MISS MARGARET CAMPBELL, Founder, wishes to thank all Pi Phis, chapters and clubs who have sent her greetings and gifts. ## EDITORIALS

ANTI-FRATERNITY AGITATION

WITHIN the past year, unique situations have arisen at two colleges at which Pi Beta Phi has chapters. On the campuses of Middlebury College and Swarthmore College there is very strong anti-fraternity agitation. Fraternities in general have been attacked as to their worth from the viewpoint of finances, the neutral women, the size of the college, and fraternity politics. As a result of these attacks, pledging has been indefinitely postponed at these institutions, and fraternity activities have been reduced to a minimum, as an experiment to determine whether or not fraternities should stay.

A vote on the abolition or retention of fraternities will be taken in each case after the period of inactivity has been practiced for a given length of time. The outcome on both campuses is as yet undetermined.

Pi Beta Phi is proud of the fact that at both colleges it has been especially fortunate in having chapters whose sentiments are strongly favorable to the retention of fraternities. It is realized of course, that these chapters have been placed in a very hard position, and the way in which they have faced their problem is praiseworthy. It is earnestly hoped that the situation eventually will be settled satisfactorily and that Pi Beta Phi can keep its two chapters, Vermont Alpha, and Pennsylvania Alpha, which have contributed so much to it.

FALSE ECONOMY

PRACTICALLY every paper and magazine these days carries a story about reductions in local budgets. Most of these contain items for reductions in municipal employees' salaries chief of which seem to be those of teachers. In many cases these are carefully planned economies determined only after profound consideration of the various problems involved. In other cases, unfortunately, teachers' salaries are the first to be slashed often because they represent the largest single item in the budget. While it is true that, when a reduced income must be met, salaries need to stand their share of the curtailment, nevertheless it is deplorable that the results of such action are not more seriously appreciated.

When a community abolishes kindergartens as an economic measure or manual training or domestic sciences or other of the so-called frills—called that because they were not in the curriculum twenty-five years ago—they are not considering the children, who are to be the future citizens, but are thinking only of their own immediate inconveniences. Children are victims of a period of great insecurity and uncertainty in the homes, which is now reflected oftentimes in their attitudes and will be tremendously reflected in ten years. Now more than ever they need the chance to learn sound habits, to build up their inner resources, to grow in stature physically and emotionally as well as mentally and spiritually. They cannot do this if certain of the training fields are abolished, if their classrooms are too crowded and the teachers harassed beyond endurance. They are not economies that bring about these conditions but rather wanton extravagances which will be paid for by the children in all too short a time.

The Arrow Contributors

NOTHING is so important to the life and purpose of a magazine as its reporters—news hunters—contributors. They are the magazine's eyes and ears, and are ever on the alert for something of interest.

MERCEDES BAKER JORGULESCO

The contribution may be only a tip that such-and-such a person is doing interesting work in a certain field; it may be a newspaper clipping about the achievements of some active—an account of an alumnae event, or news of another fraternity; or again it may be a well worked up interview, or a thoroughly written feature story. In every case it is news, and each item whether large or small, is something to interest other Pi Phis.

The ARROW has nine contributors, spread over the country. It is due to their efforts that the magazine is able to present representative Pi Phi news from all quarters. Many times the Editor has to answer the question, "Where do you get all the news and information?" The answer is in a word, the Contributors. It is they who coax facts and photographs from those about whom stories are wanted. It is they who track down the details, spending their time on busses, street cars, and the telephone, and it is they who flood the Editor's office with a deluge of mail when issue time rolls around. We present here the ARROW Contributors.

Beginning with New York, we have Mercedes Baker Jorgulesco (Mrs. Jonel E.), Massachusetts A, who never fails to send several features stories to each issue, and Pi Phi news from her city. She is connected with many journalistic enterprises, being literary editor of the Westchester County Times, and a regular contributor to The Tarrytown Daily News, Brookline (Mass.) Chronicle, and eight Westchester County newspapers. She has a passion to commence work on her first book. She attended Boston University, College of Liberal Arts; Ohio Wesleyan University, and

ETHEL CHAMBERLAIN PORTER

Columbia University. She was third vice-president of the New York Alumnae Club, 1931-32, and is Chairman of the Magazine Agency of the club for 1933-34. Her husband is a scenic-artist, and has several important Broadway productions to his credit. Jonel and Mercedes Jorgulesco are the happy parents of a five-months-old son.

Proceeding north into New Britain, Connecticut, we have Ethel Chamberlain Porter (Mrs. Gail Q.), Illinois B, who has much to report of her community, and of her many travels. She is ever on the go, having as her hobby traveling with her husband and two sons, among European peasants in out-of-the-way places. She graduated from Lombard College with an A.B. degree in 1906, and received her Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago in 1911, having been a Fellow in Philosophy at Bryn Mawr College in 1908, and a Fellow in Psychology at the University of Chicago in 1909-11. She is a member of the honorary fraternity  $\Sigma \Xi$ . She has taken active interest in  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  having attended two conventions and having belonged to seven alumnae clubs. Her two sons are college students.

The ARROW is represented in Chicago by an enthusiastic contributor,

MARY ALICE JONES

Mary Alice Jones, Tennessee A, who is at present Director of Children's Work for the International Council of Religious Education. Right now a great deal of her time is spent in cooperation with the Committee on Progress through Religion of the Century of Progress Exposition in the development of exhibits and conferences in the Hall of Religion. She has been very active in working up articles on subjects pertinent to the fraternity's organization and function for publication in the ARROW, besides furnishing news from her vicinity. She was a student at University of Chattanooga and Randolph-Macon Woman's College; and received her B.A. degree from the University of Texas; her M.A. from Northwestern University, and was a Graduate Fellow at Yale University. She is a member of the Northshore Alumnae Club, and the Committee on Undergraduate Loan Fund. She attended Breezy Point, Pasadena, and Asbury Park conventions. Formerly she held the position of editor of Children's Publications for the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. She is the author of several books in the field of religious education.

Further west, in Helena, Montana, the ARROW has another contributor, Anna Lytle Tannahill Brannon (Mrs. Melvin A.), Nebraska B, who is a generous contributor of news from her section of the country. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and pursued graduate work at Wellesley College and the University of Chicago. She has held the positions of head of the department of English at Agnes Scott College, Georgia, head of the department of English Literature, Milwaukee Normal School, dean of women and head of the department of English, Lewiston State Normal School, Lewiston, Idaho, and dean of women and professor of English, Beloit College, Beloit, Wisconsin.

She was a delegate to the Madison, Wisconsin, Convention, and has attended the New Orleans, Berkeley and two Charlevoix conventions. She has held many offices of the Fraternity including that of Grand President and has served it most faithfully. She is a member of many organizations including Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of American Colonists, and the American Association of University Women.

She was married to George William Tannahill, attorney, in 1913. Mr. Tannahill died in 1917; and in 1923, Mrs. Tannahill, married Melvin A. Brannon, Chancellor of the University of Montana.

Up far in the northwest, Dorothy Eberhard, Oregon A, scouts for news. During the school year she lives in Silverton, Oregon, where she teaches in the Silverton High School, and in the summer months she lives at her home in La Grande, or travels about the country. She is the newest contributor on the staff, and has been steadfast in her quest for news of Pi Phi since her appointment. She attended the conventions in 1929, and 1931. She attended the University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon, and graduated from there with an A.B. degree in 1931. She was a member of Mortar Board at the University.

Down further on the western edge of the country Blanche Carlton Curtis (Mrs. Perce H.), Massachusetts A, sends news from the vicinity of Oakland, California, her home town. She has ever been interested in active work for her Fraternity, and has served it well in numerous capacities, as follows: Undergraduate Loan Fund Committee 1910-11, chairman, Alumnae Reorganization Committee 1925-29, Extension Committee 1918, Kappa Province Vice President 1919-25, Kappa-Iota Province's Vice President 1921-23, Settlement School Committee 1927-31, and editor Little Pigeon News. She has attended six conventions: 1911, 1915, 1921, 1923, 1925, 1929, and states that the greatest thrill of all came when at the convention in 1911 the Settlement School was born. The school is her unflinching interest. Mrs. Curtis received her A.B. degree from Boston University, and had attained  $\Phi B K$  honors. She was married in 1911, and has one daughter. Mrs. Curtis has made her home in California since 1911.

Another contributor in the west is Nevada Semenza Christian (Mrs. Sutton). She attended the University of Nevada and Stanford University, and received her B.A. degree in 1924. She attended the 1925 convention at Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Canada, accompanying her sister, Rena, who was delegate that year. She is at present assisting her husband in publication of a newspaper, The Tri-City American at Soquel, California. For two years she was a feature writer and society editor of the China Press in Shanghai, China. She and her husband remained in China long enough to be eye witnesses to and reporters of the attack on Shanghai in February, 1932. They live now in the country near the Santa Cruz mountains and almost within sight of the beautiful Monterey Bay.

Her experience especially fits her for Further to the south but still in the West we have Jaunita Day Carman (Mrs. Ernest), Minnesota A, who, while contributing generously to the pages of each issue of the ARROW, has failed to send any news about herself. Living in Los Angeles, she has the advantage of being near many very active members of the Fraternity, and always has a wealth of interesting material from which to choose.

Coming east again we find the southern central portion of the country covered by Helen Milam, the ARROW Contributor from Kappa Province. She is an alumna of both Texas A and Texas B, she is a member of a most enthusiastic Pi Phi family, and she has always been most interested in the Fraternity. She was initiated into Texas A in 1926, went to Southern Methodist University a year, and returned to the University to graduate in 1930. She has had a number of interesting contacts with the fraternity outside her chapters. She attended the Convention at Breezy Point Lodge at Pequot, Minnesota, and spent two summers at the Settlement School in the Arrow Craft Shop. Since graduation she has been a member of the Dallas Alumnae Club. She has been teaching school for the past few months in Orange, Texas, where she has enjoyed the meetings of the Sabine District Club.

As we complete the circuit around the country we present an active contributor in Washington, D.C., who has something from the capital city to report in every ARROW, Mary Elizabeth Hudson, District of Columbia A. She attended George Washington University and graduated with an A.B. degree in 1931. She is at present secretary to the Dean of the Medical School at the University. She has taken an active part in the life of the fraternity, being a member of the District of Columbia A Alumnæ Advisory Committee in 1932, and elected treasurer of the Washington Alumnæ Club for 1933. She attended the 1931 Convention. She is much interested in music, and is very talented.

CLOTHES CONSERVATION WORK

MRS. HARVEY W. WILEY, District of Columbia A, is this year Chairman of the Clothes Conservation Committee of the District of Columbia.

As President of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Wiley assumed this responsibility. The Clothes Conservation campaign was planned and financed by the District of Columbia Committee on Employment and works under the guidance of the Council of Social Agencies, according to the rules laid down for all Community Chest agencies. There are two paid assistants. All other work is done by volunteer workers from the clubs and churches of the city. Appeals for garments were made through the press, the radio and by letters to the clubs and churches. From November 14 when the campaign was opened to March 10, 14,296 articles of apparel were received and 13,143 distributed. The applicants are required to bring requisitions from one of ten chest agencies; the donations are recorded and all donors thanked, the applicants are also indexed so that no duplication can occur. All this clerical work has been done by volunteer assistants. Other club women have toured the city from one end to the other collecting, others meet the people and kindly assist them. People come into the room with saddened faces and go out helped and heartened. The volunteer workers have on many occasions assisted with rent, food and other needs of the applicants.

The laundries and dry cleaning establishments of the city have assisted in collecting the bundles and in washing and cleaning the soiled articles. The American Red Cross have allowed the cut-out cotton garments donated by that organization to be made up on loaned sewing machines in the Clothes Conservation Room by unemployed women, who are paid for their work by the Emergency Relief organization. These garments are then distributed through the Clothes Conservation Committee. Used garments, too worn to be used, are cut down and made over for children, and even the very old uniforms of the police and firemen were made into coats and trousers for boys. The work of this Committee is to supplement the distribution of direct relief. Three dollars and eighty cents a week is being given to 6000 families. As this sum is too small to admit of buying anything else except food the work of the Clothes Conservation Committee tries to supply the clothing needs of these families.

Intercollegiate Panhellenic Convention

By ETHEL VOLGENAU, New York Alpha, Delegate

THE SIXTH annual conference of the Intercollegiate Panhellenic Association of Urban Universities was held this year at Syracuse University on February 10 and 11. It is customary to invite as guests to each conference, six urban colleges which are usually geographically nearest the place chosen for the convention. These colleges are then eligible to membership in the association. The guest colleges this year were Penn State, Cornell University, University of Toronto, St. Lawrence University, Westminster College, and the University of Maryland. At present there are sixteen member colleges.

The delegates began to arrive early Thursday evening and were greeted by Panhellenic representatives from the various fraternities on the Syracuse campus, and typical Syracuse weather—snow galore and cold winds! About thirty delegates came from their respective colleges and universities. Here north, west, south, and east gathered at one point and said "hello." Each of the twenty-two fraternities at Syracuse sent two representatives to the conference.

New York A was happy to have as their guest, Miss Onken, who attended the convention as representative from the National Panhellenic Congress. She won the admiration of everyone and contributed many of the worthwhile suggestions which so many found valuable to take back to their own campus Panhellenics.

The session opened in the Hendricks Chapel Friday at 10:00 A.M. with short greetings from Virginia Wartman (Z T A), President of the Intercollegiate Panhellenic Association, Charles W. Flint, Chancellor of Syracuse University, Mrs. Finla Crawford (X Ω), President of the Interfraternity Conference, and Miss Florence Partridge, Dean of Women. A short business meeting followed and then discussion groups met for the remainder of the morning and afternoon. These groups had the homeliness of a family gathering where everyone presents his problems and the rest offer helpful suggestions for improvement or change.

They were both instructive and interesting. Some of the topics chosen were as follows: Problem of Sorority House Maintenance, Adjustment of Dues During the Time of Depression, Freshman Education Before and After Pledging and During the Pledge Period, Ways in which Panhellenic may Encourage Scholarship, Philanthropic and Charity Work of the Various Chapters, Relation between Sorority and Non-Sorority Women, Criticisms of Sororities and How to Meet Them, Clannishness—College Politics—Scholarship—and Extravagance. Work of the Alumnae in Panhellenic.

The Intercollegiate Panhellenic Conference has no legislative power. Its main object is to bring urban colleges and universities together in order that they may discuss subjects pertinent to Panhellenic. It is interesting to be able to meet representatives from other colleges and learn how their Panhellenics function.

After the business of the first day of convention closed a tea was given by the Syracuse Interfraternity Conference. This organization is composed of alumnae representatives from the sororities at Syracuse. The warm glow of the candles and informal atmosphere created a wave of easy friendliness that no one could escape and many quips passed laughingly over tea cups as delegates mingled.

In the evening an informal dinner was given in the Louis XV room of the Hotel Onondaga. After the dinner all of the delegates went to the Paramount Theater and enjoyed the movies.

The discussions continued all day Saturday culminating with a most interesting round table concerning the "Work of the Alumnae in Panhellenic." This was led by Mrs. F. G. Crawford. She explained the Preferential bidding system which is used at Syracuse and has been found to be very successful. She gave actual figures which proved that the system does work and that there is a low percentage of girls who do not get their "first choice" fraternity. She explained that because of the depression this year they found that expenses could be cut by hiring college men to deliver the bids to the freshman living centers, rather than to send them "Special" as had been the custom in other years. All communications between a house and freshmen is done through the Preferential Committee except at rushing parties. A girl never knows how many houses have bid her. Syracuse is one of the few universities actually using the preferential system. Miss Onken voiced her approval of it and urged the other colleges to present it to their Panhellenics.

The final business meeting concluded with the reading of the minutes of the round tables, the election of officers, and the decision of the "time and place" of next year's convention. George Washington University was chosen for the next convention.

The Sixth Annual Intercollegiate Panhellenic Conference closed with a formal banquet and dance in the ballroom of the Syracuse Hotel. Pi Phi was well represented. Miss Onken and Mrs. Clarence Bull, New York A, spoke at the banquet. Also there were five delegates, two from St. Lawrence and three from Syracuse. The conference was indeed well organized and conducted throughout and declared unanimously to have been "very worthwhile and inspirational!"

While her husband was in France during the war, she taught mathematics in an Episcopal college for girls in Kansas, and on Mr. Troxell's return from France, she joined him in Washington where they lived for a time. In 1920 they moved to Madison, Wisconsin, where Mr. Troxell died in December, 1930. The following summer Mrs. Troxell was appointed dean of women at the University of Wisconsin. She enthusiastically asserts that hers is the most interesting work on the campus.

Installation of North Carolina Beta

President, Gamma Province

IT'S JUST LIKE a Gamma Province convention," was what everybody said of the installation of North Carolina B at Duke University on February 16, 17, and 18, when actives from five of the six chapters in the province, and alumnae from a score of chapters gathered at Durham, North Carolina, to welcome the seventy-eighth chapter of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

True, but even a province convention would not have had the national spirit of the colorful banquet that climaxed the three-days' activities when old members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  from Florida on the east to Oregon in the west joined with the twenty-five new initiates in pledging faith to the Fraternity and its ideals. In addition to province officers, Miss Amy Burnham Onken, Grand President, and Mrs. Harry Comer, assistant to the Grand Vice-President, were present and representatives from seventeen chapters rose to answer the roll call of chapters.

Sixteen actives and nine alumnae members of the group formerly known as Mu Lambda were pledged and initiated into  $\Pi B \Phi$  by Miss Onken, one transfer student was pledged, the installation ceremony performed and the first chapter meeting held during the official half of the installation program. The social program included a cooky-shine, banquet, tea, organ recital, and reception-dance.

An influx of congratulatory telegrams from fraternity officers and chapters, as well as lovely bouquets and gifts from groups on the Duke campus portended the coming event even before Miss Onken's arrival on Thursday. Twenty-four actives and alumnae were pledged by Miss Onken Thursday afternoon, with reading of the Constitution following. Proudly wearing their arrowheads, the pledges took part in their first cookyshine laid in the faculty dining hall of the Student Union that night. Miss Onken said she felt sure that the dignified room had never before seen such an informal gathering. A roll of chapters was called but representatives were still filing in every few minutes so no complete count was possible. When the girls returned to Pegram Hall, the dormitory which houses their chapter room, with a great thrill they blacked out the "Mu Lambda" on their door card and wrote in its place "Pi Beta Phi." For the first time they heard the loudspeaker over which they receive notice of telephone calls announcing "Pi Beta Phi section" instead of "Mu Lambda section."

Plans for the initiation ceremony in the banquet hall of the Student Union beginning at ten o'clock on Friday had been well laid by Margaret Glass Altvater, Colorado B, and other members of the Pi Beta Phi Council in Durham. Headed by Courtney Crowder, president of the chapter, sixteen actives were initiated in the morning by Miss Onken, assisted by Mary Hornaday, president of Gamma Province. After luncheon in the Union, pledging was sandwiched in for two more alumnae before the initiation of nine alumnae in the afternoon. As the last girl emerged from the ceremony, the Grand President called the group together and repeated the brief installation ceremony which formally replaced M A with North Carolina B of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

Returning to their chapter room, the new members of the fraternity found hanging there a huge gilded arrow whose jewels were electric lights, the gift of the Durham Pi Phis who had worked so diligently in aiding the chapter to realize its aim of obtaining a Π Β Φ charter. The girls were greatly surprised and eager over the gift. It later served to decorate the banquet hall and hung over the door at the dance.

The Washington Duke Hotel was the scene of the formal banquet Friday night at which ninety-two members were present. Tables were arranged to form the letter Π. The blue programs were tied with wine ribbon and bore etchings of the imposing Duke University cathedral. Large bowls of wine and blue flowers graced the tables. The fraternity colors were also carried out in the ices and cakes and in candles. Members of the new chapter wore white evening gowns so that they were easy to distinguish among the group.

Seated at the head table were Miss Onken, Mrs. Comer—a very witty toast-mistress—Miss Hornaday, Mrs. Wallace Caldwell, New York B, president of the Chapel Hill Alumnae Club, Mrs. William F. Sippel, Gamma Province vice-president, Mrs. Altvater, president of the Durham Π Β Φ Council, Martha Thomas, president of North Carolina A, Frances Richardson, president of Virginia A and Courtney Crowder, president of North Carolina B.

The North Carolina pine tree furnished the theme for the toasts. Mrs. Caldwell proposed the toast to the founders, the "roots of the tree"; Martha Thomas, to Grand Council, the "trunk"; Courtney Crowder to the Durham alumnae, the "bark"; Miss Hornaday to the chapters, the "branches"; Frances Richardson, to the alumnae, the "needles"; and Mrs. Altvater to the new chapter, the "cones."

Miss Onken climaxed the whole with a tribute to the "music of the pines" recalling how she had been aware of the presence of pines just by their fragrance. So, she said, Π Β Φ, through a spirit of beauty and friendship may give out a fragrance of beautiful living. A variety of the fraternity's songs were sung with different chapters joining in on the ones they knew and all coming out strong on such old favorites as "Ring, Ching, Ching" and "Although Kappas Always Favor." The new chapter joined in lustily.

It was proposed that Miss Onken call the roll of chapters when she was introduced by Mrs. Comer as the only living person who could perform that feat without advance notice. Seventeen chapters answered to the roll-call, as follows: New York B, Pennsylvania A, Maryland A, District of Columbia A, Virginia A, Virginia T, North Carolina A, North Carolina B, South Carolina A, Missouri B, Florida B, Illinois E, Colorado B, Oklahoma B, Texas A, Oregon B, and California A. Passing of the loving cup concluded the program.

Saturday morning Miss Onken installed the officers of the new chapter at the first chapter meeting. She followed with an informal heart-to-heart talk in which she explained to the girls what is meant by "national viewpoint" which differentiates a chapter of a national fraternity and a local sorority. She reminded them that they have not reached their goal but are only beginning to work toward it. Afterward the visiting members of the Fraternity were taken on a tour of the men's campus where they inspected the cathedral from the great console to the carillon in the tower and heard special music played by Lawrence Apgar, chapel organist.

North Carolina A was hostess to all the visitors at a charming tea Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Onken at their house in Chapel Hill, just twelve miles from Durham. In spite of a dreary rain outside, the house was bright with an open fire and glowing candlelight.

Five hundred invitations were issued by the new chapter for the reception-dance on Saturday night, held by special dispensation in the main dining rooms of the Union. Through the courtesy of Dean Alice M. Baldwin, the girls had the privilege of using the attractive rooms where only one dance had been allowed before. Guests came in what is known as a "Duke's mixture"—three men to a girl. "I've never seen so many men in my life before," was the common cry of the visitors, but there was no complaint even though cutting made any continuous dancing practically impossible. Miss Onken, Dean Baldwin and "Polly" Crowder headed the receiving line. Guests included faculty members and college officials as well as families and friends of the new chapter. Two "no breaks" were scheduled which turned out to be dances to  $\Pi B \Phi$  tunes in which first, all except members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  and their escorts dropped off the floor and second, all except members of North Carolina B.

Miss Onken departed on Sunday morning. The visiting chapter representatives left at various hours Saturday night and Sunday morning so that by noon on Sunday, the new chapter, with enthusiasm still high, had settled down to the prosaic task of going over supplies and reading manuals. The chapter room, however, was still filled with the fragrance of flowers, people were still dropping in to read the stack of telegrams and letters. The girls were thrilled with the realization that at last after four years of work  $M \Lambda$  has at last become a chapter of  $\Pi B \Phi$ . As they were talking it all over Polly Crowder declared, "You work so hard for  $\Pi B \Phi$  but you never really know how wonderful it is until you are a member and learn its ideals."

The new chapter expressed often its appreciation that so many members of other chapters came to their installation. District of Columbia A by working to obtain a special railroad rate was able to send eleven actives; South Carolina A sent ten actives; Virginia T sent four and Virginia A, five, while North Carolina A actives came in varying numbers to different functions. Maryland A was represented by three alumnæ.

At the same time, the visiting members of the fraternity were expressing their appreciation of many kindnesses of their gracious hostesses and of the university in making it possible for them to stay together in the dormitory, have meals in the college dining hall, and in general to enjoy a very happy three days.

History of Duke University

By SYLVIA HUNSICKER and COURTNEY CROWDER

The present Duke University has been gradually developed from a simple beginning in a local school established in the northwestern part of Randolph County, North Carolina, in 1838. This school went through the various stages of being Union Institute, Normal College, and Trinity College. In December,

MEMORIAL CHAPEL ON WEST CAMPUS

1924, Mr. James B. Duke established a $40,000,000 trust fund for educational and charitable purposes. Trinity College accepted the terms of the indenture of trust on December 29, 1924, and on the following day the name of the institution was changed to Duke University. Mr. Duke's death in 1925 was followed by the announcement of munificent provisions in his will for the university which bears his name.

In September, 1930, the East Campus, a hundred and twenty acres in extent, with a well-established plan was given to the women, thus offering the advantage of a separate college for women with its own distinct life and at the same time, through close association with larger university life, preserving the best features of co-education.

General Description of the University

Duke University has one of the loveliest locations in its vicinity. The West Campus is bordered by 5000 acres of pine forests through which wind charming bridle paths and modern cement roads. From a bird's eye view, the West Campus resembles a cross. The main road leads up to a beautiful chapel which is a typical Gothic structure in keeping with the other buildings on the campus. The façade is somewhat like that of the famous Canterbury Cathedral and the gorgeous windows are in reproduction of those at Chartres. The east arm forms a quadrangle of classroom buildings and libraries with the medical school buildings at the extreme end. The west arm contains the union, shops, and dormitory courts. Behind this is a half acre of tennis courts and a gymnasium. Still further back is a stadium with seating capacity of 35,000.

The East Campus is Georgian architecture. The classroom buildings, union, library, and dormitories form a quadrangle with an auditorium at the end. Near a corner of the campus is a tea house surrounded by trees and lovely lawns which furnish a delightful place for the girls to gather and enjoy the wonderful spring afternoon of the south.

History of the Sorority

Mu Lambda Sorority was organized April 22, 1929, by a group of seven girls, for the purpose of strengthening the bonds of friendship among themselves and others, establishing connections that would be lifelong. After considering various national sororities, the group had about decided to aim for  $\Pi \text{ B } \Phi$  when they met Mrs. Vernon Altvater, (Miss Margaret Glas, Colo-

Are Women Loyal to Women?

By LOUISE FRANKLIN BACHE, District of Columbia Alpha

I WAS TOLD the other day that women give more to men's colleges than they do to women's colleges, while men are noted for generously standing by their own collegiate institutions and contributing but little to higher education for women!

This brings us to the question, "Are women loyal to women?"

Take our own fraternity as an example. We started out to raise $50,000 for our Endowment Fund. The need for the fund—we all admit. Special projects of value to women cannot be undertaken without it. The internal development of the fraternity demands it. Chapters are in need of support and improvement. The dizzy, fluctuating value of the American dollar pleads for a safeguard against loss in the purchasing power of our income.

Fifty thousand dollars, you know, may look either large or small! It just depends on the position at which you view it. If you see behind the $50,000, at least twenty thousand loyal Pi Phis, divided into seventy-seven chapters, and one hundred fifty-six chartered alumnae clubs, it really seems a very small sum to raise. And so it would be if we as clubs, active or alumnae, or as individuals, each put our shoulder to the wheel.

Π B Φ was the first organization founded as a national college fraternity for women. This heritage brings with it responsibilities. So far we have never had an adequate Endowment Fund. K K Γ, we find, has an endowment fund of $100,000; K A Θ, $80,000, and A Φ, $56,000. If we are to maintain the high standards demanded of women's fraternities today, we also must have such a fund.

Today we have about $20,000 paid or pledged to our Endowment Fund, and $30,000 more to gather in. Only seventy of one hundred fifty-six chartered alumnae clubs, and fifty-eight of the seventy-seven active chapters have contributed. Hundreds of us haven't turned in a cent.

In the military world they tell us that an army can travel only as fast as its burden bearers. We who make up the rank and file of Pi Phis are its joyous burden bearers. Because of our belief in our fraternity, we should be willing to see the Endowment Fund gathered in quickly, and as painlessly as possible.

If as an alumnae club or active chapter you belong to those whose names are among the missing contributors to the Endowment Fund, this is the time of all times for you to come to the aid of your fraternity and prove your loyalty. If depressions are sent to try our souls and prove the mettle of which we are made, then there could be no better time than the present in which to show that women in the United States are loyal to women, and determined to succeed when once they launch a worthy project. With this issue of the ARROW we offer you again a chance to register your loyalty. The process is a simple one. All you have to do is to fill in a pledge card and mail it to Mrs. Arthur M. Lewis, 3635 Campbell, Kansas City, Missouri. And it can be paid on a five-year installment plan! Mrs. Lewis will tell you about this plan, and send you pledge cards if you write her.

Postscript: I've always found that the time to act is when a matter is fresh in my mind. The Endowment Fund Committee is hoping very much that those who read this article will feel the same way.

Mortar Board Members

ELECTION TO MEMBERSHIP in Mortar Board means that one has given outstanding service to one's college community. In this issue of THE ARROW a series of pictures is given of those who have won the distinction of Mortar Board on their respective campuses. There are included in this group pictures of others, on campuses where there is not a Mortar Board chapter, who have won membership in other organizations which require for membership similar contributions of service to the college community. It is impossible to print here the long lists of activities which these members have carried on through their days at college. In general, the lists of activities include: "Dean's Honor Roll,"  $\Phi$   $\beta$   $\kappa$ ,  $\Theta$   $\eta$ , achievements in athletics, and distinguished service in dramatics, Y.W.C.A., student government, journalism, and class offices.

Policies of Alumnae Clubs

By RUTH GILLAN GOBBLE

CONSIDERING the fact that there are over 150  $\Pi B \Phi$  alumnae clubs stretching from Florida to Canada in one direction and from New York to California in the other, it is not surprising that many individual differences in policies and customs have arisen, although all are working for the same goals and are governed by the same general rules.

In any discussion of the policies of the  $\Pi B \Phi$  alumnae clubs, therefore, it is possible only to point out those ideas and practices about which there seems to be a fairly high degree of uniformity and more especially to call attention to the outstanding features developed by various clubs and which are worthy of consideration and emulation by others.

Perhaps the first question any club has to settle is in regard to the time and number of meetings to be held. Although many clubs meet but the required four times a year, it has been the general experience that monthly meetings are best, since interest in the club is kept more alive and the members become better acquainted with one another. Of course this applies more to the city clubs where the membership is constantly changing and where the members do not have such frequent contact with each other as in a smaller town.

Likewise most city clubs have the problem of whether to hold their meetings in the afternoon as most housewives prefer, or in the evening when the business girls can attend. Some clubs have compromised by holding half of the meetings in the afternoon and half in the evening, and others have formed two separate groups; but this presupposes a large organization and for most clubs it has been most practical to hold all the meetings in the evening when it is possible for both groups to attend.

All clubs, whether in large towns or small, have found that there is nothing like "food" to bring out a full attendance. In fact, one might think that the  $\Pi B \Phi$  alumnae did nothing else but eat, since nearly all their letters tell of beef-steak fries, cookie-shines, picnics, luncheons, teas, banquets, baked bean suppers, box-luncheons, chicken dinners, spaghetti suppers, barbecues, or corn roasts.

It is for this reason that supper meetings have proved so popular since everyone enjoys "going out" for a meal and by apportioning the work and expense among a committee, such a supper is no hardship on anyone. Many clubs raise money for the Settlement School by charging for these suppers and then having the committee bear the expense, and a surprisingly large sum can be raised in this way.

The subject of money naturally brings us to the most vital of all alumnae club problems, that of raising funds for the several  $\Pi B \Phi$  enterprises, and especially for the Settlement School. Bridge parties and tournaments, theater benefits, and rummage sales are the old stand-bys and still continue to be the most successful money-makers. One club took advantage of the recent craze for contract bridge by sponsoring a series of contract bridge lessons. It is also suggested that jig-saw puzzle enthusiasts exchange puzzles for a small consideration and the money be turned over to the club. White elephant sales conducted informally at a regular club meeting are lots of fun and profitable as well. A booth of Arrow Craft products at a church fair or other local entertainment is often profitable in cases where an Arrow Craft Exhibition by itself is not feasible. The cooperation of local firms can usually be used to advantage and many clubs have found an easy way out of their difficulties by holding their bridge benefits in certain stores which in return donate the refreshments and in some cases even the prizes. In some cities, establishments such as ice plants, dairies, and the like will pay money to the club for each member who will make a tour of inspection of their place. Many dry-cleaning firms and laundries will pay a commission to the club for the work sent in by members. All of these sources of income are comparatively easy ways of earning money and are at least worthy of investigation. As for the numerous articles sold by alumnæ clubs—that is a story in itself, in which might be mentioned: hand lotion, sponges, plants, vanilla, pecans, dresses, can openers, hosiery, aprons, stationery, eggs, toilet articles, pottery, and wild rice for game dinners.

Allied with the raising of funds is the payment of dues. Since the depression nearly all clubs have debated the question of whether or not dues should be lowered. But considering that the needs of the Settlement School are as great or greater than ever, it is hardly a time to lower our contributions. A better idea has been to allow the members to pay their dues on the installment plan, say a quarter or so at each meeting. In this way the payments are scarcely noticed by the members and the revenue is quite as large as formerly.

So far only a few states hold an annual state alumnæ club meeting but since the clubs in every state have so many common problems and so much to offer each other in the way of suggestions and counsel, it is to be hoped that other states will try this plan in the future. In the meantime it is suggested that the clubs use the alumnæ club department of the ARROW as a sort of national forum and write in the problems that are bothering them or any suggestions that their experience has shown are helpful and which may be of aid to other clubs facing a similar situation.

DEAN GLIDDEN

IN THE FALL of 1931, Mrs. Fannie Hurff Glidden was literally dragged from her comfortable Kewanee home to serve as acting dean of women at Knox College. President Britt, the board of trustees, and the faculty all felt she was just the person. So after much persuasion, she came "for the one year." Knox College is well toward the completion of two years with Mrs. Glidden. President Britt, the board, and the faculty were only too right in their estimation of her.

Mrs. Glidden is just the person a dean should be: fair and square, tolerant, respected. She is capable of that rare understanding of this "younger generation." She does not place herself on a plane above from which to look down and see its faults in all their glaring brilliance. Rather she guides, maintaining a spirit of comradeship all around.

Mrs. Glidden was initiated May 27,

Chaperons for More Than a Decade

By JESSIE W. LOCKETT, Illinois Eta

IF REPORTS be accurate, there are three women who are chaperons having served  $\Pi B \Phi$  chapters ten years or longer. Alphabetically speaking, they are Mrs. Arthur, Miss Fleming, and Miss Lockett. Mrs. Benson, whom the ARROW honored in the previous issue, has retired after serving Oregon A sixteen years. Of the three now active, Miss Fleming holds the record for the longest service. She began with Illinois Z in 1909, served seven years, took a three year vacation, returned in 1919, and is still going strong. To Miss Lockett goes the palm for the longest continuous service. She has completed eighteen years with Illinois H, having begun at the second semester, 1915. Mrs. Arthur runs her a close second having ended, February 1, her seventeenth year with California  $\Gamma$ . Since a college generation means only four years, the continuity which these chaperons give makes a strong link between actives and alumnae and is what one president called, "a stabilizing influence on our campus."

What is said about one behind one's back is a fairly true measure of what one is. Three years ago an active wrote officially of Miss Fleming, "She has been with us eighteen years and we are still satisfied." We all know what it means to have contented customers! The active chapter are not the only ones who are "still satisfied." When the alumnae, or province officers, or Grand Council speak of Miss Fleming, there comes a glint in the eye, a challenge in the voice which plainly means, "Beat that if you can!"

Miss Fleming says that chaperoning is a "big job" but always interesting in its variety. It was Cleopatra's "infinite variety," you know, which so entangled and held Anthony. Miss Fleming seems caught in that same kind of snare. No two households, no two girls are alike. She enjoys the differences. With tact, philosophy, and good humor she makes each day's adjustments. She does not see youth through blue glasses, going to the dogs, but through clear lenses. She sees virtues as well as faults. She finds them thinking broadly and accomplishing things worth while. What matter that she does not always agree with their thinking? She looks for the best in each girl, remembers it and forgets shortcomings. She trusts the girls and her trust is not abused. In her interests  $\Pi B \Phi$  is first.

She was the first president of the chaperon club on the Illinois campus and it is tradition that she is hostess for the first meeting each year. She counts her twenty-one years with Illinois Z as years of real life. She prizes her friendship with the alumnae as well as with the active chapters. She appreciates the academic and cultural advantages which are hers through her university associations. Presidents of the United States are not the only good Ohio has given the world—she gave us Miss Della Fleming.

I do not know whether or not Mrs. Arthur was born in Ohio, but she was educated there. In a report to me three years ago, the corresponding secretary of California  $\Gamma$  said, "Mrs. Arthur is respected, loved, admired, and appreciated more than words can express. She is cultivated, bright, attractive, refined, and everything any one could desire. We consider Mrs. Arthur our best rusher in that she never fails to impress the mothers of our rushees extremely favorably and presents to them what  $\Pi B \Phi$  stands for."

One is not surprised that the girls have that feeling for Mrs. Arthur when one learns her interpretation of the position of chaperon. She says, "I can think of no more charming environment for a woman of mature years than to preside over a well organized fraternity house. If she can combine dignity and poise, a ready and cheerful sympathy, a keen but not aggressive interest, a well informed mind, a perfect understanding of self-effacement when the occasion requires, she will be a welcome member of their household and have the precious assurance that she lives in their hearts and is a part of the happy memories of the college girls who have come and gone in the chapter."

Let  $\Pi B \Phi$  pray that all chaperons may have so fine an interpretation of their position!

A member of Grand Council says that Mrs. Arthur makes of the chapter house a real home for "her girls"; that their interests continue to be hers throughout the years; that her inherent quality of social adequacy is reflected in the actives; that her example is invaluable and her youthful outlook on life a challenge. Mrs. Arthur says that the freedom of young women today is a far cry from the restraints of her girlhood. She finds that they do not abuse their liberty, but use it as a means of fearlessly meeting their problems. The often-asked question, "Why a chaperon when there is self government?" Mrs. Arthur answers by saying that however capable girls are of managing their affairs, they appreciate having an older, more experienced person near with whom to advise.

When Mrs. Arthur's lovely and happy home was broken, she sought for her later years something worthwhile to fill the days. As an experiment she went to California  $\Gamma$ . The result has been to her a joy greater than she even hoped for. She went to what she calls her "beloved group" a year before they became  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Helping to buy and furnish a house and to develop the group to the standard of  $\Pi B \Phi$  was the beginning of her long and valuable service. The years have been filled with many interests and naturally with some anxieties as well. But there has been a happiness in the assurance of the warm sympathy and cooperation of the chapter. After her son and his family her love goes to  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Everyone will be glad to know, I think, that her granddaughter, a freshman at Stanford, was pledged  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Since girls are limited at Stanford and California girls further limited, it means something to be a California girl at Stanford.

And now I come to Miss Lockett. We all remember Huckleberry Finn's emotions when he dropped in at his own funeral. Can we imagine what they would have been had he been preacher as well as corpse? I find myself in such a predicament—for I am Miss Lockett! Funeral sermons are not good form these days, so why not just say "a few words," write requiescat in pace, and all go home happy? Perhaps in those few words I can tell how I happened to come to Illinois H. It did just happen; there was no malice aforethought. On the spur of the moment a friend said, "How would you like to be chaperon at the Pi Phi house?" offering that as a solution to my not wishing to visit longer in Decatur, formerly my home town, yet not being ready to leave it after an absence of nine years. She added that she was a Pi Phi and named others whose families I knew. She would take me out next morning. Knowing what I do now, I think bees were busy that evening. To meet us were the chapter president, a sophomore whom I had known in earlier stages, solemnly serious with the responsibility of getting a chaperon for her chapter; the house president, a senior, keen, persuasive, red headed (my mother's hair was red); and Pussyfoot, the blond junior who rolled her blue eyes and smiled genially.

My duties would be to appear official at social functions and "just be here." There were apologies for offering only board and room. Veni, vidi—THEY conquered! I enjoyed those four months, associated again with American college girls. The girls bore up well.

They even asked me to come back in September. I refused. I must be up and doing something worth while. The president seriously told me that what I was doing was worth while. I could not see it. They would wait for me until the end of August. I left for my summer vacation; but I did not "up and do." For the first time in my life I did not bother destiny with my own rough hewing. My interests must have been back in France, for I only made bandages, sewed, and on my map traced the loss or gain of territory. At the end of August, I said I would return. What began as a temporary expedient, evidently had poor terminal facilities. It is still going. But changed; no longer an expedient. I now agree that chaperoning is worth while. It should be a worthy profession. If I have been to any one an inspiration, a breathing in of the spirit, or an encouragement, a strengthening of the heart, or even a practical help, I am grateful. It is only passing on the inspiration, the encouragement, the practical help which so generously has been given to me.

After living with their chaperon, each of these chapters bid her  $\Pi B \Phi$ . After living with her chapter, each of these chaperons accepted the bid. Is greater proof needed of mutual honor and affection? Mrs. Arthur's pin crowned her first ten years of service.

If a chaperon has a good enough memory to put herself back into the period of her own college life and by that reincarnation can get an understanding of the twenty-year-old girls around her, and if the work is to her a real joy, chapter and chaperon will "arise and call thee blessed."

New Pi Phi Songs

THE RESPONSE to the request in the February ARROW that new original Pi Beta Phi songs be sent to the Chairman of the Music Committee has been most gratifying and the Chairman wishes to thank all of the chapters who contributed songs to be considered for publication.

Two songs with original words and music and two songs with words set to popular tunes have been chosen for publication in this ARROW.

Don't forget to write out those new melodies for the ARROW. Our motto is "A new Pi Beta Phi song by every musically-minded Pi Phi!" The manuscript should reach the music chairman by September 15 to be considered for the November ARROW.

Tune: Remember

Remember the Pi Phi arrow,
The wine and the silver blue,
The loyalty and the friendships
That you know they will bring to you.
Forget all the Kappa pleading,
The gleam of Theta's kite;
Come put on this golden arrow,
And you'll know you've chosen right.
You'll ne'er regret.

SUSAN SIGLER, Missouri Alpha

Tune: Sylvia

Faith unbounded, honor true
To the wine and silver blue,
Arrow worn so lovingly—
These things Pi Phi means to me.
Deep, unswerving loyalty,
Now and in the years to be,
Love forever, failing never—
These things Pi Phi means to me.

The Story of Ring Ching Ching

By DOROTHY EBERHARD, Oregon Alpha

YOUR SONG is in that book."
"My song!" exclaimed Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Iowa A, of Portland, Oregon. A puzzled expression came into her countenance.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Ford J. Allen, then Grand Vice-President. "Your song Ring Ching Ching is in our new song book."

It was in 1915 that Mrs. Allen was visiting Mrs. Linn in Portland, after having installed Oregon A at the University of Oregon. Their meeting came

And today that yellowed piece of tablet paper occupies a prominent place in the chapter room of Oregon A. The original copy of Ring Ching Ching was taken from an old college album and presented to the Oregon group by Mrs. Linn a few years ago. As Louise Sawyers, she had written the words in pencil.

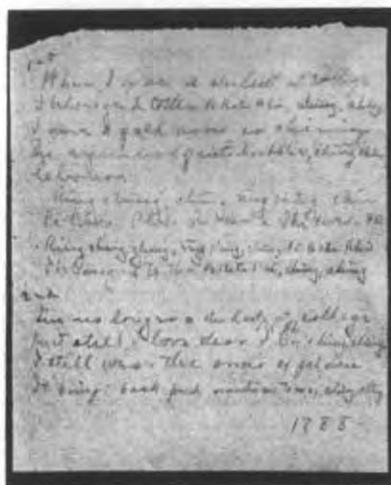

"I remember quite well my freshman year," Mrs. Linn said. "With school-girl enthusiasm I wrote some words, never dreaming that they would be sung beyond the walls of my own chapter, Iowa A. After being separated from active contact with  $\Pi B \Phi$ , out here on the Pacific coast, I did not know of the success of my song until Mrs. Allen's visit.

"If I had known that the song was going to be preserved in the hearts of many Pi Phis I would have made an effort to write something more worthwhile. When I was told that Ring Ching Ching was sung at all national conventions I really felt like making an apology for its poor poetic construction."

Since 1915, Mrs. Linn has had the pleasure of hearing her song sung in many places. Perhaps the greatest thrill came a few years ago.

"I believe the greatest thrill I have ever had was in Washington, D.C., when the Conference of  $\Pi B \Phi$  unveiled the official portrait of our illustrious and beloved Pi Phi, Grace Goodhue Coolidge, in the East Room of the White House," Mrs. Linn said. Thirteen hundred Pi Phis were in Washington for that great event.

"At the banquet given that evening at the New Willard hotel, I was honored as the composer of Ring Ching Ching. Imagine the thrill when the group sang my song. They sang it as only college girls can sing."

ORIGINAL COPY OF "RING CHING CHING"

twenty-seven years after a young freshman girl, full of enthusiasm, had written words to the then popular college tune, When I Was a Student at Cadiz.

Not until Mrs. Allen's visit did Mrs. Linn know that the words she had jotted down on scratch paper as a student at Iowa Wesleyan University in 1888, had become famous as a Pi Phi song. Today, Ring Ching Ching is sung by practically every chapter.

Rushing

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Thinking that an expression of viewpoints, on some phases of rushing, by persons who have had experience in them, might stimulate constructive thought upon the subject, and be of help to active members in making and conducting their rushing plans next fall, several articles on different aspects of the subject have been written, and are presented here in symposium form.

Those contributing are: Virginia Hutson Getto, assistant to the Grand President, considering "What a Fraternity May Expect of a Chapter in Rushing"; Sybil Bates Gutteresen, Advisor on Chapter Finances, discussing "Finances and the Rushee"; Ruth Nicholas Sutton, Eta Province Vice President, on the subject of "Recommendations," and cooperation between the alumnæ and the active chapter.)

WHAT A FRATERNITY MAY EXPECT OF A CHAPTER IN RUSHING

A FRATERNITY has every right to expect active chapters to consider carefully their choice of members. Life membership in a fine organization should neither be given nor received lightly. Because most rushing is rather hurried and hectic is all the more reason to evaluate recommendations carefully. Need I say more to bring to mind the disappointing pledges you have all had?

In this season of bizarre hats and Gibson girl sleeves one must not be too impressed with appearances. Look under the veil—beneath the hat, and see if you can find a girl who belongs in your chapter. The recommendation cards required by the Fraternity contain as complete information about every rushee as it is possible to obtain, but fitting these bits of information together and judging the finished product is very much like working a jigsaw puzzle—with the disadvantage that you may be wrong even after the pieces are assembled. Our opinions are never infallible but fewer mistakes are made when deliberation is thorough and unprejudiced. Because mistakes in pledging are so costly and injurious to chapters, I would suggest as remedies—intelligent voting and a definite understanding of recommendations. Mistakes will always happen but chapters will be less vulnerable if they take the suggested precautions.

There is a great tendency to rush only girls being rushed heavily by rival fraternities. Usually these girls are outstanding rushees but very often fine girls are completely ignored merely because they have no "pull" in other groups. Don't let another fraternity make up your mind for you. The smart chapter is the one that is hospitable to all rushees and makes its own decisions.

Intelligent conversation by every member to every rushee helps create a natural atmosphere which is fundamentally important in rushing. The chapter that makes a rushee feel at home—makes her want to belong in the group—is the chapter that knows how to rush.

Cooperation from chapter members is always important but never more obviously so than during the rushing season. Do not expect lavish decorations and lovely parties to rush for you. Extravagant rushing parties are out of the question this fall; the impressiveness must come from the chapter members. Tax your personalities as well as your ingenuity and thus make rushing peppy, delightful and inexpensive.

I am quoting from the Manual for Rush Captains exactly what chapter members should keep in mind when judging a rushee.

1. The rushee's record as shown by the data on her recommendation blank.

2. The value to be given the opinion of the person recommending.

3. The necessity for good high-school scholarship as an indication of ability to obtain a college education.

4. Family background as indicative of culture, reputation, business standing, and social adequacy.

5. Personality, disposition, talents, appearance, and adaptability as important factors in fraternity membership.

6. Most important of all, the rushee's apparent desire and ability to maintain for herself standards which make her worthy of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

A fraternity can ask no more of a chapter than that it study all recommendations thoroughly, vote fairly, and use its common sense in judging the character and disposition of girls eligible for pledging. The old adage, "Marry in haste—repent at leisure" may well be applied to rushing and changed to read, "Pledge in haste—and lament at leisure."

VIRGINIA HUTSON GETTO, Kansas A

FINANCES AND THE RUSHEE

THE FINANCIAL status of a rushee is something that should be given careful consideration by a chapter. I know that chapters often feel that it is not fair to have to consider the ability to pay in choosing their girls but if they will look at the matter in the right light I think they will readily see that they are doing a rushee a grave wrong by not considering her financial ability to pay.

The chapter must not forget that they are just like any other club or organization with definite expenses that must be taken care of and that, whether we like it or not, there is always a charge that necessarily goes with club membership. The chapter must remember that they are not fair to their present members if they take in girls unable to meet their obligations, and more important they must consider the side of the rushee.

Nothing can be more unfair than to pledge a girl to membership in an organization without letting her know just what it is going to cost her in dollars and cents. If she does not know what is expected of her in a financial way she soon finds out after assuming membership; and, if unable to meet the payments, there is bound to be heartache and recriminations. I urge chapters not to let this happen. We all dislike to have to consider the financial side of rushing, but it is there and it is much better for all concerned to consider it at the time of rushing and not be sorry afterward.

RECOMMENDATIONS

TIME! What an important part it plays in the matter of alumnae participation in rushing through recommendations! What alumna has not experienced the baffled and helpless feeling attendant upon receiving a special delivery or wire during rushing week, requesting a recommendation. Unless she lives in a very small place, the odds are very great that she either has never heard of the girl or knows very little about her, and the time being so limited, can give very little, if any information to the chapter. An incident like this usually results in dissatisfaction on both sides.

Several alumnae clubs in localities from which a number of girls go each year to schools where there are  $\Pi B \Phi$  chapters are considering the establishment of committees to compile information regarding possible rushees, well in advance of the rushing season. Thus definite recommendations may be made or information given immediately upon request from a chapter.

The work of such a committee would mean considerable effort in "sleuthing" upon the part of the alumnae and that fact brings us to the question of a chapter's responsibility in regard to recommendations from alumnae. I heard recently of a chapter which did not use, in fact did not know of the blanks to be obtained from Central Office for acknowledgment of recommendations. Certainly, an alumna has the right to expect and should receive such an acknowledgment, and these blanks make it very simple for a chapter to discharge this obligation.

With most rushing periods living up to their name so truly, reliable information concerning the desirability, or lack of it, in any girl, should certainly be a strong factor in any chapter's decision.

Alumnae living in a locality where a  $\Pi B \Phi$  chapter exists, feel that the distinction of wearing an Arrow is increased or lessened for them as the fortunes of the chapter go. Surely the recommendations of local alumnae, particularly when based on almost lifetime knowledge of a girl, should carry weight. Certainly the reason given for not taking a highly recommended girl should not be in a class with the time-worn "She ate the lettuce under her salad!"

Twice in the past few years, upon the request of a chapter, I have sought recommendations from a Pi Phi friend who is on the faculty of a prominent nearby high school. In both cases she was enthusiastic and glad to give them, but had not volunteered them because of previous discouragements, from a chapter's treatment of both her recommendation and the girl concerned.

Surely recommendations and summer rushing by alumnae have their place in securing the most desirable pledges. Can not more tolerance, courtesy, and closer knowledge of each others' needs make for more effective cooperation between alumnae and active chapters.

ALPHA PROVINCE PRESIDENT

ELLEN STRADLING BEATTIE

ELLEN STRADLING BEATTIE (Mrs. Walter), New York A, recently has accepted the office of Alpha Province President.

Ellen attended Syracuse University from 1925 to 1929, graduating with an A.B. degree. Upon graduation she became a member of the Syracuse Alumnae Club, and from 1929-1931 she was Supervisor of Fraternity Study and Examination for Alpha Province. Since 1930 she has lived in Kingston, New York, and is an active member of the Kingston College Women's Club.

Our Founders

IN THE chaotic rush of the fraternity world today, when we need nearly all of our energy and talents to meet the changing complexities both of the undergraduate and the alumnae life, little time is spent in looking backward to the early days of Π Β Φ, when a few visionaries gathered to organize a group. Fortunate it is that annually on Founders' Day we dedicate a certain portion of our thought to our Founders, twelve of them, who gave us our Fraternity which is so precious and influential among us today.

Those of them who are still among us must gasp when they consider the diverse activities of the Fraternity grown so far from its humble origin. Perhaps they feel something like a mother who can not realize that her grown son can have been the baby she bore and cherished and dreamed for, so different is he today. But also the mother fondly realizes that he is the man of attainment today because of her painstaking and loving care and guidance she gave him while in his infancy. He has met the vicissitudes of life because of the solid foundations of his childhood.

So has the Fraternity. The Founders pooled their ideals and together fashioned an organization for women, offering social contacts, friendship, and opportunity to serve others. At the very outset they hoped for expansion, and they were able to extend within the general locality of Monmouth to a few neighboring colleges. Today we have seventy-seven chapters covering all parts of this country and some of Canada. Today the ideals are the same as those of the Founders' but their projection has been into phases of life not dreamed of by the original twelve.

It was one of very few activities for the college woman at the time of its founding. Today it is one of dozens of fraternities through which women may serve and only one of multitudinous activities toward which women may turn their attention. That fact seems to be the greatest assurance that the Founders built solidly of stuff that would stand the changes of nearly seven decades, that their ideals were so fundamental that they are timeless and so could endure, even when interpreted by nearly twenty thousand women instead of twelve. Today those things that are vital and interesting and attractive will remain. All others must go. Pi Beta Phi decidedly is remaining. It was founded well.

Four of our Founders are with us, taking active interest in the Fraternity's work, Margaret Campbell, Libbie Brook Gaddis, Inez Smith Soule, and Fanny Whitenack Libbey.

AT THE PRESENT time Margaret Campbell is the only Founder that is so situated that she can and does enjoy the contact of the actives of her own chapter, Illinois A. Living as she does, about two blocks from the campus of Monmouth College, and for the last three years having had granddaughters of different founders in the chapter, she has had frequent visits from the girls.

Miss Campbell was born in West Newton, Pennsylvania, on November 7, 1846. She was the sixth of a family of ten children. The family moved to Monmouth, Illinois, when Margaret was ten years old. She attended the grammar schools, Monmouth Academy, and was graduated from Monmouth College in 1867.

After teaching a year in a country school near Monmouth, she devoted the next thirty years to helping run the family home.

In 1903 she went to Chase City, Virginia, where she spent twenty-one years, two of these in teaching domestic science in Thyne Institute, a United Presbyterian Mission School for negroes, and nineteen years as matron of the same school. This service Miss Campbell performed so ably and efficiently, that after her resignation on two different occasions, the insistence was so strong that she was forced to return.

After her final resignation she went to live with her sister, Agnes Campbell Murray, an I.C. at Monmouth College in 1873, and her brother-in-law, Rev. George Reed Murray, in Houston, Pennsylvania. Here she resided until the death of Rev. Murray in 1931. In August of that year both Miss Campbell and Mrs. Murray returned to Monmouth, to make their home. And here today at 816 East First Avenue one finds Mrs. Murray, herself a loyal  $\Pi B \Phi$ , ministering to every want of her delicate, older sister, our Founder.

In recounting the early days of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , Miss Campbell told of the girls banding together for two reasons, first for good times and second because they intended to help an extremely poor family of Monmouth and felt they could do so much better if they were organized. The rent was paid for the family and constant contributions given them.

When thinking of her Fraternity,

Miss Campbell is amazed but proud that their band of twelve has grown into a fraternity of more than twenty-two thousand. But her pride knows no bounds when she thinks of Gatlinburg. Her pride in the Settlement School she brings out most of all.

LIBBIE BROOK GADDIS was born on a farm in Henderson County, Illinois, on March 7, 1850. She attended the country school there, then went to the Monmouth College Academy and then to Monmouth College. She was at Monmouth College for two years and roomed with Ada Bruen, at Major Holt's home. The two Brownlee girls, Emma and Clara, lived at Fanny Whitenack's home and the five were very good friends, so they decided to organize a fraternity "like the boys had." Seven others were asked and in Libbie Brook's and Ada Bruen's room,  $\Pi B \Phi$ , which was I.C. then, was founded. Libbie Brook was the "baby" of the group, being only seventeen. From the first they had visions of extension and in Libbie Brook's junior year she transferred to Iowa Wesleyan College at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, with every intention of installing a chapter there, which she did. She carefully selected eleven girls,

INEZ SMITH SOULE

OUR FOUNDERS IN THEIR COLLEGE DAYS

1. Emma Brownlee Kilgore; 2. Rosa Moore; 3. Libbie Brook Gaddis; 4. Fanny Thomson; 5. Nancy Black Wallace; 6. Clara Brownlee Hutchinson; 7. Margaret Campbell; 8. Inez Smith Soule; 9. Ada Bruen Grier; 10. Jennie Horne Turnbull; 11. Fanny Whitenack Libbey.

as twelve was the number agreed on for each chapter. She then sent for Ada Bruen, who was president of I.C. and with her aid, the Iowa Alpha Chapter was installed. The next year she returned to Monmouth College and graduated in 1870 with second highest honors in her class.

After her graduation she returned to her home, on the farm and taught a country school near there. Then she went to California to teach and from there to Kansas to teach, and finally back to Illinois to marry Mr. John Hardin Gaddis, a man she had known all her life, as he lived on a farm near them and they had grown up together. They went to live on a farm near Avon, Illinois, and she has always lived in this vicinity. She has three children, two daughters and a son. The oldest daughter is married to Rev. Martin Anderson of Denver, Colorado; the other daughter, Jessie Gaddis, and the son live with Mrs. Gaddis in Avon, Mr. Gaddis having died in 1924. Three years ago her granddaughter, Margaret Anderson, was initiated into Colorado A, and she was there, with her daughter, to see their granddaughter and daughter put on the Arrow of  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Three generations, taking part in a  $\Pi B \Phi$  initiation.

More than a year ago, Mrs. Gaddis had a paralytic stroke, and since then, has not been able to get about. But she sits in her wheel chair, her mind keen and her interest in  $\Pi B \Phi$  never ceasing. She recalls so vividly their high ideals, their plans, from the beginning, for extension with a national organization their goal, and in the very beginning, the expectation of having America's best, so in that first year, they elected Susan B. Anthony an honorary member and Libbie Brook had the pleasure of writing her of the honor

MARGARET CAMPBELL

I.C. was conferring upon her. In all of Libbie Brook Gaddis' thoughts of  $\Pi B \Phi$  is that vision of bigness and best.

MRS. SOULE is enjoying very good health and keeps herself active by taking care of her apartment in which she lives alone.

Inez Smith was born in Monmouth, Illinois, July 26, 1846. She attended grade school and high school in Monmouth, Illinois, and graduated from Monmouth College in 1868. She was married at her home in Monmouth to M. C. Soule in 1869. Mr. and Mrs. Soule lived in Monmouth until 1901 when they moved to Tacoma, Washington. She is the mother of eight children, seven of whom are still living.

She has attended six national conventions and is a regular attendant at all the alumnae club meetings in Tacoma.

MRS. LIBBEY is now living for a time with her daughter Joan Sawyer in Lake City, Minnesota.

THE DIRECTOR IN HER OFFICE

The Pi Beta Phi Central Office

By BEATRICE STEPHENSON, Illinois Zeta
Director of Pi Beta Phi Central Office

IN VIEW of the fact that not one-hundredth of the Pi Phis in the world will probably ever have the occasion to visit the mid-western city of Bloomington, Illinois, where the Central Office of  $\Pi B \Phi$  is located, the director will take you on a tour of your Central Office describing the equipment used and systems employed in the office.

The director and employees of the Central Office consider it a pleasure and a distinct honor to have members come to visit. The office, though not luxuriously outfitted, is fully furnished with the equipment necessary to answer all of the tasks encountered during the year.

The office is located in the downtown district on the second floor of the Durley Building and occupies three rooms. The main entrance opens into the general office where the desks of our two secretaries, Golda Mathews and Sena Miller are located. Both these girls are non-fraternity members and have been employed by this office since its removal to Bloomington in March, 1932. Their year's service has added to their efficiency in handling the routine and details of filing, making new cards, changing addresses, and running the ARROW mailing list. In one portion of the general office are located the card files. Each member of  $\Pi B \Phi$  initiated after 1908 has four cards made for her if she is unmarried, and five cards if she is married. The cards are filed geographically, alphabetically, and by chapter. The fourth classification is a cross-reference file of married and maiden names. Members initiated before 1908 do not receive the ARROW unless they have subscribed for it, and these members have one less card. In one section of our files we have three special classifications for members who are active, dismissed, or deceased. Opening the drawers of our files one sees small red clips on the mailing list cards, and usually the visitor is intrigued with these and desires to know what the red flag represents. These indicate the members who have moved but have sent no change of address. Members guilty of this are quite numerous and the director is always happy to receive the new address of a member on the "lost" list.

The windows of the office are draped with simple monk's cloth and on the walls are pictures of conventions held at Berkeley, Estes Park, and Breezy Point. If the visitor has attended any of these conventions she is usually interested in endeavoring to find herself clothed in the fashion of that period.

The room adjoining the general office to the left is the director's office. In this room are located the secret cabinet, containing rituals and ceremonies, correspondence files, bookcase of old ARROWS, cabinet of supplies and the director's desk. On the walls of this office are several convention pictures and individual portraits of all members of Grand Council. In this room also hangs a lovely autographed portrait of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Located on the right of the general office is the work room, where cases containing all supplies for chapters, officers, and alumnæ clubs are located. Against the east wall is a long wrapping table which is in constant use. Adjacent to the table is the Graphotype machine used to cut the steel plates for the Addressograph machine. The latter machine is used to run off the mailing list four times a year for subscribers of the ARROW, and for addressing daily correspondence. The best time ever achieved in running the mailing list for the ARROW was six hours and at this particular time the list was well over 18,500. Against the west wall is the file for Graphotype plates. Every living member in good standing has a plate bearing her name. This file is arranged in three sections, the first containing plates of regular subscribers, filed geographically. Active members are distinguished from alumnæ by small blue flags inserted at the top of the plate. The second section contains plates arranged geographically of members who are non-subscribers to the ARROW. The third section contains plates of members who are "lost," and these are arranged alphabetically by chapters. "Lost" members represent quite an expense to the fraternity, for when an ARROW is not delivered it is returned to the Central Office and for each ARROW returned the fraternity must pay the post office department 4½ cents. In February, 1933, there were over three hundred ARROWS returned because of failure to send in correct addresses.

The Central Office functions as a clearing house for the Fraternity. The majority of blanks and reports are sent to the Central Office and are then redistributed to the proper persons. One of the major duties of this office is to mimeograph blanks and manuals for the different officers of the Fraternity. All materials are supplied to the chapters at actual cost of producing them.

One of the services given by the Central Office and of which many of the members may not be aware, is the issuing of addresses of other members upon request and the receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope.

The daily duties of the Central Office finds mail coming and going from all parts of the hemispheres. Many members have drifted into all sections of the earth far from their school-day location and their only contact with the Fraternity and other members is through this office. The handling of this correspondence is one of the many enjoyable duties connected with the task of being Director of the Central Office.

MAE REED PORTER

By CAROLYN BENTON COCKEFAIR, Delta Gamma

MANY Pi Phis in the middle and far west thrilled with pride Thursday afternoon of February 16 when they heard over radio station KMBC the voice of Mrs. Clyde Porter, State Vice-Regent elect of the Missouri Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. During a residence of several years in Kansas City she has acted as President of the  $\Pi B \Phi$  Alumnae Club for two years, vice-president of a Browning Club of some two hundred members, and treasurer of the Kansas City Chapter of American Association of University Women and in Marshall, Mrs. Porter took up her Club affiliations there and became president of the Delphian Literary Society, regent of D.A.R., commissioner in charge of the Girl Scout troops of the city, and chairman for the county of Red Cross Cotton Goods Relief work.

Mae Reed Porter became a member of  $\Pi B \Phi$  while a student at Iowa State College, in 1909, leaving in 1910 for a residence in the West. Her marriage to Clyde Porter,  $A T \Omega$  of Iowa State, followed and since his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Porter of Kansas City, had been graduates of the College, it was with much pride that the Clyde

MAE REED PORTER

Porters recently entered their third generation son Joseph ( $B \Theta \Pi$ ) and their daughter Jean ( $\Pi B \Phi$  pledge) in Iowa's great school. Mrs. Porter has attended Breezy Point and Pasadena Conventions.

DEAN GLIDDEN

1889, into the Delta Chapter of  $\Pi B \Phi$ . Following her graduation from Knox in 1902, she married and raised two splendid boys. After the death of her husband she taught for a number of years in the Kewanee High School before becoming chaperon at one of the sorority houses on the University of Illinois campus. While at Illinois she completed her graduate work, specializing in English and, in 1929, received her Master of Arts degree.

Fond of travel, Mrs. Glidden has made several trips abroad. In the summer of 1930 she attended the Passion Play at Oberammergau in Bavaria and later was one of a party taking the Vergilian Cruise.

Perhaps no better understanding of Mrs. Glidden and what she means to the Knox student may be gained than from a passage found in The Knox Alumnus for July 1932: "Combining with experience, common sense, and a gracious personality, Mrs. Glidden has been very successful during her first year at Knox. In her work she has retained a youthful attitude of mind. The woman student finds in her a friend, while those with whom she works recognize her as an able teacher and just administrator."

A New Political Party for Canada

The Cooperative Commonwealth Federation

By MARGARET THOMAS MACKENZIE, Ontario Alpha

IN ORDER TO show the significance of the new party now being formed in Canada it will be necessary to state briefly something of the history of the two existing parties, the Conservatives and the Liberals. In 1867, the Dominion of Canada came into being as a state under the provisions of the British North America Act. That act gave the constitution and set up the machinery of representative government for the four provinces then called the Dominion of Canada. There is no need here to go into the history of the further developments, suffice to say that, from time to time, new provinces were added as the West was opened up, till at the present time there are nine provinces each with a provincial government, and each sending representatives to the Federal government in Ottawa.

Since 1867 then either the Liberal or the Conservative party have been in power, although in 1921 sixty-five Farmer and Labour members were elected to parliament and became a loose group known as the Progressives. They never came into power however, and from the beginning suffered from internal dissension, and gradually they broke up, some drifting into the Liberal party, some weeded out by the elections of 1925 and 1926, and some remaining in the House as Independents.

The two parties, Liberal and Conservative, have always been essentially capitalistic, and while they differed on such questions as tariffs, and Imperial relations, fundamentally they have been identical in furthering the capitalistic system.

The new party, the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, which technically should not be called a party but a Federation, was launched in Western Canada, at Calgary on August 1, 1932. The nucleus was the remnant of the Progressives who had remained in Parliament, among them Mr. Woodsworth, Miss Agnes MacPhail, Mr. Gardiner, and Mr. Garland, and working with them were the Labour and Farmer organizations of the four western provinces. Since then the United Farmers of Ontario, and various other groups have affiliated.

The executives of the C.C.F. also organized C.C.F. clubs throughout the country realizing that there would be many people in sympathy with their ideas who belonged to neither farmer nor labour organizations. The membership of the clubs consists of white-collar workers, professors, and business men. These clubs have met with enthusiastic response; meetings have been planned and study groups organized.

The C.C.F. is essentially socialistic in its outlook, and its avowed purpose is the establishment in Canada of a cooperative commonwealth in which the basic principle regulating production, distribution and exchange will be the supplying of human needs instead of the making of profits. The tentative program drawn up to accomplish this is:

1. The establishment of a planned system of social economy for the production, distribution, and exchange of all goods and services.
2. Socialization of the banking, credit, and financial system of the country, together with the social ownership, development, operation, and control of public utilities and natural resources.
3. Security of tenure for the farmer in his use-land, and for the worker in his home. (Use-land is land which is used for productive purposes as distinct from that held for speculation.)

4. The retention and extension of all existing social legislation and facilities, with adequate provision for insurance against crop failure, illness, accident, old age and unemployment during the transition to the socialist state.

5. Equal economic and social opportunity without distinction of sex, nationality, or religion.

6. Encouragement of all cooperative enterprises which are steps to the attainment of the Cooperative Commonwealth.

7. Socialization of all health services.

8. The acceptance by the Federal Government of responsibility for dealing with unemployment and for tendering suitable work or adequate maintenance.

The method for putting this socialistic plan into operation will be through normal democratic channels, that is, by election of a majority of representatives to the House of Commons. In order to do this it will be necessary for the C.C.F. to get a great body of informed and enthusiastic people behind it who understand the advantages and implications of the socialist platform. In July of this year a great national convention of the C.C.F. will be held at Regina, Saskatchewan, to which all the Labour and Farmer organizations, and the C.C.F. clubs will send delegates, and at that conference it is predicted that the new left wing socialist party will take form.

THE SCHOOL

The bank of Sevierville, in Sevierville, Tennessee, with which the Settlement School has been doing business for seven or eight years closed its doors on January 20. In this bank we carried an account for the Arrow Craft as well as one for the general running expenses of the school. Arrow Craft has, in round figures, $3600 tied up in the bank and the school $246. No statement has been issued by the banking department as to the probability of this bank's reopening or as to its financial condition. At the present time we are doing business with the Sevier County Bank, which is carrying on business with no restrictions. The bulk of the Settlement School funds, which amounts to $1400 at present, is carried in the First National Bank of Pasadena, which opened for business on March 14, without restrictions.

(Signed) GRACE POST
Treasurer of Pi Beta Phi Settlement School

Grand Council and the Settlement School Committee have very carefully considered the problems of the school and have made a survey of every phase of its work. We did not find it necessary to cut down on the activities during this school year which was so nearly over when the bank closed, but we have outlined curtailments for next. We feel we have the loyalty and interest of the alumnae and the active chapters, and with their support the work in Gatlinburg can continue. There has never been a time when we needed the devotion of Pi Phis any more than we do now, and we believe you will continue to work for the school just as loyally as you have worked during the past twenty years.

LaDelle Allen, manager of Arrow Craft, has received many letters from clubs telling her that they were increasing their efforts to sell Arrow Craft products. With this spirit to encourage them, the workers will succeed in their undertakings, and the progress of the shop will not be impeded. Many families in the community depend for support almost entirely upon their weaving and basketry.

The money which clubs and active chapters give to the school is sent to Grace Post, Treasurer Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, through their respective Province Vice-Presidents. On behalf of the school, the Settlement School Committee asks the fraternity to continue the work built up in the mountains of southeastern Tennessee.

Settlement School Committee

NO, WE'RE NOT!

The State of Tennessee provides elementary school education in rural districts; hence, the grade teachers at the Settlement School are on the county payroll. (This actually means that they are paid in warrants.) The county has also been paying the Settlement School annually about $195 toward the fuel bill for the grade building. Yet even with this monetary assistance, the Pi

Beta Phi Settlement School staff has been and is expending a tremendous amount of energy on the elementary school.

We are not giving up our philanthropic work in Tennessee. However, it has long been the opinion of Miss Evelyn Bishop, the director, that since the county is really required to provide elementary schooling for its children, the fraternity should more and more turn its attention to the high school and vocational work that cannot be provided in any other way.

Believing Miss Bishop was right and feeling that the community should have ample notice of the contemplated change, the Settlement School Committee at the 1932 meeting voted to inform the school district that Pi Beta Phi hoped soon to turn over the elementary work to the community and to devote itself entirely to advanced training.

THE HEALTH CENTER OF ZETA TAU ALPHA

By SHIRLEY KREASAN KRIEG, Editor of "Themis"

Long before the recent presidential election coined the term "the forgotten man," Z T A began its work in the "forgotten mountains" of Virginia, home state of the fraternity, as a memorial to its founders. Health Center, a picturesque log cabin in Currin Valley, Smyth County, serves as headquarters for a registered nurse who travels in a car bearing the initials ZTA. The next units planned are a school of crafts and a hospital room.

Zeta's nurse officiates at "bornins"; makes day or night calls anywhere along the mountain trails; holds tonsil, dental, anti-typhoid, tubercular, and pre-school clinics; toothbrush drills; inspects school children; holds classes in home hygiene, sewing, and cooking. She also conducts sales of old clothing which, in order not to pauperize the people, is offered at ridiculously small sums. Zetas from all over the country donate old and new clothing, and people walk many miles to attend Health Center sales, parties, and clinics. In the summer recreational workers are added to the staff. The children down this way have not even known how to play.

Since 1929 there have been 2147 calls made; since 1930 more than 2148 children have been inspected, and there have been 3739 requests for clothing. In one school of 118 pupils the Zeta nurse found nine normal children—generations of intermarrying, deprivation, and hardships have taken their toll. Christmas donations from Zetas are always heavy, and since 1929 more than 1100 individuals have been remembered with useful gifts and necessities.

Nowhere in the United States is there a people more interesting than these original Americans whose ancestors just "dropped off" into the secluded mountain hollows there to be engulfed, receding farther and farther within themselves and farther from the great outside world. Their story is picturesque, but pitiful. Zeta's work will take time, courage, and patience.

MY EVENING SCHOOL WORK

By JESSIE BRANHAM

Miss Jessie Branham, who has been teaching home economics at Gatlinburg this year, is a recent graduate of the University of Tennessee and is a member of Δ Δ Δ.

I organized in October four classes for evening school work. Older girls of the grammar grades and others no longer in school come to the classes which, strangely enough, do not meet in the evening but in the afternoon.

Miss Evelyn was interested in carrying this work into some communities where there had been no such classes before. I organized one group in the Glades, which is about five miles from Gatlinburg. The eleven girls who formed it seemed intensely interested in the work and have, I think, proved to be my best class. The attendance has been good and the cooperation excellent.

The school where we meet is a little one-room building with a big stove in the middle of the floor and an assortment of long battered desks. The one teacher has all the children, from the beginners to the eighth graders. On Monday afternoons when I take my class to one side of the room, he continues with his work on the other. I started here with a sewing unit. The girls first made aprons and blouses from flour and sugar sacks. We made an excellent cutting table by turning two desks back to back. The girls were very eager to have a cooking class. At first this seemed utterly impossible, for there was no equipment. I could not even take with me the things I would need, because the roads were impassable so much of the time that I had to make the trips on horseback. When a woman who weaves for the Arrow Craft shop and lives near the school consented to let us use her kitchen, we were delighted. My problems were not solved though, for this kitchen offered little equipment. The makeshifts I had to use were quite funny; for example, we made a dandy double boiler by fitting a small lard bucket into the top of the teakettle. The girls bring the materials from home for cooking, and I have yet to have a girl forget the things asked of her. This proves convincingly that they are interested in the work.

I have had three similar classes in other schools, two of them in one-room buildings; each has offered interesting problems. Three weeks ago I started my fifth class, one in clothing construction with the women here in Gatlinburg. This one will continue until the close of the high school on April 21.

ARROW CRAFTERS

Because of LaDelle Allen's illness and absence from Gatlinburg the usual page devoted to the Arrow Crafters has had to be omitted from the May issue of the ARROW. However, the production of attractive and inexpensive articles is being expanded.

FOR THE JUNE BRIDE

By HELEN DOLL TOTTLE, Maryland A

"Yes," said Aunt Elizabeth, in answer to a neighbor's question as they met at the village drugstore, "the wedding and the honeymoon are over and Anne's gone to housekeeping in Haverford."

"Plenty of wedding presents too, I guess, to help furnish her home?"

"Well, hardly," was Miss Elizabeth's retort. "Silver and glassware are what 'most everybody gives the bride nowadays, and they're something you can get too much of. Why, Anne took with her all the glass and silver she could ever use and still there were two barrels of such presents left behind in her father's cellar."

This conversation set me thinking why not buy the new homemaker something individual and artistic, a present not likely to be duplicated?

The Arrow Craft Shop at Gatlinburg is full of suggestions for gifts of this kind, and whether you wish to spend two, five, or twenty dollars, there are exquisite things for every room in the house. Such articles carefully selected with reference to the bride's taste in color and design will be a delight for years to come. By no stretch of the imagination could you picture them stowed away in a musty cellar.

WEAVING MEETING DAY IN GATLINBURG

By WINOGENE B. REDDING, Teacher of Weaving

Weaving Meeting days are big days in Gatlinburg. They come once a month, on the second Wednesday. Early in the morning the faithful five-and-six-mile-away weavers begin to arrive, taking advantage of meeting day to bring in their weaving and get a new supply of material. While these meetings are intended primarily for the forty-six women who weave at home for the Arrow Craft Shop of the Pi Beta Phi School, they are open to all; and many are glad of the opportunity to come. By one o'clock in the afternoon the weaving room is full, and our meetings begin. We sing from the Old Harp sometimes; other days we try ballads, but more often old friends living miles apart would rather just sit and visit for a little while.

Our weaving meetings have years of history behind them, for their growth has been gradual. Eight years ago the weavers were invited to the Teachers Cottage for a tea. A few brave ones attended and enjoyed it so much that they asked to have another the next year. We had a coffee the following spring which was much more successful as far as refreshments were concerned. The third year we tried a few informal meetings, giving general talks on weaving. From then on the meetings became more regular; the women began to look forward to them as they grew more accustomed to gathering at the school. By that time we had acquired a new high school building and in it a lovely large weaving room and office which the women consider their own private domain. The bashful ones began to come, irregularly to be sure; but it was an encouraging beginning. For the last three years the meetings have been well attended and have become one of the social events in the Burg.

Last fall the group organized under the name of the Gatlinburg Weavers' Guild. Programs for the entire year were worked out and mimeographed copies distributed. Until this year we have not departed from the realm of weaving for our talks, and so we decided to make the meetings more general in character and selected a variety of subjects. The plan has met with the hearty approval of the women. Four meetings during the year have been on weaving, with one of them devoted to the use of color in weaving. In November we had one of the staff from the Division of Extension of the University of Tennessee give a talk on storage and closet space in the home, a timely subject in this town where you see a new house almost every time you look out of the window.

We broke all precedents in January by inviting the men folks. Gatlinburg is to have a curb market next summer, and we used our wide-awake and representative weaving group to sponsor the project and push it through. Miss Williams, the curb market specialist from the university, who is helping to organize the market, came up to this meeting and presented the plans. The school class in agriculture had worked out a vegetable garden plan for this locality which we mimeographed and gave out by the dozens hoping in this way to encourage systematic planting.

The February meeting was our finest yet. We had our first exhibit of weaving to show our women whose knowledge of weaving had been confined to the work done in our own section. We had weaving from Sweden, a handwoven smock from Russia, pieces from Mexico, a Navajo rug, an old Jacquard coverlet, weaving from sister schools in the mountains, but best of all, Miss Clementine Douglass of the Spinning Wheel, who told us about her interesting journeys among weavers in Egypt, Greece, and Italy. She brought weaving from all those countries, too, tricky little looms, and even a three thousand year old piece of handwoven mummy cloth. How eyes popped out and ears wagged to catch every word! A terrific blizzard didn't keep the women home that day, not even the farthest ones. That was a never-to-be-forgotten weaving meeting, and every woman carried away a new inspiration and pride in her work.

In March our agriculture teacher gave a talk on gardening to follow our garden plans that were given out in January. Now we are looking forward to two meetings on weaving, with the women selecting the subjects. In April the eighth-grade girls will exhibit the weaving they have done in class and have a style show of their handwoven dress. June will be our finale with a picnic lunch and Miss Margaret Ambrose, division supervisor of home demonstration agents, to give an inspirational talk to the women, as she did last year.

Oh, yes, the women take turns serving refreshments too. Sometimes they play games when days are long and the women can stay until three o'clock and still get home before dark.

Are our meetings worthwhile and do they fill a need in our community? We think so. The Weavers Guild and the P.T.A. are the only organized groups in our village, which is growing by leaps and bounds. Civic improvement will be a big issue locally in the next few years, and here are two groups of women beginning to realize they can do things. They are ready to undertake local problems beyond their weaving and school and have discovered that there is power in organization. Who knows where our weaving meetings will end? It is only through the interest and cooperation of the women that our meetings have been made so successful. Our outlook is bright, our faith in the future is unlimited, and our courage undaunted.

OUR FOUNDERS

Fanny Whitenack Libbey was born in Berwick, Illinois, in 1848.

When she was sixteen, her parents moved to Monmouth so that she could attend college and still be at home. While in college she was well known because of being one of the twelve girls who first wore the Golden Arrow of  $\Pi B \Phi$ .

She was married in 1872 to Mr. Howard Libbey; she says "one of the best men ever." Their first home, for two years, was in Kansas, then in Red Wing, Minnesota, until Mr. Libbey's death in 1908. Since then, she and her youngest daughter have made their home in either Yakima or Seattle, Washington. This daughter has recently passed on and Mrs. Libbey has moved to Lake City, Minnesota.

She is and has ever been keenly interested in the church and in the comfort and welfare of her family and in the happiness of others. She dearly loves  $\Pi B \Phi$  and appreciates all it has done for her.

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by ANNA HOLM DE MONSEIGLE (MRS. EDMOND F.)

An article entitled "Notable Iowans," appearing in the Des Moines Register pays tribute to Dr. Grace Raymond Hebard, Iowa Z: "Probably no graduate of the state university of the early 80's has won wider recognition in the West than Grace Raymond Hebard who graduated with the class of '82."

GRACE RAYMOND HEBARD AND CHIEF DICK WASHAKIE

The occasion of this article is the publication by Dr. Hebard of her most recent work Sacajawea. One of the most romantic and heroic stories of westward expansion is the life of Sacajawea, the little Indian woman who guided the Lewis and Clark expedition, in 1804-1806, across the uncharted wilderness from the Missouri River to the Pacific Ocean.

Born a Shoshone princess, Sacajawea was captured in girlhood by the Minnetarees, who sold her to Charbonneau, the French-Canadian trapper. Her unhappy life in the Mandan villages ended when she undertook the long journey as guide and interpreter for Lewis and Clark. The education of Baptiste, the "expedition papoose," by Clark and Prince Paul of Würtemberg; her flight from Charbonneau; the lost years among the Comanches; her final return to the Shoshones; her friendship for the frontiersmen; and her great influence with the Indian tribes for peace with the United States government during the trying years of early exploration and settlement, are but some of the highlights in the career of this dauntless little interpreter.

An infinite amount of original research has gone into the preparation of this volume. A large amount of the data has been gathered from hitherto unknown and unpublished sources, from the records of many western explorers and pioneers, from direct testimony of Comanche and Shoshone Indians, etc. This material the author collected over a period of thirty years. It has been entirely a labor of love for the famous little Indian heroine who seems to have endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact.

We feel extremely fortunate in being able to publish herewith a rare photograph of Dr. Hebard, taken a year after she graduated from the university.

In graciously lending us this, she calls attention to the I.C. pin she is wearing. At the installation of Wyoming A, when Dr. Kellar had finished her address, Dr. Hebard stepped forward and fastened on her dress this pin—a tangible expression of gratitude from all those who had on that occasion been so cordially received into the circle of  $\Pi B \Phi$ . She humorously adds that it wouldn't be out of place to call this picture "the original bob."

The life of Dr. Hebard has been rich and varied, as her numerous accomplishments listed in Who's Who in America bear witness. She received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Iowa State College, and her Ph.D. from Illinois Wesleyan in 1893.

Almost immediately on leaving the university, she was engaged as "draftsman" in the United States surveyor general's office and United States Land office in Cheyenne, Wyoming, and served in that capacity until 1891. In that year she was chosen librarian of the State University at Laramie, serving there until 1919 when she was appointed to the chair of political economy in the university, the position she now holds. During these years she was admitted to the bar of Wyoming. This hints at the wide range of her studies.

At various times she has been: regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution; state historian of the Colonial Dames; president of the Wyoming State Library Association; member of a committee to mark the Overland Trail through Wyoming; member of the child health commission; and member of the public health commission. With all this, she found time to work for woman suffrage, and was one of those mainly instrumental in having that question submitted in Wyoming.

Her club affiliations are numerous: The American Association for the Advancement of Science; American Association of University Professors; Wyoming Bar Association; member of advisory board of Wyoming Historical Society; Director, Wyoming Public Health Association; National Association of Business and Professional Women, the college Quill Club, the national  $\Pi K \Phi$ ; national member of the social science fraternity,  $\Phi \Gamma M$ ; Daughter of the Wars of 1812; and the Association of Magna Carta Dames.

GRACE RAYMOND, 1883

Among her published works are: History and Government of Wyoming, Pathbreakers from River to Ocean, Sacajawea, Pilot for Lewis and Clark, First Woman Jury, Bozeman Trail, and Chief Washakie.

The accompanying illustration shows chief Dick Washakie and Dr. Hebard on the Shoshone reservation in Wyoming. This Indian chief and Sacajawea are distantly connected through a maternal ancestor.

The Morning Oregonian, Portland, Oregon, calls attention to the prodigious amount of research; the tracing of every available clue to the history of this most famous Indian woman since Pocahontas. Montana, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington have paid tribute to Sacajawea, by erecting statues and placing tablets in her memory, but Wyoming discovered her in her old age, for it is there she lies buried on the Wind River reservation.

Grace Raymond Hebard has done a great work in her Wyoming home. She has made contributions to United States history that will grow in importance as the years pass.

We next present a trio of Pi Phi writers who are continuing to write successful works of fiction and who need no introduction to Pi Phi readers.

Of her own book Sara Thornton, Margaret Weymouth Jackson, Michigan A, says: "Every country has its fine element. In America, this element lies in its middle or professional class, where there is neither great wealth, nor acute poverty, where the standard requires education, gentle manners, kindness, simplicity, and loyalty.

"The families of this class, harboring these standards, are, it seems to me, too frequently ignored in the American scene. Yet they alone retain from generation to generation those ideals of self-reliance, of group loyalty, of pride and honor and seamliness, of culture and integrity and self-respect, of mental activity, and spiritual exactness that never perish."

The scene of the story is laid in Chicago where Mrs. Jackson lived for some twenty years. It is particularly appropriate that she should have chosen for its publication the year of the Century of Progress exhibition. From the words of the dedication too, one is led to believe that the book has biographical value, "To my father, George Weymouth, whose influence and ideas can be found in these pages."

Sara Thornton, member of the large and busy family of an overworked physician, has her moments of rebellion. But in time she becomes the matriarch of this interesting Thornton family. Here is a home about which other homes are built, from which other homes stem, to which and from which the family tide constantly swells and recedes. This is an English theme, here very well done in an American novel.

Another novel of middle class family life is That Hastings Girl by Ethel Powelson Hueston, Iowa A. Again the Black Hills of South Dakota form the background, and the Lazy H. ranch provides the picturesque atmosphere for a romantic story. Cicely returns from her fashionable Eastern college, to find everything laid low by the depression, and her father a helpless invalid. Her twin step-sisters, aged sixteen, have gotten pretty well out of hand, and call for strict management. Although there are moments of tragedy and pathos, the story of how the girls, by taking paying guests, get the ranch back on a basis of financial stability, is a happy hilarious tale.

The latest novel by Mary Badger Wilson, New York B and District of Columbia A, From Nine to Five also portrays middle-class life. The heroine is a small town girl of good background, who, when thrown upon her own resources by the death of her grandmother who had reared her, spurns the easy comfort of a conventional marriage, and leaves her native village of Dentwood to make her way in the big city. But among these crowded millions she came to know the greatest loneliness of her life. On such evenings, she "would put out her reading lamp and lean from her window in the darkness to look at the jeweled beauty of the lighted towers which rose about her in the breathless summer night. In the magic of this skyline she found renewal of the purpose which had brought her so far from home. New York, by day, appalled her, and stunned her spirit; but at night she could love it, for its power flashed into beauty—perhaps the most amazing beauty man has yet created."

The New York Herald Tribune Books says: "From Nine to Five offers you a romance in which freshness is not adulterated with synthetic sophistication. It answers the cynic's complaint that "There is no adventure in middle-class life."

Another delightful story from the pen of Lois Donaldson, Florida A has reached our desk. Runzel Purzel, like In the Mouse's House, of which we have spoken before is from the German and has charming colorful illustrations from the brush of Mathilde Ritter. Both of these books have been chosen by the editors of the Junior Literary Guild, The Boys' and Girls' Own Book Club as the selection for April, 1933, sent to boys and girls, six, seven, and eight years of age.

We have just received word that the book of memoirs, My Confederate Girlhood, by Lily Logan Morrill, Louisiana A, has been entered in the checked book list of the American Mercury. This unsolicited compliment is greatly appreciated.

This department feels that National Poetry week, which coincides with the date of publication of the May ARROW, could not be more fittingly celebrated than by mention of the work of a Pi Phi poet, Ethel Van Cise, Illinois B and Colorado B.

Pressed for information about herself, she modestly writes: "I am just one of those persons who have jumped aboard a hobby and have ridden far away. I rode mine to the music of rhythmic words.

"As a little girl in Black Hills of North Dakota, our back yard was a virgin forest hillside. There on sun-warmed rocks, under the pine trees, I used to scribble."

While at Lombard College, Miss Van Cise was assistant editor of the college paper.

She loves and generally writes the brief singing lyrics of which the late loved Sara Teasdale (one of her favorites) said: "they should have the quiet swiftness of flame."

No published volume of Miss Van Cise's work has yet made its appearance, but she has contributed to John Martin's Book, the old Leslie's and The Lyric West, as well as various newspapers. She also has to her credit a number of greeting card verses, and trade journal articles, and now is working on a series of semi-historical articles based on old diaries, letters, etc.

ETHEL VAN CISE

Miss Van Cise is an active member of the Denver Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi, and also of the Denver Woman's Press Club, a thoroughly professional organization with high standards of literary work.

In 1916 she was housemother for what she calls "the dear and then baby chapter, Oregon A." The same year she organized the San Diego Alumnae Club which died during the war, making it necessary for her to do all the work over again in 1925. She attended the New Orleans convention in 1907-1908 and also what she describes as "the Lovely Pasadena one" in 1929.

There is no stilted affectation, no striving after effect in the poetry of Miss Van Cise. Much of the charm of these poems is their simple directness—they are indeed songs which "gush from the heart."

I—Treasure

*Like sentinels they are to me
Guarding a precious memory,
Of little feet that skipped and hopped;
Of little voice that never stopped;
Of little heart that beat so high
With each new joy the day brought nigh;
Of little hands that clung to me—
Ah! all are gone—but memory
Tells me that I shall never lose
The thrill that comes from little shoes.*

II—When Shadows Lift

*There was a time I used to sing
With lovely wingéd things like words;
And then a cloud came black as night
And put my wingéd things to flight
Just like a flock of birds.*

*But as the starshine follows dark,
And clearest sunshine follows rain;
And birds come back as well as go*

So shadows lift,—and thus I know That I shall sing again!

III—May

*Why talk of depression and failure and gloom
When the gardens are gloriously blushing with bloom?
When the miracle dawns creep timidly up
And suddenly pour from May's crystal cup
The breath-taking beauty of rose, amethyst,
On a shimmering world all fragrant,
dew-kissed;
When they loose from a thousand wee feathered throats
Such rapturous matins, such lilting love notes?*

*With lilac and apple and bird-songs
all day
Why talk of November when one may "live" May?*

INSTALLATION OF NORTH CAROLINA BETA

rado B) who confirmed their decision. From that time on she worked zealously with the group to help them reach this goal. The group feels that they owe her a great debt of gratitude.

Soon after, they were fortunate enough to meet Miss Amy B. Onken who happened to be visiting North Carolina A. In the fall of 1931 Miss Onken made an official visit to Mu Lambda. Following her advice, an Advisory Council was formed later in the year, composed of four  $\Pi B \Phi$  alumnae living in Durham. That spring Mu Lambda received a visit from three Virginia A girls. During this last year, the group entertained Gamma Province President, Mary Hornaday, and a representative from each of the two nearest chapters, namely, North Carolina A and Virginia A, at a tea and a banquet.

In January the chapter sent out its petition and in the beginning of February, to their untold surprise and joy, they received the telegram from Miss Onken saying that their charter had been granted. From then on they worked to prepare for the installation on the sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth of February.

Mu Lambda has always striven to become strong in every way, to fulfill high ideals of true womanhood and achievement. Now, with the inspiration of  $\Pi B \Phi$  they shall try to reach the goal of true perfection which all members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  have as their ultimate aim.

Mrs. Miller, who was a sister of Lillian Freund, former Cataloguer of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , was initiated into Illinois E in 1907 and remained throughout her life a loyal and active alumna. Because of her unbounded enthusiasm and outstanding work for the alumnae department as vice-president of Epsilon (now Eta) Province, Mrs. Miller was appointed assistant to the Grand Vice-President, in which office she continued the splendid service which characterized all her Fraternity life. With a deep sense of its own sorrow and loss  $\Pi B \Phi$  extends to her husband and family its heartfelt sympathy.

ANOTHER AID TO SETTLEMENT SCHOOL

Several years ago, the prize winning batik for that year on the Florida Gamma campus was an original conception of the Pi Beta Phi ship of love sailing on the calm sea of fraternity friendship and loyalty. This was quite popular with that chapter at the time of making. It is a silk batik of fifteen inches wide and twenty-two inches long, ready for hanging. All of the colorings are tones of wines and blues. The pennant with Pi Beta Phi in Greek letters waves from the top mast. On the fore sail is the beloved crest in detail. The sea is that silver blue with the wines of the ship reflected. The sky background is a lighter blue. The batik is finished with a border of the deepest wine of the ship's bow. The entire batik is beautifully and symbolically worked out.

This hanging is of the type appropriate for the chapter room or house or for the individual room. It is an ideal gift from the sponsor or for graduation or initiation or even such events as birthdays or Christmas. It is surely all Pi Phi from the Fraternity's colorings to the Greek letters and crest.

These are sold by Mrs. James G. Armstrong, 511 29th St., Apt. 107, Des Moines, Iowa, for three dollars with seventy-five cents of each order going to the Settlement School. The batik will be delivered to the purchaser post paid. The chapters are offered the commission for their own donation to the school. Any order coming from a chapter will be listed for that chapter and the seventy-five cents will be sent to the school in that chapter's name.

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

As to the Value of Fraternities

College women are found in all walks of life. Many of them are prominent in literature, law, medicine, education, and as housekeepers—the noblest of all. Much of this success is due to training obtained in the college fraternity. There they learned self-control, poise, ability to express themselves, and the way to cooperate with others. The fraternity was a potent influence in their lives.

By M. L. FISHER
Dean of Men, Purdue University
Kappa Alpha Theta

I think the finest compliment I ever heard given a women's Greek letter chapter was a reply to my question, "And why do you consider that particular chapter best on your campus?" The administrator questioned said, "Because they have the power to take a rather plain, unassuming girl and develop her into an all around woman, a real leader on the campus."

As to the Growth of Fraternities

Just twenty-seven charters were granted by all twenty-one N.P.C. sororities during the last year (March, 1932-March, 1933), a decrease of fourteen over the number chartered during the preceding year. If you care to trace the effect of the depression or what-have-you, note that in 1931 the census revealed that forty-six charters had been granted, an increase of two over 1930; in 1932, forty-one charters were granted—the first year in which a decrease in chartering showed, but a decrease of only five. Since there was a decrease of fourteen this last year, we wonder what the census of 1934 will bring forth!

The total number of chapters in all groups is now 1133. One of the charters granted has not been installed so is not counted as a chapter. Of the 1111 groups in 1932, four have become inactive, an increase of two over the number of charters revoked last year.

Seven sororities granted no charters during the year:  $X \Omega$ ,  $\Pi B \Phi$ ,  $Z T A$ ,  $\Delta Z$ ,  $A \Gamma \Delta$ ,  $A \Phi$ , and  $B \Phi A$ .

Four granted one each:  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ ,  $\Phi M A$ ,  $A X \Omega$ , and  $A O \Pi$ .

Seven groups granted two each:  $K \Delta$ ,  $K K \Gamma$ ,  $K A \Theta$ ,  $A \Xi \Delta$ ,  $\Delta \Gamma$ ,  $\Gamma \Phi B$ ,  $A \Delta \Theta$ .

Three groups,  $A \Delta \Pi$ ,  $\Sigma K$ , and  $\Theta T$ , granted three charters each.

GROWTH OF THE GREEKS

$\Sigma A E$  has finally caught up with  $K \Sigma$  for both now boast 108 chapters; next comes  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$  with 103;  $\Sigma N$  is fourth with 98;  $A T \Omega$  has 94, and  $\Sigma X$  has 93.

The Scroll of  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$

GREEKS GROW

"For the first time since 1914," says The Kappa Alpha Theta, "there has been an absorption of one fraternity by another. Some fraternity officers had predicted, and endorsed, this plan as a solution of problems the depression has brought to campuses with many fraternities. Whether such conditions had any connection with recent mergers we do not know.

" $B \Sigma O$  announces a merger with  $\Pi \Sigma \Gamma$ , which had four chapters. This gives  $B \Sigma O$  two new chapters, at the University of Washington and at Hunter College; and merges the chapters of the two groups at the University of California."

The Alpha Phi Quarterly

As to Famous Fraternity Members

Benjamin Harrison, a graduate of Miami University in 1852 and twenty-third president of the United States, was the thirteenth man after the six founders to be initiated into Alpha Chapter of  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ . While president of Ohio Alpha chapter he was instrumental in securing the first expulsion of a man from membership in his fraternity. He was secretary of the first convention in Cincinnati, December 30, 1851, and a charter member of the Indianapolis Alumni Club. Several autograph books in chapters that he visited include his signature. He was the first member of a college secret society to become president, according to Palmer's History.

William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury and recently elected senator from California, is a Past Worthy Grand Master of  $K \Sigma$ . His picture, with that of his wife, daughter of the late Woodrow Wilson, recently appeared in the Caducous of  $K \Sigma$ .

Katherine Willis Coleman,  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ , has been re-elected national president of Mortar Board for 1932-34.

The Pentagon of  $\Phi \Omega \Pi$

Julia Ward Howe, author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," was made an honorary member of Phi chapter of  $K K \Gamma$ , November 18, 1884. She was one of twenty-eight honorary members initiated by various chapters between 1874 and 1885.

The Alpha Xi Delta

$A \Phi$  is the latest fraternity with White House connections, in that the daughter of the incoming President is a member of the Cornell chapter. They call attention to the fact that Mrs. Wilson has two  $\Gamma \Phi B$  daughters, that Mrs. Coolidge was a  $\Pi B \Phi$ , that Mrs. Hoover and before her Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes were Kappas. The past tense refers to their life in the White House.

As to Pledges

Qualifications for the Ideal Fraternity Big Sister:

- (1) that she be capable of advising.
- (2) that she be sincere in her advice.
- (3) that she make grades that can be admired and envied by her pledge daughter.
- (4) that she live an honest, upright life in the fraternity house, never deceiving herself or others.
- (5) that her ideals measure up to the standards symbolic of  $A \Xi \Delta$ .
- (6) that she be prompt and reliable at all times.
- (7) that she be personally worthy of the admiration her pledge daughter holds for her.
- (8) that she be an asset, not only to the fraternity, but to the college as a whole.
- (9) that she select friends and associates who will raise her thoughts to higher levels.
- (10) that she be the closest and truest friend a pledge ever had.

The Alpha Xi Delta

Deferred pledging has been the subject of reports and numerous discussions at previous sessions of the National Interfraternity Conference, but this year action was taken in the form of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the National Interfraternity Conference recommend only such a system of pledging as will permit social relations, under proper assurances, between freshmen and the rest of the student body, and be it further

Resolved, That the National Interfraternity Conference recommend only such systems of pledging as permit pledging of freshmen on or before the middle of the first semester.

The Aglaia of Φ M

LONGEST PLEDGESHIP

Sigma Alpha Epsilon's Record relates a story concerning what is probably the longest pledge period ever served by a fraternity member. Oliver G. Kelly was pledged to the Mississippi Theta chapter of Σ A E in 1892 when it existed as a sub-rosa chapter. Before his initiation could take place, university authorities discovered the fraternity's existence and took measures which abolished it. Fraternities are once more allowed at Mississippi State College, Σ A E revived its chapter. Pledge Kelly ended his thirty-nine years as a neophyte when he was initiated last October and became a charter member of the refounded group.

Sigma Kappa Triangle

As to Conventions

Cancellation or postponement of conventions has been a vital topic of discussion in the high councils of nearly all of the fraternities scheduled to hold them this coming summer. According to reports in the Greek magazines, fourteen groups have already voted to postpone their conventions, while others are taking chapter votes on the proposition. The list of organizations which have definitely announced that they will not convene this year includes Π Β Φ, Π Κ Α, Τ Κ Ε, Α Τ Ω (whose bank closed, tying up fraternity funds), Ζ Τ Α, Δ Ζ, Φ Σ Κ, Φ Κ Τ, Φ Κ Σ, Α Γ Ρ, Σ Φ Σ, Θ Χ, and Φ Κ.

Lack of funds is not the motive that has prompted the decision to postpone the conventions—at least not in all cases. While many of the groups have the wherewithal in the treasury to hold the gathering, it is felt that only delegates and officers would attend. Spending of sums of money running into many thousands of dollars is deemed unwise in comparison to the inspiration that would result for chapters. The good of a convention comes not from the fun that is enjoyed at the meetings, but from the business transacted and the inspiration taken back by the delegates and large numbers of visitors. Most of the business can wait a year or two, or be handled by the grand councils, and if another season will bring better times and more to enjoy the meetings, why not postpone them?—is the thought expressed by a number of the organizations which have cancelled their convention plans for this summer.

As to Something New

Fraternities, much bandied about and maligned by a journalism more interested in the sensational than the real, are in for a new deal, in so far as the St. Louis Post-Dispatch is concerned, at least.

On December 4 the Post-Dispatch initiated the first fraternity column (each Sunday) under the editorship of Louise Grant Smith, the world's first fraternity columnist, in so far as we can discover.

That Mrs. Smith, a member of Α Φ, and former National President and Editor of the Kappa Beta Pi Quarterly, views fraternity publicity as does J. Harold Johnston's Interfraternity Conference Committee on Public Information, a new venture of the Conference, is evidenced by the letter in which she acknowledged receipt of her first copy of the Journal.

"So many fraternities have suffered from the type of publicity which stressed only such things as mock initiations and basement bars that it is high time that some of their worthwhile achievements were put before the public. Although I thought I knew the fraternity world very well, yet I confess that I was surprised upon undertaking the work to learn of the many philanthropic programs being carried out by national fraternities, among other things."

That a great paper has availed itself of the services of one holding such views is encouraging. Our congratulations to the Editor of the Post-Dispatch, to Columnist Smith, and to fraternities. After all, it's high time they got a break.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Journal

As to Advice: Promise Yourself

- To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace.
- To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
- To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
- To look on the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
- To think only of the best, to work only for the best and to expect only the best.
- To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
- To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
- To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and to have a smile ready for every living creature you meet.
- To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
- To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.
- To think well of yourself and to proclaim this fact to the world—not in words, but in great deeds.
- To live in the faith that the world is on your side so long as you are true to the best that is in you.—Selected.

ALUMNAE CLUB NEWS

Edited by RUTH GILLAN GOBBLE (Mrs. H. C.)

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

There were about thirty-five present at the March meeting of the club, held at the home of Mrs. Harris LeRoy in Winchester, with members of one of the club groups acting as hostesses. After a short business meeting, we had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. T. Jefferson Glover (Marion Vaughn) speak on "The Task of Growing Up."

It is expected that the Founders' Day gathering will be an informal box luncheon affair, instead of the usual formal luncheon. The money thus saved will be sent as part of the Club's contribution to the Settlement School. The annual business meeting will be held at that time.

ABIGAIL P. MacKINNON

BUFFALO CLUB

On February 21 Buffalo Alumnae Club had the pleasure of having Miss E. Louise Richardson, Alpha Province Vice-President, as its guest for the day. Miss Richardson brought inspiration and renewed interest to our work as a Pi Beta Phi alumnae club.

The 400 members of Panhellenic in Buffalo were invited by Pi Beta Phi to a tea on March 24 in the home of Mrs. Wilbur L. Kirby. Presidents of eleven different fraternities assisted at the urns. Although there is no regular Panhellenic organization in the city, this yearly tea is rapidly becoming a tradition.

The regular March meeting proved to be a "bread-line" luncheon with old fashioned or hard time costumes in vogue. Founders' Day will be celebrated by a cooky-shine on the evening of April 28. Installation of next years' officers will also take place at this meeting.

ADELAIDE M. ROBERTSON

BURLINGTON CLUB

The Burlington Club was recently entertained by Vermont B at a tea given in honor of Mrs. Marie Winsor Stebbins. Mrs. Stebbins was visiting the chapter in an official capacity.

Recently we have been much exercised over the possibility of chapter house properties becoming taxable. A straw vote in the city of Burlington showed sentiment in favor of such taxation to be 12 to 1. In preparation for such a contingency we planned two ways of raising more money: to hold an auction in May, and to start a treasure chest of old gold jewelry or old silver, which will be exchanged at a jewelers' for cash. Although the legislature would not pass this bill during this legislature, we mean to go on with these plans.

At present we are looking forward with the active chapter to entertaining Vermont A on Founders' Day.

LOIS B. HORSFORD

THE NEW HAVEN CLUB

By the receiving of its charter, in February, the New Haven group of the former Connecticut Club became the New Haven Club. It was decided that Little Pigion's financial needs were most urgent, so, for the few remaining months of the Club year, the members are concentrating on the sale of Settlement School products, and are making individual contributions.

Plans are being made for the Founders' Day luncheon, on April 29, at the Faculty Club, New Haven, when the Hartford and New Haven alumnae will join, as formerly, in observance of the day.

MARY E. MEYER

NEW YORK CLUB

At the February meeting Mr. Jonel Jorgulesco talked on "How the Modern Scenic Designer Works." The Pi Phis were taken behind the scenes in imagination and shown the hectic preparation that must precede the opening of a play. Mr. Jorgulesco illustrated his talk with sketches of some of his stage designs.

At the April meeting, in addition to the election of officers, a book discussion was held. Mrs. Florence Cass gave an Alice in Wonderland monologue, Miss Alta Kimmel reviewed "British Agent" by Bruce Lockhart, and Mrs. Godfrey Speir talked on Hendrik Van Loon's "Geography." To conclude the meeting each Pi Phi present named one book that she had enjoyed during the year.

The last general gathering of the year is the Founders' Day luncheon to be held Saturday, April 29, at Louis Sherry's, Park Avenue, New York City.

EVELYN A. IERIG

ROCHESTER ALUMNAE CLUB

At the January meeting of the Rochester Alumnae Club, held at the home of Mrs. Maynard Cassaday, the Constitution was the subject of study and discussion. The Syracuse and Ithaca actives and alumnae were invited to participate in a joint celebration of Founders' Day on April 29.

A special meeting and cooky-shine were held at the home of Mrs. Alonzo Grace, February 23 in honor of Miss Louise Richardson, Alpha Province Vice-President, whose informal talk was most interesting and inspiring. Miss Richardson remarked about our club being so cosmopolitan; our roster containing the names of alumnae of 24 different chapters from 17 states.

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lynn Rumbold. Ways and means of raising money for the Settlement School were discussed, and plans were made to continue the series of benefit card parties, as this has proved to be the most satisfactory method of raising money.

Miss Florence Ford, Rochester Club President, will arrive home in time to be hostess of the May meeting, and will give a talk on her trip around the world and visit with Mrs. H. J. Post (Louise Coldwell) in Bangkok, Siam.

ZOU CHASE WUESTLING

SYRACUSE CLUB

Since our last letter, we have had a card party at the chapter house, which was a splendid success. The affair was held both afternoon and evening, with 55 tables in all. Door prizes were donated by many Syracuse merchants, and several, including a beautifully decorated cake and a large basket of spring flowers, were raffled off, which helped to swell the receipts, a total of $116.

Our evening dinner meetings have been unusually enjoyable, this winter, because of our new policy of having someone of interest and importance for our honor guest and speaker, each time. Mrs. Finla Crawford, the preferential chairman, explained the working of the preferential system at one of these meetings; and both Dean Leonard and Dean Partridge were present at another, and told us in an informal entertaining way, what Syracuse University is doing in the new personnel work among graduate and senior women.

One of the red-letter meetings of the year occurred on February 24, when we had a visit with Miss Richardson. We showed her all the sights, "tea-ed" her, and then escorted her to the meeting, where she spoke to us.

Miss Onken, in her capacity of National Panhellenic Delegate, was in Syracuse during February for the Panhellenic Conference. It didn't seem quite right not to have her all to ourselves, but we snatched such moments as she had free, and were proud to share her in such an important cause.

Mrs. Stebbins, the president of Beta Province who attended our March 17 meeting, was a welcome guest, and we enjoyed knowing her and telling her what a splendid active chapter we have. Our new Alpha Province President is our own Ellen Stradling Beattie, a fact we are proud to mention, and we are sorry that illness prevented her making us a visit.

BETA PROVINCE

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

This winter, the Central Pennsylvania Alumnae Club has had to, more or less, adjust itself and its activities to conform with conditions. While its members have been active in helping respective organizations through various local channels, nevertheless as an alumnae club unit there is little to report at this writing.

We are, however, not unmindful of the Settlement School and our fraternity obligations, and are even now making plans which will enable us to give a more definite report later in the spring.

Helen R. Hoffa, the efficient secretary of our club, has been spending the winter months in Boston where she is studying music.

HELEN E. SWARTZ

CLARKSBURG CLUB

The Clarksburg Alumnae Club has reorganized with several of its former members added to the new. As the organization is in its youth and the members are scattered there is no set meeting place. The meetings take place the second Tuesday of each month.

The first meeting held in Clarksburg, in February was devoted to reorganizing the club. The March meeting was held at Shinnston. The April meeting is to be held in Fairmont and devoted to a study of Pi Beta Phi interests. The club is planning to meet with the Morgantown Club to observe Founders' Day.

BETTY WEIDNER

CLEVELAND CLUB

Due to the popularity of the evening supper meetings of the club, two such meetings have been

We were saddened by the sudden death, in February, of Theresa Elmer Nostrand, a member who typified the true spirit of Pi Beta Phi, and the inspiration of whose presence we still feel deeply.

We have again sent circular letters, full of the news of our activity, to our scattered New York Alphas, and they are responding with items of interest about themselves, and with helpful checks.

Coming events include a joint dinner with the active chapter at the chapter house, April 28, at 6 o'clock, and our annual meeting and election of officers, Wednesday, May 10, at 1 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Bull, 110 Scotchholm Blvd. Every Pi Phi within meeting distance is urged to attend, whether she is a member or not.

CHARLOTTE N. CHAFFEE

WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS CLUB

A cooky-shine was held in February at the home of the club president, Hettie Craighead, in Springfield. Ways and means for raising money for the Settlement School were discussed and it was decided that each member should determine her own method and see that the contribution is in the hands of the Settlement School chairman on or before Founders' Day.

Eileen O'Mara had recently visited the Settlement School and gave us a graphic description of the Smoky Mountain region and the school itself. Her impression seemed to be that, next to money, they need purchasers for the articles made at the school, so that the pupils may be kept busy.

BEULAH W. BROWN

held since Christmas. The first was a benefit bridge held at the home of Mrs. Harold Cole in February for members only. This netted $25. The April meeting was attended by seventy members and was held at the home of Mrs. Hadley Freeman, at which time officers for next year were elected.

The annual Settlement School meeting was held March 4 at the home of Mrs. H. B. Jordan. Contributions amounted to $65. On January 20 the club gave a tea honoring Miss Lulu Volmer, author of "Sun Up" and "Moonshine and Honey-suckle." Panhellenic presidents and representatives were invited guests. Miss Volmer, who has made worthy contributions to the Settlement School and mountaineer boys and girls, gave an interesting talk encouraging and praising us in our philanthropic project.

The annual Treasurer's Report showed a balance of approximately $800, which unfortunately has been deposited in one of Cleveland's banks which has not reopened.

The club is looking forward to the annual spring party which Mrs. Kewley gives some time in May as the culmination of the bridge tournament. This project has netted us $275 this year.

Mrs. Floyd Logan is in charge of plans for Founders' Day, which is to be a cooky-shine at the home of Edna Whitsey.

MRS. RAY KELSEY

COLUMBUS CLUB

Owing to the bank holiday, the March meeting of the Columbus Alumnae Club was cancelled. However, the April meeting was held at the scheduled time, at the home of Mrs. Huston Fulton. The officers for next year were elected and plans were made for the Founders' Day celebration. In order to make our celebration as inexpensive as possible, we decided to have a joint spread, with the active and pledge chapter, followed by bridge. Mrs. J. L. W. Henney and Mrs. Algernon Stevenson are to be joint hostesses at Mrs. Henney's home.

To any Pi Phi who is living in the vicinity of Columbus or who is visiting here, our latch key is always out. Won't you get in touch with us?

MAY SCOTT HOOVER

DAYTON CLUB

The Dayton Alumnae Club had a very unusual treat this year in being privileged to entertain Mrs. Demarcus Brown (Jessie Christian, Indiana  $\Gamma$ ) with a dinner previous to her lecture, "England Revisited" at the Young Woman's League in Dayton, January 16, 1933. The club attended the lecture in a body, and all who heard her pronounced her a most fascinating speaker, and one to whom we could have listened for double the time.

A Washington and Lincoln party was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Roehm on February 18, 1933, for the pleasure of twenty members and their men guests. Bridge and various guessing contests were played during the evening, and everyone received a small prize, either during the game, or through a treasure hunt afterwards.

The recent banking holiday has resulted in quite a dearth of news for our club. We did not even hold a March meeting, as no one felt able to donate a whole dinner to the club, while cash was so precious, and no one was interested in holding a benefit bridge party, unless the benefit was for one of us.

With the banks in Dayton all open again, however, things appear brighter and we are looking forward to our April meeting, which will be a pot-luck dinner at Mrs. Florence McConnel's Monday, April 10. The Founders' Day celebration will also be held in April, but because of the March meeting being postponed, no definite plans for this affair could be made.

JEAN MAJOR ROEHM

HARRISBURG-LANCASTER CLUB

The club held its first meeting for the year 1933 on January 25 at the home of Miss Myrtle Keeny. Although this was a regular business meeting part of it was devoted to a study of the Settlement School. Mrs. A. O. Roorback gave us an account of her trip to the Settlement School last summer. In February Mrs. Paul Hutchison and Mrs. John Garrett entertained with a luncheon in Camp Hill. We have found that a luncheon is one of the best ways to get everyone together.

The meeting in March was again purely a business one. The officers were elected for the ensuing year.

The club celebrated Founders' Day on Saturday, March 29, with a luncheon held at the Stone House on the Trindle Spring Road between Carlisle and Mechanicsburg. Early in May a Pan-hellenic Tea is to be given for all "Greeks" in Harrisburg and vicinity, with Pi Beta Phi as hostess. The May meeting is to be devoted to the Active Chapter at Dickinson. The meeting will be held in Carlisle and a report of the Active Chapter's activities, scholarship, etc., will be given by one of the members of Pennsylvania  $\Gamma$ .

K. ADELAIDE MARKLEY

MORGANTOWN CLUB

The Morgantown Alumnae Club has had rather a quiet and uneventful year. We have held our usual monthly evening meetings.

At the March meeting there were two visiting alumnae; Betty Baxter, who came for the meeting from Waynesburg, Pa.; and Ruth Hines, who came down from Fairmont, W. Va.

The members of our club brought up the question, last autumn, of our ability to do something for the active chapter and also to give our usual financial support to the Settlement School. The general opinion seemed to be that we should give the active chapter something for the house; as a result, our gift to the Settlement School may necessarily be small. It was thought that in many cases other clubs will give their undivided support to the school.

As usual, the active chapter and our club will celebrate Founders' Day together.

REBECCA WADE

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The Northern New Jersey Club which has a membership of 60 paid members this year, is combining its regular monthly meetings. In February the meeting was held in Cranford at the home of Mrs. Bartel Dahlstrone. After the luncheon and business meeting Miss Frances Stiles, a member of the College Club of Westfield, entertained with several of her original sketches. On February 25 the club, under the chairmanship of Etta Taylor Baker, held its annual dance. Ninety couples were present.

March took us to the home of Mrs. George Slifer in Montclair. Our program chairman procured Miss Olive McCormack as the speaker. Her subject was "The Girl Scout of Today."

The Settlement School benefit bridge was held at the Glen Ridge Women's Club on April 18. This year it was a dessert bridge with Margaret Bohn Rymer as chairman. The Founders' Day banquet was held April 28 at the home of Helen Bryan Sater, who was also chairman of the event.

The last meeting of the year will be a picnic at the home of Genevieve Bullivant Gibson in Succasunna.

HESTER DODSON

OHIO VALLEY CLUB

The Ohio Valley Alumnae Club was organized in January, 1933, with the help of Mrs. A. R. Curtis, Beta Province Vice-President. The original membership of 14 has grown to 23 in three months. The meetings are held the first Saturday of each month in Wheeling, West Virginia, and a benefit bridge for the Settlement School is planned for late in the spring. The program thus far is: January, organization and constitution; February, business meeting; March, nearest chapters; April, nearest chapters, meeting held in Steubenville, Ohio; May, Founders' Day; June, Settlement School.

PHILADELPHIA CLUB

This year the Philadelphia Alumnae Club tried the idea of sectional meetings, dividing Philadelphia and the suburbs into five groups, each group having a chairman.

Two groups held bridge parties in February for the benefit of the Settlement School. Prizes at these parties were donated by merchants of Philadelphia and the suburbs. These parties were so successful that other groups have decided to continue the plan throughout March and April. In April we will hold a dance and card party to which men will be invited. This will be for the Settlement School Fund.

Our Founders' Day luncheon will be held at the Pi Beta Phi Lodge at Swarthmore College. The last meeting, in May, will be a picnic luncheon at the home of one of our members in Wallingford.

ADA F. KENNEDY

PITTSBURGH CLUB

The Pittsburgh Club's January meeting, held in the College Club, had been carefully planned, and though bridge followed the program, it by no means took first place as entertainment, for the feature of the day was a pageant, written by Mrs. Carson. Ruth Stevens, seated in an arm chair, portrayed a Founder, and on a hassock at her feet sat Katharine Turnbull as her granddaughter. The fact that Miss Turnbull is the granddaughter of Jennie Horne Turnbull added to the interest in her part, of course. As Mrs. Stevens talked of Pi Phi's early days, the young girl listened; then, in turn, came Pi Phis of later years, each dressed in costume of the period she represented. Mrs. Reding was first, picturing the Pi B  $\Phi$  of 1880, then Mrs. Rittman, 1890, Mrs. Tillotson, 1900, and Mrs. Jones, 1910. Caroline Hunt Mahaffey sang Memories of the Wine and Blue, and throughout the scene the Spirit of Pi B  $\Phi$ , enacted by Elizabeth Hamilton, hovered in the background. The presentation is to be repeated for Founders' Day.

Members of the South Hills Club were guests at this meeting.

Serious consideration has been given the plan of interesting more Pittsburgh Pi Phis, by experimenting with a group organization; the matter was brought up at a called meeting early in March, and such an organization clearly outlined. Metropolitan Pittsburgh includes more than one hundred outlying boroughs, and geographically and theoretically, group meetings would be feasible; however, after prolonged discussion, the consensus of opinion was in favor of continuation of the present plan.

The annual meeting was held on April 8, at the home of Mrs. Kittman; luncheon was followed by the business meeting, and the election of officers, and bridge was played later.

Incidentally, 'twenty-five cent bridge parties' have netted our treasury a satisfactory sum this spring.

CANDACE C. JOHNSON

SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY CLUB

The Southern New Jersey Club has held two meetings since the last ARROW letter. Our bridge benefit was very successful, bringing in thirty dollars to send to Settlement School. In March at the Woodbury Country Club, Mrs. Eugene Cordary, gave a talk on "Modern Trends in Education" with exhibits from various schools in South Jersey.

BALTIMORE CLUB

The Baltimore Club has held its regular meetings as scheduled. On January 30 we met at the home of Josephine Spencer, the club president. The non-business part of the program was given to singing of fraternity songs.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. F. Sippel, our province vice-president. She had luncheon for us, charging fifty cents for the benefit of the Settlement School. Leona Buchwald gave a most interesting and well-organized talk about her work, which is vocational guidance in the public schools. She is head of that department of the Baltimore Public Schools.

In March came the annual business meeting, topped off by a cooky-shine. Mrs. Henry Corner and Caroline Diggs were hostesses. The next event will be the Founders' Day luncheon on April 29. It is to take place at Alumnae Lodge of Goucher

At the next meeting we entertained our husbands at a dinner at the Woodbury Country Club. Besides a magician act there will be games and dancing.

The club is proud of our magazine agent, Mrs. N. R. Jones, as she has gathered $97.05 worth of subscriptions.

SOUTH HILLS CLUB

Our small membership and limited purses this winter have knit the members of the South Hills Club together very closely. Our meetings have been delightfully informal and pleasant and we have regretted that the mothers of the club's Christmas babies could not enjoy them with us.

The interesting thing on our horizon this month is our joint celebration of Founders' Day with the Pittsburgh Club. In June we shall close our season with a picnic in the country, our husbands acting as butlers.

We send greetings to our former members who are now affiliated with other clubs.

ELSIE C. HORTON

TOLEDO CLUB

The annual Lincoln celebration was a salad bridge party held at the home of Mrs. Ben W. Johnson. Practically every member had a table, and $25 was cleared. Mrs. Kirk, chairman of the Pi group, was in charge of the arrangements. White elephant prizes were donated by the members.

Miss Sarah Waite was elected president of the Toledo Alumnae Club at the annual meeting for election of officers held March 15 at the home of Helen Wylie. She succeeds Miss Isla Owen. Mrs. Frank Powell is vice-president; Miss Mary Chase, secretary; and Mrs. Marie Starn, treasurer. Plans were discussed for the annual Founders' Day celebration, a dinner which will be held on the evening of April 29. Mrs. Arthur Wittman, chairman of the Beta group, is in charge of arrangements. Installation of officers also will be held at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lewis Johnson (Martha Chase, Michigan B), and children, Barbara Ann and Eunice Mary Johnson, arrived in Toledo recently from New York where they landed from a two year's stay in Roumania, where Mr. Johnson was under assignment of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. During their visit in Toledo they will be with Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Ben W. Johnson.

We have accepted the invitation of the Maryland A chapter and the Baltimore Alumnae Club to be their guests in Baltimore at the Founder's Day celebration.

A bridge party for the benefit of the Undergraduate Loan and Endowment Fund was held in the rooms of the active chapter, Columbia A, March 25, 1933. There were about seven tables of Pi Phi and their friends.

Gamma Phi Beta's Washington Alumnae Chapter entertained the members of the Washington Panhellenic Association and the presidents of the twenty-one local alumnae organizations at a tea March 18, 1933, at the home of Mrs. J. ### ANN ARBOR CLUB

A combined meeting of the Michigan Beta Association and Pi Phi in Michigan is being planned by the Ann Arbor Club to celebrate Founders' Day on Saturday, April 29.

The business meeting will be held at the chapter house in the morning, followed by a luncheon in the Grand Rapids Room of the Women's League. Marion McKinney will be the mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Frederick Fisher will speak.

MAR KELLER

DETROIT CLUB

On account of the banking situation here the usual cooky-shine, with the juniors and seniors of Michigan B chapter as guests, was abandoned. However, in its place was a very nice luncheon at the Women's City Club followed by the annual meeting.

It has been rather difficult to sell things this year but the Christmas card book proved quite successful and the Settlement School wares have gone well.

April 29 is the date set for the customary Panhellenic ball, which is always quite enjoyable for one sees again college friends from all the other fraternities. Quite often small groups join in progressive dinners before the party. At the Book Cadillac Hotel there is a register of all fraternity members in the city. This is an indispensable list and is used constantly.

ALICE CALLENDER

FRANKLIN CLUB

Our club was entertained in February at the home of Mrs. Harry Hougham (Hazel Alexander) with a two-course buffet supper. The patronesses of the active chapter were special guests. It was decided at this meeting to send our annual contribution of $50 to the Settlement School, as usual.

Mrs. Wayne Walters (Pearl Doty) was hostess for our March meeting. A three-course dinner, with appointments in keeping with St. Patrick's Day, was served to the club members and to the junior girls from the active chapter, who were guests. Mary Ritz, one of the junior girls, spoke to the club concerning recent changes in the Constitution, and explained some of the amendments which had been made, after which, the guests played bridge.

Our April meeting will be with Mrs. George Blake (Frances Klyver) and in May, Mrs. Kenneth Andrews (Ellen Payne) will be our hostess. Our annual Commencement dinner, in honor of the senior girls and visiting Pi Phi's, will be given in June.

MRS. WALLACE BECK

HILLSDALE CLUB

The Hillsdale club has had two meetings at the chapter house recently—one given over to required study, particularly the study of the constitution and amendments which was outlined and led by Vera Dritler. Another extra meeting in March, not scheduled on the program, was devoted to necessary business including the election of officers for the ensuing year. The club members will join with Michigan A chapter on April 29 in celebration of Founders' Day.

BESSE N. PRIDEAUX

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The February meeting of the Indianapolis Alumnae Club was held at the chapter house. This meeting is always interesting because the actives help make up the program and it gives the alumnae a chance to become acquainted with the active girls.

Ruth Repschlager, a freshman, gave a reading; Sara Elizabeth Miller gave a piano solo; Mary Ruth Palmer gave a couple of vocal solos. The rest of the program was given by alumnae from each of the four chapters in the state. Mrs. Ralph Carter, Indiana A, gave a history of her chapter, Mrs. O. L. Pond, Indiana B, gave a history of her chapter, Miss Ethel Currier, Indiana F, and also a founder of Indiana Gamma, gave a history for her chapter, Mrs. Leslie Leroy Flint represented Indiana D.

The March meeting was a luncheon-bridge. There was a short business meeting to discuss plans for our Founders' Day program, which is to be held April 29, 1933. During the past the programs have been rather long as each chapter has been represented twice, with toast responses and stunts, so this year there is to be a representative from each alumnae club to tell what her alumnae club is doing. Mrs. Robt. S. Wild, Province Vice-President is to introduce them. Each chapter is to have a representative to tell of her chapter. Mrs. Biesel, Province President, is to introduce them. Mrs. Jasper P. Scott, our alumnae club President, will award the scholarship trophies. There will be a gift to an active in each chapter who has the highest scholastic standing for the year, and the cup that has been previously given to the chapter presenting the best stunt will be given to the chapter with the highest scholarship for the year. A playlet, sponsored by Mrs. Norman Green, is to be given. It takes place in the Mountains of Tennessee in the Settlement School District. There will be a musical program of organ music and vocal numbers.

We are all looking forward to a very enjoyable Founders' Day this year, and as previously it will terminate with a dance.

MAXINE RIGSBEE

LAFAYETTE CLUB

The Lafayette Alumnae club has held meetings each month since September. On April 7 the club gave our annual "guest party" when we entertained at a dinner and bridge, our husbands and friends. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Cordell. On April 28 we are having benefit bridges at the Faculty Lounge in the Union building on the campus, both in the afternoon and evening. We hope to make enough money to complete our contribution to Settlement School. Election of officers will be in May.

DOROTHY PUCKETT

SOUTHWESTERN INDIANA CLUB

The Southwestern Indiana Alumnae club has depended upon benefit bridges, held during the past year, as its method of making money for the various projects of II B Φ.

A benefit bridge party was held in January at the home of Miss Eugenie Roth in Boonville, assisted by Miss Norma Maurer and Mrs. W. J. Hoggatt. The party was a success, as most of our members were present and each one had brought a guest. Products of our Settlement School were given as prizes.

In spite of the shrinkage in our club membership, we are happy that we have been able to raise as much money for the Settlement School as we gave last year.

We are giving a Founders' Day party in April. We are also planning to hold our election of officers at this meeting.

IRENE HAY HOGGATT

EPSILON PROVINCE

CHATTANOOGA CLUB

The Chattanooga Alumnae Club entertained the initiates and active chapter with a cooky-shine at the chapter house in March.

A successful evening benefit bridge party was held in February, also at the chapter house. A new project undertaken by the alumnae club is the sponsoring of the Real Silk products.

Founders' Day is to be celebrated April 29 with the members of Tennessee A, the Atlanta Alumnae Club, Miss Bishop and Miss Allen of the Settlement School and other nearby members of the fraternity, at a luncheon at the Chattanooga Golf and Country Club.

The May meeting of the club will be a luncheon in honor of the 1933 graduates of Tennessee A.

MAYMIE C. BIRD

COLUMBIA CLUB

Since the publication of the last ARROW, the Columbia Alumnae Club has held three meetings.

Following the February meeting the Mothers of Columbia Pi Phis who are in the active chapter were entertained at a tea.

At the March meeting we were happy to have as our guest, Mrs. Lutchter Stark, Grand Secretary. A tea, honoring her, was given at the chapter house.

During the social hour which followed the April meeting, juniors in Missouri A were entertained. Plans are now being made for a spring rummage sale, the proceeds of which will go to the Settlement School.

The committee is working on plans for the celebration of Founders' Day.

ALICE McCAPES

LOUISVILLE CLUB

The club name has been officially changed from Falls Cities Alumnae Club to the Louisville Alumnae Club of II B Φ.

The Russian picture show The Road to Life was given under the auspices of the club in February, and in spite of very bad weather the picture added quite a few dollars to the treasury. The picture was given under the supervision of Miss Sara Landau and depicted the redemption of the wild boys of Russia. The subtitles were in English and the prologue was given by Dr. John Dewey of Columbia University.

Mrs. Frank Terrell, Epsilon Province President, was the guest of Kentucky Alpha in February, and the Advisory Board enjoyed a luncheon with her.

The program for the March meeting was on the constitution and was conducted in the manner of an old fashioned spelling bee.

Founders' Day took the place of the regular April meeting and was celebrated with Kentucky A.

JOSEPHINE WARNER

KANSAS CITY (MO.) CLUB

The Kansas City Club has held the usual meetings, one each month, beginning in October. The December meeting was given over to the Settlement School and Mrs. Clyde Porter gave a talk on her recent trip there. In February the club gave a benefit dinner-dance and realized a nice sum for the Settlement School fund. One of the members gave the club a Chinese Chow puppy which we raffled off at the dance and this alone netted sixty dollars, a pretty profitable puppy.

The March meeting was at the home of Mrs. Thorton Cooke and came on the same day the bank moratorium was declared. Mrs. Cooke's husband is one of Kansas City's leading bankers and we persuaded him to talk to us on banks. It proved most interesting at that time. Following his talk, Jean Phillips, Missouri A, gave us a talk on her year of study in France as a member of the Delaware group of students.

The April meeting, election of officers, and Founders' Day observance took place April 28.

MRS. A. H. LEWIS

MEMPHIS CLUB

The Memphis club, assisted by the Delta Zeta Alumnae Club, entertained the city Panhellenic Association on February 25. Following a short business meeting, the afternoon was devoted to bridge. A red, white and blue color scheme was carried out in tallies and refreshments in honor of Washington's birthday. The party was well attended, and as the game was progressive, almost everyone had a chance to get acquainted.

On March 15, the club met at the home of Mrs. Richard Moore, with Mrs. Clyde Patton assisting. The meeting was devoted to the study of history and constitution, with special attention to the development of  $\Pi B \Phi$  within the last decade. Three more members paid national dues, bringing our total numbers of paid members to seventeen, or two more than last year.

The Delta Delta Delta chapter at Southwestern University in Memphis just recently finished building a beautiful new fraternity lodge on the campus. On March 18, they held an open house, inviting the members of all the alumnae clubs in the city.

The next thing on our program is the Founders' Day luncheon. As part of the program, Mrs. Richard Miller is to tell us of the beginnings of other women's fraternities. Election of officers for next year will be held at the May meeting, and business for the year brought to a close. In June, we plan a picnic which will end the year's activities, and we expect to include the husbands and children in this.

MARGARET P. GARRECHT

ST. LOUIS CLUB

The club and active chapter in St. Louis had a visit in March from our Grand Secretary, Mrs. Lutchter Stark. On a Saturday afternoon the club entertained at a tea in Mrs. Stark's honor in the lounge of the Washington University Women's Building. The active chapter girls and their mothers were also invited. Before tea was served Mrs. Stark gave a talk about the Settlement School.

The club was interested, as usual, in the active chapter's initiation and this year many of the members assisted the girls in a ceremony at which 17 were initiated.

The members are all looking forward to Founders' Day Banquet, as we are reviving our old custom of having the banquet formal. For the past few years it has been an informal affair. It is to be held at a hotel in the city and there will be toasts, speeches, a stunt, and the announcement of the winners of the bridge groups contest which has been going on all year.

HARRIET BAUR SPOEHRER

SPRINGFIELD CLUB

At the February meeting, the Springfield Alumnae Club entertained the seniors of the active chapter in the home of the Misses Atkinson. Members and friends have been greatly interested in buying "chances" for a beautiful afghan that was made at the Settlement School. The plan has proved to be very profitable.

The club and the active members entertained with a cooky-shine, March 2, in compliment to Mrs. Lutchter Stark of Orange, Texas, National Grand Secretary, who was the guest of the chapter for several days. The evening was spent informally.

The hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Welters and Mrs. Wayne Frederick.

The juniors of the active chapter will be the honor guests at the April meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Garrett Hogg.

ZETA PROVINCE

ATLANTA CLUB

Meetings of the Atlanta Alumnae Club have been held monthly in the homes of members.

The February and March meetings were primarily concerned with making plans for a large benefit bridge party to be held April 19, in a down town department store tea room. Special features will be an exhibit and sale of Settlement School articles and a fashion show. The returns from the benefit will go to the Settlement School in addition to the $50 already raised by the sale of Christmas cards and magazine subscriptions.

The club has made its usual contribution of $5 each to the Endowment and Loan Funds.

Our members have cooperated with the Panhellenic Association in both their social and money raising activities this winter.

We have received a delightful invitation to join the Chattanooga Alumnae Club at a Founders' Day luncheon on April 29.

BETTY LOUISE VAN HART

BIRMINGHAM CLUB

The Birmingham Club entertained recently at a benefit bridge, formally opening the sale of Settlement School products in Birmingham. Prizes were from the Settlement School and all proceeds are to go to loan funds and the Settlement School. Miss Betty Carlson was general chairman with Mrs. E. A. Murray, assisting.

City Panhellenic held the annual luncheon April 15. Mrs. Gilbert Bright and Mrs. T. N. Asbury assisted with the plans.

The Founders' Day Banquet was held April 28 at the Tutwiler Hotel with a formal dance, entertaining escorts and husbands.

The form of meetings has been changed and they are being held at the homes of members. A small amount is charged for the luncheon. Every third meeting is a cooky-shine with the active chapter as guests.

BETTY JEAN CARLSON

LAKELAND CLUB

The Lakeland Alumnae Club has its regular meeting the third Monday in each month.

Mrs. Phil Rochford (Helen Sneed) from Minneapolis, Minn., is spending the winter here with her parents. Mrs. Sam Davis (Clara Kibler) from New York City, N.Y., is spending a month here with her parents also and we are so glad to have them both with us again.

The St. Petersburg Alumnae Club has invited the Tampa and Lakeland Clubs over to spend the day on Founders' Day. They are planning a Beach Party, luncheon and a big time, so we are looking forward to it.

MARGUERITE FUTCH

ST. PETERSBURG CLUB

The St. Petersburg Alumnae Club, has a cooky-shine the first Wednesday of each month, followed by business and bridge. Individual rushing was done last summer and one big beach party was given for girls going away to school.

Considerable interest is shown by members of the club as everyone seems to enjoy getting together once a month. Last year the club was inactive, so it is encouraging that this year there has been an average attendance of 12 in addition to the pledges. Fifteen members have paid dues.

The club enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Henry. The last meeting was devoted to a study of the examination and reports of the Settlement School by two members who visited it last summer.

April 29 St. Petersburg Club will act as hostesses to the Lakeland and Tampa Clubs at a Beach Party in celebration of Founders' Day.

ETA PROVINCE

BELOIT CLUB

On March 7 the Beloit Alumnae Club was entertained at dinner by Hazel T. Weirick in her new home in Janesville.

Many local alumnae attended the impressive initiation ceremonies of Wisconsin B on March 11, as well as the formal banquet which followed. Later in the evening the alumnae gathered at the home of Margaret Goodwin for a pleasant, informal meeting with Ruth Nicholas Sutton, Eta Province Vice-President. We were delighted to have as our guest, also, that evening Mrs. L. G. Willcox, Iowa A, who was present at the initiation of her daughter, Sue.

Our April meeting will occur on Founders' Day which will be appropriately observed. The election of officers as well as the submission of annual reports will be a part of the regular May meeting on May 9. Our year will close with the Reunion Banquet on June 10.

CAROLYN E. SHEPARD

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA CLUB

The Champaign-Urbana Club held the History-Constitution meeting in January with a report on the Constitution and one on the reorganization of Illinois A chapter. A group of girls from the house entertained us with music and readings at the February meeting. In March a member of the Unemployment Relief described the Work Relief as carried on in Champaign-Urbana.

VELMA LEWIS MOORE

CHICAGO CLUB NORTH

The spring activities of the Chicago Club North consisted of two major events besides the regular group meetings. At the March meeting the board entertained all groups with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Leon Pescheret. Afterwards a regular board meeting was held and officers for next year were elected. The treasurer received $150 from group dues and profits derived from saleable products which the club sponsors. This amount was sent immediately to Settlement School.

On April 7 a tea was held in the card room at 1400 Lake Shore Drive at which an elaborate exhibit of Arrow Craft articles was shown. Each member was urged to bring at least two friends who were not Pi Phis to acquaint them with what the Settlement School is accomplishing in that particular field of endeavor.

MARGARET T. MAUER

CHICAGO CLUB SOUTH

A cooky-shine was held March 28 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Stout. A roll call by active chapters revealed the fact that eighteen chapters were represented, a total of 50 members being present. A brief study of the constitution was made at this time. Mrs. D. S. Sutton was invited to be guest of honor but was unable to attend.

On April 6 a tea was given at Miss Albert's Tea Room for all paid members and election of a vice-president and recording secretary took place.

The Chicago Alumnae Club South joins with the other alumnae clubs in and around Chicago in celebrating Founders' Day with a luncheon to be held at the Century of Progress.

CELESTINE S. LOFGREN

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

The Business Women's Alumnae Club has been in existence for over two years as a part of the Chicago Club North, but has grown to such numbers and interest developed to such an extent that in November we decided to form our own group and received a charter as a full fledged II B & Club.

We meet regularly every three weeks, usually for dinner, dining at interesting and popular cafes and restaurants in or near the loop. We have also met in the evening for dinners and benefit bridge parties at the homes of the girls, at which time all proceeds except the bare expenses are turned over to the treasury. We had the pleasure of having Mrs. C. D. Sutton, Province Vice-President, as our guest of honor at our last meeting at the Charm House on March 20.

We are also following suit of the other Chicago Clubs in raising money by sale of toilet accessories and Settlement School products. At each meeting we hold raffles on some article from the Settlement School, which has proved a popular money raising scheme. Since our charter was granted we have sent $30 to the school.

We are all looking forward to the joint meeting of all Chicago Clubs to celebrate Founders' Day on April 29.

RHEA SHAW

CHICAGO WEST SUBURBAN CLUB

The members of the West Suburban Alumnae Club have been on their toes every minute of the past few months. A brief résumé of our regular meetings, with a few ideas of our future plans will suffice to prove this point.

On January 20, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Graham, in Westchester, a one-act play was presented by two of the members of the club. Mrs. Dorothy Lewis and Miss Alice Stevens, with the aid of two women outside of II B & Φ, staged Alice Gertsensberg's Overtures. This play is considered one of the best one-act plays ever written—and the members that day seemed to agree. The play exposes with charming delicacy, the hypocrisy of women.

The next meeting was a Panhellenic affair at the home of Mrs. H. M. Allen in La Grange. Many sororities were represented, and the tea proved to be a lovely 'get together' for all sorority women in this territory.

In March we were extremely fortunate in having Mrs. D. S. Sutton, Eta Province Vice-President, as our guest for the afternoon. We studied the constitution and held an election of officers for the following year. They are: President, Mrs. Loring Ingraham; vice-president, Miss Alice E. Stevens; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. F. Gaylord; treasurer, Mrs. M. C. Hobart; recording secretary, Miss Winifred Erickson.

In April, the club plans to have a group of benefit bridge parties at various homes. There will be at least ten tables in each of several homes in Western Springs, Hinsdale and La Grange. The proceeds will, of course, go to the Settlement School.

We intend to make our year's finale a large tea for high school girls and mothers of Pi Phi. This event will take place in May.

ALICE ELIZABETH STEVENS

DECATUR CLUB

The evening meeting in January was in the nature of a cooky-shine in the home of Mrs. Edmund C. Roos. This meeting was taken up with a discussion of the relations of the alumnae to the active chapter.

On Valentine's Day the annual house shower was held in the chapter house. Mrs. George Gilman, whose daughter, Carline, is president of the active chapter, acted as chairman for the party. Every year a meeting of this type is included in the program, each person attending bringing a dish towel or some other article equally useful. This year each alumna brought a glass of jelly or jam to stock the pantry shelves in the house.

The Constitutional quiz was conducted at the March meeting in the home of Mrs. Lynn Clark. The members of the club are quite interested in this meeting and there is always a good attendance.

The plans for Founders' Day are not as yet completed, but the actives and alumnae will have their celebration together. Due to this fact, the meeting will be held on the Saturday nearest Founders' Day.

There are only two meetings remaining on the calendar before next fall. There will be the election and installation of officers in May, and the corporation meeting and breakfast in June.

Out of eight freshmen initiated into the chapter this spring, two, Janet Alsip and Helen Ruth Chodat, are sisters of alumnae; and a third, Roberta Morris, had the unusual experience of being initiated by her sister who is retiring president of the active chapter.

KATHERINE ALSIP

GALESBURG CLUB

The Galesburg Alumnae Club has had three regular meetings since our last letter, all cooky-shines followed by business and bridge.

Each member has pledged a dollar to be earned by herself to the Settlement School Fund.

THELIE HINES

GLENHURSTON CLUB

The Glenhurst Alumnae Club held its last regular meeting of the year April 4 at the home of Dorothy Hoskings in Glen Ellyn. Mrs. Sutton, province vice-president, was our guest at this meeting. Althea McConnell Gittings was reelected president of the club for the coming year.

One of our members, Kathryn Tenney Boydston, Wisconsin A, has recently been greatly honored. The exhibit entered by the Glen Ellyn Garden Club in the Flower Show in Chicago was conceived and executed by Mrs. Boydston. It was a replica of the Glen Ellyn Bird Sanctuary in winter. This sanctuary is adjoining Mrs. Boydston's home and she knows it in all its moods. Her exhibit was outstanding at the Show and was awarded an important trophy.

Glenhurst expects to join the other clubs in the Chicago area for the Founders' Day celebration and a picnic has been planned for May or June as our final get-together for the year.

CATHERINE KARR

MADISON CLUB

The Madison Alumnae Club has continued its regular monthly supper meetings during the winter with the exception of the January meeting, which was cancelled because of the illness of several of the members.

At the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Kemper Slidell, the evening was given over to sewing for the Red Cross. In March the Misses Helen and Stella Kayser entertained the club and plans were made for Founders' Day. The active chapter and the alumnae are having a formal banquet at the chapter house with alumnae members furnishing the program.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Middleton in Evanston. The program consisted of a walking rehearsal of Rachel Crothers' When Ladies Meet. Later in February we cleared over $180 toward our Settlement School pledge by a large card party held at the E A E Memorial Temple in Evanston.

In March an informal meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gault in Evanston. Mrs. Gault read us a poem she had written for the Twelfth Night performance this year, and explained to us about some of the unusual and rare treasures she and Professor Gault brought back with them from Russia and Europe.

Katherine Biggett, our president, entertained the members of the Alumnae Board at a luncheon in March.

KATHRYN C. MERRIAM

ROCKFORD CLUB

The Rockford Alumnae Club entertained Mrs. D. S. Sutton, Eta Province Vice-President, at a Smorgasbord supper, in February, at the home of Ruth Ralston. The members enjoyed Mrs. Sutton's talk and the annual report of the nearest active chapter, which was prepared by Mrs. C. K. Myers.

On March 11, Rockford Panhellenic Society entertained all fraternity women of the city at an annual luncheon. This event was originated and sponsored by Rockford Alumnae Club two years ago.

BURLINGTON CLUB

The Burlington Club had an informal supper, picnic style, at the home of Mrs. Harold Wilson on March 30. The committee were Mrs. W. F. Gilman, Miss Jessie Thomas, and Miss Lucia Wilson. during the meal. A brief business meeting followed.

DES MOINES CLUB

Members of the Des Moines Alumnae Club were happy to have with them at their February meeting, Mrs. Merle Potter, the province vice-president.

The club is having a one o'clock luncheon Saturday, April 8 with Mrs. Leslie French at which time we hope to have Mrs. Buxton, province president, as our guest. The meeting will be devoted to discussing plans for an All State Day in place of our usual Founders' Day banquet. The active and alumnae groups from Ames, Iowa City, and Simpson, all plan on meeting in Des Moines on this date and making plans for next year.

BEATRICE H. ALBERS

DULUTH CLUB

The high-light of the year's activities was the visit of Lucy How Potter, province vice-president, to our club in February.

The depression has not kept us from making our usual donation to the Settlement School, and to the Loan Fund, and what we have left over will go to our nearest chapter, Minnesota A.

Our meetings have been held according to schedule, the next being our Founders' Day luncheon at the home of Jessie Schee Blu followed by a program of readings given by Margaret Alexander Dunn. The year will close with a picnic in June.

RUBY B. OLMSTEAD

INDIANOLA CLUB

Alumnae club meetings are now held at the chapter house each month, with a pot-luck supper with the actives and the business meeting afterward.

Initiation was held March 25, nine girls receiving the Arrow. An interesting feature of this event was the initiation of Grace Margaret Moist with both her Pi Phi mother and grandmother present—Mabel Brown Moist '02 and Mrs. Ervilla Brown '76. Mrs. Brown's I.C. pin was used for the ceremony. Another grand-daughter initiated was Louise Hartzler, whose grandmother, Ida Chesire Barker, was one of the founders of this chapter.

Winter visitors have been Catherine Carpenter Karr of Glen Elyn, Elosia Coffin Burke and Jessie Coffin Henely of Omaha, and Iru Tippincott of Cedar Rapids.

ADA P. SAMSON

The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club has spent an enjoyable winter studying the South and Mountain people. At the January meeting Mrs. Lines was the hostess and Mrs. McCoid read her paper on "Our Southern Highlanders." Mrs. Whiting

DENVER CLUB

The Denver Alumnae Club held a successful benefit bridge tea and fashion show February 28 at the Daniels and Fishers tea room. Models were selected from the Colorado B and Colorado A had as her topic for the program, "The Settlement School." The members were pleased to have Mary Firebaugh Swaney present at this meeting. Mrs. Swaney had just recently returned from Santiago, Chile, where she was head of Santiago college for seven years.

The February meeting was preceded by a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Oatman conducted a quiz based on the examination that is taken by the actives. Questions on the Constitution were especially stressed. Mrs. McEldowney gave a brief review of the November ARROW.

Mrs. Dickinson was hostess for the March meeting. The treasurer's report showed that a nice sum had been raised by the fifty-cent-principal project. Ways ranging from selling chances on ivy bowls to dressmaking were tried successfully. Mrs. Wright reviewed "The Happy Mountain" by Chapman.

The club was again disappointed when Mrs. Potter had to cancel her visit at this time because of the financial troubles.

Our next meeting will not be until Founders' Day which will be celebrated with the actives.

MARGARET R. PATTERSON

SAINT PAUL CLUB

New officers of the club were elected April 3. They are: Harriet Dudgeon, president; Margaret Wilkens, vice-president; Dorothy Millard, secretary; Sylvia Martin, corresponding secretary; Florence Blackburn, treasurer.

Lucy How Potter, province vice president, was feted at a tea, in late February, prior to her visit to province alumnae clubs. In March, club members entertained seniors and freshmen of Minnesota A at a dinner in the home of Florence Patzold.

A rummage sale was held April 8 as a Settlement School benefit. Settlement School articles continue to be sold, the December sale having created a demand.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, CANADA CLUB

The winter months have been busy ones for the Winnipeg Alumnae Club. We had two bridge club meetings and a regular business meeting since the New Year. At the latter we planned for our annual Valentine Charity Tea and also for a treasure hunt in honor of the pledges. Their skill at crossword puzzles was tested to find the clues which led to the treasure at the home of Maude Ferguson. Later the pledges entertained the actives and alumnae at a tea.

Our club had as its guest in February, Mrs. Potter, province vice-president. She met our group and the active chapter at a tea in her honor at the home of Mrs. G. F. Klein. The executives entertained her at dinner at the Winter Club and then she met the club at a meeting in the evening.

The initiation banquet at the Fort Garry Hotel was well attended by the alumnae with our president, Isabel Clark, acting as toastmistress. The alumnae entertained the others with a humorous stunt which concerned rushing in its various stages.

chapters. The sum of $192 was cleared solving our debt problem for the year.

March 25 the regular alumnae meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Iliffs. Amendments to the Constitution were read. We were fortunate in having Miss Amy B. Onken with us as she stopped over in Denver on her way home from the coast. In April the Founders' Day Banquet will be held. In May the election of officers will take place at the final yearly meeting.

LINCOLN CLUB

The Lincoln Alumnae Club held its February meeting at the Nebraska B chapter house. After luncheon with the active girls the annual Fraternity examination questions were read and discussed.

On March 11 the club entertained the freshmen of Nebraska B chapter at luncheon. One of our members, Mrs. A. W. Richardson, told of her experiences when she was in charge of the Settlement School. Her talk was supplemented with further experiences given by Miss Melinda Stuart, gained in her long connection as Treasurer of the Settlement School committee.

The club recently enjoyed a visit of a day or so from our Grand Secretary, Nita Hill Stark.

At the April meeting of the club, a report on changes and recent rulings in our constitution affecting alumnae work was given by the secretary. The annual banquet honoring our founders was held at the Nebraska B chapter house with the Omaha Alumnae Club as guests.

Mrs. H. J. KESNER

MANHATTAN CLUB

The February meeting of the Manhattan Club was a bridge luncheon given at the Gillett Hotel with Mrs. Herbert Webb, Mrs. Walter Leonard, Mrs. T. J. Griffith, Mrs. C. C. Brewer, and Mrs. Gerald F. Smith hostesses.

In March a business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Holton and Ruth. Officers for the coming year, elected at this meeting, are Mrs. William J. Foster, president; Mrs. Donald M. Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Gerald F. Smith, recording secretary and treasurer; Ruth Holton, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. R. D. Womer and Mrs. T. J. Griffith, members of the advisory council. Mrs. R. R. Cave, Mrs. C. C. Brewer, and Ruth Holton are the other members of the council.

Many alumnae attended the initiation services early in March when Kansas B initiated sixteen pledges. Afterwards they enjoyed fellowship with the newly initiated members at a cooky-shine.

The active chapter again entertained the alumnae with a tea given in honor of Mrs. Lutzer Stark, grand secretary, who was visiting the chapter.

The club joined the active chapter in celebrating Founders' Day with a formal banquet.

OMAHA CLUB

It is gratifying to be able to write in these days of depression that the Omaha Alumnae Club has met all its obligations. Contributions of the usual amount have been sent to the Endowment Fund and the Loan Fund and gifts have been made to the Settlement School, the active chapter at Lincoln and to the Omaha Community Chest. In addition a large amount of Arrow Craft goods has been sold through the energetic efforts of our Settlement School Chairman, Mrs. J. A. Nixon.

The Omaha Club joined with the Lincoln Club in celebrating Founders' Day at the beautiful chapter house of Nebraska B.

This month the club will be entertained by the members in Council Bluffs, an annual event. It will be Constitution Day. In addition there will be some musical features.

MARY ANNE MCINTIRE

PUEBLO CLUB

This year, quite contrary to the expectations of all pessimists, has been very interesting for the Pueblo Alumnae Club. In addition to our regular interest in just hearing about  $\Pi B \Phi$ , we find the individual members have gone far in contributing time and efforts to the Community Chest, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Day Nursery and Needle Work Guild.

We have made our regular contributions to the Settlement School. Mrs. Music had been responsible for turning in $12.65 from magazine subscriptions.

We are announcing, with no little pride, that Mr. and Mrs. Deeze have just returned from Russia where he was decorated by the Soviet Government for services done there. Mrs. Deeze is a Pueblo Pi Phi.

Mrs. A. J. Dooner has a little son, Andrew James.

Halycon Weaver, who is now Mrs. Harry Dawson is now residing in New Jersey.

LAURA BELLE STOCKTON

TOPEKA CLUB

The Topeka Alumnae Club met December 3 at the home of Mary K. Wilson. This meeting was a luncheon followed by a business meeting. It was decided to discontinue the 25 cent assessment for the luncheon which we previously sent to Settlement School, and take up a silver offering instead. The club voted to send five dollars to the Loan Fund and five dollars to the Endowment Fund.

The next meeting was February 11 at the home of our president, Mrs. T. F. Doran. At this meeting a report was given concerning our Settlement School Tea. We sold many articles after the tea and have had quite a few orders to send in since.

The meeting on Founders' Day will be a "cooky-shine" at the home of Mrs. Richard Allen.

MARGARET JONES

WICHITA CLUB

The meetings of the Wichita Alumnae Club have been characterized this year by a consistently good attendance and by the enthusiasm shown by the members.

It was decided to make individual donations instead of giving a benefit, and the club has made its usual contributions to the Settlement School and to both the Loan Fund and the Endowment Fund. Magazine subscriptions amounting to $274.40 and crediting the Settlement School with $68.65 have been secured so far this year.

The club was one of the hostesses at an All Panhellenic party on April 20. Mrs. Lee Hobbs, Pi Phi representative, was chairman of the committee.

We are now looking forward to our Founders' Day meeting which will be a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Claude Lambe.

AUSTIN CLUB

Members of the Austin Alumnae Club have been holding their regular meetings at the chapter house, and a feeling of closer contact with the active chapter has been achieved. By taking an active part in rush week, the alumnae helped to make this a most successful rushing season.

As a means of raising money for the Settlement School, the alumnae, together with the active chapter, is planning a matinee at a local theatre.

Mrs. Bywaters, Kappa Province President, was a welcome guest of the club at the March meeting.

MARGARET HOWIE CASWELL

DALLAS CLUB

The main item of interest in our club since the publication of the last issue of THE ARROW, is the success of our annual spring bridge tournament. This was held at the Dallas Country Club on March 24. Four hundred people were present, and our net profit was $135. This amount was placed in the Settlement School Fund. Mrs. John N. Touchstone and Mrs. Murphy Dalton were in charge of the affair. The outstanding feature of the tournament was a style show, in which selected members of the active chapter at Southern Methodist University acted as models. Candy was sold all during the afternoon, and various articles made at the Settlement School were raffled off at intervals.

There will be only three more meetings after the writing of this letter, and another Alumnae Club year will come to a close.

JUNE HARRIS GRANGER

HOUSTON CLUB

The Houston Alumnae Club devoted the March meeting to election of officers for the new club year. Our Founders' Day Barbecue will take place at the country home of the outgoing president, Mrs. Edgar Lownes. The club has three committees raising money for the Settlement School. One is raffling a lovely quilt, another sponsoring a bridge party, the third is selling vanilla. We hope soon to realize enough to send in our second contribution to the Settlement School. Our first payment of $100 was made in the fall.

MRS. CORNELIUS BATESON

EUGENE CLUB

All members of Eugene and Corvallis Alumnae Clubs are looking forward to Founders' Day which is to be observed this year with activities of both Oregon A and Oregon B chapters. This joint observance of Pi Phi from Eugene and Corvallis is a revival of a custom of several years ago, when annually they met together to pay homage to our Founders. The committee has planned a banquet at one of the hotels for approximately 100 guests. Oregon A activities are planning the after-dinner entertainment for the guests from Corvallis.

Officers of the Eugene Club will be elected at the final business meeting of the year in May.

NORMAN CLUB

The Norman Alumnae Club has had increased membership and very good attendance this year. We have twenty-one members.

Our club finds that raising money by personal assessments for the Settlement School is the most successful method at the present time.

For April we planned a buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Wyatt Marrs (Winifred Robertson).

In May the club will have election of officers for the coming year, and will have our annual club picnic at the country club.

DOROTHY SYNNOTT LANDSAW

SABINE DISTRICT CLUB

Since Christmas holidays we have had two meetings of the Sabine District Alumnae Club. The first, on January 21, was a tea given at the home of Mary Edson on Magnolia Road. Teas are becoming more popular than luncheons these days and on March 4 we were entertained at the home of Adelaide Reed. Both of these teas took place here in Beaumont.

Mrs. Millard Moor (Eleanor O'Brien) was elected president of the club for the coming year. Justa Cartwright was elected vice-president; Jane Clark, treasurer; Adelaide Reed, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Pyle Walker, recording secretary.

HELEN ADAMS KEIG

TULSA CLUB

The latest meeting of the Tulsa Alumnae Club was held April 1 in the Junior League Tea Room. Moving pictures of the Settlement School, taken last summer by Dorothy McBirney, sister of our hostess, Mrs. D. M. Bradley, were shown to the fifty members and out of town guests present at the cooky-shine.

Many of the club members took an active part in the annual Panhellenic benefit bridge party given the latter part of April.

LOLITA MURDOCK

which was a buffet supper with our husbands as guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walcott Buren.

The Salem Club will be the guests of active chapters and alumnae clubs on Founders' Day.

During the month of May the Salem Club plans a luncheon meeting; new officers will be nominated and duties discussed.

VIRGINIA BEST KEECH

SEATTLE CLUB

Seattle Alumnae Club entertained at a tea, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Richard G. Clarke in honor of Mrs. Libbey (Fannie Whitenack), Founder, who left Seattle for an indefinite stay. Her daughter with whom she had been living accompanied her to Lake City, Minnesota, where she will make her home with another daughter. Mrs. Libbey's girlhood home was Red Wing, Minn. Our Founders' Day banquet will not be complete without Mrs. Libbey as our honor guest as in former years.

March 14 a bridge tea was given at the home of Mrs. Floyd Ellis near Lake Washington. Mrs. Louis Edmunds, who was in charge, reports that fifteen dollars was cleared.

Mrs. Louis Casseett, club president, entertained the executive committee at a dinner at her home on February 29. It was decided to drop the local dues for the remainder of this year and to make an effort to get every member to pay her national dues of one dollar. Each of the groups have pledged $25 which will go toward the furniture fund at the house. The active chapter received $125 cash prizes from the store contests last fall. Harriet Johnstone who has charge of Settlement School goods reported $27.32 from the sale of Christmas cards. Mrs. Casseet reported $12 was made on the sale of tea towels which she has hemmed and sold. The sale of a new furniture polish has brought in $11 in a short time also.

The chapter voted to send $25 to the Settlement School which will make a total for the fiscal year of $75.

Mrs. Burnham entertained the club at its February meeting. The club met with Mrs. Scott in March. Regular business was carried on and plans made for Founders' Day.

We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the visit of Mrs. Kerman, our National Vice President, who expects to be with us late in April.

The Settlement School sales for this year amount to approximately $100.

We are pleased to have two new members; Miss Hazen from New York and Miss Ruth Barrett Bush, Michigan A.

EL PASO CLUB

The twenty members of the El Paso Alumnae Club represent fourteen chapters. There are two other Pi Phi spending the winter in El Paso who are from two more chapters. The aim of our cosmopolitan club is to have the complete chapter roll represented on our roster.

Regular meetings of the club have been held this winter. In December articles from the Settlement School were sold to members and their friends. Plans are being made for a Founders' Day luncheon to be given the last Saturday in April at the Hotel Paso del Norte.

FRANCES R. BROWN

LONG BEACH CLUB

A benefit tea was given for the Settlement School February 25 at the new home of Mrs. George Williams.

Many from here attended the tea given by Mrs.

TACOMA CLUB

At the previous meetings of the Inez Smith Soule Alumnae Club held this season much discussion has been heard concerning the ways and means of earning money.

At the Fishers' Luncheon in November we were able to clear $39.50 to apply on the Settlement School Fund.

At our regular monthly luncheons we each give 25 cents; also the selling of metal sponges and recipes help to increase the fund.

At the January meeting our club president, Mrs. Palmer Kennedy returned from Washington, D.C., where she was called on the death of her father.

At the February meeting the major part of the time was spent by the reading of articles on Settlement School.

After our business meetings the past three months we have enjoyed the contract bridge lessons given by one of our members, Mrs. H. S. Nettleton.

The club wishes to extend profound sympathy to Mrs. Palmer Kennedy (D.C. A) in the loss of her father, to Charlotte Allspaugh in the loss of her father, to Ruth Sturley (Wash. A) in the loss of her father, to Beth Fogg (Wash. A) in the loss of her father, to Alice Marr (Wash. A) in the loss of her mother and to Mrs. E. P. Norton (Iowa A) in the loss of her son.

R. A. FITZSIMMONS

Rufus von Kleinsmid, March 4, in honor of Miss Onken.

Due to the earthquake on March 10, the alumnae meetings were postponed for March and April. We are glad to report no loss of life or injuries among our members.

The club will join with the Southern California clubs in celebrating Founders' Day at the Beverly Hills Hotel on April 27.

MRS. L. A. PATCH

LOS ANGELES CLUB

The Settlement School bridge benefit was held at the Biltmore Hotel in February. This party, under the direction of Adelaide Stewart Gangestad and her committee, in cooperation with the active chapters of California  $\Delta$  and  $\Gamma$ , was a great success and as a result we shall be able to send a contribution far exceeding our expectations to the Settlement School.

On March 4 the Los Angeles County Clubs of  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  and the active chapters were happy to honor Miss Onken with a tea at the home of Mrs. Von Kleinsmid. The mothers of the active girls and the representatives of the City Panhellenic were guests.

Founders' Day Luncheon was held at the Beverly Wiltshire Hotel, Beverly Hills. The Santa Monica, Glendale, Pasadena, and Long Beach alumnae clubs joined in this celebration.

DOROTHY PARKE TULIEN

NEVADA ALUMNAE CLUB

The Nevada Alumnae Club has given two bridge teas this year which have reimbursed our treasury to a large degree. They were held at the chapter house and were sponsored by two of the standing committees which were appointed at the beginning of the new year. A third committee is going to sponsor our Founders' Day Banquet which will also take place at the chapter house, with approximately 100 members present. The committee plans to have the younger Pi Phi sisters serve, and in that manner make a clear profit.

The club is busy this month preparing its semi-annual circular letter. The purpose of this letter is to keep out-of-town alumnae informed of II B  $\Phi$  activities in Reno.

Mrs. Kermans, our province president, will pay us a visit in April.

KARA PRATT

PASADENA CLUB

The February meeting of the Pasadena Alumnae Club, which was held at the home of Helen Fellows Maule, was given over to a study of the constitution. Ruth Dorn was our hostess in March, with Lucille Wagner as speaker. Miss Wagner, who is associated with one of the film studios, spoke on costume design for the movies, illustrating her talk.

The Pasadena Club was pleased to be one of the hostess clubs in Southern California for the tea given in honor of Miss Onken during her visit in March.

New officers for 1933-34 are: President, Ellen Holton Larsen; vice-president, Lois Woodruff; corresponding secretary, Evelyn Peters; treasurer, Ann Fellows Roberts; member-at-large, Florence Gamble Weage.

HARRIET SCROGGS HENDERSON

PHOENIX CLUB

On February 24, the Phoenix Club held a bridge luncheon at the home of Mrs. B. B. Shimmel. Following the luncheon, a short business meeting was held and then Mrs. Ernest Pafford gave a program on the history of II B  $\Phi$  and the changes in the Constitution. After this a short bridge game was played.

The annual party honoring husbands was held on April 5 at the home of Mrs. D. W. Albert, the University of Arizona Date Garden, near Tempe. Dinner was served on the lawn by the light of the moon. Immediately following this an election of officers for the coming year was held. Bridge was the entertainment of the evening, enjoyed by 15 couples.

Mrs. Kerman paid the club her official visit and assisted in the celebration of Founders' Day. The celebration this year was held in the afternoon of April 27 with a formal tea at Jokake Inn. A number of informal parties were given in honor of Mrs. Kerman.

The club feels that the year has been very successful and that the meetings have been better attended than heretofore, and more interest in the work of II B  $\Phi$  was shown by all.

MARGARET F. ALBERT

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

Since the last issue of the ARROW the club has had one meeting. Founders' Day luncheon was planned for March 12 this year in order that Miss Onken who has been visiting chapters on this coast might be our guest of honor. Members from two active chapters and several alumnae clubs gathered at the St. Francis Yacht Club where it was a privilege to greet Miss Onken and to hear her interesting message from National in these very uncertain economic times.

It was also a pleasure to have Mrs. F. R. Kerman, Mu Province Vice-President with us. An enjoyable program of music, and reports from the clubs and actives, was arranged by Mrs. Walter Penick.

SAN JOSE CLUB

The event which seems to take precedence over everything else in our year's work is the bridge tea and sale of Arrow Craft products which we gave in November. From the proceeds of this sale we were able to contribute $50 to the Settlement School.

Our February meeting was a cooky-shine held at the home of Dr. Helen Lee. Our province vice-president, Mrs. Helen A. Kerman and several members of the Palo Alto Club visited us at this meeting. On March 11 several of our members attended a luncheon in San Francisco which was given in honor of Miss Onken. This took the place of the annual Founders' Day luncheon and was participated in by the Berkeley, San Francisco, and Palo Alto clubs, as well as the members of the active chapters of California A and California B.

FLORENCE E. DOSTER

SANTA MONICA CLUB

The new plan of our group of having each alternate meeting an educational one is proving most popular.

At the January meeting Cathryn Robberts Dye told of her trip to Nice, France, last summer where she attended the sixth Congress of New Education at which 52 countries were represented.

Instead of our annual large benefit to fulfill our gift to the Settlement School we have pledged two dollars each this year. We will also have two small bridge parties to supplement.

Miss Onken, our ever welcome Grand President, has just paid a visit to Southern California giving us an inspiring talk on the latest Pi Phi news, nationally.

Our meetings this year have meant much to us; friendships in times of lost jobs, reduction of finances, have brought renewed inspiration and a deeper meaning of the words II B  $\Phi$ .

JESSIE SCOTT CLINE

TUCSON CLUB

The January meeting of the Tucson Club was held at the chapter house in the evening. After a very active business meeting Helen Powers gave an interesting book review.

In February we were all very much privileged to meet and visit informally with our Grand President Amy B. Onken who was a guest at the chapter house for three days.

Mrs. Marietta Sprague and her daughter, Lillian, opened their home to us for the March meeting. Following the transaction of business which included the election of officers, Mrs. Sprague and her daughter served tea to those present.

In conjunction with the active chapter, our Founders' Day banquet will be held at the Y.W.C.A. where a simple dinner is served at a very nominal cost. The remainder of the money which would ordinarily be spent at this time will be sent to the Settlement School.

The meeting in May will be a brief business meeting as most club activities close the first of May in Tucson because of the hot weather.

ALPHA PROVINCE

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Chartered, 1908

Pledge Day, January 13, 1933

INITIATED, March 13, 1933: Elizabeth Armstrong, Mary Clark, Elizabeth Graham, Aileen Musgrave, Mary Owens, Ruth Cooper, Toronto; Elizabeth Beck, Penetanguishene; Joyce Edwards, Ottawa; Frances Mulligan, Petrolia.

The annual Panhellenic Banquet was held in February at the Royal York Hotel. All the members of the eleven women's fraternities of the local Panhellenic Council joined together in making this a very happy evening. Each fraternity sang one of its own songs and several amusing skits were presented.

A new library has been opened in University College with Katherine Ball and Jean McIntosh, both of the Ontario A alumnae, in charge.

The annual formal dance at the Royal York Golf Club was a great success. It was the first large function in which the pledges joined; many of the alumnae were present as well.

The pledge room was redecorated immediately after pledging by the girls, who did the painting with the enthusiastic help of the pledges. The birthday gift of the alumnae to the chapter this year was a complete new set of china, glasses, and knives for the rooms. A new rug and studio couch completed the improvements to welcome the pledges to their first meeting.

The long rushing this year has had one advantage in that the rushees were true friends of the chapter by the time of pledging, and consequently the initiation was an occasion of the greatest enthusiasm. A very happy banquet followed the ceremony, the alumnae being well represented.

The initiates and pledges were the guests of honor at a bridge given by the alumnae on March 21, when each new member met her "big sister" of the alumnae.

Frances Mulligan, one of this year's initiates, led the entire first year of Medicine in the examinations last spring. The chapter as a whole ranked third for scholarship among the women's fraternities on the campus.

PLEGDED: Margaret Hill and Annabelle Scott, of Toronto.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Joyce Lyon, 240 Balmoral Ave., Toronto, Can. JOAN KNOWLTON

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, April 11, 1933

INITIATED, January 20, 1933: Miriam W. Linscott, East Milton, Mass.; Hope B. Whitman, Turner.

The University of Maine will operate for the next two years on a budget reduced $160,000 annually, according to an announcement made by the State Commissioner of Education. This will mean a suspension of building construction, further curtailment of university activities, and a readjustment of salary schedules.

The present construction program now under way involves the completion of two wings on Stevens Hall. Besides accommodating several departments, a large, sound-proof music hall is located here. Many new features such as sliding blackboards and thermostatically controlled ventilating and heating systems are being installed. The memorial gymnasium, now in process of construction, is being erected at no cost to the state, being a gift to the institution from its alumni.

Dr. James Muilenburg, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, was elected president of the National Association of Biblical Instructors at its last meeting in New York. "Potemkin" and "Das Lied Ist Aus" were the first of a series of foreign-made films which are being brought to the Orono theatre through the efforts of interested students and faculty members.

A beard-growing contest was held on campus during the two weeks of the mid-year examination period. The prize-winners were photographed by the Paramount News Reel.

K Ψ, a local sorority, has withdrawn from Panhellenic and will continue as a club.

The Maine Masque presented "Uncle Vanya," with Pauline Harmon, a pledge, taking the part of Marina.

The Spanish club, which formerly consisted of all students in the Spanish department, has been reorganized as an honorary society with Abbie Sargent, an alumna, as faculty adviser. Margaret Davis is a charter member and Emily Pickering has been initiated.

PLEGDED: Dorothy Frye, Portland; Clarice Grant, Sandy Point; Pauline Harmon, Flora Stone, Fort Fairfield; Elizabeth Jordan, Woodfords; Doris Lawrence, Arrowsic; Ruth Libby, Caribou; Margaret Litz, Limestone; Virginia Nelson, Guilford; Helen Walker, Riverside, R.I.; Bernice Webber, Wiscasset; Ada Woodman, Washburn.

After the pledge service held at the home of one of the patronesses, the chapter and pledges were entertained by the patronesses with readings and music.

Numerous small parties are being given to promote friendship between the pledges and the actives. Since the only women's fraternity house is that of Δ Δ Δ, interfraternity friendships are inevitable through dormitory life.

An informal pledge dance was given at the Penobscot Valley Country Club in March.

Margaret Denton has been elected vice-president of Balentine Hall, and Ruth Todd, a pledge, is treasurer. Doris Hutchinson is manager of the girls' rifle team.

Ruth Libby, a pledge, received all A's last semester in her course in home economics. Inez Howe has been elected to Φ K Φ.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Velma Colson, Guilford, Maine.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, none

In the cultural field the students have had the opportunity of seeing Carola Goya, the Spanish dancer; Dorothy Sands, clever impersonator; a celebrated flute, harp, and cello trio of Barrere, Calzedo, and Britt; and lastly a group of Navajo Indians demonstrating their native arts.

Middlebury recently had a program over the radio during which the president and dean spoke and the glee club gave a program. Glee club concerts and Middlebury debates have also been broadcast many times.

The Mountain Club has continued its hikes and many miles of the mountain campus have been cheerfully trudged over. The Liberal Club has leaped into prominence due to the everpresent social and economic unrest. For social events there have been a Spanish carnival, a Literati ball, and Scullions ball.

Everyone is now looking forward to Junior Week activities and the Vermont A formal.

The death of Dr. Merritt Eddy, 1860, the oldest Middlebury graduate, was a sad event during the past few months. It came only six weeks after his hundredth birthday.

Vermont A has raised its scholarship average to 83.91 which is above the college average. Mary Carrick is women's editor of the Campus. Many have qualified for All-Midd teams.

Due to the unusual situation on the campus this year, there has been an increasing need for friendliness. Cooperation, another name for this quality, has been shown by Vermont A as a group. Rushing has been indefinitely postponed, so the usual methods of showing friendliness to freshmen have been replaced by a cordial interest in them shown in other ways. College bacon bats, parties, dancing, teas have all been successfully held. Vermont A is trying to show that it is behind its college.

RUSH CAPTAIN (if rushing takes place): Mary Carrick, 68 Chester Street, Newton Highlands, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Marie Stebbins, Beta Province President, visited Vermont B in place of Mrs. Ellen Beattie who has been in the hospital. While in Burlington the fraternity gave a tea in her honor, and also a "sugaring off," following an old Vermont custom.

Health week was featured March 20-26, during which time a campus vote was conducted to choose a posture queen. Priscilla Perry was chosen and presented a small statue of a winged victory in recognition of her excellence in posture. Among the other features of health week were a lecture given by Miss Sara Holbrook of the Home Economics department on the subject, "A Challenge to Personality Development," and a mass meeting at which Miss Florence Maddock of the state Y.W.C.A. gave a talk.

The actives held the annual pledge dance March 4.

Professor C. A. Leonard is acting professor of music in absence of Professor H. G. Bennett who is on his sabbatical leave. Sally Fisher, daughter of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, is studying at Vermont and is an assistant instructor in English.

S. K. Ratcliffe of London delivered a lecture, March 21, on "England in Crisis and Renewal."

The college glee club won fourth place in the New England glee club contest. It will present "Iolanthe" as its spring opera. Priscilla Perry has one of the leading roles, queen of the fairies. Marion Kiel directed one of the plays presented by the group players in which Rosemary Cahill had a part. The university choir presented Faure's "Requiem" for its annual Easter concert.

March 26 the Fraternity won a stunt contest held at the W.A.A. Indoor Rally. It was entitled "Mrs. Pennyfeather and her Spring Fashions." The pledges of Vermont B entertained the pledges of the other women's fraternities March 15. There has been a decided improvement in interfraternity spirit on the campus this year. The frozen nod has been replaced by a broad grin and a hearty "hello." The Fraternity now possessing a new house is able to use it for many informal functions, among them teas, honorary society meetings, "sugaring off's," and even small dinner parties. At the Coffee Corner during classes there are intermingling groups, not quite the former cliquy atmosphere. Perhaps, this is due to the decision of several members of the class of 1934, for Vermont is too small a college for cliques. One or two members from each fraternity are all cooperating and making the University of Vermont into a much more friendly campus.

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Pledge Day, November 2, 1933

INITIATED, March 25, 1933: Gifford Blunt, Braintree; Dorothea Miller, Chicago, Ill.; Sue Harper, Weymouth.

To promote friendship, the pledges of Massachusetts A gave a tea in the latter part of November to the pledges of other women's fraternities, and in February an interfraternity dance was held in which three of the Boston University fraternities joined to make the affair a success. The chapter has also sponsored two other dances since September, one of which was a pledge dance.

On March 13, Founders' Day was observed at the university. President Marsh spoke about the associate founders and introduced a number of their descendants; the university chorus, of which a number of the girls of the chapter are members, supplied the music for the occasion.

At the recent elections of the student house, Cynthia Darling was elected president, and Eileen Brown, who is on the committee for student-faculty stunt night, has also been appointed to the senior week committee. Marjorie Dickinson was in charge of the W.A.A. frolic held in the Rhoads Gymnasium.

Soon there is to be an indoor gym meet, and Martha Chapman is the captain of the sophomore team which is taking part. Several of the pledges and actives will also be in the meet.

PLEGDED: Helen Hollander, Amesbury; Janet Sherwin, Ayer; Dorothy Hey, Lawrence; Eleanor Martin, Marblehead; Rebecca Poole, Watertown; Beverly Dickinson, Winthrop; Maud Melville, Worcester.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Martha Chapman, Somerville.

INITIATED, March 4, 1933: Virginia Newkirk, Muriel Newkirk, Jean Kamerer, Jean Cooney, Schenectady; Catherine Byrne, Kingston; Mary Newberry, Canastota; Helen Cornwell, Wellsville; Nanette Unger, Palisade, N.J.; Jean Meiklejohn, Westfield, N.J.; Edna Schoellkopf, Chicago, Ill.; Dorothy Whiton, Evanston, Ill.; Helen MacDonald, Newark, N.J.

The Intercollegiate Urban Panhellenic Conference was held at Syracuse University on February 10 and 11. Miss Amy B. Onken, who was the delegate from National Panhellenic, took an active part in the conference. Miss Onken and delegates to the conference from New York  $\Gamma$  were entertained at the house during the conference.

The Military Ball, a traditional affair sponsored by W.A.A., was held on March 14. This ball is attended by the members of the women's fraternities and living centers, and aids greatly in developing a spirit of cooperation and friendliness among them. A circus theme was followed and the skits and side shows were in keeping with the general spirit. The chapter won the prize for the best costumes. Every member of the chapter dressed as either Mickey or Minnie Mouse.

At the initiation and banquet six representatives from New York  $\Delta$  were present; three delegates from New York  $\Lambda$  attended their initiation and banquet the previous week. Cornell and Syracuse take great pleasure in observing this custom.

The chapter has taken an active part in intramural basketball contests this year. These games offer an opportunity to the members of the different groups to become better acquainted.

The Syracuse Alumnae Club entertained the actives at the house on Founders' Day. At this time a scholarship ring was presented to Roberta Foreman in recognition of her high scholastic average during her freshman year. Vivian Whyte's name was placed on the scholarship cup because she obtained the highest average of her class in her sophomore year.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Marie Stebbins, Beta Province President, in March. A tea was held in her honor, and the alumnae club entertained her at their evening meeting and cooky-shine.

In order to meet the prevailing financial conditions, New York  $\Lambda$  has dispensed with its spring dues of \$20. Through the rigid economy that the chapter has practiced throughout the year, this reduction was made possible.

A new Catholic women's fraternity,  $\Lambda T \Delta$ , has been founded at Syracuse University.

Margaret Loop, who is an associate editor of The Daily Orange, campus newspaper, was elected to  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$  honorary journalistic fraternity. Roberta Foreman was elected finance chairman of city women's club. Janet Dunbar has been chosen to direct the sophomore play; this is the highest honor that a senior in the school of speech may obtain.

INITIATED, March 27, 1933: Clementina Goehry, Pleasantville; Barbara Mabe, Sidney; Elizabeth McDerment, Ogdensburg; Alice Shafto, Spring Lake, N.J.

New York  $\Gamma$  was first of the women's fraternities, being second only to the non-sorority group, on the scholarship list this semester, evidencing a three point rise since last fall.

Margaret Griffin was admitted to membership in  $\Phi B K$ .

Friendly relations between the fraternities on the St. Lawrence campus are achieved by dinner exchanges, serenades, and occasional teas.

Invitations to initiation ceremonies and initiatory banquets are extended to other  $\Pi B \Phi$  chapters in an attempt to further friendly connections.

Hazel Hart and Jean Woodcock, who is president of the Panhellenic Council, represented New York  $\Gamma$  at the convention at Syracuse. Jean led a round table discussion on scholarship.

W.A.A. held a winter carnival over the weekend of February 4. The last day, about sixty girls took a trip to Lake Placid.

The dramatic society presented "The Clod" and "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," in which Eleanor Ireland had a part.

A new plan for freshman orientation is being tried this year. A council of six juniors work with groups of freshmen, instructing them in the history of the college and in campus organizations.

The chapter had the pleasure of a visit from Mrs. Stebbins, Beta Province President, because of the illness of Mrs. Beattie.

Mrs. Stebbins was present at the initiatory banquet, which was held on March 31. The initiates, who presented a tableau of Robin Hood and his merry men, were serenaded by the fraternities, according to the St. Lawrence custom.

In April the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students of Coeducational Universities met for its annual convention at Cornell University. The Secretary of Labor, Miss Frances Perkins, was guest of honor.

During the annual farm and home week, Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt gave the leading address of the convention, Pearl S. Buck, author of The Good Earth and Sons, also gave an excellent address. At present, Dr. Bronislaw Malin-owski, from London University, is delivering a series of lectures on "Development of Culture," on the Non-Resident Lecture Foundation of Cornell. Dr. Otto Hahn, director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institution of Chemistry of Berlin, has come to the university as the non-resident lecturer of chemistry this year. Another interesting feature at Cornell at present is the set of lectures given by the faculty under student sponsorship.

In March, students at Cornell enjoyed concerts given by the famous violinist, Fritz Kreisler, and the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Nikolai Sokoloff.

The new agricultural economics building which has been under construction for the past two years is now opened for use.

New York  $\Delta$  was delighted to have Mrs. Stowell C. Stebbins, Beta Province President, visit in March.

The chapter has started a new custom of entertaining alumnae on Wednesdays and faculty on Sundays. This gives the girls a fine opportunity to entertain their professors.

On St. Patrick's Day the members acted as hostesses at a tea in Willard Straight Hall, March 19, New York  $\Delta$  gave a tea at the house for their student friends. The chapter has charge of the Panhellenic tea in May at which the intersorority scholarship cup will be awarded. Mrs. Paul Case, an alumna of Ohio  $\Delta$ , is entertaining the actives at a cooky-shine to be given at her home.

As is customary, initiation guests were exchanged with New York  $\Delta$ . The initiation banquet was held at the Ithaca Hotel and representatives of each class spoke; the alumnae address was given by Mrs. Victor Gage. Frank Zingerle, an initiate, was presented the recognition pin for scholarship which is handed down through the chapter.

Chartered, 1892

Pledge Day, No pledging

An effort has been made to maintain the high scholastic standards of  $\Pi B \Phi$  and to keep the interest of the members centered on such fraternity projects as the Settlement School, and the Fraternity as a great national unit.

With the selection of the class of 1937, the undergraduates are turning their thoughts to plans for next year. Collection Hall, the old assembly room, has been completely redecorated to furnish a center for future social activities of an informal nature. W.S.G.A. will continue its Friday afternoon teas throughout the year in an effort to promote friendliness between the members of the different classes. A student-faculty tea is also being planned for the near future. The organization will make more specific plans for next year following the election of new officers this spring. Announcement has recently been made of new Mortar Board members, one of whom is Ruth Kewley of Pennsylvania A. These girls will assist during freshman orientation week in the fall.

The Little Theater Club, following its policy of carrying on dramatic work without faculty supervision of any sort, presented "The Torch-bearers," a satire by George Kelly, the last of March. Four one-act plays, student written, cast, and directed, were given under its auspices on April 14. Somerville Forum, a society for the promotion of culture, presented Frank Lloyd Wright, noted architect and speaker, at its March meeting. Other speakers have been presented in the course of the last few months; among them, Paul Blanshard of the League of Industrial Democracy; Ralph Adams Cram, architect; Arnold-Foster of disarmament work fame; and Dr. Herman Ranke, authority on excavations in Egypt. Sponsored by the economics department, three speakers have delivered addresses at a series of luncheons, showing the relationship of various economic factors with modern life.

The women of the college have been kept busy with a number of social events, among them a "Kids' Party," characterized by lollypops, juvenile outfits, and see-saws. In addition to the annual  $\Pi B \Phi$  spring formal, April 22, there have been two W.S.G.A. formals, the glee club concert and prom, and the annual college spring prom just before spring vacation the last of March. At the first of the second semester, a Swarthmore house party was given at Skytop, in the Pocono Mountains, with dancing and winter sports as the main features.

PENNSYLVANIA BETA—BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, February 19, 1933

The general reorganization of Bucknell University continues. Not only have plans for changes in the curriculum and administrative departments been made, but architectural plans for several new buildings have been drawn. All that is lacking are the funds by which the construction of these new buildings may be made possible. A member of the class of 1915 has offered to match every dollar contributed by members of that class. J. Hillis Miller, dean of students, together with a personnel council of twelve faculty members, is working on the redistribution of campus activities. It is his plan to discontinue several campus groups and effect stricter regulations. As a part of this work, a student activity committee has been appointed. Isabelle Hatfield of  $\Pi B \Phi$  is the Panhellenic representative to this committee.

"Romeo and Juliet," the first Shakespearean play presented by Bucknell dramatic groups, was hailed as the greatest production given on the campus. This play, together with other fine productions, has led to the addition to the college curriculum of courses in dramatics and art.

A social trends parley, continuing several days, brought to the campus Protestant, Jewish, and Catholic men of prominence in the world of social change.

The annual "College Girls," a tea given by the women students for the faculty and wives, was held in the living room of the new dormitory.

The chapter awarded a prize of ten dollars to the active who made the greatest improvement in scholarship during the past semester. This award was made to Edna Cleckner, a senior, who played the leading rôle in "Ashes to Ashes," which was presented by the  $\Delta \Sigma$  fraternity of Bucknell University.

Panhellenic sponsored the first annual intersorority ball. The plan is that this ball be substituted for one of the four dances which each women's fraternity holds annually.

Fannie Wood, chapter president, was initiated into national honorary mathematics fraternity.

In the spirit of friendliness the freshman initiates and pledges of Pennsylvania  $\Gamma$  cooperating with the chapter social chairman entertained the other freshman girls of the college at a tea held in the rooms March 29.

March 25, the spring formal was held in the American Legion Hall. In spite of the snowy weather everyone had a good time.

Panhellenic held the first "all fraternity girls" dance April 6, the night before spring vacation. The dance should prove to be an annual affair. Already, in making preparations for it, more friendly interfraternity relations have been established.

Although there are no women's fraternity athletic teams, girls from the chapter have been strongly represented on all the class teams. The senior basketball team which won the basketball cup counted four members, June Bietsch, a freshman initiate, has been making a good showing in the swimming meets.

May 14 the Y.W.C.A. will sponsor a Mothers' Day celebration. This will include a special church service in the college church, a banquet, and in the afternoon a tea at Metzger Hall.

An all-girls' play day will be held May 13. Representatives from seven other colleges have been invited to participate. Lucretia Heisey is president of W.A.A., which is in charge of the arrangements.

The Dickinson College orchestra presented a Haydn concert in the college chapel, March 24.

The vocational guidance week which began April 3 was sponsored by Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Cards were distributed on which the students signified their choices of professions. An efficient person of each profession held conferences with students desiring to enter his or her profession.

Harriet Matter and Kathleen Rickenbaugh were recently elected vice-president and treasurer respectively of the Y.W.C.A.

Open house has been held several times at which girls from other fraternities, nonfraternity girls, and faculty members have been in attendance. At other times musicales and bridge teas have been held. This plan has proved successful, being informal and completely devoid of ceremony. Faculty members, girls from other fraternities, and transferred students from other colleges have been guests for dinner at the house. The house is always open to all girls and the members strive to preserve a cordial and homelike atmosphere at all times.

Girls from other chapters have been guests several times. Plans for a combined dinner of the Ohio chapters have been discussed.

Several dinners have been held for the entire chapter, followed by the singing of fraternity songs. It has developed an unusually fine spirit of cooperation and mutual interest among the members.

The annual prep follies was held on March 3. There were six fraternities entered and Ohio A won the decision with the skit called "Tumbling Technocracy." A spirit of mechanical action pervaded the entire skit and the Robot was most effective. Martha Frederick was general chairman of the production.

The committee has started work on the annual bulletin which is always presented at each Founders' Day banquet.

The junior prom was held on March 24. Glen Gray and his Casa Loma orchestra played for the event.

The chapter has two entrants in the Silver Mirror contest which is sponsored by Athens, the yearbook. The two girls are Erma Eiche and Virginia Lee Hamilton.

Jane Gill and Alice Beasley were pledged  $\Sigma$  A I.

In an effort to bring the actives and pledges in closer contact, Ohio B is planning to hold fireside sessions for the remainder of the year. At the first session on February 25, Madame Fouré, of the department of French, spoke on the system and school life of France. It is hoped that K A  $\Theta$  and II B  $\Phi$  will have some joint meetings of this kind. Prominent men and women of the campus will be asked to speak.

Strollers, the dramatic organization of the university, gave "Heartbreak House," by George B. Shaw, on March 3 and 4. Josephine Baker played the ingenue lead.

In the annual election of W.S.G.A., Carol Hagaman and Freda Postle were chosen sophomore representatives, Winifred Calloway junior, and Ellen Wiley senior members of the cabinet. Jean Hill was recently elected treasurer of Y.W.C.A. for the coming year.

INITIATED, March 19, 1933: Dorothy Bass, Huntington; Edna Duval, Wheeling; Marjorie England, Charleston; Margaret Giesey, Wheeling; Alma Fraser, Logan; Elizabeth Howard, Cameron; Evelyn Jones, Glenville; Dorothy Belle Upton, Clarksburg.

In the spring elections Betty Carson was elected president of W.S.G.A., and Margaret Wilbourn was elected president of Y.W.C.A.

Margaret Wilbourn, a member of the university women's debate team, has returned from a debating tour through Ohio. She visited several of the  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  chapters as well as other fraternities.

The chapter has been doing many things to promote friendship. Sunday evening teas are given for actives and pledges, and at intervals the alumnae join in. These teas are informal and have brought the girls together and developed stronger friendships. One night each week some pledge who does not live in the house comes to dinner. This does not make them feel that they are guests, but it makes them feel that they are really a part of the chapter.

The sororities on the campus have been promoting friendship through informal get-togethers, at which songs of the various groups are sung and light refreshments served, and intramural athletics, including basketball, volleyball, baseball, and bowling.

In the bowling tournament this chapter was the only sorority to go to the semi-finals. The tournament was won by the Methodist team.

The university social committee has abandoned all formal dances for fraternities, sororities, and all campus organizations. They are sponsoring informal dances at a very small cost to take the place of the others.

$\Pi \beta \Phi$  held a benefit bridge March 8, in Elizabeth Moore Hall for the benefit of the Settlement School. About seventy-five persons were present. Martha Furber, Settlement School chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

Roberta White, a pledge, was recently elected president of Woman's Hall for the coming year. Evelyn Jones was initiated into the Press club.

INITIATED, March 15, 1933: Betty Williams, Laurel, Del.; Margaret Stewart, Delta, Pa.; Torrance Speers, Belle Vernon, Pa.; Kathryn Ranck, Philadelphia, Pa.; Betty Tottle, Baltimore; Margaret Doubleday, Cooperstown, N.Y.

The annual Panhellenic dance was held February 22, at the Maryland Casualty Club. Annette Webster was chairman of the dance.

Masques and Faces, the college dramatic club, presented two plays, "Gruach," by Gordon Bottomley, and "Women Have Their Way," by the Quinteros. Madeline Bowler is chairman of the committee on make-up, and Betty Carson is chairman of the committee on scenery.

This year Baltimore has been fortunate in the number of good plays that have run here. Also several operas have been played, and many distinguished speakers visited the city. Among the outstanding plays and operatic productions were Marc Connelly's "The Green Pastures," and Gruenberg's "Emperor Jones," with Lawrence Tibbett singing the title rôle. T. S. Eliot, poet and critic, delivered a series of lectures; William Butler Yeats spoke on the Irish Renaissance.

In order to fill a long-felt need, the college is providing a recreation room for the students where they may entertain their escorts. The room was furnished by subscription and opened the first week in April.

The chapter was visited in December by Mary J. Hornaday, Gamma Province President, who was very helpful in arranging a scholarship program to fill the need of the chapter.

In order to more firmly establish friendship between pledges and actives, it was arranged to have the members meet the pledges at the rooms for several hours each Sunday night, the gatherings being very informal. Each fraternity on the campus has been giving a series of teas, one for the actives and their friends, and one for the pledges and their friends, in order to foster interfraternity friendship.

Annette Webster and Elizabeth Edmundson have been elected "also ran," which is recognition for outstanding work in scholarship and activities.

Madeline Bowler has been elected chairman of junior-senior banquet. Annette Webster is chairman of senior tea dance.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, February 28, 1933

GRADUATES: A.M., Dorothy Willard; A.B., Anita Dunlap, Betsy Garrett, Jean Lilly, and Marjorie Montgomery.

In fostering interfraternity friendliness, the chapter gave its annual open house March 12. The rooms had been redecorated for the occasion, and it proved to be the most successful one in years, as not only students but also professors and their wives attended. Once a year the chapter girls entertain at a luncheon to which they invite the presidents of other sororities; a representative from each sorority is extended an invitation to attend the June dance in honor of the graduates.

The city Panhellenic gave a luncheon on February 4 at which Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen,  $\Delta \Gamma$ , was the principal speaker. Approximately 600 fraternity women attended, of whom 100 were members of  $\Pi \beta \Phi$ . A luncheon was given by the George Washington Panhellenic in honor of the active and pledge from each sorority who made the highest scholastic record for the semester of their group. The chapter participates in all of the intramural athletics, as do the other sororities on the campus, and in this way friendly competition is fostered.

Thirteen members from District of Columbia A attended the installation of the new chapter at Duke University. They brought back inspiration derived from the ceremonies and also news of the southern hospitality of North Carolina B.

Virginia Hawkins was elected editor-in-chief of the Cherry Tree, the university's annual. She is the third member in four years to have this honor. Betsy Garrett has been elected secretary of the senior class, and Catherine Prichard has been initiated into Hour Glass, honorary activities sorority; Virginia Hawkins has been pledged to this sorority. A A  $\Delta$ , honorary scholarship sorority for freshman women, has pledged Marjorie Nelson. Doris Thomas obtained the much coveted leading rôle in the drama club's annual spring performance.

PLEGDED: Margaret Clark, Peggy English, Ruth McNary (repledged), and Doris Thomas.

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, October 8, 1932

INITIATED, February 25, 1933: Marian McAmbly, Custer City, Pa.; Elizabeth Goodyear, Carlisle, Pa.; Katherine Stone, Fort Worth, Tex.; Dorothy Combs, Josephine Culp, El Dorado, Ark.; Mary Porter Echols, Alderson, W.Va.; Mary Craig Suiter, Garysburg, N.C.

The recent announcement that Dr. Theodore H. Jack, present vice-president of Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, is to be Randolph-Macon's next president was greeted with enthusiasm by the college. Dr. Jack made his first appearance on this campus at a concert given by the Emory glee club, February 23. The new president will be installed next fall.

José Iturbi, the renowned Spanish pianist, appeared here, March 7, in the last of the concerts sponsored by the fine arts committee.

Virginia Martin was elected vice-president of Y.W.C.A. in February.

The nineteenth annual observance of Randolph-Macon's Founders' Day was held March 11 in the Smith Memorial Auditorium. The exercises began with the customary academic procession. Dr. Robert McElroy, professor of American history, Oxford University, England, made the address, speaking on "The Need for an International Mind." A reception followed the address.

Another time honored custom was observed March 14 with the celebration of "even day." Elizabeth Goodyear, Marian McAmbly, Virginia Martin, and Josephine Culp were among the loyal Evens who transformed the halls into well-known places in the Land of Oz.

Margaret Humbert recently made the staff of the Old Maid, the only humor magazine in the United States published by a woman's college.

The feeling of fraternity rivalry has never been in great evidence on Randolph-Macon's campus due to the fact that students live in the dormitories where there is no classification according to fraternities. Such a democratic interfraternity spirit is further fostered by Panhellenic coffees which are held by every fraternity in its lodge at least once a year. It has also been the policy of Virginia A to show friendliness toward other chapters on campus by sending greeting cards at Christmas time.

Efforts to bind the chapter and the freshmen more closely together are also made by holding closed house for the freshmen, the first Sunday in every month at the lodge. The lodge is a small house, consisting of living room, dining room, sun parlor, and kitchen; it is the place where the scattered members of the fraternity may meet in close friendship. The chapter and the pledges always cook dinner at the house once every month. Aside from these customary contacts, members of the chapter often invite the pledges and freshmen to eat dinner and spend the night with them.

Transfers to Randolph-Macon are introduced to the college by some chapter member in particular who becomes her sponsor and who, for a period of two months, assists her in getting acquainted with the college, the students, and faculty, and the chapter.

Closer contacts with faculty members are made through teas which the chapter holds once or twice a year.

Virginia A keeps in communication with other chapters in her province through the exchange of the Arrowette, a little magazine which gives news of the members of the chapter and their achievements.

VIRGINIA GAMMA—COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

INITIATED, April 1, 1933: Jane Ayres, Williamsburg; Mildred Heinemann, Kansas City, Mo.; Elizabeth Jones, Norfolk; Ruth Sharrett, Manassas; Jane Steele, Ann Weaver, Washington, D.C.

GRADUATES: Mary Elizabeth Chambers, Washington, D.C.; Letitia Hairston, Roanoke; Gladys Monroe, Savannah, Ga.; Dorothy Trent, Portsmouth.

The deep spirit of friendship which cements all  $\Pi \beta \Phi$ s together was strengthened by the installation of North Carolina B at Duke University, February 17, 1933. Nancy DeLashmutt, Gladys Monroe, Ann Petty, and Dorothy Trent represented Virginia  $\Gamma$  on the great occasion. They returned with glowing reports of the new chapter and of the university. In these days of crises it is not possible to do much visiting among the various chapters, but Virginia  $\Gamma$  has always an open house to any  $\Pi \beta \Phi$  who may pass through Williamsburg. In meetings it is always customary to relate some incident concerning another chapter of the Fraternity. This has proved interesting as well as worth while.

The practice of often visiting friends in other fraternities has been found to be a very sure way of maintaining a friendly campus feeling. Fraternity magazines are frequently exchanged. Also, the once perplexing problem of drawing non-fraternity women into a cordial attitude towards fraternity women is no longer a matter of distress to the chapter. The actives as well as the pledges have formed the habit of bringing non-fraternity women to the house after class, and encouraging them to drop in whenever they have a free hour. Every Monday afternoon the pledges and actives alternate in giving informal teas for campus women and members of other fraternities.

Since the beginning of the new semester, every Saturday night is devoted to the pledges. They all spend the night in the house. Informal parties are given, at each of which every girl is called upon for some impromptu stunt. The results are thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining.

The recent elections for the W.S.G.A. have swept into office two chapter girls; Ruth Kolb was elected junior representative to the honor council, and Virginia Clark was elected representative-at-large to the executive council.

Betty Reeves, Ruth Sharrett, and Mary Allen were chosen to play leading parts in the comic opera "H.M.S. Pinafore," presented April 6 and 7.

Initiation was followed by a beautiful and impressive banquet held at the Williamsburg Inn. The inn itself is a quaint place which has been remodelled by the Rockefeller Restoration. After the banquet, the girls all attended the co-ed cabaret and dance in Blow Gymnasium.

PLEGDED: Mary Allen, Williamsburg; Virginia Harris, Mineral; Ann Perry, Washington, D.C.; Edith Rohmer, Allandale, N.J.; Ruth Sharrett, Manassas.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Virginia Clark, Headquarters, 15th Naval District, Balboa, Canal Zone.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Pledge Day, October 17, 1932

INITIATED, January 28, 1933: Grace Bowes, Rockingham; Marina Henry, Chapel Hill; Katherine Jamieson, Oxford; Elizabeth Johnson, Eustis, Fla.; Anne Simms, Raleigh; Sarah Vann, Franklinton; Mary Ellen Watts, Charlotte; Charlotte Winborne, Marion.

North Carolina A was more than fortunate to be the nearest chapter to Duke University, for the installation of North Carolina B. This brought to North Carolina A new inspiration and a long-hoped-for opportunity to meet many national officers. Through meeting these officers, especially Miss Onken, North Carolina A gained a new idea of the Fraternity and its ideals. All the members feel also that having another chapter so near will mean close cooperation and a better feeling between the co-eds of the university and the women students of Duke, for as yet there is some rivalry between the two schools.

North Carolina A played a basketball game against X Ω and beat them by a good score—42-10. In fact, Betsy Harding exerted herself so strenuously that she broke a toe. The proceeds of the game were divided between the two fraternities and were used for charity. North Carolina A devoted its share to Settlement School.

During the winter quarter a tea was given at the house for the actives and pledges. The whole chapter sat on the floor and devoured buns and apples and sang. It was such a success that a similar tea was given.

Six members of the chapter made the honor roll for the winter quarter. Three passed their comprehensive examinations, which are roughly comparable to the Tripos examinations given before graduation from the English universities.

While the banks were closed, the week-end after examinations, the week-end that should have begun spring holidays, President Frank Graham planned a "Depression Week-end." There was a baseball game Saturday afternoon and a dance that night, with a figure for faculty members. There were also stunts. A decorating committee and an orchestra offered their services gratis. Sunday the student body gave a reception to the faculty. And Sunday night three Pi Phis were hostesses at a reception given at the President's home by the President to the students.

Altogether the students were entirely consoled for the temporary loss of their holidays, especially when the bill to cut appropriations was defeated.

Pledge Day, Indefinite

INITIATED, February 17, 1933: Sylvia Hunsicker, Allentown, Pa.; Margie Voigt, Philadelphia, Pa.; Elvira Burleigh, Rutherford, N.J.; Mary Reed, Newark, N.J.; Rivera Ingle, East Orange, N.J.; Frances Wise, Hillsdale, N.J.; Mary Stanter, Peekskill, N.Y.; Courtney Crowder, Jarrat, Va.; Ruth Martin, Richmond, Va.; Alma Love, Hopkinsville, Ky.; Kathleen Holloway, Montgomery, Ala.; Denzil Langston, Orlando, Fla.; Clyde Allison, Yanceyville; Mrs. Ernest Andrews, Jr., Christine Umstead, Nora deBruyne, Evelyn Newton, Ola Simpson, Pauline Tilley, Myrtice Ward, Mary Frances Ivey, Ruth Forlines, Lucile Draughon, Lillian Collins, Helen Card, Durham.

North Carolina B is happy to submit its first letter to the ARROW. The new chapter had the inestimable good fortune to be installed by Miss Onken personally. She was assisted by Mary Hornaday, Gamma Province President, and Martha Thomas of North Carolina A, and Frances Richardson of Virginia A. Four from Virginia P, five from Virginia A, thirteen from South Carolina A, and thirteen from District of Columbia A attended the installation as well as a large number of girls from North Carolina A. Besides this, Mrs. Comer, assistant to the Grand Vice-President, and many other alumnae were there. The group was very happy that ninety-two were at the banquet.

North Carolina B wants to thank everyone for the letters and telegrams of congratulation. Perhaps no one who has not been a member of a newly installed chapter can realize how much it means to feel that sisters all over the country are welcoming them into the Fraternity. The chapter received many lovely gifts and flowers from various organizations and individuals on the campus. They would especially like to thank Virginia P for the silver bowl, Sarah Sue Robinson, Tennessee A, for the two vases, and their advisory council in Durham composed of Mrs. Vernon Altwater, Colorado B, Mrs. L. I. Fuller, California A, Mrs. Carl M. Voyles, Illinois A, Mrs. Kate Graham Murphy, North Carolina A, Mrs. Morton Mason, Oregon B, Augusta Laxton, Florida A, and Mrs. Owens, Virginia A, for a large, gilt, wooden arrow, set with eleven electric lights.

The new chapter, having reached their goal of Π B Φ, do not feel that they can rest on past achievements but are working even harder to bring new laurels. In the recent elections, Frances Wise was elected vice-president of the sophomore class, Mary Stanter was elected president of the newly chartered League of Women Voters, Sylvia Hunsicker was elected president of Pegrum House. The various house presidents serve on the judicial board of W.S.G.A. Courtney Crowder was elected to Θ A Φ, national honorary dramatic fraternity. This honor was shared by only five co-eds. Lucile Draughon was recently initiated into K Δ Π, national honorary educational fraternity, and both she and Myrtice Ward were also initiated into Φ B K. All of the seniors, five in number, are on the dean's list which entitles them to unlimited cuts. The chapter had the second highest scholastic average of the sororities on the campus.

PLEGDED: Ethel Whittemore.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Elvira Burleigh, 127 Prospect Pl., Rutherford, N.J. SYLVIA HUNSICKER

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, February 13, 1933

INITIATED, March 22, 1933: Cornelia Reamer, Columbia.

South Carolina A ranked fourth in scholarship for the entire university and second among sororities on the campus. Statistics show that this is a great improvement over last year, at which time it ranked sixth among sororities.

Professor Yates Snowden, authority on South Carolina history and head of the history department at the university, recently died.

Eleven members motored to Duke University at Durham for the installation of North Carolina B. Among the entertainments were a banquet and a dance given in honor of the initiates.

It was decided by a majority vote of Panhellenic that there would be no formal rush week this semester. Next rushing season will begin in September. The chapter has formulated new plans for informal rushing. Each girl is given the names of two rushees to visit during the week; a small fine is imposed for failure to communicate with them.

Instead of having one formal dance this spring, informal parties for the rushees will be given at the sorority house every other Friday night. Certain chapter members will come with a limited number of rushees as honor guests.

The Columbia Alumnae Club, consisting of ten members, has just been formed. The club meets bi-monthly at the homes of the various alumnae. The alumnae club and the mothers' club recently gave a shower for the house. The mothers' club had a bridge tournament last month and raised $20 to pay on a debt of the chapter.

The regular open house which is held once a month was enjoyed the last Sunday in February by representatives from the fraternities.

The chapter has Margie Bright, graduate of the University of Texas, as special adviser for the spring term.

Jane Bayard and Martha Aiken made the dean's honor roll for first semester.

Eleanor McColl was elected treasurer and Margaret Yeadon junior orator of the Euphrosenean Literary Society. Margaret Yeadon is also vice-president of Y.W.C.A.

At the last meeting of Damas, Mary Lees Graham was elected junior leader.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Mary Lees Graham, 30 Gibbs Court, Columbia, S.C.

ASSISTANT CHAIRMAN: Katherine Townsend, 1610 Green St., Columbia, S.C.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1887

Pledge Day, February 18, 1933

INITIATED, March 18, 1933: Helene Bates, Chicago, Ill.; Bernice Loutzenheiser, Gothenburg, Neb.; Dorothy Deuel, Marshall; Judy Nystrom, Chicago, Ill.; Peggy Perrine, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Phyllis Rasp, Chicago, Ill.; Helen Vibbert, Detroit. The chapter has made great strides this year in establishing friendship bonds between the actives and pledges by urging them to spend more time at the house.

The Yale-Princeton game has been a highlight in promoting intersorority friendliness. This was a new feature this year in the girls' athletic calendar. Two all-college basketball teams were chosen, one called Yale, and the other Princeton. The sororities and halls were divided into two groups, one backing Princeton and the other Yale; Michigan A wore the blue and white for Yale. Everyone came out for the game and found themselves yelling for a team composed of "Pi Phis," "Kappas," "S A Is," and "non-frats." It was an overtime game and still it ended in a tie. This event proved a successful attempt to overcome petty rivalry and to promote friendliness among the sororities.

The friendship problem which has yet to be worked out is that of establishing closer relations between the girls of Michigan A and other chapters nearby, but the chapter is already working on this.

At the banquet following initiation, Dorothy Deuel was presented with a II B  $\Phi$  bracelet, given on the basis of fine scholarship, outstanding achievement, and cooperation with the chapter during her pledgesship.

Again this semester the alumnae gave scholarships covering entire tuition to two of the actives, Margaret Thiele and Marjorie Brown.

A scholarship to the University of Michigan is given each year. The faculty decided on the basis of scholarship and campus activities that this award should go to Evelyn Harwood this year.

PLEGDED: Margaretta Dehring, Alpena, Mich.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Arelene Thomas, in care of Professor Thomas, Case College, Cleveland, Ohio.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Pledge Day, November 30, 1932

INITIATED, March 11, 1933: Mary Jane Cummings, Battle Creek; Betty Scherling, Dorothy Dishman, Margaret Welch, Detroit; Patricia Daly, St. Clair; Margaret Hiscock, Ann Arbor; Elisabeth Van Winkle, Howell; Francine Wright, Grand Rapids; Virginia Bell, Elsie; Betty Bowman, Duluth, Minn.; Emmilou Bowser, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Virginia Hartz, Evansville, Ind.; Mary Ann Mathewson, Richmond, Va.; Dorothy Roth, Washington, D.C.; Else Sparre, Wilmington, Del.; Mary Kathryn Snyder, Cleveland, Ohio; Margaret Youtz, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Elizabeth Woolman, Rio de Janeiro, South America.

The Michigan state legislature is discussing whether or not the University of Michigan should continue on the present budget, or be decreased 50 per cent. This problem is of great concern in university circles. It will not only mean a decrease in the number of faculty members, but probably fewer students because of a necessary increase of tuition.

The university has sponsored a series of lectures on marriage relationships.

One of the main attractions at the annual May Festival will be the world premier of Howard Hanson's opera, "Merry Mount," to be given the evening of May 20. The author will personally conduct the opera, which will be accompanied by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

The chapter has decided to join with the alumnae again this year and go to Dearborn Inn, located between Ann Arbor and Detroit, in celebration of the Founders' Day. The celebration last year was there also, and proved such an ideal place that it was again chosen.

The annual junior girls' play, given entirely by university women, was produced March 22 through 25. The play, written by Marian Giddings, is concerned with the tour of a group of young Americans through Europe. Important parts were held by Ruth Campbell, the comedy lead, and Mary Ann Mathewson, the leading lady. Every junior girl in the chapter participated in the play in some capacity, either in the cast, in a chorus, or on a committee.

The chapter has exchange dinners with other fraternities for the purpose of maintaining friendly feelings between houses. A class of girls is sent to a fraternity who send in return all of their members of another class.

Special activities for transfers are no longer carried on as such, due to the fact that they are now members of the chapter. The transfers were asked over immediately after enrolling. They aided in rushing and at fraternity functions. Being such an asset to the chapter as well as congenial within it, they became active. In maintaining friendliness with initiates (ex-pledges) the chapter encourages them to make the house their home. There is never a study hour imposed.

Ann Osborn was elected vice-chairman of the 1934 junior girls' play. The frolic frolic this spring was led by Margaret Mustard. At the annual Crease dance, March 31, given by the Law Club, Mae Keller, '27, led. Margaret Martindale was elected to the officers' cabinet of M O E, national honorary musical sorority. Marian Giddings was elected as a junior member into  $\Phi$  K K.

PLEGGED: Margaret Mustard, Battle Creek; Martha Steen, Pittsburgh, Pa.

AFFILIATED: Mary McCarthy, Carol Maujer, Ann Osborn, Mary Lee Watson, Mollie Armstrong.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Fitzpatrick, Wardell Apts., Detroit.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Pledge Day, September 17, 1932

The encouragement of friendship among all the members has been fostered by Indiana A through various internal activities. Some years ago the institution of a court of law was initiated. This joint meeting of the actives and pledges is featured by general chapter announcements and advice and informal entertainment. Specific friendly relationship between the actives and pledges is created by the sponsor system. Sponsors are announced each semester and for this period they give the benefit of an understanding friendship to their respective sponsees. Frequently, spreads are held in which everyone in the chapter participates and contributes.

The pledges facilitate friendly associations with the other organizations on the campus by entertaining the pledge groups of all the other sororities at a breakfast-bridge. This has been an annual function of the  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  pledge group for a number of years.

Indiana A has also shared in the development of amicable relations with the other  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  chapters in the state. The chapter entertained four members of the Indiana I chapter as its week-end guests following the Butler-Franklin basketball game. Two actives attended the initiation services of Indiana B, and two also were guests at its winter formal. Invitations have been offered to and extended by the Indiana chapters for various week-end visits.

A dramatic stunt was presented by the pledges at the annual birthday party given by the alumnae club in commemoration of the founding of Indiana A. Several of the charter members were present.

Mrs. Robert Beisel, Delta Province President, visited the chapter during the week-end of January 13. The pledges entertained with a luncheon and the actives gave a dinner in her honor.

Miss Jeannette Zeppenfeld, one of Indiana A's fourteen founders, was the guest speaker at a recent pledge meeting. She recounted many significant incidents that occurred in the early years of the college and the chapter.

Mary Ritz, president, has been elected to Gold Quill, highest honorary campus organization for women. Beatrice Roehm, a pledge, is a member of the varsity women's debating squad and attended the  $\Pi$  K  $\Delta$  provincial convention in Maryville, Tenn.

The chapter provided entertainment for the Cincinnati University co-ed debaters during their visit following the Cincinnati-Franklin debate.

Early in the evening of February 9, a fire, caused by a defective furnace, started in the basement, trunk room, and fraternity room. It spread to the first floor and caused damage to the extent of $1000. Members of Indiana B were forced to spend the night in the women's dormitory nearby.

Panhellenic is sponsoring a women's fraternity exchange once a month to create interfraternal co-operations and friendships. Indiana B is continuing the adoption of the system of inviting representatives from other chapters of  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  in Indiana to its dances and initiations. All transfers have been invited to dinner frequently and Indiana B is endeavoring to help them become acquainted with its girls and with the campus.

"The Only Girl," the yearly campus musical production and previously known as "Jordan River Revue," was given on March 29 and 30. A cabaret dance to this play was given on March 31.

Floy Frank is on the freshman recognition list of Mortar Board. Marjorie Giffin was appointed to the senior cabinet of Y.W.C.A. and to the committee for the annual university sing. Invitations for initiation are sent to all chapters in Indiana for any two actives by Indiana I. Many of the girls are attending dances and other social functions at the various colleges in the state.

Pledges of Indiana I are encouraged to confide in the actives as to difficulties in scholarship, activities, etc. Since Indiana I has set high scholarship as its aim for the year, actives are trying to help the pledges form good study habits by studying in the university library every day with those pledges who have not made the required average (1.3).

Friendliness between the chapter and the other campus social organizations is furthered by exchanging dinner dates and by inviting representatives from each house to each of the teas given during the year. Teas and dinners are used as a means of becoming better acquainted socially with members of the faculty, both those with whom the girls work in class and those whom they would have no opportunity to meet and know otherwise.

Transfers from other chapters are always invited to live in the house if they can be accommodated, and they quickly become one of the group and take an active interest in chapter affairs.

On several week-end nights actives and pledges living out of the house have been asked to spend the night at the house, where an informal pre-bedtime gathering is held with stunts and songs and refreshments. The chapter also encourages girls who live in town to spend at least one night a month in the house.

In the scholarship rating recently issued by university authorities, the chapter placed second among women's fraternities.

Lillian Peterson, freshman pledge, was chosen by a committee of prominent men on the campus to represent the university in the Big Ten beauty contest held at Northwestern University in February.

Gold Peppers, women's athletic booster organization, recently initiated Mary Blind, Mabelle Cutler, and Hope VanSchiever. Scribes, women's journalistic honorary, chose Dorothy Dampier, Mary Blind, and Mabelle Cutler. Mary Blind was initiated in March into  $\Theta$  X  $\Gamma$ , women's honorary English society.

In women's sports, Hope VanSchiever made both the varsity volleyball and hockey teams. Lillian Peterson, Jane Lommel, and Mary Ann Phillips were members of the freshman rifle team, the latter being chosen on the varsity squad. Jane Lommel, Louise Caldwell, and Marjorie Johnson played on the freshman basketball team which won the inter-class championship.

Mrs. Lutzer Stark, Grand Secretary, was the guest of Missouri A during the second week in March, when she made her official visit. A tea was given at the house in honor of Mrs. Stark and alumnae and members were introduced to her. She made a very interesting and instructive address to the chapter, and plans for raising the scholarship average and for increasing the interest in student activities were discussed.

The chapter entertained with a formal dance the evening of March 10 at the house. The first floor was decorated with 1500 balloons of varied colors which were strung from the ceiling.

The first week-end in May will be devoted to the entertainment of high school students of the state, as has been the custom of many years. Missouri A has issued invitations for a slumber party and a luncheon to be given in honor of the visiting high school girls. This week-end is one of the best rushing points for the coming year, since it is possible to make acquaintances with many of the girls who will be attending the university next year.

In the intramural basketball games which were played during the first two months of the semester Missouri A placed second. A  $\Delta$  II was the winner of first place.

Mary Beverly Neill received the chapter's scholarship ring for the pledge having the highest grades at the end of the first semester.

The revival of co-ed vodvil, which was presented on two consecutive evenings, was a huge success. Every women's fraternity and the Independent Women's Association gave a ten-minute skit before a large and appreciative audience. Mortar Board was in charge of the affair and applied the proceeds towards a scholarship fund. The undertaking did much to create friendliness and co-operation among women students through a mutual attempt to produce an enjoyable program.

Within the chapter itself a friendly atmosphere has been maintained by means of frequent cooky-shines at which entertainment was furnished by members of the chapter. Furthermore, representatives from other chapters are always invited to chapter dances.

The chapter enjoyed immensely the visit of the Grand Secretary, Mrs. Stark. On the last evening of her visit she gave a very helpful and inspiring talk which was deeply appreciated.

At the annual junior prom, three of the four special maids were Genevieve Penney, Jim Miller, and S. Marie Vaughn. The retiring queen, Katharine Fisher, was also a member of the chapter.

Emily Pope and Margaret Watson have been elected to A Z II, honorary romance language fraternity. Jocelyn Taylor has been elected to H E F, honorary classical fraternity, and also to Z F H, honorary dramatic fraternity for women. S. The Student Senate organization has recently changed personnel. Instead of electing members from each class as formerly, one representative is chosen from each sorority and fraternity and four from the independent group. The plan has so far proved quite successful.

A large speech arts conference, to which high school seniors from all the schools in Southwest Missouri are invited, is being planned. One of the events of the conference is to be a progressive luncheon, with each sorority and fraternity serving one course.

Since it was voted this year to dispense with formal dances for each separate sorority, because of expenses, the four women's fraternities recently cooperated in giving a Panhellenic dance. The Valentine theme was developed in the decorations and programs.

A short time ago Missouri Gamma held a Sunday afternoon open house to which the members brought guests, other women of the campus.

The Liberal Club, a non-political college organization interested in world affairs, recently conducted a model League of Nations to which delegates from Missouri colleges were invited.

The chapter enjoyed a very helpful visit from Mrs. Nita Hill Stark in March.

The Drury Players are working on the production of "The Devil's Disciple," by Bernard Shaw. Virginia Jones is a member of the cast.

INITIATED, April 22, 1933: Carolyn Straeffer, Adaline Lewman.

The week-end of March 24 the University of Louisville Players Club presented Sierra's play, "The Cradle Song." Kentucky Alpha was well represented, both in the play and behind the scenes.

Dulcinea Straeffer, who was elected by an all-school vote at registration as the most representative woman student on the campus, will have a full-page picture in the school annual, The Thoroughbred, on the staff of which she also serves as chairman of the activities committee.

One of the outstanding events for Kentucky Alpha this year was the visit of Epsilon Province President, Mrs. Loretta Chapman Terrell, in February; during her visit the chapter entertained at the house with a tea to which faculty members and fraternity and sorority presidents were invited.

In April Miss Onken officiated at the initiation ceremony. Various entertainments were planned in her honor.

This year the university is planning a carnival, to be given the first part of May; this will end with a ball which is to be broadcast over WHAS. Another innovation is the interfraternity dance, held April 1. Kentucky Alpha's spring formal is planned for June 5, the day before graduation.

On March 24, Kentucky Alpha had two guests from Ohio State University, one of whom, Mary Beth Snyder, is a member of Ohio Beta.

Tennessee Alpha has a plan for raising her scholarship average during the second semester which requires each active to attain the point average that has been her highest point average since entering school.

The pledges gave a treasure hunt in honor of the actives a week before initiation. Attractive clues were made in the form of jig-saw puzzles and the hunt ended with a wiener roast at the home of one of the pledges.

The actives were hostesses at a slumber party given in honor of the pledges the night before initiation. The alumnae club entertained with a cooky-shine honoring initiates following initiation.

Twenty-one actives and pledges were honored by having their names appear on the dean's list for good scholarship published at the end of the first semester. Juanita Walter made the university honor roll with a point average of 2.67.

Tennessee Alpha was so glad to have as its guest in February, Mrs. Loretta Chapman Terrell, the President of Epsilon Province, who made such a helpful visit.

Gladys Roberts, Rebecca Jones, Grace Browne, Dorothy Wilber, and Mayme Callaway Bird are members of the St. Cecilia chorus which was presented in its spring concert in February. Ruth Wilber was one of the violinists for the concert.

Ruth Shipp is a member of the Spanish play cast.

In the recent election sponsored by the Echo, student publication, Blanche Fox was elected the most beautiful girl on the university campus. Mary Alice Witt was one of the two girls elected in the "cutest-girl" contest.

Mary Lou Catlett led the junior prom with the president of the junior class, Howard Nelson. Juanita Walter led the senior class at the prom with the senior president, Stanley Brading.

The actives and pledges gave a formal tea in honor of the patronesses on the afternoon of March 21. A program was given throughout the afternoon composed of selections by the chapter's octet accompanied by Gladys Roberts, a piano solo by Mary Alice Witt, vocal solo by Rebecca Jones, accompanied by Agnes Gabbard, and a reading by Marguerite Bacon.

INITIATED, February 26, 1933: Caroline Clayton, Eufala; Lydia Taylor, Birmingham.

Alabama A is exerting a special effort to foster a finer friendly spirit on this campus. In cooperation with Panhellenic, some social fraternity, honorary fraternity, or club sponsors a tea in the Stockham Woman's Building every Sunday afternoon. Alabama A had the privilege of acting as hostesses on March 26 to the student body and friends of the college. Also, at least two representatives of Alabama A attend these functions regularly.

There are six members of  $\Pi B \Phi$  at the University of Alabama who were able to attend Alabama A's formal dance on January 26. The entire chapter was present at a benefit bridge recently given by the alumnae. The actives also cooperated with the alumnae by selling tickets to other sorority girls.

The pledges entertained the actives with a kid party recently. A plan for the actives to supervise the pledges' study has been evolved and promises to promote better scholarship as well as a closer relationship between the actives and pledges.

The spring luncheon of the Birmingham Panhellenic was an event of April that a large percentage of the chapter attended. This year the alumnae had charge of the program and the active chapter participated in carrying it out.

The pledges, recently initiated, entertained the actives with a kid party at the home of Bette Stover.

In the play, "Eloise Chimes," given March 9 and 10 and written by Dr. Lincoln Hulley, seven of the actives and pledges took part. A good part was portrayed by Martha Clayton in the Pulitzer prize play, "Beyond the Horizon," by Eugene O'Neill.

There were five members of the chapter on the sophomore basketball team which won the intramural championship recently. Mary Louise Foad and Georgia Kirby hold the Stetson girls' championship tennis doubles title. In the finals they played against two other members of the chapter, Betty Foad and Mary Harris Ezell.

Sarah Wilson and Eloise Hill have pledged  $\Pi K \Sigma$ ; Sarah has also been elected president of their pledges. Marjorie Hammer and Helen May Christian have been pledged to  $\Phi B$ , national musical sorority.

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 24, 1933

INITIATED, March 10, 1933: Lillian Baker, Miami; Emma Lee Goodwin, Gainesville; Marjorie Helvenston, Atlanta, Ga.; Helen Kibler, Lakeland; Mary Lanier, Orlando; Mary Irene McKay, Tampa; Genevieve Morris, St. Petersburg; Carroll Patterson, Miami; Sarah Stuart, Tampa; Elizabeth Williams, St. Petersburg; Agnes Wright, Miami.

Florida B's annual initiation breakfast was held at the Floridan Hotel. The tables were decorated with spring flowers and each initiate received a corsage of sweet peas, also a recognition pin given to her by her sponsor. Anna Marie Dungan, a transfer from Butler and who was elected president in the spring election, acted as toastmistress. Her grandmother, Mrs. S. O. Dungan, Indiana A, was here to see Anna Marie preside. During the breakfast Mrs. Dungan presented her with a diamond guard made in the form of F B (Florida B). Roses were sent to the actives and new initiates by Lucia Booth, a K K I who came to Florida State this January from George Washington University.

Rebekah Stewart, Zeta Province President, was the guest of the chapter for the week-end of initiation.

Joy Makinson was elected president of Y.W.C.A. Marguerite Groover was tapped for freshman commission and Marjorie Helvenston was chosen for freshman cabinet. Commission is made up of a group of girls from the freshman class tapped each year in March; these girls act as the organ between their class and the upperclassmen. Cabinet is also made up of freshmen and is an organization dealing with Y.W. work. Eleanor McCrea was the honorary cadet colonel, R.O.T.C., at the military ball, held at the University of Florida in February. Nyra Nooney, Charlotte Stevens, Elizabeth Williams, and Myrtle Carlson were also sponsors.

The juniors and seniors were given the privilege of dancing in the sorority houses several weeks ago. This is usually prohibited but was allowed again the week-end of the junior-senior prom.

Cooky-shines seem to be an excellent method to promote friendliness in the chapter, between actives and pledges. Several times this year pledges have given parties for the old girls and this has proven a successful way to establish a friendly feeling. Florida B has entertained the other chapters on this campus numerous times this year with teas and after dinner coffees. There seems to be an exceptionally good attitude among all fraternities here and parties given by pledges at the first of the year and teas given later by the actives do much to improve this feeling.

Lucy Pope, president of college government association, is leaving soon to attend the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments convention to be held at Randolph-Macon, Lynchburg, Virginia. Lucy has also been chosen by the students as queen of the May Day festival and Helen Gray has been elected a maid.

Helen Wilson was recently appointed financial chairman of Y.W.C.A. and was elected freshman adviser by the Student Senate.

Lucy Pope and Helen Gray will be in the feature section of the Fla. State, the college annual, this year. Lucy was chosen the most ideal girl in school, by popular vote, and Helen Gray was elected the most intellectual.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Nyra Nooney, 2245 Herschel St., Jacksonville.

The house was opened to visiting alumnae who were entertained at a tea on February 18.

Famous artists who gave recitals in the Annie Russell Theatre this season were Edith Wynne Matthison, William Harms, Ruth St. Dennis, and Leo Luboshutz.

It has long been a dream of this chapter that the three Florida chapters could have a house party at Daytona Beach and Florida  $\Gamma$  hopes to see it materialize sometime in May.

Arrow nights, informal dances held at the house each week, which were discontinued last term due to conflicting activities, were started again from April through May.

Miss Rebekah Stewart, Zeta Province President, visited the chapter during March at which time the chapter entertained with a tea. Sixteen pledges entertained the chapter at a luncheon early in February.

The annual tea for Florida  $\Gamma$  patronesses and an exhibition of Settlement School articles was given in February. Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren, donor of the Knowles Memorial Chapel and new patroness of Florida  $\Gamma$ , was the guest of honor.

Late in May, Florida  $\Gamma$  will give their annual benefit bridge party for the Settlement School Fund.

It will be of interest to alumnae of Pennsylvania B to note that Virginia Jaekel, daughter of Edith McCain Jaekel, is the new president of Florida  $\Gamma$ .

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

INITIATED, March 25, 1933: Rosamond Buzzell, Summit, N.J.; Betty Jean Daniel, Elizabeth Dill, Wauwatosa; Helen Leysse, Kewaunee; Carol Mason, Pauline Reinsch, Madison; Mary Smead, Toledo, Ohio; Marie Weber, Milwaukee.

Wisconsin A has always tried to maintain friendly relations with other chapters by offering its hospitality to any  $\Pi B \Phi$  who may be visiting in Madison. During the football season it is a custom to ask the chapter from the university which is to be the opponent in the game, to stay at the house that week-end.

Each year the pledge class entertains the pledges of other women's fraternities at a tea in an effort to establish friendly relationships with their girls.

The chapter makes a special point of looking up any  $\Pi B \Phi$  transfers who are in the university, and inviting them to the house for dinners, dances and cooky-shines.

The chapter tries to promote a spirit of friendliness between pledges and active members by overnight pledge parties, given once a semester, and by a Christmas party, at which both members and pledges present original stunts and songs. Recently the pledges have been serving Sunday afternoon tea to the actives and their friends.

In order to promote friendliness between faculty members and the chapter, each year, Wisconsin A gives a faculty tea at which members and pledges are hostesses to their professors. Also,  $\Pi B \Phi$  faculty members are asked to the house frequently.

Jean Charters was elected vice-president of W.S.G.A. and also to the Cardinal board. Both Betty Bassett and Jean Glanville were elected to membership in  $\Phi B$ , honorary speech fraternity for women, and Janet Dean and Virginia Bergstresser, to  $\Pi A \Theta$ , honorary education fraternity for women.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, October 6, 1932

INITIATED, March 11, 1933: Martha Clark, Sue Wilcox, Gertrude Stoll, Laura Grace Tracy, Chicago Ill.; Marion Bronson, Evanston, Ill.; Eunice Jevne, Mundelein, Ill.; Jean Weirick, Janesville; Dorothy Oswald, La Grange, Ill.; Barbara Burke, Marian Finlayson, Omaha, Neb.; Frances Burns, Beloit; Virginia Treleaven, Oak Park, Ill.; Helen West, Columbus, Ohio; Barbara Copher, Racine; Ruth Tay, Winnetka, Ill.

Graduates: Evadna Jane Burgett, B.A., Delavan; Anne Clementson, B.A., Beloit; Judith Bulla, B.A., Chicago, Ill.; Margaret Perrin, B.S., Aurora, Ill.; Vivian Croake, B.A., Janesville; Roberta Hazard, B.A., Beloit.

Wisconsin B has begun a drive for the new scholarship cup after having won permanent possession of the cup in circulation since 1924, by having the highest average among the four women's fraternities for three consecutive years. The chapter made a good start with the highest average for the first semester of 1932-33. Each member is keeping accurate record of study hours and grades each week.

The annual interfraternity ball was held January 30 in the Theodore Lyman Wright Art Hall.

Evadna Burgett and Anne Clementson have been chosen members of R.O.S.B., honorary senior women's organization.

Wisconsin B had four of its members transfer this year to universities, and these girls have brought new contacts with other chapters and strengthened this chapter's friendship with them. Friendship between actives and pledges was developed to a greater degree than usual this year by the supervision of study by an active each night at Chapin Hall, the freshman dormitory, and by more supper-sings at the house where the whole chapter is together.

The chapter has taken over, as a welfare project, the aid of a poor family in Beloit. Clothes have been donated, and money, raised by selling food in the dormitories, has been used for doctor bills and other necessary expenses. The chapter also put on a program in South Beloit in February under the auspices of the department of sociology of the college.

An unusual and interesting performance of "Alice in Wonderland" was presented by the Beloit Players in the little theater, March 3 and 4, with Anne Clementson directing and Sue Willcox and Jean Weirick in the cast.

Professor George C. Clancy, head of the department of English of the college, has recently published a new English textbook, Understanding and Writing, to be used primarily in introductory college courses.

The Don Cossack Russian Male Chorus gave a concert in Beloit in March. This was the last in a series of concerts offered by the civic association this year. The women of the college were also fortunate in having a week's visit by Miss Elizabeth Osborne, New York personality consultant. Miss Osborne gave a series of lectures and had private conferences with those interested.

The local chapter of K  $\Delta$  has moved into its new home on College Street, across from Morse-Ingersoll Hall.

Rushing teas were held in Chicago and Milwaukee during spring vacation, and plans are being made for the rushing breakfast to be held high-school weekend, May 13.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Illinois A observed Founders' Day on April 29 with Illinois B-A and the Galesburg, Burlington, Avon and Monmouth alumnae clubs at a luncheon served at the Elks' Club in Monmouth.

Percy Grainger, noted pianist, gave a recital January 20 at the college auditorium.

The Little Nineteen swimming meet was held at Monmouth College on March 18. Teams representing eight schools were present.

Margaret Scott has been taken into  $\Sigma$  O M, honorary scholastic organization, and National Collegiate Players. Mary Lauder, Dorothy Sotzing, and Betty McClenahan were admitted into Crimston Masque. Lois Fetherston and Margaret Scott are members of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Alice McDougall took part in "Icebound."

The dormitory life of Monmouth College is conducive toward a friendly attitude between the girls on the campus as the sororities have no houses. At a tea to acquaint the sponsors of the chapter with the pledges, March 15, Illinois A included as her guests two girls from each sorority on the campus and four non-sorority girls. Cooky-shines are given every week or two so that the actives and the pledges may be together more often.

The chapter enjoyed the visit of Mrs. Webster, Eta Province President, who gave them many helpful suggestions during her brief stay on March 27 and 28.

Illinois A has raised its scholastic standing on the campus one place and is conscientiously striving to regain first place.

PLEGDED: Dorothy Sotzing, Woodhaven, N.Y.; Dorothy Wright, Duluth, Minn.; Jane Work, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jane Bischoff, St. Louis, Mo.; Katharine Triplett, Marion Mays, Lajunta, Colo.; Martha Wiley, Little York; Helen Thomas, Swan Creek; Betty McClenahan, Martha Stewart, Mary Louise Nelson.

Edna Rottenberg has received the faculty scholarship award, given to the most outstanding junior who shows future promise and needs aid in order to continue her schooling.

Irma Brodman has a lead in the next play "Much Ado About Nothing."

Four girls have been elected to the Y.W.C.A. cabinet: Janet Orwig, Margaret Pennington, Margaret Stillwell, and Virginia Hecker. There are four representatives out of nine on freshman commission; this is the highest honor a freshman can receive at Knox. These girls are: Ethel Margaret Gilmor, president; Virginia Kost, secretary; Margaret Ann Gessner, Lorraine Lindsey. There are five out of seven girls on the sophomore commission. The freshman commission and this commission are sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. The girls are Eva McMaster, president; Mary Stewart, treasurer; Margaret Pennington, secretary; Anna Campbell, and Virginia Hecker.

Fourteen girls are on the staff of the Students, the college weekly. Five are working as department heads on the year book, The Gale.

Laura Louise Kuhl has recently been elected president of L.M.I., the only literary society on the campus. Rose Eleanor Brittain is treasurer.

Illinois B-A won the intramural volleyball championship. This year volleyball intramurals were again introduced into the athletic activities of Knox. The team went through the tournament without a single loss.

The fourteen girls initiated March 11, gave the actives a lovely party at the Elks Club. The dinner was followed by a clever and original program. Illinois B-A had its spring party April 1.

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, October 29, 1932

INITIATED, March 4, 1933: Virginia Kent, Pauline Mills, Gertrude Seiber, Eleanor Winter, Evanston; Betty Lapp, Mary Anne Timmons, Evelyn Voight, Chicago; Virginia Sanford, Aurora; Ann Louise Hankins, Jane Hankins, Glencoe; Barbara Ballenger, Winnetka; Agnes Fraser, Kenilworth; Mary Elizabeth Collyer, Katherine Ellis, Betty Johnson, Wilmette; Isabelle Mulligan, La Grange; Peggy Grigsby, Park Ridge; Marana Halstead, Brookston, Ind.; Mary Whitaker, Crown Point, Ind.; Betty Eikenberry, Chariton, Iowa; Dorothea Taylor, Kansas City, Mo.; Wylene Baldwin, Tulsa, Okla.; Virginia Brach, Rochester, N.Y.; Edith Lou Docekal, Sheridan, Wyo.

A plan proposing the realignment of all campus organizations has been occupying the attention of Northwestern throughout the past month. Should a resolution advocating the formation of a new governing board to draw up a plan for activity reorganization upon a functional basis be passed, the present student council will be abolished. In its place would be the proposed governing board, composed of the heads of all organizations. This board would be given power to work out a solution to the overlapping and lack of coordination of campus activities.

The new pledge supervision system, suggested by Miss Onken to the chapter in her visit last October, has been put into effect this year; the results have been most satisfactory. This system, which includes a monthly report on scholarship, character, and activities, by the sorority mother of each pledge, has created a fine attitude of friendliness between the actives and the pledges. There has been a further attempt to develop friendships by giving a series of teas to which members of other women's fraternities and the  $\Pi B \Phi$  transfers at Northwestern have been invited.

The Northwestern University chapter of  $\Lambda \Delta \Delta$ , honorary fraternity for women, was installed recently. The requirement for membership in this organization is a scholastic average of "A—" throughout the freshman year. Jean Hoch and June Ponader have been initiated into the fraternity.

The W.A.A.-M.U. show of 1933, "Hats Off," was produced March 15-18. Winifred Hanan had a leading part while five girls were members of dancing and singing choruses. The position of business manager of the show was held by Leota Belle Hall. Many members worked on committees.

Y.W.C.A. recently had an election which resulted in the office of secretary being filled by Jean Hoch. Leota Belle Hall is chairman of interracial education for this organization. Jane Orr will act as social chairman of sophomore-junior lantern of W.S.G.A.

Because of the cooperation of the chapter and the constant work of the scholarship chairmen, Martha Jane Clapp and Angie Connor, the chapter has advanced seven more places in the scholastic standing of all women's fraternities on campus.

Peggy Grigsby, Betty Mersbach, and Mary Anne Timmons have been elected to the first freshman basketball team. Among the new officers of Aethna, literary society, are Dorothy Snyder, social chairman, and Jane Orr, publicity chairman. Angie Connor and Gertrude Seiber have represented Northwestern successfully in many debates against other colleges and universities.

Illinois E enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Florence Hunt Webster, Province President, during the last of February. A tea was given in her honor. Miss Martha McGrew, an alumna of District of Columbia and at present the executive secretary of the Century of Progress Exposition, acted as hostess to the chapter at the world's fair grounds, entertaining the girls at dinner and conducting them about the grounds.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Betty Johnson, 633 Elmwood Ave., Wilmette. JANE ORR

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, February 22, 1933

INITIATED: March 25, 1933; Ann Avery, Chilli-cothe; Drusilla Aden, Petersburg; Elise Davis, Bartlesville, Okla.; Esther Dixon, Morton; Eleanor Evans, Whitehall; Loretta Foellinger, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mary Gale, Pekin; Beulah Green, Elsie Rinearson, Joliet; Peggy Howe, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y.; Blanche Lentz, Carbondale; Oretta Pierce, Urbana; Frances Platt, Springfield; Amy Plochman, Evanston; Rachel Sponcel, Chicago; Willa Van Petten, Champaign.

To promote friendship among pledges and actives, Illinois Z has a system whereby one or more freshmen lives in each active's room for a period of six weeks. At the end of this time the pledges move to another room, thereby enabling them to know more intimately all of the upperclassmen.

During the year, usually in the spring, each class goes out for a special dinner, and thus strengthens the bond among themselves. The freshmen and upperclassmen give parties for each other throughout the year. These are generally pajama parties, but on Halloween and on special occasions they are costume affairs.

Up until this year Shi-ai, the sophomore honorary for women, has sponsored exchange dinners for women's fraternities. Although this practice has been discontinued for the year, the Shi-ai members still meet for dinner regularly at the different chapter houses. Every now and then exchange dinners with fraternities are arranged. The freshmen and sophomore girls go to the fraternity house, and the upperclass boys come to the chapter house. In these two ways, Illinois Z's circle of friends with both boys and girls is greatly widened.

The second Tuesday of each month the chapter invites all the transfers to dinner; of course they are welcome any other time they wish to come to the house. They are encouraged to go to the alumnae meetings and the chapter tries to arrange transportation for them.

In March Illinois Z had discussion group meetings on Thursday evenings. The forum was led by Dr. Kennedy of the Congregational Church and such topics as the place Christianity has in the world today were discussed.

In Woman's League Illinois Z has both freshman and sophomore representatives. Ann Avery is membership chairman of Orange and Blue Feathers, freshman honorary; Annette Wolfram is Woman's League representative for Gold Feathers, sophomore honorary. Virginia Sandberg was co-chairman of the Y.W.C.A. style show and business manager of its stunt show. Melle Russell has had major parts in a number of Mask and Bauble, dramatic society, presentations and she participated in the two Y.W.C.A. stunt shows and Woman's League Minstrel Show.

FLEDGED: Drusilla Aden, Petersburg; Esther Dixon, Morton; Eleanor Evans, Whitehall; Virginia Fishback, Carrollton; La Nelle Phelps, Alice Rogers, Chicago; Margaret Smith, Pekin.

Pledge Day, none

INITIATED, March 11, 1933: Helen Ruth Chodat, Mary Frances Wood, Janet Alsip, Roberta Morris, Betsy Atkinson, Decatur; Alma Weber, Cairo.

The women's and men's fraternities on the campus, together with the independents, are working on a musical comedy which will be presented the last of May. Janet Alsip, a new initiate of Illinois H, is general chairman. Plot, music, dances, costumes, and scenery are all the work of students.

Θ Γ, local women's fraternity, was installed into Θ T March 18, 1933. The college Panhellenic honored the new chapter with a tea in the president's home.

An outstanding event on the campus was the presentation of the play, "If Booth Had Missed," by Arthur Goodman, on April 7. The cast was composed of both students and townspeople. To make the costumes as correct as possible, the same beards and wigs that were used by the professionals in the New York production last year were borrowed. Pauline Requarth was captain of the ticket committee.

Great emphasis has been placed on women's athletics this year. One of the most interesting events was a ping-pong tournament. Betty Schwarm defeated Cynthia Conklin, both of Illinois H, to win the grand championship.

The college yearbook, the Millidek, recently conducted a popularity contest, the winner of which will be announced when the book is published. Twenty juniors and seniors were the candidates. Carolyn Gilman, Sarah Elizabeth Morris, and Mary Martha Abrams represented II B Φ.

An unusual feature on the campus this semester has been the retreat services conducted by Y.W.C.A. four days a week from 11:55 to 12:05. These services consist of a short program of music and a prayer, the whole purpose being to encourage religious thought and meditation in the midst of a busy life. Many students and members of the faculty attend.

The sophomore cotillion was given March 25. Betty Schwarm, vice president of the sophomore class, was general chairman.

The chapter gave a chop suey supper March 23 for rushees. Plans are being made to make rushing as inexpensive as possible this year.

To encourage friendliness between fraternity women, several potlucks have been given at the various chapter houses. On March 30, Δ Δ Δ and II B Φ got together for a good time and supper at the latter's house.

GRADUATES: Catherine Ackland, B.A., Mary Birt, B.Sc. H.E., Mabel Christie, B.A., Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, B.A., Thelma Wright, B.A.

Mrs. William Buxton, Theta Province President, was the guest of honor of Manitoba A for two days early in February.

The annual Valentine tea was again held this year. Owing to the fact that actives cannot hold charity functions, the alumnae took charge.

The Fort Gary Hotel was the scene of the formal dance held in February. Since the following day was Valentine's, very appropriate arrow decorations were used, including a large paper heart through which the chorus broke to step onto the dance floor.

The new initiates were entertained at a formal dinner at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, February 25. An entertaining skit was put on, written and produced by Evelyn Morris, in which the various methods of rushing of various girls in the chapter were shown.

Panhellenic has recently instituted a custom new to this campus, one of interfraternity teas. They are held on alternate Fridays, from seven to nine. Each woman's fraternity either entertains or is entertained by each other; in this way it is hoped that the girls will become acquainted with all the members of outside fraternities.

Manitoba A captured the cup in the song contest, given by Δ Δ Δ at their annual musical hop, for the best rendering of a sorority song. The song, "Three Pi Phis from Varsity" and sung to the tune of "Three Little Girls from School," was composed for the occasion.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, September 24, 1932

INITIATED, February 25, 1933: Dolores Bonzer, Lidgerwood; Inez L. Christensen, Oakes; R. Sylvia Nustad, Minot; Florence M. Olsen, Devils Lake.

At the annual Panhellenic banquet held March 9 North Dakota A was awarded the second prize scholarship cup for having attained a combined pledge-active scholastic standing of 1.943. This was within .04 of a point of the highest average. The actives had an average of 2.1068, and the pledges 1.5678.

Dr. Thomas F. Kane, president of the university since 1918, announced his resignation on February 21, the eve of Founders' Day, to become effective in June. It is thought that after his resignation becomes effective President Kane will devote his time to private educational research or writing. He will be seventy years old this summer and will then be eligible for participation in the Carnegie fund for retired college professors.

Tribute was paid the founders of the university when alumni, faculty and students joined in wishing North Dakota's oldest institution many happy returns of its fiftieth birthday, February 22, 1933. President Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota was the principal speaker at the morning program.

Katherine Cornell, queen of the American stage is now reviewing Dr. Gottfried Hult's translation of "Peer Gynt." Guthrie McClintic, New York producer and Miss Cornell's husband, will read the play immediately upon his return from Europe. From his hands it will go to Alfred Lunt, famous actor, who with his wife, Lynn Fontaine, and Noel Coward is now playing in Mr. Coward's current drama, "Design for Living." Dr. Hult is professor of classical languages at the university. A cast made up entirely of university students that are members of Playmakers is now working on an interpretation of this play to be given in one of the local theaters. Barbara Bliss, Lillian Morck and Mary Cave are included in the cast.

Joint meetings of actives and pledges are held every two weeks in the house, from five-thirty to six on Monday night just before cookie-shine. The pledges and actives alternate in taking charge of the meetings, which are held chiefly for promoting friendliness among the members. At the same time national viewpoint is discussed.

Miss M. Pearl McDonnell, housemother of  $\Delta \Gamma$  and herself a member, was dinner guest and was also asked to address the chapter. Miss McDonnell voiced her ideas on the value of interfraternity friendship and placed a high value on it. Last year this chapter's housemother, Miss M. Regina Brennan, who is also a  $\Pi \Phi$ , addressed the chapter of  $\Delta \Gamma$  in a similar capacity.

Barbara Bliss was elected to  $\Phi \beta \kappa$ , also to National Collegiate Players, Sylvia Nustad, president of campus Y.W.C.A., plans to leave soon for Jamestown to attend the district convention. Sylvia, Mary T. Watson and Lillian Morck will leave with the Madrigal on their annual spring tour.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1890

Pledge Day, October 10, 1932

INITIATED, February 18, 1933: Esther Barrager, Florence Coones, Eleanor Donaldson, Virginia Eames, Constance Fegles, Ruth Rough, all of Minneapolis; Janet Cummins, Jean Karkeet, Edith Marston, all of St. Paul; Beatrice Burlingame, Eau Claire, Wis.

Minnesota A has been concentrating on scholarship and is gradually increasing its standing. Two  $\Pi \Phi$  bracelets have been put into circulation, one to be worn by the girl making the greatest improvement in scholarship from the preceding quarter and the other by the girl making the highest average. If the same girl holds the bracelet three successive quarters the award will be considered permanent and a new bracelet will be purchased. There is also a contest between the actives and the pledges for the highest average, the group winning at the end of the quarter to be entertained by the other group.

The chapter has been striving to bring the town and house girls, and the pledges and actives in closer contact. There have been two Sunday night suppers given at town girls' homes and a toboggan party for actives and pledges after which there was a chow mein supper.

The traditional W.A.A. penny carnival was held the latter part of February. The proceeds are used to buy new equipment for W.A.A. sports. Jean Karkeet had charge of Minnesota A's booth and received third prize.

The university singers presented "Babes in Toyland" on March 3 and 4. Audrey Kay Stevenson and Ruth Rough had parts in it.

Gloria Boock has been elected secretary of  $Z \Phi H$  dramatic honorary. She is also a member of the varsity debate team. Ruth Bachman, dramatic chairman on the W.S.G.A. board, has also become a member of  $Z \Phi H$ . ## IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1868

Pledge Day, October 1, 1932

INITIATED, March 18, 1933: Helen McWilliams, Farmington; Elna Stewart, Mediapolis; Elise Shane, Eldon; Virginia Holland, Helen Hunt, Elaine Smouse, Mount Pleasant.

Two Iowa Wesleyan men, John J. Bucholz, graduate, and F. J. Seaver, former instructor, have been named by Science among the two hundred and fifty leading scientists of the nation. Noticeable about this list is the distribution of birthplaces of scientists. New England has lost its supremacy in the production of scientific men, the distinction moving westward.

Dean H. Gottlieb Leist, connected with the university for many years, resigned in February to be succeeded by Dr. Wm. Drum Gould, head of the department of history.

Professors of Iowa State University conferred with Wesleyan faculty members during March, discussing present trends in liberal arts education. At the same time Alice Brown, executive secretary of Y.W.C.A., visited the college organization. Dr. Willi M. Cohn of the University of Berlin, and formerly of the staff of Kaiser Wilhelm, recently visited Iowa Wesleyan to work with Dr. Thomas C. Poulter in physical research. Religious emphasis week was held during March, Dr. W. D. Henry of Iowa City presiding.

The Iowa conference score column was led by Patterson, guard, with a large margin. He also placed on the mythical second team for the entire state.

Following the visit in December of Elizabeth Carpenter Buxton, Theta Province President, a marked interest in friendly relations began. Later Mrs. Buxton sent a round-robin book to be filled by each chapter in the province with representative material. Guests were invited to the musicale in April. The custom of "at homes" observed this year by the faculty is being repeated by various members of the chapter for other college women. Actives and pledges unite regularly in a cooky-shine at the fraternity apartment. More than ever before there is this year an intimacy and oneness of interest among all groups.

To house council have been named Edith McWilliams, Elise Shane, and Elna Stewart. Elinor Thompson and Elna placed on the all-college honor roll. Production staff of "She Stoops to Conquer" included seven members. The chapter was likewise well represented in the Easter cantata. Seven appeared in the formal concert of the band on March 10. Elinor Thompson is in charge of the Y.W.C.A. style show. Elinor is an editor of the Iowa Wesleyan News, Virginia Holland and Elise Shane reporters.

Plans are being made for all women's fraternities to have rooms in Hershey Hall, instead of apartments off the campus. It is hoped that this may benefit the college financially as well as make social relationships more congenial.

PLEGGED: Alice Dinsmore, Hedrick.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, September 24, 1932

INITIATED, March 25, 1933: Corinne Campbell, Carson; Olive Gardner, Audubon; Louise Hartzler, Earlham; Kathryn Hoyman, Indianola; Grace Margaret Moist, Ida Grove; Ruth Petersen, Bettendorf; Martha Katharine Riggs, Rangoon, Burma; Christine Smith, Belmont, Mass.; Myrtle Wickard, Maxwell; Yvonne Yager, Nebraska City, Neb.

At an all-college party held March 12, the representative students were announced. Iowa B president, Harriet Newsome, was one of the four girls chosen.

It is the custom at Simpson for the faculty to elect, besides the senior members, two junior students as members to E E, honorary scholastic fraternity. Hazel Larsen was elected as one of the two junior students.

Three one-act plays were presented by Blackfriar's dramatic club. Included in the cast were Harriet Newsome and Myrtle Wickard.

Since the opening of the second semester a League for Industrial Democracy has been organized and has been sponsoring some very interesting open forums on farm relief, tariff, and like problems. Harriet Newsome is an officer in this league.

Dorothy Shenton was elected to membership in the Madrigal, the Simpson mixed glee club.

The annual faculty breakfast was held April 1 at the house.

For various reasons, it was deemed wise this year for the four literary societies on the campus to be merged into two. More efficiency has been achieved through this arrangement. At the annual elections in February, Iowa B received both presidencies and some other minor offices. The new presidents are Sara McCoy and Harriet Newsome.

The chapter and the alumnae entertained at a cooky-shine in honor of Mrs. Merle Potter, Theta Province Vice President, March 3. Mrs. William Buxton, Theta Province President, was also a guest. At this cooky-shine the diamond recognition pin, symbolizing scholastic advancement was awarded to Mildred Baker.

Each social organization on the campus has entertained every other organization. These parties were first inaugurated in December by Iowa B, and the reactions to them have been very favorable.

In order that the alumnae and the actives may become better acquainted, a pot-luck supper is held every month at the house.

Plans are being formulated for a meeting with other Theta Province chapters in Des Moines on Founders' Day. Mrs. William Buxton, Theta Province President, expressed the hope that this meeting might partially compensate for the 1933 Convention.

The pledges of Iowa B entertained the actives at a St. Patrick's party, at which time the pledges presented a table lamp to the house.

PLEGDED: Mary Ida Nelson, Maxwell.

SUMMER RUSH CAPTAIN: Harriet Harlan, 309 East Salem, Indianola.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1877

Pledge Day, October 18, 1932

INITIATED, February 10, 1933: Rosemary Weldon, Iowa Falls; Margaret Laughlin, Mason City; Charlyne Fearnley, St. Louis, Mo.; Betty Burrows, Des Moines; Margaret Johnson, Ames; Margaret Armstrong, Nevada.

The spirit of friendliness and democracy has been emphasized to a great extent in the social life of Iowa State students. Last year the social council initiated what are called "exchanges," scheduled from seven until eight on Friday nights by any houses desiring them. They are conducted like open-houses with tag dancing to radio music. Any women's fraternity invites any men's fraternity to come in a body to the house for an hour. At the end of the hour, the party breaks up and everyone is free to carry out his own plans. This plan has proved a successful means of creating friendliness between the organized houses.

Friendliness between the actives and pledges is a real problem for the chapter, for the pledges are required to live in a dormitory until they are initiated. The pledges come to the house once a week for a buffet supper for an informal friendly time. They are also invited over in groups to spend the week-end.

The chapter is constantly looking for better ways to encourage friendliness within the house. Recently, a ping pong table and set was purchased by the house and this has made for a friendly, enthusiastic spirit during play time within the chapter.

Marion Roy was recently initiated into  $\Phi K \Phi$ , and has also been selected as one of three candidates for May Queen, an honor to be conferred upon the most outstanding senior girl in leadership and scholarship, during Viesha, an event of early May.

Margaret Stover did an outstanding piece of work in creating a new advertising column in the student newspaper. Margaret's column is called "Shop Talk." Virginia Rowe was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Margaret as society editor of the paper.

The chapter had the pleasure of entertaining two province officers during the month of March. Mrs. Lucy Howe Potter and Mrs. William Buxton, III, were both guests of the house.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Virginia Rowe, 1084 45th Street, Des Moines.

IOWA ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Pledge Day, September 22, 1932

INITIATED, April 1, 1933: Betty Bickely, Waterloo; Virginia Best, Peoria, Ill.; Charlene Battey, Boone; Louise French, Des Moines; Mary Hanne-man, Ft. Madison; Margaret Hicks, Detroit, Mich.; Zane-Cetti Irwin, Ft. Worth, Tex.; Genevieve Jessup, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Mary Jo Kes-sel, Des Moines; Elizabeth Kuhl, Iowa City; Josephine Lovejoy, Jefferson; Pauline Longfellow, Ft. Dodge; Marjory Jene Maier, Omaha, Neb.; Lois Rovane, Keokuk; Dorothea Saam, Elgin, Ill.; Emagene Whitman, Pueblo, Colo.; Florence Whitmore, Iowa City.

This year the university social committee selected six students from the campus at large to represent the student body in the regulation of all university social affairs. For several years the personnel of the social committee has been entirely of faculty members.

For the promotion of more friendly relations between faculty members and students the fraternities have carried out an eight weeks' program during which each house entertained a faculty guest each week for dinner, and for an informal discussion.

Panhellenic has been formulating a plan for the establishment of a university store house from which could be obtained all staple commodities at moderate prices. The council is also drafting new rules for fall rushing. The University Women's Association has been working out a plan for student self-government for this campus, and Phebe Jamison was one of the delegates who were sent to Ithaca, N.Y., to attend the national convention of all university women's associations in order to make further observations of plans of student self-government on other university campuses.

Iowa Z gave the jobs in the dining-room and the kitchen to seven girls in the house to aid them to remain in school. This is the only women's fraternity on the campus to do this, and the plan has proved very successful. In carrying out a program of rigid economy this chapter has also been able to recide the house bills.

Gabriella Royal was elected to University Players, and had a part in the university play, "Hay Fever," given in April. Roberta Proud and Margaret Jones had parts in the plays given for the Shakespearean Festival. Grace Donovan was elected Honorary Cadet Colonel to preside at the Military Ball, and at the annual Iowa Governor's Day.

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, September 16, 1932

INITIATED, March 4, 1933: Vivian Beckwith, Mitchell; Katherine Colvin, Sioux City, Iowa; Vivian Harvey, Yankton; Dorothy Pier, Belvidere.

At the winter formal of South Dakota A in February Valentine decorations were used in profusion. The annual military ball, held in the armory, was one of the largest ever held at the university. The Honorary Colonel was Frances Geppert, member of  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ .

On February 17, the chapter held an informal dinner dance. At the close of the evening a cooky-shine was held.

Eldora Rempfer accompanied the debate team on its state-wide tour in February. Dorothy Crill and Pauline Hunt are members of the cast of "Coquette." Several members of the chapter assisted other fraternities in their vaudeville acts for the annual Strollers vaudeville in March. South Dakota A did not have an act, preferring to stress scholarship. Dorothy Crill did a specialty dance at the speech banquet in February.

South Dakota A won the Guidon rifle as a reward for winning from all the other women's fraternities on the campus in the rifle tournament. Last year A  $\Phi$  was in possession of the trophy.

The alumnae club and the patronesses of South Dakota A gave a benefit bridge party at the house in April in an effort to raise money for the building fund. The patronesses entertained the entire chapter at a luncheon on March 11.

South Dakota A welcomes to the campus  $\Theta \Psi$  of  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ , installed on April 15. The local chapter was organized in 1924. With the installation of  $\Delta \Delta \Delta$  the campus has six national social women's fraternities.

The chapter has voted to give a trophy to the girl whose grades show the most improvement during the school year. Also the pledges are to be initiated according to grades rather than alphabetically as has formerly been the custom. These two measures have been taken to encourage high scholarship.

Kansas A has promoted friendship with other fraternities by participating in the Panhellenic exchange dinners sponsored by the university. The chapter also has guest night several times during the semester so that the girls may invite their friends from other fraternities for dinner. Transfers are invited for dinner frequently and are welcome to come to the house at any time. For all athletic events invitations are sent to the chapter at the college of the opposing team, inviting the girls to stay at the chapter house while they are in Lawrence. This year a more friendly spirit has prevailed between the upperclassmen and the pledges than ever before, due mainly to the fact that pledges are rooming with upperclassmen this year.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

Pledge Day, September 24, 1932

INITIATED, January 28, 1935: Elizabeth Glaze, Patricia Haley, Dorothy Hayes, Jane Holt, Janice Kennedy, Jane Ross, Jane Williams, Grace Williamson, all of Denver; Elizabeth Evans, Elizabeth Robertson, Boulder; Betty Carey, Ft. Collins; Aileen Huyett, Longmont.

In order that actives and pledges may become more closely bound together, Colorado A has made it customary for each pledge living in the house for the first time to room with an active. Cooky-shines, parties given by each class, and in spring, fries in the mountains inspire a friendly spirit within the chapter. Everyone agrees that cliques are detrimental to complete confidence and cooperation.

Transfers from other chapters are not affiliated, but every effort is made to bring them into close contact with the chapter. Transfers usually take their meals at the house and have almost every privilege of membership except that of voting. Frequently actives and transfers room together.

Bonds of wine and blue between Colorado A and Colorado B are strengthened by the annual Founders' Day banquet given jointly, with each chapter alternately hosts. Members of each attend initiations and entertainments given by the other.

Contacts with other women's fraternities and independent women are constant and close in extracurricular activities, classes, and campus social affairs. Members of this chapter have an opportunity to entertain their friends at dinner on guest nights. The spirit of friendliness and cooperation has been unusually apparent this year in the local Panhellenic. Recently basketball games between "hashers" of several women's fraternities have excited friendly rivalry.

Each week a different fraternity is invited to a tea dance at the house in order to increase the range of associations and to encourage new friendships.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Louise Epperson, 1819 Gaylord, Denver.

COLORADO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Chartered, 1885

Pledge Day, September 17, 1932

In February, the women of the school of Liberal arts of the University of Denver were welcomed into their newly-decorated club room with a tea given by Mrs. John Evans, who was responsible for the gift. The purpose of this room is to promote friendly relationships among the students of the university and to serve as a gathering-place between class periods and in free hours. Such a room is also of value in that the students feel a personal interest in the university, a spirit which is often lacking in a city college.

The members of Colorado A and Colorado B hold a joint dance annually with the two chapters alternating as hostesses. This affair brings the girls together at regular intervals to renew old friendships as well as to build new ones. On the campus, friendliness is maintained through the  $\Gamma \Phi B$ - $\Pi B \Phi$  dance, which is given every year; buffet suppers with both  $\Sigma K$  and  $K \Delta$ , as well as those given before football games for all the fraternity men of the university. To prevent alumnae from losing contact with the actives, an alumnae tea is sponsored by the latter to which all alumnae are invited. Stray Greeks and Independent women are brought to lunch at the house in order to make them feel more welcome on the campus and establish new acquaintances with the women of the university. Every effort is made to create a spirit of friendship between the college faculty and the girls of Colorado B. The faculty is entertained at lunch once each year, and recently a dinner was given honoring and welcoming the two new coaches of the university and the director of athletics. In order that the mothers and fathers of the members would feel closer to the chapter as a group, they were guests of the actives at a tea at the beginning of the school year. A special evening is set aside each year as father-daughter night, when each girl brings her father to the house for dinner and an evening of entertainment by the pledges. Dean Gladys Bell, dean of women at Denver University, is quite a regular visitor to the house, as is Mrs. Frederick Hunter, wife of the chancellor. The pledges plan and present a dance annually to the actives of the chapter. They also secure a feeling of friendship with the other women's fraternities on the campus by entertaining pledges of these organizations at a tea given for that purpose.

Kathleen Summers was elected junior prom queen. Mary Elizabeth Bailey took part in the drama club play "The Rivals" and Betty Pollard was business manager of the same production. Mary Elizabeth also received a bid to membership in the drama club. Genevieve Baker was elected president of the freshman group of the Y.W.C.A. Mary Catherine Rutherford and Dorothea Greene were honored by bids to the national poetry society.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Charlene Heath, 614 Ogden Street, Denver.

INITIATED, February 18, 1933: Eleanor Corbett, Dorothy Fitch, Ruth Slade, Laramie; Helen Hansen, Jackson; Bernice Laird, Worland; Sarah Frances Johnston, Wheatland.

Miss Onken passed through Laramie on her return east. Although she did not stop, several members of the chapter were able to enjoy a short visit with her at the train.

Miss Mary Frost of Denver visited Wyoming A the last week in February. During her visit a buffet supper was given for the patronesses. The pledges entertained the guests with a clever skit.

Wyoming A has been eager to help promote more friendly relations among the various fraternities on the campus. During the fall and winter quarters the seniors of the several groups were entertained at dinner. The pledges are planning a series of informal teas at which their guests will be the pledge members of the other groups. Sponsors have been very active also in promoting a more friendly relationship between the "little sisters" and the chapter as a whole. Many of the pledges are rooming with actives and every effort is made to help them realize the very definite part they play in the work of the group.

Mrs. Katharine Wills Coleman, national president of Mortar Board, visited the campus March 2, 3 and 4, as the guest of Cap and Gown, local senior women's honorary, which is petitioning the national group. Glyda Mae Burbank is president of the local group.

Dorothy Dearman was initiated into Cap and Gown at the end of the winter quarter.  $\Theta A \Phi$  will present "The Tempest" sometime during the spring quarter. Louise Wadsworth has been chosen for the rôle of Ariel in the production. Clara Tatting served as a sponsor at the cadet ball, an outstanding social event of the winter quarter. Lois Horsch was an attendant to the Queen at the annual junior promenade. In winning the girls' intramural basketball championship, Wyoming A has an excellent chance to win the athletic cup which is offered annually to the group securing the highest number of points in the various sports.

The chapter held their annual banquet for the Cowboys, basketball champions of the eastern division of the Rocky Mountain conference, March 30. The annual May dance will be given May 6.

One night out of each week is reserved to entertain faculty and friends at an informal dinner. ### TEXAS BETA—SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1916

Pledge Day, February 8, 1933

INITIATED, March 13, 1933: Jan De Cygn Dines, Dallas; Allie Halbert, Sonora; Anna Belle Harrison; Joie Hones, Kathleen Huber (Mrs.), Dallas; Carey Kurth, Keltys; Elizabeth Rothwell, Beaumont; Athalie Van Cleave, Gainesville; Virginia Voorhees, Kansas City, Mo.; Dorothy Wyatt, Plano.

When a football game or similar occasion brings girls of other chapters to Dallas, Texas B provides some sort of entertainment, a tea or buffet supper.

Every member is required to belong to two outside activities. In this way, since she is thrown frequently into contact with the members of other fraternities, friendship is developed. Every year Panhellenic gives the show, "Powder and Patches," in which all women's fraternities take part. Texas B has many girls who belong to the Arden club, a dramatic organization. By taking part in such things, the chapter tries to promote friendliness.

The chapter has had several picnics and dances. Any day during the week, between or after classes, small groups gather at the apartment to play pool, bridge, or ping pong.

The chapter has weekly suppers so that the actives, pledges, and transfers, may learn to know each other better. There is study hall three times a week; thus in striving together for an education, all are put on the most friendly terms. Texas B has given a tea for the mothers and fathers in order that the members and their parents may become acquainted.

PLEGDED: Mrs. Kathleen Huber, Dallas; Ellen Stallers, Dallas.

The annual "gym night" was held March 31. Many members of the fraternity took an active part. Pledge Mollie B. Hayes was especially complimented for her fine work.

The Jennie C. Nixon debate with Randolph-Macon Woman's College drew much interest. Lynne Hecht took an active and admirable part. "The Spider," a mystery play, was presented in Dixon Hall by the Tulane dramatic guild.

During the winter quarter Washington A has had her share of good fortune. Perhaps the greatest service she has rendered her alma mater was the drive of March when the students succeeded in having tuition lowered and Jane Colkett, junior, was chosen chairman of this large committee and was greatly complimented on her campaign.

It is a University of Washington custom to announce pledges to Totem, an honorary fraternity for outstanding girls, at the junior ball. Three members were pledged: Jane Colkett, Betty Harper, and Anna McCaskill.

March is the month for tryouts for junior girls' vaudeville, a local activity which comes every spring. Two of the freshmen, Mary Jane Mueller and Betty Boone, made the cast. Mary Jane Mueller also took part in the annual dance drama, which is one of the finest things the University of Washington does.

The A.W.S. of the University of Washington sponsor a series of concerts such as the Hall Johnson Singers. This quarter it was the Don Cossack Chorus. Jane Colkett and Kathryn Stewart were members of the committee.

Of course, in the spring every university has its style shows. In the month of March there were two. The first, given by Livingston's Shop had a twenty-five dollar prize for the largest attendance of members from any one fraternity. Washington A's alumnae rallied nobly and helped win twenty-five dollars. Marion Harper was one of the models. The second show was given by the Town Girls Club, wearing clothes from Bests. The beautiful gold room of the Edmond S. Meany Hotel was the setting and the thirteen models were chosen from college fraternity women. Marion Harper again modelled, also Betty Owen.

A course in pottery and sculpturing for blind students has been inaugurated under the supervision of Mrs. Louise B. Schroff, instructor in painting. It is intended to utilize the sense of tactual values possessed by the blind and their larger conception of unity and mass.

Pieces of ancient pottery, some more than 2400 years old, were exhibited by Dr. A. R. Moore, physiology professor. His collection is one of the finest in the West. Among the pieces are a Carthaginian ear jug, another small jug found in Athens and painted about 470 B.C. by the painter of the famous Yale cup, and a jug from Cyprus, judged to be a relic of the bronze age.

The wearing of green caps by freshmen has been abolished on this campus.

One night each week is reserved for the entertainment of other fraternity women. The guests are invited for dinner and stay until the study hour begins.

Because many of the sororities on the campus needed more girls in their houses, the freshmen were given permission to move from the halls to the houses. Eleven of the chapter's pledges moved into the house.

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—LELAND STANFORD JR. UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, January 20, 1933

INITIATED, February 25, 1933: Donna Sampson, Piedmont.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur and Mr. Herbert Hoover returned to the campus in March to again live on the university grounds, and their homecoming was rejoiced by the student body.

Depression dances in this time of financial stress have assumed a prominent place among campus social activities, these affairs being given to swell relief funds. Since admission prices are low, the dances are popular among the students.

Marion Hewlett received a blanket, the highest award presented in athletics. Mary Della Callahan was chosen a night editor of the Stanford Daily. Marion Jones played the leading rôle in a campus production of "Holiday."

Plans have been devised to make of the pledge class true  $\Pi B \Phi$  members, both in the matter of scholarship and in the matter of firm associations with house members. The former goal is aided by a strict scheme of freshman study table directed by the pledge supervisor, while the friendship ideal is promoted by a weekly five-minute "conference" between pledges and house sponsors, in which special problems are discussed. One of the pledges, Helen Fulton, is the present junior national tennis singles champion.

During March, California A had the pleasure of a visit from Miss Onken. During her stay, members of California A, California B, and alumnae clubs of the vicinity gathered for a Founders' Day Banquet, at which Miss Onken was the principle speaker.

INITIATED, January 30, 1933: Patricia Anderson, Hillsborough; Virginia Bullock, Los Angeles; Marian Colm, Bakersfield; Nadine Fox, Carmel; Peggy Miller, Sacramento; Betty Minturn, Fresno; Elsa Myer, Berkeley; Jean Riggins, Fresno.

Graduating May, 1933: Marian Clark A.B., Berkeley; Eleanor Mattei A.B., Fresno.

The Founders' Day luncheon was held this year at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco on March 11. It was held in conjunction with California A and the alumnae clubs from around the Bay Region, which includes San Francisco, Berkeley, Palo Alto, and San Jose. Miss Onken's attendance made this Founders' Day celebration of particular interest because she brought an informal message concerning the work and condition of  $\Pi B \Phi$  throughout the United States.

Miss Onken visited California B March 12 to 14. Because of her short stay most of her time was taken up with meetings and conferences, yet California B girls regarded Miss Onken's visit as an opportunity to become acquainted with the Fraternity at large, as well as making a personal friend of Miss Onken.

Eleanor Breed, junior manager on the staff of the annual Blue and Gold, has been initiated into Prytanean, women's activity honor society; Mortar Board, senior women's activity honor society; and Torch and Shield, senior women's honor society. Stephanie Warshauer was initiated into  $\Pi E \Delta$ , national political science honor society. Barbara MacMichael was initiated into Hammer and Coffin, humorous honor society. Elizabeth Dunning was elected to Ace of Clubs, society of outstanding women.

Peggy Porter was recently voted the most beautiful girl on the campus by a survey made by the Felican magazine. To go with this distinction Peggy received the highest grades of any California B during the past semester—proof that beauty and brains can and do go together.

Several of the girls have recently made bright colored curtains and pillows for the chapter room. Others have done a great deal to make their bedrooms more cheerful and comfortable.

The University of California celebrated her 65th Charter Day exercises on Thursday, March 23. The speaker for the day was Walter Lippmann. The celebration was held in the Greek Theater, the exercises being started by a procession of the past classes of the State University.

The chapter had the honor of having Miss Onken at the house for three days early in March. The time spent with her was a very happy one and most inspiring. The Los Angeles Alumnae Club gave a tea in honor of Miss Onken; all members and the mothers of all the girls in the local chapters were invited.

Panhellenic has changed the rushing system back to the preferential type, which was used a few years ago. All of the houses have found it much more satisfactory, and the financial burden of rushing has been lessened because of the fact that the new system omits one day's entertainment.

PLEGGED: Marguerite Reid, Los Angeles; Patricia Dean, Elizabeth Dean, Beverly Hills; Dorothy Killgore, Glendale; Grace McGee, Whittier; Betty Colyear, Marian Seigmond, Edith Crawford, Shirley Vance, Barbara Lee, and Ruth Rockwell, all of Los Angeles.

Sid Grauman kindly donated the use of the Chinese Theater to the university for one night during the showing of "Cavalcade," for the purpose of raising money to support the religious education for the university. The student body supported the benefit wholeheartedly and it was a great success.

California  $\Gamma$  has inaugurated a new policy of having transfers to the house for lunch once a month, and dinner once a month. Lucille Catlett, Maryland A, has been living in the house this semester. California  $\Delta$  and California  $\Gamma$  have an interrelation committee which meets twice a semester under the supervision of Mrs. Warren T. Smith. The committee consists of Mrs. W. T. Smith, the presidents and rushing chairmen of both of the chapters. Many things of interest and importance to both of the chapters are expressed and discussed during these meetings.

The alumnae announced last week that the final payment has been made on the house. The chapter is very grateful to those who have helped and who have worked so hard toward this interest. It is a grand feeling to know that at last the house really belongs.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Kathryn Moss, 4941 Magnolia Ave., Riverside.

CALIFORNIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, March 6, 1933

INITIATED, April 8, 1933: Margaret Badger and Jean Benson, Los Angeles; Elizabeth Dietrich, Hollywood; Mary E. Leonard, South Pasadena; Gertrude Mason, Sacramento; Martha Neighbors, Anaheim; Delda Smith and Betty Wilson, Los Angeles.

California  $\Delta$  enjoyed a visit from Miss Onken the first week in March. Her presence was most inspiring and beneficial to the chapter. A tea, open to all members of  $\Pi B \Phi$ , was given in her honor.

The chapter as usual cooperated with the California B chapter and the Los Angeles alumnae clubs in giving the annual Settlement School benefit. In spite of the present economic situation, a considerable sum was made for the worthy cause.

Several girls have been chosen for dramatic work this spring. Three are playing in the campus musical comedy, and three are taking part in the university spring play, "Adam the Creator."

Marion McCarthy, president of the Y.W.C.A., has been elected to  $\Gamma$ ic Tot, social honorary society for outstanding junior and senior women.

The university has been quite enthusiastic about its crew which was organized after the Olympic rowing course had been built at Long Beach. The college is fortunate in having Major Goodcell, former Olympic crew champion, as coach for the team. The regatta April 15 in which the University of Washington, University of California at Berkeley, and this university competed, was the initial event in crew competition for Los Angeles. Spurs, of which California  $\Delta$  has two members, and other women's honoraries served as official hostesses.

March 23, U.C.L.A. celebrated the sixty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the University of California. Dr. John H. Finley, associate editor of the New York Times, came from New York to speak at the charter day assembly.

The university has done a great deal to foster friendship between fraternity and non-organization girls by establishing a Phrateres Club with different chapters in the various dormitories. Luncheons, teas, and dinners, open to all women students, are held.

A beautiful religious conference building has been constructed for the purpose of religious discussion, and group meetings with a special leader for each denomination.

California A and California B, both in the same city, hold exchange dinners for the purpose of establishing friendships between the two chapters. Also, a council for discussion of inter-chapter relations has been formed.

The chapter is well represented by transfers from various parts of the country; namely, Wisconsin A, Illinois E, District of Columbia A, Ohio B, and Oregon B. Constructive criticism from them is really appreciated, and the chapter offers them a home as well as participation in rush affairs, open chapter meetings, fraternity functions, and social affairs.

Meetings for the sponsors of the pledges, open to all active members, are held regularly before chapter meeting, and the greatest effort is being made to help the younger members with their problems. Each sponsor holds a regular, weekly conference with her pledges.

PLEGDED: Lucille Abbott, Los Angeles; Barbara Dunn, West Los Angeles; Vera Goodson, Brawley; Patricia McGuire, Los Angeles; Mary Helen Williamson, Santa Monica.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Estelle Fowler, 1136 Harcourt, Los Angeles.

March 17, the chapter entertained with an hour social in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. Each member brought a friend. A series of these socials has been planned for the remainder of this semester and next, the aim being to further more harmonious relations between the other women's fraternities as well as the chapter's own members.

That they might know each other better, the pledge supervisor has arranged for a series of supper parties to be held at the homes of different pledges, which are to be followed by meetings. So far three of these have been given, and the girls are beginning to feel more closely associated.

Nevada A won the cup for the intramural volleyball tournament held this spring, as well as the trophy for the swimming meet. This latter trophy was awarded on the basis of the number of members present from each sorority house.

Two girls elected to  $\Phi K \Phi$ , national honor society, this semester are Ruth Bixby and Helen Olmstead. Grace Semenza has been elected to  $X \Delta \Phi$ , national literary society for women.

INITIATED, March 4, 1933: Lillian Gale, Tucson; Maydith Huddleson, Ft. Huachuca; Martha Redewill, San Francisco, Calif.; Roberta Tidmore, Deming, N.M.; Anne Hayden, Kansas City, Mo.

The Grand President, Amy B. Onken, arrived in Tucson February 26. Katherine and Virginia Nutter of Salt Lake City and the chapter president, Adrienne Zimmerman, took Miss Onken to see San Xavier, one of the oldest missions in Arizona. Miss Onken's visit was most enjoyable and she gave the chapter many constructive criticisms.

The University of Arizona held its annual Pan-hellenic formal at the El Conquistador on February 21. At the co-ed formal March 18, the girls assumed the responsibilities of escorts, calling for the boys. After the dance, the girls brought their guests to the house for a buffet supper.

Frances Huddleson has been selected to represent Arizona A for desert queen in the annual campus contest.

The chapter entertained President and Mrs. Homer Leroy Shantz at dinner on March 9. Dr. Elmer Jay Brown, head of the economics department, came to the house for dinner March 14 and spent an hour explaining the bank moratorium to the girls. The discussion was most informal and Dr. Brown answered a great many of the questions that had been so perplexing. On the same evening a professor from the economics department was at each sorority house. This was done at the request of the A.W.S. to give the university women a more intelligent understanding of the present monetary situation.

In a tournament with Tempe State Teachers College February 25, Katherine Stevenson, a transfer from Nebraska B, won the golf championship.

Arizona A will hold its annual spring formal on May 6, at the Arizona Inn.

Friendship through fraternities is brought about by the contacts of interfraternity dances, intramural activities, and exchange dinners.

Arizona A asks transfers to live in the house. They are given the same privileges as the other actives have in accordance with campus rating.

$\Sigma \Delta \Phi$ , literary fraternity, pledged Frances Parsons.  $\Theta \Delta \Phi$ , dramatic fraternity, pledged Louise Isgreen, Aprin, fine arts society, initiated Frances Parsons, Beatrice McCrea, Becky Whitney, Irene Rebaletti, and Mary Burnett. Trotters, riding club, took in Jane Wilkin, Ruth Ballif, Barbara Strong, Frances Parsons, and Mary Burnett. Language fraternity initiated six members and pledged two. Two members of Utah A are in the varsity octet, Elizabeth Strong and Mary Burnett, with Barbara Strong as accompanist. Mirra Jacobs is a member of Acorn, the local organization corresponding to Mortar Board.

The Mortar Board representative, Mrs. Coleman, was on the Utah campus a short while ago to inspect Acorn, which is petitioning for Mortar Board. She was a guest at the house.

The most pleasing event of the quarter was the delightful but all too short visit from Miss Onken, March 15 and 16. After her arrival she was entertained at a cooky-shine. The following noon the alumnae entertained her at luncheon, and dinner was with the executive council. The meeting with Miss Onken just before her departure was most interesting and very helpful.

The two most outstanding social events of the campus the past quarter were the junior prom and the first annual interfraternity dance, which is intended to promote friendship between the fraternities. A successful girls' dance was also given, with Elizabeth Gibbs as chairman of the committee.

The chapter entertained at a Valentine dance at the house. The pledges gave a bridge tea and fashion show in March.

On many Thursday afternoons, informal teas are given to promote friendship between the girls and to enable them to get together more often during the week.

The pledge and active meetings are held on the same night to promote a more friendly feeling between actives and pledges, and everyone is urged to stay for dinner afterwards.

During the depression, the girls are allowed the privilege of bringing their lunches to the house. In this way more of the girls are able to be at the house at luncheon time.

The mothers' club has done many lovely things for the house, and Aurelia Hampton's mother helped a great deal in furnishing and redecorating the guest room.

Mrs. E. D. Thomas, wife of Senator Thomas of Utah, and two of her daughters, Esther and Chiyo, were members of Utah A. Esther is now in Washington. In a note to this chapter recently, Mrs. Thomas told of going to the White House and of how thrilled she was to see a large painting of Mrs. Coolidge wearing the Arrow.
