Pi Beta Phi's 1995-97 Grand Council

Wednesday, June 28 at the 1995 Convention, Pi Beta Phi's Grand Council for the 1995-97 biennium was installed. Six members are continuing on the Council, with the addition of one new member.

Former Grand Vice President of Collegians Beth van Maanen Beatty will serve the Fraternity as the new Grand President. Grand President Emeritus Alice Weber Johnson, who first met Beth as a Texas Gamma collegian, performed a beautiful installation ceremony, making Beth the Fraternity's 19th Grand President. Beth van Maanen Beatty graduated from Texas Tech University with a B.A. in Spanish/business. Under Beth's helm as Chapter President, Texas Gamma won the Balfour Cup in 1958, when the chapter was only five years old. Following graduation, she was hired as Graduate Counselor (now called Resident Graduate Consultant) for Florida Gamma at Rollins College. Beth has served as President, Treasurer and Alumnae Club Rush Information Chairman of the Bay Area, Texas Alumnae Club, Province Coordinator and Collegiate Province President. In addition, she has been Second Alternate Delegate to the National Panhellenic Conference, Director of Academic Standards and Grand Secretary. An avid sports fan, Beth, between Pi Phi work and family, often can be found exercising on her treadmill while reading Sports Illustrated.

The Fraternity's Grand Council for the upcoming biennium, front: Sarah Ruth Mullis, Beth van Maanen Beatty, Carolyn Pavletich Lesh; back: Lou Ann Montgomery Carter, Betty Blades Lofton, Carol Inge Warren, Maurine Hager Jones.

Pi Beta Phi's newest Grand Council member is native Montanan and Montana Alpha, Maurine Hager Jones, Grand Vice President of Program Development. She graduated from Montana State University with a B.S. degree in chemistry. While in college, she served as Chapter Treasurer and Vice President. After college, she was employed by Dow Chemical Company in Michigan and California. Maurine has served as Contra Costa, California Alumnae Club President, Alumnae Advisory Committee Financial Advisor for California Beta and Upsilon Collegiate Province President. In the fall of 1990, she was appointed to a newly-created position, Assistant to the Grand Treasurer. When, at the 1991 Convention, legislation brought on a new director position, Director of Finance, Maurine was the perfect candidate. She served in that capacity for four years.

New to the position of Grand Vice President of Collegians is South Carolina Alpha Sarah Ruth (Sis) Mullis. Sis, a resident of Atlanta, Georgia, served as Grand Vice President of Programming for four years. Texas Delta Carolyn Pavletich Lesh of Richardson, Texas begins her second term as Grand Vice President of Alumnae. Also beginning her second term is Grand Vice President of Finance Lou Ann Montgomery Carter, Oklahoma Alpha from Wilmington, Delaware.

A ten-year veteran of Grand Council, Carol Inge Warren continues in the capacity of Grand Vice President of Membership. A North Carolina Beta, Carol resides in Lisle, Illinois. Betty Blades Lofton, Indiana Gamma, of Indianapolis, Indiana will serve her third term as Grand Vice President of Philanthropies.

WOW

the West Was Fun

Marriott's Desert Springs Resort in Palm Desert, California played host to the Fraternity's 60th Biennial Convention June 22-29, 1995. More than 1,000 Pi Phi's participated in the festivities of convention—"Blazing New Trails, Reaching New Heights." The week combined education and legislation, ceremonies and awards presentations with fun and friendship punctuating each event.

CLOCKWISE: Collegians take a break on one of the patios of the hotel.

Dr. Christine Kajikawa Wilkinson addressed the convention body on Wednesday.

Members took in sessions which were both educational and entertaining.

Legislative Committee Chairman Lisa Masters, Illinois Epsilon Jennifer Vogt, Dee Rippetoe Richardson, Iowa Beta Julie Holmes, Sheila Consaul, Washington Beta Tiffany Sommers and Parliamentarian Jan Shrader Falk worked on legislation.

Nominating Committee members shared the task of preparing a slate of officers for the convention body: Robin McPherson Rohrback, Louisiana Beta Barbara Ellen Newstadt, Missouri Alpha Tara Caldwell, Ellie Moore Merrick, Chairman Jane Houchens Tuten and Texas Eta Jill Mason.

Members from Iowa Beta at Simpson College celebrate taking home the biggest award of the convention—the coveted Balfour Cup for Pi Beta Phi's best collegiate chapter.

1995-97 Directors, front: Director of Chapter House Corporations Julie Geiger Shannon, Director of Fraternity Education Ruth Neel Noble, Director of Membership Kay Knittle Brock, Director of Chapter Support Region I Joanne MaGirl Arnold, Director of Chapter Support Region II Linda Burrows Priest, Director of Rush Melissa Dates Schmidt, Director of Alumnae Programming Lois Huston Ross; back: Director of Finance Karen Consalus Price, Director of Chapter Support Region III Joan Scholes Hill, Director of Collegiate Extension Jane Landreth Russell, Director of Alumnae Communications Emily Russell Tarr, Director of Alumnae Extension Mary Lu Pendergrast Meixell, Director of Academics Kathy Anderson Witte, Director of Collegiate Programming Fran DeSimone Becque, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees Carolyn Cromb Brada.

After four years of service as Pi Beta Phi's Grand President and four years as Grand Vice President of Collegians, Jo Ann Minor Roderick retired from Grand Council at the 1995 Convention. In a tribute to Jo Ann at the Wine Carnation Banquet, fellow Grand Council member Carolyn Lesh shared, "Jo Ann led us to improve our view of the Fraternity and the Greek system as a whole by widening our scope of vision—our range of perceptions, thoughts and actions. By widening our scope, Grand Council made the choice to accept changes, to better understand, and to grow in our thinking. She led us to see a lighter, brighter and grander view."

To honor Jo Ann, beginning with the 1995-96 awards, the Top Ten Chapter Awards will be known as the Jo Ann Minor Roderick Chapters of Excellence Awards. In addition, the Pi Beta Phi Foundation announced they will give a collegiate scholarship in her honor.

The final salute to Jo Ann came nearly an hour after the Wine Carnation Banquet when convention attendees gathered on all floors of the hotel's eight-story atrium lobby to serenade the outgoing Grand President. "Remember" and "My Pi Phi Girl" filled the atrium as Pi Phis, many arm in arm, sang with heartfelt thanks for all that Jo Ann had done for Pi Beta Phi.

Not one to sit still for long, Jo Ann has already begun her next Pi Phi job, as Graduate Consultant Coordinator. She is a former Collegiate Province President and Director of Academic Standards who is looking forward to going back to her work with collegiate chapters on the local level as well. Oklahoma Beta, her own chapter, will benefit from her years of experience as she returns to their Alumnae Advisory Committee.

Oklahoma Beta's Chapter President Erin Holloman shared her thoughts on Jo Ann Roderick, "It's like Michael Jordan retiring, it's hard for the fans to let him go."

Grand President Jo Ann Roderick, right, presents Ann Dudgeon Phy with the Dorothy Weaver Morgan Award for Fraternity Loyalty. A former Director and Grand Secretary, Ann's most recent service to Pi Phi has been as first president of the Pi Beta Phi Foundation.

In a beautiful initiation ceremony performed by Grand President Jo Ann Roderick, Pollyanna Young Russell and Reneé Zach Wahle became members of Pi Beta Phi. The two honor initiates work at Pi Beta Phi Central Office in St. Louis, Missouri. The California Lambda Chapter at University of California, Riverside acted as host chapter.

Polly was born in Ventura, California in 1931 and attended Memphis State College. She and her husband Les moved to St. Louis in 1954 after he was discharged from the Navy. Polly worked in the home raising their two daughters, then took a position with a bank. For more than fourteen years, Polly has worked in Pi Beta Phi Central Office. Initially hired in 1981 as Magazine Agency and Jewelry Department Manager, Polly also worked in chapter accounting and as receptionist. In 1989, she began her current job as Accounts Receivable Bookkeeper. Polly keeps in close contact with Pi Phi chapters and clubs in performing such tasks as receiving money for dues, fees and bills. In her free time, Polly likes to go to movies, read and knit. She and her husband have one grandson and one granddaughter.

Reneé was born in 1970 and grew up in St. Louis, Missouri as the youngest of six children. In 1992 she graduated from St. Louis University summa cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration. Her major course of study was management information systems. While attending St. Louis University, Reneé was a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, national business honor society. After graduation, Reneé was hired as Systems Administrator for Pi Beta Phi Central Office where she provides computer user support and training for Central Office employees. In addition, she maintains the local area network and database management system while serving as liaison between hardware and software vendors. Reneé enjoys exercising, gardening, cooking and spending time with husband John and Brittany spaniel Jenkins.

Deborah Coburn Rice makes an announcement about the Directions Program.

Behind the scenes at convention was a core of local alumnae who attended to every detail, made the most impossible logistical nightmares a reality, and, at the same time, were marvelous hostesses.

Six years ago, the Palm Springs-Desert Cities, California Alumnae Club was started by Oregon Alpha Mary Sue Woolfolk DuBach and Wyoming Alpha Thyra Godfrey Thomson. The philosophy of the alumnae club is, "We're going to have fun!" With 39 dues-paying members, the club holds meetings in members' homes where food is catered, fun is at the top of the agenda and Pi Phi songs are always sung. Grand President Jo Ann Roderick said the club is an ideal one in her book and she commented that they are some of the most sensitive women she has ever known. Friendship and support are the backbone of their existence—their goal is to simply enjoy one another.

It was from this small yet incredibly cohesive club that the 1995 Convention Executive Committee was formed. In January of 1993, Denise Millett Moore got a phone call in which she was informed that Grand Council had decided to have the 1995 Convention in Palm Desert. Denise was given the task of forming a planning committee. She decided to be General Chairman, and as she began asking other Pi Phis for their participation, met with great success. Not one person turned her down.

National support to this committee was provided by Convention Site Coordinator Nancy Trogman and Convention Coordinator Barbara Van Luven.

After months of planning, the local alumnae were delighted to see the Pi Phis descend on the desert. Their hard work and efforts made the "Venture West" a memorable trip.

My favorite part of any sporting event—the Olympics, NCAA Final Four, U.S. Open—is the “highlight reel,” or five minutes of clips edited to music recapping the occasion. I have found that with major events in my own life, I develop my own “highlight reel” of images. The year 1995, though still three months shy of its end, has already brought numerous images to mind. They include ... O.J. Simpson sitting in the courtroom ... an Oklahoma City fireman cradling a young child ... Captain Scott O’Grady in uniform recalling the details of his survival in enemy territory ... and the most recent, cadets in the quadrangle of the Citadel celebrating after Shannon Faulkner’s departure from the institution.

There are a myriad of sides one could take with the Citadel issue. Some people think Shannon should never have been allowed to attend the South Carolina military academy; others cannot believe that the public-supported institution in its 153 years of existence has never admitted women. Some agreed with the school’s eleventh-hour plea that Ms. Faulkner was not physically fit to endure the Citadel regime; others believe she should have been in better shape and then, could have handled it.

I’m not going to attempt to make a political statement here, though I do have my own opinion ... this, coming from the first girl on the boys cross country team in high school. You would have had to carry me out of the Citadel on a stretcher.

Whatever your own opinion on the matter, I’d like to ask one question. Would Shannon have been stronger had she not been alone? When other service-affiliated institutions have gone coed, it was done en masse, by a class of women. Nineteen years after the first class of 119 women entered West Point, Rebecca Marier graduated first in the 1995 class.

In light of current circumstances, I am further impressed with the pioneering spirits of the twelve Founders of Pi Beta Phi. Nearly 130 years ago, these young women had the vision to form the first national secret society for women, at a time when only five state universities admitted women. They were courageous and determined to make a place for their sex in the arena of higher learning. One of their tenets of existence was to offer support to other path-breaking women entering college.

As we go to press, other women’s issues surround me—the United Nations-sponsored Women’s Conference in China, the 75th anniversary of the 19th amendment and a fight to bring the statue of women’s suffrage leaders from the basement of the U.S. Capitol to a more appropriate and honorable place—and I realize, we still have trails to blaze.

Mary Bywater Cross and I found ourselves side by side at an autographing event just a year ago this month and formed a happy relationship, but only when "Treasures in the Trunk" appeared among the distinguished authors chosen in The ARROW (Winter 1993) did I discover that she is a Pi Phi. Small wonder that we enjoyed each other's company!

She told me that she is sending another manuscript to her publisher—this one to be on the Mormon quilting tradition. I am sure all Pi Phis are going to be proud of this book too.

I just received my Summer 1995 ARROW and wanted to drop a note to congratulate you on your continued progress and success with the publication. Your current (new) format is crisp, easy to read, and really shows off the greatness of Pi Beta Phi and her members! Again congratulations and thank you for continuing to send me your fine magazine.

What a timely issue of The ARROW! I had just received a surprise visit from my pledge mother, Marion (Beth) Rouse Tesch, Wyoming Alpha, whom I hadn't seen in 26 years and two weeks later was the marriage of my daughter Jennifer Bentson, Louisiana Beta, when I finally picked up The ARROW (Spring 1995) and read all the "Family Ties" stories. Pi Phi has been a rewarding experience for me, probably more so after college and during my daughter's pledge and initiation, in which I participated.

Thank you for "Pi Phis in Politics" (Summer 1995 ARROW). It was of special interest to me as I have been through four elections; three county wide, and the last two unopposed. I was first elected to the Plano, Texas Independent School District in 1976. Today, I serve as vice chair of a nine-member board of trustees for the Collin County Community College District. We are celebrating our 10th year, and I am proud that I spearheaded the petition drive which established our College District, and have continuously served as a trustee since the college was founded in 1985. We now have three campuses, and a fourth will open in the fall of 1995. The College District has provided educational training and service to thousands of individuals.

I was also a charter member of the Texas Gamma Chapter and have enjoyed maintaining close friends across our state from those wonderful years. So much was gained from my commitment to quality education.

Like most girls my age, I am getting to the point in my life where my future is staring me in the face. I am making decisions in school that will affect the rest of my life. It is about this time when I begin to reminisce about my younger years. One fond memory of mine is kindergarten. The best thing about kindergarten was my best friend, Molly. We used to take turns playing Daisy Duke from the "Dukes of Hazard," and always pretended to be sisters. Molly and I were inseparable. When I graduated kindergarten, I never heard from Molly again. I always remembered Molly as I was growing up, but I began to believe she was a figment of my imagination. Where did she go? Will I ever see her again?

Now I jump to bid day at the University of Colorado, Boulder. I picked up my bid and found out I was a Pi Phi! This was one of the happiest moments in my life! When I walked over to the Pi Phi sign to see who my new pledge sisters were, the first person I saw was Molly. She ran up to me, gave me a huge hug, and told me how happy she was we were going to be together. Arm in arm we set off for the Pi Phi house to meet all of our new sisters. It was like a dream come true—kindergarten again, only twelve years later.

I am writing this on Molly's birthday, March 22. Molly is not here. This July 3 will be one year since she passed away. Not a day goes by that I don't think about her and wish she was here, experiencing life with me again. For eleven brief months my kindergarten dream came true: Molly and I were sisters, and thanks to Pi Beta Phi, we always will be!

Heroes in Our Midst

So much has happened during the past biennium and it has gone by so quickly.

It seems we just left Orlando and the magic of friendship in Pi Beta Phi and here we are venturing west—blazing new trails and reaching new heights.

I don't generally talk about world news—in fact, I try to avoid the news because it always seems so depressing. But, since I live in Oklahoma, the bombing of the Federal Building in Oklahoma City has been on my mind and the focus of all news media. That devastating act of violence changed our lives. Oklahomans, together with the entire nation, joined hands to embrace the victims and their families. The courage, caring and generosity were overwhelming. Even the toughest news commentators struggled with emotions while telling stories of victims, rescuers and volunteers.

It is amazing how this affected those of us who live in Oklahoma, and the effect it had on our nation has been incredible. Our hearts have grown with each tear shed. We all thought this could never happen in Oklahoma ... the heartland ... the Bible belt ... a safe environment ... a place where the "good guys" live.

When describing the rescue workers, medical teams and volunteers, the media often referred to them as just "ordinary people who have become heroes." The rescue workers replied, "We're not heroes, we're just doing our job!"

As you might expect, Pi Phi played a major role in these heroic efforts. Past Phi Alumnae Province President and a new member on Arrowmont's Board of Governors Sue Ann White Hyde, who provides a true spark of leadership in our Fraternity, is Chairman of the Board for the Oklahoma County Red Cross. She spent every day and night at either the bombing site or in the Red Cross facility until the workers all left and the families were consoled. When I talked with Sue Ann, we both fought back tears as she told of Pi Phi being involved everywhere ... cooking all night for rescue workers, working with the FBI, helping as doctors, nurses and psychologists—working through organizations such as Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and churches, providing comfort for friends and families of the victims. The Oklahoma collegiate chapters served as drop-off sites in their communities for donations to the relief funds and personally participated in the immense task of providing necessities and raising money for rescue workers and victimized families, as well as standing in line to donate blood. The list could go on and on. As Sue Ann said, "If you want something done, pick up the phone ... they will be there ... the members of Pi Beta Phi." And Sue Ann is definitely one of those ordinary people who became a hero!

Every time I heard that phrase, I thought of some of the women I know—the leaders of Pi Beta Phi ... the volunteers, courageous, caring and generous ... willing to step forth and lead the way ... willing to work in the trenches ... just "ordinary people doing extraordinary things," willing to be our heroes.

Pi Phi has celebrated with women like this from the beginning, starting with those 12 young women who founded Pi Beta Phi. Did they ever do something extraordinary! Could they possibly have known I.C. or Pi Beta Phi would be flourishing 128 years later, initiating over 184,000 women, with 128 collegiate chapters spread throughout the United States and in Canada, and over 370 alumnae organizations spread throughout the world. Did these young women ever dream they would be considered heroines? They are!

We have also celebrated with Dr. May L. Keller, Emma Harper Turner and Anna Pettit as they traveled the difficult trails through the Smoky Mountains to establish a Settlement School—determined that the most needy district should be the one which Pi Beta Phi would enter. And the Pi Phi brought education and health care to Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Talk about doing extraordinary things! These Pi Phi were giants—and heroes to many!

And today, we continue our philanthropic efforts in Gatlinburg as the Arrowmont School of Arts & Crafts was just recently enhanced by a very successful capital campaign, many thanks to Chairman Jean Scott, the Capital Campaign Committee and many Pi Phi participants. Our students are enjoying the new dormitory, a new painting and drawing studio, Artist-in-Residence Studios and soon, a state-of-the-art wood studio. And the mission to "enrich lives through art" is as relevant today as the Settlement School was 85 years ago.

Today our financial security for educational and philanthropic purposes comes from the Pi Beta Phi Foundation, the fund-raising arm for the Fraternity. It was only through the foresight and determination of Past Grand President Carolyn Lichtenberg, the generosity of former Grand President Emeritus Marianne Reid Wild who left her estate to establish the Foundation, and the "get up and go" of the perfect Foundation President Ann Phy, that the future of our Fraternity, Pi Beta Phi Foundation, was established. What they have accomplished over the past five years is extraordinary!

It is pretty easy to look back in the past and praise all the right decisions made, and all the worthy goals accomplished. It is easy to spot those heroes. But I want you to look at the women of the '90s ... look at their accomplishments ... look at their challenges ... look at their future—our future.

This past year our collegians had a combined GPA of 3.025, the highest GPA ever. Sixty-eight chapters were above a 3.0, and 35 of them were above a 3.14. The dollars and hours collegians have given to philanthropic efforts is phenomenal, and they share their leadership abilities with the entire campus. The meaningful activities they promote and honors individuals and chapters receive are impressive, and yet, campuses are seeing a decline in interest in the Greek system and rush numbers continue to decrease; extension opportunities are few. They say on some campuses the top students are not interested because they only see the "parties and the fluff," and they don't think they have time for us, or they don't want to spend their hard earned dollars that way.

Why can't they see we offer a young woman leadership opportunities, academic support and a lifetime of friendship, a chance for a better quality of life? Perhaps we need a new sales approach, perhaps our advertising isn't saying the right thing and perhaps it is time for some changes. I know we hate that word "change," but look at how fast our world is changing and look at the needs of the women in the '90s. We must streamline from top to bottom, we must be less demanding of our officers and our members. We must make some changes. The woman of the '90s is busy. She is committed, intelligent, talented and she does it all, or tries to do it all. She carries a heavy class load, works part- or full-time, is a leader in campus organizations, is involved in philanthropic endeavors and lives in a very competitive world. She lives on a challenging campus. She is a great Pi Phi officer and a loving member. She is a good friend and she needs friends. Where do they find time for themselves? I can't imagine, but I do know we need to determine what is important and we need to go for it.

Educators say college students are turning more to courses that reflect their search for the meaning in life. There is a new emphasis on ethics and values, the effects of science and technology on society, love and justice. This is a big change from a decade ago when students sought an edge to compete for the highest-paying job.

Educators have found students are increasingly interested in courses dealing with quality-of-life issues. This tells us students are interested in things outside themselves, in society and in their communities, in environmental concerns and helping people in need. Yet, there is still room for fun. They have a love of life. These sound like wonderful young people—they sound like our future heroes! They sound like Pi Phi!

Perhaps this criticism and slight decline have been a blessing in disguise because it has made the groups in the Greek system look internally. We are not going to sit back and watch a bomb destroy the Greek system. We must begin to create a security system, to protect something we hold dear, and something we hope to share with many generations to come. As we prepare for the future, we honor our past. We want to preserve that heritage of excellence.

We are also challenged in the alumnae department as we are involved in an era when women are searching for free time, involved in competitive careers, young families, care of aging parents, on and on. We are facing a shrinking volunteer force ... and there is a need to prioritize activities outside the home and career. Is Pi Phi a priority? When you think about it, are we ever too old or too busy for friends? Yes, Pi Phi should be a priority and our alumnae department is diligently working to meet the needs of that busy '90s woman. With all the young leaders attending convention as Alumnae Delegates and representing Alumnae Advisory Committees and Chapter House Corporations, I would say our alumnae clubs are doing something right. It has been extremely encouraging to see the interest of our young members. Our future is not yet fixed—we are in the process of creating it.

Pi Phi has a leadership opportunity of a lifetime as we enter the chairmanship of the National Panhellenic Conference this fall. Jean Scott will represent Pi Phi as the incoming chairman and she has already instigated strategic planning with all the "alphabet organizations involved," as well as the NPC groups. Jean's leadership comes at a time it is most needed, and Jean is one of those ordinary people who will do extraordinary things—she will make a difference in the future of the Greek system. Perhaps I should say, she is making a difference!

During the past biennium the Constitution & Statutes and Policies & Standing Rules have been revised and will be voted upon at this convention, a new streamlined pledge program has been introduced and served as a pilot program for almost half of our chapters. We have laid the groundwork for future streamlining with a new Manual and Mailings format. We have made many improvements in Central Office procedures, thanks to a staff with a great deal of foresight. We have been delighted with the results from the Collegiate Leadership Seminars and the Alumnae Leadership Retreats. We do have a long way to go, but we are creating the future! I happen to think we have an outstanding Grand Council and I love them dearly, but we have to give a great deal of credit for our successes to our dedicated Directors, province and appointed officers. And, we have to give a lot of thanks to Past Grand Council members who have advised and supported us all the way.

It is pretty awesome to play a leadership role in this truly great Fraternity, in fact it is pretty awesome just to be a member of Pi Beta Phi because our membership is made up of phenomenal women. I am speaking of you. Look at you, you are all pretty ordinary women, but you all do extraordinary things or you wouldn't be here. You are the movers and the shakers, the decision makers, you are our stability and you are our future.

Where this crazy world of ours is headed, I do not know. But I do know Pi Phi is going to be there, to continue to give women the support and the courage to be heroes ... to be just ordinary women doing extraordinary things!

Wisconsin Alpha Celebrates Centennial

In 1894, Pi Beta Phi joined four other sororities at the University of Wisconsin. Last November, women gathered in Madison, Wisconsin from across the United States and Switzerland, to celebrate the centennial of the Wisconsin Alpha Chapter.

The chapter flourished at the University of Wisconsin until the campus riot days of the early 1970s. The chapter recolonized in 1986 and rapidly returned to its previous high academic standards.

Returning alumnae knew that the building most of them had called home in their college days was now inhabited by a fraternity. But they were curious to see the new and bigger chapter house on the shore of Lake Mendota.

The Centennial Committee was composed of pairs of collegians and alumnae. The Madison, Wisconsin Alumnae Club, many of whom are alumnae from other chapters, worked very hard in preparation.

At Friday afternoon's opening reception, squeals of delight filled the living room as sisters met again after many years. Hearty laughing and "oh do you remember" filled the study where old party photos and memorabilia were displayed. Later Friday evening, collegians and alumnae participated in a Cookie Shine. Collegians sang the Cookie Shine Song in beautiful voice. Then, alumnae added a few songs from their collegiate days.

Saturday morning included brunch, tours of the chapter house and the dedication of a painting in memory of recently deceased alumna, Jane Kresge Secord. Jane was a very active alumna and dedicated community volunteer until her death in 1993 from brain cancer. Her many Pi Phi friends with whom she kept in frequent touch asked well-known water colorist Barbara Normand Rewey, also a Wisconsin Alpha, to create a special memorial painting. This was received by the Chapter House Corporation in a ceremony following brunch. The afternoon was spent exploring the campus and catching up with friends.

The collegians made gilded angel wing nametags for Saturday night's banquet at Nakoma Golf Club. Highlights included addresses by Grand President Jo Ann Minor Roderick and Chapter President Lani Brinkman and the premiere of the song, "A Cup of Pi Phi Memories," written for the occasion by Madison, Wisconsin Alumnae Club member Lila Smith Lightfoot, New York Delta, who also wrote the chapter history. Rosanne Botham Raemisch acted as a superb emcee and song leader.

Sunday broke bright and clear as a few stragglers headed back to the chapter house to share coffee and donuts, and retrieve their shared photos. Then it was into cars and off to the airport, back to wherever the alumnae live with their personal memories of chapter life.

Illinois Zeta Anniversary Draws Hundreds

Memories came rushing back and so did Illinois Zetas for their chapter's Centennial Celebration held at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana last spring. Countless hugs, radiant smiles, rounds of laughter and non-stop conversation erupted as 230 alumnae returned to share a wonderful weekend commemorating the first sorority to be chartered on the University of Illinois campus 100 years ago.

The weekend began Friday evening, April 28, at a local hotel where alumnae picked up their itinerary for the weekend and immediately began catching up with friends. The excitement continued at the homes of several local Illinois Zetas where the returning Pi Phis were invited for "Decade Parties."

On Saturday morning, alumnae were invited to a continental breakfast at the chapter house, followed by house tours and memorabilia displays. Returning alumnae were delighted to see how beautifully the Pi Phi house had been maintained and decorated. Everyone was especially pleased to see the new stained glass front door, a centennial gift from the alumnae to the chapter. Designed by a local artist, the solid oak door features two stained glass panels of wine and silver blue, incorporating the crest, arrows and the dates 1895-1995.

A Pi Beta Phi Memorial Bench was also purchased with donations from Illinois Zetas to commemorate the centennial celebration. On Saturday afternoon, the alumnae were invited to attend a guided tour of the university's new arboretum and Hartley Garden where the Pi Beta Phi Memorial Bench was placed.

Next was a tour of the University of Illinois Archives Research Center which contains a new center for fraternity and sorority histories featuring displays of Pi Phi memorabilia, including a Pi Phi scrapbook dated 1908.

On Saturday evening, a reception and Centennial Banquet for 325 was held in the Illini Union. The committee designed, handmade and decorated each table with turn of the century dolls, each wearing a period leg-o-mutton dress delicately adorned by an arrow and a golden chain of friendship. The evening began by singing Pi Phi Grace and was followed by a greeting from Jane Hays Rader. A cake-cutting ceremony including alumnae Gladys Baxter Ross and Louise Bresee Shappert-Cowger as the Pi Phis present with the lowest pin numbers and colleagues Sara Guzik and Angela Brey with the highest pin numbers symbolized Pi Phi friendships across the years. Pi Phi songs, led by Harriet Haycock Brown and accompanist Joyce Bresee Bishop, were sung throughout the evening. A video history of Illinois Zeta was presented as were greetings from Grand Council delivered by Grand Vice President of Membership Carol Inge Warren. The Illinois Zeta pledge class of 1945 was presented with their Golden Arrows. Barbara Sands Olsen, former National Historian and Illinois Zeta, delighted everyone with a presentation entitled, "Emma Brownlee Kilgore's Album of Memories."

An Illinois Zeta Pi Phi mom, Ann Lukeman Principato and her two daughters Susan Lukeman Armstrong and Roberta Bradley Lukeman celebrate the chapter's centennial.

Louise Bresee Shappert-Cowger, Sara Guzik, Angela Brey and Gladys Baxter Ross participate in a symbolic cake-cutting ceremony of Pi Phi friendships across the ages.

The final event of the weekend was a delicious Sunday brunch at the chapter house.

The Centennial Celebration Committee and, particularly, Chairman Joanne Bresee Foley made the 100th anniversary a very memorable event for everyone.

Nebraska Beta Commemorates 100 years

During the weekend of April 7-9, the Nebraska Betas celebrated their 100th anniversary at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln. It was a grand event incorporating hundreds of alumnae and collegiate members of Nebraska Gamma. Jo Ann Minor Roderick attended the celebration. Other distinguished guests in attendance were Fraternity Historian Marilyn Simpson Ford, Parliamentarian Janice Shrader Falk, Foundation Treasurer Mary Ann Behlen Hruska and Director of Standards Kathy Anderson Witte. Also present was Martha McWilliams Weishahn, Rho Alumnae Province President.

To kick off the celebration, Nebraska Beta threw a campus birthday party Wednesday night, inviting administrators, campus leaders and friends of Pi Beta Phi. Many people participated in house tours and had birthday cake.

At Friday night's annual Founders' Day Banquet, individual Nebraska Betas were recognized for their contributions and successes within the chapter. In addition, special alumnae were also mentioned and rewarded for their efforts in keeping Pi Phi a strong chapter on campus. Historical arrow pins were passed down as awards to collegians for scholarship, spirit and behind the scenes efforts in Pi Phi, while beautiful flower arrangements were given to the alumnae. The collegians finished off the evening by having a Cookie Shine for the alumnae.

Saturday morning, tours of the campus and chapter house were available. A luncheon was held at Wick Alumni Center.

Toastmistress of Saturday's final banquet, "A Heavenly Affair," was Marilyn Ford. Following dinner and the reading of Nebraska Beta's History by Marilyn, Jo Ann Roderick gave the Centennial Address. Everyone was entertained with a video, "A Century of Wine and Blue, 1895-1995." Photos of the progression of the house were shown dating back to 1900. The evening ended with the Loving Cup Ceremony.

The weekend's activities concluded on Sunday morning with a breakfast buffet.

BY JEAN MORSE GRAINGER, SUZANNE OWEN AND PAIGE FELZIEN

Nebraska Beta Chapter President Annie Jones enjoyed the opportunity to meet Grand President Jo Ann Minor Roderick and Director of Academic Standards Kathy Anderson Witte at the centennial celebration.

Arrowmont

Ambassadors Fill Communication Gap

A group of Pi Phis has formed for the purpose of promoting awareness of Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts. Each has experienced classes there first hand and is committed to Arrowmont through speaking engagements with collegiate chapters and alumnae clubs.

It is the job of Arrowmont's Ambassadors to inform members of the Fraternity about the programs, projects, goals and state of the school, emphasizing its importance as the traditional philanthropy of Pi Beta Phi.

"Our role is to raise the level of awareness, not to raise money," explains Oregon Alpha Deborah Coburn Rice, an ambassador from Saratoga, California. "We want to instill some real pride in Arrowmont because people don't know that much about it. They're at a distance (from the school) or they've been out of college for awhile."

Deborah understands that a lot of people never visit Arrowmont because it is so far away. "At my second presentation, which was at the University of Oregon, one young woman wanted to know more about it and asked a lot of questions." Deborah helped her submit a scholarship application.

"This was a day or two before the scholarship applications had to be in—thank heaven we have modern day faxes and phones and Federal Express. It was wonderful . . . I was able to say, 'wait a minute. We can put this together for you and at least give you an opportunity to apply.'"

Their efforts were successful.

When asked what has surprised her the most during her initial presentations, Tennessee Beta Lynn Mayes Sanders of Dunwoody, Georgia said, "I've just been floored that nobody knows very much (about Arrowmont). My opening remark is, 'can anyone give me a one-sentence description of Arrowmont,' and they can't. That's pretty amazing." But that is why the Arrowmont Ambassador Program was founded. In the first year of the program, Lynn has talked to several collegians who are especially interested in attending.

Members who have already heard ambassador presentations have been very responsive according to Texas Beta Lucy Harrison from Sarasota, Florida. "There is a lot of confusion in the minds of members, particularly older members. You have to remember the demographics of where I live. If you ask all of the Golden Arrows to stand up, there are very few people left seated. When they were pledges, Arrowmont was a settlement school, and there are misconceptions about what has happened to Arrowcraft. I had one member tell me 'well you know, Arrowmont is defunct.' I said no it's not and she said, 'yes it is.'" Lucy assured her that Arrowmont is alive and well and getting better every day!

Arrowmont continues to have its roots in the original Settlement School in Gatlinburg, says board member California Eta Barbara Whitney of Santa Monica, California. "While its focus might be said to be more narrowly oriented to the arts, its effect is actually more broad, since so many of its students are teachers and artists who spread the benefits of attending Arrowmont to others around the country and the world."

That Pi Phis make the school happen, Barbara says, is an amazing accomplishment. "Art has the power to transform lives and to develop one's critical thinking. Arrowmont contributes to that power through the experiences it offers; it continues to be worthy of our support and pride."

Heritage Hall Renamed to Honor Margaret Elkin Hughes

On May 4, 1995, a beautiful evening at Arrowmont, a group of Pi Phi and invited guests walked up the hill to Heritage Hall. They assembled casually in the secluded hollow above the Red Barn to dedicate Arrowmont's new dorm and to honor Kentucky Alpha Margaret Elkin Hughes.

Standing in front of the dorm, on the former site of a neglected apple orchard, Arrowmont Board of Governors Chairman Charlotte Ann (C.A.) Eckel Edwards, Arkansas Alpha, addressed the crowd. She thanked everyone for coming and applauded the many generous donors who helped make the dorm a reality.

"Until today," she added, "we have called this housing complex Heritage Hall. Today, we dedicate this dorm to a very special Pi Phi who left her entire estate to Arrowmont. Her name is Margaret Elkin Hughes, a Kentucky Alpha from the University of Louisville. Ms. Hughes was born in 1905. Her father was a financier and a noted civic leader in Kentucky. Her hobby was traveling. At the age of 12 she traveled to the Orient, and in her '20s went around the world. Through her travels, she became interested in the arts and amassed a collection of tapestries, furniture and art objects. Ms. Hughes was an avid reader and an active member of the Presbyterian Church. She died in 1989, leaving her estate to Arrowmont.

"We are exceedingly grateful for her love of the Settlement School, which resulted in this extremely generous gift. In honor of Margaret Hughes and her generosity, the Board of Governors hereby names this housing complex Hughes Hall."

Hughes Hall Wings Named for Two Pi Phis

While C.A. explained that the housing complex is comprised of two wings—the Marianne Reid Wild Wing and the larger wing which was still unnamed—Jean Wirths Scott stood at the edge of the crowd unaware of the honor she was to receive. She listened tranquilly as C.A. announced, "Today the Board of Governors wants to name and dedicate this building to a person who is very special to Pi Beta Phi; a person without whom this dream would never have been realized. I'd like to ask Jean Scott to step forward and join us."

Every eye turned toward Jean as her mouth fell open and she stared in disbelief. She then made her way to the front of the crowd and heard C.A. announce, "Jean is a former Grand President of Pi Beta Phi and the Chairman of the Capital Campaign for Arrowmont. She has dedicated these past few years to raising $2.8 million for the Arrowmont Capital Campaign. She has donated countless hours on behalf of Arrowmont. There is actually never any way we could repay her for her selfless dedication. But she knows what is in our hearts, and from this day forward every student, every Pi Phi and every visitor who walks through these doors will know that the name of Jean Wirths Scott has a special meaning to Pi Beta Phi and to Arrowmont. On behalf of the Board of Governors, I hereby name this the Jean Wirths Scott Wing."

The Jean Wirths Scott Wing is the larger of two buildings that comprise Hughes Hall. The wing houses single and double rooms, a lounge decorated with photographs from early Settlement School days, a one-bedroom apartment for distinguished visitors, and a lovely screened porch furnished with heavy wicker furniture. A covered bridge provides access to the Marianne Reid Wild Wing on the opposite side of a mountain stream.

Jean Scott's reaction was one of surprise when she learned that a wing of Hughes Hall would be named in her honor.

The Marianne Reid Wild Wing is smaller and cottage-like, featuring eight single and double rooms with private bath facilities. It was named after a woman who loved the Fraternity. "As you know," C.A. said, "Marianne was a former Grand President of Pi Beta Phi who cared very deeply for the Settlement School. Because of her love for the school, she left a generous portion of her estate to Arrowmont and we have named the wing in her honor."

Marianne was elected Grand President in 1952, after many years of service to the Fraternity. A role model, leader and mentor to all, she served in this office until 1958. As a tribute to her devotion and commitment, the Fraternity named her Grand President Emeritus in 1966.

Pi Beta Phi became Marianne's family following the deaths of her husband and son, and she named the Pi Beta Phi Foundation as beneficiary of her will.

The Foundation trustees chose to honor her memory by designating a portion of her bequest for Arrowmont to build and name the Marianne Reid Wild Wing of the Margaret Elkin Hughes Hall.

Framed documents honoring Kentucky Alpha Margaret Elkin Hughes, Kansas Alpha Marianne Reid Wild, and Pennsylvania Beta Jean Wirths Scott were on display in Arrowmont's main building following the dedication of Hughes Hall.

Pi Phi Arts Weekend Offered Friendship and Celebration

More than 50 Pi Phis from 17 states participated in Arrowmont's 5th annual Pi Phi Arts Weekend May 4-7, 1995. Class offerings were "Wicker Basketry" with Lee Zimmerman, "Pastel Drawing" with Virginia Derryberry, "Quilting Using Photographic Images" with Mary Perry, "Enamelled Tiles" with Susan Willis, "Collage: Order From Fragments" with Ellen Zahorec, and "A Taste of Clay" with Gayle Batson.

Indiana Delta Katie Keim Lorenz, from Horseshoe, North Carolina, said, "The 1995 Arrowmont Weekend was the best ever. It was a special year because of the dedication of Hughes Hall and the celebration of Arrowmont's 50 years, but I anticipate 1996 with equal enthusiasm. The weather was perfect, the food—too good!"

Kansas Alpha Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell of Hillsborough, California said Pi Phi Arts Weekends have "added to my appreciation of the talent and effort which goes into creating a work of art. Great faculty, fascinating programs and good friends made the whole 1995 weekend special, and the dedication ceremonies made the experience exceptional."

Illinois Zeta Cynthia Dolan Gabrielli of Springfield, Virginia said an unexpected benefit of the weekend was seeing the other five classes in session. She said they gave her "new ideas, plus the desire to take those courses in the future."

Ohio Beta Carol Hagan Miller from Pinehurst, North Carolina, came for her first Arts Weekend with three others from the Sandhills, North Carolina Alumnae Club. "I was in Hughes Hall—it is beautifully planned and furnished—a wonderful tribute to Pi Phi!" She added that she attended a full summer session at Arrowmont in 1975, and it is "quite a change to behold. The enlarged studios and new facilities are wonderful."

When asked if Arrowmont met her expectations, Iowa Beta Christine Johnson Hammans of Omaha, Nebraska said, "Yes—and more! I had no idea it was so beautiful, that the food and staff would be above and beyond, but most of all that it's a first-rate school!"

Missouri Beta Jane Vollmar Saunders of St. Louis, Missouri suggested an art history course on contemporary crafts as a future arts weekend workshop, and Missouri Beta Helen Deppe Vollmar from St. Louis, Missouri commented that a workshop on the history of the Smoky Mountain area might be of interest to Pi Phis.

For Iowa Gamma Jane Porter Warmack of Fort Smith, Arkansas, the weekend was a gift from her Pi Phi daughter. Jane said Arrowmont exceeded her already high expectations. Like many others, she commented that the food was especially good.

Evaluation sheets revealed suggestions for improving the facilities as well as comments such as, "Great time! Too bad it had to end," "It's always wonderful," "Good food—served in pottery!" "It's my yearly Smoky Mountain fix." Louisiana Beta Carol Cotton Carter of Dallas, Texas thoughtfully wrote, "It is so great to sit with Helen (Anderson) Lewis and Henrietta (McCutchan) Huff and hear about the Settlement School and their early experiences [in Gatlinburg]."

For those who would like to participate in 1996, the 6th annual Pi Phi Arts Weekend is scheduled for May 2-4. Consider taking part in this special retreat which Saratoga, California's Deborah Coburn Rice, Oregon Alpha, calls great medicine. "In a busy world where we all have so much responsibility, it was such fun to cut loose and to switch gears and let the other side of our brains loose."

The Arrowmont logo graced Sevier County baseball fields this summer. A donation of $300 allowed the school to sponsor a team, thereby providing uniforms and necessary equipment. Many players on the Arrowmont baseball team are students at Pi Beta Phi Elementary School.

Pi Beta Phi Foundation

Leadership Education Funding Launched

The young women who participate as leaders of their chapters are potential leaders of our society. A far-reaching dividend of our investment in Pi Beta Phi leadership education is that these skills will enhance their professional and personal lives and will enrich our communities.

—Pi Beta Phi Collegiate
Leadership Education Proposal

Noting that leadership education is a primary focus of the Fraternity, Foundation President Ann Phy says, "The Foundation Trustees are committed to securing permanent funding to ensure the continuance and development of quality leadership education for the members of our collegiate chapters."

Strong, capable leadership is essential to the well-being of any organization. Pi Beta Phi leadership seminars and programming provide the skills and tools needed to effectively deal with decisions faced by chapter officers. The chapter is a supportive environment in which to practice these leadership skills based on the founding principles of Pi Beta Phi.

The size of the potential endowment was daunting until Trustees began to think of funding each chapter as a separate unit. A $25,000 gift will provide adequate funding for programming at the biennial convention and the Collegiate Leadership Seminars in alternate years. As with all endowments, the principal will be invested and only the income will be used to fund the leadership program. Each endowed unit may be named for the donor or to honor or memorialize a person or chapter.

Several potential donors were approached with the concept of endowing their chapter's leadership education funding needs. The proposal has met with enthusiastic success.

The Fondren Foundation of Houston, Texas has granted $50,000 for leadership education endowments to benefit Texas Alpha Chapter at the University of Texas and Texas Beta Chapter at Southern Methodist University. In Oklahoma City, an energetic group of alumnae have pledged to enlist 50 Pi Phis to invest $1,000 each to secure endowments for Oklahoma Alpha at the University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma Beta at Oklahoma State University.

Texas Alpha and Texas Beta Chapters had strong representation at Pi Beta Phi's 1995 Convention in Palm Desert, California because of leadership education endowments.

Donors, groups of donors or family foundations interested in creating an endowment for a chapter's permanent leadership education funding, should contact Foundation Director Lynn Raney at the Foundation Office.

A leadership endowment is an investment in the future. Through Pi Beta Phi collegiate leadership education we have the opportunity to assist in the development of ongoing generations of leaders. Each endowment will be a 21st century tribute to the leadership and foresight of our 19th century Founders.

Clubs Near Goal in Honoring Founders

More than 200 Pi Beta Phi alumnae clubs have joined in the Combined Club Leadership Gift (CCLG) effort to raise $200,000 to name the top floor in Arrowmont's new dormitory in honor of the Fraternity's 12 Founders. At press time for this issue of The ARROW, just $43,700 was needed to reach the goal.

Alumnae in the Naples, Florida and Knoxville, Tennessee Alumnae Clubs led the way with the first gifts and pledges when the CCLG project was announced in the spring of 1993. Since that time, clubs from Akron to Yakima and Hawaii to Virginia have designated funds to fulfill their commitment to name the Founders' Floor. Clubs have made one-time gifts or have pledged over a three-year period. Each club has made a commitment in keeping with its budget or fund-raising capabilities.

As the 1995-96 club year begins, potential from the remainder of the Fraternity's alumnae clubs puts the goal within reach. No pledge or gift is too large nor too small. The participation of each and every club will make the CCLG project 100% successful.

If your alumnae club is not listed below, we hope you will initiate local conversation to see that it is. Contact your Alumnae Province President for assistance.

ABOVE CENTER: Oklahoma Betas from Oklahoma State University teamed with Feed the Children to provide money and necessities for Oklahoma City bombing victims. The chapter house served as an official drop-off location.

In recognition of a community service project developed for the Vanderbilt University community, TENNESSEE BETA Nicole Alvino received the Ingram Scholarship. Nicole created a beeper system which provides translators for individuals in need at the Vanderbilt medical center. Marcy Shugert received the Graduate Traveling Scholarship. The scholarship gives her the opportunity to travel throughout the world conducting HIV/AIDS research.

Armed Forces Alumnae Panhellenic

Representatives from 13 national sororities have begun organizing the "pilot" Armed Forces Alumnae Panhellenic Association (AFAPA) in the Washington, D.C. area with hopes of expanding internationally. Bylaws have been approved by the National Panhellenic Conference and funding will be provided by Chi Omega.

Eligible membership consists of "qualified women who are alumnae or associate members of any NPC group and who are affiliated with the Department of Defense or the Armed Forces on active duty, reserve or retired status, or are a family member."

Purposes of the AFAPA include publicizing the high ideals, purposes and accomplishments of the fraternity system, and maintaining files on prospective collegiate members for the reference of member groups. For more information on this exciting opportunity, please contact Mary Lu Meixell, 4926 Wheatstone Drive, Fairfax, VA 22032, (713) 425-6360 or PRODIGY #SFNG97B.
