Arrow OF PI BETA PHI

CONVENTION

In the Fall issue you read the facts of the Miami Convention, its sessions and its legislation. In this issue Ruth Cogshall gives a picture of its charm and its happy atmosphere. 650 Pi Phis working and playing together make a memory never to be forgotten.

And now—let's look ahead to 1956 and the convention at the Huntington-Sheraton, Pasadena, California, with Mu Province as hostess.

ONE HUNDRED AND ONE

Herein is the story of the new chapter, the 101st, at Colorado A. & M. The story of the Denison chapter, the 102nd, must wait for the Spring issue. A hearty welcome goes to both chapters from Pi Phis everywhere.

WHERE IS A NEW MANAGER?

Somewhere there must be a Pi Phi who is qualified to be the new manager of Arrow Craft and who would enjoy working with the lovely Arrow Craft products. The beauty of the Smoky Mountains is an additional incentive, not to mention the opportunity of giving service to the philanthropic project of Pi Beta Phi. If interested, write to Mrs. Virginia Brackett Green, 2650 Sutherland Avenue, Indianapolis 5, Indiana, chairman of the Settlement School Committee.

HOW DO WE STAND?

What has become of our once great ideas of freedom of choice and action? We hear nowadays of college administrations which demand to see fraternity constitutions, which demand that such constitutions must be altered to conform with present-day trends.

Perhaps we were better off when fraternities were truly secret in their organization, when they were free to choose members who are "friends of our friends" as Louis Foley, Editor, the Emerald of Sigma Pi, puts it in this quotation from his article in Banta's Greek Exchange.

"In any fraternity worthy of the name, membership can mean much more than living day by day in close association with a band of chosen comrades. It gives a man a flying start toward finding agreeable and helpful companionship elsewhere with other groups of kindred spirits who would make him feel at home among them. Directly or indirectly, they have been brought together by friends of his friends. It is a translation into actual reality of the polite formula, les amis de nos amis sont nos amis."

These campuses are not many—but enough to present an alarming threat to the very existence of fraternities—for when freedom of membership choice is removed, what becomes of the once close bond?

As Albert Boad, Chi Psi past chairman, National Interfraternity conference has said:

"The way for the fraternities to deal with this form of aggression on the part of the colleges is to meet the aggression head on and to vote Yes or No on new members according to the desire of the fraternity in each individual case, i.e. for members to vote on candidates for membership on whatever ground or for whatever motive appeals to the individual voting. This policy will place the college in a dilemma. Either the college will be faced with the burden of proof that the vote was based on racial grounds in spite of a student's assertion that he voted No because he did not want the individual candidate as a fellow member (as he has a perfect right to vote), or the college will have to make the impossible claim of a right to decide who are to be members of a voluntary organization among the students. Both horns are an abolition of fraternities. The students are the only persons who can confront the colleges with that dilemma, in answer to the colleges' attack on American Democracy and Freedom of Choice. It will take courage and understanding. I hope the students will be equal to the task, and will refuse to go to Munich via the road of appeasement and surrender."

Pi Beta Phi stands for the maintenance of the right of free election of members. On that basis we grew strong. On that basis we will continue strong.

Our Obligations

With all the good things in life, we should not overlook some of the many duties and obligations that go with them. May we pause to meditate seriously and conscientiously upon some of these obligations.

We have an obligation to God—for without the guiding light and inspiration of the Supreme Being, life would indeed be futile and without hope.

We have an obligation to our country and its government—to support it with all our moral, physical, intellectual and economic strength—that the freedom which it has given us may not be endangered by those who endeavor to destroy it.

We have an obligation to our college—for it is the great institution which makes possible the many educational advantages which will lead to a more happy and contented life.

We have an obligation to our fraternity—for it provides a college home where we learn to live together, learn to cooperate as individuals, learn to respect the good and tolerate the bad in every individual, and make the friendships which last throughout life.

And lastly, we have an obligation to ourselves—to take advantage of the golden opportunity of our formative and creative years; to work hard and play hard; to keep ourselves morally clean, physically fit and mentally alert; all to the end that we may throughout life, better serve mankind.

I Will Remember

Familiarity of green-edged campus walks, Confessions of young hearts in midnight talks, Warm laughter under veil of candlelight, The pulsing thrill of meeting trains at night, A tree-drenched campus freshened after rain, Richness of gardenias wrapped in cellophane, Pigskin gloves, chrysanthemums, November, And a star-lit formal in December,

The soothing comfort gained from quiet tears; Such lovely things I've known in these four years.

Yet one thing more,—oh, I have loved this while

The priceless beauty of a K Δ smile.

The Shining Hours of Convention

By Ruth Wilson Cogshall, Kentucky Alpha Editor, Convention Daily

HALF WAY through that busy July week of Convention, I felt an urge to write a page of special copy. It wasn't that we needed it to fill up our space for we were definitely overset. I just felt the urge. Those seventeen lines appeared as an editorial under the caption, "The Happy One." It wasn't erudite; it even had a couple of glaring errors . . . like my giving Miss May Keller a husband in line 7 . . . but it seemed to set off a spark that sizzled like a firecracker through the Convention halls and is still flashing and sputtering in post-Convention correspondence and chatter. Like most things dashed off it needed polishing, but the spirit was the spirit of the week. Here it is reprinted from the Thursday issue:

The Happy One

This Convention will go down in history as "The Happy One." There is something about it that we have felt at few others. We simply cannot put our finger on it for it is as elusive as a roommate at lunchtime. Could it be just seeing Miss Onken laughingly holding informal court with the Pi Beta Phis to whom she'll always be "My Pi Phi Girl," or just chatting again with Mrs. Keller, who grows more endearing with the years? . . Perhaps it is that Mrs. Allen is younger in heart than many of the delegates . . and must prove she's our oldest Golden Arrow Pi Phi present? Whatever it is . . . we like it! And so do you! It is reflected in every little group congregating in the hall or crowding into the elevator. It is shown by the flash of a smile at the waiter who brings the pie a la mode to the late diner. It is culminated in the sleepy yawn at long past midnight when two happy Pi Phis linger over a glass of orange juice . . and talk of "cabbages and kings."

THEY WON THE "LITTLE PIGEON AWARD"—Gail Schoel, Lambda Province President; Jean Potts, Oregon Γ, Salem; Helen McPherson, Oregon Λ, Portland

Everyone who worked and played through that week must have her own reasons for thinking of Miami and the Roney Plaza as the setting for Pi Phi's happiest Convention. Pictures are flashing through my mind tonight giving me additional reasons for placing that Convention in its own special category. I could add so many, many things. . . . Old friends meeting again after years of absence and new friendships being born, unfolding miraculously with each hour's association so that when we said our last goodbyes we felt we'd known each other always. This was exemplified by the pretty bronzed Tampa delegate waiting late at night in a deserted lobby for her Massachusetts roommate she'd never even heard of before, and their finding in each other as the week flew by fascinating differences and equally intriguing similarities. Your Daily editor recognized that quaint New England voice and the glowing smile next day in a crowded lobby as belonging to none other than the business manager of the Daily we worked on together years ago in Swampscott. Yes . . . old friends meeting . . . new friendships forming.

I'd certainly add Miss Onken in her pirate hat at the buffet supper laughingly saying "I see by the evening paper that we buccaneers will romp tonight!" And everyone "romping" in spirit! Add, too, the Roney Plaza waiter scooping up a whole layer cake and presenting it to the Vermont alumna because he thought she was "the laughingest and the happiest looking Pi Phi present." That same Pi Phi smuggled the cake to the province get-together where it quickly did a disappearing act.

Of course we'll include Marian Simmons' historical program that made the past as vivid as the living present, revealing the Founders as flesh and blood women, not just pasteboard pictures in a faded album. Spicing her program with well chosen anecdotes and narrating it in that long-remembered voice, Marian's evening was sheer delight.

Then there was the night when "memory played a tune upon our heartstrings" as Ruth Hansen so beautifully expressed it. That was the night of the Carnation Dinner when, as mistress of ceremonies, she introduced our newest Pi Phi, Marian Heard, Crafts Teacher at the University of Tennessee and at our own Summer Workshop in Gatlinburg. She took us willingly on a trip down memory's lane where we found it easy to recall our own initiation when we first became Pi Phis, and when Pi Phi became for all of us a way of life offering us a wealth of happiness and opportunity for service.

Unquestionably our Settlement School Night was a gala occasion. Major share of the credit for "Toast of the Burg" goes to Virginia Green, Settlement School Chairman who wrote the delightful script and functioned as personable mistress of ceremonies. Versatile Joni Newcomer was responsible for the catchy commercials and much of the acting. Laughs on that night ran all the way from titters to roars, but the memorable moment came with the presentation of the Oscars—in this case Little Pigeons—for outstanding achievement in financial aid to Arrowcraft and to the School.

The importance and beauty of the small things in life were emphasized by John Neal Campbell, 36th Grand Consul of Sigma Chi, in his stirring address. This prominent Chicago attorney, who found time to include our Convention in his busy schedule, chose as his title "These Do We Love." His infectious smile and his sympathetic interpretation of the fraternity system definitely contributed to the happiness of our week.

Then there were all kinds of smiles. The surprised and delighted ones of the newest delegates attending their first Convention. The I-told-you-so ones from the Old Timers spinning their yarns and smugly counting the number of Conventions they had attended. The quiet smile of Virginia Woolley, Convention Guide, whose hard work was evident in the smooth functioning of all the activities. The comfortable smile of Nina Harris Allen, Convention Guest, and her sister, Lillian Harris

Miss Onken in the garden

Graves, both Golden Arrow Pi Phis. The bubbly smile of May Keller. The dramatic smile of Adèle Alford who gave the Daily staff the supervision and the encouragement it needed to get the paper ready for bed. The happy smiles of all the other members of Grand Council. The sparkling smile of our beloved Miss Onken that grows more entrancing with the years. And everywhere the effervescent presence and the indescribable but always present smile of our Grand President, Marianne Reid Wild, conducting her first Convention with a poise and a sureness of a veteran.

Only one who herself has been a charter member of a Pi Phi chapter can appreciate the joy and the radiance of the faces of those girls back in Ft. Collins, Colorado, and Granville, Ohio, when they received the news that their petitions had been granted. We couldn't see their smiles, but we felt their exuberance.

There was music to add to the gaiety. Sometimes we caught just a snatch of a song as a busy delegate dashed through the corridor. Again it was merely a bit of harmonizing by two alumnæ waiting for the elevator. More often it was the well-trained voices of the chorus directed so effectively by Dorothy Kissinger.

Include the Sunshine Dinner and the unbelieving smile of the lucky delegate who won the free trip to Havana given by the Farr Tours. And best of all add the Fountain of Youth Banquet where our delightful Alice Weber Mansfield, Grand Vice President, acted as mistress of ceremonies. Surely no more impressive event could be imagined than the beautiful candle lighting ceremony with Marian Simmons as narrator, and Helen Lewis and Ruth Hansen to light the tapers. Truly it was a night of "Dreams, which in their development have breath, and tears, and tortures, and the touch of joy." Especially joy! Yes, it was a Happy Time.

Others have written of the constructive work of Convention. Let me then like the sun dial mark only the shining hours . . . the hours that gave to the 39th Convention of Pi Beta Phi the everlasting name: The Happy One.

NEW II B & INITIATES

Hail to Colorado Gamma!

The College

SECOND LARGEST college in the state, Colorado A. & M. was founded in 1870, and in 1879 became a land grant college, with part of its support furnished by the Federal government. It has grown from a small school to its present size of over 3000 students, of whom 850 are women. It has 305 faculty members. Lying at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and with a beautifully landscaped campus of some 1800 acres, it has every facility for agricultural training, and has an especially strong school of Home Economics-one of the best in the country, and an excellent business training. There are dormitories for all freshman women and for a small percentage of upper class women, and a new dormitory lately finished, to be used this year for men, but later for 400 women.

Latest addition to the campus is the Danforth Chapel, similar to those William H. Danforth has given to a number of campuses.

Students are drawn for the most part from Colorado, many of them from Denver, but the variety of its courses attracts students from many other states.

Colorado A. & M. has given a wonderful welcome to Pi Beta Phi, and its faculty and administration in general have both strength and freshness of interest that promise a great future for the college—truly a fine background for the 101st chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

The fraternities represented there are strong ones—for the women, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Zeta and Sigma Kappa—for the men, 13 equally good ones.

Pi Phi Gamma Colony was organized in September 1953, and chartered by Convention at Miami in June 1954. Its installation came as the culmination of a year of hard work, and brilliant success in rushing, with 26 new members last year—and this year they have pledged 28 of the finest girls on the campus. The girls are active on campus, with seven members of Spurs, one of them the president; and members in Swan Club, Haylofters and many others. Several fraternities have already entertained the chapter.

Those who have ever been privileged to attend the installation of a new chapter will remember the thrills that came not only to the girls themselves, but to all those officers who were present. Mrs. Wild was installing officer, and was assisted in the beautiful initiation by Alice Weber Mansfield, Olivia Smith Moore, and the province officers, Ruth Dierks and Ethel Gunderson. Further honor was paid to the new chapter by the presence of Amy Burnham Onken, Honorary Grand President, Lolita Snell Prouty, Counsellor for Chapter House Corporations, Mary Cooper Frost, former province president, and a large group of distinguished alumnæ from Denver, Laramie and nearby places.

Pledging, initiation, the cooky-shine, the banquet, all were beautifully planned, and with the lovely new house as a background, brought never-to-be-forgotten thrills, perhaps most of all to alumnæ who had not attended such ceremonies in years.

Credit for success goes to the fine Fort Collins alumnæ, the advisory board with Joyce Everitt as chairman. Lilla Bryan Morgan, Texas B, wife of the president of the college, Evalyn Prouty Lewis, Colorado A, of the house corporation, and many others who had each a share in the welcome to the new chapter. All were especially happy at the fine greetings from Panhellenic, and at the local interest shown by the large attendance at the reception which closed the festivities.

 \rightarrow \rightarrow \rightarrow

The Panhellenic Association of Dallas, Texas, recently had a 15-minute program period over the Dallas Times-Herald KRLD-TV station. The program was slanted toward giving information to girls who are entering college, with explanations of rushing procedures of the present. The program was so widely received and so favorably regarded that it will be continued as a permanent pre-rushing feature. For the information about it we are indebted to Margrette Grubbs Nance, Delta Gamma, who was co-chairman of the project.

Mrs. Edwin R. Hodge Jr., 2100 North 89th Street, Wauwatosa, Wis.

Mrs. William Harrison, Box 128, Bowness, Alberta, Canada.

News FROM LITTLE PIGEON

Edited by Louise Wheelock Dobler, Washington Beta

THE MAY, 1954 meeting of your Settlement School Committee was an all-time high for replacing key personnel in Gatlinburg. Before arriving there the resignation of Joni Newcomer, the vivacious all-capable assistant to the Director, had been announced; and Joni had asked to be relieved by mid-June to realize a planned European vacation. That meant prompt action, for it was necessary for a successor to be coached before the opening of the Summer Workshop which was set for mid-July.

Before that replacement was consummated, Miss Ruth Dyer, who had served as Director since the summer of 1943, announced her resignation to become effective in August!

Fortunately for the committee, the school, the town, and Pi Phi, what seemed the impossible was almost readily achieved. It just so happened that among the University of Tennessee students who were doing practice teaching in our high school, was one Tennessee Gamma Pi Phi, Nancy Jo Hayes, who was qualified for, and accepted the position as assistant to the Director. Joni immediately introduced her to her new duties, and Nancy Jo was back in Gatlinburg following her graduation in plenty of time to assist Miss Dyer in setting up the Workshop facilities, and she continues as an able and attractive addition to our year-round staff.

To succeed Miss Dyer, the committee was unanimously agreed that Marion Webb Mueller (Mrs. A. G. and pronounced "Miller"), Indiana Gamma, who had been serving as Manager of Arrowcraft since Ethel Snow left in the fall of 1952, would be the ideal choice. She had been living in the Ruth Barrett Smith Staff House, was acquainted with the demands of the job, and familiar with all our activity in Gatlinburg. Then, too, she could continue to oversee the affairs at Arrowcraft until a new manager could be found. Pi Phi is indeed fortunate that Marion accepted the challenge, and she assumed the new role when Miss Dyer left in August. A farewell for Ruth, which was held in the Staff House on one of the summer's hottest days, brought more than 100 friends and townspeople to wish her well. Her plans for the future include a chance for a complete rest and visiting with her family. With her go the gratitude of the Fraternity for a job well done and wishes for best of luck and happiness from Pi Phis everywhere.

At the same time we heartily welcome Mrs. Mueller. Her personality, enthusiasm and ability assure continued success for our philanthropy in the Smokies. The Pi Beta Phi School in Gatlinburg is in capable hands.

When school opened in the fall of 1953 and the P.T.A. piano, which had been loaned to the Ruth Barrett Smith Staff House for the summer was returned, the Staff and Settlement School Committee members were agreed that a piano was one item which would help more than any other to make the "house a home."

Accordingly a plan to establish a piano fund was launched on Chapter Loyalty Day when actives and alumnæ the country over were asked to join in a "Penny Parade." Enough pennies (and dollars) were collected by the 144 cooperating chapters and clubs to realize the sum of $565.32 by the time the Committee met in Gatlinburg in May. A dealer in Knoxville allowed a school discount and it was a thrill to have the piano, a Storey and Clark spinet with bench to match, purchased and delivered during the time of committee meeting.

The Committee and Staff House residents are grateful to all those who made this most acceptable addition to the House a reality.

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED to the

SUMMER CRAFT WORKSHOP

jointly sponsored by

Pi Beta Phi and the University of Tennessee

Plans are under way for a six weeks' Foreign Craft Study Tour after the close of the Craft Workshop at the Settlement School July 16, 1955. The University of Tennessee will grant 6 quarter hours' credit but auditors are welcome, too. The itinerary will include England, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Denmark and France for approximately $1200. Miss Marian Heard, Director of the Craft Workshop and the 1954 Convention Initiate, will be the instructor. There must be 15 and not more than 30 in the group. If interested in complete details, write at once for further information to Craft Workshop, Pi Beta Phi School, Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

Why I Believe in Fraternities*

College ought to prepare a student to live with people. But a boy can leave his alma mater fully versed in the ancient philosophies, well qualified to do research in three languages, practically trained to teach a room of children, ably trained to think through to a logical conclusion, but yet be a neophyte in human relationships.

The fraternity man need not fail here. Four years of living with his fellowmen, four years of meals, beds, bull sessions, meetings, dances, projects, parties ought to fit a man to live with people. Fraternity men live together not as robots but as brothers. They have knelt at the same altar and in fraternity ritual paid obeisance to the same God. Each man is "brothered" to the other with holy ties. He who would fall is lifted up by his brethren. The faint-hearted are encouraged to assert themselves; the bully is tempered with loving and firm hands; the show-off is taught humility; the wall-flower is lured into the arena; the hot-tempered is cooled with charity; the bigot is enveloped in brotherhood.

THAT'S WHY I BELIEVE IN FRATER-NITIES.

MARJORIE BEACH. The Mayor's Wife, Vantage Press, Inc., 210 pp.

If assigned its true value by each American, the right to vote by secret ballot is freedom's greatest safeguard, but the introduction of a price-tag cancels all value. That is the essence of Marjorie Beach's autobiographical story of Kansas City's battle for good government in opposition to the entrenched Pendergast machine of the twenties.

Marjorie Beach

Her narrative also demonstrates that the uncast vote is every bit as devastating to a good cause as is the vote sold to the grafter. The tendency on the part of so many citizens to neglect their voting responsibility is what impelled Mrs. Beach to write of her own political experience, and she hopes her account will have a salutary effect on her readers.

Make no mistake, however, this book is not a pedantic sermon. At the same time that it stresses the individual's duty in connection with good government, it tells an entertaining, often exciting, frequently amusing, and always lively story. When Bert Beach's reform campaign swept him into office, the defeated Pendergast supporters swept the city departments clean of everything movable. The hospitals, left without supplies, were in a critical state, and city trucks, without tires or gas, and city offices, without paper or pencils, could not function.

From this inauspicious, disheartening beginning, the Beach administration made progress, sometimes dramatically so, but in a still lazy public lay the seeds of defeat.

The story is all there to enjoy and to profit from, and in this election year it makes particularly timely reading. Written in a fast-moving, conversational style, the book can be devoured in a leisurely evening or so, but its revelations of corruption, such as government sponsored white slavery, should be pondered and discussed on many an evening.

AUTHOR INTEREST: Marjorie Marshall (Mrs. Albert I.) Beach, a University of Kansas Pi Phi was an active partner of her lawyer husband in his political career in addition to caring for their son, daughter, and home. She also served as president of the Kansas City alumnæ club and found time even then to do a measure of creative writing. A widow since 1939, Mrs. Beach lives in Laguna Beach, California, where she makes a profitable hobby of boats and houses.

GRACE JORDAN, Home Below Hell's Canyon, Thomas Y. Crowell Company, 243 pp.

For a multitude of Americans the word "poverty" would most aptly describe the early thirties, but for the Jordan family of Idaho "pioneering" would have to be the choice. The life Len and Grace Jordan, together with their daughter and two sons, led on a remote sheep ranch for a matter of ten years would seem more believable if set in the nineteenth century than it does located in the midst of our motorized age.

However, partly because of the contrasts, between, for example, an exhausting two-day horseback ride over treacherous trails and the modern automobile on the ribbony highway awaiting at the end of it, this is an exceptionally fascinating story. Especially now that we know modern living could be destroyed in an instant, it is gratifying to read of this demonstration that modern Americans are capable of living creatively with a minimum of help, either mechanized or human.

Because the land was ideal for sheep and the canyon ranch offered an opportunity, rare in the depression, for a family to be self-sufficient and ultimately to earn a good profit, the Jordans decided to risk both the dangers and the possible boredom of virtual isolation. Trail and boat provided the only access to the canyon, and the latter for only half the year; neighbors were remote and once the three junior Jordans saw no other children for eleven months.

Grace Edgington Jordan, Oregon A

Until Patsy, the oldest child, was ready for high school, the Jordans remained on, and profited in many ways from the ranch. Most of the time Grace Jordan was teacher as well as manager of the ranch household, and judging by her lucid story-telling, she was doubtless a stimulating one.

This is a thoroughly delightful book, one to be shared by the entire family.

AUTHOR INTEREST: The education of Grace Edgington (Mrs. Leonard B.) Jordan prepared her for this most recent achievement. She trained in journalism at the University of Oregon, where she became a Pi Phi, and subsequently wrote freelance and for newspapers as well as teaching at both the University of Washington and her Alma Mater. After the Jordans built their Grangeville, Idaho, home in 1941 and the ranch was sold, Mrs. Jordan reentered the writing field as a staff member of the Idaho County Free Press. Later the local teacher shortage became so critical that for several years she taught high school history and English. Meanwhile, her husband established an automobile agency, operated a farm on which he raised crops and cattle and experimented with certified grass seed, and served a term in the state legislature. In the latter capacity, despite the briefness of his political career, he made himself sufficiently well known to be elected governor, the office he now holds, but will shortly leave since Idaho's governors may not succeed themselves. Both Jordans are Phi Beta Kappa members, while the book's author also holds membership in Mortar Board, Theta Sigma Phi, AAUW, PEO, and Eastern Star, to name but a few.

DOROTHY DEFREESE HARRIS, Human Relations, Oklahoma A & M College, 70 pp.

World War II established public relations as an essential function of successful businesses and government and soon thereafter industrial or employee relations had found its permanent niche, but recently has human relations, the most universal of the three, become dignified as a subject for study and a field of work. Accordingly, both Mrs. Harris, instructor of this subject at Oklahoma A & M since 1949, and the text she has written are pioneering.

The subject is a required one in the College's School of Technical Training where men of varying educational backgrounds study thirty-seven different trades in the four categories of industries, agriculture, food trades, and business. Part of every school day is spent in shop work or its equivalent, the remainder in the classroom.

Recognizing that acquiring, holding and advancing in a job are not merely a matter of technical proficiency, the college established its "Human Relations" course in 1947. From her own experience augmented by that of her predecessors, Mrs. Harris has developed this textbook and its accompanying workbook.

It contains such units as A Study of How To Get Along with People, Why We Work, Labor Problems, How To Get That Job, and Grow on the Job, and is the kind of book from which any person would benefit whether enrolled in the course or not.

her marriage and then devoted herself to her home, husband and three sons until in the course of World War II she entered the business world. From there she returned to her original field of teaching and ultimately entered that of writing.

RANDOM NOTES: HAZEL MALLORY BEATTIE (Mrs. John) ROGERS, another University of Oklahoma Pi Phi has recently written The Making of the Old and the New Testaments in which she shows the Bible to be a product of numerous minds, ages, and views. It was published last winter by Exposition Press.

Alice Moore Regan, D.C. A

Bernard DeVoto on the Pulitzer Prize winning Across the Wide Missouri, is at work on a novel Laird of the Lion Heart, and has made three journeys to Scotland to do research on the life of Sir Drummond Stewart, the basis for her book.

A new career at the age of sixty-five is the intriguing achievement of ALICE MOORE REGAN, D.C. A, who, having written her first line of poetry at age forty-nine while a creative writing student at Fresno State College, is now an increasingly often published poet. Newspapers and magazines print her poems frequently and critics characterize her work as "different." Mrs. Regan's first career was teaching, and she has also been a legal stenographer as well as a wife and mother of two.

Perspective

Life is a fabric of many colors, dark and light, dull and gray, depressive and stimulating, and unless one can behold the controlling pattern, he will be the victim of changing moods with no abiding quality. This is why in college it is important that we should take some courses which contribute to an understanding of the meaning, purpose and proper goals of life, as well as acquire the knowledge and skills requisite to making a living. Without true perspective life becomes a meaningless puzzle.

The Christian faith affirms that the truest perspective is gained when one views life through the mind of Christ, who giveth the light of life.

Honor Students

1953-1954

Pictures of Honor Girls will be used if possible in the Spring issue of the Arrow.

THE national Committee on Scholarship is happy to present to the fraternity the names of the active members of Pi Beta Phi who earned the highest scholastic honors awarded during the college year of 1953-1954 by their colleges or universities. There is an increase of 18.9 percent in the number of honor students reported as compared with the preceding year. Although the number elected to Phi Beta Kappa was smaller, there is an increase in the other classifications.

Only the highest general honors are included in this report. The committee regrets that lack of space in the Arrow makes it necessary to omit the names and photographs of girls elected to departmental, professional, and recognition honoraries, and to Alpha Lambda Delta and other class honor societies.

The figures in parentheses represent the number reported last year.

This fall the Pi Beta Phis have enjoyed convention reports from Joan Tolley and Florence Hildreth, served breakfast to returning alumnæ during Homecoming Weekend October 3, revised alumnæ address files, and have been finishing an afghan and making toys and clothing to aid a family in town. Pi Beta Phi programs, an exchange supper with a men's fraternity, talks and debates by professors and by members recently returned from Europe. A Halloween party with K Δ, and the traditional caroling at Christmas with Δ Δ Δ are planned as fall entertainment programs.

Vermont A is again supporting its Italian foster child, Leda Cocco, and one or two members write to her each week. The Chapter held another Settlement School sale in November, and enjoyed an outing at the Women's Athletic Association's cabin in the mountains on October 16. Mrs. Wild visited the chapter in November, a highlight of the college year.

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE.
Chartered, 1903, Pledge Day, February, 1955. The pledges and active members of Pennsylvania I' Chapter of Pi Beta Phi have begun the Fall semester in preparing for a Settlement School Carnival, planned for November 12, 1954. September 29 found the chapter busily working at the annual Rummage Sale. A chapter retreat was planned for October 3. Much of the chapter's interest and energy is taken up with the advent of next semester's rush season; Rush Captain Joyce Seto and President Susan Marquardt, assisted by Carol Odorizzi, spent much of their Summer co-ordinating the ideas of chapter members into a well-formulated rush program. At the close of the college year in June it was announced that Susan Marquardt would be co-chairman of this year's Religion-in-Life Week. During the Summer active Jane Lewis was chosen International Φ E II Queen.

*PENNSYLVANIA EPSILON—PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY. Chartered, November 14, 1953. Pledge Day, October 1954. Enthusiasm was high as the students returned to college this fall anxious to plunge into a series of events planned for the Pennsylvania State University's Centennial Celebration. One of the most memorable events planned is the Commencement Day exercises in June at which President Dwight D. Eisenhower will address the graduates. On the last night of formal rush parties, the chapter was notified that the proposed dormitory, which is to accommodate 1000 women students, is expected to be built within the next year. Included in the plans are provisions for three sorority suites for A K A, E E 2 and Pi Beta Phi.

South Carolina A had a very successful campus-wide drop-in a week after school started; the pledges are now giving two Pi Phi nights a month for the actives.

To build up activities, the chapter permits the active or pledge with the most activities during each week to autograph and keep in her room a cute little hound named Alpha.

For the chapter project, the girls have adopted a Brownie troop at one of the local orphanages in town, of which one of the actives is a leader.

The chapter is also having a full week of orientation for pledges who are going to be initiated.

Classes at Vanderbilt started on September 29, but many members of Tennessee B were back a week early for the Freshman Orientation Week, which takes the place of preschool rush. The new Assistant Dean of Women, Miss Dorothy Minich, was assisted in this program by the Advisory Council on which four Pi Beta Phis served. For two days the Orientation Committee, including eight girls from our chapter, talked to groups of freshmen about campus activities. Barbara Belford, Coed Editor of the Hustler, signed up all the potential journalists of the freshman class, while Ruth Ann Blessman, this year's editor of the Hustler, signed up all the potential journalists of the General Cabinet of the Student Christian Association last Spring, smoothly directed that organization's part of Orientation Week in her capacity of Freshman Sponsor. The week was crowned with Vanderbilt's opening game with Baylor at which Joan Askew led the cheers.

Ruth Ann Blessman is now wearing the cap and gown of Mortar Board; Molly McNamara and Eunie Walldorf are members of WSGA; and Molly and Meredith White serve on the Honor Council, Joan Askew holds the title of Miss Vanderbilt, and Betsy Harrison is the Sweetheart of £ X.

28, 1954. Birmingham-Southern opened this fall with one of the largest enrollments of the past several years, and with a record number in the freshman class. The spacious, air-conditioned girls' dormitory, the modernized, air-conditioned cafeteria, and the newly-repaved streets on the campus were welcome sights to new and old students alike.

The fall after a Convention summer always seems unusually enthusiastic when Pi Beta Phi's are concerned. On Alabama A's program agenda were reports from Convention by Betty Jane Stone, chapter president, and Jane Mooty, who was alternate delegate. Patsy Pace, scholarship chairman, has inaugurated a new plan for improving the scholarship program of the chapter as a whole, and of the individual members. Alabama A plans to strengthen active-alumna relations by inviting an alumna to at least one chapter meeting a month, and pledge-alumna relations by asking each alumna to take a "little sister" from the pledge class.

Pledge Day, September 12, 1954 Alabama Beta Pi Phis returned to their campus in early September to welcome their charming new Dean of Women, Mrs. Sranh Healy, who came from the University of Michigan. Several days before the opening of rush, Mrs. Frank Silver crossed over the Mississippi from the Φ Δ θ house to become mother to Alabama B's sixty-five actives and pledges.

Alabama B was announced as first place winner in Scholarship for the year 1953-54. The new swimming and tennis doubles trophies shine brightly alongside the Historian Cupawarded at Convention. Carolyn Berry and Carolyn Regan are newly tapped members of Mortar Board, while Alabama B boasts five new A Λ Δ initiates with Mary Wingard, being their new president. Cecile Oliver and Mary Wingard were tapped for Φ X θ, Commerce honorary, and Kathleen Peacock for X Δ Φ. English honorary. Twelve of the freshmen made Triangle (Sophomore service honorary) and Ethel Barksdale made Junior Triangle. At the commencement exercises Lucy Oswald was recognized as the outstanding student in the field of journalism and Sally Rodgers received the Classics award. Lois Flowers and Miriam Dye received certificates prior to graduation for maintaining the A Λ Δ scholastic average throughout college. Miriam was tapped for Φ B K in the spring as was Lois in the fall. Carolyn Regan and her debate Colleague won a trip to West Point to represent the South-eastern conference in the National Debate Tournament. Pi Phis won first place in the annual step-singing contest. Patsy Lord was head cheer leader, with the assistance of Arlene Bray, Imogene Carroll was honored at Convention by being awarded a Harriet Rutherford Johnstone Scholarship. FLORIDA GAMMA—ROLLINS COLLEGE. Chartered, September 28, 1929. Pledge Day, November 28, 1948. Rollins College has been active in events of all kinds since March of 1954. The most social function and money making project of the college was the Fiesta in April. The men's and women's fraternities each entered a float for the parade. The highlight of the festivity was the Fiesta Ball, for which the Sauter-Finnegan orchestra was engaged.

The chapter joined the Δ X's in March to give a very successful dance, in honor of St. Patrick's Day. The girls were also active in intramural sports in the spring, receiving second place in the horseshow and top honors in the swim meet, with Mary Martin, Barbara Moynahan, and Ann Todd outstanding. The Dean's list of the spring included Barbara Berno, Jane Laverty, and Ann Webster.

Probably the most noted event in Rollins' recent history was the display of ability on the part of the baseball team. Rollins College, the smallest college ever to enter the N.C.A.A. tournaments (College World Series), ended in second place, in the United States, Iosing only to Missouri.

The summer was exciting to many chapter members. Gloria Steudal and Sue LeClere traveled the European continent, while Sandy Taylor basked on the beach in Hawaii.

Washington B's returned to find the chapter house gleaming with newly painted walls accentuated with colorful new carpeting. The chapter is indebted to the alumnæ for the beautiful job. Many noticeable changes had taken place on the campus also since the last chapter meeting in May. The new Student Book Store was no longer a skeleton of steel growing from a muddy foundation, but an attractive and modern brick addition to the campus.

Washington B's recall a very active and successful spring semester. The most important woman's office on campus came to Washington B when Lola Story Finch was elected president of the Associated Women Students, and selected to become a Mortar Board member. At the same time, Sharon Johnson, was elected secretary of the Woman's Recreation Association. Sue Thompson is Junior Greek woman on the board of control, Carol Crook, Jean Douglass, and Helen Van Antwerp were chosen as Spurs. Mary Lou Bruno Claus was a member of the May Court on Mother's Weekend. Marit Halverson, Mary Alice Marr, and Nancy Gale hold sophomore offices in Y.W.C.A.

Spring term was an exciting one on the University of Oregon campus. For the first time in several years Mother's Weekend was combined with the annual Junior Weekend festivities. Janet Wick was chosen by student vote to represent her class as Junior Weekend Queen. During this same week Nan Hagedorn, Sally Jo Greig, and Marcia Mauney were tapped by Kwama, the Sophomore women's honorary.

Class elections and rally squad try outs climaxed this busy term. Marcia Cook was elected as Sophomore class representative on the student senate. Sally Jo Greig, Beverly Bowman, and Patty Fagan were chosen as rally girls for the coming year.

Marcia Mauney was selected as Oregon's outstanding freshman, as a result of her many campus activities and high scholastic record.

Three representatives of Oregon A attended the Pi Beta Phi national convention in Florida during the summer. Shirley McCoy, Beverly Jones, and Donna Mast returned after an eventful trip lasting nearly three weeks.

Rushing opened the school year on the campus with a record number of girls registering for the rushing activities. Preference day was scheduled for Saturday, October 2, with the pledge breakfast following on Sunday morning.

PLEDGED: Betts Rinehart.
