CANADA CALLS US

"The Canada wind is the keen north wind.
The wind of the secret sea,
And quickens the soul of me."

Bigwin Inn, Headquarters of the Twenty-Seventh Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi, is the largest and most modern summer resort hotel in Canada. It is situated on Bigwin Island in the centre of the lovely Lake of Bays, in the heart of the Highlands of Ontario.

Bigwin Island is magnificently wooded, with many springs of cool, clear water, and with sandy beaches jutting into the blue of the lake. It is a marvelous place for relaxation and pleasure after Convention sessions.

The After Convention Houseparty also offers a wonderful opportunity for vacationing and becoming acquainted with each other. The very low rate of $5 a day, American plan, offered by the Hotel Management for Convention applies to the week preceding and the week following Convention, as well as to Convention week.

Settlement School Night will be an outstanding feature of this Convention since North Carolina A, whose members are prominent in the work of the North Carolina Playmakers, is writing and planning to put on a play for that night. Mary Verner made a special trip from Chapel Hill, North Carolina to the Settlement School to obtain material for the play.

Singing will be emphasized from the time the Convention boats arrive until they leave. The songs which will probably be sung most frequently are: Pi Phi Pal, My Pi Phi Girl, Pi Phi Love, Our Fraternity, Sweetheart Song, and Memories of the Wine and Blue. Be sure you know these songs well.

Two of our Founders, Libby Brook Gaddis and Jennie Horne Turnbull are planning to attend the Convention and possibly one or two more of the Founders will be able to be with us also.

Join the Pi Beta Phi Special trains, come to Convention prepared for a good time, sing and smile, enjoy the Canadian woods and lakes, play golf and tennis, swim and bowl. Visit with your neighbor and exchange ideas with her. Plan to stay for the Convention Houseparty.

Do not miss the Banquet which is always a crowning glory of Convention. Anna Robinson Nickerson, Grand Vice-President, is the toastmistress for the banquet and will make it an event long to be remembered.

Pack your bag now and be there with us at Bigwin Inn in June!

Consult the March Arrow for the transportation details and write to Mrs. Ford J. Allen, 678 Park Blvd., Glen Ellen, Ill., for Pullman reservations on the Special.

Liasion Officer

EDITH GORDON,
Convention Guide

MARY SCOTT,
Assistant Guide

CONVENTION GUIDE

The busiest person at Bigwin Inn during the last week in June will be Dr. Edith H. Gordon, Convention Guide, who is already well known and loved by hundreds of Pi Phis who have met her at previous Conventions, at Camp Mortar Board and various other places. Dr. Gordon has also served most efficiently on the Health Committee.

During the past year since her appointment as Guide she has given a great deal of her time and energy in planning every detail to make our Canadian visit delightful.

DR. EDITH H. GORDON,
Convention Guide

A list of the Convention Committee appears in the ARROW Directory and requests for information concerning the various Convention activities should be made direct to the chairman in charge.

Hotel reservations should be made direct through the Convention Guide; reservations for the after-convention houseparty should be made direct through the hotel management.

GREETINGS FROM CANADA

JESSIE STARR McCORMICK,
Hospitality Chairman

Pi Phi sisters from far and near, how I wish you knew the pleasure this Convention in Canada brings to your Canadian sisters. It is a rare opportunity for us, in our unique isolation from other chapters, to meet and greet fraternity sisters from the other chapters. We are delighted and happy in the anticipation of knowing you, so please do come! Come one, come all, and our cup will be filled to the brim.

Toronto is the connecting link between the first stage of your journey and the second, following which is a two hour sail on Lake of Bays to beautiful Bigwin Inn. Our plans for your brief sojourn in are city are simple, but we hope will furnish a pleasant break in the long train journey.

A few steps from the Union Station, where all trains will stop, is the Queen's Hotel. Here the management has placed a suite of rooms at our disposal for the convenience of our visitors. There will be a Pi Phi Information Booth in the Station; and numerous Ontario Alpha girls, wearing arm bands of the fraternity's colors, will be found in and around the station to conduct you to the Queen's, or to offer any assistance within their power.

For the few who may enter Toronto by any of the water routes, my advice is to take the Queen's Hotel Bus that is to be found at every wharf on the arrival of the steamer. At the hotel the Pi Phi Headquarters will be easily found. There are so many steamers arriving all day long, that it would be difficult to "man" these entrances to the city adequately.

Pi Phi Special No. 1 is scheduled to reach Toronto at 3 P. M., Sunday, June 21. This permits of several hours' stay in the city. Ontario Alpha has arranged for a two hour motor trip around the city, thus giving a glimpse of some of our finer buildings and residences. The cars are to leave the Queen's hotel at four o'clock promptly, and complete the tour in the university grounds at 6 P. M. At 6:30 supper will be served in the Great Hall of Hart House. This is the famous men's Union Building, and we feel very happy that visiting Pi Phis are to have the privilege of seeing this unique college building.

During the evening, we are to have a twilight organ recital in Convocation Hall. We have been most fortunate in securing Dr. Moure, the University Bursar and Organist, to play for us. No one can bring out the beauties of our exceptionally fine organ in the way that Dr. Moure does, so we can promise the music lovers a very great treat.

Following the organ recital, motors will be in readiness to convey you back to the station, where your Pullmans will be waiting to carry you farther.

It is unfortunate that the second delegation from the west is due to arrive in the evening at a time that does not permit of any sort of entertainment. The rendezvous at the Queen's Hotel will be a convenient and pleasant place to relax after the long train journey, and there will be many Pi Phis there to welcome you, and do their utmost for your comfort.

For all those expecting to travel on Monday morning by Special No. II the request is that they meet at the headquarters at the Queens. There will be numbers of Ontario Alphas to direct you there, and to the Special, for our chapter will be traveling by that train.

JESSIE STARR McCORMICK

HOW TO KEEP FIT AT CONVENTION

Dr. Edith Hedges Matzke, New York Delta

Play your Health Game. The world is yours, a new world each morning after your 'daily dozen.'

The clear eye, naturally red cheeks, and clear complexion are yours after your daily breathing exercises and bath.

Relax according to rules. After each session, give two minutes for fresh air, change of position, muscle stretching and deep, full, breathing exercises.

Think of food before and after eating. Before eating relax the body ten minutes at full length on the ground, on the bench, floor or bed for the sake of the eyes, spine, feet, and taut muscles and nerves. After eating give the mind and body ten minutes rest for the sake of circulation.

Eat food for strength, for the uplifting of the body, and eat as if you expected to live forever. The stomach is driven to desperation when you eat as if you expected to die tomorrow.

Take water seriously as a health requirement. The average individual requires six glasses of water daily, between meals, rather than with meals.

Sleep at least eight consecutive hours at night; sleep with naps during the day when needed.

Consider the effects of posture on the body organs, on the spine, and on the feet. Respect the feet as you respect the head. Consider the walk in the fresh air as a daily necessity.

CONVENTIONETTES

All members of the Pi Beta Phi special No. 1 will be entertained by a drive through Toronto on Sunday afternoon and the delegates will be the guests of the Toronto Pi Phis for supper that evening at Hart House. Visitors will be expected to pay $1.00, if taking supper there.

The Registration Fee of $5 required of everyone attending Convention will be collected on the Special Trains between Toronto and Huntsville and the official receipt will be given out then in the form of tags which can be worn and will serve as an introduction since they will contain the name, chapter and room number on them.

A box breakfast will be served on the boat for 75c to the members of the Special No. 1, arriving in Huntsville on June 22.

Alumnæ reorganization will occupy the attention of the alumnæ delegates as this is a subject of vital importance to them. The New York Alumnæ Club has been appointed by the Grand Vice-President as a committee of the whole to report on reorganization of the Alumnæ Department and is working on the subject at present.

Suggestions, ideas, statistics,—anything pertaining to alumnæ reorganization should be forwarded to the New York Alumnæ Club to assist in this work.

Remember that all baggage must be inspected by the Customs Officers and trunks must be sent on at least three days ahead in order to be inspected. Baggage tags and stickers are now ready and may be obtained from Dr. Gordon, Convention Guide.

Properties for stunts, model initiation, etc., must be purchased before leaving Huntsville as the Inn is removed from stores and conveniences such as might be needed.

Those planning for spreads and want food for same must let the hotel management or the Guide know twenty-four hours in advance!

All delegates must have a copy of credentials to present at Convention, these will probably be collected by the Province Presidents on Monday, so be sure to carry them with you in your handbag or purse.

Volunteers are wanted for the Convention Daily, for Athletics, for the Music Committee, and for general entertainment.

Dr. Lillias McIntyre has been appointed Convention Physician and we will also have a trained nurse.

Heavy, warm clothing will be necessary for early morning and evening wear.

Arrangements have been made to go by sleeper from Huntsville on the evening of Saturday, June 27, so that there need be no plan to spend the night in Toronto. Any wanting to make the Niagara trip will be close to the boats from the Union Station in Toronto where the train gets in and will be in time for the early boat to the Falls.

Detroit headquarters for Pi Phi enroute to Convention will be the Women's City Club, 2110 Park Ave. There will be several Detroit Alumnae at the Club Sunday morning, June 21. Pi Phi and their friends can secure breakfast there in much pleasanter surroundings than at the depot restaurants. Cars will be available for drives along Detroit's beautiful lake boulevard. Mrs. H. W. Merritt, 4662 Vancouver Ave., Detroit, will be glad to arrange for someone to meet any train and will furnish any further information desired.

We must remember that Convention is not entirely made up of business sessions and committee meetings. A great deal of the enjoyment of our stay at Bigwin will be due to unexcelled opportunities for open air sports, and many of our pleasantest memories will be of friendships made in the hours of rest and relaxation.

Mention was made in the March ARROW of the golf and tennis tournaments. Entries will have to be completed by Tuesday evening, so that these events may be off to a good start. The Bigwin tennis courts are excellent, and the golf course, though only nine holes, is a good one. Mr. Reid, the manager of Bigwin Inn, is awarding a trophy for the golf tournament: and Mr. Ball, the father of Katherine Ball, Ontario A delegate, one for the tennis tournament. Unless there are an unexpected number of entries for these matches, it is hoped to keep the golf course and tennis courts free for casual play, for the greater part of the time, and to arrange for stated hours for the match play. These hours will be announced on the bulletin board.

For those who do not golf nor play tennis, but who like some vigorous outdoor sport to stimulate circulation and clear the brain after much sitting in convention sessions, there will be baseball games in the later afternoon, before dinner. The bowling greens, too, are always ready, and the lake offers endless possibilities in the way of swimming and boating.

The hotel boat livery is well supplied with sail boats, row-boats and canoes. Boys may be hired to manage the sail boats, but the canoes present somewhat of a problem. The Canadian canoe is undoubtedly the ideal pleasure craft for the north country, but is notoriously dangerous in the hands of a novice. The hotel management as well as we ourselves, are naturally anxious that no accidents shall occur. In order to prevent the possibility of such, a Safety First Committee has been formed in conjunction with the Recreation Committee. The function of this committee will be to issue certificates which must be presented in order to rent a canoe. These certificates will be issued upon application, and after demonstration of ability to manage a canoe. The work of this committee will be greatly simplified if every one desiring a certificate will apply for it during the first two days of convention.

One whole afternoon—that of Wednesday—has been left free of meetings, and set aside for sports and recreation. The program for that afternoon is being planned in the hope of including something that will appeal to every Pi Phi present, if not as a participant at least as an onlooker. There will be exhibition games of tennis, golf and baseball, and a program of water sports and swimming. The side trips committee will probably arrange a launch trip for those wishing to see the beauties of the surrounding lakes. All these events will take place simultaneously. This will enable them all to be over in time for everyone to enjoy the concert so generously provided by the Huntsville Band.

Every one knows what all work and no play does to Pi Phis, so bring along your golf clubs and tennis racquets and bathing suits, and you will find well kept courts, trim green links, and a smiling lake waiting for you. Watch the Sports Bulletin Board, and the Convention Daily for all information. For advance information write: Mrs. J. D. Williamson, 232 Bloor St. East, Toronto.

THE ANGLO-CANADIAN CONCERT BAND
HUNTSVILLE, ONTARIO

In referring to the history of Canada's foremost concert band, "The Metronome" America's leading band and orchestra periodical, gives the following interesting details:

"In writing of Herbert L. Clarke and the Anglo Canadian Concert Band I do not presume to add to their reputation, but merely to outline the modus operandi by which the organization has been enabled to attain its present high rank among the musical organizations of North America—demonstrating what great things can be accomplished when superior musical ability is coupled with efficient management and adequate financial support." The band is composed of employees of the Anglo Canadian Leather Company of Huntsville, Ontario. It was originally composed of a few musically inclined workmen who banded themselves together for their own amusement.

One Christmas night they serenaded Mr. Chas. O. Shaw, Vice President and General Manager of the company, at his home, and he was so pleased that he generously offered to provide a suitable rehearsal room and any necessary instruments and music.

Shortly thereafter the great war came, and most of these men enlisted in various branches of the service. With the few remaining musicians to serve as a nucleus of a band, other workmen, office men and department heads, were induced to begin studying the various instruments of the band and a competent director was employed to instruct and direct them.

Mr. Shaw who had played cornet when a boy in Dexter, Maine, again began study of the instrument and made periodic trips to Chicago and other points to secure lessons from Mr. Clarke, who was then assistant conductor and cornet soloist of Sousa's Band. After Mr. Clark had tired of travel and relinquished his position as Mr. Sousa's "right hand man," Mr. Shaw asked him to come to Huntsville as director, and made him such a tempting offer that he could not refuse.

When Mr. Clarke arrived in Huntsville, the band had a membership of about forty. It was decided to increase the membership by locating musicians of good experience who would be willing to accept employment with the company. Comfortable homes with modern conveniences and space for gardens, etc., were provided for all musicians. Light, heat and all repair and improvements are provided by the company. Necessary commodities can be purchased at the Company store at cost. In consequence of these inducements a large number of superior musicians, many of them from the Sousa, Pryor, Innes, Conway and other noted organizations, have been induced to accept employment in various capacities as clerical or laboratory workers, carpenters, machinists, masons, tinsmiths, plumbers, painters, electricians, etc.

Mr. Lambert Schoof, oboist with the Metropolitan Orchestra for eighteen years, is teacher of the wood wind instruments—all clarinetists using the Boehm system. Mr. B. H. Barrow, formerly of the Scots Guards Band of England, is teacher of horn and plays first horn in the band. Mr. Jas. G. Reid, the tympanist, is teacher of drums, bells, sylophone, etc. Mr. Edmund C. Wall, one of America's finest Clarinetists, is soloist and director of the wood-wind ensemble.

Aside from concerts in Huntsville, many concerts are given elsewhere, mostly for charitable causes. On all such trips all expenses are paid—the men stopping at the very best hotels. The band has been the leading musical attraction at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto for several years, and it plays at Bigwin Inn during the summer season, every second Sunday and on special occasions.

Huntsville, the home of this famous band, is a small town of about 3,000 inhabitants, situated in the highlands of Ontario, and is the gateway to the Lake of Bays District in which is located the Bigwin Inn.

It is surrounded by beautiful lakes which constitute one of the finest summer resorts in Canada. There is good fishing and hunting for those who are so inclined, and boating of all kinds. The climate is splendid—pure air always, no humidity in summer and cold, dry winters, which are bracing and healthful. The schools are excellent and the people are democratic and home-loving. These conditions have attracted many musicians who had wearied of travel and the commotion of the cities.

The reputation of the Anglo Canadian Concert Band, which now numbers seventy members, is that of being not surpassed by any other and equalled by few of the Concert Bands on this or any other Continent—not only that, but it is a matter of knowledge and comment that the standard of the personnel is above the average.

When the Kappa Kappa Gammas visited Bigwin Inn in 1924 a splendid program was played for them and an equally good and pleasing program will be presented as part of the entertainment for the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, during Convention.

ZETA PROVINCE VICE-PRESIDENT

Margaret Jackes Ball, Missouri B, has been appointed Zeta Province Vice-President to succeed Helen McCargo Geppert, resigned.

MARGARET JACKES BALL
Missouri B

Upon graduation from high school in St. Louis in 1914 Margaret Jackes entered Washington University and was initiated into Missouri B of Pi Beta Phi in her freshman year.

She modestly remarks that she was "just a plain student, winning no beauty prizes or scholastic honors."

On October 10, 1922, Margaret Jackes was married to Frank C. Ball, a banker of St. Louis.

She has twice been president of the St. Louis alumnae club, once in 1922-23 and again in 1924-25. During her first term as president of the club the donations to the Settlement School were increased from $300 to $1,000 and this year under her administration, the Settlement School received from the St. Louis Club the sum of $1,200.

Mrs. Ball is a favorite among both the active and alumnae chapters and brings to her new office an abundance of enthusiasm for Pi Beta Phi.

Plan to attend after-Convention Houseparty

MARION HIXSON, BEAUTY WINNER

Marion Hixson, Missouri B, was recently selected the most beautiful "co-ed" at Washington University in a beauty contest conducted by Student Life. Marion is 20 and has not as yet bobbed her hair.

According to the St. Louis Daily Globe-Democrat, William V. Schevill, St. Louis portrait painter made the selection and expressed his preference for the type represented by Miss Hixson, rather than for the more spectacular type known as the typical American girl, the "bobbed haired flapper."

"Schevill, in further commenting on his decision, stated that Miss Hixson was chosen from the field of ten candidates, not only because of her beauty, which he characterized as exceptional, but for the character which her features expressed. He also likened her to some of the portraits of the old masters."

FIVE PI PHI SISTERS

Marie Munn Starn, Ohio F; Leota Munn Redewill, Ohio F; Lucille Munn Moore, Michigan A; Marian Munn, Florida A; Harriet Munn, Florida A

To the Munn family of Portage, Ohio, is due honor for having five representatives in Pi Beta Phi. Florida A has just recently initiated the sister of the four older Pi Phis.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO MEMORIAL TOWER

By KATHARINE BALL, Ontario A

The University of Toronto War Memorial, which was unveiled on June 5, 1924, is in the form of a square tower between University College and Hart House. It is built of grey stone in Gothic style with four pinnacles at the top. The well-known Magdalen Tower was used as a model and the height is exactly the same, 143 feet from the ground to the top of the pinnacles, making it the highest point on the campus. The main archway is thirteen feet wide and twenty feet high with a road running through it. Over the arch is situated the muniment room which will contain the records, pictures, publications, trophies and tablets showing the history of the University in the War. Above this again are the belfry and cloak room, as yet uninhabited.

MEMORIAL TOWER

The focus of greatest interest for those who knew the men to whose memory the Tower has been built is the memorial tablets and the arched colonnade covering them. The wall supporting the tablets is 48 feet long over all. From it a carved tracery stone ceiling arches over the three tablets that bear the names and is supported by four stone columns. On the center, above the names, appears the University's coat of arms, and in the left space the following dedication is inscribed:—

TO THE GLORIOUS MEMORY OF THE MEMBERS OF THIS UNIVERSITY WHO FELL IN THE GREAT WAR

TAKE THESE MEN FOR YOUR ENSAMPLES. LIKE THEM
REMEMBER THAT PROSPERITY CAN BE ONLY FOR THE FREE, THAT FREEDOM IS THE SURE POSSESSION OF THOSE ALONE
WHO HAVE COURAGE TO DEFEND IT.

On the right of the coat of arms appear the quotations:—

“AND SO THEY PASSED OVER AND ALL THE TRUMPETS SOUNDED FOR THEM ON THE OTHER SIDE.”

“JUSTORUM ANIMAE IN MANU DEI”

Below these inscriptions are cut the names of the fallen, which total over six hundred, with the rank of each, his initials, British decoration if any, and the unit with which he last served.

The wall at each end of the arcade bears a tablet six feet wide and arched in similar fashion to those of the main wall. On the south end are the emblems of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales in relief, and underneath is inscribed “In Flanders Fields” written by Colonel John McCrea, a graduate of Arts and Medicine. From the north end the words of Milton, taken from “Samson Agonistes” look down.

"NOTHING IS HERE FOR TEARS, NOTHING TO WAIL OR KNOCK THE BREAST; NO WEAKNESS, NO CONTEMPT, DISPRAISE OR BLAME; NOTHING BUT WELL AND FAIR, AND WHAT SHOULD QUIET US IN A DEATH SO NOBLE."

The fascia below the coping that runs above the colonnade bears the names of the sixteen official battle honours of the Canadian Corps.

On the stone immediately to the left of the south archway of the colonnade that admits to the tablets, a naked sword of remembrance is carved in cameo.

Such is the method adopted in perpetuating in the memory of the living the sacrifice of so many of the University's sons. If, as is hoped, a chime of bells can be achieved, then to the beauty of the Tower will be added the charm of sweet music, and these together will not fail to stir the hearts of future generations at the University of Toronto.

WINNER OF $1,000 ORATORICAL PRIZE

In a contest in which more than one million high school students participated, Ruth Newburn, recently initiated into Columbia Alpha, tied for first prize on the first ballot of the judges but was awarded second prize ($1,000) on the second ballot.

RUTH NEWBURN, Columbia A

It was just a year ago, June, 1924, that a national oratorical contest on the subject, "The Constitution," claimed the interest of the whole country. When the finals were held in Washington, D. C., in the Memorial Continental Hall on June 7, the number of contestants had been reduced to seven.

Don Tyler of California won the first prize of $3,500; Ruth Newburn, second prize of $1,000 and John M. Dallon III, of Philadelphia, third prize of $500. President Coolidge presided at the final contest which was broadcast over the radio. The judges were five, from the Supreme Court and were headed by Justice Taft.

Ruth Newburn, then a student at Central High School of Washington, was very active in student affairs, being editor of the Year Book, a member of the staff of the weekly paper, and a member of the debating team for two years.

Although only a freshman at George Washington University, she has already made the varsity debating team and is on the staff of the Hatchet, the college newspaper.

A SYNDICATE WRITER

Beginning her earliest published writings at ten years, with the firm conviction that this was to be her life work, Miriam Simons Leuck, Illinois E, now has the pleasure of knowing that every day her articles are read by perhaps more people than those written by any other person so young. For two years her connection with a New York newspaper syndicate has meant that each day her articles have appeared in the daily press of many of the large cities of the East and the Mississippi Valley.

MIRIAM SIMONS LEUCK, Illinois E

Miriam Simons, who was married this year in Paris, France, was born in Chicago in 1900. She was tutored through the grade school and entered the high school at twelve years of age finishing the high school course in a little more than three years, at Riverside High School, Milwaukee, receiving at that time the honor entrance scholarship from the University of Chicago and the Collegiate Alumnae scholarship for having the highest standing in a competitive examination in mathematics and English.

She graduated from the University of Chicago with honors in English and with Phi Beta Kappa. While there she held many positions on student boards, commissions and women student organizations and two years was the assistant secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

After her graduation from Chicago she went as a graduate student in history to Northwestern University and while there became a member of Pi Beta Phi, and received her master's degree in history and journalism. There she was elected a member of the Journalistic honorary society, Theta Sigma Phi.

During these years she has been an active member of the Chicago College Club and the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Evanston Woman's Club.

She early became interested in the vocational opportunities for women and this interest was increased by considerable travel both abroad and in this country and Canada. As a result of study and research in this field, a volume she has written on vocations will appear from the press during the coming winter. In addition to this her magazine articles are published from time to time.

While in Paris, where she lived some time after her marriage, she attended lectures at the College of France on French History.

A CHILDREN'S FAVORITE

Because her sister's children, Dick and Dorothy demanded lots of stories, Florence S. Page, Illinois H became interested in writing to entertain children. While in New York City recently she took two classes in children's story writing under Miss Mabel Robinson, an instructor at Columbia University who is also the author of several story books and a most delightful person.

FLORENCE S. PAGE, Illinois H

Florence Page was invited to attend the meetings of the National Poetry Society and was fortunate enough to hear Edna St. Vincent Millay, Robert Frost, Harriet Monroe and other celebrities.

When urged to write of her experiences for THE ARROW, Miss Page said:—

The people in the children's story writing classes were interesting. There were several who had already published books. We had a wild animal trainer who was writing a book about a circus girl; the wife of a Kentucky horse breeder who wrote thrilling stories about races; a sailor who had been a private secretary and who was then a chauffeur; teachers, a lawyer and various others. We read and discussed the stories, and it was fun to get the different angles.

The chances in children's story writing are very good now. The field is not over-crowded (as it is, of course, in regulation story writing) and editors are anxious to get really well written material. They realize that much trash has been published. The sums paid, in the field have been so small that capable writers have turned to other things. But since the editors have waked up to this fact, they are making an effort to attract good writers.

Besides the short story courses, I was very fortunate to be in New York, for I could find out what was being done in advanced lines in education. I visited the famous Walden and Lincoln schools and also had a chance to observe dramatics for children. The Children's Playhouse where they gave plays every Saturday was wonderful. I also took an interesting course in Child Psychology at Columbia. And I haunted the children's sections in book-shops, Brentano's and Lord and Taylor's, and the Sunwise Turn as well as the children's room at the Public Library.

I have been pretty lucky with my things. I have written poetry for several years and have had verse in Poetry, The Touchstone, Contemporary Verse, The Midland, The Pagan. I used the nom de plume "F. S. Putnam" at first, but am now writing under my own name.

The Portal, whose editor, Wilma McFarland, visited our writing class and gave us valuable hints on girls stories, took my first story last winter. Since then the Youth's Companion has taken two: "Four Adjectives" and "Nancy Reformer, Pro Tem"; the Portal, three more: "Gray, Green and Scarlet," "Without" and "Fascination." Child Life has taken about ten nursery tales. I love to have them accept things as they always give the stories such adorable illustrations. They have printed or will print (it depends upon when this is published) "The Pirate Blue Jay," "The Cocky English Sparrow," "In A Window," "The Snowball in the Dog House," "The Careless Bumble Bee," "The Star Who Lived at the Top of the Sky," "The Fat Little Fairy," "The Lights on the Christmas Tree." I've also had some children's verse accepted by them and by The Portal.

I am going to France this spring, and I hope while I am there to get information about children's books and magazines that will be helpful. —F. S. P.

A PI PHI DUDE RANCHER

By KATHERINE SIMMONDS, Δ Δ Δ

Out in Montana, in the Rockies bordering upon the north-east corner of Yellowstone Park, lives a Pi Phi who is known to hundreds of summer tourists, and it's-hard-to-tell-how-many Montana natives, as one of the best girl riders and one of the most charming ranch hostesses in the West.

I've been told that Bess Randall Erskine, Ames '20, was always in demand at the Iowa Gamma chapter house while she was in college. If she wasn't wanted to play for a crowd of students hungering for the latest dance music she was being urged to attend a dance or to join a bunch of hikers, or to help compose a song for some impending entertainment. In spite of these distracting influences, she made a good scholastic record and incidentally more friends than many girls make in a lifetime.

Folks knew Bess Randall lived on a Montana ranch, but not many of them guessed that she could make a horse four times her size get down on its knees and bow to her. If her accomplishments as a horsewoman had been as well known as her irresistible piano music, there would have been numerous rodeos on the campus and all the would-be broncho busters in the university would have been flocking to the Pi Phi house for instruction!

Her last months at Ames were pretty well monopolized by Clyde Erskine, Phi Delt athlete and Glee Club soloist, and as soon as such minor obstacles as graduation and army service had been met and lived through and safely passed, the number of stalwart Montana ranchers was increased by one ex-Iowan after a wedding at the O. T. O. ranch-house.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Erskine assist Mr. and Mrs. Dick Randall with the operation of one of the largest "dude ranches" in the Northwest, and Clyde and Bess (remember we are talking about Montana where last names are quickly forgotten) help to entertain scores of summer tourists each season.

Next to her father, Bess is the best riding instructor on the ranch. Of course no one at the O. T. O. would care to compete with Dick Randall veteran mountaineer and rancher, known all over Montana and Wyoming and in many another state, for his horsemanship, his knowledge of the Greater Yellowstone Country and his quaint, lovable personality.

But Bess can ride! She sits her saddle like a veteran and her wonderful western boots are in the stirrups more often than on the ground while the "dude" tourist season is on. She takes groups of eager ranch guests high into the mountains almost every day, showing them how to enjoy every moment of the new experience, revealing one beautiful secluded region after another to their unaccustomed eyes.

In the evening, before a roaring fire, Dick Randall tells stories about the old days, grizzly bear yarns and tales which make the eyes of children and grown folks alike grow large with excitement. Then Bess goes to the piano and she and Clyde sing ranch songs in which everyone finally joins and between dancing and singing the evening is gone in no time.

Last year the Erskines deserted the O. T. O. for sixteen days to conduct the official saddle-horse tour of Yellowstone Park turned over to the ranch to handle by the Yellowstone Park Camps Company which had formerly conducted it. I was fortunate enough to be a member of the party.

Clad in gay western attire, with colored handkerchiefs and wide Stetsons, spurs jingling on our boots and faces tanned to an unbelievable brown, we members of the O. T. O. Saddle Horse Tour Party had the time of our lives in Yellowstone Park.

Clyde Erskine and several assistants went by the Main

Grand Loop Road which all Yellowstone tourists take, driving a big truck in which the camp outfit was packed. But we horseback riders left the roads and automobiles far behind, winding off into the wilder sections of the Park on the famous Howard Eaton Trail. Bess led the way, with "Happy Jack," the wrangler, and the "dudes" who made up the rest of the long line of riders learned Yellowstone Park as few tourists do.

Late in the afternoon of each day, the "Otto gang" (as we called ourselves after hearing the ranch brand mis-pronounced several times) emerged from the horseback trail to some good camping site nearer to the main road, where the truck with its camp equipment had arrived many hours before. Each night we found camp ready for us as we galloped through the trees with a long, lusty "Hello-o-o-o, Otto!" as greeting for Clyde and the other boys.

If a Yellowstone Hotel or Camps Company dance was within reach, the saddle-horse party often descended upon civilization for an evening, enjoying the change from the outdoor life for a few hours, yet glad to get out under the stars again with a long night's sleep in cozy tents to look forward to.

All of the regular sights of the Park—the geysers, the boiling lakes and streams, the colored terraces of the hot springs, the roaring caverns and plopping "paint-pots," the waterfalls, strange formations and the marvelous Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone, we saw in turn, and beside these, many wonders which are too far from the beaten path for the average tourist to reach.

The "dudes" really learned to ride, and we became just as much at home in the saddle as we were on foot. Our appetites were remarkable to behold, especially after we discovered that the regular delicious camp fare was often elaborated upon by delicacies Bess had learned to make at college—cakes and fancy desserts of all kinds which are never supposed to be a part of the menu of a camping party!

Adventures with the friendly wild animals of the Yellowstone, wonderful kodak pictures, long evenings of song about the camp-fire, fishing of the most soul-satisfying kind, and any amount of fun every hour of the day—these made the Erskine's saddle horse tour the most thrilling experience most of us had ever enjoyed.

Next summer Bess Erskine will be guiding another long line of riders up and down Yellowstone mountain trails. She expects to take her party from the ranch at Corwin Springs, Montana, in July and perhaps a second one in August.

Needless to say, Pi Phis are especially welcome, and the Erskines are hoping to make at least one of their parties this coming summer a collegiate fraternity and sorority special!

Every preparation is being made at the ranch for a bigger and better tour than that of last year, and letters from Bess are full of references to new tents, new horses and even new "dudes" already signed up for the trip. In the meantime those of us who learned to love Yellowstone Park under the guidance of the O. T. O. family last summer are exchanging wistful letters and wondering whether or not we will be able to resist doing just the same thing next summer which we did last July. As alumni and alumnae of this utterly delightful "Otto gang" we envy you, all who may take the trip next summer—envy you so much that we may manage to be with you yet!

THE PANHELLENIC CLUBHOUSE IN NEW YORK CITY

The dream of a Panhellenic Clubhouse in New York City has assumed outlines of reality. This Clubhouse is the biggest undertaking that has yet been attempted by the women's fraternities, and the New York Panhellenic Association has expended much time and effort in "selling the idea." That a Panhellenic Clubhouse in New York is needed and wanted is proved conclusively by the fact that of the sixteen fraternities interested in the project, fourteen have completely taken over their quotas of the common stock. The other two groups, with over half their stock sold, because of special conditions within their fraternities, have been granted an extension of time, but are pledged to complete their quotas in the near future. The stock has been sold to individuals, to active, and to alumnae chapters, and, in many cases, considerable amounts have been taken by the national fraternity organizations. Approximately $90,000 has been subscribed, and the 10% cash payments made. This money is being held as a trust fund, and will not be used until all stock payments, both common and preferred, are completed.

The next step is the sale of the preferred stock. The common stock has been sold through the fraternity groups, but the sale of the preferred stock will be handled by the house corporation. Rochelle Rodd Gachet, Alpha Omicron Pi, has been employed as executive secretary by the Board of Directors of the house corporation to give her full time to organizing the work for the sale of the preferred stock, and to head up the development of the general work on the project. Temporary offices have been secured. Benefit theatre performances, and other means of raising money are being used to finance this preliminary work.

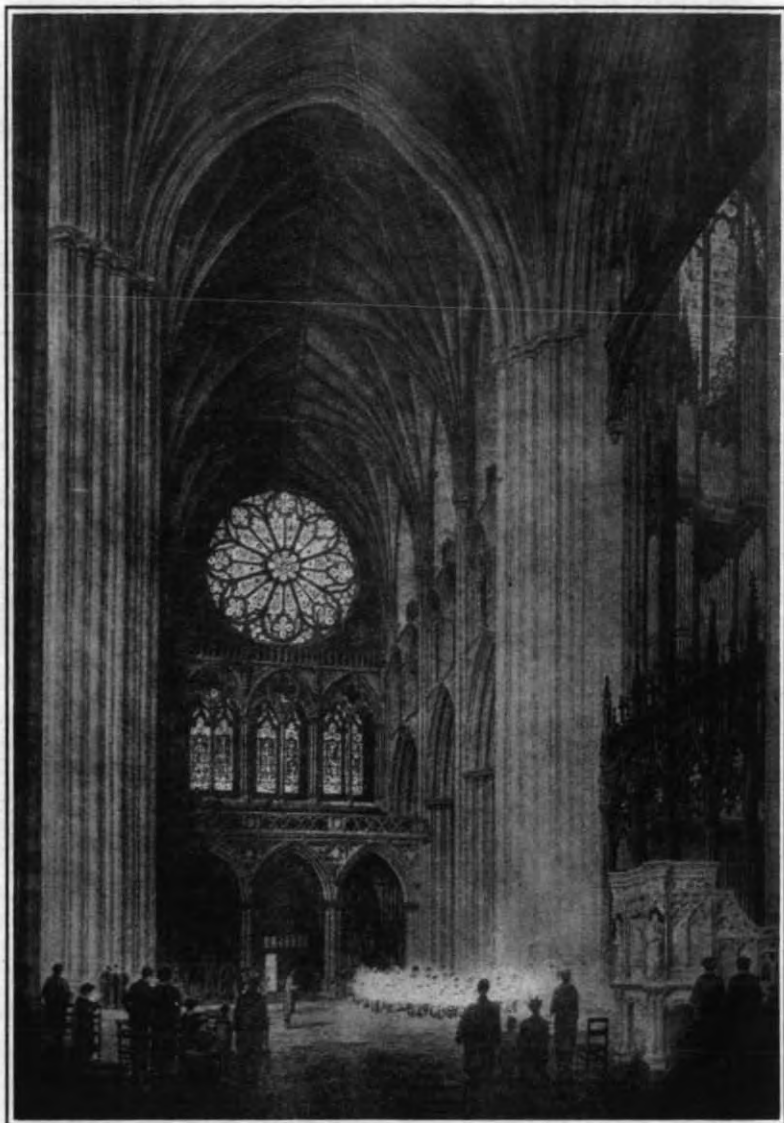

The preferred stock campaign will be launched in the fall of 1925. Preferred stock need not necessarily be owned by fraternity women. It is expected, however, that a considerable portion of it will be and of course, the corporation is counting on the support and cooperation of fraternity women to interest others in the project.

There has been such a demand for a Panhellenic Club that it has been decided not to postpone the formation of a Club until the Clubhouse building is up. A plan of organization for a Panhellenic Club is now being worked out, and a membership campaign launched. It is hoped to secure a large apartment as a temporary home. This would serve as headquarters for fraternity women, and the fraternity groups, and would furnish living quarters for a few girls. The house corporation would also have its offices at the Club. Membership in this Club is now being opened up to the original 1,000 girls who backed the house project in the beginning, and to holders of the common stock, without initiation fee. The annual dues have been fixed at $10. If the membership campaign yields quick results, it is hoped to have the Club ready for use by fall or possibly even earlier.

All fraternity women going to New York, who are interested in the Clubhouse project, should look up Miss Gachet at the offices of the house corporation, 105 West 40th St., Room 709.

WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL

AMERICA BUILDS A WESTMINSTER ABBEY

By MARY BADGER WILSON, Columbia A and New York B

Hero-worship, like ancestor-worship, may be a good thing or a bad thing. If a proper respect for our ancestors inspires us to live up to their ideals, family pride is then a commendable quality. But if we rest lazily under the branch of a family tree, meditating in a sort of fat contentment on our superiority to persons who have no family trees, we soon develop into useless snobs and very great bores. So with hero-worship. If our devotion to the memory of the men who made America is merely a facile lip service on patriotic holidays, if it is just waving a flag on the Fourth of July and singing a national anthem, our patriotism is of little worth. Unless our belief in our national heroes inspires us to translate their dreams into actualities, our faith is a dead faith.

Every year, on February 22, we make a brave gesture of devotion to the Father of our Country. Yet it is a little disturbing to remember that within the memory of persons now living Mt. Vernon, the beloved home of our great hero, was falling into actual decay and that the government of a grateful (?) country refused to appropriate the money necessary for the purchase and restoration of the estate. Mt. Vernon was only saved by the determination of a little band of patriotic women who by years of sacrifice and hard work raised the required amount and bought Washington's home for a rich but forgetful nation. It is even more disturbing to remember that in his will Washington left a legacy to the Government which was to form the nucleus of a fund for establishing a great national university, and that although Congressional committees have slept over the proposition for a century or more, yet nothing has ever been done either with Washington's plan or his money.

And there was another dream dear to Washington's heart,—that was the erection in our capital city of a great "church for national purposes, such as public prayer, thanksgiving, funeral orations, etc.," to be "assigned to the special use of no particular denomination or sect, but equally open to all. It will be likewise a shelter for such monuments as were voted by the last Continental Congress for those heroes who fell in the cause of liberty; and for such others as may be decreed by the voice of a grateful nation." Thus did Major L'Enfant describe the church which George Washington desired, when under the direction of the first President he drew up the plans for a proposed "Federal City." But a hundred years passed and this dream of the man who was "first in the hearts of his countrymen" remained a dream. It was in 1891 that the initial steps were taken toward the erection in the capital city, of a National Cathedral, which it was felt would realize Washington's plan.

This cathedral is being built by the Protestant Episcopal Church but it has been kept quite free from any spirit of narrow church affiliation. It is to be a "House of Prayer for All People." Men and women of all church affiliations have become vitally interested in its erection. In every state in the Union and in many foreign lands there are members of the "National Cathedral Association." Visitors to Washington, who see the cathedral in process of building and who see what it already means and what it will mean in the future as a great national symbol, feel a desire to take some part in the work. Thousands of them have joined the Cathedral Association and by small annual gifts are helping to put in place those massive stones which are rising one upon another on the hill of Saint Alban. Thus Washington Cathedral is national not simply in name but in fact. From Maine to Texas and from California to Rhode Island, there are men and women who watch its progress and who believe in its purpose.

When one speaks of a national church, there is always danger of confusion. Every true American instinctively shrinks from any idea of union between church and state. But there is no such idea involved in the erection of a cathedral church at Washington. It is national in its sense that it is to be a symbol, a worthy beautiful symbol, of the Christian faith on which America was built; in the sense that it is to be a Temple to which men of all faiths may "go up" in times of national thanksgiving or national distress to offer prayers to God; in the sense that it is to be America's Westminster Abbey, where the citizens of America who have achieved great things in life, may rest after death with perpetual honor.

The pioneers, who carved America out of the wilderness, had to suffer hardship and brave danger that they might win the right to worship God according to their own consciences. But it is to be remembered that whatever their method of worship, all of them worshipped God. Our nation was built on faith. When that faith wavers, when our ideals change and we place material values higher in the scale than spiritual values, then the America we have loved will be already dead. It is to keep that true American spirit alive that the cathedral builders at Washington are lifting high a great symbol of faith and idealism.

It is to be a very beautiful symbol. The style of architecture will be 14th century Gothic—Gothic at its best before ambitious builders began to experiment in æsthetics, before "beauty for beauty's sake" supplanted the older Gothic ideal of "beauty for the glory of God." In the purity of its outlines, the richness of its decorations, the peace of its spaciousness, the yearning aspiration of its arches and towers,—in every aspect of its beauty it will lift up our hearts, that whatsoever things are lovely and whatsoever things are true, we shall think on those things.

This is the great purpose of a cathedral—to lift up men's hearts. A cathedral speaks in the universal tongue of beauty so that its message needs no translation. Even the aliens who have crowded our land until in confusion of tongues the voice of America is becoming somewhat indistinct,—even these alien peoples when they see this great temple built upon a hill, set high above our Capital City, will understand that America has a possession dearer than her gold,—her faith.

It is sometimes said that cathedrals are merely an imitation of the past, that they have no place in our present age. In the nineteenth century this might have been asserted with some truth for the nineteenth century was distinctly an age of individualism. But a black gulf lies between the nineteenth and the twentieth centuries,—the hideous gulf of a world war. And we found that the bridge of individualism would not carry us over that chasm. The twentieth century believes not in isolation but in co-operation; it believes that it is far more important to work together for what is right than to fight over some petty little individual "rights." So that a cathedral, which belongs to no small group or congregation, which opens its doors and its pews freely to all who wish to enter, which rises above the narrowness which sometimes hampers the work of smaller, parochial churches, which gives its beauty with both hands to anyone who has the eye to perceive beauty, regardless of creed or nationality, and which through its ageless majesty can continue so to give from generation to generation,—such a cathedral is peculiarly sympathetic to the spirit of the twentieth century.

Many Pi Phis, when they were in Washington for the Eastern Conference, included Washington Cathedral in their sight-seeing expeditions. Many others are familiar with it because of the pictures which were published all over the country when it was chosen as the last resting place of America's great war president. But all Pi Phis are, I feel, prepared to appreciate it in a very special sense. Because we know the beauty of co-operation, because we have learned the power of a symbol in focusing our purposes and our affections, because, by the very nature of our own association, we have discovered that we can stand together on essentials and forget all the little non-essential differences,—for these reasons Pi Phis can understand just what the cathedral builders at Washington are trying to do.

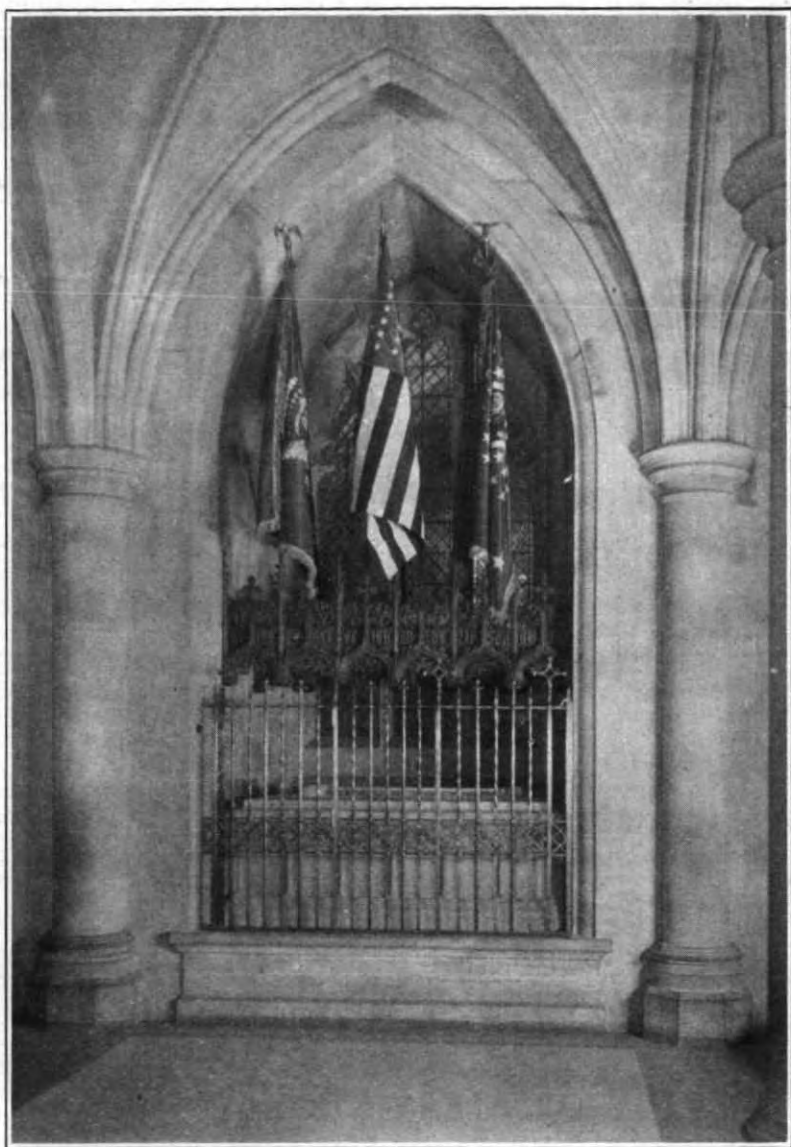

And for these reasons, too, I have purposely spoken not so much of the actual cathedral fabric as of the spirit which infuses the beauty of that fabric. The pictures which accompany this article will give a far better idea than any words could give of the surpassing grandeur of this American Temple. But the purpose and the ideals back of the grandeur,—the reasons why America builds a temple at all—these things escape the photographer and must needs be put into words. Sometimes the idea seems too large to be condensed into a sentence or a paragraph. And one fumbles with words. But Pi Phi readers will understand.

TOMB OF WOODROW WILSON

TOMB OF WOODROW WILSON

Work of setting in place the sarcophagus for the late President Woodrow Wilson in the Bethlehem Chapel of Washington Cathedral has been completed.

The sarcophagus is recessed in the south wall of the chapel in a space eight feet wide and eighteen feet six inches high, with massive arches meeting above a leaded glass interior window behind. This space is filled with sarcophagus, grill, canopy and flags.

The sarcophagus itself is a warm cream color limestone with almost a golden gleam. The crusader's cross is its only decoration. In front of the crusader's cross are inscribed the words, Woodrow Wilson, and the dates of his birth and death—1856 and 1924.

The grill, immediately in front of the sarcophagus and covering the recess to a height of seven feet seven inches above the floor, is beautifully wrought in iron after the manner of the ancient craftsmen, the upright bars ending in crosses.

The canopy of delicately carved oak is directly over the sarcophagus. Woven into the face just below the cresting, as an enrichment, are the words "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord."

The three flags surmounting the canopy and lending color to the whole effect are all historic, two of them being the "President's flags," presented by the Government to each President, and these represent Mr. Wilson's two inaugurations, March 4, 1913, and March 4, 1917. The third is the United States flag which was carried by the American troops when they marched through London. It is one of the first American flags ever saluted by an English king on English soil.

PHYSICAL THERAPEUTICS

(The following article has been written upon request for THE ARROW by Dr. Mary Shannon Snook, Arkansas A.)

Physical Therapeutic exercises are by no means a new form of therapy. Both exercise and rubbing were used extensively even in the time of Hippocrates, 460 B. C. Even before this there was a book written by the Chinese about 3000 B. C. called "Cong Fu," which dealt with prescribed movements. Hippocrates and his famous teacher, Herodicus, each taught gymnastics for the preservation of health and the cure of disease. It is claimed that Herodicus cured himself of physical defects by the application of his own theories and lived to be a century old.

Galen, a noted and respected Roman physician, who lived about 200 A. D., was greatly interested in friction and prescribed exercise. He practiced his own theories of regular and corrective exercise in order to overcome a general physical weakness.

Peter Ling, 1813, of Stockholm and others right on down the line, established schools for curative exercises, using horizontal and parallel bars, vaulting apparatus, rings, etc. Although each pioneer contributed much to educational gymnastics, it is to Ling and his faithful followers that medical gymnastics and remedial corrective, and therapeutic exercise owe their development.

In this country in 1889, Dr. Weir Mitchell and Dr. Douglas Graham were the first to take up and arouse interest among the medical profession as to the value and need of physical therapeutic measures, and the first conference on this subject was held in Boston in November of the same year.

In 1917, my very good friends and advisors, Dr. E. G. Brackett and Dr. Joel Golthwaite, were interested in the physical therapeutic work being done among the allied nations, and were the inaugurators of the Department of Therapy of the United States Army Medical Corps. And the war has given up opportunity to add knowledge and experience to many medical problems. This is particularly true of Physiotherapies. Its use after fractures, nerve injuries, and acute infections has placed it on an entirely new plane.

Such marvelous results came from using physical therapeutics on our injured boys during the war, that the large manufacturing industries and insurance agencies in most of the large cities have established their own coterie of trained workers to care for its personnel. For economically it is of supreme importance to the industry that the injured man or woman be given prompt attention for his own sake as well as for the dependent family concerned. And in any great city this economic aspect in the relief of suffering is vital.

I do not claim that physical therapeutics is a panacea for all the ills to which the human flesh is heir. But it is an important factor in the armamentarium of the fully equipped physician. And I believe, moreover, that properly selected cases such as fibrosis, neuritis, infantile paralysis, adhesions, posture, empyema, and other cases, pre and post operative, if treated with correct technique by physical therapeutics, may have their time of treatment appreciably shortened. I believe also that it will help to cure other obstinate cases which might otherwise continue over long periods of time.

On the well nigh boundless possibilities of physical therapeutics the curtain has gone up. A glimpse into its potentialities fills one with enthusiasm for carrying forward its great promises.

Of physical therapeutics there are countless phases. For the purposes of this paper, however, only the most outstanding phases, light, heat, and massage muscle training shall be discussed. The first of these, light, is a paramount necessity to the development, the well being, the existence even, of human beings. Without light, proper physiological conditions are impossible. But before treatment of any kind can be given to a patient it is essential that the operator should have a very complete history of the case. He must also have insight into the personality of the patient, and he must be in complete sympathy with him. He must, therefore, confer with the physician in charge, read the case history, study the X-ray findings, and have a personal contact with the patient before beginning treatment.

In a case of poliomyelitis (Infantile Paralysis) for instance, the patient is apt to be weak, irritable and possessed of very little resistance. A physical examination should be made to see that there are no heart complications; then a careful consideration should be given to the amount of voluntary power in all of the muscles of the body. Each case should be approached as an individual problem, both social and economic, and the rule to follow is to bring that patient as quickly as possible back to the highest possible degree of function. It is very important to examine the different gaits of patients who have suffered an attack of infantile paralysis since it is from the gait that we know which muscle group is affected.

Having met these necessary requirements, and remembering that muscle stretching, fatigue, deformities, and improper balance are detrimental factors to the nth degree, and keeping in mind the ultimate aim of securing the best possible function, we are ready to consider our patient from the standpoint of the second phase of our subject, massage.

The amount of good received from massage is undoubted, but massage has its distinct limitations and too much must not be expected from it. Kneading, stroking, and manipulation of an affected limb placed in the proper position that is in which the affected muscles are completely relaxed, stimulate the flow of venous blood back to the heart and increase the flow of arterial blood to the parts. Also they aid the lymph flow towards the center of the body and help rid the parts of waste products. Thus may massage aid in inducing better nutrition locally. On the other hand, if massage is too rough and of too long duration, it is likely to cause muscular fatigue and an increased amount of muscular atrophy. Massage itself does not restore muscular power, nor does it have a direct affect upon the disease itself, but it does have a tendency to retard muscular atrophy.

Going on to the third phase of our subject heat, we find it being used before massage is given because of the fact that muscular function is heightened at high temperature. This is true because heat dilates the superficial blood vessels causing them to be gorged with blood, and thus through massage more blood is driven towards the center of the body to be replaced by a similarly large flow of blood to the affected limb.

There are several ways of heating muscles; by radiant heat, non-radiant heat, hot water and electricity. The two first named are best in infantile cases, hot water being apt to cause undue tenderness of the skin without producing a sufficiently high degree of heat. Electricity, though extensively used, has not, as far as I personally have observed, resulted in a great degree of good, since a faradic current acts only on the muscle to which it is applied, causing a great amount of contraction. Although this may be of benefit to that particular muscle, it would be much better if contraction could be produced voluntarily. Often a faradic current is very disagreeable to the patient, and it is a source of terror to young patients. However, this type of exercise may be used for beneficial purposes, in giving certain muscles a mild form of exercise.

There is another form of current often used, in fact there are several, and that is the galvanic current which is supposed to produce improved nutrition but it has not in my actual experience proved of great value. In some cases where the galvanic coil is used, there is a certain return of function, but that same function may also be found in a similar case where no current was used and where muscle training alone was done.

This brings us to the fourth and most essential phase to be discussed, that of muscle training. Muscle training is of very great importance as it is fundamentally an attempt to restore in the brain the motor impulse to a muscle, an impulse which has been impaired or lost during the course of disease. There are two aims in muscle training. First to force the impulse from the muscle over a new route around the affected center, and, second, to secure contraction of the muscle, however feeble.

This brings to my mind many examples seen during my years of work. For instance a captain in the army whose nerve impulses were impaired by a high explosive shell in the back resulting in paralyzed legs, was able by persistent effort and muscle training to make the impulse return slowly. Never shall I forget the morning when this man moved his toes ever so slightly. He called out, "By Gee! I'm making my toes wiggle." And he burst into tears of joy and was quite overcome with emotion. After he had calmed down, he repeated the wiggling process for several minutes.

In muscles not totally paralyzed, there is every reason to expect continuous muscular movement from the repeated attempts at driving a motor impulse from the brain to a muscle. Of course these impulses have a decided psychological as well as a decided physiological effect on the individual. These physiological effects upon the human structure through physical therapeutics are very interesting as each individual case calls for special procedure. For example, in a case in which adhesions are already formed gentle massage would not be the principal mode of procedure, but would be dealt with by light then massage followed by deep friction.

Examples:

At Boston City Dispensary, Boston—a man of 28, who had a wife, one little girl who had infantile paralysis four years ago, and a little baby with badly clubbed feet, was brought into our department suffering from burns obtained from the explosion of stove polish. His hands were burned almost beyond repair, however, from the first he received the alpine ray treatment daily until new skin began to form over his claw-like fingers and disfigured hands, he also received massage and exercise and at the end of six months he was enabled to resume his position, and although his left hand was more like a question mark than a hand, he could use it nicely and was gaining use daily.

Another case—Danny Doe, ten years, was taken to the Abbott Hospital in September with a severe fracture of the left femur, where the leg was operated, set and plated. The boy was then put on a Thomas splint and kept there until November 26. After being so long with his leg extended, flexion was impossible to the youth as a fibrous ankalosis resulted. His physician who recognizes physical therapy, ordered that he be given treatments and after four treatments the operator has been able, by using hot packs and a light, to break up the adhesion and get a right angle flexion of the knee.

Exercises for muscle training are accomplished in two ways: first, by passive exercise, that is, where the operator does the movement for the patient having the patient concentrate on the attempt to accomplish the movement; and second, by active exercise, where the power of concentration of the patient has reached a point where he voluntarily does the work with assistance of the operator.

Other types of cases handled by physical therapists are fracture cases; pre and post operative surgical cases, such as restoration of function by re-educating muscles that have been transplanted; stiff joint cases; sprains; bruises; fatigue; and ever so many other types.

There are many phases to be considered in our chosen field and a great many difficult and discouraging cases which present great problems to us. But one of the most difficult and discouraging types of cases are those of Spastic Paralysis with its associated disability to its victims. The lesions manifest themselves in physical incapacity ranging from a mildly crippled gait to complete helplessness, and mental states ranging from apparent normal minds to complete idiocy. The exact cause of this disease is not known, but it is assumed to be some disturbance or impairment of the cerebral nerve tissues. Spastic Paralysis is of two types; congenital spastic paralysis which is very rare and thought to be due to cerebral hemorrhage resulting from difficult labor, and non-congenital spastic paralysis following cerebro-spinal-meningitis, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and diphtheria, or it may be the result of a fall or blow on the head. The prognosis or termination, or outlook of the disease depends on the extent of the central lesion. If there is a marked impairment, surgery is of little or no value. If there is but little mental impairment, much benefit may be gained from surgery. In almost all cases, the patient may be taught to stand alone, with or without the use of braces and may be taught to walk even though very poorly.

The treatment of Spastic Paralysis is wholly orthopedic. The main purposes of treatment being to stimulate the nutrition of paralyzed parts by means of muscle training exercises designed to create co-ordination of movement, and to stimulate the over-stretched muscles in the direction of their function.

Another field for Physical Therapeutics is that of the so-called Spinal Curvatures. There are four natural curves to the spine; two primary, and two secondary. If for any reason these natural curves are increased, reversed, or deviated from a straight line, a pathologic condition occurs which is known as Spinal Curvature.

There are three kinds of Pathologic Curvatures of the spine; first, Kyphosis, which means a posterior convexity at the upper dorsal region, commonly known as "hump back," second, Lordosis, or increased anterior convexity of the lumbar region—commonly known as "sway back," and then the most common type of all in which there is a lateral deviation of the spine, called Scoliosis. Scoliosis is much too frequently not discovered until some structural change has taken place in the spine.

The word Scoliosis was given to this curvature of the spine by Hippocrates, and the word means to twist or bend. So in Scoliosis there is a flexion, side bending and twisting of the vertebrae on their vertical axis. There is much discussion about the treatment of Spinal curvature, and authorities do not agree except in this one particular: Before any definite structural deformity has taken place, treatment by exercise alone is of little or no use. Deep breathing and hanging exercises, either from a horizontal bar or by means of the Sayrehead apparatus, may be used to great advantage.

Empyema—a purulent effusion in the lungs often follows acute cases of pneumonia. After the acute stage of the disease has passed and during convalescence, the absorption of fluid may be hastened by therapeutic exercises. The lungs should be gently and gradually expanded by deep breathing, which will increase the mobility of the chest walls. The lower part of the body may be strengthened by the use of abdominal exercises accompanied by diaphragmic breathing, because of decreased involuntary exercise, the lower trunk muscles lack tonicity because of labor and limited breathing. As a result the entire system suffers. The patient must be taught to take deep breaths so that the base of the lung on the affected side may be thoroughly aerated.

At the Letterman General Army Hospital in San Francisco, California many operative cases of empyema were helpfully treated by exercise during the convalescing stage. I have at present a very severe case of empyema where there has been a resection of several ribs, two drain tubes, a hollow chest, and a spinal curvature besides excessive loss in weight, and this patient is being much benefitted by systematic treatment and exercise. Her drain tubes have not been removed and yet she is showing great improvement from the deep therapy light and gentle breathing exercises.

One of the most important factors in Physical Therapeutics is that of Hydrotherapy or water cure. Its effects are produced first, by cleaning the skin and stimulating it to greater activity and second, by temperature—heat and cold—affecting the skin through the nerve and blood supply and third, the mechanical effect of water under pressure, affecting the skin and rubbing during the bath. Water is applied for these effects either locally or to the whole body by compresses or fomentations; by emersions or streams of running water.

In order to be of benefit a bath must produce what is known as a reaction. This is known both to the patient and the operator by a healthy pink color of the skin. The patient is in a glow, feels happier in mind and stronger in body.

If the patient becomes pale and clammy at once, we know that the bath has been too vigorous. As you know the skin is made up of microscopic cells piled together to form thick pavement, this pavement is laid on a base of so called connective tissue cells, and through the connective tissue runs the numerous nerves and blood supply.

All these structures have an important part to play in our various reactions—such as protection, heat regulation, etc.

The reflex action of water is very efficacious in many types of illness. We know that water dashed on the skin will produce an involuntary deep gasp, the heart beat is quickened and there is a marked contracting of the large muscles of the body and a marked though invisible stimulation of internal organs. By repeating these stimulations day after day the body machinery is speeded up. These treatments would not be given to persons suffering from acute infections unless so ordered by the attending physician but for persons who are sluggish of habit, they have a very definite value.

Another type of disease for which the medical profession is turning more frequently to physical therapeutic methods of treatment is that of Arthritis. Dr. Joel Goldthwait describes arthritis as three kinds—infectious arthritis, atrophic arthritis, and hypertrophic arthritis.

In infectious arthritis the infection may be focal, caused by pus around the teeth, in the tonsils, or in the intestinal tract; or it may be due to tuberculosis or other infections so obscure that the source is difficult to determine. Always the source of infection should be removed or treated as the case may require.

In atrophic or rheumatoid arthritis it is possible that there is some neurotrophic disturbance, and in the last Hypertrophic arthritis, commonly known as osteo-arthritis we find the most serious type of all. A careful study of the diet is an important factor in treating all cases of arthritis—before an operator takes any case of arthritis in charge, it is well that she know to what general type her patient's case belongs as the treatment is different for each type.

I hope I have not been too scientific in my talk to you about my work, but I have given you as nearly as I can a little insight into the work that I am doing daily, and I have used the very simplest terms. It is very hard to write on any subject that the general public does not know but if you dear people could only know the many joys, sorrows, laughs and sobs that come in my daily routine, you would rejoice with me in the little part I play in relieving suffering humanity.

I want to thank each and every one of you for the big part you have played this last year in giving me such an opportunity to serve and I never lose sight of the fact that my beloved fraternity has enabled me to do one of the noblest works to man—SERVICE.

AMERICANIZING MEXICANS IN CALIFORNIA

By MILDRED WATERS BOYLES, Washington B

About fourteen years ago I said to a fellow-member of a local sorority, "Do you suppose we could get a chapter of Pi Phi to come in here?—and thereby (as I have always seen it) was begun the inception of Washington B chapter of Pi Beta Phi. Could I have foreseen, though, that at some far future date, the official publication of Pi Beta Phi would ask me to write them of what I was doing, I would have been even more surprised than I would have been, could I have foreseen what I was going to be fourteen years from that time.

For at that time I could number the foreigners I knew upon the fingers of one hand, and I had never to my knowledge, even seen a Mexican. I had grown up in the state of Washington which has the smallest foreign population, proportionately, of any state in the Union. I can remember that I had a distinct, though undemonstrated interest in the two Japanese in my class; undemonstrated I suppose, because I thought then, as many Americans still think, that it isn't quite the thing to be interested in foreigners. Some years since, war and all its complications threw me into a new line of work in government hospitals, and unconsciously on my part, the foreign-born soldier was the one who most often appealed to me and in whom I was most often interested. I was always wondering of what he was thinking, and of what his background consisted, as contrasted to ours. A short service in the Government Hospital at Ellis Hospital at Ellis Island intensified my interest in foreigners, and when I came back home to Southern California I found myself wondering how they did things just across the line in Mexico. It is only a step from wondering how they do things, to finding out. And I began by reviving the faint knowledge I had of Spanish, and then I made a couple of trips far down into the fascinating and beautiful land of "Manana." And to make even one trip into interior Mexico, is to want to return, as anyone who has ever been lucky enough to go, will tell you. It is an especial privilege to be able to spend a summer at the University in Mexico City, for there one is thrown into contact with the cultured and traveled whose European manners and fluency to converse in five languages gives most of us an entirely new idea of Mexican charm and ability.

When I came back from Mexico in September and unexpectedly took the position of Director of Immigrant Education in Santa Ana, it was still to find out, day by day, just how they do things in Mexico—for most of our immigrants here are Mexicans, and our problem is wholly Mexican. Santa Ana has a population of about 30,000, and about one-sixth of this is Mexican. Most of them are employed to pick walnuts, oranges and lemons on the nearby ranches. I am only one of many teachers doing the same sort of work here in California, and in Texas and Arizona, too. Just yesterday I heard a well-known educator from Chicago say that they even had a Mexican problem there. For the Southwest no longer has a corner on these people who are presenting themselves in various parts of our country to take the place of cheap labor that we formerly imported from other countries. Often, too, a Mexican crossing the border, through the activities of some unscrupulous agency, finds himself in Chicago or Kansas City when he had thought he was going to that Mecca of Mexicans, Los Angeles.

When you learn that at the present time there are in Los Angeles between 65,000 and 100,000 Mexicans, and that here in Santa Ana in our day-classes there are several grand-mothers who were born in the United States, and yet who cannot speak a word of English, then you realize that there is great need for this sort of teaching, not only for American protection and interests, but because some of us—(and more and more of us) are feeling an increasingly heavy sense of responsibility and interest toward our sister republic. We have realized that the solution of Mexico's problem is education, and not intervention. We know that not fifteen percent of her people can read and write, and that this is more tragic because they have never had the chance to learn. We know that the Mexican, especially the peon, is a migratory person by nature, and we realize that many of those whom we teach here may wander back to their own country. In this way, bread cast upon the waters here in the United States may eventually be cast up in the form of toast on Mexican soil.

And so the work of an Americanization teacher when she is a teacher of Mexicans, takes on especial problems. They call us Americanization teachers, but it is seldom that a Mexican ever intends to or does become a citizen of the United States. The Los Angeles Naturalization Office shows an average of about one a month, and El Paso with a population which is half Mexican naturalizes between twenty and thirty a year. The psychology of the Mexican (or the Mexican Indian) as regards his love for that particular spot of soil upon which he happened to be born, is very different from the psychology of other foreigners who come to this country with the avowed intention of becoming citizens as quickly as possible, often because it is to their commercial advantage to do so. Then, too, the Mexican immigrant has a historical and social background for his particular way of regarding naturalization. He remembers that this very soil was once Mexican, and when he crosses the invisible border line he is very apt to continue to live with his countrymen just as he did in Mexico. And so because the Mexican must like both the school and the teacher, or he won't come to school at all, we don't urge naturalization, except by such circuitous routes that it could not possibly be detected as such. But we do urge all the things that make for good citizenship: cleanliness and English; English and keep your children in school; eat vegetables instead of so many "frijoles and "tortillas—and learn English; learn English and get a better job; and so on—until now, it is "Bring your baby to the Baby Clinic and learn in English how to take care of it," for the Baby Clinic is the newest as well as one of the most important of our ventures.

A certain contractor here in town constructed a Mexican court that houses about forty families. That he painted the entire apartment a bright pink was proof of the fact that he understood Mexicans very well. The School Board was quick to realize the possibilities of classes conducted there, so they pay the rent of an apartment and we hold English classes there several times a week. The Daughters of the American Revolution furnished the two rooms in a manner somewhat approximating what the families living in the court, should and could have. In another year we hope to have the apartment function as a demonstration center for both cooking and sewing classes. The English classes have been more than successful, and recently we have started, under the supervision of the City Nurse and a public-spirited doctor, a baby clinic that is examining both sick and well babies. After the examination is over we conduct a class in simplest English (and sometimes in Spanish) on the care of the baby. If the interest and untiring efforts of both the nurse and the doctor are proof of success, then success is assured.

And I think that untiring efforts and interest are as successful with Mexicans as with any other group of people. The horizon of the Mexican woman is pitifully narrow, and among no group of people are little acts of kindness and helpfulness so apt to be repaid with such a large percentage of what they can (or cannot) afford. A few days ago on my birthday this was the more forcibly demonstrated to me by the arrival of a group of "Senoras" at my apartment; they expressed "muchas felicidades" which means "many happy returns," they bore many bunches of flowers, and together they had purchased a good-sized and rather expensive carved marble Bird-Bath. Several weeks before I had openly admired a smaller and somewhat similar one in a woman's home, thinking it well to be loud in my praise of what was really beautiful as opposed to machine embroidery and ingenious picture-frames constructed of green, white and red embroidery. Now my feelings are a combination of gratitude versus chagrin, plus bewilderment as to where I am going to use a bird-bath in my small apartment.

Among this same group of women I have started a needle-work class. The money was given to me by the "Young Ladies' Institute," an interested group of young Catholic women here, and I hope eventually to work up a sort of home industry among the Mexican women. Many of them do beautiful hand-work, though they seem to have little idea of what materials to use or where to put it. We are doing a little drawn-work, for of course that is a native craft, but we are doing more cross-stitch in peasant designs and coloring on beautiful linens. I hope that later we can work up a trade for cross-stitched peasant dresses for children and perhaps for grown-ups, as well.

But things in Mexico cannot be accomplished in a day, and anyone who knows Mexicans knows that they cannot be hurried. Moreover, the Mexican considers it rude to hurry, and to him all the niceties of politeness are the very breath of life. And so, since any movement with them cannot happen with great speed, we plug along with night schools. These are for people of other nationalities, too, who perhaps are quicker and more aspiring, but not so lovable and childlike. We have a beginning class so that Tony Garcia who has just come to this country may be helped to get adjusted the more quickly; and we have intermediate classes that Juan Medina can the better understand his boss; and we have advanced classes so that the English of the enterprising ones may be polished off and their general information increased. Then, too, we have the only class in study of constitution and preparation for citizenship in the county, but, of course, we have no Mexicans in this. And finally, because English to the Mexican is not nearly so important as his love of music, we have an orchestra with a Mexican director and a "simpatica", Spanish teacher, for pianist. In order that the rest of the Night School may know what the orchestra is doing, and so that the Mexicans from all sides of Santa Ana may have some central gathering place, we have Mexican programs and dances with Mexican talent and music. Sometimes it is an American holiday we celebrate, again it is a Mexican "Fiesta" and we stand for the "Himno Nacional de Mexico" as well as for the Star-Spangled Banner. Quite often my friend, Leonardo Bielma says, "When are you going to make another dance?"

We have seven loyal and interested assistant teachers who believe that true Americanization begins and ends with friendliness, and we are building, slowly and surely, a foundation for good citizenship, whether it may be here or in Mexico. We aim to be first their friends, second their teachers. Perhaps we can never realize how much our friendship means to them until we, too, are foreigners in a strange land.

Comradeship—from north and south and east and west,
Opportunity—for gaining what is best.
National spirit—ever strong and full and free,
Vision of a Gamma Phi that is to be.
Endeavor, too, that's tireless in her cause;
Nonsense, fun, frivolity—in ev'ry pause.
Tonic from this very work and play and fun
Increased enthusiasm, zeal, for ev'ry one.
Old friends, true friends of college days to greet;
New ties to form and strengthen—and new friends to meet.

BOOK NOTES

The Sorority Hand Book, ninth edition, by Ida Shaw Martin has just come from the press. The book contains chapters on The Higher Education of Women, The Evolution of the Sorority System, and the Mission of the Sorority.

Information is given concerning the academic and professional sororities as follows: names and addresses of the national president, secretary and editor; date of founding; the chapter roll; colors; flower; motto; insignia; magazine and the date and location of the next convention.

The volume also contains a list of the members of the American Association of University Women and statistical data pertaining to the institutions in which there are chapters of the national women's organizations mentioned in the book.

In a supplement, Mrs. Martin lists forty-seven men's fraternities and gives a paragraph of statistics concerning each one.

The book may be obtained from Mrs. W. H. Martin, 5 Cobden St., Boston, 19, Mass.

"Michigan Beta of Pi Beta Phi" is a most interesting pamphlet of sixteen pages just issued by the alumnae of Michigan Beta. The history of the chapter and of the chapter house is given in detail in addition to the financial statement pertaining to the house fund. There is also a list of charter members and patronesses and valuable information concerning the alumnae association and the alumnae advisory board. Such a pamphlet is an admirable thing through which to interest the alumnae in the active chapter and to give a thorough knowledge of chapter finances and organization.

PI PHI RELATIVES

JAMES A. DRAIN—brother-in-law of Eleanor Andrews Drain and Jeanette Thorpe Drain, Nebraska B, is the national commander of the American Legion. Mr. Drain and his brother are associated in the practice of law with offices in Washington, D. C. He has four daughters but all were educated in English schools as the family were abroad during much of their school life.

ANAN RAYMOND—husband of Florence Hostetler Raymond, Nebraska B. When the national convention of the American Legion is entertained this year by the largest post in the world, that at Omaha, Nebraska, the commander of the host post will be Mr. Raymond. He is also of the legal profession and a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

ALBERT I. BEACH—husband of Marjorie Marshall Beach, Kansas A, in his first year as mayor of Kansas City has been so far successful in his promise of civic economy as to change a last year's budget deficit of nearly one million dollars to a budget credit this year of almost five millions.

JOHN W. MARTIN—brother-in-law of Agnes Musselwhite Martin, Florida B, is the governor of Florida.

DR. PAUL MONROE—husband of Emma Ellis Monroe, Indiana A, is acting dean of Columbia University. At present, accompanied by Mrs. Monroe, he is making a world tour in the interests of the John D. Rockefeller Foundation of Schools, the League of Nations and the Near East Relief Society.

ROY PARTRIDGE—husband of Imogene Cunningham Partridge, California B, is an etcher of note and professor of art at Mills College.

PAUL CADMAN—husband of Frances Mills Cadman, California B, is professor of economics and assistant dean of men at the University of California.

PAUL S. TAYLOR—husband of Katharine Whiteside Taylor, Wisconsin A, is also a professor of economics at the University of California.

DR. ROBERT HARVEY GAULT—husband of Anne Lee Gault, New York B, is head of the department of Psychology in Northwestern University and the editor of the "Journal of Criminal Law and Criminology." At present Dr. Gault is on leave in Washington, D. C., carrying on researches under the American Academy of Science and the National Council of Research. He discovered the possibility of interpreting speech through touch and his researches deal with this study. Dr. Gault is a member of Delta Theta, Phi Eta, and Sigma Xi.

BURROWS, A. T.—father of Dorothy Burrows, Illinois Z, has been elected Grand President of Phi Sigma Kappa.

MOONEY, RALPH—Phi Delta Theta, husband of Margaret Sharp Mooney, Missouri B, is commanding recognition in the literary world with his splendid short stories. "David Judd," his latest novel which has been appearing in serial form in Munsey's is based on historical facts and shows a comprehensive understanding of the early history of the Mississippi Valley.

COOKSON, THOMAS, Grand Secretary of Phi Kappa Psi, is the husband of Mignon White Cookson, Indiana B.

RICE, PHILIP BLAIR—son of Jeannette Blair Rice, Indiana Γ , secretary of the Bloomington, Indiana alumnae club, has recently been named from the state of Indiana as a Rhodes Scholar. Philip Rice is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and has been active in journalism and dramatics at Bloomington. He received his B. A. degree, with highest honors, at the mid-year commencement.

NEWS FROM LITTLE PIGEON

DOROTHY SMALLWOOD GEARE (Mrs. R. W.), Columbia A

In the three years that the School has had the Smith-Hughes Agriculture the work has developed and broadened out until as the following article shows, it touches many people on the very remote edges of our community. The half day of class work in this School during the nine months of school and the one afternoon in the Sugarlands School each week is only a small part of the work really done.

This spring incubators and brooders have been running on the community plan. Two boys look after them, different men bring the eggs here and the expense of operation and care is divided among them. So far this plan seems to be working out well.

A group of men meet every Saturday night for lessons and talks on poultry raising and marketing. Now they want to organize into an association for the better marketing of their poultry.

In addition to this there is a Community Club that meets once a month, oftener this time of year when it is necessary to plan for a carload of fertilizer, etc.

There are constant calls for Mr. Mattil to look over orchards, some of them miles from here, calls to see sick horses or cows and this past month, calls to inoculate dogs as there has been a mad dog scare.

All this is preparatory to the announcement that I want to make. After months and even years of work we have at last succeeded in securing Smith Hughes work for the months of April, May, June and July in the Home Demonstration Department. The teacher is already here and we are planning classes in Sugarlands, perhaps one or two other nearby communities and of course here in Gatlinburg.

It is a long and difficult task to work up interest among those who never have been in school, but, if it can be done with the men I am sure that it can with the women, and I am looking forward to good canning, sewing and cooking clubs during the summer months. If this does work out well, I feel sure the state will grant us the Smith Hughes work through the entire year. With the state and federal funds paying five-eighths of the salary we would not find it a burden to finance the work.

EVELYN BISHOP.

PIONEERING IN AGRICULTURE

Smith Hughes Agriculture, although a particular type of work is not always the same. Particularly does this hold true at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School in Gatlinburg, Tennessee for among the mountain people conditions are such that a distinct difference exists in the nature of work when compared with more advanced rural communities. Should I endeavor to apply a descriptive term to the work as found here, I would call it "Pioneering in Agriculture." To make clear my point and to give a better idea of some of the problems as met with in striving for agricultural advancement in the community, I want to relate what I consider a typical case.

Education by talks, illustrations, demonstrations or other methods is usually all we consider required in putting over our vocational work, but here, when all this is accomplished, I hit the real SNAG as you will see from the following incident.

Mr. B—, a fairly progressive mountain farmer, owns a farm on Fighting Creek. He has a very good orchard and in addition uses a small acreage for growing of truck crops. The sale of vegetables and fruit has become a source of income and "living" for him and his family. After hearing and seeing and perhaps reading, he has finally become convinced that the only way his orchard can give him the profitable returns it should will be for him to use better methods; to prune and spray. Educated to this point and with a firm resolve to do the necessary things he still hesitates. The cost—he hasn't the money to do what he feels will not only repay him but give him a good investment on his labors and money spent. Urged by this conviction to go ahead if a way can be found, he seeks my advice as agricultural instructor.

After talking with him a while, I decided it was a case where assistance would likely accomplish a great deal of good. I therefore volunteered to help him and see him through with his undertaking.

First came the pruning. At an appointed day I arrived to give him a lesson in pruning and to help him prune. Mr. B—, anxious and ready to learn, had an old trusty hand saw. (In this respect he has better tools than are usually used in the community for generally an axe is used and the trees literally "butchered up.")

Knowing what I could expect to find in the way of implements to work with, I of course took along the pruning tools. After explaining the principles of pruning and applying these by pruning with him for several hours, Mr. B felt that he was ready to try pruning by himself. But after several hours' use of the proper implements he realized that in order to do satisfactory work he needed tools, or at least a good saw.

Times were too hard with him to afford a pruning saw. Rather than see him handicapped and to see him mutilate his fruit trees with crude tools I entrusted him with one of the pruning tools from the Farm Shop for a few days (loaning equipment has not been considered a good policy but how else would the situation be met?)

After having pruned his orchard he expressed his appreciation of the saw and said: "I don't see how in the world I could have gotten along without it and done the pruning I did—need to buy one next year."

After the pruning was over there came the question of spraying. Spraying of course since it is a more costly operation offered a greater obstacle. It required not only an outlay of money for materials but a spray pump also. Thirty dollars for a spray pump was out of the question so Mr. B asked if he could use the Barrell spray pump belonging to the School if he would come for it and return it. As he lived five miles from Gatlinburg the trips would almost amount to the cost of the pump by the end of the year. Next came the question of materials.

The cost was inquired into and when it was found to be about $10.00 the question of spraying became an uncertain one. Ten dollars of ready money even distributed over several months of time would have been uncertain with Mr. B. He had money coming in soon and also would have some during the summer and fall but none when it was needed for this work. It was also his desire to keep from making obligations that he was not certain of meeting at a specified time. After he was assured that I would see about getting the materials and would take care of the payments for awhile, arrangements were completed. When the time was being set for me to go and show him how to spray, he suggested that we wait a week as he had to be at "the works" to earn enough money to pay for the fertilizer for his crops.

At the time of writing this Mr. B— has pruned his orchard and has done a very creditable job. The orchard is made up of about 150 trees. Also one spray has been applied to the trees and plans have been made to continue a complete schedule of spraying.

The story of Mr. B— represents fairly well a difficulty most often necessary to overcome before really getting results in community work here in Gatlinburg. People, after being convinced that better methods would be profitable, are really kept from using them by lack of funds. Because of the small amount of ready money they feel they cannot afford to use the better methods, not because they do not believe these will pay, but because they lack capital.

Just how this obstacle can best be removed is a problem for future thought.

A. J. MATTEL.

TWO NEW SCHOLARSHIPS

Since Pi Beta Phi does not solicit aid and assistance for our Settlement School from those not members of the fraternity, it was a great pleasure to have the Unity Church in Montclair, New Jersey voluntarily raise money enough to donate two scholarships for students attending our School.

It all began when the Rev. Edgar Swan Wiers, the minister of Unity Church, saw the Pi Beta Phi benefit performance of "Sun-Up" given under the auspices of the New York Alumnae Club. Later, while he and Mrs. Wiers were touring in the Upper South last summer, they spent a week-end at our Settlement School at Gatlinburg and their enthusiasm for the work we are doing inspired them to urge their church to devote an entire evening to our Pi Phi School.

On Good Friday evening, April 10, a dinner was held in Unity House, 67 Curch St., Montclair, N. J., and a charge of $1 a plate was made for the dinner. At least 25c of every dollar so received went towards a Scholarship.

Kate B. Miller, formerly a member of our Settlement School Committee, had stereopticon slides and told about the school and the mountaineers; Mr. and Mrs. Wiers told of their visit in the community; and baskets, linens, woolen coverlets, chairs, etc., made by the mountaineers were on sale.

A great deal of interest was aroused which will probably result in an annual scholarship given by the parishioners of the Unity Church. Such a voluntary contribution is a high recommendation for our work on Little Pigeon.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Washington Alumnae Club wishes to express its thanks and appreciation of the generous response of Pi Phis throughout the country in the sale and purchase of Fleischer Hosiery. Through the efforts of Laura Joy Hawley, New York Δ , the Washington Club had the opportunity of selling the hosiery and it was through the generous cooperation of many Pi Phis that $1,200 was raised for our Settlement School.

EDITORIALS

FOOD FOR thought is a resolution passed at the last convention of Kappa Alpha Theta, which says: Resolved, That no chapter shall be allowed a vote at convention unless the chapter scholarship average for the biennium prior to the convention is equal to the general average of its college.

Such a resolution is a splendid one and should be given careful consideration by all National Panhellenic Congress fraternities.

LETTERS have come to the Editor's desk suggesting that we use in the ARROW a full page sheet headed: "Your page to Edit." This sheet as suggested would be detachable and could be filled out and returned to the editor. Such a full page arrangement is contrary to postoffice rules. According to the law quoted recently to the Arrow Editor, only half a page can be used for such purpose and would not warrant the expense entailed.

SEVERAL valuable manuscripts and photographs sent to the ARROW Editor by contributors have been lost in the mail during the past year. If you have sent in contributions which have not been published write to the Editor in order to ascertain whether the manuscripts were received. If you are sending material which cannot be duplicated it would be advisable to have it registered.

AIR MAIL should prove a boon to secretaries who are delayed in getting their chapter letters into the mail on time. For 8 or 16 cents letters may be sent by air mail and thus save many hours of time. Try it.

A RATHER DELICATE subject is that of charging alumnæ or guests who return to the chapter house for the week-end or for several days' visit. A meal or two does not represent a very large monetary sum and yet when a chapter is centrally located and has many visitors the cost of entertaining guests soon becomes appreciable. In order to save embarrassment it is suggested that the chapter decide upon a stipulated sum and the visiting alumnæ will be very glad to pay it. In one chapter the sum of $135 has been paid into the treasury during the past five months by alumnæ who visited. No charge was made for a room but a moderate sum was set for meals. The entertaining of general chapter guests does not fall upon the chapter as a whole but must be paid for by the individuals who have to meet the chapter house living expenses.

THE REVIEW of "Saddle Bags" which appeared in the December ARROW was not made primarily to raise money but was published chiefly to interest our members in the mountain country of the Southland. A knowledge and understanding of the people and the conditions of the Land of Saddle Bags can be obtained through reading the book. If each one of us could visit the territory along the Little Pigeon we would be willing to do more than our share to support our Settlement School which is doing such splendid work. Copies of the book may be obtained from Mrs. Franklin D. Cogswell, (Colorado B), 16 Cedars Road, Caldwell, New Jersey.

SPECIAL ADVERTISING rates have been decided upon for material used in the main body of THE ARROW in order to give those Pi Phis who are engaged in commercial enterprises an opportunity to reach the entire fraternity. A rate of 4 cents a word will be charged for announcements or advertisements in the body of the magazine. Regular display rates may be obtained from the Editor for advertisements in the regular advertising section. Mention of special enterprises undertaken by fraternity members may be made through the alumnæ personals without charge.

PLEASE NOTE that in the report of money received for the Settlement School, which appeared in the October 1924 issue of THE ARROW, credit of $127 was given to the Athens Club and no credit to Ohio Gamma Club. The correct amounts should have been: Athens Club, $102 and Ohio Gamma Club, $25.00.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MONEY for the Settlement School may be made by chapters or clubs in getting subscriptions for a Child's Garden Magazine. Francis M. Wigmore, editor, Orland, California, will allow a discount of 75c upon each yearly subscription until September 1. A Child's Garden is a most delightful publication and brings happiness to every child who sees it.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES should be sure to check the list of initiates for this year to make sure that each one has been reported to the Grand Secretary. They should also send lists of officers for the fall semester to all members of the Grand Council and to the Province President concerned.

EACH SCHOLARSHIP chairman of active chapters should make sure that the second semester report duly recorded on the official blanks is sent to her province scholarship supervisor. She should also send names, photographs, and a record of honors and degrees of all honor graduates to Marion Wilder, Chairman of Scholarship Committee.

BALFOUR SUGGESTION CONTEST, 1925—The success of the Balfour Suggestion Contest last year prompts that company to conduct another one. Constructive ideas of practical value and the continued interest and loyal co-operation of their customers are the objects of the contest.

To a member of any college fraternity or sorority sending the best letter containing suggestions to improve the Balfour service, says Mr. Balfour, "We will offer a full diamond badge, or if your regulations prohibit the use of diamond badges we will offer its equivalent in any other product of this Company. For the second and third best suggestions we will offer diamond and pearl badges; for the fourth and fifth, pearl and diamond badges; and for the next five, full pearl badges.

"As further evidence of our desire thoroughly to satisfy each customer we will offer attractive prizes in gold to anyone who files a justifiable complaint. Members of sororities will be given gold brooches, bar pins, or other articles. Members of fraternities will be given gold cuff links, waldemar chains, charms, etc.

"The committee which will award the prizes will have no business connection with this Company."

CAMP KIMOHO in the Colorado Mountains owned and managed by Gertrude Fitz-Randolph Currens, Colorado A, of Boulder, Colo., is a most delightful summer camp for girls.

Stromquist who died at Palo Alto, California in April. To Mrs. Gregg Evans (Ruth Swanson), her sister, the club also extends its sympathy.

CONVENTION—BIGWIN INN—JUNE 1925!

IN MEMORIAM

BURT, SARAH RAE, passed away Feb. 27, 1925, after a prolonged illness. She was initiated into I. C. Sorosis in 1881 and later into $\Pi B \Phi$. During the months of her illness she was tenderly cared for by her four sisters with whom she made her home. Sarah will be greatly missed in the Burlington Alumnæ Club, of which she was a loyal member.

CONNELL, (MRS. DANIEL P.), RETTA MOORE, of Mt. Carroll, Ill., died Jan. 6, 1925, at her home, after a three years' illness and intense suffering from cancer. She was initiated into Pi Phi, Dec. 4, 1897 at the Boston University chapter, Massachusetts A.

She was born in Salem, Ill., Dec. 27, 1877, and received her early education at Mt. Carroll Seminary. For a time after her college days she devoted herself to the care of her parents in Mt. Carroll, who were both failing in health, then later travelling extensively over the United States and Canada.

On June 30, 1915 she was married to Daniel P. Connell of Chicago, attorney for the Illinois Central railroad. She leaves no children.

Her beautiful character, her broad charity, her sweet patience and loving thought for all with whom she came in contact, will be a lasting memory and inspiration to all who knew her.

INGALSBE, (MRS. FRANK R.), LENA BIXBY, Vermont A, 1903, died March 25, 1925, in Missoula, Mont., after more than a year of ill health. During her four years at Middlebury College she was one of the chapter's most loyal and enthusiastic sisters.

The two years following her graduation she taught in Vermont, her native state. In June, 1905, she married Frank R. Ingalsbe, a college classmate, spending the next year in Boston, then removing to Bethlehem, Pa. In 1911 they moved to Missoula, Mont., where Mr. Ingalsbe has served as state geologist and professor at the state university.

Though Lena stood first of all as a wife and a mother her interests were not confined to the home circle. She was a member of the Eastern Star and of the Missoula Women's Club. She was eagerly enthusiastic for the establishment of a Pi Phi chapter in the university there and was helpfully interested in the girls of the local sororities.

Besides her husband, her mother and a sister, she leaves three children: Francis, Ellamary and Bliss Emery.

Those of us who admired and loved Lena, not only for her unusual physical beauty, but for her qualities of womanhood and loyalty, extend to her family our sympathy in this, our mutual bereavement.

LEVISEE, DOROTHY PATTERSON, Nevada A, 1918, died Dec. 11, 1924 in San Francisco, Calif., just a few hours after the marriage of her sister, Marguerite Patterson. Dorothy Patterson was also a member of Michigan A.

PLUMMER, HONOR L., was born at Waterford, Maine. In the fall of 1903 she entered the University of Colorado at Boulder and a few months later was initiated into Colo. A of $\Pi B \Phi$. After her graduation she continued her college work in the Library School of the University of Illinois and finished the course in 1912. All this was accomplished in spite of ill health, which constantly menaced her college career.

Just previous to the time of her death, April 6, 1925 at the Milwaukee Sanatorium, Wauwatosa, Wis., she seemed to be feeling unusually well. Her parents and her sister, Mrs. R. B. Morton (Fanny Plummer, Colo. A), are left to mourn her going.

SOLES, (MRS. H. EDWARD), MARIE COVELL, was born July 6, 1895 in Taunton, Mass. At the age of five she moved with her parents to Springfield, attending school in that city through her first year of high school. In 1911 she moved to Brocton and there finished her high school course. Entering Boston University in 1913 she was that year initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ and was active in college and fraternity affairs until she took her degree in 1917.

After a short vacation she took a position with Jordan Marsh Co., of Boston until December, when she was married to H.

Edward Soles. They went to live in Kingston, N. Y. for a year, where Marie was very prominent in girl scout work. While her husband was stationed at Camp Devens in 1918, she stayed with her parents. After the war she took a position in the Velten School, New York City and later in the Green Vale School, Roslyn, L. I., of which her husband was head master. She was teaching here at the time of her death, on March 26, 1925. She had suffered for six weeks from an illness which was followed by meningitis.

She leaves her husband, her mother and father and one brother.

Her sweet womanliness, her unselfishness and her brave, cheery helpfulness at all times endeared her to all who knew her. We say she died and yet we know that in our hearts she is a vital, loving and beloved sister, who gave so much of herself to us that she must go on living for all time in our consciousness.

WALLBANK, NELLIE B., died in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, Sunday, April 5, following an operation the previous Wednesday. Her death came as a great shock to her family and the fraternity of which she has been a member since her initiation in the fall of 1885. She had been a member of the alumnae club since its organization and was its president and leader of the club for a number of years. She graduated from the Mt. Pleasant High School and then attended and graduated from the State Teachers College at Cedar Falls. She taught in the Mt. Pleasant High School one year and then was called to Cedar Falls, where she was assistant instructor in the English department, teaching there seven years. She there edited and published a book on grammar which is still in use in the public school. Owing to failing eyesight she returned to her home where she lived until her death.

A gracious woman who would have graced any station in life, devoted to her family, content with her activities in the town, helpful to all who came within her influence, capable, serene, admired by all who knew her true worth—she was a devoted worker in the Presbyterian Sunday School, being superintendent for a number of years. She was secretary of the Red Cross and an active and valued member of many of the clubs of the town, but her devotion to Pi Phi was untiring. At the time of her death, she was a member of the committee on Survey and Standardization, and was formerly on that of Fraternity Study and Examination. Miss Wallbank fully believed $\Pi B \Phi$ to be the most uplifting influence to all college women. Her loss to the local alumnæ is beyond measure. To the members of her home, her aged mother, her brothers and sisters, we extend our deepest sympathy.

WATROUS, (MRS. PAUL J.), JANE GAPEN, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mildred Gapen Parker, at Janesville, Wis., after an illness of three months due to heart disease. She was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ at Wisconsin A, University of Wisconsin, and graduated there in 1909. Her husband, a son, a little daughter, two sisters and a brother are left to grieve her going. The funeral and interment took place at Madison, Wis.

WELSH, (MRS. EDGAR), MARIAN ELLIS, passed away on March 3, 1925. She was initiated into $\Pi B \Phi$ by Kansas A, Oct. 16, 1909.

WILLIAMS, (MRS. THOMAS W.), EDITH RIGGS, passed away on Jan. 11, 1925. Her death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage occurring two days before.

Edith Riggs was initiated into Iowa B, April 9, 1895 and was a loyal Pi Phi until the time of her death. She held many prominent positions in Long Beach. For several years she was the first and only woman cashier of any bank in the entire Southwest. This responsible position with the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Long Beach, Calif., she gave up to marry Thomas W. Williams, a stockholder and director of the bank. Her home life broadened into a life of service to her friends and to the community in which she lived for she was deeply interested in civic progress. She was a member of the Womans City Club, a P. E. O., a past president of the Ebell Club, a member of the Ebell Club Board of Directors, and an ardent worker on the Y. W. C. A. Board, of which she had been president for several years. Her annual report was finished the night before she was taken ill. She had just told Mr. Williams that her report was completed and that after her work on the community chest drive was over she would take a much needed rest. Her great activity in the above interests no doubt hastened her untimely death.

She was an ever ready worker for $\Pi B \Phi$ and her suggestions were always most worthwhile. The keen loss and sorrow felt by the Long Beach Alumnae Club, of which she was a charter member, cannot be expressed in words.

Services were held at the First Congregational Church and the many floral offerings bespoke the loving esteem in which she was held by all. Our love and sympathy go out to her husband and brothers and sisters who survive her.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

For every 30 Pi Phis who join the Yellowstone Park Horseback Tour, Bess Erskine Randall, Iowa Γ , will donate to the Settlement School—$300.

Although we have been disappointed in not increasing our club membership this year, the work carried on has been quite satisfactory. We have held all the meetings required by constitution, as well as several of a more social nature. In addition to these, the various groups into which the club has been divided have held interesting and profitable gatherings. Our membership is so scattered that we felt work might be more successful if carried on locally.

In November we were gratified to find the profits of our annual Salmagundi sale and tea for the benefit of the Settlement School, were larger than ever. The usual sale of Christmas cards also netted a considerable amount for our Settlement School Fund.

The meeting on the Constitution was made lively by a Cross Word Puzzle contest. Needless to say Mrs. Nickerson and Mrs. Rugg were in great demand.

At the Panhellenic Luncheon held in Boston, Pi Phi had one of the largest delegations.

Relations between alumnae and actives have been most cordial. At each meeting the actives have served tea at a small cost to the alumnae. The proceeds went toward aiding the chapter finances. As usual, the actives join us in celebrating Founders' Day.

Next month comes the "Vital Health Problems" meeting, followed in June by the Young Folks' Party. We are all looking forward in July to the annual outing at Mrs. Nickerson's summer home in Quincy.

A large delegation is planning to be present at Convention. From them we are expecting great enthusiasm and inspiration to carry on our work next year.

We have had a very delightful year's work under the leadership of our president, Ella Donnocker. We have been unfortunate in losing some of our most enthusiastic workers, among them:—Mrs. M. D. Disosway (Elda L'Hote, Ill. E), Mrs. H. E. Richardson (Genevieve Gifford, N. Y. A), Mrs. Philip Savage (Alice Sparks, Mo. B), Mrs. W. D. Blake (Alice Marshall, N. Y. F).

We have, however, added some very splendid new members:—Mrs. Oscar Luft (Sue Woody, Ark. A), and Mrs. Harold Meinweiser (Bessie Blanchard, N. Y. F), whom we hope will enjoy our club as much as we have already enjoyed them.

We meet twice a month, one Saturday afternoon and one evening meeting, in order to have the attendance of all of the members part of the time.

Our program has been varied. Our first meeting of the year was a fall picnic to which the husbands and children were invited. Our largest attendance was at the all day sewing meeting, when besides making flannel-ette night gowns for use at the Settlement School, we had a most enjoyable day. Purely social was our Christmas party for members and their families and the holiday bridge-tea for the girls home from college.

For our Founders' Day celebration we are planning a dinner on the evening of April 28 at a popular Buffalo tea-room. The executive committee has charge of the program and promises unusual entertainment. We hope especially to have all nearby Pi Phis who cannot meet with us regularly.

Our year, we feel, is never complete without a houseparty and a picnic and they are already on our program for late spring.

We are not certain that we shall have a representative at convention, but we are fortunate to be on the direct route to Bigwin Inn. We hope this will bring us the acquaintance of any of you who may stop over in Buffalo.

The club has been active throughout the year, holding meetings every month at the homes of the members.

Our president has been enthusiastic in her office and indefatigable in her work to make this year a success.

An especially enthusiastic meeting was held in November at the home of Juanita Rowell Bradlee, Mrs. Nickerson being the guest of honor. The club joined the chapter in entertaining Mrs. Nickerson at a tea at the Kliffa Club.

It has been the aim of the club throughout the year to keep in close touch with the actives. A Christmas party was given to the active chapter at the rooms and a coffee urn was presented to the girls.

On Founders' Day the club and the chapter will join in entertaining Vermont A at the Middlebury Alumnae Club.

The Mothers' Club has rendered valuable assistance throughout the year and increased substantially the house fund.

Our statistics on attendance are misleading. Three of the officers elected for this year moved out of the state last fall, so that the club has been rather disorganized and no bills for dues sent out. Only those members whose dues are paid for 1924-25 are here reported.

We have had two meetings this year. At the February meeting we had a showing of the Settlement School slides and were fortunate in having with us, Mrs. Brown, the Cataloguer, who could tell us much of the School. We are to have our Founders' Day Luncheon with the Springfield Club and we have planned to have one more meeting. It will be at Mrs. Brown's home and she has promised at that time to show us the inner workings of the catalogue.

We have raised money for the Settlement School by the sale of Christmas cards and the Munder reproductions and by subscription.

Our grateful thanks go out to Mrs. Cook, who has acted as our president in addition to her many duties, and so helped us to pull through this year after the loss of our officers.

Our club was most fortunate in the fall in having Jean McQueen, Province President, and Mrs. Nickerson here for a visit. We had an informal tea for each and gave a formal tea for the chapter and faculty in honor of Mrs. Nickerson.

In the fall, too, we had the Settlement School slides and a talk on the School for the chapter and the public was invited. We had the baskets and woven goods for sale then. We also have been selling the Munder prints and the book, "The Land of Saddlebags" for the benefit of the club. We have been able to send fifty dollars to the Settlement School and our quota of fifteen dollars to the Fellowship Fund. I hope every club can have the Settlement School pictures. They are great and make us mighty proud of the School.

In the fall we had a meeting for the new seniors of the chapter and later gave a very pleasant rushing party at the home of Dorothy Brainerd whose sister was one of the rushees. We have given some extra folding chairs to the chapter and a surprise gift of four dozen plates and cups and saucers for Founders' Day. This spring we plan to entertain the seniors and the initiates.

Our club is a year older and in better working order but we feel we have much to plan and work for. Our large membership helps with dues but we miss the many hands and minds. We had hoped to send out a bulletin to the chapter alumnae three or four times this year to keep them in touch with college and chapter news and things ΠΒΦ but it has not been done. What won't we do next year after we all come back from Convention!

Greetings to our sister clubs. We want to see you all at Bigwin.

Another extremely interesting year of the New York Alumnae Club has passed. The activities of the club were a little late in getting under way as our president, Mrs. S. C. Stebbins, Mich. A, was called to Europe and her duties were taken up by Mrs. O. C. Martin (Elinor Harmon, Ind. B), first vice-president, who was later unanimously elected president. Following the plan of last year, meetings have been held at the Allerton House, on the first Saturday of every month, with the exception of the October meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Jose R. F. Savage, Pa. A, of Jackson Heights, N. Y.

Some of the members who helped to make our meetings so pleasing were: Mrs. Ida Wright Bowman, Pa. A, who is regularly appearing upon the lecture platform and her talks on current events provide a fund of information; Mrs. L. A. Springer (Gertrude Hill, Kan. A), who told of her connection with a social service paper in New York; Mrs. H. N. Wilcox (Olive Rathburn, Wyo. A), private secretary to the explorer, Stefansson, who took us for a most interesting journey to the Australian Desert, a land known only to explorers and scientists who have gone there; Sophie P. Woodman, N. Y. B, a non-voting delegate to the International Federation of University Women held last July in Christiana who described some of her rambles in Scandinavia, which she illustrated with photographs; Mrs. Steere Mathew (Gladys Hagee, Colo. A), who recently made her operatic appearance in the role of "Gilda" in Rigoletto, who entertained with several delightful selections, and Mrs. Paul V. Frary (Gertrude Pettijohn, Ind. Γ), also a professional entertainer who gave some of her original and clever sketches. We are fortunate in having a great deal of talent from which to select and the chairman of a meeting is always sure of a good program. The January meeting was given over to our usual cooky-shine which is always so much fun. Madeline Carroll, N. Y. A, was chairman assisted by the N. Y. Δ and N. Y. A girls.

In February a Panhellenic Tea was held at the Roosevelt Hotel at which time a recital was given by Ruth Draper, a noted monologist and entertainer. This was indeed an afternoon well spent, both because of the style of entertainment and in the meeting of old friends from other women's fraternities.

Our Founders' Day Luncheon was held at the Astor Hotel on April 4. Mrs. Berton L. Maxfield (Winifred Hill, Mass. A) was executive chairman assisted by Mrs. C. G. Cleaver (Ethelyn Mardesty, Pa. Γ), as program chairman. This luncheon served a dual purpose since we not only met to honor our founders but also to extend a farewell to our president, Elinor Harmon Martin, Ind. B, who sailed in April expecting to make her home in Belgium for several years. We regret her departure yet look back upon her administration with thoughts of satisfaction.

We have tried to interest all Pi Phis whom we know to be living in or near New York. As usual, many have come to our vicinity and gone. The inflow has been greater than the exodus, however, and we are gaining in numbers. Several of the recently arrived Pi Phis live in suburbs which makes their average attendance low, but we are always glad to see them.

We gave our usual contribution to the Fellowship Fund but our main objective has been the Settlement School. A new plan for raising money was tried this year, that of voluntary contributions to "Little Pigeon," instead of holding card parties, rummage sales, etc. Mrs. Jose R. F. Savage, Pa. A, our sub-Settlement School Chairman, reports that she has received approximately $900. This represents a larger amount from fewer subscribers than last year, that is the per capita contributions being greater than a year ago. Mrs. Savage feels confident of reaching our goal of $2000 as only a comparatively small number have so far contributed. We have an added interest in the School this year as one of our members, Mrs. H. E. Chapin (Dora Hoffman, Ohio A), has gone there as a house mother to the girls. She writes us that she is very happy there and that her work is most congenial.

We have had several other interests this year. One was the purchase of the silver vase which is to be awarded at each Convention to the chapter which submits the best permanent song of permanent value. This custom was started by one of our members, Gladys H. Mathew, Colo. A, to foster better songs and music among the chapters. Also the subject of alumnae reorganization has been brought before us for discussion and serious thought by Mrs. William H. Lough (Elizabeth Sheperd, Wis. A), as chairman of the committee. Her final report will be brought up for discussion at the coming Convention. This leads me to say that we hope that many of our members will be able to attend the Convention.

We have two more meetings on our program for the year. The May meeting will include the election of new officers and the June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lough, in New Rochelle, N. Y. and this will be in charge of the executive committee. Our summer plans are never definite before events occur because so many members are away, but we meet occasionally at informal gatherings during the summer. We try to have one meeting for the Pi Phis who are taking summer courses at Columbia.

Our club has been active thruout the year in spite of the fact that for several months there were only four resident members in Canton. Each member has entertained the club at supper at least once this winter.

In place of our annual Christmas sale for the Settlement School we gave a card party at the chapter house and were able to make our usual contribution to the School from this money.

A most satisfactory meeting was held by the Advisory Committee and alumnae with Miss McQueen at the time of her last visit.

We were glad to welcome a number of the non-resident Pi Phis at our annual summer picnic which was held "up-river" in Canton last August.

Founders' Day we are planning to join the actives for their celebration. The chapter has been unusually thoughtful in inviting various members of the club to attend parties, cooky-shines and stunt nights. A number of the alumnae were here for the initiation banquet, in February.

The club is planning a luncheon at which we expect to have all the Pi Phis who are living in the nearby towns as our guests.

Foremost in our minds at present is Convention. Several of us are hoping to be there.

Our club this year has lost several of its old members who have moved to other cities, but the loss has been made up, in part, by the addition of six new members. The spirit of cooperation shown in all the activities of the club has been splendid.

Meetings have been held monthly at the homes of different members. The size of the club allows much informality and good fellowship. In the fall we had a most enjoyable "Sausage Roast." Our first meeting was October 18 at which our program for the year was arranged.

Our November meeting was devoted to Settlement School at which we packed a Christmas box for Little Pigeon and one of our members read some interesting accounts from "The Mountain Whites" by Horace Kephart.

We were more than pleased to have Mrs. Nickerson visit us in December.

Our cooky-shine was one of the most enjoyable events of our winter program.

This year, too, our constitutional meeting was quite unique and most satisfactory. The meeting was to represent a midnight quiz at the fraternity house, so all the girls donned nighties, pajamas, and kimonas and one, the "Senior," wore a cap and gown and asked the questions on the constitution, history, etc.

We are planning to celebrate Founders' Day with a luncheon at one of the nearby tea rooms. Several of our members are planning to be at the Convention at Bigwin Inn in June.

No definite plans for the summer have been made but we expect to have many little picnics and "get togethers" during the summer months.

We sent $200 to the Settlement School to be used as needed. This amount was raised by personal subscriptions augmented by the sale of Christmas cards and the sale of baskets and linens for the Settlement School.

We sent $10.00 for the Fellowship fund and $5.00 for the Loan fund.

Each year we send a gift to one of the two nearest chapters. This year we sent table linen to N. Y. A at Syracuse.

A Panhellenic association is most active here in Rochester, fourteen national women's fraternities being represented. Jane Bechtle Heston, (Iowa Γ), one of our members, is president this year.

We have closed a successful and happy year and send cordial greetings to all other sister clubs and welcome all Pi Phis in this vicinity to our meetings.

Syracuse Alumnae Club has had a very interesting and successful year. Meetings have been held twice monthly—a day meeting alternately with an evening meeting. At Christmas time we again sold Christmas cards and this netted $135 this year.

In February a dinner was held by the Panhellenic association at which three delegates from each fraternity were present. Pi Phi was one hundred percent in having every alumna a contributor to the Syracuse University Alumni Fund.

Plans are now under way for Founders' Day. A joint cooky-shine with the active chapter has been planned with the alumnae club in charge of the program.

Our club is also planning a rushing party for the early spring. This is to be in the form of a garden party.

We have enjoyed our meetings and are looking forward and making plans for next year.

The Toronto Alumnae Club has followed its usual plan of monthly meetings at the homes of its members. Our program this year has not been adhered to as it might have been, on account of so much time being given to plans for convention at Bigwin Inn. In November we had a very delightful visit from Mrs. Nickerson, and there is no need to say how much we enjoyed it. She told us a great many things of interest about our Settlement School, which seemed to lessen the distance to Gatlinburg by half.

Before Christmas the club dressed and sent some thirty dolls to a mission in India, where one of our members is a missionary nurse.

The Cabaret Dinner, the usual rushing party given by the alumnae was held at the home of one of the girls. A number of the actives and alumnae put on six or seven most interesting stunts. The latter were repeated the following evening at another home. Different friends and relatives were invited and an admission of 50c was charged, the proceeds of which went towards the Settlement School fund. In this way the girls raised $30.

The annual birthday party was held on December 11, and took the form of an old-fashioned cooky-shine. Our founders entertained the club with a most interesting play, based on a section taken from "Little Women," which they had given several years ago at the first rushing party held by Ont. A.

The initiation dinner took place on February 4, following a very impressive ceremony. A number of splendid speeches were made and the passing of the loving cup once again, made Pi Phi dearer to us.

Unfortunately, examinations interfere with holding Founders' Day on April 28, but we intend to celebrate it a week earlier at one of the tea rooms with an evening dinner.

Our election of officers for next year has not taken place yet. We expect to have two or three more meetings, which for the most part, will be devoted to convention plans. We are all working very enthusiastically and hope that this Convention will be one of the biggest, if not the biggest and best Pi Phi has ever known. May we take this opportunity now of welcoming to Canada all our Pi Phi sisters.

The Western Massachusetts Alumnae Club regrets the loss by removal of two most enthusiastic members, Mrs. Paul Otto and Catherine Christen. However, during the year we were compensated by welcoming Mrs. Joseph Webster to our circle.

The club has held a meeting each month since September and we are looking forward to our Founders' Day luncheon in Northampton the last of April.

In October the girls who had not been able to entertain us because of not living at home, gave an outdoor luncheon with the club as guests. The taste of frankfurters and fried sweet potatoes was enhanced by the spicy odor of wood smoke, and the setting of glorious foliage contributed to one of our best parties of the year.

A cooky-shine was held in November. Fannie Denio's Christmas party in December was most original and clever. At the January meeting luncheon napkins were embroidered with ΠΒΦ for the Mass. A chapter. In February a Settlement School program was arranged.

At our last meeting we discussed proposed changes in the alumnae department, and the Convention at Bigwin Inn.

Money for the Settlement School and Fellowship Fund has been raised by personal contribution.

This year has been a most successful one. We are able to do just a little more for the Settlement School than ever before. During the summer we sent a huge box of useful clothing, books and medical instruments to Miss Bishop; at Christmas time sixty-five gifts for the younger children, and in February, our contribution of $225 which amount we raised at a rummage sale and by the sale of Christmas cards. We sent $10 to the national Fellowship Fund.

Four new members have joined our club during the year—Mrs. James Coleman, Ark. A; Eleanor Norris, Md. A; Mrs. Lawrence Guinther, Ohio T, and Mrs. William Clapp, Pa. B.

Regular business meetings followed by tea have been held the second Saturday of each month. Other affairs were a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Miller, Christmas luncheon with Mrs. Ray Crisp, hostess, and a Valentine party given by Mrs. Rhys Evans and Mrs. Earl Crecraft. We are now arranging for a Founders' Day luncheon to be held at the home of Mrs. E. G. Reed. The last meeting of the year will be held in May when the program for the coming year will be arranged.

The death on April 6, of Lucy Ann Crecraft, the small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crecraft was a great shock to all of us.

Our club has been strengthened this year by the addition of several members from alumnae clubs from various sections of the country. In November, our president, Mrs. Theiss, was hostess at a very delightful luncheon-meeting at her country home, "Otzinachson," on the Susquehanna River. At that time Mrs. Davis told us some interesting phases of the work of the Cleveland club, with which she had been recently connected. Memories of the whole-hearted welcome given by our hostess as well as the pleasant social hours spent together on that beautiful autumn afternoon will linger with us a long time.

In March we enjoyed a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Wood in Lewisburg, at which time we were honored in having as our guest, our beloved Vice-President, Mrs. Nickerson. Mere contact with a personality such as hers is always an inspiration, so, needless to say, everyone felt greatly benefitted by the helpful and interesting talk which she gave us that afternoon.

We plan to celebrate Founders' Day as usual with the active chapter. We are hoping to be able to present to the girls at that time, some useful gift, in all probability, a silver tea-ura.

Our first attempt at selling Mrs. Gutgesell's Christmas cards was very successful and resulted in $85 for the Settlement School. Here's hoping we do even better next year.

The Cleveland Alumnae Club holds its meetings the first Saturday in each month from October to June inclusive. Luncheon is served at one o'clock after which the business meeting is held and the program of the day takes place.

Our program and entertainment committees arranged the meetings of the year as follows:

Founders' Day, 1924 was celebrated by a large number of club members and other Pi Phis at the home of Mrs. J. F. Zook. Musical numbers by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Mohler were very enjoyable and Mrs. Allyn read in her usual charming way.

Our meeting last June was most entertaining as the stunts included almost everyone present. We had divided our club into three sections—those living in East Cleveland, the Heights and the West Side. The Heights group sang the "Loving Cup" song, the East Clevelanders gave a pantomime performance of "Wild Nell, the Pet of the Plains" and the West Siders gave a marionette show, illustrating the reading by Mrs. Allyn of "Loch-invar."

Most of the time of the first meetings in the fall was taken up with the business of making money for the Settlement School. Plans were outlined, committees for the rummage sale, Christmas card books, etc., were reminded of their duties and reports were given. Our programs for the year and printed address lists were again generously given us by Mr. Warren S. Stone, a Pi Phi husband, and these were distributed at this meeting.

In November the club had its Constitution Day which was most instructive.

The December meeting consisted of the Christmas party. Those attending were dressed in children's clothes—some boys and some girls and made an amusing picture. After luncheon, a program in true "kid" fashion was given by some of the girls and boys. Mrs. Allyn or rather, Minnie Naylor gave a very amusing reading on "Christmas Trees." Santa Claus presented each child with a gift from his bag.

We were fortunate to have with us at our January meeting Mrs. C. E. Mark, chaperon at the Pi Phi house at Hillsdale, Michigan. Mrs. Mark is still one of us, however, and we were delighted to have her take charge of our "Active Chapter" program by speaking to us about the chapter at Hillsdale.

After our luncheon and business meeting in February, we played bridge.

At the March meeting—Settlement School Day, we received money gifts for the School. Our contribution this year to the Settlement School was $2,190 which amount was raised in the following ways:

Sale of baskets, $50; Birthday, $25; sale of Ice Cream, $20.00; sale of Christmas booklets, $10.15; card parties, $27.25; sale of Christmas cards, $348.20; sale of food left from several luncheons, $3.30; forwarded from last year, $16.60; Interest, $20.53; sale of Munder prints, $4.00; sale of pottery, $285.37; sale of Royce goods, $97.37; rummage sale, $909.21; sale of tatting, $6.70; taxi fares, $12.55; donations $414.02; money left over from assessments, $14.00.

Generous gifts were received from Mr. Warren S. Stone, Dr. Harold Cole and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Gibson. We are deeply indebted to Mr. D. H. Schlegel also. Mr. Schlegel, president of The Cleveland Ice Cream Company, gives us, through one of our members in his employ, fifty percent on sales of ice cream to Pi Phis. We feel this is a splendid opportunity for us as the products of this company are excellent and we have so far cleared $40.00 in this way.

To go back to the events of the March meeting, after the business was out of the way, some of the Lakewood Pi Phis; Mrs. Tuck, Mrs. Allyn, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Wilcox, Miss Whitney and Miss Meckel gave a playlet entitled "That Blonde Person."

At the April meeting, we solved or tried to solve the Cross Word Puzzle in the March ARROW. Prizes were won by Mrs. Clover and Mrs. Mark.

We are planning our Founders' Day meeting for May 2, at the home of Miss Caroline Sowers. The Executive Committee is in charge. We expect a large number to be present to celebrate with us.

The June meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Kewley with a special program which is to be arranged between now and then.

Aside from our regular meetings, we have had four benefit card parties which were a rather new feature and netted us, as shown above, $27.25. Our executive committee also meets often between regular meetings of the alumnae club.

We look forward to a very active year in 1925-1926 and aim to get more and more individual members to take over certain phases of our work and be responsible for them so we can carry out our plans on a larger and larger scale. We are most enthusiastic in the work we are trying to do for our School and feel our efforts thus far have been rewarded both in receiving co-operation among our members here and in the results accomplished at the School.

The officers were elected and plans made for future meetings. We met in February with Mrs. C. J. Petzhold at which time Florence Garbett gave very interesting news from Little Pigeon. The March meeting with Mrs. H. C. Johnson was devoted to the active chapter. Nell Burns, Okla. The Lancaster Alumnae Club of ΠΒΦ has been holding four business meetings at stated times as well as social gatherings at the homes of the members at which times the latest news of Little Pigeon or echoes from the Washington Conference or chapter doings formed the major part of the evening's program, followed by Mah Jongg or bridge which, needless to say, served to make each one know her partners better, at least. We have also made initiation gowns for the girls of Penna. T and this served as a tie to bind those of our members who are skilled needle women and at the same time added a bit to our Settlement School fund.

In addition to the sewing of initiation robes, we have also sold the Gutgesell cards this past year for Settlement School; we have disposed of quite a few of the Munder reproductions and a number of copies of "The Land of Saddle Bags" which has given us a splendid picture of conditions in districts like our own Gatlinburg, and has quickened our interest in helping to better conditions there. Then, too, many of our friends are thanking us for an opportunity to purchase the beautifully woven linens from the Settlement School which were ordered and of which many were sold. These are lovely for wedding gifts and are so durable that they are extremely practical as well as decorative gifts. As a grand total we have contributed $125.54 to the cause and we hope to increase that amount before the close of April.

We are planning for our Founders' Day luncheon at the Penn-Harris in Harrisburg at 1:30 on April 25 at which time we hope to have a large number of alumnae present. At this time the question of forming a joint club with the alumnae in Harrisburg and surrounding territory will be discussed and definite action will be taken. In this fashion we can hold an equal number of meetings in either city thus affording an opportunity for a bigger and better club and a greater membership.

In the latter part of March we had the great pleasure of a chat with Mrs. Nickerson when she visited in Lancaster for a few hours on her return trip from Carlisle where she spent some time with the girls of Penn. T and her "news from the front" proved of all-absorbing interest so that her visit was all too short. She told us some intimate stories of her friendship and contacts with our beloved "First Lady" and it made us all feel prouder than ever of our representative in the White House.

And so the year 1924-1925 has passed. We hope next year to appear in public with a hyphenated name indicating that the causes of all alumnae within the Harrisburg and Lancaster districts have been merged for bigger service. We cordially invite ΠI Πhis to visit or join our club.

Founders' Day promises to be one of the most successful as well as delightful that has yet been experienced in that our club will join with the Cincinnati Club at its invitation. The May and June meetings will be devoted to election of officers and preparations for the coming year. We are constantly striving to increase our membership to permit activities on a larger scale and make our organization bigger and better in every way.

The Morgantown Alumnae Club continued its former policy of having a meeting each month. In addition to the regular meetings it had a benefit bridge party in November. This party was most efficiently managed by Mrs. H. Bissell (Mildred Kern). The amount made was $75, $50 of which was contributed to the Settlement School and $25 to the Fellowship Fund. The club was able to sell quite a number of baskets and linens at the annual Christmas sale which was in charge of Mrs. P. I. Reed and Mrs. R. Elton Warman.

The program for the year was prepared by Anna Traubert and Mrs. R. Elton Warman. Besides the four meetings devoted to the Settlement School, History, Constitution and Examination we have had a series of social meetings.

The October meeting was held at the home of Blanche Price, the president. The program for the year was presented and three new members received. Mrs. R. E. Warman and Anna Traubert had a Bridge party for the alumnae, patronesses and the seniors, November 15. Charming social evenings were spent in January and February with Mrs. Gregg and Mrs. Reed.

The December meeting at the home of Mrs. Clifford John, with Mrs. John and Mrs. Davis as hostesses, was devoted to a study of the Settlement School with Mrs. P. I. Reed in charge of the program. The April meeting will be devoted to the study of the examination questions and the leaders will be Mrs. Gregg and Mrs. Minter Wilson. Founders' Day will be celebrated with the active chapter.

The alumnae club was most happy to have Mrs. Nickerson as a guest in March. We regretted that her short stay with the active chapter prevented our being with her except at the alumnae dinner given in her honor.

We are looking forward with pleasure to the May meeting at the home of Mrs. Minter Wilson with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. G. B. Reeder as hostesses. The freshmen will be the guests at this meeting.

We feel that we have had a most prosperous year under the wise direction of our president.

Last October our first meeting was made more a social one—a good “get-to-gether” held at the home of one of our members. In November a small meeting was held which was devoted to the Constitution. We were most delighted to have Evelyn Bishop at that meeting, and she brought a real message from the Settlement School. The December meeting was quite successful with a large crowd and a lovely program. Mrs. Turner spoke on the music and the folklore of the Tennessee and Kentucky mountaineers. She also told much of the life in some other settlement schools, which she had visited in that region near our School. The January meeting we devoted to Penn. A. We were the hosts at a bridge-luncheon at the Inn at Swarthmore. Each year we try to entertain our nearest chapter, and we feel it helps us to know the girls more intimately. On February 14, the Penna. A chapter initiation and the monthly meeting of our club were held at the Rittenhouse hotel. The night preceding this event our club gave two one-act plays “The Futurists” and “The Romancers” at the New Century Club. The plays were very well staged and well acted and much praise goes to the club members who worked so hard to make the affairs successful. The plays were followed by a dance, and we raised about $400 for Settlement School. Christmas cards were sold this year and we will hold our rummage sale on April 10, so we hope to reach our goal of $1,000 for the Settlement School in a few days.

Mrs. Nickerson was with us for our March meeting and urged us to plan to attend convention and to consider carefully the movement for reorganization of the alumnae department. We were so glad to have her with us and wish she might have stayed with us longer.

From this year on our club vice-president is to be chairman of Settlement School committee for we feel this gives the vice-president a special duty besides the usual duties which very seldom devolve upon her.

The Founders' Day Banquet will be held on April 25. May is our last meeting when our new officers take charge for next year which we hope will be as happy and successful as this past year.

The Pittsburgh Alumnae Club has two objectives this year—the Settlement School and the interests of the resident active chapter, Pa. Δ. Opportunity to further the first of these came quite unexpectedly in September with the production of "Sun Up" in Pittsburgh. A detailed account of our success with the play through the courtesy of the management of the Pitt Theater, the enthusiastic support of Miss LaVerne, and the labor of the committee headed by Miss Emily A. Lane, has been given in the December ARROW. In February the annual bridge held in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association under the charge of Mrs. Frederick Clayter and Mrs. C. Edgar Beatty was a delightful affair, bringing together a large number of Pi Phis and their friends. We find our bridge growing in size and popularity and making for the Settlement School a number of warm and enthusiastic friends who support us each year. In all, through the benefit performance of "Sun Up", Mrs. Gillette's sale of books and the card party, we assisted the Settlement School fund to the extent of $498.01, one of the largest contributions we have yet made.

The relations between the alumnae club and Pa. Δ have been most cordial and mutually helpful. In the fall the club obligated itself to assist in the maintenance of the chapter apartment at 3425 Terrace St. On the opening of the house it held a linnen shower for the girls and gave them $50 to aid in buying necessary furnishings. During rushing season, a tea arranged by Mrs. DeCamp was given to the mothers of the actives and rushees in the Heinz House. There has been a pleasant interchange of social courtesies throughout the year, the club entertaining the members of the active chapter and being entertained by them. At the March luncheon of the alumnae club, the outgoing seniors were guests and the newly elected officers of the alumnae club were recently entertained at dinner by Pa. A.

The meetings of the club have been held on the third Saturday of each month in the chapter rooms, luncheon being served regularly. Programs have followed the constitutional plan. One of our most successful meetings was the Settlement School Rally held in February. The active chapter and members of City Panhellenic were the guests of the afternoon. Mrs. Webster spoke most interestingly of the Settlement School, illustrating her talk with the Gatlinburg slides. One of the accomplishments of this year was the adoption of a new constitution formulated by Miss Porter. The last gathering of the year will be the Founders' Day Luncheon held at the college club with Mrs. Rittman as chairman of the committee on arrangements. The program will center upon Convention which we hope a goodly number will be able to attend.

The year 1924-25 has been a very happy one for the members of the Toledo Alumnae Club. The meetings have been held monthly at the homes of various members. We have enjoyed several spreads and in February we entertained the Pi Phi men with an evening party. Plans are already made for a luncheon on Founders' Day. The May business meeting and June picnic will complete our program.

Our efforts this year have been centered on the Settlement School. We sold Christmas cards, tea, and various other articles. A Pi Phi bridge club was formed to meet once a month for the benefit of the Settlement School. Each member pays fifty cents, the hostess serves one article of food and a drink, and gives a ten cent prize.

The club has proved very interesting not only as a source of funds for the school, but also as a means of knowing the Pi Phis better.

The past year has been both profitable and enjoyable and we are already making plans for the coming one.

The Atlanta club has had several very interesting and helpful meetings during the past year.

One of our members, Mrs. F. M. Robinson, has inspired our club to take an interest in the Atlanta Child's Home, one of the largest and most complete Homes in Atlanta for the care of children. The home was originated by Mrs. Robinson, and her husband later bought a large estate that was turned into the Atlanta Child's Home, an ideal place for such wonderful work. We are doubly interested in this work because the linen matron is also a Pi Phi. The club goes out to the Home once a month and enjoys meeting to sew for the kiddies and their mothers.

The Atlanta Club has taken more interest raising money for the Settlement School during the past year than it has before.

Christmas cards and stockings have been sold to increase our fund.

We are giving a small benefit bridge party and hope to make quite a nice sum from it.

The members embroidered squares which were made into a lovely rose colored quilt, and we are selling chances at a very low price. We have made quite a success of this idea and we would like to recommend the sateen comfort to other clubs to help their different funds.

We have had several business and social meetings at the homes of our members that we have enjoyed very much.

Instead of a formal luncheon on Founders' Day as we have always had, our celebration will be an elaborate cooky-shine at the summer home of Mrs. Robinson where we plan to enjoy swimming, boating, and horse-back riding. Last fall, the club was entertained by Mrs. Robinson at her home and we are anticipating our second visit.

The Atlanta club enjoyed the visit from our Province President, Mrs. Logan, so much, and we hope that she and some of our officers will honor us again.

We are already planning for next year, and looking forward to our work.

Our club began this year under a new budget system, which was an increase of dues to cover all expenses for the year. It has worked out successfully, and has not tended to decrease our membership. The regular meetings have gone along well, varied pleasantly by several interesting visitors. Mrs. Stark came early in October to give a talk with lantern pictures, about the Settlement School. Miss Bishop and our Province President, Mrs. Logan, later spent a short time with us. In January we entertained the chapter at supper in the Goucher Alumnae Lodge. Then we "showered" them with a few household articles for the chapter rooms—cups and saucers, coffee pot and cooking pans. The aged alumna eye brightened with amusement to see here and there the undergraduate arm clasping a large prosaic cook pot as it made its adieus that evening. The chapter's singing was good to hear, and we only hope they enjoyed the meeting as much as we did.

In February we were entertained at tea by the chapter in the chapter rooms, and we became more fully convinced of the truth of the song they sing—"You can't be a Pi Phi unless you're a peach."

Our card party for the Settlement School fund was scheduled for February but was put off until April 16. The change was due to the Goucher Endowment Fund campaign which was at its height in February and was absorbing much of our financial talent. Our president, Louise Van Sant is at present abroad on business, to be gone until May. The May meeting will be devoted to the Founders' Day celebration. We also look forward to an evening of bridge at the home of Frances Strader Culver. The final meeting of the year is to be at Mrs. Tottle's beautiful place in the country.

We have been going there in June for a number of years, and it is always a favorite meeting. It is arranged to coincide with the Goucher commencement festivities, and thus it is sometimes possible for visiting alumnae whom we do not often have with us to be present. The active chapter girls will be our guests at this meeting.

On May 17, 1924, our club entertained the active chapter with a picnic out at DeLeon Springs, which we all enjoyed. We are planning to repeat it again the latter part of April or first part of May, this year.

Mrs. Howard Hodgden (Mildred Watts), had us meet with her June 28, at her lovely home on Lake Winnemissett. We had a "Health" program. We also decided to keep our same officers for another year.

On September 13 we had a luncheon at the Hotel Putnam and entertained some delegates from the chapter so that we might hear the plans for rushing and know how we could best co-operate with them.

Mrs. Ray H. Jordan (Frances Gardner), was hostess at our next meeting at her home, January 31. We devoted our time there principally to plans for a benefit card party for the Settlement School. Mrs. Brigham McFarland (Delta Haynes, Fla. A) who is living in Hyde Park, Vt., was with us, and we enjoyed having her.

Our picnic for the active chapter will complete our program for the college year. These meetings with the chapter are particularly helpful I think, for we get so much better acquainted.

We think our club year has been a very successful and happy one.

The North Carolina Alumnae Club has had four meetings during a year. These are well attended considering the fact that so many alumnae do not live in Chapel Hill, where practically all the meetings are held. There are eight members of the club who live in Chapel Hill and the others are scattered over the state. We regret, that out of the forty Pi Phis living in North Carolina, only fifteen are active members of the club.

Thus far we have had only two meetings for the year 1924-25 and both of these were at Chapel Hill,—one in October and the other in January. Our next meeting will be on Founders Day and then our last one will be in June.

At present all our attention is centered upon the Founders' Day celebration. On April 25, 1925 the club and active chapter will meet together at the Carolina Inn in Chapel Hill for a formal dinner.

On October 10, we had a most delightful as well as satisfactory Settlement School meeting. Preceding the meeting Mrs. Alton Roberts of Winston-Salem, N. C., gave an illustrated lecture on the Settlement School. After the lecture there was a sale of the School's basketry and $160 was realized. Other sales of basketry and linen have been made since and at the January meeting Mrs. Lawrence reported that $200 had been sent to the Settlement School Treasurer.

Besides our work for the school the club is planning to present to N. C. A some gift this year. When the local chapter was installed the club presented it with a linen luncheon cloth and napkins. In June, 1924, two dozen silver spoons, engraved with ΠΒΦ were presented to the chapter. This year we hope to give a gift which will be in keeping with the two gifts just mentioned.

The Orlando Alumnae Club has been in existence for several years but has not been formally organized and affiliated with the national alumnae association until recently. Our meetings are in the form of a cooky-shine held at the homes of the members once a month.

We are celebrating Founders' Day by entertaining the DeLand Alumnae Club with a luncheon. We have interested ourselves particularly with earning money for the Settlement School and for the Fellowship Fund.

We enjoyed a very interesting visit from Mrs. R. H. Logan, Gamma Province President, in February.

Our club entertained the Orlando pledges and active members during the holidays with a breakfast party.

The Richmond Alumnae Club of IIBΦ has had a very pleasant and satisfactory year.

A member of the club, who is also a member of the Board of Directors of the College Club of Richmond, obtained permission to display at the last College Club meeting the exhibit that we have from the Settlement School.

On Saturday, April 25, we intend to have a card party for the benefit of the Settlement School. Instead of selling candies we plan to sell simple refreshments, and hope to realize an added amount from each table in this way. Since the card party will be so near Founders' Day, we shall have our Founders' Day Luncheon in the early part of May.

The last meeting of the year will be a picnic on the campus of Westhampton College, late in May. We always look forward with much pleasure to this event.

The Settlement School has been the dominant interest this year. Under the able leadership of Miss Farrington, $1,871 has already been contributed to the Settlement School. This sum has been raised by the sale of Christmas cards, a rummage sale, sale of Fashion Hose, a sale of pictures and Christmas articles, portraits of Mrs. Coolidge, the "American Government" by Frederick Haskin, and a card party.

Due to the efforts of Miss Hawley under whom the stocking sale was conducted, $1,200 worth of stockings were sold.

The annual alumnae and chapter rush luncheon was a most successful affair given November 22, at the Congressional Country Club with an attendance of eighty-one.

The memorial library started last spring at Peck Chapel in memory of Vivian Linderman Bibbins, Ill. E, now comprises 708 books which are classified and ready for use.

Because of illness, Mrs. Francis Nesbit, the recording secretary for 1924-1925, resigned. Margaret Gaddis Dutton was elected to fill the vacancy.

Our meetings held on the second Tuesday of each month have been most interesting and enthusiastically attended. Included in the programs have been talks by Captain J. F. Ault, Commander of the Carnegie, on "Surveying the Oceans on the Non-Magnetic Ship Carnegie"; Justice Stafford on "The Constitution"; and a short talk by our own Mrs. Nickerson.

On April 25 will come our annual Founders' Day Banquet at Wardman Park Hotel. This will be the greatest Pi Phi social event of the year, and from this banquet we will draw fresh enthusiasm for a happy year just passed and inspiration for a new year of growth and achievement.

The Ann Arbor Alumnae Club has held two regular meetings this year. A luncheon has preceded the business meeting each time, and has proved to be a very good way in which to meet with the girls who come as representatives from the active chapter. We have followed no regular program, but have discussed matters of university and fraternity interest.

The Advisory Board has been very active and has tried to help the active chapter solve some of its problems.

Our donations to the Settlement School and Fellowship Fund have been made by individual subscription.

According to our custom we are celebrating Founders' Day by a luncheon with the chapter at the chapter house.

We felt that our active girls, especially the initiates, should know more about our local association, and with that in mind Rebecca Downey White prepared a booklet which is a joy to all of us. Paragraphs on Early History of Chapter, The Story of our House, The Michigan Beta of Pi Beta Phi Association, The Board of Directors, The Ann Arbor Alumnae Club, The Alumnae Advisory Committee, etc., with pictures of all the past chapter houses as well as the present one, make a most beautiful and comprehensive sketch of our history. The initiates were most happy to receive it.

It has been a great pleasure to have Mrs. C. H. Drybread (May Copeland Reynolds) in our midst this year. Mrs. Drybread was a former Grand Vice President, and installed our chapter in 1888.

During the past year the number of Pi Phis residing in or near Detroit has increased rapidly. We have had the pleasure of welcoming a number of these girls at our meetings. As the club grows we feel more and more the need for social meetings so that we may get acquainted with our new members. We have met regularly the second Saturday in each month. Three of our meetings were luncheons in private homes followed by bridge, the other three were business meetings held at a central place in Detroit, followed by informal tea. As the attendance at the luncheons has been just double that at the business meetings, there is no doubt as to the type we will plan for next year.

The group plan, started last year, has continued with great success. Many mothers who cannot attend the monthly meetings on Saturdays find that they can attend the group meetings during the week. These informal gatherings have been held once a month by two groups, and a third group has met every other week for a pot luck luncheon.

All group chairmen are very enthusiastic about this plan; they feel that many warm friendships have been formed and that through these groups we are able to enlist the cooperation of Pi Phis whom we could not otherwise reach.

The October meeting was a tea to welcome new members.

The November meeting was open to guests. Baskets and linens from "Little Pigeon" were on sale. Each member brought a small gift for Settlement School Christmas box.

In December we had a most delightful luncheon at the home of Mrs. Rockwood Nelsen (Minn. A).

The annual cooky-shine with the Ann Arbor chapter as guests, was held in January at the home of Mrs. J. A. Bryant, Mich. B. This was the largest meeting of the year.

In February red hearts pierced by a golden arrow invited us to a bridge luncheon on St. Valentine's Day at the home of Mrs. C. H. Raimy, Mich. A.

In March we held the annual business meeting with reports of committees and election of officers. This year the Fellowship Fund received $.50 of dues of each member making a total of $23.50. Last June before college closed we sent $25 to the Ann Arbor chapter for furnishings. Settlement School funds have been our principal objective this year. Money has been raised by sale of Christmas cards, sale of baskets and linens sent from the School, sale of Munder prints and a small sum from our luncheons. The bulk of our contribution, however, was raised by personal subscription. Two of the groups raised money for the School. A coasting and skating party at the country home of one of our members was most enjoyable and netted a nice sum. Our total is far from what we want and feel it should be, and already plans are under way for raising a much larger sum next year.

The annual banquet will be a luncheon at the Statler Hotel on April 25. The Ann Arbor Alumnae Club and the active chapter have been asked to celebrate this day with us as they did last year.

The last meeting for the year will be our annual outing in May. We are planning a luncheon at the country home on Pine Lake, one of many beautiful lakes in the vicinity of Detroit. At this time final plans will be made for entertaining Pi Phi enroute to Convention. A committee has already been appointed. Headquarters for Pi Phi in Detroit on Sunday, June 21, will be the Women's City Club, 2110 Park Ave., where breakfast will be served. The Detroit Club is most enthusiastic over Convention plans and hopes to have the privilege of meeting many Pi Phi on their way to Bigwin Inn.

We have elected as our delegate Mrs. George Yaple, our president during the past year. Several other members are looking forward to an inspiring week at our national Convention.

CHATTANOOGA ALUMNAE CLUB

President—Mrs. A. P. Sibold.

Corresponding Secretary—Katherine C. Conn

The Chattanooga Club has, during the past year, endeavored to carry out a program of activity, which, we hope, has been of true service to our national organization, to our younger sisters of Tenn. A, and to our fellow-men.

The business meetings of this club are held the second Saturday of each month. We have chosen the luncheon hour for the time of our meetings and have the luncheon served in a private dining room of a down town tea room. In this way we can have a social hour followed by the business meeting.

Under the able supervision of our president our meetings are carried on in a strictly parliamentary way. Interesting programs of fraternity study are given at each meeting. At a recent one we went over the fraternity examination questions which the active chapter had just answered. One active girl is asked as a guest to each of our meetings.

This club is vitally interested in the Settlement School. Several of our members have visited the School and they are so enthusiastic that we all, actives and alumnae, are planning an excursion to Gatlinburg. Besides the financial aid that we have given, we had last November an exhibition of goods made at the School, by which we succeeded in arousing no little interest in what is being done for the Tennessee mountain people. As a result of the exhibit we are constantly taking orders for the lovely articles of handiwork from Gatlinburg.

For the purpose of raising money we have all become business women. Benefit card parties have proved very successful, as have sales of coat-hangers and paper, and rummage sales. Then too we use the varied talents of our members. We have two girls who are famed for brown bread and hot rolls, which they make at times and sell for the benefit of Little Pigeon. Needless to say they have been kept busy by the rest of us who are not so skilled. It has been the pleasure of the club to subscribe to the Fellowship Fun. In connection with fraternity work we have an ever active magazine agency.

Each member of the club is closely allied with our active chapter at the University of Chattanooga. It happens that a large number of the alumnae were initiated into $\Pi\text{B}\Phi$ at the same time that our active chapter was installed, thus making that memorable initiation a strong tie between the two groups. We exchange social courtesies and work together at rushing and in carrying on initiations. The Advisory Committee of the club gives its advice after careful thought and tries at all times to make it constructive. The club gives an annual cash prize to the best-all-round and most cooperative active girl.

On our roll are those who first petitioned $\Pi\text{B}\Phi$ seven long years before our goal was reached. Even our freshmen of 1917 lived their college life and graduated, but continued to aid the younger girls in their quest. The struggle was most worth while. During the petitioning years, we had the splendid opportunity to meet such true and inspiring $\Pi\text{I}\Phi$ as Miss Onken, Mrs. Rugg, Miss Bishop, Miss Turnbull, Miss Eyans, Mrs. John Spiegel and others. Last year our club had two delegates at the Eastern Conference and we hope to have at least six girls who will attend Convention at Bigwin.

During Miss Onken's visit to Louisville in February the club enjoyed an informal afternoon with her at the home of our President's sister, Miss Emma Woerner.

The program for the coming year has not been completed. Our Settlement School Committee, however, is making plans for some social and benefit affair in the near future. Individually we are selling Settlement School products.

Since May 2 is the regular meeting day, the first Saturday in the month, a Founders' Day luncheon will be served then at the home of Mrs. J. C. Lewis.

Franklin Alumnae Club this year has carried out the same plan that was so successfully used last year, that of meeting with the active girls at the chapter house every other month, with a spread and social gathering.

We meet on the second Monday of each month, one month at the chapter house and the following at some member's home.

Our first joint meeting was held in November, where Mrs. Sidney Newsom (Lavona Payne, Ind. A), of California, one of our local founders, was the honor guest. After a bountiful spread, Mrs. Newsom gave a charming talk to the actives and club members, following which, the club held its regular monthly business meeting.

In January we celebrated Indiana Alpha's thirty-seventh birthday with a spread at the chapter house, where we had a huge birthday cake with candles. Previous to this meeting letters were sent out to every Ind. A, not only acquainting her with the activities of the active chapter and club, but also asking for a gift as of as many pennies as a person was years old, to be sent or brought in to this meeting, the proceeds to go toward the house-furnishings fund. It was very gratifying indeed to have our members respond so readily and generously. Many out-of-town alumnae and guests, including Mrs. John Speigel, Delta Province President, and Mrs. Walter Zirpel, Delta Province Vice-President, who gave short informal talks, were present. The spread was followed by a delightful and enthusiastic hour of getting acquainted, and renewing old friendships.

In March, Mrs. Archer Spring, ARROW Editor, visited the local chapter. While here the actives and alumnae club gave in her honor, a tea at the home of Mrs. Oran Province, and a dinner at Ye Wayside Inn. Mrs. Harry Hougham also entertained for her with a luncheon. Everyone was very much delighted in knowing her.

Founders' Day will be celebrated April 25 with a state luncheon at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, and the annual state dance will be held in the evening at the same place.

The last meeting will be held May 11 at the chapter house, and at this time we intend to give a fruit shower for the active girls.

A spread will be given on the college campus June 2, during Commencement week, and all visiting alumnae will be our guests.

This year we feel that our club has accomplished quite a few worthy things. We have purchased an overstuffed davenport and chair for the chapter house; have given the active girls a kitchen shower, and have also made them a gift of a silver tea service, as a reward for their high scholastic ranking, both locally and nationally. We have sent $50 to the Settlement School Fund, $10 to the Fellowship Endowment Fund, have raised about $75 for the Home-furnishings Fund, and have started a Pi Phi Scholarship Loan Fund, to help deserving Pi Phi girls through college, when otherwise they might be forced to withdraw on account of lack of funds.

We have no meetings during the summer months but each one looks forward to the renewing of activities in September.

The ambition of our club this year has been to clear the debt on the chapter house. We expect to accomplish this before Quinquennial Reunion in June.

We are already making plans for this college event and expect many Pi Phi's back on the campus. The new chapter house will be an added attraction to every Pi Phi who plans to return for Quinquennial.

We have contributed to the Settlement School and Fellowship Fund and hope to do more for both next year.

Through the splendid cooperation of the chapter house chaperone, Grace Highbee Mark, Mich. A, we are able to keep in touch with the active girls and we are very proud of them.

We are making plans for a "Frolic Day" in May, to be held at the summer cottage of Mrs. B. F. Green (Ana Closson, Mich. A), at Baw Beese Lake. Entertainment will be provided for the whole day and luncheon served at noon. The proceeds will go toward the house debt.

We find the year's work has been successful and worth while. We should like to take this opportunity to welcome new members to the club.

Our club held an election of officers on April 11 at the home of Mrs. Scott Legge and Mrs. D. O. Kearby was re-elected president. She is also to be Convention delegate from the club and we feel sure that her charming personality and wise judgment will be of great benefit to the club during the coming year.

The American Association of University Women met in Indianapolis from April 6 to 10 and on Tuesday evening April 7 our alumnae club entertained one hundred guests at the home of Mrs. C. Norman Green in honor of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt and Dr. May L. Keller. Among the visitors attending the A. A. U. W. Convention were two other Pi Phi's, Mrs. W. L. Karsell, president of the Bloomington division, and Dean Roberts of Ames, Iowa. Mrs. Frank D. Hatfield, Ind. B, is president of the Indianapolis division and was hostess to those attending the convention.

Great plans are being made for the state luncheon and dance which will be held at the Claypool Hotel on April 25 celebrating Founders' Day. We are hoping to have it a "singing luncheon."

A city Panhellenic meeting will be held on the afternoon of May 16 for the purpose of electing officers.

A number of Indianapolis alumnae have already made definite arrangements for attending convention and we expect to have at least one special car to join the Pi Phi Special in Detroit.

Our club this past year has emphasized luncheon meetings and found them productive of a large attendance. A pledge of twenty-five dollars has been paid to the Fellowship Fund and several hundred dollars have been raised for the Settlement School. Teams of ten were formed to raise money for the Settlement School, each group pledging a minimum of twenty-five dollars, the money to be earned. In addition to this, individual subscriptions were obtained from practically every member.

The Southwestern Indiana Alumnae Club has tried a new plan for the monthly meetings this year. A half hour's business session is followed by bridge for the benefit of the Settlement School. Each player is charged fifty cents. The hostess furnishes an inexpensive prize. This has proved to be a most delightful method of raising money, attendance has been increased from last year's average of eight to eleven this year, and interest in the Settlement School has been stimulated. Heretofore our Settlement School fund has consisted of individual contributions, due to the fact that it has been found impractical for our scattered group to attempt to make money as a club. Although no large amount has been raised we have a feeling of satisfaction for having done something together for Pi Phi's great undertaking. We have sent $40 to the Settlement School and $5.00 to the Fellowship Endowment Fund. Mrs. Forrest Condit is our permanent Settlement School chairman.

Our club assists the Evansville Panhellenic in giving an annual scholarship to Evansville College for the use of a girl who otherwise could not attend college. Panhellenic's four meetings during the year usually take the form of luncheons and teas.

We are near no active chapter, but we always invite the active girls and pledges who are at home for the holidays to the annual Christmas luncheon. Occasional accounts of visits to Ind. B also help to keep us in fairly close touch with our nearest chapter.

It has been our very good fortune this year to meet some noted members of our fraternity. Evansville Pi Phis had the great pleasure of greeting Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt who lectured here in October. The wearers of the arrow sat in a reserved row during the lecture and tried not to appear too proud of their distinguished fraternity sister. A few weeks later Dr. Edna Hatfield Edmondson, Ind. B, well known for her child welfare work and who is executive secretary of the Indiana Parent-Teacher Association, spoke in Evansville. Mrs. Edgar Traylor entertained the Pi Phis at an informal tea for Dr. Edmondson. One of our club members, Mrs. John C. Glackman, Ind. A, former state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, spoke at our Christmas luncheon about her work in the government hospitals, and of her pleasure in meeting Pi Phis at the various places to which her work takes her.

As this report is being written Southwestern Indiana is beginning to recover from the effects of the disastrous tornado of March 18. Several Pi Phis narrowly missed being in its path. Six of our club members have been doing valuable relief work.

Founders' Day will be observed with a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Forrest Condit on the evening of Founders' Day. A May meeting with Eugenia Roth in Boonville and another bridge party in June will conclude the year's program.

The Southwestern Indiana Alumnae Club will celebrate its tenth birthday next December. We are planning a big meeting and reunion in honor of the event.

Convention now seems to be the principal topic of conversation among the Pi Phis of our vicinity. Marie West will be club delegate. Several others are hoping to attend also. We expect to receive much inspiration and many new ideas for our future club work.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS ALUMNAE CLUB
Organized 1912—Chartered 1913

Corresponding Secretary—Reka B. Kiler, 608 W. Park Ave., Champaign, Ill.

The Central Illinois Alumnae Club started the year with a dinner for the active girls and their rushees on Wednesday evening, September 17, at the Champaign County Country Club. Mrs. Vivian Monier Morrissey arranged for this dinner at which eighty-five were present. It was voted a great success and is to be an annual event.

In the last week of October a bazaar was held for three days in a down town hall in Champaign. Alumnae of Ill. Z, scattered over the entire country, even from Porto Rico, contributed. Blanche Shirley Hays acted as chairman of the bazaar committee. In this way $800 was added to our house fund.

A Silver Tea for the Settlement School was held at the home of Ethel Forbes Scott in November. An unusually dainty luncheon was served and $18 was added to our School fund. A most enthusiastic report of Miss Bishop's work and the School was given by Mrs. Trelease, who with her husband spent last summer in Gatlinburg doing some botanical research work. At the time of the Iowa-Illinois game our active girls gave up their dates to take charge of a checking stand at the Rotarian headquarters. This added $26 to the Settlement School Fund. Just recently the girls sold tickets for a movie benefit, adding $55 more. The Christmas card sale which the club conducted resulted in $81 being added to our fund. Added to these there was a substantial gift which brought the active and alumnae gift to the Settlement School since last September up to $225.

The big thing of the year for us has been the bond-selling campaign to finance our new house. There is every indication now that our active girls will have a beautiful new house to return to in September.

The general plan of the Chicago Alumnae Club this year has been to hold four teas throughout the season, for which different sectional groups were hostesses, and to have our big party and reunion for Founders' Day celebration, April 25. Through the courtesy of Anne Guthrie, Cal. A, these teas were all held at the Central Y. W. C. A., 59 E. Monroe St., with a talk each time by prominent civic and social workers. As is our custom, we celebrate Founders' Day with the active chapter at Northwestern, and are planning a luncheon at the Congress Hotel, at which we hope to have delegates from all the active Illinois chapters.

In June, we are looking forward to meeting convention delegates and Pi Phis from all over the country when they stop here enroute to Canada.

One of our big successes this year has been the spontaneous movement of weekly lunches on Fridays at the Hamilton Club. No reservations are necessary. Different Pi Phis from all over are continually dropping in, and we hope that eventually more Pi Phis from out of the city will do so.

Before very long we hope to have an organized group of Pi Phis in business who will work with the club and its interests. The officers for 1925-1926 were elected at the March meeting, and are given above.

The interest of the Decatur Alumnae Club for the past year has centered on the building and the financing of a new chapter house. By means of selling shares of stock in a non-profit sharing corporation, we have actually built and furnished our house. When the active girls returned last fall, they found a new and adequate home awaiting them.

Every effort has been put forth to raise money for this house. A rummage sale in November netted us $250. A bazaar, in December, was the success of the year. Every Monday, during the summer months, the attractive home of Mrs. Carleton Mattes was alive with the girls making everything from kitchen aprons to card table covers. Our out of town alumnae responded to our requests with such saleable articles, that our two day sale gleaned $944.51.

Our patronesses and friends have helped us with generous gifts of money and useful articles for the new house.

In spite of our desire to make money for the house, we did not forget our Settlement School and the Fellowship Fund. The Christmas card earnings of $135 were put into the Settlement School Fund. Mrs. Van Zetti, a very kind and interested friend, has contributed $60 a year to Little Pigeon.

A houseparty at homecoming time, our annual Christmas party, a linen shower for the house, and several delightful cooky-shines, have brought us together from month to month. A most interesting meeting on the constitution was held in February. We chose sides to see which side could stand the longer in answer to questions on the constitution.

We shall celebrate Founders' Day with a luncheon for the patronesses, actives, and alumnae.

We have missed the enthusiasm and the inspirations of several of our members this year; Lelah-Bell Davis is spending the year in France, and Caroline Lutz is in California.

The Madison Alumnae Club decided to continue the monthly buffet supper meetings for the club year. As heretofore, these meetings have proved most satisfactory and have been well attended.

A close relationship between the alumnae and active chapter is maintained through the Alumnae Advisory Board. One of the duties of the Board is to attend all rushing functions and in this way to become personally acquainted with the rushees. As many more alumnae as are able are invited by the active chapter to the rushing parties, and so there is usually quite a representation of alumnae present. Some of the alumnae are always present at pledging, initiation, and also at the cooky-shines.

One of the most interesting meetings of the club was that of November 12, when the alumnae and active chapter entertained Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt at a dinner at the Pi Phi house. Mrs. Catt gave a very interesting and inspiring address at an open meeting to the public in the afternoon. After dinner Mrs. Catt gave a most impressive talk to her Pi Phi sisters.

For the past few years the club has engaged the Service Shop for one or two days each spring as a means of making money for the Settlement School. Each member contributes old clothing and household articles, and the club takes charge for the one or two days. This year the club decided to engage the shop for one day in the fall as well as the usual time in the spring. Our profit from the sale in the fall was a little over $45 and we hope to raise more than that amount at our April sale.

The club also tries to do its bit for the Settlement School by urging each member to subscribe for magazines through Blanche G. Reisinger, Baltimore.

The remaining meetings of the year should prove enjoyable ones. Our April meeting is to be held at the Pi Phi house with the actives in celebration of Founders' Day. A cooky-shine will most likely be the means of celebrating as this has always been the custom in previous years and has always been thoroughly enjoyed.

A picnic is planned for the early part of June. During the latter part of the month the annual banquet is to be held at the Pi Phi house.

The monthly meetings of the Milwaukee Club have included a luncheon at the College Club, two luncheons given by members at their homes, two sewing parties, one bridge party, and an open meeting and tea at which Isabel Boden read Shaw's "Jean d' Arc."

We are looking forward to the Panhellenic luncheon at the Athletic Club, Saturday, April 18, and to Founders' Day luncheon at the home of our president. Mrs. Abels at that time is to talk of her work at Madison on the Board of Control.

For our Settlement School Fund we were quite successful in the sale of Mrs. Gutgesell's Christmas cards, and we have also undertaken the sale of Munder etchings. At our luncheons and open meeting, a fee was charged which has gone to this fund. Besides this work, we have enjoyed making napkins for the Beloit active chapter.

Altogether we have had a very interesting year.

The Minneapolis and St. Paul Club has had another very successful year under the leadership of Mrs. E. C. Carman, having increased our membership very materially, incidentally our enthusiasm, and having formed a St. Paul group which carries on its own activities, and coming out on top financially without the help of our usual bazaar.

A year ago this spring we had a membership tea at the home of Mrs. M. E. Gutteresen to which all paid up members were invited. It was a good start and this year we have twice as many paid up members and a very much larger attendance at our supper meetings. We have had five of these gatherings with an average of 50 at a meeting, at several there were about 100 present. These supper meetings are held at the homes of some of the girls, five or six girls being hostesses. Our executive board meets always the week before these supper meetings and then presents whatever business that is of interest and importance to the club. We have had some very interesting programs with such people to talk to us as Mrs. Wirth of the Berkeley Club, Dr. Snook, the Pi Phi Fellow, and at our last meeting we had shown to us some slides of Bigwin Inn and the surrounding country. It would hardly seem necessary to say that we are quite satisfied with our form of meetings. We make a point of asking several active girls to come to our meetings each time and then of course as has been our custom we gave a rushing party in the fall at the home of Mrs. Bass and our annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Nickels when we gave the girls several pieces of silver. The Christmas luncheon is also a joint celebration which this year was in the form of a bridge luncheon.

Those of the club living in St. Paul often found it rather hard to come over to Minneapolis for meetings, and as a result they were not always well represented. So these twenty St. Paul girls formed their own club as a branch of the Minneapolis club, and have been meeting regularly with an average of 16. They have their own officers and are quite distinct from the Minneapolis group. This does not mean that they are not welcome at our meetings for they are. The idea has been more to keep the girls together and working when otherwise they might have become disinterested. Mrs. Paetzold, Nebr. B, has been chairman of the group this year.

A year ago it was decided that we would not give a bazaar this year but try other means for raising the needed money. As a result we had a food sale giving us $85, a benefit bridge $45, but our biggest money maker this year has been Mrs. Gutgesell's Christmas Card Book from which, with the untiring efforts of Mrs. R. J. Seiberlich, we cleared $165. The St. Paul Club also gave a benefit bridge which resulted in a $50 donation and in the end we were able to send $300 to the Settlement School and $25 to the Fellowship Fund. In addition to this we have started here what we call a "Sinking Fund" to which we hope to add each year what we can. We now have some over $200 in it. The purpose of it is to create a fund from which we may draw to meet our obligations. We hope to make this fund grow from year to year.

Our "biggest and best" banquet is to be held April 25 at the New Nicollet.

Four meetings have been held during the year—a summer picnic to which we drove forty miles into the country, Founders' Day luncheon, fall afternoon meeting, and winter luncheon with study programs at these. The unusual feature of our meetings is that Amy Onken is a member of our club, and brings latest news to us on all Pi Phi activities with the added charm of personal items about them.

We plan to have our Founders' Day luncheon on April 27 at the Country Club. We assessed ourselves for Settlement School money, and made a gift towards the Endowment Scholarship Fund this year.

The Burlington Alumnae Club has held five meetings during the year, and the Founders' Day meeting, to be held this month, will conclude the year's work, making six meetings for the year.

The February meeting was cancelled on account of illness in the club.

The Burlington Club has worked under difficulties this year, as our membership has been reduced on account of illness and various other causes.

The closing year 1923-24 has been quite successful both from the standpoint of interest and things accomplished.

Our meetings this year have been luncheons, held the first Saturday of each month, usually at the home of some member. Our May meeting was an exceptionally interesting one as we had reports from the Eastern Conference. We had with us that day, five who had been there, among them Mrs. Sigler from Indianola, our National Historian. The Des Moines alumnae chapter sent $25 toward the Coolidge picture. Our June meeting is always a family picnic at one of the city parks. In September we met at the home of our president, Mrs. McHenry, and had a large attendance. The afternoon was spent telling of our interesting summer vacations. This was followed by committee reports for the coming year. In October we entertained the Ames and Indianola alumnae chapters at a luncheon followed by a short musical. We had about forty guests. In November we had a benefit bridge at one of the downtown tea rooms and made $52, which was included in our Settlement School contribution. Our city Panhellenic banquet was in November also, and about two hundred fraternity women attended. Pi Phi was well represented. The December meeting was devoted to the Settlement School and we prepared a Christmas box for Little Pigeon. The January meeting was a business one and a report of "Our Chapters" was given. A much needed constitution and by-laws was drafted by our president and committee and they were submitted at the February meeting. In March the meeting was held at a tea room and was of a purely social nature. Last Saturday we met for our Founders' Day program. We were fortunate in having Miss Carpenter from Iowa B at Simpson with us that day and she gave us a delightful talk on "Active Chapters."

This year we have raised money by various ways. At Decoration time we had our annual jasmine sale and cleared $65 which was about $50 short of what we made last year, due to the shortage in shipment of flowers. Our Christmas cards brought us $48. The Settlement School baskets are always in demand and we cleared $25. Our latest hobby is selling "Skiddoo" by which we have made $10 and $10 on our "Stainless Steel Paring Knives." To Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Grefe both we owe a great deal for they are devoted workers for the Settlement School. So far this year we have sent $237 to Gatlinsburg and expect to have a little more before the year closes. We also sent $10 to the Fellowship Fund.

We have added a number of new members to our club this year and wish to extend an invitation to others in this vicinity. We have had a delightful year and are looking forward to the coming one with the election of officers at our next meeting.

Another pleasant and busy year has passed in the Indianola Alumnae Club, with the Settlement School and our active chapter again the centers of interest.

A luncheon has brought us together each month of this year with the exception of December when all activity centered in our annual Christmas bazaar and sale of baskets, the proceeds from which constitute the larger part of our contribution to the Settlement School. Frequent reports as to the progress of the School from our own Mrs. Dowell have contributed much toward our growing interest in that work.

There have been a number of special features in this year's program with unusually pleasant associations for us. Early in the fall the Ames and Indianola Alumnae Clubs were delightfully entertained by the Des Moines Alumnae Club at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Frank Travers. Dinners with the active chapter pledge night at the chapter house, and at the home of Mrs. Sigler on initiation day were happy occasions as well. Founders' Day is to be celebrated with a luncheon at the chapter house with our own members, girls of the active chapter, and Pi Phis of nearby towns joining in the occasion.

Our report would not be complete without an expression of the happiness with which we welcomed into our club during this year, a number of Pi Phis from our neighboring city, Chariton. The spirit in which they have entered into the activities of the year has been a real inspiration to us and our association with them is a very great pleasure indeed.

This year will close with our annual breakfast during Commencement week, when it is our privilege to entertain all visiting Pi Phis, active girls, and the mothers of our Pi Phi seniors.

Although at the time of this report we have not completed the rounds of our group meetings held the first Saturday, we have been able to turn in our quota of $750 to the Settlement School, and to give $60 to the local High School scholarship fund.

We have this year tried the plan of dividing the club members into six groups, more or less geographical; each group raising its share of the amount pledged as it pleased; sales of novelties, bazaars, rummage sales or personal assessments. This has kept us so busy that except for a few highly appreciated book reviews and some evening card parties, we have had almost no social life. We realize this mistake, and intend at our next October meeting to arrange the pledging of the Settlement School Fund and the providing for it by one big affair.

We hope thereby to have more time for purely social meetings, and to find out what interesting women our members really are, particularly our newer ones.

The members of the Saint Louis Alumnae Club feel that they are coming to the end of a most pleasant and successful year. Following last year's plan, we have had our meetings at four o'clock the first Tuesday of each month. After the meeting, a buffet supper is served by a committee of ten chosen at the beginning of the year to serve at each meeting. As seen from our large attendance, the plan has been most effective.

Desiring most ardently to equal our last year's contribution of $1,000 to the Settlement School, we started to work in earnest last fall and by means of our annual bridge party, Christmas card books, "jitney" fare, selling theater tickets, raffling two beautiful quilts, and personal subscriptions, we succeeded in raising not just $1,000 but $1200. We decided to have taffeta pillows as prizes at our bridge party and our untiring committee of eight undertook and succeeded in making one hundred and forty beautiful pillows in three days.

As most of the girls in the active chapter here live in Saint Louis, we have had no need of a chapter house, but as Washington University grows we see that, like the men, who have recently built several lovely homes, we shall soon have to have a house. With this idea in view, we have formed the Missouri Beta Association composed of all active and alumnae Missouri Betas to finance a house for our chapter when university conditions make it necessary for us to have one.

The work of our club has been rather disorganized this year because of the serious illness of several members. Our contributions have been $25 to the Settlement School, $25 to the Community Fund, $10 to the Fellowship Fund, and $5 to the picture of Mrs. Coolidge. We have sold a number of the Munder etchings and hope to do more with them. We plan to celebrate Founders' Day by motoring to Cherokee where we will spend the day with a former member, Helen Beck Barr. Our regular meetings have been held alternately as down town luncheons and evening meetings in our own homes.

Our club has held ten regular meetings this year, one a cooky-shine and one a picnic. The annual Christmas celebration was a benefit bridge, the proceeds of which went to the Settlement School. We are planning a party for the active chapter, an annual spring feature.

This year we have turned our talents toward making money and have earned over $200. We had two rummage sales, one in the fall, and one in the winter, sold candy bars and Christmas cards, held a bake sale and a benefit bridge party. The money thus accumulated was divided into several gifts,—$5 to the Loan Fund, $20 to the Fellowship Fund, $75 to the Endowment Fund of Drury College, and $100 to the Settlement School.

Mrs. Shuggart's visit in November was an inspiration to all of us to concentrate our efforts to make this a bigger and better year for the club.

We are looking forward to the summer as an opportunity to strengthen our club and to make every resident alumna feel a very vital interest in its welfare and in that of the fraternity at large.

The last meeting of this year was a cooky-shine held at the home of Mrs. John Whelan, celebrating Founders' Day. The officers of last year were reelected for the coming year. Our meetings have been interesting and well attended. The biggest thing we did was to have a rummage sale at which we made $225. $125 was sent to the Settlement School and $100 to the active chapter which is endeavoring to pay for its house. Our new member of the year was Mrs. J. D. Sprecher (Irene McKeon, Wyo. A). Flowers were sent to three new babies during the year, the mothers being, Mrs. J. W. Bailey (Mary Durnn), Mrs. T. J. During the past year greater interest has been shown in the monthly meetings of our club, this has been due in no small measure to the plan, that the business part of each meeting has been made as brief as possible, leaving an hour or so for a program. The shortening of the business meeting has been made possible by the very excellent plan of leaving practically all of the detail work to the committees appointed for that purpose. Following our usual custom each meeting has been preceded by a luncheon, with the exception of December when no meeting was held.

During October a rummage sale was given and the proceeds turned over to the treasury. At the October meeting our quota was raised for the Needle Work Guild; following the meeting an excellent lecture on sculpturing was given, the artist emphasizing her talk by actual work in clay.

Our Settlement School meeting was held in November. A report of the School's activities and future plans were given and $200 sent to the School. The business part of the meeting was followed by a musical program and a talk on health.

Our January meeting was a bridge luncheon and was exceptionally well attended.

At the February meeting a card party was planned the money from the party to be turned over to the treasury. Our entertainment for this meeting was a talk on Oriental rugs.

It was our privilege and pleasure to entertain at our March meeting our Grand Secretary, Frances Evens. Succeeding the business meeting we were given an informal talk on interior decorating.

Founders' Day will be celebrated this year with Colo. A chapter at Boulder as hostesses to Colo. B and Denver and Boulder alumnae.

The Denver Alumnae Club is just closing a very successful year, but it is the wish of the club to have as near a 100% alumnae club as possible; accordingly a most cordial invitation is extended to all Pi Phis in or near Denver to join the alumnae club so that the year 1926 may be even more successful than 1925.

Our club this year has been strengthened by the addition of ten new members and the average attendance at meetings has been high. All the work undertaken has met with a fine spirit of cooperation.

Meetings have taken place regularly during the year on the fourth Tuesday afternoon of each month. Two girls from the active chapter are always invited to attend these meetings so that we are kept in close touch with the interests of the chapter.

The early part of the year was spent in raising money through the sale of Christmas cards and novelties. In this manner $207.15 was made. $150 of this amount was sent to the Settlement School and $10 each, to the Loan and Scholarship Funds.

Special interest of late has been directed toward the local chapter's house and lot fund. We are helping in various ways to increase the amounts payable to this cause.

Kan. B entertained with a tea in honor of the Province President, Mrs. Scott, at which our members had the pleasure of renewing their acquaintance with her.

On April 25 the Lawrence and Manhattan Alumnae Clubs and the active chapters, Kan. A and B, plan to celebrate Founders' Day with the Topeka Alumnae Club. The occasion, which was arranged by the Topeka club, is to take place in the new Hotel Kansan and should result in bringing the two chapters and three alumnae groups into a closer relationship and a more intimate acquaintance.

The year's activities of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Alumnae club will culminate in the Founders' Day banquet. We have extended an invitation to the members of the Lincoln Alumnae Club and hope to enjoy the added pleasure of their company.

During the year we have had beside our regular meetings two other pleasant luncheons. The Christmas Dutch Treat luncheon is an annual affair which affords us the opportunity of lunching with the Omaha Pi Phi's who are still attending college. Then in March came a cooky-shine which is the kind of entertainment every Pi Phi most enjoys.

To plan our year's program we attempted last fall a rather novel plan. Every member of the club wrote out and handed in suggestions for each meeting. These were sifted by a committee made up of a representative from the hostesses for each month. This committee was able to incorporate nearly every idea in their outline for the ensuing year.

One of our money making plans we think so successful that it deserves passing on. We called for a report on the modern light reading material in the possession of every member. These books we then offered for loan at the rate of twenty-five cents from meeting to meeting. There are many such books which people are anxious to read; yet do not themselves possess. The matter of finding borrowers is no task.

With the coming of summer comes again the question of "rushing," and we are already busy with our plans. There is in Omaha much opportunity for so helping the surrounding colleges, and this type of activity above all others is of course the one which links us to the active work of our fraternity.

The Topeka Alumnae Club holds regular monthly meetings the second Friday of the month from October to June inclusive. Up to January 1925, these were luncheons at the University Club. Since that date we have held the luncheons at the homes, two members acting as hostesses at each meeting. At these meetings each member pays into the treasury fifty cents. We have done this to have some money for the Fellowship Fund and Settlement School.

We sent ten dollars to the Fellowship Fund, five dollars to the Settlement School, and we will now send an additional fifteen dollars to the School.

Founders' Day we celebrate at the Topeka Country Club with a luncheon. Both the active chapters and alumnae clubs of Lawrence and Manhattan will join us at this celebration. We expect an attendance of one hundred.

The first activity of the year was the annual rushing party with which the patronesses always generously assist us.

In November we gave a dance, making $70 which was divided between the Settlement School and the house fund. We had previously sent $5 to the Fellowship Fund.

The House Corporation Board reports the payment into the house fund of a total of $360 since September 1924; $100 of this was most generously contributed by the Casper club and gratefully accepted by this club; $25 was given by the active chapter whose regular payments into the Building and Loan Association, interest on notes, and house repairs are very heavy; the remaining $235 came from alumnae in house note payments.

A city Panhellenic has been fully organized from which we anticipate both pleasure and profit.

The club derived much inspiration and pleasure from Miss Evans' visit in March and hopes that she may come frequently. The Advisory Board reports improved scholarship in the chapter, delinquent members being carefully checked by the chapter itself. Candidates for membership were passed upon by the Advisory Board. Mrs. Payson, the chairman, entertained the members of the Board at a delightful dinner in honor of Miss Evans who gave them much valuable information on their definite powers and responsibilities.

Founders' Day will be celebrated with a luncheon and stunts at the chapter house on April 2 with the Cheyenne Club as guests of the chapter and our club.

Early in the summer we expect to entertain our patronesses at an informal party.

The Ardmore Alumnae Club has spent an unusually active year which has been due to every member being willing to help and interested in our undertaking. We have had our regular business meetings during which we discussed ways of making money along with our other business. We decided to raffle off a hope chest and each member was to put in at least five dollars worth of material not considering our work. We cleared $360 and were unusually proud of it on account of having a small number in our club. In distributing the money we gave $40 to the Settlement School, $10 to the fellowship fund and the remainder to Okla. A for the new home. Along with our business we have had several social affairs which we have all enjoyed very much. We are now planning an evening party including the Pi Phi husbands and men friends in honor of Clara B. Waltrip whose engagement has been announced.

Most of our time so far has been spent in planning and materializing our plans for the hope chest. The remainder of the year will be spent in familiarizing the new officers with their duties and having our regular business meetings with a few social ones.

While we have followed no set program, the members of the Austin Alumnae Club feel that we are closing a most successful year. The meetings have been held regularly the first Saturday in each month at the homes of various members with an average attendance of eighteen.

Our annual benefit card party brought us around $270 which we forwarded as our donation to the Settlement School. Our contribution to the Fellowship Fund this year was $30.

Our largest work has been the renewal of efforts started years ago to purchase a chapter house. The committee in charge of this work deserves special mention for its untiring efforts. The work has progressed under difficulties, but we are optimistic enough to feel that next year our active girls will be living in their own house.

On Founders' Day we have invited the active chapter and its pledges to be our guests at our annual picnic supper which will be held at Barton Springs.

With the May meeting, which is to be a strictly business meeting, we will close our year's work.

The Fayetteville-Fort Smith has its meetings once a month at the homes of various members. We have had meetings on Settlement School, Constitution and nearest active chapter, Ark. A.

We sent $50 to the Settlement School, $10 to the Fellowship Fund and table linen to Ark. A. We raised this money by selling Christmas cards.

Our club plans to celebrate Founders' Day with a dinner bridge at the Polly Tea Shoppe.

How could one keep from having Settlement School enthusiasm after hearing the lecture of Nita Stark (Mrs. H. J. Lutchter) concerning our School? We hope many alumnae clubs will have the opportunity of listening to Mrs. Stark's rehearsal of what Pi Phi has meant to Little Pigeon, as well as seeing the delightful pictures which she uses to illustrate her lecture.

Rummage sales are our specialty this year; the one given in the fall was such a success that already our plans are practically complete for one to be held this spring.

The alumnae of Texas A are generously pledging themselves to help the active chapter finance a new house. So there are other calls beside the Settlement School this year.

A luncheon at the Country Club followed by bridge will be our pleasant way of observing Founders' Day. LOREL PRUITT MCKILLOP.

The Little Rock Alumnae Club has done as much this year as its limited membership would allow. A glance at our alumnae personals will show just how each has been spending her time. Perhaps our largest and most successful undertaking was the fourth annual state convention held in Little Rock, June 12 and 13, 1924. Over fifty Pi Phis from all parts of the state attended. The program included a luncheon at the Peacock, business session at the Y. W. C. A., initiation and cooky-shine at the home of Pauline Hoeltzel, bridge luncheon at the country club, and a beautiful tea at the house of Mrs. Milton Vaughan, a Pi Phi relative. Chi Omega was holding its state convention at the same time and thus many old acquaintances were renewed at the teas given by the two groups.

The club is a member of the Little Rock Federation of college clubs and each Pi Phi has contributed generously to the scholarship fund of the Federation. Each year the fund pays for the expenses and tuition of one girl for an eastern college and of one for a state school. Florence Kruger, a Pi Phi is treasurer of the organization.

At present we are contributing about $10 to the Settlement School fund and if our plans materialize we hope to send a contribution to the Fellowship Fund and gifts to our nearest chapter, Ark. A.

We shall celebrate Founders' day with a cooky-shine at the house of the president and if any of us can leave our babies and our jobs long enough, we may see you at the Lake of Bays, Canada.

The first meeting of the year was a banquet held in honor of the girls who were leaving for college. Our second meeting, at which time we sent in a petition for our charter, was held about a month later. At this meeting it was decided to hold regular meetings on the last Thursday in each month, but this has since been changed to the last Saturday. These meetings are held in the afternoon with two of the club members acting as hostesses. The business meeting is followed by a bridge party. For the privilege of playing bridge, each member is required to pay twenty-five cents and in this way we have been able to raise money which we are planning to send to the Settlement School.

Founders' Day will be observed with a banquet at the Hotel Severs and we are making plans for a number of out-of-town Pi Phis to attend.

Since we organized in the fall we have added three new members to our roster.

Although our club has done nothing more than most of the clubs, we feel that we have accomplished a great deal from the fact that we are now an organized group of Pi Phis, where before we met and talked of Pi Phi only when we were rushing some girl or when one of our members became enthusiastic and decided to have a meeting.

Over half of our members are greatly interested in the local Panhellenic association, and this group has just been successful in raising the amount needed for a $100 Scholarship fund which is offered to some girl in the high school graduation class each year. They raised the money this year by advertising for a local department store for one day and the club received a percentage of all sales for the day. Each member of the club called fifty of her acquaintances and asked them to shop at that store on an appointed day.

We are all planning to contribute to the "Lot Fund" on Founders' Day, which will be sent to the chapter at Norman to enable them to finish payments on their lot.

Our club has held three meetings this year; the first in September when the officers were elected; the second in November when plans were made for a Tacky Party in honor of the actives and for a rummage sale; the third in March when further plans were discussed for the rummage sale to take place April 25. The Tacky Party was given to bring the alumnae and actives closer together and we feel that it was successful.

Our delegate to convention will be elected at our next meeting. The active chapter girls are very enthusiastic about Bigwin Inn and the alumnae only wish they could be there, too.

During last summer our club concentrated its efforts on winning for Pi Phi some of the girls who went to college in the fall. Though we have the largest fraternity alumnae in Tulsa, we felt that we were losing some of the desirable girls. Consequently, a series of teas were given and a dinner, in September, at the home of Mrs. William Pomeroy. We feel that our efforts were not in vain as six of the girls in whom we were interested pledged to Pi Phi, two to Okla. A, three to Mo. A, and one to Wis. A.

During the winter our chief interest has been to help raise funds for the Okla. A chapter house. The club has been well organized this year and has been working with a definite program. To celebrate Founders' Day we have planned a cooky-shine for April 28. On the third Tuesday in May we will hold election of officers.

The Corvallis Alumnae Club met for the first time this year on October 15. We continued our plan of having a six o'clock dinner at each meeting and find this a very convenient and pleasant way to meet.

Our work this year has been more definite and we feel that we have accomplished more. Our club took up the selling of baskets from the Settlement School and found we could sell more than we could deliver.

We also sold the Munder reproductions but there was not the ready sale for these that there was for the baskets.

At the annual Christmas party of the active chapter, Ore. B, the alumnae club presented them with sherbet glasses.

We are planning a joint picnic of the Ore. A and Ore. B chapters together with the alumnae club in Eugene and our own club, to celebrate Founders' Day. We tried this plan last year and found it to be a great success.

Our efforts through the subscription agency have resulted in bigger profits for the Settlement School this year than they did last and we are hoping that we may do even better next year.

Our club sent five dollars to the Fellowship Loan Fund this year. We would like to have sent more but being so few in number, that was impossible.

We are planning a bazaar for Christmas of next year for the benefit of the Settlement School. Plans are being made now so that this enterprise will meet with success.

While we feel that we have done more for our fraternity this year than last we hope to do infinitely more next year.

This has been rather a busy year for Eugene Alumnae Club. Aside from the regular meetings we entertained the freshman pledges from the active chapter at the beginning of the year, having a Sunday evening lunch and general get-acquainted party.

The whole alumnae club joined in the Initiation and Birthday Party of the active chapter on October 29 at which time we presented the chapter with a Windsor chair as a gift.

Our next busy time was the sale of Christmas cards at which we made a profit of $50 for the Settlement School.

In February the alumnae club made curtains for the sleeping porch at the chapter house.

Our Grand President, Amy Onken, and our Province President, Mrs. Grace Beck made us a short visit on Feb. 14 and 15. The alumnae club gave a luncheon for them, and assisted the active girls with a reception, formal initiation and banquet at the chapter house. Needless to say we enjoyed their visit very much.

We are having our annual dinner for all Pi Phi alumnae and husbands at the home of Edna Davis on April 14. This particular time is especially enjoyed by each of us and looked forward to for some time.

We have not yet elected officers for next year as our year does not close until May.

This has been an interesting and busy year for the Portland Club. Our membership has increased noticeably and a fine spirit of co-operation exists among the club members.

Our activities began in September when Mrs. George Guthrie entertained the Pi Phis and their mothers at a very lovely tea at her home. This was followed shortly by a tea given by the club for the active girls and their friends on their departure to college. In September also was the first of our regular monthly meetings held in the homes of the various members. These consist of a business meeting with sometimes a program following, and then the usual social tea hour.

A cooky-shine in October at the home of Mrs. John Turner brought out a record attendance. This has come to be an annual affair and is eagerly anticipated as one of our most enjoyable get-togethers.

Our bridge benefit party for the Settlement School was held in November at Al Azar Hall and due to the loyal efforts of the committee was a success, socially and financially. From it we cleared over $200.

December was a busy month with a Christmas luncheon at the University Club and the tea for girls of the active chapter and their friends held at the home of Alice Bowman. At that time too, due to the generous gifts of money and clothing from the club members and their friends, we were able to help with the Christmas charity work, taking care of several destitute families.

We had a wonderful Settlement School meeting in January when we were entertained by Mrs. John Turner and Mrs. George Guthrie and were privileged to witness a short play depicting the life of the southern mountaineers and the influence Pi Phi has wrought in these lives.

The coming of Miss Onken in February made that a red letter month for our club. A luncheon at the Sign of the Rose Tea Room followed by a reception, at the home of Mrs. George Young gave all an opportunity to meet Miss Onken, and from her we gained fresh inspiration and enthusiasm and a resolve to do our best for Pi Phi.

One meeting has been given over to the health program. A lecture by one of our medical students on the diet of children, was appreciated by all present.

We still have three more business meetings on our year's program and we are looking forward to our Founders' Day banquet. Then we hope to have with us members of both our active chapters. Then too will be held election of officers for the coming year.

Our largest contribution has of course been to the Settlement School $850, to Ore. A and Ore. B we have sent each $100 as birthday presents, $20 to the Fellowship Fund, $25 to the Portland Community Chest, and $10.00 to the Loan Fund have completed our contributions so far this year. This money has been raised in various ways such as; rummage sale $160, bridge party, sale of Christmas cards from which we cleared nearly $400 due largely to the efforts of Mrs. Frank Knight, personal subscriptions, commissions on sale of spices and extracts, Oregon made products, sale of waste paper, sale of Settlement School products, and contributions from our small bridge clubs. These clubs meet every two weeks and the members are taxed a small amount at each meeting. In this way we earn money for the Settlement School and also become better acquainted than we can in the larger club meetings.

After a strenuous summer's work on the part of the building committee, especially the chairman, Mrs. W. F. Paddock (Hazel Wallace, Wash. A), Washington Alpha's new chapter house was completed and opened in October, just after the beginning of the college year. The October meeting of the alumnae club was held at the chapter house, the main event of the afternoon being a tour of inspection by everyone present, and we all felt the building committee had done exceedingly well.

During the summer neighborhood groups in various parts of the city had been working for the annual bazaar. The work was continued through the fall and final plans made at the November meeting at the chapter house. The bazaar, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edna Dawson, (Edna Heaton, Wash. A), on December 13, realized $700 for the building fund.

Our January meeting took the form of a cooky-shine with the active chapter at the chapter house. Ways and means of helping the chapter with its furnishing fund, as well as the building fund, were discussed. The Mothers' Club has been helping the girls with the furnishing fund, but there were so many things needed for the new house that it was felt the alumnae club must also help. We gave the girls a buffet for their dining room and promised assistance at the series of card parties they are giving. A rummage sale early in February added $81 to the building fund.

We had our annual Settlement School meeting in February at the home of Mrs. Fletcher, our president. She had made a trip down South during the late summer and visited the Settlement School. Her account of the School and its work was extremely interesting and brought it very near to us. We have felt this year that Wash. A needed all our help for its house, so we could not do as much as usual for the Settlement School. Something over $200 was made with Christmas Card books and individual pledges brought the total up to $329.

At the March meeting we had our study of the constitution. Also active work for the next bazaar was started, the members sewing during the afternoon, and ways of raising funds for buying materials worked out. Chairmen have been appointed for various district groups, to continue the work throughout the spring and summer and we hope to have a bigger bazaar next fall.

Founders' Day will be celebrated with the active chapter by a banquet at the chapter house. The annual Senior Breakfast for 1925 graduates will be given on May 16 and the annual picnic on June 20 will close our year.

This particular club has enjoyed one of the best years in its history. Many of the meetings have been noontime luncheons held down town, thereby attracting larger attendances and arousing greater enthusiasm. The members have successfully conducted a rummage sale, a dance, a cooky-shine, and before this appears will have presented two evening performances of one-act plays for the benefit of the Settlement School. Before summer arrives, the schedule includes another cooky-shine and a picnic.

The year of 1925 was started with a rummage sale, with Mrs. T. A. Peterman as chairman. It was very successful and $105 was cleared. In October we gave a Panhellenic Tea to which all the fraternity women in Tacoma and the Puyallup Valley were invited, which has been the custom of the different groups for several years. Our Founder, Mrs. Soule and Mrs. Franklyn Gault, presided at the tea tables.

The November meeting was at the home of Ruth Sturley. There was the usual one o'clock luncheon preceding the speaker, after which we had the business meeting. This plan is used every month. At this assembly Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, a particularly able speaker, gave a brilliant account of her recent European trip. In December the Misses Jenness and Marguerite Bonnell were hostesses for the annual holiday bridge tea, which is given in honor of the active chapter in Seattle at the University of Washington. During the tea hour an antique Chinese Tapestry was presented to Wash. A for their newly remodelled house. During November the local alumnae of this chapter met regularly at the apartment of Mrs. Conrad Opperman, who was chairman for our booth at the bazaar in Seattle for the Settlement School Fund. We made plaques and novelty doll beds with dainty outfits. Marguerite Bonnell was chairman for the sale of Munder reproductions. From both these activities we cleared $40. Mrs. John Cromwell was chairman for the sale of Gutgesell Christmas cards from which we realized $90. Mrs. Cromwell was also hostess for the January meeting, when Alma Wagen, a Stadium High School teacher, gave a very fine illustrated lecture on her trip thru the Italian Alps. In February we met at Mrs. Conrad Opperman's and the delegate, whom we helped finance, to send thru the Presidents League to the Bryn Mawr Summer Industrial School, showed her work and gave a brief resumé of her experience. Later in the month we had the honor of meeting our Grand President, Amy B. Onken, and our Province President, Mrs. Grace H. Beck, at a dinner party given by Mrs. Cleon Soule and Mrs. Leonard Brown, the two daughters of Mrs. Soule senior. We shall never forget the informal charm of this occasion and our happiness in greeting Miss Onken. She told us about her visit to Little Pigeon. We considered it our official Settlement School meeting.

For March we went to the home of Mrs. E. P. Norton. Miss Sturley was chairman and conducted a study of the history and constitution of the fraternity. There was the annual election of officers and reports, and we voted to send $125 to the Settlement School Fund and $10 to the Scholarship Fund. We joined with the Seattle Alumnae in celebrating Founders' Day at the chapter house where our beloved founder, Mrs. Soule, was guest of honor. At the May meeting Jenness Bonnell will present her plans for the sale of a bloc of Rialto Theater tickets from which we will have 50 percent of the proceeds. This will be a nucleus for our Settlement School Wash. A Fund for next year. A $100 bond was purchased from the Wash. A Building Fund. The gayest meeting of all is to be the strawberry festival, a picnic always held when the berries first ripen in the lovely Puyallup Valley. Mrs. Orton and Mrs. Willis Brindly will be hostesses for this last meeting before the summer vacation.

Our club has endeavored since its organization to make Pi Phi mean something to our community as well as to its members. The Y. W. C. A. was nearly destroyed by fire last summer and entire new furnishings were necessary. This year we have furnished completely one of the most attractive rooms in the building. Our October meeting at Jessie Scott Cline's home was a miscellaneous shower for Helen Dingle, (Wash. A.) who was married Nov. 11 to E. L. Walthausen of Grandview, Wash.

During November we held a rummage sale which netted $68. The December luncheon was at The Blue Lantern, our guests being the active girls from Wash. A and Wash. B who were home for the holidays. The girls gave reports of the work of their chapters and also entertained us with chapter songs.

We have contributed $10 to the Fellowship Fund and $38 to the Settlement School, besides giving Christmas gifts to the two active chapters and articles for their Bazaars.

The March meeting was a surprise shower, at the home of Elizabeth Marshall Jackson, Nebr. B, in honor of Mrs. Libby's birthday. It was a typical birthday party with a large candle-lighted cake and numerous gifts. Everyone had a delightful time for it is always a joy to please our dear Founder.

We are busy now planning a large card party for April 18 and our Founders' Day banquet to be held at the home of Delia Dunbar, Wash. A.

The Long Beach Alumnae Club has just concluded a most interesting and worth while year's program, under the efficient guidance of our president, Mrs. Louise Spaulding Malin. The plans formulated by the executive board early last April have been carried out without change. The election of officers occurs on the first Saturday in April.

Our Founders' Day cooky-shine was celebrated at the home of Ethlyn Bradley. True to tradition it was an agreeable informal affair enjoyed by all. Many of our members attended the more formal and quite splendid banquet at Los Angeles.

The outstanding feature of a June picnic in Bixby Park was an interesting talk by Mrs. Dowell of the Settlement School. She also gave us a vivid description of the unveiling of Mrs. Coolidge's portrait at Washington.

Our July meeting was styled a Mothers and Daughters Party. It was held at the home of Josephine Kenkel. The company numbered sixty and the afternoon was one of great enjoyment. The musical program was especially fine, songs by a group of eight girls, vocal solos by Mrs. Griswold, and an interesting reading by a mother. Mrs. Malin's contribution was an original musical reading, "Our Pi Phi Mothers," a worthy addition to the many Pi Phi songs which Mrs. Malin has given her fraternity.

The August meeting was a pay luncheon at Sea Cliff Inn. Following lunch the club had a brief but impressive memorial service for our Founder, Rosa Moore. Mrs. Bunberry, a guest from Indianola chapter paid a fine tribute to our Pi Phi pioneer. This was followed by "Consolation" rendered by our president, the anthem and silent prayer.

On the September date we met with Mrs. Orcutt, assisted by Mrs. Shepherd for afternoon tea. The Settlement School bridge party was talked over.

The meeting in October was a lunch at Imperial Inn. At this time the entire session was given over to business and discussion of the coming Bridge Benefit.

On November 1, the much planned-for Settlement School Bridge Tea and Musical was held at the Hotel Virginia. It was a perfect success socially and financially. The hotel management took entire charge of the serving. Tickets sold for a dollar. The management charged fifty cents for each person served. Prizes and candy were donated by our own club members. The latter netted a neat sum when sold at ten cents a bag. A number of Settlement School baskets and linens were sold. The music was much appreciated and was furnished by our own talent with some outside assistance. We were proud to present so fine a program to our three hundred Long Beach society women guests. After all expenses were paid, $150 was sent to the Settlement School fund.

December marked the children's Christmas party. Twenty-five children enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Peterson's home with their mothers, grandmothers and other kin. Everything possible was done to fill the children's hearts with joy. There was a tree, a Santa Claus and candy and presents for them. Lavish refreshments were served.

In January we met with Mrs. Weber for a real old fashioned cooky-shine. The especial work of the afternoon was the study of the Constitution led by Miss Kenkel.

In February we met with Mrs. Leebrick for an afternoon tea and to hem napkins, our gift to our nearest Pi Phi chapter, Calif. I. It was a pleasant afternoon of service.

The March event was a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. Cartwright, honoring our Kappa province officers Mrs. P. M. Young and Mrs. Perce Curtis. During the luncheon hour each of these ladies gave us an interesting and instructive talk on Pi Phi matters. It was a great pleasure to have them with us and to hear of province and Settlement School work at first hand.

The April meeting brought the duty of electing new officers. The hostesses were Miss Kenkel and Mrs. Griswold and the day successfully rounded out a profitable and eventful year.

The Los Angeles Alumnae Club has had a most successful year, under the able leadership of its president, Mrs. Carl E. Johnson (Ella Mayo, Cal. F) The program for the year has been both interesting and profitable.

We have varied and supplemented our regular monthly luncheon and business meetings with numerous other events. One of these was a benefit bridge and tea for the Settlement School, at which we cleared $200. To Marjory Sparey, (Cal. F) belongs the credit for the success of this affair. Also, we have had many "neighborhood parties," and have found that they are a splendid means of making money for the Settlement School and Goodwill Nursery, to which we contribute, besides affording an opportunity for our members to become better acquainted with one another. Then there was a buffet supper, followed by bridge and Mah Jongg, at which the men were the guests.

In December the alumnae club and the active chapter held their annual bazaar, under the able supervision of Florence Mullin, (Cal. F), at which time $700 was cleared. Part of this amount went to the active chapter for their house fund, and the balance to the Settlement School. All together the alumnae club's contribution to "Little Pigeon" this year has been $700.

The most recent enjoyable event was the reception which the alumnae club and active chapter gave in honor of our Grand Secretary, Miss Evans, during her official visit to Cal. F.

The program for the rest of the year includes our Founders' Day banquet, on April 28, at the "Elite"; a benefit bridge and tea at the new Women's Athletic Club, on May 9, with the Cal. A and Cal. B alumnae members in charge, and a cooky shine on May 23 at the chapter house, followed by the installation of the new officers.

We feel that the past year has been a most satisfactory one, and we are looking forward to 1925-26 as a worthy successor.

NEVADA ALUMNAE CLUB

President—Nevis Sullivan, 130 So. Virginia St., Reno, Nev.

Vice-President—Neal Sullivan

Corresponding Secretary—Adele Armstrong, Sparks, Nev.

Treasurer—Hilda Herz.

Resident Alumnae—30.

Average Attendance—20.

Each month on the second Tuesday, we held a business meeting, followed by a social evening.

The year started very auspiciously with the presentation to the club by Mrs. Herz of a beautiful silver loving cup to use in the Cup Song. The cup was engraved "H B ♀, gift of Mrs. C. O. Herz to Nevada Alumnae Club."

Several womens clubs united in bringing Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker to Reno to speak. Mrs. P. A. Hawkins, one of our members, was leader in this movement and the Pi Phi Alumnae Club contributed its share of the expense. Many of our members attended Mrs. Schoonmaker's lecture, which was greatly appreciated.

The Initiation banquet, always one of our most important social meetings with the active chapter, was held this year in the banquet room of the Golden Hotel. The toasts and speeches were exceptionally fine.

The biggest and best party given by the alumnae club was in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Delta Rho, the local which later became Nev. A. It was held at the Golf Club and about eighty were present, including the active chapters and pledges, the alumnae club and visiting members and all the Delta Rhos who could possibly come. The Delta Rhos entertained with a fashion show, contrasting the styles of 1900 with those of 1925 and later several songs and recitations were given by talented members. The alumnae club put on a short play entitled "The Delta Rose," depicting a love affair between the gentleman, Mr. Pi Beta Phi and the shy Miss Delta Rose. The active girls entertained with songs. This party took the place of our March meeting.

We sent a larger amount to the Settlement School this year than we usually do. The money was raised mainly through the sale of Christmas cards, pictures and baskets. We expect next year to be able to start a house fund, as our active chapter, which has been rather small for several years, is very strong in numbers now and will not need any financial assistance.

Miss Evans visited the chapter late in March and several members of the alumnae club motored with her to the Minden Inn one Sunday afternoon. Later, many of the alumnae attended a tea that was given in her honor by the active chapter at the home of Mrs. J. H. Gray.

We are looking forward to the Founders' Day banquet and also to a very wonderful year to come.

The Northern California Alumnae Club has had an unusually successful year of work and pleasure. The Garden Party given at the home of Mrs. Fraser in Piedmont to assist the active chapter in rushing was very successful. The following month, a luncheon in the form of a cooky-shine, a custom which always assures us a good time, and one of the many reasons we are glad we are Pi Phis, was held at Mrs. Majors, where a mixture of business and social interests gave everyone a good time.

In November the club gave a card party at the chapter house of Calif. B for the benefit of the Settlement School and raised thereby $85. The proceeds of a Christmas bazaar went to the active chapter to help pay for the painting of the house.

At least one meeting each year is held in San Francisco, so in January we enjoyed an afternoon tea at Elsie Howells. Joan London Abbott gave selections from a book of her father, Jack London, and we hope she will repeat this pleasure for us again soon.

On March 28 a hundred of us enjoyed a luncheon at Taits at the Beach in San Francisco. Because of the conflict with final examinations we were compelled to have our Founders' Day luncheon in March instead of in April. It was a pleasure indeed to have Miss Evans, Grand Secretary, with us for that occasion. Babe McCreay, Calif. B delegate, gave a most enthusiastic talk on Convention and I am sure we all wish we were going with her to Bigwin Inn.

A benefit theater party for the Settlement School on April 28 will close our program for the year.

We have nearly completed our first year as an integral part of the alumnae organization of our fraternity, an active alumnae club. Our meetings have been held on the first Saturday of each month, consisting mainly of luncheons held at the homes of visiting members.

As this is our first year as an organized club we have bent our efforts almost exclusively for the Settlement School. A bridge tea was given at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo, which proved very successful, netting $150. We were able to increase our Settlement School donation to $150 due to our taxi bank. At each meeting all those who have received rides to and from meeting, place the amount of their ride in the bank.

Every year Calif. F, our nearest chapter, gives a bazaar for the benefit of the Settlement School and the chapter house fund. For two years we have contributed articles for this bazaar. This next year we are going to have our own booth there. We are to have fifty percent of the proceeds, which we will add to our yearly contribution to the Settlement School. The sewing for the bazaar has been carried on during the meetings and one all-day sewing meeting was held in order that more might be accomplished. In addition each member is to contribute at least one article.

We also gave $20 to the Fellowship Fund.

We were greatly honored at our April luncheon meeting to have as our guests Grand Secretary Francese Evans, Kappa Province President, Mrs. P. M. Young, Los Angeles Alumnae Club President, and Mrs. Warren Smith, a member of the National Extension Committee. Miss Evans, in her talk, gave us some very interesting pictures of our Settlement School. It made us feel that we were working for something very real and tangible rather than a make-believe place of our dreams.

We will celebrate Founders' Day jointly with the Los Angeles Alumnae Club and Calif. F. Last year, this was the largest fraternity banquet ever held in Los Angeles. We are looking forward to an even larger one this year.

Much of the success of our club is due to the active support and interest given it by one of our former Grand Presidents, Miss Elizabeth Gamble.

We count ourselves indeed fortunate to have her wide experience and good counsel to guide us.

We feel that we have had a very successful first year and are anticipating an even better one next year. The spirit of cooperation shown by the members has been perfectly splendid. Everyone has been willing to do her share and everything undertaken has been carried out 100 percent.

The future beckons us anew and we are fired with a desire to do our part to keep alive the ideals of our Founders and to keep our fraternity truly great.

Meetings have been held regularly on the first Tuesday of the month at the Pi Phi House. Cooky-shines have been held several times with the active chapter.

As the active chapter had very few older girls back this year, we have tried to do all we could to help them solve their problems. The Advisory Committee has been very active and has cooperated with the chapter in an efficient and harmonious way. At Christmas the alumnae club presented a new set of dishes to the chapter.

Following our custom, we entertained the pledges this year at a bridge party at the home of Mary Franklin.

In place of giving a benefit for the Settlement School and the Fellowship Fund, we decided to try the plan of assessing each member.

We have just had a visit from Frances Roma Evans which was very enjoyable and helpful. It was indeed a pleasure to meet Miss Evans and to hear her message from other chapters and from I B Φ nationally. We are so isolated that Pi Phis from outside are a rare treat.

We are planning to unite with the active chapter in celebrating Founders' Day.

CHAPTER LETTERS

EDITED BY CAROLYN M. REED,

Nebraska B

539 East Pasadena St., Pomona, Calif.

Again the chapter letters bear testimony to the high aims of the active chapters in scholarship. Ten reported first place in their local Panhellenics and several made even more noteworthy records. Illinois Z established a new scholarship standard on the University of Illinois campus when with an average of 3.9 she took first place among twenty-six groups. Indiana B climbed from the bottom, twenty-first place, to the top in one semester, holding the highest individual scholarship in both freshman and senior classes. New York Γ girls won three of the seven Φ B K keys in the class. Indiana A holds first place for the seventh successive semester. Iowa B won the scholarship cup, one member having the only straight E average in college. This is the third semester for the chapter scholarship supremacy and she also now holds permanently the Zeta Province Scholarship cup. The other chapters are Illinois H, Illinois B, North Dakota A and Oregon B.

There are many interesting and unusual achievements described in these letters: the clever Saint Patrick's party of Missouri Γ ; the stunts of Michigan A, Montana A and North Dakota A; the money raising plans of Ontario A, Illinois Z and Columbia A. We suggest that the latter scheme would be an excellent one to work off W. A. A. hiking requirements.

Ohio B paid tribute to the beautiful Π Φ songs, "The Wine and Silver Blue" and "The Pi Phi Girl" when she entered them in competition for the singing cup, winning it from Δ Δ Δ . They were also sung over the radio on April 23.

Several of the younger Pi Phis seem to be entering most interesting careers. Theo Paynter, Illinois E, is a co-author of the college musical comedy in which five Pi Phis took part. Jean Heighway of Indiana B is the author of the Jordan River Review, an annual musical comedy which she has had a part in writing and staging for three years. Ann Lechliter, Iowa Γ , through the Commercial Club of Ames, Iowa is instructing the clerks in the local stores how to make up the materials in their various departments.

 Evelyn Stagg, B.A., Brockville, Ontario, Can.
 Margaret Thorburn, B.A., Niagara Falls, Ontario, Can.

Initiation was held at the home of Mary Scott and followed by the annual banquet at the Alexandra Palace. The annual dance was held at the King Edward Hotel on March 6, and many alumne were present on both these occasions.

On March 28, Gwendolyn Colter was pledged at the chapter room and a buffet luncheon was served afterwards, the proceeds going to the Settlement School. Ontario A is becoming very fertile in schemes for raising money for Convention and Settlement School—everything from jitney rides to shingling has been tried.

This year has been an eventful one in women's sports. The intercollegiate championship in both hockey and basket-ball has been won, and the women's hockey team emerged provincial champions from their first year in the Ladie's Ontario Hockey Association. The University College base-ball team are interfaculty champions and the swimming team, with two Pi Phis on it, won the meet most decisively, Evelyn Willmott remaining individual champion of the university for the second time.

Π Φ welcomes to the Panhellenic association the local chapter of K K Γ which has transferred from Victoria College.

Senior canes are appearing so Commencement will be here all too soon to end another happy and busy year. Just after vacation $\Pi \Phi$ raised twenty-five dollars at a candy sale for the Loan Fund and Settlement School, and now the chapter is putting on an imitation musical revue in the style of a cabaret.

There has been another disastrous fire on the campus. The two top floors of the $K \Sigma$ house were badly burned and several men lost all their possessions.

On March 4 initiation was held at the home of Dean and Mrs. Stevens, the banquet, the following evening at the Penobscot Exchange Hotel in Bangor; and a formal dance later at the country club. Soon after, the chapter was pleasantly entertained at a tea given by the patronesses at the home of Dean and Mrs. Boardman. Maine A entertained patronesses and mothers at a successful bridge in Balentine Hall.

Anna Ashley is editor of the campus literary magazine The Maine-Spring. Rusty Brackett and Elizabeth Pendleton are presidents of Mount Vernon and Balentine Hall, respectively. The former is also chairman of the girls' senior cane committee. Dorothy Steward, has been awarded a letter for rifle marksmanship. Ethel Saunders, is the talented pianist for the girls' glee club. As Y. W. C. A. vice-president, Cecile E. Ham attended the New England Conference of College Christian Leaders at Northfield.

The chapter misses Marita Pickard and Teddy Campbell, who have been obliged, on account of illness, to withdraw from college for the remainder of the year.

 Marjorie Winter, B.A., New York, N. Y.

Dorothy Johnson has been awarded $\Phi B K$. Dorothy deserves particular credit since she has gone in for many social and campus activities aside from the required curriculum.

During Junior Week there is the usual Junior play in which a $\Pi \Phi$, Eleanor Frost, has the leading part. $\Pi \Phi$ is further represented in dramatics by Onnolee Ohart who is to take part in March Hares, one of the major plays given by the dramatic club this year. Middlebury is very fortunate in having a new Middlebury Playhouse. Aside from the longer plays, at least two one act plays are given each week, thus giving many a chance to take part.

Vermont A has done her bit of late in strengthening the bonds of unity, at least within Alpha Province. Two delegates, Verna Scott and Rachel Poole were sent to the $\Pi \Phi$ initiation at St. Lawrence University. They returned with glowing accounts of their welcome, and with the wish that chapter houses were possible at Middlebury. Madeleine Dunn and Eleanor Manley received as fine a welcome at the initiation ceremonies of Vermont.

Elizabeth Howard was sent by the college as a delegate to the Y. W. C. A. Convention at Northfield.

Middlebury is indeed proud of her new French Chateau, which was mentioned in a former Arrow. It is nearing completion and the hope is that it will be open for inspection at Commencement time. But all the results of the year are not such happy ones. Middlebury's football coach, famed for having coached the Middlebury team which, in the fall of 1923 held Harvard 6-6, is resigning. Mr. Morey has been very well liked as a coach, a sportsman and a gentleman and Middlebury regrets his departure.

Several freshmen made the freshmen women's basketball team, and Onnolee Ohart made the All-Midd team, made up of the five women considered the best basketball players in the college.

Vermont B announces the pledging of Katharine Miller, Marian Sargent and Janet Twitchell.

After pledging, the chapter gave a very successful entertainment, consisting of a one act play and several dances, for the mothers and alumnae of Burlington. Nearly thirty-five dollars was received for the Mothers' Club. On March 28, an informal tea was given in honor of the new patronesses, Miss Katrina Storms of the English department at the university, and Mrs. Max L. Powell of Burlington.

Construction has begun on the new Ira Allen chapel, the gift of Mr. J. B. Wilbur. It is hoped that it may be dedicated during the Commencement of the class of 1926.

Cynthia Goodsell and Miriam Dailey have recently been elected to O N, home economics honorary club for juniors and seniors. Cynthia was also made president of O N. Frances Burditt is president of W. A. A. and managed the women's indoor meet on April 1.

At the recent campus elections, thirteen Pi Phi were chosen for office, among them Florence Lewis as president of Vermonters Club and Belle Randall as vice-president of Student Union.

Massachusetts A was very proud to have Anna Robinson Nickerson, Grand Vice-President, initiate on February 28. The initiation was at the chapter house and the banquet, at Riverbank Court. In spite of the earthquake felt in Boston that night, all Pi Phis present made merry.

An informal dance was held at Braintree in February. The spring formal was April 18, the decorations being in the form of Patriot's Day celebration.

To raise the money promised for fellowship fund, each girl had to earn one dollar and report at meeting how it was earned. It was surprising what diversified talents the girls possessed as every kind of work from candy-making and dress-making to hair waving was used as a money-making scheme.

Mrs. Clark, chapter house mother, was formally presented to the alumnae and to the $\Pi \Phi$ mothers at a tea on April 3. On the next day came a rummage sale, which would have proved much more successful had there not been so much competition that day in that district.

Helen Smiley, is to represent Massachusetts A at convention. Many are hoping to go and receive inspiration as they did at Washington last spring. As for those who can't go, they must be contented with a houseparty by the seashore.

College activities are in full swing. The Boston University show and Romeo and Juliet are to be presented soon. The Y. W. C. A. is now having a vocational guidance week when the advantages and disadvantages of each profession are pointed out. Then follow junior week, finals, and Convention.

Over the week end of May 9, the chapter entertained at a house party for the mothers. The entertainment consisted of a program by the daughters themselves, and a day of events of the annual Syracuse University Women's Day. The girls whose mothers could not attend borrowed "mothers" for the occasion.

Π Β Φ recently entertained a group of non-fraternity women at the chapter house at an informal party from 7 to 10 o'clock. The women's governing board of the university is aiming to promote a better understanding and relationship between fraternity and neutral women, and Π Β Φ is a pioneer in the development of this idea. The party was a great success and it was felt that a definite step had been made in the direction of realizing this ideal.

Evelyn Hart, a member of Ζ Φ Η, professional oratory fraternity, and a student in the public speech and dramatic department, took a part in the senior recital of that college. Only seven women are given this honor, which requires a high degree of excellence in class work. Geraldine Ridings has recently been elected to Φ Κ Φ in the college of Liberal Arts. Margery Green had charge of one of the scenes of the pageant on Women's Day.

The active chapter gave one informal rushing party for city girls, and the alumnae club a formal one, in the form of a garden party.

St. Lawrence has started on her baseball program with the hope of success similar to that of the past basketball season. The work of the basketball team was remarkable for a small college—of a total number of fourteen games, twelve were victories.

The college women made their initial appearance in intercollegiate debating recently when they debated with Syracuse University. The team successfully defended the negative side of the proposition: Resolved, that Congress be given the power to declare effectual, by a two-thirds vote, any law declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. New York I was represented by two of the four members on the St. Lawrence team.

Seven seniors have lately been elected to Φ B K, of which number three are Pi Phis—Alice Bennett, Lillian Eddy and Ann Scott. Π B Φ received the first award of a silver tray offered by the local Panhellenic to the chapter obtaining the highest scholastic average.

St. Lawrence is now publishing a comic quarterly, the first issue of which has been very favorably criticised. The need of such a magazine has long been felt on the campus and the editors are putting forth their best efforts to make The Scarlet Saint a vital part of the college life.

The annual initiation and banquet were held in the latter part of February. According to custom, the initiates were presented in costume at the banquet and impersonated Don Juans and senioritas in a setting representing a moonlight serenade.

The spring informal dance took the form of a fancy-dress party. The novelty of the affair resulted in a most enjoyable evening. New York I is planning a "stunt night" to which all friends of the chapter are invited. The purpose of this occasion is two-fold: to have a get-together for chapter and townspeople, and to raise funds for the redecoration of the chapter house.

The second semester has proved a busy and eventful one for New York Δ . The first and most thrilling event occurred when Carrie Chapman Catt was an over night guest of the chapter. Mrs. Catt came to Cornell to speak at the annual Farmer's Week gathering and New York Δ was indeed proud and happy to entertain her.

In addition to entertaining so distinguished a guest as Mrs. Catt, New York Δ was the first women's fraternity to entertain at dinner Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University.

At the annual Panhellenic banquet $\Pi\Phi$ lost the Panhellenic scholarship cup, which she has held for the past year to $\Sigma\Delta T$. New York Δ now rates third in scholarship among the fourteen women's fraternities on the campus.

Spring fever has not yet attacked the chapter and the girls are all busy with campus activities. Elinor Jennings is women's editor of the Cornell Daily Sun for next year. Orpha Spicer is assistant women's editor of the Cornellian. Iva Pasco had a leading part in the Kermis play given by the students of the college of agriculture during Farmer's week and Frances De Lamater had several important roles with the Cornell dramatic club. Gretchen Fisher is on committees for the Beaux Arts ball given by the college of architecture and for the sophomore cotillion. Thelma Tabor is on the freshman commission and Dorothy Johnston has been elected as an active member of the women's debate club.

Pennsylvania A had the pleasure of entertaining Anna Robinson Nickerson in March. She brought a real inspiration to the girls, and her advice and influence have been most helpful in college and fraternity problems. A tea was given in her honor to which other fraternity and non-fraternity girls were invited.

Initiation was held February 15 at the Hotel Rittenhouse in Philadelphia. The ceremonies were unusually impressive and a formal banquet was held afterwards.

Spring elections have just been made and Marjorie Mode was elected chairman of the student conduct committee; Sarah Percy, vice-president of student government; Frances Pace, vice-president of Y. W. C. A.; Margaret Somerville, secretary of Y. W. C. A. and I. C. S. A., and Lillian Pace president of I. C. S. A.

The women's glee club gave its annual concert the evening before Somerville. It was acclaimed the most successful of any concert ever given.

The active chapter entertained the alumnae at the Founders' Day luncheon, with some original stunts. The annual formal dinner dance was held at the Aberfoyle Country Club April 18.

Pennsylvania B entertained her pledges at a banquet at the Manufacturers' Club at Milton, on February 4. Mrs. Frank Davis of Arkansas A presided as toastmistress. During the evening the scholarship bracelet, given by the alumnae to the pledge with the highest grades, was awarded to Elizabeth James. At the close of the banquet, in the hall entirely dark except for the rays from a lighted arrow, the pledges, actives, and alumnae joined hands and sang the Anthem.

On March 28, the chapter held the formal pledging ceremony at the home of Mrs. Joseph R. Wood. The Pennsylvania B delegate to the convention is Irene Bell. Several other girls are planning to attend also.

Anna Robinson Nickerson, Grand Vice-President, visited the chapter March 21-24. Before Mrs. Nickerson left, every girl was won by her charming personality, and was inspired to higher, nobler things by the beautiful thoughts which were embodied in what she said.

A new rushing system is being formulated by the local Panhellenic board. Preferential bidding is to be introduced, and rushing parties are to be financed under a budget plan, supervised by the board.

A new local fraternity, Z I T, has been organized, and has been recognized by the authorities of the college.

Helen Hunt, daughter of the president of the university and sister of Carolyn Hunt, Pennsylvania B, is Dean of Women at Judson College, Rangoon, Burma, India. The girls of Bucknell are supporting one Burmese student at this college.

Freshman Commission of Y. W. C. A. is raising money through candy sales to refurbish the Y. W. C. A. room.

This year, all the campus organizations have stressed the positive rather than the negative side of their work, and the resulting spirit is of the type that succeeds.

Pennsylvania I held initiation, followed by a cooky-shine at the home of Louise Patterson on March 11.

Anna Robinson Nickerson made a most pleasant and inspirational visit immediately after spring vacation. Unfortunately she could not stay for the annual formal dance which was held at the American Legion hall on March 28.

Carola Learned was one of four of the graduating class to be elected to ΦBK at the end of the first semester. Blanche Raine and Fairlee Habbart, were "A" students.

The dramatic club presented Peg O' My Heart as the midwinter play. Eleanor McCrone carried one of the leading parts. The commencement play is to be The New Poor, with Sallie Sigmund as lead and Lois Horn and Pamela McWilliams also in the cast.

Pennsylvania Γ celebrated Founders' Day with the Lancaster Alumnae club at a banquet in Harrisburg on April 25. The commencement banquet this year will be on June 6 at the Molly Pitcher Hotel.

Initiation was held at the rooms on Terrace Street and was followed by a formal banquet at the Hotel Schenley. Mrs. J. E. Webster of Wisconsin A was toast-mistress. Sarah Fulton was presented with the recognition pin which is awarded annually to the initiate having the highest scholarship record. Four members of West Virginia A attended the initiation and banquet.

The following girls were pledged at the end of the mid-semester rushing season: Florence Cornforth, Bertha Schmidt and Gertrude Swift.

A benefit bridge for the Settlement School was held at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association on February 21 by the Pittsburgh Alumnae Club and Pennsylvania Δ . The active chapter assisted with the serving and the pledges sold candy.

The annual Panhellenic conference was opened by Dean Thyrsa Amos. Mary Burke was in charge of one of the discussion groups.

The seventh annual Vocational Conference was held in March.

Judge Florence Allen of the Supreme Court of Ohio gave the opening address at a general assembly in Memorial Hall.

Panhellenic ball was held at the Hotel Schenley on April 28. Sylvia Hannan was chairman of favors.

The chapter entertained at dinner Dean Thrysa Amos, the fraternity council, and the new officers of the Pittsburgh Alumnae Club. Pennsylvania Δ has been entertaining mothers of the actives and pledges at the Monday night dinners.

Lysbeth Hamilton was elected delegate to Convention and Sylvia Hannan was elected alternate. Mary Burke was initiated into the honorary education fraternity, $\Pi \Lambda \Theta$, and was chairman of the dance given by $\Sigma K \Phi$. Elizabeth Thomson and Alice Fehr were appointed to the staff of the Pitt Weekly.

The financial campaign for the Cathedral of Learning, the new fifty-two story building, is well under way. It is to be erected on Frick Acres. The work on the new stadium is two months ahead of the schedule.

Ohio A had the pleasure of an inspiring visit from the Grand Vice-President, Anna Robinson Nickerson. During her visit, they entertained with a Panhellenic tea and a chapter dinner party in her honor. Mrs. Nickerson's wonderful message and her aid in solving some of the problems which confronted the chapter, instilled new life and spirit in the girls.

Seven strong girls were added to the chapter by the beautiful initiation held at the home of one of the girls. The alumnae club entertained the active chapter and the new initiates with a dinner in honor of the initiation.

Elizabeth Woodworth was initiated into $\Phi E O$, honorary home economics fraternity. Frances Merrit has been elected co-editor of the O Book, a publication which is presented to each person upon registering at Ohio University by the Christian association. Frances has also been elected secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and won second place in the examination for the editorship of the Green and White. Edith Humphrey recently became a member of the Green and White staff, making five Pi Phis on the staff. Katharine McKee has made the Green Goat staff and has been nominated for the board of control. In the beauty contest held by the Athena, Jessie Westwater, Florence Wood, Helen Peoples, Jean Gist and Doris Henry were elected.

On April 4 Ohio B gave the second of a series of benefit card parties. It was very successful and the proceeds go toward a new chapter house.

The annual intramural was held in March. A new stunt was featured which had not been in previous years—an inter-fraternity sing in which Ohio B participated singing the "Wine and Silver Blue" and "My Pi Phi Girl," and won a beautiful silver cup. In try-outs before the sing all were eliminated except $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, $X \Omega$ and $\Pi \Phi$.

The chapter was asked to sing over the radio April 23, using the same two songs with several other Pi Phi songs and some Ohio State songs.

The Mothers' Club is well organized and has its meetings once a month, either at the chapter house or the home of one of the mothers. On April 6 the meeting was held at the chapter house after which the mothers gave a spread for the actives and pledges which was very enjoyable. They also embroidered some beautiful towels which they presented to the chapter.

The active chapter gave its annual spring dance in May, to which representatives from other women's fraternities were invited.

Initiation was held at the chapter house on February 14, followed by a banquet. The new initiates gave the active girls a delightful party at the chapter house February 27. On March 16,

West Virginia A had the pleasure of entertaining Anna Robinson Nickerson for two days.

On the student government board for next year are Miriam Stultz, Jean Haller, Betty Leonard and Juanita Hall. On the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, Miriam Stultz has charge of the Eaglesmere conference, and Ruth Deffenbaugh is in charge of the meetings. Jeanette Brown was elected vice-president of the organization of freshman women.

Pi Phis were well represented in basket ball with Ruth McLain (captain), Juanita Hall and Miriam Stultz on the sophomore team. With the addition of Ava Hall, these girls were also on the class hockey teams.

On April 8, Marian McQueen of Morgantown, W. Va., was pledged.

Dorothy Bone gave a house party during Easter vacation at her home in Moundsville, W. Va. She had as her guests members of the active chapter, who enjoyed a formal dance, a cooky-shine in honor of two Pi Phi birthdays, and a theater party. Sunday morning the chapter went to Easter services together. A trip to the State Penitentiary was the last thing on the program Monday.

Several of the girls attended house parties at other colleges, Dorothy Bone and Edna Douglas at Washington and Jefferson College, Merriem Robinson at Lafayette College and Alice Baird and Edna Douglas at Pennsylvania State College.

Initiation was, of course, the most interesting event in the past few months and was duly celebrated with a house-party for the initiates held at the quaint Country Club Inn at Belair, Md.

II Φ is very proud of the record of the seniors for this year. Lucille Halsey is one of the wearers of a ΦBK key. ΣZ, an honorary fraternity recently installed at Goucher bases its requirements for membership on general representativeness and college spirit. Out of sixteen seniors elected, three were Pi Phis, Rachel Payne, Eloise Johnson and Caroline Stone. The senior play had three Pi Phis in its cast, Rachel Payne composed folk songs and dances to be used in its production and was business manager. Jerry Schenck was recently elected to lead senior step singing, an honor that has been held by a $\Pi\Phi$ for four successive years.

The junior-senior banquet was held April 18 and the same week-end came the annual $\Pi\Phi$ formal.

A series of historical lectures for the public given by eminent men from British and American universities, held during the winter in the new Corcoran Hall, has brought added prestige to the university. Out-of-town high school students to the number of 2,500 have visited George Washington during the spring, have been shown the buildings, the new gymnasium and the rifle range, and have been entertained with slides and talks about Washington.

The gymnasium was the scene of one of the most successful social events of the year, a colonial costume ball, given by the board of lady managers of the hospital. The sum of $2,000 was raised. The bare interior of the gym was transformed by the students in the architectural and domestic science departments into the gardens of Mt. Vernon. A replica of the famous carriage entrance of the old colonial mansion stood at one end while garden walls, crowned with hollyhocks and vines, rising against a blue sky, extended along both sides. Huge parchment shades decorated in colonial designs softened the lights. A beautiful minuet was danced by members of the faculty and students.

Genevieve Hendricks is a real fairy godmother to Columbia A. Her latest surprise is a very beautiful chair, over a hundred years old, which she has presented to the chapter.

The last act of the pledges' musical comedy was given at the Founders' Day banquet. By carrying milk bottles one day during January, February, and March, twenty-five dollars was raised by the pledges for the Settlement School. The usual benefit bridge party was given by the chapter with great success.

Mildred Volandt is president of the Collegiate Episcopal clubs from the dioceses of Washington, Easton, and Maryland. Marguerite Smith is president of the Y. W. C. A. and she and Edna Kilpatrick have been initiated into Hour Glass, honor society. Ruth Williams and Sophia Waldman have been initiated into Sphinx, honor society, the membership of which is limited to seven undergraduates. Three are Pi Phis.

Virginia A held a special initiation at the $\Pi \Phi$ house on March 6. On March 7, pledge day, nine freshmen were pledged: Elizabeth Burrows, Edna Brown, Margaret Broadus, Elizabeth Dunaway, Dorothy Fentress, Dorothy Quattlebaum, Allene McCoy, Josephine Rowell, Martha Townsend. Pledging was followed by a cooky-shine, at which several alumnæ were present.

The Emory glee club concert was given March 23. All of the fraternities had open house for them on Sunday night.

Dr. Delaware Easter, professor of romance languages at Washington-Lee University, gave the Founders' Day address on March 12.

Even Day was March 26 and Odd Day, April 1. It is traditional custom that the classes which graduate in the even years and odd years each have class days. A $\Pi\Phi$ was head of the junior Even Day activities. Three $\Pi\Phi$ s took leading parts in the Odd Day stunt.

The spring play, The Romantic Age, by A. A. Milne was given by the Sock and Buskin dramatic club on April 4. This closes a very successful year for the dramatic club, of which Martha Akers is president.

The Randolph-Macon chorus gave its spring concert April 23, assisted by Charles T. Tittman of Washington, D. C.

May Day festivities were held on May 2. Five $\Pi\Phi$ s were in the court, one as a page, and others taking part in the dances. The chairman of the costume committee for May Day was a $\Pi\Phi$.

The $\Pi\Phi$ alumnae club in Lynchburg gave a tea for the active chapter on April 16 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Wilson.

$\Pi\Phi$ s are well represented on the Helianthus staff for 1925-26, both as business manager and advertising manager.

During her stay, Emily and Etta Wedge, the $\Pi\Phi$ twins, entertained at tea in her honor and the chapter gave a Saint Patrick's banquet at the Tinker House. The decorations were shamrocks and green balloons.

Through the beneficence of a former music professor, a fine new music building accommodating about two hundred students is to be built opposite the new gymnasium. This welcome news came on Founders' Day as a complete surprise to the student body.

Dorothy Griffith has been made president of dramatics for next year, with Lucy Poulnot as secretary. Several of the student government and class offices will also be filled by $\Pi\Phi$ s.

Chapter house parties at "Liebersfroid" were given the weekends of April 18 and May 2. This cabin is owned by one of the college professors and is situated about ten miles away in the loveliest of Hollinsland.

North Carolina A is planning at the suggestion and request of Evelyn Bishop to present a play at Convention on Settlement School evening. Mary Verner was sent to the Settlement School late in March to get material and the committee is hard at work on the arrangements. The undertaking is quite a large and complicated matter and Playmaker experience is proving useful. The play will insure a good attendance from the chapter at Convention.

Gold Playmaker masks were awarded to five Pi Phis. Katherine Batts and Louise Sawyer went on the western tour of the state in April and on the southern tour, Margaret Jones played one of the leading roles. Louise Sawyer took the leading part in The Torchbearers in March with three other Pi Phis in supporting roles. Margaret Jones was in charge of the costuming.

Nine Pi Phis are among the twenty-four women students on the winter honor roll. Three of the nine women on the dean's list are Naomi Alexander, Mary Verner and Margaret Jones. Ten of the twelve who took the fraternity examination made honor roll grades, the average of the chapter being 98.

Daisy Cooper has been elected secretary-treasurer of the senior law class for next year. She has made a high scholarship record this past semester and has been appointed to the staff of the Law Review.

At the time of Hardenia Fletcher Logan's visit the chapter entertained all the fraternity women, including the city Panhellenic at an afternoon reception given at the home of one of the patronesses, Mrs. Charles Woollen. Mrs. Logan was also the guest of honor at a luncheon given for the chapter and alumnae at the new Carolina Inn.

Initiation on March 28 was followed by a cooky-shine for the initiates and alumnae. The January initiates staged a clever stunt taking off a typical chapter meeting. The skit, which is partly in rhyme has been submitted in competition for the cup.

Founder's Day was celebrated with a banquet at the Carolina Inn on April 25. A dance and a benefit bridge came in May. The weekly teas have been made more enjoyable by a handsome copper electric urn which the 1925 pledges gave to the chapter house.

As one of the youngest chapters, North Carolina A is more than proud of the fact that Lois Rogers has gone to help with the work at the Settlement School.

The new woman's building is rapidly nearing completion and the Woman's Association is raising a fund to outfit a laundry room. The building is most attractive and is situated on a beautiful location between the Arboretum and the new Episcopal Church, designed by Upjohn.

The glee club has just returned from Kansas City, Mo., where a performance was given before the National Music Supervisors' Conference. The club was showered with high praise and given offers to appear in about thirty cities from San Francisco to St. Louis. The work of the club has been compared with that of the Harvard Glee Club and the St. Olaf Choir.

During February, Florida A had as a guest Hardenia Fletcher

Logan, Province President. After a dinner in her honor at Inglehart Villa, the active chapter and alumnae attended in a body the wedding of Katherine Jackson.

Initiation was held Saturday afternoon, March 21, followed by a formal banquet at the College Arms. In addition to the active chapter and initiates there were eleven alumnae present. Helen Brown, Arizona A, who has been wintering in DeLand, was a guest at the initiation banquet.

Martha Pratt, Scranton, Pa., cousin of Elizabeth Zurflish, New York A, has recently been pledged.

On Saturday April 4, the patronesses entertained the active chapter and alumnae with a luncheon at De Leon Springs. It was a lovely warm day so nearly everyone enjoyed swimming, canoeing, and horse-back riding before luncheon at the Springs Hotel. Mrs. Dutton, the mother of Julia and Lucille Dutton, Florida B, and Mrs. Beatty, mother of Rachel and Evelyn Beatty, Florida A alumnae, were guests. Florida A celebrated St. Patrick's Day by entertaining the patronesses, mothers, and alumnae with a tea in the fraternity room.

Dorothy Dietz was soloist in "Olivet to Calvary," a cantata given Palm Sunday at the Presbyterian church.

A new organization, the "S" club, has recently been formed on the campus for girls receiving letters in athletics. Mary Markey, Laurie Buck and Elizabeth Hughes are charter members.

Pi Phis are carrying many of the honors on the campus. Charlotte Farrington, retiring president of Y. W. C. A., is now the undergraduate representative of that organization, vice-president of the Christian Forum, and treasurer of the sophomore law class. Lois Hon is vice-president and Frances Copeland is corresponding secretary of ΦB , musical fraternity. Lucille Caywood and Dorothy Mosiman are on student council. Grace Haldeman and Frances Copeland were sponsors for the annual state basketball tournament at DeLand in March. Lucille Caywood is treasurer of the junior class, on the annual staff, and a member of Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Grace Haldeman was in Charlie's Aunt and The Whole Town's Talking, two plays given by $\Theta A \Phi$, dramatic fraternity.

Seventeen girls are proudly wearing arrows after two unusually beautiful initiation ceremonies held in March. The initiation breakfast was given at the Dutch Kitchen. The places were marked by attractive place cards and favors. Each new initiate found there a small gift from her sponsor.

There are a good number of Pi Phis in campus activities. Several girls were in the Junior Minstrel and the glee club. Mary Evelyn Eaves and Helen Kennedy were elected to the Flambeau staff, and Helen Dutton to the annual staff. Mildred Deady was tapped for freshman commission. Lillian Hyde and Dorothy Grumbles were tapped for freshman cabinet, of which Dorothy Grumbles was elected chairman. Myra Burr won a coveted "F" on Field Day, and Frances Mimms won her class numerals.

The social events of the year have been cleverly planned by the social committee. In February there was a Valentine Tea Dance given for the benefit of the chapter house fund. The college orchestra furnished the music and the spacious rooms of the chapter house were ideal for such a party. The pledges recently gave an original kid party for the pledges of the other women's fraternities and to emphasize their part as pledges invited the presidents of each to come dressed as nurse maids. Every Wednesday evening is called faculty guest night when one or two of the faculty are invited to dinner. A formal cabaret party was given in May and the week-end of Mother's Day was devoted to entertaining the mothers of all the girls.

In order that the pledges, before being initiated, should become acquainted with all the opportunities which the college offers they have been encouraged in various ways to take part in the college activities which interest them most. Three are reporters on the staff of the college weekly, one gave the freshman toast at the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet, another was appointed on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for the coming year and two made the college basketball team. Of the active girls, Gladis Clark has just been elected president of the Y. W. C. A. and Martha Meighan, vice-president. Donna Kelly had the lead in the $\Delta T \Delta$ play given for the benefit of the new gymnasium fund and Helen Moore was elected to $\Theta A \Phi$, the college dramatic society.

E Δ A, the college honor society of which Ruth Arnold is president, sponsored a very successful banquet. They enjoyed hearing a lecture by Professor Leroy Waterman of Ann Arbor, formerly a member of the faculty of Hillsdale College and one of the most scholarly and widely known lecturers in the country.

Hillsdale is celebrating its quinquennial anniversary in June and hopes to welcome back a great many of its alumnæ at that time.

The alumni, faculty, and students of the University of Michigan suffered a great loss in the death of their president, Dr. Marion L. Burton, on February 18. The funeral was very impressive, with thousands of university students lining the streets along which the funeral procession passed. Because initiation day for this chapter came at that time, the initiation banquet was omitted and only the ceremony was held, more impressive and beautiful than ever before.

Michigan B was privileged by a visit from an alumna of the chapter, Olive Gilbraith, who told of her most interesting experience in Russia. Miss Gilbraith is about to publish a new book, "If Today Had No Tomorrow."

The annual play given by the junior class for the seniors was a great success. Kathrynne Clarke, a member of the committee for Castles in Spain, Marguerite Ainsworth as the comic lead, and Charlotte O'Brien as a Spanish dancer, contributed a great deal to its success. Margaret Lawson, Doris Gladden, Mary Bicknell, and Louise Roberts were in choruses.

In the recent elections for Φ B K, Grace Hall and Mary Elizabeth Hartinger were chosen. Marion Welles has been elected sophomore representative on the women's league board.

A faculty reception was given April 23 in honor of a new patroness, Mrs. Archibald Diack. Edith Rhoades Spiegel, president of Delta Province was also a guest of honor at the reception. The Detroit alumnae club invited the active chapter to a banquet in Detroit to celebrate Founders' Day. The third annual mothers' house party which took place the week end of Mothers' Day was a happy event.

Again Indiana A leads the fraternities in scholarship, for the seventh consecutive semester.

Every one is talking, thinking, and dreaming Convention, especially since the delightful visit from Agnes Wright Spring, in whose honor the chapter gave a Convention dinner.

On March 7, Indiana A entertained with a theater party. About eighty people, including the guests of the chapter motored to Indianapolis to see Julia Sanderson in Moonlight. After the entertainment, there was a supper at the Claypool Hotel.

The pledges entertained the active chapter with a delightful Valentine party, a dinner dance at the Franklin Hotel. A special feature of the evening was a clever stunt given by the pledges, in which they were dressed to represent various popular songs.

Lella Kelly is secretary of A Ξ A. Dorothy Shultz, Barbara Douglas and Mary Elizabeth Axby had parts in the spring all-college play, Miss Intrigue. Mary Covert is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet; Marian Coy was editor-in-chief of the A Ξ A edition of the local college paper.

The scholarship cup now decorates the mantle of Indiana B. Climbing from twenty-first place last year to the very top this year is the record. Not only this, but the pledges made the highest average of all freshmen on the campus.

The annual Matrix Table banquet of $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, honorary journalistic organization, at which Zona Gale was the principal speaker, was carried out on the plan of Mary Jane Kuhn. Katherine Shaw was roastmistress for razzing the coeds. At this banquet Louise Holland was pledged to $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$.

The convention of the American Association of University Women, held at Indianapolis, visited Indiana University on April 11. Dr. May L. Keller, who attended the convention, was the guest of Indiana B.

The four girls who were submitted for the beauty contest of the year book survived the first eliminations. The final results will not be known until the book is published in June. Besides having the author of Jordan River Revue, $\Pi \beta \Phi$ has Della May Davis in a lead, Nancy Hurd in the chorus, and Adelaide Lidikay in another part.

Elizabeth Decker made freshman basketball team; Anna Ruth Haworth and Louise Holland made junior team.

Initiation of the five girls pledged on October 10 was held on February 20, followed by a cooky-shine given by the alumnae club, and at ten o'clock twenty-four members of the active chapter and the alumnae club went for a slumber party to the Hi-Brow Tea House, on Lookout Mountain. On the following night, initiation banquet was held at the Hi-Brow.

The week after initiation, Tennessee A pledged Helen George, a junior transferred from Southwestern College and Friends University, and Margaret Kaderly, a freshman.

The initial appearance of the men's glee club was on the night of April 3, at the Little Theater. The glee club was splendidly received and this organization is doing great things toward making good spirit in the student body. The March Hare Jubilee, given on March 4 in the Little Theater of the Memorial Auditorium, featured all the members of the men's glee club, as well as a chorus of girls. Five of the eleven girls in the chorus were members of $\Pi\Phi$; Nan Elberfeld was in charge of properties, Josephine Blocker and Mildred Johnson in charge of program and advertising.

The university annual, The Moccasin, appeared on April 10, the earliest date at which the annual has ever appeared. A full page picture of Nan Elberfeld appears in the feature section, as a result of the student body election for the Best All 'Round.

Iola Viers and Mildred Garner returned to Chattanooga at the beginning of the second semester, making the personnel of the chapter the same as last year, with the exception of last year's graduates. Iola spent the first semester at the University of Iowa; Mildred at the University of Colorado.

Elizabeth Sussdorf, Nan Elberfeld and Courtney Jones won letters in basketball, and sweaters bearing the university "C."

A benefit dance was given in February, and a benefit bridge party early in April, at the Woman's Club.

Junior festivities, the week after Easter, consisted of the usual features—preparatory school banquet for all seniors of local preparatory schools, at which 350 were entertained; junior-senior breakfast, when Estelle Reynolds was in charge of food; junior carnival in the gymnasium, at which the chapter had the concession for cut flowers and boutonnieres; Dorothy Harris was in charge of program for the banquet and breakfast.

Sales of wine and silver frames for initiation certificates are very encouraging; samples have been sent to a number of chapters and alumnae on request.

Nan Elberfeld will spend the summer in Mobile, Alabama, with her parents; Betty Blocker will spend two months in California; a number of the girls will have charge of public playgrounds for the summer, as they have done for several seasons.

Minnesota A is still elated by the visit in February of the Grand President. The chapter was very fortunate in having Miss Onken here twice in two years. The active chapter entertained at tea for Miss Onken and the alumnæ club gave a luncheon. Ten girls were initiated by Miss Onken and after the initiation a cooky-shine was held.

Adelaide Stenhaus went to Oregon to represent Minnesota at the national W. S. G. A. convention in April. She was accompanied by the newly-elected president of W. S. G. A.

Lucille Sasse was recently elected vice-president of Y. W. C. A. for next year.

KKΓ were guests of ΠΒΦ at a cooky-shine one Monday night. The KKΓ held their convention at Bigwin Inn last year and were very enthusiastic about their good times there.

Initiation with its beautiful ceremony held on February 11 added to Wisconsin B twelve splendid girls. After the service a banquet was given at which each initiate received a corsage bouquet and a hand painted $\Pi\Phi$ "If." In March occurred a pretty spring formal dinner dance. Throughout the year cooky-shines have been held every two weeks bringing about a spirit of comradeship which, since the girls do not live at the house, could not have been obtained in any other way.

Wisconsin B enjoyed a visit from Olive Keller Laurence on March 14-15 and it is with genuine regret that the girls learned that this was her last visit as Province President.

Logan Day held early in April was a time when every one from the lowest frosh to the most dignified member of the faculty worked with the rake and gave the campus a real "clean up."

For the first time since 1915 Beloit College will produce a Greek play the Alceste, to be given at Commencement. Beloit has been previously very renowned through Professor Theodore L. Wright and his famous Greek plays.

Amy B. Onken visited the chapter this spring and was a great inspiration to all. She initiated five girls and the memories of this inspirational ceremony will long remain with the girls.

Π B Φ has participated in several university activities during the second semester. Campus Cut-Up, sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., is a name given to an evening entertainment in which there is much frivolity and gayety. All the organizations on the campus participate in putting on an act, the proceeds of which go to the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The Flickertail Follies proved to be a very successful affair. Each organization on the campus competed, with the result that the twelve best acts were chosen. The Π Φ act was called Victor's Vivacious Varieties, the staging of which consisted of a huge painted victrola, the door of which was opened by two pages, and out of which came the actors.

The Dacotah, the year-book put out by the junior class, conducted a voting contest, to select the twenty most beautiful young women on the campus. Four Pi Phis, Dorothy Upham, Margaret Tool, Ruby Shaw and Mary Sullivan were included in the first twenty. James Montgomery Flagg, nationally known illustrator, will select the six most beautiful from portraits submitted to him.

Helen Leo has been initiated into Matrix, a journalistic organization. Frances Lynch is assistant society editor on the Student, a tri-weekly publication. Agnes Tenneson is a member of Little Senate. Margaret Radcliffe has one of the leading parts in Pomander Walks, presented in May by the Dacotah Playmakers.

On April 5, President and Mrs. Kane, and Dean and Mrs. Squires were dinner guests at the chapter house. Marian Wilder was a luncheon guest at the chapter house during her Easter vacation.

Illinois B held its annual formal February 7. Valentine decorations were used. At one end of the room a spot light was thrown on a huge heart pierced with the arrow of $\Pi B \Phi$. The programs were held in wooden shields upon which was raised a $\Pi B \Phi$ crest in bronze.

Several interesting cooky-shines have been given, three at the bungalow. The chapter was entertained by its alumnae at the home of Mrs. Webb Herlocker. The chapter entertained in honor of the chapter patronesses and also a special guest, Idelia Davis Baumgarten, who is Grand President of $\Lambda \Phi \Delta$, an honorary three arts sorority. At another, in honor of Epsilon Province President, Olive Keller Laurence, the girls of Illinois Δ were entertained. After initiation a cooky-shine was given for the new girls.

In spite of all the social functions, class room work was not neglected as Illinois B ranked first in scholarship with an average of B.

New curtains have been made for the bungalow, and the sinking fund continues to grow for further improvements in the $\Pi B \Phi$ home.

Illinois Δ was greatly helped by the recent visit of Olive Keller Laurence. Her interest and faith in the chapter and her lovable personality have made her an invaluable friend during the six years of her service as Province President, and the girls learn of her resignation with the deepest regret. During the visit of Mrs. Laurence to Illinois B, this chapter enjoyed a delightful cooky-shine at Lombard College.

On March 1, the faculty women and faculty wives of the colleges were entertained at a tea. The chapter recently attended a most enjoyable cooky-shine given by their alumnæ mothers.

Illinois Δ has been very successful in dramatics this winter. Jeanette Bent made the lead in the freshman play, The Big Idea, and Dorothy Rice took the second women's lead. Phyllis Power, Fayette Weinberg and Katherine Noble, members of the Knox Players Club, appeared in The Famous Mrs. Fair.

Phyllis Power and Edith Brown were recently initiated into $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, women's honorary journalistic fraternity.

The chairmanships of religious work and social service, and position of secretary on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for the coming year were given to Constance Irwin, Florence Hall, and Irma Craig.

Five of the eight members of the Knox Library staff are Pi Phis.

Dorothy Drake and Helen Christy were elected to $\Phi B K$ and were the only two women asked to speak at the Commencement Day program.

There has been a strong interest in women's athletics this year. Dorothy Drake, Constance Irwin, Dorothy Rice, Mary Lipsey, and Virginia Leonard made their class basketball teams and were also picked as members of the Yale-Harvard championship teams. At a W. A. A. banquet on March 7, Mary Lipsey, Jean Heppes, Dorothy Rice, and Gladys Hackman received their class numerals and were initiated into the club. A white "K" sweater was awarded to Dorothy Drake for acquiring 1000 athletic points. Fayette Weinberg was chairman of the committee in charge of the W. A. A. Frolic, the annual gym demonstration.

The $\Pi \Phi$ members of Mortar Board assisted at the Mortar Board tea given for Galesburg High School seniors on March 4.

Knox College had the pleasure of a two days' visit from Dean Graham of Oberlin College who came under the auspices of the Y. W.

C. A. and Y. M. C. A. on the campus. Frederick Jackson Turner spent March 19 and 20 at the college lecturing at chapel and to majors in the history department.

A chapter of $\Omega B \Pi$, honorary pre-medic fraternity, has been established at Knox.

A radio station, WFBZ, has been installed in the science building, from which a program is broadcasted every Wednesday evening. Knox was the first college to broadcast a chapel program.

The visit of Olive Keller Laurence, Epsilon Province President, was an outstanding occurrence of the last half of the college year. This was Mrs. Laurence's last visit as Province President and the days she spent with Illinois E were an inspiration and delight long to be remembered.

On April 4 and 7, the annual musical comedy given by the W. A. A. was presented at the Evanston Country Club. The comedy was written by Theo Paynter with the help of another girl, and five Pi Phi had parts in it. Madessa Wolfe danced a very pretty tango specialty and Gertrude Rollins made an extremely good looking young man.

In the recent campus elections $\Pi B \Phi$ was very successful. Margaret Clover was chosen head of judiciary in W. S. G. A. and Dorothy Coleman was elected treasurer of Y. W. C. A. Estelle Farley is head of volley ball for next year and Hazel Fraser is head of swimming. Gail Hubbell is captain of sophomore basketball and Betty Davis recently made Shi-ai, a sophomore honorary society. Helen Nash, president of W. S. G. A., attended the W. S. G. A. Convention in Oregon.

Illinois E gave a dinner dance April 17, at the Chicago Yacht Club. Founder's Day Luncheon was held April 25 at the Picadilly Tea Room in the Fine Arts Building, Chicago, with the Chicago alumnae. Illinois E had charge of singing the fraternity songs.

Illinois Z is proud to announce that she has set a new record in scholarship among fraternity women at the University of Illinois by her average of 3.9. Out of twenty-six women's fraternities, $\Pi \Phi$ ranked first and won the Penhellenic cup.

On April 7 a benefit movie was arranged through the help of Mrs. Stoolman. The girls sold the tickets and were able to turn over seventy dollars to the Settlement School.

During Interscholastic on May 15-16, Illinois Z gave a rushing house party, and competed in the Y. W. C. A. Stunt Show with the stunt entitled Persian Dolls, which was accepted in a contest with forty other groups.

Eunice Webster was elected to Φ B K this spring. She is on the senior banquet committee and is a member of the senior swimming team. Dorothy Burrows, Alice Rawson, and Martha Brown were initiated into Gold Feathers, honorary sophomore organization.

The committees for Women's League have been announced for next year. The following committee members are: Louise Bresee, chairman of Inter-Illine parties, Mildred Yates, chairman of Big Sisters, Ellen Holton, Homecoming, Dorothy Burrows, woman's welfare, Sarah Fisher, Big Sister. Sarah is also chairman of the Girl Reserves committee of the Y. W. C. A.

The Athletic Association convention met here April 3-4, when Illinois Z had the pleasure of entertaining four delegates. Dorothy Burrows and Jessie Purves were initiated into W. A. A. The house basketball team competed in the Shi-ai tournament.

Illinois Z was hostess to her military company on April 1 with a buffet dinner at the house. The spring formal was held March 13 at the Champaign Country Club. One of the Pi Phi mothers entertained with a tea dance the following afternoon and in the evening the chapter had a theater party.

James Millikin University was very fortunate in receiving a section of land in Canada from Mrs. E. P. Irving of Decatur, and some land valued at $37,000 near Danville, Illinois, from Senator William McKinley. President Mark Penny was formally inaugurated on February 17. Much enthusiasm was shown at that time by the representatives who came from universities and colleges all over the United States.

Olive Keller Laurence, Epsilon Province President, visited the chapter for two days in the latter part of March.

prepare for a trip abroad with her parents. She sailed April 14 for Naples, Italy, stopping at the Azores, Lisbon, Portugal, Gibraltar and Palermo, Sicily on the way. In June she will attend her sister's graduation from Oxford University.

Illinois II was greatly surprised by the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Arthur Wilcox (Marjorie Sullivan) in January.

Catherine Engelder, in addition to being president of girl's athletics at Millikin, was recently elected president of Y. W. C. A., and also president of $\Lambda \Phi \Delta$, national honorary fraternity. Catherine Engelder and Denise Brosseau were two of the six junior girls picked for membership to $\Pi M \Phi$, honorary senior fraternity.

$\Pi \Phi$ at Millikin has another honor to add to her list—that of having the three leading parts in the senior play this June. They are taken by Alsace Sullivan, Geneva Tucker and Margaret Lanigan. Still another honor, of which the chapter is very proud, is the highest scholastic standing in the senior class held by Alsace Sullivan. Marjorie Sullivan Wilcox held the highest scholastic standing in the freshman class.

Iowa Wesleyan University is looking forward with much interest to the results from national headquarters, concerning the P. E. O. Memorial library. The chairman of the committee on the Memorial library makes the following report in the March number of the P. E. O. Record: Mrs. Alice Bird Babb, the first president of the first chapter said: "I do not think that any effort ever made by P. E. O. has so fully satisfied me as the suggestion of a P. E. O. Memorial library on the dear old campus of Iowa Wesleyan College."

Second semester rushing season ended with nine new girls pledged to Iowa A: Opal Callen, Violette Greene, Elizabeth Keyhoe, Celia Lease, Helen Phelps, Margaret Rogers, Maxine Schreiner, Harriett Theis, and Mildred Weibley.

Agnes Wright Spring made the chapter a visit recently. A dinner was given in her honor at the Brazelton Hotel, when the alumnæ, actives, and pledges had the opportunity of meeting her.

The actives and pledges gave their annual formal dinner in the form of a George Washington party, at the Masonic Hall, February 21. Favors of leather key containers were given to the guests. On March 16, the pledges entertained the actives with a St. Patrick's Day cooky-shine at the home of Helen Phelps.

The spring election brings new honors to Pi Phi's. Violette Greene and Opal Callen have been elected to the house council of Hershey Hall. Edna Van Syoc has been elected as president of W. A. A. and re-elected as secretary of the English club. Esther Kudobe has been chosen for the lead in the senior class play, Within the Law, in which Norine Becker also has a prominent part. In the presentation of plays by the drama class, Norine Becker, Ruth Holland, and Edna Van Syoc have had leading parts.

Initiation ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Sigler, followed by a dinner served by the alumnae. Iowa B feels very fortunate in

Ella Seaburn of Corydon, Iowa, and Josephine Kitchell, of Des Moines, Iowa, have been pledged this semester.

Iowa B is rejoicing over winning the women's scholarship cup again, with the highest ranking on the campus. Catharine Carpenter was the only student in college with a straight E average. If $\Pi\Phi$ leads in scholarship for one more semester, the cup becomes the permanent property of the chapter.

The spring rush has been going full force, with various entertainments by the orchestra, dramatic club, W.A.A., and Madrigal choir. The latter organization, composed of twenty-four members, three of them Pi Phis, made a ten days' tour of engagements in western Iowa. Harriett Henderson was one of the soloists and Edith Bellman was accompanist.

The Blackfriars Dramatic Club presented Little Women; Catharine Carpenter, Margaret McClaran, Katherine Hilmer, and Marguerite Robinson had prominent parts. Esther Kirkendall had a leading role in the Junior class play Three Live Ghosts. W. A. A. recently put on a miniature Orpheum with a varied program, in which fourteen Pi Phis took part.

A new local women's fraternity, Z T Δ , has been organized at Simpson. Soon after its installation, $\Pi\Phi$ entertained the chapter at a colonial tea.

A chapter of $\Sigma T \Delta$, national professional English fraternity, has been granted a charter at Simpson, and will soon be installed. Catharine Carpenter and Dorothy Whitted are two of the six charter members.

Margaret Patterson has been initiated M Φ E, national music fraternity, and Mary Aexander was accompanist for the Simpson College orchestra, which has been giving a series of entertainments in western Iowa. Pi Phis who have recently been elected to offices are Alice Judson, Y. W. C. A. cabinet, and track manager on the W. A. A. board; Esther Kirkendall, president of the home economics club for next year; Dorothy Whitted, president of Zetaethian Literary Society; and Evelyn McKinley, Y. W. C. A. treasurer.

The pledges entertained the actives at a black and white party at the home of Mrs. Sigler. Other interesting social events have been social fraternity meetings, with different classes taking charge of the entertainment.

Iowa Γ is proud of being highest of all national fraternities in scholastic standing for the past fall quarter. In recognition of this achievement the alumnæ club gave the chapter twenty-five dollars. During the winter quarter the chapter gave a benefit bridge party which proved quite a success.

Two Pi Phis, Annette Adams and Virginia Alexander, attended the national W. A. A. convention at Champaign, Illinois. While there they were entertained by Illinois Z.

Veishea, the all college celebration was held May 14-16. Beryl Spinney had the leading part in the night show. Ann Leichliter, Anna May Romberg, and Yolanda Prospero were on the committee for costumes and Dorothy McCarroll was in charge of the dances for the May Fete, and has been elected May Queen.

The work on the new home economics building is well under way, the excavation being completed. The old building is to be incorporated in the new one which will have a larger floor space than any other building on the campus. It is to be faced with white Bedford stone.

The Commercial Club of Ames is putting on an educational program for the clerks connected with the department stores. Members of the faculty go to the stores and give lectures to the employees. Each Wednesday evening Ann Leichliter, who is teaching part time in the applied arts department, gives a talk on ways of making up materials that are in the particular store.

The past two months have been busy ones for Iowa Z, due to the many duties which accompany the possession of a new house. On February 22, $\Pi B \Phi$ had open house for all the fraternities, and on February 28 the girls gave an informal party.

The annual chaperone's and alumnae tea was given the afternoon of March 12, this being followed by the Panhellenic tea on March 13.

On March 14, the pledges gave a tea dance for the active girls. The party was carried out very effectively in the St. Patrick's Day idea, everything from the punch to the decorations being green.

Iowa Z was unusually fortunate in the month of March, in meeting and entertaining Kathryn Brown, Illinois Z, who gave a concert in Iowa City.

Probation for the pledges began at dinner, March 23, and ended March 25. The girls attempted a new method by which probation was carried out in a more systematic and interesting way.

Ruth Brenton and Sylvia Jenson have returned to college this semester after an absence of six months.

Gail DeWolf was awarded Φ B K this spring.

Missouri A had the pleasure of entertaining Agnes Wright Spring, Arrow Editor, March 1-2. Her visit did much toward arousing more enthusiasm for Convention.

Two important social affairs for Missouri A were the alumnae tea on February 22 and the faculty tea on March 15. Ethel Wylder, chapter house mother and Mary Virginia Doerschuk, chapter president, received at the alumnae tea and Mrs. Bessie Leach Priddy, Dean of Women, Dean and Mrs. Albert K. Heckel, Ethl Wylder and Mary Virginia Doerschuk were in the receiving line at the faculty tea. The alumnae entertained the active chapter March 23 at a cooky-shine.

Campus honors for the spring quarter are indeed rivalled if not surpassed by those for next fall's program. Mary Virginia Doerschuk was crowned Scoop Queen at the Newsboys' Ball, annual journalistic dance. Frances Brewer was elected secretary of W. S. G. A. for 1925-26 and also chosen one of the two Military Ball Queens. Agnes Hildebrand is president of the Y. W. C. A. for next year. Helen Meredith is treasurer of Γ A X, professional advertising fraternity. Margaret Williams was delegate to the athletic conference of American College Women held at Urbana, Ill.

The active chapter recently gave a bridal luncheon for Jennie Hockaday who was Beauty Queen of 1924. The luncheon was a handkerchief shower and the handkerchiefs were tied in white ribbon and fastened inside a Japanese umbrella.

The pictures of three of Missouri B girls will appear in the queen section of the Hatchet, the year book of Washington University. Marion Hixson was selected queen of beauty out of a field of ten candidates chosen by popular vote. Patsy Cann was voted special maid at the engineers' masque. Madeline Closs served as special maid at the junior promenade.

Evelyn Epley and Wilma Schwindler were elected secretary and treasurer of Ken Mair, the women's debating society. Evelyn Epley also made freshmen commission, an honorary society.

The annual Founders' Day banquet was held April 25. The actives entertained the guests with a Mah Jongg stunt.

Ground was recently broken for the construction of two of the units of Drury's building program, the girl's dormitory and the library. The contract for the new music hall has not yet been awarded but is expected to be announced soon. These new buildings are a sign of growth and progress and will add materially in the college's reputation as a thriving educational center.

Missouri Γ staged one of the most elaborate and successful dances ever given at Drury in the form of a St. Pat's costume dance. All the members and pledges of the chapter were attired alike for the occasion in specially designed green costumes. The decorations consisted of closely interwoven green and white crepe paper, forming a canopy overhead and around the sides of the spacious gymnasium. Through the windows of an Irish castle came the orchestra music. The furniture in the chaperone's nook was upholstered for the occasion in green with white shamrocks while rustic benches and a realistic well from which punch was served added to the atmosphere. During intermission a feature dance was given and appropriate refreshments were served.

Lucy Belle Jones of Miller, Missouri was recently pledged.

Barbara Burton won first place in the freshmen girl's declamatory contest in January.

A tea was given by the outgoing advisory board in honor of the active chapter April 7.

The new initiates gave the actives a delightful informal dance at the suburban home of Evelyn Martin soon after their initiation. They also presented the chapter with an Oriental rug for the rooms.

Announcement of the winner of the Panhellenic cup has not yet been made, but $\Pi B \Phi$ feels that her chances for it are brighter this year than ever before.

Vivian White Scott, Eta Province President and Francese Evans, Grand Secretary, visited Kansas A during the month of February and brought, together with the personal enjoyment the chapter experienced from their visits, new inspiration and a wealth of new ideas and Convention enthusiasm. The chapter entertained with a tea in Miss Evan's honor on the afternoon of February 26.

The K. U. musical comedy, Green Days, given under the auspices of W. S. G. A., with Elizabeth Sifers acting as general manager, was presented in Lawrence on March 7 and was later taken to Ottawa, Kansas where it met with the same enthusiastic reception its presentation here had drawn forth. Pi Phis taking part in Green Days were Juanita Youmans, Naomi MacLaren, Josephine Dana, and Elizabeth Testard. June Worthington was the chief costume designer for the production.

Kansas A announces the pledging of the following girls: Elaine Meier of Wichita, Kan., Rose McCulloch of Lawrence, Kan., and Ruth Richardson of Pueblo, Colo.

A charming dance recital featuring both interpretative and folk dances was presented at the University on March 19 by T Σ, honorary dancing fraternity. Josephine Dana, Naomi MacLaren, and Josephine Farrell took part in the recital.

Elizabeth Sifers was recently elected to Mortar Board, honorary society for senior women. Rose McCulloch is sophomore representative on the women's student council. Dorothy Fontron has been made a member of the new Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Elizabeth Sifers and Pauline Doerr, students of voice at the university, gave their senior recitals on March 25 and March 30 respectively.

Δ Z, national women's fraternity recently granted a charter to a new group at K. U. which has been in process of organization since last year. The new chapter will be officially recognized at a forthcoming convention of Δ Z in Kansas City, Missouri.

The third annual Kansas relays were held in the university stadium on April 18 and contestants from all parts of the United States vied with each other in feats of skill which demand the real athlete and display true athletic prowess at its best. The Kansas relays are really a state-wide proposition and sponsored as they are by leaders in the athletic field, are assured of firm establishment.

Wyoming A announces the pledging of Marian Stevens of Hornell, New York.

The annual High School Week was recently held in the new gymnasium. This year, more than ever before, it seemed to increase the interest in the university among the high school students over the state.

The fine, large swimming pool is the cause of great enthusiasm. The two swimming instructors are both Pi Phis. The gymnasium is serving many purposes, the latest being for general assemblies as the auditorium has become too small for the student body. At the first assembly, Nellie Tayloe Ross, the governor of Wyoming, gave the address.

The dramatic organization, $\Theta A \Phi$, recently presented The Green Goddess, in which Arletta Wyant had the leading part.

A short time in each chapter meeting has been devoted to informal discussion of the various topics to be discussed at convention, such as extension, alumnae re-organization, etc. Although all cannot attend the Convention at Bigwin Inn, their interests will be largely there this summer.

Social events for this term consist of a buffet supper dance and the annual May dance. The Cheyenne and Laramie alumnae clubs spent Founders' Day at the chapter house.

Colorado A entertained Francese Evans, Grand Secretary, for a few days in March. Not only did the chapter receive much pleasure from her visit, but also new inspiration.

After spring vacation the freshmen entertained at an April Fools' party, when they subjected the upperclassmen to such indignities as they, themselves, had endured.

The freshmen are taking a large part in campus activities. Helen Larrick is secretary of the freshman class; Mary Whitaker is chairman of the freshman commission of which Carla Haley and Margaret Owen are members.

On April 2, Hesperia, honorary junior organization of women, pledged thirteen girls, two of whom were Pi Phi, Frances Pattee and Ella Johnson. This organization was also founded by a Pi Phi.

Several very successful plays have been presented in the Little Theater, which was lately remodeled. Isabelle Keating played the leading role in Captain Applejack.

Colorado A is adopting a plan to raise the scholarship of the chapter. Only those making a certain average will be allowed to vote in chapter meetings.

A most important event transpired in March when the Grand Secretary, Francese Evans, visited Colorado B. The alumnae and active chapters combined in giving a tea in her honor.

The Province Scholarship Cup was awarded to Colorado B this semester. The chapter is very proud of it, and is resolved to greater efforts.

Two more honors have come to Colorado B. Grace Tarbell and Ruth Hoss were initiated into National Collegiate Players, and Katherine Shattuck was pledged to National Quill Club. Mary Kumler, director of the all college plays and a Pi Phi alumna, was also initiated into the Players.

The whole chapter attended the wedding of Ruth Hoss, and Kenneth Allen, Σ A E. Because of past excellence Ruth was allowed to finish her work and graduate in April.

An original stunt given by eight active Pi Phi at the student woman's council banquet was received with such favor that it became a triumph. The girls were asked to repeat the entire stunt, and it was the only one of the evening encored.

As the end of the semester draws near Convention looms closer. Colorado B is urging that every member who can possibly attend will do so, so that Colorado B will be well represented at Bigwin Inn in June.

Oklahoma A was very happy to have Amy B. Onken as a guest during the first week in April. She gave the chapter many useful suggestions and her brief visit was a great inspiration to each girl.

Oklahoma A, Oklahoma B and representatives from the alumnae clubs of the state celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at the Oklahoma Club in Oklahoma City.

The annual track meet of the state was held in Norman in May. The chapter invited a number of girls, who plan to enter the university next fall, to visit at the house at that time.

Principal affairs preceding the Commencement season were the junior-senior prom, junior burlesque and May Day celebration. Ruby Wheeler and Crystal Gibson were chosen honorary sponsors in the annual R. O. T. C. revue.

The chapter is very busy with plans for a new house for next year.

Although the final averages for fraternities on the campus have not been announced for the winter quarter, $\Pi \Phi$ is hopeful that she is winner of the scholarship cup. Carolyn Bagby and Frances Badger are on the honor roll for high grades made in the school of education for winter quarter. Lois Bowman has been elected to $K \Delta H$, educational fraternity. Elizabeth Boyd has been initiated into $\Pi K \Delta$, honorary forensic fraternity.

Oklahoma B was greatly inspired by the recent visit of Amy B. Onken, Grand President. Initiation of six pledges was followed by a cooky-shine during her visit.

A formal dinner and rush party was given by the chapter at the beginning of the spring quarter. The three new pledges are Melva Dark, Kathryn Burdick and Elizabeth Sanburn.

Mary Watson had the part of the princess in The Enchanted Princess, a three act ballet which was put on by the physical education department. Others who had parts were Donna Smith, Nanee Hamlin, Jennie Carrol and Ruth Calames.

Oklahoma B celebrated Founders' Day with Oklahoma A at a banquet in Oklahoma City. Stunts were given by each chapter.

The girls' glee club of which Mabel Foster, Oklahoma A is director, has just returned from a tour of the state. Ella Merry, Marjorie Stevens and Mary Ann Dunbar are members of the glee club. The home concert was given after the return of the glee club on April 8.

Oklahoma B held a reunion on the week end of April 18, for its alumnae. Plans for a new home were presented at that time.

Texas A has taken an active part in the annual spring contests. The Cactus sale was carried on almost entirely by the women's fraternities and $\Pi \Phi$ led in the number of sales at the end of the contest, due to the ability of the $\Pi \Phi$ campaign manager and the interest of the chapter.

Marian Ball, $\Pi \Phi$ candidate in the Varsity Queen's race, was elected by the student body as Varsity Queen for two years. She succeeds Maria Taylor, $\Pi B \Phi$, Queen for the past two years. Each student was allowed to buy one poll tax and it was the purpose of each group to sell as many poll taxes and penny votes as possible. The Pi Phis did not ask for alumni donations as they did two years ago, but a benefit bridge party, a barbecue, and a rummage sale were held to raise money. The Queen's coronation will take place soon and will be followed by the Queen's ball. The varsity circus is also a popular event of the future.

Convention has been the topic of discussion in pledge and fraternity meetings, and many girls have asked for detailed information, indicating an active interest. Harro Taylor who attended the Estes Park Convention has returned from Little Pigeon and re-entered the university. She is encouraging the girls to attend Convention this year.

It seems a certainty that the chapter will have a house by next fall. Each active member has pledged a certain amount, the minimum being one hundred dollars, and the alumnae are making a state-wide canvass for donations.

A school in South America called "Little S. M. U." is supported by Southern Methodist University and Texas B pledged $50 for the support of this school. Also the members have pledged some money for the building of a new gymnasium.

At the last school election the Pi Phi made a good showing. Nanshell Waldrop was elected vice-president of the woman's honor council and Laura Motley treasurer. Margaret Noble was elected secretary of the Freshman class.

The Sunday afternoon teas have been continued and one Sunday, Texas B held open house at the home of Katherine Brannin. A party was given at Daals Club Lake.

Louisiana A is very proud of Bea Adams and Helen Hughes who were elected to Φ B K, and of Toto Simmons, who was elected to Λ Σ Σ , honorary senior society of girls who have done the most loyal and effective work for the college and class.

Newcomb spring activities were many and varied. The annual Triangular debate with the Agnes Scott and Randolph-Macon colleges was held in March. Ernestine Bass and Maxine De Buys were in the cast of Figureheads, dramatic club play given April 17. The French Circle gave Poudre aux Yeux, in which Beatrice Adams, Maxine De Buys, and Toto Simmons had parts. Rose Cornelson was one of the winners in the beauty contest, and was in the chorus of the musical comedy. May Day, given by the junior class to the senior class came on the first Saturday in May. Toto Simmons as president of the junior class was King, and had the privilege of presiding over the festival with the May Queen of the senior class. The junior prom was held on April 17.

The Newcomb Cooperative House is nearing completion. This is maintained by the alumnae for the purpose of providing a place where students may live comfortably and inexpensively.

The Π Φ alumnae gave a Tacky Party to the active girls at Edwa Stewart's home. Louise Huger received a prize for the tackiest costume. The chapter especially enjoyed the banquet on Founders' Day since it afforded a means of a reunion with the alumnae as nothing else could.

All the members of Montana A are industriously working to make the inter-sorority charity ball a success. This is an innovation on this campus and is sponsored by all the groups. $\Pi\Phi$ has charge of the ticket sale.

In the annual Y. W. C. A. stunt night $\Pi B\Phi$ presented a clever stunt entitled, My Crossword Puzzle, using as a background a huge cross-word puzzle on which some of the girls, dressed in black and white overalls spelled out, "Me and My Boy Friend." As each word was worked out, girls wearing letters on their heads put their heads thru to spell the word. When the puzzle was completed two of the pledges danced while "Me and My Boy Friend" was sung.

The third annual $\Pi\Phi$ rummage sale will be given soon. Something novel is being worked out for the parcel post table to which all the friends of the chapter contribute and the packages are sold, wrapped, to customers.

Montana A had the pleasure of entertaining the Grand President, Amy B. Onken, and the Province President, Grace Hancher Beck, last quarter. Unfortunately, they were only able to be with the chapter for two days but left behind an inspiration which will last a long while.

During last quarter the chapter entertained the patronesses and many of the town women at card parties and it is now issuing invitations for an inter-fraternity card party with $\Pi\Phi$ as hostess.

Campus Day was celebrated recently when the entire college was dismissed for one day. The men worked on the campus completing a new running track and two tennis courts. Lunch was served by the Spurs, a national girl's pep organization chartered on this campus.

The annual $\Pi\Phi$ spring party was given April 17. Sterling match cases were used as favors.

On March 7, eleven girls were initiated by Idaho A with Amy B. Onken, Grand President, presiding. This is such an unusual happening that the girls feel distinctly honored and will keep it always as a wonderful experience to be cherished in their memories. Grace Hancher Beck, Iota Province President, accompanied Miss Onken on her visit.

Junior Week, a new tradition on the campus, was held the middle of April and was an unquestionable success. The week was filled to overflowing with every kind of entertainment from stunt fests, cabarets, and plays, to musicals, and culminated at the end of the week in the junior prom, an all-college formal.

The rules regarding rushing have been slightly altered for next year. Freshmen will be required to come several days early in order to have their registering done before the sophomores and upper-classmen start in. The time limit for bidding has been extended to two weeks, and all parties will be held in the evening so as not to interfere with classes.

Cecelia Lemmer and Florence Selby were chosen members of the Alpha society, a local scholarship organization petitioning $\Phi B K$; Margaret Springer was recently elected president of Mortar Board; while Wilma Keel was elected vice-president of Spanish club and Florence Greene, secretary of $\Sigma A I$. Marian Featherstone has been pledged to Winged Helmet, a literary organization. A new Spanish honorary fraternity has been formed of which Cecelia Lemmer is vice-president and Wilma Keel, a member. The chapter has been very active in dramatics this year. Ruth Hecht was chosen president of the Associated Players of the University of Washington. Every year the junior class gives the junior girls' Vodvil. The acts are selected by a board composed of junior students and members of the faculty. This year out of sixteen girls in the production, ten were Pi Phis.

Among the freshmen Alice Darr, Mary Weir and Carrie MacAnally made Axe and Grindstone, an advertising honorary. With the first breath of spring, however, they have shown an athletic tendency. II ♀ competed in the women's horseshoe tournament.

On March 15, at 12:30 a. m. Washington B held a ground breaking ceremony for the new house, followed by a serenade at all the fraternity houses and dormitories.

After this year the associated student body instead of the junior class will have charge of the college annual, the Chinook. Gladys Gue, a II Φ , is editing the last junior class Chinook.

Other Washington B girls active on the campus this year are: Marjorie Freakes, secretary of the senior class; Margaret Bement in National Collegiate Players' play, You Never Can Tell; Marjorie Freakes, Maude McDonald, Louise Clausin, and Gladys Wiren, a pledge, in the opera Sweethearts. Wardine Jesseph has been initiated into Spurs to replace Mary Fisher who is not in college this semester.

The visit of Amy B. Onken was the outstanding event of the winter term. Oregon A enjoyed every minute of her stay, which was a pleasure and an inspiration. A musicale was given in honor of Miss Onken and Grace Hancher Beck, Province President, which was attended by faculty members, Pi Phi and their mothers. It is intended that such a musicale shall be an annual affair from now on, and henceforth shall be for all faculty members.

Another national fraternity has made its appearance on the Oregon campus, ΘX , which was installed the last part of the winter term.

Janet Wood is the delegate elected to represent Oregon A at Convention. She was recently elected president of W. A. A. and was the only one nominated for the office. She also represented the university at a W. A. A. Convention held at Los Angeles, Calif.

At the Y. W. C. A. election held this spring, Dorothy Delzell was elected treasurer. Two Pi Phi, Janet Wood and Louise Wisecarver, were chosen to Orchesus, an interpretative dancing sorority.

Oregon B still feels the thrill of the visit of Amy B. Onken, and the wonderful initiation held at that time. She was an inspiration to members as well as initiates.

The chapter was very glad to report to Miss Onken that Oregon B headed the scholarship list for fraternity women last term.

A drive for a $500,000 student union building as a memorial for the world's war veterans has been completed. The building, one of the finest of its kind in the West, will be the center of all campus activities. Several Pi Phis took an active part in making the drive a success.

For the second year Founders' Day was observed with Oregon A, by a joint picnic, halfway between the two colleges. The Corvallis alumnae club and the Eugene alumnae club joined the chapters in the celebration of this event.

California A has just had the pleasure of entertaining Francese Evans, March 31 to April 1.

The first year of the sponsor system for incoming freshmen women, consisting of representative university women elected in the fall to live in Roble Hall, and to act in an advisory capacity for the new women students, has just come to a successful close, with the approach of spring bidding April 24.

The discussion concerning the abolition of women's fraternities on the Stanford campus has come to a close for the present. It is understood that the university is planning to build dormitories for women in the future, but it will take no action to remove women's fraternities unless they "flagrantly violate university rules or prove themselves useless to the university."

Cecile Feusier has won her sweater in the women's society for earning one thousand points in athletics.

Velma Randall has a part in one of the campus plays and with five of the other girls has a part in the forthcoming junior opera.

Perhaps the most interesting event of this, the spring semester, was the visit of the Grand Secretary, Francese Roma Evans. Although termed an inspection tour, it seemed more a privilege than a regulation. It also so happened that Miss Evan's visit occurred on the same day as the Founders' Day luncheon, which was held this year on March 28 at Talts On The Beach in San Francisco.

There is much enthusiasm at present over the Convention and Miss Evans, in her interesting and entertaining talk, greatly enlivened that spark of enthusiasm. Babe McCreary has been elected delegate.

Due to the large number of transfers on the California campus, California B has set every Thursday luncheon as transfer luncheon. It is hoped in this way to become acquainted with these Pi Phis from far and near.

Two new buildings have been started this year on the campus. One is the first unit of the Woman's Building, and the other, the Law Building. The late Dr. Norman Bridge left the university a sum approximating $100,000 which is to be used for more new buildings, and will materially aid in bringing the college of Liberal Arts and other campus colleges into closer contact.

On Founders' Day of the university, there was as part of the celebration an inter-fraternity track meet. $\Pi\Phi$ was represented by the local chapter of ΣX and took third place.

Four Pi Phis, Marietta Stirratt, Ruth Benzie, Mignon Crepin, and Pauline Rosenblatt took principal parts in an oratorio, given in March for a benefit. In the dancing pageant, Pan On A Summer's Day, Eleanor B. Stevens took one of the leads, and two other Pi Phis, Janice Gearhart and Martha Williams danced in the chorus. The Senior Follies coming in the last of May, was one of the biggest events of the year. Ruth Benzie and Eleanor B. Stevens had leading parts, and Ella Hegelund, Jane Hoffman, and Lucy Scott were in the choruses.

On April 25, Arizona A gave the annual Greenwich Village dance. Costumes and decorations were futuristic.

Π Φ has the presidency next year in Panhellenic. Dorothy Coffin, one of the active girls in the chapter and a representative to Panhellenic this year, has been elected to that position.

The local chapter of Mortar Board on the campus has been working very hard for national Mortar Board, and is hoping to obtain recognition this year.

The University of Arizona campus is growing each year, and no longer ranks as a small university. The newest additions are a beautiful new library and a Student Union Building. These will prove a valuable addition to the campus.

The spring semester has been a very successful one for the University of Nevada. Mackay Day, which is one of the red-letter days of the university's calendar, was recently celebrated with a luncheon served to the entire student body. The interclass meet was held in the afternoon. After the luncheon, nominations for student body officers for the coming year were made, and the Artemisia, the university year book, was distributed. Nevada A is glad to be able to claim three members of the staff, Wilma Blattner, Ethel Lunsford and Phyllis Poulin.

One of the outstanding events of the year was the series of lectures given recently by Dr. Robert A. Millikan under the Robert Lardin Fulton Lecture Foundation which was established last year on the fiftieth anniversary of the University of Nevada. Dr. Millikan was the Nobel prize winner in physics in 1923, and is one of the greatest scientists of today.

Nevada A enjoyed a delightful visit from Francese Evans, Grand Secretary, during the last week of March. Miss Evans was a great inspiration to alumnae, active members and pledges. During her stay the chapter gave a tea at the home of Mrs. Gray to which all university women were invited.

Alice Norcross was awarded $\Phi K \Phi$.

$\Pi B \Phi$ has been well represented in activities, with members holding various class offices, working on each of the publications, taking an active interest in Y. W. C. A., and going out for athletics. Norine Hanna and Elsie Mitchell were chosen on the Mythical Varsity basketball squad. Elsie has just been elected to Gothic "N" the highest honor in women's athletics, and is also winning laurels in tennis.

Amy Goodman was elected to the English honor society, and took part in its Scandal Show. Campus Players recently presented The Game with Katherine O'Sullivan and Edith Martin in prominent parts.

The chapter announces the pledging of Katherine O'Sullivan, Kathleen Malloy, and Tillie Evanson. Katherine is both a $\Pi \Phi$ daughter and sister.

Nevada A was glad to learn of the election of Luethel Austin as instructor of English next year. She will be the fifth $\Pi \Phi$ on the faculty.

Rena Semenza, chapter delegate, Lois Hesson and Isabel Hayes will go to Convention, and every member of Nevada A is wishing she might go along, too.

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

In writing of "The College Panhellenic and Penalties," the editor of The Anchora of Delta Gamma concludes her article thus:

Could not some of the following and other penalties be made sufficiently severe in one year to correct or punish all offenders?

1. Postponement of pledging beyond the regular pledge date from one day to several months with open rush for all others during the time.

2. Curtailment or cancellation of the chapter's social functions for a definite period.

3. Elimination from all fraternity scholarship ratings.

4. Loss of college honors and activity points.

5. Penalization of any member or members of a chapter who are responsible in any way for violations. The punishment of the individual will bring quicker action than any other method for each person will consider the effect that it may have upon her. Her chapter should place her upon probation, cancel her social engagements and make her forfeit college honors and offices to any extent they see fit.

Perhaps restricting the office of Panhellenic president to only those who have been a member of Panhellenic at least five years will strengthen the efficiency of Panhellenic. Some Panhellenics have already done this, as they feel that otherwise the president lacks the fraternity background and experience; neither do they have the advice and help of alumnae in less time.

LARGEST UNIVERSITIES

According to statistics quoted from the World Almanac by the Scroll of Phi Delta Theta there are fifty universities in the United States with attendance lists of more than 2,500 persons. The five largest are: University of California, 15,559; New York University, 14,643; College of the City of New York, 12,884; University of Chicago, 12,745; Columbia University, 11,765.

The February issue of the Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta was particularly interesting since it contained pictures and news of Gamma Phis in Highest Campus Activities. Such a number should be stimulating to all college chapters.

A LIBRARIAN'S CREED

By JESSIE J. GLASS, Zeta

"I believe in books: in the power of books to teach, the gift of books to inspire, the efficacy of books to restore and give joy.

"I dedicate myself today to my opportunities for helping my fellows to know and love books: to learn from books knowledge of themselves; to seek in books refreshment and laughter; to find in books spiritual springs of action and hope."—William Lyon Phelps, July Scribner's, via Lamp of Delta Zeta.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is developing a general fraternity library at its national headquarters in Evanston. This library is intended to be one of general reference for all fraternities. The fraternity is seeking a collection of the magazines of the different fraternities and as fast as it receives the unbound volumes, it is having them bound in the colors of the fraternity which they represent. It is intended that the library shall, in addition to a division dedicated to books of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and other fraternities, have a division which shall be given over to books written by Sigma Alpha Epsilon authors.—Banta's Greek Exchange, via Delta Tau Delta Rainbow.—Key of Kappa Kappa Gamma.—Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta.

Miss McDuffie bequeathed for the furtherance of education the sum of $5,000 to be used by the A. A. U. W. as a fellowship in history, to be awarded to graduates of Southern colleges.

AMONG OUR ALLIES

Phi Pi Phi has just issued the first number of its Quarterly. It is a 44 page booklet neat in appearance and filled with material of value to its members. It is dedicated to the editors of twenty-five fraternity magazines who furnished suggestions for it. That is a fine illustration of the present-day inter-fraternity comity. Phi Pi Phi has chapters at Northwestern, Chicago, Armour, Illinois, Washburn, Wisconsin, Utah and California. It has been admitted to Junior membership in the National Inter-Fraternity Conference. The Quarterly contains group pictures of the eight chapters and so gives the reader a good idea of the type of membership of the new organization. Beta Theta Pi wishes it continued success in the years ahead.—Beta Theta Pi.

Quoting from an Associated Press Dispatch in the Denver Post of April 5:

Williamsburg, Va., (A. P.)—A copy of the Apollo room of the Raleigh Tavern, famous old colonial hostelry where the international honorary scholastic society of Phi Beta Kappa is believed to have been founded, has been provided for in plans drawn for the construction on the College of William and Mary campus here of a $100,000 memorial building honoring the fifty men who founded the society in 1776. The building will be of red brick and will conform in its outlines to the general style of the rest of the college buildings.

From the campus of William and Mary, the Phi Beta Kappa society has extended over most of the civilized world. Chapters are situated at the majority of the larger American colleges and there are alumni chapters in many foreign countries. All these will be asked to take part in the dedication of the memorial, which probably will be in December, 1926.

TYPE

Oftentimes—especially in rushing season—we hear the expression, "She's our type," and we wonder how it is possible in a chapter of thirty members, all of varying tastes, different characteristics and separate activities, to declare the existence of one type. After years of discretion have brought us the true interpretation of many things, we conclude that type is the intangible, indefinable, indescribable something that links together in a common bond student, butterfly, athlete, musician, artist, journalist, actress, because they all have the same ideals and because they have hitched their individual wagons to the self-same crescent.—The Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta.

In the Phi Omega Pi the following interesting paragraph has been quoted from the Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal:

VALUE OF A FRATERNITY

By HARRY S. NEW, Postmaster-General of the United States

In my judgment membership in a well recognized Greek letter fraternity is a good thing for the college boy. It gives him an additional reason for maintaining his standing among his fellows and for observing good behavior. The very fact that his fraternity brothers asked him to become one of them is evidence that they had confidence in him and in his ability to reflect credit on the fraternity and on them in the days to come, and he naturally desires to fulfill their expectations.

GREEKS EN MASSE

The universities having the greatest number of Greek-letter organizations are:

- University of Michigan with 102.
- University of Illinois with 96.
- Cornell University with 88.
- University of Pennsylvania with 86.
- Ohio State with 84.
- University of California with 82.
- University of Wisconsin with 79.

A BOOK ON HOUSE PLANNING

Plans for publication in the near future of a book dealing with the efficient building of college fraternity houses that shall more nearly express the character and ideals of those fraternities were revealed in the report of the committee on fraternity house architecture, read by Oswald C. Hering, chairman.

The presidents of 136 colleges and universities and the general secretaries of seventy-five fraternities already have been approached by members of the committee for information regarding the cost and character of the best of their chapter houses. While the exact content of the proposed book has not yet been determined, it probably will contain chapters on the purpose of chapter houses, their design and construction, comparative tables of cost, with such advice and direction, plans, specifications and pictures as the committee feels will be helpful to those about to embark on a chapter house building program.—From a report of the Interfraternity Conference published in the Trident of Delta Delta Delta.

In quoting from the Tomahawk the Delta Kappa Epsilon Quarterly says:

The University of California, Southern Branch, has recently been placed on a par with the parent institution at Berkeley. Previous to this time the courses of instruction have run for two years only in the Los Angeles branch and it has been necessary for the student to transfer either to Berkeley or to some other institution in order to obtain a degree.

Beginning with the opening of college next fall, the course will be extended to cover four years and degrees will also be granted. This move has been anticipated for some time by those who have studied the rapid growth of the Southern Branch of the University. It is a very welcome one and will mark a new era in the history of the institution.

PERKINS OBSERVATORY

College professors may not receive salaries that will ultimately make Rockefellers and Henry Fords out of them, but if they are as sagacious and thrifty as Professor Hiram M. Perkins, of Ohio Wesleyan University, they are not likely to become charges of the public. Recent newspaper dispatches state that the Perkins observatory at Ohio Wesleyan University, which will house the third largest telescope in the world, is being built mostly with the life savings of Hiram M. Perkins, an obscure college professor. Professor Perkins's salary never was more than $1,800 a year, but by keen business sagacity and fortunate investments he accumulated $300,000, every cent of which he gave to Ohio Wesleyan. He taught in the institution for more than half a century. The professor did not live to see his life's dream realized, as he died at the age of 91 several months ago.—Kappa Alpha Journal.

A VOCATIONAL BUREAU

Phi Gamma Delta is conducting a Vocational Bureau with remarkable results. Requests for help covered twenty fields of work and requests for positions, some sixty occupations. Such a bureau is a splendid example of fraternity interest and help.

WELL SAID

While concerned with chapter activities it would be advisable for some chapter executives to consider that campus activities can be sadly overdone. There are some students who, in justice to themselves and their chapter, should undertake no activities. They are those who with difficulty make average grades and those who must put in any considerable time to outside work.

There are not a great many activities that justify one's interest and attention in college. Athletics, literary, forensics—are not these the major activities, with politics and organization membership trailing behind in importance and worth? Somehow a string of activities after one's name in the college year book seems to look good to one in college but it cuts little figure after leaving the campus. The growth and development one acquires by his devotion to some of the major activities stands him in better stead.

Would it not be well for chapters to "ration" their members' participation in activities? A knowledge of the powers of an individual together with his scholastic record should furnish the activities committee data upon which to recommend his participation in activities. Brilliant scholars may be given free reign but advised against over participation. College, as well as later life, is a good time for growth—if one can find time for it. Not infrequently we are too busy getting an education to learn much.

POET'S CORNER

TO MOTHER*

We've all had aspirations of one kind or another.
 Hopes, perhaps unconsciously inspired by one's mother.
 And this is true of me, I know.
 For I will not deny.
 That ever since I saw her arrow
 My thoughts were all Pi Phi.
 To be her sister, and thus perfectly
 Write the incompleated bond
 That held us with its might.
 And now, at last, the moment is tonight
 When aims so high are won.
 I seem unworthy, poor,
 Yet in my heart so full
 I feel a wondrous, glorious pull
 That makes me know
 That to a longed for goal I've come
 And now we two, are one.

*This lovely sentiment was written by Ramona Teresa Savage, Pennsylvania A, and passed across the banquet table to her mother, Mary Hutchinson Savage, Pennsylvania A, at the initiation banquet immediately following Ramona's initiation into Pi Beta Phi. The author does not know that this is to be printed in THE ARROW.—The Editor.

THE GOLDEN ARROW

I.

In college days, when hearts are young,
 When thoughts are wild and free
 When laughter, joy and mirth abound,
 When Life as gold we see,
 The Pi Phi arrow, slender, straight,
 Is worn o'er hearts that beat
 In carefree time—'tis then it seems
 We cannot see "Defeat."

II.

In after years, when hearts seem sad,
 When sometimes skies are gray,
 When Duty calls, when "Carry On"
 Grows harder day by day,
 'Tis then the arrow, pointing high,
 A deeper meaning holds,
 We gaze on it; the sky turns blue,
 It makes us reach our goals!
 Memories come of college friendships—
 Friendships, with the years proved true;
 But we feel these ties are stronger,
 Strengthened in the wine and blue
 Of Pi Beta Phi.

Years have brought us many changes,
 Homes afar and friendships new;
 As of yore, the ones most precious
 Still are of the wine and blue,
 Of Pi Beta Phi.

May we then be yet more loyal
 May our love be ever true
 To the golden shining arrow
 To the wine and silver blue
 Of Pi Beta Phi.

KANSAS BETA WINS

The Committee on Social Exchange awarded the cup for the cleverest and most original form of entertainment used during the past year to Kansas Beta; Missouri Beta ranked second.

"NOTE US"—KANSAS BETA

The curtain rises on an empty stage, and the spot light reveals a white banjo in a slanting position against a black background. The tinkling of a banjo is heard off stage, and after a brief interval a curious little boy in a black velvet suit, with wide white collar and cuffs, enters. He espies the banjo and examines it with wonder and delight. He inquisitively plucks a string and jumps back startled as it breaks with a twang. Simultaneously with the twang a figure dressed as a note appears on the neck of the banjo and starts to sing. Delighted with the result, the boy breaks another string—and yet another, each with the same result, until the six strings are broken and six figures are revealed perched on the neck—joining in the final chorus.

At the close of the song, the boy mischievously rams his fist thru the face of the banjo. To his surprise a head pops out. He further satisfies his curiosity by tearing away the paper to reveal the rest of her. She smiles at him, and starts singing in the bluest of blue tones, "Me and the Boy Friend." As she sings, the notes on the neck wiggle their feet in accompaniment.

After she leaves, the boy coaxes out a foot-note in the guise of a toe-dancer. She entertains him a few moments and dances back out of sight as a girl with a violin appears and plays a popular selection to the accompaniment of pantomime by the notes.

For the finale, those who have appeared group themselves inside the banjo and to piano and violin accompaniment sing a closing song.

Oh Peter!
Dancin' Dan!
Charley, My Boy!
Oh Harold!
Ray and His Little Chevrolet!
Oh Gee, Georgie!

At the closing of the medley, after a series of chords on the piano, the notes joined and sang these lines of "Why Shouldn't We?"

"Everyone seems to be turning the trick
Even the polywogs down in the crick;
Birds in the forest and fish in the sea
Are having their fun—
Why shouldn't we?"

(Tune repeated)
Watching the daffodils
Full of caprice,
Eating a half a dill pickle apiece,
Getting as cuckoo as cuckoo can be,
But having their fun—
Why shouldn't we?"

The Blue Song was "Me and The Boy Friend," the grace-note danced to "The Dancing Doll," and the violin solo was "Words." The finale was original words to

The whole-notes had a party,
The half-notes wouldn't come.
The quarter-notes brought their ginger-ale,
And the eighth-notes brought their gum.
They all tripped out in the moonlight,
And the grace-notes gave a dance,
The foot-notes tripped on a treble—
And tumbled down the clef.

We notes have had our good times—
So now we'll say goodnight.
We've run all up and down the scale—
Like Hickory Dickory Dock.
We've sharpened and flatted often—
And lost a beat or two—
And the rest is just to "Note Us"—
So we'll say goodnight to you!

The costumes of the notes were close fitting black cambric suits with white pompoms. They wore white skull caps on one side of their heads. On the legs hanging over the stem of the banjo were fastened large white notes, the notes covering the foot, the stems extending up to the knee where the flags of the notes were fastened.

When the curtain rose, the face of the banjo was covered with thin white paper. When broken a small platform was seen against a dark background. The blues singer wore black and white evening dress—as did the girl who played the violin. The toe dancer wore a short black velvet dancing costume with white notes painted around the bottom of the full circular skirt. The Boy wore tight velvet knickerbockers, a short Eton jacket, and a blouse with wide white collar and cuffs, white hose and black shoes. The boy did much to make the stunt successful. His pantomime during the songs kept the whole thing together and his by-play with the notes was very amusing.

"Note Us" was presented December 5 and 6, by Kansas Beta, winning first prize in Aggie Pop Concert.

N O T I C E !

No more orders for Pi Phi Phonograph Records can be filled as the University Record Corporation has informed the chairman of the Record Committee that the master Pi Beta Phi Record has been damaged beyond repair in the factory where it had been sent to have others made.

THE CARL BROWN FACTORIES—1-11 Brown St., Buffalo, N. Y., will present a plan about September 1 for our cooperation in the purchase of Christmas gifts which will bring a good profit to the Settlement School Fund. Please give it careful consideration.

THE CHICAGO ALUMNAE CLUB holds weekly luncheons at the Hamilton Club, 20 S. Dearborn St., 70c per plate, no reservations necessary, ask for the Pi Phi Group.

CAMP MORTAR BOARD, a camp for college girls, owned and managed by Ruth Siefkin, Kansas B, and Martha Gray, Michigan B, is situated on Big Bay de Noc of Lake Michigan, Fayette, Michigan. A beautifully illustrated catalog will be sent upon request made to the owners.

TO ALL PI BETA PHIS who expect to attend Columbia or other schools or colleges in or near New York this summer—

Upon arrival in New York City send your name and local address to Miss Kate B. Miller, Columbia University, New York City, or to Miss M. Frances Caswell, Whittier Hall, 1230 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City.

This will guarantee a notice regarding the annual cooky-shine to be given by the New York Alumnae Club to students, on Saturday, August first, at the home of Mrs. William H. Lough, 670 Pelham Road, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Sung by Gladys Hagee Mathew at Estes Park, this convention prize song was a tremendous hit. Sheet music now ready—50c per copy
