A TRIO OF NEW CHAPTERS THEIR INSTALLATIONS, HOMES, AND HISTORIES

INSTALLATION OF NEW YORK Δ

It was the close of a lovely June evening when the ARROW Editor, who had been appointed installing officer of New York Δ by the Grand President, arrived in Ithaca. The drive through the streets of Ithaca and along the borders of the Cornell University campus was exceptionally beautiful, for both city and university were preparing for the events of Cornell's Semi-centennial which was scheduled for the following week, and lawns and flowers about private residences and college halls were a delight.

Formal pledging, which was held in the organization room of Prudence Risley Hall, took place that evening and the following morning the wearers of the new pledge pins were kept busy welcoming the guests who began arriving early in the day. The weather was perfect for motoring and several parties came over the road. The first to arrive were Dorothy Cleveland, Bessie Wood, and Harriette Meservey of New York Γ, who came direct from the chapter home in Canton, N. Y., and were the guests of Clara Groh, New York Γ during their stay.

The party from Syracuse which arrived later included Leora S. Gray, Martha S. Forbes, Esther Sherwood Bennett, Cordelia Scott Doty, Ruth Elna Campbell, Catherine Burr Teller, and Roberta C. Bowen. All these are members of the Syracuse alumnæ club except Mrs. Doty a member of New York A now residing in Baltimore and president of the Baltimore alumnæ club. Mrs. Teller, president of the Syracuse alumnæ club, is a member of Colorado A and Mrs. Bowen, of Vermont B. The party of active delegates from New York A active chapter included Carola Wyker, Naoma Ellis, Irma Ingersoll, Florence Roberts, Adelaide Sherwood, Celia Sargent, Mildred Harford, and Frances Kent Gere. The delegate from Pennsylvania B, Naomi B. Lane, '19, had already arrived to visit her sister, Emily Lane, Pennsylvania B, a graduate student in the university.

Meanwhile the local alumnae under the leadership of Dr. Edith Gordon, Ontario A, had prepared the home of Dr. Edith Matzke, medical adviser of women, for the installation ceremonies which were held that afternoon. Sarah Pomeroy Rugg, installing officer, was assisted by Dr. Edith Gordon, Naomi Lane, Irma Ingersoll, and the following members of the local alumnae organization: Emily Lane, Pennsylvania B; Clara Groh, New York I; Helen Heath-Gage, Wisconsin A; Bertha Baker-Whetzel, Michigan A; and Elfrieda Hochbaum-Pope, Illinois E; the last three named being wives of members of the Cornell University faculty.

The initiation of Dr. Edith Matzke long associated with California A and Pennsylvania B chapters as patroness preceded the initiation of the members of Beta Phi. Following the ceremonies, tea was served by Dr. Matzke and then everyone hastened to make ready for the banquet.

Dinner was served to forty including the members of New York Δ, resident alumnae, the visiting Pi Phis already mentioned, and two guests, Mrs. Sampson and Mrs. Creighton, patronesses of the new chapter. The tables were spread on the broad piazzas of the University Club which were enclosed with wine and blue curtains. The candles were shaded with fraternity colors, and the decorations were beautiful flowers sent by local chapters of nationals already established at Cornell. The dainty favors and menu cards showed the thought and energy which the local committee had expended on the event. The parlors of the club and surrounding lawns were much enjoyed during the social hours before and after the dinner.

Clara Groh, New York I, presided as toastmistress and the formal list included four toasts as follows: Our Flower, Josephine Sniffin, president of New York Δ; Our Colors, Emily Lane, Pennsylvania B; Our Emblem, Evelyn Richmond, New York Δ; and Our Sisterhood, Dr. Edith Hedges Matzke, New York Δ. Many impromptu toasts followed interspersed with songs and the reading of greetings from absent officers and friends.

The following day, the new chapter held its first meeting and was formally organized. The day was filled with leave takings as the guests reluctantly departed, though a few lingered to hear the last steps singing of the year by the Cornell Glee Club that evening. Thus did New York Δ begin her history amidst the fragrance of June roses and the good wishes of Pi Phis gathered from far and near.

HISTORY OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Home of New York Δ Installed June 14, 1919

Cornell University, situated at Ithaca, N. Y., owes its existence to the combined wisdom and bounty of the United States, the State of New York, and Ezra Cornell. Under the Morrill Act of 1862 the State of New York received script representing 989,920 acres of land as its share of the public lands granted by the federal government to the several states for the purpose of establishing colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts. Ezra Cornell offered $500,000 as an endowment fund for a university on condition that the state should set aside the proceeds of the sale of its public land for the same purpose, and that the narrower purpose of the Act of Congress in establishing colleges of agriculture and mechanic arts should be enlarged to the breadth of his own memorable ideal: "I would found an institution where any person can find instruction in any study."

IN THE QUADRANGLE, CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Cornell University was incorporated in 1865 and was formally opened in 1868 with a registration of 412 students. Andrew D. White gave up for a while the prospect of a political career to become the first president.

In 1872 the university became coeducational. After 1882 the university developed and expanded in accordance with the original idea of the founder. The Law School and the Andrew D. White School of History and Political Science were organized in 1887. President Schurman appealed to the state in 1892 for further aid, on the ground that Cornell, although not a state institution in the strict sense of the term, was educating 512 students free of tuition, and that the state was particularly interested in education, agriculture, and allied subjects for which, like the western states, it should supply the necessary funds. The legislature generously responded to this appeal by establishing at Cornell University the State Veterinary College, the State College of Forestry, and the State College of Agriculture. The situation of Cornell University in a small town prevented it from adding a Medical School to its departments although a medical preparatory course has existed since its inception. In 1898 this problem was solved by establishing a medical college in the city of New York, with a branch at Ithaca, where the first two years of the course may be taken.

Cornell University comprises the following departments and colleges: 1. The Graduate Department, having charge of all students pursuing graduate work at the university under the several faculties. 2. The College of Arts and Sciences offers elective courses leading to the degree of A.B. 3. The College of Law offers course leading to the L.B. degree. 4. The Medical College, partially conducted at New York City, confers a degree of M.D. 5. The College of Agriculture offers course leading to the B.S.A. degree. 6. The New York State Veterinary College confers the degree of D.V.M. 7. The College of Architecture confers the degree of B. Arch. 8. The College of Civil Engineering leads to the degree of C.E. 9. Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering and Mechanic Arts confers the degree of M.E.

The government of the university is vested in a board of thirty-nine trustees, the university faculty composed of the professors and assistant professors, having charge of educational matters concerning the university as a whole, and the faculty of the several schools and colleges, who have charge of their respective divisions.

The number of regular students in 1912-13 was 4,803 of whom 466 were women. This number increased rapidly until the outbreak of the war. In 1917-18 there were 775 women in this university. Each year the entering class of women is much larger than the previous year.

In the fall of 1918 there were new members pledged after rushing, and correspondence with Pi Beta Phi officials continued. Finally, in December Mrs. Rugg visited Beta Phi as the inspecting officer. It had been hoped that she would give her formal endorsement, but she could not because the scholarship of the group was not up to Pi Phi standards. That was her only objection, but that was enough.

The members began to work in earnest and Dr. Gordon with her ever-ready aid and untiring assistance encouraged all efforts with the result Beta Phi's scholarship average came up so fast that by the end of the second semester, March 31, 1919, the scholarship average was at a figure where Mrs. Rugg was willing to endorse Beta Phi.

Everyone was happy when Mrs. Rugg's endorsement arrived and immediately a formal petition was made ready. This was sent to Grand Council who at length replied favorably. Arrangements were made for installation which took place June 14, 1919, with Mrs. Rugg as the installing officer.

Beta Phi is always well represented in class and other activities aiming, as nearly as possible, to have each member interested in at least one activity. As New York Δ that record will continue and the scholarship record will improve.

New York Δ will never forget that it owes almost everything to Dr. Gordon for her hearty coöperation and constant aid. Miss Emily Lane, Pennsylvania B, and Miss Clara Groh, New York Γ , together with the local alumnae of Ithaca also did a great deal for Beta Phi and their aid is greatly appreciated by all of the members.

INSTALLATION OF OKLAHOMA B

From the day when I received a telegram from Stillwater saying "fifteen P. P. is elected" and translated it into "fifteen Pi Phis expected," there was no question in my mind that the installation of Oklahoma B would be an experience long to be remembered for its enlarging and deepening of fraternity enthusiasm and loyalty, but the reality was more wonderful even than my anticipation of it had been. Local arrangements were in charge of Vivian Brengle, Oklahoma A, instructor at O. A. and M. and loved friend and adviser of Beta Phi, and the smoothness with which every part of the installation was carried on was largely due to her splendid, untiring efficiency. To entertain for three days twenty visiting Pi Beta Phis was no

The campus situated on a hill looking down upon Cayuga Lake and surrounded by gorges, falls, and cascades, is considered one of the most beautiful in the world. Prudence Risley Hall, one of the two women's dormitories, is one of the finest of its kind in the country.

The social life at Cornell is very pleasant. There are many dances and parties which bring the men and women students together and make them good companions. Outside of the university community, among the townspeople, there exist the friendliest relations. Entertainments and dances are given by churches and in private homes for the students and in return fraternities and independent groups hold teas and parties.

Fraternities among the men number fifty national and about ten local organizations. For the women there are ten nationals and one local as follows: $\text{K A } \Theta$, established in 1881; $\text{K K } \Gamma$, 1883; $\text{A } \Phi$, 1889; $\text{A O } \Pi$, 1908; $\Delta \text{ Z}$, 1908; $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, 1913; $\text{K } \Delta$, 1917; $\text{X } \Omega$, 1917; $\text{A } \Xi \Delta$, 1908; $\text{II B } \Phi$, 1919; $\Sigma \Delta \Phi$ (local Jewish organization), 1918. The social life centers in the dormitories and in the various fraternity groups.

HISTORY OF BETA PHI, NOW NEW YORK DELTA OF PI BETA PHI

Beta Phi Fraternity was founded in Cornell University in March, 1918. The members were desirous of petitioning for a charter of Pi Beta Phi at once because they realized that her ideas and ideals were the ones which they wished to attain. The group in the beginning was under the direct supervision of Miss Louise Case, New York A, who gave her advice and directed the members in every movement. To Miss Case the group owes a great deal, and most heartily thanks her for her aid and assistance in its early days of preliminary petitioning, for Beta Phi began petitioning Pi Beta Phi immediately upon becoming organized.

After a short time the Beta Phis learned that Dr. Edith H. Gordon, Ontario A, who was the women's medical advisor, was a member of Pi Beta Phi. They asked her to aid them in their great undertaking. She consented and began at once to plan and help them. She went to convention where she presented Beta Phi's case but, as no formal petition had been made, it was not voted upon. Instead the case was left entirely to the decision of Grand Council when Beta Phi should present to its members a formal petition.

small task, but our new chapter left in our minds no doubt as to her ability and charm as a hostess. The college dormitory for girls had been secured for our use and the real Pi Phi houseparty which this made possible was a thing which we had not expected and which we all enjoyed to the fullest extent, as you would have known if you could have heard the almost all night "talk-fest" on our last night together. *

Most of the girls—the out-of-town Beta Phis, the eighteen Oklahoma A Pi Phis, and the Arkansas A representative—reached Stillwater on Sunday afternoon, the eighth of August, and that evening was spent in getting acquainted and in singing and hearing Pi Beta Phi and Beta Phi songs. Monday noon, Mrs. Gray, an enthusiastic Beta Phi mother and patroness, gave a delightful luncheon, the first of the events connected with the installation. In the afternoon, the formal pledging of the ten active and ten alumnæ members of Beta Phi was held. The dormitory was ideal for our need since we were able to have not only the pledging and initiation ceremonies but also our luncheon and banquet right in the building. After the long pledging service on a hot August day, nothing could have been more enjoyable than our automobile trip to Yost Lake, Monday evening. The lake is a beautiful one, the best in the state for swimming and rowing, and the cool, restful loveliness of it at sunset is a thing that we shall not soon forget. The swimmers were so loath to leave the water that the delicious picnic supper at President Cantrell's cottage had to be hurried through in order that we might get back to Stillwater for the informal porch dance given by one of the local men's fraternities for the Pi Beta Phi pledges and their guests. It was not far from twelve o'clock when we got back to the dormitory but even then the day's events were not over. The Pi Phis had insisted that the pledges must give a "stunt" and in living up to this requirement, the pledges did one of the most gracious things that I have ever seen—a thing which showed more plainly than anything else could have done just the place that these girls felt that Pi Beta Phi would hold in their lives. Beta Phi, as a local fraternity, had been in existence for almost ten years and its rituals and ceremonies were very dear to every member, but that night the initiation was given for the last time, and for the first time before anyone not a Beta Phi, when Vivian Brengle, before the members of Pi Beta Phi, was initiated into the local organization.

Tuesday morning the Pi Phis were entertained at very lovely breakfasts at the homes of two alumnae pledges, Vinita Nelson and Cornelia James, and then hurried back to the dormitory to complete the preparations for the initiation. Because of the number to be initiated the service was divided and the active girls were initiated in the morning and the alumnae in the afternoon. It is a pleasure for me to have this opportunity to express my very great appreciation of the loyal assistance given me by the Oklahoma A and Arkansas A Pi Phis. Although the heat was almost unbearable, these girls "stayed by" until the last. After the initiations the first meeting of Oklahoma B of Pi Beta Phi was held, when the official record books and supplies were given to the chapter and a brief talk on the responsibilities and privileges of membership in our fraternity was made. Lucille Shuttee, Theta Province representative on the Committee on Examinations, spoke most interestingly, at this time, on the examination and methods of preparing for it.

The banquet, held Tuesday evening in the big reception hall, brought thirty-eight Pi Beta Phi together for the final event in the installation ceremonies, and it was fully worthy of marking the close of those inspirational days. Greetings from the members of Grand Council, from Louisiana A, from the Oklahoma City Alumnae Club which had also sent beautiful flowers, from the local chapter of K Δ, and from other friends of the new chapter were read by the toastmistress, Vivian Brengle, and toasts were given by Gladys Madigan, Lois Davidson, and Bernice Guthrie of Oklahoma B, Lura Massengale, Arkansas A, Mary Lou Patterson, Oklahoma A, Hazel Beattie, Carrie Martin, Ruth Anne Hathaway, and Theresa Gibson, all of Oklahoma A, but representing alumnae clubs in various parts of the state, and by the installing officer. Even after the banquet was over, no one wanted to go home so we sat for a long time on the steps of the dormitory singing fraternity songs and thinking, with a new realization of the possibilities of the friendships and ideals of Pi Beta Phi.

HISTORY OF OKLAHOMA AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE
Home of Oklahoma B Installed August 12, 1919

The Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College owes its origin to a bill offered by United States Senator Morrill, of Vermont, in 1862. This bill provides funds for one such institution of learning in every state of the Union, and public lands are set aside for the endowment of these colleges. The first legislature of the territory of Oklahoma adopted a resolution accepting the provision of Congress and the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College was established in Payne County at Stillwater, December 25, 1890.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College campus and farm embraces a tract of one thousand acres. The present buildings were erected by the state at a cost of more than half a million dollars, and they are equipped with the latest and best scientific apparatus. Two new buildings, the Armory-Gymnasium and Science Hall, are in process of construction. Funds have been set aside for a new Library building and a Home Economics building.

The growth of Agricultural and Mechanical has been steadily increasing. Over fifteen hundred students are enrolled at present, and a larger enrollment is expected after Christmas.

HISTORY OF BETA PHI, NOW OKLAHOMA B OF PI BETA PHI

Greek-letter fraternities were not allowed in the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College until 1915. The group which later came into prominence as Beta Phi was then known as the "Owls." Secretly the members called it Beta Phi and though they were originally only six in number they determined to increase by adding only those who would meet the standards of Pi Beta Phi for even then they had that fraternity as their goal.

In 1915, came a change in administration, and Greek-letter fraternities were allowed. This gave Beta Phi enthusiasm to make a more determined and definite campaign toward Pi Beta Phi. In the spring of 1918, definite work toward petitioning was commenced. Miss Brengle, of Oklahoma A, superintended the work of Beta Phi during 1918 and attended the Pi Beta Phi Convention at Charlevoix, Mich., in behalf of Beta Phi.

In the spring of 1919, Miss Amy B. Onken, inspecting officer from Grand Council, visited Stillwater and endorsed the group. On August 12, 1919, Miss Onken returned as installing officer of the Oklahoma B of Pi Beta Phi.

WOMAN'S BUILDING, OKLAHOMA A. AND M. COLLEGE

Through the courtesy of President Cantwell the Woman's Building was used for the installation ceremony and for the entertainment of the visiting Pi Phis who numbered nineteen.

INSTALLATION OF WISCONSIN B

All day Tuesday, August 19, Pi Phis and Pi Phis-to-be kept arriving in Beloit, until our group, the final one, came just in time to be whisked out by motor to the Country Club for dinner. This was served amidst the most delightful surroundings and the rooms hummed merrily as we proceeded to "get acquainted" rapidly.

From the Country Club we went directly to the home of Clara Paley, Nebraska A, '99, for the pledging service, conducted by a former Grand Vice-president, Nina Harris Allen, Illinois B, '97, rather a veteran in this line for this was her seventh installation. At the close we sang the Anthem and other Pi Phi songs and our new pledglings surprised us with their quickness to catch both refrains and words. When we suggested that they sing some of their old

X E songs, verily did that group burst into song. Never had any of us heard better chapter singing. Every girl had her share in it and several with trained voices taking the parts gave the whole a beauty and balance that held us as rapt listeners. A singing chapter never lacks for enthusiasm, so our hopes for the chapter are high.

On Wednesday morning, August 20, Amy Onken, Grand Secretary, initiated the twenty-one active girls at the home of Mrs. E. M. Dazey (Kathryn Clarke, Wisconsin A, '13). At one o'clock we welcomed a brief respite and enjoyed the delicious luncheon served in the Congregational Church by the local alumnæ, who soon after gathered in Mrs. Dazey's home to be initiated by Anna Robinson Nickerson, Grand Vice-president. At the close of the ceremonies Wisconsin B held its first chapter meeting.

And then, all the mystery and uncertainty being behind them, and the rosy-colored future in Pi Phi a-calling them, those thirty-five girls that had been "all smiley round the mouth and teary round the eyes" turned toward the banquet at Hotel Hilton with gladdened hearts and prepared to eat the delectable things set before them and to drink in all the things about Pi Phi that visiting members told them. Sarah Pomeroy-Rugg, ARROW Editor, acted as toastmistress. The toast list included: Greetings from Wisconsin A, Joanna Hayes; Response for Wisconsin B, Active Chapter, Eulalia Drew; Greetings from Illinois E, Margaret Anderson; Response for Wisconsin B Alumnæ, Ethel Jones; Installations I Have Known, Nina Harris Allen; The Significance of National Fraternity Work, Florence Hunt Webster; National Fraternity Membership, Dorothy Alderton Kellar; The History of II B Φ , Anna Robinson Nickerson; Our Settlement School, Amy B. Onken.

Though it was late when the last toast was given we were still reluctant to separate and so we stayed for more friendly chatting and several good songs until finally we literally "wound up" the evening by teaching the Beloit girls the Pi Phi Marching Song.

Thursday morning the alumnæ again met at Clara Paley's home to form their alumnæ club and to get as much information as possible verbally before the visitors left town.

And so it was, the story runs, that X E became the sixtieth chapter of II B Φ and the only woman's national at Beloit. The following visiting Pi Phis were enthusiastic assistants: Mrs. James Webster (Florence Hunt, Illinois B, '17), president of Galesburg Alumnæ Club; Mrs. Herbert A. Kellar (Dorothy Alderton, California A, '12),

BELOIT COLLEGE

Home of Wisconsin B, Installed August 20, 1919

Beloit College is located at Beloit, Wis., a manufacturing city of about 23,000 people, situated on Rock River. The college was founded in 1846, the result of a convention of Congregational and Presbyterian churches held in Beloit in 1844. The early founders of Beloit were for the most part Yale men, and for years Beloit has been called "the Yale of the West." It became coeducational in 1895. There have been but three presidents in the history of Beloit, a unique record. Rev. Aaron L. Chapin was the first president, and he was succeeded in 1886 by Dr. Edward Dwight Eaton, Ph.D., LL.D., who held this important office until 1917. Then Dr. Melvin A. Brannon, Ph.D., LL.D., former president of the University of Idaho, accepted the presidency of the college and came to Beloit in July, 1917.

The college buildings are located on a high bluff overlooking Rock River. The campus covers about forty acres, an historic location, the former hunting ground of the Winnebago Tribes, and contains about twenty Indian mounds. There are seventeen college buildings, including a large science building with well-equipped laboratories, a library containing over 60,000 volumes, a modern gymnasium, an art hall, which contains many fine paintings and an unusual exhibit of over one hundred Greek casts, the principal exhibit of the Greek Government at the Columbian Exposition, and presented to the college by Lucius G. Fisher, Jr., a museum containing one of the best archaeological exhibits in the Middle West, the gift of Mr. F. G. Logan of Chicago, a chapel, recitation halls, a dormitory for men and three dormitories for women.

Students are admitted to Beloit only from accredited high schools. The college year is divided into three quarters, the fourth quarter being the summer session, a system by which a student may graduate in three years, or may enter college at the beginning of any of the four quarters. The degrees of B.A. and B.S. are granted for the completion of this work. The college does not grant honorary degrees. In 1918 a new department of household arts and sciences was opened and very successfully conducted by Miss Florence Robinson, of Wisconsin A, a former Editor of THE ARROW.

Beloit College is recognized as one of the best colleges in the Middle West. She was a charter member of the North Central Association, and received the unanimous vote of Phi Beta Kappa some years ago for the installation of a chapter here. Such an unanimous vote has rarely been given, and it speaks for the standing of Beloit throughout the country. Beloit is almost the only college in the Middle West which is doing solely regular college work. Every student is doing full college work, and this gives strength to the institution.

There are at present thirty-seven members of the Beloit College faculty, twenty-eight men and nine women. Twenty-one of these hold doctors' degrees, thirteen masters' degrees, and the remainder hold B.A. degrees. It is by vote of the faculty that the women's fraternities at Beloit have now been given the privilege of petitioning for national charters. Mrs. George W. Tannahill, Grand President of Pi Beta Phi, accepted appointment as Dean of Women at Beloit College this year and assumed her new duties at the opening of the current college year.

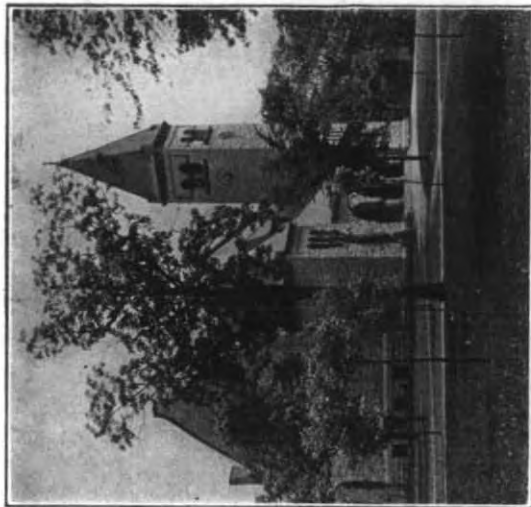

The attendance at Beloit is gradually assuming pre-war numbers, since a large number of students who left school to enter service are returning to finish their work for degrees. Beloit has had many honor students at Yale, to which many of the Beloit alumni are drawn for graduate work. As a member of the Little Five Conference, Beloit has made a good record in athletics, the record for this year being one of the best in the history of the college. Beloit's record in inter-collegiate oratorical and debating contests is a brilliant one. In a period of oratorical contests extending over forty years, Beloit has seldom lost the state contest, and has won more interstate contests held between eleven states, than any other two schools together.

The college made an unusual record in war service during the period of the War. In addition to the very large number of alumni, former students, and undergraduates in actual service, a large per cent of whom were commissioned officers, Beloit trained a total of 866 men on the campus during the past year. The Vocational Units started their training work in June, 1918, and continued through until the last of December. In October the collegiate section of the S. A.

T. C. was added. In charge of this work were one captain, three first lieutenants, five second lieutenants, assisted by several instructors and the regular college teaching force of the college. The college has received the commendation of the War Department on the splendid way in which the training work was carried on, and Beloit received the highest ranking of any college or university in District No. 7.

Beloit's Service Flag contains 560 stars, fourteen of them now gold. Of this number 205 were commissioned officers, 29 Y. M. C. A. workers. At the very outbreak of the war the college equipped and sent to France two hospital units. Some of these men returned to the United States when this country entered the war, to reënlist, some remained in the French Army. Twelve are known to have received the Croix de Guerre. Several have been cited for the Medaille Militaire and the D. S. C.

Adequate social privileges are granted at Beloit. Each fraternity is allowed two parties a quarter at the various chapter-houses, including one formal a year. A Panhellenic dance is given annually by the members of the national fraternities. The women's fraternities are allowed one formal a year and are granted the privilege of informal parties. All-college dances and mixers help to promote a democratic spirit.

An association of all the students in the college, under the leadership of a member of the senior class, directs certain college policies and meets the various problems which confront the student body. The women in the dormitories have a self-government association with a president elected from the senior class.

There are six national fraternities at Beloit: $\text{B} \Theta \Pi$, $\Phi \text{K} \Psi$, ΣX , $\Sigma \text{A} \text{E}$, $\Pi \text{K} \text{A}$, and $\text{T} \text{K} \text{E}$. Normally these chapters have from twenty-five to thirty members, but these numbers have been reduced during the past two years, though they are now getting back to normal again. There are three local women's Greek-letter societies, $\text{X} \text{E}$ (now Wisconsin B), founded in 1905; $\Theta \Pi \Gamma$, reorganized from an older group, 1905; $\Delta \Psi \Delta$, 1908.

Usually these three groups lead the school in scholarship. Frequently the nonfraternity group ranks above the fraternities, but the places vary from year to year. The real social life of the college centers about the men's and women's fraternities, although the Association of Nonfraternity Men also gives social functions. Fraternity life and spirit is very strongly developed at Beloit.

HISTORY OF CHI EPSILON NOW WISCONSIN B OF PI BETA PHI

The Chi Epsilon Fraternity of Beloit College was founded in 1905 by seven very determined young women who were convinced that such an organization could fulfill a real purpose in the college life. The founding was accompanied by all the thrills incident to a move of this kind in a college where the right of such organizations to exist had been denied. No attempt was made to conceal the fact that Chi Epsilon had been founded, although the pin, a spear, was not worn openly. Persistent attempts were made to secure the consent of the faculty to formal recognition. This consent was given in 1908 and the two women's locals of Beloit College became recognized in the college life, with the understanding that no attempt be made to secure membership in a national fraternity.

With the privilege of seeking national membership denied, renewed energy and thought were given to the closer organization of Chi Epsilon. Permission had been given for the maintenance of a chapter-house for the holding of social gatherings and meetings, although all non-resident women were required to live in the dormitories. A period of very happy fraternity life followed, but the desire for national membership was always the ultimate goal. In 1916 the faculty reconsidered the question and the organizations were told that they might petition for national charters. With our knowledge of the strength and the ideals of Pi Beta Phi, we turned to her with the hope that some day our petition for membership would be granted. We received visits from Mrs. J. Ford Allen in June, 1917, from Mrs. Spry, Province President, Misses Hannah Harrington and Dorothy Grayce of Wisconsin A and Miss Lillian Capron of Illinois E in the spring of 1918, and at commencement time, 1918, the girls had their first opportunity of meeting Mrs. Tannahill who was in Beloit as the guest of President Brannon and his family. It can be well imagined how our interest was stimulated by these contacts. In the spring of 1919 Mrs. Laurence, the new Province President, spent several days with us in Beloit, a very delightful experience for the members of Chi Epsilon. And in June of 1919 came the wonderful news that our petition had been granted and that Chi Epsilon was to become a part of Pi Beta Phi.

The installation was held on August 19-20. Beloit was especially honored to number among the Pi Phi guests on this occasion three members of the Grand Council, Mrs. Nickerson, Grand Vice-president, Mrs. Rugg, Editor of THE ARROW, and Miss Onken, Grand Secretary, and the Alumnae Editor of THE ARROW, Mrs. Allen of Oak Park. It was an occasion which those who were privileged to attend will never forget.

Another great honor has come to Beloit and to Wisconsin B. Mrs. Tannahill, Grand President of Pi Beta Phi, is now our dean of women and her secretary is Miss Edith Carpenter, Cataloguer of Pi Beta Phi. Their presence among us is an inspiration. Wisconsin B of Pi Beta Phi takes her place as the first national fraternity for women in Beloit College and is looking forward to a year of real accomplishment.

DR. EDITH HEDGES MATZKE

Pi Beta Phi is indeed glad to welcome into her sisterhood one whose name has stood high in the university circles with which she has been connected, whose interest in and with the college woman has been constant, and whose mind and heart have been given to the solving of the problems that meet the undergraduate woman. Dr. Edith Hedges Matzke has been associated with Pi Beta Phi since the early beginnings of California A chapter at Leland Stanford, Jr., University. As patroness of this chapter she kept in touch with the national policy of the fraternity and helped the local chapter in many ways. Her position as medical adviser of women gave her unequalled opportunities for knowing and influencing the women students.

In 1910, after the death of her husband, Professor John E. Matzke, head of the Romance Language department of the university, and a scholar of international reputation, Dr. Matzke came east. Her connection with Cornell University dates from 1913 when she was appointed medical adviser of women, and later, for two years, held also the position of adviser of women. During 1918-19 Dr. Matzke was on leave of absence from the medical office for War Service, serving as one of the lecturers of the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities, social hygiene division, section on women's work.

New York Δ owes much to Dr. Matzke. Her respect for Pi Beta Phi and its standards has been evident since her first contact with the fraternity. Her belief in its ideals, and its mission for college women gave to the petitioning group the right basis for organization. This, with her unflinching interest, wise counsel, and unqualified endorsement of the group to the university authorities aided materially in the winning of the charter.

Pi Phis who have met and known Dr. Matzke have been won by her delightful personality, impressed by her earnestness of purpose, and inspired by her spirit of service which is evinced in her every word and act. Those who have known her more intimately feel that her broad sympathies, her trained mind, and unquenchable enthusiasm for the best interests of womankind will bring into the fraternity a new element of strength.

HONORARY SOCIETIES

BY FLORA HULL MITCHELL

Chairman, National Scholarship Committee

(The writer has omitted from discussion all honorary societies which do not admit women to membership; all local honorary societies and all forensic honorary organizations. The latter have been excluded because they do not seem to conform strictly either to the general or non-professional type of honorary fraternity or to the professional honorary group. Where data is lacking or curtailed, it is because responsible parties could not be reached.)

A freshman, filled with the joy of being a Pi Phi at last, wrote, the day after her initiation, to a young man, a nonfraternity but Phi Beta Kappa man, that she was as happy and pleased in her choice as she knew he was in being a Phi Beta Kappa.

Whether or not a comparison of those respective joys is possible is not important. The significant point about the incident is that the freshman made the mistake of placing both fraternities in the same class. Perhaps in a freshman such an error is not unusual. In this instance it might even be excused, for the college which the girl attended had no chapter of an honorary fraternity. But such unfamiliarity with societies of the type of Phi Beta Kappa is not confined to freshmen. Even juniors and seniors have confessed ignorance of the nature and purposes of these organizations. And, what is far more regrettable, is the attitude of indifference which students some times display, even where honorary societies are well known. Occasionally this spirit of apathy is stirred to the point of mild and casual interest in the spring, when a chapter suddenly wonders what chances there are for at least one senior being elected to Phi Beta Kappa or some similar organization.

This disturbing attitude of some chapters may arise from the fact that honorary fraternities have no social status and confine their activities to commencement time or other special occasions, or to the fact that there is no competition between the general academic and honorary fraternities. The general fraternity seeks, in addition to good scholarship (and the insistence upon this is increasing each year) certain personal assets which it may utilize and direct for the benefit of other students, both fraternity and nonfraternity. Chief among these desired qualities are leadership, adaptability, and resourcefulness. The honorary fraternity, on the other hand, seeks primarily the student who has distinguished herself in some mental endeavor. It seems to be a matter for individual chapters to decide whether or not they will consider, as part of a student's distinction, her achievements on the campus. In other words, the influence of the general fraternity is both social and socializing, the influence of the honorary fraternity, wholly socializing.

But each type is necessary, for each serves its distinctive purpose, the former of directing and developing the undergraduate, the latter of recognizing development and encouraging further specialization in the graduate. Some have felt that "there are too many honorary fraternities in conflicting fields and their consolidation or simplification would be of benefit to all." No attempt should be made by either the academic or honorary fraternity to supplant or encroach upon the premises of one another, though occasionally we find some local organization trying to cover the whole field. Both may be mutually helpful. The position of honorary fraternities may be made even stronger and membership in them may be more widely coveted if the general fraternities will strive more faithfully toward good scholarship and seek to educate their members in the purposes and values of the honorary fraternities. A member of an honorary fraternity should be a better member because she also belongs to a general fraternity.

It is often difficult to determine whether a particular fraternity classed as honorary is strictly honorary or is merely professional. A number are classed as both, and still others of each type have gradually changed their character and purposes until they invade, to some extent, the domain of the undergraduate organization. It is also difficult in some cases to distinguish between the honorary non-professional and honorary professional societies. By way of illustration, Sigma Xi, though limited to the scientific field is non-professional while Alpha Omega Alpha, limited to the medical field, is distinctly professional. There is also the honorary fraternity, chiefly local, which draws its membership entirely from the undergraduate body. While somewhat resembling the more or less social class societies, these often have a decided influence in stimulating students to better and more extensive work in the particular field which they favor.

Represented in the sixty colleges where Pi Beta Phi chapters are located there are seven graduate fraternities general and professional, of a national honorary character and two which may or may not be classed as honorary. Information concerning local honorary fraternities has been so incomplete that they have not been included in this article.

Foremost among honorary fraternities, in size and age, ranks Phi Beta Kappa, and it is especially important because it laid the foundations upon which all of our later Greek-letter societies were formed. At William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., the first chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was established on December 5, 1776. "From the very first the Greek-letter idea was practically complete, the society having a badge, Greek mottoes, constitution, initiation and grip. . . ." For the first four years of its existence, the organization remained local, but in 1780 a chapter was established at Yale. Between the date of founding and 1914, eighty-six chapters had been installed. All of these, it must be remembered, are in institutions granting A.B. degrees, for Phi Beta Kappa's field is letters. No charters are granted to Schools of Technology. The badge of the society is an oblong key of gold, bearing on one side a hand pointing to several stars, and the Greek letters Φ B K which stand for the words Philosophia Biou Kubernates, meaning Philosophy the Guide of Life. On the reverse side appears December 5, 1776, the letters S. P. standing for the words Societas Philosophica and the owner's name. The fraternity publishes a magazine called the Phi Beta Kappa Key.

The honorary fraternity ranking next in age and size is Sigma Xi. It was founded at Cornell University in 1886. From that date until 1914 it had established thirty chapters. "The objects of the society are three fold: to encourage original investigation in science by publishing scientific matter; to establish fraternal relations among scientific investigators; to grant membership to such students as have, during their college course, given promise of future achievement." The badge of the society is a watch chain pendant, key shaped, formed of a monogram of the letters Σ Ξ . A magazine called the Sigma Xi Quarterly is published.

In 1897, at the University of Maine, Orono, Me., the honorary fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, was founded. It covers a field somewhat broader than most organizations of this class, in that it admits juniors and seniors from all departments of American colleges and universities, to the number of one-third of the whole graduating class. It imposes no restrictions as to the kind of degree or course of study which the student must pursue and aims to stand for "the unity and democracy of learning." Its prime object is to emphasize scholarship and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership. Its secondary object is to bind the alumnae more closely to their Alma Mater, to furnish an additional tie of college friendship, and to interest its members in the promotion of a more thorough education. Persons who have won distinction in science, literature, or education may be elected to honorary membership in the organization. From the date of founding until 1909 the fraternity had established five chapters. The badge of the society is an eight-rayed representation of the sun surrounding the earth, across which there is a band displaying the letters Φ K Φ .

Probably the youngest national honorary fraternity is Phi Sigma, founded at Ohio State University, March 17, 1915. The purpose of the society is to promote greater coöperation among students of biological sciences, the term student being used in the broad sense of one engaged in investigation and not merely in fulfilling a curriculum requirement. Admission to membership is fixed at the completion of the junior year of a regular course including a biological specialization to the extent of one major. Research students are preferred, though this is not an absolute requirement. Of the five chapters now in existence, Alpha and Delta are the only ones which have women members, though the fraternity constitution does not forbid or discourage their election. The society issues a publication called The Biologist. It is devoted to original papers by members, abstracts of papers published elsewhere by members, personal news notes, and official information concerning the fraternity. Owing to the disruptions during the war, no national conclave was ever held. The publication of the magazine was also suspended for this period. The badge of the society consists of a plain gold key with the letter Φ superimposed upon the letter Σ . It is issued only through the Grand Chapter. Prospective chapters are voted on by all chapters after due inspection of credentials officially furnished by the school in which the petitioners are located.

The preceding organizations are distinctly of the honorary non-professional type. In addition to them there are two which seem to lie on the border line between the non-professional group and the professional group of the honorary class. In each of these cases, some authorities give one status and some another. Some have also classed them not as honorary fraternities at all, but as pure professional organizations. I refer to Omicron Nu and Pi Lambda Theta. The former was established at Michigan Agricultural College, East Lansing, Mich., April 16, 1912. The name of the fraternity is taken from the Greek meaning "to manage a household." Its object is to further home economics and scholarship among students. Juniors and seniors are eligible to membership. The basis of the constitution is the same as that of Phi Beta Kappa. An effort was made to obtain more detailed information regarding this society but no response was received.

Pi Lambda Theta is an honorary fraternity, for women only, in schools of education. Prior to July, 1917, there were seven different societies with similar aims but not bound together by any organization. However, during that month representatives from the societies in the Universities of Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, and Washington, met at the University of Missouri and formed the national honorary society of Pi Lambda Theta. The purpose of the organization is to promote the teaching profession and requirements for election to membership are recognized high scholarship and professional ability. When the prospective member has had no actual experience her success in practice teaching is the guide and measure of her professional ability. At present there are only the seven original chapters.

Foremost among the national honorary professional fraternities is Alpha Omega Alpha. It was founded at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago, in 1902 and admits to membership only those of the medical profession. From its very inception the organization has admitted women to membership on the same basis as men. This fact is worthy of note, for the growth of the coeducational idea in medical schools has been very slow. Even today many of our prominent institutions will not admit women in that department. Alpha Omega Alpha is not a social organization. It seeks primarily and chiefly to elevate the standards of medical practice by encouraging research and cooperating with other agencies in recognized medical movements. It is organized somewhat along the lines of Phi Beta Kappa but its actual workings are in the hands of undergraduate members, subject to the approval of the faculty. Election to membership is based upon high scholarship. The badge of the society is a gold watch key displaying the letters A O A and the date 1902.

Theta Sigma Phi, an honorary journalistic fraternity and Alpha Epsilon Iota, medical, admit women only to membership. The former organization was founded at the University of Washington in 1909. Its purpose is to recognize ability among women specializing in journalism. In 1913 there were five chapters. The badge is a gold linotype matrix displaying a torch and the letters $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$. This organization is classed by some as being a general professional society instead of an honorary professional society. Extensive information concerning its workings is lacking, in spite of efforts to obtain data. Alpha Epsilon Iota was founded at the University of Michigan Medical School, February 26, 1890. The society publishes a magazine called The Journal.

THE MAGIC CASEMENT

BY KATHERINE ROPES

With an introduction by Frances M. Perry, head of the Department of English Composition in the University of Arizona

For the last two years the personality of Katherine Ropes, who died Friday morning, September 26, at her home in Tucson, has influenced directly or indirectly a large circle of students at the University of Arizona. She registered with us in the autumn of the year 1917, and became known to the entire student body as the writer of the libretto for the successful and much-quoted Face Front, a timely operetta combining interest in world affairs and local conditions with irresistible humor.

During the year 1917-18 Miss Ropes took an active part in college life. She was an ardent member of Pi Beta Phi fraternity; she contributed verse to The Wildcat, was a member of the Sock and Buskin Dramatic Society, the Coffee Club, and the Wranglers, and carried the club spirit of enthusiastic interest into the classroom. She did distinguished work in the short-story course and in the literature classes of which she was a member.

Last year, though a citizen in Stevenson's "Counterpane Country," Miss Ropes continued in spirit and interest a member of our university community. Her alertness to ideas made conversation with her stimulative and delightful, and her sunny south porch was the center for many of those discussions of college affairs and classroom teaching that help to make experience and instruction educative and vital.

It is difficult to choose a single piece of Miss Ropes's work that will give an adequate sense of her sympathetic, buoyant personality, but the following essay, written a few weeks before her death, communicates something of the brave, bright spirit we so loved and shall so long remember.

FRANCES M. PERRY.

THE MAGIC CASEMENT

"Charmed magic casements, opening on the foam of perilous seas, in faery lands forlorn."

For Keats, it was the nightingale which opened that "magic casement." For me, it is the number of things of which this world is full.

Some people enjoy those things they have, but I enjoy the things I have not; so that my magic casement is a wide one.

A modern and pedagogic definition of work and play gives the first as an unpleasant means to an end; the second as a means, so pleasant in itself, as to be its own chief end.

All joy is incidental; it should be so. It does not come by seeking. But the greatest of all joys is the by-product from doing successfully, for a living wage, the work we love best of all others in the world. Then the pursuit of the ideal becomes an idyll.

My magic casement leads into the lives of others. Though I am a "Lie-a-Bed Lady," through my friend, a society girl, I haunt the cafés and thé dansants of New York. I know that one may enter the Cascade Room at the Biltmore, and other enchanted realms only through the sesame of "evening dress." (Those magic words. I have never worn a real one in my life.) I have "rumbledy-rumbled" down the Board Walk at Atlantic City. I have spent $7 a day (it takes my breath) for a room alone.

But when hot weather comes, and the wind from the desert is blazing light and heat, I turn to my friend, Mr. Kipling, whom I have never met. I take the stifling journey with "William, the Conqueror," to the south of India. And the "clicking scorpions" in William's house console me for the creepy ones in mine. Kipling could make even scorpions attractive; or at least adventurous.

Clouds are gathering, and all through June the air grows heavier and heavier. It is unbearable. I believe it was from the green of English country houses that Kipling LOVED his India. What I need is contrast!

'So I turn to R. L. S.; I take that chilly, soggy trip with Alan and David through Scotland. And even the cold, wet oatmeal, even the foggy, freezing days seem good to me. I would have "liked it fine, David."

Early in June, I read Hugh Walpole's "Secret City." Every night, when I went to bed, I lay in Durward's room, looking out on the waters. And I felt the secret tempestuous foolishness that is Russia; the unreasoning, passionate impulses that make of every soul, Russian or otherwise, a "Secret City."

The fascination of Russia; of the Far East! I have dreamed of intrigues with immobile Chinese princes, of carnivals of love at cherry-blossom time in Japan.

How I long to cross the seas! Or, if that cannot be, I should like to cross the street. A block away, there is a dance going on; I hear the strains of Beautiful Ohio from here. It is only a "jitney dance" with a player piano, playing one of the rhythmic, monotonous melodies which sweep across the continent each year. Last summer it was Smiles, the year before Poor Butterfly. But there is an ache in it, a poignant longing for something indefinable; not merely love, nor spring, nor even youth. Perhaps it is the promise of life. I should like to be in it!

And yet my friends go to dances, and their hearts ache because their Heart's desires are not attentive. But the dance I attend, in counterpane country, is perfect, and the handsomest prince at the ball plays with Cinderella.

My friends' dances, their pretty clothes, their trips, are all "salvage" to me. I gather them up unscathed and none of the "work," the "means to an end," mars my enjoyment.

For to him that hath—imagination—shall be added everything.

OUR PHI BETA KAPPAS AND OTHER HONOR STUDENTS OF 1919

PHI BETA KAPPA

VERMONT B. Barbara Slayton Brown was born in Waterbury, Vt., August 1, 1898. She attended the public schools there, graduating from high school in 1915, as valedictorian of her class. The next fall she entered the University of Vermont and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$, March, 1916. She was secretary of her class during her junior year. In the chapter she held the offices of corresponding secretary and president, where her tact and gracious personality bridged over many difficult situations. On June 24, 1919, she was elected to $\Phi B K$ and received her degree cum laude the next day.

MASSACHUSETTS A. Doris Wilmot Coyle was born July 16, 1897, in Somerville, Mass. She was educated in the public schools and graduated from high school in February, 1916, with the honor of being class poet and also holding the highest scholarship average among the members of her class. The same month she entered Boston University and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in June of that year. She always maintained a high scholarship average and graduated in three and a half years with an A.B. degree. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ in the spring of her senior year.

NEW YORK F. Grace Hazen was born March 28, 1897, in Des Moines, Iowa. She attended school in Springfield, Mo., Tampa, Fla., and Canton, N. Y., where she graduated from high school in 1915. The next fall she entered St. Lawrence University and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$, November 5, 1915. In her sophomore year she won the Abbott Prize for public speaking in a contest open to all members of her class. The same year she participated in the Underclass Women's Debate. She was elected to membership in the Science Club, an honorary society, and in her junior year was president of that organization. In her senior year she was chairman of the Students' Honor Court. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ last spring and was graduated cum laude with honors in the departments of history, philosophy, and physics.

Minna R. Getman was born June 9, 1899, in Redwood, N. Y. She was educated in the public schools there and was graduated from high school in 1915. In the fall of the same year she entered St. Lawrence University and was on the freshman banquet committee. She was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ at the beginning of her sophomore year. In her junior year she was vice-president of her class and was a member of the junior prom committee. In the spring of that year she was elected to membership in the Gaines Literary Society and was in the cast of the college play, The Times, which was given at commencement. In her senior year she was president of the Classical Club, a member of the Campus Council, and on the committee to draft a constitution for the Students' Dramatic Club. In March, 1919, she was elected to $\Phi B K$ and was one of the four commencement speakers. She served the chapter as treasurer and as vice-president. She was graduated cum laude with honors in the departments of Latin, philosophy, and English.

CUM LAUDE

VERMONT A. Alice Ward Wilson graduated from Beeman Academy, New Haven, Vt., in 1911. In the fall of that year she entered Middlebury College. On February 19, 1912, she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$. When a sophomore she left college on account of ill health but was able to return in 1917 and become a member of the class of '19. During her first year in college she was a freshman banquet speaker, was on the Student Government

Claire B. Fisher was born in Reynoldsville, Pa. She was graduated from the Rey Parochial School, being valedictorian of her class of 1911, and three years later graduated from the Reynoldsville high school with the highest average in her class.

She was also the winner of the D. A. R. prize for the best essay on Colonial Times. In 1916 she entered the University of West Virginia. She was a member of the Newman Club, Columbia Literary Society, the Laurel, and was vice-president of Panhellenic. In 1919 she was president of the chapter. While at the university she also served as an assistant instructor in the department of mathematics. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ in May, 1919.

PI LAMBDA THETA

PENNSYLVANIA Δ . Charlotte Ray was initiated into Pennsylvania Δ on September 19, 1918, at the installation of the chapter. She had graduated with highest honors in the academic department of the Pittsburgh central high school and was thus offered a scholarship at the University of Pittsburgh or one at the Pennsylvania College for Women. In the fall of 1915 she entered the School of Education of the University of Pittsburgh, taking home economics for her major work. Meanwhile she was teaching domestic science in the schools of Pittsburgh. In 1918 she was elected to $\Pi A \Theta$ and was graduated this year, receiving the degree of B.S. magna cum laude. She is a sister of Sarah Ray-Way, Pennsylvania B, '10. She is now teaching in the Latimer junior high school.

CUM LAUDE

PENNSYLVANIA Δ . Marie C. Crowley was graduated in 1911 from the Allen public high school with the highest honors in her class. In 1915 she graduated from the south high school with highest honors and received a scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh. She entered the School of Education but after two years changed to the college. She was a charter member of the Dianthian Fraternity, later Pennsylvania Δ , and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ at the installation. She was a member of the Classical Club, secretary and treasurer of the junior-class, a member of the Owl Club, and Chairman of the social committee of the senior girls. In the chapter she was treasurer for two successive years. She graduated with the degree of A. B. cum laude.

WISCONSIN A. Margaret Lothrop, although born in San Francisco, moved to Madison in 1901. She entered the university in 1915 and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in the spring of 1916. As a freshman she was secretary of Green Button, the freshman girls' organization. In her junior year she was elected to Twelfth Night, one of the two dramatic societies, and that winter took a lead in the Twelfth Night Union Vaudeville Sketch. She also had a prominent part in the Red Cross benefit. She was secretary and treasurer of the junior class. During her senior year she was made president of Twelfth Night and was its representative in Key Stone, the organization made up of one representative for each student activity. This spring she took a lead in Gammer Gurton's Needle, the joint production given by Red Domino and Twelfth Night. She was a member of the senior memorial committee as well as chairman of the French Fête that was given by the French House of the university. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ this spring.

Katherine P. Whiteside is a native of Kentucky and came to the university from Smith College at the beginning of her sophomore year. During that year she was on the staff of the Daily Cardinal and had several poems published in the Wisconsin Literary Magazine. In recognition of her work in this line she was elected to membership in $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, the women's national honorary journalistic fraternity. She was a member of the swimming team, chairman of the Red Cross Committee, and a member of Castalia, one of the two women's literary societies. In her junior year she was elected to Twelfth Night and took part in the Union Vaudeville Sketch which she wrote in collaboration with the president of the club. She was secretary of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ and was its delegate to the national convention at the University of Kansas. She made the dancing team and took part in the dance drama given for the benefit of the French orphans. She helped publish Shux, a satire magazine published by $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ for the French orphan benefit. She was president of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ in her senior year, was its representative in Key Stone, and helped edit its issue of the Cardinal for the benefit of the French orphans. She was in the cast of the production of Gammer Gurton's Needle. She was given the scholarship in the English department for her Master's Degree and this spring was elected to $\Phi B K$.

ILLINOIS Z. Mildred Frommann was born in Chicago, February 24, 1897. She attended the public schools there, and was prepared for college in the Robert Waller and Nicholas Senn high schools, being a graduate of the latter. She entered the University of Illinois in the fall of 1915 and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in February, 1916. Mildred has been an active and enthusiastic participant in all forms of college life. In 1918 she was elected to $K \Delta \Pi$, an honorary educational fraternity. Just before her graduation in 1919 she was elected to membership in $\Phi B K$.

She entered the State University the same year and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in the spring of 1916. She belonged to the Erodolphian Literary Society, serving as its president in her senior year. She was a member of Staff and Circle, the honorary senior girls' society, and also of the Women's Student Council. She majored in English and the Romance Languages and was a member of the Circle Francais. In addition to her scholastic accomplishments she is a talented violinist and an excellent tennis player. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ in May, 1919.

Mame Rose Prossor was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in April, 1919. She graduated from the university at the summer session in 1918 and was elected to $\Phi B K$ in May, 1919. She is a member of $A \Theta$, the local honorary educational society, and is principal of the Perkins School for Crippled Children, which is connected with the Children's Hospital of the university.

MAGNA CUM LAUDE

MISSOURI T. Dorothy Breckenridge graduated from the Springfield, Mo., high school in 1915 and entered Drury College in the fall. The next spring she was elected to membership in $\Pi B \Phi$. In her sophomore year she was a member of $A E$, an honorary scientific fraternity, and in her senior year she was a member of Skiff, an honorary senior girls' organization. She received departmental honors in Latin, French, and mathematics and held the highest honors in her class. Her degree was awarded magna cum laude.

CUM LAUDE

MISSOURI T. Pauline Pate graduated from the Springfield, Mo., high school in 1915. In the spring of 1916 she became a member of $\Pi B \Phi$ at Drury College. In her senior year she was a member of Skiff, the honorary senior women's society. She received her degree cum laude and was one of the commencement speakers.

FINAL HONORS

MISSOURI B. Margaret Gray Martin, Washington University, '19, entered college in the fall of 1915. She was pledged to $\Pi B \Phi$ and initiated February, 1916. From the beginning of her college course she was an excellent student and in addition she took an active part in university life. She was vice-president of the sophomore class, a member of the annual yearbook staff and was also on the staff of the college weekly, Student Life. During her senior year she was managing editor of this publication, which office had never before been held by a woman. At commencement she was awarded "final honors" with the A.B. degree.

COLORADO A. Nellie Charline Cleveland prepared for college at the State Preparatory School at Boulder, Colo. She entered the university in the second term in 1915 and then, because of advanced standing which she gained by outside study, she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in February of that year. In her junior years she was elected to $K \Delta \Pi$, an honorary educational society. While a sophomore, she was corresponding secretary for Colorado A but in her senior year ill health prevented her from taking a very active part in chapter activities. She was elected to $\Phi B K$ and received her degree magna cum laude.

KANSAS B. Sarella Herrick graduated from the Topeka high school in 1914. After spending two years at Baker University she entered Kansas State Agricultural College and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in January, 1917. She won junior and senior honors at the college and in her junior year she was elected to membership in O N. She was a member of Prix and Xix, an honorary political organization, and served on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for two years. She was also military editor of the Royal Purple, the college annual. She was the chapter delegate to the convention at Charlevoix, Mich. Sarella was one of the most alive and all-round girls in the chapter and her ability and charm have won for her a place in the hearts of all the girls in college. She was elected to $\Phi K \Phi$ in the spring of 1919 and received her B.S. degree in June. She has accepted a position as domestic science instructor in the schools of El Dorado, Kan.

CUM LAUDE

WYOMING A. Maude Avent prepared for college at the Billings Polytechnic Institute, Billings, Mont. In December, 1916, she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$. She was a member of the American College Quill Club and of the A. S. U. W. dramatic committee. In her senior year she was treasurer of the chapter. Her degree was awarded cum laude.

Ruth Swanson prepared for the university at the Newman Grove high school, Newman Grove, Neb. She was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in January, 1913, and attended college for three years, then after an absence of three years she returned to graduate in 1919. She was a member of the American College Quill Club, class editor on the junior annual board, and a member of the Student staff. In her sophomore year she was corresponding secretary for the chapter and in her senior year she was president. Her degree was granted cum laude.

ARIZONA A. Ruth E. King was born in Los Angeles, Cal., in September, 1896. She was graduated from Tuscon, Ariz., high school with honors, in 1915. In the fall she entered the university and was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ in 1917, being a charter member of Arizona A. For three years she was chapter treasurer. During her freshman and senior years she won scholastic honors. She was a member of the Y. W. C. A., the Coffee Club, a literary society, the Education Club, and Sock and Buskin, the university dramatic society. She was president of the Tennis Club and the Women's League. In the spring of 1919 she was elected to membership in $\Phi K \Phi$. She has accepted a position as teacher of domestic science in the Ray high school for the next year.

Vyvyan B. Moeur was born in Tempe, Ariz., in 1898. She graduated among the first four in her class in high school. In August, 1917, she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$, being one of the charter members of Arizona A. She held the offices of corresponding secretary and chairman of the scholarship committee in the chapter. She was a member of the Coffee Club and of the Wranglers, both literary societies. In her sophomore year she was assistant editor of the college annual, The Desert, and served as editor in the absence of the regular editor. That same year she won scholastic honors. In her senior year she was secretary of the Student Body Organization, editor of The Desert, and winner of a gold journalistic "A." She finished her college course in three years and was elected to $\Phi K \Phi$. She has accepted a position as teacher of English and Latin in the Jerome high school.

NEVADA A. Dorothy Higgins graduated from the Reno high school in 1915 and that fall entered the university. In February, 1916, she was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$, being one of the charter members of Nevada A. She was a member of the Girls' Glee Club in her freshman year. She belonged to $M A N$, a mathematical society, and served as its vice-president and president in her junior and senior years, respectively. She was a member of $\Delta A E$, the dramatic society, and became its secretary in her senior year. She was a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet in her junior year and was president of the Y. W. C. She was elected to membership in $\Phi K \Phi$ last spring.

OUR GRADUATE FELLOW, 1918-19

(As announced previously, the regular graduate fellowship offered annually by the fraternity for the past ten years was withdrawn for the year 1919-20 and the sum of $500 usually devoted to that purpose was diverted to the War Fund. Under the terms of that fund, however, scholarships of $250 each were available for women doing work along reconstruction lines and, as previously reported in the annual message of the Grand President, Miss Macy was awarded one of these fellowships.—Ed.)

Icie Gertrude Macy was born in Gallatin, Mo. Her preparatory work was done at Central College for women, at Lexington, Mo., where she also attended college, receiving the B.A. degree in 1914. While resident there, she was president of the Student Council, of the Argonia Literary Society, and of the Y. W. C. A., a member of the staff of the college annual and editor-in-chief of the Central College Magazine. She also carried music along with her other work, and was granted a teachers' certificate in piano the same year.

She attended Randolph-Macon in 1914-1915, where she was initiated into Virginia A of $\Pi B \Phi$. The next year she attended Chicago University, receiving the B.S. degree in 1916. She was a charter member and secretary of the

ICIE GERTRUDE MACY

Women's Chemical Society of the University of Chicago.

Two years of graduate study were spent at the University of Colorado, 1916-18, at the end of which time she was granted the M.A. degree. She was an assistant in the department of inorganic chemistry, 1916-1917, in physiological chemistry, 1917-1918, and during the same year, assistant in the Dennison Research Laboratory.

She was elected to membership in $\mathbf{K \Delta \Pi}$ (honorary national educational fraternity), and was president of the Colorado chapter of $\mathbf{I \Sigma \Pi}$ (national women's chemical fraternity). She is now national treasurer of the latter. While attending the University of Colorado, she was affiliated with the Colorado A chapter of $\mathbf{\Pi B \Phi}$.

The year 1918-1919 has been spent at Yale University, where she has held a university scholarship. She has been working in the department of physiological chemistry under the direction of Prof. Lafayette B. Mendel, and has conducted experiments on cotton-seed products with the assistance of the Russell Chittenden Research Fund for Animal Experimentation. The problem which she has chosen for her Ph.D. thesis, the effect of the feeding of cotton-seed products on animals, is one which has recently become of great commercial as well as scientific interest.

Miss Macy has been granted the Susan Rhoda Cutler Fellowship at Yale for next year and the $\mathbf{\Pi B \Phi}$ fellowship will make it possible for her to complete the work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in June, 1920. She was recently elected president of the Graduate Women's Club of Yale University for 1919-1920.

THE PI BETA PHI FELLOWSHIP FOR GRADUATE STUDY

For the year 1920-21, one graduate fellowship with a value of five hundred dollars will be offered. This fellowship is open to any Pi Beta Phi who has received her Bachelor's degree. It may be used at any university, either in this country or in Europe, which offers the best advantages in graduate work along the particular line desired by the holder.

Two points will be considered by the Grand Council in awarding the fellowship: first, the scholastic standing of the student; and second, all-around development of character, and the ability to represent the fraternity in whatever place the recipient may be. The Council requests, moreover, that the applicant give very definite information as to the place where she wishes to study, the courses of study she desires to pursue, and the ultimate purpose for pursuing such courses.

Applications, together with photographs of the applicants, credentials from professors, and other testimonials should be in the hands of the Grand Council not later than March 1, 1920, so that the award may be made before the close of the college year. Blank forms for application for fellowship may be obtained from the Grand President. Any applicant of former years who has not received the fellowship may make a new-application, if she so desires.

All applications for the undergraduate loan fund should be made to the committee in charge of these funds. Information as to conditions, credentials, and terms of loans to undergraduates may be secured from the chairman of the committee on loan fund administration, Mrs. Thomas Bradlee, 292 Pearl St., Burlington, Vt.

THE NATIONAL PANHELLENIC CONGRESS

The sixteenth National Panhellenic Congress was called to order by the Chairman, Mrs. Mary Love Collins, in the reception room of the New Willard Hotel at nine o'clock Thursday morning, October 16. Representatives from the eighteen Congress fraternities were present and responded to roll call. The morning was devoted to routine business and a reading of delegates' reports. A Findings Committee was appointed, which was to bring in recommendations at the last session.

The Chairman then gave a brief résumé of the Boston situation, where Tri Delta had been out of local Panhellenic for two years. She stated that the matter had at last been adjusted in the local Panhellenic by compromise measures on both sides. A statement concerning Newcomb gave hope that the faculty committee working with alumnae may solve the difficulties by providing a Panhellenic Lodge, which will be under faculty supervision and offer a local meeting place for all. Mrs. Collins then referred to the findings of the Y. W. C. A. Conference in New York, which challenged the democracy of the fraternity organization. In reply to this, Mrs. Collins had given another definition of democracy which was: "That true democracy is as much opposed to autocracy in organizations as in nations." As an outgrowth of this discussion a very important fact was brought out, namely, that today thinking women who have knowledge of fundamental principles must be at the head of fraternities, and that one of their objects should be to arouse their fraternity members to broader issues than that of choosing new members.

A report on City Panhellenics showed a very large amount of war work accomplished by all, and a desire on the part of many to continue some form of philanthropic work.

The report on the relative proportion of fraternity women to non-fraternity shows a relatively decreasing percentage of the former at the large state universities of the country. For example at the University of California only twenty-four per cent of the women students are fraternity women, and only ten per cent at the University of Cincinnati. Either more fraternities must be established at such institutions or the inevitable result of this situation will be felt in a few years.

Almost an entire session was given up to a discussion of the high school fraternity question. It was brought out that all fraternities had offended by breaking this rule, and that if anything was to be accomplished all must agree to stand by the compact of 1915 or abandon it altogether. After a lengthy discussion it was moved, seconded, and carried that the Contract of 1915 be interpreted as applying to all organizations bearing the Greek name. It was further moved, seconded, and carried that it is the opinion of this Congress that the Greek-letter ruling applies only to Greek-letter organizations in high schools public or private. After appointing a committee to take care of the publicity concerning the action of N. P. C. on this question of high school fraternities, the session adjourned for a Round Table on the subject of Vocations led by Dr. Hopkins, President of Z T A, who has just returned from a year's service in France in the Medical Department. The Round Table brought out the need for vocational guidance and training in college, and was followed by a statement of the work done by each fraternity in the war. It is hoped that a pamphlet giving an account of this work may be compiled in the near future so an accurate enumeration of the same will not be attempted here.

A Round Table on Ethical Standards was conducted by Mrs. Henry, President of A Φ , and was followed by a Round Table discussion concerning the college and the fraternity led by Miss Keller, Π B Φ . Dean Wilbur of George Washington University addressed the meeting and proved to the satisfaction of all that the fraternity is a democratic institution just as the American college is a democratic institution, the fraternity having arisen to meet a need of the college. At five o'clock the session adjourned in order that the members might attend a tea at the K K Γ House for War Workers in Washington.

The Saturday morning session took up the recommendations of the Editors' Conference, and heard the report of the Findings Committee, one of the recommendations of which was that a résumé of this Conference should be published in a bulletin of N. P. C. While the results of the Conference are intangible rather than definite there was a distinct impression of harmony and a desire to coöperate on the part of all delegates which is a good omen for the future.

Nearly three hundred members of the eighteen Congress fraternities sat down to the Panhellenic luncheon at the Wardman Park Inn, Saturday afternoon. The address of the occasion was given by Mrs. Raymond Robins, President of the National Women's Trade Union League. Her plea was for democracy and the rights of women in a democracy. This proved a fitting close to a very delightful conference the underlying theme of which had been constructive work for the coming era of peace in America.

MAY L. KELLER,
National Panhellenic Delegate.

THE EDITORS' CONFERENCE

The conference of editors of the eighteen Panhellenic fraternity journals which is always called in connection with the Panhellenic Congress held its first session at the New Willard Hotel in Washington on the evening of October 15 preceding the opening of the Congress sessions. Miss Florence Armstrong, retiring editor of The Lyre of Α Χ Ω, the Chairman, announced that the first item of business was the election of a secretary for the present meeting who would also serve as chairman for the next Editors' Conference. Miss Arema O'Brien, editor of The Lamp of Delta Zeta, was elected.

After the reading of the minutes of the last conference, program previously outlined was taken up. This consisted of the discussion of various topics of practical interest to those engaged in magazine work. Each discussion was led by an editor to whom a particular topic had been assigned in advance.

The second session of the conference took place on Thursday evening when the remaining topics of discussion were considered and various recommendations to the Panhellenic Congress discussed. Unfortunately none of these recommendations received the unanimous vote necessary for Congress endorsement but they met with the approval of a majority of the delegates and it is hoped that the work done in this Editors' Conference has laid the foundations for a constructive program in the future.

SARAH POMEROY RUGG,
Delegate to the Editor's Conference.

SIGNIFICANT STATISTICS

As indicated in our Panhellenic Delegate's report one of the most significant points brought out at the Congress was the fact that the ratio of fraternity women in proportion to nonfraternity women was a steadily decreasing one in many colleges. The statistical table compiled by a committee of which our own delegate was chairman is the result of an investigation made at the request of the Fifteenth Panhellenic Congress into a situation which was there suspected but not proven.

The figures collected are based on returns from thirty-three colleges and universities, all who responded to the questionnaire submitted.

1. Number of women students varies from forty-three at Adrian College to 2,931 at University of California.
2. Number of fraternity women varies from twenty-six at Adrian College to 704 at University of California, the second highest being at Syracuse University with 455 fraternity women.
3. Number in a chapter varies from twelve at Bethany College to thirty-nine at the University of California and thirty-five at Syracuse University with twenty-two as an average.
4. The average percentage of fraternity women to nonfraternity women is about $33\frac{1}{3}\%$.
5. The total number of fraternity women from thirty-three colleges is 4,908 out of a total enrollment of 14,787 women.
6. Average size chapter compared to total enrollment in institution is highest at St. Lawrence University where the percentage of fraternity women is 71 or 74 out of a total 103 and lowest at the University of Cincinnati, Florida State College, and the University of California with a percentage of ten, twenty, and twenty-four, respectively.

(Statistics of this year from the universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin would place them in the same class with University of California.)

NEWS FROM LITTLE PIGEON

BY RUTH STURLEY, Washington A

(The writer is the latest addition to our Settlement School Staff and writes from the standpoint of a newcomer.—EDITOR.)

The last issue of THE ARROW told of so many big things that the fraternity has planned for the Settlement School that perhaps this month the Pi Phis will be interested in reading about the little things that go along in the accomplishment of what we hope to be the big things—of our everyday life. And a busy life it is with many an unexpected turn and twist to it for the demands on our happy family are many and varied.

We do expect Aunt Lizzie to keep us in order, however, though she did say one morning "You-uns mustn't patronize after me!" She is a "sure enough" mountain woman but living in our "tight house" has "plumb bodaciously spi'led" her for a cabin such as numerous children and grandchildren find very comfortable. Until last year she never made "light bread" (bread made with yeast) and now is proud as can be over the "bakin's" and gives "Miss Evelyn" and Abbey suggestions for improving of their bread. She is a Reagan as you may know, and many a family of that name there is along with the Maples, McCarters, and Whaleys. But I do believe the Ogles lead, for Charlie says he has about eighty-two families of Ogles on his books. Charlie is a pleasant and chatty individual who is proprietor of the largest store, general, in fullest sense of the word, from millinery to nutmegs, also postmaster and, on Saturdays, barber, the front porch serving as the scene of operations.

During the week of course "books," as school is called, keep us well occupied until the middle of the afternoon, then often we go home with some of the youngsters to call or stay all night, a thing they love to have us do. The boys and girls are good looking and quite up to date in appearance and dress, but their homes! that's another story. These are up on the various creeks and such delicious names for everything; for example, Roaring Fork, Fighting Creek, Sugar Lands, The Glades, Booger Town, Panter (Panther) Branch, Baskins (Bearskins) Creek, Sheep Pen, Turkey Nest, well, that's enough for now. There is usually a story about each name which adds to the charm.

How would you like to go to a charivari up "Wild Cat Holler" or take an all-day tramp over the mountains with Tom Camel and his wife, real pioneers who smoke pipes and dip snuff. Tom is a hunter and has always lived up here, never wore "store pants" till after he was married. His wife acquired store shoes and bought cotton material for clothes about the same time. In those "good old days" salt was about the only thing the mountain people had to get from "outside." The majority of the older people would be satisfied with that kind of life now, for, like their old-time religion, it was good enough for their fathers and mothers and is good enough for them. The young people are the ones who will bring about improvements.

Gatlinburg took one long forward step last month in holding a Fair. The exhibits were arranged in the schoolhouse which was very attractive with wild asters, golden rod, and autumn leaves. It was a great day—school program the latter part of the morning, then dinner on the grounds, followed by a baseball game in which we defeated Murphy College.

One of the activities recently started which we think will bear good fruit is a debating club, subjects of local interest are being taken up first, to be followed by those of wider range.

The B. Y. P. U. meetings Sunday afternoon for the little people at the house and in the evening for the older girls and boys at the schoolhouse seem to be well attended and answering the purpose for which they were organized.

In conclusion let me say that our school is engaged in a task worthy the effort of every Pi Phi, great and small, to broaden the horizon and push back the mountains for these real Americans who have been shut away from the outside world for so long.

IN MEMORIAM

BRADBURY (MRS. WALTER R.), GEORGIA IRWIN, Nebraska B, ex-'08, died at the home of her parents in Lead, S. D., of consumption, August 4, 1919. She was initiated into Nebraska B at the University of Nebraska October 22, 1904, and received her certificate from the home economics course in the spring of 1906. She leaves two young daughters.

CAMPBELL, ANNA M., Iowa H, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Ball (Mary Campbell, Iowa E) in Fairfield, Iowa, September 6, 1919. She was initiated into Iowa H in 1882. She attended Parson's College 1876-78 and Lake Forest University 1878-79, when she graduated. From 1881-84 she taught in Fairfield and from 1886-89 in Washington, Iowa. Since that time she devoted her life to Y. W. C. A. extension work. She was a charter member of the Cleveland Alumnae Club, and was always a loyal and faithful Pi Beta Phi.

DENNIS (MRS. HERBERT), AGNES WRIGHT, Illinois Z, '16, died at Charles City, Iowa, July 17, 1919. She was initiated into Illinois Z at the University of Illinois February 12, 1914, and was graduated with Φ B K honors in 1916. She immediately accepted a position in the Illinois Historical Survey where she did remarkable work in research and in the literary revision of the Centennial History of Illinois. Three chapters of the history have been accredited to her in their entirety. She was married to Mr. Herbert Dennis, instructor in sociology at the University of Illinois September 7, 1918. In July, 1919, while they were visiting Mrs. Dennis' mother at Charles City, Iowa, both Dr. and Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Dennis' mother and sister were victims of a drowning accident on Cedar River. At the time Dr. and Mrs. Dennis were making their home in Houston, Tex., where Dr. Dennis was Sharp Lecturer at Rice Institute. They were held in highest regard by a large circle of acquaintances at the University of Illinois where Mrs. Dennis' charming personality and brilliant mind had made a lasting impression.

LOUISE FENET, Texas A, '15, died at her home, Paris, Tex., of meningitis of the brain, October 9, 1919. She was initiated into Texas A at the University of Texas, September 28, 1914. She was a charming girl, loved and cherished by all who knew her. It was through her admirable qualities and attractive personality that everyone became attached to her. We sympathize most sincerely with her bereaved family.

VIRGINIA MCCREARY, Illinois Z, ex-'21, died at the Mayo Brothers' Hospital, Rochester, Minn., during an operation, September 17, 1919.

She was initiated into Illinois Z at the University of Illinois, April 28, 1919. Later she withdrew from the university and since that time had been residing at her home in Rushville, Ill.

KATHERINE ROPES, Arizona A, '21, died at her home, 29 West 2nd Street, Tucson, Ariz., September 26, 1919. She was initiated into Arizona A, at the University of Arizona, September 18, 1917. Ill health made it necessary for her to drop her college work at the end of year 1917-18, but her great interest in college and Pi Phi activities continued. The influence of her remarkable personality was felt not only by her family and most intimate friends, but by all the members of Arizona A and by the whole university community.

WEBSTER (MRS. F. C.), GENEVIEVE ZIMMERMAN, Illinois B, ex-'15, died very unexpectedly while on a visit to her parents in Waterloo, Iowa, following a tonsil operation, June 10, 1919. She was initiated into Illinois B at Lombard College, November 15, 1911. April 21, 1917, she was married to Mr. F. C. Webster and at the time of her death was a member of the alumnae club in her home city, Galesburg, Ill.

EDITORIALS

THE STATISTICS PUBLISHED on page 168 deserve serious study by all fraternity members, particularly those who have from time to time been prone to criticize the policy of extension which has characterized all fraternities in recent years. The rapid growth of all educational institutions during the past decade and the phenomenal increase in the number of women registering in all colleges during the last four years has resulted in a great increase in the number of petitioning groups all over the country. Where fraternities are already fostered and approved by the college authorities the administration generally declares itself in favor of a larger representation of Greek-letter organizations in order that there may be equality of opportunity for membership, a state of affairs which cannot exist where the number of chapters is not proportionate to the enrollment of the institution.

At the National Panhellenic Congress held in Chicago in 1917 this situation was brought to the attention of the delegates by a dean of women in a large state university who urged the need of more nationals entering the institution where she was located. Feeling that the conditions described in this particular case must exist elsewhere and that the ratio of fraternity women was a steadily decreasing one in proportion to the nonfraternity women, the Congress appointed a committee to investigate the matter. The report rendered to the recent Congress proves that the suspected conditions actually exist.

At the close of the last college year there was only one large institution in the country, the University of California, which had local chapters of all the eighteen Panhellenic fraternities and the last chapter which made the number complete had been installed only a few months. At present, however, there are a number of institutions with a total enrollment warranting this full representation.

This subject received serious attention at the recent Panhellenic Congress held in Washington with the result that National Panhellenic has inaugurated a movement to foster a new national and to encourage more nationals to enter large and growing institutions. After studying the problem thoroughly in the light of changing educational conditions, no fair-minded woman can fail to realize that a policy of conservative extension at the present time is not only desirable for every Greek-letter organization but is really necessary as a means of self-preservation.

ANTIFRATERNITY AGITATION is always with us. It assumes various forms and manifests itself in different ways, generally reflecting the spirit of the times and of the locality in which it appears. In these days of world-wide unrest when radicalism and bolshevism are common words on every tongue, it is not strange that the newest form of antifraternity sentiment should be associated with these modern movements. It has been a matter of comment among fraternity leaders during the past year that the most serious difficulties along this line have arisen where malcontents in the undergraduate membership have succeeded in influencing fraternity members and have poisoned their minds with the false doctrines of the times.

Since undergraduate chapters reflect the life and spirit of their home institutions just as those colleges, in their turn, reflect the life and spirit of the world at large, the following editorial which appeared in a recent number of the Christian Herald deserves consideration.

BOLSHEVIST TEACHING

In a recent issue the American Lumberman of Chicago discusses the spread of Bolshevism, "not among the foreign element, but among our own sons and daughters." It has learned that there are on the faculties of some of our colleges and universities professors "whose deliberate purpose it is to bring about in the United States conditions such as today obtain in Russia," and that in some cases they are there "with the full knowledge and approval of the college authorities." This last assertion would seem fairly borne out by the evidence the Lumberman presents relative to an institution in Indiana enrolling 800 students. Several of the instructors, it states, make no secret of their sympathy with Bolshevist doctrines, and the head of the institution seems to have been more than favorable to their attachment to the teaching faculty, although fully informed of their revolutionary tendencies.

While our government is busy counteracting Bolshevism in the slums, it should turn its attention to those colleges where American youth are being led, by subtle methods, to the adoption of radical principles which may be fraught with danger in the future. We have the fashionable parlor Bolshevist, the adroit Bolshevist in literature, and the vulgar Bolshevist, whose methods bring him more quickly into contact with the authorities than the others; but it is a new experience to be assured that there are in American colleges, which have hitherto stood well in the esteem of the people, those who seek to indoctrinate the students with the vagaries of Marx and Lenine instead of pointing them to the high ideals of the great minds which founded this republic and gave to the nation a charter of freedom which has become a model for the world. How would the generous patrons of education who have given millions to found and establish our colleges regard such institutions now, if they could know the facts that are coming to light? The Lumberman has done well in bringing this situation to the notice of the public. It is a case of poisoning the pure stream of education at the fountain-head.

From her own recent experience in visiting colleges and universities and listening to classroom lectures, the Editor of THE ARROW feels that there is a basis of truth in the assertions made above. The college student today needs the ability to think clearly and sanely, to maintain a sense of balance and proportion so that he may discriminate for himself whether the doctrines taught him have a basis of sound reason. Then, in a few years, he may be able to bring to society a new element of sanity and stability which the present age sorely needs. Every fraternity chapter has before it now the opportunity to encourage the development of these vital qualities during undergraduate years.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Health Program concerning which announcement was made in the October issue has been prepared by Dr. Edith Matzke and Dr. Edith Gordon and will be sent to all clubs and chapters in the near future. Recent history has proved that it is the patriotic duty of every American woman to give individual attention to health questions. All women are being given general information along health lines but it remains for private organizations to furnish specific programs. Pi Beta Phi is fortunate to number among her members two experts along the line of health problems who have made fulfillment of this project possible.

The new Fraternity Study is now in press and will soon be ready for distribution. Miss Woodman, Chairman of the Committee on Fraternity Study, has worked untiringly to furnish up-to-date and definite information in this pamphlet.

Grace Jordan, '15, is teaching at Tacoma, Wash., and lives at 620 S. First St.

Mrs. H. K. Beatty (Lucile Wright, '14) is spending the winter at Filmore, Wyo.

Margaret Mullison, '16, is Deputy State Superintendent of Schools, living at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mrs. Edwin Payson (Lois Butler, '17) is spending the winter at St. Louis, Mo., where Mr. Payson is studying for a Doctor's degree.

Katherine Bennett, '16, is Assistant State Home Demonstration Leader. Her address is $\Pi B \Phi$ House, Laramie, Wyo.

Mary Ethel Holliday is attending St. Mary's at Notre Dame, Ind.

Beatrice Dana, '16, is home economics instructor in the public schools at Laramie, Wyo. She lives at $\Pi B \Phi$ House, Laramie, Wyo.

Bertha M. White, '19, is an assistant librarian in the University of Wyoming Library, and lives at the $\Pi B \Phi$ House, Laramie, Wyo.

Evelyn Jensen, '17, is assistant state librarian, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mrs. Edgar Davis (Esther Bolln, '18) is spending the year in New York, where Mr. Davis is attending Columbia.

CHAPTER LETTERS

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

(Chartered 1908)

Pledge Day—November 21, 1919

University of Toronto has never seen such days as these—MEN! MEN! MEN! and such men! Only last year a great majority of our one thousand veteran members were fighting day and night for the establishment of peace. Now they have brought their splendid spirit home to the lecture-room and campus. Sports have been resumed in a most inspiring way. The rugby season is very exciting while indoor sports are flourishing in the most modern and well-equipped building on the continent, Hart House, with its theater outclassed only by the Metropolitan Opera House in New York and with its swimming tanks, gymnasiums, reading-rooms and dining halls. This building is reserved exclusively for the men students but we are quite unanimous in agreeing that they deserve it.

We have a bevy of wonderful freshmen and of course the five other fraternities are not blind to this fact. Our first party on October 31 will be a dinner-cabaret which our alumnae have kindly consented to give at the home of Jeannette McCannell.

We are all very much interested in the installation of a new chapter by Gamma Phi Beta which was installed by thirteen members from the United States, all of whom were most interesting to us as they knew some of our sister chapters personally.

We are beginning this semester with a strong active chapter and very helpful alumnae and we hope to make this a most successful year both for our college and fraternity.

MABEL C. WRIGHT.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

(Chartered 1893)

Pledge Day—October 16, 1919

Our summer vacation is over and we are back again at Middlebury, anticipating a happy and prosperous year for college and for $\Pi B \Phi$.

This first month which has been an exciting and busy one will end this evening when we pledge nine girls.

The day after commencement, in June, we hired a cottage at Lake Dunmore for a week for our annual house-party. Several of our loyal alumnae were back to join in the fun and nearly all our actives participated. We are glad to welcome this fall, Anna Clark, who transferred to Columbia two years ago, but is back to finish her senior year at Middlebury.

Leah Corkran, '20, has transferred to Syracuse this fall. Although we miss her a great deal, we are glad that she is so happy with the Pi Phis there.

We have received gifts of money from some of the alumnae and are expecting to spend the amount to make our chapter-rooms more attractive than ever before.

Adele Jones and Elizabeth Spencer, two of last year's pledges who could not continue their work, are back again.

$\Pi \Phi$ is well represented on the Kaleidoscope board this year with Florence H. Langley, '21, assistant editor-in-chief, and Emma Schaefer, '21, assistant business manager. Florence H. Langley, '21, is junior representative on Student Government.

There is an added interest in music at college and good chorus work is anticipated. Ruth Ashworth is vice-president of the women's chorus.

We have made a good beginning and with the help of our enthusiastic pledges we expect to accomplish something really worth while.

INITIATES

(Initiated October 18, 1919)

Katherine Brodie, '22, Burlington, Vt.

Vermont B salutes you from the midst of a busy season. With the largest freshman class in the history of the college, over a hundred of whom are girls, we have much valuable material from which to choose, and are anticipating a successful year.

Our first party, in the form a miniature circus, rivaled the famous B. T. Barnum's performance. The refreshments were those usually procured inside the "big tent"—pink lemonade, ice cream cones, and peanuts.

Our next entertainment, a Hallowe'en party, will be held at Lois Bartlett's home in Richmond, fifteen miles away, and we are hoping the shades of all our $\Pi \Phi$ sisters may be with us to help make the evening a success.

Preferential bidding is being tried out this year at Vermont. We hope it may be successful enough to be adopted permanently.

Elections are over, with $\Pi \Phi$ well represented in activities on the campus. Mildred Powell, '20, is president of Y. W. C. A.; Louise Lawton, '20, president of the women's athletic association and manager of tennis; Hildreth Tyler, '21, class vice-president; Katherine McSweeney, '22, college song leader, and Helen Hyde, '22, class vice-president.

We are fortunate in having two of our last year's seniors in town: Margaret Patten, '19, who is taking a business course here; and Margaret Whittemore, '19, who is teaching in the Burlington High School, and is also a matron of one of the dormitories.

A splendid year to all of you!

ALENE CROSBY.

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1896)

Pledge Day—November 2, 1919

Here are we again, back in college! And how good it seems to be here!

Massachusetts A scattered far and wide during the summer, some to the mountains, some to the shore, and some of us just at home, getting acquainted all over again after a winter of studious seclusion.

Then at the end of the season, there was the house-party! The arrow pointed to Ocean Bluffs again this summer, and we were fortunate in having Miriam Taylor-Rae, '12, as chaperon. Moonlight strolls along the beach, singing

II Φ songs to the accompaniment of the ukes and the lapping of the waves on the shore, dancing at the Casino, swimming to the rocks in the early morning—all of these helped to make the house-party a vivid and lasting memory.

Boston University opened on September 17, to more than 5,000 students registering in its several departments. The first week was devoted to making friends with the new students under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the $\Gamma \Delta$ society. Then followed the $\Gamma \Delta$ initiation to the green but eager freshmen, the Y. W.-Y. M. C. A. social, and the "Frolics of 1919."

We are beginning to get acquainted with our freshmen, and have found many unusual girls among them. Our first party will be a formal banquet with an entertainment and dance at Riverbank Court, Cambridge.

Mildred Rick, '22, and Hazel Wheeler, '21, are unable to be in college this year, and we miss their enthusiastic coöperation more than they would believe.

College activities are just getting a start, but we have a few II Φ officers to report already. Marion Clark, '21, is in charge of athletics for the Hub, the junior publication, and Mary Mills, '21, is in charge of fraternities. Marion Clark and Esther Hinckley, '21, are on their class social committee.

We are anticipating pledge day a little anxiously but we are sure that we will hold our own, when everything is decided.

INITIATES

Marion Fitz Gibbons, '22, Eaton, N. Y.

Harriet Merwin, '22, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Elizabeth Wille, '22, Flatbush, L. I.

Martha Wille, '22, Flatbush, L. I.

With high hopes and great prospects for the wonderful year, we returned to the university five days before the real opening of college. This year everything seems to have started with a bang and the spirit and enthusiasm of the girls are wonderful. I think the damper has been entirely lifted from the strain of the war for which we are more than thankful.

New York A has pledged thirteen splendid girls: Antoinette Stone, '21, Clara Allen, Rhoda Clark, Finette Edwards, Roberta Flaherty, Evelyn Garlock, Anna Hawkins, Ruth de Lano, Charlotte Martin, Pearl Metzger, Kathryn Slanson, Elna Tathan, and Louise Wright, all of the class of '23.

Also we are glad to have with us this year two transfers, Grace Beinton, '21, of Pennsylvania A, and Leah Cockran, '21, of Vermont A.

Of course, since college has not been in full swing very long, the bits of news and gossip are very scarce. We, however, are hoping for great things and we know that this year will be "our victory year."

Gladys Davey is now manager of the glee club.

RUTH LANDRY.

NEW YORK GAMMA—ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

(Chartered March 20, 1914)

Pledge Day—September 29, 1919

We feel that this year is to be a very successful one, both for the college and for New York Γ.

St. Lawrence is getting back to its pre-war basis. Our new President, Dr. Sykes, seems to be the very one needed to help in the reconstruction.

We have two new members on the faculty. Dr. Bigelow has accepted the position of assistant in chemistry to replace C. M. Hallahan, '11, who resigned to take up industrial chemistry. The vacancy in the history department caused by the temporary absence of Professor Garrett has been filled by the appointment of Prof. Harry S. Todd.

Just now, we are all very interested in our football team which recently defeated the University of Rochester by a score of six to three. The interest shown in athletics may be attributed in no slight degree to Coach Carroll, who was named an All-American center in his last year at Colgate.

With the formal installation of X Z Σ as P Chapter of Σ A E, the fourth national fraternity for men made its entry into St. Lawrence. Over seventy-five men were initiated, of whom about fifty were alumni. As our own installation is comparatively recent, we especially were interested.

If you could only see our nine freshmen and our new sophomore you would realize that the year has begun successfully for our chapter also. We were all glad to welcome Martha Leasure, who came to us from Indiana Γ.

Π Φ is well represented on the Hill. Dorothy Bullen, '23, is vice-president of the freshman class; Anna Corcoran, '21, vice-president of Thelomathesian and of the junior class; Phyllis Pointon, secretary of Forum, an organization composed of all the women in college; and Bernadette Charbonneau, '20, teaching French again this year.

We have not forgotten that good scholarship should be the aim of every college woman. Π B Φ has stood at the head of the list during four semesters, and all of us are doing our level best to keep it there.

 Elizabeth Worman, '22, Brooklyn, N. Y.

New York Δ , the oldest of this summer's triplets, sends greetings to all.

On October 1, nine of us were back at Cornell, glad to see once more her hills and falls, and to hear the chimes ring from the library tower. This year Cornell had 5,162 students, the largest registration in the history of the university. Of these, about 1,600 are entering students, of whom 450 are women, an unusually large class for us to become acquainted with.

We meet the new girls under the supervision of a Panhellenic Association. This year's rules are different from those of previous years. Instead of the predominance of afternoon teas with one or two parties as before, we now have informal evening parties the first week, and the remaining two weeks consist mainly of dinner parties. As pledge day is not until October 25, we can say nothing definitely as to results.

Perhaps you would be interested to know that the men's fraternities here have adopted organized rules under an Interfraternity Association.

As most of us have had little experience in getting new pledges, two of our members, Alice Street, '19, and Mary Wheeler, '21, visited the chapter at Syracuse during the bidding season there, and recently three of the Syracuse Pi Phi visited us to help us.

We regret that Grace Blauvelt, '21, did not return this fall, but we are anticipating having her again next year.

Dr. Edith Gordon of Ontario A, our "fairy godmother," is with us for this week-end. She is accompanied by Dr. Edith Matzke of our own chapter, who has been with her at Philadelphia.

We have not many honors to report at present, but we expect soon to give more time to college activities. We hope to be represented on the basketball team this winter. One of the girls is women's assistant business manager on the Cornell Daily Sun, a member of the Associated Press. Another one is on the women's editorial staff of the same newspaper; while another is fire chief, quite an honor, as she has charge of all fire drills in one of the women's dormitories. We are also represented on a Y. W. C. A. committee. We have a point system for honors at Cornell, and all the above mentioned honors count toward election to a senior honorary society.

With best wishes.

EVELYN RICHMOND.

BETA PROVINCE

PENNSYLVANIA ALPHA—SWARTHMORE COLLEGE

(Chartered October, 1892)

Pledge Day—Indefinite

Our college year has just started and we are going to strain every effort to make it the best possible. In the spring conditions were very unsettled and, although the "flu" was over, the S. A. T. C. disbanded, we had the anti-fraternity agitation.

This continued until the matter was taken to President Swain. After considering the matter he wrote a letter in which he said that the last year had been a very unfair one in which to judge the fraternities and he suggested that all discussions be dropped for a year. He decided that there should be no fall house parties for the freshman and no social entertainments nor attentions for them by the fraternities.

It seems very strange to us not to have those first few days of strenuous competition. However, in this way, we will get to know the freshmen much better and will be able to see what they are capable of doing. The bids are to be sent to the girls, through a neutral person, the day before the Christmas vacation begins. When college reopens the answers are to be sent to us.

The activities which were pushed aside during the war are now coming back into existence. The girls' glee club has been organized and the departmental clubs now have meetings. We are hoping that these clubs will prove a benefit to all of us and that the nonfraternity girls will be better satisfied because of them.

The local organization of A Θ II, which was founded in 1917, became a chapter of the Φ M in September, making the sixth national fraternity at Swarthmore.

It seems our good fortune to affiliate every year someone from another chapter. This term the Schellinger sisters of Pennsylvania Γ are with us.

Despite the disturbances and misfortunes in college last year we were able to keep up our work in scholarship. In June we had the highest average of all the fraternities. For two years we have stood first, and if we keep up our good work, we will get the Panhellenic scholarship cup at the end of this year. This cup is presented by one of our alumnae to the fraternity having the best average in scholarship for three successive years.

We are working hard to keep Pennsylvania A at Swarthmore and we feel sure that conditions will be better this year.

We wish you all the best of luck.

Helen Kitlowski, '22, Nanticoke, Pa.

Charlotte Peters, '22, Allentown, Pa.

Mary Sholl, '22, Burlington, N. J.

Clara Wasilewski, '22, Nanticoke, Pa.

We found, on our return to college, that many of the men who had been in the service had returned to complete their courses. We surely were glad to welcome these returned heroes.

This year Dr. Emery Hunt assumed his duties as president of Bucknell. The advent of the new president has, quite naturally, brought about many changes. It has taken us a little while to accustom ourselves to these innovations, which we feel are for the best interests of the university. On the whole, one would say that the school was facing one of the brightest years in its history.

We started our work in the chapter with many of the girls of last year. We were also glad to have back with us, after an absence of a year, Marion Reiss.

Initiation took place on October 2, 1919, at the home of Marion Goho. Besides the active chapter, several of the alumnae were present: Mrs. Theiss, Dr. Mary Wolfe, Mrs. Phillips, Miss Eliza Martin, Mrs. Carl Shug, and Mrs. Felix Connelly. We now number twenty-two in the chapter.

The freshman class of about one hundred girls looks very promising. On the evening before college opened, we had a party in the "Π Φ suite" for the freshman girls. In this way we always hope to make the girls feel more at home and to give them a chance to become better acquainted.

We are anticipating unusual opportunities and unusual results. May we see them materialize.

INITIATES

(Initiated March 15 1919)

Elizabeth Bratton, Carlisle, Pa.
Ruth Brumbaugh, Altoona, Pa.
Ruth Dotter, Carlisle, Pa.
Edith Robinson, Terryville, Conn.
Helen Scott, Pequabuck, Conn.
Phebe Sharp, Carlisle, Pa.
Esther Shellenberger, Willow Street, Pa.

For nine days after September 23, we employed all the hours between forty and eight in the evening in wining, dining, and talking to freshmen.

The former part of the week we took them about the country in automobiles, and the latter part we took them canoeing on the old Conodoquinet. The last night we had a vaudeville show at our rooms. We decided to send out eight invitations to membership, and the next day we received eight acceptances which are now new pledges.

We have just been told we shall have to look for other rooms because the house in which we are now situated has been sold. We fear that we shall have some difficulty in finding a place that will be as centrally located. Up to the present time we have looked in vain.

We are pleased to welcome a new chapter of the Φ M Fraternity at Dickinson this year, a charter having been granted to a local fraternity which was organized here in 1910.

College activities have been numerous. Dickinson has a football team that we may well feel proud of, because in the two games played this year we have been victorious. The freshmen and sophomores have carried on their bitter warfare but we now miss the after-chapel scraps which the senate has condemned.

Certainly, if the year glides on as smoothly as it has begun, only the best will befall us.

PHEBE SHARP.

PENNSYLVANIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

(Chartered September 19, 1918)

Pledge Day—November 28, 1919

We are entering the second year of our history, and are resolved to make it prosperous and successful.

"Pitt's" provision for women students has always been more or less inadequate. For some time past, our local Panhellenic association and other organizations interested in the welfare of "Pitt" have realized the need of an activities building for the girls. They realized however, that a dean of women was a far greater need. Can you imagine how happy we were when these two longed for and hoped for needs were granted us.

First of all, I must tell you about our new dean of women, Miss Amos, who comes from the University of Kansas, and speaks very highly of the Pi Phi there. Last year she took the dean's course at Columbia University. She is strongly in favor of fraternities and is at present investigating housing conditions. She desires every fraternity to have a house. She is urging our Panhellenic to undertake some constructive problem for the coming year. Dean Amos is a member of Φ B K and Π A Θ , honorary fraternities.

Our new activities house, the building donated by Mr. Heinz of Pittsburgh, is frame, and modelled after the bungalow type. It has a large reception room and a number of smaller rooms. The whole building is furnished very attractively. At first, it was rumored that the building would have to be given over to the use of the S. A. T. C., but the girls took immediate possession of it, to prove their appreciation and need for it.

Just six weeks after its completion, a dreadful calamity happened. Our beautiful building burned to the ground. For a few weeks we were disheartened, but our hopes brightened when we saw another new building going up, a little more attractive than the former one. Tomorrow afternoon Panhellenic is giving its annual tea for the new girls at the activities house.

We are pleased to state that eleven hundred freshmen have registered at "Pitt" this year.

A local fraternity, A Γ O, has received a national charter from X Ω fraternity. This leaves only one local in our university.

No definite pledge day is fixed as we are permitted by local Panhellenic to have until Thanksgiving night before sending out bids. There are numerous splendid freshmen here this year and we are all doing our best to make a good showing for Π B Φ . We are permitted to have two functions: the first function date being October 31.

All Pi Phis will be interested to hear that Miss Mary Loose is acting president of the Pittsburgh Panhellenic association in the absence of Mrs. D. Hayes Murphy, who has moved to Connecticut.

Our graduates are all busy. Carmelita Crowley and Jean Brown are teaching in the Continuation School. Marrian Parker is supervisor of drawing in Clairton, and Parnassus, Pa. Mary Griffin is teaching in the Pittsburgh High School. Charlotte Ray is teacher of domestic science in Latimer Junior High School, Pittsburgh. Minnie Wehmeier is engaged in War Camp Community Work.

We are now anticipating a visit from Mrs. J. T. Conners, our Province President.

LILLIAN BOWES.

OHIO ALPHA—OHIO UNIVERSITY

(Chartered December 16, 1889)

Pledge Day—October 3, 1919

PLEDGES

Oramay Ballanger, Lancaster, Ohio
 Otha Beasley, Athens, Ohio
 Eleanor Boyer, Sidney, Ohio
 Margarite Cameron, Urichsville, Ohio
 Audry Danford, Athens, Ohio
 Margaret Procter, Canton, Ohio
 Margaret Spenser, Nelsonville, Ohio
 Virginia Witten, Sistersville, W. Va.

We began this year with a very large chapter, as there were twenty-two old girls in college. Of course our first problem was that of getting new members, but it was rendered unusually easy by the new rules that have been enforced here.

The season has been cut down to two weeks, social functions forbidden, and the expenses for the entire period limited to thirty dollars.

After all the excitement was over we entertained our pledges and our alumnae with a big cooky-shine we held in our chapter hall, where we had a very happy evening, eating, dancing, and singing Π Φ songs.

On October 10, our local alumnae club gave a tea for the active chapter. It was given at the home of Mrs. G. A. Stalder (Margaret Ullom, '06), where we enjoyed a pleasant time, listening to the latest news that had been received from former Pi Phis of Ohio A.

II Φ is quite well represented in activities on Ohio University campus, considering that it is yet early in the year. Marjory Young has been elected to Cresset, the honorary fraternity for girls; Helen Smith is student secretary, and Josephine Wuebben won the Emerson Poetry Prize of $200. We also have many girls in the different literary societies, art clubs, and musical organizations.

We have a new and rather interesting method of encouraging high scholarship. When Mrs. Clark Barker (Jeannette Straight, '94) died, she left to the chapter her pin which is beautifully set with diamonds. We decided to allow the girl making the highest average to wear the pin during the semester following. Thus the beautiful arrow is not put away where no one can admire it, but rather is worn every day where we can always see it and be reminded of our II Φ sister who is no longer with us.

The conditions of college life have been so vastly changed since last year that one would hardly recognize this as the same place. Our prospects for a successful year seem much brighter than they have been during the years of war, and we hope that the future will fulfill our hopes.

Pledge Day—Matriculation Day

INITIATES

(Initiated October 6, 1919)

Mary H. Elberfeld, Columbus, Ohio

Mary E. Logan, Waverly, Ohio

Work has begun again at Ohio State with a much increased enrollment, and campus activities have resumed the vigor of pre-war times. With the return of old scholars and the coming of new ones, activities on the campus are very likely, and the old State spirit is again coming into its own.

To meet the needs, in the way of new instructors and additional laboratories for the seven thousand enrolled, an emergency fund, to the extent of $6,000 was obtained from the State Legislature. This made it possible to hire ninety new instructors, and to convert some of the barracks used by the S. A. T. C. last year into chemical laboratories.

All of the fraternities on the campus were most busy getting new members this fall, and we consider ourselves very fortunate in securing the pledges of nineteen splendid girls. This is the largest number of pledges, and also the greatest number of out-of-town pledges, that Ohio B has ever had at one time. Frances Bernard, Bertha Fulton, Gladys Graves, Mable McCarroll, and Jeanette Vessy are from Cleveland, Ohio; Grace Harris, from Detroit, Mich.; Marian Neff from Bucyrus, Ohio; and Mildred Baker, Hilda Blose, Millia Dyer, Elizabeth Harley, Lucile Kaufman, Virginia Kaufman, Louise Osborne, Lucy Pinkerton, Christine Tracy, Dorothea Wilson, Christine Yerges, and Rachael Young from Columbus, Ohio.

We also have with us this year two delightful women: Miss Elizabeth Conrad, of Wisconsin, as dean of women, and Miss Earnestine Cookson, of Columbus, Ohio, as our new Y. W. C. A. secretary.

Many Pi Phis had planned to visit Michigan B October 25, when Ohio State meets Michigan at football at Ann Arbor, and the disappointment was very keen when it was learned that a special train could not be obtained for the trip.

Owing to the scarcity of rooms and houses about the campus, we, as a chapter, are without a home, but the housing committee is busy looking for quarters, and it is hoped that we will be well situated soon.

INITIATES

(Initiated September 20, 1919)

Stella Duncan, '22, Clarksburg, W. Va.

Helen Poole, '22, Fairmont, W. Va.

Agnes Price, '19, Marlinton, W. Va.

Margaret Price, '19, Marlinton, W. Va.

West Virginia University opened September 25 with the largest enrollment in its history. Many of the old students have returned and we are anticipating a very successful year. The new dormitory was opened this fall and all freshman girls are required to room there. The "Big Sister" movement started by the Y. W. C. A. is quite a success and will be continued throughout the year. It has done away with a great deal of the neglect of many new girls.

Our chapter has a large new home this year, in which we can accommodate all of our girls very comfortably. We lost four girls through graduation but Della Thompson who has been doing agricultural extension work in the state is back in college. We are also delighted to have with us Helen Potter, a transfer from Pennsylvania Δ. Claire Fisher, '19, is working for an A.M. degree and is also teaching mathematics in the university.

Mrs. F. L. Strackland, one of our most influential patronesses, has moved to Boston where Dr. Strickland is teaching philosophy. We have two splendid new patronesses, Mrs. Eleanor Knutti and Mrs. I. G. Lazelle.

Miss Helen Mauck of Ohio 'A, who is teaching near Morgantown, visited the chapter recently and gave us much good advice.

Local Panhellenic adopted preferential bidding this year and it has proven a great success. We have pledged eleven girls whom we hope to see Pi Phi as soon as possible.

GAMMA PROVINCE

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

(Chartered January, 1897)

Date of Pledge Day—October 18

After a most delightful and profitable summer, we returned to take up with new zest the tasks so joyfully laid down last June. This year, with no obstacles such as we encountered last year in the form of influenza and like evils, we feel that we will pursue the elusive goddess Wisdom with a right good will. Our number is somewhat decreased through graduation, weddings, and change to other institutions.

We had only ten days in which to get new members, but in those ten days we won eight very lovely freshmen, who we feel sure will make the very best sort of Pi Phi. The list includes Julia Coe, Georgia Greer, Doris Gherky, Ruth Hopper, Grace Moore, Berenice Schauer, Mary Schaff and Dorothy Stevenson. The season ended with a banquet at the Emerson Hotel. The most delightful feature of the banquet was the fact that we had Miss Keller with us. We had hardly hoped for such a pleasure and were most rejoiced to see her that evening.

Maryland A had the honor of entertaining at tea Mary Johns, a $\Pi\Phi$ from Missouri, who is playing with David Warfield in "The Auctioneer."

We are anticipating a very successful year, for we feel that this year, as never before, earnest endeavor and sternness of purpose are necessary. The opportunities also for growth and development are greater. A further spur to our efforts is the fact that we have to combat prejudice and opposition to keep fraternities in Goucher, and each girl realizes that it is her individual responsibility to make $\Pi\Phi$ utterly desirable and a true asset in the college world.

Maryland A extends its heartiest wishes to Pi Phi, nationally and individually for a most successful year.

SARAH LOUISE VOEGTH.

COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1889)

Pledge Day—Not fixed

October, 1919, finds George Washington with the largest enrollment in its history and among these newcomers are splendid $\Pi\Phi$ prospects. Of course, we are very much interested in these new girls because we realize that the success or failure of a chapter depends not only on the returning girls but also on the new members added each year. During the month before bid day, we are devoting most of our energy to getting acquainted as individuals because we feel that it is in this way that real friendships are formed and true judgments made both on our part and on that of the freshmen. Panhellenic rules, however, give us four parties and for these we decided on a tea, a straw-ride, a dance, and a luncheon. One of our girls has loaned her piano to the rooms and this is a great help with songs at our luncheons for the new girls.

National Panhellenic meets here this month and we are anticipating meeting the delegates. We all feel that meeting and talking with these national representatives will be a source of inspiration for the local chapters.

To Columbia A, a cooky-shine means an engagement and five pounds of candy from the fortunate young man. It is the ambition of every girl to have her announcement a complete surprise and we have been blessed with three since our last letter: Elizabeth Heitmuller in June, Margaret Prentiss, and Mildred Duvall this fall.

We are anxious to welcome all new $\Pi \Phi$ pledges and hope that we will have the pleasure of meeting the girls from other chapters, who may be in Washington during the winter.

INITIATES

(Initiated September 20, 1919)

Mary Elizabeth Barton, Earle, Ark.

Jane Cabaniss, Petersburg, Va.

Evelyn Lovett, Atlanta, Ga.

When we returned this fall and initiated three of the splendid girls we pledged last March, we found to our great distress that we numbered thirteen. Since then we have been making dire prophecies. (Of course we did not stipulate when one of us was to die!) But very soon we expect to retrieve this unfortunate situation by the acquisition of several new girls of advanced standing. We think that we may all live to see that day. This year again the system of no entertaining and preferential bidding is to be tried. The object of this method is to promote normal friendships between the fraternity girls and the freshmen. And you would laugh to see how earnestly we are all going about making normal friendships!

There are three seniors with us this year: Phyllis Crawford, Laura Henderson, and Elizabeth Young. Laura is president of the dramatic club and is on the student committee, and Phyllis is editor of the Tattler, the monthly literary magazine. We have seven juniors: Katherine Akers, Evelyn Cox, Margaret Dodge, Frances Fletcher, Martha Latham, Kathryn Slifer, and Louise Stratton. Martha is on the executive board of the student committee, as secretary, and is chairman of a Y. W. C. A. committee. Katherine, vice-president of the athletic association, is again shining in basketball, and we hope that she will make the all-college star team again this year. Evelyn, as treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. is agitated about her books. Louise is secretary of her class and also of Franklin Literary Society. Evelyn Lovett is on the student committee. We are all members of the Y. W. C. A., and most of us are working on at least one committee. Five are on the promotion committee, made up of girls chosen from the whole college. And all of us belong to a literary society. We have all kinds!

During the week of October 6-11, a drive for money was launched by the promotion committee under the slogan "Randolph-Macon Jubilee, part for you and part for me." The goal is $18,000, of which $12,000 is to be paid this year and $6,000 to be pledged for next year. The "Part for you" is $5,000, which includes all contributions from the college to missions and general relief, and money for the support of two Serbian girls, Milana Ilitch, and Lepa Mladenovitch, who have come over to be educated at Randolph-Macon. The "Part for me" is for the student building fund, which has been growing steadily since 1911, when first the idea of erecting a building paid for by the students was conceived. The corner stone is to be laid in June, hence it is necessary to raise at least $50,000 among the students and alumnæ within a year. During the week preceding the actual drive, a stunt was given every night by different organizations, to advertise it. Katherine Akers, Jane Cabaniss, Phyllis Crawford, Martha Latham, and Elizabeth Young, took part in the stunts, and Evelyn Lovett had the leading dancing part in the final pageant.

The basketball season is about here, and class spirit is well nigh ruining us all. Every day at twenty minutes to dawn the freshmen and sophomores wake up and run out on the campus to sing and make faces at each other and (who knows?) perhaps even call each other wicked names. But we blasé upperclassmen try to sleep on as if we didn't care very much anyway and content ourselves with calling the freshmen and sophomores naughty names.

We wish you all a successful year.

VIRGINIA BETA—HOLLINS COLLEGE

(Chartered June, 1917)

Pledge Day—November 29, 1919

This college year has opened with very bright prospects for Virginia B, as nearly the whole chapter of last year has returned. Hollins was delayed a week in opening on account of being unable to get necessary building materials for some of the improvements. The college is planning to remodel one floor in the dormitories each year until the whole college is remodelled.

On September 29, we pledged Ruth Kellog of Cape Charles, Va.

As the preparatory department was discontinued this year, we have an unusually large freshman class in which there is some very promising material.

Interfraternity feeling this year is excellent. At an open Panhellenic meeting held near the beginning of college, we had an address from a faculty member, who urged us in choosing our new members to think of the future of the chapter, taking in only the girls who were doing good, solid college work.

We miss our three seniors of last year, Salome Hadaway, Elizabeth Johnston, and Betty Turnbull, and we are eagerly anticipating a visit from them soon. Fritz Childress, ex-'22, of Texas, desiring to be nearer home, entered the University of Texas this fall. While we miss her greatly, we are glad we can send such an attractive transfer to Texas A.

X Ω has accepted the petition of the local chapter, B K, and Π Φ welcomes her gladly. After the installation of X Ω, all the fraternities here will be national.

Helen Hardwicke, '20, is president of the Y. W. C. A. this year. The chapter is well represented in all phases of college work.

Virginia B sends best wishes for a successful year to all chapters, and especially to our new chapters.

MARY B. BULLINGTON.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

(Chartered January 30, 1913)

Pledge Day—October 25

The opening of the college year finds us a very enthusiastic group with many plans for the year. Although there are only seven active girls and two pledges, we are not at all discouraged.

After the very abnormal conditions of the past two years, we are indeed glad to see things progressing in their regular routine, and to welcome many of the old students, who on account of war conditions were away for a year or two.

Stetson opened with the largest enrollment in its history, and with more enthusiasm and interest than has been shown here for years. We are very fortunate in having a unit of the R. O. T. C. here. Athletics, too, are in full sway now. Already a complete football schedule has been arranged, and the boys are working hard and making good use of the promising material. The university requires, this year, that all girls take physical culture, so many of us are being benefited by that.

At last our greatest wish has been realized in the establishment of student government in the girls' dormitory. Of course, it will be some time before all the minor details can be worked out, and a fixed set of rules adopted, but the faculty and student body alike are giving it their full coöperation, and soon we hope to see it organized completely.

We are very happy to have with us again an alumna, Louise Hulley, as dean of women in Chaudoin Hall. She has already won the love and respect of every one in the dormitory.

We are planning to have a progressive dinner party on October 18 to which we have invited twelve splendid girls and are hoping to see nearly all of them wearing the wine and blue soon.

We are still maintaining our good record at Stetson as almost all of us are taking part in the campus activities. Ejda Stenwall is president, and Lady Lois Townsend, treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. Virginia Marrow is a member of the student council and also of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Eva Welch is vice-president of the senior class.

Michigan A sends hearty greetings to all Pi Phis and extends a warm welcome to our new chapters.

Many changes have been made in the faculty this year. Miss Nellie Whitmore is filling the place of Dean of Women and head of the Domestic Science department very capably, with Miss Ada Tucker as her assistant. Miss Enid Eichhorn is making the Department of Expression a big thing in college. Miss Elizabeth Shiner is instructor in ancient languages and Mr. Samuel R. Taylor is the new athletic coach.

Marion Augur, '19, is with us this year as an assistant to President Mauck. Josephine Triplett, '21, and Kathryn Casey, '21, are finishing their courses at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. Several of the girls of last year are teaching. We were very fortunate in having fifteen actives to begin our school year.

Dorothy Harding, '23, has been elected the woman representative of the freshmen class on the student council.

The campaign for new students was well rewarded by an enrollment of one hundred and fifty freshmen, the largest class which has entered for a number of years. With such material to choose from, rushing could not fail to be a great success and we are proud of our twelve new girls. They are as fine as there are. Our Panhellenic rules have been quite successful and there have been few changes.

The dormitory is crowded, as is our house. There was urgent need for a new dormitory, and Judge William E. Ambler of Cleveland, Ohio, came to our aid by purchasing a large house, near the campus to be used as a home for the girls, and later to be turned over to the Domestic Science department for its home.

INITIATES

(Initiated March 15, 1919)

Olive Coleman

Margaret Spain

The University of Michigan opened September 30 with an enrollment of nearly 10,000, the largest in its history. Of this number about 2,500 are women, which is also the largest number of women ever attending Ann Arbor. Affairs at the university are in a particularly prosperous condition since the Legislature at its last meeting granted the university $2,200,000 a year, for the next two years, which permits starting work on a new $5,000,000 hospital, the completion of the new library, and other valuable additions.

Michigan B enjoyed a most successful season, pledging thirteen most promising girls. We attribute our success this year to the whole-hearted support of every active member and the alumnæ. Our alumnæ were most helpful and coöperative and we were also most fortunate in having Florence Helmick with us, who had just come from Illinois E and seemed to bring their success with her.

We have Coralie Coleman of Dallas, Tex., with us as chaperon and we find her ideal, being efficient in management and of charming personality. Miss Coleman is taking work in the university, and though not a $\Pi \Phi$, is interested in us in every way.

We are very proud of our place on the scholarship chart, that of second. It is a rise from that of third place which we held last year. We hope that our work this year may bring it to the top, which distinction we held three years ago.

Two of our seniors, Ann Noble and Margaret Spain, have been elected to Mortar Board, the senior honorary society. We have three juniors, Alice Beckham, Beatrice Beckwith, and Gladys Reineke, in Wyvern, the junior honorary society. Election to membership in these societies is a recognition of competent leadership in campus activities, and we are proud to be so well represented.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

(Chartered 1888)

Pledge Day—December 13, 1919

Two weeks of our college year are now gone and everyone is again getting into the routine of college life. Franklin is anticipating a most prosperous year in every respect. With the largest enrollment in the history of the college, we begin to feel that our slogan, "A GREATER FRANKLIN," is being realized. Just now everyone is enthusiastic over the football prospects, as some of our old football heroes have returned to us from the service, and they surely have put new life into the team.

We feel, too, that the outlook for $\Pi B \Phi$ is brighter than ever. We are proud to say that we have seventeen old girls back. We will have to do without our promising freshman girls for a while as pledge day does not come until December.

Last year the local Panhellenic adopted an entirely new system. Second semester pledging was tried out and it proved so successful that a similar plan has been adopted this year. Each fraternity had thus one party and that was the only time when the girls could talk fraternity to a girl. The best of good feelings existed between the organizations and we felt as if the girls themselves were more capable of making the right decision.

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

(Chartered 1893)

Pledge Day set by local Panhellenic—September 16, 1919

Twenty-three Pi Phis returned to college and put the house in perfect condition for our fall entertaining. We were very successful this year, pledging fourteen lovely girls, one of whom, Frances Miller of Indianapolis, we have lost temporarily, due to illness. We sincerely hope that she will be able to return in February.

Our other pledges include Magdelin Fettig and Doris Giele, Seymour; Jeanette Henn, Cleveland, Ohio; Eugenia Roth, Boonville; Kathrynne Mullinix, Attica; Mary Catherine Coll, Jeffersonville; Mildred Daum, Evansville; Helen Herbst, Genevieve Means, and Laura Barrett, all of Indianapolis; Lois Halderman, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Hazel Swisher, Gary; and Rosalind Schu, Princeton. We are mighty proud of them all, and are anxious to see them initiated.

Magdelin Fettig is already in campus activities, working on the Daily Student.

Gertrude Miedema, '20, is the president of the Garrick Club this year, and Farrald Miller, '21, is our Panhellenic representative. Mildred Hauss is the president of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$.

Due to faculty ruling, fraternities can have only one dance in the student building and one in the chapter-house this year. Each representative drew for a date for their chapter dance in the student building, and ours is to be March 12. We intend making both dances for prospective members.

Every Indiana B heart is set on buying a new chapter-house, and we hope that with the help of our many alumnae we will have a house in a comparatively short time.

The continuance of athletics in the university is uncertain, and the active chapter of $\Pi \Phi$, and our alumnae and the other organizations on the campus, are going to do all we can to encourage athletics. The freshman-sophomore scrap gave a lot of pep to the Indiana-Wabash game of September 27, and spurred our boys on to victory. With that encouraging start, I am sure that everyone will do his best to make athletics a big part of our university. I am confident that every $\Pi \Phi$ will do her share.

Indiana F is again feeling triumphant after pledging fifteen fine new girls, but regret that it was necessary for one to discontinue her college course. We wish to thank our alumnae for the splendid coöperation which they gave us in winning these girls. They attended our parties; and the night before matriculation, gave a formal banquet.

On October 13, we initiated ten girls. After initiation a dinner was served by the alumnae at the home of Mrs. Carl Fletcher (Mary Henderson, Illinois Z, '99). October 27 the new pledges entertained the actives. The party was planned secretly and was greatly appreciated by the chapter.

$\Pi \Phi$ is taking an active interest in college activities this year. Although all the class elections have not been held yet, two out of the three senior representatives of the student affairs are Pi Phi and we have the vice-president of the sophomore class. In Y. W. C. A., $\Pi \Phi$ is represented by the presidency and chairmanship of the Geneva and publicity committees. Likewise in the chapel choir and glee club, Pi Phi are taking part. When try-outs are held for the dramatic club many of our girls expect to enter.

Because of the many unavoidable interruptions and the prevalence of sickness last year, our grades were not as good as we had hoped for; so this year we are working harder. Since we have the new fifteen hour initiation ruling, we are requiring a high scholastic standing in order that only the worth-while girls shall be initiated. This year Talitha Gerlach has the Butler College scholarship and Gertrude Hecker was on the honor roll.

We have decided to continue the support of our French orphan. This past year we have received letters from her and we feel she is indeed grateful for what we have done.

Recently there has come into the possession of Indiana F one of the old arrows. We are planning to use it as the president's official badge and expect to pass it on to each president.

The alumnae club and active chapter are coöperating so well that a successful year seems assured.

EPSILON PROVINCE

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

(Chartered 1890)

Date of Pledge Day fixed by local Panhellenic—October 17

The University of Minnesota opened on October 1 with the largest increase in enrollment for years. Many new instructors have been added to the faculty, and classrooms outside of the campus are being used to take care of the surplus students. President Marion LeRoy Burton predicts an unusually good year for Minnesota, and although the college year has scarcely started, there is evidence of great progress.

With the increase in students there is also a distinct difference in the type of freshmen entering college. The freshman girls seem to be of a less frivolous nature, and are here for a serious purpose, realizing in view of the overcrowded conditions that Minnesota will not be lenient with undesirable students.

The type of girls has never before been equalled and with such lovely freshmen, we expect to find splendid material. Our alumnae have assisted us greatly during our two weeks of entertaining, by suggestions and by serving at luncheons and teas. Our province president, Oliva Kellar Lawrence, Minnesota A, '16, has done a great deal to help us in choosing good, substantial girls, and much of our success is due to her efficient supervision.

Many college activities, abandoned during the war, are being resumed. An annual affair, called a "Pep" meeting, was held on the campus shortly after the university opened. The program consisted of a parade, a bonfire with dancing and singing, and finally speeches in the armory by the president and faculty members. This meeting was held to revive the old "spirit" and was successful from every standpoint.

Because the college year started late, and because local Panhellenic pledge day is so late, we are unable to tell you of Pi Phis in activities, and the names of our pledges.

We are anticipating a successful year and wish the same to all other chapters.

Elizabeth Clark, Menomonie, Wis.

Olive Peterson, 1459 Farragut Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The unusual number enrolled in the university this year meant a great deal of splendid material. Indeed, we were forced, much to our regret, to limit our choice of girls to sixteen. It was a difficult task to pick sixteen girls from a possible two hundred. It was necessary to do this, however, because of the size of our chapter.

With the return of several of our old girls, our chapter numbers thirty-two. In addition to the active chapter, we have eleven fine transfers: Marion Thrush, Nebraska B; Mae Rush and Dorothy Jackson, Colorado A; Lucile Curtis and Carolyn Steadman, Illinois E; Florence Smither, Texas B; Beth Stuart, Iowa F; Edith Le Claire, Texas A; Annine and Doris Evans.

The following sixteen girls were pledged in October: Betty Brown, Dorothy Braden, Margaret Butler, Thelma Evans, Katherine Grimes, Katherine Hul-linger, Genevieve Hutchinson, Alice Legare, Helen Johnson, Aline Morton, Alice Munro, Marie Muench, Ruth Salzer, Helen Stondahl, Helen Shipley, and Evelyn Towsley.

Of course we consider ourselves very fortunate in getting so many fine girls, and are well satisfied with our success. We sincerely hope that all the $\Pi \Phi$ chapters were as fortunate as we were.

As this is the first letter we have written for THE ARROW we know you will all be interested in the installation of Wisconsin B at Beloit College.

Our charter was granted too late in June to allow installation to take place at that time so we returned on August 17, happy to see each other again and very happy to think that we were soon to be Pi Phi.

Grand Council met in Lincoln, Neb., this summer and on their way to Lincoln, Mrs. D. D. Nickerson, Grand Vice-president, Miss Amy Onken, Grand Secretary, and Mrs. F. A. Rugg, Editor of THE ARROW, came to Beloit for initiation and installation.

The pledging ceremony took place at the home of Miss Clara Paley, Nebraska A, and was conducted by Mrs. F. J. Allen, Alumnae Editor. The initiation of active members and installation of the chapter by Miss Onken were held on the morning of August 20, at the home of Mrs. E. M. Dazey, Wisconsin A.

*Alumnae

We had a very informal luncheon at noon and in the afternoon Mrs. Nickerson initiated our alumnæ members. In the evening about forty-five Pi Phis attended our banquet at the Hotel Hilton.

As a new chapter we feel the need of much help and advice and think we are very fortunate to have with us Mrs. Tannahill, Miss Edith Carpenter, and Miss Florence Robinson, head of the Beloit Home Economics Department and a former member of Grand Council. Surely no other new chapter was ever so fortunate as we are in having the Grand President as dean of women in the college.

After two weeks of getting acquainted with new girls we announce the following pledges: Helen Faites, Chicago; Dorothy Fisher, Battle Creek, Mich.; Beulah Francoeur, Wilmette, Ill.; Mildred Hartmann, Broadhead, Wis.; Grace Pike, Plainfield, Ill.; Borghild Trulson, Stoughton, Wis.; Emmeline Witt, Chicago. Our active chapter numbered twenty without freshmen so we adopted a very conservative policy and received affirmative answers to the seven bids which we sent out. Our freshmen are wearing bows of wine and blue instead of pledge pins for we are waiting until the last of the week when Mrs. Tannahill can conduct the formal pledging ceremony. We are honored in being the first chapter to use the new pledging ceremony and we are delighted to have Mrs. Tannahill conduct it.

We have a number of offices in the student organizations: the president and vice-president of the woman's student government association and a representative on the student council; the president and vice-president of the Shakespeare Society; the vice-president and secretary of the senior class; and vice-president of the sophomore class and the treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. We also have a number of members in the Beloit Players, the Vesper and Acapella choirs, and in the girls' glee club.

Active Pi Phis from Wisconsin A and Illinois E were present at our installation and alumnæ from several chapters were able to be here. We hope to have many visitors this year for we are eager to meet our new sisters. With best wishes to you all.

IRENE ELDRIDGE.

ILLINOIS BETA—LOMBARD COLLEGE

(Chartered 1872)

Pledge Day—October 10, 1919

Perhaps the most interesting thing which has happened at Lombard this year, for us at least, has been getting new members. Many very lovely girls entered our college family for the first time this year and the competition was naturally keen. The best of it all was the splendid spirit prevailing in Panhellenic. The older girls say they cannot remember a more pleasant year.

Our alumnæ may entertain prospective members only one day and they certainly made that day one to be remembered. We had a lovely four-course dinner at the home of Florence Hunt Webster and after that the Orpheum.

These are our seven new pledges and we like them more and more each day: Louise Crissey, Fern Fennesy, Virginia Johnston, Mary Stover Korn, Charlotte McCarl, Blanche Miller, and Frances Wylie.

Our alumnae have re-decorated and improved our bungalow and made it quite attractive. We wish you could all come to see us.

As yet no plans have been made for our parties, but the social calendar of the college is filling up rapidly. Last Saturday evening the freshmen gave a harvest party and the other classes are planning parties for the near future.

Since our last letter many pleasant things have happened to us. Among them was a visit from Miss Onken, our Grand Secretary. We surely enjoyed it and hope she will come again soon.

At the close of the year our literary club, the Zetecalian, held a declamatory contest and both first and second prizes were won by Pi Phi.

We are anticipating a visit from Mrs. Laurence, our province president.

Marion Woodley, who graduated last year from our Vocal Art Studio, has come back to study opera, refusing several positions which were offered her at her home in California.

Lombard has played only two games of football this season but has six more "real" games scheduled.

Knox opened this year with an unusually large class of freshmen. Our dormitory is completely filled and in addition we have two student houses out in town, one a permanently furnished club, and the other temporary. The faculty has eight new members and all conditions seem good for a very prosperous and successful year.

Our chapter lost three junior girls this year, who wanted to take special courses at universities. But the fifteen girls whom we initiated last spring have come back and are proving themselves worthy Pi Phis. Also, one of our senior girls, who stayed home last year because of the war, is with us again to complete her course.

We have had three cooky-shines this year and are planning another this week to which we will invite our alumnae.

Only one girl was pledged at the beginning of this semester—Margerie Cooke of Chicago. And we are very eager to have her and Florence Bates, a pledge from last year, become Pi Phis.

The college had a half-holiday two weeks ago celebrating the founding of Knox or Log City Day at Lincoln Park. We had class lunches followed by class stunts.

The Knox students have finished a campaign for raising money for the athletic association. We have been victors in the two football games this fall.

In the sophomore class our chapter won the presidency, vice-presidency, and student council membership. This is the first time a girl has been elected president of that class. And in the junior class, we have another student council member; in the senior class, the vice-president. A $\Pi \Phi$ is also president of Y. W. C. A., and another is business manager of the Knox Student.

Our regular pledge day has been changed to matriculation day of the sophomore year, so we will have no big pledge day for another twelve months.

We wish each chapter a most happy year.

We are very glad to introduce sixteen splendid new pledges of whom we are naturally very proud. We tried a new method this year—preference pledging, and consider it a complete success. We pledged girls of different types so that we have a well-rounded group and incidentally much talent. The group includes one junior: Lois Snow; five sophomores, Adelaide Banfield, Margaret Darrah, Margeretta Fenn, Elizabeth Heathcote, Marjorie Nelson; and ten freshmen, Jessie Cook, Edith Eberhart, Marjorie Garvey, Lauretta Hall, Hazel Kaiser, Margaret Little, Florence Lovén, Esther McDonald, Edith Storey, and Viola Stormer. We are also glad to welcome Florence Cambell, '22, a transfer from Illinois Z. Marian Judson, '22, Pauline Jackson, '22, and Jeanette Day, '22, who dropped out of college for a year, have returned.

Mrs. Little, an alumna and mother of one of our new pledges, gave a lovely dinner for us at her home the night we formally pledged our girls. The pledges entertained the chapter in the evening by stunts and musical numbers. We were all delighted at the talent which they displayed.

One of our pledges, Marjorie Garvey, '23, has been elected secretary of the freshman class and Florence Kirpatrick, '21, whom we have just initiated, made the Campus Players, an organization from which the students are chosen for all the college plays given during the year.

With the return to semesters in place of the quarters which we had during the war, things seem to become more settled than they have been for the past two years. Campus activities have taken on their pre-war routine and everyone sees the change from last year and is delighted with it. We are all anticipating a splendid year, both in college and fraternity work.

Pledge Day—October 4, 1919

We had a house-party on September 20 and 21, followed by registration on the twenty-second and twenty-third. From that time until October 4 we were very busy meeting new girls. Our alumnæ helped us very much. One event which was particularly enjoyed was a picnic which they gave.

We opened the house with fourteen girls, and to that number we are now glad to add the following pledges: Mary Ann Crawford, Hillsboro; Sally Crab, Litchfield; Ruth De Witt, Downers Grove; Elizabeth Haynes, Mattoon; Elizabeth Boggs, Urbana; Harriett Palm-green, Chicago; Adele Rendleman, Cairo; Laura Treadwell, Kansas City, Mable Wendover, St. Louis, and Marjorie Wilkinson, Bethany.

We are fortunate in having Miss Fleming with us again as a chaperon. She has been away for three years, but previous to that time she was with us seven years.

We are planning a big year for $\Pi \Phi$ at Illinois and are entering into activities with great enthusiasm. We made a good beginning by leading in the campaign drive of selling home-coming stamps. $\Pi \Phi$ sold \$400 worth of stamps.

Illinois Home-coming will be October 31 and November 1. We are hoping for the largest return of fraternity alumnae on the campus. We are planning a cooky-shine for that Saturday night.

Illinois E made a record breaking start this year with an active chapter of twenty-one. We were very glad to welcome back again Lois Engleman, Geraldine Gushard, and Bess McClure as active members. Although the military experiences of our S. A. T. C. camp last year were thrilling, it was good to return to ante-bellum college life, and especially to have so many of our men back in college. We have a new president at Millikin, and with an increased student body, anticipate a splendid year.

According to custom, the first week was devoted to Y. W. C. A. activities, but on September 23, we began to entertain proposed fraternity material. Relieved of war-time measures we were allowed two parties. Our first was a colonial dance at the Country Club, and the second week the alumnae entertained us with a lovely garden party at the home of Geraldine Gushard. A number of out-of-town alumnae attended both functions. Ten girls were pledged Saturday afternoon, October 11, at the home of Frances Chenoweth, and later entertained at our annual banquet at the Hotel Orlando. An interesting feature at the banquet was the presentation of a recognition pin to the sophomore having made the highest grades throughout her freshman year. Lois Engleman, the winner last year, had the honor of presenting the pin to Maurita Shafer. Out-of-town alumnae who were here for pledging were Lucile Logan, Bethany; Lois Godwin-Patterson, Arcola; Oma Goodson-Winn, Tuscola; and Grace Wiseman, Jerseyville.

Edna Rybolt, '20, and Catharine Milligan, '20, attended the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva in August. They enjoyed meeting fifteen other Pi Phis, and attended two cooky-shines.

We are very proud of Jewell Harris, '21, who was elected editor-in-chief of the Millidek, our college annual. Phillis Hamman, '21, and Helen Lichtenberger, '21, are also on the staff. We have three Y. W. C. A. cabinet members; an officer in the Dramatic Art Club; and are well represented in other student organizations.

We have eight lovely pledges: Mary Dutton, Kathryn Gilmore, Elizabeth Hughes, and Isabel McFerran, of Mt. Pleasant; Phillis Swearingen, Centerville; Frances Busby, Brooklyn; Jeannette Mitchell, Ottumwa; and Ruth Cain, Fremont, Neb. We also have one more you have never met, Blanche Thomas, of Mt. Pleasant, who was pledged at last commencement time.

The glee club for this year has been chosen, and out of the fourteen women we have six, three actives and three pledges. The same plan as that of last year will be followed in combining the men's and women's voices for the light opera, Pinafore. Leatha Greene is the assistant editor of the Croaker, the college annual, with Ina Shaull as assistant business manager, and Dorothy Gilmore in charge of the department of music. We also have two members on the Wesleyan News staff; three on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet; one on the house council, and one class president. The elections in June to I Φ, our local honorary fraternity, included two Pi Phis, Dorothy Gilmore and Letha Greene.

We regret that Marie Walker, ex-'20, is not coming back this year. She is traveling in California with her parents. Vera Shipley is with us again after teaching last year, and also Wilmo Munger, both of the class of '21.

Iowa Wesleyan is fortunate in having as dean of women, Mrs. May Snider, the mother of one of our own alumnæ, Mrs. Don Tribby (Bertha Snider, '01). She was the chaperon at the Π Φ house at Manhattan, Kan., and I am sure the Kansas Betas will miss her a great deal.

We are also fortunate in having Dr. U. S. Smith as president. He has already proved himself capable of accomplishing the things he sets out to do and the entire college is undergoing a period of reconstruction and reorganization, which will soon put it on a better footing than existed even before the war.

GRADUATE

Cora Hankins, B.S., Nevada, Iowa.

Initiated June 10, 1919

Iowa B is planning to make this college year most successful. We started with a loyal and enthusiastic chapter—fifteen actives and three pledges. The second week we added a lovely new pledge. Lyda Belle Hughes, '22, is now a $\Pi \Phi$. Seven of our strongest girls are to graduate in the spring and it seems impossible to think of Iowa B next year without our seniors to "make things go." Conditions at Simpson are greatly changed this year since we have almost an entirely new faculty and a large enrollment of students. Our new president, Dr. Hillman, was just recently inaugurated. The new central building is partially completed.

On October 11, we pledged sixteen freshmen girls of whom we are certainly proud. Hazel Hughes and Ethel Gates of Norwalk; Harriet Goodsell and Helen Kridelbaugh of Chariton; Louise Birdsell of Emerson; Mary Alexander of Osceola; Bernice Hanelly of Mt. Ayr; Ethlyn Dickens of Diagonal; Lucile Ford of Guthrie Center; Louise Peasely, Anne Peck, Lucile Evans, Mildred Meek, Rosa Farlow, Elva Bellman, and Mary Elizabeth Edwards of Indianola are the new wearers of the wine and blue. We had a short but intensive season for getting members this year. Our local Panhellenic made exceedingly strict rules, limiting both time and money. We were able to give three big stunts, however, a candle light tea, a formal dinner dance, and a big cooky-shine. We feel that the season was quite successful as we won every bid.

We were pleased to have so many visitors with us on pledge day. Mary Amos, of Iowa Z, and Marie Gass, Iru Lippincott, Gertrude Minor, Vera Summers, Willa Throckmorton, and Helen Wright, of Iowa B, were here.

We are renting our house this year but it is entirely in charge of the active chapter. It is conveniently located and with the loyal aid of our alumnae we have furnished it very nicely. Our local alumnae club recently gave us a fine cooky-shine and kitchen shower, which helped greatly. Mrs. Emma Moss (mother of Grace Moss-Lippincott, '13) is our chaperon. Although we do not own our house as yet, we have established a permanent house fund and perhaps in time we may have our own fraternity house. We are indebted to our Province President, Mrs. Sigler, who has aided us a great deal in planning and arranging the house.

$\Pi \Phi$ is taking an active part in outside activities this year with Vera Hollowell, '20, special editor of the Simpsonian; Ruth Kirkendall, '20, local editor; Vera Dickens, '20, and Blythe Clayton, '20, on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet; and Grace Hughes, '20, Ruth Kirkendall, '20, Blythe Clayton, '20, and Margaret Kirkendall, '20, members of the girls' honorary "S" club. Winnifred Seay, '21, holds a position on the Zenith board. Harriet Scroggs, '22, and Willa Clammer, '22, are members of English seminar. Margaret Kirkendall, '21, and Winnifred Seay, '21, are members of the college glee club. Blythe Clayton, '20, and Vera Dickens, '20, hold offices in Alphan literary society, and Marie Sheets, '20, Harriet Scroggs, '22, Winnifred Seay, '21, and Dorothea Edwards, '22, hold offices in Zetheleathean literary society.

This fall the girls came back with enthusiasm. The first few days were spent in redecorating our chapter-room and getting ready for entertaining the new girls. We pledged on October 18, thirteen excellent girls. This season proved very interesting due to the unusually large number of women at Ames.

Last spring Bertha Wormhoudt, '20, and Helen Miley, '21, made the dramatic club. Bertha Wormhoudt, '20, was elected president of Mortar Board; Ruth Barker, '21, was elected woman's athletic editor of the Bomb. Kae Samson, '20, and Dorothy Proctor, '22, played leading parts in Stop Thief.

Pledge Day—September 28, 1919

Another busy season has just closed with the result that we have nine new pledges. This year our preferred date did not come until late in the season, and so we gave an informal dancing party with carnival caps as our first entertainment. Our preferred date took the form of a rose luncheon; roses grew from the chandeliers, place-cards, nut cups, napkins, and every other available place. Our greatest disappointment was that our new baby grand piano, which we ordered last spring, did not arrive in time for the occasion.

This year has been one of general improvement for our chapter-house. Our landlord put new floors in three of the rooms down stairs, and repainted the outside of the house. And then, of course, we had to have a horse to go with the cart, and so we started a furniture fund. This money was drawn from various sources: the alumnae gave, the pledges put in the money that they had originally planned to spend on a party, and the actives pledged themselves to sacrifice and save a five dollar summer tax. The result was that during the summer three of the girls went to Chicago and bought curtains, rugs, a tapestry davenport and chairs, a gate-leg table, and a mirror. The older girls are quite enthusiastic about everything new, and, of course, the freshmen are too, although they do contend that it is much easier to run a vacuum cleaner over an old carpet, than to get down on one's hands and knees to wax and polish new floors.

With all the usual preparations to be made, many of us came back as early as a week or ten days before the opening of college. We worked very energetically and put everything in splendid shape. Our parties for prospective members were very simple but original, each one of us working with but one end in view—that of obtaining from among the many in college the very best and most desirable $\Pi \Phi$ material, with the result that on pledge day we pinned our colors on twenty-seven girls.

Besides many of our alumnae, we were delighted to have as our guests recently, Mary Poindexter and Doris Drought of Kansas A.

We feel especially fortunate in having for our chaperon Miss Elva Plank, of whom you all know in connection with the Settlement School. Miss Plank has told us many interesting things about Little Pigeon, thus bringing us in closer touch with the school and the work that is being done there. By her wonderful inspiration and help we realize more than ever before just how much $\Pi B \Phi$ means and what a privilege it is to be a part of such a national organization.

Corinne Mackey, has been appointed as Y. W. C. A. instructor to freshmen, and is also serving on the Savitar staff.

Elizabeth Hill, one of our pledges, has been elected vice-president of the freshman class.

Katherine Baker has the distinction of having been chosen captain of the district governing board.

In addition to these activities, we have a study hall three times a week for freshmen, and the upperclassmen are taking their work seriously. We plan to reach a high standard of scholarship this year as the reading of the grades at the end of the first month was most encouraging.

Missouri B and Washington University have settled down to pre-war conditions. No! I don't mean pre-war conditions, yet something very different from the past two years. The campus seem hardly large enough to accommodate the scores of students that wander about between classes, and the classrooms are filled to overflowing with those attending lectures. There is a spirit of enthusiasm and a seemingly inexhaustible supply of "pep" in everyone that surpasses that of any other year.

In getting pledges we were very successful. True it was long—two weeks of limited and two weeks of unlimited entertaining in which the big parties came mostly at night while the days were filled with getting acquainted with individuals—but at the end of it we pinned the arrowhead on fourteen fine girls. We are proud of them as they are splendid, all-round girls, and, if we were enthusiastic about them at first, we are even more so now that we know them better and have seen them in real campus life.

In addition to these Pi Phis-to-be, we have ten new initiates to introduce to the fraternity at large. They materially strengthen our chapter which found itself somewhat depleted after losing seven girls by graduation last June. Then, too, we are glad to welcome two transfers, Allene Stephenson, Missouri T, and Eda Lincoln, Missouri A.

Everyone—pledges, actives, and alumnæ (who have planned a series of bridge parties for the benefit of the Settlement School), has entered into every thing that comes to hand with such interest and enthusiasm that the coming year promises to be a banner year for us.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

(Chartered 1914)

Pledge Day—Second Semester (exact day not fixed)

This year at Drury is one filled with many new situations and new people, among the most pleasing of whom is our new dean of women, Mrs. Schwenke ($\Delta \Delta \Delta$, of Ohio State University). She is already a general favorite, and everyone feels that she will assist in making the college year a great success. We are also honored in having another French girl this year who is proving to be quite popular and a splendid student.

The new situation which has created more excitement and interest and which has caused more strange adjustments of fraternity life is the adoption (by unanimous vote of local Panhellenic) of a second-semester pledging and sophomore initiation ruling. Just before college opened, there was a rumor that the faculty was thinking of suggesting such a ruling. After discussing it in our meetings, we decided that it was an excellent plan, so Missouri Γ took the initiative in calling a meeting of fraternity women with the dean to discuss the question. It seemed that we were the only ones in favor of it at first; but, after extended arguments, it was decided to "try it out" for a year. So far, it seems to work splendidly; we all believe that it will surely make a finer college spirit as well as stronger fraternities.

One of the biggest things which has happened in our college circle this fall is that the Obelisk fraternity men, who have long been petitioning Sigma Nu, have at last obtained their charter, and will be installed.

We are rejoicing over the recent pledging of Elta Williams, whom we hope to make "one of us" soon. She is a senior and president of Y. W. C. A.

Our Pi Phis are well distributed among the different literary clubs, dramatic clubs, Y. W. C. A. duties, choral and glee clubs, college paper and annual staffs, also assistantships, and various other activities, so that (together with six days a week in college) we are kept pretty busy.

We are expecting a visit from Mrs. Sigler, our Province President, sometime soon, and are anticipating a great deal of fun at that time, since we learned to love her last spring.

We are so happy this fall and have had so much to give us this feeling that we are anticipating a splendid year in every way. Our alumnæ during the summer spent much time looking for a house with the intention of buying it and we are exceedingly happy to think that now we really own a fine-looking big home. It is painted white and is so large that everyone commenced calling it "The Governor's Mansion, the second." We also purchased a Steinway grand piano, and with the wonderful looking new drapes, new furniture, and new house, we feel it is almost too good to be true.

We were very successful this fall in getting new girls. There were twice as many girls to choose from and everyone had more pledges to announce than ever before. We pledged twenty, so consequently are expecting great things. Our strongest rival was Theta but our friendship for one another has not been diminished in the least. In fact it is stronger than ever.

Our life on the campus has not been neglected in our elation over our good fortune and we are coming out stronger than ever for activities. We have much talent among our freshmen, so we are expecting that $\Pi \Phi$ will have splendid success this year.

This year promises to be the finest the university has seen since its pre-war days. We are all getting back to the old standards which existed before the unsettled times through which we have just passed.

On September 20 we pledged seventeen unusually fine girls. They are: Mildred Fowler, Velma Marshall, and Dorothy Matticks, Kansas City, Mo.; Nadine Irwin and Maurine Firestone, Anthony, Kan.; Harriet Osborne, Wichita; Harriet Kinney, Atchison, Kan.; Cornelia Washburn, Kansas City, Kan.; Betty Bradbury, Paola; Alice Carney, Concordia; Helen Barton, Hutchison; Maxine Burtis, Garden City; Florence Burrell, Joplin, Mo.; Bernice, Blair, Belton, Mo.; Evelyn Horton, Omaha, Neb.; Ruth McDowell, Ponca City, Okla.; Evangeline Perry, Albuquerque, N. M.

The chapter recently entertained at tea for the new housemother, Mrs. E. D. Haldeman, whom we all love very dearly.

Again this year, the freshman and juniors are contesting with the sophomores and seniors for the best grades. The losers entertain the winners with a cooky-shine.

We are getting well started in organizations of the university: Doris Drought is senior representative in women's athletic association, and treasurer of $\Delta \Phi \Delta$, honorary art fraternity; Eva Jacks holds an office in the home economics club and is a pledge of O N, an honorary home economics fraternity; Geneva Hunter and Ruth Massey are members of the board of our college paper, the University Daily Kansan: Doris Drought who has won a sweater and three awards from the women's athletic association for work in basketball and swimming, was captain of the junior basketball and swimming teams; Helen Brown has won a sweater and two awards for her work in swimming. Last spring, in the swimming meet, $\Pi \Phi$ made more points than any other fraternity.

With only nine active girls back, we could never have survived without our faithful alumnae to help us. There were about six or seven here and they surely helped us to get acquainted with the new girls in the college. The rose and butterfly dinners were quite attractive, but our pink and lavender exclusive made you feel as though you were entering one of the coolest and most refreshing of gardens. Why shouldn't we get twelve lovely and clever pledges? We finished our gaieties with a cooky-shine and you should have seen the eyes of those pledges sparkle.

Our freshmen are enthusiastically entering into the college activities with Faith Martin, '23, as vice-president of the freshman class. The girls of K. S. A. C. have started a "Girls' Loyalty League," of which Ernestine Biby, '20, was elected chairman. This shows the kind of spirit and "pep" shown at K. S. A. C. this year by the girls as well as the boys.

We are beginning to work out our "Aggie Pop Night" stunt which is to be given December 6. Of course we are all expecting to have $\Pi B \Phi$ engraved on the cup for the second time. It is a custom for the Y. W. C. A. to give a loving cup to the group giving the cleverest and best presented stunt.

Mrs. ReQua of Kansas City, Mo., is our new housemother, and our reception to her will be given October 25. The decorations will be in autumn colors, with autumn leaves and berries.

Scholarship is the end toward which we are striving. So far it has been a very successful year for the college as well as for the fraternities.

Pledge Day—December 15, 1919

After the unusual problems and many perplexities which we had to face last year the outlook is indeed splendid for a new year of success and activity. This is the first year that Wyoming A has been permitted to have a house and we cannot get over the unending delight of being together where we may discuss the things which make our fraternity so dear to us. We are renting our house from the university and feel that it will give us a very excellent opportunity of learning just what we shall need when we feel able to build, for we still have our lot and are happy to say that due to the oil boom in this locality, the property is increasing in value almost daily.

We have had only one party thus far, but feel that it was a success, and are anticipating other enjoyable and successful affairs. We have two new pledges, Marguerite Mau of Cokeville, Wyo., and Dora Joslin of Laramie, both upperclassmen whom we hope to initiate soon, as they have already passed their pledge examinations with honor.

In class offices and on the student staff, in Quill Club and almost all of the university activities we are very well represented. Virginia Miller is president this year of Y. W. C. A., and there are five Pi Phis in the cabinet. We are maintaining study hours at the house, and are all working for the scholarship loving cup, which Panhellenic offers each year to the women's fraternity with the highest scholastic standing.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will be in Laramie soon and we are eagerly anticipating the visit of such an eminent $\Pi \Phi$.

College life seems entirely returned to pre-war conditions. The university has an exceptionally fine football team this year which has won three wonderful victories.

The University of Colorado opened with a registration of nearly 2,000, the largest ever known. The freshman class is enormous (comparatively speaking) but, although it was a problem for a time how they were to be housed, fed, and taught, everything about them seems to be settled now except their indomitable spirit, commonly known as "pep." This quality, moreover, is not lacking in the older students, as witness the fact that some eight or ten hundred of them traveled forty-six miles to back their team in the first football game of the season.

But to return to the freshmen, fifteen of them are now wearing the "baby $\Pi \Phi$ " pin. Of these, Mildred Clarke was pledged last March at Newcomb College, La., and was re-pledged to us. (We wish to congratulate Louisiana A on her excellent taste in pledges!) Colorado A seems fated to be a large chapter. Our chapter-house is sometimes referred to by certain irreverent gentlemen on the campus as "the home of the 57," partly, perhaps, because Pi Phi* had 57 chapters, but more probably because our number is not so far below that, counting, of course, our new pledges. A few girls besides our six graduates did not return to us this year, but we think it a fine testimonial to $\Pi \Phi$ loyalty and interest that we have with us thirteen seniors and some fifteen juniors.

Marjorie Crouch is president of Y. W. C. A.; Nancy Fleming is head of the big sister committee; Katherine Duce is secretary of the A. S. U. C. and of the women's athletic association; Willa Ferris is assistant manager of athletics; and Ruth Slane is head of women's basketball; Margaret Curry is society editor for the Silver and Gold, and several of us are on the reporters' staff. We have four members of the university Players' Club, and carried three of the five girls' parts in last year's final production, Good Gracious, Annabelle. Sara Chapman and Emma Glen McArthur belong to Hesperia, the junior honorary society, and Margaret Curry and Marjorie Crouch to Mortar Board, honorary

I wonder if ever a thought so rare came into the hearts of our sisters to share, as that of a new little sister we've found, whose life and success to us henceforth are bound. You see autumn days always make me feel poetical and the best remedy for such moods is to take it out on my own sisters. But you really couldn't help singing a song of joy when you cast one look upon our pledges. We're so proud of every one of them, and we have just the right number—eight in all. Esther Biggs was our lonely little pledge from last year, but we're counting her in with the new girls, who are Ruth Brinker, Esther Daubenspeck, Muriel McLagen, Virginia Shatruck, Aurelia Trauger, Dorothy Tucker, Dorothy Ward, and Dorothy Zabeler. You will hear many and varied good reports from every one of them during their college career.

You remember last year the password about this time seemed to be "the flu" but things and events at present are certainly making up for all the deficiencies in the past. On November 1, we give our Hallowe'en dance at Montclair Country Club. We'll renew our youth again, for we are not going to wear our best evening dresses this time. Then just this week the interfraternity dance has become a fact instead of a possibility, and it is to be November 10 at El Jebel. It will be a good way to usher in the first anniversary of our great victory, and every one of us is eagerly anticipating the event.

This week we are giving a reception at the bungalow in honor of the faculty, the city panhellenic council and the Greek-letter fraternity girls of the university. They say that distance lends enchantment, but I am sure it is not the case with the faculty, and we all want to become better acquainted with them.

The younger contingent of our chapter certainly has an excess amount of ambition and pep, and it is beginning to make us older girls sit up and take notice, when we realize the fact that the two secretaries of the freshman and sophomore classes are Pi Phi, Mildred Goldsworthy holding that office for the class of '22, and Dorothy Ward for '23. Not that we mind in the least, but only hope the future holds four $\Pi \Phi$ secretaries instead of two. Selfish? Mercy, no!

The girls are trying especially hard this year to be democratic in college and be as representative in every line of college activities as possible. There are Pi Phi in the drama club, the two literary societies, the big sister organization, Y. W. C. A., the annual board, Clarion, and numerous others—oh yes, athletics. That's too important an item to be left out, especially when so many of us are interested in it. There are about twelve out for basketball and we are hoping an interfraternity schedule will be fixed up so that we can come out with flying colors again this year.

Merry Christmas, everybody.

Pledge Day—September 13

Oklahoma A started out this fall with flying colors. Last year we voluntarily gave our house to the Student Army Training Corps, and were obliged to occupy quarters that were inconveniently small, but this year our chapter-house is of spacious dimensions, and everything bids fair to make this the most successful year the chapter has ever experienced.

The alumnae clubs of Ardmore, Norman, Tulsa, and Oklahoma City, as well as many of our patronesses and individual alumnae presented us with beautiful and useful gifts, so that our new house is quite homelike and comfortable. We are delighted to have Mrs. Alice A. Sarlls of McAlester, who was with us last year as housemother.

Two of our most successful parties given in honor of the prospective Pi Phi, were a dinner Friday night, September 12, and our annual breakfast on Saturday, before pledging.

We are proud to announce as pledges, Helen Berry and Xyla Pendleton, Norman; Eleanor Barron, Winifred West, and Marjorie Wallcott, Ardmore; Marjorie Jaillite, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Ruth Johnson and Blanche Keeler, Bartlesville; Jessica Owen, Mary Louise Coates, Pauline Roberts, and Imogene Moore, Oklahoma City; Vera Allison, Talequah; Thelma Todd, Wagner; Nellie Shuttee and Ayleen Morris, El Reno; Clyde Thompson, Vinita; Dorothy Zacharias, Enid; Edna Ackley, Muskogee; Eleanor Crowe, McAlester; Beatrice Linsay, Pauls Valley; and Alta Meecham, Clinton.

Many of our alumnae assisted us in winning these girls. Among those from out of town were Mrs. Fred Chapman (Elise Potterf, '18), Mrs. Ed Galt (Allie Breeding, '14), and Mrs. Marguerite Spurlock, Ardmore; Mrs. Thos. Connor (Allie Young, '17), Purcell; Mrs. H. S. Howard (Isabel Fuller), and Madge Ackley, McAlester; Teresa Gibson, Muskogee; Annie Rowland, '18, Shawnee; Helene Ledbetter, Hazel Beattie, Laura Graves, Julia Enochs, Alice Hyde, and Grace Lee, '12, Oklahoma City.

We have installed study hall every night for the pledges and each pledge has a "big sister" who looks after her general welfare and sees that she takes part in at least one student activity every week.

Very few of the numerous honorary clubs have gotten under way yet, so there have been few elections of officers, but Eleanor Barron was elected secretary of the freshman class, and she is ably filling this place in the most wide-awake freshman class the university has seen in some years. Cora Leahy is the representative on the woman's council, and Vivian Edwards and Frances Gorman are members of Panhellenic. Harriet Cocke is Y. W. C. A. secretary, and several Pi Phis are acting on committees. Esther Whinery has been selected for a place on the Sooner staff as artist. The "Jazz Hounds," a new organization for the promotion of "pep" in the university, has come into existence this year, and the "Jazzetts" are their able and willing assistants, clad in bright red coats and caps. "Jazzetts" Pi Phis are Catherine (Peggy) Patterson, Mary Lou Patteson, Nellie Shuttee, Jessica Owen, and Dorothy Zacharias.

Many of our chapter attended the installation of Oklahoma B at Stillwater on August 12.

We will hold initiation soon for Hazel Watson, Anne Cronan, Ruth Hildreth, and Marcelle Darling.

We are glad to have with us Frances Rosser, who attended Randolph-Macon last year. Frances Lewis, '21, Missouri A, and Lucille Cowles, Missouri T, are with us this year, also.

Although our chapter is larger than usual, we feel that we shall have quite a successful and prosperous year.

Our first chapter letter could not be written at a happier time than this—at the end of our pledging season. We have twelve new pledges and we are proud of them and of the fact that they represent the twelve bids we sent out. They included Virginia Bagby, Christine Cantwell, Fanny B. Day, Nellie Davidson, Ruth Goodholm, Ruth Jones, of Stillwater; Mary Douglas of Guthrie; Grace Coley of Hollis; Mary Edwards of Medford; Lucile Glazner of Eufaula; Grace Montcastle of Ft. Gibson; and Toru Wilson of Valliant, Oklahoma. Four weeks, under the strict rules we have here, seemed almost endless. The two affairs allowed us by Panhellenic were a picnic supper at the home of one of our patronesses, Mrs. J. O. Gray, and a dinner dance at the chapter-house. Saturday, October 5, we had our first cooky-shine, given in honor of the pledges. Out-of-town alumnae present were: Carolyn Cantwell, Blanche Madigan, Gladys Madigan, and Vinita Nelson.

Seven of us are in the glee club this year. Martha Merrifield is president of the home economics club and senator in the student governing body of the college. Iva See is on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and Nellie Davidson holds a freshman class office.

We have six resident alumnae who are as enthusiastic in their work for $\Pi \Phi$ as the active members are; four of them, alumnae from this chapter, and Vivian Brengle, Oklahoma A, an instructor in the college, and Mrs. Orr (Ruth Sundell), Wisconsin A, whose husband is on our faculty.

Running a house is a new experience for us but everything is working out smoothly. Mrs. Nelson, the housemother, is also a $\Pi \Phi$ mother. Vivian Brengle is living in the house and has charge of house rules.

We are keenly anticipating Thanksgiving Day—the day of the football game with O. U. and banquet after the game for the members of the two Oklahoma chapters.

Mary McGaughy, '22, Pine Bluff, Ark.

With the beginning of the fall semester we find ourselves with seven members back and eight new pledges, five of whom stay in the house. We also have with us Margaret Maxfield, a $\Pi \Phi$ from Oklahoma who moved to Arkansas.

Beatrix Quaille, '17, is also our guest.

We are now in our new fraternity house which is situated directly across from the campus, thereby eliminating the long walk to college. Mrs. Gilbert, of Fayetteville, is our housemother.

Work has started in earnest after the turmoil of our bidding season.

We have had our first football game and our first cadet dance, and now we are looking toward four weeks' examinations.

Our pledges have already organized, and are down to pledge study with a vengeance.

Elizabeth Chotard, one of our seniors, is vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Gertrude Hardeman is fiction editor on the university monthly staff, and Lura Massengale is on a Y. W. C. A. committee.

Texas A is anticipating a splendid college year. The university has opened with an enrollment of nearly 3,700 students. We feel that our fifteen pledges are very fine all-round girls. We are expecting great things of them all. Some of them are going to work on college publications, while the others intend to do social service work.

We have had open house twice this year, to our young men friends. Since there are always so many continually coming and going at open house, we decided to have a little tea last Sunday afternoon, so that our freshmen might become better acquainted with our friends. It was so successful that we decided to have one of these teas every month.

A week ago we had formal pledging and initiation. Later we had a most delightful cooky-shine for our alumnae, initiates, and new pledges. While we were feasting, we sang our favorite $\Pi \Phi$ songs. Everyone caught the spirit and sang with pep and enthusiasm. The cooky-shine was followed by the most clever vaudeville performance we have ever had. All of the talent of the fraternity was featured in the several acts, which varied from the tragic lover to the negro minstrels.

Tomorrow is the day of the big Texas-Oklahoma football game. We are all very excited, and are anxiously awaiting the results. Just before the game, the Dallas Alumnae Club is going to give a big luncheon in honor of Texas A, Texas B, and Oklahoma A.

Our freshmen were formally pledged at the home of Durelle Thomas on Tuesday night, October 14. Following the ceremony, we had one of the prettiest and best cooky-shines in the history of Texas B. It might be interesting to note that our new pledges are beginning to realize already the great work and meaning of $\Pi B \Phi$, and they are all as loyal and energetic as could be wished for.

The university has grown larger since last year and many more students than can be provided for are seeking admission. More than three hundred and fifty girls were turned away and about as many boys. We are expecting this year to be a very profitable one in many ways. We have a new dean of women, Miss Mary Murphy, who is already very popular with the dormitory girls.

Our fraternity chapter is growing larger each year, regardless of the fact that we have lost so many of the old ones. Wisconsin A was very fortunate in getting as a transfer, Florine Smither, while Texas A was equally fortunate in receiving as a transfer, Annie Stone Williford.

Florence Dailey is studying voice in Chicago and expects to give some concerts there this winter.

At last it seems that a solution has been found for the fraternity problem at Newcomb. The Board of Administrators has accepted the resolutions drawn up by the Panhellenic committee and fraternities are to remain on trial for one year. A new plan has been introduced, the object of which is to get new members as naturally and inconspicuously as possible. The second week of college is set apart for getting acquainted and at the end of that time the freshmen receive their bids under the preferential system. As usual, initiation will not take place until the sophomore year. This system seems to foster better inter-fraternity feeling and with more careful planning of details next year, we hope that it will save the situation at Newcomb.

We feel that we are very fortunate in having this year nine pledges, eleven initiates, and a transfer. The pledges are: Catherine Dunbar, Wilmar Shields, Bertha Manson, Francis Hupman, Edwa Stuart, Adine Lampton, Dorothy Felkner, Alice de Buys, Elizabeth Craig. Pharos Felkers has come to us from Indiana T.

Initiation was held October 4, with a number of the alumnae present. Afterward there was a real $\Pi \Phi$ party.

There is going to be a Panhellenic house and we are hoping to be able to give our new members a normal chapter life.

On pledge day the actives gave a luncheon for the freshmen and after the ceremony that evening there was a cooky-shine. This was the first opportunity that the freshmen had had to see the whole chapter together, since parties are not allowed.

Pledge Day—October 4, 1919

First of all we welcome our new chapters, Wisconsin B, New York Δ, and Oklahoma B, and extend to them sincerest wishes for great success and good fortune in the future!

With thirty active girls back Washington A is anticipating the coming year with great enthusiasm.

The registration of the university greatly exceeds that of any previous year, the five thousand mark having been reached. The problem of housing and providing for a freshman class of over two thousand has been a big one to the faculty and administration officers. Everything is moving forward with life and force as never before. There is a general tendency to return to the traditions and united enthusiasm that existed before the departure of many of our leaders in student affairs. The general sentiment of Panhellenic seems to be that of regret that there are many fine girls who were either not discovered by Greek-letter girls, or whom it was necessary to eliminate because of the large chapters in every house on the campus.

We have pledged fifteen splendid girls.

Already our freshmen have shown the desire to become a part of the life of the university. Eileen Howell is a member of Sacajawea debating club, and Margaret Delaney was chosen by its rival, Athena debating club. Louise Ehrlick is secretary of the freshman class, and Margaret Delaney was appointed to the freshman council of Y. W. C. A. Π Β Φ is especially well represented in Y. W. C. A. this year with Evelyn Pickrell, '20, as its president, and Dorothea Presley, '20, and Gwendolyn Monteagle serving on the cabinet. Emily Legg, '19, and Laura Scougal, '20, are members of Red Domino, an honorary dramatic club, the former holding the office of secretary. Hazel Jones made the Daily staff. Dorothea Presley and Hazel Jones are on the student affairs committee. Several Pi Phis have won honors in athletics making them eligible to W. A. A.: Marion Cameron, '21, Hazel Jones, '21, Evelyn Pickrell, '20, and Marvel Turnure, '22.

Lucile Reed and Adele Carlin made Ensemble, women's glee club. Several Pi Phis have been put on social committees this fall, including the varsity ball committee. We are proud of the girls who have won this recognition, but we feel that our most earnest efforts must be directed toward the constructive activities of the campus.

With this beginning and with the hearty coöperation and interest of our alumnae, Washington A has reason for an optimistic outlook upon the coming year.

Last spring we had the pleasure of having with us Mrs. Tannahill, accompanied by Mrs. Beck, our province president. The inspiration we received from Mrs. Tannahill's helpful talks will long be remembered by everyone and will prompt us to greater service and higher achievement.

We wish to send our heartiest greetings to the sister chapters and our alumnae.

Pledge Day—October 17, 1919

The state college of Washington is experiencing the after the war reaction felt throughout the country. We have the largest enrollment in our history. It has become necessary to enlarge the faculty in order to take care of the increased number of students.

The year opened with twelve active girls returned to college besides Dorothy Cunningham, a pledge from last year, and Grace Campbell, a transfer from Oregon A. During the first two weeks Margaret Adams and Florence Girand came back.

Pledge day was a happy day for us as twelve new girls are wearing the arrowhead. Besides these we have three fine sister pledges. Our pledges are: Dorothy Dorman, Helen Hamilton, Delia Hamner, Bernadine Inkster, Ruth Inkster, Genevieve Kesler, Esther Muir, Ruth Newland, Irene Oliver, Mildred Perry, and Olive Pritchard, all of Spokane, Wash.; Elsie Durr. Everett, Wash.; Celia Peterson, Puyallup, Wash.; Eve Foley, Pomeroy, Wash.; Dorothy Cunningham, Walla Walla, Wash.

The college spirit is now what it was before the war. We are planning on our football team making a wonderful record this year. On November 15 we are going to have Home-coming day for the State College alumni. We anticipate a large crowd then. On this day our football team will play the University of Washington, and the game promises to be the most exciting of the year.

Pi Phis are prominent on the campus this year. Dorothy Cunningham is secretary of the freshman class; Beatrice Hall is vice-president of Ellen H. Richards club, a home economics organization; Lucile McCroskey is society editor of the Chinook, our annual publication; Leona Doerr and Margaret Adams are to sing in the Polyhymnia Sextet.

We are fortunate this year in having several alumnae close enough to spend week-ends with us. Gracia White ('19), Lilian Ide ('21), Flossie Miller ('19), Edna Turner ('21), and Betty Brooks Logan ('21), have all visited us for several days. Marian Nelson ('19), is training to be a nurse at Johns Hopkins.

Big things should be accomplished for $\Pi \Phi$ this year.

Pledge Day—October 4, 1919

The return of so many men from the service has made the enrollment at the University of Oregon the largest in its history. The campus is filled with new and old students, and we find ourselves swept along with the old Oregon spirit.

We are happy to announce the pledging of eight girls: Ruth Diehl, Marjorie Kruse, and Mildred Weeks of Portland; Mildred Smith, Redmond; Marguerite Hammond, Ashland; Arbolyn Healy, Baker; and Dorothy and Priscilla Eakin, Astoria. We were very fortunate in getting them, and are anxiously awaiting their initiation.

We have been taking quite an active part in campus activities. Clara Calkins is vice-president of the sophomore class and secretary of the women's glee club; Mildred Weeks is assistant city editor on our tri-weekly publication, the Emerald, Genevieve Haven is society editor of the same publication; Maybelle Leavitt and Mildred Weeks are also on the staff as reporters. Six Pi Phis were elected to $\Phi \Theta K$, a national women's commerce fraternity; Dorothy Donlon, Esther Fell, Margaret Fell, Racheal Parker, Thelma Stanton, and Nell Warwick. Evelyn Smith and Alice Thruston are on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn (Iowa A, '91) was with us recently. She has endeared herself to the heart of every Oregon A. We only wish that she could be with us more often.

Mrs. Grace Hancher Beck, our Province President, will visit us the latter part of November, and we are anticipating her visit with a great deal of pleasure.

We have enthusiastically begun this year with sixteen active Pi Phis in the house. We were especially fortunate in having three of our girls return who were not with us last year: Ethel Frazier, Vivian Hargrove, and Vera Rosenquest.

The extraordinary increase in enrollment and the lack of adequate dormitory room made it necessary for the fraternities to cooperate with the college by pledging girls the first week. We divided our customary three weeks of entertaining into two parts and pledged after the first week, taking those girls into the house immediately. We then set a second pledge day two weeks later. We are happy to say that we think our pledges are among the finest girls of the campus.

Although this irregular arrangement was slightly inconvenient for the fraternities we do not regret the disturbance for the members of the faculty were so very generous in their appreciation of our cooperation that we feel it "helped justify our existence" in their sight.

If these first three weeks of college are to be taken as a forecast of the winter's activities, I'm sure we may safely say that this will be the greatest year in the history of the college. The enrollment has increased one-third, with hurried and elaborate plans being made in every department to accommodate this unprecedented increase. Many of our men have reentered college since service overseas, and it is surely an inspiration to be constantly meeting our men wearing their hard earned gold bars.

We are well represented this year in student activities for we have the secretary of the student body, six members in the Mask and Dagger dramatic club, and offices in the woman's league and Y. W. C. A., so we hope to make our chapter grow in proportion to the college. The "point system" for student activities has just been adopted by the student affairs committee which plan it is believed will help greatly in developing the underclassmen on the campus. Our women's league has just been invited to federate with the State Federation of Women's Clubs. We have accepted this invitation for it seemed to be a very progressive thing to do.

Oregon B wishes to thank Massachusetts A for mentioning the very clever plan of introducing class rivalry into scholarship. We have decided to adopt it and have already heard threatening rumors from the sophomores as to the probable fate of any offending member who brings their average down.

Sincere wishes for a successful year to all $\Pi \Phi$ chapters.

This year the girls of California Alpha returned to find many improvements in the chapter-house. The house association has had the entire downstairs, the upstairs halls, and the guest room newly papered. New hardwood floors have also been laid. We appreciate these improvements very much.

Many of our alumnae donated money to buy new bedding for the guest room, new dishes, and a lovely piano lamp. All of these recent improvements make the chapter-house more pleasant and home-like than ever.

We are fortunate in having a former Grand President, Helen Sutliff, and her sister, Jennie Sutliff, on the campus. They have been very helpful to us always and we have long been seeking a way of showing our gratitude. Recently at an informal dinner given for them, we presented Miss Sutliff with a Grand Officer's small guard pin, which we hope will serve to remind her constantly of our appreciation of her and her many efforts in our behalf.

We are unable to give the names of pledges as we have not yet sent out bids. This year there is a particularly fine class of new women we think, and we feel we will be successful in getting splendid pledges.

It is the aim of every chapter of our fraternity to record high scholarship. California A made a special effort last year and was rewarded by success. In the comparative scholarship list we are far ahead of our real rivals on the campus. This year we are redoubling our efforts and are determined not only to uphold our present standing, but to improve upon it.

The old California spirit of enthusiasm has returned to the university and with it not only many new activities but also added responsibility for every earnest student. California B is putting forth every effort to further the ideals and purposes of her Alma Mater.

We are delighted with our fourteen lovely pledges. They are splendid Pi Phis, eager to do their part, and give us just cause to be proud. On the twenty-fourth of October we gave a reception for them which was highly successful.

We are now very much interested in our bazaar which will be held in November and we are planning to make it the largest California B has ever known.

With the great increase in the enrollment in the university, the dream of a Students' Union will soon be realized. The campaign to raise $75,000 which was launched last spring for this purpose has been continued this semester and the fund has greatly increased. The coöperation of the alumnae has been of great service.

A fine new Y. W. C. A. building is very near completion. A tag day which netted unusually large results was held on the campus recently for the purpose of raising funds to furnish the building.

We are taking much interest in and receiving great pleasure from all the activities of the university this year. We hope that every chapter is enjoying its college life in the same high degree.

Peace is here and with it the old pre-war spirit has returned to invade our college halls and campus. Never before has such enthusiasm been shown at U. S. C. New students and old are coming in hundreds strong to add "pep" to the "Women's Seminary" of war days, making the enrollment larger at present than it has been for many years.

There have been many new improvements in our university since the close of the last college year.

Many new professors have been added to the faculty list and a new four-year course in home economics is now being offered. Several new temporary wooden buildings have been hurriedly constructed to meet the growing needs. Two weeks ago the ground was broken for the erection of a beautiful new administration building. This structure, which is to cost $500,000, is the first unit in the new group which will constitute the greater university. With such definite signs of activity apparent on every side we truly feel that we have a right to be very proud of our university.

Under such conditions we also feel very proud of the fact that a $\Pi \Phi$ holds the office of vice-president of the student body. In fact, we are able to say that Π Φ Ψ are well represented in all college activities.

Just at present we are busily engaged in a strenuous season for new members. There never before has been so many fine freshmen on the campus and the competition is keen. We have a very fine group in view and are anxiously anticipating pledge day when we can claim them as our own.

Since the last ARROW letter we have been very fortunate in being able to initiate three girls who entered college in February: Kathryn Hardin, Dorothy Rogers, and Meldon Scheu. After the beautiful initiation service we all enjoyed a cooky-shine, followed by our regular Monday night meeting.

If everything goes on as well as it has started, we feel that we have a very successful year ahead.

Arizona A is looking at the world now and at the prospects of the coming year with a smiling face and singing heart. And why shouldn't we when:

First, we have just emerged from a strenuous season with eleven wine and silver blue ribbon girls as our pledges. Local Panhellenic made a ruling limiting the expenses of each fraternity in obtaining new members. But by spending more time on clever entertainment and favors than by spending money we had three very successful affairs; a butterfly dinner, a tea musicale, and a dancing party. We emphasized getting acquainted with individuals more than ever this year.

We have a new $\Pi \Phi$ song written by two of our girls which expresses the second reason why we are so happy.

"Thetas work both night and day;
Alpha Sigs are getting that way,
And Delta Rhos are not so slow,
But Pi Phi goes right through."

This is why we sing "Pi Phi goes right through": Alice Eastman, '21, is president of the women's league; Rosemary Drachman, '21, and Alice Brereton, '21, are associate editors of The Wildcat (our college paper) and three other members on the staff are Pi Phis. We also have the following offices: vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the women's self-government; president and secretary of The Wranglers, a literary club; vice-president and secretary of the sophomore class; secretary-treasurer of the senior class; and two members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Hazel McCoy, '20, is president of the local organization of Panhellenic and the organization is doing all that it can to make our university feel that fraternities are an asset to the institution. And our slogan is, "Make $\Pi \Phi$ the biggest asset of all."

SOMETIMES

Across the fields of yesterday
He sometimes comes to me,
A little lad just back from play—
The lad I used to be.

And yet he smiles so wistfully
Once he has crept within,
I wonder if he hopes to see
The man I might have been.

T. S. JONES, JR.

Taken from Jessie B. Rittenhouse Coll.

We were careful to do war work; may our fraternity reconstruction work keep away the "wistful smile."

The Eleusis of Chi Omega for September sets forth several striking reminders:

We must not ask ourselves the question what have we been saved from, but what have we been saved to do? Let each one of us make an inward survey of ourselves. . . .

The most gratifying feature of it all is that, in this woman's revolution, the college woman took first rank in leadership. Whatever the future holds in store for us, one thing must we recognize as a certainty, viz., the enlargement of woman's sphere will not be diminished, and the trained college girl must constitute herself the balance-wheel to prevent the new woman from being ridiculed as a freak. . . .

Feeling superior and being superior are two quite different things. It sometimes takes many years and much experience to realize that fact, but the fraternity girl must realize it now. We like to feel superior, it gives us such a comfortable feeling. But to be superior, that is hard work! We hesitate about attempting it, and resort to camouflage to acquire privilege without working for it. Now, the feeling of superiority is a harmless enough thing when it stands by itself; it is when it becomes solidified into social structure that it becomes dangerous. Any class, any organization, whose chief result seems to be a feeling of superiority is bound eventually to have a hard time in a growing democracy. Fraternities must face this charge. It is of no use to deny it; one cannot argue with a feeling. Nothing but acts which accord with the ideas fundamental to a democracy will prove that fraternities have their place in the future growth of our colleges.

COLLEGE WOMEN TO FORM INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY

MISS HELEN TAFT AND OTHERS SAIL FOR ENGLAND TODAY TO AID IN ORGANIZATION

Miss Helen Taft, Acting President of Bryn Mawr College, Miss Virginia Gilderleeve, Dean of Barnard, Miss Mabel Choate, a trustee of Barnard, and Miss M.

Carey Thomas of Bryn Mawr will sail for England on the steamship Aquitania today in connection with the formation of an international organization of university women. It will be started in coöperation with the Federation of University Women of Great Britain, and active assistance is anticipated from the women of other countries, especially those of the Scandinavian nations.

Miss Gildersleeve will act as chairman of the American delegation. One of the matters to be taken up is the exchange of professors and lecturers between American and European colleges for women. Another is the extension of women's colleges generally, and a third is the establishment of bureaus abroad for American college women and others here for those of European colleges.

The New York Evening Post in its edition of October 18, 1919, devotes more than a column to an account of another international educational agency which comes as a direct result of the war.

The recent establishment of an interchange of students between American and Swedish universities serves as a reminder that the war has meant something to international education. The world has concluded that it has been overrating German learning, and recalls now that there are many fine old universities outside of Germany. In Sweden, the universities of Lund and Upsala trace their traditions far back to the middle ages; and the younger universities of Stockholm and Gothenburg, and the many state-encouraged scientific institutes offer splendid facilities for study and research. These are the things that the American-Scandinavian Foundation of New York City is explaining to American students, while at the same time the Foundation's representatives in Stockholm are pointing out to Swedish students the advantages of a year at an American university. As a result of their combined efforts, ten American students sailed for Sweden last summer, and a like number of Swedish students came to America—each with a stipend of $1,000 as Fellows of the Foundation for 1919-1920.

Dean Thomas Arkle Clark, University of Illinois, in an article on "Professional Fraternities" printed in the Phi Chi Quarterly quoted from Delta Chi Quarterly, April, gives us two big hints: Don't let your friends be all of one turn of mind; don't let your entrance into a fraternity spell stagnation in your scholarship. Read it in his own words:

As I look back on my college experience I am convinced that one of the most helpful features in it was the fact that I had the widest sort of associations with engineers, and chemists, and agriculturists, as well as with the fellows who were pursuing the special line of liberal arts, work in which I was myself interested. One of my college friends, a lawyer of some distinction, was telling me only a short time ago that he counted as one of the most beneficial experiences of his undergraduate life that he had had as his chief friend and roommate a young man engaged in the study of engineering.

It has seemed a significant fact to me, however, that few men who have gone into a professional fraternity have, following their initiation, been able to raise their scholastic standing above the grade which they had maintained before entering the organization but on the other hand had frequently dropped materially in scholastic efficiency. Perhaps the reason for this lies in the fact that many men find it possible to do their best work when they are alone or at least when they are surrounded by few companions. In an investigation which I made a year or two ago into the conditions surrounding the twenty or thirty men who had attained the highest scholastic standing in the University of Illinois, I was interested to discover that few of them lived in houses where more than two or three other men lodged. Not a few of those attaining the highest scholastic standing were the only students in the houses where they lived. It is perhaps a good point to remember that few young men are likely to attain to their greatest intellectual efficiency unless they can do their work independently and in an atmosphere of quiet. When such men move into a fraternity house whose twenty or thirty men are attempting to do their work under congested conditions, sometimes they do not find it easily possible to maintain as high a scholastic average as they had previously done.

A recent news item records a graceful tribute which General Pershing has made to the memory of his wife.

General Pershing has given to the Agora Society his campaign helmet and his staff flag. After the death of Frances Warren Pershing, '03, who was a loyal member of Agora, the society made General Pershing a member, in accordance with his own desire. During the last two years he has frequently written to the officers of the society, and has announced his intention of visiting Wellesley and Agora at the first possible opportunity.

Bryn Mawr College has the distinction of being the only woman's college in the country honored by a visit from Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians, during her trip to the United States. The following circumstantial account of this historic day in the annals of Bryn Mawr is taken from a long article in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, October 28, 1919.

Petite, graceful, thoroughly feminine, with all the characteristics of "the old-fashioned girl," Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians, is no friend of coeducation. In her own gracious way, with her soft, musical accent, she expressed herself to that effect yesterday in her visit to Bryn Mawr. The hour passed in the college was, in the queen's own opinion, the most pleasant and interesting of her triumphal visit to this city, where she captured as many hearts as there were persons who caught a glimpse of her.

"I think it is an excellent idea to have girls study all by themselves in the same place where they live," she said. "They are not distracted—er—I mean, there are no men about. No—er—firtations and that sort of thing. You understand?" she asked, raising her clear blue eyes to the reporter with one of the almost naive smiles that are among her greatest charms.

WISHES BELGIUM HAD A BRYN MAWR

"Oh, I like this, I like this ever so much," she commented after inspecting the campus and the buildings, overgrown with autumn foliage that shimmered like gold brocade in the afternoon sun. "We have not anything like it in Belgium. I do wish we had. It is the first girls' college of this kind I have ever seen. I love it."

The queen was quite a bit bewildered by the yells with which she was greeted on her arrival. She had heard them at men's colleges, she said, but she did not think the girls, too, cherished that custom. Miss Helen H. Taft, dean and acting president, explained to her that the yells were nothing rough, just a vigorous expression of the college spirit, and after a while the queen became accustomed to them. She did not look startled when the yells again resounded at her departure, as she had on her entrance.

But the most amazing thing of all to her was the hockey game the undergraduates played for the royal visitor's benefit. When asked what she thought of this sport, the queen said:

LIKED TO SEE THEM IN BLOOMERS

"I have never seen it before. I think it looks very pretty, don't you? I like to see them run in their—er—what do you call them? Oh, yes—bloomers."

After that her Majesty chatted freely about American things in general.

"What do you think of American women?" was one of the questions put to her.

"They are exceptionally beautiful," she replied with evident sincerity. "But what is still better, they are so healthy. Pretty and healthy and sweet, all in one—I think the good English word for that is wholesome, is it not?"

"And then—they wear such wonderful gowns, much more elaborate than are worn in Belgium. That is, of course, because the Americans are rich. We in Belgium are poor. We never were a very rich nation, but now, after the war—well, you know all that, I suppose?" she added, as her open features assumed the first and only sad expression in the day.

STUDENTS SING "LA BRABANCONNE"

The queen and her party arrived in motor cars at Bryn Mawr at 3:50 o'clock in the afternoon. She was received by Miss Taft, the faculty, and the student body on the steps of the library. The girls, in cap and gown, sang La Brabanconne, the Belgian national anthem; the Star Spangled Banner and Thou Gracious Inspiration, a Bryn Mawr College song set to old-fashioned, inspiring music. Heraldic flags floated from the medieval turrets of the library building, and the driveways were decorated with the Belgian and American emblems.

After receiving a bouquet of American Beauty roses, presented to her by Miss Darthela Clark, of Chestnut Hill, president of the Undergraduate Association, Queen Elizabeth, accompanied by members of her party, Miss Taft and members of the faculty, began her little trip around the college grounds and buildings.

A decoration surpassing all that could have been fashioned by human hands was the golden splash of the late sun rays on the queen's path; the trees in their autumnal costume of Rembrandtesque somber browns, glowing red and gold seemed more magnificent than ever; the buildings, in early Gothic style, were reminiscent of the ancient structures of Elizabeth's own Ghent and Bruges.

The queen visited the cloisters of the library, Dalton Hall, and the science laboratories, after which she watched the hockey game on the varsity athletic field. Then followed a reception and tea in Pembroke Hall dining-room.

In her address of welcome, Miss Taft said the college had ventured to invite the queen because it felt it had been faithful to the ideals of true culture and complete scholarly and scientific training for women.

"For ourselves, for all of us," she said, "I may say that there is no visitor whom the college would receive with more whole-souled enthusiasm and more earnest respect. We greet you as the representative of Belgium, the country that during the war evoked the deepest sympathy and the sincerest admiration all over the United States.

"The United States had its own grievances against Germany, its own causes for entering into the conflict, but I know when history is written it will be admitted everywhere that the event that won the whole-souled sympathy of America for the Allies and insured our future course of action in the war was the unwarranted attack on Belgium and the heroic resistance of your countrymen and your countrywomen."

Harry Emerson Fosdick, Colgate, '00, in paying tribute to "Mother Pyne" of Colgate's Delta Upsilon Chapter-house in the September Quarterly says, "Her personality created the position which she occupied." Somewhere I read, "It is much better to be worth knowing than to know many people." How about making our fraternity proud of us by being worth knowing and by making our daily task a creative position. Let's try!

THE PRINCETON PLAN

Of the $15,000,000 that Princeton will raise as an addition to the university's endowment fun the first million will be devoted to the memory of the Princeton men who did not come back from "over there." One hundred and thirty-seven regional scholarships will be founded and named in memory of the one hundred and thirty-seven Princeton graduates who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war. By making the scholarships regional—distributing them among the several states—another long step will be taken toward nationalizing the personnel of Princeton, and that will mean a deeper, truer nationalism throughout the institution, and a larger, richer contribution from that campus to the national life.

The Princeton plan may well be made the plan of every other American college and university. If the nation is to be led by the men who went to the colors, that leadership cannot better be reinforced than by men each one of whom will owe his education and his inspiration throughout the formative years of his college life to the example of one of the nation's immortal dead.

Emulation of the Princeton plan should not end until a scholarship bearing the name of an American who gave his life in defense of everything Americans hold dear has been established either at his Alma Mater or at an institution which would be proud to have been his Alma Mater.—Boston Transcript.

The experiment of making psychological tests a method of entrance examination for Columbia University has gained wide-spread publicity. The Boston Herald thus commented on the subject on the opening day of the college year.

New York, September 22.—Psychological tests were chosen today as a method of entering Columbia University by more students than any other entrance examination plan. The tests consist of a series of thirty sets, determining the alertness of mind, mental efficiency, and brain power of the aspirant for matriculation.

Applicants for admission by the new method are required to file a statement giving complete information about themselves and their courses of study. They must tell what their interests are in activities outside of school as well as in school hours, and must file a health certificate.

Then, if they can file a complete secondary school record showing that they have completed the studies required for entrance and a letter of recommendation from the school principal, they are permitted to substitute the mental tests for the usual examinations.

These tests, devised by Prof. E. L. Thorndyke, formerly in charge of mental tests in the United States army, have been adopted by fifteen universities in the United States, and the University of Tasmania, New Zealand, college authorities said tonight.

The circumstances of the Massachusetts state election this year growing out of the notorious Boston police strike resulted in the reelection of Governor Calvin Coolidge by an overwhelming majority. The following is one of the thousands of editorials which were the outcome of the event.

In his address to the students at the opening of the college yesterday, President Sills of Bowdoin—reaffirming the duty and the determination of the college to train men in the fundamentals of good citizenship and democratic government—remarked that it is worth noting at this time that the two men who are meeting squarely and unshaken the blow aimed at the roots of government in this community are both graduates of the small college, Governor Coolidge of Amherst, '95, and Commissioner Curtis of Bowdoin, '82. And not one of the multitude of local graduates of the great educational institutions of Boston and vicinity will begrudge the credit thus reflected on the two colleges at a distance, or deny President Sills the privilege of finding in the situation a text to demonstrate the worth of the small college.

A generation or so ago there was much discussion as to the survival of the small college in competition with the rapidly growing state universities and the big universities fast getting bigger. Echoes of that discussion are heard now very faintly, if at all. The future of our small colleges is as secure as their past. In the recent world crisis no American institutions were earlier or more earnestly enlisted on the side to which the whole country tardily came than the small colleges. At President Sills's own college no fewer than eleven of the thirty members of the academic faculty were promptly with the colors, most of them serving overseas. So it has been and will be in each crisis and whenever and wherever the great test comes.

There is an unending discussion as to the respective merits of the small college and the great university for undergraduate work, but no man will argue that the good small college is without merit or that there is not an important place for it in our scheme of education. Not in every battle, of course, will the leaders come from the small college's few among the university's many, as at present here in Boston, but the point is that the life and the traditions and the environment, the courses and the customs, of the small college make for leadership now as a hundred years ago.—Boston Herald.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press makes some statements in regard to women in politics which are worthy of thoughtful consideration by every college woman.

The trend of the times is inevitably and properly toward the extension of political rights to women. The old arguments against woman suffrage fall flat today when the gentler sex, not content with voting only, is getting its own candidates into campaigns and electing them to office. The Scandinavian countries have been pioneers in this reform and their example has lately been followed to a large degree by Great Britain; many of our states permit women to vote and hold office and a Federal constitutional amendment admitting them to equal political rights with men is now on its way to certain ratification. Even conservative France is debating the issue with great likelihood that the conventional curtain which has hitherto kept French women secluded from activity in public affairs will be at least partially lifted. In no country more than France can women make good use of the weapons that voting and office-holding place in their hands.

Without questioning the justice and the advisability of participation by women in politics it is fair to ask the question: "Are they preparing themselves to play the part they should play under the régime of equality?" It is not enough that the feminine vote should express as high a standard of humanity and morals as the masculine. If that is the entire result of woman's suffrage she might as well spare herself the trouble and the state the expense of recording her ballot. It is the general opinion of students of the question that so far the female vote has done little more than duplicate the male, each has stood for good government and for bad government in about the same proportion as the other.

A man or woman does not need to go to college to become a good citizen. But the complexion of college classrooms may afford us some index of the attitude taken by men and women outside of college toward securing the information on fact adherents are about as scarce as the proverbial hens' teeth. With all due respect, therefore, for the inherent capacity of women to grasp the problem of politics and for their high purposes in dealing with such problems, the facts remain that so far they have not awakened to their responsibilities or their opportunities.

New women's buildings are announced for Purdue and Nebraska University. The University of Illinois will use its handsome new building for women which was turned over for war purposes last year. The decorators are creating a thing of beauty out of the interior.

These vocational notes are from the July Lyre of Alpha Chi Omega.

WOMEN IN COMMERCE

The commerce course at the University of Wisconsin has so many of the fair sex this year that a mixer was held which included women as well as men; formerly smokers were held for the men because so few women enrolled in the course. This is just a beginning of a movement that is general. It is really a great economic movement which has come as a result of the increasing demand for trained women in business. The time is past when the idea of women in business is laughed at. There are splendid openings now for those women who feel a special liking for the world of commerce.

The course at Wisconsin is about twenty-five years old now. The men at the head of this department are men of varied experience in commerce. They have shaped the course to meet growing demands, and have brought it to its present excellent standard.

Records are kept of each student who enters the course and this is not only complete during the college year, but extends to the years beyond. This method enables the faculty to have a very personal contact with the student and obtain better results.

PURDUE WOMEN IN PHARMACY

Never before has there been such a demand for skilled pharmacists and there is no field that offers greater opportunities for women than pharmacy. The work of women in pharmacy is no longer in the experimental stage as is shown by the fact that they have their own section of the National Association, known as the Woman's Section of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Purdue has graduated twenty-four women from the School of Pharmacy. All have acquitted themselves excellently in their professions. Four now own and manage drugstores of their own. Several have had charge of the pharmacy and dispensing department at the National Military Home at Marion, Indiana. A Purdue woman was for a considerable time in charge of the dispensing department of the Methodist Hospital at Indianapolis. Last summer one of our own Alpha Chi pharmacists worked as bacteriologist in one of our large training camps.

This year there are seven women in the Pharmacy School. Three are taking the four-year course and four are taking the two. At the time of the Welcome Home celebration they helped construct and decorate the pharmacy department's elaborate float. They also assisted with their May Day stunt.

Says a writer in the Boston Herald:

Courageous indeed was President Wooley of Mt. Holyoke College in addressing a recent convention of Massachusetts clubwomen on the subject of "The College Woman in the Community." In a news report she is quoted saying: "The day is fast coming when a pure-minded girl and woman will refuse to have to do with the man who is not also clean in his life and pure in his heart." Once upon a time when some of us were at college such things were not spoken aloud, either by the president, man or woman, or by other wise directors of young women. In the isolated world of college the real facts of life as it is were seldom discussed. The college girl herself had then to "step over the threshold of life," as the orators say in commencement addresses and is it to be wondered at if she stumbled, or faltered, or dodged her responsibility? We do not excuse her, but we do rejoice in the present signs that she is going to have a better chance to be a bigger woman in the future.

Dean Gildersleeve's address at Smith College commencement last June was such an able summing up of the effect of the war on college women that the following résumé made by the Springfield Republican at the time is given here.

Northampton, June 17.—Smith College, for the first time in its history, heard a woman commencement orator, who was Dean Virginia Crocheron Gildersleeve of Barnard College, at the exercises of its 41st commencement today, and so overwhelming did her triumph appear at the close of her address that it seemed there might be some difficulty in ever reinstating the custom of men commencement orators at Smith. The speaker congratulated the class of 1919 upon going out to a world comparatively at peace, after a college course covering the critical events of the world war. The graduates, said the speaker, never could forget these great days, and it was almost inevitable that a commencement address should deal with the fiery test imposed by the war. She, therefore, announced her subject as "The Ordeal of Fire," and her theme as the test that the war brought to women's colleges, how they stood that ordeal, and what they learned from it. The test came at an opportune moment, when liberal education was already under fire and extremists thought it must give way to vocational training. Were the liberal colleges indeed useless, cloistered, "old fogyish" institutions? It was demonstrated, I think, that they were not.

The alumnae of the women's colleges flocked at once in great numbers into war work, into an immense variety of tasks. Graduates of Barnard engaged in over 260 kinds of war work, ranging from assistance in preparation of state papers to eight hours a day at hoeing corn. They demonstrated brains to a considerable extent and also a little knowledge. They proved the ability to think straight, they exhibited physical strength and health, a spirit of enthusiasm and devotion, the power of team work and adaptability to new and strange tasks. During the war women's colleges as institutions did not vary their work greatly for war needs, because the government wished to have them continue to turn out their usual product. They did not, therefore, undergo any such transformations as the students' army training corps brought to the men's institutions. Many of their officers served actively in the army, and in other war work. They adapted some of their courses to meet immediate needs, and several of them, like Smith, with its course in psychiatric training, used their plants in summer for training schools for certain types of war service. Barnard undertook a kind of Young Men's Christian Association clearing house, and in one week graduated 1998 in courses in French, canteen work, physical culture, manners and customs of the people of France and England, history, geography, mathematics, and a few others. This, of course, was really a trying out of the qualifications, mental and physical, of candidates for war work, and it was a marked conclusion that college graduates really did much better than the noncollege applicants. Under war's stimulus many of us discovered in ourselves more power than we had dreamed of. College graduates came into a singular appreciation by the government, so pronounced that department officials wanted us to improvise college graduates, and would not be convinced that a woman who had received a few weeks of forced training was not in truth a college woman. The general intelligence resulting from a cultural course was strikingly vindicated, though this was no argument against technical training for particular work.

IMPORTANCE OF TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE

Observing the curriculum in the light of war, we can draw several significant conclusions. The first is the great importance of technical knowledge, such as chemistry, for example, without which our civilization would have been crushed by the German war machine. It was striking to note that every single object in an ordinary college curriculum except one or perhaps two, was of direct, technical value to the government. But it seems also that much of this work should be more thoroughly and accurately done. Another interesting conclusion was the great value of student activities in teaching organization, team play, and adaptability. Some objection has been raised to these so-called "side-shows," which distract attention from the "main tent" work of education; but it seems that they may well be used more definitely and consciously for educational purposes. Most important of all was the demonstration of the supreme importance of the liberal side of the curriculum—all that develops the right spirit, a knowledge of ideals and an appreciation of the point and purpose of human affairs, without which technical knowledge may be worse than useless. It has been said that the pointing of guns in the right direction is not less important than the having of guns at all. The German example of efficiency wrongly directed has shown us the importance of a comprehensive outlook and a brotherly spirit. We have seen even that such a dry study as archaeology may find its practical use, for we have seen the curator of a museum exercising his knowledge of obsolete armament to devise a trench helmet, with the result for himself of making the curator a major in the ordnance department.

OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD OTHER NATIONS

Our attitude toward other nations has changed wonderfully in the last five years—our feeling of responsibility toward the other peoples of the world. Even though the senior senator of this state still indulges in the good old pastime of twisting the lion's tail, nonpolitical people realize that the right sort of relations between the English-speaking peoples of the world, more than anything else, makes for the peace and progress of mankind. The colleges were quick to feel this new spirit. The college women are now conscious of the desire of the peoples of the world for understanding, coöperation and friendliness, difficult though the politicians may find it, to create the machinery to give effect to this sentiment. We of the women's colleges can help this new movement for international understanding in various ways. We can learn to know people of other nations by forming relations with university women of other countries, through some such international federation as we are invited by the federation of university women of Great Britain to join in forming, and by the exchange of the right sort of women students and professors. We can help also by trying to be less provincial, by realizing that people can be different from ourselves and at the same time no worse, perhaps better. The admirable traits which the fiery ordeal of war has revealed in our college women have been strikingly exemplified by the Smith unit in France, pioneer of our college women's overseas units. Inspired by their elder sisters and by the visions that have come to them during these years of war, the graduates of 1919 should make even more illustrious the name of Smith as the mother of good citizens of our republic and of the world.

Williams College has hit upon a happy plan for making personal acknowledgment of the part Williams men played in the war. The Boston Transcript thus describes the idea.

WILLIAMS FINDS A WAY

No college of the land lost the opportunity, given it at the commencement season last June, to celebrate and commemorate the service of its sons who had fought in the war. Degrees of honor were granted to many of each institution's representative heroes; meetings, speeches, and resolutions heralded in a general way the honor of all. And still no college found, in the time then at its disposal for making arrangements, any splendidly tangible or very definite way of signaling the service of each and every one of its sons who, in the equalizing fellowship of the spirit of sacrifice, had gone forth into the armed forces of the United States to fight the nation's battle.

That is why the announcement which comes from Williams College today has such fresh and unique significance. Williams has found the way. At a great Victory celebration to be held in Williamstown on October 17, with Major General Leonard Wood and Prof. Bliss Perry as chief speakers of the occasion, the college will present to every graduate, undergraduate, and sometime member who served in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States or its allies a bronze medal of the utmost distinction in design and in commemorative sentiment and suggestiveness. Here will be, in durable form, and upon the specific grant of the president and trustees of the college, a token which every Williams man who shared in the military service of his country can hold forever as evidence of the gratitude of his college for duty performed as the college which bred him would have had him perform it.

This happy plan, which will no doubt commend itself to many another institutions whose sons gave a brilliant account of themselves in the war, Williams especially can carry out with a high sense that she has much to commemorate. The latest statistics compiled at the college show that the 1,721 men whom Williams had in the service comprise more than forty per cent of all known Williams graduates, undergraduates, and sometime members. In recognizing the contribution of each man of of the contribution offered from that college which has borne on its seal since the this host, Williams may well be proud, and express anew her pride, in the sum total arliest day of its history the significant words: "E Liberalitate E Williams Armigeri."
