Editorials

Those who were at Convention will remember among the former officers in attendance Edith Carpenter, Vermont B, former National Cataloguer, who seemed to be enjoying Convention so much, and who had such a warm welcome from her old friends—they will be saddened to hear that she died only a few weeks afterwards. Pi Beta Phi will long remember the devoted service which made hers so valuable a contribution to the organization of the Fraternity.

Two other former officers of more recent years are gone, too—both warm personal friends of the Editor of the ARROW, friends of whom it is not easy to write—one of them Hallie Chapman Collins, Colorado A, former Iota Province president, who died in Denver. Hers was a lifetime of fine service to Pi Beta Phi, both nationally and to her own chapter and to the Denver Alumnae Club—hers was a lovely personality and she made many people happier and better just for having known her. The sympathy of Pi Phis everywhere who had the privilege of knowing Hallie goes to her husband, Shrive B. Collins, and to her daughters, also members of Colorado A.

The other was a former president of Theta Province, Geraldine Mars Ristine, Iowa Z, who was first taken ill on her way home from the Pasadena Convention in 1940, and had been far from well since that time. She had lived for years in Mt. Pleasant where her husband, Dr. Leonard P. Ristine, was head of the hospital previous to the war—during the war he became a colonel in the Army, and was in charge of an Army Hospital in Oxford, England. Gerry was a successful and popular president of her province, a hard worker for the Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club and for Iowa A, as well as for her own chapter, first chairman of the National War Work Committee, a work which was interrupted by her illness—to all these offices she brought the charm of her warm and vital, brilliant personality, and a great enthusiasm and devotion for Pi Beta Phi.

As we have said of other grand Pi Phis who are gone, Pi Beta Phi can ill spare such officers as these! To their families goes the deepest sympathy of Pi Phis everywhere.

Men's fraternities are returning almost 100% to their former campuses, and for that the women's fraternities are glad. Yet there is a cause for a feeling of disquiet also in the manner of their return to some colleges where they have always been strong factors in college life. Perhaps this is only another, and a dangerous sign of the times—times in which regulation of every phase of daily life has reached out to control through government restriction almost all phases of a once free economy.

The fraternities return, yes—but under strict rules and regulations as to how they shall live and how they shall conduct themselves. Some of this is undoubtedly necessary, to correct some social faults that have been glaring—there have been chapters in which men did not act as if they belonged to organizations which are basically founded on the finest of ideals—these are matters for which the fraternities themselves should be responsible, and which they should have been required to correct long ago. Many criticisms of fraternities have appeared in recent years, the most generally expressed one being that fraternities are undemocratic—and so insistent has this cry become that on a number of campuses college authorities are doing something about it, to the extent of placing the individual chapters under close university regulation. Much of this may lead to better living conditions, but much of it is dangerous, in that it constitutes a threat to that independence of democratic control within the chapters themselves, that fine training in making and carrying out plans and making decisions, that has always been one of the great advantages of fraternity membership.

Some of the campuses where such regulation is taking place are mentioned in an article by Benjamin Fine in Banta's Greek Exchange for July: those where the college is assuming close supervision of chapters are given as: Rutgers, where the president has said "the final authority on matters pertaining to fraternity policies and operation rests with the university"; Amherst, which adopts the strictest regulation of all; Colgate, where the "object is to create a closer relationship between the college and the fraternity"; Middlebury, which abolishes hazing, and plans an entire change in rushing methods; Indiana, Hamilton, William, and many besides. Out of all this planning one fact emerges clearly—that college authorities everywhere recognize the value of their fraternities, and hope to make them more an integral part of college life than they have been. Only time can tell what effect this will have on the fraternities themselves. Certainly we have these days wandered far from the old ideal of a close and secret bond in fraternities themselves, and some way must be found under the new college system to restore it—as Dr. Shepardson of Beta Theta Pi once said, "we need to return to our altars."

How does this affect the women's groups? What will it do to them eventually? That only time can answer—but certainly it does mean that our chapters must do more to justify their presence in their colleges, not only by their worthwhile projects, but by their high character as shown in the standards of conduct of their members. Chapters must impress college authorities with the fact that they are a necessary and a contributing factor in college life. A Dean of Women once said to the Editor, "I could not act as Dean without the fine support of my women's fraternities"—such opinion as that we must work to deserve and to keep, if the fraternity system is to reach new heights of strength.

Pi Beta Phi and the ARROW extend warmest congratulations to Chester Cleveland, Editor of the Sigma Chi Magazine on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his editorship. He has made a fine contribution to the welfare of  $\Sigma X$  and of fraternities in general—and how often do we editors envy him and wish we had his budget!

Staff Wedding

We have a bride to announce—Mary Elizabeth Lasher, editor of the section "From Pi Pens" was married last May to Kenneth Barnette. All good wishes go to this valued member of the ARROW Staff.

Grand Council Wedding

Just before we go to press, comes word of the marriage of the Director of Rushing and Pledge Training, Isabel Clark of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, to Mr. Howard Winkler, also of Winnipeg, Member of the Canadian Parliament. For them both, every happy wish for their future!

Odile Taylor Alfson

From Elaine Walker, Kansas A, comes a letter which expresses the thing we may all have felt: "Just what words are there to describe that certain feeling when after a nerve-racking day of rush week you are asked "How would you like to be a Pi Phi?"; someone sees your arrow and says, "Oh, you're a Pi Phi!"; you go to a tough examination, then return to be cheered up instantly by friends who constantly encourage you; when it's your team, the Pi Phi team, which wins the swimming meet; when you attend your first meeting, your first initiation, your first cooky-shine? Every sorority girl must have a certain feeling about her own group—but that feeling seems always stronger in the hearts of Pi Phis. I have so often been in a group of Pi Phis when suddenly someone said, "Aren't you glad you are a Pi Phi?"

The Memorial Fund with gifts in memory of loved ones is being used for special needs at the School. A much-needed recording machine was purchased last year for the music department with money from this fund. Please remember to send contributions to Miss Emma Woerner, 912 Cherokee Rd., Louisville, Ky., who will acknowledge your gifts by a card and send an engraved card to the family of the person for whom the gift is a memorial. Gifts of any size are welcomed.

Convention, 1946

By MARIE BACON HAGEE

A GAIN a Pi Phi Convention after five long war years! And appropriately enough, as Adèle Taylor Alford has already said in the ARROW, it was held at Swampscott, Massachusetts, where the old Indian trail called the "Path of Peace" is still remembered. As the six hundred Pi Phis gathered, it was hard to realize that so long a time had elapsed between conventions. The picture was much the same—the same ecstatic greetings, the same abandoned grief over loss of baggage, and the same helpless look on the faces of the hotel employees who had not yet coped with so many feminine guests. At the start there was perhaps a little more ignorance of procedure, a more apparent lack of sureness than in former years, but all picked up the swing of it very quickly. Old traditions were revived; and new ones born.

Grand Council, of course, was there early for its pre-convention meetings, having gathered on the fourteenth of June, but since there was no special train, there was no set time for other Pi Phis to arrive, and actives and alumnae began to trickle in almost as soon as their province officers. Historic Boston proved alluring to those starved for travel by wartime restrictions. As always, there were pre-convention meetings for officers, interrupted only once for pleasure by a bus trip Saturday afternoon to Attleboro, Massachusetts, where as the guests of Mr. L. G. Balfour, fraternity jeweler, they were escorted through the plant in small groups. Later joined by Mrs. Balfour, they enjoyed a duck dinner at the old but still charming Lafayette House.

Sunday the Pi Phi clan began to gather in force. Graciously and competently directing new arrivals, dispensing greetings and information, were the Convention Guide, Helen Richardson Corkum, Massachusetts A, and her committee of three: Clara Dell Haggeman, Missouri B; Elizabeth Chalmers Dow, Vermont A; and Emma Drury Teller, Maryland A. There was a good attendance at the informal tea that afternoon, and a still greater number at the formal dinner that night, at which the guest speaker was Mr. Verling Enteman, former chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference. His inspiring talk included the voicing of the great admiration and esteem which all in the National Panhellenic Conference hold for our Grand President, Amy Burnham Onken, saying she is uniformly recognized as the temporal leader of college fraternity men and women in the United States and Canada.

After dinner came the formal opening of the Convention, the first session being called to order by Miss Onken at eight-thirty P.M. For those who had attended other conventions was the joy of again being part of a well-remembered routine; for newcomers, the thrill of experiencing something only heard or read about before; and for all, the warmth of knowing that Pi Phi had once more taken up in its entirety, the pattern which has made it great. Instead of an invocation, the Lord's Prayer was sung by Frances Bethune Melby, D.C. A; this was followed by the opening ritual. After that came the memorial service for our Founders, and for those Pi Phis who had died since last convention, while a chorus led by Marilyn Weigner, Missouri A, sang softly the beautiful Memorial Hymn. With the rising of a curtain, a tableau was disclosed of a young girl dressed in silver blue and holding an armful of wine carnations. Next came introductions of the members of Grand Council, former officers, chairmen of committees, province officers, and the official convention guest, Anna Robinson Nickerson, Massachusetts A, who was also official convention parliamentarian. After that followed recognition of all honors to chapters, Iowa Z taking high place in number of Phi Beta Kappas, and North Carolina A ranking all others in scholarship by holding first place on its campus for nine consecutive terms. The demonstration made evident Pi Beta Phi's cooperation on campus and in community life!

Monday was an even fuller day with another regular session in the morning followed by a hurried trip to the sunlit beach for the official convention picture. At two o'clock there was model pledging, this year of two candidates instead of one. They were Emily Barber Willis, of Urbana, Illinois, mother of two Pi Phis and long a friend of Pi Phi; and Laura King, who had been pledged to Florida  $\Gamma$  in January but was unable to be initiated because of her concert appearance in Town Hall, New York City. Besides having been selected as the most promising young pianist in the United States, she won the cup awarded by Florida  $\Gamma$  for the highest scholarship among the pledges.

In the afternoon there was a regular session for the alumnae, and for the actives, discussion groups under the leadership of Virginia Reinecke, Illinois B- $\Delta$ , Dean of Women at the University of Oklahoma, and Christine Yerges Conaway, Ohio B, Dean of Women at Ohio State. Then in the evening took place model initiation of the two pledges, Emily Willis and Laura King. Later that evening came one of the most delightful of all the week's programs, Marion Keck Simmons' report of her committee's stewardship of the Pi Beta Phi National Memorial at Monmouth, Illinois,—Holt House. From her study of the twelve girls who formed their group into the first women's fraternity, she charmed every one into feeling that those girls still lived and were present, in their light-hearted gaiety and serious desire to do good.

At the joint session the next morning, Mr. L. G. Balfour led a discussion on fraternity Public Relations, and emphasized the worth and benefits of fraternities. He was later a guest speaker—together with Alice Lloyd, Dean of Women at the University of Michigan—at the Panhellenic dinner where special guests were representatives of sixteen women's fraternities.

Pleasantly breaking the routine of business sessions was recreation day on Wednesday. Actives and alumnae alike scattered to the four winds, for sports, sightseeing, or sun-bathing. The sightseers, fortified by box lunches, gaily sallied forth in the morning by bus or boat to view historic spots, but straggled in far more quietly that evening in time to enjoy a shore dinner. At small tables placed on the strip of brilliant lawn between the hotel and beach were served clams and lobsters in such abundance that many longed for the rugged individualism to carry away clam juice and lobster claws to their rooms for a midnight snack. By formal count Colorado might have had the greatest number attending the convention, but Texas seemed that night to have the most powerful and pervasive singing—its eyes were so often upon us!

As the warm twilight faded, and the lighthouse beams gained brilliance, regretfully all left the beach, wishing, in the lethargy brought on by too much food and even more exercise, that the Settlement School program would come to them instead of having to bestir themselves to go to it. But it was well worth the effort, and very satisfying, from the first wistful note of the dulcimer as Marjorie Chalmers, nurse at the School for the past ten years, played and sang a group of folk songs, to the last word of the skit written by her and presented by a cast of Massachusetts A girls. In between, there came a talk by Ben Fleming, graduate of the School and its able principal for the last eleven years, and as the peak of the program, the fine report of the chairman of the Settlement School Committee, Mildred Odell Sale, who had the exciting and gratifying pleasure of announcing the $12,000.00 gift of the late Dr. W. P. Gersh-wiler, husband of Florence Province Gershwiler, long a loyal member and friend of Indiana B.

That evening there was still time for province get-togethers, but all agreed not nearly enough time, as just when every one was really getting acquainted with others in her province, there came the reminder that Colorado Betas were giving an exhibition of square dancing in the ballroom, and that we could enjoy not only the dancing, but also cokes and popcorn.

At the session next morning was established the "Order of the Golden ARROW," thereby making national the plan followed by Iowa B for recognition of its alumnae of fifty or more years membership. Nina Harris Allen, Illinois B-Δ, delegate from the DuPage, Illinois Alumnae Club, and past Grand Vice President, was the only Pi Phi attending this convention who was eligible for the new order.

At this session a unanimous vote brought into the fraternity another chapter. Pi Beta Alpha at the University of New Mexico became New Mexico A after the petition was informally, but very ably presented by Mary McCollum Top, Oklahoma B.

In the afternoon, Dean Conaway opened a group discussion with her talk on "The Fraternity as a Character-Forming Agency," and that evening came the costume dinner. That your best friend would not know you was perfectly apparent as the figures paraded before the judges. Hoop-skirted belles were harried by pickaninnies dripping watermelon, while prim Puritans looked askance at flappers of the '20s and boomtown ladies of an earlier and rougher decade. A desert bandit was amazingly successful at concealment, in spite of her blue eyes' belieing the black moustaches beneath.

All adjourned later for the stunts and the always interesting song contest which was especially beautiful this year because of the unusually fine songs and the charming leadership of Marilyn Weigner, Missouri A, with the assistance of the official soloist of Convention, Frances Bethune Melby, D.C. A.

Friday every one began to realize that the closing ritual could not be far off, and that while much had been accomplished, much remained, so settled down to business. Carrie Chapman Catt was honored by having her birthday, January ninth, set aside as Chapter Loyalty Day, on which alumnae are to remember their chapters, and actives wear their colors, wine and silver blue, under their badges. More of the agenda was taken up—a fund of $50,000.00, the Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund, was established to assist chapter house corporations and individual Pi Beta Phis; and fraternity examinations are to be dispensed with except for the essay question. Constitutional amendments were passed providing for two new positions on Grand Council: Director of Rushing and Pledge Training, and Director of Alumnae Extension; and for the appointment by the Grand President of a Counselor for Chapter House Corporations "whose duties shall be established by law." At luncheon that day, Dr. Leona Baumgartner, Kansas A, a former Pi Phi Fellowship holder and now Director of Child Health for the City of New York spoke on the famine in Europe. She gave a moving picture of what war brings to the children of the countries embroiled in it.

The banquet that evening made one wish that it could mark the end of convention, and that the memory of it could be the last and brightest. Arrangements by the Hartford Alumnae Club had been thoughtfully made, and beautifully carried out. Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice President, presided with a graciousness and serenity which was an inspiration to all to attain in their Founders' Day banquets. The speeches, the tableaux, the music—all were of Pi Phi excellence. Awards for prowess on Recreation Day, and cleverness in costumes were made, and later those for eminence of a more enduring kind, scholarship and character. The Balfour Cup was awarded to Arkansas A, the Stoolman Vase went to Kansas B and Ohio A jointly, while the Philadelphia Vase was won by North Carolina A. In the presence of her mother, Edith Hoyer Rankin, Ohio B, and Beta Province Vice President, Mildred Rankin, also of Ohio B, received the Amy Burnham Onken National Award.

But after all, in Pi Phi hearts the evening belonged to just one person—Amy Burnham Onken, who was celebrating her twenty-fifth anniversary as Grand President. Gifts came to her from the Pi Phis present, a massive silver bowl, and a generous check for a vacation, but perhaps even dearer to her, and certainly more moving, was the sight of six hundred Pi Beta Phis, rising to their feet and facing her as they sang her own song, "My Pi Phi Girl."

Saturday morning final business was attended to, elections held, officers installed, appreciation expressed to the two retiring members of Grand Council, Ruth Barrett Smith, and Lois Franklin Stoolman, both of whom have given years of service to the fraternity, and—the 1946 convention was ended. But memories remained—of Mr. Kennedy's pleasant kindness and Miss Duffy's tactful efficiency which withstood any trying incident (indeed, Miss Duffy maintained stoutly that her Pi Phi angels were never in disguise); of little girls in socks and sweaters at sessions so sweetly transformed into swirling-skirted young ladies at dinner; of the only husband there, Fred Graves, who recently married Lillian Harris Thomas, Illinois B, and who was knight errant to all Pi Phis and chauffeur in chief to Grand Council; of late get-togethers in rooms and nightly serenades rising from beach and golf course, proving once again that Pi Phis are not only night-owls but nightingales; of the hotel lobby's focal points; the miniature Central Office so deftly made by Adele Murphy, Illinois H, who had been Director of the Office, the Holt House exhibit with that fascinating diary of Major Holt, the larger chapter exhibits with their painstaking details of campus achievements, and most compelling of all, the Arrowcraft salesroom with its director, Ethel Weaver Snow, Iowa  $\Gamma$ , assisted by Ruth Dyer, School Director and also an Iowa  $\Gamma$ , the School nurse, Marjorie Chalmers, all busily selling while Josie Watson, a weaver from the School, sat weaving at her loom just outside; and of all memories the most lasting, that of friendships strengthened by and for Pi Beta Phi.

The Denver Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi wishes to announce to all chapters, clubs and National Officers that it is continuing its sale of Settlement School maps as its School project. Following is a list of items and prices:

Foster Parents Plan for War Children, Inc.

CONVENTION voted to spend the unused portion of about $4000 remaining in the Physiotherapy Fund for work with the unhappy children of Europe, and Foster Children was chosen by Grand Council to be the beneficiary of that fund. The following letter from Jane Chase Rogers, of the Educational Department of the foundation named above tells of the work already done by Pi Phi chapters, and bespeaks continuing aid:

The contribution made by the school and college groups toward our work with the war children is outstanding. In expressing our gratitude it occurs to me, that as a part of Pi Phi's war activities you will be interested in the following:

Since April 1943 checks from your various chapters have been "pooled" and the contributing chapters are Foster Parents for a war child—for the first two years two British boys and currently Henricus Van der Lans, a Dutch lad whose history and picture is enclosed.

Utah Alpha chapter has been Foster Parents for Carolyn Wells for three years—her picture and history are enclosed.

California Delta is providing for Georges Creviaux, a Belgian boy. Picture and history attached.

The Panhellenic Council at Beloit College, of which your Wisconsin Beta chapter is a member, has as its "adopted" child Lucienne Manshaert, a Belgian girl whose history and picture are enclosed.

South Dakota Alpha Chapter, in March 1946, endowed a bed for a year at one of our colonies for war children abroad.

At Middlebury College, a campus-wide "adoption" includes members of your Vermont Alpha Chapter, of course. The help given all these children is of immeasurable value in their lives.

For countless thousands of children the war is not over! Recently we assumed responsibility for another large group of Belgian, Czech, Dutch and French children for whom we must find Foster Parents—some of these children have experienced the horrors of concentration camp life. Each child for whom we find Foster Parents means one more child started on the road to a new life. We welcome your share in this worthwhile work. Grateful thanks to all who share with these children.

CAROLYN MARGARET WELLS—No. 13433

British
November 23, 1938

Carolyn and her sister, Jean age 11, are both in our care. It is one of the tragic cases of the war where little or nothing is yet known of the children's parents. The mother was seriously injured during one of the air raids and has been ill mentally and physically ever since. The father has been missing since early in the war, although no definite word that he has been killed in action has been received.

The little girls were brought to the Colonies for safety and proper care. They seem happy with the children and are devoted to each other.

Carol, the name by which she is known, is a sturdy well-built child—a blonde with blue eyes and curly hair. She is one of the youngest children at the Colony and strives to follow the older children.

The experiences through which she has passed are very evident in her mental advancement. When she came she was backward for her age and was especially slow in her speech, having difficulty in speaking her words distinctly. She is improving nicely now. She is altogether very full of life and mischief . . . loves to play in the nursery school and tries to do everything. She is an attractive child physically and with the care and training she is receiving she will soon show the result of the love and care.

Those under whose supervision she comes feel that she is a normal child of average intelligence . . . because of the adjustments she has had to make in her little life she is not as advanced as she would normally be. Her health has improved markedly since she has been with us and there is every reason to expect her to grow and develop into a most attractive little girl, both mentally and physically.

Assigned from New York office October 20, 1943.

Foster Parents: Utah Alpha Chapter.

GEORGES CLAUDE CREVIAUX—No. 11568

November 22, 1939

Belgian

Georges was born in Jemappes, Belgium. War and the enemy occupation of Belgium have brought privation and fear into his little life—he has known little else.

In peace time his father made a comfortable living and when the father was married he was able to establish a good home for his young wife. Then when Georges was on the way all their plans were changed and the enemy ran the country. Mr. Creviaux joined the underground resistance movement, where he was doing quite important work, until he was arrested by the Germans and taken to the concentration camp of Neuengamme, in Germany, where he died in July 1944.

After Mr. Creviaux was taken away, his wife lost her home and until liberation came she and Georges had a ghastly existence, staying wherever they could find temporary shelter. Food and fuel were scarce, and as their clothing wore out they were unable to replace it.

The Plan have found proper living quarters for them, and your 'adoption' of Georges assures continuation of this help until his mother can get a start.

Georges is a charming little fellow with fair hair and blue eyes—obedient and well mannered. His devotion to his mother is marked by his desire to be the man of the house and her protector. He is improving nervously and physically. Georges is very proud of his new clothes and shoes, he calls them "his American clothes and shoes." Those under whose supervision Georges comes feel the care you are providing is deeply appreciated by this young mother.

Assigned from New York Office March, 1946.

Foster Parents: California Delta Chapter.

HENRICUS VAN DER LANS—No. 3554.

Dutch

November 1, 1935

Henricus is the second of four children. His father was a school teacher. Early in the occupation of Holland, Mr. Van Der Lans went into the underground movement and on the rare occasions when he was seen he had to hide so as not to be found and reported by the Gestapo.

During this period the family suffered great hardships—lack of food, clothes and fuel. Sugar beets and tulip bulbs were the main part of their diet. Because of this Henricus's health suffered considerably. He has been brought to one of our Colonies with a group of Dutch children from Holland. They will remain in England until the food situation in Holland improves. During the occupation of Holland there was little schooling for the children—the teachers who did not go into the underground movement were taken by the Gestapo and deported to Germany as slave laborers; in addition there was no fuel for heating the school buildings.

Henricus has adjusted himself nicely to the routine life of the Colony and has improved physically since he entered our care. He is enjoying the companionship of the other children at the Colony, where the program has been planned with special attention to their diet and outdoor exercise.

Assigned from New York Office March, 1946.

Installation of New Mexico Alpha, September 11, 1946

EIGHTEEN of the members of Pi Beta Alpha, local at the University of New Mexico, had their silver arrows turned to the gold arrow of Pi Beta Phi at the installation ceremonies conducted by Miss Amy Burnham Onken, Grand President, on September 11, 1946. Miss Onken and the local alumnae were assisted by Mrs. Frank Prouty, Grand Treasurer; Mrs. William Siburg, Mu Province President; Mrs. William Leigh Tatom, Mu Province Vice-President; Mrs. J. Page Kemp, El Paso Alumnae Club president; Dorothy McBride, Colorado B; and Margaret Jacobs, Arizona A.

Formal pledging which was held at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday, September 10, was conducted by Miss Onken. Those pledged were: Winifred Basey, Margaret Hibben, Nancy Hobbs, Anne Johnson, Barbara Tiedebohl, and Maxine Bullock, Albuquerque; Donna Carlson, Rockford, Ill.; Maria Christine Dayton, Altadena, Calif.; Juanita Harrison and Jane Lackey, Raton; Dorothy Johnson, Pampa, Tex.; Nita Lehane, Palo Alto, Calif.; Dorothy Moore, Las Vegas; Eleanor Nunn and Mabel Nunn, Deming; Charline Sage, Santa Fe; Nancy Smith, San Francisco, Calif.; and Helen Watson, Artesia. Margaret Hight Robb and Carolyn Meier Flora, members of the petitioning group from Albuquerque, were married in the summer and were unable to return for the initiation. Both girls will be initiated with the pledge class in the spring of 1947.

The pledges were entertained at their first Cooky-shine by two members of Washington A, Annetta Buck and Mrs. Sam Sutherland. Many out of town Pi Beta Phis were guests for the party held in Annetta's home. The same evening Mrs. William Siburg read the Pi Beta Phi Constitution to the pledges.

The initiation of the charter members of New Mexico Alpha Chapter and the installation of the new chapter were conducted by Miss Onken on September 11 at the Y.W.C.A. Local alumnae and out of town guests participated in the ceremonies.

The theme of the formal banquet held in the Coronado Room of the Alvarado Hotel on September 11 was Flight on the Arrow-Line. Toastmistress was Helen K. Hooper, President of the Albuquerque Alumnae Club. The program included songs, greetings from many of the guests, and four toasts as follows:

"The Takeoff" a history of Pi Beta Phi, by Mrs. Leigh Tatom.

"Skybound Crews" the personnel of the Fraternity, by Mrs. William Siburg.

"Cruising" a resume of the philanthropies and accomplishments of Pi Beta Phi, by Mrs. J. Page Kemp.

"Visibility Unlimited" the ideals and aims of the Fraternity by Miss Onken.

Winifred Basey, accompanied by Jane Lackey, sang the Puccini aria, "Vissi D'arte" and the new Pi Beta Phi Sweetheart Song written by Meredith Wilson.

The color scheme for the banquet was wine and silver blue. The programs and place cards were blue with silver airliners printed on the covers. The banquet table was decorated with a model silver airplane, The Arrow Line, bouquets of wine and blue flowers in silver bowls, and wine and blue candles in silver candelabra.

The banquet was closed with the Loving Cup song and ceremony, using the silver loving cup which was presented to the chapter by the Albuquerque Alumnae Club.

Miss Onken conducted the first chapter meeting and installed Helen Watson as president of the chapter in the Student Union Building Lounge on September 12. Following the meeting, visiting Pi Beta Phis and Miss Lena Clauve, Dean of Women, were entertained at a buffet luncheon in the lounge.

A formal reception, under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Top and Mrs. Lee Griffith, was held at the Albuquerque Country Club Thursday, September 12. Faculty members, local people, and Panhellenic representatives were among the four hundred guests received by Helen Hooper, Miss Onken, Helen Watson, Miss Clauve, Dorothy McBride, and Margaret Jacobs.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Prouty, Mrs. Tatom, Mrs. Siburg, and Mrs. Kemp. The silver and white table was decorated with a large silver candelabra in the center, flanked by silver bowls of white asters. Many colorful bouquets from other fraternities, alumnae clubs, and friends graced the foyer and serving room.

The initiation and installation ceremonies were an impressive climax for the time and energy expended in making the ninety-first chapter of Pi Beta Phi a reality. The members of New Mexico A wish to take this opportunity to express their gratitude for the wires and letters indicating the good wishes of active and alumnae chapters throughout the United States and Canada. Especial thanks go to the Advisory Board members and local alumnae club as well as Arizona A and Colorado B chapters. Without their constant coaching and insistence on high aims, the goal of Pi Beta Alpha could not have been reached. The chapter is also grateful to Mrs. C. E. Top for her presentation of its petition for a charter to the 1946 national Convention and to that Convention for its unanimous approval.

Toward a Lasting Peace

"I was in a concentration camp in Prague for three years. My husband was tortured and shot, and I did not know it until six months later.

"I was a member of the Dutch 'illegal'—the Underground workers. I worked under the shadow of the Gestapo for years.

"And I was a Chinese refugee fleeing to unoccupied China. The trip was too hard. My baby died on the way. I have yet to find my oldest child."

At YWCA National Headquarters, 600 Lexington Avenue, New York City, these are among the statements being made daily by women from abroad who have come to this country to appeal to the women of America for help. The visitors speak in measured tones and in voices drained of grief. But they plead with the women of America to listen to them.

What they ask in behalf of women abroad is so little. Not money, and not relief. They ask for leadership and guidance. They ask American women to share with women overseas their knowledge and skills in community service, so that women of war-affected countries may help create a better society from the ruins of the past.

Women overseas were liberated by the war from the weight of centuries of tradition. They are now charged with new positions of responsibility as citizens. But they will not be able to assume their new tasks unless they have training. Young women deported to work in factories missed even elementary schooling. Older women were cut off from the world by the bans of censorship. They beg for education and enlightenment. They want to learn American methods of child care and health training, to be introduced to the American woman's skills in government and industry. They know that with this guidance they can become self-reliant citizens in time.

To answer their plea, the YWCA, as the oldest and largest international women's organization, will launch in January and February the Round-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund Campaign for $2,100,000. Through this modest amount, the YWCA, in behalf of American women, will be able to give temporary guidance for three years to women in 30 countries abroad. It will send its experienced secretaries overseas, and train new young leaders of other countries. The fine pre-war leaders who were exhausted by imprisonment will have a rest. Bombed-out buildings will be patched up, and the YWCA will give help to women in new emergency areas, such as the rural sections of China and the Philippines.

Poverty and malnutrition, ignorance and disease breed hatred and war, not peace. Because 25,000,000 men were killed in the war, it is women who must now fight these spectres in lands overseas. It is women who must become the leaders of their communities.

Any moral support we can give to the women abroad who wish to rebuild the shattered world about them is a step toward maintaining the peace. An evidence of that moral support will be your contribution to the Round-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund Campaign.

Give today to the Round-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund Campaign through your local YWCA. Support this far-seeing step toward lasting peace.

New Paintings for Holt House

THE portraits of Major Jacob H. Holt and his wife, Sarah Hollenbeck Holt, were photographed at Holt House where they are now on display. They were painted by W. R. Hamilton in 1839. At that time the Major was approximately thirty-five years old and his wife, nineteen. The original gold leaf frames measure 36 x 42 inches. A yellowed sticker on the back indicates that the framing was done by "Hudson and Smith, 119 Fulton Street, between Nassau and Willard, New York City."

The Major's "Statement" to his heirs (a copy of which is in the possession of the Holt House committee) covers events which occurred during the hundred-year period from the time of the American Revolution to 1874. Opposing the Revolutionary War, his family migrated to Canada where they remained until November of 1803. Soon after their return to the States, Jacob Holt was born near Plattsburg, New York, the third of eight children. As a small boy he witnessed the battle of Plattsburg during the War of 1812. While still in his teens he left home to seek his fortune in the sparsely settled lands bordering on the Mississippi river. As a crew member aboard one of the first steamboats to navigate the Missouri river, he spent an entire winter stranded on the mud shoals near Sibley, Missouri, where the boat was visited by bands of curious Osage warriors.

At twenty-two he had acquired a modest fortune from trade in tobacco and cotton, his river boat plying the waters of the Mississippi between Louisville and New Orleans. When he was forced to leave New Orleans because of the yellow fever epidemic, he returned to New York state and for a number of years held various lucrative civilian positions at West Point.

In 1840 he retired to Holt Hill farm near Plattsburg, where he lived for fifteen years, serving one term as a member of the state legislature and holding several federal appointive offices. Because of political reverses he decided in 1855 to move to Monmouth, Illinois where he already owned much land. There he purchased, and soon enlarged, the present Holt House in which Pi Beta Phi was founded, twelve years later. He became one of the pioneer Monmouth merchants and served a term as mayor.

At the outbreak of war between the North and the South, his only son, Alexander, aided in raising the First Regiment of Illinois Cavalry. The boy joined the Union army and rose to the rank of colonel. Major Holt himself signed notes to obtain horses for the equipment of the first cavalry company to be raised in the county. In spite of these concrete evidences of his allegiance to the Union cause, which his state supported, he did not hesitate to write a series of indignant letters to the editor of the Monmouth newspaper, protesting the abuses which a handful of radical Abolitionists were perpetrating upon a helpless South.

Major Holt is typical of a generation of men, who, through individual courage and perseverance, succeeded in transforming a wilderness into a highly civilized nation within the span of a few decades. Growing up at a time when his family were struggling against a series of misfortunes which had reduced them to poverty, he early realized that whatever he was to possess he must gain for himself. He set out alone, braving danger and hardship, to seek his fortune; yet he became no mere adventurer. While still a young man he began to assume all the responsibilities of a solid citizen. His periods of schooling were few and frequently interrupted; yet he undertook to teach a "select school" in Georgetown, Kentucky, and later studied law in a New York City office. His business successes were due to a combination of energy and shrewdness; yet he seems always to have had a high regard for honor, and to have been just in all his dealings. Time after time, when his prospects seemed ruined by epidemics, cotton market crashes, "brass hat" favoritism and political trends, he remained undiscouraged and did not seek a life of ease until he had amply provided for his family.

Not only does the Statement furnish material for historical research, but it offers a challenge to the men and women of this generation who may be too easily dismayed by present-day obstacles to achievement.

What a Fraternity Girl Thinks . . .

". . . From this day forward you cannot act alone. . . ." These simple words in the pledging ceremony are dearer to a fraternity girl than all others she hears ever again. She knows then that at last she has found happiness—a happiness which she does not realize then will grow to be a top joy in her whole life.

Not until she has sat through her first rush discussion, seen her sisters in gaiety and sorrow, helped in some way to pull her fraternity over thin ice—be it making a scholastic average, or making a pajama party a success—does she realize that the happiness of Pi Beta Phi is not so much personal happiness as that top joy of "not acting alone."

College life suddenly becomes a dream in reality, for all she does on campus is a part of her responsibility to her chapter. She joins organizations, cooperates with her instructors, lives and acts as an example to others not for any individual glory she will receive, but for that ever-hoped for additional praise that the Pi Beta Phi's will receive.

Fraternity life, she soon discovers, is not that taken-for-granted love of her family, but the love of a group of girls who take her at her own valuation, who judge her for what she contributes to life, not for what she takes from it.

Sometimes a fraternity girl does not realize this feeling of being part of a whole until her second or third year in the group. Often it takes a little jolt of some kind—perhaps being away over the summer, or being faced with a new organizational responsibility which rests solely upon her—but when she does discover in her heart the meaning of belonging to a fraternity, she suddenly sees that she has found that complete interlacing of ideals: the striving toward high living, toward unequaled character, and toward fine womanhood—the unity of happiness which every Pi Beta Phi finds when she no longer acts alone.

Her graceful golden arrow means more to her than just "one of the best fraternities in the land"; it signifies now what a fraternity girl thinks: "Through Pi Beta Phi I have learned what happiness is."

A Province Vice-President Visits Settlement School

Louise Wheelock Dobler, Washington B, Lambda Province Vice-President, took the long way home from Convention last summer and with her attractive young son, Bill, visited Gatlinburg for the day. It was a pleasure for "Committee" and the Settlement School staff to meet Louise and as she relives the experience of her visit we know it was a happy day for her.

"It is a beautiful summer day, and we almost pinch ourselves to be sure we aren't dreaming. Just a few more turns on that winding mountain road and we'll be there! Where? Why, the Pi Phi Settlement School, of course.

"We left Knoxville on a crowded Smoky Mountain Trailways Bus in the cool of the morning, and now after nearly two hours over well-paved mountain roads, past modest farm houses and cabins, steep hillsides and fertile meadows rich with cotton, corn, "taters," and tobacco, we approach the smoky haze that tells us our goal is in sight. For as long as we've known about Pi Phi, we have known and loved "The school," and now our first glimpse finds us a bit awed and tremulous.

"The bus takes us past the familiar landmarks and we are a bit surprised, and proud, to find that the school is in the heart of Gatlinburg, more truly it is Gatlinburg, and we see the enterprises of the town have nestled around her very skirts as though to be assured strength and protection.

"After noting that the Arrowcraft shop looks just as it does in pictures (except the color of the native 'brownstone' is lovelier 'in person') we go inside and greet Ethel Snow amid displays of most of our favorites—luncheon mats, scarfs, and handbags. We miss the familiar array of baskets and toasting forks, but are delighted with the sight of fireplace brooms, as we think of all our customers who want them this year. We take a peek in the stock room and find shelves gay with brightly colored woolens; and in the packing room, labels which will take packages to all corners of our land, are finding their way to well-done-up parcels.

"Going out the back door of the Arrowcraft Shop, we find ourselves in the midst of the school playground with the Arts and Crafts building to the right, the high school straight ahead, and the grade school just west of that. But now the grounds are quiet, the grass is brown from summer sun, for this is vacation time and the children of the district are busy with home chores. We are curious to look into the Craft Building and find it fascinatingly alive with adults doing all sorts of things with wood and metal. They are the summer workshop people who have learned how much fun it is for families to play and work together. In the high school building we find still others experimenting with colors and cloths in making lovely draperies and linens. Our inspection of that building reveals an all-purpose combination gymnasium and auditorium; a small, but well-equipped domestic science room; and signs over some of the doors to let us know that the elementary school enrollment has outgrown its modest building, and the seventh and eighth grades have had to find space in the bigger one. We see signs of needed paint and repair that will come as soon as the summer school is out.

"Over in the teachers' cottage, which nestles in the shade of lovely trees, we find Miss Ruth Dyer, the genial director of the school, and all of the Settlement School Committee enjoying a before-luncheon respite on the screened-in porch. Luncheon is delicious and enjoyable, and affords an opportunity to show off the productivity of the school garden; for we feast on fresh cob corn, shell beans, sweet potatoes, and okra, just to mention a few of the good things.

"Despite the heat we resume our tour early after lunch because this is our ONE day here at the school, and we must see it all. We walk past the barn, through the pasture, and come to a plain little frame cottage that serves as the health center and the home of our beloved nurse, Marjorie Chalmers. We look past the worn and sagging floors, the small but scrupulously clean dispensary, and picture the new building that is an assured promise to rise in memory of our own Jennie Nicol. And as we ride over the countryside to help Marjorie post notices of forthcoming health clinics, we realize in part the role we have played as privileged and educated women in giving joy and blessing to 'some of the least of these.'

"As the shadows lengthened and we made our way back down the winding road, we thought of the great future possibilities and opportunities that are ours in the Smokies. Our school as it stands today is a monument to those who have had faith in its need and mission. Our school as it continues in the future will reflect the cherished esteem we hold for our Founders by the loyalty and support we give it. The need is there, the time is now, and as the Smokies slid from sight, we were truly grateful for our good fortune to know first hand the thing that brings so much joy and pride to all Pi Phis."

1946 Commencement Activities

Eighteen graduating Seniors—all members of the class of 1946 of the Pi Beta Phi High School, now look back upon the thrills and excitement of their Commencement as the greatest days in their lives. There was the Senior Class Play, the memorable trip to Atlanta, the Baccalaureate Service, Class Night, and finally the Commencement Exercises.

Graduation activities actually began with the Senior Class play on April 19th, 1946. Ten members of the class proved their dramatic ability in the three act comedy drama, "He Couldn't Marry Five." They did a commendable piece of work under the able direction of Mrs. Lighter, one of our English teachers and High School Librarian.

The new cyclorama and curtains add so much dignity and color to all the varied events of the school year and provide more incentive to strive for perfection. There are no more curious, smiling faces "peeking" through the holes in the makeshift curtains to see if admiring family and friends have arrived to see their exhibition of skill as actors.

For weeks it seemed that in spite of all the work to be done—May 14th would never roll around. Note books, final tests, and classes all helped to pass the time until that "special day" when the entire class "took off" for Atlanta, under the supervision of Mrs. Lighter, Senior Class sponsor and Miss Elizabeth Petrie, Arts and Crafts teacher. The Seniors had worked and saved for a period of weeks in order to have enough money to pay for the chartered bus and their lodgings while away. The trip south was broken to give ample time to see the beauty spots which spring had brought to the mountains. In Atlanta, the class members were especially impressed by the colorful cyclorama of the Battle of Atlanta which was on exhibit in Grant Park. The murals were arranged in a circle to give a vivid story of the dramatic incidents in the battle. The Seniors were also greatly interested in the carved image of General Robert E. Lee eternally engraved on the slope of Stone Mountain.

Back home from this exciting trip, the class members scarcely had time to get ready for the inspiring Baccalaureate Service which was held at the Baptist Church on Sunday evening, May 19th. Promptly at eight o'clock, the class marched into the crowded church to the strains of the Processional, "O Zion Haste." The sermon to the class was given by the Reverend J. C. Chapman of Sevierville.

On the following Wednesday night the annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the New Gatlinburg Inn to give the members of the Junior Class just a slight indication of the thrills ahead when they would be Seniors. This was a formal affair even down to a floor show given by some of the students.

Class Night brought the members of the class to the realization that high school days would soon be over. The girls who greatly outnumbered the boys in the class of '46, were attractive in their long, formal dresses. From the "Welcoming Address" by Sara Frances Mize, the program unfolded to reveal the "Class Prophecy," the "History," and the "Class Will." A serious and dignified group of Seniors stood at the close of the evening to sing "Farewell to Thee."

At last—the day of days arrived. At eight o'clock in the evening of May 24th, the Seniors, splendid in their caps and gowns, marched into the High School Auditorium, with the eyes of all the community upon them. The Commencement address was delivered by Mr. Victor Davis, Director of Personnel at the University of Tennessee. Jack Hoover Jenkins, with a four year average of 96.6 gave the Valedictory, and Dorothy Jeanette Maples was Salutatorian with an average of 93.25. Each Senior in turn walked across the stage to receive his diploma at the hands of School Superintendent, Mr. Theron H. Hodges. Awards were presented for outstanding accomplishments. Then, as the piano played the Recessional, "Crown Him With Many Crowns," another class of graduates marched out of the Pi Beta Phi School to meet the responsibilities of life.

Grammar School Operetta

The following account was taken from the Gatlinburg weekly newspaper. As part of the High School English assignments, Mrs. Lighter has her students write articles for the paper. The Operetta was reported by Barbara Huff and Dorothy Miller.

"On April 19th, in the high school auditorium, the grammar school of Pi Beta Phi gave an operetta called 'The Rose Dream.' Gaily costumed children from all of the grades participated in the play.

"The operetta was about a little girl, Patsy King, who fell asleep in the woods and had a dream. In the dream were Virginia Davenport, the fairy queen, Carl Wade, Hop-O-My-Thumb, and the fairies, roses and elves from all the grades. The stage was gaily decorated as a rose garden. Choruses from all the grades participated.

"The operetta was under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Armstrong, public school music teacher."

Mrs. Armstrong and the teachers spent unlimited time and effort on the production with wonderful results. The costumes were clever, the acting good, and the singing especially fine.

The rosebuds wore crepe paper dresses with green tops and pink, yellow or white petal skirts. The boys were dressed as elves with orange paper caps and the fairies' costumes were made of white tobacco netting and trimmed with silver stars. Tarlatan could not be supplied and the Home Economic girls made the substitute by starching the tobacco netting very stiffly.

The scenery and throne for the operetta were built by Mr. Huskey's woodworking classes.

Summer School and Workshop at Gatlinburg

This past summer, for the second consecutive year, Pi Beta Phi and the University of Tennessee offered a craftsmanship school at Gatlinburg. Here in the heart of the Smoky Mountains, students came to learn, create, play, and enjoy the beauties of nature.

The summer school was operated on the informal workshop plan where work either for University credit or on a non-credit basis was available in Crafts and Community Recreation.

Fifteen states were represented in the student body and as many different types of students represented their states. One person, who came from Georgia, did work with patients in a United States Veterans Administration Hospital; another one came from the faculty of the Art Department at the University of Minnesota. There were Home Demonstration Agents, Home Economics Teachers, Grammar School Teachers, a Librarian, two Nurses, a Teacher of Drawing and Industrial Arts and an Assistant Professor of Home Economics at the University of Oklahoma.

There were four scholarships offered for room and board for assistance in the dining room. Three younger Pi Phis were there taking advantage of this privilege. Their pep, enthusiasm, and talents added much to the six weeks session.

The roll call of states was interesting and each student proudly represented her state. They were: Virginia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Minnesota, Georgia, Kansas, North Carolina, Illinois, Maryland, Oklahoma, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Many worthwhile things were planned for recreation in the form of trips which included one to the John C. Campbell School of Brass-town, North Carolina, and to the Cherokee Indian School at the Cherokee Indian Reservation. Walks, hikes, nature study trips, horseback rides, games, folk dances, and motor trips occupied the students' time when they were not in the workshop.

An evening of Open House at the School gave interested visitors the opportunity to see the beautiful results of the six weeks' session. The weaving department had lovely and interesting designs on display. In the recreational crafts shop were beautiful pieces of hand blocking and hand screened prints. Down in the arts and crafts building, which housed the wood-working and metal work departments, were interesting pieces of work in the form of hand turned bowls and trays of cherry, walnut, sassafras, and mahogany. Several students had made looms which looked very intricate. In the jewelry shop were bracelets, rings, earrings, and pins of exquisitely delicate design and workmanship. Some pieces were beautiful in simplicity, while others were unusual for the difficult work involved in the setting of stones. In metal, were many trays, plates, bowls, and dishes of copper and aluminum. The work represented originality in design and skill in workmanship.

The school was under the able co-direction of Miss Elsa Ulbricht, B.S., member of the School of Art at the Milwaukee State Teachers College, and Miss Marian Heard, B.S., M.A., Associate Professor of Related Art at the University of Tennessee. Miss Ulbricht was instructor in weaving and design and Miss Heard was instructor in jewelry and recreational Crafts. Other members of the staff were Miss Harriet Gill, B.Ed. who was an instructor of Art at Berea College, and in charge of woodcraft. Community Recreation was under the able direction of Josephine Arnquist Bakke, B.S., Secretary of the Y.W.C.A. at Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa.

The students felt they had experienced a very interesting and profitable time in the workshop as well as having a most enjoyable vacation in the heart of the Great Smoky Mountains.

The Pi Beta Phi Settlement School Films are now in charge of the Publicity Member on the Committee. Write to Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, 180 S. Winter Street, Salem, Oregon, for information regarding the films. There are three films in color, each requiring about twenty minutes showing time. They tell a fascinating story of our work in Gatlinburg and provide splendid program material for a Settlement School Night in your Club or Chapter.

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by MARY ELIZABETH BARNETTE, Ohio A

DR. ICIE G. MACY and DR. HAROLD H. WILLIAMS, Hidden Hunger, The Jacques Cattell Press, 320 pp.

A Science Book Club selection for July, "Hidden Hunger," a book with the definitive sub-title, "Tragedy of the Unbalanced Diet," concerns a subject which should be meaningful to every American. It is written by two nutrition experts, not for other diet specialists, but for the general public regardless of age or income strata.

Startling in that it reveals that America, though well fed, is poorly nourished, the book is constructive because besides deploring inadequate diets it indicates the ways in which the deficiencies can be corrected. For example, it points out:

"Freedom from 'obvious hunger' is accomplished through soil conservation, improved fertilizers and seeds, development of methods for control of blight and pests, more efficient machinery, and improvements in animal husbandry. . . . Good nutrition has its inception in the soil, which determines the composition of the plants and animals that man eats."

"Hidden Hunger" is written in terms sufficiently common to be clearly understandable to the average woman, who is eager to maintain her family's health through supplying proper food, but at the same time it is comprehensive and detailed enough to be a sound text for the embryonic dietician.

There is thorough discussion of the common faults of improper diets ranging from baby feeding to C-rations; there is a complete history of the evolution of feeding habits, tracing the early beginnings of man from the hunger stage to today's mechanized era, and there is the record of how man struggled to escape starvation, a struggle which still continues since man has only recently begun to learn to eat correct foods.

A touch of the crusade is also evident, for the authors take the opportunity to attack food quackery, the war-time menu, and the illusions of well-feeding. In one portion of the book they declare:

"In World War I, the emphasis was on the total supply of food, and the need for energy and protein. Particular stress was placed on these foods for combat troops—with less concern for civilians. Actually, the foods 'left' for civilians provided more nutritious diets than were used in the army. Today, however, the stress is on quality rather than quantity. Equal consideration is given to civilians and soldiers and the emphasis was shifted from calories alone to foods which provide calories and at the same time ample amounts of minerals, amino acids, and vitamins."

In one sentence, the answer to the question, "What causes poor nutrition?", is the reason why "Hidden Hunger" is a book for the many, not just for the few. The authors' reply to that question is:

"Inability to purchase sufficient food, disease, ignorance, and indifference in selecting, preparing, and serving food, and unwillingness to accept and put good nutritional principles into practice."

AUTHOR INTEREST: Dr. Icie G. Macy, Virginia A, has devoted the past quarter of a century to investigating foods and their relation to health and human happiness and, therefore, is eminently fitted to share in the writing of this particular book. Among other things she has served as secretary and president of the American Institute of Nutrition, is a member of the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council, and for the past fourteen years has directed the Research Laboratory of the Children's Fund of Michigan. She is also author of "Nutrition and Chemical Growth in Childhood," a three-volume report of nutrition research with children, and was awarded the Norlin Achievement Medal in 1938 and the Borden Award in 1939. She was also a holder of the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for Graduate Study.

FLORENCE MARIE TAYLOR, articles, stories, and poetry in various magazines and newspapers.

Versatile is the first word that comes to mind with respect to Miss Taylor's writing for her typewriter has been educated to produce with equal facility concrete, factual articles for the trade press, lovely, pictorial poetry, and robust, entertaining short stories.

Readers of the New York Times poetry column as well as those of the Portland Ore- gonian and other newspapers have had the opportunity of reading and enjoying the author's poems of which the following, entitled, "Late Gold," is an example:

Late September turns the earth to gold;
 Corn shocks are now stacked across a field
 Like shining wigwams. A husk itself a house
 For ripened store of richly golden grain.
 The sycamore's leaf trembles in the wind
 Tingeing the woodland with deep amber luster,
 And down a lane, hoof-deep in yellow dust,
 Cattle find a stream. On apple boughs
 Some tawny fruit still clings. Bright goldenrod
 Gilds a ridge. The very air, sun filled,
 Is molten gold. Now may the starved soul
 Cast aside all tarnished things to real
 September's glow and hold it in its keep.

In the feature article field Miss Taylor's subject matter runs a wide gamut as these titles of material published in the past two years indicate: "The Voice Gets the Job" in Catholic Girl; "Spotlight on Music," "Heroes of the Soil," and "Music in the Navy" in the Christian Evangelist; "The Cathedral of Music" in The Magnificat; "The Small Farmer" in Indiana Farmers Guide; "Window on the World" in She; and "The Shootin' Bug" to appear in the December issue of Science and Mechanics.

Her fiction has appeared in publications of more general subject matter and includes "But This Was Bread," distributed by McClure Newspaper Syndicate, and "Bill Lives His Own Life" in the American Family Magazine.

Readers of various business publications are also familiar with Miss Taylor's name because she supplies them with articles on subjects pertaining to their own fields of endeavor. For example, the April, May, and August, 1946, issues of Gift and Art Buyer all carried her stories. Also, the June issue of Geyer's Topics, the Stationery and Office Equipment Dealer's Magazine, offered a Taylor feature story, headlined, "Pen Shop, Indianapolis Landmark." In Indianapolis, her home, the writer also reports conventions for various trade publications.

AUTHOR INTEREST: This Indiana bred and educated Pi Phi, who was initiated into Indiana  $\Gamma$ , is the local Indianapolis correspondent for the Universal Trade Press Syndicate of New York, which is the medium through which her trade articles are handled. Her other journalistic interests are reflected in her position as Poet Laureate of the Indiana Federation of Poetry Clubs and as a member of the National League of American Pen Women.

RANDOM NOTES: Iowa  $\Gamma$  boasts of at least three young women whose training and initiative have taken them into the field of writing and allied activities. Already possessed of a national reputation, Jane Tiffany Wagner, '27, is director of home economics, NBC, New York, and one of her responsibilities is to approve the scripts for all NBC broadcasts directed toward homemakers. To supplement the material in the programs she prepares special booklets and frequently, as well, writes articles for various publications such as the one entitled "Broadcast Designing Enriches Homemaking Programs" which first appeared in American Cookery and was reprinted in the January, 1946, issue of The Iowa Homemaker.

The same issue of the latter magazine contained an article, "Diploma Dilemma," by Betsy Nichols, Iowa  $\Gamma$ , who reported on the severe mortality rate of students starting out in the home economics field. Radio and home economics have also been combined by Winnifred Cannon, '41, Iowa  $\Gamma$ , who is now home economics director, "Betty Parker" program, KMBC, Kansas City.

Virginia Lennox, Syracuse A, who writes under the name "Gloria Gordon," has had another song, "Dream Little Cherokee," published, this one by Country Music—B.M.I., of Chicago. In addition, two of her song lyrics, "Pig Latin Serenade" and "Brushing the Dreams From My Heart," appeared in a recent issue of Song Writers' Review Magazine. Incidentally, her two youngsters, Bobby, 14, and Marilyn, 16, are indicating that they have inherited their mother's talent. Bobby won first prize in the Chittenango (N.Y.) High School poetry contest, and displays another interest when the ARROW arrives by voicing many "Hubba Hubbas" on examining the beauty queen sections. Marilyn has excited her mother's pride by having one of her poems published in the local newspaper.

Though she maintains that writing is merely a hobby with her and says, "For 1945 I have much more unpublished than published work in my files," Veneta Berry Arrington, Oklahoma B, nevertheless has had her work in print several times the last year. Among her articles are: "Better Man," a story in Classmate, Methodist Church magazine; "Story of an Oklahoma Lawyer in a Japanese Prison Camp," non-fiction, The Journal, law magazine; "Keep Your Baby's Head Pretty," article, American Baby; "We Faced Death," non-fiction, soon to be published in The Improvement Era, Mormon Church magazine, and others. Also, she is past president of the Stillwater (Okla.) Writer's Club, the wife of Sigma Nu James High Arrington, oil man and State Representative, and mother of Harriet, 12, and Aneta Nell, 7.

Sarah Burns Norcross, Pennsylvania  $\Gamma$ , new Dean of Women at Dickinson College, filled the vacancy left by the retirement of Mrs. Meredith, so long a fine friend of Pi Beta Phi everywhere.

Olive Hawkins Wetmore, Missouri  $\Delta$ , who became Acting Associate Dean of Radcliffe College. Her husband is head of the Harvard Department of Botany.

Charlotte E. Ray, Pennsylvania  $\Delta$ , after serving nearly 24 years as Dean of Women at the Pennsylvania State College, retired on June 30.

And although she has been influential in building the enrollment of women students from slightly more than 300 in 1923 to nearly 2300 in 1945, she feels she hasn't done enough for Penn State.

Charlotte E. Ray

Dean Ray, a teacher in the Pittsburgh high schools first came to Penn State during the summer of 1922 as assistant dean of women. The experience, she thought, was a part of her training for a position as a high school dean of girls.

In September, 1923, she became Assistant Dean. One month after her appointment, the Penn State Collegian, student newspaper, said that "she has clearly shown that it is her purpose to work for the best development of the interests of the women at Penn State."

Thirteen years ago, upon her completion of ten years, the Class of 1933 dedicated its La Vie to Dean of Women Charlotte E. Ray who "by her self-sacrificing spirit of understanding and helpfulness, has contributed to the preparation of two generations of Penn State women for their proper places in a new era."

After 23 years of service to the Pennsylvania State College, Dean Ray received letters of appreciation and congratulations from organizations, friends, alumnae, and students. Their feelings were expressed by Mortar Board when they presented Dean Ray the $5000 which they had collected to establish the scholarship fund. They presented it "in recognition of her 23 years of service to the College, and also as a token of the esteem in which she is held by past and present women students."

Brother and Sister Parallel Careers

Dr. Patricia Dunklee, M.D., Colorado B, and her brother, Dr. George Dunklee, M.D., both received B.A. degrees from the University of Colorado; both were graduated from the school of Medicine of the University of Colorado in June 1945; both were internes at the same time at the San Diego County General Hospital. Dr. Pat is now a medical resident at the San Diego County Hospital, and Dr. George is a resident in the United States Army Medical Corps. They were the first brother and sister to graduate together from the University of Colorado Medical School, and the first brother and sister ever to intern together at San Diego County.

Dr. Pat is a member of Mortar Board; Dr. George is a member of Beta Theta Pi, and of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Who can match their record?

Professor Bucholz, father of Ruth Bucholz Turnbull, former Eta PP, for his recent election as a member of the editorial board of the Botanical Society of America's publication, American Journal of Botany. He was elected to this post at the recent annual meeting of the society conducted during the sessions of the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Winslow Hutchinson Nesbitt, Kansas A, who was Pi Beta Phi's honor guest May 4 at the Panhellenic luncheon, annual outgrowth of a Pi Phi luncheon held 14 years ago on the 200th anniversary of George Washington's birthday, when members of all Panhellenic groups were invited as guests. Mrs. Nesbitt was the "godmother" of this Panhellenic luncheon idea, and was besides this year being especially honored in celebration of the 50th anniversary of her own initiation into Pi Beta Phi.

Patricia Edwards, Iowa Wesleyan University: While a Sophomore at Michigan State College, Patricia Edwards, Iowa A, was selected to respond to the welcome for delegates at the National Convention of the Children of the American Revolution in Washington, D.C.

Patricia, while at Iowa Wesleyan, served on the college paper, represented the University Undergraduates at an International Relations Conference in which twenty-eight colleges participated. She has a variety of interests and many leadership activities to her credit; she organized the first Junior Wildflower Club in Michigan, and was a member of the Grand Rapids Victory Garden Judging Committee. She also served as a volunteer Dietitian's Aide for the Red Cross. For three years Patricia was a 4 H Club leader and assisted in developing conservation programs.

Patricia is now Junior President of the Michigan branch of the Children of the American Revolution.

Roger Adams husband of Lucille Adams, 1936 Convention Initiate; The Priestly medal, highest honor in American chemistry, and named for the discoverer of oxygen, was presented to Roger Adams, head of the University of Illinois department of chemistry, in a ceremony in Chicago recently. Mr. Adams, Chairman of the Society's Board of Directors, was cited for his "distinguished services to chemistry."

Roger Adams served in Berlin as special advisor to Lt. General Lucius D. Clay, deputy commander of the American occupation zone in Germany. In recognition of his extensive research in the field of organic chemistry he received the Davy medal of the Royal Society of London while serving with General Clay.

After his return to this country, Mr. Adams was awarded the Theodore William Richards medal of the American Chemical Society's northeastern division for "conspicuous achievement in organic chemistry." He was selected to give the initial Remsen Memorial lecture at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, inaugurating an annual series founded by the Maryland section of this society in honor of the late Ira Remsen, Pioneer in American organic chemistry research.

Roger Adams husband of Lucille Adams, 1936 the American Chemical Society for his work in synthetic organic chemistry and his accomplishments as a teacher, and, the William H. Nichols medal of the New York section for distinguished contributions to original research.

is, in all likelihood, the first home economist anywhere to have been so honored.

The memorable event took place in 1904, and since then her honors have steadily multiplied, and she has amply merited them all. Her life has been rich and vivid, she has spread good cheer and happiness along with learning.

Purdue University's School of Home Economics was inaugurated in 1926, and at the celebration of its tenth anniversary when Miss Matthews became Dean, a graduate Fellowship was established to be known as the "Mary L. Matthews Fellowship," the interest from the fund contributed by the alumnae and faculty to be used in helping worthy graduate students. The campus boasts of a Library known as the Mary Lockwood Matthews Library and a book plate has been designed for her.

Dean Matthews is the author of several books on home economics, in addition to her first widely read "Elementary Home Economics," "The House and Its Care," "Clothing, Selection and Care," and "Book of Rural Life, 1925" she wrote the section of House Furnishing.

Dean Matthews was Convention Initiate in 1921 when Indiana Δ was installed at Purdue, and since then has been a Guardian Angel of the Chapter, to help make and keep Indiana Δ at the top on the Purdue campus.

Joan Shivers

Joan Shivers, Arizona A: After graduating from the University of Arizona in 1943, Joan Shivers joined the American Red Cross in June, 1943.

In June, 1945, she was sent to Washington, D.C., for the special training course given to prospective hospital workers. Upon completion of this course, Joan was assigned to Fort Ord, California, as a Red Cross hospital worker.

After two months at Fort Ord, she was sent to Dibble General Hospital, Menlo Park, California, in October, 1945. She is there at present, working in a blind ward.

Next fall, Joan plans to attend the University of California to take graduate work in psychiatric social service.

Madeline Bergmann

Madeline Bergmann, Missouri A: Madeline Bergmann, now executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter at Cape Girardeau, Missouri, spent fourteen months in Tunisia conducting Red Cross recreational work for ill and wounded soldiers in Army tent hospitals. "Although they were officially known as Army General Hospitals, our hospitals were no more than a cluster of tents pitched on a hillside with a few temporary buildings interspersed". "We tried to brighten them up as much as possible with furniture and draperies we bought from Arabs and from the French".

Recently in Topeka, Kansas, Madeline Bergmann was the featured speaker at that city's kickoff dinner of the Shawnee County chapter of the Red Cross in its Annual Drive.

Fay Shover, Indiana T, is now head of the Cerebral Palsy Department of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, a splendid work which is now making an appeal for funds to carry on its very appealing work for a type of cripple for whom little has been done in the past. This is one of the organizations which receives a portion of the proceeds of the sale of Easter Seals each year, but badly needs increased subscriptions to carry on its expanding work.

Four of Dallas' twelve debutantes to be presented at the Idlewild Ball this year are Pi Phis: Miss Lucretia Hamon, Ohio A; Miss Ann O'Donnell, Texas B; Miss Sara Penland, Texas A; and Miss Peggy Turner, Virginia A.

Margaret Rowland Allen (Mrs. Jack V.)—Wisconsin A and recently of Santa Ana, California, and her small son Robbie, have joined Lt. Allen near Munich, Germany, to reside there for a possible two year station. Pilot in the Air Corps, Lt. Allen is Air Supply Officer at Erding, Germany, with the United States Occupation Forces.

Sponsored by the Dons Club of Phoenix

After a profitable and enjoyable week spent in New York City and Washington, D.C., one of the most unusual missions in the history of the South West came to a conclusion with the arrival in Phoenix, Arizona, via American Airlines of Don and Dona E. Osborn Foster (Juanita Rhodes, Oklahoma B) and Don and Dona Fred M. Guirey.

Costumed in the colorful costumes of the Conquistadores complete with flowing velvet capes and lace mantillas, the four Phoenicians created a sensation in all the cities they visited enroute and were feted by mayors and civic delegations.

The highlight of the Phoenicians' eastern tour was the trip to Washington. After being met at the airport by Arizona Senators Hayden and MacFarland and Representatives Murdock and Harless, who escorted them to the White House, they presented an honorary membership certificate framed in saquaro wood and the Don's sombrero to President Truman. Capitol photographers for a dozen papers and several national magazines featuring newspaper pictures took shots of the ceremony. At the meeting in the President's office Mr. Truman showed a genuine interest in the story of the Lost Dutchman's mine and wished the delegation luck in its efforts to find new records of the mine's location in the archives of the Congressional Library, where numerous old maps and accounts of the Spanish Southwest are stored.

Not only were they successful in their search for documents in the archives of the New York City and Washington libraries that may aid in locating the Lost Dutchman gold mine in the Superstition Mountains, they also spread good will and focused national and international attention on the Southwest.

New editor of the Evening Star, famous old Washington, D.C. newspaper, is Benjamin M. McKelway, husband of Margaret Prentiss McKelway, District of Columbia A.

This Letter Comes from a Pi Phi Abroad

Brussels, Belgium
November 1, 1946

DEAR FRIENDS:

It is almost a year since I was initiated into Pi Beta Phi, back at Missouri U. A great deal of exciting things have come my way since the day my pledge mother nervously pinned the golden arrow upon (and almost right through) my chest.

You know, if I made the grade and became a Pi Phi, it was through the skin of my teeth. Above all in this world, I wanted to become a member of the "angels in disguise" team. Yet, I had little time ahead: my country—Belgium—was calling me; I had to return soon. At the University, I worked, and worked, and worked. Sometimes, discouragement took the best of me, and I felt like giving up. But victory came. "I dood it." Four hours after initiation, I was sitting in the train, New York bound.

In this great Eastern city, I met my family who had come over from the land where it never rains . . . well, almost never. You gather that I'm speaking of California.

To my kid sister, the golden arrow was an even greater honor than the presidential citation. She introduced me to her friends as "my sister who's a Pi Phi."

Unable to obtain passage on a liner before March, we remained the winter in New York. I worked there as an interpreter for the Belgian Economic Mission. In March, we finally sailed, our "au revoir" to New York happened to emanate from Pier 43, Brooklyn. I'll never forget it, as long as I live. Seven A.M.; a clear day. Stumped in the far away, a great lady seemed to watch us go. She was watching us the way she had watched thousands of others who had come and gone. She held a torch in her hand; the Torch of Liberty. She meant just that: LIBERTY, and FREEDOM. She spelled the word AMERICA into my heart.

We were only twelve passengers on this Norwegian ship. A real melting pot it was with representatives from Switzerland, France, Norway, Belgium, and America. My friends in Missouri will, no doubt, recognize their "representative": plump, fun-loving, crazy-over-chilli sauce, Elmer Lower. He sat next to me at the table, and what could we talk about but the Ole Alma Mater? (For those who might be interested, Elmer is now staff correspondent for Life Magazine in Paris. I went to see him once in his office at the Place de la Concorde. Yes, he likes Paris, but can't find chilli sauce, not even at the PX.)

After a voyage on a sea of oil which took us fourteen days, we docked at LeHavre, in France. A pitiful sight, this ghost town offered. Europe, in all its raggedness, its war-stricken appearance.

Then it was Paris, the once "Gay Paree," only it was gay no longer. The stores were empty. Everything looked forlorn and shattered. People seemed sad and disabused. I saw more G.I.'s in "Pig Alley" and at the Avenue des Champs Elysés than I saw in the whole of New York. Somehow, I wanted to talk to them. Yet, I could not gather enough courage; this sudden contact with Europe had taken the best out of me. I was tired, so tired and wanted to cry. So, this was home. . . .

But Belgium was different, as we were to learn upon coming to the end of our journey.

March 21st. Spring. Belgium.

Six years had passed. Six years during which we drifted from France to Spain and Portugal, then to the Azores islands, to New York and to California; later to Missouri and back to New York again.

Home? We had no more home. That was gone, too. So we went to the hotel and stayed there until mother could find an apartment.

And I had to find a job. I landed at the United Press, one day, in quest of a newspaper's address in the States. I got the address . . . and a job as well—as a correspondent. It isn't glorious every day, and I do get awfully nervous when I must cover a cyclist race (of which I know nothing about) or the arrival of certain personalities.

And then there was the time when Billy Conn, Joe Louis disputed the world championship in New York. I spent the whole night trying to decipher, translating and editing the reports which came from New York on the teletype. When I got home, at 7:30 the next morning, mother had gone to the police station to inquire about me. In the fever of the night, I had totally forgotten to let her know that I'd be home late . . . or early, take it the way you want.

Anyway, here I am: back at home; back at work, and back at the Pi Phi house, 511 Rollins, with my thoughts.

As a postscript, I might boast that never once have I been without wearing my pin. It is beastly cold these days, and mother is angry because I won't wear my fur coat. Why, I can't put my recognition pin on it. Sounds rather fanatical, but if that's the proper term, then I am it—about Pi Beta Phi.

Very sincerely yours,

COLETTE HURBAIN DE JONG

The Postwar World

Women abroad saw their homes ruined and their cities devastated and impoverished by war. They want to help rebuild the postwar world on a sounder basis. To do this, they need training in child care and health organization, vocational skills, education for democracy and community service. They ask the women of America to provide this training for them, in the common interests of a better world society.

Give to the Round-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund Campaign for $2,100,000 through your local YWCA. Help women of 30 countries overseas receive the citizenship training they need.

To Maintain the Peace

A lasting peace depends on the efforts of the people of the world. American women are trained to work for the social improvements which will best insure the peace. Abroad, women who are eager but unprepared to do their share, have appealed to the women of America for temporary leadership and guidance. The YWCA has answered their plea.

Give to the Round-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund Campaign for $2,100,000 through your local YWCA. Help women abroad become competent to work for a lasting peace.

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1934

Pledge Day, October 21, 1946

During the first week in October, the Pi Beta Phi returned to Dalhousie Campus. After five months of holiday, everyone was bubbling over with fresh enthusiasm and ideas. Kaye MacLean reported a wonderful time at Convention.

In the spring elections, Terry MacLean was elected Senior Representative on the Students' Council, Kaye MacLean was elected president of the Δ Γ Social Society, and Irene Robinson was elected president of the Dalhousie Girls' Athletic Association.

Possessing no chapter house, most Nova Scotia A's live in the girls' residence, Sherriff Hall, which is governed by a body of resident students. Christie Irvine was elected president of House Committee, and Kaye MacLean and Leta Cochrane also serve on it.

In the examinations held last April the Pi Beta Phi acquitted themselves creditably. Nancy Wilson won a scholarship in English and Rosemary Blount in chemistry.

The social life at Dalhousie for the college year concluded on the second Tuesday in March. This day became an annual holiday years ago, and was called "Munroe Day" in honor of one of the benefactors of the college. Great celebrations are always held. Of twelve princesses chosen for the beauty contest, seven were Pi Beta Phi. On the great day, a committee of twelve professors picked Terry MacLean, an auburn-haired Pi Beta Phi, for queen.

The fall registration was a record one and extra laboratories, lecture rooms, and professors were secured during the summer months. There are a record number of frosh, and scores of ex-servicemen discharged too late to enter for college last year. During the first week the frosh were traditionally inducted into campus life.

Housing this year was again a problem. All residence rooms were applied for long before college opened. Accommodation for the remainder was found in private homes. Barracks were even turned into apartments for ex-servicemen and their wives.

Early in October the Governor-General of Canada, Viscount Alexander, toured the Maritime Provinces. One bright Tuesday morning, he walked through the campus of Dalhousie University. Crowds of cheering students lined the walks to welcome him. During the summer another distinguished personage visited Dalhousie, Field Marshal Montgomery, who received an honorary degree presented by President A. E. Kerr.

The fall rushing party, a Hallowe'en Party, was scheduled for October 17. Plans were completed and the two preceding weeks saw busy hands putting them into operation.

This year the chapter has been working on a project: a scholarship to be given to a girl, entering the college from any high school in Nova Scotia, who best fulfills the requirements necessary to become a Pi Beta Phi. The Fraternity is under no obligation to rush her later. By this method it is hoped to make the Fraternity better known throughout the Province as well as to help defray the expenses of some prospective co-ed.

Merry Christmas to you all and good luck in the New Year from Nova Scotia A.

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, May 8, 1946

With 720 freshmen listed as registered by October 2, the largest freshman class in the history of the University of Maine began its "Freshman Week" in Orono. On October 15, 800 freshmen are expected to register at the Brunswick Extension Campus of the University.

The enrollment of upperclasses was also increased this year by the return of many veterans who had previously attended the University. Buildings have been erected to accommodate these veterans and their families, and others are still being constructed to provide quarters for the large number of new students who will attend college.

An increase in faculty has been necessary, and nearly every department has added a number of instructors. Dr. Milton Ellis, head of the English department, was unable to return this year because of illness. He has been replaced by Dr. A. M. Turner.

The college fraternities have been reopened this year after being inactive since 1943. Rushing and pledging of upperclassmen was held from October 5 to October 7.

Fall rushing for freshmen began the latter part of October. This year there are one hundred and eighty freshmen women.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

INITIATED, May 17, 1946: Rachel Louise Adkins, Schenectady, N.Y.; Margaret Drysdale, Pelham, N.Y.; Jean Dodds Holmberg, Naugatuck, Conn.; Margaret Ann Holt, Jackson Heights, N.Y.; Mary Elizabeth Hosford, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Joan Kenyon, Chappaqua, N.Y.; Mary Patricia McFarland, West Chester, Pa.; Virginia Cragwick Main, Providence, R.I.; Patricia Jane Schryver, Westport, Conn.; Jean Eleanor Scroggie, Richmond, Va.; Rachel Stryker, Greenwich, Conn.

Middlebury held its annual Culture Conference during the weekend of March 30, the theme being, "The Balance Sheet of Victory." The conference was headed by Jane Laux, and was successful in stimulating a great deal of thought and discussion among the students and faculty.

The initiation of Vermont A's eleven pledges took place on May 17, and was followed by the annual banquet at the Inn. Eileen Luz presided as toastmistress. Rushing during the second semester was an experiment which proved beneficial both to the rushees and fraternity women. Therefore, Pan-hellenic plans to continue with this method.

Many Vermont A's, clad in jeans, bounced out to Lake Dunmore in the Mountain Club truck on the weekend of May 12, for two days of fun and relaxation. The continuous rain did little to dampen spirits, and a courageous few went swimming, while others canoed, played bridge, read or hiked.

The freshmen and sophomores named for Dean's List at the end of the spring term were: Sally Finley, Helen Hicks, Ann Holt, Mary Hosford, Pat McFarland, and Jean Scroggie. Helen Hicks won the Sophomore award in Alpha East Province.

Eddie Gordon was tapped for Mortar Board last spring. She was also elected president of the Women's Forum, and manager of the tennis team in the Women's Athletic Association. Sue Cooke was elected vice-president of Student Government, and managing editor of Middlebury's year book, The Kaleidoscope. Virginia Main is on the staff of Campus, and Betsy Hornaday was chosen to act as a senior counselor to the entering freshmen this fall.

Middlebury's first post-war graduation was held over the weekend of June 15, with a revival of all the traditions that Middlebury had had to dispense with during the war years. The weather was perfect throughout the entire three days, which helped toward making the occasion a truly memorable one. The Pi Beta Phi graduates were: Jane Laux, Jean Luckhardt, Libby Carr, Barbara Rupp Lister, Betty Price, and Betsy Branch. Libby Carr was in charge of the senior singing. The degree of Cum Laude was conferred upon Jane Laux and Barbara Rupp Lister. Jane Laux was elected to Φ B K, and also earned high honors in both economics and political science. Nancy Finley was chosen by the senior class as junior marshal. This is traditionally one of the highest honors that a junior can receive.

Middlebury students returned to the campus this fall to find the enrollment far larger than at any other time in the history of the college. The women's freshman class has been reduced to eighty-nine, in order that more veterans may be taken in, and the total number of students has reached 1160. There are also seventeen new faculty members added. Football and fraternities are once again with us as Middlebury progresses rapidly in its adjustment to a peace time schedule.

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

Chartered, 1898

INITIATED, May 14, 1946: June Abell, Burlington; Beatrice Bickford, Grafton, Mass.; Gladys Clark, Schenectady, N.Y.; Jean Davis, Northfield; Marilyn Derrick, West Hartford, Conn.; Elizabeth Hazelton, Rutherford, N.J.; Ann Illingworth, Bellows Falls; Ruth Lewis, Hudson, N.Y.; Jane Atwood, Delmar, N.Y.; Lillian Tucker, Alexandria, Va.; Joyce Viventi, East Orange, N.J.; Margarita Le Seur, South Portland, Maine; Patricia Malmquist, Post Mills; Mary McBratney, Verona, N.J.; Sylvia Reynolds, Longmeadow, Mass.; Margaret Thurston, Buffalo, N.Y.

The year 1946 has brought many changes to the University of Vermont. On October 3, 2100 students registered. The whole college displays an enthusiastic attitude in work and play. The President and the administrative staff have done a wonderful job in providing housing facilities and arranging classes.

Among the new additions to the faculty is Robert Huber, who has been assistant professor of speech at the University of Oregon, and who now has been appointed as head of the new Speech Department here at U.V.M. Burlington's new radio station, WJOY, which is situated on the college hill has allotted some six hours per week of radio time to the University students. With this opening, the opportunities in the radio field look bright. The Political Science Department has also had a new addition to its staff. Dr. Chao, an exchange professor from China, who is now teaching Far Eastern Affairs.

College life is more normal now that the social activities have created more interest on campus. Both men and women's fraternities are planning tea dances and informal parties. With the return of the football season, campus sings around a large bon-fire are right in style.

Everything seems to be done to please the veterans these days but in Vermont the women students have not been neglected. Southwick, the women's gym and social center, has been refurbished giving W.A.A., Mortar Board, and Student Union their individual rooms. Lyman Hall has been added to the list of women's dormitories for housing all the ex-service women.

Vermont B has just received its engraved trophy for honors won at last spring's Junior Peerade.

Rushing parties will not be held until second quarter again this year, but the pledges from last year will be initiated this quarter.

PLEGDED: Barbara Picard, Peggy Lawlor, Barbara Fitts, Constance Steele, Joyce Wright, Mary Lib Randall, Carol Ballou, Joan Vollmers.

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

INITIATED, May 17, 1946: Theophane Burke, Newton; Elaine Cicma, Providence, R.I.

It was announced last spring that the new Boston University College of Liberal Arts building would be ready for classes by next September. This building is now being built beside the College of Business Administration on the Charles River Esplanade where the whole university will someday be located.

The chapter scholarship awards for the highest grades last year among the active members and the pledges were given to Marilyn Meserve and Martina Verenis. The awards were a scholarship ring and a recognition pin, respectively.

Last May the chapter had a house party at Martha's Vineyard. It was a long week-end, from Friday to Wednesday, and even then some of the girls stayed longer. At that time the railroad strike was on, and one group had not connections home, so they spent the night on a coach with the approval of the town of Woods Hole.

On October 12 Massachusetts A had a candlelight supper at the sorority house. The restrictions on decorations left little choice, but flowers and fall leaves were arranged effectively.

Rushing started on Monday, October 7 this year, and lasted for only three weeks, a change from last year's month and a half. This year's quota system allowed nine freshmen pledges and as many upperclassmen as necessary to give the chapter nine members in each class. The rush party, held at the Blue Ship Tea Room at T Wharf, had a very nautical atmosphere.

MASSACHUSETTS BETA—MASSACHUSETTS STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1944

Massachusetts State College opened for its fall semester the first of October with an enrollment well over 2,000, the largest it has had in several years. The two new boys' dormitories, however, which had been planned purposely to house the excess were not completed until December. This acute housing shortage led to doubling up in both boys' and girls' dormitories. Married veterans and their families are being housed in a G.I. settlement called "Federal Circle," while single veterans occupy a similar housing project called "Commonwealth Circle." Even some of the professors rented rooms to ease the demand.

The following members have been added to the faculty to take care of the increase in size and number of classes: Dr. Wallace H. Hodge, Dr. Walter M. Banfield, and Dr. Richard D. Northcraft, botany; Dr. Elmer C. Osgood, mathematics; Robert S. Burpo, physics; Ian T. M. MacIver, landscape architecture; Maurice A. Belisle, economics; Robert C. Perriello, bacteriology; and Lawrence F. Pisan, sociology.

Like all other colleges, Massachusetts State College was right back in the sports columns of every New England newspaper. The first home game held on October 4, was a glorious victory and a game well worth waiting three years to see.

The chapter got right down to business last fall. With the new house to work on the week before college opened, the girls had to pitch in and really double time. Walls had to be painted, furniture moved, windows washed and shrubbery trimmed. With fall rushing only two weeks away, the girls knew they couldn't let one minute go by without accomplishing something. The patronesses did a great deal to speed up the work and to add final touches.

Many of the men's fraternity houses were open before college because they had to reorganize their entire system. After all a summer vacation was nothing compared to three years absence. But the fraternities are now back on their feet. Last fall they pledged veterans only, leaving all freshmen civilians until next spring.

This year each women's fraternity has a quota of twelve girls whom they can pledge as compared with the former quota of twenty. Due to large numbers of returning veterans, there are only approximately 120 freshman girls enrolled.

CONNECTICUT ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT

Chartered, April 10, 1943

INITIATED, April 27, 1946: Maura Donahue, Ansonia; Ruth Linkletter, New London; Ellen-Marie Herr, Hamden; Jean Lawson, East Hartford; Carolyn Longley, Granby; Jane Spencer, Chester; Jean Tice, Derby.

Enlargements at the south end of the Connecticut campus now give our house a central location halfway between "Siberia" and the old main campus. "Siberia" is the new housing unit which was recently built for 700 men students. A new dining hall and grill has also begun to operate on the south campus.

Besides this Storrs addition, the University of Connecticut is continuing its extension services. A temporary undergraduate school has been established at Fort Trumbull, New London, and the University is planning further developments on a permanent graduate school in Hartford. Including all branches of the University, there is an estimated enrollment of 7000 students this semester.

The chapter's first party of the year was an open house for the "Siberians." Between songs and dancing, the guests chose a "Mr. Siberia" from a group of men dressed in the latest Parisian styled crepe paper costumes. Other parties, suppers and teas were given for fraternities, II B & Dads and alumnae.

Freshmen students were entertained at the University Church Cabin. Ann Templeton is chairman of overnight trips. Other freshmen activities and counseling was organized by the eight Laurels. The Pi Beta Phi Laurels are Cornelia Robinson, Joan Gentry, Millicen Carlson, and Mary Ann Libots. Joan Gentry composed a song for the class of 1950 which was sung by the 350 freshmen at their Pied Piper Festival.

Many alumnae have returned with their veteran-husbands and are living in or near Storrs. Since this is the first year that Connecticut A is without any of its charter members, their presence at chapter meetings and functions is greatly appreciated.

There will be second semester rushing again this year. PLEDGED: Suzanne Muse, Darien; Jacqueline Dudack, New Britain.

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

INITIATED, November 7, 1946: Elizabeth Hubbell, Jean Whalen, Patricia Knowlson, Helen Flagg, Geraldine Harter, Nancy Summers.

After a wonderful vacation of five months, the New York A's returned to Syracuse to begin classes September 30.

Last April Dorothy Gero and Barbara Brett were pledged to B I Σ, business administration honorary, Ψ X, psychology honorary, pledged Joan Carey.

Two New York A's are members of Women's Student Government this year. Betty Reif is on the Regulations Board, and Ruth Hittinger on the Elections Commission. Mary Elizabeth Philipp is a senior guide. Junior guides are Ruth Hittinger and Patricia Fillius.

Women's Athletic Association claims Joan Carey as secretary of its board, Betty Reif as bowling manager and Belle Hanson as tennis manager. The chapter gained permanent possession of the swimming cup having won it for the third consecutive year.

Belle Hanson and Patricia Fillius are on the Onondagan business staff, while Betty Reif is a junior editor of the yearbook.

Plans are being completed for a new student union building on campus. Patricia Fillius is assistant publicity chairman and Mary Lou Hofsoos, Ria Gagas, and Betty Anderson are serving on the publicity committee.

NEW YORK GAMMA—ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1914

INITIATED, April 8, 1946: Shirley Blumers, Ticonderoga; Lois Boles, Chestertown; Eileen Brennan, White Plains; Mildred Elliott, Upper Montclair, N.J.; Patricia Hagan, Forrest Hills, L.I.; Wilhelmina MacDougall, Brooklyn; Jean Makray, East Orange, N.J.; Frances Pixley, Delevan; Jean Rugen, Harrington Park, N.J.; Virginia Stanton, Little Falls; Ann Thornton, Saugerties.

A "happy mess" was the descriptive title President Bewkes and students gave to St. Lawrence at the beginning of the fall semester when college opened for registration October 7. "Happy" because of the increase in the male enrollment and return of such pre-war activities as football; a "mess" because of the limited facilities for housing and classes. "Vet Village," made up of pre-fabricated houses, was set up as an emergency measure and all sorts of wings and addition were made to the men's and women's dormitories. The college has added over three-quarters of a million dollars worth of new building to the campus.

The chapter takes an unusual interest in the publication of the Scarlet Saint, a self-supporting campus humor magazine. Last June's elections gave Siri Heeb the position of business manager; Mickey Hayne and Jackie Fenton, circulation managers; Ginger Swift, advertising manager; and Helen Cromie, associate editor.

Siri Heeb was made circulation manager of the Lawrentian, the University literary magazine published monthly. Helen Cromie took over the job of co-editor and Jean Massonneau that of illustrator of the Freshman Handbook.

Eileen Brennan and Janie Dewell were elected and Micki Hayne re-elected to the cheerleading squad. Last spring the house softball team triumphed over the K K I's, the A Δ II's, and the K Δ's, but bowed to the Tri Delta's and the Independents. Kay Wolf, who was appointed basketball manager a year ago, received an award at the WAA Rally for being the most competent manager in any sport.

Four seniors graduated last June 25 when Elmer Davis spoke at the Commencement exercises. Nancy Smith graduated with honors in psychology and Roberta Hamilton received the Fine Arts Award. It was also announced last fall that Bert Hamilton, Helen Farrell, and Millie Wallin made Dean's List again.

Rushing began at the end of November and continued up to the Christmas holidays. Several Panhellenic rules were changed placing fewer restrictions on the fraternity women.

PLEGDED: Ann Dawson, Syracuse; Jane Dewell, Greenwich; Ann Kastensmith, Schenectady; Angelina Lambros, Oneonta; Cecilia Thompson, Defariot; Jeanne Weller, Maplewood, N.J.

NEW YORK DELTA—CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1919

INITIATED, April 7, 1946: Doris Egan, Gowanda; Nancy Fulton, Auburn; Esther Lightfoot, Lakeland, Fla.; Lois

Meyers, Scipio Center; Francis Swinton, Port Jervis.

INITIATED, June 1, 1946: Virginia Case, Ann Crowley, Joyce Dunphy, Laura Eastman, Marcia Fessenden, Cynthia Foster, Lois Glendenning, Joyce Graham, Virginia Hagemeyer, Virginia Hallett, Barbara Kurtz, Ann Lawrence, Frances Lown, Shirley Nagler, Clara Newell, Barbara Samson, Ann Seguin.

After three years of a wartime accelerated program, this year it was hoped that Cornell would open at the normal time, the end of September. But, with an increased enrollment, it was necessary to postpone the opening three weeks to allow for the completion of the new women's dormitories and temporary housing for veterans and new faculty members. The chapter's fall activities, therefore, got off to a late start.

This was not true of the preceding spring term, however. The chapter concluded a most successful formal rushing season with nineteen pledges, the largest number taken by any house at the end of that two-week period. Another girl was pledged later, bringing the total to twenty.

The first event of the spring social season was an open house for veterans held at the chapter house on March 29. It was very well attended. On April 12 the pledge dance was held at the house. The recreation room was decorated with wine and blue streamers and music was furnished by a local orchestra. The chapter entertained local alumnae at a Founder's Day tea on April 28. In addition to the formal initiation banquet at a local restaurant following the ceremony on June 1, there was a combination initiation and pledge breakfast on June 9. It was given by the alumnae at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Grover.

New York Δ was well represented in activities and honors during the spring term. Frances Corbally was elected one of two women to represent the women on the board of managers of Willard Straight Hall. A number of others have been serving on Straight committees. Several girls have been Red Cross Nurse's Aides and Priscilla Edgerton was co-chairman of the Cornell Red Cross Chapter.

Barbara Dwyer, Sue Squire, and Clarann Newell were elected to the Cornellian Board. Sue is also one of the few women members of the Cornell Corinthian Yacht Club. Evelyn Senk and Ruth Critchlow received "C's" for accumulated points in athletics.

Marie Prendergast was elected to Φ B K, and Shirley Gillis and Frances Corbally were elected to Mortar Board.

PLEGDED: Jean Budd, Pearl River; Mary Virginia Case, Beaver, Pa.; Ann Brett Crowley, Torrington, Conn.; Joyce Dunphy, Houlton, Maine; Laura Eastman, Arlington, Va.; Marcia Fessenden, King Ferry; Cynthia Foster, Alfred; Lois Glendenning, Westlake, Ohio; Joyce Graham, Le Roy; Virginia Hagemeyer, Elmhurst, L.I.; Virginia Hallett, Ann Lawrence, Rochester; Elaine Hinsley, Scarsdale; Barbara Kurtz, Trumbull, Conn.; Frances Lown, Kingston; Audrey Dawn McNair, Rumson, N.J.; Shirley Nagler, Binghamton; Clara Ann Newell, Westfield; Barbara Samson, Scranton, Pa.; Ann Seguin, Canadaigua.

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

INITIATED, March 17, 1946: Mary Alice Burton, Judy Baker, Patricia Campbell, Bridget Gregson, Barbara Knowles, Joyce Leeming, Nancy LeSueur, Betty Line, Mary MacDonald, Lillias McIntyre, Margaret McCleary, Barbara Moore, Flora Mulligan, Joyce Pratt, Jan Rutherford, Ann Taylor, Dorothy Taylor, Nancy Wilson, Mary Woodcock.

Three thousand of the 1700 students enrolled this fall are out at the new edition to the campus, Ajax, just twenty-four miles east of Toronto. Ajax was a munitions plant during the war and is now used by the faculty of engineering. Like most universities, students here are having a very difficult time finding accommodations, particularly married men and their families.

At University College, preparations are under way for the annual U.C. Follies. With the increased number of students this year, it should be the best show on the campus. Members of the Fraternity are again entering into the choruses and skits, and the preparation of costumes, make-up, scenery, and all other parts of the big show.

The chapter held its opening meeting on Monday, September 30.

A Panhellenic script dance was held on October 16 at the Royal York Hotel.

This year, again, a few of Ontario A's followed the University team to London for the intercollegiate Rugby game. The chapter would like to thank Ontario B for their very kind hospitality.

ONTARIO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN ONTARIO

Chartered, October 29, 1934

Lectures for upper-classes at the University of Western Ontario began a week later this year because of the increased enrollment of freshmen.

The members of Ontario B who live in London held an organization meeting in August to define chapter policy this year and to talk over the summer. Two members, Pat Westland and Lucille McKee, told of travelling through the south-west United States where they visited chapter houses and met a great many Pi Phi friends.

After the opening game of the intercollegiate Rugby season between Western and Toronto, Ontario B, in conjunction with A K K, held a script dance in the London Armouries. It was largely attended and both Pi Phi and A K K added money to their respective building funds.

During the summer, ambitious Ontario B members painted the walls of several bedrooms in the chapter house and cleaned up the garden. Now the chapter house is spotless both inside and out.

At the last regular meeting Marion Browne, Ontario B's delegate to Convention, gave a talk about Convention and by showing us souvenirs, pictures and other data, she passed on to us the things she had learned there.

INITIATED, September 28, 1946: Mary Beresford, Indianapolis, Ind.; Joan Cross, Ashland; Phyllis Crowe, Chilli-cothe; Virginia Fisher, Toledo.

Ohio A was presented with the Ohio University Scholarship Plaque on Honors Day, April 9. The chapter, having maintained the highest scholarship average of all women's fraternities on this campus for five years, was given this trophy as a permanent possession.

The chapter gave its annual Spring Formal at the Hotel Berry, June 1. The ballroom was cleverly decorated and leather key containers with the Greek letters II B Phi were given to the girls' escorts. ## OHIO DELTA—OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 16, 1946

INITIATED, March 23, 1946: Sue Ann Basquin, Big Prairie; Barbara Blackford, Mary Ann Zeller, Findlay; Barbara Baker, Ridgewood, N.J.; Dorothy Brown, Rochelle, Ill.; Sally Campbell, Salem; Ruth Detwiler, Columbiana; Patricia Dynes, Boston, Mass.; JoAnn Evans, Marysville; Kathryn Marsh, New Philadelphia; Mary Nantz, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Prudence Prins, Jackson, Mich.; Myra Rowley, Pontiac, Mich.; Barbara Ruprecht, Dayton; Marilyn Swinehart, Tiffin; Claire Woehling, Norristown, Pa.; Catherine Griswold, Midland, Mich. INITIATED, September 29, 1946: Virginia Huston, Bellevue; Janet Kestle, Zanesville; June Seeman, Toledo.

The 2000 men and women on the campus of Ohio Wesleyan University are a part of an expanded program necessitated by the increased enrollment and post-war conditions generally. New housing units have been erected for men students and for faculty families. Sturges Hall has been completely redecorated and is now the new home of the home economics department. The Temporary Union Building, to be known as the "TUB," will provide social and recreational facilities until the planned Students' Memorial Center can be built.

In the May elections of W.S.G.A. Eleanor Marsh was made Executive President, Doris Hunter, Judicial President; and Margaret Pickett, Executive Secretary. JoAnn Evans was elected secretary of the sophomore class. Louise Bliss and Joy Gillis were appointed Senior Advisors, and Sally Huston was named Panhellenic Rush Chairman. Eleanor Marsh became a member of Mortar Board.

Dorothy Buck, a graduate of 1945, has been studying at the Curtis Institute of Music. She returned to the campus in June to be soloist with the A Cappella Choir at their Commencement concert.

In April, and again on Mother's Day week end in May, the Division of Fine Arts presented "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Participating in the production were: Doris Hunter, Mary Anne Zeller, Janet Kestle, Eleanor Gilchrist, and Kathryn Marsh.

B Θ I Fraternity entertained the chapter members at their house. Later, the two groups got together for a picnic.

On June 16, the chapter entertained faculty members and fraternity representatives at a tea honoring Mrs. Nell Smith, who has been housemother to the Ohio Delta Chapter for ten years.

June Link, the chapter delegate, gave an interesting account of Convention.

PLEGDED, March 20, 1946: Mary Ellen Schill, Toledo, and Mary Helen Jewett, Powell.

OHIO EPSILON—UNIVERSITY OF TOLEDO

Chartered, 1945

INITIATED, October 6, 1946: Mary Preece Snyder, Virginia Andrews, Margaret Bartholomew, Nancy Lee Butler, Margery Garrett, Ruth Gogel, Barbara Heesen, Shirley Hill, Laura Kaseman, Marjorie Keller, Bonnie Kitzman, Betty Jean Nisch, Barbara Riblet, Suzanne Volker, Toledo; Lucille Anne Thornburgh, Dayton.

The active members and pledges returned to school this fall refreshed and rested, anticipating a year filled with activities that had not been on the slate for several years because of the war. The football teams, Toledo University's first in four or five years, was a good one, and those students who had not been here before found it quite a task to learn all the yells and songs.

Homecoming was quite an event in included a Bonfire and dance October 18, with a float parade through downtown Toledo the afternoon of the 19th and a football game that evening. Lee Chapman was co-chairman of the celebration. The team played Dayton, Ohio, and at the half the Homecoming Queen was crowned. One fraternity, A Σ Φ, sponsored Betty Martin in the nominations for queen.

The chapter apartment on campus was rented to the family of a new faculty member this fall.

Rushing was held ten weeks after school started, instead of the beginning of second semester as in the past. Each women's fraternity was allowed two parties, the first of which had to be a tea. The chapter worked very hard on the plans for the second party, which was held in the Student Union.

OHIO ZETA—MIAMI UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1945
Pledge Day, February 18, 1946

INITIATED, September 22, 1946: Mary Dean Ertel, Marilyn Rogers, Winifred Schnacke, Dayton; Jeanne McKee, Rhoma Van De Mark, Columbus; Jeanne Belcher, Hamilton; Delores Brown, Mattoon, Ill.; Anne Clark, Indianapolis, Ind.; Jane Davidson, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Ellen Dennison, Oxford; Helen Donaldson, Fairview Village; Barbara Freed, Toledo; Shirley Horsley, Rocky River; Margaret Kramer, Cleveland; Barbara McKee, Lakewood; Jacqueline Price, Chicago Heights, Ill.; Marjorie Wagner, Sidney; Gloria Weaver, New Lebanon; Jean Webster, Westfield, N.Y.

As usual, the end of the spring semester was filled with many varied activities for all the members of Ohio Zeta. Among these was the Founders' Day banquet held on the afternoon of April 27 at the New England Kitchen. Then came the picnic that the pledges gave for the actives as a result of a contest between the two. The group which had the highest grades was to be treated to a picnic by the losing side. At this picnic the pledges sang their pledge songs to the actives, and each one presented her big sister with a pledge paddle.

Mother's Day saw the arrival of many mother's at Oxford to celebrate the day with their daughters. Ohio Zeta honored its mothers with a breakfast at the Huddle on Sunday morning. Each mother was presented with a carnation corsage and after breakfast the group attended church.

The semester was officially ended with graduation on June 2 with Admiral King as the Commencement speaker.

The fall semester began under more crowded conditions than Miami University has had to experience for sometime. Until barracks are completed for the men, some 400 men are living, or did live until they could find vacancies elsewhere, in Withrow Court, the gymnasium. Students are demanding that some action be taken to relieve this situation since there can be no basketball games or social functions, such as dances, until these men have some place to live.

Rushing got under way with open houses held on September 20 and 21 and parties were given during the next two weeks, concluding on October 4 with "Stardust Serenade." The number of women in the freshman class is small this year compared with the preceding three, so the competition was more noticeable.

Initiation was held on September 22 so that the girls could vote on the rushees when the time came. Having initiation so early came as a surprise to them, but, of course, they were quite pleased.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA—WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1918
Pledge Day, October, 1946

West Virginia University is at last back to normal with six men to every girl. The campus is so crowded that every available room is occupied and classes are being held until ten o'clock in the evenings.

On the brighter side, fraternities have flung their doors wide and dances are held every weekend. Football games are especially enjoyable, for in the football program appears a picture of Doris Lee Mehlinger who was crowned Miss West Virginia Incorporated last spring at the Senior Ball.

Judy Winter was elected sponsor for the West Virginia-Washington and Lee football game and was the chapter's representative for homecoming.

The actives entertained with a Halloween party for the pledges.

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, January 11, 1947

INITIATED, April 23, 1946: Jane Russell, Newton, Mass.; Marion Sawin, Hockessin, Del.

A cooky-shine was given in June for the four outgoing members at which speeches were made and presents exchanged.

Convention was foremost in the chapter's plans during the spring. Committees were formed to work on the project and discussions of the agenda were led by Eleanor Gilbert, Maryland A's delegate.

Due to the severe housing shortage in Baltimore, the chapter was forced to vacate its rooms on May 1. The members are still in quest of a meeting place which must be within certain bounds prescribed by the college. As a result, rushing has been deferred on the Goucher campus until January 6.

The chapter is, however, going forward with its rushing plans, and also with plans for entertaining a group of underprivileged children. The project at present includes a Christmas party and an outing of some sort.

PLEGDED: Barbara Behlke, Park Ridge, Ill.

INITIATED, March 9, 1946: Amy Cantwell, Anita Fernandez, Ethel Jongeneel, Patricia McKee, Barbara Moore, Carolyn Smith, Marjorie Clark, Beverly Heacock, Claudia Shirley, Bette Windsor, Virginia Storm Ernsberger.

Returning students have noticed a great change on campus with the average university enrollment doubled. Due to the critical housing shortage, 700 veterans are being housed in the gymnasium.

Maryland B is no exception to the need for housing. The members are anxiously awaiting the completion of the new chapter house now being constructed by the University. Everyday since school began groups of actives and pledges have been supervising the building of the house. The carpenters and painters are afraid that the girls are going to replace them in their jobs. Many of the Maryland B's are, at present, living in the recreation room of Margaret Brent Dormitory, while the remainder of the chapter is daydodging.

The members took part in the annual Interfraternity Sing, April 17. The actives and pledges wore cleverly designed costumes, made of sheets dyed silver blue; wine elbow length gloves complimented the costumes. The chapter sang "The Arrow" and "Pi Phi Pin-Ups," two original songs. Maryland B was honored when asked to sing these selections at the Founders' Day Banquet in Washington.

Maryland B had the pleasure of entertaining District of Columbia A at a picnic on May 15.

Ten members, Priscilla Alden, Barbara Brown, June Danglede, Lelia Faris, Jacqueline Hastings, Sara Huebel, Ethel Jongeneel, Betty Rush, Claudia Shirley, and Page Ware, were on the honor roll for last semester.

Ethel Jongeneel is managing editor of The Diamondback, the weekly school newspaper.

PLEGDED: Ruth Brightman, Jody Cole, Betty Ehlers, Mary Jarrell, Monor Koenig, Sylvia Lynn Kotick, Jinx Montgomery, Virginia Pohl, Peggy Ann Reid, Sue Stevens, Marty Waldron.

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, October 10, 1946

INITIATED, September 27, 1946: Margaret Babcock, Margaret Buckley, Mary Jo Ingersoll, Mary Shull Jackson, Patricia Vandoren.

The week following final exams last May was spent on a houseparty at Ocean City, Maryland, at the Commander Hotel. Twenty-seven actives, five pledges and two transfers attended. Members of many other fraternal organizations on campus were there also.

With the return of football to the campus this fall, much more school spirit has been revived. Homecoming this year is to be quite an event. On November 19 there will be a game followed by a dance. The whole celebration will be topped by the crowning of the homecoming queen. The chapter candidate is Nancy Benner, a transfer from Ohio B.

On October 23 a formal dance was given at the Wardman Park Hotel in honor of the pledges.

Fraternities have returned with vigor to George Washington.  $\Sigma N$  is welcomed by  $\Pi B \Phi$  as "brother" on campus. They have entertained the chapter on several occasions this summer and many more "exchanges" are planned.

The yearbook, The Cherry Tree, has Barbara Borrer as the Editor-in-Chief, Jackie Perry is the Art Editor and Sally Deszez is the Photographic Editor. Barbara was also chosen by Mortar Board as the outstanding Sophomore woman for 1945-46.

Betty Anne Paisley and Pat Ludwig are members of a Junior Mortar Board called "Tassels."

Patricia Ludwig also won the freshman zoology award for 1946.

Edith Snyder was chosen queen of the President's Regatta. In her court were Marion Cummins, Jane Lingo and Mary Calvert. This was one of the biggest social events of the summer.

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, October 20, 1946

Virginia A, having finished a most successful rushing season, now has twenty-six new pledges hailing from the four points of the compass. Pledge meetings have begun under the efficient leadership of President Margaret Cunningham of Sharon, Pa., and Pledge Supervisor Mary Ellen Phillippi of Hagerstown, Md. Every other week a dinner is held after the pledge meeting and the active officers and seniors have been invited to attend.

Kay Rives of Mansfield, La., is the newly elected editor of the Old Maid, the college humor magazine. Effie Gene Tolson and Phyll Fraser are being sent to the Associated College Press convention in Chicago.

Virginia A is looking forward to a visit from Gamma Province President, and alumna, Kitty Black Massenburg on October 24.

PHYLL FRASER

VIRGINIA GAMMA—WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1925

Virginia  $\Gamma$  has just completed fall rushing and was very successful. Due to the increased male enrollment, the number of girls at William and Mary is small, which necessitated a quota system for the sororities.

At the close of college last spring Jan Freer was elected to  $\Phi B K$  and Fran Moore was tapped and made vice-president of Mortar Board. Jean McLeod was a Merit Scholar. Jan Freer won the  $X \Omega$  award for sociology. Pat Curtis was chosen to be in the beauty section of the yearbook.

This year  $\Pi B \Phi$  was again first in scholarship on campus. Fran Moore was elected head of the Honor Council and Shirley Sprague, vice-president of Women's Student Government, Jeanne Lamb and Laurie Pritchard were elected vice-president and secretary of  $X \Delta \Phi$ , national literary fraternity. Barbara Grant and Phyllis Shade were chosen as president and vice-president of the Psychology Club. Fran Moore is the president of the Women's Chorus. Lorabeth Moore is a junior editor of the newspaper, and Laurie Pritchard is a columnist. Carol Achenbach is a member of Student Assembly. Thelma Murray is chairman of the International Relations Club.

Virginia  $\Gamma$  was active in varsity sports this year. Penny Allenbaugh, Marjorie Williams, Pat Arnold, Bobbie Majesky, Bonnie Green, and Beverly Horner, were on the swimming team. Barbara Grant was a member of the varsity basketball team, and she and Pat Mackin were on the tennis team. Barbara Grant was elected to the Monogram Club for women's athletics. The chapter is well represented on the cheerleading squad by Carol Achenbach, Libbie Baynard, and Laurie Pritchard. In the sorority intramurals, Virginia  $\Gamma$ took first place in the ping-pong and badminton tournaments, and second place in the intramurals as a whole. William and Mary is planning a big year for 1946. At homecoming, the last weekend in October, the chapter sponsored a float in the parade. Open house was held after the game for all the alumnae.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1923

INITIATED, June 4, 1946: Jerry Atkins, Heflin, Ala.; Elizabeth Eaddy, Memphis, Tenn.; Betty Kendrick, Raleigh; Dell Tyndall, Graceville, Fla.

The University of North Carolina opened this fall with a record registration of 6,500 students, 2,000 more than the University has ever accommodated before. The number of new coeds has been cut to 150 in order to allow more room for the influx of veterans. To help alleviate crowded conditions the North Carolina A's are now feeding all of the actives for the first time and are in the process of building a new sleeping porch, which upon completion will make the house large enough to provide for twenty girls.

The campus sorority scholarship award was given to the chapter this fall for the tenth consecutive year.

The North Carolina A's have been busy with studying, painting and rushing. Informal rushing began October 4 and was a week of visiting the rushees in their rooms in the dormitories. The traditional angel party marked the beginning of formal rushing. This was followed by a perfume party, during which a style show was given, each girl representing a different perfume. Rush week was brought to a climax by the Can Can party, a Gay Nineties affair, complete with the player piano and the black silk stockings.

The chapter welcomes back three of its actives, Molly Mitchell, Randy Russell and Ann Hancock, who are returning as graduate students, and Ann Goehagen White and Julia Newsome Quackenbush, whose husbands are now enrolled here.

North Carolina A is looking forward to a big year on campus in its newly decorated house, done in the traditional wine and silver blue.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

College not in session in time for letter.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, December 18, 1945

The University of South Carolina completed registration with an enrollment of 4,300 students, the greatest number in its history. The college opened with many new additions such as a much larger and more conveniently located post office, a larger and more efficient canteen, a biweekly publication of the college newspaper, The Gamecock, WUSC campus radio station, and the Booster Club pep organization. All of these have been received by the students with great enthusiasm.

South Carolina A, too, has started off with a bang with a campus-wide "drop-in," September 20. The purpose of this social affair was to get acquainted with the new students and promote school spirit. The chapter has also resumed the Sunday evening drop-ins, having nonfraternity and fraternity members call at the chapter room between the hours of eight and eleven.

The alumnae club gave an outdoor wiener roast for the active members on September 19 at Mrs. Hawkins' home.

The  $\Pi B \Phi s$  renewed an old custom on the University campus by challenging  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$  to a football game known as the Powder Bowl. The proceeds from the game were turned over to campus publications to be used for their improvement.

The chapter has many campus honors this fall: Dorothy Perkins is editor of the Carolina Review and managing editor of the Garnet and Black; Sue Rives, business manager of the Garnet and Black, and president of the Boosters Club; Doris Schmucker, advertising manager of the Carolina Review; Jane Church, secretary of Euphrosynean Literary Society; Barbara Dudd, Honor Board; and Mary Shoun, managing editor of the Gamecock and member of the University's convocations committee.

Rush Week started November 4, after mid-semester grades were released, as was planned by Panhellenic. One full week of routine parties were given followed by three preferential parties.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1887

Pledge Day, October 12, 1946

The usual quietness and serenity so typical of this campus was forgotten this year because of a much increased enrollment. Once again the men outnumber the fairer sex and seem to have the upper hand. Many pleasant changes greeted the eyes of new and former students. The reconversion of the fieldhouse into a swimming pool and men's and women's gyms has almost been completed and should be ready for use in a few months. The college buildings have acquired a new coat of paint and many minor repairs have been made.

Every member was more than delighted to see that the house had been painted and now looks very shining and white. The interior was by no means neglected. All the living room furniture was re-upholstered in pretty new shades, new and much more comfortable easy chairs replaced the old in each study, the smoker was touched up a bit, and on a whole looks very wonderful. The chapter picture composite now hangs over the mantel in the dining room.

Last spring Maryrose Kearsley, Barbara Boughner, and Ruth Irish were initiated into  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ , honorary scholastic fraternity, Mary Louise Wilson and Rena Pifer were awarded scholarships to Merrill-Palmer Nursery School in Detroit. Mary Lou Wathen was elected the new editor of the college yearbook. She had previously served as its art editor. Lois Weaver, Maryrose Kearsley, Barbara Boughner, Irene Kydon, Marge Weidler, and Phyllis Weaver received athletic awards for outstanding participation in sports events. Joyce Martin continues to represent the college in speech contests.

After fifteen years of extremely fine service, the cook, Mrs. Bodley has left the chapter. She was presented with a Mother's pin at the Mother's Day banquet. Once again Michigan A is delighted to have Mrs. Webb as housemother.

Michigan A wishes the best of luck to Helen Anderson Lewis, new Delta Province President, and thanks the retiring president, Vivian Lyon Moore, for the wonderful help she has given.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Chartered, 1888

For the first time in four years the University of Michigan began its regular term in September, which gave the chapter members their first opportunity of enjoying a long fall season in Ann Arbor. The campus is very crowded, the majority of students being returned veterans. Scholarship has assumed increased importance, since the probationary period has ended and the standard of classwork has been raised.

Michigan B's social events during the fall included open houses after each of the seven home games. The weekend of the Army-Michigan game was particularly festive as the chapter entertained friends and out-of-town guests at a buffet dinner.

Several upstairs rooms in the chapter house were re-decorated during the summer. Other additions to the house include a new refrigerator and deep freeze unit, purchased with the assistance of the Michigan Beta Association.

Many campus activities kept the chapter busy during the fall. Officers announced during the spring semester were: Jean Louise Hole as chairman of Judiciary Council; Betty Pritchard, vice-president of Panhellenic Board; Patricia Doelle, treasurer of W.A.A.; and Ann Robinson, member of the Women's League Council. Carla Mullendore and Ann Guinan were appointed junior assistants to the League Council. Betty Eaton became intramural manager for the W.A.A. Mary Stierer and Sue Montgomery worked on the central committee of Soph Cabaret and Cynthia Cotes, Janet Cork, and Frances Gurche on the junior girls' play. Last fall Kay McCord served as assistant chairman of Panhellenic Ball and Carla Mullendore as assistant for the campus Casbah, a new ballroom opened in the Michigan League. Dorothy Ellis worked as a captain on the dance class committee.

Jean Louise Hole and Ann Robinson were tapped for Mortar Board and Cynthia Cotes, Janet Cork, and Carla Mullendore for Wyyern, a junior honorary.

The house entered two teams in the volleyball tournament and participated in the fall swimming meet. Barbara Brady and Betty Eaton rode with Karin Larsen, who acted as president of the women's riding club.

Rushing will begin the second week of February. Recommendations should be addressed to Nancy Bridge, 836 Tappan Rd., Ann Arbor, Mich.

MICHIGAN GAMMA—MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, February 17, 1945

Pledge Day, January 23, 1946

INITIATED, April 28, 1946: Charlotte Campbell, Martha Jean Meredith, Port Huron; Suzanne Cheney, East Lansing; Joan Clark, Jean Tanner, Grosse Pointe; Billyann Clippert, Grayling; Barbara Christ, Blissfield; Catherine Elliott, Flint; Frances Gilpin, Hope Jenkins, Detroit; Jacqueline Smith, Royal Oak; Betty Wilkinson, Jackson; Mary Hazen, Hudson; Doris Woodward, La Grange, Ill.

On September 23 the Michigan I's returned to the campus of Michigan State College and to the pleasure of seeing their own house for the first time. During the last two years the II B Φ's had lived in the Δ X fraternity house, but as the male populace increased they were asked to move. This summer the alumnae of Lansing and East Lansing, under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy, worked diligently to remodel the present home, and now the members have a chapter house of which to be proud.

As are most other colleges, Michigan State College is overcrowded—the enrollment jumped from the 8,000 of last year to the present 13,000. To take care of all the students, construction crews are hurriedly digging in all corners of the campus trying to erect three classroom buildings and two new dormitories in addition to completing the Quonset Village for men and the Trailer Camp for married veterans.

In order to keep in close contact in the few months of vacation, a summer bulletin was edited by Dorothy Bierly from letters which all the other members wrote to her.

In the spring term of 1946, Mortar Board elected Jane Cade as president, T Z, science and arts department honorary, elected Marilyn Mead to membership, and K Δ II initiated Margaret Vanderwall who was also invited to join O N along with Chris Ives Cole.

In the May election of officers Ruth Dunlop was made president of the Foods and Nutrition Club, Kathleen Masson became secretary-treasurer of the College Orchestra, and Janet Smith, secretary of the International Club.

Grace Johnson was nominated the outstanding home economics junior and received the Danforth Scholarship, which consisted of a four week observation trip during the months of July and August.

As the outstanding woman chemist in the senior class Barbara James received a gift from the Chi Omicron Fraternity.

With the re-formation of the advanced R.O.T.C. also came the choosing of Corps Sponsors, a custom which had disappeared from the campus during four years. In the competition for this title Michigan I was represented by Carolyn Powell who was chosen as one of the five sponsors.

The first formal gathering of the chapter this college year was held on September 26 for the alumnae, in appreciation of the wonderful work they did in preparing the house for occupancy this fall. Dessert was served in the living room while Judith Williams read her poem dedicated to the alumnae group, and later card tables were brought out for bridge.

In order that the sophomore class might become better acquainted with the alumnae group, Mrs. Mervin Coates, who is also the financial advisor, gave a "dessert" at her home.

Plans for rushing for the year differ greatly from all other years as only a limited number of freshmen women were allowed to register. At present definite details have not been announced, but it is believed that all rushing will be informal as there is no set rushing season.

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, October 22, 1946

The Indiana B members returned to college October 18 to find a beautifully decorated chapter house. All of the girls' rooms have been freshly painted in light pastels, and the entrance hall has its flowered paper set off by a beautiful light blue rug. The white colonial exterior of the house has been newly painted too, which gives the chapter quite an impressive setting.

During the summer, the II B Φ's were not idle about rushing. There were two lovely teas given at the homes of Mrs. Russell Williams and Mrs. Heber D. Williams in Indianapolis. There was also a small rush party held on the cabin cruiser belonging to Jenette Holderman at Lake Wawasee, Ind., and another party took place on Diana Barrott's cabin cruiser on the Ohio River. Both of the parties were very successful opportunities for rushing. The rush chairman, Nancy Lee Foster, also completed a rush trip around the state.

For the first time on the Indiana campus, the delayed rushing system has been put into effect. Only transfers were allowed to pledge and live in the house this fall. No rush will be allowed until a month after the beginning of the fall semester. A Panhellenic tea will open the rush season. Girls will be pledged after they have received their first semester grades and will not move into the house until the following fall semester.

Due to the delayed opening of college this year, there have not been too many activities as yet. However, exchange dinners with the Σ A E Acacia, and Δ T have been planned for the early part of the first semester.

Margaret Meyer was in charge of the homecoming decorations, for which the chapter received honorable mention. These decorations consisted of animals cleverly painted by Margaret Meyer, who got her idea from the Ford advertisement in current magazines. Each animal carried a sign referring to the Indiana-Iowa game.

A cookie-shine was given for the new transfer pledges following the pledging ceremony.

PLEGGED: Yvonne Akers, Mary Briggs, Indianapolis; Jean Dunbar, Colfax; Iona Hamlett, Barbara Leas, Fort Wayne; Shirley King, Elwood; Lois Ann Piepho, Muncie; Irene Traylor, Evansville.

INITIATED, April 23, 1946: Nelva Jeanne Hoehamer, Hartford City; Audrey Welker, St. Elmo, Ill.; Joan Poos, Eaton, Ohio; Lois Eckhart, Lafayette; Nancy Finch, Gary; Joan Leffer, Elkhart; Joanne Ragsdale, Valparaiso; Avis Mayer, Rose Gannon, W. Lafayette; Sue Huncilman, Washington, D.C.; Helen Wileman, Ithaca, N.Y.; Gloria Hunter, Chicago, Ill.; Barbara Shaneberger, Indianapolis; Emily Carter, Evanston, Ill.; Joanne Englund, Rockford, Ill.

The school year promises to be full of dances, proms, football games, and hayrides with plenty of dates to go around. It is like the pre-war days everyone hears so much about.

The fraternities are all reorganized and trade dances are scheduled every week. The chapter has exchanged with A X A, Σ X, B Θ Π, Σ Φ E, Φ Δ Θ, and A T Ω.

Because of crowded living conditions, the Panhellenic Council voted not to hold rush this fall. Indiana Δ is fortunate in having all its out of town girls living in the house.

The hayride and barn dance, October 26, was informality at its highest. The chapter held open house after the homecoming football game November 2 and entertained parents, alumnae, and other guests. Indiana Δ won second prize for the Pep Rally entry which was a totem pole with Miami as "Low Man on a Totem Pole."

Lucille Broeking was elected to the Junior Board of Student Union; Betty Carroll, Mary Jo Fawley, and Bettye Maienschein were "capped" Gold Peppers. Bettye Maienschein was "tapped" by Mortar Board and is also director of the Activities Bureau. Nancy Kelsey, Joanne Englund and Sally Ann Hammond are Junior Managers on Activities Bureau. Sue Finch and Diana Cabonargi are cheer leaders.

Indiana Δ contributed $5.00 to Foster Parents Inc. Vacations have left lots of open days in the school year, four days at Thanksgiving and two weeks at Christmas are the first real vacations University students have had in three years.

PLEGDED: Loraine Carroll, Crown Point; Mitzi Meahan, Evanston, Ill.; Virginia Cox, Indianapolis; Mary K. Caudell, Evansville; Martha Sauer, Muncie; Corrine Clark, Marian

INDIANA EPSILON—DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1942

Pledge Day, September 27, 1946

INITIATED, October 12, 1946: Dorothy McLeod, Peru; Mary Rosalind Triggs, Huntington.

As a result of the greatly increased enrollment this year, DePauw has added Quonset huts and pre-fabricated houses and has remodeled dorms into apartments to accommodate married veterans. Fraternity houses are again occupied by men, and the campus is once more looking forward to a normal, peaceful year.

Indiana E members returned this fall with new enthusiasm to live in their first real home. The chapter purchased a lot last spring with an old house on it. The house is almost a hundred years old and was once the home of a DePauw president. It was completely remodeled last summer and now makes a lovely colonial home for the chapter. Plans are being made, however, for the building of a new house in the near future. Indiana E is very proud of its new location.

To introduce its new home, the chapter held two open houses this fall, the first on October 13 for townspeople and the second on October 27 for the campus.

Rush was especially successful this fall, one of the best parties being "Pi Phi Heaven." The various outstanding members of the chapter were spotlighted and a brief history of Indiana E's contributions to the campus given.

The first dance to be held in the new house was the formal pledge dance on November 2. Several exchange dinners and open houses between fraternities and sororities helped to fill the social calendar.

At the scholarship banquet last spring Jane Snavely Robey was awarded the scholarship ring for the highest average for the preceding year. Peg Ward made the greatest improvement in grades the preceding semester, and her name was engraved on the scholarship plaque. At the initiation banquet Lois Shay was selected as the best pledge of the year and was initiated with the president's pin. Joie Lobnitz was the pledge with the highest average and was given a ring to wear for a year.

The May Day play last spring, "Dark Victory," featured Gini Auble in the leading role. For the Dad's Day play this fall, Peg Ward played one of the leading parts in the Duzer Du production of George Kelly's "The Torchbearers."

Marjorie Volwiler and Jane Snavely Robey were elected into Φ B K last spring. Martha Honan is YWCA president this year. Barbara Bell is vocational guidance chairman of AWS.

EPSILON PROVINCE

MISSOURI ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

Chartered, 1899

Pledge Day, September 29, 1946

INITIATED, September 22, 1946: Judy Wheelock, Minneapolis, Minn.; Genelle Martin, Tulsa, Okla.

With an all-time record enrollment of over 10,000 students, Missouri University started two weeks late in order to cope with the housing problem. Around 400 girls registered at the hotel when rush week was officially opened on September 25. It closed with the new pledge classes moving into their respective houses the morning of September 29. Preceding the pledge breakfast fraternity men were all out to help welcome in the twenty-five new pledges.

School spirit has given forth with all its might and has far exceeded pre-war campus atmosphere. Corinne Chandler and Nancy Lee are Tiger cheer leaders. On October 4, the streets of "Campus Town" were crowded with students gathered together for a pep rally and street dance.

Pledges were entertained by the active chapter with a cooky-shine on the first night after pledging. For the remainder of the week blind dates were arranged with fraternity men so that all new people on campus might get acquainted.

Although the chapter house was not open during the summer session, many Missouri A's remained in school. Janice Lyon was elected to Σ Φ A, the honorary Education Fraternity. Sally Pfremer, who previously served on the A.W.S. Judiciary Board, was named temporary president of A.W.S. for the summer term.

Alberta Barnstorf was awarded the Danforth Fellowship which is given to the outstanding junior in the field of home economics.

Marilyn Wiegner, song leader for Convention, has been elected president of Δ Φ Δ, honorary art fraternity.

Missouri A is very anxious for everyone on campus to meet its new chaperon, Mrs. Helen Palmer, who was a member of Ohio Γ.

PLEGDED: Barbara Wells, Nancy Senter, Joan Jeans, Carol Foster, Barbara Thorne, Kansas City; Cynthia Rupe, Barbara Jones, Peggy Swartz, Clayton; Jeanne Herald, St. Louis; Deanne Wallendorf, Jackie Sneed, Betty Joy Burch, Martha Ellen Burton, Jefferson City; Jeanne DeMoss, La.; Ann Masek, Orlando, Fla.; June Legg, Huntington, W.Va.; Su-

MISSOURI BETA—WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, October 7, 1946

INITIATED, October 27, 1946: Marjorie Welek, Mary Ann Moore, St. Louis; Mary Jane Scott, Memphis, Tenn.; Doris Bailey Illingworth (Mrs. Herbert), Long Island, N.Y.; Nadine Ferguson, Springfield, Ill.

The start of the fall semester found the enrollment soaring to approximately 11,000 students, 5,000 of which were returning veterans. With the large enrollment, indications point to the revival of all campus activities. Due to the increase of students and faculty members, pre-fabricated houses and a large efficiency apartment building are under construction in back of Fraternity Row. Reactivated men's fraternities are back in their houses on the Row. All in all the students are having their first glimpse of peacetime college life.

This fall a new system of registration was put into effect. Registration for all schools in the university was held in the Field House instead of in the separate schools as had been done previously. This new system was a non-stop plan by which the student went from one section to another, consecutively, and finished in an hour's time at the most. This new type of registration was found to be a great time-saver and also to lessen the amount of confusion which had been prevalent until this time.

Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Chancellor of Washington University, received the Medal of Merit, highest Army award given to civilians. Dr. Joseph Kennedy, professor of Chemistry at the University, holds a similar award. Dr. Compton received the award for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service involving great responsibility and scientific distinction in connection with the development of the greatest military weapon of all time, the atomic bomb.

In July a $103,000 Navy contract was awarded to Washington University for research in atomic propulsion of ships. Dr. Arthur I. Hughes, head of the physics department, will be in charge of the research.

Although Washington University will not play big time football this year, there will be touch football, basketball, and intramural sports.

The Founders' Day banquet April 22 was a great success. Patricia Moore, Eileen Ritter and Beverly Lueders received the award for the greatest improvement in scholarship and Helen McGavaran received the scholarship ring.

Betty Mae Knoke Cockrell, and Dorothy Gaskill Slay, were initiated into  $\Phi$  B K. Eleanor Bradley received a scholarship in fine arts, Jean and Helen McGavaran and Peggy Lustkandl received sophomore honors. Beverly Lueders, Ann Travis, and Martha Dunbar were initiated into Mortar Board, Helen McGavaran was initiated, into Ter'nion, sophomore honorary and was made editor of Eliot, campus magazine. Jane Campbell and Virginia Rodriguez belong to Freshman Commission, freshman honorary. Marion Buck, song leader, was chosen as a soprano in the octet at Convention.

Formal rush week began with Convocation September 18, and lasted through September 26. Mrs. Arthur H. Compton, wife of the Chancellor, gave the welcoming address. Due to the fact that only 192 girls were on the Pan Hellenic rush list, the quota was lowered from twenty-five to twenty-two. Out of the number going through, 166 girls were pledged to the ten national women's fraternities on campus.

The pledge dance was given October 25 at the Candlelight House. The houseparty was held November 2nd and 3rd at Sugartree, Mo.

Along with all the other men's and women's fraternities, Missouri B is looking to a very successful college year.

PLEGDED: Cathy Altpeter, Jane Beisbarth, Deloris Kriegshauser, Jean McElwee, Nan Meier, Barbara Millay, Alice Nelson, Jean Nohl, Marjorie Ritter, Tanya Shannon, Marianna Simz, Betty Stake, Joan Tucker, Patricia Wulfmeyer, Sally Zumwinkel, St. Louis; Nancy Baber, Kansas, Ill.; Peggy Cox, Ferguson; Marguerite Rice, Little Rock, Ark.; Sallie Lee Rodgers, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Gail Willbrand, Chester, Ill.; Grace Marie Hall, Francis Furbinger, Memphis, Tenn.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, September 20, 1946

Rush Week opened September 10 with the Panhellenic tea and progressive open house, and was closed with the preferential formal banquets and preferential bidding. Missouri  $\Gamma$  delivered their bids by serenading the rushees at their respective home with "Remember the Pi Phi Arrow." At this time fourteen girls were presented with invitations and corsages. This was a new idea and proved to be very effective. Rush week was highlighted by the traditional S. S. Arrow Cruise.

Peggy Lusk, chapter president, was initiated into Skiff, local women's honor society. Peggy is also vice-president of the Student Body; member of the  $\Pi$   $\Gamma$   $\Sigma$  national honorary social science society; member of B B B, honorary biological fraternity; member of National Collegiate Players; is mentioned in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; and she, together with Martha Ricketts, is assistant in the history department. Ann Lusk is secretary of  $\Sigma$  A I, national honorary music fraternity for women. Mary Helen Barrett is vice-president of Drury Land Troupers, dramatic organization on campus; president of Wallace Hall, girls' dormitory; vice-president of Red Peppers; and Junior class Senator. Suzanne Chambers is president of Spanish Club. Suzanne Schellhardt is president of Women's Athletic Association; secretary of Red Peppers; Editor of Sou'wester, school annual; vice-president of Panhellenic and a member of the Publications Board. Mary Jean Moore was selected as Red Cross representative to the National Red Cross Convention in Philadelphia in June.

Missouri  $\Gamma$  was very proud of its members in the 1946 graduating class. Eight out of the ten members who graduated were graduated cum laude. Barbara Johnson and Louise Simon were graduated magna cum laude and Mary Sanford was graduated summa cum laude. Mary Sanford was valedictorian of the class and Louise Simon was salutatorian.

Missouri  $\Gamma$  is stressing scholarship this year. The chapter advanced to second place on campus in scholarship last year.

Besides having dinner with the actives in the chapter rooms every Monday night, the pledges have lunch with their pledge mothers one day a week. This is to provide for a closer relationship between the actives and pledges, also giving the pledges an opportunity to know their pledge mothers better, and to discuss their problems and questions with them.

PATRICIA JANE FOSTER

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, October 17, 1946

INITIATED, April 22, 1946: Betty Alford, Betty Chapman, Sally Anne Gordon, Anne Geiger, Carol Halliday, Martha Hayes, Martha Krauss, Sara McDonald, Lucy Mohr, Mary Mohr, Jane Northen, Katherine O'Brien, Bette Pence, Anne Scholtz, Betty Terstegge.

Among the early spring events in which Kentucky A participated were the form and speed contests in the annual swimming meet. For the first time the University of Louisville entered the Intercollegiate Telegraphic Swimming Meet. Instead of the usual single contest, there were two. In the second "form" meet on March 13, seven Kentucky A's participated. Anne Hughes was high scorer among these seven, placing third in two events and taking first place in the surface dive.

The next activity was the bowling tournament held on two nights in April. There were two leagues, A and B. Kentucky A entered a team of five players in each league and placed third in both meets. On the 18th of the month singles and doubles were played.

During the rest of the spring term, archery and softball were the major items of interest along the athletic line. A "round robin" softball tournament in which eight teams played took up most of the remaining free time until vacation began. The chapter team practiced in free moments on the athletic field across from the house, and even undertook a game with the K A's, which was great fun and ended with almost no casualties. Mary Frank Beattie as captain, pitched many a good ball, and at the end of the season the chapter emerged as winner of first place. The games were held for the most part during lunch hours.

Archery was one of the less-publicized meets. Some of the events were shot in free periods with only a lone scorer standing by. There were both singles and team events and the shooting was held at distances of thirty, forty, and fifty yards.

For the first time there were no Physical Education activities offered during the summer, because none of the sororities were active.

The chapter had a very busy social season and worked hard to send two actives to Convention besides the delegate, Betty Ruth Richardson. Mary Frank Beattie was elected alternate, and Mary Stuart was elected visitor. Some of the parties were just for fun; for instance, the Pi Phi and Wandering Greek party which was given in April at the farm of Anne Williams. There were cokes, food, and a big fire inside the house.

One of the next affairs was a cookie sale on campus in May, all money going into savings for convention. All the girls donated cookies and a booth was set up in the Student Center, clearing about $34.

Near the middle of May, the chapter gave a Barn Dance in Betty Alford's barn. Several girls went out Saturday afternoon and decorated. That night the girls each prepared a box lunch with ribbons and such on the outside. A juke box was hired and, after many dances, it was time to eat. One of the talkative dates presided as auctioneer while the attractive boxes were raffled off. Naturally, each Pi Phi nudged her date for her own box, but it was lots of fun and another $35 went into savings.

Memorial Day the Psi Omega Dental Fraternity invited the chapter members to be their dates at a picnic for their rushees.

The Triangle Fraternity asked the chapter to join them in a picnic in Henry State Park in Indiana, about 20 miles from Louisville. The picnickers participated in hikes and games before settling down to food and after-dinner songs.

The Mothers' Club reorganized in June. The club bought and had laid a new linoleum for the chapter house kitchen.

Another cookie sale took place in June, proving to be just as successful as before. In the end, the chapter was able to contribute $60 apiece to Mary Beattie and Mary Frank for their trip to Convention.

Although the chapter was inactive during the summer, monthly meetings were held to plan for rushing. A meeting was called soon after the girls returned from Convention so the members could see all the souvenirs, learn new songs, and hear of the girls' experiences. The chapter held one open house during the summer to help the summer school students get acquainted.

Now that the fall semester has started, Kentucky A is back in swing. Rush started October 5 and lasted through the week.

A date party was given at the house October 26. The members are looking forward to another party with the Wandering Greeks, plans for which are still in the making.

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, October 5, 1946

The University of Chattanooga began its fall semester with sixty new professors, a new science-research building, and a doubled enrollment of students.

Along with the excitement of getting back to college came two weeks of rushing for the five national women's fraternities on U. C.'s campus. Panhellenic rules allowed each fraternity a tea for all new women students, one off-campus party and one rush party at the house. The off-campus rush party was held at the lovely colonial home of one of the actives. The first floor was decorated to appear as a night club, "Coconut Grove." Tables with candle-lighting were scattered throughout the rooms. A program was given all during the rushees' stay at "Coconut Grove" and gay costumes and music added much to the atmosphere.

The party held at the chapter house was more serious and impressive. Pillows were arranged on the floor of the living room and an idea brought home from Convention was carried out. A huge ship had been painted by one of the old pledges and was placed on one side of the room. Small islands were also made and placed on the remaining walls, each labeled with the name of one of the five women's fraternities on campus. Large urns in front of the fireplace contained hot coffee. Low tables holding silver trays filled with a variety of fruit were in each corner. Greek-clad alumnae passed small cardboard ships filled with chicken, french fries, and carrot strips. During the evening an active dressed as a worried school-girl walked around the room, paused at each island, and finally stopped at the Isle of Pi Beta Phi. The president, Peggy Palmer, then brought out a large arrow shaped cake with candles and placed it before the  $\Pi \Phi$  island while the actives sang a song especially written for the skit.

On October 4, Emily Ann Davis was the  $\Pi \Phi$  sponsor for the University's first home football game.

Pledging was held October 5, and after the ceremony, the twenty three new pledges were entertained with a banquet held in the Sun Room of the Read House Hotel. Lovely wine carnations tied with silver blue ribbon were placed at each cover.

October 13 was Pi Phi Night and each member brought her date to the house for supper. After dinner, all the women of each fraternity on campus formed a long snake-line and marched or ran through each fraternity house singing their respective songs, then ended the snake-dance by stopping before the home of the president of the University of Chattanooga where the lovely Alma Mater was softly sung to Dr. Lockmiller and his wife and children by all the fraternity women of the campus.

PLEGDED: Jane Tolley, Phyllis Coulter, Norvell Jones, Martha Brooks, Joanne Winn, Lolann Harris, Dot Flenniken, Martha Campbell, Sue Brock, Dorothy Brien, Joan Jarrett, Marjorie Brinkley, Frances Roberts, Peggy Holdam, Dot Gilliam, Caroline Humphreys, Carolyn Hallmark, Chattanooga; Alma Ruth Riddle, Betty Lewis, Sue Eldridge, Hixon; Virginia Montgomery, Memphis; Sayle Milne, Cleveland; Lib Eyster, Jasper, Ala.

INITIATED, May 18, 1946: Eleanor Nelson, Nancy Orr, Nashville; Marguerite Gamble, Little Rock, Ark.; Mary Pride Jones, Birmingham, Ala.; Mary Jane Tyler, Drew, Miss.; Mary Wakefield, Union City.

Life on Vanderbilt campus is rapidly approaching the pre-war basis with a student body of over three thousand, which breaks all previous records of the school enrollment. With the return of the many veterans the social aspect of college life has reached an all time high. Dr. Harvey Branscomb, the new and most distinguished chancellor, arrived on the campus in September from Duke University. Even in such a short time the entire student body has been greatly impressed by his capability.

Fall rushing at Vanderbilt University got under way on September 18, and ended with pledging ceremonies for twenty girls on the afternoon of the twenty-first, followed with a cooky-shine.

Tennessee B has designated Wednesday night as guest night in the house. The first guests were the Dean of Women and her staff. Following a pep rally on October 11, the house was the scene of a spend the night party for the entire chapter. Refreshments, skits, and group singing provided ample entertainment for a successful evening.

Jane Lee was tapped for Mortar Board and was also elected president of the Honor Council. The Lotus Eaters, honorary society for sophomore women, have chosen Jane Todd and Mary Pride Jones for membership, with the latter holding the office of secretary. Diane du Plantier and Carolyn Southgate are new members of the Athenians, a junior honorary group. Patricia Smith was elected to  $\Phi \beta \kappa$ . Emily Manchester serves on the W.S.G.A. #### ALABAMA ALPHA—BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 15, 1946

INITIATED, September 22, 1946: Rowena Kidd, Jeanne Inscho, Betty Ray Price, Birmingham.

The student body of Birmingham-Southern has been doubled since last fall. Most of the new students are veterans, of course, and to take care of this increase twenty-two new professors have been added to the faculty. The college, realizing the housing shortage, has put up temporary buildings to house veterans and their wives and a dormitory for the single veterans.

Activities have developed greatly also. Last spring on May 30, the last day of school, the chapter gave its first formal in four years.

Intramurals play a large part in campus life, and Alabama A's go out for sports wholeheartedly. Betty Buck and Florence Henagan were chosen high point women for the year. Becky Martin and Anne Lewis were members of the all-star basketball team.

For the past five years "Sadie Hawkins" has reigned over the campus for a day. Everyone joins in the fun, and each sorority has a booth. For four years an Alabama A has been chosen "Miss Sadie Hawkins."

Martha Reynolds and Agnes Rogers, were initiated into  $\Phi$  B K and were graduated with honors. Mary Elizabeth Akroyd graduated cum laude.

Barbara Mullins was initiated into  $\Phi$   $\Sigma$  I, romance languages fraternity. Anne Lewis and Christine Elliott were elected into Amazons, and Betty Barnes became a member of the  $\Theta$   $\Sigma$  A, math fraternity.

Martelle Moore, Anne Lewis, Phyllis Anderson, Christine Elliott, and Claradel Scogin attended Convention and stopped over in New York for sight-seeing.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1913

Florida A, in keeping with the rest of John B. Stetson University, has been very busy this quarter. The crowded conditions on campus made it necessary to give up the fraternity room so that it might be used for a classroom. The chapter started the new year by acquiring and decorating a new room. Stetson has at present the largest student body enrollment in its history. Last fall the students numbered about six hundred. This quarter the total is approximately fifteen hundred. Thus, Stetson continues to go forward.

The informal party for rushees was held at the De Land Woman's Club which was decorated in an Hawaiian style. This motif was carried out in the entertainment and refreshments.

Florida A's formal rush was a progressive dinner party. A traditional Pi Phi Wedding theme was used, with an announcement party first, the wedding ceremony with the wedding dinner following, then moving on to another house for the reception.

The week-end of November 15 was homecoming at Stetson. The Inter-Fraternity Council sponsored a formal party. Picnics and banquets were arranged for the visitors, and Florida A gave its alumnae a cooky-shine.

Jean Douglas was chosen as president of "The Honor," the University's top honorary organization for women. Mary Louise Bradley (née Bohn) and Alice Parkhurst were initiated into  $\Phi$  B, national music honorary organization. Noreen Geyer was stage manager for the Stover Little Theatre production of "Midsummer Night's Dream." Eleanor Dooley, Audrey Smith, and Jean Noble were chosen to be on the staff of the Hatter, Stetson's yearbook. Faye Rogers was chosen Sweetheart of  $\Delta$   $\Sigma$   $\Phi$  Fraternity. Gerry Knight was chosen as one of Stetson's Orange Bowl Queen contestants.

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Chartered, 1921

The members of Florida B arrived in Tallahassee a few days before the beginning of rush week so that the house could be in perfect order and plans made. During the course of rush week a fashion show, an old-fashioned minstrel, and several skits were given by the members.

At the first chapter meeting after rushing was over, Florida B's convention delegate, Robin Hill, gave a most complete report. She told of amusing instances, meetings, and her participation in the model initiation as well as the social, legislative, and inspirational phases of Convention.

The chief innovation which took place on campus in September of 1946 was the making of Florida State College for Women into a coeducational institution. Since this was the first time that men ever attended classes at the college this was a major change. On October 5, receptions were given in all of the freshman dormitories to welcome the new coeds.

Robin Hill was elected to Mortar Board in April.

The ceremony of investiture for the seniors was held in the auditorium, October 29.

FLORIDA GAMMA—ROLLINS COLLEGE

Chartered, September 28, 1929

Pledge Day, January 19, 1947

Florida  $\Gamma$  started the new year by giving teas for all the incoming women on October 12 and 13 in order to become better acquainted with them. Due to the delayed rushing system, the chapter members are busy this first term making as many opportunities as possible to know the new girls, and to make a good start with their classwork.

October 12 was the date of homecoming. The chapter took an active part in preparing for the all college dance. Many of the alumnae returned for the occasion and the house was full of old and new Florida  $\Gamma$ s.

Jean Boher reported on Convention.

The chapter has planned a "Pi Phi Night" once a week at which time the members will gather to sing songs, talk over rushing plans, and snack. By devoting one full evening each week to the Fraternity, the girls believe the bond between them will become even closer.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, November 1, 1894

Pledge Day, September 30, 1946

The second post-war school year at Wisconsin has started with more spirit, tradition, and cooperation than the girls of Wisconsin A have ever seen. There are now 18,000 students on campus, only 5,000 of which are women. This is a definite change from the past few years. No longer does one see fellows in uniform, but all in civilian clothes. The boys have taken over the men's dorms once more, leaving less housing space for the girls.

At the chapter house itself, everyone was delighted to see the changes in decoration in the rooms. All rooms on second floor and some on third have been redecorated with beautiful wallpaper and new drapes. This has made the girls more proud than ever of the chapter house.

The end of 1945-6 brought many honors to Wisconsin A. Kathleen Thompson was elected historian of Mortar Board, while Maxine Trotter was elected to Crucible, honorary organization for junior women. Margaret Neprud holds the position of junior woman on Badger Board. Joan Sherer was elected to  $\Phi$  B K, and both Margaret Hukill and Barbara Mattieson Oakley were elected to  $\Phi$  K  $\Phi$ .

The fall activities at Wisconsin A included the traditional open house after the football games, Homecoming celebration and decorations, and the Father's Weekend which has become the favorite weekend of the year, both for the girls and their fathers.

Wisconsin A heartily welcomes Mrs. Russell Smith as its new chaperon. A tea was given in her honor this fall to enable her to meet all the other chaperons on campus.

Rushing activities were ably directed by Caroline Mahan and Wisconsin A now has a fine new pledge class of fifteen girls. The informal function this year was a western party and the house was decorated with stuffed animals and hay. The entertainment included an original song by Marion Cooper and Julie Ramsey.

PLEGDED: Mary Bogumill, Chicago, Ill.; Nancy Edwards, Wilmette, Ill.; Dorothy Zimmerman, Sheboygan; Jane Stouffer, Belmont, Mass.; Helen Michels, Cedarburg; Lucretia Huiskamp, Mary Lacey, Madison; Patricia Verly, La Crosse; Janet Williams, Kenilworth, Ill.; Marguerite Kearby, Georgeanne Levis, Milwaukee; Catherine Fitzpatrick, Madison; Jean Russell, Nancy Wackman, Wauwatosa; Florence Crowley, Beloit.

A chapter of K A  $\Theta$  has been installed on campus this year making more competition for all groups.

WISCONSIN GAMMA—LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1940

Pledge Day, September 22, 1946

INITIATED, September 23, 1946: Gail Whitaker, Manitowoc; Winogene Kellom, Beaver Dam.

The spirit of pre-war college days is back at Lawrence, and like all college coeds everywhere the Wisconsin  $\Gamma$ 's are anxious to make this year one of the happiest and most successful that the chapter has had. The fall semester began most happily with the pledging of twenty-nine new girls. The chapter room at Panhellenic House is now overflowing with actives and pledges although a few actives did not return this year.

Barbara Akers was elected president of  $\Sigma$  A I, national professional music sorority, last spring.

Last April Gladys Osborne reigned as Prom Queen at the spring prom. Rita Hodek, Patricia Johnson, and Marjorie Fors were among the twelve beauty queens. Marjorie Johnson was chosen  $\Sigma$   $\Phi$  E queen at the inter-fraternity ball.

The most outstanding award Wisconsin  $\Gamma$  received last spring was the Inter-Sorority Athletic Award presented at the Women's Athletic Association banquet. The chapter took first place in the archery contest and in the swimming meet, second place in baseball, and third in golf. Mary Ann Hammersley received a plaque for being the most outstanding and accomplished athlete, and for showing the most sportsmanship. Pat Geister was the only freshman to receive class numerals, and Pat, Betty Flom, Mary Ann Hammersley, Mary Lynn Seder, Jane Perry, Sue Cory, Elaine Wilmoth, Bernette Carlson, and Elsie Pederson received varsity letters in sports.

Elsie Pederson served as social chairman for inter-collegiate playday last May. Three of the seven girls participating in the May queen crowning held on Mother's Day were Mary Ann Hammersley, Virginia Reichardt, and Janet Goode.

Many of the Wisconsin  $\Gamma$ 's worked on and took part in the all-college musical production, "Bringing In the Spring," given last semester, as well as participating in the one-act plays. The chapter also gave a skit, "In the Merry Month of May," for the Mortar Board Follies. Sunset, the honorary dramatic organization on campus, recently initiated twelve new members, six of whom were Wisconsin  $\Gamma$ 's: Mildred Elwers, Kay Rall, Do Jean Kimball, Janet Goode, Winogene Kellom, and Rosemary Fulton. Rosie was also elected president of the Radio Players.

Elaine Wilmoth is one of the many Wisconsin  $\Gamma$ 's working on the staff of the Lawrentian, the college newspaper. She is the new assistant business manager. Elsie Pederson is the business manager of the literary magazine, The Jack Pot.

Mary Anchuetz, Winogene Kellom, and Marjorie Deetz are serving as counselors in the freshman dorms this year. Do Jean Kimball heads the Convocation Committee on the executive council of the student government, while Bernette Carlson and Elsie Pederson are serving on the Social Committee.

Wisconsin  $\Gamma$  is well represented in Spanish Club, holding three out of the five offices. At the club's recent meeting, Mary Anchuetz was elected president, Jean Hillberg, secretary, and Jean Meredith, treasurer.

The Annual Picnic in honor of the new pledges was held at the  $\Delta$  T  $\Delta$  house this fall. Everyone enjoyed the good fun and fellowship and took advantage of the opportunity to get better acquainted with all the pledges.

PLEGDED: Carol Berry, Beverley Christensen, Carolyn Conrad, Sue Cooley, Ann Cox, Jo Ann Cox, Lorraine Drolet, Barbara Evans, Marcia Forman, Anne Lackie, Barbara Lightfall, Jo Ann Lindeman, Jane McNamara, Coralynn Manchee, Marion L. ## ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

Chartered, 1930

Pledge Day, October 3, 1945

Rush Week was very successful and the parties planned were more than enjoyable and original.

The songs brought back from Convention were greeted with much enthusiasm and before long they were on the lips of every Pi Beta Phi on campus. Even the new pledges were able to join in the song at the cooky-shine held at Mrs. M. H. Eddy's home following pledging.

A formal dinner party was held September 30, in the Hotel Custer Ballroom. The rushees were invited to "Hotel Pi Beta Phi" and the theme was complete in every possible way, with receptionists, bell-hops, cigarette girls, and of course, an elegant dinner and floor show.

Each of the smaller parties had a definite theme which made them very unique and quite gay.

November 2 was an important date on the school campus—Homecoming! Jane Strack, Illinois B- $\Delta$ 's representative on the Student Council, was in charge of all the correspondence connected with the business details of the week-end. Tommie Tucker and his orchestra were a drawing card plus the game, pep rally, "Kampus Kapers," and the annual B  $\Theta$  II vs.  $\Phi$   $\Gamma$   $\Delta$  rope pull. The campus buzzed with excitement.

Convention delegates Gloria Richardson and Nancy Seigle along with other representatives, Margaret Lord, Ann McClanahan, and Joyce and Jo Ann Bower brought back many new and interesting facts and plans. Several changes in the system of rushing were made this September by the Northwestern Panhellenic Council. In previous years only seven days were open to formal rushing on the campus. With the new system now in order ten days were set aside. Also the quota of girls who could be pledged by each fraternity was lowered from thirty to twenty-five.

Social Chairman, Harriet Rhawn, foresees a varied program of festivities scheduled for the members of Illinois E. Commencing the fall season of activities was a beach party for members and pledges held September 29, at the home of Carolyn Conley, Highland Park. Included on the social calendar are several open house dances held after football games and a party for the new pledges. Entertainment for the pledge party will be in the form of a hay ride after which the girls will return to the chapter house for refreshments.

Pledge Day, September 21, 1946

INITIATED, September 22, 1946: Dwayne Dalton, Wilmette; Allie Lou Keighin, Morton; Joyce Mauney, Normal; George Seaman, Taylorville.

University of Illinois enrollment has increased to 18,000 and the green expanse of south campus is now the site of 318 temporary dwellings for veterans and wives. To meet this housing emergency, Panhellenic decided last spring to hold Rush Week in May. This plan was revolutionary since it has always been held at the opening of the fall term. The alumnae and the chapter cooperated wholeheartedly to make it a success.

Homecoming was an outstanding occasion this fall. The house was decorated in the Illini tradition and over a hundred alumnae were present for the open house after the game. A skit prepared by members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  and  $B \Theta \Pi$ was selected for use in the Homecoming Stunt Show.

Much appreciation is felt toward Mrs. Burke, the charming new chaperon, who has been most active in carrying out the chapter's interior decoration plans.

Last spring Mary Anne Jordan and Kathryn Seed were tapped by Shorter Board, while Mary MacLaughlin and Mary Myrth Wallace were selected by Torch. This year important positions are held by Allie Lou Keighin, circulation manager of the Daily Illini; Frances Drennan, Concert and Entertainment Board; and Mary MacLaughlin, chairman of office management for the Union Building. Allis Dennett has the lead in a major Theater Guild production.

The chapter received second place among women's fraternities for scholarship spring term. Straight "A" averages were made by Jean Fleharty for two consecutive semesters and Nancy Kollman for three. Lorrie Ross and Nancy Kollman were elected last spring to  $\Phi K E$ , a scholastic honorary for the upper .05% of the university.

With a record enrollment of over 6,500 students, fifty percent of whom are returned service men, the University of Manitoba is looking forward to the greatest year in its history. The eating facilities have been greatly expanded and modernized in order to handle the many students. While the University lost many fine professors, these were capably replaced and the staff enlarged.

All University activities this year are promoting the proposed recreational center and Students' Union Building. An extensive campaign is to be launched in the new year to raise the needed funds.

A co-ed breakfast hike was successfully held on October 5, followed by a co-ed reception on October 8 which depicted the different activities in which co-eds could participate.

The week of October 7 to 12 was devoted to welcoming the freshmen. This week included an interfaculty track meet, a freshman parade of floats, an inter-varsity rugby game, and was climaxed by a ball.

Rushing this year was cut to include only two teas and the final reception. No personal dating was allowed. The rugby season was the theme for the first tea, while the second tea featured a fashion show. The quota for each women's fraternity this year was eighteen.

Chartered, 1906

Pledge Day, October 7, 1946

INITIATED, May 13, 1946: Carol Esser, Morris.

INITIATED, October 14, 1946: Joan Edwards, Minneapolis. The University of Minnesota began the fall quarter with the largest enrollment in its history. The total enrollment of 27,000 students ranks in third place among colleges throughout the United States. Two-thirds of the students are veterans of World War II. Three Pi Beta Phis, Alta Smith, Sally Haxby, and Katherine Miller have returned to college after having served their country in the WAVES.

Last spring a Minnesota chapter of  $\Phi M \Delta$  was chartered on the campus and various chapters offered to help the girls get started by assisting them with their rushing teas.

This year under the direction of Enid Langman, pledge supervisor, Minnesota A has begun a training program for pledge sponsors. As a part of the training, round table discussions have been held, including a discussion led by the Dean of Student Activities, Barbara Clark, who expressed her ideas on helping pledges adjust themselves to fraternity life quickly.

Minnesota A defeated  $K K \Gamma$  for the inter-sorority basketball championship. Other social functions included a formal dance given at White Pine Inn, Bayport, Minnesota, an open house in honor of new pledges, a sponsor and pledge luncheon, and an open house following Minnesota's homecoming game with Purdue.

IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN COLLEGE

Chartered, 1869

Pledge Day, October 2, 1946

The school year opened at Wesleyan with one of the largest enrollments in history.

After three weeks of exhausting rushing the chapter has settled down to normal once again.

An informal rush party was held at the country home of Mrs. M. L. Dickson. The house was given a hotel atmosphere and as each girl entered she was asked to sign the register. Bellhops carried the luggage and showed the girls to their rooms. Six girls shared a room and one girl in each group dressed up in the articles of clothing contained in their combined suitcases. A style review followed and the "best dressed" girl for the evening was announced. At intervals throughout the evening each rushee received a telegram. A skit entitled "Historical Pi Phi's" was given by the active chapter. Fraternity songs were sung during the evening, and punch was served.

The formal rush party was held at the home of Mrs. E. Lines, with the annual theme, "Alice Blue Gown." Lace and blue satin covered programs, wine and blue flowers, and little Alice Blue Gown dolls made a very attractive dinner table. After dinner the group retired to the living room and sat around the fireplace singing fraternity songs. This was followed by a short, simple, but impressive wine and blue ceremony. The next day preferences were stated and Iowa A was overjoyed with her lucky eleven.

Pledging was held at Mrs. Helen Rhodes' home and after the ceremony the alumnae club served delicious hot chocolate, sandwiches and cookies.

Although it was a sad occasion that brought her, Iowa A was privileged and honored in having a visit from Miss Amy B. Onken. Miss Onken came to the funeral of Geraldine Mars Ristine. Mrs. Ristine, who resided here in Mt. Pleasant, was Theta Province President at one time and a very true friend of Iowa A. In her memory the chapter wore black velvet mourning ribbons beneath the Arrows.

This year Joyce Keefe is president of  $\Sigma T \Delta$ , honorary English fraternity; Beth Rochefort is editor of The Croaker, our yearbook; Beatrice Butler has been pledged to Qui Est, honorary women's fraternity. Coleen Swan is one of the school's cheer leaders, Mary Louise Venning is a twirler with the marching band, and the chapter is represented in the pep club by Joyce Keefe, Ruth Bennet, June Brenner, Gloria Eiklor, Joy Habel, Lois Jean McClure, Marian Morrison, and Joan Maxwell.

PLEGDED: Patricia Barret, Des Plaines, Ill.; Ruth Bennet, Elgin, Ill.; Joan Brau, Phyllis Haviland, Mt. Pleasant; Cynthia Middleton, Downers Grove, Ill.; Marylin Miles, Oak Park, Ill.; Kathryn Miller, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; Elizabeth Ann Lies, Chicago, Ill.; Patricia Richardson, Keota; Carolyn Shally, Nevada; Mary Louise Venning, Keokuk.

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, September 14, 1946

INITIATED, September 28, 1946: Patricia Ashing, Kellogg; Cleo Eason, Scranton; Mary Ecroyd, Indianola.

Things have changed from the war years when enrollment dropped to below 300 and there were only twenty fellows on campus. This fall the enrollment has soared to over 600 and Simpson is proud to welcome the G.I.'s to the campus. Sorority life is different, too, with the added fun of hour dances, firesides, and fraternity serenades.

Iowa B is happy to introduce, Mrs. Hollis Johnson as housemother.

Homecoming came the weekend of October 19 and everyone had a grand time at the first post-war celebration. It was complete with floats, house decorations, and all the typical Simpson spirit.

"Toby" Reynolds is active in many campus organizations. Last spring she was an attendant to the May Queen for the third consecutive year. Also, she has twice been a candidate for All-College Sweetheart and last spring was attendant to the conference track queen. She has sung in the college choir for three years and is a member of the W.R.A. board.

Three other girls are members of the W.R.A. honor society: Gwen Dimick, Betsy Yeates, and Mary Leitch. Mary is also treasurer of the board.

Editorship of the Simpsonian, college weekly, rests with Jo Hunter and several of the girls are busy on the staff. Jo is also a member of  $\Sigma T \Delta$  and the president of the Student Union Board.

Mary Lou Boyles was chosen by the student body last year as one of four Representative Women. She is also a member of  $M \Phi E$  and a member of the choir.

Mary Lou and Jo are both cheer leaders and twenty-five other Iowa B's wear the red and gold Pep Club sweaters. Mary Lou is vice-president and Drusilla Nemecek is secretary of this group.

Iowa State, like other colleges and universities throughout the nation, has a record enrollment for fall quarter. Official statistics indicate more than 9,000 students, 300 of these enrolled as freshmen in the Divisions of Engineering and Science being temporarily housed at Camp Dodge, an Army barracks twenty miles south of Ames, Pamell Court, emergency housing unit located on the north side of the campus, grows continually with the addition of trailers, pre-fabricated houses and quonset huts.

Late in the spring quarter Mortar Board chose Mary Alice Barber and Mary Dodds for membership. Iowa I was especially proud when Mary was the last member to be tapped, thus signifying her designation as president of the group.

Most of the chapter worked on its various committees for Veishea, the annual spring festival of the college. Norma Young was secretary of the Central Committee and Marge Lund was responsible for the chapter float which won first place among the sororities. The seventy floats in the parade reminded many bystanders of pre-war days as the celebration had been discontinued during the war.

In May The Bomb, Iowa State yearbook, announced Mary Lou Doyle and Ruth Walker as two of the four Bomb Beauties. "I" Fraternity initiated Frances Friley, Harris Kramer and Scotty Merrick into its membership. Riley Deal was elected Junior Representative of the Science Council to Cardinal Guild, student governing body. ## IOWA ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

With a deferred rushing system recently adopted at the University of Iowa, the Iowa Z chapter returned to school in mid-September without the usual excitement of rushing. However, with the increase of enrollment to over 10,000, renewed interest in projects and activities has taken the spotlight.

INITIATED, October 3, 1946: Charlene Doherty, Pierre. Many things are still prominent in the memories of South Dakota A from last school year. The chapter enjoyed the pleasant visit made by Mrs. Holton, Assistant to the Grand Treasurer, last May. The "Pi Phi Candyland" formal held last spring was one of the outstanding social events of the year. The chapter carried out this "Candyland" theme in one of the most successful parties given this September. The University has the largest enrollment of its history, and to accommodate new students two additional trailer villas have been added to the one already here. Many new instructors and courses have been added also. The South Dakota A open house held after homecoming October 6 for the alumnae was one of the social highlights of the fall.

A tea was given to introduce Mrs. Guy Andrews, South Dakota A's new housemother, to the faculty, students and townspeople.

KANSAS BETA—KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, October 26, 1946

Things definitely are not "back to normal" at Kansas State this year. They have gone far beyond the normal! An enrollment of 6,490 (men outnumber women almost five to one) has created campus problems of housing, food, recreation, and classroom facilities similar to those on college campuses throughout the country. Housing tension has been relieved partially by importing Army barracks, one hundred trailers, and by remodeling Memorial Stadium to house several hundred men.

The Stoolman vase, shared jointly with Ohio A, was displayed prominently on the living room mantel for Parents' Day in the fall. Next to the trophy was the City Panhellenic scholarship cup which Kansas B earned permanently early last spring for attaining scholarship averages which led all campus sororities for three consecutive years. Kansas B led the scholarship field for women's fraternities during the spring semester, too.

The social life of Kansas State is giddy with gay parties! A "chuck wagon" party at the chapter house honored rushers last summer. Rush Week theme was "Candy Land." The dining room was disguised with candy-coated murals showing the travels of two lollipop through a besugared Candy Land.

Opening the fall Pi Beta Phi whirl was a picnic for dates in Sunset Park. This was followed by a modernized version of a barn dance. The barn was complete with fall and country atmosphere and color, but its walls resounded with the dance music of the leading campus orchestra.

In November was the Victory Homecoming, a five-day celebration which included floats, parades, decoration of all Greek houses, daily pep stunts, and a grand ball climaxing the week.

Many individual honors within the Fraternity have accumulated since the last ARROW. Ruth Hodgson was named chairman of the Student Planning Committee, the most important addition to the campus since last spring. The committee held a three-day conference with sixty-five Kansas State student leaders in early September to draft plans for revitalizing the politics, religious activities, social life, student government system, student-faculty relationships, and intramural sports programs at the college.

Two Mortar Board members were chosen from Kansas B last spring. Ruth Hodgson and Tess Montgomery. Tess is editing the yearbook this year.

Four women were awarded memberships in Prix, junior women's honorary. They are Nancy Diggle, Ann Huddleston, Patricia McCrary, and Patricia Piffer. Patty Piffer is president of the Panhellenic Council this year.

Omicron Nu claimed Ruth Hodgson and Jeanne Wells. Sophomore scholastic honors for being in the upper five per cent of the class were awarded to five Kansas B women: Nancy Diggle, Beverly Hayes, Patricia McCrary, Jeanne Wells, and Ruth Ann Wolf. Jeanne Wells was one of three art award winners selected from 500 students last spring.

Kansas B is delighted to have Mrs. R. W. Torrey at the house once again. Mrs. Torrey was chaperon here for twelve years before the war.

The Fraternity welcomed a chapter of A X  $\Omega$  to the campus this fall. This brings the number of national women's fraternities on the campus to eight.

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Chartered, 1885

Pledge Day, September 27, 1946

College life became more active at the University of Denver in fall quarter with an increased enrollment of 8000 students, and a campus transformed by temporary housing units and dormitories. The traditional "Kangaroo Courts" added to the activity with a freshman week climaxed by a rally and "Chuck Wagon" luncheon in view of the Colorado Rockies.

Emily Girault, Jeanne MacNeill, Margaret McKenny, Peggy Melzer, and Shirley Jo Van Fleet were tapped by Mortar Board.

The chapter officers met to discuss and act upon new policies established at Convention. Nine members attended and their new ideas were explained by Janet Brazile, delegate, and Jeanne MacNeill, president.

Many members are participating in the newly organized University A Cappella Choir and University Chorus. Both the choir and chorus have a full schedule of performances for the year.

The chapter has strived for better relations on the campus by having inner fraternity luncheons and "coffee chats." An informal coffee was given October 11 to honor A X  $\Omega$  which recently installed a chapter on campus.

After the pledging ceremony, September 27, a box supper was given by the active members for the pledges followed by an exciting time at the football game.

Twenty-two pledges afforded fun and laughter during the cooky-shine September 30, and the evening ended with favorite Pi Beta Phi melodies.

Pledge Day, September 6, 1946

INITIATED, September 29, 1946: Margaret Alice Brown, Ardmore; Patricia Burns, Rebecca Porter Berry, Norman; Gloria Marie Martin, Ponca City; Eva Lee Jochem, Tulsa; and Jean Bailey, Little Rock, Ark.

Oklahoma A had a very successful rush party this year with a perfume bar as the theme of its program. Patti McWilliams, dressed in a raincoat and rubber boots and carrying an umbrella, represented "Spring Rain." Patty Palmer, who wore a black satin date dress, represented "Jet." "Blue Hour" was portrayed by Sally Berryhill, who wore a lovely blue satin formal. These and many more carried out the theme while Zannie May Manning provided the narrative for the program, and Kay Cooley played appropriate piano music.

All of the students at the University of Oklahoma were certainly pepped up after the Sooners made such a good showing in the football game against Army. It started the football season off with a bang.

Dad's Day was celebrated October 19. Oklahoma A entertained the  $\Pi \Phi$  fathers at a dinner before the football game.

The men's fraternities on campus re-opened this fall after complete inactivity during the war. The first three weeks of school the fraternity men entertained twice a week with a dessert for the women's fraternity pledges. They have also started having their formal dances.

A large column in the center of the floor had the greek letters of the men's fraternities upon it. After a two-weeks delay in the opening of school, Oklahoma B had a very successful rush week. The system for fall rush was changed this year. Two informal dates were held in the afternoon, and a fifth date was divided into two parts. This last date was preferential.

Immediately after classes began, the chapter learned that it had rated first on the campus scholastically for the third consecutive semester. Carol Merrifield had twenty-one hours of "A" last semester, which was the highest number of straight "A" hours ever recorded at Oklahoma A. and M. Last spring, Jean Marie Kerns, Pauline Dilts, and Carol Merrifield were tapped by Mortar Board. Jean Marie was elected sponsor of Orange Quill, the sophomore honor society, and Carol was elected sponsor of Orange and Black Quill, the freshman honor society.

Pauline Dilts was selected as one of twenty-five girls in the United States to take a special course in the Merrill Palmer School in Detroit, Michigan. She will return to A. and M. next semester.

In cooperation with Panhellenic, Oklahoma B held open house on September 30 and October 6 for all men on the campus.

The chapter honored its new housemother, Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, at a tea given on Saturday afternoon, October 5.

College life here is getting back to normal, now that the men's fraternities are again on the campus. The week-ends are filled to overflowing with the social events.

With a sixty per cent increase in enrollment over any previous semester in its history, the university has started the year with 3600 students, a figure which does not include the increase of 600 freshmen in late October. Approximately fifty people have been added to the university teaching staff to meet the need. Pledge Day, September 30, 1946

INITIATED, April 28, 1946: Bette Jean Barnes, Gloria Bryant, Kathryn Coke, Jane Doty, Julia Ann Dyer, Phoebe Foster, Ann Hansen, Becky Kindred, Sara Lee Kitchens, Marilyn Murrah, Susie Scott, Marilyn Souder, Mary Lou Staley, Joan Thompson, Helen Wolfe, Donna Wolfe, Cora Sue Wootters.

The returning veterans on the campus of S.M.U. have increased the enrollment to a new high of 7,000 topping last year's maximum of 2,400. The faculty has been increased by one hundred and fifty new members, and Ann Harrison, an alumna of Texas B and June graduate of S.M.U., is back this year teaching freshman English. The nine fraternities on the campus have pledged 231 men.

Panhellenic raised the pledge quota to twenty-five, enabling eleven sororities to pledge 209 girls. Friday, October 4, was Pledge Night, at which time each sorority held open house for the fraternities. This was followed by the Pledge Night dance honoring new sorority pledges. The active social life on the campus began with the traditional Pi Beta Phi "A" function which was held at the Dallas Country Club.

Several members of Texas B have distinguished themselves by receiving high honors on the campus. Jean Wellborn was recently elected president of the Decima chapter of Mortar Board, and other new Mortar Board members are Eugenia Pierce and Ann Leslie Turner. Eugenia Pierce was elected to "Square," composed of the four most outstanding senior women on the campus. Mary Lou Staley was chosen a Rotunda Beauty, and Beauty Nominee was Gloria Bryant. Bette Jean Barnes was elected president of  $\Phi$   $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ .

Jean Wellborn was delegate to Convention last June, and other representatives from Texas B were Lilyan Ruth Coleman, Eugenia Pierce, Cora Sue Wootters. Sara Lee Kitchens represented the pledge class.

On May 14, the Pi Beta Phi Mothers' Club sponsored the first traditional Father-Daughter Banquet since the war. The program consisted of a Pi Beta Phi sing-song by the members, Can-Can dancers, and a barber shop quartet, composed of four of the dads. The evening was climaxed by each father contributing to the housing fund. A sorority quadrangle, composed of individual sorority apartments, may soon become a reality, and with the assistance of the Mothers' Club, Texas B has been raising funds in order to be able to furnish their apartment when the quadrangle is completed.

Texas B has held first place in scholarship on the campus for three consecutive semesters, and it is hoped that this level can be maintained.

LOUISIANA ALPHA—NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Chartered, 1891

INITIATED, October 10, 1946: Elaine Sarre.

The fortunate members of Louisiana A who attended the National Convention have given a glowing account of every minute. The eight members who went all said that the Convention was inspiring and came back full of enthusiasm. The spirit which they brought back with them has spread throughout the chapter.

Panhellenic has once again changed the rushing rules and as a consequence the sororities are trying out a new system, that of rushing after mid-semester exams. To be eligible for rushing, a girl must have made a passing average.

Many members participated in the Newcomb orientation program. The presidents of various organizations formed a committee. Page Cary, president of Assets, was one of the members, and Anne Landry Joan Gillis, Elaine Sarre, Elizabeth Nicholson, Charlene McCorkle, and Lydia Caffery were selected as "big sisters." The freshmen (town and dormitory girls) arrived the weekend before the school commenced and were introduced to the traditions and customs of the school by a group of upperclassmen known as "big sisters." This group lived in the dormitory for the weekend and made it easier for the freshmen to become adjusted. Various parties were given by the fraternities and other organizations to meet the "Freshies."

Louisiana A is very fortunate this year to have with it two attractive transfers, Roberta Doggett from Randolph-Macon and Margaret Lyons from Southern Methodist University.

For the first time in years, the Times Picayune has appointed a Newcomb correspondent to be in charge of all editorials concerning activities on the campus. Pat Phillips was selected.

Special events of rush-week included the first get-acquainted party, "Punch With Pi-Phi," a take off on "Breakfast in Hollywood." Also "A Pi Phi Primer party" introducing the "Rushees' Primer," and the traditional "Arrow Tea," at which Mrs. Dixon Smith gave a reading of "The Symphony," were among the activities of the week.

Pledging was held September 18, in the chapter room, followed by the cooky-shine and a dinner at Tootie Ratliffs'.

ALBERTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Chartered, September, 1931

Pledge Day, October 16, 1946

INITIATED, October 6, 1946: Marcia Gillespie, Dorothy Ower, Edmonton; Lois Hill, Calgary.

Registration week, late in September, brought over four thousand students to the University of Alberta campus. To cope with the overcrowded conditions the University has purchased army huts. Now many students attend lectures in these huts or live in them at a former American airbase. The influx of students also necessitates evening lectures and labs.

For the first time the University of Alberta is celebrating homecoming week. Previously, alumnae have met quietly off-campus. Plans include faculty displays, a football game with the University of Saskatchewan, and a gala Homecoming Dance.

Full rushing of second-year girls was limited to an "At-Home Party" and a "Semi-Preference Tea." Bid results found Pi Beta Phi again sweeping the campus. Twelve girls were pledged October 16 and were afterwards given a cooky-shine by the Edmonton Alumnae Club. The pledges were entertained October 23 at a "Hillbilly Hoedown" in the chapter house which was gaily decorated for the occasion.

Panhellenic plans for the season emphasize special educational programs for inter-fraternity firesides. Each women's fraternity will entertain members of the Co-Ed Club on these evenings.

A new project begun by Alberta A is to entertain patients of the Colonel Mewburn Military Hospital at Sunday afternoon teas. The chapter will also hold the customary exchange parties with various men's fraternities.

The chapter was much interested to hear delegate Margaret Smothers Millar's report of Convention.

IDAHO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, September 25, 1946

With the appointment of Jess E. Buchanan to the presidency of the University, an Idaho alumnus for the first time in the college's history was named to the state's top educational position. Buchanan, who succeeds Harrison C. Dale as president, was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1927 with highest honors and since 1938 had been dean of the college of engineering.

Various activities have already dotted the calendar and many others are being anxiously awaited. Holding one of the biggest interests was the first football game of the season with Stanford at Palo Alto, California, September 28 and the following game with Washington State College at Pullman October 25. Idaho's 1946 homecoming week-end also was celebrated with enthusiasm by alumni and students. "Roast the Ducks Brown" served as the theme around which living groups planned floats and house decorations.

Idaho A's who served on homecoming committees were: Barbara Thompson, Jackie Ritchie, Imogen Love, Gwen McKay, and Norma Grimmert.

Idaho student No. 3404 passed through Registrar D. D. DuSault's office October 1 and more veterans were expected to enroll later. When they did they looked with a gloomy eye on the registrar's tally sheet which, in cold figures, indicated that the ratio of men over women was about 3.27 to 1.

Several members have been chosen for honorary organizations and elected to offices on campus this fall. Betty Ann Craggs was elected to Mortar Board and serves as treasurer of that organization. She also is president of Westminster Guild, Presbyterian Women's group; treasurer of Associated Women Students; and secretary of A E  $\Delta$ , pre-medics honorary. Jean Thompson reigned as May Queen at the May Fete at which Darlene Henderson and Margaret Burson was tapped for Spurs. Margaret is also a member of the all-girl singing orchestra and corresponding secretary of K  $\Phi$ , national Methodist women's organization. Marion Eisenhauer, who with Betty Ann Craggs, was a representative to National Convention, is on executive board of Westminster Guild and is treasurer of  $\Pi$  T  $\Theta$ , national home economics honorary. Leona Bales is president of this organization and Dolores Gooby is also a member. Jewel Mays and Barbara Newell were tapped for  $\Phi$  X  $\Theta$ , national business honorary, and Gwen McKay was tapped for K  $\Delta$   $\Pi$ , national education honorary. Elizabeth Sutton and Jackie Ritchie serve on executive board of W.A.A. and Jackie is A.W.S. representative. Mary Little, who was the first girl to earn enough points to be eligible for Radio Club, a newly organized group, is administrative officer of this group.

A new system of pre-registration rushing was initiated on campus in September and proved to be very successful.

PLEGDED: Charline Bales, Caldwell; Peggy Bollman, Rosemary Fitzgerald, Moscow; June Burch, Joyce Freeland, Coeur d'Alene; Pat Feddersen, Kellogg; Joyce Garner, Buhl; June Hoops, Twin Falls; Loreta Martindale, Theresa Rivet, Lois Willy, Boise; Pat Miller, Phyllis Schulz, Idaho Falls; Marilyn Mingus, Emmett; Gerry Shepard, Spokane, Wash.; Verley Takkinen, McCall; Janet Welo, Sandpoint.

With the fall opening of the University of Washington there were many changes in the campus and college life. First, came the return of the quarter system which was heartily received by the students. The major change came with the increased enrollment of the University which, on October 5, the opening day of school, reached the all time high of 17,500 students. This great number has made necessary the creation of evening and Saturday classes and the construction of more buildings.

During the spring semester, Washington A activates won many scholastic and activity honors on the campus. Ruth Dunlap was elected vice president of  $\Delta$   $\Phi$   $\Sigma$ , music honorary. Ruth was also given the sophomore award for the most outstanding woman in music given by M  $\Phi$  E, another music honorary. Carol Green was chosen the most outstanding woman in chemistry. Others elected to scholastic honors include: Dorothy Anderson, A K A, sociology honorary; Marilyn Dills,  $\Phi \Sigma I$ , romantic languages honorary; Robin Harris,  $\Theta \Sigma II$ , women's journalism honorary; and Betty Bovee, A P, are honorary.

In the activities field, Ann Hagen was tapped for Mortar Board, Totem Club, junior activity honorary, invited Sue Schroeder, Ann Hagen, Janice Heide, and Robin Harris into its membership. Matrix Table, honoring outstanding junior and senior women, extended invitations to Ann Hagen, Robin Harris, Julie Scott, and Mary Caroline Stahlberg.

Gweny Parry played the leads in the campus productions of "A Philadelphia Story" and "Hobson's Choice."

Last May, a new system of rushing was installed at the University whereby, instead of rushing all the girls in the fall, plans were made to rush the girls then on the campus in May. This plan cut the number to be rushed in the fall.

The chapter was honored to have Mrs. Alford visiting at the time of Founders' Day. Her visit greatly aided the chapter in bringing the national viewpoint to the house.

This year the chapter has instituted what is called a "Fraternity Night." Once a month, after a chapter meeting, all members gather to chat, talk over house problems, and sing. At the party, the girl who is judged by the chapter to have been the most inspiring during the month, is awarded the "Girl of the Month Bracelet."

Fall rushing began September 17 and ended with the pledge dinner and open house on September 28.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, July, 1912

Pledge Day, September 27, 1946

INITIATED, September 21, 1946: Elaine Bellinger, Bellingham; Beverly Rasmussen, Montesano.

The students of Washington State College returned this fall to an unfamiliar campus. Like other colleges, the school is trying to accommodate as many people as possible, and temporary dormitories and apartments have sprung up like toadstools. Much of the post-war planning in landscaping, building, and road repair is also being carried out; so, besides coming back to an overabundance of people, the old students have found the physical contour of the campus very much changed.

The Washington B's climaxed a most successful rushing period by pledging ten girls. The rushing program followed the trend of the last few years towards making functions more informal and enjoyable for all. This was the first year of rushing for the new chapter of  $\Delta \Gamma$  and, with the opening of the A  $\Phi$  house a year ago, thirteen national women's fraternities are now represented on the campus. All the established fraternities for women did their part in helping to give these two houses a strong start.

The trophy for intramural debate was won for Washington B last spring by Beverly Gregory and Billies Bowers. Many of the girls were invited into scholastic honoraries, among them being Janet Roberts, who was elected into  $\Phi B K$  and  $\Phi K \Phi$ , and Jane McMicken who was chosen for  $\Phi K \Phi$ . Other activity honors won include prominent positions on the campus publications and committee appointments for the Associated Women Students, Y.W.C.A., and the Associated Student Body. Gladys Cox has had leading rôles in two of the college plays.

The outstanding social event of last semester was the traditional semi-formal Pi Phi Tea Dance, which is a dinner dance from five to nine. Fresh spring flowers were the only decorations used. Another function enjoyed by all the members was the Founders' Day picnic, at which the Idaho A's were guests. Also, the local alumnae presented an impressive ceremony followed by a cooky-shine to remind the girls of the significance of Founders' Day.

PLEDGED: Armilda Boone, Chehalis; Pauline Danielson, Marilyn Hahn, Spokane; Mildred King, Bellingham; Geraldine Newell, Seattle; Dorothy Polley, Janet McMath, Tacoma; Nancy Roberts, Pullman; Ethel Thiessen, Glenna Williams, Everett.

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, October 29, 1915

Pledge Day, September 13, 1946

INITIATED, April 27, 1946: Mary Lou Klepper, Ann Meilstrup, Portland; Bernice Layton, Astoria.

An unusually sunny spring term was all that was needed to stimulate the desire for picnics, sun-bathing, outdoor sports, and other spring activities on the University of Oregon campus. A very successful baseball season took top honors on the campus sports roster.

The highlight of the term, however, was Junior Weekend under the co-chairmanship of Marilyn Sage. Centered around the "State Fair" theme, Junior Weekend commenced Friday night with the All-Campus Sing, continued through Saturday with the freshman-sophomore tug-of-war and parade of floats which were judged at the picnic grounds where the coronation of the weekend queen was held. The gala climax was the Junior-Senior prom Saturday night, many parents were present, with Mothers particularly invited for the campus Mother's Day ceremonies on Sunday.

Helyn Wholer was elected to  $\Phi B K$  and received a one-year \$1000 fellowship in English at the University of California. Marilyn Sage and Martha Thorsland were among the ten members tapped by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Nila Desinger and Helen Hicks were chosen for  $\Phi \Theta T$ , junior women's honorary. Mary Jane Harrison, Beverly Pitman and Jordis Benke were chosen for Kwama, sophomore women's honorary. Marilyn Sage was elected president of  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , journalism honorary.

Upon the return to school this fall Oregon A had an unusually large number of actives. The overcrowded situation prevailed on the campus and by the end of the first week of classes 5700 students, over twice the enrollment last fall, were registered. To meet the crowded conditions, students were forced to carry Saturday and late afternoon classes, and a higher grade-point average must be maintained.

Among those elected to offices this fall were Martha Thorsland as co-chairman for Religious Emphasis Week, and Jordis Benke as advertising manager of Old Oregon, the publication for alumni by Oregon students. Throughout the summer and for the coming year, Nila Desinger holds the highest appointive Panhellenic office of Relations Chairman.

CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1900

Pledge Day, October 5, 1946

INITIATED, April 1, 1946: Marcia Browning, Delight Downs, Berkeley; Kathryn Swayne, Alameda; Susan Thomas, Joan Stammer, Fresno; Ann Fraser, Piedmont; Jane Harding, Carolina Winston, Gabriel Gianetti, Los Angeles; Lois Lee Knight, South Pasadena; Jacqueline Kingsbury, Sacramento; Carolyn Clock, Long Beach; Jean Lohmann, Ross.

The fall semester enrollment at the University of California is the largest registration in the history of any university in the United States. College is back to its pre-war schedule of a two semester year.

Nancy Clapham was elected publicity manager of the Pelican, the college humor magazine, and a member of the junior class council. Polly Mansfield, Jeanie Mahan, and Susan Thomas were appointed to the staff of Blue and Gold, the year book, and Claire Bentley became an ex officio member of the sophomore class council. These positions will be held through this fall semester.

Last term California B was honored by a visit from the Grand President Amy Burnham Onken. A tea was held in her honor at the chapter house attended by California alumnae, university faculty members and Panhellenic representatives.

The California basketball team as a result of winning the Pacific Coast Conference League was sent to Kansas City to play the Colorado and Oklahoma teams. This event gave the University considerable publicity and raised the school spirit to its pre-war level.

The fall semester has brought a spirit to University of California which students who attended during the war have never before experienced. The football season commenced with a rally held the night preceding the first game. Students gathered for the rally at Edwards Field to witness the crowning of the queen for the day of the game and her four attendants, one of whom is Patty Spry. Also the university chorus entertained the student body with a program of California songs.

A university meeting was held the first week of the semester in the Greek Theater. President Robert Gordon Sproul gave an address welcoming all new and returning students. A reception was held in the Hearst Gymnasium at which Alice Rea was asked to receive.

Rushing has been the main activity of the chapter since the new semester began.

The Panhellenic fashion show in which every women's fraternity on the campus was represented by one or two models, was presented at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco on October 4. The participants from California B were Alice Rea and Drusilla Lane.

PLEDGED: Ann Edwards, Orinda; Katherine Whitner, Ann Caroline Fitzsimmons, Charlotte, N.C.; Janice Heckner, Nancy Jane Majors, Barbara Jane Kendrick, San Francisco; Martha Helm, Ann Elizabeth Tretts, Fresno; Joyce Jaeger, Jane Lamborn, Berkeley; Peggy Lou Lacy, Stockton; Margaret Louise Moorhead, Chico; Lucille Jane Paxton, Los Angeles; Sally Saxby, Oakland; Elizabeth Treadwell, Honolulu, Hawaii; Carol Melinda White, Beverly Birbeck, Lorraine Jackson, Eleanor Penfield, Piedmont. ## CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Pledge Day, September 17, 1946

INITIATED, October 12, 1946: Jill Hessin, Nancy McMillan, Janice Woolf, Los Angeles; Barbara Du par, Beverly Hills; Polly Chapman, Shirley Hitzker, Janet Holter, Pasadena; Marcia Day, Laguna Beach; Charlene Hardey, Brawley; Mary Louise Harris, Glendale; Jackie Swarthout, Van Nuys; Jeanne Wilmot, Long Beach.

California  $\Gamma$  is still benefiting from the inspiration of Miss Onken's visit. She presented many wonderful new ideals which are being incorporated into the chapter. The joint initiation which Miss Onken conducted for the California  $\Delta$ 's and this chapter will be one long remembered by those initiates and the actives present.

Many California  $\Gamma$ 's have received honors and positions of leadership in campus activities. Anne Pearce is the new president of Mortar Board, making the second consecutive year that a California  $\Gamma$  has held this top honor on campus. Peggy Cornell was elected president of Amazons, all university women's honorary. Barbara Thompson, a newly elected member of Amazons, was also elected vice-president of Associated Women Students. Serving on the Associated Women Students Council is Alice Gordon as Scrapbook Chairman and Barbara Potter, Point Recorder. Kay Didrickson, Gerry Olerich, Kay Stevenson, and Janice Woolf are charter members of the newly organized sophomore honorary, Sword and Shield. Barbara Butterfield is president of Tro-eds, all university freshmen women club. Serving in the capacity of Senior Judge in Judicial Court is Bette Olerich. In the field of beauty, Jackie Swarthout is attendant to the "Hello and Smile Week" queen.

Three new fraternities have come on campus this semester. Acacia has had full approval and  $B \Theta \Pi$  and  $K \Lambda \Psi$  have colonies organized. Also of interest is the radio station, KUSC, which is to be built on campus. It is to be housed in the Allan Hancock Building and will be student operated with programs to fit the taste of most college students. Everyone is looking forward to its debut.

All of the fraternities have re-opened their houses and the social life of "the row" is in full swing. First on the chapter calendar was a dessert with the Beta's. It proved to be a truly successful affair. The party after Initiation and the Initiation Banquet were given at the home of Evelyn Wells. It was strictly an active affair following the tradition of California  $\Gamma$ . On October 19 the Pi Beta Phi's and K A's gave a Candy Cane Party at the Bel Air Bay Club, and on November 16 the chapter gave a formal with the  $\Sigma A E$ 's. The California  $\Gamma$ 's are looking forward to the second annual Golden Arrow Dance to be given jointly with California  $\Delta$ . The tentative date for this big event of the season is March 2.

ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered 1917

Pledge Day, September 19, 1946

INITIATED, September 28, 1946: Jeanne Kast, Tucson; Frances Martin, Marion Pool, Phoenix; Anne Arnold, Houston, Tex.; Doris Shields, Amarillo, Tex.; Virginia Parks, Whittier, Calif.

At the Annual Women's Day Assembly last spring, Barbara Best and Janet Edmonds were chosen for Spurs, Lyle Genung and Barbara Peabody were selected for FST, junior honorary, and Aline Kinnison was tapped for Mortar Board. Barbara Peabody was awarded a cup for the most outstanding sophomore of the university. Mildred Burch, Barbara Peabody, and Aline Kinnison were given "A" sweaters for earning 1000 athletic points. The chapter also won the Panhellenic supremacy cup, which is awarded annually to a women's fraternity on the basis of scholarship, activities, pledges taken, and general attitude. The choice is made by popular vote of all women's fraternities on campus. Arizona A is striving to win the cup again this year.

The Saturday after pledging, an open house was given for the new pledges and campus men were invited to attend. Another use was found for the new flagstone porch on the terrace, the guests danced there to the accompaniment of an orchestra.

The traditional Mom's and Dad's Day, sponsored by Mortar Board, was held October 19 to honor the parents and entertain them with a sports exhibition, a president's reception, and a football game. The Arizona A's invited their parents to the house for a lunch given in true Thanksgiving style.

With the greatly increased enrollment of 4300 students on campus, social activities have reached a new high. The fraternities have been serenading frequently, and every weekend the chapter receives several serenades, which it answers with its Pi Phi songs from the balcony of the house.

The Σ X, Σ N and Δ X fraternities have invited the chapter to exchange dinners at their houses. Arizona A gave an exchange dinner for the Tri Deltas to welcome this new chapter to the campus.

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Pledge Day, April 19, 1946

INITIATED, April 28, 1946: Mary Lou Baxter, Marion Caffey, Joyce Henderson, Marilyn Johnson, Pauline Judd, Margaret Viko, June Wilkins, Salt Lake City; Sharon Boyle, Thelma Peterson, Ogden; Claire Engleman, Arthur; Mary Ellen Jordan, Playa del Rey, Calif.

Last May at the Hall of Fame, the annual event at which the women's organizations present the awards and honors achieved during the year, Pi Beta Phi was well-represented. Margaret Vike, Thelma Peterson, Mitzi Johnson, and Nancy Peery were chosen for Spurs. Ann Lehner and Margaret Woodruff are new Cwens members, the junior activity and scholastic honorary, while Jean Bickmore and Sally Ralph were tapped by Mortar Board. Sally was selected president of Mortar Board.

Ann Lehner was awarded the Cwens Scholarship for her outstanding scholastic and activity record. Jean Bickmore won an Exchange Club Scholarship, awarded annually to the two students who have done the most for their campus.

Utah A won the Citizenship Award for the third consecutive year. This award, formerly called the War Service Award, is presented each year by the Dean of Women to the sorority which has been most active in services of community significance. Consideration is taken of all war activities by individuals and the group as a whole, community services, evidences of a constructive interest in community, national and world problems and an attempt to do whatever possible to alleviate these problems.

Norma Williams was elected by the student body to reign as attendant to the "U" Day Queen. At the "U" Day Song-fest Utah A won the third place cup.

Peggy Dixon was appointed business manager of the Unique, campus humor magazine, and Margaret Woodruff won the position of business manager of the Usonian.

Norma Williams climaxed her senior year by being chosen Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Lorraine Jensen was selected Queen of Utah's Covered Wagon Days, the most celebrated holiday in the state. During the weeks leading up to the twenty-fourth of July, Lorraine was honored at numbers of luncheons, dinners, and other events by state dignitaries.

School this year is a new experience for most of us, as there are many innovations. The football season brought thrills and good times. The chapter members went to Denver to see the game and meet the Colorado B's. A week later Utah A was happy to have some of the Colorado B's as guests for homecoming celebration.

The seventh of December was the date of the Tri Delta-Pi Beta Phi Formal. A combination event of this sort was new on campus. And it proved to be a memorable occasion.

PLEGDED: Jane Felt, Donna Menkenmaier, Patty Nilson, Elaine Richards.
