Chapter earns thanks

Again this year, Indiana Delta at Purdue graciously donated $255.00 to the Indiana School for the Deaf. This money was used to sponsor two deaf students at Hoosier Girls' State, a week long program designed to "educate young women in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of citizenship."

The Indiana Deltas earned this money by auctioning off various items and services to the men of Phi Delta Theta last spring. Thanks again, Indiana Delta, for your continued interest in the students at the Indiana School for the Deaf!

Sisters, sisters . . .

The Pi Phi tradition lives on as the daughters of two close Pi Phi friends were initiated into Indiana Epsilon in February, 1988.

Louise Lord Johnson and Nancy Tucker Fifield were pledge sisters at Knox College (Illinois B-D) and now their daughters, Margaret and Marcia Johnson and Karen Fifield, are Pi Phis together at DePauw.

A further note of interest is that the Johnson girls are fourth generation Pi Phis. They, along with their sisters Marilyn Johnson Conkright and Anne Johnson Harris (both also Indiana Epsilons) are the great granddaughters of Ella Fleming Olson, an I.C. Sorosis at Monmouth, and the granddaughters of Gertrude Olson Lord, Illinois Beta-Delta.

It is wonderful to see the Pi Beta Phi legacy live on in these families.

Two years ago, Patti McNealy Slappey and her family were vacationing at Gulf Shores, AL. As luck would have it, we were staying in the same place. Patti lives in Birmingham, AL and I lived in Mandeville, LA at the time. We had not seen each other since college, nor kept in touch.

Last summer we arranged to meet again in celebration of our 20th year of pledging. We couldn't believe it had been that long!

Our family has since moved to [Chicago area]. We used Pi Phi realtors as usual, and are trying to adjust to life in the north. Pi Phi certainly makes it easier.

I was very flattered and very humbled in reading the article which you wrote that appeared in the Summer issue. It has been extremely interesting to receive notes and phone calls from my sisters from across the country. As a matter of fact, when I was speaking to a volunteer in New Orleans who was working on the Republican National Convention, she said, "I think I know you without ever having met you because of reading the article in The ARROW."

You may be interested that the project of housing for the Republican Convention went smoothly, and I am always grateful to have such fine facilities in the City of New Orleans.

Again, my sincere thanks for your fine journalism.

In July, my mother died of cancer. What my family and I have been through from the day of her diagnosis nearly 1½ years ago, up through the present is a nightmare most people are fortunate to escape from in their life's experiences. My intent in writing this letter, however, is not to detail my mother's battle against cancer. . . . Instead, I want to take this opportunity to focus on Pi Phi and, most importantly, to express my gratitude to the members of New York Delta Chapter for their concern and empathy.

The gestures of support began with a floral arrangement I received over the summer, and continued through phone calls, cards and encouraging words of comfort. When I returned to school in the fall I was afraid of how sisters might react if I were not my usual self. Well, my apprehension was unfounded. Even sisters to whom I had never been especially close approached me and told me that if I ever needed anything, they would be there. I cannot even express how that has made this especially difficult time easier for me.

This experience has revealed to me what a sisterhood is really all about—beyond the parties and the fun we have together, there can be a deeper bond of commitment, which many sisters in the house have shown me. To these special people, I am grateful and offer the most sincere thank you. Their endless support has not gone unnoticed on my part and my appreciation for their friendships equals their support . . . endless.

After reading the letter on the death of a pledge (ARROW, Summer 1988) I couldn't help but feel the goosebumps and tears begin. I, too, was the assistant pledge trainer when our chapter came face to face with the reality of our mortality. We also had many questions. She was so young and so very talented. The author of the letter spoke of "this Pi Phi thing that is so special that anyone looking in on it from the heavens would get goosebumps." Although Colleen was only a brand new Pi Phi, she understood this "special thing" deeper than most. I am sure that she is looking down from the heavens and sure that she will always "feel the magic, the sisterhood, and the goosebumps." The letter really hit home with me and brought back memories of a very talented and special girl.

Disappointed!

I just wanted to share with you my disappointment when I read the Fall 1988 edition of The ARROW. This year, after four years of hard work and dedication to Pi Phi, I was selected the Kappa Province winner of the Amy Burnham Onken Award. I consider it a very great honor. When I received my fall ARROW, I thumbed excitedly through it to look for my picture and those of the other Province ABO winners.

However, to my dismay, there was absolutely no mention of any of the ABO or Chapter Service Award winners. . . . I hope that you plan to publish the pictures in the next edition of The ARROW. I'm sure I can speak for all the winners in saying we will be very disappointed if you do not.

Laurie Pesut
Tennessee Gamma

→ Pictures of Province ABO and Chapter Service winners frequently appear in the winter issue of The ARROW, rather than the fall issue. And sometimes we don't receive pictures at all!

Saying goodbye is always hard for everyone, but it is especially so after a long and happy relationship with co-workers. Carol Busch Marlowe has been The ARROW's Alumnae Club Forum Editor since 1979. There have been many changes in her life during these years—she's moved to several cities, had a baby, worked on an advanced degree and is holding a highly responsible job. Through it all she has been a loyal, extremely competent editor of the Forum. Her last editing for The ARROW appeared in the fall issue and we shall miss her. Pi Phi thanks her for her services over the years and I, especially, thank her and extend my wishes for a long and happy life.

Until further notice, Jana Howard, Pi Phi's new Communication Coordinator in Central Office, will take over Carol's duties, and I welcome her. You'll hear more about her at a later date.

We must also say goodbye to the George Banta Company in Menasha, WI. Banta has been printing The ARROW for 75 years—an unbelievable record. They began those printing duties in 1909, and except for five years (1923–1928) have been printing the magazine ever since. I have personally worked with a number of men at Banta during my years as editor, but in the last several years my special co-workers have been Barb Resch, Dick Dietrich and Frank Fawcett. This has been a thoroughly delightful working relationship, and if Banta were not going out of the business of Greek magazine production, we could well have been with them for another 75 years! But time marches on and changes must be made. This is the final issue Banta will be printing. I must now become accustomed to a new printer, American Printers in San Antonio, TX, and they must become accustomed to me. You'll see some changes in The ARROW, but I anticipate working with American. I'll have to see if it's true that "you can teach this old dog new tricks!"

Three months between *ARROW*s sometimes put me in a strange situation. Take this election business, for instance. After the fall issue went to press, I found out that Beryl Ann Longino Bentsen, familiarly known as B.A., wife of Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, is a Texas Alpha Pi Phi. Now this issue doesn't come out until December, long after results of the election will be known, so she may be wife of the new Vice President of the United States. Or maybe she won't. So I still don't have a story about B.A., but plenty of material that I hope to use in a later issue.

Fairfield County, CT Panhellenic Association announces its tenth annual scholarship of $900, available to sorority members whose home residence is in that county. Applicant must be an active member of an NPC sorority in her sophomore or junior year. For information and application, contact Ms. Grace F. Dole, Panhellenic Secretary, 503 West Lyon Farm Drive, Greenwich, CT 06831. Applications and recommendations must be returned by April 1, 1989.

In St. Louis, the Alumnae Club owns, manages and staffs a gift shop called the Sign of the Arrow. It is a super place to visit and browse and buy. Since it is non-profit, each year awards are made to various charitable institutions in Pi Phi and St. Louis. The awards are based on need, the project's feasibility and the involvement of a Pi Phi in the organization. Last September, for example, $43,000 was divided among Arrowmont, Care and Counseling, St. Louis Panhellenic, The Literary Council, St. Louis Crisis Nursery, Women's Self Help Center, Helping Hand Day Care Nursery, Metro Ballet, National Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse and Talking Tapes for the Blind. A noble effort!

Congratulations to Margaret Lowther Intons-Peterson, Minnesota Alpha. Margaret is the first recipient of the Faculty Award of Indiana University's Office of Women's Affairs. She is a professor of psychology and has been a member of that department faculty since 1969. She has served as associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and acting dean of the faculties. Her 1971 study on the status of women at IU led to the creation of the office for Women's Affairs in 1971.

Jacquelyn Mayer Townsend, Illinois Epsilon, who was Miss America of 1963 and was paralyzed by a stroke in 1970, received the Crystal Angel Award, honoring the Angels of Madonna—individuals and organizations who make substantial contributions to the Madonna Foundation which aids patient rehabilitation. In recent years, when she is not on her Pennsylvania farm (The ARROW, Fall 1986) she is encouraging other stroke victims in her role as spokeswoman for the American Heart Association.

And so, it's time to send holiday greetings to everyone. If you're in the throes of Christmas shopping, just remember . . . if you're too busy to laugh, you're too busy.

Call to Convention

PI PHIS WILL BE
"CHARTING THE COURSE TO A NEW DECADE"

... on June 17-22, 1989 when the 57th biennial Convention convenes at the picturesque Sheraton Hotel on Harbor Island in San Diego, California.

Awaiting you will be activities, workshops, legislative convocations, special speakers, friendship, fun n' sun and Pi Phi memories.

Set sail to join us on June 17-22 in sunny San Diego to chart the course in Pi Beta Phi's future and in new Fraternity friendships.

The Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi
Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg
GRAND PRESIDENT

Pi Phis may not have an opportunity to see this lovely sight in San Diego, but there will be all other kinds of views and activities available during Convention week. San Diego is 135 miles south of Los Angeles and just 15 miles north of the Mexican border. It is the second largest city in California and home of the largest naval complex in the world. It is also the seventh largest city in America, but in an hour and a half, one can go from the sea to the mountains to the desert. Balboa Park's 1,074 acres lie in the heart of the city, and within its boundaries is the world famous San Diego Zoo.

So come on along to California's fastest growing major city, enjoy the hospitality of the Sheraton Harbor Island Hotel and share the sisterhood of Pi Beta Phi.

CONVENTION INFORMATION

The 57th Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity will be held at the Sheraton Hotel on Harbor Island, 1380 Harbor Island Drive, San Diego, California 92101, from Saturday, June 17, 1989 to Thursday, June 22, 1989.

CONVENTION COMMITTEE

REGISTRATION CHAIRMAN:	Sandy Burns Matranga (Mrs. Laurence) 10817 Fuerte Drive La Mesa, California 92041
NATIONAL CONVENTION COORDINATOR:	Mary Kahlenberg Schroeder (Mrs. Alan) 4284 Woodland Shadows Place Santa Rosa, California 95404

HOTEL INFORMATION

Full American Plan: (rate includes room, meals, taxes and 15% gratuity on meals).

Single—$157 per day, per person
Double—$108 per day, per person
Triple—$90 per day, per person

Full American Plan will begin with dinner Saturday, June 17, 1989 and end with breakfast Thursday morning, June 22, 1989.

Roommate requests cannot be honored unless arrival dates are the same.

SPECIAL MEAL EVENTS

If you are eligible and plan to attend any of the Special Meal Events, please mark the CONVENTION REGISTRATION FORM. Please see separate information on page 9 in this issue. All full-time hotel registrants are automatically counted to attend all evening meals.

INDIVIDUAL MEAL TICKETS

Pi Phis who are not full-time guests at the hotel may purchase individual meal tickets at the Meal Ticket Desk in the Registration Area at the hotel. Tickets must be purchased at least 72 hours prior to the time of the meal. Tickets may also be purchased in advance by mail through the Registration Chairman (address above).

Breakfast: $8.00; Lunch: $17.00; Dinner: $28.00; Banquet: $38.00. Prices include: cost of the meal, sales tax and gratuity. Times of meals are as follows: Breakfast 7:00 to 8:00 a.m.; Lunch: 12:00 noon; Dinner 6:30 p.m.; Banquet: 8:00 p.m.

TRANSPORTATION

Pi Beta Phi is proud to have United Airlines as its official carrier for the 1989 Convention. To obtain a special discounted air fare, call HMS Travel, Santa Rosa, California. Toll free number: 1-800-331-6086 (including California residents). All Pi Beta Phi Officers and official Collegiate Delegates who are attending Convention at national Fraternity expense must make travel arrangements through HMS Travel. HMS will confirm your reservation at the lowest available rate. If United does not service your city, HMS Travel will confirm the best possible route and fare to San Diego.

AAC and HOUSE CORPORATION PRECONVENTION SEMINARS

Indicate on the Registration Form if you will attend either of these Seminars. You must be an official member of an AAC or House Corporation. Schedule your arrival before 6:00 p.m. Friday, June 16, 1989. Meetings begin Friday evening and continue until 4:00 p.m. Saturday, June 17, 1989. There is a registration fee of $25 for those attending these seminars.

CONVENTION CHORUS

Sign-up space is provided on the Registration Form. Chorus practice is held late in the evenings. It is an excellent opportunity to learn new songs and sing old favorites.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURE

Upon your arrival at Convention, go directly to the hotel registration desk. Proceed from there to the Convention Registration Area. Bellman tipping: usual fee is $1.00 per bag.

Credentials: All voting delegates must show credentials in order to vote. Voting delegates must register at the Credentials Desk in the Registration Area.

DAILY/PART-TIME REGISTRATION

Daily Registration Fee is $20.00 per day, per person. Meals are not included, for those attending Convention on a part-time basis without hotel accommodations. This registration fee is required for all Pi Phis attending any portion of Convention, except for meal events. Fill in the appropriate space on the Registration Form or pay daily registration fee at the Pi Beta Phi Registration Desk during Convention.

Note: Pi Phis who are staying in the hotel on a part-time basis are required to pay the daily registration fee of $20.00 for each night spent in the hotel.

OTHER PERTINENT INFORMATION

Opening Reception: 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 17, 1989. "Meet Grand Council."

Dress: White dress is required for attendance at the Memorial Service. Banquet on the final evening is formal, long or short dress. All other meals are less formal; dress as you would for a sit down meal in a fine hotel. The hotel is air conditioned and the mornings and evenings in June in San Diego are usually cool; a sweater or jacket may be desired for extra comfort.

Cameras: Pictures may not be taken during ceremonies. Moderation is requested during meals, programs and meetings.

Recreation: Tuesday afternoon, June 20, 1989. Tours include the San Diego Zoo, Shopping in Tijuana, Mexico, La Jolla with Shopping and a Mini-City Sightseeing Tour of San Diego on Land and Sea. See Information Page 8 for descriptions and prices. Tuesday lunch will not be served at the Convention Hotel. Please fill in the appropriate part of the Registration Form if you wish to participate in a tour (please choose only one). All recreation tours will include lunch except the San Diego Zoo. Some tours are limited in the numbers they can accommodate.

POST CONVENTION TOUR: Thursday, June 22, 1989, there will be a one-day tour to Universal Studios in the Los Angeles area. Buses will leave the hotel in the morning after breakfast and return that evening. The hotel will honor the Convention room rates (excluding meals) for those taking the tour and wishing to stay an extra night. See the Post Convention page in this issue for a full description for a day to remember at one of California's greatest attractions. There is nothing like it in the "Universe" and it promises to be a fun day!

Recreation Day Tours

Tuesday, June 20, 1989

Old Tijuana Shopping

Cost $28.00

A motorcoach will take you to Mexico's lively border town, Tijuana and to La Escondida Restaurant, Jose Cuervo's mansion for lunch. Then it's time for shopping. You may purchase up to $400 worth of merchandise, tax free. No passports or visas are required for U.S. or Canadian citizens. Non-U.S. citizens need a multi-entry visa with passport. Wear comfortable shoes and casual clothing, no shorts please.

Mini-City Sightseeing & Harbor Tour

Cost $32.00

Enjoy San Diego's spectacular bay aboard a boat cruising the calm waters, and see awesome Coronado Bay Bridge, naval ships, man-made islands with their collection of hotels, yacht clubs and restaurants. Lunch will be served during the cruise. Then you will tour, by motorcoach, scenic San Diego, including Balboa Park, Old Town, Mission Bay Hotel del Coronado and other highlights. Casual dress and bring a light jacket.

San Diego Zoo

Cost $26.00

On a three mile, 40-minute narrated "Zoofari" bus tour, you will cover 80% of the Zoo grounds with the world's largest collection of wild animals in environments similar to their native habitats. Later, wander on your own, have lunch on your own at one of many Zoo restaurants, explore the Children's Zoo where the baby animals are kept and just enjoy this lush botanical garden. Casual dress, comfortable shoes.

La Jolla Shopping

Cost $36.00

Close your eyes, dream of California—you'll see La Jolla. En route by motorcoach, you'll see the UCSD campus, Salk Institute and the Scripps Institute of Oceanography before stopping in "the Village," where you'll enjoy lunch at the renowned Marine Room restaurant. Then, it's shopping in the boutiques, galleries and designer studios, exploring museums or even beachcombing. Upscale casual dress, keeping in mind La Jolla's exclusivity.

PLEASE NOTE: Some tours are limited in the number they can accommodate. Tours are from 12:30-5:00 p.m. Lunch will not be served at the hotel on Recreation Day.

(10:00 a.m.-9:30 p.m.)

UNIVERSAL STUDIOS TOUR

SCENE ONE: An escort will meet you at the hotel to begin your journey to the wonderful world of motion pictures at Universal Studios. En route you will pass Camp Pendleton Marine Base, San Clemente and San Juan Capistrano. You will enjoy a delicious sandwich box lunch with a beverage en route.

SCENE TWO: Arrival at Universal Studios. Here you will board a "Glamour Tram" for a two hour trip through Universal's famous backlot, where thousands of classic movies have been made since 1915. You'll see 640 outdoor sets, buildings and facades created especially for motion pictures and TV hits such as "Frankenstein," "Jaws," "The Sting," "E.T.," "Back To The Future," "Psycho," "Miami Vice," "Murder She Wrote" and many more. You'll experience a flash flood, the parting of the Red Sea, an alpine avalanche, a runaway train and witness the Battle of Galactica. You will also be attacked by Jaws and come face to face with King Kong.

SCENE THREE: The Entertainment Center, where you will enjoy free time to see the incredible elements that go into the movies—close up. You'll see exciting live action shows including: the STAR TREK Adventure, the new "Miami Vice" action spectacular, Animal Actors' Stage, and the Western Stunt Show.

SCENE FOUR: Enjoy a Chinese feast at Fung Lum's Restaurant which overlooks the Universal City area.

SCENE FIVE: Departure for San Diego after a thrilling fun filled day.

The cost of the Universal Studio Tour is $85.00 per person. This includes transportation, entrance fee, lunch and dinner. Reservations are a must for this tour as space will be limited. Dress casual and bring a jacket. The Sheraton Hotel will honor the special Convention rates for the extra night. Be sure to include this extra night when designating your departure date on the hotel reservation form.

This is just one of the live action shows you'll see when you take the Post Convention Tour of Universal Studios. It's a day full of excitement and fun that shouldn't be missed. (Photo by Lee Salem)

by Kathryn A. Whistler

At the helm of S. S. Pi Phi and guiding the way are Karen Emberton, General Chairman, left, and Jan Darcy, Assistant General Chairman.

Set your sails for San Diego! The S.S. Pi Phi will be dropping anchor at this beautiful harbor city in the southwestern corner of the United States. You'll find sun, sand and recreation in a casual California setting when you come ashore. There's much to explore in this ideal climate: the famous San Diego Zoo, seventy miles of Pacific Ocean beach, colorful Mexico south of the border . . . the attractions are endless!

The Sheraton Hotel on Harbor Island will be home port for Convention week. Just five minutes from the airport, this exceptional hotel is situated on San Diego Bay amidst lush tropical landscaping.

Our helmsman for the voyage is steering a steady course toward the destination. General Chairman Karen Emberton Henry is already over a year into her duties of organizing 70 diversely talented women into an efficient Convention crew. A Kentucky Beta, Karen began her Pi Phi leadership career as president of her University of Kentucky pledge class and hasn't stopped since! She has served as Kappa Province President, alumnae club president and AAC member, and is a veteran participant in regional workshops and national conventions.

Junior League of San Diego is another current beneficiary of Karen's volunteer enthusiasm. She makes her home in suburban Poway with husband Ken, owner and chief executive officer of a management consulting firm, and step-daughter Stephanie, age 15.

Professionally, Karen used her Master of Social Work degree in that field for six years before pursuing a second career as owner and operator of "Branch of the Lily," a charming retail shop featuring Appalachian handcrafts and American folk art, including many Arrowcraft wares.

Jan Edwards Darcy, California Epsilon, is the competent first mate, supervising part of the crew as Assistant General Chairman. She has remained involved with her chapter at San Diego State University. Her current duty with the San Diego Alumnae Club is treasurer.

Christopher, age 8, and Andrew, age 5, keep Jan busy. Husband Tom, Delta Upsilon, is a C.P.A. Jan is active as a perennial officer in Thursday Club Juniors, a women's social and philanthropic organization. Managing a T-ball team, camping, tennis and golf round out Jan's lifestyle.

Sandy Burns Matranga has the yeoman's task of Registration Chairman, and she has the energy and skills to run a tight ship. Another California Epsilon, Sandy held a succession of offices in her chapter before finishing degree work at the University of Southern California as president of her dental hygiene senior class.

Besides volunteering generously with the San Diego Alumnae Club, Sandy is on the Dental Hygiene Examining Committee of the California State Board of Dental Examiners. She and spouse Larry, Pi Kappa Alpha, have two children: Laurie, 25, Chi Omega, and Steve, 22, a student.

Assistant Registration Chairman Betsy Bruset Baker, also a California Epsilon, has served in many capacities with AAC, House Corporation, and the San Diego Alumnae Club. She is a past club president and has been financial advisor to AAC. Volunteers like this don't stop with Pi Phi. Betsy works with the United Way, Thursday Club, a hospital auxiliary and local boards.

Betsy's husband, Bud, Pi Kappa Alpha, owns a lumber company. Daughter Elizabeth, 28, is a graphic designer and son Jon, 25, is a systems engineer.

Yet another California Epsilon alumna, Nancy Best James, is Convention Treasurer. As an active, Nancy was SDSU chapter president. Well qualified to handle the booty, Nancy is a self-employed C.P.A. She serves the community through Junior League of San Diego and the mothers' club of her children's school.

Nancy is married to Tom, an insurance broker. They have two boys, Andrew, 6, and Jonathan, 3. Leisure time means tennis time for Nancy.

Jerelyn Wright Biehl brings her talents to the demanding position of Hospitality Chairman. She was UCLA's California Delta Chapter president and further served the Fraternity as a traveling graduate consultant. Active in the San Diego Alumnae Club, Jerelyn also serves as AAC chair to the University of California, San Diego California Kappa Chapter, one she helped colonize in 1986.

Employed as marketing director for Ernst & Whinney, Jerelyn and her scientist husband, Sean, are parents of Graham, age 2, and Cameron, just under one year of age. The Biehls are real sailors, racing sailboats competitively . . . an activity that brings her into contact with Pi Phis around the country wherever they compete. Jerelyn shares a love of sailing and Pi Phi sisterhood with her sister, De Ann Wright Reynolds, California Epsilon.

Assistant Hospitality Chairman Nancy Halvorson Johnson, California Epsilon, is current president of the San Diego Alumnae Club, your Convention host. Nancy is vice principal of a junior high school and is married to Those hardworking Convention chairmen are (back l-r) Jerelyn Biehl, Hospitality; Nancy James, Treasurer; Nancy Johnson, Assistant Hospitality. Front: Sandy Matranga, Registration; Betsy Baker, Assistant Registration.

John, also an educator. They have a 9-year-old daughter, Molly, and a 6-year-old son, Matthew. Golf is her avocation whenever there's time!

Acting as chief navigator is Mary Kahlenberg Schroeder, National Convention Coordinator. She has held this appointed office since 1983 and her experience is invaluable.

Mary is an Illinois Epsilon from Northwestern where she was chapter treasurer. She's been involved in three alumnae clubs, currently in Santa Rosa, CA. Mary's Kappa Sigma husband, Al, is a physician specializing in radiation oncology. The Schroeders have three children: Jean Schroeder O'Connell, Arizona Beta, now AAC chairman for California Iota; Tom, Phi Gamma Delta, a golf course designer; and Dave, a third year college student. She's also the proud grandmother of two!

Mary works with the Santa Rosa Luther Burbank Center for the Arts. This is her second year as LBC Guild president and she is also a member of the Center's board of directors. Not one to short-change her local club, she is Arrowcraft chairman for the Valley of the Moon Alumnae Club.

At the 1989 Convention, members of Grand Council and Fraternity Directors will be elected to serve two-year terms of office.

During the spring, all chapters and alumnae clubs will receive forms to be used in making recommendations for these offices. The nominating committee requests that your recommendation forms be completed and returned, as directed, prior to Convention.

Individuals are invited to send letters of recommendation for Fraternity officers to the nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Paul W. Phy, 4408 Lorraine, Dallas, TX 75205, no later than May 1.

An Angel from Indy

by Nancy S. Heck

Some people are blessed with enough enthusiasm and energy to share with others. Betsy Mitchell Yates, Indiana Gamma, is one of those rare individuals.

She has been elected chairman of Indiana Gamma's Alumnae Advisory Council (AAC), and she is certain to give the chapter some high goals to strive for. Betsy previously served on AAC as membership chairman.

More than a successful leader, Betsy is a team player. She doesn't ask the active chapter to do anything she wouldn't do. As a matter of fact, during any given week Betsy can be found at the Butler University Pi Phi chapter house helping various members with tasks ranging from addressing invitations to cooking initiation brunch to supervising landscaping renovations. She is never hesitant to roll up her sleeves and pitch in.

Her wide range of talents in management and organization stem from serving as president and C.E.O. of Indiana Seal, a manufacturer of products for the piping industry. For five years she has run the company of 58 employees like a tight ship.

The experience and knowledge she has gained in the business world will allow Betsy to lead the Indiana Gamma Chapter aggressively into the new year. Her successes in corporate America have also allowed her to assist the chapter financially. Her generous contributions have changed the face of the Butler chapter house.

Last summer Betsy provided funding and direction for a much needed renovation of the landscaping. Overgrown bushes and trees hid the beautiful white columned porch of the chapter house. Betsy chose blue spruce shrubs because of their silver blue tint. She then selected bushes with wine colored foliage to echo the Pi Phi colors against the white brick house. No detail was overlooked as white mums were planted along the long sidewalk leading to the house. Now the chapter can proudly walk up the flower lined walk and be reminded that an alum cares about the future of Pi Phi on the Indianapolis campus. This painstaking attention to detail has been the hallmark of Betsy's involvement with Pi Phi.

In addition to her financial contributions, Betsy has given spiritually to Pi Phi, organizing the first "Alum Mum" program pairing a new pledge with an alum who can be a special link to another group of Pi Phi friends.

This year Betsy has taken on the herculean task of updating the alumnae club yearbook in a city where there are a possible 1,200 members. Months were spent on the phone and at meetings setting up callers and double checking names, addresses and members, working with the club president, Denny Gray Baldauf, and the printers to assure that all details were covered. She even went the extra step to visit Pi Phi Central Office on a recent trip to St. Louis to compare the Indianapolis Alumnae Club's yearbook to other award winning books.

Any project Betsy takes on is destined to succeed. With her at the helm of the AAC at Indiana Gamma, the girls in the house have a definite advantage and a lot to learn from a very talented and gracious Pi Phi.

Seven Pi Phis were honored in the auspicious Holiday in Dixie Cotillion held each spring in Shreveport, LA. UVa team wins in marketing competition

Anne-Marie Failla, Virginia Epsilon, and three University of Virginia teammates won first place in the 1988 National Collegiate Case Competition. The American Marketing Association annually sponsors this intercollegiate competition.

Anne-Marie, an economics major and an Echols scholar, joined three other female students in the competition. They created hypothetical revenue-generating strategies for the American Red Cross through market research and surveys. They compiled their results and submitted a 30-page report to the American Marketing Association.

After they were notified that their report had been chosen, they went to the regional competition in Hartford, CT. There they presented their ideas, complete with graphs and slides, to the judges. After winning top honors, Anne-Marie and her teammates flew to New Orleans to compete against other teams across the nation. The flight, room and board were paid by UVa's McIntire Commerce School.

All the regional winners made presentations to a panel of six judges who then forced Anne-Marie's team to defend the case analysis. Anne-Marie and her cohorts won first prize and $1,000. They gave the money to the Marketing Association at UVa, however, to encourage the development of other programs such as this.

This year, in addition to being a fourth year class trustee, Anne-Marie is Speakers Chairman for the Marketing Association.

HOLT HOUSE Contributors' Honor Roll

The Holt House Committee wishes to thank all chapters, alumnae clubs and individuals for their financial support during the year ending June 30, 1988. Included in this list are donations from the 1987 Convention Boutique plus the Piano Fund when contributions to the latter totaled $100 or more.

In recognition of those who have contributed $50.00 or more we honor the following:

New York Alpha new initiates.

New York Alpha returns to Syracuse

by Elizabeth Shaw and Carolyn Pavletich Lesh

Recess is over for New York Alpha! On February 7, 1988, Pi Beta Phi pledged 80 young women who would bring the arrow back to Syracuse University. We were fortunate to have the pledge ceremony in the Pi Phi house at 201 Walnut Place, near the campus. The house has been owned by Pi Phi since 1938 and had been leased, in New York Alpha's absence, to Alpha Omicron Pi for the past several years. Their members graciously agreed to vacate the house for the afternoon so new colony pledges could have the first ceremony in their own house. This fall the Pi Phis will again be living in the house.

Pi Beta Phi's New York Alpha Chapter was first founded in 1896, survived but was weakened by the anti-Greek years, then left the campus in June, 1984, because of numbers too few to compete with other Panhellenic groups.

Installation weekend was held April 30, 31 and May 1. Many Pi Phis, including New York Alphas, came to Syracuse from all over the U.S. to play a part in this important weekend. What a thrill to see the 81 new initiates, including one alumnae initiate, wearing the golden arrow. Patricia French Rogers, local installation chairman, invited, on behalf of the national Fraternity, Pi Phis from across the nation to share the joy, the friendship, the inspiration and the commitment of re-installing New York Alpha, Pi Phi's newest chapter.

Interest for membership in Pi Beta Phi was evident during the first week in February when over 300 undergraduate unaffiliated women attended rush information night. The National Rush Team, Syracuse Alumnae Club and New York Delta collegians gave their all during the re-colonizing rush and the result was an outstanding new beginning for the chapter.

Accomplishments of their first semester include raising $3,600 with Sigma Nu (whose chapter is also new on campus) for the S.U. 24-hour dance marathon, benefiting Muscular Dystrophy. It was raised in two months and the two groups placed fifth in this philanthropic event. New York Alpha Colony also placed fourth in Greek Week after winning many events.

Weekly workshops and two all-day retreats helped prepare for the chapter's first rush in September. Along with other special chapter activities were several exchanges with fraternities and sororities and their first semi-formal. Also, all pledges passed their national pledge test with flying colors.

University history

Syracuse University was founded by the Methodist Church in 1870. The campus was moved from downtown Syracuse to "The Hill" in 1873 when the Hall of Languages was dedicated. One hundred and fifteen years later this was the building where the New York Alpha 1988 colony met for pledge meetings during spring semester, their first semester.

S.U. is a private institution with an enrollment of 16,000. Greek population is 27% of the campus enrollment, with 15 women's fraternities and 38 men's fraternities. Known as the Orangemen, S.U. is in the Big East Conference and boasts outstanding teams in basketball and football.

Preparatory events

Activities leading to initiation began Wednesday evening prior to installation weekend. Colony pledges gathered for a candle passing and a sharing of Pi Phi feelings.

Reading of the Pi Beta Phi Constitution and Statutes and the Preparatory Service was held in Hendricks Chapel, located in the heart of the S.U. campus. An early Pi Phi tradition was shared with pledges as they were treated to their first Cookie-Shine.

Honored Pi Phi guests, New York Alpha alumnae, Pi Phi mothers, collegians from New York Epsilon, Zeta and Delta and Connecticut Alpha and Syracuse alumnae were present . . . close to 40 chapters were represented at this traditional celebration.

New York Zetas made a congratulatory banner and Pi Phi mugs for each initiate. New York Epsilons made pin pillows and New York Deltas wrote letters for each one.

A highlight of the evening was recognition of the twelve Golden Arrow members who were present for the festivities. Many shared their Pi Phi memories and good wishes. It was inspiring that three New York Alphas from the class of 1926 came from as far away as San Diego and Florida.

Gifts to the chapter were opened by Colony President Lisa Wainio and included many beautiful items. The evening continued with spirited song and cheer, in true Pi

Phi fashion. It was a time of reunion, celebration, friendship and Pi Phi.

Honored guests

National officers in attendance were Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, Grand Vice President of Alumnae Lucy Baker Warner; Grand Vice President of Membership Carolyn Pavletich Lesh; Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees Sarah Mullis; Director of Collegiate Extension Carolyn Cromb Brada; Director of Membership Betty Blades Lofton; Executive Director of Central Office and National Installation Coordinator Virginia Bland Fry; Outgoing Alpha-Beta Province President Audrey Ludden Gangloff; Beta Alumnae Province President Donna-Rae Pasch Cianciotto; Incoming Beta Province President Barbara Condon Feldkamp; Graduate Consultants Elizabeth Shaw, Diane Black, Paige Phelps, Jenny Moeller, Mary Beth Francke, Lamia Gabal and past Consultants Lisa Masters, Stacy Kamas.

Initiation

The Grand President, aided by national officers, alumnae and collegians, conducted a beautiful initiation ceremony Saturday morning at the Erwin United Methodist Church. All those attending reaffirmed their pledge to the aims and ideals of the Fraternity.

Included among the 81 initiates was a special alumnae initiate, nominated for membership by the Syracuse Alumnae Club and approved by Grand Council. Patricia Olgeaty is a deserving alumna initiate; two of her daughters are New York Alphas and, in past years, she has given endlessly of herself to the chapter as a Pi Phi mom.

Banquet

As new initiates arrived at the Holiday Inn Banquet Center, and as alumnae and guests gathered for the evening's celebration, pictures were taken and introductions were made. Carolyn Brada, Supervising Officer for the chapter, was Toastmistress. Elizabeth Shaw presented Debbie Bennett, Liz Cleason and Erin O'Shea honor badges given to the chapter by New York Alpha alumnae. These outstanding initiates were selected by a vote of chapter members. Lucy Warner presided over the Candlelight ceremony honoring the twelve Founders. How happy they would have been to know that the Fraternity had just installed its 123rd chapter.

Highlight of the evening was Grand President Lichtenberg's installation of the chapter and the presentation of the original New York Alpha charter, dated 1896. Love and cheer were symbolically shared by alumnae and collegians during the Loving Cup Ceremony. Strength of bonds of wine and blue were felt by all attending the lovely banquet.

Model meeting and reception

Sunday morning Lucy Warner presided over the model chapter meeting and the Grand President installed chapter officers and Alumnae Advisory Committee members.

In the afternoon, a community reception was held at the Schine Center honoring the initiates. Parents, Uni-

Fraternity Expansion

by Carolyn Pavletich Lesh, Grand Vice President of Membership

From the date of our founding on April 28, 1867, at Monmouth College, through the present time, extension has been a priority of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity Founders, national officers and leaders. The Founders of I.C., with their avowed "design to establish it (the organization) in as many chartered institutions as possible," were steadfast in this plan.

According to Founder Emma Brownlee Kilgore, at the first Grand Alpha (Convention) in August, 1867, "We discussed plans for extending I.C. and making it the foremost women's society and decided that we would enter other colleges."

Libbie Brook Gaddis, youngest of the twelve Founders, accomplished our first extension effort. In her junior year she left Monmouth to enter Iowa Wesleyan University with the idea of establishing a Pi Beta Phi chapter there. By September, 1870, the total chapter roll had grown to four.

Until 1885, new chapters were started by individual I.C.s who attended or visited neighboring colleges, or, occasionally, by members from other colleges who were initiated into chapters of I.C. for the purpose of having them start new chapters. It was not until 1885 that the Constitution provided for the inspection of petitioning groups and the installation of new chapters at fraternity expense.

In 1906, Pi Beta Phi adopted an extension policy which required that charters be granted to groups only in institutions with an annual income of $75,000 and with an enrollment of at least 50 women in the event that Pi Beta Phi was the first to enter, and 75 if there was one women's fraternity already on the campus, etc. No groups were allowed to petition during the interim of Conventions.

In 1925, duties of the Grand Secretary were increased to include direct supervision of each new chapter for two years, thus assuring all possible national help to the groups. In 1958 the National Panhellenic Conference Delegate was given the responsibility of overseeing the Fraternity's extension program. Growth in numbers being a part of the fraternity system, Pi Beta Phi had lived up to the vision of its Founders by our centennial year. By 1967, Pi Beta Phi had become third largest in number of chapters and second in total number of members as well as the oldest women's international fraternity with continuous expansion.

Emma Harper Turner's admonition that the Fraternity must stand for quality as well as quantity had also come true.

The Grand Corresponding Secretary was elected at Convention in 1971 and, as Director of Extension, outlined the many areas to be considered before choosing the correct campus for expansion. The prime points outlined at that time are basically the same today:

- Alumnae interest and support,
- Panhellenic attitude, cooperation and invitation,
- Suitable and available housing—competitive with all other groups,
- Academic climate, and
- Available funds for expansion.

As a result of legislative action at the 1985 Convention, the Grand Vice President of Membership now oversees extension presentations, colonization and installation, and directs supervision of new Pi Beta Phi chapters for a minimum of two years. This Grand Council member works closely with the Director of Collegiate Extension in regard to selecting/accepting colonization sites, extension presentations and colonizing rushes.

Pi Beta Phi is continuing a cautious and conservative policy for expansion and expects to further extend the benefits of our Fraternity membership to all parts of the country. Major criteria considered in the selection of campuses is the potential for growth and an atmosphere compatible with the quality of our Fraternity membership.

Establishing new chapters

In 1988, steps to establish a new chapter begin with Pi Beta Phi's notification by a Collegiate Panhellenic that their campus is ready for expansion OR with an established local club's letter stating that their group is pursuing national affiliation. Grand Council depends on alumnae to keep us informed of campuses where they are interested in having a Pi Beta Phi chapter.

Many times when there is a campus where we would be interested in establishing a chapter, a "letter of interest" is sent by the Director of Collegiate Extension to that university stating that when the Panhellenic is ready for expansion, Pi Beta Phi would like to be notified.

Local alumnae interest and support are essential to us in selecting the best campuses for new chapters. When notification of impending expansion is received, national and province officers and local alumnae in that area are contacted. If there is sufficient interest, if investigation and research indicate that conditions for expansion are positive, and if we can meet the deadlines outlined by the Panhellenic, we write indicating that Pi Beta Phi is interested in pursuing a chapter on that campus.

Often we will receive a questionnaire to be completed and returned for Panhellenic consideration. Many times we will also include a copy of our national pledge manual, programming information, policies, brochures, etc.

Usually three to five NPC groups without chapters at the location in question are invited to make a presentation. After the invitation is received, a presentation team is formed. This team usually consists of the Grand Vice President of Membership, Director of Collegiate Extension, one or two Pi Beta Phi Graduate Consultants, one or two collegians from a nearby chapter and a local alumna.

When time permits, a mailing is sent to local alumnae to announce the date of our presentation and to ask them to come to a meeting to discuss alumnae support to a chapter. If permitted by Panhellenic, they are also encouraged to attend the actual presentation.

The campus Panhellenic arranges the schedule for our day of information and investigation on campus. Often, but not always, meetings are arranged with administrators, deans and Panhellenic officers; a campus tour is usually provided as well. If it is a local club which wants national affiliation, Pi Beta Phi likes to meet with as many members of that "local" as possible so that we can exchange information and answer questions.

After a day on campus, the Grand Vice President of Membership speaks with other Grand Council members to discuss the findings of the presentation team. If all indications are still favorable, a ballot vote is sent to all active chapters, alumnae clubs and province officers in the province concerned to assure acceptance of a new group.

When Pi Beta Phi receives the invitation to colonize, a date is set in accordance with the university calendar and Panhellenic schedule. A Resident Graduate Consultant is hired and assigned to the new colony. A national rush team composed of a minimum of two Grand Council members, two national Directors, two or three Pi Beta Phi Graduate Consultants, and the Province President is selected. A nearby active chapter is asked to assist with the rush parties; local alumnae are also used to help with the rush parties.

Pi Beta Phi works with the campus Panhellenic to establish a colonizing rush comparable to formal rush on that particular campus. For first round, a format often used is to have an Open House complete with a slide presentation somewhat similar to our extension presentation except that it is aimed toward the prospective rushee. Every rushee who signs up for rush is invited to the second round, a party complete with a skit done by an active chapter.

Round three consists of 30-minute roundtable discussions with a small group of rushees and two or three members of the national rush team. The final round is a dessert party, by invitation only, possibly with an inspirational-type skit, again presented by an active chapter. The following day invitations to membership are extended and the pledging ceremony is held. These five activities are done in approximately six days.

Pi Phi Consultants

The Resident Graduate Consultant (RGC) is an important factor in assuring the growth and development of a new colony/chapter. She is carefully selected and well trained to work with a new group. Her responsibilities include pledge education, instruction in Fraternity procedures and the instilling of respect for Pi Beta Phi values and standards. Our consultants are highly motivated leaders who represent a variety of academic and geographical backgrounds. They possess the important qualities of enthusiasm, flexibility and a strong sense of commitment to Pi Beta Phi.

The RGC arrives on campus approximately two weeks before the colonizing rush to insure that all preparations are completed. In the beginning the RGC wears many hats. She serves as all the colony officers, prepares for officer elections, establishes the budget, serves as Panhellenic liaison and leads the colony pledges in acquiring unity, sisterhood and Fraternity knowledge. She provides training for colony officers and Alumnae Advisory Committee (AAC) members.

An AAC of five to eight members, selected from area alumnae, is appointed by Grand Council. Area alumnae also comprise a House Corporation Board who owns, maintains and manages chapter property.

Grand Council appoints a Council member or national Director to serve as supervising officer for the new chapter for a minimum of two years. She works directly with the RGC and AAC, under the guidance of the Grand Vice President of Membership, to provide strong support and assistance.

The next step is to plan and execute installation activities. A general chairman and other local alumnae plan this exciting weekend. The national Installation Coordinator serves as a liaison between the local chairman and the GVP of Membership during the planning process. An invitation is sent to Pi Beta Phi officers, chapters and alumnae clubs in the province, and all Pi Phis are welcome and invited to attend these exciting, historical events. Highlight of the weekend is when the Grand President performs the initiation ceremony for colony pledges.

The wonderful world of extension is indeed an exciting one. Without quality growth we would not be fulfilling the goals of our twelve Founders. This quote from Emma Harper Turner says it best: "We shall occupy the whole land of the best colleges, because we want our Fraternity to be representative of all that is best."

NEWS OF ARROWCRAFT and ARROWMONT

While giving a tour of his classroom last summer to Pi Beta Phi's Graduate Consultants, woodturning instructor Dan Kvitka offered every woman there a chance to turn wood. There was some hesitation at first, but once a few had tried it, everybody wanted to feel what it was like. Kvitka, who gave up industrial designing to become a professional woodturner, could understand their reaction. He says that woodturning is very seductive. Like throwing pots, results come quickly.

Later, in private, Kvitka praised Pi Beta Phi for supporting a philanthropy as uncommon as Arrowmont, and declared that Arrowmont is the "hottest woodturning school in the country." Kvitka hails from Corvallis, OR and was teaching at Arrowmont for the first time.

Photographers and writers contributing to this section on Arrowmont and Arrowcraft are Sandy Blain, Bill Griffin and Cynthia Huff.

Pi Phi paper is new Arrowcraft product

A brand new line of paper products is being introduced by the Arrowcraft Shop, and advertised for the first time on the back cover of this issue of The ARROW. Designer of the line is Pi Phi's own Gayle Oswald Englof, Illinois Zeta, of Rockford, IL. She is an artist/craftsman specializing in Surface Design.

Gayle Oswald Englof, Illinois Zeta, is responsible for the new design in paper products that Pi Phis will love.

The "paper project" began out of her frustration in never being able to find wine and blue paper products for Pi Phi gatherings. Through her design work, she has developed contacts over the years in various industries, including manufacturers of paper goods. Recently, when alumnae clubs were asked for input on new product ideas for Arrowcraft, the "wheels began turning." She presented her idea of a line of Pi Phi paper products to the board of her Rockford Alumnae Club. They all agreed that Pi Phi paper products would be warmly embraced by Pi Phis everywhere, both alumnae clubs and collegiate chapters. Since Pi Phi already had a wonderful retail network established through Arrowcraft, it could be a profitable addition to Arrowcraft products.

Gayle approached Arrowcraft Manager Mary Dale Swan to see if she thought a paper line would be successful for the shop. To her surprise, she found that Mary Dale was also "thinking paper," and was very enthusiastic to hear her ideas in more detail.

Research begins

Gayle began researching symbols of the Fraternity to get ideas for design themes. She also contacted three paper manufacturers to get pricing information. It was soon apparent that they were looking at an enormous outlay of money and storage space. A minimum order of one plate size and one napkin size would fill a two car garage and cost between $4,000-$8,000. Arrowcraft was not able to finance such an expenditure. Some Rockford Pi Phis offered to finance the first run, but the difficulties in handling and storing that much paper seemed overwhelming. There was only one solution left in Gayle's mind—to see if she could develop a Pi Phi design that would appeal to everyone, not just to the Fraternity, so that one of the paper companies would consider putting it in their regular line of every day paper products. It was a long shot, but she likes challenges and decided—why not try?

Pi Phi friends helped shape the design direction by giving feedback on design ideas. It was generally decided that a floral, using the wine carnation and silver blue color, would appeal to a broader market than just Pi Phis, which would help convince a prospective manufacturer.

Of the three companies Gayle had dealt with, Artfaire was the most receptive to her quest for information and to her ideas.

Design is a winner

Gayle began sketching ideas and sent her final layout to Artfaire for a reaction. They were very enthusiastic and agreed to market test the Pi Phi design along with 44 other designs in Boston, Minneapolis and San Francisco. They asked her to complete a painted rendering of a 9" plate and a luncheon napkin. In their "focus groups" during testing, Gayle's design kept coming up in the top three preferred designs. She still wonders if there were any Pi Phis in the groups.

After that showing, Artfaire had no qualms about including her design in their line. The biggest advantage to Pi Phi (aside from the fact that we didn't have to finance a penny of it) was that, by putting the design in Artfaire's regular line, the Arrowcraft Shop had access to eight products: luncheon and beverage napkins, 7" and 9" plates, paper table covers, thank you notes and invitations and 9 ounce hot and cold cups.

It is Gayle's hope that the paper line will be well received by Pi Phi members so that Arrowcraft can add it to its list of profitable items. Even though the line will not be available exclusively through Arrowcraft, it is hoped that Pi Phis will order the line through the shop.

Gayle's involvement in the project was putting all the pieces together. She learned a lot and gained valuable experience in the process. The design fee paid to her for the idea is being donated to Arrowcraft in the hope that most of the profits will be funneled into a special account to be used for the purchase of crafts for the shop, especially during times when Arrowcraft might experience cash flow difficulties. It is important to be able to keep the craftsmen busy all year.

Embroidery takes on special artistry

The intricate, miniature embroideries by artist Tom Lundberg must shatter nearly everyone's conceptions of what hand embroidery is. His pieces are not similar to the linear work on dresser scarves and tea towels, nor are they anything like the embroidery one sees taught on public television. Lundberg's painterly embroideries, some of which have been priced at more than $1,000, are closer in appearance to the Scouting merit badges from childhood.

Lundberg had, in fact, been influenced by military badges, and is interested "also, in just how male patriarchy surrounds itself with textile power, not only in the military, but in the clergy." Lundberg can recall "the military garments we dressed in when we were kids . . . playing in our Dad's and uncle's things, trying to grow into the power that they surrounded themselves with."

Now living in Fort Collins, CO and teaching fiber classes at Colorado State University, Lundberg can readily find connections between his Iowa childhood and the characteristics of his distinctive embroideries.

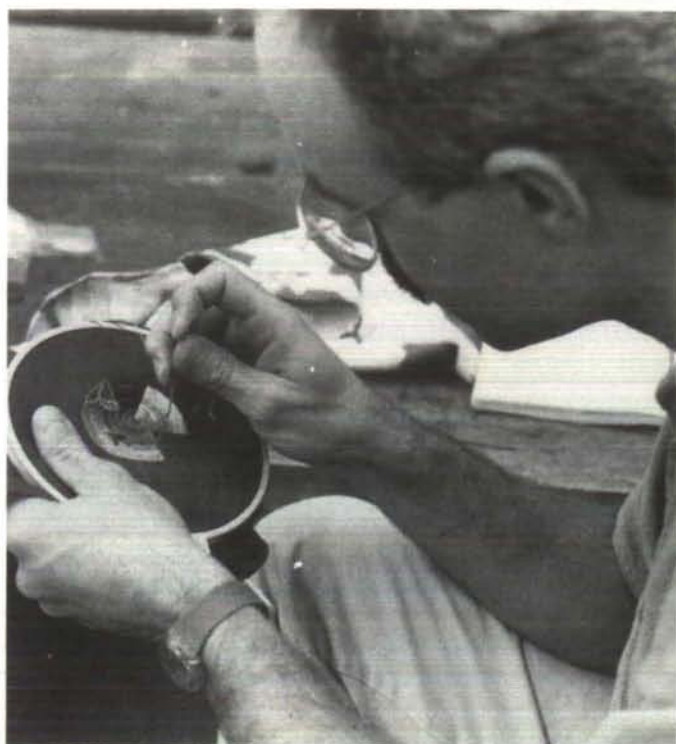

"When I was a kid our tourist meccas were often richly surfaced places like The Corn Palace in Mitchell, SD or The Grotto of the Redemption built by a rock collecting priest in West Bend, IA." Somehow the most exciting places to go seemed to be the ones with these thick, juicy surfaces.

While a painting student at Indiana University, he discovered "that the surfaces of textiles, especially embroideries, could have that same kind of obsessive fullness."

When Lundberg switched from painting to tapestry weaving he learned an important lesson that pointed him in the direction of embroidery. "If you make a mistake in weaving, you have a lot of unweaving to do. I preferred what embroidery offered me, and that was the ability to work all over the image." He does this by laying threads down and then tacking them down with what's called a couching stitch. With this technique, Lundberg masterfully creates subtle gradations of color, and his pictorial embroideries sometimes take on a look of well-groomed, technicolor fur. The embroideries are often five inches square or smaller, and several recurring themes can be found in his work.

He professes to have a great affinity with house and garden themes, two things that are really traditional to Elizabethan and Victorian embroiderers. The Lundberg hieroglyphics also include household dramas (as in "Back Burners"), first aid diagrams (as in "Frostbite Remedy"), dog obedience classes (as in "Leash and Highway"), stargazing (as in "Big Dipper"), black Labrador retrievers (as in "Dog and Phone") and bodies of water (as in "Water Safety Badge").

Lundberg has taught at Arrowmont three times and says, "I like coming here, it's a good campus." He likes the way one gets to know Arrowmont artists "and they, in turn, know people you may have heard about or you would like to meet. That networking thing kind of happens naturally here. Arrowmont just makes me feel like I am participating in the bigger picture of my own medium and in art."

Arrowmont will be offering an embroidery class in the summer of 1989 taught by Mary Bero. Work by Bero and Lundberg can be seen in the exhibition catalog, American Craft Today: Poetry of the Physical published by the American Craft Museum, New York.

German student hopes to return

Washington Home, the Sunday magazine supplement of The Washington Post, pointed its April 14th spotlight on today's more sophisticated craft artists and on the burgeoning popularity of crafts classes. In their cover story entitled "From Down Home to Uptown: Craft Courses Take a New Path," Patricia Dane Rogers and Christina Del Sesto told readers that craft courses can be found in "a host of top-flight summer schools." Arrowmont was sighted as among the country's five best known of the summer programs.

As well patronized as these summer programs are, craft-loving Americans may not appreciate completely the tremendous learning opportunities so readily available to them. Fully understanding the uniqueness of a workshop program like Arrowmont's may require meeting Arrowmont students who have traveled from Europe or the Far East for a chance to learn. One may mistakenly assume that countries with rich art and craft traditions have flourishing workshop programs similar to Arrowmont. This is not always the case, however.

Barbara Theobaldy of Heidelberg, West Germany, spent four weeks at Arrowmont taking papermaking from three different instructors. During her last day she said, "If I can manage it at all I will come back, because we don't have similar places in Germany. Workshops on this level are very hard to find in Germany." Referring to the fact that Arrowmont offers fine art classes and crafts classes concurrently, Theobaldy added, "And I like this art and crafts together very much. In Germany the art people look down upon craft people; they don't like this. There's a big separation between arts and crafts people. I like very much the idea of connecting both."

"I read English magazines, American magazines . . . and I found a note that you are offering papermaking classes. You offered the most, the longest session without interruption and it fits well in my private timetable, so I came here."

Pi Beta Phi Scholarships and Friends of Arrowmont Scholarships are available for spring and summer classes. The deadline for spring is January 15 and summer April 1. For information and application form contact Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts.

Board of Governors secretary, Emily Robinson Kunde, Dallas, TX, left, and her sister, Carol Clark, of Decatur, IL, beside her, spent a week at Arrowmont learning how to make baskets from bark. Students learned how to harvest bark and how to manipulate it so that each type of bark is used to its greatest advantage artistically.

New Arrowmont video earns officer praise

Participants in the September Pi Phi Officers Workshop at Arrowmont were treated to a special educational program presented by members of the Arrowmont Board of Governors. Realizing that many officers attending the workshop would be experiencing Arrowmont for the first time, the Board thought that it would be especially meaningful and helpful to create a program and informational packet for their use as they acted as "Arrowmont Ambassadors" during club and chapter visits in the current year.

Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell, Grand Vice President of Philanthropies, gave the opening comments and introduced members of the board who were present: Carol Inge Warren, Grand Treasurer and Director of Settlement School Finance; Sandy Blain, Director of Arrowmont; Helen Anderson Lewis, Alumnae Relations/Awards; Charlotte Ann (C.A.) Eckel Edwards, Development; and Lucinda Trabue, Public Relations. Dressed in colorful Arrowmont T-shirts, the group presented their program and Arrowmont truly came alive.

C.A. Edwards discussed contents of the comprehensive packets packaged in a silver blue folder. The new Arrowmont slogan, "Enriching lives through art," was featured on the cover. Contents included two programs which officers were encouraged to use in their visits. The "Reflections" slide show, written by Adrienne, has been updated and transferred to a video cassette which all Alumnae Province Presidents received. Each kit contained a script, with loaner copies available to all others through Central Office. A multiple choice "Arrowmont Awareness Test" was also reviewed. Support materials in each packet includes a map of the Pi Phi property in relationship to the City of Gatlinburg; the general brochure; a course schedule of classes; calendar of upcoming gallery exhibitions, conferences, programs and classes; postcards featuring facilities on the complex, a full color poster; a bumper sticker; comments from 1988 students; press clippings from local, regional and national articles written about the School and its programs; comments from Marian G. Heard, former director of Arrowmont, and a May L. Keller Award entry form.

Lucinda, a student in a variety of classes at Arrowmont, wrote and presented an audio visual presentation, "The Arrowmont Experience. Through the Eyes of the Student." The program took the viewer through the week of a class, utilizing the stream of conscience technique. One could see and hear the wonder, the joy and the opening of the student's creative spirit during her Arrowmont Experience. Bill Griffith, assistant director of the school, took the photographs used in this program.

The entire program was enthusiastically received by the officers. Many expressed that for the first time they felt that they had a clear understanding of what Arrowmont is, what it does and what the Arrowmont Experience is like for students.

Pi Phi celebrates 70 years at W. Virginia

by Michele Kooch

"Happy 70th Birthday, West Virginia Alpha," sang the new pledge class to active chapter members and the many alumnae who attended the elegant birthday party on September 21.

Pi Phis shared more than just prime rib and birthday cake at this celebration, held in the ballroom of the Hotel Morgan in Morgantown, WV. Fifty active members and fifty alumnae spent the evening telling stories and reminiscing.

"When I lived in the house," said an alumna from the pledge class of 1944, "the physical set-up was a little different, but the Pi Phi spirit and special bond were the same then as they are now and will be forever."

Betty Leonard Kisner, a member of the 1925 pledge class, gave the Pi Beta Phi grace before the lovely dinner was served.

"I haven't seen some of these girls in 10 or 20 years," remarked a 1945 pledge class member. "This is such fun—we should do this every year!"

Donna Smith Chase, pledge class 1952, and Nellie Phillips Trotter, pledge class 1924, both past Delta Province Presidents, presented a special award to the chapter following dinner. This "birthday present" was West Virginia Alpha's original invitation to charter and the original charter, both framed and given by the alumnae of West Virginia Alpha. This gift, kept for 70 years, will be hung in the Pi Beta Phi house.

Both actives and alumnae felt the special Pi Phi love in the air that evening.

"I cannot get over the number of generations of loyalty and love that are gathered in this room tonight," said an active. "Pi Phis are really special people."

Chapter Loyalty Day

by Jana Howard

Ah. . . the good ol' days. How we treasure the memories of our Pi Phi experience. The vivid memories of song and laughter, of sharing and surprises, of secrecy and sisterhood. College days, now expired, leave behind treasured memories of the collegiate experience.

We owe a lot to our chapters—for the privilege of membership, for helping us become more self-assured, for creating life-long friendships, and for giving us the opportunity to utilize our talents while contributing to Pi Phi.

Each of us has had our own unique Pi Phi experience that remains very dear to our hearts. And, it is with this loyal fervor that Pi Phis everywhere celebrate Chapter Loyalty Day on January 9th, by recognizing the chapter in which we enjoyed the privilege of collegiate membership.

January 9th is a very special day indeed, for it marks the birthday of one of Pi Phi's distinguished members, Carrie Chapman Catt. Carrie was a great leader in the suffrage movement for women. Her 70 years of loyal and devoted service to her chapter set an example for which all Pi Phis should strive. During the month of January, in honor of Pi Phi Loyalty Day and Mrs. Catt, each Fraternity alumna is asked to remember her own chapter in her special way. Sending a note to the chapter is a thoughtful way to remember or, how about brightening the chapter house or suite by providing a plant. Perhaps some "famous" home-baked cookies, an ideal study snack, would be appreciated by studious members and pledges. . . or give a chapter magazine subscription that deals with current issues for reading enjoyment. Another idea is the sending of a videotape for the chapter's use (educational material or health issues/exercise).

There are so many ways each of us can remember our chapter throughout the month of January. Remember, reflect and enjoy your treasured moments of those earliest Pi Phi years. Each alumna is very special not only to Pi Beta Phi national Fraternity, but also to that very special place of wonderful Pi Phi memories—her chapter.

Memories are vivid for ninety-year-old

Although memories of her college days at St. Lawrence University are vivid, it is memories of her sisters in Pi Beta Phi that are most dear to Mabel Clark Maltby, 97, who was graduated from St. Lawrence College in Canton, NY in 1913.

In an article from the Watertown (NY) Daily Times, written by staff writer Marsha Davis, Esther remembered some of those fun times.

"My friends were so close that I thought more of the sorority than the college. I idolized those girls in my class who were in the sorority. There were eight of us. We were so close."

For decades, Mabel and her Pi Phi sisters kept a round-robin notebook circulating through the mail in which each sister would write something about her current activities before mailing it to the next on the list. The notebook no longer travels—Mabel is the last surviving Pi Phi from that era.

Among her treasured mementos is a photograph of sorority members in 1913, all wearing their pins on elegant white dresses that would be the envy of any bride today.

Although she has been blind for six years, Mabel keeps her mind in tune by listening to books for the blind and doing memory exercises. And when she's asked about her college days at St. Lawrence, those memories come tumbling out.

When she entered the university, tuition was $60 a year and included a $10 athletic fee that allowed students to attend university team games. Mabel was an avid basketball fan and never missed a game.

In remembering rush of those early days, Mabel laughed that the Pi Phis would go to the train station just before Canton, and recruit pledges before they could reach other sororities waiting for prospects in Canton. Or they would wait in Canton on the opposite side of the depot and grab potential pledges before they could exit from the other side of the train.

Betas and Pi Phis usually paired for social events at St. Lawrence. Although Mabel and Chauncey Maltby had known each other since high school days, they were partners at the Beta Ball because they were about the same height.

"It was a match that lasted 59 years, from their marriage August 22, 1914, to his death in 1973 at the age of 87."

Now Mabel has 13 grandchildren, 43 great grandchildren and five great great grandchildren.

A former teacher, she recommends a college education to everyone. She says that the greatest reward of her teaching career was in helping students learn to get along with other people.

Mabel has remained close to St. Lawrence, sending copies of historical photographs for its archives, contributing to the Alumni Fund and returning for reunions, including her 50th.

Joni McMechan, Miss Indiana

Wendi Willis, Miss Wyoming

Pi Phis represent two states

Two Pi Phi beauties represented their states in the Miss America Pageant last September. Joni McMechan, Illinois Epsilon, was named Miss Indiana in June and took this last fall quarter off to fulfill the obligations of her title. Miss Wyoming, Wendi Willis, is a fall pledge at Wyoming Alpha, transferring from the University of Wyoming to the University of Arizona after her freshman year.

Joni is a senior at Northwestern, seeking a Bachelor of Music degree, specializing in voice performance and music management. She plans to continue her studies in graduate school with the objective of becoming a performer with a professional opera company. Following her performing career she would like to be involved in the management of a professional opera company or arts organization.

Wendi is seeking a degree in mechanical engineering, specializing in apparatus design for the physically handicapped. Just 19, she is the youngest in her family, having two brothers and two sisters. Her mother and one of her sisters have been 1st runners-up to Miss Wyoming in years past. Wendi is a former Miss Majorette of Wyoming, and is feature twirler for the UW Marching Band.

Both young women are honor students. Joni is a member of Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta, academic honoraries, and Sigma Alpha Iota, music honorary. Wendi was on her high school honor roll and has earned Dean's Honor Roll recognition in college.

Cooperation is key to success

by Ingrid Laidroo

Imagine a college campus with only two NPC women's fraternities. The normally close relationship between Delta Gamma and Pi Phi temporarily dwindles during fall rush at Indiana University-Purdue University at Fort Wayne. The start of this season was no exception. However, the IPFW Panhellenic Association pulled together and took a stand on campus. Whether a girl be a Pi Phi or a Dee Gee, she is ultimately Greek. This strong feeling was felt across campus, leading us to one of the most successful rush periods yet.

Approximately 50 girls began the fall rush. Past records indicate that only half of the original number continue. This year, however, we had almost 70% return.

After this year's first pledging, Indiana Eta had 15 pledges. Through continuous open bidding, the Etas prepared to double their chapter size of 21.

Someone once said, "Though I may not be large and able to do great things, I will do what I can in a great way."

Indiana Eta has put forth a sincere effort to do things in a great way. At the same time, Panhellenic relations have strengthened.

Six Oregon Gammas served on the staff of Willamette's "Opening Days," a week-long orientation program for new students. From the left: Ann Alisa Colburn, Juliana DeLeo, Laura Zinniker, Amy Willis, Jayneen Toguchi and Ronda Beckner. All worked hard organizing the week's activities.

Octogenarian is honored again

When a lady's biographical detail totals four inches in Who's Who in America, it's no wonder she deserves the accolades of many. Such is the case with Esther McDonald Lloyd-Jones, an Illinois Epsilon Golden Arrow. With a lifetime of achievement behind her, this 87-year-old, now living in a Millbrook, NY retirement center, is just as attractive and brilliant as she has been over the years.

Her latest honor was conferred last March during the 72nd anniversary conference of the National Association for Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors (NAWDAC), held in Pittsburgh. That organization named its prestigious award The Esther Lloyd-Jones Distinguished Service Award. She was recipient of the first NAWDAC Distinguished Service Award.

Esther received her undergraduate degree from Northwestern and her master's and doctorate from Columbia, where the famous Teachers College became her base of operations for the next 50 years. She began as an instructor, became a full professor and is now professor emeritus. At Columbia she also served as head of the department of Guidance and Student Personnel Administration and as director of the Guidance Laboratory. She regards her time there as "the richest years of my life."

In 1984 Columbia presented Esther with its Distinguished Alumna Award for her "far-sighted concern for justice for all human beings [that] helped sensitize the world of higher education to the need to consider the situation of women in professional life." She was also cited as an "ideal role model for women in all professions."

Ten of Esther's professional years were spent at the U.S. International University of California as distinguished professor of human behavior.

Her interests and contributions covered many areas, however. During World War II, she was consultant to the Secretary of War and representative of Oveta Culp Hobby in selecting the first group of

Dr. Esther Lloyd-Jones, one of Pi Phi's most distinguished sisters.

W.A.A.C. officer candidates. Her work on numerous boards, commissions and advisory committees ranged from Girl Scouts and YWCA, the education and status of women, to several colleges and universities. In a number of these and in various professional associations, she became president or chairman. She is author or co-author of a number of important books in her field as well as many articles and chapters in journals and books. She still found time to travel and lecture and lend a hand to those who sought her advice and guidance. She has been an important consultant to both government and industry.

Esther served as trustee for more than 31 years at Pratt Institute where she is currently Trustee Emeritus. In 1987 Pratt named one of its new residence halls for her.

Through a lifetime of service, Dr. Esther Lloyd-Jones has received many awards, including four honorary degrees, an Award of Merit from the University of Arizona and recognition as "Woman of the Year" from Dickenson College and Texas Southern University. As one of the nation's intellectual giants, this teacher, scholar, educator, counselor, author, lecturer and consultant to industry has had a major impact on education and on the fields of guidance and personnel administration as we know them today.

And she is a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Responding to the needs of visually impaired residents in her retirement community in Maryland, Maxine Cooley Montgomery, Colorado Alpha (right), started a support group geared to making lives of low vision people more livable. Lem Cabaniss, chairman of the local Lions Club sight conservation committee, donates a $200 check to the program as Judith Birch, advisor, looks on. The Montgomery's granddaughter, Kelly Ann Greene, is a 1987 initiate of Virginia Eta.

Prof alum is "found" at sale

by Edith Smith Beer

What a delight it was to discover that someone I had been sitting next to in Sunday School for over a year is a Pi Phi. Not until after holding the Northern Virginia Alumnae Club Arrowcraft Sale at our church did Heather McCallum-Bayliss and I "find" each other.

Due to her busy schedule as a linguistics professor at Georgetown University in Washington, DC, Heather had never found time to join the alum club. However, she has quite a Pi Phi legacy. Her mother, Harriet Heath McCallum, her aunt, Barbara Heath Killins, and her grandmother, May Rider Heath, are all Pi Phis. Heather, her mother and her aunt are all Michigan Betas. May Rider Heath was initiated at Maryland Alpha, Goucher College, and later affiliated with Michigan Beta. May has since passed away, but Barbara and Harriet are Golden Arrows and at one time all were active in the Ann Arbor Alumnae Club. Barbara is a past Province President.

Since the recognition encounter Heather not only has joined the Northern Virginia Alumnae Club but has taken on the responsibility of editing and producing the newsletter.

Sometimes the benefits of Sunday School are greater than we realize.

term and helped improve the chapter's average by .230. A 3.667 GPA is required for the Dean's List and Anita Fort, Linda Gaikis and Lisa Yerby achieved that honor.

Ohio Eta, Denison

The chapter house had a face lift last fall. The front entryway, guest bedroom, living room and chapter room were all redecorated. The seven member House Corporation works with a group of actives and together they make final decorating decisions.

Tennessee Alpha, U.T. Chattanooga

Julie Ingram was named the girl who best represents the ideals of a Greek woman, chosen by Panhellenic. The presentation was made during the Greek Awards Banquet.

Kim Hall and Connie Phillips participated in the Peer Advisor and Listening Service (PALS) and Cindy Englerth is a member of the Student Orientation Board (SOB). Both groups help familiarize freshmen with the school.

Kentucky Gamma, Eastern Kentucky

Dee Wiegandt, former chapter president, was Greek Leader of the Month last March. Tracey Lafferty, Panhellenic treasurer, was chosen for the month of April. Selection is made by Panhellenic Council.

The chapter placed 1st in Beta Football, 2nd in Sigma Chi Derby and 2nd in Phi Kappa Tau Oktoberfest.

Tennessee Gamma, U.T. Knoxville

Donna Cruze is a charter member of U.T.'s Order of Omega chapter. She also received a $1,000 Karl A. and Madira Bickel Scholarship in journalism, chosen for outstanding academic achievement and professional promise.

Illinois Alpha, Monmouth

Pi Phis swept dorm council elections in the fall by winning the dorm presidency at two of the three all-women dorms. At Liedman, the entire exec council are Pi Phis: Katie Hale, President; Emily Suess, Vice President; Renee Soderstrom, Secretary; Wendy Frieden, Treasurer. Grier Dorm has Amie Jackson as its new president.

Elise Cummings, Karen Lafferty, Angie Pensinger and Jody Smith are featured in the Zeta Beta Tau 1988-89 calendar.

Pennsylvania Zeta, Washington & Jefferson

Sue Balaraman and Joy Wilhelm attended the National Collegiate Leadership Conference in August, and exchanged Pi Phi stories with fellow participants Ellen Breithaupt and Nicole Wheeler, Missouri Gammas.

New York Gamma, St. Lawrence

Tuesday, September 13, sisters turned out in numbers to appear on national television. "Good Morning America" was at St. Lawrence to film a short segment about the campus food service. Pi Phis were invited by the administration office to appear as background for the live telecast.

Indiana Delta, Purdue

Stephanie Cunningham, Monica Eckman, Lisa Heisler, Kerry Schaible, Laurie Tobin, Kimberly George, Clare Seng and Susan Smith all qualified for Dean's List first semester.

Indiana Alpha, Franklin College

Chris Sovich is Admissions/Publications Coordinator for Media Relations and Special Projects and is the fifth Pi Phi in a row to serve a Pulliam Fellowship. Pulliam fellows write news releases, draft brochures and are liaisons between the public, news media and the college.

Maryland Beta, University of Maryland

Melanie Mealy was recipient of the CRC Press Freshmen Chemistry Achievement Award, presented each year to the most outstanding freshman chemistry major.

Ohio Delta, Ohio Wesleyan

Debra Repasky received the Cleveland Panhellenic Scholarship for the 1988-89 school year.

Once again Pi Phi held the highest GPA in the Greek system. Many girls

From the left: Four of the six Kansas Alphas who were Rho Chis (rush counselors) during fall rush at the University are Emily Monen, Kim Towner, Emily Johnston and Trisha Harris. Also fulfilling this important function were Kara Durrett and Krista Martin.

Janie Sutherland, Kentucky Gamma, represented Pi Phi in winning the Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl pageant. She was also spotlighted on the PIKE calendar.

were on the Dean's List and several had 4.0.

Illinois Epsilon, Northwestern

Carrie Shapiro managed the journalism division of the Cherub program last summer. The program is for high school students who are interested in fine arts and journalism.

Becky Lies was a costume design intern on the movie Union Street, starring Robert DeNiro and Jane Fonda.

Laurie Zerwer interned last summer on All My Children in New York City. A production assistant, Laurie worked behind the scenes and experienced first hand the creation of a TV program.

Heidi Heller was named first runner-up in the Miss Illinois Pageant in June and received a $1,200 scholarship for her efforts.

Pennsylvania Beta, Bucknell

Lewis & Clark did it in the 1800s, now Pi Phi did it in 1988! Kelly Purcell and Denice Walsh drove from California to Maryland last summer and made stops at Pi Phi houses across the country. They visited chapters at the University of California, Berkeley and the University of Nebraska where they received warm welcomes. Since Pennsylvania Beta doesn't have a chapter house, it was interesting for the two to see what Pi Beta Phi "house life" is like!

Indiana Eta, IN/Purdue at Fort Wayne

Loriann Franz was on the Chancellor's List after receiving a 4.0 GPA. Ingrid Laidroo and Andrea Grable were on the Vice Chancellor's list. Ingrid was invited to join Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary music fraternity.

Wisconsin Alpha, University of Wisconsin

The thrill of their pledges receiving the best grades over all other sororities last winter was so exciting that they didn't know how to top it. But they did! Within one semester activities achieved academic success and ranked second for highest overall GPA, a big jump.

Michigan Gamma, Michigan State

Julianne Locky had an exciting internship at MTV, coordinating schedules of the video jockeys and serving as a public relations specialist for the cable station's guests.

Indiana Epsilon, DePauw

Leslie Dexheimer, Susan Belt and Betsy Boxell challenged themselves last summer by completing an Outward Bound course in North Carolina. The experience lasted a month and it was a challenging and rewarding month that the girls will never forget.

Heidi Weas is the 1988 Lambda Chi chapter sweetheart.

Illinois Beta-Delta, Knox College

Angela Hefel, an English literature major, received the May Rodney Bechtel Prize in public speaking, and Leslie LaBounty is a cum laude graduate in chemistry.

Texas Eta, Texas A & M

Courtney Anderson, Susie Baird, Lori Leeds and Mauri Smith made 4.0 GPAs last spring and the chapter had 40 Pi Club members!

North Carolina Beta, Duke

Pam Seamans was co-editor of the first edition of the Duke Women's Handbook, modeled after similar publications at Stanford and Oxford. The handbook tells the history of women at Duke, identifies organizations and programs available on campus and in the community, discusses health issues and addresses serious problems women face today.

Carolyn Robbins, Georgia Alpha, was a Top 10 finalist in the Miss Petite Georgia pageant in Atlanta in September. Carolyn is a sophomore at UGA and sings in the chapter's Washboard Band, a group of 15 sisters who entertain during rush and several other times throughout the year.

Ohio Beta, Ohio State

Jannette Dugan and Kirsten Newell spent an entire week with other Ohio Republican Youth delegates, attending the national convention in New Orleans. They recently completed three quarters as pages with the Ohio House of Representatives.

Illinois Theta, Bradley

Allison Sweeney is one of nine Student Aides who design and carry out the summer freshman orientation sessions. During the school year she implements programs such as health education, tutor files and career opportunity exploration. In October she went to Sacramento, CA to present Bradley's orientation and advisement programs.

Virginia Delta, Old Dominion

Pi Phi is not only the largest chapter on campus, they are 12 girls over ceiling. The chapter showed its support for the Greek system by having the largest turnout for the Old Dominion Greek State of the System address.

Texas Gamma, Texas Tech

Lori Johnson was winner of the District I Miss Texas Farm Bureau contest held in August and won a $600 scholarship. This allows her to compete in the state level pageant in December. Lori is a civil engineering major and is listed on the President's and Dean's Honor Rolls.

Kim Seals, Indiana Alpha, was named "Best DJ of the Year" by Franklin College's radio station WFCI. Kim is a past chapter treasurer and has been a DJ for WFCI for three years.

Texas Epsilon, University of North Texas

Dianne Crossman, Deanna Hall, Tamara Hubbard, Julie Jenner, Tracy Newton and Stephanie Strickland made 4.00 for spring semester. The chapter achieved the highest GPA, a 2.86, on campus for spring semester. This honor has been reached 23 semesters out of 26.

Angie Monschke earned the honor of being named Outstanding Leadership Sophomore of the Year.

Junior League extends honor

Sandra Sona Ellis, South Dakota Alpha, has been named Outstanding Sustainer of the Year by the Junior League of Sioux City, IA, chosen because of her many community activities, as well as her interest and leadership in the Junior League.

As an active volunteer, Sandra has served on the Board of Directors and executive committees of Leadership Sioux City, United Way of Siouxland, Symphony Orchestra Association, Junior League, Girls Club of Sioux City and the Art Center Association. She has been county chairman of the Easter Seal campaign, chaired the Grandview Park beautification committee working in conjunction with the city and Sertoma Club in planning and construction of a children's play area in the park.

Sandra has held many offices in Junior League and attended League conferences in Chicago and Kansas City and the Governor's Conference in Des Moines. She is past Sustaining Advisor to the Board. She is on the staff of KWIT public radio in Sioux City as Volunteer Coordinator and is an editorialist on air.

A truly Panhellenic family, Sandy's husband, Robert, is a Phi Delta Theta, son Bob is a Teke; daughter Beth, a Tri Delta; sister Jan Sona Hyden, a South Dakota Alpha; and an AChiO niece.

Louise Fricke, initiated in 1935, and Helen Weibley, initiated in 1934, did cake cutting honors at Iowa Alpha's birthday party.

Fraternity's oldest chapter celebrates

by Carolyn Ottinger Kovener

Among hugs, kisses and a few tears, alumnae joined the active chapter of Iowa Alpha on the Iowa Wesleyan College campus to observe 120 years of activity. Iowa Alpha is the oldest chapter in continuous existence of any Greek letter women's fraternity in the United States.

The chapter house was spotless, thanks to loyal local alumnae and House Corporation. The yard was freshly raked by the active chapter. Flowers were blooming on the porch. A beautiful day made the gathering extra special.

As people arrived at the chapter house on Saturday morning, April 9th, coffee, punch, and goodies were enjoyed. Catching up on the years and sharing knowledge about members not present took much of the morning. The active chapter serenaded visiting alumnae with favorites such as "Remember," "Ocean to Ocean," and "Ring Ching Ching," and several new, lively songs and parodies from recent Conventions.

Carpooling for luncheon gave some the opportunity to get to know more recent alumnae or actives. Seating was by decades for more chatter and sharing of pictures of families. Many told how Pi Beta Phi had been a positive influence in their lives and careers. Some older members told of retiring to Mt. Pleasant because of their feelings of "home" and friendships made many years ago as young women.

Upon return to the chapter house, we found Grand President Carolyn Lichtenberg viewing history books and memorabilia of the chapter. There was a beautiful display of arrow pins from the Josephine Rogers Carper family collection, to be presented to Holt House. The first ARROW magazines had basically the same format and looked almost as though they were printed recently. Carolyn found many items of interest that have been carefully stored over the years.

A tour of the campus was enjoyed by several that afternoon. Many buildings and some classrooms are used very differently now from the uses of years ago.

The auditorium of Old Main, where Founders introduced the chapter to college students and professors, is now part of the music school. Old Main has recently been restored and is now listed as a historic building in the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

The evening banquet was held in the John Wesley Holland Student Union with several of the chapter's patronesses present. They have shared their lovely homes with the chapter for rush parties over the years. Each table was extra special with lovely spring flowers and handmade angel ornaments for each attendee to take home and enjoy.

Following dinner a three-tier cake with 120 candles was lighted by members of the classes of 1930. More ladies attended from those years and also had given more financial support so they had the honor of lighting the candles.

Three 1919 initiates were present. Helen Firebaugh Rogers and Edith Whiting are both of Mt. Pleasant and Sadie Callan Hinsey came from Scarsdale, NY. Helen Rogers' sister, Mary Firebaugh Swaney Stuntz, Class of 1918, is one of the oldest living Pi Beta Phis, at age 95. She is now living in Florida but was unable to travel to the observance.

Returning to the chapter house, several actives did a chapter traditional street dance in front of the house. More singing, coffee, punch and talk ended the evening.

The next morning several members journeyed to Monmouth to see Holt House.

Those who did not attend the occasion were missed but were remembered for their contributions to the chapter and the campus.

Thanks goes to Elizabeth Davenport Garrels, chairman, and her committee. Their careful planning assured that the 120th birthday party of Iowa Alpha was special to all.

75th DIAMOND JUBILEE

Attention, St. Lawrence alumnae. The 75th anniversary of New York Gamma is quickly approaching. Monday, March 20, 1989 marks the chapter's Diamond Jubilee! Festivities are being planned to make this a memorable celebration for the sisters of wine and silver blue.

Alumnae are encouraged to attend the grand celebration during Homecoming 1989! Mark your calendar today. We want to reunite as many sisters as possible.

Lehigh Valley club has successful start

by Jane Ingalls Kochman

Pocono Mountain resorts, shoo fly pie, Amish country, easy access to New York and Philadelphia. . . . What could possibly be lacking in the Lehigh Valley of Pennsylvania? Why, a Pi Beta Phi alumnae club, of course! But that's not the case any more. In August, 1988, 12 eager Pi Phi alums from such diverse areas as Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Vermont, Iowa, Indiana, West Virginia, New York and, of course, Pennsylvania got together and decided to do something about it. Serving the cities of Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton and the surrounding areas, this new club will also support Pennsylvania Eta Chapter at Lafayette College.

Main goal of the newly formed club for the 1988-89 year is to ensure that all Pi Phis in the area are contacted and given a chance to enjoy the opportunities for sisterhood and community service that an alum club can afford. Our September meeting was a big success with everyone bringing Pi Phi pictures and memorabilia from college for a real get acquainted session. For our January meeting we plan to have a cookie bake to assist the Lafayette chapter with refreshments for rush. Our final meeting of the year will be a joint Founders' Day celebration with the Pi Phis at Lafayette. We hope that our contact with the chapter will show them that Pi Phi sisterhood extends far beyond college days. In addition, as our membership grows, we look forward to becoming a valuable asset to the Lehigh Valley in community service activities.

Now, let's see. . . . Pocono Mountain resorts, shoo fly pie, Amish country, easy access to New York and Philadelphia, a Pi Beta Phi alumnae club. . . . Yes, we do have it all!

Missouri Alphas Kelly Lamb, Katherine Nelms, Sally Riekof, Tricia Graves, Molly Shen and Lynn Petersen are all members of the Student Athletic Board and the University of Missouri.

Experience pays off at second convention

"Old Convention Chairmen never die. . ." they just go on to another convention! Ex-Pi Phi Convention chairmen, who worked together at the Republican National Convention's Information Booth during its convention in New Orleans in August, just couldn't leave well enough alone after their Pi Phi organizing.

The energetic ladies produced a book of reference information about the city of New Orleans and organized information booths in the 43 delegate and VIP hotels and the Superdome, site of the Convention. The experience gained from organizing Pi Phi's 1987 Convention was put to good use as they answered questions and gave directions to more than 6,000 delegates and alternates, and many more thousands of media, staff and guests.

Working hard, with great success, were Gayle Gillum Macdiarmid, Pi Phi's meal ticket co-chairman; Nancy Morarity Michiels, Pi Phi registration chairman and co-chairman of the Republican information booths committee; Mary Helen Burns Keefe, treasurer of Pi Phi Convention; Betty Schlesinger Noe, Pi Phi equipment chairman and co-chairman of the information booths; Hanton delaHoussaye Agnew, Pi Phi meal ticket co-chairman; Anne Easterling Cain and Barbara Blanton LeBlanc, co-chairs for Convention Arrowcraft.

1987-88 has been the most successful year yet in giving to the Friendship Fund. Thank you, loyal alumnae, for making your donation to the Friendship Fund an important giving in your life. It is your opportunity to return to Pi Beta Phi the friendships and leadership opportunities you were given in your college days. Your gift means that Pi Beta Phi will continue in its role in the forefront of the Greek fraternal world. (Donors are listed whose gifts were received between August 1, 1987-July 31, 1988.)

Twenty-five St. Louis Pi Phis journeyed to Monmouth and celebrated Founders' Day last April 20. Their tour of Holt House and Monmouth, a short stop at the former home of Amy Burnham Onken and a lovely luncheon completed a wonderful day. A nostalgic spell engulfed the music room at Holt House as candles flamed in tribute to the dedicated Founders.

Pi Beta Phi thanks you!

Credit Duchess, a disguised angel

by Nancy Roake O'Neil

There has never been a completely satisfactory answer to the often repeated question, "Why are Pi Phi called angels?" Aside from the obvious answer, the mystery of why angels are significant to the Fraternity has now been solved.

Sarah "Duchess" Bryant Tomasello, Florida Beta '39, wrote "A Pi Phi is an Angel in Disguise" as her original-words-pledge-song in 1938, to the music of a song, old even then, titled "The Sinking of the Great Titanic."

Florida Beta alumnae, in school with Duchess, say that before the song was written there was no reference to Pi Phi as angels. The song was first sung and enjoyed by Duchess' Florida Beta sisters, spread through the southern chapters via a province meeting at the Roney Plaza Hotel in Miami Beach in the summer of 1939 and passed on to the entire Fraternity through the Convention in 1940 in Pasadena, CA. Pi Phi everywhere have been singing about angels ever since.

Duchess was chapter president of Florida Beta in 1941-42. Her pledge mother, Dorothy "Topsy" Mitchell Kirkland, also a past chapter president, calls Duchess "spirit embodied." She has continued her life of creativity and "spirit embodied" as a member of Actor's Equity, bringing great enjoyment to audiences throughout the United States. The Sarasota Alumnae Club claims Duchess as an active member and when she is around, they are all assured of enjoying a good time.

Duchess Tomasello, that angel in disguise.

This talented lady will become a member of The Order of the Golden Arrow in February, having given fifty years of loyalty and service to Pi Beta Phi. In honor of the occasion and as a surprise to Duchess, the club wanted Duchess to receive official recognition for her contributions to the Fraternity of her song "A Pi Phi is an Angel in Disguise," and for the fifty years of Pi Phi being known as the angels that they all are.

Fifteen Pi Phi out of 430 students spent their spring '88 semester at sea aboard the S.S. Universe. Beginning last January 27, their voyage ended May 7. Alma mater honors Pi Phi's First Lady by Clifford A. Pease, Jr., M.D.

Grace Goodhue Coolidge, Vermont Beta Pi Phi who became First Lady, was recently honored by her alma mater, the University of Vermont, in a celebration in Burlington, VT.

The Grace Goodhue Coolidge Room was dedicated June 5, 1988 in a ceremony attended by over 125 people. Located on the fifth floor of the Waterman Building at the University, the room was formerly the President's Dining Room. Under an agreement between the University and The Calvin Coolidge Memorial Foundation of Plymouth, VT, funds were raised to renovate the room and to display articles related to Grace Coolidge.

The dedication ceremony was most impressive with a speech by the Coolidges' son, John, who gave a very moving, humorous and interesting talk about his parents. This was followed with brief remarks by the President of the Coolidge Foundation and formal acceptance of the room at the University by its President. The dedication was followed by a reception and a biographic slide presentation on Mrs. Coolidge.

Miss Erminie Pollard of Proctorsville, VT represented Pi Beta Phi national Fraternity at the ceremony at the request of Grand Council.

As an undergraduate, Miss Pollard, Vermont Beta, helped unveil the famous portrait of Mrs. Coolidge by Howard Chandler Christy which the Fraternity gave to the White House during its 1924 Eastern Conference. A photo reproduction of this painting is in the Grace Goodhue Coolidge Room.

Mrs. Coolidge, a native of Burlington, VT received a Bachelor of Philosophy Degree from The University of Vermont in 1902 and an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree in 1930. She was a charter member of Vermont Beta and many of the early meetings were held in her home on Maple Street. She retained a lifelong interest in the Fraternity and served as Province President of Alpha Province. For years she kept up a Round Robin correspondence with a group of her Pi Phi friends.

She became a teacher of the deaf at Clarke School in Northampton, MA where she met Calvin Coolidge, a young lawyer and native Vermonter. They were married in Burlington, VT on October 4, 1905 and settled in Northampton which remained their home the rest of their lives.

While Coolidge climbed the political ladder in Massachusetts from city councilman to governor, Grace Coolidge remained in a rented duplex house at 21 Massasoit Street and raised two sons, John, born in 1906, and Calvin, Jr., born in 1908. She was active in church affairs, retained a lifelong interest in the education of the deaf, and became an avid baseball fan, particularly of the Boston Red Sox.

In 1923 Calvin Coolidge became Vice President of the United States and the Coolidges moved to Washington where they accepted a suite at the Willard Hotel. When President Harding died in August 1923, Calvin Coolidge was sworn in as President by his father in the Coolidge homestead in Plymouth, VT, where they were vacationing. The family returned to Washington and moved to the White House two weeks later. The boys attended Mercersburg Academy in Mercersburg, PA but tragedy hit the family when 16-year-old Calvin, Jr., developed blood poisoning and died in 1924.

Erminie Pollard, Vermont Beta, Pi Phi's official representative to the Coolidge Room dedication, stands beside a copy of the Grace Coolidge painting presented to the White House in 1924.

Mrs. Coolidge was a vivacious, outgoing woman who was extremely popular as a First Lady. She was not active politically as President Coolidge did not want her to be, but she was very active socially. She was an excellent hostess and wore beautiful clothes, one of her husband's few extravagances.

When his term was over in 1929, the Coolidges returned to Northampton where they bought a new home, The Beeches. President Coolidge died there in January 1933.

Mrs. Coolidge sold The Beeches and built her own home, Road Forks, where she spent the last 20 years of her life. She remained active in local civic and church affairs. She retained her interest in the Clark School for the Deaf and served on the Board of Trustees and as chairman for many years. She also retained her lifelong interest in Pi Beta Phi. Her dress in the First Ladies Collection at the Smithsonian Museum is adorned with her sorority pin and in the famous Christy painting in the White House she also wears her Pi Phi pin.

Mrs. Coolidge died in July, 1957 and is buried beside her husband in the rural cemetery in Plymouth Notch, VT.

Funds for the Grace Goodhue Coolidge Room were raised by public subscription including donations from Pi Beta Phi National Fraternity, the Vermont Beta Chapter, the Northern Virginia Alumnae Club and many individual members.

Lost is found, who knows how

Recognizing fellow Pi Phis through the wearing of the arrow is always interesting and fun. But discovering a new Pi Phi friend because of a lost badge is a special saga.

For many years Mavilla Rainey Richter enjoyed a close friendship with a couple from her Indianapolis church, Art and Emma Mae Roberts. Emma Mae's vision was so bad that she was unable to drive, and when Art died, some ten years ago, Mavilla would pick up Emma Mae for Sunday School and church.

They talked about many things as they drove to church. One time Emma Mae told her friend about a pin that Art had found while delivering his milk route many years before. They came to realize that it was a Pi Beta Phi sorority pin. Art had tried to find the owner then, with no luck. The engraving on the back was non-visible to the naked eye, so they had no way of identifying it.

When Emma Mae learned that Mavilla was a Pi Phi, she said she would like for the latter to have the pin as it would be meaningful to her.

But by then she could not find the pin.

In November 1986, Emma Mae had a stroke and died. Her daughter knew about the pin and said it was in her possession. She wanted Mavilla to have the pin and promised to mail it. One and one half years later it arrived.

Mavilla had thought all along that she might be able to read something on the back of the pin. With the help of a good magnifying glass and a good light she was able to make out "Ind. Gamma '32." Mavilla was a 1935 initiate of Indiana Gamma at Butler.

In the Indianapolis Alumnae Club yearbook, there is a list of initiates who have passed 50 years as members of Pi Phi. There were eight women in the 1932 group who were listed in the Indianapolis area. Mavilla was also able to decipher "M E ____" on the pin. One of the names in the book was Mable Espey Cast and Mavilla felt that this pin must belong to Mabel whom she had known slightly in school, but hadn't seen since.

When a telephone committee member called Mavilla about an upcoming Pi Phi alumnae meeting, a Cookie-Shine to be held at the chapter house, she knew what she needed to do. She telephoned Mabel and invited her to attend the Pi Phi meeting. At Mabel's house, before going on to the meeting, Mavilla told her story and gave Mabel her pin, lost for more than 50 years.

All the pieces of the puzzle will never really fit together since Mabel can't say exactly where she lost her pin, nor does Mavilla know where or when the pin was found.

Mavilla does know, however, that it gave her a great deal of pleasure to get the pin back to Mabel, and that Mabel was overjoyed to receive it.

Terri Worley earns commission

The United States Navy commissioned California Kappa Terri E. Worley as an ensign on June 24, 1988, and she became the first woman ever to be commissioned from UC San Diego. Based on her GPA and activities, Terri was granted entrance into NROTC (Naval Reserve Officer Training Corp). This program pays for tuition and books while offering officer training. In return Terri will serve four years of active duty for the US Navy after graduation. During her three years of NROTC duty, she worked in the deck division of an oiler ship on a one month tour to Hawaii.

Terri graduated cum laude last

Ensign Terri Worley, California Kappa

spring after a busy four years at UC San Diego. She majored in microbiology and minored in organic chemistry. While maintaining a high GPA she was also a teaching assistant for an organic chemistry class and was Cal Kappa's membership chair. On active duty, Terri now works in Washington, DC at the Pentagon in the Office of World Wide Communications and Control as a liaison, monitoring ships movements. After her duty Terri plans to enter medical school.

The Navy is the only branch of the US military which offers women the same positions, responsibilities and opportunities for advancement as it does to men. Terri believes it "offers a wide range of jobs with a higher level of responsibility from day one." Terri chooses to work in the operational and managerial side of the Navy. She plans to stay in Washington for two years and then transfer to a leadership position.

For the first time in 25 years these Ohio Zetas, from the 1959 pledge class, had a get-together and met in a Charleston, SC inn for a weekend in May. Renewing friendships were (l-r) Gretchen Stimpfle Hill, Hartford, CN; Pam Wagner Foley, Chicago, IL; Carlyn Hastings Smith, Detroit, MI; Suzanne Smith Pratt, Tampa, FL; Nancy Benko Gamble, Dallas, TX.

The annual Denver Area Panhellenic Awards Luncheon was held in May to honor Sharon Bourgeois Astin, Arizona Beta, 1987-88 Panhellenic president. The next time a Pi Phi will serve as president of Panhellenic will be in 21 years. With Sharon, left, are Betty Shrader Hughard, Colorado Alpha, and Sidney Cottle Nelson, Colorado Gamma, co-chairmen of the awards luncheon.

Athletic Angels

The Ohio Zeta bicycling team of (l-r) Mary Ann (Doobie) Osterfeld, Jeanne Sajben, Tracy Swanson and alternate Beth Stauffer again dominated the Pi Phi/Delta Tau Delta Bike Race during Greek Week at Miami University, winning it for the second year in a row. This helped clinch the chapter titles of Greek Sports Champs and overall Greek Week Champs.

Many Pi Phis are involved in pompon squads, drill teams and cheerleading teams. Since these activities require athletic prowess of one type or another, they are included and identified as Athletic Angels.

Wildfire, the University of Wyoming drill team, is comprised of many talented young women, two of whom are WYOMING ALPHAs, Brenda Hoy, captain, and Sandy Schlichting. Lori Biggs also helps promote school spirit as a varsity cheerleader.

"Aggies, Aggies, Go Aggies," shouts Carol Tidmore, NEW MEXICO BETA, at New Mexico State football games. Carol is one of 13 Aggie Sundancers. The Sundancers attended a cheerleading camp over the summer and won the regional competition.

For the third year in a row, ILLINOIS ALPHA Tracy Clevenger was elected Monmouth's cheerleading captain. Joining her on the squad this year are Amy Shryack, Kay Wykert and Jonna Brewer.

Eight OKLAHOMA BETAs were chosen as Diamond Dolls for the 1988-89 baseball season at Oklahoma State. Named were April Bethea, Raquel Hutchens, Jenny Reid, Jenifer Rolston, Gayle Ruley, Jami Zirkel and Brynda Whitlock.

INDIANA DELTA has four Boiler Babes on the pompon squad this year: Megan Elliott, returning from last year; Laurie Tobin, Melissa Hamke and Amy Kincaid, newcomers. Boiler Babes perform during football and girls' volleyball games in the fall. Jodi Beer is a Golduster for her second year of performing with the band.

Four of Bucknell's six female cheerleaders are PENNSYLVANIA BETAs. Susan Tinsley, Captain Patti Baron, Samantha Gladish and Christine Ginouves show their spirit for Bucknell as well as for the wine and silver blue.

Intramurals

TEXAS ALPHA pledges took 2nd place honors in the Phi Psi Field Day in September. They improved over 3rd place from last year.

At the conclusion of the 1987-88 University of Iowa season in May, IOWA ZETA Pi Phis came out on top of the sorority division, winning for the fourth consecutive year. This year they are working hard and looking forward to their fifth victory.

The Pi Beta Phi dynasty in intramural sports at Cornell continues! They have won All Sports for three years in a row. New York Delta earned the most points of the 44 women's teams last year with a total 76 points. In the 1986-87 year, they earned a record high of 120.5 points and are now on an all-out effort to break that record.

Indiana Delta Roshelle Dhonau advanced to the highest level in equestrian competition last summer when she and her arabian, Harmony, qualified in regionals and competed in the U.S. Nationals in Louisville, KY in October.

OKLAHOMA BETA's Teresa Barley placed 1st in the tennis competition at Oklahoma State for the fourth year in a row. Dee Dawn Kauk and De'Aun Hale also placed in the competition.

Varsity

At Duke this year, women's varsity soccer was introduced with its first-year team of 23 athletes. Two NORTH CAROLINA BETAs, Jane Graves and Kelsey Garrett, are on this first team.

Lisa Brillhart and Lynne Bigler, CALIFORNIA IOTAs, participated in the Lake Don Pedro Triathlon near Sonora, CA in September. They competed with Lynne's brother-in-law in the mixed relays and took 5th place in their division. Lisa ran the 10K and Lynne swam the 1.5K.

PENNSYLVANIA ETAs Leigh Grygotis and Leanne Pike competed in a triathlon in Wycoff, NJ and Leigh placed 2nd in her age group. This race consisted of ½ mile swimming, 15 miles biking and 5 miles running. Leigh competed in another triathlon in Baltimore, MD and was 1st in her age group. This event consisted of 1 mile swimming, 25 miles biking and 6.2 miles running. Her time in the second race qualified Leigh to compete in the Nationals of the triathlons.

IOWA ZETAs were well represented in athletics at the University of Iowa this fall. Madeline Willard is captain and a four year member of the Iowa tennis team; Sarah Ward is a four year member of the Iowa golf team; and Heather Pollard is a three year member of the Hawkeye Marching Band.

TEXAS ALPHAs Allison Mathews and Amy Maner made the University of Texas crew team for the current school year.

KANSAS BETA has four girls who are members of K-State varsity athletic teams. Sherri Smith is on the crew team and has been a rower for three years. Kim Stucky is a novice rower for the team. Jill Zientara has been a member of the varsity golf team for three years. Nikki Sutherland skis for the water ski team in all three events—trick skis, slalom and jump ramp. Betsy Berkley, a freshman, is a member and starter on the volleyball team, playing middle blocker/hitter for the Lady Cats.

Tammy Vrooman, KENTUCKY GAMMA, has been a member of the Eastern Kentucky field hockey team for four years. She plays left outside and her team won the Midwest Independent championships in 1987. She had the highest number of shots on goal as a junior, and scored six goals.

Lynne Tipson, TENNESSEE DELTA, is a member of the Memphis State tennis team for the second year.

Liz Skeen, INDIANA ALPHA, has the second singles position on the Franklin College tennis team. Gretchen Heitz and Susan Vaught are also members of the varsity team.

Three Arkansas Alphas represent the University of Arkansas on the Razorback Belle recruiting squad, supervised and sponsored by the athletic department. Among other duties, Kori Ann Peel, Cynthia Brown and Michelle Bien (l-r) escort recruits and their families to games and meetings.

Kansas Alphas Kathy Schmeidler, left, and Holly Morsbach, spent most of their summer training for various triathlons. Kathy competed in the Kansas City Cystic Fibrosis Triathlon and the Multiple Sclerosis 150 Bike Tour in which she completed the 150 mile ride between Kansas City and Columbia, MO in about 13 hours, earning a trophy. Holly competed in the Lake Louisville Triathlon in Dallas in which she crossed the finish line with a time just under two hours, after swimming 500 yards, cycling 15 miles and running three miles.

Kelly Lamb, Missouri Alpha, is a member of the Mizzou women's soccer team.

The WYOMING ALPHA Chapter isn't teed off that Kathy Hodge and Julie Melvin are members of the University of Wyoming women's golf team. They're proud!

Many individual NORTH CAROLINA ALPHAs are standouts in the athletic area at UNC. Carol Geer, president of the Carolina Athletic Association, initiated a women's lacrosse team that will prove to be a tough rival in the spring. Laura Dhue completed two seasons as a swimmer for the Lady Tarheels; Carie Torjussen has run track/cross country for two years, Dayra Baird golfs for a young and promising UNC team; Ann Stephenson, Landis Cox and Spencer Barnes are the tennis team's 1st, 3rd and 4th seeds; and Courtney Lehmann is a hopeful soccer player for the #1 ranked Lady Tarheels.

Student athletes give up much of their free time for practicing, with many weekends spent traveling to various tournaments. The determination and will to succeed requires much dedication and skill, two traits which all these INDIANA EPSILON Pi Phis have: Ann Duncan, Ashley Earnest and Sarah Tasker—field hockey; Becky Snyder, Catherine Moor—tennis team; Kim Baker—girls' basketball; Mariette Johnson, Amy Koenahman—soccer; Kiera Amstutz, Tracey Thieme—cross country; Marcie Thompson, Holly Firmin—swimming; Heidi Weas, Susie Morris—volleyball; Dale Gossard—captain of girls' golf; Holly Hammock, Missy Powell—aerobics instructors; Amy Winsness, Cathy Bullock, Tracy Broeker—DePauw's drill team.

Arizona Betas fielded two intramural volleyball teams and placed 1st last year. Overall, the Pi Phis placed 2nd in intramurals, but this year they are going for the gold!

Simpson alumna earns honors

Phyllis Hickman Howlett, Iowa Beta, was presented with the Simpson College Alumni Achievement Award at Alumni Weekend last June. The award is the highest honor given to Simpson alumni.

During Alumni Weekend, Phyllis also presented a course in Alumni College on women in nontraditional roles, a topic which she is well-qualified to discuss. An assistant commissioner of the Big Ten athletic conference in Schaumburg, IL, she has been the primary administrator of women's athletics since 1982. She also assists in the general administration of Big Ten policies.

Phyllis is chairman of the NCAA committee on women's athletics, is a member of the executive committee of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and holds a position on the NCAA golf committee.

In 1983, Phyllis was the first woman to be inducted into the Simpson College S Club Hall of Fame. She was graduated from Simpson in 1954 and was president of Iowa Beta and editor of Zenith, the yearbook. She was a member and officer of the Student Union Board, Sigma Tau Delta, Panhellenic Council and the Student Faculty Committee.

She is past chair of the Iowa Commission on the Status of Women, past national president of the Association of Volunteer Bureaus and of the Iowa Children's and Family Services. She was founder of the Community Youth Line and has done extensive work for affirmative action and equal opportunity.

In an interview in the Indianola Tribune, written by Chris Coon, Phyllis said she is excited about the upswing of women's athletics in the country. "Young women athletes today have a competitive opportunity they haven't had in recent years," she said. "We have not begun to scratch the surface of the entertainment potential for women's athletics. It's fun being a part of this."

Phyllis is one of the few female athletic administrators in the country, but she feels the field is expanding.

Enjoying fun and food are members of the Greater Miami Alumnae Club and collegiate Pi Phis from the area. The potluck dinner introduced the two groups and allowed collegians to tell about their campuses and chapter activities.

Grad student has scholarship

Sarah Ash, Illinois Zeta, is currently working on her Master's Degree in Health Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Sarah received a full scholarship to the University.

A transfer to Purdue for her junior and senior years, Sarah received many awards upon graduation last May. She was recipient of the 1988 Distinguished Student Award as outstanding student in the Health Sciences curriculum, based on scholarship and professional attitude. She was chosen as one of five outstanding senior women to receive the Very Important Person Award for making significant contributions to Purdue, the community, campus and student organizations. In recognition of her scholarship, she attained "Distinguished" status for all four semesters at Purdue.

This outstanding young Pi Phi is the daughter of Ruth Parkes Ash, Littleton, CO, and niece of Ruth's twin sister, Helen Parkes Speir, LaGrange, IL, both Illinois Zetas.

65 alums enjoy resort reunion

Loews Ventana Canyon Resort was the venue for the Memorial Day weekend reunion of Arizona Alpha pledge classes of 1976-80. Sixty-five alumnae showed up for the inaugural event. A cocktail party on Friday kicked off the weekend with a Mexican dinner party the following evening and a trip to the Pi Phi house for brunch on Sunday.

Sudy Hurst Woodward, Dawn Carson Masters, Denise Waddle and Anita Anzalone planned and executed the weekend. With over a year of planning and locating a variety of sisters, the weekend progressed without a hitch. Several came from as far away as New York, Washington, DC and Ohio to relive college memories.

Coleman heads Toronto alumni

(The following article is reprinted in part from the University of Toronto Bulletin.)

Come On Back! That's Margo Rudolf Coleman's message to University of Toronto alumni. As new president of the alumni association, she urges graduates to visit the University of Toronto so they can discover for themselves the exciting things happening there.

It was in 1983 that Margo, Ontario Alpha, made her first return visit to U of T, 25 years after graduation. She had been active in student politics on campus and had kept in touch with some U of T friends, but had had little contact with the University itself—until she received an unexpected call begging her to organize the reunion of her class.

Her return was an eye-opener. "It was fascinating meeting the professors and finding out what was going on, getting involved in college life again."

But 25 years is too long an absence. That's why she was enthusiastic about plans to invite five- and 10-year graduates to U of T Day in the fall and to hold a reception for them in a big tent on the front campus. She's also keen on a possible reunion of all graduates who participated in the many varieties of student shows, several of which have become legendary.

A general arts graduate with a major in psychology, Margo spent four years teaching high school before her marriage to Gordon Coleman. "Then along came babies"—four of them.

Nevertheless, she built up an impressive record of volunteer work. Among the organizations she served are the Junior League, POINT (a parents' group that tries to address problems such as drugs in schools), the Downtown Churchworkers' Group and Extend-a-Family (an organization that arranged visits of handicapped children to neighbours' homes). She is the current president of the board of Hincks Treatment Centre.

The motive for all this involvement? "I'm a dinosaur. I belong to that generation of women who stayed home and raised our kids. But we were intelligent, so our outlet was volunteer work."

Her participation in so many organizations gives her a good basis on which to evaluate the effectiveness of the alumni association. She is not a member of the University's Governing Council and sees her distance from the official governing structure of the University as an advantage.

Treasurer wears heritage badge gift

by Donna Richardson
Huffman

The treasurer of Indiana Zeta will, from now on, wear a lovely heritage arrow as badge of her office, presented to the chapter by Sally Bosman Schneiter, Indiana Gamma, a Golden Arrow Pi Phi.

In 1950 Sally moved to Muncie, IN and immediately became an active member of the Muncie Alumnae Club. She served on the Indiana Zeta Advisory Board for 13 years, was president of the alumnae club in 1952-53 and was treasurer of the Board of Governors of Settlement School for several years.

In 1952, Sally attended the Pi Phi Convention in Pasadena, CA and spoke to the Convention urging the establishment of a new chapter on the campus of Ball State Teachers College. With the support and encouragement of Marianne Reid Wild, Grand President at the time, Sally's dream was fulfilled and Indiana Zeta became a reality in the fall of 1952.

Because Sally had no daughters of her own, and because of her deep love for the Indiana Zeta chapter, she presented her diamond and pearl jeweled pin to the chapter. Since she was treasurer of Settlement School, and continues to this day to audit the alumnae club treasurer's books, it seemed appropriate that the chapter treasurer should be the proud wearer of the pin.

Indiana Zeta and the Muncie Alumnae Club were very honored by Sally's generosity and thoughtfulness.

Priest begins third career

Sandra Riach Barnard, North Carolina Alpha, began her third career in June, 1988, when she was ordained a priest in the Episcopal Church in Atascadero, CA by Bishop Shannon Mallory.

Graduating from the University of North Carolina in medical technology, she completed her training at LA County-USC Medical Center and worked there and in San Diego as a medical technologist.

Her second career, as wife and mother, began in 1952 when she married Roger Barnard. Three of their children live and work in California while the fourth teaches and is a doctoral candidate at the University of Illinois.

Sandra began her theological studies at Fuller Seminary in Pasadena, CA and received her Master of Divinity degree there in 1982. While taking further graduate study at Bloy House, Claremont School of Theology, she also served as seminary intern at churches in South Pasadena and Los Angeles—the latter being a mixed Anglo-Hispanic-Filipino congregation. With her husband's retirement from his assignment in labor relations, they moved to Atascadero in central California where Sandra worked as lay assistant, deacon, and, most recently as a priest at St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

OHIO ALPHA ALUMNAE

The Athens Alumnae Club and Ohio Alpha actives are finalizing plans for the Centennial Celebration April 14-16, 1989. Highlighting the banquet will be Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, Grand President, and Barbara Sands Olsen, national Historian.

Your enthusiastic support and attendance will enhance the excitement of this opportunity to renew friendships.

Mark your calendar and head back to Ohio Alpha and Ohio University for a memorable time.

For further information, contact Virginia Hoover Franklin, 62½ Elmwood Place, Athens, OH 45701.

C. A. Edwards shows off her latest acquisition, a gift from the Nashville Alumnae Club.

Retiring officer honored

by Lucinda Trabue

The week of June 20 was declared "C.A. Appreciation Week" by the Nashville (TN) Alumnae Club. Charlotte Ann Eckel Edwards, better known to all as C.A., was retiring as Kappa Province Alumnae Province President after seven years of dedicated service. To show their appreciation, members of the club surprised her with anonymous gifts all week. Fresh flowers were left on her doorsteps; balloons adorned her mailbox; a computer-generated sign stating "You're an angel of Pi Phi" dressed up her backboard. Wine muffins; a wine and silver blue basket of Dr. Peppers saying "To a Pepper-Upper of an APP," Pi Phi socks, ashtrays and cookies decorated with arrows were delivered by club members wanting to thank C.A. for a job well done.

On Thursday of that week, the group gathered at C.A.'s house for a surprise luncheon in her honor when she was presented a "Pi Phi APP Emeritus" T-shirt. What a great way to send C.A. into retirement! However, C.A. is already serving a five-year term on the Arrowmont Board of Governors and Development Chairman, so "retirement" is not in her vocabulary.

It's all in the family now. When New York Alpha was reinstalled at Syracuse, Patricia Olgeaty, center, was an alum initiate, joining her two daughters, Tricia, left, and Tracy, right, as members of the chapter. The daughters live in Silver Spring, MD and are members of the alumnae club there.

Chapter house is remodeled surprise

Members of New Mexico Alpha returned from summer vacation to a beautiful surprise. The chapter house, after extensive remodeling, was ready and awaiting them! New carpet, light fixtures, furniture and decor were just some of the changes made to that already beautiful white adobe house on the corner. Designed by a member of AAC and paid for by House Corporation, the remodeling added a great deal of energy and positive attitude for rush.

With a new pledge class of 30, the New Mexico Alphas decided to show off all their new additions for everyone. The "under construction" signs had the whole Greek system curious all summer long, so it was time to unveil the masterpiece. On a Wednesday night, the entire Greek system was invited down for house tours and refreshments, so the Pi Phis could show their pride and joy!

ATTENTION GEORGIA ALPHA ALUMNAE

Georgia Alpha will celebrate its 50th Anniversary April 7-9, 1989. The Anniversary Committee is planning a memorable Pi Phi event. We are looking forward to a large gathering of Georgia Alpha sisters and other special Pi Phis. Mark your calendars now and plan to come home—to Athens, to UGa, to Milledge Avenue and a multitude of special friends and memories. Our colonizers and charter members are making their plans. JOIN US! For more information, write: Georgia Alpha 50th Anniversary, 125 Holly Falls Dr., Athens, GA 30606.

Historian emphasizes alumnae importance

by Barbara Sands Olsen

(This article was adapted from a talk given by Pi Phi's National Historian for Founders' Day '88 before north-east Ohio alumnae clubs.)

The dreams of our Founders, ambitious as they were 121 years ago, never envisioned the Pi Beta Phi of today. The Founders dreamed of an organization patterned after the men's fraternities; and in writing their first Constitution, they dreamed of entering other small colleges to extend membership in their unique endeavor. However, that was the extent of their creative venture into an unknown world of that time, for Pi Beta Phi was the first to cross the threshold of Greek life for women.

Visions of the twelve girls became reality when they wrote the Articles of the Constitution, held regular meetings, adopted a motto, a grip and a recognition rite, and chose the symbol of membership, the golden arrow. At the first Convention in 1868, Libbie Brook volunteered to enroll at Iowa Wesleyan in Mount Pleasant to plant the first seed of extension.

The next year, Nancy Black cultivated Delta at the Mount Pleasant Female Seminary, and by 1870, there were four chapters, including Epsilon at Asbury College, now known as DePauw . . . all before Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma came into being, and a rightful source of pride for all Pi Phis.

Many years later, Libbie Brook Gaddis said, "Our first thought was to become national . . . now you see our fine air castles have become castles, our prophesies fulfilled, our dreams realized."

The second Convention was held in 1870, and in early years, only chapter delegates convened to consider the business of the Fraternity, but collegiate and alumnae members were meeting everywhere to discuss Fraternity affairs and chapter welfare. The oldest minutes available refer to alumnae as the "old girls," and chapters would mention their visits or the intention of inviting them to meetings and social events.

Sometime before 1880, the I.C. Constitution stated, ". . . members of several chapters shall, upon graduation, become members of the alumnae chapter, but shall retain connection with former chapters. The alumnae shall have no power to transact business." This type of group was given the name of the parent chapter, followed by Omega, such as Delta Omega.

Although several such groups existed, there are records for very few. The alumnae club recognized as being the first is Des Moines, where alumnae existed as an independent club until 1893. The group received a charter from Grand Council after the creation of the Alumnae Association at the 1893 Convention, held in Chicago during the Columbian Exposition or World's Fair. Eight years later, the Association became an integral part of the Fraternity organization. Thus, graduate members remain a very important cog in the wheels of Fraternity progress. Collegiate members are the life-blood of the Fraternity, but there could be no survival without the loving care and dedicated support of alumnae in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

It is important to note that all of Pi Phis' successful programs came from Alumnae Department meetings at Conventions. Alumnae could not vote on the Convention floor until 1977, but much progress came from these meetings through recommendations to the voting body. Settlement School, Alumnae Advisory Committees, Order of the Golden Arrow, the Emma Harper Turner Fund, Canadian Projects, Ruth Barrett Smith Scholarships, the Washington Conference, with its gift to the country of the portrait of Grace Goodhue Collidge, Arrowmont . . . all are results of alumnae involvement and dedication to purpose. There would be no past, no present, no future for this Fraternity, were it not for loyal alumnae members.

Where are the alumnae?

Yet it is sad to say that so few remember their life-long commitment to Pi Beta Phi. There are 323 alumnae clubs, 22 Pockets, 18 junior and evening groups. . . but just over 18,000 paid alumnae members out of a possible 120,000 plus. Where are the wearers of the arrow? In today's world, many are in the market place, but not all of them maintain full-time jobs. Even so, with alumnae club scheduling of varied meeting times, with all sorts of enticing programming available, and with, what is most important, instant friendships for the taking, it would seem that the vast majority of members choose not to participate. Thank goodness for those who do remember and do wish to return, in some small degree, the happiness of friends made possible by Pi Beta Phi.

As was noted earlier, alumnae gained a Convention vote in 1977. For 84 years prior to that, alumnae had formulated programs, considered the present status and planned for the future. This was natural, for our colleagues tend to be concerned only with their immediate situations, thinking just of their four years. Collegians worry about Quota-Total requirements, chapter histories, chapter programming, fields of study and fun and games. This is as it should be, if, as is often stated, "college years are the best years of one's life." But in the past seven years, little legislation has come from alumnae clubs or their members. Is it because they are now so few in percentage numbers, or do they no longer care or have a deep interest in the Fraternity? True, officers are elected to represent alumnae. . . but they are to represent alumnae, not act as the sole arbiters of our destiny. At the last four Conventions, 95% of the legislation came from Grand Council. That body certainly has the experience and knowledge necessary to govern the Fraternity, but there must be an input from Pi Phis across this country, Canada and Mexico. Historically, alumnae have contributed to the growth and programming of this oldest of Greek ladies, being instrumental in the development of collegiate members. There has always been a need for fresh, innovative approaches; flaming torches have been passed from generation to generation. Surely, alumnae can again take an active role in the government of Pi Phi and again contribute to its future, even if that be just past the immediate horizon. Perhaps alumnae need a special session at Conventions (as decreed possible in 1977) just to discuss and contemplate the path to take.

The path set by our Founders was a short one, and the gate at its end was not a swinging one. Their daring entry into the collegiate world was looked upon with disdain by most professors. Their attempt to form a meaningful association was viewed with amusement by the male students. But the country was just past the Civil War, during which women were called upon to perform tasks previously allotted only to men. Our Founders were the beginning gleam of women's rights and freedoms. They were absolutely daring in their approach, and far ahead of the evolution of women in this country. Fannie Thompson wrote, "Who can say that it is wrong for a woman to work for the advancement of her own sex?" And Jennie Nicol said, "I have an ambition to show the men what a woman can do."

During early years the Mother Chapter ruled I.C., but as Pi Phi grew, other members agitated for a voice in the government and direction of the Sorosis. Had it not been for Rainie Adamson Small, the story of the Fraternity's founding would have been lost. It was she who traveled to Monmouth to talk with Emma Brownlee Kilgore to learn founding details for, by this time, Alpha had long been banished from the college. After her service as Grand President, Mrs. Small became Pi Phi's first historian. It was while she was presiding officer that the name was changed from I.C. Sorosis to the Greek letters which had always been a part of the motto and meaning. Mrs. Small was followed by perhaps the greatest Pi Phi president, Emma Harper Turner. We can thank Kappa Kappa Gamma for Emma, as she was a member of their chapter at Franklin College in Indiana before it relinquished its charter. National Panhellenic Conference was not yet formed, so there were no rules as to membership in more than one collegiate fraternity.

A busy Convention

At Miss Turner's first presiding Convention, there was a lot of action: the Fraternity seal was selected, the carnation was adopted as the Fraternity flower, Pallas Athena was named the Greek Goddess, the whistle was chosen, a motion was made to publish Pi Phi songs, the Ritual and official ceremonies were approved, and April 28th was named as Alumnae Day when the founding was to be celebrated, this celebration to be obligatory.

With an amendment here and there, with the adoption of new programs and approaches, Pi Beta Phi has continued its growth, and the ideals and obligations remain much the same. Now women have opportunities as never before. The 1980s signaled the beginning of the Age of Women. Feminists pushed for equal rights, and governments, corporations and associations obliged them. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs accepted women as members . . . some after courts ruled they must. Sandra Day O'Connor was appointed to the Supreme Court, Elizabeth Dole became Secretary of Transportation. Women have been elected to governor-ships, and many more entered state legislatures. Women have climbed the corporate ladders . . . Sally Ride and Judy Resnick were launched into outer space.

Among college students it is the age of liberalism; today's collegian is a traditional conservative. The reality of present-day collegiate attitudes depends upon which "in-depth study" is read. The truth probably lies somewhere between the two positions. The drug culture, alcoholism statistics, incurable AIDS, green and pink spiked hair-dos, leather and chains are representative of a part of the American scene. The young, upwardly mobile YUPPIES with their Ivy League clothes, penchant for status automobiles, stereo equipment and television recorders personify a movement toward wealth and position ambitions.

In spite of the whose chapter is it anyway? argument, colleges are forced to agree that it is the fraternity member who best supports the institution after graduation. Greeks join alumni associations and donate to college funds in greater numbers than unaffiliated students. Women now outnumber men at American universities; the fraternity woman is more likely to stay in school, to make better grades and to graduate. The fraternity experience has been an immeasurable asset in the choices and opportunities available to students of this decade.

Pi Phi's contribution

Pi Beta Phi is doing its best to enrich the lives of its collegiate members. Friend to Friend and Aiming Straight provide formulas for chapter discussions to help members make intelligent choices. Chapters have been sent policy and position statements on drug and alcohol use, hazing, risk avoidance, little sister groups and relationship involvements. Collegians have been provided with a booklet on proper etiquette. "Directions," a networking program, has been established; insurance coverage has been increased. Legal counsel is available.

The Fraternity offers assistance to its alumnae, too, in the last three areas. Guides are given in meeting the needs of Pi Phi's diverse members: program aids, video and slide programs, special helps for the sale of Arrowcraft, up-dated manuals, officer visits . . . all are geared toward aiding organized alumnae groups. As women now represent over half of the work force in the United States, and with alumnae clubs suffering a decline in already slim membership rolls, it is essential to reach those who do care and who do remember.

In the beginning, there were twelve. Now we number more than 150,000! In human terms, Pi Phi is an old lady. She has reached this venerable age because she is good and because she provides a bonus in college life. But more importantly, she furnishes the ultimate in life-long friendships. Collegians may be the stems of the carnation, but alumnae are the lovely flowers; and no bouquet amounts to much without the colorful display at the very top of its being. The flower must not fade; it must continue to be an active part of this fine, old organization. Let alumnae keep their pride in the past . . . maintain excellence in the present . . . and plan for achievement in the future. Let us enhance the dreams of Pi Beta Phi's Founders.

elping others... through chapter service projects

Minnesota Alphas pulled together and won 1st place during Sigma Chi Derby Days at the University of Minnesota. Sherri Crouch was named Derby Darling. Over $7,000 was raised for Vikings Children's Hospital. The winning Pi Phis received 10% of the proceeds which they gave to Arrowmont.

United Cerebral Palsy benefited from at least two activities of TENNESSEE DELTAS. The chapter team placed 1st in the relay race, 3rd in tug-of-war and 1st overall in Pi Kappa Alpha's Memphis Area Greek Olympiad in September. Pi Phis also raised over $300 during Sigma Chi's Oyster Eating Contest. Kenzie Aiken and her partner, John Meinhardt, were 1st in the first round of eating. Suzanne Bohannon and her partner, Steve Connolly, were 1st in the third round and 2nd overall.

During Delta Gamma's Anchor Splash at Kansas University, KANSAS ALPHA placed 1st in every sorority event and carried home the 1st place trophy. Delta Gamma supports aid to the blind.

One of ALBERTA ALPHA'S local philanthropies is the Canadian Cancer Society and the Pi Phis, led by philanthropy chairman Alison Jeffrey, sold daffodils on the annual daffodil day in April. They sold flowers throughout the day and raised well over $500 for the Society.

The 1988 pledge class of KANSAS BETA jumped right into Greek life as they participated in the Pledge Track Relays at Kansas State. The relays were sponsored by Chi Omega and Sigma Nu to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy.

OKLAHOMA BETAS Julie Drake and Jenn Reid were chosen by Pi Kappa Phi for this year's calendar. Proceeds from the calendar sale will benefit a local charity in the Oklahoma State area.

Over the summer, many TENNESSEE ALPHA Pi Phis helped residents of Moccasin Bend Mental Health Institute by cleaning out closets and drawers to find items to donate for the hospital. Not only did they donate loads of clothes, but they also gave bags of magazines for the patient's entertainment.

KENTUCKY GAMMAS at Eastern Kentucky kept busy with service projects during the year. Led by Tracy Pate, they collected 3,174 Campbell Soup labels to benefit the Binet School for Handicapped in Louisville. They also sponsored a clothes drive for the homeless, collecting over 200 large bags of clothing and shoes.

During Greek Week at New Mexico State, fraternities and sororities work on an All Greek philanthropy. This year it was for Students Against Multiple Sclerosis (SAMS). NEW MEXICO BETA raised $600 for SAMS. Ann Hill was named Greek Goddess, based on Pi Phi's contribution. The chapter won the Overall Spirit award; the Overall Greek Week Award for participation and good sportsmanship; Liz Richardson was named All Sorority Outstanding Sophomore; and Maria Armijo was named All Greek Woman.

MINNESOTA ALPHA and Kappa Kappa Gamma combined efforts at a local hospital spring quarter. Every week two women from each sorority spent their Tuesday evenings holding babies undergoing long-term stays in the hospital. It was part of an effort to provide a loving and comfortable environment for the babies.

Each year McCallie Prep School in Chattanooga (TN) hosts Special Olympics and Tennessee Alpha Pi Phis were there to be supporters and "huggers" to contestants. It was a moving experience for everyone, including "huggers" Tana Hill, left, and Barbie Wade, right, with one of the contestants.

In September, NEW YORK DELTA sponsored its first blood drive with Kappa Delta Rho fraternity. Not only did they handle preliminary publicity, including newspaper ads, posters, and a large banner over the campus store, but they were responsible for campus sign-ups. On the scheduled days, tables and equipment had to be set up. Pi Phis escorted donors and served refreshments. The two day total was 278 units of blood, with many sisters donating as well.

INDIANA EPSILON has been involved with the Chaplain's Office at DePauw in the area of community work projects. This fall they signed up, along with Sigma Chi and Delta Upsilon, to help ready Bradford Woods Camp for the long winter ahead.

OKLAHOMA BETA snagged the Sigma Chi Derby Days crown this year, benefiting the Cleo Wallace Children's Center.

NEW MEXICO ALPHA and Sigma Phi Epsilon inflated hundreds of helium balloons and sold them at the first home football game at the University of New Mexico. Money earned went to the Arthritis Foundation.

March of Dimes wins with a twist

by Angela Gatchell

Pi Phis and Delta Sigma Phis get ready for the big Twistermania contest at Purdue.

Purdue University was twistin' and stretchin' at the Twistermania on September 3. Sponsored by Indiana Delta and Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, the goal was to break the current record in the Guinness Book of World Records by having over 4,160 people playing Twister. Approximately 300 Twister Boards were donated by Milton Bradley and Pi Phis refereed each board, with three players per board. The top three overall winners were spotlighted on MTV Music Television.

Jill Partridge, philanthropy chairman, was in charge of the campus-wide event. Highlight of the event was Jill's interview with MTV Deejay, Kathy Davis, herself a Colorado Alpha.

Scenes from the event were featured on Weekend Rock September 17-18.

A total of 1,700 people attended. Although they fell short of the goal, the event netted $1,500 to be donated to the March of Dimes.

Art intern enjoys taste of Big Apple scenes

by Brooke J. Sanderson

The day before my flight to New York City for the Great Lakes Association Art program DePauw offers, I found myself listening to Sinatra's "New York, New York" as I sped along a brown Hoosier countryside. "Is this a sign?" I wondered? "What is this song telling me?" I remember holding my breath and trying to convince myself Frank was right, survival in the Big Apple would be 10% talent and 90% confidence. Three other Pi Phi pledge sisters would be in New York too, Jane Boatman, Ann Duncan and Ann-Marie Henry. The four of us had interviewed so long ago. We didn't know what to expect; the idea was even a bit overwhelming. Suddenly there we were, in a narrow brownstone in the heart of Times Square. Jane, Ann, Ann-Marie and I were roommates but in a place far removed from our Indiana Epsilon Pi Beta Phi.

The G.L.C.A. arts program allows art students to explore desired fields through a semester-long internship, with a little 9 to 5 practical experience as well. The program also requires students to participate in two seminars where they are introduced to arts other than the one they came to New York to pursue. Several times during the semester program coordinators bought theatre tickets for all students. After a hard day's work students scattered all over New York's five burroughs attending theatre, readings, galleries, openings, concerts and clubs—anything our hearts desired and pocket-books could afford.

For an entire semester the four of us worked, shopped and took advantage of the city. We spent time in Soho's contemporary art galleries as well as in Manhattan's established museums. I recruited fellow students to attend a Joyce Carol Oates reading early in January and an Allen Ginsberg reading later in April. A discount ticket stand a few blocks away allowed Jane, Ann and Ann-Marie to see Billy D. Williams in Fences and me to see M. Butterfly.

Not only were we exposed to professional artists in New York City, but we learned more about one another's talents and ideas. Living with twenty aspiring musicians, dancers, actresses, playwrights, artists and writers is nothing like attending a conservative liberal arts college in Indiana! Being surrounded by so many creative, talented and sometimes struggling artists was refreshing for our own art. After seeing some of the crazy things people create in NYC, we knew that art is really a wonderfully creative process. We should feel free to extend ourselves, our individuality and thoughts into whatever it is we do. And this goes beyond art.

Jane Boatman's split internship included working as an assistant to a free-lance artist, Judith Bernstein, and at a graphic design firm where she was "everything from secretary to design assistant." As Judith Bernstein's assistant, Jane not only found herself working in one of New York City's cultural neighborhoods, China Town, but also found herself working with an artist whose subject matter was masculinity!

Ann Duncan's split internship with sculptor Charles Simmons and photographer Drew Carolyn offered a wide variety of artistic stimuli. Simmons was working on a piece to be featured at the Seoul Olympics and later in a contemporary art museum in Washington, DC. As an intern for Drew Carolyn, Ann participated as production assistant for still shoots and video production. She worked with Carolyn on a Ziggy Marley video for a television program to be aired in December called "Free to be a Family," a program about kids from America and the U.S.S.R. writing to one another.

"Through my two internships I learned how to run a small business. I realize now how important detail work is for the free-lance artist," says Anne-Marie Henry. Anne-Marie worked as an assistant at Modern Art Consultants three days and spent two days working for an interior designer.

"I love New York and I loved my internships. There was constant stimulation all the time, the pace was incredible."

As an English composition major, I was looking for a different kind of job from my three Pi Phi sisters. With my split internship I spent two days a week working with a free-lance fiction writer, Cheri Fein, and the other three days at a publishing house, E. P. Dutton. At Dutton I read incoming manuscripts and typed up a review of the manuscripts, attended editorial meetings, performed routine office procedures. I felt respected as an artist pursuing an academic goal, a dream.

Now we're back at DePauw finishing our senior year. We've brought back what we've learned. As we sat around the other day, Ann-Marie reflected, "New York City is an environment that encouraged us to look around, to step out of a very comfortable bubble college can create."

Ann summed up our semester when she said, "[Living in] New York and the brownstone was a unique opportunity and different from anything I've experienced so far."

New AAC chair

When Fran Becque resigned as chairman of Michigan Beta's Alumnae Advisory Committee and left Ann Arbor, Tammy Gilbert Muegel, New York Delta, was quick to volunteer for the position.

"I've always been an active Pi Phi, especially during my collegiate years," said Tammy. "I'm very excited to become involved once again."

Having served as president of her Cornell University chapter, Tammy feels that the experience of being Michigan Beta's advisor will keep her active and a vital part of the wine and silver blue in Ann Arbor.

Earning a bachelor's and a master's degree in engineering, Tammy works as a projects engineer.

The winningest chapter at Eastern Kentucky—Kentucky Gamma.

Chapter sweeps Greek Week

Kentucky Gamma made a clean sweep in Greek Week 1988 at Eastern Kentucky University. The theme chosen by Panhellenic Council was "Tune Into Greek Week" and each chapter member contributed time, energy and enthusiasm to make it a success.

The busy fun-filled week began with a blood drive. Pi Phi Tracey Lafferty was in charge of organizing this event and Kentucky Gamma came through with 100% participation, winning the first place philanthropy award.

Second event was the one the chapter spends the most time preparing for—Greek Sing. Many hours were spent learning "new" lyrics to TV themes for "Mission Impossible," "American Bandstand" and "The Muppet Show." Once this task was accomplished, members had to synchronize choreography, created by Beth Campbell and Connie Coury.

When the big night arrived, Kentucky Gammas were both nervous and excited. After receiving the only standing ovation of the evening, the women knew their hard work had paid off. But results of the performance were not to be revealed until later in the week.

The third day was when Angel Athletes showed what they were really made of. Pi Phis won first place due to their excellent pyramid building, obstacle course and tug-of-war teams.

Final event of Greek Week 1988 was the Scholarship Dessert Awards Ceremony. This evening was designated for both Greek Week and Panhellenic and Interfraternity Council awards. The Pi Phi name was heard more often than any other Greek organization on campus. The chapter received their first place awards, and then were thrilled to receive second place in Greek Sing.

After the Greek Week awards had been distributed, it was time for all to get serious. Kentucky Gamma was named the Most Improved Chapter on campus; the 1987 spring pledges were selected as the Most Outstanding Pledge Class in the Greek system. Past president Dee Wiegandt was named Most Outstanding President by Greek Advisor Troy Leforge. Heather Yeoman, now chapter VP Mental, was named the Most Outstanding New Member. In addition, many Kentucky Gamma members were chosen for Order of Omega, Greek honorary.

San Antonio Alumnae Club's benefit chairman, Laura Ferree Dawson, and Shamu welcomed Pi Phis and friends to the opening of Sea World of Texas. Proceeds benefited the new Texas Eta chapter house.

Golden Arrow is a Pi Phi delight

Wesa Dale Garabrant, Illinois Zeta

When is a Golden Arrow golden?

All Golden Arrows are special, but Wesa Dale Garabrant, Illinois Zeta, is an extraordinarily special Pi Phi to the Cincinnati Alumnae Club. Wesa is deeply involved in civic activities, travels extensively and still finds time for Pi Phi.

Wesa enchants and entertains with her tales of places near and far. Whether hosting a foreign graduate student, auditioning prospective scholarship recipients, promoting the National Cathedral or discussing her recent trip to the Orient, Wesa bubbles with enthusiasm for each endeavor she pursues.

She has been actively involved in the Cincinnati Club, serving as Panhellenic delegate and club historian, her current contribution. Her oldest daughter, Sarah Garabrant Ruff, is a Vermont Beta alumna, currently living in Houston.

Cincinnati alumnae look forward to seeing Wesa and delight in talking with her about her many colorful experiences. New alums are even more amazed to find that the exterior of her home is painted wine and blue.

Indeed, this Golden Arrow is golden!

Gwen heads to Canadian show

Years of rigorous training and dedication paid off last summer as Michigan Gamma senior Gwen Johnston found success on the Class A Arabian Horse Show Circuit.

Active on the national level for the past six years, Gwen won her regional competition in Indianapolis, IN with her half-Arabian mare—a nationally ranked Park horse. While many would have found satisfaction with this achievement, Gwen continued with a second horse. Competing in Toronto and again in Indianapolis, she and her Arabian gelding, Paskata, qualified for a position at the Canadian Nationals, to be held in August, 1989.

Gwen is currently preparing for qualification shows for the United States Arabian Nationals, to be held in Albuquerque, NM next year.

Pi Phis earn 27 scholarships

An unbelievable number of Nevada Alpha actives and pledges started the year out right by winning scholarships for academic and athletic abilities at the University of Nevada-Reno.

President Lis Mayer received the Fleischman Memorial and the Delta Rho. Vice President of Mental Advancement Carolyn Cowan won a $500 prize for her paper on geothermal development. She presented the paper to the Geothermal Resource Convention in San Diego in October.

Carolyn Whitford, ARROW Correspondent, won the journalism Don W. Reynolds scholarship for $10,000 to be used her junior and senior years. She also won a $2,500 Sheet Metal scholarship and the $200 Sidney W. Robinson Memorial prize for her political science paper.

Darci Daniels won the Greater Reno Italian Golf Association scholarship for $500 and senior Britt Pierczynski received an Advertising Club scholarship. Sophomores Lauralyn McCarthy and Kim Fisher received a tennis and softball scholarship, respectively, for their athletic abilities.

Pledges also were honored for their scholastic talents. Becky Baldwin received the Nevada Gaming Foundation Award for Educational Excellence for $8,000, the UNR-

KCBN scholarship for $5,000, Elks National Foundation for $900 and the PEO Sisterhood Award for $500.

Shari Porterfield also received the Gaming Foundation Scholarship for $8,000, and others from the College of Education for $1,452 and Phi Delta Kappa for $200. Fellow pledge sister Alana Kroll won the UNR Top Student Award for $10,000.

Susan Starkweather won $2,500 in scholarships from four different funds—Kiwaniis Downtown Reno, Momand Music, UNR freshman and Royal D. Hartung for engineering.

Meanwhile, Cara Clarkson won a $750 freshman scholarship as well as UNR Scholar in Agriculture for $525.

The St. Mary's Hospital Guild $1,000 scholarship was earned by Linda Vestbie and two high school scholarships were won by Tami Tracy and Christina Mayer.

The chapter is very proud of these outstanding actives and pledges.

Dislikes trend

As always I enjoyed reading the latest edition of The ARROW. You continue to put out a high quality product that all of us are proud of.

I was disappointed to see our magazine follow the current journalistic trend of using only a surname in writing about an individual. I am referring to the article on Betty Drummond, or "Drummond." (Summer 1988) I feel that we of Pi Beta Phi with our relationships based on friendship, sisterhood, love and respect for one another should use given names when referring to our sisters. If younger members are uncomfortable doing that, at least a "Miss" or "Mrs." should be used. The cold, impersonal "Drummond" was jarring to me. I would be very hurt and unhappy were I ever to see myself referred to as "Carter" in The ARROW.

Thanks again for all the effort and talent you put into The ARROW.

Check for treasure!

I have recently conducted a Docent tour of the Gilbert Collection of Silver at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art.

In studying the catalogue, I was struck time and again by how silver survives the generations. Historically there have been many "melt downs"—early American spoons were usually coin silver, made from valueless English coins after and during the Revolution. Ceremonial silver also survives, and that's where Pi Phi comes to mind.

When I think of the Pi Phi loving cups, the presentation plates (usually engraved with lists of past presidents, etc.) which were piled in our Kentucky Alpha Chapter archives, I wonder how valuable these pieces are. Are they pure sterling or mixed in with almost valueless copper/thinly coated objects? I challenge our chapters and our House Corporations to check this out... update the insurance, etc. [It would be interesting] to hear if any museum quality pieces emerge from this all-out search and inventory. After all, over the years alumnae have willed treasures to their chapters and we should appreciate their thoughtful generosity.

Business opportunity

I have begun a sterling silver jewelry business for which I am in need of representation on college campuses and home towns. There is no investment, the silver is high quality, inexpensive and easy to sell. I have been representing the line for ten months on campuses across the country by setting up meetings in sororities and dorms. The amount of money [to be made] depends on the amount sold. I set the percentage that is earned. However, the more you sell, the more you make.

The line consists of rings, earrings, pins, bracelets, necklaces and charms. Anyone interested [in selling the jewelry] should send a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Betsey Lurding, 29 Southwind Road, Louisville, KY 40207.

Appreciated article

The ARROW (Fall 1988) arrived today and I quickly flipped through to see if any articles were of particular interest. "The infertile egg" caught my eye. I applaud your efforts to include articles which attend to life issues that affect us—whether personally or as family and friends.

I'd just like to add to Dr. Williamson-Murdock's excellent article that about 40% of infertile couples' problems are with the woman, 40% with the man and 20% are combined problems. This was a surprising statistic to me and helpful for women to know.

Best wishes for your efforts to educate us!

Heads for retirement

I would like my many Pi Phi friends to know that I am retiring from 35 years of elementary school teaching—30 of those years in the Long Beach Unified School District in Long Beach, CA.

I am an Illinois Epsilon Pi Phi, initiated in 1946, and I was graduated from the School of Education, Northwestern University in 1949.

I am moving to Ashland, OR and am looking forward to my retirement in a small town atmosphere. I plan to return to the NU campus in May of 1989 for my 40th class reunion. It will be my first return to the campus since I graduated.

Herewith, an apology!

As a Greek advisor, I certainly appreciate receiving a copy of each Greek magazine...

I enjoyed the article entitled "All-American Cowgirl is Masked Rider" in your Fall, 1988 issue. As a Texas Tech graduate who has now moved a great distance from Lubbock, I am always excited to hear news from "Red Raider Country." However, as a dedicated Texas Tech fan, I was disturbed at one sentence: "She is the fifth female Masked Rider and the first Greek Masked Rider at Texas Tech." With all due respect to Ms. Whitehead, and with full recognition of the honor that this position bestows upon her, the second half of this sentence is completely wrong.

During the four-and-one-half years that I attended Texas Tech as an undergraduate, four of the five Masked Riders were Greek. Affiliation included one from Alpha Chi Omega, one from Kappa Alpha Order and two from FarmHouse. This list doesn't include any Greek Masked Riders that may have come before them.

I congratulate Lea for this very honorable and important position at Texas Tech University... She should be very proud of this accomplishment and Pi Beta Phi should feel honored to have her as a sister.

I hope the remainder of the semester is productive and beneficial for Pi Beta Phi across our nation and Canada. Congratulations to Lea Whitehead and "Go Red Raiders!"

As usual I enjoyed reading the Fall, 1988 issue of The ARROW. However, I want to take exception to the article "All-American Cowgirl is Masked Rider" by Laura Stroud. The article states that Lea Whitehead of your Texas Gamma is "the first Greek Masked Rider at Texas Tech." This is incorrect because FarmHouse member Daniel Jenkins was Tech's Masked Rider mascot for 1986-87.

Nationally we provide active leadership to the NIC and to the Fraternity Executives Association, and our Tech chapter provides the same level of leadership to the local IFC and student body (Shayne Woddard, TT '85, is the current student body president), so our credentials as members of the Greek system can hardly be suspect!

→ Laura Stroud and I apologize for not checking a bit further into the history of the Masked Rider at Texas Tech! MSF
