That Winter Cover Pleases

What a beautiful ARROW! The cover is beautiful! The back too!

We got to see ET with our granddaughter last month and I'm sending her the nice story on Pat Welsh. She had heard it was a lady who was 93 and a two pack a day smoker.

Our committee of four (two each sex) editors votes unanimously: your ARROW dual covers of Winter '82 as the 'cover-of-the-year.' Mentioned also is that the cover is totally 'Pi-Phi' as it is of your charity project that may be first had by any sorority.

Cape Cod Welcomes Visitors

Please consider this an invitation from the Cape Cod, Mass., Alumnae Club to all Pi Phi. If you have a summer home here, or if you visit the Cape this summer at the time of one of our monthly luncheons, we'd love to have you join us. Watch the newspapers or call our Rush Chairman Martha Yingling Heslop (West Virginia Alpha) at 394-3247 for information.

We'd like to tell you about our newly chartered group. We have more than thirty active members from all sections of the U.S.—even one from Canada. That's quite a few for so new a club. And we proudly list a national officer, Joyce Teir Hosford, Massachusetts Beta, Director of Academic Standards, as one of us.

Actually, it's surprising that we exist at all. Past attempts to form an alum club here failed, partially because of winter driving problems on this near-island which juts 65 miles into the cruel Atlantic. Driving sometimes can be equally difficult, albeit in a different way, in summer, when the Cape seems in danger of sinking under its load of tourists.

Yet in the summer of 1981 three unsinkable Pi Phi's, Nancy Kuhne DuRie, Maryland Alpha, of Orleans, Mass.; Gwen Zinniger Hanafec, California Zeta, summer resident of Chatham, Mass., winter resident of Birmingham, Mich., where she is also active in the Bloomfield Hills Alumnae Club; and our first president, Priscilla Merchant Mueller, Connecticut Alpha, of Truro, Mass., determined to remedy the situation. Having been active with the Southern Fairfield County Alumnae of Connecticut, with whom Priscilla was a charter member and a mainstay, they had the know-how and the dedication to do the seemingly impossible—to gather and involve women in a long narrow 408-square-mile area to form an active and enthusiastic alumnae club.

At our first meeting, Dorothy Warner Smith and Lilla Fries Smith, both of Massachusetts Alpha, found each other after many years apart. "Lilla, is that you?" "Dorothy, it IS YOU!!" And they fell into each other's arms. That did it. Strangers realized that yes, they were sisters.

Having witnessed such warmth may have led us to our by now abiding interest in Massachusetts Alpha, our closest, although not at all close, active chapter. It is an old one but has suffered from the blight of the seventies. The only surviving women's fraternity at Boston University, Massachusetts Alpha needed all the encouragement it could get. We have joined the West Suburban Boston Alumnae in assisting them, spurred on by the idealism of Robin Kurtz, an active of Massachusetts Alpha. This has involved joint Founders' Day luncheons for the last two years.

We have stitched robes for Massachusetts Alpha's initiations, among other things. And for the last two years, their spring initiation has been held at the home of Betty Hewins Gallagher, D.C. Alpha, of Orleans, which is 100 miles from Boston.

Winter or summer, all Pi Phi are welcome at our meetings. Just call Martha!

The D.C. news editor of the "Today" show is John H. Rutherford. His wife, my daughter, is Sally-Jo Skinkle Rutherford, a University of Kentucky at Lexington Pi Phi.

I thought, after reading the article on Meredith Brokaw, the Pi Phi might like to hear of another. They live in McLean, Va., and have two daughters. Could be future Pi Phi's?

Work on the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Directory is well under way. Soon all alumnae will receive a brief questionnaire with a follow-up request to be sent one month later. The prompt return of these questionnaires is essential so that the information in the directory will be current and complete. The completed questionnaires, as well as a list of all alumnae who do not respond to either mailing, will be turned over to the publisher for telephone follow up.

Alumnae will then be contacted directly by the Harris Publishing Company to verify information and to see whether they wish to purchase a directory. Alumnae with current addresses who have not responded to the questionnaires and are not reached by phone by the Harris representatives, will appear in the directory with the information provided by Central Office records.

Alumnae will be listed alphabetically, geographically, and by chapter. Each listing will contain name, class year, chapter, residence address and phone number, and business or professional information when available.

If you have not received your questionnaire by mid-August, 1983, or if you do not wish to be listed in the directory, please notify Central Office in writing.

Circulation of the new Alumnae Directory will be restricted to alumnae. Release of the directory is tentatively scheduled for Spring, 1984.

off the Arrow hook

Word has come, via the Vanderbilt University Alumni News, about one of our Pi Phis who is outstanding in the field of business. Jane Evans Sheer, Tennessee Beta, is executive vice president at General Mills, heading their Fashion Group which includes Izod Lacoste, Ship 'n Shore, and Monet. According to a feature story about her in an October 31 issue of The New York Times, she is, "in terms of her division's revenues—$637.3 million in the fiscal year ending May 30, 1982—the top ranking woman in the American apparel industry."

Jane joined General Mills in 1979. Previously she had been for five years with American Can Company as a president of its Butterick Fashion Marketing. Still earlier, as a Genesco executive, she became, at age 25, president of I. Miller. Last October she was among eight outstanding American women in business and labor to be honored by the Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) at their fifth annual awards dinner celebrated in New York City's Waldorf Astoria.

Pi Phis who attended the Convention in Hot Springs in 1973 will remember Jane as one of the speakers during the "Voices of Women" day dinner. She also has been featured twice in The ARROW.

Those Pi Phis who, like ourselves, find the study of foreign languages completely beyond our comprehension, will exhibit a certain amount of awe at the accomplishments of Bonnie Bennett Pytlinski, Michigan Beta. Bonnie completed a bachelor's degree in German at the University of Michigan after spending her junior year abroad in Munich. After attending courses at the Sorbonne in Paris, she completed a master's program in French at the University of Illinois. After establishing her residence in Florida during the following years, she was admitted into a Ph.D. program at the University of Florida, and received her Doctorate in Romance Languages and Literatures with German as her minor, last December.

Bonnie has taught language courses at the University of South Florida, the University of Illinois, and the University of Florida.

A note from Jeri Isbell Stromquist, Kentucky Gamma, of Lexington, Ky., mentions that she has been listed in Outstanding Young Women of America for 1982. Jeri is an accountant and has been on the Board of Directors for the National Association of Accountants for two years. She has been an active Pi Phi also. She is in her second year as chairman of Kentucky Gamma AAC, and has been a member for four years. Our congratulations!

On page 70 of this issue of The ARROW, you will find an announcement of the second annual art competition, sponsored by the College Fraternity Editors Association (CFEA) and Ihling Bros. Everard Co. We hope there are lots of Pi Phis out there who will enter this competition. It is open to any member, collegiate or alumnae, of the Fraternity, with $100 prizes for the winning entry in each category, cartoon, and illustration/spot art, and Honorable Mention awards.

Last year, as far as we know, not a single Pi Phi entered the contest. Winners included three Tri Deltas, one Gamma Phi Beta, one Phi Mu, one TKE, and one Phi Psi.

Since we are serving on that particular CFEA committee for the current year, we do expect a lot of Pi Phi entries. They must be received by October 1, 1983, so start drawing. Winning art work will be reproduced and sent to CFEA members for use whenever needed.

In 1974, Elsie Eaves, Colorado Alpha, received the Norlin Award from the University of Colorado, in recognition of outstanding achievement in her profession. We wrote about Elsie in the Winter, 1974, issue of The ARROW. A civil engineer, she was sent to Iran in 1974 to advise on construction cost indexes and escalation systems. She set up indexes and established a monetary correction system that was much appreciated.

Now comes an update on Elsie from Mary Frost in Denver. In 1979, Elsie was conferred the highest award of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE)—honorary membership, the first woman civil engineer so recognized. She has been presented an Award of Merit by the American Association of Cost Engineers and is a member of the international advisory editorial board of Engineering Costs and Production Economics, a highly technical journal.

As we go to press, we realize, once again, the advantage of writing on a typewriter over writing at a desk. It's hard to pile so many papers on top of a typewriter that you can't get at it to write on.

See you at Convention.

Amy Brundrett, Oklahoma Alpha

Six Chosen for Year of Service

Six outstanding young women have been selected to become Pi Beta Phi's graduate counselors for the 1983-84 school year. Four will be criss-crossing the country as Traveling Graduate Counselors (TGC), serving the Fraternity in whatever capacity is required, whether it be help with rush, introducing more effective scholarship programs, counseling about problems, either current or anticipated, or simply providing inspiration for bigger and better chapter programming. These four graduates, selected by Grand Council following personal interviews, are Carol Biglow, Oregon Alpha; Katie Hale, Pennsylvania Beta; Martha Hughey, Nebraska Beta; and Leslie Zeller, California Zeta. All four TGCs have been chapter presidents and have held at least one other Exec position.

Combining her efforts will be Amy Brundrett, Oklahoma Alpha. Amy's base of operations will be as Resident Graduate Counselor (RGC) at Indiana Gamma (Butler), but she also will travel to the remaining chapters in Theta Province as needed.

A new chapter is being added to the Pi Phi roster this fall—Iowa Eta at Drake University in Des Moines. Cheryl Buonarati, California Epsilon, will be the RGC at Iowa Eta, guiding the new chapter in the ways of the Fraternity.

Carol Biglow

Carol holds a B.S. degree in physical education/science from the University of Oregon. She has been busy, always, during her four years of college, but has made time for quality study, maintaining a high grade point average throughout. She is an excellent athlete and has helped her chapter gain recognition as a leader in the intramural program within the Greek and University system.

Carol is a well-organized leader and a hard worker who is able to set an example that is motivational to those with whom she is working. She is a dynamic individual who will be able to draw on her experience to offer much support and guidance to the chapters she will visit. It was also pointed out in one letter of recommendation that Carol possesses a terrific sense of humor, and that is an essential attribute for the TGC position.

Kathleen Hale

Katie has earned a B.S.B.A. degree in management from Bucknell University. She has been treasurer of her chapter, as well as president, and served in many other capacities during her college career. She has developed and exercised skills as an organizer, planner, supervisor, goal setter, and achiever.

According to a Bucknell official, Katie's manner is positive, subtle, and nonabrasive. She enjoys the respect and admiration of her peers, and brings to all of her activities an enviable level of energy.

Katie's interest in becoming a TGC stems from a desire to assist other chapters in reaching their maximum potential. As one who is "diligent in her responsibilities and faithfully sees them through to completion," Katie will have that opportunity as TGC.

Martha Hughey

Martha's University of Nebraska degree is a Bachelor of Journalism in broadcast journalism, with minors in English, political science, and psychology. She was president of the chapter during her sophomore year, and that year she was named the Outstanding Sophomore in Xi Province. After completing her term as president, Martha became involved in Panhellenic work, serving as treasurer. Then, in her junior year, she was tapped for Mortar Board, and was president of that group as a senior. Last summer she attended the Mortar Board National Conference as Nebraska's delegate and was appointed to the Long Range Planning Committee.

Martha is a "devoted Pi Phi, with lots of enthusiasm and spirit. She is capable and conscientious, a delightful person who has brought many honors to her chapter. She has an excellent rapport with her peers."

An official of the university wrote, "We would be pleased and delighted to have someone like Martha calling on us in regard to Greek activities."

Leslie Zeller

Leslie's degree from the University of California (Santa Barbara) is a B.A. in political science and international relations. She has been secretary of her chapter, as well as president. Traveling the country would be nothing new for Leslie, since her father is a Navy Captain and the family has moved back and forth across the country fourteen times!

One of Leslie's strengths is her willingness to listen to others and incorporate new ideas into her own. Another strength is her ability to foster love and confidence, even while making unpopular decisions. She is well-liked, admired, and respected by her peers as well as adults with whom she has worked. She is able to work effectively with a wide variety of people in situations which call for leadership, tolerance, and the ability to cope with emotions that may run high.

Leslie writes, "The lessons I've learned, the experience I've gained, and the enthusiasm I have for learning about oneself through Fraternity life are things I would like to share. . . ."

Amy Brundrett

Amy was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in May with a degree in elementary education. She was chapter recording secretary as well as chairing many committees throughout her four years. As Panhellenic rush chairman, she was responsible for the total rush program for over 700 rushees which culminated in an 85 percent pledging rate. Throughout "she displayed superior leadership and professional skills and was outstanding in her relation to both the rushees and sorority women."

Amy's many honors on campus include the President's Leadership Class, Gamma Gamma, Who's Who, Homecoming Queen candidate, and National Maid of Cotton Finalist this year.

"Amy's grades, involvement in her surroundings and pleasant ways make her a shining example of Pi Phi ideals," wrote Michel Cross, AAC chairman.

Cheryl Buonarati

Another journalist is Cheryl, who was graduated in December with a B.A. in journalism with an emphasis on public relations. She held six offices in her chapter, including VP Mental and treasurer. Her knowledge of Pi Phi is extensive, and she has been a valuable resource for younger members of the chapter. She also distinguished herself as a scholar and as a leader outside of Pi Phi. As an assistant for public relations for the American Diabetes Association, Cheryl coordinated a P.R. campaign associated with Greek Week at San Diego State which netted $4,000 for A.D.A.

Cheryl is a strong, dedicated young woman with a great sense of responsibility and self-discipline. She enjoys interacting with people and helping them make progress towards their goals. These qualities will prove invaluable as she guides Pi Phi's newest chapter.

Jenny Banner is a different sort of bat girl than is usually associated with college women. Her "batty" activities earned college credit at Albion.

Panhel Prexy Researches Bats In Panama Island

by HEATHER HOWARD

Jenny Banner, Michigan Delta, is Panhellenic President for the 1983-84 school year at Albion College, and will be able to contribute her enthusiasm and talents to the Greek system at Albion. Jenny, a junior biology major, is not only a tireless worker on campus, but she has at least one unique hobby as well. Jenny studies bats!

Last fall Jenny was able to participate in a special off-campus experience. She received college credit while participating in a research project directed by the Curator of Mammals at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. This was the ninth year of a ten year project.

Jenny was selected by the curator to be one of two research assistants to accompany him to Barro Colorado Island, the Republic of Panama. BCI, located in Gatun Lake directly west of the Panama Canal, is the major biological research station of the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute. There Jenny spent five nights a week catching, processing, and banding bats, primarily the Jamaican fruit bat. In twelve weeks, more than 4,400 bats were caught, meaning many late nights and early mornings. The largest nightly catch was 272 bats. Nets were set at ripe fig trees, their primary source of food.

Along with collecting data for Dr. Handley, the Curator, Jenny was collecting data for her thesis. She is planning on concentrating her graduate work on the study of natural history of different bat species and she hopes to return again soon to Panama.

Mirr Named To Purdue Council

Indiana Delta's Diane Mirr, a sophomore at Purdue, is serving on the twelve member Senior Board of the Purdue Council for Special Events. This is Diane's second year with the Council, having served last year on the fifteen member Junior Board.

The Council for Special Events plans and sponsors such activities as the Purdue Ambassadors who host the University President's Council at home football games. They also sponsor a phone-a-thon which raises money for Purdue and last year brought in $150,000 for the university. Parent's Weekend, one of the biggest weekends of the year, is Diane's own responsibility.

The new project for this year's council is the initiation of class gifts. The council is beginning work to help each class become organized and raise the funds to present a gift to the university upon graduation.

Pam Perdue, Oklahoma Alpha, was second runner-up in the Miss OU Pageant, held for the first time at the University of Oklahoma. Pam is a member of Student Entertainers and has been in many musicals and plays on campus.

Traditions Dumped For Lack of Snow

by NANCY KINNEY

Every year at the University of Vermont a special winter weekend is organized. It is a weekend of fun, parties, and activities for the entire community. Contrary to the belief that U.V.M. is forever buried in snow, this year there was not enough of it. Traditional activities such as cross country skiing, showshoe races, snow sculpture competition, and outdoor ice skating were forced to be cancelled due to the weather. However, other activities including broomball (a sort of ice hockey with brooms and a rubber ball), campus sing competition, and parties brought everyone together for some winter fun!

Vermont Betas were active in all parts of Winterfest, with nine Pi Phis serving on the 1983 Winterfest committee. Pam Stevens was in charge of the entire "Winter Festival." Sam Mendel headed the publicity committee which was staffed by Emma Anderson, Julie Kully, Lisa Breast, and Miki Yoshino. These girls were responsible for all the slogans, posters, newspaper and radio ads.

Tammy Campbell worked on the recreation committee. She helped organize and referee the popular broomball tournament. Vermont Beta had a team in the competition.

Leigh McLaughlin headed the special events committee with the help of Kathy Kelly.

NEWEST—BIGGEST—And surely one of the best! Virginia Zeta, only one year old, became the largest Greek organization on the Virginia Tech campus with the pledging of 21 women during winter quarter.

Marianna Beach Honored By Kansas State Alumni

Marianna Kistler Beach, Kansas Beta, is the latest recipient of the Kansas State University Alumni Medallion Award. The honor, presented this spring, provides recognition for outstanding achievements of Kansas State alumni, and is based upon the life career of a nominee rather than any single activity or incident.

The award is the latest honor to come to the Hays, Kansas resident. The 1982 International Humanitarian Award of the American Overseas Association and the DAR National Medal of Honor have been conferred recently on Marianna.

The AOA citation, awarded by the national organization of Red Cross workers who have served overseas, and given in the past to Bob Hope and Pearl Buck among others, honors human kindness, benevolence, and self-sacrifice for service over and beyond the call of duty. The plaque reads: "Marianna Kistler Beach, Recipient of the 1982 Humanitarian Award: Mrs. Beach, a devoted wife and mother, has consistently provided leadership, insights and motivation as she personifies the attributes of voluntarism; Marianna continues to apply her experience and diplomatic skills to enhance Latin American ties to the United States through our common concern for the welfare of the children of the Americas."

The DAR National Medal of Honor is a national award conferred for unusual contribution to community and nation and a lasting contribution to the American heritage.

Marianna is the United States Representative to the Directing Council of the Inter-American Children's Institute, an appointee of the Secretary of State. The institute is the specific agency of the OAS for the study of problems of children and families of the Americas and for the promotion of programs leading to their solution. She has served two terms on the president's Committee on Mental Retardation and chaired its Sub-Committee on International Activities. The Partners of the Americas program is among her activities in promoting goodwill among the people of the hemisphere.

Marianna is a former Xi Province Alumnae Province President. She was graduated from Kansas State with high honors in 1941 with a B.S. degree in industrial journalism. She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi and Mortar Board, was named Outstanding Senior, and was an ABO Province Award winner. She is a member of the Hays Pi Phi Pocket.

Marianna Beach, Kansas Beta

At the annual meeting of the Inter-American Children's Institute last October in Asuncion, Paraguay, Marianna was elected president of the directing council, the institute's senior governing body, to serve a two year term. She is the first U.S. representative to be chosen president in more than 25 years, according to Sen. Bob Dole's office.

J. William Middendorf, the United State's Ambassador to the Organization of American States (OAS), said Marianna has "captivated her colleagues on the directing council with her deep concern and devotion for the welfare of the children of our hemisphere."

Film Intern Earns Credits

Virginia Zeta Karen Deane was awarded an internship with the Virginia Tech film production unit during spring quarter. In lieu of taking classes, she worked 40 hours a week with the unit, located on campus, and earned fifteen college credits in the process. Karen began by learning the basics of film production and the maintenance and use of related technical equipment. She then assisted with individual staff projects and by the end of the quarter, organized her own productions.

Karen was graduated in June with a major in communications and a minor in religion.

Graduating seniors from U.C.-Berkeley Sandra Carroll and Lisa Canton, California Betas, will join the Peace Corps this summer. Sandra will go to Puerto Rico and Lisa will be in Guatemala.

Phoenix Favorite Learns Beauty of Sign Language

"Jan Threlkeld Moore, Arizona Alpha, is the sweetheart of the Phoenix (Ariz.) Alumnae Club—cheerful, modest, competent, generous in offering her home for meetings, gourmet cook, club office holder for years."

That was the tribute written by a fellow club member when forwarding information about Jan's latest endeavors in her home town. What wasn't written was the fact that nearly everyone who attended the Pi Phi Convention in Phoenix in 1979 would remember Jan's smiling face and warm manner as she served as Convention Hospitality Chairman. Then, in Dallas, she was Elections Coordinator, a position she continues to fill on the national Pi Phi level.

As a member of the Phoenix Alumnae Club, Jan has helped plan numerous fund raising events to benefit local charities. Last year the group decided to aid the Hearing Education and Rehabilitation Society (HEARS) for the Day School for the Deaf in Phoenix. Jan was financial chairman and she remembers the deaf picking up their tickets to come to the fashion show.

"I could see the distress on their faces as they tried to read my lips," said Jan.

When the check was presented, the brief speech of presentation was heard by only a few.

Because of the frustration Jan felt over her inability to communicate with the deaf, she enrolled in a sign language class. This year she presented the check both in speech and in sign.

She has completed her first semester of sign classes through Easter Seals and she plans to return for several more classes. Although she has learned only the basics so far, she feels it's a beautiful language and lots of fun. The class members have parties where they can't speak a word from the minute they hit the room until they leave.

"I think it's important to be more aware of the deaf," says Jan. "With the blind, you can usually tell by the white cane or glasses, but there's no way to tell with the deaf until you try to talk to them."

Jan Moore says "I love you" in sign language after learning the language in order to communicate with the deaf while volunteering her time to help several local organizations in Phoenix. (Scottsdale Daily Progress photo by Suzanne Starr)

Along with her many activities through the alumnae club, Jan also offers her time as a volunteer receptionist and file clerk for Family Service Agency and she drives for the American Cancer Society. She also volunteers her time at her church.

"I just do whatever they need. It's a lot of fun to volunteer, and I just like to help."

Carla Capps, center, Lewiston Roundup Rodeo Queen

Capps Caps Rodeo Career

by RUTH ECCLES

Carla Capps, Idaho Alpha, was the Lewiston Roundup Rodeo queen during the year 1981-82. During her reign, she traveled around the Northwest representing Lewiston at rodeos and fairs. She was guest speaker at banquets and barbecues, spoke on TV and radio talk shows, and participated in style shows. Carla has been riding for fifteen years and has been in many horse shows and barrel racing contests in rodeos.

Riding is not her only talent, however. Carla grew up singing in her parents' country band, called the "Nite Capps." She also has performed in a number of musicals, including the recent production of "Fiddler on the Roof" presented by the community theatre in Moscow.

Carla has been performing for years, beginning with high school productions. She enjoys musicals the most, however, and plans to continue her work in theatre and music.

short stories of sagacious sisters

Vermont Beta, University of Vermont
At the annual Greek Formals dinner at UVM, the chapter received two trophies from the Dean of Students for having the highest grade point average for two semesters in a row—spring '82, fall '82. Also, for the second year in a row, they won the Lambda Cup, given to the most outstanding sorority on campus!

Colorado Gamma, Colorado State
Tammy Teegarden was one of five students to be appointed Supreme Court Justice for the student body by the president of the university. Danene Tushar, a graduating senior, is a new member of Psi Chi, national honorary society of psychology.

Mississippi Beta, Ole Miss
Carol Spencer was the first woman to run for a presidential position for Associated Student Body since World War II. Six candidates ran for the post, and Carol lost by only ten votes in a run-off.

Alabama Gamma, Auburn
Nan Nowell had one of the leading roles in Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore," presented by the Auburn University Theatre. Nan, a junior majoring in voice, played Josephine, the daughter of the ship's captain.

New York Alpha, Syracuse
Christine Corrigan has been a member of the Hendricks Chapel Choir for the last two years. She has traveled with the choir throughout the New England states and in the midwest.

Florida Epsilon, Central Florida
Michelle Bowen found she had an extra special duty among her many as Homecoming Queen. University of Central Florida officials asked her to escort President Reagan during his visit to EPCOT in March. After going through a debriefing and being checked out by the FBI, Michelle and other VIPs met the President at the airport, and spent the day escorting the President and his party.

Tennessee Delta, Memphis State
In February, the chapter celebrated twenty-one years on the Memphis State campus. Members held a Scholarship Night with awards given to girls making GPAs equivalent to national standards and above. Cutouts of the Greek letter Pi were given to each girl achieving a 3.14 or better.

Missouri Beta, Washington University
Sophomore Janice MacAvoy is a Chancellor's Honorary Scholar. The honor is designated for undergraduates with outstanding grade point average. Last semester Janice had a perfect GPA of 4.0.

West Virginia Alpha, W. Va. University
Each spring is highlighted by the annual Spring Honors Dinner. Of the entire graduating class, only 150 seniors are invited to attend the banquet. Three Pi Phis, Kelly Bail, Beth Moczek, and Jane Himmelman, were among the group this year. The annual dinner is planned by the WVU Board of Managers, of which Rika Shields is co-chairman.

Washington Gamma, University of Puget Sound
Three Pi Phis are on the staff of The Crosscurrents Review, the university's literary magazine which has received acclaim from professors, students, and the Modern Language Association. Marybeth Burns and Stephanie Sanders are poetry staff members and Jane Knechtel is associate editor of poetry.

Arizona Beta, Arizona State
Katy Ottensmeyer has been appointed to the executive committee of Associated Students of A.S.U. The committee consists of the president, three vice presidents, and three senators, of which Katy is one.

South Carolina Beta, Clemson
Lorri Ann Bennett has been awarded a scholarship from the Piedmont Branch of the American Lung Association. Lorri, a nursing senior, received the scholarship for the furthering of her education in a health related professional field.

Oklahoma Beta, Oklahoma State
The pledges proved they look great—even in mud packs! The fall class came in second in the annual all-campus Phi Psi 500 tricycle race amidst mud and muck!

Indiana Beta, Indiana University
Roxanne Butler holds two recording secretary positions. She holds that position in Panhellenic as well as in the chapter.

Debbie Vernasco is a new member of Phi Beta Kappa, and will be going to medical school after her graduation this spring.

Nebraska Beta, University of Nebraska
With an all-house GPA of 3.19, Pi Phi defeated Theta in a grade challenge for the most improved GPA. Pi Phis had eight 4.0s and all 23 pledges made grades. They were the only sorority on campus to be able to initiate all their 1982-83 pledges.

Florida Beta, Florida State
Katrice Howell, Shannon Aleguas, Cathy Speed, Mindy Ellison, Lisa Reynolds, and Leslie Costin have been tapped as members of Scalp Hunters, a booster club for F.S.U. athletic teams.

New York Gamma, St. Lawrence
Sharon Lenhard has been accepted at the Medical College of Pennsylvania. Sharon is a chemistry major and a member of the chemistry honorary. Melissa Morton has been accepted by Upstate Medical School in Syracuse. She is also a chemistry major and a Phi Beta Kappa.

Texas Alpha, University of Texas
Britt Brookshore has served as chairman of the Fine Arts Union Committee for two years. Her committee sponsors exhibits of students' work as well as art from the country. Britt is a member of Mortar Board and was a U.T. Sweetheart nominee in 1982.

Kansas Beta, Kansas State
Stephanie Stanberry spent many long hours campaigning last semester. Her well-deserved place on the Business Senate came as a result of her efforts.

Arkansas Alpha, University of Arkansas
Pi Phi currently hold four offices on the Panhellenic board. Harriet Morris is secretary, Annette Pearson is assistant campus-wide rush chairman, Tish Springer is public relations chairman, and Jamie McAlister is scholarship chairman. Annette and Tish attended the National Panhellenic Conference in St. Louis in March.

Missouri Gamma, Drury College

Kelley Goins is president of the Drury College Ambassadors, a service organization for the college primarily in the area of public relations. This is the second year a Pi Phi has been at the helm. Last year Shawn Neathery was president. Other ambassadors are Sylvia Fahl, Lora Halcomb, Betsy Maas, Lynnette Miller, Mariann Morgan, Jill Pope, and Liz Wiles.

Illinois Epsilon, Northwestern

Dina Chrones joined her sisters, Eurydice and Maria, as Pi Phi sisters when she was initiated in January. When those three girls say they're Greeks, as well as sisters, they're not kidding!

Oklahoma Alpha, University of Oklahoma

The chapter recently showed its appreciation for a great group of hard-working alumnae by holding an appreciation dinner for members of the alumnae advisory committee. Following the dinner, each alum was recognized for her special contribution.

Kentucky Beta, University of Kentucky
There are currently five sets of active sisters in the chapter, following the 1982 fall rush. Terry and Donna Kay McGaw, Diane and Debbie Jones, Kim and Elizabeth Hand, Leslie and Julie Tutt, and Martha and Mary Anne Young are the sister duos.

North Dakota Alpha, U.N.D.

The chapter senior class held an open house last spring in celebration of the university's Centennial. State and university officials, as well as alumnae, families, and friends were invited. The university president attended to visit and meet chapter members and guests.

Oregon Alpha, University of Oregon

Six angels lead academically with a 3.50 GPA or better, and include Shelly Arnold, Janet Stutesman, Marcia Wilkinson, Lynda Grillo, and Laurilie Kuxhausen. Four more—Anne Drips, Cherie Collier, Chris Simonson, and Stephanie Jones—top out with 4.0!

North Carolina Alpha, UNC

Molly Farrell left the states in December and Emily Beam and Katherine Edwards set off in February to live and learn European ways.

Illinois Zeta, University of Illinois

Loretta Long was a participant in the Miss Heart of Illinois beauty pageant in February. She performed a jazz dance in the preliminary for the Miss Illinois pageant and enjoyed the experience even though not making it to the finals.

Pennsylvania Epsilon, Penn State

Beth Ann McAdams was elected Panhellenic social chairman in the fall and also was chairman of the Homecoming parade. Sandy Miller was overall chairman of Woman's Awareness Week, a university-wide week devoted to special programs concerning women.

Indiana Gamma, Butler

Graduating from college in four years is difficult enough these days, but Debbie Milstead graduated in 3½ years with a 3.98 GPA! Upon graduating she began working with Dr. Jonas Horvath, world renowned economist and a Butler professor. Debbie is helping Dr. Horvath research his second book on Poland.

Kansas Beta, Kansas State

The chapter entertained two new boarders in February and early March. Carolyn Teeter, ADPi, and Suzie Skubitz, KAT, moved into the house for two weeks while Pi Phi's Nancy Suida and Julie Killion joined the Kappa and Theta houses. The girls were participating in the "Roving Roommate" exchange program at K. State.

South Carolina Beta, Clemson

This year's pledge class sold M&Ms to raise money for the chapter gift—and what a gift it was. There is now new blue carpet in the foyer of the Pi Phi dorm and a new yellow floor for the chapter kitchen. These certainly brightened up the spring semester for the Pi Phis.

Florida Beta, F.S.U.

Susie Dorman won first runner-up in the Miss F.S.U. Pageant of 1983. Twenty-three girls competed in four categories: evening gown, swimsuit, interview, and talent, which counted 50 percent. Susie caught the audiences' breath with the outstanding piano solo which she performed.

Texas Gamma, Texas Tech

Sharlyn Ramey was a participant in Up With People during the 1981-82 year. After returning to Tech, she has become a member of the Double T Dolls, an organization which supports Tech baseball. Ohio Zeta, Miami University

With the help of VP Mental Debbie Wind, the pledges had the highest GPA among sororities. Kim Fromm, Chris Maxim, and Linda Tompkins topped the list with perfect 4.0s. Actives Trish Gallenstein, Missy Masluk, and Kathy Kokalis also earned 4.0s.

North Dakota Alpha, U.N.D.

Barb Murphy and Judy Reishus were selected as Rho Chis for the fall '83 formal rush. They will play an integral role in making the all-campus rush a success.

Arizona Alpha, University of Arizona
Three scholarly Pi Phis made their sisters very proud when they were recognized at the Greek Awards Dinner for their semester averages of 4.0. Lee Bulkeley, Jenny Goodman, and Leslie Withers are the three brainy angels.

Six Take Field Trip To Canada

by SHELLEY POULSEN

Six members of Vermont Beta took a four day leave of absence from their campus in mid-March, along with forty-five fellow students from the University of Vermont. Beth Golden, Julie Howell, Pam Stevens, Patty Boyde, Bethanne Ryan, and Shelley Poulsen left Burlington, Vt., to visit Montreal and Ottawa on a Canadian Studies field trip. Their activities included a guest lecture at McGill University in Montreal and trips to the Canadian Parliament and the American Embassy in Ottawa. The group was very well received by several officials in the Canadian government. The sisters explored the cities during their free time, tasting the French cuisine of Quebec, photographing the sights, and enjoying the customs of Canada.

The trip proved both educational and adventuresome. The Pi Phis enjoyed traveling with one another and experiencing the new cities together.

The field trip is an annual event at the university, sponsored by the Canadian Studies Program. Its purpose is to better Canadian-American relations through increased exposure and understanding of Canada by interested American students.

Mini Reunion Is Farewell Party

by MISSY BERRY MINTY

Last December, during the hustle and bustle of Christmas season, about thirty Pi Phi sisters from Oklahoma and Texas gathered in Norman, Okla., to wish one of our pledge sisters a safe and successful journey to New Guinea. Debi Massad Condra and her husband, Ed, are affiliated with the Wycliffe Bible Translators and are being sent to New Guinea this summer to translate the Bible into many of the native New Guinea languages.

After much toasting and roasting, Debi humorously answered our questions about how she would "blow-dry" and curl her hair without electricity and how she would overcome her dependency on junk food. She then seriously explained the importance of their mission. A good time was had by all who attended our "mini" reunion. Even the actives of our chapter, Oklahoma

Alpha, were involved. They graciously provided accommodations for the out-of-state alums.

Because of the sincere conviction that Debi displayed at our gathering, many of us inquired as to how we could help financially. We learned that tax deductible contributions and inquiries for further information can be made to:

Wycliffe Bible Translators, Inc.
Post Office Box 2702
Huntington Beach, CA 92647

If contributing, be sure to include a note to designate Debi and Ed as the beneficiaries of the gift. Also, send cards and letters to Debi directly at this address:

Third Generation Follows Tradition

by JACQUELINE COCHRAN

In starting a family tradition, one needs to show character and family commitment. Pi Beta Phi is another word for this in the Edwards family. Hulda Arbenz Edwards started this long sisterhood in 1916 at Colorado Beta. Throughout her life she volunteered in many service groups, yet family gatherings were a favorite pastime of hers.

The Pi Phi bond has been carried on by her two daughters, Paula Edwards Cochran and Judy Edwards Sandbo, both alumnae members of Ohio Beta. Mrs. Edwards also had three sons, two of whom married Pi Phis—Susie Williams Edwards and Nancy Davis Edwards—also alumnae of Ohio Beta. Nancy Edwards' son married a Pi Phi, Nancy Duffy Edwards, also an alumna of Ohio Beta.

This special sisterhood is now in its third generation with the initiation of Jacqueline Cochran, initiated into Tennessee Beta but now an active member at Texas Delta, and the most recent legacy, Sharon Sandbo, initiated in February 1983 at Indiana Epsilon.

The Edwards family is very proud of their Pi Phi legacy, owing it all to a very special woman in their lives, Hulda Arbenz Edwards, who died February 14, 1983.

Heidi Overholser, Idaho Alpha, is a Golden Girl at the University of Idaho. The 18-member group dances to contemporary songs at Vandall football and basketball games.

Ruth Eccles, Idaho Alpha, and her partner, Tony, perform a stunt called a "front axle" as members of the University of Idaho cheerleader team. The cheerleaders support Vandal football, basketball, and volleyball teams.

Susie Dougherty, Oklahoma Alpha, is one of six girls on the University of Oklahoma cheerleading squad. There are also six guys on the squad which will enter national competition this year.

California Betas Doots Halford, Susan Reynolds, and Lisa Beazley, from top down, are members of the 1984 cheerleading squad at U.C.-Berkeley.

Suzy Stevenson, left, and Danna Deeter share their enthusiastic spirit with the Kansas Alpha chapter as well as with the University of Kansas Jayhawks.

NEWS OF ARROWCRAFT and ARROWMONT

Edited by MARY FRANCES PIRKEY

Board of Governors

During the opening reception of the University of Tennessee Art Faculty and Graduate Student Exhibition in the Arrowmont Gallery, visitors admired the many beautiful, though sometimes unusual, pieces on display.

Employees Total 191 Years of Service To Arrowmont

Talk about loyalty! Talk about dedication! Talk about devotion to a job! Talk about service to Pi Beta Phi!

Seven Arrowmont and Arrowcraft employees have given a total of 191 years service to our Fraternity! They have much in common. All were born in or around Gatlinburg, most attended our Pi Beta Phi grade school and high school, several are related, and all enjoy meeting Pi Phis who come to the campus from all over the country.

The dean of this group in terms of service is Neal Watson, our Head Maintenance man. He is the son of Orly and Josie Watson, whose former home is still on the Settlement School property in front of the Staff House. Neal grew up there with his brother, Warren. Their father worked at Settlement School for thirty-seven years beginning in 1926. Josie McCarter Watson, Neal's mother, wove for Arrowcraft for twenty-five years. They both attended the Pi Phi school.

After eight years at our Pi Beta Phi Grade School, Neal graduated from Pi Beta Phi High School in 1940. He started mowing the lawn on the Settlement School property before he entered his teens. He worked with the chickens, cows, and horses before Arrowmont—as we know it today—came into being. He worked the enormous garden that provided fresh vegetables for staff and students. His first paycheck, he remembers, was $130.00 a month. (Ten years after Neal started working, teachers at Pi Phi High were making $187.00 a month—before taxes!)

The horses, cows, chickens, and the garden are long gone, but Neal does not lack for work. He meets with Arrowmont Administrator, Robert Skinner, early each morning to talk over any problems and to get his assignment for the day. Shortly thereafter he and his three fellow workers—Zanley Watson, Ernie Schultz (whose wife, Pauline, works at Arrowcraft), and Jeff Blalock—can be seen everywhere on our property. They often zip about in the truck with Pi Beta Phi printed on its side. Some days they will be painting, other days doing carpentry work, solving an electrical problem in the Staff House dining room, or digging up old shrubbery and replacing it with new. They transport visiting Pi Phi officers from the airport in Knoxville to Gatlinburg in the Pi Phi van. Pi Phis at the Dallas Convention saw the large blue and white van which was used to take Arrowcraft products from Gatlinburg to the Convention. On that occasion the van was driven, not by the maintenance men, but by Jan Skinner, Arrowcraft Coordinator, with Helen Lewis, former Grand Council member and Pi Beta Phi extraordinaire, riding jump seat.

Neal married Wanda Ogle (more than a few Ogles have attended the Pi Phi schools. When a count was made over 25 years ago, the number had reached 650!!) in 1953 and two years later their son, Steven, was born. He is now working as a night clerk in a motel, having, of course, attended our Pi Phi schools. Wanda worked for several years at Arrowcraft in the '50's when Tina McMorran was the weaving designer.

Neal concluded, "My job with the Pi Phis has been my life." Then he added, "You tell the Pi Phis that I'm a Pi Phi and so was my Dad." And so they are—in spirit if not in fact!

Zanley Watson, Neal's first cousin, is also on the maintenance staff. He's a relative newcomer to the Settlement School, having worked there only 22 years! His wife, Helen, weaves pebble place mats for Arrowcraft. Zanley attended Cartertown Grade School, but graduated from Pi Phi High. He specializes in electrical work, carpentry, and plumbing, but from all reports can fix anything! We hope he'll be around for another 22 years!

Several Arrowmont/Arrowcraft employees were honored in April for their service to Pi Phi. Seated, l-r: Nadine Whitted, Neal Watson, Nella Hill. Standing: Faye Cook, Gene Ellison, Zanley Watson, and Ruby Watson.

At the Arrowcraft Shop, there are four employees who deserve stars in their crown for longevity: Nella Cook Hill, Faye Cook, Ruby Smith Watson, and Gene Ellison. Nella is the dean at Arrowcraft, having worked there since 1953—over 30 years. She and her four sisters all have worked for Arrowcraft. Her sister, Veryl, is our head bookkeeper and her twin sister, Faye, is head of shipping. Nella began working in the shop in sales and went on to become Weaving Supervisor. She works often at her loom trying out new patterns and designs. She purchases weaving supplies, issues yarn to the 75 Arrowcraft weavers, and gives them any instructions or directions they may need. She also weaves special orders for Pi Phis across the country. She is married to John Hill.

Nella's twin, Faye, has worked at our shop for exactly a quarter century. As well as being head of shipping, she assists Jan Skinner as crafts' buyer. She helps check in items from the craftsmen, checks in orders from the alumnae clubs, and makes sure that the proper items go out to the particular club that ordered them. Like Nella, she started at Arrowcraft in sales.

Ruby Watson, Faye's assistant, is married to Neal's brother, Warren. She has 26 years service to Arrowcraft. However, she took five years off during which time she sewed for Arrowcraft in her home. If that time were counted, she would have 31 years service as of January, 1984.

Gene Ellison, who has worked at Arrowcraft for over 24 years, plans to retire soon to her farm where she and her husband, Conard, live. The only one of the group who didn't attend Pi Phi High—she went to school in Sevierville just a few miles away—she was nevertheless born and raised nearby—in a log cabin. Her two boys both live nearby. One is a truck driver, the other lives on a farm. The Ellison's only daughter lives in Cleveland, Ohio. Gene says she especially enjoys meeting all the Pi Phis who have come into the Arrowcraft Shop. She insists—as do most of the others—that she can spot a Pi Phi almost before the front door of the shop closes. When asked how, she says, "Well, they all have these big smiles on their faces and an 'I've finally gotten here' look."

The last of our "old timers" is Nadine Grooms Whitted, who came to work in February, 1955, after graduating from Pi Phi High in 1954. She, too, started work in sales, gave weaving demonstrations, moved to the shipping department, then in 1960 became Marian Webb Mueller's secretary. Marian, Indiana Delta, was a long time director of the Settlement School. Nadine is married to Tom Whitted and they have one child, Tammy, who is 13 and a seventh grader at the Pi Phi school.

Nadine's grandmother, Mary L. Ownby, wove for Arrowcraft for 35 years and her mother, Rose, followed in her footsteps. Those Pi Phis who have rocked in the comfortable split oak chairs on the front porch of Staff House will be interested to know that they were made many years ago by Nadine's grandmother. Nadine is now working as the assistant to Bob Skinner.

One cannot help but wonder how the Settlement School (Arrowmont and Arrowcraft) could possibly have become what it is today without the dedication, loyalty, and service of these seven people. Wish that there were more like them! Thank you—ALL of you—from Pi Beta Phis everywhere!!

Area Artists Exhibit Work

The Sevier County Art Exhibition was held in the Arrowmont Gallery January 28-February 19. Sixty-one pieces by thirty-four area residents were juried for the show which opened with a well-attended wine and cheese reception, sponsored by the Gatlinburg Arts Council.

Stained glass, painting, drawing, textiles, photography, and clay were displayed, representing work currently being produced by local artists.

The exhibition juror was Richard Daehnert, Associate Professor of Art at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

Cash awards were presented by the Arts Council. $100 winners were Charles Ottolini, "Which Came First" (stained glass); Robert Tine, "Hinges" (watercolor); P. Diane Russel, "Colog pad" (quilt).

$75 winners were Mary Anne Booth, "Pyramids in Colorado" (photograph); Terri Waters, "Children of the Corn" (watercolor).

$50 winner was Susie Paine Waters-Ogle, "Ode to Ray George" (mixed media drawing).

Don Kurka, chairman of the Department of Art at UT/Knoxville, chats with Sandra Blain, Arrowmont/Arrowcraft Director, during the opening reception of the faculty and graduate student exhibition at Arrowmont in February.

Mary Lynn Holt, President of the Gatlinburg Arts Council, talks with Ron Koehler, new Arrowmont staff member, during the opening reception of the Sevier County Art Exhibition.

Ron Koehler Assumes New Arrowmont Duties

Last October Arrowmont added a new staff member, Ron Koehler. The Missouri native has taken over the position of staff assistant. His responsibilities include writing school publicity, supervising the operation of the resource center, leading tour groups, and assisting the director and program coordinator during seminars and workshops.

Ron has exhibited in numerous juried and invitational shows and has won several awards, including a $1,000 purchase award in sculpture during 1979.

Prior to joining Arrowmont, Ron was a sculpture instructor at Delta State University in Cleveland, Miss., for two years. His educational background includes a B.S. in art education and M.A. degrees from Southeast Missouri State University, and a M.F.A. degree in sculpture from Memphis State.

Ron's involvement with Arrowmont began during the summers of 1975 and '76, as a student. "The Arrowmont atmosphere during the summer sessions gave me motivation to produce artwork after I left, as well as producing an excitement about art that I was able to pass on to my students," says Ron.

He has taught art for nine years on the elementary, high school and college levels. During the summer of 1981, Ron served as an Arrowmont assistant, helping with gallery installations and general assistant assignments.

Local Craftsman Is Speaker

A special surprise was in store for Henrietta McCutchen Huff when the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club in Gatlinburg held its meeting about the Pi Phi philanthropy, Arrowmont. It's hard to believe that the dedicated women of that club could learn anything new about Arrowmont, and what Henrietta learned was not new, but it brought back many special memories.

Speaker at the meeting was Frances Fox Wilson, the daughter of Murrell Reagan Fox. Henrietta went to Gatlinburg from St. Louis in 1928 to teach in the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, and Murrell Reagan was one of her third grade students that very first year.

"Murrell was a darling little blond girl with braids across her head framing her face," writes Henrietta. "After finishing our Pi Phi School, she married Amos Fox and moved to Kentucky. They had three daughters. When Frances was in third grade, they moved back to Gatlinburg."

Frances also attended Settlement School and the Pi Beta Phi influence was part of the atmosphere, encouraging an appreciation of the skills and handcrafts of the area.

Her first job, at age 13, was for the summer arts and crafts school. "My association that summer with the teachers and students increased my awareness of the 'art' in crafts," Frances says, "and gave me a love and appreciation of craftsmanship."

"I have lived away from Gatlinburg for 25 years, but I always carried with me this interest and enjoyment of crafts."

Frances' grandmother, Sarah Ogle Reagan, wove linen and cotton towels for the Arrowcraft Shop for many years. Her husband, Harve Reagan, made the loom for Sarah in the early 1920s. After Sarah's death, the loom was stored in the attic, and Frances inherited it. She always knew she would one day set up the loom, return to Arrowmont, and learn how to weave.

Henrietta Huff and Murrell Fox watch Frances Wilson weaving on her grandmother's loom.

"Three years ago I was able to do that," said Frances. "I took a two week summer course in weaving and began to weave tapestries and wall hangings. I have since moved back to Gatlinburg and sell my work in the shops here, especially Arrowcraft Shop. One valuable experience in returning to Gatlinburg is the opportunity to continue taking courses at Arrowmont to improve and expand my weaving skills."

Those beautiful tapestries and wall hangings are displayed in the Gallery at Arrowcraft Show, where "one of a kind crafts" are on display for sale.

"Shop Arrowcraft" In Louisville

Arrowcraft Shop had good business during the past six months because of relatively mild weather. In the winter, people came to ski, but shopped instead when they didn't find snow on the mountains. March came in like a lamb, and the balmy temperatures tempted the tourists to be out walking through the city with many stopping at Arrowcraft Shop.

Gene Hembree Ellison retired in February after almost 24 years at the shop. She worked in shipping, the weaving department, and front sales at different times during those years. Her loyalty to and interest in Arrowcraft contributed a great deal to the growing success of the shop operations.

Several longtime shop employees were honored in April at a breakfast attended by everyone working for Pi Beta Phi Settlement School. Jane Faust, Chairman of the Board of Governors, and Jane Tuten, Vice President for Philanthropies, were also present.

Frances Wilson was hired in March as apprentice in weaving. She will work in front sales, learning the merchandising side of the crafts business. Beginning in November, she will work with Nella Hill to learn about the planning, design, and production of the Arrowcraft line of woven articles. In addition, she will develop auxiliary programs to teach production weaving to local people, promote commission work, encourage interest in all fiber products through public relations activities, and insure ongoing quality in new and existing woven goods. The apprenticeship will enable the scope and demands of the job of the weaving designer head of weaving production to be widened and shared. The traditional products will be continued, but new designs and techniques can be developed by Nella and Frances working together and complementing each other's talents.

Arrowcraft will be represented at Convention with a shop full of beautiful weaving and crafts. For the first time, Arrowcraft will send employees to help the local committee. Veryl Monhollen, bookkeeper, will handle the receipts, and because of this, the shop will be able to offer credit card sales as well as the usual cash sales. Faye Cook, head of shipping, will handle all orders and work with the clubs/chapters which want to buy merchandise for their groups while at Convention, but be invoiced through the shop. Jan Skinner, Arrowcraft Coordinator, will be available to help and answer questions about local club/chapter sales.

Remember to "shop Arrowcraft" for gifts and personal needs all during the year. Support your local club and chapter sales, and invite your friends to attend with you. Your purchases of Arrowcraft products provide financial support to craftsmen and Arrowmont School and help promote the crafts movement throughout the United States.

SUMMER WORKSHOPS

June 6-August 19, 1983 Pi Phi's - Avail yourself to a week or two weeks of study at one of the most outstanding art and craft schools in the country. Founded in 1945 Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts has been a leader in the resurgence of the visual arts movement in this country. Why - because students of all ability levels, beginning to advanced and from all states in the United States take classes in a variety of media. Students attend for many reasons but the following are most often stated:

- to enroll in classes for UG or G credit transferable to their home institution,
- to perfect technical skills,
- to have an art experience not possible at their institution,
- to work with well-known faculty in developing individual ideas,
- to gain information directed toward a first career or a new career,
- to gain information to pursue an avocation,
- to "open their eyes" to the vitality of creative involvement,
- to be part of a "hands on" experience and to say with pride, "I made it".

The curriculum, special programs and the general environment of the school are designed to allow students at all levels the opportunity for personal and creative growth. Think of your own reason for attending Arrowmont and be among those Pi Phi's who have found the experience one never to be forgotten.

Politician Starts Early

Anna Harper, Arkansas Beta, has been involved in the politics of Arkansas during the past several years, especially at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. Anna founded the Young Republican chapter at U.A.L.R. two years ago after hearing Ronald Reagan speak in Texarkana in 1980.

"Ronald Reagan stands for just about everything I do. I support him to the utmost," says Anna.

Young Republicans have participated in various political activities such as providing escort services for Nancy Reagan when she visited locally, and participating in the various aspects of political campaigns.

After she graduates, Anna hopes to be involved in business, but her main objective in life is to be elected to the House of Representatives.

Pi Phi Sisters Are Suffold Sheep Queens

by SUZANNE MONTAGUE

When two girls meet and become friends, they develop a special relationship. This relationship becomes even more special when these girls become sisters. Such is the case for Illinois Zeta Holly Stine and her pledge daughter, Sue Benz. There is more. Holly reigned as Illinois Suffold Sheep Queen in 1981, and Sue became Suffold Sheep Queen for 1983.

Three years ago, while participating in a sheep product-related contest at the Illinois State Fair, Sue and Holly met. They both had raised sheep and have shown their flocks at different events throughout Illinois. This contest, for Ladies Lead Class, served to promote wool and other sheep products. Contestants were judged on the wool garments they were wearing, their poise, and the sheep they were showing. Holly won the contest and Sue placed second.

In December, 1980, Holly and Sue competed in the Illinois Suffold Sheep Queen Contest. This contest is held each year at the Suffold Breeders Association meeting in Springfield.

Because of previous experience with sheep, these girls qualified to enter the pageant.

During the contest, each girl must give a speech. The winner represents the industry as a public relations representative at shows, sales, and fairs. She must be willing to talk to people about the sheep industry while, at the same time, promote sheep products.

Holly won the contest in 1981. Then in November of 1982 in Louisville, Ky., she competed for the National Suffold Sheep Queen and won!! In December, Sue Benz became the new Illinois Suffold Sheep Queen. Carrying on the enthusiasm of her pledge mom, Sue will compete in Kentucky next November for National Suffold Sheep Queen.

The contacts and public experience that these girls have had are the best part of participating in the contests.

A Pi Beta Phi Heritage HOLT HOUSE

A musical treat awaits you when you visit Holt House and discover the antique music box on display in the parlour. This intriguing music box once belonged to Miss Amy B. Onken, our past Grand President. After her death, Miss Onken's brother gave the music box to Miss Mary Frost, Colorado Alpha. Miss Frost, of Denver, Colo., donated this treasured music box to Holt House along with a check to insure its proper repair. It is now in working order for all visitors to enjoy.

Miss Frost relates that Miss Onken admired and originally purchased this instrument from Charlie Joy's farm sale in Chapin, Ill. She recalls playing the tinkling German melodies frequently when she was a guest in Miss Onken's home. Her donation makes it possible for other Pi Phis to enjoy one of Miss Onken's prized possessions.

The Holt House Committee continues to make immediate as well as long range plans for the maintenance and restoration of Holt House. This preservation and redecoration project is dependent on your generous donations. A recent improvement was the laying of new cement front steps—assuring all a safe entrance to Holt House.

Last fall lovely full length lace curtains were hung in the Music Room. The curtains, donated by the Kansas City-Shawnee Mission Alumnae Club, give the room a bright, fresh look while still maintaining the decor of the period, 1840-1890. The Pennsylvania Beta chapter at Bucknell donated twelve sterling silver teaspoons and a flat server. Originally these were given to the chapter in memory of Laura Allen Konkle and Mary Konkle Koopman. They are now a part of the Pi Phi treasures on display at Holt House. Also, a portrait of Abraham Lincoln was presented to Holt House at the fall meeting by the retiring Chairman, Mary Lou Van Burg Gallagher.

A visit to Holt House will truly enrich your interest and respect in our Pi Phi heritage. Why not plan a trip to Holt House this year? Margaret Bowker Cooper, Illinois Alpha, is the hostess who will graciously open the door for your visit to Pi Phi's interesting past.

Tennis Coach Is Winner

It takes a special kind of person to be a high school coach, according to one sports writer. It must be someone who is willing to spend hours teaching youngsters the ins and outs of athletics and sportsmanship, play public relations, and deal with the press.

One of those special people is Carol Smith Peters, Ohio Epsilon, who is tennis coach at Trenton High School in Trenton, Mich., and who was chosen tennis Coach of the Year in the Detroit area.

Carol has earned a great deal of respect in her chosen field, as well as personally. She graduated from the University of Toledo in 1959. She began teaching in the Southgate school district and then retired to take care of two growing boys. Later she went back to school and earned her M.A. in guidance and counseling from the University of Michigan in 1970. In 1979 she began coaching Trenton High girls in the racquet sport, and she loves it.

"I love working with young people, and love to see kids learn something and improve. I enjoy their successes," says Carol.

Her first marriage ended in divorce, and a year and a half ago Carol remarried and added six more children to her former family.

"I'm presently a wife, mother, teacher, and coach," writes Carol. "It keeps me pretty busy."

In writing about Carol, sports columnist Henry Minckiewicz says, "Peters has found the key to being a successful coach while instilling in her team the meaning of sportsmanship, pride, and unity. The lessons learned by the Trenton tennis team will last long after their tennis skills have faded. . . ."

AAC Chairman Is Honored

Valerie Copeland, Tennessee Alpha, has been named Chattanooga's 1983 Outstanding Young Woman by the Chattanooga Jayettes and has also been elected Woman of the Year by the Eastern Horizon chapter of American Business Women's Association.

Valerie, chairman of the Tennessee Alpha Alumnae Advisory Committee, has given much time and service to her chapter as well as to her community. She received a B.S. degree in secondary education in 1974 from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, her master's degree in secondary education in 1979, and certification in administration and supervision of secondary education in 1981. She teaches Latin, English, drama, and speech at Ooltewah High School in Chattanooga.

Valerie keeps herself busy with community projects. She was recently elected to the Metro Charter Commission of Chattanooga and also serves with the James County Courthouse Committee, American Business Women's Association, Chattanooga Water Ski Club, Alpha Delta Kappa Teacher's Sorority, International Reading Association, HCEA, ETEA, TEA, and NEA (local, state, and national education associations).

With all of these activities, it is evident that Valerie never wastes a minute of her time. However, she keeps her priorities straight. She sketches a profile of herself when she is quoted as saying, "However, I'm a people person! I enjoy being with people who like to be active, like to be involved, and like to be productive."

It is easy to see that Valerie is a well deserved recipient of these awards. She has touched many lives in Chattanooga and especially in the Tennessee Alpha chapter.

Doing Unto Others . . .

Through Chapter Service Projects

For the past three semesters, NEW MEXICO ALPHA has been spreading Pi Phi cheer in the pediatrics wards of several Albuquerque hospitals in the form of holiday serenades. The girls dress to fit the theme of the holiday and travel from room to room passing out fruit, cookies, and smiles.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHAS are guilty of kidnapping! The Pi Phis held a fund raising event in October called Kidnap Special, with proceeds going to philanthropies. Presidents of sororities and fraternities on the U.S.C. campus were kidnapped and held for $25 ransom. Prizes were given to the groups with the most members showing up with the ransom money. Over $300 was raised.

TEXAS BETA pledges held a carnation sale on Valentine's Day, a "Men of the Southwest" calendar sale, and a "Pi Phi Adopt a Little Friend Day," where girls treated local orphans to lunch and a trip to the zoo. The entire chapter participated in the annual "A Night In Old Dallas" community gathering, with proceeds donated to Arrowmont, Arrow in the Arctic, and local charities.

CALIFORNIA GAMMA'S pledge class visited the California Pediatric Center and Children's Hospital and had a small party for the children visiting the clinic. Initially the children, most of whom were Hispanic, were timid and wary of the Pi Phis. But after some coaxing and convincing smiles, the small patients helped themselves to the goodies.

Another Kidnap Social was held by WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA, benefiting Arrowmont and Crohn's Disease. The latter was chosen this year because a member of the chapter has the disease. Area merchants donated prizes which were given away every half hour. This is the third year for this activity.

An all-Greek fashion show was presented at Memphis State with the earnings of over $1,400 going to Cerebral Palsy. TENNESSEE DELTA president Julie Thompson was one of the lovely models. During the show, a lighter form of fashion was presented. Each fraternity and sorority entered a "willing" member to model the favorite strange outfit, with the prize being a plaque called the "Geeky Greeky Award." Happily, Pi Phi didn't receive that award.

The FLORIDA EPSILON Scavenger Hunt team spent a wild-n-wooly 24 hours capturing first place in the third annual Lambda Chi Alpha Easter Seals Scavenger Hunt in February. Patty Kunze, Kim Roe, Kym Owen, Michele Plymale, Marni Berger, Karen Duley, Pam Deimund, Tracy Heath, Dawn Lipori, Melissa Haggard, and Mindy Center were the team members.

ILLINOIS ALPHA pledges have adopted eleven grandparents. A visit to Applegate Inn, a local nursing home, started out as a one time only event but turned into a weekly project. The pledges are enthusiastic about their "grandparents," and the visits brighten the days of the elderly residents.

Patients at the Latah Convalescent Center were visited by IDAHO ALPHAS in February. The chapter took cookies, serenaded, and just sat around and talked to those confined to the center.

LOUISIANA ALPHA held a Christmas party for under-

Dani Sexton, Oklahoma Alpha, was first runner-up as Miss Knock Out, during the Sigma Phi Epsilon annual boxing tournament at the University of Oklahoma. Dani, with the help of the chapter, raised $3,600, more money than the total amount raised in the last two years. Proceeds from the event went to Cerebral Palsy.

Arizona Betas has a special good time when they visited a local retirement home and performed one of their rush skits.

privileged children from the Desire Housing Project in New Orleans. Everyone had fun making Christmas cookies and playing games. Later the Pi Phis took the same children swimming in the university pool.

The Northwestern University Dance Marathon 1983 was ILLINOIS EPSILON'S main philanthropy project for the year. Proceeds went to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Special thanks goes to those Pi Phi angels who danced for the full thirty hours: Donna Tasch, Sandi Yu, Lynne Williams, and Katie Quattrocci.

Through various projects, ARKANSAS ALPHA is actively involved with local and national philanthropies. This year the chapter raised about $700 for Arrowmont through a spaghetti dinner. They also work on a continuing basis with a local children's home. Pi Phi was the only sorority represented at a local skate-a-thon held for Easter Seals. Arkansas Alphas are also involved with Special Olympics, Diabetes Association, and the Salvation Army, through volunteer work and donations.

INDIANA ETAS spent a Sunday afternoon visiting the elderly at the Riverview Care Center in Fort Wayne. The girls found that the elderly are very special people and the experience proved a rewarding one for the girls and fun for the residents.

In November, MASS ALPHA Pi Phis participated in a charity fund raiser for the Shriver Mental Health Center in Boston. All of the state's national and local fraternities and sororities were asked to participate. It was the first time Massachusetts Greeks had banded together for one event, and brought congratulations from President Reagan.

During the school year, INDIANA ZETA focused on the community surrounding Ball State. In December, Pi Phis rang bells for the Salvation Army. In January, they handled the entire phone service for 32 hours for the United Cerebral Palsy Telethon in Muncie. Also, the 1982 pledge class entertained residents of Westminster Village Retirement Community. A few special Pi Phi songs were included since a couple of the residents were alumnae. The Pi Phi Plunge in January raised $900 for the Student Foundation and Arrowmont.

As always, the winter Special Olympics was held at the University of Western Ontario. Five ONTARIO BETAS volunteered their services as chaperones for the 350 children who participated. Events included tobogganing, skating, cross-country skiing, and snowshoeing.

Roundup at the University of Texas is an exciting tradition, and this year's event was even more festive as U.T. celebrated its centennial. TEXAS ALPHA takes an active part in the happening every year, and all proceeds from the week of activities were donated to Muscular Dystrophy.

VERMONT BETA participated in a Saturday afternoon workday, during which time the sisters could be hired as baby-sitters, painters, wall-paperers, or any other type of work around the house. At the end of the day, they all gathered for a barbecue at the house to relax and rest.

NEW YORK GAMMA, under the organization of Patty Lawrence, helped with the community blood drive. Several sisters helped register, took blood, and served refreshments.

TEXAS DELTA actively participated in T.C.U.'s annual phonathon in February. The month long event had approximately thirty-five girls contribute their Wednesday nights to raise a grand total of $8,175 toward the cause. The chapter also visited Cooke's Childrens Hospital in Fort Worth on Valentine's Day. Homemade valentines and candy brought many smiles to the youngsters' faces.

FLORIDA BETA won the first place trophy in Florida State's Sigma Chi Derby Week, after placing in every event but two. Hospice was recipient of the money raised by the Sigma Chis.

OKLAHOMA ALPHA sponsored a "Make Believe Tea"—no muss, fuss, or bother, and no attendance required. Proceeds were used to support the asthma programs of the American Lung Association. The chapter also participated in World Hunger Awareness Week and raised $200.

KANSAS ALPHA'S first all-campus philanthropy was held in April as they joined Phi Psi in their national philanthropy, changing the name to the Pi Phi-Phi Psi 500. All proceeds from the event were given to the American Cancer Society.

Suzan Unrein and her assistants at the proclamation signing by Colorado's Gov. Lamm.

Governor Signs Proclamation

The 1983 Easter Seals Dance-a-thon at Colorado State saw a lot of the Colorado Gamma Pi Phis. Susan Unrein was chairman of the entire event, with Cindy Weber responsible for the programming, Molly Fangman in charge of publicity, and Janet Spivak assisting Molly. The dance-a-thon is an annual event at the university. This was the fifth year it had been held.

On February 4, Suzan and two of her assistants attended a special ceremony at the State Capitol when Gov. Richard Lamm signed a proclamation designating March 25 and 26 as "Dance a Little Magic into Someone's Life" days.

Twenty-one Colorado Gammas danced for Easter Seals. The rest of the chapter collected money to benefit the program.

Melissa Schloegel, Queen of Mardi Gras

Melissa Is Mardi Gras Queen

by PAM VERUCCHI

During 1983 Mardi Gras, the Mississippi Gulf Coast had feast and celebration as Melissa Schloegel, Mississippi Alpha, reigned as queen of the 57th annual celebration. Mardi Gras is a day of feasting before the 40 days of Lent begins, and it is referred to as "Fat Tuesday." The day is filled with parades in which the participants wear costumes and throw beads, candy, and trinkets to the crowd along the parade route.

Melissa enjoyed entertaining and being entertained by various V.I.P.s from the political and entertainment world. Melissa comes from a rather long line of Mardi Gras royalty, which includes her mother who reigned as queen in 1959. Melissa is the first daughter of a former Mardi Gras Queen to reign as queen herself.

The Pi Phis at Mississippi Alpha were not only with Melissa in heart but also in person, since all of the girls were invited to the Coronation Ball and the entire gala celebration. The chapter had a great time taking part in the festivities, and they were very proud that one of their very own Pi Phi sisters would represent such an honorable event.

Lucile Smith Begins Lengthy Pi Phi Chain

Lucile Smith Smith, Texas Beta 1918, feels that her family has set some sort of record, and rightly so. Eight members of her family are Pi Phis, with five initiated into one chapter and three into another.

Lucile started the Pi Phi line when she was initiated into Texas Beta. She held the offices of corresponding secretary, vice president, and president during her four years at Southern Methodist.

Each of her three daughters followed in her footsteps at S.M.U. Betty Smith Morgan was pledge trainer after her initiation in 1948. Suzanne Smith Tubb, initiated in 1951, was chapter president and the province nominee for the Amy B. Onken Award in 1954. Patricia Smith Beall was initiated in 1953 and was vice president of the chapter.

Four granddaughters continued the line. Sally Tubb was initiated into Texas Beta in 1978, and was chapter pledge trainer. Changing the mold slightly were the remaining three granddaughters. Patricia Morgan Nelson decided that the University of Texas was her choice of schools, and was initiated into Texas Alpha in 1978. Libby Beall, Texas Alpha, was initiated in 1980, and her younger sister, Carol, is the latest in the Pi Phi line, having been initiated in February, 1982.

Energy Savings Recognized

California Beta has been recognized by Pacific Gas and Electric for having the lowest per capita usage of energy among sorority houses at U.C./Davis. Pi Phis received recognition in the campus paper and may qualify for a monetary award if savings continue.

What's the secret to energy savings? Live-in sisters point out two reasons: extra blankets and a key lock case over the thermostat!

Kim Lowell, above, on her way to another award in the horse show circuit. Linda Jacobsen, left, has shown Morgan horses for six years. Both young women attend Arizona State.

Engineer Is Energetic

by LESLIE B. DAVIS

With most of the members of the Missouri Beta chapter enrolled in Arts and Science or Business, an engineer would probably stand out. Junior Marla Johns has the distinction of being the only engineer in the chapter, but that is not the only thing that makes her stand out.

Marla was selected in high school to be a Langsdorf Fellow at Washington University. As a Langsdorf Fellow, she received a four year, full tuition scholarship. There are only four of these scholarships awarded each year and the competition includes high school seniors all over the country.

At Washington U., Marla decided to major in engineering and public policy. She is also working on a certificate in energy engineering and policy. Besides her studies, Marla works with the Engineering School's admissions office giving tours and counseling students interested in the Engineering School.

Marla pledged Pi Phi the first semester of her freshman year. Since then she has been very involved in the chapter. Last year she was membership chairman, efficiency chairman, and philanthropy chairman. Presently, she is Vice President of Mental Development. With all her academic and outside activities, it is easy to see why Marla really stands out in Missouri Beta.

Three Are Winners On Horse Show Circuit

by CATHY SHOTTS

Arizona Beta Linda Jacobson, Palos Verdes Peninsula, Calif., has shown Morgan horses for the past six years. She has shown saddle seat, hunt seat, western seat, and stock seat and has won numerous awards in each. In 1981, she was the winner of the stock seat medal class at the World Grand National Morgan Horse Show in Oklahoma City. She also received two reserve championships and one top ten at this show. She was named Youth of the Year 1981 at the Regional Championship Morgan Horse Show in Santa Barbara, Calif. Along with showing her horses, she has held office as Region 7 (Calif., Ariz., Nev.) Youth Vice President for two years.

Kim Lowell, San Diego, Calif., has shown Morgan horses for five years and American Saddlebreds for three years. She has shown western seat, driving, and concentrated on Saddleseat. Although Kim won many blue ribbons showing Morgans, she excelled on the Saddlebred Show circuit, winning numerous championships and high point awards. The highlight of her career was placing in the top ten in the Saddleseat medal class at the California medal finals held at the Los Angeles Forum.

Along with the Arizona State Pi Phis who show horses, a new initiate has vaulted for seven years. Vaulting is a form of gymnastics on horseback, similar to trick riding in a circus or rodeo. Andrea Vollerson, Saratoga, Calif., was on the Sundance Vaulting team from Woodside, Calif. As a team member she won the 1980 National B team championship which qualified her team to go to Paris for the World Horse Fair, and international competition. There they were named overall A Division champions. Individually, Andrea won many competitions vaulting at the silver medalist level.

Since there wasn't an available picture of the Watson twins, just look twice at this picture of Texas Epsilon's Kathy, and the effect will be the same!

Twins' Ties Hold True

by BRENDA FOSTER

Everyone knows the typical image of twins—they dress alike, act alike, look alike—they even pledge the same sorority!

It seems when Kathy Watson and her twin sister, Kelly, separated before their sophomore year in college, they felt a strong need for a replacement sister. Kathy went to North Texas State University and Kelly went to the University of Colorado, and it was the first time in nineteen years they had been apart. It was a big adjustment. Kathy and Kelly decided rush was just the thing to fill the empty space. Neither one knew which sorority the other had pledged until Kathy called home to tell her mom the good news.

"I told my mom I pledged Pi Phi," said Kathy, "she said, 'Isn't that neat? Your sister pledged Pi Phi, too!'"

Both Kathy and Kelly are very active in their chapters. Kelly was Colorado Alpha's alumnae relations chairman and is the current house manager. In her extra activities, Kelly is a member of the marketing club and a member of the ice skating club.

Kathy is the current president of Texas Epsilon. She has served as assistant treasurer and treasurer. Her outside activities include being a Songleader for NTSU and a member of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity. Both Kelly and Kathy are Pi Angels.

What differences do these two have? Well, Kathy collects angels, and Kelly collects arrows. In the future, they both plan to marry, have children, and, of course, carry on the Pi Phi tradition in the family.

Twin Graduates Plan Professional Careers

Twins Ruth and Rena McGraw are not only twin sisters, but Pi Beta Phi sisters as well. Ruth, Alabama Beta, and Rena, Texas Gamma, were also presidents of their respective pledge classes.

Born in Alabama, they grew up in Texas and this twosome enjoyed many of the same activities. Both were cheerleaders throughout junior and senior high school and later worked as instructors for the National Cheerleader's Association. They were state ranked gymnasts and competed for the San Antonio Gymnastic School.

Rena, who attends Texas Tech, is a pre-med major who plans to attend medical school in the near future. Ruth, a University of Alabama coed, is a pre-law major and will attend law school in the coming year.

Summertime for the twins is usually spent teaching gymnastics at Camp Waldemar near their home in Keerville, Texas.

Ruth and Rena keep busy as they finish their senior year. Rena recently was inducted into ODK for her involvement in Texas Tech's Junior Council, Techsuns, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, and Pi Phi activities.

Ruth is also a member of several honoraries including Gamma Beta Phi, Phi Lambda, Mayor's Advisory Council, Triangle, Dean's List, and Pi Phi's Panhellenic delegate.

The Cal Delta Group and their husbands are, l-r, Charles and Mary Sue Church, Norman and Ann Jeter, Philip and Janet O'Neil, Ellis and Dolly Wilhoyt, and Samuel and Jane Hale.

Friendships Thrive Over Many Years

"College friendships continue forever!" At least that is what Janet Daggett O'Neil, California Delta, and a special group of Pi Phi friends really believe.

There are five California Deltas, living in various sections of the country, who often vacation together. The UCLA classes were 1938, '39, and '40.

"One of the nicest parts of our holidays is that our husbands have become good friends and enjoy each other's company," says Janet.

Last fall the group met first in Santa Fe, N.M., traveled together to Colorado Springs, and then to Hays, Kan., the home of Ann Horton Jeter and her husband, Norman. Previous vacations have been to the Garden of the Gods Club in Colorado Springs, to Washington, D.C. where they met and then traveled to the Homestead and Greenbriar Hotels, a tour of the wine country of northern California and a stay in the Heritage House in Mendocino County. Future plans include a trip to Hawaii and a cruise.

The group usually meets every two years, including the husbands. They were all married in 1939, 1940, and 1941, and they "are all married to the same husbands!" Between them they have twenty grandchildren.

General Ellis and Dolly Wilson Wilhoyt live in Washington, D.C., though they are currently in Saudi Arabia; Col. Samuel and Jane Bozong Hale make their home in Bethesda, Md.; Philip and Janet Daggett O'Neil live in Beverly Hills, Calif.; and Judge Charles and Mary Sue Howard Church live in Hollywood, Calif.

So, even though their homes are from coast to coast, the friendships of these women, begun in their Pi Phi chapter over 40 years ago, continues to thrive. Truly, "college friendships continue forever!"

Laura Hagedorn, Indiana Zeta, received the Outstanding Senior Award from the Ball State Panhellenic Council, based on personality, scholarship, and chapter service.

ON TAAP Is New Program

Two Pennsylvania Eta Pi Phis, Jill Sarafin and Cathy Fedako, saw a need for more awareness about alcohol on their Lafayette College campus, and took a step to help. They organized a small staff of interested fraternity and sorority members into a group called ON TAAP, Organization Towards Alcohol Awareness for People.

Dr. Donald Kirts, advisor of the group and director of the Lafayette Counseling Center, commented, "I'm excited about the idea. What has impressed me the most about the organization is that it is and has been student organized and student run. The people who are involved seem very serious. There is a strong lack of any bias for or against alcohol."

The group's first project is self education. Then, to kick off their campus activities, they have planned a week of lunch discussions, lectures, and speakers.

Duo Celebrates Kappa's Founding

by CINDY GALCHINSKY

It was mid-evening, mid-week, mid-October when the Pi Phi arrow linked with the Kappa key for a delicious dinner at Syracuse University. October 13th marks the celebration of Kappa Kappa Gamma's founders' day. Pi Beta Phi was asked to join Kappa in this celebration, as both houses are aware of their Monmouth College heritage.

The Kappas prepared a delicious chicken dinner, served buffet style. In exchange, the Pi Phis presented their Monmouth counterpart with a beautiful flower arrangement. After dinner, the sisters of Pi Phi were privileged to watch a traditional weekly awards ceremony given by the sisters of Kappa.

The evening ended, but the Pi Phis departed with new friends and a stronger understanding of the importance of the Monmouth Duo.

Cathy Neff Models In France

by SALLY MCLEOD

Cathy Neff, a senior at Florida State University and a member of Florida Beta, has spent the last six months modeling in Paris. While in Paris, Cathy did print modeling for catalogues along with runway shows for different designers. She modeled various baseball uniforms that the Frenchmen use for jogging suits. Along with these, Cathy did an editorial for the French magazine L'Officiel. This talented Pi Phi not only has a pretty face, her hands also hit the spotlights. Cathy has done hand modeling for French Vogue and Mitsubishi stereos. In between her busy modeling schedule, Cathy worked as a waitress in a pizza parlor.

Before Cathy went to Paris to model, she did some work in Tallahassee, Miami, and New York, where she had an offer to go to Germany with Ford Modeling Agency. Cathy has done two commercials also. One was for Bobby Bell Cheese of Greece, and one was for South America. Lastly, this non-ending talent of Cathy's made it possible for her to appear in the movie Mortelle Randonne in the background scenes. This movie starred the Academy Award winning actor and actress of France.

Three Intern

by DOROTHY STEELE

Maryland Beta had three sisters move into the working world this semester, by way of internships.

Gina Tesoriero, a senior government and politics major, worked for Senator Bill Bradley (Dem., N.J.). Gina wrote letters in response to constituent concerns.

Cindy Roberts, a junior business major, interned in the U.S. Office of Personnel Management in the training office. Her job involved research and development of a reference file for all of the government agencies to use if they have questions concerning training evaluations. Cindy would like to be a personnel manager or consultant one day.

Kristen Ostrum, a junior special education major, was a student teacher at a local elementary school, working with emotionally disturbed children.

On the University of Maryland campus, new initiate Carrie is a resident assistant, in charge of 60 girls during the course of the year. She is responsible for programming, security, counseling, advising, and opening and closing the dorms during breaks. Carrie is the only freshman at Maryland to hold this position. She is an elementary education and family counseling major, and the position gives her practice in all of these skills.

Sylvia Brodie, Georgia Alpha, is the new "Miss UGA Sweetheart." She won a Valentine's Day contest at the University of Georgia, sponsored by the Arnold Air Society. The contest lasted two days and Sylvia received flowers and a plaque as winner.

Director Receives Johnston Award

Elaine Moe, Arizona Alpha, artistic director and co-founder of the Megaw Theatre in Los Angeles, is the first recipient of the Johnston Tops Award, theatre division, to be awarded annually to outstanding women in various fields of endeavor by Conky Johnston, president of the Johnston Yogurt Company. Elaine was among thirteen nominees for the honor.

A prominent member of the Los Angeles theatre scene for many years, Elaine is an award winning actress, director and theatre manager, and recipient of many L.A. Drama Critics Circle and Drama-Logue awards in various fields. She is a graduate of the University of Arizona Department of Drama, B.F.A. and M.F.A. with distinction, and served as Assistant to the Dean of Fine Arts for two years in Arts Management. She began her professional directing and acting careers at the University of Arizona and Tucson's ATC.

The Johnston Tops Award came at the outset of the Megaw's 10th anniversary. The theatre is a non-profit organization and has completed the first year of its association with the New Prescott Center for the Performing Arts, a professional summer repertory theatre in Prescott, Arizona.

Elaine has received awards for Distinguished Achievement in Direction for "Another Part of the Forest" and Distinguished Achievement in Performance for her role of Miss Moffat in "The Corn is Green." She received an award for her portrayal of Elizabeth Browning in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" last season. In addition to her many other activities at Megaw, she has directed four major world premieres and three Los Angeles premieres for the Writers' Wing of the Megaw, as well as "Twelfth Night" for the L.A. Free Shakespeare Festival, and Bob Denver in "The Star-Spangled Girl."

Elaine is the daughter of Jacquelyn Miesse Moe, Arizona Alpha, a long-time member of the Santa Monica Westside Alumnae Club.

Slack Week Is Canadian Fun

by TINA LANGLOUS

As spring break (or as students at the University of Western Ontario like to call it—Slack Week) descended on southern resorts, so did thousands of college and university students. Several Ontario Betas, on the sunny strip in Ft. Lauderdale, soon found they were not the only Pi Phis there. They had the pleasure of running into some of their American sisters, predominantly from the University of Michigan. It was great to have something in common with someone you've never met before when you are 1,500 miles away from home. Since it was vacation time for all, there was the added advantage of meeting these girls on a relaxed, informal basis.

It was also fun to get together with all the Florida-bound sisters on the Wednesday evening of Slack Week, when a Western reunion was held on the beach. This occasion allowed each to become even closer to girls from Ontario Beta while in the holiday spirit.

Those who were fortunate to be in the Caribbean at that time had the same experiences. Some Ontario Betas shared the company of their American sisters while in Freeport, Bahamas.

All in all, it was a Slack Week not soon to be forgotten.

IFSC Is Active

Boston University is without a Panhellenic Council, but it does not lack a unifying Greek council.

Pi Phi is the only NPC sorority on campus, but is one of ten Greek groups. The other groups range from NPHC to IFC and to local organizations. Together these ten groups form the Inter-Fraternity Sorority Council which works for participation in all IFSC activities, to obtain Greek housing, and to attract other fraternal groups to Boston University.

Massachusetts Alpha's contributions to the council are invaluable. It is the only group to hold more than one office, and, through the delegate and alternate, are responsible for both the secretarial duties and the creation of a campus-wide rush program.

Double trouble hit Vanderbilt during spring rush when Tennessee Beta pledged two sets of twins. From left: Missy and Mindy Young, from Columbus, Ohio; Frances and Stephanie Currey, from Nashville. All four are interested in sports.

There'll Always Be A Pi Phi—Somewhere

by SUSAN M. STOVER, Duke University

I boarded the plane to Europe with sweaty palms and a tear-stained face feeling as if I might never see anyone I knew ever again (except my best friend who was thinking the same thing right next to me!) On the flight over I thought a lot about what other people who had been abroad had told me to keep me from being nervous. They had often reassured me that I would run into people I knew or that I would meet people with whom I had something in common, just when I least expected it. The thought was somewhat reassuring and came to be a joke between my friend and me. I had brought over several articles of Pi Phi sportswear and I would often jokingly remark when I wore it: "Well, this is the day that I'll run into some darling Pi Phi!"

For fourteen days through mountains of Switzerland, the scary train ride into Italy, fast-paced Florentine markets, lazy nights spent milling around the Roman piazzas, and the beaches of the French Riviera, I could not "run into" anyone for the life of me—where were all the people who were supposed to recognize the three Greek letters on my shirts?

After three weeks of travel on the continent—two with my friend and the last one alone—I was worn out, a touch lonely, and ready to settle into school in London. The day I was to travel to London was a hectic one with several train and boat connections to make. When I arrived at the boat to cross the English Channel, I didn't have the proper currency to pay for the ticket. I was crushed. I wanted so badly to get to my own room. After taking a late boat that night, I finally arrived in London and settled down in my room, still tired, still lonely, but relieved. As I was walking down the hall, a girl called me into her room and introduced herself as Mary-Ann Metrick from Toronto, Canada. We chatted for a while and found out that we were in similar situations and that we were both glad to have found each other.

As I was walking out the door she mentioned something about her sorority in Canada and I asked which one it was. . . . Need I say more? I had found her! We slipped each other the grip, both grinning from ear to ear. A few days later we moved into a double room together in which we lived for the remaining three months. I still chuckle over the coincidence today.

There is a moral to this anecdote which we all have heard before, but it must be said over and over to make it clear: There is a Pi Phi wherever you go; it doesn't matter whether you are brimming with joy or weary from disappointment, she is your sister and she will always be there to share those experiences (both good and bad) with you.

Illinois Etas Jennifer Johnson, Kelly Funk, Sherri Call, and Melissa Kirkland spent their winter term studying "The Multicultural Aspects of Health Care in Hawaii." They not only brought back interesting stories but the best tans on the Millikin campus.

Shawna Spradling, Oklahoma State

Shawna Is Champ

Shawna Spradling, is an outstanding Oklahoma Beta Pi Phi.

In 1982, she was chosen in the top ten National Show Twirlers, an award presented to her at Notre Dame. She also won Miss Oklahoma City State Fair College Majorette, Miss Corral of Champions, and Miss Sooner State College Majorette.

Shawna has won over 200 trophies during her four years at Oklahoma State, and has been O.S.U.'s feature twirler for three years. She is also very talented in music. In 1982, she was the outstanding music student at O.S.U. and she was chosen in the top ten vocal talents at the university.

The Cracrafts, Michigan Delta favorites.

AAC Couple Adds Joy

by MARCIA LEDFORD

Michigan Delta Pi Phis of Albion College have a part of Ole Miss on campus in the form of Scotty and Elaine Comfort Cracraft. Mr. Cracraft is an associate professor of economics, and Mrs. Cracraft is Michigan Delta's AAC chairman and Pi Phi extraordinaire.

Mr. Cracraft comes from a long line of Pi Phi aunts—sort of a legacy, you might say! In the true silver blue tradition, he helps the Pi Phis whenever he can, especially during rush when he gets all spiffed up and escorts the rushees into the lodge for formal dessert.

Mrs. Cracraft is the best AAC chairman a chapter could ask for as she's always willing to lend a hand. She contributes in big and small ways—be it donating arrow cookie cutters, making an Annie costume for a rush party, or giving the lodge a greatly needed spring cleaning during the summer.

Mrs. Cracraft accompanied delegate Barb Cook and alternate Marcia Ledford to the Convention in Dallas, and she was an inspiration to Eta Province. She put in 32-hour days like a real trooper and brought back a treasure-trove of information for the chapter. To thank her, Michigan Delta gave a guard and crest for her pin.

How did Michigan Delta get so lucky? Who knows? But one thing is sure, they are keeping the Cracrafts, because nobody does it "beta" than they do!

Lambda Chi Is Sweetheart

Every year the Florida Beta chapter at Florida State holds their annual Sweetheart Banquet. This special occasion is held to recognize the one man the chapter chooses as their "Sweetheart." This year's Sweetheart is Bob Grazeil of Orlando, a senior at Florida State and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

During the dance, the Pi Phis and their dates formed a circle to the singing of the sweetheart song. Along with this, a candle was passed until Bob's date blew it out, signifying him as our sweetheart. This event is anticipated every year.

Prexy Loves Hard Work

by MARI HOWARD

Suzanne Stalick, Oregon Alpha at the University of Oregon, never realized how close "love" and "hard work" ran together . . . until she became Panhellenic president. Suzanne has always been a fairly active Pi Phi, but her jobs never entailed as much time and effort as her current Panhellenic position.

She chose to run for the position after deciding she would like to try for a demanding office outside the house, yet within the Greek system. Her wish came true earlier this year when she applied for, was interviewed, and then chosen as Panhellenic president.

Suzanne often feels that the responsibilities of both school and Panhellenic are overwhelming, but explains with a smile, "I LOVE IT!!"

Suzanne went into the office with relatively little knowledge of what her specific duties entailed, but so far that hasn't stopped her from going full force with her job. Already she has been able to raise the Panhellenic budget 3 percent over last year's budget, and has started many other programs. Included are a NEWSGREEK newspaper and a dinner for the faculty, where different professors eat dinner at different houses.

Suzanne says that when she "thinks Panhellenic," she has to think of all the houses, including Pi Phi, and the welfare of 900 girls.

Suzanne is very professional in work, but enjoys it very much. She declares, "There are times it's great, and times it's bad, but things always work out. I love it!!"

Sherry Wilson, Oklahoma Beta, is the 1983-84 Home Ec Queen for Oklahoma State. As queen, Sherry will represent the Home Economics College at high schools, community clubs, and during O.S.U. High School Day.

Athletic Angels

Florida Alphas and their coaches take a break on the softball diamond after an exciting game at Stetson.

Intramurals

Monmouth Duo joined forces at the University of Connecticut where Connecticut Alpha and Kappa have organized a Monmouth Duo basketball team.

Georgia Alphas are flying high after winning the bowling competition and making it to the playoffs in basketball, at the University of Georgia.

Hard practices and team spirit really paid off for Indiana Beta as they won the all-sorority basketball tournament at Indiana University. The team included Kristi Corts, Kathy Showalter, Julie Campbell, Kathy Kerezman, Angela Rector, Karen Uihlein, and Shelia Hughes. Getting the whole house involved, the team was coached by two Pi Phi waiters!

Colorado Gamma's basketball team finished the season with an excellent record of 8-2. Players were Carol Kuosman, Mary LaMoy, Amy Nash, Sue Lisco, Traci Nielson, Heidi Groesser, Anne Hart, and Susie Hutchison. Laurie Godshall was team manager and coach.

Ohio Zetas were undefeated in regular season play on the basketball court at Miami U. Alita Mercer is sports chairman, and players are Jean Wine, Amy Vandenboom, Linda Tompkins, Deanna Turner, Anne Broccoli, Debbie Dean, Patty O'Reilly, and Gina Broccoli.

The New Mexico Alpha soccer team captured the women's championship this year at UNM. This was a big boost to the chapter's intramurals spirit, as earlier in the year they finished in an undisputed last place in flag football!

Tennessee Gamma was fourth overall and second in all-sorority standing for fall quarter. Nine Pi Phis were named on the football all-stars, more than any other one team.

Oklahoma Betas really know their plays. For the second consecutive year, Pi Phi captured the Oklahoma State All-University women's football championship.

Once again Arizona Beta Pi Phis are actively involved in intramurals at ASU. Alison Dickerson and Kim Lowell chalked up their cues and won the pool championship. Roseanne Kelton won second place in the singles tennis tournament.

Mississippi Alpha is very involved in all sports at Southern Mississippi and has racked up second places in bowling and Volleyball, anyone? Mississippi Alpha is currently in second place overall in intramurals at the University of Southern Mississippi. This co-rec volleyball team has a third place standing.

flag football (team of the month in football), and first places in floor hockey, soccer, and ultimate frisbee. (Ed. note: Surely everyone knows what "ultimate frisbee" is!)

At the end of first semester at Butler, Indiana Gamma has won bowling and was the only Greek unit left in the final four in volleyball. Kathy Wohlfeld led the bowling team by rolling the high series for all Butler women.

Missouri Gamma Pi Phis won first in volleyball competition at Drury College, placed second during basketball season, and third in baseball competition.

Marathon

Margaret Winston, Louisiana Alpha, is training for her second run in the Boston Marathon. In her four years of serious running, she has participated in five marathons and many races, in which she often places first in her age division. An average training day consists of a 10 mile run, a 5 to 10 mile bicycle ride, and an hour of swimming.

Two Oregon Alphas are in training for marathons. Sue Muck will run in the Seattle marathon and Angela Eldon will conquer the hills in the grueling San Francisco marathon.

Varsity

New Mexico Alpha Trish Shoemaker is a member of the UNM women's varsity basketball team. Since she just finished her freshman year, Trish has plenty of time to rack up points for the UNM Lobos.

St. Lawrence University's women's basketball team ended the season with an 18-5 record and made its first appearance ever in the NCAA Division III Regionals. New York Gammias on the team include Leela George, Sarah Burdsall, Kathy Speno, Noel Grandrath, Jocelyn Furnia and Cathy Cullen. Jocelyn was selected for the all-tournament team.

A number of California Alphas are playing on Stanford varsity teams. Meg Metzger is starting center on the basketball team; Julie Baker finished her third season with the volleyball team; Jean Meyer is a diver and Lisa Buese is a competitive swimmer. Michelle Von Tschnar rises every morning at 5:00 a.m. to participate on the crew team, and Susie Barbe represents the chapter on tennis courts throughout the state.

Carol Suttman, Kentucky Beta, is a member of the University of Kentucky's soccer team. Carol has been playing soccer for many years and looks forward to traveling with the team.

Kate Simms, North Carolina Alpha, founded the UNC

Jennifer King, Ohio Zeta, a member of the Miami University Women's Swim Team, is Mid-American Conference champ in 500 and 1650 freestyle. She also holds the university record for the 500 free, and is the Most Versatile Miami swimmer for the 1000 free.

Women's lacrosse team three years ago—one of four teams in North Carolina. The team now has 45 members and this year played teams in Virginia, the Washington area, and within the state.

Ellen Miller, New Mexico Alpha, has completed her career on the UNM Women's cross country ski team. Though her days of collegiate competition are over, Ellen will continue to compete in all forms of athletics. In the fall, Ellen competed in The Century, a 100-mile bike race through the mountains of northern New Mexico. Though she didn't place in the event, she did complete the gruelling course, an accomplishment in itself.

Another North Carolina Alpha is an athletic angel. Amy Pless is on a swim scholarship at UNC and has received many awards during her university career. She placed third in the NACC, was winner of the American Record Relay, and winner of two ACC championship events. She holds a title of All American Swimmer.

Denise Stuntzner, Michigan Beta, is captain of the women's swim team at the University of Michigan. One of her close friends swims at California/Berkeley and last year at AIAW Nationals they saw each other for the first time in seven months. Sharing news of sorority life, Denise found out that her friend had also joined a sorority—Pi Beta Phi!

Indiana Beta Lynn DeNinno is an angel on the run. She has completed her third year on the Indiana University track team. She ran in the Big Ten championship in Madison, Wis., and competed in the one-mile race, finishing in 4 min. 55 sec.

Stacy Campbell, Oklahoma Beta, is a member of the Oklahoma State golf team. Stacy just completed her freshman year at OSU.

Lafayette Team Sets Records

In February, the Lafayette women's swim team participated in the first East Coast Conference women's swimming and diving championships, held at Drexel University. After the three day meet, Coach Lawson returned to Easton with a radiant smile, an ECC champion, and the task of rewriting the record board.

Senior Diane Goldsmith dove exceptionally well on both the 1 and 3 meter boards. Diane was nearly flawless on the low board as she captured the gold medal. Her motto of "consistency and concentration" helped her defeat the field of fifteen divers who were hot on her heels. She had an excellent day on the 3 meter board as well. Unfortunately, two of the Drexel divers scored slightly higher than Diane, placing her in third place.

Sophomore Marianne Cargill once again altered the record books with her outstanding swims. She not only set Lafayette records in the 100 yard butterfly and 400 IM, but teamed with Diane and two others to set a new record in the 200 and 400 yard freestyle relays.

Marianne's 400 IM swim earned her 11th place, while teammate Jane Holman qualified as alternate in the grueling event.

Also competing was sophomore Jeanne Walsh, who left her bed in the infirmary in order to swim.

All in all, the Pennsylvania Etas turned in a fine performance.

Pi Phi Did It

Angelic Songsters

The Tennessee Alphas have been busy singing like angels this year, and February 26 was Pi Phi victory evening. In the U.T./Chattanooga's annual All-Sing, a competition involving Greek fraternities and sororities, Pi Phis won the spirit award and first place in the sorority division.

This is the first time ever that Tennessee Alpha has won, breaking the Chi Omega's thirteen year winning streak. Pi Phis did a medley of Barry Manilow songs, with the girls dressed in wine satin riding jackets, white satin shorts, white bow ties and gloves, and black pumps. Precisely performed choreography accented their three part harmony.

This well deserved victory has left the UTC campus talking about the Pi Phis—a lot!

Tammy Brown

Sigma Nu Relays

Arizona Beta Pi Phis participated this year in the annual Sigma Nu Relays, a culmination of a week of activities with the thirteen Arizona State sororities and Sigma Nu fraternity.

The relays consist of various events including a boat race, a clothes relay, bathing suit competition, and a spirit contest. Pi Phis showed their spirit originality by arriving at the Sigma Nu house dressed in old-fashioned bathing suits, placing third overall.

The award was secondary, however, when compared to the fun everyone had.

Anne Fournier

Tuck-In A Success

The South Carolina Betas of Clemson University organized a different kind of fund raising project for the 1982-83 academic year. In the fall semester the Pi Phis developed a "Tuck-In" service to raise money to help send sister Beth Mayfield to the Miss Georgia Pageant.

The "Tuck-In" is a campus project in which two Pi Phis and a volunteer male tuck in a student (upon request), read him or her a bedtime story, and give the student a cookie as a bedtime snack. The one requesting the tuck-in pays the small fee of $1.00 and picks the night and time of the "Tuck-In." Four nights are designated for this service, from 9:00 until 11:30.

Because of its success, the "Tuck-In" was repeated in the spring to raise funds for the sorority's philanthropies. The increased publicity and revenue from the second "Tuck-In" has encouraged the chapter to make this an annual event!

Susan E. Hayes

Tops Greek Week

Once a year at the University of Southern California, fraternities and sororities come together to sponsor Greek Week, a week-long competition between designated teams to promote the fun and exciting Greek life found on college campuses. The teams are drawn out of a hat to group two fraternities and one sorority together.

On Monday, March 14, the thirteen teams were ready and eager to begin. During the week the events included a pie eating contest, a hairy legs contest, tug-of-war, volleyball tournament, dance marathon for twelve hours, and a tricycle race through thick mud.

At the end of the week, points were tallied and the Pi Phis and their team, Lambda Chi and Sigma Alpha Mu, took first place. It was an exciting time for California Gamma!

Carol Camphouse

First To Be Named

After only one year at Virginia Tech, Virginia Zetas are going strong. Last quarter they were chosen by Panhellenic Council as the first recipients of "Sorority of the Quarter" award. This honor, based on attendance by chapter members at weekly meetings, included a trophy for the chapter to keep and a plaque with Pi Phi's name engraved on it which hangs in the Greek Affairs office.

Elections for the Virginia Tech Panhellenic Executive Council also proved to be a victory for Pi Phi. Virginia Zeta is very proud to have Karen Studebaker representing them as next year's treasurer. This victory is even sweeter because she is the first Pi Phi to serve on the council.

Karen, an accounting major, was Virginia Zeta's assistant treasurer this past year, so her experience will be a definite advantage.

Barbara Skaar

Sing For Second

Hard practice and long hours paid off this year when the Indiana Beta Pi Phis won second place in the 54th annual I.U. Sing competition. The Indiana University Pi Phis paired with Chi Phi fraternity and produced the trophy-winning number "No Bad News."

The act was based on the money situation in the 20's and featured songs like "Money Makes the World Go Round" and "Wall Street." I.U. Sing is a two-night show where teams of fraternities and sororities or dorm floors perform seven-minute acts of singing and dancing to a theme.

Wendy Chiogioji

The winning production in Varsity Revue at Oklahoma State was presented by Pi Phi and Beta Theta Pi.

Wins Bring Smiles

Florida Epsilon Pi Phis were all smiles last February 5, as that was the night of the annual Panhellenic Awards Ball at the University of Central Florida.

The chapter's athletic ability shone and Tracy Heath, intramurals chairman, was kept busy accepting sports awards. The chapter received three first place awards: volleyball, soccer, and basketball.

Two of the sisters, Heidi Schick and Heidi Lancaster, were tapped into Rho Lambda, the Panhellenic Honor/Service society.

Culmination of the evening came when the group was presented with the Spirit Award. This award is a great honor due to the fact that the other five sororities vote on the recipient.

All of the sisters celebrated together after the awards with dancing and smiles!

Varsity Review Success

Oklahoma Betas at Oklahoma State participated in Varsity Review with Beta Theta Pi and took first place in the event for the second consecutive year.

Varsity Revue is a song and dance production which includes five large group acts and four small group acts, chosen through tryouts. Overall theme of the review was "Take Me Away," and the Pi Phi-Beta theme was "Take Me Away to a 'Plane' Everyday Experience." With the stage backdrop of a plane preparing to take off, fourteen couples danced and sang songs relating to the theme.

Suzanne Labelle was director of the group. Choreographers were Julie McClendon and Cindy MacElmurry, and Kim Hausner created the music.

The long hard practices proved to be worthwhile after the three night production produced the winner.

Six Work In TV Movie

by ANN LOWRY

Six Kansas Alphas had a unique opportunity this year to learn a bit about moviemaking and also about society when they participated in the filming of an ABC movie.

Dana Janes, Lisa Michaels and Lissa Whitacre, seniors, and Suzy Stevenson and Ann Lowry, juniors, spent twelve hours on a set for the movie, "No Silence in Heaven," which portrayed the town of Lawrence, Kan., home of the University of Kansas, immediately after a nuclear bombing.

These five girls, bedaubed with mud and clothed in rags, took the parts of nuclear refugees eking out an existence on the banks of the Kaw River in a tent city.

During that time, surrounded by realistic ruins and "injured" co-actors, sweltering in the sun, the girls got a taste of how it would feel to have lost family and friends in a single flash. Incredulously, they found themselves guarding their "home," a lopsided table and a wool blanket, with jealous fervor.

One light moment during the day of soul searching occurred when the five ran into an SAE beau of another Pi Phi, and the group pondered reorganizing the Greek system.

Marci King, sophomore, also participated in the movie as one of hundreds of refugees fleeing the city on the highway, packed bumper to bumper with other "extras."

As the sun set on the improvised city and campfires were lit, the girls realized that what they had expected to be just a care-free, silly adventure had kindled something special among them.

N.C. Beta Celebrates 50th Birthday

by SUSAN M. STOVER

Grand President Jean Wirths Scott wrote a note this spring to the North Carolina Beta chapter at Duke University stating the following: "Your 50th Anniversary will always be a special memory for me. It was a beautiful weekend filled with warm hospitality. From escorts to accommodations, to campus tour, to meals, to reception, to banquet, to flowers, to friendly conversation—everything was perfect!"

North Carolina Beta celebrated its 50th Anniversary last February. Not only were Golden Arrow carnation pins awarded to three founders of the chapter, but none other than Grand President Scott pinned them on the recipients, while Grand President Emeritus Marianne Reid Wild presented the Founders Candlelight Ceremony.

One Golden Arrow, Helen Card Upchurch, wrote to North Carolina Beta afterwards, "I shall always treasure my precious little gold carnation pin. Just think how honored we three are—my arrow was pinned on me by Miss Amy Burnham Onken and my carnation by Mrs. Scott fifty years later almost to the day (Feb. 17, 1933). Two Grand Presidents! My seat on Cloud Nine is firmly entrenched!" The event was truly exciting for everyone involved and the idea that Pi Beta Phi is a lifetime commitment became a reality to all.

North Carolina Beta was founded as a local sorority at Duke in 1929. As an extremely strong local group, the Mu Lambda girls had set their minds on being a chapter of Pi Beta Phi. Their petition was accepted and on February 17, 1933, the girls were initiated and installed by Grand President Amy Burnham Onken in a glorious and memorable ceremony.

Founder Sylvia Hunsicker Kleinhans recalls in a recent letter to the chapter, "Our first full year as N.C. Beta started out on a rather chaotic note. We were flooded with Pi Phi transfers from other colleges. They gave us old members rather more advice than we really cared to hear on how things had been done at their chapters. But soon all was harmony again and we appreciated the strength they gave our chapter. . . ."

Other founders, unable to attend the festivities, wrote letters of regret, expressing disbelief that it had already been fifty years since that original installation banquet—little did they know at the time that they would some day be invited to celebrate this landmark event.

Most of the work on the anniversary weekend was done by two 1983 graduates of N.C. Beta, Kristi Heffernan and Tracy Shaver. Alumnae Advisory Council Chairman Sharon Rather remembers that the celebration had been talked about even before she pledged.

"The AAC helped with the banquet program and with some of the out-of-town guests, but Kristi and Tracy did most of the rest of the work," Sharon remarked. A date was set a year in advance and then much of the preparation was done during the summer.

Distinguished guests at the festivities included Jean Scott; Marianne Wild; Epsilon Province President Sarah Mullis; three chapter founders and Golden Arrow recipients Myrtice Ward Matthews, Helen Card Upchurch, and Trurlu Strickland; AAC members Sharon Rather, Beth Moody, and Ruth Kilham; Karen Schwaab, Resident Graduate Counselor at the University of California, Davis; and local alumnae.

The anniversary weekend was a busy one at Duke University. Out-of-town guests arrived Friday night and were taken on a tour of the campus the next morning. After lunch, a reception was held at Duke University President Sanford's house to introduce national officers and other alumnae to various university administrators and to leaders of sorority and fraternity groups on campus.

Saturday night was the climax of the weekend—the Golden Arrow Banquet. After a delicious catered meal, a welcome was given by former Chapter President Susan Stowell, followed by an address by Mrs. Scott. At the end of her address, the Grand President was given a Duke coffee mug to add to her collection. Next was the presentation of Golden Arrows. To end the banquet, a loving cup was passed, new pledges sang a song they prepared for the occasion, and a benediction was given.

Mrs. Scott stated an important message in her address: "Pi Phi is a life time commitment . . . and like the gold of your arrow, your contributions will become more valuable with age."

The gathering together of pledges, actives, and alumnae at N.C. Beta's 50th Anniversary celebration was proof in itself of this fact. The banquet was not only a great deal of fun, but it was also a solemn occasion that was inspirational to all present. It heightened everyone's awareness of just how far wine and blue bonds extend—everywhere and always.

Spirit and hard work certainly paid off for Illinois Theta. The girls took first place in four of Bradley's Greek Week main events and became 1982 Greek Week champions.

Barri Lynn Eubanks, Texas Epsilon, will appear in the Miss Texas Pageant representing Highland Park. The pageant, held in August in San Antonio, is a first for Barri Lynn, a freshman at North Texas State.

Kristie Recovers

In 1981, Kristie Raines pledged Pi Phi at the University of Wyoming. Unfortunately, a tragic accident prevented Kristie from being initiated. During spring break, she was jumping on a trampoline and, while doing a back flip, landed on her head. Kristie sustained numerous injuries, including two crushed discs, two vertebrae popped out of place, every muscle and ligament around her neck ripped, her spinal cord pinched within 1 mm of snapping, and extensive nerve damage.

Kristie spent four months flat on her back recovering. But all this did not stop her from becoming an active member of Wyoming Alpha. Pi Phis helped keep her spirits up by including her in all their functions. All this helped make it easier for Kristie to return to the Pi Phis. She was still a part of the house.

Recruiter Awarded

Paula Holland Grieves, New Mexico Alpha, was given the University of New Mexico's Ann Jourdan Award last October. The award is presented annually to the New Mexico citizen who has done the most to help the university in recruiting students. She has just concluded a term on the Alumni Board.

Paula is current president of the Roswell, N.M. Board of Realtors. She has been top Real Estate Person of the Year in Roswell.

Therapist Works With SEARCH

"I strive to do the tasks that I'm committed to as well as possible."

Those are the words of Carolyn Roberts Abbott, Nebraska Beta, who is a speech and language therapist in Sanford, N.C. Carolyn is involved with a program entitled Solutions in Early Childhood (SEARCH). It is a home based program of early intervention for high risk infants, developmentally delayed children, and their families. The children, aged birth through five years, are referred by parents, physicians, local hospitals, medical centers, health departments, and Social Services.

"High risk" infants are those experiencing problems as a result of premature birth, birth trauma, failure to thrive, illness, or complications during pregnancy.

Carolyn and other members of her department work with parents to plan individualized programs to meet the needs of each child. The programs may include physical therapy, language stimulation, and planning in motor, cognitive, self-help, and behavior management skills. She trains the parent to teach the skills to her child, and she assesses the child's progress. If need is indicated, Carolyn refers the child to another agency for evaluation or treatment.

Carolyn is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. She has done graduate studies in Deaf Education at the University of Pittsburg. She is also a Pi Phi legacy. Her mother, Florence Wilcox Roberts, lives in Lincoln and served on the Nebraska Beta Alumnae Advisory Committee in the 1940s.

Carolyn and her family moved to Sanford ten years ago from Pittsburg, Pa. That family is a large one. She and husband Bud have four sons and three daughters, all of whom are grown. She is a golfer who doesn't get to play as often as she likes, but says she's not too bad. They also have a place at the beach that provides an occasional escape.

"Between my job, which I really enjoy, and my family, I have the best of two worlds," noted Carolyn.

Iowan Volunteers Time As Canadian Librarian

by MALINDA SPATZ

At the anniversary of my departure for Canada to visit Arrow In The Arctic, I decided it was about time I told other Pi Phis about it.

I had the opportunity to work for five weeks in the public library in Yellowknife, Northwest Territories, Canada, from December 30, 1981 until February 3, 1982, during my college's interim period. Since then I have completed my three year course of study at Iowa Wesleyan College and have transferred to Iowa State University on a cooperative program in forestry.

Iowa Wesleyan has a unique requirement for graduation—a 200-hour volunteer project called Responsible Social Involvement. RSI projects involve obtaining approval from the RSI department of the college, completion of 200 hours of work at the project site, a final documentation paper in which the student evaluates the project, and a presentation to a faculty committee in which student and project are evaluated. When the project is completed, the student receives six semester credit hours, and a great feeling of accomplishment! The theory behind the RSI program is that a great part of an education can be found outside the classroom in situations where students serve and work with other people.

Students are given the opportunity to "design" their own RSI projects, so I focused my attention on Arrow In The Arctic. The alumnae club in Mt. Pleasant had shown a slide program about Arrow In The Arctic to my chapter in the fall of my sophomore year, and it was then that the "frozen north" first appealed to my sense of adventure. While working in a public library doesn't sound extraordinary or revolutionary, going to another country with a harsh new environment (in the dead of winter), and living and working with a variety of new people met my criteria for a challenging RSI project.

Pi Phis participate in the Arrow In The Arctic program by financial support, in cooperation with the Canadian government, of public libraries in the Yukon and the Northwest Territories. Audio-visual equipment and other support materials in both library systems have been provided by Pi Phi contributions.

In the fall of 1981 I began writing letters. I wrote to Jane Tuten, Grand Vice President of Philanthropies, and to Lois Laycraft, Canadian Philanthropies Committee Chair, and both replied with enthusiasm for the project. They gave me the addresses of the chief librarians in both the Yukon and Northwest Territories and I wrote to both of them, asking if it would be possible for me to do my RSI project and suggesting the possibility of doing some children's programming in the library. Since I knew my travel expenses would be great, I also asked about lodging arrangements.

Plans Are Made

I had no idea when I wrote these letters that it was taking them two weeks or more to reach their destinations in Canada, and the same amount of time for the replies to get to me. Time was running out to make arrangements for my project and I had just about given up hope when I received an excited reply from Janet Clark, Acting Chief of Library Services in the Northwest Territories. She suggested several libraries in the N.W.T. as sites for my project, and I selected Yellowknife, capital and largest city in the territories, with a population of about 10,000. I had to make the rest of my arrangements by telephone and I spoke to Jeannette Fish, the Head Librarian at Yellowknife Public Library who became supervisor for my project, a new friend, and my lodging coordinator. I stayed in a house close to the library with a friend of Jeannette's.

I made the trip from Kansas City (my home is in Overland Park, Kansas) to Yellowknife in two days by bus and plane. It was a long trip of over 2,000 miles with an overnight in Winnipeg, Manitoba. I began working in the library on New Year's Eve of 1981. At first I worked at the main desk doing routine library work. I had plenty to do in my spare time just getting used to the climate, the people, and the city. The warmest day during my visit was -28°F , and I don't even want to mention the coldest days, but we had wind chills below -100°F ! In that kind of cold, I didn't spend much time outdoors! Everyone really bundles up, though, and in my borrowed eskimo parka, I adapted pretty much like the other Yellowknifers did.

The people of Yellowknife are a mixture of different cultures, with the two major native populations consisting of the Dene (pronounced de-nay) and the Inuit (eskimo) people. I loved to look at the beautiful fur parkas, boots, and mittens made and worn by these people, many times decorated with beadwork and stitching. Many other kinds of people live in Yellowknife, including people from all parts of Canada, India, Europe, Great Britain, the United States, the Philippines, etc.

City Is Modern

The city of Yellowknife was not at all what I expected. It is an impressive, progressive city with many large modern buildings. Since Yellowknife is the capital of the N.W.T., it houses many employees of the municipal, territorial, and local government. In fact, government employs the largest proportion of Yellowknife's population. Two large gold mines also operate in Yellowknife (the discovery of gold is the reason the city started) and they also are major employers.

Among my "major" adventures while in Yellowknife were a dog sled ride across part of the frozen Great Slave Lake with one of my co-workers, viewing dogsled races, hockey, and curling, and seeing the aurora borealis in all their spectacular colors. I visited the Prince of Wales Northern Heritage Centre which contained artwork and artifacts of the native people, and I attended the opening of the N.W.T. Legislative Assembly (like the state legislature).

Conducts Art Contest

My project also became an adventure for me. With Jeannette's help, I came up with the idea of having a winter art contest in the library for the children of Yellowknife. The contest involved all the elementary school children to encourage more of them to use the library.

I began by seeking sponsors among the local merchants and was quite successful in raising money to buy the prizes (new books for the winners). I announced the contest in the schools, and the local radio and television stations advertised it. The children were to create an artistic interpretation of their favorite book, and prizes were awarded by grade with three top

"grand prizes" of money. Judging was done by Jeannette Fish, Janet Clark, Chief of Library Services in the N.W.T., and me on February 1, 1982, my twenty-first birthday! Since my stay was drawing to a close, we went out for an Arctic dinner and celebrated the completion of my project. The contest had been quite successful, with hundreds of entries decorating the library walls (and hundreds of kids coming in to see them).

I was sorry to leave, because I made many new friends, but I felt my RSI had been successful and I had grown as a person. I feel the Arrow In The Arctic program is a worthy philanthropy, and I'm proud that Pi Beta Phi supports it. As for me, I will gladly talk about my experience for hours. I'm happy to have visited Yellowknife.

Martha Mork Models

Martha Mork, Minnesota Alpha, is an up and coming model in the Minneapolis-St. Paul fashion world. She started modeling two years ago with an agency in Minneapolis. Her jobs include everything from runway fashion shows to local commercials, along with numerous advertisements in magazines and newspapers. Fashion shows are her favorite, however, because she has contact with people.

Martha's latest job landed her four pages in the main section of a Minneapolis daily paper, modeling lavish gowns for some of the most elite shops in the city.

Martha is an elementary education major at the University of Minnesota, and hopes to become a third grade teacher.

Vermont Betas Win Bat-tle

by PAM STEVENS

It was just another Saturday night at Vermont Beta. All the girls were getting ready to party. Close house friend Lee encountered a flying object darting above. Verdict: a rabid bat. Minutes later the frenzied bat was courageously trapped in the chapter room. Burlington police responded to a call for public assistance . . . 45 minutes later. The officer, unable to locate the bat, instructed girls to "take two aspirin and call him in the morning." At approximately 3:30 a.m., two sisters were disturbed by the high pitched screech of the bat.

The search continued the following day. The Bat Patrol, comprised of Karleen, Susan, Stacey, Pam, and Jan, devised a trap and embarked on a thorough investigation. The Bat Patrol donned their gear and armed themselves for bat-tle. Weaponry consisted of an aluminum tennis racket, a coat hangar, a plaid umbrella, and the BAT BAG.

Twenty-four hours after the initial sighting, the mission began. A furry lump in the window frame in the laundry room was immediately and positively identified as the fugitive. The winged creature was cornered with the assistance of Jon, a fellow Greek. A vigil watch was kept by the Bat Patrol as the local police were summoned once again. The same policeman returned. Realizing the danger of the situation, he requested a weapon . . . the aluminum tennis racket was chosen. Proceeding with caution, the officer mounted the dryer. Racket in hand, he successfully eliminated the enemy. Bat was pronounced D.O.F. (Dead On Floor). The body was served on the racket into the now infamous Bat Bag. Victory was ours.

Final Score: Pi Phi—40, Bat—Love.

Body Builder Is Contender

by SUSAN SHAMBLIN

Lisa Harbour, Georgia Alpha Body Builder

What is 5'5" tall and very petite, weighs 115 pounds and has beautiful wavy black hair?

A Pi Phi body builder, of course.

Lisa Harbour, Georgia Alpha, is a freshman at the University of Georgia and a competitive body builder.

She competes three times a year in state competitions in Macon, Auburn, and Atlanta. Last September in the Ms. Central Georgia competition, she placed second overall.

"They said I would have placed first if I had worked my abdominal muscles more," Lisa says.

Lisa had been a gymnast for six years when she injured her knee and had to have surgery. After the operation she began a physical therapy program which included lifting weights. The therapists who worked with her encouraged her to try body building.

Lisa enjoyed working with the weights at the time and, since her brother, Jim, was a body builder, she knew what dedication it entailed. He helped her get started on a weight lifting program.

Now Lisa works out with dead weights two and a half hours every day except Sunday.

Six weeks before she competes she begins to diet strenuously, eating nothing but white meat and green vegetables. She starts a special weight program in which she decreases the weights but increases the repetitions. This helps to define her muscles.

One week before the competition she begins a program of dehydration in which she must limit the amount of liquids that enter her body. This thins out her skin and reduces body fat.

Lisa says people are often surprised when they learn she is a body builder because of her small size.

"Most people don't believe me until I show them a picture of me during one of my competitions," Lisa says.

Third Generation Margaret Initiated

by CHERIE FUZZELL

On February 5, 1983, an unusual thing happened at the University of Alabama. A third generation Margaret (Margaret Johnson) was initiated into Pi Beta Phi. Attending the ceremony was her mother, Margaret True Johnson, Tennessee Alpha, who was initiated at the University of Chattanooga in 1961.

The first Margaret was Margaret Sims True, who was born of American parents in Brazil. That little girl with strawberry blond hair and blue-grey eyes was certainly a stand-out. At age 18, she came to the United States to attend Purdue University, where she was initiated into Indiana Delta in March, 1932. She later graduated from the University of Chattanooga, where she was active in the Beta Book Club, AAC, and, one year, even sewed the initiation robes for the entire chapter. Margaret True was very proud that her granddaughter pledged Pi Phi, especially since it was in the same year that Mrs. True became a Golden Arrow. She was happy that the youngest Margaret would be initiated with her pin.

Other Pi Phi members of Margaret's family are her aunt, Prudence Fogel True, and cousins Susan Bridges Bailey, Peggy Bridges Sterchi, and Kathy Bridges.

Pi Phi Is Greek Woman of Year

by LAUREL LEE

Greek Woman of the Year at the University of California at Davis is an honor awarded by U.C. Davis Panhellenic each year. In its third year of existence, it has been won twice by Cal Theta Pi Phis. In 1981, then chapter President Darlene Yaplee was named Greek Woman of the Year, and this year the winner is another outstanding Pi Phi, Victoria Van Maren.

Victoria was one of the Cal Theta colony pledges and has been an active, contributing member of Pi Phi ever since. Presently, she is the chapter's ARROW correspondent and Arrowboard chairman.

The Greek Woman of the Year award is based on scholastic achievement, community and sorority involvement, career aspirations, and personal character. Victoria, a senior majoring in Economics, is on the Dean's List and is a member of Prytanean Honor Society and Omicron Delta Epsilon (economics honorary). She has worked part time throughout the college as a mail clerk and presently is a library clerk. She has also held internships, working as a production intern at KOVR-TV, and as a bank management trainee.

For her award, Victoria received a perpetual plaque with the name of each year's winner engraved on it, a dozen roses, and a check for $200.00. She used the check to help pay university registration and tuition fees for spring quarter.

Former Bee Keeper Is A Honey To Charlotte A.C.

by JANICE T. UTTLEY

A newspaper article announcing a Pi Phi meeting in 1981 brought a ray of sunshine as well as a bit of Pi Phi history into the life of the Charlotte (NC) Alumnae Club. J. R. Carr, a former student at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, responded to the article with a call to the meeting's hostess, Nancy Harned Coppage, and a mutual friendship was begun.

J. R. Carr was born on February 25, 1894 in Gatlinburg, Tenn., at the foot of Mt. LeConte. Son of Rosan and Marion Carr, he attended a number of one-teacher schools before becoming a student at the nearly-new Pi Beta Phi Settlement School for the school year 1914-15. When asked why he chose Pi Phi School, Mr. Carr responded, "If those folks were college grads, they'd be better teachers." His early memories of the school were that it consisted of about five rooms and had about 75 students the year he attended. Mr. Carr has amazing recall for the teachers he had: Mary O. Pollard from Vermont, Edith Wilson, Margaret Young from Davenport, Iowa, Marie Ditmers from Indiana, and Helen K. Chew from Ohio.

In the fall of 1915, Mr. Carr earned a teacher's certificate, started teaching in the Mill Creek School and taught all subjects for one year. He then went to Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn., and attended the Preparatory Department for one year. He was the first Settlement School student to go off to college.

He volunteered for the U.S. Army and spent 22 months in the Army of Occupation. Eleven of those months were spent in France and Germany. He served as a baker while overseas.

In 1919 he went back to Carson-Newman and spent the next three years, plus summer school, getting an education degree. His grades were the second best in his class. He taught school for the next several years in North Carolina and served nine years as a principal. One year he was City Superintendent at Fremont, N.C.

In 1926 he was married to the former Gladys Black who was teaching Home Economics at the Bakersville High School (N.C.). Mrs. Carr was a 1924 graduate of the Women's College in Greensboro, N.C. They raised seven children, five of whom finished college.

In 1932 Mr. Carr resigned from the school system and bought into the bee business after owning about 30 colonies previously. His dad also had kept bees. At one time he had 950 colonies of bees. His business was called Carr Honey Farms and he produced several varieties of honey. In 1972 he sold the bees to his son, Julian.

In 1979 Mr. and Mrs. Carr moved to Charlotte, N.C. to be near several of their children. His call to Nancy Coppage also brought two other Pi Phis into the circle of friendship as fellow members of the same church to which Mr. Carr belongs. They are Carol Baskin Hudson and Janice Troy Uttley, along with Nancy Coppage. Several Charlotte Pi Phis have enjoyed visits to Mr. Carr's home and have benefited from his vast knowledge of the early days of the Settlement School.

Mr. Carr asked that anyone who knew him from his former days in Gatlinburg, please feel free to write to him at his home: 4532 Sharonview Road, Charlotte, N.C. 28211.

Melinda McGinty and Shelly Thieson stack pizza crusts after counting out the proper amount for Indiana Gamma's highly successful pizza sale at Butler.

Chapter House Is Pizza Factory

One day last October, the Indiana Gamma chapter house at Butler University was turned into a pizza factory. Chapter members and many hard working alumnae made over 400 pizzas in about 4½ hours from orders that had been taken from many hungry pizza eaters. Working in an assembly line fashion, the women covered the already made pizza crusts with sauce, cheese, meat, and other special ingredients. The pizzas were then placed in plastic bags and boxed to assure freshness.

Most of the fraternities and sororities on campus purchased the very reasonably priced pizzas, and by the end of the day they had ordered more. The Pi Phi Pizza sale proved to be a great success. By five o'clock, after every pizza had been picked up or delivered, the hard workers sat down to enjoy a very special pizza that had been created just for them. A special thanks is given to all of our great alumnae. Without their constant support and help throughout the year the Indiana Gamma chapter would be at a great loss.

Club Hears Fiber Artist

by MARY JEAN FOWLER

January meeting for Cypress Creek Alumnae Club was a presentation by fiber artist Ann Wollam, Ohio Beta, an active artist in the Houston area. She talked about her work and her background.

Ann produces lengths of silk yardage bright with reds and purples, oranges and greens—colors splashing in free shapes suggestive of exotic flowers. She uses a modified batik technique, freely outlining areas of the designs with wax to resist dye, then painting areas with brilliant dye. After she has set the dye, she removes the wax.

Ann's work sells as banners or as yardage or she makes them into garments. Her designs are elaborate interpretations of flowers, simplified and enlarged. She draws on her experiences of years living in Malaysia, Bangkok, and Australia. To interpret her ideas in her unique style, Ann has studied drawing, design, fabric design, and pattern and garment construction.

Knowing that she wanted to express herself visually, her first step upon returning to this country to live was to attend a summer course at Arrowmont. She has since attended five summers, studying under Ed Lambert, Richard Daenert, Joy Rushfelt, Bill Bonerson and Clark Stewart. She has taken courses also at Glessel School of Art and at Houston Community College, both in Houston where Ann lives. At every opportunity she takes available workshops which have included Lenore Davis, Diane Itter, Theo Moorman, Michael James and Sally Bachman. She works in a studio in her home, expanding outdoors to hang yardage under the trees. Ann's ideas emerge as lengths of silk, stunning and splashing with vibrant color.

Barbara Blanks Bullard, left, and her husband, Gary, were recipients of Nashville Alumnae Club Scholarships to Arrowmont last summer. Barbara studied advanced drawing and Gary took Porcelain. Lucinda Trabue, right, used her club scholarship to study stained glass. Both are active members of the Nashville club.

Tami Miller, Sybil Strates, Leigh Townsend, and Hallie Zobel, Florida Alphas, have a smile session during the celebration of their 70th Founders' Day at Stetson University. The chapter was the first sorority on campus, installed in January, 1913.

Lincoln Alumnae Club members and Nebraska Betas had a howling good time at a Halloween party, starting with dinner, and including Get Acquainted Bingo. Alums sworn into office were, l-r: Jill Roobin Hart, Kathy Perrine Rosell, Jan Anderson Simonson, and Nancy Hemp-hill Dawson.

Ricki Has Fun P.R. Job In Enterprise Square

The fun and games atmosphere of Enterprise Square, USA, is an everyday visit for Ricki Nolan Jackson, Oklahoma Beta, who must walk through a time tunnel, a 28 projector multimedia theater, and a large arcade game hall to get to her office, where she is heavily involved each day in promoting what she likes to describe as America's most entertaining educational attraction.

Her day to day activity as a public relations associate ranges from writing copy, to attending tourism conferences, to meeting with the center's large volunteer force, to taking Polaroid shots in interesting settings for release to hometown newspapers.

Through the wall of her office she can hear the excitement of music and sound, coming from 32 educational computer games on the other side of the partition.

Enterprise Square, located on the Oklahoma Christian College campus in Oklahoma City, is the only major museum in the United States devoted exclusively to interpreting the American free enterprise system and how it operates.

It doesn't take long in Enterprise Square to know that the place you are visiting is different from any museum you have ever visited.

Bob Hope is the celebrity host. But he barely gets into his introduction when he is interrupted by Ed McMahan at a news desk, announcing that an unidentified spacecraft is looming over the Oklahoma City area. It reaches a dramatic climax when the giant saucer lands smack in the middle of Enterprise Square, within feet of the visitors. Three space "people" are seen in the craft, moving from one module to another.

Visitors ride a glass-walled elevator, viewing a three-story high wall filled with everchanging rear projection pictures, all dealing with the economic experiences of everyday life. It is the largest audio-visual show in the world.

No part of Enterprise Square is more entertaining or revealing than the Great American Marketplace. Its operating cash register is 12 feet long and 10 feet high. The human figures on the huge one dollar, two dollar, ten dollar and hundred dollar bills talk and sing. Through the bantering of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, and Benjamin Franklin, the history of the free market system is revealed.

There is much excitement in the Economics Arcade, filled with computer games. Instead of Pac Man or Star Wars, the visitor is confronted with a lemonade stand, oil wells, a lawn to mow, or a house to build. Economic decisions as well as other skills are involved in winning.

The final and most dramatic exhibit is the time tunnel. You walk through this passageway to reach a pre-determined year in the past. Amidst flashing lights you move backward to the year 1900 at the beginning of the day, or to 1980 at the day's closing. The historical year moves forward every six minutes from opening until closing time each day. There are six computer games, with the economic, technological, and other conditions of the year reflected within the computers. These venture games include the role of farmer, automobile manufacturer, oil driller, trucker, dress retailer, and investor.

Ricki received a degree in communication consultancy from Oklahoma State University, where she was initiated in 1978.

Ricki Jackson introduces visitors at Enterprise Square to one of the talking machines which teaches the laws of supply and demand in the Old Fashioned Donut Shop.

New sisters honored during Michigan Alpha's initiation banquet at Hillsdale College were: (l-r) Kim Snarey, Most Spirited Pledge; Mary Bennett, Most Improved Pledge; Joanne Minogue, Model Pledge; and Laura Corson, My Favorite Pledge.

Greeks Swap Dinners

The Colorado State University Greek system has come up with a new way to improve fraternity relations on campus. Every Wednesday evening there is a dinner swap between a sorority and a fraternity. Three girls from the sorority dine at the fraternity house, while three men from the fraternity dine at the sorority house. At dinner, each of the guests is introduced to the chapter. It is a great way to get to know different people in the Greek system.

The schedule is arranged by the Panhellenic Council and distributed to all of the Greek houses. This assures that each sorority will get to visit each fraternity and vice versa.

A "LANGUAGE BANK" has been set up at Adelphi University. The idea is now spreading to the nine member colleges in the consortium. Foreign students are on call to translate for patients in hospitals or to communicate with a patient's family, and to translate for witnesses or defendants in trials.

FOUNDED in 1878, The Johns Hopkins University Press is the oldest university press in continuous operation in the country.

A FOUR YEAR Toxicology program has been established within the School of Pharmacy at Northeast Louisiana University. It is one of only five such programs in the nation. Authorities estimate that 5,000 bachelor degree toxicologists will be needed in the 1980s but only about 100 are graduated annually.

GETTYSBURG COLLEGE moved 190,000 books from the old library to the new library in one morning via a "book bucket brigade." The 1,200 volunteers—students, faculty, and staff—saved $20,000 in moving expense.

SECOND ONE FREE. An anonymous donor offered to pay for a second twin if the first paid her bills at Lake Erie College (Ohio). Three sets of twins have been admitted so far. (People)

CHAIN RESTAURANT managers will be trained at Michigan State's School of Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management under a five-year grant of $375,000 from the PepsiCo Foundation. It is said to be the first undergraduate program in chain restaurant management. (Chronicle of Higher Education)

SIGMA PHI EPSILON members from Penn State and West Virginia University ran the game ball 200 miles from State College, Pa. to Morgantown, W. Va., for the football game between the two teams. Money collected from sponsors was given to the Special Olympics.

UNIVERSITIES, such as Cornell and Iowa, have their own travel agencies on campus to arrange official travel at lowest costs. It is estimated that 20 percent savings can result from careful planning of trips.

THE PROPORTION of high school graduates taking the Scholastic Aptitude Test ranges from 2 percent in South

Dakota to 69 percent in Connecticut. (Chronicle of Higher Education)

THE LARGEST OVERSEAS study program at any United States university is operated by Michigan State. During 1981-82, a record 780 students enrolled in 50 programs in 14 foreign countries.

SIXTY-ONE PERCENT of the 1981 graduates in communications/journalism were women. In advertising or public relations, 72 percent receiving bachelor's degrees were women. (The Record of Sigma Alpha Epsilon)

JOHNNY CARSON has given $1 million to the University of Southern California for a television facility in the university's new film and television complex. (Chronicle)

"WEEKEND COLLEGE" was established first by Miami-Dade Community College in 1965. Since then, they have proliferated throughout the country. Designed for the working adult, courses lead to associate of arts or science degrees.

IS THIS A FIRST? A 30-year-old woman is the athletic director at Slippery Rock College (Pa.), a coed college.

HOT AIR BALLOONING has become a form of "higher education" at Ohio State through the Creative Arts Program. Along with classroom instruction, students assist in the field with setting up, fastening ropes, and packing up. They also "crew" by chasing the balloon in a car.

MODERN GAELIC is offered by the Department of Languages at West Chester College (Pa.).

THERE IS A 40 PERCENT SHORTFALL annually in the number of electrical engineers graduated. Colleges do not have enough faculty or equipment to train more. (U. S. News)

WOMEN GRADUATES in accounting are expected to increase from 39 percent to 43 percent by 1985 but the demand for accountants is expected to exceed the supply.

Of 24 women invited to be debutantes at the 37th Oklahoma City Beaux Arts Ball, seven were Pi Phis. From the left: Libby Saunders, O.U.; Ann Zachritz, Colorado State; Laura Haskins, O.U.; Kim Rice, O.S.U.; Mindy Marshall, O.S.U.; Laura Bullard, O.U.; Jennifer Torbett, Stanford.

Kim Scarboro, Florida Beta, is "Miss Tallahassee Sunburst," earning a trophy, crown, and her entry fee to the "Miss Florida Sunburst" pageant. Kim is a sophomore at Florida State.

West Virginia Alpha Nan Charlton is Panhellenic's Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year at West Virginia University. Nan follows in the footsteps of her sister, Judie, who earned the same honor in 1979-80.

Annie, portrayed by Lucy Morrison, had no trouble deciding where she belonged, after Texas Betas helped her along the way during one of their rush skits. Cast members included, l-r, Becky McGinnis, Cary Cheetham, Jennifer Farris, Lucy, and Lindy Willett.

Liz Williams, Lisa Hamilton, Becky Scott, Julie Causey, Merrilee Anderson, Beth Murphey, and DeLynn Speck are seven of the fourteen Texas Zetas on Student Foundation, a select group whose principal function is promoting Baylor University.

Karen Kilpatrick, right, and Tracy Olgeaty, New York Alphas, are members of Syracuse University's Sour Citrus Society Dance Corps which performs during home basketball games.

Kim Engstrom, West Virginia Alpha, is W. Virginia University's 1983 Mountaineer Sweetheart. She won a penny-a-vote campaign, raising $200 for the American Cancer Society.

Susan Akin, Mississippi Beta, was third runner-up in the Miss University Pageant, a preliminary pageant for Miss America. Susan is a Top 10 Beauty at Ole Miss and PI Phi's Derby Day queen representative.

Erin Bell, left, Florida Alpha, was named Homecoming Queen at the Centennial Homecoming celebration in February at Stetson University. 1982 PI Phi president, Jojo Guess, right, served as co-hostess for the celebration.

Jackie Krese, Virginia Epsilon, is the second PI Phi to be a part of the cheerleading squad at the University of Virginia. Jackie has maintained a high grade point average while cheering for both football and basketball games, and despite practices three evenings a week.

Linda Bishop, Mississippi Alpha, center, performs as a member of Southern Exposure, a dancing and singing group at the University of Southern Mississippi. Linda's talents also earned her a trophy when she won the Junior Panhellenic Talent Show.

Oregon Beta had a special treat this year—six sets of double sisters, biological sisters as well as sisters in PI Phi! Older sisters, standing, are Kim Smith, Denise Young, Cathy Bruton, Julie Wilson, Korina Nordquist, and Kathy Kemp. Younger sisters, sitting, are Sherri Smith, Suzy Young, Maureen Bruton, Terri Wilson, Katrina Nordquist, and Julie Kemp.

Indiana Zeta Kim Arnold is a princess for the 1983 Indianapolis 500. Kim is a junior at Ball State and is the current publicity chairman for the Panhellenic Council.

That "live" Pi Beta Phi crest on the right is actually Leslie deZwart, Florida Epsilon, during a skit portraying the meaning of the crest. Heidi Lancaster and Kim Roe helped with the explanation, since Leslie's beak was a slight hindrance to talking.

Deanne Sory and Karen Boile, Mississippi Alpha, prepare chilli to serve during the scholarship banquet in the chapter room at Southern Mississippi, attended by alumnae also.

Margo Weathers, Georgia Alpha, is "Miss Ultima II Beautiful Eyes" at the University of Georgia. She received a make-up kit and will appear in advertising and promotions.

Amy Firmin, Mississippi Alpha, was presented to society this year as a member of the Gulf Coast Debutantes.

California Theta's Sue Anderson sets high scholarship standards on the Davis campus. She earned an award for having the highest sophomore G.P.A. in the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences.

(separate letter may be attached for further information)

Postmaster: Please send notice of Undeliverable copies on Form 3579 to Pi Beta Phi, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

There were nineteen Pi Phis on the Spring 1983, S. S. Universe Semester-At-Sea ship. Arlene Mazzulla Christen, California Delta, left, met her daughter Robin, Nevada Alpha, right, in Egypt, in February. Along with Katie Thrall, California Beta, second from left, they enjoyed camel riding at the Pyramids of Giza and the Statue of the Sphinx. The fourth member of the party was along to help control the camels!

To Pi Phi Parents:

Your daughter's magazine is sent to her home address while she is in college and we hope that you enjoy reading it. If she is no longer in college, however, and is not living at home, please send her new permanent address to Pi Beta Phi Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.
