THE ARROW OF PHIBETA PHI

EDITORIALS

SOcial representation—a natural requirement of a well rounded and well balanced chapter.

But in the past few years since the election of campus beauty queens has lost its significance, how much credit have we given to the girl in our chapter who receives at faculty receptions, who acts as hostess in our house, who manages the biggest social affairs of the year, who through her graciousness, her courtesy and her natural disposition has given the chapter the reputation of having well poised and hospitable members? We associate our activities almost entirely with the girl on the hockey field or on the basketball team, the class officer or the Phi Bete and attribute the social success of our members to good looks and popularity.

It is interesting to look into the records of the girls who have attained campus social honors—they usually have splendid scholastic reports; although not basketball captains or even stars they may play; very often they hold major offices in the chapter itself; many times they are the girls the dean lists when naming representative chapter members; if volunteer lists were scanned, usually the names of these girls are among them; and if there are May Queens—popularity, which after all is something not won in college on a high school reputation, is not the deciding factor—scholarship, cooperation in college activities, and the approval of the chapter as well as college officials are necessary.

And so in this May ARROW we are featuring the girls whose chapters have appreciated the honors brought to them through social activities—not in a spirit of neglecting regular college activities, but to illustrate more clearly that social honors are earned and worked for and those who have attained them have had enviable college careers.

THE EDITOR usually speaks often, but the editor of the ARROW regrets that it has been impossible in the past year to answer the many notes, comment on the various suggestions, and in truth show her appreciation for the interest manifested in the publication.

A new plan for chapter and alumnae club cooperation was tried this past fall—that of issuing a schedule for ARROW news for the entire year rather than issuing the monthly bulletin. In addition to cutting down on expenses, the plan has brought excellent results—results to the extent of not having space for many splendid articles and photographs. But material sent in is kept on file and every attempt made to use it.

Chapters have cooperated splendidly—"tips" for some of the most interesting Pi Phi stories have come through the active girls and alumnae clubs have improved ninety per cent—not only in getting material in on time, but in sending more than just the regular personals and showing a real desire to make THE ARROW a representative fraternity magazine.

There are errors and always will be, because when five photographs come in with one story and your editor is forced to name the girl from the accompanying write-up, she may go astray, but despite everything with a continuation of the enthusiasm of the past year it is inevitable that THE ARROW will be an even greater force in the fraternity.

For this enthusiasm, interest, and encouragement your editor thanks you.

Greeks in White House

The White House has its second sorority woman as hostess. Mrs. Herbert Hoover became a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Stanford, where her husband is reputed not to have been especially favorably impressed by the Greek letter societies. Mrs. Coolidge is a member of Π Β Φ.

Hoover is the first non-fraternity occupant of the White House since the day James A. Garfield succeeded Rutherford B. Hayes in 1881. Several of the succeeding occupants, however, were honorary members of the societies that claim them, and one, Warren G. Harding, was not a member of a general fraternity but of a law society, Phi Alpha Delta. The list follows:

Coolidge, Phi Gamma Delta; Taft, Psi Upsilon and Acacia; Roosevelt, Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Kappa Epsilon; McKinley, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Cleveland, Sigma Chi; Harrison, Phi Delta Theta; Arthur, Psi Upsilon; Garfield, Delta Upsilon.

Of the recent unsuccessful candidates, Smith was a member, honorary in this case, of Phi Kappa; Davis, Phi Kappa Psi; and Hughes, Delta Upsilon.

remembered as one of those fortunate students who spend one of their college years abroad, having been awarded, in the national competition sponsored by the American Council on Education, a Foreign Study Scholarship for use in Europe during her junior year.

Winifred's father, Dr. Edwin D. Starbuck, is an author and lecturer of international prominence on the psychology of religion, and on character training. He is at present head of the Department of Philosophy, and director of the Institute of Character Research, at the University of Iowa. Until the time of her death last spring, Mrs. Starbuck was professor of music at the University.

The Allerton, located at 701 North Michigan Ave., is the official intercollegiate alumni residence for 102 colleges, and operates a sorority information bureau for twenty national Panhellenic sororities. Here you will find the names and addresses of all Pi Phi living in Chicago, and a record of all Pi Phi meetings, luncheons, and dinners. When in Chicago, call Winifred at the Allerton and let her help you get in touch with Pi Phi activities in the city.

Fraternity Problems Faced by National Panhellenic Congress at Denver Meeting

By Amy Burnham Onken

TO THE friendships formed between officers of different fraternities through the personal contacts of National Panhellenic Congress has come much of the mutual understanding and appreciation which mark the relations between present day fraternities. As active chapters gain for the college interfraternity relationships the respect and friendliness which, almost without exception, are so apparent in national relationships, we shall find fewer and more easily solved college Panhellenic problems. The spirit of the Twenty-first National Panhellenic Congress marked a far advance from the days when every fraternity was inclined to put its own convenience and selfish advantage above the best interests of the fraternity system. Pi Beta Phi acknowledges with very real pleasure its indebtedness to Irma Tapp, Chairman, grand president of Alpha Delta Pi, whose vision for fraternities and whose courage of conviction made possible the accomplishments of that Congress.

The twenty-first National Panhellenic Congress met at the Brown Palace Hotel, Denver, February 23-28. Pi Beta Phi was most fortunate to have as its alternates Margaretta Fenn, Assistant to the Grand President and delegate to the Editors' Conference, and Mary Frost, former Eta Province President and chairman of the Committee on Extension. It was a matter of great regret that serious illness prevented Agnes Wright Spring from attending the Congress. The presence of fifteen national presidents failed to equal the all-time high record of the Boston Congress of seventeen presidents in attendance, but the number who served as official delegates—eight—was the same for both conventions. The official list of delegates, included those for the three fraternities admitted to associate membership by the Congress was as follows:

- Pi Beta Phi—Amy Burnham Onken
- Kappa Alpha Theta—L. Pearle Green
- Kappa Kappa Gamma—Mrs. Richard Lloyd-Jones

Delta Gamma—Mrs. Joseph Halsted

Associate Members

Sigma Phi Beta—Mrs. Hoke Dickinson

Since it is the intention of Pi Beta Phi to send to all officers, chapters, and alumnæ clubs copies of the minutes of the Congress so that there may be a general understanding of the requirements and recommendations which effect them as parts of the fraternity system, and it is expected that there will be careful study of these minutes, only the more outstanding pieces of legislation will be discussed here.

The action of National Panhellenic which promises to mean most for the future was the amending of the Constitution so as to do away with the old requirement of a unanimous vote and to provide for a seven-eighths vote for constitutional amendments—a change which will make possible much constructive action impossible under a Constitution which gave controlling power to a minority which might consist of one fraternity only. By admitting to associate membership Beta Sigma Omicron, Lambda Omega, and Phi Omega Pi, National Panhellenic Congress increased its membership to twenty-one active and four associate members. It agreed, too, to sponsor Pi Sigma Gamma.

N.P.C. Rulings

The discussion of college Panhellenics which follow the report of Mrs. Irving Brown, Alpha Chi Omega, who as chairman of the Committee on College Panhellenics has given such outstanding service to all fraternities during the past four years, led to a decision to include in the program for the next Congress a meeting planned about the problems of these organizations and open to their representatives. Because Mrs. Brown's committee has found so many problems growing out of a failure to understand N.P.C. rulings covering the pledge, the special attention of all Pi Beta Phis is called to these rulings. According to the Interfraternity Compact, which is binding upon all N.P.C. fraternities, a pledge expires at the end of a calendar year: this has been officially interpreted by N.P.C. to mean that a pledge is binding for one calendar year in so far that no girl may be bid or pledged by any other fraternity before the expiration of that year. This regulation is in no way affected by a change of campuses: a girl pledged on one campus is not eligible for pledging by another fraternity on any other campus to which she may transfer until the full year from the date of pledging has passed, even though, as in the case of Pi Beta Phi and several other fraternities, the act of registration at a second college automatically ends her pledgship so far as the fraternity itself is concerned. For example, a Pi Phi pledge transferring to a second college is no longer a Pi Beta Phi pledge but she is, nevertheless, not eligible for pledging to any other fraternity until a year from the date of her original pledging to Pi Beta Phi. When a pledge is broken, either by the chapter or by the girl, she cannot be bid or pledged by another fraternity until one calendar year from the date of the breaking of the pledge, and here again a change of campuses does not in any way effect the ruling. The short, open rushing season at the beginning of the college year was again endorsed by National Panhellenic, which expressed its disapproval of the recent innovation of the election of college Panhellenic officers and its desire to discourage all public demonstrations in connection with pledging. Pi Beta Phi chapters must, therefore, except when college faculties require delayed rushing, support the system of rushing approved by N.P.C., and must use their influence against a deviation from the established system of rotation of Panhellenic offices and against conspicuous features connected with pledging. The present enthusiasm in some sections for deferred rushing seems to come from a failure to remember that, some years ago, deferred rushing was tried on every type of campus and was a success on none, largely because it involves the expenditure of so much money, time, and effort.

Reaffirm Agreement

The fraternity problems of the teachers college, the normal school, and the junior college were brought very clearly before National Pan-

Spread out in the valley and closely surrounded by mountains describes Denver, the site of the twenty-first National Panhellenic Congress meeting held in February. hellenic when Miss Mable Walton, president of Sigma Sigma Sigma and representative of the Association of Educational Sororities, Mrs. Ethlyn W. Hopkins, president of Sigma Iota Chi and of the National College Panhellenic Congress, and Esther Culp Litchfield, Delta Zeta, spoke of the need which students on these campuses have for fraternity life. National Panhellenic Congress reaffirms its agreement with the Association of Educational Sororities not to enter the field of normal schools and teachers' colleges and asked that, in return, the Educational Association respect the rights of National Panhellenic fraternities in other college fields. Junior colleges are not legitimate fields for the general college fraternity but present rather the problem of the entering upperclassman on the regular college campus. National Panhellenic was urged to encourage recognition of these junior college girls as desirable fraternity material. This encouragement is, of course, in line with Pi Beta Phi's policy which approves the bidding of a girl from any college class if she is desirable and which places its "four year girl" emphasis quite as much upon the girl who enters with the intention of being graduated as upon the one who enters with the intention of remaining for four years. Not that the fraternity does not recognize the value of four years of active chapter experience and the opportunity for service which they give!

The statement made by Miss Tapp in her opening address to the effect that "Many of us feel that a close relationship should exist between the Congress and city Panhellenics and that the Congress will function more widely and effectively when it has become an integral part of college and city Panhellenics rather than a thing apart, as they have been prone to think and even forced to think us at times. The opportunity for service seems great in these fields," led to definite planning by National Panhellenic for a closer relationship between city Panhellenics and National Panhellenic, which should do much to make these city organizations increasingly valuable. The next Congress will provide one program which will be open to representatives of city Panhellenics. Membership in city Panhellenics has been assumed to be open to all regular members of N.P.C. fraternities: the question of the eligibility of persons initiated into N.P.C. fraternities through special dispensations and without the normal requirements for membership was met by the statement of this Congress that its opinion is that such persons may be admitted at the discretion of the city Panhellenic concerned.

Plan Survey

Acting upon the recommendations of this Congress, the Executive Committee is to plan for round table discussions and for increased personal contacts between delegates at the next Congress. At the request of the committee in charge of the World's Fair which is to be held in Chicago in 1933, National Panhellenic Congress appointed as its official representative to assist in planning for fraternity representation Mrs. Joseph Wollett, former grand president of Delta Gamma. The Congress authorized a survey of fraternity costs and agreed to join with the Deans' Conference in planning for an historical survey of women's fraternities. At the close of the Congress, Rene Sebring Smith, Delta Zeta, chairman, Mrs. Edward Prince, Phi Mu, secretary, and Mrs. A. M. Redd, Kappa Delta, treasurer, became the officers and Executive Committee for the coming two years: Pi Beta Phi pledges to them its cooperation in their efforts to make the college fraternity an ever greater influence for the best things in college life.

Social Entertainment

For Pi Beta Phis, it is a most pleasing coincidence that the president of the Denver City Panhellenic for this year is Laura Louise Clough White, Ohio B and Colorado A. Under the direction of Mrs. White and the very efficient committees from the city Panhellenic, a social program of unusual completeness provided many enjoyable contacts. On Monday evening, a "Round Up" gave delegates an opportunity to enjoy a clever program and to visit with local representatives of their own and other fraternities. Tuesday evening found everyone en route to Boulder where they were the guests of the University of Colorado Panhellenic for a delightful buffet supper, served at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house, after which they were free to visit at their own or other fraternity houses. Wednesday evening was left open for an opportunity to meet with one's own Denver members, while on Thursday afternoon, the Denver University Panhellenic was hostess for a sightseeing drive and for a charming tea at the Shrine Temple. The banquet, which marks the social close of each Congress, was held this year at the Cosmopolitan Hotel and brought together seven hundred fraternity women for the greatest Panhellenic banquet ever held. Since there were a hundred Pi Phis present, it was perhaps a little selfish to regret that for the first time the fraternity roll call was omitted from the banquet program! Mrs. White spoke most graciously of the welcome which was in the heart of Denver fraternity women—a welcome of which each delegate had been most conscious during the week of careful thought for her comfort and pleasure! Miss Tapp, as toastmistress, introduced the incoming officers of the Congress and the official delegates and then the speaker of the evening, Mr. James Grafton Rogers, dean of the Law School of the University of Colorado, who spoke most interestingly and inspiringly of the place of the college fraternity in campus life. A chorus added much to the enjoyment of the banquet through its singing of fraternity songs.

For the Pi Beta Phi delegate, National Panhellenic Congress made possible associations with the Colorado chapters, the Denver and Boulder alumnae clubs, and individual Pi Phis which will be long remembered for their happiness and fraternity inspiration. There could not have been more gracious, thoughtful hostesses and she finds it impossible to express the appreciation of Miss Fenn, Miss Frost, and herself for the many delightful courtesies which were extended to them! On the Saturday preceding the Congress, she had the privilege of initiating the seventeen splendid pledges of Colorado B and of sharing with that chapter its beautiful initiation banquet. On Sunday, February 16, as she passed through Denver on her way to Salt Lake City, she had the pleasure of going up to Boulder for a delightful day with Colorado in its lovely new chapter house, so that it was to what seemed like old friends that she went back after the Panhellenic supper in Boulder—which, incidentally, would have been at the Pi Phi house had the cook not inadvertently acquired the smallpox! After having heard for many months of the outstanding successes and accomplishments of the Denver alumnae club, it was a joy to attend its cooky-shine and to find the secret of that success in its friendliness, its keen fraternity interest, and its true Pi Phi spirit. And so, to have been the fraternity's delegate to the Denver meeting of National Panhellenic Congress has meant a deepened realization both of the privilege of being a fraternity woman and of the rare happiness of being a Pi Beta Phi!

Martha Acuff, Tennessee Alpha, one of Chattanooga's most talented dancers, is studying dancing in New York again this winter. She is studying Italian ballet and pantomime from Luigi Albertieri, former ballet master of the Metropolitan Opera Company; and acrobatic dancing from Harry DeMuth. The December issue of the Dance gave long articles on the work of these two famous teachers. Martha plans to continue her teaching in Chattanooga next winter.

The Central Office

Mabel Scott Brown, Columbia A, one of the most ardent workers for Pi Beta Phi who has developed the Central Office and as Director has charge of all the clerical work and publications, has written the following story on the work of the Central Office in response to many requests from alumnae clubs and active chapters.

New Directory Forthcoming

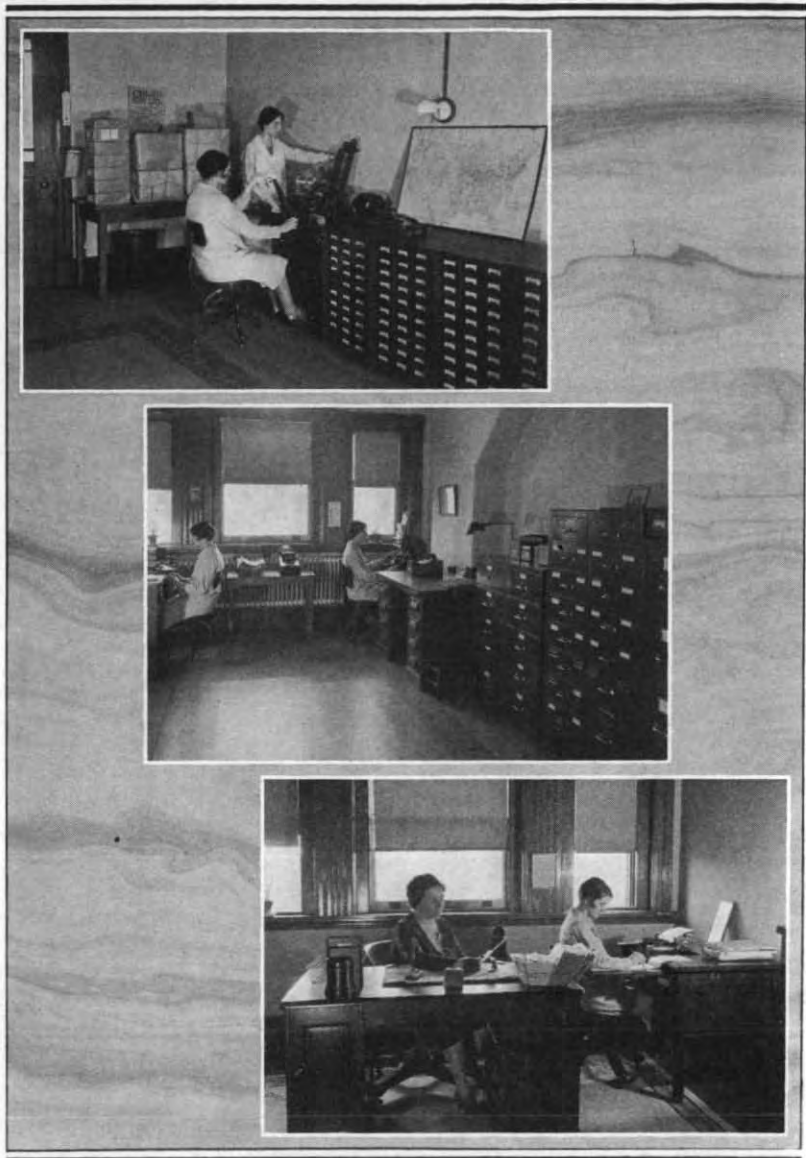

By Mabel Scott Brown

THE other day, when you searched your last ARROW for the change of address blank, filled it out carefully, and entrusted it to the mail, did you picture what would happen when it was received at the Pi Beta Phi Central Office? If, as an alumnae club officer, you spent many hours correcting your membership list, or writing your annual report, did you visualize how often these would be used in Hartford, at 175 Broad Street, third floor? If, as an active chapter officer, you compiled your quota of the forty-odd blanks sent to national this year, and submitted them on time, did you think how they were accounted for, corrected, and distributed? If, at the fraternity house, you saw in the mail, several times during the year, a big envelope of supplies addressed to the chapter, with the fraternity trademark on the label, did you wonder where it came from? Or if, as one of our 1,200 initiates this year, you received your membership certificate, your Directory, and your ARROW, did you know what mechanical work was necessary to bring these to you?

The average Pi Phi probably pictures the Central Office about as follows: The director, at her desk, with a box of card files beside her, finds your letter and a few others in the morning mail, hastens to record what you have sent her, and in the course of an hour or two, has changed your address, checked your list, forwarded information to other officers, sent out orders, filed away her correspondence in a drawer, and closed her office for the day.

Five years ago, when with much trepidation the then Cataloguer, now Director of the Central Office (D.C.O.), began the additional work of supply issue, as the first step toward centralizing the clerical work of many officers, the above picture was just about accurate. But during these five years, Pi Phi has gained seven new chapters, forty-three alumnae clubs, and 5,700 initiates, which means a total family of over 21,000 Pi Phis in our records, an increase of 35 per cent in membership since 1925. In addition, the scope of our work has been enlarged to include the mechanical work of editing fraternity publications; mimeographing manuals and circular letters for officers and national committees; sending out printed supplies to chapters and clubs, and receiving them again; and revision and actual printing of the mailing list for each issue of THE ARROW. The daily mail has increased twenty-fold, the yearly bookkeeping one hundred-fold, the clerical force from one part-time assistant to two full-time secretaries, with occasional extra help.

We have moved from a small room in the Cataloguer's home to two large office rooms in the Hartford Woman's Club, one of which is the workshop, the other, the stock-room and Director's retreat from the noise of machinery. The workshop is filled with desks, packing table, supply cabinets stacked with printed material, typewriters, mimeograph, adding machine, a thousand dollar addressograph printing equipment, two tons of card file, and a ton of lead plates for printing the mailing list. In the Director's room are her desks, shelves of reserve stock, piles of Directories, letter and ARROW files, and a lock cabinet for secret material.

No Frills

Why not an expensive suite, with Oriental rugs, mahogany furniture, and what not? Because Pi Beta Phi has a Settlement School, to which every extra dollar is devoted. We have bought only the equipment and supplies absolutely necessary for a workshop; perhaps posterity will want to add some frills! When we need a new piece of furniture, we hunt bargains after office hours.

In conference with our most obliging printer, we have reduced the size of page for all publications to a standard one, which cuts most economically from paper in bulk. By leaving out the word "Street" in every address in the 1927 Directory, we saved fifty pages. And in an edition of 4,000 copies, this is 200,000 pages saved! A high-school boy can pack heavy boxes of books more rapidly and much more cheaply than a skilled secretary, releasing her time for more difficult work. By a simple snip of the publisher's shears, one quarter inch was trimmed from the top of the Directory volumes, the books were brought within the pound rate, and four hundred dollars postage was saved. Try buying sixteen pound quality paper instead of twenty pound; it means fifteen thousand more sheets to the case.

Surely every step which makes routine chapter and club reports more painless, will give their officers more time for real enjoyment of fraternity life. During the years that Grand Council has been centering its work upon internal development of chapters and clubs, it has put into printed form manuals, instructions, and reports. The number of copies of lists and reports required has been reduced to the lowest possible amount. According to a very definite schedule, arranged to meet the needs of the greatest number of chapters and clubs, the Central Office packs and ships regular issues of supplies. It is routine work to send out these bulky envelopes, but it means several days of mimeographing, counting, pasting, clipping, labeling, and affixing stamps, which vary in denomination with each package. They go to seventy-eight chapters, one hundred and fifty-five alumnæ clubs, and thirty officers, in an ordinary mailing.

A National Aid

Pi Phi reports come back on time. When they arrive, each with from three to nine carbon copies, they are inspected, acknowledged, and distributed into the envelopes addressed to national officers which always are kept ready on the mailing desk. In early August, we send the first letter of plans to the chapter secretary; in the following June, the cycle of work is completed when we distribute lists of officers for the ensuing year to Grand Council. Between those two dates we have handled several thousand blanks and reports. Red tape? No!—Lines of communication. A duty of the Central Office is to keep them open through every day of the year. As a non-executive office, it tries to help every chapter, alumna, and national executive to serve Pi Phi.

What is the fascination about cards, blanks, lists, packages, telegrams, galley proofs? The answer is: each morning's mail holds a new adventure. One of the most severe pieces of discipline the D.C.O. must inflict upon herself is opening the morning mail in a strictly systematic and efficient manner. A letter from Australia invites immediate reading.—A suggestion for next year's work from Grand Council surely should be answered before we open the other hundred pieces of mail.—Here is a new address for a member lost for ten years, a clue to which was suggested by a visitor last week.—Twelve orders!—At last, a report from our one tardy chapter.—An especially interesting personal message.—But we must to our real work.

Mail is sorted into three piles, urgent and requiring an immediate answer by the D.C.O.; less urgent and requiring routine attention by one of the secretaries; and financial bills and payments. Plans for the day depend upon the mail, except during one of our many rush seasons, when everything must stand aside for our schedule of machine work.

The most standardized process we use is that for the initiation certificates received from each chapter. They are first put into a secretary's desk file, in the compartment marked "To be acknowledged." In some spare moment, she sends out postcard receipts for them. They then go to the D.C.O., who copies each one twice in long-hand, once in an accession file, which gives the certificate a national number, corresponding to the actual membership of Pi Phi, and once on the dainty embossed "shingle" for the initiate herself. This second task is a slow process, done with engrossing pen and India ink. But from this point on, typewriter and Addressograph take care of the records. A copy is made for the Grand Treasurer; three white cards for the Directory and a green card for the mailing list are typed. By means of an ingenious electrical stamping machine, a lead plate is made, containing the member's name, chapter, and present address. The plate is inserted in a frame, loaded with other little friends like it into a printing machine, and presto, a card is made and inserted in the frame.

Check!

Now comes the most important step. The motto of the Central Office is: Check and Double-Check!

To insure accuracy, every stub, card, and plate is read back to the original certificate or change of address slip or list, one clerk reading, and one checking. Clerical mistakes are corrected, and the plates are ready for many uses. From them the envelopes for the embossed certificates are addressed by machine; from them lists are run off for sending out Directories. They are inserted in the active chapter division of the mailing list. Then the cards are filed away in their proper places, the books are packed, the original certificates are put into the fireproof file, and the only work necessary to complete the transaction is the receipt, some days later, of the postcard announcing that the chapter secretary has given the Directories to their owners.

Handling initiation certificates is easy, because we have the information. But for real exploratory possibilities, work with a magazine mailing list! Information comes from many sources, the post office, chapter and club lists, returns from cards we send out, corrected mailing lists, and the address slips in THE ARROW. We credit these on an ascending scale, and must often evaluate their accuracy, for three different addresses for the same person may come in at the same time. We have considerable training in cryptanalysis; the combined judgment of all three of us is sometimes necessary to decipher a proper name. This is particularly true of the addresses written on the wrappers of magazines which are returned by the post office, and on the notices which come in from letter carriers for weeks after each issue of THE ARROW.

Many magazines would have gone to their new addresses, had the person forwarding noted that she must attach extra postage. The new policy of the magazine guarantees only return postage, not forwarding postage; hence unclaimed copies come back immediately to the Central Office. For one or two issues this has meant that the magazine, even though a new address had been written on it, did not go to its new destination. However, the Central Office now knows at once, when an ARROW is unclaimed, instead of several months after its issue when, under the old plan, a much-worn magazine, with an accumulation of incorrect addresses and fifty cents or more postage due, arrived at the Central Office again.

"Moved"

To every member for whom the post office sends a new address, we send a return card. One half of these now come back, properly filled out, a few with the notation, "Moved"; the remainder are unanswered. Often a card sent to California comes back with a New York address; over half these replies bear addresses different from those to which they were sent. Keeping up with the Pi Phis is difficult.

In our "Written to" box, which we call our "W" box, we have over a thousand names, each of which has been removed from the mailing list until we have an accurate address or "S" slip from the person herself. Each secretary takes pride in the number of "S" slips she can substitute for "W" slips, and the number of plates moved from the "dead" file to the "live" one. If you have wondered why a notice has come to you from the C.O., you may know that from somewhere a new address has been sent in to us, and to insure that it is the one you wish used, we are asking you to verify it.

You would not recognize your change of address slip after it has passed through the office routine. It bears many marks, "ml," which means a plate cut, labeled, and filed in the mailing list cabinet; "B," permanent address recorded on the three Directory cards; "C," permanent and temporary addresses recorded on the mailing list reference card; and an arrowhead, a copy made and sent to the Alumnae Editor for the personal department of THE ARROW. The whole office system is based on the chapter idea, and each step in the cataloguing process is carried on for one chapter at a time. When it is completed, the slips are clipped together and sent to the vice president of the active chapter, who changes her chapter card file.

We devote a portion of each day to checking chapter lists, compiled from the cards returned by alumnae to their chapters last fall. Alumnae clubs corrected rolls of mailing list last fall, and sent us over 2,000 changes. We usually first discover the new name of a bride on a chapter or alumnae list. The Settlement School Committee sent out letters to alumnae in towns where there were a few Pi Phis, asking that they correct the list for their towns. Here we found many names of which we had not heard for years. Every member once more in touch with Pi Phi news is again up to date in Pi Phi interest.

The actual printing of the 17,000 names on the mailing list now takes only seven hours of running time. This is how it is done. When word has come from the publisher that he is ready to mail THE ARROW, we clear up and file all addresses on hand. We inspect and oil the press, attach the mailing lister, and thread in the first roll of paper, which is the width of the label on your ARROW, and 250 feet long. We load the Alabama drawer into the hopper, turn on the current, press the treadle, and the machine begins to print. With luck, unless a plate jams or a roll of paper slips, the regular heavy thud of the stamper goes on three thousand times an hour all day. We take turns lifting the drawers of heavy lead plates, and watching the machinery. Seven to twelve hours, and Venezuela, South America, has at last "gone through." The eight long rolls of labels for THE ARROW are ready to be rushed, special delivery, to the Banta Publishing Company.

New Directory

How do we spend our summer months? Until 1930, each year has brought additional publication work, so that the revision of the Catalogue files has been done during the summer. This year, beginning June 1, we hope to print a Directory, containing the name of every Pi Phi, and every known address. If printed in its entirety, it will contain 1,200 pages of fine print. Would you like to help proof-read the typewritten draft, which six extra clerks will prepare in two months from our 80,000 cards? Would you like to help revise the eight point galley-proofs, hundreds of them? At this writing, we expect to be firm about closing our books, and will let "last minute" information wait until the 1933 edition; it depends upon how our eyes hold out. Have you a suggestion as to how to bind from twelve to fourteen hundred pages into one volume? If we omit one division, shall it be the geographical or the alphabetical one? Suggestions will be welcomed, but they must not add to the cost or weight. Economy first. At any time, after the Directory has been published, we shall be able to furnish a complete list of all Pi Phis by city and state, at cost to any chapter or club officer, up to date to the day, by means of our mailing system.

Today our "address unknown" list is smaller than ever before. If one of every ten who reads this article could locate one lost member for us, there would be no "lost" file in our office. If you have suddenly remembered a friend who is not receiving THE ARROW; if you have seen in the "lost" list recently sent your alumnæ club, the name of a Pi Phi of whose address you are certain, won't you today render your fraternity a service? Write direct to her inclosing the change of address slip in this ARROW, or asking her to send to the Central Office the data we need. Tell her to—Give her maiden name, her married name,

Her chapter and address.

*Time is flying, make it snappy,
We'll no longer have to guess.*

*Ask her please to take the time
To write the Cataloguer,
Who will be indeed delighted
With this little memory jogger!*

The 1930 Convention of Pi Phis in Arkansas will be held in Little Rock on June 7, with the Little Rock Alumnæ Club as hostess. Arkansas Pi Phis hold this convention biennially. All members in the state are urged to attend for one day of business and pleasure. The registration fee of $5 covers all expenses. Those planning to attend, please notify Florence Kruger, 2714 Gaines, State President, or Pauline Hoeltzel, 1201 Welch, secretary for the Little Rock Club.

THE NEW ART MUSEUM IN PHILADELPHIA

Classical Philology— An Interesting Luxury

By Pauline Turnbull, Pi Beta Phi Fellow

THE question undoubtedly arises in some of your minds as to what the study of classical philology comprises and why it should interest a Pi Phi fellow or anyone else for that matter. You may not be aware of it but you are studying classical philology when you look at a Greek or Roman statue, or even when you admire a beautiful little pitcher of Italian pottery, many of which still bear that attractive pug-nosed effect found in Etruscan pottery. Unfortunately for the Pi Phi fellow's peace of mind, the University of Pennsylvania interprets a course in classical philology in its widest sense, i.e., a study of the Greek and Roman civilizations together with their influence upon the culture of other peoples. The late Dr. Kelsey divided the study into six branches, and exactly six courses were outlined for my work this year, each one treating a different phase of ancient life. Classical philology, I discovered, has neither a beginning nor an end, since every year archaeologists are making discoveries which push a few years further back the datable calendar of that prehistoric history, the beginnings of which centered in the civilization around the Mediterranean Sea. A modern Italian historian, Ferrero, believes that the United States is passing through the same period of youthful growing pains that the Roman Republic experienced and sees a parallel between many of the institutions and customs, which fact should make the study of ancient history seem more worthwhile to modern American youth.

Undoubtedly, the study of classical philology in this utilitarian age is a luxury, but since we as a nation are accused of this vice, why not be guilty of an intellectual luxury which leads one into the realm of beauty and imagination instead of gross materialism? No study could be more stimulating to the imagination and at the same time give greater realism to the present day world than an attempt to understand classical antiquity from which so many of our customs and forms of language have evolved. I admit that such a pursuit will not enable one to contribute to the speed and invention of American progress, for such courses as I have studied this year and hope to continue are really courses in appreciation. Incidentally, however, there is no reason why as one goes through this life one should not be able to see the beauty and significance of things as we whirl by them. I cannot believe that thousands are going to Europe every year simply to evade the Volstead Law or because of steamship companies' propaganda, nor can I believe that so many people will suffer the summer heat of Italy and Greece solely to be able to say that they have been there. There is an instinctive love of beauty and beautiful things which no amount of money, or lack of it, can suppress, and that is the urge which is driving so many across the water and also giving the classical touch to our modern architecture, pottery, furniture, etc. We have learned to make things quickly but for that very reason we make little that is lovely. The word "manufacture" is a paradox and shows how far our language and customs have progressed, or regressed, from their origin. We cannot expect iron and steel to impart to wood, stone, or clay the loving touch of the human hand.

The Spirit of Art

Our motto today, "We're on top of the world and the sky is the limit" has a meaning which is widened by our scientific inventions and astronomical conjectures. We defy Nature and God to stop us in our onward and upward progress. The question is whether greater art, literature, or any other really great work can be created in this spirit. Some will disagree as to what is great, but no one can deny that our artists and writers are trying in vain to meet the high standards set by the ancient civilizations. The Romans and Greeks worked in a different spirit. A Roman general did not even dare hold a triumph for his conquests in war without using every known prophylactic against incurring the anger of the gods for flaunting a mere mortal's success. They did not challenge Nature nor try to subdue it, and even a Lucretius could not free them from the fears of divine punishment. The Greeks by their very appreciation of man's deceptive vision built the Parthenon with slightly bulging and obliquely slanting columns, and so achieved relative perfection and harmony of lines. Perhaps it was this restraint and lack of utter abandon which enabled them to achieve so much. Every ancient writer described his literary production as a laborious process, and apparent simplicity and beauty of expression was the result of long filing and polishing. Such ideas may seem heretical to some, but they should find some degree of sympathy at least among the members of a Greek-letter fraternity, whose symphony reflects much the same spirit expressed in Socrates' prayer, "Oh Pan and all ye other gods who inhabit this place, make beauty in my inward soul and make the outward and the inward man as one."

It is difficult to try to give in a few words an idea of my work at the university this year. I know that for the majority of people the Greek and Latin languages are dead and they deem any attempt to revive them a most unnecessary and shameful exhumation. I do not want to write merely a defence of the classics, although in the majority of our universities they are on sufferance and have to be defended annually. Perhaps a classical scholar is a purely selfish individual who derives only a hedonistic happiness from his pagan studies, which is at variance with present day social philosophy. The Stoic's endeavor to find happiness by withdrawing from the world and the Epicurean's whole souled enjoyment of this world's pleasures were both selfish interpretations of life. It is not strange that the early Christians turned their thoughts to the other world, and the reaction in our age toward social religions is perhaps inevitable. So today many young people are seeking a profession which will best develop themselves so as to enable them to contribute something toward the progress of the world. While a study of ancient culture necessitates a keen appreciation of ancient thought and life, what better background could be found for an adventurous creative spirit?

Modern Comparisons

The various courses which I have taken this year have opened up so many fields of interest, all equally stimulating to the imagination, that I fear I shall spend the remainder of my life peeping around corners to find some new and interesting phase of ancient life instead of choosing one subject and tracing that to its source as I should do. For example, Dr. McDaniel in his course on "Roman Private Life" has built up for us step by step a picture of Roman daily life which is almost as real as though we were living two thousand years ago. The consequence is that I cannot open my eyes without seeing some trace of that ancient civilization in everything existing today. The newest New York skyscrapers with stories added in terrace fashion remind me of the apartment houses at Ostia, except that then legislation fixed a maximum height of seventy feet. Ancient writers spoke of gardens and whole orchards upon roof tops, and yet we are likely to think of roof gardens as the latest inventions of American architects. Americans pride themselves upon the number of tiled bathrooms in their houses and the luxury of hot and cold water, but it was a very poor Roman who did not have the same facilities in his house two thousand years ago, and even the poorest had access to the public baths which would make our porcelain tubs and tiling look mean indeed beside their beautiful colored marbles, mosaics, vaulted roofs and statues. On a recent visit to Charleston, South Carolina, I saw rows of shops opening directly upon the street when the shutters were pulled up, exactly like those discovered at Pompeii. In customs relating to amusements, religion, marriage, and unfortunately divorce also, there are hundreds of parallels which make the understanding of our life and customs richer and more intelligent. Although the church at first refused to acknowledge that our Christian observances were based upon the old festivals in honor of the pagan gods, no one now disputes the fact that our Christmas season has a strange similarity to the seven-day Saturnalia of antiquity. Nearly all nations have some kind of a thanksgiving in the fall, and while now colleges celebrate by means of football games and dances, the Greeks and Romans sang and danced in honor of the god of the vintage, Dionysus or Bacchus. Our Easter rejoicing finds a parallel in the spring festivals, Cerialia and Parilia.

In this way it is possible to illustrate how each phase of the subject of classical philology not only creates an interest in the ancient life of Greece and Rome but also puts new meaning into our modern institutions. One cannot really enjoy or understand Shakespeare's plays without an acquaintance with Plautus, Menander, and Seneca. A brief course in Roman law is most illuminating if you are interested in legal procedure. But of peculiar interest to me is the study of linguistics, both from the standpoint of the science of language and the ideas expressed by language in their changing connotations. To the limited few is granted the realization of the fascination of this study, and yet language has always been our chief means of expression. Regardless of the differences in thought and conditions among different people, it has developed with relative regularity through the last ten thousand years. I do not know whether the science of its sound changes or if its ideas are more interesting. Anyone with a sense of humor cannot fail to appreciate this one illustration of the way in which words change in meaning. The Roman theater used to have a front stage called pulpitum and the actors wore a mask called persona, while now the parson stands behind his pulpit, and very chagrined some of them would be to find out how they acquired their titles. We also go to the matinee in the afternoon instead of the morning, as the name suggests. We have amphitheaters as did the Romans, and we know how the name originated because of the story, probably false, that a certain Curio built two theaters which could be swung around to face each other and form a circular arena when desired, since the Roman theater had a semicircular orchestra. We take children to the circus because the chariot races and animal shows in the Circus Maximus were the chief delight of the Romans. And so one could continue endlessly because our English language contains a large percentage of Latin words and their derivatives.

If this brief sketch of my personal impressions makes an appeal to anyone undecided as to what branch of study to take up, I recommend a course in classical philology to anyone not afraid of hard work.

As for Philadelphia with its many interesting and historic buildings and its beautiful suburbs and surrounding country, I have found all too little time to visit them. Among its more recent acquisitions is a beautiful art museum, of which the accompanying picture will give some slight idea. It is situated on the Parkway facing the Schuylkill River and is classical in design.

I have enjoyed meeting the Philadelphia alumnae club, and its members have been very cordial. I cannot conclude my year's résumé without expressing to every member of Pi Beta Phi my deepest appreciation for the fellowship, and my regret is that but one person at a time can hold it each year. It has been keenly appreciated, however, by the fellow for 1929-30, who feels that it has meant much to her in preparation for future work.

William Howard Taft and College Men

The late great William Howard Taft, $\Psi \Upsilon$, made a significant utterance before the last convention of his fraternity which we quote herewith:

What do they go to college or a university for if they don't go for scholarship? There are a good many who don't, I agree, but those who do not, don't go for the proper purpose, go for social reasons, sometimes to establish themselves by reason of the fact that they are called college men, but those men don't understand what they are there for. When a man grows as old as I have, he then feels like resorting to profanity, as he ought not to do, at the misconception of life and the use of education and the use of universities by these featherheaded young men who don't look ahead to know the opportunities they have and to appreciate those opportunities. It is a dreadful waste. They don't understand that there are three things that will make them useful to themselves and the world. One is work, and hard work; another is self denial and a third is the discipline or character the practice of others bring about. That is what a university is for. It is to develop character, not alone for the subject itself, but for the country of which he hopes to be a useful part.

WITH THE ACTIVITIES

EVELYN GAY, Texas A, was elected Sweetheart of the University of Texas, which entitled her to the honor of Queen of the Texas Round-up, and among the many events she reigned over was the formal opening of the new gymnasium.

Playing a leading part in the sophomore play and being elected to the May Court, ANNA MARGARET HERSHEY, Virginia A, received the two highest social honors eligible to a sophomore on the Randolph-Macon campus.

BETTY STOOLMAN, Illinois Z, daughter of Lois Franklin Stoolman, Grand Vice President, was chosen to reign as Catherine the Great at the first Fine Arts Ball given at the University of Illinois.

KATHRYN SALISBURY,
Illinois A, was chosen to represent the sophomore class of Monmouth College as speaker at the all-college banquet, the only formal all-college affair.

BARBARA McCARTNEY,
California Gamma, was one of two women selected by the Civic Regatta Association of Los Angeles as honorary commodore for the first Los Angeles Boat Show.

ANITA CROSS,
Florida Gamma, a member of the Rolling Key Society is among President Hamilton Holt's selected group of ten students to meet and entertain visiting celebrities.

As president of the Women's Undergraduate Club at Hillsdale College, MARION WOOD, Michigan A, is responsible for the entertainment of the visiting speakers.

MARY HERRICK, North Dakota A, lead the annual senior prom at the University of North Dakota.

Lady Stick of Arts—the highest social honor and executive position attainable at the University of Manitoba—is the achievement of IELEANE HEMPHILL, Manitoba A.

KATHLEEN ALLEN, an active member of Florida A and prominent in musical circles, was a princess in waiting to the Queen of Central Florida.

Most representative of her chapter in campus social honors is ALICE THORNE, president of Indiana B, who is very active in dramatic circles, and a member of Pleadies, honorary social organization for women.

MARJORIE FLECK, Minnesota A, represents her chapter in social activities on the Minnesota campus as well as holding responsible offices in the Home Economics School.

High point initiate in her chapter and winner of the chapter scholarship ring, KATHERINE WEEKS, Oklahoma A, was also awarded the distinct social honor of being appointed Duchess of Wichita to the Battle of Flowers in San Antonio.

ALICE EVANS of New York A has received many honors on the Syracuse University campus. She is president of Women's Student Senate, Women's editor of the year book, and Honorary Lieutenant Colonel of the R.O.T.C. sponsors.

A member of the junior girls' honorary society and active in campus activities, JEAN POSTWICK, Ohio B, was chosen as one of the attendants to the wife of the Governor of Ohio at the Senior Ball.

ELIZABETH GRIFFIN, Virginia Gamma, has been active in journalistic activities on the William and Mary campus and sponsored for the editor of the college annual.

MARTHALOU SCHOENER, Indiana Gamma, was prom queen at the Junior Prom at Butler University.

The first co-ed to lead the annual J-Hop with a fraternity man at the University of Michigan was JOSSELYN McLERAN of Michigan B.

ADELE TOWNSEND JAHNCKE, Louisiana A, as Queen of Hearts reigned over the Harlequin Ball, the outstanding social event at Sophie Newcomb College.

JANE BROOKS, Iowa B, was elected the representative woman of Simpson College.

As a climax to a very brilliant college career, FRANCES RICE, Maryland A, was elected Queen of the May of Goucher College.

CHARLOTTE CRAWFORD, Illinois Delta, was chairman of the W.S.G.A. prom committee of Knox College—the only event of the year for all the women of the college.

Social chairman of the Junior Class and elected the "Wittiest Girl" at Lombard College are among the honors awarded DOROTHY BROWN, Illinois B.

Swarthmore Girls See Iowa

By Esther Fuller

ALTHOUGH their clothes carried an obvious Fifth avenue look and their accents an unmistakable eastern tinge, there was no labeling of the eagerness with which the Swarthmore College girls stepped from the train at Bloomfield, Iowa, one day in April—ready to see Iowa.

To put it in the way they themselves might speak of a similar group. "They're awfully nice girls!"

The group included Josephine Steckel of Bloomfield, the hostess; Ada Fuller and Jean Harvey of Swarthmore, Pa.; Rebecca Castle of Wayne, Pa.; Marion Staley of Rome, N.Y.; Helena Raskob, daughter of John J. Raskob, and Elizabeth Carney of Wilmington, Del.; Anna Richards of Moore, Pa.; Amelia and Catherine Emhardt of Germantown, Pa., and Martha Wood of Edgemoor, Del.

If they expected to see Indians galloping over the rolling hills near the little station, they didn't mention it.

From the time they stepped on the little platform by which such a luxurious private railroad car never before stopped, while they exclaimed over the huge pile of clever invitations which were presented to them, and as they rode through the typical Iowa town to their hostess' home, they were just a bunch of school girls.

Nothing blasé about them. Sophistication—yes, the kind that comes from culture and training. Giggles there were in plenty—but just the kind of vivacious ones with which any Iowa girl would welcome such a treat.

A treat it was, too. They came to that Iowa which is the home of some of their most popular classmates, and about which they have heard so much.

They were entertained in real Iowa fashion, not with stiff, formal affairs, but with the kind of parties to which Iowa girls are accustomed. They found real Iowa eggs; they saw real Iowa cows, and ate real Iowa food.

Such a chattering as there was when they were finally persuaded to come out of "Sis" Raskob's father's private car to the station platform. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, gave his private car to his daughter Helena for this spring vacation jaunt just as many an Iowa father is loaning his daughter the family automobile for a little trip to her friends.

Panhellenic Congress— Campus Rushing

IT IS interesting, as we look back over the years, to note that the first intersorority conference was called to talk over the question of rushing and pledging. Although much has been accomplished since then by the abolishment of pre-matriculation pledging, by the establishment of a definite pledge day, and by the steady growth of the short, open rushing plan, we still find some uncertainty on the part of the college girls, a persistent desire to experiment, and a certain amount of misinterpretation and misunderstanding.

Early in the twentieth century the conference of fraternity women favored a late pledge day and even urged the adoption of deferred rushing. Within a few years this plan seemed so doubtful in its values that a thorough investigation and study of the system was authorized. The outcome of that study was so definite that the National Panhellenic Congress officially went on record as favoring "the short open rushing season and an early pledge day," the policy which has since been reaffirmed by successive Congress boards. This system when properly carried out promotes simplicity of rules and tends to eliminate petty, binding regulations which cause confusion, dishonesty, annoyance, and loss of respect for local and national Panhellenic. Along with this plan the greatest need is for stability—for a stability that will build tradition and public sentiment to checkmate the so-called "rushing evil."

One of the requisites of fair rushing is a complete understanding of the eight short regulations of the Interfraternity Compact. Active members and alumnae members need to review these and to clarify their understanding of some clauses. What is the interpretation of the "expired" pledge, the "broken" pledge, and the "transferring" pledge? If our vocabulary is purely used and if our mathematics is accurate, we shall have no difficulty. As an example let us take a girl who was pledged on September 15, 1929. She is a pledge to the fraternity of her choice until September 15, 1930, in the eyes of the Panhellenic world. If she fails to qualify for initiation within that time, her pledge normally expires on September 15, 1930, and she again becomes eligible to pledge any fraternity. However, if for any reason either she herself or the fraternity of her choice severs the pledgedship, it becomes a "broken" pledge; the girl then does not become eligible for pledging again until one calendar year from the date on which her pledge was broken. The same interpretation of pledgedship is placed on the girl who may choose a different campus at the end of a semester. Her pledge holds good for one calendar year no matter on what campus she may be (unless, of course, it was "broken") whether or not there is a chapter of that fraternity on the second campus and whether or not she affiliates herself with it. The responsibility is dual: it is the sorority's duty to know whether a girl is eligible and it is the girl's duty to be honorable in her binding obligation.

Let us seek in our methods and in our interpretations to conform to the letter and to the spirit of the relationships into which each one of our fraternities has entered. May the word "Panhellenic" come to be synonymous with integrity, honor, and harmony!

Memorial

At a luncheon and business meeting held with Dr. Mary Bartol Theiss at the Theiss home near Muncie on Saturday, the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club voted to establish a Kate McLaughlin Bourne Memorial Loan Scholarship to be open to seniors in the active chapter. Mrs. Bourne, who was a charter member of the Bucknell chapter in 1895, has been in close touch with the active chapter during her thirty-five years' connection with the society. The club seeks in this way to perpetuate her name in the chapter organization and to be of service to Pennsylvania Beta.

The club plans to raise $1,000 by gifts from its patronesses, alumnae, and active members. This fund, when invested in a reliable bond will return $50 a year. This loan scholarship, as the years pass, will increase both in amount and in the number of beneficiaries, as the return of each loan after each recipient has had the use of it for a maximum period of six years, will in the course of twenty or thirty years create a large number of scholarships. Eventually, it may seem wise to divert part of this fund to other ways of aiding the active chapter. The fund will be administered through the alumnae advisory committee of the active chapter, a committee established by the national fraternity, and the beneficiaries will be paid through the treasurer of the Pi Beta Phi alumnae club, who will be charged with the investment of the loan fund. The chair appointed Dr. Mary Bartol Theiss, Miss Eliza J. Martin, and Mrs. Sara Deck Crossgrove a committee to carry out this plan.

POPULARITY IN THE PUBACBYE

Conducts Radio Bazaar

HOMEMAKERS' HOUR of WLS meets the needs of women listening in each afternoon for a program of well-balanced music, inspirational talks and informal chats. Listeners feel that they know the women whom they hear on Homemakers' Hour, and that they can rely upon them for help with household problems. This is exactly what Homemakers' Hour aims to do—entertain and aid woman listeners.

Martha Crane, who conducts the hour program each afternoon, meets and greets thousands of women whom she has never seen, yet in whom she feels a personal interest because of the letters they write to her. Last summer during the canning season, 20,511 housewives wrote to her for help with their canning. All of these letters came outside of the usual volume of Homemakers' Hour mail.

Knowing that the up-to-the-minute housewife wants information on the very latest household furnishings, foods and equipment, WLS planned the Radio Bazaar especially to meet this need. Now, every morning, Martha Crane, with the help of WLS staff artists, takes the part of helper and assists her radio friends with their jobs—and big ones they are—of baking a cake for Jimmy's birthday, buying a new washing machine, selecting a menu for Sunday dinner, making a new hooked rug of old silk stockings dyed new hues, bleaching flour sacks for new dishcloths, deciding upon a new floor lamp for the living room.

Martha was initiated into Pi Beta Phi at Iowa Wesleyan in 1925, and at the end of her sophomore year went to Northwestern University to enter the school of journalism. While there she was initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalism fraternity for women.

MARTHA CRANE CARIS

After leaving school she entered newspaper work until the opportunity came to try radio. Since then, for the past year and a half, she has been director of Homemakers' Hour and the Radio Bazaar over WLS, Chicago, and daily greet thousands of listeners whom she has never seen, yet in whom she feels a personal interest because of the letters they write to her.

Beside her regular programs last summer she broadcast for two weeks from the temporary studios

Latin Professor

MOST of us sit up all night pondering the abstruse dark-nesses of what Caesar meant when he said this and that in inexpressible Latin and then when we finally sink back on our pillows we compose commentaries of our own in the midst of frightful nightmares. But there's one Pi Phi who not only likes it but has made it her vocation. She's Helen Clifford, initiated at Wyoming Alpha in 1921.

She didn't know she was any of WLS at the State Fairs of Illinois and Indiana, and late last fall followed the microphone to the International Livestock Show to give listeners a first-hand picture of what she called "the woman's angle of a mighty fine livestock exhibit."

more interested in Latin than you or I when she transferred to the University of Chicago, but she had to major in something so she made it Greek. And when she finished it was with honors. They offered her an honor scholarship so she took up Latin for the first time since high school, doing post graduate work. After a year of this she went to the Chicago Normal College where she graduated third in a class of six hundred.

Then she taught at the head of the Latin Department at the Duncan High School in Duncan, Oklahoma. In 1927-28 she held the graduate assistantship at the University of Iowa where she got her M.A. The next fall she came to Newcomb College in New Orleans where she is now teaching.

Please note that she's only twenty-five years old.

Last summer she went to the American Field School of Archaeology at Jemez, New Mexico. There she lived in knickers and plodded around in the mud and rain, studying remains and feeling that at any moment she might become one herself. This summer she's going on an Aeneid Cruise and Virgilian Pilgrimage to Europe.

She's the youngest member of the faculty at Newcomb but none the less she was asked by the Classical Association of the Middle West and South to read a paper on Terence at its convention at New Orleans in April. She did. It was on the dramatic technique and originality in the plays of Terence. She says it really worried her awfully. And standing before all those men and women of the proverbial Latin teacher variety we don't wonder that she felt rather shaky and something like a little girl who has prepared her lesson as well as she could but not quite as well as was expected of her.

But from all reports she had no reason whatsoever to feel like that.

She hasn't much to say about the reasons she chose Latin as a life work. From all we can make out she just sort of "slid into it." But she's glad she chose it because it's intensely interesting to her. And of teaching she says that it's well paid for the time you put into it, and you get a nice long vacation for rest, study and travel, but the greatest of these is travel.

New Publications

Alpha Xi Delta has issued a new directory.

Acacia issued a new directory, available January 1, 1930.

Kappa Delta has issued a new directory, the first since 1920.

Kappa Alpha Theta issued a new historical book titled Sixty Years in Kappa Alpha Theta.

A new Pledge Manual has been issued by Sigma Phi Sigma, produced by William E. North, the Grand Traveling Secretary.

Alpha Chi Omega has issued two new books—one, The Expositor, a chapter handbook replacing the Administration Manual, and a new edition of the song book.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has just issued a new catalogue and directory in which there are 34,000 names listed. It also contains photographs of homes, and tributes to the revered "Billy" Levere.

Pi Kappa Alpha issued in time for its twenty-fifth celebration a History and Directory. The first two copies were presented to two of its living founders while the History itself is dedicated to one of its deceased founders.

WRITING for a daily paper somewhat spoils one for THE ARROW. Sprightly comments about the weather, which would look quite timely were they to appear in publication tomorrow, are taboo, for who can judge what late spring days are going to be like when one is besieged first by rain and then by sunshine, as is the case now?

But one can be pretty sure that out of the hundreds of Pi Phis who are graduating at the time that you read this, there will be some who follow the noble profession of journalism—and to them, the following is addressed:

When Easter rolls round again next year, as it seems almost bound to do, perhaps you will be in the same predicament that most of us "news writers" were this year. You hate to be mean enough to pray for a rainy Easter day, but you can be thankful for it if it does happen to arrive. Journalists' budgets don't seem to have a place for Easter finery.

How is it the old-time welcoming speeches start—"It is a great joy—" Well, however it goes, I include it all in the introduction of Hazel Brown, Iowa Γ, who has recently joined the Register and Tribune as cookery editor.

Luscious recipes to tempt Iowa housewives into including the proper amount of vitamins in the viands which they prepare for their families come daily from Miss Brown and each Sunday she has a page devoted to cookery in the Sunday Register. Pardon me for taking it for granted that you readers understand that she is a fellow staff member on "the largest paper in Iowa, published in Des Moines."

Before coming to Des Moines Miss Brown had worked in Childs' restaurants in New York and Buffalo, Lazurus' in Columbus, and was in the experimental cafeteria sponsored by the National Restaurant Association in Colorado Springs. She also taught the subject about which she is now writing.

HAZEL BROWN
Iowa

From the same chapter, Iowa Γ and in a somewhat similar line of work comes news of Katherine Geoppinger, who graduated in 1924 from Iowa State College.

She does things and then writes about them—that's the easiest way to write of Miss Goepfinger's work.

A year ago she established an editorial service and home economics consultant bureau with headquarters at Boone, Iowa. In addition to acting in a consultant capacity to a number of food and equipment manufacturers, her editorial service includes home economics editorship of Your Home, a syndicated utility magazine. As "Kay Ginger" she is a regular staff writer for several other home and trade magazines and also has contributed special articles on foods and household equipment to the following national publications: Better Homes and Gardens, Woman's Home Companion, The Small Home, Country Gentleman, Successful Farming, Dairy Farmer, Farm and Fireside, Electricity on the Farm, People's Popular Monthly, Practical Home Economics, The Homemaker, Kansas Farmer, Good Homes, Home Topics, Farmer's Wife, The Matrix of Theta Sigma Phi, and the Chicago Evening American.

Now, after that list of publications can't most of you housewives trace some of your prized recipes to this Pi Phi writer.

Miss Goepfinger seems to be one of those women who has taken the advice to specialize in women's work and then write about her investigations.

Those of you who go on newspapers to earn your daily bread after graduation will often hear the following remark:

"It must be so interesting to work on a newspaper—fascinating work—something new all the time!"

Let that be the blessing of this department to those who intend to be writers after this spring—and don't forget to write me about your published work!

This item isn't about a Pi Phi who writes but about a Pi Phi who was written about. Figure that out if you can—Here's the explanation:

Each month Good Housekeeping carries an article written by Emily Newell Blair in which she picks out a certain person and chooses for them the books they would like from the lists of popular novels and non-fiction.

"Miss May," as she is known to her friends in South Carolina, and her family are the group for whom the books are selected in the February issue of Good Housekeeping.

"Miss May" is May Coker, formerly May Roper, member of Columbia Alpha.

Now all that sounds a bit complicated, but it really isn't—and we have Mary Badger Wilson to thank for the tip.

And that's a nice introduction for Mary Badger Wilson, New York B and Columbia A.

She's doing things!

When you consider the time that it takes for most of us to do even the simplest jobs of writing—such as thanks for a week-end trip or that weekly letter home—it makes you marvel at these people who complete magazine articles and novels with such nonchalance.

Miss Wilson didn't tell me the name of the story which is to be published in Good Housekeeping this spring, but you can find it from the index.

MARY BADGER WILSON
N.Y. B and Columbia A

She's written a novel, too, and it's to be published next winter. The book will not have magazine publication.

I'm thankful the little note in the February ARROW located Miss Wilson, for I began to fear that she was one of the people who have a traveling location and can never be found.

Following announced schedule the articles by Margaret Weymouth Jackson, Michigan A, are appearing in magazines this spring. There are surely many Pi Phis among the millions (see the advertisements) who read the Saturday Evening Post. Here's hoping that when they read those charming stories about Paul, the young man who ran an automobile business in a small town, on modern methods, and Joan, the delightfully sensible young woman whose father was Paul's rival, they remembered that Mrs. Jackson is a wearer of the Arrow.

There's something about the stories that makes you realize Mrs. Jackson knows a small town, young people, business, and all the other things that are wound up in the events of which she tells. What's more, she sympathizes.

All of which contributes to enjoyable stories.

To have something published almost every day—that is the dream of many and many a writer. Well, perhaps the work which Dorothy Lewis, Iowa Z, is doing isn't strictly literary but she is having her work published and so news of her belongs in this departments.

Dorothy is in the advertising department of Marshall Field Company in Chicago. Her specialty is ready-to-wear, and to one who knows her, the zeal with which she pursues a catchy and attractive description of a baby's bonnet or new scarf is comparable to the hours that many a writer spends over the proper phraseology in a new story.

Before going to Chicago Dorothy, who graduated in 1928 from the University of Iowa, was writing advertising for Oransky and Sons store in Des Moines.

America's most famed woman peace arguer, Carrie Chapman Catt, who was a Pi Phi of the Iowa I chapter—(really, this article seems to be turning into a list of Iowa I's alumnae and their accomplishments!) has contributed a couple of articles on the subject for which she is such an ardent supporter during the last few months. These articles appear in the Woman's Journal.

"End of War, 2000 A.D." is the title of the article which appears in the March, 1930, issue. Mrs. Catt, after analyzation, sets forth that war equipment is the cause for war preparations. She characterizes the twentieth century as "the great peace century" and says that if we would destroy our existing battleships, guns, etc., then we would have true world peace.

Another article "60 Years of Stepping Forward" appeared in the December, 1929, issue of the same magazine.

There's always been a tremendous fascination about psychology for me—but I thought of psychologists as grey beards, inaccessible to the requests of us who did not understand their terminology.

But such a nice surprise came in a letter from Lorine Pruette, Tennessee A. She is married to Douglas Fryer, by the way, and he is a professor of psychology at New York University, but she uses her own name professionally.

She has an article in the March issue of Woman's Journal on "Dr. Buhler, Psychologist," in which she describes Dr. Charlotte Buhler, "the most important European woman of psychology." Dr. Buhler, although only in her thirties, is a professor of psychology at the University of Vienna. Her specialty is child psychology.

As for the other things which Mrs. Fryer is writing, here's what she says:

"I am now at work on several things, principally on a psychology of the emotions in collaboration with Dr. Joseph Jastrow. This spring Macaulay will bring out an interesting volume Parents versus Children, in which Bertrand Russell, John Watson, and others will make some shocking—perhaps—remarks. I have a section in this book on 'The Flapper.'

"My chief diversion lies in finishing up a small fictionized biography of Sappho."

In addition she is doing some speaking around New York on psychological and feministic subjects, such as her course on "Psychology from a Woman's Viewpoint" at the Labor Temple.

She is also a consulting psychologist for private cases.

Even that doesn't include all of Lorine Pruette's activities, for she is doing some reviewing for Books, The Nation, Book League Monthly, etc.

After that, I know that psychologists are very busy people, and that Mrs. Fryer must be a person of energy and accomplishment.

Just after the copy for the last ARROW was off to the editor there came a letter that set me to dreaming one evening. It told of the sort of thing which is the dream of every woman news writer—to be sent to some big affair.

The letter was mailed from shipboard—not only a ship, but one of the most important ships which ever sailed from the United States.

Marian Bush Snyder, Ohio A, was the writer. She was on the U. S. S. George Washington, the official ship carrying the American delegates to the London naval conference.

Mrs. Snyder, whose husband and small son were on shipboard with her, has been writing for two American newspapers of the conference.

They plan to be abroad for the next three years.

A promise of future information concerning Mrs. Snyder was made in her note, and so perhaps THE ARROW can in future carry more news of this real "peace correspondent."

Do you remember back in high school days when one of the assignments in the English class was to write to a few lines of poetry—rather, have a few lines which ended in rhymes? And what hours most of us spent in conceiving worthless jingles?

Helen Irwin, Iowa Z, evidently was not one of the ones who found it hard.

Helen is on the staff of Tramaine's publications in New York City. One day Gettier, creator of "Girlygags" and others of those little drawings which appear in many publications, was looking for someone to write the jingles for a new series of drawings.

Quite casually Helen dashed off a few lines which pleased him. Her work was accepted and she was given a check for the jingles.

It wouldn't be nice but it would be fun for someone to remind Helen of the hours which she used to spend in writing long papers when she was in school, which were lots less fun than these jingles, and which didn't have the remunerative value.

One hates to be classed as an absolute dumbbell, but I can see no shame in admitting that there are things which one doesn't understand. After that apology comes the news that Dr. Icie Gertrude Macy, Virginia A and Colorado A, is one of the authors of a research article entitled, Metabolism of Women During the Reproductive Cycle. The research work was done in the nutrition research laboratories of the Merrill-Palmer School and the Children's Hospital of Michigan, Detroit.

This is a very technical little booklet, primarily written for the medical profession.

Dr. Macy was at one time the holder of the Pi Phi Fellowship.

A familiar cry in the office where I work is "Copy, staff!" This comes ringing through the room when the reporters are at work. Incentive to produce more material. Would that I had the stentorian tones necessary to give the needed force and I should now yell to all those who know of Pi Phi writers who have not been mentioned, "Copy, staff!"

Miss Laughlin is also well known as one of the founders and the first president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women. At present she is one of a prominent Portland, Maine, law firm and is a member of the Maine State Legislature where she is on the Judiciary Committee and the Committee on Revision of Statutes.

BISHOP TITUS LOWE, father of Evelyn Lowe Hovey and Madelyn Lowe Turner, both of Ohio Delta, is the Methodist Episcopal bishop of the Portland, Oregon, diocese. Ohio Wesleyan is his Alma Mater as well as that of his daughters and while there he became a member of Sigma Chi. At various times during Bishop Lowe's career his work has taken him abroad, four years having been spent in Calcutta and four in Singapore.

THORNTON A. COOKE, husband of Emily Hulme Cooke, Kansas Alpha, is chairman of the Committee on Taxation of the American Bankers Association which also makes him a member of the National Chamber of Commerce. He is the president of the Columbia National Bank of Kansas City, Missouri, and has made a particular study of taxation questions on which he has also written. Mr. Cooke is a graduate of the University of Kansas, and of Harvard, is a member of Phi Delta Theta and an honorary member of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary fraternity of Schools of Commerce.

MRS. KATE CORBALEY, mother of Kate Corbaley, California Delta, is the story editor of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. She is a graduate of Leland Stanford University where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

JUDGE HARRY A. LEWIS, father of Alberta Lewis, Illinois Zeta, is Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Chicago. He has long been one of Chicago's prominent judges.

JOSEPH F. HAAS, grandfather of Barbara Riddell, Illinois Epsilon, is Recorder of Deeds in Chicago.

GRAY CLIFTON, son of Liela Gray Clifton, Indiana Beta, has received notice through write-ups in both the Kansas City Star and the Christian Science Monitor for the unique business into which he has entered. While only a freshman in high school he established an airplane factory for the boys who own model airplanes. The factory is in the basement of the Clifton home and here he has a collection of electrically driven devices for making the tiny parts for the air craft. In addition to this spare time work he draws scale blue prints of various types of airplanes from photographs and other illustrations and through the sale of these blue prints his customers are able to order parts. Gray is a member of the Junior Organization in the Kansas City chapter of the National Aeronautical Association and plans to take up a college engineering course when he has finished high school.

PITTL. FITZGERALD, brother of Jean Fitzgerald Craig, Ohio Beta, is the author of The Trail of the Ragged Fox which came off the press in February and was chosen by the Junior Literary Guild of America as the February Book for boys. It is his first book and he is an artist as well as an author, having last year made the illustration for another Boys' book. He lives in Columbus, Ohio, and served in the A.E.F. in France and Germany during and following the World War.

The Ninety and Nine Who Do Not Whittle

WITH the opening of new roads in and around Gatlinburg and the publicity given the Smoky Mountain National Park, have come many changes to Gatlinburg. Many people looking for beautiful country to drive through, for new adventure and often with the school as their first interest, find their way. Fortunately many spend enough time to see things as they really are, others merely pass through hurriedly, getting a glimpse of the mountains and a desire to come back again for a longer stay. But they are not the only ones passing through; others come with eyes and ears for only the peculiar and spectacular and glibly pass on to those outside the mountains most unfair pictures.

Gatlinburg is in the country, has three country stores and a main road passing through. These store porches and highway furnish the meeting places of people here, taking the place of the movie, the club, or the golf course, especially on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon. These same porches are occupied often by the village loafer and whittlers. But for every one of these with time and inclination to spend peaceful mornings with their jackknife and conversation there are a hundred upstanding, hard working people; men and women who have been able to make a very creditable showing in their world, even though they have been deprived of education and advantages that to us would seem absolute necessities in meeting either social or business requirements.

Burg is Modern

To a great many there is a tremendous appeal in the stories of the early days when this section of the country was isolated, few people had had much schooling and the most primitive customs prevailed. And to many there is a keen disappointment in coming here now and seeing houses that are painted, spring hats in the spring and winter hats in the winter, boys and girls dressed much as boys and girls of other places. Some say that this is merely a superficial change but can we expect that the eighteen years the school has been here will bring no changes? Would we be satisfied to keep to all the old customs merely because they picture life new and fascinating for us to see but not to live ourselves? And can we even say everything is changed when we see only those people living on the highway or right in the Burg and never go back up the creeks where conditions are still hard and what we would call primitive?

We look with pardonable pride at what has been accomplished in the community in the past eighteen years; better homes, more education for both young and old, wonderfully improved economic conditions, and we have a right to take much credit for the change. But could this have been possible without good material to work on, bright boys and girls, people who really wanted to respond to advantages offered them? Often we are asked what the boys and girls do when they leave school; do they stay in the hills and hollows? I believe that about the same per cent remain on the farm as do in most rural communities. Many of our boys and girls have settled down here happy in their own home life. A good many teach in the county, those finishing college usually go into better positions than can be offered near home.

New Hotel

In our school we go only through two years of high school. It has seemed to us that this is as far as we are justified in taking pupils. Classes are small and to add two more years of work would mean more dormitory room and quite an increased school expense. Of the eight finishing second year high last year seven went on to other schools, even though almost every one had to go where it would be possible to earn the greater part of his expenses. The classes for the past three or four years have been of about the same size and the per cent continuing would run as high. Some have now finished high school and are teaching, some are back home weaving or doing some other kind of work to help a younger brother or sister through school. Some have their own homes.

But school teaching is not all. The daily business is carried by our local people, new buildings put up, road work carried on. To me there has been a big thrill this winter in watching the new hotel go up. Our own school boys of past years have done the wiring, plumbing, finishing of woodwork, in fact everything that has been needed for a hotel of that size and kind.

The winter has been a severe one. Many families have had to move once or twice because of the Park purchases, so less crop was raised. As a result we have had more people calling for work than usual. No one has asked for more than the chance to work. For years it has been the policy of the school to help only by finding ways for people to help themselves, never to do anything that might be pauperizing. They are a self-respecting people and not in the begging class, and would resent that kind of aid.

Come down for a vacation, sit on the store porch, visit the more remote cabins, don't fail to make friends with the whittlers and unique characters. You will enjoy them and their philosophy and they will get a lot of secret enjoyment from spinning yarns to you. But rest assured of one thing, no Pi Phi money is being used to promote the art of either whittling or loafing and those characters are far from being in the majority, even in Gatlinburg.

EVELYN BISHOP

To the "World"

The following was written by one of the Gatlinburg women in reply to the article on Gatlinburg Whistlers that appeared in the New York "World" some months ago and which was reprinted in the last ARROW.—EDITOR

WHEN I was a tiny girl an old man passed through our mountain ranges. He was very interesting and did a good bit of prophesying about our mountains. He said there was a great deal of wealth here and would always be, that when the woods were no longer filled with wild wings, wild game and fur, the streams no longer filled with fish, that we would have a sale for timber, thus offering us an honest means of living. Then that day would pass and mines would open up. He failed to note that before the mines would come a time when "furriners," as we are accused of calling people from outside our mountains, would earn a living by writing about us, our queer ways of living, our incorrect use of the English language. It is true that until the last few years we had poor roads and seldom visited the cities but that was nothing against us. We did and do live in log cabins.

Used to be when strangers ventured into our homes we welcomed them gladly and gave them our best food and shelter. We did not know that we weren't as good as anybody, that our manners were rough and unpolished nor that they would go away and write funny stories about our mode of living. Now we have learned and are shy and backward because we know what to expect. People of the cities could bring us much help and in return would be amply repaid by the beauty of the mountains and originality of the people. Some do prove real friends.

In 1912 the Pi Beta Phi fraternity established a school here because very few of us ever completed more than the grade work. It was so inconvenient to get in and out over the awful mountain roads and too we had not the financial backing to go away. The school certainly has been a God-send and we all sing the praise of "Pi Phi." Until the school there was no other work than housework and corn hoeing for the women. Now Pi Phi affords an industrial department which helps the women and girls to weave beautiful articles on our old fashioned looms and through the Pi Phi alumnae clubs they sell these for us. Now we have money to spend for clothes for the family and even to remodel and build homes and to buy cars. Pi Phi did not come here showing its superiority and openly making fun of us and we appreciate their kindness. It isn't fair for people to come here and pick out the only woman that smokes a pipe and write that we all do or pick out the only man who never shaved and write that nobody shaves. Tourists find those folks and give them wide publicity while the real folks are too busy to be seen. Tourists are not likely to find the best people hanging around the hotels putting up hard luck stories of starving wives and twenty-six children. We have a few loafers who whittle while the tourists ride their horses but most of the men work. Nobody hunts any more for a living but some hunt for sport. . . . Someone wrote that we had heard of Germany. I guess we have for there was scarcely any young people left after the service men were taken away to fight and others went to do war work. . . .

Folks write about our people making whiskey. Some do and always will, I suppose. I think it is more honor for a man to support a family that way than to loaf or beg. You must remember we can't do every kind of work and that jobs are scarce at times. . . .

Nursing Program

SINCE I am actually familiar with only one mountain district, I think it will be most practical to give a general picture of the nursing program as it is carried out in this community. In the first place, the nursing service is financed by a private school which undertakes several branches of community teaching within an area of 100 square miles. This school, having been established a number of years, has the confidence and cooperation of the mountain people whom it serves. As the nurse represents the school staff, her problem of making contacts is materially reduced. She has an opportunity, also, of reaching the people indirectly through the teachers and through the monthly newspaper published by the school.

The first requirement for the health program in this district is that it must be flexible. In the first place bedside nursing constitutes a rather large share of the work. Not many people get married under twenty, from twenty to a hundred and some of us don't marry at all. Most of us do raise large families but children are our riches and it would be too bad to be denied of everything in life that is worth while.

Just remember, readers, that we are poor, rough and uncouth, our manners unpolished, our homes poorly furnished, but we are original and although we have not swallowed any dictionaries we know a thing or two and have an abundance of old fashioned mountain pride left.

MRS. LULA McCARTER OGLE

rather large share of the work. One can never really count on being able to carry out a special piece of work on a certain day for an emergency call is apt to come any hour. If the patient happens to live several miles away and the trip must be made on horseback several hours may be required. Then, too, it is quite possible that another call may be waiting when I return to the Health Center. Distances are great and many roads are still in poor condition. Some roads open to cars in summer are practically impassable in winter, while others can be travelled only on horseback or on foot the year round. Not infrequently it is necessary to walk or ride as far as three or four miles over a steep, rough trail in order to see a single patient. One baby now under supervision lives about ten miles from the Health Center. Not only the distances are to be considered. Very often the directions for reaching a given place are so vague that much time is lost finding the right road. One day last summer I spent two hours before breakfast looking for the cabin of a family in which illness had been reported. I finally had to give up the search until the next day, but not until I had climbed two ridges and had waded through a thicket of briars and weeds shoulder high. Another time the directions to find a certain house simply stated that I was to follow the creek until I came to a big tree and then was to cross the hill. I made three trips on horseback, each taking nearly half a day, before I was able to locate the special tree and hill.

Getting Acquainted

The only way I have found to keep in touch with the mothers and babies far "up the creeks" is to take a day now and then for an all-day horseback trip. My saddlebags are filled with a sample assortment of booklets on various subjects, especially those pertaining to child care and feeding. Always I take a large bottle of cod-liver oil and a small spring scale for weighing the smaller babies. Two roads can be covered in one day by riding up one creek, across the ridge, and down another creek. I stop at every house where there is a child or where I have heard of illness. On my first visit to a home I use most of the time just to get acquainted. I learn the children's names and ages and take special pains to make friends with them. Giving a handful of paper dolls or a picture book or spending a few minutes to teach a kindergarten finger play more than once has been the means of overcoming fear in a timid child. It pays to take time to form genuine friendships with the people for not until they learn to know and trust the nurse is it possible to get their cooperation.

On these trips not only the children are observed but other members of the family and the parents advised regarding any unusual conditions. I keep at hand a list of school children who have physical defects and whenever a visit is made in the home of one of these children I try to make definite arrangements for having the corrections. Frequently cases of illness are discovered which would not have been reported to me although there is need of nursing care.

Mother meetings are held from time to time whenever an opportunity presents itself. So far we have not been able to organize a special series of classes in child care, but the women can be reached through indirect channels. For instance—the weavers of one community have a monthly meeting, partly instructive and partly social in character. One can count on an attendance of from twenty-five to thirty-five women at these meetings, to say nothing of a dozen babies of assorted sizes. The weaving program itself is usually brief and the teacher is glad to have somebody fill in the extra time. First of all the babies are weighed and each one given its due share of admiration. Various subjects pertaining to child welfare are discussed informally, and literature on health subjects is distributed according to individual needs.

In one community there is a home economics teacher who has weekly classes for women of that neighborhood.

School Nursing

School nursing is an important part of public health work. Eleven schools are included in this district, the total number of pupils being approximately 575. My general plan for the year's work is to visit each school three times. The initial visit is made as early as possible after school opens, the more remote being visited first while the roads are in good condition. At this time the children are weighed and measured in those schools where we can transport the scales by car. I inspect the children's teeth and give a brief classroom talk on health habits. When there is time we sometimes have a toothbrush drill. The second visit is in the company of the doctor to assist him in making physical examinations. Later in the school year I make a third visit to weigh the children again and check up on correction of defects.

We secure quite a number of dental corrections by sending out mimeographed letters to the parents the day before the dentist comes to the Health Center one Saturday each month. Tonsil cases are taken care of by means of semiannual clinics. A specialist comes to the Health Center and performs the operations for a nominal fee. It is relatively easy to persuade parents to bring their children to the dentist and to have them receive inoculations against typhoid and diphtheria, but it is quite another problem to have corrections made that require operative treatment.

This fact suggests one of the future needs for these people. For many years they had to do without medical care because of the long distance from a physician and the prohibitive fees. Even now the nearest doctor is fourteen miles away, and many persons still feel that medical services are an extravagance except in the most desperate cases of illness. Our important tasks for the future are to teach the wisdom of competent medical and surgical care and the meaning of positive health.

FRANCES MOORE

Settlement School Nurse

An Active Committee Member

THE alumnae club and active chapter members need no introduction to our Rebecca Downey White of the Settlement School Committee, for they already are acquainted through her interesting and very constructive work in her department. So many have said that it was a real pleasure to work on the things pertaining to our school after hearing from Mrs. White for she not only created an inspiration but gave them everything with which to carry it on to others. It is with pleasure that I am privileged to tell you some of the background which lead to this efficiency as well as many interesting things which you will enjoy knowing.

Rebecca Downey White was born February 24, 1878, at Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis, of which her grandfather, Judge Jacob B. Julian, was one of the two founders. Her mother gave Irvington its name from her own father's love of Washington Irving.

Her father was James Downey whose ancestor came to America from Belfast, Ireland, about 1740 and her mother, Mary Julian, descended from a Huguenot, René de Saint Julien, a very tall man, who fled from France to America after the Edict of Nantes. Another ancestor was one of the Seven Foot Bodyguard of Frederick the Great. Unusual height has characterized many of the family, including the subject of this sketch. There is a strong strain of Quaker ancestry and one line traces to Andrew Hoover, a great great grandfather of President Herbert Hoover. Her father was a student in Northwestern College, known as Butler College after it was moved from downtown Indianapolis to Irvington, when he enlisted in the Union Army and terminated his college career. Her mother was graduated from the Cincinnati Wesleyan college in 1858 which went out of existence in the early 80's.

The Downey family moved to Pueblo, Colorado, in 1888 and Rebecca graduated from the high school there and then for one year attended the University of Denver, of which her father was a trustee. The family fortunes were largely lost in the panic of 1893 and she stayed out two years to teach in the Pueblo schools, afterwards entering the University of Michigan for one year and again staying out a year to teach Latin in the Cripple Creek High School. Another year followed at the University of Michigan and then marriage terminated her college career.

She was initiated into Pi Beta Phi at the University of Denver and was later affiliated with Michigan B. Her sister, Martha Downey was initiated in Michigan B in 1904.

Martha is at present in India in the Oxford Mission at Barisal, East Bengal. A cousin, Anna Downey, was one of the chapter which founded Kappa Alpha Theta at DePauw University.

REBECCA DOWNEY WHITE

Mrs. White was the originator of the plan to start a fund for purchasing a chapter house for Michigan B in 1906 and served as secretary-treasurer of the committee until the house was purchased in 1909, when ill health forced her to give up the work. She has been actively connected with the Ann Arbor Alumnae club of Pi Beta Phi ever since it was established.

As organizer and first president of the Federation of Parent Teachers' Organizations of Ann Arbor in 1915, she initiated the movement for better school buildings which finally culminated in the almost complete reconstruction of the Ann Arbor school buildings. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has been an active member of one of the smaller musical clubs of Ann Arbor for over a quarter of a century and has served as chairman of the hospitality committee of the Faculty Women's Club. She is at present a director and secretary of the Community Fund Association of Ann Arbor.

In 1903, she married Alfred H. White, an instructor in the University of Michigan, who is still a professor of chemical engineering in that institution, and head of the department. There are two children, Alfred McLaren White, who graduated from the University of Michigan in 1924, took his M.S. degree at the University of California the following year and his Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering at the University of Michigan in 1927. He has been assistant professor of chemical engineering at Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta for the past two years, and has just resigned to become associate professor at the University of North Carolina. A daughter, Mary Julian, is a member of Michigan B of Pi Beta Phi. She is now a freshman in the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University, New York City.

LOIS F. STOOLMAN

Maintenance of School Vital

IN 1910 before a foot of ground had been donated by the inhabitants of Gatlinburg or a penny raised by the fraternity to build the Settlement School, the identical questions were raised that are being asked today, one being, "When the work of the Settlement School is completed, what will happen next?" Today, after twenty years the same questions are heard in different parts of the country and even the astounding statement "that the school is no longer necessary." As a person vitally interested in education, not only in the southern part of the United States, but in the country at large, may I say that in the judgment of educators never at any period in the history of the South was wise leadership in these mountain districts of more vital importance or more necessary than at this moment, when the region is being opened up, and exploitation of this people and their natural resources is too imminent a danger.

The character of the work of the School has changed, from that of dealing with a primitive folk in a backward region, as in the past, to a forward looking program of training them to meet the new conditions of life, which now face them. Industrialism has come to stay, and the labor leaders of the worst type find a fertile field in ignorant minds in which to plan radical doctrines. Also the opening up of the new National Park era will bring the world to the doors of Gatlinburg. The fraternity with its school established, with the confidence of the entire community in the disinterested desire to educate and help them, stands in a unique position, which it cannot and must not fail to utilize to the utmost.

The boarding department must be enlarged, the boys and girls must be enabled to train themselves at the School to go back to isolated districts and bring to these less fortunate ones the knowledge they have gained, not only of educational methods but of sanitation and the preservation of their own unique industries. Also new centers must be established, parallel to our chain system of stores, organized and controlled by a central system, the Settlement School at Gatlinburg.

At a time when Great Britain is organizing women's committees to preserve the industries of lace making, the knitting of Shetland wool shawls, in a word, the home industries, we, as a fraternity, cannot fail to live up to the splendid opportunity which is ours today.

As for the state of Tennessee taking over much of this work, sadly and regretfully we admit the poor equipment of rural schools in many Southern States. The per capita tax should take care of these schools, but school money goes according to population, and the mountain regions will never be oversupplied with adequate schools from the state tax.

In conclusion allow me to add that state money and the state school system can never bring to the mountain regions the type of teacher, director, nurse and house-mother that the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity has through the years been able to provide for the Settlement School through the loyal disinterested work of its members and friends. The work must go forward on a larger scale than ever before, and happily for the fraternity, with the intelligent cooperation of the Gatlinburg community, which through the Settlement School in its midst has come into a consciousness of civic responsibility and pride.

MAY L. KELLER

Oath of the Young Men of Athens

We will never bring disgrace to this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks.

We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or to set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

Thus in all these ways we will transmit this city not less but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.—Banta's Greek Exchange

Margaret A. Patten was a hostess at a recent meeting of the University of Vermont alumnae club at Burlington.

In a recent letter to the Alumni Weekly, Mrs. Bernice White Graham writes in part: "The year spent in Manila was interesting but I did not discover why anyone who can live in these United States would choose to live elsewhere! We visited China and Japan on our way home, spending a month in and about China with two weeks in Peking. That was re~~st~~ China entirely unchanged except for the Legation quarter which is indeed civilized. Japan is clean and beautiful. Then to Honolulu which seemed like a suburb of Southern California—and home!"

In Memoriam

HELEN HARRIMAN KOPKE
Vermont A

Helen Harriman Kopke, wife of John Kopke, passed away on April 1, 1930, after a brief illness of spinal meningitis. She graduated from Middlebury in 1913, and spent two years teaching at Northfield Seminary, going from there to Maryland College for Women where she was instructor in Home Economics. Following that, she was associated with the Farm Bureau in Northampton, Massachusetts, for several years. On February 25, 1922, she married John Kopke, a Delta Kappa Epsilon of Middlebury, and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Kopke have lived in Brooklyn, New York.

Helen was a loyal member of Vermont A of $\Pi B \Phi$. Those who knew her are fortunate in their memories of her as a vivid, lovable sort of person who inspired those about her with something of her personality and desire to do things worth while.

Vermont Alpha and the New York Alumnae Club extend deepest sympathy to her mother, husband, and brothers.

NELLIE BARTLETT MERRILL
WHEELER
Iowa \Gamma

Mrs. Nellie Bartlett Merrill Wheeler, a beloved member of the Des Moines Pi Beta Phi alumnae club passed away January 2, 1930, at her home in Des Moines after a few days' illness.

Mrs. Wheeler was a most valued member of the Iowa Γ at Ames, Iowa, in the early days of the organization. Since 1893 she has taken an active part in the life of Des Moines. She served many years on the board of the Des Moines Children's Home, and as treasurer of the Board of the Business Woman's Home. She was a working member of Plymouth Congregational Church, and the Des Moines Federation of Women's Clubs. While she found time to work outside of her home, the home was her big interest. She was a devoted mother to two daughters, one died in early girlhood, the other was with her mother during her last illness.

She is mourned by the husband, the married daughter of Philadelphia, and a host of devoted friends.

LOLA PLACEWAY PEARSON
Iowa \Gamma

Mrs. Lola Placeway Pearson died on January 6 at the sanitarium in Anaheim in California after a major operation following only a week of serious illness.

Lola Placeway came to Iowa State College from her home in Pinckney, Michigan, and graduated with the class of 1895. She became a member of Iowa Γ chapter of Pi Beta Phi in 1893, and always took a very active interest in its welfare, at one time acting as chaperon at the chapter house there.

Shortly after her graduation she became a member of the chemistry faculty at Iowa State College and rose to be an associate professor, which position she held until 1913. She was a natural teacher, loving young people and giving unstintingly of her time and energy for their welfare.

In 1913 she married A. A. Bennett, a professor at Iowa State College, and with him moved to Orange, California, locating on an orange ranch, which has since been her home.

She immediately became active in church, school, and club affairs. That her gifts were recognized is shown by the fact that after a few years' residence she was made state president of the P.E.O., and in her home town for many years was a member of the school board and of the library board.

Some years after Mr. Bennett's death she married the Rev. M. L. Pearson, pastor of the Orange Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Pearson later resigned his pastorate and together they took a trip around the world, visiting many of the missionary centers of Asia. On her return she was in much demand among the church societies of Southern California for giving talks on the work of our missionaries. She made more than fifty such talks in the last year and one-half.

Her wise counsel was constantly sought and her place in her home, in her community, and among her friends cannot be filled.

Missouri B

Mrs. Burwell Hayden Clarke (Marion Scroggin) died in Monrovia, California, February 23, 1930, after a prolonged illness. She left three children: Orville, age eleven years; Hayden, age nine years; and Henry, age four years. Mrs. Clarke was the wife of the late Captain B. H. Clarke, U.S.M.C. who lost his life in the Ammunition explosion at Dover, New Jersey, in 1926.

ELEANOR ARNESEN SMITH, California Δ, passed away February 26, 1930. She was a charter member of California Δ and is deeply mourned by them and the alumnae club.

RUTH ROBERTS GOOD, Wisconsin A, passed away February, 1930.

NEVA HUNGERFORD CUTLER, Michigan B, died in Niles, Michigan, December, 1929.

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

Pledge Day, January 18, 1930

INITIATED, February 26, 1930: Margaret McFarlane, Mary McLean, Mary Ripley, Helen Smart, and Marion Tope.

GRADUATES: Eleanor Fearman, B.A., Margaret Husband, B.A.; Violet Maw, B.A.; Ruth Pearce, B.S.; Virginia Potter, B.A.; and Kathleen Treacy, B.A.

Founders' Day was celebrated by a luncheon at the Granite Club. Many alumnae and the active chapter were present at this most enjoyable function.

The Panhellenic banquet was held, as usual, at the King Edward Hotel. Two new local fraternities which are petitioning Panhellenic sent representatives.

Grace Martin was elected by acclamation to the position of president of the Women's Undergraduate Association for the faculty of household science. Mary Trainer was elected representative for Torontonensis from the Women's Undergraduate Association.

Patricia Godfrey is vice president of the Player's Guild for next year, and vice president of the Literary Society.

The Panhellenic Association has drawn up some new rules for the rushing season of next year. The length and number of parties is to be more restricted. The system of preferential bidding is to be used.

Mary Littlejohn won the ladies' novice single championship of Canada for fancy skating. She is also a member of the Canadian Champion Four.

CATHERINE MCBURNEY

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, February 25, 1930

GRADUATES: Cleo Degagne, B.A., 28 East-ern Promenade, Portland; Bertha Carter, B.A., Washburn; Minnie Runnells, B.A., Howland; Ruth Dont, B.A., Cornish; Lydia Douglas, B.A., Durham Rd., Brunswick; Sarah Pike, B.S., Bridgton; and Jennie Hutchinson, B.S., Park St., Orono.

On February 27, Maine pledged the following girls: Ruth Nelson, Margaret Davis, Doris Hutchinson, Janet Young, and Margaret Denton. Bids will be passed out again after mid-semester ranks appear in order to give the fraternities an opportunity to bid more freshmen this year.

A rushing party in the form of a banquet with entertainment of various types was held in the cabin. Bright colored dancing handkerchiefs were given as favors to the freshmen. Soon after pledge service a cooky-shine prepared by the seniors was given in honor of the new pledges, at the cabin. Later a Vic party was held for the freshmen.

An informal pledge dance was held on April 12 at Old Town. Alumnae and friends were invited. A bridge tea in honor of the patronesses and mothers of active members was held early in the spring at the cabin. This is the first party to which the chapter invited $\Pi \Phi$ mothers.

On Founders' Day the chapter had an informal supper and entertainment by the new initiates at the cabin.

The active members making the dean's list at mid-years are: Cleo Degagne, Lydia Douglas, Abbie Sargeant, Louise Durgan, Doris Baker, Jennie Hutchinson, Sarah Pike, and Rachel Gilbert. The new pledges on the dean's list are: Doris Hutchinson, Margaret Davis, Ruth Nelson, and Margaret Denton. The chapter is proud of the scholastic standing of the new pledges.

Marjorie Moulton was a member of the hockey and basketball squads and captain of the freshman basketball team.

Doris Baker, Vivian Van Tassell, and Doris Osgood were initiated into "Der Deutsche Verein" the honorary German Club on campus.

The initiation and formal banquet took place on April 21 and 22. The initiation was held in the cabin and the banquet at the Bangor House in Bangor. The formal initiation dance will be held late in May at the Country Club.

Maine A is glad to have with them Mrs. Dorothy Spurl, an alumna of Illinois who is taking an active interest in the chapter.

The rushing chairman for next year is Anna Buck, Mt. Vernon House, Orono.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, October 10, 1929

INITIATED, February 22, 1930: Rachel Booth, Vergennes; Dorothy Bossert, 113 Abbott Rd., Wellesley Hills, Mass.; Frances Davis, 49 Woodlawn Ave., Wellesley Hills, Mass.; Alice Denio, Bristol; Mary Duryee, 7714 Eastlake Terrace, Chicago, Ill.; Olga Fluck, 162 Main St., Flemington, N.J.; Marjorie Haynes, Longview Rd., Port Washington, L.I., N.Y.; Ruth Nodding, 42 Berkeley St., Reading, Mass.; Mary Omwake, 440 College Ave., Lancaster, Pa.; Janette Phelps, Crown Point, N.Y.; Margaret Scott, 40 West Pettibone St., Forty Fort, Pa.

GRADUATES: Christine Allison, B.A.; Elizabeth Burdett Parker, B.A.; Miriam Louise Roberts, B.S.; Francelia Rose, B.A.; Agnes Noble Wentworth, B.A.

The Founders' Day banquet was held at Middlebury this year. Vermont B girls were guests and participants in the fun had at the annual cooky-shine held at that time.

Π Φ has enjoyed receiving the presidents of the other chapters at teas, especially on the occasion of the visit of Mrs. Brown, Director of the Central Office.

Catherine Carrick is the rushing captain for next year's season. Her address is 68 Chester St., Newton Highlands, Mass.

Middlebury faculty and students were privileged on January 16, to hear Louis Anspacher, distinguished American dramatist and orator, lecture on "Drama; Its Influence on Society." Through the interest and generosity of Mrs. John L. Proctor of Washington, D.C., this lecture was given free of charge to those attending.

The first three-act drama of the year, The Queen's Husband, was presented by the college dramatic club on January 30 and 31. Mary Hough, '31, took the part of the princess, one of the leading women's rôles. The play was representative of some of the best productions of the club.

A group of enthusiastic serenaders appeared before the home of Dr. Merritt Eddy, Middlebury's oldest living graduate, on the evening of his ninety-seventh anniversary which he celebrated on January 25. Members of both the men's and women's colleges sang the traditional songs of the college and then the men from the X Ψ Lodge sang the songs of their fraternity with which Dr. Eddy is affiliated. On passing through the house each individual present shook hands with the distinguished alumnus.

The women's debating team met and defeated the men's team in a debate held on February 14. Ellen Kellogg was voted the best speaker.

Each year for its Settlement School fund,

Vermont A collects the age of the Fraternity in pennies from each member of the chapter in addition to other means of raising money. Π Φ also held a bridge which was enthusiastically and successfully managed by the freshmen, the proceeds of which were added to the Settlement School fund.

Due to Mrs. Brown's visit as national officer, the chapter has incorporated several new schemes for raising the scholarship of each individual and the average of the chapter as a whole, and also for broadening the viewpoint of the local chapter through special study and committees.

Francelia Rose, '30, was recently appointed a member of the student extracurriculum activity committee consisting of twelve representatives of the women's college. "Franny" was on the committee for the International Supper given by the Y.W.C.A., and was awarded the honor by the chapter of being the girl who has done the most on campus and in the chapter for Π Φ. "Lib" Parker, Vermont Alpha's president, was elected on the all-Midd volleyball team and also directed one or two plays in connection with her work in dramatics.

Christine Allison, '30, was recently elected vice-chairman of Senior Week. She is also on the student council and is house chairman at "Ye Château."

Virginia Bland has been appointed chairman of the junior tea committee for Junior Week which takes place May 8, 9, and 10; Mary Hough is on the Junior week stunt committee; Gwendolyn Mason, '31 is on the Junior prom committee; and Ellen Kellogg is on the Junior play committee. Ellen is also on the women's debating team.

Alice Hagen, '31, made the all-Midd volleyball team and was guard on her class basketball team. Marian Tolles, '31, and Barbara Joy, '31, were elected to "Wig and Penn," honorary dramatic society, in March.

Pledge Day, February 22, 1930

On February 22 Vermont B pledged the following girls: Mary Clough, Poultney, Vt.; Alice Gay, Cavendish, Vt.; Antoinette Hubbard, Montclair, N.J.; Marion Kiel, South Orange, N.J.; Ellen Laidlaw, Stamford, Conn.; Juliet Marston, Montclair, N.J.; Louise Meeker, St. Albans, Long Island, N.Y.; Shirley Nichols, Stamford, Conn.; Priscilla Perry, Springfield, Vt.; Ruth Small, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Dorothy Taylor, Stamford, Conn.; Isobel Torrens, Montclair, N.J.; Betty Wallace, Orleans, Vt.; and Muriel Wheatley, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Rushing lasted for a period of three weeks and was very successful. The local Panhellenic decided to use again the plan tried out last year, that of requiring for freshmen a seventy-five per cent average in order to be eligible for rushing. The favors, menus, place cards for the parties were brought from abroad by one of the girls who studied in Paris last year. Pledging took place in the morning, followed by the pledge banquet at the Hotel Vermont, which many alumnæ attended. In the afternoon the seniors were invited to a $\Pi \Phi$ wedding; and in the evening was the Kake Walk an annual event in which the men's fraternities compete for "peerade," stunts, and walking fo' de kake.

The pledges have been active in college activities throughout the year; in the fall sports such as hockey, volleyball, and tennis attracted attention, several making the varsity teams. They are also well represented in Blue Stockings, Press Club, choir, glee club, orchestra, debating, and athletics.

Of new interest at Vermont is the broadcasting station WCAX which is operated by the Agricultural Extension Service and the State Agricultural College. Since wires have been connected with the chapel, organ recitals are given and the choir sings from its usual place.

Among the university lectures this winter, Vermont had the opportunity of hearing Carl Sandburg, poet. He spoke on the art of poetry, read many of his poems, and sang to the strumming of his own guitar.

Another event recently begun is that of giving teas at the various fraternity houses, which are open to the student body. These help to better acquaint the students and faculty, and also to bring into closer contact the fraternity and non-fraternity students.

A short time ago Vermont B enjoyed an unusually helpful visit of Mrs. R. D. Brown. The new pledges gave a tea in her honor. She left many beneficial ideas which the chapter has already begun to carry out.

INITIATED, February 15, 1930: Eileen Brown, '33, 25 Irving St., Watertown, Mass.; Marjorie Cook, '33, 6 Olive St., Attleboro, Mass.; Cynthia Darling, '33, 150 Everett St., Southbridge, Mass.; Marjorie Dickinson, '33, 89 Somerset Ave., Winthrop, Mass.; Margaret Eden, '33, 41 Pleasant St., Attleboro, Mass.; Florence Erwin, '33, 27 West Broadway St., Mauch Chunk, Pa.; and Doris Kothe, '33, 926 Commonwealth Ave., Newton Centre, Mass.

GRADUATES: Elizabeth Burwell, B.A.; Eleanor Chaney, B.A.; Renabelle Coomes, B.A.; Lilla Fries, B.A.; Isabelle McConachie, B.A.; Katherine Morehardt, B.A.;

Mary Ryerson, B.A.; and Helen Woodward, B.S.

On March 28, a formal dance was held at the house. On April 1, the chapter presented a show under the direction of Renabelle Coomes. Numerous stunts were given, the whole affair, representing the meeting of a trainload of vaudeville entertainers with a band of gypsies. Each strove to outdo the other party in their performance. This event was very well supported by the students of the college. Fannie Bach was in charge of Klatsch Kollegium, the annual dance given by $\Gamma \Delta$.

A luncheon was served at the house in honor of the founders. Both active and alumnæ members were present.

Boston has been fortunate during March in having the Stratford-on-Avon players present a number of Shakespeare's plays.

On April 9, Massachusetts A pledged Vera Victoreen, '33, and Helene Barton, '33.

The rushing captain for next year is Elizabeth Ellis, 38 Beacon St., Hyde Park, Mass.

INITIATED, February 28, 1930: Florence Baltz, '33, 70 Clinton Ave., Kingston, N.Y.; Doris Chase, '33, 21 Highland Ave., Port Washington, N.Y.; Margaret Griffin, '33, 110-23 147th St., Jamaica, N.Y.; Marjorie Hart, '33, 38 North Burnet St., East Orange, N.J.; Frances Heaton, '33, 55 Court St., Canton, N.Y.; Janet Hughes, '33, 9 Duryea Rd., Upper Montclair, N.J.; Wilda Remsear, '33, 319 Canton St., Ogdensburg, N.Y.; Roberta Ryther, '33, 409 West St., Carthage, N.Y.; Elizabeth Wagoner, '33, 80 Prospect St., Little Falls, N.Y.; Katherine Wheaton, '32, 100 Caroline St., Ogdensburg, N.Y.; and Jean Woodcock, '33, 405 Elm St., Rome, N.Y.

GRADUATES: Vera Julia Jaeger, B.S.; Marion Dorothy Green, B.A.; Doris Harriette Richardson, B.A.; and Sarah Ella Wilson, B.A.

On February 28, the initiation ceremony was held for the eleven freshmen. The next evening the chapter held its formal banquet at which the initiates were presented to the alumnæ and to the other chapters who came to serenade, following the custom at St. Lawrence where the chapters serenade each other at their initiation banquets. The initiates were dressed like a deck of cards with the king, queen, jack, joker and the rest of the cards. New York A sent Eleanor Donovan as a delegate. On the Monday evening following, the freshmen were invited to their first $\Pi \Phi$ cooky-shine.

Beatrice Ecks, Alpha Province President, spent two days at the chapter house, helping with problems and telling of the customs of the other colleges. Miss Richardson also visited in Canton and gave a delightful talk on her experiences while visiting the Settlement School.

The chapter has been busy making money for the Settlement School by selling candy at the house. Another plan was that of "stunt nite" to which alumnae, mothers, patronesses, and friends were invited. Each class put on several stunts, interspersed with special numbers such as toe dancing and vocal solos. And then a hat was passed around among the members of the audience.

The patronesses entertained the entire chapter at a delightful bridge party one evening.

On April 28 was the Founders' Day celebration at which the freshmen gave an original musical comedy pertaining to $\Pi \Phi$. Alumnae, patronesses and mothers were invited.

The chapter as a whole tries to inspire closer harmony with the other chapters on the hill by encouraging friendships among the other girls and a feeling of democracy. At least one chapter meeting during the year ways to bring the chapters closer together are discussed. The chapter encourages asking one's friends to dinner or to stay all night. Also guests from the other houses are invited to the house parties, which does much toward creating a friendly feeling.

The rushing chairman for next year is Gertrude Woolley, 101 Lorraine Ave., Upper Montclair, N.J.

A gift of $200,000 has been given to the university to be used in the construction of a men's dormitory. The donors remain secret. It is expected that the building will be finished next fall and that it will accommodate about 200 men.

Some of the girls have brought further honors to $\Pi \Phi$. Sallee Wilson has been elected to $\Phi \beta \kappa$. In the girls' interclass basketball matches, the junior team won. There were three Pi Phis on it: Beatrice Brotherton, Dorothy Smith, and Lola Woodcock, all of whom won their class numerals. Gertrude Woolley who was on the varsity won her letter in basketball. Margaret Griffin has a part in the Mummer's production The Dover Road. Frances Heaton was one of the three delegates from St. Lawrence to the New York Confederation of Women's Glee Clubs. New York Δ announces the pledging of Marian E. Ford, '33, and Clara L. Clark, '32.

This past year the chapter has been very active in student government affairs. Dorothy Wertz is president of W.A.A. and also president of Mortar Board, national senior honorary society. Doris Montgomery is women's editor of the Annuals and is also a member of Mortar Board. The representative in Cosmopolitan Club, Ellen Kuney, was sent during Christmas vacation as a delegate to the convention in Syracuse. She is also secretary of the Home Economics Club and was recently sent as a delegate to the Home Economics convention, held in Buffalo.

New York Δ has been outstanding in athletics this past term: Dorothy Wertz, Tina Olsen, Virginia Urban, Delight McAlpine, Lida Sloan, Marjorie Davis, and Harriett Davidson, all played on their respective class basketball teams. Kathryn Hawkes made both the class hockey and varsity hockey teams and is also on the freshman fencing team, being one of three chosen.

Among those who had parts in the freshman class play, The Golden Apple, were Marian Ford, Pearl Worden, and Augustine Coca. The dance festival, which is an annual W.A.A. event, had among the cast, Kathryn Hawkes, Marian Ford, and Lida Sloan. Mary Bishop has had a busy year in the Dramatic Club as "mistress of costumes." Dorothy Foley and "Dodo" Blacking are both active in the Mandolin Club. "Dodo" has the honor of being the first woman ever to receive a Cornell University orchestra key.

At the recent W.S.G.A. meeting, Pi Phis were presented with many athletic awards: Dorothy Wertz and Muriel Gardner were two of the four seniors to receive W.A.A. blazers, which stand for earning 1,200 points in athletics, whereas 800 points are required for a "C." Tina Olsen and Virginia Urban were two of the four juniors to receive C's. At the mass meeting, Delight McAlpine was elected president of Y.W.C.A. and will be sent as delegate to the national Y.W.C.A. convention held in Detroit. She was also elected to O N, national honorary home economics society.

Kathryn Hearle, is one of two, retained by the board, to be in running for women's editor of the Cornell Annuals. Fredericka Ritter has been elected assistant business manager of the Cornell Daily Sun as a result of the recent competition.

Miss Thomas, the house chaperon and a $\Pi \Phi$, has decided to return for another year of graduate work.

GRADUATES: Rebecca Castle, B.A.; Ada Fuller, B.A.; Merida Grey, B.S.; Anna Rickards, B.A.; Eva Scarlet, B.A.; Marion Staley, B.A.; Josephine Steckel, B.A.; and Mary Temple, B.A.

This year Pennsylvania A joined with many members of the alumnae for the Founders' Day banquet, which was held at Strathaven Inn, Swarthmore, Saturday, April 26. Anna Rickards, presided as toastmistress and many interesting speeches followed her varied introductions. To complete the afternoon's program the freshmen gave a clever skit and sang several songs.

The evening after the banquet was a busy one for the chapter as the spring formal dance was held at the Wilmington Country Club.

This year Pennsylvania A has helped to raise money for the Settlement School in several ways. In the fall a food sale was held and later the chapter helped the members of the alumnae with their theater benefit. Just recently a rummage sale was given in Philadelphia; the work has been quite successful this year and over a hundred dollars has been raised through the combined efforts of actives and alumnae.

This spring many social events were given. There was a Mothers' Day tea, a picnic on the Rancocus Creek, an outside meeting at the home of a patroness, Helena Raskob, and a yachting party and several dances.

Pi Phi were rather outstanding in sports, this winter. Anna Rickards, captain-elect, Jean Harvey and Nancy Howard played on the varsity basketball team, and Mary Lu Spurrier and Ida O'Neill were also on the squad.

Rebecca Castle, manager of swimming reported that outstanding progress was made on the team this year by both Janet Walton and Edith Bowman. Anna Kurtz was recently elected assistant manager for next year. In tennis this spring, Jean Harvey, captain and Anna Rickards will both uphold the standard of $\Pi \Phi$ sportsmanship.

The rushing chairman is Marian Pierce whose address is New Castle, Delaware.

GRADUATES: Catherine Browne, B.A.; Ruth Edwards, B.A.; Catherine Hill, B.A.; Dorothy Levegood, B.A.; Margaret Schuyler, B.A.; Sybil Williams, B.A.; Dorothy Patchen, B.A.; Marian Raber, B.A.; Dorothy Stenger, B.A.; Reba Decker, B.A.; and Frances Stringer, B.A.

The rushing captain is Marie Trunk, Coatesville, Pa.

Pennsylvania B began the new semester very auspiciously with the initiation of five pledges who transferred to Bucknell in September.

All active and pledge members returned to Bucknell for the second semester with the exception of Frances Stringer, who is at Columbia working for her M.A., having been graduated in January.

The chapter entertained its local alumnae, its patronesses, the women faculty members, and the wives of faculty members at a tea on March 22 in the drawing room of Hunt Hall.

On April 10 the $\Pi \Phi$ patronesses entertained the members of the active chapter at dinner and bridge at the Manufacturer's Club in Milton. On Founders' Day the active and pledge members were the guests of the alumnae club at luncheon and bridge.

Pennsylvania B has had the plaque which is awarded the intersorority basketball champions for two years. So far this year $\Pi \Phi$ has won all its games, including the first of the three final games.

GRADUATES: Virginia Bentley, B.A.; Elizabeth Barger, B.A.; Elinor Green, B.A.; Dorothy Gress, Ph.B.; Harriet Heim, B.A.; Eleanor Kent, B.A.; Catherine Porter, B.A.

Pennsylvania F held its initiation at the home of Elinor Green; a cooky-shine in honor of the initiates followed the ceremony.

The day following initiation was marked by the basketball game with Gettysburg. Since this was the last game of the season, the Dickinson quintet hoped for victory. The team closed its glorious 1930 career with a 40-29 score.

Following a series of changes which have been going on at the college this year the usual final examinations will not be given. In their place a week will be devoted to Carnegie Examinations. Another experiment is being conducted by the German Club of Dickinson. The club has been raising funds, with the aid of the students taking German. These funds are to be used to send a student of German to Germany. This student must pass an examination in both written and oral German. This year's trial is to establish a precedent.

The annual spring formal dance given by the chapter was held on April 12 at the American Legion Hall. A benefit bridge was held on May 3 at the Φ K Σ house. The proceeds from this bridge, together with the money from selling Christmas cards, is to be used for the chapter's contribution to the Settlement School.

The past few weeks have been very busy ones socially on Pitt's campus. On March 26 at the Heinz House, the W.A.A. held its annual Cabaret. There were small tables around the dance floor, and co-ed entertainers gave a floor show of songs and dances. Betty Knapp, acted as hostess and took part in the entertainment as well. Panhellenic had its annual banquet on March 27, also at the Heinz House. Dean Nardin of the University of Wisconsin was the guest speaker. Dorothy Miller was Miss Nardin's official conductress while she was in Pittsburgh. Edith Raschen took part in the Greek program which followed the banquet. Edith Raschen has been nominated for secretary of the W.S.G.A., and Jane McConahey is a member of the senior ball committee.

On March 22 the mothers of Pennsylvania Δ members were entertained at a lovely tea held in the chapter rooms. After the tea it was suggested that a mothers' club be formed. The mothers were very much interested, accepted the suggestion, and appointed Mrs. J. W. Miller chairman. Meetings have already been arranged, and the chapter hopes the club will progress as enthusiastically as it has begun.

In April, Pennsylvania Δ had the pleasure of a visit from Miss Amy Onken. At a tea held in the chapter rooms, Miss Onken received representatives from other fraternities on the campus and alumnae.

Pennsylvania Δ celebrated Founders' Day and entertained the new initiates at a Founders' Day banquet held in the Hotel Schenley on April 26.

Pittsburgh Panhellenic Association is trying a new method of solving fraternity problems by having officer's councils. These are really discussion groups, not having any legislative power. The President's Council meets once a month and the other officer's groups meet two or three times a year.

GRADUATES: Gertrude Addicott, B.A.; Gertrude Fouts, B.S.; Harriet Gleason, B.A.; Emily Humphrey, B.S.; Mary McConnell, B.S.; Elma Stout, B.A.; and Mary West, B.A.

The chapter announces the pledging of Mary Curtis Wicks of Cleveland and Betty Wilson of Middletown.

Founders' Day was celebrated in Columbus with a luncheon at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel at the invitation of the Columbus alumnae club and Ohio B. Actives and alumnae from the chapter attended.

On March 29 the chapter sponsored a benefit bridge the proceeds of which went to the Settlement School. Twenty-two tables were sold and the proceeds amounted to over one hundred and fifty dollars. Handwork from the Settlement School was on display and a number of pieces were sold. A number of tickets were sold to other women's fraternities on the campus.

Susan Porterfield was elected to run on the Whig ticket for vice president of the senior class next year.

Plans are being discussed for a $\Pi \Phi \chi \Omega$ dance sponsored by both for the promotion of good fellowship between the two.

Studio Club gave a dance drama in the middle of April. Solo dances were given by Alene Wills, Gertrude Fouts, and Susan Porterfield, members of the club. Helen Louise Cline, Marion Bolman, and Kathleen Conaway also took part in the drama.

The chapter has three entrants in the Silver Mirror Contest sponsored by the Athena, the college yearbook. Janet Klove, Susan Porterfield, and Martha Stewart are the entrants.

On Saturday evening, March 22, actives and pledges entertained their mothers with a dinner at the house. After the dinner the mothers attended the Skit Show given each year at Ohio University in connection with the Mothers' Day program.

Another honor bestowed on a member of this chapter was the election of Esther Harris, a sophomore, as president of $\Sigma \Delta \Phi$, honorary journalistic fraternity. Esther was also selected by the dean of women as being the most representative sophomore girl.

Gertrude Fouts was given the honor of wearing the scholarship pin with three diamonds. This pin is worn by the girl who raises her grades the highest number of points each semester. Gertrude raised her average nine points. Elaine Roe raised hers an equal number of points.

Helen Louise Cline modeled in the style show sponsored by the dean of women and the Y.W.C.A. in collaboration with Lazarus, Columbus, Ohio. Emily Humphrey was elected to membership in $K \Delta \Phi$, honorary educational fraternity. Margaret Harris, Alene Wills, Louise Sargent, Helen McLaughlin, Kathryn Johnson, and Edna Kennedy participated in the annual Skit Show.

The new pharmacy building is almost completed and appropriations have been made for a men's gymnasium which will include a fine natatorium. This appropriation will also provide for a high school for practice teaching.

By a ruling the faculty of Ohio State University has approved third quarter initiation for freshmen women.

The National Panhellenic Convention of Urban College was held on the Ohio State campus the week-end of February 14. Helen Brown Russell was selected as a hostess at the round table discussion. Ohio B entertained the two $\Pi \Phi$ delegates from District of Columbia A and Illinois E chapters.

In a series of lectures sponsored by the Student Senate, Count Von Luckner and Dr. Steffanson, noted Arctic explorer, were among the famed speakers.

Several Pi Phi attended the Matrix dinner which is given annually by $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, women's honorary journalistic fraternity. Elsie Singmaster, the writer, was the honor guest and speaker of the evening.

Virginia Ullery, Virginia A, has affiliated with Ohio B and Virginia Scott and Margaret Stribling have reentered college this quarter. Eita Glazier was pledged to Ohio B, January 31.

Both actives and pledges have won prominent places in recent campus elections. Marian Riggs was elected vice president of Y.W.C.A. for the coming year and Mildred Marquardt was elected treasurer. Jean Bostwick was appointed chairman of the World Fellowship committee on Y.W.C.A. senior cabinet. Emily Young, a pledge, was chosen as one of the Freshmen Keepers, this honor goes to the eight most outstanding freshmen of Y.W.C.A. In the recent W.S.G.A. elections, Virginia Denbrock was elected treasurer; Charlotte Worrell, first vice president; and Dorothy Russell, senior representative.

The Browning Dramatic Society of which Helen Brown Russell is president and Virginia Hawkins, assistant business manager, is presenting Alfred Noyes' "Sherwood." Clara Mae Halstead, Sybil Dalley, Helen Hannah, Dorothy Sedgwick, Marjorie Dressall, Mildred Marquardt and Virginia Ullery were successful in the preliminary tryouts.

The glee club of which Dorothy Russell is president made second place in the Ohio glee club contest at Athens. Elizabeth Miller has recently won a membership in the club.

Dorothy Dillon was maid of honor at the Interfraternity Ball and has been elected treasurer of the Panhellenic of this campus. Virginia Blackburn was chairman of the invitation committee for the junior prom. Jean Bostwick was selected as one of the attendants of Mrs. Myers Cooper, the Governor's wife, who will be an honor guest at the senior prom.

Mary Cook has been elected vice president of Orchesis and Alice Deeg is the new wardrobe mistress.

Many of the girls are taking an active part in athletics. Margaret Sanders won a cup in foul shooting and Margaret Gardner won first place in the Ping Pong contest. Etta Glazier has won a membership in Swan Club this quarter. Mildred Marquardt and Margaret Sanders are members of the sophomore basketball team and Polly Hendershott and Emily Young are members of the freshman basketball team.

Both the mothers' club and the alumnae club have given spreads at the house for the actives and pledges. On February 22 Ohio B gave a benefit bridge and style party at Lazarus tearoom. Over $100 was cleared of which a part is to be spent for new curtains for the house.

The pledges of Ohio Δ entertained the actives at a dinner on March 2, and presented them with a lovely table lamp, which added the final touch to the new furnishings.

Φ M A, the honorary dramatic fraternity, sponsored a musical comedy in April. Madelyn Fawcett had one of the leading parts, and Maribel McDaniels was director of all three choruses in which were Lois Brower, Lucile Ottman, Marion Orth, and Martha Jane O'Neil. The chapter was proud to have two seniors elected to Φ B K, Sara Persinger, and Alice Young.

The annual Panhellenic dance was given on March 22, to which each women's fraternity had nine tickets. Because it has been felt for some time that the rushing rules for women were very inadequate, Panhellenic is now working on a complete revision.

In order to become better acquainted with the active chapter and to keep closer touch with them, the alumnae have been giving a series of bridge teas to which four actives and four pledges have been invited each time.

Ohio B invited the chapter to celebrate Founders' Day with them again this year in Columbus.

GRADUATES: Marguerite Battome, B.A., 1305-7th St., Moundsville; Darlene Bradley, B.A., c/o Dr. Breckenridge, Elm Grove; Rogene Boyles, B.A., Sistersville; Genevieve Brown, B.A., 7th St., Moundsville; Susan Craddock, B.A., 353 Court Ave., Weston; Lucile Hall, B.A., 309 Gaston Ave., Fairmont; Elma Hicks, B.S., Webster Springs; Dorothy Manasse, B.A., 76-5th St., New York, N.Y.; Katherine Smooth, B.A., Bluefield; Melba Waters, B.A., 446 Grant St., Morgantown; Margaret Wells, B.A., 436 Main, Weston; and Virginia Wiley, B.A., 2436 Kanawha St., Charleston.

West Virginia A celebrated Founders' Day, April 28, with a cooky-shine. The Morgantown alumnae club was hostess to the chapter and a number of alumnae from Clarksburg, Philippi, and Fairmont. At this time stock was issued by the Π B Φ Home Association to members and alumnae of West Virginia A. The forming of this association resulted from the investment in two lots on Fraternity Row which the chapter has made in anticipation of the building of a new home.

A house party is being planned to take place early in June with West Virginia A as hostess to the other chapters of Beta province. One of the large, modern fraternity houses will be used to accommodate hostesses and guests.

It has been a custom for some time on the campus to exchange dinner guests among the various women's fraternities once each week, in the interest of inspiring closer harmony with one another.

Mrs. Harry R. Bissell, Beta Province President, paid the chapter a visit, March 5 and 6, when she was entertained with a formal tea.

Miss Amy B. Onken, Grand President, visited the chapter, on March 29 to April 1. An informal tea and formal banquet were given in her honor.

West Virginia A was awarded the scholarship cup for the highest average on the campus among women's and men's fraternities. In the intramural basketball tournament, in which twelve teams participated, West Virginia A won the championship, defeating A Δ II, Women's Hall, X Ω, K K Γ, and A Z Δ.

The chapter has gained several distinctions in extracurricular activities. Jean Crile was elected senior representative on women's student government board. Bertha Handlan and Virginia Miller were initiated into Orchesis, national dancing society. Bertha Handlan was selected chairman of W.A.A. open meeting. Irma Ayers was chosen as chairman of the group on International Relations in Y.W.C.A. Dorothy Brand was elected financial chairman in Y.W.C.A. Eleanor Stone was elected treasurer of La Tertulia, Spanish society, and was also elected to Matrix, honorary journalistic society.

Γ Φ Β plans to install a chapter on this campus before the close of the college year.

The rushing chairman for next year is Virginia Miller, college address, 52 Campus Dr., Morgantown, W. Va., home address, Woodsdale, Wheeling, W. Va.

The very sudden death of Goucher's highly esteemed and much loved Dr. Hans Froelicher, acting president of the college, on January 17, 1930, was a great shock to the student body and faculty as well as to his many friends in Baltimore. Dr. Froelicher had a heart attack following a dinner in Alumnae Lodge at which Mr. Homer St. Gaudens, the famous art critic of Pittsburgh, Pa., was a guest and Mrs. Froelicher the only other member of the party. Mr. St. Gaudens was to give an illustrated lecture to the students and their friends on the foreign section of the Carnegie International Exhibit then at the Wyman's Park Museum.

He proceeded as was planned, however, and it was not until after his lecture that the news of Dr. Froelicher's death spread. Funeral services, at which Dr. H. E. Kirk officiated, were held in Catherine Hooper Hall on January 19, and were attended by the student body, the faculty, and some of his most intimate friends.

Although the Panhellenic formal and other activities were indefinitely postponed, the annual Sing Song was held in Katy gymnasium on Friday, February 14. The seniors were awarded the cup for having the best songs and the juniors held high second place.

The night previous to that the Baltimore alumnae club gave Maryland A and its pledges a very entertaining Valentine party in Alumnae Lodge. All the girls, including the alumnae, enjoyed the fun, and a delicious lunch was served afterward.

The announcement of Φ Β Κ elections took place on February 26, and of the twenty-two elected only an exceedingly small number were fraternity women. Although the chapter had no Φ Β Κ, four of its seniors were honored by the Société Aloof and became Also Rans: Attarah Blackwood, Helen Lankford, Dorothy Lea, and Frances Rice. Since Σ Ζ, the honorary activity organization, has been dispensed with at Goucher, the Also Rans have grown to represent a combination of activity and scholastic honors.

The chapter has made improvement in its scholarship. There were not any grades below D among the active girls, and Π Φ now ranks fourth on the campus.

The II Φ formal was held in the Owl Room of the Belvedere Hotel on Friday, February 28, with Mrs. Sipple, president of the alumnae club, and her husband acting as chaperons.

The School For Scandal, the presentation of the seniors on March 7 and 8 was a decided success and the chapter was glad to claim five of the number who participated: Leola Armstrong, Attarah Blackwood, Dorothy Lea, Frances Rice, and Nedra Wilhelm.

Goucher debated with Princeton University on March 11, at Goucher and was successful in upholding the negative of the question, Resolved: "That the hydraulic powers of the country be owned by the U. S. Government." There is growing interest in debating in the college, and more intercollegiate contacts are planned for the future.

From a rummage sale held on March 13 and 14 the chapter made a little over thirty dollars to send to the Settlement School. This amount does not begin to equal the contributions of the past few years, and the chapter is enthusiastic over plans for other ways to raise money for the Settlement School. The girls hope to exceed even the quota planned last year.

The seniors won the Gym Drill which was held in Bennett Hall on March 18, and the juniors placed second. It was an excellent demonstration of the work of the gymnasium department, and Martha Lindstedt, Mary Margaret Gordon, Dorothy Lea, and Dorothy Greig participated in the drills. A series of basketball games for the championship was brought to a close on March 17 when the juniors triumphed over the seniors and were awarded the cup, after which the seniors had Serpentine. Both Dorothy Lea and Virginia Underhill played well in the games.

During the semester Katharine Flagg was elected president of Press Board and Business Manager of Weekly, and she attended a Press conference held at Tuft's College in Boston in April. Dorothy Lea was elected chairman of senior prom and Dorothy Greig was elected chairman of junior prom. Martha Lindstedt, Katharine Flagg, and Dorothy Greig are also chairmen of committees for May Day.

The rushing chairman is Mary Margaret Gordon, Marshall, Missouri.

GRADUATES: Margaret Monk, B.A., 1528 Monroe St., N.W., Washington, D.C.; Betty Waller, B.A., Tilden Hall, Washington, D.C.; Betsy Hoge, B.A., 3461 Macomb St., N.W., Washington, D.C.; Jean Sime, B.A., 1301 Floral St., N.W., Washington, D.C.; Jenny Turnbull, B.A., 2722 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C.; Evelyn Esch, B.A., 2908 Brandywine St., N.W., Washington, D.C.; Grace McLean, B.A., 1820 Clydesdale Pl., N.W., Washington, D.C.; and Vivian Ward, B.A., 3031 Sedgwick St., N.W., Washington, D.C.

The chapter celebrated Founders' Day on Saturday night, April 26, at the Washington Hotel. The dream of a number of years came true as Columbia A was the hostess chapter for Maryland A, Virginia A, Virginia B, and Virginia F. The theme of the speeches was based on a modern invention: an airplane. The pledges were representative of the gliders, the actives stood for the motor, and the wings were the flight of the Arrow. The speakers on these subjects gave some inspiring ideas to think of after the banquet was over.

Rushing season is the only time that there are any strained relations on the campus, between fraternities. The chapter makes many efforts to maintain and keep harmony. For instance, Columbia A invites a girl from every fraternity on the campus to $\Pi \Phi$ dances; the pledges give a tea for the other pledges; and one open house tea was given for both men's and women's fraternities. The chapter cooperates in every way with them, and also helps them in their attempts to raise money.

The chapter has received many honors during the semester. Maude Hudson was pledged to $\Gamma H Z$, an honorary journalistic fraternity. This was rather exciting as she was the first $\Pi \Phi$ who had been asked to join for four years. Mary Hudson was pledged to Hour Glass, an honorary society for activities, leadership, and grades. She was also elected vice president of the W.A.A. Mildred Burnham and Jane Menefee were made members of an honorary freshman scholarship fraternity which has just been organized. Mildred is also one of the originators and charter members of Les Jongleurs, which is to be a dramatic organization with representatives of all types of stage work.

The chapter is planning a week-end trip to Chesapeake Bay.

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, February 15, 1930

INITIATED, March 17, 1930: Elaine Hogenon, '31, 30-7th St., Hinsdale, Ill.

GRADUATES: Elizabeth Dunaway, B.A., 222 Ballery St., Little Rock, Ark.

Virginia A announces the pledging of the following girls: Ruth Belew, Jane Brainerd, Maude Daniel, Marian Hershey, Elaine Hogenon, Frances Johnson, Jane Jones, Betty LeCompte, Cynthia Lumpkin, Page Peck, Frances Richardson, and Barbara Stubbs.

Founders' Day of Randolph-Macon was observed on March 12 as usual by the suspension of classes and the address in the evening which was delivered by Dr. Charles Moore, chairman of the National Commission of Fine Arts. Another speaker of interest at the college was Dr. R. H. Sargeant who revealed interesting data on the geography of Alaska in his lecture on March 18. The local Panhellenic Association is providing for part of the necessary amount required to bring Dr. W. E. Ekblaw to the college to lecture on the Arctic regions.

Virginia A is well represented in the functions that come during the second semester. In the operetta, "Alpenrose," presented by the glee club, Helen Louise Duckett had the leading part in the dances and Maude Daniel was prominent in the songs and dances. The Sock and Buskin Dramatic Club presented as its spring play, Love-in-a-mist, in which Eva Smither was one of the leading characters. In a stunt on March 7, written and directed by Eva Smither and Carolyn Gore for the Y.W.C.A., the May Queen and the members of the court were announced. Mary Off, Anna Margaret Hershey and Helen Louise Duckett are the $\Pi \Phi$ elected to be in the court this year.

The Randolph-Macon Orchestra which Mary Elizabeth King organized and directs has been very popular. Every Friday night the orchestra plays for a dance. It also played at the party given by the junior class to their sister class, the Valentine party given by the Y.W.C.A., and many functions given by clubs in Lynchburg.

The Even and Odd classes each celebrate a day on which the campus and buildings are decorated in a definite scheme. The scheme on Even Day, March 14, was western life and the stunt in which Betty Powell had a part carried out the same idea. Odd Day, April 1, had for its scheme New York. Helen Louise Duckett had charge of all the dances in the stunt. Each one of the pledges was on a committee to make preparations.

The scheme of the Founders' Day banquet was taken from the time of the Arthurian legends. A miniature castle in the center of the table, small pages with a name on their trumpet serving as place cards, and shields containing the program lended atmosphere to the feast. A toast was proposed in turn to the ancestors, the castle, and the household.

Virginia A's rushing chairman for 1930-31 will be Carolyn Gore, 344 Connecticut Ave., Spartanburg, S.C.

VIRGINIA BETA—HOLLINS COLLEGE

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, Indefinite

When the chapter realizes that this is the last time that Virginia B will be represented with the active chapters it seems that a great many things should be written. But, after all, words are inadequate at a time like this. During the twelve years of its active life Virginia B has known all of the inspirations and joys of fraternity life. Now that the time approaches when it must disband those who are in the chapter during the last year are striving to hide their disappointment in the realization that fraternities were unsuited to the life on Hollins campus and the chapter's disappointment means gladness to someone else.

This year no fraternity record of scholarship was kept, but at mid-years the individual $\Pi \Phi$ record was high. In June the chapter will have three honor graduates, Dewar Gordon, Betty Ingles, and Dorothy Quarles. In athletics, Dorothy Quarles captained the Mohecan team to victory in the big game of the season. Jessie Pollard, winner of the archery tournament last year, will defend her title in the spring meet, and other Pi Phis are out for the swimming and tennis teams.

District of Columbia A invited the chapter to Washington to celebrate Founders' Day but due to the lateness of the Easter vacation it was impossible for any to attend.

Jessie Pollard and Betty Poulton were in the cast of the Hollins' May Day.

Next year the six juniors who are now in the chapter will be the last representatives of the chapter and when they are graduated there will be no longer fraternity women on Hollins campus. Virginia B wishes everyone to know the regret it feels at disbanding and the inspiration and happiness received from being a Pi Phi chapter.

INITIATED, February 15, 1930: Elizabeth Buell, '33, Herndon, Va.; Duke Carter, '32, McKenny, Va.; Jene Cook, '33, 6 Loantaka Way, Madison, N.J.; Jean Lilly, '33, 1525-44th St. N.W., Washington, D.C.; Gladys Monroe, '33, 4105 Bull St., Savannah, Ga.; Katherine Warmington, '31, St. Petersburg, Fla.; and Polly Weihe, '32, 4000 Marlborough Pl., Washington, D.C.

GRADUATED: Anne McNulty, B.A.

After the initiation of the above seven girls on February 15, Virginia F entertained their initiates and alumnae at a banquet. Valentine decorations were carried out and attractive favors given to the initiates.

Virginia F celebrated Founders' Day with District of Columbia A and Maryland A at a banquet in Washington, D.C. The chapter made the trip in automobiles furnished by the nearby alumnae. This was the first time in the history of the chapter that Founders' Day was celebrated with another chapter and this get-together made the day even more significant.

Harriet Smith was initiated into $\Phi \beta \kappa$ on March 25. Two days before, Catherine Hasseltine was initiated into Mortar Board. Catherine was bid to $\Theta \Lambda \Phi$ and re-elected president of the art club for 1930.

Mary Parry and Harriet Smith each had an original play produced by the William and Mary players in April. They also have directed one-act plays and with Catherine Hasseltine and Gladys Monroe assisted in the production of Twelfth Night.

The chapter received much inspiration from the visit of Gamma Province President, Lois Thompson, in April. She was entertained at an informal tea to which the faculty and representatives of other women's fraternities were invited.

Edwina Carver was elected president of Y.W.C.A. after serving on the cabinet as treasurer and World Fellowship chairman. Jean Lilly was elected secretary of the association.

Virginia Hawthorne was elected secretary of the executive council of the W.S.G.A. for next year.

The $\Pi \Phi$ scholastic average for the first semester of 1929 ranked first on the campus.

Three successful rummage sales were held in March to raise money for the Settlement School.

Harriet Smith was one of the four seniors chosen to lead the May Festival. Several other members of the fraternity participated in May Day.

Virginia T endeavors to inspire closer harmony with other fraternities by encouraging friendships with their members and frequent visits to their houses.

Due to the introduction of a new rush system, the 1930 rush season will be very short. All recommendations should therefore be sent as early as possible to the re-elected rush captain, Elizabeth Griffin, whose summer address is 308 West Fourteenth St., Norfolk, Va.

INITIATED, January 25, 1930: Clyde Duncan, '31, Beaufort; Kate C. Graham, '31, Durham; Josephine Hill, '31, Burlington; Adelaide Reed, '31, Beaumont, Tex.; Lillie W. Jackson, '31, Nashville, Tenn.; Edith Mangum, '31, Lexington; Adelaide McAnally, '31, Greensboro; Mary Laurens Withers, '31, Raleigh; Virginia Turner, '31, Weldon; Jean McAllister, Greensboro; Elaine Wheaton, '31, Ogdensburg, N.Y.; and Evelyn Lee Way, '30, Raleigh.

INITIATED, March 29, 1930: Margaret Bullitt, Chapel Hill.

The initiation ceremony was followed by a cooky-shine at the Carolina Inn.

One of North Carolina A's charter members, Aline Hughes, gave a benefit voice recital for the alumnae contribution to the Settlement School fund on the evening preceding initiation.

Emily Frances Polhill of Decatur, Ala., was pledged.

The active chapter is planning either a script dance or a bridge tournament during spring quarter for the Settlement School fund.

In recent elections held by the senior class, $\Pi \Phi$ received all three co-ed superlatives. Maurine Forester, was voted the most beautiful co-ed, Helen McKay the most popular, and Phoebe Harding the most dramatic.

Sara Falkener has made a $\Phi \beta \kappa$ average, which fact is to be especially commended in view of the ruling that girls may attend U.N.C. for only their last two college years. Virginia Turner and Mary Laurens Withers, juniors and pledges this fall have made straight A's on their university work.

Phoebe Harding has been with the Carolina Playmakers on Southern Tour and went to western Carolina with them in April. She was recently elected to the Hall of Fame of the Carolina Student Publication, The Buccaneer.

Lois Thompson, Gamma Province President, paid the chapter a visit in April, which was enjoyed very much.

The chapter plans to continue the experiment of living in a $\Pi \Phi$ house.

INITIATED: March 8, 1930: Elizabeth Wilhelm, '31, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Elizabeth Elliott, '33, Milbourne, Fla.; Nan Clune, '33, Miami, Fla.; Virginia Watson, '33, Miami, Fla.; Marie Smith, '33, Miami, Fla.; Evelyn Collins, '32, Umatilla, Fla.; Betty Douglas, '31, Augusta, Ga.; Betty Foard, '33, DeLand, Fla.; Mary Harris Ezell, '33, DeLand, Fla.; Mary Arnold, '30, Richmond Ky.; and Mary Lucile Caudell, '31, Morehead, Ky.

GRADUATES: Ruth Foard, DeLand, Fla.; Catherine Martin, DeLand, Fla.; and Mary Arnold, Richmond, Ky.

On Saturday evening, March 8 the annual initiation banquet was held at the College Arms. On this occasion Marie Smith was presented with a $\Pi \Phi$ jeweled recognition pin as a reward for the highest scholarship average among the pledges. Her average was A for the two terms. Betty Foard was presented a sport compact mounted with the $\Pi \Phi$ coat-of-arms as a reward for having the most activities among the pledges.

During the winter term the pledges under the name of the honorable Ching Chi issued to each $\Pi \Phi$ of Florida A, a request to visit and dine with him and his household on Saturday, January 11. The invitations were in the form of a scroll, sealed and enclosed in a tiny Chinese parasol ornamented with a jack-o-lantern, inscribed with the guest's name. Every phase of the party was carried out in the oriental atmosphere, the pledges were dressed in exquisite Chinese costumes. Each guest was given a beautiful silver Chinese jewelry box.

$\Pi \Phi$ continues to maintain her high activity record. Betty Foard and Mary Lucile Caudell were pledged to $\Phi \beta \kappa$, national honorary music fraternity. Elizabeth Elliott and Maxine Young were elected representatives on student council. Nena Belle Green was elected vice president of student council, president of Panhellenic, president of freshman commission and to membership on Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Mary Harris Ezell has taken part in recent concerts and plays given by the glee club and Play Crafters in DeLand and near by towns.

Florida A has had two very high social honors: Kathleen Allen was chosen Miss DeLand and entered in the Central Florida beauty contest held in Orlando in February, and in the final judging given the title of princess-in-waiting to the chosen queen, and Nena Belle Green was voted the best all-around girl in the college popularity contest this year.

Mary Lucile Caudell was chosen soloist of the glee club and has been asked to assist in two of the Conservatory graduation recitals—one piano and one organ. Kathleen Allen will be the accompanist.

The Florida A girls have visited with the Florida F chapter several times. One outstanding event was the tea Florida F gave for Mrs. Coolidge. Twenty-one from Florida A attended.

The chapter was happy to sponsor a costume recital given on March 20 by Ruth Collins, a sister to Mrs. Simanton, an alumna of Florida A. Not only did the Pi Phi sponsor this concert but two girls assisted in the program: Kathleen Allen, gave several piano selections and Marie Smith read.

On March 14 several Pi Phi assisted in the entertainment for the Dutch Tea given for the DeLand Hospital fund.

Florida A continues to have its monthly get-togethers and bridge parties.

On Saturday, April 5, Florida A had a food sale for the benefit of the Settlement School.

The rush captain for 1930-31 is Elizabeth Elliott, DeLand Hall, DeLand, Florida.

The chapter announces the pledging of: Marjorie Northrup, St. Petersburg, Fla.

On Tuesday night before initiation the chapter entertained the freshmen with a cooky-shine. Initiation was held on Friday night, March 7, and on Saturday morning nine new wearers of the arrow were the honorees at an initiation breakfast held at the Dutch Kitchen. The motif was that of a spring garden, and all the favors and toasts showed what a truly wonderful garden is that of $\Pi \Phi$. At this breakfast Helen Gray was given the freshman scholarship cup.

The most important social function of the year at Florida State College is the junior-senior prom which was held on March 1. Florida B started the week-end with a breakfast dance held at the house. The afternoon was crowded with tea dances at the various fraternity houses, and at nine o'clock came the prom—a perfect climax to a gay week-end.

Early in February the junior class presented its annual minstrel, "Fore." Louise Aulls, Jean Rowe, Mayme Tatum and Mabel Hopson were in the Greta Garbo chorus. Ellen Knight did a tap dance and Janet Poulson and Hazel Hebb appeared in other choruses.

Immediately following the minstrel the freshmen had a carnival to raise funds for their class. Lucy Pope was in charge of the side shows this year. Helen Maull and Lib Simms did an Apache dance, while in another side show Marie Peters was seen as a Dutch doll.

In the campus elections for next year Adaline Clough was elected picture editor of the Flastacovo, and Helen Gray, associate editor of the same publication. Lucy Pope was tapped for freshman cabinet of Y.W.C.A. and Helen Gray was tapped for freshman commission of student government. Louise Aulls is on the finance committee of Y.W.C.A.

Evelyn Lyle, Louise Aulls, and Ellen Knight were in the Orchestis Dance Drama, and Janet Poulson and Mayme Tatum were in the exhibition of folk dances put on by the physical education department.

Several of Ellen Knight's poems appeared in the current issue of The Distaff, the college magazine.

Jean Rowe is runner-up for the tennis cup of the junior class, Marjorie Northrup has won her numeral in hockey.

Eleanor Estes was pledged V.V. at the beginning of second semester. Florida B has had as her guests several rushees from Tampa and Jacksonville. A bridge party was given in their honor during their visit.

The climax of the social activities of the spring frolics at the University of Florida is reached, when the Pirates, the leading social club on the campus, puts on its annual Pirate's Ball. This year Florida B has the honor of having the Queen of the Ball, Mary Jane Montford, First Maid, Gervais Prentiss; and Second Maid, Elizabeth Fenn.

The chapter entertained at dinner at the Ponce De Leon Grill for Mrs. Clarence Mendenhall, daughter of Charlotte M. Beckham, dean of students at Florida State College for Women.

Florida Γ announces the pledging of: Dorothy Livingston, Orlando, Fla.; Doris Lang, New Rochelle, N.Y.; and Margaret Cummings, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Phil J. Lawrence of Miami who was here for inspection was present at the installation of officers on Monday, March 31.

Florida Γ entertained Mrs. Calvin Coolidge at tea at the Green Gables. Each girl had the honor of meeting her personally.

For the college, Founders' Week was the greatest. Many alumni were back for the occasion, and luncheons were given for such as the Sandspur, college paper; and the thirty-second annual meeting of the Rollins College alumni association with Rex Beach in charge; Φ B K Association of Central Florida; and the "Animated Magazine" with President Holt as editor. Chairs for 4,000 were set before the platform. In the "table of contents" were: Burriss A. Jenkins, formerly editor of Kansas City Post; Seuman MacManur, Ed Howe, Jessie B. Rittenhouse, Irving Bacheller, Ray Stannard Baker (David Grayson), Percy McKay, Fred Lewis Pattee, and Clinton Scollard, all authors of the day; William Lyon Phelps, Lamson Professor of English Literature of Yale University; and Ida C. Clark, former editor of Pictorial Review, besides many others, too many to put in this letter. Thomas A. Edison, was given a degree along with six others who were in the "Animated Magazine."

Founders' Day was celebrated with Florida A and the Orlando alumnae club. At this banquet the new members of Florida Γ were presented with recognition pins from their sponsors.

The Π Φ play, Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire, was very successful and the $100 which Florida Γ was working to get for the Settlement School fund has been made.

GRADUATES: Marion Wood, B.A., Hillsdale; Helen Tyler, B.A., Hillsdale; Emma Maurer, B.A., Flint; Ruth Wheatley, B.A., Cleveland, Ohio; and Alice Thomas, B.S., Cleveland.

The rushing chairman is Donna Birdsall, 234 N. Manning, Hillsdale, Mich.

Michigan A assisted by patronesses and alumnae celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet followed by a program.

The women's undergraduate club and Panhellenic are the two means provided to bring the women of the various fraternities together. Both organizations are very active and increase the interfraternity contacts. Miss Anna Marshall, who paid the chapter an official visit in March, told that the more friendly inter-rushing seasons are, the more peaceful rushing seasons will be.

The women's undergraduate club brought to the campus Her Imperial Highness, Princess Der Ling of the Manchu Court of the late Empress Dowager Tzu Hsi. Michigan A gave a dinner in her honor.

Miss Amy B. Onken was a guest of Michigan A on March 24 and 25. A tea was given for her to which the faculty, patronesses, mothers, alumnae, and women of the campus were invited. Miss Anna Marshall was a guest of the chapter at the winter formal held at Parker Inn, Albion, Mich., February 18.

Two fine pieces of equipment, a refrigerator, and a four drawer steel filing cabinet, have been purchased by the chapter.

Elizabeth Phelps, Evelyn Harwood, and Jane Randolph composed the debating team which won the decision over Chicago University on the question, Resolved: That United States without awaiting further international action should immediately inaugurate a policy of disarmament.

Catherine Coleman, Evelyn Harwood, Marion Klockow, and Elizabeth Bentz are on the freshman honor roll. Alice Anthony, Irene and Evelyn Curran were initiated into E Δ A, honorary scholarship fraternity.

Marian Frank and Mildred Finneccum were initiated into Θ A Φ , national dramatic fraternity. Ruth Barrett was chosen by the society as one of the delegates to the convention held at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio.

Donna Birdsall has established a reputation as an editorialist, and is contributing regularly to the Collegian.

In second semester elections Π Φ was represented in each class: Emma Maurer is secretary of the senior class; Laura Stevenson, vice president, and Harriet Ball, secretary treasurer of the junior class; Alice Aldrich, vice president of the sophomore class; and Evelyn Harwood, treasurer of the freshman class.

Laura Stephenson and Pauline Southwick have leading parts in Midsummer Nights Dream, which will be given as a part of commencement program.

Ruthe Wheatley was elected president of Le Cercle Français, which was established recently.

The chief topic of conversation on the Michigan campus for the past two months has been the junior girls' play which had its premier on March 17. Eleven members of Michigan B worked on State Street in the capacity of chorines or committee members. Helen Jones was general chairman of the play, Helen Domine, chairman of publicity, with Gail Warner, Nancy Frohne, Margaret Morin, and Marian Lamb on committees. Josslyn McLean had a comedy rôle in the play, and Mary Jane Kenan, Elinor Wortley, Charlotte Butler, and Mary Gay von Boeselager were in the chorus. The annual senior supper preceded the play, after which the senior women, wearing their caps and gowns for the first time, marched around the campus to the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre. The junior honor guard which accompanied them was led by Isabelle Ryen and included Helen Domine.

The system of advisers of women, was abolished early in March, and in the future Michigan women will be under the supervision of a dean of women, Miss Alice Lloyd. Mrs. W. D. Henderson's resignation as business manager of the Women's League Building has been received, and Mrs. Hollister was appointed to fill her place. The new dormitory for women, Mosher Jordan Hall, is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy next fall.

Michigan B has been fortunate in receiving visits from both her Grand President and Province President this spring. During Miss Onken's stay a buffet supper was given in her honor by the chapter and Ann Arbor alumnæ.

Eleanor Walkinshaw had the comedy lead in The Outsider, given by Mimes, and Dorothy Beck had one of the two leading feminine rôles in the French Play. Margaret Morin also gave the Prologue in Play Production's presentation of Romeo and Juliet.

The activity to which the freshman women look forward every year is the freshman pageant. Michigan B is very proud that one of its new initiates, Helen DeWitt, is to be the general chairman.

The A.C.A.C.W. conference was held on this campus the last week in April, with Dorothy Birdzell in charge of registration.

Nominations for offices in the women's league and W.A.A. have just been announced, and Helen Jones, Dorothy Birdzell, and Helen DeWitt are on the league ticket as running for vice president, treasurer, and sophomore representative, respectively. Helen Domine was nominated for president of W.A.A. Dorothy Birdzell was treasurer of the Penny Carnival, held the first week in March.

Elinor Wortley was elected to membership in $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ and $M \Phi E$ and Lorinda McAndrew has become a member of $\Phi K \Phi$.

For the last two months of the year a group of seniors from the various women's fraternities on campus have been meeting on Thursday noons for luncheon at the League building. They feel that this informal get-together fosters good feeling in their houses toward the other fraternities.

Josslyn McLean will be the rushing chairman of Michigan B next year. Her address is 269 Coplin Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

Pledge Day, October 5, 1929

INITIATED, April 12, 1930: Eloise Stout,

'32, Chicago, Ill., and Tasca Smith, '31, Evansville, Ind.

GRADUATES: Mary Alice Purves, B.A., Indianapolis, Ind.; Henrietta Miller, B.A., LaPorte, Ind.; and Ruth Ann Ritz, B.A., Columbus, Ind.

Indiana A had the pleasure of a visit from two officers of $\Pi \Phi$, Miss Anne Marshall, Delta Province President and Miss Amy B. Onken, Grand President. The chapter has been greatly benefited by the charming personality and the gracious interest manifested by both Miss Onken and Miss Marshall. Both were guests at the Founders' Day banquet, April 26 in Indianapolis at which all the Indiana chapters were present. In the evening the annual $\Pi \Phi$ State Dance was held at the Columbia Club. Indiana A entertained for Miss Onken, Sunday afternoon, following the banquet, with a tea in the chapter room.

Franklin College has been greatly honored by being one of the three colleges and universities receiving the highest rating by the North Central Association of Colleges. The other two were Wabash College and Indiana University. Dr. Rainey, the president of the college, is quite a booster for the local chapter and his sister Mary Louise is one of the active members.

A new organization was inaugurated on the Franklin College campus last semester, namely Gold Quill. Seven junior or senior women are elected each semester for leadership on the campus, scholarship, and activities. Indiana A feels proud in having four members linked in Gold Quill: Ruth Ann Ritz, Henrietta Miller, Mary Alice Purves, and Mary Louise Rainey. The organization fosters fellowship between students and other fraternities and stands ready to cooperate with faculty and student enterprises.

Three of the five girls elected in the popularity contest sponsored by the Almanac, Franklin College yearbook, are members of Indiana A.

$\Pi \Phi$ maintains the women's membership in $\Theta K \Delta$, national forensics fraternity. They are Henrietta Miller, Pauline French, and Mary Alice Purves, while Vivian Thomas is also eligible for initiation.

Margaret Stillwell, Elsa Barker, and Kathryn Miller were initiated into $\Theta \Delta \Phi$, national dramatic fraternity.

An informal dance was given by the active chapter of $\Pi \Phi$ March 28 at Franklin; other social affairs including a commencement formal spring drive, and May breakfast for the faculty were given by Indiana A this semester.

Mary Louise Rainey has the honor of being one of the four candidates for junior prom queen this year.

Indiana A pledged Sally Marshall of Memphis, Tenn., on March 24. Sally has the distinction of having her mother and three aunts graduates of Indiana A chapter.

INITIATED, March 5, 1930: Betty Blanchard, '33, Chicago, Ill.; Harriet Brower, '33, Ft. Wayne; Anita Fox, '32, Madisonville, Ky.; Aldine Gardner, '33, Scottsburg; Sara Gilworth, '33, Warsaw; Wenonah Hatfield, '32, Indianapolis; Marion Jump, '32, Muncie; Ruby Meade, '30, Bloomington; Eleanor Morris, '32, Pendleton; Maxine Rosebaum, '33, Indianapolis; Marybeth Shields, '32, Indianapolis; Dorothy Viehe, '33, Evansville; and Thelma White, '33, Shelbyville.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Alice Lamb, Bloomington; Isabel Lane, Indianapolis; and Barbara Phipps, Pendleton.

Indiana B gave a formal dance on March 15, and several Bloomington High School girls were invited. Maxine Rosebaum, 42 North Drexel, Indianapolis, Ind., is rush captain for 1930.

Miss Anna E. Marshall, Delta Province President, spent a few days with the chapter. During her visit $K \Delta \Theta$ gave a dinner for Miss Marshall, Mary Marjorie Mull, chapter president, Mrs. George, chaperon, and the seniors. A lovely formal dinner was given in honor of Miss Marshall at the chapter house and several alumnae were present. During her visit the $\Pi \Phi$ transfers were entertained at a luncheon.

On April 26, the chapter celebrated Founders' Day with Indiana A, Γ , and Δ at a luncheon at Indianapolis. Everyone was delighted to have Miss Onken as the speaker for the occasion. In the evening a formal dance was held at the Columbia Club.

Jordan River Revue, the university musical production has begun its annual tour of the state. $\Pi \Phi$ girls who will make the trip are Alice Thorn, as a member of the cast; Cornelia Schied, Marybeth Shields, Josephine Jones, and Maxine Rosebaum in the choruses; and Mary Rippey of the directorial staff. Maxine Rosebaum and Alice Thorn were in the cast of a Garrick Club play. Sara Gilworth was elected secretary of Garrick Club.

Mary Marjorie Mull has been made associate editor of the 1931 Arbutus, the university yearbook. Six girls are to be chosen by Don Herold and John C. Mellet to have their pictures in the beauty section of the Arbutus. $\Pi \Phi$ has three girls in the group from which the final six are to be chosen, Lucile Hirsch, Mary Marjorie Mull, and Mary Cooper.

Elizabeth Karsell was elected vice president of Y.W.C.A. Patricia Pharr was on the committee for the Panhellenic formal. Thelma White was selected on the freshman basketball team, her second team this year. Eleanor Morris was invited to join the Le Cercle Français. Ione Swan is editing a revised edition of the university songbook sponsored by A.W.S.

Wenonah Hatfield, '32, was one of the fifteen on the university honor roll for having made fifteen hours of A.

Betty Blanchard and Harriet Brower have been chosen in the group of thirty-six freshmen girls recognized by Mortar Board for scholarship and activities. IONE V. SWAN Meridian, Indianapolis; and Ruth Omelvena, B.S., 57th and Kessler Blvd., Indianapolis.

The four Indiana chapters celebrated Founders' Day with a luncheon at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, on Saturday, April 26. Miss Amy B. Onken, Grand President, was guest of honor. A gift was awarded to the girls having the highest scholarship in each of the four chapters. The state dance was held at the Columbia Club the same evening.

Exchange dinners with other women's fraternities are a weekly occurrence on the campus and also there is an active interest in basketball and tennis, which promotes a fine spirit of fellowship.

The K K I house is nearing completion and the cornerstone for the $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ house was recently laid. These are the first two women's fraternity houses erected on the Fairview fraternity row.

Butler students have become "air-minded" and a ground course and flying school have been affiliated with the university. A chapter of "Wings," national aeronautic fraternity, has been established and interest has been revived in the Gliders Club.

Bert Nelson, Butler student, has demonstrated that he does not need any wings to get up into the air. Nelson recently broke the world's record for high jumping and has been maintaining this record at various track meets over the country.

The rush captain for next fall is Helen Weyl, 3820 Guilford Avenue.

Elmwood Ave., Oak Park, Ill.; Jean Simpkins, B.S.H.E., Boswell, Ind.; and Katherine Tingley, B.S.H.E., Howe, Ind.

Founders' Day celebration included a luncheon, which the four chapters in the state sponsored; and a dance, on April 26. These were held in Indianapolis and were splendidly attended, not only by active and alumnae members of the state chapters but by Pi Phi from many other chapters. It was very fortunate that Miss Onken was able to be at the luncheon at this time and the celebration was truly an inspiration and a success.

At various times during the year, members of the other women's fraternities on the campus are entertained at informal dinners at the chapter house, this is a very pleasant way of meeting and knowing each other. Pi Phi are continually coming in contact with the other girls and through working with them harmonious relationship is fostered.

The rushing chairman for next year is Martha Robbins, Greensburg, Indiana.

Ruth Casady, had the honor of leading Purdue's junior prom, the most important social function of the semester.

INITIATED, March 17, 1930: Donie Carmack, '33, 310 S. Peterson; and Dorothy Mimms, '32, 310 S. Peterson, both of Louisville.

On March 8, Kentucky A initiated eight girls. The initiation banquet was held at the Brown Hotel with Margaret Bushnell acting as toastmistress. The various toasts were given both by the outstanding alumnae members and girls of the active chapter. Dulcinea Straeffer received the pledge award for scholarship, a recognition arrow.

In a talk before the alumnae club of the University of Louisville, Dr. R. A. Kent, president of the university told of plans for the combining of the Medical and Dental Departments and the Norton Infirmary into one large modern building to be placed upon Belknap Campus. This building is expected to cost about $2,500,000. If the plans do materialize this will be of great benefit to the university as a whole.

Founders' Day is always looked forward to with great interest. The alumnae club prepares the program and it comes as a surprise to the members of the active chapter. The luncheon was held at a lovely tea shop, The Misses Sales Tea Room.

The chapter is on very friendly terms with most of the fraternities on the campus. There are always small favors that are reciprocal among the various fraternities. The teas and open houses given by the several fraternities are enjoyable affairs and are attended to a great extent.

The rush captain is Christine Clarke, 305 Birchwood, Louisville, Ky.

INITIATED, February 20, 1930: Blanche Fox, 549 Oak St., Chattanooga; Eva Loeper, Cleveland, Tenn.; Evelyn Rogers, Frenchtown, N.J.; Elizabeth Rowden, 1615 Union Ave., Chattanooga; Elizabeth Thomas, Signal Mountain; and Juanita Walter, 79 Shallowford Rd., Chattanooga.

GRADUATES: Lena Brammer, B.A.; Virginia Conn., B.A.; Marion Jones, B.A.; Elizabeth Landress, B.A. (honors in English and French); Kathrine Roberts, B.A.; Virginia Simmonds, B.S.; and Dorothy Wilbur, B.A.

Tennessee A members drove to the Settlement School at Gatlinburg to conduct the initiation of Miss Amy Burton. The visit was inspiring as well as interesting, and the girls returned home with a much better idea of what $\Pi \Phi$ is accomplishing.

Rather concerned with the unfriendly feeling existing between the fraternities last year, Tennessee A withdrew entirely from campus politics last fall. It was hoped that this step might lead to better feeling. The situation is already greatly improved, and it will be even better next year.

Elizabeth Landress had the leading rôle in "J'Invite le Colonel," and Grace Bickers and Elizabeth Thomas had parts in "L'École des Belles Mères." These were two hilarious comedies presented recently in French fraternity, $\beta \Pi \Theta$.

Marion Jones played the leading rôle in The Dover Road, which was presented by the dramatic society of the university.

Juanita Walter, 79 Shallowford Rd., has been elected rush captain for next fall.

INITIATED, March 3, 1930: Martha Posey, '31, Smyrna, Tenn.; Kathleen Scott, '32, Birmingham; Ruth Spearman, '32, Anniston, Ala.; and Blanche Tanner, '32, Birmingham.

GRADUATES: Margaret Blackwood, B.A., 240 N. 2nd S.W., Birmingham; Lucy Hanby, B.A., 3101 Clifford Rd., Birmingham; Virginia Hicks, B.A., 401 Princeton Ave., Birmingham; Virginia McMahon, B.S., 722 27th Pl. S., Birmingham; and Kathleen Scruggs, B.S., 429 Cotton Ave., Birmingham.

After the initiation of these four girls, a banquet was given in their honor at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. The feature of the evening was a huge pie from which each girl drew her fortune. Blanche Tanner was presented the pledge scholarship cup and Mrs. Marian Whiting received the scholarship ring.

A cooky-shine was given for Lucia Beddow, a late entrant, at which time she was pledged to $\Pi \Phi$.

The Amazons, an interfraternity club, recently elected Rosalind Jones and Kathleen Scruggs as new members.

Margaret Blackwood was elected to $\Pi \Gamma \Sigma$, national social science fraternity, and Kathleen Scruggs is now a member of $\Sigma \Sigma \Sigma$, honorary educational fraternity, and also $\beta \beta \beta$, national biological fraternity, of which Virginia McMahon is also a member.

Anita Van de Voort was elected by the students as one of the twelve beauties, six of them to be selected for the beauty section of the Læ Revue, the college annual.

During football season in the fall, Kathleen Scruggs was the only Birmingham-Southern girl elected as sponsor for the football team. This is quite an honor as there were only three sponsors for the team during the entire season.

Lucy Hanby, Virginia McMahon, Kathleen Scruggs, Margaret Blackwood, Blanche

Tanner, and Kathleen Scruggs were on the College Honor Roll at the close of the fall term.

The Delta Club, organized on the campus in the fall, has been granted a charter of K Δ, and is to be installed in April.

College Stunt Night is a big event at Birmingham-Southern. It was held on April 4 this year. Virginia McMahon was chairman of the senior stunt and Kathleen Scruggs, Virginia Hicks, Lucy Hanby, and Margaret Blackwood took part in the stunt.

The annual national Panhellenic luncheon was held on April 5 at Highland Park Country Club, at which time Mrs. Emily Newell Blair gave an address. Kathleen Scott represented Alabama A.

Alabama A celebrated Founders' Day in Chattanooga with Tennessee A. The two chapters drove to the Settlement School, arriving back in Chattanooga in time for the banquet the night of April 28.

The new pledges are planning a tea in honor of the pledges of the other fraternities, hoping in this way to inspire closer harmony with them.

The chapter has lost one of its most valued members in Blanche Tanner, who has left college on account of illness.

and Mildred Syverson, B.S., 4606 Capco Ave. S., Minneapolis.

With the new system of deferred rushing, those freshmen who make a C average during the first quarter are eligible to go through rushing the next quarter and be initiated before the end of that term. Because of this system a comparatively small number of freshmen went through rushing. Minnesota A was fortunate in pledging sixteen girls, one of the largest groups taken in. Minnesota A announces the pledging of the following girls: Helen Almars, Florence Ayers, Margaret Blakely, Jane Ann Carmen, Eunice Chapin, Mary Bell Darrell, Mirrian Jansen, Janet Kreidler, Wilhelmina Michelet, Betty Mullen, Marjorie Palmer, Ina Ramsey, Grace Thompson, Jean Todd, and Mary Ann Kimball.

Minnesota A was honored at the junior ball by having Marjorie Fleck fourth in line in the grand march.

The chapter has been busy this quarter with rushing, and introducing the new pledges. After pledging, the active chapter gave a tea dansant for the pledges, to which the pledges of all fraternities were invited. Several weeks later the actives entertained the pledges at a formal Valentine party. In return, the pledges entertained the actives at a Beaux Art costume party which was given at the chapter house.

Women's fraternities at Minnesota have been trying a new plan to further cooperation among the various groups. During the fall quarter, on Wednesday of every week, five girls from one house would go to some other house for lunch. In this way, each house had five visiting girls each Wednesday, and five of their girls were visiting some other house.

With the help of the mothers' club, several additions have been made to the furnishings of the chapter house. For Christmas the mothers gave the chapter a new love seat, a wall tapestry, several new pictures, and other things which have improved the house.

The rushing chairman for next year is Marjorie Fleck, 1109-5th St. S.E., Minneapolis, Minn.

Wisconsin A announces the pledging of Elizabeth Davis, Louisville, Ky.; Victoria Eilenberger, Chicago, Ill.; and Mary Tibbals, Winnetka, Ill.

Wisconsin A celebrated Founders' Day with a cooky-shine at the chapter house, to which the alumnae were invited. The active members entertained with a stunt.

Jane Cannon was elected senior representative on W.S.G.A. council, which makes her president of senior women, and also president of Keystone, an organization composed of all the presidents of women's organizations. Jane is also the head of the freshman division of Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Marjorie Platz and Catherine Roddis have been made transfer and membership chairmen of Junior Y.W.C.A. cabinet, Anne Kendall is the national student council representative.

Betty Woodard was on a sophomore shuffle committee and led it with the chairman.

Jane Cannon was also initiated into ΦB , the honorary speech fraternity.

At the initiation banquet, Eleanor Lloyd-Jones was awarded the scholarship ring, having made a straight A average.

The Crucible bridge held at the ΦM house furnished an opportunity for cooperation among the fraternities.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Horace Choje, assistant to Epsilon Province President in February, and received many helpful suggestions.

The chapter was greatly disappointed in having Julia Grosvenor and Sybil Coffin leave college during the second semester because of ill health.

Catherine Roddis, 818 East 4th St., Marshfield, Wis., has been elected rushing chairman for next fall.

Wisconsin B announces the pledging of Bonnie Butterfield, Rock City, Ill.

The chapter is very happy to report that both the pledge average and the active average decisively lead the campus scholarship list for both men and women's fraternities for the first semester of 1929-30. An all-women's fraternity scholarship cup which will become the permanent property of the women's fraternity ranking first for three consecutive years is an ever present incentive to working for grades.

Margaret Jorgensen, who is an assistant in the department of physical education, planned and put across a very clever pirate cabaret dance in which the specialty features were given by her clogging and tap-dancing classes, in costume. The affair was well patronized and the crowd thoroughly appreciated the innovation.

The college entertained for several weeks the Baron and Baroness Szankowski of Poland. The baron is an artist of note who was here for the purpose of painting the portrait of Dr. George Collie, curator of the famous Logan Museum. The baroness is an accomplished pianist. Dr. Collie's portrait is to be hung in the new Art Hall, which will be opened very shortly. It is a beautiful building, of Georgian design, and will house a fine collection. Beloit College will shortly have another new building also—a $100,000 recitation hall to be called Morse-Ingersoll Hall in honor of its donor, Mr. Charles Morse.

The chapter enjoyed a visit of inspection from Mrs. Choje, assistant to the Epsilon Province President. A supper sing was given for her and also a Panhellenic tea.

Beatrice Berg was recently elected treasurer of W.S.G.A.

Luella Burt, Helen Oelke, and Joyce Wadmond, are soloists with the Beloit College A Cappella Choir, a choir of forty men and women's voices singing entirely without accompaniment—which is now starting a concert tour to include approximately ten cities.

At a recent supper sing Wisconsin B entertained representatives from the Rockford (Ill.) alumnae club. The Beloit alumnae club, the Rockford alumnae club, and the active chapter celebrated Founders' Day together this year.

The chapter entertained Dean Luella F. Norwood, who is leaving Beloit College to return to Yale for thesis work, leading to her doctor's degree.

ΣX is the first fraternity on the campus to enter into the quadrangle plan proposed by the administration. Work is beginning on their new house, which is located one-half block north of the campus. $K \Delta$ has moved into a very attractive new house.

Luella Burt was in charge of the all-college women's banquet, an annual dinner of all the women of Beloit College, which was held March 12. Winifred Erickson and Betty Atkinson were on her committee.

Panhellenic relations on the Beloit campus are very happy, although no special effort is required to make them so. The organization always entertains for visiting officers of the various groups. This year it sponsored a ball for members of the four women's fraternities.

The rushing chairman for next year is Helen Oelke whose summer address is 121 W. Wesley St., Wheaton, Ill.

The alumnae were in charge of the Founders' Day celebration a banquet being held at the Dacotah Hotel. A special effort was made to have all alumnae in and near Grand Forks present. Ruth Hurlbut was in charge of the arrangements.

To inspire closer harmony with other fraternities local Panhellenic has adopted a plan of an exchange night once a month. On such a night the actives and pledges of a group are invited by other women's fraternities for a social hour from seven to eight. At the beginning of each year $\Pi \Phi$ pledges give a tea to all women pledges and non-fraternity freshman girls.

$\Pi \Phi$ is an accomplishing worth while things on the campus. Alice Palmer received the honor of being chosen to Who's Who. Leila Gunderson was chosen to be the delegate to the $\Phi X \Theta$ Convention to be held at Boston, Mass., next summer. Carol Miles Humpstone was elected to $\Pi A \Theta$, national honorary, educational fraternity for women; Sylvia Tastad to $\Phi B K$ and ΣX . Donna Hutton was one of the eight girls chosen for regimental sponsors. The four winners have not been announced yet. Dorothy Reichert is general volleyball manager and on the W.A.A. board of control. Jeannette Bollinger is the manager of junior volleyball. Mary Cayou played the leading part in the play, Barter by Urban Nagle, put on by the Newman Club. Five $\Pi \Phi$ Phis, Catherine Baker, Berneda Larson, Donna Hutton, Jeannette Bollinger, and Dell Scott played prominent parts in the ballet, "The Enchanted Princess" put on by the physical education department.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Chartered, 1928

Pledge Day, February 8, 1930

INITIATED, March 21, 1930: Frances Stuart, '32, Murray, Neb.; Helen Wallace, '32, Monmouth, Ill.; and Helen Jamieson, '32, Wapella, Iowa.

Illinois announces the pledging of Evelyn Peters, Pasadena, Calif.; Martha Madison, Kansas City, Mo.; Alice McDougall, Santa Anna, Calif.; Josephine Finck, Elgin, Ill.; Caroline Wright, Duluth, Minn.; and Margaret Jean Loehr, Monmouth, Ill.

The chapter is particularly favored in having in its midst one of the founders with whom to celebrate Founders' Day. Mrs. Clara Brownlee Hutchinson was the guest of honor. This year, as last, the alumnae chapters of Galesburg and Monmouth joined with the active chapters of Illinois A, Illinois B, and Illinois Δ in a formal banquet.

Shortly after spring vacation Illinois A entertained Illinois B chapter with a cooky-shine. In this way ideas for parties and rushing were exchanged, and many new friendships were formed.

In celebration of George Washington's birthday it is a tradition at Monmouth to have a formal, all-college banquet. At the banquet this year Illinois A was awarded the scholarship cup, having had the highest average of the three women's fraternities for the first semester. Since the chapter had won this trophy for three consecutive times, the cup now becomes the permanent possession of the chapter. At this banquet, also, Dr. T. H. Michael announced the fact that Monmouth College had been presented with a gift of $260,000, two hundred thousand.

ands of which is to be used for the appreciation of the Fine Arts. A gift for this purpose in a small college is very rare.

In the first week of March Mrs. Bernadine Sawers, Epsilon Province President, visited Illinois A. Several social functions were given in her honor, a cooky-shine by the alumnae advisory council, a formal tea by the chapter, and a dinner to which Mary Ross Potter, dean of women, and President Michael were invited. In order that Mrs. Sawers might become better acquainted with the campus and to inspire closer harmony with the other women's fraternities and men's fraternities a dinner was given to which were invited an outstanding representative of the six fraternities, the non-fraternity groups, and the Dean Cleland, dean of men.

Since such a very small percentage of the girls in Monmouth have the opportunity of belonging to fraternities, a new social fraternity has been organized, Θ X M. Illinois A was very glad to welcome this new women's fraternity.

National Collegiate Players presented as its three act play, Dear Brutus by J. M. Barrie. Mary Russell played the part of Mrs. Dearth.

Dorothy Laxson was tapped for membership in Σ O X, petitioning Φ B K. Floy Fetherston and Ruth Scheidegger represented Monmouth in the debate tournament at the national Π K Δ convention at Wichita, Kan. Y.W.C.A. has elected Floy Fetherston as president, in addition to this Elizabeth Winbigger and Kathryn Salisbury were chosen to be on the new cabinet. The chairman of the Program Committee for Crimson Masque for next year is to be Ruth Scheidegger.

The rushing chairman for next fall is Kathryn Salisbury, McMichael Dormitory, Monmouth, Ill.

GRADUATES: Ruth Lane B. A., Knoxville, Ill.; Lucille Tatman, B. A. Avon, Ill.; Elizabeth Thomas, B.S.; 173 Day St., Galesburg, Ill.; Catherine Townsend, B.S.; 1142 N. Broad St., Galesburg, Ill.; and Alice Ward, B.S., 31 Hill Ave., Elgin, Ill.

On Saturday, March 29, the Lombard Panhellenic association held a get-together luncheon at the Galesburg Club. Alumnae and actives from all the women's fraternities on the campus were present. After luncheon, toasts were given by an alumna from each group and each active chapter entertained with a stunt.

Illinois A, B, and Δ chapters, with their alumnae, celebrated Founders' Day, at the Galesburg Club, on Saturday, April 26. After the banquet, awards, in recognition of scholastic ability and outstanding pledge life, were presented to several members of each chapter. These presentations were followed by a series of clever stunts.

Illinois B is the proud possessor of the scholarship trophy for the first semester 1929-30. This trophy, which has been presented only once before, was given by President and Mrs. Davis to the woman's fraternity having the highest scholastic average. It will be the permanent possession of the fraternity which wins it three times.

The Lombard formal season was closed by a dinner dance given by Illinois B. The ballroom was decorated with black and white streamers and a pair of life size silhouettes hung at one end of the hall. A lighted Π Φ arrow hung over the orchestra pit. Many alumnae were present and Lois Harris was the guest from Illinois Δ .

The chapter was represented in the annual dance revue by Winifred Caldwell, Helen Davis, Lorena Fleisher, Ruth Fuller, Florence Hale, Harriet Hale, Mary Hale, Virginia Hinchliff, Mary Helen Hitch, Eleanor Inness, Elizabeth Oberg, Pearl Oberg, Neita Ray, Helen Renk, Wilma Rupe, Eloise Topping, and Helen Trego.

The rushing captain for next year is Helen Davis, 1155 E. Knox St., Galesburg. She will be assisted by Florence Hale and Virginia Hinchliff, also of Galesburg.

GRADUATES: Frances Andrews B.A., 220 E. Prospect, Kewanee, Ill.; Hortense Armbruster B.A., 121 Harrison Ave., Aurora, Ill.; Jeanne Godolphin B.S., Dongan Hills, Staten Island, N.Y.; Lois Harris, B.A., 486 N. Kellogg St., Galesburg; Louise Jarl B.S., 1536 Elmwood Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Margaret McWethy, B.A., 27 Calumet, Aurora, Ill.; Winifred Murphy, B.A., 4304 Hampton St., Western Springs, Ill.; Jane Owen, B.S., 725 Greenwood Ave., Wilmette, Ill.; Barbara Sinclair B.S., 57 North St., Galesburg, Ill.; and Ruth McHugh, B.S., 406 E. Central Blvd, Kewanee, Ill.

On April 26, Illinois A, Illinois B, Illinois Δ and the Galesburg alumnae club celebrated Founders' Day with a dinner at the Galesburg Club.

In the recent elections to Φ B K four members of Illinois Δ were chosen for membership in that society. Those to receive the honor are Frances Andrews; Jeanne Godolphin; Lois Harris; and Margaret McWethy.

In the scholarship report for the first semester of the year Π B Φ stood second among national women's fraternities on the campus with an index of 2.0694. The all-college index was 2.8199. Those members of Illinois Δ to receive an index of 1.5 or better were Frances Andrews, Jeanne Godolphin, Lois Harris, Margaret McWethy, Marion Christy, Janet Craig, and Janet Smith.

At the time of the installation of B B B, national honorary biological fraternity, Barbara Sinclair was initiated as a charter member.

In the cast of Is Zat So presented March 7 by the Knox Players, Alice Stevens had an important rôle. She played the lead in The French Doll which was given at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago before the Chicago Knox alumni club. Margaret McWethy, who also had a part in this play, was recently elected to Θ A Φ, national honorary dramatic fraternity.

Marion Christy was elected next year's Y.W.C.A. president. Lorraine Jones and Janet Smith are World Fellowship chairman and Discussion Group chairman, respectively. Marion Christy will be a delegate to the conference at Geneva.

A most happy and inspiring visit was made by Mrs. Sawers, Epsilon Province President, on March 3 and 4.

Illinois Δ was entertained at a bridge tea by Mrs. Stickney a patroness, and Miss Louise Harrington. Mrs. Smith, also a patroness, gave a dinner in honor of the seniors of the chapter.

On March 1, the chapter held its formal dance at the Galesburg Club. The decorations carried out the idea of an artist's studio with programs to represent artist's palettes. Representatives from the other women's fraternities and from the non-fraternity group were guests of the chapter.

Illinois Δ's rushing captain is Lorraine Jones, Whiting Hall, Galesburg, Illinois.

GRADUATES: Dorothy Sheard, B.A. 811 6th St., S.W. Rochester, Minn.; and Doris Chatfield, B.S., 1615 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Ill.

INITIATED, April 5, 1930: Maxine Boord, '31, 1408 N. Walnut St., Danville, Ill.; Dorothy Delscamp, '33, 2117 Ravenwood Ave., Dayton, Ohio; Marjorie Evers, '33, 1020 Sheridan Rd., Wilmette, Ill.; Miriam Gault, '33, Plainfield, Wis.; Winifred Hanan, '33, 133 W. Jefferson St., Macomb, Ill.; Elizabeth Herb, '33, 2713 Walnut Ave., Evanston, Ill.; Ramona Jennings, '33, 3344 Fulton St., Chicago; Jane Jones, '32, 306 Virginia Ave., Sturgis, Mich.; Mary Lynch, '33, 135 Melrose Ave., Kenilworth, Ill.; Evelyn McDowell, '33, 414-1st St., Minot, N.D.; Georgia Stange, '33, 2545 Logan Blvd., Chicago; and Helen Wageman, '33, 4314 Gladys Ave., Chicago.

Miss Onken arrived on February 13 for a short visit, and the chapter was very happy to have her.

The faculty and students of Northwestern were saddened by the death on February 28, of Professor Kaye of the English department. Mr. Kaye was one of the most beloved men on the campus, and his sudden death robs the university of a fine scholar, and faculty and students of a sincere and interested friend.

The chapter gave a bridge party on December 5 from which they made $130; this money was used for the piano fund.

On February 16, Illinois E pledged: Iris Emerich, '31, Casey, Ill.; and Lora Leydecker, '33, 3259 Clarendon Rd., Cleveland Heights, Ohio. On February 27 the following girls were pledged: Mary Virginia Draper, '33, 800 Greenleaf Ave., Wilmette, Ill.; Mary Moulton, '33, 129 S. 14 St., Albuquerque, N.M.; Mary Anne Mead, '33, 1300-15 St., Chilcothe, Ill.; and Virginia Frost, '33 359 Eugenia St., Lombard, Ill.

The W.A.A. Men's Union Show was a great success this year, with Ethel Finn as women's production manager, and Avis Lundahl, assistant. Louise Wood, Jean Carlson, and Ramona Jennings were the Pi Phis in the chorus, and Dorothy Delscamp was a member of the cast.

The fourth annual Student Congress was held on March 8, in Lincoln Hall on the McKinlock campus, several Pi Phis serving as delegates, from various campus organizations. The chapter is particularly proud of Dorothy Verges, who was elected co-chairman for the Congress of 1931; this year Dorothy served as Credentials Chairman.

Dorothy Verges was elected vice president of W.S.G.A. and Marion Fry is the new vice president for Y.W.C.A. Both Dorothy and Marion are outstanding activity girls.

The new rushing chairman for next semester is Alice James, 1304 Forest Ave., Wilmette, Ill.

Plans for the annual Northwestern Circus are rapidly being put into execution. The Circus is one of the major events of the year, and the campus is looking forward to it with great enthusiasm. For the past two years $\Pi \Phi$ has won first place for the best women's fraternity stunt, and hopes to win again this year. Several $\Pi \Phi$ are holding Circus positions. Marion Fry is head of publications, Dorothy Verges is chairman of Stunts, and Betty Brown is head of "The Barker" drive.

This year the chapter is planning to hold a rummage sale, the proceeds from which will be sent to the Settlement School. Also, the chapter is responding to the plea for books by sending a box of them down for the School library.

Carmel; and Emma Jane Shepherd, B.A., 403 W. Michigan, Urbana.

The long awaited Little Theater was formally opened on March 21, with the play, The Beggar on Horseback, which was presented again on March 22, 28, and 29. The theater is very well equipped and it compares in many respects to the Goodman Theater in Chicago. Ruth Breese was assistant director of the production; Betty Stoolman was chairman of the costumes; and June Whitson was chairman of the ushers.

Another college production presented on February 28 and March 1, was the annual musical comedy and fashion revue, French Heels, in which June Whitson was production manager. Betty Stoolman was chairman of costumes and played a major rôle in the cast. Alberta Lewis was also in the cast, and $\Pi \Phi$ was represented in the choruses and among the models by Barbara Jane Qualkinbush, Katherine Colp, Mary Hutton, Beth Olwin, and Mary Foster.

$\Lambda \Delta$, national freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, elected Alberta Lewis as the Grand Historian.

Illinois Z is represented in both the sophomore and freshman organizations of Women's League by Glenita Hobbs, officer in Gold Feathers, and Jean Webster, officer in Orange and Blue Feathers, Jean Webster is also on the junior swimming team, composed of freshman and sophomore women.

$\Sigma \Delta \Phi$, honorary public speaking fraternity, whose convention was held here, on April 11 and 12, gave its annual Curtin Raiser's banquet on April 11. June Whitson was chairman of this banquet to which prominent women on this campus and in town were invited.

Recent initiates into honorary fraternities are: Ruth Breese, $\Phi \tau \Theta$, honorary professional home economic fraternity; Beth Olwin and Elizabeth Hughes, Althenai, honorary literary society.

A much anticipated event on the campus this year was the Fine Arts ball, April 4. It was a portrayal of Catherine the Great's famous international Ball at which all of the countries were represented in costume. Besides the distinction of being the only woman on the committee, Betty Stoolman represented Catherine the Great in the pageant.

Lucille Triebel was appointed chairman of the Y.W.C.A. Cooky Day, and Glenita Hobbs was chairman of properties for the Y.W.C.A. Interscholastic Stunt Show, May 16 and 17.

The annual May Fête, given the week-end of Mothers' Day, May 9 and 10, was a Greek Festival honoring Flora, the goddess of spring. Many $\Pi \Phi$ participated.

Illinois Z entertained the faculty at tea, Sunday, March 30.

On Valentine's Day the fathers of Illinois Z presented a new combination radio and victrola to the chapter. The former victrola was donated to the Settlement School.

The annual formal dinner dance was given on March 15, at the chapter house.

Founders' Day, April 28, was celebrated by the chapter with a great deal of pleasure. There were several transfers present and many of the alumnae. Illinois Z was fortunate to have with her Mrs. Lois Stoolman, Grand Treasurer, and Mrs. Marie Freeman Palmer, national supervisor of chapter accounting.

Closer harmony with the other fraternities on the campus is promoted by Shi-ai exchange dinners. Illinois Z has made many new friendships in this way.

The new rushing chairman is Marybelle Kimmel, 371 East Poplar St., Du Quion, Ill.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: M'Lisse Snyder, Decatur, Ill.; Virginia Fullenwider, Collinsville, Ill.; and Melba Proctor, St. Louis, Mo.

Illinois H has been extremely proud of its pledges this year. The pledge chapter has formed a $\Pi \Phi$ chorus which has entertained at various city functions. The chorus assisted in the Decatur Y.W.C.A. musical comedy, Page the Prince. It has appeared in several recitals at the Conservatory. Mrs. Louise Helmick, vocal instructor at the Conservatory and a member of $\Sigma A I$ directs the chorus and has been instrumental in its success. Among the pledges is one $\Pi \Phi$ daughter and four $\Pi \Phi$ sisters. The furniture in all the upper rooms was painted by the pledges, and they purchased a new radio for the house.

Mrs. Bernadine Sawers, Epsilon Province President, visited the chapter from February 26 to February 28. This annual visit was enjoyed a great deal and she gave the chapter many new ideas for probation week, money making, and chapter management. Mrs. Sawers was at Millikin on the date of the annual Panhellenic banquet. Kathryn Reinhart was general chairman in charge of the banquet.

The members of the faculty and administration of the university were entertained at a Sunday night waffle supper, February 23. It proved to be quite a success, being a change from the ever frequent teas. The annual spring formal was held on March 22 at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Springfield, Ill. The junior prom was held on March 1. The pledges of $\Pi B \Phi$ entertained all other freshmen on the campus at an open house tea, April 6. The entire chapter held an open house tea dance, April 25.

The annual Founders' Day luncheon was given by the alumnae chapter, May 3. The guests were the actives and pledges of Illinois H and the Springfield alumnae club. The alumnae entertained the chapter at the annual house shower; a St. Patrick's Day party was given and the gifts to the house consisted of a new buffet, table linens, and glassware.

Illinois H received from Illinois Z very helpful suggestions and cooperation in planning a new form of probation week program. This year upperclassmen gave different talks to the initiates on vital phases of fraternity life, and the initiates were called on to talk on these topics at meals and at a joint meeting with the actives. Silence was observed the entire week. Initiation was held on Saturday afternoon, followed by a cook-shine in the chapter house. Late the same night the entire chapter joined in a serenade at all the fraternity houses.

Several methods have been used this year to promote closer harmony with other chapters on the campus. $\Pi \Phi$ has joined with $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, and $\Lambda X \Omega$ at exchange pot-luck dinners in the chapter houses. Millikin Panhellenic has also fostered a new system of exchange dinners between all the women's Greek letter organizations. Altogether the different groups on the campus are congenial as a result of such get-togethers.

Several forms of making money have been used for the benefit of the Settlement School. These took the forms of a sandwich sale and a candy sale at the college, and a bakery sale in the city business district. The alumnae club donated to the bakery sale and a nice sum was made.

Illinois H won second place in the Mil-lidek subscription contest. Virginia Holben was elected vice president of Y.W.C.A. Rushing chairman for 1930 is Virginia Holben, Edinburg, Ill.

The university was pleased with the performances of Twelfth Night and Hamlet by Ben Greet Players of Oxford and Cambridge, England, February 10.

GRADUATES: Muriel Beck, M.A., 210 E Ethelbert St., Winnipeg; Elinor Black, M.D., Ste 18 Eleanora Apts., Winnipeg; Jean Davidson, B.A., 71 Kingston Cresc., Winnipeg; Gwen Fullerton, B.A., 1040 Grasvenor Ave., Winnipeg; Evelyn Morris, B.A., 133 Garfield St., Winnipeg; and Christine

Turnbull, B.S., 178 Anderson Ave., Win-nipeg.

Following the initiation ceremony a formal banquet was held at the Fort Garry Hotel when the chapter entertained in honor of Mrs. Labarthe of Kansas, Mrs. Long of Ontario A and the new members.

Owing to Founders' Day coming in the middle of the final examinations the chapter had to celebrate it in a very simple way. Together with the alumnae club an informal dinner at the Antique Shop was held.

Upon several occasions the chapter had the pleasure of meeting members of North Dakota A and at installation in the fall a splendid opportunity was given for renewing friendship with them. In November six members of Manitoba A motored down to Grand Forks where they spent a very enjoyable week-end at the $\Pi \Phi$ house. This spring plans are being formed for a picnic to be held with North Dakota A half way between Grand Forks and Win-nipeg.

Every Sunday, tea was served in the chapter room to which the members and pledges were allowed to bring their friends. In this way a number of members of other groups on the campus have been entertained.

The rushing captain for the next season is Ieleana Hemphill, 208 Chestnut St., Win-nipeg.

In the popular co-ed election Ieleana Hemphill was elected Lady Stick of Arts. Florence Loucks, Marjory Richmond, Gwen Campbell were elected to Women's Self Government; Molly McClure is tennis representative on the athletic executive, Marjory Craig and Isabel Clark for Social Service.

Four new groups appeared on the campus in March: the national, $\Phi \Sigma \Sigma$; and three local, $\Theta P K$, $\Theta T \Phi$, and $\Sigma K \Phi$.

INITIATED, March 20, 1930: Marianna Carpenter, '33, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Lydia Dyall, '33, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Harriett Grant, '31, Chicago, Ill.; Helen Gray, '33, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Marie Oehler, '33, Moravia, Iowa; Waunita Wood, '33, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; and Mary Zerbe, '31, Iconium, Iowa.

Initiation this year took place at the country home of Mrs. Ben Seeley. A new plan of initiation in the afternoon followed by a dinner in the evening was tried and found very successful. The dinner at the home of Mrs. Calvin McCoid followed by a fraternity sing closed the eventful day.

Scholastically Iowa A is rising. For the first time in its history, the chapter had the highest grades in the Zeta province. The following were on the college honor roll for the first semester: Lydia Dyall, Marianna Carpenter, Lois Lockhart, Barbara White, and Frances White. Margaret Codington was initiated into $I \Phi$, local scholastic fraternity, and Frances White was one of the few straight A students on the campus. Iowa A is striving for the coveted scholarship cup to be awarded to the woman's fraternity having the highest grades for the year.

On Saturday, March 15, the chapter entertained their mothers and women of the faculty at a St. Patrick's tea at the Wall-bank home.

On Sunday, March 30, the pledges and new actives entertained the rest of the chapter at a waffle breakfast at the Leggett Hotel in Fairfield, Iowa. The trip was made in cars at the early hour of six-thirty.

In campus activities Iowa A is well represented. Elizabeth Wright, Marie Oehler, Josephine Rogers, Helen Gray, and Lois Lockhart made points in W.A.A. during the recent girl's basketball tournament. For the house council of Hershey Hall, Mary Zerbe, retiring president, was elected secretary and Elizabeth Wright, chairman of the dining room. In debate three Pi Phi's, Barbara White, Grace Wells, and Neva Stacy, have made up the girl's negative team, and are now eligible for $\Pi K \Delta$, national forensic fraternity. Barbara White, Helen Holland, and Grace Wells are cast for parts in Rose of the Southland, a three-act play presented. Barbara White, Frances Rich and Helen Holland are members of the speech fraternity, $A \Psi \Omega$. In connection with the Y.W.C.A. Helen Crane, as social chairman, had charge of "The Charm School," a class in etiquette in which seventy girls were enrolled. Frances Rich was the leader on "Color" at one of the eight sessions of the class. Both Helen and Frances together with Harriet Grant are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet for the coming year. Lydia Dyall, Marianna Carpenter, and Neva Stacy assisted in putting out the Freshman edition of the Wesleyan News. Grace Wells is on the staff of the Woofus, Wesleyan's humor magazine. Frances Rich was recently initiated into $K \Pi$ national art fraternity.

By careful budgeting Iowa A was able to give fifty dollars to Iowa Wesleyan College in the drive to raise $200,000.

INITIATED, March 22: Harriet Proudfoot, '33, Monroe, Wis.; Sara Story, '33, Des Moines, Iowa; Dorothy George, '31, Mitchellville, Iowa; Lola Frances Hubbard, '33, Old Hickory, Tenn.; Louise Huffard, '33, Des Moines, Iowa; Sara McCoy, '33, Indianola, Iowa; and Bertha Lewellen, '33, Shenandoah, Iowa.

The chapter announces the pledging of Lorraine Wells of Tabor, Iowa.

Iowa B is well represented in the usual campus activities. The women's intramural basketball season has ended most favorably for the chapter with $\Pi \Phi$ winning first place. Geraldine Roberts scored highest in the number of baskets.

Election for next year's officers in Y.W.C.A. has been held. Alice Henderson is the new president and Frances Emmons, vice president. Mary Elizabeth Sayre is the chairman of the social service committee for the coming year.

Jane Brooks was elected one of the four most representative women on the campus for the 1931 Zenith.

The chapter attended the Founders' Day banquet in Des Moines on April 28. Iowa A, Iowa Γ , and Iowa Z were also present. The program consisted of numbers from each chapter.

On March 17, a banquet, sponsored by the Panhellenic association, was given for all fraternity women on the campus or in the town.

The pledges entertained the actives at a very clever prisoner's party.

This is the second year that Iowa B has used a constructive probation. Both years it has been found to work perfectly with very desirable results. It is felt that the attitude of both pledges and actives toward probation is much better.

GRADUATE: Helen Goeppinger, B.S., Boone, Iowa.

Louise Kallenburg was pledged at the end of the winter term.

The $\Pi \Phi$ formal dinner dance was held at the Sheldun-Munn Hotel on February 2. Wine and blue flowers and silver tapers formed the table decorations. The men received hammered bronze ash trays.

Individual honors have come to several Iowa Γ Pi Phis. Shirley Wells was initiated into ΘN , national home economics honorary, and was elected president of W.S.G.A., for the coming year. The latter permitted Shirley to attend the national W.S.G.A. convention which was held at Pennsylvania State College in April. Margaret Jane Walker made Naiad, the honorary swimming fraternity. The opera, Robin Hood, to be presented during the spring festival, includes three Pi Phis in its cast. Margaret McDonald and Sarah Sawyer are two of the six campus beauties. Margaret was also chosen as one of the Iowa State College representative women, and has been nominated for May Queen. Margaret Wichman, Alice Leefer, and Anna Hager are to become members of a society, organized to petition $X \Delta \Phi$, national literary fraternity.

The only women's fraternity that is erecting a new chapter house, at this time, is $\Delta \Delta \Delta$.

Rovane, '32, Keokuk, Iowa; Virginia Shipper, '32, Sigourney, Iowa; and Virginia Wison, '31, Waterloo, Iowa.

A formal dinner preceded initiation on Thursday evening, March 20, 1930. Mrs. Leslie R. French (Carrie Watters) Iowa Z, and Mrs. Leonard West, (Jean Dayton) Iowa Z, motored from Des Moines to attend the initiation of Elizabeth French, daughter of Mrs. French.

During the past semester $\Pi \Phi$ has been well represented on Iowa campus. The university sponsored a Union drive to raise funds to complete the construction of the Iowa Memorial Union. Teams were organized and Ruth Simmons, Marion Diamond, Miriam Gamble, Lois Thornburg, Jane Cummins, Jayne Shover, Charlotte Kittredge, Margaret Boettcher, and Francine Lacey took an active part in the campaign.

The interfraternity council sponsored a bridge tournament. Three teams competed in the contest made up of Ethelyn Strickling and Marion Stebbins, Marion Diamond and Mariam Gamble, and Helen Joyce and Ruth Simmons.

In the last issue of Hawk Wings, a literary magazine published by the English department, there appeared a short negro story, "Half Dusk," written by Emilie Baker. Janet Thompson designed a linoleum block print for the cover and back of this magazine.

More honors came to Iowa Z when Alice Bond scored the highest number of individual points during the class swimming meet. Charlotte Kittredge and Jayne Shover represented $\Pi \Phi$ during the interfraternity debate contest. Janet Thompson was appointed assistant in the art department of the university elementary school. Eleanor Remely was in charge of the tea given in the honor of Mrs. Helen Wagner, director of home economics in the Des Moines' high school.

"The Dart," the annual chapter letter, was published under the supervision of Erma Scarborough and Lois Thornburg, and sent to all the alumnae of Iowa Z.

Founders' Day was observed by Iowa Z with a formal dinner at a nearby inn. The toast program, "Let the arrow mark a path of gold," was given by alumnae and active members of Iowa Z. The programs were booklets cut in the shape of golden arrows. Spring flowers and lighted tapers decorated the tables.

The following is a list of the Pi Phi that graduate this year: Lowene Barger, B.A.; Marion Diamond, B.A.; Jane Everett, B.S.; Mariam Gamble, B.S.; Ruth Simmons, B.A.; Ethelyn Strickling, B.A.; Janet Thompson, B.A.; Ruth Thompson, B.A.; and Lois Thornburg, B.A.

Jayne Shover has been elected rushing chairman for next year. Her home address is The Shomont, Monticello, Iowa.

South Dakota A held the initiation ceremony and banquet at the chapter house on March 1, Kathryn Peterson acting as toastmistress. Many alumnae were present for the ceremony and banquet. Alice Anderson was presented the diamond recognition pin, a present to the chapter by Mrs. Ruby Lusk, Oklahoma A, for having the highest scholastic average, and Marjorie Stickney was awarded the Symphony, for being the best pledge, which was presented to the chapter by Mrs. Helen Clark, District of Columbia A. The new initiates and pledges entertained the chapter at a breakfast on the following Sunday morning.

$\Pi \Phi$ has been well represented in campus activities. Cleo Johnson and Virginia Pier were chosen to membership on the girls' rifle team. Isabel Hegness is on the debate squad again this year. Margaret Brown is a member of the freshman basketball team. Genevieve Howe was elected to the Y.W.C.A. cabinet for the coming year. Virginia Pier and Kathryn Peterson played rôles in a French play sponsored by La Cercle Française, Evelyn Endreson was elected secretary of the Latin Club.

Josephine Stewart, Charlotte Cressey, and Kathryn Peterson have broadcasted several musical programs over KUSD.

Kathryn Peterson presented a sophomore recital in voice on April 27, assisted by Charlotte Cressey on the cello.

A Φ has commenced building a new chapter home and there are indications that there will be other new chapter homes on the campus next year.

The chapter is continuing to maintain the feeling of friendship with other fraternities and have entertained members of other fraternities at the chapter house.

Charlotte Cressey has been granted a fellowship to the University of Missouri for the coming year.

Alice Anderson has been chosen rushing chairman for the next year. Her address is 840 Kansas Ave. S.E., Huron, S.D.

Pledge Day, September 8, 1929

INITIATED, February 12, 1930: Ruth Fite, Richmond, Ky.; Elsie Kellogg, 420 E. 37th, Kansas City, Mo.; Imogene Hannah, Lexington, Mo.; Francis Maughs, Fulton, Mo.;

Marjorie Pfau, Monett, Mo.; Jean Phillips, 3745 Central, Kansas City, Mo.; Catherine Sharp, Macon, Mo.; Nadine Straube, Wells-ville, Mo.; Sarah Smith, Sweet Springs, Mo.; Francis Taylor, 6645 Brookside, Kansas City, Mo.; Pocahontas Thompson, Columbia, Mo.; Eleanor Waddell, Woodlea Hotel, Kansas City, Mo.; Virginia Ellen Wilkins, Mexico, Mo.; Pauline Wilson, 1901 Beech, Texarkana, Ark.; Mary Frances Schifflin, 503 Pecan, Texarkana, Ark.; Elizabeth Woolridge, Amarillo, Tex.; Mary Lane Williams, 6811 Brookside, Kansas City, Mo.; and Ruth Vincent, 5522 Crestwood Dr., Kansas City, Mo.

Missouri A announces the pledging of Bedonna Lingle of Bethany, Mo. The chapter is happy to have Maxine Wilson and Lucille Adams from Kansas A as affiliates.

Nadine Straube received the $\Pi \Phi$ scholarship ring which is awarded each year to the freshman making the highest grades. Ruth Fite and Ruth Vincent have scholarship averages high enough to make them eligible to $\Sigma E \Sigma$, honorary scholastic fraternity for freshman women.

Missouri A entertained with a formal dance on March 7 at the Columbia Country Club. The spring dance was given at the chapter house May 3.

The Columbia alumna club entertained the chapter with a cooky-shine at the chapter house on February 24.

Maxine Wilson was in charge of the Fashion Show sponsored by the department of journalism. Four members of the chapter, Margaret Louise Ott, Elizabeth O'Keefe, Valerie Smith, and Virginia Estes took part in the fashion show.

The Women's Panhellenic organization is very active on the campus. Once each month guests from other women's fraternities are entertained at the $\Pi \Phi$ house. The schedule is arranged so that guests from each women's fraternity on the campus will be entertained during the year. One interfraternity tea has been given at the house since Christmas, and the chapter house is always open for organization parties.

Missouri A celebrated Founders' Day jointly with Kansas A and Missouri I at a Founders' Day banquet in Kansas City.

The rush captain is Virginia Ellen Wilkins, Woodlawn Place, Mexico, Mo.

GRADUATES: Jane Baur, B.A., 14 Arundel Pl., St. Louis, Mo.; Virginia Costley, B.A., Carlinnille, Ill.; Elizabeth Hamilton, B.A., 5726 Jeffery, Chicago, Ill.; Elizabeth Hester, B.A., 67 Aberdeen Pl., St. Louis, Mo.; June Renoe, B.A., 6053 Pershing Ave., St.

Louis, Mo.; Elizabeth Sauer, B.A., Evansville, Ill.; and Wilda Van Gieson, B.A., 708 W. Powell, Fort Worth, Tex.

The chapter feels very fortunate in having had several girls elected to honorary societies. Marguerite Newton is now a member of A Z II, honorary language fraternity; Virginia Costley has been elected to the honorary Latin fraternity, E Σ Φ ; and Dorothea Pohlman is a member of Tanea. S. Marie Vaughan, and Mary McNatt have been elected to Freshman Commission.

Wilda Van Gieson was elected from the chapter to be on the committee to choose the daisy chain, and the maids for May Day. Missouri B has received two of the highest social honors on the campus. At the Junior Prom, March 7, Mary McNatt was Hatchet Queen, and Margaret Galt was special Maid of Honor.

The college League of Women Voters of Missouri held its annual conference at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo., in February. Delphine Meyer was elected president of the colleges' Leagues of Missouri for the coming year.

Panhellenic is considering second semester rushing for next year, but no definite decision has been reached.

In order to foster a warmer interfraternity spirit, Missouri B invited one member from each women's fraternity to the spring dance which was given on April 25.

Marguerite Newton and Marietta McIntyre played the leading feminine rôles in the last Thrysus dramatic production, and Betty Hamilton had the lead in the new play.

The rushing captain for next year is Marietta McIntyre, 5858 Cates Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Walnut, Springfield, Mo.

GRADUATES: Dorothy Anderson, B.A., 1055 S. Pickwick, Springfield, Mo.; Mary Martha

Booth, B.A., 926 E. Elm St., Springfield, Mo.; Marthell Burman, B.A., 619 E. Lynn St., Springfield, Mo.; Dorothy Chandler, B.A., Ash Grove, Mo.; Maurine Fuson, B.A., Mansfield, Mo.; Elizabeth Galt, B.A., 1602 E. Cherry St., Springfield, Mo.; Inez Gideon, B.A., 888 S. Campbell, Springfield, Mo.; Barbara Horton, B.A., 250 S. Dolison, Springfield, Mo.; Anabell Kerr, B.S., Crane, Mo.; and Violet Veerkamp, B.M., Neosho, Mo.

The alumnae of Missouri Γ gave a cooky-shine in honor of the new initiates immediately following the initiation. The program included original songs from the new initiates, $\Pi \Phi$ songs in chorus and the awarding of recognition pins, one to the girl among the pledges making the highest grades for the first semester, and one to the pledge voted by the chapter to be the best all-round pledge. Out of the Freshman tenth, composed of 10 per cent of the freshman class making the highest grades, were two members of Missouri Γ : Mary Elizabeth Shollenberger and Virginia Hogg.

Among other scholastic honors that have been received by Pi Phi is the most notable has been conferred upon Elizabeth Galt, who received a scholarship for a year's study in Paris. This is the first year that this scholarship has been awarded at Drury. Elizabeth has also been elected to $\Pi \Gamma M$, national social science honor society.

On March 22 the chapter entertained with a formal tea for the alumnae, patronesses, women faculty members, and $\Pi \Phi$ mothers. Missouri Γ is making plans for a spring formal to be given May 10. The interfraternity council is sponsoring a picnic to be given sometime before the close of college.

The girls' glee club made its annual tour. There were four Pi Phi who had charge of the specialties in the chorus. Mary Elizabeth Crouch is the accompanist for the club.

Dr. Arthur Fairchild, noted English professor from Missouri University, gave a most interesting lecture at Drury on the night of March 25. The next and last number of the Drury lecture course for this year will be given on April 23, by Dr. Cora Johnstone Best, staff member of the Bureau of Commercial Economics, at Washington, D.C.

The Panhellenic spirit at Drury has been unusually good this year due to the teas given every Wednesday afternoon by an organization on the campus. These teas are given for the whole student body, and they have been unusually successful in furthering good will among the different groups. The interfraternity council has encouraged this movement. This organization is composed of representatives from all the men's and women's fraternities on the campus.

The rush captain for next year is Martha Adams, 449 E. Walnut, Springfield, Mo.

ETA PROVINCE

NEBRASKA BETA—NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, September 21, 1929

A number of honors have come to Nebraska B within the last few months. Helen McAnnulty was elected to the presidency of the Y.W.C.A. She was also made secretary of K Δ , a Christian church organization. Sally Pickard was recently appointed to the membership on the A.W.S. board. She was chosen president of the Tassels, Nebraska's Pep organization for girls. Dorothy Weaver was made vice president of the W.A.A. Bunny Norris, Raye Robb, and Eleanor Foley were in the Sob Sister, the annual spring show of the Kosmet Klub. Alice Reader was invited to join the business honorary, $\Phi X \Theta$. Eleanor Foley took part in the last University Player's production, Enter Madame. Eloise Bradford and Marjorie Alters are members of the Westminister A Capella choir.

The freshmen entertained the upperclassmen at a dinner and dance. Each freshman accompanied an upperclassman to the gaily decked dining room. Green and black formed the motif for the futuristic decorations. The favors were crested pendants. After the dinner there was a dance upstairs.

The active chapter entertained the alumnae and mothers' club of $\Pi \Phi$ at a tea. This tea afforded a splendid means of meeting the mothers, alumnae, and girls.

GRADUATES: Alice Sutton, B.A., Houston, Tex.; Doris O'Donnell, B.A., Junction City, Kan.; Helen Layton, B.A., Wichita, Kan.; Betty Wilkinson, B.A., Kansas City, Kan.; Margaret Ryan, B.A., Kansas City, Mo.; Joyce Bleck, B.A., Okmulgee, Okla.; Virginia Power, B.A., Kansas City, Mo.; Margaret Seybold, B.A., Atchison, Kan.

The chapter pledged the following girls at mid-year: Nancy Jane Winchester, '33, Hutchinson, Kan.; Margaret Ruth Johnston, '32, Wichita, Kan.; and Louise Schmidt, '33, Kansas City, Kan.

For the second consecutive year a $\Pi \Phi$ has the lead in the W.S.G.A. musical comedy. Ruth Welty had the lead this spring. Harriet Ruth Mayer and Mary Margaret Starr sang a duet. Betty Timmons and Virginia Derby had speaking parts and there were five $\Pi \Phi$ s in the choruses. Lela Hackney and Louise Ladd were initiated into Pen and Scroll. Mary Kreamer is a member of the Jay Janes. Alice Frontron was assistant to the manager of the K. U. Carnival and was elected to be next year's manager. Alice Sutton is chairman of the Senior Breakfast committee. Betty Wilkinson is on the Senior Invitation committee and the Senior Cake Walk committee. Both Alice and Betty have been selected for the Hill Celebrity section of The Jayhawker. Betty has received a rifle sweater for expert marksmanship.

The Founders' Day banquet was held in conjunction with the Lawrence alumnae at the Eldridge Hotel in Lawrence. Virginia Hutson, Eta Province President, was present. Kansas A had an "at home" day for the Kansas City and Topeka alumnae on April 24.

The chapter was honored by visits from Margaretta Fenn, Assistant to the Grand President, and Virginia Hutson, Eta Province President, during the week of February 16 to 21. A tea and a formal dinner were given in their honor.

For the remainder of the year the chapter voted that each active must have six hours of supervised study, weekly.

A Panhellenic exchange dinner was held on March 6. Each woman's fraternity exchanged a guest with every other in order to inspire closer harmony among the campus groups. According to a new Panhellenic rule, spiking is now permitted during rush week.

The first all-university Wednesday night dance was held from seven to eight in the evening at the Memorial Union building under the auspices of the Union operating committee on April 2. These are given every week to advertise the Union building which is in need of funds to carry out its building program.

Marian Ringer, Paola, Kan., is the rush captain for next year.

dery, '33, Lyons, Kan.; Helen Culbertson, '31, Kansas City, Mo.; Maxine Fones, '33, Kansas City, Mo.; Kathryn Gillihan, '31, Galatin, Mo.; Mary Holton, '33, Manhattan, Kan.; Joan Lytle, '31, McPherson, Kan.; Helen Mangelsdorf, '32, Atchison, Kan.; Georgia McNickle, '32, Ashland, Kan.; Virginia Parker, '33, El Paso, Tex.; Dorothy May Schooler, '32, Kansas City, Mo.; Marjorie Stevenson, '33, Oberlin, Kan.; Ruth Strickland, '33, Manhattan, Kan.; Mary Washington, '30, Manhattan, Kan.; and Gertrude Weuster, '32, Beattie, Kan.

Kansas B is proud of the fact that the sixteen pledges of last fall made their grades and were initiated.

Dean J. T. Willard of the general science department has assumed the position of vice president of the college. His place as dean has been filled by R. W. Babcock of DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Margaretta Fenn, Assistant to the Grand President visited Kansas B on February 22 and 23 on her way to National Panhellenic Congress in Denver, Colo. The chapter was very much aided and stimulated by her short but delightful visit.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Violet Featherston, Manhattan; Dorothy Maltby, Canton; Mildred Smith, Augusta; Vera Smith, Manhattan; Marcia Jane White, Kansas City, Mo.

In the intramural swimming meet $\Pi \Phi$ won first place. Practice will begin soon for the baseball tournament.

Founders' Day banquet was celebrated April 28 with the alumnae at the chapter house.

$\Pi \Phi$ is entered in the interfraternity sing which is sponsored by $\Phi M A$. The song entered for competition is "Speed Thee My Arrow." This is the first time a contest of this kind has been attempted on this campus.

$K K \Gamma$ and $B \Theta \Pi$ are building new chapter houses this spring.

The annual spring formal was held on April 5. Rushees and representatives of other women's fraternities were guests.

Rush captains for next fall are: Ruth Helstrom, McPherson, Kan., and Helen Hughes, Manhattan, Kan.

$\Pi \Phi$ is a member of a third political party which was recently organized on the campus. In elections this party was successful in every office.

In the cast of The Nineteenth Hole presented by the Manhattan Theater were: Helen Culbertson, who played the lead, and Frances Simpson. Marcia Jane White was in the cast of Emperor Jones.

The chapter freshman scholarship cup was awarded to Gertrude Cowderf who maintained an A average.

Helen Hughes is the new Panhellenic president. Helen Randall has been elected vice president of the junior class. Juliana Amos is a member of the girls' rifle team and of Orchestis, honorary dancing.

MILDRED KINGSBURY

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Chartered, September, 1910
Pledge Day, April 3, 1930

INITIATED, January 18, 1930: Helen Hylton, '32, Douglas, Wyo.; and Dorothy McDonald, '32, Cheyenne, Wyo.

GRADUATES: Jean Binnie Warner, B.A., 238-29th St., Ogden, Utah; Sue Horton, B.A., Newcastle; Helen Corbett, B.S., 312 S. 10th St., Laramie; Helen Lane, B.A., 813 Sheridan St., Laramie; and Virginia Fitch, B.S., 1061 Grand Ave., Laramie.

This year, Wyoming A celebrated Founders' Day with members of the nearby alumnae clubs at a cooky-shine at the home of one of the members of the chapter. As part of the entertainment, the pledges gave a delightful stunt.

The annual Panhellenic dance was held last term at one of the country clubs. Almost every fraternity woman on the campus was present, and the party was acclaimed a great success by all. In the way of decoration, the lighted pin of each organization was hung on the wall, furnishing light instead of ceiling lights.

Every year the women's physical education department sponsors intramural contests. This year a basketball tournament and a swimming meet were held; the latter was won by $\Pi \Phi$. There were also intramural debates as preliminaries for the try-outs for the women's varsity debate squad. $\Pi \Phi$ is represented in debate by Alice Ellen Ford, who is touring the western states.

The University of Wyoming was fortunate this year in obtaining the headquarters for the biennial convention of the Associated Women Students of the western states, held here, on April 16, 17 and 18. Many Pi Phis were on important committees.

The annual Stunt Night was held the fourth week-end in April. This is the affair of the year at which the talent of the group is usually displayed.

The Wyo beauty contest was won this year by Helen Hylton. Elvira Agnew, one of the pledges was judged second. Mr. John Held, Jr., was chosen as judge. The winners were announced at the annual Wyo Ball, the proceeds of which were used towards the publishing of the university annual, the Wyo.

Margaret Grisinger was recently elected rush Captain for next year. Her home is in Casper, Wyo. Second year pledging is in effect this year for the first time, and it is hoped that it will prove as successful as freshman pledging has been in the past.

$\Pi \Phi$ was represented in dramatics again this past quarter when Nancy Burrage and Helen Corbin portrayed the leading characters in the play Aren't We All? Jean Warner sang between the acts.

ALICE ELLEN FORD

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 29, 1929

INITIATED, April 18, 1930: Erianna Cotton, '32, Boulder, Colo.; and Ruth Gates, '32, Denver, Colo.

By far the most inspiring event of the year was the visit of Miss Onken in February. With Miss Mary Frost, former Eta Province President, she dined informally with the chapter one Sunday and renewed many of the friendships of convention. The following week she came to the house again during the reception for the Panhellenic delegates but the charming informality and exclusiveness of her first visit was missed.

A silver loving cup graces the room of Eleanor Custance, Colorado A's delegate to the convention, and reminds her of the junior prom at which she was elected queen.

Similar honors came to Harriet Rice and Adeline Roehrig when the masked sheiks chose them with six others as the fairest of the fair at the Engineers' Ball, an Arabian affair.

In the annual operetta given by the University of Colorado Harriet Hopkins and Maxine Cooley had the comedy leads while Helen Scott, Dorothy Evans, Imogene Davidson, and Erianna Cotton danced in the chorus. Harriet Hopkins also had a leading rôle in the Players club production, Liliom. Polly Watson appeared in the same play.

The making of all the costumes of the operetta was done under the supervision of Alice Faller. In her corps of workers were Adeline Roehrig, Jean Gillespie, and Catherine Collins. Alice and Jean do most of the costuming of all the plays given on the campus.

Hesperia, the junior honorary society, pledged three Pi Phis: Jean Gillespie, Alice Faller, and Ruth Crissman.

Athletics have always been a stronghold of $\Pi \Phi$ and this year the basketball championship went to their team. Willa Wolcott made the senior team while Virginia Ellett played on the sophomore team.

On Founders' Day Colorado A joined with Colorado B in celebrating. This year Colorado B was hostess at a large banquet in Denver, but Colorado A contributed to the entertainment.

A new system of supervised individual study has been inaugurated here for honor students. By this system cutting is unlimited and comprehensive examinations abound.

Colorado A is looking forward to a very successful rush season this fall. Already a new pledge has been gained, Elmina Epperson, Denver. Alice Faller is the rushing captain. Her address is 2500 Colorado Blvd., Denver, Colo.

Downing St., Denver; Shirley de Spain, '32; Marjorie Hibner Fair, '31, 4801 Roanoke Rd., Kansas City, Mo.; Alberta Iliff, '31, 2145 S. Adams, Denver; Betty Jane Hughart, '33, 1655 Cook St., Denver; Janet Hering, '33, 1500 Detroit St., Denver; Dorothy Firebaugh, '33, 1324 Birch St., Denver; Mary Kendal, '33, 2334 Bellaire St., Denver; Mary Kircher, '33, 2214 E. 17th Ave., Denver; Doris Romig, '33, 1727 Gilpin St., Denver; Florence Shilcock, '33, 351 S. Race St., Denver; Laura Belle Stockton, '33, 1715 Elizabeth, Pueblo; Margaret Shattuck, '33, 2181 S. Clayton St., Denver; Mary Wilds, '33, 3025 E. Kentucky, Denver; and Betty Yelm, '33, 2070 Cherry St., Denver.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Lois Klein, Denver; Frances Eleanor Buck, Denver; and Gretchen Muth.

Colorado B was most fortunate in having Miss Onken conduct the initiation service. This event was made possible by the fact that the National Panhellenic Conference was held in Denver at that time. To make the joy of the occasion even greater every pledge made her average, and seventeen girls were thus initiated, a record for the chapter. Miss Onken's short visit was more than enjoyed and appreciated by everyone.

A general feeling has pervaded the campus to better the co-operation and attitude toward other fraternities. Each month Colorado B entertains another fraternity at dinner in a rotating plan which has been put in progress by the Panhellenic council. In February $\Delta \Phi E$ was the guest, and as a feature of entertainment a fashion show was put on by a local dry goods store. Queerly enough, the same evening fifteen pounds of candy were passed, which greatly increased the fun of the evening.

The newly elected rushing chairman is Gwendolyn Highburger, 2060 Dahlia St., Denver.

On April 4, Alice Aronson, Blanche Calkins, and Ruth Haines were pledged to Kedros the honorary scholastic fraternity and the highest honor a woman may receive at the University of Denver. This organization is equivalent to $\Phi B K$.

As an item of interest the fact that nine Pi Phi's took part as delegates to the Model League of Nations Assembly, which was held in Denver in February, and was sponsored by the Colorado universities is significant of the activity of the fraternity in the west.

To give a fitting close to the fraternity activities of the year, Colorado B and Colorado A celebrated in conjunction the annual Founders' Day banquet at the Wellshire Country Club on April 26. An interesting program was closed with stunts given by each chapter.

GRADUATES: Olive Snyder, B.A., Oklahoma City, Okla.; Elizabeth Amis LeHew, B.S., Pawnee, Okla.; Martha Lou Johnson, B.S., Ardmore, Okla.; Mildred Clark, B.A., Oklahoma City, Okla.; Faye Foushee, B.F.A., Stroud, Okla.; Tacy Boory, B.S., Brownsville, Tex.; Mary Taliaferro, B.A., Madill, Okla.; Marguerite Kennedy, B.S., Enid, Okla.; Mildred Brown, B.A., Duncan, Okla.; Jane Bowman, B.S., Pauls Valley, Okla.; Lady Percy Shaw, B.S., Ada, Okla.; Loraine Hollis, B.A., Ponca City, Okla.; and Peggy Jamieson, M.A., Ponca City, Okla.

Founders' Day banquet, through the annual courtesy of the Oklahoma City alumnae club was held at the University Club in Oklahoma City, with Oklahoma A and B attending. A stunt from each chapter and talks from a representative of each group supplemented the program of inspiring $\Pi \Phi$ talks and toasts. The banquet, in all appointments typically $\Pi \Phi$, was a lovely tribute to those esteemed founders of the Fraternity.

Oklahoma A had as their guests six members of Oklahoma B who convened with that number of A chapter actives in an effort to promote more effective and harmonious rushing. The joint meeting yielded a highly organized rushing plan. One of the points is that a list of the prospective fall rushees of each chapter is exchanged in the spring, in order that the members of each chapter may have the privilege of looking over the girls rushed by the chapter, during the summer months.

Gail DeWolf and Mrs. Lutzer Stark, Theta Province President, have been the guests of Oklahoma A.

The spring house party, April 4-6, was a "Trip around the World." This idea, used last year, has been decided upon as the permanent theme for this annual affair. The chapter house is converted into a ship, with a gang plank, passports, and gobs lending color. The various meals and entertainments include the following: dinner on deck; pirate party; breakfast in Holland; modernistic Parisian luncheon and style show, followed by a bridge; a Spanish dinner; Hawaiian party; Chinese breakfast and New Orleans dinner. The favors of the house are make-up boxes.

The annual state drama conference is of especial interest to Oklahoma because it marks the presentation of the first original three-act play, written by a play-writing student of the department of dramatic art and is the first publication of its kind attempted by the University Press. Faye Foushee appeared in the cast of the play, which is A Certain Young Widow by John Woodworth.

Olive Snyder, a spring graduate, was elected to Φ B K.

Ragna Pearce, Pauls Valley, Okla., is the official rush captain for Oklahoma A.

INITIATED, March 29, 1930: Fay Selph, '32, Stillwater, Okla.; Helen Bledsoe, '33, Hugo, Okla.; Maxine Brier, '31, Guthrie, Okla.; Dorothy Callahan, '32, Ponca City, Okla.; Raymona Carl, '31, Chickasha, Okla.; Marjorie Giacomini, '31, Sulphur, Okla.; Imogene Kilgore, '31, Nowata, Okla.; Margaret Kygar, '32, Ponca City, Okla.; Clarice Orton, '31, Pawnee, Okla.; Dorothy Otey, '33, Stillwater, Okla.; Mary Elizabeth Pettigrew, '30, Chickasha, Okla.; Paula Powell, '31, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Beulah Riner, '32, Nowata, Okla.; and Betty Jean Young, '33, Cushing, Okla.

Gail DeWolf, Grand Secretary, very graciously held initiation for the chapter. Following the service the members entertained in honor of Miss DeWolf, the new initiates, and alumnae, with a formal banquet. Wine and Blue was the color scheme carried out in all appointments. Wine and Blue carnations were placed at the plates as favors. The diamond recognition pin, given to the freshman making the highest average, was awarded to Helen Bledsoe.

Oklahoma B's housemother, Mrs. C. M. Noble, was injured in a fall several weeks ago but is recovering rapidly.

Π Φ had ten girls on the list of distinguished students sent out from the dean's office. This list is made up of students making an average of B.

The W.S.G.A. held an all-college pageant for women students on May 15 at the Stillwater Lake. Stunts, music, and athletic contests made up the program.

An Interscholastic meet was held on May 1 to 3, inclusive, and all women's fraternities gave innumerable rush stunts and parties.

Z T A has just moved into their new home and held an open house for the public on April 13. Σ X has let their contract for a new $50,000 home.

INITIATED, February 22, 1930: Josephine Baker, '31, Okmulgee, Okla.; Maurice Benton, '32, Minden, La.; Catherine Bridenthal, '33, Fayetteville; Dorothy Bruce, '31, Fort Smith; Miriam Clark, '33, Fayetteville; Mary Frances Drake, '33, Fort Smith; Margaret Eldridge, '33, Forrest City; Helen Fulbright, '33, Fayetteville; Roberta Fulbright, '33, Fayetteville; Jewell Kinard, '32, Junction City; Geraldine Musselman, '32, Rogers; Isobel Nelson, '33, Fayetteville; Frances Pope, '33, Camden; Anne Louise Powell, '33, Fort Smith; Mildred Tobin, '32, DeQueen; Betty Tolson, '33, Fort Smith; and Ynez Whilton, '33, Fresno, Calif.

GRADUATES: Josephine Barrett, B.A., Fayetteville; Mary Earle, B.S.H.E., Fayetteville; Martha Hathcock, B.A., Fayetteville; Katherine Jackson, B.A., Arkadelphia; Ruth Reagan, B.A., Minden, La.; and Harriet Wall, B.A., Marianna.

The chapter entertained for Mrs. Lutzer Stark, Theta Province President, with a tea at the chapter house on February 7. Faculty members and members of other fraternities were guests. On February 8, Mrs. Martin Nelson, a Π Φ mother, entertained at a luncheon honoring Mrs. Stark and members of the Fayetteville alumnae club.

Arkansas A is very happy over the recent purchase of a lot on which the chapter hopes to build a fraternity home in the near future.

The Pi Phi annual spring dance was held in the women's gymnasium on March 21. Guests from all fraternities on the campus were present and the gymnasium was decorated for the occasion with ferns and wine and blue streamers.

The chapter observed Founders' Day with a banquet served by the Fayetteville alumnae club.

One of the outstanding honors of the year on this campus came to Arkansas A in the selection of Mary Earle as Agri Queen. She ruled over the festivities of Agri Day, which is an annual affair at the university.

Martha Hathcock, Geraldine Mussleman, Anne Louise Powell, and Mildred Tobin were chosen as R.O.T.C. sponsors for the past semester.

The Women's League entertained with a scholarship banquet at the Mountain Inn on April 7. Guests of honor were freshmen women who made a 3.5 grade average or above and the three upperclass women from each fraternity who held the highest grade average. $\Pi \Phi$ freshmen who attended were: Isobel Nelson, Helen Fulbright, and Ynez Whilton. Other $\Pi \Phi$ guests were Clarrene Tribble, Mary Jane Tribble, Christine Nelson, and Josephine Barrett, secretary of the organization.

The Blackfriars of the University of Arkansas sponsored a Little Theater Tournament on March 28 and 29. Three senior and four junior colleges were represented and Texas Christian University won the cup award. $\Pi \Phi$ members of Blackfriars are: Clarrene Tribble, Isobel Nelson, Christine Nelson, and Martha Hathcock.

The basketball season was a highly satisfactory one to Arkansas basketball fans. For the fifth consecutive time the team won the Southwestern Conference championship. Three members of the team were selected for the all-Southwestern Conference five. Wear Schoonover was given a place on College Humor's second all-American basketball five by Les Gage, sports editor.

Arkansas A announces the pledging of Temple Wall, Marianna; Margaret Irby, Earle; and Travis Bomar, Little Rock.

Frances Pope of Camden, Ark., has been elected as rush captain for next fall.

The Founders' Day banquet was held in conjunction with the Austin and San Antonio alumnae clubs. The chapter entertained with a five-course formal dinner at the Austin Club. The banquet table was decorated with blue bonnets, the native Texas flower, and a silver blue motif was carried out through the entire club. Dresden dolls in wine and blue were given as individual favors. The pledge stunt was entitled "Love Through the Ages," and the active's entertainment included various clever skits.

Texas A will be in charge of the Theta province convention which will be held in Galveston this summer. Galveston is Texas' summer resort near Houston on the Gulf of Mexico. Many visitors, including alumnae and active members of Theta province, are expected to attend the convention from June 11 to 14. Plans are being perfected now, and everyone is looking forward to this event.

The chapter has taken a great interest in the Panhellenic this year, and has submitted several very favorable plans. The girls in the house have co-operated in inspiring close harmony with other fraternities by asking the other girls over for luncheon and dinner, and to informal bridge parties occasionally. The other fraternities have been invited to $\Pi \Phi$ parties that have been given this year.

A benefit bridge was given Saturday, March 29 at the new Austin Club. It was given for the benefit of the Settlement School, and eighty dollars was taken in. There were 200 guests, including representatives from other men's and women's fraternities.

The university planned a Texas Round-up, for the purpose of bringing back the ex-students for the opening of the new gymnasium. On April 11, there was a large hall in the new gymnasium, where the candidates for beauty page, and the "Sweetheart of Texas" were presented. The chapter co-operated with the university in corresponding with the alumnae. Texas A held a series of luncheons and dinners for the many guests.

Mrs. Lutchter Stark, Theta Province President, has made many visits to Austin this year including rush week and the regular visit on January 15. The chapter enter; tained Mrs. Stark with a tea, introducing her to the faculty, alumnae, and patronesses. The color scheme was orchid and green, and the center piece was orchids and sweet peas.

Gail DeWolf, the Grand Secretary, visited the chapter. Miss DeWolf arrived on March 22, and stayed two days. The chapter entertained for her with an open house to which the alumnae and guests from other fraternities were invited. During Miss DeWolf's visit, a cooky-shine was given for the new pledges.

Texas A had a very successful rush week with Evelyn Gay in charge. The twenty girls pledged are: Margie Bright, Jerome Cartwright, Ethel Childress, Nell Colgin, Emma Jane Edge, Mary Kennedy, Mildred Kidd, Dorothy Lucker, Mary McFadden, Louise Morrel, Virginia Nalle, Maude O'Connor, Evelyn Pridgen, Dorothy Richey, Margaret Smith, Charlotte Strong, Laila Wallace, Mary Webb, Marcia Wilson, and Frances Wright.

The chapter announces the pledging of the following girls: Emmy Neil Stroud, Corsicana, Tex.; Elna Wilkerson, Ft. Worth, Tex.; Mary Julia Waller, Dallas, Tex.; E. E. Miller, Wichita Falls, Tex.; and Betty Aldredge, Dallas, Tex.

Gail DeWolf, the Grand Secretary, visited Texas B on March 25 and 26. A tea was given in her honor at the home of Betty Aldredge.

For the first time Texas B has entered the basketball tournament played between the women's fraternities on the campus. All pledges and initiates were required to come out for practice, and from this group a very good team was organized.

Virginia Meador was nominated by the student body for secretary of the Student Association for the year 1930-31. Virginia is well known on the campus because of active part taken in college activities.

The Model League of Nations' Conference was held at S.M.U. during the week of March 24-29. Representatives from all of the colleges of Texas and from a few of the other states were present. Each college represented a country of the League of Nations, and different committees were formed from these representatives.

LOUISIANA ALPHA—SOPHIE NEWCOMB COLLEGE

Chartered, 1891

Pledge Day, October 10, 1929

GRADUATES: Nellie Mae Bartlett, B.D., 5352 Coliseum, New Orleans; Flora Hardie, G.A., 1335 Henry Clay Ave., New Orleans; Jane Hayward, B.A., 2035 Octavia St., New Orleans; and Adele Jahncke, B.D., 1823 Palmer Ave., New Orleans.

The annual Founders' Day banquet took place on April 28 at the Bienville Roof. There were many there from the alumnae, as well as the active chapter and pledges. Elizabeth Lewis was in charge of the stunt, which was a pantomime. There were speeches from the alumnae, actives, and pledges.

Louisiana A gives suppers every other Sunday night. Representatives from the other fraternities at Newcomb are frequently invited. The pledges entertained recently at a dansant in honor of the active chapter. It was a very lovely affair, and there were representatives from each of the other fraternities.

A time old custom in Louisiana A is to entertain at a "stunt party" for the other Newcomb fraternities at their annual Easter house party on the Gulf Coast. Each fraternity does a stunt, and a prize goes to the winner. The chapter believes that by meeting other fraternities on these grounds, and also by being democratic and friendly on the campus to other fraternities' girls a closer harmony is obtained.

The rushing captain for next year is Nancy Allen, 1015 S. Carrollton Ave., New Orleans, La. In the recent college elections Betty Werlein, of Louisiana A was made president of the student body, and Margaret Henriques and Nancy Allen were both among the nominees for the president of the art department. Betty Werlein was king of the Newcomb May Day, and Eleanor Robertson, Alba Richardson, Nancy Allen and Margaret Henriques were among the Pi Phi's in the cast. Ann Spivy was made council member of the dormitory.

According to the new rushing rules of the Newcomb Panhellenic, there is to be no summer rushing whatsoever. There will be formal rushing a few weeks before the opening of college in the fall, with a house party on the Gulf Coast. By cutting down the rushing season and incidentally the expenses of rushing, it is believed that the smaller fraternities at Newcomb will have a better chance.

The Newcomb art department was the center of interest on April 5, when the Southern States' Art League visited the university. There was an exhibition of the work of the students, and of the crafts, followed by a reception. Artists from all over the south were present.

MONTANA ALPHA—MONTANA STATE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND MECHANIC ARTS

Chartered, September 30, 1921

Pledge Day, September 28, 1929

INITIATED, March 1, 1930: Sarah J. Barringer, '33, Billings, Mont.; May Burkart, '32, Glendive, Mont.; Alice Gardiner, '33, Anaconda, Mont.; Elsa Hendrickson, '33, Billings, Mont.; Constance Holm, '33, Bozeman, Mont.; Marjorie Little, '32, Butte, Mont.; Edith Waterman, '33, Bozeman, Mont.; and Betty Wesch, '32, Billings, Mont.

GRADUATES: Lois Cobleigh, B.S., Bozeman, Mont.; Helen Cornwell, B.S., Lewistown, Mont.; Flora Davis, B.S., Bozeman, Mont.; Martha Flynn, B.S., Deer Lodge, Mont.; and Elizabeth Gardiner, B.S., Anaconda, Mont.

Montana A initiated all but three of its pledges on March 1. Four of the initiates, Betty Wesch, Alice Gardiner, Edith Waterman, and Elsa Hendrickson, are $\Pi \Phi$ sisters. A very impressive banquet at the Baxter Hotel followed the initiation ceremony.

Mrs. Frank Douglass, Iota Province President, visited Montana A on her way home to Seattle from a trip to Cuba and the east. During her visit, a formal banquet was given at the chapter house in honor of Mrs. Douglass and of Mrs. R. E. Brown, of Bozeman, who had given to Montana A a beautiful set of china.

The Tormentors presented Mary Rose, by James Barrie, in February. Elsa Hendrickson played very creditably the part of Mary Rose, and Lora Brown the part of Mary Rose's mother. Helen Oliver designed and made the scenery for the second act. Edith Waterman, Marjorie Little, and Helen Cornwell took part in the Looters' musical comedy, Queen High, which was presented in March.

Esther Bowman assisted in directing a style show that was given by the M.S.C. home economics department at the Baxter Hotel during State Farm and Home Week in February. Regina Danicich, Alice Gardiner, Lora Brown, and Kay Rivers were models.

Lois Cobleigh, Helen Cornwell, and Flora Davis were elected to $\Phi \kappa \Phi$. Margaret Souders was elected to $\Delta \Phi$, local honorary are fraternity. Sarah Barringer tied for first place in the swimming meets conducted during March. Margaret Souders is chairman of a college song contest being sponsored by A.W.S. Elizabeth Seitz and Helen Eagle were elected to the Associated Women Students' Council for next year as vice president and historian of A.W.S., respectively.

The representatives of $\Pi B \Phi$ on the Panhellenic Council for the ensuing year will be Esther Bowman and Lora Brown, of Bozeman, rushing chairman. A new local Panhellenic ruling requires that those members of the women's fraternities who live at the chapter houses must have retired by 11:00 P.M. on all nights during the week except Friday and Saturday.

During the state high school basketball tournament, held at Montana State College in March, a contest was conducted among the men's and women's fraternities for house decorations. The $\Pi \Phi$ house, decorated with many kaleidoscopic oilcloth pannants and a host of multi-colored lights, captured first prize for the women's fraternities.

Each year Montana A entertains at the chapter house at an interfraternity dinner, to which each active and pledge invites a member of another women's fraternity on the campus. Besides this, the house members of Montana A entertained the house members of $X \Omega$ at dinner a few weeks before Christmas this year, and afterward the two groups joined in a Christmas carol senerade. The members of Montana A of $\Pi B \Phi$ and of Montana A of $\Sigma A E$ attended the First Presbyterian Church in a body one Sunday in February, following an annual custom.

On Founders' Day, a cooky-shine was given at the chapter house for the actives, pledges, and alumnæ. A special feature of the menu was a large cake, shaped like an arrow, with white icing and wine and blue candles, and bricks of vanilla ice cream on which had been molded colored whipped cream orange (gold) arrows. Following the cooky-shine everyone joined in a "sing" and a short program honoring the occasion.

Marjorie Hertsche was initiated into all-University Players and was given the lead in the recent all-University plays The Vegetable and Wife of Joane and was also assistant director for The Inspector General. Marjorie Douglas was given the feminine lead in the spring opera "Robin Hood" presented in May. Vivian Downey was secretary of the state high school basketball conference, held in the University Pavilion on March 10-14. Katherine Gibbons and Virginia Van Amburg were on the freshman dance committee and Mildred Reily is on the committee for the Cadet Ball which is the all-university spring formal.

On March 13 to 18 the chapter was visited by Mrs. Frank Douglas, Iota Province President. A tea was given in her honor on March 15.

There is a great deal of building going on on and around the campus, the new Guggenheim Hall just being completed and Johnson Hall which will be a biological laboratory being constructed. Work has just begun on a new K K I house and the A T U house has just been completed.

In an all-university beauty contest of girls from the entire campus, Virginia White was chosen as one of the ten leading beauties. The winning blond and brunette are to be featured in the university annual this year.

The chapter announces the engagement of May Sievers to Allan Love, Jr., $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$.

Steele, Tacoma, Wash.; and Mildred Ley, '33, Box 764, Wapato, Wash.

GRADUATES: Helen Glaser, B.A., W. 108 Fairview, Colfax, Wash.; Catherine Franzen, B.A., 416 Hanna, Aberdeen, Wash.; and Marie Jacobsen, B.A., 301 W. 6th, Ellensburg, Wash.

Washington B was greatly honored on having one of the founders, Mrs. Inez Smith Soule, present at formal initiation. Her visit was in celebration of the initiation of her granddaughter, Leonore Brown. Mrs.

Soule was guest of honor at the formal initiation banquet and at a fireside given in her honor, the evening of March 2, when she told the actives and the alumnae of the early days of the fraternity.

At the close of the official rushing season, Washington B pledged the following girls: Margaret Bardsley, Geraldine Morris, and Jean Davis, Spokane; Nettie Berreman, Walla Walla; and Ruby Goodpasture, Olympia.

During the fall semester $\Pi \Phi$ rose in scholarship to fifth among women's fraternities on the campus. Strict scholarship rules have been adopted, with first place as the goal. Helen Cleveland and Frances Appel have been elected to $\Pi \Lambda \Phi$, national educational honorary. Helen is also a member of $\Pi \Gamma M$, social science honorary. Hazel Ellis has been elected to $M \Phi E$, musical honorary fraternity.

The chapter is active in Y.W.C.A. this year. Kathleen Lynch was elected president. Wilma Siepman is on the associated women's students committee for Mothers' week-end and was on the committee for the Advertising Club style show. Hazel Ellis is chairman of one of the committees for the new college song book. This book is to contain college songs, favorite songs of the groups, and outstanding songs of western colleges. Six of the Washington B girls took part in dance drama this year: Kathleen Lynch, Betty Bement, Helen McEachran, Jane Dunning, Margaret King, and Hazel Ellis.

Elizabeth Shaaf had the lead in the all-college play, Holiday, directed by E. Cynthia Larry. Evelyn Schutz had a minor part, and was elected the circulation manager of the Chinook, the college yearbook. Katherine Franzen was property manager for Ten Nights in a Bar Room.

This year's new girls and seniors redecorated the sun room with new drapes, hooked rug, and newly painted furniture with seat pads. A beautiful new green carpet for the stairs was given to Washington B by the Spokane mothers' club and the Seattle alumnae.

Outstanding social events included a costume dance, "Ring Ching Circus," and the spring formal. The decorations were carried out in colored lights and daffodils.

GRADUATES: Nancy Chipman, B.S.; Margaret Clark, B.A.; Lou Ann Chase, B.S.; Grace McKeown, B.A.; Bessie Davie, B.A.; Beatrice Milligan, B.A.

One of the outstanding social functions of winter term was the formal dance given at the Eugene Hotel on February 15. A big, wine colored heart and golden $\Pi \Phi$ arrow "always pointing upward," with a shiny, blue curtain as a background, carried out the Valentine motif. A trio, singing popular songs, was featured during the dinner hour.

Oregon A had the $\Sigma \Omega$ fraternity over for coffee on February 18. On March 8, $\Pi \Phi \Theta$ played a basketball game with K A Θ in the Women's Gymnasium. The players arrived at the game ridiculously garbed in formal evening gowns with basketball outfits underneath. The Pi Phis were victorious.

A number of prominent girls on the campus were invited to a formal dinner given by Oregon A, at the chapter house, to meet Mrs. Dorothy Douglas, Iota Province President, Saturday, April 5.

The annual Founders' Day banquet was held on April 28. All the active girls and many alumnae were present.

The chapter donated a silver loving cup to be given, each year, to the woman's fraternity that sings the Oregon songs best in the annual song contest. It was decided that the cup was to be given, permanently to the house which wins the cup three successive years. $\Pi \Phi$ won the cup for having received it the last three years.

Founders' Day banquet was held on April 28, 1930. The alumnae, active members, and pledges met at the chapter house. Toasts were given which impressed upon all the wonderful opportunities that were opened by the founders of $\Pi \Phi \Theta$.

The chapter invites to dinner or luncheon, girls from other women's fraternities to help break down the barriers between the social organizations, and to become better acquainted with one another.

The rushing chairman for next season is Estora Ricks, 1710 Stanton St., Portland, Ore.

Betty Robley has been elected president of the associated women students, the highest woman's office on the campus. She represented the college at a conference in Laramie, Wyo., in April. Though only a junior, Betty has been a member of the most important campus committees, among which have been the junior prom, co-ed ball, all-college tea, and Mothers' Week-end. Last year she was chosen as the most outstanding sophomore girl on the campus.

California A announces the pledging of the following girls: Barbara Balfour, South Pasadena; Jean Carson, Berkeley; Marion Hewlitt, San Francisco; Louise Hudson, Watsonville; Martha Inge, Sedalia, Mo.; Virginia Ingram, Oakland; Marion Jones, Piedmont; Gordon Kelly, Fort Smith, Ark.; Elizabeth McCullough, Pasadena; Anne Ohnhaus, Cheyenne, Wyo.; and Elizabeth Watson, Piedmont.

A very thrilling thing happened on the campus. The Axe, which was the Stanford symbol to be displayed on the night of the Big Game rally, was stolen by the University of California thirty-one years ago. This Axe was regained by a group of Stanford men at its yearly display at Berkeley. At all other times the Axe had been kept in a vault by the California men and the fact that they have had it has been a bone of contention between the two universities for a number of years.

The chapter gave an Apache dance on March 8. The house was decorated by Harriet Sutton who is quite a talented artist. Some of her drawings for stage sets were displayed in the Theatre Magazine. Besides this dance a four to six dance was given for the pledges on February 28.

California A met with California B and the alumnae associations for the Founders' Day luncheon given at the William Taylor Hotel in San Francisco on April 5. The new Palo Alto alumnae club was well represented.

On the day of the Stanford-California track meet the chapter held an open house and a homecoming. California A gave a bridge benefit on May 3 at which time a large sum raised for the Endowment Fund.

The chapter is quite proud of the way in which the new pledges are entering into activities. Marion Hewlitt is improving her golf and now stands without a rival as the best woman golf player on the campus. She is also the secretary of the class of '33. Barbara Balfour was elected to the freshman house committee.

The chapter is especially proud of the fact that the Junior Opera written by Helen Thompson in conjunction with Jo Thompson and Nelson Carter was accepted by the committee and is to be presented this quarter.

California B pledged Mary Hunting, Peggy Porter, Eleanor Rowley, and Barbara White at the end of spring rushing.

The alumnae gave a tea and fashion show on February 6, and $50 was given to the chapter to send to the Settlement School. The mothers' club, in connection with the alumnae, conducted a rummage sale and part of the proceeds were given to the mothers' club. The expenditure of which they use for the chapter house.

Individual honors during the last semester have been: Charlotte Ham as head of the advisory system for next year; Wilmer Grace elected to Torch and Shield; Janet Majors and Frances Woolsey were elected to the Ace of Clubs. Clara Catherine Hudson was chosen for the comedy lead in the annual Senior Extravaganza, and Helen Meyer was given a part in the chorus. Emma Barham was elected to be the national representative of the Y.W.C.A., and has also been given character parts in several Little Theater plays. Several girls have participated in events of the W.A.A.

On March 1, the chapter gave its spring informal at the home of Evelyn Roeding. During the semester several open houses were held on Sunday night. California B held an exchange dinner with the $\Phi \Omega \Pi$ on March 19.

The Parthenia, the annual women's Spring Masque, of which Betty Ballantine was co-author, was given April 8 and 10. Janet Majors was on the organization committee; Gladys Worden designed and painted the Second semester rushing was completed this semester with the pledging of Evelyn Peyton. One of the clever rushing parties given was a Rainbow Dinner, which emphasized the colors of the rainbow in the table decorations.

The chapter entertained California Δ with a cooky-shine at the chapter house on March 19. This seems to be an excellent way to create a closer and more harmonious feeling between these two sister chapters in that everyone seemed to enjoy themselves in a truly congenial way. Entertainment in the form of two skits were given by the pledges, and $\Pi \Phi$ songs were sung.

California Γ is very proud of the fact that in spite of the keen competition, Jane Lawson has been elected vice president of W.S.G.A. for next year.

On February 28, the chapter entertained the members of K Λ at a tea-dance as a return courtesy for their carrying the $\Pi \Phi$ colors in the recent interfraternity track meet.

$\Sigma \Lambda E$ entertained the chapter on March 14 with a supper dance. Decorations consisted of bowls of flowers carrying out the colors of the two fraternities, and of the emblems of the two pins on the walls.

The Founders' Day banquet which was held this year at the Beverly Hills Hotel was very unique and enjoyable. A radio broadcasting idea was used, with the theme of Happiness carried out, which of course was quite apropos for this celebration, as this feeling is always significant to the birthdays of $\Pi \Phi$. A trio composed of three girls from each of the two active chapters in Los Angeles sang several $\Pi \Phi$ songs. A skit was also put on by each of the chapters.

Evelyn Peyton has received the honor of being elected to Clionian, honorary literary society.

As this is the semi-centennial year of the university's founding, a special celebration has been planned for the month of May and June. This will include the unveiling of the Trojan Shrine, a bronze statue representing the Spirit of Troy, and a banquet to which representatives of every country in the world will be invited. Educators of note are coming from Spain and South America, from Japan and from the far corners of India to attend Southern California's birthday.

Frances Jean, 425 South Irving Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, is rushing captain.

Pledge Day, February 24, 1930

INITIATED, April 5, 1930: Ethel Ache, '32, 1616-4th Ave., Los Angeles; Francis Atwood, '32, 1104 "D" St., San Bernardino; Marjorie Barter, '33, 6620 Whitley Ter., Los Angeles; Georgia Crowell, '33, 700 Hillard, Los Angeles; Marjorie Hart, '32, 254 Tiger Tail Rd., Brentwood Heights; Marjorie Kamm, '32, 140 S. Las Palmas, Los Angeles; Virginia Nissen, '32, 1007 N. Everett, Glendale; Janet Rally, '33, 1411 N. Stanley, Los Angeles; Dorothy Standing, '30, 530 S. Imperial, Brawley; Winifred Story, '33, 412 W. Main St., Bozeman, Mont.; Eleanor Thompson, '33, 333 S. Reno, Los Angeles; and Margaret Wadley, '31, 602 N. Berendo, Los Angeles.

California Δ is very happy to announce the pledging of Jewell Bennett, Joy Carhart, Gertrude Corbaley, Mary Elizabeth Campbell, Mariam McCarthy, Eleanor Nibley, Carol O'Connor, Jane Taylor, Ruth Ann Walker, and Dorothy Welbourne. As a culmination this most successful rushing season the California Δ alumnae gave a cooky-shine at the chapter house after pledging on February 24.

Formal dedication of the university took place on March 27 and 28. All classes were dismissed in order that the students might attend the ceremonies. John Dewey, dean of American philosophers and educator, and Dr. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller foundation, were two of the most important speakers imported for the occasion. $\Pi \Phi$ was represented on the platform by Ruth Ann Walker, correspondent for the Los Angeles Evening Express, and new pledge.

Another dedication, but of an entirely different character, took place on April 11 and 12. At this time the merchants of Westwood gave a carnival, as a formal opening and dedication of the university village. Booths and concessions under the auspices of various organizations, fireworks, and street dancing provided thrills and amusement. $\Pi \Phi$ conducted a horse-racing chance game, giving candy and cigarettes as prizes.

California Δ has been busy with benefits this term. On March 7 the annual benefit bridge tea for the Settlement School was given by the alumnae organizations assisted by California Γ and California Δ . During refreshments a fashion show with girls from both active chapters as models was presented. The following week California Δ sponsored a benefit dance for the dean of women's scholarship fund. The Fiesta Room of the Ambassador Hotel was the scene of the dance and many students as well as outsiders enjoyed dancing to the twelve piece colored orchestra.

Political glory has come to California Δ . After a furiously waged battle Bettie Edmondson was elected vice president of the associated women's students, the second highest women's office on campus. In celebration open house with dancing after the election, March 26, was held at the chapter house.

Betty Price besides taking part in the presentation of the French play, Cyranus de Bergerac, has become a member of the French honorary society, while Ruth Ann Walker, a pledge, is pledged to $\Phi \beta$, the honorary music and drama fraternity.

Campus entertainment has been abundant this term. Campus Capers, a series of clever, original vaudeville acts, was given in assembly on March 26 and Helen Ziegler, participated as a staid Floradora sextet girl in a tight-fitting red and black chequered silk dress and a flower-garden hat. Bruin Review, a talkie of all campus activities, dances, and athletic games, revealed many Π Φ as qualified to be real movie stars.

Scholastically U.C.L.A. has made another forward step, a chapter of $\Phi \beta \kappa$ was installed.

Pledge Day, Indefinite

INITIATED, March 15, 1930: Mary Jean Eads, '33, 240 S. Cortez, Prescott, Ariz.; Mary Hall, '33, Buchanan, Mich.; Alice Hanson, '32, 1820 Alvarado Rd., Phoenix, Ariz.; Vera Hendrix, '32, Mesa, Ariz.; Elizabeth Jaynes, '33, 129 Bonnie Ave., Pasadena, Calif.; Lillian Spragues, '33, 1142 W. 37th St., Los Angeles, Calif.; Helen Woodside, '31, 1772 Cherry, Long Beach, Calif., Vera.

The members of the Arizona Δ chapter have been working hard and the chapter is well pleased with the results, both in scholarship and in outside activities. Anne Asenath Alkire, a last semester initiate, has distinguished herself by being elected to two honorary woman's fraternities; the Wranglers, a journalistic club, and the $\Pi \Lambda \Theta$, an educational group.

Lillian Nicholas, a sophomore member, has been chosen dance leader of the W.A.A. Margaret Koons, now running for student body secretary, was nominated to run for Desert Queen; Frances Berryman was also nominated. Franklyn Royer, one of the five new pledges, is running for the important position of editor of the college annual, The Desert.

Under the direction of the new scholarship chairman, the chapter has risen from last place to sixth. The pledges are now required to study four hours a day at a supervised study table. Any pledge who misses these periods of study must make up on Friday night each hour missed during the week. It is hoped that with this rule the chapter will be among the first in scholarship next semester.

Although the chapter has been active in athletics, the "Follies," an annual musical comedy produced by the college, has taken away some of the girls who are athletically inclined. These include Louise McCombs, Frances Berryman, Elizabeth Jaynes, and Bertha Rosenblatt. Marion George, a transfer from Ohio Wesleyan, has been chosen to take the lead.

A benefit Spanish supper was given at the chapter house to raise money for the building fund. It was attended by approximately two hundred people. The annual formal dance was held at the house on April 5. The favors were hammered silver cigarette lighters with the Greek letters $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ engraved on the sides.

On March 27, the house gave a formal tea in honor of Mrs. Forker, Kappa Province President, who was here for a few days.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Pledge Day, January 20, 1930

INITIATED, March 28, 1930: Archine Van Norden, '33, Hollywood, Calif.; Florence Lehmkuhl, '33, Pinole, Calif.; Berenice Wilson, '31, Las Vegas, Nev.; Parnell Balthasar, '33, Reno, Nev.; Doris Shaver, '33, Sparks, Nev.; Helen Peterson, '33, Elko, Nev.; Dorothy Snelson, '33, Elko, Nev.; and Ruth Bixby, '33, Reno, Nev.

GRADUATES: Adeline Duque, B.A., 800 Wheeler St., Reno, Nev.; June M. Grantley, B.A., 729 Walnut Ave., Burlingame, Calif.; Alice LeMaire, B.A., Battle Mountain, Nev.; Lois Nicolaides, B.A., 236 Clark Dr., San Mateo, Calif.; Katherine Priest, B.A., 1360 A St., Sparks, Nev.; and Kathryn Robison, B.A., 1042 A St., Sparks, Nev.

After a very successful rushing season, Nevada A pledged the following girls: Parnell Balthasar, Reno, Nev.; Ruth Bixby, Reno, Nev.; Archine Van Norden, Hollywood, Calif.; Florence Lehmkuhl, Pinole, Calif.; Berenice Wilson, Las Vegas, Nev.; Doris Shaver, Sparks, Nev.; Helen Peterson, Elko, Nev.; Dorothy Snelson, Elko, Nev.; Helen Olmstead, Wells, Nev.; and Isabelle Matley, Reno, Nev. Pledging was followed by a cooky-shine.

Founders' Day banquet was celebrated with the alumnae at a formal banquet at the Century Club. Interesting and inspiring talks by various members were given at this time.

In order to bring about closer harmony with other women's fraternities, Nevada A has been giving a group of card parties, which have been very successful. The chapter also invited representatives from the other fraternities to the spring formal.

Several Pi Phis have been honored by election to honorary societies. Archine Van Norden, who had charge of all the stage sets for Is Zat Sof has been elected to Campus Players, an honorary dramatic society, Faralie Smithson, and Geraldine Blattner, have been elected to Cap and Scroll, honorary upperclass women's society, Dorothy Ernst has been chosen for Gothic N., honorary athletic society, and she has also been elected treasurer of the Y.W.C.A. Lois Nicolaides has been elected to $\Delta A E$, honorary English Society, and Maurine Strome has been appointed on the Frosh Bible committee. Renee Duque was chosen as one of the queens for the Whiskerino Dance, which was held at Nevada.

The chapter is very enthusiastic about the new $\Pi \Phi \Phi$ house, which the alumnae are planning to build this year. If present plans materialize, the Pi Phis will have the honor of having built the first women's fraternity house on this campus.

The chapter was indeed fortunate in having Margaretta Fenn make an official visit to the University of Nevada this spring. Her visit was truly inspirational to everyone, and it was with the regret of the entire chapter that she left.

The rushing chairman for next semester is Ellen Prince Hawkins, 549 Court St., Reno, Nev.

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Chartered, July, 1929

Pledge Day, April 26, 1930

INITIATED, February 2, 1930: Mary Caffey, '30, 320 E. 1st St., Salt Lake City, Utah; Ethel Mays Bradford, '28, Salt Lake City, Utah; Marion Doreland, '32, 92 S. Utah; Laura McGhie, '32, 454 E.S. Temple, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mary Morris, '32, 70 W. 1st St., Salt Lake City, Utah; Mary Shields, '29, 322 Douglas, Salt Lake City, Utah; Lucy Tomlinson, '32, 867 1st Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah; Emmiline Wooley, '32, 3538 Highland Dr., Salt Lake City, Utah.

GRADUATES: Betty Knight, B.A., 1923 E. 6th St., Salt Lake City, Utah; Ruth Smith, B.A., Arthur, Nev.; Virginia Castleton, B.A., 73 L St., Salt Lake City, Utah; Lorene Romney, B.A., 367-3rd Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah; Marian Hall, B.A., 1432 Gatter Dr., Salt Lake City, Utah; Marjorie Richardson, B.A., 161 1st Ave., Salt Lake City, Utah; Virginia Carthey, B.S., 55 S. 12th E., Salt Lake City, Utah; Elizabeth Farnsworth, B.A., 1114 E. 7th St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

One of the most interesting traditions on the University of Utah campus is the "open house" celebration. On a designated day, which always falls in prom week, the men's and women's fraternities open their houses to the students so that they can become acquainted with non-fraternity members and also with affiliates of other organizations. Utah A carried out a "Singing in the Rain" idea this year. A clever device was a shower of real rain screening the orchestra from the rest of the crowd. Sausages and hot waffles were served as refreshments, and tiny umbrellas with $\Pi \Phi$ written in gold were presented to each guest.

The dinner honoring all those girls who were outstanding on the campus last quarter, was given the second week in January.

The honored guests sat at one big table facing the rest of the chapter, and each one gave a short talk or read the clever verse which was at her place.

Utah A was honored during February with a visit from Miss Onken. The girls were very happy to meet her. A very enjoyable and profitable time was spent with her during her brief stay.

The University of Utah is constructing two new buildings on the campus which will undoubtedly be great assets. Kingsbury Hall is now nearing completion, and will probably be ready in time for the commencement exercises. It is costing approximately $275,000 and will contain offices, a large auditorium, and some classrooms. Ground was broken for the new Mines Building the middle of March.

Mrs. McCanne, house chaperon, honored all of the engaged girls and their fiancés at a formal dinner given at the chapter house. Seven couples were present. After a delicious dinner, games and music were enjoyed, making it a most delightful evening.

The theme for the Founders' Day banquet on April 28 was a comparison between the founders of $\Pi \Phi$, and the charter members of Utah A, illustrating the vast differences in fashion, but the great similarity in ideal and purpose. Toasts were given by active and alumnae members, and all joined in singing $\Pi \Phi$ songs.

Lucy Tomlinson, 867 1st Avenue, Salt Lake City, Utah, has been appointed rushing chairman for next season.

The Panhellenic Creed

Adopted by N.P.C. in 1915

WE, the fraternity undergraduate members, stand for good scholarship, for the guarding of good health, for wholehearted cooperation with our college's ideals for student life, for the maintenance of fine social standards and for the serving, to the best of our ability, of our college community. Good college citizenship as a preparation for good citizenship in the larger world of alumnæ days is the ideal that shall guide our chapter activities.

WE, the fraternity alumnæ members, stand for an active, sympathetic interest in the life of our undergraduate sisters, for loyal support of the ideals of our Alma Mater, for the encouragement of high scholarship, for the maintenance of healthful physical conditions in chapter house and dormitory, and for using our influence to further the best standards for the education of the young women of America. Loyal service to chapter, college and community is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities.

WE, the fraternity officers, stand for loyal and earnest work for the realization of these fraternity standards. Cooperation for maintenance of fraternity life in harmony with its best possibilities is the ideal that shall guide our fraternity activities.

WE, the fraternity women of America, stand for preparation for service through the character building inspired in the close contact and deep friendship of fraternity life. To us, fraternity life is not the enjoyment of special privileges but an opportunity to prepare for wide and wise human service.
