

THE ARROW

OF PI BETA PHI

SUMMER 1971

*My candle is tiny . . . my corner is dark . . .
My world is in trouble and full of despair . . .
How can my candle, so fragile, so small,
Cheer any heartache, lift any care?*

*If we combine them — your candle and mine —
Twice as much brightness will shine in the night . . .
Others may join us . . . and then others more . . .
Each with her candle, her pinpoint of light,
Learning how loving a circle can grow . . .
Learning how brightly a circle can glow.*

Our Pi Phis do show up in the most unusual places and under the most unusual circumstances. We are referring, of course, to the four page spread in the April 16 issue of Life which featured Sarah Sue Ritchey, Mississippi Beta, the 24-year-old housemother for the University of Alabama SAE fraternity. Jeannette Roberts, province president for the old Lambda Province when Sarah Sue was in school, was on the ball and sent us some interesting information about the young lady. She was a president of her chapter and was the chapter's nominee for the ABO award. In submitting the nomination, the president of her chapter said, "Her compatibility and congeniality have made her one of the favorite persons in the . . . chapter. Her intelligence, perseverance and example have led the chapter toward a higher understanding of what a sorority should be . . . Mississippi Beta can proudly point her finger at Sarah Sue and say, 'She's a Pi Phi.'" And Mrs. Roberts said, "She's a true lady and just darling!" Isn't it nice to have such marvelous publicity for Pi Beta Phi and the entire Greek system—both fraternity and sorority?

Would you believe that the total number of issues printed for the spring ARROW was 76,265? This is some kind of a record, and our man at Banta says it's the first women's group he knows of with that many!

Two alumnae in Lincoln, Neb., are popping their buttons these days. Janet Hemphill Jenkins, Nebraska Beta, and JoAnn Spiva Kimball, Missouri Alpha, are the proud moms of two young men, both instrumentalists, who were named winners of the 1971 Lincoln Symphony auditions. Both boys attend the University of Nebraska. Robert Jenkins is an oboist and Curtis Kimball is a pianist. The mothers met, many years ago, at an alum club dinner, and became close friends. The two boys lives have paralleled each other, even down to the fact that both are being married this summer and both are marrying N.U. music students who are cello majors! Congratulations to these two Pi Phi sons . . . and to their proud parents as well.

While we're extending congratulations, the same are also in order for Lilian Martin Boggess, Louisiana Beta, who is the current state president of PEO in West Virginia. Lilian lives in Philippi, where she is a member of AAUW, Eastern Star, College Club, Woman's Club and the Pi Phi Alumnae Club.

We hope you particularly enjoy the picture and story on page 4 of this issue. We thought it might be just the thing to cool you off on a hot July day.

There is nothing that boosts an editor's ego more than having a chapter correspondent send her stories to a former editor who has been away from the job for three years! But it happened for this issue, and we do thank Dorothy Stuck for sending same on to us. We won't tattle on the chapter, but it does make us wonder, once again, if Pi Phis ever read The ARROW.

It is with deep regret that we report the death of Mrs. Naoma Alfrey Plumb of Denver. We had a story about this 104-year-old Pi Phi in the Summer, 1970, issue of The ARROW. Mrs. Plumb became a member of I.C. Sorosis in 1884 at Lawrence, Kansas, and her interest in Pi Beta Phi continued throughout her long life. Our sympathy is extended to her husband Francis.

Carol Berseth Receives Fellowship

CAROL LYNN BERSETH, Louisiana Beta, has been named recipient of the $1,000 Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for the coming year, according to the announcement made at the San Antonio Convention. Awarding of the Fellowship is based on scholastic standing and "all-around development of character with its resultant ability worthy to represent The Fraternity."

Carol's academic achievements, as well as her leadership qualities, make her a worthy addition to the roster of Fellowship winners. According to Karen Peterson Simopoulos, Nebraska Beta, program director for the Louisiana State University Union, "While pursuing a demanding premedical curriculum, Carol served as a student chairman of an active Union committee in her junior year; under Carol's leadership, the Current Events Committee presented programs of nationally known speakers and thought provoking topics. Students on the committee respected Carol and worked diligently with her."

Carol plans to use her Fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Although she has not as yet set any definite career goals, she is a psychology major with a premed minor and she is interested in psychiatry. Summer work has provided the financing for most of her education thus far, as well as for her Pi Phi membership.

Massachusetts Beta was the recipient of the Panhellenic scholarship tray for the 1969-70 school year. The chapter grade point average for the year was 3.219. Shown with the tray are scholarship chairman Susan Siegel, left and Paula Gemborys, president of the chapter.

Throughout her college career, Carol has had an outstanding grade point average—3.7 on a 4.0 scale—and was recently initiated into Phi Kappa Phi. She has been the recipient of the LSU President's Scholarship (the highest scholarship award on the campus) for the past two years and is a current recipient of the Harriet Rutherford Johnstone Scholarship.

Carol Lynn Berseth, Louisiana Beta.

In her chapter, Carol has served as ARROW Correspondent, on the Executive Council and Arrowboard, and as scholarship chairman. She was awarded the "Done Good" Award by the chapter last year, as the active who had given the most chapter service. She was selected for Who's Who In Greek Fraternities and Sororities at LSU, and is a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, Mu Sigma Rho, and Mortar Board.

Mrs. Simopoulos says, "A truly outstanding young woman, a remarkable leader, a vivacious person, a sensitive and caring friend, Carol Berseth cannot be commended highly enough."

Dr. Albert Etheridge, an assistant professor at LSU says, "She has a pleasing personality and is a mature and dedicated person."

It is the hope of Pi Beta Phi that Carol will be enabled to live up to her potential through the use of the Fellowship.

University of Utah skier, Jane Marquardt, begins her run in the Nastar finals at Mt. Snow, Vt., last March.

Jane Shines As Ski Team Member

by SHARON FRENCH
Utah Alpha

WHEN the snow flies, so does one of our Pi Phis.

Jane Marquardt, Utah Alpha sophomore, has won numerous honors skiing. She races for the University of Utah ski team and last winter, as a freshman, placed first in the 1971 Western Slopes Invitational at Keystone, Colorado. The meet was sponsored by Colorado State University.

Jane was personally invited to the Nastar Regionals on March 13, 14, in Jackson Hole, Wyo. Nastar is a program for any recreational skier who does not hold a classification card in any division of U.S.S.A. Jane represented Park City West, a local Salt Lake ski resort, in the ladies division for ages 18-39. She came in second with the combined times of two giant slalom runs.

After this performance she received a trip to Mt. Snow, Vt., for the Nastar finals. On March 27 and 28 Jane won fourth place in the overall times.

Jane trained as a girl on the Utah Racing School team in Ogden. She raced on her high school ski team and was an outstanding racer throughout her youth. She will continue to represent the University of Utah and enjoy her ability in the sport of skiing.

Virginia Playmates Enjoy Fine Charges

by KITTY AMMEN
Virginia Gamma

As a local project, the Pi Phis of Virginia Gamma have taken on the job of babysitter-playmate for five children of a family living in a depressed area of Williamsburg. Saturday mornings have been set aside as the time just to play with the children ranging in age from seven years to three years. Lutricia, age seven, is the oldest and has started school. Daryl, age six, is the young man of the family followed by the twins, Debbie and Dee Dee, who are five. Duane, who just turned three, is the youngest.

On the morning of William and Mary's homecoming, the Pi Phis took the kids to watch the homecoming parade. They bought balloons, sat on the curb and enjoyed watching all the floats, princesses and bands. For Halloween, the Pi Phis had a party for the children, who helped carve a pumpkin into a smiling jack-o-lantern. At Christmastime, the more talented Pi Phis made several winter outfits for each of the children.

As spring bloomed once again in Williamsburg, Saturday mornings were spent flying kites, walking through Colonial Williamsburg along with all the tourists, or eating lunch on the porch of the Pi Phi house. And for Easter, the traditional Easter egg hunt was held. This proved to be fun for the Pi Phis who got to hide the eggs!

The children, who seldom leave the area around their house during the week, look forward to Saturday mornings as do the Pi Phis of Virginia Gamma, who find reward in the eager responsiveness of the children.

Mother-Daughter Combo Is Effective

by ELEANOR BUSHNELL LEHNER

MAUDIE PRICKETT COOPER, Wyoming Alpha, and her daughter Charie Prickett, California Gamma, supervised arrangements of Pi Phi Fashion Flight, the 1971 version of the annual fashion benefit sponsored by the California Gamma Mothers' Club.

Maudie, a popular TV and motion picture comedienne, is the wife of C. Bernard Cooper, former mayor of Pasadena. Her full time acting career has not prevented her from serving as president of the Pasadena Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club, as well as the Pasadena Arts Council, the Recreation Council, and the Council of Women's Clubs. She is listed in Who's Who of American Women and Who's Who in the West.

Named Woman of the Year by both the Women's Civic League and the Soroptomist Club, Maudie is also active in the National Charity League, the Opera Guild, the Women's Committee of the Pasadena Symphony, and the Philharmonic Committee.

Among the 400 motion pictures and television shows and the more than fifty stage plays in which Maudie has appeared are the Jack Benny Show (as Jack's secretary), The Hazel series (as Rosie, Hazel's best friend), the Red Skelton, Andy Griffith, Jim Nabor, and Disney shows, "Bewitched," "Fury," "Get Smart," and many others.

Her most recent role is in Universal's yet-to-be-released "The Great Man's Whiskers." (Another Pi Phi, Beth Brickell of TV's "Gentle Ben," plays another leading part. Beth also agreed to MC the California Gamma Pi Phi Fashion Flight.)

Maudie was scheduled to be the principal speaker at the awards banquet during the Pasadena Convention. When she became ill, Charie, who had just completed her freshman year at USC, substituted for her. Now vice president of the chapter, Charie has also served as assistant social chairman, Panhellenic delegate, and rush chairman. A Kappa Sigma Sweetheart, she was chosen for membership in Troeds and Sword & Shield (freshman and sophomore service groups), and the Alumnae Tea Committee, whose members talk to high school girls considering USC.

Another budding speaker in the family is Maudie's son, Chuck Prickett, a pre-med major, and an SAE. His talk on the fraternity system, based on research garnered from Pi Beta Phi Pinpointers, earned him a top mark in his speech course at Occidental, from which he was graduated in June.

It is with regret that the Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi announces the relinquishing of the charter of Florida Gamma at Rollins College in October, 1970.

To the loyal alumnae of Florida Alpha, founded in 1929, Grand Council extends its compassion for the loss—remembering the years of leadership, loyalty, and service that were given to this chapter.

Cyndy Brehm, Minnesota Alpha, learns of a typical diet from South Indian natives.

Culture of South India Comes Back To Minnesota

IF Minnesota Alpha Phis ever got tired of American cooking, they would just have senior Cyndy Brehm mix them up a dish straight from South India! As a junior, Cyndy spent four months in Coimbatore, India, studying community nutrition, child development, the caste system and family relations.

Cyndy went to India on a Phi Upsilon (Home Economics Sorority) scholarship grant. She was one of two foreign students at Sri Avinashilingam Home Science College in Coimbatore. While there, she was treated just as an Indian girl, wearing a sari, eating their food in their way, and attending their temple and local festivities. Cyndy learned about typical diets for various conditions and how to prepare Indian foods. She studied culture and customs as they affect nutrition and food habits, and also through participation in ceremonies and festivals. Before returning home, she travelled for two months throughout the rest of India and Kashmir.

Back at Minnesota Alpha, Cyndy presented papers on her experiences and learning to the Department of Nutrition at the university. She is now a graduate, majoring in Family Social Science and Community Nutrition. But Cyndy's interests do not stop there. Besides being an active part of Pi Phi, she does volunteer work at the University Hospital. She recently received a $500 scholarship from the Minnesota Heart Association and is active in church work. And the "intercultural travels" of Cyndy have benefited all the other Minnesota Pi Phis.

Young House Director Is Asset In Various Ways

by JUDI SAYE
Georgia Alpha

"YOU must be kidding! She can't possibly be a housemother!" This was the most often heard remark when Mrs. Maurice Davis was introduced as Georgia Alpha's new housemother. In fact, Georgia Alphas themselves were surprised when they first met her. Why? The answer is quite simple.

Mrs. Davis, a petite brunette, came to Georgia Alpha at the ripe old age of twenty-seven. But, not only is Mrs. Davis younger than the average housemother, she's also a Pi Phi alum. She was graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1964 where she was a South Carolina Alpha.

What is it like to be a housemother to a group of sixty girls who are actually considered a part of your own generation? According to Mrs. Davis, each day is an experience in itself. "I've done everything from putting windows to climbing into an attic at 2:00 A.M. to check water pipes. I've learned that one side of beef can be devoured in a week when you're feeding 60 people."

The highlights of Mrs. Davis's quarter at Georgia Alpha can only be described as rather unusual. She went to a basketball game in her Pi Phi jersey, and managed to get in on an ID card. She was asked for dates by people she met in the foyer. Mrs. Davis was inspired to sew by home economics majors, and spent several enjoyable evenings playing "Hit Parade" with actives, or "I'm not that old, sure you remember the Tams."

Mrs. Davis summed it all up when she said, "I'm sure I've received as much as I've given. It's been a very worthwhile experience. I can now truthfully say that people haven't really changed since I was in college."

Georgia Alpha's feelings about their youngest housemother were summed up by one active who said, "It was a fantastic experience. It brought us closer together in a lot of ways, because we all learned. I just can't wait til she comes back to play."

Jeani Duckett, Mississippi Beta

Harpist Is Crowned Miss University 1971

by JANICE SMITH, Mississippi Beta

Mississippi Beta proudly claims as a sister Jeani Duckett, Miss University 1971. Jeani was crowned at Ole Miss on April 6 after a three day competition with forty-two other girls.

The girls were judged on interviews, evening gown and swimsuit competition and talent, for which Jeani played a harp solo "La Brise de Nuit" by Carlos Sal vedo. Jeanie has been playing the harp for seven years.

Jeani is presently serving as social chairman for her chapter. She has been censor and was the treasurer of her pledge class. On campus Jeani is active in the "Y" and the Young Republicans. She was named Pi Kappa Alpha Calendar Girl.

A junior with an extended major in sociology, Jeani will graduate in May, 1972. After college she hopes to play the harp in a symphony orchestra.

Massachusetts Alpha

The 75th Anniversary Celebration Committee worked hard to make Massachusetts Alpha's birthday a memorable event. From the left: Eileen Brown, Dorothy Warner, Barbara Cameron Murphy, Elaine Greenwood Coffin, Dr. Marion Reid. Not present for the picture was Ronda Gamble, chairman.

Panhellenic guests, Mildred Mareck, Gamma Phi Beta, and Dorothy Shaw, Delta Delta Delta, chat in front of the chapter bulletin board filled to overflowing with congratulatory messages.

Seventy-five years ago on March 8, 1896, ten proud and enthusiastic students at Boston University—Evelyn Howe, Edith Floyd, Lucy Gardiner, Winifred Hill, Adeline Laurence, Olive Gilcrist, Ethel Bancroft, Mercy Hood, Clara Cooke, and Florence Flagg—received their charter as the Massachusetts Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi. Since that day the chapter has had a long record of participation in Panhellenic and university affairs.

Massachusetts Alpha is proud to have had national officers, province and alumnae province presidents from its membership; to have recognized seventy-seven Golden Arrow members; and to have had many loyal alumnae working diligently for The Fraternity and for the active chapter throughout these seventy-five years. In particular we honor Anna Robinson Nickerson, Grand Vice President from 1918-1925, Sarah Pomeroy Rugg, ARROW Editor from 1912-1921, and Ethel Sanford Adams, who has given many devoted years to The Fraternity and this chapter.

The Massachusetts Alpha Association, a special alumnae group, provided the means and impetus for an impressive commemoration of this anniversary, under the chairmanship of Ronda L. Gamble, AAC chairman, assisted by Elaine Greenwood Coffin, Barbara Cameron Murphy, and Dorothy I. Warner. The celebration took place at the Panhellenic House in Boston on Sunday evening, March 2, when our new and gracious Province President, Anne Zantop Cioffi, made her first official visit to Massachusetts Alpha. Alumnae of the chapter returned from several states, with Diana Walsh Brandt from Virginia, traveling the longest distance. Alumnae from local Panhellenic groups and the Panhellenic House Board were guests for the champagne hour, followed by a buffet dinner for guests, Pi Phi alumnae, and Massachusetts Alpha active chapter members. We were honored and pleased that Sarah Pomeroy Rugg and Emily Gorden McWade, both Golden Arrow members, could be with us at this time.

world followed dinner. Panel members were Eileen Brown, moderator; Dorothy Shaw, Delta Delta Delta's Chairman of National Archives and Library Consultant; Reiko Brown, Massachusetts Alpha senior; and Ann Cioffi. The situation of Greeks locally, nationally, and from a Panhellenic point of view were the general areas covered by the speakers. Questions from the audience and a discussion followed. A successful and memorable evening came to a poignant end with the chapter singing "Remember."

The fraternity situation at Boston University has consistently worsened in recent years to the point where only three NPC groups will be active on campus next fall: Pi Beta Phi, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Alpha Epsilon Phi. Since Pi Phi is the only remaining group of the original seven which established the Panhellenic House in 1935, the building will be sold after commencement, and our function probably will be the last to be held at 131 Commonwealth Ave. Dormitory facilities will now be used by the remaining groups.

Congratulatory notes and telegrams received from all parts of the country, national officers, Grand Council, and other chapters were displayed on the bulletin boards. Gifts of flowers, mostly carnations, decorated the house. Contributions toward sending an alternate to Convention were given by alumnæ who could not be present. A special, very meaningful and thoughtful poem was written for the occasion by Evelyn Peters Kyle, Grand Vice President of Alumnæ, who had visited and grown to know the chapter last fall. This was read by incoming chapter president, Sue Crust.

Coincidentally, in our Diamond Anniversary year, the chapter is just the size of our charter chapter—ten wonderfully enthusiastic and loyal members. During this anniversary year, Sue Strecker, our 700th member, was initiated. Sue Crust, who attended Convention in San Antonio, hopes to lead Massachusetts Alpha over the troublesome spots safely toward our centennial year! But our 76th year will be the most crucial ever!

Sarah Pomeroy Rugg, ARROW Editor from 1912-1921, enjoys refreshments beneath the mantelpiece holding the chapter charter surrounded by carnations.

Seven Pi Phis Perform In Show

by ANN HEATHCOTE
Michigan Alpha

SEVEN Pi Phis knee deep in greasepaint? That was the scene at Michigan Alpha, when one of our sisters had the lead, and six others sang in the chorus of "Roar of the Greasepaint—Smell of the Crowd." In addition, two of our pinmates played major roles in the production.

Karen Keckler, Lexy Estes, Jan Fleischman, Dale Rankin, Ginger Woodcock, Nancy Wilfong, and Marcia Watkins were busy girls trying to learn lines. Karen played the female lead and Marcia did the entire choreography.

To make matters more hectic, the play was presented at the same time as our "Courtesy Week" and three of the girls were to be initiated. So mixed emotions, tired eyes and aching legs were the result of that long week. But this never showed in the play. It was a tremendous performance with our sisters making up half of the cast.

Arkansas Selects Outstanding Woman

Janis Mae Hyde Camp, of El Dorado, Arkansas, has been named Arkansas's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year for 1970. Mrs. Camp, a University of Arkansas graduate and a member of Arkansas Alpha, is the wife of State Representative Worth Camp, is the mother of three children and is particularly active in projects dealing with education.

She is membership chairman for the State Parent Teacher Association, has held all offices of her local PTA and served as secretary of the city PTA Council. Mrs. Camp devised the state-wide program allowing high school students to serve as pages for the Arkansas State Legislature during regular and special sessions.

In addition, Mrs. Camp is a member of the Board of Directors for the Camp Fire Girls and the YWCA, is a member of Junior League, and works as a legal secretary.

Apologies are extended to Alice McCann, New York Gamma, who should have been included on the page of pictures of province Amy Burnham Onken winners in the winter issue of The ARROW. Alice was the Beta Province winner, and special congratulations are extended to her for her achievements.

Actives, Alums Work Together

by MARILYN CAMPBELL
Idaho Alpha

THE PI PHIS at Idaho Alpha are having a good year with fun-filled activities with their alums and alum clubs.

During Christmas vacation a Pi Phi luncheon was held at the Hillcrest Country Club in Boise, and all alums and actives of Pi Beta Phi were invited. It was an exciting get-together with both old friends and new ones, and all who attended enjoyed singing as well as visiting.

Earlier last fall, the Idaho Alphas hosted a banana split party for the Moscow Alum Club. We reserved an ice cream parlor for the evening and everyone was invited to make her own banana split. Among all of us, I think I saw every possible combination of ice cream and goodies in a banana split that there is—and then some.

In addition to all of the other nice things our alums have done for us, we received generous money gifts plus new silver candle holders and salt and pepper shakers for our dinner table as Christmas presents. Needless to say, we at Idaho Alpha think our alums are the greatest!

Incomparable Advantage Cited

To those who question the value of fraternities, I would urge that they read Mr. (John) Gardner's chapter on "The Individual and Society" in NO EASY VICTORY. He writes, "Young people can profit immensely from membership in a local community that has proud traditions and standards and esprit. For the education of youth, the face-to-face community has incomparable advantages. What group meets this definition more fully than the college fraternity? Fraternity is a community in the highest sense."

Three Graces

These are the three basic fraternity graces. You are expected to be morally and spiritually motivated; you are expected to be socially alive; and you are expected to maintain a degree of academic responsibility.

Must Satisfy Need

If a fraternity fails to attract and hold college students in the '70s it will be largely because it no longer satisfies the basic need implied in the words brotherhood and sisterhood. No system, regardless of its stated purpose and creeds, is inherently bad. And no system is so perfect that it cannot be improved.

MRS. EMILY WEATHERS,
Dean of Women, Memphis State University
Address to Gamma Phi Beta Convention

Fraternities Prove Valuable Today

Syndicated columnist Russel Kirk, who is also a professor at Michigan State University, has written that college and university administrators across the country are having second thoughts about the fraternity system and its usefulness. Roughly a decade ago many administrators were persuaded that the social fraternity was hopelessly undemocratic, anachronistic and meritless. In some cases, fraternities were banished from the campus or so severely restricted that they could not survive. Kirk, not a fraternity member, says "the fraternities are more valuable today than they were in the 19th century, when many of them were founded. . . . I mean that the typical student body nowadays is far too big, so that most students are lost in a lonely crowd, and many complain that they have been reduced to business machine numbers." In Kirk's judgment the fraternity offers an ideal means of eliminating the anonymity and impersonality of the large university. He sees the fraternity as a "residential club on a humane scale, a little community, a focus of affections." Kirk concludes: "If fraternities adhere to their declared objectives, they can do much to restore the higher learning in this land."

Psychedelirium Tremens

by JANE GOODWELL

Remember when hippie meant big in the hips,
And a trip involved travel in cars, planes and ships?
When pot was a vessel for cooking things in,
And hooked was what Grandmother's rug might have been?
When fix was a verb that meant mend or repair,
And be-in meant simply existing somewhere?
When neat meant well organized, tidy and clean,
And grass was a ground-cover, normally green?
When light and not people were switched on and off,
And the pill might have been what you took for a cough?
When camp meant to quarter outdoors in a tent,
And pop was what the weasel went?
When groovy meant furrowed with channels and hollows,
And birds were winged creatures, like robins and swallows?
When fuzz was a substance that's fluffy like lint,
And bread came from bakeries, not from the mint?
When square meant a 90-degree angled form,
And cool was a temperature not quite warm?
When roll meant a bun, and rock was a stone,

And hang-up was something you did to a phone?
When chicken meant poultry, and bag meant a sack,
And junk, trashy cast-offs and old bric-a-brac?
When jam was preserves that you spread on your bread,
And crazy meant balmy, not right in the head?
When cat was a feline, a kitten grown up,
And tea was a liquid you drank from a cup?
When swinger was someone who swings in a swing,
And pad was a soft sort of cushiony thing?
When way out meant distant and far, far away,
And a man couldn't sue you for calling him gay?
When dig meant to shovel and spade in the dirt,
And put-on was what you would do with a shirt?
When tough described meat too unyielding to chew,
And making a scene was a rude thing to do?
Words once so sensible, sober and serious
Are making the freak scene like Psychedelirious.
It's groovy, man, groovy, but English it's not.
Methinks that the language has gone straight to pot.

Internal Rot Is Biggest Threat

In my opinion the greatest threat to the future of fraternities is the pessimistic attitude of many fraternity leaders. It was distressing to hear the president of the alumni IFC at a Southwestern campus state with conviction that he expected fraternities on his campus to be dead possibly within 10 years and certainly within 15 years. My discomfort was compounded when I learned that several undergraduate fraternity leaders shared this view. They cited changes such as strong student interest in matters other than social activities, improved campus housing and improved off-campus housing which made the fraternity house less attractive in comparison, and criticism from liberal (and sometimes moderate) students and professors as the major reasons for the gradual demise of fraternities on campuses, such as theirs, which have old established fraternity systems.

On the other hand they would assert with vigor the view that it is natural for college students to want to have small group associations. If the desire for small group identification is natural (and I believe it is), then why should the eventual death of fraternities be inevitable?

Fraternities, I suggest, can have a bright future. If they die, it will probably be more the result of internal rot than external pressure and I do not dismiss external pressure lightly.

Respect For Self Must Come First

Prerequisite to a respect for others is respect for oneself. If we thus respect ourselves, we will find the courage to risk unpopularity by taking a stand on matters of ethics and principles. We will be able to resist temptations that may range from spreading unkind rumors to experimenting with LSD. We will speak out against violence and vulgarity, against dishon-

Dissent Or Disagreement?

Professor Daniel J. Boorstin, University of Chicago history professor, says that dissent is not the American Way, even when it is in its most quiescent states.

"Disagreement," says Professor Boorstin "is the American Way." Our country has thrived, he says, upon dialogue and upon the disagreement and debate by some of the participants in decision.

Is Progress Real?

Against this panorama of nations, morals and religious rising and falling, the idea of progress finds itself in dubious shape. Is it only the vain and traditional boast of each "Modern" generation? Since we have admitted no substantial change in man's nature during historic times, all technological advances will have to be written off as merely new means of achieving old ends—the acquisition of goods, the pursuit of one sex by the other (or by the same), the overcoming of competition, the fighting of wars. One of the discouraging discoveries of our disillusion-

In dialogue of debate, decisions are forged and modified; but the machinery of society and government is not obstructed from its operations. And rule of the majority and the right to challenge both remain inviolate.

ing century is that science is neutral: it will kill for us as readily as it will heal, and will destroy for us more readily than it can build. How inadequate now seems the proud motto of Francis Bacon, "Knowledge is power"! Sometimes we feel that the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, which stressed mythology and art rather than science and power, may have been wiser than we, who repeatedly enlarge our instrumentalities without improving our purposes.

Greeks For Peace Movement Begins On Oregon Campus

by IRJA ORAV
Oregon Alpha

THE Greek system at the University of Oregon is changing. Every house on campus realizes that to survive, it has to become active in campus affairs that relate to politics and public welfare. The Greeks here are broadening their horizons to include more than the traditional activities because the university itself is very politically oriented where student interest lies.

Panhellenic and the Inter-Fraternity Council realize the need for more vital activity. That is why they began the Greeks for Peace movement. The main objective of Greeks for Peace is to involve fraternities and sororities in positive, constructive, non-violent anti-war activity.

Two Pi Phis are on the control board of Greeks for Peace. They are Gidge Benson and Ally Nuschy. Gidge explains that there are six Greeks on the control board who take care of all the business. It is the board's job to talk to the various houses to promote interest in the anti-war movement and gather members.

The members of Greeks for Peace want to educate people on Vietnam and American foreign policy in general. These Greeks have visited houses and talked to members, but not only about their own ideas. They are also promoting Young Voters for Peace, an organization whose roots are in Oregon, but is hoping to spread. The idea behind Young Voters is pledging refusal to vote for any candidate who does not publicly advocate removal of all troops from Vietnam. If the movement spreads and the objective of 50,000 letters to politicians is reached, then it is possible that legislation can be changed to end the war.

Greeks for Peace have an advantage in influencing businessmen, alumni and other members of the community because fraternal affiliation puts forth a better impression than violent radicalism.

Pi Beta Phi is reaching outward, as are the other Greeks on this campus, and as a result we are growing and maturing into constructively active, thinking citizens.

Susan Giles, Texas Alpha

Jazz Soloist Sings For Prince & President

Texas Alpha's talented senior, Susan Giles, is both an asset to her chapter and to the University of Texas. Her low, blue-rock, Janis Joplin style of singing spellbinds many. Presently Susan is a member of Varsity Singers, a group of fourteen students that sing and dance at special university functions. She was also a soloist in the Jazz Ensemble and a finalist in the Inter-Musical Festival.

Susan began her singing and guitar playing originally in Rio de Janeiro where she lived for three years. Since then she has sung frequently at hootanannies and coffee houses, and has been featured at the Chequered Flag of Austin and Pattie's in Houston. Some of her most exciting presentations have been before Prince Phillip and Lyndon Johnson at the White House. Texas Alpha has capitalized upon Susan's talent. For every special occasion, Susan's singing is the main entertainment. During rush for the past three years, Susan has organized a singing group. She and the group present popular tunes with lyrics about Pi Phi.

Susan is presently undecided about her future. Although her music is so much a part of her and she would be miserable without it for any length of time, Susan finds certain disadvantages to making music a career. The main disadvantage, she feels is the time factor. One must spend much time alone. This factor would enfranchise upon Susan's desire and ability to interact with people.

Welthy H. Fisher Honored With Humanitarian Award—1970

SHE'S done it again! Whether or not it was the most notable award she has ever received, it was certainly the most glamorous!

On the night of April 30th, in the somewhat unlikely setting of Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, Welthy Honsinger Fisher, New York Alpha, received Variety Clubs International's 1970 Humanitarian Award from the hands of movie star Cary Grant.

She's in good company. Previous winners include Winston Churchill, Helen Keller, Herbert Hoover, George Washington Carver, Dr. Jonas Salk, and Albert Schweitzer.

Approximately 1,000 guests, mostly from the entertainment world, gathered to honor Mrs. Fisher's life's work. It was the latest of many such honors accorded Mrs. Fisher, including the first Nehru Literacy Award, presented by the Indian Adult Education Association in 1968.

Mrs. Fisher is founder of Literacy House in Lucknow, India, and president of World Education, Inc., New York. Literacy House is a non-sectarian institution, established in 1953 as a comprehensive training campus for teachers, writers, and village leaders. It believes that the problems of India demand that literacy be actively related to food production, family planning, and the other pressing needs of the masses in the villages. Puppets, publications, village libraries, and other media are used to make training teachers in functional literacy "come alive." Educators from around the world come to study this special approach.

In May, thousands of young people around the United States walked some 30 miles on International Walk Day, raising funds for projects all over the world combating hunger, overpopulation and illiteracy. Welthy volunteered to walk along with them in one of the cities that has supported Literacy House or some other World Education project. She didn't expect to make quite the whole 30 miles, since she fell and cracked her pelvis in February. However, it will take more than another cracked bone or two to dampen the spirit of Welthy Fisher—even in her 92nd year!

Philanthropy Bug Bites Chapter

by SHERRY POUND, Mississippi Alpha

It's bitten us! Yes, the philanthropy bug has invaded Mississippi Alpha. Everyone has been infected. But, this kind of "bug bite" is fun and worthwhile.

The bug bit us early in the year when we held a Day Care Center for the United Givers Fund. The theme of "Come to the Carnival" made the project a success. Yet the bug continued its bite as we made pumpkins for retarded children at Halloween and Christmas candy for underprivileged children. We then launched into a letter-writing campaign in order to obtain better treatment for POWs. At Easter, under the directions of the bug, we held an Easter Egg Hunt for underprivileged children.

Now, we are eagerly waiting to see what our philanthropy bug will bite us with next. We can truly say, "We've got the Bug!"

Sandra Metcalf

Sandy Metcalf Named Outstanding Woman

by RAE L. C. VODICKA,
South Bay Alumnae Club

South Bay alums are once again basking in the glow of pride generated by its members. Our very own Sandy Metcalf is a 1970 Outstanding Young Woman of America. Sandy has long been active in Pi Phi affairs and she has generously shared her talents with a variety of organizations both here in the South Bay area and in Tucson, her former home.

Sandy is an alumna of Arizona Alpha, where she served the chapter as assistant pledge trainer and secretary, and participated in many campus activities.

The Metcalfs live in Torrance, Calif., where Sandy helped form a branch of AAUW, a group she has served as membership chairman, vice president, and president. She is also a member of the California Association Board of Directors.

She has been treasurer, ways and means chairman, and philanthropy chairman of the South Bay Alumnae Club. She is also a member of the University of Arizona Alumni Association, as well as the Southern California chapter.

When time permits, after seeing to the needs of her accountant husband and their three small children, Sandy indulges her hobbies of reading and cooking.

Wins Award For Community Service

Louisiana Alpha had been selected, for the second time in a row, as winner of the Oneida Community Service Award at Sophie Newcomb. The award was presented in February as part of the Bridal Fair sponsored by the University Center Hospitality Committee and Modern Bride Magazine. Pi Phi's entry as selected as the outstanding service program for 1970 submitted by the coed organizations on the campus.

The chapter was selected for its support of Arrowmont; for contributions to the elderly patients of Taylor House, a division of Southern Baptist Hospital, and the Tulane Catholic Center; and for its support of the Crippled Children's Hospital of New Orleans. Campus activities included participation in benefits for the Times-Picayune Toy and Doll Christmas Fund, underprivileged children and UNICEF.

In recognition of the chapter's activities, Oneida Silversmiths presented a framed Certificate of Merit, a Silver Cube Trophy, the company's symbolic Mark of Excellence, and a complete tea and coffee service, just prior to the Bridal Fashion Show in the Tulane University Center Ballrooms.

Operation Greek Film Features Colorado Beta

by LESLIE BOWLES, Colorado Beta

Colorado Beta recently had the honor to participate in the revised film, "Greeks: An Added Dimension," made by Operation Greek, a national counseling service for the Greek system. A large portion of our chapter starred in the film which will serve as an inspiration to all Greeks for rush programs, Panhellenic rush retreats, Greek Weeks, and generally all Greek programs. The film was made on location at the University of Denver, with the Pi Phi house as one of the settings. Pi Phis played a large role in providing the foundations for this film, and responded to questions dealing with the college experience as enhanced by sorority and fraternity life. We worked closely with Operation Greek to provide activities which clearly represent Greek life.

Jan Serves Well In Chapter, Campus

by JUDI SAYE
Georgia Alpha

JAN BANKHEAD, president of Georgia Alpha for 1970-71, is outstanding in many ways. Since she pledged Pi Phi in September, 1968, Jan has received many honors.

The petite, blue-eyed blonde has acquired many beauty titles. She was chosen Miss January for the 1970 FIJI Calendar; she was one of the four chosen as finalists in the 1970 Athens area Poultry Princess contest. This year, Jan was chosen as a runner-up for Miss University of Georgia, and a Pandora Beauty. But Jan's beauty is more than skin deep.

She has served as Alpha Kappa Psi Sweetheart for two years. She has been active in both intramural basketball and tennis, and a member of the women's tennis team. Jan was chosen as an Army ROTC sponsor, and was one of four girls selected to perform for a television skit during halftime at this year's homecoming football game.

With all of these outside activities, Jan has still found time to be very active within the Georgia Alpha chapter, and in Greek activities at Georgia. Before becoming president, Jan served as a member of Arrowboard (Standards Committee), and this year served as a discussion leader for a Panhellenic sponsored "Operation Greek."

When you look at Jan Bankhead, you not only see an outstanding Pi Phi, you also see living proof that beauty can be more than skin deep.

Election Campaigns Prove Successful

by CANDACE GRAHAM, Texas Gamma

Spring means election-time at Texas Tech University. This spring Texas Gamma had several outstanding girls running for student government positions. Pi Phis campaigned in the rain and snow continuously for their candidates. The girls were all over the campus with handbills to pin on passing students. They were ready to discuss policies and platforms with any interested students to help them make a decision. They encouraged all students to get out and take an active part in their student government.

In the end, all the hard work paid off for the Pi Phis. Barbee Anderson was elected secretary of the Student Association. Ellen McDaniel and Denise Westbrook were elected senators in the College of Arts and Sciences. Once again responsible and competent Pi Phis hold jobs of responsibility on the campus.

Last February four Arkansas Alpha sisters attended initiation at their chapter and presented a large commemorative silver tray, engraved with their names and dates of initiation. Pictured, from the left, are Nancy Scott Smith, 1924, Jean Scott Cracraft, 1916, Ellen Scott Williams, 1913, and Margaret Scott Gerig, 1910. The sisters, all originally from Helena, Ark., took an active part in the initiation where Mrs. Cracraft's granddaughter, Susan Cracraft, and Mrs. Gerig's grandson's pin-mate, Sue Thomas, were initiated. Also attending with the Scott sisters were Mrs. Gerig's daughter, Margaret Gerig Martin, Arkansas Alpha '43, and Mrs. William's daughter-in-law, Gloria Martin Williams, Oklahoma Alpha.

Chapter Has Exciting Year

by JUDY ANDERSON
Indiana Zeta

INDIANA ZETA had several sisters in the lime-light at Ball State University this year. Linda Colescott started off by being the Greek Queen of the campus. Linda represented us for Campus Chest and won second prize in collecting the most money. She also represented Pi Phis for Homecoming Queen.

Mary Lou Cooper is a member of Cardinal Corps this year. Cardinal Corps is an elite organization at Ball State which meets and helps distinguished guests around the Ball State campus. Mary Lou was also the coordinator for the all-school variety show this fall.

The Best Dressed contest was also a success for Indiana Zeta. We had two sisters, Sue Ann Wrenn and Pam Welty, in the finals. Pam was in the Top Ten Best Dressed Coeds on campus.

One of our newest members, Marjie Kornfeld, was just elected Phi Delta Theta Sweetheart. It is an honor for Marjie and for us.

The 1970-71 year has been exciting so far with many more promising moments ahead.

Linda Is Recognized For Excellence

by CINDY CRAWFORD

Missouri Alpha

THE Missouri Alpha chapter feels that Linda Brown well deserves to be recognized for her many contributions to Pi Beta Phi and to the noble womanhood for which it stands. Linda was graduated from the University of Missouri College of Education on June 1, with a B.S. in education and a major in social studies. Because of her classroom performance and her many leadership positions, Linda was selected for membership into KEA (freshman women's honorary), Sigma Rho Sigma (sophomore women's honorary for the top fifty girls in the sophomore class), Fanfare for Fifty (a selection of the top fifty women on campus), and LSV, a highly selective senior women's honorary. She was chosen for this in her junior year and it was publicly announced in the spring of her senior year. This secret women's society recognizes the top eight women in the class, and is based on leadership qualities, scholarships, and, most importantly, service to the university. She was also named in the 1970-71 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Since pledgeship, Linda has been a devoted Pi Phi. As ARROW and Pi Phi Times reporter for three years, Linda put Missouri Alpha in the news. While holding that office, she also served as junior class representative to the executive board, junior representative on the rush selection board, and the senior representative on the rush committee of 1970. When Missouri Alpha re-organized rush procedures in 1969 and 1970, Linda was valuable in keeping all of us organized and on our toes. She always had time to assist the other officers and members in their duties. She also served as corresponding secretary in her senior year. Besides her official offices, Linda has participated in our volunteer work in the University Medical Center Pediatrics Ward.

As a freshman, she was selected for a Leadership Orientation class and was a member of Student Activities Quiz Bowl Committee, Campus Crusades for Christ, and Young Republicans.

Her sophomore year found Linda as secretary of the Quiz Bowl Committee, in Student Activities Council, and layout coordinator of the SAVITAR, official publication of the University of Missouri. She then moved up to Assistant Editor of the SAVITAR that spring.

Linda spent a busy junior year as chairman of Student Activities Quiz Bowl Committee, member of the Student Activities Council, one of the Top Ten Coeds on campus in the annual Glamour magazine's Best Dressed contest, and a model in several AWS fashion shows. She was nominated for the Maid of Cotton in the annual contest held in Memphis, Tenn. In January of her junior year Linda was selected by the University Board of Publications and appointed by the Board of Curators as the 1971 editor-in-chief of the SAVITAR. She published a spring and summer supplement to the 1970 book and put together a 608 page SAVITAR, the largest in the history of the University. As the first editor not a student in the school of journalism, and one of the very few girls to hold the position, Linda functioned efficiently as head of a 90-plus member organization made up of nearly all males and comprised of all journalism students. Linda, however, did not spend her entire

Karen Is Active On Three Fronts

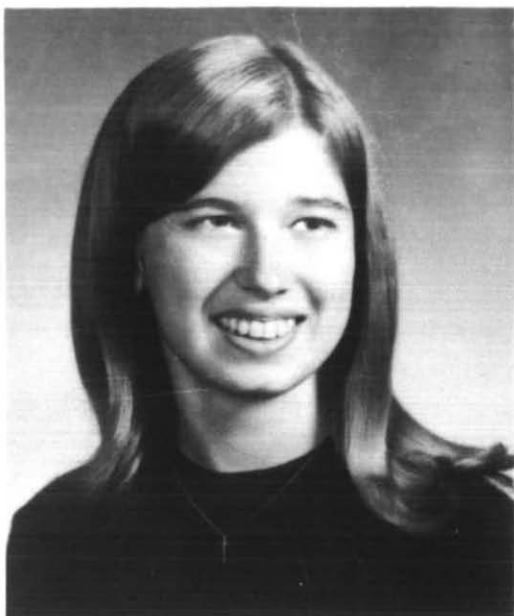

by JEANIE SCHNOBLY
West Virginia Alpha

It may be said of some students that it is difficult to manage a home, attend school, and take part in campus activities, all at the same time. This is not the case for Karen Whitfield Kinney of Pittsburgh, Pa. Karen finds time to be a full time WVU student, sorority member, and wife. In addition to this, she takes leadership roles in other campus activities.

Karen is presently carrying 21 hours and is very active in our chapter here at WVU. She has held the office of philanthropy chairman and is presently on the scholarship committee.

Her other activities include Chimes, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Air Force Wives and Sweetheart Club. In the past she was editor of the AWS Freshman Orientation Booklet.

Karen achieved a 4.0 average last semester and has an over-all average of 3.7 in her field of Child Development. Karen's interests also in-

Karen will finish school in 3 years and will graduate this summer. Nick, her husband, is also graduating this summer with a Masters in Business Administration and Economics.

Phi Beta Kappa Is Chartered At Purdue

Indiana Delta hosted a luncheon on February 23, 1971, at the chartering of Purdue University's Phi Beta Kappa chapter. Three Purdue faculty members received honorary membership in the new organization on campus. One of the Purdue alumni up for an honorary membership is Patricia Graham, an associate professor of history of education at Columbia University. She was graduated from Purdue with highest distinction in 1955, and received her master's degree in history in 1958.

Patricia Graham was an especially honored guest at the Pi Phi luncheon, since she was a Pi Beta Phi herself while at Purdue. The chapter also had the distinction of having the most members initiated into Phi Beta Kappa. Three collegiate Pi Phis were accepted into membership: Sheryl Brenner, Bettina Marshall, and Lee Stone.

I. U. Sing Holds Exciting Moments

by ROBIN COLBY, Indiana Beta

One of the most exciting events held on the Indiana University campus is the annual I.U. Sing. Starting practice in January, the members of Indiana Beta and the men of Theta Xi prepared their performance of "If the People Only Knew." It was performed before a panel of judges and several hundred people.

The entry was in the production category since it included choreography as well as singing. Winners in this group were judged on choreography, creativity, appearance, and musicianship. The girls were dressed in white jump-suits with full black sleeves, while the boys wore black jump-suits with white full sleeves. Climax of the production came when various members of the group spelled the words, "People Please Peace."

Highlight of the evening came when the entry was announced as third place winner.

Edited by MARIANTHA JAMES WILLIAMS
Board of Governors

Midge Gleeson, left, a student from Knoxville, Tenn., chats with Linda Buerge, a graduate assistant from Palos Verdes Peninsula, Calif., during the summer session, 1970. They are seated in the Evelyn Bishop Lounge, located between the weaving and ceramic studios, where craftwork by students and instructors is always on display.

Teacher Enjoys Being Taught

Last August Sister Elizabeth Kopp, S.C., began work as full-time Coordinator for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati School System. In that capacity she serves the elementary school teachers who need much help in art teaching, and encourages a good program of art in the secondary schools, most of which do have art programs.

Sister Elizabeth attended the 1970 summer session at Arrowmont. She has over 30 years experience in teaching arts and crafts on the high school and college levels.

"The tremendous craftsmanship," said Sister Elizabeth, "which is evident in every part of Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts has served to inspire me to reach for the very ultimate in any art endeavor which I make. The love for the arts breathes in every part of the school and in all the faculty and students. I shall try to carry a spark of this enthusiasm into my work with our teachers."

With a M.A. in art from the University of Notre Dame, she was well qualified to serve nine years as vice president and president of the Detroit Archdiocese Art Teachers Association, and four years as voluntary art consultant from Detroit Catholic Schools.

Sister Elizabeth Kopp, S.C., poses on one of the ramps in the beautiful and functional classroom building.

"As a beginning student in weaving," she says, "I have become more aware of the trials and the joys of a student first learning a craft. This is good. For a long while now I have been on the teaching end. Arrowmont has offered the opportunity for me to be a student again.

"Among the student body there were many excellent teachers who enjoyed a time to be taught. Mingling with those fine teachers was a most inspiring and educative experience.

"My own teaching should improve and I should have more to offer the teachers in our school system after having spent this time at Arrowmont."

Arch Gregory, his mother, Mrs. Tom Gregory, center, and Mrs. Arch Gregory, all enjoyed a textile design class together last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Arch Gregory are teachers in Long Island, and Mrs. Tom Gregory teaches crafts to adults in Chattanooga, Tenn. Many relatives and friends come from different parts of the country to be together while taking courses at Arrowmont.

Mrs. Thora L. Gatwood, recreational director of Groveport, Ohio, was scholarship recipient of the Columbus, Ohio, Alumnae Club last summer. A few months ago she was selected Outstanding Leathercrafter of Ohio for 1970, earning over three times as many points as her nearest competitor. Recently she was put in charge of the craft program for all six senior citizens' centers of Columbus. She will attend Arrowmont again this summer, receiving another scholarship from the Columbus club.

Art Major Works With Juvenile Court

Joseph B. Martin, Arrowmont scholarship recipient last summer from the St. Louis Junior Alumnae Club, was responsible for setting up the arts and crafts program for the St. Louis County Juvenile Court about three years ago. He works with children from 9 to 16 years of age, with never more than seven to a class. The aim of the program is to give these children a freedom of expression through their creativity in individual projects. The freedom of expression is something they have never had before. Since the classes are held twice a day, afternoon and evening, the teacher almost becomes a psychiatrist. He finds that hostility in the children often prevents true accomplishments.

An art major at Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo., Mr. Martin had had experience in many areas. However, learning macrame and cloisonne at Arrowmont were particularly interesting to him.

In writing of his Arrowmont stay, Mr. Martin says, "Experience is skill or knowledge gained by actually doing, feeling or finding out a thing. Two weeks at Arrowmont meant all of these to me. Up until the day that I arrived, I had long forgotten just what it meant to experience total expression. My job as Art and Crafts instructor is interesting and challenging work. But Arrowmont gave me a chance to express myself fully, and to work with others doing the same.

"The physical plant and beautiful grounds were truly inspirational. The knowledge gained in the varied arts and crafts seemed to stimulate everyone to produce, not only because it was expected, but because it became a part of you to grasp all that was within reach.

"It was an experience to work with all ages, and not recognize the age—only recognizing different people willing to share something beautiful.

"My job allows me to express myself, but my expression sometimes limits the student. Experience at Arrowmont reminded me that all who are involved with arts and crafts must be allowed to express themselves—teacher and student alike. This expression that Arrowmont allows is an experience that has given me new perspective in the arts and crafts."

Miss Helen Potter, in front of the new Emma Harper Turner Classroom Building of Arrowmont, holds a frame for her silk screen print. After spending twelve years in the summer workshops at Gatlinburg, she was thrilled with the beautiful new facilities.

Special Breaks Will Stimulate Study!

by CINDY CRAWFORD
Missouri Alpha

ARE YOU still burning the midnight oil when the moon goes down and the sun comes up? What you need are more stimulating study breaks and a more concentrated effort toward the books when you do study. The Pi Phis at the University of Missouri have found the key to manipulating time so that in between diligent study hours, breaks are action-packed. The idea first came to us one Tuesday night when half the house was in the basement studying, and a solitary bat began dive-bombing at each girl. A campus policeman quickly quelled the bat's activities with a can of mace.

The Wednesday night following, there wasn't much of a fire at 511 East Rollins, but the scenery must have been delightful to many a passerby. The Columbia firemen received a call from the Pi Phi house about 11:00 P.M. when an overheated motor in the furnace caused some smoke in the basement. Meanwhile, nightie-clad Pi Phis had fled the house to relate bits of news to other sisters of a unique "house-warming."

These study breaks, in combination with our conscientious study program, found the Pi Phis ranking in top position for the all-sorority average last semester.

24 On Dean's List

Nurses Select Student of Year

by JULIE KUIPER, Wyoming Alpha

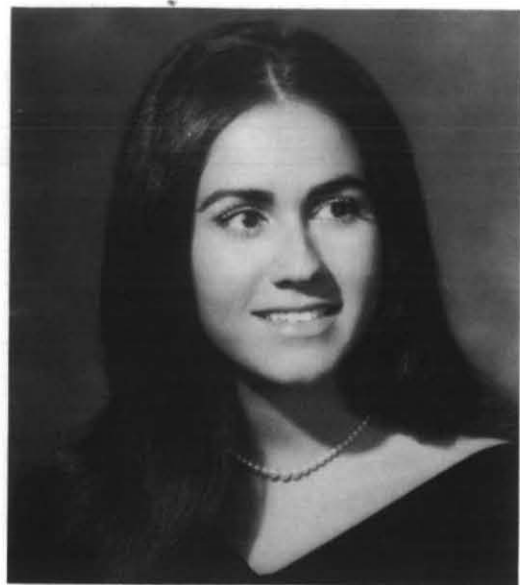

THE girls of Wyoming Alpha are all individuals with varied interests. We consider our chapter outstanding in many fields. This was once again shown when a Pi Phi nursing major received a high honor.

Jeannie Stachon was named Student Nurse of the Year for the state. She received the honor for her work in the clinical field at the University of Wyoming. The title is open to junior and senior nursing students throughout the state. Jeannie was nominated by faculty members, and was then voted upon by her fellow nursing students. A panel at the State Nursing Convention made the final decision. She is a dedicated student and is quite deserving of this honor.

Jeannie has a very busy schedule and also manages to maintain a high grade-point average. She holds the office of recording secretary for the house; is a member of WyoGals, a campus service organization; and finds time for such honoraries as Chimes, Iron Skull, and Sigma Theta Tau.

This is not the first time Jeannie has been acknowledged for her outstanding ability. During the past year, she served as State Nursing secretary. Also, she is one of two nominees for national recording secretary for nursing.

Through achievements such as this, we at Wyoming Alpha are constantly reminded of our sisters' abilities and the success they bring to our chapter.

The reigning queen of the El Paso Sun Carnival is Margaret Mayfield, Arizona Alpha, right. She was chosen queen, by out-of-town judges, from among 17 Duchesses who took part in the Sun Carnival activities for 1970-71. Each Duchess was named by a representative women's group in the city. Margi was elected to represent the Junior League of El Paso. She is the daughter of Kansas Alpha Patty Tuller Mayfield Janzen and the late Thomas M. Mayfield, Jr.

Another member of Arizona Alpha, Pam Azar, above, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Azar, was also a Duchess in the Court this year. She represented the El Paso Panhellenic Association.

Note In Teapot Tells History

It's not often that teapots prove to have any special interest other than being attractive bric-a-brac or having a strictly utilitarian purpose. But such is not the case with the little teapot that has been sitting in the break-front in the Texas Alpha house for the past 20 years, virtually unnoticed. Now, however, the little teapot has come into its own, and occupies a place of honor, in the house and in the hearts of Texas Alpha Pi Phis.

Last February, Grand President Sarahjane Vanasse enjoyed lunch with Texas Alpha. An additional chapter guest was Dorothy Jones Birdwell, former director of alumnae advisory committees. The little teapot attracted the attention of the ladies, and when no one seemed to know anything about it, curiosity determined that it should be checked. From that moment on, the little brown, color-banded teapot became a priceless piece of antiquity.

Inside was a faded, almost illegible note in script which read:

"This teapot and two pedles—with the 'Thousand Heart' Japaneese design was used by Carrie Chapman Catt Pi Beta Phi for many years. At her death in 1947 they were given to me by Alda H. Wilson, Mrs. Catt's loyal friend our companion and executor. I am in turn presenting them to Texas Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi of which I have been a member since 1903.

Texas Alpha is very grateful for this most curious and interesting bit of history.

Unusual Activities Occupy Julie's Time

by BETTY YANN, Alabama Beta

Julie Smeds, a sophomore at the University of Alabama, has proved to be an outstanding asset to the university and to the Pi Phis. Julie began her activities in Pi Phi last year as president of her pledge class. This year she holds the offices of assistant activities chairman and program chairman. Next year she will serve the Pi Phis and all sororities as Panhellenic president.

Sorority life, however, doesn't occupy all Julie's time. She manages to lead an active campus life as well. Presently Julie, an American studies major, is a student government legislator and a member of the Arts and Sciences Honors Program. Maintaining a B average, Julie plans to attend Law School when she graduates. In addition to brains and ambition, she was selected as one of the top three in the 1970 Homecoming Court.

A Taylor Medal goes to Beth Wiliston, senior at Mississippi Beta. The award, given annually since 1904, recognizes Beth for meritorious scholarship and deportment in her chosen field of history, combined with superior work in her other subjects. Beth returned to Ole Miss last fall after spending a year in Aix-en-Provence, France. While there she studied at the Institute for American Universities.

Arrow Brothers Recognized At Derby Dance

by BECKY KRUEGER
Montana Alpha

EACH year at Montana State University the Montana Alpha Pi Phis choose one member from each fraternity and one independent to act as their Brothers of the Arrow for that year. The chapter recognizes the Brothers at the annual campus-wide Derby Dance. The proceeds of this dance go to Arrowmont. This year, the well-known band, Sugarloaf, performed for the concert-dance, and because of its success, the chapter is proud to send almost double the amount to Arrowmont as the previous year.

The Brothers play a very important part of Pi Phi life at MSU. They come to the house every Thursday evening for family style or dress dinner. Afterwards, they have a short meeting, and then get together with the sisters for TV, card games, or just a good talk.

Soon after selection, each Brother must present a skit to the rest of the chapter in the annual talent show. Besides these activities, the Brothers get together with the sisters throughout the year for many informal activities such as tubing parties, occasional sneaks, or the Christmas Party, where one of the Brothers acts as Santa Claus.

Montana Alpha Pi Phis are very lucky to have such great Brothers of the Arrow. They not only provide some very good times and warm friendships, but they also help the girls become better acquainted with all of the fraternities and many independents.

Chi Omegas Are Surprised

This year, Arkansas Alpha sponsored the Pi Phi-Chi Omega wake-up. All the Pi Phis went to the Chi Omega house at 7:00 A.M., woke them up, then brought them to the Pi Phi house for breakfast. They were very surprised, and everyone had a good time.

Ride 'Em, Pi Phi!

by JULIE KIUPER, Wyoming Alpha

Wyoming Alpha was well-represented in the annual collegiate rodeo held in Laramie in March. Joan Sibbitt, a freshman Pi Phi at the University of Wyoming, was chosen to reign as Princess over the Laramie River Rendezvous. She also competed in the barrel-racing event.

Joan, a Nebraska ranch girl, is an accomplished horsewoman. She has been competing in rodeos for the past six years and also does all types of ranch tasks.

When Joan isn't acting as a cowgirl, she finds time to participate in such organizations as Campus Crusades.

Joan is only one example of Wyoming Alpha's all-around girls who make Pi Beta Phi the great sorority it is.

Rush Movie Stars Beauteous Pi Phis

Place—University of Maine campus and the coast—Bar Harbor

Time—September and October, 1970

Cast—The Pi Phi sisters

The leaves are starting to change color; the weather is cool and crisp; a girl who looks familiar waits patiently—thumbing—by the side of the road. Finally, after being passed by a couple of times, a convertible stops and with an over-dramatized gesture of the arm, our heroine beckons to a dozen other friends who have been hiding in the woods beside the road. These girls look familiar, too. They are. They're Pi Phi. With much confusion and excitement, all the

Scout Troop Proves Of Mutual Benefit

For the past year and a half, California Gamma has been sponsoring a Girl Scout troop, composed of underprivileged children from a neighborhood school. This year's excursions have included a long hike, a trip to the tide pools at the beach, sightseeing at many museums, and a visit to the fire department. The meetings have been great fun ranging from painting the rocks found at the beach to a talk on good grooming habits. The troop is a rewarding experience all the way around—for both the girls of California Gamma and the Girl Scouts.

Housemother Surprised

by BECKY JANE WELLS, Arkansas Alpha

Arkansas Alpha of Pi Beta Phi honored our housemother, Mrs. Percy Renfro, with a special week just for her. The week opened with a surprise dinner for Mother Ren at the Holiday Inn. In the days that followed, we had a candlelight serenade for her, breakfast in bed each morning, cooky-shine at date call, entertained her family at dinner, and brought her a Christmas tree with gifts.

Through this special week we hope we impressed upon Mother Ren a little of how much she means to us.

girls manage to fit into the car. Everyone in, some girls piled on top of each other, our car takes off down the road, barely escaping a collision with a red Opel GT.

This is the beginning of a movie that we filmed for rush. Under the guidance of our chief producer, Geri Gay, we cast, directed, and filmed the movie that will never be forgotten. The main stars, as you have already guessed, were the Pi Phi.

With background music especially chosen to depict the mood of the film, the rushees saw us in action at the coast—Bar Harbor. We climbed the rocky cliffs that are so characteristic of the coastline of Maine; ran, hopped, and skipped through fields of tall grass and sea oats; threw Friz-bees on a deserted beach; and by lying down in the sand, formed a peace sign to show our rushees that Pi Phi is love, peace, understanding, happiness, and friendship.

The backdrops were effective—nature itself—the tides crashing against the rocks, the pine trees and natural stone steps leading to the deserted beach, a lone sea gull, the color of autumn itself, the changing mood of the sky as the afternoon lengthened. Nature itself depicted the beauty of life in Pi Phi.

Named State Miss Wool

by KAREN HORST, Kansas Beta

She gets a $150 wardrobe and a week in Texas while competing for a national title. Angie Otto, Kansas Beta, was crowned Miss Wool of Kansas in her hometown of Salina the last weekend of January. Angie, a junior in Modern Languages, decided on her own to compete for the title. So she went to Salina for the weekend and Saturday night we received a phone call. It was Angie telling us she had won. Having won on the state level, she moved to the national pageant in Texas for an entire week starting June 18. At the time of this writing Kansas Beta Pi Phi were crossing collective fingers—hoping there would be another excited phone call from Angie.

Chapter Aids Morale At Kennedy Center

by JEANIE SCHNOBLY
West Virginia Alpha

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA recently participated in an unusual community activity.

Our chapter was invited by the staff of the Kennedy Youth Center to visit with the young men who reside there. The Kennedy Youth Center is a federally operated correctional institution for young men. We visited with men who were about to be discharged and those who had recently arrived.

Upon arriving at KYC we observed that the facilities were very beautiful and modern structures. It was comparable to college campus with its dormitories, library, gymnasium, and other buildings.

We were taken to the recreation room by a guide where we visited the guys. There we danced, played cards, and pool, and just sat around and talked. The chaperones provided everyone with soft drinks and snacks.

Some of the boys seemed a little reluctant at first to be sociable, but by the end of the evening everyone seemed to be having a good time. One young man remarked that it had been their most enjoyable evening at KYC.

As we left the Kennedy Youth Center we realized that all the modern facilities could not make up for the loneliness for human companionship within the restricted atmosphere.

We left with a good feeling that perhaps we had helped these boys in some small way and we hope to visit again soon.

Singing Moccasins Tour

by MARIANNE TINKER, Tennessee Alpha

Performances at military bases, churches, and schools highlight a nine-week tour of Europe for three Tennessee Alpha Pi Phis who are part of a 15-student group representing the UTC Singing Moccasins.

The Moccasins were chosen as one of 14 groups from among 300 who applied nationally to go on the tour sponsored by the USO, the Department of Defense, and the National Music Association.

Jean Fox, Illinois Eta

Cheerleader Boosts Spirits As President

by BILINDA LOVE, Illinois Eta

Jean Fox, from Joliet, Ill., assumed the office of Illinois Eta chapter president in February, 1971. Always having been active in the house, she has served as recording secretary for her pledge class, freshman on executive council, and chapter vice president.

Not only busy at the Pi Phi house, Jean always manages to participate in campus activities at Millikin University. She has held such positions as WAA secretary-treasurer and Homecoming publicity distribution chairman. She's also worked on the Student Affairs Committee and the sub-committee for the student code of conduct. Along with all of these, Jean manages to keep high the spirits of Millikin's "Big Blue" by cheerleading. It's no wonder that she was elected to Pi Delta Upsilon women's honorary in her freshman year!

Next fall will see Jean entering her senior year, furthering her studies in psychology.

are actives Frances Patterson and Debbie Collins, chapter president. Susan Martin, an alum who was graduated last year, is also taking the tour.

Chapter Members Study Overseas

by BROOKIE FULTON, Colorado Beta

This year, several girls from Colorado Beta at the University of Denver have been studying in Europe and the Far East. Jenny Miller, a sophomore from Maywood, Ill., left at the beginning of February on a study-tour known as "World Campus Afloat." Five hundred students participate in this college program of international education, administered by Chapman College in Orange, Calif. The students travel to distant parts of the world while studying academic subjects on the shipboard campus. Jenny traveled for twelve weeks aboard the S.S. Rydam and visited such countries as Japan, Taiwan, Malaysia, India, South Africa, Morocco and Tanzania. We received many postcards from Jenny, and her travels were quite a success. She is hoping to find a way to help the people of the world and through her foreign studies and experiences she feels that she may find an answer. When she returns to the University of Denver next fall, we hope she will share her valuable experiences with the chapter.

Three other girls have also spent their junior year studying at European universities. Chris Berizzi has been in Italy studying, and Linda Murphy spent her year in Spain, at the University of Madrid. Mimi Nettrour was in Aix en Provence in France. Barbra Bartusch has spent a quarter in Greece. The Pi Phis are looking forward to sharing these girls' college experiences.

Soule Home Is Retreat Site

Washington Gamma's first spring retreat was a break from the rain as well as from school. We were fortunate in having it at the lovely home of Cleon Soule, the son of Inez Smith Soule, one of the 12 founders of Pi Beta Phi. This made it very meaningful for all of us. The house is twenty minutes from the campus on Horsehead Bay, where they have a lovely view of the peninsula. We had a great time singing on the beach, playing rhythm instruments and eating. It was an excellent time and place for us all to be together.

Fly Kites For Unity

To promote Greek unity and sorority relations, the Alabama Betas joined the Kappas and Thetas for the annual Kite Fly this year. It was a gorgeous March day and everyone showed up at the school quadrangle with dates. The Thetas flew their kites, which were strung with Kappa keys, while the Pi Phis tried to shoot the kites down with bows and arrows.

That evening the chapter joined the other two groups for a band party at the Armory. The activities proved to be especially good for relations with the other sororities on the campus.

Pledges Have Project

The new pledge class of Pennsylvania Beta has successfully completed a three-part project. The main event was a sale of handmade macramé and crocheted belts and chokers and handmade ties.

The other two parts were for the purpose of raising money for supplies. The pledges conducted a car wash on campus for the students, faculty, and any other interested car owners. Another money-raising activity was waiting on tables and washing windows for fraternity houses.

Linda Is Recognized

senior year in the SAVITAR office, but was elected semi-finalist in the 1970 Homecoming Queen contest. Linda feels that committees and positions such as she held are the key to a better university environment for academic endeavors as well as extra-curricular activities and interests. As well as her student teaching, Linda took time to represent the university at alumnae functions and publications conventions in Miami and Minneapolis. She is also a member of the Individual Party and is involved in campus politics, serving as public relations advisor.

Linda represents a young, dynamic individual who strives to maintain her own high standards as well as those of Pi Beta Phi. Judging from her many job offers in the publishing industry, in industrial public relations, and teaching, one would have to say that Linda is a diversified young lady.

Pink Angel Party Is Inspiration

by CAROL WOODWARD
Arizona Beta

THE Pi Phis at Arizona Beta have a tradition of having a Pink Angel Party during inspirational week. At this party each new initiate gives something to the chapter which typifies her personality or that of someone to whom she is especially close. This year one of the initiates, Merrilee Bornzin, presented a poem expressing her feelings as a new initiate. The poem had an emotional impact on those who heard it, for all could identify closely with the feelings and thoughts of the soon-to-be actives.

Much more than just a simple commitment
We want to become a part of you.
Not just a reference in your meeting's conversation
Or mischievous opposition undergoing certain expected stages.

As an anxious child reproached by his hovering parents . . .

I don't think we can hold back much longer—we all care for you.

We want to see this new door open.

We want to offer and share—like you.

Will you hold us now for what we are, trust us, and help us smooth out our wrinkles constructively, yet gently?

. . . We'll help you.

And from this deep exchange between us
There will be no need of dependence upon the past.
Only hope and concern in the construction of the future.
To use this love, trust, compassion, and concern,
As fools to become more aware of life,
Ourselves, and our fellow man,
And not just a commitment to our sorority . . .

Big Sisters Feted

by DEBBIE MIRE, Ohio Zeta

Ohio Zeta pledges "wined and dined" their Big Sisters with an Italian dinner, complete with spaghetti, which they made, and topped by candlelight and Italian music. Each Big Sis was given a bib decorated by her Little Sis, and also a special utensil that she had to eat her meal with. What a funny sight to see the Pi Phis trying to eat spaghetti with cookie cutters, juice strainers, spatulas, and others. It was a delightful dinner and the credit all goes to the freshman "cooks" of Pi Beta Phi.

Cheryl Buchanan, Tennessee Delta, is the newly elected president of the Associated Women Students on the Memphis State campus. Her other campus activities include serving as Student Government Senator, chairman of education in Student Government, and on the President's Standards Board. She is also a member of Town Council and the Yearbook Staff.

H. E. R. Week Is Panhellenic Idea

by KAY McLAIN, Virginia Delta

Virginia Delta Pi Phi began March with a new wrinkle in celebrations. H.E.R. Week, a new thought on the part of our creative Panhellenic, was launched for the week of March 15 through March 20th. The week featured inter-sorority and fraternity contacts and definitely fulfilled its name—His Economic Recovery Week. The girls of Panhellenic sold tickets to support a great Audrey Hepburn movie, a frolicking Happy Hour, and a successful dance in the Student Center. Dinners were served to Old Dominion's fraternities at their houses.

The Pi Phi sisters agree by the end of the week that many new fraternity and sorority friendships had been built; many old ones had been strengthened, and many guys at Old Dominion had recovered economically!

Freshman Is Queen

Julie Christopher, an Indiana Delta pledge, was recently elected Junior Panhellenic-JIFC Queen. Defeating a field of fifteen girls, Julie was crowned at an all-campus dance where voting was by popular ballot. Tickets were sold by sorority pledge classes and at the door.

How To Get a Job

by

DOROTHY THOMPSON CHAMBERS

Take Inventory of Yourself

So, now it's time to get a job, begin a career, or just make a little extra money! Whatever the motivation, there are some fundamental choices and decisions involved. No matter your age or where you are in your college career, you have had some testing which attempted to determine the life work for which you are best suited. But sometimes your innate ability and your developed interest are not one and the same.

Thus, it's wise to take a personal inventory before setting out on a job hunt. This means taking stock of your basic interests, the things you enjoy doing, the situations which are most pleasant. Do you particularly like to be around children or elderly persons? Or perhaps the age group is unimportant so long as people are involved. Do you like working with a group, or would you rather help with planning where fewer people are included? Or, do you find you are happiest completely by yourself—reading, studying or walking?

Some work and career situations are geared for persons liking to work secluded or in limited number groups. But most livelihoods today are earned in contact with all age groups representing all levels of a complex and heterogeneous civilization. For work in "people" situations a first step is for you to evaluate your own potential of compatibility as honestly and objectively as possible. (If you'd like help with this, you can take the test provided on page 37.—Editor.)

Before the Job Interview

There are four major public sources for job information. 1. College and university placement bureaus, 2. Private employment agencies (which may charge a fee or percentage of the first month's salary), 3. State employment agencies which offer free service, plus testing and counseling in many states, 4. Newspaper advertisements.

When you find a job which you feel you would like to investigate further, an appointment may be set up for you through a placement group, or it may be up to you to arrange your own interview. In either case, it is to your advantage to compile some information on yourself before the appointment, and, in the case of a company some distance away, to submit a personal dossier by mail.

Your compilation, neatly typed, should include the following information: legal name; permanent address; name of parents; whether parents are living or deceased and if there is a guardian; educational background with names of all schools and years attended; extracurricular activities or honors received in school; any practical experience, whether compensated by money or not, and including summer jobs or part time jobs on campus; complete names and addresses of any past employers and the dates of employment; and complete names and addresses of four or five character witnesses or references. The complete title and position of these persons should be given. They should be responsible persons, well thought of, who can vouch for your reputation. Be sure that you never use a person's name for a personal reference without first asking his or her permission.

Now, do some investigating on your own. Find out something about the firm, or employer, with whom you have made the appointment. Talk to people who work or have worked for the company. Invariably, in every interview the applicant will be asked, "Why do you want to work with us?" An answer which tells the in-interviewer you cared enough to investigate will indicate your sincere interest. Be certain to let the interviewer know if any relatives of yours have ever, or presently work with that employer.

The Actual Interview

The first contact you have with the future employer or his representative should begin as pleasantly as possible. To create the proper business atmosphere be on time! If something beyond your control prevents being punctual or keeping the appointment, contact the interviewer as soon as possible.

The first impression is most important. Dress neatly and appropriately. Be attractive but not an attraction! Some girls have the mistaken belief that the "bizarre" attracts attention and singles them out of the crowd as individualists. Some girls also think that the low neckline, the short tight skirt and the provocative dress will land the job. In both cases, experienced employers and interviewers know that this type of girl causes contention, disrupts work and creates situations which do not improve personal relationships or work output.

Do wear business attire, a tailored dress or suit, appropriate shoes and runless hose. Carry a reasonably sized purse. Keep make-up to a minimum. Few girls wear hats these days but be sure your hair is clean and neatly done as a part of your over-all appearance.

You probably will be asked to fill out a form application by a receptionist before the actual interview. Fill in all of the blanks as accurately and neatly as possible with a pen. The manner in which this application is completed is taken into consideration when a job decision is made.

Now for the interview! Introduce yourself by your complete name. Nicknames may sound more familiar, but "Babs," "Tootsie" or "Mitsy" hardly are business-like in the work-world. Be seated only when you are asked to be seated. Answer questions fully, offering information. Don't make the interviewer pull the information out of you. Coyness is not an attribute, but neither is loquaciousness. Stay on the beam of the conversation without side discussions which add nothing to the purpose and sometimes distract.

If you smoke, do not do so until asked. It would definitely be better not to smoke for practical reasons. Concern over where to put ashes and leaning across a desk for an ashtray do not add up to personal composure.

Sometimes interviewers arrange to be, or by chance are, called out of the room. Remember to remain seated or if reading material is available, read it, but do not wander around, leave the room or examine the contents of the interviewer's desk.

Perhaps you think a person should ask about "fringe" benefits such as overtime, vacations, coffee breaks and insurance benefits. This is important, but not during the first interview. Your interest during the interview should be on what skills, knowledge and training you have to offer in return for monetary compensation commensurate with your offering. If an employer has something "extra" to offer he usually tells you with great pride without having to be asked.

Don't let the interview drag. The interviewer may be waiting for you to terminate it to evaluate your business acumen. Either a decision will be made or he will contact you later. If the latter is the case, thank your interviewer for his time and tell him you will be looking forward to hearing from him. Leave with a pleasant, "I'm so glad to have met you" or just "Thank you."

Remember each interview gives you additional experience in how to conduct yourself to your best advantage. So don't be disappointed if you do not get that first job applied for. Your interviewer is much more experienced than you and knows what he needs and who would be most efficient and compatible in his job. So bow to his better judgment and look for other openings and opportunities.

You will do well to evaluate privately each of the jobs you apply for in the following terms:

Immediate Concerns: Is the job suitable for your talents, ability, experience and interest? . . . What about transportation and proximity to your living facilities? . . . What is the cost of living in the surrounding area? . . . What is the actual salary plus any other compensations or expense allowance (in some hospitals, schools and businesses "food at cost" cafeterias are maintained for personnel)? . . . Are work surroundings pleasant? . . . What type of clothing is needed and will there be extra cost involved? . . . Is a car necessary for the work? . . . Does the firm or concern provide low-cost participating insurance for both health and retirement? . . .

Is there provision for compensation during short term illnesses?

Long Range Concerns: Does the position offer a chance for advancement? . . . Does it provide training or needed experience? . . . Will you be able to use outstanding or experimental equipment? . . . Does it offer opportunities in different areas of the career or profession? . . . Does it provide adequate opportunity for leisure time, including vacation? . . . Does it offer stimulating co-workers with whom you share a common interest? . . . Does the position provide some social opportunities? . . . In the geographical area are there available cultural activities or special sports? . . . Would the work give you a feeling of accomplishment and of making a worthwhile contribution to society?

All during this time you can also practice interviewing. Practice on your friends, or, if you are in a chapter house, arrange demonstrations. Ask representatives from the school placement bureau to come to an open meeting and give a program on job interviewing. Perhaps a professional model could give you tips on grooming and conduct. There are many experts within your reach willing to share their knowledge and experience just for the asking. But best of all, those of you currently on campus should begin as soon as possible to make the positive attributes a part of your everyday living. You will see that the social training and experience of group living and cooperation in a sorority have enhanced your value as a cooperative and courteous employee. Graciousness is needed in all human relationships whether during a faculty tea, or a 5th grade parents' meeting, a fraternity exchange, or a high-level meeting of your employer's district managers, a planning session for homecoming decorations or a conference report of a research project. Never forget that your actions and reactions toward people are in direct relationship to your degree of success as a well-adjusted human being.

Making Temporary Permanent

Well, now you have a job! Making real MONEY! How do you prove your value since you've been given this opportunity? There are two extremes to avoid. First, don't stand back, afraid of making a mistake, and do nothing until told to do something. There is nothing to be gained from asking questions—but KNOWL-EDGE. Secondly, don't attempt to revise and streamline systems as an expert after a week at work.

If you have suggestions for improvement, they will be listened to in their time, taking the total work situation into consideration. Spend your effort more wisely by attempting to do your work well and adapting to the situation already existing. Be friendly and helpful to all, but make close friendships slowly and carefully. Ask questions—how else do you learn? Co-workers will be flattered to be asked for information.

The U. S. Department of Labor statistics tell us that over 90% of persons being fired from jobs (professional, clerical and skilled labor) were not requested to leave because their knowledge or skills were found wanting. They lost their respective positions and jobs because they were incompatible with co-workers—in other words, they could not get along with people.

Assess your personal habits and find if you have some which might be irritating or distracting to persons working in close contact with you. Try to recall those things which irritated you about other girls when you were living in a dorm, or which caused contention during social programs at the chapter house.

Let me list some "small" irritations (which are 99% responsible for loss of employment) and their remedies:

Selfish use of facilities—Learn to share fairly and equally.

Poor personal cleanliness—Practice good grooming.

Indifferent borrowing habits—Never borrow without permission and always return in good condition as soon as possible.

Careless smoking habits—Be neat.

Personal irresponsibility—Don't seek special favors or consideration. Regard promises the same as pledges; fulfill them. Learn to pitch in to get a job done.

Just a tip for wise handling of money. Credit is precious and a person's credit rating is considered as a character reference. Don't let "money in the hand" give you illusions of grandeur. Overspending with inability to pay will soon be called to the attention of your employer, which is often followed by subsequent loss of employment.

Now that you as a person are in tune with the vibrations of the work-world, let's also take a look at progress and advancement. Take advantage of any additional training possible. Sometimes your employer will have special training programs. Perhaps a night school or correspondence course would increase your possibility of advancement or branching out into another facet of your career. Just taking any training in itself indicates your desire to improve and the impact of this is never lost on an employer.

Constant looking for "greener pastures" does not go along with self-improvement, though. This "never satisfied" feeling can lead to job-hopping and a prospective employer views a record of this type with much apprehension. Consider a new job offer with great concern, weighing all pros and cons. Discuss it with your employer and when you have made a decision, give him plenty of time to replace you. Personal stability is much to be admired, and your employer has earned your consideration for the courtesy of a notice.

With all of these "do's," "don'ts," "pleases" and "avoids" whirling about in your head, let's add one more thought: The world is full of ordinary, average people doing ordinary, average and "it'll get by" kinds of jobs. Be the unusual, do the extraordinary, sometimes "go the extra mile." You will be happier as well as appreciated, and more likely to succeed.

Total Points	_____	_____

SCORE: Your score on the quiz is the total of points you have recorded in the affirmative column. A perfect score, indicating a desirable compatibility with people, would be 96. If you score less than 50 Yes-points this indicates a need for some definite re-evaluation of personality based on a long hard objective look at yourself. At 75 Yes-points, you are in an area in which a person can adapt herself to her surroundings. The potential for success increases with the rising number of points.

Job Prospects, 1971

So, you are looking for a job right now!

The outlook for 1971-1972 is mixed. Surveys show that, despite a great deal of uncertainty as to changes in economic conditions, companies in the business field are planning to hire 11% more college women graduates than in 1970. In teaching, where two out of five college women usually find their jobs, the supply of teachers continues to surpass the demand for them.

The figures on business and industry come from the survey of trends in employment of college and university graduates conducted annually by Frank S. Endicott, director of placement, Northwestern University. Reports were made by 191 companies, representing 25 states, that recruit on college campuses. Women, however, normally must secure jobs not through campus interviews but by application.

Greatest opportunities (and the greatest lack of qualified women applicants) are listed as being in the fields of accounting, engineering and data processing. Somewhat lesser needs are mentioned in mathematics, general business, chemistry, marketing and economics (finance).

Starting salaries for women may be up this year—perhaps as much as 4%. Some companies did admit in the survey that lower salaries for college women than men show "discrimination and prejudice" and an unenlightened attitude of management, but suggested that "for identical jobs with identical skill and preparation, (male and female) salaries are generally comparable."

Women's Lib might also notice that several companies mentioned other factors having to do with women's attitudes which they feel limit pay: Women apply for and accept jobs with less pay . . . Women only want short employment . . . Women believe they cannot do the job as well as men . . . Women prefer jobs with less responsibility . . . Women are not really committed to competing directly with men . . . Women are unwilling to relocate or travel. Also, women's salaries would increase if they became more skilled in needed, specialized fields.

Though, in teaching, the beginner's salary is up slightly (perhaps from an average of $6,600 to $6,800), unfortunately the 1970 squeeze on jobs is continuing. According to a September 1970 National Education Association report, while the supply of public school teachers continues at a record level, the demand is at the lowest point in at least 16 years. On the state level, Illinois has reported that only 5,839 beginning teachers were employed 1970-71 as compared with 15,515 the year before.

In fact, a NEA survey of the states showed all having a substantial number of qualified applicants for teaching vacancies in 1970. Only Georgia and South Dakota reported some shortage of applicants. Oregon showed some excess of applicants while Arizona, Colorado, Minnesota and Washington showed a substantial excess. Most other states lay in between with an excess in some subject areas, a shortage in other.

It is in the shortage areas that the 1971 graduate will have the best luck in securing teaching jobs. Even though the State Superintendent of Public Instruction for Illinois predicts "a teacher surplus will probably exist in 1971-72," he excepts the specialty areas of "special, vocational and health education," where the demand is greater than the supply. In addition, 67 of the nation's largest school systems reported to the NEA extreme difficulty in 1970 in filling positions with qualified applicants in the following fields: industrial arts; special education; mathematics; trade, industrial, vocational; natural and physical sciences; physical education (women); remedial reading, speech, etc.; elementary (regular instruction). There was also a need in many states for elementary school librarians, guidance counselors and teachers for the educational disadvantaged. Especially overcrowded fields were high school English and social studies.

All of which suggests to one university placement director that the 1971 college woman graduate should run, not walk, to the nearest phone and use this, instead of the mail, for making an appointment for a job interview, either in business or education—and heed well, when applying for the job, the procedures given in the accompanying article on How To Get a Job.

Operation Brass Tacks

"How To Get a Job" is one of a series of articles prepared for sorority magazines by the Operation Brass Tacks Committee of the National Panhellenic Editors' Conference.

Members of the committee are: Marilyn Simpson Ford, Pi Beta Phi; Ellen Hartmann Gast, Alpha Xi Delta; Ann Hall, Alpha Chi Omega; Dolores Fries Stephenson, Theta Phi Alpha; Mary Margaret Kern Garrard, Kappa Alpha Theta, chairman.

Permission to use the article or any portion thereof in other publications must be obtained from the Operation Brass Tacks Committee. Reprints of the article may be ordered at the following prices: 1-25, ten cents each; quantities above 25, five cents each.

Address: National Panhellenic Editors' Conference, 19740 Heather Lane, Craig Highlands, Noblesville, Indiana 46060.

Millikin's Greek Week Includes Independents In Activities

by BILINDA LOVE, Illinois Eta

One of the major spring activities enjoyed by the sisters of Illinois Eta was the 1971 Greek Week. This year's activities were designed to unite not only all the Greeks on campus, but the Independents as well. Such events as a student concert, an outdoor dance, and a "gym jam" helped fill everyone's free time. Along with these, for added fun the Greek houses competed with each other in a car rally and various games, after which they all celebrated, regardless of victories, at a Greek Feed held in a local park.

A competitive Greek Sing was held also, with the theme of "Hello, Goodbye." Illinois Eta participated in this by singing "Hello My Honey," "Bye, Bye Love," and, as a surprise ending, the "Mickey Mouse Theme."

Reigning over this special week were Millikin's Greek God and Goddess. Eta's Goddess representative was Pat Gardner, past president and a graduating senior. This fun-filled week was ended by an all-school project called SCUM (Students Clean Up Milligin). After an exciting five days, everyone agreed that Greek Week was a big success.

Panhellenic Has Cozy

The Panhellenic Association of Bucknell University held its annual cozy on April 6, 1971. This cozy is held for the members of all eight sororities on campus, as an enjoyable social event which would promote intermingling among all Greek women. The cozy was after dinner, and dessert was served. Each sorority invited two professors as guests. The professors also served as judges for the traditional song-fest. The Pennsylvania Beta chapter of Pi Beta Phi was proud as its group of ten singers, singing "Pi Phi Love," won first place in the competition.

Canvass For Cancer

On April 7, 1971, the Illinois Beta-Delta chapter canvassed the Galesburg community for the American Cancer Society. The Society sponsors a contest among all women's organizations and all men's organizations, and awards a trophy to one outstanding group in each division.

After having won last year, Illinois Beta-Delta was eager to retain the honor. The chapter collected approximately $337.00 during the evening and tied for first place. The Cancer Society awarded two trophies to the women's division for the outstanding jobs done.

27 Smarties Earn Dean's List Honors

by SARAH BONNER, Massachusetts Beta

For the fall 1970 semester, Massachusetts Beta had twenty-seven members on the Dean's List. This list includes Cynthia Balcom, Linda Berberick, Pamela Block, Wanda Sue Breedlove, Jacqueline Britt, Rebecca Cameron, Patricia Fugarazzo, Paula Gemborys, Joan Hannigan, Celeste Introini, Wendy Labreche, Judith Levine, Kathy Ouimet, Angelika Mahlo, Barbara Minkley, Carol Mokaba, Donna Morris, Elizabeth Mushovic, Nancy O'Brien, Jeanne Quintana, Cynthia Rhoades, Joan Roumeles, Susan Siegel, Betty Solovei, Joan Van Order, Linda Vosburgh, and Carolyn Woolsey. Of these girls, Angelika Mahlo and Carolyn Woolsey received straight A's.

Linda Berberick was named to Alpha Lambda Delta, while Pamela Block and Angelika Mahlo were named to Phi Beta Kappa. Angelika was also named to Phi Kappa Phi.

Named to Phi Upsilon Omicron

Sara Everett, Alabama Beta, is one of only fourteen students initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, professional home economics fraternity, at the University of Alabama this spring. Sara is a sophomore with a fashion design major, and is a member of Fashion, Inc., Agnes Ellen Harris Home Economics Club, and Triangle.

ATTENTION ALUMNAE:

Voluntary Rush Information Forms (RIFs) are more important than ever before. If you know a girl who is going to a school where there is a Pi Beta Phi chapter, please send a Rush Information Blank. Time is important. Some schools have an early closing date to accept RIFs.

If a chapter asks for information on a girl, please respond at once. However, it is not necessary to wait for such a request.

Please complete both sides of the form.

Hold Several Parties For Area Children

by CARMEN POPE
Florida Alpha

LAST December Florida Alpha and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity sponsored a Christmas party for the retarded children of the Duvall Home in DeLand. The party, which took place at the Pike house, consisted of a hot dog lunch, after which the children were presented gifts by George Hanlon, dressed as Santa Claus. A collection had been taken by Ann Porter to provide gifts for these children who otherwise would have been forgotten. The children were then taken caroling on the Pike fire truck and afterwards everyone played softball and circle games.

Other parties include one for the needy children from the Neighborhood Center with Sigma Phi Epsilon. The children were taken to a Stetson soccer game and then to a hot-dog lunch at the Sig Ep house.

In April Florida Alpha partied with Lambda Chi Alpha and twenty-five children from the Duvall Home. Activities included an Easter egg hunt, after which the Lambda Chis played basketball with the boys and the Pi Phis talked and visited with the girls.

Sandra Shines At Memphis State

by CYNTHIA SHADID, Tennessee Delta

Sandra Galtelli, Tennessee Delta, has certainly made a mark for herself and Pi Phi on the Memphis State campus in the past three years. A psychology major, Sandra maintained a 3.7 GPA while participating in numerous campus activities. As a freshman, she was president of her Pi Phi pledge class, as well as her Angel Flight pledge class. She made the Dean's List and was also initiated into Alpha Lambda Delta.

During her sophomore-junior year she was secretary-treasurer for the student government, a member of Pi Delta Phi, the University Center Policy Board, and she received the Angel Flight nomination for the Area C-2 scholarship award. Sandra was elected president of Tassel, the senior women's honorary, during her junior-senior. She also served as Angel Flight social chairman, vice president of Town Council, and is a member of the Liberal Arts Honor Society. This year she was chosen Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. In the fall of 1970, Sandra was elected Miss Memphis State, and the overall consensus was that no one could have been more deserving!

Sandra was graduated in May and Tennessee Delta will certainly miss her vivacious, unique, wondrous Pi Phi presence next year.

Lost Pi Phis!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somewhere along the way, many Pi Phis have been misplaced—at least insofar as the Central Office address list is concerned. It is important that all Pi Phis be located, and in an effort to find the lost members. The ARROW will publish a list, by chapter, each issue. If the reader knows the current address of one of those listed, please forward that information to Mrs. Ralph Schulenburg, Director of Central Office, 112 S. Hanley Road, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

NOTED & QUOTED

"The key to survival of the fraternity system is involvement. This encompasses not only law and order, but every other aspect of campus life." JOHN J. HOHMANN, Phi Sigma Kappa

"Reach high—life's treasures all are kept upon the topmost shelves—But not beyond your reach if you will reach beyond yourselves." H. L. MARSHALL

"The closed mind is not strictly an affliction of age . . . Neither do I find that the critical mind is strictly a quality of youth." DANIEL RATHMANN, Triangle

"Today's students indicate that grandiose achievement is no longer the total measure, for in the long run, every man is a success in relation to the contribution each can make toward the improvement of life for all men." DR. Z. L. LOFLIN, Theta Xi

"He who comes to join our fraternity should remember it has been getting ready for thirteen decades to receive him. He would do well to believe in building it up and not tearing it down." SETH R. BROOKS, Beta Theta Pi

"Progress comes through fearless revision of an established order, but the worst mistake one can make is to confuse destruction with revision and be deluded into thinking anarchy is a substitute for authority." SETH R. BROOKS, Beta Theta Pi

"At no time in history are fraternity values more important to the maintenance of a free society. Fraternities . . . must be even more determined to perpetuate the high ideal and values of brotherhood in an intellectual climate dedicated to excellence and freedom." HAROLD M. MEYERS, Lambda Chi Alpha

"Insofar as I know, all fraternities uphold the high ideals of personal integrity, unselfish consideration for others, mutual helpfulness, a sense of reverence for God, and the pursuit of human perfection." NAT S. ROGERS, Kappa Alpha

"A sense of belonging and an identity with groups of sympathetic inclination and common goals are basic psychic requirements for almost every one of us." NAT S. ROGERS, Kappa Alpha

"We have never lived in an era when it has been so necessary to have a cool head, the will to persevere, an endless of humor, and as much information at our fingertips as our heads can absorb." Houston Texas City Panhellenic Newsletter.

"Let us open our eyes to the true potential of the fraternity system and strive to discover what each of us can do to make it a reality." ELEANOR BUSHNELL LEHNER

"The fraternity house must be made a center of education, not a refuge from it." DR. JOSEPH W. WART, The Record of Sigma Alpha Epsilon
