ANNOUNCEMENTS

PI BETA PHI FELLOWSHIP FOR GRADUATE STUDY

FOR THE YEAR 1933-1934, Π Β Φ will offer one graduate fellowship with a value of $500. This fellowship is open to any member of the fraternity who has received her bachelor's degree, and it may be used at any university, either in this country or in Europe, which offers special opportunities in graduate work along the particular line desired by its holder.

Two points will be considered by the Grand Council in awarding the fellowship: scholastic standing and all-round development of character with its resulting ability worthily to represent the fraternity. Each applicant must state definitely the university which she wishes to enter, the courses which she desires to pursue, and the ultimate aim of her graduate study.

Applications accompanied by photographs of the applicants, transcripts of college grades, credentials from college professors, and other recommendations must be in the hands of the Grand President, not later than January 1, 1933.

All material should be collected by the applicant and submitted as a whole. Blank forms for applications for the fellowship may be obtained from the Grand President at any time. If she so desires, any applicant of former years who has not received the fellowship may make a new application.

AMY BURNHAM ONKEN, Grand President

FOUNDER

Pi Beta Phi deeply mourns the death of Jennie Horne Turnbull, beloved founder, who passed away on November 4, 1932.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

The fraternity will be glad to know that Mrs. Libbey, Founder, whose arm was broken recently, is improving. Mrs. Libbey has sent the following note:

Through the ARROW I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to the dear girls from whom (since my accident) I have received such sweet letters. It gave me a thrill to be just so remembered and to learn of your activities and of the splendid new pledges.

I wish I might write each one of you but trust you will accept this as your personal answer. I am glad that I can report of myself that I am now quite comfortable and think my arm is mending satisfactorily. The girls here in Seattle are kindly in so many ways. All this and your dear letters have shortened the hours for me. I almost think they have lessened the pain.

Life without friends would be a dreary day
Groping 'long 'lone forever and for Aye;
But life with friends is full of joy and charm
E'en when one suffers with a broken arm.

Love to you all,

FANNIE WHITENACK LIBBEY

SEASON OF RESPONSIBILITIES

JUST as surely as the summer days with their warmth and sunshine are gone, so have our carefree vacation days slipped from us. And as truly as the season of autumn with its wind and falling leaves has come, so has the season of our responsibilities returned. For each fall, men and women everywhere begin their "new year" of work and activity. After the summer ramblings and vacationing, all settle down, more or less, into the routine of the "business" of living. Whether that routine is studying and carrying on activities at school, whether it be opening the house for the winter season, or getting back into the activities of clubs and business offices once more, it is, nevertheless, the beginning of another year of work, and the shouldering of new responsibilities.

In our fraternity we find the same thing to be true. Active girls at college are starting out in their new chapter offices, as well as in class offices and activities, meeting new conditions in many cases, and finding their already full measure of work added to constantly by new obligations along other lines ever increasing in number.

The alumnae, too, aside from managing their homes and getting Junior off to school, or hustling out to the office on time each morning and putting in a hard day's work, find their hours lengthened with work in their alumnae clubs and offices of the fraternity, and realize that their places in the fraternity entail certain very definite responsibilities.

So in our world of multiplying duties, it is well for us to pause and to realize that the only way in which the many things to be done can be achieved is through the complete recognition and willingness to shoulder these responsibilities by each and every member. Only through mutual sharing of the work, and being sure to attend to our own particular tasks can we hope to accomplish our fraternity work. Though the task may be a small or insignificant one, it is well to remember the story of the battle that was lost for the want of a horseshoe nail: "For the want of the nail, the shoe was lost; for the want of the shoe, the horse was lost; for the want of the horse the rider was lost; for the want of the rider, the battle was lost; ALL for the want of a horseshoe nail!"

EMPHASIS ON SCHOLARSHIP

LEADERS everywhere have agreed on one thing and that is that out of the depression will come many things beneficial to our culture. If the American people have learned how to separate the worth-while from the superficial the depression will not have been in vain.

College students are eternally facing the same problem of knowing how properly to allocate their time and to distinguish the important things from the unimportant in order to gain the greatest measure of success from their college course. There is a tendency to emphasize some phase of college life to the exclusion of others. The truly successful student is the one who so organizes her college existence that she is not only a creditable student but also a participant in the important extra-curricular activities. Pi Phis everywhere are proud of the achievements of such girls as those recognized in the Honor Graduate report published in this issue of THE ARROW.

The National Scholarship Committee is constantly striving to be helpful to chapters in improving local scholarship conditions. This committee finds that, only too often, poor scholastic accomplishments are the result of indifference and carelessness. Often the standing of a chapter is lowered by the unwillingness of one girl or group of girls to cooperate. An individual girl might be brilliant but because of lack of application and interest receive unsatisfactory grades. On the other hand a girl who is a plodder might do all of the required work satisfactorily but by not making up incompletes cause the chapter's standing to be lowered.

For a chapter to attain good scholarship not only the individual effort of each member is required but the cooperative effort of the chapter as a whole.

These are times when each individual must accommodate herself to the conditions in which she finds herself. A college student who "gears herself to the times," who puts the proper emphasis on scholastic achievement, will come out into the world ready to face life's battles efficiently, with a sense of achievement behind her, and every promise of success ahead.

GIVE A CHEER

A CONNOISSEUR of beauty recently returning from Europe remarked that women abroad were meeting the depression gallantly, wearing their most beautiful clothes, dressing carefully and sumptuously for the simplest occasion and looking always serene and untroubled. On the other hand American women so often were looking shabby, harassed, and literally as though a depression were on. She suggested that American women are not used to facing serious crises and that when they are confronted with them they slump. Because they feel dejected they reflect it in their clothes, their faces and their general appearance.

Never has there been more need for a courageous mien, for good sportsmanship, than during these days when material things have been curtailed. It is easy to be gay and entertaining when we are winning. But when the opposing forces seem overwhelming, when the chill wind sweeps down through the stands so that spectators huddle into their warm coats looking as glum as they feel, then it takes effort to cheer. That is when cheering counts.

College students, business women, and even more surely women in the home need to be good sports these days. Incomes have been curtailed in most instances. That means the same things must be done on less income or some things eliminated. Sometimes the things to be omitted are those we count dear. Easy enough to grumble, to huddle into ourselves, to complain. Easy enough to do less effective work whether in the class room, the office, or the home. But that is when cheering counts.

Often the part of women is to be courageous rooters when fathers or husbands or employers are feeling desperately their deficiencies in curtailing the tangible things they have led us to expect. They are concerned with the welfare of their families, they see years of labor put into the building of their ideals, fall in a chaotic heap. A gay cheer from the women when the opposing forces seem overwhelming, a cheerful countenance, an appearance of well being even in two-year-old clothes, these are the marks of good sportsmanship.

Convention Postponed

PI BETA PHI has, by the required vote of its active chapters, postponed its next convention until 1934. This action was taken upon the recommendation of the Grand Council. Two facts were given major consideration: one is that at a time when there is such universal need for wise economy the fraternity would be open to just criticism for the large expenditure which a convention involves not only for the fraternity as a national organization but also for the individual members who attend at personal expense; and the other is that with a highly probably decrease in convention attendance, if convention were held in 1933, there would be a distinct loss to the fraternity in the enthusiasm and inspiration gained by those in attendance and carried back by them to their alumnae clubs and active chapters.

The fraternity is in sound financial condition as its annual reports show; the internal condition of chapters is excellent; the national organization is functioning with a marked degree of efficiency, and reports from rushing seasons are highly gratifying and show that Pi Beta Phi is holding a high place on its respective campuses. The postponing of convention, therefore, means a real loss in personal contacts and in the inspiration which they bring but it should not and, we believe, will not mean any lessening of the development and achievements of the fraternity. The action of the active chapters indicates an awareness of obligations to parents and a realization of economic responsibilities of which Pi Beta Phi may well be proud.

AMY BURNHAM ONKEN
Grand President.

MARY KATHARINE LUTZ

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In THE ARROW for November, 1931, pictures of and information about the members of Grand Council and the National Officers appeared. These were followed in the February ARROW by the province presidents and province vice-presidents, and in the May issue by members of the ARROW staff. There have been several changes made in the officers of the fraternity during the past several months, and to make the series complete the new officers are presented in this issue.)

Shreveport Alumnæ Club, and has served as president, treasurer, and corresponding secretary of the club. No picture is available of Mrs. Williamson.

EPSILON PROVINCE VICE-PRESIDENT

ELIZABETH ESTES GENTRY (Mrs. William Richard, Jr.) has been appointed Epsilon Province vice-president. See fraternity directory in this issue for address.

Mabel Scott Brown

THE official roster of Pi Beta Phi will look strange without the name of Mabel Scott Brown on it where it has been for a number of years in various capacities. So inextricably bound with the fraternity's many functions is this name that it has become to members a symbol of loyalty as it has to officers a slogan of dependability.

For those numerous years the fraternity has known that to give a job to Mrs. Brown was to have it done to the utmost of her great abilities at no matter what personal cost and sacrifice. Thus she took over the catalogue the day before the former cataloguer sailed for China. With no one to answer her questions she worked out an understanding of that office and helped it grow over a period of more than five years into a smoothly-working central office with three full-time assistants, in addition to the more than full time which she herself put into her charge. Always a sympathetic and helpful adviser to the fraternity, she was ever mindful of the pressing and constant demands of her office. Her reward, besides the fraternity's gratitude and appreciation for her vigilance and penetrating understanding of its problems, and her delightful contacts with the members, has been only the ephemeral one of the joy that comes in seeing a small office mature into a complicated and important one working smoothly.

When this phase of the fraternity's national life was running well enough to be turned over to another without impairing too greatly its efficiency, Mrs. Brown accepted the office of the ARROW editor. In view of the difficulty of changing the central office she continued the responsibility for that through three issues of the ARROW and managed the fourth from a sick-bed. Because of the usual equanimity and courage with which all of her offices were dispensed, members of the fraternity, for the most part, remained unaware of these difficulties, and of how much some members have given of their time, energies, and talents under all kinds of conditions to the fraternity.

MABEL SCOTT BROWN

While we cannot help but be sorry that Mrs. Brown at present holds no fraternity office, we are nevertheless delighted with her that a thrilling trip to Europe was the immediate cause for her resignation as ARROW editor and that in this new found freedom she will have opportunities to travel and play and indulge in some of her hobbies.

It is difficult for the fraternity fully to express its deep appreciation for these faithful services; the fraternity extends all good wishes for the future to Mabel Scott Brown.

The Mortar Board Convention

By JEANNETTE MARR, Pennsylvania Alpha

AT THE Ninth National Convention of Mortar Board, held June 27-30, at West Baden Springs, Indiana, $\Pi B \Phi$ was extremely well represented. There were more Pi Phis than members of any other fraternity in attendance; and three of the national officers of Mortar Board are Pi Phis. They are: Elsie

PI PHIS AT MORTAR BOARD CONVENTION

Murray, Michigan B, vice-president, and Rhea Walker, Indiana Δ , and Esther Bowman, Montana A, directors. Elsie Murray first held the office of national secretary, and later that of vice-president. At this Convention she was reelected to the office of vice-president.

Attending this Convention was a most interesting and valuable experience. In design, it was similar to a $\Pi B \Phi$ Convention, where a group of young women with common ideals and interests gather to discuss the enrichment of their purpose, and to put it on a sound working basis, guided, of course, by the more experienced members of the organization and the national officers. A certain feeling of responsibility at representing the home chapters filled the delegates with the desire to cooperate fully with each other in an effort to make definite progress for the fraternity. Because the season at West Baden Springs closed just before the opening of the Convention, the entire hotel was turned over to it, and it was possible for the proceedings to be carried on in an atmosphere of undisturbed seclusion.

Mortar Board is a national honorary fraternity for senior women. The aims of this body are to make possible cooperation between the senior honorary societies, to aid in the development of a finer type of college woman; in short, the object is service, scholarship, and leadership, these also being the sole bases of selecting new members by the out-going chapters. The number of members permitted each chapter is limited to fifteen; and a definite scholarship standard is determined for each local group in accordance with its prevailing standards and conditions.

Founded in 1918 at Syracuse, New York, by Cornell, Swarthmore, the University of Michigan, and Ohio State University, the fraternity has grown so that today there are fifty-two chapters. Mortar Board believes in a conservative extension to only the worthiest petitioners. It requires at least a five-year probation period from a petitioning school which must have in existence a local honorary society for senior women. Every year more of these local societies petition than can possibly be accepted.

As in most other fraternities, the National Convention is the supreme governing body of this organization. Heretofore, these have been held bien-nially, but because of existing economic conditions, and also because of the desirability of retaining national officers for a longer period of time, the next Convention will be held three years hence.

The main questions discussed at this last Convention were service programs, personnel work, finance, and election of new members. One of the most valuable discussions of service was the plan of offering some sort of recognition to the freshman woman who attains the highest scholastic average or who shows the greatest improvement at the end of her second semester. Under the headings of service and personnel were also discussed such things as a system of free tutoring, the abolition of campus politics, and ways of eliminating over-organization of various college activities. Discussion of these and many other subjects of moment was very enlightening in view of the fact that the opinions expressed came from women of many different experiences and problems, and from widely separated localities.

Nineteen national honor groups were represented at the Convention among which were $\Phi B K$, $\Delta \Sigma P$, $A \Lambda \Delta$, and $T \Sigma \Delta$. This information, along with other news items of interest, was distributed to the members of Convention in a printed pamphlet issued at the closing banquet.

Pi Beta Phi Honor Graduates

Here are presented the members of $\Pi B \Phi$ who graduated in June, 1932, with recognition for their high scholastic achievement. The fraternity is proud to have among the group twenty-eight Pi Beta Kappas and ten Phi Kappa Phis. With a feeling that it will be of special interest to readers, the extra-curricular activities of these girls have been included in this report.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT

IN THE September ARROW, the signature of the National Magazine Agent inadvertently was omitted from the Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agency Report. The report was submitted by Dorothy J. Miller (Mrs. Warren), 7345 Pershing Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri. New subscriptions and renewals to any magazines may be placed through her, and the Settlement School receives all profits from the agency.

The Y.W.C.A. in South America

By ANNE GUTHRIE

Y.W.C.A. Continental Secretary for South America

(NOTE: This letter has been written to Pi Pbis from Buenos Aires, Argentina, by Anne Guthrie, Colorado A, California B, California A. The letter was written October 10, 1932.

Anne Guthrie is the Continental Secretary for all South America for the Y.W.C.A., and a member of the International Y.W.C.A. Board. Miss Guthrie chose Y.W.C.A. work as her vocation upon graduating from Leland Stanford University, and did some very interesting work as industrial secretary on the Pacific Coast. She held ever more responsible positions until she became Metropolitan Secretary for Chicago. From that position she was called to the important and interesting work of being the first Y.W.C.A. Secretary for all South America. She has just been on furlough after two successful years.

Anyone who ever has heard her speak and felt the magic of her personality knows that we have sent to the women of South America one of our finest types of womanhood and a Pi Phi of whom we may well be proud.)

ANNE GUTHRIE

IT is almost spring on this side of the Equator! Today has been a balmy one to remind us that summer is on the way although it is usually Christmas that really ushers in the heat. And incidentally Christmas isn't quite the same without a sprinkling of snow or frost.

You are at your autumn tasks preparing for winter and when it comes I fear you will wish you might send a few million people down to Brazil where even if there has recently been a fearful civil war and even if there may not be enough jobs to go around, there is never the suffering you will be seeing. For one can always make an adobe hut from the soil for shelter and eat bananas for food and so live. Such is the blessing of the tropics in this time of tragic unemployment.

But should you leave the glorious prolific beauty of Brazil, with its magnificent harbour, its rugged mountains, and its tall palms and come with me down to Argentina and across the great "Cordillera" of the Andes to Chile, you would find suffering there that would make you heartsick; people out of work because "salitre" is no more taken from the soil, because like many other things there is too much of it in the world and because our clever brains have made an artificial process to produce this nitrate which is so necessary for life and for death—for fertilizer and for gunpowder. And you would find a country burdened with debts, accumulated through four years of the dictatorship of Ibañez, which through recent months has been going through kaleidoscopic changes of government, until her people are weary—worn and harassed and uncertain of the future. They don't know what is ahead; they hope a civil government for they are tired of the conflict of one military man wresting the power from another only to have a new military leader arise against him. They are realizing the disadvantages of armaments. But once an army is in power, it is not so easy to find one's way back to civil government and especially at a time when finances are in a tangled state. When I was in Chile a little over a year ago one received 8 Chilean pesos for an American dollar; today you can sell that same dollar for as high as 65. You who live where money is stable can have little idea what this means to a country.

And then should you climb with me from Buenos Aires for four days by train, up and up to the great altiplano of Bolivia to La Paz, 12,000 feet above the sea, you would find more of tragedy. Bolivia is at war. Or if you could have gone with me a few weeks ago, four days by boat up the river to Asunción in Paraguay, you would have suffered as I did with the people I came to know there, for Paraguay is at war. And those of us who look on at this conflict between these two countries realize all over again how terrible and how stupid war is. This is a tragic conflict over a piece of land called "El Chaco," which lies between the two countries and is claimed by both. Today because petroleum has been found there, both want it more than ever. As one studies the situation, the legal rights to the land appear to be Paraguay's for many reasons and she is undoubtedly justified in feeling as she does, that she is fighting a war of defense of her land because a boundary line has not been determined. But I also know that my Bolivian friends are sincere in their belief that the entire Chaco is theirs and that Paraguay is the aggressor. But they I fear are today suffering because of the teachings of false prophets who had personal desires. And so the youth of two small countries, Bolivia, with three million, Paraguay, with only one million inhabitants, are being slaughtered in a swampy, tangled forest that has been well called "Green Hell."

Yesterday I came back from Uruguay across the river, a country with the same economic difficulties that one finds everywhere, but one that has gone quietly on while all her neighbors have been in the throes of political revolution. This is probably due to one remarkable man, Batlle, who worked out a new form of government patterned after that of Switzerland, which has kept the country politically stable in spite of all the financial difficulties of recent years.

I write you from the beautiful metropolis of Buenos Aires, in this great country of the Argentine, a country of power and strength and dignity, a country that feels that it holds on the Continent of South America the same place that the United States claims on the Northern Continent. Here I live with Mother, in an apartment with all the modern comforts and conveniences which I could find in New York. And I look out of my study window on electric signs and wide boulevards and tall buildings that make "B.A." (as the English call it) like any other great city of today.

And from this study I do my work, plan my comings and goings, write my letters, do my chores. What are those chores do you ask? Varied, but in general they are to help, as I can, the six Y.W.C.A.'s that are in the capital cities of these countries (with an extra one in Chile in Valparaiso); to help them plan their work, find their committee women, straighten out their problems, raise their finances and what not! In addition I am trying to understand something of the background and history of these five countries and what is happening for women in them, and so better be able to judge whether the Y.W.C.A. is really meeting the need and justifying the effort that is being put into it; and also to be better able to interpret this part of the world to some of you who are in other parts of the world. Such is my task, and I am enjoying it to the fullest. It is giving me an opportunity to know wonderful women—women who are writers or poets, women who are leaders in the educational life, or in social work (which is in a beginning stage here) or in the struggle for the vote which is going on at this very time. And some of them are counting on me to be a connecting link for them with books and articles written in English along this line of action. It is not uncommon to have the phone ring and a voice say "Anita, have you anything about Juvenile Courts (for example), I have to give a 'conferencia' (lecture) next week and I need . . ."

If any of you have extra copies of educational magazines or "The Survey" or other magazines that have articles of special interest along progressive lines; or if you would occasionally clip things on educational subjects or social work, or anything which concerns women and put them into an envelope addressed to me, you would be helping me to help women who are giving their lives to the development and improvement of their countries. They are women of education and culture, all of my best friends speaking at least two languages and many three or more. They make me feel stupid and ashamed and make me wish I had worked harder on that French in long ago college days.

I wish you could fly down by "Panagra" and be here to come with me to the "Cervantes" the beautiful municipal theatre, to see our pageant of nations with representations of the fifty countries where you will find the Y.W.C.A. today. We think it will be quite thrilling and perhaps help those who see it to understand that one of our most important tasks in the Y.W.C.A. is to be a link between the women of many nations that we may do our small part toward helping this tangled, suffering, uncertain old world of ours to find a way of peace, sometime in the years ahead. And it is to do my bit toward this that I am here on the other side of the Equator on the great Continent of South America. And I invite you, one and all, to come down and learn of it for yourself that you

Sweethearts of the Texas Roundup

TEXAS A AND B were proud of their representatives in the Texas Roundup, an annual affair held every April at the University of Texas, to which each of the five major colleges in Texas send a girl selected by popular vote. The title of Sweetheart of the Roundup is a very coveted honor, one of the highest in the collegiate calendar.

Sweetheart of the University of Texas and Queen of the Roundup was Mary Tom Blackwood, of Alexandria, Louisiana, a pledge of Texas A. Southern Methodist University sent Kate Jenkins, who moved to Dallas recently from Atlanta, and entered the Southern Methodist University in February, 1932.

Pi Beta Phi Magazine Agents

IN THE report of Dorothy J. Miller, the National Magazine Agent, which appeared in the September ARROW, the alumnae clubs whose agents have earned the highest commissions for the magazine agency are listed. It is very gratifying to see the splendid results which have been obtained through the efforts of all the clubs, and the fraternity is proud to give recognition to those agents who have earned the highest commissions under the two classifications of rating which are given in the Agency's annual report.

MAGAZINE AGENTS EARNING HIGHEST COMMISSIONS

The clubs whose agents have earned the highest commissions are, in the order of their respective earnings: Detroit, New York, Tulsa, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Denver,* and Washington, D.C.

MAGAZINE AGENTS EARNING HIGHEST COMMISSIONS PER CLUB MEMBER

SCENE FROM FOUNDERS' DAY PLAY, SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA

After the Founders' Day luncheon held by the Shreveport Alumnae Club, four members of the club presented a lovely one-act play written by Myrtle Beeler Day, Nebraska B. The girls in the picture are: Mary Easterling Bain, Ohio B, representing a founder telling the story of the founding of the fraternity to her granddaughter, a pledge, played by Mary Evans Ellis, Texas B. The girls in the picture frame are Sydney Barrow Galloway, Texas A, and Cora Lockard Pearson, Texas B.

National Officer of D.A.R.

VIVIAN LYON MOORE (Mrs. Donald K), Michigan A, has been appointed National Chairman of Genealogical Records of the Daughters of the American Revolution by Mrs. Russell William Magna, president-general of the society. This important committee has charge of the collection and compilation of genealogical records for the Society's Library in Washington. Mrs. Moore's experience along this line of work has extended over a number of years. She was State Genealogist of the D.A.R. for three years, state chairman of Genealogical Research for five years, has been registrar of her own chapter for seventeen years, and a professional genealogist for ten years.

Vivian Lyon entered Hillsdale College in the fall of 1904 and was initiated into Michigan A in September of that year. She graduated from the music department in 1905 and was the youngest person ever to receive a diploma from the college up to that time. During her subsequent musical training at other schools, her loyalty to Hillsdale and Pi Phi did not waver and in 1909 she returned to the college as a member of its faculty. At the present time she is acting as official accompanist for the college, and is organist of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Moore's interest in the D.A.R. is shared by her family of whom four generations are associated with the society. Her mother, Mrs. F. A. Lyon, is regent of Ann Gridley Chapter, Hillsdale; her daughter, Patricia Moore, is a member of the Ethan Allen Society, Children of the American Revolution, Chicago; her grandmother, Mrs. James Fink, aged 93, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Moore are also members of Ann Gridley Chapter.

Mrs. Moore has held office in the National D.A.R. before this appointment, having been National Vice-Chairman Girl Homemakers Committee, a member of the National Organizers' Memorial Committee, and a member of the Constitution Hall Advisory Committee. She was State Consulting Registrar and State Recording Secretary of Michigan and an organizer of the Michigan D.A.R. Past State Officers' Club, of which she has been president for two terms. She holds membership in the Michigan Authors' Association, having had published many magazine and newspaper articles on pioneer history, and several volumes of translations from the German. In addition to her other activities, she is a member of the Colonial Dames, Order of Descendants of Colonial Governors, United States Daughters of 1812, and has been Grand Organizer of the Michigan Order of the Eastern Star. She is serving as a Woman Commissioner of Hillsdale College, a member of the Alumni Executive Committee of Hillsdale College, and a member of the Alumnae Advisory Board of Michigan Alpha Chapter, II B Φ.

Brentwood Town and County School

By GLADYS CRAIG TEBBE, Kansas Beta

OFF FOR A CANTER

SCHOOL DAYS are here again and thoughts of Pi Phis of Santa Monica and this vicinity turn to the Brentwood Town and County School, established three years ago by Catherine Roberts Dye, Iowa Z.

Mr. and Mrs. Dye realized that their son, John Dye, III, was a child requiring the new type of education. As they wished it for him, so other parents wished it for their children, and thus this school was established. It has been maintained and is being developed according to their understanding of progressive education.

At the end of the third term of the school, there were ninety-seven children enrolled, children from every state except three, a boy from Canada, a girl from Italy and three children from Germany—a cosmopolitan group. The groups range from two to twelve years of age and there have been numerous requests for seventh and eighth grades.

Mrs. Dye requires teachers for her school who are in sympathy with the work she is accomplishing. A visit to the school proves that her teachers have high scholastic credentials, and are also able to develop a program which keeps these children happy and radiantly active. The out-of-door life is greatly stressed, classes being held in the garden when weather permits. Music, dancing, and dramatics are also made a part of the garden activities.

Mr. Dye, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, has charge of all out-of-door games and his hours are eagerly anticipated by the boys and girls. Football and baseball are played with teams from other schools and a fine spirit of sportsmanship has been developed in the children. But all is not play and class work at this school, for every day there is a rest period of two hours for the small children and one hour for the older ones; and it is so quiet at these hours that one visiting there would never realize that a group of children was near. A splendid child specialist supervises the health program and a trained nurse lives at the school.

$\Pi B \Phi$ members who have had children in the school are Marie Reardon Matzinger, Michigan B, Joyce Robberts Berry, Iowa Z, Zana Hill Jeffery, Colorado B, Mrs. Ralph Stanford, New York I, Gladys Craig Tebbe, Kansas B.

In July, Mrs. Dye attended the International Convention of Progressive Schools, held in Nice, Italy, and those who have been associated with her know she has picked the fine, practical ideas to bring home and develop in this splendid school of hers.

Jean McAlister, Pi Beta Phi Fellow

JEAN McALISTER, the $\Pi B \Phi$ Fellow for 1932, is in her last year of medical school at the University of Pennsylvania. Upon completion of this course, she will have two years of internship in a hospital before going into any specialty. At the present time, she is very much interested in Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, Obstetrics, and Neurology; but as yet, she has not made up her mind as to what her specialty will be, whether one of these, or some other field of the medical profession.

Jean is a person of wide and interesting experiences. Having graduated from Agnes Scott College in 1921, where she participated and held office in many activities on the campus, she taught history in high school for three years. After that, she lived at home, Irving Park, Greensboro, North Carolina, and took active part in Girl Scout work, and in the Junior League.

She was already a medical student when in 1930 she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ at the University of North Carolina.

During the past summer, Jean was camp doctor at a camp in western North Carolina, with about one hundred and twenty-five people under her care.

To embark upon a life in the medical profession requires great strength and courage, and the fraternity is justly proud of Jean McAlister; and extends to her every good wish, and the hope that she may win many honors for herself and $\Pi B \Phi$.

NEW YORK CITY PANHELLENIC SCHOLARSHIP

THE WINNER of the Scholarship Award of \$500 for 1932 of the New York City Panhellenic, 3 Mitchell Place, is Miss Helen E. Fairbairn of Buffalo, New York. Miss Fairbairn has taken her master's degree at the University of Buffalo, majoring in psychology, her thesis being "An Analysis of Interests Determining Occupational Choice," which is one of the outstanding publications of its kind in the country. She is now holding a position on the faculty of the university as personnel adviser for women. The university has given her a leave of absence so that she may begin work for her doctorate this fall in Columbia University. She plans to specialize in social psychology and to do some work in the medical college at Columbia with an emphasis upon psychiatry. She is a member of $\Sigma \kappa$.

Miss Ruth M. Buchanan, Pullman, Washington, has been selected by the Scholarship Committee as alternate to Miss Fairbairn. The fact that Miss Buchanan wishes to study at Columbia University toward her master's degree in psychology is an interesting coincidence. Miss Buchanan is a member of $\Lambda \Xi \Delta$, and also is a member of the following honorary fraternities: $\Pi \Gamma M$, $\Pi \Lambda \Theta$, ΨX , $\Phi K \Psi$, and $\Phi B K$.

This award was first given in the fall of 1930, and was won by Helen Delano Willard, a member of $\Lambda \Phi$ who had graduated from the University of Wisconsin. The second award given in April, 1931, was won by Katherine Noble, a member of $\Pi B \Phi$, and a graduate of Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois. Both Miss Willard and Miss Noble made splendid records at Columbia. The award of 1932 completes the three year program of Scholarships which was announced in the fall of 1929 by the New York City Panhellenic.

The New York City Panhellenic occupies attractive club rooms on the fourth floor of the Panhellenic House, 3 Mitchell Place, New York City, and while its ultimate aim is to have every fraternity woman in New York a member, there is always a cordial welcome in those club rooms for each Greek, whether or not she is a member. A secretary is on duty during most of the day and evening, and information concerning the activities of the local alumnae organizations of all fraternities is available and gladly given. A very earnest effort is being put forth to make the City Panhellenic headquarters a real center of Greek friendliness, as well as to develop social and cultural activities which will have a wide appeal.

Foreign Service Fraternity for Women

By MILDRED BURNHAM,* District of Columbia Alpha

PHI PI EPSILON, national foreign service fraternity for women, was founded February, 1931, at George Washington University for the purpose of creating and developing interest among the women of the University in the field of Foreign Service. The original members were Louise Bruce, A Δ II; Mildred Burnham, Π Β Φ, founder and first president; Dean Clifford; Evelyn Eller, secretary; Cecile Harrington, A Δ II, treasurer; Adelaide Kline, vice-president; Margaret Liebler, K Δ; Natalie Norwood, A Φ; Pauline Schaub, Π Β Φ; Elizabeth Sheridan; and Dolly Tschiffely, A Δ II.

One of the first aims of the fraternity was to gain recognition on its own campus. This was accomplished through the kindness of Dr. John Donaldson, National vice-president of Δ Φ Ε, National Foreign Service Fraternity for men. At a joint meeting of the two fraternities, to which were invited foreign diplomats, Δ Φ Ε was host.

Another aim of Φ Π Ε is to make contacts with people doing field work in foreign service, who will be willing to attend meetings and give the members the benefit of their experience. The fraternity has been fortunate in having as its guests Miss Constance Harvey, vice-consul in the State Department; Miss Anne O'Neal; Mrs. John Donaldson, just returned from a trip through Scandinavia; Baroness Von Loewenfeldt, who spoke on Yugoslavia; Miss Helgfried Orvin, counselor to the Norwegian Legation; and Miss Mary Bainbridge Hayden, former Associated Press Correspondent to Berlin.

* Any one interested in further details may secure them by writing to Miss Mildred Burnham, 1300 Farragut Street, N.W., Washington, D.C.

On March 15, 1932, Φ Π Ε entertained Δ Φ Ε at the Hay-Adams Hotel, when the guest speakers were Mrs. Benjamin Wallace, just returned from several years' residence in China, and Mr. F. M. Anderson, assistant solicitor of the State Department.

Those eligible for membership in Φ Π Ε must have completed sixty hours in the University and must be interested in fields relating to the subject of foreign affairs. This field is the last in which women have entered and therefore Φ Π Ε is a pioneer.

The emblem has been chosen, embodying the ideals and purposes of the fraternity. It is a small golden galley, on the sail of which is a dove. It is studded with five pearls and six sapphires. On the hull of the ship are four oars and the letters Φ Π Ε.

The national organization of Φ Π Ε has been established at Washington, D.C., and the fraternity is ready to expand. Φ Π Ε addresses itself to women of the college world and suggests that any college or university with departments of government, political science, or economics would have excellent material for an organization of this sort.

The fraternity constitutes a new opportunity for campus leadership. It is a professional fraternity whose influence will last beyond college days, and its objects are worthy and of unusual interest. The contacts made in an organization of this sort will be valuable to its members in years to come when they have begun their professional careers.

It is hoped that many Pi Phis may become interested in this organization and help it to grow.

Pi Phis at Columbia University

By SARAH J. FISHER, Illinois Zeta

PI BETA PHI LUNCHEON at Butler Hall Roof" was the notice listed every Tuesday in the Columbia University Bulletins and arousing much interest among the Pi Phis attending the summer school. The girls were brought together through the efforts of Mrs. Eloise Cary Hutchins, Alabama A, and there were usually as many as a dozen to fifteen lunching together each week. Occasionally some other event was substituted for the regular luncheon. One Tuesday, instead of a luncheon ending with dinner at the Village Barn.

The last luncheon was in the nature of a surprise shower for Mrs. Hutchins. Her marriage had taken place since the previous summer's Pi Phi activities, so that this proved a splendid opportunity for the girls to show their deep appreciation for her interest in looking after them at Columbia.

Among the Pi Phis who met at Columbia during the past summer were: Helen Colville Sevits, Ohio Γ ; Margaret Kellenbach, Indiana Γ ; Bernice Lorber, Michigan A; Wesa Dale, Illinois Z; Hortense Gehring, Illinois B- Δ ; Frances Hanlon, Nebraska B; Marjorie Parrish, Indiana Γ ; Marion Cruver, Iowa Z; Mrs. Fern Luther, Indiana B; Jeannette Benson, Michigan B; Eloise Cary Hutchins, Alabama A; Sarah Fisher, Illinois Z; Lucille Eldridge, Florida A; Beatrice Lamar, Michigan A; and Helen Tottle, Maryland A. meeting, a tea was given in the apartment of Wesa Dale and Sally Fisher. Pi Phi songs were sung just as heartily as at a Convention gathering. In fact, the various chapters represented made it seem a veritable convention in miniature. Another Tuesday, Mrs. Hutchins guided the group through interesting places in Greenwich Village ending with dinner at the Village Barn. Two of the girls received their masters' degrees and will not return next year. Marion Cruver, and Margaret Kellenbach, will be missed greatly next summer.

All members living in or near New York City are cordially invited to join this group next summer in their get-togethers. Everyone realized the real joy and true worth of the friendships made in the "Wine and Blue" at Columbia.

AN OLYMPIC RACE ON FOUNDERS' DAY

By JUANITA DAY CARMAN, Minnesota Alpha

GREEKS and the Olympics! What subject could be more fitting for the banquet of the Los Angeles County Pi Phi in this year of the Xth Olympiad held right in Los Angeles? Five alumnae clubs—Santa Monica, Glendale, Pasadena, Long Beach, and Los Angeles, with the active chapters from the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California—celebrated the fraternity's sixty-fifth birthday with a banquet on April 28, in Pasadena. The banquet was held at the Huntington Hotel, so reminiscent of the Convention banquet of three years previous.

With Adele Taylor Alford, from San Diego, District of Columbia A, president of Mu Province as toastmistress, the theme of the evening was "The Olympic Race of Pi Beta Phi," with the following most interesting and unusual program of toasts:

Preparation for the Race—The Founders

The Finish—The Alumnae

A huge birthday cake with candles was accepted by Elizabeth Sawyers Von Klein Smid, Iowa A, one of the official hostesses for the Olympic games in Los Angeles. Also Clara May Wright, president of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club, was presented with a birthday cake with twenty-five candles in honor of the quarter century of that club's existence.

The stunts presented by each club and chapter vied with those at the National Convention; and the Glendale Club was awarded first prize for the alumnae clubs for its clever marionette show entitled, "Tippy, the Clown of Gatlinburg"; while the University of Southern California girls were judged best of the active chapters with their timely skit, "The Greeks Made a Game of It."

Vermont Beta Homecoming

By LOIS B. HORSFORD, Vermont Beta

A DREAM long cherished, and for ten years, actively striven toward by the alumnae of Vermont B, was realized when the members assembled in June for the first homecoming to be held in their new chapter house, at Burlington, Vermont. This homecoming was the occasion of a June Spread, and was attended by one hundred and ten women, including alumnae, active members, mothers, and patronesses, the largest number ever to attend this annual affair.

Unusual in the size of the attendance, and in being held in the new house, it was unique, too, in being attended by six of the chapter's founders: Grace Goodhue Coolidge, '02, Ethel Stevens Guptil, '02, Susie Whiteman Smith, '02, May Conro Pixley, '02, Charlotte Hale, '01, and Geneva Carpenter Webster, '02; a $\Pi B \Phi$ grandmother, Mrs. Herbert A. Durfree; her $\Pi B \Phi$ daughter, Alice Durfree Howe, '06; and her $\Pi B \Phi$ granddaughter, Elizabeth Howe, '32; and the founder of the Vermont B's Mothers' Club, Mrs.

E. F. Gebhardt, whose daughter, Catherine, was a charter member of the chapter.

As toastmistress, Edith Gates Davis, '15, was delightfully informal in carrying along the theme, "The $\Pi B \Phi$ Treasure Chest." Toasts were given by Elizabeth Crockett, Harriett Willard, Norma Freeman, Katherine Skinner, and Alice Durfree.

Gracious acknowledgment was made to all those who through their courage, vision, perseverance, and untiring toil did so much to make the chapter house a reality.

Following the toast of Mrs. Gebhardt, as founder of the Burlington Mothers' Club, Grace Goodhue Coolidge spoke for the founders of the chapter, referring to them as the lumberjacks who hewed the logs for the $\Pi B \Phi$ Treasure Chest. She also entertained those present with accounts of several amusing experiences which she had in connection with her $\Pi B \Phi$ Round Robin, while she lived in Washington.

FOUR YEARS OLD

THE Fourth Birthday Dinner of the Panhellenic Hotel, New York City, was held from 6:00 to 8:30 P. M., October 1, 1932. The attractive menu was very unusual and the dinner was successful and well attended.

Florida Gamma Graduates

IN JUNE, six members of Florida Γ of outstanding ability graduated from Rollins College. These graduates who have been prominent on their campus are: Miriam G. Sprague, Ruth Todd, Elizabeth Mary Elliott, Dorothy Brooks Livingston, Lucille Eleanor LeRoy, and Lottie Mildred Turner. The chapter is very proud of them.

Miriam Sprague and Lucille LeRoy are the last two of the charter members of Florida Γ to graduate, leaving none of the charter members in the chapter this year, for the first time.

Miriam Sprague, A.B. in education, was president of the Y.W.C.A. her senior year, junior class secretary, member of the staffs of the college publications, and served on numerous committees. She was also active in athletics; and served as treasurer of Florida Γ in her senior year.

Ruth Todd, A.B. in English, is a member of ΦB , honorary fraternity of music and dramatic art; was society editor on the college weekly; was active in dramatics, clubs, and the Women's Athletic Association. She studied the harp at Rollins Conservatory of Music.

Elizabeth Mary Elliott, Florida A, later transferred to Florida Γ , graduated with an A.B. degree in art. She was active in the glee club, and studio club, and has done outstanding work in the art department in both oils and sculpture.

Dorothy Livingston, A.B. in English, was interested in the glee Club and Y.W.C.A.; was on the staff of the Tomokan, and society editor of the Sandspur. She participated in many sports.

Lucille LeRoy, A.B. in English, was representative on the student council; student faculty social committee; on the staffs of the college publications; co-editor of the R-Book, freshman bible; and active on many committees. She served as president of Florida Γ her senior year.

Lottie Turner, A.B. in history, was a member of $\Pi \Gamma M$, honorary economics fraternity; was on the staff of the Tomokan; vice-president of the student association; and secretary-treasurer of Rollins Key Society, honorary scholarship fraternity, besides serving on many committees and participating in athletics. She was corresponding secretary of Florida Γ her senior year.

PI PHIS IN BURMA

INEZ ULERY MCGUIRE (Mrs. John), charter member of Indiana A, recently has sent news from her home in Maymyo, Burma, about herself and her only Pi Phi neighbor in that country, Blanche Spurgeon Riggs (Mrs. Clarence H.), Iowa B, who lives in Rangoon, about 400 miles south of Maymyo. Rangoon is the port town and Maymyo is an inland hill station.

Mrs. Riggs is the wife of the Superintendent of the American Methodist Mission in Burma.

Mrs. McGuire's husband, Dr. John McGuire, is revising the Burmese Bible which was translated into Burmese a hundred years ago. Dr. McGuire has been working on the Old Testament for the past five years and hopes to complete it within another year. He has done other works of note in Burmese, among which are a Commentary on Job and a History of the Old Testament (3 volumes) written by him, and a translation of Vedder's Dawn of Christianity. Dr. and Mrs. McGuire have been in Burma forty-three years, and plan to retire when the revision of the Bible is completed.

Three Michigan Betas Honored

THE Detroit Alumnae Association presented gifts this year at the annual meeting to one girl in each of the Michigan chapters who had the highest scholarship record for the past year. Marian Giddings, '34, received the Michigan B gift with a record of thirty-one hours of "A."

In campus activities, Michigan B has been particularly fortunate in having two of its members elected as president and vice-president of the University of Michigan Women's League. These two girls were also elected to membership in Mortar Board. They are Helen Joan DeWitt and Jane Rayen, respectively.

HAVE YOU noted the fact that in each issue one chapter letter is starred? This mark of distinction is given to the letter which, in the judgment of the Chapter Letter Editor and the Editor, has excelled in promptness, clearness of style, and completeness of detail, and interest and variety of content. The chapters which have been starred so far are: Virginia Gamma, Indiana Delta, Maine Alpha, and Texas Alpha. In every issue, several chapters present letters very close in excellence to the winner. Corresponding secretaries deserve first credit, and with them, the reporters who assist in gathering and selecting the news which is presented in the letters.

Tennessee Alpha Octet

MEMBERS of Tennessee A and Chattanooga Alumnae Club have organized an octet which is attracting attention and favorable comment throughout Tennessee. The octet has a regular engagement to sing over station WDOD, and was featured on the commencement program of the University of Chattanooga. More invitations than can be accepted have come to the group from various organizations in the vicinity. Miss Dorothy Wilber, a member of the group and supervisor of music for the high schools of Hamilton County, has charge of selecting members and preliminary training. Professor Blinn Owen, head of the department of music of the University of Chattanooga, directs the later rehearsals.

RETURN FROM SORBONNE

DOROTHY BOUCK, California T, who was graduated from the University of Southern California, recently returned from Paris. While there she studied at the Sorbonne and received the Diplome d'Etudes de Civilisation française, both the Degré Normal, and the Degré Supérieur, for the course.

The course was a study of all phases of French civilization, especially arranged for students from other countries. The examinations took place at the end of February and out of four hundred persons taking them, seven received the superior degree, and forty, the normal degree.

Director of Pioneer Hall

BLANCHE E. PRICE, West Virginia A, has been appointed director of Pioneer Hall, new men's dormitory at the University of Minnesota. She is a graduate of West Virginia University, having obtained both A.B. and M.A. degrees; and was a founder of West Virginia A.

Miss Price has had varied experiences. For two years she was home demonstration agent of Marion Company, Fairmont, West Virginia, and later taught home economics for four years in her home high school at Morgantown, West Virginia. For six years she was head of the home economics department at State Teachers College, West Liberty, West Virginia. She has completed several summer courses at Columbia University, and has attended the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Minnesota.

She is a woman of charming personality, and has made many friends among the students, faculty, and town people since going to Minneapolis.

SCHOLARSHIP AT SORBONNE

HELEN REES CLIFFORD, Wyoming A, instructor in Latin and Greek at Newcomb College, was awarded a scholarship for six weeks' study at the Sorbonne during the summer, in the institute of Art and Archeology. This is the second time that she has won the scholarship in competitive examination. It is awarded by the institute of International Education. The first scholarship was awarded for study during the summer of 1931, and the second for the summer of 1932.

Miss Clifford spent the six weeks in study at the Sorbonne, and the remainder of the summer in Italy, and returned to Newcomb this fall to resume her work as instructor.

Miss Clifford is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and received her master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1928.

MADAM M. BARBEREUX PARRY has followed the path of the pioneer in an original approach to education and individual development. She calls her work the Barbereux System of Readjustment and Unfoldment via vocal expression.

She began her work in Galesburg, Illinois, in 1894, and for fifteen years she taught in Galesburg and vicinity. In 1909, she opened central studios in Chicago, and since that time has developed teachers and established branch studios in many centers, north and south, from coast to coast. Her time is filled with lecturing and terms of intensive teaching in all parts of the country. Her ideas have received wide recognition from educators in the fields of advanced research, not only in this country but also in Europe.

Madam Parry was a member of the class of 1890, Knox College, and did not graduate, but specialized in vocal music and carried on her study in Boston, New York, and European centers. She became a member of Illinois B-Δ, in 1887.

She is now living in Pasadena, California, and will appear on the program of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club meeting in January. Elsie Barbereux Conser, Iowa B, a sister of Madam Parry, has taught piano in the Settlement School, using the Barbereux System of Expression.

PRESBYTERIAN OFFICER

PEARL ARCHIBALD LEWIS (Mrs. Burdette G.) Nebraska B, was one of the first three women to be appointed at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, to serve on the National Council of the Presbyterian Church. The General Assembly was held in Denver, in June, 1932.

The National Council is the governing body which carries forth the work and policies of the church in the interim of General Assemblies. Never before have women been permitted to serve in this capacity, or to preach in a pulpit of the church. Except for the office of the Moderator, it is the highest office the church can confer, and carries with it the authority to preach.

Mrs. Lewis has for many years served on the National Board of the Y.W.C.A.

IF

IF ALL CLUBS and chapters which have in the past so faithfully supported the Settlement School continue to support it; and

If all clubs and chapters whose own local responsibilities have prevented their consistently aiding the work in Gatlinburg can now make even a small contribution to it; and

If every member of the fraternity will expend even no more than a dollar, although large purchases are welcomed, for Arrow Craft goods during the year—

Not only will the great altruistic project of $\Pi B \Phi$ weather the present storm but also hundreds of men, women, and children of Gatlinburg will have the necessities of life and the advantages that the school can bring them.

EVA HATHAWAY

WHEN school was closed in the Sugarlands, Eva Hathaway, who has been such a force in that district, was invited to teach in Laurel Lick, a community still farther from Gatlinburg than Sugarlands. The fraternity was in no position to give any assistance, of course; but members of the Settlement School Committee drove with Eva over horrible roads to see the Laurel Lick School last June. One tried to photograph the interior as it was then, but even a kodak refuses to describe some things.

Three months later Frankie Hill wrote of the changes in Laurel Lick: "Eva has already done wonders there. The school house looks like a different place. . . . After school she and her assistant took us to their room-house-home. Such a spirit as Eva has makes one feel selfish in surrounding herself with luxuries and ease. Eva has taken that one-roomed store and made it sweet and homelike. She has two beds, one chest of drawers, several chairs, a kitchen cabinet, a two-burner oil stove, and a drop-leaf table—oh, yes, and a screen to hide the washstand. She has to carry water from the school house, and that's the only thing she complained of. As I looked up at the ceiling, I could see the blue sky through several cracks. She was very hospitable and in a few minutes served tea. I do not know when I ever sat at a table where the food tasted so good. The only trouble was that I had to swallow back the tears which the thought of her unselfish spirit brought. The girls are going to have to get a heater, and have a lean-to put on the back of the room for it. I think Mr. Voorheis is going to give the range, as he is quite concerned over their having no fire. The thermometer registered 48 degrees Thursday morning.*

*Late August or early September.

WHEN school started the first of August the weather was too hot for the children to successfully bring milk with their lunch. As the nurse had found a third of that crowd underweight we were anxious to do something. The little tots must breakfast before the crack of dawn for six o'clock in the morning plenty of them are on the play ground. No wonder they are hungry by recess time. We had been given one hundred dollars by the Friends of the Mountain Children and as it was to go for special work with the children we took enough to get milk for the underweights each morning. They have thrived so well the nurse thought it wise to continue through this month and then we will be giving the one extra dish to supplement their lunches and the milk can be discontinued—although I dread to give it up.

This morning I have just come from Laurel Lick—a good ten miles from here. You can go any one of three ways in dry weather. We have had steady rain for two days and nights so I found it about impossible to get there at all this morning. It was out of the question for us to budget anything for Extension work this year but as the people of Laurel Lick were so anxious for Miss Hathaway to teach there she decided to go and was appointed by the county board. It is a new field, plenty to do, work interesting. Her living conditions wouldn't be called all that could be desired but until there is more time to make permanent plans with the county board, know the community better and feel sure she will want to stay more than this year she would not want to have the people carry out their plan of building a cabin for her. So this year she and another teacher are living in a one-room house, carrying water a quarter of a mile and trying to teach a good country school. One boy won forty cents at our fair for something he raised and he gave the money right back to Miss Hathaway, asking her to buy a tablet for his brother and himself and to keep the rest of the money for more tablets as they needed them. Not only is there no money in Laurel Lick but there isn't a store within five miles of there. Our Home Ec. teacher is starting work there, goes in one afternoon each week. I thought this was the day but fortunately she goes to another place that she can reach on horseback this afternoon and maybe by tomorrow the sun will shine and dry up the roads enough for her to get to Laurel Lick. I took the teachers almost to the school this morning but they had to walk the last of the way and I would not recommend the roads for auto driving. EVELYN BISHOP

October 16, 1932

DURING her trip to Gatlinburg in September the Chairman of the Settlement School Committee spent an afternoon visiting other schools with Don Smith, the Settlement School Smith-Hughes representative, who was distributing literature and talking to the people about the county fair. She wrote later: "There is such an improvement in Gatlinburg over the other places that one could write volumes. In one place they use an old Baptist church with its crude hard seats, have not one desk in the building, and there are such pitiful looking children. Most of the teachers were as pitiful. We have evidence of the advancement which twenty years of schooling will give to a community when we contrast Gatlinburg with other places."

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE SETTLEMENT SCHOOL COMMITTEE

THE Settlement School Committee in session, June 22-28, at Gatlinburg:

1. Compiled with Grand Council for the use of the Settlement School Committee a manual setting forth the duties of each committee member, the committee's relations with Grand Council and the fraternity, and its responsibilities toward the school;
2. Recommended that province vice-presidents be asked to remind alumnae club Settlement School sales chairmen to pass on to their successors their account books and instructions so that the work of selling Arrow Craft goods may be carried on efficiently;
3. Recommended that province presidents and province vice-presidents be asked to carry with them on their official visits small uniform Arrow Craft exhibits in order to advertise new products and interest more groups in selling the goods;
4. Cut the budget made for 1931-32 by $4783 in making that for 1932-33, at the same time recognizing that alumnae and actives had continued their loyal support through the long months of decreased resources;
5. Reduced from 5 per cent to 20 per cent salaries of the Settlement School staff in order to meet the reduced income under which the school is operating;
6. Recommended to Grand Council the postponement of convention from 1933 to 1934 because of hard times;
7. Set October 1, 1932, as the date of termination of Mr. Mattil's lease of the Wood Craft Shop;
8. Decided that the reduced income of the school precluded the making of repairs and alterations on the school buildings and property;
9. Recommended that the county school board be informed by the director that within a few years the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School will give up the first seven grades to the county;
10. Voted a month's vacation with pay during 1932-33 to the director, Evelyn Bishop, in recognition of her devoted services to the school during a long period and under a great strain;
11. Was deeply impressed by the continued loyalty and interest of the entire staff in the face of salary reductions and most stringent limitations of money expenditures in every phase of the work.

THE SCHOOL

THE opening of school on August 1 found the staff unusually busy even for that time of year. As Vivian Blair from Oregon A, Barbara Horton, and Mary Rachel Armstrong did not return, their places had to be taken by new teachers. Then, with the closing of three schools in the Great Smoky National Park, Sugarlands among them, many families moved to Gatlinburg where the new pupils swelled the numbers in the elementary department alone to one hundred and seventy. Naturally, this larger enrollment meant at least one more teacher, but Miss Bishop could not arrange for one until after the county school election some days later. In the meantime, the staff had to manage as it could.

All these problems were successfully met, though, and about the middle of September Miss Bishop wrote that she thought everything was running well, grade school being better than it had been for several years.

Eleanor Brabson and Miriam Swan, who have been at the school for some time, have the primer and grades 1-2, respectively. Katherine Collins, Colorado A, 1932, is teaching grades 3 and 5 and is playing the piano for assembly every morning. Stella Huff, whose family is known to almost every Pi Phi, came from the Sevierville School to teach grades 4 and 6. Pauline Whaling, Illinois A, has the high school history and English courses and is working with the boys and girls in their recreation as well as in studies. Mary Rachel Armstrong returned to the University of Tennessee for graduate work after three years of directing the home economics department at Gatlinburg. In her place is Jessie Branhan, who was graduated from the university this year.

Following a trip to the school early in September, Frankie Hill, former Kappa Province Vice-president and present chairman of the Settlement School Committee, wrote of the impression she received: "I feel these days gave me a new vision of the school . . . and I realize as never before that all that has been done, all that we are doing now, and all that will be done in the future is yielding far more in bettering human lives than can be compared with any sum a capitalist ever received from an investment the size of ours."

CLOSING THE WOOD CRAFT SHOP

AS INDICATED in the Summary of the doings of the Settlement School Committee at its meeting last June, the Wood Craft Shop temporarily has been closed. When Louis K. Voorheis of Cincinnati completed, equipped, and gave this handsome building in the summer of 1931, O. J. Mattil, long associated with the school, and his corps of local workmen moved in and continued their making of furniture, paying as rent to the school only the amount of the insurance on the building. At that time it was impossible for the committee to commence any specialized manual training program for the boys of the school, but the committee authorized the chairman to investigate similar projects in the hope of being able eventually to inaugurate such a program in the new building.

When, last spring, the situation resulting from the arrangements with Mr. Mattil was found to be unsatisfactory, the committee voted to terminate his contract at the end of his year in August. The year 1931-32 proved difficult for the school as it did for other altruistic projects generally, however, so no new enterprise could be undertaken. The committee, meeting in June, extended the time of Mr. Mattil's occupancy until October so that he could reap the full benefit of the long tourist season, but decided to close the building at that time.

When the finances of the school permit and satisfactory arrangements can be arrived at, the building will be opened again and a forward-looking educational program will then be inaugurated.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The triplicate folders entitled In the Mountains of Tennessee, which were prepared for sale at two cents each to clubs wishing to distribute a little authentic literature on the Settlement School, are now available for postage charges only. They may be obtained

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by ANNA HOLM DE MONSEIGLE

In a recent issue of THE ARROW we noted with pleasure that the contributions made to literature by Pi Phi came from sections widely separated geographically. It is with great pride that we at this time call attention to the distinctly international character of the work done by these authors, as well as the high standard of their writing, and the versatility which they display in their choice of subject matter.

DORA NEILL RAYMOND

The really distinguished career of Dr. Dora Neill Raymond, Texas A, began some years ago. In 1922 and 1923 THE ARROW published articles about her as one of the Pi Phis in the Public Eye. The former told about her receiving her doctorate at Columbia where she had gone to study as Schiff Fellow in Political Science—the first woman to be awarded that fellowship. The latter article had reference to the singular honor conferred upon Mrs. Raymond in being twice awarded the Alice Freeman Palmer Memorial Fellowship by the American Association of University Women.

But her talent for research dates back to her high school days in San Antonio, Texas, when, as editor-in-chief of the high school magazine she won a prize offered by The Colonial Dames for a paper on Early Education in the Colonies.

In her junior year she married, and leaving college, went to live in Raymondville, Texas, where in 1911 was born her son, Neill Raymond.

Returning to the University in 1915 Mrs. Raymond resumed her work and in two years received the degrees of B.A. and M.A. In 1918, she held the University Fellowship in History and was editor-in-chief of the college magazine, the Longhorn.

Dr. Raymond's dissertation British Policy and Opinion During the Franco-Prussian War was selected by the editor of the Columbia Studies in History, Economics and Public Law to be the first member of the one-hundredth volume of that series. With bibliography and index it comprises 435 pages, is published separately by Longmans, Green and Company of New York, and P. S. King and Son of London.

The author has been gratified by favorable reviews in the London Times, Court Gazette, Edinburgh Scots, and New York Tribune. More highly prized than these, however, is a long letter from the late Viscount Bryce, who wrote shortly before his death to say that he was reading the monograph with much interest. Frederic Narrison and Sir Henry Lucy, two other eminent Englishmen who were living during the period of which the dissertation treats, have also written of it most approvingly.

Having received her Doctorate, and having been for the second time awarded the Alice Freeman Palmer Memorial Fellowship, Dr. Raymond resigned it to accept the position of instructor at Smith College, where she taught for two years.

In 1924, while at Smith, she was the author of The Political Career of Lord Byron (published in this country by Henry Holt & Co. and in London by Allen and Unwin) which was favorably reviewed in this country, England, Scotland, and Australia. Among the reviewers in this country were: Carl Van Doren, William Ellery Leonard, John Donelson, Howard Mumford Jones, Edmund Wilson, Claude G. Fuess, and Ben Roy Redman. Dr. Raymond was co-author of The Taming of the Frontier (published Minton-Balch and Company) which appeared in 1925. Her part was: "San Antonio: an Unsainted Anthony."

In 1925-1927, she was assistant professor, and the following two years associate professor at Sweet Briar College, Virginia, where she has since 1930 been full professor.

In 1929, she was granted a leave of absence of six months for research at Oxford University and the British Museum.

As member of the MacDowell colony, Mrs. Raymond has spent the past three summers at Peterboro, New Hampshire. In addition to holding a membership in the MacDowell Colony League she also belongs to the following organizations: Virginia Social Science Association, American Association of University Women, American Historical Association (life membership), and Association of American University Professors.

The Sweet Briar College publication, the Sweet Briar News of April 28, 1932, comments at length upon Dr. Raymond's review in the Journal of Modern History of Wm. Dodgson Bowman's The History of "The Times." Other book reviews by her have been published in the American Historical Review, the Journal of Modern History, and the New York Times.

The Sweet Briar News of May 26, 1932 notes: Dr. Dora Neill Raymond, professor of history, has recently signed a contract with the Minton-Balch division of G. P. Putnam's Sons for the fall publication of her book, Oliver's Secretary: John Milton in an Era of Revolt. This book is not yet off the press, but we shall have the pleasure of reviewing it at an early date.

A book of memoirs, My Confederate Girlhood, is edited by Mrs. Lily Logan Morrill, daughter of General T. M. Logan, Confederate Civil War hero. Mrs. Morrill is the wife of Albert H. Morrill, president of the Kroeger Grocery and Baking Company, and is mistress of "Enniscorthy," one of Virginia's most famous country seats and located in Albemarle County.

As Lily Logan she attended Newcomb College in New Orleans, where she became a member of Louisiana A. Her B.A. degree, received here with distinction, was followed by an M.A. from Columbia.

While living in Cincinnati, she worked ardently for woman suffrage, and headed many noteworthy war projects. Here also she was a charter member of the Three Arts Club, which she served in practically every capacity, and of which she was at one time president.

Duffy R. West, of the Cincinnati Times-Star, in reviewing My Confederate Girlhood, says: "Mrs. Lily Logan Morrill in editing these memoirs of her mother's girlhood has added another valuable chapter to that history of gallantry and loveliness which Thomas Nelson Page immortalized in his tales of Old Virginia . . . The pages are richly filled with names that have given the old South its priceless traditions. . . . The charm of accustomed ease and hospitality lay behind these white pillared doorways. All the men were brave and handsome, all the women lovely, high-spirited, and noble. It is the picture of a land where the realism of suffering was idealized in terms of romance and martyrdom. . . . Famous names appear as home folk. She describes the memorable day when General Lee dined at their place; his courtly charm that hid the heartache of defeat.

"To those leisurely students of history who like to review the most romantic phases of American life, these memoirs will furnish several pleasant hours."

Town and Country, September 1, 1932, features My Confederate Girlhood in a department headed Something to Improve Your Mind, and pays a glowing tribute both to the personality and the writing ability of Mrs. Morrill, while the Charlottesville (Va.) Progress of June 1, 1932, adds that the book has undoubted value as a historical document.

Your editor found the memoirs fascinating reading, and feels that the thirty illustrations from rare photographs of the Cox and Logan families, of soldiers mentioned, of scenes of life at "Algoma" (Mrs. Logan's home) and of those who visited there, add much to the interest of the story.

On March 20, 1917, Mrs. Morrill's play, Polly Politicates, a one-act comedy of Virginia life, was presented in the Little Playhouse in Cincinnati with great success. This autumn a play in Italian, China Eggs, will be acted under the auspices of the Italian department of the University of Virginia.

Mrs. Morrill has written a number of articles for garden magazines, notably for Country Life, in June, 1930, an article entitled, Continuity: The Keynote of the English Garden; and for Town and Country, September 15, 1932, an article, Some of Monticello's Neighbors.

Last winter she gave a series of radio talks on Virginia Gardens over WLW in Cincinnati. Mrs. Morrill is now working on a confederate juvenile, using as a foundation further early diaries of her mother, Kate Virginia Cox Logan.

Of Jean Kay by Josephine Trott of Colorado B the Denver Post of April 10, 1932, says: "This book is a gay little affair depicting with slangy non-chalance reactions of a young American girl on her first visit to Paris. Jean does all the everyday mundane things that all tourists go through during a foreign stay. Their style is rather reminiscent of Anita Loos' Gentlemen Prefer Blondes, although the outlook is just the opposite. Jean Kay is as ingenuous and naïve as Lorelei was hard-boiled. But both books have the same sort of infectious humor."

A Paris publisher has brought out two juvenile serials, originally published in the Junior World, translated by Miss Trott as two books for children under the French titles, On Demande Une Maman and Deux Enfants du Far West.

Miss Trott's first achievements, after completing her education at Denver University, were musical. After studying the violin for three years in Berlin under famous music teachers, she spent two years in Paris. During this latter period she composed several volumes of Melodious Studies for the Violin, published by a New York firm. At this same time she also translated a quantity of French and German poetry into English verse, largely for use by singers.

During a later three year sojourn in Paris Miss Trott made several English translations of novels and biographies by leading French authors, besides writing numerous stories and articles. For an early issue we promise a review of William the Conqueror done in her best style by Madame Delarue-Madrus, and translated by Miss Trott. This has been characterized "an important book." Though announced for September 21, it has not made its appearance at present writing. Note: When inquiring about the works of this author it may be well to bear in mind that she also writes under the pen name Colin Shepherd.

Particularly appropriate for mention in view of the nearness of the Christmas season, and decidedly outstanding in the realm of children's books, is the work of Mrs. Henry O. Koehler (Lois Donaldson), Florida A. Though born and brought up in Chicago, and receiving her degree from the University of Chicago, she attended Stetson University while her people had a winter home in Florida. Three years ago she was married to Henry O. Koehler, a graduate of the University of Illinois, and an electrical engineer.

Since her "school days" says Mrs. Koehler, she has been with a publishing firm as advertising manager. In that connection she was in 1928 president of the Women's Advertising Club of Chicago. She attended the Advertising Convention when it was held in London in the summer of 1924.

Lois Donaldson, who writes under her maiden name, has done graduate work in children's writing at Columbia University and at the Medill School of Journalism in Chicago.

As a very natural outgrowth of her interest in bookmaking she has done many adaptations of foreign picture books found abroad. Thus she is bringing to American little folk the most distinguished foreign artists and their lovely colors. It must be added that she has written just the right kind of stories to supplement their charm.

"Listing by the American Literary Association" gives greatly coveted prestige to children's books. Two of Miss Donaldson's books were so listed: In the Mouse's House and Karl's Wooden Horse.

Of The Mouse's House, arranged from a German story with pictures by Mathilde Ritter, John Martin's Book says, "It is one of the picture books about which there can be no question. We fell in love with it on sight—with its beautiful type, and gorgeous pictures in six rich colors. The housekeeping arrangements of the lovable Mouse-ling family are full of ingenious detail, from early morning when the children wash their faces, and brush their teeth and tails, until night, when the Mouse-lings, content with the day's accomplishments, undress, put on their nighties and snuggle into their featherbeds which tuck so neatly into cigar-box bedsteads. All in all it is a picture-story which a child of three to six will pore over by the hour."

High praise has been accorded by many reviewers to Karl's Wooden Horse, from the Swedish, with pictures by Annie Bergmann. "A fascinating picture book for little children, a really artistic piece of work," says the Daily Courant of Hartford. This sentiment is echoed with variations by such well-known periodicals as the following: Brent's Magazine, New York Herald-Tribune, Harper's Magazine, San Francisco News, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Saturday Review of Literature, Ohio State Columbus Journal, Chicago Daily News, Boston Globe, Washington Daily News, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Knickerbocker (Albany, N.Y.) Press and others.

From the Swedish comes the story, Snipp Snapp Snurr and the Red Shoes, with pictures by Maj Lindman. The following is quoted from a review printed in Parents' Magazine for June, 1932: "A gay picture book. We are delighted with the story in English and can recommend it as a story that will be read and re-read. Snipp, Snapp, and Snurr are three little boys who have entrancing experiences while earning the money to buy a pair of red shoes for their mother. Both story and pictures are entirely childlike and unsophisticated." The book is recommended for children from four to six.

Classified among "Books Good to Grow On" is Kylle Kluk, Miss Donaldson's adaptation of a Danish juvenile story about a young chick hero. It has earned the following praise from the Chicago Daily News: "Louis Moe, one of Denmark's prominent artists, has done the illustrations in full color and black and white, and altogether it makes a grand book for the young ones who crawl upon your knee and ask to be read to."

This story makes a particular appeal to your editor, perhaps because she was brought up on Hans Christian Anderson, and because she spent a year of her childhood in Denmark. She feels that Miss Donaldson has succeeded in capturing for the American child the charm of a story very dear to your editor when she was a little girl, and knew it only in Danish.

Other books by the same author are: Tillie, Tallie and Tag, from the German, with pictures by Ernest Kutzer, Snipp Snapp Snur and the Gingerbread, with pictures by Maj Lindman, The Toy Workshop in the Land of Silvery Blue, with pictures by Tamara Ramsay.

In the near future we shall have more to say about Greta in Weatherland and Runzel-Punzel, which are not yet off the press.

Mention should be given to a really excellent monograph by Ray W. Irwin, a Pi Phi husband. His wife is Edna May Williams, Missouri T, whose address is 40 Gramercy Park, New York City.

Mrs. Irwin says: "We are in New York each year from February to September, and in the remaining months we usually spend part of the time in Washington, where Mr. Irwin does research, and the remainder of the time traveling." An admirable arrangement, we should say.

Published by the University of North Carolina Press, The Diplomatic Relations of the United States with the Barbary Powers 1774-1816 is regarded as unique by the Mississippi Valley Historical Review for the following reasons: "Here is told for the first time completely and connectedly the story of American relations with the four semi-piratical states of North Africa from the American Revolution to the conclusion in 1816 of the treaty with Algiers, which marked the end of the depredations of these freebooters upon the commerce of the United States. . . . The diplomatic negotiations of the entire period are here set forth with satisfying detail, but always with an eye to general trends in American policy. The well-arranged bibliography and full documentation show that the author has made an extensive use of both printed, and imprinted, official and unofficial sources, drawing heavily upon the archives of the Department of State and upon manuscript collections in Washington and elsewhere. The narrative concludes with A Retrospect, presenting a convenient summary of the period covered, and an excellent analytical index ends the volume.

We have been told that Mrs. Olin Chamberlain, Helen Dymond, Louisiana A, who gets out the entire publication, the New Orleans Post, as well as being assistant editor of the New Orleans Realtor, and her husband, who is in the advertising business, are both charming young people. We should welcome further information about them.

Maridel Saunders, also Louisiana A, who was graduated with Φ B K honors, edits the Junior League News of New Orleans. She covers the activities of the League and notes news items of social interest.

In his list of "One Hundred Books of the Year" in Scribner's Magazine for July, William Lyon Phelps includes Portugal for Two, by Lawton Mackail, reviewed in these columns earlier in the year.

IN MEMORIAM

GRACE HUGHES LAIRD
Iowa Beta

The loss of Grace Hughes Laird (Mrs. Russell B.) is greatly mourned by her many friends.

Grace was born at Plover, Iowa, October 28, 1896. At an early age she moved to Norwalk, and there spent her girlhood days. She was graduated from the Norwalk High School in the class of 1915, and from Simpson College in 1920.

After graduation she taught for two years in Sidney High School where she met Russell B. Laird, to whom she was married June 7, 1922. To them two children were born, Geraldine and Russell.

Mrs. Laird became a member of $\Pi B \Phi$ at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa. After college her interest in $\Pi \Phi$ continued and she founded two alumnae clubs; one at Sidney, Iowa, the other at Hamburg, Iowa. She was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Research Club, the Goodwill Class, and local organizations of the Presbyterian Church.

HELEN GANIARD CRONIN Massachusetts Alpha

The Boston Alumnae Club has lost this year one of its loved members, Helen Ganiard Cronin (Mrs. Frederick A.)

She was graduated from the Roxbury High School in 1903, and entered Boston University in the class of 1908. Because of her outstanding charm and her great capacity for making friends, her participation in all departments of college life was immediate. She was president of her class during her freshman year and was much interested in dramatics.

Later she taught in the public schools of Rye, New Hampshire, and in Beachmont and Boston, Massachusetts. On October 1, 1912, she was married to Frederick A. Cronin. Her activities included the Roxburghe Club and Women's Council in Roxbury, the Women's Republican Club, and Park Street Church in Boston. During the war, she worked for Food Conservation and had charge of the Liberty Bread Shop maintained in Roxbury in connection with this program.

For the last six years she has lived in Belmont where she passed away, January 12, 1932, after a two-years' illness. Her optimism, her zest for living, and her courage have long been appreciated by her Pi Phi friends who sincerely sympathize with her husband and aunt who survive her.

EVELYN POWELL WILLIAMS

Pennsylvania Beta

Evelyn Powell Williams (Mrs. T. Stuart), born December 28, 1898—died August 3, 1932, after an illness of almost two years.

In 1916, Evelyn was graduated as valedictorian from Edwardsville, Pennsylvania, High School. In the fall of that year she entered Bucknell University and in 1917 was initiated into Pennsylvania B, where she will be remembered as a splendid and conscientious student and an enthusiastic Pi Phi. She was active in many phases of college life.

After graduation she taught science in the Edwardsville High School. In the summer of 1922, she became the wife of T. Stuart Williams.

Loyal, unselfish, and radiating happiness, Evelyn enjoyed an ever widening circle of friends, who deeply mourn her passing. Her influence has enriched the lives of those it touched; and those who knew her are thankful to have held her as a friend.

Deepest sympathy is extended to her immediate family: her husband, her six-year-old daughter, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Powell.

ELEANOR HUMPHREY SMITH

Kansas Alpha

Mrs. Eleanor Humphrey Smith, a member of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club, passed away in Los Angeles, April 23, 1932. She is survived by a twenty-one year old son.

Mrs. Smith was graduated with an A.B. degree from the University of Kansas in 1903. In 1909, she was married to John Anders Smith, and lived in Butte, Montana, until Mr. Smith's death in 1915.

She then went to live in Los Angeles with her sister Adele Humphrey, Kansas A, and in 1916 became teacher of English in the Los Angeles Polytechnic High, where Adele Humphrey is vice-principal. Mrs. Smith collaborated with five other English teachers in the authorship of a Brief Review of English Grammar, which is used in practically every state in the United States. It is used in junior high schools, high schools, and colleges.

At the time of her death, she was president of the Mothers' Club of her son's fraternity, © X.

On the plate of a crypt in the Mausoleum of Hollywood Cemetery, Los Angeles, California, one reads:

NELLE B. TURNER

1932

A simple inscription, but full of inexpressible meaning, and so true of the one whose sleep it marks. Nelle Turner

NELLE B. TURNER

Indiana Alpha

had a rarely sunny, lovable, sympathetic disposition that flowered into a life of such service that "beloved" finds an echo in the hearts of her countless friends, many of whom are Pi Phi.

She was born and reared in Franklin, Indiana, where she attended the public schools and Franklin College, going later to the New England Conservatory, Boston. Music teaching in schools and college, with Chautauqua concert experience followed. Being drawn to the profession of nursing, she trained and graduated at Streeter Hospital, Chicago, and immediately became resident nurse at the Women's Dormitories, Chicago University, where she remained for ten years, resigning only to answer her country's call when the United States entered the World War. She was appointed an officer in the Army Nursing Corps, and during the epidemic of 1918 was made superintendent of nurses, Emergency Flu Hospital, Washington. Here as elsewhere, she served with great credit. After the war, she joined the Extension Department of Oklahoma State University, lecturing to women and girls on health. Private school connections and much loyal nursing in her own family, complete the record of honorable mention in so many and varied lines.

At Franklin College she became a charter member of Indiana A, and through her many changes of residence she had the opportunity to cooperate with many chapters and clubs. She was the first transfer to D.C. A, then but a year old; in Boston she worked with the young Massachusetts A; in Chicago, with the alumnae club; in Norman, with the new chapter at the State University; and at Los Angeles, with the club there. Everywhere Nelle loved devotedly the friends $\Pi B \Phi$ gave her. The fraternity was honored by this life.

The first Baptist Church of Hollywood, her home church, is establishing a Memorial Music Fund bearing her name, in grateful remembrance of this radiant personality and spiritual life.

Nelle was the youngest of three sisters, Emma Harper Turner, past Grand President of $\Pi B \Phi$, and Mrs. Maude Turner Gordon of the theater, surviving her. The last few years of her life, Nelle spent at the Hollywood home of her sister, Maude.

In every experience and even through her last illness she carried the same happy, unselfish spirit that so endeared her to all. In the late afternoon of May 23, the triumphant spirit of Nelle Turner passed into eternity.

DOROTHY BENNERS PERKINS
Texas Beta

Dorothy Benners Perkins (Mrs. H. Clay) of Austin, Texas, passed away in Austin, in June, 1932.

She was formerly a student at Southern Methodist University, where she was initiated into Texas B in 1922. Later she attended and was graduated from the University of Texas, where she was affiliated with Texas A, in 1925.

Dorothy is survived by her husband, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. William H. Benners; three sisters, Miss Eleanor H. Benners, Mrs. R. C. Ledbetter, and Mrs. H. W. Register; and two brothers, Alfred and Will H. Benners, Jr., to whom deepest sympathy is extended.

JENNIE RALEY
I. C. Sorosis

Jennie Raley, who was a member of Xi Chapter of I. C. Sorosis at Bloomfield Normal School, Bloomfield, Iowa, died in San Antonio, Texas, in 1929. She was initiated in 1882 into Iowa E, which was in existence from 1881 to 1891.

She was a brave spirit who fought against an incurable disease. Her sister, Helen Raley, presented her lovely I. C. pin to Ethel Mathews Casey, Texas A, who prizes it highly.

In the article, Miss Onken is characterized as one of those persons "in every organization of dominant personalities whose loyalty and devotion cause them to stand out in the making of the history of their fraternities."

SCHOLARSHIP

The active chapter of Κ Α Θ at Northwestern University has installed a new departure, calculated to be an incentive to higher scholarship. The fourth floor room, which was formerly devoted to the use of girls living outside the house, has been converted into a permanent room, known as the "Penthouse." Three girls whose scholarship rank high are to live in this room, at a greatly reduced rental charge.—Banta's Greek Exchange.

Officials of the co-ed government at the University of Alabama recently informed the girls enrolled there that those who had acquired low grades, particularly a D or lower, must pay the penalty by assuming the status of a freshman co-ed in regard to dates. No study, no dates. That is the edict that has been proclaimed.—Banta's Greek Exchange for July, 1932.

For those chapters who argue that "a chapter with a low relative standing might be still considered scholastically respectable if one took into consideration the high standing of certain Jewish intellectual groups," Alvan Duerr, former president of $\Delta T \Delta$ and now chairman of the Interfraternity Conference, has an answer. Mr. Duerr immediately saw red and his article, "Facing Facts" from the Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$ is the result. In a sample sentence of the article, Mr. Duerr writes, "God knows that the average performance of any crowd is mediocrity personified, and there is something pathetic about the plea that a given chapter stands in the middle of a group of fraternities three-fourths of which are below mediocrity."—Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$.

LOYALTY

If the present officers have any one wish greater than the others for the officers of next year, it is for more cooperation and loyalty. A sorority needs teamwork as much as a football team. We have no use for the player who follows the signals he thinks should have been called regardless of the ones that were called. Without loyalty there is no teamwork. Loyalty means willingness to recognize that the judgment of a group is probably better than the judgment of one. It means recognizing the fact that although the officers may not be those of your choice, they are capable, but can not do their work without the support of each member. It means filling a small place, pulling with the chapter, rather than a larger, or leader's place, pulling away from the group. It means following the wish of the majority and refusing to follow the few who are out of step. It means encouraging and expecting an attitude of loyalty on the part of others. The biggest part of loyalty must always be unselfishness.—Crescent of $\Gamma \Phi B$.

HISTORY—BY MOVIES

A unique entertainment, unreeling of a moving picture portraying "The Founding of Kappa," was provided at Boston on the occasion of the February initiation ceremonies of the Boston Chapter of $\text{K K } \Gamma$. $\Phi \Sigma \text{ K}$ is also taking steps to illustrate its founding through the same medium.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL ABOLISHED

Abolishment of the Interfraternity Council at the University of Wisconsin because of little cooperation and interest, is editorially explained as a "Fraternity Lesson" in the July issue of Banta's Greek Exchange. The Interfraternity Council voted to abolish its activities and to disband as a bad job because of the failure of accomplishing anything of merit during the last few years. Summarizing the situation, the editorial explains that seven fraternities have folded up on the Wisconsin campus in the last five years and this spring $Z \Psi$ concluded their situation was hopeless and withdrew a charter which at one time had belonged to a flourishing chapter. Reasons for this situation at Wisconsin is attributed by the Exchange to "a record of extravagance, low scholarship, loose discipline, and a disregard for the ideals and principles upon which fraternities were founded which has sickened the authorities and cooled the interest of the better group of alumni of the institution." The editorial continues by mentioning that the fraternities have need of all the friends they can muster but wonder why they find them lukewarm in their interest. The comment concludes by pointing to the fact that the "constant hammering by officers for better scholarship and more care for financial affairs and more respect for ideals and principles" has been done for the fraternities' own good and while "Rome is burning it is time to throw away the fiddle."—Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$.

RESPECT FOR "ALUMS"

Wisdom does not reside in any group of college boys anywhere, any more than it resides in any group of men anywhere; but the wisdom of the group of men is likely to be sounder than that of the group of boys.

Can we not, once and for all, put away from us this rather unbecoming suspicion of our older brothers, this temptation to get our backs up, this spirit of opposition, this bugaboo fear of being controlled? The ideal chapter, like the ideal man, is the one that does not need to be controlled; and our own observation is that the loudest protests against interference come from the quarter where conditions shout most vociferously for interference.

And now, if we have misinterpreted the thought of the Conference, we apologize; if we have it right, we do not apologize. We're for you, of course, in either case.—Rainbow of $\Delta T \Delta$.

THE ALUMNÆ CAN BE INTERESTED

"Sorority alumnæ, they'll tell you, busy with babies and husbands, lost interest in their college connections. Nor does keeping in contact with sorority alumnæ pay, they'll insist. . . . All of which makes me more and more determined to start some day soon and compile a certified, sworn-to, graph comparing the interest shown by sorority alumnæ, when the chapter gives them a chance to be, and the interest shown by fraternity alumni under the same circumstances. And, I'm going to go further and show on this graph that the contact with sorority alumnæ pays . . . in a bigger way than they expect. . . . The argument that contact with sorority alumnæ doesn't pay is refuted by such evidences as the sorority which recently successfully solicited nearly \$1000 as a result of one letter's request for new chapter house furniture. I know another sorority which gets big dividends from its alumnæ contact, twice a year, when it solicits discarded clothing and annually clears hundreds of dollars from its sale at rummage sales. . . . I'm convinced the argument, that women, unlike men, are too busy to be interested in their college organizations, is without foundation. . . . Witness the college-town alumnæ organizations of nearly every chapter which buy many of the new things which go into the house. Notice the help they give in many things, including rushing. . . . That this is so, seems to me a very good sign of what sororities can do in arousing alumnæ cooperation. . . . When the sororities organize their entire alumnæ membership and keep in contact with them regularly and frequently (most important for success) I predict that many more good things are in store for them."—STEWART S. HOWE in the Compass of $\Theta \Phi \Lambda$.

SHALL WE POSTPONE THE CONVENTION?

ΔX is scheduled to hold its biennial convention some place late in August, 1935. What is going to be done about it? Even though business conditions pick up in the next twelve months do the chapters feel justified in spending the hundreds of dollars necessary to hold the convention? For many chapters, it would be a distinct hardship to send delegates to the national convention next summer. It would mean actual sacrifice to hundreds of our undergraduates, whose parents are giving up other things that these young men may remain in school. Our suggestion is, that the chapters immediately analyze the situation and decide what they feel ought to be done. There is a limit to one's capacity and perhaps a convention in 1933 would tax our young men beyond their limit. All the members of our Executive Board are in closest sympathy with the problems of our undergraduates, but they will be better able to act if they hear from their younger brothers. Without question they would favor a genuinely fraternal and successful convention in 1934 to one that would be a burden and only a partial success next summer. Let them know the wishes of the undergraduates, so that they may be guided and so that they may act as wisely on this problem as they have on so many others. ΔX must continue to grow and progress, but never through unnecessary sacrifices and self denial.—Delta Chi Quarterly.

ALUMNAE CLUB NEWS

Edited by RUTH GILLAN GOBBLE (MRS. HARRY C.)

ALPHA PROVINCE

BUFFALO CLUB

Buffalo Alumnae Club held its first fall meeting September 24, with fifteen members present. Luncheon meetings will be held the third Saturday of every month at the homes of the various members. The program committee is now busy planning an interesting outline of coming events.

Mrs. W. L. Leonard, the club's Settlement School chairman, had several suggestions for raising money for the coming year. The sale of one article, a superior brand of moth spray, will be inaugurated at the next meeting. It was decided that each member would continue to contribute twenty-five cents per month; this money will also go into the Settlement School fund. Special emphasis is to be placed on magazine subscriptions this year.

ADELAIDE M. ROBERTSON

Coming Events

November—Settlement School. December—Christmas party. January—Hostesses, Mrs. Wilbur Leonard, Mrs. Hewitt Miller, Mrs. Harold Meinsler. February—Constitution. March—Election of officers. April—Founders' Day luncheon. May—Hostesses, Mrs. Harold Rich, Mrs. John Halbin, Miss Adelaide Robertson.

BURLINGTON ALUMNAE CLUB

The Burlington Club held no meetings during the summer except the gathering at the Annual June Spread, which was, for the first time, held in the new chapter house and was noteworthy both for the fact that it was the largest reunion on record and that it was honored with the presence of Grace Goodhue Coolidge.

The first meeting of the club was held in the chapter house September 20. Many plans were discussed, including a rummage sale, which has already materialized; a Settlement School tea and sale, for November; a series of covered-dish suppers, to which undergraduate members will be invited in groups; and, possibly, one evening when husbands and sweethearts will be entertained.

Wedding bells have spirited away two members, but the club is fortunate in having Laura Parker, '17, back at the university this year.

LOIS B. HORSFORD

CONNECTICUT CLUB

The Connecticut Alumnae Club met for the first fall meeting on October 22 at New Haven, following an informal tea. The year's program has not yet been definitely arranged, but several small meetings of the two groups, the Hartford and New Haven groups, and several general meetings will be planned. The club is again fortunate in having with it Leona Baumgartner, former Iota Province president, who is studying for the degree of M.D. at Yale.

MARY E. MEYER

NEW YORK CLUB

The New York club invites all members of $\Pi B \Phi$ to attend meetings at Panhellenic Hotel. There will be general and group meetings alternated. Everyone is invited to the annual Settlement School meeting and Christmas party on December 3, 1932. Articles from the school will be on display and offered for sale.

EVELYN A. IHRIG

Coming Events

November 15—Group meeting. Cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. E. L. McKendrew, 111 East 80th St., New York City. Bring what you like or fifty cents. Time: 5:30. December 3—General meeting. Annual Settlement School meeting and Christmas party. Place: Solarium of Panhellenic Hotel. Time: 2:00 P.M. Exhibit and sale of Settlement School articles. Come and bring a ten cent wrapped gift for the tree. January 24—Group meeting. Informal dance for you and your friends in Club Room of City Panhellenic. Panhellenic Hotel. Time: 8:00-12:00 P.M. February 4—General meeting. Mr. Jonel Jorgulesco, scenic designer, will speak on "How the Modern Scenic Designer Works." Time: 2:00 P.M. Place: Solarium of Panhellenic. Admission free to members. Guests, fifty cents. March 1—Group meeting. Afternoon of bridge and tea. Time: 2:30 P.M. Place: Club Room of City Panhellenic. April 1—General meeting. Annual meeting. Election of officers. Tea. Reviews of current books. Time: 2:30 P.M. Place: Solarium of City Panhellenic. April 29—General meeting. Founders' Day luncheon.

ROCHESTER CLUB

Miss Florence Ford, club president, was guest of honor at the first fall meeting, a cooky-shine, held at the home of Mrs. Charles Rummell with Mrs. Alonzo Grace as assisting hostess, on September 10. The members took this occasion to wish Florence a bon voyage and present her with a little parting gift on the eve of her departure for a six months' sojourn in Siam.

A business meeting followed the cooky-shine. Methods of raising money for the Settlement School were discussed. It was decided to supplement the earnings by personal pledges later in the year, if necessary.

The first benefit card party was held in the home of Mrs. C. R. Pearson in Scottsville, and $17 was realized.

A picnic and steak-fry on the lake was held on October 8, for the members, husbands, and escorts.

The club is sorry to note that a most ardent member, Mrs. Staunton Moylan (Dorothy Kinsley), has moved to Philadelphia. Kathleen Allen, Margery Altier, and Florence Allen have moved away, also.

ZOU WRESTLING

Coming Events

November 30—Settlement School. Mountain People, Louise Cassidy, Hostesses, Margaret Mackay, Florence Marshall. January 14—Constitution. Eleanor Good, Hostesses, Louise Cassidy, Ella Catherine Webb. February 15—Evening party, guests, Hostesses, Bess Hanks, Isabell Dusky, Marian Priddis, Mildred Whitney. March 11—Nearest chapter. Hostesses, Ruth Rumbold, Evelyn Brownell. April 29—Founders' Day, Lafayette Inn. Joint meeting with Syracuse Club. Committee, Isabel Dusky, Larry Lawrence. May 17—Florence Ford's trip. Hostesses, Florence Ford, Bess Burke.

SYRACUSE CLUB

Meetings for this year will follow the usual plan of two each month; one a luncheon meeting, the other a dinner meeting, followed by cards for those who care to play.

In November, at an evening meeting, all members of last year's senior class who are available, will be entertained and the meeting on December 2 will be devoted to packing a box for the Settlement School.

Circular letters to non-resident alumnae, asking for contributions toward the club's yearly budget and the refurnishing of the chapter house, which were sent out last year, will be forwarded again this year, in the hope of reaching those who failed to respond to the first letter.

Many budget raising projects are under consideration, a food sale, a rummage sale, and the usual card parties; and the club expects the Settlement School products to enjoy their usual popularity in spite of economic pressure.

CHARLOTTE N. CHAFFEE

TORONTO CLUB

The Toronto Alumnae Club has decided to make this a "Membership Year." For some time it has been felt that there are many alumnae living in the city who should be attending and enjoying the meetings, so each month a different group, chosen according to the year of graduation, is to receive a special invitation. The program for the season promises to be both interesting and amusing, with several original parties already planned and various speakers chosen.

The active chapter has a most attractive new apartment, Mrs. Vaughan (Nora Gray) being largely responsible for the charm of the interior decorating. Although the majority of the alumnae club meetings are held in private homes, the intention is to have several in the new apartment. Not only is it an attractive gathering-place, but as well it tends to bring the members of the alumnae into even closer contact with the active chapter, a practice which has always proved to be of mutual benefit.

DOROTHY F. HARDING

Coming Events

December 13—8:00 P.M. Birthday party. January—Old fashioned cooky-shine. February—Settlement School meeting. March—Speaker on some subject of interest. April—Founders' Day luncheon. May—Annual meeting and election of officers. June—Seniors' party.

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON CLUB

A meeting of the executive board of the Akron Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. U. M. McCaughey, president, on Wednesday evening, September 28.

Plans for individual home bridge parties during the month of November were decided upon as a means of making money for the Settlement School. Under this plan members of the club will act as hostesses and each have two or three tables of bridge. Each player will be charged a stated sum. A small portion of the money so collected will be used to buy prizes for the parties, the remainder going to the Settlement School Fund. Because of this plan no regular meeting of the club will be held in November.

The first regular meeting was October 12 at the home of Mrs. McCaughey. The next regular meeting will be held the first week in December.

In February it is planned to hold a large benefit bridge to make money for the Settlement School.

An Alumnae Club dance was recommended, plans for which will be considered later.

CLEVELAND CLUB

The first fall meeting of the Cleveland Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. E. Gibson on October 1 and attended by seventy members. Mrs. Gibson, who has recently been appointed to the Settlement School Board, gave a report of her visit to the school and detailed plans were worked out for the program of activities of the club for the coming year.

Two evening meetings are planned for this year; one to be a cooky-shine followed by bridge with the young members in charge. The other regular meetings will be luncheons held the first Saturday of each month at members' homes. Luncheons are held the third Wednesday of each month in the Higbee Tea Room for the benefit of the Pi Phi in business.

Mrs. P. A. Pritchard, as chairman of the music committee, is planning two old-time song fests to refresh memories with the old favorites and introduce any new Pi Phi songs so alumnae will not feel quite so out-of-date when they visit the campus.

Plans are under way for the annual Settlement School displays and sale to be held in November.

MRS. RAY T. KELSEY

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

With the opening of Bucknell the Central Pennsylvania Alumnae Club began to function. Due to a devastating fire on August 27 which completely demolished "Old Main," convocation for entire student body was held in the Baptist Church. Dr. Mary Harris, superintendent of the Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., and an outstanding Pi Phi alumna, addressed the gathering. While her talk was classical in choice of subject matter, it was dotted with humorous incidents in relation to life at Alderson.

On the evening of October 4 the new president, Mrs. Drum, called the first meeting of the club at her home. After a short business meeting, Grace Corman, a graduate of last year, spoke to the club on the Constitution.

The actives were entertained on November 10, with a tureen supper.

DAYTON CLUB

The Dayton Alumnae Club, formerly the Miami Valley Alumnae Club, met for the first time under its new name on October 3. Plans were made for the coming year, and some changes were contemplated. Formerly all our meetings were dinners, followed by business meetings and bridge on alternate months. This year the club has decided to leave out some of the dinners, having just the evening meeting.

The formal program for the year has not been completed, but a Christmas party will be held in December, a valentine party for the husbands and sweethearts in February, a Founders' Day celebration in April, and a picnic in June.

Instead of spending efforts on a card party, which is a great deal of work and usually nets very little, the members have voted that each one will try to earn $5 during the year by selling some of her own work, such as baked goods, aprons, children's clothes, art goods, or something else, to the other members who need these articles. In this way it is hoped to raise the quota for the Settlement School. Mrs. Leonard is again in charge of the sale of Christmas cards, which has been the most dependable money-maker in the past.

Last May Mrs. Roehm visited the Settlement School while enroute to Blue Ridge, N.C. The club has lost several members this year, but has acquired several, so that the membership is about the same.

JEAN MAJOR ROEHM

MORGANTOWN CLUB

The Morgantown Alumnae Club met for the first time this year at luncheon September 17, with nineteen of its twenty-two members present. Programs for the year were distributed.

The meetings of this club usually are held in the evening at the home of some member with one or two assisting hostesses. Of the eight remaining meetings for the year, four are devoted entirely to I B Φ interests while the other four are devoted in part to bridge.

REBECCA WADE

Coming Events

December 7—Settlement School. Chairman, Elizabeth Upton. January 11—Business and bridge. LaVerne Davis, Elizabeth Upton, Margaret Shriver. February 8—History, Constitution, Examination questions. Chairman, Della Warman. March 8—Business and bridge. Stella Gregg, Frances Howard, Katherine Miller. April 28—Founders' Day luncheon. Chairman of entertainment, Rebecca Wade. Chairman of arrangements, Frances Howard. May 10—Election of officers. Bridge. Della Warman, Angie Reeder.

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The Northern New Jersey Alumnae Club began the fall with a meeting in September in the form of a tea at the home of Mrs. Jephtha Wade in Maplewood. The second meeting was held at Happy Landing Tea Room near Caldwell in October. Mrs. Brown of A X Ω spoke on "Fraternity Problems of Today."

HESTER DODSON

Coming Events

December 19—Musical, home of Mrs. George Alifer, Montclair. January 16—Talk, "Our Home as a Mitros," Kresge Department Store, Newark. February 20—College Club Players. Mrs. F. Donald Selbie, Plainfield. March 20—Election of Officers, Home of Mrs. J. K. Evans, East Orange. April 27—Founders' Day. May 15—Picnic. Annual meeting. Home of Mrs. William A. Gibson, Succasunna.

PITTSBURGH CLUB

The Pittsburgh Alumnae Club is assured of a successful year, since it is to be under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Finger, who has all the qualifications any organization can want in its executive head. The programs planned hold much of interest; meetings are to be held in the new home of the College Club.

Summer meetings, chance or arranged, have been delightful. A number of the members have daughters who will be ready within a year or two for college, and Mrs. Stebbins recently was hostess at a mothers' and daughters' luncheon.

One Pittsburgh Pi Phi, Bertha Schmid, is singing in a weekly program over WJAS, fifteen minutes of excellent music, carefully selected, and the club is more than proud of her.

CANDACE C. JOHNSON

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The first meeting of the South Jersey Club for the 1932-33 season was held on the first day of October. It is planned to have luncheon each time at a tea room in a different section of South Jersey.

The program committee has promised an informal play, a Christmas meeting with its carols and something about their history, a meeting devoted to civic duty, a men's party, a Settlement School benefit and a specially conducted tour in Philadelphia.

MARGARET S. POWERS

Coming Events

November—Picture description, Miss Margaret Craig; Life history of painter, Miss Dorothy School; Art in textiles, Mrs. Burns Drum; Settlement School gifts. December—Constitutional review, Mrs. F. W. Homan, Christmas reading, Mrs. Guernsey Scholl; Christmas carols, Mrs. A. L. Sherk, accompanied by Mrs. Kent Bodine; Their history, Mrs. Charles Coolidge. January—A tour. Mrs. R. V. Puff. February—Settlement School benefit. Mrs. Edmund Strattan, Chairman. March—Playette, Mrs. Kenneth Slifer, chairman. Election of officers. April—Men's party. May—Civic project. Mrs. N. R. Jones, Mrs. W. L. Morrell. Installation of officers.

SOUTH HILLS CLUB

The South Hills Alumnae Club is smaller this year due to general business conditions. The loss is no doubt a gain for some other alumnae clubs and good wishes follow the former members in their new affiliations.

The first meeting, on September 28, was given to a study of the constitution. The October meeting was devoted to perfecting plans for earning money, by a benefit bridge and by taking orders for cellophane wrappings. There will be the usual Christmas party and the May picnic with husbands joining in the fun. In between these social events the monthly meetings will be used for discussion of pertinent problems, and as the season wears on it is hoped that the problems will become less for everyone.

ELSIE C. HORTON

GAMMA PROVINCE

WASHINGTON, D.C., CLUB

New officers were installed and committees appointed to make plans for the coming year at the meeting held at Mrs. Wilson Compton's home June 10. Miss Evelyn Bishop, and Miss Hathaway, a teacher at the Settlement School, brought news as to the effect the establishment of the new Smoky Mountain National Park is having at the school.

The efforts of the committee to arrange a program of events attractive to all were rewarded by an average attendance of ninety-five during the past year.

The first meeting of the year was a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nesbitt, in October.

At the second meeting, in November, at Miss Marion McCoy's it is hoped that the club may have the pleasure of a visit from Mrs. Sippel, Gamma province vice-president; and of Mrs. Gardner Helmick, formerly a teacher at the Settlement School who now lives in Washington.

Articles from the school will be on display and for sale during that evening.

On the evening of December 13 a card party is planned at Mrs. E. B. McKinley's apartment, Wardman Park Hotel. There will be a dinner at the Y.W.C.A. in January, followed by a program and social hour.

The annual Panhellenic luncheon in February, will take the place of the meeting for that month; and in March the club will meet with Mrs. R. N. Atherton, 9300 Connecticut Ave. The active chapter girls will be guests that evening, and part of the time is to be devoted to the study of the fraternity history and constitution. No definite plans have been made yet for celebration of Founders' Day in April.

Mrs. C. W. Mitchell plans to entertain potential Pi Phi's and their little brothers at a children's party to be given at her home in Silver Spring, Md., the second Tuesday in May.

A supper, installation of officers, and final business meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday in May at the home of Mrs. Wilson Compton; and a boat ride and picnic on the Potomac are planned for June.

The resident alumnae in Washington are so numerous that the plans for having group meetings, purely social, in various sections of the city, will be carried out again this year.

tion of officers, home of Mrs. Wilson Compton. June—Boat ride.

BALTIMORE CLUB

The club held its first meeting on September 28, at the new Maryland A chapter rooms. The meeting was exceptionally well attended, and under the spirited direction of the new president, Josephine Spencer, the club begins its year with the feeling that something may be done about the depression after all.

CAROLINE S. WATERS

Coming Events

Gay, hostess; picnic supper and election of officers.

Meetings to be held every third Monday or Tuesday of the month, Founders' Day excepted.

DELTA PROVINCE

DETROIT CLUB

Labor Day found nearly everyone hurrying back from various interesting vacations in order to be present at the thrilling Harmsworth Trophy Race at six-thirty in the morning. With this excitement over, the executive board settled down and began to formulate pretty definite plans for the year. A real homecoming luncheon and progressive bridge party at the Detroit Golf Club was arranged for October 15. Mrs. Wendell Wilcox offered her home for the benefit bridge and sale of Settlement School products to be held about December 3. The annual business meeting and cooky-shine are planned for March, while Founders' Day will be commemorated some Saturday in April.

Mrs. Ehrlert made a profit of $81.50 from magazine subscriptions during 1931-32. The Christmas card books proved successful and will be handled again this fall. A total amount of $250 was sent by the club to the Settlement School.

ALICE CALLENDER

FRANKLIN CLUB

The Franklin Club held its first meeting of the year at the home of the president, Mrs. LeRoy Cooke (Mary Graham) on September 6, 1932.

A dinner was followed by a business meeting, during which time it was decided to follow the same plan which was used so successfully last year, that of meeting once a month for dinner, with bridge and a social hour following.

On September 17 the club gave a cooky-shine in honor of the new pledges, at the home of Mrs. Meredith.

The club is now working on the annual sale of Christmas greetings, the profits of which will go to the Settlement School.

MRS. WALLACE BECK

HILLSDALE CLUB

The Hilldale Alumnae Club reorganized the latter part of June and celebrated the event by entertaining the husbands at a dinner at the chapter house. On August 30, the second meeting was held, the purpose of which was to prepare the chapter house for the opening of school.

MRS. E. T. PRIDEAUX

Coming Events

December 26—Subscription dance for the Settlement School at the high school gymnasium. February—Study of the Constitution; study of the history of II B Φ; study of examination questions. Constitution, Vivian Moore; history, Martha Meighan; examination questions, Ruth Hadley. April—Founders' Day, joint meeting with active chapter; chairman, Mrs. Ana Green.

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club opened its first meeting this year with a luncheon-bridge, at the Meridian Hills Country Club. Mrs. E. E. Temperly gave a review of the Olympics, which she attended in California. Betty Whetsel told of her experiences while attending Sargent's School of Dramatics. This was followed by bridge for those who wished to play, the prize being a club membership for this year.

The October meeting was a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. W. C. Bachelder. For the rest of the year some very interesting programs have been planned, one being a talk and songs of Stephen Foster by Mr. J. K. Lilly who is making a collection of his works. For December it is hoped to have a bazaar. For the guest meeting it is hoped to have Mrs. Damarchus Brown as speaker. Once a year a meeting is held at the chapter house, the actives presenting the program. The Settlement School meeting, this year, is to be dramatized, which will be interesting and different. The last meeting of the year will be in honor of the active seniors of Indiana I.

The dues have been lowered in the hope of gaining a bigger membership, and the club has been divided into two sections, the Wine section and the Silver Blue section. The losing section is to honor the winning section in some way not yet decided. The fees from the luncheons are for the Settlement School and have been lowered, with a view to having more members attend the luncheons. This, however, is a trial, for the club does not wish to lower its Settlement School contribution. A benefit bridge for the Settlement School has also been arranged.

The Indiana I Alumnae Club this year is making money for the active chapter house fund. They have bridge sections that meet twice a month, each member paying twenty-five cents each meeting, which goes into this fund. At Thanksgiving, they are sponsoring a play to be given at the Civic Theatre, in which members of the club take part. The play to be given is Ferenc Molnar's The Swan. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Green (Virginia Brackett) are directing it. The proceeds go to the house fund.

MAXINE RIGSBEE

LAFAYETTE CLUB

The Lafayette Alumnae Club has met twice this year, to date, and has begun what it is hoped will be a highly successful year. Both meetings so far have been "covered dish" suppers; and it has been found that they provide an excellent opportunity for renewing old friendships and making new ones.

The dues have been reduced from $3.00 to $2.50 a year. It is planned to earn the Settlement School donation through the usual mediums of Christmas card selling, and Arrow Craft articles. The annual Settlement School tea, at which these articles are to be displayed and sold, is to be given at the chapter house this year.

The club is very proud to have won the Delta Province gavel for last year, and should like to assure Mrs. Marianne Wild, the province vice-president, that it was especially thrilling to receive it in time for the second meeting, when the president made thorough use of it. The club wishes to thank Mrs. Wild here in THE ARROW, and to tell her that it will try to live up to what it means.

DOROTHY PUCKETT

Coming Events

September 6—Dinner party at Mrs. John L. Trost's. After-meeting talk by Mrs. Wm. C. Aitkenhead. October 4—Dinner-bridge at Mrs. C. M. Vestal's. November 1—Settlement School tea at the chapter house. December 6—Examination meeting at Bernice Baugh's. January 3—Covered dish supper bridge at Mrs. T. K. Sanders'. February—Dinner at chapter house. Settlement School program. March—History and Constitution study at Mrs. B. E. Horrall's. April—Guest party. May—Senior party and election of officers, at Mrs. B. Prentice's.

EPSILON PROVINCE

COLUMBIA CLUB

After a three months' vacation period, activities opened for the Columbia Alumnae Club when the first meeting was held at the chapter house. The rush captain of the active chapter discussed the rushes.

The most interesting of the summer activities was the gala house party given for the rushees at the homes of Mrs. Sydney Stephens and Mrs. Berry McAlester. A six o'clock buffet supper was held at the Stephens' home followed by a swimming and watermelon party at the McAlester home. From there the girls were driven to the chapter house to spend the night. Mrs. Parks and Mrs. Robnett chaperoned. The next morning they were entertained at a breakfast at the Country Club.

The club plans to continue to have closer contact with members of the local chapter, by entertaining each class separately at a tea following the club's monthly meetings. Plans are being made for the annual homecoming tea and a fall rummage sale.

ALICE HARDY MCCAPES

Coming Events

December 1—Evening meeting, Christmas party. Report of Christmas card sale. Hostesses, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Reese. January 5—Recent changes in Constitution discussed by Mrs. Estes. Entertain freshmen. Hostesses, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Whittle. February 2—Discussion of news in recent ARROW, led by Mrs. Dickinson. Hostesses, Mrs. McCapes, Mrs. May. March 2—Reports of advisory committee. Entertain sophomores. Discussion of rummage sale. Hostesses, Mrs. Banks and Alma Hill. April 6—Election of officers. Discussion of Founders' Day celebration. Entertain juniors. Hostesses, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Coursault. May 4—Fraternity examination questions discussed. Entertain seniors. Hostesses, Mary Evans, Mrs. Dean Parks. June 1—Discussion of summer rushing. Hostesses, Mrs. Beiderlinden and Mrs. McAlester. July and August—Call meetings if desired.

NASHVILLE CLUB

The Nashville Alumnae Club has arranged in advance a program for each of the monthly meetings to be held during the year. Because of the absence of an active chapter in the city, meetings will be held at the residences of various members who will act as hostesses.

The meetings will be of an informal nature with occasional book reviews and talks of interest regarding the progress of II B Φ. Plans for the customary discussion of the Constitution and the Settlement School have been included in the program; also the subject, "Our Nearest Chapter."

The welfare activities of the club will be the sponsoring of a local girl scout troop with whom it will cooperate in their activities.

Celebration of Founders' Day will be in the nature of a luncheon for which a special program has been arranged.

A cooky-shine has been planned for the last meeting of the year, to be held at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Marshall, president of the club.

Attractive folders in the fraternity colors of wine and blue have been printed for each of the club members, including a list of the active members with their telephone numbers and addresses, and the program for the year showing the dates and the nature of the meetings.

The goal of the club is to increase its membership so that the scope of its activities will enable it to contribute its share to the Settlement School.

MRS. LEE H. HUNT

Coming Events

November 18—Hostess, Mrs. Lindsey Davis. Book review, Mrs. Wm. Tate. December 16—Hostess, Mrs. Claude Fountain. Book review, Mrs. Lawrence Wilkerson. January 20—Hostess, Mrs. Frank Gibson. Book review, Mrs. Donald Bernard. February 17—Hostess, Mrs. Henry Hart. Book review, Mrs. Dorothy Bryan. "Our Nearest Chapter," Mrs. James Crabtree. March 24—Hostess, Mrs. Lee Hunt. "Pi Beta Phi Constitution," Mrs. Lindsey Davis. Book review, Mrs. Claude Fountain. April 28—Founders' Day Luncheon, Rendezvous Tea Room. May 19—Hostess, Frances Helen Jackson. Book review, Mrs. Frank Gibson. June 23—Cooky-shine. Hostess, Mrs. Gilbert Marshall.

ST. LOUIS CLUB

A delightful tea was given during the summer by the club in honor of Charlotte Lansing, II B Φ prima donna of the St. Louis Municipal Opera. The guests included the active chapter and all club members.

ZETA PROVINCE

ATLANTA CLUB

The Atlanta Alumnae Club meets this year the first Tuesday of each month for a cooky-shine, which is followed by a business meeting and program.

A rushing tea was given in September at the home of Mrs. Frank Henry, the province vice-president.

The club plans this year to make its customary contribution of $100 to the Settlement School; $10 to the loan fund; $10 to the endowment fund; $10 to the Atlanta Child's Home and to send a Christmas box to the Settlement School.

Money for the club's work will be raised by the selling of Christmas cards, magazine subscriptions, Vapon Shampoo, and by holding a benefit bridge party in the spring.

It is the hope of the club this year to increase its membership and to have interesting and educational meeting programs.

BETTY LOUISE VAN HART

Coming Events

Meetings held first Tuesday of every month. Sewing Day at Atlanta Child's Home, held second Monday of every month.

December 6—6:00 P.M. Hostess, Mrs. Ashby Taylor. Christmas party. Send box to Settlement School. January 3—Hostess, Mrs. Paxton. Cooky-shine. Plans for benefit bridge. February—Benefit bridge for Settlement School. March 7—Hostess, Mrs. T. G. Van Hart. Cooky-shine. Constitution study. April 4—Hostess, Mrs. T. E. Smith. Cooky-shine. Election of officers. Plans for Found-

The first fall meeting was held September 6 at the home of Mrs. Fred Hammond, the new president, and was very well attended. The active chapter's rushing plans were discussed and committees were appointed to assist at each of their five parties.

One of the most important ways of raising money for the Settlement School will be through many small bridge groups whose members will pay as they play. Another way of making money will be through receiving a percentage on every pair of hose bought by II B Φ members at a certain store in town.

The club is planning to have interesting supper meetings every month throughout the winter with a definite program for each one.

HARRIET BAUR SPOEHRER

SPRINGFIELD, MISSOURI, CLUB

The Springfield Club met at the home of Barbara Horton in September. The afternoon was spent sewing for the active girls who have recently moved nearer the campus. The club will surely miss the house they enjoyed so much last year for luncheon meetings.

In October a cooky-shine will be given in honor of the initiates. At the November meeting the club will sew for the Settlement School under the leadership of Barbara Horton who so well knows the kind of gifts that are appreciated. A Christmas party will be planned for December.

No special programs have been planned for this year; but there is a committee appointed for each meeting. Service and simplicity will be the keynote of the year's work. The members expressed the sentiment that informal meetings with certain tasks to perform would render greater benefits for this period of unusual problems. New ways to make money are in great demand. More attention will be given the magazine subscriptions.

MAY BERRY

ers' Day luncheon with Chattanooga Alumnae Club at Chattanooga. May—Founders' Day luncheon.

BIRMINGHAM CLUB

The Birmingham Club is starting this year hoping to attain all that is expected of it. The members expect to keep in closer contact with the local chapter by having alumnae assist in all undertakings and by having several alumnae present at every chapter meeting.

Several plans have been submitted for raising funds for the scholarship loan and settlement school fund. One plan already used was a rummage sale, which was very successful.

A committee has been appointed to look up all alumnae of Birmingham and to go to them personally to interest them in this club. The aim is 100 percent membership.

This year's Founders' Day will be a banquet held at one of the larger hotels in Birmingham.

BETTY JEAN CARLSON

LAKELAND CLUB

The Lakeland Alumnae Club has a meeting the third Monday in every month. The club has ten members and there is usually 100 per cent attendance, all anticipating meeting together each month.

The club is proud of Marian Patterson, she having been appointed by Dr. Ludd N. Spivey to be dean of women at Southern College, Lakeland, Fla. She is the third II B Φ to be so honored at Southern College since it was moved to Lakeland.

MARGUERITE FUTCH

Coming Events

November 21—Frances Craig. Business meeting.
 December 12—Marguerite Futch. Christmas party.
 January 16—Catherine Grahm. Discuss Rollins College.
 February 20—Grace Haldeman. Cooky-shine.
 March 20—Lois Keune. History of Constitution.
 April 28—Founders' Day. May 15—Bessie Kibler.
 Installation of officers. June 19—Marian Patterson.
 Business meeting. July 17—Lois Summers.
 Business meeting. August 21—Picnic at Mrs. Markley's, Auburndale, Fla.

ORLANDO CLUB

The Orlando Alumnae Club held its first meeting for the year on October 6, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Nydegger. At that time plans for the ensuing year were discussed and the regular work of the club begun.

On September 7, a rushing party in the form of a breakfast at the Perrydell tea room was given for prospective freshmen at Florida B and F. A large group of alumnae and actives were present and enjoyed a pleasant morning with the twelve rushees who were presented with the new large, loose powder compacts on which their names had been written.

Included in the budget again this year will be contributions to the Fellowship Loan Fund, Endowment Fund, and the Settlement School; and the club will continue its work in the Needlework Guild by furnishing about sixty garments for the needy.

It is thought that during the Christmas holidays the alumnae members will sponsor a rushing party at which students from Rollins and Tallahassee home for the holidays will assist. The party will probably precede the annual II B & Christmas dance at the Orlando Country Club.

EDNA JAMES

ETA PROVINCE

AVON (LIBBIE BROOK GADDIS)
CLUB

The Libbie Brook Gaddis Alumnae Club held its annual July meeting in the form of a picnic at the Avondale Club, with Ruth Woods, Lucille Tatman, Neita Ray, Martha Crissey, and Audrey King as hostesses.

Following the picnic supper a business meeting was held.

AUDREY F. KING

Coming Events

January—Program: nearest active chapter. Helen Ball, Carrie Chain, Marian McDill. Hostesses: Fern Fennessy, Elizabeth Bliss, Edith Crissey, Margaret Lomax. April—Program: Founders' Day. Audrey King, Frances Davis, Gladys Yard, Pearl Simpkins. Hostesses: Jessie Gaddis, Eula Wingate, Marie Hatch, Audrey King.

CARTHAGE CLUB

The Carthage Alumnae Club attended the annual II B & cooky-shine held at Arrow Point, Hamilton, Ill., at the home of Mrs. Adele Parks and Miss Clara Dell on August 27. Galesburg, Monmouth, Macomb, Quincy, Springfield, Keokuk, Mt. Pleasant, Burlington, St. Louis, Chapin, Warsaw, were the other towns represented. The president of the active chapter of Missouri B spoke and the Grand President, Miss Onken.

A meeting was held on September 27 at the home of Mrs. Alice Rock Smith to make plans for the coming year.

MIRIAM E. WILLIAMS

CHICAGO CLUB NORTH

Chicago Club North is divided into groups of approximately twelve members which hold regular meetings twice each month in their respective homes. The meetings are both business and social, the social nature depending upon the individual group. Governing the groups is the board: Mrs. Ashford Wood, president; Mrs. Roland Hinkle, vice-president; Mrs. Sydney Fithian, treasurer; Mrs. Leon Pescheret, Settlement School chairman; Mrs. Herbert Case, social chairman; Mrs. Harold E. Davis, ways and means; Mrs. John Smythe, recording secretary; Mrs. R. W. Mauer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. O. Williams, president of Howard group; Mrs. Edgar B. Penny, president of Lincoln Park group; Mrs. R. W. Mauer, president of Rogers Park group; Mrs. Everette C. Wood, president of Edgewater group; Margaret Blazer, president of Toilers group. A luncheon is given once each month by a board member when all problems are discussed.

Because the club was so successful last year in selling vanilla extract, hand lotion, eggs and stationery, it is continuing the same plan this year with addition of canned farm products on which a good percentage is made.

On the first Friday of every month those who care to sew spend the afternoon with Mrs. Leon Pescheret at her home making layettes for the Settlement School. There is much interest shown in this work.

The first major social activity of the year was the annual cooky-shine held in October for all the groups and any Pi Phi who cared to attend.

MARGARET MAUER

CHICAGO CLUB SOUTH

The Chicago Club South is formed in sectional groups of which there are six active groups meeting at least once a month. Anyone who might be interested in becoming active can call Mrs. H. V. Cork, 7647 East End Ave., Regent 2887, membership chairman.

The first fall activity of the club is to be a tea and display and sale of Settlement School products which will be held in November. Every member of II B & in this district who is on the mailing list, will receive a card stating the date and place of the tea and sale. If you do not receive a card will you please notify the membership chairman as every effort possible is being made to get in touch with every member of II B & on the south side.

CELESTINE SHARP LÖFGREN

Coming Events

Four general meetings.

November—Tea and sale of Settlement School products. January—Annual cooky-shine. April—Evening meeting to elect officers and study the Constitution. April 28—Founders' Day luncheon.

The club is planning to have several benefit bridge parties and a spring dance in April to raise money for the Settlement School.

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

The West Suburban Alumnae Club has found an unique way of earning money. They visited the ice plant in LaGrange, receiving twenty-five cents per head for the trip. This was followed by the opening tea at the home of Mrs. Franklin Fietsch (Jean Heppes).

In addition to their full program for the year, the club plans to have another Settlement School sale in October. This sale was very well received and proved most profitable last year. Tentative plans are also being made for a card party. They expect to feature a bazaar later on, utilizing the varied talents of the many members. All in all, with forty enthusiastic devotees, the club expects to have a more interesting and remunerative year than ever before in its history.

DECATUR CLUB

The Decatur Alumnae Club began its year co-operating with the active chapter during its rush season. An informal tea for all freshmen girls on the campus was given by the club, and several of the younger alumnae served for the chapter at its formal rush dinner.

The club will, this year, sell cellophane protectives for use in covering clothes, blankets, and linens to help meet its contribution for the Settlement School. As usual, there will be a rummage sale, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the house corporation.

Last year the club was visited by two national officers, the Grand Vice president and the province president.

Three of last year's initiates were daughters or nieces of members of the club.

The year's program was begun with a "Raggedy Ann" party, food for the supper being served in the form of Raggedy Ann dolls.

KATHERINE ALSIP

Coming Events

December 6—Christmas party, devoted to work for the local social service. January 10—Cooky-shine. February 14—House Shower. March 14—Constitutional quiz. April 29—Founders' Day luncheon. May 9—Election and installation of officers. June 3—Reunion breakfast and corporation meeting.

GALESBURG CLUB

With the coming of fall, Galesburg Alumnae Club activities for the year are well launched. The first event of the season was a formal dinner rushing party given for the active girls of Illinois B-D and their rushees at the home of Mrs. Pierce Webster. Later in the same week, the first regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Webb Herlocker, preceded by a cooky-shine, entertaining the active girls and their new pledges.

Plans have been made this year for the usual monthly meetings at the homes of members, preceded by a cooky-shine and followed by bridge.

THERLB HINES

Coming Events

November 19—Settlement School, Dorothy Weinberg. Committee: Mildred Harvey, Florence Webster, Louise Crissey, Frances Woods, Audrey Whitehead. January 17—Cooky-shine and bridge. Hostess, Helen Boydston. February 21—Cooky-shine and bridge. Hostess, Louise Harrington. March 21 —Constitution. Examinations. History. Delia Conger. Hostess, Mildred Doyle. April—Founders' Day banquet. May 16—Business. Hostess, Ruth Eddy. June—Commencement week.

MADISON CLUB

Madison alumnae opened their fall activities with a meeting in September at the home of Mrs. Myron Stevens. The club plans to have monthly meetings this year.

With the aid of a special committee an attempt is being made to establish contact with all new alumnae, hoping that they will attend the meetings. To make it possible for a larger number to become active members, annual dues for this year have been reduced.

MARION ZILLEY

MILWAUKEE CLUB

The Milwaukee Alumnae Club held its first meeting, a rally luncheon, September 17, at the home of Mrs. George Lindblom, Wauwatosa.

The membership was divided into groups of eight; each group is to raise $40 without canvassing any member of another group. This money is to cover all expenses and donations of the club.

Another innovation for the year is the holding of three evening parties, one in December, February, and April. This will give those members who cannot attend the afternoon meetings a chance to meet with the club.

Invitations were extended to Wisconsin A and Wisconsin B to attend the luncheon-bridge, October 15.

E. W. FERRIS

Coming Events

November 19—Constitution. Hostess, Mrs. H. Basil Wales. December 20—Evening Christmas party. Hostess, Mrs. S. V. I. Brown. January 21—Settlement School. Hostess, Mrs. Wm. Nethercut. MONMOUTH CLUB

Coming Events

November—The Secret ARROW Report. December—Pi Beta Phi History. January—Settlement School. March—Fraternity Examination. April—Founders' Day.

NORTH SHORE CLUB

The North Shore Alumnae Club had two summer meetings: in June a buffet luncheon and bridge party at the Kilder Country Club, and in July a luncheon and swimming party at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Shares in Glenview.

KATHRYN C. MERRIAM

Coming Events

November—Settlement School program with movies and a sale of articles made in the Settlement School. December—Charity party, each member bringing toys to be distributed among needy children. January—Walking rehearsal of a play. February—Tea and book review. March—Program. Tea. April—Founders' Day luncheon or dinner with Illinois E. May—Luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. M. Snyder in Winnetka.

ROCKFORD CLUB

The Rockford alumnae held the first meeting of the year on the evening of September 27, at the home of Mrs. Robert Shumway. After a jolly reunion, plans were launched for raising money for Settlement School. It seems that selling Christmas cards, collecting for transportation, magazine subscriptions, and a display of Settlement School articles promise immediate returns.

The club is happy to learn of the appointment of Lynore Andress, Illinois Z, to the Committee on Fraternity Study and Examination.

The October meeting was a thimble party where Christmas gifts for Settlement School children were made.

MRS. HUGH WISE

THETA PROVINCE

AMES CLUB

Coming Events

December 10—Luncheon, Mrs. Curtis. Settlement School program. Pledges as guests. January 14—Luncheon, Mrs. Stoddard. Seniors as guests. February 11—Cooky-shine, chapter house. June 11—Commencement breakfast, chapter house.

BURLINGTON CLUB

The Burlington Alumnae Club instigated a picnic with the clubs of Mt. Pleasant and Monmouth. Sixty-eight participated, and the informal talks from the various members and the later group conversations promoted the friendship of the neighbors. Burlington's Crapo Park was the meeting place. Burlington Club began regular meetings in late October.

MRS. HAROLD WILSON

DES MOINES CLUB

The Des Moines Alumnae Club meetings will be held on the first Saturday of each month, and are to be one o'clock luncheons, with five members serving as hostesses, followed by business meetings.

The club has various plans for raising the money for the Settlement School Fund, one of which is a tea and sale of Settlement School articles. It has been decided to carry over the plan from last year, of each member earning $3 in some way easiest for her, such as, sewing, painting, or teaching. The magazine committee is putting forth every effort to help the magazine agency fund through subscriptions.

At the regular monthly luncheons a silver offering is to be given to swell the Settlement School Fund.

GRAND FORKS CLUB

Grand Forks Alumnae Club held a picnic on August 7, which was attended by thirty-five alumnae, actives, and pledges. During rush week members of the group served at the formal banquet; a formal tea was given by the alumnae club which closed the rushing period. The members of the group were well represented at every luncheon, dinner, tea, and party given during the week.

On October 10, the group had charge of a birthday party celebration in honor of the eleventh birthday of North Dakota A. At this party a birthday gift was presented to the chapter.

MRS. IRA D. ANDERSON

Coming Events

November—Hostesses: Mrs. W. B. Arnold, Marjorie Hall, and Helen Evans. "Constitution." December—Christmas party at the chapter house. Actives and pledges also participate. January—Hostesses: Mrs. C. ST. PAUL CLUB

The first meeting of the season was held October 3. The year's program will include club meetings the first Monday of each month, with intervening gatherings of bridge and sewing groups.

These groups were arranged to produce funds for the Settlement School. A rummage sale also will be sponsored for this purpose.

St. Paul and Minneapolis clubs gave the final rushing dinner for Minnesota A, at the fraternity house, October 8. Plans now are being made for the St. Paul group's annual Christmas party.

GERTRUDE GAMBLE MOORE

WINNIPEG, CANADA, CLUB

Fall activities opened with rushing to which the alumnae devoted its first two meetings. The alumnae assist as much as possible with rushing and entertained this year at a "Slumber Tea."

The alumnae had charge of the annual charity dance which was held on September 30 at the Royal Alexandra Hotel in aid of the "Back to the Land" movement. The decorations and the chorus carried out the idea of "harvest time." This movement is one of great interest to the people of Winnipeg at the present time and many organizations are backing it.

The club is divided into two sections for the bridge clubs, which will meet every six weeks at the homes of the members. Alternating at three-week intervals the regular meetings, business and social combined, will be held.

The alumnae club entertained at tea Sunday afternoon, October 2, in honor of Eleanor Seale Puttee, whose marriage took place Saturday, October 15.

A Panhellenic tea was held on October 22 at which the various fraternities on the campus united their efforts to raise money for the Winnipeg Institute of the Blind.

ISABEL HITCHINGS

IOTA PROVINCE

DENVER CLUB

The Denver Alumnae Club met July 20 for their summer picnic meeting at Gates Chateau, the year-round mountain home of Mrs. Charles C. Gates. On August 1, the benefit theater party was given at Elitches' Gardens and $145 raised for the Settlement School.

The first fall meeting was a supper on September 26. It was decided to cut all expenses to the bone in order to give the maximum amount of help to the Settlement School. A note of congratulation or condolence will take the place of flowers and there will be no yearbook or alumnae letter.

Definite plans were made for the Settlement School tea held on October 26, the rummage sale held the last of October, and initiation of new members to take place at the November meeting.

OMAHA CLUB

If the enthusiasm of the first meeting is an indication, the Omaha Alumnae Club will have a fine year. Thirty-five members met at the Conant Hotel for a luncheon followed by a business meeting where plans were laid for the year's work. It was decided to have a rummage sale early this fall before other organizations have exhausted the field and a committee was appointed to take care of this project. The Settlement School chairman was instructed to order Arrow Craft goods for a display and sale before Christmas. By these means funds will be raised to carry on the work of the chapter.

Mrs. Shrive B. Collins, Iota province vice-president, was the guest of honor at the October luncheon for which Mrs. D. M. Egerly opened her home.

Tentative plans have been made for the year's program which will be given in detail in the next issue of THE ARROW. There will be several talks by notable speakers and several social affairs with bridge following the business meeting.

MARY ANNE MCINTIRE

MANHATTAN CLUB

The Manhattan Alumnae Club joined with the members of Kansas B for two rushing parties during the summer—one a bridge party at the home of Mary Holton and the other a dance at the Country Club.

The club resumed its regular activities for the year by giving the annual cooky-shine for the active chapter and new pledges after formal pledging, September 17.

This year the club has decided to continue its selling of Mrs. Gutgesell's Christmas cards in order to earn its contribution to the Settlement School. A rummage sale may also be held.

Mrs. Hallie Chapman Collins, Iota province vice-president, made a helpful and inspirational visit to the club the first week in October. She met with the members at a luncheon at the country club.

RUTH HOLTON

Coming Events

November—Regular business meeting with special attention to the Christmas-card sale. December—Settlement School discussion with Mrs. Edwin L. Holton, chairman. January—Finance meeting with Mrs. Roscoe Womer, chairman. February—Bridge luncheon. March—Discussion of the constitution and election of officers. April—Founders' Day banquet with Kansas B. May—Yearly reports and social meeting.

WICHITA CLUB

The Wichita Club will follow its regular program of luncheon meetings in the home of the members on the first Saturday of each month. There are forty-one active members, an increase of seventeen over the total for last year. Also, through the efforts of Mrs. Paul Wall, a yearbook has been edited for the first time, at very small expense.

The club cooperated with the actives in town to give two large rush parties this summer, the first being an informal dinner at Mrs. Ralph Rounds' summer lodge, and the second, a treasure hunt followed by a buffet supper and slumber party at the country home of Betty Hinkel. Many smaller informal breakfasts and luncheons were given for small groups of rushees by the various members.

MAFALDE INGLE

Coming Events

December—Hostess, Mrs. Mark Adams. January—hostess, Mrs. Everett Stephenson. February—Hostess, Mrs. Louis Roberts. March—Mrs. Geo. Montgomery. April—Founders' Day cooky-shine. Hostess, Mrs. Claude Lambe. May—Hostess, Miss Mafalde Ingle.

KAPPA PROVINCE

AUSTIN CLUB

The Austin Alumnae Club will meet for luncheon at the chapter house on the first Saturday of each month. Three hostesses will have charge of the luncheon which will include the active chapter. Business meetings will be held after the luncheon.

The business of the first meeting of the alumnae club was concerned with rushing and items of interest to the active chapter. The November meeting will be in the interest of the Settlement School. The club has been very successful with rummage sales in the past and another is being planned, the proceeds to go to the Settlement School. The study of the Constitution and history of the fraternity constitutes the program for the February meeting. Founders' Day will be observed by a banquet which will include both alumnae and active chapter.

All members of the club are looking forward to a visit from Miss Onken who is expected sometime during the fall.

MARGARET HOWIE CASWELL

DALLAS CLUB

Following an inactive summer, the fall work of the Dallas Alumnae Club began with a meeting on September 10 which was devoted wholly to business and plans for the succeeding eight regular meetings and the four special events to take place during the winter and spring.

Much interest was shown in the Settlement School tea given November 18, when the handicraft of the Settlement School was exhibited and offered for sale. Last year the club took in $120 at a similar tea, which was its first effort at the sale of these articles.

Each regular business meeting will be made interesting by a lecture from some speaker outstanding in his particular line of endeavor. On alternate months there will be a luncheon followed by bridge. Those attending these luncheons pay fifty cents, which is applied on the Settlement School pledge.

JUNE HARRIS GRANGER

Coming Events

November 18—Settlement School exhibition and tea. December 9—Bridge luncheon. December 17—Christmas dinner-dance. January 14—Business meeting, lecture on "Southwestern Art." February 10—Bridge-luncheon. March 11—Business meeting, lecture on "The Adolescent and the Parent." April 14—Bridge luncheon. April 28—Founders' Day celebration with the active chapter at Southern Methodist University. May 13—Business meeting, Dances by pupils of Mae Rene Flannery Egan and Mary Frances Flannery Schultz. Bridge tournament, date not set.

FORT SMITH CLUB

The Fort Smith Alumnae Club, under the presidency of Betty Tolson, has already been quite active. In August a garden party was held at the home of Mrs. Wade Cooley. The club decided to start "rushing early" and invited several of the younger girls who are still in high school and a number of girls attending girls' schools along with those who are attending universities. All of the Pi Phis from neighboring towns were invited and the Boston Store featured a style show of pretty fall clothes and fur coats and our "out of town" Pi Phi modeled. It proved to be delightful entertainment for our rushees since they were all busy at that time planning their fall wardrobe.

The first meeting of the new year was held September 27, at the home of Mrs. Thornton Alexander. The second Monday night of every month will be set as the official meeting date. One member will act as hostess each time and the members who are not to entertain voted to donate one dollar to the treasury. The club decided to have the business session first, to be followed with bridge.

MILDRED SIFE

Coming Events

November—Settlement School. December—Christmas party. January—History. February—Business meeting and bridge. March—Study of Constitution. April—Election of officers. April 28—Founders' Day banquet. May—Plans for summer.

HOUSTON CLUB

The Houston Alumnae Club of $\Pi B \Phi$ started this fall's activities with a meeting the last Friday in September. Over thirty members were present, including half a dozen new ones. A committee was appointed to decide how the Settlement School contribution should be raised by the club. The October meeting was held in Huntsville, 75 miles from Houston, with the three Huntsville members as hostesses.

FRANCES STARR

Coming Events

November 18—Mrs. Maurice McAshan, Drew Stages, Mrs. George Heyer, hostesses. December 30—Christmas party. Mrs. J. C. Leonard, Mrs. Palmer Bradley, Mrs. A. N. Boyd, Mrs. R. H. Goodrich, Mrs. Thomas F. Stone, hostesses. January 27—Program devoted to active chapter. Mrs. Joe Russell, Mrs. T. R. Hannore, Mrs. L. S. Wrightsm, hostesses. February 24—Program on Settlement School. Mrs. H. Lutcher Brown, Mrs. Wallace Pratt, Mrs. Willett Wilson, hostesses. March 31—Election of officers. Mrs. Herman Pressler, Jr., Dorothy Quarles, Mrs. Phillip E. Pearson, hostesses. April 28—Founders' Day celebration. Mrs. Edgar Townes, Mrs. John Townes, Mrs. Allan McKillop, Mrs. Rodman Cosby, Cornelia Gregory, Mrs. P. S. Bell, hostesses. May 26—Mrs. Harry D. Payne, Mrs. Edwin Shimek, Mrs. Phillip Werlein, hostesses.

MUSKOGEE CLUB

The first regular meeting for the year 1932-1933 was held the first Saturday in October. Two rushing parties were given during the summer, a buffet-breakfast-bridge in August at the home of Josephine Bernay Brown, and a steak-fry the first week in September at Honor Heights. Of the rushees entertained, three are now $\Pi B \Phi$ pledges.

The plans for meetings for the year are limited to teas the first Saturday in each month to be given at the homes of the members, with two members acting as hostesses, with the exception of a cooky-shine which will be given Founders' Day.

In order to raise money for the Settlement School, Loan Fund, and Friendship Fund a benefit bridge will be given in November and a rummage sale in April.

LOUISE ROSSER

OKLAHOMA CITY CLUB

At the two meetings that the Oklahoma City Alumnae Club has had this fall, much enthusiasm has been shown over our work for the year. At the teas and cooky-shines the members do not try to do anything but have a good time and get better acquainted with each other, but at the luncheons very interesting programs, which it is felt will add much to the meetings, are being planned.

GLADYS MURPHEY

Coming Events

December 8—Cooky-shine. January 12—Lunch-con. February 9—Cooky-shine. March 9—Lunch-con. April 13—Hostesses, Mrs. W. K. Bobo, Mrs. Burton Duncan, Mrs. John O. Brittain, Mrs. Ben Thompson, Catherine Grant. April 28—Founders' Day Banquet, chairman, Mrs. B. M. Turner.

NEW ORLEANS CLUB

The New Orleans Club is looking forward to this year with much interest and enthusiasm, with Miss Onken's visit and other important events scheduled. The club is stressing membership specially and has a canvass on for enlisting everyone in some definite phase of club work.

A good number of alumnae attended the house party for rushees; and entertained for the new pledges the last of October.

Other events will be a benefit movie for the Loan Fund, a bridge party for the Settlement School, and the annual banquet. This year promises to be a full and interesting one for all.

ERNESTINE BASS HOPKINS

SHREVEPORT CLUB

Coming Events

November 18—Settlement School news, Myrtle Day. Hostesses, Sydney Galloway, Eloise Grimm.

LAMBDA PROVINCE

CORVALLIS CLUB

The Corvallis Alumnae Club welcomed three new members at its first meeting of the season, held October 5 at the home of the new president, Mrs. Paul J. Schissler. The new members are Alice Ingalls, Carrie Boultinghouse, and Edith Smith, all from Oregon B. The club regrets the loss of two members, Mrs. Herbert R. Sinnard, and Margaret Jewell, both of whom have moved to Eugene as a result of the unification of Oregon State and University of Oregon.

The principal interest of the club, particularly at this time of year, is the welfare of Oregon B. Several of the members attended rushing dinners at the house, finding the parties well planned and well carried out.

A system, by which, at each club meeting, one member volunteers to attend dinner and the weekly chapter meeting at the house as often as she can during the ensuing month, has been inaugurated. Then through reports from these club members, the advisory board as well as the club as a whole expects to keep in closer touch with the spirit of the chapter.

MILDRED GILBERT BATESON

Coming Events

December 14—Dinner with Mrs. Cornelius Bateson. Study of the Constitution by Mrs. L. G. Russell. January 11—Dinner with Mrs. William Tuetsch. The Tulsa Alumnae Club had the first meeting of this season September 17 in the Junior League Tea Room, with Mrs. J. A. McCutchen, the new president, presiding. Plans for the year were discussed and an especial committee was appointed to recommend rushees.

Mrs. Williamson, Kappa province vice-president, is planning a visit here this fall.

The annual Panhellenic tea for new and old members was given October 28 at the home of Mrs. Robert Paul Bates, $\Delta \Delta \Delta$. The tea took the place of the monthly bridge tea sponsored by Panhellenic, having as hostesses the different fraternities. $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ members gave the September party at the Sophian Plaza.

LOLITA MURDOCK

and adopted and definite plans were made to collect the $50 house pledge.

HELEN MCCAIG

Coming Events

November—Constitution. December—Bridge. January—Settlement School. February—Active chapter rushing. March—Bridge. April—Founders' Day celebration with the active chapter. May—Annual meeting and election of officers. June—Picnic.

PORTLAND CLUB

During the summer the Portland Alumnae Club was active in helping the Oregon A and the Oregon B Chapters rush Portland girls.

The first fall meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ashley Cook, September 27. New alumnae members were introduced and given a welcome.

The business meeting was devoted to discussion of means of making money. The club plans to give a benefit luncheon and theater party in the near future and will again sell Christmas cards. A number of other plans were submitted but nothing more definitely decided upon.

The annual cooky-shine sale was held at the home of Mrs. David Botsford, October 11.

During the month of November a Settlement School tea will be given at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Knight. At this tea members may bring their friends to view the settlement school products. The club hopes to receive many orders from this display.

ELSIE MCIVER

SALEM CLUB

The October meeting of the Salem Alumnae Club was held at the home of the province vice-president, Mrs. James R. Humphrey, with Miss Ethel Fraizer, new president, acting as assistant hostess. At this meeting the club program for the year 1932-1933 was planned and outlined and a budget committee was appointed. It was planned that a short talk and discussion at each meeting during the year on the History and Constitution of $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ Fraternity would be given by various members of the club.

The Salem Alumnae Club is planning to have a benefit bridge tea in December at the home of Miss Dorothy White and at that time have on display Settlement School gifts, from which it is hoped to receive some revenue for the Settlement School Fund.

VIRGINIA BEST KEECH

Coming Events

November—Constitution; home of Mrs. J. Edwin Keech. December—Bridge tea at the home of Miss Dorothy White. January—Settlement School; hostess, Mrs. Frank Deckebach, Jr. February—Active Chapter; hostess, Mrs. James R. Humphrey. March—Bridge party; hostess, Mrs. Wolcott Buren. April—Founders' Day banquet. Guests of the Portland Alumnae Club.

TACOMA CLUB

Inez Smith Soule Alumnae Club meets the second Saturday of every month for a luncheon meeting, followed by bridge or a special program after the business meeting. The luncheons are at the homes of members, two acting as hostesses for each meeting.

One of the events of the year will be the bridge luncheon in November given at the Fisher Company as a benefit for the Settlement School.

In accordance with our usual custom, a Christmas tea will be given for all active members home for the holidays.

HELEN J. FITZSIMMONS

Coming Events

December—Christmas tea; hostess, Junior alumnae; program, active chapter. January 14—Hostess, Mrs. Fitzsimmons; assistant, Mrs. Chisholm; program, bridge. February 11—Hostess, Mrs. Peterman; assistant, Marguerite Bonnell; program, Settlement School. March 11—Hostess, Mrs. Lundvick; assistant, Helen Clark; program, bridge. April—Founders' Day banquet. May 13—Hostess, Mrs. Griffith, assistant, Dorothy Wiegell; program, book review. June 10—Picnic.

MU PROVINCE

ALBUQUERQUE CLUB

The Albuquerque Alumnae Club opened the 1932 season September 30 with a business meeting at the home of the president. The group discussed the program for the year and plans for raising money for the Settlement School.

The fourth Friday of each month was decided upon as the regular meeting day. Plans were made for a downtown display of Settlement School goods and a weekly sale at the home of Mrs. James R. Scott. In addition the club plans to aid a local charity, the Day Nursery.

After the business was finished the tea hour was turned into a stork shower for Mrs. Marshall E. Paris and a kitchen shower for Mrs. Chester Russell, a recent bride.

EVANGELINE PERRY BURNHAM

BERKELEY CLUB

The Berkeley Alumnae Club held its first meeting, September 27, at Mrs. Joseph Fairchild's home in Piedmont. The tea honored the new president, Mrs. Robert H. McCreary, and Mrs. F. R. Kerman, province vice-president. Over seventy-five members were present.

Mrs. Dudley Smith was in charge of arrangements for the formal evening bridge party at the home of Charlotte Ham in St. James Woods, Piedmont, October 18, with husbands as guests.

The Arrow Craft Shop tea will be given at the chapter house in November. Mrs. Ralph Van der Naillen is chairman and members will be asked to bring their friends.

Mrs. Fred Seulberger is chairman of the bridge groups for the purpose of raising money for the Settlement School. There are at present twelve groups averaging from eight to twelve in each group.

The December meeting will be a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Cortis Majors and in January the initiation banquet will be under the chairmanship of Barbara-Lu White.

The money-raising activities aside from the bridge groups, include magazine subscriptions, an afternoon bridge benefit given in February, and the rummage sale in March.

RUTH HUTCHINSON SOMERS

Coming Events

November 15—Arrow Craft Shop tea. Mrs. Ralph Van der Naillen, chairman, 11 B Φ house, Berkeley. December 6—Cooky-shine. Mrs. Cortis Majors,

EL PASO CLUB

In April a group of Pi Phi's met for lunch at the Hotel Paso del Norte in El Paso, Tex., to celebrate Founders' Day and to hear Mrs. O. C. Martin, Indiana B. of New York, tell of her experiences in Belgium. At this luncheon it was decided to form an alumnae club. The El Paso Alumnae Club was organized May 3 at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Carpenter. Betty Colt was elected president and Anita Andreas, vice-president. There are now twenty-one members of the club representing thirteen chapters.

Several informal meetings were held during the summer. A rush party was given August 30 at the Country Club, for girls entering college this fall. The club meets the first Thursday of each month in the homes of members.

LOS ANGELES CLUB

The fall activities of the Los Angeles Club are progressing under the direction of the new president, Elizabeth Wheat. A book group has been organized, which will meet the third Friday of each month, in different members' homes. Juanita Day Carman, chairman, has arranged for a discussion and review of books.

Marguerite Harper is chairman of the bridge sections through which the club raises funds for the Endowment Fund and Settlement School.

The first meeting, October 14, was a luncheon at the home of Elizabeth Wheat. The program, "Summer Ramblings," was arranged by Ruth Barrett Smith, who had just returned from the Settlement School.

June 15—Buffet luncheon, home of Leila Warner, "A Lesson in Contract Bridge."

NEVADA CLUB

The Nevada Alumnae Club is enthusiastic over prospects for the new school year. The active chapter has pledged twenty-two new girls most of whom are from out of town and so will live in the fraternity house. In addition to the actives living in the house three alumnae members are also enjoying its hospitality and comfort.

Through the courtesy of Dr. and Mrs. Traner the club members were recent hostesses to the actives and pledges, with a picnic at the lovely Traner home at Lake Tahoe.

This year the club has divided its membership into five groups planning to raise a certain amount toward the budget, in an effort to raise funds for the new house. Under capable chairmen, original schemes are expected to evolve for coaxing money into the club treasury. Such plans as waffle breakfasts, misfit gift sales, bridge luncheons, food sales, and sponsoring of theater parties have been suggested.

During the past summer the house was cared for and rented by a resident of Reno. This venture proved a great success not only because of the money realized but because of the excellent care taken of the house.

KARA PRATT

Coming Events

November 21—Business and social meeting. December 20—Settlement School, cooky-shine. January 16—Business and social. February—Constitution and History of II B Φ. March—Business and social. April—Founders' Day. May—Initiation, social.

PALO ALTO CLUB

The Palo Alto Alumnae Club began its fall activities with a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Paul Manning. Plans were discussed for a bridge party to be given the evening of October 14 at the Stanford chapter house for the benefit of California A with a fashion show for an attraction and Settlement School handicraft displayed for sale.

October 24, at an informal tea at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard Taylor, scholarship awards were presented to the deserving girls of the active chapter.

The chapter house has been renovated this summer. The girls have shown splendid spirit in assisting with the work in order to cut expenses. The alumnae helped where they could both individually and in groups. This has started new friendships between the actives and alumnae.

PHOENIX CLUB

The Phoenix Club started out the year with its regular cooky-shine. This was held on October 19 at the home of Mrs. Victor Randolph, and was well attended. On October 22, a food sale was held, the proceeds of which will go to the Settlement School. Plans for the coming year include two bridge-teas, a Spanish party to raise money for Arizona A, a moonlight picnic in honor of their husbands and a celebration in honor of Founders' Day.

MARGARET F. ALBERT

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

Thirty members of the club gathered at the Western Women's Club for the first meeting of the year, a bridge supper party. The president, Mrs. Penick, conducted a short business meeting during which the committees for the year were announced and plans were made for following events.

The Berkeley Club was hostess to this group at a tea recently.

CLARA-CATHERINE HUDSON

Coming Events

November—Settlement School bridge tea. Room of the Dons, Hotel Mark Hopkins. Chairman, Miss Virginia Canfield. February—Cooky-shine. Hostess, Miss Helen Stidger. Meeting devoted to nearest active chapters. April—Founders' Day luncheon. Chairman, Mrs. Fred E. Palmer. Assistant chairmen, Mrs. Leroy Briggs, Mrs. J. W. Cline.

SAN JOSE CLUB

San Jose Club is busy with preparations for a benefit bridge for the Settlement School which we are planning for November. We have sent in a large order for Settlement School products and expect to make aggressive efforts to dispose of these products, both at the bridge party and through personal efforts of our members.

Our first autumn meeting was held at the home of our president, Mildred Brown. Committees for the year were appointed and ways and means for raising money were discussed. Although we are a comparatively new club, we have twelve enthusiastic members, and we are looking forward to an interesting and happy year.

Our meetings are held the second Friday evening of each month. We shall always be glad to welcome any Pi Phi from neighboring communities where there are no organized alumnae clubs.

FLORENCE DEMPSEY DOSTER

Coming Events

November—Benefit bridge for Settlement School. Settlement School products sale. December—Program, history of Pi Phi. January—Business meeting. February—Program, Settlement School. March—Business meeting. April—Program, Founders' Day. May—Program, Reno chapter.

SANTA MONICA CLUB

Santa Monica Alumnae Club members have scarcely come down to earth as yet. Los Angeles, having been host to the world this summer during the Tenth Olympiad, provided many thrills for hostesses and guests from far and near.

Santa Monica alumnae had one evening meeting during the summer. This was a barbecue dinner in the gardens of Gladys Craig Tebbe. Thirty-three members and escorts attended. After dinner Mr. Tebbe showed his moving pictures of the Olympic Games and other films of the Tebbes' outing in the High Sierras. The club hopes to make "Husbands' Evening" an annual event.

Our first fall meeting was held at the home of the president, Marie Matzinger. The year's plans were discussed. The club always feels that it has so much to look forward to, being in the Metropolitan district of Los Angeles with two active chapters and five alumnae chapters nearby. The meetings are always held the second Wednesday of the month at 7:30 P.M., three hostesses serving dessert and coffee. Business meeting follows and often an hour of bridge. This year it is planned to have some book reviews and outside speakers. No benefits will be given this winter, the members preferring to donate two dollars extra per person. The club has never had local dues, but instead has made a charge of fifty cents per person at each meeting. This year the board reduced this to twenty-five cents.

JESSIE SCOTT CLINE

TUCSON CLUB

Due to the excessive heat in Tucson during the month of September, club activities do not begin until some time in October.

The first meeting was held on the evening of October 5, at the chapter house. The purpose of this meeting was to get together and to arouse enthusiasm for the work to be accomplished during the coming year.

Special attention will be given this year to visiting members of Pi Phi in the city and considerable effort will be expended to make them feel at home while in Tucson.

The November meeting will be concerned with Settlement School and means of raising money for it. In December plans are being made for a cooky-shine and Christmas party with the active chapter. In February will be held the regular study meeting on the Constitution and later an entertainment for new pledges and initiates. The May meeting is usually held at some country home and is in the nature of a spring outing.

The annual Arizona homecoming game was played in Tucson the evening of October 1 with Loyola College. A barbecue was served to all holding tickets to the game at six o'clock and a dance was held in the gymnasium following the game. Florence Jackson Meyer was a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the homecoming.

ALICE E. ARNOLD

UTAH CLUB

The Utah Alumnae Club began its first meeting for the year 1932-33 on September 17. A definite program was organized which is to be carried out in the eight meetings for the coming year. The various committees, which had been appointed, organized their groups and began functioning.

Two plans were instigated which will keep the alumnae members in closer touch and contact with the active members of the chapter. The first plan consists in asking as guests to the meetings the various classes beginning with ranks of seniority and including the pledge members. The meeting on October 12 will be a cooky-shine in which the senior members will be the guests of the alumnae club. The second plan is to develop and establish talent of the active members and organize a series of programs in the meetings, which will be devoted to musical and literary selections. This plan will help to develop the talent of the girls in the active chapter and will be very educational to all parties concerned.

The program for the month of November will be devoted to the reading and studying of the Constitution. The meeting for December will be in charge of the Settlement School Committee.

HELEN J. ROTHWELL

HONOLULU, HAWAII, CLUB

Regular monthly meetings were held at the homes of members during the past year. Founders' Day was celebrated by a lunch at the Country Club at which Muriel Bergstrom was the toastmaster. A talk on the Settlement School was given by Mrs. Eli Helmick. Agnes Jostad gave a talk on Pi Phi. The table was beautifully decorated with wine red hibiscus and blue leis.

EUGENIE LANGWITH

Coming Events

November—Sale of gifts donated by members for the benefit of Settlement School. January—Preparation for rummage sale for benefit of Settlement School. April—Founders' Day lunch.

The remaining meetings are to be purely social, the afternoon being given over to bridge after the business meeting. The club assesses each member 25 cents a meeting for the benefit of Settlement School.

CHAPTER LETTERS

Edited by CANDACE SECOR ARMSTRONG (MRS. JAMES G.)

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

Pledge Day, January, 1933

The installation of the newly appointed president of Toronto University, Honorable the Reverend Dr. Cody, was to have taken place October 12. The bereavement of Dr. Cody in the loss of his wife has postponed this ceremony indefinitely. Dr. Cody succeeded Sir Robert Falconer, the retiring president.

Two new buildings have been added to the university during the year. They are the botany building and a large addition to the Royal Ontario Museum.

The number of students enrolled in practically every faculty is increased this year.

The return to Toronto of the Honorable Vincent Massey, late Canadian Ambassador at Washington, is expected to result in a stimulation of interest in the work of the Hart House Theater. The players of the theater are recruited from the undergraduates of the university under Edgar Stone, a very competent director.

The graduating members of Ontario A were all successful in obtaining honors in the May examinations. The undergraduate members were also successful in the yearly examinations, the majority of them obtaining honors.

The chapter house has been moved from the Kenon apartments on Grosvenor St. to 89 Avenue Rd. The new quarters are more spacious than the old, and are quite centrally located.

A subscription dance is being given later on in the college year, the amount raised to be entirely devoted to charity.

It has been thought advisable to reduce the annual fee. This has been made possible by the saving in rental of the chapter rooms and by the decrease in rushing expenses.

Rushing has been greatly simplified this year. Each fraternity is allowed only one formal tea, the expenses of which must not exceed $10. The girls in residence may be invited to tea only, other rushees only to luncheon. Rushing extends from the first day of the college year to the first Monday after Christmas.

JOYCE LYON

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, February 22, 1933

INITIATED, April 27, 1932: Velma Colson, Violet Colson, Guilford; Orissa Frost, Dexter; Roberta Murray, Deep River, Conn.; Emily Pickering, Deer Isle; Doris Rosen, New Sweden.

Work was started in September on the three-story brick alumni memorial gymnasium, which, added to the indoor field-armory, will stand out among the largest athletic buildings of the world, and will represent to Maine alumni the memory of the Maine men who died in the World War. Another addition to the campus buildings is the construction of wings on Stevens Hall, formerly the arts and science building, to accommodate the departments of education, Greek, history, and Spanish and Italian.

Dr. James Muilenburg, a graduate of Hope College, Ind., and Yale, and formerly associate professor in the history and literature of religion at Mount Holyoke, has been appointed as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the position left vacant by the resignation last spring of Dr. James S. Stevens.

Economic conditions have caused a decrease of about five per cent in the enrollment for the fall semester, although the registration records the largest senior class in the history of the university.

The second annual alumni homecoming day was held October 28 and 29, the week-end of the Colby-Maine football game.

Marjorie Moulton is president of W.A.A.; Doris Hutchinson is president of Balentine Hall. Ruth Libby, pledge, is a member of the Sophomore Eagles, an honorary society of eleven sophomores chosen for character, scholarship, and activities. Three pledges, Emily Pickering, Ruth Libby, and Hope Whitman, are members of Neai Mathertai, a society composed of the ten highest-ranking freshman girls.

The system of open rushing during the fall semester, with bidding in February, is being used this year.

PLEGDED: Miriam Linscott, East Milton, Mass.; Ruth Todd, Caribou.

Cleo DeGagne is registered as a graduate student in the department of English, Abbie Sargent is also doing graduate work while teaching in the Spanish department.

Maine A's greatest problem is that of internal organization. To deal with this, each member has a fraternity office, and is required to recite her duties at an early fraternity meeting. The executive council, working with the alumnae advisory board, has drawn up a definite program for weekly fraternity meetings, to include study of the constitution and by-laws and talks by the members of the advisory board.

DORIS HUTCHINSON

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

No Pledging

The Women's College of Middlebury is trying an experiment dealing with fraternities the first semester of this year. A women's social league has been formed, representing all the women of the college, to take care of introducing the freshmen and keeping up the social life of the women. The activities of the fraternities are being reduced to the minimum required in their respective constitutions; this eliminates house parties, dances, and the formal. This program is to be in effect until midyear, when a decisive vote is to be taken, whether to continue with the organizations, or to abolish them absolutely. It is a question of which program is more beneficial to a small campus.

Betty Fernald has transferred to Syracuse University; Thais de Transche is spending the junior year in France, studying at the Sorbonne; Alice Sunderland is entering Barnard in February. Marjory Haynes is back from France and Dorothy Crowe is back.

The largest fraternity problem is scholarship. The members whose averages are below 80, are put on a "cut pro"; those whose averages are below 78 are also put on a "social pro."

Panhellenic's work consists chiefly in regulating the activities of the fraternities, this year; seeing that they abide by the decision of the majority, in keeping their social functions at the minimum. There is, of course, no rushing; if fraternities are kept on campus, there will be rushing in February.

RACHAEL BOOTH

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

Chartered, 1898

Pledge Day, February, 1933

The college is receiving an endowment of two million dollars from the James B. Wilbur estate, one million to be received this year. The fund stated that it was to be received on condition that the enrollment be limited to one thousand students. A law suit was held and the will was interpreted to mean that the limitation be construed to apply only to the college of arts and sciences, which now has an enrollment of approximately seven hundred.

One of the new members of Vermont's faculty is Miss Sarah Fisher. She is teaching English and is also working for her master's degree in that subject. Laura Parker, of the class of '17 of Vermont B, is also a new member of the faculty.

The faculty and student body regret the loss of Mr. James Donahue, associate professor of mathematics, who died during August.

Vermont B raised its scholastic standing last June and now stands first among national fraternities with an average of 82.75, with E T heading the list with an average of 85.6.

The chapter's float won first prize in the junior week parade contest held in honor of the junior week play.

June Spread, held at the house, was an outstanding event of last semester for Vermont B. Over one hundred actives, alumnae, mothers, and one II B Φ grandmother were present. The honored guest of the occasion was Mrs. Grace Coolidge, one of the founders of Vermont B. A special reunion dinner was held for the class of '02 with which Mrs. Coolidge was a graduate.

Priscilla Perry was elected a member of Mortar Board. She has been outstanding in many college activities and was voted the fraternity character cup which is presented by an alumna each year to the active who best personifies II B Φ ideals of character and cooperation.

A new system of rushing has been established by Panhellenic. Although second semester rushing is maintained, a fall open-house is to be given by each fraternity to help the freshmen become acquainted with the different Greek letter organizations. The regular rushing parties held during rushing season are to be more limited and simplified.

ELEEN LAIDLAW

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, November 9, 1932

INITIATED, May 3, 1932: Margaret Jackson, Ayer.

Massachusetts A began the year with a house party the first week-end after college opened. It proved a fine incentive for getting organized and laying plans for rushing and other business matters.

The week-end before registration day, the college conducted a Freshman Camp for new girls in Milton for the purpose of assisting freshmen girls in getting adjusted. The president of the university, the dean of women, and two professors were among the guests at the camp. Martha Chapman and Eileen Brown were two of the ten girls selected to act as hostesses to the freshmen. Martha is secretary of the Y.W.C.A. and Eileen is social chairman of the same organization.

The W.A.A. annual house party took place September 30 to October 3 at Ipswich Neck. Eileen Brown was in charge, with forty girls attending.

The athletic season opened early in the fall with volleyball. Eleanor Johnson is president of the Neo-Alchemist Club for the coming year and Beth Hoffman holds the same honor in the Poetry Club. Dorothy Hunter, former State girls' golf champion, has been playing in several tournaments during the summer and has added more honors to her full list. Vera Victoreen is vice-president of the Benjamin Edes journalistic society. Martha Chapman is a representative on the Student Board.

Massachusetts A is paying special attention to scholarship. Three national fraternities now rank higher in this than the chapter.

EILEEN BROWN

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, October 15, 1932

For the first time a Freshman Camp for girls was conducted under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. The purpose of this was to help students to meet other girls in their own class, upperclass leaders, and prominent members of the faculty before the opening of college. Suzanne Towne served as one of the counselors.

It had been greatly feared that because of the prevailing economic conditions the entering class this fall would be far smaller than usual, but due to the splendid cooperation of the people of Syracuse in providing work for university students the class is very nearly as large as those of other years. Many faculty members and others interested are giving any extra rooms they may have in their homes to students who, although they could meet their tuition expenses, could not afford room rent.

The greatest difficulty confronting New York A is that of competing, particularly during rushing, with other women's fraternities which have beautiful new homes. This problem is being met by a systematic refurbishing of the entire house. During the course of every summer vacation each member is expected to earn $10 to be used for new furniture. This year the kitchen was newly painted and equipped. All the floors were refinished. Several new pieces of furniture were bought for the living rooms. Continuing the program begun last year another bedroom on the second floor was completely done over with Stickley furniture. The plan is to buy things of such quality that they will remain in good condition and retain their style for many years to come. The Syracuse alumnae club has presented the chapter with $60, raised for a new radio.

The competitive Step Singing Contest, which was held just before college closed in the spring and in which all the women's fraternities and living centers took part, was won by New York A.

CHRISTINE OLVER

NEW YORK GAMMA—ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, October 3, 1932

An intensive scholarship drive began with the first classes and is well under way. Study hall two nights for all whose average is below 80 is being continued from last year. Five girls who went last year have raised their averages to 80 or above. The majority of the pledges were classed by the dean as excellent in scholarship, two having high school averages of 94.

The university welcomes Francoise Lambin, of Paris, a French exchange student. Margaret Perkins of St. Lawrence is studying in France as an exchange. Pauline Long, K K Γ, has returned from a year spent at the University of Munich as an exchange.

W.S.G.A. council was in charge of freshman week. A trip to Lake Placid was the feature most enjoyed by the freshmen.

Jean Woodcock and Betty Wagoner were tapped for Kalon, senior women's honorary society, on Moving-Up Day last May. Betty was elected president of the organization and of Mummies, the dramatic society, and vice-president of W.S.G.A., and B II Θ, national French honorary. Jean is manager of women's debate. Janet Hughes is president of W.A.A. and of Slu Club, honorary athletic club.

Portia Van Delinder is president of A M Γ, mathematics club. Florence Baltz is co-ed editor of the Scarlet Saint. Margaret Griffin is vice-president of the Charles Kelsey Gaines literary club. Marian Whitehead was elected vice-president of the senior class. Members hold managements in many sports. Frances Heaton holds the women's golf championship at the local club and also the record lowest score for women. Roberta Ryther and Marian Whitehead were elected to membership in Mummies. Hazel Hart and Mary MacGruer won appointments on the Gridiron, yearbook, as women's sports editor and sorority editor. Roberta Ryther and Jean Woodcock are senior editors on the University News Bureau.

The house dining room has new wall paper and curtains, and five of the girls' rooms have been redecorated. Mrs. Riley, the chaperon, refurbished her own room. Lillian Eddy, president of the alumnae association, visited the chapter in September and made arrangements to improve and increase bath-room facilities.

PLEGDED: Francoise Lambin, Paris, France; Jean Clifford, Antwerp; Shirley George, Verona; Katherine Gill, Upper Montclair, N.J.; Jennie Hughes, Albany; Eleanor Ireland, South Orange, N.J.; Helene Kipp and Barbara Maybey, Sidney, Canton, Mass.; Mary Robillard, Watertown; Dorothy Uyeno, Port Chester.

MARGARET GRIFFIN

NEW YORK DELTA—CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, October 10, 1932

INITIATED, May 9, 1932: Louie Gilroy Nitzberg (Mrs. Frank H.), special student.

All of the freshmen women in home economics came four days before registration for talks, picnics, and tours of the campus before the college year opened.

A tea was given for the new chaperon, Mrs. Lelia Mylander, October 30. Mrs. Mylander was formerly chaperon of Ohio B.

Myron Taylor Hall, the new law building, is open for use this fall. The home economics building, and the agricultural economics building, both about half done, will be ready next fall.

Pearl S. Buck is studying at Cornell this year and plans to write her third novel while here.

The particular problem facing New York Δ this year is to increase the standing in activities on the campus, without lowering the scholarship. Last spring, some active member was put on every competition which opened, a procedure to be followed again this year with actives and pledges. Every member whose marks are low obtains from the dean of women a study card outlining her time for study and recreation. These members must also go to the library to study.

MARGARET STILLMAN

BETA PROVINCE

PENNSYLVANIA ALPHA—SWARTH- MORE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1892

No Pledging

Due to the epidemic of infantile paralysis in Philadelphia, Swarthmore did not open for upperclassmen until October 6.

The entire college is awaiting the results of the new social plan. There will be no rushing or bidding. A detailed social program has been drawn up for the whole year, listing entertainments in which the entire college may participate, and not restricted to this or that fraternity alone. Nevertheless, the fraternities will continue to have their weekly meetings. They are limited to one instead of two dances a year. The attitude of the upperclassmen towards the freshmen is to maintain natural intercourse throughout the year, and in March another vote will be taken to determine what regulations will be set for rushing and bidding.

Pennsylvania A is going to stress scholarship, for that seems to be the weak point. Girls with low averages are required to study twenty-five hours a week, and these hours must be listed on the study chart, made out according to scholastic averages so that girls with high averages may study fewer hours per week if they so desire. A fine must be paid if the hours are not fulfilled without adequate excuse.

The activities and internal organization of the chapter are very satisfactory. The girls have always found cooperation with one another most profitable as well as simple when common interests and ideals are to be put into action. Although there will be a much smaller group of girls in the chapter, it intends nevertheless to live up to its past reputation.

JEANNETTE MARR

PENNSYLVANIA BETA—BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, October 2, 1932

INITIATED, September 17, 1932: Virginia Hallett, Wilmington, Del.; Helen Godcharles, Milton; Romlyn Rivenburg, Lewisburg.

During the latter part of the summer session at Bucknell the oldest section of the college buildings burned. In this part "Old Main" fell, which housed the offices of administration and many of the class rooms. The ruins of the structure are being removed, and it is hoped there will soon be another building constructed to take the place of historic "Old Main."

Although the burned building was a serious loss, confidence still remains in the general advancement of the college. President Rainey, one of the youngest college presidents in the East, and also one of the most progressive in educational work, has had a survey conducted by recognized authorities, dealing with the system of study and the buildings of administration. Plans are being made along the lines advocated by them.

Dr. Mary Harris, head of the Federal Industrial Institution for Women, at Alderson, W.Va., former delegate to the Hague Conference, appointed by President Hoover two years ago, and the lone woman trustee of Bucknell, made the address at the convocation service of the college. Miss Philadelphius, who is the probation officer of Boston, was the guest of the sociological club for a few days in September. College students were entertained by the Boston Sinfonietta, September 27.

The patronesses presented $50 to the chapter. This money was used to buy several furnishings for the suite.

Panhellenic rules have been so changed that next year rushing will continue only one week, rather than ten days as this year.

Activities and scholarship will be stressed this year. Each member is urged to enter as many extra-curricular activities as possible. Work is being done on plans for raising scholarship.

Janet Blair was awarded the prize for outstanding work in theory and application of principles of personal health. Virginia Hallett is treasurer of W.S.G.A. Eleanor Chapin and Elizabeth Druckemiller are using their musical talent to good advantage in the chorus work of the music school.

VIRGINIA DUNKLE

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1903

Pledge Day, October 7, 1932

INITIATED, September 22, 1932: Priscilla McConnell, Philadelphia; Marian Brandt, Mechanicsburg; Harriet Matter, Elwyn; Elizabeth Latham, Harrisburg.

In spite of the depression, Dickinson College has the largest freshman class in its history including forty-six new women. The college starts the year with no new professors although Dr. Patterson, the head of the sociology department, has returned from a year's leave of absence.

The chemistry laboratory has been repainted. Metzger Hall, women's dormitory, has been repaired extensively. K Σ has a new house and several of the men's fraternities have been remodelled.

The chapter is concentrating this year on activities. Every girl must have at least two major extra-curricular activities. The W.S.G.A. adopted a new system by which the freshman girls must gain fifty points through attending college functions in order to vote at spring elections. Pennsylvania Γ is trying to gain a better national viewpoint by taking up in meetings, national problems and events. The chapter considers its acts and policies with a view to cooperation with the national organization. Scholarship will be stressed emphatically, also.

The chapter is reducing its expenses by cutting down the amount of money spent on social affairs. The active dues have been reduced. The pledge dues will be required for the second semester only. Pennsylvania Γ has been helped materially by the alumnae in furnishing new rooms. Last June the Harrisburg-Lancaster Alumnae Club gave the chapter a most complete kitchen shower.

CHRISTINA B. MEREDITH

OHIO ALPHA—OHIO UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, October 1, 1932

Ohio University's social season was introduced with the registration hop given in the men's gymnasium. The registration is larger this year than last and the teaching staff has not been decreased.

The chapter ranked first scholastically on the campus the past year. In order to continue this record a program of library hours has been arranged. Ohio A is endeavoring to maintain the same standard in activities.

Martha Frederick serves as treasurer of the senior class and on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. The university choir, most select musical group on the campus, includes in its membership Marianna Linscott, Helen Breene, Alice Beasley, and Lorene Rodeheaver. The elimination of the glee club was survived by ten girls; Helen Schaeffer is the accompanist. In addition, Helen and Maxine Weirich are members of Σ A I, national honorary musical fraternity. Margaret Slaughter has been elected president of K Γ , national honorary and professional forensic fraternity. She is also an active member in intercollegiate debate. Doris Lee Fletcher is social chairman of the women's league and is also assistant director in Playshop. Florence Sparks has won a place in the American College Quill Club. Mary Elizabeth Kessinger, Edna Kennedy, and Margaret Slaughter were chosen by Dean Voigt, to serve on the senior sponsor committee. Margaret Porter and Mary Jane Crawford are society editor and assistant, respectively, of the Green and White, campus newspaper.

Π of A Σ Δ recently celebrated their new home with a house-warming.

The dean of women introduced this year a freshman orientation program including a period in which all freshmen women were given opportunity to join the extra-curricular activities in which they were most interested. Each organization was explained before the choices were made. Plans have been made to continue to stimulate the interest of the pledge chapter.

The pledges won a cup in the sales contest of the Sun Dial, Ohio State humor magazine. Marybelle Carr and Marie Castleman were elected to Scholastic, freshman scholastic honorarv. In Y.W.C.A., Jean Blake, Jean Hill, Marybelle Carr, and Winifred Calloway have been active in the work with freshman women. Emily Young is assistant Y.W.C.A. secretary. Ellen Wiley, Jean Ramsey, and Mary Hadley Lewis were elected to Chimes, junior women's honorary. Mary Crater is the president of Mortar Board. In the "Tradition's Day" intersorority sing contest, Ohio B won first place.

Ohio Δ plans to deal with scholarship as a special problem during the year. A system of minimum study hours is being employed and study tables are conducted. A file of examination books, notebooks, and outlines has been placed in the chapter rooms. Each active is personally striving to raise her scholarship.

Recently chosen to take parts in Once In A Lifetime, the first play of the year, are Helen Biberson, Frances Sell, Charlotte Snyder and Martha Jane O'Neil. Ruth Slyh has been nominated secretary of the sophomore class. The following pledges were elected to Φ society, the underclass scholarship honorary fraternity sponsored by Φ B K: Ruth Slyh, Rachel McCarty, Mary Caroline Graff, Mary Louise Neulson, Winifred Peck, Jane Lowe, Ellen Hopkins, and Ruth Slyh have been appointed to university committees and Catherine Johns and Jane Lowe have places on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet this year.

Miss Florence May Nicholson takes over the position of dean of women here this year. She comes from Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., where she was acting dean of women. Dean Nicholson and Mrs. Edmund Soper were guests at Ohio Δ 's first monthly chapter dinner with the alumnae, September 26. Although the university enrollment has dropped approximately 200, only one active member and three pledges of the chapter did not return this fall.

Among artists to appear at the university during the year under the auspices of the senior lecture course will be Julian Huxley, English zoologist, Richard Bonnelly, baritone of the Chicago Civic Opera, Jose Iturbi, Spanish pianist, Barrere's Little Symphony, and Senator Robert La-Follette of Wisconsin.

Spring rushing was tried last year but was found unsatisfactory and discontinued.

PLEDGES: April 23, 1932: Mary Emma Emerson, Frances Sell, Virginia Taitte, Delaware; Elizabeth Adkins, Margaret Buckley, Arla Hostetler, Winifred Peck, Cleveland Heights; Ruth Slyh, Shaker Heights; Donna Pocock, Lakewood; Mary Todd, Cleveland; Helen Enochs, Rachel McCarty, Columbus; Vivian Copeland, Jane Lafferty, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Helen Biberson, Wheeling, W.Va.; Nelda Darling, Scottdale, Pa.; Mary Ferris, Hicksville; Mary Caroline Graff, New Philadelphia; INITIATED, October 14, 1932: Betty Carson, Moorestown, N.J.; Josephine Fleming, Lake Forest, Ill.; Katherine Lowe, Baltimore; Virginia Thomas, Peoria, Ill.

Last spring there was a reception for the sophomore class given by Dr. and Madam Veverka at the Czech-Slovakian legation in Washington. In the model political convention sponsored by the political science department of the college to further student interest in questions of national importance, several members were delegates and spokesmen. Four girls from the chapter were appointed to positions on the yearbook staff. Annette Webster was elected treasurer of senior class. Elections gave positions to Betty Edmundson and Betty Carson on G.C.C.A. board and to Madeleine Bowler on Goucher Guild board.

The chapter has acquired attractive new rooms which were opened by a shower of furniture and money given by the members of the Baltimore Alumnae Club.

The particular problem on which the chapter is planning to concentrate this year is improvement in scholarship. A system of individual checking has been worked out by experiment which is expected to give its best results in the ensuing semester.

Many students from George Washington University accompanied the university band and football team to Lexington, where the first game of the season took place against Washington and Lee.

A week before rushing started Panhellenic gave a tea for all freshman women at the Kennedy-Warren Hotel. Mrs. Wilson Compton, president of the District of Columbia Panhellenic Association, Π B Φ , was in the reception line.

During the summer the chapter gave six card parties to raise money.

The chapter claims Mary Katharine Lutz, the new ARROW Editor, as one of its alumnae.

Virginia Pope won the golf tournament last spring and Virginia McDonnell was awarded the horse riding trophy at the annual W.A.A. riding show. Catherine Prichard has been elected to the board of editors of the Hatcher, the university weekly, and treasurer of the student coun-

The new dean of women is Miss Sallie Payne Morgan, who received her bachelor of arts degree from Blue Mountain College, Miss., and who has formerly held the position of assistant dean of women in the University of Indiana. Dr. Mary Shirley, University of Minnesota, is the new professor of psychology. Mrs. Josephine Ludevig, who has done graduate work in Bryn Mawr and who has been a member of the Vassar College faculty, is the newly appointed German instructor.

Jane Brainerd was chairman of orientation week. Other members of the chapter were in charge of the freshman training groups. The first meeting of the student body was held September 30 at which Miss Mary Williamson, dean of Hollins College, delivered an address on the purpose of student government. The Fine Arts Committee began its series of concerts by introducing the Boston Sinfonietta under the direction of Mr. Arthur Fiedler.

Jane Jones is business manager of the senior class. Jane Brainerd is vice-president of student government as well as president of West Hall. Ruth Belew and Jane Jones are members of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Frances Richardson is vice-president of the Sock and Buskin dramatic club. Jane Brainerd and Frances Richardson are on the staff of the Helianthus, the college annual. Jane Jones and Ruth Belew are active on the Sun Dial staff.

The chapter is using its new chapter room for the first time. Due to the depression Virginia A's active list has been cut down considerably so that the chapter is confronted with more problems than usual. The opening of the Raleigh Tavern marked the completion of one of the most important phases of the restoration work. It was famous as a meeting place of many outstanding figures in early Virginia history. Thomas Jefferson and Washington are both reputed to have stopped there. The tavern is named for Sir Walter Raleigh. Φ B K was founded in the Apollo room of the tavern. The old State Capitol and the Governor's Palace are still under construction.

Γ Φ B was installed this fall, the ninth national women's fraternity at William and Mary.

The curricular year of the college has been redivided. Quarterly examinations are now to be given, with no monthly tests. Virginia Γ has revised the scholarship rulings to conform with this change. A strong effort is being made to achieve and maintain a high scholastic average. Written pledges to study are to be used if a certain average is not achieved. If the low average is not raised in the following report, probation is to be used.

Activities for the new pledges are being emphasized, each being required to have at least two.

The dining hall is now under the management of the house chaperon, with two of the girls serving as waitresses. By not employing a maid to serve the meals the chapter is able to cut down on the expenses of the dining hall.

Glady's Monroe has been bid to Θ A Φ , national dramatic fraternity. She is to have the leading rôle in the play, Outward Bound, presented by the fraternity. Rae Hannafin is a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Ann Price is on the staff of the Colonial Echo, college yearbook.

The chapter entertained the faculty and townspeople at a formal reception for the new chaperon, Miss Grace Dalton of Norfolk, Va.

North Carolina A is the possessor of a new house in which twelve girls live. This is the house in which the local which became North Carolina A was organized and in which the first North Carolina A chapter meeting was held. The new house is very comfortable with large living rooms and bedrooms. The housemother has for years been a patroness.

The chapter entertained at a formal tea as a welcome to patronesses and alumnae and in honor of Anne Gordon Edmunds Penn; Mrs. Shipp Saunders, sister of President Graham and a patroness; and Mrs. Frank Porter Graham, wife of the president of the university and an aunt of Elizabeth Webb.

Mary Frances Parker was elected president and Louise Pritchard treasurer of the women's association. Julia Bates Brown is president of W.A.A. and had a prominent rôle in the spring production of the Carolina playmakers; she has been awarded a playmaker mask, pin given for outstanding work. Mary Frances Parker is poetry editor of the Carolina Magazine, literary organ of the university. Josephine Parker and Gabrielle McColl made Φ B K.

Mrs. Comer, assistant to the Grand Vice-president, lives in Chapel Hill and is a constant inspiration to the chapter. North Carolina A is looking forward to a visit from the new province president, Mary Hornaday, if she can spare the time when visiting the local at Duke University which is petitioning Π B Φ .

PLEGDED: Frances King, Cornelia Reamer, Catherine Townsend, Columbia; Gertrude Burrows, Sumter; Georgia Russell, Savannah, Ga.; Jane Tucker, Beaufort; Happie Woodley, Jacksonville, Fla.

In June a Ph.D. degree was awarded to Miss Gertrude Foster, a teacher of long standing in the Columbia public school, and the first high school teacher to receive such a degree from the university. Two members of Φ B K were last year's actives: Sarah Cassels and Maude Miller Hawkins (Mrs. J. R.). Sarah Davis graduated cum laude. Sara Cassels was awarded the Algeron Sydney Sullivan award given each year to a girl and boy for highest merit and service to the university. Bonnie Kate Barnes was elected to membership in A K Γ , national leadership and service fraternity, and X Δ Φ , honorary literary fraternity. Bonnie Kate is an assistant in the English department and Jane Bayard won the first Hampton scholarship in the romance-language department and is an assistant therein. Charlotte Coker was elected secretary-treasurer of the senior class, vice-president of A K Γ , and secretary of the Damas, girls' German club. Martha Aiken was elected to the presidency of the Y.W.C.A.

The regular one-week period of rushing was further limited this year by financial regulations passed by Panhellenic whereby only eleven cents could be spent on each rushee. A six-room bungalow was secured before the opening of the fall term, and attractively furnished through the kindness of friends and parents.

The chapter is striving to develop in internal organization and cooperation, in scholarship and in interest in activities on the campus. Weekly "Pi Phi Hours" will be continued with an active and a pledge in charge together. Every week at roll call the secretary is to record activity points. Anyone who speaks out of turn shall be fined a penny, thus parliamentary order and financial problems will be aided.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 7, 1932

A new administration plan is being carried out at Hillsdale College this year, consisting of an acting president and a board composed of the heads of five committees—enrollment, publicity, finance, scholarship, and chapel. Each committee is composed of two faculty members and one student. This administrative body, aided by many enthusiastic students and alumni, has worked throughout the summer to establish the college on a sound basis and to increase the enrollment. The result of their efforts is shown by the largest student body ever registered in the college, and especially significant is this, since last year, Hillsdale's number was the lowest enrolled for several years. A fine spirit of cooperation and an added enthusiasm among the students are outstanding features of this new plan in which the student has a large part. Educators all over the country are watching it with interest, and, according to their letters, feel that this will prove a step forward in education.

Activities are as follows: six in glee club, with Marjory Brown secretary of the club; two in the college sextette; Marion Klockow is treasurer of the senior class and president of the women's undergraduate club; Helene Bates is secretary of the undergraduate club and holds the girls' tennis championship; Evelyn Harwood is editor of the Collegian, the college newspaper, and has just been unanimously chosen "All College Speaker" for the Founders' Day banquet to be held this fall; Alice Aldrich is instructor of Nursery School at Hillsdale College.

The Hillsdale chapter is working earnestly on their scholarship problem. An award is offered to the pledge making the highest average during pledgship. Each active is striving for a B average and must attain at least a C+ average. Any girl falling below this level at the end of a six-week period, will be put on probation until her scholarship meets these requirements.

PLEGGED: Helene Bates, Chicago, Ill., and Bernice Loutzenheiser, Gothenburg, Neb.

The decreased enrollment of the university had no effect on the football team, who won an unanticipated victory of 27-0 over Michigan State, October 1.

For the fourth consecutive year the chapter has earned the campus scholarship cup. Reception functions for the new women have kept Helen DeWitt and Jany Rayen, president and vice-president of the Women's League, busy. Elinor Wortley presented an organ recital last spring in Hill Auditorium.

Living in the house are two Wisconsin B transfers, Carol Maujor and Mary McCarthy. On campus are Mary Lee Watson, Pennsylvania A, Ann Osborne, California A, and Mary Armstrong and Ruth Soule, Michigan A.

Improvements during the summer include two new bathrooms on second floor, new drawing room furniture, a tapestry in the music room, curtains and drapes, and a redecorated kitchen. Two rooms on the third floor were redecorated. Much of the credit for the work must be given to the Ann Arbor alumnae under whose direction it was done and also to Mrs. Elsie Housewald, house chaperone, who skillfully managed the commissary and house departments.

Panhellenic rules have extended the rushing period to two weeks and the silence period from one to three days. Houses are only allowed one dinner a day, instead of a tea and dinner as formerly.

At the Founders' Day Celebration held last spring at Old Dearborn Inn, Marian Giddings was presented by the Detroit Alumnae Club with a II B Φ bracelet for her high scholastic achievements.

The particular problem to be stressed by the chapter this year is that of extra-curricular activities, with the aim of having every member participating. To attain this goal there is to be an activity committee appointed which will endeavor to place each girl in that activity for which she is best qualified.

INITIATED, September 10, 1932: Louise Crouch, Indianapolis; Mary Lagle, Franklin; Elizabeth Nixon, Newport; Dorothy Rhodes, Shelbyville; Frances Warren, Pine Bluff, Ark.

Initiated, September 23, 1932: Elizabeth New, Washington.

Professor Ervin S. Ferry, head of the department of physics at Purdue University, has donated his collection of over one thousand books to Franklin College. The books are from the donor's personal library and cover a wide range of subjects including science, literature, language, travel, and fiction.

The faculty members and their wives held a reception to welcome formally the students, September 23. Six members have been added to the faculty: Mr. Ray Ehrenberger, instructor of speech; Dr. Norman J. Harrar, head of the department of chemistry; Mrs. William Bridges, head of women's physical education; Mrs. P. L. Powell, associate professor of classical languages; Mrs. Mabel Van Nuys, the new matron of the women's dormitory; and Mrs. Althea Whitesides, head of the department of home economics.

The college Sunday School class, made up of students not attending classes at their own churches, is steadily increasing. Under the leadership of a group of the faculty selected by the students themselves the Sunday morning discussions are bringing out some unique points of view as to the relation of religious thinking to every day thought and action.

The Democratic students on the campus have organized a political club to further interest in the fall elections.

The outstanding problems with which Indiana A has to deal are the continuance of progress scholastically, effort toward better internal cooperation in the chapter between both actives and pledges, and staying within and maintaining a very limited budget. Franklin College does not have a system of comparative ratings of the fraternities but the average grade of the chapter has been above that for all college women.

Louise Crouch has been appointed editor of the Almanac. There are four other members on this staff.

The Mothers' Club entertained the actives with a dinner October 17. Plans are being made for a fall formal dinner dance.

PLEDGED: Frances Armstrong, Bedford; Sarah Briscoe, Edinburg; Margaret Jean Cumming, Columbus; Sarah Lee England, Franklin; Virginia Green, Seymour; Mildred Means, Shelbyville; Mary Owen, Indianapolis; Dorothy Rider, Franklin; Beatrice Roehm, Indianapolis; Katherine Schaeffer, Franklin; Mildred Wert, Edinburg.

The university has adopted an extensive retrenchment program in an effort to relieve the financial strain on its students. During the summer President William Lowe Bryan wrote several letters to the parents asking for their cooperation. Consequently, each social fraternity on the campus will be allowed but three instead of the usual four dances per year; the price of orchestras has been forced down by the authorities; and the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic have agreed that the usual homecoming decoration of chapter houses will be entirely dispensed with as a useless expenditure of money. By the complete cooperation of the advisory board with the chapter and the chapter, Indiana B has been able to reduce the house bill another $7.00 making it one of the most reasonable on the campus. This was possible because all but two of the active members, except the graduates, returned for the fall term.

In conjunction with the opening of the new Union Building, the men's lounge and organizations have been moved to their new quarters and the Student Building has been redecorated and refurnished for the exclusive use of the women students.

Last year the special problem of Indiana B was to interest girls in engaging in college activities. Results have been so favorable this far that the chapter is putting forth an intense effort to continue in and enlarge the scope of its activities. Fran Dix, Elizabeth Burnett, and Dorothy Moss are on the staff of the Bored Walk, local humor magazine. Harriet Brower was elected to Mortar Board last spring. She and Thelma White, Fran Dix and Marjorie Giffin are on the senior and junior Y.W.C.A. cabinets, respectively. Hope Hildebrand was elected secretary of A.W.S. Virginia Ray was the only sophomore pledged to $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$. Marion Jenkes is president of French club. Mary Ellen Thrasher was the business manager of the freshman handbook published each fall by A.W.S. Susan Jane Dikeman and Dorothy Traylor were in the cast of Mr. Pim Passes By presented by the dramatic department. Floy Frank, Betty McFadden, Cornelia Scheid, and Elizabeth Burnett are new members of Junior $\Theta A \Phi$, a new dramatic organization on the campus. Mary Lou Aikman is secretary of Pleides.

Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music, which is affiliated with Butler University, has a new director, Max T. Krone, formerly of Western Reserve University at Cleveland, where he was associate professor of music. Butler University had thirteen members of the faculty and board included in the last edition of Who's Who.

Indiana Γ has set higher scholarship as the aim of the year. The chapter has passed a by-law which prohibits any girl from wearing her arrow if her grades are not 1.3, which is the grade average required for initiation. Her pin is denied her until such time when her grades are raised to the above stated requirements.

The chapter has introduced a new custom on the campus of having a weekly faculty dinner which is rapidly gaining favor among the other fraternities.

The house has acquired a much needed electric refrigerator.

One of the fifteen scholarships awarded by the university this fall was given to Jean Yates who is an assistant in the botany department. The Chatterbox, Butler's humorous monthly publication, made its debut this fall with Dorothy Jane Atkins as its co-editor. The soloist of the girls' glee club for this year is Mary Ruth Palmer; the secretary, Luana Lee; the librarian, Julia Bowman Leedy. Mariam Barnette is a member of the conservatory orchestra. To assist each pledge in making adjustment to college life, special emphasis is being placed during the first semester on scholarship and participation in one extra-curricular activity in which she can succeed and pursue as an upperclassman. Realizing that cooperation is necessary for successful and profitable fraternity life, the chapter is endeavoring to maintain a closer and more harmonious relationship with the pledges.

In keeping with the economic policy advocated by university officials, only two chapter dances will be held this year. House bills have been reduced $8.00 and an effort is being made to eliminate every unnecessary expenditure. A wiener roast was held at Lincoln Lodge early in the semester and rush dinners at the house are being planned for each Sunday.

The two living rooms, hall, and dormitory of the house were completely transformed under the supervision of Dean Mary L. Matthews of the school of home economics. New furnishings were purchased and arranged in the downstairs, and the dormitory walls were refinished and new mattresses and bedspreads provided.

Changes in rush rules were made with the object of reducing expenses and lessening the strain on the rushee. Freshman rushees were housed on the campus for the first time in the guest rooms of the Memorial Union Building. Though hours for parties were considerably shortened, an extra party was added. Each organization was allowed to spend only $75.00 on the seven parties given.

Freshman women, escorted by upperclassmen not of their own fraternity, were invited guests at the annual activity banquet sponsored jointly by W.S.G.A., Y.W.C.A., and W.A.A., held early in October.

Purdue University opened its football season with a victory at which yellow corduroy trousers made their initial appearance on senior men, who wore also the traditional derbies which are tossed to shreds after the first touchdown. Homecoming and Dads' Day brought crowds to the two other home games.

A new addition to the Memorial Gymnasium providing women's locker rooms opening onto the pool makes it possible for co-ed swimming classes during the daytime. A new building for mechanical engineering was completed this fall.

Mortar Board pledged and initiated Gladys Lloyd, Y.W.C.A. president; Mary Schaefer is president of Panhellenic; and Margaret Smith is women's glee club president. Hope VanSciever is junior member of the student council. Mabelle Cutler and Mary Blind are junior editors of the Debris and the Exponent, student publications. Missouri A is working toward raising scholarship and having a large representation in activities. Study hall for both actives and pledges is being conducted each night in the chapter house and in the library.

Panhellenic, in order to reduce expenditures, has limited each sorority to three dances a year: one each semester, and the third optional. The first Missouri A dance will be November 19 at the chapter house.

In a recent W.S.G.A. election, Jane Ray Johnson was elected freshman representative. Elsie Kellogg was in charge of registration of returning alumnae during homecoming week-end, November 11 and 12. In connection with homecoming, Panhellenic, as a further measure of economy, has dispensed with chapter house decorations. The actives and Columbia alumnae will entertain with a tea at the chapter house immediately following the homecoming game, in honor of any visiting I B Φ.

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, September 22, 1932

The Washington University School of Architecture has just, this fall, taken possession of a beautiful new building donated by Mr. Givens. It is one of the show places on the campus.

The particular problem to be stressed in the chapter is scholarship; last year the rating was not quite up to standard. The grade requirement for initiation has been raised higher than the Panhellenic requirement in order to weed out those who later would lower the standing. The chapter is still using the point system which it originated last year, whereby every active member is required to make at least one point on grades: better than a C average. Those who fail to make this point are deprived of social privileges until their grades are raised. The actives check, each month, the grades of the freshman whose sponsor they are, and report to the chapter. Those pledges whose grades are unsatisfactory are required to limit their dates and increase their study hours.

S. Marie Vaughn is a member of Mortar Board; Lucille Waite is a member of Ternion, junior honorary; and Virginia Withington, Jocelyn Taylor, and Annie Meroe Burnett are members of freshman commission, sophomore honorary. Martha Stannard is on the debate team, and Margaret Many is society editor of Student Life, the campus daily. Mathilde Davis, Margaret Many, and Mary Brown Reinhard are secretary, vice-president, and treasurer respectively of A Z II, honorary romantic language fraternity. Four members of the chapter belong to Peppers, honorary pep organization for women. Every active and pledge is required to make a certain number of points on activities each semester, according to the point system used by the chapter.

This year a new system of rushing was adopted which was very much shorter and more concentrated than that used in previous years. It was not entirely satisfactory and Panhellenic is starting already to perfect the system for next year.

Pledge Day, September 26, 1932

The organizations are seriously considering getting their annual formal dances in an effort to reduce chapter expenses, as well as those of the individual.

A three-day rush plan was followed this fall, with initiations to be held at the opening of the next year.

PLEGGED: Louise Barry, Helen Louise Dyer, Mary Jane Johnson, Pauline Morey, Betty Ann Rountree, Georgia Mae Shackleford, and Betty Woodruff, Springfield; Helen Burchard, Aurora; Lorraine Neville, Eldon; and Marietta Root, Forsyth.

Missouri Gamma has moved into a new house, which is more accessible to the campus.

Ylene Carter is president of W.A.C.; Laura

Marie Dishman is editor of Sou'Wester, the college annual; Jean Handley, Jane Ullmann, and Mary Lou Patterson are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet; and several members are in glee club and a Cappella choir.

Much interest is being shown in the new Drury little theater, which has been created by one of the students. Educational and entertaining talking pictures are shown, as well as short plays by the Drury Players.

PLEGGED: Nancy Gaither, Henriette Henderson, Betsy Hinkle, Margaret Huddleston, Jean Ireland, Adaline Lewman, Mary Mimms, Martine Moredock, Elizabeth Mason, Ruby Nicoll, Helen Nuckols, Carolyn Straeffer.

The dean of women has recently appointed a committee, made up of the presidents of all women's organizations on Belknap campus, to be known as the dean's advisory board. At the board's first meeting, it was noted that three members, or 50 per cent, were from Kentucky Alpha, the groups they represented being W.S.G.A., Y.W.C.A., and X Delta Phi.

Marion Hershey, '33, will be confined to bed until next spring. She suffered several severe attacks of pleurisy during the summer, and at present is in St. Joseph's Infirmary for an indefinite stay. Amelia Minary has transferred to Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.

The Stewart Dry Goods Company, Louisville's largest department store, played host to the university during the week of October 10 to 15. Throughout the store were stationed hostesses, to acquaint customers with the functions of the university, and to display the articles of particular interest to students and their friends. On the house-furnishings floor each sorority had furnished a room, the entire stock of Stewart's being at their disposal, judged during the week, by Louisville artists. Students modeled clothes, and assisted in various departments.

Pledge Day, October 8, 1932

Tennessee Alpha has as her outstanding problem this year, the raising of the chapter's scholarship average.

Juanita Walter has the lead in Three Live Ghosts, which is the next play to be produced by the dramatics department. Juanita has been elected to membership of Theta Alpha Phi.

Tennessee Alpha welcomes Margaret Sims, Indiana Alpha. The alumnae club improved the house with new draperies and some new furniture. A new porch and a larger kitchen, with better equipment, have been added to the back of the house.

Rebecca Jones and Gladys Roberts hold the Martha Dowd scholarships in voice and organ, respectively, for the second year. Juanita Walter has been awarded a scholarship in art.

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, October 16, 1932

INITIATED, April 27, 1932: Rebecca Coleman, Chicago, Ill.; Alice Butler, New Haven, Conn.; Helen Nice, Winter Park, Fla.

The enrollment of regular students is practically the same as last year. Mr. Richard Wilkinson, assistant professor of psychology; Mr. Alan Tory, professor of philosophy and sociology; Mr. Jean Jacques Pfidter, art; Mr. Hugh McKean, art; Mr. Robert Wunsch, dramatic art; Mr. William Honnas, public school music; Mr. Richard Hayward, French; Madame Grand, French; Mr. Mitchell, dramatic art; Miss Ranson, costume design are new members of the Rollins faculty.

Martha Davenport was elected as a representative to press union and Alice Lee Swan a member of the Flamingo staff.

Commencement day last June, Lottie Turner received the Algernon Sidney Sullivan Madallion, the highest honor presented by Rollins. The reward was given to Lottie for general high quality of character and outstanding achievements. This is the second time a member of Florida Γ has received this honor.

Rushing season for this year began with a Panhellenic tea October 2. The first rushing parties were followed by a week with open dutch rushing.

Alice Butler was elected as senior representative to student council.

Rollins now has seven women's fraternities, Γ Φ Β, Φ Μ, Π Β Φ, Χ Ω, Α Φ, Κ Κ Γ, with Κ Α Θ colonizing this fall.

Wisconsin A has climbed to the top of the scholarship list, rising from sixth to first place with an average of 1.8. The chapter is planning to put forth every effort possible to maintain this position. Study hall for pledges and actives with low grades has already begun.

Of the graduating class of '32, Betty Purdum was distinguished by receiving senior honors, one of the scholastic attainments which enabled us to improve the scholarship record.

Charlotte Bissell, the chapter president, has been elected to Mortar Board and has also been appointed chairman of the university good will com-mitter and elected vice-president of the women's commerce club. Helen Brady is chairman of the annual Panhellenic ball, the proceeds of which go to the Panhellenic scholarship fund.

A new building has been added to the campus by the completion of the engineering building.

PLEGGED: Betty Jean Daniel, Wauwatosa; Pauline Reinsch, Madison; Janet Shaw, Manitowoc; Jane Stafford, Madison; June Tindall, Waterford.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Pledge Day, February 4, 1933

INITIATED, April 26, 1932: Marjorie Turnbull, Bellevue, Pa.; Sara Louise Limes, Greenfield, Ohio; Mary Adams, South Pasadena, Calif.; Elizabeth Peasley, Chariton, Iowa; Lila Ross, Moline; Mary Lauder, Lois Fetherston, Marian Malley, Elizabeth Bowman, Nadine Knights, Clarita O'Connor, Maxine Turnbull, Monmouth. INITIATED, May 27, 1932: Mary Miller, Elgin; Ruth Morrow, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Kathryn Ramsey, Oxford, Ohio.; Margaret Pratt, Roseville; Mary Legg, Monmouth.

Monmouth College welcomes to the campus, Professor Hamilton, instructor in art appreciation, and Miss Dorothy Donald, instructor in Spanish. Eleanor Gehr, Lois Fetherston and Maxine Turnbull were elected into membership of Crimston Masque, the dramatic society on the campus. Elizabeth McCulloch and Eleanor Gehr have parts in the junior class play, Skinner's Dress Suit. Alice McDougall was elected into membership of T II, senior women's honor society. Eleanor Gehr was elected secretary-treasurer of the junior class.

Monmouth College has the largest freshman class in five years and due to the number, the freshmen won the annual Pole Scrap for the first time since 1928. W.A.A. entertained all the new girls at a breakfast hike explaining rules governing membership into that organization.

The seniors entertained the chapter at a cooky-shine after the first meeting of the fall.

October 13, Illinois A entertained ladies of the faculty, wives of the male faculty, and alumnae.

The current problems of Illinois A are scholarship and activities. Rules are being enforced requiring a girl whose grades are below standard, to remain in all week nights and one week-end night until her grades are up. A new system is being worked out for the activities in which the chairman of that committee is checking up on each girl, finding out in what she is interested and directing her toward that particular activity.

PLEGGED, September 30, 1932: Margaret Krom, Chicago.

CAROLINE WRIGHT

ILLINOIS BETA DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 19, 25, 1932

There has been a rumor at Knox that formal dances will be eliminated and orchestras at all parties will be local talent; this is a plan to help out the general financial situation. The matter, however, is being left to the fraternities to decide. Illinois B Δ is considering a formal with expenses cut down by omitting the dinner usually held just before the dance.

Scholarship is the special problem of Illinois B Δ . In the last spring semester, the chapter's index was third highest; the semester before that the index was second. The girls are working to attain a higher index and a first place in scholarship. Pledges are keeping study hours that are strictly supervised. There will be fines imposed upon any active who receives low grades and a heavier fine for failure in any one subject.

The pledges learned what a cooky-shine really was on September 30, when the chapter gave a real old-fashioned cooky-shine for its patronesses. Sheets were spread out on the floor, and everyone sang the cooky-shine song before sitting around the sheets, which were covered with good things to eat. The food that was left over was taken to the free kindergarten, to which the chapter has been contributing for the last two years.

Seven pledges and three actives are in the homecoming play, Once in a Lifetime, a satire on the talkies by Moss Hart and George Kaufman. Mary Moore toured the southern states this summer and visited Settlement School at Gatlinburg. She brought back to Illinois B Δ a large tray and several baskets and mats made at the Arrow Craft Shop.

This year Knox College went back to its former system of rushing, bidding and pledging during the first two weeks of college. Three years ago deferred rushing was agreed upon at Knox, and according to that plan the girls have rushed from September until June, bid early in the summer, and pledged the following fall. This fall, therefore, there were two groups to be pledged; the group which was bid early in the summer and the group which was bid this fall under the old system.

PLEGGED, September 19: Sally Altekrose, Rockford; Betty Armstrong, Elmwood; Virginia Bull, Chicago; Anne Campbell, Jane Griffin, Galesburg; Virginia Hecker, Ottumwa, Iowa; Eva McMaster, Oneida; Margaret Pennington, La Grange; Mary Elizabeth Stewart, Des Plaines.

PLEGGED, September 25: Louise Barnes, Virginia Lambert, Ila Woodward, La Grange; Margaret Anne Gessner, Milwaukee, Wis.; Jean Herlocker, Ethel Margaret Gillmor, Virginia Kost, Galesburg; Jean Holmes, Riverside; Polly Langford, Evanston; Lorraine Lindsey, Pekin; June Orwig, Wilmette; Mary Elizabeth Perkins, Williams, Ariz.; Elinor Strand, Elmhurst; Margaret Stillwell, Watsonville, Calif.

EDITH BLAKE SMITH

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, October 22, 1932

Among changes at Northwestern is the new field of concentration system which dispenses with majors and minors and places an emphasis upon the course in which one is most interested. A similar system has been used for many years at Oxford University.

The Deering Library, of Gothic architecture, was recently completed and will soon be ready for the use of the students.

Northwestern mourns the death of Prof. Ulysses S. Grant, head of the geology department, a well known authority on glaciation and the author of many scientific journals.

May day, Dorothy Snyder was awarded a medalion as one of the fifteen most outstanding women of the sophomore class; she was also made a member of Shi-Ai, honorary women's fraternity. Jeanne Anderson, Dorothy Ann Jackson, and Virginia Sanford were elected to freshman commission; Leota Bell Hall was appointed to serve on freshman council. Virjean Kuhnert is president of Daughters of Neptune. The position of women's editor of the Northwestern Daily is filled by Dorothy Carlyle; Dorothy is also president of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, journalistic fraternity for women.

At the annual N. U. circus, Illinois E presented an aerial act in the center ring and was awarded second prize. The profits made from the circus are used by the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. for the Northwestern Settlement.

Newly painted rooms, new curtains, and new pieces of furniture made the return to school this fall a happy one. A new chapter house is soon to be built by Z T A.

Although Illinois E experienced a raise in scholarship advancing five places in the standing of all sororities on campus, the chapter feels that further improvement is quite possible. Pledges study one hour a day under supervision, while actives are upon their honor to study fifteen hours a week. An investigation of temporary grades will be made after the midsemester examinations take place and an individual studying plan will be made for each girl in accordance.

PLEDGED, May 25, 1932: Virginia Sanford, Chicago.

PLEDGED, October 22, 1932: Betty Lapp, Betty Mersbach, Geraldine Theiss, Marianne Timmons, Evelyn Voight, Chicago; Ann Louise Hankins, Jane Hankins, Glencoe; Mary Elizabeth Collyer, Betty Johnson, Wilmette; Barbara Ballenger, Winnetka; Agnes Fraser, Kenilworth; Virginia Kent, Pauline Mills, Rita Pool, Gertrude Sieber, Eleanor Winter, Evanston; Peggy Grigsby, Park Ridge; Isabelle Mulligan, La Grange; Mary Whitaker, Crown Point, Ind.; Dorothea Taylor, Kansas City, Mo.; June Hinds, Racine, Wis.; Edith Lou Docekal, Sheridan, Wyo.; Wylene Baldwin, Tulsa, Okla.; Betty Eikenberry, Chariton, Iowa.

JANE ORR

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, October 3, 1932

The Y.W.C.A. in a special effort to remain solvent is conducting a large finance drive. This is headed by Virginia Sandberg, finance chairman.

Illinois Z won the Shi-Ai sing which is an annual competition among women's fraternities as part of the entertainment for Mothers' Day week-end. The chapter chose the 1931 convention song, "Pearls of Pi Beta Phi." It was arranged into four parts by Linda Fitz Gerald and Ruth Scott, Nebraska B. Beth Olwin is on the dance supervision committee which is in charge of all class and university dances. Jean Webster is president of Terrapin, women's swimming honorary, and is also a member of the concert and entertainment board. In woman's league, Mary Kay Gore last year was chairman of Orange and Blue Feathers, freshman honorary, and is now chairman of badges for homecoming, and chairman of the vocational committee. She is also a member of both sophomore and junior honoraries for women.

Mary Jane Chandler is a sophomore representative for Siar Course and Ethel Scotland has a sophomore position on the Daily Illini. Three of the freshmen have begun work under Margaret Noble, a sophomore manager on the business staff of the Illio, the annual publication.

The chapter is especially stressing the importance of high scholarship. All actives must maintain a 3. average or forfeit their pin for a period of not less than six weeks or until the required average is made. Upperclassmen, not having a 3. average at the end of the first six weeks, are governed by special study rules. Freshman study hours are from 8:00-12:00 and 1:00-3:00 during the day and from 7:30-10:00 in the evening.

PLEDGED: Ann Avery, Chilloithe; Elsie Davis, Bartlesville, Okla.; Loretta Foellinger, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Beulah Green, Elsie Rinearson, Joliet; Mary Gale, Pekin; Peggy Howe, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y.; Mary Ann Hewitt, Blanche Lentz, Carbondale; Helen Kean, Jane Owen, Rachel Sponsel, Chicago; Esther Kriebel, Antioch; Frances Platt, Springfield; Amy Plochman, Evanston; Oretha Pierce, Urbana; Mary Stuart, Mt. Carroll; Marguerite Trego, Hoopeston; Willa Van Petten, Champaign.

MARGARET B. NOBLE

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 17, 1932

The problem of the chapter this year is scholarship. Pledges were chosen with special regard to previous scholarship. They are required to study at least fifteen hours a week in the O.B. Gorin Library on the campus supervised each hour by an active member. The actives are also concentrating on their work and spending much time in the pleasant new library. The freshman with the highest scholarship the first two semesters will be awarded a pin of recognition by the chapter, and the senior with the highest average for four years will be awarded a ring. As usual, certain social privileges will be removed for low grades, from actives as well as pledges.

W.A.A. is conducting a popularity contest in which Janet Alsip and Barbara Schell, pledges, are among eighteen competing for ten most popular freshman women, and Sarah Morris, chapter president, is among six competing for the title of co-ed queen, to preside over homecoming activities. The contest is conducted on the penny-a-vote system, the proceeds to buy new gymnasium equipment. W.A.A. is also sponsoring a series of informal dances held in the gymnasium, to which students all go without dates. So far, this has been a very successful way of acquainting the freshmen and upperclassmen.

There have been several constructive changes in the school faculty this year, among which is the addition of José Echaniz, talented Cuban pianist, in the conservatory.

The chapter gave the first of the Thursday afternoon teas at the college October 6. The teas are traditional, and everyone on the campus is invited.

Σ A E and K Δ X fraternities merged at the beginning of the school year, as did Δ Σ Φ and Δ A E. There are now but three men's fraternities on the campus. Θ I, women's local fraternity, was granted the charter of Θ T.

Illinois H received honorable mention in a contest in which the first organization to present a 100 per cent subscription list to the Decaturian received a cup. A X G won the cup this year.

PLEGGED: Sue Cox and Alma Weber, Cairo; Margaret Oberg, Galesburg; Barbara Schell, Polo; Mary Frances Wood, Helen Ruth Chodat, Roberta Morris, and Janet Alsip, Decatur.

MANITOBA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

Pledge Day, October 18, 1932

Manitoba A held its annual Mothers' Day tea at the home of Lois Sellers at the end of the spring term.

The third and fourth years of the arts and science faculties of the University of Manitoba have moved into the new buildings which were erected last year on the campus of the Manitoba Agricultural College, eight miles south of Winnipeg.

A new ruling has been adopted this year by local Panhellenic which states that no charity function may be sponsored by the active chapter of any women's fraternity. As a result of this, the alumnae club was in charge of the annual charity dance, which is always held during the first week of the fall term. It was very successful and the proceeds were donated to the "Back to the Land Movement." This is a very popular movement in the province of Manitoba and many prominent people extended their patronage for the dance.

The rushing season opened with two weeks of informal rushing during which each women's fraternity had three teas. Two weeks of formal rushing followed in which each women's fraternity was allowed to have one formal party and two personal dates with each rushee. Open-house was held on the last night of formal rushing before the silence period began.

Last year Evelyn Morris directed the annual arts play, the first time that a student had been chosen to produce it. Evelyn has been asked to direct it again this year.

One of the difficult projects which the chapter is undertaking this year is the creation of a more democratic spirit among the women's fraternities on the campus. One plan which has been suggested for accomplishing this is that of having a tea for all fraternity women at the beginning of each year.

Mortar Board was installed the end of October. Barbara Bliss was elected to membership in the local at the close of last year.

Mary Tree Watson and Lillian Morck danced on the special feature program at the alumni ball. Winifred Mulloy was elected treasurer of Φ X Θ.

This fall the university had an opportunity of entertaining the national officers of Β Θ ΙΙ during their trustees meeting in November.

For improvement of scholarship, study hall for the pledges is held three nights a week. To raise the eligibility requirements for juniors and seniors, the university is considering inaugurating comprehensive examinations to be taken in major subjects.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1890

Pledge Day, October 10, 1932

Panhellenic has readopted fall rushing this year by unanimous vote of the women's fraternities. The first week of the quarter is devoted to formal rushing. Each women's fraternity may hold nine functions throughout the week, climaxed by a formal preference dinner. Fall rushing eliminates the necessity of a C average before pledging and makes a larger group of girls eligible.

On October 1, the freshman carnival, a tradition at Minnesota, was held in the field house as the climax of an entire week devoted to freshman activities. The women's and men's fraternities took charge of various money making booths; and a polo game was the outstanding feature of the evening.

Helen Grigware and Ina Ramsay were elected to Mortar Board last spring. Ina Ramsay is also president of Y.W.C.A. with Gloria Boock and Betsy Emmons as members of the cabinet. Ruth Bachman and Gloria Boock are serving on the W.S.G.A. board. Helen Almars is president of Cap and Gown and Edith Reed is president of Tam O'Shanter, senior and junior girls' organizations, respectively. Betty Wood had charge of the freshman mixer during freshman week.

The alumnae had the woodwork throughout the house painted, two love seats and a davenport reupholstered, and the upstairs hall carpeted. They also presented the chapter with a new rug for each bedroom.

A new dentistry building has just been completed and a dormitory for nurses is now under construction, making a compact and complete medical unit.

The registration this year is approximately 10,400, a decrease of nearly 4 per cent since last year.

PLEGGED: Virginia Holland, Helen Hunt, Elaine Smouse, Mount Pleasant; Helen McWilliams, Farmington; Elise Shane, Ottumwa; Elna Stewart, Mediapolis.

Frances Rich, a senior, has been assisting in the women's physical department during a leave of absence of the regular instructor. Frances ranked third, scholastically, in the entire junior class last year, and won the scholarship ring for the year. Lucile Wolf and Dorothy Dyall have been initiated into Α Ψ Ω, a dramatic organization. Elinor Thompson maintains her place on the staff of the Wesleyan News, besides being on the staff of the college annual, the Croaker.

Iowa Wesleyan has been presented with a copy of the diploma of Lucy Kilpatrick Byrkit, class of 1859, who was the first woman to be graduated from Iowa Wesleyan University.

On last commencement day, six members of the graduating class of 1882, returned and spent an evening reviving by-gone-days.

During the year, Wesleyan athletes broke six all-time records, and two track records, besides finishing fourth in the conference.

Prof. Thos. C. Poulter, head of the department of physics, is to accompany Admiral Byrd, as physicist on the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, II. The expedition will leave for the Antarctic waters in September, 1933, expecting to be gone two years. Professor Poulter is a graduate of Iowa Wesleyan, and has already gained much international distinction for his research with high pressure, and the penetration of hydrogen through steel.

INITIATED, September 12, 1932: Lillian Abel. To accommodate girls who wished to do light housekeeping, apartments in Lorraine Hall, a college dormitory were made available this year. Each apartment of six rooms is equipped with gas and electricity and so arranged as to accommodate four girls.

Panhellenic has ruled that no favors shall be given at any formal rushing party, and no spring rushing parties shall be held. A X Ω sorority will soon move into a new chapter house. The house is a three story brick building located near the campus. In accordance with a new college ruling all fraternities building new houses must have them placed near the campus. With the completion of this house all sororities on the campus will have met this requirement.

The special project for Iowa B is scholarship and activities. It is the belief of the chapter that if scholarship is high, activities and other projects will be correspondingly high. When roll is called at each fraternity meeting each girl is to answer present by telling the subjects in which she has back work, and to tell if she desires assistants from some other member. The one who shows most improvement in her grades for a six weeks' period and the one who has the highest grades will be allowed to wear diamond set recognition pins the following six weeks. The pledge reward will be stationery. This project is being carried out through the cooperation of the alumnae club with the active chapter. The members are finding scholarship to be enjoyable because of pleasant competition within.

Among the pledges this year is a II B Φ daughter who came from Rangoon, Burma, to attend Simpson College. Martha Katherine Riggs has already told, in Y.W.C.A., some interesting things about her home.

PLEGDED: Kathryn Hoyman, Martha Brasher, Frances Hammer, Indianola; Louise Hartzler, Earlham; Martha Katherine Riggs, Rangoon, Burma; Ruth Petersen, Davenport; Grace Margaret Moist, Ida Grove; Corrine Campbell, Carson; Yvonne Yager, Nebraska City, Neb.; Miriam Cox, Corydon; Christine Smith, Boston, Mass.; Olive Gardner, Audubon. Mrs. Gertrude B. Hoxie, of Hampton, Iowa, is the new chaperon. The members gave a faculty and alumnae tea for Mrs. Hoxie, October 4.

The State University of Iowa has approximately 5000 students enrolled. A new fine arts building and language library have been added to the improvements of the campus.

The chapter house was put in fine shape during the summer months. New furniture was added to two rooms, making the goal of complete refurbishing much nearer.

In scholarship for the year 1931-32 A X Ω ranked first with 2.645 average and II B Φ fourth with 2.410. Now that the chapter is so near the top the aim of this year is to make it rank first. Margaret Boettcher, Blanche Day, Grace Donovan, Dorothy Ewers, Elizabeth Findley, Betty French, Margaret Miller, Mildred Mott, Mary Remley, and Mary Rovane made B or better averages for the entire year.

Grace Donovan was elected to Mortar Board. In the literary societies Blanche Day was elected president of Octave Thanet; Virginia Shadle is secretary-treasurer of the same organization and vice-president of forensic council. Mable Stromsten is president of home economics club and Mildred Mott is secretary. Ruth Aurner and Elizabeth Fuller are members of Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Eloise Crook and Marjorie Danforth took an active part in the annual dance drama.

Now that the scholarship of Iowa Z is higher, the chapter is planning to concentrate on activities, upholding the same requirements as to scholarship. Each pledge is required to take part in at least three activities a week besides having a total of 100 points before initiation. The requirement for actives is two activities a week with a fine of 25 cents for failure. The aim of the chapter is to develop Mortar Board material.

PLEGDED: Virginia Best, Peoria, Ill.; Charlene Battey, Boone; Betty Bickley, Waterloo; Louise French, Des Moines; Mary Virginia Hanneman, Fort Madison; Margaret Hicks, Detroit, Mich.; Zane-Cetti Irwin, Fort Worth, Tex.; Genevieve Jessup, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Frances Kannaly, Chicago, Ill.; Mary Jo Kessel, Des Moines; Pauline Longfellow, Fort Dodge; Josephine Lovejoy, Jefferson; Martha Maier, Omaha, Neb.; Marjorie Jene Maier, Omaha, Neb.; Margaret Mercer, Ottumwa; Helen McNeill, Onawa; Julia Bell Norton, La Junta, Colo.; Mary Louise Reed, Casper, Wyo.; Lois Rovane, Keokuk; Dorothea Samm, Elgin, Ill.; Emogene Whitman, Pueblo, Colo.; Florence Whitmore, Iowa City; Kathryn Woodbridge, La Junta, Colo.

In the chapter house the walls were repapered, woodwork varnished, and the floors refinished. New curtains were purchased for the entire first floor, and five new lamps add to the appearance of the house. The chapter room was furnished in a red, white, and blue color scheme, very effective against the white walls and blue curtains. A new hot water heater has just been installed. House bills have been cut $5.00 for the current year.

Formal rush week lasted only four days. A new system of dividing each afternoon into three periods did not prove very successful. W.S.G.A. and Panhellenic teas were held for all new girls.

Vivian Harvey is a member of the university orchestra. Cleo Johnson is in the A Cappella Choir. On the Volante staff are June Brubacher, Dorothy Crill, and Florence Parrish. June Brubacher is a pledge to A X A, journalistic fraternity for women. Dorothy Pier and Katherine Colvin are pledges to Athena Literary Society. Imogene Baker was elected secretary-treasurer of the senior class. Virginia Pier has been elected by the entire student body as Miss Dakota for 1932. In four years South Dakota A has had two Miss Dakotas.

The chapter will concentrate particularly on scholarship. Two-hour study hall is held every evening for both pledges and active members, and pledges must report to study hall every afternoon. The number of hours studied each day must be reported.

PLEGDED: Katherine Colvin, Sioux City, Iowa; Vivian Harvey, Yankton; Dorothy Pier, Belvidere.

PLEGDED: Priscilla Archer, Sloan, Iowa; Barbara Bates, Lincoln; Maxine Clويد, Plattsmouth; Mary DePutron, Betha Marie Garrett, Catharine Garrett, Lincoln; Catherine Grabill, Sidney; Julia Hall, Ruth Haynie, Lincoln; Virginia Howell, Washington; Sara Hutchings, Falls City; Jacqueline James, Eva Mae Livermore, Omaha; Lucille Lorentz, Loup City; Margaret May, Mary Janet McGeachin, Lincoln; Helen McQuistan, Pender; Marguerite Metzger, Omaha; Mary Mickey, Wood Lake; Mary Margaret Palmer, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Quigley, Valentine; Ruth Sears, Omaha; Betty Steffen, Sheridan, Wyo.; Charlotte Treat, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Veronica Villnave, Casper, Wyo. Naomi Henry has been repledged.

Social activities have been carried on by the traditional open house given for fraternities on week-end nights. It might be interesting to know that Nebraska B was the first to introduce a faculty tea on this campus, the first being given last year.

The Tassels, a pep organization, have started a national group which will include the "Big Six." Anne Bunting is president of this new organization. Beth Langford and Anne Bunting are members of the local Tassel organization of which Anne is secretary. Other activities are: Calista Cooper, sophomore representative on A.W.S. board and secretary and treasurer of big sister board; Catharine Howard, woman's editor of the Daily Nebraskan, campus newspaper; Anne Bunting, student council, A.W.S. council, and leader of freshman commission; Virginia Ross, president of O N; Mary Quigley, vice-chairman of University of Nebraska Young Democrat Club; Ruth Haynie, member of the A Cappella Choir. Many of the new pledges have begun to take a prominent part. Ruth Sears was chosen as one of the four representative freshmen on the campus.

The new dormitory for girls, Carrie Belle Raymond Hall, will accommodate about 170 girls but plans have been laid for this to be enlarged by adding new wings, so that all freshman girls will be able to live there.

The question of scholarship is one of great importance; with the spirit and high desires with which the girls are beginning the school year, it seems that this requirement will be met most satisfactorily.

PLEGDED: Laure Cooke, Mary Constance Clifford, Catherine Bagley, Helen Gamage, Jane Hefner, Katherine Willard, Kansas City, Mo.; Margaret Jane Shade, Jane Ferguson, Virginia Edwards, Kansas City, Kan.; Jane Campbell, Emilie Ewers, Margaret Harryman, Mary Ruth Pyle, Virginia Throckmorton, Wichita; Frances Grey, Winifred Koenig, Lawrence; Elizabeth Humphreys, Shirley Jones, Hutchinson; Betty Blaul, Burlington, Iowa; Madeline Dunsford, Augusta; Marian Fegan, Junction City; Violet Kisner, Garden City; Catherine Marsh, Omaha, Neb.; Reine Rucker, Sabetha; Margaret Ryan, Emporia; Grace Sullivan, Trenton, Mo.; Isabel Tuke, Pittsburg.

Kansas University excelled in its representation at the Olympics in Los Angeles, which included James Bausch, winner of the decathlon. The depression has effected the university to the extent that around 600 less students are enrolled.

Scholastically the chapter has risen from eighth place to that of second. First place is now the goal. On the dean's honor roll for last spring were Frances Cox, Sarah Burgess, Josephine Marshall, and Josephine Hellings. New members of the glee club are Peggy Ballweg and Isabel Tuke. Grace Sullivan made the dramatic club. Josephine Marshall qualified as a pledge to Quack Club, honorary swimming organization. Laure Cooke is pledged to T E, honorary dancing club. Peggy Ballweg is on the Sour Owl board. Rae Stoland is the chairman of the Y.W.C.A. advanced standing commission. Elizabeth Ranney was elected editor of the Palette for the A chapter of $\Delta \Phi \Delta$.

Open-house for the freshmen was held October 7. The plan of holding an hour dance once a week with one fraternity as guests of the evening will be carried out again this year. A reception for the faculty members was given in the latter part of October. The fall party, given by the pledges, will occur just prior to the Christmas vacation.

Improvements in the chapter house include new drapes, several new furnishings in the front rooms, and new chairs for the dining room. An electric refrigerator was installed last spring.

For the third consecutive semester Kansas B has assumed first place in scholarship which gives them first recognition on the new scholarship plaque which hangs in the memorial library. Many members of the faculty recognized this by sending flowers and letters of congratulation.

Last spring the chapter won the Aggie Orpheum cup by presenting a stunt called "Street Scene." The setting was an oriental city street and the ten-minute stunt illustrated the activities in that spot from early dawn through the entire day to sunset.

Marion Todd has charge of the foreign lectures committee. Charleen Baker and Marjorie Lemon were initiated into Enchiladas, an honorary dancing fraternity, last spring; new pledges are Billy Cowdery, Dorothy Maltby, and Bernice Mosser.

Bernice Mosser is active in debate, is a member of II K A, honorary forensic fraternity, and announces regularly over radio station KSAC.

Eight members are in the first glee club. A tea was held in the chapter house October 2 in honor of the new housemother, Mrs. Richmond Torrey.

PLEGDED: Lucille Allman, Manhattan; Dorothy Gill, Concordia; Rosalind Almen, McPherson; Mary Blackman, Martha Daughters, Jane Daughters, Manhattan; Betty Harold, Sabetha; Tella Hinshaw, Bennington; Glenda Mae Hodge, Cherokee, Okla.; Mary Kendall, Great Bend; Jaconette Lawrence, Council Grove; Vance McClymonds, Walton; Kathleen Mallon, Anthony; Betty Miller, Salina; Janet Murdock, Wichita; Jean Sullivan, Manhattan; Monita Harris, Parsons; Malena Jane Berglund, Lindsborg; Ambrosia McClaren, Galena; Voma Alcott, Colby; and Eleanor Hart, Overbrook.

After pledging the alumnae club gave a cooky-shine in honor of the pledges. Also in honor of the pledges, the actives held open-house September 29.

INITIATED, October 8, 1932: Margaret McKeough, Trinidad; Helen Powell, Tyler, Tex.

Last year the efforts of the chapter in cooperation with an especially efficient scholarship committee were rewarded by the winning of the Panhellenic scholarship cup. The rather strict study table rules will be continued this year: two-hour study table every night for freshmen, and afternoon and Saturday study table for actives and pledges whose grades are below the average of the chapter as a whole. Colorado A recognizes scholarship with the awarding of the freshman cup, which is possessed for one year by the sophomore whose grades for the previous year were highest, and the scholarship ring for the highest upperclasswoman. Upon the Φ B K cup is inscribed the name of every Colorado A member who is a member of that honorary scholastic society.

Colorado A as a chapter is making all possible cuts. Room rent continues to be cheaper by $5 a month, and the price of board has been lowered ten per cent. To make such reductions possible, the cost of social activities is to be kept down to a minimum.

Mortar Board pledged Helen Wolcott, Margaret Anderson, and Sally Peebles. Hesperia, honorary junior society, pledged Pauline Parks and

PLEGDED: Alice Barkley, Elizabeth Glaze, Patricia Haley, Eleanor Hall, Dorothy Hayes, Jane Holt, Janice Kennedy, Laura Anne McDaniels, Jane Ross, Jane Williams, and Grace Williamson, all of Denver; Cleone Barbrick and Maurine Smith of Pueblo; Elizabeth Evans and Elizabeth Robertson, Boulder; Betty Carey, Fort Collins; Betty Fox, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Betty Hartley, La Junta; Aileen Huyett, Longmont; Mary Jane Keith, Casper, Wyo.

SALLY PEEBLES

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Pledge Day, September 17, 1932

The University of Denver has rearranged its schedule of classes, in order to overcome the lack of interest in school events that is general in city colleges. A forty-minute period is left free each morning for chapels, club meetings, and various other activities. The university, working with the Mentor group and the woman's student council, has also been trying to make the freshmen feel welcome by aiding them in their registration and entertaining them at a picnic lunch on the campus on the day of their registration, when only upperclass members in official capacity were present. October 1 the Mentors, or big sisters, invited all the freshmen and transferred women to a tea.

Under the direction of the new coaches, Percy Lacey and "Cac" Hubbard, the football team seems to be greatly improved, having won from the Colorado School of Mines, and having lost to Kansas University by a margin of only one point. Colorado B has planned to entertain the coaches and their wives at one of the chapter's Monday night dinners.

This year Mary Kircher is vice-president of the student council, making her also automatically the president of the women of the university; Georgianna Burdick is secretary of the student body. Betty Yelm was recently elected secretary of the senior class. Doris Romig is editing the student directory. At the close of last year, Helen Stange, new Iota province president, climaxed her variety of college honors when she was elected May queen by vote of the student body.

The special problem this year is scholarship. Although the chapter progressed from seventh to fourth place, spring quarter, in the list of the eleven women's fraternities on the campus, it still has the goal of the scholarship cup before it. The pledges must fill out a card each week indicating that they have studied ten hours at home and five hours in the university library. The actives are required to make the equivalent of two Cs and a B in the grades reported each three weeks, with the penalty of the president holding their pins for the following three weeks. Special penalties are also inflicted for receiving a D. Scholarship meetings are held every three weeks with the chapter and the advisory board, and the committee is making a scholarship graph to show the trend of the grades.

The chapter entertained its pledges at a cooky-shine after their pledging and at a buffet supper September 30 to which all the fraternities were invited.

PLEGDED: Dorothy Jean Armour, Mary Elizabeth Bailey, Genevieve Baker, Marie Cacksteter, Virginia Cook, Ruth Fawcett, Dorothy Fellows, Mary Elizabeth Foster, Martha Fuller, Shirley Grainger, Muriel Greene, Marion Grey, Barbara Mack, Mary Morgan, Betty Oakes, and Florence Stauffer.

Wyoming A appreciated the assistance and inspiration during rushing of Helen Stange, new president of Iota Province.

Last spring Wyoming A won the track meet with Dorothy Porter and Ann Chandler tying for individual honors. Dorothy Porter was awarded a "W" sweater. At the annual honor assembly Dorothy Dale was given the president's honor book for the highest scholastic record in the history department. Elizabeth Milne was awarded the same in the music department, and also for the best grades of any student in the freshman class. Louise Wadsworth was awarded a cup for the best actress. Glyda Mae Burbank was chosen for Cap and Gown, senior honorary which is petitioning Mortar Board, and was later elected president of this group. Ann Chandler has been elected president of Spurs, pep organization, and Gertrude Scanlon now heads the local dramatic club, Mask and Sandal.

Wyoming A has taken several decisive steps toward a general economy plan which so far have proven effective.

The first football game of the year, with Tulsa University, witnessed the return to the Oklahoma campus of the two pep organizations, known as the Jazz Hounds and Ruf-Neks, which were disbanded by order of the board of regents several years ago. With their reorganization came a new burst of pep and enthusiasm. The freshmen are being compelled to appear at games in uniforms of red caps and sweaters and white trousers. No undergraduates are allowed to take dates to the games.

The college enrollment this year is 5157, a gain of about a hundred over the enrollment of this time last year.

Oklahoma A held open-house September 25 in honor of the pledges and Lida Lea, Virginia A, Therese Edwards, Oklahoma B, and Phyllis Seago, Illinois H. This event was also in the nature of a house-warming for the new house which the chapter moved into early in September.

Everyone is being encouraged to become active on the campus. Marjorie Clevenger has the lead in The Torchbearers, the first production of the university playhouse, in which Phyllis Seago also has a rôle. Louise Thompson is soprano member of the university quartet. Marguerite Busch is on the editorial staff of the Sooner, yearbook. Josephine Patterson is president and Wilma Klein secretary of Σ A I. Charlene Handley is a member of El Modjii, honorary art club.

The rushing system in effect this year has proved to be an improvement, although Panhellenic is contemplating a few changes. Under the new system the rushers spend the five days of rushing in the university dormitories instead of in the women's fraternity houses. This new plan is modeled after the Illinois system, with four dates to be signed before September 1, two to be signed after the first four dates have been filled, and a preferential breakfast date.

The problem Oklahoma A plans to concentrate on is scholarship. The pledges are required to attend study hall four hours a day. After nine weeks' reports come out those who have thirty grade points will be excused from two hours. All members who make any grades below C on the nine weeks' reports will be required to attend study hall daily for two hours. As a reward for scholarship, the chapter gives a II B Φ ring to the pledge making the highest average for the first semester, and to the member making the highest average goes the honor of having her name engraved on the scholarship plaque.

PLEGDED: Christobel Bailey, College Station, Tex.; Betty Bachtold, Salina, Kan.; Marjorie Clevenger, Longview, Tex.; Martha Crawford, Bartlesville; Eloise Cherryholmes, Mary Lois Holmes, Polly Taylor, and Katherine Walling, Tulsa; Estelle Farris and Anna Perkins Young, Ardmore; Dorothy Ford, Shreveport, La.; Mary Ford, Sayre; Louise Franklin, Martha Galt, and Grace Marie Pfele, Oklahoma City; Jerry Mason, Norman; Jane Simmons, Quanah, Tex.; Margaret Sweeney, Sapulpa; Louise Thompson and Garnett Bea Wright, Muskogee.

According to rules of local Panhellenic for this year no favors were given at the parties during rush week. This is the first year that the women's fraternities have not furnished transportation to and from the parties. At the first date every organization held open-house for all rushers.

During the summer the house was redecorated and refurbished. The living rooms have been finished in Duncan Phyfe period in keeping with the colonial style of the house. The dining room has been redecorated and Early American ladder-back chairs have been purchased.

September 27, Oklahoma B pledged its first honorary member, Dorothy DeWitt, an instructor in the speech department. Though very young, Miss DeWitt has been given much recognition by speech celebrities. At the New York speech conference, she was the youngest speaker. For thirty minutes she talked on "Embryology of Speech Defectives."

Open-house was held September 17 for the deans of all schools and the fraternities.

Doris Waters has been elected secretary and treasurer of the freshman class. Ruth Fleming is treasurer and Mattie Mae Lowrey is vice-president of W.S.G.A. Maryetta Powell and Betty

Texas A is concentrating this year on bringing the town and house girls in closer contact by means of buffet suppers to be given twice a month at the chapter house under the supervision of different girls.

Open-house was held October 9 at the chapter house in honor of the summer pledges and the transfers.

Eugenia Bailey has returned to Texas University after a year spent studying at the Sorbonne, Paris.

Margie Bright and Ted Lewis Moody were elected to Mortar Board. Mrs. Moody also holds the office of president of Reagan literary society. Virginia Nalle is president of Ashbel literary society, Ruth Roby of Bit and Spur, and Adele Bar-bisch of Turtle club.

The chapter house was refurnished inside during the summer, and new furniture has been bought for the guest room and the third floor, which has been converted into a chapter room. New curtains and rugs for the first and second floors have also been purchased.

A series of small rush teas is being given throughout the fall at the homes of the various Austin girls and alumnae.

Eight new buildings are now under construction on campus and are expected to be ready for occupancy by January, 1933.

A X A has returned to the University of Texas campus after a suspension of a year and a half.

At convocation of the University of Alberta in March, Hilda McEwan, charter member of Alberta A, was awarded the Prevy gold medal for household economics, and Lois Latimer, pledge, won the T. Eaton Company's prize for the highest standing in second year school of commerce.

During the summer months, the Edmonton Alumnae Club carried on negotiations for a chapter house, but since so few members could return to college, the plan was not found feasible. To build up a house fund, each graduating senior of Alberta is required to sign a pledge to pay $50 within five years. K A θ is the first of the women's fraternities on the campus to have a fraternity house. They have acquired it through a lease for one year only.

A local men's fraternity, Φ A, was granted a charter from Δ K E, their installation having taken place in October.

Registration at the university took place September 26 to 29, lectures beginning September 29 and 30. The week preceding October 1 was devoted to general initiation of freshmen into the university. A new idea was carried out by the women's initiation committee, of which Jean Irving, pledge, was a member; each new girl was assigned to an "old" girl who was to give the newcomer every assistance in solving her problems as to registration and lectures.

September 29, at a special convocation of the university, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon His Excellency, the Governor General of Canada.

The Carnegie Endowment Fund for the development of fine arts in the province of Alberta has been granted recently to the university. Another very recent and greatly appreciated endowment is the Sir Walter Scott library fund.

INITIATED, April 30, 1932: Dorothy Olson, White Sulphur Springs; Olga Ross Hannon (Mrs.), Rae Ancney Bartlett (Mrs.), Bozeman.

Registration at Montana State College shows a slight decrease as compared to that of last year, but there is a marked increase in the number of graduate students. Dr. Gladys Branegan has been appointed dean of the college of household and industrial arts. Plans are being discussed and a student ballot is to be taken on the matter of applying to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan to construct a student union building on the campus.

Lucile Westover and Sarah Barringer were announced as new Mortar Board members. The former was elected president of the organization and attended the national convention last summer. Dorothy Olson, Anne Sanders, and Helen Mc-Arthur were pledged by Spurs, honorary organization for sophomore girls. Sarah Barringer was elected to Φ Σ and Mary Jane Roberts to Φ T O. Margaret Johnson, Eleanor Patten, and Lucile Westover are charter members of Δ Φ Δ , honorary art fraternity which was installed here last spring. Anne Sanders and Nina Davis made the honor roll for spring quarter with A flushes.

The members were pleased to have the help of Jeffra Boatwright, Washington B, during rush week.

The chapter is going to stress scholarship this year. The girls living at the house will have supervised study from 7:30 to 10:15 in the evening, during which time no telephone calls or radio playing will be permitted. A different girl will act as study supervisor each month.

Montana A welcomes Lila Ross, Illinois A, who is a niece of Olga Ross Hannon, Montana A.

The University of Idaho opened with over 1900 students enrolled. This is practically the same as last year although the percentage of men has increased over that of women.

The celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the university was held October 12. Three of the four members of the first graduating class were present. John E. Ostrander, only living member of the first faculty, took an important part in the anniversary celebration. He is now professor of mathematics at Massachusetts State College.

R. A. Millikan, internationally known scientist and receiver of the Nobel prize in 1923, was the first speaker on the university public events committee program for the year.

Elsie Laferty has received the appointment of night editor on the university paper, Argonaut; this is the first time a woman has held the position. Mae Belle Donaldson is president of Σ A I, national music honorary.

Idaho A has adopted a rule to promote scholarship for all members and pledges. A fine of a quarter is made for every time a class is cut. Rigid library and study table rules have been put into effect.

Pledge Day, September 29, 1932

INITIATED, April 28, 1932: Genevieve McKone, Gwyneth Sawyer.

Phyllis Vernon was elected to Mortar Board, and was also appointed all-university social chairman by the dean of women. Anna McCaskill was elected vice-president of the junior class. Marian Harper was elected secretary of the Town Girls club, an organization of university women living in Seattle. Gwyneth Sawyer was appointed private secretary to the president of associated students of the University of Washington.

During the summer, the alumnae and mothers' clubs had the first and second floors of the chapter house redecorated. The living room also was completely refurnished. The girls have decorated their own bedrooms.

The new study room is one of the most important factors in solving the scholarship problem. Always before, the freshmen have had to study in the dining room, but this year a large room with indirect overhead lighting and individual desks has been provided.

Finances this year is the chapter's most pressing problem. An auditor has been hired who has planned a budget which will save over $1000 a year. He works in cooperation with a committee composed of the chapter treasurer, three members of the advisory board, three fathers of actives, and the chapter president. House and town girls' bills have been reduced. Fifteen dollars of the initiation fee is to be paid at formal pledging to relieve the freshmen of part of the financial burden.

Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate, aroused a great deal of interest when he spoke on the campus October 4.

The A.W.S. are sponsoring a concert season this year. Yehudi Menuhin, the child prodigy violinist, is one of the attractions offered.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 27, 1932

PLEGDED: Katherine Steward, Bernice Finley, and Hester Larson, Yakima; Elsie Glaser and Marian King, Colfax; Alice Inlow, La Grande, Ore.; Elizabeth Colpitts and Virginia Gerding, Pullman; Maxine McAllister, Goldendale; Jeanne Beatty, Wenatchee; Marie Bethard, Roy; Elizabeth Hayden and Grace Dolan, Aberdeen; Mary Jane Erickson, Mary Shaw, and Kathleen Salisbury, Spokane; Eva Jurek, Tacoma; Eleanor Sprague, Laura Tennant, and Elizabeth Thorsdale, Seattle. Alice Inlow, Elsie Glaser, Elizabeth Colpitts, and Katherine Steward are sister pledges.

Margaret Steward is a member of Mortar Board and is on the college board of control. She is also a member of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, journalism honorary. Laura Colpitts and Gertrude Nelson were tapped for Spurs. Gertrude was also chosen to be the most outstanding freshman woman in journalism. Meredith Daily was elected president of Orchesis, interpretive dancing honorary.

Marion Bailey is junior class secretary; Betty Larson is on the social committee for the same class. Bernice Radis is a member of the executive committee for the senior class; Gertrude Nelson is a member of the sophomore executive committee. Marjorie Neal is a member of the Y.W.C.A. first cabinet and Aroa Fenn serves on the women's council. Bernadine Royer is vice-president of the Y.W.C.A. freshman commission. Jeffra Boatright was in charge of the spring style show. Marion Bailey was presented with the $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ cup for being the most outstanding sophomore woman in journalism and has been appointed business manager for the All College Review. Billie Getty and Marjorie Webb have leads in Michael and Mary, a three act play by A. A. Milne.

$X \Omega$ has moved into a new white brick house of colonial design, and $\Phi \Sigma K$ has moved into a new brick house.

Pledge Day, September 24, 1932

Rushing rules included an unlimited number of dates which a rushee might give to a fraternity during rush week. Girls who remained in the dormitories after rush week are eligible for rushing during fall and winter terms, but may not be pledged until spring term. Summer rushing was limited to open seasons at the beginning and end of the summer.

The chapter house walls and woodwork have been redecorated; the roof was repapered; and a new oil burner has been installed.

Oregon A is fortunate in having as its new housemother Mrs. Betty J. Crouch, Berkeley, Calif.

Helen Shive, Marjorie Linebaugh, Marytine New, Lois Cassell, Elizabeth Kleinsorge, and Marvel Twiss were pledged to ΦB , national honorary for music, art, and drama.

PLEGDED: Marian Allen, Patricia Campbell, Lois Cassell, Willa Bitz, Dorothy Ann Clark, Mabel Lee Dowlin, Jean Frazier, Marian Griffith, Billie Hammett, Doris Hauser, Greeta Kirkpatrick, Marjorie Linebaugh, Jean McConnell, Eleanor Norblad, Lois Platt, Ruth Rippey, Marjorie Schaefer, Mildred Shields, Helen Tillman, Marvel Twiss, Barbara Weston, Nancy Weston, and Helen Wright.

PLEGDED: Blanche Bowman, Jean Dutton, Isabel Dutton, Virginia Harrison, Peggy Jones, Janet Millard, Isabel Overstreet, Kathryn Seeberger, Lila Wagner, and Mary Rose, all of Portland; Mary Hyslop, Lyle Porter, and Donna Bartell of Corvallis; Ruth Roberts, Redmond.

Estora Ricks was one of the seven girls to be elected to the Cap and Gown honor society of which she is now president. She is also a member of the National Collegiate Players and holds the position of corresponding secretary. Emmajean Stevens was awarded a scholarship to Merrill Palmer Nursery School. She is also president of the home economics club. O. N. Kathryn Seeberger was elected secretary of the Freshman class.

Pauline Leupold was selected for membership in Spur, national honorary society for sophomore women.

MARY WOODCOCK

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—LELAND
STANFORD JR. UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, January, 1933

INITIATED, April 30, 1932; Mary Della Callahan, Yakima, Wash.; Charlotte Gibner, Washington, D.C.; Betty Jane Hedden, Burlingame; Ann Osborn, Sault St. Marie, Mich.

Special stress is to be laid upon the problem of internal and economical organization this year. California A is a small chapter and the members feel that they should be able to work as a unit and not only avoid unnecessary expenditures but also bring about a closer feeling of harmony in the house. A new system of house management is to be tried this year which will include a treasurer, house manager, and commissary manager.

The freshman enrollment is the largest in several years due to the fact that it was definitely decided not to abolish the lower division. However, due to the financial stress, a large number of the old students are unable to continue their studies. The university is doing all in its power to assist students financially.

During the latter part of the summer several members returned to the campus and assisted in redecorating the chapter house. New wall paper and lighter woodwork have done much to improve the appearance of the house. The mothers' club aided financially in making the redecorations possible.

Marion Hewlett and Charlotte Gibner are members of rally committee. Louise Hudson is vice-president of W.A.A. Betts Hawkins is women's editor of the Stanford Daily. Virginia Ingram is sponsor for the freshmen women in Roble Hall. Rose Cubbison and Marion Hewlett are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Chosen for Φ B K last spring were Bernice Wright, Helen Osborn, and Elizabeth McCullough. The members are working hard to raise their scholastic record.

A tea was given by the Y.W.C.A. for the new women on October 1 and several of the girls in the house served on the reception committee. Plans are being completed for an alumnae bridge party and fashion show. The chapter is also arranging an open-house for members and friends of California T and California A for the Southern California-Stanford football game.

PLEGDED: Dona Sampson, Piedmont; and Ruth Cathcart, Fresno, Calif.

The chapter is glad to welcome Frances Bledsoe, California A, to the campus.

INITIATED, September 5, 1932; Bea Youngberg, Piedmont; Marjorie Makins, Alameda; Isabel Walthal, San Francisco; Norma Jean McLeod, Santa Rosa; Barbara MacMichael, El Paso, Tex.

Since the completion of the Eshleman Memorial Publications Building literary work on the campus has received a decided impetus. The chapter is represented in all but two of the publications groups. Eleanor Breed is a junior manager on the staff of the annual, Blue and Gold. Mirian Cutter also has an underclass position on the managerial staff. Barbara MacMichael works on the office management staff of the Pelican, humorous monthly. Betty Gerwick is a junior women's editor on the Daily Californian and Elizabeth Stratton is on the freshman editorial staff. The Y.W.C.A., personnel committee, Treble Clef (the women's glee club), and deputations committee, as well as class committees number various members of Pi Beta Phi on their rolls. Betty Gerwick was elected to Prytanean, women's activity honor society.

By action of Panhellenic the formal fall presentation teas for pledges have been abolished. This was done to eliminate an expensive affair which was a decided burden on the houses as each tea cost from $200 to $400. The money thus saved is being used to pay off house debts, to help student loan funds, and to aid in various house undertakings.

A new gymnasium for men, a track stadium, and two engineering buildings have been completed in the last few months.

PLEGDED: Patsy Anderson, Betty Abbott, June Bach, Virginia Bullock, Marion Colm, Nadine Fox, Arrian Hoxie, Edith Loudon, Peggy Miller, Betty Osmont, Jean Riggins, Isabel Sobey, Elizabeth Stratton, Nancy Sherwin, Phyllis Sagehorn, Martha Wishon.

JANE CARTER

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, September 26, 1932

The Olympic Games provided a new experience for summer rushing, which is very important to the chapter, and which usually suffers because of the scattering of members and rushees.

Most important was the opening of the new Doheny Memorial Library, reputed to be one of the most beautiful buildings of its kind in the world. It is the best equipped of modern libraries, and has treasure rooms and show cases containing valuable literary material. It is a true inspiration to everyone, and will have a fine influence on the students studying there.

Chapter entertained with a mothers' club benefit at the home of its president, Mrs. Charles Cotton, whose daughter, Mary Ann, is the chapter president. The theme was Spanish, appropriate for the Cottons' Beverly Hills home, and over 300 people attended. The proceeds were given to the chapter furniture fund.

The chief problem of the chapter is the lack of members holding the higher offices in campus activities. The members are attempting to correct this not only by pledging girls who are interested in activities, but by making one of the requirements for initiation a total of nine activity points for each pledge a semester. In the active chapter five points a semester are necessary.

PLEGDED: Maxine Smith, Margaret Thompson, Marguarite Blake, Lenore Randack, Marjory Roth, Los Angeles; Evelyn Herberts, Nancy Ruff, Hollywood; Phyllis Livingston, Glendale; Mildred Linde, Long Beach; Lois and Jean Shattuck, Pasadena; Camille Moore, Fort Worth, Tex.

JANE WALL

CALIFORNIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, October 3, 1932

The enrollment of the university for this semester has increased about 500 over the number last year, the total registration being about 6500.

Two new gymnasiums with every modern convenience including outdoor swimming pools, special roofs for sun baths, and a well equipped medical department are welcome additions to the campus. A new wing on the physics building also adds to the general appearance. Rowing has now become one of the competitive sports of this university, with the organization of a crew under the direction of Major Goodsell, former sculling champion. The crew will practice in the new Long Beach Marine Stadium which was built for the rowing events of the Olympic Games. Dr. Robert G. Sproul, the president of the University of California, expressed a hope that the two teams from Berkeley and Los Angeles will be in competition to represent the United States in the Olympic Games of 1936. A race between the university at Berkeley and the one at Los Angeles will take place in the near future.

This chapter is carefully studying finances, not only because of the present day conditions, but also because of the many improvements and repairs which were found necessary to be made on the house this summer. Scholarship also comes in for a great degree of interest; the system of supervised study again will be carried out especially for the new pledges. An activity reward system whereby only the truly worthwhile activities are counted to a girl's credit is to be worked out in an effort to raise the activity record of the chapter. The importance of entering activities in the first year will be impressed upon the new pledges.

The alumnae have been especially generous this past rush season in contributing parties to the chapter; the Sunday tea of rush week was given by the alumnae of the chapter, and the cooky-shine after pledging was contributed by the Santa Monica alumnae club. At this time the Glendale alumnae presented a recognition pin to pledge, Margaret Woods, who in every field had shown herself to be the most outstanding. Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Grand Vice-president was an honor guest at the cooky-shine.

Marion McCarthy is president of the Y.W.C.A., and Estelle Fowler and Elizabeth McCarthy were elected to Spurs, sophomore women's honorary.

PLEGGED: Marjorie Allen, Margaret Badger, Mary Barrett, Los Angeles; Ruth Beasley, Glendale; Persis Freeman, Los Angeles; Mary Elizabeth Leonard, Pasadena; Gertrude Mason, Sacramento; Martha Neighbors, Virginia Smith, Los Angeles; Sibyl Wagner, Sacramento; Betty Wilson, Los Angeles.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 17, 1932

With a total of twenty-two pledges, Nevada A won the pledge derby; five women's fraternities competed.

One of the greatest problems of the chapter now is to make the pledges feel at home. Because so few girls are living in the II B Φ house, it is difficult to get the pledges to feel free to come and go as they wish. They like to come to dinner and lunch so the girls are putting forth special efforts to invite them. The town girls are taking them to shows, studying with them, and generally trying to keep up the good feeling that existed during rushing.

The first dance, very informal, was given in honor of the pledges at the chapter house.

A custom is being revived of having the actives eat dinner at the house before meeting. Mrs. Grace H. Hershey is again chaperon, making her second year in the house.

Helen Peterson was elected to Φ K Φ , national honor society.

PLEGGED: Eunice Caton, Mary Vaughn, Margaret Traner, Margaret Crosby, Blanche Keezan, Elda Haslett, Virginia Hill, Winifred Walsh, Henrietta McElroy, and Evelyn Semenza all of Reno; Miriam Butler, Rita Jepson, Sparks; Dorothy Roseberry, Colleen Hollend, Truckee, Calif.; Ellen Ernst, Lura Babel, Fallon; Anne Jenkins, Susanville, Calif.; June McGuire, Elko; Margaret

ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, September 25, 1932

The annual "A" Day celebration on September 17 began with the freshman boys repainting the huge white A on the mountain. The freshman girls carried lunch to the boys under the supervision of sophomores. At eight o'clock a fire was built outlining the A, followed by a parade down town to a street dance with a free show at the theatre for the students afterward.

During homecoming festivities, the chapter float won first prize in the women's fraternity section of the night parade at the Arizona-Loyola football game. Nellie Jean Bouse had charge of it.

The Kitty Kat, humor magazine, is sponsoring a subscription contest in which every organization on the campus is participating.

A drive to raise funds for an A.W.S. building is in progress and the women's fraternities are having dime dances each Wednesday night, in the place of the regular social hour, to assist in raising the needed money.

Mary Jane Hayden was chosen for the Rattlers, a sophomore women's honorary organization, which was just started on the campus this year. Since the organization was just started, the senior sponsors chose the members. Mary Jane was also chosen as assistant archery sport leader for W.A.A.

The romance club, for students majoring in the romance languages, has invited Adrienne Zimmerman and Virginia Burton to become members. At the end of last year Katharine Teague was made a member of "F.S.T.," the honorary organization for junior women, as having been one of the outstanding sophomores, and this fall she was elected secretary of W.A.A. and was made publicity chairman for A.W.S. Nellie Jean Bouse was elected vice-president of W.A.A. Roberta Sainsbury has been elected vice-president of the home economics club. Mary Jean Eads is one of the senior sponsors for freshman girls.

PLEGGED: Alice Huffman, Mary Luckett, Roberta Tidmore, Anne Hayden, Maydith Huddleson, Martha Redewill, Florence Narroway.

JULIA COX

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, November 5, 1932

INITIATED, April 13, 1932: Ann Bering, Virginia Howard, Margaret Leonard, Eleanor Lowe, Virginia Nutter, Margaret Parsons, Faye Wissmar, and Margery Worthington, all of Salt Lake City.

The University of Utah has inaugurated the lower division system. Students of the first two years are divided into small sections, at the head of which are faculty advisers who give aid and vocational guidance to the individual members of the groups. It is hoped that the usual "high mortality" of first year students may be largely checked, if not entirely eliminated by this plan.

The university this fall welcomed Miss Jean Slavens, K A Θ , as dean of women.

The local intersorority council was replaced early in the summer by a chapter of Panhellenic. In cooperation with the university administration all fraternities are budgeting their finances with an eye to being as economical as possible.

Virginia Parsons and Charlene Scowcroft were elected president and secretary respectively of Trotters, honorary riding society. Mirra Jacobs was elected to membership in Acorn, the organization corresponding to Mortar Board. Virginia Parsons was made secretary of $\chi \Delta \Phi$.

At an informal tea, Utah A entertained Dean Slavens and Mrs. Margaret Agee, the chaperon.

PLEGGED: Virginia Allison, Mary Bergstrom, Jane Bering, Mary Burnett, Virginia Cripps, Alberta Davidson, Betsy Dern, Virginia Hilton, Marjorie Hyde, Margaret Jensen, Beatrice McCrea, Truth Milner, Barbara Morris, Marjorie Parish, Afton Smith, Olene Smith, Peggy Tanner, Esther Thomas, Becky Whitney, Marian Whitney, Edith Williams, all of Salt Lake City; Irene Rebealetti, Eureka, Nev.

Chapters of $\Delta \Gamma$, $\Phi \Sigma \Sigma$, and $\Lambda \Omega$ were installed in June. In early November a chapter of $\kappa \kappa \Gamma$ was installed.

Two problems to be met are those of scholarship and activities. Scholarship requirements for initiation have been raised, and for the actives the system of answering to roll call in chapter meeting with the week's average grade has been adopted. Pledges are required to have two activities, and actives are urged to maintain a truly active interest in the organizations of their choice.
