DEAN JEANIE

Jeanie serves as assistant dean of the School of Education and Social Policy at Northwestern University. As a nontraditional school of education, the school defines education broadly and looks at all the different contexts in which learning and education occur.

A graduate of Monmouth College, Jeanie had a double major in business administration and English. She also holds a master's degree in labor and industrial relations from the University of Illinois. Having completed coursework for her doctoral degree, Jeanie will complete her dissertation this year.

As associate dean, Jeanie is responsible for all of the services that affect the graduate and undergraduate students. She teaches courses in learning and organizational change, and leads research and seminar groups interested in issues of the changing workplace and the role and design of learning in the workplace.

Jeanie credits her role as chapter president in providing the basis for her professional and research interest. She recalls the first time she used a metaphor in a chapter meeting to help the members understand the need for a particular change. Although she had no idea at the time that these strategies had a name or why they worked, she continued to use the metaphors and other cognitive strategies in her Pi Phi leadership. Fifteen years later, they are the theoretical basis for her dissertation research that looks at leadership and learning strategies that help organizations successfully undergo massive change.

Pi Phi educators, ranging from first-year teachers to veterans of 37 years, have shared their comical, inspiring and heart-felt experiences. Whether in a classroom, the home of a terminally-ill child or tutoring in a prison, these 45 women share their knowledge and insight.

These 45 Pi Phis have helped others to read, furthered understanding, aided their students in their plight for knowledge, encouraged the discouraged, helped build self-esteem, worked towards developing another's character and strengthened the foundation of education. They serve as mentors and examples to students who are not defined by the barriers of sex, age, race, health or economic status. Through education, these women are shaping tomorrow.

Jeanie has been chosen as a member of Northwestern's Associated Student Government Faculty Honor Roll by the students of Northwestern and has twice been named Northwestern's Outstanding Greek Advisor. Jeanie hopes what students will take away from her class is "not only the method and the content but also the joy and the passion of lifelong learning as one of the greatest gifts of the human experience."

HOMEBOUND STUDENTS

For almost three decades I taught homebound children with all levels of physical and medical problems. Each child was a unique package of emotional, physical and educational needs. Tanya was a happy little girl. Her missing leg was just a mild inconvenience to her. She, at eight, was not bogged down in the details of bone cancer. Her leg was gone, but her spirit was strong. When I arrived for class, she was always sitting at the dining room table, ready for class with books, paper and pencils well organized. We would read, do math, science, write and play some games. Her academic progress was impressive. Tanya received regular chemotherapy and at times, her mother would call to say, "Tanya is in the hospital, so you do not need to come today." Often, I would stop by the hospital just to give her a touch and tell her how much I cared about her. Then one morning the phone rang at 6:30. It was Tanya's mother. She said, "You don't need to come today. Tanya passed last night." Would I choose this profession again? Yes. Would I recommend this profession? Yes, I would.

GETTING THE SALE

After selling advertising space for a year, I went back to school to earn a master's degree in education. My career goal had been to become a corporate recruiter and trainer. But after more than a year in the "corporate culture," I was heartily sick of my membership. When I took stock, I found that my needs were the same. I now "pitch" my kids selling them on a new behavior or skill. I "get the sale" at all costs whatever it takes to get the concept through, be it dressing up in a moose hat or crawling through desk tunnels. The world will never miss another three column, full-color display ad. But one more child learning to read, or singing a song, or solving a problem, would truly be missed. Often I'm asked, "Why special ed.?" or "Isn't that a difficult group to teach?" Frankly yes. Working with children with autism is exhausting, and challenging, and difficult. It can also be heart-lifting, frustrating, emotional, joyous and discouraging. "All children have something to say when you listen with your heart."

4 WONDERFUL JOURNEY

MISSOURI ALPHA GAY KLIPPSTEN LATHROP

For the past 22 years I have taught reading and social studies to children in Raytown, Missouri. Currently, I am a reading tutor in an elementary school. I felt like I had "arrived" in my profession when one of my students wrote a note saying, "Mrs. Lathrop, You are the best teacher I have ever had!" During my years of teaching, I received many notes from my students that have helped me understand and teach that individual. Some are humorous and some are sad, but each is special. "... Please help us thru the bad times and maby even thru the good. You might even want to help us thru the day." by Julli M. What a wonderful journey I've had so far!

5 OUTSTANDING EDUCATOR

ILLINOIS THETA DR. CHRISTINE ROTH NORVELL

Christie is principal of Pacific School in Manhattan Beach, California. She speaks on children's issues, parenting issues, discipline in the home, building self-esteem in children and kindergarten readiness. She is a mentor teacher and does demonstration lessons throughout the community to improve teacher instruction. After Christie was diagnosed with breast cancer, she felt it was important that "her children" at school be informed of her illness in a learning and positive way. To accomplish this, she wrote a poem geared towards children. As a result, Christie was featured in an investigative report, "Mammography: The Deadly Deceit," on CBS.

6 WOMEN AS ATHLETES

IOWA BETA PHYLLIS HICKMAN HOWLETT

For the past 15 years I have worked as Assistant Commissioner of the Big Ten Conference. I currently serve as the second ranking officer in the NCAA and in that capacity have had the opportunity to enhance the prospect for women as athletes. Competitive opportunities for women have exploded and public awareness has started to catch up with what has been happening on our campuses. When I graduated from Simpson College in 1954 I had never seen a woman coach an intercollegiate team; seen a woman compete against another collegiate woman; seen a woman operate an athletics program or officiate a collegiate competition. It has taken years to get there, but it is happening and young women across the country are the benefactors.

7 EXCITING ESPAÑOL

CONNECTICUT ALPHA ANNE VARRONE

I teach students in grades 6-8 Spanish at Moran Middle School in Wallingford, Connecticut. My goal is to get students enthusiastic about learning language. I work with two stuffed dolls. I give eye exams to students while they practice the Spanish alphabet. We review numbers by listing the scores from the NFL. I videotape weather reports, show Disney movies in Spanish, teach the Macarena while reviewing body vocabulary, make clotheslines, pack my suitcase and end the year with an imaginary trip to Spain. I go home completely exhausted but totally happy each day.

8 MIMEOGRAPHS TO COMPUTERS

OREGON BETA PATTY HAMMOND REILLY

I graduated from Oregon State University in 1968 with a master's degree in home economics education, and headed up Interstate 5 for a teaching position in Lake Oswego. My plan was to teach for a few years. Those "few years" stretched into 28. Home Economics became Family and Consumer Studies; boys are just as likely to be found in my classroom as girls; and the mimeograph machine, thankfully, has been replaced by the computer.

9 MULTI-AGING CLASSROOM

TEXAS ETA KELI KINSELLA

I teach for Cherry Creek School District near Denver, Colorado at Peakview Elementary School. Peakview opened five years ago to create a different look for public education. The school is a multi-aged, year-round school with an emphasis on technology. Multi-aging places children of various ages in the same classroom. The basic premise behind multi-aging is that learners do not simply acquire information at only one level. Each classroom has its own mini computer lab. I have the most important job in the world, helping to shape the minds of the future.

45 to

10

COMMUNITY SERVICE

MASSACHUSETTS BETA SUE LEMANIS WOLF

Sue Wolf is in her 26th year of teaching and currently teaches fourth-grade at St. Boniface School in Edwardsville, Illinois. She also writes a weekly column for the Intelligencer as a community service. Her column often includes her experiences in the classroom.

11

PASSING ON THE BALLET TRADITION

TEXAS DELTA STEPHANIE BROOKS CONNELL

There is no question why I teach ballet. Ballet is an art that requires strength of body and mind. I tell my students that ballet will develop control over muscles so that they move at will, enabling expression of mind and soul. Training in ballet can overcome and prevent faulty physical habits, and improve posture and coordination, thus giving students confidence, grace and the feeling of power over themselves. Ballet is a beautiful discipline. I feel blessed to be able to teach such an encompassing tradition.

12

FLORIDA BETA BARBARA EISSEY PORCHER

I have been an educator for 27 years, serving as a biology teacher, a guidance counselor, assistant principal and newly-appointed acting principal at Spanish River Community High School. For the past three years, I took students to Europe, saw the Pope in Rome and met up with Peace Corps friends in Prague. I am sure what I am doing now was supplemented with the training I received as a Florida Beta.

13

EDUCATION IS A CATCHY THING

MICHIGAN BETA ELLEN PANUSH ZELENKO

If there's one thing I've learned in almost 30 years of teaching, it's how much pupils enrich your life. I've been living in Israel with my family since 1972. I've been teaching English in Israel, to high schoolers who live on kibbutz, to teenagers in the city, and even to a young man who lost his sight in war. I'm now writing and editing textbooks for the teaching of English as a second language. I am proud that three of my four children have also chosen to teach English as a second language. Education is a catchy thing!

MAKING CHILDREN A PRIORITY

MINNESOTA ALPHA ANDREA WALLING

Andrea has spent the last 30 years making children a priority, running a nursery school in Minneapolis as a director and teacher. For the past eight years, Andrea has been a licenser for the child care centers of the State of Minnesota. She works to provide quality programs for children as well as to protect their safety and health. Andrea's dedication to the welfare of children was recently recognized with a brick in the Plaza of Heroines at Iowa State University.

BRINGING HISTORY TO LIFE

OKLAHOMA BETA SUZAN PATE KING

I have taught English classes at Tulsa Community College for 20 years. Six years ago, I embarked on a new kind of education. Chatauqua is a program funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities through our state organization, the Oklahoma Foundation for the Humanities, and our local Arts and Humanities Council of Tulsa. In this program, I take on the persona of historical characters in order to bring history to life for audiences of adults and children. The audience hears a monologue by the character and is then permitted to ask the character questions. In January, I will be participating in a program specifically designed to target school children in Oklahoma. Schools may request a visit from one of my characters.

16

DREAM COME TRUE

ILLINOIS ETA CLAUDIA SMITH ROACH

As the new principal of St. Alphonsus Elementary School in East Los Angeles, I realized that our students and their families needed far more from their schools than we were in a position to give. My dream was to provide a summer program that would incorporate educational enrichment with healthy and safe activities to keep them challenged and busy during the summer months. Fortunately, Ronald McDonald Children's Charities was willing to fund that dream, and three years ago, we opened the Ronald McDonald Summer Academic/Sports Camp for Kids on the St. Alphonsus School campus.

WISCONSIN ALPHA DONNA
WOOD

When it was time for me to make the transition from full-time mom to breadwinner again, I panicked. But the Pi Beta Phi Foundation came to the rescue with a continuing education scholarship, enabling me to become a trained and certified Reading Recovery Specialist. Reading Recovery gave me the avenue to give otherwise bright children the key to success ... literacy. My miracle happened when the Pi Beta Phi Foundation believed that I could use a blessing, and I, in turn, was able to be a blessing to small children who needed a miracle.

CONNECTICUT ALPHA HELEN
SAVAGE SHORROCK
I received my M.A. in Religion from Yale University Divinity School and was ordained in July of 1952 by the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ. I spent more than 30 years teaching and living in Asia as an educational missionary and 14 years teaching in the Santa Barbara, California School District. In 1947, my husband and I arrived in Japan to spend three years as missionary teachers. The years took us in and out of Japan with our five children to Korea, Switzerland and the United States, then back to Japan. These years focused on education, relief and rehabilitation. They have been unforgettable years of intercultural confrontation and growth.

A HAND UP NOT A HAND OUT

LOVELAND-IRONS
As a teacher in the Community House Child Care Center, I am part of a unique educational environment.

Community House is a homeless shelter designed to be a "hand up, not a hand out." The center has two main missions. The first mission is to help our kids catch up to their peers academically and developmentally. The children of Community House are taught how to be resilient. The center also requires that our kids learn to do as much for themselves as possible. It is a wonderful feeling to know that I play a small role in giving these children hope for their future. To me, it is the best gift I can give as an educator.

CHILDREN

TEXAS ETA TANA
BROWN WEISS

The Children's Museum of Houston educates through interactive exhibits and programs. Our mission is to "ignite a lifelong passion of learning through educational exhibits and programs that provoke curiosity and inspiration ..." My job as Outreach Educator evolved as the children who needed us most could not get to us. Many children who are most at-risk have never been to the museum. I work on programs that make it easier for organizations to bring children to the museum. Not everyone is able to actually do something about the plight of these children, or about the situation of our educational system. I am one of the fortunate ones ... I can do something about it, and I do—everyday.

21

INDIANA GAMMA
JANE GALL CARR
I am a teacher of The Alexander Technique which is based on the concept that "Use Affects Function," the way the muscles and body as a whole are used affects a person's physical and psychological well-being. The technique has been successful in addressing posture problems, pinched nerves, back and neck pains, breathing, speech disorders, and reducing musculoskeletal tension—thereby providing pain relief. The beauty of the Alexander Technique is that it doesn't teach something new to do—it is a process of unlearning the acquired habits that interfere with the ability to function naturally.

CONNECTING

ILLINOIS ZETA
NANCY CRAWFORD
KOLLER

As an English teacher and speech coach at Glenbard South High School, I try to inspire, cajole, instruct and corral my charges to communicate effectively, read analytically and write creatively. I loved the camaraderie of my sisters and the leadership opportunities that living in the Pi Phi house offered me. The same is true about teaching. Instead of singing for rushees, "Pi Beta Phi for me," I'm singing "Read Chapter 33." The best part of both experiences is the friendship. At Homecoming, one of my favorite students told me that she had pledged Pi Beta Phi at my alma mater. That's a connecting thread of life!

23

CALIFORNIA ETA
JANE ZALESKI
BARBER

For the past four years I have been working for Biola University's BOLD (Biola Organizational Leadership Degree) Program in La Mirada, California. This program is geared toward adults, 25 years or older, who have completed 60 college transferable units, but have not completed their bachelor's degree. As a recruiter, I counsel students through the application/admissions process and bring them to the point of registration. I enjoy my job because I am continually working with people, seeing initial inquiries turn into students on their way to completing their degrees.

24

THAT'S A TEACHER NOT A STUDENT

OHIO DELTA TARA PALMER

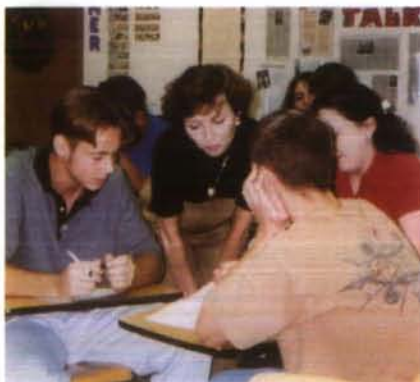

If I had a dollar for every time I have heard that phrase since I started teaching at East Lake High School in Tarpon Springs, Florida, I would be a rich woman. Of course, I expected that—at a little over five feet, I easily blend in with the kids. In my second year of teaching, I now know that what will keep me involved with education is the students. Advising the school newspaper has provided my most stressful moments, but it has also provided my best moments. My Pi Phi experience helped me develop the leadership skills that it takes to guide a newspaper staff full of different personalities.

25

CREATING A LITERATE ENVIRONMENT

OKLAHOMA BETA DEE RIPPETOE RICHARDSON

When I started teaching English 22 years ago, I wanted to make a difference in the lives of young people. I believe that I have made that difference in many lives, but most importantly, they have made a difference in mine. What I do for young people is to believe in them. I tell them that I believe that all students can learn, if they want to learn. I want them to like learning and know that it never stops. I want them to know they have important things to say and unique ways of saying them. I want them to know their voices are valued. I want learning to be fun. I want them to gain independence as learners, knowing and trusting their choices.

26

REWARDING EXPERIENCE

VIRGINIA ZETA RANDI RICHARDS

I am a Work and Family Studies Teacher, at Culpeper County High School in Culpeper, Virginia. What an experience the first six weeks of my first year have been. Education must be the most challenging and rewarding profession in existence. I teach sophomores, juniors and seniors Child Care and Nutrition and Wellness. My Pi Phi experiences will last a lifetime and continually aid me, whether its to call a sister to share experiences with or its to get advice on my lesson planning.

27

ITALIAN RENAISSANCE

FLORIDA BETA DR. DIANNE DIEZ GOODE

Dianne is an art historian who lectures not only in the classroom but also in museums, galleries, palaces and churches. Dianne serves on the faculties of two universities in Dallas, Texas; leads summer study tours to Italy; and lectures widely in her community. Since 1981, Dianne has taught art history for the Master of Liberal Arts Program at Southern Methodist University. Her main area of specialization is Italian Renaissance art which she teaches at the graduate level, both on campus and every other summer in Italy.

28

EYE-OPENERS

ILLINOIS ALPHA CHRISTENE BURKS CATLIN

Christene found her first-year of teaching an eye-opener as she worked at a school in Truth or Consequences, New Mexico. "My teaching was challenging due to the diversity of the students," says Christene. Through this Christene looked to Pi Phi for support and friendship. "I contacted the Direction's program to find a friend nearby. I found a chapter. I became involved with the

Pi Phis who teach

New Mexico Beta Chapter," says Christene. "This was something I needed so the 71-mile (each way) commute was all worth it in the end." She has since moved back to Illinois where she teaches third grade.

29

HEALTHY BABIES

TEXAS BETA LINDA PERRY COOPER

I am a Resource Director for Sidelines of North Central Texas, a non-profit organization that provides educational information and peer counseling to women with high-risk, complicated, bed rested pregnancies. When a woman is referred to Sidelines, an educational packet that is tailored to her particular pregnancy complication is sent to her after an initial phone interview. Sidelines does not try to replace any medical team, rather it compliments that team with written educational information as needed. Knowing our group helps moms who are often scared, depressed or feeling isolated, is one of the things that keeps me going and committed to this organization.

VIRGINIA GAMMA LISA TIPTON McCOIG

Lisa and Virginia Gamma Laurie Karlson Basalygh are Local Childcare Coordinators for EF Au Pair in Winchester and Fairfax, Virginia. EF Au Pair is a United States Government designated non-profit program which allows young Europeans aged 18-25 the opportunity of living with an American family for one year while providing childcare and completing six hours of courses. EF stands for "Education First." Lisa and Laurie's positions involve providing support to local host families and to au pairs.

Since graduating in 1994, I have been a substitute teacher for the Coventry Public School System. In the past two years I have coached intramural sports, chaperoned field trips and helped arrange an after school drama club. Last year, the drama club wanted to do a play of the book, "Tom Sawyer." Having trouble finding a manuscript appropriate for students in grades 5-8, I re-wrote the book with my kids in mind. The play was a huge success!

I am serving as a Peace Corps volunteer in Niono, Mali, West Africa, working in the small enterprise development sector. My work includes everything from teaching people to save money and use banks to assisting in the administration of a large urban sanitation project. I am also involved in a program that teaches girls basic business skills through the practice of making and selling jelly. I work with a group that wants to build a Women's Center where women can make and sell crafts.

ANDREA SCHUCK

I work as an Artist-in-Residence for the Carlsbad School District in Carlsbad, California. I teach drama and am the Bilingual Drama Coordinator for the high school. Theatre can be a valuable tool in teaching, building confidence in students who don't find success in math, reading, writing or sports. The bilingual drama program I run brings culturally diverse students together. I have seen first-hand the positive effects the arts can have on our children.

JENNIFER BATHGATE

I recently returned from Kyrgyzstan, a former Soviet Republic in Central Asia, where I spent two years as an ESL (English as a Second Language) volunteer. I taught English at a public high school. These were kids living in a tiny village who had never seen an American before, let alone studied English. During my second year, I became even more involved with my school and village. Getting involved gave me more satisfaction which, in turn, increased my confidence in the classroom. I truly became a part of the team.

Variety has been a key ingredient of my enjoyment as a teacher.

Working with all ages in home economics and special education has given me opportunities for learning while teaching. Having three children in our family, my greatest teaching evaluation is to ask, "Would I want my own child to be enrolled in my class?" I have been able to feel proud of my work this way. My Texas Gamma experience was part of the foundation that made me love myself and become one of those people who love people, a teacher.

I tutor a 66-year-old rural man. Although he was bright and funny, the man had no idea there were 26 letters in the alphabet. I have written a book about this one man's incomprehensible travails into the world of the printed word. We have worked together for three years and still have a long way to go. When you cannot read and write, you have to both learn and unlearn what has brought you to this point. It is hard. It is slow. The one thing I hold for this man is respect—he came. He persevered. Not many can say that.

I am part of the Houston Independent School District's

The variety of my responsibilities has led me to provide speech therapy for students in varied venues such as the prison system, students immobilized in iron lungs, autistic students and students with cancer and AIDS. There is an ever-present connection in my professional life with Pi Beta Phi. At the Texas Children's Hospital, the Houston Alumnae Club has constructed a Pi Beta Phi Library. My spirit is lifted every time I pass one of the angel-shaped signs. I am fortunate in the roll that Pi Phi has played in my educational odyssey.

I spent the 1993-94 school year teaching Conversational

English at Public School #491 in Russia. Grades 1-11 were all in one building. Students were divided into groups after the sixth grade based on what they plan to study—technical, medical or the humanities. All the exams at the school were given orally. After graduating from the 11th grade, students must pass several exams in various subjects to enter the university. I lived and learned the Russian culture and made life-long friends.

In this issue of The ARROW, focusing on Pi Phi educators, you will find many examples of how members of the Fraternity are incorporating their Pi Phi background into making a real world difference.

On a recent trip to Arrowmont, I had an opportunity to see how Pi Phi is making a difference in Gatlinburg. In 1911, Gatlinburg was chosen as the Settlement School site because it was felt that Pi Phi could make a difference in the lives of its residents.

It was my first trip to Arrowmont. The talent and creativity that has passed through those many studio doors is impressive. The lives that have been touched by Arrowmont is much greater than I had realized. Many dedicated individuals put heart and soul into managing, teaching, operating and developing the school. It is a great example of Pi Phis educating and enriching lives through art. The latest educational opportunities and conferences at Arrowmont are highlighted on pages 13–15.

The Foundation's Honor Roll of Donors, on pages 25–64, further illustrates the Foundation's mission to promote the intellectual, ethical and leadership development of our members.

I think our Founders would be proud of their legacy and the impact our members have had and continue to have through education.

We as Pi Phis and as citizens must say thank you to our educators for doing a most challenging and most important job. From 1–45 Pi Phi educators have demonstrated that they are making a difference in shaping the minds of our future.

45 TRUE MEANING OF TEACHING

TENNESSEE GAMMA LAURIE RAMSEY
WALKER

From the time I was in elementary school, I wanted to be a teacher. I live in Mississippi and here in a small, rural, public attendance center I have found the true meaning of teaching. I teach at a school where “yes ma’am” and “no ma’am” are heard frequently. I teach at a school where white and black students call each other friend and eat together in the cafeteria. I teach at a school where if you are absent, someone in the class is related to you and knows exactly where you are and who you are with. I teach at a school where teaching supplies are not brand new and neither are my students’ clothes. I teach at a school where students come to learn and be disciplined. I teach at a school where you really learn to love your students. I hope to inspire my children to see past their small town existence and see that there is a world of opportunity.

From the Reader

Thank You

My name is Renee Cashmore and I am the Director of Marketing and Public Education for New Mexico Special Olympics. The purpose of this letter is to recognize some very special Pi Phis from the University of New Mexico for their philanthropic efforts for Special Olympics.

During the 1996 spring semester, I called on the New Mexico Alpha Chapter to help me with a national public service announcement (psa) for Special Olympics International. Sarah Vanderhoofven and her sorority sisters, Darcy Linton and Susannah Grisham were quick to assist. The three women gave several hours of their time to serve as Unified Softball Partners with New Mexico Special Olympics athletes during the filming of the psa. Unified Softball is a Special Olympics sport that brings together mentally disabled athletes with non-disabled partners to play together on one team. The Pi Phis were kind to our athletes as well as very patient with the film crew. The psa has aired nationally for the past several months and has been well received by the networks and the public at large.

Education

Pi Phi has taught me many different lessons. One of the most important pieces of knowledge that has been shared with me is the love of diversity. I've learned that we must go beyond our "common walls," and make friendships and alliances with those who are outside our comfort zone.

And as women, we must all find a way to overlook these differences and work toward a common goal. Last month, I was selected to attend a National Women as Leaders Conference in Washington, D.C. Collegiate women from across the country had the honor and the privilege of working with the women of Washington, hear distinguished lectures and have the opportunity of building coalitions with other strong females. It was a two-week, life-changing experience that I wish everyone could have. Perhaps if more women could participate in programs such as these and be willing to mentor each other, we could make a difference.

I have learned from Pi Phi and the Women's Conference—to make a change we must work with all of our strengths to accomplish our goals, and as Pamela Fanning Carter, Attorney General, State of Indiana, said, "When you go to a new frontier, you must take other women with you." Finding strength and inspiration will allow us to travel to new frontiers and make changes.

Reunion

While attending a reunion weekend of Iowa Beta and Simpson College, it was fun to renew our friendships in person. Iowa Beta Dr. Donna J. Helble was honored with an outstanding alumnae achievement award for service to her community, career achievement and service to Simpson College.

The highlight of the weekend was a call from Oklahoma City with the news that the Balfour Cup was on its way back to Simpson College, as Iowa Beta had won it for the second consecutive year. Our elation was indescribable.

Congratulations to the chapter and all Iowa Beta alumnae. Sisterhood certainly does transcend the years.

Links to Literacy

WASHINGTON BETA holds a Links to Literacy Dinner, inviting professors and students from the Washington State University campus to the chapter house for dinner, presentations and discussions about literacy. The price of admission to the dinner is books which are donated to local literacy organizations. Throughout the academic year, individual members of Washington Beta serve their university through Links to Literacy by volunteering as tutors at the university's learning center and as trained peer advisors for freshmen and sophomores on campus.

The members of NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA have been active in the University of North Dakota's Adopt-A-School Program for the last four years. Chapter members visit a school for at least one hour per week, sometimes extending their time, and read with children, engaging them in educational games and conversation.

Pi Phi at Colorado State University volunteer three times a week to read with first and second grade students at a local Fort Collins elementary school as part of the school's accelerated reading program. Each COLORADO GAMMA participating volunteers a half hour of her time to the program. Members leave each week feeling good about the lifelong differences their small investment is making.

ALABAMA BETA continues to support Links to Literacy in a number of ways. Chapter members staff the local Radio Reading Room, reading the newspaper over the radio for vision impaired subscribers. In addition to providing service, which continues to be the primary focus of Links to Literacy throughout the Fraternity, Alabama Beta successfully raised $10,000 to endow the Radio Reading Room program. Now the chapter is working with a professor of communicative disorders at the University of Alabama to support and staff the Community Literacy Project, designed to help mothers in low income families read to their children and have unlimited access to books.

A conversation in 1994 between hospital Child Life Directors at a professional meeting resulted in the beginning of a Links to Literacy project between the BALTIMORE ALUMNAE CLUB and the Johns Hopkins University Children's Center. The Child Life Director at Texas Children's Hospital and the Houston Alumnae Club introduced the idea of Pi Beta Phi making a large impact in children's hospitals. The Johns Hopkins Director and others immediately saw the value in partnering with Pi Phi. Nineteen members of the Baltimore Alumnae Club will staff the existing children's library at JHUCC one day a week. Each volunteer will work one or two days per month staffing the morning, afternoon and evening shifts. Under the leadership of Alumnae Club President Pennsylvania Beta Phoebe Follmer Bacon, Delta Alumnae Province President Illinois Zeta Cindy Horn Burkert and former Graduate Consultant and local project chairman Virginia Eta Lori Poveromo Haight, Pi Phi are helping to provide a bit of normalcy through books and reading to children in a very unfamiliar environment. The slow and careful development of the project attracted a number of alumnae. It has also raised the club's awareness of literacy issues and its confidence that Pi Phi working together through literacy can do something to make an impact on people's lives.

Missouri Alpha Gelin Rice volunteers her time with preschoolers for Links to Literacy.

Within a long tradition as leaders in community service, MISSOURI ALPHA's largest volunteer program is Links to Literacy. About 75% of the chapter volunteers for Links every month for two to three hour time segments. Members at University of Missouri who currently read to pre-school children are now expanding their Links to Literacy program to include reading to the elderly at local nursing homes.

News from Arrowmont

Arrowmont Board of Governors' Leadership Transition

A leadership transition took place at the November meeting of the Arrowmont Board of Governors (BOG) as Charlotte Ann Eckel Edwards, Arkansas Alpha and member of the Nashville, Tennessee Alumnae Club, retired after four years as chairman of the BOG. Arrowmont was very fortunate to have the benefits of C.A.'s talents and energy. She saw the school through a successful $2.8 million Capital Campaign and oversaw an impressive building program as Arrowmont added a modern dormitory, a new painting and drawing studio and state-of-the-art wood studio to the campus. C.A. will continue to provide valuable input during her last year on Arrowmont's BOG.

The new BOG Chairman is Maryland Beta Dawn Sheeler Ford.

Dawn is a member of the Knoxville, Tennessee Alumnae Club. A graduate of the University of Maryland, where she was president of her chapter, Dawn began volunteering for Pi Phi 20 years ago as a member of Tennessee Gamma's Alumnae Advisory Committee. She went on to become chairman of AAC, a Collegiate Province President for Kappa Province, a national Membership Assistance Officer and president of the Knoxville Alumnae Club. She also has been a member of the BOG for three years and served as vice chairman for one year.

Since 1984 Dawn has been president and owner of Consumer Awareness Management, a public relations and training company. In addition to her management and marketing skills, she brings to Arrowmont extensive experience in board governance, having held numerous leadership positions in the Knoxville community.

Dawn currently serves on the boards of directors of Leadership Knoxville, the Executive Women's Association, the Knoxville Chapter of the American Red Cross and Overlook Mental Health Corporation. She is a University of Tennessee Chancellor's Associate and has served as a vice chairman of the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Tennessee Gamma Barbara Blanks Bullard, a member of the Nashville, Tennessee Alumnae Club, is the new vice chairman of the BOG. Arrowmont also welcomes Kansas Alpha Kilmeny Dunne Jackson, a member of the Kansas City, Missouri-Shawnee Mission, Kansas Alumnae Club, who was elected to a four-year term on BOG.

In her own words ...

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all who are involved and comprise the makeup of the Friends of Arrowmont.

The generous scholarship I was granted from this worthy group made it possible for me to be a part of the Arrowmont experience this summer.

I treasure my valuable memories of learning various artistic techniques as well as the genuine comradery of new-found friends.

My plans now are to become more proficient in the art of papermaking and by next spring be able to share my knowledge by teaching others through the community education program in the Northern Kentucky area.

Again, I thank you and hope to be involved in future learning endeavors at Arrowmont. I truly believe that I now have the insatiable itch for Arrowmont's offerings and feel I have only just scratched the surface.

Wood Studio Transition

Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts constructed a new wood studio in response to a growing demand for art education in the medium of wood. The new studio will accommodate an expanded wood program encompassing turning, carving, and furniture construction. The dramatic growth in membership of the American Association of Woodturners (AAW) reflects the increasing numbers of wood enthusiasts throughout the country. Member enrollment has increased from 1,332 members 10 years ago to 6,270 members today.

Construction of Arrowmont's new wood studio was completed in August. In October the studio was set up with lathes and other turning equipment, which were transferred from the old wood studio, for three weeks of Elderhostel classes. An "unofficial" opening of the studio occurred on October 4th when Charles Alvis performed a turning demonstration for the AAW chapter of the Smoky Mountain Woodturners. Max Posey, president of the chapter (and Arrowmont employee), arranged the meeting. A formal opening of the studio is scheduled in 1997.

In October, Alan Lacer taught the first Elderhostel class. Alan is a woodturning instructor, writer and part-time professional in the field. He commented on the evolution of character the studio has undergone in the past 10 years. Turning instructors teaching in the old studio were often former Arrowmont assistants and students whose professional evolution developed in tandem with the studio itself. Alan felt that the new building will grow in character as regularly scheduled classes and use begin in 1997. He also commented that teaching in the new studio is more effective because the space is larger and better lit. Instead of three rooms, as in the old studio, the turning room is one large space which contributes to clearer communication between students and faculty, and among students themselves.

Charles Alvis, current president of the AAW, taught the second Elderhostel class. Dave Barriger, a woodturner from Florida and board member of the AAW, assisted Charles with the instruction. Charles attended Arrowmont as a wood student and assistant. He has taught at Arrowmont and the Appalachian Center for Crafts. Charles is founding president of the Tennessee Association of Woodturners and will attend the Association's two-day annual symposium, celebrating its 10th anniversary, at Arrowmont in August of 1997.

Both Charles and Dave agreed with Alan that teaching in the new studio was far more comfortable and efficient than in the old studio. Dave and Charles say they believe that operation of the dust collection and air compression systems, once fully functional, will enhance the environment and quality of teaching in the studio.

Turning has evolved greatly within the past 20 years, according to Charles. It has moved from being strictly a functional craft to an evolving aesthetic art form. Originally, turning was an integral part of furniture making. Currently, it stands alone as a new artistic medium. The relationship between wood craft and aesthetics will be explored and defined in Arrowmont's wood classes.

Recently the importance of educating the public regarding woodturning's changing role has been stressed. The turning audience now requires education about wood's transition from the functional to the aesthetic. Exposing the general public to wood's changing status as an art form may be achieved by a traveling collection of wood objects, perhaps sponsored by Arrowmont. In contrast, Charles commented on the effects of technology upon the field of woodturning. Within the past 10-15 years, lathe design has provided greater turning flexibility; previously, lathes were suited to turning only spindles.

As an independent school of art, wood education at Arrowmont will fill a gap that higher education does not provide. Ultimately, Arrowmont's new wood studio will be the premier learning center for woodturning in the eastern United States.

Charles Alvis teaches an Elderhostel class in the new wood studio.

Elderhostel, A Gathering of Friends

A unique group of friends attended the fall Elderhostel painting class this year. Four painters from Loudon, Tennessee attended class together as they have several times in the past. The students all reside in Tellico Village, a retirement community located west of Knoxville, Tennessee.

The painting group was started in the late 1980s by Marilyn Taylor, a former art teacher from Michigan. Other members of the group include: Beverly Sullivan, a former elementary school teacher from Washington, D.C.; Janet Mack, a former art and home economics teacher from Minnesota; and Eleanor Llewellyn, a former business teacher from Virginia.

These artists, all painters, work in such various media as oils, acrylic and watercolor. The group has exhibited their work in Knoxville. Two of the painters have been at Arrowmont Elderhostel classes four times. On one occasion seven women from Loudon attended an Arrowmont painting class.

Like many of the Elderhostel students, the painters from Loudon have attended other programs in various locations. Arrowmont is one of their favorite programs owing to its convenient location and caliber of painting instruction.

The school looks forward to seeing the Loudon painters in the near future.

National Clay Symposium

Arrowmont sponsored "Utilitarian Clay II: Celebrate the Object," a clay conference on September 18-21. Sixteen nationally known presenters participated, including both studio potters and university faculty. More than 200 attendees were present to participate in studio demonstrations, lectures and panel discussions.

The keynote address, "Varieties of Utility," by Henry Glassie, expanded the definition of utility to include such concepts as ritual and culture in relation to utility. The five conference exhibitions included: "Presenter's Exhibition," "Juried Artists Exhibition," "Potter's Pots," "Selected Clay Works from the Permanent Collection" and "Behind the Scenes Exhibition."

"The quality of this conference was clear from the onset and evidenced by the number of esteemed clay artists and educators in the audience, as well as onstage. Beyond the visual and verbal information presented, the conference provided a special opportunity for the clay artists attending to enjoy a heartening sense of connection and community with each other," said one faculty member from the University of Florida.

Foundation

New Trustees Appointed

Texas Beta Ann Warmack Brookshire has joined the Foundation Board of Trustees as the new treasurer. Ann served her chapter at Southern Methodist University as Vice President of Moral Advancement. She completed a double major in Accounting and Real Estate; received her designation as a Certified Public Accountant; and went on to earn her MBA at Northeast Louisiana University. Ann has been a devoted alumnae member. She has served as ACRIC, club president, Alumnae Province President and Director of Academic Standards. She currently serves as a National Panhellenic Conference Alternate Delegate. Her community affiliations and board positions are numerous, and the Pi Beta Phi Foundation is proud to be counted among them.

Iowa Alpha Elizabeth Davenport Garrels is the new Foundation Secretary. After earning a degree in Divisional Social Studies at Iowa Wesleyan College, Liz taught history and political science for years before becoming involved in a family business with her husband Richard. She has remained involved with her alma mater by serving as the Director of Alumni Relations and by holding positions on the Alumni Association Board of Directors. She dedicated 33 years of service to the P.E.O. sisterhood, and is currently the President of the Iowa State Chapter. Liz is a member of the Mount Pleasant Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi and has also been involved on a national level. Holt House, Pi Phi's birthplace in Monmouth, Illinois, benefited from Liz's devoted leadership for the past eight years. Her extensive knowledge of the administration of educational institutions will be a vital part of her contribution to the Board.

The Friendship Fund—A Smart Investment

Each year, Pi Beta Phi members support vital Fraternity Programming through their gifts to the Friendship Fund. The 1996-97 Friendship Fund effort is underway, and the Foundation Trustees thank the many members who have already made contributions.

The financial support received through the Friendship Fund has enabled members to receive hundreds of scholarships and fellowships, Emma Harper Turner Fund stipends, educational programming at Fraternity conventions and leadership seminars, and educational materials on important issues such as alcohol awareness and self-esteem. Arrowmont has also received thousands of dollars from the fund helping it to remain a world-class school of arts and crafts.

Your gift to the Friendship Fund is a smart investment. It provides funding today to ensure that Fraternity goals are met and Pi Phi maintains a strong standing in the Greek world.

Scholarship awards and educational programs promote the intellectual development of Pi Beta Phi members. The Foundation receives many more applications each year from worthy potential recipients than the number of scholarships available. This makes the task of selecting the winners difficult.

The Emma Harper Turner Fund is a means through which members, finding themselves in personal crises, may receive modest financial gifts. Given in strict confidence, this assistance brings the recipient the message that "we care."

Values and ethics are a part of all Fraternity programming. The Fraternity seeks to provide an environment to help members make wise, healthy decisions that will positively impact their lives and the lives of others. Through the Friendship Fund, educational materials are provided to help achieve this goal. "Alcohol, Sex and Self-Esteem" is a quality educational video produced by noted expert Dr. Richard Keeling. This video is a stock item in Pi Phi's library of educational tools and is one example of the material provided through the Friendship Fund.

Biennial conventions and leadership seminars provide collegiate and alumnae officers with leadership training applicable for success in any career or volunteer endeavor. Friendship Fund dollars provide the opportunity for members to attend informative sessions developed by high-quality educational speakers.

Your gift to the Friendship Fund will make an impact on these valuable programs. All gifts to the Friendship Fund are tax deductible to the full extent of the law.

If you have any questions about the Friendship Fund or any of the Foundation's programs, please contact the Foundation Office at (314) 727-7338.

This listing includes recognition and memorial gifts to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation from April 1, 1996 through August 31, 1996. Recognition and memorial gifts are listed in the Winter and Summer issues of The ARROW.

TEXAS BETA SAM WHITELOCK

MAULDIN attended "The Court of Olympus—A Mythical Kingdom." The 1996 Las Donas de la Corte coronation took place in Corpus Christi, Texas. Participants in the court included: Texas Beta Letitia Elizabeth Mauldin, Texas Etas Margaret Jean Young and Melanie Elisabeth Durst and California Alpha Kathleen Victoria Welder.

Massachusetts Pi Phis, members of both the BOSTONIAN and the BOSTON CITY ALUMNAE CLUBS, joined area Greeks for a Panhellenic luncheon and fashion show. The "Pink Ribbon Fashion Show" donated its proceeds to breast cancer research. The event was held at the historic Country Club in Brookline, the oldest country club in the nation.

MARYLAND ALPHA KATHARYN PRICE

JOHNSON, an 80-year member, was recently honored with a Special Recognition Award for her "59 adult years of active support of Girl Scouting and Girl Guiding on the national and international levels." Katharyn still participates in Founders' Day celebrations dressed in her wine and blue.

MISSOURI BETA PEGGY MORROW, recently elected president of the National Speakers Association, has published her new book, "Customer Service: The Key To Your Competitive Edge."

BLOOMINGTON, INDIANA ALUMNAE CLUB hosted 48 local Pi Phis and Kappas for the ninth annual Monmouth Duo Luncheon, May 18, 1996. Indiana Beta Kathleen Wallace Smith, State Senator, spoke of her experiences from "Pi Phi to Politics." The two clubs alternate hosting the luncheon each year.

KANSAS ALPHA ANNE BURKE

MILLER, a partner in the law firm of Seaton, Miller and Bell, L.L.P., recently received an Outstanding Service Award from the Kansas Bar Association President John Vratil. Outstanding Service Awards recognize lawyers for meritorious service or deeds which significantly advance the administration of justice or the goals of the association. Anne's community involvement includes serving on the Board of Directors for the United Way of Riley County, Flint Hills Junior League, Future Manhattan and CASA of Riley County. She is a frequent lecturer at community and professional seminars on topics ranging from estate planning to domestic violence and divorce.

As a summer fund raiser, the DENVER ALUMNAE CLUB worked at a concession stand at the Colorado Rockies baseball game in August. Katie Tintzman, Kelly Hoyman, Rae Ann Paden and Megan Mykytka participated in the fund raiser.

PHILADELPHIA MAIN LINE ALUMNAE CLUB celebrated its 20th year of sponsoring a baseball benefit for the Epilepsy Foundation of Southeastern Pennsylvania. The benefit was held May 10, 1996, at the Philadelphia Phillies baseball game with a superbox buffet at Veterans Stadium in downtown Philadelphia. The Epilepsy Foundation presented an engraved clock to the club for its 20 years of service.

The WYOMING ALPHA graduating class of 1956 met June 21, 1996 in Story, Wyoming for a 40th reunion celebration. The weekend was spent at Beth Garbutt and Ann Garbutt Ryan's cabin.

THE AURORA ALUMNAE CLUB

in Colorado recently received their charter. The newest alumnae club held its first meeting and has a potential of more than 130 members.

A group of 11 PENNSYLVANIA EPSILONS returned to their alma mater, Pennsylvania State University, for their 40th class reunion. The 11 members of the class of '54 toured the campus, enjoyed a luncheon at the Corner Room and reminisced with pictures and a slide show.

ILLINOIS EPSILONS and ILLINOIS ALPHAS found a common meeting ground at the Peter, Paul and Mary concert in Ravinia, Highland Park, Illinois. The group of Illinois Epsilons from Northwestern spotted the Monmouth College alumnae by a college banner they were flying. The two groups quickly realized their commonality in Pi Beta Phi.

THE SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA ALUMNAE CLUB has provided scholarships to collegiate Pi Phis in the northern California area for more than 30 years. This year, the alumnae club awarded two scholarships for $700 each. The scholarship recipients were from California Beta, University of California, Berkeley and California Theta, University of California, Davis.

KANSAS ALPHA DANA HUDKINS CRAWFORD was the recipient of the Louise du Pont Crowninshield Award for her efforts in preservation. The Denver National Trust and the Denver Eulipions invited more than 500 of Dana's friends to a black-tie affair to recognize her efforts.

Little Rock Alumnae Club Race for the Cure: A Husband's Thoughts

Six

a.m. Saturdays are usually for sleeping. Last Saturday, though, it was the start of a few most amazing hours. I was privileged to participate with a group of Little Rock Pi Phis and several thousand of their friends in the annual "Race for the Cure."

On September 21, the Little Rock Alumnae Club sponsored a team of Pi Beta Phis to "Race for the Cure." More than 25 members of the club participated. It was the club's first time participating in this event.

My duties involved loading, unloading, transportation and photography. Easy work from my viewpoint. Real easy when I realized how motivated all these women were for one moment in time. Their dedication to unite in support for the war against cancer was overwhelming.

When the group of Little Rock alumnae melded with the thousands of their sisters in life, I was moved to believe that together anything could be accomplished. I was proud of them and felt very fortunate to spend the morning with them.

As I watched my bride, her sisters, our friends and our daughter head for the finish line, I knew I was in the presence of power. Cure will surely come and it will be largely because of the dedication and bravery of women like these.

Houston Alumnae Club

Diamond Moments Highlight Club's Founding

The Houston Alumnae Club was founded in 1921, just one year after the ratification of the 19th amendment which gave women the right to vote. College women were emerging from universities with a greater sense of purpose. Women had only in recent decades begun attending college, when the Pi Phi alumnae of Houston pulled together. They have been making a difference ever since.

To celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Houston Alumnae Club during this year, a series of "Diamond Moments," highlighting events of each of the Pi Phi decades, was introduced at the first meeting in September. Each gathering will feature highlights, culminating with a birthday celebration at Founders' Day in the spring.

CALIFORNIA ZETA CARRIE

MELMED works for United States Senator Dianne Feinstein. Through her position, she became involved in the Senate-sponsored program, "Everybody Wins! Power Lunch." Each week, she reads a book and eats lunch with an inner-city elementary school third-grader Joseph Kelly. They read books, including, "The Giving Tree," "The Very Hungry Caterpillar" and "Where the Wild Things Are," and talk about sports, school, family and friends. "This is without a doubt my favorite hour of the week," says Carrie. "My life can be hectic and my job may be stressful, but his smile, a big hug, a high five, and the look in Joseph's eye when he sounds out a tough word makes what I do worthwhile."

Catch the Spirit

September 12–16, Pi Phi officers converged on Arrowmont for Officers' Leadership Workshop (OLW). "Catch the Pi Phi Spirit" was this year's theme.

New Alumnae and Collegiate Province Presidents arrived a day before veteran officers for an additional day of officer training. During a portion of the weekend, Grand Council, Directors, continuing APPS, CPPs and Central Office staff participated on task forces that included: Alumnae/Collegiate Relations, Chapter Reporting, Goals and Evaluations, Chapter Programming, and CPP Job/Responsibilities.

APPs and CPPs met in separate breakout sessions as well as joint sessions. New Arrowmont Board of Governors Chairman Dawn Sheeler Ford led seminars and exercises on team building and leadership.

Other events throughout the weekend included a picnic, a slide presentation and tour of Arrowmont and a special Cookie Shine.

This year's OLW was cosponsored with Arrowmont.

Message from the President

Throughout this annual report you will find memories, some amusing, many of them poignant, which have been shared by Pi Phis in their response to the Foundation's annual appeal through the Friendship Fund. Each memory is as unique as the Pi Phi who wrote it, yet all express the intrinsic value of the lifetime friendships to be found through our Fraternity.

Activities of the Foundation during the 1995-96 year have been multifaceted in the efforts to fulfill our mission. As of December 31, 1995, the Foundation's responsibilities for the Campaign for Arrowmont concluded, though efforts will continue to see all pledges fulfilled. Under the leadership of Campaign Chairman Jean Wirths Scott, the original goal of $2.3 million has been exceeded through contributions to the Foundation and directly to Arrowmont to reach more than $2.8 million.

Now the Foundation's major efforts are directed toward funding Fraternity programs and member needs. Among our goals is the establishment of Chapter Leadership Education Endowments (CLEE) for each of the active chapters. Within one year, three CLEEs were established. The endowments will assure development of member leadership skills which first benefit their chapter and campus, then their career, their community and ultimately the world at large.

The Foundation has granted 40 undergraduate scholarships, five Alumnae Continuing Education Scholarships and four graduate fellowships to be used during the 1996-97 academic year. One graduate fellowship was made possible through a special appeal to graduating seniors. Contributions by fraternity officers to a holiday greeting card fund made possible the granting of three of the undergraduate scholarships. The St. Louis, Missouri Alumnae Club and Sign of the Arrow, funded two $2,500 undergraduate scholarships which were awarded to collegians from the Missouri area. Nine Arrowmont scholarships were awarded for one-week sessions at the school.

The Emma Harper Turner Fund, now administered by the Foundation, continues to offer monthly "gifts of love" to alumnae in severe financial need. Through a grant from the St. Louis Alumnae Club and Sign of the Arrow, monthly stipends were increased 20% this year, the first increase in nearly 15 years. Currently 14 Pi Phi alumnae are recipients of these gifts.

While generous restricted gifts provided for some vital needs, the proceeds from the Foundation's annual Friendship Fund appeal continue to supplement essential funding for many scholarships, graduate fellowships and fraternity programs. Convention and leadership seminar speakers, Links to Literacy materials, graduate consultant training in qualifying subjects and grants to Arrowmont continue to be priorities for Foundation funding through Friendship Fund gifts.

In addition to such efforts, the Trustees are holding informational meetings with alumnae in many areas to share news of the Fraternity and to describe the work of the Foundation.

The close of the fiscal year saw the retirement of Trustees Texas Alpha Ann Dudgeon Phy and Nebraska Beta Mary Ann Behlen Hruska. Ann Phy served as the first President of the Foundation and, in her last year on the Board, as Secretary; Mary Ann Hruska served as Treasurer since the Foundation's establishment. Two new members to the Board are Texas Beta Ann Warmack Brookshire and Iowa Eta Elizabeth Davenport Garrels who have been elected to serve as Treasurer and Secretary respectively.

The Trustees are very grateful for the support of so many loyal Pi Phis. You are the ones who have enabled us to accomplish all we have in our first six years, and the ones who have given many other Pi Phis such warm memories of their Fraternity experiences. Your continuing support will be as valuable to Pi Phi's future as it is appreciated.

“The best part about Pi Phi friendships is the security of knowing there will always be someone to listen in times of need, someone to go out with in times of happiness and someone to just laugh with at any time.”

*—Blair Young, California
Gamma '91*

Cumulative Giving

Members of Pi Beta Phi have generously supported the mission of our Fraternity first through gifts directly to the Fraternity and now through their commitment to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation. In less than 20 years, more than $6.9 million has been contributed by individual alumnae, alumnae clubs, collegiate chapters and other friends of Pi Beta Phi. This is a success of which all can be proud and it is a tradition upon which the Foundation aspires to build.

Donors to the Foundation support a host of programs including leadership training, scholarships for alumnae and collegians, the Emma Harper Turner Fund and Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts.

Here we honor the cumulative giving of donors who made at least one gift during the 1995-96 fiscal year and have a lifetime giving level of $500 or more. Those who have contributed a total of $20,000 or more, regardless of whether or not a gift was made in the most recent year, are honored as members of the Wine and Blue Circle.

Pi Beta Phi Foundation

Emma Harper Turner Fund

As one is kept busy with day-to-day activities it is sometimes easy to forget those who find it difficult to get through one day after another. It is unfortunate and tragic, but in our society today, people do find themselves in undesirable situations which create severe financial hardships.

Across the country, there are Pi Phi members who find themselves in these predicaments.

With a hand out to help, the Pi Beta Phi Foundation provides monthly "gifts of love" to several of these women. These gifts are provided through the Emma Harper Turner Fund.

Sponsored by Pi Phi friends, 14 alumnae received confidential assistance as authorized by the Emma Harper Turner Fund Committee.

Because of the generosity of a major gift by the St. Louis, Missouri Alumnae Club and Sign of the Arrow, the Foundation has been able to increase the amount of the financial aid available to deserving alumnae.

Chapter Leadership Education Endowments

In accord with the mission of the Pi Beta Phi Foundation and to meet the needs of the Fraternity and its members, the Foundation Board of Trustees has determined that it is essential to increase support for leadership training of our collegiate members. Providing such training today helps to ensure that these women will develop skills to assist them in being productive and contributing members of our society.

To this end, the Foundation is actively seeking funding to support the attendance of collegiate chapter leaders at summer leadership seminars and Pi Beta Phi's biennial convention and to fund speakers on qualifying subjects at their chapter or campus. Donors are invited to endow a fund supporting a particular chapter(s). Thus far, three chapters—Iowa Zeta, Texas Alpha and Texas Beta—have benefited through this program. Several other funds are being established.

A primary goal of the Foundation Board of Trustees and staff is to secure endowments for each Fraternity chapter.

Peg Houston Speaker's Fund

Through the Peg Houston Speakers Fund, the Foundation is able to fund keynote speakers of high calibre at biennial Pi Beta Phi conventions.

Established in 1994, this fund remembers Margaret "Peg" George Houston, Colorado Alpha. Peg served Pi Phi in numerous ways and is remembered for her leadership abilities and caring manner. She died tragically in a mountain climbing accident. Peg's husband John, her brother William and many friends have paid tribute to her memory through this special fund.

Ways of Giving

Donors to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation contribute using a variety of vehicles. For many, gifts of outright cash are easiest. Other donors have chosen to make gifts of appreciated stock as well as providing for the Foundation through estate planning such as bequests in wills and gifts of insurance. If you would like to explore different ways of giving, contact the Foundation for information.

Matching Gifts

Many employers will match gifts made by employees and/or their spouses to qualifying 501(c)(3) organizations such as the Pi Beta Phi Foundation. Some employers will match retired employees' gifts as well as planned gifts.

The Pi Beta Phi Foundation thanks the corporations and corporate foundations which have matched employees' gifts to the Foundation during the course of the 1995-96 fiscal year.

These companies are:

ARCO Foundation
Bank of Boston Corporation
BP America
The Coca-Cola Company
Cray Research Foundation
Crestar Financial Corporation
DomestiClean
General Foods
Harcourt General, Inc.
Hoechst Celanese Corporation
Kansas City Southern Industries, Inc.
KeyCorp Management Company
The Kresge Foundation
Leo Burnett Company, Inc.
Lilly Endowment, Inc.
Microsoft Corporation
NUVEEN/John Nuveen & Co., Inc.
Oscar Mayer
Pfizer, Inc.
Philip Morris Companies, Inc.
U S West Foundation
W. W. Grainger, Inc.

“In a single word my Pi Phi friendships are: Forever.”

—Rachel McCarthy,
California Eta '92

1995-96 Friendship Fund "Friends Ever & Again"

The phrase "Friends Ever & Again" served as the theme of the 1995-96 Friendship Fund and undoubtedly best sums up what it means to be part of our Fraternity. Pi Phi friends joined together during the year and contributed more than $310,000 to the Friendship Fund. These unrestricted gifts were primarily received as a result of the Foundation's direct mail and telemarketing efforts.

The following list includes all donors, by chapter, who made gifts to the Friendship Fund for the year of July 1, 1995 through June 30, 1996. Those contributing at various levels are so noted. A key to the levels can be found throughout the listing. Donors receive credit for matching gifts from their employers.

Throughout the year, Pi Phis also joined in sharing their memories of friendships. Heartwarming memories were received on a daily basis. Some are shared in this report and other Foundation publications. All will be included in a book of memories to be on display during the 1997 biennial convention as well as at other Foundation events.

Our Fraternity and Foundation are strong because of the generosity of our donors ... Pi Phis are like that!

“ As an alum initiate my Pi Phi friendships have been through our Arlington Heights, Illinois Alumnae Club—and through my three Pi Phi daughters, their Pi Phi friends and now my Pi Phi granddaughter who just graduated from the University of Iowa! The love and friendship shown by these special angels cannot be described in this short paragraph. It is the best. Pi Beta Phi forever!”

—Betty Lou Olson Bukowski, Illinois Epsilon '86

“My Pi Beta Phi friendships were made during World War II. I think we were especially close because there were very few men on campus. We wrote letters to service men and worked together to support the war effort. In a time of uncertainty, Pi Phi provided us with stability.”

“My first memory when thinking back to my college days living in the sorority house involves a commitment that Diana and I made to get up early every morning and study. Every morning I remember going into Diana's room and jiggling her curlers to wake her up. This commitment kept us going.”

Arrowmont Scholarships

Pi Beta Phi's national philanthropy, Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts, offers courses during the spring and summer every year. These courses are designed for those who are experts in the field of arts and crafts and for those who simply want to explore a new arena.

The Pi Beta Phi Foundation offers scholarships for Arrowmont courses. These scholarships give preference to Pi Beta Phi members. As with academic scholarships, application forms can be obtained by contacting the Foundation Office.

Pi Beta Phi Foundation

“Collegiate

Pi Phi memories are just the 'tip of the iceberg!' The buried treasure is the wealth of fun and friendship awaiting us in alumnae organizations! Each year, my circle of wine and blue widens through working, playing, laughing—and sometimes even crying—with Pi Phis I know from my alumnae club. The spirit of Pi Beta Phi never stops giving.”

“ I learned the true meaning of Pi Phi friendship
after being seriously burned in an explosion at work less than five months
after graduation.
Literally hundreds of Pi Phis—local alumnae and actives at many chapters—wrote during the long months of my hospitalization and long recuperation.
Those letters truly did make a difference at a very difficult time. ”

“My grandmother would sing Pi Phi songs to me when I was a child. She did not realize how special she made Pi Phi in my eyes. She was my first Pi Phi friend and is still my special Pi Phi angel. I love her for many reasons, but especially for leading me to Pi Phi.”

“My college sisters were the greatest! I loved my times living in our Emerson Street house — the lime green carpet, the candle ceremonies, rush week entertainment, Saturday night hair in rollers, Sunday dress dinner, fun chapter meetings and 2 o'clock hours! Who could forget it?”

“My first husband died of cancer at the age of 36. My local Pi Phi alumnae club was very supportive of him, me and our three children during his illness. I vividly remember the day I opened a letter with a check enclosed from the Emma Harper Turner Fund. Certainly the money was needed and appreciated but even more important were the hands of friendship that it represented. This happened 25 years ago but my heart still remembers.”

“The '48

Iowa Gammas have been sharing experiences for 44 years via an originally-styled round robin which migrates spring and fall. Keeping current on one another's families and activities has enhanced our traditional Iowa State reunions as well as our private Bed & Breakfast exchanges. My Phi connections rank close to my family connections.”

“ Pi Phi

Forever! It truly has been.

*From that 1945
day, I first wore my golden pin!*

*Fifty years later,
My Pi Phi friends are true.*

A loving caring family. All bound by the wine and blue! ”

New Chapter Installation

California Mu Installation

The installation of California Mu on October 19, 1996 marks the beginning of a National Panhellenic system at Pepperdine University's campus.

Pepperdine University is an independent university enrolling approximately 7,800 students including both undergraduate and graduate. Picturesquely located where the Santa Monica mountains reach the Pacific Ocean, the college campus enjoys a commanding view of both. The winding seashore, the rugged beauty of Malibu Canyon, and the clean ocean air enhance the modern, towering campus location.

This year, there are seven nationally-affiliated panhellenic groups on campus, including: Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Kappa.

In 1984 Pi Gamma Phi, a local group, was established at Pepperdine University with the intent and hope that someday they would become a chapter of Pi Beta Phi. When Pepperdine University decided to allow national organizations to affiliate with the local groups, having a Pi Phi chapter at Pepperdine became possible.

Last year California Mu was recognized for their academic excellence by Pepperdine University. They were awarded the Best Academic Sorority, based on their number one ranking grade point average.

Installation activities for California Mu were held the weekend of October 18-20. Collegians and alumnae representing 33 chapters were present for the weekend's activities. The local Installation Committee was headed by Chairman Anne Zantop Cioffi with Kathi Hobbs Chulick, Tracy Oleson Friedl, Juliette Deinum-Buck, Karen Emberton, Jennifer Gapasin Yguico, Keri Roylance Karabats, Kim Everson Gordonson, Roberta Bliss Pittman, Nita Core Dunkle, Janis Marie Harasick and Sandy Glickman.

Events began on Friday evening with the review of the Constitution and Statutes by Alpha-Zeta Collegiate Province President Jan Kincaid Clifford and Alumnae Province President Jill Jensen Meynen. Immediately following was the formal pledging ceremony for alumnae initiates, including Rochelle Barcellona and Rebecca Cobb Brown, original founders of the Pi Gamma Phi group, and Meghan Noble, daughter of Ruth Neel Noble, Director of Fraternity Education.

Following the formal Pledging Ceremony, the Preparatory Service was held in Elkins Auditorium. After the service, parents and family members were invited into the auditorium for introductions of Fraternity officers. The extension slide show, which tells the history and current activities of Pi Beta Phi, was then presented. Following the slide show, a Cookie Shine was held at Calamigos Ranch in Malibu. Guests enjoyed the festivities and lovely atmosphere of the wooded ranch. The program for the evening included: The History of the Cookie Shine by Resident Graduate Consultant Carrie Joyce, the Eight Pearls Ceremony, return of the pledge pin, and remarks by Chapter President Breeze Cooper.

The Initiation Ceremony was held at the First Presbyterian Church in Santa Monica. Grand President Beth van Maanen Beatty conducted the ceremony for 33 undergraduate women and 31 alumnae initiates. She was assisted by Grand President of Membership Carol Inge Warren, Grand Vice President of Collegians Sara Ruth "Sis" Mullis and Grand Vice President of Program Development Maurine Hager Jones.

There are 42 collegiate members of California Mu, nine are currently studying overseas and will be initiated when they return.

Other participants who attended the installation weekend included: Installation Coordinator Barbara Ehni Van Luven, New Chapter Assistance Officer Michelle Murrell Goseco and Traveling Graduate Consultant Bryn Wilkinson.

Saturday evening's banquet was held at the Miramar Sheraton in Santa Monica. Toastmistress Anne Cioffe introduced the evening's program. The chapter received many gifts and generous donations from chapters and alumnae clubs from across the county. The gifts presented at the banquet included: a Loving Cup from the Alpha-Zeta Province chapters and a silver tray and President's pin from Grand Council.

On Sunday a model chapter meeting was held on campus. The meeting was conducted by Maurine Jones and other international Fraternity officers. Beth Beatty installed the chapter officers and AAC members.

Following the model chapter meeting, a reception was held in the Fireside Room of the Tyler Campus Center overlooking the majestic Pacific Ocean. Pepperdine University officials, Pi Beta Phi alumnae, friends and family of the initiates were in attendance. More than 150 guests were in attendance for the wonderful closing of a beautiful and special weekend for Pi Beta Phi.

Collegiate News

UTAH ALPHA supports a tutorial program with a local Salt Lake City elementary school for students who need extra help. Students are invited to the University of Utah for afterschool help. Amanda Wissler volunteers her time in a first grade classroom. Amy Herold and Leslie Rex volunteer their talents to educate disabled citizens in sports activities. Kimberly Barnett works at a rape recovery center and helps to educate others on rape awareness. Ann Varanakos volunteers at a local women's clinic educating teens and young adults on sexual health.

Whether teaching sportsmanship at the Special Olympics or volunteering to read at nursing homes, MISSOURI ALPHAS at the University of Missouri dedicate their time toward educating others.

MICHIGAN BETAS are involved in the University of Michigan Mentorship Program. This program offers older students the opportunity to be mentors for incoming freshmen and new students.

PENNSYLVANIA EPSILONS have been recognized for having the second highest GPA out of 21 sororities at Penn State University. Pennsylvania Epsilon promotes educational enrichment for its members by recognizing members for their academic achievements. Members are also active in a variety of educational honor societies on campus, including Golden Key Honor Society and Phi Eta Sigma Honor Fraternity.

TENNESSEE GAMMAS are involved in many educational groups such as the MBA program, peer mentor and academic advisory committee at the University of Tennessee.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA Erin Baker, runs the Student Administration Voter Registration Committee at West Virginia University, which helps educate young voters. She also tutors at-risk youth.

CALIFORNIA GAMMAS at the University of Southern California participate in "SC Stars," a program sponsored by the University of Southern California's IFC/Panhellenic Councils. Greeks visit area elementary schools to recognize young students for their academic achievements. Several California Gammas also participate in USC's Joint Educational Project, aiding course instruction in the public schools.

OHIO IOTAS at the University of Dayton are participating in Project Read. Nora Burke is a writing tutor for the Write Place at the Learning Assistance Center on the University of Dayton Campus. Amy Bartles teaches low income, minority third graders how to develop positive communication and leadership skills, through a program sponsored by the Family Services Association.

TENNESSEE BETAS at Vanderbilt University participate in Nashville Read. Members create teaching tools to help the illiterate adults of Nashville learn to read. Danielle Bruno, Katie Hill, Sarah Latterner and Amber Poole volunteer at Edgehill Community Center, participating in an after school tutoring program. Kelly West participates in the Regional Intervention Program, where she works with parents who have children with mild to severe behavioral problems. Allison Bonsall and Shelly Edlund tutor fellow students at the Vanderbilt Learning Center.

MISSOURI GAMMAS sponsored a motivational speaker for Alcohol Awareness week at Drury College. Missouri Gammas also hold a Scholarship Banquet to recognize academic excellence of its members.

WASHINGTON BETAS at Washington State University volunteer their time tutoring, being peer advisors and working at the Palouse Regional Crisis Line.

NEBRASKA BETA Katie Hamer, served two years as the Basic Aid Coordinator for Campus Red Cross at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln campus and volunteered to teach students CPR in elementary schools. Margaret Wells volunteers with Lincoln's Charlie Brown's Kids. This program is for children who have a deceased parent.

VIRGINIA ZETAS at Virginia Tech work to educate others in their community through the Adopt-A-School program. Members volunteer their time tutoring students who need special help. The chapter also uses a "study buddy" system, pairing teams according to academic majors.

OHIO THETAS attended many of the workshops and work fairs during National Health Month at Bowling Green State University. Members also volunteer at community libraries helping children with their reading skills.

TEXAS GAMMAS help to educate young children by volunteering their time reading at the Angel Library. Texas Gammas are also involved in the HOSTS program, Helping Other Students to Succeed. This includes visiting local elementary schools to help children who need extra attention.

Collegiate NEWS

In order to promote positive relationships between university faculty and the members of INDIANA EPSILON, the chapter sponsors a "Pi This and Profs" dinner each semester at DePauw University. Many Indiana Epsilons also participate in Sports Night. This program gives elementary school students the opportunity to be introduced to new people and new activities with college students as their instructors.

TEXAS ETAS at Texas A & M University volunteer their time tutoring at a local boys home. Twice a week members of Texas Eta help the boys with their reading, writing and math skills.

IOWA ZETAS at the University of Iowa are involved in various educational groups, including Big Brother/Big Sister Program, Communities and Partnerships in Education, Students to Assist Recruitment and Student Alumni Ambassadors. Members also volunteer at the university hospital, schools and day care centers throughout the city.

INDIANA DELTAS Aimee Nicholson and Lara Oomkes volunteer with the Adopt-a-School program. In the program Purdue University students serve as mentors to elementary age children.

NEW YORK ALPHAS Kristen Einstein and Leslie Rice volunteer at the Syracuse Department for Parks Recreation and Youth Programs, tutoring inner-city elementary students. This youth program was established in 1996 by Julianne Kaputa, a New York Alpha alumna. Members at Syracuse University are also implementing a new project, in which each member will be paired with an elementary Syracuse student to start a pen pal relationship.

COLORADO ALPHAS at the University of Colorado are involved in the Boulder-based program Adopt-A-School. Through this program each Colorado Alpha is assigned to a local elementary school and helps to tutor the students. Liz Bacon volunteers her time helping children with autism.

TENNESSEE DELTAS at the University of Memphis are involved in numerous academic and educational organizations, including: E.S.P., a student to student tutoring program, the Peer/Mentor program, the University of Memphis Athletic Academic Tutoring program, Pi Kappa Honor Society and the Golden Key Honor Society. Tennessee Deltas volunteer in the community through the Final Net Tutoring Program for underprivileged children.

PENNSYLVANIA ETAS at Lafayette College are involved in daily activities ranging from educational tutoring to informing others about current health issues. Members of Pennsylvania Eta tutor other Lafayette students on campus, children attending elementary schools in Easton and prisoners wishing to pass their high school equivalency exam.

National Panhellenic Conference

"The Year of the Scholar"

by Jean Wirths Scott, NPC Chairman

"We know we have good scholarship ... and we know we can do even better!"

Those were the thoughts around the boardroom table when the chairmen of all National Panhellenic Conference committees gathered recently to discuss priorities and direction for 1997. The NPC Creed reads, "we promote good scholarship, good health and fine standards." A logical focus, then, for the NPC and its 26-member groups would be to combine good scholarship and standards, and to strive for the highest academic standards possible.

At the Interim Session of the Conference this fall, the 26-member groups adopted unanimously a Resolution declaring 1997 to be "The Year of the Scholar." College and Alumnae Panhellenics and each of the 26 women's fraternities will make scholarship and academic integrity #1 priorities. There is potential for commitment from more than 2,800 collegiate chapters, 5,200 alumnae chapters, and 3 million fraternity women. Goals will be set, intellectual interests expanded, honor rolls and other forms of recognition established, and seminars held. Preliminary materials will be distributed by the first of the year.

NPC's Academic Excellence Committee and its Year of the Scholar sub-committee will direct the work of the initiative. Representing Pi Beta Phi at the Interim Session of the Conference to express the Fraternity's 100% support for "The Year of the Scholar" were delegation members: Jean Wirths Scott, Jo Ann Minor Roderick, Ann Warmack Brookshire and Mary Lu Pendergrast Meixel and Grand President Beth van Maanen Beatty. Mary Lu Meixel serves in a public relations capacity on the Year of the Scholar committee.

Year of the Scholar Proclamation

Hear Ye, Hear Ye, Hear Ye ...

Let it be known to all in the interfraternity world that the National Panhellenic Conference duly proclaims nineteen hundred and ninety seven as the National Panhellenic Conference Year of the Scholar, and Let it be known that during this year ...

Every collegiate fraternity woman will set high academic goals and seek to reach her intellectual potential;

Every collegiate and alumnae member will inspire and guide her Panhellenic sisters to practice academic integrity; and Every NPC member fraternity will challenge its members to strive for academic achievement and intellectual interests beyond the classroom.

Let it also be known that during this year ...

Every College Panhellenic will set an academic goal which exceeds the all women's average on that campus;

Every College Panhellenic will pursue recognition on the NPC Academic Honor Roll;

Every College Panhellenic will recognize all fraternity women who achieve above the all-women's average, and further recognize those who are on the Dean's List;

Every College Panhellenic will recognize all NPC chapters that achieve above the all women's average;

Every College Panhellenic will foster academic excellence through seminars devoted to successful learning skills; and

Every College Panhellenic will establish a master calendar that recognizes academic performance as the highest priority.

Let it be further known that ...

Every Alumnae Panhellenic will honor at one meeting during the year its representatives who are members of academic honor societies, including but not limited to Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Mortar Board;

Every Alumnae Panhellenic will recognize all 4.0 or equivalent Panhellenic scholars in their local College Panhellenic;

Every Alumnae Panhellenic will set aside meeting time to become better informed on fraternity issues, global issues, or other academic endeavors; and Finally, let all fraternity women faithfully promise ...

To pursue knowledge with renewed vigor in accordance with the ideals expressed in the Panhellenic Creed.

This proclamation is hereby decreed to take effect on January 1, 1997, and to remain operational throughout every day of the Year of the Scholar. Let all our actions and deeds as fraternity women reflect our dedication to knowledge, integrity, excellence in scholarship and the pursuit of truth.

Pi Beta Phi's Mentoring & Networking Program

Networking Success through the Directions Program

I want to share with you a unique Pi Phi experience that I have had. I am a Virginia Zeta who graduated in May 1995. Upon graduation, I sent my Directions form off, hopeful I would receive some contacts to network in the D.C. area. I received a handful of names. One of the names was Karen Chevalier who graduated from UCLA. Karen works for US News and World Report as the Director of Operations. When I contacted her, she gave me some advice and names of people to call in her organization. In a month, I was an employee of the magazine, which seemed unbelievable to me. Working for a major magazine was something I had always wanted to do.

I was hired as a research reporter to work on an article about America's Best Graduate Schools and America's Best Colleges for annual guides. The college guide just came out this month. I wrote about Pi Phi being the oldest women's fraternity and founded at Monmouth College. I'm really proud to have it published. It is a good feeling to give something back to an organization that has done so much to help me.

Through Pi Phi, I have met some of the best friends I will ever have. In college, I shared many wonderful and memorable experiences with my Virginia Zeta sisters. And now that I am out of school, Pi Phi has helped me find a place in the world. I am very grateful.

Directions Dynamo

California Delta Karen Shelton Chevalier is an enthusiastic supporter of the Directions Program. Karen helped Heather by providing several contacts in the communications field. Karen enjoys helping Pi Phis new to the Washington, D.C. area.

Karen has been active in the Northern Virginia Alumnae Club since 1979. She currently serves the Fraternity as Zeta Collegiate Province President.

If you have given or received support through Directions, Pi Phis mentoring and networking program, please share your unique experience with our readers. Send information to The ARROW of Pi Beta Phi, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, MO, 63105.

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg Crest Award Nomination Forms Available

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg Crest Award nomination forms are available through Pi Beta Phi Central Office. The CHL Crest Award is given to distinguished alumnae who exhibit excellence and outstanding leadership in their professions and careers or in volunteer service to their communities. The award honors Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg who served the Fraternity as Grand President from 1985-91. For more information and a nomination form, contact Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, Missouri 63105, (314) 727-7338.

New Fraternity Directory

In Search of ... all Pi Beta Phi Fraternity Alumnae.

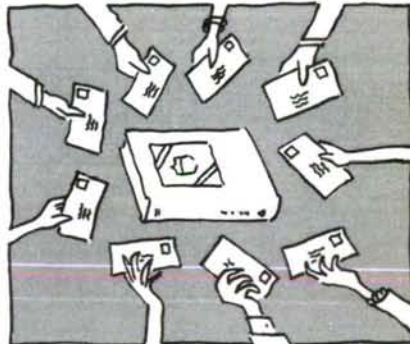

Have you ever tried to get in touch with an old classmate only to find that the last address you have in your telephone directory is eight years old? Well, your troubles are over. Soon an impressive directory of our alumnae will be available to help you locate all your old friends.

The new Pi Beta Phi Fraternity Alumnae Directory, scheduled for release in November/December 1997, will be the most up-to-date and complete reference of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity alumnae ever compiled! This comprehensive volume will include current name, address and phone number, academic data, and, if applicable, business information.

Central Office has contracted the Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc. to produce our bound, library-quality directory. Harris will soon begin researching and compiling the information to be printed in the directory by mailing a questionnaire to each alumna. If you prefer not to be listed in the directory, please contact Central Office in writing as soon as possible.

The new Pi Beta Phi Fraternity Alumnae Directory will soon make finding an alumna as easy as opening a book. Look for more details on the project in future issues of The ARROW.

NPC Wear Your Badge Day

The National Panhellenic Conference is sponsoring the first "Wear Your Badge Day" March 3, 1997. NPC is encouraging all Greek women to support this day by wearing your badge or letters while at work, school or in the community. The date coincides with the beginning of Women's History Month. NPC hopes this will become an annual event. Support Pi Beta Phi and Greek women everywhere by wearing your badge or letters on March 3, 1997.

News & Notes

Marilyn Simpson Ford Award

The Marilyn Simpson Ford Award was established in 1989 by Pi Beta Phi to honor Marilyn's service as editor of The ARROW. The award honors an individual who represents a CFEA-member organization and has distinguished themselves through outstanding service.

This year's recipient of the Marilyn Simpson Ford Award is Erv Johnson, with Beta Theta Pi.

Erv Johnson was initiated into the Gamma Gamma Chapter of Beta Theta Pi at the University of Idaho in 1950. Since that time, he has given his life in distinguished service to both the communication world and to Beta Theta Pi.

Erv served as public relations manager for Pittsburgh National Bank for three years before opening his own public relations counseling firm, L.E. Johnson & Associates, in Boise, Idaho, which he headed for 20 years.

From 1987-1992, he was in Algrave, Portugal, first as managing editor for Travelpress Europe which publishes Algrave Magazine, Algrave News and Algrave Property. More recently he served as editor of two of Europe's leading Travel Magazines.

He has written numerous network TV scripts for shows such as Rod Serling's, "The Twilight Zone" and "My Three Sons." He is an actor, a journalist and a playwright. He has also written two fiction and two non-fiction novels, along with numerous features, articles and brochures. He is listed in Who's Who in Commerce and Industry, Who's Who in the West, and Who's Who in Public Relations.

Convention

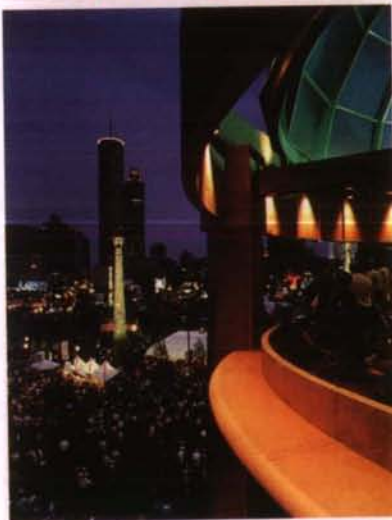

Call to Convention

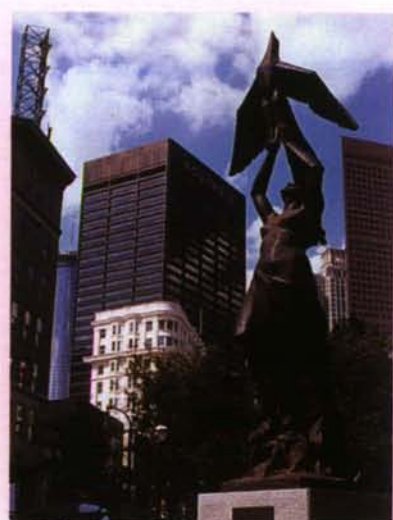

With "Pi Phi on My Mind" we will gather in the Olympic City of Atlanta, Georgia for the Fraternity's 61st Biennial Convention June 28–July 2, 1997. Our convention hotel, Atlanta's Marriot Marquis, is conveniently located in the heart of downtown Atlanta's Peachtree Center. The breathtaking architecture of the 47 story atrium is dazzling, and the gracious hospitality of the staff will make your stay enjoyable.

Convention 1997 promises opportunities to renew old friendships, make new friends and have fun while perfecting leadership skills and enjoying outstanding speakers. Alumnae and collegians will be brought together as they share time conducting business, electing officers, voting on legislation, seeing award presentations and participating in meaningful ceremonies. Convention is truly what Pi Phi is about ... friendship.

Help create the future direction of the Fraternity. Come to Atlanta, June 28–July 2 with Pi Phi on your mind.

—GRAND COUNCIL OF PI BETA PHI

About Atlanta

Atlanta, the sight of the 1997 Pi Beta Phi International Convention, is an ever-changing and growing city rich with Southern culture and the excitement of a vibrant international urban center. As the recent host of the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games and 1996 Paralympic Games, Atlanta was proud to be a part of the two largest sporting events in the world.

Popular attractions such as the World of Coca-Cola, Georgia's Stone Mountain Park, Six Flags over Georgia and Zoo Atlanta ensure fun for everyone. Those coming to the convention can also enjoy exclusive shopping at Atlanta's finest stores. Phipps Plaza, Underground Atlanta and Lenox Square Mall offer an exceptional shopping experience.

Atlanta is consistently ranked as one of the top convention cities in the nation. The three million residents who live in the 5,000-square mile metropolitan area and the 17 million visitors who travel to Atlanta each year will tell you that Atlanta is an exciting destination.

Convention

Wednesday Post Convention Tours

ATLANTA
JULY 2, 1997

Pi Phis should make plans now to attend the "Taste of the Peach" tour of Atlanta while in town for the 1997 Pi Beta Phi Biennial Convention! The tour will provide an overall look at Atlanta—from the city's rich history to its exciting future. Local Pi Phi alumnae have developed a personalized, unique visit to their city. You will see the highlights from the 1996 Olympic games, drive through the famous Peachtree Road area to Buckhead, the premier residential and shopping district in Atlanta. A trip to the Atlanta history Center (a favorite of local committee members) is one of several other interesting stops on the tour. We look forward to seeing everyone at the convention and hope you will end your convention experience with an unforgettable day in Atlanta.

GATLINBURG/ARROWMONT
JULY 2-3, 1997

Convention attendees can enjoy a scenic bus trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee to participate in a guided tour of Arrowmont, Pi Phi's School of Arts and Crafts. The tour includes an overnight stay at a downtown hotel in the heart of Gatlinburg. Tour-goers will enjoy dinner in the Arrowmont dining room and a tour of Arrowmont's new facilities including the wood studio, Heritage Hall, the painting studio and Arrowmont Gallery.

Alumnae Advisory Committee or Chapter House Corporation Seminars

Information and special registration forms for these seminars will be mailed directly to each Alumnae Advisory Committee and Chapter House Corporation chairman. You must be an official member of an AAC or CHC to register.

Individual Meals

Pi Phis who do not have hotel accommodations through Pi Beta Phi may purchase individual meals. Meal reservations must be made through Central Office, with reservation forms and payment due June 6, 1997

Getting to Atlanta

Pi Beta Phi is proud to have Delta as their official carrier for the 1997 Convention. To obtain the lowest available airfare, call Windjammer Travel Service in St. Louis, Missouri. The toll-free number is (800) 633-1545. If Delta does not service your city, Windjammer Travel Service will confirm the best possible route and fare to the Atlanta airport. Please make your calls between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Central Standard Time weekdays.

Request for Convention Visitor Information

I will be a full-time or part-time registrant. Please send me visitor registration materials for a Full-time or Part-time Package which includes information for convention and hotel registration.

I will not need accommodations at the Marriott. Please send me visitor registration materials including individual meal reservation forms for convention activities. I understand that because I will not be a Marriott hotel guest, I must pay the $35 daily registration fee if I wish to attend general sessions or workshops.

Only visitors need to send for registration packets. All official personnel will receive forms directly through chapter, alumnae club and individual mailings.

Convention materials will not be available until January 15, 1997.

Requests for registration materials cannot be honored after Thursday, April 18, 1997

Help us maintain our records

Pi Phi Parents:

Your daughter's magazine is sent to her home address while she is in college, and we hope that you enjoy reading it. If she is no longer in college, however, and is not living at home, please send her new permanent address to Pi Beta Phi Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, MO 63105 using the form below.

Pi Phis:

If you know of Pi Phi sisters who currently are not receiving their magazine or on our mailing list, please inform Central Office using the form below.

Others:

If you are not a member and are receiving this magazine in error, please mark through the address and return to the post office. Thank you!
