Have You Wondered About Fraternity Costs?

A recent letter concerning the cost of maintaining our Fraternity was directed to Louise Rosser Kemp, Grand Treasurer. Since her answer contained facts that may be of interest to many, we quote some of the figures. Mrs. Kemp is convinced that Pi Beta Phi receives more benefit per dollar than any like or related national organization, and that the volunteer hours of service by officers and committee members make the difference.

Each chapter sets up its own budget, and national fees are included in that budget. National dues are only $1.00 per member per month, collected for ten months annually.

Only $8.00 of the pledge fee and only $25.00 of the initiation fee is used for operating expenses. Convention is the governing body of our Fraternity, but only $5.00 of the pledge fee and $10.00 of the initiation fee is used to finance such meetings. $2.00 of the pledge fee goes into the alumnæ department. A graduating senior pays "Senior Dues" of $2.00 which cover her alumnæ dues for her first year out of school.

Alumnæ members enjoy the privileges of membership at a minimum cost. Of the $3.00 annual national dues, $1.00 is placed in the Alumnæ Convention Fund. The remainder is used for necessary expenses of Central Office and alumnæ officers.

Mrs. Kemp says, "It is expensive to maintain Pi Beta Phi, but the cost per individual member is inexpensive and the dividends are high. It would be more expensive to lose the Fraternity's stature, its influence and its joy of membership."

THE COVER—On one of her walks in San Francisco, Imogen Cunningham snapped this now-famous self portrait on Geary Street in 1959. The fascinating story of Miss Cunningham, the remarkable sprite who ignored a chance to appear in Who's Who because she "never bothered to answer the questionnaire," begins on page 9.

off the Arrow book

It always gives us pleasure when we are able to follow up ARROW stories with additional news about the subjects of those stories. Particularly is this true when we can tell about additional honors received. And since this column is the last thing to be written before the issue takes off for the printers, we frequently have news that cannot be added to the story itself. Our current cover story concerns outstanding photographer, octogenarian Imogen Cunningham. And now comes word, as we write this, that Imogen is the recipient of the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation grant so that she may work on printing her many past negatives. But that's not all. The Bibliotheque Nationale, the first big collector outside of this country, is buying her work. And further, a book of her photographs will be published this year by the University of Washington Press. As Imogen says, "It seems when I am 87 all sorts of things are being said and done." And they are indeed about this remarkable woman. May we offer our congratulations to the many she will be receiving?

In the spring issue of The ARROW, our book reviewer, Lib Barnette, mentioned the critical acclaim that Joyce Carol Oates, New York Alpha, has been receiving for her newest book, "them," spelled with a small "t." It was a timely mention, since Miss Oates has since been named winner of the important National Books Award for Fiction. In 1968 and 1969, Miss Oates' books were also nominated for the NBA prize, but failed to win. This year she was not to be outdone, however, and again, congratulations are in order.

Another follow-up has been brought to our attention, this time to a story that appeared in The ARROW, Winter, 1966, about humanitarian Dr. Welthy Fisher, founder of the Literacy Information Centre in New Delhi, India. In March, 1969, Dr. Fisher was presented with the first Nehru Literacy Award by the President of India. And now, in her 90th year, Dr. Fisher has given up her home in the United States and moved—bag, baggage, and some of her treasures—to New Dehli, where the Literacy Information Centre is being built. A humble note from Dr. Fisher came with the above information, saying, "Not that I think this worthy of publication, but I thought you might like to know what a 90-year-old Pi Phi is doing."

Jumping quickly from the young at heart to the young in age, the following note was sent to "the Pi Phi in charge of 'interesting items,'" and forwarded to us from Central Office. A column in the Toledo Blade mentioned a sign on the University of Toledo campus recently which read: "Thanks, President Carlson and faculty for another good year—the Pi Phi spirit." Turns out that each year Ohio Epsilon designates one member "the Pi Phi spirit," and this spirit is responsible for fostering school and community spirit on campus. The spirit's efforts included posting the sign honoring President Carlson and the faculty at the close of the semester. How nice that a Pi Phi would do this when so many college students only find time to harass administrators and faculty.

Those blue envelopes that all Pi Phis received in the mail have proved to be a real shot in the arm. To date, over $20,000 has been received at Central Office. Approximately half the amount is for dues, and the other half for Arrowmont. A great big THANK YOU, and don't stop now!

Pi Phi's St. Louis Women Are Hard Workers At C. O.

by SALLY PERRY SCHULENBURG
Director of Central Office

It is entirely possible that there is one address that will never be forgotten by any recent collegiate officer of Pi Beta Phi. Nor will that address—112 South Hanley Road, St. Louis, Missouri—be unfamiliar to a majority of Pi Phis who have had reason to correspond with Pi Beta Phi's Central Office at any time since 1964.

One of the reasons for moving Central Office from Decatur, Illinois, to a large city in the center of the country was so that it would be easy for Pi Phis to visit. It hasn't seemed to work out that way, and since it is impossible for very many to come see us, we want to try to bring a little of the flavor of our office to you. It is really your office, where we try to serve you and see that everything correlates.

There are eight full-time employees in the office. As you come in, you'll be greeted by the bookkeeper, Bette Melliere. If you have ever sent a check to Central Office, Bette has receipted it—and if you've ever received a bill from Central Office, it has come from her. Bette is one of those people who can act as a receptionist, answer the phone while adding up her bank deposit, and still have the deposit balance the first time! When the accompanying picture was taken, she was in the midst of receipting checks received from the general mailing that went out asking for alumnæ dues and Arrowmont contributions. We were very gratified with the response, and it was a real pleasure to have direct contact with so many Pi Phis.

At the right of the main office, you will see the "Magazine Agency corner," presided over by Betty Jean Ostendorf. It is Betty Jean who handles all the business of the agency, from filling supply orders and keeping all the records, to thinking up prizes for contests. We wish each Pi Phi would buy just one magazine a year from the agency. It is a painless way to do your bit for Arrowmont—and get a magazine besides!

Betty Jean Ostendorf readies a mailing to magazine chairmen.

In the opposite corner is the chapter accounting department, with Jane Schultz and Primus Casey busy with their adding machines and IBM sheets. They check receipts, house statements and cancelled checks in each chapter treasurer's report each month—and prepare it for keypunching. They report to Mrs. Dorothy Dorlac, Financial Director. Chapter accounting services used to be supervised by a firm of outside auditors, and we think it is a big improvement to have the supervisor only a few feet away. It is a great comfort to me, too, to have her taking care of our payroll and all the reports to the government that are necessary these days.

The next desk in the main office belongs to Judy Collins—but most of the time you will find it vacant because Judy will be in the stock room or the "coffee break" room. Besides the essential refrigerator, this room houses a number of machines that make our lives easier. The largest and most important is the offset machine, Judy's "baby." Almost every printed piece of paper that leaves here has been printed by Judy on this offset machine. It will print 90 copies a minute, but that is a little scary, so she usually doesn't run it that fast.

Other machines in this room include a Xerox, an electric folder, a puncher, an electric stapler, and an electric collator. Caroline Ott, a Missouri Alpha, and one of the three St. Louis

Pi Phis who help part time, operates the collator as one of her duties. It will put six stacks of paper in consecutive order, and is a lot easier than walking around a table!

Next door is the stock room where everything on the stock lists is arranged on shelves, neatly numbered in order so that Judy can go right to it to fill an order. This is done immediately after opening the mail every morning, so if an order hasn't been received in two weeks (the mail can be slow) let us know so that we can check it right away.

Back in the main office you'll meet Caroline Barrere, a Missouri Beta Pi Phi and Assistant Director of Central Office. Caroline is in charge of membership and jewelry, a large part of our operation involving a great amount of detail

Judy Collins gives the offset machine its daily cleaning.

Caroline Ott, Missouri Alpha, helps out part time, and here operates the collator, better known to C. O. personnel as "the foot saver."

Madeleine Lafon, Director of Chapter Programs, helps out when needed, and spends a great deal of time changing names and addresses in the files.

work. Caroline has a card for every pledge, with the date of pledging, date the pledge fee was received, date of initiation, date the fee was received—and all this has to check out before she can process the jewelry order and put its number on the card. This operation alone involves close to 2,500 cards per year!

Another facet of membership is keeping up to date with the names and addresses of as many of the approximately 90,000 living Pi Phis as we can. This, of course, is an impossible job, but we do the best we can. We have been known to wish that we were doing this for a men's fraternity, where at least the initiates keep the same last names all their lives!

Our active chapter lists are done in conjunction with the chapter accounting department and the chapter recording secretaries help us with this. For the addresses of alumnae, we rely on the post office, individual Pi Phis themselves, clubs, and chapters. We do get an average of about twenty changes from individual Pi Phis every day and we appreciate that, since the post office change is not always too reliable. Please send us your new address if you are moving. We hate to have The ARROW come back and have to delete the address we have. This is how we acquired so many "lost" Pi Phis, and we're trying very hard to pare this list down.

All three of our part-time Pi Phis help us with changing names and addresses. Madeleine Lafon, The Fraternity's Director of Chapter Programs, spends some of her "spare" time looking up national numbers in our books of lists.

Memberships lists are stored on IBM tape, and we run them in various ways. We have a list that is alphabetical by maiden name, one that is alphabetical by present name, and one that is alphabetical by chapter, containing the name of every member of that chapter since its founding. We run this twice a year at the same time we run labels for The ARROW, and each chapter receives a copy for its files. And once a year we run a geographical listing. Those towns in club areas are sent to the club, and those not in club areas go to alumnae province presidents for use in finding Pi Phis in areas where chapters need information on prospective rushees. Every January we run a list of Pi Phis initiated 50 years previously and who are now eligible for The Order of the Golden Arrow.

Although names and addresses are most necessary to us, this Golden Arrow list is one example of other information about each Pi Phi which we have stored on tape, such as initiation year, chapter number, class year, whether or not a degree was received, etc.

All these numbers and lists could very easily have worn you out, so won't you come into my office and rest for a while? I promise that as soon as I finish going over copy for the Directory pages of The ARROW I'll look up! I wish each of you really would come in to chat, but I hope that in lieu of that talk, this little tour has made you more familiar with the administrative work we do for The Fraternity. In an organization as large as ours, there is bound to be paper work. Our goal is to finish that paper work as quickly and as efficiently as possible so that we may be as much help as we can to all the members of Pi Phi.

Lead Chapter and Campus

by CANDY BLACKFORD
California Zeta

THE two California Zetas who are probably most responsible for another tremendous quarter for our house have had their leadership qualities acclaimed outside chapter life. Our president, Cheryl Thompson, and our vice president, Jann Ficken, have both been chosen by the faculty and administrators of University of California, Santa Barbara, to serve as student representatives on two different academic committees.

Cheryl's position is on a steering committee for the history undergraduates' association. She was chosen from among other high grade point history majors by the professors of the history department. She will help to make decisions affecting the department's procedures and stands on issues. Among her many other activities, Cheryl, who was just initiated this year, was also president of her pledge class.

Jann was chosen as the student representative on UCSB's Faculty Senate. This senate is a major decision-making body on campus, comprised of faculty, administrators, and students, and determines such things as general education requirements. It plays an important role in the hiring and firing of professors. One factor which was instrumental in her acquiring the position is that Jann has frequently been on the Dean's List throughout her college career.

Both of these positions are ones of great honor and responsibility, and the California Zetas are proud to know that the girls who top our Executive Board are also at the head of the school.

Attic Sale Means Tapping Talent To Hinsdale Alums

THE two words "hard core" may mean different things to different people, but to Beverly Pollard Cook and Liza Ranney Youmans, the two words describe the talent they have uncovered in the Chicago area. Bev, Liza and their partner, Nancy Issleib, are the owners of an unique shop, The Attic, in Hinsdale, Ill.

The Attic was launched in the wake of a successful Pi Phi bazaar. As chairman, Beverly, a Colorado Alpha alum, tapped a wealth of local talent that probably would become dormant again after the bazaar. So she enlisted three partners to provide a permanent outlet for that talent. One of those partners was Liza, a Kansas Alpha alum.

Since then it's been up, up, up. First, it was up into attic space above a flower shop—hence the name. Then, as expansion became necessary, it was into new quarters up one level from the street.

Husbands were pressed into service and installed old barn siding on some walls. Others were covered with burlap. And consignors came—local residents, friends, and relatives of local residents and friends. The stock includes jewelry, leather hair holders, wall plaques, felt toys, shadowboxes, stained glass window ornaments, lightswitch plate covers, bell pulls, good fairy tooth packets, pen and ink drawings, tool boxes, ceramic figures, baby blankets, tote bags, hand-decorated trunks, and paper flowers.

When the idea was first conceived, Beverly thought that she and her partners would probably make most of the items themselves. Now, however, she has found that it's bookkeeping and shopkeeping that consumes most of their time. And the worst part of the entire operation is having to decline unsuitable articles.

About 35 consignors receive checks for the sale of their handwork each month. At Christmas the number jumps to 125.

Linda Venable, Tennessee Delta

Linda Wins Title and Trip

by MARY McCANN MURPHY, Tennessee Delta

The members of Tennessee Delta are extremely proud of their sister Linda Venable who has been winning contests here at Memphis State and across the country recently. Linda, a junior in home economics at Memphis State University, was the senior division winner in the nation-wide Make It Yourself With Wool Contest held in Denver, Colorado. Over 19,000 girls from all over the United States competed with Linda for this title. With the title comes a trip to Europe for Linda and a three piece set of luggage to carry with her. She will be traveling in such exciting places as London, Paris, and Rome on her summer voyage.

Besides this outstanding accomplishment, Linda was elected Homecoming Queen at Memphis State last fall. She has also held other honors such as Miss Charles of the Ritz, Vietnam Pin-Up Girl, MSU Best-Dressed Co-Ed, and member of the National Campus Fashion Board. Adding to her list of honors, Linda is presently recording secretary for Tennessee Delta of Pi Beta Phi.

"There is an immense difference between the preferring of one man to another and the denying of another man his rights. Human friendship is not a right; it is a privilege conferred . . . If it can be freely conferred, it can also be freely withheld." REV. JAMES A. MCINARNEY, Phi Kappa Theta

From the left they are Jeanette Story Morrison, president; Gene Wharton Rain, secretary, and Edna Louise Trimble Ingraham, president-elect.

Dallas Alumnae Donate To SMU Advancement Fund

A new and striking main entrance wall and reflecting pool has been donated to Southern Methodist University by the Dallas Alumnae Club as its contribution to SMU's advancement program.

The $10,000 check from the club becomes the first group gift of the $159.8-million program adopted by SMU trustees in January.

In presenting the club's check to SMU President Willis M. Tate, club president Jeanette Story Morrison said, "We are delighted to be the first group donor in your new . . . program at SMU. This is visual expression of our confidence in the future of this great university. We are happy to be a part of its past, its present, and its future."

The marker will be strategically placed near the foot of Bishop Boulevard where campus traffic empties onto busy Mockingbird Lane. Designed to enhance the sweeping view "up the hill" toward Dallas Hall, the Pi Beta Phi entrance marker and pool will be of simple classic design. Appropriate lighting and landscaping will be added after completion of the wall and pool.

The new gateway is not the first contribution made to SMU by the club. Since 1950, it has awarded 33 scholarships to qualified students. Only recently, the Ada Potts Scholarship was established in memory of Mrs. C. S. Potts, wife of a former dean of the SMU School of Law and a long-time member of the club.

Among other philanthropic gifts of the Dallas alumnae in recent years is the Caruth Rehabilitation Center's hobby room (see Winter, 1969, ARROW). In addition, the club each summer sends a physical therapist from the center for advanced therapy training at Arrowmont, and this year voted to send an additional $1,000 to Arrowmont.

Famed Photographer, Octogenarian, Has Poetic Approach With Camera

"I'm the world's oldest hippie . . . but a working hippie."

She's a "nosy old doll who loves people and shows it in her pictures."

She photographs "anything that can be exposed to light."

"She is outspoken, has a quick sense of humor, is on the go constantly, and is simply ageless at 87!"

These words, by and about San Francisco's Imogen Cunningham, world-famed photographer, are only a few of the many used to describe this young-at-any-age Pi Phi. A member of Washington Alpha and Panhellenic president while attending the University of Washington, Imogen received a Pi Beta Phi scholarship in 1909 to study in Germany. Her field was photographic science, and just two years later she had an exhibition in the Brooklyn Institute of Arts & Sciences.

In 1915 Imogen was married to etcher Roi Partridge and they had three boys—Gryffyd, the oldest, an architect; Padraic, a mining engineer, and his twin, Rondal, a photographer who learned his trade by holding lights for his mother.

Miss Cunningham is very active in photographic circles, and she exhibits continually throughout the country. The Smithsonian Institution just recently completed a five-month show of her work and there are permanent exhibits of her work in such places as the Library of Congress and Eastman House. Smithsonian curators say that her pictures have "vitality and exuberance . . . which should shame many photographic prophets of gloom still in their twenties."

"Imogen IS where it's at," says son Rondal. And no truer statement can be made. Only Imogen would wear such hippie-ish outfits as blanket-like capes and hair shirts. She was wearing such attire long before San Francisco's Haight Street turned on. Her beanie hat, perched atop a coil of snow-white hair, and her peace symbol are trademarks of Imogen, the woman. Her best friends are young people—most of them photography students. When asked why she prefers this age group, she says, "Have you noticed what my contemporaries are doing? Talking about their arthritis!"

In addition to taking portraits at $100 a sitting, tiny Imogen teaches at the University of California Extension and the San Francisco Art Institute, and has recently taught at San Francisco State College and Humboldt College. She has been featured in magazines, papers, books, and was an actress and good sport for a bit role in the avantgarde film "The Bed," in which she ran outdoors in a nightie. "I look my age," she often says. "I just don't act it."

The March issue of Holiday Magazine featured San Francisco, and right there in the center of the cover picture, surrounded by natives of the city, was Miss Cunningham. Arnold Newman, the photographer, said, in explaining the picture, "The elderly lady holding the umbrella is, of course, Imogen Cunningham . . . who will be one of the giants when the history of photography is written."

Leni' in Chartres . . . 1961

She was also featured this spring in Life and Look magazines.

Her favorite activity is recording the social scene in candid studies. She defies classification—incurable experimenter, documentarian, fine interpretative portraitist, superb nature studier, fuzzy-focus romantic, hard-edge realist.

Young people delight in Imogen as much as she enjoys them. Her teen-aged grandchildren would rather have their parties at Imogen's modest cottage than at home. And when she was quartered in a hotel "for privacy" when she started teaching at Humboldt State, her obvious dismay resulted in a move to the dorm with the students, where she stayed for the entire summer session.

Photographer Ansel Adams says of Imogen, "She is one of the very few fine, creative people who do portraiture of an interpretive character. Imogen is one of the country's finest photographers with a very distinctive style and a very poetic approach."

Another friend has said, "To be as intellectually stimulating for a day as Imogen is constantly would be enough."

As long as she can focus a camera, Imogen is determined to pursue her craft. And when asked to name her best photo, she has given the same answer for many years.

"The best is the one I'm going to do tomorrow."

Donnie Serves Quietly and Well

by CAROL RATHBONE

Montana Alpha

DONNIE KIESLING, a unique Pi Phi, is outstanding in her contributions to the campus and community and special in her service to the chapter. Behind every project, duty, function, and task, Donnie may be found working diligently but silently. Montana Alpha owes Donnie recognition plus for her many contributions.

As an art major with a German minor, Donnie has been an active member of many clubs in her three years at Montana State University. As a freshman she was pledge class historian and co-publicity chairman of the chapter.

Donnie Kiesling, Montana Alpha

Throughout the 1969 session of school, Donnie was the treasurer of Panhellenic Council, scholarship chairman of Montana Alpha, publicity chairman of Woman's Day, and the chairman of both the Pi Phi banquet and our Caper's Carnival. As one of the top ten Miss MSU Pageant contestants, Donnie was chosen as Miss Congeniality of 1969.

This year Donnie has had a busy schedule as junior class social co-chairman and Miss MSU Pageant co-chairman. Donnie has also been a Military Ball Queen candidate, a very active member of our outstanding volleyball, basketball, and softball teams in WAA, a censor of Pi Beta Phi, a member of the MSU Art Club, and in the Student Education Association. This summer Donnie will serve as the state rush co-chairman from MSU.

Donnie Kiesling truly exemplifies the dreams of any Pi Phi chapter.

Earns Research Position

by CONNIE ROBB, Wyoming Alpha

Using her brain power, Sally Snyder of Wyoming Alpha captured several honors for herself this spring. First of all, Sally, a junior majoring in microbiology, was awarded a student training research position for ten weeks this summer at Oak Ridge Laboratories in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. After her study-filled summer, Sally will return to the University of Wyoming on a scholarship she received from the U.W. scholarship program. In addition to financing her undergraduate work, the scholarship will also allow her to continue study in her field by providing her with a graduate fellowship. Besides winning honors, Sally participates in Women's Recreational Association and plays on the hockey team.

Linda Carrigan, Indiana Beta, was selected as one of three hostesses representing the Army at the annual ROTC Military Ball held in March. Pictured with her is Dave Keckley, her escort for the ball.

Grace MacNeil Is Named Girl Scout National President

GRACE MCKITTRICK MACNEIL, Louisiana Alpha, of Princeton, N.J., and Natchez, Miss., is the new national president, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Active in Girl Scouting most of her adult life, first as a professional then as a volunteer, she has been a member of the Girl Scout National Board and Executive Committee since 1955. Prior to her election as national president last year, she served two terms as first vice president, one term as third vice president, and was chairman of the Executive Committee from 1960 to 1969.

Grace McKittrick MacNeil

Mrs. MacNeil joined the national staff in 1930 shortly after earning a B.A. degree from Sophie Newcomb. She worked as a member of the Field Department, involved in organization and promotion and the training of Girl Scout leaders, and later worked at national headquarters.

In 1938 she resigned from her professional job to raise a family. And there was never any doubt that her two daughters, Elizabeth and Anne, would be Girl Scouts.

Since 1939 Mrs. MacNeil has been actively engaged in Girl Scouting on local, national, and international levels. She was a member and later chairman of the National Community Relations Committee; served on the National Public Relations Committee and was chairman of the National Program Committee. In 1960 she was chairman of the Girl Scout delegation to the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Mississippi born and raised, Mrs. MacNeil still maintains and manages Elmscourt, the family plantation in Natchez. Her husband, the late Douglas Harrison MacNeil, was Director of the Bureau of Social Research, Department of Institutions and Agencies in New Jersey.

An active woman with varied interests—she has been an ardent horsewoman since childhood—Mrs. MacNeil takes particular interest in her work as a member of Princeton's Trinity Episcopal Church Altar Guild. Among her other avocations, when she can take the time from Girl Scouting, are a historian-collector's interest in 18-century Americana, bird watching, and archaeology.

As national president she brings to the movement a firm belief, expressed in a recent speech, that "... Girl Scouting has something very precious to offer young people—especially today's young generation with its strong impulse to altruism and its search for a sense of community ... Service to others. There is the essence of Girl Scouting. And one of the 'now' generation's needs which Scouting is supremely well able to fulfill."

Nineteen on Dean's List

Maine Alpha is proud to have nineteen of her sisters listed on the fall 1969 Dean's List. The names include Joan Ashworth, Tina Beaudoin, Tracy Bronson, Suzanne Burdge, Patsy Burnell, Nancy Churchill, Margie Demirs, Sue Francis, Pat Gerety, Kate Hanley, Cheryl Leonard, Wendy Mercer, Sharon Osborne, Maggie Pratt, Jo-Ann Ray, Pat Stefka, Gretchen Trolland, Mary Weaver, and Jane Whittier. Cheryl Leonard was earlier honored with the election to Phi Kappa Phi.

The "500" Mile Race is an exciting part of Hoosier life at Indiana University each year. This year the "500" Festival was especially exciting for three Indiana Betas chosen to be princesses. The girls rode on a float during the annual parade, attended the Mayor's Breakfast and President's Reception and participated in the pageant. The day of the race they rode in the official pace lap before the race. The three princesses are, from the left, Sherri Brownlee, Freddi Stevens, and Janet Woodward.

Sororities Receive Official Sanction

by LENORE SMITH, Oregon Delta

AFTER operating for six years without official Portland State endorsement, four sororities have received the right to become official Portland State organizations once again.

The four sororities, among them Pi Beta Phi, were refused recognition in January, 1964, because of "possible discriminatory practices stemming from alumni participation in the Greek letter organizations, selection procedures."

To eliminate the possibility of discrimination, the faculty senate stopped sororities' rushing activities and voted that all approved "student organizations at Portland State University shall have complete autonomy in the nomination and selection of its members, subject to no restrictions inconsistent with the policies and regulations of the university regarding human rights."

When the sororities' national organizations were unable to guarantee the right of local sorority members to choose their membership without alumnæ members having veto rights, the local organizations were forced to move off campus.

Now, however, they have been welcomed back.

Pi Phi Man Is Wonderful Guy

by JOAN HOSTETTER, California Epsilon

CALIFORNIA EPSILON has a tradition that few other chapters of Pi Beta Phi follow. Every year we select a college man to represent us and to help us out with various activities. We call him, quite appropriately, our "Pi Phi Man!"

The past two years we have elected a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity for sponsoring us in their Derby Day activities. They have both been our coaches for the various athletic events. They put in many hours drilling us on the field.

This year our man has been Jim Thomson. He played an excellent Santa Claus at the Christmas party for our Brownies (our local philanthropy). He comes to our Monday night chapter dinner and to announcements before active chapter meets.

Everyone knows that it's great to have a man around the house, and we feel very fortunate to have such a wonderful guy to help us whenever the need arises.

Win Varsity Show Despite Bomb Scare

by PAM WALSH, South Dakota Alpha

THE new year of 1970 brought with it not only many days of snow for South Dakota Alpha, but also many days of long practices for the annual Strollers Variety Show. It was with the men of Delta Tau Delta that the Pi Phis began the planning, painting, choreography, and costumes for the March 14th judging.

Scheduled to appear first of the five acts, the entire cast was in position to start when a bomb scare demanded that the auditorium be vacated.

After an hour delay, the show went on, and the Pi Phi-Delt Second Chance Act took first place. It was the second time that the Pi Phi-Delt team had placed first, and the excitement and happiness made the long hours of practice, under directors Cindy Anderson and Pat O'Brian, well worth it.

What Others Are Saying

In their magazines—papers—speeches

It's About Time!

They say that time is running out on the Greek letter world. They say that the percentage of students who pledge is shrinking steadily. They say . . . They say . . . They say.

And yet—

I have observed, in this rural Southern Illinois town, an increasing number of Greek letter decals on car windows. This would indicate two things to me: one, that more of our high school graduates are attending universities, and two, that they ARE joining Greek organizations. I believe this is true in every area of our country.

And yet—

What they say is screaming from the headlines. What they say finds its way into the dialogue of every soap opera. What they say impresses the readers and watchers (parents of would-be sorority pledges). The general public is too eager to believe what they say.

And yet—

We—all of us—ALL GREEKS—ALL DELTA ZETAS can help overcome what they say. We must use every opportunity to tell the world the good and true things about sorority membership . . . Raise your voice in print—don't be drowned out by the TICK-TOCK of the clock.

Academics Most Important

A college fraternity without academics cannot long exist. There are many criticisms of fraternity life, but it is fraternity's intellectual contribution or lack thereof which is the most susceptible to valid attack and which over the years in fraternities in general has received less attention. Academics is perhaps the most complicated program in a fraternity as there is no certain formula for success even in a single chapter let alone an entire fraternity. Each individual has unique situations and will react independently to each academic program."

Relieves Provincialism

It has been said that one of life's greatest dangers is that of becoming so absorbed in local concerns—fraternal or business—that you become provincial. Association with men from other colleges and chapters may, and usually does, bring the discovery that others often do things in a superior way. This, to me, is an education in itself. It is an experience that is difficult to obtain through a local which limits contacts to alumni from one institution. Membership in a national organization helps to eliminate or, at least, relieve this limitation."

Mickey Mouse Mini-Grades

"Where there was a lot of fraternity 'mickey mouse' (aimless silliness and demeaning activities), there were apt to be mini-grade point averages, lack of respect between actives and pledges, and rather general disenchantment among freshmen with fraternity life."

HAROLD O. WELSH

Speak Up for the "Greeks"

As sorority members we become concerned when we read unfair and biased articles downgrading the college fraternity system.

The "Greeks" (members of sororities and fraternities) have a history of obedience and cooperation with college administration rules and regulations. "Greeks" never storm the president's office or barricade campus buildings demanding to be given authority of administrators. Why, then is the fraternity system attacked while other student groups (some bearded and barefooted) are allowed to disrupt classes, set policies and force the resignation of college presidents?

To those who march, voice obscenities and degrade the United States, many of the "activities and antics" of the "Greeks" may seem childish. Unfortunately they are often derided by the press. Too often it is not reported that money raised by those activities support "nonsensical" projects as: schools for the blind, deaf, or retarded; the SS HOPE; and scholarships that are available to qualified students.

While some students destroy university property, the "Greeks" paint recreation centers, collect food and clothing for needy families, and tutor under-privileged children. While some students burn draft cards, the "Greeks" donate blood to the Red Cross. While participating in these "trivial" activities, the sororities maintain the highest scholarship on campus.

The fraternity system is nearly 200 years old. The "Who's Who" of the fraternity world reads like the "Who's Who" of American history. Over 80 percent of our industrialists, political leaders, humanitarians and other professional are fraternity members.

Today membership in fraternities totals over seven million. In the last six years, 400 colleges asked that the "Greek" system be established on their campuses. Reasons given for these requests were: the fraternity system improves scholarship, promotes leadership and good citizenship, and creates a loyalty to the college or university. It is a matter of record the 75 percent of the individual funds contributed to colleges and universities is from fraternity and sorority members.

We think the facts should be reported fairly and completely. We are proud of our collegiate "Greeks" who consistently maintain high scholarship standing, and who encourage high moral and ethical standards. We are proud they are learning to be the leaders of tomorrow.

It Only Takes One

"New programs do not just happen. They are conceived and executed by those who believe they have a better way, and pledging programs are no exception.

Many chapters need to provide a better pledgship, and can if just one individual will make it his personal project. Understand the reasons behind the chapter's current program, become something of an expert regarding new ideas, and utilize effective politics to establish a new program."

Must Avoid Barbarism

In spite of many current discussions relative to individual freedom to do what one wants when one wants, it seems that as fraternity men we must believe that common courtesy and good manners never will go out of style. There is no excuse for being so rushed that you let a door swing into the face of the person behind you. We must not allow our culture to become barbaric for the sake of "individual freedom." When this happens we will no longer be human nor will we understand the meaning of brotherhood or fraternity.

DR. ROBERT C. DEEN

Always Keep Climbing

"... Life is like climbing a slippery hill. We climb—and we slip. Climb a little more and slip again. Of course, we all slip. But the measure of man—the measure of YOU (as an individual, as a chapter, as an alumnae club or association) is not whether you slip, but what you do when you slip. Do you pick yourself up and climb a little higher, or lie there and slip further back? In today's world of increasing demands and challenges there is little place for one who will not keep trying to climb higher."

RUTH LANE, Director of Chapters
The Key of Kappa Kappa Gamma

Appreciate and Encourage

Today every fraternity is committed to the achievement of sound scholarship, to the development of better campus citizenship, and to many philanthropic and social service projects. They provide additional leadership opportunities and management responsibilities for their members. They offer experience in group participation of many kinds, provide an organized and supervised social program, and are instruments for group expression on many aspects of college life. They enliven the American campus with a stimulating group competition which pervades scholarship, intramural athletics, social affairs, and campus politics. Conceded that their defects deserve continuing attention, they are, after all, extremely useful and should be appreciated and encouraged by the various elements in the educational constituency.

Standards Is Comprehensive Term

The term standards also seem to evoke, almost immediately, in the average mind, problems involving drugs, alcohol and sex. Of course this is partially due to the inordinate amount of news coverage in these areas.

Personally, of all definitions of standards, we like—'a criterion of excellence.' It has the same fine ring to be found in the comprehensive discussion and definition of standards in the official A O II handbook.

Here you'll be reminded that standards encompass far more than taking a stand on drugs, alcohol, sex, or any of the other major problems preoccupying campus figures today.

Standards are a successful formula structured to assure each A O II of her individuality while being an active participant in a group.

Each member's conduct is a reflection on this group as well as on herself.

Questions and Answers

In What Ways Can a Chapter Use Its Manpower to the Fullest Capacity?

An effective executive committee will support a strong committee system. The committee system can then be the 'proving ground' where men demonstrate their ability and thus earn higher offices. Men usually do not choose to be 'inactive actives.' When given the responsibility, authority, encouragement and the support of the chapter, most men will perform admirably.

What Is the Best Way to Get a Frater to Pay His Bill on Time?

The best method of eliminating overdue bills is to NEVER offer a service in advance of payment. Much like the university expects tuition before the term begins, the dorm expects payment of rent before you move in, a theater requires you to purchase a ticket before you see a movie; the advance payments of fraternity room, board and dues will eliminate a number of harassing petty fraternity problems.

Naoma Alfrey Plumb celebrated her 103rd birthday last August at her home in Denver.

Denver Pi Phi In 104th Year!

by VIRGINIA KELLY HOMAN
Denver Alumnae Club

THE FLOWERS of the Rocky Mountains have always been a source of special joy. Here where winter is often harsh and spring unaccountable for her actions, the tiny, exquisite blue harebell, the sturdy Indian paintbrush, and the delicately scented prairie rose vie for our affection and admiration. Even the audacious dandelion which spills its gold coins each year across our lawns, gives a special awareness of the persistence of beauty.

There are sometimes friends whose charm and joy of life remind one of flowers. They accept age graciously, and experience gratefully. One such friend, and a Pi Phi sorority sister, is Naoma Alfrey Plumb, who will celebrate her 104th birthday in August. A dainty little lady with blue eyes and a warm smile, Naoma radiates that special flowerlike charm. No wonder the Pi Phis of 1884 at Lawrence, Kansas (who were then known as I. C. Sorosis) selected her as a member, and that she is the cherished wife of Mr. Francis M. Plumb of Denver. The Denver Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club also holds her in special esteem, and the senior group is using her arrow as their president's pin.

Born on August 22, 1866, in Pittsburgh, Pa.,

Naoma Alfrey attended the University of Kansas where she became a Pi Phi in 1884. She won every contest they had in the dramatics field, and went on to become a Shakespearean reader and performer, touring with a company which included the notable actor, Creston Clark. She trained in dancing under the ablest foreign dancing masters of the time, one of whom also taught Isadora Duncan. She received not only a thorough training in the art of dancing, but also knowledge of anatomy and physiology. She was graduated from two years of Normal School, and four years at the Columbia College of Expression in Chicago, where she later served five years on the faculty.

Naoma Alfrey, I. C. Sorosis, is shown when she became a Pi Phi in 1884, wearing her original arrow pin.

In 1908 she founded the Alfrey College of Expression and School of Dancing in Denver, and also became the Director of the Department of Expression and Physical Training at Colorado Woman's College (now known as Temple Buell College.)

Over the years she presented many charity performances for orphans, soldiers, homeless girls, and of special interest to us, an exhibition of dancing to help Denver's Pi Phis raise $1,000 for the Settlement School being started at Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

At her school of dancing she taught normal children as well as those who had to wear braces from polio or some othercrippler. With

by LAURIE BIRD
California Delta

Six California Delta Pi Phis, Jeannie Brown, Betsy Eick, Jacki Fleming, Leslie Willey, Kathy Williams, and I, had a very exciting Easter vacation floating (I should say, paddling) down the Colorado River on used rubber army rafts. We started at Hoover Dam and traveled 30 miles down stream to Nielson's Landing. As we had imagined the trip at U.C.L.A., we would float slowly and luxuriantly down the warm river, "soaking up rays" and hopping in and out of the water. But alas . . .

The first night, when we arrived at Hoover Dam, we were instructed that our camp site was at the end of a four mile dirt road. As the sky darkened, we arrived in camp only to find that it was nothing more than a large gravel parking lot slanted towards the lake. That night three of our group slept in the car, while the other three patience and tact, she taught these special children ballroom dancing. One particular pupil who was unable to move her feet at all, was dressed in a long costume, placed upon the stage, and given the thrill of participating in the show doing a part which required only arm and hand-work. "And she did it beautifully!" recalls the proud teacher.

With originality, persistence, and a fine knowledge of music and art, Naoma composed thirty ballets, adapted from stories, and set them to appropriate music. She also designed all the costumes, making complete miniatures on dolls, so that the pupils' mothers could copy them.

"Dancing is a mode of expression," she said. "The body should be trained to obey the artistic laws such as are demonstrated in sculpture, painting and the fine arts." She still corresponds with many of her former students. Pointing to the correct posture in photographs of her students, she declared, "I always insisted upon a good line—good balance—a good straight line that would last for life."

Here is a lady who, like a small flower, has brought beauty into many lives. Here is a Pi Phi who has truly sought and found the beautiful and the good.

braved the sticks and stones. Next morning at 5:30 the camp was awakened when Leslie, who had been sleeping in the car, accidentally sounded the horn. Our first day on the river began.

To get to where the rafts were, five cars at a time drove down a very narrow road to the bottom of Hoover Dam, where each car let out its passengers and cargo. After everything was unloaded, it still had to be carried over a 20-foot cliff. At the bottom of this cliff, the rafts were inflated. Finally, after many trials and tribulations, the Pi Phis were floating down the beautiful Colorado River. It was a sparkling emerald color, and the towering cliffs on both sides made the scenery very impressive.

That night we, along with the other 120 in our group, camped near a hot spring. At one point along the spring there was a large pool with the warm water tumbling down from a 12 foot water fall. As we were getting ready for bed the wind started to blow—not a soft gentle breeze, but a rip-roaring wind storm. It blew all night and in the morning we were covered with dirt.

After sugar cookies for breakfast (it probably has been noticed that we are not experienced campers), we were back on the river. As we were floating along, eight boys on two rafts tied together, decided they wanted to come visit us. As they were leaving, one of the boys pushed off from our raft with his oar. This was not the thing to do, because we were suddenly sinking. Luckily we were able to transfer our belongings and people onto other rafts. The water at this time was a chilling 52°, and the two girls who got wet were, needless to say, very cold.

That night we didn't get in till after dark, so we skipped dinner, climbed into our sleeping bags and listened to the singing around the camp fire.

Next morning we awoke to a beautiful day, and we thought our dreams were finally coming true. For two hours we just floated on our rafts. Then a slight wind came up so we started paddling. The wind blew with more force and we paddled harder. Finally we were paddling with all our might and staying in the same place! Water was splashing over the edge and we were

Dorothy Stuck Is HEW Appointee

DOROTHY DAVIS STUCK, former editor of The ARROW, has been appointed Regional Director of the Office for Civil Rights in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Region 7 office in Dallas, Texas. The region covers five states, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, and Dorothy will be in charge of enforcing civil rights laws and guidelines in those states. The job includes working with health agencies and welfare offices as well as school officials.

Dorothy Davis Stuck

Dorothy, who has been editor of the Marked Tree Tribune in Arkansas for twenty years, has been well known for her commitment to equal rights, and her service with the Republican Party in Arkansas. Her husband, Howard, is publisher of the Tribune and the Lepanto News-Record. He plans to join Dorothy this spring, and they hope to find a manager for the papers and keep their ties with Marked Tree.

Mrs. Stuck sees the Civil Rights Act which she is to administer as "opening the door to civil responsibility. The greatest opportunity of our time is to solve this problem," she said.

Ours is an age of specialization, they say, and Pan American stewardess Madelyn Gamwell's specialty is posh resorts. Madelyn, an Illinois Alpha Pi Phi, is based in Miami and is serving aboard the new 747 giant jetliner on flights to the Caribbean and across the Atlantic to Lisbon, Barcelona, the French Riviera and Rome.

Kathleen Bundy, Arizona Alpha, has been awarded the silver wings of an American Airlines stewardess and has now been assigned to flight duty out of New York City. She received her wings as a graduate in the fourth class this year at the American Airlines Stewardess College in Fort Worth. Kathleen is a native of Atlanta, Ga.

What Is a Pi Phi?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was presented anonymously to Indiana Beta by a fraternity member several years ago.)

BETWEEN the innocence of a Girl Scout and the dignity of motherhood, we find a lovely creature called a Pi Phi. Pi Phis come in assorted weights, heights, shades of blondes, and thinking capacities, but all Pi Phis have the same goal—to be every second of every minute of every hour of every day, a lady—or as close as possible.

Pi Phis are found everywhere—running around, jumping over, passing by, studying for, driving from, or talking to. Other Pi Phis kid them, alums bug them, fraternities adore them, housemothers tolerate them, and mothers worry about them. A Pi Phi is Beauty in knee socks, Tenderness in a maxi, Elegance in sneakers, Femininity in culottes, Confidence in a cardigan, and the best of a co-ed in camel's hair.

When you can't date one, a Pi Phi is snobbish, giddy, fickle, plump, over-rated, sloppy, and stupid. When you think you've finally got a date, she breaks it, has a meeting, goes home for the weekend, gets pinned the night before, has song practice, or completely forgets all about it.

To a Kappa or Theta, for rush purposes, a Pi Phi gushes, tries snow jobs, dirty rushes, calls the dorms, and is as charming as a cobra, as sneaky as a fox, as warm as a polar bear. She is composed of properly placed pads, foam rubber, playtex, a bottle of bleach and four pounds of make-up.

To another Pi Phi, she has, for rush purposes, the agility of a Cyd Charise, the depth of the Mona Lisa, the beauty of a Miss America, the brains of a Phi Beta Kappa, the manners of Emily Post, and is a composite of Grace Kelly, Jackie Kennedy, and Liz Taylor—with the best of each.

To an alum, a Pi Phi is someone who will never rush as well, study as hard, be as sweet, sing as loud, or generate nearly as much house spirit as did the sisters of yesteryear.

A Pi Phi likes pledge dances, winning contests, fraternity blasts, cutting classes, getting pinned, Brown County, and being booked up two weeks in advance. She is not much for song practice, exchange dinners, phone duty, early classes, sitting home Saturdays, or guys who don't call a week ahead.

No one else looks forward so much to September or so little to June. Nobody gets as much pleasure from out-rushing Kappas, out-studying Thetas, or out-dating Delta Gammas. Nobody else can cram into one mind class assignments, the names of sister's pin men, words to I.U. sing, new pledges, and a method of charming that makes competitors pale by comparison.

A Pi Phi is a wonderful, complicated creature. You can criticize her, but you can't discourage her. You can buy her a coke, but you can't buy a date. She says to call, but 2-4476 is a permanent busy signal. She makes you feel important, but it's not a big thing. She looks like a Miss America, but she acts like a high school freshman.

Actually she's a sincere, hard-working, determined young lady, doing the best she can for her house, her school, and herself. And when you come out of an exam you know you flunked, or wake up on the wrong side of the bed, try the magic remedy. Dial the number and wait for the magic words, "Good morning, Pi Beta Phi. Can I help you please?"

Heads Symposium Week

by ANNE POWERS, North Carolina Alpha

March 15-19 was Carolina Symposium week at the University of North Carolina. The theme of this year's Symposium was "Man and His Environment," and all students took an avid interest in hearing the many distinguished scientists and political leaders who visited the campus.

Four Pi Phis were especially busy as the week approached. Claiborne Jones was chairman of the Symposium Coordinating Committee. She was especially honored by the opportunity to dine with Senator Edmund Muskie.

Other Pi Phis on the Symposium staff were Laurie Emerson, Em Parrish, and Sarah Clay.

"Best Dressed" Makes Own Clothes

by MARSHA MARTIN
Kansas Beta

ANN FONCANNON, with her long blond-to-brown hair swinging behind her, was recently notified that she is one of Glamour's Top Ten Best Dressed.

Ann, a journalism junior, feels that clothes are important—the right kind and the right fit. Her sisters often find her sitting on her bed in belled jeans and a work shirt, making just that type of clothes. Her clothes are made to flatter her legs, which she feels are too long, and her vivacious always-on-the-move personality. She wears minis, findings little room in her closet for the midi, "because they look so terrible."

She modeled her latest creation, a backless sundress made from her old bed spread, at the university's recent Open House Fashion Show. This is just one of many activities she'll encounter in her year as one of the best dressed.

Ann isn't all clothes. Through her work on the K-State Collegian, she became actively involved in the pollution campaign on campus. She planned an Environmental Teach-In in conjunction with the university's Environmental Awareness Week.

She also became interested in the problem of urbanization and, as a result, took a seminar that conducted a thorough study of Manhattan, Kansas.

Ann also enjoys small craft work and has made plaques and key chains for many of her sisters. In addition, she's been our fashion consultant and is truly deserving of her title.

all wet, cold, and afraid. We started waving down boats to give us a tow and two men finally pulled us into Nielson's Landing.

That night we slept on the edge of an unused paved road, with four of us sleeping in the car because of threatened rain. The other two slept outside with the wind whistling around and bats skeeking over their heads.

We went looking for adventure and we found more than we ever expected. But we are already trying to figure out where we will go next time.

CAN YOU TOP THIS: with shingles, that is. Due to the interest, generosity, and hard work of collegians and alumnae throughout The Fraternity, $5,000 has been received for the "lifetime shingles." However, as of April 1, 1970, $10,000 more is needed to finish roofing the new classroom building. In these pictures, you can see what a difference your dollar will make. Only part of the roof has been shingled, and likewise only a part of the contributions needed have come into Arrowmont. Ten chapters have reported 100% of their membership have bought shingles.

Club Shoppers Come "Down The Road A-Piece"

by SARAH RUTH MULLIS
Board of Governors

IT has been said that women will go to great lengths to shop, and certainly this is true of Champaign-Urbana Pi Phi Boots Wilson and Katherine Dallenbach.

These ladies drove from Champaign, Ill., to Gatlinburg, Tenn. (a round trip of approximately a thousand miles), to purchase merchandise from Arrowcraft Shop for their club's annual sale. This "shopping spree" to Gatlinburg is an annual trip for members of the Champaign-Urbana Club—a club which over the years has consistently been one of The Fraternity's leaders in Arrowcraft sales. During 1968-69 their gross sales were $7,348.36, an increase of a thousand dollars over the sales of the preceding year.

Katherine was chairman of their successful Arrowcraft sale held at the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel, and Boots, as general sales chairman, is responsible for sales at her home during the year. These enthusiastic Pi Phis spent several days in Gatlinburg shopping at the Arrowcraft Shop, touring Arrowmont, and visiting with some of the craftsmen in the area.

Boots and Katherine returned home with a station wagon full of items they had personally selected, and with a greater appreciation of the craftsmanship that went into the hand-made products. This was Katherine's first trip to Gatlinburg, and she wrote that she returned home "go, go, go—Pi Phi, Arrowcraft, Arrowmont—filled to the brim and ready to pop with Pi Phi pride."

Elmer Kear's broommaking dates back to 1928. He and son Larry show Katherine Dallenbach how they make these brooms with hand made tools and pocket knives.

Shaheda To Return For Second Summer

A NATIVE of Pakistan, Shaheda Khanam came to Arrowmont to learn so that, in turn, she could teach. She will return in September to Dacca, East Pakistan, where she will teach crafts in the home economics department of the university there.

Shaheda Khanam concentrates on her textile design.

Shaheda is the third of her countrymen to attend Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts. She came to this country with the aid of the Ford Foundation. Through a grant she first came to the United States last winter, and spent a quarter at the University of Oklahoma. From there she went to the University of Tennessee home economics department, "where she is currently working toward her Masters in Crafts.

It was as a graduate student at U.T. that Shaheda went to Arrowmont last summer to enroll in enameling and textile design courses. In June Shaheda returns to Arrowmont to spend the entire summer. In addition to the invaluable knowledge she has received from her courses, she thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity of being with the other students. Shaheda speaks most fondly of her summer at Arrowmont as "one of the happiest times" she has spent in this country. She especially loved the mountains and the friendliness of the people. She values the first hand experience of getting to know Americans of all ages and backgrounds through living, working, and studying together.

Likewise the faculty and students enjoyed getting to know her. She brightened the dining room of the Staff House as she came into breakfast every morning wearing her colorful saris. All the students and teachers anticipated Shaheda's personal "fashion show." In addition to the numerous saris she brought from Pakistan, she silk screened and block printed several more while there at Arrowmont.

As a part of her graduate work, Shaheda is writing her thesis, titled "Exploring the New Uses of Jute in Several Craft Media." Jute, a fiber obtained from plants, is presently used chiefly in sacking, burlap, and twine. This fibrous material is one of the leading natural products of Pakistan. Through her studies Shaheda hopes to find additional uses for this product, thereby increasing the possibilities for exports. This in turn would aid her countrymen economically.

President Names Marianna Beach To Committee

MARIANA KISTLER BEACH, Xi Province APP, is one of President Nixon's six new appointees to the President's Committee on Mental Retardation. She is secretary of the state executive committee for the Kansas Association for Mental Health. Her duties on the President's Committee involve international activities and delivery of services. The twenty-four member committee is charged by the President to assess national mental retardation needs and programs, promote cooperation among agencies, public and private, working in mental retardation and related human development fields; and stimulate public understanding and action on the mental retardation problem nationwide.

A Kansas Beta alumna, Marianna is a member of Pi Kappa Phi, Theta Sigma Phi, and Mortar Board, and was an ABO Province Award winner.

In Hays, Kansas, where she and her husband, Ross, make their home, she has held numerous civic offices. She has served or is serving as vice chairman of Hays Day Care Center for Exceptional Children, chairman of the city beautification committee for the Hays Arts Council, president of the area Girl Scout Council, president of the Kansas Federation of Republican Women, president of her PEO chapter, and president of the United Presbyterian Women.

Weekend In Monmouth Will Be Remembered

by LINDA HAYES, Missouri Alpha

HARK! The sound of a key in the door of the Missouri Alpha Pi Phi house! At four o'clock in the morning, who could it be? Slowly and quietly, pledges began to sneak through the open door. Quickly, they began to stash away silverware, light bulbs and the fuse to the intercom. They greased faucets and sinks and finally tied together all of the doors, so no active could block their escape.

Having finished their duties, they carefully stole away and boarded a chartered bus, leaving behind them traces of that wonderful thing called a walkout. At six o'clock the bus pulled out, with pledge class, captives, and pledge trainer—bound for Monmouth, Illinois, the birth place of Pi Beta Phi!

As the bus rolled along, through Missouri and Iowa, the girls sang songs of Pi Phi history and waited anxiously to reach Monmouth. Finally, the gang rolled into Monmouth for an exciting weekend of parties, skit-making, and an unforgettable tour of Holt House. The girls were amazed by the beauty of that two-story wooden house. It was here that all of the meaning of Pi Beta Phi came to light. Looking closely and admiringly upon all the antiques that the founders of I.C. Sorosis had treasured brought forth a unity that glowed from one member to another. The love and sisterhood was clearly evident to all.

Soon the members of the Monmouth chapter rushed all of the pledges out into the street for a rally and a kick-line. Then, all were taken to a fraternity house for spaghetti dinner.

At eleven o'clock the next morning, everything was loaded onto the bus. The pledges and Monmouth girls all joined together for a final good-bye over coffee and rolls. The skit was presented and again songs were sung. Then it came time to "hit the road for home" and sadly, the bus pulled away from Monmouth.

It was a memorable occasion. Take the advice of the pledge class of Missouri Alpha—"If you want to have a most unforgettable time, with meaning unique to the members of Pi Beta Phi, take a trip to Monmouth and stop in at Holt House!"

Thank you, Illinois Alpha.

West Virginia Gamma Has Second Birthday Celebration

by SUSAN SCHULTZ
West Virginia Gamma

WEST VIRGINIA GAMMA'S second semester began with a bang, for after our long January term vacation, we began our formal rush. We held rush workshop in our new house in order to accustom ourselves to partying in it. It's quite a luxury to decide between two house levels for a rush party! A mainstay all through rush appeared in the person of the traveling counselor, Nancy Wright, who was with us for two weeks. We were more than honored to have her celebrate her birthday with us and we took her completely off guard with a surprise birthday party, cake, candles and all! We depended on Nancy for much information and she gave us additional help by playing nurse to our flu-stricken sorority. We would often have orange juice doled out to us, with the command to "put something on your feet right now!" Nancy came to be like one of our own chapter members and we hated to see her leave.

Rush was hectic, but in the end it was well worth all the hurry and worry. We all became attached to the songs and knew that they had meaning. Happiness is "wearing an arrow all shiny bright" and we conveyed this idea to fourteen girls who became our pledges on February 13. Totally convinced that they are the best pledges on campus, our conviction was strengthened one Saturday morning as they "raided" us at seven o'clock—they scrubbed and cleaned the house while the actives breakfasted on the coffee and donuts the pledges had brought.

Needless, to say, we were quite proud to show off our pledges to Mrs. Faye Martin Gross, who came to visit us in early March. The highlight of her visit was our birthday celebration dinner on March 2. We had weathered two years and were now no longer on probation. Fittingly, Mrs. Gross cut our cake for us, for she had been instrumental in the installation of the West Virginia Gamma Chapter.

Perhaps the most outstanding event in our second semester to date was the announcement that Peggy Kravchuk had won a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. Peggy had graduated in December, completing her college education in only three and a half years. As an English major, she had won the awards for outstanding sophomore and junior English student and had been appointed Senior Fellow in the department. A Dean's List student during most of her stay at Bethany, Peggy received a 4.00 for her last semester. In Pi Beta Phi, she had acted as historian, scholarship chairman, and president. We are all tremendously proud of Peggy and hope that the chapter can gain by her example.

Cathy Manning, Arizona Beta, will begin a new adventure in October when she begins studying at World Campus Afloat of Chapman College. The voyage will extend over a period of four months and will take the students to Europe, Africa, South America, and Mexico. After the semester is over, Cathy will return to Arizona State University where she has been on the yearbook staff, was Greek Week chairman and coordinator, and chapter social chairman. Cathy is an elementary education major.

Promoting Greeks Is Karen's Concern

by BRENDA PARKS
Colorado Gamma

KAREN LAYTON, a Colorado Gamma junior from Denver, is an outstanding example of an involved Greek on college campuses. Karen has not only been concerned with activities of the Colorado State University campus, but also with activities on all campuses with a Greek system.

Last summer Karen was an intern for Operation Greek, professional men and women in the areas of public relations and counseling who have become consultants to fraternities and sororities. Karen volunteered her services to help organize rush programs, write brochures, and type speeches. She became involved with the company because she was interested in their modern answers for fraternities that were having problems. The work helped Karen develop her own philosophies about how Greeks on the CSU campus could utilize programs that Operation Greek was selling all over the United States.

When Karen returned to school in the fall, she was responsible for the Pi Phi rush parties. After a very successful rush, Karen turned her efforts to her public relations class. As her class project Karen chose to promote the Greek system on campus. The Operation Greek staff helped her plan a clinic in which new programs, old problems, and effective plans could be discussed. Over 300 girls attended the clinic, including sorority members from six schools. The results of the clinic were so good that a panel discussion on KCSU-FM radio was arranged, discussing the role of the Greeks on the college campus today. Karen was then asked to do an interview with Bill Parker of KOA-radio to discuss the effect Greeks had on all college campuses. During the interview calls came in from all over Colorado asking questions which Karen answered.

Karen then began publishing newspaper articles and for the first time news could be read about the Greeks.

Karen's next project was to help produce a film that Operation Greek was sponsoring. The 20 minute color, 16mm film entitled, "Is Greek A Dead Language," shows the truth about the Greek system today. It would be bought by nationals, field secretaries, Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils, and alumni clubs all over the United States. Karen helped with the production and also did some of the narrating.

It was because of this activity that Panhellenic elected Karen as public relations chairman. Her purpose is to promote activities, programs, and, most important, understanding among the Greeks and Independants.

Karen has just been elected vice president of university affairs for the CSU student legislature. It is through this channel that the Greeks are receiving a stronger voice in student government and can initiate more effective programs on campus.

Colorado Gamma is proud to have a sister like Karen in our chapter.

Cathy Returns To Albion College

by MERIBETH ROSENBERG, Michigan Delta

MICHIGAN DELTA welcomes back former president Cathy Amos who left school last November to go to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota where she underwent surgery involving a heart valve transplant. So that Cathy would have enough free blood plasma, Pi Phi campaigned throughout Albion College campus to recruit donors for the Red Cross Blood Drive which was to replace the plasma used for Cathy in the Mayo Clinic Blood Bank. Needless to say Pi Beta Phi won the contest for the campus organization contributing the most blood to the drive.

Cathy's parents kept us posted on progress and we helped keep spirits up with lots of prayers, cheery letters and cards. During her three month absence from school, Cathy carried two college courses thinking she would need something to keep her busy during the recovery period. Her course work completed, Cathy returned in February for second semester classes and student teaching. We are happy the operation was a success and that we have her back with us again.

Rushing Innovations Tried at San Diego

by JOAN HOSTETTER
California Epsilon

THIS year San Diego State's Panhellenic voted to have an unstructured type of spring rush. Instead of the scheduled parties held in the sorority houses, we were allowed to have as many or as few functions as we desired. The parties could include the entire chapter, or if we preferred, two members rushing a girl could be considered an official party. We were allowed to entertain any girl as often as we wished, but we were required to bid her after her fifth party.

Trophies Pile Up

by MARSHA MARTIN, Kansas State

EXCITEMENT reigned at Kansas Beta the night of March 14. We made a clean sweep of Harlequinade, a presentation of four skits by four student groups.

Entered with the Sigma Chis, we took first place over-all, first in choreography, best actor, and Janice Latham was chosen best actress.

After many hours of discussion last fall, we arrived at the title of "You Can't Beat Mutha Hood and Apple Pi" or "I'll Take a Dry Manhattan." The skit centered on Big Al, leader of the 1920 New York Mafia, who decided to open a new front, the infiltration of an American university. He appointed key mobsters Mutha Hood (aided by Apple Pi, played by Pi Phi Angie Otto), Buns, and Penny Ante, better known as Pi Phi Janice Latham. The mob moved into the Manhattan scene, where the rest of the scheme to corrupt the university unfolded.

The entire house was involved with the production—costumes, scenery and just plain spirit. After a year's work, the effort was certainly worth all the trouble.

Our three big trophies in our living room are proof!

In order to be fair to all houses on campus, bidding was not allowed until a specified day and time. That allowed the rushees to see all of their bids at once, and decide for themselves after they were aware of all of their choices. To add a personal touch, we hand-delivered a scroll-type invitation for bidding to each girl.

We did not have a quota placed on us, but rather, a suggested number. Thus we were able to pledge every girl that wanted us. Our rush was very successful, and we pledged eleven girls, an unusually large number for our spring pledge class.

We had several parties at our beautiful house, and had a few barbecues on our lovely patio. Our preference night party was in an active's apartment on the beach. The atmosphere was relaxing and the rushees seemed to enjoy it. We also took rushees to dinner on Harbor Island and other pretty locations in the San Diego area. The rushees were quite impressed, and we had a good time ourselves.

We stressed a casual environment and almost always wore pants or very sporty clothes. This was very attractive to the rushees, and helped to illustrate our individuality.

Thanks to Martha Clark, our rush chairman, and to Panhellenic for the new rush program, we now have eleven beautiful and outstanding pledges!

The Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi regretfully announces the relinquishing of the charters of Vermont Alpha in February, 1969, and D.C. Alpha in October, 1969.

To the loyal alumnæ of Vermont Alpha, founded in 1893, Grand Council extends its compassion for the loss—remembering the years of leadership, loyalty, and service that were given to this chapter.

When a chapter such as D.C. Alpha, in existence for 80 years, is forced to cease existing, it is cause for deep concern. The decision to return the charter was a difficult one to reach and was done in the best interests of The Fraternity.

Grand Council can only hope the day will come when both these fine chapters will reclaim their charters and take their places in the chapter roll once again.

Features of Dogwood Festival Include Atlanta Pi Phis

by MAURICE GILCHRIST DAVIS

SPRINGTIME was officially recognized in the Dogwood City of the South on Monday, April 6, at 7:30 P.M. Atlanta's 1970 Dogwood Festival was opened at that time by a grand parade down the famous Peachtree Street through the heart of Atlanta. "Springtime Around the World" was the theme for the floats.

The Atlanta Women's Chamber of Commerce sponsors the festival which originated in 1936. Last year over 125,000 visitors, from 36 states, attended the Dogwood Festival. Even more were expected this year.

During the entire week there was a varied series of attractions, with something for each member of the family.

Janet Smith Wright, and her entire family, manned the Pi Phi booth in Underground Atlanta during one of the busy times. From the left are Janet, daughter Jill, 12, on the stairs, sons Greg, 17, and Jeff, 14, and husband Marsh ready to leave home for a full day.

Two lighted dogwood trails provided a special night-time attraction. There was an old-fashioned train ride which gave the participants a look at transportation as seen by passengers over half a century ago. Combos played on street corners throughout the city and there were flower markets downtown. The week's schedule included tours of art galleries, a jazz jamboree, and the Festival de Cuisine, a citywide cookery exhibition. Included in these events were those pertaining to the arts.

Most interesting to the Atlanta Alumnae Club was the part of the festival celebrating Old Atlanta. The Festival of Old Atlanta, with crafts, exhibits, history, music, dancing, and singing, was held in Underground Atlanta, the restoration project under the heart of the city.

The interest of the club began in September when David Cowles of Underground Atlanta presented a talk on the subject at an alumnae meeting. This interest was reciprocated when, later in the meeting, Mr. Cowles was introduced to the inventiveness and enthusiasm of Sara Jane Harman Tackett, head of ways and means.

The results of this meeting were evidenced during the Festival of Old Atlanta, when the Pi Phi had their own sidewalk display of crafts from the Arrowcraft Shop. Throughout the week of the festival Atlanta found the Pi Phi busily at work hawking their wares on the sidewalks of the old city.

Hopefully, along with the opening of the dogwood blossoms, the Atlanta Pi Phi will become an integral part of the Atlanta Dogwood Festival.

Oklahoma Alpha Sponsors Lectures

At the University of Oklahoma, Pi Phi is the first to hold classes in the Living Environment. Through the university, guest professors meet each week to discuss human relations problems with the girls. Problems that have been dealt with are race relations, pollution and the population explosion. These lectures are open to the public as well as the Pi Phis.

Pi Phis Honor Theta and Kappa

by GARLEN HABENICHT MACK

THE Kokomo, Indiana, Alumnae Club held a Centennial Tea honoring Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae. The snowy March Sunday did not dampen the spirit or attendance of the tea held in the home of Garlen Habenicht Mack. Phyllis Carter Stucker, president of our club, greeted guests at the door. They then received colorful nametags decorated with a felt flower designating each sorority.

Emily Walter Wallace, Alumnae Province President, graciously poured for us. The beautifully decorated petits fours and tea cookies, lovely floral centerpiece, gleaming silver, and glimmering candles gave the tea table a festive air. The many comments and notes received by our club following the tea made Rowene Hig-

Chapter Helps At Orphanage

by JANIS HIRSCH, Florida Gamma

Working together during rush or with the alumnae has given a great deal to the Florida Gamma Pi Phis. However, nothing can compare to that exceptionally warm and special feeling that has grown in the girls as they worked with the Lutheran Orphanage in Slavia, Florida. The Pi Phis are fortunate that the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity asked us to join in their project. The Pi Phis go to the orphanage for at least three hours each week, where they become tutors and playmates or just someone to talk to. The chapter arranged for the children to come to the sorority house for a pizza party, and beach parties are planned.

We are giving our energy and enthusiasm to this project; but more than that, we are gaining insight into the world of giving and to the world of love.

Alumnae Sponsor Monmouth Duo

by CONNIE ROBB, Wyoming Alpha

On February 27, actives and pledges from both the Pi Phi house and the Kappa Kappa Gamma house set out towards Cheyenne for their second Monmouth Duo. However, this one was a new occasion in that it was the first annual Monmouth Duo sponsored jointly by the Cheyenne alumnae of Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma. The two alum clubs, who usually hold separate dances to honor the actives and pledges at the University of Wyoming, decided to work together so the dance would be the best ever, and named the dance Monmouth Duo.

Attended by members of both alum clubs as well as the girls and their dates, Monmouth Duo began with a no-host get-together, followed by a buffet dinner and dancing. The girls returned with a wooden carving of an arrow and a key as well as loads of enthusiasm for the dance and hopes for another next year!

Sharon Cloud, Texas Delta, is one of the most interesting people ever chosen as beauty at Texas Christian University. She is working on a double major, a Bachelor of Arts in biology and psychology, and plans to return next year for a Bachelor of Science in medical technology. Sharon is a member of Corpsdettes, a Senior Frogette Beauty, and was named 1970 Campus Beauty.

Hand Carved Crest Given As Memorial

by HELEN BENDIXEN MAURER

THE Pi Beta Phi crest mounted in the entrance hall of the Washington Beta chapter house was presented in memory of Shirley Glann Casey. Shirley, an outstanding member of the class of 1949, tragically passed away on July 7, 1968, after a serious illness. The crest was the gift of 41 alumnae who were in the house from 1945 to 1949 when Shirley was active.

The handsome crest was hand carved for the chapter by Mr. Steve Allured, Washington State University staff artist, whose wife, Pat, is an Idaho Pi Phi alumna. It is crafted from native white pine, burned and polished, and mounted on a diamond-shaped mahogany backing. It measures 16 by 24 inches.

The presentation was a surprise to the collegians and their parents attending the luncheon at the chapter house during WSU's Parents Weekend last year. Shirley Casey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glann of Lacey, Washington, were present for the ceremony.

Pledges Receive Tray and Poem

Perhaps one of the loveliest examples of Panhellenic spirit was displayed recently on the campus at Texas Tech. On the eve of their initiation, Texas Gamma pledges were surprised and delighted to receive a lovely silver tray engraved: "To the Pi Phi Pledge Class of 1969-70 from the Kappa Alpha Thetas."

Accompanying the gift was the following poem, written by Lynn Alderson, a recent Theta initiate:

All Greeks everywhere have a common bond, a loyalty for our kind,
 We each stand tall, our hearts honest and true,
 and think with open mind.
 Our goals are similar; to better ourselves, and to lend a helping hand.
 True, our differences are there, and competitive spirits, but we all are part of a band.
 A bond of loyalty to the Greek System, which, without unity, will die.
 We must help each other in bettering our name, or we'll fade into a whispering cry.
 So, now, dear Pi Phis, come join with us in goals which aim sky high.
 Shoot your arrows straight and sure beside our steady kites, and always it'll be us, not you and I!

During the first weekend in March, the Oklahoma Alpha Pi Phis and Delta Tau Delta participated in Sooner Scandals, the campus variety show. The act, written by Helene Johnson, was entitled, "Mom, Apple Pie, and the Facts We Left Behind." The act stressed the early beliefs and principals upon which our country was founded.

Too Bad About That Tournament!

FOOTBALL PLAYERS we are not! Manitoba Alpha decided, after we hopelessly lost Intersorority football this year, that we are just too dainty and feminine to play the game. And those 9:00 A.M. Sunday morning practices did nothing but tire us out for the rest of the day. We did have a few star players though—a Corney Corner Linebacker (who unfortunately didn't know what a linebacker was!), and the Happy Hupper who split her pants from seam to seam, thus exposing herself to drafty winds and laughter. But our hero was Quarterback Jane. We might even have won if she hadn't tried so hard to please our One and Only Spectator, by proving even quarterbacks can be ladies.

Manitoba Alpha has taken on a new look!

by PAMELA ROBINSON, Manitoba Alpha

Our new uniform is a blue-grey suede skirt and vest and a wine-coloured blouse. It really looks sharp and we love it.

During our mid-term break, ten girls and two alumnae went south to visit our North Dakota Alpha sisters. They had a wonderful time. Many thanks, North Dakota, for your great hospitality!

The weekend of May 9 was our Sorority Camp Weekend. We went to a cottage at Moose Lake and spent a fun-filled two days singing, just lazing around, and best of all, getting to know our sisters better. It was a time to discuss Pi Phi, and mull over all the good times (and bad!) during our last hectic, thrilling year. We all look forward to this weekend, and this year we even made some rush plans.

Initiation Song

(Sung to the tune of "Exodus")

The wine, the blue, the golden arrow pure
All make a Pi Phi dream come true.
We pledged our love to thee, our blest fraternity
Now we join our hands, our hearts, and follow thee.

So lead the way, we ask in sisterhood
Throughout the life we all now share
That in our memories, Pi Phi will always be
There to stay until the day we all must die.

And when our days of college are all gone,
We part and go our separate ways;
Remember Pi Phi truths, the shining arrow head,
And the bond that keeps us loyal, true, and strong.

Lynn Berry Awarded Panhellenic Scholarship

by CAROLYN EASTMAN, Mississippi Alpha

VIVACIOUS LYNN BERRY, a senior from Wilmington, N.C., at Mississippi Alpha, is recipient of the Ivan O. Wilber Panhellenic Scholarship for the 1969-70 school year.

Excelling in every area of college life, Lynn has not only been chosen by the student body as "Miss USM," but has been selected for inclusion in Who's Who Among Colleges and Universities. A President's List and Dean's List scholar, she has been tapped by national honorary societies in scholarship (Alpha Lambda Delta), French (Pi Delta Phi), English (Lambda Iota Tau), and the leadership honorary for senior women, Phi Delta Rho. She also served as president of Mississippi Alpha.

Lynn was chosen by a special faculty committee to receive the scholarship established through the University of Southern Mississippi Foundation in memory of Mrs. Wilber, former dean of women.

Rev. Oswald Blumit presents the Eisenhower Proclamation Medal to Caroline Cullers Hyde Swift, as Mr. Oswalds Akmentins looks on.

Eisenhower Medal Rewards Efforts

IN recognition of her efforts to further the pursuit of "Freedom and Independence for all Captive Nations of the World," the Eisenhower Proclamation Medal was awarded to Mrs. Caroline Culler Hyde Swift, Michigan Beta and Missouri Alpha, by the National Committee of Captive Nations.

Making the presentation were Mr. Oswalds Akmentins, vice president of the Latvian Press Society of America, National Director of the Latvian Information Service and author of several books concerned with Latvian history and immigration statistics; and the Rev. Oswald A. Blumit, both of the greater Boston area.

Mr. Akmentins said to Mrs. Swift as he gave her the medal, "While I have long been aware of your helpfulness to our Latvian group, it took longer to learn of your similar interest in Estonians, Germans, Hungarians, Lithuanians, Poles, Czechs, and even Russians and Cubans. . . . Your sensitivity to our special problems as refugees in unfamiliar surroundings made it easier for us to go on hoping the achievement of freedom and independence for all the captive nations of the world is not an impossible dream."

The Rev. Blumit's remarks, enlarging upon the official citation, were in part as follows:

"We captive nations people are apt to feel no one truly appreciates freedom until it is lost. Your breadth of knowledge and depth of compassion in dealing with us and our problems has made of you an exception. I have truly never known a human being possessed of a deeper love of freedom—everybody's freedom—than you—or one possessed of such sure knowledge that freedom jeopardized anywhere is jeopardized everywhere."

Included in the efforts cited by the Rev. Blumit were those that helped Charlie Kazium attain international recognition as the great Lithuanian-American glass craftsman that he is; sending Estonian-American Dr. Paul Eller to Switzerland for special study twice; aiding and rehabilitating three Hungarian refugee families; adopting German refugee babies. Rev. Blumit concluded his remarks by saying, "Much you have done will never be known because it is your way to work quietly, often alone, giving time, talent, and self to a belief."

Mrs. Swift accepted the award saying, "Anything I may have done well in this world, I owe to the man who provided my education and inspiration since my birth, my father." The Honorable Arthur Mastick Hyde was a former governor of Missouri and Secretary of Agriculture in the cabinet of President Herbert Hoover. He died in 1947.

Nancy Jackson Is Cited For Service

by RAE L CARGILL VODICKA

SOUTH BAY, CALIFORNIA, alumnae are justly proud of their young president. Nancy Joan Jusenius Jackson has recently been selected as one of 1969's Outstanding Young Women of America. Outstanding Young Women of America was conceived by the leaders of the nation's women's clubs. Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, business advancement and civic and professional recognition.

Nancy was graduated from UCLA in 1964. While an active, she served as house manager, and had been president of her pledge class. Post graduate activities included a term as president of the UCLA Alumnae. Prior to taking maternity leave in 1967, this capable brunette served as senior public health nurse for the County of Los Angeles in the San Pedro office.

Currently entering her second term as president of the South Bay Alumnae Club, Nancy is also active in church and civic affairs. She is immediate past treasurer of the Women's League at Christ Lutheran Church and is president of the Hospitality Guild. Community-wise, Nancy is block chairman of the Rolling Hills Highland Homeowner's Association.

Domestically Nancy enjoys decorating and sewing—she makes all her own clothes and many of those worn by her young sons Steve, 2½, and Ted, 1½. She also finds time for golfing and skiing with her stockbroker husband.

South Bay salutes Nancy and welcomes recognition of her unique talents.

Chosen Kappa Alpha Rose

Candy Tooker, Florida Gamma pledge, was chosen the Kappa Alpha Rose at Rollins College. Candy, her pledge class president, transferred to Rollins as a junior this year from the University of North Carolina. Chevy Chase, Maryland, is her home.

Geraldine DeBenedetti Senner, Nevada Alpha, is one of Honolulu's better-known social workers. Geraldine works for Child Protective Services Center, operated by the Department of Social Services at Kapiolani Children's Hospital. In addition she is a volunteer with Planned Parenthood. A straight-speaking realist, she was recently chosen Wahine of the Week by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. (Star-Bulletin photo)

New Golden Arrow Lapel Pin Available

Each year, in January, special letters are sent from Central Office, written by the Grand President, to all those Pi Phis who had been initiated fifty years before, telling them that they are eligible for The Order of the Golden Arrow. The insignia of the Order was always been a guard in the shape of a carnation, to be worn with their badges.

Now, however, there is a new Golden Arrow insignia—a golden carnation lapel pin—larger than the previous guard. The pin is 5/8" overall in height.

Any Golden Arrow member may purchase the new lapel pin. Inquiries should be directed to Pi Beta Phi Central Office, 112 South Hanley Road, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

Sorors Plan For Happy Weekends

by CANDY BLACKFORD
California Zeta

ADJACENT to the University of California, Santa Barbara, is a tiny student community in which approximately twelve thousand people live. Any area into which are crowded so many young people is bound to have community problems. The California Zetas, also residents of this little town, are aware of these many problems and have participated recently in community service projects to boost various improvements.

Cramped space with no recreational facilities is the cause of many boring weekends for the little boys and girls who live in the area. UCSB's Panhellenic recognized this problem and initiated the Gauchita Program. Each sorority helps plan Saturday morning craft programs for the little girls. Also two extra-special occasions have been celebrated at our house this year. A gift-bearing Pi Phi Santa, instead of arriving through the chimney, resorted to our front staircase but was greeted by cheers and smiling faces anyway. Other highlights of the Christmas party were decorating the tree, singing Christmas carols, playing Christmas bingo, and eating hotdogs and s'mores barbecued outside. The Gauchitas could have given their little boyfriends heart shaped cookies that they decorated themselves at the Valentine party we gave for them.

Another service project was Greek Week. It is an annual effort in which the Greeks perform some service to the school or community. This year we sponsored a drive to raise money to build a ten thousand dollar park in the student community. The main drive continued for a week, and included a torch light parade around the town where the Greeks went to apartments asking for dollar contributions, a basketball game between the Greeks and Independents, a boxing tournament, a rugby game and finally an IFC banquet. All of these activities, added to contributions of local business men, achieved a large percentage of the original goal. To realize the final goal, though, we are continuing to sponsor money raising projects and will do so until the ten thousand mark is reached. This huge effort was made successful only by the hard organizational work of people like Barb Grell, a California Zeta who is the representative of all the sororities in UCSB's legislative council.

Florida Delta's First Year Ends

by SARAH EDWARDS
Florida Delta

FLORIDA DELTA has completed its first year as Pi Beta Phi's new University of Florida chapter.

During the school year we have pledged over twenty-five prospective Pi Phis. Eleven new sisters were initiated in January, adding fresh spirit and sparkle to the chapter.

Florida Delta's scholarship has been outstanding. Our Fall '69 pledges placed first in scholarship on our campus. Sisters and pledges together placed third scholastically among 15 campus sororities.

Our first annual Parents' Weekend was a resounding success. A Saturday morning coffee was held in the chapter's apartments, allowing the parents to meet each other, pledges, and sisters. After an afternoon of relaxing with parents, we all met for dinner at the Flagler Inn.

After a delicious banquet, and a reading from the history of Pi Beta Phi and Florida Delta, our winter pledge class surprised us with a skit, a clever take-off on Red Riding Hood. The festive occasion closed as sisters joined pledges in singing their favorite Pi Phi songs for their parents.

During the first weekend of May, Florida Delta held its first annual Pi Phi Weekend. We tried something unique to our campus in that we attended a dinner theatre production in Jacksonville in lieu of the traditional formal ball. We spent Saturday in St. Augustine and held a band party on the beach that evening.

To the Sisters of Pi Beta Phi

Just had the urge to tell you all
How proud I am to be
A "duly initiated" member Of Pi Phi Fraternity!

Today has been so wonderful,
So filled with warmth and love;
It's a day I'll always remember,
And cherish high above.

I only wish I could explain
Just how I feel inside;
But I'm sure you know the feeling well,
One of friendship and joy and pride!

Now my time as a pledge is over,
But I really have to say
That it was a funtime and certainly worth
The "reward" of this grand day.

I have only one wish remaining
Now that "Sister" also means me,
And that's that I can give you, too,
The true friendship you're giving me!

ANGE MAHLO, Massachusetts Beta

Pan Am stewardess Gwen Cory, Washington Alpha, recently completed basic training in Miami, Florida, and took a pre-graduation flight aboard the new 747. Pam, a French major at the University of Washington, was a Husky Honey and a member of the ski team. She'll be flying over the North Atlantic route to London, Frankfurt, and Paris.

A Pi Phi Friend

In this world so vast yet so small,
It's wonderful to find one friend anywhere at all,
Who wishes to be the companion who will share
All the hopes, dreams, and feelings you bare.

When you are bursting with happiness
She'll bound down the stairs, pulling you behind her
With outbursts of merriment,
Wiping out every trace of sadness.

When you are ecstatic and gay with excitement,
She'll walk on air with the eight steps of enchantment,
Chuckling and giggling with sentiment,
She'll come along whispering all that is inside you.

All day she'll amuse you with peculiar antics
As she soars through the sky leaving
Golden lines of an arrow skittering over the times.
Then she is closer, full of love and understanding
Only to come out in laughter and feeling of rapture.
All the time she is near, and always she is beside you.
She's a Pi Beta Phi.

Chapter Wins Service Award

by DIANE SANDERSON
Louisiana Alpha

THE Louisiana Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi participated in many service activities this past year which won for the chapter the Oneida silver cube, symbolizing excellence, and a beautiful silver service which the chapter donated to the New Orleans alumnae. The activities included a Song Fest for the benefit of the Heart Fund; a philanthropic project involving the elderly patients at Taylor House, a division of the Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans; and their alumnae Arrowcraft sale at which $1800 worth of Arrowcraft goods were sold.

The project at Taylor House has been very successful. Each month some of the members go to entertain the patients. This is enjoyed as much by the sisters as by the patients themselves. Another of the projects was collecting in the annual leukemia drive. The members of Louisiana Alpha also contributed to the people on welfare in New Orleans at Christmas.

Individual members of the chapter were very active in the drive following Hurricane Camille. These included local members who were in New Orleans immediately following the storm. They worked in connection with the Chamber of Commerce collecting food and supplies for the thousands of people who had lost everything in the hurricane.

Entertain Foreign Students

by MARGARET PRICE, Indiana Beta

TO HELP students of foreign countries understand more about the Greek system, the Indiana Beta Pi Phis and the men of Acacia co-hosted an International Tea on March 15. Members of both chapters informally discussed the significance of Greek life with students from many countries, and in doing so, discovered that many of these students were unfamiliar with sororities and fraternities. Many of us learned the background of these young people who have so much to offer our campus. By sponsoring this tea, we increased the knowledge about the Greek system which we hope will benefit us.

Highlighting the past semester was the performance of members of Indiana Beta and the men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the annual I.U. Sing. A sorority and fraternity create a musical number which is presented before a panel of judges and several hundred people. Winners are chosen for choreography, creativity, appearance, and musicianship.

At initiation March 8, award winners of the half class were announced. Amy Hay received the Outstanding Pledge Award; Linda Carrigan, the Activities Award; and Beth Winkler, the Scholarship Award.

Women Win Rights At N. Carolina

by MARTHA MURRAY
North Carolina Alpha

BEFORE last year, the women at the University of North Carolina had few rights, especially in comparison with the men. Today, because of a body known as the Women's Residence Council (W.R.C.), women's rights have taken a greater evolutionary step toward liberalization.

Pi Phis at U.N.C. have been elected to work on W.R.C. every year, and have helped greatly to make this organization a dynamic force in the fight for greater rights for women. Before now, freshman women were required to attend closed study halls three times a week. They were allowed only one free night, and on this night they had to be in at 11 P.M. Sophomores, juniors and seniors, although not required to attend study halls, did have to be in at midnight.

In the fall of 1968, however, study halls were abolished; and last fall, because of the hard work of the Pi Phis on W.R.C., all women at the University of North Carolina have more rights than ever before. By Pi Phi effort, especially on this particular committee, women now have liberalized rules as well as a more challenging opportunity to mature into responsible, independent women of the future.

Discourse on Drugs

By a PARENT—a PSYCHOLOGIST—a POLICEWOMAN

I. A Parent Speaks

No matter how much we read in the papers, most parents are really not very knowledgeable about the drug problem. But two new books, Society and Drugs and *Students and Drugs by Dr. Richard H. Blum and associates at the Institute For the Study Of Human Problems at Stanford University of which Dr. Blum is director of drug studies, help give a picture of what parents are up against. All in all, it is rather frightening.

First, it is frightening because Dr. Blum's work shows how rapidly the use of drugs is increasing nation-wide, being heaviest in metropolitan areas but gradually seeping on down through schools in rural conservative areas, too.

This statement is particularly chilling: "While it took approximately ten years, by our estimate, for experimentation and use to shift from the older intellectual-artistic group to graduate students, it only took an estimated five years to catch on among undergraduates, only two or three years to move to a significant number of high school students, and then, within no more than two years, to move to upper elementary grades—although we have no sound data as yet on the numbers involved in elementary schools." Yet, the "drug movement" or "craze" only had its beginning in 1954.

The findings are frightening, too, on who is taking drugs. On the college level these surveys show they are primarily "those students who . . . are secure by reason of wealth, are white Anglo-Saxon, have Protestant backgrounds." Also, the parents of drug users "are more liberal than those of non-users. These homes emphasize adjustment, disregard tradition." Likewise, "these students . . . who have less regard for rules or the feelings or rights of others . . . are the most drawn to illicit drug use on campus."

Something else which is disturbing is the picture of the drug user. Though most young people seem only to dabble with drugs and quit, it is not reassuring to contemplate the few who go ahead. It seems, "People do not ordinarily use one drug, but many . . . What is implied is a pyramid of the sort that the chap sitting on the top using the most unusual class of drugs is likely to have tried everything else along the way."

With these facts staring us in the face, it seems imperative for parents to become educated about drugs, and fast. So, immediately we have all these questions, first having to do with the names of drugs and how they are used. Our generation is not familiar with all the new psychoactive drugs. We do know, of course, about tobacco and alcohol, licit drugs because their use is not prohibited by law. We know that LSD, marijuana and heroin are illicit and that amphetamines and barbiturates are only lawful when used under medical supervision or prescription.

What illicit drugs do students start on? Apparently alcohol (illicit in most states until age 21) most often precedes other use. Cigarettes come early, too, and for most youngsters under 16 these are also illegal. Amphetamines (pep pills) are next, then marijuana, and then the hallucinogens, of which LSD is the best known. Dr. Blum's studies find usage of hard-narcotics rare on the college level except that "if opium is so classified, their use is expanding rapidly."

Of course, these are averages; for any individual person a different progression might emerge. But it gives parents something to think about, as do statements about why college students try drugs.

A majority of students (60%) interviewed who have used marijuana, LSD and so on say they first took illicit-exotic drugs out of curiosity or adventure. Other reasons: 25% were persuaded to try drugs because of a social situation where others were trying them; 25%

* Published by Jossey-Bass, Inc., San Francisco.

denied any active decision one way or another, say "it just happened." A much smaller number were persuaded by intellectual information they had gleaned on drug effects; because of personal goals of an aesthetic-sensory or religious mystical nature; for self-exploration or enhanced self-perception. Likewise, only a very small number spoke of using drugs to show rebellion against convention, the law or parental wishes.

On the other hand, what kind of college students do not experiment with drugs? And how many are there?

At this time there are still quite a lot of these, but the number is dwindling rapidly as so many college "abstainers" indicate when questioned that they will probably try drugs soon. Yet, there are some who will never break over. These have been found to be like the majority of the total sample "except for being younger, poorer, more conservative and religious and more satisfied with present and future prospects."

On this basis, can college drug users be labeled "non-religious pessimists?" This is probably too simple a phrase yet, the implication is that users and experimenters are not ordinarily emotionally unstable or psychologically sick. The terms applied instead are "bored, unchallenged, disillusioned." One group (studied on campus), with the greatest experience in drugs, reported being members of no organizations at all. It is also suggested that as we talk about drugs causing behavior, we lose sight of the fact that "drug use does not cause, but rather is caused by much of the behavior attributed to it and that drug use is only one manifestation of some fairly pervasive and basic problems which merit the attention of higher education and which may affect more students than just those on drugs."

It is interesting that the surveys show that users are also willing to admit that all is not moonlight and roses in drug use. As one would expect, users of opiates find the fewest benefits along with users of the exotic drugs such as gasoline and glue (sniffing). Kinds of ill effects vary by drug, but all have some.

From the standpoint of those of us out of college, and I speak now as a parent, what discourages us the most is that our youngsters know the health hazards of drug abuse, know the legal dangers of breaking the law, and yet they go ahead just the same.

Yet—do kids really know? There are high school as well as college students in these books; the younger ones interviewed seem particularly bitter about the part of adults in this. There were angry comments "concerning the unwillingness of both teachers and parents to engage in meaningful dialogue . . . about the physiological, psychological, moral and social aspects of . . . all mind and mood-altering drugs." Can we meet their need, or their terms, i.e. without moralizing? Or, should we?

Basically, can we help them discover how to "turn on" without drugs? Students and Drugs tells of small but hopeful progress made by some older adolescents, (former LSD users), who have found ways by which they can "turn on" naturally through such means as music, meditation, nature and so on. Will not such an approach work as well—and certainly better—for those who have not yet tried drugs?

There is probably a harder role parents have to play. The material points out that "as models, parents must teach sensible drug behavior through concrete personal example." In other words, parents must "themselves become safe drug users through the control of their own addictions to tobacco, alcohol, tranquilizers and the like."

Students and Drugs also suggests that the goal, with children, is to produce a generalized awareness that any drug which produces benefit is also likely to produce damage and that decisions to use such substances are not simply private choices but are also social acts subject to authoritative control during childhood, and then, during adulthood, to concern for the welfare of others as well as self-health.

Certainly the material indicates it is important to postpone, if we cannot always prevent, drug experimentation, since it is shown "intensive users of all drugs start at an earlier age than less intensive users."

If we were not convinced before, certainly these books should convince us parents that we have a big job ahead as the first line of defense in preventing drug abuse by our young people. Only by learning about drugs and then listening—really listening to what our children are trying to tell us, can we succeed in our task. At least, that is how I—a parent—see it.

II. A Psychologist Replies —Dr. Richard H. Blum

I would like to comment, if I may make so bold, on the concern which I take underlies this parent's remarks.

I think these days, many, if not most, parents are worried. Oftentimes their worries focus on the dramatic things their children do or might do. Drug use, of course, is among these potential activities, but so is dropping out, getting killed in an auto accident, getting hurt in some demonstration or other and the like. All of these have in common the fact that each is an opportunity our modern world provides. That is, each is a probability which might occur, given the freedom that young people have and given the uncertainty of the world in which we all live. Yet it is, I suspect, the general nature of the world which worries parents more than the specifics of any possible ill event, for parents are notorious worriers whereas their youngsters, especially their college-age youngsters, appear to be remarkably confident about those same things which worry their parents.

This is, perhaps the crux of it. The world looks very different to a 20-year-old young lady who looks forward to a variety of triumphs and who has, most likely, already experienced a considerable number of good things. Compare her to the mid-forties adults who find the world changing not only too quickly for their tastes but perhaps even too quickly for their understanding. Further, these self-same parents, if they are at all like me, have had a variety of bad experiences. Almost all of these come after the age of 25; at least I think they do.

So it is that some young people are often quite sure about drugs, sure that marijuana is safe, sure that amphetamines are only a quick boost for studying, sure that LSD is exciting and only rarely a disaster, even sure that heroin is just another kick which any strong person can leave even after taking it. And, of course, they may be correct—indeed they often are. But the older view, taken by parents, doctors and the like, tends to be darker. We think of the risks, of the fallen stars and of the sadnesses. We tend to be risk oriented, like an insurance company.

Further, parents do, I suspect, tend to exaggerate, especially about drugs, for these substances symbolize for the over-thirty people the classical case of the temptation which can, as the Victorians would say, "lead astray." But, as the literature of adventure tells us (although only via the pens of those who did well at it), that being led astray may not be all that bad. And so it is, on the one hand the older worriers, on the other hand the young daredevils, drug fanatics and other birds of the hip genus. And in between—well???

It is, I think, the in-betweens who are of considerable interest. One large group includes the sensible folk who may experiment a bit with risks, whether driving too fast, drinking too much (but only once or twice before they learn), enjoying an ill-starred romance, or trying one of the milder illicit drugs, marijuana of course as the prime example. But these in-betweens do not become "druggies," that is, they find life fuller and richer than preoccupations with drugs allow. They intend to accomplish a lot, not just turning on and staying that way, which is, of course, to mean turning off the grey matter eventually.

Most college students whom I know, and they are indeed a pleasure to know, are in this group. A few others are in the abstainer category which, while admirable because of their strengths, is rather hard to stay in during these tempting times. Another group of in-betweens are those who have been there and back. These are the fellows and girls (mostly fellows; girls are generally less extreme) who went further down the drug road, and, trying almost everything, living the hip or near-hip life, then found it wanting. Some found that out the hard way, after arrest or hospitalization. Most were less dramatic and simply got bored.

Most American parents do not want to prevent their children from experimenting with life. They do, I believe, hope to save their offspring from the kind of pointless experiment that has little benefit but at the least wastes time and, less benign, can cause big trouble. I'd put the use of barbiturates (for kicks, not as a prescribed medication), amphetamines (ditto), hallucinogens, opiates and the volatile intoxicants—gasoline, glue sniffing—all in this category of the pointless experiment.

Marijuana is a different story, mostly because the kind one gets in the U.S. is so mild that it offers relatively little either by way of euphoria or of health danger. One can nevertheless get arrested for its use, although that, too, is an unlikely event and generally requires the user to work very hard at being indiscreet. Long term use of cannabis (the marijuana plant) in stronger forms may be a different story as far as effects are concerned. No one is sure yet.

Consistency requires that parents not exclude alcohol and tobacco for their concerns. We know cigarettes are dangerous. The reason people do not stop using them is that they enjoy them and that chronic smokers are addicts in the strictest sense of the word. Alcohol, fortunately, does not play a role in cancer, but it certainly is associated with auto accidents, assaults, homicides and the problem drinker. About 15% of all drinkers, nearly seven million Americans, are problem drinkers, that is, alcoholic.

Whatever drug we discuss, the average college student, especially the girls—and my guess would be particularly sorority girls since their membership implies traditionalism—are in the safest group as far as health or arrest risks are concerned. That means that only a very few parents of college students have to worry about their daughters getting in trouble with drugs. To stop at that point is, however, selfish. If we are to be a community at all we must be concerned with the troubles that our non-college population get into, for the maladjusted adolescent boy, the slum reared young man, or the poorer older man—and these are the highest risk groups for drugs generally—do face us with our present and potential population of addicts, drug illness patients and prison inmates. We do want to do something about them since they are not only in distress, but they are an expensive burden to maintain, and, further, they will hurt or kill a few of you who are reading this, either on the highways, in armed robberies, or in some other pointless human outrage.

That is, I believe, a point that parents and their college daughters can quickly agree on. It is the need to develop and support community programs for prevention of the bad outcomes of drug use. That means, essentially, education: education for parents, for teachers, for doctors and for children. The goal is the realization of the dangers and benefits to be found in pharmaceuticals. The goal is also a thoughtful way of life which is based not on vain hopes (or fears) but on a sensible appraisal of where we want to go and what is required to get there.

III.

A Policewoman Speaks —Noreen Skagen

The college student today can easily find herself faced with a situation where she is tempted to "pop a pill" or "smoke a little grass" and there will probably be peer-group pressure to join the ranks of those who extol the pleasures of the mind-affecting drugs.

The drug abuser has infiltrated our society . . . and thousands of young people are getting badly hurt from what they consider is just a lark, an adventure . . . or an escape. The apparently easy solution to pressures has turned into a nightmare where untold numbers of young people from grade school through colleges have "blown their minds, their health and their future."

In agreeing to discuss drug abuse, particularly marijuana and its effect on this generation, I realize I have undertaken an unpopular task. It has become fashionable to encourage the use of a little "grass" now and then. Scientists are involved in a running debate on whether or not it is harmful.

As a police officer I work in the real world, the world of individual frustrations and suffering. I have seen the 20-year-old driver, high on marijuana, and he is a deadly menace on the road. I have seen the heroin addict, the barbiturate addict, the amphetamine addict, and they each started with marijuana. Whether their addiction was physical or psychological wasn't really relevant . . . the physical and mental destruction was just as devastating. I've talked with ex-college students whose drug use impaired their motivation and their ability to concentrate. They were dirty, emaciated relics of their former selves, but they were anxious to tell me of the beautiful world of love and dreams that they had discovered.

The purveyors of drugs can offer convincing arguments to dispute the harmful effects from the use of narcotics and dangerous drugs. The police officer can only rely on his experiences with real people.

Recently the director of the National Institute of Mental Health, Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, told Congress that 100,000 Americans are hooked on narcotics and that millions more smoke marijuana or use other hallucinogenic drugs. He estimated that drug addiction was costing the country $541 million a year.

There are three general types of drug users. The situational user is the housewife who is taking anti-obesity pills and becomes dependent on the energy and self-control she derives from their use. Or the student who uses amphetamines to keep awake at exam time, then finds his study habits depend on the pills that prolong his hours of wakefulness.

The spree user takes drugs for kicks. This is often in a group or social situation and the drug becomes a daring, adventurous experience. The LSD user, the marijuana smoker, quite often starts his involvement with drugs as a hedonistic experience. This periodic flight from reality can degenerate into a way of life, a continuous escapism.

The hard-core addict typically begins as a spree user and reaches the state where he cannot function without drug support.

Young people from twelve to twenty-five are the favorite targets of the drug hucksters. And young people are playing the role of sheep in their naive eagerness to pop the first pill or smoke their first "reefer" of marijuana. The main involvement of college students has been the misuse of amphetamines for study purposes and the added energy to enjoy an over-active social life, and the use of marijuana for "kicks." There is the common rationalization that drugs are the only way to escape from the "mess" created by the establishment. This could appropriately be called the ostrich approach to today's problems.

What is the answer to the epidemic increase in drug involvement? Each person has to make the individual decision regarding drugs. We are in danger of becoming a drug-infected society of pleasure-seeking escapists who face today's problems through a self-induced smoke screen. Only individuals with backbone and common sense can reverse this trend.

Death On Campus

An American Tragedy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article appeared in the Winter, 1970, issue of The Signet of Phi Sigma Kappa. Since this is so closely related to the preceding Operation Brass Tacks article, permission was requested and granted to reprint the article.)

At Amherst College in western Massachusetts a student died by falling 70 feet off the roof of a dormitory; he had earlier taken a trip on LSD. George Mountcastle was a Harvard University sophomore from Baltimore who was visiting an Amherst friend Oct. 11. State police arrested another Amherst student on charges of selling the LSD to the visitor. But to Amherst's dean of students, Robert A. Ward, there was a particular agony about the tragedy that was personal. In a letter to his students, written last October 16, Dean Ward tried to express it. His letter follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE COLLEGE:

He was not an Amherst man; he was a visitor. But his death occurred in our community, and we shared in the loss. We were shocked by the tragedy and stunned by the senselessness of it. He was young and bright—too bright to surrender his life in the foolish madness blighting a generation. In a week in which we paused to reflect on the waste of life half a world away, it may have been a strange irony that we were starkly faced with meaningless death on our own campus. But that week is nearly gone—and memory fades.

I will not rehearse the statements made in the past about drugs. Many of us for some time have been apprehensive that a tragedy would come—and last Saturday night it did. Repeated warnings had gone unheeded; it couldn't happen here. I only wish those who ignored those warnings could have spent part of that horrible night waiting in Cooley Dickinson Hospital while the student's life ebbed or part of Sunday afternoon in my office while his parents struggled to comprehend the reality of that day.

I did not become a dean to watch a generation of students pollute their sanity or distort their lives, and I confess to numbing and depressing sense of helplessness. Words are inadequate and deeds seem fruitless. More than ever students have taken on themselves the individual responsibility which shapes their lives in all areas. It should be so, but the judicious exercise of such responsibility demands wisdom. I see no wisdom at all in the growing and indiscriminate use of drugs. I also see a danger that one major tragedy may obscure other tragedies, smaller perhaps but no less frightening. On a beautiful Saturday afternoon which was in itself a natural stimulant, why the need for some artificial or uncertain drug? And where were we all on that night or on any night and when will we awake to the need to replace a disinterested privatism with a sustained concern for troubled people in our community? And why do we tolerate in our midst the profiteers of poison? And by what moral right do we pass into the hands of others substances which can threaten their well-being and even their lives? What in God's name is happening to us?

Last Sunday in a scriptural lesson the timeless chastisement of Thomas was repeated: "Because you did not see, you would not believe." Last Sunday we did see. Now I plead as never before—please believe.

ATTENTION ALUMNAE:

Voluntary Rush Information Forms (RIFs) are more important than ever before. If you know a girl who is going to a school where there is a Pi Beta Phi chapter, please send a Rush Information Blank. Time is important. Some schools have an early closing date to accept RIFs.

If a chapter asks for information on a girl, please respond at once. However, it is not necessary to wait for such a request.

Please complete both sides of the form.

Lost Pi Phis!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somewhere along the way, many Pi Phis have been misplaced—at least insofar as the Central Office address list is concerned. It is important that all Pi Phis be located, and in an effort to find the lost members. The ARROW will publish a list, by chapter, each issue. If the reader knows the current address of one of those listed, please forward that information to Mrs. Ralph Schulenburg, Director of Central Office, 112 S. Hanley Road, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

The Insignia Of National Panhellenic Conference

The shield is a protective influence for our entire membership. A lamp denotes leadership, scholarship and enlightenment.

The laurel wreath signifies victory, or achievement of ideals.

While the sword piercing the wreath indicates willingness to fight for ideals, symbolizing, too, penalty of obligation; also bravery, achievement and discipline.

The mantling surrounding the shield is the protecting cloak that education gives us, and a protective influence of organization.

Thus there in the mantle is inscribed the name of the National Panhellenic Conference.

To Pi Phi Parents:

Your daughter's magazine is sent to her home address while she is in college and we hope that you enjoy reading it. If she is no longer in college, however, and is not living at home, please send her new permanent address to Pi Beta Phi Central Office, 112 South Hanley Road, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.
