THE ARROW OF PIBETA PHI

DECEMBER, 1949

VOLUME 66

Editorials

Of Economy

This issue has been a difficult one to prepare! Necessity for very rigid economy has struck the ARROW, and the question has been not so much "What shall we print?" as "What must we leave out!" First to feel the cut had to be the department of Pi Phi Personalities, and many fine items sent in have perforce been omitted—but later in the year we plan an issue made up largely of personality stories, so much of that material can be used at that time. Then came the report of the Scholarship Committee, with close to a hundred pictures of girls—one group of them was so large that it had to go out—there were 59 pictures of members of Alpha Lambda Delta out of 74 reported by chapters, truly a showing to be proud of! It promises much for future strength in college activities on the part of those girls who won that honor as freshmen! To each one of them goes an apology from the Editor of the Arrow, and a "Well Done!"

The entire report of the Scholarship committee is most interesting, and should be read by every Pi Phi.

Of Convention-and a Windfall!

The Arrow has a new staff member, Mr. Paul Busey (yes, he is the fraternity accountant), who is to be Convention Photographic Editor, and has volunteered to help in every aspect of Convention picture taking, even to helping individuals who bring their cameras to use them to the best possible advantage. He is nationally known as a photographer, and Jasper Park is his hobby. He very generously had made for us the truly beautiful cuts which are used in the Convention section of Jasper Park, at his own expense. They are chosen from among many of his wonderful pictures which have made the choice of Convention site for 1950 seem to be one of our very best. Read Mr. Busey's article about the Park, and you too will be caught up in his vision of that grandly beautiful out doors land of the Canadian Rockies. All the wonders that Mr. Busey has pictured and described are waiting for you there, with the added charm of the gracious hospitality of our Canadian chapters, and the presence of hundreds of Pi Phis from the four corners of the continent—come and see for yourselves!

Of Sympathy

Sorrow has struck at members of Grand Council in the last few weeks, in overflowing measure—to Marianne Reid Wild in the death of her only son, Leonard, brilliant student at Washington and Lee, instantly killed in an automobile accident; to Lucile Douglas Caron in the sudden death of her mother. The hearts of Pi Phis everywhere have gone out to them both.

Hail and Farewell

The Arrow greets with pleasure the members of the two new chapters, California Epsilon (dear to the Editor's heart!) and Alabama Beta—also the newly pledged members of the chapter-to-be at Santa Barbara, California Zeta, and in addition all the new pledges who have come to our chapters as a result of the Fall rushing season. Before them all lies the incredible richness of experience that may be theirs in Pi Beta Phi, if by their love and their enthusiasm they make the Fraternity a vital part of their lives.

It is sad, though, to be forced to announce that by decision of the Board of Trustees of Goucher College at the close of this college year, all national fraternity charters must be withdrawn from chapters on that campus, and so we lose Maryland Alpha, long an honored member of our family of chapters. Miss Onken, in her letter to Province Presidents, has well expressed the feeling of the fraternity over their loss, when she said "Pi Beta Phi is losing a chapter which has given it many loyal and valued members. It is most gratifying to have this year's chapter write of the 'heartbreak' which the announcement has brought with it, and its determination to make this last year for Maryland Alpha as an active chapter an exceedingly fine one."

Directory Pages

You will notice that the directory pages appear at the beginning instead of the end of this issue—by special request of Grand Council.

A Model Club

Mrs. Wild closed her last letter to the Province Vice Presidents with this thought-inspiring rhyme:

A Model Alumnæ Club May be led by anybody; Should be participated in by everybody; Must be monopolized by nobody; Is where everybody is somebody.

A Merry Christmas to Pi Phis everywhere!

adile Taylor alford

LONG BEFORE you read this article you will have received the letter prepared and mailed by the Alumnæ Home Committee, in which plans were outlined insofar as they can be at this time. This letter was sent to all Pi Phis on the mailing list of Central Office in the effort to reach not only members of alumnæ clubs, but isolated or unaffiliated Pi Phis who would be out of touch with national projects.

Responses to the appeal in the letter have been more than generous. The Committee has been surprised and touched at the amounts of money that have come in, within a few short weeks, from alumnæ everywhere, some from those who have been out of touch with their fraternity for years. Many letters have come, mostly of commendation, a few of criticism—but all helpful. It is amazing, the interest that is shown in the Alumnæ Home. Surely this interest means that the fraternity as a whole is ready for it and is willing to support it.

The Committee wishes most heartily that it could give you immediately more definite information about the Home—location, administration, etc., but according to the action of the 1947 Convention, all plans must first be submitted to and approved by the Alumnæ Session of the 1950 Convention before they can be put into effect.

Let us not permit our interest to wane, but continue to grow and to manifest itself in our loyal support.

Convention 1950-June 25-July 1-Jasper Lodge

JASPER NATIONAL PARK

By PAUL G. BUSEY

In Choosing Jasper National Park as the location for their annual convention in June, Pi Beta Phi has chosen the garden spot of the Canadian Rockies. Nowhere else in the world can one find such a variety of natural scenery. With such beauty spots as Lac Beauvert, Lake Mildred, Maligne Lake, Mt. Edith Cavell, Athabaska Falls, Columbia Ice Fields, and the Tonquin Valley to choose from, every minute of sojurn is a revelation.

Jasper National Park is the largest National Park in Canada and one of the largest in the Americas, covering 4,200 square miles. At the northern end is the town of Jasper, located at the junction of the Mietta and Athabaska rivers, with a population of 1,500 inhabitants. From there, it extends 100 miles south to the Columbia Ice Fields.

The park does not run as far south as Lake Louise or Banff, but an excellent highway running south through the park, connects Jasper with these points of interest. The park is a sanctuary for flora and fauna, no shooting arms being allowed. The trees growing there are the lodge pole pine, spruce, aspen, cottonwood, mountain maple and alpine larch. Five hundred varieties of wild flowers have been classified.

From the moment a delegate steps from the train in the town of Jasper her thrills begin. Jasper is a typical mountain town. Its shops are interesting, especially to those from the States. Prices are reasonable, and the absence of our usual sales tax comes as a welcome surprise to the tourist. You are likely to see a deer staring at you from the distant trees, or a bear with its cubs calmly crossing the railroad tracks.

At the train you will be met by porters from the lodge, who will take care of your baggage, and usher you into a bus for the Lodge, situated a couple of miles away.

Jasper National Park Lodge, the headquarters for the convention, is owned and operated by the Canadian National Railway, which, by the way, is owned by the Canadian government. Situated in the Athabaska Valley, the lodge and its adjacent lakes are almost entirely surrounded by mountains, the most beautiful of which is Mt. Edith Cavell. Towering 11,033 feet, this mountain reigns supreme over the Athabaska Valley. The Lodge has accommodations for 650 guests; the main lodge building, as well as the multitude of bungalows containing all the way from 4 to 23 sleeping rooms, is made entirely of peeled logs taken from the forests around Jasper.

The main lodge is of one story, and houses a beautiful foyer or lobby, dining rooms, ball room, gift shops, and offices. It has a barber shop, beauty salon, railway office, custom office, and tour and reservation headquarters.

On the arrival of your bus, you will be greeted by the most efficient and likeable staff of employees it has ever been your pleasure to meet. Practically all of the younger members are college girls and boys from Canadian Universities, and they all seem to feel that it is their job to make you feel at home. Everybody asks questions, and they are only too glad to answer them. Attached to the main building is a snack bar or room, open from 10 A.M. to 12 P.M.

The main lodge and the bungalows for sleeping purposes are built in a crescent around Lac Beauvert, with flower gardens and lawns extending down to the water's edge. The lodge has its own green-houses and the gardens and lodge are a mass of beautiful flowers. From the main veranda extending entirely across the front of the lodge building, one looks across the rock garden and the out-door swimming pool to Mt. Edith Cavell and other mountains in the distance.

Your problem while at Jasper will not be to find something to do, but to find the time in which to do it. Outside your convention activities, you will have to choose wisely to budget your recreational time.

If you care for bathing, the Lodge boasts of a large out-door swimming pool for the use of its guests. Canoes and row-boats are available for use on Lac Beauvert. If you play golf, you will find a championship golf course of 18 holes, one of the finest in the country. If you like tennis, the lodge has four hard-surfaced tennis courts. Riding horses or bicycles may be rented for a nominal sum, and the trails and roads are well marked. The Lodge has its own taxi and bus system, and makes regular trips into Jasper, as well as daily motor trips ranging from 12 to 150 miles, to Mt. Edith Cavell, Miette Hot Springs, Maligne Canyon, and the Columbia Ice Fields.

One of the first questions a delegate will ask is, "What shall I take to wear?" You will want an evening dress for formal dinner and evenings at the lodge. Outside of this, "Let your conscience be your guide." Wear what you like; sport clothes are tops, If you care to swim, bring a bathing suit, altho suits may be rented at the pool. You will need a heavy coat and sweater for cool evenings and hiking in the mountains. Sun glasses and low heel shoes for hiking are almost a "must." If you ride, breeches, or "levis" are a good idea. Flannel shirts are useful. There is little formality around the lodge. One day laundry is available.

By all means, if it is possible bring a camera, and a limited supply of film. This last item is generally available at the lodge or at Jasper, but they may be out of your size. If you are taking black and white pictures, bring a K2 filter, and a haze filter is sometimes very useful. As your official photographer for the convention, I will be glad to share with you my experience in taking pictures in the Rockies, and in obtaining supplies. If you are carrying your camera into Canada, it will be necessary for you to make out a custom declaration. Films are developed and you can get contact prints from them the same day.

Another question you will ask is, "How can I see the most Canadian mountain scenery during my stay in Jasper?" You will, of course do a certain amount of "hiking" in and around the Lodge grounds. You will doubtless run into deer, mountain sheep and bear. However, as no hunting is allowed in the Park, these animals as a rule will never bother you. There is no poison ivy, and NO SNAKES. A stroll around Lac Mildred and Lac Beauvert, taking in the golf grounds on the way, will be time well spent. A few hours on horseback on the numerous well-marked trails around the Lodge, will give you an excellent view of the mountain ranges.

You will, without doubt, wish on recreation day to take a bus to Mt. Edith Cavell, and the Glacier of the Angel. This should only take about three hours, including an hour at the Glacier. One of the twilight drives or the general drive, conducted by the Lodge, is worth while. The ride along the Athabaska River to Maligne Canyon is not a long one.

Although United States citizens do not require a passport to enter Canada, it might be helpful to carry some proof of your citizenship, such as a birth certificate. A Canadian Customs officer is located at the Lodge to facilitate the clearing of your baggage.

Your trip to Jasper will be the experience of a life-time, and with Arthur Conan Doyle, you will say:

"I have seen the gorge of Erie, where the roaring waters run,

I have crossed the Inland Ocean, lying golden in the sun,

But the last and best and sweetest is the ride by hill and dale,

With the packer and the packhorse on the Athabaska Trail."

I'll be seeing you in Jasper.

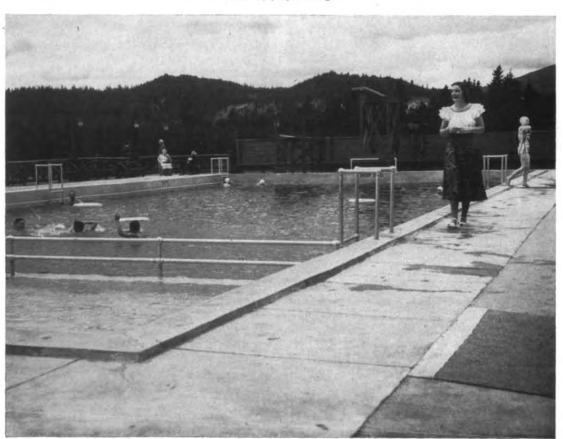

Mr. Busey, the author of the article on Jasper National Park, has been taking pictures in the Canadian Rockies for the past two summers and exhibiting same in various Salons over the country. He was chosen a member of the U. S. Camera Group for both 1948 and 1949, and photographed over a thousand Canadian scenes. Last year he traveled eighty-five miles by pack-horse in Alberta and British Columbia photographing mountain scenery. He is a member of the Photographic Society of America, and the Chicago Color Camera Club.

America, and the Chicago Color Camera Club.

Mr. Busey will act for us, this year, as Convention Photographic Editor of the Arrow, and the Convention Daily. He will be vacationing at Jasper during the period of the Convention, and has signified his willingness to give photographic advice and assistance to any of our delegates.

FROM THE CANADIAN NATIONAL POST CONVENTION TRIPS

Perhaps some of the members of the convention would be interested in visiting Banff and Lake Louise before returning to their respective cities. In order to do this they would spend one additional night at Jasper Lodge leaving on the morning of Sunday, July 2 by bus to Lake Louise, spending the time they desire at that point, then continuing to Banff and from Banff directly back to Chicago on the CPR. Such a trip can be made and the only additional expense as far as transportation is concerned would be $18.00 bus fare from Jasper to Banff. The rail and pullman would be approximately the same as quoted.

While we cannot advise you on the sailing schedule for 1950 at the present time, no doubt a great many of your members will be interested in the Alaska cruise of the "S.S. Prince George." This cruise starts from Vancouver and terminates at Skagway, Alaska, making the complete round trip in 10 days, stopping at Prince Rupert, Wrangell, Taku Glacier, Juneau, thence, Skagway, permitting two full days and one night in Skagway; sufficient time to make an interior trip to White Horse or West Taku Arm. The minimum fare will be approximately $160.00 plus tax from Vancouver to Skagway and return, including transportation, meals, and berth except while the steamer is in port at Skagway. If the members elect to remain in Skagway and take their meals and lodging aboard the steamer there will be an additional charge of $10.00 per person.

The interior trip to White Horse is $30.00 plus tax per person plus their over-night stay at White Horse Inn. The all expense to West Taku Arm is $40.00 plus tax per person.

We hope the above will give you the necessary information for your members. However, if we have missed any points that you feel should be included please write.

From the Convention Guide

THIS COMING SUMMER, for the first time in twenty-five years Canadian Pi Phis will be hosts at an international convention. As you already know, the convention will be held at beautiful Jasper Park Lodge in the heart of the Canadian Rockies. Jasper is considered by many world travellers to be one of the most uniquely beautiful spots in the world, and it is here to the rugged grandeur of our white capped mountains and the deep, quiet loveliness of our lakes and rivers that we hope you will come next June, The 1950 convention we feel, should be a particularly significant one, for it will symbolize not only the affection and loyalty that exists between Pi Phis, but the deep trust and understanding and friendship that exists between two great nations. All Canadian Pi Phis and in particular, we of Lambda province extend to you a wide western welcome and our warmest greetings.

MARY BOWLEN MOONEY

The Convention Guide (Mrs.) Mary Bowlen Mooney, was a charter member of Alberta Alpha and was very active in the work of petitioning Pi Beta Phi for the charter which was granted in 1931. Later when Calgary had the required ten Pi Phis she was very interested in forming an alumnæ club. She has served the Calgary Alumnæ Club in an official capacity many times.

Registration Fee

Following last year's plan we are going to again urge you to register early. This will save you not only considerable inconvenience upon your arrival at the Lodge but will save you two dollars, for the registration fee has been set at $10.00 for those who register before June 10th and $12.00 for those registering after that date. This fee will include tips and the Convention Daily for all those at the Lodge.

CONVENTION RATES AT JASPER PARK LODGE

The accommodation arrangement at Jasper Park Lodge is an interesting one. It is a big hotel, but it has no elevators, it doesn't need them, for the Lodge isn't a building at all, it is a village of bungalows all facing beautiful Lake Beauvert. Lovely lawns and bright flowers enhance the setting of these peeled log bungalows. However in order to house our large convention single accommodation is not recommended and we have been given the following rates:

Two persons to a room $26.00 per day ($13.00 each).

Three persons to a room $34.00 per day. This is American plan.

Installation Ceremonies

The Installation of California Epsilon chapter of Pi Beta Phi at San Diego State College, San Diego, California on September 1, 1949, climaxed months of dreaming and planning by members of the San Diego Alumnæ Club and the local chapter, Phi Sigma Nu. The presence of Amy Burnham Onken, Grand President, as guest of honor and installing officer, with Adèle Taylor Alford, Arrow Editor, Olga Charles Siburg, Mu Province President, and Marcella McCormick Rhodes as her assistants, brought inspiration to Pi Phis of Southern California and new initiates alike.

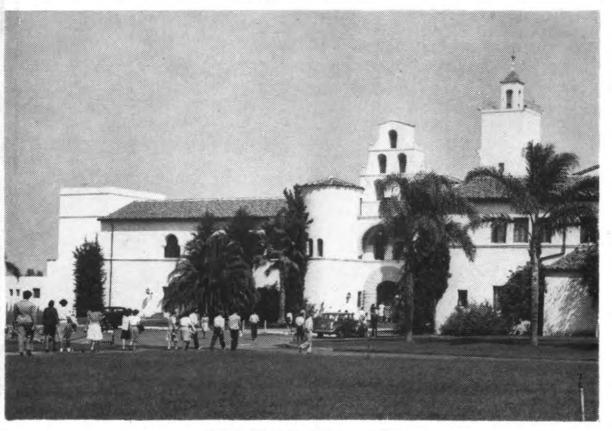

Pledging ceremonies for 116 women began Friday evening and continued all day Saturday, with Adèle Alford in charge. What a hot day that was! but not even the heat could daunt the tireless installation committee under the chairmanship of Aileen Nelson Johnson, Wyoming A, and the day closed with a cookyshine for about two hundred people, given by the Pi Phis in honor of the new pledges—it was really a spaghetti dinner, ending with the singing of "Pi Phi Lights" and the serving of the traditional cookies, each with its lighted blue candle. After dinner Olga Siburg read the constitution to the chapter pledges, Marcella Rhodes to the alumnæ pledges.

Amy Onken and Lois Snyder Finger, former Grand Secretary, arrived Sunday afternoon, and were greeted at El Cortez Hotel by Adèle Alford, Phyllis Dorman, president of $\Phi \Sigma N$, Barbara Jenkins and Dorothy Dibb, past presidents, and Lenore Hughes, past treasurer. That evening the executive board of the alumnate which benefit Miss Onker. Mrs. Sibus.

the ocean" as Miss Onken said, "but we did little looking at it!" First came the active chapter members, then the alumnæ, and the ceremony continued Monday and Tuesday all day and evening, and Wednesday morning—the bare facts tell nothing of the deep impressiveness of the ceremony, and all the happy greetings of old friends, the little visits between whiles!

Wednesday night the installation banquet was held in the beautiful Don Room at El Cortez, with 300 Pi Phis old and new present. Preceding dinner, the Pi Phi Grace was led by Adèle Taylor Alford, toastmistress for the evening followed by "Speed Thee My Arrow" led by Dorothy Anderson Lanning, member of the national Committee on Fraternity Music.

After dinner came the impressive formal installation ceremony of California E-with the new Pi Phis in their white formals grouped in the center of the room, facing Miss Onken. Special guests were introduced and spoke their wish for the success of the new chapter. Alice Wyeth Hinman, California B, president of the alumnæ club, expressed a warm welcome; loey Wight represented California I, whose delegates had been forced to leave early; Marilyn Manville, president of California A brought greetings from her chapter; Mrs. Finger, spoke on behalf of the national Fraternity, ending with an impressive recitation of the Pi Phi "If." Mrs. Siburg and Mrs. Rhodes spoke for Mu Province; Phyllis Dorman was presented as the president of California Epsilon, Dorothy Dibbs spoke for the chapter, and Betty Lou Hayter sang two selections delightfully. A few of the hundreds of messages sent to the new chapter were read, and gifts announced. As climax to a thrilling evening Mrs. Alford introduced Miss Onken, who truly inspired her audience as she spoke of the ideals of Pi Beta Phi. The Pi Phi creed and the singing of the Anthem closed a gathering whose beauty will live always in memory.

Thursday morning Miss Onken installed the officers of California E at a meeting in the chapter room in the House of Hospitality and talked on the ideals, standards, and goals of the Fraternity. Miss Onken was honored by the chapter with a luncheon in the patio of the Cafe del Rey Moro, in the same building, then was taken for a tour of the State College campus. That evening the new chapter held its formal reception for college and town friends, local Pi Phis, and families of members, with Miss Onken and Mrs. Alford joining Dean Mary Mendenhall, President and Mrs. Hepner, and Dean and Mrs. Peiffer in the receiving line and greeting several hundred guests.

Background

When word reached the local group that they had been granted a charter by Pi Beta Phi in June 1949, members found themselves becoming pledges all over again. True they had no arrowheads to symbolize their status, and they were not allowed to call themselves Pi Beta Phi pledges, but it was announced in the local newspapers that installation would take place in August. Pledge training began at once under the direction of the Arrow Editor, special advisor to the new chapter. Members of the new advisory board spoke at Monday meetings on fraternity subjects, and pledge tests were prepared for and taken under the supervision of San Diego active chapter members Norma Mae Johnson, and Mary Jean Harris, Wyoming A, Jean Jefferson, Colorado A, Joey Wight, California A, and Judy Beach, Indiana E. Katherine Teasley, Colorado A, graduate student, was named supervisor of the group for the coming year.

Phi Sigma Nu Sorority was almost twentyfive years old, having been founded on January 19, 1925, by twelve members of the Petrol Rowing Club at the old San Diego Normal School. Since that date, more than three hundred members had been affiliated with the group. In 1946, the two alumnæ groups, A and B, were formed to accommodate the overflow of alumnæ members of Φ Σ N. Of these, sixtythree were initiated into Pi Beta Phi.

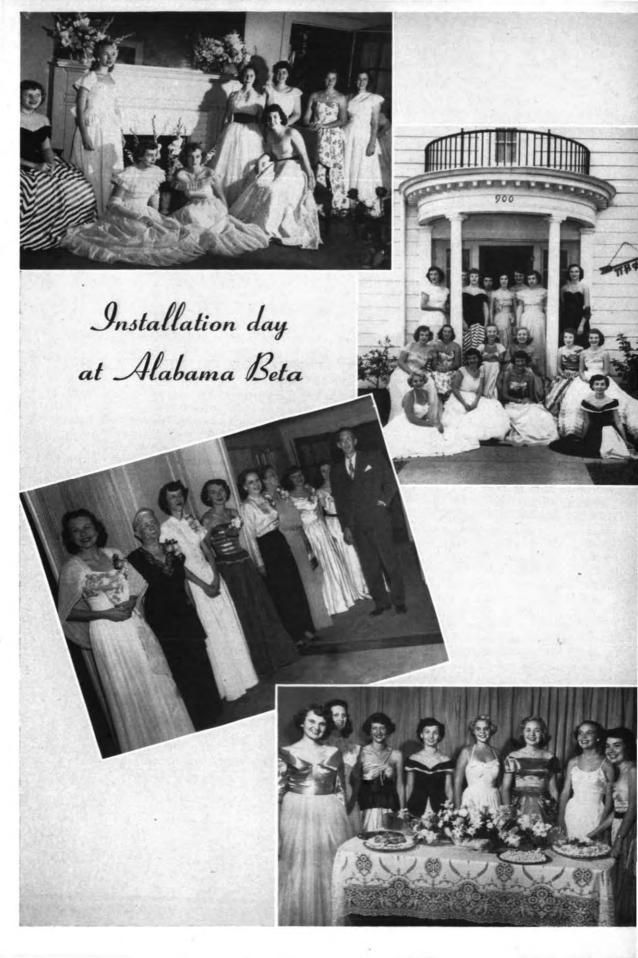

Enrollment at State College reached its peak at the opening of the 1949-50 term with 4,738 students registered, an increase of 250 over last year. The faculty consists of 254 members.

With an eye to the future, President Walter R. Hepner is carrying out plans for the $2,500,000 construction program granted by the State Legislature. A future building program of $4,640,000 was decided upon by the Regents of the University of California and the State Board of Education to relieve the overcrowded conditions.

San Diego State's campus is built on a mesa, surrounded by canyons with a beautiful background of mountains. Its Spanish style architecture is patterned after that found in the region between Catalonia and Valencia, in Spain, where Moorish influence is predominant. Newest addition to the campus is an Arts and Crafts building, located on the north side of the canyon. It too, is in keeping with the white stucco, red tiled roofing of the other buildings. A library annex was constructed during the summer months, allowing adequate capacity for shelving over 125,000 volumes. Future plans include the building of dormitories for men and women

Today, the Bachelor of Arts degree is offered in 20 fields with 19 credentials offered by the Education Department. A Bachelor of Science degree is also offered. Last year, the State Legislature passed a bill making it possible for the Master of Arts degree to be granted in Education. The college is accredited by the Northwest Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

California E chapter of Pi Beta Phi extends to all members of the fraternity an invitation to visit its group at any time.

Alabama B Charter Members

Alabama Beta Installation

PI PHI BETA COLONY was organized at the University of Alabama in October of 1948. Rush activities were conducted under the guidance of Marianne Reid Wild, Grand Vice-President, and Helen Anderson Lewis, Delta Province President. They were assisted by the members of the Birmingham Alumnæ Club and seven representatives from Georgia, Kansas, and Louisiana. Members of Alabama A also aided the group.

Forty girls pledged to Pi Phi Beta on October 24. During the year five left school and one was pledged. The five members of the Advisory Committee under the chairmanship of Zoe Saunders James are from the Birmingham Alumnæ Club. These women have given invaluable assistance and inspiration to the colony.

Pi Phi Beta boasted of having its members included in most of the campus organizations, and it took part in all traditional activities of the University. Pershing Rifles, an honorary

R.O.T.C. unit, chose a Pi Phi for its first sponsor in the history of the corps. The colony won second place in the Homecoming house decorations competition. Two of the girls were chosen yearbook beauties by the men on the campus. The office of second vice-president of the Y.W.C.A. was won by Pi Phi in the yearly election held in February. The colony participated in Step Singing and placed among the four finalists. Nine of the members were elected to Triangle, women's service organization. Various members held positions of responsibility in other campus organizations and were numbered among the governing bodies of the dormitories. Several of the girls were honored by the fraternities in the lead outs of their annual formal balls. Pi Phi also won first place in the Wheelbarrow Race at the Sigma Chi Derby, and one of the girls was named Miss Pie Eater at the Bama Day carnival con-

The Installation

After having been a colony for a year, Pi Phi Beta was officially installed as the newest chapter of Pi Beta Phi on September 19, 1949. Alabama B was privileged to have Miss Onken officiate at the pledging, initiation, and installation ceremonies. Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Bartlett, province president and vice-president, along with representatives from Alabama A, Georgia A, and Florida B were present for the occasion. Pledging took place on September 18 after which was held a buffet supper. Following the initiation ceremony on September 19, a banquet was held at the McLester Hotel. At the banquet the Birmingham Alumnæ Club presented each new initiate with Pi Beta Phi stationery. The afternoon of September 20 they also honored Alabama B with a reception to which faculty, administration, and representatives from campus organizations were invited. The chapter received numerous gifts, telegrams, and notes of congratulations from Pi Beta Phis throughout the country. Also flowers were sent from many of the sororities and fraternities on campus.

The Campus

The University of Alabama, the home of the newest chapter of Pi Beta Phi, was founded in 1831. Co-education was introduced in 1893 when two young ladies were admitted. The University grounds, immediately adjacent to the city of Tuscaloosa, comprise approximately 420 acres. In addition, the Northington campus, consisting of 150 acres, is an annex to the main campus and is situated about two miles from the campus. University centers are maintained in Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, and Gadsden.

The buildings on campus include eighteen for classroom use, the Administration Building, the Union Building, Foster Auditorium, and three gymnasiums. The Union Building houses the Supply Store, the College Inn, the publications, the student government offices, and radio station WABP.

There are seventeen dormitories for men, and ten for the women. The campus also holds twenty-five fraternity houses and seventeen sorority houses. There are four University dining halls.

The architecture of the campus follows the lines of Colonial design, and gives an appearance of continuity to the scene. The buildings are attractively arranged around a quadrangle, in the center of which is located Denny Chimes.

The fraternities at the University of Alabama are as follows: Delta Kappa Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha, Phi Kappa Sigma, Zeta Beta Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Mu, Chi Phi, Kappa Nu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Delta Tau Delta, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Chi, Theta Xi, Delta Sigma Phi, and Alpha Epsilon Pi.

The sororities include: Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, Alpha Delta Pi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Gamma Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Delta Tau, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, Theta Upsilon, Alpha Epsilon Phi, Alpha Phi, and Delta Gamma. Pi Beta Phi represents the seventeenth sorority on the campus.

THF FUTURE OF SORORITIES "One of the most encouraging factors in the whole sorority problem is the understanding of human problems and the serious weighing of values that go on in many groups. In many, many schools—perhaps in small colleges rather more than in great universities—there is most careful thought and consideration given to the possibility of taking in those people who have expressed a desire to become members. It is most encouraging to note the strides that are being made as the woman of today seeks to reconcile selective grouping to her principles of democratic living. The future of sororities depends largely upon their ability to retain the great value of unity within the group—which demands selectivity based on like values and harmonious relationships—in a situation that is essentially democratic. It is a difficult problem, but one that can be worked out."

Santa Barbara Pledging

REA COUNCIL, representing the Alumnæ A Clubs from Santa Barbara to San Diego, held formal pledging ceremonies for forty-three members of Δ Z Δ of Santa Barbara College of the University of California at the chapter house of California A at U.C.L.A. on September 6, 1949.

It was a perfect day from beginning to end. Rosalie Sloan, President of Area Council and her committee chairmen had planned everything down to the last detail to make it a happy and successful occasion. From the moment of arrival at 10 A.M. until it was time to leave at 8 o'clock, the day was full of happy experiences. There was the joy of renewal of old friendships and the beginning of new ones, the beautiful solemnity of the pledging ceremony with Lois Finger, Former Grand Secretary, officiating, the feeling of pride in adding such a splendid group to the Pi Phi roster, the fun in meeting the U.C.L.A. actives, whose warm friendliness did so much to make the new pledges feel at home, and the joy of again visiting the beautiful chapter house of California Δ .

A cooky-shine followed with eighty Pi Phis and pledges sitting down to a delicious dinner and the fun of singing Pi Phi songs together. There were words of welcome from the presidents of California I and California A, from Lois Finger, and from Jane Wentz, and Virginia Allred representing the Santa Barbara Club and an incomparable talk by Adèle Alford representing Grand Council.

Actives and pledges then slipped away to get into formals, for through Anne d'Aule whose husband is an S A E, they had all been invited to attend the ball at the Biltmore, following the conclusion of the S A E convention in Los Angeles.

HOLT HOUSE

ALICE McDougal Jensen, Illinois A

By the time you read this article it will be more appropriate to send you all a "Merry Christmas" from Holt House-but having just returned from Monmouth, in what is my favorite season of the year, I can't resist writing of its beauty in an autumn setting.

The trees, beautiful at any time of the year, were riotous with color, and seemed a fitting welcome to the troops of girls attending the fall rushing parties at the house. The house itself, a year older, gleams from new paint on the outside and radiates such warmth and friendliness that one feels at home instantly upon entering the front door.

New braided rugs in wine and blue have been added to the Pine Room. In the dining room are some new pieces of antique glass and silver, and the kitchen has been freshly painted. In the upstairs lounge a set of hanging pine shelves lined with copper for planting complements the blue and white of the wallpaper and draperies.

The Burlington, Iowa, Alumnæ Club has presented the Committee with a check to be used for a hooked rug for the parlor. It will be presented in memory of Edna Uhler Gilman and Mrs. Clay Waite. Mrs. Gilman was for many years an active member of the Holt House Committee.

During the summer Mrs. Nancy Bechtol and Mr. Paul Wallace presented the house with trellises and climbing roses in memory of their cousin and mother, Nancy Black Wallace, Founder. This restores the exterior of the house to its original appearance.

Pi Phis and others are always welcome at Holt House-try to visit it soon.

NANCY I. SWISHER

The Pan Pacific Women's Conference Honolulu, July 27 to Aug. 3, 1949

T TNDER the benevolent gavel and friendly smile of Josephine Schain, Minn. A, members of the Pan Pacific Women's Association and guests made friendships and bridged a gap of work left suspended, if not interrupted, during the twelve years since the last conference. From ten countries (Australia, China, India, Korea, Japan, New Zealand, Philippines, Samoa, Hawaii and the Mainland of the USA) fifty-three delegates met in Honolulu for two weeks studying problems of the Pacific area, and reports were also heard from a representative of India, altho' that is not technically a part of the Pacific. Appropriately, the conference was held in Punahou School, for the sessions were educational in the broadest sense. Each morning the delegates and visitors heard first hand reports of conditions in each country on the subject at hand, Food and Agriculture, Health, Education for International Understanding and the Status of Women. Afternoons were devoted to small round table groups, limited to delegates, where efforts were made to evaluate the material heard that morning, and to lay out a constructive program, to spell out means of improving conditions, or put into operation the program of UN.

Part of the success of the conference was due to the "living together" made possible by the use of the dormitory of Punahou, and the beautiful social functions of hospitable Hawaii. The experience emphasized what most of us have learned on other similar occasions, namely, that if individuals live and talk and play together the differences vanish, and the deeper more important universal human qualities unify, and encourage a hope for universal peace. This was also one of the contributions of the Conference on East-West philosophy which was conducted at the University of Hawaii during the summer session, and which the PPWC was invited to attend. These learned philosophers could have profited by the keen observations made by the PPWC delegate from Korea, who reported to the Women's Conference on the restrictions imposed on progress in her country, especially on young people and the home by the old cults of Buddhism and Shintoism, remarks which sounded like a different story from those propounded in mystic words by the philosophers.

The PPWC concluded that the perspective for understanding world problems would be enlarged through realization that countries can work together; that with the knowledge acquired through first hand contact members should guide others toward improving world conditions. An ambitious program of study was outlined for the interval between conventions, new officers were chosen, and plans were laid for a journal, or some less ambitious means of keeping members acquainted with local branches until the next Conference in New Zealand in 1951.

Pi Beta Phi was well represented at this Conference. In addition to Miss Schain who will be President next year, Muriel James Bergstrom (Michigan B and California A) was treasurer for the conference, Dorothy MacLaren Anderson (Penn. A) Ex. Sec. Mental Health Soc., was one of the resource experts, Dorothy Deemer Houghton (Iowa Γ) was one of the delegates from the mainland, selected to give an address at one of the opening sessions, an address that was beautiful and inspiring. Mrs. Houghton is now Vice-Pres, of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and will be President next year. Gladys Campbell Blakey (Illinois Δ) was a delegate from the Mainland, although she has been in Hawaii for six months, and spoke at one of the Panels on Status of Women, as progressing through the UN Commission.

Honolulu Pi Phis honored Josephine Schain at a beautiful tea at a home overlooking the city and the ocean, inviting representatives of other fraternities and girls who were going to mainland colleges in the fall, so that they would know Pi Phi,

It is hoped that the work of the PPWC will be more widely known throughout the U.S. Units are to be organized in the middle west and on the Pacific coast; the international office will be in New York city, as that is the residence of Miss Schain. Doubtless she would be happy to hear from Pi Phis who would enjoy the inspiration and knowledge that comes from working in such an organization for constructive international relations.

Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund

WE ARE now three years old for it was at Convention, in June 1946, that $50,000 was transferred from the Contingent Fund to the Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund.

the Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund.

That $50,000 has gone to work. The $50,000 principal of the fund is being used for chapter house building loans, and the interest is being used for assistance to needy members of the Fraternity.

You undoubtedly know that chapters of Pi Beta Phi often find it necessary to request assistance from fraternity resources to help them build adequate chapter houses, but do I hear you gasp at our mention of needy Pi Phis?

It is true that we have found and are helping members of our Fraternity who, through misfortune of ill health, etc., are no longer able to help themselves. All of them are Pi Phis, much the same as you and I are Pi Phis. Some of them have, through past long, varied and eminently successful careers contributed much to justify the existence of our Fraternity.

Our rules are few. Send referrals for assistance to this committee. The need for approval from the president of the nearest alumnæ club is a safeguard to our work which we believe fair to the Fraternity. For the record, we require two endorsements. We do not wish the individual need of the case discussed in any meeting or made conspicuous. Our own findings are confidential and known only to the three members of this committee and to Grand Council.

The maximum gift to any one person during any one year is $180.00 which may be paid in lump sum or divided and paid in twelve monthly gifts. It may not be considered as income. It is strictly a gift. It is strictly important that we bestow our gift in a manner which will not jeopardize the recipient's eligibility for any aid from City, County, State, or Federal agencies.

This fund is a part of Pi Beta Phi. You, as a Pi Phi, have the privileged responsibility of bringing a little physical comfort and morale uplift to another member by quietly making application to this committee for a financial gift to someone you know to be in need of more than her own resources can provide.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated in our effort to use the available funds to gladden and lift a Pi Phi heart.

Mrs. John Anderson, formerly Eugenia Moore, recently appointed Minister to Denmark, is a member of Iowa Beta of Pi Beta Phi.

Pi Phi "Angels"

A VARIATION on that beloved theme, "A Pi Phi Is an Angel in Disguise," is provided in a project of the Kansas City, Missouri Alumnæ Club, whose members have brought to earth a sisterhood of little angels disguised as Pi Phis. They are ceramic figurines, so sweetly sentimental in their wine and blue and gold raiment that they are bidding to become a Pi Phi trademark.

Kansas City alumnæ began selling these Pi Phi angels two years ago as a local fund-raising device, hoping the sales might furnish a modest nest egg for that universally poor relation, the ways and means committee. Within a matter of months, word of the angelic charmers had spread, and orders began coming in from chapter houses and alumnæ clubs all over the country. The nest egg now promises to reach a size to suit an ostrich!

Artist Margaret Mitchell originated the angels and makes them in her Kansas City studio. They are pledged exclusively to Pi Beta Phi. Mrs. Mitchell's professional signature, "M.E.M.," has blue-ribbon connotations wherever fine ceramics are sold; to these Pi Phi sprites she has brought a special skill and tenderness. They are handcrafted in exquisite tints with an affectionate artistry that gives each perky little angel a personality all her own. You may have seen Phoebe, pint-sized and pigtailed, her long blue robe failing to conceal one irrepressible bare foot beating out a Pi Phi polka. Polly the Pepster is a cheer-leader, modelled in the middle of a rollicking "Ring-Ching-Ching." Pretty Penelope stands serenely with her secret—a bell tinkles beneath her ruffled skirt. Two new angels, introduced last spring, are Barbara, the curly-haired initiate who is—quite literally—making her bow to the membership, and Belinda, the very essence of the sweet girl graduate as she happily clasps her diploma.

From a celestial cooky-shine, they come, in their flowing pale blue dresses. Golden Pi Phi arrows glimmer above their hearts; their fat little halos and sprouts of wings, they wear as nonchalantly as old saddle shoes. Each displays the wine carnation, sometimes sprigged calicowise over her dress, sometimes clutched proudly in her hand.

Pi Phis like them for all sorts of purposes. An Illinois chapter ordered one for each of fifteen new members as initiation gifts. A New York chapter bought a big boxful for a Christmas party and gave them to the pledges. A province president on the West coast ordered a set as a present for a newly-chartered chapter, and a national officer bought a group of five as a gift to Holt House. A Texas house mother is a regular customer; she buys replicas of Penelope, the practical bell ringer, for wedding gifts. They are both appropriate and appealing worked into a table decoration for a party, whether clustered about a bouquet of wine and blue carnations or wired to a "tree" drifted over with cotton batting clouds.

The Kansas City Alumnæ Club sells them at $5 per figurine, including all postal fees and a handsome wine and blue gift box. The price is a special one, providing a profit far less in percentage than that of professional retailers. (The angels first were sold at $4 apiece; this price tag was discarded when it was found the project was barely breaking even.) Mrs. Howard Crawford is chairman of the project and is filling orders at her home at 505 West 38th Street, Kansas City 2, Missouri. She points out there is a premium of one angel free to any Pi Phi sending in an order for twenty or more.

Scarcely an order goes out from Kansas City that a reorder is not received in return. As one delighted purchaser aptly put it, "They're right out of this world!"

Four Pi Phis were among the candidates for Miss America in the contest in Atlantic City last summer, among them Trudi Germi, Illinois Z, who was Miss Illinois, and Carol Quinn, South Dakota A, who represented her state. Names of the other two girls have not been reported to the Arrow.

At the fourteenth national convention of Mortar Board held at Breezy Point Lodge in Minnesota from June 21 through 25, there were nine members of Pi Beta Phi present. Eight were official delegates and Mrs. Roth was the Acting Secretary. Since the total official delegation numbered eighty-one, we thought that it would be of interest to all Pi Beta Phis to know that such a good percentage were members of our fraternity. Standing from left to right are: Joan Pacey, Illinois Beta Delta, Mrs. Esther Bowman Roth, Montana Alpha, Nancy Fraser, Indiana Epsilon. Seated left to right are Marjory Jacobsen, North Dakota Alpha, Bonnie Greene, Arizona Alpha, Joyce Atchison, Michigan Beta, Marjorie Wagner, Ohio Zeta, Betty Bruce Stake, Missouri Beta, and Vera Stenger, Missouri Alpha.

NEWS FROM LITTLE PIGEON

Edited by HARRIET GOODSELL RAUCH, Iowa B

Seven bicycles were parked near the door and a brown dog of doubtful parentage was resting on the cinder driveway waiting for his master. As we came up the steps, there was that drone of voices, the noise that comes from open windows of most any elementary school. We were visiting the Pi Beta Phi Schools in Gatlinburg.

We walked into a second and third grade room because the door stood open and we could see six vacant seats. Miss Latham, the teacher, was giving reading-readiness tests to the second graders and comprehension tests to the third graders. After greeting us, she said, "I have six absentees, all boys. It's a seasonal disease." We pondered over an unusual epidemic that affected boys only. She laughed, "Oh, nothing serious. Fishing season opened to-day." It was May 16th and we noticed that it was bare-foot season for some of the boys, too.

The walls were plastered with individual reading records. Bird stickers were used instead of stars to mark accomplishment. The reading tests continued and we were quietly informed that the results would point up certain weaknesses, for example: the need for emphasis on paragraph comprehension, more emphasis on word meanings, emphasis on word recognition technique.

A Corner of the High School Building

A Gatlinburg group watching the potter

Since it was an important test day, we moved on to the fourth grade. There were forty enrolled in this grade—seven absentees because of the 'fishing epidemic.' On three walls, in addition to the 'Books I Have Read' and the 'Books Are Friends' charts, there were elaborate health study charts and black-board exhibits of protective and energy foods. We were just in time for geography class from the blue-backed book, 'Journeys Through Many Lands.' The upper halves of the blackboards were covered with a series of murals called 'Singing Wheels' beginning with the stage coach continuing through to the river-boat. These had been made by the children and it was creditable pastel chalk work for fourth graders.

After brushing up a bit on our fourth grade geography, we wandered into Miss Cardwell's first grade room. Her thirty-seven youngsters were divided into four groups for recitation and drill, grouped according to ability. She was drilling nine children with some flash cards of her own making when we entered. The study program for the year was in line (in a way) with the Tennessee State Conservation program—study of trees and leaves of trees in the fall and winter. In the spring, study was devoted to birds. While we were there, they were reading about or drawing or coloring some of the useful birds: the indigo bunting, yellow warbler, oriole, cardinal and flicker. The good old reward system was evidenced by stars affixed to individual reading and spelling charts.

One little red-headed, freckle-faced boy, dressed in 'spanking' clean overalls was leaning over his desk directing the coloring done by a pretty little blonde girl. He was satisfied only now and then with her technique but she followed his directions without question. He was blissfully happy to let her do the work while he gave the directions—a budding executive, no doubt.

The local Parent Teacher Association runs the cafeteria in the basement of our much over-crowded elementary school. About two-hundred-and-forty children have lunch there every day and because of the lack of space are fed in four shifts. Some sixty children are given their lunch free. The others pay fifteen cents per lunch. The cramped quarters were made as attractive as possible. Hand-made pottery bowls filled with arrangements of wild honey-suckle and field-grown daisies were in the centers of the bench-like tables. Steaming and delicious-looking corn pudding, fresh string beans, compote of dried peaches and prunes, peanut butter sandwiches and milk made up the luncheon for that day.

After lunch we visited Sue Kelly's third grade. These youngsters were studying mountain birds from material furnished by the Tennessee Conservation department. The children had made their own booklets, writing a story about each bird describing his color, his nest, the eggs, his song, his winter and summer home. In a prong of the tulip tree just outside the window of this room, a pair of robins had built a nest in the early spring. These third-graders had watched and protected the nest at play-time until the babies had flown. Since Gatlinburg is situated so near the Cherokee Indian Reservation, the winter project had been an Indian one.

So our trip through the elementary school was not unlike a trip through any elementary school except that because of Pi Phi help the program offered is so much richer than the County alone could possibly offer. Among other things (as Pi Phis know) we provide the Art and Craft teacher for the elementary and High school. We are very proud indeed of the work our Fay Van Roekel is doing in the school and community. We visited her sixth grade art class. Thirty-seven boys and girls were working with charcoal that day. She had begun charcoal work with them in the fall when they used pine trees as models which gave her the opportunity to stress light and dark contrasts and to insist on free easy strokes with no fussy

By May these sixth graders had progressed to posed models. She used three models that period: a boy swinging a baseball bat, a boy shadow-boxing, a girl hoeing in an imaginary garden. She said, "Now five minutes for the first pose. Work fast. Remember that professional models are well paid. Make your strokes light. Draw quickly. Draw with a sweep with charcoal. Sketch in good strong lines. Then shade. Always keep in mind the possibilities of charcoal." There was rapt interest and complete absorption in the work and the only sound heard was the sweep of the charcoal on the paper.

Fay's classes are all carrying on various projects at the craft house. She told the committee that she was very pleased with the equipment provided by Pi Phi but her main problem is lack of space, storage space for projects and equipment, the crying need for our elementary school from all sides.

High school was in its near-graduation time confusion. The senior class was getting ready for its annual trip that their hard-earned money had made possible. They made this money by selling candy and cold drinks at games, selling Christmas cards and wrappings, selling ads for the Senior play and ticket sale receipts from their play. Pi Phi coach Joe Johnson was taking them to historic Williamsburg and including a visit to the Navy and Marine bases at Norfolk. Coach Johnson and Mrs. Mines (our Assistant director at the Settlement School) had been co-sponsors of the 1949 senior class. Mrs. Armstrong, the Pi Phi music teacher, having just finished a successful grade school operetta, was polishing glee club and chorus work for the graduation festivities. Mrs. Lighter, the English teacher and librarian was checking over final poetry reports for the year. Every room in the building was teeming with winding-up

As we walked from the school, it was afternoon recess time. The girls were playing 'hopscotch.' Two soft-ball games were in full swing in the field behind Arrowcraft building. There was no professional call such as, 'in comes the pitch. It's high and out-side for ball one' but the excitement and din seemed almost as deafening as a world series event. As we started toward Teachers Cottage, Pi Phi nurse Chalmers drove up in her car and called, 'hop in and ride up to the glades with me. I'm taking a boy home. No real damage but he has a 'shiner' coming up. He was hit in the eye with the soft ball."

We rode away with Marjorie, waved to Arlie, Pi Phi handi-man, who was plowing potatoes in the field behind Health Center and noticed two weavers who were going into Arrowcraft with their arms laden with finished weaving. How proud we can be of the school-health-craft work at our Settlement School, all made possible by the continued help of Pi Phis from every part of the country.

State Mother for Massachusetts

I' was a wonderful thrill for a Malden woman, lying in considerable pain in Malden Hospital, to learn that she had been selected as State Mother for Massachusetts to compete for the title of "American Mother of 1949."

Mrs. Ethel Piper, Massachusetts A, known affectionately as "mother" by scores of young men and women she has aided and by children she has brought up, could scarcely believe the news. So doubtful was she of the honor that she had her sister, Edith Piper, confirm it from the Golden Rule Foundation, who made the selection.

Sixty-five years old, Mrs. Avery had lain immobile in a bed in Malden Hospital since she fractured her collar-bone in the garden of her home 10 days earlier. (Date of this clipping not given—ALC)

Mrs. Avery, whose husband is Alfred H. Avery, has two grown-up children of her own, Dr. Harlow Fuller Avery of Milwaukee Children's Hospital, and Faith Avery, a graduate of Syracuse University, who is working in the medical branch of the University. But Mrs. Avery has mothered children other than her own. In her home, at present, are two British youngsters, brother and sister, Elizabeth Denstad, 18, and David, 16, who came to her during the London blitz and stayed on. Students from China, India and Hawaii, as well as from Europe, have also stayed with her and been aided in education for Christian Leadership. In order to do this, Dr. and Mrs. Avery established a fund called the Parshad Holding Corporation, the first name of which means "Gift of God," to help young people through college.

Born in Boston and educated in schools here, she received her A.B. degree from Boston University in 1906 and then taught in schools in Kittery, Maine, Attleboro and Lexington. After her marriage in 1913, she and her husband further developed their interest in young people and worked closely with the American Youth Foundation and International Council of Religious Education, giving many scholarships though these organizations. Her husband, co-partner with her in these enterprises, is a well-known Methodist layman, scientist and industrialist. He is a retired executive of the duPont Company and chairman of the North American Holding Co. He planned his life to devote the first 25 years to getting the best education possible, the next 15 years to making a fortune, and thereafter to retire and devote his fortune to philanthropy. Mrs. Avery modestly cites her husband to illustrate what they wanted out of life and what they wanted to give. And they have done both. In 1946 Mr. Avery was named winner of the national Russell Colgate distinguished service citation by 1261 laymen and women of the United States and Canada.

Like many people who have done so much for others Mrs. Avery is publicly shy, but she does not disguise her happiness in being selected "State Mother of Massachusetts."

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by MARY ELIZABETH BARNETTE, Obio A

PHYLLIS CRAWFORD, Let's Go, Henry Holt

and Company, 73 pp.
Dedicated for "Joan and Peter," this lively book should be the delight of all the Joans and Peters whose Pi Phi mothers learn of its existence. These mothers, and dads too, may find to their joy that it has a salutary effect upon those small beings whose clamorings of "Do hurry" and "Let's go" are anathema to the slower moving adult.

However, the skill of Phyllis Crawford, the author, has seen to it that the moral is neither too serious nor too obvious to spoil the pleasure of five to eight-year-old readers. "Let's Go" will intrigue and stimulate their imaginations as well as encourage their vocabulary.

It would be a pity to destroy all the suspense by revealing the story in its entirety, but a little of it will guide parents in making their book purchases this year.

Tom, the hero of the tale, is, not unlike many of his contemporaries, always in a hurry, ever urging his parents on, pulling up his carrots as soon as their tops appear above ground, and never walking if he can run instead.

It seems not at all unbelievable, therefore, when a patch of quicksand takes him to the land of "Quick" where everyone rushes and everything grows big and fast. There Tom meets Mr. Long, whose name aptly describes him and who uses exceedingly long words to match. Here, in a reversal of the usual state of affairs, Tom finds it hard work to keep up with everyone else.

How he gets back home and what effect his experience has upon him you will find in your own reading of "Let's Go."

INTEREST: AUTHOR " 'Hello, The Boat!," "Last Semester," "Second Shift." "The Secret Brother," and "The Blot: Little City Cat" are among the other juvenile books written by Phyllis Crawford, Virginia A. "Let's Go" is the first book this native of Little Rock and now resident of New York has done since 1943, for she took time out to do editorial work. She writes that it is her first attempt at fantasy, but the reader soon discovers that that has not prevented the job from being well done.

AGNES WRIGHT SPRING, The Chevenne and Black Hills Stage and Express Routes, The

Arthur H. Clark Company, 418 pp.

Greeted by critics as "a book for all lovers of western Americana to keep" and "not only an amazingly good research job but a colorful and vivid piece of writing," Mrs. Spring's latest study of earlier days in the West covers the Black Hills' gold rush period of between 1874 and the mid 1880's.

It is not a work of fiction, and, in fact, Mrs. Spring spent much time in the territory and on the trails, retracing these early stage routes and sifting the fiction from the fact so as to produce a completely authoritative book.

Despite the fact, however, that the book is a reference one primarily, its subject material makes it an adventuresome one to read. This is because in addition to recording the precise details of the various routes from Cheyenne into the Black Hills, she also includes the human element and reports on the activities and romantic experiences of the stage drivers, owners and messengers in their encounters with swollen rivers, Indian attacks, blizzards and hold-ups by the scores of bandits who preyed upon those traveling the route.

There are, in addition, plentiful illustrations, a fold out map of the routes prepared by the author, an extensive bibliography, and numerous appendices.

AUTHOR INTEREST: One time editor of the Arrow, Wyoming A's Mrs. Spring is indeed the proper person to write a book such as this, for being the daughter of a pioneer Colorado and Wyoming stage owner, she knows the subject from first hand observation. After growing up on a Wyoming ranch, she attended the University of Wyoming and following graduation studied journalism at Columbia. She's the former state librarian and historian of Wyoming and has written several other books which have been reviewed here.

FLORENCE ZACHARIE ELLIS NICHOLLS, Button Hand Book, privately published, 128 pp.

This is a book written for a specialized audience, antique button collectors, but even to the layman it is evident that Mrs. Nicholls has made a valuable contribution to her colleagues in the field. Complete with illustrations of over a thousand buttons together with brief but precise descriptions and approximate evaluations, the volume represents painstaking work. Hobbies are uniquely satisfying, stimulating, and worthy of one's time, this book seems to say to everyone whether interested in buttons, bottles, or books.

This book has been mentioned in the ARROW before but we repeat this in case new buttons collector's missed the several-year old review.

AUTHOR INTEREST: Mrs. Jesse C. Nicholls, a graduate of Sophie Newcomb, class of 1898, and a member of Louisiana A, now lives in Ithaca, New York, where she pursues her hobby of antique collecting with emphasis on buttons in recent years. In addition to her book she has published three supplements covering some 1500 other buttons. Always an enthusiastic Pi Phi, she has taken special interest in New York A at Cornell.

Impressive indeed was the ceremony in Fort Wayne when Helene Foellinger, Illinois Z, presented the city with the News-Sentinel Outdoor theatre in Francke Park on behalf of the Directors of the newspaper of which her father was long the editor and publisher, and of which Helene is herself now publisher. The theatre is an interesting $100,000 structure, and the dedicatory program was the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra, with Eugene List as soloist. Present at the ceremony was Miss Foellingers' sister, Loretta Foellinger Teeple, also Illinois Z.

Josephine Kerr, Michigan A, was among passengers saved from the burning Noronic. Her brother, his wife and an eight year old son died in the fire.

ON CAMPUS ACTIVITIES "I believe that good scholarship is an important criterion for campus success but I also believe that participation in campus life runs it a close second. . . . Just as you must determine your attitude toward improving your scholarship, so must you determine your attitude toward participation in campus activities. . . . It is an individual matter and an important one. Thus scholarship and adequate participation in campus life go hand in hand as criteria for measuring the success

ON OBLIGATION OF ACTIVES "The present generation of sorority members, having found their group in a well-organized and smooth-running state, have a natural inclination to take the advantages for granted. They often fail to appreciate their heritage or to sense their obligation. They do not realize that in order to retain its prestige and worth, a sorority should constantly evaluate itself as to the functions it serves."

When Nova Scotia A's returned to the campus this fall they found many changes, chief of which was the new Arts Building now under construction. Upon the completion of this building, the building now in use will be returned to the Law students for whom it was originally intended.

Pi Phi Camp was held in May, during the days between the close of examinations and Convocations, at Geraldine Cragg's summer camp on the south shore of Nova Scotia. After examinations the relaxation was very much enjoyed.

Carol Wood and Shirley McCoy returned with enthusiastic accounts of the conference they attended at Burlington, Vt., and of the wonderful hospitality of Vermont B.

Janet Sinclair is president of Δ Γ, a society for all girls on campus, Frances Doane is president of Dalhousie Girls' Athletic Club, and Isabel Russell is president of Shirreff Hall Women's Residence House Committee.

Again this year the chapter offered a scholarship to a freshette entering Dalhousie. The intention is to raise sufficient money during the winter to continue the project another year.

Rushing parties this year were of a somewhat different type than those of previous years because of a new Pan-hellenic ruling permitting freshette rushing. The chapter enjoyed a visit from Lucile Douglass Carson, the Grand Secretary, in October.

The fall semester found Maine A's busy once again with campus activities. With the coming of the freshmen to the campus, Sophomore Eagles Evelyn Green, Mary Jean McIntire, Ida Moreshead, and Frances Litivinowich were very much in evidence with their blue skirts, white sweaters, and the blue stars on their foreheads. Elected last spring, the Eagles do much to make the freshman girls feel at home and to familiarize them with the Maine sprit and traditions.

Ann Dibblee was in charge of the Freshman Picnic, a long established tradition here, Held at the field house on October 30, it was the first organized function in which upperclassmen and freshmen could meet and become acquainted. Shirley Johnson and Caroline Strong were also on the committee; Phyliss Osgood Boutitier took part in the evening's entertainment.

Beverly Artus, Barbara Richardson, and Olive Cline were on the committee for the Home Economics Club Stag Dance which was held at the Memorial Gym at the opening of school.

All officers and chairmen of Women's organizations on campus participated in the Women's Leadership Concernce in October. A luncheon meeting at Balentine Hall with Mrs. Carol Butler, a woman prominent in civic affairs in Bangor, as guest speaker, initiated the conference activities. Seminar and discussion groups were held on "Leadership Techniques," "Stimulating the Attitude of Learning to do a better Job," and "The Meaning of Leadership" with adult and student leaders.

Everybody congregated in front of Chapel for the annual Step-Singing. At this time the various classes pool their efforts and voices, and sing original songs written by members of their group, Butch Thayer led the Freshman Class. Cl355.

A formal banquet was held at the Hotel Vermont following the initiation ceremony. Representatives of each class and an alumna gave short speeches on the significance of the arrow badge and guard.

Patricia Davison was chosen queen of the annual Military Ball and Martha Atwood received the Portland award for outstanding sophomore of Alpha East province.

May elections to the honoraries were announced at the Founders' Day ceremonies. Jean Ritchie, Betsy Bigelow Bouton and Katherine Kidder McKee were elected to Mortar Board. Five Vermont B's were elected to the junior women's honorary society, Staff and Sandal, seven were chosen as Sophomore Aides, and two were elected to All Sports. The presidents' work shop of Alpha East province was held at the chapter house September 9-11, the week preceding the opening of school. Besides extensive work and discussion on current fraternity topics, the group enjoyed some sight-seeing and a ride up the chair lift at Mount Mansfield.

The construction of two new agricultural buildings was completed this month. Their completion will greatly ease the previously crowded classroom conditions.

Two new local fraternal societies have been organized on the Vermont Campus. The fraternities are X E Z for the men and K X K for the women. For the first time in several years formal gowns were worn at the senior banquet held last May and everyone was much pleased with the effect thus created. Sixteen seniors bade farewell to the chapter and presented the house with a lovely lace tablecloth for use in future rush parties and teas.

September found the undergraduates hurrying back full of enthusiasm to a campus more crowded than ever. A freshman class of 600 entered a university which now offers new opportunities socially and academically. Twenty-two courses have been added to the curricula of the various departments and fifty-nine members have been added to the teaching staff in order to accommodate the new high of almost 4,000 students. Several dormitories and classroom buildings have been completed or will be ready for use in the near future.

The Pi Beta Phis have offered to supply the helping hand, and already the Chi Omegas have promised to make the draperies. Highlighting the advent of a new school semester was seing the erection of the new chapter house—a project which has been the dream of many actives and alumnæ for years. The house is the first to be built on Fraternity Row—a spacious tract of land where it is hoped every fraternity and sorority will eventually build. The house is brick of English Colonial design, and will very comfortably house thirty-two girls. The chapter feels deeply indebted to Mrs. Slifer, the province president, the alumnæ and all others who have so generously helped.

The weekend of October 7 marked the first Homecoming Weekend of St. Lawrence. It was truly an exciting one! Two anniversaries were given recognition during the weekend. One was the 90th anniversary of the College of Letters and Sciences and the other was the Golden Anniversary of the St. Lawrence Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. New York alumnæ were entertained at the chapter house after the football game. Highlights of the weekend were a large barbecue, which was attended by approximately 2,500 students and alumni; a Dinner of Champions, a tribute to all those who have personally contributed to the advancement of athletics and good sportsmanship on campus; and a Laurentian Dance and songfest. Jackie Fulton assumed her new duties as president of Panhellenic Council and a member of Student Council.

After pledging, the whole chapter entertained the twenty-two pledges at a dinner, with much singing and true Pi Phi enthusiasm. The annual pledge formal was held in Clara Dickson Hall. Another of last year's ideas to be continued is the Arrow Tip, a news-letter to New York to be continueu Delta alumnæ.

Pennsylvania I was awarded the Song Fest Cup for winning first place in the interfraternity singing contest held during Panhellenic Weekend last April. The chapter is very grateful to Margaret Valentine who directed the preparation for the event.

Dickinson College interests next turned to a survey tour of Israel by President William W. Edel in May. The party of which Dr. Edel was a member had its headquarters at Tel Aviv, and from there visited numerous parts of the country to inspect the new agricultural developments. A trip to the Weizmann Institute for scientific research at Rehovath was one of the highlights of the tour.

Ethel Peterson and Lois Jane Barnard were elected to Wheel and Chain, the honorary society for senior women, and Margaret Valentine was elected to T A II, the honorary dramatic fraternity, Commencement exercises brought additional honors to Pennsylvania I when Jane Jackson was elected to P B K and Marilyn Unger and Joyce Ingham were given awards for outstanding work as freshmen.

When Dickinson opened on September 12, the students welcomed a new Dean of Women, Miss Phobe G. Follmer, appointed to replace Mrs. Helen B. Notcross who resigned last June. Both Mrs. Norcross and Dean Follmer are alumnæ of Pi Beta Phi.

A record enrollment of 993 students helped to increase the usual bustle of rushing. For the evening parties the chapter developed a "Forty-Niner" theme and recaptured the spirit of the gold rush days with a clever skit and the motto "Strike it rich with Pi Phi." Pledging was followed by an informal party given by Mrs. Ritter, one of the alumnæ advisors.

Since Goucher College started quite late this year the first meeting was held on October 4 at which time plans were discussed for informal rushing. When the Maryland A's returned to college this fall they were confronted with the news that because this would be the last year for women's fraternities on the Goucher campus there would be informal rushing only. Naturally everyone was extremely disappointed though they had been told in advance that when Goucher officially moved to the Baltimore County campus in the fall of 1950 fraternities would go off campus. Despite this, elaborate plans had already been made for formal rushing. Also during the summer the Baltimore actives entertained with a rush party for Baltimore girls they felt would make good Pi Phi's. From all reports the party was a big success and the girls enjoyed immensely meeting a few of the incoming freshmen. Though Maryland A's realize they will have no active chapter at Goucher after this year. Plans are being made for informal rushing and the chapter will continue to carry on in true Pi Phi spirit.

The Maryland A's are beginning their last year by entering even more strongly, into volunteer work. Each week two to four Maryland A's offer their services at the Veterans' Hospital near Harve de Gras. Here they entertain mental victims of World War II for three hours each Monday night.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Province President Mrs.

In March the George Washington Chapter of Mortar Board held a career conference for all the women on campus and the senior girls from high schools in the Washington area. Betty Ann Paisley, who was president of Mortar Board, was in charge of the conference. Outstanding women representing various professions and careers spoke to the group and held individual sessions for girls interested in their particular work. Very helpful discussions on the opportunities for women in politics, art, newspaper work and speech correction, to name only a few, were given. This conference was considered very helpful and successful.

Mrs. Sipherd, Director of Rushing and Pledge Training, wisited D.C. A in March. The chapter enjoyed her visit very much. It is a great help to the officers to have an opportunity to hear about new slants on various problems, and also to enjoyed having the province president, Mrs. King, with them for dinner and active meeting in April. They found it a wonderful thing to have the province president living in the same city as the chapter. Mrs. King has been of great help and provides a reassuring influence.

The members enjoyed celebrating Founders' Day with Pi Beta Phis from all over the country. The luncheon was held at the Broadmore Hotel on Saturday, April 30, D.C. They were entertained at brunch on Sunday morning, following Founders' Day, and also by an exchange picnic with K Σ, in Rock Creek Park. The hilarious baseball game wasn't hindered by the rainy weather. The chapter hopes that another exchange weekend can be arranged in the future.

The profit made by the May Day Booth at the annual celebration more than covered expenses and also contributed to the redecoration fund.

The Mothers Club was a tremendous help in the redecoration of the apartment. The Club held a very successful benefit bridge to help buy the lovely new carpeting. The chapter was thrilled with the new appearance of the rooms and particularly appreciated them during rushing. The mothers and alumnae helped to select paints, fabrics, and with the general planning.

The Hatchet, the University newspaper, held a benefit style show in conjunction with one of the local stores. One girl from each fraternity modeled the newest spring fashions. Tot Weld represented Pi Beta Phi in this activity.

In May D.C. A entertained Pi Beta Phis at tea in the George Washington University administrative offices, and faculty, and the presidents and social chairmen of each other fraternity.

Peggy Mendenhall and Tot Weld were elected to Delphi, an honorary society for outstanding sorority women. The tapping took place at the Panhellenic Sing and Peggy Mendenhall was elected president at the first meeting.

The Hatchet awarded D.C. A a cup, of which it is very proud, for being selected as the best all round organization on campus. The basis of this selection was the number of participants in university-sponsored functions and activities.

The graduating members were guests of honor at our last cooky-shine. Members of the Junior Alumnae Group spoke to them about the ways in which they can play an active part in their Fraternity even after graduation.

The university was officially opened and classes resumed on September 22, and the chapter immediately set to work making plans for the 'face lifting' of the chapter room, for which planning was begun early last spring.

Classwork was sadly neglected by all Duke fraternity women between September 29 and October 14, for that was the period of rushing at Duke, and required a good deal of concentrated effort. The actives were kept extremely busy visiting 315 freshmen and 50 transfer students. An open house was held for the rushees on October 6, and the traditional Circus and Angel parties followed.

The Student Forum Committee presented Robert St. John, the noted news analyst and commentator, on September 27, and his excellent speech met with a great deal of comment. For those who like good music, Frances Greer and Brian Sullivan, Metropolitan opera stars, were seen and heard on October 3, as the first attraction on the concert series. Johnny Long and his band played for the Shoe and Slipper club weekend dance the last weekend in October.

The annual Homecoming celebration on October 21 marked the inauguration of Dr. A. Hollis Edens, the new president of the university. This was the first inauguration that Duke has seen since 1910, and is the second one in the university's history.

The fall semester at Hillsdale College started with a lot of ohs and ahs as Michigan A returned to find the chapter house had had its face lifted both inside and outside. Last spring due to the generosity of the Harold Stocks a clean up campaign for the yard was started. This was carried on throughout the summer with the addition of having the house repainted. After viewing the shining glory of the outside, Michigan A was even more surprised to find gleaming, newly painted walls accentuated with bright paper and colorful rugs. The opening of fall term found the Michigan I's moving into their new house with ladders, saws, paint cans and the workmen still underfoot. The furniture for the downstairs and three living rooms brought delighted exclamations from those who had been used to the cramped quarters of the old house. The K A O's took pity on the girls since they had to eat all meals out and invited the whole chapter to a delicious dinner. Things are back to normal now and the home cooked meals taste twice as good in the wine and blue dining room.

A tea honoring the new housemother, Mrs. Corcoran, and a housewarming opened the social season, plus the usual cider and doughnut hour after the home football games. The first weekend of the term found the Michigan I's at Ann Arbor, cheering furiously for the Spartans.

Next on the agenda was the second annual football game

Next on the agenda was the second annual football game with the Γ Φ B's, with practice held twice daily. Lots of black and blue marks were sported by members of both teams but they didn't hinder the fun at the joint party held following the game. Since it was only a few days before Halloween, decorations for the Fall Term party included black cats, witches, pumpkins, and of course, footballs.

A new system of rushing was inaugurated this year with introductory teas given in the late fall. Rushing will continue through winter term and girls who did not make their grades the first term will be eliminated.

Another new plan was introduced by Panhellenic in the hope of bringing a closer unity among the sororities. Every week five members of each Greek group had dinner at another house. This was organized on a rotation basis. Between bridge hands and Canasta games everyone gained new friends and a better understanding of the other organizations.

The main event of fall term was the homecoming weekend, with the game with Penn State and a queen and her court selected by the Penn State football squad. Ann Lyman and Ann Wilbur planned the Michigan I' entry—a lion caged in the house (depicting Penn) and a huge Spartan standing on the lawn.

On September 16 rush week began for both freshmen and upperclassmen. The girls accepted their bids on September 21 and the upperclass pledges moved into the house that afternoon. All freshman girls in the university are required to live in dormitories. The annual "yell-in" for pledges was held that night. This event is always exciting, for the fraternity men see each pledge announced on the front porch, and, of course, many introductions always follow. Pormal pledging was held on October 10.

Many exciting events have occurred for the Missouri A since the last issue of the ARROW. Kitty Cox was chosen "White Rose of Σ N" at their dance, and Jan Jeans was an attendant. Vera Stenger and Lou Tuggle were attendants to the "Sweetheart of Σ X."

Probably the most thrilling event was the celebration of the founding of the chapter, fifty years ago. A banquet was held at Harwell Manor on April 30 and was attended by alumna and active members of Missouri A. The guest of honor was Mrs. Gertrude Mills, one of the chapter founders. She was awarded the Order of the Golden Arrow as recognition of her fifty years in Pi Beta Phi. Jan Jeans was presented with the Amy Burnham Onken Award for Epsilon Province. A tea was held in the chapter house the following afternoon in honor of Mrs. Mills. Alumnæ and fraternity men and women of the campus attended.

Missouri B welcomed its eighteen new pledges, a full quots, to the campus after a week of concentrated rushing. An extensive Freshman Orientation program was planned which began with a Freshman Camp for entering men and women. Freshmen wore their beanies of the college colors, myrtle and maroon, for six weeks. At the end of the first week there was a Freshman Mixer.

It was announced at the first chapter meeting that Missouri B was first in scholarship for the second consecutive time. MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914 Pledge Day, September 17, 1949

INITIATED, September 3, 1949: Nancy Rose, Springfield. Missouri I salutes a new school year which has every indication of being the best year yet on Drury College campus. The school enrollment is at its record height with 829 students. This is a great step-up over previous years. With a larger enrollment, the college will progress in sports, extra curricular activities, and scholarship rating.

Rush season began September 4 with the annual progressive tea to which all girls entering Drury are invited. The guests progress from one sorority house to another during the course of the afternoon. There were coke dates every morning for one week and each of the five sororities on the campus were allowed to have two official parties. Missouri I's first party was the traditional cruise on the U.S.S. Arrow, a city bus. Rushees gathered at the chapter house to have their passports checked before going to Roberta Lohmeyer's house (Hawaii) for fruit cocktail, then to Carolyn Compton's (Sweden) for the main course which was a smorgesbord. Pastry was served (France) at Marjory Long's house, and then coffee and nuts were enjoyed at Catherine Johnson's (Brazil). The party was climaxed by a dramatic presentation of "Peaches Pi Phi" in the United States. Betty Jo Farnham's place.

The second scheduled party was Pi Phi Heaven which was held September 9 in the Crystal Room of the Kentwood Arms Hotel. Elaborate decorations of crystal stars and life size cardboard angels, and appropriate recorded music playing continually throughout the afternoon, regard a heavenly size cardboard angels, and appropriate recorded music playing continually throughout the afternoon, created a heavenly atmosphere. Missouri I's dressed in white formals, rotated from table to table getting better acquainted with the rushees, Refreshments of angel food cake and angel parfaits were served followed by a poetical verse sketch to introduce each active. Then a skit "Angels with Dirty Faces" was presented. The program was climaxed by a long narrative poem "The Pi Phis In Heaven,"

The University of Chattanooga started its fall term on September 27. This year rushing started before school reopened on September 22 with the Panhellenic tea when each rushee went to all five sorority houses for a half an hour. Since the length of rushing was shortened, there were afternoon and evening parties.

ushee went to all five sorority houses for a half an hour. Since the length of rushing was shortened, there were afternoon and evening parties.

Tennessee A's afternoon party was a classroom party at which there were geography and history classes on Pi Beta Phi. The traditional Tomaine Tavern was the evening party. Entertainment included the Pi Beta Phi chorus line, enactment of Frankie and Johnny, and imitations of the types of girls the sorority wanted and did not want.

The chapter house has been improved with a few new pieces of furniture including occasional chairs and two small side tables. The new additions in the kitchen are a refrigerator with a large freezing unit and a large coffee maker.

September 30 was the day the rushees came down the hill to the fraternity house of their choice. Then the chapter had supper prepared by the Mothers Club, at the house.

There is a new national fraternity on the campus. The local Φ Δ Σ's joined K Σ.

The new stadium with a boys' dormitory beneath has just been completed. The science department has moved into a large new three-story building and the University Conservatory of Music has moved into an elaborate home.

During the summer months the new men's dormitory was completed and construction of a large and modern engineering building was begun.

The Tennessee B house was redecorated in a tasteful and lovely fashion by the Mothers' Club this summer. The living-room has maroon, dark green, and grey as predominant colors with touches of chartreuse and a large mirror over the mantel effects the whole and adds an air of spaciousness. This room was indeed a fine background for the skits and singing presented during rush week.

With the largest enrollment in the history of Vanderbilt the Student Christian Association has made a great contribution to the social and religious side of campus life this fall. A retreat for the large freshman class was held October 15 and many Tennessee B's took part in the activities. Helen Rooney, Dorothy Green, Betty Ruble, and Katherine Lee Hibbett are officers of this organization.

One of the outstanding honors of the year was given to Graham Hollis when she was elected to represent the freshman women on the Honor Council. Late in the spring term of last year Anne Grimes was elected Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Dorothy Noland the runner-up.

A new women's fraternity, K A, has come to Vanderbilt University this fall and Tennessee B has made every effort to welcome this group into the campus community.

Spring quarter was certainly a busy one. One of the most enjoyable of its events was a weekend houseparty in Gatlinburg where all the actives and pledges joined together in two days of fun and fellowship. A trip through the Settlement School was really a highlight of the weekend, and gave everyone the opportunity to realize the great philanthropic work the Fraternity is achieving.

Back at school, Tennessee Is worked eagerly on "Joe Romeo and Roulette," the skit presented at Carnicus, that night, an event of major importance on the university calendar, and one of close competition. Because of this, and because it was only the chapter's second attempt at producing a skit, the girls were well pleased with eighth place.

The University's traditional Greek Week, during which all sorority and fraternity pledges entertain each other, brought forth a new contest this year, Each fraternity house put up a girl to be Goddess of the Greeks. Out of sixteen nominations.

Barbara Huff of Gatlinburg won the title, and with it a large trophy to add to the chapter's ever-increasing collection. Another trophy was added when the Tennessee I' team of four won first place in the freshman roller-skating contest. The U-T campus has been growing by leaps and bounds. An engineering building and several agricultural buildings have been completed, and a new law college building is under construction. The grounds have been improved by many new walks, street lamps, and parking areas.

Alabama A was fortunate in being able to have some of its members assist in the installation of Alabama B. The greatest thrill and honor of the whole trip was the opportunity to meet and talk with Grand President Amy B. Onken. It was certainly an experience never to be forgotten. With Miss Onken were Mrs. John Tyler, Zeta Province President, and the Province vice-president, Mrs. Bartlett. school year in a wonderful way in being able to be a part of such an occasion.

The sorority room has been beautifully re-decorated. The committee of five who were responsible were: Sara Killingsworth, Maude Diseker, Bettie Dudley, an alumna advisor, Mrs. Almeta Mitchell, and our Mothers' Club advisor, Mrs. M. C. Dudley. They used grey, green, and cherry as their basic colors, turning a badly worn room into a beautiful, spacious one. The pride and joy is the lamp Miss Ruby Mercer gave the chapter. While she was in Birstrokes of paint go on the room. Before she left, she sent the lovely gift.

An added lift came with the removal of the "one quarter experienced" quota system. It is a considerable help to know the chapter can pledge more than two girls as was its experience spring quarter. The first rush party was an "Angel party," the second a Night Club Party, the third a progressive dinner with a "trip around the world," and the fourth, a closed rush party, was a Ranch party.

Ann Coats was elected May Queen of 1949 and Marian McCoy and Martha Ann Galloway were chosen for her court. Others who helped with the festival were Mary Allen Spencer, Margaret Johnston. Donna Pledger was selected as Miss Radio Queen for Alabama and Placed second in the national contest.

Another feather in Alabama A's cap was winning five of the eight athletic cups offered at the end of each year. However, the chapter's greatest pride was winning the scholarship cup. Alabama A really worked hard to get back on top again in scholarship.

Other activities included Interfraternity Sing, Founders' Day and Senior Farewell. A sale of II B Φ cook books was sponsored by the chapter. Girls living in the vicinity of De Land who planned to come to Stetson in the fall were rushed at an all day swimming and picnic party held at Hurricane Plantation.

Barbara Brundage was elected editor of the Stetson annual, The Hatter, and elected to La Franciade, honorary French organization, and θ A Φ, honorary dramatic fraternity, Joan Cook was selected as Miss De Land of 1949. Mary Ethel Gilbert was tapped for the Order of The Scroll and Key. Susan Northen was selected secretary of intramurals. Marjoric Marks and Audrey Bach were graduated magna cum laude and cum laude, respectively.

This fall Florida A found a new school spirit throughout the campus. A new interest in athletics had been taken by the administration and new coaches were brought to the university. It was discovered that there was a decrease in enrollment and an increase in the size of the faculty which would mean better teacher-pupil relationships. The campus was also undergoing an extensive beautification program. There was a renewed fraternity spirit for each of the five women's fraternities on campus had a suite of six rooms in the new Panhellelnic house which was turned over to them by the administration.

Each sorority gave three formal rush parties, October 20-22. The rush season this year was a bit different, due to a revised system. Each group gave an additional party, and a rushee could attend, at the most, two of them. Also, all final formal open houses were held on the same night, Wisconsin B's first invitational party was the Camellia House, complete with candlelight, lovely big menus in pink and green, placecards with paper camellias on them and soft piano music. The second one was a Land of Oz party, for which the decorations were large figures of characters from the book, drawn on cardboard and placed around the walls. The front door was made to look like the book cover and Martha Tinker, as Dorothy, was there to open it and welcome the rushees. For entertainment, Marjorie Markgraf had written a skit in which all the characters in the Wizard of Oz helped Dorothy get back home, so she could pledge Pi Beta Phi.

The chapter seems to have an abundance of secretaries this year. Chartered, 1930 Pledge Day, September 27, 1949

Pledge Day, September 27, 1949

Initiated, May 2, 1949: Barbara Howe, River Forest; Ruth Miner, Chicago.

A new president, Sharvey G. Umbeck, who formerly was dean of the College of William and Mary, was on hand this fall to greet the largest enrollment of students in the history of Knox College. Ten days of orientation, examinations, and rushing for new students ended with the beginning of classes and pledging on September 27.

Although new Panhellenic rules limit the number of parties at which refreshments can be served and decorations used, an active week of rushing included such events as the annual visit to Holt House and the witches party. After the pledging ceremony the Galesburg alumnae served a spaghetti supper in the home of Marjorie Stuart.

Fall quarter found many members of Illinois B \(\Delta \) at work in the theatre. Joan Foster, Nancy Campbell, Gretchen Shirck, and Barbara Green had roles in the Homecoming play, "The Warrier's Husband." Ten other members were in choruses of the comedy while Helen Dale Cabeen was director of the property crew, Jane Webster was recently admitted to Curtain Call, honorary theatrical organization.

WAA activities for the year have been outlined by the council of which Mary Darr, Joan Pacey, Alice Campbell, Barbara Bagley, and Martha Pratt are members. Alice Campbell, who last spring won the WAA swimming meet, was elected president of Puddles on the Right.

Enrolling students to conduct recreation programs in the local social work centers is the job of Charlene Hiatt, community service chairman of the YWCA. Nancy Campbell also serves on this board. Peggy Gronnerud will act as president and Martha Pratt as treasurer of KAWS, Knox women's governing body.

Last spring Marie Bacon Hagee, national director of extension, visited the campus. After a cooky-shine in the Panhellenic house, Mrs. Hagee spoke to the chapter and discussed the new senior farewell ceremony.

Pi Beta Phi ranked first scholastically last year above all other fraternities of the college. Joan Foster

The University of Manitoba went all out this year to give the Frosh a big welcome. Features of Freshy Week were several pep rallies, tea dances, a football game between female Interior Decorators and the Engineers, the football being delivered by a helicopter, and the annual Pow-Wow, a bon-fire and dance on the campus.

Friday all the Freshies took part in the big parade lead by Nat Cole, of the King Cole Trio, who acted as a judge of the beautifully decorated floats, representative of each faculty. That night the tired but happy Freshies were entertained at the wind-up dance, the "Queen Quest", where the lucky lady chosen as Freshy Queen was crowned.

Manitoba A's also welcomed each other back after the long summer. Several of the members brought summer activities to a close with a week-end at the summer home of Gloria Anderson, at Victoria Beach. The girls are busy working on plans for deferred rushing and social activities to take place during the year.

Minnesota A's first fall quarter meeting was enlivened by Barbara Gesell's description of the Theta Province presidents' meeting held at the home of Marjorie Jacobson, Rolla, North Dakota. Through an interesting scrap book and a log of her trip, Barbara passed on to the chapter many helpful suggestions gained through conferences on all phases of fraternity life.

Many Pi Phis were busy this summer working on freshman orientation activities both on and off campus, Billie Bea Hull, Helen Raihle, Marlys Morill, and B. J. Gammel served as counselors at the freshman camp. Billie Bea and Janna Oppegaard acted as group sponsors of freshman orientation.

Both town and house girls were elated over the changes made in the chapter house and grounds during the summer. The front and back lawns were completely resolded, and shrubbery bordering the house was planted.

Working under a "three year" plan, the House Board undertook partial refurnishing of the bedrooms and the dining room. Blond oak lamps, desks, and bureaus added a modern touch to the bedrooms, while yellow and grey chairs brightened the dining room. Next year, the bedrooms and dining room will be redone. The third year will be devoted to refurnishing the living room.

New trophies, won during spring quarter for first place in the Panhellenic Song Fest and the Campus Carnival, were polished up for informal rushing which started October 1.

Panhellenic Council initiated a new system of rushee counseling which met with a great deal of success. During the open house teas, rushees were escorted in groups of twenty to every house, by a rushing counselor who was not allowed to wear her pin. Running on a time schedule, this plan enabled the rushees to become better acquainted with the members of the individual sororities and vice versa.

Parties during the rest of the week were invitational, so the system could not be carried out to a greater extent. However, the new method eliminated a great deal of the confusion usually evident the first two days of rushing.

Minnesota A was pleased to find many Pi Phi transfers enrolled at the university this year. Meeting these girls helps to bring out recognition of the wide national scope of the fraternity, in addition to its local importance.

The Iowa Z's returned this fall to a University different in tone from the one they left last June. With the war vears slipping farther and farther into the "remember when" days and the previously large number of veterans on campus reduced to a few, some of the seriousness, sophistication, and skeviticism which has characterized the atmosphere of the campus the last nine years has been lost. This year we find a new buoyancy and school spirit afoot.

Realizing the importance of studies the girls are determined to gain possession of the coveted scholarship cup again this year. The chapter is encouraged by the fact that three members are $\Phi$ B K: Julie Ferguson, Mary Sayre, and Gail Arailyn Peterson, Nancy Hunt, Marilyn Ducat, Joan Frohwein, and Melanie Snider are all to be found in the ranks of the Scottish Highlanders. South Dakota A completed the fall rush week with the pledging of sixteen girls. In the evening, after pledging, the actives and pledges enjoyed a cooky-shine which helped everyone get better acquainted.

Campus activities at the University are well under way with the doors opened to 1750 students. "Freshman Orientation Week" helped the new students get acquainted with the campus, upper classmen, and instructors.

On Ivy Day Marilyn Moomey was presented as page to the Ivy queen, an honor given to outstanding freshman girls, and Eugenie Sampson was elected to Mortar Board.

The theme of rush week this year was "The Forty-niners." After pledging, a slumber party for all the actives and pledges helped everyone get better acquainted.

Kansas A began a new year on Mount Oread in a whirl of activities, University orientation activities for new students, fraternity rushing and registration and enrollment took place simultaneously the first week of the 1949-50 school year.

The chapter house was newly decorated during the summer with pearl gray as the background color. Gray carpeting complements a green sofa and red fireside chairs. Leather top coffee tables and massive lamps add to the scene, and the Balfour Cup sits on display in front of the freplace.

The Pi Phi Platter Parade, directed by Rush Captain Connie Kendall, entertained 229 girls during rush week. The front walk to the house was covered with copies of sheet music, varnished many times, and bordered with phono-graph records with Pi Beta Phi song titles. As the last song of the Hit Parade ended Kansas A was proud to have

The Associated Women Students expanded its freshman counseling program this year under the direction of Emily Stewart. Meetings with counseless, counseling coffees, and convocations all helped new Jayhawkers become adjusted to university life. The A.W.S. Freshman Workshop conducted a round table discussion of activities on the 'hill', and various campus leaders gave short summaries of the work of their overanizations. their organizations, a found table discussion of activities on the "hill", and various campus leaders gave short summaries of the work of their organizations.

Enrollment and registration during this busy week revealed a drop in the number of students. The 8,750 students still crowd the university thoroughfares. At long last the cement mixers, drills, hammers, and workmen have moved out of the library addition, and peace and quiet again prevail for studying students. Work is progressing on the Memorial Drive which circles the campus and looks over the impressive horseshoe stadium to the Kaw valley beyond. The campus seems unusually beautiful this fall, with flaming red and yellow-leaved trees decorating the campus in autumn colors. The opening kick off of the Jayhawker football season took place September 17 with Texas Christian University receiving. As the afternoon wore on the skies became gray and dreary which matched the spirits of the outplayed but game Jayhawkers who bowed to T.C.U. 27 to 7. The Iowa State Cyclones descended on the campus for their annual "migration game" October 1. Numerous members of Iowa T were houseguests for the weekend, and midnight oil was burned in coke sessions in "the smoker."

October 8 was the date of the annual Student Union Activities Carnival. The Pi Beta Phi booth tested the skill of students in an arrow shooting contest with an angel as the target. Each organized house on the campus sponsored a typical carnival booth, and a carnival king and queen were chosen to reign over the evening's festivities.

One of the earliest events on the chapter's social calendar was the scholarship dinner in honor of those girls who were given scholastic recognition by their respective schools. Joyee Newcomer, scholarship chairman, planned a dinner designed to encourage the slack students. Those girls whith an average of 2.0 (B) or above were served a delicious dinner of fried chicken. Those between a 1.0 (C) and 2.0 were served meat loaf, while those below a 1.0 cate spam. Comments following dinner indicated su several girls.

Kansas A enjoyed a visit from Iota Province President, Mrs. Carl Junge, the first week in October. Mrs. Junge was honored at a Twilight Tea Sunday afternoon with Chancellor Deane W. Malott, faculty members and Pi Beta Phi friends as guests.

Deane W. Malott, faculty members and Pi Beta Phi friends as guests.

The chapter's open house honoring the pledge class was held October 15 in the Union Building, Representatives of all the fraternities jammed the ballroom in an attempt to meet and dance with the new arrow pledges.

Twenty faculty members from various schools and departments of the University were entertained at a faculty buffet dinner October 23. The guests were served in the living room, while a cheery fire crackled in the fireplace. A humorous skit was presented by members of the chapter, and the friendly evening ended with Pi Beta Phi songs.

For the second year Senior Panhellenic presented a workshop program to improve cooperation between women's fraternities and relations with independent students. The program followed the precedent set last year by Peggy Baker. Kansas A was proud to have Virginia Hutson Getto (Mrs. M. J.) as their fraternity representative. Mrs. Getto was guest speaker at the opening banquet and conducted several workshops. Kansas A's rush bulletin, copies of the Arrow, and exhibits from Settlement School formed the Pi Beta Phi display.

Many individual honors have come to members of the chapter since the last issue of the Arrow. Peggy Baker, Louise Lambert and Ann Learned were tapped for Mortar Board in the spring, and Elinor Frye and Marilyn Sweet were elected to Φ B K. Another trophy was added to the chapter house mantel May 18 when Pi Beta Phi was awarded second place in the sorority division at the college Interfraternity Sing. "Memories" and "Pi Phi Sweetheart Song" were the two selections the chapter sang.

The fall semester began September 6 with Freshman Orientation Week. During the week there were tests, tours of the campus, and entertainment. A fitting climax was the Upperclassman Talent Show given the final day. Among those appearing in the show were Joan Newcomer, who sang several comic songs, and Catherine Merrill, who presented her idea of a typical college freshman.

Shirley King, Charlotte Laing, Dorothy O'Donnell, Ann McMillen, Joan Newcomer, Joan Hurley, Barbara Meyer, and Patricia Adams were awarded places in the college a cappella choir.

Election of members to Purple Pepsters, Kansas State pep club, revealed that Jacque Compton, Claire Jane Lutz, and Barbara Mohri will now be cheering for K-State in the "purple sweater" section. The All-College political party named Dorothy Elmore as secretary of the organization.

Catherine Merrill has been named assistant editor of the Royal Purple, college vearbook. Patricia Johnson, Diane Alexander, and Nancy Barnard are on the office staff of the publication. Incidentally, the Royal Purple has just recently been awarded its 14th consecutive All-American rating for being among the top yearbooks in the country.

Excitement reached a new high at Kansas State College, October 1, when the K-State Wildcats defeated the Colorado University Buffaloes at the annual Parents' Day Game. The excitement was due in no small way to the fact that this was the first conference football game Kansas State has won since 1945. Following the game, open house was held at the chapter house for members, their parents, and alumnae. Kansas B was happy to have Mrs. Carl L. Junge, Iota Province President, as its guest on October 5.

A most memorable occasion for Kansas State was the dedication ceremony October 9 of the college chapel, More than 500 persons heard President Milton S. Eisenhower dedicate the Danforth wing of the All-Faith Memorial chapel, marking the first time in the history of Kansas State that an entire building has been set aside for religious meditation and worship.

According to tradition Colorado A and Colorado B celebrated Founders' Day together with a luncheon in Denver at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, Colorado A, being the hostess chapter, led the group singing. Both groups presented clever skits as entertainment. Colorado A depicted the founding of their chapter and their relationships with Colorado B through the succeeding years. A short business meeting was held in order to elect the officers for the Denver Alumnæ Club for the coming year.

The Colorado A's hurried home to complete the decorations for the Spring formal to be held that evening, April 50. The theme "April Showers Bring May Flowers" was carried out with one half of the room decorated with silver rain drops and the other half with flowers. A gigantic clock showed that at midnight the rain would stop and May's beauty would come forth. All legacies of Colorado A who were seniors in high schools in Colorado, were invited to attend the dance and spend the weekend at the chapter house. After the dance a cooky-shine was given so that everyone could become better acquainted and talk over the evening's events.

The most outstanding event of spring quarter was the C., U. Days celebration. Each organization entered a carnival booth. Colorado A staged a gigantic "fish pond" with the members dressed as rather amazing fish, very anxious to be "caught" by some unsuspecting participant. Loel Amberg joined the Δ T Δ skit in the Buff Show in which she sang her specialty "Smartie." There was a constant downpour of rain throughout the weekend, but a let-up occurred long enough for the float parade. The "Holiday theme was illustrated in many extraordinary ways. The Pi Beta Phi float "Holiday For Strings," which was an immense violin, placed second. Saturday morning. Nancy Ball, Lucy Bennett and Ann Wadley were members of the All Star baseball team. A luncheon was held at the chapter house on Mother's Day for the mothers and fathers of all the girls.

Joan Jefferson, Joanne Easley, Babbie Carpenter, Dottie Evans, and Bebe Erat were tapped for Spur, the sophomore honorary, and Jo Easley was elected president.

At the quarterly scholarship dinner, Dottie Evans was given an award for making a 3.0 average. Ann Wadley received a scholarship charm for her second-place average of 2.5. All the members were arranged at the table according to their averages.

Supense of several months came to a climax one evening, when the 2 A Es from Colorado A & M arrived bearing a sheet-covered stretcher. After an amusing dissertation, a statue of Venus was unveiled. This statue, which once stood in a corner of honor in the chapter house, had been missing for twenty years. Her past revealed that she was a victim of many practical jokes, She had been taken twenty years before, but after much fruitless searching the quest was abandoned. Last fall, however, the uncle of a pledge told her of Venus and the search was renewed. The statue had traveled from 2 A E chapter to chapter and had eventually come to rest in the attic of the 2 A E house in Fort Collins. Venus now stands in the chapter from of the house, but the girls are sure she will disappear soon, as her fame has spread to many states.

Rush Week was held a week earlier than usual this year to avoid its overlapping with New Student Week.

Sally Brown, Panhellenic president, took advantage of the week between rushing and the beginning of classes to put into operation a very successful Panhellenic Workshop. Discussions on inter-sorority spirit, pledge-active relationships, officer training, active-alumnæ cooperation, activities, scholarship, rushing, and standards were held. This enabled the exchange of much information among the groups, which it is believed will result in greater Greek achievement.

The following week a Student-Leadership Workshop was held in which the whole university became engrossed. Panel discussions were held on the many phases of college life. Each organization sent several representatives on cooperation between the university students and the faculty, as well as among the students themselves. The importance of activities, scholarship and social relationships was s

The bedrooms were papered and each girl did her share to make the second floor as attractive as the rooms downstairs, At the Hello Week open house, signs reading "Detour—under construction" appeared to explain to the Freshman girls why the Ji Beta Phi House was barren of furniture.

Graduation found two Pi Beta Phis with graduation honors—Thelma P. Iker in English and Joyce Henderson in Business. Jeanne Anderson was tapped for Mortar Board. Southern Methodist University is expanding its plant to accommodate the 5,800 students who turned out for registration this fall. Returning students found a changed campus with buildings sprouting in every direction. Due for completion in January 1950 is Pondren Hall of Science, which will be the largest building of the University. Perkins Theology Quadrangle will be finished by September of 1950, and construction has just started on the Law School Quadrangle. When completed, these handsome buildings will add greatly to the appearance of the campus.

The University is proud of the newly-granted Phi Beta Kappa charter. A local honory has been petitioning the national organization for many years, and the chapter will be formally installed some time this year.

Evidence of the success of Texas B's rush week is the pledge class of thirty-two girls, largest in the history of the chapter. After the pinning on of ribbons the pledges were honored with an informal dinner. Members and pledges then adjourned to the Fall Fling, an all-school dance at the Student Union Building.

The Pi Beta Phi apartment was ready for a new year too. During the summer several energetic members with the help of the Dallas Alumnæ Club completely redecorated and refurnished the apartment. The chapter really owes these girls sincere thanks for their efforts, Texas B is inaugurating the new custom this year of holding open house at the apartment one day every week. Members are free to bring guests.

Matriculation exercises were highlighted for all Washington Γ's when the college president awarded the chapter the Dean of Women's scholarship cup for 1948-1949. Harriet Haines was awarded the Δ Δ Δ acoiology award of $100 as the most outstanding student in that department.

New students and old were proud of Oregon's football machine as it rolled up impressive scores in the first two games of the season. The college year was eagerly anticipated by all New Mexico A's since it would open with rushing in a brand new house. The house is built in the pueblo style architecture, as are all the other buildings on the University campus, and consists of a very spacious living room (the largest on campus), the chapteron's quarters, a kitchen, powder room, and a basement chapter room. This year the chapter's main interest lies in raising money for building a second story for bedrooms, and a wing for the dining room. Plans have been made to raffle some sterling flatware in order to help the financial situation. The alumnæ and mothers' club will also participate.

CALIFORNIA BETA-UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1900 Pledge Day, September 24, 1949

Despite the ever decreasing number of veterans, fall registration at the University wavered around the 23,000 mark. During the summer months a new wing to the Charles Doe Library was completed. This greatly relieved the tension of the old, overcrowded rooms. Several new engineering buildings are under construction and will be completed this year.

To start the semester with California spirit, a rally was held in the Greek Theatre on September 16 before the first football game of the season. The Greek Theatre was also the setting, on September 21, for the first University meeting of the semester when President Robert Gordon Sproul welcomed all new students.

Continuing a tradition established last year, the All-Cal Weekend was held October 18-20 on the University of California at Los Angeles campus. Sponsored by the California Club, the weekend was a great success with students of all eight campuses of the University meeting in Los Angeles for three days of spirited rallies, parades, and football.

A great tragedy occurred early this fall when Beaudelaire Hall, a university sponsored boarding house for girls, was burned completely to the ground. At the instigation of the National Panhellenic Association, all of the women's fraternities contributed to a fund to aid the homeless girls.

Last spring and this fall several of the girls of California B received notable honors and appointments. Katherine Olson was asked to join California Club, the members of INITIATED, September 30, 1949: Jan Ashford, Santa Monica; Susanne Earle, Joan Hunt, Gloria Wells, Los Angeles; Katherine Haney, Texas; Patricia Quint, Glendale; Nancy Ridgeway, Long Beach; Carolyn Schiller, Pasadena, The initiation banquet was held at the chapter house immediately following the ceremony. Former house mother, Mrs. Merritt, spoke on duties to Pi Beta Phi. After dinner everyone adjourned to Joan Dean's home in San Marino for dancing and swimming.

Upon returning to campus this fall, everyone noticed the physical change in this urban University. The foundations for a new outdoor cafeteria and the Elizabeth Von-Kleinsmidt Memorial dormitory for women were in the process of being laid. Construction on the Stopgap Theater for the staging of Drama School productions and the new million dollar Letters, Arts, and Science building was being completed, On October 5, the 70th Anniversary of the founding of the University was celebrated by laying the cornerstone in the L.A.S. building. Homecoming Week started October 31 and ended with the Stanford game November 5. The first night was Gamma night when the chapter entertained all the California I alumnæ. The climax to the week was a rally and float parade through downtown Los Angeles, and the Homecoming Dance.

At the Recognition Assembly last May, Barbara Potter, vice-president of the student body, received the award for the highest accumulative grade average of all students in the School of Education. Dorothy Walker was tapped for Mortar Board and elected vice-president of Amazons, Five more California I's were chosen for Amazons, the Junior-Senior women's scholastic and activity organization, bringing the chapter number up to eight. Bingo Piver and Paula Hinckley were selected for Key and Scroll. Bingo was elected president of this Junior scholastic group. Patricia Quint was tapped for Spurs, and Joan Tanner was made Chief Justice of the women's Judicial Court.

The chapter is very proud of its achievement in raising its scholastic average from seventeenth place among the women's fraternities to first place, in the short space of one vear.

on August 26-31, and the pledging of the California Z's on September 5 at the California A house. Tremendous enthusiasm for both new groups is evident in the glowing reports of the girls who participated in these two events.

Rushing began on September 7 with a slightly new system which proved to be well liked by everyone. The main features were having five groups instead of four, and an increase in the number of parties and houses to which the rushees went. The ten days of rushing were brought to a close with Presents on September 17.

Jackie Yarbrough is the YWCA's vice-president and is also a member of Mortar Board. CALIFORNIA EPSILON—SAN DIEGO STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, September 1, 1949 Pledge Day, September 18, 1949

With initiation and installation ceremonies barely a memory, and with their badges only one day old, the California E's plunged into rush week. Help and advice from experienced members loey Wight, California Δ, Judy Beach, Indiana E and Katherine Teasley, Colorado A, was greatly appreciated. This was the first year San Diego had held rushing the week prior to the opening of college. Selling chrysanthemums at the first home football game of the season raised money for the chapter's first philanthropy. The sum of $100.00 was donated to the Marching Band Traveling Fund. A perpetual trophy was awarded to the organization having the greatest percentage of sales. Pledges and members enjoyed selling articles (and buying, too) at the Settlement School Benefit held October 8 at the San Diego Woman's Club. Parents and friends of the actives met alumnæ and spent the afternoon playing bridge. Square dancing has become popular in Southern California, so to keep in step, members held an exchange with K Σ. The dance was held in a rustic barn, complete with professional caller. Girls wore calico dresses and the men wore levis and plaid shirts.

A costume party was held at Katherine Teasley's home

A costume party was held at Katherine Teasley's home Hallowe'en night. Trap doors, eerie sound effects and a "blackout" were foreboding signs at the entrance. Pledges presented entertainment.

The new arts and crafts building is in final stages of completion. Located on the edge of the canyon, it is constructed in the Spanish style architecture of the other campus buildings. The library annex addition is entirely completed.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915 Pledge Day, September 29, 1949

INITIATED, October 15, 1949; Elizabeth Bassett, Margaret Bassett, Lorraine Goni, Joan Lundy, Reno; Donna Batt, Frances Batt, Carlin; Jane Bergendorf, Oakland, Calif.; Donna Florence, Joann Rich, Sacramento, Calif.; Bette Priest, Napa, Calif.

University of Nevada women departed from tradition in choosing candidates for the Associated Women Students presidency this year. Previously the office had rotated from organization to organization but this year candidates were voted upon by the entire membership of the A.W.S. A "bean feed" was held April 7 in the dining hall on campus to introduce the candidates endorsed by each organization. Maxine Brockett was elected Queen of Engineers' Day, Edith Moore is vice-president of Y.W.C.A. Beverly Simon is serving as treasurer of W.R.A. and as secretary of YWCA, Elaine Abercrombie Horton was elected to X A P. Marjorie Simon was Co-chairman of Mackay Day. Both Marjorie and Elaine were listed on the spring honor roll. Nevada A was awarded the Scholarship Improvement Plaque given by the Dean of Women.

Spring social functions included a picnic at Galena Creek, where the pine-scented air sharpened appetites for hot dogs and potato salad. The Villa Sierra was the scene of the and potato saiad. The VIIIa Sierra was the scene of the annual dinner-dance.

Each social organization presented a song team at the annual luncheon during Mackay Day, honoring John Mackay, University of Nevada benefactor, Nevada A's theme was "Harlem Fantasy" and included the following songs: "In My Solitude," "St. Louis Woman," and "I Dreamt I Dwelt In Harlem." Costumes were straight black skirts and charteries blouses. In Harlem." Co charteeuse blouses.

Nevadans returned to campus to find several changes. Col.

Cilbert Parker has been Acting President since the resignation of John O. Mosley. Another record enrollment of 1800 necessitates crowding in spite of the addition of two men's barracks on a site near Clark Field.

The first week of fall semester was designated "Hello Week." "Hello" tags, friendly greetings and broad smiles were the accepted fashion of the week. Activities included an assembly, a rally and a dance to welcome new students and to renew acquaintances.

After "Hello Week" the attention of the Nevada A's turned to the chapter house where new draperies brightened the first floor. The girls re-painted the furniture in their rooms in hues ranging from lavender to sunset red. A congenial atmosphere prevailed during the rush parties, and clever decorations carried out such themes as a circus, an aritsts' party, a pickaninny watermelon bust and II B & heaven.

A new system of rushing, with the accent on informality, was instituted at the University of Arizona this fall. Two afternoon teas, followed by two series of luncheons, coke parties, and desserts, and climaxed with two preference desserts comprised the schedule. At a Panhellenic fashion show preference desserts comprised the schedule. At a Panhellenic fashion show preceding the opening of rushing activities, cottons were suggested for the luncheons and coke parties and prints and date dresses for the evening affairs. The omission of hats and gloves, in deference to the unusually warm weather, further stressed this informality. The preference desserts were the only formal events, when the

The omission of hats and gloves, in deference to the unusually warm weather, further stressed this informality. The preference desserts were the only formal events, when the members of Arizona A dressed in traditional white and the rushees wore formals of varied hues.

A pleasant surprise greeted the returning Arizona A's, All the upstairs rooms had been redecorated by the alumnæ. Each room was decorated individually and distinctively, with such color themes as lavender and brown, chartreuse and dark green, and royal blue and yellow featured. New day beds and large scatter rugs, as well as matching print drapes and bedspreads, were provided.

An open house honoring the pledges was held on September 30. Dancing furnished the evening's entertainment. Exchange dinners were held with A X A on October 19 and Φ K Ψ on November 3. A buffet supper honoring parents was held prior to the football game with Texas Western on Mom and Dad's Day, October 15.

At the banquet following Initiation, Alice Leman was presented with a jewelled recognition pin for having attained the highest grade average in her pledge class. Patricia Blanc received the outstanding pledge award.
