basketball or offering enough athletic scholarships to compete successfully.

GREENHOUSE or tropical rain forest are terms used frequently these days to describe the living quarters of many students. While the current interest in growing things certainly adds to the campus, it can present problems like "who'll water my plants during spring break?" One campus political hopeful campaigned for office with the promise that he, if elected, would guarantee care and housing for students' plants during vacation periods.

MATHOPHOBIA is a disease prevalent among all ages, according to Mitchell Lazarus of the Education Development Center in Newton, Mass. Mathophobia has caused many students, past and present, to change college major just to avoid math requirements. Symptoms, Mitchell says, include irrationality, blockage of the emotional and intellectual tracts, and paralyzing anxiety, all caused by the belief that this is a numbers game where nobody wins. Some observers have noted, however, that some who suffer from mathophobia are able to discard all symptoms when a dollar sign precedes the figures.

Win Strollers Trophy With Delta Tau Delta

by KIM JACOBS, South Dakota Alpha

"Some years are just destined to be good ones, I guess," was the comment of one of the joyous Pi Phis at South Dakota Alpha this spring as they were awarded the nearly four foot tall first place trophy for the best Strollers show. Strollers, an annual variety competition teaming fraternities and sororities together and then pitting the teams against each other, is the highlight of the year.

The Strollers trophy was the crowning effort in a #1 year for South Dakota Alpha. The year got off to a good start when our house won two trophies for our homecoming float! Not only did we receive the cup for the best combined housing entry, but we also took the sweepstakes award.

Our enthusiasm was renewed in November when it was announced at the Panhellenic banquet that Pi Phis would receive the plaque for the highest grades for the preceding school year.

If these two indicators were not enough to reassure us of a Strollers victory, then we should have relied on superstition. Five years ago, the last time we were paired up with the men of Delta Tau Delta, the directors' last names were Anderson and O'Brien. Their show took the first place trophy, so naturally this year when we were again paired with the Delts, and our directors' last names were once again Anderson and O'Brien, we should have realized that we couldn't help but duplicate their victory.

All in all, it has been a very exciting year for South Dakota Alpha.

Clean-Up Project Earns Club Citation

trash. We also noted loose and missing bricks, which would be replaced later, and left a letter at each store telling the merchants about the project. There was lots of publicity—articles in the Los Angeles Times and the Santa Monica Evening Outlook and stories on many TV stations, as well as interviews on TV!

After the project, the chairman from the Alpha Delta Pi house and I were invited to lunch with the Chamber of Commerce where they presented us, on behalf of our houses, with awards for our service.

The project had been the idea of Marion Coe Palmer who is a member of the Chamber and one of eight Pi Phis in one family!

The scholarships are presented to junior women who are members of NPC sororities and either residents of Pittsburgh (as Jean is) or attending school there. The award is based on academic achievement, fraternity service, campus involvement, and financial need.

Will Represent Wyoming

by DEBY HALL, Wyoming Alpha

Patricia Long, a Pi Phi at the University of Wyoming, was recently chosen Miss Wyoming in the annual pageant held in Cheyenne.

"Trish," a pretty petite brunette from Buffalo, Wyo., will travel to Atlantic City, N.J., in September for the 1975 Miss America contest.

Pi Beta Phi sponsored her in the Miss University of Wyoming pageant. She won that title in 1974 and then became Miss Wyoming in 1975.

Trish is an elementary education major, specializing in music. Using her music talents in the pageant, she sang an aria from "Madame Butterfly," entitled Un Bel Di.

In May Trish traveled to Alaska on a USO tour for 28 days with 10 other University of Wyoming students.

The summer will keep Trish busy at speaking engagements and guest appearances. She will be traveling to Colorado, South Dakota, North Dakota and Montana for their pageants.

Is Detroit's Queen of Captive Nations

The 1974 Detroit Ethnic Festivals Committee crowned Michigan Beta Pi Phi, Maria Pleskacz, Captive Nations Festival Queen. The festivals, sponsored by the City of Detroit for the past three years, are a summer-long affair in which different heritage groups display various aspects of their culture to the people of Detroit and other interested spectators. The Captive Nations Festival featured entertainment and cultural attractions from 11 European regions, former sovereign states now within Soviet borders—including Armenia, Byelorussia, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, the Ukraine, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Slovakia, and Croatia. Slovakia now is within the borders of Czechoslovakia; Croatia is part of Yugoslavia. Entertainment was provided by 20 singing, dancing, and musical groups while booths displayed cultural artifacts and artwork from all 11 regions. Also featured were handcrafts and foods to be tested.

The free Ethnic Festivals have been a successful attempt on Detroit's part to bring the peoples of the city together. Since it began, thousands of spectators and participants could be found, each weekend, at the Detroit riverfront behind Cobo Hall, enjoying the activities, programs, and each other. Maria had the honor to host the Honorable Governor William G. Milliken and his wife at his first festival of the summer and to be a contestant in the International Festival, the other festival he and his wife attended. Other dignitaries at the Captive Nations Festival were Mayor Coleman Young, Congressman Robert Huber, Detroit City Councilman Carl Levin, and the Very Reverend Bishop Mikolay of the Byelorussian Orthodox Church.

An ecumenical service was held at Detroit's Kennedy Square in memory of those now in Captive Nations throughout the world, with clergy from many of Detroit's churches blessing at this commemorative service. Following the service, a mile long caravan marched through Detroit to the Festival site, Maria and the Rev. Mikolay leading the parade. At the festival Maria made numerous contacts with spectators, participants, and guests, greeted those present, read proclamations and enjoyed herself immensely, saying, "My many ethnic activities have made my life so much richer."

The Very Reverend Bishop Mikolay, Governor William Milliken, and Maria Pleskacz, Michigan Beta, pose for TV and newspaper coverage.

Maria, after her special week had come to an end, was excited to find that all was not over. The International Festival found her representing, once more, the Captive Nations, alongside 14 other Ethnic Festival Queens. During this festival the queens vied for the International Festival Queen title which entailed modeling one's native costume, modeling a formal gown, greeting the public in one's ethnic tongue, interacting with the other contestants, personal interviews and ratings by the judges, and speaking before thousands on one's heritage. Maria spoke on the "Opportunities in America for those from Captive Nations." Each contestant received a key to the City of Detroit from Mayor Coleman Young and a flag of Michigan from Gov. Milliken, with the Polish Festival Queen walking away with the title. Even this was not the end of the reign. For the entire year, until a new queen presides this July (1975), Maria has found herself representing Detroit, along with the other queens, in many varied activities, such as the World Energy Conference, lighting up Detroit at their Christmas ceremonies, and others, the latest being the Chinese Merchant Convention in Detroit.

Maria is a senior attending the University of Michigan, where she has maintained a 3.96/4.00 average while triple majoring in Microbiology, Cellular Biology, and Zoology. She hopes to continue her education in medical school in an effort to become a physician or clinical researcher. She is currently house manager of Michigan Beta Pi Beta Phi, is carrying two Karen Batchellor Coolman, Michigan Gamma, capped a long list of accomplishments when she became the first woman from Broward County elected to the Florida House of Representatives in the November, 1974, election.

Being "first" isn't news to Karen. In 1965, she was recipient of the national first prize in the Hallmark Art Talent Contest. Salutatorian of her high school class, she was selected outstanding graduating senior girl in Dade County by the Miami News, and won the Miami Herald's Silver Knight Award in the Fine Arts category. She went on to distinguish herself at Michigan State University where she was active in Pi Phi and Greek Week activities, elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and was a member of the Homecoming Court in her senior year.

Married and the mother of two young sons, Karen finds time to take an active part in many community and national service organizations. On the Board of Directors of the Specialized Urban Ministries of Fort Lauderdale, she worked as liaison between church-women and other women's political groups. She was founder and first president of the Broward County Women Against Rape, Inc., a comprehensive prevention, education, and assistance program. She served on the Broward County Charter Commission, Community Services Council, and Community Relations Commission.

Appointed first Florida State Coordinator for the National Organization for Women, Karen was instrumental in organizing 17 new chapters. She also edited the Florida State Newsletter. Presently she is serving a term on the national board of directors of NOW. A member of the Broward County Democratic Executive Committee, and the Women's Political Caucus, Karen also serves as a part time instructor at Broward Community College and as director of Women's Awareness, Inc., a women's medical clinic.

part-time University jobs, and continues to participate in her ethnic activities. Her Byelorussian ties are very strong (with two siblings born there), which account for her active participation in ethnic affairs for the last fifteen years. However, she encourages everyone, even if they are fifth generation in America, to represent their heritages. "My participation has brought one rewarding experience after another, with many cherished memories and many friends from all walks of life."

Something's Fishy Here

Goldfish are swimming in the rooms of Oregon Gamma initiates. Each received a goldfish and bowl as a congratulatory gift upon membership into the chapter.

Each fish was named for one of the twelve Founders of Pi Beta Phi and the last lone fish was tagged Gamma for our chapter designation. Next year, upon membership into the Pi Phi clan, the good luck goldfish will be passed from member "big sister" to initiate "little sister."

Maintain The Bridge For A Future Crossing

by BEVERLY ONEAL ELLIS

"Don't burn any bridges" is an old adage that holds true, perhaps now more than ever, for all sorority-affiliated women. With the average American family and business woman relocating every five years, housewives and career women find themselves faced with the almost overwhelming task of selecting new homes, establishing new footholds, making decisions, and meeting new friends more often than ever before.

Unfortunately, many sorority chapters on the nation's campuses seem to instill in the collegian the attitude that once her education is completed, so is her sorority life. Many graduates who were very active in their collegiate chapters leave the campus with the feeling that their time will forevermore be consumed by career jobs, small children, new husbands, and budget-planning. They feel they will have no time for an alumnae group. Little do they realize that for the next few decades of their lives they may find themselves living in several different cities and searching for the very opportunities their college sorority offers them.

Any alumna officer who has worked with up-dating a chapter's membership file can vouch for the fact that at least 50 per cent of the newly-graduated or relocated alumnae take no initial steps to affiliate with their local alumnae groups. A better understanding of their reasons for sometimes "burning the bridge" and not becoming active immediately could benefit both the alumnae groups and the new alumnae:

I am no longer interested in what sorority has to offer.

The advantages a Greek sorority offers after graduation, many women have learned, can outweigh those on the collegiate level. As individual interests mature, some women find their pleasures are no longer centered on the academic and social level, but begin to span into the fields of philanthropics, homemaking, community affairs, or simply an occasional challenging conversation outside the boundaries of the home. An alumnae chapter offers friends in a new city, opportunities to assist in the group's philanthropic work, older women from whose experiences a new member can gain much, social contacts through which her husband or date can meet men on all levels of business and experience, bridge clubs, craft groups, and ideas from women who are rearing children, pursuing careers, and enjoying a fulfilled way-of-life.

Alumnae who make this statement may well be burning a bridge they will want to use in the future for returning to an alumnae group.

My husband does not yet make enough money for me to compete with the more prosperous and successful members.

The common bond within an alumnae chapter is friendship and not financial success. One would have to look far to find an alumnae group where a woman's success is measured by the dollar-mark. The new member will soon discover that "success" is also achieved by the school teacher, social worker, military enlisted-personnel, and public servant as well as the doctor, lawyer, and executive. She will be accepted by her alumnae friends as who she is and how she offers her friendship—not by her paycheck.

I work.

Most of the nation's most active sorority alumnae DO work. Using one's job or career as an excuse for not participating in an alumnae chapter is robbing oneself of an association with one of the most fulfilling facets of American womanhood. An alumnae chapter in San Antonio, Texas, finding its membership saturated with career women and transient military personnel, solved the problem by asking members to designate the functions for which they wanted to be contacted: evenings only, daytime only, parties only, Founders' Day only, philanthropic projects only, etc. They soon discovered that working women preferred nighttime meetings and parties while housewives liked daytime meetings and community involvement. By stating their interests at the first of the year, members were notified only as to the function they were free to attend—thus time was saved for both the caller and the working member.

A woman who avoids an alumnae group only because she works is narrowing her relationships to those individuals within her home and career and is missing out on what a national sorority affiliation offers.

I live in an apartment and cannot possibly accommodate the group in my home. I would feel strange about going into other women's homes and not having them into my own.

Every member contributes to a chapter in the way she can best serve. One way is through offering one's home for meetings, but there are many means other than acting as hostess. An apartment dweller can serve as co-hostess by providing refreshments, help clean up after a meeting, plan programs, distribute name tags and reading material, decorate for parties, work on calling committees, assist in philanthropic projects, type newsletters, work with collegians—simply apply her talents to the benefit of the group.

I have a new baby and cannot attend most of the functions held by the chapter.

True, small children hamper a young woman's activities, but once she enters the chapter, a new mother will soon discover she is not alone with her problem. Some alumnae groups hold occasional meetings in churches and use the nursery facilities at a minimal cost to young mothers. One chapter, perhaps many, circulates a sitter-list among members. Another chapter in Dayton, Ohio has a function annually which includes the members' children—a picnic on a farm with farm animals, hay-rides, games, and fun for all ages.

Most chapters have several daytime and several nighttime meetings in order to make attendance possible for mothers with small children. The problem of a young baby is not unique—most women encounter it—and it is not a valid reason for missing something worthwhile and stimulating.

All of the women are older than I am, and I feel uncomfortable at the meetings. Maybe in a few years I will be interested.

While the members were all the same age in her college chapter, a new alumna can no longer expect to be surrounded only by age-level peers for the remainder of her experiences. If a new graduate will attend one alumnae meeting and make every effort to know and appreciate new friends of all ages, she will benefit for years to come. Sorority alumnae have found a friend can be any age within the realm of the chapter.

Large city chapters have solved this uncomfortable feeling for young members through the organization of junior groups—chapters which operate as any other group but strive to interest the lower age-group. On the other hand, many chapters find that the relationship between their older and younger members is one of love and respect and is to be desired.

I never did graduate. Attending alumnae functions would be embarrassing for me.

Although graduation is the goal of every collegian, many do not achieve that goal for valid, personal reasons. The fact that a woman did not graduate does not mean she never will. "Alumna" means that one is no longer a "collegian." Graduation is not a pre-requisite of alumna membership. A new member will be welcomed with or without a degree. Some of the women who contribute most to their alumnae group do not hold the degree they started out to achieve. Again, it is friendship which is the common bond, not degree of success—either professional, financial, or academic.

I wanted to be an active alumna after graduation, but no one called me.

There are many ways to find one's alumnae group after graduation or relocation. A new alumna should inform her sorority's national office as to where she will be living, and, in most cases, the local chapter will be contacting her shortly. If she doesn't hear from the local group, she should take steps herself toward finding it. The local newspaper's woman's news editor can usually supply the name of a local sorority or Panhellenic officer. The nearest university can give a newcomer the same information. The prospective alumna can watch the local newspaper for announcements of upcoming meetings. National sorority publications regularly carry the names and addresses of chapter officers who will see that the new member is informed of functions.

The new alumna is well-advised to stay on the mailing list through the national office and keep them informed as to her address and name changes. Very often, she is not contacted because she can't be found in the local phone directory. She must, sometimes, take the first step herself toward becoming active on the alumna level. Most alumnae chapters are just as concerned as the newcomer or new graduate about finding, welcoming, and including her in their activities. In fact, they may be searching for her during the same time she is hesitant about making that first contact.

For alumnae chapters over the nation to continue to contribute to American womanhood and success of the Greek system on the college campus, the bridges that span the narrow gulf between the collegiate chapter and the alumnae chapter must not be burned but rather strengthened through friendship, understanding, and encouragement from those on both sides of the crossing.

Oregon Delta

Oregon Delta chapter at Portland State University has a Pacific International and State Championship Equestrian Winner in their house.

Sara MacTarnahan culminated a year of Tennessee Walking Horse Showmanship by winning three blue ribbons at the Pacific International Horse Show in Portland, Ore., in November, 1974. She received first place awards against stiff competition in the Lady to Ride, Amateur and Amateur Championship (Stake) classes on her beautiful Tennessee Walking Horse mare, Royal Heir Souvenir.

Sara also ended 1974 taking top honors in the state of Oregon. She received three Oregon Horsemen's Association High-Point Championship Awards. Royal Heir Souvenir was the T.W.H. Amateur Champion horse; her black mare, Secret's Jet Star, was the T.W.H. Reserve Amateur Champion and the T.W.H. Open Champion horse.

Sara was also the Tennessee Walking Horse Exhibitor's Association of Oregon Champion Lady Amateur Rider and Champion Overall Lady Rider for the third year in a row.

It looks as though Sara may need some help polishing all that silver!

Golden Arrow Rates Fraternity Raves

by LESLIE KING
Indiana Gamma

Mrs. Ruby Donohue Hoffman, Iowa Gamma, one of Pi Beta Phi's Golden Arrows, has been named the Outstanding Housemother of the Year for the Sigma Chis. Mrs. Hoffman has been the housemother at the Rho Chapter of Sigma Chi (Butler University) for the past 27 years.

To honor her, Indiana Gamma invited Mrs. Hoffman and her men of Sigma Chi to a special dinner and awarded her with some flowers.

When Mrs. Hoffman came to the Butler University fraternity, she had just retired from her job as supervisor of the Spry shortening experimental kitchen at Boston, Mass., where she developed recipes utilizing the product. She intended to stay in Indianapolis only one year before moving on to other things. Twenty-seven years later, Mrs. Hoffman is still at the Butler Sig house. She has been at the school longer than any other housemother and plans to stay as long as she can.

"It isn't that I feel the boys in the house couldn't get along without me," she said, "but that I couldn't get along without them.

"They are my men and the saddest time of year for me is in the spring, when some of them graduate. Each one of them is individualistic and yet Sigma Chi men have the same ideals and purpose in life."

As Butler University's perennial "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," Mrs. Hoffman assumes the daily tasks of any other mother—only multiplied by 56. She plans all meals, supervises the running of the house, and tries to keep her "sons" in line.

The only woman in a house of that many men, Mrs. Hoffman is often the victim of good-natured pranks. She doesn't let anyone get the best of her, however, and laughingly admits that occasionally she has been known to lace certain fraternity member's mashed potatoes with cotton, or to serve a hot fudge sundae with chocolate poured over whipped potatoes instead of ice cream.

"One boy was not going to admit that I played a trick on him and ate those cotton filled potatoes—swallowing every bite!" she said.

Mrs. Hoffman, a graduate of Iowa State University, feels that her job has been very rewarding.

"Knowing boys and seeing them become fine men is a great pleasure," she said. "It is a great feeling to be accepted as a mother and counselor and to continue this friendship through the years.

Her "sons" have included actor Peter Lupas of "Mission Impossible," Indianapolis television man Howard Caldwell, Jr., and national Sigma Chi President, Dwight Peterson.

Mom-Daughter Combo Has Special Meaning

by ROBIN GREENWAY, California Gamma

Twelve girls in our chapter proudly call themselves legacies. For one mother-daughter team, Mrs. Frank and Linda Payne, this has a unique and special meaning.

Linda and her mother are both California Gammas PLUS both served as chapter presidents.

Mrs. Payne (Nancy Reed, 1950-1952) was installed as president February 3, 1952. Linda was installed exactly 23 years later, on February 3, 1975.

"I love sharing Pi Phi with my mother! My grandmother was a California Gamma Pi Phi, too, so I'm really a double legacy. I wish my grandmother were still alive—the three of us share something really wonderful."

Linda has served Pi Phi as Panhellenic representative, student representative on the General Alumni Board of Governors and the President's Commission on Student and Community Life at the University of California.

She has been honored with placement on the Dean's List, and the titles "Most Outstanding Pledge" and Sigma Nu Princess.

Mrs. Payne actively supports Pi Phi through membership in alum clubs and house corporation. Linda's grandmother also served Pi Phi actively.

As Linda said . . . the three women share something special!

Lobbyists Not Villains, Says Lobbyist

"Traditionally, lobbyists have been cast as villains in stories of governmental scandal or legislative indiscretion," begins the lobby notebook compiled by legislative counsel of the Oregon Assembly.

The major portion of this article was written by Audrey Rayner, Associated Press writer, and it appeared in the Capital Journal, Salem, Oregon.

"But in Oregon," the notebook continues, "lobbyists are considered important sources of information and valuable public contacts."

One lobbyist puts it this way: "Oregon has a citizen lobby as well as a citizen legislature."

The speaker is Nan West Dewey, Oregon Beta, a lobbyist for the Oregon Dental Association, the Oregon Collectors Association, Oregon Wheat Growers League, and Agriculture Co-operative Council of Oregon.

"There's a much better opinion of lobbyists today," said Mrs. Dewey. "There's not so much stigma attached to them from the old cigar-smoking days of the 1930s. More and more people—and incidentally, more and more women—are lobbying every year."

The term lobbyist is interpreted to mean any individual who seeks to influence the decisions of legislators for money. In Oregon, lobbyists are required to register with legislative counsel and are subject to investigation on formal complaint by five legislators.

The 1973 legislative session was Mrs. Dewey's first as a registered lobbyist. However, she began working with the legislature many years ago because "it was a great way to spend the winter."

She held secretarial positions, worked with committees, was calendar clerk for the House of Representatives for two sessions. That experience in knowing how to draft legislation made the transition to lobbying easy, she says.

In addition to lobbying, Mrs. Dewey publishes a bimonthly newsletter called "Capitol Memo" that includes "what you always wanted to know about state government and didn't know how to find out."

Nan is the current chairman of the Oregon

Gamma Alumnae Advisory Committee. She is an active alumnae and has held many offices in the Nancy Black Wallace Alumnae Club in Salem, Oregon.

Pooch Brightens Day—

by JANE YOUNG, California Epsilon

"I'm the Pi Phi Pooch
Here to give you a smooch
I'll brighten your day
Make your tears go away.
So when life's got you down
Please don't give me a frown
'Cause I'll make you smile
Then be gone in a while!"

Such is the greeting a certain lovable stuffed dog brings to various "down-in-the-dumps" Pi Phis at California Epsilon. Originated by Arrow Board, this cuddly friend "appears" on the sad one's bed for a visit, and then "disappears" as mysteriously when the tears are gone—but not before letting the girl know someone cares.

High GPAs Recognized

During the middle of winter quarter Ohio Alpha had a scholastic achievement night to recognize high GPAs from fall quarter. Awards were given to the active with the highest GPA, Judy Klien; the pledge with the highest GPA, Carol Hacker; and the most improved Pi Phi, pledge or active, Lynn Graff. The awards that were given were small planters.

The chapter also started a 3.0 club. This consists of all the girls who had a 3.0, and any girl who had raised her GPA by .4. These girls were recognized at the dinner and later that week a pizza party was planned in their honor. This idea for the scholastic achievement night was one part of Ohio Alpha's program to improve grades.

Indiana Gammas concentrate on a winning Euchre hand.

Euchre Tournament Is Spring Event

On April 9 and 10 the Indiana Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi sponsored an all campus Euchre tournament to raise money for Butler University's Panhellenic Council.

Euchre, a midwestern card game, is extremely popular on Butler's campus. Over 100 students, each paying an initial entrance fee, were paired and placed in competition with other teams. The Pi Phis supervised as each group played the best two out of three games. The winners advanced to meet two new challengers, playing a total of five rounds. Dinners at various fine restaurants were awarded as first, second, and third place prizes.

The tournament proved to be very successful as a fund raising project, and with the great responses we have been receiving from the students, it will most likely become an annual spring event for Indiana Gamma.

Earns Club Scholarship

Ohio Epsilon Pi Phis are extremely proud of one of the 'shinies' from the fall pledge class. Libby Stein maintained a 4.0 during both fall and winter quarter at the University of Toledo. Active in the chapter, she is also the organizer of an inter-dorm volleyball team, and still stays on top of her work with a sizeable scholarship allotted to her. She recently has been awarded the Cleveland West Alumnae Club's scholarship, intended for help in paying of chapter dues.

Province Prexy Is Lauded By Chapter

by MISSY ROESCH
Florida Beta

The enthusiasm of a chapter most often comes from the girls who make up the chapter, but the Florida Betas feel they have an extra added enthusiast—that of Doris Brown Fawcett, Epsilon Province President. Many of the girls have had the privilege and opportunity to talk with her about many of the qualities of Pi Phi and chapter goals. Mrs. Fawcett's loyalty, enthusiasm, interest, and concern for her province chapters has truly shown, for they each are striving for bigger and better ideals.

It is often hard for some Pi Phis to visualize chatting with a province president, yet that is just what the Florida Betas have become accustomed to. Mrs. Fawcett has kept the communication lines opened wide, welcoming any call for help or word of success from her girls. She has helped boost the motivation in the chapters, not only by her helpful hints, but by showing her love for Pi Phi and her dedication to it and its ideals.

Florida Beta, along with the chapters of the Epsilon Province, would like to thank Mrs. Fawcett for her time, effort, concern, and love in furthering the spread and development of our Pi Beta Phi. She is truly a guiding light and an ideal in herself.

Dorm Offices Held

Pi Phis at SMU almost have reason to say they have two sorority houses on campus. Since only 35 of the ninety members of Texas Beta have places in the sorority house, most sophomores live in university dormitories. In Virginia Hall, four of the five dorm officers are Pi Phis. Also, one floor houses twenty Pi Phis, a situation that was completely unplanned when dorm requests were made last year.

All the officers are pledge sisters. Ann Warrmack is president, Karen Krenz is vice president, Beth Mahaffey is secretary and Leslie Landrum is treasurer. The SMU Pi Phis have definitely made a big splash in campus affairs!

Birthday Coming Up

History is quick to prove all cultures, empires and nations are challenged and tested by time and effects of changing attitudes and priorities. It appears America has one of its most formidable challenges at hand.

1976 marks the bicentennial of this country, and the college fraternity system. It was in 1776, with the founding of Phi Beta Kappa, that the college fraternity system was born.

It is noteworthy that 1776 marked the beginning of a great nation as well as a great social movement; both provide challenge and opportunity to those of integrity, honor, dedication and mutual respect. The similarity of the objectives found in comparing the fraternity movement to that of the nation are as evident as are their common problems.

The fraternity movement has a proud heritage clearly demonstrating its value by providing an avenue for individual growth and development. It compliments the evolution of this great nation emphasizing "friendship on a firmer and more lasting basis." Historians are recounting the first two hundred years of the United States. The fraternity system also has the opportunity to consider its current station reflecting upon its noble history.

Must Be Alert

One of the threats today and in the future is the loss of personal liberty. It is important to remember that we are guaranteed certain rights and privileges in our system of government so long as those liberties do not infringe upon the rights of others. As educated women, members of an original women's liberation movement (the national fraternities for women) we need to be alert to protect our rights from outsiders. The latest threat is a charge of discrimination on the basis of sex. This seemed ridiculous when it first appeared. After moves were made on at least three campuses this year to prevent recognition or existence of any single-sex organization, it was apparent that it was no joke. Fraternities on these campuses managed to extricate themselves from inclusion in the regulations this year but the issue will continue to surface. Men's groups have taken a strong stand against co-ed membership. Some of their chapters have made it an internal threat, too, as they wanted to initiate their little sister groups. While we all surely want equality of opportunity for women, we must be alert not to lose the freedom to join together in a women-only group if we choose. It's a matter of knowing what sisterhood is and being able to talk about it in a positive way without being defensive.

The Anatomy Of An Adviser

Becoming an adviser is a little like becoming a parent for the first time—there isn't any special school one attends and there is no instant method of understanding or accepting the responsibilities that either of the tasks thrust upon us. You enter both as a novice with a willingness to try, an eagerness to learn, to help and a thousand other feelings that all summed up only say: "I love my fraternity and want to serve so that other young women will come to understand the joys of companionship and sisterhood, and so these same young women will have the opportunity to develop into the noblest women they are able to become."

Every adviser has a devotion to her organization and to the Greek system. An adviser's willingness to get involved and work must never be overlooked. Being an adviser to a collegiate chapter is the best of all worlds—possibly like being a grandparent. You can love, discipline, guide, educate, expose to the world of experiences and still go home at night and leave the collegians to their own devices of maturing.

Dance Concert Features Three Pi Phis

by DOROTHY JONES

Texas Alpha

The young women of Pi Beta Phi were particularly happy to attend the University of Texas Drama Department's annual spring dance concert, for three of their members performed in this production entitled "Dance '75." Those performing were Laura Fly, Susan Irons, and Patsy Ann Bell. "Dance '75" consists of ballet, modern dance, and jazz. Open auditions are held each year six weeks before the show.

Laura Fly, a modern dancer, performed in "Sarabande," a work by Michael Sokoloff, U.T. professor. Laura has performed several times in Austin under the choreography and direction of Shelly Schleier, a teacher with the Austin Ballet Theater. One of her dances Laura performed on Austin's KTBC television. She also received instruction during the summer of '74 working under Nikolais and Murray Louis, renowned modern choreographers, at their lab and workshop in New York City. In the evenings, Laura took classes at the Graham School of Contemporary Dance. During the latter part of that summer, Laura was a participant at Connecticut College American Dance Festival in New London, Conn. For six weeks, participants were given technique and theory classes, as well as attending dance lectures, films and concerts.

As a freshman at U.T., this was Susan Irons' first dance performance in Austin. Susan has been dancing since she was four years old, however. In her hometown of Dallas, Susan performed with the Dallas Metropolitan Ballet. For the past three summers, she has received scholarships to study in New York at the School of American Ballet and Harkness. Susan performed in the selection, "Night on Bald Mountain" in this year's dance concert.

Patsy Ann Bell performed as a soloist in "Dance '75." The young ballet dancer participated in last year's production as well. Patsy has performed with the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, with Dame Margot Fonteyn, and in the Cotton Bowl Spectacular. At age thirteen, Patsy got her start with the top performing group of the Dallas Civic Ballet Company. She went to New York City in the summer of '72 on a dance scholarship to the School of American Ballet in Lincoln Center, the training school for George Balanchine's NYC Ballet Company. For five weeks, Patsy studied at this school and then continued her study for another six weeks with the American Ballet Theater.

With such talent, "Dance '75" proved to be an outstanding production.

Northwestern Senior Focuses On Christian Drama

by KIM DILLER, Illinois Epsilon

Samantha Witt's interest in Christian drama has involved her in teaching, acting, directing, and writing at Northwestern University.

An Illinois Epsilon senior double majoring in theater and speech education, Samantha became interested in Christianity in her sophomore year. She decided that if it was applied to drama it would make theater "a less egotistical, more meaningful experience for more people."

She is currently teaching a Christian drama class at the First Presbyterian Church in Deerfield, Ill. She hopes to direct "Rush of Society," a Christian play which she has written, at Sheil Center in Evanston, this spring.

Last April Samantha coached "The Boy-friend" at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Ill. She taught choreography last winter at Evanston High School and creative dramatics her sophomore and junior years at two grade schools in Evanston.

A Christian conference in Wheaton, Ill. benefited from her performance in a series of short plays. Her secular acting credits include "Dylan," "Love of the Three Kings" and "Volpone" and summer stock in New Hampshire, Illinois, and Michigan.

Samantha has worked on two Northwestern organizations—Wildcat Council Executive Board and as chairman of Big Brothers. She has been a member of Shi-ai and Mortar Board and assistant rush chairman for Pi Phi last year. She hopes to attend the Christian Theological Seminary in Indianapolis, Ind.

Sewing Machines Given To Homes

Philanthropies have been the key word for the Baton Rouge Alumnae Club this year, according to Florence Philips Turner, president. The group has contributed generously to Pi Phi's national philanthropy as well as to a local project.

Two new sewing machines were purchased by the club and given to the Baton Rouge Youth, Inc. This organization provides small group homes for young people who have encountered difficulties either in their own homes or with society in attempting to answer their unmet needs. These youths are not delinquents and should not be placed in detention homes. The program aims to give youngsters a creative opportunity, under professionally staffed personnel, to live in the community while completing their education and/or receiving vocational training.

The club's annual "Around-the-Town" calendar sales made monies for the purchase of the sewing machines and for the club's annual scholarship to Arrowmont.

Also, in March the club sponsored an Arrowcraft Coffee at the chapter house on the LSU campus. This successful sale netted more than $2,500. All profits were donated to Arrowmont by the club.

Martha Randall Singer was chairman of the calendar sales, while Louise Taylor Kyle headed the committee to purchase the sewing machines.

Founders' Day Brunch Planned By Actives

"Pi Phi keeps on growing" was the theme for this year's Iowa Gamma Founders' Day brunch. The decorations of fruit, vegetable, and flower baskets, and a program including both actives and alums exemplified our theme. The festivities were planned by a committee of actives and an alum advisor.

After the buffet brunch, which was held at the chapter house, a welcome was given and introductions were made. Following this one of the Golden Arrow Pi Phis gave a talk on the current renovation of a former Iowa Gamma House. Other Golden Arrow Pi Phis were introduced and each read a quote from the Founders. The actives presented a skit on this year's house activities and individual honors received by Iowa Gamma members. The program ended with a song written by one of our new initiates. After the program, the alums held a silent white-elephant auction to raise money.

Founders' Day had been preceded by Iowa Gamma Founders' Week at the house. During the week alums were invited to dinner, there was a bulletin board display, short dinner presentations, and various other activities to commemorate our own founders.

Special Events Fill Week For Pledges

by CYNTHIA CORSO

Illinois Beta-Delta

At Knox College Illinois Beta-Deltas celebrated the week prior to initiation in a variety of ways. An event to be remembered was scheduled each day. Monday we invited our 18 pledges to join us in the "Tattletale Game." Here each mother-daughter pair competed against other pairs in answering questions correctly, as in the "Newlywed Game." First the moms and then the daughters were sent out of the room as the other was asked questions such as "What will your mom say is her best physical characteristic?" or "Where is your daughter at 11:00 A.M. on Thursday mornings?" Everyone had a great time!

The next day the pledges were invited to "Meet the seniors in the park" at 11:00 P.M. While the seniors, dressed as clowns, were singing and giving a secret code name to each pledge, the juniors were delivering a red rose to each pledge's room along with a poem telling her when initiation would be.

On Wednesday, the seniors cooked a special Italian dinner for the chapter in our Panhel building. After dinner, each pledge was to act or sing about the secret name given to her the night before. Names such as "Dial-a-date," "Moby Dick," and "Handle with Care" provided for very humorous interpretations.

Thursday held even more excitement for our pledges as a treasure hunt was held to discover who their Angel Sisters had been. Clues were hidden all over campus sending pledges scurrying from library bookshelves to classrooms to laundry rooms. At the end we all met back at our Panhellenic house for dinner. All this fun left everyone really anxious for our beautiful depinning ceremony. Now we have eighteen more enthusiastic, active Pi Phis to carry on our tradition.

This year Nevada Alpha's Homecoming Queen candidate, Anne Langer, was chosen Queen by male students at the University of Nevada at Reno. Anne won over candidates from other sororities, as well as dorm and independent candidates.

Panhellenic President Is Planning New Activities

by MARGO SOULÉ, North Carolina Beta

North Carolina Beta is proud to announce that our recently retired president, Jan Hayhurst, is the newly elected president of the Panhellenic Council at Duke.

In an attempt to reinstitute spirit into the Council, Jan has already organized a new paint job and curtains for the drab meeting room! New ideas for the coming year include a Junior Panhel for representatives from sorority pledge classes. This group will be responsible for one project during the year, such as sponsoring an all-sorority picnic in the fall.

Panhel is joining the Interfraternity Council in sponsoring a Muscular Dystrophy week in which each sorority and fraternity has one money-making project, the proceeds of which go to Muscular Dystrophy. Another joint project is a building survey in which representatives check the adequacy of the buildings on campus for use by handicapped students.

These are only the beginnings of many plans which will get everyone involved and working together. Jan's spirit and leadership in Panhel will be a definite boost for the Greek system at Duke!

Edited by ELEANOR BUSHNELL LEHNER

For many years Virginia Jones Harper, North Carolina Beta, has written everything from feature articles and publicity brochures to radio spot announcements, and, in 1969, she researched and wrote a major portion of the Wheeling, W.Va., Bicentennial Album.

Coupling her research with an intense interest in her ancestors and in the history of her city, she became intrigued with one of her pioneer ancestors in particular, about whom she wrote a fully documented, fictionalized biography.

Time Steals Softly tells the story of Lydia Boggs Shepherd Cruger, who, in the 102 years of her life, experienced not only the Revolutionary and Indian Wars but the Civil War as well and was as adept at fighting Indians as she was at entertaining nationally prominent statesmen in her parlor.

The book brings to life one of the most illustrious women in the history of Wheeling. Her home, Shepherd Hall, is "Monument Place" in Elm Grove. This is not only a love story, but an intricate portrait of an area which played a major role in our country's history. Lydia Boggs Shepherd Cruger was a magnificent woman whose active life spanned a century. She was a woman who knew each United States president from Washington through Fillmore, and danced with them too! Published by Vantage Press, New York, Time Steals Softly was released in late January 1975.

When Nancy Maescher Poffenberger, Illinois Epsilon, wrote her original piano book for her boys, Dwight and Billy, in 1973, little did she realize that she had devised an exciting new method of teaching piano and organ. With her husband, John, an attorney in Cincinnati, as her guide, she has gone on to form her own Fun

Publishing Company as well.

Book One (ages 4-12) offers an exciting new method that allows the child to teach himself to play familiar tunes on the piano or organ. Lettered tabs are put on the piano keys, a different color for each octave. The tunes are played by colored letters initially instead of notes, and in minutes children are playing favorites like "Old MacDonald" and "Jingle Bells."

Book Two was published in April, 1975. It is an extension of Book One in method but was written to be self-contained for ages 9-90. It is based on the same method as Book One but progresses to the written note by the end of the book. It provides hours of fun as well as instruction. The method works—providing a rewarding experience for many who have always wanted to play piano or organ. The Fun Publishing Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Crafty Pi Phis, who are always on the lookout for something new to occupy their hands, will be fascinated by the art of Pastecraft, a new skill introduced in a delightful book by Mary Lou (Borders) Cook, Kansas Alpha. Mary Lou developed and named the original craft and presents it in a 64 page soft cover book that is a "craft-philosophy-idea" workbook. The book contains many sketches, with many of the pages done in Calligraphy (hand-lettering) and headings using decorated versal letters. It gives methods and techniques of laminating fabric to solid objects, which fabrics to use, how to achieve permanency and a look of excellence. It offers creative and inexpensive solutions to home-decorating problems and is a beautiful, unique, and helpful book.

P.I.G. Anticipates Summer Season Fun

by LISA GRABLE, Virginia Gamma

A new interest group was started at Virginia Gamma for the spring semester, in anticipation of warmer weather and bathing suits. The PIG club (or Physical Interest Group) was formed to give its members encouragement in reaching weight goals and exercising for physical fitness. The members weigh in every Monday morning on our past president's bathroom scale.

Actual weights do not have to be revealed, only the weight loss goal. Members are on their honor to record accurately the amount of weight lost or gained during the week and record it on the PIG chart on the second floor of the house. If a member has lost weight during the previous week, she is entitled to wear an angel around the house, but if she is so unfortunate as to have gained weight, she must wear a pig around the house for a whole week.

The members help each other by sitting together at dinner to help each other resist those too-tempting rolls and potatoes, and forming exercise groups for such activities as Club 15 exercises, swimming, and jogging. The interest group's major goal is for every member to attain her weight loss goal and then keep at that weight for four weeks. As fun as it is, we can't see how it can fail!

Two Seniors Earn Business Honors

Texas Beta salutes its outstanding seniors! Two 1975 graduates of SMU recently received awards for excelling in their fields of study. Both girls graduated from the SMU business school and were awarded honors for their outstanding academic achievements in the field of business.

Margo Bentsen has received the Henry S. Miller Real Estate Award. The $500 award is given annually to the outstanding student in real estate at Southern Methodist University. The Henry S. Miller Real Estate Agency is a Dallas-based firm but is located in several cities throughout the United States. Juniors, seniors, and graduate students were eligible for consideration for the award.

Jo Pietras has been selected as recipient of the Dallas Sales and Marketing Executive Award for her outstanding achievement in the field of marketing. Dallas businessmen present the award annually to the most outstanding student in marketing. Jo was chosen by the SMU faculty. Jo also received the Phi Chi Theta Key, given to one graduating senior girl.

Both Margo and Jo were active on campus and in Pi Phi while at SMU. Both were active members of Phi Chi Theta. Margo served Texas Beta as vice president of moral advancement and Jo was involved as vice president of social development (pledge trainer).

Pledge Moms Revealed During Fall Retreat

With the feeling of exuberancy and vitality for beginning the fall semester with their new pledge class, Arizona Beta celebrated the receiving of Pledge Mom's during their retreat at Natural Bridge, Payson, Ariz.

Staying in a big nineteenth century hotel in the center of this canyon, surrounded with beautiful scenery, added more excitement to the mystery of discovering the identity of each girl's Pledge Mom.

Arizona Beta has held their fall retreat at Natural Bridge for two consecutive years, finding this location to be a perfect Pi Phi heaven for one weekend.

Club Honored For Community Service

by SUZANNE WEBB BRUNSON, Nashville A.C.

Nashvillians in 1974 again flocked to Pi Phi's annual Christmas Village, a shopping bonanza featuring 92 booths stocked full of goodies for the holiday shopper.

The annual event attracts thousands of Middle Tennesseans to the state fairgrounds each November, not only to shop, but to benefit the Bill Wilkerson Hearing and Speech Center and Pi Phi philanthropies. This is one of the best received charitable events in Nashville, with new friends and helping hands seeking US out in recent years. It takes a full year of planning and hard work by the general chairmen and a score of other chairmen.

The Arrowmont booth is always a big attraction at the Village, with special features in recent years including clown faces drawn by our resident artist, Kathy King Mathes. Past honorary chairmen of the event have included former Pi Phi Grand President Sally Vanasse and Nashville's own Archie Campbell.

In praise of their outstanding community service through Christmas Village, the Women's Division of the Commerce Union Bank in Nashville honored the alumnae club by entertaining twelve of the officers and chairmen at a luncheon.

The club has been chosen also to be honored in Nashville's Beautiful Activist event for 1975, sponsored by a local department store. The club is one of ten civic, charitable, religious, or professional organizations making outstanding contributions on a volunteer basis to the betterment of community life to be so honored.

20 Are Top Scholars

Twenty girls with "A" averages helped Alabama Beta rank third scholastically among all sororities on the University of Alabama campus. Actives on the Dean's List include Rita Albano, Debbie Boswell, Sally Cash, Trudy Dickinson, Linda Longshore, Cindy Lyle, Karen McCaffery, Jean Outlaw, Sandra Steiner, Janet Ward, and Judy Waters. Pledges making the Dean's List are: Barbara Kelly, Jan Lowrey, Susan Scace, and Cheryl Walker. Sandra Steiner and Jan Lowrey had straight A averages.

1974 Christmas Village General Chairmen, Carroll Ingersoll Cranch and Alice McRady Thomas, beam jubilantly at the conclusion of the two day event.

Ann Marie Mathis McNamara and Charlotte Ann Eckel Edwards, 1973 General Chairmen, pose with TV's Archie Campbell, a past Honorary Chairman.

Mom Surprises Initiate

The initiation of the 1974 fall pledge class proved a special treat for Pennsylvania Epsilon, and, in particular, for one of the new sisters, Debbie Jackson. To Debbie's surprise and delight, her mother, also a Pi Phi, came for the ceremony and celebration. Mrs. Jackson, the former Hilda Knaub, was a 1942 Pi Phi at Dickinson.

Following the formal initiation, both mother and daughter returned to the suite for our traditional cooky-shine. Indeed, the visit demonstrated for us even further the far-reaching and strong bonds our Fraternity holds. For Debbie and her mother, the evening was, no doubt, one of their more memorable experiences in Pi Beta Phi.

Is Top Home Ec Student At TCU

by MARION JOULLIAN
Texas Delta

Nancy Walker, Texas Delta, is an outstanding student on the Texas Christian University campus. She has received many recognitions and awards from TCU, the most recent being the TCU Scholar recognition for students with a 4.0 grade average for the fall semester. She also has been on the Dean's List and is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Campus Crusade for Christ.

Nancy is studying for a Bachelor of Science Vocational Home Economics Degree. Within the Home Economics Department, she is a member of the Texas Home Economics Student Section (THESS) and was voted as the outstanding freshman of TCU by THESS in the 1973-74 academic year. She is also the TCU and Texas State candidate to the state convention for national officers of the AHEA Student Section for 1974-75 and 1975-76 school years. She was just recently initiated into the honorary professional fraternity of Home Economics, Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Nancy has been an active member in Texas Delta. She was the academic excellence chairman of 1974 and campus and community involvement chairman of 1975. The chapter recently voted her to be the nominee for the Richardson Alumnae's Outstanding Sophomore Award. She also received the Pledge Scholarship Trophy in 1973.

Even with all these activities, Nancy still has time to enjoy hobbies. Some of her favorites are crewel, gourmet cooking, traveling, and working with people, especially foreign students. Nancy has always contributed her enthusiasm and spirit to Pi Phi and the members of Texas Delta thank her for her devotion.

A Pledge's Letter

Dearest Sisters of Pi Beta Phi:

My notes from all of you keep telling me of all the happiness I will find in Pi Phi. Well sisters, I have found so much happiness already that I decided to write you all and tell you just how much my sorority and its members mean to me already, after only a few days.

This letter was written as an open letter to an active chapter by a pledge the day after the pledging ceremony. The chapter thought it beautiful and wishes to share it with other Pi Phis.

I came back from semester break dreading second semester. I had already written for transfer applications to schools closer to home and, well, I was just plain low. Then rush started and I had so much fun meeting so many new people.

I knew a few Pi Phis before rush started, but I came to know so many more and to feel the spirit that you all share during rush. Friday night at the last party there was no doubt in my mind where I belonged—in Pi Phi heaven!

Then came the long night of wondering whether you wanted me as much as I wanted you. When my bid arrived, I went bananas! Since Saturday morning my whole attitude toward this school has changed and it's all due to the feeling you gave me that I really belong here.

I didn't mean for this letter to turn into a sob story or anything, because I did have a good time here last semester. It's just that now I'm not only having a good time, I feel so happy down inside as well as on the surface.

I guess I just wanted to let you know how much all your special efforts have meant to one certain pledge—ME! I only hope I can live up to the high standards you all have set, because "I'd rather be a Pi Phi than any other kind!"

Scholarship Dinner Has New Approach

Last February the active members of Ohio Epsilon gathered for their annual scholarship dinner, held each quarter to recognize outstanding achievements made in scholastics. After the beautiful buffet of 'picnic food' we settled down to the business of revealing the winners in several old and new categories.

Barbara Woodham and Katie Hilfinger, chairwomen of the event, decided to take a new approach to the event, and developed several new categories that would try to spotlight a broader, and just as important, group of girls who can't always make the Dean's List and such. In addition to the active with the highest accumulative, we recognized the pledge with the highest grades; three sets of big and little sisses with the highest total grades; the most motivated; the most improved grades; the best mental attitude, which equals high grades plus chapter service; recognition of 3.0 or better quarter grades; and the Scholarship Blank #6 winner was announced. The evening was made even more special by Barbara Woodham who had made miniature certificates to hand out to each of the girls awarded that night.

Following the dessert of huge ice cream sundaes for the actives with high grades, the chapter once again marked off a successful scholarship dinner.

Indy 500 To Have A Pi Phi Princess

Indiana Delta is very proud of the honors received by three of its members. Deni Shaw was named one of the 33 Princesses for the Indianapolis 500 Race. Deni competed with 160 other contestants from the Indianapolis area and made it to the final 33. She will take her place in one of the race cars for the 500 and will be considered for the Queen and Court of the 500 Race.

Sarah Sample and Donna Matthews were among the contestants in the Miss Indiana contest held in March. Sarah came in fifth and Donna placed third in the contest. Along with these awards, Donna was named Miss Smile and Sarah won the Best Legs of Indiana award.

Freshman Reigns At Military Ball

by SUSAN CUMMINGS
Maine Alpha

Catherine Bliss, Maine Alpha, a hazel-eyed brunette from Longmeadow, Mass. is the reigning 1975 Military Ball Queen.

The new queen is a freshman majoring in biology at the University of Maine at Orono. Actively involved in sorority, she is a member of the Greek Weekend Committee and is helping plan the Third Annual Panhellenic Dance Marathon. An ROTC cadet, Cathy has the honor of being the first girl from the U.M.O. Army Department to wear the crown.

Cathy, presented with four other finalists, was escorted under an arch of risen swords held by new members of the 20th Maine Brigade. She was crowned by President Neville of the University of Maine at Orono, and received red roses, a gold medal, and a kiss from Colonel Mayer. The ceremony concluded with the Queen and the Colonel dancing to a waltz performed by the Army band.

In the spring, the Queen, bearing the title of Honorary Colonel, presided over an ROTC awards assembly. This was the first time the Queen was attired in an Army uniform.

Micky Kersey, Virginia Gamma, is a member of this year's William & Mary Orchesis. Orchesis, a 25-year-old institution on campus, is a modern dance group in the spirit of Martha Graham. Micky performed in "An Evening of Dance" last March.

To Rush Greek During First Round of Parties

Rush at the University of North Dakota has taken a new turn this year. The Panhellenic Council, after analyzing past rush programs, found that the sororities were lacking in two areas: cooperation between houses and rushee's education concerning the Greek system.

Sororities, to better their relations with each other, will rush Greek through the first round of parties. A "round robin" of sorority members will host Panhellenic welcome parties in each of the eight houses on campus.

Educational programs will be presented to the rushee showing the different aspects of Greek life. Topics to be included are scholarship, finances, Greek Week, social life, service projects, Greek activities, heritage, leadership, and involvement.

Various communication media, such as slide shows, skits, collages, panel discussions, overhead projectors, and songs, will be used. Patty Kalil is the all-campus rush chairwoman.

Campus Swings For Baby's Future

by ZANE PROBASCO
Louisiana Alpha

Grace Agresti, Louisiana Alpha, is not one to sit back when she hears of something that needs doing. Grace heard about a nine month old boy, Shane Lemoine, who needed heart surgery or he would die. The problem was that the family was unable to furnish the money for the operation.

Grace went to work immediately and called the other sororities and fraternities on campus. They were also enthusiastic and agreed to join the Pi Phis in starting a fund raising project. Grace thought up the idea of a Swing-a-thon. Although it sounded like a 1940s marathon dance, it was quite the contrary. A set of swings, which were to be occupied twenty-four hours a day for a week, was constructed. Each swinger was sponsored for the number of hours he or she swung. All the sorority and fraternity members joined in the project whether they swung, sponsored, or simply helped advertise.

Through pouring rain, sunny days, and dark of night, the swings remained occupied by cheerful volunteers. Needless to say, the Swing-a-thon was a smashing success! Little Shane was operated on, and now is looking toward a bright future thanks to the combined efforts of the Newcomb sororities and Tulane fraternities under the spectacular guidance of Grace Agresti.

How Sweet It Was

by GINA CARPINI, Virginia Delta

Among the thousand or more loyal fans who followed the Old Dominion Monarch basketball team to Evansville, Ind., for the Division II playoffs, eight Virginia Deltas also ventured forth to witness our well-earned victory as the #1 team in the nation among small colleges. The Angels returned thoroughly exhausted but on cloud nine after the most exciting experience in the University's history.

We were there all right, the largest sorority delegation to attend, and we had the pleasure of meeting several North Dakota Alphas to whom we send our sincere greetings. It's nice to know we can find sisters almost everywhere!

Earn A Second In All-School Sports

by SHERRY HAAR
Texas Gamma

Texas Gamma Pi Phi did extremely well in the fall intramural program. Pi Phi placed second in the entire university competition of both Greek and non-Greek organizations. The only group having more points than Pi Phi was Splash, an organization of women P.E. majors.

The flag football team went into the play-offs undefeated. Pi Phi won the first play-off game beating the Thetas to the tune of 21-6. The next game (semi-finals) was lost to a tough Alpha Phi team with a close score of 6-0.

Many points were gained in the Basket Free Throw competition. Both pledges and actives participated.

Successful participation in volleyball, badminton, tennis, archery, and bowling all added to the total score of 349 points. Volleyball with the Kappa Alpha Order and basketball with the Phi Delta Theta fraternity proved to be fun as well as exercise.

Many thanks should go to Mrs. Emily Foster, Pi Phi's faculty sponsor, for her enthusiastic support. Mrs. Foster is a Physical Education instructor at Texas Tech and backs the Pi Phis in intramurals as well as everything else in which the Pi Phis participate!

Gets President's Kiss

Wouldn't it be exciting to get a kiss from the President of the United States? That's just what happened to Michigan Beta Pi Phi, Betsy Armstrong, after she sang in a 24-voice show group at the 23rd Annual Congressional Dinner in Washington, D.C., for President Gerald Ford, on March 5, 1975. Betsy is a member of the aMazin' Blues (note that the University of Michigan's school colors are maize and blue, as are the group's costumes), directed by John A. Smith, Assistant to the Dean in the U of M School of Music. Not only are these students superb singers, but in addition, all of their songs are choreographed.

Betsy is in Choral Education with a Voice major, and is spending her second summer at Interlochen National Music Camp.

Millikin Beauty Wins Talent Show

One of the highlights of Millikin University's Campus Chest Week is the selection of Beauty and the Beast. Pi Phis from Illinois Eta claimed the coveted title of 'The Beauty' through the multiple charms of senior Peg Smith.

Not only was Peg voted the award by the entire student body, but she also performed with the house in a talent-show-winning impression of Bette Midler. In addition, she served as Campus Chest co-chairman, coordinating festivities for the whole week.

Peg's activities have stretched from her freshman year and have included membership in Pi Delta Upsilon, Women's Athletic Association, and Student Education Association.

She served as vice president of moral advancement, and Homecoming publicity co-chairman her senior year.

BOD Helps Spirits

As with many chapters, Alabama Gamma is faced with the drabness of dorm walls. So the chapter decided to get in "shape," and build up their BOD! BOD stands for Beautify Our Dorm, and the response to this new interest group, headed by Lois Sparks, has been terrific. Through BOD's hard work, once nondescript halls boast a "galaxy of stars" representing sisters lavaliered, pinned, or engaged, and a bright felt map of the U.S. showing the location of all Pi Phi chapters. Alabama Gamma feels great about the shape of their BOD.

Chapter Is Proud Of Three Legacies

by LISA GRABLE
Virginia Gamma

William and Mary Greeks are following the present trend across the country of having more and more freshmen each year interested in joining fraternities and sororities. This trend has brought with it more legacies, and Virginia Gamma boasts three in its 1975 spring pledge class.

Liz Gessner's mother is Susan Williams Gessner, a Pennsylvania Beta Pi Phi. Liz was never influenced in any way by her mother, and knew very little about Pi Phi before going through rush. She just picked Virginia Gamma because she liked us the best!

Lou Wampler's sister is Jan Wampler, an active Virginia Gamma from 1972 to 1975. Lou was exposed to Pi Phi heritage during her high school years—lots of songs (Jan was song chairman) and stories of the Virginia Gammas. Lou met many of the sisters on her visits to the campus, and came to college hoping to join the wine and blue. She says, "I met so many of the Pi Phis before coming to college, I got to know them really well and wanted to go Pi Phi!"

Our third "leg" is Sarah McCray, whose mother, Barbara Canniff Christian, was a Pi Phi at Purdue University. All her life Sarah heard stories of her mother's active years which told of how much the friendships and crazy things they did meant to her. Sarah and her mother talked about sorority before she left for college, and she was encouraged to approach rush with an open mind, without preconceived impressions. Luckily for us, Sarah joined Virginia Gamma and says "The fact that I chose Pi Phi in spite of my mother's warnings not to choose Pi Phi just because of her has really brought us even closer together than before. Things she told me about and I laughed at, I now am doing myself. She already knows what the traditions are and what they mean, so I don't have to explain everything! It's Great!"

We feel proud and lucky to have these three "legs" among our fantastic pledge class, and hope that our future daughters and sisters will be as smart!

Three talented members of California Gamma perform with the Trojan Chorale, a U.S.C. vocal group. Robin Livingston, Diane Clardy, and Laurie Bayless are members of the singing, dancing group which performs popular and classical music on campus and in the community.

Charters Help With Birthday Celebration

by MARLA MINGENBACK, Arizona Beta

Arizona Beta, at Arizona State University, has been known as the "Sweetheart Chapter" for the past ten years. On Valentine's Day, February 14, 1965, Arizona Beta was chartered. To recognize their ten year anniversary, the girls called upon the first active members who helped charter Pi Phi in 1965.

Imagination and organized planning developed into a fantastic evening with make-your-own-sundaes, and ten year pins shaped like hearts and made of hardened bread dough. Alumnæ told of "days of old"—the way it was in 1965. Songs were sung in the friendship circle and the nostalgic atmosphere of the evening culminated with singing "Pi Phi Lights A-New."

Being the "Sweetheart Chapter" makes Arizona Beta have particular significance among the Greeks on campus, and the enjoyment from this celebration generated a special glow between active members and alums. It was that genuine Pi Phi "bond" being shared and expressed between each sister that made the night so special to the Arizona Betas.

Hold Philanthropic Tea

Wyoming Alpha's Fraternity Heritage interest group treated chapter members and Laramie alumnæ to a slide presentation of Arrowmont and the Settlement School. Following the show was an Arrowmont display, a drawing for a mug, and all kinds of desserts made by the alums.

Parents' Weekend Was Fun For All

Sisterhood in Pi Phi is a beautiful experience for the girls at West Virginia Alpha, but where would the sisters be without parents to back them up and support them? With this thought in mind, the chapter decided to invite parents to spend a weekend so that we could share with them our family in Pi Phi.

It was this thought that sparked the imagination of Mary Jane Gallagher, Vice President of Mental Advancement, and which materialized within a month after her installation as one of the most successful weekends in the history of the chapter.

Plans were made a month in advance, first inviting all the parents and brothers and sisters of chapter members. Then things began to fall into place as programs were planned, activities were arranged, and tickets ordered. Reservations at the same hotel were made for all the parents who needed them. Available activities included the University basketball game and the University production of "The Follies," in which several Pi Phis held roles.

A tea and open house were held Saturday afternoon so that everyone could tour the house and see the imagination used by the girls to decorate their rooms. There was an Arrowmont display, and the latest additions to the house, including a stereo, carpeting in the dining room, mailbox, and new mattresses for every bed, were items of interest.

On Saturday evening the girls held a banquet in honor of their parents. A skit used during rush was performed to give parents a little insight into what helped their daughters learn about Pi Phi before they pledged.

Flowers were presented to Mary Jane for all the time and effort she put into coordinating the weekend. A birthday cake was served, celebrating the birthday of 25-year-old housemother, Lora Lee McHale.

Thanks poured in from parents, some of whom admitted their surprise at how much they enjoyed the weekend. The event was a first for West Virginia Alpha and it certainly will be continued.

Blood Drive Passes Goal By 273 Pints

by SUSAN NOLLS, Georgia Alpha

Georgia Pi Phis became angels of mercy in more than one way during the University's annual blood drive. Many devoted much time to helping the Red Cross during the last week of February, and almost all the sisters who were eligible gave blood. The girls who went to donate but were unqualified for physical reasons, such as age and weight, were given credit for their attempt. This concerted effort gave Pi Beta Phi the honor of first place in the sorority category.

About thirty Pi Phis who are also members of Angel Flight and Belle Corps performed various tasks required in giving blood. Members of Angel Flight registered the people as they first arrived. Belle Corps was assigned to talk to the donors while they were giving blood. They were greatly appreciated in keeping nervous minds off the procedure.

The goal of 1600 pints was surpassed, having a total of 1873 pints collected. Everyone agreed that the fulfillment gained by helping others was augmented by the fun of meeting new people and working together.

Alumnæ Return For Birthday Party

by SUZANNE DELZELL
California Zeta

February 1, 1975, was a big day for California Zeta as we celebrated our 25th anniversary as a chapter. Hundreds of invitations were sent out by the Santa Barbara Alumnæ Club inviting all the Cal Zeta Pi Phis to come back to visit our house. The alums who were unable to come were asked to contribute one dollar for each year they had been gone. Alumnæ contributions amounted to more than $700. This money was put into a fund to be used for major house improvements.

Our own alumnæ did a beautiful job setting up tea and refreshments and arranging our chapter room with many Arrowcraft items for sale. Between noon and 4:00 P.M. more than forty alums came back to visit. Both alums and actives were hostesses throughout the afternoon showing people around and serving refreshments. The returning alumnæ and chapter members enjoyed talking together and looking through the old chapter histories. The day was a memorable one for all.

Interim Projects Are Adventurous For Many

The month of January at Birmingham-Southern College is always an exciting one for 'Southern students—an interim term filled with adventures not dreamed of in the regular term.

This term found 'Southern's Pi Phis involved in a variety of projects ranging from photography for Mike Bevington and Vanessa Hayden, to a trip to France for chapter president Virginia Perkins, and Sherry Stewart in "deep water" with an active scuba program. In addition, our own biologist Mindy Marsh found that learning could be a lot of fun in her research work on Dolphin Island near Mobile.

Everyone learned, worked, and played so much in such a short time. But they were all back together again to finish out the year—and that's the way they wanted it to be.

Sally Cash, Alabama Beta, is the new Alabama Maid of Cotton and will represent the cotton industry in Alabama for the coming year. A sophomore majoring in math, Sally is a Dean's List student and Panhellenic delegate. She will represent the state in the national competition next December.

Alum's Kids Hunt Eggs

by MARY CARSON, Tennessee Beta

The Easter Bunny visited Tennessee Beta at Vanderbilt this year. Cynthia Smith, a pledge, hopped in dressed as a bunny, surprising twenty-five boys and girls who came for the second annual Easter egg hunt. The boys and girls are children of Nashville Alumnæ Club members.

The Easter Bunny told the children about all the eggs she had hidden around the yard. Each child with his basket went out to find the eggs. Actives and pledges were eager to help! Each child was successful in finding at least one egg. After the hunt, the children and their mothers had punch and Easter cakes. A prize was given to the child who found the most eggs, the least eggs, and the golden egg.

The Easter egg hunt was more than a chance for the chapter to do something for the alumnæ's children. It gave the actives, pledges, and alumnæ an opportunity to get to know each other a little bit better.

Panhellenic Forum Delegates Charmed

by ELLA BOYD
Alabama Gamma

Miss Sarah Ruth "Sis" Mullis of Atlanta, Ga., served as the Pi Beta Phi sorority delegate for the annual Panhellenic Greek Forum, held February 17-18 on Auburn University campus. This forum consists of two days of workshops involving the total Greek system, with officers' workshops and workshops centering around sorority problems and needs.

Miss Mullis, South Carolina Alpha, was the 1965 National A.B.O. co-winner as the most outstanding Pi Beta Phi.

She headed the workshop on pledge trainers and the extra workshop on "What is Panhellenic?" In the former workshop, Miss Mullis' personality radiated the atmosphere with enthusiasm for this difficult office. She offered new ideas and encouraged the total participation of the sorority as a whole in all pledge programs.

"Sis" strongly emphasized scholarship during the course of the workshop, stressing the importance of a good beginning with a high grade-point average, to be carried further in college life.

Miss Mullis also presented ideas for strengthening the Panhellenic system from the standpoint of an alumnae advisory committee. She serves as chairman of that committee for the Georgia Alpha chapter.

Working directly with Panhellenic and the sorority on the University of Georgia campus deals with the same conflicts that the Auburn campus faces with Panhellenic decisions affecting each individual sorority.

"Sis" complimented Alabama Gamma for its involvement in Panhellenic with the Greek Forum chairman and the 1975 Panhellenic Rush chairman, both being Pi Phis. She also complimented the entire Panhellenic Council for its outstanding representation of the sororities on the Auburn campus and how it was able to communicate and cooperate with the women students on sororities.

Miss Mullis was a charming delegate for Greek Forum with an overwhelming personality. More so, she brought with her a new awareness of the Greek system and spread the various aspects of Panhellenic into new and better fields.

Banner Is Stitched For Chapter Gift

by LINDA BISHOP, Oregon Gamma

Rau chau chau! Rau chau chau!

Oregon Gamma Pi Phis were awakened by noisy freshmen clad in Pi Phi nightgowns late one night this semester. "Rau chau chau" is a take off on the words "ring ching ching," uttered in one segment of initiation activities, unique to our chapter.

In a presentation during the wee hours of the morning, a magnificent silk banner was given to the members of our house. The banner, which will hang in our chapter room, was stitched as a final project by each of the new initiates.

Emblazoned on the banner are twelve founders of Pi Beta Phi, ivy—the universal symbol for friendship, and a large arrow. Clearly, pledgship has united our girls into a total functioning family.

West Virginia Alpha Pi Phi Pam Dailey rates high in the fashion scene. Recently the petite blue-eyed blonde became first runner-up in the Rochester, N.Y. Official Hair Fashion Committee competition.

Kentucky Beta Pi Phis won the women's intramural basketball championship this year by defeating the Tri Deltas 42-16. Members of the winning team are, front, l-r: Mernie Penhale, Susan Goodman, Linda Begley, Marietta Canale. Back: Jill Ziegler, Sherry Irvin, Beth Hanna, Barb McReynolds.

Illinois Theta seniors gathered for their picture prior to the chapter's annual Christmas party last December. Seniors presented a short skit prior to the exchange of gifts.

At least two Pi Phis will be serving as presidents of their Panhellenics during the coming year. Mimi Hays, Texas Beta, left, will be initiating a system of one formal rush instead of two, on a trial basis for two years. Mary Gitschier, Pennsylvania Gamma, right, relinquished her office as chapter president in January, and two weeks later was elected Panhellenic president.

Duplex Purchased For New Housing Annex

Minnesota Alpha Pi Phis have found themselves eagerly looking forward to the opening of their new annex. House corporation purchased a duplex for the chapter last year, but, for various reasons, they have not been able to use it thus far. However, they hope it will be available in the not too distant future as it will be a much appreciated addition to help solve the space problem.

In the meantime, the house corporation continues to surprise the chapter. This year, after spring break, the girls found a completely refurbished telephone booth, complete with beautiful paneling. They all agree that it has become a delightful spot in which to hold their phone conversations.

Organize Singers

In order to give members of Texas Alpha who had a special interest in music a chance to work (and play!) together, the chapter has organized a small singing group which is called "the Pi Phi Singers." There are about fifteen in the group that practices one night a week, and the repertoire includes "pop" numbers with guitar, '50s tunes, and just plain nonsense songs sung for fun. Occasionally, they sing at chapter meetings just to liven things up, and they have plans to sing for other sorority functions.

Win Sweepstakes, Depression Departs

Although Iowa Gamma's Varieties' skit this year was entitled "A State of Depression," the ISU Pi Phis and Beta Theta Pis were anything but depressed.

They captured the first place trophy in reward for months of preparations and fun!

For the third consecutive year the Pi Phis have won Sweepstakes honors, and this is the second consecutive year they've walked off with the first place trophy for their original twenty-minute skit.

Twenty-five excited Pi Phis and Betas displayed their creativity and talent through song and dance under the direction of Sherry Probasco and Gary Birchenbreiter. Drusie Taylor was choreographer for the production, and musicians from the two houses comprised the seven piece band.

The skit focused upon a rich couple, forced to change their life style during a depression. They became friends with a poor couple and soon realized that there was more to life than money.

Incorporating different styles of music throughout the skit, the group added their own lyrics to "Day-o," "Lida Rose," and "Dream of Love." "Money," by the O-Jays, set the scene for a modern dance take-off of a baseball game. The finale, with Deb Nielsen singing Melba Moore's solo in "A New World Coming," sent chills down everyone's back even after all those practices.

But Varieties meant more than rehearsals, set constructions, costume designing, and performances. It meant a lot of good times for lots of Pi Phis and Betas, and it also meant lots of new friendships.

The week after "everything was all over," the ISU Daily contained a special message:

Dear Pi Phis, We'll be in "A State of Depression" if you won't be our Valentines. Love, the Beta Boys.

ATTENTION ALUMNAE:

Can you help? Our collegiate chapters need voluntary information about prospective rushees more than ever before. In some instances, your advance letter or Rush Information Form may be the only way a chapter can learn of girls for consideration. Your assistance is vital! If you know of a girl planning to attend a school where there is a Pi Phi chapter, will you please forward information without delay. Don't wait for the formal rush period because most chapters today have informal and open rush periods as well.

Any alumna may be a personal reference for any girl, regardless of where the girl lives.

Please fill in as much information as available on both sides of the form.

Lost Pi Phis!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somewhere along the way, many Pi Phis have been misplaced—at least insofar as the Central Office address list is concerned. It is important that all Pi Phis be located, and in an effort to find the lost members, THE ARROW will publish a list, by chapter, each issue. If the reader knows the current address of one of those listed, please forward that information to Mrs. Ralph Schulenburg, Director of Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite #333, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

Debbie Fischer writes, "All the girls of ILLINOIS THETA had a chance to work at the campus radio station last winter, for we did our philanthropic project taking in pledge calls from local people in a Peoria fund drive."

Panhellenic at the University of Kansas worked along with IFC, residence halls, and scholarship halls to sponsor the annual blood drive with the Red Cross. Cooperation between Greeks and non-Greeks produced the most successful blood drive in KU's history, with 726 pints being donated. Jan Corbett, KANSAS ALPHA, says the plans are already under way to make the blood drive even more successful in the future. "This year," she says, "there was an excess of volunteers who couldn't be used because of not enough equipment or time. Even so, there were 46 more pints of blood than KU has ever collected."

In addition to her busy schedule as a teacher and lecturer, Mary Lou acts as one of the few women bank directors in New Mexico, and is a dealer in Indian jewelry. Blue Feather Press, Santa Fe, New Mexico.
