THIS IS HOW PI PHI GROWS

THREE PI PHIS PLANNING for a new colony are Grand Secretary Virginia Voorhees Speaker, Texas Beta, Grand Vice President Dorothy Weaver Morgan, Nebraska Beta and Tennessee Delta Colony Graduate Counselor Sally Hinkle, Louisiana Beta, as they talk together during rush at Memphis State.

> Yes, this is how Pi Phi grows. It is through the harmonious and dedicated efforts of active and alumnæ members working together toward a common goal, whether it be the extension of the fraternity through new chapters or the strengthening of existing chapters. The brilliance and enthusiasm of youth blended with the wisdom and understanding of experience possessed by alumnæ form a powerful force to promote the idea of an organization for college women dedicated to the ideals of noble womanhood.

On Belonging and Being -

There is a great deal to be said for this idea of belonging, but there is much more to be said for the idea of being—being a source of strength and help where we belong. This must be a key consideration of fraternity women today on the campuses of our colleges and in the clubs of our towns and cities. Now, as never before, we are called on to be exemplary in our behavior, positive in our action and productive in group endeavor.

The opportunity for women of congenial tastes and aspirations to work together is a golden one and should be used to the fullest advantage under the fraternity system. Unfortunately it is often the failing of our sex when working together in a group to split a hair into a dozen slivers or pick a bone to useless whiteness. The demands of our day for leadership and accomplishment make it necessary for successful women's groups, fraternities included, to refrain from hair-splitting and bone-picking, which too often stem from pride and pettiness. Today's demands require instead a strong trend to concise thought and constructive action from the organized group.

The ideals of our group and the goals of the fraternity system must take precedence over any thought of what we might gain personally through our association with the group. The prestige of merely belonging or holding an office cannot be our first consideration. The gift of the work of our hands, the best ideas of our minds and the love of our spirits must stand highest in our desire and motivate our efforts if our group and the system are to grow in strength and stature.

In short—our fraternity should never be used as a stepping stone to some social or civic gain for the individual—rather it must receive from its individual members the stepping stone laid down by their service and gifts in order to reach a higher place itself.

The demands of leadership should be clear to all of us. Campuses should know Pi Beta Phi as a group which is always working actively through its individual members to raise the level of scholastic attainment and intellectual enrichment in college and university programs where chapters exist. College administrations should be able to count on our group as one which will stand in the forefront in efforts to strengthen the moral fiber and behavior on their campuses. We say that we are dedicated to the ideals of noble womanhood. We must demonstrate we are strong enough, individually and collectively, to meet the tests of that dedication-remembering that while it is thrilling to be popular, it is good to be respected and the experience of life teaches us that only when respect exists does popularity endure.

Cities and towns should know Pi Beta Phi through individuals and clubs who are interested in the welfare of their fellow men and who have standards of behavior and records of service that give credance to their recommendation of the fraternity system for women as a builder of character and a developer of the strong personality.

It is necessary to recognize that belonging by simply paying dues, attending meetings and repeating creeds is not enough. We must give more than money, attend to more than the routine business of a meeting and transmit the words of creeds into thoughtful and sincere action if the alumnæ system is to form the strong background the fraternity needs.

Those who belong to a women's fraternity then must be fraternity women in the fullest sense of the term—and in this time of mounting attacks on their system they must use every opportunity to work together to strengthen their group—for the strong offense is always the best defense against unwarranted attack.—DDS

From Your Editor Emeritus

These brief words are addressed especially to the many new initiates and new pledges.

This magazine carries the first information about the 43rd biennial Pi Phi Convention and it is not too soon to begin making plans to attend it at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., June 24-30, 1962.

Fortunate indeed are all Pi Beta Phis who may attend, but most of all the new girls to whom will come the opportunity for enjoying a convention at the very beginning of their fraternity lives.

There you will find opportunity for making new friends and having come to life those people who have been merely names on a printed page. You'll have fun, but most of all you will be a part of the great heart of Pi Beta Phi which is never more evident than at one of our great gatherings of hundreds of those who wear the Arrow.

Come if you can and make the most of this chance for forging new friendships and for learning something of this Fraternity of ours. We hope that it may come to be an important part of your future.

We'll be waiting in Washington with a warm welcome for you all.

Walle Taylog alford

Fall's gold dappled days will have given way to winter's star-bright nights and hearth's firelight as the Winter ARRow brings Pi Phis together and carries with it the reminder that before long that happy event that gathers so many sisters together, Convention, will be with us.

It's a long haul from the time these pages of the ARROW are wrapped up by the editor's hand to the day when they are unfolded by their readers across the land. This apparently causes a bit of misunderstanding every now and then as to just why something didn't make an issue.

Though this magazine is reaching you in mid-winter, it went together in mid-October in the two weeks following the deadline. After that it was in the hands of the printers for about three weeks or so and then came back to the editor for proof-reading and checking. Then it went back to Wisconsin for the final paging, the always necessary alterations, finishing up of the picture pages, printing, binding and mailing. In all, the process took from six to seven weeks.

The best way to be sure an article gets in the magazine is to send it off in advance of the deadline when possible and by deadline time in any event. Disappointing a contributor is the last thing any editor wants to do, but sometimes time makes it impossible to do otherwise.

On the subject of deadlines—I didn't get all the pictures together I'd hoped to have in this issue on the Pi Phis who were Miss America contestants. Many of her sisters may know by now that Frances Jane Anderson, Miss Arkansas, who was named Alternate Miss America, ranking second to Miss America, is a Pi Phi. She was a member of Virginia Alpha in its last year on the Randolph-Macon campus, and this year transferred to the University of Arkansas and was living at the Pi Phi house there until her heavy schedule of appearances in her Alternate Miss America role made it necessary for her to drop out of school.

Frances Jane wrote me that she met Janice Cole, Vermont Beta, who was Miss Vermont, Nancy Kesler, Indiana Beta, who was Miss Chicago, and Miss Nevada, who was also a Pi Phi. I didn't receive all of their pictures by deadline time—and am hoping that they will be here before the January deadline of the Spring ARROW so that we can have Pi Phi's "Miss Americas" in a pictorial presentation.

We had a fumble in the Fall issue. It was one that didn't occur till the magazine was past the line of scrimmage though—so we lost the ball! It occurred in the mis-matched identification on pictures appearing on pages 10 and 13. The Settlement School Committee had been properly identified on the page proofs received by the editor and galley proofs of the Grand President—but somehow in the final paging at the printers that Committee became instead Settlement School tourists and the Alpha Province Workshop visitors became the Committee. My apologies to all concerned—though I guess only the names were mis-matched in regard to the hard working Settlement School Committee—they've "toured" the School facilities with more diligence than word could tell.

GOOD NEWS—The 1961 Balfour Cup Chapter, Oklahoma Alpha, has a new laurel wreath to drape over that symbol of top achievement, and so pleased were they about it that they waxed poetic in a telegram sent to our Grand President on October 12. What they had to tell was ....

 $\rightarrow \rightarrow$

"The Oklahoma Alphas are happy to say A scholastic honor has come our way. We're first on campus and do you know That's the ninth semester in a row!"

Mrs. Mansfield in sending that smiling bit of verse along added that the good news had completely divested her of buttons for the moment—she popped them all off in a great swell of pride over this latest accomplishment of this year's Balfour Cup Chapter.

There was more button popping around the Fraternity in the months just past-namely on the campuses of Memphis State University, the University of Kentucky and the University of Mississippi where Pi Phi colonies made their debut this fall.

The stories of the beautiful bows of wine and blue made by the girls on those campuses are told in this magazine and you can see for yourself the potential charter members of the new groups.

The unsung heroines of those efforts aren't pictured of course—they were busy in the kitchen or on the phone or somewhere else when the photographers came to call. They would be the alumnæ of Lexington, Ky., Memphis, Tenn., and Oxford, Miss., and those from nearby towns of all of those cities who had put in many hours during the spring and summer getting houses or suites ready, rounding up recommendations and tending to the thousand and one other details that precede and attend a colonizing effort.

Having stood in the wings during the Memphis State production and observed all the goings-on, I know this to be so in that instance, and "Skip" Harris has added her affirmation to it in praise of the Lexington alumnæ; the national officers who went to Mississippi had a similar report.

It is my guess too, that the happy actives and pledges in the three new colonies would be the first to agree that it's time these indefatigable elder sisters took off their aprons and stepped forward for a big bow themselves.

And just for good measure I think we ought to ask that they have with them for that bow a male partner—the husband who baby-sat, ate off the kitchen counter alone and left a lamp burning in the living room window during those days when mama was at rush parties and meetings.

Before the Fall ARROW was out with its story of our remarkable Vermont Alpha Golden Arrow Pi Phi, Mary Orenda Pollard, we had a letter from Miss Pollard telling us of the death of her friend and sister charter member at Vermont Alpha, Miss Laura S. Clark. Miss Pollard said that it was Miss Clark who circulated the petition that brought Pi Phi to the Middlebury campus. She had met the national president of Pi Phi when that officer was visiting in Vermont in 1893 and secured a promise of a charter if she could get five to apply. Miss Pollard was the fifth. She recalled the event that followed saying,

"The notice of the charter being granted came to Laura, who hunted up some of us who were surveying the campus on a math class and the boys yipped it up for us. I doubt if any of us helped much in surveying that day."

Such was the advent of Pi Phi on a campus sixty-eight years ago—a difference from that of today as great as the gulf of years that separate the eras—but with the same flavor of happiness and excitement . . . and the memory of Miss Clark stands in a special place as one of those who led in the establishment of one of Pi Phi's oldest chapters.

The Summer ARROW'S mention of the new position of the portrait of Grace Goodhue Coolidge in the White House Red Room brought two letters from Pi Phis with stories of their association with Mrs. Coolidge. Mary R. Swift (Mrs. Maynard), Vermont Alpha, sent a 1925 clipping about a Founders Day meeting and banquet which had Mrs. A. I. Goodhue, mother of the former first lady as its guest speaker, and she told of a recent visit with her daughter in the White House. Mrs. Swift was hostess for this dinner.

Tuley Shepard Emison (Mrs. Ewing), Kansas Alpha, wrote that the mention of Mrs. Coolidge reminded her of her very thrilling experience as a young woman when she and her husband were guests of the Coolidges for a weekend visit at the White House and a cruise on the Mayflower. Mr. Emison had been Indiana political campaign manager for President Coolidge. Mrs. Emison wrote,

"I was quite young at the time and while thrilled with the prospect, I was filled with trepidation . . . Grace Goodhue Coolidge had the ability to put everyone at ease. When she found that I, too, was a Pi Phi, her first thought was for me to see the then, rather new, portrait of which she was very proud. Her pride was justified for it is beautiful."

And now great many more Pi Phis will have the opportunity to see that portrait this summer when they are in Washington and take one of the tours of the White House being planned by the Convention Committee.

There will be much more to see and do and it is hoped that the arrival of this issue of the ARROW with the registration blanks which appear on page 8 will bring a strong initial response to the invitation-

Pi Phi

AT MEMPHIS

"COME BE A PI PHI; EVERYBODY COME"-at Memphis State.

Pi Phi went colonizing this fall on the campuses of Memphis State University, the University of Kentucky and the University of Mississippi.

Long months of planning and hard work culminated in longer days and nights of more planning and harder work as national officers, alumnæ, actives and ribbonees joined together in efforts that typify the fraternity's fine tradition of cooperation. Their rewards were similar on all three campuses a solid cornerstone for a new chapter was laid in the acceptance of Pi Beta Phi by outstanding young women who typify the ideals of the group.

On the campuses of Memphis State and Kentucky ribbonee groups had been selected last spring by national officers. These individuals became pledges before rush week and then worked with actives who came from nearby campuses to help. At Memphis State it was Tennessee Beta who sent actives to work with the ribbonees, Sally Hinkle, Louisiana Beta, who is the new colony's counselor, and the Memphis Alumnæ Club and two members of Grand Council, Dorothy Morgan, Grand Vice President and Virginia Speaker, Grand Secretary. At Kentucky, the ribbonees and their counselor, Mary Ann (Skip) Harris, Nebraska Beta, had assistance from actives from Kentucky Alpha, Indiana Beta and Ohio Beta and Lexington Alumnæ and were guided by National Panhellenic Conference Delegate Marianne Reid Wild and National Convention Guide Helen Anderson Lewis.

The invitation from the University of Mississippi came to Pi Beta Phi in June, too late to select a ribbonee group for the regular fall rush. The colony here was established the first week in October through a different procedure. Grand President Alice Weber Mansfield and Director of Membership Lou Ann Tuft working with Pi Phi transfers on campus and with assistance from Mississippi Alpha Counselor Sharon Raney, Arkansas Alpha, Sally Hinkle, and others entertained for young women who had expressed an interest in Pi Beta Phi; and invitations were issued much in the same manner they are at the conclusion of rush week.

Memphis State's Colony, which will be Tennessee Delta, ranked with the top groups on campus in the twenty-five girls it pledged. Kentucky Beta, as the colony at that University will be known, also stood at the top with its 33 new pledges. The new Mississippi Beta colony did not have the full advantage of rush week, but feels it is beginning on a positive note and one that will bode well; its twelve new pledges equal that number of young women who founded Pi Beta Phi.

To appreciate more fully how it was and how it

AT MEMPHIS STATE

by Ella Doyle

Coming together is beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success.

The beginning was in April, 1961. Four Pi Beta Phi actives from colleges across the country—the University of Tennessee, Louisiana State University, Vanderbilt, and Oklahoma State University—came together on the Memphis State campus. To these four Mrs. Mansfield soon added nine carefully selected and highly recommended ribbonees.

The summer was one of progress for the Tennessee Delta colony as these thirteen girls kept together throughout June, July, and August. Planning and working, they developed not only a fine rush program but also a spirit of loyalty and devotion for their colony and its members.

September arrived with 325 rushees—and for the Tennessee Delta colony nine Vanderbilt Pi Phis to help them rush. Working together as a well-established chapter would, the colony experienced a highly successful rush.

Beginning, progress, and success—the cycle was completed, but not without much work and many memories.

Rec blanks . . . the summer project-a volcano.

AT KENTUCKY

by Mary Ann Harris

The first thrill for the ribbonees of Kentucky Beta colony came in the beauty and appeal of the newly decorated Pi Phi House which greeted them on their return to school. Lexington alumnæ had worked diligently all summer and the results were amazing.

Excitement mounted with the house dedication ceremony when Mrs. Clifton Thompson, chairman of the House Corporation received the key to the house from the University. Following the dedication, the sixteen ribbonees became the first pledges of Kentucky Beta Colony. This full day ended with a meeting to begin plans for rush with Mrs. Wild and Mrs. Lewis. This began a week of full days and nights . . . skits considered, selected and practiced, favors to be made, songs to be learned filled those hours along with a constant going over rush procedures.

Rush began with four days of open house parties, three a day, and ran concurrently with freshman orientation and registration. Ohio Beta and Indiana

WYNKEN, BLYNKEN, and NOD—rushed for Pi Phi at Kentucky Beta Invitational Party. Myrt Coffey as "Little Bo-Peep" sang "In My Sweet Little Wine and Blue Gown."

Beta actives were on hand to help with these parties. The Ohio Pi Phis taught the new Kentucky Betas the "Pi Phi Chant" which created quite a sensation among rushees and became a Pi Phi trademark during the entire rush.

Kentucky Alpha Pi Phis came to help on the next series of parties which were First Invitational . . . eight parties of forty-five minutes in length and then two days later the Second Invitational party set, which consisted of six parties. Here the Pi Phis charmed their guests with a clever "Wynken, Blynken and Nod" party and gave it all a soft touch with favors of small blue pillows with wine Greek letters on them. The three preference parties came on Friday night, the second week of rush, and brought an air of excitement and eagerness.

The long three weeks of working, entertaining, wondering and waiting came to an exciting and rewarding climax on Monday, September 25 when we received our lists. It was raining, but the alumnæ and girls who had them took cars to pick up the new pledges and Pi Phi pandemonium reigned supreme when they returned to the house with their thirty-three happy rushees turned wine and blue ribbonees.

AT MISSISSIPPI

by Lou Ann Tuft

October 4, 1961, brought the culmination of months of planning and dreaming when twelve new Pi Beta Phi pledges donned their wine and blue ribbons to mark the beginning of Mississippi Beta Colony of Pi Beta Phi. These twelve and four Pi Phi transfers will be the nucleus of Pi Phi's one hundred and eighth chapter.

The name 'Ole Miss' suggests the tradition and dignity of an ante bellum college, the beauty of the co-eds known across the country as the ideal of American college women and the graciousness of southern hospitality. All of these were revealed to the colonizers of Pi Phi who made the plans for the new chapter. Marianne Reid Wild made the initial contact as Extension Director for the Fraternity in the spring of 1961. Mrs. Mansfield, Grand President and I were responsible for guiding the colonization.

A rush tea was given for prospective members at Deaton Hall with Mrs. Roscoe Boyer in charge of the affair. Recommendations from Mississispi actives and alumnæ had been sent during the summer to the Director of Membership, the State Membership Chairman for Mississispi, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Jr. of Gloster, Mrs. J. W. Holiday of Jackson and Mrs. William Thompson of Hattiesburg. A most attractive group of co-eds presented themselves at this tea. Of this group eleven were invited to pledge along with a repledge from Louisiana Alpha.

Invaluable assistance came from three Pi Phi alumnæ who are members of the University staff, Miss Corine Bass of the University Law School Library, Dr. Evelyn Way of the Classics Department and Mrs. George Gibson of the English faculty. They worked with Mrs. Boyer on the arrangements. These Pi Phis will be joined by three new alumnæ members at installation, Mrs. Fred Kellogg, Mrs. Frank Peddle and Miss Christine Drake. All of these alumnæ will act in an advisory capacity to the Colony, which will be under the direct supervision of Mrs. Mansfield.

Joining in the rush tea were Sharon Raney, graduate counselor from Mississippi Alpha, Ella Doyle, Louisiana Beta and now at the new Memphis State Chapter, and Sally Hinkle, the Memphis state chapter graduate counselor. Mrs. Will Knight, Mrs. J. W. Holiday and Mrs. E. B. McGhehee all of Jackson, Mississippi, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Jr. of Gloster and Miss Margaret Head of Memphis also assisted at the tea.

The banquet after the Wednesday night pledging brought the group and their alumnæ together as a Colony for the first time. New friendships among pledges and actives were seen in the making that night, new talents of pledges were being discovered as one group learned Pi Phi songs another discussed officer duties and some made plans for a Homecoming get-together at 101 New Dorm, Pi Phi's room for the year.

Seeing the birth of a new chapter, with the resulting enthusiasm, the plans for the future and the beginning of new loyalties is worth all the effort that goes into the forging of another link in our "golden chain from Rocky Maine to the Golden Gate afar" as our Pi Phi song so aptly describes our Fraternity's growth.

It's Not the Score . . .

by Nan Black Ulle, Virginia Alpha

Richard ready to bowl.

In these days of keen competition in everything from Little League Baseball to professional football, it is surprising to find a bowling league of eight teams, meeting every Saturday, where the score is of no importance. Forty-eight bowlers, ranging in age from 6 to 26, roll their games and the spectators applaud not for strikes and spares (of which there are few) but for the bowler who can accurately count his three balls and the number of pins which he has knocked down. It is not the score that counts but the socialization that is important, for the bowlers are mentally retarded. I am one of the cheering crowd, for our two sons bowl on the "Lolly-pop" team.

My introduction to mental retardation was a visit to what we glibly called "The Ep Colony" with Mr. Guthrie's Randolph-Macon "Soc. 1-2" class. I was horrified—not so much by the institution but more by the disabilities of the patients themselves—and little did I know then how close the problem would come to me.

I graduated from Randolph-Macon, took a secretarial course and then accepted a position at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. At the end of the war, I married my Navy commander and continued my work at Hopkins while he completed requirements for his engineering degree. This pattern was pretty much the routine for my generation.

After a normal-in fact medically uninterestingpregnancy and delivery, our first son, Wilbur, Jr., was born in 1951. His first year was fine, as far as we knew, although he seemed slow to us, inexperienced parents that we were. He was friendly, interested in what went on around him, and most affectionate, and we tried not to compare him with others his age. Finally, however, we began to ask questions and our pediatrician suggested that we take the long road to evaluation, so we saw an orthopedic surgeon who specializes in cerebral palsy, a psychologist, an otolaryngologist-we waited months for appointments with these distinguished medical men. By the time we had finished with the list, we ourselves were sure that our "Willie" was mentally retarded although no one could confirm our fear.

My next trip was to our local library, where I read everything I could find about mental retardation, cerebral palsy, and other related handicaps. Helpful friends suggested that I read Pearl Buck's "The Child Who Never Grew" and Dale Evans Rogers' "Angel Unaware" which I did. Unfortunately, these wonderful true stories did not seem to shed light on our problem. I continued my "research" in difficult and often confusing medical books. There I discovered a whole new vocabulary of handicaps and diseases: brain injury, mental retardation, hyperactivity, etc. Finally, our doctors gathered all the reports together and agreed that Wilbur is a victim of athetosis, defined according to Stedman's Medical Dictionary as "a condition in which there is a constant succession of slow writhing involuntary movements of flexion, extension, pronation, and supination of the fingers and hands, and sometimes of the feet." Mentally retarded, with an I.Q. of about 50, he is "trainable." Their prognosis: only time could tell. Within a few weeks our second son, Richard, was born. Here we had the advantage of knowing what to watch for, and we soon realized that Richard too had the same problems but to a lesser degree. He too has athetosis and brain damage, but a higher I.Q. He is known as an "educable" retardate.

We were relieved to have our problem defined, but then the question was "Where do we go from here?" We never considered our Maryland state institution, which is understaffed and overcrowded, and completely inadequate for children such as ours. Of course I could think of Rosewood State Training School only in terms of my memories of that sociology class visit. (I should add here that both Rosewood and Virginia State Training School in Lynchburg are much improved since that tour twenty years ago.) The cost of private institutions was prohibitive and so we decided to keep the boys at home, where we wanted them anyway, and to investigate facilities for retarded children in the area. I had found the names of the National Association for Retarded Children in Child Behavior by Ilg and Ames, and I accordingly wrote their New York office asking if they had a group in Baltimore. The National Association has 800 local units in 50 states, with over 60,000 parents and friends working on behalf of the retarded. I was fortunate to live in a city where there is a very active local unit.

I attended my first meeting of the Maryland Society for Mentally Retarded Children-Greater Baltimore Chapter, Inc.-with many qualms, and was overwhelmed to find that there were so many parents from all sections of town, all social and economic groups, each with a problem similar to mine. I learned of the varied program of the Society, which runs three schools for pre-school and multiplehandicapped children, a day care center for the severely retarded, a diversified recreation program (including gym classes, swimming, bowling, Girl and Boy Scouts, teen-age dances, and an extensive camp program of summer day camps and ten-days resident camp). And finally for the adult retardate, when school days are over, the Greater Baltimore Chapter sponsors a sheltered workshop. Workshops for the retarded are scattered throughout the country and some of them are staffed by vocational rehabilitation workers who have received part of their training in the summer craft program operated in Gatlinburg by Pi Beta Phi and the University of Tennessee. The Southeastern regional convention of the National Association for Retarded Children will be held in Gatlinburg in the spring of 1962 and, at that time, many parents and professionals in the field of mental retardation will be able to see at first hand our splendid Pi Phi crafts program.

Through the efforts of far-thinking citizens and the legislative committee of the MSMRC, our problem had been brought to the attention of our state legislature, and the Maryland state aid bill had been passed in 1951, the year our older son was born. This bill provides $600 per handicapped child for school tuition, and this amount may be spent in or out of our state. As a result of the passage of this bill, the various counties set up public schools for the retarded. There are presently over 8,000 children in special schools or special classes in the Greater Baltimore area and our Wilbur is enrolled in the Ridge School, a Baltimore County public school for trainables. The school is located in Towson, not far from our home, and daily bus transportation is provided free of charge. The school has an enrollment of 120 children from age 6 to 21. In the first school years, emphasis is on self-help. Our son has learned to tie shoes, put on boots, recognize his name when he sees or hears it, feed himself with improved table manners-all things on which we were already working at home and in which we now joined his teachers in a cooperative effort. The school has a full-time speech therapist who works with the children individually and with the teachers so that speech is a continuing part of every day training. This speech program has paid dividends for us, for Wilbur had no understanding speech when he entered school and he now speaks sentences with a fair degree of clarity. Last year (he is now 10) he began "academic" work, which means that he is learning to print his name, to read words (emphasis is put on safety words such as "stop, go, slow") to count, to learn a little about money.

Richard attends regular public school but is enrolled in a special class where the pace is slower than that provided for normal children.

May I add here a happy footnote. To complete our family group, we have a lovely daughter, Margaret, who is 18 months old. While we watch every move she makes, our pediatrician assures us that we need have no fear: she is a happy, normal baby.

Daily life with retarded children is a challenge and, I must confess, often a strain. We learn and we experiment. Because Wilbur is hyperactive, we try to stay one jump ahead of him, for as long as he is busy he is happy. He is painfully neat—he picks up and straightens after all of us. As with all retarded children, he seems to feel a greater sense of security when there is no change in his routine, so our days are most systematic. As with all children, he fights with his brother, hugs his sister too often and too hard, and gets into trouble. But he is most affectionate, strives to please us, and is truly a joy in many ways.

What the future will bring for our sons, we do not know, but we do know that, with public understanding of our problem and acceptance of such handicapped children, there is hope for the retarded.

CONVENTION IS COMING—JUNE 24-30 at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C. REGISTER EARLY

Starr Walker and the Sigma Nu Relay trophy which Missouri Beta won.

Ann Boyer is crowned Engineers' Queen by Dean Fisher.

Missouri Beta Blitz

The Missouri Betas of Pi Beta Phi will long remember the first Greek Weekend held at Washington University.

First, Kathy Roberts, president of Mortar Board, accepted the award given to Pi Beta Phi for first in scholarship. This was won after many hours of study under the careful program and prodding of Kathie Schumacher, the scholarship chairman.

Then, to the tune of sucking lemons and trilling "Do-Re-Mis," the Pi Beta Phis hurried to Graham Chapel, the scene of the next event, Greek Sing. Due in large measure to the intricate arrangements of the songs by Judy Harris, and under her able direction, the chapter was announced the winner.

Then followed a mad scramble into formals, as the Pi Beta Phis hurried to the Engineers' Ball. Their arrival was timed perfectly to see Ann Boyer crowned Engineers' Queen and Betty Rice a Maid of Honor.

The next morning, weary Missouri Betas tumbled early from their beds, staggered through breakfast, and hurried to the  $\Sigma$  N Relays. After engaging in pie eating contests, mud throwing, stilt walking, and tug-of-wars, the Chapter again was victorious. Hugging the huge trophy, Starr Walker, the President of WRA, carried it back to the victors.

That evening, those who could walk, attended the  $\Sigma$  X Spring Formal to see Betty Rice as Maid of Honor in the Sweetheart Court.

It is no wonder that people are still talking about the Pi Beta Phi Blitz of Greek Weekend.

Sue Mortenson, Pennsylvania Epsilon, describes an interesting year as a White House Press Staff member

She Líkes Her Job

Sue Mortenson is a native of Iowa who went to Penn State—and a Home Ec major who has been majoring in the science of politics since her graduation. This attractive Pennsylvania Epsilon alumna, who is a third generation Pi Phi, has had a fastbreaking career which led her to a key position on the White House press staff within three years of her graduation.

With her degree in hand in the summer of 1958 Sue headed for Washington and a three-month temporary job with Senator Spessard L. Holland of Florida. Three months later she had joined the staff of the then Senator John Kennedy as a legislative secretary. Her main duty was to keep up with all legislation—but at that time the Kennedy office was already laying the groundwork for the 1960 primaries and according to Sue "we all worked on everything and anything." Here she got her conditioning for the schedule that was to come, often working on a 12-14 hour daily stint and frequently 7 days a week.

Sue got her first taste of political campaigning in the 1960 West Virginia Primary, spending one month in Charlestown, West Virginia. Then came the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles and the national campaign which kept her on the go with the hardworking Kennedy forces from August until the week before the election when she left the traveling staff to set up things in Hyannis, Massachusetts, for the long night of fateful decision when the votes were counted.

During that campaign Sue was on the press staff of Pierre Salinger, which meant they traveled with from 50 to 150 reporters who were covering Mr. Kennedy during the campaign. The Salinger staff was charged with keeping the reporters up to date on speech, copies and schedules and getting them to the bus, train or plane on time. Looking back on it Sue says,

"It was a period of time which was sort of hazy in my mind. We never had more than 3 or 4 hours of sleep a night, if that much. We often covered 5 states in one day beginning sometimes at 5 in the morning and stopping at 1:30 or 2:00 the next morning. It was an experience that I can never describe in words—the excitement of seeing a crowd of 70,000 people at 4 o'clock in the morning who had been standing for hours in the rain to see Kennedy: the excitement of talking over the day's events on the President's plane; the experience of having a flat tire on the Pennsylvania turnpike when you have the next stop's speech in your hands; and on ... and on."

After the election, as soon as the President-elect announced Pierre Salinger's appointment as Press Secretary, Sue was asked to join the White House press staff. Her acceptance of this new position triggered another round of work and activity as fast moving as the jets on which she so often travels.

From Hyannis the staff went directly to Palm Beach with a one hour stopover in Washington to change clothes. From November 12 until January 18 she traveled with the President-elect from Washington to Palm Beach to Lyndon Johnson's ranch in Texas to New York to Boston to Palm Beach. Sue says of this phase.

"It was almost more exhausting than the campaign itself and just as exciting. Again, there was no hard and fast rule of duties . . . the range was as wide as the work there was to do. I even substituted for the hostess on the President-elect's plane on Christmas Eve flying the Bob Kennedy family from Palm Beach to Washington . . . at least I got home for Christmas . . . (went back to Palm Beach on Christmas day). The result of all this was that I ended up in the hospital on Inauguration Day, but got to work in the White House on January 21."

This busy young Pi Phi describes her work in the White House as exciting as the jobs which led up to it. She says the hours are just as long and the people even more exciting. She travels even farther now and in her first six months as a White House staffer had gone to Key West, Palm Beach, Canada, Boston, Paris, Vienna, London and Cape Cod. Her duties cover a range as wide as her travels.

"The work ranges from answering unsolvable questions to the absolutely trivial; from answering letters and thousands of telephone calls to taking dictation from the President," she says.

She describes her boss, Pierre Salinger, as "one of the most fascinating people in Washington or anywhere else to work for. He has a brilliant mind, a marvelous sense of humor and real interest in people."

Sue was one of the young staffers featured in a June 11, 1961, American Weekly article "Beauties in the White House." It described her as "blonde, outdoorsy, unruffled" and explained as Salinger's aide that "wherever Salinger goes, she goes." The article quoted Sue as saying of this travel, "So I get the same red carpet treatment. I like it."

The record would seem to show that she has also earned it.

Are Fraternities on Their Way Out?

Mr. George Starr Lasher in The Rattle of Theta Chi states that "The Answer Is No!" Mr. Lasher says that he does not base his opinion upon generalizations, but upon "over 50 years of personal observation as a teacher and administrator in classrooms and campuses of varied character in these United States; on an impartial survey that in 1957 gave through Baird's Manual of College Fraternities factual material dealing with 3,437 chapters of national fraternities and 1,903 chapters of national sororities;" on attendance of more than thirty of the annual meetings of the National Interfraternity Conference; the reading of fraternity and sorority magazines; and his personal acquaintance with hundreds of students and alumni.

Mr. Lasher substantiates his answer with the following facts:

(1) "Both fraternities and sororities are having the greatest growth in their history; in 1959-1960 alone 48 new chapters were installed by fraternities, 24 by sororities....

(2) New campuses opened to national fraternities and sororities in 1955-1959 totalled 88; more have been opened since and will be in the years immediately ahead. In the meantime only two institutions have banned chapters: . . .

(3) The reason why so many campuses are being opened to national fraternities and sororities is because their administrators and trustees have been convinced by administrators of Greek campuses that fraternities and sororities make highly valuable contributions....

(4) Membership in practically all undergraduate chapters is high, making the total of collegiate Greeks today the largest on record.

(5) The number of alumni groups throughout the nation is also increasing steadily.

(6) Evidence of their appreciation of the value of fraternities and sororities is shown by the fact that the financial contributions of alumni today are at an all-time high." Mr. Lasher states that this results in more chapter houses, millions of dollars for endowment funds and educational foundations to aid undergraduate and graduate students, and thousands of dollars for philanthropic programs.

(7) "The great contributions of fraternities and sororities to the educational institutions of which they are a part is appreciated by administrators universally. Not a single administrator of a Greek campus is on record as being opposed to fraternities and sororities, while hundreds are on record as to their constructive value.

(8) Institutions which in a few cases have discouraged fraternities and sororities in the past are now encouraging them. The University of Chicago, for instance, is urging fraternities that withdrew chapters there to reestablish them and has announced it will welcome national sororities if they wish to place chapters on that campus, ...."

Mr. Lasher also presents the following reasons:

"Fraternity and sorority chapters are the most effective agencies in training persons for life in a democracy," as the undergraduate members elect officers, enforce chapter laws they make and change, and then serve as delegates in conventions responsible for national laws.

"A chapter is really a social laboratory, providing the most valuable experiences available on a campus in learning to know thoroughly and judge wisely human beings."

Undergraduates run chapter houses, handle large sums of money, and plan social activities.

"In learning how to plan, work and play with others, members later become more effective husbands and wives, parents, employees and employers, and citizens.

"Fraternities and sororities give members desirable goals and a sense of responsibility in meeting them."

Greek organizations are helpful on community projects, develop leadership, are not limited to wealthy families, discourage snobbery, and help "in building lifelong friendships, the finest by-products of college life.

And there is no substitute for college fraternities and sororities."

RUTH FRANCHERE, Stephen Crane, the story of an American writer, Thomas Y. Crowell Company, 216 pp.

That which most persons shun, the disquieting, the disagreeable, and the distressing, Stephen Crane sought. Furthermore, he was not content merely to observe. He felt compelled to steep himself in an environment, however repugnant, unhealthful, or even dangerous, before experience could be transformed by his own talent into fiction truly meriting the word "great."

Because he broke most of the copybook rules and frequently shared the lot of the destitute and the degenerate, his life isn't an easy subject for a biographer whose audience is among adolescents. Mrs. Franchere, however, has written sensitively and honestly, as well as interestingly, proving that the combination of understanding with the right vocabulary makes it possible to discuss virtually any subject with anyone.

Certainly young persons should be reading about Stephen Crane as well as reading what he wrote, for his career was begun as an adolescent and finished, by tuberculosis, before he was thirty. His biographer, moreover, has been successful in helping readers understand the paradox of a very young man who could write with mature understanding of the circumstances that produced "Maggie: a Girl of the Streets" and with compassion for the girl herself and yet could not manage his own life with any degree of wisdom,

She also reveals the character of Crane's personal courage which made it possible for him to produce "The Red Badge of Courage," probably his greatest work, with the integrity of experience despite the fact that he had not known war at its writing.

Ruth Franchere is an effective writer, and parents will find that this book is one they can enjoy reading along with their teen-age children.

A Full Length Opinion

In this, Alice Troxell McCoun's third volume of verse, there is evidence to support our theory that poetry is the art of saying much with very few, but very skillfully chosen, words.

To substantiate this we've chosen to quote the quatrain, "As a Man Thinketh":

"The one who thinks in terms of war Will endless wars invite. No need to dream of peace before He knows that peace is right."

For the most part the poetry in this book, much of which appeared first in various Christian Science publications to which Mrs. McCoun contributes frequently, is spiritual in character and expresses meaningfully the old virtues of faith, hope, and charity.

freedom or to ignore it as being someone else's responsibility. Furthermore, I believe in view of the world situation today and the increasingly distorted viewpoint with which the public is approaching the subject of fraternities, that if we do not take up the crusade for maintenance of personal liberty and political freedom we will be swept out on the tide of indifference."

Holt House

By Beth Olwin Dawson, Holt House Committee

The Holt House Story

"Holt House was intended, not as a monument to our own achievements, but as a modest shrine to mark our humble beginnings. Such greatness as we may achieve will find approval in the minds and hearts of others—a far more honest tribute than any self-erected edifice of stone and mortar."—Marian Keck Simmons

Why is it called "Holt House?"

In 1853 Jacob Holt journeyed west from Plattsburg, New York, looking for a suitable place to settle with his family. He liked Monmouth, and subsequently bought a residence at 402 East First Ave., which thereafter was known as the "Holt House." In America, restored houses are customarily known by the names of the families which occupied them. Thus it was decided to retain the name "Holt House."

When Ada Bruen and Libbie Brook came to Monmouth to attend college, they rented a room from "Major" Holt. So it was in 1867, following close on the war between the states, in the bright southwest second floor bedroom, that the first social fraternal organization for women, I. C. Sorosis, came into being.

After Ada and Libbie left school little more was heard of Holt House. "Major" Holt passed on and his children, one by one, departed from the home. Finally only Susan, the youngest daughter, was left. She had no means of maintaining the home, so year by year it fell into rack and ruin and was finally completely abandoned. Thus it was in 1938 when it was put up for sale at a delinquent tax auction, Pi Beta Phi bought it for the amazingly low price of $1110.

The Pasadena convention of 1940 authorized the cost of restoration be paid from the contingent fund. All other expenses, furnishings, maintenance, etc. were to come from annual contributions from chapters, clubs, and individuals. Care was taken to recreate the era of our founding. An architect, Mr. H. G. Aldrich, a Pi Phi husband, was engaged to supervise the physical restoration. The first committee spent long hours consulting with decorators and visiting museums and antique shops seeking just the right furnishings and accessories. The first chairman was Mrs. Lorette Chapman Terrell from Kansas City, Missouri. She gave unstintingly of her time and thoughts,—even loaned money. It is due mainly to her and her committee that Holt House is the lovely shrine it is today.

Today Holt House is bright with a new coat of paint. There is a newly remodeled more efficient kitchen; some of the lovely antiques have been refinished and reupholstered; a much needed driveway has added greatly for easy access to the rear.

Ada's and Libbie's ghosts could, I think, walk into Holt House and feel at home. They would be pleased that it is carrying on their idea of "service." It fulfills a need of the community for a "meetingplace";—the place of our founding, restored as a lovely and useful memorial.*

Orlie Watson—Thirty-Five Years

How can anyone review another's record of thirtyfive years of conscientious, devoted service? Orlie Watson has more consecutive years of direct contact with the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School than any single member of the Fraternity! Only Miss Amy Burnham Onken, Honorary Grand President, and Dr. May Keller, President Emeritus, could hope to challenge this record.

Mr. Watson has retired as maintenance superintendent of the school but will continue to work on a part-time basis. His wife, Josie, was for twentyfive years a weaver for Arrowcraft.

The Watsons were honored by the Settlement School Staff at a dinner at the Ruth Barrett Smith Staff House on September 1, 1961. Mrs. Marion Mueller, Director, who presided at the dinner, read testimonials and presented gifts to the Watsons from the Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi, the Settlement School Committee, and the staff of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School. A tally of the employment spans of those attending the party revealed that 187 years of service to the school were represented.

Many memories must have come back to Orlie Watson on this memorable occasion. He could think back to 1913 when he lived at Cartertown and walked two and one-half miles every day to attend the Pi Beta Phi School, then in its second year. In 1917 he served in the army for two years and on his return married Josie McCarter, who had gone to school with him. Pi Phis who attended the 1946 Convention at Swampscott will remember Josie as the weaver who demonstrated for Arrowcraft at the loom in the lobby of the hotel.

Orlie came to the Settlement School as farm, garden, and maintenance man. As he watched the steady growth of the size and scope of the Settlement School, the maintenance requirements grew, too, until the one-man job required the services of three men. He can remember when the old elementary school and Teacher's Cottage were the finest buildings in Gatlinburg: "We all had to come in and see everything in them. It was the first time I'd seen a furnace, and the foundation of the house and the basement was the first concrete I'd seen in Gatlinburg. It seems funny now, but when I had time, I liked to sit on the porch of that new school. It was so nice."

At one time Orlie rose at five o'clock every morning to fire seven furnaces before breakfast, but modern equipment has relieved him of that chore. Habit is hard to break, however, and he is still an early riser.

The Watsons have four children, one daughter and three sons, who attended the Pi Beta Phi School. Lois, the daughter, worked for Arrowcraft under Ethel Snow. After World War II their son, Neal, came to work for the Pi Phis and his son, Stephen, now attends the Pi Phi school.

Neal Watson has a very special reason to be grateful to Pi Beta Phi and the school nurse. It was during the time when Phyllis Higinbotham was pioneering the health service in Gatlinburg that a playful prank between two brothers near a wood stove upset a pot of boiling water and scalded four and one-half year old Neal on both legs from his hips down. Miss Phyllis visited Neal every day for twenty-one days, caring for his wounds, and, what was more important, forcing him to straighten his legs every day so that the ligaments and muscles would not shorten. "And," says Neal, "Mom and Dad wouldn't do that to me, 'cause I'd cry-but Miss Phyllis knew I HAD to, or be a cripple. I sure am grateful to the Pi Phis for what they have done for me and my family."

During World War II when the men of the area were leaving for military service or for the higher paying jobs in the wartime factories, Orlie was tempted by the higher pay, too. When he realized that there was no man left who could take care of the Settlement School property, he stayed. When Orlie first went to work for Pi Beta Phi, his salary was $50.00 a month, and that was reduced five dollars a month during the depression; but Orlie says that he saved more than anyone can on today's wages. With his brown eyes twinkling and a smile on his face he says, "I reckon this is the suitest place a body could live."

One of his favorite stories is about the time a couple of men came along and asked him about the Settlement School. He told them it was run by the sorority, Pi Beta Phi. One of them said, "Yes, I know about it. I am a Pi Phi myself." When he asked if Orlie was a Pi Phi, Orlie says he just laughed and said, "'I reckon I was.' But I thought to myself I'd worked here so long I almost felt like a Pi Phi."

She's A Pi Phi

Janice Haley Reigns As Chattanooga Cotton Ball Queen

Lovely Janice Haley, North Carolina Alpha Pi Phi, received a royal honor in August when she was chosen to reign as queen of the twenty-ninth annual Chattanooga Cotton Ball, the top social event in that Tennessee city. Her King was DeSales Harrison, Chattanooga business and civic leader.

This new honor crowns an outstanding record for Janice, who is a senior at the University of North Carolina this year—a record that began in preparatory school. While attending Chattanooga Girls Preparatory school she was its May Day Maid of Honor, Sweetheart of McAllie, a boy's preparatory school, and the McCallie Homecoming Queen.

She attended Mary Washington College two years and was a member of its May Court both of those years. During that period she was also featured as "Drag of the Week" in the Navy Log at Annapolis and was the Fall Party Queen at Colgate University.

In her first year at the University of North Carolina she was chosen Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl, was a member of the Homecoming court, was selected as a yearbook beauty and was chosen queen of the "Beat Hook" parade and weekend preceding the Carolina-Duke football game. She also was an officer in the Junior Class and was president of the Panhellenic Council.

Janice had first participated in the Chattanooga Cotton Ball in 1959 when she was presented as a Cotton Belle. Her selection as queen this year was such a well-kept secret that even her own family did not know she would reign until an hour before the ball.

Among the 117 Cotton Belles who formed her court this year was her sister, Joan, who had wanted to borrow her royal sister's pearl earrings for the big night and couldn't understand why they couldn't be loaned—until she saw her sister receiving a tumultous welcome as the 1961 Queen.

Former National Officer Cited by Her Community

Frances Rosser Brown, Oklahoma Alpha, and former Pi Phi National Historian, was one of thirty citizens of Muskogee, Oklahoma, cited this summer for service to their community.

The award was made to those persons who had given marked service to Muskogee or who had lent prestige to it in arts, education, and industry.

Mrs. Brown's citation was made on the basis of her leadership in the promotion of the Five Civilized Tribes Indian Museum and for her active leadership in many fields of civic betterment.

This widely known and beloved Pi Phi who takes an active part in her local alumnæ club and works with both Oklahoma active chapters, is the sister of Louise Rosser Kemp, the Pi Phi Counselor for Chapter House Corporations.

Miss Hoeltzel Recognized

LRU Dedicates Annual to Pi Phi Professor

From its founding in 1927 until thirty-three years later, the Little Rock University yearbook The Trojan had as its faculty sponsor, Miss Pauline Hoeltzel. This year she relinquished those duties and the yearbook staff recognized her long tenure and service by dedicating the annual to this Arkansas Alpha Pi Phi.

Actually the recognition of Miss Hoeltzel was for more than her work as yearbook sponsor; it pointed up her association with the school since the first faculty was formed for Little Rock Junior College, which was to grow into Little Rock University.

Miss Hoeltzel began her career in education as a public school teacher and had taught for three years in Wisconsin, Oklahoma and Arkansas before joining the Little Rock public school system in 1923. She was a high school teacher when the decision to set up a Junior College was made and for a time taught both high school and junior college classes.

Given Choice

When the college was moved to a new location she and other teachers were given a choice of staying at the high school and being sure of a regular salary or going to the junior college and taking a chance on getting paid if the tuition money was paid. She took the chance and reports she has never missed a paycheck.

Miss Hoeltzel has seen the school grow from a struggling small two year college to the fourth largest 4-year institution in Arkansas and has moved with it through a series of buildings to its present attractive new campus acquired in 1949.

Active Alumna

Her duties as assistant professor of German and English have kept Miss Hoeltzel busy, but not too much so to work in a number of organizations, including Pi Phi alumnæ club work. She is a past president of the Little Rock Alumnæ Club and also a former president of the Arkansas Alpha House Board.

She was a member of the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees from 1950 until 1960. She is a former governor of the 7th district of Altrusa International, a service club for women. This year she was elected state president of the American Association of University Women. She is the senior national honorary member of Phi Theta Kappa, national honorary group, which she has served as sponsor on the LRU campus since 1930.

Little Rock took note of Miss Hoeltzel's outstanding record twelve years ago when it named her "Woman of the Year" in 1949.

Pat Leech

Colorado Gamma Clean-Up

Pat Leech and Sheri Green Sweep CSU Honors

Two busy and attractive Colorado Gamma Pi Phis swept home a basketful of top honors on the Colorado State University campus last year. Pat Leech and Sheri Green both climaxed their undergraduate careers with enviable records of service both to Pi Phi and their university and both received outstanding recognition on campus as the year climaxed.

Pat was president of Colorado Gamma last year and she won the highest honor a graduating senior can receive—that of Pacemaker.

On AWS Honors Night Pat was chosen Miss Leadership, a fitting title in view of her campus activity. She was president of the new Mortar Board chapter on campus and had a vital role in its establishment on campus. She was elected Student Body secretary and a member of the Legislature. She was a member of Sigma Tau Delta and a Greek Ball Queen attendant, and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Sheri began college on a winning note when she was chosen Miss Colorado State University. She climaxed it on a note that matched the beginning when she was named Miss All-Around Aggie at the annual AWS Honors Night.

This busy Pi Phi had been a Pepperette, a CSU cheerleader, member of Hesperia serving as its president for one year and as its senior advisor another year, and had played the lead in the school production of the musical, "The Pajama Game." She was a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Alpha Psi Upsilon and Sigma Tau Delta. She also is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

A DREAM COME TRUE—Christy Heilman casts a proud eye on Phi Sigma Kappa trophy awarded to her chapter, Connecticut Alpha in the spring of 1961 as the outstanding sorority on the University of Connecticut campus.

Award Honors Helen Lewis

Epsilon Province Sophomore Award for Four Chapters Created by Detroit Area Alumnae

Beginning this year the outstanding sophomore of each of the four Michigan chapters of Pi Beta Phi received an ARROW of special design—these arrows represented an award created to honor a Pi Phi of equally special design in the realm of devotion and dedicated service to the Fraternity.

The Helen Lewis Sophomore Award honors Helen Anderson Lewis (Mrs. Benjamin C.), a charter member of Kentucky Alpha, who is described by her friends in the Detroit Area as "one who has been an active member of Pi Beta Phi since the day of her initiation in 1925."

In creating the new award the Detroit, Dearborn, Grosse Pointe and Bloomfield Hills Alumnæ Clubs took note of the various offices held by Mrs. Lewis over the years. These offices have ranged from being an alumnæ advisory committee member through both province vice-president and province president to ten years as a Grand Council member as Director of Membership and now to the new office of National Convention Guide.

Traveling Award

The traveling award is made to the sophomore of each Michigan chapter who is selected as most outstanding on the basis of scholarship, service to her chapter and campus activities.

Pi Phi Professor Now in Pakistan

Miss Anna Mary Urban, New York Delta, assistant professor of library science at the University of Maryland, is in Dacca, Pakistan, this year on a Fulbright scholarship as a lecturer at Dacca University.

Miss Urban's award was one of more than 500 grants for lecturing and research abroad made by the Board of Foreign Scholarships under the Fulbright Act.

At the University of Maryland for 17 years, Miss Urban is coordinator of the Maryland reference services. She holds an A.B. degree from Cornell University, an A.B. in library science from Emory University and an M.A. in political science from the University of Maryland.

Maryland Beta is without this devoted Pi Phi's thoughtful counsel and guidance this year for the first time since 1944. She served as chairman of its Alumnæ Advisory from that year until this spring. The award pin worn for a year by the recipient is inscribed with Mrs. Lewis's name.

The first winners of the award this year were: Linda Olson, Michigan Alpha; Lynn Marie Tolhurst, Michigan Beta; Pamela Rowland, Michigan Gamma and Nancy Lenz, Michigan Delta.

PANHELLENIC PREXY—Mary Jean Schallhorn Mayes (Mrs. Hubert, Jr.), Arkansas Alpha, is the 1961-62 president of the Little Rock (Ark.) Panhellenic Association. Mrs. Mayes is the wife of a Little Rock attorney and the mother of daughters three and six. She is a former member of the Atlanta, Georgia Alumnæ Club. As president of the Little Rock Panhellenic she will have an active role in its philanthropic project, Panhellenic Children's Library.

Dr. Esther McD. Lloyd-Jones —an Outstanding Pi Phi

Dr. Lloyd-Jones

Dr. Esther McDonald Lloyd-Jones received an honorary Doctor of Science in Education degree from Boston University this year, the second honorary degree to be awarded her in recent years. These degrees and the recognition of distinctive service they signify bear out the vision of Esther McDonald's Pi Phi sisters in the Illinois Epsilon chapter who remember her as a "brilliant and beautiful young woman, with a bright future."

At Northwestern she was a Bonbright scholar and graduated summa cum laude. She went on to Columbia University where she received her Master of Arts degree and Doctor of Philosophy degree and was a Teachers College Fellow.

Today Dr. Lloyd-Jones, Professor of Education, is head of the Department of Guidance and Student Personnel Administration at Teachers College, Columbia University. She has come to this position through the ranks after joining the staff of Teachers college as an instructor in the student personnel administration department in 1928.

Through the years she has been a leader in many fields of civic service. Some of these endeavors include chairman of the national student council, member of the national board and executive committee of the YWCA, a board member of the National Council on Religion in Higher Education, secretary of the American College Personnel Association, president of Women Deans and Counselors, and a member of the board of the New York City AAUW chapter.

She is a former trustee of Briarcliffe College and at present is a trustee of Elmira College and Pratt Institute. It was Elmira which bestowed an honorary LLD degree on her in 1955.

During World War II, Professor Lloyd-Jones acted as a consultant to the Secretary of War and represented Dr. Hobby in selecting the first group of W.A.A.C. officer candidates.

Her publications cover a wide range in the field of student personnel work and higher education including a series of lectures published by the Institute Brazil-Estados Unidos, Rio de Janerio.

Dr. Lloyd-Jones is a Pi Beta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Lambda Theta, Psi Xi and Mortar Board member. She is listed in the 1960-61 edition of Who's Who in America.

She and her husband live in New York City and Beaver Lake, N.J. They have a son and daughter, both of whom are married.

Edith Myers Vuchnich

She Is New

President of

Canadian YWCA

It has been said that Ohio Beta Pi Phi Edith Myers Vuchnich has life with an international quality—she was born and educated in the United States, married and lived in South Africa three years and now has lived for over twenty years in Canada, where her son Michael was born. A life with such a quality has undoubtedly fitted her well for a new honor and responsibility that came to her this year when she was elected President of the Canadian Young Women's Christian Association for a four year term.

The Vuchnichs live in Toronto, and she has been active in YWCA work there almost from the time she arrived in Canada. She is a former President of the Board of the Toronto YWCA and served two terms as first Vice-President of the National YWCA Board prior to her election as President this year.

In 1954 she attended the first West Africa YWCA Conference in Nigeria and later visited the Association in the Gold Coast and Sierra Leona.

This attractive and indefatigable worker in this outstanding organization comes to her role of leadership with experience that began as a Girl Reserve in Columbia, Ohio; for the Girl Reserves were the fore-runners of the American YWCA Y-Teens. When she entered Ohio State University to take her degree in Social Work, the YWCA again played an important part in her career, for she was on the Membership Council which interpreted the "Y" to the new students.

Despite the demanding duties of her YWCA work Mrs. Vuchnich finds time to serve as a member of the Board of Management of the United Church Training School and take an active role in the United Appeal Campaign of Toronto. She is an original member of the National Regency Review Committee and for three years the only woman member of that committee.

She is the wife of an Ohio State graduate, M. N. Vuchnich, who is now president of the Lincoln Electric Company of Canada. Mr. Vuchnich is a member of Delta Upsilon Fraternity. He received an outstanding honor in 1958 when he was among those men chosen by Sports Illustrated magazine to receive its Silver Anniversary All-American Award. This award goes to men who were outstanding football players in college days and who have since made significant contributions in business or professional and community life. Their son Michael is now in his senior year at Northwestern University and is president of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter.

Pi Phi Is One of Sigma Chi's Top Triumvirate

To Karen Kimzey, a 1961 initiate of Washington Beta of Pi Beta Phi, came, this summer, an honor which few could hope for. Selected 1960-1961 sweetheart by the chapter of Sigma Chi at Washington State, she was then entered in an all-campus Intercollegiate Knight Sweetheart contest which she also won. Karen, a former Junior Miss Washington, was then submitted as a possible candidate for the International Sweetheart of Sigma Chi title.

From among the nominations submitted by chapters throughout the United States, three "Significant Sigs" alums selected three finalists to compete during the fraternity convention held in Miami Beach, Florida. In addition to Karen were named Miss Carolee Ream, Delta Gamma from the University of Southern California, and Miss Barbara Ann Williams, Alpha Delta Pi from Southern Methodist University in Texas.

Guests of the fraternity, the three arrived in Florida to launch into a busy schedule of appearances, interviews and gatherings, culminating in the Sweetheart Ball. At this time it was revealed that Carolee Ream would reign as the 1961 International Sweetheart of Sigma Chi and she, as well as her sister finalists, were serenaded by the appreciative fraternity men on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of the writing of their famous Sweetheart Song.

Although only one could be chosen International Sweetheart, all Three had become the Sweethearts of the hundreds of Sigma Chis they met during their stay in Miami.

MOST OUTSTANDING SENIOR WOMAN—Mary Ann (Skip) Harris, Nebraska, Beta, rated this top honor at the University of Nebraska last spring. Mary Ann, who was the Mu Province ABO Award winner, is now serving as graduate counselor at the Kentucky Beta Colony.

*ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO. Char-tered, 1909. This year, the new term was started by being as the Fraternity calls it "completely organized." The fall term started on the week end of September 20 for the Fraternity "en masse" spent the two days at the fraternity house. There, all the decorations and favours were made, as well as the output of the rush captain. Penny Sturgeon. The the skit was acted out again and again until it reached the standards of the rush captain. Penny Sturgeon. The thing of special interest, was that all the mothers were in-wided down for tea, and to watch the skit; a thing that the mothers do not get to see too often. The theme this year is Hawaii, and the favours seem to be quite original: occonuts hollowed out, covered with light blue paint, and pi Beta Phi in wine symbols printed on. This year, Ontario A finally had the whole downstairs renovated, and redcorated, from an off white and dark green decor, with modern furniture, to new china in the kitchen. This fall the members returned determined to make this an even better year and began by getting eighteen beautiful new pledges during formal Rush. On the night of September 15 all actives moved out to Lark Ranch for our annual over-night retreat. We discussed plans and goals for the year. Our chapter is especially enthusiastic about the 'Cyclones,'' our football team, because the head-cheerleader, Jackie Hash and another member of the cheer squad, Judy Morgan, are both Pi Beta Phis. The student spirit is also given an extra boost by four Pi Beta Phis who are members of Pep Council; they are, Kathy Kerl, Jan Readhead, Judy Morgan and Jackie Hash. On September 27 the agriculture students sponsored their annual ''Harvest Ball.' We were all very pleased when one of our sis-ters, Barbara Haugen, was crowned Queen of the Harvest Ball. In our all college elections, Leslie Graham was elected to Bomb Publications Board, and Kathy Kerl was elected to the Student Union Board.

Publications Board, and Kathy Kerl was elected to the Student Union Board. Each class in the house has been planning parties for the pledges. The purpose is to help the pledges to feel more a part of the house. The junior's party featured an eighteen-segmented worm; each segment was a junior Pi Beta Phi, on all fours, cov-ered with a blanket. After the disguise was removed, the juniors took turns giving character sketches about their classmates. During fall quarter Campus Chest solicits the students for con-tributions. The Pi Beta Phis helped as a group by providing a booth in the "Blast," a Campus Chest carnival. The booth was called the "Golden Arrow" and featured ten Iowa P dance hall queens. All profits went to the Campus Chest. Sue Pillers, Sondy Krumrey and Bev Boatsma served as members of the Campus Chest Central Committee.

*KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS. Chartered, April 1, 1872. Pledge Day, September 10, 1961. After a three month vacation, the Pi Beta Phis at the University of Kansas re-turned to Lawrence to find the campus looking pretty much as it had in May. The new genetics wing to Snow Hall, the biological science building was now completed, and the new nuclear reaction center was well under way. However, in our opinion, the most exciting and beautiful building to be added to the Kansas Univer-sity campus is the new Pi Beta Phi house, which will be started this fall.

In addition, we are busy making plans for two special events. The first is the visit of Mrs. Morgan, Grand Vice President. We have the privilege of having her with us from October 22-24 and will enjoy seeing and talking to her greatly. The second event is homecoming which will be the weekend of November 3-5. The local letter on chapter finances which goes with it should have been approved by the Province President the previous Spring. It is necessary that parents understand the financial obligations at the beginning of the year.

Should see that Financial Statements to Parents of Pledges are sent approximately two weeks before the proposed initiation. They should be sent ONLY to the parents of the girls who have met the initiation requirements and whom the chapter definitely plans to initiate. This means too that the blanks should be sent only for the girls who have received the required vote of the Executive Council and the Alumnæ Advisory Committee for approval of initiation. Should see that badges are ordered through the Central Office. It takes six weeks or more, to complete badge orders. Badges for prospective members should not be ordered until all initiation requirements have been met.
