Perspective

Why an issue of The ARROW about smoking?

Every two years Pi Beta Phi holds regional Collegiate Leadership Seminars for our undergraduate chapters. Chapter officers are able to attend one of three regional seminars where they share chapter programming ideas, attend an awards banquet and are able to meet in small break-out groups for a session titled "Consults with Council." One of the topics discussed at this year's seminars was undergraduate smoking. Each chapter in attendance was asked to estimate the percentage of members in their chapter who are smokers. Many of our chapter officers estimated that more than 50% of their chapter members smoked. Fraternity officers were shocked at these numbers. So surprised, Grand Council decided to address the topic of smoking in this issue of The ARROW.

We would enjoy receiving your thoughts about smoking. Please feel free to contact The ARROW with your ideas or comments about this issue.

A very special thank you to Jean Orr Donaldson for her contribution to the feature. Jean is the author of "A Century of Friendship in Pi Beta Phi," and served as Fraternity Historian from 1963-77. She has been a member of Oklahoma Beta's Alumnae Advisory Committee as well as president and panhellenic delegate for the Stillwater Alumnae Club. Jean has attended 16 conventions, receiving the Dorothy Weaver Morgan Award for Fraternity Loyalty at the 1993 Convention.

Every Breath You Take

If you mention Oklahoma Beta Jean Orr Donaldson to her collegiate and alumnae Pi Phi sisters, they think of a 70-year-old woman who is strong mentally and emotionally. They think of a woman who readily laughs, who loves having parties at her condo, who enjoys her life. They think of a woman who cares about her friends' health as well as her own.

Yet, in college, Jean made the choice to light her first cigarette. Each cigarette she lit did not remind her of the health hazards the smoke brought to those around her and herself. At a penny per cigarette, she did not think of the financial loss. She simply enjoyed the smell, and why not? She only smoked a few cigarettes a week, plus many of her pledge sisters smoked socially, too ...

Years later, Jean began smoking a pack per day. Her doctor urged her to quit, saying her lungs would heal.

And although Jean was slow to take his advice, she did quit smoking. However, 12 years after quitting, Jean has had to start carrying an oxygen tank because her smoking-induced emphysema makes simple tasks like breathing, laughing and walking difficult. Now, she cannot be around smoke, and she regrets not realizing she made nonsmokers uncomfortable throughout her life.

When Jean chose to quit after more than 40 years of smoking, she realized she was partly responsible for the health of those around her every time she lit, or did not light, a cigarette. The friends and family who helped Jean quit realized they had a responsibility to help someone they loved. Jean knew she had a responsibility to help herself be healthy.

Smoking is a difficult issue. It's not illegal for those under 18. It's socially accepted in many places. It's often looked on as trendy or hip. Yet on the flip side, smoking is also dirty, unhealthy and deadly. Jean's situation is one of the more tragic smoking stories, but it's not unusual. Jean made a choice she was entitled to make. After years of smoking her advice now is simply, "don't." But, it's ultimately up to you. It's your life and the life of those around you. It's ultimately your responsibility.

Lung cancer kills more women than breast cancer.

As we heighten our health awareness, we need to look truthfully at smoking. As women, we have a choice to take care of our bodies. We know we need to perform monthly breast self examinations. We know we need to have yearly check-ups to fight against possible ovarian and cervical cancers. But, we don't have a choice whether we contract these different cancers. Yet daily, many women choose to increase their chances of lung cancer and heart disease every time they light a cigarette.

General healthy living is a focus of many women. We exercise religiously, we eat sparingly and yet many women also smoke regularly. Smoking does change your body's metabolic rate, so you do burn calories faster. However, according to Ann Schensky, Education and Outreach Program Director for the Center for Tobacco Research and Intervention of the Department of Medicine at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, you would need to gain 80 to 100 pounds to put the same amount of strain on your heart as smoking a pack of cigarettes.

There are no ultimate differences in weight between persons who have never smoked and those who have quit.

For women, the easiest choice is to quit before starting, before getting addicted. Ann says smoking, like any addiction, begins with a choice. "You choose to start, but stopping is clouded by the addiction," she says. According to Ann, tobacco is one of the strongest addicting drugs, more so than cocaine or heroine. Once you are addicted to the nicotine, the other toxins in the cigarette begin to damage your body.

According to a recent article in Patient Care, women reported a greater dependency than men both emotionally and physically on cigarettes, once they began to smoke. The same article states that nicotine actually leaves men's bodies more rapidly than women, even after "correction for body weight." Thus women form an attachment to cigarettes much more readily than other groups of smokers.

Our health is vital to our quality of life. As humans, we continue to live longer and more physically fit lives. Resisting the possible urge to pick up a cigarette enhances your life expectancy. As a woman who cares about her body, you are responsible for your body's well-being. As a caring woman who smokes, you are responsible for your friends' and family's health, too.

Each year secondhand smoke kills an estimated 3,000 adult nonsmokers from lung cancer.

As humans, we interact and communicate with each other. Throughout college and our lives, Pi Phi has connected us with lifelong friends—friends close enough to call our sisters. Yet when cigarette smoke encircles a lunch table or rises from a group of laughing women, you as a smoker, endanger your friends.

Secondhand smoke causes 30 times as many lung cancer deaths as all regulated air pollutants combined.

Although just one cigarette every once in a while does not harm nonsmokers, being around someone who smokes all day in an office or home is equivalent to an adult nonsmoker smoking five to 10 cigarettes a day, says Ann.

Compared to nonsmokers, it takes smokers longer to get pregnant.

Even unborn children are harmed by secondhand smoke. According to "The Growing Problem of Smoking in Women," women who smoke, or are exposed to secondhand smoke, pass carcinogens to their unborn babies that may cause lung, skin, bladder and liver cancer. You care for your child by taking him to the doctor, or giving him medicine when he has a fever. However, when you smoke around your child, you make the choice to expose him to cancer causing agents.

"The Stop
Smoking Workbook:
A Guide to Healthy
Quitting" says pneumonia and other upper respiratory tract infections are more common in children under two years old, whose parents smoke. The higher health risks to children stem from their small body weight.

Secondhand smoke increases the risk of lung cancer in dogs.

If you smoke light cigarettes hoping to reduce the harmful effects on your body and bodies around you, be careful. Although these cigarettes contain less nicotine, Ann says this often means you will smoke more so that your body receives the same nicotine dosage. Many of these cigarettes have extra holes in the filter, to disseminate the smoke, making them less harmful. However, putting your fingers over the filter negates the extra holes, says Ann.

In addition to bad breath and brown teeth, smokers are also at risk for developing cancer of the mouth tongue, lips and pharynx.

Smoking damages more than the human body. One of the most visible signs of smoking is the dirty yellow film left on your teeth, furniture and walls. Plus, the smell soaks into skin, upholstery and clothing. Ann says many smokers think their laundry is clean until they leave their house. The difference between the smell of virtually clean air and smokey clothes is obvious.

There are endless reasons why, if you smoke, you should take the responsibility to quit. However, nicotine is addictive. For a drug to be addictive, it's user must have a physiological need for the habit-forming drug. Nonsmokers have the responsibility to help friends and family erase this physiological need.

Fewer than 50% of smokers receive advice or assistance on quitting.

Some people just stop smoking. But as Mark Twain said, "To cease smoking is the easiest thing I ever did; I ought to know because I've done it a thousand times." After they have decided they are willing to quit, most smokers need an encouraging group of friends and family to really make cessation successful.

There are a variety of ways to stop smoking, from a nicotine patch or gum, to enrolling in a cessation program. Yet support from those around the smoker is the key to each of these methods. "If you started with your friends, quit with your friends," says Ann. "Those are the people you need to go to for support."

Each year, more than 8,350 people in the United States die of oral cancer directly related to tobacco.

However, simply telling a friend "smoking is bad for you" or "you need to quit" is not enough. A smoker often needs new activities, since old activities included the habit of lighting a cigarette. If you are going to have a few drinks with a friend who is trying to quit, and she usually drinks and smokes, offer a different outing. Be willing to change plans or activities in order to help your friend feel less vulnerable to her habit.

Ann recommends smokers make a list of simple activities to do when the urge to smoke strikes. She suggests including activities such as closing your eyes and concentrating on relaxing, drinking lots of water, chewing on straws, bending paper clips or stretching. Encourage your friend to carry this list with her, so when the urge arises, she doesn't even have to think about what to do—she reads the list.

Physical withdrawal symptoms from nicotine usually last three to 10 days.

If your friend has physical withdrawal symptoms for the first few weeks, such as insomnia or excessive coughing, tell her these side effects are normal, and after a few months, she will be feeling better than when she smoked. Encourage her that quitting is worth the difficult stages.

Ann says the addiction is "like a screaming child. If you give him something every time he screams, he keeps screaming." Soon the child is screaming all the time. Remind your friend of her choice to break her addiction and the healthy rewards of the break.

"When you quit, you gain control," says Ann.
"You gain health and gain the ability to deal with things in a healthy, alternative way."

Every cigarette you smoke does damage in often irreparable ways—maybe in as little as five years. So whether you are just beginning to smoke, classify yourself as a smoker or don't smoke at all, remember you are responsible as a human and a Pi Phi to care for yourself and for those whom you care about.

Long-term benefits of quitting:

5-15 years

 Risk of stroke is reduced to that of people who have never smoked.

10 years

- Risk of lung cancer drops to as little as one half that of continuing smokers.
- Risk of cancer of the mouth, throat, esophagus, bladder, kidney and pancreas decreases.
- Risk of ulcer decreases.

15 years

- Risk of coronary heart disease is now similar to that of people who have never smoked.
- Risk of death returns to nearly the level of people who have never smoked.

taking it personally ...

I will not debate and re-debate the ills of smoking. Do I like smoking? No. Have I ever smoked? Yes. Do I like to be around smokers? No ... however, some people I love very much smoke. My family has struggled with the challenge of trying to encourage someone to quit smoking. There have been some successes, but more failures. This scene is played out in many families over and over again. Why do people insist on doing something that is so unhealthy? What will make them stop smoking?

Motherhood has given me a different insight into many topics. I am driven to tears each time any violence toward children is portrayed on television. I look both ways twice before I cross the street. I always fasten my seat belt. And I never say goodbye to someone I love without telling them that I love them. In the midst of all of this, I know that I have the responsibility of instilling in my daughter the realization that there are things in life that cannot be controlled. I owe it to her, to be a healthy parent, to lead by example. I owe it to my child, and to my family, to not smoke.

Maybe I did enjoy the occasional cigarette in social situations. Did I ever consider myself a "smoker"? No. Should I have considered myself a smoker? Yes. I now understand that it is not about the quantity that is smoked. A smoker is someone who smokes.

I realize the choices I make in my life affect many people. Each of us is part of a family unit.

Whether a conventional, traditional family or a family in the broadest sense, we owe it to our "family" to be healthy and to control those things that we can.

Smoking is a personal choice. I chose family over a habit. I chose to be a better, healthier person for my daughter. Before you take your next puff, think about somebody who loves you. Don't you owe it to them to be healthy? Are you making the right choice?

Summer ARROW

I've been receiving The ARROW for over 50 years and this summer of 1998 is so outstanding that I want to thank you. The content and layout is interesting. But the charming sketches by Katie Pieper were what I enjoyed. With that kind of talent, I hope art will be her life's pursuit.

JOYCE ORLOB EVANS UTAH ALPHA SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

Just a note of congratulations on the best issue of The ARROW yet! I was especially delighted with the recurring hat motif.

What can you tell me about the marvelous watercolorist who did these charmingly simple and extremely feminine chapeaux? They spoke of femininity and summertime, a perfect touch for your fine issue on alumnae.

Evelyn Peters Kyle's poem, "Loyal Ties," on page 6, says it all! Yes, Pi Phi is there forever and ever. I am thinking of moving to Ann Arbor, Michigan. I contacted Central Office to find the name of the president of the alumnae club and I wrote to her. She telephoned me. She is a real estate agent and is going to help me find a home.

Thanks again for a marvelous issue. I devoured every page.

Jo Ann Davidson Steggerda Illinois Zeta Champaign, Illinois The letter from Grand Vice President of Alumnae Carolyn Pavletich Lesh in the Summer 1998 issue of The ARROW touched me in ways you cannot know.

I would never have gotten to know and love a Colorado Alpha if it had not been for our mutual involvement in the Honolulu, Hawaii Alumnae Club.

When I first met Colleen Susu Leong Markham, I thought she was a lovely person and a good Pi Phi. I enjoyed her company and watching her young family grow.

Little did I know this woman, young enough to be my daughter, would swing into action and become a lifesaver to me when my husband died on my 50th birthday.

In the 10 years that have followed, she and her family have included me in their activities, and since my grown children happened to both be gone from the islands most of the time, I became Aunt Ger to her two children, had Mother's Day with them, and was the recipient of many laboriously printed children's notes and fond wishes. Her husband has even become my attorney, helping me with the legal changes in my life.

Carolyn's article meant a lot to me, because for 40 years I have known the golden chain of friendship through Pi Phi, but never as dramatically as the last ten, when a Pi Phi angel enfolded me in her wings and said "you're always helping others, let me help you."

Geraldine DeBenedetti Nevada Alpha Honolulu, Hawaii Hats off to you and all the dedicated staff of The ARROW for absolutely the best issue ever! Totally motivating on all levels. I am so proud to be a Pi Phi!

JOAN ADAMS AVIS ILLINOIS ETA DECATUR, ILLINOIS

I just got The ARROW and read your lead article. I can't agree with you more. I commend all the alumnae who continue to participate in Pi Phi. It has certainly been very fulfilling for me.

BETH GREINER MICKELSON OHIO ALPHA EATON, OHIO

I just loved the latest issue of The ARROW. It made me realize how much I miss being in an alumnae club. I was president of the Contra Costa, California Alumnae Club more than ten years ago, and was hoping to get involved once again.

Seminars were a time of learning Phi spirit for collegians and alumnae. Attendees included representatives from all 132 Pi Beta Phi chapters and one Pi Beta Phi colony. Collegians were joined by members of their Alumnae members of their Chapter House Corporations who attended House Corporation sessions. Attendance at the three seminars totaled more than 626. Seminars were held at Duquesne University June 26-28, the University of Utah July 10-12 and the University of Memphis July 17-19.

Seminar agendas covered various aspects of chapter programming with emphasis given to developing leadership skills and effective risk management.

Participants also enjoyed province meetings, a Cookie Shine, an awards banquet and a keynote address by Ohio Beta Barbie Tootle. Barbie, whose address was titled "Effective Leadership," is presently Director of Special Projects for the Office of the President of The Ohio State University.

ATOWMON TO THE REPORT OF THE PART OF THE P

by Gretchen Church

Aileen Welgan Memorial Fountain Dedicated

A memorial fountain has been designed and installed at Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts in memory of former Board Chairman and Alberta Alpha Hesperia ("Hep") Aylsworth Henderson. Alberta Alpha Aileen Aylsworth Welgan commissioned the work in honor of her late sister.

Hep was a Pi Beta Phi convention initiate in 1964 in Victoria, British Alberta Alpha Aileen Aylsworth Welgan at the fountain dedication ceremony, Saturday, May 2, 1998.

Columbia, and an Arrowmont Board Chairman from 1970–72. Hep and Aileen had envisioned a fountain at Arrowmont, but it never came to fruition. Hep passed away in July, 1981.

"Originally, in 1970, Hep and I wanted to bring the lasting beauty of a fountain to the first new Arrowmont building just as the architect Hubert Bebb had envisioned," Aileen explained. "Now, in 1998, I want to add a remembrance of my sister who gave sterling service in the early formative years of Arrowmont."

Located on the second level of Arrowmont's main educational facility, the fountain consists of three carved and sculpted limestone vessels in a circular pool that is filled with river rock from Gatlinburg. The limestone fountain forms, entitled "Woven Stone Vessels," were designed and created by Clarksville, Tennessee, artist Tom Rice. Each vessel is embellished with designs influenced by early weaving patterns.

A graduate of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Tom was a student and assistant in several post-graduate courses at Arrowmont. He teaches at Cheatham County Central High School in Ashland, Tennessee, and maintains a studio in Clarksville. His works are in private, corporate and public collections throughout the world.

Sandra Blain, Arrowmont's director, has expressed enthusiasm for the fountain installation. "It not only provides a rich aesthetic addition to a facility already imbued with a creative spirit, but allows recognition of an individual immersed in Arrowmont's history. Using a regional sculptor with the status of Tom Rice, with his previous ties to the school, makes the installation that much more personal."

The fountain was officially dedicated at a reception during Pi Phi Arts Weekend, on Saturday, May 2, 1998, with Aileen and members of her family, Tom, Pi Beta Phi members and other friends in attendance.

Arrowmont's Traveling Collection Visits Ocean Springs

Pat Emens Anderson, Betty Wainscott Kirk, Kay Cromb Brada, Jane Hainkel Drennan, Kitsie Barkley Roth, Bunny Ward and Nancy Morarity Michiels visited Arrowmont's Traveling Collection.

The 50th Anniversary Traveling Collection was exhibited at the Walter Anderson Museum of Art in Ocean
Springs, Mississippi, February 15–April 15, 1998. The Mississippi Gulf Coast
Alumnae Club helped the museum promote the exhibit, and the reception chairman was Mississippi Alpha Kathryn Schledwitz Lewis. Louisiana
Beta Kitsie Barkley Roth, former Xi
Alumnae Province President, coordinated the efforts concerning all events related to the exhibition.

Established in 1995, the 50th Anniversary Traveling Collection contains more than 100 objects and commemorates 50 years of successful educational programming at Arrowmont. Purposes of the Traveling Collection include expanding Arrowmont's educational outreach and extending the school's mission of "enriching lives through art" by providing a collection of quality artwork to surrounding communities.

1998 Pi Phi Arts Weekend

The 1998 Pi Phi Arts Weekend was successful with more than 75 students in seven classes. Dates for the next Pi Phi Arts Weekend are April 29–May 2, 1999. Brochures will be available in late fall.

"I have been truly enlightened by my class and this experience at Arrowmont," said Arkansas Beta Nancy Fogle Pollard. "It gave me a whole new perspective about our philanthropy and what Arrowmont is all about."

Leadership Funds Established

Funding programs which promote the leadership development of Pi Phis is an important part of the mission of the Pi Beta Phi Foundation. Through their generous gifts, recent donors have established within the Foundation two endowments dedicated to leadership education. The Foundation is grateful for this support of its mission.

Mary Ann Behlen Hruska Creates New Fund

Mary Ann Behlen Hruska, a founding Pi Beta Phi Foundation Trustee and a current Arrowmont Board of Governors member, has created the Mary Ann Behlen Hruska Leadership Program Development Endowment.

This unique endowment will provide the Fraternity with funds for qualifying aspects of leadership education program planning and development. including, but not limited to, the investigation of ideas, consulting with professionals in the field, Fraternity officer or staff involvement and materials necessary for implementation.

"The skills we learn as chapter and alumnae club officers are transferrable to all areas of our lives," explained Mary Ann, a Nebraska Beta. "I hope to promote programming which teaches the basic principles of leadership including ethics, trustworthiness, responsibility and citizenship."

Individuals who wish to provide support for the development of the Fraternity's leadership programming are welcome to make gifts to the Foundation designated for the Hruska Endowment.

Kevin and Janice Kincaid Clifford Endow Indiana Delta CLEE

A Chapter Leadership Education Endowment (CLEE) has been established to benefit the Indiana Delta Chapter at Purdue University. The endowment was created through a gift to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation from Kevin G. and Janice Kincaid Clifford, Indiana Delta.

The CLEE provides Indiana Delta with permanent funding for qualifying portions of Pi Beta Phi leadership education and training. As a former collegiate province president, Jan Clifford knows the impact Pi Beta Phi conventions and leadership seminars can have on chapter officers. "They learn so much when they see beyond their chapter, beyond their campus," shared Jan.

A CLEE may be established through a one-time gift or through a gift pledged over a three-year period. A CLEE is an investment in the future of a chapter. Such funds support proper training for our collegiate leaders thereby cultivating their leadership potential. Leadership training benefits the individual, the chapter, the international Fraternity and, ultimately, the greater society.

Currently, five chapters have fully funded CLEEs. They are California Alpha, Indiana Delta, Iowa Zeta, Texas Alpha and Texas Beta. Kansas Alpha will join this group upon the completion of a donor's pledge. Chapters, alumnae clubs or individuals who are interested in learning more about establishing a CLEE should contact the Foundation Office.

The Future is Yours to Give

You can provide for your chapter's future. Chapter-Leadership Education Endowments may be funded by an individual, a chapter, an alumnae club or any special group interested in shaping Pi Beta Phi's future leaders. Contact the Foundation Office for more information.

Illinois Epsilon Mary Sutter Zick, mother, Iowa Beta Sharon Zick Rieger and aunt, Texas Beta Catherine Blair Zick joined her as she was initiated.

BELLEVUE-EASTSIDE AND SEATTLE

ALUMNAE CLUB members were busy this past spring. They celebrated Founders' Day in Seattle with inspirational speeches and songs. The Seattle Alumnae Club hosted the event. Washington Gamma Luellen Clymo Smith and Washington Alpha Melissa Roberts Holmes heard California Delta MarKay Hannum Neumann speak about collegiate-alumnae relations while representing the club at the Regional Leadership Retreat at Maryhurst College. Luellen and Melissa were again representatives at the Seattle Alumnae Club's Senior Send-Off Dinner for the Washington Alphas. The Bellevue-Eastside Alumnae Club also held a Cookie Shine with the Washington Alphas.

Thirteen Colorado AREA ALUMNAE GROUPS celebrated Founders' Day on April 25 in Denver, Colorado. Three active chapters, Colorado Alpha, Colorado Gamma and Colorado Delta as well as nine Golden Arrow initiates of 1948 joined the clubs to total 275 women at the celebration. The keynote speaker, Kansas Beta and Golden Arrow Frances Allison Weaver, shared humorous and insightful anecdotes from her book, "The Girls with the Grandmother Faces: A Celebration of Life's Potential for those Over 55." Special guests included: Grand Vice President of Alumnae Carolyn Pavletich Lesh, Director of Alumnae Programming Susan Landreth Fry, Director of Alumnae Advisory Committees Linda Noel Ibsen and former Director of Chapter Support Jo Scholes Hill.

SLIDELL, LOUISIANA ALUMNAE
CLUB members hosted a spring
Panhellenic Rush tea.

Watercolorist and COLORADO ALPHA
SHARON NELSON WELLBAECHER was chosen as one of 21 artists to visit Normandy, France. Christopher "Kip" Forbes hosted the artists in his Chateau de Balleroy. The artists painted their subjects and landscapes in and around the chateau and also in such places as Monet's Gardens at Giverny and at Honfleur, a seaside town. If they chose to, Sharon and the other artists were able to take photographs or sketches of their subjects or landscapes and then create their final product in their studios. The groups' final work was on display at the Forbes Magazine Galleries in New York.

MICHIGAN BETA ELIZABETH SHAW GESCHEIDLE was appointed as the International Food Safety Council's Vice President. As vice president, Elizabeth's duties will include day-to-day council management as well as maintaining sponsor relationships. Elizabeth received her undergraduate degree in communications from the University of Michigan and stayed involved with the university. She previously served both as president of the university's Club of Chicago and as the national secretary for the university's Alumni Association in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Elizabeth also has served on the board of directors for the Multicultural Foodservice and Hospitality Alliance. She is a current Women's Foodservice Forum member and is active in the International Foodservice Manufacturers Association.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA ALUMNAE CLUB members held an ice cream social for Arizona Beta new members. Arizona Alpha and Golden Arrow Frances Martin Andrews entertained both alumnae and collegians with her humor. She also educated the group through sharing her scrapbook.

MARYLAND ALPHA JANICE MARTIN
BENARIO recently published an article in "The Classical Bulletin" about her experience as a WAVE officer in World War II. During the war, Janice worked with a group on a top secret mission in which they used enigma codes to track submarines. This elite group received a Presidential Unit Citation for its success.

CONNECTICUT ALPHA PHYLLIS

VALENTI MCMAHON was named one of Connecticut's Educators of the Year.

While teaching for 25 years, Phyllis has helped many adult students expand their education.

The VALLEY OF THE MOON,
CALIFORNIA ALUMNAE CLUB celebrated Founders' Day April 22. The members enjoyed Kansas Alpha Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell's speech on Pi Phi's beginning, growth and traditions. During the celebration, members held a candlelighting ceremony. Two members, Oregon Gamma Pauline Morse Rock
and Nevada Alpha Sara Gaston Siler, were given Golden Arrow pins. It wasn't the first time Nevada Alpha Barbara Gould Hoffman had presented Sara with a pin. As chapter president, Barbara initiated Sara in 1948.

The Texas A & M Panhellenic
Council will be giving an annual scholarship in Texas Alpha Betty Benbow Westbrook's name. Betty was instrumental in establishing the Texas Eta chapter as well as serving as its Alumnae Advisory Committee
Chairman. She also served as the Panhellenic Financial Adviser.

Connecticut Alumnae Club members welcomed Grand Vice President of Finance Lou Ann Montgomery Carter as the luncheon's guest speaker. Lou Ann served as the club's president from 1980-82. The Westchester County, New York Alumnae Club joined in the celebration. Both groups honored their Golden Arrow members. A special honor was given to D.C. Alpha Sophia Waldman Brumbaugh. Sophia is a 75-year member and an inspiration to her fellow Pi Phi sisters.

ABOVE CENTER: Louisiana Beta Carol
Calkins was one of three Louisiana State University alumni to be inducted into the E.J. Ourso College of Business Administration Hall of Distinction.

Kansas Alphas celebrated their 125th Anniversary. April 4, at the University of Kansas. About 540 alumnae and active members toured the chapter house and campus, performed old and new rush skits and cheered with the KU marching band as they played the fight song and the Rock Chalk Chant. The celebration concluded with a Cookie Shine.

WASHINGTON GAMMA JULIE

JACOBSON was recognized as Albuquerque's Favorite Radio Personality along with her co-host Gene Gates at the 8th Annual People's Choice Awards in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Julie and Gene host the morning show on KPEK FM.

The AKRON, OHIO AND CANTON, OHIO ALUMNAE CLUBS celebrated Founders' Day, April 25. The celebration took place at the Massillon Women's Club, which is on the National Register of Historic Places. The event included a house tour and a candlelighting ceremony. Golden Arrow members who received their pins during the program were: Ohio Zeta Lois Crumbaker Frazier, Pennsylvania Beta Susan Williams Gessner and Ohio Zeta Marthalyn Sears Kistler. As favors, the Canton Alumnae Club gave angel cookie cutters tied with wine and blue ribbons and the original Cookie Shine cookie recipe.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA SUSAN MONROE GORDON was awarded the Arthur S. Flemming Award. This award is given each year to the federal government's ten most outstanding executives under the age of 40. Susan is the senior staff officer at the CIA, where she watches weapons technology developments in foreign countries. Other recipients of this prestigious award include astronaut Neil Armstrong, Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan and American Red Cross President Flizabeth Dole.

WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA PEGGY

WAGENER publishes a magazine called Without. The magazine has recipes and articles for people across the nation who are gluten intolerant. Gluten is found in wheat, rye, barley and oats.

Two-time women's amateur champ in golf, Texas Alpha Kelli KUEHNE, is often compared to, and has played with, Tiger Woods. Not only did she turn pro recently and obtain a spot on the U.S. Women's Open, Kelli is Nike's first female golf spokeswoman.

OREGON BETA PATRICIA PALMER IS

the top executive of her own sewing business. Patricia sells Palmer/Pletsch patterns to McCall's. One Palmer/Pletsch blazer in the '80s was McCall's best selling pattern with more than 1 million copies. The Museum of the Fashion Institute of Technology featured Palmer/Pletsch patterns in its exhibit called "Dreams on Paper." Patricia also writes sewing books and holds sewing seminars to teach other seamstresses her skills. She runs her business out of the third floor of her Portland, Oregon home. Both Patricia and her husband work in their two Mama Ro La Bottega Di shops, selling Italian-style ceramics and home furnishings.

The Central Orange County, California Alumnae Panhellenic Association honored ILLINOIS EPSILON SUSAN KELLY DROBISH with the 1997 Athena Woman of the Year Award, given at the annual Pageant of Athena Luncheon. Susan won the award based on her tireless dedication to the community and to Pi Beta Phi. Susan has given her time to her church, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the PTA, her Pi Phi Alumnae Club, the Assistance League of Orange and its affiliate the Orangewood Home for Abused Children. Susan has donated 2,200 hours to the Assistance League of Orange, where she has worked in the thrift shop, served in several officer positions and demonstrated, through a puppet show for children, the importance of wise social decisions. She has served as treasurer, recording secretary, membership directory publisher and president for her Pi Phi alumnae club, and she has served on California Eta's House Corporation for 11 years.

The Dallas Association of Young Lawyers presented Texas Alpha CHRISTINA MELTON CRAIN with the Outstanding Young Lawyer of Dallas Award. Christina is a solo practitioner focusing on general corporate law, ad litem representation, estate planning and elder law. She is also an active volunteer serving on various community committees such as Dallas' Junior League, the Baylor Health Care System Foundation Board and the Friends of the Dallas Public Library, Inc. Board. Previous honors Christina has received include being named both to the 40 under 40 Tribute by The Dallas Business Journal and as Outstanding Young Republican Woman of the Year. She has also received the U.S. Silver Congressional Medal of Honor for Volunteerism.

INDIANA ALPHA ANN BRIDGES is currently the Indiana marketing representative for Six Flags Theme Parks and is living in Greenwood, Indiana.

Last spring, the University of Iowa gave its Distinguished Alumni Award to IOWA ZETA MADGE JONES PHILLIPS. Madge won the award based on her dedication to children and the elderly. She was instrumental in creating both the Witwer Senior Center for area senior citizens and the St. Luke's Child Protection Center for sexually abused children. The Cedar Rapids YMCA is also home to the Madge Phillips Resource Center, a 24-hour emergency shelter for women and children. The American Hospital Association named Madge National Volunteer of the Year, and Rotary International named Madge a Paul Harris Fellow. United Way of America gave her the Alexis de Tocqueville volunteer award as well.

Jean Wirths Scott Receives CFEA's Varner Award

The College Fraternity Editors Association proudly recognized Pennsylvania Beta Jean Wirths Scott of Pi Beta Phi as the 1998 winner of CFEA's most prestigious honor, the Evin C. Vamer Award.

The annual award recognizes an individual for performing extraordinary fraternal service and achieving peer respect through the spirit of assistance and kindness. The award was presented on July 11 at the CFEA Annual Conference in Norfolk, Virginia.

"Being recognized by an outstanding group of editors has special meaning, for journalism in some form has been the key to enjoyment in most all of my life's adventures," says Jean. "From serving as high school and then university newspaper editor, to employment at an advertising agency in New York, to a technical editor in southern California, to writing speeches and managing a local political campaign, the written word and public relations have been at the core of my professional and personal life. Positive communication is the basis for making a difference in people's lives ... and our editors do that on a daily basis."

Jean has been contributing to the Greek community on a national level for more than 20 years as a volunteer. During her 12 years on the Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi, Jean served as an inspirational leader for the Fraternity. She accomplished great things because she maintained open lines of communication and encouraged success. As a former member of the NIC Commission on Values and Ethics, National Panhellenic Conference Chairman, and now as Public Relations Committee Chairman and President of the NPC Foundation, Jean dedicates herself to improving the Greek system.

According to Grand President Beth van Maanen Beatty, "Throughout her work, Jean maintains the quiet composure and grace which make her an effective leader. Jean's calm demeanor, positive attitude and propensity for kindness are valuable assets in her professional and personal life."

Jean has used her calm demeanor and positive attitude to help build a strong, unified Greek system. She has visited more than 100 campuses in the United States and Canada conducting workshops and special programs to undergraduates and alumni. Jean has shared her belief in the need to work with higher education to produce a well-rounded student in the areas of social, moral and academic development.

Generosity, approachability and a cheerful attitude have bonded Jean's Greek edifice into an indestructible unit. For her strong character and service Jean was named Pi Beta Phi's Panhellenic Woman of the Year, has been awarded the NIC Gold Medal, and is a Lambda Chi Alpha Order of Interfraternity Service inductee. In addition, Pepperdine University created the Jean Scott Award of Dedication to be given annually to women who exemplify outstanding commitment to Pepperdine University's Greek System through leadership and service.

"Jean is one of the most dedicated interfraternity leaders I have known. Under her leadership as NPC Chairman, the relationship between NPC and NIC was immeasurably strengthened through the frequent meetings held between the executive boards of the two conferences. This led to two major joint initiatives: one addressing substance-free housing, and the other being the jointly sponsored research initiative," says George Spasyk of Lambda Chi Alpha.

"Having known Evin Varner well during his too-brief life on earth, I have the feeling that he would smile favorably upon the nomination of Jean Scott for the award named in his memory."

After being a Hollywood stunt woman for 11 years, VIRGINIA DELTA BARBARA ANNE KLEIN has started her own film production company Angel Partners, Incorporated. Barbara's goal is to produce public service announcements, educational films and family features to raise public awareness about social issues. Through her company, Texas Governor George W. Bush appointed Indiana DELTA DEBORAH GODICH HANKINSON to the Texas Supreme Court. Deborah received her B.A. from Purdue University in 1973 and her M.S. from the University of Texas at Dallas in 1978. She then taught seven years as a special education teacher in Plano, Texas, Seeing severe learning difficulties, mental retardation and physical handicaps led Deborah to attain her law degree. In 1983 Deborah received Methodist University School of Law where she graduated first in her class. Deborah practiced civil trial and appellate law before her prestigious appointment.

Barbara has produced PSA's about drug and alcohol abuse, youth smoking, domestic violence, school drop out rate, motorcycle safety, seat belt use and drunk driving.

You might say New York Delta Melissa Galt has designing in her blood. Melissa's great-grandfather is Frank Lloyd Wright, and her mother is former actress Anne Baxter. Although Melissa received her undergraduate degree in hotel administration, she had a special interest in interior design. She went back to school and graduated from Southern Institute's design program, and later launched her own interior design firm Lifestyle Interiors, Inc. in Atlanta, Georgia.

The United States Department of Labor recognized Texas Alpha Gay WARREN GADDIS for a program she began in 1994 at her Austin, Texas, advertising agency, T3. The program is called T3 and Under, and it gives parents time to bring their children to work instead of taking a long-term maternity leave. Gay and her 14-yearold daughter, Rebecca, attended a ceremony at the White House where President Clinton honored 30 companies from around the nation that have family-friendly policies in the work place. Gay's program was also featured on the "Today Show" and in Working Mother magazine.

Are you a Loyal Link?

Join the thousands of dues-paying alumnae for 1998–99. Your dues payment will ensure the continued success of our Fraternity. Pi Beta Phi receives its financial support mainly from dues, fees and voluntary contributions from alumnae.

Pi Beta Phi alumnae in a club area are given the opportunity to pay alumnae dues through their alumnae club. Alumnae who live in an area without an alumnae club were sent a dues notice inviting them to become a Loyal Link member. If you have already paid your alumnae dues for 1998–99, thank you. If you have not yet taken the opportunity to send in your alumnae dues, you may do so by filling out the form below.

As a Loyal Link you will receive:

The official Pi Beta Phi web site, launched last fall, is an important tool for spreading information about the Fraternity and its programs to members and non-members. The site allows Pi Phi alumnae and collegians to locate alumnae clubs in their area, to sign up for Directions, to order club or chapter supplies via e-mail, to change their address on-line and to stay in touch with the Fraternity. The web site also spreads information about Pi Beta Phi's heritage and activities to potential members, parents and individuals outside the Greek community.

If you are one of the thousands who has already become familiar with www.pibetaphi.org, please continue to check for new additions to the site. If you have not yet visited the site, we encourage you to check out Pi Phi on-line. The News section is a great place to start and to catch up on the latest Fraternity happenings.

NEW ITEMS IN THE NEWS SECTION INCLUDE:

- Rush Information Form
 The Rush Information Form is now available on-line.
- Best Rush Skit Contest
 Enter your chapter in the 1998–99 contest for Best Rush Skit or Preference Party and you could win an award at convention!
- Pi Beta Phi Web Site Guidelines
 All collegiate chapters and alumnae clubs that already have a web site or are interested in establishing one, need to refer to the Pi Beta Phi Web Site Guidelines.

WHAT'S NEW?

- New Table of Contents Page
- Extension—read about Pi Beta Phi's newest chapter, Indiana Theta at Valparaiso University.
- Publications—read the Spring 1998 feature article, "The ABC's and 123's of Risk Management," from The ARROW.
- Plannings—the anniversaries page has been updated to include new information about chapter and club anniversary celebrations.

Collegiates

CALIFORNIA ZETA Courtney Leary was nominated for Greek woman of the year and Gretchen Smalley was nominated for president of the year at the University of California, Santa Barbara's Greek awards ceremony.

The women of North Carolina Beta at Duke University excelled in community service as well as community endeavors. They raised $10,000 for the Durham Boys and Girls Club and $700 for the Durham Rape Crisis Center. Senior Alexandra Winokur received the Mary Duke Biddle Foundation Summer Internship Award for her internship with New York's Sotheby's.

MISSOURI BETA Heather Glick was selected for membership in Phi Lambda Psi, a women's Health Honorary at Washington University. She also serves on the university's Panhellenic Executive Council.

Kentucky Gammas at Eastern Kentucky University were rewarded for their academic dedication, as they placed first in overall, sorority grades. Four members were also initiated into Lambda Sigma, a national honor society based on scholarship, leadership and service.

Ohio Alpha members at Ohio University gave several chapter awards based on members' excellence in community service, foreign language knowledge and fraternity spirit.

Texas Beta Taylor Kepler received Southern Methodist University's most prestigious honor, the M Award. SMU gave Taylor this award based on her dedication and service to the university. The Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils at the University of Illinois recognized the ILLINOIS ZETAS for their scholarship, internal organization, new membership program and campus involvement. They were also recognized for their outstanding environmental and social awareness.

At the University of Arkansas,

Arkansas Alpha Ashley Rodgers won three prestigious awards. She was named Outstanding Chapter President and 1998 Outstanding Greek Woman.
Ashley also received the Arkansas
Alumni Association Senior Citation.
The award is given for outstanding achievements in academics, campus involvement, leadership, personal goals and aspirations.

Texas Etas Tara Toliver and Lea Anne Heath are officers for their respective classes at Texas A & M. Kelley Wonsmos was named the Fish Camp co-chairman for the Class of 2002 Aggie Fish and Marcie Watson will be planning the university's parents' weekend this April as the event's co-chairman.

Ohio Zetas were named the most outstanding sorority in the area of campus leadership and involvement at Miami University's Greek awards ceremony. Katie Smith won the Outstanding Greek Leader Award, and Jennifer Rifkin was named Greek Woman of the Year.

During Greek Honors night at the University of Missouri, Missouri ALPHA senior Rachel Cohen was named Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year, while Missouri Alpha as a whole was named the sorority with the best sisterhood.

At Purdue University's annual Greek Honorary Banquet, Indiana DELTA sisters Alicia and Alison Lanham were inducted into Gamma Sigma Alpha honorary fraternity. Order of Omega also inducted Alicia as well as Aimee Burger and Carrie Klockow. For her involvement in Greek and university activities. Cara Io Dunbar was named Greek Sophomore of the Year. Carrie Klockow also competed against 168 Indiana women and was named one of 33 princesses for The Indianapolis 500 stock car race. Each princess is active in many organizations and has a GPA between 3.4 and 4.0.

During the Greek Awards Banquet at the University of Maine, MAINE
ALPHAS were named Sorority of the Year due to their commitment to tradition, community service and maintaining a strong sisterhood. The Community Efforts office also recognized Maine Alpha with an Outstanding Effort in Community Service award.

California Deltas at the University of California, Los Angeles excelled athletically throughout the year. They have athletes on the women's soccer team, the women's swim team and the diving team. Plus, NCAA Champion Meg Spieker plays
women's water polo. At California
Delta's Inter-Sorority Mother's Club
Annual Tea senior Jen Fulford won the Greek Woman of the Year award, and Melissa Northam received the ISMC and Carolyn Engel Memorial Scholarships.

During New Mexico State University's Greek Week, New Mexico Betas placed first in Greek sing and second in Greek games.

Drury College gave its most prestigious Greek award, the Standards of Excellence Award, to the MISSOURI GAMMA Chapter. Drury also awarded the Coat of Arms and the Founders Trophy to Missouri Gammas for their outstanding community service. Individuals received awards for excellence in their various academic fields such as finance, Spanish, communication and English.

Iowa Zetas at the University of Iowa showed their philanthropic excellence this year. Not only did they win an award for raising the most money for a hospice near the university, but they also placed first in the sports competition for Pi Kappa Alpha's philanthropy and second in the same category for Phi Gamma Delta's philanthropy.

ALABAMA BETAS were inducted into several honor societies at the University of Alabama. The societies included:
Omicron Delta Kappa National Honor Society, Blue Key National Honor Society, Anderson Society, Elliot Society and Order of Omega. Casey Cole was named one of the university's top 31 Women of the Year and Rebecca Partesotti was named Junior of the Year. Order of Omega gave the chapter as a whole the Best Alumnae Programming Award.

Community service is a high priority to Kentucky Alphas at the University of Louisville. The chapter was ranked as one of the top three in community service for such projects as the Muscular Dystrophy fund-raising walk through the Louisville Zoo. Tracy Elder led many of the community service drives and, along with Crystal Settles, was named one of the university's top 10 outstanding Greeks.

TEXAS EPSILONS achieve excellence as a team and individually at the University of North Texas. The chapter received the intramural Sportsmanship Award, while individuals Blair Burkhardt received the President of the Year award, Aurora Bartzat and Dena Long were nominated for Outstanding Greek Woman of the Year, and Michelle Corbitt received Best Panhellenic Delegate.

Academics are a strong focus for the Oregon Alphas. Cara Tsoi achieved the highest GPA in the University of Oregon's Greek system, and the 1997 pledge class achieved the highest GPA for a pledge class. Overall, Oregon Alphas won the Edmunson Davis Cup for the highest sorority GPA.

Itunois Iotas excelled at the award reception at Illinois State University's annual Greek Week
Banquet. Individual members and the chapter as a whole won eight of the 12 awards presented. Individual awards were: Greek Woman of the Year, Emily Miller; Sister of the Year, Jill Jozwiak; Best GAMMA Representative, Melissa Schmitt; Best Panhellenic Representative, Anne Finn; and Community Service Award, Maureen
August. The chapter won Best GAMMA chapter, Best Community Service and the overall Greek Week competition.

Casey Custer of FLORIDA BETA is Florida's 1997 NCAA Woman of the Year. Casey achieved all-American status as a Florida State University 4 x 100 meter relay track and field team member. To win the title, Casey excelled in academics, athletics and community leadership. As a chapter, Florida Beta ranked first in Homecoming competitions.

ABOVE LEFT: Texas Etas at Texas A & M University welcomed Grand President Beth van Maanen Beatty during a recent visit. Not only did Mrs. Beatty speak about the members' accomplishments and awards at a weekly meeting, but a senior luncheon as well as various other activities filled the short visit.

ABOVE CENTER: California Lambda members at the University of California, Riverside participated in a 10k walk for Juvenile Diabetes research.

ABOVE: Mississippi Betas at the University of Mississippi, along with 3,000 other volunteers, helped build a $200,000 playground for the Oxford community.

OHIO BETA Eve Ellinger is a wellrounded and accomplished individual. Not only did she win two chapter awards, the Jane Woodward-Brown Spirit Award and the Jodi Lorraine-Patterson Award for her exceptional academics, but Ohio State University also awarded Eve with the Conaway-Chase Outstanding Greek Senior Woman award for her excellence in contributions, honors, achievements and service at Ohio State. The university also gave Eve a membership in SPHINX Senior Honorary, a group of 24 seniors highly dedicated to the institution through service, leadership and scholarship. Eve is now attending law school.

New York Alpha's Anne-Marie Anderson was inducted into Order of Omega and elected as its vice president. She also helped to develop and present the Greek Alcohol Summit to Syracuse University's chancellor.

Collegiation

TENNESSEE DELTA members participated with Delta Sigma Thetas in the annual All Sing/Follies competition at the University of Memphis. The group's theme was Sister Act, and Rebecca Stolanck won the Best Performer Award in the competition.

VIRGINIA DELTAS at Old Dominion University had the highest campus GPA. Member Nicole Blackmar received an award for her outstanding campus leadership. The English Department gave Dara Cattani an award for tutoring students, and Cammie Selibovsky was a Communication Honor Society inductee.

University of Wisconsin's

Panhellenic Council, Order of Omega and Homecoming committees are just a few of the organizations WISCONSIN ALPHAS are involved in throughout the school year. After winning Homecoming Week competitions, Wisconsin Alphas participated in and held several successful philanthropic projects.

COLORADO GAMMAS won several awards for grades at Colorado State University's Greek Night Out. The fall new members, initiated members and total chapter GPAs were above the university's all-women's average in each category.

At Knox College, ILLINOIS BETADELTAS achieved great individual accomplishments. Sarah Lewis was named to the golf Midwest All Conference and is a member of Chi Alpha Omega, a sports honor society.
Marisa McShane's research was honored at the Illinois State Academy Science Conference, where she tied for first place in the undergraduate cell and molecular biology division.

Lehigh University's Panhellenic Council recognized PENNSYLVANIA KAPPAS for their outstanding membership development. As part of that development, Pennsylvania Kappas give individuals awards for sisterhood, service, most improved GPA, highest GPA and the big sis/little sis team with the highest GPA. Individual, university awards went to Beth Matonak and Christina Eberhart as Scholar Athletes: Allison Merkle, Christina Eberhart, Jennifer Kaiser, Jennifer Elmer and Kathy Veluya as Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society inductees; Taryn Filo for a Varsity Letter in diving; and Tanya Barone as an All Patriot Team member in swimming.

Sponsoring a pancake breakfast was just one way, ILLINOIS EPSILONS achieved second place for the most money raised for the Children's Miracle Network Dance Marathon. Kay Watson caught on to the philanthropic spirit and was site leader for an Alternative Spring Break in Washington D.C. Amanda Johnson was honored with the presidency of Northwestern University's Arts and Organizations, while University Police gave Lauren Wolfson an award for her help in arresting a man who had assaulted several students on campus.

MISSISSIPPI ALPHAS placed first overall in Greek Week at the University of Southern Mississippi. Leigh Herrington won Outstanding Greek Woman while Nicole Judice won Best Panhellenic Delegate.

Scholarship recipients and university sports team members are just a few of the outstanding California Thetas at the University of California, Davis. Cady Norene is an ASUCD senator and Lauren Taylor is Greek Woman of the Year. The chapter as a whole achieved top honors in grades, too.

WYOMING ALPHAS placed first in several Greek-wide events at the University of Wyoming. The chapter won first place in the following categories: philanthropic/community service, overall athletics, GAMMA and overall Greek Week. Briana Teets was named Overall Female Greek Athlete, while Ashley Sprecher was first in Individual Community Service.

At Birmingham-Southern College, ALABAMA ALPHAS were named the scholastically most improved chapter on campus. Nicole Nabors was nominated for the Margaret Dunn Phillips Panhellenic Award as well.

Two Texas Deltas, Tara Watson and Staci Outhouse will represent Dallas as they compete to be Miss Texas for the Miss America and the Miss USA pageants, respectively. Sarah Burleson, Jill Petersen, Alison Indergard and Catherine Collins will assist incoming Texas Christian University freshmen this fall, Sarah as an Orientation Student Assistant and Jill, Alison and Catherine as Frog Camp Facilitators.

At Wake Forest University, NORTH CAROLINA GAMMAS placed second in Greek Week, raised money for Arrowmont and organized a booth for Special Olympics.

OREGON BETAS at Oregon State University were given the Community Outreach Award for their chapter programs Invite a Professor for Dinner and Dispelling the Myth. Dispelling the Myth is a campus program about the dangers of alcohol and date rape.

Not only did Ohio Epsilons tie for first in academics, win the Panhellenic Chapter Excellence Award and win the University of Toledo's Songfest, but individuals achieved high goals as well. Four women were Mortar Board inductees, two women were Blue Key National Honor Society inductees and four university golf team members won the first ever Division 1 Mac Golf Championship. To top out the year, Mandi Kobasic was named Greek Woman of the Year.

At Creighton University, NEBRASKA GAMMAS dominated the annual Order of Omega Greek Awards. They placed first in scholarship, community involvement, new member education, chapter awards and first overall. Individual members also excelled in various academic areas. Michelle Gerken received the Creighton University Family Medical Scholarship. The New York Zeta Undergraduate Scholarship went to Dawn Imada. Jackie Behles, Missy Schultz, Kristen Kolesar and Erin Kouri were four of 12 Clare Booth Luce Scholarship for Women in Science recipients.

MICHIGAN ALPHA Meaghan Heater was named the Outstanding Psychology Student of the Year, and accepted the Vice Presidency of Psi Chi, a Psychology Honorary. Omicron Delta Kappa inducted Michelle Anderson, Nicole Khoury and Julie Mitchell.

Once again Indiana Zetas were the Greek women's Intramural Champions at Ball State University.

Ashleigh Davis and Jenny
Abramson were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa at Stanford University. Another CALIFORNIA ALPHA, Lila Musser, received a Fulbright Scholarship.
Kristine Penner was one of five individuals in the nation to receive the Howard B. Swearer Humanitarian Award, which recognizes community service and outstanding academics.

Bronson Hospital Oncology awarded MICHIGAN EPSILONS for their outstanding volunteer work this past year. Within the chapter, Jenn Diepenhorst achieved the highest GPA and Michelle Carte was named AAC's most Outstanding Senior. At Western Michigan University's Greek Awards, Myka Beach was named the Most Outstanding Michigan Epsilon member and the chapter received the Standards of Excellence Award for outstanding membership recruitment.

MINNESOTA ALPHAS Sarah Stauffer and Lisa Mueller were recognized for their dedication to their chapter and community at the University of Minnesota. Sally received the Diane Hart Service Award at Founders' Day and Lisa was named the Outstanding Senior for both the chapter and Rho Province.

ABOVE LEFT: At Florida State University, Florida Betas gave an Easter party for a needy Tallahassee family. After learning the eight children did not have a place for clothes, members decorated boxes for the children's clothing. They also helped the family dye eggs, and took them to buy clothes and shoes as well as Easter outfits.

ABOVE CENTER: Cans Around the Oval was the theme for Colorado State University and the city of Ft. Collin's recycling contest. With enthusiasm and dedication, Colorado Gammas placed third in this event. They also placed second in the university's intramural competition. Colorado Gamma's House Corporation gave scholarships to Melissa Young and Kristin Lohman. Melissa also received a scholarship from the Denver Alumnae Club.

ABOVE: The women of West Virginia
Alpha at West Virginia University followed the tradition of Pi Phi firsts when they placed first in Pi Kappa Phi, Delta Chi and Phi Delta Theta's philanthropies as well as first place in Greek Week.

Greek Weekend at the University of Connecticut was fun and fulfilling for the CONNECTICUT ALPHAS. During the weekend, chapter members raised the most money for the Special Olympics and won the Spirit Award. Erika Bates was also named Greek Goddess. Apart from the weekend, Connecticut Alpha is home to three Rho Chis this year.

Collegiation

Twelve VIRGINIA GAMMAS at the College of William & Mary studied around the world in places ranging from Europe to Israel, while at home, 14 women made the Dean's List.

Greek Sing at the University of New Mexico would not have been the same without the New Mexico ALPHAS. Paired with the Lambda Chi Alphas, they won the small group mix. In the large group mix category, New Mexico Alphas and Sigma Alpha Epsilons received second place. At the closing Greek Week Banquet, they received most improved GPA, the Karen Abrams Campus Involvement Award and, for the third year in a row, the Philanthropic Award.

TENNESSEE BETA Amy Worden received a 3.94 while playing Lacrosse at Vanderbilt University. Thirty-four members are on the Dean's list.

MONTANA ALPHA members at Montana State University ended their school year on a high scholastic note. The members achieved the highest soronty GPA on their campus, Semior Dana Forsman also was named 1998 Woman of Achievement for her outstanding GPA, leadership and service.

FLORIDA DELTAS hold several leadership positions across campus.

Danielle Damato was selected as University of Florida's Panhellenic
Council's executive vice president.
Kathy Carmichael will be a liaison between students, administration and alumni as a Florida Cicerone member.
Shana O'Kane was elected to a cabinet position in the Blue Key Honorary, and Stephanie Linton placed fourth in the Miss University of Florida pageant.

At the University of Texas' Greek Week Awards Banquet, Texas Alphas were recognized for their great sportsmanship. The chapter gave internal awards to members at both its scholarship dinner and Founders' Day celebration. To congratulate the seniors, Texas Alphas held a Senior Week with fun activities for the whole chapter, and finished the year with a chapter cook-out.

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHAS brought home the first place plaque and the Best Director Award at the University of South Dakota's Mortar Board sponsored, annual choral competition, Swingout. The chapter also received five of the seven awards given for Greek Week. These awards were Outstanding New Member Education and Retention, Outstanding Risk Management, Excellence in Greek Leadership, Outstanding Contribution to Philanthropies and Overall Outstanding Chapter. Sophomore April Ross was named Outstanding New Member, and Jacalynn Hoftiezer was named Outstanding Greek Woman. In other award ceremonies, member Jamie Sage was recognized as the individual who collected the most money for the Children's Miracle Network Dance Marathon, and Heather Carpenter tied for the highest GPA on campus.

GEORGIA ALPHA Heather Layfield, a landscape architect student at the University of Georgia, received a scholarship from the American Society of Landscape Architects. The Rotary Club chose Georgia Wood as one of five students in the state to study at the University of Oslo in Norway. For her leadership in both campus and Greek activities, Heather Quinn was named Greek Woman of the Week. The chapter also hosted their annual mother/daughter day brunch and first ever alumnae tea.

Between volunteering and studying, VIRGINIA ZETAS kept busy this year. The members' involvement with a Red Cross blood drive and various other philanthropic activities lead to Virginia Zetas winning the Philanthropy Award at the Annual Greek Awards. Approximately 25% of the chapter was initiated into various academic honor societies at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University as well.

FLORIDA ALPHAS at Stetson University received several awards for their academic excellence. Elizabeth Maresca earned the highest Greek, junior GPA. Glennys Ortega won the English Honor Award and the Outstanding Senior English Award. Lori Ann Francis won the AKA Pearl of Excellence Plaque for outstanding service. The Master Family Trust Accounting Award was given to Jennifer Townsend. Psi Chi initiated Kristen Thompson as did Alpha Kappa Delta. Kimala Barclay was elected Alpha Kappa Delta president and was named the sociology department's Outstanding Junior. Courtney Parnell is a new Mortar Board member.

Omo Thera members at Bowling Green State University are proud of Kathryn Fortlage, who, through her academic and leadership excellence, is an Order of Omega initiate, Golden Key member, Phi Upsilon Omicron member and Omicron Delta Kappa member.

The VIRGINIA THETA Chapter at Washington & Lee University celebrated its sixth anniversary on April 25. The chapter led the way on campus through several leadership positions, an outstanding GPA, a successful Holiday Angel Tree in partnership with Wal-Mart, an incredible rush and shining performances in theater and the arts.

TENNESSEE DELTAS received many awards at the University of Memphis' annual Order of Omega Banquet. The awards and recipients were: Intramural Woman of the Year, Erin Dickson; the Centennial Award, Jennifer Wilson; Chapter President of the Year, Melissa Carkeet; the Campus Leadership Award, Kate Rose; Emerging Leader of the Year and the Samuel T. Boswell Award, Katie Schwie. The chapter as a whole won intramural sorority softball.

KENTUCKY BETA members not only won first place in three fraternity philanthropies, but they also won several awards during the Inter-Greek Programming Assembly Awards Banquet at the University of Kentucky. The chapter won Level of Achievement in recruitment and retention and Levels of Excellence in chapter house management, membership education, organizational management and international relations. Five seniors received an Academic Excellence Award. Melissa Miller received the Friendship Fund Undergraduate Scholarship, and Joann Hollen was runner-up for Homecoming Queen.

This is the third year the OKLAHOMA BETAS have won the all-university intramural sports championship. Many individual members were recognized for achievements as well. Amy Puckett is Oklahoma State University's Student Government Association Vice President, and Shannon Lambert is serving as Panhellenic Co-Rush Chairman. Shannon Cloyes was named the year's Outstanding Greek Sophomore, while Carrie Combs was named Outstanding Greek Sportswoman. The Oklahoma State Panhellenic Council also recognized the chapter for the best new member programming on campus.

Collegiate Topics and Deadlines

The ARROW editor designates a collegiate topic for each issue. Pi Phi is interested in how your chapter plans for or reacts to such topics.

The following are deadlines and topics selected for the 1998-99 academic year.

- October 1, 1998 (Winter 1998)—Panhellenic Activities.
 How is your chapter involved with other Panhellenic groups on your campus?
 Share news about interesting programs your chapter is involved in with other Panhellenic groups.
- December 1, 1998 (Spring 1999)—Community Service
 How does your chapter help the community in your area? What are your major philanthropic projects?
- April 1, 1999 (Summer 1999)—Chapter and Alumnae Activities
 How is your chapter involved with local Pi Beta Phi alumnae and alumnae clubs? Has your chapter developed any interesting or creative activities to get chapter members and alumnae more acquainted?
- June 1, 1999 (Fall 1999)—Accomplishments What outstanding achievements did your chapter or an individual in your chapter receive this academic year?

What really "links" us to literacy?

Is it the pages of a glossy new Dr. Seuss book? Is it the intrigue of an adventure novel? Or is it the giddy smile of a new reader and his tutor after the pupil has read his first sentence?

As Pi Phis, we share the new book, delve into the intrigue and glow with excitement as we help link others to literacy. Through literacy, we also link with other humans to enhance not only their lives, but also our own by expanding our learning limits.

Throughout this year Pi Phis across the country have participated in Links to Literacy in a variety of ways.

Members have creatively heightened the community's awareness about literacy.

University held a spaghetti dinner to raise money for literacy kits. They donated the kits to Aunt Martha's Youth Service in the Chicago area. Members also tutored and developed a writing contest for Haven Middle School in Evanston, Illinois, and helped the Evanston Women's Club host a story-telling centered Halloween party for local children.

The Maryland-D.C. Suburban Alumnae Club sponsored a book wrapping service at a local bookstore. The club set up an easel to describe Links to Literacy and Pi Phi's philanthropic mission.

The CATALINA MOUNTAIN POCKET has adopted students in the Oracle, Arizona School District. The group donates a large assortment of new children's books to first graders as part of the district's Learning Corner Project.

CONNECTICUT ALPHAS held a campus-wide book donation at the University of Connecticut.

OHIO THETAS at Bowling Green
State University corresponded with first grade students via letters stressing the importance of reading and the benefits learning to read can provide. Chapter members also volunteered in another classroom, where they assisted the teacher and hosted an end-of-the-year luncheon for the students at their chapter house.

In keeping with the Pi Phi tradition of service, education and recognizing talent within its membership, all Pi Phis are encouraged to participate in the Third Annual Pi Beta Phi Links to Literacy Writing Contest.

All Pt Beta Phi alumnae and collegians are invited to submit an original piece of writing not longer than 350 words answering the following question. What has your involvement in Links to Literacy taught you?

Submissions may include poems, essays, short stories or any genre of the author's choosing. Criteria will include a unique approach to the topic, effective use of the genre selected and quality of writing. Alumnae and collegiate submissions will be judges separately.

One winner and one honorable mention from both alumnae and collegiate submissions will be chosen. The alumnae and collegiate winning submissions will be published in the Spring 1999 issue of The ARROW. All entries will be available for Pi Phi use for educational purposes.

Submit your entries by November 30, 1998 to Links to Literacy Chairman Jean Egmon, 1625 Sheridan Road #212, Wilmetter, IL 60091, E-mail egmon@nwu.edu.

Your submission must include your name, address, phone number, alumnae/collegiate status and chapter or alumnae club name, if applicable.

Links to Literacy Questions & Answers

- Q: What is Links to Literacy Week?
- A: Links to Literacy Week is the time set aside each year when all Pi Beta Phi members promote literacy through service in their communities, on their campuses and throughout the Fraternity.
- Q: When was Links to Literacy Week established?
- A: Links to Literacy Week was established in 1994.
- Q: Why was Links to Literacy Week established?
- A: Links to Literacy Week was established so that alumnae and collegians could share a time to promote Links to Literacy.
- Q: When is Links to Literacy Week?A: Links to Literacy Week is the - second full week in October. This year, Links to Literacy Week is October 11-17.
- Q: What are some guiding principles for Links to Literacy Week and for Links in general?
- A: There are as many activities you can do for Links to Literacy as there are Pi Phis. Three key principles to keep in mind when planning your activities for Links to Literacy are:

- 1. Service—The purpose of Links to Literacy is service. Its success is measured in volunteer hours, not in donations made or money raised.
- Full Participation—Try to get as many of your members participating in Links to Literacy, especially during Links to Literacy Week.
- Awareness—Through Links to Literacy Pi Phis and the community should be more aware of the need for literacy.
- Q: What are some ideas for Links to Literacy Week activities?
- A: Consult Links to Literacy: A Pi Beta Phi Programming Guide for Links to Literacy activity ideas. It contains ideas for everything from model programs to motivation to publicity and awards. There are ideas and processes in the Links guide that can help you with other sorts of programming as well. If you do not have a copy, please obtain one by calling Pi Beta Phi Central Office.

Ideas

Here are some other ideas that have been submitted by Pi Beta Phi chapters, clubs, individuals and members of the Fraternity's Links to Literacy Committee. As a pair, a chapter and club could:

- Kick off a year-long, joint Links to Literacy project.
- Sponsor a literacy speaker for the campus and community.
- Build and staff a library in a local hospital.

- Read together and/or perform a story in the classroom of a local alumna who teaches school.
- Have dinner together and invite a literacy speaker, or conduct a literacy activity.
- Conduct a reading hour at a local library.
- 7. Conduct a writing contest with a local bookstore.
- 8. Invite a speaker from the organization with whom you conduct literacy service to a chapter or club meeting to speak about the difference you make to literacy and the ways you can expand your service.
- Q: What if for some reason we are not holding a meeting during Links to Literacy Week?
- A: Make everyone aware of the week's date and purpose. Then encourage people to observe and promote literacy on their own in a special way and bring back stories of what they did to the next club or chapter meeting. Conduct your Links to Literacy Week event at the next possible meeting.

Other Links to Literacy Hints

Submit a program evaluation form for each Links to Literacy activity you hold. Include materials from the program and a contact person's name and number.

Encourage participation in the Links to Literacy Writing Contest.

Elect a special Links to Literacy officer and/or interest group.

Pi Beta Phi's Mentoring & Networking Program

Directions Success

I got involved in the Directions program because I like to help people, and I was provided a lot of help from family and friends during my initial search for a job. Everyone needs a "foot in the door" and I'd like to help push the door open a little and help out. I feel that it would be a shame not to share my experience with women who are in the career search process I was once in. Especially when it comes to the field of advertising. I only wish I had someone to share their experiences with me. I think it's important to convey that having the help and guidance of those in your field of expertise can really help to guide you to the appropriate contacts. It is a big world out there, and many people are vying for the same job-you need a little edge and Directions can help you get that.

DIANE DELUCA LOBIONDO NEW YORK ALPHA GARDEN CITY, NEW YORK

I graduated in 1996 from Marquette University with a degree in Business, but didn't have much of an idea of the kind of career I wanted to pursue. I contacted the Directions program to expand the networking I was doing through my university, friends and family. The Pi Phi alumnae who responded to my letter were, by far, the most helpful of all my contacts. Not only did I receive leads for jobs, but invaluable advice from women who had the successful career I was seeking. One of my Pi Phi's leads was fruitful and landed me an entry level position in a pharmaceutical firm. Since then I've been promoted and moved to New York City as a pharmaceutical sales representative! Coincidentally, I contacted the Directions program again when I moved to New York to meet some new people—it worked well for that, too! This is my second year with the company, and I am as thrilled with my career as the day I started my job. I truly love what I do! I would have never considered this field, but because the Pi Phi alumnae took the time to get to know me, they saw the potential for a perfect match before I recognized my own interest was there!

Thank you for providing us with this program which is such an invaluable resource. Thank you to the many alumnae for participating and offering your time to sisters like me—you've made such a difference!

MARY ELLEN "MIMI" HOWELL MCELROY, 1949; May 1998

The L.C. Sorosis was organized at Monmouth, Illinois, in April, 1867, making it the oldest of women's college secret societies. It was the result of a need for cooperation on the part of young women then attending that co-educational institution. The history of co-education in our land gives emphasis to this need, for the paths of young women attending co-educational colleges twenty-five years ago were thorny with ridicule, sarcasm and often with insult; but these pioneers in coeducation were sustained by the very ambition and indomitable will that from that day to this have enabled women to gain the foothold they must have in order to carry forward the education of the world as they alone can carry it forward-to the point where the education of intellect goes hand in hand with that of manhood and womanhood.

To these women at Monmouth the strength of united effort suggested organization and the I.C. Sorosis was organized for defense, cooperation, education; and the product of that time has proved so helpful to all times that the fraternity system is now made up, not of chapters for one time or place and with limited membership, but of great national organizations with chapters throughout the land.

As a name for such an organization Fraternity is the only word in our language which expresses the idea embodied. The word is without sex and is most fittingly applied to all Greek-letter college organizations be the membership men or women. It was a grave mistake to have named our organization Sorosis as the word has no signification in itself save that of a heap or crowd. The women's fraternities of later organization profited by our mistake and with commendable foresight adopted the name Fratemity, at once identifying themselves with the Greekletter movement. This step gave them every advantage since to be a part of the Greek-letter fraternity system was what college people wanted.

I.C. Sorosis, though the oldest lost much time and wasted much effort in attempting to carry the burden of an English name among the Greeks in spite of the fact that its organization was identical from the beginning with that of the men's fraternities.

Tradition tells us the grip of I.C. was always expressed in the Greek words Pi Beta Phi, but that these words were kept secret.

Even now they are the sacred words of our fraternity around which cluster all the beauty and sweetness of our fraternity life.

However true the tradition may be, sure it is the need of a Greek name became so patent to the chapter which published the first issue of The ARROW that without legislation and unadvised. the editor ventured to make the title page read, "I.C. Sorosis of Pi Beta Phi," a meaningless jingle, but it caused a revolution, the outcome of which was a Greek name. That (a) I.C. was not a fraternity, but Sorosis; (b) L.C. was not Greek but English, were the two most effective arguments used by rival organizations and which proved insurmountable stumbling blocks to membership and to outsiders. The name L.C. Sorosis did not index the character of the organization.

Meanwhile the active membership became more and more restless under the needless burden of an objectionable name and the movement grew rapidly to make the organization in name what it always had been in fact-a member of the college Greek-letter world.—hence the name Pi Beta Phi was substituted for I.C. in 1888 and Fraternity for Sorosis in 1892. Pi Beta Phi Fraternity thus became the official title of the organization, a name in every way expressive of its ideas and work.

Grand President Emma Harper Turner September 1892

An Update on North Dakota Alpha

In the spring of 1997, the North Dakota Alpha Chapter at the University of North Dakota was devastated by the flood that hit the Greater Grand Forks area. Water filled the basement of the chapter house and the contaminated water crept into the carpet on the main floor of the house. The kitchen, too, was destroyed, so chapter members shared meals at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

A year ago, the basement was remodeled and the chapter celebrated their unity with a successful bid day and a chapter-wide house retreat. This year, sod and a few bushes were replaced in the lawn. Library furniture that was ruined through soaking up much of the flood water, was removed from the basement and replaced. This summer, curtains were also added to the kitchen, dining room, laundry room and library windows.

North Dakota Alpha's House Corporation placed the needs of the chapter ahead of their own needs and worked very hard to be sure the house would be habitable again. Chapter members have remained strong, and supportive of each other and of the hard work their House Corporation has done throughout this period of adjustment.

1998 Fraternity Ornament

The newest Pi Beta Phi Greek Letter Ornament is now available.
Kansas Alpha Christy Wohltman Goessling designed the ornament to commemorate Pi Beta Phi's adoption of its Greek letters from the original name, 1.C. Sorosis. The attractively gift boxed ornament is sold through Pi Phi Express. Limited quantities of the 1995, 1996 and 1997 collectable ornaments are also available. To order an ornament, contact Pi Phi Express

Ford Award Winner Named

The Marilyn Simpson Ford Award was established in 1989 by Pi Beta Phi to honor Marilyn's service as editor of The ARROW. The award honors an individual who represents a College Fraternity Editors Association member organization and who provides outstanding service.

This year's award recipient is Mary Lauck-Barr, director of communications and editor of the Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly since 1991. First place in writing, color cover award and innovative handling of routine material are just a few of the many awards Mary has won for her work on the Quarterly.

Her energy and dedication has shown as she served CFEA as president, president-elect, treasurer, board member and editor of the Fraternity Editor. As book designer of "The Fraternity Voice: A 75-Year History of the College Fraternity Editors Association," Mary demonstrated her talent in designing, editing and writing.

Mary is well known and highly respected in the Greek community. She was the Our Chapter, Our Choice publication and poster designer for the National Interfraternity Conference's national issues awareness materials. Mary also created the national Adopt-A-School logo for the National Interfraternity Conference.

Anyone who knows Mary knows her infectious smile and positive attitude motivates others to continue in excellence. "As Greek communicators, we should never lose sight of the important role we play in the Greek community, shaping and sharing the Greek message."

The ARROW Recognized for Excellence

The ARROW received two awards at the annual conference of the College Fraternity Editors Association in Norfolk, Virginia. The Winter 1997 issue won second place in feature article content for the article, "A Hands-On Approach to Health." The Spring 1998 issue won a certificate of merit for General Excellence, which rewards the artistic and editorial excellence of an entire issue of the magazine.

Hazing Hotline

Pi Beta Phi has developed a new Hazing Hotline. Concerned collegians, alumnae, parents or administrators can call to report any hazing activities. The Hotline is (800) 320–1867.

Scholarship Applications

Pi Beta Phi Foundation alumnae and collegiate scholarship applications are now available for the 1999–2000 academic year. Completed applications and supporting documents must be postmarked by January 31, 1999 to be considered.

For more information on an undergraduate scholarship, alumnae scholarship or graduate fellowship, please contact: Scholarship Program, Pi Beta Phi Foundation, 7730 Carondelet, Suite 333, St. Louis, MO 63105 (314) 727–7338.

In addition, the Foundation offers scholarships for Arrowmont classes. The Arrowmont scholarship application deadlines are January 10, 1999, for Spring session, and March 15, 1999, for Summer session. Preference is given to members of Pi Beta Phi.
