The Evolution of Woman (a lament)

The Indian in grandeur rode While Mamma carried all the load.
He answered critics with, "Of course
She gotta walk—she no got horse."

The nineties came, and woman's lot
Was definitely "Thou shalt not,
Thou shalt not lift a lily hand.
Thou shalt not think or understand!"

Time was when TIME would be opined
Unsuited for the female mind.
But now the scene is quite reversed.
She cops it and she cops it first.

Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach, Glendale, and Santa Monica will hold their joint celebration with California Gamma and Delta on April 24 in Los Angeles.

Pi Phi Cook Books have sold on an average of nearly 1000 books a month since the publication! Alumnæ Clubs and Pi Phis from all parts of the United States have cooperated in its widespread sale and compliments and appreciation for it have been universal. One woman who had secured it from the Los Angeles Public Library wrote in saying that she couldn't bear to return the book until she had one of her own. A colored cook in Beverly Hills who had seen one wrote for a copy to Miss Onken, having read her foreword. The third printing is nearly sold out and the Los Angeles Club, besides the many others who have profited by its sale will be sending quite a considerable sum to the Settlement School as a result. Any other clubs or individuals desiring books may secure them from Helen Hurd, 4359 Victoria Park Place, Los Angeles, California.

Seventy Years of Pi Beta Phi! 1867 to 1937!

WITH THIS April 28 we have passed our seventieth milestone. From twelve members to 26,000—from one chapter to 80! An unbroken line of progress, from the plan in the minds of those Founders to build up a national fraternity, to the present day, when expansion is something to be carefully considered, and when each new charter grant means perhaps years of effort and probation—what a record for us to view with pride!

THE PREAMBLE of the original constitution of the Fraternity, given as a whole in the History of Pi Beta Phi, gives as the object of the organization, "to cultivate sincere friendship, establish the real object of life and promote the happiness of humanity," and article I of the same constitution says "The object of this organization shall be the advancement of its members in the most delicate yet strong friendship, mental assistance in all matters, endeavoring to dispel the gloom from the lives of all around them, to further the cause of religion by exerting an influence of virtue and charity throughout all intercourse, also to enable any member to follow the dictates of her own conscience knowing she will be upheld and encouraged in independence." Let us on the Founders' Day rededicate $\Pi B \Phi$ to the pursuit of these objects—the original wording may seem quaint to moderns, yet the thought is clear and of no time or period.

NO EXPRESSION of our gratitude can be adequate to say "Thank you" to our Founders, to the ten who are gone, and to the precious two who remain with us, a constant inspiration.

THE ARROW OF PI BETA PHI

EDITORIALS

THE YEAR just about to close in the colleges has been one of progress. It has shown great improvement over the record of a number of years past. Increased enrollment in colleges and resumption of college improvement programs, have brought in their train greater prosperity for the fraternities and a general easing of the hard conditions under which many students have gone to college in the years since 1929.

The close of such a year is a fitting time to dedicate an issue of the ARROW to the active chapters. We are proud of the record of our chapters in these hard years; we are proud of the fine pledge groups of these years, and especially of those of this last most successful year.

Perhaps fraternity girls do not think! At least if they do think, they have not responded to our request for articles to restore the former department of the ARROW that was called "What a Fraternity Girl Thinks." Elsewhere in this issue we reproduce the one article for that department which came to us. Perhaps it will start the ball rolling! Re-read the articles in the old ARROWS for ideas. Interesting it is indeed that they might have been written today, so perennial are the problems of colleges and college students. There were rushing and pledging, rejoicing and heartaches, then as now; standards were discussed twenty years ago as they are today. Perhaps the world has changed less than we think it has.

"Was $\Phi B K$ Worth While?" by Harold Larrabee, Harvard '16, an article in the Key Reporter of $\Phi B K$, quotes some interesting facts from a book by John R. Tunis entitled "Was College Worth While?"

In the book Mr. Tunis draws conclusions from a study of one hundred men chosen from the Harvard class of 1911, twenty-five from each of four groups—athletes, $\Phi B K$ men, club men, and average unheard of men. He finds that the incomes of the four classes reported range from that of a tramp "who has not slept in a bed in years" to one of \$125,000 a year—and those of the $\Phi B K$ group averaged \$5000 a year in 1934.

But Mr. Larrabee shows that the conclusions of Mr. Tunis are not infallible from his method of choice and further that such figures might not have been true at a time of general prosperity.

There is a wide variance of opinion between the two writers—somewhere in between them the truth of the matter must lie. Perhaps $\Phi B K$ s are not rich men—but neither have they been paupers in a day when dire poverty has come to many.

The possession of a $\Phi B K$ key may bring with it a financial reward—even if it did not, it would be worth having and worth working for!

Why after all do we go to college? Surely not just to bring home good grades or poor, not to be measured by their yardstick of success or failure! That would not be education, but a mere parroting of superficial information.

Real education goes deeper than that. It should not merely teach us something to be remembered for a moment or a year. It should lay the foundation of an endless and untiring pursuit of knowledge, whether from books or from life itself. It will only be real education if it inspires a sort of divine curiosity, insatiable for knowledge. A great professor once said "The aim of education is to teach us where to find out what we want to know!"

How true that is!—

"With the Actives" in this issue paints a bright picture of what our girls are doing. It is by no means a complete record—twenty-seven chapters sent in no material at all. Others reported that their elections to various honor societies would come too late to be used. But out of those sent in we find 46 Mortar Boards (of these four are here listed under Who's Who's Who of American Colleges. Note the high offices held—one girl, Phyllis Emmons, Iowa B, has five presidencies on her campus! Michigan B has five Mortar Boards, Illinois B-Δ four, Colorado B and Oregon B three each; Tennessee A has three girls in their organization similar to Mortar Board. Certainly they are not lagging behind in activities.

Look into the faces of these, our girls who are most prominent on their own campuses—and then be pessimistic about the girls of our times if you can!

Stirring times, these!

A world full of strife and controversy, wars and rumors of wars, strikes and threats of strikes!

What are we doing to fit ourselves to live these days fully? Never was good citizenship more necessary—never perhaps was there less effort to acquire that virtue. Yet never was its acquisition made so easy for all of us.

Critics of the use women in the United States have made of their hard-won ballot say that women in general are too vague in their knowledge of issues, too superficial in their basis of judgment. A serious charge, that! Especially when we have the radio, magazines full of interesting comment, newspapers, even movie dramatization of current events. These agencies spread out before us the pageant of our times—true, the wording is often irritatingly partisan—but at least plenty of material is offered us as a basis for the formation of our own opinions.

This world of swiftly-moving events—what are we educated women doing for it? How much or how little do we know about it?

An instance—how long ago did we last read the Constitution of the United States? The Eleusis of Chi Omega issued a copy of it as a supplement to its last issue, perhaps because many people admit they do not possess such a thing.

Surely we must have it somewhere if only in an old school history—why not read it and study it?

Especially fitting is it that we should do so this year, when the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its adoption is going on. On the proper celebration of it a large national committee is working, and Pi Beta Phi and the other national fraternities are represented on that committee. It rests with the individuals to make that celebration vital—and our work for it should begin with an accurate knowledge of the principles of the Constitution itself.

THE ARROW has recently joined with the national journals of 46 other leading fraternities and sororities to participate in an effort to attract national advertising to a limited number of their pages. The desirability of using the advertising of only high quality firms and products in the fraternity magazines has been advocated for a number of years because of the revenue it would provide for better magazines or other fraternity services, and because it has been pointed out that such advertising would lift the magazines out of the house-organ class in the estimation of some readers who compare them with the general magazines that reach their homes.

Because each fraternity magazine's individual circulation is too small to be practical for use by national advertisers, it was necessary that their respective circulations be grouped for presentation to the advertiser as a single unit. This has been done in the present undertaking, forming a total circulation of nearly 400,000; 83% of which has been found to be alumni subscribers and 17% of whom are undergraduate readers. Because the circulation of fraternity magazines is steadily growing, the annual increase for this group approximates 20,000 readers. The distribution of the circulation matches closely the distribution of the national population.

The advertising group has been named Fraternity Magazines Associated, and its supervision is in the hands of the outgrowth of a committee appointed to study the project by the Fraternity Editors association of the National Interfraternity Conference. The directors include: George Banta, Jr., former president and editor of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, and head of the Banta Publishing Company, Menasha, Wis.; K. D. Pulcifer, editor $\Pi \kappa \Lambda$, and a Detroit advertising man; Chester W. Cleveland, editor of $\Sigma \chi$; Leland F. Leland, editor of $T \kappa E$ and head of Leland Publishers, Inc., St. Paul, Minn.; A. M. Wharfield, editor of $A \chi P$, who recently opened the New York City offices of Fraternity Magazines Associated as its manager, and Stewart S. Howe, national alumni secretary of $\kappa \Sigma$, located in Chicago as president of The Stewart Howe Alumni Service. The principal offices of the project have been established at 1618 Orrington Avenue, Evanston, Ill., with Mr. Howe in charge.

Members having suggestions and being willing to aid in establishing the fraternity magazines as recognized mediums by national advertisers are invited to participate.

Only non-objectionable types of advertising will be accepted for publication.

First fruits of the campaign appear in this issue, the full page advertisement from Time Magazine.

OLD HOUSES

Ghosts walk in old houses.
 Behind a faded crimson drape,
 There lurks a lady with a fan—
 In party dress, and tiny satin shoes;
 While up and down the stair
 Fat little feet go stumbling endlessly.
 In musty kitchen drawers
 Hands reach for pans long undisturbed;
 And every night in sleeping rooms
 Are whisperings of married folk.
 Yes, an old house holds happy brides,
 And first faint sounds that infants make,
 And youth and joy and disillusionment and age.
 I do not like old houses,
 They are too all alive
 With myriad dead things.

MONOTONY

A drab little house on a dull level plain,
 Barnyard and hen-house and then endless grain,
 Straight road from the sky-line, and straight on again.

A big kitchen range and a plant in a can,
 Wash-tub and mop and a stacked up dish pan,
 Children that quarrel, and a barn-smelling man.

Wind storms and snow storms but seldom a rain,
 A work weary woman too tired to complain,
 Soul deadened, with nothing to lose or to gain.

Values

By MARIA LEONARD, Indiana Γ
Dean of Women, University of Illinois

(An address given at Π B Φ Convention, Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago)

WE ARE hearing more frequently today the current phrase, "The whole man goes to school." Perhaps the emphasis in the past has been and is still laid upon the training of the mind of youth in our present school systems. A great new value is dawning on the American consciousness, however, that the object of a college experience is not alone expressed by high scholarship in terms of grades, but is the learning how to develop one's full capability in all areas of one's personality and individuality so that he may assist himself to his best self-realization and grow up to his full stature not only intellectually, but physically, emotionally, morally, and spiritually.

Plato said it thus 300 years B.C., "Education is that process which brings to body and soul all the perfection and all the beauty of which they are capable." That object of education as stated by Plato was probably all sufficient for the Greeks at that time, lovers of beauty and art that they were. However, today that goal goes just half the way. Society is demanding more of each individual, than that he develop himself fully and finely, he must now recognize that he has responsibilities to others besides himself. Call it the spirit of service if you will.

Owen D. Young has described this as "the sanctity of obligations." And what might this be for the women of the 20th century you ask? None other than that their chief concern—says Charl Williams, the National President of America's Business and Professional Women—be the preserving and fostering of human cultural values, and their duty and privilege be, to set the standards of society. Educating oneself is a process, but a purpose must always be greater than a process.

The American fraternity women's code as quoted from the Zeta Tau Alpha journal of March, 1936 has caught the vision—let me give it to you. "We, the fraternity women of America, stand for preparation for service through character building inspired in the close contact and deep friendship of fraternity life. To us fraternity life is not the enjoyment of special privileges for ourselves, but an opportunity to prepare for wise and broad human service."

College and fraternity women are truly a privileged class, when one recalls that each college man and woman represents nine other unprivileged young people who have been denied the advantages of higher education.

In each generation there is a vast defeated army of youth, beaten before they have a chance at life, to grow, and develop into useful men and women, who go down to crime (about one-third of all those apprehended by law are 21 years or below) usually because they have been denied opportunities such as college men and women have. "To whom much is given much will be required," the Good Book says. Am I my brother's keeper? Yes, decidedly!

It is interesting to note that a college student pays for just one-third the actual cost of his education, whether he be graduated from a small endowed college or from a larger state university. This debt incurred demands the highest type of citizenship to the state from our college men and women, not only in being but in doing, for education must precede legislation.

I like that phrase you fraternity women of America have chosen in your code viz.—"through character building," for never before in the history of the world, with science in the saddle, has it been more urgent that men of science be men of character. "Knowledge without character is vulnerable at every point" for it turns its power into developing profits—rather than personalities. To illustrate, at a fairly recent Brewer's Association meeting in one of our large cities, one presiding officer said "we must enlist immediately, through advertising, the interest of 50,000 more youth in drinking liquor if we wish to reach our goal of $5,000,000 more profit this year."

"Mortgaged" said the youthful editor of one University daily—"Youth's future mortgaged!" "No," say I—"Not mortgaged but challenged!"

Should our privileged youth slack, there is no one who can and will interpret life finely and carry on the standards of a cultural society as leaders of men.

College men and women have the chance to step out of the crowd of millions milling around at a lower level where little vision is possible. When one is in the crowd he cannot lead because he cannot see. When one steps out of the crowd as a standard bearer—many will follow. A standard is something to go by, not to go by. One thing about a true standard, it never fails. It stands as its name implies, throughout the ages, such as the famous old standards—Greenwich time, seventy-fifth meridian, or the pyramidal inch of true measurement in the pyramid of Gizeh, or the character of Abraham Lincoln.

There are four outstanding sorority standards which I shall mention in these few lines on VALUES which will place first things first in the fraternity woman's mind and heart. They are:

- Self Standards
- Scholarship Standards
- Service Standards
- Social Standards

I place self standards first because a group or fraternity is just as strong as its weakest member, like the iron chain with one rubber link. We must keep on growing individually, not to self-expression but to self-realization. The more self progresses the more unselfish one becomes. Four qualities of heart are lacking in a selfish person—an understanding heart—and a deep appreciation of the personality of others, a social sensitiveness, and a sense of values. These a truly educated person possesses, for "Education is not something we get—but something we become."

The second standard, that of Scholarship, is a by-product of the love of learning. It should never be a direct goal, for that would be bargaining with culture, and culture never comes that way.

I remember an English professor, a scholar, once telling a young post-graduate not to strive to get a master of arts but to strive to be a master of arts. It has long been popular to go to college but not always so popular to study. In this business of studying the important thing is the love of learning, through this one can and will eventually climb to intellectual and spiritual living.

The third standard that of Service I touched upon in the beginning. We may work hard to receive an education, we may strive for culture, but in all this process of self and group development we find ultimately that we keep just what we share. There is in any sorority group "a sanctity of obligations" of the older actives to the younger girls—no one has the right to live her life as she pleases—for she has pledged the group her best. Freshmen need models, not masters. In times past, fraternities seemingly have forgotten this and this is one avenue through which cruel criticism has come to the fraternity world, not wholly undeserved.

The fourth, that of social standards, has perhaps been the most discussed subject in and out of college, for life has been so much accelerated these last twenty-five years that it caused one philosopher to say that America has lived as much in the last quarter of a century as in any other one hundred years previous.

A too rapid growth, like Jack's bean stalk, is not always a sturdy one and always causes readjustment. One notices this groping today for sound underfoot tread in late magazine articles such as a A New Morality; Morals in a Day of Relativity; the Unmoored Age, etc.

Now the whole question of social standards resolves itself into this question which each individual must answer for himself. What is the safest and surest procedure to follow in one's life in order to bring the best results not only to oneself but to one's children? This makes us differentiate in our own minds definitely between speed and progress, between going faster or going forward.

A few social standards I shall mention. However, I am conscious that like a book on etiquette, a short article can hardly suffice for a vital dynamic code for college women, for the answer must always come from within one's heart, it cannot come from without.

Having worked in several co-educational institutions and being a product of two such schools, I naturally turn first to the social relationships between young men and women.

One of earth's greatest privileges is this friendship between men and women. It operates on three levels, first the physical, for we love to be near those whom we admire and respect; secondly, friendship stimulates mental growing, an enlargement and enrichment between friends intellectually with mutual interests.

Thirdly, there is a psychic element which enters true fine friendship, a spiritual sharing of interest. This is proved for it still grows during the absence of the loved one. One test of true love is that it continues to grow; it always keeps itself in constant progression. This differentiates love from cheaper substitutes.

Emotional upsets are likely to come from too familiar and frequent physical contacts, when deep seated emotions, related to the most sacred functions of life, are teased and stirred. These thrills result in nerve dissipation when indulged in too often, "for the highest capacities of life are sacrificed first when life degenerates its highest function." This means the power to love. "Love never takes a privilege without a responsibility." This is its glorious secret. Careless and familiar relationship between the sexes takes the privilege and refuses the responsibility. This is not love but passion. "True love brings fulfillment always to its purpose." Familiarity has no purpose and becomes the standard of the girl who risks. The continuing quality is always the acid test of the surest and safest way.

So much has been said regarding drinking that hardly can a word be said regarding social standards that does not include a word about it.

One statesman has said—Today, drinking prevents thinking. Tomorrow, thinking will prevent drinking. When I was asked to discuss social standards at the national convention I decided I would not subject a group of thinking college trained women to the humiliation of sitting and listening to a discourse on "how far can we go and still be decent." I certainly would never discourse on the subject "how far can we go and still be polite?"

"Holding liquor like a lady" implies that the one who drinks most frequently carries it the best; which places the standard on one's ability to carry drinks.

This social standard would mean, the more accustomed to excessive drinking a young woman is, the less liable to discipline whether of civic, campus, or fraternity law she becomes. The unfairness of a fraternity who lowers its standards to that of its weaker students is tragic, I think, for if they "go under" they are "kicked out" in college vernacular and this is not a square deal.

Speaking on this "curtailed liberty question" Dr. Smith in Banta's Greek Exchange says "Liberty means doing whatever does not injure others."

We are fast turning out of the age of individual rights to the age of human obligations. The person who argues for individual rights has not yet seen the new light. Moderate drinking becomes insidiously harmful to others, because of "the cocksureness" it instills in the mind and actions of the one deceived. Read if you will statistics of the automobile accidents caused from moderate drinking because of oblique vision, retarded response (88 ft. in one second) and impaired coordination.

Good sportsmanship requires we play safe—all railroad engineers are required to take an oath of no drinking because they hold human lives in their power. Just so does every individual auto driver, what about his good sportsmanship? Would you employ a chauffeur to drive you through mountain passes who drinks even moderately?

A young successful Chicago business man said recently "part of a gentleman's unwritten code now is to offer a young woman a drink, but ten times out of ten deep in his heart he would rather she wouldn't take it even though he urges it."

No one can be clever without judgment and in drinking judgment goes first, then self-control, then conscience. No one has ever deliberately set about to debauch himself by drink. It is in moderate drinking that the habit usually creeps in and takes its foothold.

I have always been justly proud of Pi Beta Phi's record of leadership in social standards on the many campuses where I have visited and lectured. I felt that in accepting the privilege and honor of membership in Pi Phi we accepted responsibility to the younger also to the weaker girl. Pi Beta Phi must always be to them a stimulation to strengthen their best points and not a bending to their weaker ones through special privileges.

As soon as a fraternity asks to have its standards lowered, its flying colors are being hauled down like a flag in the army. It is then beginning to acknowledge defeat. Watch then your chapter leaders for they are stepping back into the milling crowd.

Today leaders need courage to stand. Remember we are turning slowly, but turning, from the age of human rights into the age of human obligation! Social sensitiveness will be our watchword; with this, social standards will take care of themselves. "The thing we enthrone in our hearts daily, that will we eventually become." The standard that Pi Beta Phi enthrone in her heart today, that will she eventually become.

LOST LAND

When I was young in Arcady,
A million years ago,
We clambered up a rocky cliff
To watch the sea below,
We danced along the sandy shore,
Or raced across the grass,
Long years ago in Arcady,
Oh carefree lad and lass.

I'm sure we sang a gleeful song
While paddling in the spray,
And dreamed about the years to come
The marvelous "some day."
Gayly we wandered overland

While flowers held their dew,
When I was young in Arcady,
And you were young there, too.

So far away is Arcady,
That land forever fair,
But still I feel its summer sun,
And breezes in my hair.
The moon rose on a perfect world,
There was no storm or snow,
When I was in Arcady,
A million years ago!

Fae Huttenlocher, Gardener

(Part of leading article from Better Homes and Gardens, reproduced by special permission of D. Charles Kooser, Phi Gamma Delta, editor.)

WHEN my spirits need a lift and the garden languishes for attention, I reach for a trowel and delve into the art of soil cultivation. Yes, I use a trowel for cultivation—sharp, shiny, stainless steel, and imported 8 years ago (Thomas Gunn Ltd., England). They didn't have stainless-steel trowels in America then. When asked for at local stores, merchants said that stainless steel didn't hold the edge like regular steel. My trowel has disproved this. The soil doesn't stick to it. It's lightweight; the handle won't loosen, nor will the shank snap. It's my most treasured garden tool.

For working among seedlings and rock plants, I find the small-prong cultivator convenient. I purchased mine at a local hardware store.

Next in my kit of indispensable garden tools come the heavy Japanese cutting shears from Yamanaka. For quick, efficient, and comfortable snipping of seed heads, trimming off leaves, and cutting flowers, they have no peer. The handles are wide enough not to cramp the fingers.

Then comes my garden basket which is easily carried over the arm. I find it ideal to hold freshly gathered flowers, or even to carry away garden debris. This basket is made at the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School, Smoky Mountain Park, Tennessee.

With this trio of tools and a lady's stainless steel spade in reserve, my gardening is enjoyably done.

Mrs. Forest Huttenlocher, Convention initiate at Yellowstone, has served on the editorial staff of Better Homes and Gardens for eight years. She has been editor of the Garden Club Exchange, a Better Homes and Gardens' News Service to America's clubs, since its inauguration seven years ago. She is the author of "The Garden Club Handbook," "My Book of Flowers for Juniors," and a new book "Flower and Table Arrangements for Every Occasion," to be published soon by A. T. DeLaMare. Mrs. Huttenlocher is also table arrangement consultant for Better Homes and Gardens magazine. She has written many articles and lectured nationally on this subject as well as on gardening.

Mrs. Huttenlocher assisted in organizing the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., and has served on its board as Chairman of the Committee on Printing and Publications, First Vice-President, and Recording Secretary. She is the only woman member of the National Legislation Committee of the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, and has served as Vice-President and Legislative Chairman of the Iowa Federation of Garden Clubs for the past four years. Mrs. Huttenlocher has served as patroness to, and judge of, the Chicago Flower Show, also at the International Flower Shop in New York City.

JESSIE JANVIER

Pi Phis in the Mardi Gras

A GAIN the Mardi Gras in New Orleans! And again it is with pleasure that we bring news that Pi Phis have played a gracious and charming part in that festival time.

Last year, Cora Jahncke, Louisiana A, was Queen of Rex and the Carnival. This year, Jessie Janvier, daughter of Judge and Mrs. George Janvier (Jessie Tebo, Louisiana A), was Queen of the Carnival, and also Queen of two other important balls, Twelfth Night Revellers and Oberon. Jessie comes of a family long prominent in New Orleans, and one which has had many members of Pi Beta Phi, among them Celeste Janvier, former Grand Treasurer of the Fraternity.

In addition, Mary Dart was Queen of Proteus and also of Nereus, Susan Buck, Queen of Comus, one of the most coveted honors, and Helen Simpson, Queen of Mithras. All these girls are debutantes of the season, and members of Louisiana A chapter. An unusual honor came to two of our girls in the active college set, when Peggy Jones was Queen of Apollo, and Ninette Denègre Queen of Harlequins—these last two balls are for the very young set.

Adjectives fail in trying to describe the gowns worn! Jessie Janvier's was of imported gold cloth, cut on princess lines. Seven panels narrow at the waist, and broadening at the bottom over a wide flaring hoop, gave the skirt a morning glory effect. Those panels were heavily embroidered with rhinestones and pearls in a rose design, held into folds of "sculptured drapery" by wide straight bands of rhinestones and pearls, showing the filmy petticoat of jewel-embroidered gold lace beneath.

The gorgeous mantle was of gold cloth, elaborately embroidered throughout with rhinestones and pearls, bordered with ermine. The flaring Medici collar was of gold lace studded with rhinestones.

At midnight the King and Queen of the Carnival and their court went over to the Ball of Comus to join the king and queen there in the final and grandest march of the year.

This is the climax of the Carnival.

Peggy Jones wore pink tulle, Helen Simpson's gown was of silver lamè, heavily studded with rhinestones, with long beaded train, and her mantle was red velvet bordered with ermine, in keeping with the spirit of Christmas—her King was dressed as a gorgeous Santa Claus.

Besides the Queens, many Pi Phi names appear in the list of maids of honor at the various balls—of these we have no pictures.

Ruth Nurmi, California Γ , diving champion of the University of Southern California and Pacific Coast swimming champion, announced recently that she is forsaking that career for the movies.

TIME OF RACE

From the close of the 1936 Convention, June 28, 1936 to May 1, 1938.

SCORING SYSTEM

- Points to be awarded for the following:
 - Per cent of membership contributing.
 - Number of donations.
 - Number of dollars in aggregate.
- To arrive at some equitable basis for scoring all chapters and clubs alike a "work factor" is to be computed by dividing into the average membership of all chapters and into the average membership of all clubs the membership of each individual chapter and of each individual club respectively. The result so obtained will be the "work factor" for that particular chapter or club.

- This "work factor" established as above will be used in computing the score under points "B" and "C."
- The average membership for both chapters and clubs is thirty-five.

Charlotte Lansing, Michigan A, prima donna, star of "New Moon," who will be remembered from her singing at the Asbury Park Convention, was featured on a recent N.B.C. Blue network program.

With the Actives

PRESENTED with pleasure: the honor girls in Pi Beta Phi for the year 1936-1937. This does not include Phi Beta Kappas, who are given each year in November.

PI BETA PHI had this year forty-six members of Mortar Board in the chapters reporting up to the date of our going to press—but twelve chapters on campuses where there are Mortar Board chapters were not heard from, so the total was probably larger. Of these ten were presidents, nine of whose pictures are on the following pages.

IN organizations similar to Mortar Board, twenty-eight members were reported. There were 3 Tennessee A's, 3 Iowa Γ's, 2 Missouri Γ's in this group. Since there was overlapping between these girls and the Mortar Boards with the girls chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges, some of them will be found in the latter group. Among the Mortar Boards, note that Michigan B had five out of the twelve members on the campus; Illinois B-Δ had four, Colorado B, Montana A, and Oregon B had three each, Alabama A, Iowa Z, Wyoming A, Washington B, Arizona A, two apiece.

IN Who's Who in American Colleges, a choice which is coming to mean a great deal, twenty-one girls were reported—three from New York A, 2 each from Virginia Γ and Kentucky A.

ETHEL HUESTON, Iowa Alpha

author of A Roof Over Their Heads

Just when we thought we had Ethel Hueston's books neatly classified as to type, up pops this prolific author with a novel very unlike all those preceding it. It makes one ponder the question, is there any type of story that Mrs. Hueston can't write?

A Roof Over Their Heads is above all a readable, entertaining yarn. With the first word, it thrusts the reader among a group of real people—twelve brave characters with whom the reader laughs, cries a little perhaps, despairs and hopes. More important, however, is the underlying theme that presents an intelligent study of the depression and its victims, with a hint for the solution of these depression problems.

The story concerns twelve personalities, some young, some old, who are attempting to live together under one roof. Their consolation is that at least they have a roof over their heads. Endurance under its worm-eaten rafters is preferable to facing the uncertainty they fear if they go anywhere else to make a new start. The roof is treated as a symbol of the close confinement which threatens gradually to destroy their initiative, their normal integrity, their chance of future happiness and self-respect.

The time comes when something must blow that roof off or bring it crashing down, if these people are to be restored to themselves, shaken from lazy dependence on the government check, given new energy to be up and doing. Something does happen to it, most dramatically.

The character of "Mom," who might have been any brave mother struggling for her brood after the depression hit them, will live for the reader long after the covers of the book have been closed upon this—Mrs. Hueston's best writing.

ETHEL HUESTON, Iowa Alpha

DOROTHY McCLEARY, D.C. Alpha

author of Not for Heaven and Naked to Laughter

Dorothy McCleary, D.C. A (Mrs. Harry M. Hamilton) is a firm believer that the early bird catches the worm and last year the proverbial worm turned out to be $1,000 in cash and wide acclaim for her novel Not for Heaven, which won first prize in the Doubleday, Doran—Story Magazine $1,000 Prize Novel Contest.

"From four to six in the morning is the only time I live," she says. "There are too many distractions during the day. I wake automatically at four o'clock without an alarm clock. Somehow an alarm clock annoys me and makes me want to stay in bed, instead of getting me up. When I awake I go to the kitchen and make myself a big cup of tea and along with a slice of bread and butter I take it back to bed. Everything seems so nice and quiet and cosy then and I can write." Thus it was that she turned out her manuscript which was deemed best by no lesser judges than Martha Foley, editor of Story Magazine, Lewis Gannett, critic on the New York Herald-Tribune and Harry E. Maule, Managing Editor of Doubleday, Doran. Not for Heaven was also chosen by the Literary Guild for distribution among its members.

Those who read this prize-winning novel recognized a new writer of unusual ability. Her fresh approach and vigorous characterizations set a certain high standard for herself that readers did not forget when they opened her latest book Naked to Laughter. That she has not disappointed her critical friends is evident as soon as the first chapter had been read.

The story is centered about Ruby Shreve, who was the milliner in a small town. Ruby was not the usual mousey sort, cringing behind protective pince-nez glasses. When an assistant was apprehended in one of her acts of kleptomania, Ruby caught her by the wrists in a grip that left red evidences of her strength. In the life that was lived in the shop and her quarters behind it this strength usually displayed itself in the directness of her character. But Ruby had her weakness, and it was a womanly desire for love.

When Herman came into her life, it became impossible for her to keep him out of her mind. But this is no ordinary study of a woman in love, for Ruby had none of the feminine wiles. Her direct approach to the complacent blond giant Herman was her only way of projecting herself. It left her naked to the laughter of her world, until a bitterly won wisdom came to her.

Thus runs the plot, but the mastery this Pi Phi author displays is revealed in her excellent characterizations. "As for 'plot' in a story or novel," she says, "it appears to me so wholly a matter of character-development that I never give it a thought. Characters, if watched long enough and attentively enough, will invariably respond by creating their own plot—and to me that is all that one dares ask of them. It's no fair taking your finger and moving a character like a chessman. No, fiction-writing might rather be compared to sitting in the engine of a train, stoking up for a journey over a railless track, with a headlight which sees not more than half an inch ahead. . . . But what a lovely trip—with characters whom one loves!"

Miss McCleary attended George Washington University, where she was initiated into D.C. A. In various ways, she accumulated the experiences so valuable to an author. She acted in a New York City stock company, wrote for a newspaper syndicate and had a job as clerk in a Brooklyn department store. Next to writing, her greatest interest is cooking. (She is the author of "A Primer of Cooking.") In her free time, she continues her study of French, Italian, and Spanish. In private life, she is Mrs. Harry M. Hamilton and has an eight-year-old boy, Charles. She is a sister of Ethel McCleary Whitmore, also D.C. A.

Pi Phis in Winnipeg are sponsoring a most interesting kindergarten in that city, and gave a theatre benefit performance for it January 27. More about this project another time!

DRAWING WATER

A Travelog from a Pi Phi Family*

THE MOTHER SPEAKS:

It is only honest to state that our objective was not Gatlinburg. For years the fact that we who live in Massachusetts had elderly parents in Arkansas had given rise to periodic conversations like this. "We really must go to Little Rock this Summer." "Yes, but even Father and Mother say it is so hot that we could not stand it. Don't you remember Mother's letter last summer in which she quoted the temperature 98 degrees, 99 degrees, and 102 degrees day after day? And at night she had to rub ice on the sheets and wring out her night-gown in water before she put it on?" "But when can we go?" And so the matter dangled. We wanted to go, but the only months when a schoolmaster had time were reported as too hot for endurance.

There is often no apparent reason for an important decision except inspiration. This one was possibly breathed in from the garden bed where I was poking about for crocus buds one sunny March morning. I suddenly said to myself, "We shall go to Arkansas this summer!" It was only a moment before my enthusiasm had flown to B., digging at the other end of the border, and he had also acquiesced.

But would the third member of the family go—Barbara, who would have only three weeks' vacation from the bookshop† where she (we both) worked, and who might possibly have other plans than riding 3200 miles? At luncheon, however, Barbara was an angel. I think she was remembering the day when she was eighteen, when her parents quite suddenly decided they would take her to England for a year after her Commencement at Mount Holyoke. She had seen this come true and it had helped her to realize that a decision once made, preparatory events often fall into line and make a pattern.

In the following weeks plans grew. The new Chevrolet was delivered; Grandfather and Grandmother in Little Rock wrote they had just added a cool spacious sleeping porch, and had arranged to add black Rosalie to their staff because she could fry chicken so much better than their man Lindsay; books of maps with routes marked and hotels and camps suggested, stuffed the mail box every morning; Peter, the cocker spaniel, was taken to a kennel. We locked the door and started.

Our first stop for the night was in Scarsdale, New York. The next morning the nephew with whom we stopped drove our car for us to the Holland Tunnel, and following his directions to keep to the Skyway Drive, we bowled rapidly along above the heavy traffic of New Jersey cities.

During most of this day we passed through rich Pennsylvania farming country where the barns have startling decorations in bright colors and "porches" for the cattle. The road was bordered for miles with hollyhocks. All roads should have them wherever possible.

A day later the Blue Ridge Mountains unfolded around us as we climbed the new Skyline Drive above winding valleys. We could see lonely cabins here and there far from roads and villages. What kind of life, we wondered, do people live so far away from what we call civilization? Most of these people, we were told, will have to move out now to a town, because the building of this road makes this territory a park land. "It will be a good thing, too, because the youngsters will have to go to school now." Later on, in the Great Smokies, we were to see a similar situation—great mountains, a National Park, and what it meant to the people in their cabins. We recalled the lonely huts in the mountains of Scotland where the shepherd and his family have only hill and sky and sheep for company.

The next morning found us on our way to Knoxville, a name which meant only one thing to us. It was the point at which one turns southeast for Gatlinburg, the town which from the beginning had loomed large in our plans. We had decided to make no detours for pleasure, however, until our visit in Little Rock was over, and thus it was with real regret that we passed through Knoxville, making a straight line across Tennessee, through Nashville to Memphis. We drove through heat that sounds unbearable, but it did not harm nor delay us. At times the thermometer registered 114°, and at the Andrew Jackson, where we stopped in Nashville, the hotel clerk had wisely mislaid his thermometer. We were seeing a new world, the world of great level stretches of cotton, with crazy black shanties of negroes scattered through the fields. Never having seen cotton growing, I thought at first that the small plants were potatoes, and once when we stopped by the road I asked a boy in a field if his potatoes were doing well. "Potatoes! That ain't potatoes, that's the finest field of cotton this side the Mississippi!" As we drove through this country we began dimly to know something of the problem of the tenant farmer and the sharecropper. But that is another story. In fact, all this preamble may seem to you "another story," but the Editor asked for the "How" of our journey. She also asked for the "What."

After crossing the Mississippi and spending a week in Little Rock, we retraced our road to Knoxville, and here is where B. comes in to tell what we saw and did at Gatlinburg.

THE FATHER SPEAKS:

I have always known that one's state of mind is closely associated with environment. At three o'clock on a torrid July afternoon I was just impossible. For two long days I had been cooped up in a sun-baked Chevrolet, looking at a long straight ribbon of concrete that runs from Memphis to Knoxville. I was beginning to fuss in the most approved style and inwardly wondered if I should ever see the last of Tennessee. Mildred and Barbara would have been perfectly justifified in opening the door and rolling me down an embankment into a cotton field.

The last whine disappeared, however, by magic, after we crossed the river at Knoxville. In the dim distance we could see the hazy outlines of the Great Smokies. Forty miles and we would be at our journey's end. It was forty miles of sheer loveliness—past neat farm buildings set in the midst of level fields of grain, then into a wooded valley along a curving road which followed a tumbling mountain stream. The gurgling water cooled and soothed us as we followed its winding course.

As we crossed a bridge, Mildred spied a sign, LITTLE PIGEON RIVER. Then we knew that we were among friends. Little Pigeon has always meant but one thing in our family, the Settlement School. High up above us rose LeConte, wooded to the very top; on either side of the road steep paths with rustic railings led to small cabins, and behind them row upon row of corn grew on a forty-five degree hillside. It must have been planted by fairies! How human folk could do more than scramble up the steep incline seemed impossible.

When we passed through the stone gateway bearing the sign, "Pi Beta Phi Settlement School," and drew up before the Teachers' Cottage, it was four o'clock, but the sun had disappeared behind the friendly mountains. So cool and invigorating was the air it might have been early morning. We were in a different world! On the porch was a group of women in conference, Pi Beta Phi's Settlement School Committee.

Ordinarily when one breaks in upon a committee meeting, he is put in his place promptly and properly with instructions to sit down and wait. Mrs. Weaver, director of the school, and the members of the National Committee are not ordinary people, however. When Mildred had introduced herself and family, we immediately felt that we belonged there, and even I, in the midst of such an august body, lost all my shyness.

Any impression of the Settlement School would be incomplete without a word of admiration for Mrs. Weaver and her work. We were all impressed with her enthusiasm. At the end of a strenuous day she was eager to show us the school.

After she had made reservations for us in cabins owned and managed by a former student, we began our tour. In the kitchen of Stuart Cottage we met Mary Ellen McDonald, who, with the help of two or three mountain girls, was preparing supper. The atmosphere of a fine old New England kitchen pervaded the place, and as I watched her preparing crisp salads and slicing cold ham, I was tempted to saunter around to the back door an hour later and ask if she didn't want me to work a bit on the woodpile.

I was impressed with the completeness of equipment. A separate building houses an up-to-date hospital where a resident nurse, assisted by the local doctor, cares for the health of the community. A modern school building faces a broad playing field where the Gatlinburg boy can learn the national game as well as his brother in the city. The largest barn we saw in this part of Tennessee is the model building belonging to the school. Mountain boys are now learning to care for stock, the value of rotation of crops, and all the latest methods of agriculture. The girls are instructed in dress making and cooking and are trained in all the amenities of home making, something that was entirely lacking in the lives of the former generation.

In the industrial building we found much material evidence of the school's work. Here are the hand looms where native women weave articles which would grace a Fifth Avenue shop window, scarves, neckties (I have two and wish I had more), runners, curtains, and bedspreads. Miss Redding, the efficient weaving teacher, told us how the school supplies the material and pays the members of the weaving guild, ninety in number, when the articles are completed. We saw the supply room with compartments filled with hanks of yarn, and looked with envious eyes at the piles of the finished Arrowcraft products. We saw home-woven goods in several Gatlinburg shops, but they were all inferior in quality of workmanship and design.

In the Arrowcraft Shop, Mrs. Snow, the manager, had on display products of the loom and hand-made cherry chairs and tables. The prices were reasonable, but our funds not sufficient to satisfy our desires.

Supper at the New Mountain View Hotel made us yearn to stay on indefinitely in this quiet valley. Good home-cooked food in abundance, served in family style, was a delightful change from meals in air-conditioned grill rooms of the large cities. As I paid the bill at the desk, I saw a modest folder which described the hotel and quoted the rates, $3.50 per day American plan. If there is another hostel in the East which includes meals and room at such a price, I have yet to hear of it.

In the afternoon we called on Mollie Moore who lives with her mother and sister in a little cabin on the side of the Sevierville road. Mollie is a member of the Weavers' Guild, and showed us how she operated her loom, which was set up in the living room. While she worked, her mother, seventy-five, told us of her struggle to bring up a family of six; how she planted and cultivated the hillside piece of corn and often fell down while carrying the bags down the hill. Now she had reached a peaceful old age and was apparently living comfortably in her cabin by the Little Pigeon. Both Mollie and her mother declared that they did not know what they would have done if the School had not been there to help in "lightening the load."

THE DAUGHTER SPEAKS:

And here, with mention of a lighter load, the third member of the family lifts her pen.

From this present life in New York City, interwoven with the strange confusion of traffic and noise, skyscrapers and slums, I look back on Gatlinburg resting there so quietly in the valley by the Little Pigeon, with the same affection which I hold in my heart for the small villages in the Italian Alps.

Is it possible that we were there little over twenty-four hours? Long enough at any rate to sense the friendliness, the strength, and the permanency of this small community. What do I remember? First, the cool afternoon shadows cast by the sheltering mountain sides, the sound of the clear water of Little Pigeon bubbling over the rocks, patch-work quilts, homespun, baskets and furniture displayed so attractively in the Settlement School shop, looms worn and shiny resting on cabin porches, two of the most beautiful girls I have ever seen, and a friendly speech sounding quite strange to my New England ears trained to the "R" of Yankee origin.

I remember also the pleasant sensation I experienced when told about the Weavers' Guild. It was almost as if I were tasting history again. My knowledge of dates is scant, but all the same, mention of this Weavers' Guild took me back somewhere around page 270 of my history schoolbook, back to the time when the crafts were dignified, when a member of the craft guild was an artist and a person of influence in his community.

And here in the year 1936, in the mountains of Tennessee, we came upon a weavers' guild! The accomplishments of this group which has approximately 100 members are many. Not only does the Guild produce fabrics, but drama as well. A play bill or two, and enthusiastic rumors, were responsible for our staying over in Gatlinburg to see "Lightening the Load," a play written and produced by the Guild members in the assembly hall at the Settlement School.

The day had been hot, not even the chill waters of Little Pigeon could change the burning noon-day. I thought with compassion of the farmers working in their cotton fields along the Tennessee highway and was grateful for the wooded glades of Gatlinburg. Shortly after four o'clock the air began to change. The sun dropped behind the mountains. The birds began to sing, and a fresh breeze stirred the trees. There was an air of festivity in the village all that day, and after supper we started down the road, joining others along the way. We wandered peacefully along the path, through the pasture under the placid gaze of the Settlement School cows, and waited with others for the doors to open.

The hall was filled that evening. Children took the front row seats. Fathers and mothers sat behind them. With a certain sense of guilt,

I must admit that we three sat among the children, watching and listening with all the enthusiasm of the youngest among them.

What is the theater without music in the pit? The Gatlinburg Theater measured up in this respect, too. Four young men took their place before the curtain. They plucked mountain tunes from their strings and sang songs which set feet to tapping and hands to clapping.

The hall became dark and the curtain rolled up on Gatlinburg in its early days. Here was the interior of a cabin, with women gathered together for a sewing bee. There was the ever-present loom, a pot of dye over the fire, a spinning wheel, a girl carding wool by the fireplace, another rocking a baby in a cradle. All of them were chatting about their work, the hardships and monotony of their life, recipes, and children. "Why, I brought up twelve children under one pair of blankets," one old lady said into the gossip-laden air.

There on the stage at Gatlinburg was enacted the story of the village's past years. The rumor of a school being opened, the hint of superstition at people invading the valley.

Finally, we saw the village in the present day, and witnessed the work the Settlement School had done in lightening the load.

It is an injustice that I should report this play so inadequately. I would like to quote lines and quote characters. All I can do here is to tell of the charm and simplicity and sincerity of the weavers who wrote and acted this play, and to tell of how it actually reflected the attitude of the people of the village toward the Pi Phi Settlement School.

The trip from Massachusetts to Arkansas and back was all too brief. We saw many cities, towns and people, but nothing has remained in my memory as clearly as Gatlinburg. To my mind the school is unique, for the thorough way in which it has become a part of the village without superimposing outside theories upon it. To the sociologist it is an ideal rural project. To one interested in native industries it is a source of fine and artistic work. To one who likes people it is a friendly village. Need I say more? Only this, that whether you are an authentic Pi Phi or just a husband or a daughter of a Pi Phi, do visit this Settlement School in Gatlinburg on Little Pigeon.

EXCHANGES AND COLLEGE NOTES

Edited by JUANITA DAY CARMAN, Minnesota A

HIGHLIGHTS FROM PANHELLENIC MAGAZINES

Kappa Kappa Gamma's February number shows interesting new and remodeled Kappa houses.

Kappa Alpha Theta's leading theme for the last issue is Leisure Time Pursuits or Hobbies, which include coverlets, antiques, Girl Scouting, skiing, children's music, dolls, deep sea fishing. Their heading "Friendly Rivals" gives news from other fraternities.

Gamma Phi Beta features the installation of their new chapter in London, Ontario. They have five Canadian chapters, the same number as Pi Beta Phi.

Delta Zeta, Delta Gamma, and Alpha Gamma Delta have letters and travel articles from their gad-about members which encircle the globe.

Delta Zeta is inaugurating a new service in their magazine. The "Ask Mr. Brashear" section offers vocational service and information to its members.

Justification of fraternities and Tri Delta in particular is the leading article in the current Trident.

Chi Omega's "Education" number has articles by professors from the Universities of Arizona, Colorado, Tulane, Minnesota, Nebraska, Alabama, Ohio, and others.

The Alpha Xi Delta magazine describes the northwest vacation land and, in particular, Yellowstone, where they will hold their next convention.

And—Panhellenic philanthropies! Sigma Kappa gave Christmas cheer to five hundred children in their Maine Sea Coast Mission. They pay the entire salary of one worker and the partial salary of another, who serve as pastor, teacher and social worker in that community.

Kappa Kappa Gamma is establishing a Hearthstone fund to be used for a Kappa Club House which will provide permanent and transient accommodations for members of that fraternity. The plan is to establish these houses in different sections of the country.

Phi Mu's new Healthmobile with its X-ray equipment is concentrating on tuberculosis eradication in Georgia.

Gamma Phi Beta is asking for a canned goods shower and Camp Counselors for their summer camp for underprivileged children.

Delta Zeta's clinic and health program at Vest, Kentucky is somewhat along the line of our work at Gatlinburg.

Alpha Omicron Pi's To Dragma has a plea for their frontier nursing service which is also in Kentucky.

Alpha Gamma Delta's summer camp for underprivileged children gives their alumnae members the feeling that they have something worth while to work for.

Alpha Chi Omega's Lyre describes a visit to the MacDowell colony of which they are patrons.

Is it spring or love or to what do we ascribe the many poems among the women's fraternity magazines? Of course the Lyre of Alpha Chi Omega has two pages. In the Trident contributions of poetry are accepted at a space rate. "Metrical Moods" in Delta Zeta rates two pages. Alpha Gamma Delta especially honors her poetess, Jessie Lane Thomas, and Delta Gamma her Marguerite Wilkinson. Some verses are whimsical, some humorous, some aesthetic, and some just poems.

AN OPEN LETTER TO FRESHMEN

On What I Would Do If I Were Re-entering College as a Freshman this Fall

(Compiled from letters from representative graduates of 1936.)

Department store windows and advertisements in the papers are shouting "Clothes for the college girl," "Here is your campus wardrobe." Younger friends are returning to college and it is easy for me to form the illusion that I, too, am going to return to the university this fall. Supposing I, the recent graduate, could re-enter this year as a freshman having lived through four years rich with experience—how would I begin afresh a college career?

First and most important I'd mind my books. That first year at college is apt to be enervating as far as mental habits are concerned because, already having a fair knowledge of most of the first year subjects, I would find that it would take but little exertion to carry me along. But I would remember that habits so easily and pleasantly formed are not so easily broken, so I would make a practice of overlearning my subjects to give impetus to the next three years of harder study. I would allot a certain amount of time to study and maintain it as a routine. I would plan ahead to be ready for quizzes and examinations and try to keep my grades steady. Then I would try to have as many classes in the morning as I could for I would be thinking more clearly than I do after a warm lunch.

I would decide as soon as possible what field I wanted to specialize in and then saturate myself with those courses which were related to it, also finding room for some cultural studies to give me a general background, to make me well-rounded and to give me a taste and interest and incentive to pursue them farther after graduation.

I would remember that if I should receive my sheepskin for work that was inferior to my best, or if I failed to take advantage of the many opportunities offered by my university, I would be deliberately depriving myself of the interest which is due on the investment of the time and money which had been spent on my education.

I would guard my health. Without it nothing is consequential. I would eat nourishing food and be strict about getting at least eight hours of sleep each night, and when I did not get my allotted quota I would re-schedule my hours that week so that I might get an extra nap.

I would enter wholeheartedly into activities, but not to the extent that I would use all my energy rushing from one to another. I would choose two for which I found myself particularly fitted, and having found those I would learn to be a good sport. Then I would have a hobby be it stamp collecting, glass animals, or photography. A hobby makes one more interesting. I will always remember Jane and her photography. She made a real art of her hobby and before she graduated she was earning money by taking pictures for the yearbook.

I would learn to make friends and be friendly. I would have many acquaintances but cultivate only a few close friends. I would not make close friendships with one group or clique to the exclusion of all others. Because a girl is not dressed according to the latest fashion, or does not go about with the smartest set is no reason why her friendship should be repulsed or avoided. I would choose my friends, both men and women, for themselves, not for their worldly value. I would remember that friendships made in college are lifelong ones and I would prove myself worthy of them. I would not only be friendly with my contemporaries but I would be friendly towards my professors, too.

I would join a sorority for the love, understanding and closer friendship which I feel can be best fostered among those bound by lifelong bonds of sisterhood in a great organization. I would choose one, not because it gave the most and the smartest parties, but for the character and the congeniality of the girls.

As for my clothes, I would be neat, careful of my personal appearance and select becoming and appropriate clothes, nothing garish, loud or odd. Nor would I be extreme in the use of makeup and how I would avoid the freshman's flair for crazy combinations!

And dates? Of course, but not too many and mostly on week-ends. Nor would I be serious with any one until my senior year.

Then somewhere I would have a card I would look at every day on which would be written:

1. Be friendly.
2. Be enthusiastic.
3. Be a good sport.
4. Wear a bright smile.
5. Maintain a cheerful disposition.
6. Guard your tongue.
7. Cultivate the ability to be by yourself.
8. Be sincere and loyal.
9. Keep your mind clean, healthy, open and tolerant.
10. Be a willing worker.

and I would mentally check myself to see if I could score ten for that day.—Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly

OUTSTANDING

Those interested in making purchases for chapter house libraries may like to know the 10 most outstanding non-fiction volumes of 1936, as chosen by a literary advisory council of Current History. The books are:

A Diplomatic History of the United States, by Samuel Flagg Bemis

An American Doctor's Odyssey, by Victor Heiser, M.D.

Hamilton Fish: The Inner History of the Grant Administration, by Allan Nevins

Inside Europe, by John Gunther

John Reed: The Making of a Revolutionary, by Granville Hicks

Sweden: The Middle Way, by Marquis W. Childs.

The Downfall of the Gold Standard, by Gustav Cassel

The Flowering of New England, by Van Wyck Brooks

The Letters and Journal of Brand Whitlock, edited by Allan Nevins

Of these, the third, fourth, fifth, seventh and ninth were chosen on the first ballot, virtually unanimous choices.—Sigma Kappa Triangle

CONCERNING RECOMMENDATIONS

Some day we may have a little handbook that states the proper procedure in various sorority situations. Space and detail should be given to the matter of recommendations in rushing season.

For example, a very charming girl who had attended a prominent and exclusive eastern school, acted as bridesmaid at a fashionable wedding in another city, and happened to remark to a Gamma Phi member that she was planning to attend a university in which there is a chapter of our organization. This member immediately despatched a letter, air-mail and special, to inform the chapter of the entering student and recommending her highly; and the chapter's reply to the letter contained various questions which were answered promptly. And from that day to this, the one who sent the recommendation has received no explanation of what happened. The girl's name was not in the pledge list—perhaps she didn't qualify, perhaps she chose another group; but it is only fair that the one who has the interest in the sorority and who has made the effort to connect with the chapter in question receive some final word in regard to the result of the recommendation and of the rushing.—Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta

ARE YOU AN EFFECTIVE ALUMNA?

By EDNA MONCH PARKER, "Triangle" Club Editor

How many times have you been asked what belonging to a sorority has done for you? A sufficient number of times to make you think seriously of the answer, I'll wager. But how many of you have ever been asked what you can do for your sorority? Somehow we usually think of benefits due us rather than our obligations and relations to the groups of which we are members.

No doubt any alumna could easily make a list of the obvious responsibilities one ought to assume as a member of Sigma Kappa. Among them would be included:

1. Become a Life member of the sorority.
2. Take an active part in whatever alumnae organization is located near you.
3. Cooperate in Statewide Rushing Projects or at least send rushees' names to college chapters.
4. Keep the Central Office posted as to whereabouts so that the directory can be accurate.
5. Attend International and Regional Conventions whenever possible.
6. Be cooperative and answer all sorority mail received.

Most of you are thinking, "Well, I do those things when I can." But how many of you make a real effort to support and cooperate with the organization of which you were so proud to be a college member?

That very word PROUD is the key to much of our alumnae laxity, somewhere between college days and the present, many alumnae have lost their pride in being Sigma Kappas. Look about you and discover what it is in your present surroundings that you work at most devotedly. Is it a garden? Is it a charming home? Is it children? Why do you give so much thought and attention to it? I'll answer that for you—because you are proud of it. You simply glow when someone compliments you on it. Do you have that same feeling about your sorority?

There may be alumnae who are in situations which make it absolutely impossible to fulfill the obligations mentioned above. Yet, even so that doesn't mean you can't do something for your sorority. Several weeks ago I attended a feminine bridge party. During a lull in play, the subject of sororities was mentioned. Without any boastfulness and with unusual subtlety the girl opposite me talked of the house to which she belonged.

When I left the table it was with a feeling that her sorority was an interesting one of high standing. She had made that impression possible.

In the same way each of you can do that for Sigma Kappa. Even if you can't do any of the six things listed above, you can give your organization prestige by being a credit to it personally, by speaking of it, by showing that you are proud of it and are glad to be a Sigma Kappa.—Sigma Kappa Triangle

RECIPE FOR A THRIVING FRATERNITY

To each Alpha Sigma Tau chapter, add one good set of officers, including a good leader as a president, an accurate secretary, a careful treasurer, and a good committee chairman. Mix thoroughly until smooth and evenly grained. Then add a generous amount of congeniality, a dash of wit, two ounces of courtesy and a small amount of ginger. Sweeten with equal amounts of cheerfulness, kindness, and charitable thoughts. Work well together, then add a handful each of pep, and patience for each member. Keep mixture at an even temperature; no steaming, boiling, or stewing necessary. When done, sprinkle generously with willingness and the product will be ready to serve and will grace any chapter of A. S. T.—The Anchor of Alpha Sigma Tau

FRIENDSHIP

By HERVEY ALLEN

Strong friendship begins with respect, traverses admiration, and ends in a trust and affection which continues to combine the first two. The process is greatly accentuated if the friends in the making are both willing to confer and receive favors without conceiving them as obligations or weights on the scales of influence which must ever be kept nicely readjusted and precisely balanced. A true friendship transcends this mere tit-for-tat game of influence played between urbane self-seeking acquaintances. It finds its equipoise in the discovery that both parties have a trust and belief in some eternal relationship beyond themselves. Then, no matter how differently they may approach that common center, they understand their actions and attitudes to be upon a mutually permanent ground.—The Magazine of Sigma Chi

COOPERATIVE HOUSES INCREASING

Student cooperative houses, says the A.A.U.W., are now coming into their own, sped on by the relentless pressure of financial need. A study of student cooperative housing plans in 16 midwestern schools and colleges has just been made by H. C. Gregg, Iowa State College business manager. He found that in 15 institutions sponsoring women's cooperatives 763 women students saved themselves $86,818 in yearly living costs, and in seven institutions sponsoring men's cooperatives 1,096 students saved $117,892. Here is something for fraternity men to ponder.—Fraternity Month

Jay Purves, Illinois Z, of Des Plaines, Illinois, women's world table tennis doubles champion, a well known Illinois graduate, member of Pi Phi, competed in the international table tennis association tournament at the Rainbow Fronton, Chicago. She played before an afternoon and evening audience, being paired against Sandor Glancz. Only recently, Jay was in Europe competing in the championship meet. While in the University she participated in many Woman's Athletic Association events.

IN MEMORIAM

PI BETA PHIS who had the privilege of knowing or of working with Gail DeWolf know that no words are adequate to tell how great a loss came to the fraternity in her death.

GAIL DEWOLF

Pi Beta Phi has never had an officer with greater ability, keener insight, or deeper loyalty! Her personality too was unusual and she had a rare capacity for friendship. After almost four years of illness, she died February 5, following operations for the removal of a blood clot and a brain tumor.

Gail DeWolf's service to her fraternity began with her initiation into Iowa Zeta, March 10, 1920, and never ceased. She held many important chapter offices including those of president and convention delegate. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and held A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Iowa. Her teaching placed her in the forefront of her profession. She was elected Zeta Province President in 1925 and Grand Secretary in 1927 and she held both offices with great distinction. She refused re-election in 1931 in order to go abroad. Her service to Pi Beta Phi will long be evident in the constructive policies and methods which she helped establish.

In the hearts of those of us who held her dear, she still lives—forever beloved!

THE DEATH on January 30 of Melinda Berry Stuart, a most loyal, enthusiastic and beloved member of Nebraska B, initiated 1896, sister of Anne Stuart, former Grand Treasurer, has brought deepest grief to all Pi Phis.

Melinda faced facts fearlessly, and although she knew from the first the seriousness of her illness, she accepted it with rare courage.

Always active in Pi Phi, she served the fraternity in many ways, nationally as well as locally. She was for six years Treasurer of the Settlement School, and the Stuart cottage, a gift to the school, was only one instance of her interest in and generosity to the fraternity. She served the local chapter and club, in almost every capacity, and the present beautiful chapter house was built under her personal supervision. Many Nebraska Betas would not have been able to finish their schooling but for her aid. She had great love for and belief in the ideals of Pi Beta Phi.

Her interests led her into varied channels, and her going will be felt by many different groups of people. She was interested in various civic projects, and for many years was on the executive committee of The County Humane Society, and was also its Treasurer, and served the state Y.W.C.A. in a similar capacity. Her charity was well known, and she was always contributing bountifully of her strength and means to many sources of relief. She felt an interest and responsibility in everything to which she belonged.

MELINDA BERRY STUART

Her keen, alert mind, her zest for living, her staunch character, made her a host of friends, not only locally, but on her extensive travels about the world. She was an active, working member of First Plymouth Congregational church, and a charter member of Tuesday Travel Club.

Her lovely home she shared with others, and it was, and still is, "home" to many returning Pi Phis.

Her loyalty to family interest, her great love for her mother and her pride in her brother and sisters were outstanding. To them we extend our deepest sympathy.

With her fine loyalties and unselfish nature, Melinda's death is a deep loss to her chapter, her alumnae club and to her fraternity nationally.

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, March 2, 1937

The chapter has been busy this month with second semester rushing. On February 28, a breakfast was served to twelve rushees in the chapter room.

A tea in honor of the chapter patronesses was given February 14 in the chapter room. The Dean of Women, the matrons of the dormitories, and a member of each sorority attended.

Miss Hood, president of Alpha Province East, visited the chapter February 25 to February 27, and was honored at a tea by the alumnae advisory board.

The Maine A pledges recently entertained the pledges of the other sororities at a tea in the chapter room.

The annual Intramural Ball was held in the Memorial Gymnasium, February 19, at which time the Carnival Queen, a member of A O II, was chosen. Because of the lack of snow Maine was disappointed this year in having no winter carnival, which has always been one of the outstanding events on campus.

Hosea Buck, for many years one of the trustees of the University of Maine, and a loyal friend of Maine A, died suddenly at his home in Bangor, February 22.

A gift of 500 volumes on marine subjects to be known as the Cole Memorial Library has been presented to the University of Maine by Mrs. Clinton L. Cole, wife of Clinton Cole, of the class of 1900, as a memorial to her husband.

The new freshman dormitory for men, which replaces Oak Hall, has been completed and is now occupied by fifty freshmen.

The pledging service was held in the chapter room February 17. Those pledged were Evangeline Anderson, Marguerite Kver, and Alice Pierce. After the service the chapter installed its officers for the coming year.

The Masque, the campus dramatic organization, presented March 3 and 4 its third performance of the year, "Arms and the Man," by G. Bernard Shaw.

Pledge Day, October 30, 1936

INITIATED, January 28, 1937: Vivian Corrigan, Barbara Murray, Halifax, N.S.; Nancy Lawson, Ottawa.

Early in February the graduating class elected its life officers. Kay Finlayson was elected life secretary, Gene Morison class historian, Evelyn Embree prophetess, Mabel MacKenzie and Helen Holman as members of the Convocation Committee. Pi Phis were elected to five of the six offices open to women.

On February 14, the Panhellenic tea was held at Barbara Murray's home. There have been a number of teas at the girls' homes since Christmas. Initiation, in January, was preceded by a tea, and a very amusing and informal "games party." The ceremony was followed by a formal banquet at the hotel.

In March Dalhousie will celebrate "Munroe Day" to honor the memory of Mr. George Munroe, one of Dalhousie's greatest benefactors. A number of Pi Phis will participate in the celebrations, and one of our alumnae, Margaret Kerr will receive a Glee Club "D." The Glee Club is putting on "Leave It to Psmith," and two of the chapter members, Margaret Drummie and Evelyn Embree, are taking part.

The girls this year have taken a great interest in debating. Gene Morison is the manager of girls' debating.

The team will debate against the Mount Allison girls in Sackville. One of our pledges is on this team.

The chapter welcomed Miss Hood in February, on her annual visit, which proved very helpful. We are now looking forward to having Mrs. Smith with us for Easter.

Since exams start on April 20, the fraternity year is practically over. There are two events yet to come after Mrs. Smith's visit, a party to which prospective rushees for next year will be invited, and the graduates' banquet, which follows the farewell ceremony and which serves for the chapter as the official Founders' Day celebration. All alumnae who can do so usually attend this and as a rule the girls entertain afterwards at the weekly supper dance at the hotel. At the last meeting of the year we hope to have Mrs. Nichols, one of our patronesses and herself a doctor of medicine, speak to us on the careers of early professional women.

INITIATED, February 12, 1937: Dorothy Jane Acker, Paoli, Pa.; Catharine Jane Appleton, Llanerch, Pa.; Barbara-Ann Carrick, Newton Highlands, Mass.; Edith Chancellor Finlay, Essex Junction, Vt.; Doris Elizabeth Keffer, Ridgewood, N.J.; Alice Irene McGaughy, New York, N.Y. All initiates are of the class of 1940.

The new women's dormitory is meeting with great success. A large recreation room makes it possible to hold many meetings there. The art exhibits have been brought to Middlebury and shown in this room. The first was a collection of Rembrandt etchings and the second was some very interesting modern art.

The entertainment course has been continued with Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press, speaking on books, and Felix Salmond, cellist, who gave a very fine concert. An exhibition of the arts and crafts of the Navajo Indians was held at the gymnasium on March 8. This included the destroying of the sand painting, an old ritual.

The annual banquet was held at the Middlebury Inn the evening of initiation. Many of the alumni were able to attend. This was a very successful affair. Speeches were made and scholarship prizes were awarded. It was impressively closed by the Loving Cup ceremony.

A party was given the juniors and seniors by two of our patronesses who are also mothers of actives here. We played bridge and had tea. Several of the alumnae gave a tea for the juniors and freshmen. We enjoy these opportunities for being together.

Founders' Day was celebrated April 24. Members from Massachusetts A and Vermont B were with us. A short ceremony was held during which a candle was lighted for each of the Founders and a few of the outstanding facts of their lives were told. Girls were dressed in old-fashioned costumes to represent the Founders. This was very impressive. Later we had a cooky-shine. It was so much fun to get acquainted with the girls of the other chapters. It is to be hoped that this custom will be continued.

Helene Cosenza, as in-coming president of Panhellenic, attended the regional conference of Panhellenic held at Boston in the early part of April.

Janet Gray was elected Carnival Queen; she is also president of Student Union. Mary Heckman has been in several plays this year. Irene McGaughy has done art work for the college magazine which holds much promise for her next three years at Middlebury. Erma Wright was the head of badminton and Louise Hoyt, Helen Brewer, and Florence Overton are also active in sports. Carol Bloom and Jane Kingsley, who are on the varsity debating team, have been on trips to Boston and New York where they have met representatives from many colleges. Louise Hoyt, Helene Cosenza, Florence Overton, Mary Heckman, and Elizabeth Osborne are on Junior Week Committees. Marjorie Kohr and Edith Egbert made the Dean's List.

Pledge Day, February 18, 1937

The first event after mid-years was the pledging of Helen Huntington, '38, Rochester, on Tuesday, February 2. That same week regular rushing teas began, and Vermont B held its tea Friday afternoon, with Frances Hennessey, '38, in charge. The following week was devoted to dinner parties. This year the chapter had a Tyrolean party, the table centerpieces were snow scenes with tiny figures made of pipe cleaners, skiing or skating on white cotton mountains. The favors were pipe cleaner girls on skis, wearing wine and blue suits.

Neutral period began February 17 at noon and lasted till 5 P.M. the next day.

Pledging was held at 5 o'clock, and afterwards the sophomores had charge of supper at the house. Breakfast for the chapter and pledges was served Sunday morning at the house, and the girls then attended St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The pledge banquet was held Monday evening at the Hotel Vermont.

The annual Sophomore Hop took place at the Hotel Van Ness, February 5.

The third week-end in February is always busy, for along with rushing and pledging comes Kake-Walk, the annual mid-winter frolic at U.V.M. Charlie Barnet's orchestra played at the Masquerade Ball held in the gymnasium. Helen Taylor, '37, was chairman of the decorating committee. February 20 was Kake-Walk, and Gwyneth Jones, '37, was in charge of the ushers, and Priscilla Savage, '39, and Helen Wright, '37, aided her. That noon at Southwick, the new Women's Student Union building, was the third annual parents' banquet, which was followed by moving pictures of life on the campus.

The Alumnae Club entertained the Mothers' Club at the chapter house February 24. One of the features of the entertainment was the enactment of the song "The Pi Phi Beau and the Arrow," by the active chapter.

The pledges gave a tea to the pledges of the other women's societies at the house February 26.

The pledge dance, given by the actives for the pledges, was held March 6. Katherine Scott, '39, was chairman of the committee in charge.

Ruth Perkins, '38, Joyce Stearns, '38, and Gretchen Keelan, '38, were recently elected to John Dewey Club. Membership into this club is gained by receiving a B average in Psychology or Philosophy for one semester. Gretchen Keelan was also elected to Press Club.

Members of the chapter on the Dean's List for the semester are Lois Brown, '39, Helen Huntington, '38, Ruth Palmer, '39, Priscilla Savage, '39.

Abernathy Clarkson Wright, Inc., one of Burlington's foremost department stores, presented a fashion show of spring clothes for the college girl at the Student Union Mass Meeting held at Southwick Memorial, March 5. Betty Coggins, '40, and Helen Wright, '37, were two of the models.

Helen Taylor, '37, was elected senior class secretary at the recent class election.

On March 17 the University students were very fortunate in being able to hear the Vienna Boys' Choir in a recital of songs and costumed opera.

April 28 Founders' Day was observed with Vermont A. PLEDGED: Mary Amis, Farmington, Me.; Betty H. Chase, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.; Dorothy H. Hutchin, Plattsburg, N.Y.; Hester Kehoe, Rutherford, N.J.; Frances C. Fuller, De Land, Fla.; Barbara E. Schults, Cranford, N.J.; Betty A. Coggins, Madge E. Hendee, Elizabeth Taylor, Burlington.

The second semester of this year finds the members of II B Φ active in University affairs. From the senior class, there are Lucie DeHaro, permanent class secretary for the School of Education, Astrid Malmsten, permanent class secretary for the College of Liberal Arts, and Beatrice Warner, class assistant secretary. Astrid Malmsten is also secretary of the Student Board, treasurer of $\Gamma \Delta$, and on the Cabinet of the Women's Athletic Association. Constance Reuter is co-chairman of Stunt Night. From the sophomore class, Caro Grace, from the School of Education, is secretary of the all-university Dramatic Club; Miriam Taylor is in charge of Membership Suppers for the Y.W.C.A.; Phyllis Hood is class vice-president and on the committee for the annual costume ball, "Klatch"; Ann Haavisto is class assistant secretary and on the sophomore executive committee; and Muriel Scott is captain of the sophomore basketball team.

New II B Φ officers are Miriam Taylor, treasurer, and Muriel Scott, corresponding secretary.

On February 26, the chapter held a formal dance at 131 Commonwealth Avenue. Vivian Greene was in charge.

The chapter served as hostess for the monthly Panhellenic Meeting on March 19. Constance Reuter and Vivian Greene were in charge of this affair.

At the alumnae club bridge on March 20, the active chapter helped by giving a fashion show. Each girl in the chapter modelled one or two costumes. On the committee for this were Verina Rogers, Constance Reuter, Eleanor Hinckley, and Barbara Huse.

One Sunday night during the month is reserved for the entire chapter to gather for tea. The other three Monday nights buffet suppers are served. All agree that the pledges need some experience in serving. It seems to prove very satisfactory.

A two-day vocational conference for senior and sophomore women, sponsored by II B T, senior women's honorary, and the dean of women's office, has recently taken place. Those attending the conferences were automatically excused from classes. Among those prominent speakers at the conference were Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, Virginia, Dr. Burgess Johnson, former director of publicity and professor of English at Syracuse. Dr. Burgess Johnson was on the literary staff of Harper's magazine, and editor-in-chief of Judge, humor magazine. His book, "Professor at Bay," was released recently. Also among the speakers was Miss Zoretzkie, who is Washington correspondent for the central New York branch of the National League for American Penwomen, and Miss Kathleen McLaughlin, editor of the Women's page of the New York Times. All in all, this conference proved very helpful and interesting.

The Winter Carnival sculpturing contest this year proved to be exceptional. Jaunty Johnny Walker walked away with the Double Seven cup under his arm and his high hat brightly tipping. Johnny, with his swinging cane and his red coat attracted a great many. Another figure worth mentioning is "The Spirit of Hell Week," which shows two figures. One of the students holds in his swinging hand a real wooden paddle. At the right space and bent at the correct angle stands an orange-capped freshman with his head apprehensively turned to the back. Yellow, blue, and green were used to color the figures. Emerging from the great pile of snow the last minute is "Mr. Esquire." The little man is a 15-foot giant now, but he was faithfully reproduced from his protruding eyes and white mustache to his round body and ruddy color. The sweetheart of ΣX with her bright yellow hair and brilliant red gown stands with her back to the sidewalk and rests her left hand on the blue table at the side. In a typical Mae West pose, she is complete from the cigarette held in her red-tipped fingers to the corded decoration on her dress. These are only a few of the many interesting images here on campus.

"Nine Days a Queen" has been shown at the University theater. The picture has received enthusiastic acclaim from both critics and students. It is a "careful and deliberate attempt to apply the chronicle history structure familiar in the Elizabethan stage to the motion pictures."

Charles Wilkinson, Minnesota quarterback last fall and reputed to be one of the most talented gridgers, has been appointed to the Syracuse varsity football coaching staff.

Dr. William Pickens, a director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, visited campus.

Dr. M. Eunice Hilton, dean of women, and Miss Marjorie C. Smith, assistant dean of women, attended the convention of the National Association of Deans of Women, February 17 to 20, in New Orleans.

On Founders' Day, the alumnae entertained the chapter at a luncheon at Drumlins.

Marcia Jump and Miss Josephine Sullivan were pledged to Σ A Γ , honorary musical fraternity. Beth Maxwell was a candidate for senior ball queen. Esther Fernald is secretary of W.S.S. Madeline Deuel and Esther Fernald were initiated in A.E.E., honorary educational fraternity. Nancy Wright and Martha Keefe are candidates for junior beauty. Jean Olmstead is candidate for president of the City Women's Club. Janis Rood is candidate for president of Women's Chapel Board. Esther Fernald was appointed social chairman of W.A.A. for next year and is also running for president of W.A.A.

INITIATED, February 15, 1937: Anne Cowles, Floral Park, L.I.; Margaret Currie, Frances Howard, Canton; Ethel Eppich, Gloversville; Theda Holmes, Ogdensburg; Marion Kurz, Freeport, L.I.; Jeannette Light, New Hartford; Caroline Meyer, Schenectady; Lois Radley, Ilion; Leona Swancott, Lee Center.

It was very hard to drop the spirit of Christmas for that of examinations, but New York Γ succeeded in doing so, and found that it paid by having ten new girls to initiate on February 15.

The Winter Carnival was seriously handicapped this year by the scarcity of snow. In place of the regular ice statues each fraternity and sorority made a display which was exhibited in the Commons Room of the Men's Dormitory on the night of the Carnival Ball. New York Γ was awarded honorable mention for an amusing winter scene, dominated by pipe cleaner figures in various poses—graceful and otherwise.

New York Γ is very well represented on the staffs of the St. Lawrence student publications. On the Gridiron staff, the college year book, Phyllis Duffany is the co-ed business manager, Marion Ryan is the co-ed faculty editor, and Dorothy Cass is the co-ed sports editor. When the appointments for the staff of the Hill News, the college newspaper, came out on March 3 the chapter was pleased to find that Marion Ryan was appointed office editor, and Dorothy Cass associate editor.

On February 10 the chapter held its formal Winter Party. Naturally St. Valentine dominated the scene.

On March 4 Miss Grace Hayward, the placement director of Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School, visited the campus and gave an excellent talk on capitalizing our personal aptitudes in the world of business.

The alumnae gave a dessert bridge to raise money for the chapter.

March 6 was the night to which all the chapter looked forward with pleasure, initiatory banquet. It is a custom at St. Lawrence for the initiates to be dressed in costume to form a scene. This year the motif was taken from Holland. During the evening each of the five fraternities on the Hill came and serenaded. The initiates had individual songs which they sang for the men, and also an original group song. Without doubt this was one of the gayest chapter functions of the year.

The custom of dinner exchanges between sororities has been established quite a while on campus, but not until this year were there exchanges between the sororities and the fraternities. These exchanges have been so successful that they no doubt will be continued in the future.

St. Lawrence University is very fortunate in that it owns and operates a radio station, WCAD. This semester a new course was opened to students, giving them instruction in all phases of radio work. It promises to be one of the most popular courses of the curriculum.

The chapter celebrated Founders' Day with four original and clever skits, each class presenting one. Patronesses and alumnae were present, and after the refreshments the chapter sang many Π B Φ songs, the most popular being a song composed by the song leader of New York Γ , Margaret Unangst, to the tune of Aloha Oe.

New York Δ greatly enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Carleton Fox, President of Alpha Province West, this winter. A tea was given by the chapter in her honor. Alumnae, sorority presidents, and sorority and dormitory chaperons were invited.

Cornell's annual Junior Week-End was held February 11 through 13. At this time the Instrumental Club and Men's Glee Club combined in presenting a musical comedy, "Life Begins at Midnight." Members of the Cornell Dramatic Club also entertained students by presenting a play, "Charlie's Aunt." The orchestras of Jimmy Luceford, Bob Crosby, and Hudson-Delange provided dancing music for many house party guests and students at the Junior Prom.

New York Δ has bought a new house which is now being remodeled. When finished, it is believed that twenty girls will be able to live in it, while the old one accommodates only fifteen. It is hoped that the house will be finished by April 1 so the seniors will have a chance to enjoy it.

New York Δ and New York A celebrated Founders' Day together.

Large crowds of people attended Cornell's Farm and Home Week, February 15-20. Lectures and demonstrations were given by professors as well as many invited speakers. One of the outstanding events of the week was a fashion show at which Mrs. Roosevelt modeled her inaugural gowns. She presented one of them to the Clothing Department of the College of Home Economics.

Frances Hartman has been elected to the Women's Glee Club. Hildegard Uelzmann and Dorothy Shaw took part in "Princess Ida," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. Florence Dixon has been elected to the women's editorial staff of the Cornell Daily Sun. Florence Boyer and Jeanne White have been elected to K Δ E, a national women's professional educational society. Ruth Margaret Myers has been elected vice-president of the freshman class. She has been nominated for president of Sage Dormitory. Ontario A chapter has had a busy spring semester beginning with a week of rushing and ending on March 5 with the formal dance of the fraternity. The rushing parties were very successful and consisted as usual of two teas, a luncheon, a supper party, and two formal parties, one of which the alumnae of the chapter gave to help the actives. As a result of this week the girls listed above pledged themselves to Π B Φ . After pledging, the chapter gave a dance for the new pledges and on March 1 they were initiated. The initiation ceremony was followed by a banquet the same night and on March 5 by the annual formal dance.

During the semester there has been the Panhellenic dinner and dance, the only official interfraternity party. There have also been several occasions on which other fraternities have invited members of each fraternity on the campus to meet a visiting officer. This practice is excellent for the promotion of interfraternity spirit, and Ontario A followed this example for the visit of Mrs. Smith the middle of March.

Members of the chapter have been occupied in the student governing body, the Women's Undergraduate Association, on which Josephine Le Pan and Peggy Carson have executive positions. In sports, Mary Carter, Lucile Graham, Mary Nagler, and Dorelle Mackellar played hockey. Dorelle Mackellar arranged the college badminton tournament. Frances Brown and Lucile Graham have taken part in interfaculty swimming and diving. Janet Hart has done work for the Players' Guild, the college dramatic club. Mary Greey and Janet Hart have done reporting for the University newspaper, The Varsity, and Mary Greey is on the executive committee of the University Philosophy Club.

The second semester at Bucknell is just about half over. With the coming of the new semester in February, came a new Dean of Women, Mrs. Dorothy Dyer, formerly assistant dean at Ohio State University. Mrs. Dyer has brought with her a great many plans which she hopes will be of definite benefit to the Women's College.

On Sunday, February 28, the chapter met with the Alumnae Club of Lewisburg and some of the patronesses in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Settlement School. Frances Theiss, Ruth Parker, Carol Lee Davis, and Hannah Mervine, actives, and Peggy Davis, a pledge presented an adaptation of the play, "Up the Little Pigeon," by Mary Vernor, in the form of a puppet show. Mrs. Candace Cloyd Johnson, Beta Province Vice-President, then spoke to the group about the Settlement School, illustrating her talk with photographs. The chapter quintet concluded the program with a number of songs.

Erma Hewitt, newly initiated member, recently received acclaim for her excellent portrayal of Ophelia in the Cap and Dagger Dramatic Society's production of "Hamlet." A former Bucknellian, John Forst, now appearing on the legitimate stage took the lead. According to authorities, this dramatization equalled any by professional players.

The chapter held its annual dinner dance on February 20. About forty couples attended the dinner which was closed to outsiders. The dance was held in the gymnasium which was decorated to represent a grape arbor. The orchestra made such a hit that the chapter is looking forward to having a crowd present at the Settlement School dance in the early spring.

Junior Prom was a gala occasion this year. Ray Noble and his orchestra attracted quite a large number of alumnae, and many of the chapter's old grads were in for the week-end.

A dinner was given in honor of the new dean and patronesses on March 14. It was held in the new "Orange and Blue Room" of a local hotel.

West Virginia University students began the second semester with a new fervor after four days vacation which featured the Military Ball. Mildred Collier, Regimental Sponsor, led the grand march with her escort and Colonel and Mrs. Leland S. Devore. Mrs. Devore is the chapter's newest patroness.

With the beginning of the second semester bids to honorary fraternities were sent out. Eleanor Hastings, Jean Handlan, June Finnegan, Mary Rightmire, Virginia Lee Frantz, Jane Linn Osbourne, and Joan Lilly received bids to Le Foyer Francais, French; Mary Rightmire received a bid to Il Circolo Italiano, Italian; and Jean Cole and Jane Downs received bids to Matrix, Journalism.

The Junior Prom was the main event of early March. The court was composed of one girl from each sorority and one non-sorority girl. From this group the Queen was selected by ballots placed when tickets were bought. June Finnegan represented II B Φ.

The active chapter was responsible for the Founders' Day program this year. The festivities were begun with a luncheon at the Country Club, followed by a program which included talks by active and alumnae members and the presentation of the gift for the highest average in the pledge group to Dianne Toussaint.

West Virginia A has chosen two representatives to compete for the title of Campus Beauty Queen. Eight girls are chosen from the group competing and the girl having the largest number of votes is Queen. Betty Sue Baker and Lucy Jones were chosen by the chapter.

Mrs. Dewitt Clinton, of Pennsylvania B, is a new member of the Morgantown Alumnae Club and has been elected to the Advisory Board.

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

INITIATED, February 2, 1937: Esther Evans, Evel n Robinson, Frances Alonso-Lopez, June Harris, Ruth Morrow, Sarah Showalter, Ruth Stackelroth, Doris Weltner, Peggy West, February 14, 1937: Alice Parkin.

Maryland A's big event of the winter term was the initiation of nine pledges on February 2, which was culminated by a gala banquet at the Stafford Hotel. Other chapter activities during the term were a White Elephant sale and tea on January 15 for the Settlement School, and the annual faculty tea held on February 23, a most enjoyable event as it gives both professors and students a chance to know each other outside the classroom. The most important social moment was the Panhellenic Dance which took place on February 5 in the Maryland Casualty Ballroom. Before the dance the chapter members, alumnae, and their escorts gathered in the fraternity rooms for coffee. Mrs. Myers, president of the Alumnae Club, was official chaperon of the chapter for the evening.

Sing Song again found the class of 1937 chairmanship by Jean Critchlow with Lucille McCormick, chapter president, playing the piano. The seniors carried out tradition and won the contest. Agnes Hofstetter was chairman of the juniors who took third place; Nancy Keltz's distinctive piano accompaniments led the freshmen to second place, a most unusual occurrence. Jean has just been elected to the very important office of Senior Step-Singing chairman, and meanwhile is using her talents in musical arrangements for the senior play, in which Margaret Reid has a part. Jean Dockhorn was chairman of the playreading committee for the class. Jane Bronk has just returned from representing the Christian Association at two conferences, one at Hampden Institute and the other in the Poconos.

Many of the chapter members braved the very wet Maryland weather to journey to Washington for the Inauguration ceremonies. Despite the deluge, however, enthusiastic accounts of the parade, the crowds, and the social events were received.

Maryland A seniors were the guests of the Δ Δ Δ's at a reception held in their fraternity rooms after Sing Song.

The chapter attended the meetings of the recent Vocational Conference held here. At this time Goucher alumnae talked on the work they are doing and the requirements for it. Mrs. E. D. Corner, a II B Φ and the wife of one of the trustees, addressed the meeting on "Recreation."

Founders' Day celebration was held on April 23 and was in the form of a birthday party, complete with cake and candles. The alumnae club planned the affair which was to show the differences between the old plan of education and the modern progressive plan. There was no speaker, but all joined in singing nursery rhyme jingles. The active chapter added charades as their contribution to the evening. The chapter feels that this observance was a very impressive and valuable experience for its new members, making them realize more than ever the magnitude of II B Φ.

INITIATED, February 4, 1937: Betty Bates, '40, 1650 Harvard St.; Betty Lee Brown, '40, 1803 37th St.; Virginia Hindman, '40, 5130 Connecticut Ave.; Joyce Hitch, '37, Guyton, Okla.; Tahmineh Irani, '39, 1715 Irving St.; Mary Helen Jones, '38, Kennedy-Warren Apts.; Helen Lyons, '39, 1775 N St.; Frances Roffe, '40, 3506 Rodman St.; Mary Louise Tips, '37, 140 E. Magnolia, San Antonio, Tex.

A recent and very attractive addition to George Washington was the enlarging and remodeling of the Student Club. Murals depicting the history of the university and the extra-curricular activities on campus have been painted and fraternity and sorority pennants now adorn one wall. To celebrate the completion of the club, the Student Council gave a barn dance, featuring farm yard decorations and an amusing amateur contest.

For the first semester of the college year, the actives of D.C. A stood first in scholarship among the women's fraternities on campus. Agnes Shaper and Mary Louise Tips were recently initiated into Φ E P, local philosophical honorary society. Margaret Clark was associate editor of the 1937 year book, The Cherry Tree, and was recently elected to the Student Council. Dorothy Pickett has attained an outstanding position on the Women's Varsity Rifle Team and, in a recent match against Drexel University, shot high score for the match.

On March 1, District of Columbia A entertained Mr. Hugh Clegg, prominent George Washington alumnus and Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, at dinner in the chapter rooms. Following dinner, Mr. Clegg gave a short talk on G-Men and their activities and, at his invitation, the chapter went en masse on a private tour of the bureau a week later.

The past few months have included a round of social functions climaxed by the Interfraternity Prom with Hal Kemp's famous broadcasting orchestra on March 10 and the Panhellenic Prom a week later.

Following initiation on February 4, a banquet was held for the new initiates and each girl's alumna sponsor was present. On February 14, the Mothers' Club entertained the active chapter, the pledges and their mothers at tea in the chapter rooms. On March 21, District of Columbia A held a very successful tea dance to raise funds for the Endowment Fund and the Settlement School. Open House, for the faculty and fraternities and sororities on campus, was held in the chapter rooms on April 11. District of Columbia A was well represented at the Gamma Province Convention on April 23-25 at Duke University.

Founders' Day was celebrated by the active chapter and the alumnae club at a banquet at Columbia Country Club. The founders of District of Columbia A were guests of honor. The color scheme for the decorations and programs was wine and silver blue and Mrs. Ethel Wolfe Fred, alumna of the chapter and general chairman, arranged a most interesting program.

March 1, 1937: Charlotte Oates, New Paltz, N.Y.

Out of the thirty-two girls pledged last semester, twenty-two were initiated. Since the active chapter was so small, the new initiates have given us much encouragement for the coming year. The night preceding initiation, the pledges entertained the active chapter at supper and then presented several short skits. After initiation, the chapter had the annual cooky-shine. Then the following morning, the actives and pledges had breakfast at the Band-box.

The Sock and Buskin Club gave their spring play, "Yorkshire Pudding" by Cyril Campion. Eloise Simmons again had one of the leading rôles. Edna Wood was master electrician. Eulette Francis, one of the new initiates, was assistant to the director.

Glennes Teter was manager of the junior swimming team and Eleanor Graves was a member of the freshman team. The chapter was very glad to have three members, Nancy Hart, Marian Carlisle, and Winifred Dickey, on the Dean's List for the first semester.

On March 10, 1937, Even Day was celebrated by the Even Classes. The freshmen were in charge of the decorations and chose Alice in Wonderland for their general scheme. Em Collins, one of our new initiates, and Jean Terrell, pledge, held important positions as chairmen of two committees.

Virginia A held its Founders' Day Banquet at Boonsboro Country Club. The theme was centered around an Indian tribe with the toasts and decorations carried out accordingly. The Freshman Scholarship Cup was presented to Mary Worthen Penick, and the name of Frances Dowling was engraved on the Sophomore Cup.

The chapter is now making plans for open house on May Day and hopes to make a few improvements in the house before the close of the school year.

The new fine arts building has recently been completed, and was formally opened with a reception to which a thousand guests, among them many prominent persons from all parts of the United States, were invited. The department also featured a Surrealist Ball, a unique function because of the unusual costumes, entertainment, and decorations. The building is one of the outstanding in the state, and is attracting a large number of visitors. The department is sponsoring a series of Sunday films on the development of the motion picture, "The Great Train Robbery," "The Covered Wagon," "Cavalcade," and others have been shown.

On February 8, the college commemorated the 244th anniversary of the granting of the charter by King William and Queen Mary. Convocations have included monthly lectures on world problems by Dr. Douglas Freeman, prominent newspaper man and writer, and an address by Dr. E. K. Rand of Harvard on "The Sabine Farm." Of special interest to the women students was a talk by Miss Maerey Wilson, charm expert.

Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Gondoliers," was presented March 4 and 5, by the music department. The production was considered to be one of the finest ever presented by the college. A special matinee performance had to be given for those who were unable to secure seats at the previous performances. Lucille Eldridge, Jean Baker, and Jane Baker had solo parts. Beal Seal, Lucille Haynes, and Frances Eells were members of the chorus.

The William and Mary Players presented on March 18 and 19, "A Trip to Scarborough." Margileth Meyer had a leading rôle, and Janet Murray was assistant director. The presentation was very successful.

Founders' Day was observed by an impressive candle-light service. The chapter and alumnae attended a banquet at Hilton Village, Virginia.

Of much interest to Virginia Γ is the new chapter library. Two new bookcases have been built in the chapter room, and the members have already contributed a number of books. The chapter has joined the Book-of-the-Month Club. Pearl Brueger is the librarian.

Betty Bartel represented William and Mary in a southern debate trip the first two weeks in March. She debated at the University of the South, Chattanooga University, Brenau College, Florida State College for Women, Rollins College, University of Charleston, University of South Carolina, and Duke University. Betty Moore of the freshman team, debated at Mary Baldwin College. Frances Wagener has been elected to the Debate Council and to the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet. Other honors that have come to Virginia are the initiation of Joan Anderson into $X \Delta \Phi$, and of Margileth Meyer into $\Theta \Delta \Phi$, national honorary dramatics fraternity. Mary Alice Barnes is associate editor of the Literary Magazine. Gertrude Shaffer and Peggy Dickey have been nominated for W.S.G.A. offices.

Most outstanding campus event of the winter quarter was Student-Faculty Day. Two years ago this festivity was inaugurated. It began with a half-hour chapel period devoted to better relationships between student and professor. From this simple beginning it has grown immensely, and has become a University full-day holiday. During the whole day and part of the night, professors and students revel together, contact each other in a less formal and less stiff atmosphere than that of the class room. With a bang, the coronation of the professor King and the co-ed Queen opened Student-Faculty Day. Patty Penn, $\Pi B \Phi$, was maid-of-honor. Along with all the fraternities, $\Pi B \Phi$ entertained several of the faculty at lunch. In the afternoon students and faculty flocked to the Tin Can Circus. Zoos, fortune-telling booths, exotic dancers, two dance bands, faculty-students contests, big red balloons! Following the Circus, the faculty members sipped tea at fraternity open-house gatherings. After supper, Stunt Night worked everyone up for the climax of hilarity—the Tramp Ball. A prize was offered to the best tramp. However, the winner was disqualified. He was a real tramp. Anita de Monsiegle was the only girl on the Student-Faculty Day Board. Many other members of $\Pi B \Phi$ assisted in making the Circus and the Stunt Night a success.

In the development of better relations and closer friendship between the professor and the student this festivity is the first step. Second step is the Sunday afternoon teas for the students and the faculty.

In January, the Y.W.C.A. celebrated its first birthday with a banquet. Nell Booker recently became secretary of this campus organization. It is seeking admission to the national Y.W.C.A.

Julia Fulson is a member of the Student Education Board. This board meets with the faculty to discuss current problems such as the grading system, the quarter system, five hour and three hour classes per week, the Hibbard's Tutorial Honors College whereby an exceptional student can follow his own course of studies under the guidance of advisers.

The co-ed honorary society, $A K \Gamma$, is deep in May Day plans. Only last year was May Day instituted at the University. Anita de Monsiegle is in charge of the Day. Among her assistants are Helen Pritchard, chairman of finance, and Nell Booker, chairman of posters and programs.

Eloise Broughton represents $\Pi B \Phi$ on the Womens' Advisory Board, and the University Club, campus spirit, rah-rah club.

Following the February initiation, a banquet was given to the new members. Stunts followed the banquet. For having the highest scholarship among the pledges, Elizabeth Taylor was awarded a $\Pi B \Phi$ bracelet.

Awards made at the cooky-shine following initiation were: plain recognition pins for scholarship to Betty Gerow, freshman, and Gene Wann, junior; a diamond recognition pin to Martha Perkins for scholarship, activities, character, and improvement, judged by the personality chart.

April 22-24 North Carolina B was hostess to the first Gamma Province convention. There were two official representatives from each of the five other chapters, as well as other representatives, alumnae, visitors and guests. The program consisted of sight-seeing trips, joint meetings, panel discussions, and conferences, climaxed by the Founders' Day banquet, April 24, at the Washington Duke Hotel. The convention was a great success and it is earnestly hoped that this will become a biennial event.

Helen Larzelere was elected to $\Phi B K$; Jane East and Anne Boyd were elected to Eko-L, honorary scholastic organization for juniors and seniors. Charlotte Miller has been elected to $\Theta \Delta \Phi$, honorary dramatic fraternity, and $X \Delta \Phi$, honorary English fraternity. Initiation was held at the sorority house, followed by a banquet at the Columbia Hotel. After the banquet an informal dance was held at the home of Dottie Smith.

South Carolina A had as part of the Founders' Day program a luncheon at the Columbia Hotel on April 28. All alumnae and members of $\Pi B \Phi$ in the state were invited to attend.

The Woman's Athletic Association sponsored an inter-sorority basketball tournament to promote good feeling between the organizations. A cup was awarded the winning team. The sorority winning the trophy two years consecutively secures permanent possession of it.

Two new wings have been added to Thornwell College. The new student activity building has recently been completed, and will be ready for use some time this spring.

New honors have come to South Carolina A recently. Margaret Hawkins and Josephine Philson have been elected to serve on the Honor Committee. Jane Williamson has been elected president of the Euphrosynean Literary Society. Dottie Smith and Amelia Arthur, pledges, were recently elected to Damas, co-ed dance club. Wilbur Kirkland and Maxine Scarborough and Ilse Marx were elected to $X \Delta \Phi$, national honorary literary fraternity, of which Margaret Hawkins is president.

The first annual freshman-sophomore dance was held recently and three pledges were sponsors for the officers.

Plans are being made for another all-college round table conference to discuss the problems of the campus. Last year one of the results of the conference was a new cut system whereby all juniors and seniors with an average of B or better are allowed unlimited cuts. Eight members of II B Φ were on this honorary list: Alice Andrus, Helen Faunce, Bess Hagaman, Ardith Helmick, Martha Jose, Dorothy Seger, Ida Jane Spicer, and Nellie Welch. The college W.A.A. is planning to go to Olivet and Ypsilanti for play days. Many members of II B Φ who are active in athletics are planning to attend these meetings. The college dramatics department presented P. T. Barnum's play, "The Drunkard."

Agnes Gettman was one of the students chosen to represent Hillsdale in Who's Who Among Students. This choice is made upon the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and promise of future usefulness. Agnes was also chairman of the Senior Prom. The J-Hop, held April 9, was a great success. Ida Jane Spicer was general chairman and led the grand march. Others on the committees were Nellie Welch, Dorothy Carlisle, and Ardith Helmick. Martha Jose is editor of the Winona, the college yearbook, and Roberta Simpson is secretary of the Winona staff. Nellie Welch is associate editor, and Dorothy Carlisle, makeup editor, of the Collegian, the college paper. Several other girls are contributing as reporters. Martha Jose is vice-president of Y.W.C.A. Margaret Pratt is secretary of the sophomore class, and Bess Hagaman is treasurer of the senior class.

Dorothy Seger is president of both E Δ A, national honorary fraternity, and International Relations Club. Ardith Helmick is secretary of the International Relations Club. Bess Hagaman is president of Σ T Δ , professional English fraternity, and also president of the Psychology Club. Dorothy Carlisle is secretary and treasurer of the Home Economics club. Beth Marsh Elliott has appeared in concerts given by the College Little Symphony Orchestra.

January 30 was the date of a getting together of the actives and alumnae for luncheon. A joint alumnae and active cooky-shine was held March 9. The spring informal dance was a St. Patrick's dance. On Founders' Day the active chapter entertained the alumnae at a buffet supper.

Michigan A has been very happy this year to have as home mother Mrs. Louise C. Doney, whose daughter is a II B Φ from Colorado B.

At the beginning of the second semester, Michigan B added three girls to its pledge class. The chapter regrets the absence of Frances Roberts, a freshman, and Grace Snyder, a senior, who were forced to leave because of illness, but hopes they may return in the fall.

The Junior-Hop, the outstanding campus social function of the year, was held early in February. The decorations consisted of silver figures on blue panels in Wedgwood-like designs, and a peach colored canopy sprinkled with silver stars. Fraternity booths lined two sides of the floor. Many of the members of Michigan B and their escorts were present at the Valentine dinner at the chapter house preliminary to the Hop.

At the March initiation, thirteen girls became active members. Following the usual tradition, the sophomores served at the initiation banquet. Jenny Petersen, last year's winner of the scholarship ring, presented it to Joan Howson. Michigan B was very pleased to have many alumnae members present at initiation, and both active and alumnae joined in enthusiastic approval of the inspiring and entertaining address given by Mrs. J. Wilson Robinson.

Lois King, a Φ K Φ and member of Mortar Board, was given the Amy Burnham Onken Award for Michigan B. The chapter is pleased to announce the affiliation of Ann Brown and Margaret MacGregor.

The Michigas, a big, all-campus circus with booths, performers, and even a ferris wheel, was held at the Intramural Building in April. The Michigas, an innovation at the University, was combined with the Penny Carnival, an annual affair sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, and the proceeds were divided between the fund for the building of men's dormitories and the proposed woman's swimming pool.

Edith Zerbe, Michigan B, was chairman of the Senior Supper, the first event to which senior women wear their caps and gowns, which immediately preceded the presentation of the Junior Girls' Play. All the chapter juniors were active participants in this class project, and Betty Gatward, Michigan B, was chairman of the ushers. The play, the music, and the lyrics were all written by students, and the cast, choruses, and dancers were all junior women. This year the plot was set in a Tyrolean village, and the peasant songs and dances added a clever touch to the play.

Margaret Rogers and Mary Elizabeth Moore graduated last February, and Mary Elizabeth and her mother have spent the last three months traveling in the Orient.

INITIATED, January 27, 1937: Virginia Records, Franklin, Ind.

Mrs. Scott, Delta Province President, visited the chapter January 11 and 12. The pledge group gave a luncheon in her honor and the actives entertained with a tea to which the faculty women, faculty wives, and Indiana A's patronesses were invited. Emma Harper Turner was also a guest; she is at present residing in Franklin and visited one of the chapter meetings.

Indiana A celebrated the forty-ninth anniversary of its founding January 11. Mrs. Bertha Miller Rugg and Miss Emma Harper Turner, a founder of the local chapter, gave interesting talks. The first pledge and the first initiate were present. The pledges presented a skit.

The junior class of Franklin College is devoting much time earning money and making plans for the Junior Prom. II B Φ has two representatives on the general finance committee, Sarah Haas and Pauline Devore. Chairman of the program committee is Betsy Cohn and the co-chairman of the decorating committee is Martha Smith.

Julia Province, who is president of W.A.A., initiated Joan Wagner and Rosemary Chappell into this organization February 6, following an early morning hike and breakfast at the Hill View Country Club.

The annual Panhellenic dance was held February 5 with the decorations and programs designed to carry out the Valentine motif. Virginia Heavilin was chairman of the music committee and was a member of the decoration committee.

Following Virginia Record's initiation January 27 a spread was given in her honor at Julia Province's home. The money usually spent for initiation dinner was sent to the Red Cross for Flood Relief. In this same week Blue Key, men's honorary organization on the campus, sponsored a chapel program to which the entire student body and the faculty paid admission prices. This money was then sent to the Red Cross.

Founders' Day was celebrated at the State Luncheon April 24 at the Columbia Club in Indianapolis. The State Dance was held that night in Indianapolis at the Marott Hotel. Nearly all the girls from the state chapters and many alumnae were present at the luncheon.

Martha Smith and Mary Mather are members of the College debate squad and they participated in a Debate Tournament at the University of Iowa February 26 and 27. Franklin College is proud of its achievements at the State Oratorical Contest February 12 when Janet Brown, $\Delta \Delta \Delta$, and Dick Hendricks, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, won first places in the Women's and Men's divisions.

The pledges entertained the actives with a dance March 19.

The chapter has changed its policy in regard to the election of officers. Formerly they were elected in June to serve from then until the following June. Now they are to hold office from January to January. The chapter felt that this was a better plan, because the new president would have the outgoing president to help her with her new duties.

Indiana Γ has only two second semester initiates due to the new system adopted this fall whereby first semester pledges must be pledged a year before they can be initiated.

An important change has been made in the system of voting for campus queens. Previously queens have been elected by the ticket sales method, and an organization has literally "bought" a queen. This resulted in many campus caucuses, and to avoid these a new plan was adopted at the beginning of the semester. By this plan only the men of the class from which the queen is selected may vote. A secret ballot is taken on the day that the dance is held and is tabulated by the Hare-Spence system. The student council is in charge of all school elections.

The first election by popular vote was won by our pledge, Doris Brown, who was selected Freshman Rose by the Freshman men.

Gerry Johnson, present chapter president, was awarded a scholarship by the Chicago Alumni Club of Butler University.

Both Dorothy Schilling and Betty Mae Smith are working on committees for the Sophomore Cotillion which is to be held March 5. Marjorie Kale is candidate for Cotillion Queen from Indiana Γ .

Dorothy Gimble and Margaret Parrish have been pledged to $\Phi X N$, freshman honorary organization.

Founders' Day was celebrated April 24 with a luncheon at the Columbia Club and a dance at the Marrot Hotel. Scholarship awards were made at the luncheon. These were given to the girl with the highest average in each chapter.

INDIANA DELTA—PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 9, 1936

With second semester well under way, the Purdue Pi Beta Phi has entered more than ever into campus activities. Three members of the pledge class, Joan Edson, Katherine Mounce, and Ruth Randall, have been pledged to A $\Delta \Delta$, freshman honorary, as a result of having made an A average for the first semester. Frances Raebig, another pledge, has been elected to represent the Home Economics freshmen in the Student Senate of the University. Among the actives, Mary Jean Light, former rush chairman, was the only co-ed to be elected to the Junior Prom committee. Martha Gillespie and Betty Driscoll have been given responsible positions in the planning of Festival Day, a new version of May Day. Eight members of the chapter are connected with the production of the annual musical Union show.

II B Φ pledges were the first on the Purdue campus to give a tea for pledges of other sororities. The affair was very successful, and the pledges have also proved capable in entertaining the actives, having recently given a birthday spread.

The annual II B Φ formal supper-dance was held on January 15.

To repay the fraternities who have entertained the chapter this year, the girls have begun a series of teas.

The Mothers' Club of Lafayette sponsored a Valentine bridge party in order to raise money for a grand piano for the chapter house.

Informal mid-semester rush lasted from February 7 to the 13; three informal dinners and a tea were given by the chapter. The rush duties were divided between the rush chairman, Georgiana Pittman, 4447 N. Delaware, Indianapolis, Indiana, and the rush manager, Marian Kidd, 1006 State St., Lafayette, Indiana. These girls will also be in charge of rush next fall.

Pledge Day, September 16, 1937

INITIATED, February 22, 1937: Katherine Johnson, Carrollton; Jean Lindsay, Tulsa; Betty Ellfeldt, Mary LeVec, Kansas City; Barbara Hartwig, St. Joseph; Joan Campbell, Kirksville; Elma Lee Hawthorne, Mexico; Eleanor Haley, Louisiana; Elizabeth Hanley, Sedalia; Mabel Kinyon, Ellen Stine, Alice Maughs, Louise Forsythe, Columbia; Virginia Nystrom, Webster Groves; Anna Margaret Riepma, Helen Walton, Springfield; Ruth Barnes, Anderson; Georgeanne Roth, Moberly; Joanna Morgan, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mary Jane Yates, Sheridan, Wyo.

Initiation for Missouri A took place on Monday, February 22. Following the initiation services the new members were entertained by a formal dinner given in their honor.

Missouri University has been fortunate this year in having several prominent characters in both the musical and scientific world. Valdimar Golshmann and his St. Louis Symphony Orchestra gave an outstanding performance at the University Center in February. Josef Hoffman, master of piano technique, also gave a superb recital. Compton, the noted scientist, spoke to the University student body on "Can Science Point the Way?" Student forum was held the afternoon of his address to discuss his views on the subject. Each fraternity and sorority had an evening discussion session, led by a member of the faculty.

An interesting experiment has been attempted by Women's Panhellenic this year in their program of monthly fireside speakers. Members of the University faculty are dinner guests of the fraternity and sorority houses and lead an informal talk on any topic which they may choose. This serves not only as an educational feature, but creates a better student-faculty relationship.

Ellen Stine and Mary Jane Yates have been selected as members of the Freshman Commission. The members of which are chosen on the basis of activity, scholarship, and participation in the freshman orientation program. Anna Margaret Riepma had the feminine lead in the University Workshop Play given in February. Frankie Ricksecker directed a one act play for the March Workshop meetings. Frances Fouke, Nan Latham, and Rosemary Ruddy were elected to A K A National Sociology Honorary Fraternity. One of the $\Pi B \Phi$ Spring Formals was given March 12.

PLEGDED: Jane Holbrook, Springfield; Louise Davis, Tulsa, Okla.; Frances Ann Ramsey, Jefferson City.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Maxine Beard, 1319 N. Cheyenne St., Tulsa, Okla.

MISSOURI BETA—WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1907

With finals over, and second semester well on its way, the campus at Washington University is making the best of the spring season. New life and vitality can be seen everywhere, and the various organizations are carrying on a heavy spring program. Quad Club, the annual musical comedy production, was presented March 11, 12, and 13. In the cast for this year's production "G is for Grandma" $\Pi B \Phi$ was well represented. The singing and dancing choruses have their number of Pi Beta Phis and Kathryn Galle had the leading rôle.

The maids for the Engineer's Masque have been chosen. The yearly dance was held March 19 and from the court of five maids the queen for the coming year was chosen. Two of the five maids were Pi Beta Phis, Kathryn Galle and Marjorie Demy.

Elections for all sorts of honors are at hand, March 3, the most sought after honor of all was awarded to the most beautiful girl on the campus. Pi Phi has in the past had more than its share of this honor, the Hatchet Queen. This year Evelyn Bissell was in the court, and was one of the number from which the Queen was picked.

Still another contest is lending the spirit of friendly competition to the campus life. Within the next two weeks the "best dressed" girl on the campus will be chosen. $\Pi B \Phi$ has two candidates and only time will tell the outcome.

Work and play goes on as usual, but through it all $\Pi B \Phi$ on the Washington University campus is keeping its standard of being an important element in university life.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, September, 1937

INITIATED, December 17, 1936: Ruth Nadal.

The local Panhellenic of Drury College has just voted to abandon the plan of second year initiation and to replace it with second semester initiation. The ruling is to go into effect immediately without restriction; however, in all following years, the initiations must take place during the ninth week. The $\Pi B \Phi$ chapter has decided to impose a fine of \$50 on any initiated freshman who fails to return to Drury College for her sophomore year. Other sororities on the campus have enacted similar fines.

A formal banquet was held by Missouri Γ on April 28, Founders' Day. In decorations the wine and blue color scheme was carried out in detail. Several short talks were made by actives and alumnae to the large group who attended.

Drury College this year won the MCAU basketball championship for the second consecutive year.

Homecoming at Drury College was celebrated on February 12 and 13. The celebration started Friday at 10:30 A.M. with a parade in which the various organizations on the campus entered floats. Missouri Gamma's float carried out the comic strip idea in "When Mother Was a Girl. But Oh, Daughter, Oh!" This parade ended in the heart of Springfield's business district, the public square. There the freshman and sophomore classes staged a tug of war to see which class would have the honor of crowning the Homecoming Queen. The candidates for the Queen were Alice Louise Hamlin, $\Pi B \Phi$ freshman, and Jane Reynolds, $\Pi B \Phi$ sophomore. Friday night at six o'clock a chili supper was given in the college commons at which there were many students and alumni. On Saturday there were class reunions ending with a banquet at six o'clock. Short speeches were given by several prominent alumni and faculty members. The banquet concluded with a pep session. At 8:10 the Drury Panthers met the Owls of Tarkio College in a conference game. The winning of this game added much spirit to the mixer which followed the game.

In general the chapter has enjoyed a very fine year, and everyone is looking forward with great anticipation to what the summer will bring.

INITIATED, March 13, 1937: Thommie Choate, '40, Ann Fallis, '40, Virginia Stockhoff, '39, Willie Ware, '38.

Kentucky A has two girls mentioned in Who's Who in American Colleges. Ella Garth Choate, a senior, and Willie Ware, a junior. Both are members of the Pallas Club, a university organization similar to Mortar Board. Willie Ware is president of the club and secretary of the Student Council of the Liberal Arts College. Ella Garth Choate is president of the Women's League, of which all Kentucky A girls are members, a member of $\Theta X \Delta$, an honorary chemistry society, and chapter pledge mistress.

Louise Rose, a sophomore, is secretary of the Y.W.C.A. a member of the Student Council, and vice-president of the International Relations Club.

Kentucky A is represented among the officers of every class in the Liberal Arts School. Betty Scott is secretary of the senior class; Catherine Duffy is vice-president of the junior class; Dorothy Althaus is secretary of the sophomore class; and Ann Fallis is vice-president of the freshman class.

The apartment of the chapter was fortunately situated in a section of the city that was not inundated by the recent flood waters. Of the twenty-seven girls in the chapter, only two live on streets which were flooded, and luckily, the water did not get to the first floor of their homes.

The University of Louisville is celebrating its centennial this year. It has been decided, because of the importance of the occasion, that plans for the observation of the hundred year mark shall not be curtailed, as was first thought necessary during the crisis of the flood. A bill authorizing the coinage of centennial 50 cent pieces, was recently introduced in Congress, but its passage is not yet assured.

Two parties were given by the chapter during the recent rushing season, an open house and a buffet supper. Both parties were given at the chapter apartment.

The girls who made the Dean's Honor List, an average with no grades under B, are Ella Garth Choate and Dorothy Althaus.

The entire University was saddened by the death of Dr. John Letcher Patterson, Chancellor Emeritus, and first Dean of the College of Liberal Arts. For nearly thirty years he was the guiding spirit of the college, and since the petitioning days of Kentucky A had been a devoted friend and adviser of $\Pi B \Phi$.

Chartered, 1923

INITIATED, February 27, 1937: Margaret Ann Catlett, Leora Hill, Chattanooga; Iris Andrews, Elizabeth Tinsley, Amanda Thrasher, Cleveland; Virginia Waller, Lenoir City.

Tennessee A celebrated Founders' Day at Birmingham with Alabama A. Both alumnae and actives attended.

The University of Chattanooga was hostess to a peace conference sponsored by the Tennessee Volunteers for Peace the last week-end of February. The speakers were Dr. Maude Royden and Dr. Leonard Mialls of England; Mr. Charles P. Taft, son of ex-president Taft, Bishop Kerns of the Southern Methodist Church. A group of young people entertained the speakers at a supper at the $\Pi B \Phi$ house on February 28.

Tennessee A has erected a permanent plaque in recognition of any senior girl who has shown the greatest improvement in scholarship since her freshman year. The winner will be announced on Class Night each year and the plaque will be kept hanging in the library.

Preceding initiation a luncheon was given by the actives in honor of the new initiates. After the ceremony the alumnae entertained with a banquet. Gifts of $\Pi B \Phi$ stationery were presented the guests of honor and Amanda Thrasher was announced as the best pledge. This award is based on personality, activities, scholarship, attitude, interest, and school spirit.

The Junior Prom this year was lead by Eleanor Overend. This is the fourth consecutive year a $\Pi B \Phi$ has had this honor.

Betty Judd and Gertrude Witt, members of Tennessee A, were elected to become members of the Quadrangle this semester. The organization was begun last year by three Π Beta Phi and one non-fraternity girl; it is an honorary woman's society for juniors and seniors. Gertrude Witt has been appointed treasurer of the junior class to fill the vacancy made by Sara Lois Dent, a Tennessee A member who has left school. Mary Lusk has been elected to $\Pi \Gamma M$, national social science fraternity and Eleanor Overend has been initiated into $\Theta A \Phi$, honorary dramatics fraternity.

Tennessee A was fortunate in having several representatives attend the National Panhellenic Conference which was held in Atlanta on March 18-20.

The Dean's List, a list of those students who made an average of B or better included three Tennessee A members, Mary Lusk, Louise Sutton, and Gaby Taylor.

"The Ivory Door," a University Players' major production in which four Π Beta Phi's had important rôles was repeated by special request. "Big Hearted Herbert," which will be the last production of the year will have a $\Pi B \Phi$ in its cast.

INITIATED, February 19, 1937: Miriam Freeman, Marion Murphree, Mary Margaret Price, Martha Richardson, Margaret Sessions, Catherine Sims, Leila Wright.

Alabama A again stands first in scholarship on the campus of Birmingham-Southern College. Gene McCoy and Katherine Lide made no grade lower than "A." All pledges made their initiation average. Marguerite Johnston was recently tapped by $\Pi \Gamma M$ (honorary social science fraternity) and Laura Ross Moore, by $K A E$, honorary education fraternity. Birmingham-Southern College has been asked to petition for a chapter of $\Phi B K$.

Birmingham-Southern College is very much upset over losing its beloved president, Dr. Guy E. Snavely, who has been elected Executive Secretary of the National Association of Colleges. There is a possibility, however, that his absence will be only temporary.

Active and alumnae members celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet.

The chapter held its annual dance April 20, 1937. Members of Alabama A have been enjoying a round of social functions recently. Secular fraternities and sororities on the campus gave their annual formals last month. Π Beta Phi were in the leadouts of $K A E$, $\Theta K N$, and Amazons, social organization of sorority women. The latter was a very interesting "backward" dance to which the girls went as stags. The few favored boys present were sent corsages and received favors in the leadout.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, February 17, 1937 (second semester)

INITIATED, February 27, 1937: Marjorie Andrews, Springfield, Mass.; Sadie Rae Gardner, St. Petersburg; Mary Kay Huntsberry, Winchester, Va.; Marjorie Lanier, Ocala; Ruth Orum, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Dorothy Pope, Sanford; Martha Sessoms, Cogdell, Ga.; Alice Smith, De Land.

Rushing parties and various entertainments have featured the second semester of Stetson. Rushees were entertained with a buffet supper in the chapter room in February, at which pledges served. The pledges this year have decided to buy something to be used in the fraternity room rather than entertaining the active chapter as has been the custom.

The initiation banquet on February 27 was one of the best arranged and most successful that the chapter has ever given. At the banquet Ruth Orum received a recognition pin for being the pledge with the highest scholastic average, and Sadie Rae Gardner was presented with a gift for being the most representative pledge.

Florida A ranked second in scholarship for the first semester among the seven men's and women's fraternities on the campus. Marjorie Andrews, Jane McCarty, Frances Ogilvie, Ruth Orum, Helen Spaulding, and Lois Thacker were on the Honor Roll for having an average of B with no grade below B for the entire semester. Marjorie Andrews and Helen Spaulding were also on the Dean's List, a list giving special privileges to those of Junior rank or above with high scholastic averages.

Members of Florida A have received many honors and outstanding offices on the campus this year. By popular vote of the student body, Helen Spaulding was elected Homecoming Hostess and Jane McCarty the most attractive girl on the campus. Both of these girls will be featured in the Hatter, Stetson's yearbook. In the class elections $\Pi B \Phi$ is well represented. Helen Spaulding is secretary of the senior class, Jane McCarty treasurer of the sophomores, and Marjorie Lanier is freshman treasurer. Mary Ellen Lord and Lois Thacker took an active part in a play-day with Rollins College at Winter Park, sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association. Both girls are officers of the organization. Helen May Christian is vice-president of the Honor, an honorary activity organization. Helen Spaulding, Lola Hammer, Dorothy Hooker, and Frances Ogilvie are also members. Frances Ogilvie was also bid to Torch and Scroll. Dorothy Haines, Sadie Rae Gardner, Willa Mae Crosby, and Jane McCarty have taken prominent parts in Glee Club work for this year. Sadie Rae is a member of the double trio, for which Jane McCarty is accompanist. Lola Hammer and Mary Ellen Lord have taken part in Little Theatre performances.

Florida A celebrated Founders' Day by a beach party at Daytona Beach as the guest of the Daytona Alumnae Club. The girls enjoyed a delicious picnic lunch, and spent the day swimming and playing on the beach.

The annual spring dance of $\Pi B \Phi$ on March 19 at the Clarendon in Daytona Beach was well attended.

Helen Brin was married to Bill Orr of De Land in January with Evelyn Northen as an attendant. Sara Wilson, '36, was married to Boyce Ezell in Miami on December 25. Maxine McLarty, '36, acted as maid-of-honor.

Barbara Moore, Florida A's newest pledge, has the distinction of being the first daughter of a Stetson $\Pi B \Phi$ alumna to be pledged to the chapter. Mrs. Moore is president of the De Land Alumnae club.

PLEGGED, February 17: Marjorie Andrews, Springfield, Mass., and Barbara Moore, De Land.

ning, Miami; Mary Allen, Mary Ellen Daetwyler, Louise Fosgate, Joan Miller, Frances Moss, Susan Rowley, Orlando; Olive Alderman, Marian Bedell Janet Mattern, Eleanor Zimmerman, St. Petersburg; Margaret Johnstone, Clearwater; Carolyn Mills, Frances Woodward, Winter Park; Betty Davis, Gainesville; Mary Alice Lester, Jacksonville; Mary Holladay, Bunson, S.C.; Janet Jewett, Ocala; Dorothea Marsh, Lynn Haven; Mary Taylor, Eustis; Virginia Wiggins, Keystone Heights; Patsy Johnson, Kissimmee; Marjorie Tillis, Sanford.

Following initiation a breakfast was given the new initiates at the Floridan Hotel. Arrow pins with the Greek letters $\Pi \Phi$ were given as favors. Betty Davis and Joan Miller were awarded the pledge scholarship cup, and Martha Robbins was given a bracelet for the best pledge. Dorothy Ozburn was awarded a bracelet for the active who had raised her grades the greatest number of quality points over the previous semester. Informal speeches were made by Ermine Lawrence, president, and Louise Fosgate, pledge president, who responded in behalf of the pledge group. Frances Morrow, ex-president, read a poem entitled "The Beta Garden," which was significant of the theme of the breakfast, The Garden of $\Pi \Phi$. A most inspiring message was given us by Miss Charlotte Stevens, alumna and faculty adviser.

Junior Minstrels, which is a production written and produced by students, was given during the latter part of February. Eloise Frink was stage manager for the production. Among those taking part in it were Frances Moss, Janet Jewett, Eleanor Bushnell, Shirley Pemberton, Phil Asher, Margaret Gourlie, Marjorie Tillis, and Louise Fosgate.

The annual formal dance was held February 13 at the chapter house, at which time a valentine motif was used. This color scheme included red and white hearts, and similar decorations. The refreshments also carried out the theme of the dance.

Phil Asher was recently tapped for $\Sigma \Delta \Phi$ literary honorary, and Dorothea Marsh for $\Theta \chi$ French honorary.

Marjorie Stewart has been chosen as a candidate for Queen for the Sophomore-Freshman Hop at the University of Florida.

Florida B's Founders' Day service was held at seven o'clock in the chapter house. Following the service a breakfast was held for all actives and pledges. Members were required to be dressed in white throughout the day, and these fraternity colors were worn beneath the pins.

Pledge Day, January 17, 1937

INITIATED, October 28, 1936: Elizabeth Harbison, Evanston, Ill. February 22, 1937: Carol George, Lenora, Kan.

This year when the chapter returned to college it found five new dormitories completed and all the sororities and fraternities occupying them. These buildings are of the Spanish type and their main purpose is to abolish sorority and fraternity houses and have all the students living together on the campus. Florida Γ has one of the older dormitories almost entirely to itself which makes it very pleasant.

Following pledging, January 17, the pledges were given a banquet at Perrydell in Orlando and the two initiates were given formal banquets at the house after their respective initiations. This year due to the new system of deferred pledging, sororities are unable to initiate until the last week in March.

Dorothy Manwaring, Frances Hyer, Margaret Bashford, and Polly Raoul have had several rôles in the student productions this year. All of these girls are in the honorary dramatic society, $\Phi \beta \beta$, Polly Raoul having recently been pledged. Frances Hyer is the president of this society and Margaret Bashford is the secretary.

On Honors Day, Polly Raoul and Ruth Myers were chosen to be on the honorary varsity basketball team and Elizabeth Harbison, Ruth Myers, and Evelyn Smith were chosen for the varsity girls crew. Crew is a new activity for girls at Rollins this year. Three out of a possible five girls are $\Pi \beta$ Phi. Two pledges, Betty Jack and Barbara Babb, are on the riding team and Barbara Babb was given honorable mention on Honors Day for her outstanding horsemanship.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, February 15, 1937

The start of the second semester of the current school year brought with it numerous appointments and activities for the members of Wisconsin A.

Ruth Tensfeldt was chosen Queen of the Soph Shuffle held February 27, in the Memorial Union.

Once again Ada May Roe won recognition for her fine work in the lead rôle of "Laburnum Grove," one of the major productions of the Wisconsin Players. Avis Zentner and Hildegard Thadewald are actively engaged in radio work over WHA, state station located on the university campus.

The spring formal was held May 7 at the Madison Club. Rosemary Hulett was in charge of decorations and entertainment.

Wisconsin A chapter was happy to entertain seven active chapters and twenty alumnae chapters at the Eta Province Convention April 30 to May 1. The Convention was successfully opened with a cooky-shine and general meeting. Saturday morning group meetings of actives and alumnae were held. This was followed by a Founders' Day luncheon banquet at the Madison Club. Wisconsin A's contribution to the program consisted of a skit depicting the founding of $\Pi \Phi \Phi$.

Chapter members and the local alumnae club are actively engaged in making plans for a new house which they hope to have ready by next fall.

Eleanor Neff, formerly of Missouri A, and Ada May Roe, of Indiana A, were affiliated in March.

Mid-year rushing was held February 10 to February 13. The functions consisted of a tea, an informal dinner, and a final formal dinner.

PLEGGED: Eileen Collins, Detroit, Mich.; Lorraine Grant, Warren, Ohio; Lois Kinsella, New York, N.Y.; Janet Peterson, Eau Claire, Wis.; and Virginia Watts, Pocahontas, Iowa.

Plans are under way for the remodeling and enlarging of Beloit's chapel this spring. Work will start April 1.

President Maurer is taking a sabbatical leave for the second semester of 1936-37. He plans to spend most of the time in Europe traveling and studying.

T K E is making arrangements to move into the house now occupied by President Maurer and his family. They plan to make this move in September.

The International Relations Club is planning to welcome around 150 students of other colleges and universities to the Beloit campus for the annual convention of the Midwest Conference of International Relations Clubs, on April 16 and 17. Marjorie Jenkins and Eileen Crawford are serving on the hospitality and program committees respectively.

Betty Launsbach has recently been elected to $\Phi \beta \chi$. Joyce Hartman was chosen to act as reigning queen of the Interfraternity Ball, February 1. Joyce has also been elected to Senior Bench, an organization similar to Mortar Board. Edith Licht is a member of Beloit's first women's debate team.

Betty Launsbach was on the casting committee for "The Ghost Train" by Arnold Ridley, to be presented by Players, on March 5 and 6. Dorothy Vale plays the rôle of Julia Price; Carmen Wilson, the rôle of Miss Bourne; and Mary Louise Cornick, the rôle of Elsie Winthrop.

Pledge Day, December 5, 1936

In November, Monmouth added another women's fraternity to their number when $\Theta X M$ was granted a B I chapter of K Δ , making four national women's fraternities on the campus.

At homecoming in November, Illinois A entertained alumnae and guests at the annual luncheon. Margaret Thorpe, who rode on the chapter float, was judged the most beautiful girl in the parade.

The active chapter entertained the wives of the faculty members and the women faculty members at a tea.

Mrs. Webster, Assistant to the Grand President, has visited the chapter often this year. She was present for pledging and was a guest at the luncheon following the ceremony on December 5.

The traditional Twelfth Night dinner dance was held on December 4.

Illinois A had among her guests a member of each of the other women's fraternities. The idea of such exchange invitations was established last year and has been continued this year.

Four pledges, Martha Jane Campbell, Loretta Drayson, Marceline Tarp, and Sue Viering, have been admitted to Crimson Masque, the dramatic organization. In a recent production, by advanced members of the Masque, "Death Takes a Holiday," Evelyn Ruskin and Jane Hunt were cast, and Frances Bryson was property manager. The play was one of the best ever produced on Monmouth College campus, and it has been voted that it be given again at commencement time.

Frances Hand has been granted a position on the editorial board of the Oracle, the college paper, and Mary Alice Hill was elected to the staff of the college year-book. Five pledges, Martha Jane Campbell, Sue Viering, Maxine Winbigler, Louise Clemens, and Harriett McCown were chosen as new members of the Pep Club; Harriett McCown has been recently initiated into the Women's Athletic Association; and Mary Alice Hill has been elected vice-president of the International Relations Club, a new organization on the campus.

The pledges entertained the actives at a Valentine buffet supper in February, and on March 6 entertained the other pledge groups with a tea dance. May 15 is the date set for the annual spring party, to be held at the Monmouth Country Club. Founders' Day was celebrated with the annual banquet, and the annual awards for the active chapter were presented.

ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA—KNOX

INITIATED, February 20, 1937: Lorraine Geise, Barbara Parr, Glendale, Calif.; Jean Betty, Margaret Allison, Marion Stickley, Galesburg; Martha Glidden, Kewanee; Virginia Trumpy, Harriett Hunter, Avon; Harriet Baxter, Astoria; Lois Eldredge, Mary Ellen Turner, Pekin; Betty Dexter, Doris Dexter, La Grange; Mary Jane Horton, Jean Rowe, Chicago; Betty Love, Peoria; Margaret Ann Simmons, Canton.

On January 9 Illinois B-D held its annual winter formal at the Galesburg Club. About sixty couples enjoyed the music and dancing in the evening. Professor and Mrs. J. A. Campbell and Professor and Mrs. Ira E. Neiert were the sorority's faculty guests for the evening. The success of the party was due to the efforts of the social committee composed of Dorothy Alsen, Harriet Baxter, Margaret Allison, and Jane Pasche. During the evening the chapter quartet entertained the gathered couples with $\Pi B \Phi$ and other fraternity songs.

On Valentine's Day of this year the pledge class of the B-D chapter entertained the actives at a dinner held in the Gold Room of the Hotel Custer. Table appointments were, appropriately, of the Valentine colors with old-fashioned bouquets of flowers adorning each table. The entertainment of the evening consisted of a series of skits, musical numbers, and pantomimes performed by the various members of the pledge class. Doris Dexter was the chairman for the arrangement of the entire party. As a fitting climax to a happy evening the pledge class presented the chapter with the gift of a lovely coffee set. It has been the custom for each pledge class to make such a present to the chapter. As a result the B-D chapter has many reminders of the thoughtfulness of former pledge classes.

The next production to be done by the Knox Little Theater is Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." This is to be done in modern dress and promises to be of great interest to the campus theater-goers. Barbara Winks of the Knox $\Pi B \Phi$ chapter represents the sorority in the cast of this coming presentation.

Overshadowing all other campus activities in importance has been the Centennial Founders' Day of Knox College. On the week-end of February 11-13 all Knox and Galesburg joined in colorful pageantry celebrating the close of the first century of the college's existence and the commencement of a second century. The three days' activities were brought to an appropriate close by a huge Founders' Day Banquet on the evening of February 13. In the Armory over a thousand students, faculty members, graduates and friends gathered officially to recognize the beginning of a new century. Knox's colors, purple and gold, were used in the decorations which arrayed the banquet hall. Other decorations included large hand-painted seals of all colleges that had celebrated their hundredth or more birthdays. As a climax to the evening which had been given over to toasts, songs of the century, and scenes typical of the various decades of the century, Knox's seal was unveiled and proclaimed the latest of the seals representing century-old colleges. The Pioneer Supper, served to all gathered in the festive and gaiety-filled hall, was carried out in true frontier style. Waiters and waitresses for the dinner were dressed in costumes fashionable during the various eras of the century. Many of those attending the banquet had chosen to wear costumes of the numerous vintages. The entire picture, with the modern and historic panorama, was symbolical of the history of this century-old college. At the conclusion of the celebration a huge birthday cake with one hundred lighted candles, seemingly lighting the road down which Knox will travel through the coming years, was brought in to the strains of "Hail Knox All Glorious."

Marion Rose of Illinois B-D has been elected to the Who's Who in American Colleges.

Elizabeth Johnson and Marion Rose of Illinois B-D have been selected for membership in the National Honorary Fraternity, $\Phi B K$.

INITIATED, February 26, 1937: Patty Bradford, Rockford; Shirley Chandler, Hammond, Ind.; Portia Clark, Adel, Iowa; Molly Docekal, Sheridan, Wyo.; Eleanor Eberle, Oak Park; Charlene Eddleman, Pinckneyville; Lorraine Gaylord, Great Neck, L.I., N.Y.; Elizabeth Gehrig, Hempstead, N.Y.; Ella Marie Hamilton, Manitowoc, Wis.; Virginia Hickey, Park Ridge; Doris Kadel, Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Martha Kiger, Mattoon; Jean Lavery, Winnetka; Ellen Mahle, Danville; Jane Marqua, Wilmette; Joan Puntton, Kansas City, Mo.; Helena Rayl, Decatur, Ind.; Frances Stirtion, Chicago; Suzanne Swan, Pittsburg, Kan.; Peggy Wagner, Park Ridge; Frances Whittemore, La Grange; Janice Wolford, Clencoe.

The chapter held their winter formal on January 9 in the Colonial Room of the Drake Hotel.

The pledges entertained the actives and their dates at a Valentine supper party at the chapter house on Sunday, February 14.

Dell Kiehl was the chapter's delegate for the Syllabus beauty queen. Virginia Lord was the chairman of registration for the St. Charles Conference which was sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A., and was held at the Baker Hotel in St. Charles, Ill. The conference dealt with the subject, "Life Begins at Commencement." Marjorie Mayland, Ellen Mahle, Frances Ann Clarkson, and Georganne Rundall attended the conference. There were one hundred and ten delegates.

Phyllis Thompson and Nancy Powell were show girls in the WAA-MU production "Don't Look Now," which was held March 16-21. Ellen Mahle was on the showbook committee. Eleanor Eberle and Frances Whittemore were on the wardrobe committee.

Willard Hall, freshman girls' dormitory, under the leadership of Mrs. H. White, the hostess, is transformed into the "Pop and Ernie" night club every Saturday night. All of the serving and entertaining is done by college students, preferably freshmen. Jean Jens and Ella Marie Hamilton have appeared in the floor shows. Frances Stirtion designed the murals for the room.

INITIATED, February 20, 1937: Mary Frances Branyan, Waukegan; Mary Ann Ramsey, Bette Bowen, Myrtle Thelin, Chicago; Betty Crist, La Grange; Catherine Fitzgerald, Kankakee; Harriett Fuller, Bloomington; Michalio Harno, Barbara Littleton, Jane Ann Swartz, Isabel Walcott, Urbana; Betty Johnson, Park Ridge; Margaret Lyon, Rockford; Jane Rollo, Murphysboro; Eileen Shuster, Libby Lue Wiley, Springfield; Mary Sihler, Litchfield; Edith Squires, Champaign.

After the worries of registration for the second semester were forgotten and everyone had become accustomed to their new schedules, the members of Illinois Z again turned their interest to campus activities. The elections for chairmen of the five committees in Orange and Blue Feathers and those in Gold Feathers in Woman's League took the center of interest, and two $\Pi B \Phi$ s won chairmanships. Barbara Littleton is chairman of the Membership Committee of Orange and Blue Feathers, and Anita Knapp is chairman of the Sorority Representative Committee for Gold Feathers. The athletically-inclined girls in the house have formed basketball and volleyball teams which are entering the inter-house tournament sponsored by W.A.A. Barbara Littleton and Charlotte Herman with their averages over 4.5 are new members of A A Δ , the freshman scholastic honorary fraternity for women.

The Woman's League presented its annual musical comedy soon after the new semester began, February 26. This year's production was the popular Broadway show of last year, "Anything Goes." Harriett Fuller helped on the ticket committee, Ruth Buchholz was on the make-up committee, and Anita Knapp was the house representative for obtaining tickets for a $\Pi B \Phi$ reserved block. The chapter held a formal dinner at the house, went over to the show where most of the women's fraternities had blocks, and finished the evening by going to Bradley Hall to dance after the performance.

For one week the University of Illinois celebrated its 69th anniversary of its founding in 1868. On March 1 the Illini Pageant of Progress depicting important events in the life of the university was enacted. On March 2 the climaxing festivities were held: in the morning President Arthur C. Willard placed a wreath on the grave of President Gregory, the first president of the university in a very serious and impressive ceremony; in the afternoon the school put on a parade of floats which was led by military regiments and the band; in the evening the ceremonies in the University Auditorium were broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up.

Because Illinois Z plans to rebuild the back part of the house this spring, the chapter has arranged to have its spring formal with a buffet supper on May 7 at the Champaign Country Club.

The members are busy making preparations for Founders' Day. On April 28 the chapter invited all the alumnae to a buffet supper, and the freshmen will entertain afterwards with a play relating the manner and reasons for the founding of $\Pi B \Phi$.

INITIATED, February 12, 1937: Margaret Admire, Normal; Margaret Allen, Elizabeth Duerr, Laurabelle Fischer, Margaret Hall, Mary Alice Lloyd, Joanne McDavid, Juanita Robertson, Doris Worsham, Decatur; Betty Loehr, Greenville.

Illinois H started off the new semester with a Valentine rushing party in the chapter house February 4. After a strenuous day of registration, an informal Valentine dinner was served the chapter and its guests. After dinner an informal sing and "hen session" took place.

Probation for the ten pledges who were to be initiated, began February 5 at 12 M. The chapter turned out strong for meals, and an average of twenty-six girls stayed at the house each night throughout the week. The initiation ceremony took place February 12. Four days later the active chapter pledged three new girls, bringing the membership of both actives and pledges up to thirty-three. A dance was given by the active chapter in honor of the new initiates and pledges which took place in the chapter house February 16.

After the first few weeks of getting readjusted and settled, campus activities were again in full swing. Rehearsals for the mid-season play, "He Who Gets Slapped," were begun and Juanita Robertson, one of the new initiates, was selected to take part in the production. Kathrine Hamilton, Margaret Allen, and Emily Jane Wood were on the patronage committee for the occasion and assisted in the ticket sale. The play was presented March 12 with much success.

One of the most exciting and outstanding sports events of the season for the women on the Millikin campus is the annual intersorority basketball tournament. The "Indees" had claimed the championship for thirteen years, but this year the $\Pi B \Phi$ s emerged victorious, to break the thirteen year win of the Indees, and bring Illinois H its first basketball championship. The last game of the tournament was played March 7 between the "Indees" and the $\Pi B \Phi$ s, the final score being Pi Phi 19, "Indees" 16.

The Millikin chorus made a trip to Springfield March 6 to take part in a Vesper service. Beatrice Hill and Margaret Storement sang with the choir. Beatrice Hill is also a member of the $\Sigma A I$ trio at Millikin, and they will sing again in Springfield in the near future. Founders' Day on the Millikin campus was quite an event this year, as 1937 marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of Illinois H of $\Pi B \Phi$. It was in 1912 that $\Delta \Theta \Psi$ of the Millikin campus obtained a charter in $\Pi B \Phi$. The Founders' Day Luncheon held April 3 was in honor of both the founding of the national fraternity and the Illinois H chapter. A program planned by the ten new initiates depicting scenes from the founding of $\Pi B \Phi$ at Millikin provided the entertainment. Two of the girls who took part in the act are $\Pi B \Phi$ daughters whose mothers were charter members of the chapter.

INITIATED, January 30, 1937: Gudrun Bjerring, Olive MacArthur.

On Friday, January 13, the fraternity went in a block to the Co-ed Debate, held in the University Buildings. The resolution was "Beautiful Bims Get a Bigger Boost Than Brainy Ones."

The $\Pi B \Phi$ alumnae association sponsored one night in January, at the John Holden Players, in aid of the Free Kindergarten School. Grace Matthews, the leading lady, is a $\Pi B \Phi$ from the Toronto chapter. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to her at the close of the evening from Manitoba A. On January 23, the Arts Faculty gave a Co-ed luncheon and Jean Christie, Molly Ann Manning, and Betty Dean were seated at the head table.

An initiation banquet was held on January 30, at the Fort Garry Hotel in honor of the new initiates.

A great many Pi Phi participated in the U.M.S.U. Glee Club production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Utopia Limited," in February. Among the cast were Betty Dean and Elaine Hilton; Kay Ackland was convener of properties and many others were on committees.

An Inter-Faculty One-Act Play Competition was held in the Auditorium of Gordon Bell High School in the latter part of February. In the Arts Play, Lenore Morgan, Mary Cowan, and Janet Turnbull participated; in the Medical Play, Harriet Perry; and in the Wesley Play, Peggy Morrison. The Arts Play is entering the Manitoba Drama Festival in February.

The annual spring formal of Manitoba A was held in the form of a supper dance on February 25 in the main dining room of the Royal Alex Hotel. The decorations were balloons and serpentine in the colors of wine and blue; and a large banner of wine satin with the gold coat of arms of Pi Phi in the center hung at one end of the room. The chapter was delighted to be able to entertain Grace Johnson, Dorothy Buchman, and Claire Stromberg from North Dakota A, for a few days and to have them present at the formal.

It has been the custom lately to have an alumna come to the active meetings and give a short talk on a subject of general interest; and it has been the privilege of the chapter to hear Phyllis Elkin and Sally Middleton on "My Experiences in the Business World," Eileen Downey on "Beginnings of Pi Phi on this Campus," and Thelma Wright on "Activities." At an open meeting on Tuesday, March 2, Thelma Wright read a short play on the Settlement School and Betty Trimer told the chapter about her trip to Germany.

During the recent elections many II B Phis obtained offices in the various faculties. Betty Dean was elected Lady Stick of Arts. Thus for a third year in succession a II B Phi has held this position, which is the highest a girl can hold in the students' self-governing body. Mary McCombe was elected Junior Co-ed representative and Kay McLeod Junior Hockey representative to the Arts Council; Gudrun Bjerring, Junior Co-ed representative, and Peggy Morrison, Manitoban representative to the Wesley Co-ed Executive; Peggy Morrison, vice-president of the junior year, and Norma Jane Verner, athletic representative to the junior year executive; Wilma Clubb, treasurer for Home Economics faculty, and Diana Peacock, president of the Social and Literary Association in Home Economics; and Molly Ann Manning, vice-president of third year in the Arts Faculty.

At the U.M.S.U. Co-ed Association banquet held in the Marlborough Hotel on March 3, Norma Jane Verner was presented with her junior colors for athletics; and Jean Christie, the present Lady Stick of Arts, with an executive award. Isabel MacArthur was one of two girls to win an award in athletics for four years' activities in Home Economics. Olive MacArthur was given recognition for being on the winning swimming team in the Interfaculty Swimming Gala.

INITIATED, February 20, 1937: Adelaine Aas, New Rockford; Bernardine Mahowald, Grand Forks.

The enrollment for the second semester at the University of North Dakota hit a new "high" on February 18. Of the 1750 students enrolled, 419 are freshmen.

The University celebrated its fifty-fourth annual Founders' Day on February 22. Dean Malcolm S. MacLean, Dean of the General College at the University of Minnesota, was the principal speaker.

The twenty-seventh annual Carney Song Contest on February 22, was won this year by the seniors, II B Phi was well represented by Harriet Miller accompanying the seniors, Claire Stromberg, the juniors, and Cheryl Rodger, the freshmen. The University basketball team won its fourth successive conference championship this year by defeating North Dakota State.

Freshmen having gaverages higher than B were: Cheryl Rodger, Evelyn O'Keefe, Alice Marsh, Betty O'Keefe, and Rebecca Onstad. Adelaine Aas received the jeweled pin given to the initiate with the highest average.

Harriet Miller, president of Mortar Board, presented a cup to Marmarth, North Dakota, for sending eleven students 500 miles to attend the University.

II B Phi is planning to present a combined act with Gamma Phi Beta in the annual University production, "The Flicker-tail Follies," which will be held in the new $250,000 Central High School Auditorium.

The patrons and patronesses were entertained at dinner on March 21, and plans are under way for the chapter's annual mothers', fathers', brothers', and sisters' dinners.

The alumni group sponsored the annual II B Phi Founders' Day Banquet at the Hotel Ryan on May 8. Ruth Suprenant, president of the alumni club, was in charge of arrangements and acted as toastmistress.

Virginia Rice, Evelyn O'Keefe, Alice Marsh, Marie Cray, Dorothy Buckman, Eleanor Shaw, Rebecca Onstad, and Cleo Nelson appeared in the Playmakers' production, "King For a Day," on March 20.

Rebecca Onstad and Evelyn Johnson were delegates to the Lutheran Students Union Convention at Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota. Cleo Nelson was appointed chairman of the Junior Prom Committee. Dorothy Buckman, Alice Marsh, Vaughn O'Keefe, and Evelyn O'Keefe have been prominent in University radio productions. Eleanor Hopper was one of three seniors awarded a key for four years' service in the Madrigal Club. Joyce Umlauf was elected Panhellenic delegate to the National Convention to be held in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Claire Stromberg, Grace Johnson, and Dorothy Buckman were guests at the Winnipeg, Manitoba, spring formal, on February 25.

At the beginning of winter quarter, during the first part of January, an informal rushing tea was given for out-of-town girls who were later invited to dinners and luncheons.

February 6 the annual Snowball Formal was given by the chapter. The dining room and chapter room were decorated with blue and silver draperies on which were hung silver stars, cake, coffee, and snowball ice cream were served as refreshments.

For the song fest this year Minnesota A used as its principal song "The Chain of Pi Beta Phi" which was written by an Illinois girl. The group was given honorable mention, but because there were not enough girls singing it was unable to win a place in the contest.

An exchange dinner was held with the Delta Gamma February 15 in which half the chapter went over to the Delta Gamma house, and half the Delta Gamma girls came over to the II B Phi house. This is a practice that is carried on by many of the women's fraternities on the University of Minnesota campus to help the fraternities get acquainted with one another.

March 1 a Settlement School dinner and program was presented at the chapter house. Many interesting facts about the Settlement School were read, and a skit was given by the pledges.

An old practice was revived this year on the Minnesota campus. This is a Panhellenic dinner to which all women's fraternity members are invited. Such a dinner took place March 8. Each girl was given a specific place and table at which to sit, and the table that had the most representatives from different fraternities received prizes.

The principal campus social event this quarter was the Freshman Frolic given by the freshmen but attended by the whole University. Jane Foster was chairman of a committee, and five other pledges were on committees.

INITIATED, February 17, 1937: Lucy Allison, Walnut Ridge, Ark.; Betty Elgar, Vivian Holland, Mt. Pleasant; Natalie Post, Ottumwa; Harriet Tade, Hillsboro.

The Advisory Board gave the active chapter a dinner when they initiated the five new girls. The dinner preceded the initiation services, which were held on February 17. A number of the alumnae were present for the ceremony.

Alice Talbot was elected the Most Representative Woman on the Campus by the entire student body. Alice, a senior, was presented at the annual George Washington Ball, the outstanding party of the year. Charlotte Allen, president of Iowa A, was co-chairman of this major party.

The Founders' Day program was celebrated in the usual manner. There was a dinner for the Alumnae Club and the active chapter and both participated in the program that was given afterward. The Alumnae Club gave the Settlement School play, and the active chapter gave a part of the entertainment. The program and dinner were held April 28.

The program for the Settlement School was one of the most interesting programs that has been given this year. It took place after a cooky-shine in the rooms, February 23. Harriet Tade gave an excellent report about the history of the school. Other reports were given.

Two Iowa A members were initiated into the Ellen Richards Club. This club is for Home Economics majors. The girls are Margaret Hall of Centerville and Virginia Hall of Mt. Pleasant.

Those of the chapter who succeeded in making the Honor Roll the first semester were: Alice Talbot, Betty Lundgren, and Harriet Tade.

The annual health program which is a joint meeting of the alumnae club and the active chapter was held on March 5. Dr. Ristine, head of the State Hospital here in Mt. Pleasant, gave an interesting talk.

Iowa A held open house for the faculty and members of the fraternities and other sororities on the campus including the non-fraternity men and women at the sorority rooms on March 21.

The mothers' tea is planned for May 9, and the Spring Formal is being planned for May 8.

The Music and Dramatic departments gave an operetta in April. It was Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance." A number of Iowa A members were in the cast. Margaret Hall had one of the leads.

The debate team has been taking a number of trips recently. Betty Lundgren who represents Iowa A on the woman's team, has debated in tournaments held at Bloomfield, Coe College, Cedar Rapids, and in the II K A tournament at Kirksville, Missouri.

Three members of Iowa A headed the recent edition of the Wesleyan Tiger when that paper was published by the journalism class. Betty Lundgren acted as editor and Pauline Carroll was news editor. Natalie Post was the society news editor.

Religious Emphasis Week was held just before Easter. One of Iowa A's pledges represented this chapter on that committee. Marjorie Smith is the II B Φ representative.

Thus far in the Intersorority Basketball Tournament II B Φ has remained undefeated. The chapter is hoping to win this title.

Simpson has had many outstanding people on its campus this year including: Rudolph Ganz, noted concert pianist, Bishop Oxman, whose wife is a II B Φ from California I, Dr. James Chubb from Baldwin, Kansas, who was the Religious Emphasis speaker for Simpson this year, Dr. Charles Schofield, and Mrs. Mary Patterson Route.

Iowa B has had many new honors: Mildred Severs has been elected to M Φ E, national music sorority; Mary Jane Steves, Barbara Ann England, and Aldes Larson have been elected to A Ψ Q, national dramatic fraternity; three of the second semester Zetelethean Literary Society officers are II B Φ members: Phyllis Williams is president; Helen Bliss, secretary; and Marjorie Heaten is treasurer. Charlotte Schrier was selected for the varsity debate squad and participated in the St. Thomas tournament at St. Paul, Minnesota. Phyllis Emmons, chapter president, is recognized in this year's Who's Who in American Colleges for her outstanding work at Simpson. Five members of Iowa B, with Phyllis Emmons cast as the leading woman, were selected for parts in Simpson's major play of the year, "Lost Horizons."

The actives entertained the pledges at a surprise Valentine's Day breakfast at the chapter house. The pledges gave a Saint Patrick's Day party for the actives.

Iowa B celebrated Founders' Day at Ames with the Iowa chapters of Theta Province. Miss Onken's initiation of Iowa I's pledge having the highest scholarship rating was a great inspiration to all, and the round table discussions resulted in enthusiasm for better chapters.

The house will be ready for occupancy when school starts in September.

Founders' Day and State Day were celebrated together on April 24. Miss Amy B. Onken initiated the Iowa I pledge with the highest scholastic average. Questions submitted by II B Φ chapters of Iowa were discussed at round table meetings.

Three members of Iowa I, Betty Bergman, Catherine Cooper, and Martha Roberts, have been initiated into Φ K Φ , comparable to Φ B K in liberal arts schools. Beth Johnson is an initiate of Σ A I, national professional music honorary. O Σ Φ , honorary journalism fraternity, initiated Peggy Schenk, O N, national home economics honorary based on scholarship, recently initiated Gretchen Bjornstad, Helen Johnson, Peggy Schenk, and Doris Young. Six II B Φ s received bids from A Φ Δ , national art honorary: Betty Bergman, Gretchen Bjornstad, Ethel Margaret Gillmor, Frances Reis, Doris Young, and Elinor Zoller.

Marguerite Root was elected president of the Y.W.C.A. and Peggy Schenk was appointed editor of the Home-maker, monthly magazine published by home economics students. Doris Young is a member of Veishea Central Committee, which directs the three-day campus celebration in May. New Members of Iowa State Players, dramatics honorary, are: Mary Louise Chapman, Helen Johnson, Betty Straight, Lois Swenson, and Elizabeth Roost.

Dinner exchanges with other women's fraternities have been held from time to time. Our chapter participated in the intersorority sing held in the spring. The pledges are editing the annual issue of the Pi Phi Dart.

Many activities have taken place since the last ARROW letter was written, and $\Pi B \Phi$ has played an active part in many of them.

Many members of $\Pi B \Phi$ have been continually featured on the programs given at the recently introduced "Silver Shadow," the University of Iowa's liquorless night club. Among those who have participated are Gayle Gildner, Madge Jones, Lavanda Carr, and Frances Mary Zoeckler. Madge also sang at the College Inn, in Chicago, as a member of the "Silver Shadow" floor show, the program of which was broadcast over a coast to coast hook-up. At the All-University Stunt Night held February 19, Madge was awarded a trophy.

Several Iowa Z girls have been active on student publications. Madge Jones is the assistant editor on the Frisol, the college humor magazine, while several others are working on the staff. Jane Niles, society editor of The Daily Iowan, an Iowa City daily newspaper edited by university students, and Mary Burke, campus editor, were recently pledged to $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$, honorary and professional journalistic society.

Mary-Lou McQuillen, president, Mortar Board, was elected to $\Pi \Gamma M$, honorary political society. Margaret Yavorsky was recently initiated into $\Phi \Gamma N$, commerce fraternity.

Members of $\Pi B \Phi$ have been honored by presentation at University of Iowa parties. Katherine Germann was presented as one of the six Hawkeye Beauties at the Junior Prom, while Margaret Foster was presented at the Pica Ball for having sold more Frisols, humor magazine, than any other individual, in the sales contest. Mary Jamieson was presented as an attendant at the annual Dolphin Water Carnival, held at the Iowa Field House in November.

At the Homecoming season $\Pi B \Phi$ sold badges, the sale of which enabled the chapter to increase its contribution to the Settlement School and the Endowment Fund. $\Pi B \Phi$ won second place honors in the annual Homecoming decoration contest. After the Homecoming game, over one hundred and fifty alumnae attended the reception and buffet supper held at the chapter house.

Iowa Z celebrated Founders' Day on April 28, with a formal dinner followed by a toast program in the River Room at the Iowa Memorial Union.

The combined alumnae clubs of all the women's fraternities on the campus have undertaken the sponsorship of Sunday Vespers given by the great cathedral choir. The choir is non-sectarian and is composed almost entirely of college students. Neither the conductor, John M. Rosborough, nor the students receive remuneration or college credit for their services. The choir has recently returned from its second annual concert tour of the east and it is a great privilege to be able to have the opportunity of hearing but also of sponsoring this noteworthy organization.

The University Players presented "Lost Horizons" in which Helen Fox and Mary Lou Williams had parts. Ruth Van Slyke had a lead in "Heidi" which was presented for the Children's Theater.

Virginia Clemans is editing a fashion column for the Daily Nebraskan.

The chapter gave a formal dance at the Hotel Cornhusker on February 5. A sweetheart dinner was held on March 7 at the chapter house. The initiation banquet was planned by the Omaha Alumnae Club on March 13 at the Hotel Cornhusker, using the theme of Idaho's Sun Valley, the toasts given by the various guests supposedly stopping at the lodge.

Thursday, March 11, before initiation the active chapter gave a buffet supper and hour dance in honor of the freshmen who were to be initiated the following Saturday.

One of the most important events of the year was the Founders' Day Banquet held in Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday evening, April 24. Missouri A, Kansas B, and Kansas A and alumnae chapters of Kansas City and Lawrence attended. Mrs. J. E. Webster, Assistant to the Grand President, was the guest speaker.

The chapter has been interested in intramural sports this year and has been fortunate enough to place first in volleyball, in swimming, and in ping-pong; and second place in basketball.

The following girls were elected to various offices this year: Barbara Pendleton, vice-president of W.S.G.A. and Mortar Board; Gertrude Field, college representative of W.S.G.A.; Carolyn Bailey, Fine Arts representative of W.S.G.A. and vice-president of $M \Phi E$, national honorary musical fraternity.

The freshmen of the chapter together with the freshmen of all the other women's fraternities gave a dance this spring which was held in the Union building. This is evidence of the friendlier Panhellenic spirit existing on the "hill" this year, more so than in previous years.

In a contest sponsored by the Sour Owl, humor magazine, Joan Stewart was elected the most alluring co-ed of the campus. Gertrude Field was mentioned in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

PLEGDED: September 14, 1936: Betty Rogers, February 24, 1937: Betty Bond.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Lorraine Luther, 259 N. Quintin, Wichita, Kan.

INITIATED, February 27, 1937: Jean Johnson, Olsburg; Roberta Row, Larned; Eleanor Focannon, Ashland; Virginia Baxter, Manhattan; Arlene Herwig, Kansas

City, Mo.; Janet Ferguson, Colby; Jean DeYoung, Manhattan; Margaret Mullen, Martha Mullen, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Martha Ann Black, Independence; Jean Lawson, McPherson; Margaret Wilson, Manhattan; Beattie Freeland, Garden City; Susanne Long, Eldorado; Janis Gainey, Manhattan; Betty Lou Fisher, Manhattan; Jane Julian, Kansas City; Virginia Trusdale, Manhattan; Barbara Brown, Eldorado; Betty Bucher, Topeka, October 15, 1936; Mary Marron, Jacksonville, Fla.

Florence Hunt Webster, Assistant to the Grand President, visited Kansas B on February 15-18.

The chapter entertained 50 poor children of Manhattan at the annual Christmas party at the house. The custom of Christmas caroling was followed again this year.

The spring formal was held May 16, 1937, at the Wareham Ballroom.

A new organization, the Students' Independent Union, has been organized this year. They have rented a house to which all independents may go for social functions or for study.

March 9 was the day of the dinner dance for the football letter men.

Pauline Umberger was chosen honorary officer of the Second Battalion at the annual Military Ball January 9, 1937. Susanne Long was named one of the beauties at the Royal Purple Beauty Ball.

Elizabeth Nabours, Lois Smith, Betty Jean Hedges, Pauline Umberger, and Vera Mowery were elected into Enchiladas, women's dancing sorority.

The Manhattan alumnae club gave a luncheon for the initiates preceding initiation.

GRADUATED: Lois Smith, B.S., Garden City; Jane Phelan, B.S., Kansas City; Iris Miller, B.S., Lyons; Dorothy Caldwell, B.S., Independence; Rosalie Ellis, B.S., Manhattan.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

Winter quarter has been successful for Colorado A, and the chapter has received many honors. Ruth Benwell was elected president of the Associated Women Students for the year 1937-38, and Evalyn Prouty, a new initiate, was elected treasurer. This gives II B Φ two important officers among the eight officers of the association.

Five girls from this chapter have become members of honorary fraternities. Jane Collins was elected to K Δ II, educational fraternity; Helen Stants was bid to II M E, mathematical fraternity; Evalyn Prouty is a member of Σ A I, a national music honorary; Jeanne Giberson was elected to Φ X Θ , professional business women's fraternity; and Elizabeth Robertson is a member of A E Δ , a pre-medical honorary.

In addition, several actives are new members of other campus groups. Sally Zimmerhackel, Patsy Egan, and Frances Haegy belong to the Women's Athletic Association, and Ruth Benwell was elected to the "C" Club, a sports group. Three of the freshmen, Frances Haegy, Patsy Egan, and Evalyn Prouty, are officers in their dormitory halls.

The Rhythm Circus, an entertainment sponsored completely by the students of the university, was one of the important events of this quarter. Sally Zimmerhackel wrote the script for the show, and Marjory Helen Rice, Betty Ann Mollin, and Catherine Cooper took part in the Circus.

At the initiation banquet in January Colorado B presented Colorado A with an electrically lighted, wooden arrow, which has been placed above the door in the dining room. A tradition centered around this gift, for the chapter members stand and sing to the II B Φ arrow before leaving the dining room after dinner.

The social function of this quarter was February 27. Instead of the usual formal dance the chapter rented a rink and had a roller skating party. Afterwards a buffet supper was served at the chapter house.

Colorado A cooperated with Colorado B and the Denver Alumnae Club in planning a Province Conference in Colorado Springs, May 22-23. On this occasion the seventieth anniversary of the founding of II B Φ , the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Settlement School, and Founders' Day, were celebrated.

Pledge Day, September 19, 1936

INITIATED, January 16, 1937: Ruth Blair, Laura Braden, Jean Burnett, Shirley Carter, Yvonne Crabtree, Helen Davis, Frances Hardin, Beverly Kern, Ruth Lanphier, Martha Ann Lee, Georgia Marrs, Shirley McMillen, Helen Monismith, Elizabeth Morgan, Virginia Nevans, Margaret Mary O'Meara, Elaine Ryall, Louise Simon, Josephine Shields, Betty Ray Thibodeau, Muriel Warner, and Peggy Wilfley, Denver; Harriet Espey, Trinidad.

Elizabeth Morgan was awarded the cup for the outstanding pledge.

Denver University was most fortunate this year in having Mortar Board installed on the campus on January 22 and 23. Eighty-eight members were initiated, which is the largest group ever to be taken in at one time. The large number is due to the fact that many alumnae returned, who had previously been members of Kedros, the local society preceding Mortar Board. Thirteen II B Φ s were initiated, three of whom are active in the chapter now. Betty McNair is the president of Mortar Board. The other II B Φ members include Betty Lee Lyons and Dorothy Roberts.

K Δ II, honorary education society, held a Rocky Mountain Regional conference in Denver on February 6. The chapter is represented with four members in this society, two of whom were initiated at a special model initiation. II B Φ members include, Betty McNair and Ruth Lanphier, and the two new initiates, Betty Lee Lyons and Edna Saunders.

On February 7, Co-ed Journalists, women's honorary journalistic society, initiated Betty Jane Hall, Mary Margaret McGilvray, Ruth Lanphier, and Maretta Lucas. Betty Arnold and Betty Lee Lyons are also members.

The chapter turned out en masse for the annual A.W.S. banquet, February 9, held in the tearoom of Daniel and Fisher's downtown department store.

Members of the chapter receiving a place on the Dean's honor roll, those being in the upper ten per cent of her class, include: Betty Lee Lyons, Edna Saunders, Margery Becklev, Elinor Roberts, Martha Ann Lee, and Shirley McMillen.

The University sponsored a Rocky Mountain Speech conference during the week of February 15 to February 20. II B Φ s were active in debate, drama, and choral speaking.

On March 7, the chapter gave a faculty tea.

On May 22 and 23, Iota Province will hold a regional conference at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Hanna, province president, and Miss Onken, Grand President, have been invited.

WYOMING ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Chartered, 1910

Pledge Day, September 26, 1936

INITIATED, January 17, 1937: Clara Bishop, Marjorie Clay.

Winter quarter schedule at the University of Wyoming was filled with numerous activities. In the new auditorium were held such functions as the Ballet Russe, Roth Quartet, and lectures, including Joseph Auslander, Audrey Wurdemann, and Admiral Byrd. March 10, an all-University cast of musicians, singers and dramatists presented the operetta, "The Student Prince," which was an immense success. Such a production stimulated the interest of a large number of students and offered them excellent training.

Unusual interest this year has been shown also in winter outdoor sports. A University skating rink and toboggan run have been greatly utilized by the students.

The chapter was honored by a visit from Miss Onken January 17 and 18, during which she presided at the impressive initiation services for two upperclass girls. A tea and formal banquet given at the chapter house, and a Panhellenic luncheon were held honoring Miss Onken. The chapter officers and members were delighted to meet with her.

Intramural contest on the campus winter quarter was in the form of basketball. The final games have not been played, although Wyoming A is one of the four teams not yet eliminated.

Two formals, the Cadet Ball and Junior Prom, climaxed the University social calendar. At the former function Marian Holliday, the chapter's president, was selected as Honorary Cadet Major, while Jeanne Stephens, junior member of the chapter, was presented as the Junior Prom queen at the latter function.

Eloine Cook, senior, was honored by being asked into the membership of $\Phi K \Phi$. She is also a Mortar Board girl, $\Phi \Gamma M$, and A.W.S. treasurer. Jeanne Diver, junior, was invited to the $\Phi K \Phi$ banquet, which is given each year honoring the four students in each class ranking highest in scholastic grades.

February 15, the Mothers' Club entertained chapter members at a delightful Valentine tea. In March, the chapter was honored by the Alumnae Club at a Buffet supper.

Founders' Day program this year included a formal banquet given at the chapter house in honor of the alumnae. The pledges exhibited their originality in presenting a clever stunt.

Fourteen chapter members on the University Honor Roll last quarter stimulated the chapter onward in the hope of securing the scholarship cup for the third successive year.

The second issue of the Wyo, Wyoming University's quarterly magazine, was published the last of winter quarter. This number was devoted to sororities, fraternities, and other campus clubs, giving group pictures and valuable information concerning each organization.

All Oklahoma is mourning the death of Dean C. P.

Blackwell, Dean of the School of Agriculture. His death occurred March 4.

The basketball team came through with flying colors, with only three losses out of twenty games played. They captured the Missouri Valley Cup also.

Founders' Day banquet was held at the College Shop on April 28. After dinner was served, and after a brief program, Mrs. C. M. Noble, housemother, gave an interesting talk, followed by Mrs. Harry Orr, who spoke to the chapter briefly. The dinner concluded with a farewell by Helen Mullendore, president.

The chapter did quite well the first semester in scholarship, but her relative standing with other sororities is not yet known. $\Pi B \Phi$ has won all the queen races that have been held so far this year. Lou French Hatchett was elected Freshman Queen; Maxine Moody, Band Queen; and Mary Louise Owen, Redskin Queen.

Texas A is happy to have affiliated two transfers, Jane Denman and Frances Connally.

Two pledges, Adele Neely and Mary Lee Humlong, were elected to the freshman honorary society, A A Δ. Two other pledges, Catherine Lawder and Val Jean Aldred, were awarded pearl recognition pins for outstanding pledge work. The names of twenty initiates appeared on the University of Texas honor roll at mid-semester.

Miss Gladys Scivally, Kappa Province president, visited Texas A in March.

The spring formal was a dinner dance held April 30, at the Woman's Federated Club. The decorations were very unique and the evening was quite a gala affair.

Intramural sports have been in full swing all year with Texas A among the winners so far.

Texas A alumnae, active members, and pledges united to celebrate Founders' Day with a formal dinner held at the Austin Country Club on April 28. Isabelle Thomason, fall president of Texas A, acted as toastmistress and Nita Hill Stark, Grand Secretary, awarded the honors. The occasion was a very festive one with stunts and songs by the active chapter.

Texas B is pleased to announce that Frances Hallum and Ruth Allen were selected as two of the five girl representative Mustangs. Each year ten representative Mustangs, five girls and five boys, are selected by popular vote.

A new idea has been under discussion for some time on our campus. A point system has been suggested, giving a number of points for each office held and allowing no individual to have more than fifteen points. Of course several outstanding students had more than this number and many opposed the idea holding back a good student, but a popular vote was taken last week which found the student body wholly in favor of the point system.

The musical organization of Script and Score is putting on a new show March 10-11 called "Take It Easy." Many Texas Betas are taking part in it: Betty Touchstone, Carol Fritz, and Gene Higginbotham are connected with the production itself and several more are included in the cast and chorus.

This year Texas B won the basketball championship in the inter-sorority championship in inter-sorority games.

Four II B Φ freshmen are eligible for A A Δ this semester: Mary Ann Potts, Mary Frances Manning, Annette Germany, Emily Spivey.

Two dances have been given since Christmas; a backward dance at the Melrose Court and a dinner dance at the Century Room in the Adolphus Hotel. The table decorations were blue and wine flowers submerged in glass water globes and the boys received wine carnations tied with blue ribbon.

PLEGGED: Virginia Austin, Annette Germany, Betty Bright, Jeanette Sanford, and Martha Tscheudin.

LOUISIANA ALPHA—H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB

Chartered, 1891

INITIATED, March 11, 1937: Elizabeth Buxton, Elizabeth Cooper, Gloria Grehan, Althea Huey, Peggy Jones, Mollie Merriman, Dorothy Shands, Marjorie Stauss, Elise Terhune, Alice Westfeldt.

This year is the first year our Louisiana A has held an initiation at mid-term. The chapter was happy to be able to welcome in ten new members this semester, instead of having to wait until next fall.

Louisiana A had the second to highest average in scholarship among campus sororities for last year. Its average was 83.8. Louise Schramm was the highest scorer of the chapter.

The most outstanding event on the Newcomb and Tulane campuses was the George Washington Birthday Ball. It was promoted by the Tulane Cotillion Club, of which Patricia Woodward and Marjorie Leverich are members, and was a great success. The Tulane gymnasium was used and proved a wonderful location.

Another important occasion for Tulane and Newcomb was the National Educational Association convention which was held in New Orleans in February. Many interesting lectures were given on the campus and off, and the students were able to avail themselves of an opportunity to hear famous educators from all over the country.

The II B Φ Barn Dance, held March 20, to make money for the Settlement School was a success financially and otherwise. The informality which accompanies the wearing of old clothes was the cause of the good time had by all. Heretofore the chapter has entertained with a formal Script Dance. It feels now, that the Barn Dance idea is much the best.

Founders' Day was celebrated with a banquet, the decorations of which were carried out in wine and blue. Red candles, red carnations, and arrow-shaped cookies contributed to the effect. During the banquet toasts were given, and the pledges were made to perform stunts. After dinner the pledges, the actives and the alumnae each entertained with a skit, the whole evening ending with the singing of II B Φ songs.

The chapter has been having luncheons at the house twice a month, with the pledges preparing the food. The alumnae are invited to attend as often as possible. Several times out-of-town officers have been present, one of them being Mrs. Edwin Lee Holton, Chairman of the Settlement School Committee.

II B Φ was well represented in the Carnival Balls during the Mardi Gras season with Jessie Janvier as queen of Carnival, and two balls, Susan Buck, Mary Dart, and Helen Simpson as queens of other balls, and Katie D. Tack and Jeanne Wellborne as maids.

PLEGGED: Maxine Sill, Eleanor Clue.

The Leadership Conference which was held on this campus proved very helpful to all organization officers. As one of the many plans sponsored by Mortar Board, this was a great benefit to the internal organization of every group, whereas other plans such as "Sorority Stunt Nite" and "Sing" serve to better the feeling among fraternities. Other events have been the Deans Convention; a visit by Mrs. Roosevelt whose description of "A Typical Day at the White House" was most interesting; and a concert by Lily Pons. The Associated Women Students chartered buses to take all women students to the pilgrimage at Natchez, Mississippi. This pilgrimage is held annually to allow visitors to see and appreciate the ante bellum homes and gardens. The underlying purpose of this trip is to break down the barrier between fraternity and non-fraternity women. Another idea to destroy cliques was a series of parties given by the girls who live in the dormitories for the girls who live in town.

Louisiana B held its first formal dance on March 5. The motif carried out in the invitations and decorations was the arrow. Beneath each chandelier was hung a golden arrow and there were other decorations in the colors. On the wall was hung a lighted arrow.

A mid-year rush party was held at the home of one of the patronesses. The party was very informal and served as a good opportunity for members and pledges to be together.

Margaret Floyd placed in mixed debates. Loretta Butler served as chairman of one of the committees for the annual Women's Panhellenic dance which was held February 27. The lighted pins bordered the dance floor and various colored lights played upon a false ceiling of white. This affair was deemed as successful as was the boat ride down the Mississippi River.

Alberta A held its formal dance on February 22. Due to the increased membership the chapter was able to secure the main dining room of the Macdonald Hotel this year. The hall looked attractive with its soft lighting and tables decorated by candles and bouquets of spring flowers. Chet Lambertson supplied the music and featured two $\Pi B \Phi$ songs on the program.

The annual Panhellenic banquet was held on February 1. There was a large attendance, eight fraternities answering the roll call. $\Pi B \Phi$ was well represented by both actives and alumnae.

This year Alberta University has done well in intersarsity sport. The men were victorious in a series of home and home games with Saskatchewan to win the Halpenny Trophy for hockey. The women carried off honors in both the swimming meet and the basketball series.

Phi Beta Phi has been taking an active part in campus activities, both sport and dramatics. Mary Macbeth, president of the Dramatic Society, is working hard to make the U. of A. play the winner in the Spring Festival. Dorothy Howe is assistant director.

Margaret Hutton played the soprano lead in "The Pirates of Penzance" presented by the University Philharmonic Society. Several members of Alberta A were in the chorus also.

The University Women's hockey team went to Banff early in February to compete in the Winter Carnival. Mary Hewitt, president of Women's Athletics, accompanied the team.

In the House League basketball the chapter placed third. The Annual Wuanita Banquet was held this year on March 2, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization.

Like other years Founders' Day banquet was combined with the Senior Farewell. It was held late in March, at the Corona Hotel.

On Woman's Day, which is held each year during Commencement Week, Wilda Parker, Brownie Greene, and Vivienne Finley were pledged to Mortar Board and initiated the following morning.

At this same time, June Edwards, Vesta Robbins, Corinne Wheeler, Georgia Heisick, and Wanna Finley were pledged to Spurs, the honorary service organization for sophomore women. Katherine Duncan was presented with an award for being the most outstanding senior woman. She also received awards for her art work, and outstanding speech work. Margo Seamans received the basketball trophy for being on the all school team.

Wilda Parker, Mary Ellen Wiggernhorn, and Margo Seamans are active $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ members, and the new pledges in this honorary art organization are Vesta Robbins and Corinne Wheeler. Ruth Keithly was initiated into $\Phi T O$, Home Economics honorary. Spartaniacs, the women's athletic honorary initiated Ruth Keithly and Margo Seamans. Anne Sanders was Junior Prom Queen, and Brownie Green, Wilda Parker, and Vivienne Finley were attendants. The beauty queens from this chapter for the 1937 college yearbook are Mary Ann Flynn, and Genevieve Simpkins.

At the annual Military Ball, highlight of the winter social season, Ruth Keithly was named as the band sponsor for the second time. Brownie Green and Katherine Kenyon were named as company sponsors.

Audrey Gustafson played one of the leading parts in the fall production "Squaring the Circle." It was a comedy of Soviet Russia. In the winter play, "Winterset," Wilda Parker took the lead as Meriam. Grace Williams had a minor rôle.

The Messiah was again presented by the college chorus and orchestra, with Brownie Green singing some of the solo numbers. The spring operetta was the "Bartered Bride," in which Brownie Green also took the solo lead.

Vesta Robbins was given the Wagner award for her scholastic achievement, and Mary Ann Flynn was initiated into $\Lambda \Lambda \Delta$, women's honorary for high scholarship, an average of ninety being required for admittance.

The chapter gave two attractive bridal showers for Audrey Gustafson and Betty Harrison, who are now happily married.

The entire M.S.C. campus is busy preparing for High School Week, the time when students from all over the state take competitive examinations, and are royally entertained by the college. Each women's fraternity is assigned a group of girls to entertain at luncheon, during their stay here.

The Intercollegiate Knights, a service organization for men, had their national convention at Montana State this year, and the chapter entertained them for a course of a progressive dinner.

Montana A again plans to sponsor the "Kings Derby" ladies choice dance spring quarter, to raise funds for the Settlement School.

The University of Idaho is growing rapidly. A new infirmary and men's dormitory, Willis Sweet Hall, are just being completed. Work has begun on the new wing of the Administration Building which will afford more library space and class rooms.

At the beginning of the fall semester, Clara Young was elected vice-president of the sophomore class. Helen Parmley was chosen senior class president at the recent elections. It has been many years since this honor has been given to a girl.

The University of Idaho Home Economics department was asked to put on a style show in Spokane for the College Day Tea. Of the girls chosen to model, three were members of $\Pi B \Phi$: Margaret Barton, Helen Parmley, and Georgina Howarth. Frances Paine prepared and presented the clever comments as the girls modeled. Bette Mottern was the accompanist.

The Pep Band Show is an outstanding feature of the spring semester. Bette Mottern's original composition, "Spring Fever," words by Clara Young, is to be featured by a select campus trio, including Clara. Helen Parmley has been chosen to dance in the review given by eight girls.

Margaret Mattes has been appointed editor of the society page in the school paper, The Argonaut.

Christine Nuckols, a new initiate, had a part in the school play "Noah." She is registered in business and is the first freshman to have a part in a major production.

Fay Pettijohn and Helen Parmley received Cardinal Key, upper classwomen's honorary, Kathryn Cleveland was initiated into $\Phi X \Theta$, national business honorary.

INITIATED, February 6, 1937: Josette Ames, Wilma Baxter, Betty Bender, Ellen Crosby, Bernice Curtis, Phyllis Donnelly, Phyllis Howard, Jean Miller, Mary Helen Morse, Molly Wand, Gwynne Williams, Jean Worthley, Seattle; Geraldine Bogdanovic, San Pedro, Calif.; Naomi Edwards, Ellensburg; Gene Graham, Colville; Greta Riesche, Medical Lake; Gayl Rychar, Hoquiam; Jane Wiley, Portland, Ore.; and Grace Louise Yantis, Olympia.

Marjorie Hood was initiated into W-Key, local underclassmen's scholastic and activity honorary, in February. She was also elected secretary of the organization. Barbara Jones, member of Mortar Board and manager of the Women's Varsity Debate team, participated in international debates when she accompanied the squad to Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia. Jean Douglas and Geraldine Bogdanovic appeared in the play, "The Cherry Orchard," at the Studio Theater. Barbara Horrocks was a member of the Junior Prom committee, and Regina Herman was executive secretary of the Cadet Ball committee. Martha Burkhardt, Audrey Hinkle, and Anne MacLeish were also members of the latter committee.

The $\Pi B \Phi$ house was the scene of one of the Y.W.C.A. waffle breakfasts which were held on January 9. The Alumnae Club gave a birthday party for the house on January 27 and presented the chapter with a gift. A tea was given at the chapter house in honor of Mrs. Oehler, new housemother, on February 3. Initiation ceremonies were held on February 6, and a banquet at the Meany Hotel followed in the evening. The annual winter informal was held February 26 at the Ranier Golf and Country Club. The pledges and initiates were entertained by the alumnae club at a buffet supper on March 1. The $\Pi B \Phi$ s entertained their favorite instructors at a faculty dinner on March 3. The Founders' Day banquet and program was held April 28 at the Edmund Meany Hotel. The chapter's annual spring formal will be given in May at Ingwood Golf and Country Club.

Mortar Board's yearly Tolo dance was held February 5 at the Olympic Hotel. The Junior Prom was on March 5 at the Trianon Ballroom; and the Cadet Ball, sponsored by Scabbard and Blade Military Society, was at the Seattle Civic Auditorium on April 2. Plans are being made to build a landscaped approach to the University of Washington campus.

INITIATED, March 13, 1937: Katherine Almquist, Sue Fry, Aimee Russell, Spokane; Mary Jane Anderson, San Francisco, Calif.; Dorothy Smith, Yakima; Clarice Ecker, Jean Spencer, Viola Mehus, Bellingham; Marjorie Crane, Montesano, Frances Beatty, Wenatchee; Margaret Gillespie, Veradale; Ruth Ley, Wapato; Antoinette Arnold, Chewelah; Barbara Jean Clark, Albion; Helyn Small, Mason City; Lenore Elstrom, Tacoma.

At the beginning of the spring semester the south wing of the new Women's Dormitory was opened to 125 girls. The building is a fine structure with the latest in equipment available to the girls. Last fall the new ΔZ house and $\Lambda \Gamma P$ fraternity were completed and by next fall the women's gymnasium will be ready for use.

Mrs. Fred Donert, Lambda Province President, visited the chapter for several days in January and her visit was most helpful to members and pledges.

This has been a very successful year for activities with Joan Wickersham as secretary of the student body and Barbara Kimbrough as A.W.S. president heading the list of honors. Joan and Barbara are also members of Mortar Board, and their latest honors were their initiation into $\Phi B K$ and $\Phi K \Phi$. In addition to these major activities they are active in many other minor organizations.

Represented on the Y.W.C.A. council are Ruth Weed, Antoinette Arnold, and Hope Kimbrough. Peggy Lou Stebbins is secretary of the Women's Athletic Association. On the A.W.S. council are Joan Wickersham and Dorothy Damon. Nancy Freese and Margaret Gillespie are members of the College Glee Club which recently went on a tour. In the Ad Club style show Virginia Rogers, Aimee Russell, and Barbara Kimbrough were models. Virginia Hill was advanced to day editor of the Evergreen, tri-weekly paper, Jean Steward is associate day editor, and eight other $\Pi \Phi$ girls are reporters on the paper. $M \Phi E$, women's music honorary, has Virginia Burkholder and Ethel Klein as members. Phyllis O'Day is president of Orchestra, dancing honorary, and Virginia Burkholder and Antoinette Arnold also belong. Recently Phyllis O'Day was initiated into O.N., national Home Economics honorary. Associate Editor of the Chinook, yearbook, is Hope Kimbrough, and Sue Fry, Marjorie Crane, and Lucile Ramsey are members of the editorial staff. Virginia Rogers is a member of the Junior Prom committee. Dorothy Damon, chapter president, is a member of ΓB , economics honorary.

The freshmen have been very active on the campus with Kay Almquist starting out last fall with the singing lead in the All-College Revue. Sue Fry was a member the fall semester of the social committee for the freshman class. Patricia McGillicuddy, a member of Fish Fan, swimming honorary, is one of the few girls ever to win a Fish Fan pin; Peggy Lou Stebbins, a sophomore, is a member, as is Aimee Russell, who as a freshman is also very active in Y.W.C.A. work. Margaret Gillespie is a member of Radio Guild. Dorothy Knudson, pledge, belongs to $\Gamma A X$, women's advertising honorary.

Due to the long winter there was a great deal of winter sport activities on the campus. Many enjoyed the winter sports but did not perform as ably as did Virginia Hill who won prizes for the best woman skater, and best woman skier on the Washington State campus.

Myra Francisco, a senior and a sociology major, is in Spokane for the first half of the semester doing practice social welfare work with seven other sociology majors of the department.

In January the $\Pi B \Phi$ house was used for the annual Sponsor's Military formal. Joan Wickersham is Honorary Colonel of this organization and other sponsors in the house are Virginia Rogers, Geraldine Dyer, and Ethel Klein.

March 22, 23, and 24 Washington State Spurs were hostesses to delegates of fourteen other Spur chapters throughout the United States. This is a national sophomore women's service honorary to which Virginia Hill and Hope Kimbrough belong. Hope was chairman of the formal banquet held at the Washington hotel which closed the convention.

Rushing rules were revised this year by Panhellenic. Registration for rushing with a small fee required is necessary for entering freshmen who wish to pledge. Formerly girls could be pledged at any time after formal rush, but the rules that are now in effect limit pledging to the week of formal rush in the fall, informal rush for two weeks after Thanksgiving vacation, formal rush at beginning of second semester, and informal rush for one week following spring vacation.

Founders' Day was celebrated with the $\Pi B \Phi$ chapter of the University of Idaho as guests at dinner. The chapter enjoyed meeting members of the Moscow chapter and renewing acquaintances with $\Pi B \Phi$ s that the girls met when the chapter visited Moscow in 1936 for Founders' Day.

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, 1915

This winter term, instead of being a usual gloomy three months, has had many interesting highlights. The campus started a new custom; that of electing an ideal girl to portray the rôle of "Miss Oregon." June Ritter, $\Pi B \Phi$, was elected by popular vote one of the leading five. The final girl is to be chosen by a jury of fifteen Oregon men.

The Senior and Military Balls were also highlights of the term. Alice Pauling was made Honorary Major of the Military Ball.

The "Dime Crawl," a tradition on the campus, was won by $\Pi B \Phi$. The "Crawl" is sponsored by A.W.S. and each man entering the house must pay one dime, which entitles him to dance the remainder of the evening.

Felker Morris is the new treasurer of A.W.S. and for the Women's Athletic Association, Betty Mushen, vice-president, and Betty Riesch, treasurer.

Adelyn Shields has taken an active part in University dramatics and has been in all the leading plays of the year.

Oregon A observed the anniversary of the Settlement School by a "mock" radio program. Each freshman portrayed leading characters of $\Pi B \Phi$ Settlement School.

According to Panhellenic rules second semester pledging is forbidden.

Oregon B has a very full house this term with every room filled to capacity, making a total of thirty-one girls in the house. Besides there are nine girls living in town. The new members were honored at a dinner given by the Corvallis Alumnae Club.

The fall term was climaxed with the report that our chapter had made a higher grade point than any sorority or fraternity on the Oregon State campus.

The dances given this term included the All School Formal, and the Junior Prom, formal dances for the entire student body, and the Mortar Board Ball, which was carried out in a valentine theme as it fell on February 13. The A.W.S. Carnival was also a highlight of this season's affairs.

Oregon State was very lucky this term to be able to secure the Portland Symphony Orchestra for a special concert. They appeared through the efforts of the Associated Women Students Association. Among the other artists brought to our campus was the Vienna Choir Boys.

The chapter had a very enjoyable exchange dinner

February 24, with the ΘX fraternity. The democratic spirit of Oregon State is carried out every term by various ways of making acquaintances, the exchange dinners being one.

Oregon B held its house dance March 6, by convening the idea of a nut house. Everyone attending dressed crazily, and the decorations were made to agree with the situation.

During winter term, Washington B was honored by having two girls as princesses at school formals. Lois Gelsinger was one of three in the royal court at the All-School Formal, and Meryl Shepard, at the Junior Prom. Frances Staver was appointed chairman of one of the committees for Women's Week-end, Meredith Wilber was on the committee for the Mortar Board Ball, Mary Helen Martin was on a committee for the Freshman Dance, Billy Reynolds was on a committee for Mortar Board Ball, and Women's Week-end, Wilma Ireland was on a committee for the All School Formal. Frieda Linder is now president of A.W.S., a member of Mortar Board, and $\Phi X \Theta$, Alice Reed is president of O N, and a member of $\Phi K \Phi$, Helen Nelson is a member of O N, and president of Mortar Board, Shirley Wheeler is also a member of Mortar Board and ΦZ . Janet Stephens has been prominent in dance recitals.

Pledge Day, January 16, 1937

INITIATED, October 23, 1936: Dorothy Ann Brookman, San Francisco; Jayne Pendexter Copp, Los Angeles; Jean Fox, San Francisco; Pauline Hunt, Palo Alto; Elsie Lillard, Topeka, Kan.; Anne Martineau, Los Angeles; Barbara Niven, Burlingame, January 24, 1937: Alice Hind, Manoaog, Pangasinan, P.I.

California A chapter has been very fortunate, because in the past two years it has succeeded in having its house remodeled and redecorated. The fraternities and sororities at Stanford have been housed generally in rambling, old-fashioned residences, and it has only been recently that a move toward remodeling them has begun. $\Pi B \Phi$ is pleased to have been able to be among the first; a year ago in the fall, the dark interiors of the house were completely removed, several rooms changed, and a handsome new wing constructed. This past autumn the finishing touches of interior decoration were added. Mirrors, tables, occasional chairs, venetian blinds—all combine to present a delightfully simple and tasteful interior.

The outstanding social event of the autumn quarter was a formal dance, given with a dual purpose: both as a housewarming, and in honor of the new initiates. It was a very great pleasure to be able to entertain in the house; previously the house had been too small for accommodating our friends, and this autumn formal was the first given at the house in many years. Initiation was held in the afternoon, and that evening the new initiates received as guests of honor; the dance was attended by a fine group of young people, and was a great success. The social schedule for autumn quarter also included, during the football season, several pre-game buffet luncheons. To these open houses all visiting friends and relatives are invited, and $\Pi B \Phi$ s visiting from other campuses are made especially welcome.

Panhellenic regulations on the Stanford campus are extremely strict, and the only rush functions permitted during the fall term were three teas. These are held on three successive days, and serve to acquaint the house with the entire freshman class. The teas were very successful, and were of great aid in the formation of adequate rushing lists. Panhellenic rules do permit, however, the rushing of transfers and upperclasswomen, and several luncheons and dinners were held to entertain them, before the formal rush period began.

It was an especial pleasure to California A to have its Province President, Mrs. Ann McDonald D'Aule, make the chapter a visit for a stay of two short days. Not only are the girls fond of her, but she brought much constructive advice, and many helpful suggestions and ideas. The chapter enjoyed another visit of extreme importance. The Grand President of $\Pi B \Phi$ made a visit to the Stanford campus during the latter part of March. The chapter eagerly anticipated her arrival, and were very pleased to have been thus honored.

The main chapter activity of winter quarter at Stanford is of course Formal Rush Week. Rushing restrictions have become increasingly stricter, and at the same time, rushing functions have necessarily become more simple, both in the number of dates, and also in the lack of elaboration in the entertainment itself. This year's rushing was very successful.

Immediately after pledging, an initiation ceremony was held for Alice Hind. Katherine La Gasa left school to return to her home in Tacoma, Washington, on the same day, and since that time Patricia Rehm, pledge, of Los Angeles, has withdrawn from school because of poor health. California A chapter hopes to be able to welcome them both back in the spring.

One of the new pledges recently was hostess to the entire chapter, at her residence in San Francisco. There was tea-dancing at the Hotel Sir Francis Drake, and tea was served in her parents' suite. There has been one other recent social event: a tea was held at the house in honor of the new pledges, their mothers, and their friends. The $\Pi B \Phi$ s of both California A and California B always cooperate to make Founders' Day extremely successful. The two chapters met this year and participated in a program in honor of our beloved Founders. This was extremely pleasant, too, because it afforded an excellent opportunity for contact between the sister chapters.

GRADUATED, May, 1937: Peggy Edwards, A.B., Alice Martin, A.B., Marv Nye, A.B., Barbara Vincent, A.B., Leone Maguire, A.B.

The initiation ceremony was held on February 15 in the chapter house with the banquet following at the Women's Athletic Club in Oakland. The latter was planned and carried out by the alumnae and was most enjoyable. There were talks given by representatives of each class and by members of the alumnae which were very inspiring and helpful. The alumnae sang some songs and the chapter sang three new $\Pi B \Phi$ songs which have been learned quite recently. The alumnae started a new precedent which is really very lovely and greatly appreciated by the girls. A few weeks before initiation each member was asked to vote secretly for the girl in the chapter who had meant the most to the house as a $\Pi B \Phi$. Mary Nye, the president, was elected as the most outstanding member, and at the initiation banquet was presented by the alumnae with a very dainty white compact on the cover of which was the $\Pi B \Phi$ crest. Scholarship pins were presented to Joan vonSchmidt, who had the highest grades in the house, Peggy Moorhead, who had the highest grades in the pledge class, and Betty Jane Hoffman, who had made the greatest improvement over her last semester's marks.

This semester Barbara Foley, a $\Pi B \Phi$ from Utah A, transferred to the University of California, and is now living in the house. She has many interesting things to tell us of the different customs of Utah A and is teaching us several new songs.

Instead of the usual rummage sale at this time of the year, the Mothers' Club in conjunction with the alumnae presented a program on March 15, at the International House, which is only a block from the chapter house. The program included some readings by Mrs. Gerrity, and selections on the harp by Anne Everingham, one of the new initiates who has recently been receiving much public attention for her very outstanding musical talent. The date of this program was especially opportune, as it came during the time of Miss Onken's visit to California B.

Due to many conflicting dates at the beginning of the semester, the open house for the new pledges was delayed until March 3.

A recent change in Panhellenic ruling has made it necessary for mid-semester rush functions to be over at seven o'clock, so the dinners are now usually buffet style, starting at five o'clock with dancing and cards following the supper.

Margaret Ann Russell has received outstanding honors this semester. She made the varsity debating team of the University, and although only a sophomore, has received a junior appointment to the Thalian Players' Group on the campus.

Miss Onken visited the chapter March 14-16; the spring formal dance was held April 16; the Fathers' dinner April 11; and Founders' Day on April 28.

The most important event of the spring semester to California Γ was the visit of Miss Amy B. Onken, Grand President, from March 10 to 12. A formal dinner was held in her honor at the chapter house on March 10. A tea in the Town and Gown Foyer was given by the alumnae club honoring Miss Onken.

The Settlement School Benefit sponsored by the various alumnae clubs in Southern California was held in the Biltmore Bowl on February 13. Several members from the chapter modeled new spring clothes. The members of California Γ also helped by selling tickets, ushering, serving, and giving prizes.

The commemoration of Founders' Day was held in Los Angeles on April 25. A luncheon at the Victor Hugo was followed by a suitable program carrying out the theme. The Los Angeles Alumnae Club served as hostess for the event.

The national A.W.S. held a convention on this campus during April at which representatives from all the states were present. Elizabeth Dean served as secretary of the national A.W.S. and was prominent in making arrangements for this successful event.

Rush week was observed early in February at the beginning of the spring semester. Panhellenic council inaugurated some new rushing rules. All corsages for rushees were banned. Preference dinner was made binding on the house, but was not made binding on the rushee. Pledging took place on February 27. Formal presentation of the eight new pledges took place on March 9 at a tea. The entire student body was invited to this affair.

The chapter was honored in having three members elected to $\Phi B K$. Those receiving this honor were Patricia Dean, Willimonia Montague, and Jean Snodgrass. Five members were also elected to $\Phi K \Phi$, another national honorary scholastic fraternity. Those earning this distinction were Patricia Dean, Elizabeth Dean, Pauline Berg, Willimonia Montague, and Jean Snodgrass. Lucy Ann MacLean has served as vice-president of the A.S.U.S.C. during the past year. Lucy Ann, Pauline Berg, Mary Moore, and Elizabeth Dean were all prominent members of Amazons, honorary service organization. Due to her scholarship, activities, beauty, and personality, Jane Hereford was elected a Four Star Co-ed.

U.C.L.A. opened the spring semester with the completion of the new administration building which adds much to the campus. At the present time the Greek Theater is nearing completion. The students are looking forward to a more beautiful campus in the future.

On February 13, the chapter assisted the Los Angeles Alumnae Club with the annual Settlement School Benefit at the Biltmore Bowl. Girls from the chapter modeled in the fashion show, while others assisted in ushering.

California Δ closed the rushing season with the pledging of two girls. On Wednesday, following pledging, the new pledges were presented to the campus in the annual open house always held after rush week.

Members taking part in the formation of A I P, honorary flying fraternity, were Frances Wolfe and Barbara Troster. Frances is learning to fly and she hopes to get her pilot's license soon.

The chapter has been very fortunate in being able to entertain the Grand President, Amy B. Onken, March 7 and 8. She was the guest of honor at the initiation banquet.

The local Panhellenic chapter, after extensive study, has revised the rushing rules. Formal rush week in the fall will now be the week preceding registration. All women's fraternities are hoping for a more systematic fall rush week.

Rushing on the Nevada campus was very simple this semester. No special dates were given each sorority and a limit of one week was placed on the rushing season. The season was terminated with a cooky-shine in honor of the new pledge.

Jessie McClure, '37, was the top woman on the honor roll for last semester with an average of 1.1, and Betty McCuiston, A.W.S. president, was mentioned in Who's Who in American Colleges recently.

A slumber party and cooky-shine was held at the chapter house on March 6.

The annual $\Pi B \Phi$ fashion show was given at the Hotel Reverside on March 13. Several actives and alumnae acted as models. A portion of the proceeds from this affair are annually sent to the Settlement School.

The chapter was honored by a very inspirational visit from our Grand President, Amy B. Onken, on March 16.

The usual impressive ceremony and banquet was held in observation of Founders' Day.

Members of the various other sororities of the campus have been entertained at the chapter house with teas and card parties.

Arizona A was honored by a visit from Miss Amy Burnham Onken from March 2 to 4. On the afternoon of March 3 Miss Onken conducted initiation for sixteen pledges who made their grades. The chapter considered the witnessing of initiation conducted by Miss Onken a great privilege. The usual banquet followed initiation services, and was held at the Pioneer Hotel. Esther Frost was awarded the loving cup for the best all-round pledge. Virginia Dugal the recognition arrow for the greatest number of activity points, Margaret Hudson receiving honorable mention. In Miss Onken's honor, the chapter entertained with a tea at which time she was introduced to friends of the chapter. Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, past Grand Vice-President of $\Delta \Gamma$, was a guest.

Pat Confer and Kathleen Wager have been pledged to A E, business honorary, and Elizabeth Mellen to A P T, art honorary. Betty and Caroline Strickler were pledged to K O Φ , national home economics honorary. Betty Strickler was junior honor student, and Caroline Strickler, sophomore honor student in home economics. Jean Metcalf was awarded the semester scholarship by the Tucson Woman's Club. Lota Alice Clapp, Virginia Narr, and Margaret Hudson made the varsity basketball team. Betty Mercer, Virginia Narr, Lota Alice Clapp, and Roberta Finnical made the bowling club. Dorothy Crider had the lead in the University play, "The Night of January 16," and Betty Burkhardt took part.

The chapter entertained with a formal Valentine's Dance at the Santa Rita Hotel the evening of February 13. The programs, which were heart-shaped, were made of Arizona copper.

The chapter recently voted to edit a news sheet each spring, containing chapter news and personal notes, to be sent to each of its alumnae.

On March 13 the Students Cooperative Union was opened in the Woman's Building. It provides recreational entertainment for the students. Contributions for its furnishing were made by all houses on the campus. A rather unique feature of the new Union is a bowling alley.

An April 27 the chapter celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at the Pioneer Hotel. The Candle-lighting ceremony was held at the end of the evening.

Formal rushing was very successful this year. Teas and suppers were given the first part of the week, ending with the Arrow Banquet. A cooky-shine followed the pledging of fourteen girls.

Plans for a new \$200,000 girls' dormitory were formulated last quarter. It is hoped that it will be ready for the opening of school next year, as it will be a valuable asset to the University. The $\Delta \Gamma$ sorority started construction on a new house. It will be finished by the end of this year.

Utah A feels that the most delightful occasion of the year was the visit of Miss Onken. The entire chapter benefited greatly from her visit and felt inspired to carry on its activities with renewed interest.

Theresa Hagen was taken into $\Phi K \Phi$. Betty Meagher, Shirley Gardiner, and Mary Catherine Howell were initiated into B Δ M, honorary musical society.

ALUMNAE CLUB LETTERS

Edited by LOTT A JOHNSON WEIR, Illinois Z

We are happy to welcome into the alumnae club family new clubs at Halifax, Nova Scotia; Ogden, Utah; Vermillion, South Dakota; Texarkana, Texas; and Sacramento, California. During the last year there has been a gain of about four hundred paid alumnae dues.

ALPHA PROVINCE

BOSTON CLUB

The spring meeting of the Boston Club took the form of a dessert-bridge. The Metropolitan group were hostesses at the bridge. The active girls from Massachusetts A put on a spring fashion show. The proceeds of the bridge went toward our Settlement School fund.

The active chapter were our guests for Founders' Day luncheon. Gertrude Stewart directed a play as part of the program for that meeting. The North-Boston group was in charge of this luncheon. They are noted for their lovely table decorations on previous luncheons and the honor was again theirs this year.

DOROTHY E. HEY

BUFFALO CLUB

The Buffalo Alumnae Club has been holding regular monthly meetings, all luncheons except for a very successful Christmas dinner party in charge of Frank Zingerle.

The club has sold a large quantity of Settlement School products under the direction of Ethel Volgenau and has augmented this fund by the continued sale of paper products. We are looking forward to a particularly enjoyable Founders' Day celebration and have several new members to take part.

The club continues to devote a portion of each meeting to discussion of various aspects of the Fraternity. Business meetings are followed by bridge.

ALICE K. BUSCH

BURLINGTON CLUB

The Burlington Alumnae Club has had an active year and several successful meetings. Of these meetings among the most interesting were the Christmas meeting when the group was entertained at a Christmas party by the actives; the January meeting at which Mrs. Scott, Alpha Province Vice-President, spoke on the highlights of Convention, and the March meeting when the alumnae entertained the Mothers' Club with an interesting program of songs, readings, and stunts.

Besides the regular meetings, other activities carried on by the club include the annual Settlement School Sale and tea which was very successfully held in November; a rummage sale in October at which a satisfactory sum was raised. A card party was held March 16 for the benefit of the House Fund.

DORIS S. WEBSTER

LONDON CLUB

The February meeting of the London Alumnae Club was a particularly interesting one. Miss Helen Berdan, Associate Professor of Zoology, spoke informally about her trip to Europe last summer and of her very interesting experiences. It was decided at the meeting to begin a fund for the purpose of building our own chapter house on the campus in the not too distant future. Arrangements were made to have a purely business meeting in March and a meeting devoted to the Settlement School in April.

Rushing was held during the week of February 22 and many of the alumnae were asked to be present at the parties. The week concluded with a big party at the house, carried out as a picnic.

The annual dance was held on March 13 at the London Hunt and Country Club and was a great success. Many alumnae returned and made it an opportunity for renewing old acquaintances. Jean Hiller represented Ontario A.

Plans are being made for the alumnae club to entertain the graduating members at dinner in May. This has been done for several years and has become one of the most outstanding events of the year.

HILDA INGRAM

NEW YORK CLUB

The Deb. group of the New York Alumnae Club was in charge of the January cooky-shine held in the Panhellenic rooms at Beekman Tower.

The February meeting, for Pi Phi and their friends, was also held at Beekman Tower. Judge Jerry B. Sullivan, Judge of United States Customs Court and husband of Martha C. Groves, Iowa A, talked about "Our Constitution—Does it meet our present needs?" This meeting came at a most opportune time—the day after President Roosevelt made his recommendations for changes in our present court system. Tea was served after Judge Sullivan's talk.

The March election meeting is to be held at Beekman Tower. Martha McGrew, District of Columbia A and assistant to the president of the National Broadcasting Company, is to speak on broadcasting.

April will bring the annual business meeting and installation of officers and the Founders' Day luncheon.

LYDIA LUEDER DARLING

ROCHESTER CLUB

The Rochester Club has carried on the same projects this year as last. The regular meetings have been well attended. The bridge group is still being enjoyed every two weeks with an average attendance of twelve. Dessert is served and the proceeds are used for the Settlement School.

The book club has also continued this year with eighteen members attending regularly. In October a very successful evening bridge party was held at which Settlement School articles were displayed for sale. Cook books were also sold. This took the place of the silver tea which we have held in previous years.

Our March meeting was a luncheon at Jane Heston's home. We also enjoyed the Panhellenic dinner which was held in April.

FLORENCE C. MARSHALL

SYRACUSE CLUB

Syracuse Club has enjoyed four more inspiring meetings since last we wrote: two day and two evening meetings.

On Friday evening, January 8, Della Black opened her home to fifty members, who enjoyed a program by Mr. Guy Cowan, well known ceramist. Mr. Cowan gave an interesting talk and showed samples of his art.

Gertrude Brooks was hostess for a day meeting, January 27, and Laura Merry also entertained the club. Following our usual custom, the day meetings are devoted to business and the evening ones to interesting speakers.

Marjorie Kirk, our globe-trotting member, entertained us for a dinner meeting on February 26, and gave us an illustrated talk on her recent trip to China, Japan, and the Philippines. Her movies were partly in color, and, combined with the sidelights she gave us of the various incidents of her four-months trip, left all members with a delightful sense of having spent a fascinating evening. Marjorie's pictures included natural color movies of the famous children's festival in Japan; scenes of the Great Wall of China; photographs of the natives of Manchukuo and Manila; and countless other interesting subjects.

At that meeting, we were pleased to welcome Jean Switzer from Pulaski; Marie Thompson Kammerer from Schenectady; and Ruby Boyd from Minoa; Elizabeth Broad from Marcellus; Lydia Gooding from Pennsylvania P.; Mildred Carver, and Isabelle Graham from Gouverneur.

On February 24, the Syracuse Club staged its second money-raising event, a card party at the Fro-Joy Auditorium, one of the pleasantest occasions we have ever enjoyed. Elizabeth Jordan was again chairman and managed the affair with her customary efficiency.

We are making plans for Founders' Day.

CHARLOTTE N. CHAFFEE

TORONTO CLUB

The Toronto Alumnae Club has had a most successful year, with meetings being held, when possible, on the first Tuesday of every month. The average attendance has been around forty.

We have tried to plan the meetings with a view to giving a diversity of interest, of having either a speaker, bridge, or play at each meeting. This plan, we feel, has been most successful.

The alumnae club gave the active chapter a rushing party in January. This party was held at Mary McLean's home and took the form of a cabaret. There were various stunts and a fashion show, which added interest to the evening.

The February meeting was held at Mrs. Weldon's home. This group put on a Settlement School play which was highly amusing. We enjoyed our initiation banquet, which was held at the Granite Club on March 1.

We had a guest speaker at our March meeting and in April our Founders' Day party, which is usually held in Hamilton. This has always been a splendid party and we hope that it will be better than ever this year. In May, we are having our annual meeting and election of officers and the Seniors' Party in June.

HELEN M. BARKER

WESTCHESTER CLUB

During the fall and winter seasons, the Westchester Alumnae Club has had a very active time, enjoying a series of social and money-raising projects.

At the monthly dessert bridge club the attendance has been excellent, enabling us to add each time to our Settlement School Fund by means of the quarter contributions from each player. The fine weather has, no doubt, been conducive to high attendance at these and all our other meetings, and we hope it may continue adding to our attendance and, consequently, swelling our project fund. The next meeting of the bridge club is to be held at the Contemporary Club in White Plains on March 8.

The book group which was organized this fall under the competent leadership of Mrs. Peter C. Peilly has also enjoyed a high attendance. The informality of the group discussions has been enjoyed by and of profit to all the members. The lead for the discussions at each meeting is a set of questions based on the current book and sent out by the leader to each member who has, in the interim, been reading the book chosen at the last meeting. The next meeting of the book group will be held on March 22 at Mrs. Bernard E. Gray's home in Scarsdale.

The Constitution meeting was held March 2 at the home of our President, Mrs. James L. Fri. At this meeting several committees and delegates were chosen.

Mrs. Randolph H. Guthrie was chosen as the delegate to the Alpha Province Conference to be held at Burlington, Vermont, April 1 to 3. Mrs. G. B. Sprick is alternate.

Mrs. Oliver F. Gang was appointed chairman of the committee for our bridge which is to be in May for the benefit of the Settlement School.

Mrs. S. Murray Jones, the Settlement School chairman, who brings the Arrow Craft products to each meeting, thereby enhancing her sales, was present at this business meeting. Her pleasing report was to the effect that the amount of twenty-three dollars and fifty cents was available from the profit on the sales of these products plus a personal donation of fifteen dollars from Mrs. S. Murray Jones, making the sum total of thirty-eight dollars and fifty cents, which amount was to be sent to the Province Vice-President.

The last business item of the meeting was the voting of the amount of ten dollars to be sent to the II B Φ Endowment Fund.

The club hopes to have a luncheon in honor of Miss Mildred Hood, Province President, during her contemplated visit to New York in the month of April. Plans for this luncheon are, however, as yet in the embryonic stage.

Following the business of the meeting, a delicious tea was served by the hostess in her attractively decorated dining room.

GAIL PUTNAM WELLS

BETA PROVINCE

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

The club commemorated the founding of the Settlement School by meeting with the Pennsylvania B chapter and patronesses after a brief business meeting. The occasion was of especial interest because of the presence of the Province Vice-President, Mrs. Johnson, who gave us enlightening information about the alumnae clubs in general. The active chapter has an excellent program consisting of a Settlement School play with puppets as the characters, and singing by a group of girls.

For the future we plan a benefit card party, the proceeds to be turned over to the Settlement School. The alumnae club will also entertain the active chapter sometime this spring.

ELLEN K. JOHNSON

CINCINNATI CLUB

The Cincinnati Alumnae Club is looking forward to the visit of Margaret Tasher Smith, Publicity Manager of the Endowment Fund Drive, in March. One of our meetings for that month has been changed so that all of the members may attend a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Smith.

The benefit bridge party which was to have been held in January was postponed to February 27 due to the flood. At the luncheon preceding the bridge there was a broadcast under the sponsorship of the merchants who served the luncheon. Our president and several others were asked to speak. The income from this party will make it possible for the club to send another donation to the Settlement School. Our first donation of fifty dollars was sent before Christmas.

The two main activities of the end of this year are a rummage sale to be held in May and the Founders' Day luncheon.

This year is proving to be a successful one in our club. We have twenty-three paid members. Instead of the usual one luncheon meeting in each month which we have had in former years, we decided to have two meetings, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. We find this is more convenient for all the girls who have various occupations.

MRS. J. RUSSELL ERRETT

CLEVELAND CLUB

At the January meeting the actives and pledges who were home during the holidays were honored with a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harold N. Cole in Shaker Heights. About seventy attended including thirty actives. The program consisting of a style show, harp music, and short talks by the active girls from seven colleges was most interesting.

For the February meeting the program committee decided to have a party and include the husbands. A turkey dinner followed by dancing and bridge was given at the College Club on February 6. In the interim between dinner and dancing Mrs. Waters presented a very clever "Believe it or Not" stunt. Some extremely amusing experiences from our annual rummage sales were related by Mr. Kewley, Mr. Burrows, and Mr. Cook.

A Recommendations Committee was appointed and held its first meeting in January. A realization of the problems which, in the past, have confronted active chapters due to a lack of information from alumnae regarding desirable II B Φ material, has prompted this committee to proceed to the immediate formation of plans. To this end, information concerning the graduates of preparatory schools in Cleveland is being assembled and will be available this spring.

HARRISBURG-CARLISLE CLUB

The Harrisburg-Carlisle Alumnae Club celebrated Christmas with a cafeteria, covered-dish supper. Each member brought her favorite dish which was placed on a long table. She then purchased her dinner in regular cafeteria style, paying several cents for each portion. The proceeds were used for the Settlement School contribution. Members brought gifts which were sent to Gatlinburg to cheer sick children throughout the year.

A very successful Settlement School benefit bridge was held January 30. The auditorium of Pomeroy's Department Store was borrowed for the occasion. Arrow Craft goods and candy, cake, and nuts were for sale.

In order that the alumnae club can keep in closer touch with the nearest active chapter, the March meeting was held in the Pennsylvania I fraternity rooms in Carlisle. The club is planning to give the chapter a gift soon.

Founders' Day was celebrated by the members of Pennsylvania I and the Harrisburg-Carlisle Alumnae Club at the Old Stone House Tea Room, near Mechanicsburg, on Saturday, April 24. Beta Province Vice-President, Candace Johnson (Mrs. H. C.) was guest of honor.

EMMA M. SHAWFIELD

SOUTH HILLS CLUB

Our club has been concentrating on raising money for the Settlement School and helping local humanitarian institutions. One of the members raised her contribution by having a fortune teller come to the meeting. Half of the fee charged for the fortune telling was contributed to the Settlement School. Following the club business of the March meeting the hostess is having a benefit card party to raise her contribution for the School.

Bertha Schmid, one of our members and a popular Pittsburgh radio soprano, arranged a musical program for the Home for the Aged, but the program had to be postponed because of the flu epidemic.

The Founders' Day luncheon is planned for April 17, and the members are hoping to have this the largest celebration since the organization of the club. The May meeting is to be devoted to a report of the Settlement School and election of officers. The last meeting of the year in June is to be a picnic for the members and their families.

A miscellaneous shower was held last month for Ferne Wein who is to be married in the near future.

The club is very proud of Sue Luft, the magazine chairman, for her sale of 20 magazine subscriptions.

Mary Means Peters is welcomed as a new member.

ALICE SIMMONDS THOMPSON

GAMMA PROVINCE

BALTIMORE CLUB

Our club has enjoyed four interesting meetings so far this year. One on the convention; another on the Settlement School, including an Arrow Craft display; and two featuring travel-talks by members. The remaining three on the program will be those at which we celebrate Founders' Day, review the Constitution, and enjoy our annual picnic at Mrs. Tottle's. The picnic is especially enjoyable for Mrs. Tottle always includes 12 kiddies who delight in a swim in her beautiful pool.

Our club is very much alive this year. So far we have five charming new members, and to date, thirty-one paid members. We are more interested than ever in our local chapter at Goucher which is developing by leaps and bounds as the year progresses.

We have been concerned over one of our members, Jane Coffin, who has been very ill. However she is recovering satisfactorily now at Mt. Wilson Sanitarium.

CATHARINE W. DONNELLY

RICHMOND CLUB

The Richmond Alumnae Club is having a most interesting winter. Our membership has increased this year and we are having an usually good attendance at our meetings.

January found us at the home of Marian Lecky Stone, where a book review was given by Caroline Lutz. In February a bridge party was held at the home of Mary Williams.

In March we are entertaining a group of our Panhellenic friends at a tea to be given at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts.

Founders' Day will be celebrated by our usual dinner at the Commonwealth Club, at which time we shall hear reports from the Gamma Province Convention.

DELTA PROVINCE

ANN ARBOR CLUB

The January meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Jamison and the time was occupied with business following luncheon. Another meeting which was in part business and in part social was in March. Also, in March we attended the chapter initiation ceremony, which was followed by the initiation banquet, and as always proved to be an enjoyable reunion of active and alumnae members of Michigan B.

This year we will celebrate Founders' Day in Indianapolis with other groups of Delta Province at the Interim Delta Province Convention, being organized by that club.

The final business meeting of the year will be the Michigan B Association meeting in May, in which both active and alumnae members join at the chapter house.

The year will close with the annual party for the mothers of the active girls who come to Ann Arbor in May for Mothers' Day week-end.

We are happy to say that the year has been a very enjoyable and a profitable one for the club.

DOROTHY B. PALMER

WASHINGTON CLUB

Our last meeting of the year will find us at the usual place—a supper party at the State Industrial Farm for Women with Elizabeth Kates as our hostess.

ESTHER LEDNUM WASH

The Washington Alumnae Club started the year with a business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. John E. Larson. Mrs. George C. Ober was also a hostess during January at a well-attended and delightful tea given by the afternoon group of Washington Pi Phi.

In February we all went back to school again as we gathered at the apartment of District of Columbia A before going on a tour of inspection of George Washington University. The center of interest was the splendid dormitory for girls which was successfully opened this year. Entertainment for the evening was provided by the pledges of District of Columbia A. Those of us who missed their "goat show" were delighted at the opportunity to see the new talent of which there seems to be a generous supply.

The Panhellenic luncheon was held at the Mayflower Hotel during February. Mrs. Eugene Meyer, wife of the editor of one of our morning newspapers, used the need for a stronger Civil Service as a subject for her talk. Judging from the crowd this annual affair has become a pleasant habit with many Washington fraternity women.

Our program for the rest of the year includes a business meeting and election of officers in March at the home of Mrs. W. Franklin Stickle, a banquet for Founders' Day, and a supper meeting in May at the home of Mrs. Wilson Compton. Plans for another tea are also being made.

BERYLE E. PLEDGER

DETROIT CLUB

On February 5 the Detroit Club held a successful subscription bridge party, the proceeds of which were added to our Settlement School contribution. This affair was held in the Free Press Tower with Ruth Mallory Carpenter in charge.

It was a pleasure and an honor to have Dr. Edna Noble White, Illinois Z, head of the Merrill Palmer School, address us at the February tea. This school, at which the tea was held, is well known for its work in the field of education for the pre-school child and Dr. White's talk outlined its history and growth.

Our next definitely scheduled meeting was a cooky-shine in April.

MARY THOMPSON BAUMANN

FORT WAYNE CLUB

Fort Wayne Club has had a successful and enjoyable year. We have had the pleasure of increasing our membership considerably but also have been unfortunate in having several members move from Fort Wayne. Within the past months the treasury fund has been somewhat increased as a result of a rummage sale and a tea at the Art School where Settlement School goods and articles were displayed and sold. Our Christmas breakfast in honor of actives home from school proved to be a delightful affair. Fort Wayne Club enjoyed Founders' Day dinner meeting which was held the evening of April 11 in honor of II B Φ 's Seventieth Birthday.

PEGGY PERRINE

INDIANAPOLIS CLUB

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club is having an enjoyable and successful year. Monthly meetings have been held either at the Indiana Γ chapter home or at the homes of club members. Programs have been varied, guest speakers representing civic, literary, musical, artistic, and social fields. The present membership of ninety-three is the largest enrollment since the year 1929.

The club was fortunate in having Emma Harper Turner as its guest at the Settlement School anniversary meeting in February. Miss Turner gave an interesting sketch of the founding of the Settlement School.

The second guest meeting of the year was held at the Indiana Γ chapter home the evening of March 12 at which time the club had Margaret Tasher Smith (Mrs. James B.), publicity manager for the Endowment Drive, as its guest.

The Indianapolis Club has sponsored a number of successful projects, the two yielding the greatest financial returns being the bridge tournament and the sale of magazine subscriptions. Due to the fact that many members have given clothing to flood refugees, the annual spring rummage sale has been postponed until April.

Invitations have been issued and plans perfected for the Delta Province Conference to be held in Indianapolis Friday and Saturday of the Founders' Day luncheon week. The club trusts that every alumnae club and active chapter concerned will be able to send delegates. It anticipates a conference of mutual profit and interest.

KATHERINE BOOK

LAFAYETTE CLUB

The February meeting of the Lafayette Club was devoted to helping the II B Φ Mothers' Club with their annual Valentine benefit bridge party, the proceeds of which will be used for a piano for the active chapter.

The March meeting was held at the home of Miss Bernice Baugh on Hartford Street. A six thirty dinner was served with Saint Patrick's decorations. There were twenty members present.

A book written by a II B Φ author was reviewed by Mrs. Harold Huffman.

ELIZABETH PATTERSON

SOUTHWESTERN INDIANA CLUB

Due to flood conditions in Evansville, the Southwestern Indiana Alumnae Club was unable to have a meeting in February.

The Evansville Pi Phis were entertained at Boonville in December. We were glad to see Mrs. J. C. Glackman from Rockport, Indiana, at this meeting. She had been very ill.

A holiday luncheon at the May Fair Tea Room was attended by sixteen members.

The club has sold about seventy dollars worth of Settlement School products so far. These articles were on display at each meeting.

The March meeting consisted of a buffet supper and a II Φ ARROW review.

RAGENE RALPHY WILLIAMS

TERRE HAUTE CLUB

The Terre Haute Club began its fall activities with a luncheon at the Elks' Town Club. This meeting was well attended and we were enthusiastic in making our plans for the year, led by Eleanor Behrman (Mrs. Wm. W.), our very capable president. Unfortunately several of our members have moved to other cities but we have carried out our program even though handicapped by a small membership.

We have held monthly meetings at the homes of members, enjoying a cooperative luncheon, a cooky-shine, and a bingo party. The January meeting was cancelled due to an epidemic of flu and to the excitement of flood refugees in our midst. Cooperative luncheons have been so successful that we held another one in March at the home of Helen Aikman (Mrs. Homer B.) in Edgewood Grove. The hostess furnishes salad and coffee and the others bring sandwiches and cookies. We plan to entertain our husbands with a dinner in April and to be well represented at the State Luncheon this spring.

As our Settlement School project we are selling the cook books published by the Los Angeles Club and find them easy to sell. The Los Angeles Club is to be congratulated upon its excellent cook book.

We are fortunate in having members in our club from Clinton and Newport and we are happy to welcome any Pi Phis from nearby towns.

GRACE JAMES GERRISH

EPSILON PROVINCE

COLUMBIA, MO., CLUB

The Columbia Alumnae Club is having a very fine year under the leadership of Miss Helen Hungerford. Our plan for establishing a closer relationship between the club and Missouri A chapter is proving very worthwhile. Each member has "adopted" a pledge of the chapter, and has entertained her in some way during the year. We expect to do this each year and at the end of four years, each one of us should know four girls rather well. The pledges have responded splendidly and the members of the club are enjoying it a lot.

At our February meeting Miss Evelyn Uhl Wright, Assistant in Dramatic Arts at Stephens College, read the play "Old Maid." Our Province President, Mrs. Donald Lyons, was the guest of honor at the March meeting. Her visits are a source of great inspiration to us and give us a greater confidence in our ability to carry out our small part in the wonderful organization of II B Φ .

The annual Founders' Day banquet was held with the active chapter. A scholarship award to the highest ranking member of Missouri A was presented at the banquet.

RUTH JONES SCURLOCK

KANSAS CITY CLUB

The Kansas City Alumnae Club has had very enjoyable winter meetings. We have had our meetings alternately in the afternoon and evening so that all may attend. We are very proud of the fact that this year we have one hundred active members.

On February 14 Mrs. Webster, assistant to the Grand President, was in Kansas City and was guest of honor at a tea given by the board.

At the March meeting we had as our guests the mothers of active Pi Phis in the nearby chapters. Mrs. Clyde Porter, who is an alumna and also a II Φ mother, gave a most interesting talk on "Chaney Walk."

We planned a large Founders' Day banquet on April 24. The active chapters from Missouri University, Kansas University, Nebraska University, and Kansas State Agricultural College as well as nine alumnae chapters in the surrounding territory were invited to join us in celebrating Founders' Day here. Mrs. Webster was our guest of honor.

We are also anticipating a great deal of fun at the Carnival we are planning for later in the spring.

MARION DAVIS

LITTLE PIGEON CLUB

One source of income for the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club has been a monthly series of benefit bridge parties. These, along with the benefit movie, have supplied funds for our national projects, and the aid given the P.T.A. in financing the hot lunches for the Settlement School children.

In the near future the members hope to start a recreation library of folk games, songs, and stories for the teachers.

Regular monthly meetings are held with two members as hostesses.

PAULINE WHALING HUFF

ST. LOUIS CLUB

The St. Louis Alumnae Club has had two excellent meetings so far this year. Our program committee has plans for the rest of our meetings. In January we had a book review which was much enjoyed.

At our February meeting we had as our guest the Epsilon Province Vice-President, Mrs. Donald E. Lyons of Kansas City. Mrs. Lyons met with the Board at a luncheon and we had a very helpful and instructive meeting with her afterwards. Later that day at the alumnae club meeting, Mrs. Lyons spoke interestingly about her work in the Province.

One of the members of the alumnae club, Mrs. Charles Manassa, showed us several reels of pictures which she and her husband had taken in the Orient last winter. In addition to this unusual pleasure Mrs. Manassa displayed dolls and native costumes collected on the trip.

We had a discussion of hand wrought jewelry by Miss Ruth Barry, of Washington University, at the March meeting. The plans for the Founders' Day banquet were completed at the next meeting.

RACHEL DAVIS CAMPBELL

ZETA PROVINCE

DE LAND CLUB

In January, the De Land Club enjoyed a cooky-shine in the beautiful lounge of the Public Service Building. We had a good attendance and everyone had a lovely time. The last of January we gave our annual bridge party at the College Arms Hotel. It was one of the outstanding events of the social season. The club is also selling $\Pi \Phi$ cook books in order to make money for the endowment and loan funds.

Margaret Moore, our president, was hostess in February. Mrs. Acree entertained in March, when we made plans for future parties with the active chapter at Stetson. We celebrated Founders' Day with the Florida A chapter.

ELIZABETH STOVER

DAYTONA BEACH CLUB

The Daytona Beach Alumnae Club has added several new members in the last year and now numbers 15. Though we are still small as alumnae clubs go, we feel that we are accomplishing more each year. The average attendance at our monthly supper meetings has been exceptionally good.

One of the outstanding features of this season was the Christmas tea held at the home of Mrs. Curtis Gardiner to which active members and their mothers were invited and a selected number of rushees. The wine and silver blue motif was carried out in all the decorations.

We received a shipment of Arrow Craft products just before Christmas and have been encouragingly successful in their sale.

The $\Pi \Phi$ cook books also were very popular and a number have been sold.

We were very happy to be able to contribute $10 recently to the Settlement School which was a decided improvement over previous years.

RUTH M. CANN

JACKSONVILLE CLUB

The February meeting of the Jacksonville Club was held at a downtown hotel, where the remaining monthly meetings for this year will take place. We have changed our evening meetings to luncheons, with hope of better attendance.

The State Convention was held in Tampa, April 24 and 25. Mrs. L. J. Larzelere, of our club, was Vice-President of the Convention. Jacksonville was represented. Mrs. D. R. Paige, Zeta Province Vice-President, attended. We also hope to have present at least one National Officer. We regret that Miss Onken was unable to be with us. She was attending the Theta Province Convention at that time.

We have contributed to the Settlement School, Loan Fund, and Endowment Fund for 1937. Mrs. Frank LeGate, Jr., had charge of the Settlement School program at our last meeting.

We had our regular meeting the third Saturday in March, and celebrated Founders' Day in April.

We are planning to help the actives with rushing during the summer months. Mrs. Virgil Perry is chairman of the club rushing committee.

INEZ GRUMBLES CHRISTIE

ETA PROVINCE

BELOIT CLUB

The Beloit $\Pi \Phi$ is anticipating attending the Eta Province Convention that is to be held in Madison next month. The group is anxious to have a 100 per cent representation at this gathering.

LAKELAND CLUB

The Lakeland Alumnae Club held its January meeting at the cozy little apartment of Grace Haldeman and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

For our February meeting we journeyed to Winter Haven to meet with Grace Porter, where Mrs. Markley gave a very interesting talk on the Settlement School.

We are glad to welcome Mary Sanderson of Kissimmee, who is teaching in Winter Haven, as a member of our club.

We read with much interest the monthly letters from Mrs. Paige, which are so newsy and helpful. We hope that she will find time to visit with us again soon.

$\Pi \Phi$ of 1950, please take notice, for we have two prospects for you; Kathleen Battle and Lillian Peek both have adorable new daughters.

Our State Convention is to be held in Tampa April 24 and 25, and we are expecting a large attendance.

MILDRED CONIBEAR

ORLANDO CLUB

In October the Orlando Club was most fortunate in having Miss Onken as a guest of honor at the regular monthly supper meeting. The fact that she was a source of great inspiration is evidenced by what has been accomplished since that time. We all hope the visit may be repeated next year.

November found us busily preparing for the annual Christmas dance for the benefit of Settlement School with Rose Evans as chairman. Mrs. Anna Smith brought forth a brilliant idea for raising funds which the club adopted followed by the appointment of Mrs. Smith as chairman of the Finance Committee.

In December much of this preparation culminated in the following events:

December 15, the club entertained the Florida Γ s and their rushees at a Christmas party at the charming home of Mrs. Ruth Leedy. A delicious supper, a Christmas tree and presents created a festive atmosphere and a good time for all.

December 19, a holiday luncheon was given in conjunction with the actives who were home for vacation for the entertainment of local rushees at Perrydell Tea Room. That same evening the Christmas dance was held at the Orlando Country Club.

The efforts of the finance committee to raise funds proved so successful that a skillfully worked out budget was presented and adopted at the January meeting. This is a distinct mark of progress, since this is the first season in many years that enough money has remained in the club treasury long enough to raise any question of how it should be spent! We feel very proud of this accomplishment and expect to reach a state of great affluence in a very short time!

Miss Inez Webster, Eta Province President, was a special guest of the evening at the January meeting. Her visit was very much enjoyed and her suggestions of much value.

At the March meeting we completed plans for the Founders' Day luncheon and discussed ways and means to attend the all-state $\Pi \Phi$ Convention which is to be held at Tampa in April. This event was anticipated with much eagerness and the hope that the Orlando Club might do its share in making this conference an outstanding one.

Mary Lanier, 703 Marks Street, Orlando, was appointed chairman of our Standing Committee on Rushing.

DAMARIS WILSON

the club members will serve as hostesses to the graduating seniors and the Pi Phi returning to the campus for the graduation functions. This get-together will culminate the year's activities for the Beloit Club.

Certrude Blazer is Chairman, Rushing Recommendations Committee; residence, 313 Broad St., Beloit, Wis.

DOROTHY JORGENSEN

CARTHAGE CLUB

The Carthage Alumnae Club met on January 26 with Miss Anna Glenn as hostess. The program on the Settlement School was given by Mrs. Catherine McClure. The meeting on March 30 was at the home of Mrs. Adda Williams, the president, and Miriam Williams conducted the program on Fraternity Study and Examination. We will celebrate Founders' Day with a luncheon. In May Mrs. Ellen Mack will review "Tschakowsky, the Beloved Friend."

We have a meeting assessment of ten cents and our plan of the hostess paying seventy-five cents into the treasury, instead of serving refreshments, is being continued this year.

MIRIAM E. WILLIAMS

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA CLUB

The 1936-1937 season of the Champaign-Urbana Alumnae Club has been one of marked growth, both in attendance and interest in $\Pi \Phi$ projects. This has been due largely to the very able leadership of Mrs. Robert Bishop and her splendid executive board.

One of the greatest assets to the club this year has been its very large group of younger alumnae, which has shown a great deal of initiative in the promotion of special projects, such as rummage sales, dress auctions, and bridge benefits, to add to the pledges made by the club to various $\Pi \Phi$ funds.

The December meeting was a Settlement School tea at the chapter house of Illinois Z. At this time our town friends enjoyed an extensive exhibit of Settlement School products and were able to select Christmas gifts from the beautiful things shown by the Settlement School Committee.

In January the little play written by Rosemary Moorehead, and given at Convention, was read as a part of our Settlement School program.

The February meeting was sponsored by the Loan Fund Committee. Mrs. Stoolman gave an explanation of the Loan Fund, its history and its progress to date. A white elephant sale was held at this meeting and the returns added to the pledge already made by the club.

We anticipated the March meeting with very great pleasure since Mrs. Murkland, our province vice-president, was our special guest.

In April we joined with the active chapter, Illinois Z, in the celebration of Founders' Day.

MABEL K. HOBART

CHICAGO CLUB SOUTH

Late in January we had a joint meeting of the five groups, comprising our club, in the form of a "pot-luck" supper at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wright. Mrs. Hope Graham gave a most interesting talk on Germany. The party was well attended, both by Pi Phi in the club and outside, and we feel that the meetings of this type have been quite successful.

An election of officers tea was held on February 23 at the home of Mrs. W. A. Pennington. Plans were made for a joint Founders' Day luncheon to be held downtown in conjunction with the other Chicago alumnae clubs and outlying clubs. Plans have already been made for a bridge benefit on May 25. This will be the last event of the year and every one is trying hard to insure its success in raising money for Settlement School. We have also sold a large number of the $\Pi \Phi$ cook books and find them very easy to sell.

This year has seen an increase in membership for our club and a renewed spirit of fellowship in the joint meetings of the five groups.

CECILE G. MUNNECKE

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB

Our January and February meetings have been very interesting. On January 5 we invited outsiders to meet with us for dinner while afterwards, Mr. Leon Pescheret addressed the group on the art of etching and color etching in particular. He displayed many of his works. Grace Pescheret, his wife, who is a $\Pi \Phi$, was also present and we were very appreciative of the time they gave us.

On January 26 we met for dinner and afterwards went to the plant of the International Printing Ink Corporation where we heard a very instructive lecture on "Color."

On February 23 we were again entertained by a $\Pi \Phi$ —one of our own group—Miss Grace Huff, who gave an enthralling account of her year's trip around the world. She told us of all the humanly interesting events which kept everyone very attentive.

We are planning another rummage sale in the very near future and anticipate a successful financial year. We are anxious to interest more of the business girls in attending these dinner meetings.

COSETTE NELSON

CHICAGO NORTH CLUB

Under the able leadership of Mrs. R. E. Bard the Chicago North Club has had a banner year.

On December 2 at Indian Boundary Park the annual bridge benefit was held netting a profit of sixty-four dollars and fifty cents. Mrs. E. P. Russell was most efficient in charge of the function. The table prizes were small potted plants while the door prizes were various articles donated by generous merchants and friends. A Settlement School display was profitable.

A cooky-shine was held at the home of Mrs. L. G. Willcox. Mrs. Harold Davis gave an interesting speech on her trip to the Orient last summer. Pep talks were given on the bridge benefit and ticket selling resulted.

The Christmas season brought forth many money making projects. The Alpha group sold Christmas wrappings and cards besides selling chances on a lovely etching done by Chester Danforth, the husband of a $\Pi \Phi$. A big evening party was given when the lucky number was drawn.

Orders for magazine subscriptions proved to be an asset financially. Also during the month of December a gross and a half of vanilla was sold to outside chapters.

Membership has been increased to such an extent that a new group has been formed. Most of the credit of organizing the new members goes to Mrs. L. W. Carlson who gave liberally of time and effort. So efficient has she been that the new Gamma group is fired with enthusiasm to raise money for the Settlement School and to increase its membership. Election of officers took place in January, the presidency going to Mrs. Edith Dougherty. As money making schemes they have joined in wholeheartedly with the other two groups to put over the annual bridge benefit and to sell the Los Angeles cook book. They have several things in store for this spring.

Already plans are under way to get together twenty-five people to make a trip through the Andrew Benson Orchid Growers' Plant. The date is Friday, March 19, and a nominal fee of twenty-five cents will be charged by the Gamma group that this might swell their amount toward the Settlement School.

Another project is underway but it is only in the formative period at present. The group wishes to have Miss Mary Alice Jones, a North Shore alumna, speak on "The Benefit of a College Education in Forming Character," the subject of which was the basis of her Doctor's Degree. The Gamma group plans to have a tea at the $\Pi \Phi$ house on Northwestern campus inviting all Pi Phi and friends.

On February 19 the Gamma group held an afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. E. P. Russell. Miss Portia Lee spoke on her trip around the world. Twenty-five cents was charged for outsiders and members.

A trip to the Blue Jewel Tea Company at Barrington is planned for about the middle of April. The company offers luncheon, bridge, and table prizes free if eighty people can be guaranteed. In order to make money the club is charging thirty-five cents a person.

A new office, that of Publicity Chairman, has been added to the Board. Mrs. Edith Dougherty, President of the Gamma group, was appointed.

The club of Chicago North plans to send a delegate to the Spring Conference April 30 and May 1.

Each year a spring luncheon is given by the Board members for all Pi Phi old and new. This year it is to be held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Wood on Saturday, March 6. A big crowd is expected. The nominating committee will read the names of candidates for office next year.

Ten bridge lessons are being given for five dollars. If twenty people can be secured the Chicago North Club will receive fifty dollars.

Though the end of the year is close at hand activity will prevail throughout the last few months.

PEGGY ESCH WEAVER

DECATUR CLUB

The Decatur Alumnae Club held a sale of Settlement School products just before Christmas and sent the school a check for $125.

On March 19 about one-third of the club attended initiation and a cooky-shine at the chapter house. Two of the initiates were daughters: Elizabeth Duerr, daughter of Irene Handlin Duerr; and Joan McDavid, daughter of Bessie Lamb McDavid.

Our next meeting will be an anniversary meeting for it is the 70th anniversary of the founding of $\Pi \Phi$, the 25th anniversary of the founding of Settlement School, and the 25th anniversary of $\Pi \Phi$ at Millikin. We hope to have a very special party for such a grand occasion.

DOROTHY T. MCCORMICK

MADISON CLUB

In addition to the usual business, program, and entertainment plans for alumnae club meetings, the Madison Club is busy planning two larger projects. Members are organizing a Service Shop rummage sale to raise money for the club, and we are looking forward to and making arrangements for the Eta Province Convention to be held in Madison April 30 and May 1. We are anxious to have a chance to meet delegates, both active and alumnae, and to talk over common problems and aims. The club is making arrangements for helping the Wisconsin A chapter girls with entertaining guests, and for showing alumnae delegates around Madison. We plan to have a large joint cooky-shine as part of the Convention program, and are hoping that the entire two days' meetings both from the standpoint of business accomplished and good times, will be one of the most successful ever held.

BETTY HUTCHCROFT

MONMOUTH CLUB

The Monmouth Alumnae Club has attempted to have more contact with the active chapter this year. They have sponsored several cooky-shines this winter and have enjoyed meeting the girls informally.

Plans have been made to have the annual party for the seniors of Illinois A at the home of Mrs. Robert Gamble in Kirkwood as has been the custom the last few years.

The club members were pleased to receive an I.C. pin which had belonged to Mrs. Bessie Rice. Her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Graham, left the decision of what was to be done with it entirely up to the members. It has been decided that the pin shall be awarded bi-annually to the girl in the active chapter who most nearly fulfills the qualifications of the most all-round $\Pi \Phi$.

A rummage sale was sponsored by the club in March for the purpose of raising money.

MARY MACDILL

MILWAUKEE CLUB

The February meeting of the Milwaukee Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Otjen. Following dinner, Mrs. Marie Karll gave a talk on her recent European trip.

The Settlement School's twenty-fifth birthday was remembered by each club member contributing the number of pennies equal to her age.

The club members are looking forward to a visit from Mrs. Philip P. Murkland, the Eta Province Vice-President, this spring.

MARY MACDILL

THETA PROVINCE

DES MOINES CLUB

The programs at the first three meetings of our club in 1937 have been very interesting and entertaining. These programs have been given by our own members. In January Mrs. Zoe Seever talked to us about antique jewelry. In February Mrs. C. H. Clark told us about her recent trip through Mexico. In March Louise French gave us a musical program. In April we held a bridge benefit for the Endowment Fund.

A large number of our members attended the conference in commemoration of Founders' Day to be held at Ames, April 24. Our club sent a birthday gift of money to this meeting to be given to the Settlement School.

The $\Pi \Phi$ cook book that is being sold by the Los Angeles Club is proving very popular in our club. We sell the cook books as fast as we receive them. We have used several of the recipes from this book for our $\Pi \Phi$ luncheons.

In April and in May we will have one o'clock luncheon meetings. In June we will have our annual picnic.

HENRIETTA STEWART BROWN

Plans are now being made for a special celebration of Founders' Day this year.

HELEN METCALF CROWELL

NORTH SHORE CLUB

"Current Events at Home and Abroad" was Miriam Simons Leuck's topic for January's meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Schroeder in Wilmette.

Joan Minchin of the active chapter read "First Lady" at the February meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Middleton.

The program for March promised to be one of the best of a year of interesting programs planned by Mrs. E. L. Middleton. Mrs. Robert Watt will give a paper on $\Pi \Phi$ history and famous Pi Phis. We are looking forward to a visit with Mrs. Philip Murkland, Eta Province Vice-President, at this time.

March 12 was the date of the annual benefit bridge at the Evanston Woman's Club. A style show by the Frances Nichols Shop of Evanston was one of the features.

The April meeting was the Founders' Day luncheon.

HELEN BOGUE DICUS

PEORIA CLUB

The Peoria Alumnae Club has held the following regular luncheon meetings:

January 18, at Mrs. Frederick Meixner's with Mrs. H. C. Gobble as assistant hostess. Anagrams furnished much entertainment.

February 15, at Mrs. Carl Poppen's with Mrs. Will's Bruninga as assistant hostess. The club seems interested in brain development as brain teasers again were popular.

March 15, at Mrs. Eric Laing's with Mrs. Samuel M. Wetzel and Mrs. Frank L. Hazen as assistant hostesses. A Founders' Day luncheon was planned for April with Mrs. C. B. Jury and Mrs. John Watson as hostesses.

JEANNETTE BROWN MCCUSKEY

ROCKFORD CLUB

The Rockford Alumnae Club has thus far enjoyed a very successful season. A meeting under the direction of the magazine chairman was held in October at the home of Mrs. Dennis, followed by bridge.

In November a meeting under the direction of the Settlement School committee was held at the home of Miss Fairbairn and a splendid report on the Settlement School was given by Mrs. Wiegert. The club responded by each member buying some item from the School.

Our annual Christmas luncheon was held in December at the Rockford Woman's Club with a large attendance. A supper meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wiegert in January at which our president, Mrs. Hon, gave a report on our nearest chapter at Beloit College. We were happy to learn that $\Pi \Phi$ is very active on the campus.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Fox at which we played bridge.

We plan a rummage sale in the spring to raise money for the national projects. We also look forward to a cooky-shine, a Founders' Day luncheon, and our annual picnic.

HELEN FOX

DULUTH CLUB

The year has gone very quickly and smoothly under the leadership of Gladys Bowman. Probably the most outstanding event in $\Pi \Phi$ circles was the wedding of Mrs. Bowman's daughter Betty (Michigan B), to the Reverend Lloyd R. Gillmett, which took place in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Duluth. Next in importance, is our evening bridge party at the home of Jessie Blu, which was very well attended by Pi Phis, husbands, and friends.

We were glad to have with us for a while Dorothy Denslow of Iowa Γ , who is now living in Minneapolis. Lyle Byrnes (Minnesota A), who has been making Duluth her headquarters, is now doing flood relief work in Illinois and Kentucky.

RUBY BURTNES OLIMSTEAD

SAINT PAUL CLUB

The Saint Paul Alumnae Club started the year under the leadership of Irma Smith Lampert. The first meeting was held in the home of Sylvia Martin. A style show preceded the meeting, and the subject of the evening was "Rushing." A rummage sale was planned and carried out most successfully later in the month.

In November, the club met with Jessie Lovell. Plans were made for the Settlement School tea, given later in the home of Florence Paetzold.

The Minneapolis Club joined with the Saint Paul alumnae at a Christmas party for the active chapter in December, and an enjoyable time was spent.

The January meeting, with Lucy Potter as presiding hostess, was the time for arranging a silver tea given later in the home of Irma Lampert, who also entertained the seniors at the February meeting. At this time, a movie picture of the Settlement School was shown as well as other interesting movie films.

Plans for the remainder of the year included: a March meeting with Edith Gerdes at which the Constitution was the principal topic; the annual Founders' Day banquet May 1 at the time of the Theta Province North Conference in Minneapolis; the election of officers in May and a picnic in June.

NELLIE C. HEYD

WINNIPEG CLUB

The Winnipeg Alumnae Club started its 1937 activities with a bridge meeting at the home of the President, Eleanor French, in January.

On January 27, we sponsored a very successful II Φ night at the Dominion Theater, the proceeds being in aid of the Free Kindergarten, a local charity project of the club. There was a special interest taken in this affair because the leading lady of the company, Grace Mathews, is a Toronto II Φ .

On Friday, January 29, the alumnae entertained in honor of the pledges at a novelty party at the home of Isabel Hitchings.

On January 30, we held our annual initiation banquet at the Fort Garry Hotel in honor of the new initiates, and at which the graduates were also guests of honor. Gudrun Bjerring won the scholarship award, presented by the club to the new initiate who, as a pledge obtained the highest average.

On February 20 we entertained at tea at the home of Peggy Lawson in honor of Mrs. Bud Rieger (Christine Turnbull), a bride of last fall, and Neddie Johnston and Beryl Williams, brides-elect of early spring. They were given a gift of silver from the club.

DOROTHY PRECIOUS

IOTA PROVINCE

BOULDER CLUB

The annual freshman and senior party was given at the chapter house on October 29. This was the traditional cooky-shine and there were seventy who sat on the floor of the new recreation room, including the pledges, the seniors, the transfers, and the alumnae.

The Christmas party was given at the home of Mrs. Reuben Olson.

The alumnae had charge of the initiation banquet as usual. Miss Onken honored us with a visit at this time and conducted initiation.

At the February supper and Settlement School meeting given at the home of Mrs. George J. Saunders, Mrs. W. E. Kirkendall and Mrs. F. H. Welch, Iowa Beta, and Mrs. Howard Gilbert (Mary Wilds, Colorado Beta) were welcomed as new members.

LOU H. McALLISTER

CASPER CLUB

The Casper Alumnae Club under the able leadership of Mrs. Cecil Bon is enjoying a successful year. In September the club held its annual rummage sale by which means we were able to send a substantial sum to the Settlement School.

A tea for the purpose of selling Settlement School articles was held in December at the Women's Departmental Club. Approximately a hundred guests attended and were delighted with the display of Arrow Craft goods.

We entertained the members of Panhellenic in January. A delightful dinner was served and the evening was spent in playing bridge.

LUCILLE LOVE KIDD

DENVER CLUB

Because of the death of Mrs. L. Kent Robinson, one of our most beloved and active members, the Denver Alumnae Club canceled the meeting scheduled for February as it fell on the same day as her funeral.

Our March meeting was devoted to a discussion of plans for our annual card party and fashion show which we give each year to raise money for the Settlement School, and to a review of the history and constitution of the Fraternity.

There is much enthusiasm concerning the Province Conference being sponsored by our club as a Founders' Day celebration May 22-23 at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs. We are sincerely hoping many actives and alumnae besides our Colorado ones will find it possible to attend.

Our Magazine Agency chairman reports over $800 in magazine subscriptions already sent in with $1,000 as the year's goal.

LOLITA S. PROUTY

MANHATTAN CLUB

On initiation day, the Manhattan Club entertained the twenty Kansas B initiates with a luncheon at the Gillett

Hotel planned by Mrs. Malcolm Aye and Mrs. Walter Leonard. Following initiation, a number of alumnae enjoyed the cooky-shine at the chapter house.

An inspiration to the club was given at the February meeting at which Mrs. James E. Webster, assistant to the Grand President, was a guest. Members were pleased to have questions concerning active work and rushing definitely answered by Mrs. Webster. This meeting was at Mrs. A. A. Hostettler's home with Mrs. Don Wilson, Mrs. Gerald Moyer, and Mrs. Gerald Smith assisting.

New members of the chapter advisory board are Mrs. A. A. Hostettler and Mrs. Richard Kendall. Mrs. C. C. Brewer is chairman of the rushing committee.

Manhattan Pi Beta Phis are joining the Kansas City Alumnae Club in a large Founders' Day banquet on April 24, and are looking with interest to the Iota Province Conference in Denver on May 22 and 23.

MARY HOLTON SEATON

LAWRENCE CLUB

Members of the Lawrence Club have met regularly for supper meetings given each month by a group committee at the home of one of our members. The average attendance has been good.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Adrian Lindsey a sale of Arrow Craft products was held before Christmas in one of our down town stores. Over $90 worth of articles were sold. We have also contributed to the Loan Fund and the Endowment Fund.

At the last meeting plans were made to accept the invitation from the Kansas City Club to join them in their Founders' Day celebration which will be a banquet in Kansas City on April 24. The active members of Kansas A will also attend.

Our club feels keenly the loss of one of our oldest members, Helen Eva Weston Carpenter, whose death occurred here January 23. A member of the Kansas A chapter since her initiation in 1877, her gracious and gentle personality will be missed by all who knew her.

LOIS G. KLOCK

LINCOLN CLUB

The Lincoln Club under the able guidance of our president, Mrs. Earl Cline, has so far had a very successful year. Our monthly meetings, either Saturday luncheons or Monday evening suppers, have been very well attended. The enthusiasm that ran high during Rush Week has continued through the year. The alumnae planned and served all the food during these exciting days.

Our first fall meeting was a buffet supper in the home of Mrs. George Burgert. Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick gave an interesting report of Convention. In October the new pledges and their mothers were entertained at a lovely tea in the home of Mrs. Stanlev Zemer.

A food sale was held after the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Ernest Ames, at which we netted $28. On December 18 the actives gave a very lively Christmas party for the children of the alumnae and their friends. Not only did the children receive gifts but the actives were given lovely after-dinner coffee cups by the alumnae.

Election of officers was held in March. Plans for the annual Founders' Day banquet on initiation night are being discussed and a cooky-shine is being planned also.

MRS. RALPH L. IRELAN

OMAHA CLUB

We were honored at our February meeting by a visit from Mrs. Webster, assistant to the Grand President. Her charm and enthusiasm for $\Pi B \Phi$ should be an inspiration to all.

On February 16 we presented Miss Beatrice Edmonds for the third time. Her reviews of the current New York plays were amusing and informative and her interpretation of "Tovarich" was excellent. A very large crowd was present.

The Lincoln alumnae and we celebrate Founders' Day together. This year the Omaha Club has charge of the banquet. The date has been moved to March 13 because initiation is to be on that day. Mrs. Russell Doolin is in charge. Mrs. Lloyd Beall is to be toastmistress. The theme is a Grand Hotel idea with Sun Valley Lodge as the meeting place for those giving toasts.

Election of officers will be in April and the May meeting will be turned over to the new officers.

KATHRYN RUEGGE RHODES

VERMILLION CLUB

After several years as a local group, the Vermillion Alumnae Club was happy to receive a charter this fall. Meetings are to be held on the third Monday evening of each month in the homes of the members.

At the February meeting the patronesses of South Dakota A were entertained at bridge. The new initiates of the active chapter will be guests of the club at the March meeting. A study of the constitution will be made at that time.

LUCY CONNER

KAPPA PROVINCE

FORT SMITH CLUB

Regular monthly meetings have been held since October at the homes of the members with two members serving as hostesses for each meeting.

Eighty-three Pi Beta Phi Cook Books have been sold by the members for the benefit of the Settlement School. The program for the remaining meetings will be as follows:

April 5, Election of Officers

April 28, Founders' Day Banquet

At the May meeting, plans for summer rushing will be made, as no regular meetings are held during the summer.

Betty Tolson, 123 Belle Avenue, is chairman of the committee for recommending rushing candidates.

RUTH MORTON

LITTLE ROCK CLUB

The Little Rock Club has recently been honored by a visit from our Province Vice-President, Mrs. Henry Moore of Texarkana, Arkansas, and her visit was a real contribution to our club. We were pleased to report to her that we had sent $15 to the Settlement School, $5 to the Loan Fund, and $5 to the Endowment Fund. Also we have recently contributed $5 to the Red Cross.

During December the club sold chances on a doll for which one of our members had cleverly made a wardrobe. A week before Christmas the doll was raffled off. Our magazine agency reports twenty-three subscriptions and hopes to increase that number soon.

It has been the custom in our club to have a Christmas tea for $\Pi B \Phi$ mothers and for those girls who expect to go to college the following year. This year we changed the plan and our tea is to be given on Mothers' Day. We are to have a cooky-shine on Founders' Day.

The $\Pi B \Phi$ Alumnae Club is considered the liveliest of seven alumnae clubs in this city. We have 25 paid members the majority of whom attend the monthly meetings regularly.

DAISY TRIBBLE

MUSKOGEE CLUB

The Muskogee Club felt very happy at the results of rush week this fall. Two girls were pledged at SMU, two at the University of Oklahoma and one at the University of Arkansas.

In November the club enjoyed a delightful visit from Mrs. Moore, Kappa Province Vice-President. The alumnae club officers met at dinner with Mrs. Moore and the entire club entertained with a luncheon during her stay.

Mrs. Lee Swindler entertained the club and the active pledges with a tea at her home in September. During the Thanksgiving holidays the actives and the alumnae met informally at a tea. Plans for spring rushing were discussed. Our December meeting was a luncheon on the twenty-seventh. Several visiting Pi Phis were present and also several active members of near-by chapters.

CATHERINE CANE

SAN ANTONIO CLUB

The San Antonio Alumnae Club was delighted to have a visit from our Province Vice-President, Mrs. Henry Moore, Jr. (Olivia Smith) early in February. Mrs. Moore was the guest of our president, Miss Josephine Spencer, and was entertained informally during her stay in the city by several members of the alumnae club.

The chief event of Mrs. Moore's visit was a tea at the San Antonio Country Club on the afternoon of February 6, at which Miss Emmi Clegg Prokop was hostess.

At a short business meeting earlier in the afternoon plans for the Kappa Province Convention to be held in San Antonio later in the year were discussed. Mrs. E. A. Harris (Georgia Maverick) and Mrs. H. Lutzer Brown (Emily Wells) were appointed co-chairmen of the convention. San Antonio Pi Phis are looking forward to a happy reunion with many of their old friends during this gathering.

LOUISE SKINNER

TULSA CLUB

On December 29 the Tulsa Alumnae Club entertained at a Mothers' and Daughters' Tea at the home of Mrs. E. R. Rabon. Due to the holidays, a large number of active members and their mothers were present.

The January meeting was held at the home of Frances Montgomery on the nineteenth of January and the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the Constitution and sale of Settlement School materials.

On February 22, Mrs. L. E. Patten, president of the alumnae club, was hostess at an informal meeting and tea at which the founding of the Settlement School and its work was discussed.

ESTHER K. HOWARD

LAMBDA PROVINCE

ALBERTA ALPHA CLUB

Alberta A Alumnae Club started their season by assisting the active chapter with their rushing. Much to our delight our chapter's rushing was the most successful on the campus.

Monthly meetings are held at the homes of different members in the evening, at which fraternity business and social programs are discussed. After each meeting a social hour is spent often with a short talk by one of the members adding to the pleasure of the meeting. At the Christmas meeting showers were held for Mrs. Stuart Bothwell (Ruth Cushing), and Mrs. Charles Freund (Ruth Bowen).

We were glad to welcome one new member from London University, Gretchen Eckle, who has been secretary at the Y.W.C.A. this winter.

Our club looked after a family of five at Christmas time and dressed dolls which were given away to societies sending hampers to the north.

Mrs. Russell Henderson, our president this year, has started afternoon meetings, held about once a month, at which odd items of fraternity sewing, such as initiation materials and charity work, are done. To the next meeting have been invited all the Edmonton $\Pi B \Phi$ mothers with the hope that we may be able to form a mothers' club here.

At our next evening meeting plans are to be made for the entertainment of our graduates, and the celebration of Founders' Day.

MARY SUTHERLAND

INEZ SMITH SOULE TACOMA CLUB

We have been enjoying our meetings this year very much. We are having only five meetings, and with the exception of one they have all been dinners. We have found them to be very successful. We keep the dinners as simple as possible so as not to be burdensome to the hostesses, and then everyone contributes twenty-five cents into our treasury, excepting the hostesses. Our attendance has been between twenty and twenty-four at each meeting, which is several more than we had last year. Following the dinners we have our business meeting, and then we devote the rest of the evening to bridge.

In place of the December meeting, we had a tea during the Christmas holidays at the home of Mrs. Palmer Kennedy for the active girls in Tacoma who were from the Washington State College and University chapters, and also from the Oregon chapters.

We have been so happy to have our beloved Mrs. Soule with us this year. It means so much to have her with us at our meetings.

This year we have made our contribution of $50.00 to the Settlement School and $5.00 each to the Loan and Endowment Funds. We have eighteen paid members in our alumnae club and expect to have a few more before the year is up. We have no definite project in mind as far as raising funds are concerned, but are endeavoring to make our meetings as enjoyable as possible and to get better acquainted. In this way we hope to be able to build up a more active alumnae club.

We ordered fifty of the $\Pi \Phi$ cook books and have sold most of them.

ELIZABETH KEENER BOYCE

NANCY BLACK WALLACE CLUB

Our dinner dessert meetings have proved most popular. We shall celebrate Founders' day with a cooky-shine. The rummage sale planned in early fall will be held March 5 and 6. The proceeds from this will enable us to contribute to each of our worthy national funds.

We regret that Mrs. Donald Pritchett (Dorothy Kezar) and Mrs. Virgil Dunkin (Rita De Temple) have moved to Portland. Two new $\Pi \Phi$ girls are in our midst, Mrs. Sidney D. Hoffman (Margaret Binder) and Mrs. Bruce L. Titus (Beatrice Milligan).

VERNA WEAVER MAY

PORTLAND CLUB

The Portland Alumnae Club enjoyed their February meeting with a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Willis Ross following a regular business discussion. We are looking forward to a recital by Beatrice Edmonds April 20 which the club is sponsoring, and from previous entertainments by this charming lady, we feel confident it will be most successful.

March 6, Portland will be hostess to the Northwest Panhellenic Congress at the Multnomah Hotel, at which $\Pi \Phi$ will of course be represented, and take part in the discussions and problems that effect all sorority groups.

At our last meeting, the drawing was held for a prize of twelve beautiful Lennox china service plates recently won by the club in a table-setting contest sponsored by a local department store. Tickets were sold at a small sum, and though the holder of the lucky number was not a $\Pi \Phi$, she is very proud of her prize.

The club was happy to be able to send the Settlement School a birthday check of $50.00 in honor of its twenty-fifth birthday, and we await another important "birthday," Founders' Day, April 28.

MRS. JOHN M. ALLEN (LOIS BALZER)

SEATTLE CLUB

On September 22 the Seattle Club had a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. Charles Stuart. The number of members who attended was inspiring and the dinner was delicious. October 25 a dinner was held at the chapter house for parents of pledges, Mothers' Club and alumnae. November 24 a dinner was given at the Dolly Madison Tea Room in honor of Mrs. Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President, who is now a member of our club. We also included as honorees Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Paddock, Mrs. Finger, Miss Freda Hendrickson, and Miss Josephine McCleverty. January 26 we gave a birthday party for Washington A at the chapter house. The girls were presented with a lovely IES lamp for the hall. The gift was accepted by Marian Bergren, president of the chapter. Over a hundred were present. Mrs. Watt gave an interesting talk about early $\Pi \Phi$ days. Miss Mary Bash's sister from Peiping, China, gave an educational talk on $\Pi \Phi$ activities in China and on her own hospital work. Mrs. Hazle Paddock was chairman of the party.

February 23 we had a lovely luncheon and book review at the home of Mrs. C. Luverne Smith. Mrs. Edmunds was chairman. Mrs. Hergert reviewed the book, "Behind the Spanish Barricade."

At our sale of Settlement School articles we cleared $195 and at our rummage sale we cleared $44.

MRS. DALLAS DONNAN

MU PROVINCE

NEVADA CLUB

The Nevada Alumnae Club year has been uneventful. Each month we have had a pleasant meeting at the chapter house or at the home of one of the members.

Our Christmas cooky-shine, with an exchange of gifts and a sale of Settlement School articles, was enjoyed, as usual, at the home of Hilda Herz.

In January, the alumnae, with Neal Howell as chairman, arranged the initiation banquet.

At the February meeting, at Alice Melarkey's home, Virginia Harger told us entertainingly of her home chapter, Washington B.

As this is written, we are anticipating with keen pleasure Miss Onken's visit on March 16, when we plan a buffet supper.

The alumnae, under the chairmanship of Dorothy Bell, will give the Founders' Day banquet at the chapter house.

RUTH MILLER FERRIS

FRESNO CLUB

Our benefit tea in December for the Settlement School was a great success, socially and financially. It was given in the University St. Playhouse, following a program, in the same theater, sponsored by the A.A.U.W. Our sales of Arrowcraft articles on that day amounted to over $300.

On January 27 an informal tea was given at the home of our president, Mrs. C. O. Hansen on Weldon Avenue in honor of Mrs. Rav C. Wakefield, who has moved to Palo Alto, and Mrs. Roy A. Brown, of Sanger, who has moved to San Rafael.

Our next meeting will be the Founders' Day celebration on April 28.

ALICE BELL REAGAN

TUCSON CLUB

The first meeting of the club year was held at the Arizona A chapter house in October. Plans for the year were discussed and a general business session held. In November the annual Settlement School tea was given at the Pioneer Hotel. A hundred dollars worth of Settlement School articles were sold.

In December we had a cooky-shine at the home of Mrs. John Murphy. About twenty $\Pi \Phi$ were present, each one dressed in a much-prized gown of college days. The styles dated from 1912 to the present day.

Miss Onken is paying her official visit to Arizona A from March 2 to March 4. The alumnae plan to have a luncheon for her at this time. We look forward with much pleasure to seeing her again.

RUTH BENZIE BUSHNELL

SALT LAKE CITY CLUB

The regular luncheon meeting of the Salt Lake City alumnae club was held on November 7 at the chapter house. Ann Leonard Harris gave a most interesting lecture on the three new conventions of contract bridge.

The Settlement School tea and linen sale took place on December 2, also at the chapter house. Again, on December 9 at our evening dinner meeting an exchange of "White Elephant" gifts was made amid great hilarity.

We welcome three new members into our club, Mrs. Bruce Brubaker, Indiana Γ , Mrs. W. W. Monroe, Oregon β , and Mrs. Charles E. Kirkpatrick, Pennsylvania Γ .

We are anticipating our visit with Miss Onken this month and will entertain for her at dinner with the actives. Members of the newly-formed Ogden Alumnae Club have been invited to join us on this occasion.

DOROTHY PERCIVAL LEHMAN

SAN DIEGO CLUB

The San Diego Alumnae Club cancelled the meeting which had been scheduled for February 27, because of the expected visit of Miss Onken early in March. Remembering our inspiring visit from our president a few years ago, all members expressed a desire to be given the opportunity of renewing this inspiring friendship, and the committee accordingly planned a dinner meeting for the evening of March 5 at the home of Mrs. Hinman, in La Jolla. Invitations were sent to all members of the club, and there was an attendance of 60 members. Mrs. Hinman's home was lovely and spacious, with plenty of room for us all, and we had a glorious evening.

Plans were completed for our annual benefit for the Settlement School. This year we gave a dessert bridge at the El Cortez Hotel, our hostelry de luxe on the top of the hill, overlooking the harbor, and Point Loma. We received a large shipment from the Settlement School and held a sale of these goods in the lobby of the hotel. San Diego people are already familiar with the lovely articles displayed and we had a quick and large turnover. This was our piece de resistance for our social year, and every effort was made by the committee and members of the club to make the affair spell SUCCESS in capital letters.

The promised "god-child" has arrived on schedule, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Perry (Phyllis N. Curtis, Iowa Γ) are announcing the birth of their daughter on January 19. Another potential $\Pi \Phi$! How our ranks will swell during the next few years, with so many new little $\Pi \Phi$ daughters to carry on!

GLADYS A. ROGERS

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB

The San Francisco Alumnae Club looked forward to Miss Onken's visit to California with the utmost pleasure, and planned an afternoon for her on March 14 to provide the opportunity for some of us to renew our friendship with her and give others the privilege of meeting her.

Our next meeting was a dessert evening on March 24 at the home of Mrs. Preston King. Mrs. James McFarland is the program chairman and she arranged for a book review, which was given by Mrs. Charles G. Blewett.

VIRGINIA CANFIELD

SANTA MONICA CLUB

The Santa Monica Club held its regular monthly meeting in February when each member was entitled to bring a guest. A special program was arranged, Mrs. Allee Patterson, well known Southern California florist, giving a most interesting talk on flowers and their arrangement.

At the March meeting Mrs. Harry G. Hayward, junior past president of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club, was honor guest and gave a very fine review of several recent books. Several Pi Phi's from the Los Angeles Alumnae Club, including Mrs. Robert A. Livingstone, president of the club, were guests. Plans were made for entertaining Miss Onken who arrived for a short visit in Los Angeles on March 6. The Santa Monica Club united with the other clubs of Southern California in giving a tea in her honor and was also honored with Miss Onken's presence at an informal tea at the home of one of its members in Santa Monica on Sunday, March 7. We felt this was indeed a great privilege.

In April our club joined with the Los Angeles and other adjoining alumnae clubs in the observance of Founders' Day.

In May we are having a breakfast honoring all province and grand officers living in the Los Angeles area.

At each meeting a certain amount of time is devoted to the Constitution. All of the other requirements of alumnae clubs are being met and a most successful year has been enjoyed to date.
