Diversity article helps Panhellenic

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Pi Beta Phi for running as The Arrow's winter 1989 cover story, "Enrichment Through Diversity." As Panhellenic vice president for membership at the University of Kansas, I am in charge of education and training of all rush chairmen as well as rush counselors and this article could not have been featured at a better time.

Since taking office October 1, the issue that Panhellenic has tried to promote is that of the importance of cultural diversity within our system. The most effective way of reaching members is through education and to serve as a supplement to speeches about diversity's importance, I copied "Enrichment Through Diversity" for all 50 rush counselors and 14 rush chairmen.

These women have taken this article back to their respective chapters, along with the knowledge gained from guest speakers. Because of this information, they have served as resources for their chapters. It is time that Greeks realize that cultural diversity is a necessity in the face of an ever-changing society. We must take steps to ensure that the Greek community reflects these changes in its membership.

Thank you Pi Phi for addressing this important issue. The University of Kansas Panhellenic will always benefit from articles such as this.

Legacy sends thanks

I am a new initiate as of January of the South Carolina Beta Chapter and I'm proud to say I come from a line of wonderful Pi Phis. My sister, Cindy Crosby, is an Ohio Zeta and my mother, Sharon Camp Crosby is an alumna of the same chapter.

I want to use this letter to thank my sister for her support and my mother for making my Pi Phi initiation experience as perfect as can be. My mother surprised me and flew down from Michigan for it. She made her grand surprise appearance at the Cookie Shine and participated in the rest of the ceremonies. The Pi Phi tradition was passed onto me as my mother's pin was placed on my dress.

All I have to say is, "Mom, thanks. I love you, and you're truly an angel in disguise."

Family member honors a Pi Phi

As I read the article "Ohio Alpha Celebrates 100th Anniversary," I wished my aunt, Vernah Stewart Gardner, had still been alive to join in the festivities. Aunt Vernah was initiated at West Virginia Alpha, but soon transferred to Ohio University. She lived all of her adult life in the Athens area and participated in Pi Phi activities at the local and national levels. At the time of her death in 1976, she was serving as Grand Treasurer, a position she accepted after several years as Grand Secretary.

Aunt Vernah loved Pi Beta Phi and would have been so proud of her chapter's centennial. I write this to recognize her contributions to the fraternity and to pay tribute to her memory.

Friendships Through The Years

by Jennifer Moeller

Friendship. It is at the very heart of our organization. The Preamble of I.C. Sorosis included the cultivation of friendship as the first object of the Fraternity. Since our beginning, we have sought after close relationships derived from our female companions.

Through the years, Pi Beta Phi has provided an environment conducive to the development of friendship. From collegiate days forward, Pi Beta Phi brings together women from a variety of backgrounds. Remember one of your first pledge class meetings? More than likely, you looked around a room of new faces. Several years later, upon graduation, you were able to look at those once unfamiliar faces and see the reflection of friendship in their eyes. Some of us are even so blessed that we can share accounts of friendships lasting from college, through graduate school, marriage, children and Golden Arrow years.

For women, friendships fulfill needs in their life. Stacey Oliker, author of Best Friends and Marriage: Exchange Among Women, believes friends to be the primary source of support for women. The intimacy and attachment of a female friend provides a secure emotional base from which women can venture out and take risks—returning

*A special word of thanks to the Pi Phis from St. Louis who volunteered their time and energy for the photos accompanying this article and on the cover; Anne Blatberwick, Anita Cassilly, Bonnie Grenney and daughter Allison, Betsy Lindner, Pat Peck and Barbara VanLuven. to school, finding a better job or simply trying something new.

Oliker explains that women, unlike men, continue to make friends, have new experiences and maintain support networks throughout life. She reasons that men's friendships often revolve around activities while women's friendships focus on shared feelings and personal experiences.

Pamela Redmond Satran in her article, "The Evolution of Women's Friendships," (Working Women, November 1989) reports that friendships have taken on a new significance in our lives. "Friends no longer are stand-ins for family; today friendships may be the most intimate, most profound and most durable relationships in our lives. More than family, sometimes."

So as we head into fall, a season of membership drives by both Pi Phi chapters and alumnae organizations, let the light of friendship guide you in your efforts. The friendships Pi Beta Phi nurtures today will live in the hearts of individuals through the years.

Reaffirm your support in Pi Beta Phi with payment of 1990-91 dues. Payment can be made through your local club, or directly with our dues envelope appearing in the center of the magazine.

Women's style makes friendship good medicine

Friendship has always been something women take seriously. And it is precisely the way women tend to practice friendship that makes it one of the most potentially therapeutic of all human relationships.

Studies of friendship suggest women, typically more than men, tend to invest more of themselves in a friendship. They generally are quite verbal and consider freedom of expression a trademark of true friendship. Among women, good friends also place a high value on "reciprocity," or a willingness to be on both the giving and receiving end of emotional support.

Women reported in one study that close friendship enhanced their capacity to cope with difficult emotions and gave them a person with whom they could express joyful ones. Experts generally agree that friendship contributes to better psychological health. As a source of support, encouragement and comfort, friendship can add to the joy and ease the pain of life events, help smooth the passage through normal transitions and contribute to personal growth for both partners in the relationship.

Historically, women's prescribed and restricted social roles to a large degree determined their circle of friends as well.

Today, as women embark on motherhood, continued education or new career or life choices at a wide range of ages, the great diversity of circumstances in their lives produces a much broader and richer landscape for friendship.

Research also shows that widowed or divorced women traditionally experience a significant "shrinking" of their circle of friends. In one study, many women over 60 avoided potential friendships with men, for instance, because they believed male-female friendship implied romance and they weren't necessarily interested in that. In similar studies, women over 60 considered status a more important aspect of friendship than did younger women, a tendency researchers suggest may result from a diminished sense of importance among women in their later years.

But researchers say that patterns of women's friendships are changing in response to a less rigid society. Women are freer today to build meaningful friendships with whom they please.

As women find satisfaction in new patterns of friendships—non-romantic friendship with men, for instance—they effectively provide models for other women and men searching for the emotional connectedness characteristic of good friendship.

Whatever changes are occurring in society or in women's circles of friendship, research suggests the most consistently valued aspect of friendship among most adult women remains the emotional intimacy it offers.

Studies show that men tend to be more external in their friendships, basing the relationship on shared interests or activities, while women base theirs more on shared emotion.

So, female friendship may be less outwardly visible than traditional male camaraderie, researchers say. But they add that the openness of feelings expressed and the mutual give-and-take of emotional support by women is precisely what makes good friendship the best "medicine" of all.

ΠΒΦ Colonizes at Villanova University

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, home of many historical American traditions ... the Liberty Bell, Betsy Ross, Valley Forge Park and more than 100 college and university campuses, is finally also home to Pi Beta Phi. On February 10, 1990 eighty-two charter pledges and two alumnae initiates brought a new tradition of friendship and history to Pi Beta Phi, Philadelphia and Villanova University.

Since 1934 when the Greek organizations at Swarthmore College were disbanded by the administration, the Fraternity and the Main Line Alumnae Club have been without an active Pi Phi chapter in Philadelphia. The special weekend of February 9-11, 1990 marked the official addition of Pennsylvania Theta to the Pi Beta Phi roll call and history book. The just-published chapter in this book includes a headline announcing the new opportunities now available to the young women at Villanova, the Philadelphia alumnae and to Pi Beta Phi Fraternity.

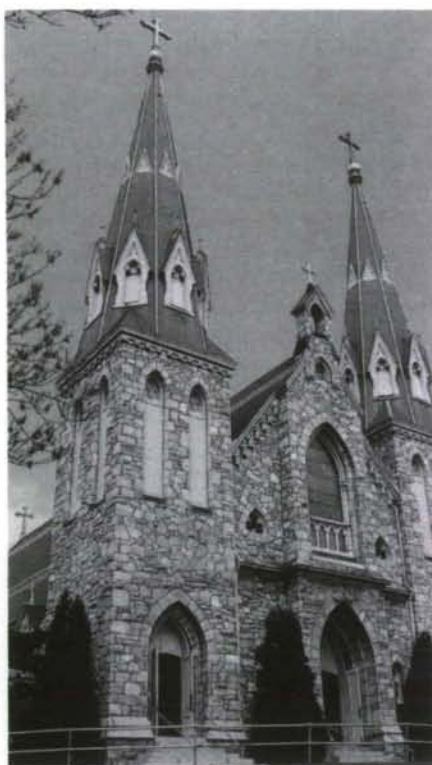

The first page of the history of Pi Beta Phi at Villanova University was written several months earlier during the colonizing rush in September of 1989. On September 26, more than 300 unaffiliated upperclass women attended an informal meeting introducing Pi Beta Phi to the Villanova community. A national rush team of officers rushed the women and by the end of the week, 90 outstanding rush-ees accepted bids to Pi Beta Phi. Formal pledging on October 1 at the lovely home of Gamma Collegiate Province President Nan Olin Peterson concluded the first page in the new history of Pi Beta Phi at Villanova.

Subsequent history pages reflect the weeks of pledgship led by Resident Graduate Consultant Laurie Vaskov. This time was filled with learning about Pi Phi and the Villanova Greek system, preparing for January's formal rush, and getting to know one another. During the second semester, only three weeks prior to the colony's installation, the charter class of 90 members added 58 pledges to their membership during formal rush at Villanova.

Preparatory events

On Friday afternoon, February 9 Elizabeth Trudeau Morgan and Jeanee Riely the two honored alumnae initiates, were formally pledged. After the pledging, all gathered for the reading of the Constitution and Statutes by CPP Nan Peterson.

After the dinner break, the prospective initiates traveled to the Stouffer's Inn for the Preparatory Service and the coveted Cookie Shine celebration. The Cookie Shine spread arranged by the Main Line Junior Alumnae Club was believed to be the biggest Pi Phi Cookie Shine ever. The sheet was composed of 19 individual sheets sewn together and decorated with Pi Beta Phi letters and symbols. The sheet was a gift from the Junior group.

During the Cookie Shine the charter pledges were introduced to the Pi Phis in attendance. A number of traditional ceremonies were performed, the Return of the Pledge Pin, Seven Gifts, and a reading of "An 'If' for Pi Phis." The charter members entertained guests with rush songs, skits and the rush slide show. After ceremonies and celebration, all were invited to enjoy the goodies of the Cookie Shine. To conclude the evening, numerous gifts and notes of congratulations and best wishes from Pi Phi chapters, alumnae clubs and individuals were opened, read and applauded.

Initiation

Rain and gray skies on Saturday morning were no indication of the excitement and uplifting mood of the day. Perhaps it was the white dresses and bright smiling faces of the charter members that brought sunshine to the day. The initiation ceremony, conducted by Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, was held at the home of Terry Kirkwood. Mrs. Lichtenberg was assisted by Grand Vice President of Membership Carolyn Pavletich Lesh, Grand Vice President of Alumnae Sally Shipley Bowers, Director of Collegiate Extension Kay Cromb Brada and Director of Chapter House Corporations Lou Ann Montgomery Carter. Also in attendance were Executive Director of Central Office Virginia Bland Fry, incoming National Installation Coordinator Barbara Ehni VanLuyen, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees Sarah Ruth Mullis, National Panhellenic Conference Delegate Jean Wirths Scott, Gamma Collegiate Province President Nan Olin Peterson, Gamma Alumnae Province President Eva White Sherman, TGC Amy Bartter.

Banquet

The banquet on Saturday night proved to be a wonderful way to commemorate the initiation of many new Pi Phis and the installation of Pennsylvania Theta. The ballroom of the Stouffer's Inn was aglow, and by candlelight golden angel centerpieces, handmade by Bill Reimer, provided the perfect setting for a Pi Phi celebration. Each guest received a small notepad with the angel imprint as a party favor in remembrance of the historical evening. The meal, preceded by "Pi Phi Grace" and pleasantly interrupted with a chorus of "Ring Ching," brought the room of diverse Pi Phi together in song and feast. This evening brought another record for Pi Phi installation gatherings, with Pi Phi present from 45 different Pi Phi chapters. The most historical moment of the weekend was obvious to all when the newly initiated members of Pennsylvania Theta stood to recite the response of the Fraternity's installation ceremony. The end to the evening came with a nostalgic ceremony in memory of the twelve founders and a celebration of sisterhood through the Loving Cup ceremony.

Model meeting and reception

The Pi Phis awoke to a lovely sunny Sunday morning. Beginning at 10 a.m., the newly initiated Pi Phi entered the East Lounge of Dougherty Hall to take part in their first chapter meeting. With the ritual and chapter officer reports led by national officers, the new active members got a taste for the process and procedure of an active chapter meeting. During the meeting the Grand President installed the 15 colony officers as "official" chapter officers, which included the pinning of the President's badge on Jeannie Corkery, Pennsylvania Theta's Chapter President.

Beginning at 2:00 in the Villanova Room in the Connelly Center, family members, friends, Greeks and faculty members helped the Pi Phi celebrate their initiation and the installation of the new chapter. Again the chapter made some history with another record-breaking count of people in attendance. The room buzzed with excitement and enthusiasm as more than 500 people gathered for a fun-filled afternoon festivity. On the wall of the Villanova Room the new active members were congratulated with a giant poster with signatures of their 58 new pledges who also attended the reception to meet the national officers and to personally congratulate the new Pi Phis.

Immediately after the reception, the Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council of Villanova hosted a dinner for the national officers and alumnae who played a part in bringing Pi Beta Phi to Villanova. Seated in a quaint dining room in the Connelly Center, the groups celebrated the successful beginning of the Pennsylvania Theta Chapter. The dinner may have marked the end of the installation weekend, but it also marked the beginning of a tradition of friendship between Pi Beta Phi and Villanova.

Alumnae initiates

Elizabeth (Betsy) Morgan has a long list of involvement in local endeavors and personifies volunteerism at its best. She has served on the Board and Council of the Junior League of Philadelphia, the Board of the Philadelphia Zoo, and the Board of the National Society of Colonial Dames for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For many years Betsy has been a faithful supporter of Arrowcraft sales and is well acquainted with Pi Phi through her mother, Barbara Higham Winner.

Jeanee Riely is the faculty advisor for the Pennsylvania Theta Chapter at Villanova. She was asked and agreed to take on this position after she hosted an educational program in the fall for the Pi Phi and the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Jeanee has been honored with the Daughter of the American Revolution Leadership Award. She enjoys being involved with Special Olympics, Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Villanova, and Committee for the Homeless of Philadelphia.

University history

Villanova University, a Catholic college associated with the religious order of St. Augustine, was founded in 1842. Located just twelve miles west of downtown Philadelphia, Villanova has an impressive enrollment of 6,400 undergraduate students. Villanova has deep roots in religious tradition and is strengthened through a long established reputation of academic excellence. Today Villanova University can boast of being named one of the top ten all-around private institutions in the nation, establishing the largest organized Greek system of any Catholic university in the nation, and now bringing to its students Pi Beta Phi, the oldest national women's fraternity.

The seven other national Panhellenic Conference women's fraternities on campus; Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, are all quite new to Villanova, the first being established in 1980. Together with the 12 Interfraternity Council men's fraternities, the eight women's groups round out a very strong Greek system.

One of the charter members initiated in February summed up her experiences in Pi Phi by saying, "Being a charter member of Pi Phi at Villanova has been an awesome experience. It has become an opportunity to make a difference, to be part of something special and unique. It has been a chance to build a sorority and help make it what it will become."

The charter officers gather prior to the installation banquet.

Pi Beta Phi remembers Holt Family

by Elizabeth Davenport Garrels

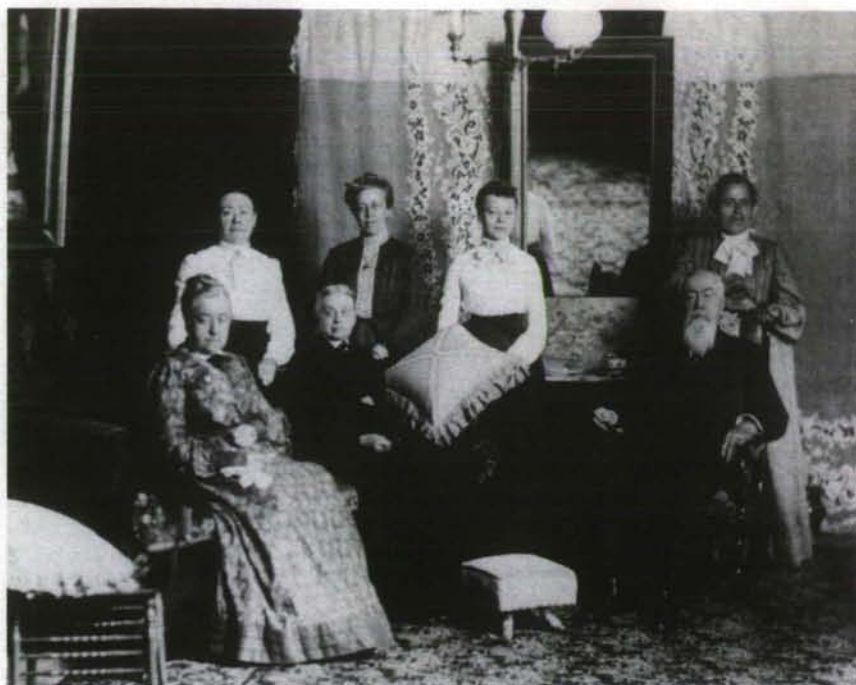

In places of historical significance, how many times have we heard the phrase "if these walls could talk...?"

Yes, if the walls of Holt House could talk they would certainly relate to us exciting events of another era, of the hopes and dreams of a family who went about their daily routine working and socializing together. This family of two parents and seven children enjoyed their two story white frame house built around 1850. As was the custom of the times, after the Civil War, they took in Monmouth College students as boarders.

The seven Holt children are pictured here in their later years with the walls of the parlor as the background. Shown in this photo are three of the original furnishings of the Holt family that do belong to Holt House today. In the upper left hand corner, if you look carefully you can see a portion of the portrait of Mrs. Holt holding a baby. (That baby is the gentleman seated in the rocker.) The sofa and the mirror are now in the current music room.

The Holt House Committee has also recently accepted several original items from the Holt family. Two mahogany tables, until last year used by Holt family descendants for family gatherings, came to Holt House again in 1989 from California. The first time the tables were shipped to Monmouth (via the Erie Canal) was from West Point where Major Holt had been in charge of feeding the cadets. These tables were donated by Dorry Coleman Parks, a great, great granddaughter of Major and Mrs. Holt. Her mother's grandmother was one of the six Holt daughters, the only one to marry.

Additionally, Holt House has recently acquired some pieces of white china with a gold edge that probably graced these tables. The china was donated by Carolyn Wells Dauner from the Sandhills, North Carolina Alumnae Club.

Major Holt's daughter, Susan Holt, gave these dishes to Donnie Geyer, Carolyn Dauner's grandmother.

If these walls and furnishings could share the aspirations and daily lives of its occupants, we would hear stories of everyday success and frustration. However, within these walls one dream was born that outgrew the boundaries of home and campus. This dream of life-long, enduring friendship now extends "ocean to ocean."

In your midwest traveling this summer, stop by Holt House, 402 East First Avenue, Monmouth, Illinois and see where it all began. You might even want to sit on the Holt family sofa and have your picture taken!

Graduate Fellowship winners receive $1500 each

Jane D'Isa

As an undergraduate, Jane majored in biology and minored in comprehensive sciences (chemistry, calculus and physics). She attended Bowling Green State University. Jane just completed her first year as a medical student at the Ohio University College of Osteopathic Medicine. Jane was a charter member of Ohio Theta and held the offices of Vice President of Moral Advancement and Panhellenic Delegate. She continues her involvement in Pi Phi by serving as VP Social counterpart on the Ohio Alpha Alumnae Advisory Committee.

Jane's involvement in campus activities and organizations has not diminished since entering medical school. She is a member of the American Osteopathic Student Association and the American Medical Student Association.

Denise Flanagan

Denise is a graduate of the University of North Dakota. She received a bachelor's of Public Administration with a political science emphasis. Denise served as Panhellenic president during the 1988-89 school year and also served as Chapter President for North Dakota Alpha. Among her other school activities, Denise was a member of Pi Sigma Alpha honor society and Order of Omega, participated on the Women's Center Advisory Board and served as president of North Dakota Student Association.

Denise is pursuing a master's degree in public administration. She plans to work in state and local government after graduation because of her interest in the many issues on the political agenda such as fiscal, educational, social and health topics.

Christine Pooler

A 1987 graduate of Simpson College with a Bachelor of Arts degree, Christine presently studies medicine at the University of Iowa. While an active member of the Iowa Beta Chapter, Christine served as Vice President of Mental Advancement. She graduated from Simpson Summa Cum Laude. A recipient of the ABO award for Iowa Beta her senior year, Christine was able to combine activities with high scholarship through involvement in many campus organizations. She was a member of the College Activities Board, an advisor for incoming freshmen, and a member of several honor societies.

Christine just completed her third year of medical school. After earning a medical degree in May of 1991, her education will continue with residency training.

Dedicated Arrowmont worker celebrates her 20th anniversary

Veryl Monhollen has been keeping the books at Arrowcraft Shop for about 20 years, and although the size of the staff hasn't grown much in those 20 years, the work load certainly has. Veryl's job encompasses more than just book-keeping, and this variety may account for the fact that she's stayed so long. "I do a lot of public relations over the phone and speaking at different places," Veryl said. She has been a visiting instructor at a Sevier County High School home economics class, and she has even helped jury an area crafts show.

"I've enjoyed it. I've gone to four Pi Phi conventions to set up the shop and get it ready to go. We either drive the van or ship the merchandise and fly. It was exciting to see convention. I work with the clubs and talk with the chairmen, but I was thrilled when I finally got to see convention with all the Pi Phis together. They truly, truly are sisters. They really love each other, and it shows that they've got the Arrowcraft Shop and Arrowmont School at heart." Veryl loved getting to see the faces of people she has talked to on the phone. "I think some of those ladies were just as anxious to meet us as we were to meet them. They have talked with us and know our names, and at convention they were able to put a name with a face. They walked into the shop at convention and there we were . . . it's good public relations. Now we feel as though we know them and they know us."

"Working here, has opened some doors and given me the opportunity to be acquainted with people. . . . It's not like any other bookkeeping job." Veryl works closely with shop manager Mary Dale Swan and was interim manager before Mary Dale joined Arrowcraft in 1987. "Faye (Cook) worked with me at that time on the buying of crafts." In short, nearly every aspect of the shop ends up in Veryl's office.

Does Arrowcraft still play an important part in its community after being in operation for almost 65 years? "Oh definitely, because some of our weavers depend on Arrowcraft for their livelihood." Veryl mentioned one weaver whose husband is disabled and her weaving supports them. "Then we have a couple of single ladies that weave. They make their living through Arrowcraft."

By producing for Arrowcraft, the weavers are spared the necessity of purchasing their yarn. "They could not afford to go into production by themselves. Some of the craftsmen depend on us almost entirely. They do sell their work at other places, but we're their major source of income. They sort of rely on us."

It's really a rewarding job to see that Pi Phis still are providing for people. Some of the craftspeople learn new skills at Arrowmont. "They go home, perfect it and bring their work here. That's also rewarding, the fact that both places are so deeply involved—Arrowmont for teaching and Arrowcraft for selling. The two are so entwined."

Veryl Monhollen has been keeping Arrowcraft's books for about 20 years. She attended Pi Beta Phi Elementary School and Pi Beta Phi High School and says working at Arrowcraft Shop lets her see the human part that the shop plays in the community.

Rick Stewart, carrying on the family tradition of coopering, teaches classes at Arrowmont

When Rick Stewart was in his mid-teens and just beginning to learn coopering from his grandfather, Alex, he probably never imagined that it would one day make him famous. Today he may be America's only full-time cooper. His name has become synonymous with the art of making cedar buckets, so much so that he gets mail and phone calls for "Rick Cooper." Brooke Shields owns one of Rick's butter churns given to her by "Roots" author Alex Haley who is one of Rick's biggest fans.

At Arrowmont to teach for the first time last March Rick explained, "There are so few coopers left and what I do is very traditional, just as my family has done it for two hundred years. Alex Haley really seems to admire the fact that I'm following the tradition in my family. He had a lot of respect for my grandfather." Rick Stewart was featured in the FOXFIRE 3 volume in 1975 and was a recipient of the National Heritage Fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts, Division of Folk Crafts. Rick said the fact that he is a fifth generation cooper follows along Haley's line of thinking. He recalled the time Haley first saw some of his cooperage.

It was several years ago. The Museum of Appalachia in Norris, Tennessee was having its annual Homecoming, a four-day music and crafts festival held every October. A crowd had gathered around Haley who was managing to stop at each craftsman's booth for just a second or two. "He held up one of my buckets, and I can remember how he spun it around and really looked at it." Haley set the piece down, greeted Rick, and the two were introduced by festival organizer, John Rice Irwin. "Later he started buying my work and writing letters. He wrote me several letters and presented me with many gifts. I see him at all the Homecomings, we keep in contact."

Since then, Rick's cooperage skills have taken him as far away as Japan on a 1988 visit funded by the National Endowment for the Arts. It was a shock because Rick was not familiar with public transportation in any form. "Everytime I went anywhere (in Japan) it was by bus, train, or subway. It seemed so large, with so many people, and such big cities." Rick also commented that the food was a little different, and customs were different. "It's a real, real respectful society," Rick concluded.

A possible trip to Ireland is in the early planning stages, but in the meantime Rick insisted that his studio is open. "I'm glad to share what I do with anyone who comes along. I'm willing to stop work, and I enjoy taking time to explain to people how I make things since so few people really know." That he produces work authentic to his family's style is of great importance to Rick. When folks watch him demonstrate the techniques his grandfather taught him he hopes to give them an understanding, a feel, for what actually takes place. Rick stated, "The finished product should always be a true piece of cooperage in every form, just as my ancestors made it."

Rick's work will be featured in the June issue of "Country Home" magazine.

Fifth generation cooper, Rick Stewart (center) helps one of his students with a piggin. The metal hoops are temporary and will be replaced by oak ones. Rick's technique uses no glue, nails or pegs.

Friendship is rekindled annually at Arrowmont

Doubtless there are dozens of people who think of coming to Arrowmont, but are kept away by the fear of going there alone. Many people do just that, however, and they make lasting friendships in an atmosphere conducive to getting to know others. Lynn Lavin and M.C. Jerkins are a perfect example. Years ago they met in a ceramics class taught by Meg Ford. They have been meeting at Arrowmont ever since. M.C. said in March, "We plan our vacations to do this together. It's not the only time we see each other, but it's the main time. Lynn lives in Atlanta which is a eight or nine hours from Florence, Alabama."

Lynn joked that in that first class they were "equally inexperienced! Both of us do ceramics as a hobby, so we were at the same skill level." They also claim that their personalities are similar, that they both "go with the flow." "We like the comraderie of the people, the different skill levels, and the fact that you can learn a lot from the students as well as from the instructors," M.C. said.

Both women prefer spring classes at Arrowmont over the ever-popular summer sessions. "Spring is a good time because Gatlinburg is not as crowded," explained M.C. "It's more crowded in the summer, but it's much nicer now."

Lynn and M.C. do have goals in mind and are planning for their futures by coming to Arrowmont every year. M.C. has a husband, three sons, and two part-time jobs, all of which take a lot of time. It doesn't leave much time for clay work at home. M.C. and Lynn both plan to work full-time for only a few more years. Lynn is a manager for a medical instruments company and says that once her house is paid off she won't have to work full-time. Then she can concentrate more on her art work. Until then, she said, "I'm reducing my debt and increasing my skill!"

Is it possible that in a few years M.C. and Lynn will rendezvous while selling their work at crafts fairs? They laughed at the idea and exclaimed, "We may be there together!"

M.C. Jerkins, Florence, Alabama and Lynn Lavin, Atlanta, Georgia have met so many times for classes at Arrowmont that fellow students sometimes ask, "Where's your other half?" The two were enrolled in a pottery class by Cynthia Bringle last March.

Washington Beta Jill Nelson (left) helps out in the Arrowmont store-room during her month-long assistantship last March. Jill lives in Olympia, Washington and traveled three and a half days on a Greyhound bus (during the drivers' strike) to get to Gatlinburg.

Mother encourages daughter to attend Arrowmont

It's a story worthy of any popular family TV show from the early 60s, but with a 90s twist: The scene opens in the comfortable "Greek" home of Washington Beta Constance Nelson. Mrs. Nelson has been to Arrowmont and thinks her unenthusiastic daughter, Jill, would benefit from a similar experience. One day Jill comes home for a visit and as she enters the guest room, there, on the vanity, is an Arrowmont brochure, scholarship application, assistantship application, and work exchange application. (June Cleaver would be proud.) Jill ignores the literature for the duration of her visit. But since all sitcoms have happy endings you can probably guess what happens. Jill decides to apply for an assistantship, and only eight weeks later she's moving into Teachers dorm, the very same dorm Mrs. Nelson once occupied!

Television guides never do a fine plot justice, therefore Jill, the star, will explain the rest. "The school, Arrowmont, is great. It's nothing like I expected at all!" Although Jill earned a B.A. in Fine Arts from Washington State University in Pullman, she says she has been a really naive art person. "I don't know what's out there. I should say I don't know how to tap into it. Being here has opened up doors all over the country through Arrowmont instructors and classmates. I didn't realize how important Arrowmont is. I didn't know what this place offered and how much it gives to people in knowledge and sharing."

After only one full week at Arrowmont Jill said she was already thinking about friends who could benefit from being at the school. "You know, I'm starting to think of people to put on the mailing list. I could tell this person, this person, and this person because they don't really know what's here. I'd say come! The experience of being here would be worth the price. Arrowmont is a nice little community."

"For me Arrowmont is like a hidden little gold mine. I wish I'd known this was here sooner. Instead, I found out two years after graduating when my mom handed me this information. If it hadn't been for that I would not have thought of Arrowmont and I wouldn't know what this place was like."

HELPING OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS

WASHINGTON BETAS sold Valentine carnations and hand delivered each flower with an attached note from the sender. The carnations were delivered early Valentine's Day morning across the Washington State University campus. All profits were given to Arrowmont.

ALABAMA GAMMAS enjoyed an afternoon Valentine's Day party at a local nursing home. Auburn University Pi Phis provided refreshments, entertainment, decorations and company for the residents.

The pledges of PENNSYLVANIA ETA visited a retirement home in Easton bringing Easter and Passover cards. The Lafayette College Pi Phi pledge class also has an organized adopt-a-grandparent program.

Two NORTH CAROLINA ALPHAS pedaled for charity in a 100 mile bike ride to benefit the American Lung Association of North Carolina. Anna Sarratt and Ann Rothrock rode fifty miles each day in a two-day route along the North Carolina coast. Through sponsors and donations, the two University of North Carolina students each raised more than $250.

The CALIFORNIA ETA Chapter sponsored a dance for residents of Orangewood Home. The home shelters neglected or abused children. One hundred spirited dancers joined with 20 Pi Phis and 20 Sigma Alpha Epsilons to dance the night away. Pi Phis brought a disc jockey and creatively decorated for the festive event. As if the dance wasn't enough to wear them out, a carnival with the Betas at the University of California at Irvine provided the Orangewood home children with face painting booths, ice cream and many donated toys as game prizes.

VIRGINIA EPSILON Patsy Bowman is in charge of the Big Sibling Program for Madison House, the University of Virginia's largest service organization. As Program Director and Activities Director, Patsy matches up about 250 volunteers with 250 underprivileged children from the Charlottesville community. Patsy's other duties include coordinating training seminars for the Big Siblings on such subjects as peer pressure, drug and alcohol abuse, violence and sexual abuse. In addition, Patsy plans events for Madison House such as the Easter egg hunt, Christmas party and trips for the children.

Missouri Beta Pi Phis from Washington University offer spirit and enthusiasm at the 1990 Special Olympics in St. Louis.

Ohio Eta members were pleased to support the ninth annual Easter Seals cake auction last February. Pi Phis from Denison University helped outside the auction by taking donations of two dollars in return for the annual Easter Seals calendar.

CALIFORNIA LAMBDA members recently participated in a local service project to help their own university. The University of California at Riverside's California Museum of Photography needed help painting the inside of the three story building for their opening. Joanna Brudivik organized a painting party for chapter members. After ten hours of hard work the job was finished.

MICHIGAN BETAS teamed up with the Lambda Chis from the University of Michigan to throw a special Easter party for children of Hikone, a low-income housing development. The children scrambled through bushes at the Pi Phi house searching for eggs and chocolate candies. The afternoon was filled with fun, games and refreshments.

PENNSYLVANIA ZETA provided a babysitting service for parents of children in the Washington Park School. Pi Phis from Washington and Jefferson College watched and amused children during a parent-faculty workshop.

Seventeen OREGON GAMMAS recently participated in the Tracy Hoffman Walk/Run to benefit the Leukemia Society. This is an annual event sponsored by Willamette's Kappa Sigma chapter. Pi Phi was recognized for outstanding support and Christina Bruce and Erika Johnson came in first and second place, respectively, in the women's division.

VIRGINIA ZETAS participated in Alpha Phi Omega's annual blood drive for the American Red Cross. Pi Phis from Virginia Tech donated the most among all the sororities. The chapter received a pizza party in recognition of their support.

Texas Betas Sarah Hinton, Lale Gravel, Heather Hopkins and Courtney Dooley celebrate Community Service Day at Southern Methodist University by entertaining underprivileged children from the S.T.E.P. Foundation with a visit to the Dallas Zoo.

As a community service project, IDAHO ALPHA members baked goodies for the Moscow Care Center. Chapter members delivered approximately ten dozen baked goods to the elderly residents of the care center.

CALIFORNIA KAPPA started a community service program as a component of the chapter's philanthropic endeavors. All actives are asked to fulfill five hours of local community service each quarter to encourage a spirit of volunteering. Each individual can pick her own way to contribute, whether it be with the United Way, Girl Scouts, or local hospitals. Recently, Pi Phis had fun helping children paint T-shirts at the Boys and Girls Club of San Diego. Collectively, the University of California at San Diego Pi Phis have contributed more than one thousand hours of community service this year.

During the first week of April, the OKLAHOMA BETA Pi Phi held a 24-hour jump-a-thon on a trampoline in their front lawn. The event was held for "Make Promises Happen," an organization of the Oklahoma Christian Camp which accommodates handicapped adults and children. Oklahoma State Pi Phi raised approximately $3,000 for this philanthropy.

VIRGINIA ETA Pi Phi at the University of Richmond helped raise $1700 for their local philanthropy, the Friends Association for Children, by seesawing in a campus-wide "Teeter for Tots" benefit. "Teeter for Tots" was the largest of many events sponsored by University of Richmond students in support of the Friends Association for Children which offers day care and social services for underprivileged children in the area. Each organization that participated raised three dollars per member in order to teeter. The organization was then responsible for keeping a seesaw moving for 24 hours. This event was especially exciting for Pi Phi because the chapter adopted the association as its local philanthropy in September. Members have been tutoring these tots one night a week since then.

VIRGINIA DELTA members began an Adopt-a-Highway project this spring. Pi Phis from Old Dominion University are responsible for the upkeep of four interchanges on Highway 264 to Virginia Beach.

FLORIDA ALPHA volunteers their help for the Rotary Club's annual Special Olympics. Stetson University Pi Phi help with registration, time races and pass out ribbons to the winners.

INDIANA GAMMA held the first annual Pi Beta Phi Founder's Day Run/Walk. Proceeds from the race benefited the chapter's local philanthropy, an organization that helps disadvantaged children called Christamore House, as well as our own Arrowmont and Holt House. The five kilometer race involved both students of Butler University and community members.

Many KANSAS ALPHAS are taking part in a new program at the University of Kansas called Best Buddies. The program pairs college students with mentally retarded citizens in the community. Each collegian is required to meet with her buddies twice a month and attend six group outings throughout the year. Best Buddies was founded at Georgetown University by Anthony Kennedy Shriver in 1985. The program is beginning to spread across the nation at many colleges.

Three Virginia Epsilons are chosen to live on The Lawn

What would Thomas Jefferson think if he knew that three Virginia Epsilon Pi Beta Phis are living on The Lawn this year? Considering that the University of Virginia has been coeducational for less than twenty years and that living on The Lawn is one of the most prestigious honors given, he might be a little surprised.

In September, The Lawn will welcome fifty carefully chosen residents, among them Pi Phis Jo Ellen Constine, Johnna Duncan, and Anne McKeehan. Lawn rooms are given to members of the senior class who have exemplified leadership, achievement, service, and dedication to the university. Jo Ellen is an accomplished performer: she has participated in many dramatic productions, and is the director of First Year Players, a dramatic troupe for first year students. Jo Ellen was also the founder of the "Silhouettes," the University's acappella singing group for women. In addition, Jo Ellen is a member of the University Guide Service and has received numerous awards for her dedication to the university.

Johnna Duncan's face is often seen on the T.V. screen during University of Virginia football games. Johnna has been a Varsity cheerleader for two years and is an intramural aerobics instructor. In addition, she has a GPA of 3.76 and is a member of the Golden Key Honor Society and of Beta Gamma Sigma, which is the highest academic honor given in the McIntire School of Commerce.

Anne McKeehan's interests and talents cover a broad spectrum. Her first year, she served as a judge for the university's Judiciary Council, was selected to be a Judiciary Counselor during her second year, and is currently the first person to hold the newly created office of Senior Judiciary Counselor. Anne was a varsity swimmer for two years, has been Pi Phi's External Social Chairman for the past two years, and has still found the time to perform in several theatrical productions! And, thanks to Anne, the Virginia Epsilon chapter of Pi Beta Phi now has an ever expanding Parents' Club, which pro-notes parents' interactions with Pi Phi.

Virginia Epsilon Pi Phis descend on Thomas Jefferson's Lawn! (L-R) Johnna Duncan, Anne McKeehan and Jo Ellen Constine were selected to live on The Lawn at U.Va. for their demonstration of leadership, service and dedication.

Women have been allowed to live on The Lawn for less than twenty years and comprise less than one half of The Lawn's fifty residents. It is very unusual that three women from the same sorority would be selected. However, if Mr. Jefferson had had the privilege of knowing any Pi Phis, he would have been proud to have them as residents on The Lawn.

LONG TERM CARE PLAN NOW AVAILABLE TO MEMBERS OF PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY

ASK YOURSELF: What would happen if I suddenly required nursing home care?

Where would the money come from and would it seriously deplete my hard-earned savings?

Could I continue to enjoy my previous lifestyle?

Because many good people deplete their life's savings for nursing home care, Pi Beta Phi members now have the opportunity to apply for coverage under the Long Term Care Plan. With this excellent plan, you can:

Choose your benefit amount—up to $3,000 per month

Choose your lifetime benefit limit—Unlimited or four years

Choose your deductible period—benefits begin after the 20th or 100th consecutive day of a covered nursing home stay

Your coverage is renewable for life; premiums do not increase with age; benefits continue upon your return home; and benefits are paid in addition to other insurance.

For complete information about the Long Term Care Plan, write to our Administrator:

Insurance Administrators Co.
216 North 11
Lincoln, NE 68508
(Telephone: 402-475-6251)

The other plan available is the Pi Beta Phi Hospital Indemnity Plan which was established in 1969. This plan continues to be improved because of a large participation by fraternity members. If you are interested, please also write to Insurance Administrators Co.

SHORT STORIES

OF SAGACIOUS SISTERS

Iowa Gamma, Iowa State University

Members gathered last February for a scholarship dinner held to recognize the academic achievement of Iowa Gammas. Thirty-two women received awards for improvement in their grade point average. Twenty-five women attained a GPA of 2.75–3.14, sixteen between 3.15–3.49 and nine women made the Dean's List with GPAs of 3.5 or higher.

Kansas Beta, Kansas State University

The chapter was the sole recipient of the Kansas State University Presidential Award of Fraternal Excellence for 1989. The award recognizes the achievements of the sororities and fraternities at K-State.

Kansas Beta Betsy Berkley received the Bramage-McCain Scholarship in the amount of $3900 for the 1990–91 school year based on her outstanding performance on Kansas State University's varsity volleyball team.

Texas Alpha, University of Texas

Two Texas Alphas, Kerry Keiser and Sarah Lenhart, were recently inducted into Orange Jackets. Orange Jackets is the oldest women's honorary service organization at the University of Texas. Members act as hostesses of the university. In order to be eligible for the organization, one must have an overall GPA of a 3.0, demonstrate excellence in leadership and in serving the UT and Austin communities.

Texas Epsilon, University of North Texas

Last semester the chapter developed a new approach to career development awareness. This new program called "Career Blurbs" has Pi Phi alumnae, their husbands, or the parents of actives who are instructors on campus speaking for 10–15 minutes about their own academic specialization. The subjects are varied and each "blurb" is enhanced by the personality of each professor.

Missouri Beta, Washington University

Adina Kalish, Jennifer Rubenstein, Lisa Wolf, Brooke Congor, Beth Tieman and Jennifer Wesbord attended the Midwest Political Leadership Training Seminar at Northwestern University last February. Students from several midwestern universities attended this one-day event.

Indiana Gamma, Butler University

Five members were selected for membership in the sophomore honorary, Lambda Sigma. Beth Arvan, Barb Butler, Lori Davenport, Tracey Kane and Heather Leach are the honored Pi Phis.

Tennessee Beta, Vanderbilt University

The Honor Council is a very important organization at Vanderbilt. It is composed of representatives from all undergraduate schools and classes, with the purpose of promoting the honor code on campus. Three Tennessee Betas were elected to this prestigious organization: Lucy Roberts, Beth Wooten and Erin Pope.

Arizona Beta, Arizona State University

Robie Kakonge has been named the news editor of a new magazine titled "Campus Co-Ed." Robie has served on the staff of two top-rated Arizona newspapers, The Arizona Republic and The Phoenix Gazette.

Liz Burley, Alabama Gamma, was named the best Panhellenic delegate for 1989. The selection was made by the Panhellenic executive officers of Auburn University.

CELEBRATE OREGON ALPHA!

Mark your calendars for October 26-28, 1990 for the 75th Anniversary celebration of Pi Beta Phi's chapter at the University of Oregon. Plans include a tailgate party before the Stanford vs. Oregon football game, semi-formal dinner and dance on Saturday night and a brunch Sunday at the Pi Phi house.

Colorado Alpha, University of Colorado

Chapter President Lisa Danielson is honored with a very special scholarship for her active role at the university and her academic record. The Coors Veteran's Memorial Scholarship, awarded to outstanding sons and daughters of military personnel who have died in the line of duty, was awarded to Lisa her sophomore year. The scholarship involves grants which amount to $5,000 over a period of three years. Lisa, whose father was missing in action in Vietnam, received one of the highest monetary awards given by Coors. She currently maintains a 3.3 GPA in the business school and is an active member of Order of Omega, Golden Key and the CU Marketing Association.

Tennessee Gamma, University of Tennessee-Knoxville

Angie Phillips was selected to become a member of the national nursing honor society, Sigma Theta Tau. Andrea White was initiated into the professional music fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota.

California Kappa, UC-San Diego

Pi Phis from UC San Diego have been trying their hand at editing and publishing a Greek newsletter for their university. California Kappa Crissy Gilvian and David Hirko of Delta Tau Delta originated and edited the first edition of UCSD's "Greek Minutes" in 1989. "Greek Minutes" is now in full swing with Carrie Weiss as one of the current editors. The newsletter announces philanthropic events, reports sports tournament results, publishes a social calendar and includes an opinion section addressing topics important to the Greek community.

Arkansas Alpha, University of Arkansas

Lisa Hanie, senior, is president of Kadettes this year. Kadettes is a group which supports the campus Army ROTC and provides campus and community service. This year Kadettes will do fund-raisers for The Knights of Columbus and their philanthropy that gives aid to underprivileged children.

Leadership runs in the Barron family. Ashley Barron, Texas Delta, served her chapter at Texas Christian University as Chapter President. Amy Barron, right, will follow in her sisters footsteps as Chapter President but will serve at Southern Methodist University.

Newly initiated Indiana Zeta Nicole Pesavento was recently elected as senator at large for Ball State University. She served on the freshman senate this past year.

Arkansas Beta, University of Arkansas at Little Rock

The chapter held a very special Founders' Day in April. The theme was "Arrows Around America." Food, typical of different areas of the country, was served to the many Pi Phis in attendance.

Texas Beta, Southern Methodist University

The chapter has several members serving office in campus organizations. Lauren Brode is President of Program Council; Mandy McMames is the Vice President of Student Foundation; Cheryl Meachum is Secretary of Student Foundation.

Nebraska Beta, University of Nebraska

Jane Gleason, Stephanie Holsten, Jill Pilakowski, Abbie Yound and Kara Gappa were initiated into Pi Lambda Theta. The organization is the Teachers College honorary for those students who are second semester sophomores with a GPA of 3.5 or higher. Jill serves as Recording Secretary and Abbie is the Public Relations officer.

Missouri Alpha, University of Missouri

Katie Collins, a sophomore, is a new member of the Alumni Association Student Board. Members of the board serve as a link between alumni and students and assist with scholarship events as well as meetings and class reunions.

Nevada Alpha, University of Nevada

Heidi Dankel has been elected to the Student Senate. She will serve a one year term, representing the College of Arts and Science.

California Epsilon, San Diego State University

Chelsea Griffin is a peer educator for a new on-campus organization called "Student-to-Student." The organization is a comprehensive drug and alcohol awareness peer group. Members speak to high school and university classes, clubs and other groups.

Illinois Alpha, Monmouth College

The Panhellenic Council held their annual installation banquet in March. Pi Phi Debbie Carlson was installed as the new Vice President and Secretary of the Council.

Ohio Delta, Ohio Wesleyan University

Eileen Seeholzer just received a Pew Grant to do research this summer. She will present her research to Duke University. Also, Kelly Carles was recently accepted to the Duke University graduate department in microbiology. She received a grant, tuition and an $11,000 stipend.

Ohio Zeta, Miami University

The new President of the Panhellenic Council is Laurie Priboth. Laurie previously held the position of Vice Carolyn Whifford, Nevada Alpha, was selected as Reynold's School of Journalism's Senior Scholar. This honor is given to the most outstanding senior at the University of Nevada's Journalism School.

President of Finance for Panhellenic.

Missouri Gamma, Drury College

Working to build alumni relations and school spirit at Drury College are Gretchen Prather, Ellen Breithaupt, Jill Bright, Anne Peters, Niki Wheeler, Jacquelin Campbell, Kristie Lock, Michelle Mettlach, Joan Perkins, Laura Rushing and Yasmine Zwerenz. These young women are Drury Ambassadors. Students are chosen based on GPA, campus involvement and faculty interviews. Only 35 are chosen each academic year.

Alabama Betas eagerly await the arrival of their guests for the first annual Wine and Blue dinner at the University of Alabama. The dinner featured individual award presentations and many spirited songs.

California Lambdas Allison Jung, left, and Jeanie Cho, right, were the organizers of the Arrowspike volleyball tournament. The Pi Phis at UC-Riverside had 25 teams participate in the campus-wide tournament.

Forty-eight Pi Phis gathered in Champaign, Illinois for the Regional Workshop of Lambda, Mu and Nu collegiate provinces. T-shirts for the weekend were designed with the theme, "Kick off to a winning decade."

Texas Epsilon, North Texas State University

Pi Phis are learning a lot about contemporary Soviet culture. Members of the chapter are exchanging letters with people from the Soviet Union. The Pi Phi received their "Peace Pals" through an organization called Peace Links Worldwide, Inc., which concentrates on grass-roots education about the Soviet Union.

Iowa Eta, Drake University

The chapter placed third in Sweetheart Sing, a song and skit competition between Greek chapters. Members met with success with their own rendition of "Mary Poppins." All proceeds from the event were donated to local charities. Pi Beta Phi was requested to repeat their performance at the University Governor's Ball, an honor extended to the top three finishing acts.

Pennsylvania Zeta, Washington and Jefferson College

The chapter boasts three Beta Scholars. Qualifications of a Beta Scholar consist of maintaining an overall GPA of 3.7. Honored Pi Phis are Ann Hartle, Cheri Bugajski and Jeanne Pruss.

Mississippi Alpha, University of Southern Mississippi

Laura Furman and Angie Trest were honored for their many contributions to both Pi Phi and the USM Greek system when they were awarded a Junior Panhellenic Scholarship.

Georgia Alpha, University of Georgia

Lori Cutler was recently elected Vice President of the University of Georgia chapter of Habitat for Humanity. Lori succeeded Amanda Ellis, another Pi Phi, who founded the chapter on Georgia's campus.

Washington Beta, Washington State University

The chapter house was selected to be part of the Pullman Home Tours. Washington Beta's house was selected as a representative of sorority living. The tours were open to the community and profits received were given to the agriculture and home economics departments of the University.

New York Zeta Nancy Ellen Wemmerus is the Editor-in-Chief of The Colgate News.

ALUMNAE YOUR HELP IS NEEDED!

1. Fill out a Rush Information Form (RIF). See form in this magazine. Additional forms are available from the Alumnae Club Rush Information Chairmen (ACRIC) listed in this issue or from Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, MO 63105.
2. Return the completed form to the ACRIC in the rushee's home city or send a personal letter directly to the Membership Chairman of the appropriate chapter. If the form is sent directly to the chapter, the ACRIC from the rushee's club area would appreciate receiving a copy of factual information.
3. Although only one RIF is needed for each rushee, letters are welcome from all alumnae who may wish to write.

Pi Phi featured in Quilt San Diego

Quilting became a way of life for Nancy Skelton Johnson, Illinois Zeta, in 1984 when she signed up for a class taught by Joan Jefferson Reynolds, Colorado Alpha. Nancy's beginning interest has led her to numerous classes and workshops in several states and in six short years she has become well known in quilting circles for her ability in design and color. Nancy's quilt, "Star Crystal," was designed for her quilt guild and was subsequently selected to represent California in Houston's Quilt Festival in 1988. That led to "Crystal Vision."

Quilt San Diego, a non-profit organization, in conjunction with the San Diego Historical Society is sponsoring "Visions—A New Decade," May 19–July 15 at the San Diego Historical Society Museum. This exhibit features 83 juried quilts representing 34 states and five countries in addition to 40 quilts from the California Heritage Collection. Planning for the exhibit took almost three years and to assist in raising funds, Nancy was asked to design and piece a quilt. The result, "Crystal Vision," has traveled all over San Diego County for several months promoting the upcoming exhibit and raising funds through the sale of opportunity tickets. On July 15, some lucky person will take home "Crystal Vision" following the long awaited drawing. Once again through the world of art, a Pi Phi has touched the lives of many and brought visual pleasure to thousands. Nancy, a member of the San Diego Alumnae Club since 1955, has served in numerous offices while rearing three children. She is currently remodeling her house to add a quilt studio!

Maryland-Washington DC Junior Group focuses on the detection and prevention of cancer

The health issues facing women today encompass a variety of illnesses that at one time were considered to be male dominated. One area of concern is the increasing number of newly diagnosed cases of cancer in the female population. These changes in women's health prompted the Junior members of the MD-DC Suburban Alumnae Club to dedicate a monthly meeting solely to the detection and prevention of those types of cancer most affecting the health of women today.

Dr. Ann Burke, a physician volunteering for the American Cancer Society (ACS), gave a talk on the risks associated with each cancer and the techniques recommended by ACS for early detection and prevention. Dr. Burke also showed a video tape demonstrating the three proper techniques of breast self exams. The five most deadly cancers to women are 1) lung; 2) breast; 3) colon; 4) uterine; and 5) ovarian. The risk of each cancer may depend on a woman's age, family history, personal and dietary habits, and physical condition. Early detection of breast and uterine cancer proved to be the most pressing issue for the members attending the meeting. The most important message stressed by both Dr. Burke and the ACS is early detection. In most cases, a correlation between early detection hence early treatment and survival rates can be made.

by Sbaron Nagle Olmstead

The American Cancer Society provides a variety of public education programs for those people interested in learning more about cancer. For more information about the ACS programs or volunteer opportunities contact your local chapter of the American Cancer Society or call toll free 1-800-ACS-2345.

As a volunteer for the American Cancer Society and a woman in the high risk category for breast cancer, I strongly recommend this program to all active chapters and alumnae groups. Have a volunteer from ACS give a talk at your next meeting. This program is very informative and could help save your life or the life of one of your sisters some day.

Three Indiana Epsilons spent their winter term on an independent mission trip. From the left, Betsy Boxell, Amy Hilgendorf and Katie Posts were in Brazil during the month of January building a community center outside the city of Recife.

New York Delta Mishtu Mukherjee is a senior meteorology major aspiring to be a broadcast meteorologist. She has been on television since the age of 19 preparing weather broadcasts for the Ithaca area. If you happen to miss this Cornell Pi Phi on TV you can catch her on weekends at a local radio station.

1990-91 Graduate Consultants

Noel Sparkman, TGC, is a graduate of Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. A native Texan, Noel received an accounting degree in May. Noel was involved in several professional organizations such as Beta Alpha Psi, the Accounting Society and the Pre-Law Society. She served the Texas Gamma chapter as the Chapter Treasurer. A member of Golden Key, Rho Lambda, and the Dean's List, Noel was the recipient of several university scholarships for academic excellence.

Shannon Strain is a psychology major with a business minor from Oklahoma State University. Shannon was a collegiate member of the Nominating Committee at the 1989 Convention. While at Oklahoma Beta, Shannon served as Assistant Membership Chairman and Secretary. Shannon enjoyed many activities on the OSU campus and was an avid intramural sports participant. Looking beyond her year as a TGC for Pi Beta Phi, Shannon plans to attend Oklahoma University's Health Sciences Center to pursue a masters degree in health administration or public health.

Krista Belt, Tennessee Gamma, will spend the 1990-91 school year as the RGC for Ohio Iota at Dayton University. Krista was Chapter President and held many other offices in the chapter including Informal Rush Chairman. A graduate of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Krista majored in elementary education. She plans to teach in an elementary school in the southeast after her year working for Pi Phi. Along with her Pi Phi activities, Krista was a Resident Assistant and a member of Order of Omega.

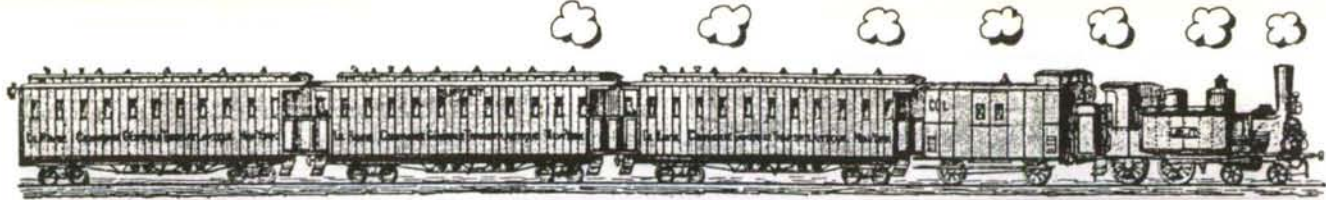

Julie Jacobson plans to use her English degree to pursue a career in public relations after her year as a TGC. A graduate of the University of Puget Sound, Julie devoted much of her time to Pi Beta Phi. She went from Pledge Class President, to VP Moral and then Chapter President. Julie was also involved on campus, as Order of Omega's vice president and as a UPS varsity cheerleader. Julie is a talented pianist and short story writer. Born in Heidelberg, Germany, Julie enjoys traveling and recently spent six weeks in Korea, Taiwan, China, Hong Kong and Japan.

Lisa Gregg traveled from her home in Albuquerque, New Mexico to Eugene, Oregon to attend the University of Oregon where she received a Bachelor of Arts in journalism degree. Previously Oregon Alpha's Chapter President, Lisa also served as VP Social. A member of Order of Omega, Lisa was nominated for Greek Woman of the Year and was accepted into Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Lisa also enjoyed working with Panhellenic. She will serve Pi Phi next years as a TGC.

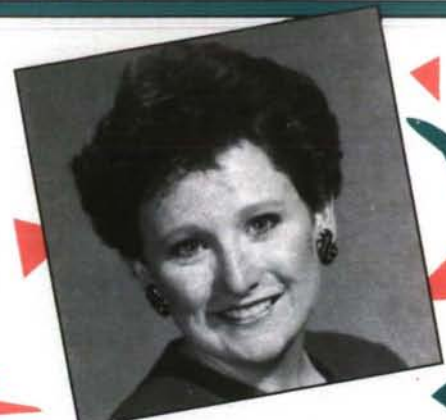

Kristin Browning graduated from the University of New Mexico in 1989 with a degree in organizational communication. As a New Mexico Alpha, Kristin was Chapter Membership Chairman, VP Social and Chapter President. Since her graduation, she has been busy on the alumnae side of Pi Phi while enrolled in graduate studies. She is the Albuquerque Junior Alumnae Group founder and President. Kristin will use her extensive Pi Phi experience as the RGC for the newly installed Arizona Gamma Chapter at Northern Arizona University.

Wendi Littell, California Eta, will be the RGC for Pi Phi's chapter at Yale University, Connecticut Beta. Wendi attended the University of California at Irvine where she received degrees in both psychology and sociology. Wendi served as Rush Chairman for her chapter and used the skills involved with that position to create and choreograph the skit, "Pi Phi Through the Ages," performed at the 1989 Convention. Wendi will seek additional education, pursuing a masters degree in social work after her year at Yale.

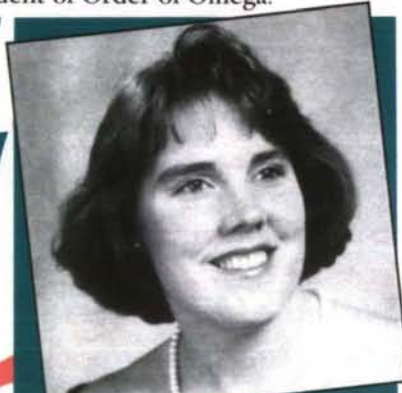

Tracy Nevill, Texas Epsilon, will be the resident consultant with Pi Phi's recolonized chapter at Birmingham Southern College in Birmingham, Alabama. Tracy, a graduate of North Texas State University, received her degree in business-marketing management. Tracy served Pi Phi as VP Mental and had extensive Panhellenic experience. She was named the best junior delegate for Panhellenic and Outstanding Female Greek on Campus. A rush counselor, and vice president of scholarship for Panhellenic, Tracy was also president of Order of Omega.

Salli Preston, Texas Eta, has a B.S. degree in economics from Texas A&M University. She plans to go back to school eventually to receive her M.B.A. and become a Management Consultant. Salli was selected as the distinguished student in the college of liberal arts while being involved in Pi Phi as Chapter President and VP Social. Salli will leave her native Texas to live in Princeton, New Jersey where she will be the RGC for New Jersey Alpha members at Princeton University.

Karman Kidd, Arkansas Beta, is a graduate of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. She received an accounting degree and will use this degree after completing law school to become a tax attorney. Karman has been an officer in the chapter since she pledged. She served as Pledge Class President, Treasurer and Chapter President. Karman will be employed as a Regional Traveling Consultant, based at Mississippi Beta and Alabama Gamma.

Neele Pidcock, Ohio Alpha, will travel to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania to be the RGC for the women at Pennsylvania Theta, Villanova University. Nealie earned a Bachelor of Science degree with a zoology emphasis from Ohio University. Nealie was VP Moral, Chapter President, and was on the Centennial Committee for Ohio Alpha. A member of several honoraries including Mortar Board, Order of Omega, and Chimes junior honor society, Nealie will seek graduate studies in health service administration prior to attending medical school.

Missy Smith, Ohio Alpha, will be the resident consultant for Pi Phi's newest chapter located at Marquette University, Wisconsin Delta. While at Ohio University, Missy was active in the Student Senate, Order of Omega and served as a student tour guide. She was also senior class vice president. As an Ohio Alpha, Missy was Assistant Treasurer and Panhellenic Delegate. Missy received her undergraduate degree in advertising and marketing and plans to further her education with a master's degree in communications and business.
