A tradition continues

It is interesting how some traditions tend to run in Pi Phi families. When my mother, Martha Bowman Ebeling, was a senior at Ohio Wesleyan University in 1954, she and the other Ohio Deltas helped colonize the Ohio Eta Chapter at Denison University, which I ultimately pledged in 1975. Shortly after I joined the Madison, Wisconsin Alumnae Club, I became the co-chairman of the Wisconsin Alpha recolonization committee and then the new chapter's first AAC Chairman, in 1986. My mother is once again involved in the colonization of a chapter, as Installation Chairman and AAC member for the Ohio Iota, being installed this fall.

A helpful hint

Every summer I take out my Pi Phi tote (or I order a new one) and use it as my summer handbag. I usually spend several weeks during the summer in Estes Park, Colorado and my Pi Phi purse always helps me meet a new Pi Phi sister. Whether I'm browsing in one of the downtown shops or standing in the grocery checkout line, someone will come up and comment that I must be a Pi Phi. They always recognize the handbag. I recommend that everyone carry one. It's a sure way to meet some of the very nicest people.

Fund to be established

On July 15 of this year our daughter, Christine Louise Ruegg died in a boating accident. She was a member of Pi Beta Phi at the University of Oregon. During her two years there we noticed a great deal of improvement in her personal growth as well as in her educational development. We attribute this in large part to the influence of your organization.

My wife and I would like to talk to someone about setting up a memorial scholarship fund in her name. We would initially fund it with $500.00 per year with the possibility of increases in future years. We would like the money to be used to help her sorority sisters at the University of Oregon Chapter where her younger sister is now a member and we would also like to have some control over who receives the money.

To Our Readers

The desk is piled with letters, packages, and Federal Express envelopes. Beneath the clutter of paper one can find a T-square, triangle, pica pole, and a proportional wheel. Copies of past issues of The ARROW are strategically placed at the top of the desk for inspiration.

After four years of college and two years of being a Graduate Consultant, I was beginning to fear what the "real world" might bring. Last spring as I was finishing my last chapter visits, I was simultaneously scoping the job world. I didn't know how I would ever be able to find a job that I could be as committed to or that I would enjoy as much as I did being a Consultant. I was preparing myself to go through withdrawal from not hearing how Oklahoma Beta and Virginia Eta were doing. I couldn't imagine a day without a single phone call from a member distressed about a chapter problem or thrilled to share news about a new program or idea brought into the chapter.

I was able to find that ideal job, and in reality not much has changed. My suitcases have been replaced by a real office and I have finally settled into my very own apartment. But I still get frantic phone calls, and more than ever I am able to keep up on the latest in chapter news. At the same time I have been exposed to that wonderful realm of alumnae life in Pi Beta Phi, which has made the transition into the "real world" much easier.

The desk is still a mess as I finish up this, my first, issue of The ARROW. Though it is my first issue, it is the last issue of the 1980s. Within these pages I think you'll start to see the direction in which the Fraternity will be moving in the 90s. Grand Council and the Executive Director of Central Office have already been preparing for the new decade by participating in a long-range planning session. (See page 8.) We are pleased to bring you a feature article on cultural diversity in our chapters, showing how the "face" of the collegian and member is ever-changing and enhancing the quality of chapter life now and in coming years. Our magazine will be turning the corner of a decade as well and we would like your input on how to better serve you through our publication. Please take time to fill out the reader survey on pages 19 and 20. We are interested in knowing how you like The ARROW and what you would enjoy reading in the future.

In closing, I'd like to thank those who have given me the support and encouragement to put out my first issue. A special thank you goes out to the delightful women at Central Office. And finally, a word to the lady who preceded me. Marilyn, there is no way I could ever fill your shoes. I will just happily follow in your footsteps.

The Ever-Changing Profile of PI BETA PHI

“Ocean To Ocean,” an old favorite Pi Phi song, reminds each member that the Fraternity’s heritage in the past and its promise for the future extend to all parts of this nation and, indeed, the world. Increasingly, there are members of Pi Beta Phi around the world pursuing study and careers in a global community. Even as this cultural diversity enriches one’s life, so too does the diversity within Pi Phi’s chapters and alumna clubs enhance our fraternity experience.

Clearly, the America of a century ago, in the early years of the Fraternity, was much different than today’s society. In 1889, the U.S. population was 62 million; today we are a nation of 246 million people. But it is not only in numbers that our society has changed. A century ago, half the population was under age 22; today, the median age is 33. By the year 2000, it is predicted that more than one half of the U.S. population will be over 35 years old. The average age of U.S. citizens is not the only demographic change in our society.

The Pi Phi of a century ago could expect to bear twice as many children in her lifetime as the woman of today. In 1889, just under five percent of married women were in the labor force. Today, 57 percent are employed. These changes have obvious implications for the Fraternity’s programming and volunteer expectations.

Furthermore, minority groups within our population are increasing at rates that consistently outpace the majority group. By the year 2000, it is predicted that one in every three Americans will be non-white. Sometime shortly after the turn of the century, it is predicted that there will be a greater number of Hispanics than African-Americans in our population. These changes in age and racial makeup in our general society most certainly will have an effect on the pool of high school graduates and college entrants in the not too distant future. Remember, the class of 2000 already is enrolled in grade schools all across our nation. That Pi Phi’s founders were facing a much different society is obvious.

As the general society changes, so too do the campuses of our colleges and universities. The number of institutions of higher education has grown in a century from 1,000 to about 3,400, and they confer degrees at the rate of one for every fourteen Americans aged 20 to 24. There are more opportunities for higher education for more people.

This opportunity for access to higher education is being exercised by a new group of students—a group that becomes more diverse literally by the day. Today, minorities are in every socioeconomic group in greater numbers than ever before. Many students who are older, consistently older than the traditional college age group (18 to 23) are entering admissions offices everyday.

There also is a trend toward increasing numbers of part-time learners at institutions of higher education. These are students who hold jobs in business and industry and attend college credit courses during their work day. (Some even attend these classes in special sites located at their businesses.) In total, demographic researchers predict that minorities, adults, and part-time learners will be the largest growth groups on the college campuses in the years ahead.

One need not be a demographer to anticipate that with change in the student body, we can expect change in the Greek community. As the pool of potential members includes a culturally and racially diverse group of students, so too will our college fraternities embrace women and men of different backgrounds and experiences.

Such change is not without its stresses, however. An examination of the history of all fraternities reminds us of an historical period of reluctance to include members whose religious tradially diverse community, school, and curriculum—include in their circle of friends a more diverse group of people.

The fraternity women of today need to see these changes in the “face” of American society not as a threat to fraternal institutions, but as a challenge toward enrichment through ditions were based in Catholicism or Judaism. Those foreign-born or first generation students who are Asian-American, African-American, or Indian were—and, regrettably, in some places still are—greeted with prejudice and bigotry. Increasingly, however, today's college students—from a more cultur-versity. Those individual chapters which meet this challenge will flourish in the decade to come. Those who do not will go the way of the dinosaur and the Dodo bird.

Pi Phi and fraternity members across the globe need to continue doing things today to meet the challenges of tomorrow. A foundation in the undergraduate chapters must be set which encourages students not just to accept and respect diversity, but to celebrate it as one of the many means to enhance the overall college experience. All of us must work today to ensure that those ideals which the founders cherished at Pi Phi's inception will be shared and espoused by women representing every segment of the American society.

While fraternity statistics are not kept on matters of race and ethnicity, it is apparent that the Greek community can celebrate today a more diverse membership than at any time in our history. Such an extension of Pi Beta Phi's bonds to women of color and of different life experiences is more than a demographic inevitability; given the Fraternity's ritual values, it is a matter of moral imperative.

The sisterhood so fundamental to the nature of fraternity is based upon affection, trust, loyalty, and honor. The founders set Pi Beta Phi and all fraternities on a course which has at its core the human and humane values for which Greek life stands. Women are invited to join Pi Phi who exemplify the highest standards in character, academics, service to others, and leadership. Their race and ethnicity do not automatically ensure or prohibit the affiliation of any student.

In the important college years, we know that among the strengths of being a member of a Greek chapter are the opportunities for personal development. By learning to lead and to follow, a member can gain valuable skills for vocational and avocational pursuits throughout life.

Studies tell us that moral development is a very significant part of this period in our lives. We question who we are and who we are becoming. This process is advanced as we develop the ability to take another's perspective and broaden our world view. To the extent that everyone with whom we associate is the same, we limit our growth. To the extent that our chapters exhibit some sense of diversity in terms of race, ethnicity, age, and enrollment status, we will be able to offer a richer, fuller experience to both our undergraduates and graduates. This, in turn, will maximize the individual growth among and between chapter members.

Those chapters which are highly suc-

About the authors

Barbara J. Tootle

Barbie, an Ohio Beta Pi Phi, has worked in higher education at The Ohio State University for more than twenty years as an administrator, advisor, teacher, and programmer. For eleven years, she served as Coordinator for Greek Affairs working with 63 fraternities and sororities. She is currently a writer, editor, and program coordinator in the Office of the President of The Ohio State University.

In 1965, as a college senior, Barbie was named co-winner of the national Amy Burnam Onken award. For two years, 1972-1974, she served as a Collegiate Province President. Recently, Barbie was named Pi Beta Phi Greek Woman of the Year in 1987, and was awarded the Distinguished Service Award by the Association of Fraternity Advisors in 1988. She is a past recipient of the Evin Varner Award from the College Fraternity Editors Association for her service to Greek life.

A frequent workshop leader and speaker, Barbie has addressed numerous student, alumni, and civic audiences and national conventions across the country.

Vic Boschini

A member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, Vic's experience with students in higher education spans four institutions and ten years. Upon graduation from Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, Vic traveled to Bowling Green to work on a Master's degree in art. While studying, he managed to work at Bowling Green State University as Administrative Assistant to the Director of Residence Life. After working at Western Illinois University and DePauw University, Vic settled down at Indiana University, where he has worked since 1984. Vic is currently the Assistant Dean of Students/Director of Student Activities.

This past year Vic received his Doctorate. The topic of his dissertation was "A Study of the Socialization Processes in Student Subcultures." Vic is a member of various professional organizations including the American Association for Counseling and Development and American College Personnel Association. He is also past President of the Association of Fraternity Advisors. Vic has been a presenter and facilitator at a multitude of conferences.

cessful—who are widely considered the "best"—most often are those whose membership is diverse on a number of dimensions: not all from the same high school, the same age or class rank, the same majors. Not everyone agrees on everything! While this situation can make for some long chapter meetings and lengthy late-night discussions, it is out of these exchanges that we develop a stronger sense of who we are. In this way, the chapter experience complements the academic program and becomes a true partner in education.

By including women in the chapter whose life experiences are varied, even as their commitment to fraternal values is the same, we more truly reflect the educational mission shared with our host institutions. This harmony between the curricular and co-curricular is certainly what the founders had in mind when they took their fraternal oath.

California Alpha Pi Phi receives scholarship

The Fairfield County, Connecticut Panhellenic Scholarship for the 1989-90 school year was won by Suha Jhaveri of Westport, Connecticut. Suha is a California Alpha Pi Phi at Stanford University. Her credentials are impressive in both academics and extra-curricular activities.

Suha is a senior majoring in International Relations. Part of her junior year was spent studying political science in Paris. This past summer she worked in Washington, D.C., where she had an internship at the National Foundation for the Improvement of Education.

In Pi Phi, Suha has served as Vice President of Mental Advancement. During her term in office, the chapter obtained the highest grade point average on campus. She also organized several workshops for the chapter relating to her position. Her musical interests are furthered through the cello, which she plays in the University Orchestra and as a member of a quintet. Seventh grade students in East Palo Alto are the recipients of some of Suha's volunteer efforts as she helps teach remedial classes there. During her senior year, Suha will serve as an academic advisor for freshmen at Stanford.

Arkansas Alphas honored

Arkansas Alpha members, Shelly Ebersole, Kimberly Hardman, and Melinda Joyce were chosen for the honorary association of Cardinal 30. Cardinal 30 is an association linked to Cardinal Key and Mortarboard but designed for sophomores. To be chosen for Cardinal 30, applicants must have exemplary grades and be very active on campus. Members chosen from Arkansas Alpha had a 3.75 G.P.A. or above, and were very active in Pi Phi and in organizations at the University of Arkansas. Only 30 sophomores can be chosen from their graduating class, a class that is approximately 4,500 students in size. Cardinal 30 also serves as a community service organization. This year members will visit area junior high and high schools and speak to students on the dangers of drug and alcohol use.

The Deux Amies brass angel with a copper arrow is the creation of Pi Phis Jan Goff and Merry Hamilton.

Pi Phi sisters share business

Ohio Betas Jan Ellis Goff and Merry Maidlow Hamilton are Pi Phi sisters in business together. A silver blue card with a wine arrow proclaims their company, Deux Amies (two friends).

First they sold antiques at the famous Springfield, Ohio Antique Flea Market. Then they branched out to an antique shop in Powell, Ohio. Next came an executive gift line for business people needing corporate gifts. And now they are back to Pi Phi with their copywritten design necklace of a brass angel with a copper arrow, hung on wine and blue ribbons, of course.

Although their Deux Amies enterprises keep them busy, they have both found time to serve the Columbus (Ohio) Alumnae Club in almost every office. Jan is presently president of the Ohio Beta Mother's Club—daughter, Paige, is an Ohio Beta senior. Merry has been the Iota Province Coordinator for the last two years.

"We're thrilled with the response to the angels," said Jan.

"We'll gladly ship anywhere," added Merry.

Fraternity targets goals for the 90s and beyond

by Virginia Bland Fry,
Executive Director,
Pi Beta Phi Central Office

The approach of a new decade, to be followed soon by a new century, promises change and opportunity. What better time for Pi Beta Phi leaders to plan how the future of the Fraternity will be shaped!

With this in mind, Grand Council acted to determine how Pi Phi could best be positioned to take advantage of predictable trends and meet future challenges. To accomplish this, the Council and the Executive Director of Central Office took part in a formalized strategic planning session led by a professional facilitator from the management consulting firm Lawrence-Leiter & Co. of Kansas City. The two day meeting was held in St. Louis the weekend of August 25. A second planning session, without an outside facilitator, was held in October.

During the workshop, participants assessed the past, discussed the future and its impact upon the organization, examined goals and needs, encouraged each other in brainstorming sessions, and concentrated on problem solving. By consensus, the group made planning decisions which were translated into action plans. Responsibility for each plan was assigned to an individual officer. Each plan was targeted with a specific completion date.

Results should become evident in the coming year as Grand Council and Central Office staff accomplish their major goals:

... To instigate a more effective distribution of the workload by streamlining reporting procedures and delegating authority.

... To provide additional relevant collegiate programming.

... To continue to provide for a financially sound future.

... To increase management efficiency and improve services to members through modernization.

Those who shared the responsibility, excitement and privilege of planning for Pi Beta Phi's future through the sessions worked hard and well. They reaped benefits by producing a blueprint for the future development of the Fraternity.

Watch for progress. Plan for continued Pi Beta Phi excellence!

Anti-hazing video produced at Miami

Miami University Pi Phis have been busy with a new project for the Miami Panhellenic Association. Pi Phis are working on an anti-hazing videotape intended for use in the pledge programs of sororities on the Miami campus. This video will provide sound, reasonable, and honest advice on how to avoid all types of hazing. The problem of hazing is a growing concern on many college campuses, and Ohio Zeta hopes the video will make a difference. The completion date for the project was set for late September.

From California to Vermont, and many places in between, Illinois Epsilon Pi Phis from the class of '64 returned to Evanston, Illinois for Northwestern's 25th Reunion. Those in attendance include, top row: Sally Whitemer Ehlert, Donna Reyburn Griffith, Carol Martin Polk, Carol Growdon Bliss, Ellen Andrews Knodt. Third row: Linda O'Riordan Smiddy, Jill Borland Flynn, Jane Garten Hamilton, Connie Billian DiNunzio. Second row: Dolia Stuogis Benz, Sue Ramaker Hitler, Kim Stevenson Sullivan, Sue Spitter Rakow, Judy Bracken Gordon. Front row: Sara Schumacher Hartman, Carol Jones Hulce (class of '65), and Carol Craft Watts.

Texas Children's Hospital benefits from alum club

Five years ago, the Houston Alumnae Club established a children's library at Texas Children's Hospital. From that time forward, hundreds of pediatric patients have enjoyed the books, cassettes and movies that are checked out from the Pi Phi-staffed library. (See The ARROW, Spring 1989.)

Both senior and junior alumnae clubs have been very supportive in a financial way as well, the Seniors donating over $51,000 since 1983, and Juniors contributing $7,000. In May, 1988, Juniors hosted a Derby Day, raising $8,000, half of which went to the library.

This year the Houston Alumnae Club's first public appeal to raise funds for the library was a spring luncheon and children's style show. Committee chairmen and officers worked long hours to produce "Mr. McGregor's Garden," featuring Peter Rabbit and many of his friends. In addition, Pi Phis addressed invitations, painted scenery, made table favors, worked on decorations, designed special book plates and arranged entertainment for the 30 young models, all of whom were children and grandchildren of Houston Pi Phis. In fact, the entire benefit was an inter-generational event, involving everyone from Golden Arrows who made table favors, to members of the career night group who dressed the models and provided entertainment for them during the luncheon. The evening was a real financial success. Over $39,000 was raised for the library.

Texas Children's Hospital has grand plans for immediate expansion, and the Pi Beta Phi Library is part of those plans. With a space three to four times larger than the present "linen closet," the possibilities for the library are exciting indeed.

The Texas Medical Center, of which Texas Children's Hospital is a part, is a vital presence in Houston. Children come from everywhere for treatment, and the Houston Alumnae Club has touched the lives of these children and their families in a very real and lasting way. This is fostering positive public relations in the highest possible form.

Iowa Alpha Pi Phi featured at exhibit

Sign of the Arrow, the non-profit needlepoint and gift shop operated by the St. Louis Alumnae Club, presented an exhibit of fine art needlepoint by Judy Gregg Harper during the month of April.

Judy, an Iowa Alpha Pi Phi, is assistant manager of the needlework shop. She has her Master and Teacher Certifications from the National Needlework Association and displayed her masters projects that demonstrated the advanced intricate and elaborate stitching methods required for certification. Many of those methods she teaches daily at the shop.

Monthly fine art needlework exhibits are featured at Sign of the Arrow. Displays highlight local designers and stitchers who demonstrate advanced and unusual skill in needlework.

In 1988, Sign of the Arrow donated $43,000 to ten local and regional charities, including Arrowmont.

Chairing the Texas Children's Gala in Houston were (l-r): Bette Barcus Carpenter, Nancy Hoskins Epley and Pene Pettit Moore.

Ohio Alpha celebrates 100th anniversary

by Virginia Hoover Franklin

Ohio University, the first institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory, was founded in 1804. After many years, the advent of the Greek system brought to the campus Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Delta Theta, followed in 1889 by Pi Beta Phi, the pioneer Fraternity for women. Imagine Ohio University surviving 85 years without Pi Beta Phi!

So years have gone by—the goals of Pi Beta Phi and Ohio University intertwined. Each grew stronger, enduring both bad and good times, war and peace, depression and affluence, and the “anti-everything” era, including anti-Greeks.

1989! It seems a blink of the eye! Hundreds of Ohio Alpha Pi Beta Phi alumnae put aside customary routines and joined together with the Ohio Alpha active chapter and the Athens Alumnae Club in the beautiful rolling hills of southern Ohio to share the historically important Centennial Celebration.

The home of Pi Beta Phi was focal point of activities, beginning with registration. “Decade” rooms afforded the setting for renewal of friendships, each room featuring group and individual pictures.

The chapter room contained memorabilia spanning the 100 years, items contributed by alumnae, supplemented by archives materials. Additionally, guests enjoyed a book of biographical letters containing information from alumnae around the world.

Friday evening, Barbara Sands Olsen, National Historian, honored those assembled at the First United Methodist Church with her “Album of Memories,” an inspirational Pi Beta Phi message which set an enthusiastic tone for the celebration.

Ohio Alpha actives conducted tours of the house, and entertained with a traditional Pi Phi Cookie Shine.

Saturday activities began with a brunch in Baker Center Ballroom, following which ample time was available to walk around the College Green and Court Street to note the many changes. The old “hang-outs” are gone, those places of earlier years where a once-a-week 5¢ Coke—often with two straws—was a treat!

The highlight of the afternoon was a reception hosted by Ohio University President and Mrs. Charles Ping honoring Pi Beta Phi. The Pings were impressed by the enthusiasm of Pi Phis and their loyalty to both the Fraternity and Ohio University. The hospitality of the Pings was deeply appreciated by Pi Beta Phi.

The dining hall of Nelson Commons was the setting for the Centennial Banquet. Wine and silver blue candles brightened tables, along with packages of angel notepaper, designed by Diane Ewing as favors. Unique wooden Pi Phi angels, created by Jean Gist Trepp, were door prizes. A large basket-shaped ice carving be-decked with flowers added to the gala occasion.

Helen McLaughlin Gray, Mistress of Ceremonies, wove bits of local Pi Phi history into the program, and Pi Phi families were recognized as were the national, state and province officers in attendance.

Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg and husband Joseph were joined at the speaker's table by National Historian Barbara Sands Olsen, and Ohio University dignitaries: President and Mrs. Charles Ping, Dean of Students and Mrs. Joel Rudy, and Associate Director of Alumni Richard Harrison, Jr.

Margery Young, Ohio Alpha's earliest initiate in attendance, made the trip from Florida. Coincidentally, the banquet was on Margery's 91st birthday. The hundreds of assembled Pi Phis serenaded her with "Happy Birthday."

Also in attendance was Hattie Lu Grones Linter, a great-niece of Elizabeth Foster, a charter member.

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, Grand President, spoke on "Ohio Alpha: Looking Back to the Future." We were taken through Ohio Alpha's presence on the Ohio University campus from the earliest meetings held in homes, to a room in West Wing, to the nine years at 16 East Union Street—the first sorority house on campus—and finally to the 1936 move to the present home at 6 South College Street.

Appreciation was expressed for the dedication of all alumnae who have played a part in the many developments, especially to the members of the House Corporation whose talents have made the chapter house, with its two major additions, a charming home.

Richard Harrison made three important presentations: A resolution was received from the Mayor of Athens honoring Ohio Alpha on its 100th birthday. The National Alumni Board of Ohio University presented an attractively framed proclamation honoring Pi Beta Phi as the longest continuously operating Greek organization for women at Ohio University. The highly prized award is presented only on rare occasions. The Ohio University Alumni Association honored Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg with a certificate of achievement recognizing her contributions to the betterment of collegiate women across the country.

Virginia Hoover Franklin, general chairman of the Centennial Celebration, presented the centennial gift from the Athens Alumnae Club to Ohio Alpha, an oil portrait of Grand President Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg. Carolyn's two daughters, Sara and Betty, unveiled the portrait of their mother, to be hung in the chapter house. The artist, Barbara Arnold Allen of Poland, Ohio, is the mother of Ohio Alpha Susan Allen Mikelonis.

Barbara Sands Olsen presented a brief, inspirational message which left us with "thoughts of Pi Beta Phi." The "Pi Beta Phi Hymn" brought the 100th Anniversary banquet to a close.

On Friday and Saturday evenings, a hospitality room was available at the Ohio University Inn, at the close of the scheduled festivities. Ginny Ward Johnston was pianist for the weekend.

Sunday morning the General Grosvenor home—now Konneker Alumni Center—was setting for the farewell brunch, attended by Pi Phis and their husbands. The formal dining room was decorated with wine and silver blue accents as was the festive table.

Pi Beta Phi love, Pi Beta Phi loyalty, and the bonds of wine and silver blue were kindled anew. May the Centennial Celebration bring continued dedication to Pi Beta Phi.

NEWS OF ARROWCRAFT and ARROWMONT

Bryant Holsenbeck demonstrates a basketry technique to her class. Third from the right is Patricia Tenpenny, Murfreesboro, Tenn., who attended Arrowmont with a scholarship from the Nashville Alumnae Club.

Scholarship recipient is grateful for opportunity

"Children are not allowed to say 'can't' in my classroom." Mary Bailey Thomas, who teaches art in a North Carolina middle school, explains, "It's a funny thing. I do a lot of theatrics in my class. I flail my arms about and shake my head and scream if they say 'can't,' so it only happens once and then no one does it anymore. That's important. I think that no matter what kind of life problems or challenges face you, you have to keep an optimistic outlook, and I think that's what Arrowmont keeps."

"Arrowmont provides the materials and the encouragement. You have the (supply) store right here and your food is prepared for you. You don't have to stop and clean up, you don't have to think about what you're going to cook, and you don't have to go buy it. This is a totally productive atmosphere, and the creativity just rubs off from one person to the next. It is a ripple effect, and it just continues to go out into the world. I think Pi Phi does a wonderful service; I had never heard of Pi Phi until I came here. I think that they really do a superior human service by providing Arrowmont and the Friends of Arrowmont Scholarships. It has really meant a great deal to me and my family."

It has meant a great deal. . . . Mary maintains that it saved her life. "I have been through a very bad marriage, and it was an abusive marriage. The court process took three years and was terribly financially draining." After four years in court her self-esteem had hit rock bottom. "The medicine the doctors had put me on had caused me to gain a lot of weight which I'm just now starting to lose. My mother had become critically ill and there was just a lot of stress in my life." Mary was burning out as an art teacher when she came across an Arrowmont ad in Art & Activities magazine last year, and wrote asking about the availability of scholarships. With a Friends of Arrowmont Scholarship Mary came to Arrowmont in June of 1988, shortly after her mother died. "If it had not been for that (class) I just don't know how I would have coped and kept the good mental attitude that I've been able to keep."

"I became a new person by coming here, and it really made a difference in my teaching. I've always been evaluated as a superior teacher, but this year the praise went beyond just being a superior teacher!"

Everything Mary learns at Arrowmont is shared with others. "This goes back with me to my school, and my students respect me and they listen to me. There isn't a child I taught last year, and I taught 746 children, that doesn't know about Arrowmont and where it is. There was one whole bulletin board of nothing but pictures (of Arrowmont) and examples of my artwork."

Mary praised her Arrowmont classmates and was careful to point out that everyone's experience varied. "There are professional artists and college professors who come here, but I have never felt inferior, I have only received encouragement and support from all my fellow classmates in each of the three classes I've taken."

Her involvement with Arrowmont has even helped her daughter, who recently went off to college. "She might not tell me, but she tells her friends how proud she is of me, and they tell me. She was feeling guilty about leaving home, afraid that when she went off to college and wasn't the center of my life anymore that I would fall apart. I will always love my daughter, but I don't want her to feel like she's being strangled by her mother's love. She deserves a life of her own; I deserve a life of my own; and Arrowmont is giving me a new direction in which to go."

"Arrowmont is a refuge away from the real world. If you want to come some place—not hide, I don't mean that—if you want to come some place and just be creative, to explore and look within and then express outwardly what you're feeling, Arrowmont is the place to be. It renews you."

Sandy Matasick, New Paltz, New York, sifts powdered enamel onto a large brooch. Sandy has been an assistant at Arrowmont during summer classes and during the 1987 American Crafts Council South-eastern Conference. A Friends of Arrowmont Scholarship enabled her to study enameling under Martha Banyas last July.

Arrowmont

"veteran" returns

Sandy Matasick is a walking, talking publicist for Arrowmont, and after spending her 7th week there in two years, her enthusiasm has not diminished.

With help from a Friends of Arrowmont Scholarship, Sandy took an enameling class from Martha Banyas in July. She drove from New Paltz, New York where she is a graduate student in the metals department at the State University of New York. It is a tribute to Martha Banyas that Sandy would travel such a great distance, but Sandy wasn't the only one . . . a California enamelist flew to Gatlinburg with her baby for a rare chance to study with Martha.

The sixteen enamel students became unusually close. When their five days were over Sandy remarked, "The kind of friends I made in that class . . . we all cried when leaving each other. Arrowmont is not like real school because they don't have to push you to work; you just enjoy working. Our enamel class stayed up until 12 almost every night, practically didn't go to lunch, or dinner. We just worked until we were blue in the face. Even though we may not have put out the highest quality that we were all capable of because time was so short, we put in a lot of work, learned a lot and had so much fun."

"People are crazy not to apply or come to Arrowmont. The people that I know in the art world, I know from Arrowmont. I met all of them at Arrowmont." She recited a list of names and added, "those are just the metalsmiths. I've met a lot of people in other fields." Arrowmont gives Sandy the opportunity to get to know the artist behind the well-known artwork, and she commented, "That's really important to me."

When asked to compare classes at Arrowmont with classes at a university, Sandy said unhesitatingly, "There's so much difference! At a university you have the same teacher or teachers over and over. They know what they know, and they'll teach you to their best ability. By coming to Arrowmont you're going to zone in on a specific ability or technique that a given instructor knows really well. You're not just taking a class and learning another step, you're learning the best step according to the artist who may be the best in that certain area."

"Arrowmont has more possibilities than just making friends. It's really a smart thing, and I don't think many students realize that. You'd be crazy not to go and to learn under another teacher." Sandy volunteers to show slides, and tells friends they've got to go to Arrowmont! She can be recognized at New Paltz by her Arrowmont apron, and she encourages students to follow her lead. "I tell them how wonderful it is, and that they have to go and see it in order to realize just how wonderful it is. Arrowmont is so organized and so nice, the people are so friendly; it's hard to have a bad time there. Every time I come back I have a better time."

Mother & daughter share Arrowmont experience

Mary Ruth Hastings found a cure for falling asleep every night in front of the television—a two-week course at Arrowmont. "I never would have dreamed I'd stay up after eleven, spending these kinds of hours working." She laughed at herself while she and her daughter, Becky, explained how they ended up in summer workshops at Arrowmont. A Pi Phi at Louisiana State University, Becky said she heard about Arrowmont through a Pi Phi. "I asked my Mom if she wanted to come—and pay for it—and she did, but she didn't think that we'd have to do any work." Mary Ruth admitted that she thought they would "have little arts and crafts demonstrations for about an hour and then run out and play for the rest of the day."

"When Becky came home from college and brought the brochure, I thought that (screen printing on fabric) sounded like something I might be interested in." Mary Ruth signed up for it and Becky, an art education major, signed up for ceramics. Mary Ruth added, "I had no idea what I was going to do, I didn't even know what it was. When Clare (Verstegen) sent the list of materials, it was so cleverly done, I could tell it was going to be fun; and it has been."

Becky usually does stay up as late as she does at Arrowmont, "But I'm not usually doing anything this constructive!" She's hoping a class at Arrowmont this March will eliminate the necessity of summer school at L.S.U. "Arrowmont's a lot faster. I probably retained as much in two weeks as I do in a whole semester because it's just non-stop. We only break for meals and go right back." To some it might sound like drudgery, but Becky exclaims, "It's not!" Mary Ruth agreed, "You just can't get enough."

A Pi Phi praises Arrowmont

What a stroke of good luck! Arrowmont was fortunate to have an active Pi Phi living and working at the school last July and August as part of the popular assistantship program. Kristin Beechel, an art major at the University of Kansas, spent five weeks helping out in the supply store, driving students to the airport, locking the buildings at midnight, and readying the labs for workshops in exchange for three weeks of classes.

Two of her three classes focused on jewelry. One was taught by Leslie Leupp from Pennsylvania State University and the other by Susan Hamlet of Southeastern Massachusetts University. Kristin was exposed to techniques unfamiliar to her and produced some imaginative work.

"I mostly heard about Arrowmont through the University of Kansas." As a Pi Phi, she already knew a little about Arrowmont, but her instructors at Kansas were able to tell her more specifically what goes on there. "At school I found out that Arrowmont is probably the best art school you can go to, especially for summer programs and for jewelry. I guess that's the reputation it has, and after applying I found out more from other people, and they felt the same way."

Because Kristin got into Kansas' jewelry program relatively late, she thought Arrowmont would be a good opportunity to learn more. The experience has made her rethink her education plans. I've decided that I want to take my schooling more seriously, I want to slow it down." Although she did well in school last year, she plans to take fewer hours this semester in order to get as much out of her classes as she can.

"I think most people don't realize how serious Arrowmont is and what incredibly famous people come (to teach). I just think for a sorority philanthropy this is by far the neatest thing that happens, and I think most of the sorority girls don't understand at all. They think it's just where people come and weave placemats."

"I have so much pride in what happens here, and I also care a lot—like how it's run. Being an assistant here as opposed to somewhere else, I'm sure I tried much harder to make things run smoothly and do my job, to get it done and do more."

When talking about how much she'd learned at Arrowmont, Kristin never spoke about specific jewelry techniques. Instead she spoke of what she has learned about herself. "Arrowmont has helped me figure out what I want to do. Before, I was really wishy-washy on how long to wait before graduate school, and where to go—if I wanted to go to a state school or an art school." Because she was at Arrowmont she met many experienced artists who have made similar career decisions and were happy to share their opinions about it.

"I would say I've learned one hundred times more outside the studio even than I've learned in, and I've learned so much inside the studio. This sounds really weird, but it would be good to come here and not even take a class. It would be good to just talk to people, if you were willing to listen to what they have to say."

Erich Richter, left, gets some helpful advice from jewelry instructor, Leslie Leupp. Richter is a native Californian who has settled in Gatlinburg and started a career as a full-time jeweler. He has close ties with Arrowmont and Arrowcraft where he sells a line of Pi Phi jewelry.

Student discovers new talent

"I think that's one of the things about living—you just have to be able to recognize these perfect situations. This one was right in front of me, and I had been looking for something new for a long time."

What Erich Richter, a transplanted Californian, found, was a career as a Gatlinburg metalsmith. It was Mary Dale Swan, Arrowcraft Shop Manager, who put the idea in his head.

A year ago, Erich was selling very nice bird carvings through the shop, but he was discovering that the technique held limitations for him. Because the carvings were realistic, he depended a great deal on photographs of his subjects. He began to feel "confined" by wood carving. Mary Dale, herself a jeweler, shared with him the possibilities in metalsmithing. "She felt it was something I'd be able to use, so she encouraged me to come up here and apply for a scholarship." Erich was awarded the Alice Zimmerman Scholarship which is always given to an Arrowmont jewelry student. "This has been really lucky for me. Things have just sort of neatly arranged themselves. I'd be a fool not to take advantage of the opportunity."

Erich loved the class and has devoted himself fully to making jewelry. "Jewelry work is much more exciting; there are so many processes to learn." With Arrowmont in his neighborhood it's possible for Erich to have at least limited access to all the jewelry classes offered. "I can come here and there's always someone—you get a great variety of people to study with." Inevitably the diverse skills of such a distinguished faculty rub off. "It's nice because Arrowmont is at my disposal all the time. . . . I can come down here even when I'm not taking classes, see the (faculty) slide lectures, and sort of look around in the classrooms when I have the opportunity."

Jewelry made by Erich can always be found in the display cases at the Arrowcraft Shop, and Mary Dale promotes his abilities with well-informed enthusiasm. Says Mary Dale, "Last spring I just mentioned that it certainly would be nice to take jewelry with an arrow motif to convention, and within about a week Erich showed me prototypes of a pin and earrings! They were received so well at convention that we've put them in the catalog, and they continue to sell extremely well." Despite the fact that Erich has only been making jewelry for a little more than a year, Mary Dale says she is constantly amazed at his originality of design and his innovative approach to metal.

Cynthia Huff contributed the stories and photographs for this Arrowmont/Arrowcraft section.

G.O.A.L. program instituted

Last year something fresh and exciting formulated on the Hillsdale College campus in Hillsdale, Michigan. This year that spark of energy is a very real part of Michigan Alpha through three women who all share a common interest. This interest they are involved in is the G.O.A.L. program.

The G.O.A.L. (Great Opportunities for Assistance in Leadership) program, a philanthropic organization sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Michigan, is the only program of its kind in the country. It was created last year at Hillsdale College as a pilot project for future programs across the nation. The purpose of G.O.A.L. is to identify the needs of the campus and community. Then those needs are met by the ten members either as a group or as individuals. Of the four women active in G.O.A.L. who pledged sorority houses, three became members of Michigan Alpha.

Laura Jansen is known throughout the campus for her great leadership ability. Last year some of her projects for G.O.A.L. included volunteering as a tutor for gifted children in the third grade at Bailey Elementary School. In addition to her work with children, Laura was an aide to patients with Alzheimer's disease. Last summer she worked as a volunteer for the Robert Taft gubernatorial campaign in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Anne Sundaesen, a very caring and sensitive individual, is responsible for organizing a tutoring program for the high school and junior high school in the Hillsdale area. She also built a companionship program, matching college volunteers with youth in need of role models. Anne spent her summer as a volunteer intern with the Wayne County Medical Center in Michigan.

Jami Truesdell, a high spirited and spontaneous member of Michigan Alpha, helped to build the Special Olympics Basketball Tournament in Hillsdale, Michigan. She also spent several hours attending clinics to become licensed as a Special Olympics coach. Jami also improved the college by initiating a volunteer pep-band in order to build spirit at sporting events. Jami spent her summer as a volunteer instructor with the Safety Town Organization in Norton, Ohio where she taught general safety instructions to young children. She also volunteered in Safe Landing, a crises intervention center and shelter for runaway teens.

SHORT STORIES

OF SAGACIOUS SISTERS

Louisiana Alpha, Newcomb College

Five Pi Phis have been elected to Newcomb College's Senate. Dunbar Smith is the senior class president; Amy Haynes is associated student body representative; Cynthia Lawton is the sophomore class president; and Stacy Simiele and Bronwyn King were elected sophomore class representatives.

South Carolina Beta, Clemson University

South Carolina Beta has three sisters active in campus politics. E.C. Orfanedes and Mary Degan are members of Student Senate and Elizabeth Hanna is on the Judicial Review Board.

Mississippi Alpha, University of Southern Mississippi

Mississippi Alphas Erin Radka, Hillary Ashcraft, Natalie Garnett, and Lisa Frish are members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary. Natalie is also the chapter's representative on USM's Alcohol Awareness Task Force and a member of BAACHUS, a group to boost alcohol awareness.

Illinois Theta, Bradley University

One Illinois Theta, Stacey Burns, has truly excelled in the area of leadership on Bradley's campus. Last spring, Stacey was elected All-School President. She serves as a liaison between the students and the faculty and administration. From the start, Stacey has been involved with the Board of Trustees, Student Senate, and the Council of Presidents. Stacey has conducted seminars, interviews, recruitment campaigns, and a myriad of committee projects. Her main goals are to increase student participation and concern on campus, and to make senate an intricate, visible, and fully functioning part of the university.

Texas Epsilon, University of North Texas

Texas Epsilons Tracy Nevill and Angie Monscke were selected for NT40, an organization of 40 students that represent UNT, and provide various services for the university.

Maryland Beta, University of Maryland

This year the University of Maryland opened a new dorm on campus, Saint Mary's Hall. This is no ordinary dorm. The language house, Saint Mary's Hall, is where one might hear any language in the world—except English. Lisa Englehart is living in the Spanish suite this year where she can only speak Spanish.

Missouri Alpha, Amy Sonner had a busy fall as co-chairman of special events on the Homecoming Steering Committee at the University of Missouri.

Texas Epsilon (l-r) Jennifer Droke, Tracy Nevill, Kelly Field, Darla Gray, and Karen Ader represent Pi Beta Phi on the Panhellenic Board at the University of North Texas.

Holly Emery, an Oklahoma Alpha pledge from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, has played the harp for five years. She is an active member of the American Harp Society and played in the Louisiana All-State Orchestra.

Indiana Gamma, Butler University

Beth Alderton and Susan Bielawski are very active in Butler University's Student Assembly. Beth is second vice president and is in charge of the Program Board, the committee which plans all special activities at Butler. On her committee is Susan Bielawski, who is in charge of all the films being shown on campus this year.

Indiana Alpha, Franklin College

Two Pi Phis serve on Franklin College's Student Orientation Corps. The corps was responsible for leading activities in the freshman orientation program. Amy Collenbaugh and Lisa Torma are both juniors at Franklin.

Kentucky Beta, University of Kentucky

Kentucky Beta is proud to participate in a new organization called GADD, Greeks Against Drunk Driving. Pi Phis have agreed to provide an escort service to another sorority when they are having a formal or party. The chapter hopes to build awareness about the responsible use of alcohol and the risks involved in drinking and driving.

Oklahoma Alpha, University of Oklahoma

Three Oklahoma Alpha pledges, Julie Ferrell, Jennifer Vinyard and Amber Dobson, are in the President's Leadership Class at Oklahoma University.

New Mexico Alpha, University of New Mexico

Two New Mexico Alpha Pi Phis, Carolyn Boehm and Karen Wojtas, serve as Senators of the Associated Students of the University of New Mexico.

Indiana Eta, Indiana-Purdue University at Fort Wayne

Indiana Eta Chapter President, Ingrid Laidroo, has recently been elected president of Sigma Alpha Iota, an honorary women's music fraternity.

Kelly Balamuth, a California Theta has been a dancer for fifteen years. Kelly founded Syzygy Jazz Dance Company in the fall of 1988. Frustrated with the lack of innovative dance groups at UC Davis, she took matters into her own hands. The company of ten includes four other Pi Phis: Michelle Sommer, Julie Bain, Ayoung Kim, and Gretchen Gilman.

Arkansas Beta, University of Arkansas at Little Rock

Arkansas Beta's Chapter President, Karman Kidd, has started something which is becoming a successful tradition. Karman came up with the idea of having an "Arrow of Appreciation," as an honor extended to a member for outstanding service given to the chapter. The president decides who will wear the gold pendant, held by a wine ribbon. The "Arrow of Appreciation" has no time limit, a member can hold the honor until another member is recognized for her service to Pi Phi.

Arkansas Alpha, University of Arkansas

Sara Smith and Elizabeth Cooley, both Arkansas Alphas have been chosen as student ambassadors. Student ambassadors welcome potential students interested in the university. They act as representatives for the university, showing potential students around campus and giving them information on such things as Greek life and on-campus housing.

New York Gamma, St. Lawrence University

The New York Gamma Pi Phis started the fall semester off on the right foot. The chapter held an alcohol awareness workshop following their second meeting of the year. A speaker from the university's counseling service presented an informative and entertaining program to the chapter.

Missouri Gamma, Drury College
Missouri Gamma Pi Phis are the dominant force of the Drury College Student Senate. All of the female senate members are Pi Phis. For the 89-90 academic year they are: Ellen Breithaupt, Jill Bright, Vickie Mauck, Joan Perkins, Shannon Wherli, Yasmine Zwerenz, Lisa Cox, and Jennifer Brown.

Two Nebraska Beta Pi Phis were selected as Husker Hostesses for the 1989-90 school year. Tina Timmerman and Heidi Haecker were two of fifteen chosen out of more than 100 women interested in the positions. Husker Hostess duties include escorting possible football recruits on a tour of the football facilities and aiding the coaching staff in promoting the university football program.

These Virginia Zeta legacies (kneeling) received a special treat at initiation when their family members paid them a surprise visit to help them celebrate and welcome them into Pi Beta Phi's family.

A Diamond Jubilee to remember

by Tracey Lee Cross

75 years is a proud accomplishment and New York Gamma happily celebrated its Diamond Jubilee during Homecoming '89, September 22-24. How did these sisters bridge the gap from our charter members of 1914 to the more than 1,200 actives and alumnae today?? For these enthusiastic Pi Phis, a weekend of tradition, telling stories, and reminiscing helped to make this a memorable and enjoyable celebration.

Festivities began with a cookie shine on Friday evening. The chapter house living room was filled with balloons, streamers, and the essential Arrow Cookies! Alums and actives alike took part in the fun of singing New York Gamma favorites, campus fraternity songs, and our traditional Pi Phi finale, "The Light From Our Candle." The music and exchange of stories proved to be a great way to meet each other and to learn about New York Gamma, then and now.

Saturday proved to be a busy day. A Pi Phi Open House started our morning off on an exciting note. Alumnae and friends of the chapter arrived to find the sisters excited to share our history and our home with the campus community. Also, campus and house tours were offered to help the alums become reacquainted.

A luncheon break followed tours at the Augsburg Fieldhouse. Here, one could enjoy seeing old friends while attending the International World Fair sponsored by the university. Pi Phi contributed an Arrowcraft display, thus celebrating another part of our heritage. Keeping with the SLU tradition many Pi Phis attended the exciting football game. School spirit filled our busy afternoon.

Saturday evening marked the highlight of New York Gamma's Diamond Jubilee. A formal dinner was held at the Granview restaurant in nearby Ogdensburg enabling us to remember our founding and to reflect upon our chapter's achievements, both locally and nationally. Alumnae Advisory Committee members Kathy Boyer and Jan Whalen offered welcoming remarks and Chapter President Laura Lindberg provided us with an entertaining and informative state of the chapter address. Keynote speaker Sarah Ruth Mullis, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees, spoke on the strength of sisterhood that bridges the many generations of Pi Phis. The active members concluded the evening by performing "Pi Phi Through the Ages," a humorous skit which depicted the changing trends of Pi Phi life at St. Lawrence. As a special memento, each sister was given a glass angel. For everyone in attendance, it was a beautiful, memorable weekend—never to be forgotten.

Seidel receives numerous awards

Ask Charlette Shildecker Seidel, Florida Beta, manager of a Coral Gables office of Coldwell Banker Residential Real Estate, how she took home the top management awards at the company's recently held Managers Awards Luncheon, and the energetic, petite professional will say, "I put people first. I'm organized, and I know the real estate business."

A 17-year veteran of the business, Charlette first entered management ten years ago, and, since 1983, has spearheaded her office's dramatic growth to over $76 million in 1988 with over 45 sales associates.

Charlette and her team received seven awards at the luncheon held at the Turnberry Isle Country Club. Among those was the coveted #1 in overall achievement as well as #1 in management achievement. Her office also took first place honors in unit production and #1 for 1988 office volume production.

Charlette finds time to be active in community organizations. She is co-chairman of the Yearly Scholarship Program for the Greater Miami Opera Guild and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Young Patronesses of the Opera. She is the secretary of the Pine Bay Estates Homeowners Association as well as a member of the Brickell Avenue Literary Society, Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club and World Wings International.

Charlette and her attorney husband, Barry, have one son, John, a senior at Westminster Christian School.

Joanna James-Krech returns to Hillsdale College.

Alum returns to Hillsdale

by Anna Sheets

In the year 1976 Joanna James-Krech was a graduating senior at Hillsdale College and president of Michigan Alpha. She left Hillsdale College a confident young woman with many dreams and high expectations for the future. Thirteen years have passed since then and in that time Joanna has been very busy working. An admissions officer, a field house instructor, a high school teacher and a recreation director are all job titles she has had since graduation. In the midst of all this activity, she has remained a strong force in Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. In recent years, Joanna has been a very active member in the Toledo Alumnae Club, using her leadership skills to serve two terms as vice president and one term as president.

This fall Joanna will once again walk through the scenic campus of Hillsdale College. She will be in charge of Hillsdale College's placement activities. Michigan Alpha is proud to welcome Joanna James-Krech back to the college where she was such a strong member in Pi Beta Phi and is looking forward to working with her.

Marketing firm launched

Brooke Stollenwerck, Texas Alpha, can remember the exact day and place she first met Ralph Wilson. Reporting as the new Director of Public Relations for Bloomingdale's, in Dallas on July 17, 1986, Brooke was introduced to her top assistant, Ralph Wilson. The day was a doubly memorable occasion in that it was also Brooke's birthday. Since that initial meeting and birthday celebration, the two have celebrated many occasions and accomplishments, most recently, the opening of their new company, Resource 3, a special events, public relations and marketing firm.

Resource 3 began with three clients, representing the food, restaurant and jewelry industry, in addition to planning several events including a restaurant opening and hotel celebration. With an extensive, successful background in corporate and social special events, Resource 3 specializes in event conception, design and orchestration and concentrates on retail and financial public relations and marketing.

At Bloomingdale's for two years, Stollenwerck and Wilson produced a long list of accomplishments including the highest level of product publicity of the company's 15 remote markets and recognition for the outstanding events for visiting dignitaries and officials.

"Our tenure at Bloomingdale's allowed us to learn how to work together, capitalizing on our individual strengths and talents. What I like and am good at is different than what Brooke excels in so we easily blend to build a great team effort. After our success at the store, it was a natural to go further and form Resource 3," Wilson states.

After graduating from the University of Texas at Austin with high honors, Brooke began her public relations career at the downtown Neiman-Marcus store. Initially, she worked as an assistant handling a myriad of events, including the fortnight galas. After proposing changes in the bridal registry, she caught the attention of the then store president and was promoted to devising marketing plans and strategies corporately.

After a positive experience at Neiman-Marcus, she had stints with several small agencies and ultimately parlayed her special event and marketing expertise into a full time freelance career working primarily for large property owners and developers.

Brooke also has used her skills and creativity civically as co-chairman of the 1985 Cattle Baron's Ball where she introduced several new aspects of the ball that are still used today and raised more funds for the American Cancer Society than any other event to date. She also has chaired the Fortnight Gala, the Pi Beta Phi Fashion Show, as well as having numerous other affiliations including Leadership Dallas, Dallas Junior League and Equest.

"Besides offering a client a lot of experience, particularly in special events, we know how to provide the biggest bang for the dollar, creating equity in the minds of customers and we can do it all with a sense of humor and grace," says Stollenwerck.

With additional guidance of an Advisory Board, six of whom are Pi Phis, the goals of Resource 3 are to provide a professional, exciting alternative in local and state public relations, special events and marketing industries.

HELPING OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS OTHERS

ALABAMA GAMMA has begun a new tradition at Auburn University. Last May the Pi Phis held the first annual "Arrow-spike" volleyball tournament. The tournament featured fraternities and sororities as well as other groups on campus. The fundraiser was a big hit and Alabama Gamma was able to donate $500 to Arrowmont.

The campus and community interest group of NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA started a volunteer action program this fall to increase Pi Phi service to others and involvement in the community. Pi Phi volunteer their time to the local Ronald McDonald House, the Orange County Animal Shelter, the Chapel Hill Community School, Head Start, and the Orange County Rape Crisis Center. North Carolina Alphas are continuing to discover the rich rewards of helping others.

Six OHIO ETA Pi Phis teamed with six Sigma Chis of Denison University to work a charity auction for the Hospice Center of Licking County, an organization which works with terminally ill patients.

Last spring, many OHIO THETAS visited nursing homes where they decorated Easter eggs and sang songs. They were also able to collect toys for Toys for Tots, and clothing along with food was collected and given to a Toledo area family in need.

During Greek Week the ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA chapter participated in a food drive for the local town of Galesburg. The food drive was coupled with an all-Greek exchange. A can of food was required upon admittance.

Amanda Ellis, GEORGIA ALPHA, is starting a Habitat for Humanity group on the University of Georgia campus. The group will be affiliated with the local Athens Habitat group. The purpose of Habitat for Humanity is to build simple, decent housing for people in need, and then to sell the house with no interest charge. This fall the group will be holding several fundraisers and finishing work on three houses.

CONNECTICUT ALPHA, Beth Rittenband is in charge of fundraisers for Panhellenic Council at the University of Connecticut. She has organized a Jail-and-Bail to raise money for the Cancer Society. Numerous professors, deans and friends were "jailed" until their colleagues raised enough "bail" for them to be free. Beth is also in charge of a campus-wide volleyball tournament for Easter Seals.

As a community service project the Pi Phis of ALBERTA ALPHA decided to host a suicide prevention seminar. A woman from Community Connections gave an enlightening presentation on stress relief, signs to watch for, and how to help each other. The seminar was open to all Greek groups and was well attended.

VIRGINIA ETA swept Greek Fest at the University of Richmond this fall. Greek Fest is a four day event sponsored by the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic to raise money for Special Olympics. The Pi Phis won or placed in every event. Kim Haynie was the chairman of Greek Fest.

NEVADA ALPHAS showed their community service spirit by volunteering their help for the annual Great Reno Balloon Race. A dozen Pi Phis, including some new pledges, served on dawn patrol, the group that releases the hot air balloons at 5:30 a.m.

The town of Chapel Hill, North Carolina has become increasingly aware over the last few years of the need to recycle waste. The NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA Pi Phis have gotten in on the act this year by saving aluminum cans and paper for recycling. As easy as creating separate trash bins for products such as aluminum, newspaper, and glass, recycling can have a major positive impact on our environment.

ALBERTA ALPHAS pooled their efforts last spring to raise money for the Canadian Cancer Society. Daffodils are traditionally sold in Canada during the month of April as a means of raising money. Each setting aside some time, twenty-seven Pi Phis sold daffodils across the University of Alberta campus.

ILLINOIS ALPHA Pi Phis along with other Greek groups participated in the Special Olympics for Monmouth and surrounding communities. The Pi Phis helped with registration, led children to and from events, and cheered for the athletes.

Utah Alphas teamed up with Sigma Nus during Greek Week at the University of Utah, to escort hundreds of underprivileged children to the annual "Greek Week Zoo Trip."

Washington Alpha raises money for Arrowmont

In celebration of Washington state's centennial, nine Washington Alpha actives participated in the Lewis and Clark Trail Run April 2-9.

To support the team in their efforts, actives called alumnae, family members and friends to obtain sponsorship. Nearly $2,500 was raised and was given to Arrowmont. K.C. Chapin and Wendy Williamson coordinated the team of runners and fundraisers.

Hertz Rental donated a team van, Shell Oil Company donated $100 worth of gas, and Super Jock and Jill, a local sportswear store, gave a discount on the team uniform.

K.C. Chapin, Vice President of Moral Advancement said, "We wanted to do something fun and different for our philanthropic project. The team had a great time and the chapter did an incredible job raising the money."

Each of the girls ran about twenty miles over the three day event. There were ten legs each day, so often a few of the girls had to run more than one leg each day. Well organized check points made the running and handing-off go quite smoothly.

Team members were: Sue Betcher, Leslie Patricelli, Sheila Walgamott, Wendy Williamson, K.C. Chapin, Jiffy Eugster, Sandy Miller, Debbie Stahkopf, and Heather Howard.

Although the team had anticipated participation in the full eight day event, scholastic obligations and funding permitted them to run in the three day event. This part of the trail runs from Stevenson, Washington to Cape Disappointment, a beautiful spot on the coast.

Running close to eight minute miles for the entire 185 miles covered, the team placed second in their division. Close to 500 teams participated in the run. "Everyone was so supportive of everyone else, Jiffy Eugster said. "We'd cheer for the other teams and they would cheer for us."

Washington's Governor, Booth Gardner, even had his own team. His wife, Jean Gardner, a Washington Alpha Pi Phi herself, is the co-chairman of Washington state's Centennial committee.

"Rock for Charity" is a success

On Friday September 29, 1989 the North Carolina Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi along with Duke's chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, sponsored a "Rock for Charity" at Duke University. The third annual event raised money that will go to North Carolina Alpha's local philanthropy, the Durham County School's fight against teenage pregnancy, and Alpha Omicron Pi's national philanthropy, The National Arthritis Research Fund.

Both sororities enthusiastically volunteered to sell t-shirts and shorts with the "Rock for Charity" logo during the weeks prior to the event. The groups also sold raffle tickets for the raffle held during the event. Members solicited prizes from local stores and restaurants. Such gifts as health club memberships, posters, and free lunches and dinners were received.

The night of the event included dancing to the music of Duke's own radio station, WXDU, and buying frozen yogurt from the national chain, TCBY. TCBY contributed to the event by selling cups of yogurt for $1.00 and donating $.75 from each cup to the charities. Although proceeds from the event have not yet been tallied, the women hope to reach their goal of $5,000.

Howard seeks new adventure

Until August 13 the closest Alison Parchman Howard, Missouri Alpha, had been to a triathlon was lifeguarding for the swim portion of the Ironhorse competition every June in Springfield, Illinois. After watching her husband and brother-in-law compete in the long distances of the Ironhorse (one and a half miles of swimming, 45 miles of biking, and 10 miles of running), a mini-triathlon seemed more suitable for her. "It was the end of June and I was feeling lazy, plus my 35th birthday was coming up. Being a goal-oriented person, I set my sights on The Springfield Sprint, a mini-triathlon of 600 yards of swimming, 12 miles biking and 3 miles running. I figured I'd always been a swimmer and you can coast on a bike, so all I really needed to work on was the run ... or so I thought!"

With only seven weeks to train, it was necessary to do one of the three sports almost every day. "As a working mother of three (ages seven, six, and one and a half) the only convenient time to train was really early in the morning before the kids got up and I went to work," said Alison.

As the Springfield Alumnae Club's Philanthropy Chairman, Alison saw this as an opportunity to raise some money for their local philanthropy Sojourn, a shelter for battered women. The calling committee went to work asking alumnae to pledge a certain amount of money for each completed mile. Some of the money will be used to help redecorate a room at the Sojourn Center. Alison raised close to $300. Looking back at this new experience Alison said, "I've never done anything like this before, and it took a lot more training than I anticipated, but it was the best birthday present I could have given myself—to be in good shape and to finish!"

Indiana Delta twisted and shouted last fall at their annual philanthropy, Twistermania, co-sponsored with Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity. The campus-wide event benefited the March of Dimes.

LSU Greek effort expected to raise $40,000

The Louisiana State University Greek system on the whole is active in charity fundraising activities, but one in particular merits special attention. This is the annual Charity Marathon. Funds raised from this week-long Greek effort are presented to Muscular Dystrophy and Sickle Cell Anemia. The money is obtained both from sponsors for the 4K Jogathon and the all-night Football Marathon, and from ticket sales to such events as Political Fundraising Dinner, and Air Band. This year a goal of $40,000 has been set, which exceeds last year's goal by $5,000.

The Louisiana Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi is proud to boast the co-chairman of the Charity Marathon events. Senior Shannon McGuire was elected to this prestigious position last March. Over the past months she has worked closely with Panhellenic, Interfraternity Council, and the Black Greek Council, as well as with representatives from Muscular Dystrophy and Sickle Cell Anemia. Although this position has required time and patience, Shannon feels that the leadership opportunity and the gratification of helping victims of these diseases has been extremely rewarding.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA boasts ten varsity athletes among its sisters. Julie Guarnotta, Courtney Lehmann, and Sarah Luddington all play on the women's soccer team, currently ranked first in the nation. Pi Phi sisters Laura Morsman and Karin Andren are co-captains of UNC's swim team, while Lisa Radford and Melissa Mroczek can be found on the volleyball court. Playing for UNC's tennis team are Dianna McCarthy and Kelli Sharp. Dayna Baird is a member of the golf team.

Kim Jesfeld and Stefi Rosztoczy, CALIFORNIA THETAS, are both varsity swimmers. Stefi competed at conference in the butterfly, 100 yard freestyle and 50 yard freestyle. Kim went to conference swimming the 100 and 200 yard freestyle and 100 yard backstroke.

VIRGINIA GAMMA has three members on the varsity women's gymnastic team, Ali Miller, Sidney Rankin and Sheri Susi.

INDIANA EPSILON has many talented athletes including two tennis players, Katherine Morr and Becky Snyder. Katherine introduced Becky to DePauw as well as Pi Phi three years ago while they were counseling at a tennis camp. From the moment they met each other, a special friendship grew. This year looks promising to the Pi Phi tennis players, as their friendship continues to develop both on court and off.

The women of INDIANA BETA can be proud of their four members who participated in the second annual Women's Little 500 Bicycle Race held at Indiana University. Michelle Bastian, Carla Biatrici, Kent Divine and Beth Hughes may have suffered some bruises during their extensive training, but with a top-ten finish they were feeling no pain.

Laura Rosene, ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA, came in eighth place in shotput at the NCAA Division III Midwest Conference Track Meet.

PENNSYLVANIA ETA has three Pi Phi sisters ranked in first, second and third singles positions for Lafayette College's tennis team. Those athletic angels are Jen Lilore, Monica Yuronic, and Julie Urban.

Michelle Ledford, VIRGINIA ETA and synchronized swimmer, won the bronze medal at the Olympic Festival held in Oklahoma City last summer. She was invited to the festival by the Olympic Committee for placing in the top ten in the qualifying meet held for the southern region of the United States.

VIRGINIA GAMMA Robin Marino has been named captain of the women's varsity basketball team at the College of William and Mary. Robin has played as a point-guard since her freshman year, and currently holds the all-time assist record for women at the college.

Shannon Kelly, FLORIDA BETA, is one of the outstanding members of the Florida State University volleyball team. Shannon is a multi-talented player with the ability to play both offense and defense very well. Last season Shannon played in all 36 matches for the Lady Seminoles.

KANSAS BETA Betsy Berkeley is a member of the Kansas State varsity volleyball team. Betsy played for two years on a Junior Olympic team before coming to K-State. This is her second year on the team.

Kentucky Beta's flag football team is ready for another winning season.

Academics and athletics do mix

Lynn Shull a member of the Iowa Beta Chapter, has received many honors this past spring for her academic and athletic abilities. She graduated Summa Cum Laude in May 1989 from Simpson College in Indianola, Iowa.

Lynn recently received a $4,000 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Award. The award is based on academic excellence and athletic performance. Lynn is the only recipient of this award in Iowa in the category of "other sports" which includes track and cross country.

In her career at Simpson College, Lynn earned All-Conference honors six times. Last winter, she was the conference champion in the 3000-meters and was the indoor state college champion during the indoor season. She also qualified for the track nationals in the 1500-meters this spring.

Other awards Lynn received last spring, included the Simpson College annual Barborka Award, which is also based on academic and athletic performance. Lynn was also honored by Iowa Beta's alumnae for the senior with the highest cumulative grade point average and was chosen Chapter Sweetheart.

Lynn is currently at the University of South Dakota. She is a teacher's assistant for women's cross country and track. Lynn is also enrolled in graduate classes for the 1989-90 school year. Following her year at the University of South Dakota, she will continue her education in law school at the University of Iowa.

Triathlon brings challenge

by Kitty Johnson

Recently two pledges at the Kansas Beta Chapter have taken up a grueling hobby. Because of their love for athletics and competition, as well as their desire to be in the best shape possible, these women train for and compete in triathlons.

The triathlon is a race starting out with a swim, followed by a bicycle race, and finally a run.

Angela Bessette and Anne Grainer, both freshmen from Topeka, first took up this event last summer.

Anne was first introduced to this competition by her boyfriend. When in Topeka, Anne swims at a neighborhood pool, and runs on a local route. Since the actual competitions are usually in the summer, she has a stricter workout schedule for that season. When in Manhattan, however, she swims in the natatorium and bikes and runs at a nearby reservoir.

Her usual workout schedule includes biking 15 to 20 miles, swimming 1500 yards, and running two miles. She alternates activities every day. Running seems to be her least favorite event, with swimming being her favorite.

Anne has competed in the Little Apple Triathlon, held in Manhattan, where she placed fifth in her age division (15-19). At the YMCA Westbranch Triathlon in Kansas City, Kansas, Anne placed third.

"They (triathlons) are a lot of fun," Anne said. "Everyone pushes each other and tries to encourage each other."

Angela Bessette started participating in the triathlon because she liked the variety it offered when compared to other kinds of races. "I got started when I was right out of high school," she remarked. "I wanted to do it then since I was still in good shape from track."

Running every other day, on routes through campus, is Angela's most regular workout. She usually runs four miles every other day, if not every day, even when she's not preparing for competition.

Swimming is Angela's least favorite event, so she usually doesn't swim unless she is in training. "I usually start swimming 22 laps per workout about three weeks before a competition," she said. Fifteen miles per workout is her usual biking routine.

Sometimes she does two different events in a day to stay in the best shape. Last summer Angela competed in the Topeka Tin Man Triathlon, placing fourth in her division. There are usually 250 to 300 people in each race.

Angela has gained much personal satisfaction from her accomplishments. "I've always wanted to do the whole thing myself," she said. She sums up the general atmosphere of a triathlon when she says, "its really fun, there are a lot of people, all health-conscious, and it's just like a big party."

Kelly Lamb is the new vice president of the Student Athletic Board at the University of Missouri this year. The organization is responsible for coordinating the football ticket lottery as well as for planning activities to keep Mizzou athletic fans spirited and supportive.

Arizona Alpha is extremely proud of two new Pi Phi pledges, Banni Redhair, left, and Danielle Scott. Banni and Danielle play the number two and three positions on the University of Arizona varsity tennis team.

Chapter Loyalty Day

January 9 is a holiday. For many of us this might be news. This is not a holiday marked by colorful baskets filled with carefully decorated eggs and children in bonnets, or ghosts and goblins in search of sweets. This holiday does not bring the sound of the "Star Spangled Banner" and fireworks lighting a summer sky, or carolers singing to their hearts content as their notes are traced by the frost in the air. No anonymous letters will be sent by one afraid to profess her love, nor will there be pomp and circumstance at the arrival of midnight on this day. January 9 is a holiday for a select group of people; the more than 160,000 women initiated into Pi Beta Phi. January 9 is Chapter Loyalty Day.

Chapter Loyalty Day is a holiday that should be celebrated in the heart of each and every Pi Phi. It is on this day that we ask you to reflect back on your collegiate experience and the enhancement that Pi Beta Phi brought to it.

As with any holiday, Chapter Loyalty Day has a rich heritage. At the 1946 Convention, the convention body voted to set aside January 9, the birthday of Carrie Chapman Catt, as Chapter Loyalty Day. Carrie Chapman Catt is one of Pi Beta Phi's most distinguished members. A leader in the suffrage movement for women, Mrs. Catt devoted 52 years of service before victory came in 1920. She continued to crusade for women's rights and other worthy causes until her death in 1947. Even in her busiest moments, Mrs. Catt was not one to forget her Fraternity. In reply to Pi Phi's invitation to the 1946 Convention, Mrs. Catt wrote, "The Pi Beta Phi when I was a school girl was a small struggling circle, of small membership and with no particular aim. Now, I find Pi Beta Phi everywhere. They are all intelligent, ambitious, and filled with plans for making the world better. I am proud of them, although most of them I have never met."

And so it was to honor this woman that Pi Beta Phi established Chapter Loyalty Day. This is a time when each Pi Phi pays tribute to or honors her own chapter.

So what should you do this Chapter Loyalty Day and throughout the month of January? CELEBRATE! Treat this time as you would any other holiday. You may not celebrate with roast turkey, but you should give thanksgiving. You may not carry trick-or-treat bags, but do carry fond memories of Pi Beta Phi in your heart. If you are not one of the thousands of alumnae who has paid her annual alumnae dues, won't you honor your chapter by becoming a dues-paying alumna today? If you are a paid alumna, think about donating a gift to the Fraternity this holiday season.

As we all turn back the pages of time and reminisce, let's think how we could give back to the Pi Beta Phi that gave us so much. The following is a song that seems appropriate for this holiday. As you read it, please consider how you can thank your Fraternity.

How can I thank you for moments together
Tears, laughter and sharing,
Creating our friendship that shines on forever
Among us are treasured these memories of Pi Phi
That reign in our hearts.

A lifetime commitment is golden with memories
Of Pi Phis around us who teach us and guide us
Through hardships and trials with loving kind smiles
The strength that you offer is welcome to all.

If I live forever I know I could never Forget all the joys of my years spent in Pi Phi
Through pledgedship and walk-out
Continue to find out
The warmth of this family in Pi Beta Phi.

Two enriched through travel

by Stephanie Dollinger

How did the London Bridge, the United Nations, and the French Riviera enter into the lives of Texas Pi Phis this past summer? Two Texas Etas visited these sights plus many more when they enriched their knowledge of foreign language and culture this past summer while traveling through Europe.

Carrying only backpacks, Catherine Powers and Ann Powers traveled through countries such as England, France and Austria while staying in youth hostels. "We didn't want to stay in a hotel because you can stay in a hotel anytime," Ann Powers said. "By staying in youth hostels, we were able to meet people our own age and travel through Europe fairly cheaply." The two sisters also cut down on costs by obtaining international student identification cards which allowed them access to some of Europe's most famous tourist sights at student discounts. Because Catherine could speak Spanish and Ann could speak French, the two of them could easily make transitions into countries such as Spain and France. By knowing a second language, Catherine and Ann could converse with locals and learn about European customs first hand.

"My main goal of this trip was to meet the local people of the countries we visited and to learn about the country's customs from them," Ann Powers said. "We didn't want to be typical tourists who simply had a checklist of sights to visit." In order to get a taste of the local color in Barcelona, Spain, Catherine and Ann stayed with a Spanish family. Catherine stayed with this same family the summer before while on an accelerated foreign language program and remained in contact with them through letters and phone calls. "I enjoyed staying in Spain because I knew the language and this family was so understanding when I tried to speak Spanish," Catherine Powers said. Catherine and Ann stayed in Europe for a month visiting cities such as Paris, Florence and Innsbruck. However, they enjoyed visiting places more when they knew something about the language and the culture. "Many Americans fail to realize that even though people do not live like us, their way of life works for them and makes them happy," Ann Powers said. "I think we should encourage people to learn a second language because you become so much more educated and culturally aware of others."

Mara Elise Christian, New Mexico Alpha, is the recipient of the Albuquerque Alumnae Panhellenic Scholarship.

Christian is recipient of scholarship

Mara Elise Christian, a New Mexico Alpha Pi Phi, was awarded the 1989 Albuquerque Alumnae Panhellenic Scholarship. The scholarship covers a full semester's tuition and fees at the University of New Mexico. The selection is based on academic achievements, campus and community involvement, leadership, and support of the Greek system. Mara is also a Presidential Scholar at UNM, a member of the Blue Key and Golden Key national honor societies, Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity, and she is a Student Ambassador for the Office of School Relations. She has served her chapter as Panhellenic Delegate and VP Mental and was selected to be a Rush Counselor during the 1988 Fall Rush.

Elizabeth Westling, Missouri Alpha, is this year's winner of the St. Louis Alumnae Club's Sophomore Award as the outstanding sophomore in Rho Province. Elizabeth keeps busy on campus with activities both in and out of the chapter as well as maintaining a 3.97 grade point average as a pre-med major.

Oregon Gammas study abroad

Oregon Gamma has several actives studying abroad this fall. Melinda Filbert is studying at the London University in London, England. Sue Stratton is on the Semester at Sea program. They will be stopping at ports in the Soviet Union, Japan, China and many other exciting ports in the East.

Oregon Gamma also has four members studying at the Tokyo International University in Tokyo, Japan. Willamette University has an exchange program with Tokyo International University and there is now a TIU "campus" at Willamette.

Several Oregon Gammas are also going to be studying abroad in the Spring. Laura Zinniker will be in France and Holly Briscoe, Juliana DeLeo, Wendy Korten will be in England.

The newly formed Spartanburg, South Carolina Alumnae Club was pleased to induct two new Golden Arrows. They are Eleanor Bomar Hunt (right) and Ada Roe Heenan (left). Alliad McGege (center) is the new club president.

Metzler is blue ribbon winner

by Martha Kay Kelly Carter

There's a saying that girls fall in love with horses—until they discover boys. However, Caton Metzler of the Arlington Heights, Illinois Alumnae Club has found time in her life for both!

A horse lover since childhood, Caton was influenced by family members, namely grandfather Ted Atkinson, a Hall of Fame jockey and father Ray Metzler, a horse trainer at the Arlington International Race Course in Illinois.

While still in high school, Caton was a contributing editor for "Spur" magazine and had several articles published. Knox became her college choice and Pi Beta Phi her sorority. Caton was initiated in 1984, a busy young lady indeed but one who had time for her sisterhood. She served as Chapter President and was a Harriet Rutherford Johnstone Scholarship winner. Knowing that this is the material fine women are made of, the Arlington Heights Alumnae Club awarded Caton their Outstanding Sophomore Award for Mu Province in 1985. It was the natural progression that this talented and bright young woman would be the 1986 Province Chapter Service winner.

Caton has worked in publicity for Hialeah and for the Arlington International Race Course. She returned to Arlington in June of 1989 from New York, where she was a senior writer for the New York Racing Association. Her present position with Arlington is an exciting one. Caton co-hosts "Breakfast at Arlington," a question and answer program at the track with Phil Georgeff. For a daily television program, "Chicago Racing Report" seen on cable's "Sports Vision," she interviews jockeys, trainers and people famous in racing circles. Notable guests include Charlie Whittingham who trained two Kentucky Derby winners, one of which was Sunday Silence.

On September 3, 1989 horses at Arlington left the paddock to run in the biggest race of the year—The Arlington Million. Caton's attention was not on the horses but rather on Douglas Bredar, paddock judge at Arlington. Doug chose that moment to present Caton with an engagement ring as they stood in the paddock. (Here's "betting a million" she accepted!)

Caton's done more in her twenty-four years than many people dream of doing in a lifetime. Congratulations, Caton Metzler. You're a blue ribbon winner!

Computer program aids handicapped students

Sidney Roesch Schneider, Florida Beta, is receiving national attention for her recent entry in the Computer Learning Month Exceptional Student Lesson Plan Contest. Sidney was judged by members of the National Council for Exceptional Children as having the finest computer lesson plan among over 45,000 entries nationwide. The program involved non-speaking primary-aged handicapped students communicating with computers.

Computer Learning Month is a national project with the overall goal of increasing the number of people receiving the benefits of the technology. This is an official project of the Software Publishers Association and is sponsored by member firms.

Sidney received her award at the National Council for Exceptional Children conference in San Francisco in April. The entry will be published in the new Computer Learning Month publication and numerous magazines.

Sidney is a speech therapist in the Cleveland, Tenn. school system.

Kansas Beta—Diamond Jubilee

Seventy-five years is a memorable occasion and alumnae, we want you! Kansas Beta is proud to be celebrating her Diamond Jubilee the weekend of April 28, 1990. A festive weekend is planned, for all who come, to relive the grand old days as an active wine and blue sister! Friday night, to kick off the festivities, each decade of Pi Phis will meet at different places in town. Founders' Day Luncheon will be served at the K-State Union where Francis Weaver, a famous author, will speak. The Pi Phis will give campus tours and the house will be open. Also, an Arrowcraft sale will take place and a crest sweatshirt sale. The 75th Reunion is at the Manhattan Holiday, Saturday, with a Jazz Band from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. For more information, contact the Manhattan Alumnae Coordinator, Amy Renz, at (913) 776-6138.

Member promotes alcohol awareness

Alcohol is something that many college students are now concerned about. Oregon Alpha's Kim Coghlan is taking action on the matter. Kim is one of the two ACE (Alcohol Consumption Educational) coordinators for Willamette University. When asked what her job is as ACE coordinator, Kim said it was to promote alcohol awareness. However, it is much more.

Kim not only coordinates ACE programs within each living organization on campus, but coordinates activities for the entire student body and programs for National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week. The programs include

"mocktail" parties, movies and speakers. One of the programs which Kim has coordinated is a seminar on intervention and what to do if a loved one has a problem with alcohol and/or drugs. The program is sponsored by Oregon Gamma Pi Phis, the Willamette Kappa Sigma chapter, and two independent residence halls.

Coghlan's work includes Pi Phi also. She has started a sober sister program within the chapter for parties and other social occasions. This is to make sure that everyone who attends an event where alcohol is offered arrives home safely.

Senior citizens receive special care

by Lynn Mount

Growing up we all depend on someone to take care of us. When we grow older, the thought of not having anyone around to depend on becomes a reality. For some senior citizens that thought is not so chilling. Thanks to Kansas Betas, Andrea Lonker and Hallie Walker, many senior citizens have been shown that they are loved. Hallie went to see an older couple in a nursing home while she delivered her church bulletin. Andrea comments, "It was really nice to know that you can make a difference in someone's life just by being there." Andrea Lonker has visited a local nursing home for the past three years to get to know seniors and to give manicures. She said that at first she wasn't sure she could do it because she thought she would run out of things to say. However, she did enjoy getting to know the ladies. Andrea's grandmother died and Andrea never had a chance to get to know her, so she thinks this is a good substitute. Both women agree that it is better to give than to receive, especially when you are giving of yourself.

Hallie Walker, Kansas Beta, enjoys working with senior citizens.

Pi Beta Phi

FRIENDSHIP FUND

Pi Beta Phi thanks the thousands of alumnae who contributed to the 1988-89 Friendship Fund. Your generosity has made for another successful and record-breaking year for the fund. Your gifts represent a steadfast dedication to the purposes of Pi Beta Phi and a commitment to continued excellence in the future. (Donors are listed whose gifts were received between August 1, 1988-July 31, 1989.)

New Consultant hired

Holly Means, Virginia Zeta was recently hired to be the Resident Graduate Consultant with Pi Phi's colony at Princeton University. Holly was Chapter President and was very active on campus. A member of Omicron Delta Kappa and Order of Omega, Holly was an outstanding representative of Pi Phi at Virginia Tech. Prior to her graduation in May, Holly was named Greek Woman of the Year. Her talents and abilities will help build a strong chapter at Princeton.

"Cosmo" features Pi Phi

Lisa Iarossi, a former Florida Beta Chapter President and a 1984 graduate of Florida State University's Hospitality Administration program, is now the general manager and part owner of the new restaurant, Sfuzzi (pronounced Foozy), located in Houston, Texas. Sfuzzi is a moderately-priced Italian trattoria located in the Saks Fifth Avenue Pavilion. "Fun food" is what mainly comprises the menu and there's even a frozen Sfuzzi—consisting of peach nectar, peach schnapps, sparkling wine, ice and a few secret ingredients.

Lisa claims her work is challenging but manageable, because, she says, "My training at FSU was just so good; they presented the business in a positive way, but realistically, so I knew what to expect." FSU's program obviously didn't disappoint her—Lisa was featured in the March 1989 issue of COSMOPOLITAN magazine in a feature on six women who hold top restaurant jobs!

Fulbright scholar shares experience

by M. Christina Gonzalez

Over the years, I have read the issues of The Arrow that arrived at my parents' house with a knot of nostalgia in my stomach. Having been V.P. Mental at Texas Epsilon in 1977, I've always maintained an interest in the stories that were sent to share with Pi Phi sisters everywhere. I never personally sent in any information, however. Now I have a "story" that I think is really worth sharing.

Since graduating from the University of North Texas in December of 1978, I have devoted my time almost completely to my education and career, traveling and studying toward my doctorate while simultaneously working in a variety of career-related jobs. While a graduate student at the University of Texas, I participated in the alumnae club there, and while on the faculty of Rutgers University, I joined the Northern New Jersey club.

I have spent the last academic year in Chihuahua, Mexico, as a Fulbright Scholar in the Faculty of Psychology of the local university. During my year in Mexico, I have had much time to think about life in the United States and those things that I believe have made me a better world citizen. The United States is often a place where people can be very lonely, particularly if a woman is pursuing a professional career. It is often hard to find a social group one can feel comfortable in when moving to a new city. In Mexico, I have been repeatedly charmed by the hospitality here. It was my love for the warmth here that led me to remember where else I have felt the warmth of hospitality and a perpetual, universal welcome. Outside of my family, only in Pi Phi have doors always been open. I recall driving through a blizzard to my first alum meeting in Chatham, New Jersey, afraid I'd be uncomfortable, not knowing anybody. What I found was that the Pi Phi bond transcended age, career, cultural and personal differences. The welcome was warm, and when the other new member, a model in New York, was introduced along with me, I was very touched by the genuine pride the members had in our accomplishments. That is what true sisterhood is all about.

I've recently read a book which mentions that our real family is composed of all those people who help us to be who we are meant to be. It is not a relationship defined necessarily by blood ties. Pi Beta Phi is family. We are really sisters to each other, as we encourage one another to be who each is meant to be. This is a tradition started by our twelve Founders, and I am only now beginning to understand why alums who've been Pi Phis for 30-40 years always seem to speak with such deep emotion about what Pi Beta Phi means to them.

I've accepted a job with the University of North Texas and will be an assistant professor to many young women, I'm sure, who will be pledging my chapter of Texas Epsilon. I plan to be active with the alum club and hope to express with great pride just exactly what being a Pi Phi means.
