EDITORIALS

Pi Beta Phi—and the War

Many times this year the Editor has asked of Pi Phis, "What do you want in the ARROW?" and most of them have said, "News of my friends, and what the war is doing to them, and what they are doing for the war!" So again in this issue we bring stories of the work our girls are doing everywhere. It constitutes an interesting record of accomplishment, and besides we hope that our National Committee for War Work, under the chairmanship of Geraldine Mars Ristine, Iowa Z, will have interesting additions to make to the record of personal accomplishment so far.

The Fraternity nationally has made an important contribution to the war effort, through its purchases of war savings bonds and securities of the United States and Canada. Up to the last day of December, 1942, Pi Beta Phi had invested in United States War Savings Bonds "G" a total of $143,500 and in Dominion of Canada securities, $14,600. Its investments in United States and Dominion of Canada securities as a whole totaled $300,500. During the year 1942 alone, United States War Savings Bonds to the amount of $96,700 and Canadian Bonds to the amount of $4,000 were purchased by the Fraternity. These investments are divided between the ARROW Endowment Fund, the Fellowship Fund, the Alumnae Life Membership Fund, the Contingent Fund, the Endowment Fund, the Settlement School Endowment Fund, and the Regular Contingent Fund. The entire amount of the Fraternity's Convention Fund, approximately $20,000, is in United States War Savings Bonds, as has previously been announced.

Connecticut Alpha

Grand Council announces with pride the establishment of Connecticut A chapter at the University of Connecticut, at Storrs. The new chapter was a long-established local, a well-organized, actively functioning group, made up of girls of fine families, prominent in college activities, excellent in scholarship. The college has long been under consideration as a field for extension; the Hartford Alumnae Club has given its enthusiastic support; two years ago the ARROW Editor visited the campus with the late Mabel Scott Brown, former ARROW Editor—this visit was made shortly after the national fraternities were allowed to enter the college, and while the various local groups were making their decision as to becoming national—and she felt that it was indeed an attractive location for a chapter; last fall Σ Y N decided to apply for a charter; Marianne Reid Wild, Assistant to the Grand Vice-President, and Hazel Sawyer Everett, Alpha Province West president, both went to the campus, and made favorable reports on the group; and in January representatives of all active chapters in the province made a two-day visit.

Their reports were favorable in the extreme, and their chapters voted unanimously to grant the charter. At the midterm, the group rushed in competition with K A Θ and K K Γ, both newly installed chapters, and won fine pledges. On April 9 and 10, installation was held with Miss Onken as installing officer. So our 85th chapter is welcomed into Pi Beta Phi, and the Fraternity sends all good wishes for the success of Connecticut A. The full story of the installation, with pictures of the girls, must wait for our December issue.

Candle Lighting

At Founders' Day last year, Leah Shaw Shirey, Nebraska B, made an address to the Long Beach Alumnæ Club which seems so perfect an expression of what all Pi Phi's feel that it is with pleasure that we give it editorial space. Mrs. Shirey will be remembered as one of the speakers at the Pasadena Convention in 1940.

TRIBUTE

Once again we have come to that time of candle lighting. Seventy-five years ago today our Fraternity was born.

This year for the first time all the candles are blue—there is no living Founder. We are not sad but we are serious. It is right that once each year we pay tribute to those girls who gave us our Fraternity.

Seventy-five years is a long time when we think of the happenings which have been crowded into three quarters of a century, since these girls in a spirit of daring and adventure had the audacity to launch a new idea; and new ideas then as now were regarded with suspicion.

Those of us who had the privilege of attending Conventions in Pasadena saw our sweet Fanny Whitenack Libby, and when we look at the old photographs of the Founders in their charming old-fashioned clothes, we are apt to think of them as dear old ladies, with the atmosphere of lavender and old lace clinging to their attire.

The twelve Founders of Pi Beta Phi were not old ladies at all, at least not for forty years or more after the organization. They were young college girls, up and coming girls for that period, if you know anything about schools and girls of that day. They were leaders, girls of individuality, initiative, and originality. The girls were so different in their dispositions and talents, yet bound together with a mutual desire to widen the narrow horizon of their lives and with a deep sense of loyalty to each other.

The Civil War with its train of reconstruction evils had just ended and those twelve girls must have been alive to the problems created by that terrible conflict. It was a day when sectional bitterness was rampant but these young girls had the vision to see that only through the cultivation of the fundamental virtue of kindness and by the conscious effort to broaden their outlook through every available social and cultural contact would growth be stimulated.

In celebrating the anniversary of Founders' Day, in the face of what lies ahead, it should mean something far more than a sentimental observance, something more than routine which has to be part of the year's program.

So close is the connection of true democracy to the Christian philosophy of life, that without the one the other cannot survive. Both must possess the two essentials of faith and freedom and today these two essentials are being challenged. Never before has the past offered such a challenge to the future. The national crisis created a revival of interest in other critical periods of our history.

Our Founders came out of a difficult period and brought us a heritage built upon those attributes of the spirit which are after all the real and vital things of life: friendship, pride, sympathy, affection, and faith.

The ancient Pharaohs thinking to preserve their names built mighty monuments of stone, little thinking that another generation would see in them only the gratification of selfish pride. Oh, Kings of Egypt, the greatest monument to man is not a pyramid but a record of service built upon the foundation of solid virtues. That is the foundation of Pi Beta Phi and the voices of those girls call to every member. "Whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Why do they admonish us to "think on these things": Because in the end when psychology has had its say you will find it all goes back to what that old Hebrew prophet said, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," for out of your heart and out of your thoughts proceed the issues and purpose of your life.

Thank you, twelve lovely girls. This is our answer to you:

"The deep secret places of each Pi Phi heart
Are shot with arrow gleams.
As the years come and go they may keep us apart.
But the chain binds our hopes and our dreams."

We thank you, Mrs. Shirey!

Grand Council announces the award of the Pi Beta Phi fellowship to Jeanne Peckenpaugh, Washington B, who plans to take work at Northwestern University where she will be at the School of Speech. She is now program manager and traffic director at Station KVOS, Bellingham, Washington.

Who's Who

On pages 398 to 410 of this issue we picture girls who have won social honors. Here are a few facts of interest in that connection:

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges has been published annually since 1934 (this year is the 9th year). It now enjoys the cooperation of 687 colleges.

The purpose is two-fold: First, to serve as an honor for students devoid of all fees and dues. Second, to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of America's leading college students to be used by the Personnel Managers of companies who annually recruit college graduates.

There has never been a charge of any kind for a student's biography to be listed; nor is the fact that a student does, or does not, buy a book, taken into consideration when bringing the students before Personnel Managers.

These students are selected by the colleges themselves and their selections are final. The quota for nominations is determined by the size of the student body and each school is allowed from five to twenty according to the size of the student body. Only seniors and students in advanced work are eligible, except where a junior is unusually outstanding.

Odile Taylor Alford

Convention Postponement

THE GREATEST sacrifices are not always the most spectacular. Only those who know what a Pi Beta Phi Convention means in deepened realization of the greatness of the Fraternity, in joy in its contacts, in re-dedication to its service, and in new inner-strength for tasks ahead, can appreciate fully what it has meant for the active chapters to make a decision against holding a Convention this year. Let no one believe that it was a small sacrifice, however, because it was made so gallantly and so quietly, as their contribution towards the winning of the war.

Pi Beta Phis will not meet, then, in person at a Convention in this year of 1943; that as never before they must meet in spirit is so true as to seem almost trite. Here then is a Call to Pi Beta Phis in this year of dread War whose fingers reach out to threaten and to destroy the things upon which so much of the happiness of the future depends.

Pi Beta Phis all! Come to a full realization of what it means to be one of a great fraternity of friends whose hearts rejoice in your happiness and share your sorrow; to a true conception of the value of the support for one's finer purposes which comes from a conscious striving towards the Fraternity's standards of beautiful living and of the importance of such living in days of so much destructive thinking; to continued and increased support for the Fraternity's altruistic projects whose service gains new luster as the need for it increases; to understanding and helpful cooperation with the active chapters in order that each may have the courage of its highest convictions, the will to achieve nobly, and the ability to attain; to strong support for the cause of liberal education, the foundation of our countries' greatness; to sacrificial dedication, individually and as a fraternity, to the ideals of true freedom and democracy and to service in every phase of the effort to insure their perpetuation; to being Pi Beta Phis, in truth!

AMY BURNHAM ONKEN
Grand President

NOTE: The full text of correspondence between Miss Onken and Mr. Eastman, Director of Transportation, which led to the vote of the active chapters, was sent out to all chapters and alumnæ clubs.

The Children Carry On

An address given by Lael Tucker Laird, Kentucky A, as her contribution to the 16th annual Animated Magazine, given at Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, on February 21, 1943. Lael Laird has recently returned from London, where she has been a member of the staff of Time Magazine and Life. Her husband, Stephen Laird, is also a member of the staff of these publications.

THERE'S only one thing definite to be said about the effect of war on the children of Great Britain. It wasn't what their British elders expected it to be. Statistics and blueprints for war's emergencies—for civilian bombing, for evacuation, for the care of children—were neat and complete. Taken off paper and put under fire, people were people as pigs is pigs, and children the same only more so.

One could generalize endlessly on British magnificence or on British mistakes. One could describe, generally, what happened there and hope it would help us here in case the war comes that near home. That is unlikely—and what happened there might not apply here, even so. But maybe every little bit we know of the humor and tragedy and problems of others' experience can add some knowledge to the wisdom we need so much to bring up a young generation during war to live in and to run the world-at-peace we hope we are fighting for.

My mother used to tell me both as a child and a reporter when I tended to generalize too broadly—"All right. Now be specific. Name ten."

All right. Instead of thousands of children, take three thirteen year old girls in Dover, England, who slept in caves under its white cliffs for safety, who were evacuated but didn't like it elsewhere and came home to be under fire for a year before I met them.

Life photographer David Sherman and I selected these girls from a Dover classroom and asked them to show us the town and to let us take pictures of them. An air raid siren went off just as we started down the street. The children paid no attention whatever to its wailing, horrible sound, but little Pamela Eades noticed that greenhorns Sherman and Laird jumped at the noise. "We had a siren in Dover TEN minutes after war started," she said proudly. June Birch laughed. "I was THAT scared," she said scornfully, making her hands shake to show us. "Coo," said Lorna Charlwood, "But there WAS a lot of excitement that time!"

We walked on down the scarred main street, with "business as usual" signs in its boarded up, broken shop windows. The children were much interested in food and clothes problems since the war. They discussed rationing and how tough it was to keep on growing when you had to dress on just so many coupons a year. They told us what fruit and sugar and butter meant in your diet.

All three had hated evacuation, loved being back in Dover and were delighted when the authorities were forced to open Dover's closed schools again for an hour a day.

Education has been called war's first casualty in Britain. Evacuation, stay-at-home children in danger areas, blitzed buildings and called-up teachers turned the clock of education far back and despite great effort England has not caught up. In Dover, for instance, children of seven and eight whose parents refused to evacuate them forgot how to read and write and had to be taught over when school reopened.

Lorna complained, "All they're teaching us now is baby stuff. So many have to catch up." June missed sewing. "We don't get none of them things now." "Not sewing or cooking or science or geography," said Pamela. "But I like arithmetic better anyhow." "We're just doing proper easy sums now," said June. "And I was advanced."

The children showed us some of the worst damaged streets in Dover. One block was so badly hit, the buildings had been razed and cleared away. Lorna said she'd forgotten there was such a street until her Dad pointed out that it was missing. Pamela started chanting as she walked past the "Danger" signs on a tottery building, "I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings. Only," she added, "There are so many things in the world right now that aren't so good."

On top of Dover's famous cliffs, the children pointed out the sky where much of the battle of Britain had been fought. "I DO wish we'd see a dog fight," said June. "That would be ever so exciting."

The kids seemed singularly unaffected psychologically by the war and their proximity to it. They didn't hate their enemies—"the Jerries." They expected and looked forward to normality and peace, but frankly admitted they would miss some of the excitement. As for the shooting, Pamela summed up their attitude, "I don't mind the shells AT ALL," she said, "And I don't mind the bombs much. But I DO hate them dive bombers."

They seemed to me amazingly, unconsciously brave, matter of fact and cheerful. Perhaps there would be delayed shock, as the cases of shell shock, notably absent during the blitz, which were turning up in London a year later. Naturally the maimed, the orphaned, the homeless, could not be ever the kind of citizens they would have been without war. But the rest had certainly "taken it" well. Pamela said the reason the children were calm and unhysterical was largely because their parents were. The British parents did a good job on the mental health of their children!

But most of the admirable things I observed were negative, except for the government's acceptance of responsibility for the basic welfare of the nation's people and their offspring. There is great feeling in Britain among the people for a better, people's world, but little indication—yet—that ancient barriers of class, and even of section, which might make this difficult, have been very far broken down as a result of shared danger, or of living together in evacuation. The rather pathetically realistic ambitions of the three Dover girls had not changed since the war.

When we asked them what they hoped to become when grown, Lorna, unusually, even startlingly, beautiful Lorna, and June, sensitive and very bright, replied that they were going to be house maids. "When they were grown up" to them meant no dream of a future in which anything could happen, but it meant next year, when they were fourteen and must earn a living in a rigid world. Not even a dream of becoming movie stars or executives' secretaries or writers or even of higher education was for them. Pamela, with her wit, wisdom, quickness and an IQ I'd guess to be as high as any child's I've ever known, was more ambitious. "I think," she said, "I can manage the twenty pounds and THEN I can become a hairdresser."

On the other hand, these children know they don't want this again, however well they've taken it. They don't want to sleep underground, to dive under their school desks for inadequate protection when shells come over without warning, to live with tarpaper replacing broken windows and darkening their blackedout homes by day as well as night. War is close to these children and I think they may believe it really worth preventing—not appeasing—in the future.

A Notice from Boston Pi Phis

"We wish through the ARROW to extend a welcome to those Pi Phis who, because of the great amount of war activity in and around Boston, have recently come to live in Boston, and to ask that they communicate with Mrs. Philip E. Adams, 25 Prospect Ave., Newtonville, Mass., in order that notices of our next meetings can reach them."

Wichita Pi Phis Make Planes

By NANCY WALKER HUBBARD, Iowa Z

WICHITA, KANSAS, now known as the "Air Capital of the World," produces more airplanes each day than any other city in the United States. Pi Beta Phi and their husbands have a part in this great production for our country.

Dwight Wallace, husband of Jody Bell Wallace, Kansas A, is Executive Vice-President and Treasurer of Cessna Aircraft. Cessna has two factories, one in Hutchinson, Kansas, and one in Wichita, and prior to Lend-Lease, completed a very large contract for the Canadian government for the "Cessna Bobcat," known in Canada as the "Crane." Cessna is now producing, for our Army, a Bomber-Pilot Trainer (Cessna Bobcat), the AT-17, and a Personnel Transport plane, the C-78, which carries five. This is used to transport Army Officers or Army Personnel. The company is also carrying advertisements in The Saturday Evening Post and other national magazines for the "Cessna Family Car of the Air," in line with Post-War planning.

A $100,000 experimental aviation manufacturing business has been set up in Wichita under a charter issued to Wallace Brothers, Inc., by the state charter commission at Topeka. The corporation, to be operated by Dwane and Dwight Wallace, president and executive vice-president respectively of Cessna Aircraft Company, has been organized for experimental work and under the articles of incorporation will be prepared to enter almost any field.

Improvement of various aircraft parts will be one of the principal objectives. Since Cessna already has announced it is prepared to go into mass production of peacetime aircraft, some work along this line also may be undertaken, although no announcement to that effect was made.

Dorothea Watts, Kansas B, operates a Hydropress at Beech Aircraft. A Hydropress is an enormous machine that presses airplane shapes or parts out of flat sheets of aluminum and steel. Dorothea's "little Hydro," as she calls it, exerts a pressure of 1,200 tons, and, of course, weighs very much more than that. In the operation of another machine, previously used, Dorothea lost the tip of a finger on her left hand in an unavoidable accident. While serving at the Wichita Canteen some months ago, soldiers on a troop train were very impressed with the fact that she was a veteran before they were. In addition, she has charge of all the Women's Golf Activities for Beech—the arranging of matches, tournaments, etc.

Mary Ann Edgerton, Kansas A, and Jayne Coats, Kansas A, are also with Beech. Mary Ann is in the office of the Head Timekeeper, and has numerous duties, including bookwork, distribution of weekly pay-checks, issuance of identification badges for transfers, group insurance policies, etc. Jayne is receptionist, and with the exception of Army Personnel, meets and directs all Beech visitors and issues them temporary passes. June Bisango, Kansas B, is secretary to the Assistant Plant Engineer.

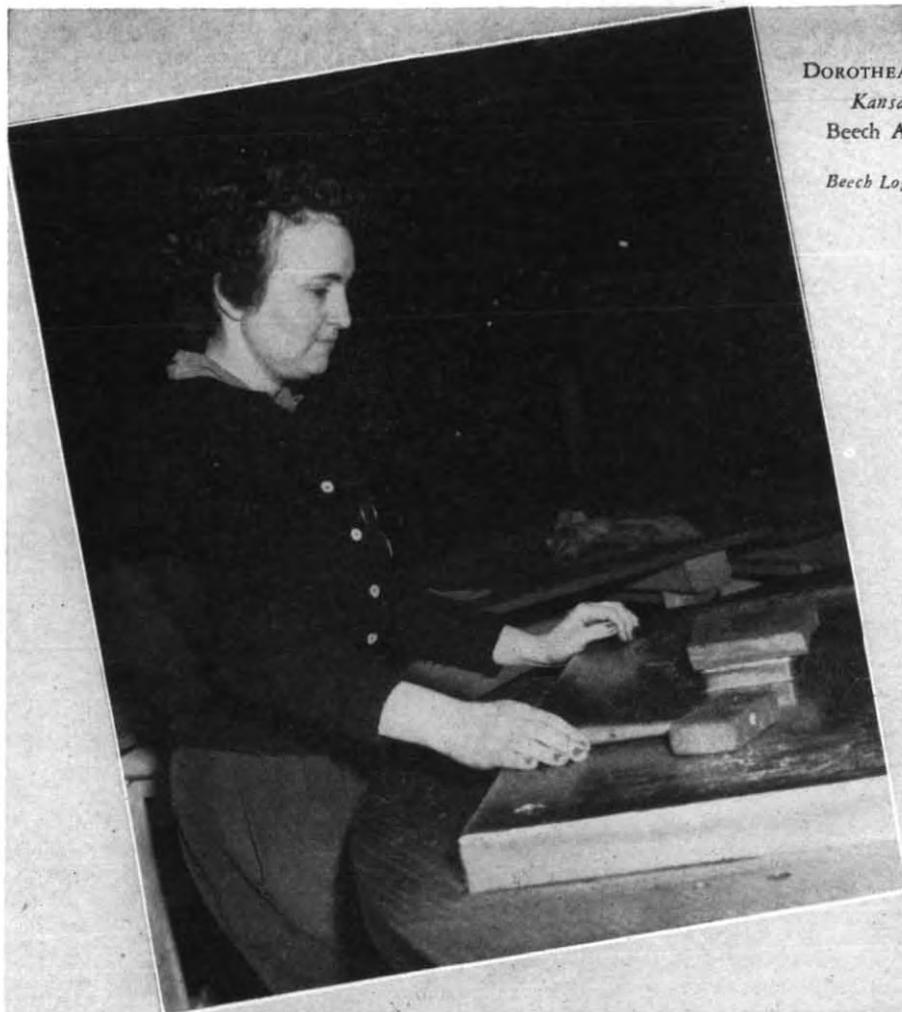

At Boeing Airplane Company, Mildred Kingsburry, Kansas B, is Secretary to the Asst. Industrial Engineer. As a part of her work she keeps track of all suggestions that are turned in by the employees for improvement in production. Each suggestion is investigated and an answer given to the employee, and the very meritorious ones receive cash awards.

Betty Jean Kelly, Arizona A, is in Cost Accounting at Boeing and now working on the second shift, 3:30 to 11:30 P.M. Betty figures the overtime on pay-checks. This particular work is all figured in the head, but Betty "likes figures." She would like to be in the factory part, however, so she would feel she was contributing more directly to the building of those Flying Fortresses.

Mrs. Thomas Leahy, Oklahoma A, and her husband, both are in Boeing's Treasury Department. Mrs. Leahy works on the Master Card File system with I.B.M. cards, which are, of course, all in code. Their son is now in the Army so this little family is "all out" for the war effort.

So, to those aircraft spotters, at lonely look-out posts, scanning the skies to make sure friendly planes are over-head, remember this: if it's a Wichita produced plane, a Pi Beta Phi, somewhere, has done her bit to "keep it flying" perhaps in the work on the plane itself, or in one of those very necessary behind-the-scenes job.

From Denver

By MARGARET ANDERSON

APPOINTMENT of Pi Beta Phi alumnae as leaders of both the Denver "Gray Ladies" and the American Red Cross ladies of the "yellow veils," is the unusual recognition of Pi Phi leadership ability in Denver. Marjorie Dixon Lavington (Mrs. Leon), Colorado A, is chairman of the Denver Red Cross chapter's Hospital and Recreation corps, more familiarly known as the "Gray Ladies." Nancy Fleming Wadley (Mrs. Frederick), Colorado A, is chairman of the Staff Assistants Corps of the Denver Red Cross division.

Marjorie Lavington has been active with the "Gray Ladies" for over three years. She also took a prominent part in the early organization of the U.S.O. recreational centers in Denver. When Nancy Wadley isn't busy training or assigning office help for the many Denver Red Cross activities, one can always find her in her kitchen making cookies for the soldiers. Her "recreation" is helping to sponsor musical hours for the many thousands of soldiers located near Denver.

Much of the credit for these musical home programs for soldiers goes to Lucille Drinkwater Allen (Mrs. C. Walter)—Colorado A—who is one of the "pioneer" members of the local Civilian Military Hospitality Association that has sponsored cultural activities for service men in Denver. Through her influence, many prominent Denver homes are open each Thursday evening to the soldiers. Classical recorded music programs are played and light refreshments served. The local papers carry a list of the homes open each week.

Second row: Juliamary Hastings Howard (Mrs. Kendrick), Colorado A; Elva Adams Cauthorn (Mrs. Courtney), Colorado B; Margaret Curry Dumm (Mrs. Byron I.), Colorado A, Denver Alumnae Defense Chairman; Ann Kemp Littlefield, Colorado B; Jeanette Humphrey, Colorado A; and Jean Herres, New York A.*

Betty Oakes Barger (Mrs. Franklin), Colorado B, and Charleen Heath Dameron (Mrs. Richard), Colorado B, are both trained Braille teachers who are ready to teach the service men who come home with loss of eyesight. Fitzsimons Hospital, the world's largest army hospital, where many of the seriously wounded are being brought from all the fighting zones, is located on the outskirts of Denver.

Barbara Mack McKay (Mrs. C. Hall), Colorado B, is one of the early Nurses' Aides in Denver. She started her training in April, 1942, and now has over 625 hours to her credit. Barbara works at the Red Cross Blood Bank and at St. Anthony's Hospital. Jean Herres—New York A—is also active as a Nurses' Aide.

Jeanette Humphreys, Colorado A, spends many busy hours each week as a driver in the Red Cross motor corps. Ann Kemp Littlefield, Colorado B, is a staff car driver at Buckley Field.

Peggy Curry Dumm (Mrs. Byron), Colorado A, is the Pi Phi Alumnae Club defense chairman this year. Under her active leadership, many opportunities for service are made available to the Denver Alumnae. For the past two years an average of eight garments a month have been turned in by Pi Phi knitters. The alumnae knitting unit was organized last year by Wilda Wallace Derryberry (Mrs. Charles), Colorado A. Elva Adams Cauthorn (Mrs. Courtney), Colorado B, and Muryl Doherty Allison (Mrs. Charles), Colorado A, are active members of the knitting group.

Another active group of Pi Phi alums make surgical dressings once a week. Betty Jane Hughart Larsen (Mrs. Richard), Colorado B, who is the president of the Denver Alumnae Club, and Mildred Daniels McCarthy (Mrs. John), Colorado B, are members of this group. The Pi Phi A.W.V.S. sewing group spend three hours each week at one of the local hospitals mending, making surgical aprons, baby blankets, etc. This group was originally organized by Alberta Seal White (Mrs. J. Herschel), Colorado A, as a Red Cross sewing unit. Last year the group made many of the Red Cross garments. When the Red Cross material became limited and the civilian needs increased this fall, the group became an A.W.V.S. unit. Gertrude Thielen Whatley (Mrs. Barney), Colorado A, is now the chairman. Alberta White is now a Red Cross Staff Assistant.

A voluntary Blood Bank for Pi Phis has been organized in cooperation with the local Red Cross with Margaret Owen Gittings

(Mrs. Clark), Colorado A, as chairman. Margaret is also assisting with admissions at the Colorado General Hospital.

Over 1,000 soldiers from nearby camps were served on Pi Phi night at the Denver U.S.O. center last winter. Muryl Doherty Allison (Mrs. Charles), Colorado A, last year's alumnae defense chairman, arranged the successful evening. Juliamary Hastings Howard (Mrs. Kendrick), Colorado A, is an active leader in the local Red Cross Canteen work.

Pi Phi alumnae who are serving with the civilian military associations or with the Red Cross units in Denver, were the honored guests at a luncheon meeting of the Denver Alumnae Club recently. The accompanying pictures were taken on that occasion.

Seniors, Attention

Women who are seniors in college may now enlist as officer candidates for the WAVES and SPARS and remain on inactive duty until they have been graduated.

In principle, the plan is similar to the Navy's V-7 deferred service program for upperclass college men. Selected officer candidates will be sent to training school after their college studies are completed.

Candidates should contact the nearest Naval Officer Procurement office after securing a statement from the registrar or dean of their schools, certifying that upon graduation at a specified date they will have the necessary educational qualifications for officer training, and after receiving an endorsement from a faculty committee that they are outstanding in scholarship and extracurricular activities.

All colleges and universities are being asked to designate a faculty committee which will be authorized to furnish the required endorsements and which will be equipped with full information on the enlistment procedure.

Does Her Bit for the Red Cross

WHERE CAN I get married?" "Can I study for my exams in here?" "Would you mind doing a little shopping for me—I want to get my wife a birthday present?" "What can I do about my laundry?" "Where can I shower and freshen up before my date?"

These are a few of the questions and requests that come to the Red Cross volunteers in charge of the five Courtesy Bureaus for officers, at the Palace, St. Francis, Francis Drake, Fairmont, and Mark Hopkins Hotels, in San Francisco. All are under the direction of Florence Ziegenfuss Briggs, California B, and among her assistants is Wilma Grace Logan, also California B. The first bureau, in the Palace Hotel, opened in April, 1942, the first one of its kind in the country, and since then, as Mrs. Briggs says, "we have done strictly utilitarian things—shopping, sightseeing, telling them where to go, what to do, where to eat. In February we served 5,173 officers and their wives. The Bureaus are open from 11 A.M. to 9 P.M., through the perfect cooperation of the five hotels, and WAVES, WAACs, SPARs, Merchant Marine officers, Army and Navy nurses, all are welcome to use the service."

The Editor of the ARROW was with Mrs. Briggs one day when an officer came in with a request for a set of magazines for a ship about to go to sea—he left happy, with the information he needed to get them—all in the day's work for the faithful volunteers who arrange weddings, sign wills, send packages, mend socks.

And far from incidentally, Mrs. Briggs' husband, Dr. LeRoy Hewitt Briggs, is technical supervisor of the Red Cross Blood Procurement Center.

Judith Evelyn

By MARY ELIZABETH LASHER, Ohio A

(We regret that we have no picture to go with this.)

THAT FINAL hush settled over the audience as the curtain in the Golden Theater, just off Broadway, drew back and "Angel Street," starring Judith Evelyn, Manitoba A, began. The play, which is in its second season, is Miss Evelyn's first New York production, and New York critics have been consistently favorable in their comments regarding it.

Although the reactions of the audience as it struggled with Miss Evelyn, as Mrs. Maningham, in her fight for sanity against the maniacal intentions of her stage husband, Vincent Price, would make a story in themselves, this is not a tale of the stage, but rather of the backstage.

A steep flight of stairs takes one to a small gray dressing room whose walls are plastered with pictures and telegrams, among which, prominently displayed, are congratulatory messages from Pi Phi chapters and alumnae clubs. Here clad in a simple gray jumper and blouse and still removing her make-up, Miss Evelyn declared that instead of being exhausted after the emotional strain of the play, she really felt exhilarated.

With that brief comment she dismissed

"Angel Street," which has made her that most glamorous of all things, a Broadway star, and began to talk about Pi Phi, the thrill of initiation, especially since she was a charter member of Manitoba A, and Pi Phi friends. She spoke of her friend, Isabel Clark, Assistant to the Grand President, asked about the Settlement School, mentioned her admiration for Miss Onken, and expressed the wish that her work were not such that it kept her from active participation in sorority work.

Although the audience perhaps was not aware that it was applauding more than an extremely fine actress, who had given it an unusual evening's entertainment, it was also applauding a very real person. Tall and slender, not beautiful, but possessed of a warm personality and a grace which draws both audiences and friends, Canadian Judith Evelyn is the kind of Pi Phi, who makes other Pi Phis proud to be one.

And as we go to press comes word that Judith Evelyn has been chosen by the Fashion Academy in a poll of leading dress designers as the best dressed lady of the stage!

Holt House

THE Monmouth Alumnae Club and the Holt House committee have suffered a great loss in the recent death of Adaline Ward Barnum (Mrs. Lester Edward), Iowa A. A member of the local committee which superintended the restoration of the Holt House by the Fraternity, Mrs. Barnum gave to it much loving thought and probably too much hard work—but the lovely house must have delighted her when she saw the finished result. Mrs. Barnum's name will always be associated with Holt House, and the pleasure of the meetings with her will long be cherished by Grand Council and the Holt House committee.

It is a happy thought that she lived to see the furniture which came to the house from Ida Jamieson Matthias, Washington A, installed in its beautiful setting, with the crowning touch of the fine piano loaned by Monmouth College.

Some happy day when gas rationing ends and Pi Phis can take to the road again, a visit to Monmouth will well repay those who make the journey.

Los Angeles Gray Ladies

The Gray Ladies of Pi Phi

The men really mean a Pi Phi Gray Lady, for the Recreation Hut on the Hospital Grounds is the local project of the Los Angeles Pi Phi Alumnae Club, and is staffed entirely by Red Cross Gray Ladies recruited from Pi Phi.

On June 11 of this year, the Los Angeles Chapter of Red Cross joins with Pi Beta Phi in celebrating the second anniversary of the founding of the Recreation Hut. It is a happy anniversary. Just two years ago, Mrs. Frances Jeffries, President of the Los Angeles Pi Phi Alumnae Club, organized this project, and thirty-four members took the Red Cross Gray Lady course to qualify for the work with the veterans of World War I, who are stationed at Sawtelle.

Of the original thirty-four, who scrubbed and polished and installed furniture for the opening of the hut two years ago, thirty are still active, and an additional fifty have been added to this group, all Pi Phi alumnae.

The activities have increased also. In addition to the Hut for Veterans, there is a large headquarters room for the recreation of soldiers of this present war, who are stationed on the grounds. Four smaller recreation rooms have been created at four outlying anti-aircraft batteries.

Of course, it is much gayer in the recreation rooms where the young soldiers spend their off-duty hours. However, the Gray Ladies do not forget that the veterans of Sawtelle are their first consideration. So many are sad, hopeless men, driftwood broken and cast aside by the fury of the last war. These men need friends. They need the feeling of home, and most of all they need laughter. There is nothing more heart-warming than the laughter which rings out in the homelike recreation hut when the Gray Ladies visit with the men. Mrs. Leila O'Flaherty, Mrs. Dennis H. Grady, Mrs. Lucius Perkins, and many others work there long hours every week under the direction of Mrs. Peter Young, Vice-Chairman of Red Cross Gray Ladies.

They type letters by the hundreds for the men. They copy theses and lectures on every subject under the sun. They plan games and listen to confidences. They do anything and everything they can for the comfort of the veterans of Sawtelle.

At Christmas time parties were given for all the men in the various recreation rooms. Men stationed at Anti-Aircraft Batteries cancelled their leave in order to be on hand for the Gray Ladies' Christmas party.

The big Headquarters Recreation room is the mecca for all soldiers stationed at Sawtelle. It looks like an enormous hotel lounge, and is managed under strict military supervision, with Mrs. William L. Tatom, as Chairman of a Co-ordinating Committee which handles all problems. Mrs. Willis Palmer, Jr., and many others assist Mrs. Tatom.

They are called upon to do the strangest things. They have made and frosted wedding cakes for camp weddings. Mrs. Tatom has been matron of honor at one of the four weddings in the recreation room. At one time she fed a soldier's sick wife three meals a day for a week, at another time an emergency call came for a Gray Lady to help a soldier's wife, whose baby was being born prematurely. They are prepared for anything.

The story of the Gray Ladies of Sawtelle is the story of Red Cross, and it is also the story of Pi Phi. We are indeed proud of the two year record maintained by Pi Phi Gray Ladies, and this is only the beginning.

Flight of the Corbin Arrow

By LAHOMA VINCENT CURRAN, Oklahoma B

OKLAHOMA BETA will never be the same again! When the next school year rolls around the name of CORBIN, at least of the Stillwater family, will not appear on the rolls of the chapter! Since the fall of 1927, when Edelweiss, the oldest of the five Corbin girls, was pledged, there has not been a year when one of the Corbin sisters was not active in the chapter, either as a pledge or as a member, and when we say active, we mean really doing things not only for Oklahoma B, but also for Pi Beta Phi. They haven't stopped doing things, either, just because most of them are out of school, for Pi Phi is really a part of the daily life of every member of the family, and this includes Mrs. W. W. Corbin, their mother, and their two brothers, who married Pi Phis. Oklahoma B is proud of them as individuals and as members and feels that their contribution to their chapter and their fraternity is great enough to become a record of some kind.

The flight of the Arrow began in the Corbin household just two years after the family moved from their extensive cattle ranch in Southern Oklahoma to Stillwater, the home of Oklahoma B, to be near Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College for the education of the family of seven children. The Corbin name was already known on the campus when Edelweiss came to school, but to tell the story of the fame of Carlton and Murray Corbin, her two older brothers, would be to steal the thunder of B  $\Theta$  II, their Fraternity.

After competing with every women's organization on the campus for Edelweiss, Pi Phi was indeed proud to pin the wine and blue ribbons on the excited 16 year old girl. The story of her social popularity is still a legend among the boys who immediately began rushing her for dates and social affairs. However, she still found time to enter into many campus affairs, her most outstanding work being in dramatics, which brought her membership in the Players' Club. All of this time, until the exigencies of war prevented, she has never missed a rushing season at Oklahoma B, and always managed to get back to see her sisters initiated.

Corabell, who was initiated in 1931, was not one to let her sister's brilliant career dim her own. Starting in her freshman year, she entered zealously into everything on the campus, laying a solid foundation for the following years. Her scholastic honors were many, including among others, membership in X  $\Delta$   $\Phi$ , in which she served as treasurer. For Oklahoma B she served as a successful rush captain, as representative on Panhellenic Council of which she was secretary, and finally, to crown her achievements, as President of Pi Beta Phi in her senior year. Although her social activities were great before the war, she now devotes her time to the Red Cross, the Eastern Star of which she is Worthy Matron, and the Women's Faculty Club, having served twice as president in the three years she has been a member.

Frances, affectionately called "Snooks" by her family and friends, who was initiated in 1934, carried the Corbin banner high, being also a member of  $\Phi$  A  $\Theta$  and II  $\Gamma$  M. In her senior year, although married and making a home for her husband, Phil C. Bennett, K  $\Sigma$  (son of the President of Oklahoma A. & M. College), she made a straight A average while carrying 21 hours of work—when 15 is the average load. She has been President of the Stillwater Alumnae Club and on the Oklahoma B Advisory Board in her spare (?) time. When her husband's (Major Bennett now) work took them to Washington, D.C., she was an active member of the American Women's Voluntary Service, working at the canteen and at the hospital.

Robertellen was initiated in 1938 and soon became Aquatic Beauty Queen of the college. Although she finished the normal four year course in three years, she was Rush Captain for Oklahoma B and served on the Panhellenic Council. She is now Kappa Province Scholarship Supervisor. Although these activities leave her little time for War work she serves four hours each Sunday as hostess in the Entertainment Quarters for Service Men and Women and devotes one evening in the week to Red Cross Work.

Mary Jo, the baby of the family, had the pleasure of being greeted by her four older sisters when she was initiated in 1941. Graduation this spring will end a busy three years in college into which she has crowded the normal four-year course. Her activities included serving as President of the Arts and Science Student Council, President of Player's Club, President of Peppers Club, and on the Panhellenic Council, Campus Editor of the student paper for one year, as well as being active in the Speakers' Club and various other organizations and taking the lead in many of the college dramatic productions. In Oklahoma B she served as Rush Captain and Sports Chairman. Her major is Speech and Dramatics and she plans to enter some field in this profession upon graduation if she does not continue her dramatic studies at another institution.

She is finishing her college work at the age of nineteen.

Despite all the individual attainments of the Corbin girls, Pi Phis from 1927 to 1943 know that where the ARROW found its real home was in the heart of Mrs. W. W. Corbin, the mother of the fabulous Corbins, who, despite the death of Mr. Corbin in 1932 as the result of an automobile accident, has nevertheless inspired her children and all who know her.

Though the Corbin saga may be closed on the active rolls of Oklahoma B, the chapter knows that the Corbins can always be depended upon to give whatever is required to further the interests of Oklahoma B and of Pi Beta Phi, and that Oklahoma B and Pi Beta Phi will never forget the Corbins!

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by MARJORIE BRIGHT SHARPE, Texas A

FRANCES COOKE MACGREGOR, Twentieth Century Indians, G. P. Putnam's Sons, 127 pp.

The underlying theme of Twentieth Century Indians provides a fitting and timely exemplification of America's four freedoms. Authentic and dramatic photographs, revealing various phases of Indian life are accompanied and complemented with simple and sympathetic text.

The saga of the vanishing American has been told many times, but Mrs. MacGregor by a different approach and painstaking efforts probes the Indian soul. She sheds fresh light on a subject often misunderstood by many interested people.

With the world at war, man's basic and fundamental requirements for a better way of life have assumed more significant proportions to rightful thinking people. Freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from fear, and freedom from want—embody the core of current Indian problems. It is the solving of these problems that become more understandable by the book's perusal.

Indian habits, abodes, customs, and beliefs are at variance with those of other Americans. With a twentieth century point of view, the author stresses that the redman should be guided and directed instead of forced or driven. She explains their restless, nomadic instincts as part and parcel of their everyday existence. Their inherent love of nature accounts for them spending most of their waking hours in the great outdoors.

It is gratifying to discover that instead of decreasing in number the Indian is on the increase. Pitiably, unsanitary and unhealthful conditions among them still exist in this land of plenty. The schooling of their children, the harnessing of their manpower, and the preservation of their inimitable craftsmanship offer a distinct challenge to those concerned with their future welfare.

Systematic research went hand in hand with Mrs. MacGregor's penetrating camera—the net result being a book noteworthy in achievement and rich in flavor. Its unique format is entirely in keeping with its subject—embodying all the love and vigor which went into its making.

WHAT THE REVIEWERS SAY: Boston Herald, "Books and Authors . . ." Certainly the chief glory of her book is the range of photographs, displaying myriad phases of

Frances Cooke MacGregor

Indian life and revealing beautifully the struggles, hardships, and aspirations of the original Americans. No one could have produced such a book without faith in a truly united America, where all persons, white, red and black will have equal opportunity.

FRANCES COOKE MACGREGOR and ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, This Is America. G. P. Putnam's Sons.

Depicting the town of Hingham, Mass., as a typically American community, the MacGregor-Roosevelt duo have produced an admirable piece of Americana. The former employs her photographic prowess with illuminating results, while the latter pens pertinent and pictorial prose.

Bringing to life America's special brand of democracy, the co-authors have pressed their point reservedly yet graphically. The United States is displayed as a polyglot nation, composed of people of varying creeds and colors.

"United we stand, divided we fall" assumes true significance. In these pressing times a concentrated effort on everyone's part is tantamount to ultimate victory. The book embodies all this and more, too.

Such simple, everyday experiences as stocking the family larder (a life's work in itself what with presentday rationing), seeing children off to school, greeting the postman, frequenting a shoe repair shop—spring to life. The homes we live in, the churches we attend, the sports in which we indulge, and the war work we do are included also.

At the outset, a cross section of America is shown, delineating typical people, climates and customs.

As an example of Uncle Sam's and his co-workers' ruggedness and perseverance, This Is America is a must for every patriot's library.

WHAT THE REVIEWERS SAY: New York Herald Tribune Books . . . "Photograph books of America having infinite variety in choice of subjects, have so exercised this power in the past that no two have been alike nor any one negligible. This one strikes out a new line altogether and achieves unity and beauty all its own. The purpose, so plain as to appeal to anyone old or young, is to present our country in the two aspects necessary to an understanding of our essential characteristics—unity and diversity. . . . It shows a land worth living, a life worth fighting for."

AUTHOR INTEREST: Frances Cooke MacGregor, California B. was graduated from the University of California in 1927. Her husband, Gordon MacGregor, is an anthropologist. They have lived in Honolulu, Boston, Europe, San Francisco, within a nine year span. They are now making their home on a ranch in Denver, Colorado.

She is continuing her work in photographic documentation, though the rubber shortage has curtailed many former activities.

In writing of This Is America, she says, "With Mrs. Roosevelt I endeavored to make a documentary study of an average American town which would be an interpretation of the American way of life and which would prove that the democratic way was worth preserving in spite of Hitler and his colleagues."

In 1938 she was commissioned by the Department of Interior to photograph various Indian reservations.

For four years she traveled extensively gathering her material. In the foreword to Twentieth Century Indians, Dr. Clark Wissler, curator of anthropology, American Museum of Natural History, writes, "Since Mrs. MacGregor is a photographer with a touch of genius, the result is a book of unique fascination. Without sentimentality, or special pleading she brings the Indian of today to abundant life."

DORIS KENT LEBLANC, Dear to This Heart. G. P. Putnam's Sons, 282 pp.

The reader will find a warm spot in his heart for this delightful sentimental novel of the deep south. On a magic word-carpet he will be whisked away to Avenel, Mississippi, a typical small town replete with prim school teachers, gossip-mongers, rascals, and just plain folk. It is the last mentioned category about which Mrs. LeBlanc is most concerned. With a complete understanding of her characters, she weaves a splendidly natural story.

It is John, the little cripple boy, who holds the center of the stage from the outset. His actions and reactions remain true to characterization. It is a well-earned victory for both him and his fictional creator when happiness is ultimately achieved.

Orphaned at an early age, he goes to live with his Aunt May and Uncle Charlie. He idolizes his twin cousins, Tim and Tony. The latter are as different from him as night is from day. The twins are antagonistic, one to the other. They do, however, reciprocate John's admiration.

Throughout his childhood and adolescence John quietly helps solve the problems of those he loves. Like Browning's Pippa Passes he spreads cheer and good will wherever he goes. Aunt May once said of him, "People sensitive to suffering are sensitive to happiness, too."

It is fitting when college days are over that he returns to Avenel. It is then too he takes a place in Uncle Charlie's mercantile store. Tim and Tony return momentarily—when disaster threatens to overtake them. The love interest is handled adroitly with the "little girl next door" finding a logical way to show John she really cares.

For a generous sprinkling of homespun philosophy coupled with a keen sense of drama and pathos, read Dear to This Heart. It is sure to please.

AUTHOR INTEREST: Doris Kent LeBlanc, Louisiana A, was born in Kentwood, Louisiana, a lumber town which might well have provided the pattern for Avenel. "This is the deep south," writes Mrs. LeBlanc, "but in character distinctly different from the plantation country of either Mississippi or Louisiana. The native strain is decidedly English and the characters, while wholly fictitious, are the people you find in whatever small town you know—gimlet-eyed, long-tongued, hard-headed, warm-hearted, free-handed—the salt of the earth."

Before her marriage to Frank V. LeBlanc, she worked as a reporter and special feature for the New Orleans Times Picayune. In 1937 she collaborated with her brother, the late Captain Walter C. Kent, on "Wings for China," which appeared in the Atlantic Monthly shortly after the bombing of Shanghai.

She now lives in New Orleans and combines writing with managing a household, consisting of her husband, a daughter of high school age, and a Boston terrier.

A Pledge's Thoughts

By KATHLEEN GAMMELL, Arkansas A

I might have traveled a lonely path
Through this my first year.
Sometimes the way has been rocky,
Sometimes I have plucked thorns,
And not infrequent tears have reached my eyes.

You see, to myself I'll admit how scared I was,
How stiff my smile at those parties,
How shaky my knees down the lines.
I spoke and listened but underneath
My heart was as cold as frost.
How long that week—how full,
And at last the night—could I have heard right?
I must because their hearts heard mine.

They welcomed me with the others,
Their friendly smiles were warm,
And soon it was I was settled
And my school life had begun.
I found it not always easy
To be away from home,
There were times my thoughts would wander
And an ache would fill my throat.
And then it was they came,
A laughing lilt to their voice
And easy word—a happy laugh,
And somehow my ache was gone.

I have been aware of something lacking,
Something missing in my life.
I've found myself searching
And always alert
As though listening for words
That never would come.
One night I found them.
I stood in candlelight before a group
And heard my lost words.
I gained a peace that night,
A peace whose earthly form
Was my pledge pin.
Close it has always been to me.
Shared every class—and every date.
Hard times, and gay ones too,
It is a part of me.

Soon, though, I shall lose my pledgeship.
My pin will become an arrow
Brave with pearls and proud.
Again I'll stand in candlelight
But something I must know
Before I do. Am I worthy? Am I willing?
Willing to give of myself, of my time, of my heart?
Worthy—to wear this symbol of fraternity.
I want to be. I must be, I think I am.
One thing I'm sure. No word of mine
Nor action—shall tarnish my arrow,
Or Pi Beta Phi.

PI PHI PERSONALITIES

Edited by GLADYS WARREN, North Dakota A

Ellen Mildred Bailey, Missouri Alpha

Ellen Bailey was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1938 with majors in Spanish and English.

After graduation she was employed by the

Ellen Mildred Bailey and Brother William

Houston Community Chest as assistant to the publicity director.

Ellen Bailey was one of the first ten young women selected in Texas for officer training at Fort Des Moines. She was graduated and commissioned a third officer (or 2nd Lt.) on September 11, 1942. On October 25, 1942, she was assigned to duty at the Second WAAC training center at Daytona Beach, Florida, and on December 24 was promoted to the rank of first officer (or Captain). Ellen is now stationed in Washington, D.C.

Christmas Day was a very happy one for the Baileys—Ellen and her brother William were both promoted to captains on that day.

Ercilia Kiler Voss, Illinois Zeta

Ercilia Kiler Voss (Mrs. Frederick J.), is "back at her profession," that of teaching Spanish. There are several South American officers at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, where Ercilia's husband is stationed, and upon learning that language fluently, call:

They were thrilled to find an American woman who spoke their language.

Ercilia Voss' neighbors became so interested, they asked her to teach them Spanish, so she has a class of fourteen "students"—wives of officers at Ft. Sill. Needless to say, there are a great many who desire to enter the class, but "the teacher" has confined the enrollment to fourteen since that is the number of textbooks available.

Allece Locke, Oklahoma Alpha

Allece Locke while in college was chapter secretary, president of University Players, was awarded "Buffalo Mask"—honorary award in dramatics, Mortar Board, and Indian Queen.

She took postgraduate work at the University of Mexico. Spent one summer sitting in on rehearsals at the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York City, and traveled extensively on the east and west coasts and in Mexico and Canada, observing theater technique. Taught speech in Oklahoma City.

At the time of her appointment as Principal Hostess at Service Club No. 1, Camp Gruber, Oklahoma, she was head of the speech department at Harding Junior High School, Oklahoma City. The Service Club unit includes a cafeteria, library and large social hall in one building, and a guest house which is a small hotel for the accommodation of friends and relatives of the enlisted men. There are three other hostesses.

Allece Locke is surely kept busy every minute for she is responsible for making out camp contacts—with civic organizations to arrange transportation for girls who attend unit dances at the Club, arranges radio programs, Little Theatre programs, and the hundred and one duties which a Principal Hostess of a Service Club must do.

With Pi Phis around Camp Gruber, and the Commanding General and Camp Commander all cooperating, Allece Locke is making a huge success of Service Club No. 1.

Margaret Thompson

Margaret Thompson, California Gamma

Margaret Thompson was just plain Private Margaret Thompson, a hard-working Gray Lady in the Hospital and Recreation Corps of the American Red Cross. She talked to the Army boys, she wrote letters for them and she attended to the many errands an Army man has not sufficient time for.

She has been a Gray Lady for more than a year. The Army men whom she has served so faithfully and dutifully rewarded her in the best way they knew how—they made her an Honorary First Sergeant. The order reads, "In view of the outstanding devotion to duty of Private Margaret Thompson . . . officers and men of this command do hereby appoint Private Thompson honorary first sergeant attached to . . ."

Margaret serves in one of the Recreational Centers and there is nothing that the Army officers and men could have said or given her to mean more than "first sergeant."

Marjorie F. Osborn

Marjorie F. Osborn, California Alpha

Believed to be the first Governor's daughter (Arizona) to enter any of the armed services, Marjorie F. Osborn, personnel worker, was accepted in the WAVES on March 4, 1943, for officer's training.

Marjorie Osborn is a graduate of Scripps College and Stanford University. A three-month indoctrination course at Smith College will precede her assignment for wartime duty.

Jeannette C. Edwards, Illinois Zeta

Third Officer Jeannette C. Edwards is upholding a family tradition of distinguished military service. She was the second volunteer from Southern California to enroll as an auxiliary in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, and rose from the ranks to attend Officer Candidate School at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, and be commissioned a third officer in the first women's army of the United States.

Jeannette Edwards is the fifth in her family to join the service—her father, now retired, was with the military intelligence staff during World War I. During the Spanish-American War, he was decorated with the silver star for bravery at the Battle of San Juan Hill. Her grandfather served in the Crimean and Civil Wars, and two of her cousins have important military offices in this war; Colonel Jesse Green, now on overseas duty, and Lieutenant Colonel John Coleman, a West Point graduate now commanding a flight squadron in Texas.

In addition to attending Illinois, Jeannette went to Los Angeles Business Preparatory School. She was chief clerk in WAAC administration before being selected to be among the first 125 auxiliaries to attend O.C. school. Upon receiving her gold bars, she worked with the operations section of administrative specialists' school at Fort Des Moines. She is now in Operations Section of Second WAAC Training Center, Daytona Beach, Florida, performing the same duties.

Kathleen McClure, Iowa Gamma

Kathleen McClure was one of eight girls chosen from 3500 applicants in Southern California for the first officers' training school at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, beginning July 20, 1942, in the WAACs. On August 29, 1942, Kathleen was commissioned a third officer (2nd Lt.) to do recruiting work in the State of Tennessee with headquarters at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. On December 24—the day before Christmas—Kathleen was promoted to 1st Lieutenant.

Marian L. Spaulding, Massachusetts Alpha

Marian Spaulding, or "Spudsie" as she is known to her more intimate friends, was in Japan for three years as a Contract Teacher, and returned to the United States in August of 1940. She then went south and received her master's degree at Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee.

While at Camp Blanding, Florida, as Recreational Director in the Red Cross Hospital, she was appointed to foreign service, and on February 18 of this year, sailed from New York for Ireland, where she is now doing recreational work in a Red Cross Hospital "somewhere in Ireland."

Marian Spaulding has a small office from which she gives out books to ambulatory patients. She has a "book trolley" which she wheels through the wards and helps the patients pick out books. She also has a baby piano, which she also wheels into the ward. Marian is a fine pianist and has a repertoire ranging from classics to swing and plans to organize concerts from talent available among convalescents.

From Joliet, Illinois, we hear: Marjorie Caton Pyle (Mrs. Thomas V.), Illinois B-Δ, was graduated from Lombard College at Galesburg, Illinois, in 1916 and since her college days has been a resident of Joliet, the city in which she was born.

For many years she has been connected with financial institutions and is now associated with the Oliver Realty Company.

At the outset of the rationing program she was appointed by Mayor George T. Jones as a member of the Will County Board. The second honor came to her with the appointment by Charles Reardon, chairman of the Will County War Bond Drive, to the chairmanship of the woman's committee for the sale of war bonds and stamps. Mrs. Pyle has also been appointed as a member of the Will County Defense Council and is a member of the county's Victory Committee.

Anita de Monseigle, North Carolina Alpha, Wave

Anita de Monseigle

Anita de Monseigle was graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1937—and was Delegate to Convention in 1936.

After completing the officer candidates' course at Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, Anita will be commissioned an Ensign.

Prior to her entrance into the Service, Anita de Monseigle taught for two years in the Asbury Park, New Jersey, high school, and was also social investigator for the Monmouth County Welfare Board.

A Toledo Personality in War Time

Mrs. Kenneth Dixon (Helen Christen), Michigan B, is fitted by early experience in the advertising and publicity fields for her present position as Public Information Director, Toledo Chapter, American Red Cross.

Her work entails handling of all public relations for the chapter, and also all publicity. This involves the preparation of all types of newspaper publicity, much work in radio, in fact the preparation of material for all the media used by the group in making known its efforts and accomplishments. She is a member of the Red Cross Speakers Bureau, and is often called upon to lecture before various city groups.

Edna McCarter is in Co. 1, 2nd Reg., WAAC, Des Moines, Iowa, has completed her basic training, and is now in the Administrative School there. She is a graduate of the Settlement School and was formerly assistant at Arrowcraft.

Pi Phi Secretarial Students

Five Pi Phis are students in the Washington School for Secretaries and are being taught by a Pi Phi.

Twelve of the national college sororities are represented in the student body of this school, but Pi Phis constitute the largest group.

These girls are training to be not WAACs or WAVES but thoroughly efficient secretaries to fill the calls for help which are received daily from a waiting list of employers, and are so contributing to the war effort.

Anne M. Dorsey, Missouri A, Evanston, Illinois, recently commissioned as an ensign in the WAVES, has been assigned to the WAVES procurement office in Des Moines, Iowa. She will handle recruiting and interviewing in the office. Before entering the Navy, Ensign Dorsey was an advertising copywriter for three agencies in Chicago. She attended Missouri University, Washington University, St. Louis, and Northwestern University, from where she secured her B.S. degree in 1938.

Lucille McClelland Catlett, Maryland A, of Owingsville, Kentucky, is an Ensign in the WAVES.

Roberta Kleinsmid

Roberta Kleinsmid, California T, of Phoenix, Arizona, is now serving the country as an Ensign in the U. S. Navy. She is now stationed at the Naval Station at Corpus Christi, Texas.

Her address is Ensign Roberta Kleinsmid, T.S.—18—A—N.A.S., Corpus Christi, Texas.

BONNIE BETH BYLER, Lepanto, Ark., Arkansas Alpha, 1943 Maid of Cotton.

ANNE SWIFT, attractive president of Massachusetts Alpha was announced as co-ed colonel at the Scabbard and Blade's annual Military Ball, December 11, on the stroke of midnight in the Imperial ballroom of the Hotel Statler. Selected as Gamma Delta girl to represent the typical B.U. co-ed, Anne added to her fame as the first wartime co-ed colonel. She is also social chairman of the Women's Athletic Association, a Panhellenic Delegate, and on the Hub staff, the Boston University yearbook.

Of Social Honor Girls

THIS YEAR we again present the girls who have been honored on their campuses for qualities of leadership and popularity, linked with fine service to their colleges. We wish we might have used every picture which came in—but always there are some which cannot be used for lack of clearness or reproducing quality, always there are one or two which come in without names, or without honors named—sometimes we are good enough detectives to ferret out the mystery, more often not. This year besides we must consider economy, so we have been forced into the hard task of choosing from those sent in only a few, much as we hate to disappoint the chapters which responded so loyally—this year we had pictures from 54 chapters. We think you will be proud of these girls!

ARROWCRAFT SHOWINGS AT ART MUSEUMS

Dallas Museum of Fine Arts

"Do the mountaineers make their own designs, or does Pi Phi tell them what to weave?" "Is the thread dyed by the mountaineers with native herbs?" "Where did they get such lovely, soft, and unusual color combinations?"—these and many similar questions met the hostesses from the Dallas Alumnae Club at every turn, as they explained to visitors just what the Pi Beta Phi Settlement School was, and how the lovely articles, which were now so beautifully arranged in this large exhibit room at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, were made under Pi Phi's supervision and sold through Arrowcraft.

An invitation extended by Jerry Bywaters, Art Director of the Museum, to hold this exhibition was enthusiastically accepted by the Settlement School Committee, Arrowcraft, and the Dallas Alumnae Club. Under the leadership of Delia Hines Stephens, and Mary McLarry Bywaters, co-chairmen, both Texas B, a committee hung the walls with bright coverlets, soft-colored shawls, lovely woolen goods, Aunt Lizzie's jean cloth, and specially designed wall hangings. Towels, purses, ties, carved wooden animals and metal ware in two glass cases held the interest of children and adults, alike. And the artistic photographs of Dorothy MacLean, of Gatlinburg, hung at eye-level, gave an intimate picture of the men and women who had made this unusual handicraft.

Opening Sunday, March 14, a large audience gathered in the Museum auditorium to see moving pictures taken last summer at the School, and to hear Ula Milner Gregory, Louisiana A, give a most interesting commentary. This "double feature" was again enjoyed the following Friday when the alumnae club entertained as guests representatives from the college and city Panhellenic groups, members of Texas Beta chapter and their mothers. Tea was served by Daisy Wallace Steineger, Missouri Γ, and her committee from a table on which "ma" and "pappy" dolls from the Smokies sat in Arrowcraft doll-chairs on a hand-woven runner.

Each Sunday afternoon during the month's exhibit, members of the alumnae club served as hostesses in the exhibit room, and the films were shown in the auditorium to interested museum visitors. That some were also buyers was most welcome; but the significant fact was that Arrowcraft articles were acknowledged by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts and the visitors as a worthy exponent of the finest in art and handicraft.

Brooks Memorial Art Gallery, Memphis, Tenn.

In another city, Arrowcraft came into its own as an example of artistic handicraft. At Memphis, Tennessee, Mrs. Louise B. Clark, Director of the Brooks Memorial Art Gallery, in the largest gallery, held a month's exhibit of Arrowcraft, articles from Pendleton, and Brasstown. La Delle Allen Mitchell, Arkansas A, for many years Director of Arrowcraft, assisted with the selection and arrangement for Pi Beta Phi. With coverlets and woven rugs hanging on the walls; baskets and brooms arranged on either side of the attractive fireplace; tables covered with towels, purses, knitting bags; two step-ladder exhibits of shawls and luncheon sets; with tables of pewter and metalware at one end of the hall, and of large wooden carved animals at the other end—this exhibit brought nine hundred admirers to see it on Opening Day. Sales have been so numerous that three re-orders of Arrowcraft articles have already been made.

The Arrow at Gatlinburg

The golden arrow of Pi Beta Phi is well-known to the students at the Settlement School, as many of the teachers, now and in the past, have worn it. These members of our fraternity have recognized their unusual privilege to serve Pi Beta Phi, to be of help in the betterment of a sturdy, intelligent but poverty-handicapped people, and at the same time to gain a wealth of experience which will be of untold value in their future years.

Pi Phi at Gatlinburg

The camera has caught glimpses of these Pi Phi at Gatlinburg. Coming up the walk is Director Elizabeth Comstock Peck, California Beta. Two years ago she was an important member of a St. Louis advertising company, when Marie Hagee, former Settlement School Chairman, called her to head the staff of the Settlement School. In her new position, Mrs. Peck is winning and holding for Pi Beta Phi, the friendship of the community, as well as keeping the many intricate details of the huge system in order, although war conditions there, as in any other educational institution, cause serious problems.

And there by the vine-covered trellis at Arrowcraft Shop is Ethel Weaver Snow, Iowa  $\Gamma$ , Director of Arrowcraft. She journeyed from Mexico to Alaska with her mining engineer husband, and while in Butte, Mont., became interested in weaving under Mary Meggs Atwater. This interest brought her seven years ago to Gatlinburg where her knowledge of handicraft plus a very fine business ability has made Arrowcraft profits increase steadily each year. Mrs. Snow is President of the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club, to which some fourteen Pi Beta Phi members belong.

This year at Gatlinburg we find four wearers of the Arrow among the grade school teachers: Mary Hayward, Arizona A; Marilyn Abel, South Dakota A; Flora Belle De Witt Poore, Colorado A; and Pauline Whaley Huff, Illinois A. Mary Hayward is adored by her fourth graders for her ability to lead their singing and for her Girl Scout leadership; her attractive smile makes for popularity with everyone on the staff. An accomplished musician, Mary is in demand for many school and community entertainments.

Attractive Marilyn Abel can compete in almost any kind of sport, snowballing included, and came back this fall tanned from a summer sailing, surf-boarding and aquaplaning at Lake Okoboji, Iowa. She also likes to bowl, and leisure hours find her at the alleys in Gatlinburg. A collection of large carved rings vies for her attention with her class of first and second grade children.

Flora Belle Poore was Miss De Witt when she came to Gatlinburg two and a half years ago, to teach sixth grade. This fall she married John Poore, Arts and Crafts teacher at the School, and added to her teaching duties the keeping of an attractive home on Holly Ridge, overlooking the school grounds. Being a clever person, Flora Belle capably handles both jobs, and even maintains her fine sense of humor.

Pauline Whaley Huff returned to the staff this year after an absence of several years, to take the place left vacant when Doris Hatch, another Pi Phi, returned home because of her mother's illness. Pauline was a teacher at the Settlement School when she married Jack Huff in a ceremony on top of Mt. Le Conte, where they now operate a summer lodge. Mrs. Huff has taught a small pre-school group in her home for companionship for her son, Philip. She, too, demonstrates a wonderful ability to get things done by keeping house, teaching, and being expert at both.

These members are not the only ones who may benefit from this heart-warming service at Gatlinburg. Any Pi Beta Phi who can qualify as a teacher in the grade or high school is urged to make application for next year. With an acute teacher shortage in all rural communities, Gatlinburg is no exception, making more places available for Pi Phi members.

As Elizabeth Peck has written, "To all of you who are thinking of teaching, the school offers 'new horizons.' You will find it a School with all the atmosphere and charm of a country school—but with city school standards. You will make new Pi Phi friends, have a new and interesting experience, and enjoy teaching here—as every Pi Phi has enjoyed it, who has ever taught at the school.

"Salaries are adequate and living expenses are low and there are plenty of outside activities, horse back riding, hiking, bowling, Arts and Crafts classes, and Red Cross work." To teach in the elementary school, the applicant must be a graduate of a standard college, must have twenty quarter hours in Education and if possible, practice teaching in an elementary school. High school teachers must be graduates of a standard college, must have completed twenty-seven quarter hours in Education, and must have at least eighteen quarter hours in the subject to be taught.

Remember that while it is absolutely necessary that we assist in winning this war, it is also essential that we hold fast to the principles for which we are fighting. Education for all must continue to be an American goal. If you have educated yourself to be a teacher, do not throw away your training for a position which requires less of you than your best! Apply to the Settlement School, Gatlinburg, Tenn.

For Service Men

Miss Carolyn Delaney, as Pi Phi's representative on the Board of Governors of the New York City Panhellenic Club, has taken active part in planning a series of monthly tea dances for service men which were given this year at the Panhellenic headquarters, the Beekman Tower Hotel. First of the series was a large, gala party in the ball-room of the Beekman Tower on November 29. Each fraternity was assigned a quota for the dance and hostesses were arranged in that way.

Following the first event, one smaller, informal party was given each month by the Panhellenic in its Club Rooms at the Beekman Tower. In addition, the New York Alumnae Clubs of those fraternities which wished to do so, sponsored individual parties throughout the year.

The need for this type of entertainment is real in New York, where men from every branch of the American forces are stationed, as well as numerous Australians, Canadians, British and other nationalities who are in the city for a few days at a time.

A girl's thoughts are sometimes captured in her letters.

DEAR LUCY,

Have you heard? Phil was killed last week in A—. Gay, funny Phil, the most alive person I ever knew; it seems impossible. Remember how wonderful the boys looked in their new uniforms and those gorgeous wings? They have gone now—gone to end this despicable chaos which has overcome our little world.

Their part seems so large, and mine so small. But, Lucy, I have been thinking seriously lately (if you can imagine), and I have decided that the real reason for our being in school now is to become effective soldiers in the battle of reconstruction. Think of the opportunities which we have as college women to prevent a repetition of our previous mistakes, made through blind stupidity and lackadaisical attitudes toward our responsibilities. So in deadly earnest I am studying economics, history, and political science; and Betsy, mind you, spends half the day in the chem lab. Of course, we will probably be drudging housewives with fifteen children, but at least, we can be understanding, thinking citizens.

All the girls are taking Red Cross and Civilian Defense classes. It is fascinating to learn what makes "Lizzie's" purr. If preparation is half the battle, that we will have to the "nth" degree. And really, dear, helping at the USO is teaching me a wonderful lesson, that of not judging by external appearances only. Of course, some of the boys are impossible from the outside in, but others, the homeliest ones sometimes, have hearts of gold. Any girl meeting dear old Alex would classify him as a typical "goon" at first sight, but we all know how grand he is.

Jane's wedding is Friday. Oh, Lucy, if I married Bill only to have him leave ten days later, I would just die! But there are all sorts of ways to be happy and my way may not be best for everybody.

Darling, could you come down this weekend for the formal? Thank heavens, no matter how we may have changed in our thinking, we still have a place for frivolity and innocent pleasure. I do not feel a bit guilty about having dances and the like. Phil would have wanted us to be gay, I know, for that is part of the American way of life which he died to defend.

Lovingly,

June

P.S. Could I borrow your chubby for Homecoming?

Of Health

War is trying, but the fraternity woman of '43 must remember herself. She is a privileged character in that she is allowed a college education during this national crisis. At the same time, however, she has accepted a grave responsibility; she will be a vital factor in the rehabilitation of a demoralized world.

We, who have knowingly accepted this challenge, must remember ourselves in this chaotic maelstrom. We must exploit our potentialities, neglecting nothing. Neglecting nothing, but particularly our health. For without our health we are handicapped tremendously, and are unable to do that which we should otherwise have been capable of accomplishing.

Our chapter has learned its lesson in neglect of health. The first semester after Pearl Harbor, our girls were uneasy and restless. We ate poorly and indiscriminately, slept little, and played to an extreme in trying to throw off our uneasiness. By mid-semester time, eighty-three per cent of our girls had colds; three were in the university hospital—their cases diagnosed as nervous exhaustion. As a whole we were depressed, unhealthy, and unhappy. Scholarship took a downward swoop.

But we have now taken note of ourselves, and have benefited many fold from this unfortunate experience. We initiated a helpful health campaign. Late hours are discouraged; we are careful about our eating habits. We have intermittently, as the chapter feels the need, round table discussions as to the relation of college women to their national responsibilities; the isolation of goals, how to accomplish these goals, and the encouragement towards these goals. We are a happier, more worth while group of girls because of our newly organized health campaign.

JILL PECK, Kansas A

At college we realize that we will probably be of more use with a little bit of knowledge and common sense in our heads. At the first discussion period, the active chapter formulated a code which I know everyone is trying to carry out, and which I think shall be helpful to every person no matter how little they feel that they are doing for the war. It is: "I have a job to do, and let well done be its end."

YVONNE MOUNSEY, Nova Scotia A

Meditation

As she gazes into the fire and listens to the Scripture, singing, and poems at the weekly night watch in her fraternity house, all her worries and problems seem to diminish. The realization that there is a Higher Power controlling the affairs of the world restores her faith, and her future she accepts, not with resignation, but with a spirit of determination to meet the challenge and be a credit to herself, her fraternity, and her country.

WANDA MARSHALL, Iowa F

Of College in Wartime

DEAR MOM AND DAD:

It was so nice to hear that you are both feeling well. I worried a little about you, Mom, working so long in the Red Cross rooms, and you, Dad, working such long hours. I feel better and am studying harder than ever before—got another A in my last quiz, too.

It's about time that I confess how glad I am you talked me into coming back to college this fall. I was quite stubborn about going after that job at the training station, wasn't I? And it was hard to see the greater importance of finishing my college courses. I felt that going back to school was dodging my responsibilities as a patriotic American—and what a time you had convincing me that the future of America depends as much on college students as on defense workers. I don't feel that college in wartime is so useless, now that so many of my instructors have pointed out the relationships between my course and the war, and I feel like studying harder so that I will have the abilities my country is going to need in its young people. I don't feel that it is so useless since I have helped pack for shipment the bandages that the girls on this campus rolled last week, and realized that every week shipments of equal size have been going out. I've talked with the girls in the house—many of them faced the same problem I had, and have decided that we have a real contribution to make to the war effort.

We still have frivolous thoughts, too. Our pledge dance is this coming Friday—short on decorations but we'll make up for that by having twice as much fun. And had you heard why the moron pushed the cow over the cliff? He wanted to see the "Jersey Bounce." Must stop now and do some studying.

Love,
ELEANORA ARMS, Idaho A

In the past there has been much deliberation over the question of whether or not a girl, who will marry after completing college, is a good investment for all the money that must be put into her education. Now, however, there can be no question—every girl must realize that it is her own job to receive every possible benefit from her stay at college, that will aid in the tremendous adjustments that the whole world must inevitably meet.

It will be her part as a woman and a wife to bear the brunt of the pain and sacrifice that the men have met, and it will be she that must give them the courage and hope to come back to the reestablishment of their lives and society into a normal system of living. It is true, this will not be a simple job but it is a job that can be expected; so, college girls of 1942, prepare your defense of the future now!

NANCY AMES, Oregon A

This is a serious time and fraternities are placed in a precarious position because of added responsibilities. In order to survive they must put first things first and do away with all non-essentials. This is a time for sticking together, for united action and a belief in the ideals Pi Beta Phi stands for. But it is also a time to put aside all non-essential work so that we may better work to produce a strong fraternity and a free country. And I think as do the other members of District of Columbia A that we will come through with flying colors.

BETTY COLBURN,
District of Columbia A

On Practical Help

We have decided to help indirectly by taking care of the children of the Navy wives and townspeople, thereby releasing their mothers for Red Cross and Civilian Defense work. We also can be of service by keeping up the morale of the Naval cadets in training here. Our thoughts are no longer centered on dates and dances, but on preparing ourselves for worth while vocations in this present crisis and in the post-war uncertainty. We know that we should also keep ourselves physically fit in this time of emergency.

As direct contribution we can help with Red Cross work in our free time, and many of us are taking defense courses offered by the college. Our extra spending money no longer goes for a new dress but for defense bonds and stamps.

The fraternity girl realizes that now more than ever, fraternities are subject to much criticism as purely social organizations, and that by her actions she must prove their worth as cooperative, character and friendship building influences.

Therefore, today, the fraternity girl not only thinks but acts.

PATRICIA BOOTH,
North Carolina A

Browning has written a beautiful poem—Pippa Passes—in which a little girl of the silk mills, given one long, blissful holiday, unconsciously influences for good all those with whom she comes in contact. To compare the freshman year with a holiday may be a bit strange; but to us who look back upon the absolute newness, joy and freedom of that time, it seems a bright spot between the years of preparation and the years of practical application. So, dear freshmen, make the most of your holiday; cultivate those characteristics which are most needed in sorority life; live up to the ideals that Gamma Phi Beta gives you; be fine, gracious, womanly and helpful to those whose lives are touched by yours; and after the happy year is over, you will be able to say with Pippa, "All's right with the world."—The Crescent of Gamma Phi Beta.

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920
Pledge Day, February 15, 1943

During the month of January, President Lois Savage visited with Mrs. Everett and other province representatives the University of Connecticut petitioning group.

University of Maine women held their annual Women's Embassy Week programs in February. As part of the Embassy program this year several Embassy speakers spoke on Monday evening to all women's fraternity chapter meetings. Miss Ruth Turnbull was the speaker at the  $\Pi \Phi$  meeting. Her subject was "Women's Place in the War." Chapter members took an active part in the interesting discussion period which followed the talk.

Phyllis White is president of the home economic club. Recently this organization held a successful stag dance, the proceeds of which were given to aid a British child. After spring bow-pinning the actives and pledges of Maine enjoyed a joint supper at the Spruce Lodge.  $\Pi B \Phi$  songs were sung during and after the meal, and many favorable comments were received on this method of building a closer relationship between actives and pledges.

February 16, Wingate Hall, which is the third oldest building on the campus, was razed by a serious fire. The building's loss to the university cannot be estimated as Wingate Hall housed the department of civil engineering and engineering drafting, as well as a technology experiment Station Ordnance and EMSWT trainees also held their classes in this building. Plans for rebuilding are already underway.

PLEGDED: Ethel Ann Tarr, Barbara Ames, Starr Roberts, Lillian Lewis, and Margaret Cousins.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Priscilla Shaw, Estabrooke Hall, University of Maine, Orono, Maine. (Priscilla is at present planning to attend summer school.)

LOUISE EASTMAN

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1934
Pledge Day, February 2, 1943

INITIATED, November 30, 1942: Jean MacDonald Glace Bay, N.S.; Susan Morse, Paradise, Ana. Co. N.S.; Frances Clancy, Vancouver, B.C.

Nova Scotia A has gone definitely dramatic this term. The chapter not only gave its own one-act play "Spy Me This One" in competition for the Connolly Shield but two of its members also filled principal roles in the Glee Club's presentation of the three-act play "Fresh Fields," by Ivor Novello.

"Spy Me This One," was also presented at the King's Naval College and another presentation was suggested for the Cornwallis Naval School but a convenient date could not be arranged.

Adelaide Flemming represented Nova Scotia A at the inspection of the new chapter at Storrs, Conn. She found the new chapter delightful and had a merry time dashing for trains and collecting passports, visas, and money permits at stops en route to the border.

Louise Bishop was awarded the Malcolm Honor Distinction. Each year a member of the graduation class is chosen, who in the opinion of his or her fellow students has shown in the proper degree the requirements which inspired the life of Jimmy Malcolm; viz. a sportsman, a scholar, and a gentleman.

$\Delta \Gamma$ , the women's student organization on the campus of which Mary Boswell is president, was host to about seventy-five men of the R.C.A.F. at an open house held at the women's residence, Shirreff Hall.

Members of the fraternity are engaged in various types of war work and have recently passed exams in home nursing.

The Panhellenic tea was held at the home of Mary Johnson and despite snow and ice was excellently attended.

PLEGDED: Doreen Miller, Ann Walker, Barbara White. RUSH CAPTAIN: Jean MacDonald, 3 May Street, Glace Bay, N.S.

FRANCES CLANCY

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893
Pledge Day, November 8, 1942

INITIATED, January 18, 1943: Jane Andrew, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Ruth Barker, Westfield, N.J.; Mary Caswell, Middlebury; Barbara Flink, Pleasantville, N.Y.; Marcey Lynn, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Mary Nasmith, Rochester, N.Y.; Barbara Rupp, Shaker Heights, Ohio.

February 8, 1943: Elizabeth Carr, Midland, Mich.; Vava Stafford, Mount Kisco, N.Y.

Middlebury placed fourth in the winter carnival which was held here the week-end of February 20. Jeanne Chatfield was one of the co-chairmen. Josephine Kirk was the stage manager of the carnival play, "Out of the Frying Pan." The chapter as a whole participated in making a snow sculpture of the ski coach with a girl on skis at his feet. This carnival will probably be the last for the duration of the war.

Virginia Wynn, president of Student Union, was the first member of the Women's College to give an address in daily chapel. This honor is shown only to outstanding students.

The chapter has been helping in the war activities on campus. Tuesday nights are given over by the chapter for bandage rolling at the Red Cross center. Children's garments have been made also, in this connection. Defense stamps are sold in the dormitories, and students buy individually.

A scholarship supper is being given for the two classes which have the highest scholastic standings. This year the freshmen and senior members of the chapter will attend a supper given by the sophomore and junior members. The freshmen have already been entertained by the sophomores and handed the key to the rooms.

The annual initiation banquet was held at the inn, January 18. Mrs. Jane Andrews was toastmistress.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Shirley Miller, 335 Heathcote Rd., Scarsdale, N.Y.

BARBARA SLADE

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

Chartered, 1898
Pledge Day, November 2, 1942

INITIATED, March 2, 1943: Jacqueline McCormack, St. Albans; Katherine A. Hennessey, Bellows Falls; Constance Perkins, Bridgewater Corners; Barbara N. Powers, Brattleboro; Nancy McNamara, Betty Johnson, Phyllis Edgerton, Margaret Ann Duffee, Burlington; Elizabeth Mary Naess, Ludlow; Nancy Dockstader, Amityville, Long Island; Betty D. Farnsworth, Morristown, N.J.; Mary Jane Little, Rochester, N.Y.

Vermont feels the pulse of war as the university program is accelerated again. This time the college year will end April 29. Final examinations are limited in time to one hour, and will be given in the last meeting of the class. 1000 air corps men will be having instruction at the university by April 1. The college band met at the station a detachment numbering 600 who arrived in February. These men are housed on the Redstone Campus in dormitories evacuated by the women. The evacuees, since most of the college men are in the armed services, are quartered in the fraternity houses.

Wake Walk, the annual winter carnival, was tailored to war size this February. A local orchestra played at the big Friday night dance. Masquerade, and expenses were similarly curtailed in other activities of the week-end.

There are several members of Vermont B in the Cynic promotions that were made recently. On the senior staff they are: Esther Gustafson, feature editor; Justine Whalen, managing editor; and Julia Fletcher, personnel editor. Other members promoted are: Barbara Fiske, Patricia Crowley, Jean Sprague, Lorraine Guild, and Margaret McElfish.

On the staff of the Ariel, the University of Vermont annual, are Mary Quinn, Barbara Lane, Louise Johnson, Esther Gustafson, Mary Elizabeth Metcalf, and Justine Whalen.

Janet Hackwell was the chapter representative chosen for the Amy Burnham Onken Award. Patricia Page, for the second consecutive year received the scholarship ring. Her average was ninety-five.

In January, Mary Elizabeth Davis went to Storrs, Conn., to an Alpha Province East meeting to meet the petitioning group there. Julia Fletcher went to the University of Connecticut in February for a Student Union executive meeting for the purpose of planning a convention in the spring.

Constance Pratt was elected the Panhellenic delegate from the chapter, and Beryl Chaney the new assistant to the U.V.M. Students' treasurer.

Several members of Vermont B are taking the Civilian Pilot Training courses at night.

PLEGDED, February 16, 1943: Katherine Hennessey, Bellows Falls; Margaret Ann Durfee, Burlington; Betty D. Farnsworth, Morristown, N.J.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Elizabeth Metcalf, 21 Union St., Waterbury.

JULIA B. FLETCHER

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

INITIATED: Betty Ashley, Glens Falls, N.Y.; Sara-Lee Edson, Auburndale; Mary Hoague, Deerfield, N.H.; Norma Martin, Weston; Betty Ohnemus, Waltham; Polly Palmer, Dedham.

Massachusetts A, as a group has grown stronger and has faced the changes in the university with confidence. In the last three weeks all army reserves have left as well as the air corps reserves and in the next few months the army will take over Boston University, as a war college.

Following initiation a spread was held. The following Saturday evening the initiation formal was held at the house.

The chapter scholarship prize given to the pledge with the highest average went to Betty Ashley. Jean MacDonald was chosen as one of two senior girls for best posture awards, during health week. Health week was run off under the direction of Anne Swift; Joan Peiser also worked with her.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Marilyn Makemson, 73 Park Dr., Boston, Mass.

NEW YORK ALPHA—SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Barbara Williams was initiated into  $\Sigma X A$ , public school art honorary. Ruth Mathis was initiated into  $O N$ , home economics honorary. Anne Randall has been initiated into Louis Marshall Legal Society, and Shirley Traver is now president of Tambourine and Bones, musical comedy society.

Velma Putman is a member of the chapel board as chairman of Syracuse-in-China. Marjorie Alford has been chosen Pershing Rifles sponsor, and is also a candidate for Bond Queen. To qualify for this honor, the candidate must be backed by a $25 war bond, which is purchased by the living center. Whether or not she wins is determined by the number of defense stamps purchased by the girls of the house. Patricia White has been chosen as a junior beauty.

A Panhellenic convocation was held on February 7, taking the place of the usual Panhellenic banquet. Mary Lee Peterson, president, spoke, and the Pi Beta Phis won a gold cup for competing against two other houses in a skit contest.

The annual winter carnival was held at Drumlins Country Club on February 5. Virginia Daring was co-chairman, and several members were on committees and were entered in such events as skiing and skating.

Alice Bennett was away practice teaching at Canisteo, for three weeks, as was Marguerite Griegs at Lake Placid, Eleanor Huntington at Kingston, and Helen Williams at Hartford, Mich.

The Mothers' Club entertained the actives and pledges at dinner on February 22, at the chapter house.

PLEGDED: Hilda Bolton, Syracuse; Constance Cole, Dorothy Meade, Watertown; Nancy Norton, Panama Canal Zone; Audrey Stephens, Richmond Hill, Ontario, Can.; Marilyn Tincher, Albany.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Marjorie Alford, 72 Winding Way, W. Orange, N.J.

NEW YORK GAMMA—ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, October 23, 1942

INITIATED, March 5, 1943: Helen Aitchison, Fairport; Jane Dolan, Yonkers; Mary Donahue, Watertown; Anna

Dowty, West Hartford, Conn.; Jean Johnson, Ridge-wood, N.J.; Jean Kinsella, Rochester; Margaret Lennox, Glens Falls; Jean Schanz, Harrison.

An opportunity to apply first aid knowledge came to Dorothy Dake and Marihelen Sherman a few weeks ago. The wife of one of the professors slipped and fell in front of the  $\Pi \Phi$  House. Her injury was a compound fractured leg, but they gave her excellent care and she is now recovering rapidly.

Mrs. Smith visited during the last week of February. Everyone was interested in her views on girls remaining in college.

The reserves have called many men, but in their place will be a Navy unit which is arriving the first of July. This loss has brought the reality of war to the campus; all the girls are doing Red Cross war work under the leadership of senior Helen "Pixie" Persons.

A Campus Conference is being organized by St. Lawrence students. The purpose of the conference is to hold campus-wide discussions in the effort to clarify and strengthen the ideals of students.

NEW YORK DELTA—CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, October 10, 1943

INITIATED, February 20, 1943: Nancy Barone, Leroy; Ann Bode, Albany; Jean Carnell, Ithaca; Suzanne Coffin, Utica; Shirley Crafts, Newton Center, Mass.; Zoe Critchton, Western Springs, Ill.; Ruth Critchlow, Trenton, N.J.; Dorothy Ennis, Bronxville; Alice Errig, Jenkintown, Pa.; Christabel Hamilton, Oak Park, Ill.; Maj-Britt Karlsson, Wellsville; Martha Mac Guffie, Passaic, N.J.; Madeline Myers, Harriet Parrshall, Ithaca; Barbara Simpson, Cleveland, Ohio; Barbara Summerill, Penns Grove, N.J.; Margaret Vilmar, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Marie Warren, Brockway, Pa.

This term the Cornell campus has been active in furthering the war effort, and the Pi Phis have participated earnestly in this cause. Ann Bode was chairman of the Cornell for Victory Drive. Margaret von Paulsen headed the Stamp Corgage Committee and succeeded in netting several hundred dollars. Each active and pledge gave \$4 to the Campus Victory Chest, thus helping the drive to make over \$13,000. As a result, New York  $\Delta$  was on the campus list for one hundred per cent cooperation. All members have volunteered to roll bandages for two hours each week, and thus far the chapter ranks among the highest of all the sororities.

Initiation was a source of great inspiration this year, because Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Grand Vice-President, conducted the ceremony for eighteen initiates. After initiation, a banquet was held at the  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$  house. At this time the scholarship ring was awarded to Margaret Shaw, and the recognition pin for the highest pledge average was won by Barbara Simpson.

A tea was given in honor of Mrs. Smith to which all the sorority chaperons and presidents were invited.

Martha Edson was elected vice-president of W.S.G.A. Nancy Green was elected the senior representative of Willard Straight and was also elected to Mortar Board.

On January 16 the chapter held a sleigh ride. Mrs. Wetzel, an alumna, served refreshments in her home at the end of the trip.

Professor Weaver, of Stevens College, was entertained at the chapter house before giving an inspiring speech at a Vesper Service sponsored by all Cornell sororities.

Barbara Van Wagner was elected woman's business manager of The Widow, the college magazine. Nancy Green is now the business manager of the Cornellian.

PLEGDED: Jean Gallagher, Ithaca.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Ethel Quackenbush, 425 Wyckhoff Ave., Ithaca, N.Y.

ONTARIO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

Pledge Day, January 27, 1943

Rushing parties were greatly simplified because of the war; no decoration were allowed, but everyone felt that the simple games that were played made the parties much more fun for both freshies and actives, since they lent such an informal note to the evenings. Late in February the chapter held a tea for the mothers of the actives and pledges, so that they could see the chapter house and meet the other pledges, the actives, and the other mothers.

The university has sponsored an Aid to Russia Drive on the campus this term, which has been met with much enthusiasm on the part of the students. Clothes of all sizes were generously contributed, and several of the faculties have been campaigning for money to help our allies.

Margaret Stock, chapter president, has been voted the most popular and most active member of her college, and as the one who has contributed most to her college in her four years of membership in it. Pat Seccombe, just recently a member of the alumnae, is in the Women's Air Force and is taking a course in operational work in Ottawa. Margaret Earl is out in British Columbia in the Women's Navy.

With the approaching final examinations in April, everyone is settling down to concentrated study, and the activities of the university and the fraternity are swiftly drawing to a close.

PLEGDED, January 27, 1943: Barbara Allen, Audrey Angas, Naomi Bell, Maxine Collignon, Grace Cruikshank, Patsy Grant, Jocelyn Hodge, Helen Lang, Betty MacMillan, Mary MacMillan, Elizabeth McKechnie, Mary Mulligan, Ann Nicholls, Suzanne Oliver, Joyce Reid, Virginia Russell, Elizabeth Shirriff, Margaret Strahl, Jeanne Wright.

ONTARIO BETA—UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN ONTARIO

Chartered, 1934

Pledge Day, March 9, 1943

Due to an extreme shortening of the school year, many of the extra-curricular activities of the college have been cancelled this term. All the members are doing work to help in the war effort.

One of the rushing parties this term was outstanding. The chapter presented a Stage Door Canteen show for the rushees, treating them as members of the armed forces. The chapter members impersonated many movie and radio stars.

Top college honours came to two senior members, Mildred Homuth and Eleanor Mathewson, who were two of six men and women chosen by the faculty and students to be on the Honour Society of the University of Western Ontario. Eleanor joined the WRENS, Canada's Navy Unit for women, on March 11. She is the first active member of the chapter to enlist in one of the armed forces.

Peggy Lang is waiting to be accepted in the Ferry Command in England. Peggy is the flying member of Ontario B and the chapter wishes her luck.

Sadie Hawkin's Week was a big success with all the girls having their big chance to get their man. It was concluded by a dance at the university.

The visit of Ruth Barrett Smith was enjoyed by all the members.

PLEGDED: Beryl Campbell, Amherstburg; Phyllis Manning, Clinton; Eleanor Read, Leamington; Isabel Husher, Beverly MacQueen, London; Ruth Black, Port Elgin.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Patricia Robinson, 375 St. James St., London.

PENNSYLVANIA BETA—BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1895

Pledge Day, December 8, 1942

INITIATED, February 25, 1943: Janet Bryan, Salem, N.J.; Joan Hicks, Pittsburgh; Miriam Krise, Milton; Ann Wilson, Wynnewood.

Bucknell has been selected as one of the institutions to participate in the new government plan for giving specialized training in colleges and universities to men in the army and navy. The new program is expected to get under way by June 1, with the arrival of 500 naval men.

President Arnaud C. Marts has resigned his position as Executive Director of Civilian Defense for Pennsylvania to take the commission of captain in the Coast Guard. He is now in charge of organizing a civilian coastal defense corps. Fortunately for Bucknell in spite of his new duties he has not given up his old ones as president.

A new and very successful method of raising money for charity was tried at the beginning of this semester with the organization of the Bucknell Campus Chest. Four international and national charitable organizations will benefit from the funds collected in the drive.

On February 28, 1943, a group of Bucknell faculty members and students broadcast a patriotic program, entitled "Hail Bucknell Warriors," over WJZ, New York. The program was transmitted by short wave to the fighting fronts abroad and was dedicated to all college men and women in the armed forces all over the world.

Petey Waide and Helen Grim are the new junior class treasurer and sophomore class secretary, respectively. Petey Waide and Louise Terrett were elected to Mortar Board. Helen Ludwig and Penny Naumann were elected to the newly established chapter of  $\Sigma \Delta \Pi$ , national honorary Spanish fraternity.

Pennsylvania B's annual dinner dance was held March 6.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Emmy Lou Craig, 19 Curtin St., Bellefonte, Pa.

PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA—DICKINSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1903

Pledge Day, October 5, 1942

INITIATED, February 17, 1943: Jane Breneman, Lancaster; Jean Carson, Coatesville; Margaret Cary, York; Louise Charley, Greensburg; Matilda Chubb, Millville, N.J.; Barbara Mulford, Bridgeton, N.J.; Nancy Schnell, Margaret Weber, Lancaster; Carolyn Snyder, Birdsboro. The first five weeks of this semester have been climaxed by the arrival of 500 U. S. Army air cadets, which necessitated the shifting of schedules and the readjustment of both faculty and students. Although the new system means inconvenience, every girl realizes that it is only part of her war effort—an addition to her knitting, making of surgical dressings, blood donations, and training for Nurses' Aide.

Plans are being made for a combined dance and bridge party for the benefit of the Settlement School; also, the active chapter is planning a tea for alumnae and patronesses to be held in the near future.

Winifred Sharpless has been elected to T Δ II, honorary dramatic fraternity of which Ruth Coleman is vice-president.

At the suggestion of the seniors the actives voted to cancel this year's spring formal and to buy a War Bond with the money that would have been used. Pennsylvania Γ is in this war—to win.

OHIO ALPHA—OHIO UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1889

Pledge Day, October 5, 1942

INITIATED, February 13, 1943: Bettie Lee McCaskill, Isabella Brown, Hattie Lu Grones, Margery Browning, Ruth Ann Grover, Gene Kissner, Jane Maccombs, Virginia Stansbury, Athens; Corrine Van Dame, Chagrin Falls; Martha Pergrin, Nelsonville; Catherine Hennesy, Middleport; Joan Fox, Akron; Virginia Sands, Troy; Patty Paddock, Joan Galbreath, Columbus; Helen O'Brien, Decatur, Ga.; Rachel Lenhart, Huntington, W. Va.; Helen Bailey, Betty Jean Murphy, Clarksburg, W. Va.; Mary Martha Holman, Bridgeville, Pa.

Betty Feazel was elected to membership in Θ Σ Φ, women's journalism honorary. Martha Fisher, Helen O'Brien, and Jane Maccombs are members of Dolphin Club, university swimming organization. Jane Wright is president of Le Circle, French club. Ruth Hammerle has been elected president of Ψ X, psychology club.

On November 21, a dance was given for the pledge class by the active chapter. The guests dressed to represent magazines. Each guest brought one magazine. These were later given to the U.S.O.

In a recent defense stamp drive Ohio A sold $240.20 worth of stamps.

Many of the initiates are participating in the annual Prep Follies. Isabella Brown has one of the leads.

On December 5, the winter formal was held at the Hotel Berry. The decorations carried out the theme "Holiday Inn." At the gift bar, identification bracelets were given to the guests.

Among the universities of the United States, Ohio University has the only auxiliary chapter of the Red Cross. Other universities have branches of county chapters.

PLEGGED: Patty Dickey, Shaker Heights; Janice Keller, Charleston, W. Va.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Jane Finsterwald, 20 Church St., Athens, Ohio.

OHIO BETA—OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

INITIATED, January 29, 1943: Elizabeth Erwin, Steubenville; Genevieve Leonard, Rosemary Tague, Columbus.

Chosen as Makio queen for this year's publication, Jean Kelly is also personnel secretary on the Student War Board. Carol Bretschneider was elected sophomore class secretary and the treasurer of W.S.G.A. Sophomore secretary of the W.S.G.A. is Marilyn Fitzgerald. Chairman of all campus U.S.O. activities is the office held by Susan Stoltz.

Due to the war the active chapter decided to dispense with its winter quarter formal and hold an informal dance at the house on January 22. Sandwiches, ginger ale and the juke box were the order of the evening.

One hundred dollars has been set aside by the chapter for the purchase of a war bond.

The annual "Whopperswap Day," sponsored by the Daily Athenaem, school paper, was held March 3. This is the time when students and faculty members may rid themselves of the white elephants or what have you and swap them for "most anything they happen to want."

The woman's Panhellenic association has been sponsoring a series of exchange dinners. These dinners and the Panhellenic teas every other week are primarily to promote a better inter-sorority spirit.

Men's hall and the law school building are being taken over to house 700 Army cadets and engineers who will arrive soon. The law school building is being remodeled and will hold approximately 200 men.

The chapter took part in the yearly intra-mural swimming meet March 1 in Elizabeth Moore hall.

Due to point rationing, it will be necessary for the chapter to suspend the dinners for pledges and actives for some time. These dinners will be resumed as soon as possible.

MARYLAND ALPHA—GOUCHER COLLEGE

Chartered, 1897

Pledge Day, January 16, 1943

INITIATED, January 26, 1943: Iris McConnie, Fajardo, Puerto Rico. February 23, 1943: Betty Luhring, Norfolk, Va.

Immediately after Christmas vacation, Goucher College started the second term with rush week. After pledging, the pledges were entertained at a banquet at the Caribbean Tea Room.

In January, the alumnae and the actives held a joint meeting at the home of Peggy West, an alumna.

Mrs. John W. Tottle, a charter member of Maryland A, entertained the actives and pledges with supper followed by meeting at her home, Sunset Knoll, February 23. The initiation of Betty Luhring previously took place in the chapter rooms.

In February, the actives entertained the pledges at a formal dance at the Belvedere Hotel with the "Townsmen" supplying the music for the occasion. A number of service men were also invited to the dance.

Maryland A has contributed $200 to the U.S.O. to furnish a recreation room for service men at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. The chapter has also bought a war bond and is encouraging the buying of War Stamps. Goucher has as its aim: "Buy a jeep a month."

Six of the active members belong to the Goucher College glee club. February 27, the Glee Club broadcasted over WBAL.

Betty Luhring, senior, led the senior class in Sing Song, an annual song competition among the classes. First prize was awarded to the senior class.

Maryland A is third on campus in scholastic rating. An effort is being made to return to first place. Regular chapel attendance every week is required of each member. Each Tuesday night, before meetings the actives and pledges enjoy supper in the rooms. At this time the girls practice the Pi Phi songs.

February 19, the pledges entertained at a tea for the pledges of the other sororities on campus. The pledges were hostesses without the assistance of the active members.

PLEDGED: Barbara Jane Bergmann, Mattituck, L.I., N.Y.; Marjorie Evans, Franklin, N.J.; Eleanor McMurtrey, Mitchellville, Md.; Barbara Myers, Washington, D.C.; Geraldine Rogers, Mt. Sinai, L.I., N.Y.; Adelaide Taylor, Drexel Hill, Pa.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Marjorie Foote, 919 Sunset Street, Scranton, Pa.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ALPHA—GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, February 24, 1943

INITIATED, February 6, 1943: Avonne Allen, Doris Bruyninck, Betty Carter, Emily Cottrell, Doris Court, Patricia Davis, Jean Hummer, Jane Lesh, Jane Lingo, Audrey Perkins, Mera Riddell, Margaret Truman, Washington, D.C.; Elizabeth Wells, Brookmont, Md.; Marianne Grigsby, Elizabeth Herndon, Jeanne Morris, Alexandria, Va.; Joan Dorney, Arlington, Va.

Just after the Thanksgiving holiday, the chapter enjoyed the visit of the Grand Secretary Mrs. Finger. Her all too brief two days were crowded with conferences, a dinner and meeting with the actives and a buffet supper given by the pledges.

Exams over, initiation was held in the chapter apartment, more easily reached than a member's home where it usually takes place. After the ceremony, the new initiates were feted with a dinner at the home of Mary Ring.

Due to the pre-school rushing inaugurated in September, many girls, who had come down too late in the fall to go through the formal rushing season, were on the February rushing list. The chapter, during mid-term vacation, held two evening parties and brought the rush girls up to the chapter rooms for lunch.

Because of the food rationing, it was decided to abandon the custom of having dinner in the rooms on Monday nights. So as not to lose this opportunity for all the girls to get together, it was agreed that everyone should come up for tea every Monday between the hours of four and six.

D.C. A's past president Charlotte Patterson and the newly elected one Patricia Orr have been selected for representation in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Much speculation was raised by the appearance of George Washington on the War Manpower Commission's list of colleges which might be used by the services for training purposes. The university authorities have now stated that such training would apply only to the school of engineering and it is optional and not mandatory that the school accept it.

Although curtailed, campus activities have continued, as Cue and Curtain's (the drama group) presentation of "The Man Who Came to Dinner"; the Victory Dance, officially ending the none too successful football season; the All-University Prom, formal or informal as one chose, although most, coming by bus, were informal; the basketball games and the Buff and Blue Room entertainments. Although the usual February Junior Panhellenic Prom was not held, plans are being made for the annual Panhellenic Prom in April, with tickets at a much reduced price.

The new auditorium, although not yet entirely completed, was initiated, so to speak, by the mid-year commencement, held there, as is the tradition, on Washington's Birthday. In addition to the main stage and auditorium, which seats 1,500 persons, the building includes rehearsal rooms, scenery stages, dressing rooms, broadcasting studios and public speaking classrooms.

VIRGINIA ALPHA—RANDOLPH-MACON WOMENS COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 4, 1942

INITIATED, March 6-7, 1943: Betty Basinger, Mary Lane Phillips, Shreveport, La.; Mary Alice Alexander, Englewood, N.J.; Betty Krausz, Washington, D.C.; Elizabeth Ann Fisher, La Grange, Ill.; Estelle Anderson, Atlanta, Ga.; Laetitia Cofer, College Station, Texas; Elizabeth Ann Fisher, Baltimore, Md.; Anne Hobson, Bluefield, W.Va.; Carol Krueger, Lubbock, Tex.; Corinne Lowe, Tulsa, Okla.; Jo Alice Wynne, Tyler, Tex.; Mary Saunders, Alexandria; Betty Tucker, Princeton, N.J.; Peggy Turner, Dallas, Tex.; Mary Caroline Walker, Bethesda, Md.; Dorothy Willson, Sharon, Pa.

The pledges held a party for the actives at the house, March 5. Dinner was served and a skit was given which they had made up for the occasion. Sunday evening after initiation a cooky-shine was held, and the new initiates sang the songs they were asked to compose. Several of these will be used for rushing next fall.

This year instead of giving a dance Panhellenic is sponsoring a benefit bridge party. One buys a war stamp for admission and the prize at each table will consist of war stamps.

Members of the chapter have won some high honors. They are as follows: Mildred Barker, Am Sam, president of West Hall; Ann Melville, president of East Hall; Mary Alice Alexander, president of New Hall; Jacqueline Bernard, president of the senior class; Ann Suthon, News editor of the Sun Dial; Frances White, treasurer of the Y.W.C.A.

VIRGINIA GAMMA—COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

Pledge Day, December 3, 1942

INITIATED, January 13, 1943: Helen Dubusc, Elizabeth, N.J.; Jeanette Freer, Ashland, Ohio; Elizabeth Gibbs, Scranton, Pa.; Nancy Grube, Lancaster, Pa.; Dorothy Hammer, Elkins Park, Pa.; Eleanor Herman, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Gladys Kyger, Williamsburg; Betty Lawson, Jenkintown, Pa.; Donna Lepper, Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y.; Edythe Marsh, Westfield, N.J.; Martha Mills, Norfolk; Ruth Paper, Willard, Ohio; Louise Thomas, Frederick, N.J.; Ann Wattles, Williamsburg; Marion Webb, Vienna, Md.; Patricia Wheelan, Great Neck, N.Y.

February 8, the College of William and Mary commemorated the 250th year of its service to the nation. The ceremonies were marked by simplicity appropriate to a time of war. On the occasion of the quarter-millennium celebration, Dr. John Edwin Pomfret was installed as twenty-first president, and former president, John Stewart Bryan, was invested as the fourth American chancellor of the college. Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University delivered the address.

Initiation was followed by a banquet at the Bruton Parish House on January 16. The new initiates entertained with original songs after which Maizie Tressler and Marilyn Kaemmerle each gave a recitation. The evening closed with the chapter's rendition of several well loved Pi Beta Phi songs.

On January 29, the chapter held a formal dance in the Great Hall of the Christopher Wren building.

The first mid-term graduation exercises in the history of the college were held on January 30. Forty-five seniors received their degrees. With the call for the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps and the Air Corps Reserve to active service, William and Mary is becoming less educational each day. The students have been notified that in the very near future 250 naval chaplains are to be stationed at the college.

Jacqueline Fowlkes has been appointed director of the War Council, a committee to coordinate and to speed the war effort. Marilyn Kaemmerle and Jackie both have been making war worker lunches.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Pledge Day, October 13, 1942

INITIATED, January 23, 1943: Marnette Chesnut, Hot Springs, Ark.; Carol Cobb, Chapel Hill; Olive Cranston, Augusta, Ga.; Alice Bell, Pittsboro; Isla Gorham, Rocky Mount; Jeanne Afflick, Blytheville, Ark.; Anne Castleman, Betty Bronson, Raleigh; O. P. Charters, Gainesville, Ga.; Rosalie Branch, Asheville; Dorothy Hawthorne, Winchester, Va.; Mary Louise Huse, Hazel Taylor, Chapel Hill; Elise Hutchison, Sanford, Fla.; Mary Elizabeth Kearney, Franklinton; Maysie Lyons, Decatur, Ga.; Kay McGimsey, Lenoir; Jane McLure, Lake City, Fla.; Margaret Parker, Fort Benning, Ga.; Kay Roper, Winter Garden, Fla.; Betty Shade, Chevy Chase, Md.; Mildred Wilkerson, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Sara Yokley, Mt. Airy; Nancy Jeffris, Westchester, Pa.

On January 27, North Carolina A had its initiation banquet at the Carolina Inn. At this time, Marnette Chesnut received the award for the pledge with the highest grades, and Carol Cobb as the most outstanding pledge.

Throughout the quarter the chapter has been having various members of the faculty to Sunday night supper. They have also had a Valentine's party for the local chapter of B & O. One week-end they took charge of the U.S.O. which is maintained for the cadets of the Navy Pre-Flight School. They also took over the collection of money for the March of Dimes at the local theater for a week.

Campus elections were held in winter quarter this year because so many of the boys are leaving. Jean Afflick was elected as a representative at large to the student legislature. O. P. Charters has also been elected to serve as business manager of the Carolina Magazine, the campus literary publication. Jane McDonough was tapped by Valkyries, the women's service organization in a special ceremony for the girls who are graduating in March.

PLEGDED: February 15, 1943, Ann Straub, Welch, W.Va.; February 25, 1943, Frances White, Atlanta, Ga. RUSH CAPTAIN: Jeanne Afflick, 203 N. 10th Street, Blytheville, Ark.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

Pledge Day, February 8, 1943

INITIATED, February 22, 1943: Julia Hedrick, Washington, D.C.; Marjorie Wyman, St. Clairsville, Ohio.

On February 8, after pledging, the actives entertained the pledges with a spaghetti dinner in the chapter room. B & O II entertained the pledges at an open house on February 21.

The visit of Mrs. Finger is still remembered with pride. During her delightful visit she helped in straightening out many of the problems of the chapter.

The tenth anniversary of North Carolina B's charter was celebrated on February 17 with a party in the chapter room. Refreshments were served and a talk tracing the beginning of the chapter was given. Wine carnations were sent to the ten charter members who still live in Durham.

A new organization, the Duke COGS, has been started. Babbie Jarden, president of North Carolina B, is head of the movement. The entire student body has an automatic membership and each member must contribute toward the war effort in whatever way she is able. Every Wednesday is  $\Pi \Phi$  day in the Red Cross room for bandage rolling. Dances are being given at Camp Butner every Friday for the soldiers. There are many ways of serving. It is hoped that the College Organization for General Service, or COGS, will spread to other campuses and become as successful as it is here.

The members are glad to have a new transfer from Southern Methodist University, Elizabeth Pierce.

PLEGDED: Ann Andrews, Atlanta, Ga.; Mary Bradley, Purcellville, Va.; Ada Buford, Charleston, W.Va.; Sara Clarkson, Charlotte; Joyce Dean, Indianapolis, Ind.; Barbara Garrison, South Orange, N.J.; Mary Jane Gott, Chevy Chase, Md.; Dorothy Hyland, Landsdowne, Pa.; Betty Bell Jewell, Detroit, Mich.; Barbara Main, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Elisabeth Mixson, Beaumont, Tex.; Mary Lou Mulligan, Lakewood, Ohio; Kathryn Norman, Raleigh; Virginia Peace, Plainville, Conn.; Virginia Suiter, Weldon; Ethlyn Upshaw, Savannah, Ga.; Julia Zolikoff, Henderson.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1931

South Carolina A will enjoy its large chapter room for another year as a result of Panhellenic voting. Redecorating was begun with the purchase of a baby grand piano and antique mirrors have been added. The pledges had some of the furniture upholstered as a gift to the actives.

Panhellenic Council voted down the plan of deferred rushing so pre-school rushing will reign for another rushing season. Since the University will function under a three semester plan beginning July 1, the question of summer rushing came up but that, too, was voted down by council.

After campus elections S.C.A. is proud to report the outcome. Ruth Still was elected Law Editor of the Garnet & Black, college annual, and Joe Thompson has the title of Coed Editor of the Gamecock, student publication. Jeanne Stafford won membership to the Student Union Board and Carol Humbert was elected Historian of the Junior Class. Caroline Dieter has been named Reporter of the Coed Association.

The President of the University has declared a holiday for "clean up" day when the whole campus will undergo a thorough scrubbing. At noon on that day the cleaning will cease and the dormitories will have open house. As a climax the May Day Coronation will take place. Representatives in the May Court are Doris Nash, Jeanne Stafford, Sue Newton and Louise Anderson.

For the defense program S.C.A. is still doing its bit at the U.S.O. Clubs in town. Knitting for the Red Cross holds a high place on the list of defense activities as does work at the filter center.

Pledged: Billie Bee Tucker, Patricia Patrick, and Salley Hodges, Columbia; Delores Sanford, Silver Springs, Md.; Pearly McClary, Kingstree, S.C.; Frances Olmstead, Charleston, S.C.; Doris McLeod, Camden, S.C.

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 2, 1942

INITIATED, February 7, 1943: Ruth Conrad, Priscilla Ringler, Quincy; Evelyn Dohse, Hillsdale; Ruth Penrod, Chicago, Ill.; Evelyn Bower, Whitmore Lake; Norma Chambers, Phyllis Juckett, Miriam Thomas, Betty Weaver, Charlyne Wroughton, Detroit; Irma June Schmidt, "Model Pledge," St. Louis, Mo.

The war has brought changes on Hillsdale's campus, as well as on those of larger schools, this last semester. Many of Michigan girls are devoting time and energy toward making the student more war conscious. Elizabeth Haefner is co-chairman of the college war aid committee. Collecting tin cans, raising and lowering the flag, cooperating with the Red Cross, are all projects of the committee.

The chapter had the best scholastic average the past semester that it has had for two years. However, the scholarship cup was not awarded because Pi Beta Phi was the only fraternity eligible for it.

The College Federation held its Mardi Gras celebration on February 13 this year. A Pi Beta Phi and her date won first prize for the most original costume, and Mary Alice Gochenour was the queen.

Delta Province President, Mrs. Vivian Lyon Moore, visited the chapter for several days during the last of January.

PLEGDED, February 19, 1943: Ruth Trumbull, Grosse Pointe.

Again this semester, the chapter is carrying on the usual war activities in conjunction with the Women's League. Many of the members of Michigan B are engaged in Red Cross work at the University Hospital, and giving blood for plasma is not uncommon. Collegiate Sorosis and Pi Beta Phi were tied for first place one week in being most active in bandage rolling for the war effort. The chapter is contributing to the war stamp drive weekly. Janet Osborn is chapter chairman. February 19, Michigan B gave a tea dance for a group of soldiers doing secret government work on the university campus. The chapter felt honored that the dean of women selected Pi Beta Phi as the first women's fraternity to entertain this group of army men.

The Panhellenic banquet was being held Monday, March 8. Active members and pledges attended. Nancy Hattersley was on the central committee.

Ruth Maloney has received a position on the central committee of frosh-soph project. Marge Mahon has been chosen as the Michigan B representative for the Amy Burnham Onken award. The women's fraternities on the campus are combining the dances honoring their new pledge groups, and are giving one big party at the Women's League in May.

The university welcomed in February a group of fourteen men from Chile who are beginning postgraduate study in the college of engineering. This project is one of the latest and most important achievements of the university committee on Latin American Relations.

PLEGDED: Jane Erb, Evelyn Lough, Marjorie Siebert, Detroit; Jean I. Morrison, Betsy Perry, Ann Arbor; Margaret Newell, Carol Watt, Birmingham; Carol Anderson, Western Springs, Ill.; Paula Brower, Holland; Barbara Fairman, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Jennie Fitch, Cloverport, Ky.; Martha Mansfield, Buffalo, N.Y.; Rosamond Mayo, St. Paul, Minn.; Ruth Ann Mayer, Franklin; Gloria Rewoldt, Grosse Pointe; Marjorie Sadler, Glen Ellyn, Ill.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Nancy Hattersley, 2103 Kensington Blvd., Fort Wayne, Ind.

INDIANA ALPHA—FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Pledge Day, September 20, 1942

INITIATED, February 14, 1943: Betty Bronnenburg, Lebanon; Mary Alice Butler, Knightstown; Joan Ritchey, Shirley.

Helen White recently won the Woman's State Oratorical Contest at Wabash College and will enter her oration at Northwestern in the national contest. Her oration, "We Regret to Inform You," concerns the negro problem of America.

Nancy McIntosh, Helen White, and Becky Abbott have the leads in the spring play, "The Heart of the City." Six other members are in the cast. Martha Cooke and Margaret Anne Huffman are crew heads, and many others are crew members. Besides four college performances, the play will be given at Camp Atterbury.

Being patriotic, the chapter has spent many hours at the Red Cross headquarters and at the Mobile Blood Bank.

All large dances have been cancelled, in connection with war program; informal "dateless" dances have taken their place.

The traditional formal Junior Prom will be replaced by an informal Victory Dance. Margaret Anne Huffman was appointed financial chairman for this dance and other junior activities.

Martha Cooke and Martha Lewis were tapped for membership in Gold Quill, similar to Mortar Board.

Pledged and initiated into A & G, national journalistic honor fraternity were Bea Etzler, Rose Marie Kinnear. Members of a previous initiation were Martha Cooke, Marcia Maish, Margaret Anne Dillard, and Margaret Anne Huffman.

Due Fletcher and Martha Cooke, seniors, were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges.

The pledges sponsored their annual dance.

Mother's Club entertained the chapter with a spread February 8, at Ye Wayside Inn. The actives and pledges entertained with singing of chapter songs.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Kathleen Hampton, 416 W. 12 St., Anderson, Ind.

MARGARET ANNE HUFFMAN

INDIANA BETA—INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, September 6, 1942

INITIATED, February 6, 1943: Lois Jean Ferguson, Ruth Ford, Gladys Heidenreich, Barbara Porter, Jane Williams, Indianapolis; Marjorie McNabb, Mary Ellen Barrett, Maurine Leas, Fort Wayne; Marcia McVaugh, Pendleton; Jeanne Claudon, Valparaiso; Virginia Dill, Plainfield; Lucille Peters, Terre Haute; Elinor Beecher, Knightstown; Sue Holderman, Bremen; Jacqueline Simpson, Phyllis Simpson, Marshall, Ill.; Charlotte Kupferer, South Bend; Barbara Wilkins, Gary; Martha Hadley, New Albany; Norma Heise, Orleans; Virginia Wells, Logansport.

Indiana B ended last semester with a flourish when June Brown was chosen Arbutus beauty queen from ninety-four of Indiana's prettiest coeds. June also had the lead in the University Theater's version of "Mrs. Moonlight."

This year's pledge class proved to be the most outstanding in years. The slogan, "Every pledge an active," was fulfilled and all twenty-one were initiated. Virginia Dill won the freshman scholarship cup; the bracelet which is presented to the freshman participating in the most activities on campus was awarded to Ruth Ford; and Charlotte Kupferer won the scholarship arrow.

Barbara Johnson, senior, was chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges on the basis of scholarship, activities, and leadership. Barbara and Marianna Ashby were elected to the University Board of Standards. Betty Jane Mowry took the lead in two plays and portrayed the part of the witch in the opera, "Hansel and Gretel," presented by the school of music.

Jean Weil has accompanied a group of thirty Indiana University students who have entertained at army camps located near Bloomington.

The winter formal was held on January 23. Rushees were here for the week-end and were entertained at a cooky-shine after the dance. The upperclassmen date dinner preceded the dance. On February 3 there was an exchange dinner with A T O. The University women had a reception for the WAVES stationed on the campus February 28.

The most recent war project of Indiana B has proved interesting, and maybe some other chapters would like to try it. Each girl puts the name and address of a boy in the service whom she knows in a box. At a set time each week, usually before song practice, each girl draws a name from the box and writes a card to that boy. The results so far have been very encouraging and most of the boys have answered the cards promptly. The chapter also planned a dance for the navy men who are stationed here.

PLEGDED, January 10, 1943: Kathryn Horn, Indiana Harbor; Mary Alice Jackson, South Bend; Carol Rice, Columbus; Ruth Scism; Patricia Seibel, Fort Wayne.

MARTHA FETTERLY

INDIANA GAMMA—BUTLER UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1897

INITIATED, March 7, 1943: Betty Lee Kellison, Joyce Prendergast, Evelyn Peterson, Joan Freihage, Laura Hart, Indianapolis; Ann Phipps, Knightstown, Donna Draper, Hammond.

Elizabeth Gessert and Maribeth Millis were recently chosen in a queen contest along with thirteen other Butler girls to have their pictures sent to Bob Hope. He is to chose the five whose pictures will appear in the Butler Drift yearbook.

Butler University and the sorority girls are very much war minded at present. There is a big bond drive in progress and almost everyone is helping to promote it. Also a Russian Relief drive and book drive are in progress and the Butler Pi Phis are actively participating.

A social was held January 20, for thirty sailors who are stationed at the Butler fieldhouse. There was dancing and games, and refreshments were served. The social was such a success that several more are being planned for the future.

The Indiana Gammas have held exchange dinners with each of the five fraternities on campus. It will probably be discontinued for the duration as the fraternity boys have had to turn over their houses to the army air cadets.

PLEGDED: Isabel Burnside, Shelbyville; Frances Hollingsworth, Plainfield; Phyllis Carter, Marion; Leola Thomas, Petersburg.

GRADUATES: Edelle Smith, Jeanne Jackson, Katharine Parrish.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Carroll Rogers, 324 W. 40th St., Indianapolis, Ind. BETH HENDERSON

INDIANA DELTA—PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, January 25, 1943

INITIATED, February 12, 1943: Jane Carter, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Virginia Heckart, Chicago, Ill.; Susan Mayer, West Lafayette.

Senior Prom was held March 5, in the Purdue Memorial Union ballrooms. Lou Diamond and his orchestra played for the dance. On April 12, senior farewell was given for Pi Phi graduating seniors: Janeth Dixon, Jean Frankenberg, Jane Humphreys, Jeanne Moses, Sylvia Pittman, Virginia Vestal, and Betty Ward.

Purdue Playshop presented "Arsenic and Old Lace." Carolyn Wood and Elaine Kall took part in the play's production. Another popular production of Playshop was "The Eve of St. Mark." In this play Carolyn Wood took the part of Nell West; Elaine Kall, Sal Bird.

A. Tyler Hull, newsreel cameraman and world traveler, lectured and showed motion pictures to the student body of Purdue. The Purdue musical organizations, including the band, orchestra, men's glee club, and concert choir, gave a spectacular convocation this semester. Janeth Dixon, Jeanne Busenbark, Carolyn Wood, Jean Crane, Barbara Sanders, and Jo Hart participated. On April 16 the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra gave a concert in the Music Hall.

Purdue is gradually turning over its campus to the war effort. For over a year, one thousand sailors have been receiving training here. In April 2,500 soldiers came upon the campus to pursue technical studies. For several months over a hundred ensigns have been stationed here, taking courses in flying. Curtis-Wright has sent 150 girl engineering cadets to Purdue.

The chapter has entertained at dinner the Pi Beta Phis who are taking the Curtiss-Wright engineering program. On March 27 Indiana  $\Delta$  entertained twenty-five ensigns at a dance in the chapter house.

PLEGDED: Jean Macon, Hammond.

INDIANA EPSILON—DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1942

Pledge Day, September 9, 1942

INITIATED, February 20, 1943: Pauline Auxter, Mansfield, Ohio; Suzanne Black, Warren; Carole Collingbourne, Elgin, Ill.; Maralyn Kay Davis, New Albany; Doris Doyle, Chicago, Ill.; Elaine Green, River Forest, Ill.; Patricia Henchie, Park Ridge, Ill.; Lillian Inlow, Shelbyville; Jane Kimmel, DuQuoin, Ill.; Mary Jo Kishler, St. Mary's, Ohio; Anne McClanahan, Galesburg, Ill.; Nancy Millar, Evanston, Ill.; Jean Traut, Battle Creek, Mich.; Helen Vogl, Wilmette, Ill.; Marjorie Volwiler, Highland Park, Ill.; Virginia Wright, Highland Park, Ill.

Indiana E started second semester with a bridge party for new students, followed by the appearance of the serenade group in a chapel program January 19.

Ring Ching Week opened February 13, ending in initiation a week later for sixteen candidates. At the banquet Marjorie Volwiler was given the ring to be passed on to the pledge with the highest grades. Jane Kimmel was awarded a diamond recognition pin, given by Mrs. Jasper P. Scott, to be passed on to the best pledge. She was also initiated with the president's pin.

Charleen Seibel was elected to  $\Phi$  B K at the annual chapel February 25, and the next weekend played the role of Emma in the campus production of "Papa is All." Flora Oberg took part in the annual Mock Chapel, in which students and faculty imitate one another. Marjorie Volwiler and Lillian Inlow were pledged to A A  $\Delta$ , freshman scholarship honorary. Dorothy Brown was elected vice-president of the Y.W.C.A.

Ten members gave blood to the blood bank which visited the campus early in February. Dorothy Brown is in charge of defense stamp sales, while Margo Stark is recruiting Red Cross membership. The chapter is planning a second white elephant sale soon after spring vacation to add to the bond fund, and a tea dance for the naval cadets on campus is also being arranged.

The alumnae entertained juniors and freshmen at a Valentine Dinner February 14, and the chapter entertained the local chapter of  $\Phi$   $\Delta$   $\Theta$  at a dessert bridge and dance the following Wednesday.

PLEGDED: Joan Jones, Lakewood, Ohio; Shirley Klein, Blue Island, Ill.; Jane Snavely, Martinsville.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Sue Coltrin, 326 S. Scoville Avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

EPSILON PROVINCE

MISSOURI ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI

Chartered, 1899

Pledge Day, February 18, 1943

Mrs. Roosevelt's visit to "O! Mizzou" was quite the biggest thing that has happened on campus this year. On the afternoon of February 15 she addressed 3,200 students in Brewer Field House holding everyone's attention with incidents from her trip to England. That evening the President's wife spoke to a group of seventy-five student leaders among which there were several chapter members. Five Pi Phis attended a reception held in honor of the First Lady at the  $\Phi$   $\Sigma$   $\Delta$  house for almost a hundred outstanding students and faculty members.

With the campus population swelled by 1,000 naval diesel engine trainees entertainment has been quite a problem. The student war board has begun a program of sponsoring weekly canteens in Read Hall with each sorority taking its turn as hostess. Missouri A was hostess to approximately 200 sailors with the members enjoying it as much as the sailors. Toni Stanley is war board chairman for all entertainment planned for service men by men's and women's fraternities.

The student war board also sponsored a scrap drive in which nearly every organization participated which netted 133,524 pounds of scrap, more than has been collected in this county since the beginning of the war. The success of the drive was celebrated at the Junk Dealers' Ball January 13. Proceeds went to the Missouri Memorial Fund which has been started to commemorate the dead of World War II. The fund will be used to complete the unfinished student union building started as a memorial for those who lost their lives in World War I.

The Columbia Alumnae Club entertained the chapter February 9 at the Pi Beta Phi house with their annual chapter-alumnae dinner. It was not only fun but helped the chapter to become better acquainted with their alumnae and they with the active chapter.

"Savitar Frolic" was again held this year after its ban by the faculty two years ago. Ten fraternities entered with original skits. Dorothy Fisher was awarded second place for individual performance.

This year Pi Beta Phi placed third in intermural sports. Jeanne Rogers was elected freshman representative on W.S.G.A. council. Mary Elizabeth Campbell was chosen president of KEA, sophomore honor society, and also assistant editor of the Missouri Student, college newspaper.  $\Sigma$  E  $\Sigma$ , national sophomore scholastic honorary society, elected Barbara Old president.

Eleven fraternity houses have already been taken over by the army to serve as barracks for 1,500 army air corps men who began training at the University of Missouri March 1.

PLEGDED, February 18: Betsy Dare, Kansas City; Ruth Mary Tidd, Hutchinson, Kan.

BARBARA OLD

MISSOURI BETA—WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1907

Pledge Day, February 22, 1943

INITIATED, February 24, 1943: Joyce Altwater, Nell Anderson, Jeanne Cannon, Ann Hardy, Betty Knoke, Connie Kretzer, Marion Meyer, Patsy Mooney, Mary Jane Pruett, Barbara Williamson.

On Washington campus everything has been speeded up for war-time production. From week to week there are changes in college life and new causes to which the chapter wants to give its entire support. At the first of the year most of the work was done in preparing fuel oil coupons, which was requested by the city of St. Louis.

Jane Sackett and Anne Purnell started the Washington Red Cross unit. They inquired at the Red Cross headquarters what war work they might do and were given the suggestion of surgical dressings. After conferring with Chancellor Throop of the university, the unit was organized through Mortar Board of which Anne is president and Jane vice-president. Practically all of the chapter now works at least one day a week at surgical dressings even though some are serving as nurses' aides. Maurita Estes was general chairman in charge of the World Student Service Fund drive, whose immediate purpose is to raise money for the relief of foreign students. Jane Sackett, as co-chairman of the war projects committee, as well as others from the chapter, worked very hard to reach the goal set by the campus Y.

Virginia Kammerer and Dorothy Trembley are now at Ames, Iowa, taking the courses that Curtiss-Wright offers. They were chosen along with six other women from the university.

250 aviation cadets have been assigned to Washington to study meteorology and so plans are being made to help entertain them with informal parties. It was also decided by Missouri B to donate cookies to the U.S.O. besides the regular donations of the Mother's Club.

Missouri B has in its possession this year the swimming trophy, the scholarship cup, and the newly-acquired badminton championship. The swimming meet, in which the chapter will defend its championship, will be held soon; the inter-sorority sing has been canceled for this year.

February 8 the pledges gave a clever kid party for the members. Everyone had a chance to brush up on their jacks and rope-jumping and the party was complete with the usual soda-pop, ice-cream, and cake.

Betty Knoke was invited to join A A Δ and was also given the diamond recognition pin for scholarship. Jeanne Cannon was voted the best pledge and also received a pin. Bobbe Knodel, who reigned as queen of homecoming this year, was recently elected Panhellenic rush captain.

PLEGDED: Martha Berry, Peggy Runlett, Mary Ann Simmons.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Elsie Lantz, 16 Briarcliff, Clayton, Mo.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, September 20, 1942

INITIATED, February 27, 1943: Frances D. Adams, Frances K. Adams, Virginia Cook, Jean Gibbs, Jean Louise Johnson, Louise Simon, Elisabeth Sheppard Donegan (Mrs. George M.), Betty Alice Long, Mary Anne Walch, Catherine Moon, Mary Sanford, Margery Ann Thomas, of Springfield; Barbara Johnson, Ozark; Rosemary Sullivan, Clever; Juney Key, Seattle, Wash.; Betty Lou Nelson, Buffalo; Doris Simmons, Cabol.

Saint Valentine's Day was celebrated with an all-school dance at Wallace Hall, girl's dormitory.

Assistantship in the speech department was given to Charlene Baggett for the second semester.

The chapter won the girls' intra-mural basketball tournament, with a record of no defeats. Sarah Arpe, captain, will receive a plaque for the team.

Founders' Day was celebrated by a formal banquet at a downtown hotel.

There was a special request by the Red Cross for women to roll bandages here in Springfield. The chapter spent two afternoons each week at the Red Cross Canteen rendering assistance.

The alumnae presented the actives with a set of dishes for the chapter apartment.

Inspiration week for the pledges began February 22, and was under the direction of Martha Ruth Schellhardt.

The actives and the new initiates were entertained at dinner in the home of Miss Elizabeth Baldwin. The alumnae presented Mable Williams with a recognition pin for the highest grades in the chapter, and a pin to Ann Adams for the most improvement in grades. The actives presented Louise Simon with a recognition pin for the highest grades in the pledge class, which was 4.00, highest attainable, and Rosemary Sullivan a pin for best pledge. Barbara Johnson received a corsage for being the runner-up in nomination for best pledge.

The gift from the pledges to the actives was a walnut record rack for the new record player and records.

Panhellenic has had some difficulty with rushees and prospective members this semester. Sororities on Drury's campus are based on the quota system, and with new students brought home from out-of-town schools because of transportation, the need for raising the quota, in some cases, has been brought about.

February 20, the actives and the pledges took their dates to the chapter rooms for a buffet supper, planned by Virginia Wilson, and then a line party to a downtown theatre.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Virginia Wilson, 1339 E. Elm, Springfield, Mo.

CHARLENE BAGGETT

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, February 7, 1943

Rush week for Kentucky A terminated with a gay and colorful buffet supper at the house.

Betsy Ewing, president of the Women's Defense Council on the campus, urged the girls to help in promoting an old stocking drive. To date, many stockings have been collected and will be donated to Uncle Sam for making powder bags, parachutes, etc. The council has also asked students to give a definite portion of their time each week for defense work. Many have pledged to wrap bandages, knit, and visit the service centers in their own vicinities. Instructors have been secured for standard and advanced first aid classes which are held three times weekly on the campus. Ruth Hayes, Douglas Morton, and Helen Eitel have secured positions as Curtiss-Wright Engineering Cadets and have gone to Purdue University to receive further training.

The chapter has cooperated with Baird Barham, cabinet member of W.A.A. and in charge of the bowling tournament, with a large majority turn-out for the sport.

Ann Barnes, Panhellenic representative, reported that the Student Council's new ruling has abolished all class elections. Each campus organization will select one member to serve on the council—thus all organizations will be equally represented.

Ruth Wilson Cogshall, Province President, honored the chapter with a two day visit in February. She gave the chapter officers constructive suggestions and addressed the actives with an inspirational talk about the importance of continuing school and the vital part the students play in the war effort.

PLEGDED: Dorothy Botkin, Carolyn Carpenter, Anne Hughes, Virginia Major, Anne Wickstead.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Jane Hazelip, 424 Kensington Court, Louisville, Ky.

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Pledge Day, October 16, 1942

INITIATED, February 13, 1943: Betty Davis, Bonnie Eichorn, Martha Green, Mary Edith Gregory, Evelyn Hail, Jean Hart, Margaret Hodges, Wanda Hundley, Bonnie Jacoway, Willodene Nichols, Alice Palmer, Chattanooga.

Initiation day, the actives entertained with a luncheon for the initiates. In the evening the alumnae entertained the initiates and the actives with a banquet.

Mary Edith Gregory won the best pledge cup, Martha Green won the recognition pin for the best grades.

The University of Chattanooga is one of three hundred universities selected by the government for basic air corps training. 300 boys were brought in around March 1. The training period is for five months. Some changes in the school have been made, and the students are cooperating well with the new plans. The girls have given up their lounging rooms and are going to use the sorority houses more. The non-members are welcome in the sorority houses.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Gloria Buchanan, Richmond Apts., Chattanooga, Tenn.

TENNESSEE BETA—VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1940

Pledge Day, September 25, 1942

INITIATED, January 31, 1943: Evelyn Barnett, Gloria Gambill, Nashville; Jerry Cole, Dyersburg; Charlene Foster, Cookeville; Nell Foust, Jackson; Winnifred Glankler, Memphis; Betty Lee Hutchens, Carrollton, Ill.; Sara Bess King, Swan Lake, Miss.; Betty McCaleb, Huntsville, Ala.; Margaret McKinney, Anne Powell, Johnson City; Louise Russell, Fulton, Ky.

Following initiation was a banquet with corsages of wine and blue for the new members. Sara Bess King received the award of best all-round pledge. She had been president of the pledges.

Since each social organization is now limited to one formal dance for the year, the chapter puts all its attention on this one to make it the best possible. Immediately before intermission, each of the new girls was presented from a platform between two large white pillars twined with spring flowers.

Even now, Tennessee B has started its Saturday lunch rush parties, one a month. The luncheons are not really formal, but have as their goal to get to know the rushees better. Singing is always in style.

Two out of the eight beauties chosen as nominees for the Lady of the Masque award, most beautiful girl on campus, are Pi Phi, Jeanne Fonville, and Jane Davis are the two. The winner will be made known at the Junior-Senior prom, and awarded a silver engraved masque.

Vanderbilt has cut down a great deal on its social and other activities for the duration. Instead of the former two series of proms, there will be only one tea dance and one formal with a town orchestra. Two of the three campus publications have been discontinued for the duration, and one of the national fraternities has become inactive for the duration. There is a Meteorology unit now on campus, and the boys are living in a wing of the men's dormitory.

GRADUATED: Anne Cawthon, Nashville.

ZETA PROVINCE

ALABAMA ALPHA—BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Chartered, October, 1927

INITIATED, February 25, 1943: Mary Elizabeth Akeroyd, Betty Buck, Elizabeth Cathey, Susie Rosamond Harris, Florence Henagan, Jean Keller, Elizabeth Lamony, Martha Reynolds, Agnes Rogers, Evelyn Thompson.

After a busy rush period including a "Victory Cruise" party for rushees, Alabama A set to work and won the volleyball tournament, the basketball free throw contest, and second place in the swimming meet. Mary Katherine Gallagher brought diving honors away.

Three out of ten junior women tapped for Mortar Board this year were Mary Richardson, Ann Blevins, and Cornelia Banks.

Katherine Moriarty was the dance instructor for the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Gondoliers," which was presented by the college music and dramatic departments in February. Anna Katherine Kidd and Mary Richardson were members of the chorus.

Birmingham-Southern is in the midst of many changes with the establishing here of a pre-flight training school for officer candidates of the Army Air Corps. They are occupying the new gym and thus there will be no more dances and parties in the gym.

The new initiates entertained the old members and pledges with a buffet supper and theater party on February 27. The pledges entertained all pledges of other sororities at a tea on March 3.

PLEGGED: Polly Price, Grace Farrell.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Betty Davis, 5308 Seventh Court South, Birmingham, Ala.

FLORIDA ALPHA—JOHN B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1913

Pledge Day, January 22, 1943

INITIATED, February 25, 1943: Louise Fugate, Williston; Peggy Justice, Fort Lauderdale; Helen Rees, Tavares; Vivian Sult, Palmetto.

March 19, Florida A entertained all rushees with an informal open house. The theme of this was "Valentines," and each rushee was presented with a nosegay with an arrow embedded in the center.

Florida A's formal rush party was given in the form of a "circus" party at one of the active's homes.

Connie Bennett, Jean Douglas, and Betty Smith were initiated into Beta Key, honorary biology fraternity.

Carolyn Buck was elected president of the Hatter Art Club.

Connie Bennett, senior, has been inducted into the WAACs and will report for active duty in June.

PLEGGED: Ruth Brooks, Orlando; Betty Hinman, Miami; Sara Lou Johnson, Maryville, Tenn.; Jean Pinkley, New Smyrna.

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, March 1, 1943

A Panhellenic reception in honor of the faculty members was held February 19 in the lounge of the Student-Alumni Building. In former years each sorority has had an individual faculty reception, but in order to save money which is to be used for defense bonds and stamps Panhellenic had the one large tea this year. The presidents of the sororities and the Panhellenic president, secretary and delegates acted as floor hostesses, while the chapter members were regular hostesses.

Caroline Massey has been tapped for Z Φ H, speech honorary.

Alice Price who is president of the student body, was elected to be in the Junior-Senior Prom Court. Alice was unable to be present at the prom, but she was so unanimously elected, that no one took her place. Immediately before the prom, the chapter gave a supper in honor of the juniors and seniors.

Florida B has enthusiastically participated in all intramurals this year. The members have taken part in the badminton, archery, ping pong, and tennis games which have been played and were in the semi-finals of the basketball tournament.

The chapter members are attending the Red Cross room at least one hour every week to roll bandages, knit, or sew. Each member buys a defense stamp if she is unable to attend during the week.

PLEGGED: Anne Bower, Tallahassee.

FLORIDA GAMMA—ROLLINS COLLEGE

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, October 11, 1942

INITIATED, January 1, 1943: Joan Herrman, Rye, N.Y.; Kathryn Herrick, Daytona Beach; Helen Holman, Wellesley, Mass.; Jean Murray, Dedham, Mass.; Dorothy Payne, Jacksonville; Mary Louise Sherman, Orlando; Elizabeth Sloan, Clarksburg, W.Va.

The week of February 19 marked the beginning of the fifty-eighth annual Founders' Week celebration bringing many distinguished celebrities to the Rollins campus. Among the notables for the Animated magazine were Lael Laird, war correspondent for Time and Life; Claude Pepper, U. S. senator from Florida; Francis B. Sayre, U. S. High Commissioner to the Philippines; Jean Bruchesi, Under-Minister of the Province of Quebec; and Baroness Colette Van Boeup, distinguished French novelist. Also, Jean Hersholt, well-known actor, highlighted a lecture on "Hollywood" by showing some of his own films.

Peggy Caldwell and Jane Anne Sholley have been selected for the 1942-43 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Peggy is president of the Key society, honorary scholastic organization, and Jane Anne is editor of the college year book, the Tomokan. Barbara Brown was recently chosen for membership in the Key Society, Phi Beta, honorary dramatic fraternity, and the Rollins Student Players. She also played the lead in the current production of Anna Cora Mowatt's "Fashion." In the next Annie Russell Theatre Play, "Pygmalion," Clyde Taylor has been cast in a prominent rôle.

At the last all-college assembly it was announced that Florida I had attained first place scholastically among fraternities. Also, newly-pledged Diane Smith was on the honor roll for the fall term. Following the recent initiation, Elizabeth Sloan was awarded the scholarship cup, and Kathryn Herrick the activities pin. In the first edition of the college literary magazine, Kathryn Herrick's story The Neon Sign was featured.

Chapter contributions to victory continue as Kathryn Herrick and Jessie McCreery were capped as full-fledged nurses' aides, February 7.

Jessie is 1942-1943 treasurer of the French Club, and Tryntje Van Duzey is a member of the Chapel staff.

PLEDGED: February 14, 1943: Ann Everson, Orlando; Diane Smith, Asbury Park, N. J.; Joanne Warren, Weston, Mass.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Ann Pattishall, 627 Park Lake Avenue, Orlando.

GEORGIA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

Chartered, 1941

Pledge Day, February 15, 1943

INITIATED, February 21, 1943: Elon Kelly Crumbly, McDonough; Cara Green, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Helen Morris, Hartwell; Peggy Howard, Crawford; Rosemary Dunn, Athens.

The initiates were honored at a banquet following the initiation ceremonies. Alice Stradman, who was initiated in December, and whose average for the quarter was 91, received the scholarship recognition pin, and Rosemary Dunn was awarded the pin for the most outstanding pledge.

Martha Latimer was one of the six girls tapped by Mortar Board this year. She was also elected president of Pioneer Club.

Mary Anne Braungart and Rosemary Dunn were elected to freshman commission early in the year, and were recently elected to serve on sophomore cabinet next quarter. Marion Weltner was elected to junior cabinet.

Mary Anne Braungart and Bootsie Manning represented Pi Phi in a recent "Miss Coordinate Campus" contest, the basis of selection being beauty, personality and general appearance. Nell Doyle represented her dormitory in the contest. The three were all in the "last ten," the contest being one of elimination.

Georgia A won the bowling tournament of the university intramurals this year.

Ann Allison was elected Georgia A candidate for the annual Amy Burnham Onken Award.

Ann Huguley is editor of the Coordinate Clips, Coordinate campus newspaper, this quarter, and has been elected editor of the B.S.U. News for 1943. Ann was elected 2nd vice-president of the State Baptist Student Union in November.

Pledging was held February 15, and a cooky-shine was held after the ceremonies.

PLEDGED: Frances Davis, Terre Haute, Ind.; Charlotte Downing, Atlanta.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Marion Weltner, 886 Milledge, Athens, Ga.

ETA PROVINCE

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, 1894

Mary Louise Buck distinguished herself and the chapter by reigning as queen of Junior Promenade, Wisconsin's top social event of the year. Also in the campus eye are Therese Pick, candidate for junior woman on Student Board, and Joyce Grothe, newly appointed chairman of the Union Gallery Committee.

The chapter swimming team returned from the University Women's Intramural swimming meet, after having broken a record, with five ribbons. Janet Hansen won first place in the All-University class of the Wisconsin Horse Show.

In keeping with war economy the Panhellenic council is now trying to solve the problem of cutting meal expenditures by eliminating Monday night dinners for the pledges.

Working on the rationing board, attending Red Cross home nursing classes, and entertaining service people is an active part of sorority life this year. Several art majors in the chapter sketch at the U.S.O. headquarters on Saturday afternoons and Dorothy Heilig has been chosen to work on a mural for Truax Field, Ensigns Callahan and Virginia Lee Frantz, WAVES stationed on the campus, were invited to dinner.

February 27 the pledges were hostesses at a slumber party.

Joan Robinson, graduated in January, is now in the WRENS.

PLEDGED: Janet Alley, Fort Atkinson.
RUSH CAPTAIN: Caroline Wagley, 7513 Milwaukee Ave., Wauwatosa, Wis.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, 1919

Pledge Day, October 7, 1942

INITIATED, February 13, 1943: Bette Chandler, Betty Miles, Oak Park, Ill.; Martha Thomas, Hinsdale, Ill.;

Ruth Hodes, Park Ridge, Ill.; Patricia Kearns, Beloit; Shirley Kluger, Jodie Leach, Janet Wayne, Chicago; Mary Russell, Kewanee, Ill.; Marilyn Morlock, Western Springs, Ill.; Joanne Stark, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Atna Harding, Harriet Bergren, Vermette Hangartner, Rockford, Ill.; Betty Hewitt, Kansas City, Mo.; Lois Wilson, Washington, D.C.

The pledges entertained the actives at a supper sing the week before initiation. The theme, which was carried out throughout the evening in the costumes, house decorations, and program, was a modelling agency. The actives received word several days before to read the ads in the Beloit paper, and there they found the invitation to the supper sing. The house, representing the modelling agency, was decorated with huge posters of various ads. The entertainment included a dramatic skit in which each pledge represented an ad, songs, and the latest news.

Friday afternoon teas are looked forward to each week now at the house. They are usually informal get-togethers where games and songs are enjoyed by all.

Beloit, like so many other schools at the present time, has about 450 service men on the campus. Part of this number are army air corps men and part are navy men who are studying Diesel engines. Several of the dormitories have been taken over for living quarters for these men.

Wisconsin B is giving its full support to the new Red Cross drive. A great many members have volunteered to help canvass the town in order to obtain sufficient funds for Beloit's contribution to the Red Cross this year.

Special honors go to Evelyn Young who has been elected to  $\Phi$  B  $\Xi$ ; Ann Renz and Jean Harper, who are now members of Who's Who; Jeannette Ryan and Shirley Wiese, who had parts in the recent play "Letters to Lucerne"; Jodie Leach, who is one of the candidates for the War Bond and Stamp Queen; Polly Robinson, who is secretary to the newly created War Participation Board; Jane Wilson, who is on the intercollegiate debate squad; Evelyn Guenther, the first girl from Beloit College to become a WAAC.

PLEDGED: Margaret Collingbourne, Elgin, Ill.
RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Dorothy Akin, 2316 Central, Evanston, Ill.

WISCONSIN GAMMA—LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1940

Pledge Day, September 27, 1942

INITIATED, February 18, 1943: Alice Andreas, Nancy Bickle, Beatrice Bolander, Dorothy Groomes, Chicago, Ill.; Carroll Amerman, Hinsdale, Ill.; Mary Duncan, St. Louis, Mo.; Shirley Foresman, Helen Fox, Joan Green, Appleton; Elaine Fryer, Racine; Patricia Geraldson, Superior; Eleanor Hanson, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; Carol Loomis, Waukesha; Janet Ockerlund, West Chicago, Ill.; Elsie Rasmussen, White Plains, N.Y.; Virginia Robie, Margaret Rogers, Betty Snorf, Oak Park, Ill.; Barbara Selle, Evanston, Ill.; Patricia Torson, Independence.

February 6 was the annual Amazon dance when the girls asked the boys, sent them corsages, called for the boys and took them to dinner. Corsages ranged from pop corn and carrots to fish bowls, with real live fish, too. This was one of the biggest social events of the year.

February 20, the Pi Beta Phi choir sang two songs between the halves at the basketball game with St. Norbert's College. All the fraternities on campus are taking turns singing or furnishing some other type of entertainment. This idea has met with a great deal of approval from the townspeople as well as from the college students.

March 1, Shirley Foresman and Joyce Daniels were in a play, "Left in a Cab or Love under a Lamppost." The chapter has decided that each girl buy at least one defense stamp a week through the sorority. Betty Ellwies is the war stamp chairman.

Margaret Rogers was in the play, "Village Green," presented by the Lawrence College Players, March 11 and 12. Jean Watson was chairman of the properties committee and Juanita Hannon was chairman of the construction crew.

In April the Lawrence College Choir took its annual spring concert tour, this year, to Chicago and Milwaukee, making one stop at an army camp. They sang at the Lawrence Memorial Chapel, March 4. Jane Mallin, Jean Kieweg, Helen Kaempfer, Margery Dixon, Norma Crow, and Helen Fox are in the choir.

Many members turned out for the bowling team but Pat Wenner, Janet Ockerlund, Betty Rice, and Marjorie Chivers were chosen to represent Pi Beta Phi and took first place in the inter-sorority bowling tournament.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Joyce Daniels, 4428 N. Wildwood Ave., Shorewood, Wis.

ILLINOIS ALPHA—MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 27, 1942

INITIATED, February 27, 1943: Jean Adcock, Sarah Wallace, Cameron; Frances Born, Springfield; Bette Bowman, Marilyn Jones, Kewanee; Mary Lucile Drayson, Monmouth; Priscilla Mullins, Winnetka; Ilene Schleich, Avon; Betty Whitman, Quincy; Jean Mays, LaJunta, Colo.; Margaret Gilman, Mason City, Iowa.

The calling out of the army reserves and army air corps has put an end to intercollegiate basketball on the campus for the duration. The campus can not help noticing the affect of the slowly decreasing number of male students in college.

As a defense stamp sale stimulus the Oracle, the college paper, is sponsoring a Bond Queen Contest. For every cent invested in war stamps or bonds the purchaser is given one vote. The contestant with the greatest number of votes at the end of a period of five weeks will represent the college in the National Collegiate Contest.

Being a pledge became the ideal situation recently when the actives gave the pledges a party at Holt House. A pledge versus active contest for the highest semester grades cost the actives a party this semester.

Ellen Spinsby brought honor back to the college as well as the chapter when she took second place in the State Oratorical Contest. Jean Shanks is the new president of International Relations Club. Virginia Hyler is co-chairman for the WAA swimming meet which will replace the customary water pageant of pre-war times. Ellen Spinsby was elected president of Crimson Masque, the dramatic organization. Jean Adcock is cast in the freshman play to be given this spring.

The girls are helping the town and college do local USO work for the navy boys on campus. Weekly dances are held and two girls from each sorority act as hostesses to make the fellows feel at home by introducing them to the college students. Maryalys Evans and Virginia Hyler represent Pi Beta Phi as hostesses at these dances.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Virginia Hyler, 5148 Washington, St. Louis, Mo.

VIRGINIA WEBER

ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA—KNOX COLLEGE

Chartered, 1930

Pledge Day, September 27, 1942

INITIATED, January 29, 1942: JoAnn Bower, Joyce Bower, Martha Cooley, Galesburg; Jane Adams, Springfield; Carolyn Chain, Bushnell; Carolyn Falvey, Holcomb; Rosemary Froehde, Barrington; Barbara Holway, Winnetka; June Peterson, Oak Park; Elizabeth Wetmore, Skokie; Barbara Williams, Evanston; Edith Ann Wetzell, Chicago; Mary Jane Wilson, Park Ridge; Helen York, Aurora.

Joan Hinchliff, Grace McDowall, and Mary Onken were elected to Phi B K. In recognition of their leadership, Carolyn Falvey, Barbara Williams, and Helen York were chosen to be members of freshman commission. The commission is made up of freshman girls chosen for their achievement and future progress in academic, social, and activity fields. Margaret Layng, chapter president, has been elected to Mortar Board which is limited to five members this year.

The third production of the Knox Theatre was "Candle-Light" by Siegfried Geyer. Edith Wetzell had a leading role in the play.

Alice Dorick has been acting as assistant editor for the Gale, Knox yearbook. She will assume the editorship in the event that the editor is called into active service before the book is completed.

Knox has been taken over almost completely by the army. Six hundred army air corps men are stationed on the campus and quartered in Seymour Hall, men's dormitory, and the fraternity houses of B Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, and T K E.

The curriculum was completely adapted to meet the demands of the army. Faculty members are teaching outside of their fields to take care of the large number of science, mathematics, and history classes. Students on the campus found it necessary to adjust their schedules to the new curriculum.

ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1894

Pledge Day, September 22, 1942

INITIATED, February 6, 1943: Marion White, May Hill Overton, Joyce Walker, Nancy Starr Brown, Patricia Peck, Margaret Black, Judith Gilfillan, Mary Ellen Noon, Marilyn Ogden, Charlotte Cain, Ruth McKay, Bonnie Pick, Eleanor McMillan, Bette Jeanne Williams, Marcellene Snorf, Meribeth Riblett, Polly Weis, Barbara Borough, Patricia Kleinschmit, Mary Jane Duryea, Beatrice Mulford, Rosemary Getke.

Illinois E has been active this year in Red Cross work. Eleanor LaBonte and Jane Burrow are the surgical dressings instructors of the Northwestern unit, and all of the girls have devoted much of their time to this work.

Nancy Brown has been elected president of Phi B, honorary music and speech fraternity. Bette Williams was crowned navy ball queen, and Pat Wolf has just been chosen marine queen on the basis of servicemen's voting.

Initiation was followed by a banquet held at the house with Miss Mary Alice Jones, prominent Pi Phi, as speaker. That evening the actives and new initiates made an informal party at the movies. On Valentine's day, the new initiates entertained the chapter with a bridge party and refreshments.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Eleanor LaBonte.

PLEGDED: Mitzi Schmaedecke, Marjorie Steen.

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Chartered, October 1895
Pledge Day, February 18, 1943

INITIATED, February 20, 1943: Phyllis Anderson, Springfield; Flora Beth Case, Urbana; Betty Checkley, Mattoon; Judith Conner, Vandalia; Kathryn Corbett, Wichita, Kan.; Margaret Dick, Decatur; Carolyn Elshoff, Springfield; Martha Dell Franklin, DeKalb; Judith Gardner, Chicago; Nancy Jones, Buffalo; Jo Ann Kesler, Oak Park; Nancy Kollman, Park Ridge; Stella Jean Lehmann, Urbana; Virginia Mauney, Bloomington; Kathryn Richard, Urbana; Marjorie Rowe, Lockport; Patricia Sheppard, Alton; Alice Van Meter, Mattoon; Patricia White, Springfield; Wanda Lee Zimmermann, Pittsfield.

After completion of formal initiation the entire chapter went to Mercy Hospital to serenade Mrs. Lois Franklin Stoolman. Mrs. Stoolman has been bedridden since November 1942 when she fell and suffered a fracture. At the initiation banquet held in the evening, Margie Bitzer presented to Barbara Kelley a bracelet for having achieved the greatest improvement in scholarship, and to Nancy Kollman a diamond recognition pin for having earned the highest scholastic average in the chapter. Barbara Roos presented the 1943 goat, Judith Gardner.

For the first chapter meeting of the initiates, the chapter room was washed, painted, and decorated by the actives under the supervision of Elizabeth Brearly. Two members of the advisory board were present to help welcome the initiates.

Idelle Stith was chosen dance director and choreographer for the all-university Illini Union show, "Nothing Ventured." In addition to her other duties, Idelle was costume designer and director. The show which was the last musical to be given for the duration was presented on four nights, the last being a benefit for servicemen. A student in journalism, Idelle has been selected for  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , journalism honorary for women. Barbara Kelley and Kathryn Corbett were pledged to Illustrators, an art honorary. Charlotte Roberts was elected treasurer of Panhellenic Association. Stella Jean Lehmann and Nancy Kollman were pledged to  $A \Delta \Delta$ , freshman women's scholastic honorary. Sally Millard is the junior advertising manager of the Illio, campus yearbook. Ethel McDonald, Dorothy Kelley, and Alice Andrews were representatives at the YWCA committee meeting held in Milwaukee, Wis. Ethel McDonald was chosen area representative. Margie Gallivan has been inducted into the WAVES. At the second anniversary of the Illini Union building, of the thirty hostesses for the event five were Pi Phi's.

Between the halves of the Illinois-Northwestern basketball game held in Chicago Stadium in February, Dwight Green, governor of the state of Illinois, presented to Margie Bitzer, representing the University of Illinois, an enormous cake. The ceremony was held in observation of the university's seventy-fifth anniversary.

March 2, an anniversary convocation was held for the students, and a network broadcast took place in the university auditorium. Pres. A. C. Willard placed a wreath on the grave of Dr. John Milton Gregory, first regent of the university. Gov. Green, Pres. Willard, Dr. David Kinley, president emeritus of the university, and Dr. Karl A. Meyer, president of the University of Illinois board of trustees, shared speaking honors of the day. Other tributes to the university's birthday party were paid by Fred Waring and Harry James on their radio programs. Each of the numbers played was selected by popular vote of the students. Dr. Preston Bradley devoted his regular broadcast, "Religion in the News," to reviewing the history of the university.

PLEGGED: February 18, 1943: Margaret Giller, Chicago.

GRADUATED: Eleanor Sexton, Chicago; Jeanette Smith, Champrign.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Charlotte Roberts, 1661 Leland Ave., Springfield, Ill.

ILLINOIS ETA—JAMES MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1912
Pledge Day, September 19, 1942

INITIATED, February 6, 1943: Marion Geoffroy, Gloria Glover, Mary Jones, Annette McDonald, Pauline Roby, Patricia Stitt, Decatur; Elizabeth Hoppe, Blue Mound; Patricia McGee, Mowesqua.

James Millikin University has been considered as one of the many universities to serve as training centers for the army air corps. If it is selected, the pledges living in the halls will move into their respective fraternity houses, and the men in service will occupy the halls.

Founders' Day was celebrated on April 24 with the alumnae.

Following initiation the annual cooky-shine was held. Ann Norman has been initiated into the national debate fraternity,  $\Pi \kappa \Delta$ . Jean Hanson has been elected president of this fraternity, and Virginia Traugbber, treasurer.

The chapter received the scholarship cup for having the highest scholastic average on campus. The average was 2.58.

Social activities included a radio dance at the chapter house in honor of the new initiates, as well as the annual exchange parties with the national fraternities on the campus, including  $\Sigma \Lambda \Sigma$  group and  $\Phi \mu \alpha$ , music fraternity. This was the first exchange to be held with  $\Phi \mu \alpha$  and it proved very interesting as some of  $\Phi \mu \alpha$  members had outstanding talent and new innovations in the realm of music.

Beverly Reed played the leading role in the Town and Gown production of "Ladies in Retirement."

PLEGGED: Lois Ann Kelly, Dwight; Ruth Crawford, Sandoval.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Mary Carolyn McDonald, 1352 W. Wood Street, Decatur, Ill.

MANITOBA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

Chartered, 1929
Pledge Day, October 1, 1942

INITIATED, October 17, 1942: Laurenda Francis, Virginia Hignell, Jocelyn Saul, Winnipeg.

INITIATED, January 23, 1943: Joyce Alcock, Ann Arundel, Margaret Johnson, Lesley Laing, Shirley McDiarmid, Joan Smeltzer, Joan Yule, Jocelyn Yule.

This term the girls at the University of Manitoba have been busy with war work. The various faculties have entertained the girls in the forces and war-saving stamps are being sold on the campus. Sally Jonasson and Beverley Elsey have worked on the War Services Committee which is becoming an important organization.

The chapter is cooperating with the United Services Center, a central canteen for the armed forces. A New Year's Day reception was held for all the fraternities on the campus. Initiation banquet took place at the Fort Garry Hotel. Joan Smeltzer was awarded the prize for the pledge with the highest average. There was a tea for the new initiates at Sally Jonasson's. The Mother's Club entertained the chapter at the house. The chapter entered the inter-sorority sing-song sponsored by the Panhellenic Association.

Joan Panton was the ice-carnival queen this year. Mardi Baird and Shirley McDiarmid were in the university opera. Catherine Bingeman and Josephine Logan took part in Varsity Varieties. Joan Yule and Helen Smith were in the swimming gala. Alison Schweitzer is the new junior U.M.S.U. representative.

GRADUATES: Helen Aikenhead, Ruby Benidickson, Catherine Bingeman, Shirley Bradshaw, Florence Dahl, Josephine Logan and Jocelyn Saul.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Alison Schweitzer, 358 Elm Street, Winnipeg, Man.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1921

Pledge Day, February 10, 1943

INITIATED, February 21, 1943: Eleanor Rita Bonner, Grand Forks; Dorothy Beck, York; Jane Brynjolfsen, Williston; Claire Croner, Minneapolis, Minn.; Gertrude Harvey, Grand Forks; Lois Hallen, East Grand Forks, Minn.; Mildred Hildremyr, Petersburg; Shirley Hubbard, Mohall; Pat Murray, Bismarck; Dorothy Nell Sakerissen, Mandan; Jean Stephenson, Grafton; Mina Tennison, Petersburg; La Rayne Wood, Grand Forks; Marjorie Sheehan, Havre, Mont.; Isobel Tiedman, Bismarck; Dorothy Jane Davies, Grand Forks; Marilyn Tompkins, Fargo.

A new semester has begun again. Already the drop in enrollment is great, and the number continues to fall as more and more men are called into service. March 1 the army sent in the first of one thousand air cadets for college training. These cadets and officers are the first service men to receive their training here since the pre-glider school was closed last fall. These men are housed in the college dormitories and fraternity houses.

The war effort is more evident than ever. The annual, semi-formal, Sweetheart's Ball sponsored by Women's League and held the week-end of Valentine's Day, was cancelled. It has also been decided by the Inter-Fraternity Council to cut the regular Inter-Fraternity week to a week-end only. This week is set aside each year to foster a better relationship among the Greek groups on the campus. The week-end decided upon will be climaxed by a Ball, March 5.

Marjorie Sheehan was chosen Toast of the Battalion by the R.O.T.C. men here, and she reigned at the formal military ball.

The first mid-year graduation was held February 6. Dortha Du Bois graduated at this time, and Verna Radke was selected as one of the ushers.

Another part of the war effort has been the physical fitness program. A regular time is set aside each night for these exercises. The chapter has turned in old trophies to the scrap drive.

Jo Logan, Manitoba A, was a chapter guest over a week-end in February.

Carney song contests were held February 22. This is an annual contest in which classes compete for a $50.00 prize. The junior class was the winner. Shirley Hubbard was selected as Choregi for the sophomore class.

Mylah Sands was elected to Who's Who. She is also one of those selected to go on this year's band tour. Others to go are Shirley Hubbard, Mulynd Rodger, Lois Hallen, and Ann Meggers.

PLEGGED: Carlin Lapinski, Donna Lyccan, Doris Goodman.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Joan Cunningham, Williston.

MINNESOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Chartered, 1906

INITIATED, February 7, 1943: Lois Belcher, Margaret Gesell, Penny Handsacker, Marion Gail Kucera, Priscilla Winget, Twin Cities; Helen Branton, Willmar; Margery Quistgard, Warren; Winnifred Seewald, Rochester; Julianna Haas, Detroit Lakes; Natalie Nelson, San Marino, Calif.

The Panhellenic Council recently announced new plans for a quota system which may soon go into effect. The object of the system is to limit the larger fraternities, which have been increasing in size during the last few years. The council submitted the plan for the approval of each fraternity.

In the annual college elections on February 26, Helen Rachie, vice-president of the chapter, was elected the new president of the Y.W.C.A. Ruth Dowell was elected to the Union Board of Governors. Margery Benson was chosen as business manager of the 1944 Gopher yearbook by the board of publications. She is the first woman in the history of the school to hold this position.

Out of the seven fraternity girls in the grand march of the Junior Ball, four were Pi Phi. The positions in the line are given to those who have done the most in campus activities. Janet Burley, Ruth Dowell, Margaret Heilman, and Helen Rachie all had this honor.

Mary Hay and Margery Benson were recently invited into  $\Sigma E \Sigma$ , the sophomore honorary society. It is necessary to make an accumulative average of 2.5 or above to be eligible for it. Three Minnesota A pledges, Alice Brown, Frances Barber, and Kay Markam, are members of Charm Inc., which is a board that plans programs of interest to campus women. Previous programs have been a style show and a talk and demonstration on the appropriate hats for different types of faces. There are only five freshmen on the board.

Mary Hay received a Curtiss-Wright Scholarship for college girls. She left February 11 for Pennsylvania State College, where she will remain for ten months of training.

On the Minnesota campus formal dances are gone for the duration of the war. Therefore, the winter quarter party, given February 13 at the Minneapolis Club, was an informal dance.

PLEGGED: Helen Ahrens, Alice Brown, Barbara Glenn, Sally Haxby, Mary Eloise Jackson, Twin Cities.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Marjorie Dahlstrom, 2514 Emerson Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.

IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN COLLEGE

Chartered, 1868

INITIATED, March: Dorothy Venell, Lakeland, Fla.; Roberta Hauenstein, Columbus Jct.; Betty Wright, Mt. Pleasant; Helen O'Dean, Eldon; Jane Maxwell, Crawfordsville; Mary K. Wells, Ottumwa; Jean Ogren, Hammond, Ind.; Charlene Austin, Letts; Doris Miller, Jacqueline Korf, Olds.

Iowa A's formal was held at the Harlan Club. The chapter used the penatopre for music instead of hiring an orchestra, as was voted to do by Panhellenic Council for the duration. Favors of monogrammed comb and nail file cases were given to the guests.

Mrs. Ruth B. Smith, Grand Vice President, visited the chapter recently. A Panhellenic luncheon, an advisory board dinner, and an active chapter formal dinner were held in her honor.

Wesleyanites are making way at present for the four hundred army air corps cadets coming to this campus. The girls have been moved to the Harlan Club, and the cadets have taken the former girls' dormitory. An air field has been leased, a student center is to be erected, and all in all the campus is undergoing quite a change.

This college Founders' Day was celebrated by students, alumnae, and friends with a banquet at Hershey Hall followed by a recital in the chapel given by the college choir and the string trio from the State University.

Other recent events that have kept all busy are inter-mural athletics, the band concert in swing, the George Washington Ball, and Co-Ed Week.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, September 16, 1942

INITIATED, February 28, 1943: Rosalee Cooley, Nevada; Margaret Hughes, Council Bluffs; Shirley Laing, Des Moines; Mamie Nell Hoffman, Leon; Loraine Klassie, Renwick; Vivian Reedholm, Nevada.

Among the new courses being offered at Simpson this semester are first aid and war and social welfare.

Bishop Ralph J. Magee was the principal speaker on the Simpson campus during religious emphasis week, February 8.

New officers were elected the second semester in Y.W.C.A. Dorothy Lueck was elected program chairman and Jean Wickless, vice-president.

Margaret Boyles, Frances Heerema and Phyllis Miller were initiated into  $\Sigma T A$ , national professional English fraternity.

Frances Heerema and Phyllis Miller were initiated into  $\Pi P M$ , national social science honorary society.

Mary Mears has been elected secretary of the student union board.

Frances Heerema placed first in the all-college poetry reading contest.

The annual Valentine party was February 20.

The Panhellenic banquet was held February 22. The theme of the banquet was the United Nations. On each table was a scene from one of the countries and the flag of that country was on the programs. Mrs. Lewis Pendry was a guest speaker. She is president of the Des Moines Panhellenic Association which is sponsoring WAAC recruiting in Iowa colleges. Lt. Ruth E. Ellis of Fort Des Moines spoke on WAAC recruiting.

The chapter had a house party February 20. The theme was a night club. The house was called the "Phi Hundred Club" and the invitations were miniature black top hats and canes.

Mrs. O. E. Tauber, Theta Province President, visited Iowa B the last of February.

PLEGDED, February 20, 1943: Dorothy Blackford, Norwalk.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1877

Pledge Day, September 22, 1942

INITIATED, January 25, 1943: Muriel Brozman, Duluth, Minn.; Priscilla Maxson, Bronxville, N.Y.; Pegge Rushing, Ames.

The members held their annual winter formal on January 9. In keeping with the times, the usual dinner was eliminated; and the party was held at the chapter house. Buffet refreshments were served in the recreation room during the evening.

The library of the house holds a newly-purchased service flag on which there are already five stars representing alumnae in the various branches of the service.

The alumnae entertained the acts at a cooky-shine at the chapter house on February 6.

Visiting artists on the Iowa State campus have included: Robert Bellaire, war correspondent; Cornelia Otis Skinner, author and monologist; and the Don Cossack Chorus.

Honors that have come to the chapter include the initiation of Pat Galligan and Helen Rude into Women's "I" Fraternity; Pat Galligan into  $\Phi T O$ , national home economics scholarship and activities honorary; Doris Denman and Elsa Evans into  $\Psi X$ , national psychology society; Trvmbly Calhoun into  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , national journalism fraternity; Julie Johnston, Pat Galligan, and Carol Hammerschmidt were recently invited to join  $O N$ , national home economics scholastic honorary. Among the 62 freshman women named on the  $O N$  honor roll because they made a three-point ("B") average or above during fall quarter, were pledges Shirley Fox, Frances Friley, Cornelia Lindstrom, Mary Elizabeth Lush, and Jane Moseley. Gretchen Young, Regional Conference co-chairman of the Y.W.C.A.-Y.M.C.A., was elected president of the Y.W.C.A. group on campus. Gretchen was a campus candidate of the representative party for the office of student body president. Barbara Hornaday served as co-chairman of "Campus Varieties," all-college weekly entertainment feature. Marie Swoboda is the new vice-president of the League of Women Voters. Of the nine candidates for engineer's lady are Jeanne Fletcher and Pegge Rushing. Pledges Elizabeth Evans and Jean Versteegan were solo divers in the recent water pageant presented by the "Naiads," women's swimming club. Iowa P's latest honor came when the girls won first place in the sorority division of the annual Sor-Dor Sing on February 26.

Jane Fay '42 has assumed the duties of social director here at Iowa State.

The Mothers' Club met with the actives and pledges on February 24. After dinner at the chapter house, a program was provided.

The annual "Snowball Tea" was given by the pledges on February 28 for all other sorority pledges on the campus.

AFFILIATED, January 4, 1943: Grace Miller, Washington A; Marie Swoboda, Wisconsin B.

PLEGDED, January 13, 1943: Ruth Carrick, Park Ridge, Ill.; Joan and Judith Clovis, Shenandoah; Barbara Cooper, Chillicothe, Mo.; Mary Jean Cramer, Des Moines; Elizabeth Evans, Yankton, S.D.; Mary Fredericks, Devils Lake, N.D.; Jeannette Lucas, Bedford; Jane Moseley, Des Moines.

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, February 14, 1943

A war information center, sponsored by Mortar Board, is a recent addition to the University Library. The center includes numerous pamphlets and clippings pertaining to the present war activities. University girls have offered their services to the center for one hour a week.

The Association of Women Students is planning a project whereby the girls from the campus will assist the Red Cross workers at the downtown center.

Guidon held a bridge benefit and offered war stamps as prizes. The benefits went to the local Red Cross.

Jane Danforth, sophomore from Mitchell, was chosen as a Vanity Fair winner. Her picture will be featured in the 1943 edition of the Coyote.

Four have prominent parts in the third university play this year, "The Merrie Wives of Windsor." They are: Ruthalma Turner, Betty Jean Collins, Betty Jeanne Younglove, and Mary Clark. Ruthalma Turner was recently initiated into Playcrafters, honorary dramatic organization.

Arlyce Hasvold was pledged to A A  $\Delta$ , honorary freshman scholastic organization.

South Dakota A held its winter party February 20, in the Union Building. Music was furnished by the varsity men.

Ensign Yvonne Belson, recently commissioned in the WAVES, visited at the chapter house a short time ago.

The annual Strollers Show was given on March 19. The show consists of an evening of vaudeville acts given by the fraternities and sororities on the campus. South Dakota A collaborated with  $\Sigma A E$  on this year's act.

Alice Sladek and Betty Byrners were graduated in January.

PLEGDED: Florence Jacobsen, Vermillion.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Barbara Norris, Aberdeen.

NEBRASKA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA

Chartered, 1805

Nebraska University's social activities became extremely patriotic this season with the carrying out of a box-social. Each sorority was paired with a fraternity for the evening's eating and dancing. Pi Beta Phi entertained B Θ II, who bid on decorated box lunches. All money was turned over to the World Student Savings Fund.

In keeping with the patriotic theme, Nebraska B gave its annual dance informally, no corsages being allowed. Defense stamps were sold at the dance by beauty candidates, Jeanette Mae Smith and Betty Krause.

The traditional coed-follies show was given March 11. Nebraska B survived try-outs and presented a curtain act in the production. The skit was based on music of George Gershwin, solos and choral numbers.

The University Theater has had a successful and entertaining year. Their latest triumph was "Thunder Rock," in which Betty Heine had the leading role.

Nebraska B received high honors at the university scholarship tea this year, as well as Jean Baker, the past president, being awarded the Panhellenic scholarship. Jean was also initiated into B Γ Σ, honorary business administration fraternity. Joyce Junge was later awarded the W.A.A. scholarship. Approximately fifteen members of this chapter received invitations to the Mortar Board Tea, held February 28, to honor high scholarship.

PLEGGED: Doris Ann Stauder, McCook.

Pledge Day, February 2, 1943

INITIATED, February 20, 1947: Eugenia Hepworth, Burlingame; Jane Miller, Lawrence; Dorothy Hardie, Carlinville, Ill.; Sally Fitzpatrick, Nancy Nevin, Lawrence; Patricia Williams, Fritch, Tex.; Jane Priest, Wichita; Roberta Frowe, Lawrence; Dale Tellison, Junction City; Mary Ann McKelvy, Atchison; Barbara Ray Prier, Emporia; Virginia Schaeffer, Bel Thayer Claycomb, Betty Bredouw, Patty Nordgreen, Barbara Breed, Gayle Gray, Kansas City, Mo.; Sara Jayne Meyers, Suzanne Schwart, Joplin, Mo.; Anna Lee Mason, St. Paul, Minn.; June Dangle, Lovington, N.M.; Catherine Foster, Hutchinson; Joan Burch, Wichita.

On Valentine's Day the chapter gave a candle-light tea for all the boys called away by the army air corps and the army enlisted reserve corps. Many boys attended and the girls feel it was indeed a success.

Frances Rosser Brown, National Historian, on an unofficial visit, was present at the initiation ceremonies of the chapter. The girls enjoyed the privilege of meeting this lovely II Φ.

Recently Jill Peck was awarded the annual scholarship ring for her remarkably high grade average this past year. Barbara Batchelor was elected vice-president and social chairman of Θ Σ Φ in their fall election.

On March 1 the chapter had a box social, the proceeds from which will go to the World Student Service Fund. The Φ Γ Δ and the Φ Δ Θ fraternities were invited to the house. Each girl had decorated a box and the bidding for certain boxes became all but riotous. The chapter feels this is a new way of entertaining while at the same time contributing to a worthy cause. Total profit was $55.71.

PLEGGED: Frances Aylward, Wichita.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Barbara Winn, 5808 Central, Kansas City, Mo.

CHARTERED, 1915

Pledge Day, September 26, 1942

INITIATED, March 6, 1943: Frances Allison, Elizabeth Ann Allison, Mary Ann Robinson, McPherson; Marian Astle, Ann Wesley, Hutchinson; Betty Jo Dunlap, Winfield; Mary Eileen Downie, Garden City; Shirley Gillan, Concordia; Barbara Held, Clay Center; Janet McMillen, Minneapolis; Patricia Noble, Wichita; Jean Pollom, Manhattan; Mariana Snair, Stockton.

Φ K Φ freshman recognition was received by Roberta Townley, Charlotte Stevenson, Ethelinda Parrish, and Ruth Catherine King. Mary Ann Montgomery was selected as assistant editor of the Royal Purple, the college year-book, and Joe Anne Cooney was selected as society editor of the Collegian, the school paper, for this semester.

New members elected into Enchiladas, social dancing sorority, this semester were Roberta Townley, Cecile Rexroad, and Virginia Gemmill.

Graduates at the end of last semester were Betty Ann Faubion and Vivian Marlow.

Rushing this semester has been rather limited due to the food rationing; rushees were invited to the house during the first week in April.

Quite a number of the girls assisted with various activities during Hospitality Days, an annual event sponsored by the school of home economics in the month of April. Emmy Lou Thomas was the chairman of the committee for the Hospitality Hop. The annual engineer's open house and the St. Pat's Prom were not held this year because of the war.

Eleven out of the sixteen fraternities here on the campus gave their houses over to the college to be used in housing the 500 air corps cadets sent here by the government March 1 for training. The fraternities that did not move out felt that they had a large enough number to keep their houses going; the rest moved into private homes.

This chapter has been cooperating in the war effort by doing Red Cross work, by purchasing a $2,000 War Bond, by assisting in the U.S.O. work, and by entertaining the trainees in the chapter house, dancing and playing bridge.

PLEGGED: Jean Mowery, Salina; Evelyn Phillips, Eldorado.

Pledge Day, September 19, 1942

Winter quarter at Colorado University is the occasion for the annual Rhythm Circus, presented at Macky Auditorium on March 6. This year Elaine Littell was on the board of directors as chairman of the dances, and many other girls including Virginia Taylor, Jean Marie Zurick, Jean Nielsen, and Barbara Owen took part in this all-student production.

Emphasis is everywhere being placed on war works. Colorado A took over the war-bond and stamp booth in the Arts and Science Building for a week as a part of the stamp and bond drive on the campus. Making surgical dressings and bandages have been enthusiastically taken up by many of the members. Colorado A has become interested in donating blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank in Denver, and many of the girls plan to go in during spring vacation.

Sue Carlson was recently pledged to B Σ, honorary organization for business-school women, and she was elected junior representative on the board of directors for the business school. Ann Nowell was elected chairman of activities for the A.W.S. Senate. Charline Millikan and Pat Ducey were recently pledged to Hesperia, junior women's honorary.

Colorado A held its winter quarter formal on February 5. Decorations were very simple, for newspapers were cut into various and sundry designs and used to cover the walls. The custom of having an orchestra was abandoned this time in favor of using the phonograph, as the records are much less expensive. The money saved was used to buy a war-bond for the chapter.

cooperating with the other women's fraternities on the campus in a drive to collect empty lipstick containers and worn nylon and silk hose.

The members of Mortar Board are taking charge of the campus's war efforts. They have organized classes in first aid, home nursing, map reading, and nutrition. Several girls of  $\Pi B \Phi$  have joined these classes.

A.W.S. president, Eunice Ensign, presided over the annual Twilight Sing which was held in January. Each fraternity on the campus sang one fraternity song and one other song. Sigma Kappas were first, Alpha Gamma Deltas second, and Pi Beta Phi's third.

The annual A.W.S. dance, at which the boys and girls change places for the evening, was held in February. Eunice Ensign, Louise Smith, and Ruth Black were on the committee in charge of the dance. The many amusing and original corsages that the girls presented to their dates added zest to the evening of fun.

The new initiates and the pledges exhibited their chapter house and their cook's fine food to their fathers during the week after initiation at the dinner party which was in charge of Barbara Foulk, Catherine Koonsman, Margaret Gorman, Maxine Kirkpatrick, Liane Mallett, Eileen Showalter, and Charlotte Towne.

The women of the university felt most honored at the presence of Major Ruth Cheney Streeter of the women's division of the U. S. Marines, in January. Major Streeter was entertained at a reception after her talk.

Elected to  $\Phi B K$  are Betty Lou Neil, Susanne Wells, and Marcia Mullendore.

$\Pi B \Phi$  placed first in scholarship on the campus for the first semester and won the scholarship cup.

Ann Field is chairman of the coed war council office committee. Martha Colvert and Mary Ann Burns serve on the committee. Alice Jeanne Jones has charge of publicity, and serving on projects are Marjorie Ann Hayes, chairman, Mary Klingensmith, Susan Severin, and Rosemary Kneeland.

Rosemary Kneeland is president of Duck's Club, swimming club on the campus. Jean Felt is the secretary while Ann Field is treasurer for the club. Ducklings are Ruth Tarpley, Shirley Dockler, Patsy Murphey, Betty Baublitt, Kathryn Cooley, and Rebecca Tinch.

Patsy Blickensderfer and Nelle Williams became pledges of  $A A \Delta$ , honorary scholastic society for freshmen women.

During the recent career conference on the campus Margaret Houser, career editor of Mademoiselle magazine, was a guest at the chapter house.

February 23, the chapter entertained with a reception for the new counselor of women, Virginia Reinecke who is one of the youngest women to hold such an office and who is also a  $\Pi B \Phi$ , Illinois B- $\Delta$ . Miss Reinecke replaces Margaret Stephenson as counselor of women. Miss Stephenson is now a commissioned officer in the SPAR.

Plans for the new third semester are not yet complete but it seems likely that there will be three consecutive semesters with no summer interval and with war courses offered for army and navy students.

At the spring initiation there were seven  $\Pi B \Phi$  daughters initiated with six of the mothers present.

INITIATED, February 6, 1943: Marybeth Burns, Casper; Margaret VanWagencen, Basin.

Beverly Daly, senior, was chosen as a  $\Phi B K$  this quarter. Others who received honors were Mary Kay Antonides and Marjorie Horstman, freshman, who were elected to the commercial honorary,  $\Phi \Gamma N$ .

As a result of sixteen hours a week war work done on the campus, Teddy Ann Storey was chosen war queen by the men of the military department.

Mary Catherine Anselmi was elected lieutenant colonel at the military ball and the next night was chosen sweetheart of  $\Sigma X$  at that fraternity's annual sweetheart ball.

The winter quarter formal was held in the union building on the evening of February 12. The actives were the guests of the pledges.

Two dinners have been given at the chapter house in honor of the patrons and patronesses of Wyoming A.

The  $\Pi B \Phi$  mothers of Laramie gave a tea for the chapter.

Wyoming A was the first sorority on the campus to hold an open house for the boys who have been brought to the campus in connection with the new navy air corps training program.

Oklahoma B received the highest scholastic rating on the campus for the fall semester.

There have been many new additions to the military groups now stationed on this campus. This now includes the WAVES, SPARS, air corps ground cadets, pre-flight students, sailors and C.P.T. trainees. Defense workers are also being trained.

The most successful event of the past month was the annual "Gypsy Tea" held by the pledges. All of the other sorority pledges on the campus attended, and were entertained by an afternoon of festivity.

The annual winter formal dance was given January 15 in the chapter house which was decorated to represent a snow scene. The dance programs typified the same theme.

On this month's sports calendar are basketball and bowling.

The week of February 21-28 was "Sadie Hawkins" week. It was then that the girls escorted the boys, opened the doors, and paid the bills. In this same week the pledges of Oklahoma B entertained the members with a "Carnival" party and a skit.

Initiation was terminated with a banquet. Margaret Plumer, one of the new initiates, received a diamond recognition pin which is given every year to the initiate having the highest scholastic rating of her pledge class.

The girls of Oklahoma B are working in hour shifts on a two-day Red Cross drive.

PLEGGED: Jean Ingle, Shattuck.

INITIATED, February 21, 1943: Betty Jane Gary, Springdale; Margaret, Scott Gerig, Arkadelphia; Alma Jean Caldwell, Jonesboro; Emmy Lou Atherton, Arlington, Va.; Eugenia Smith, Muskogee, Okla.; Mabel Sloan, Margaret Sloan, Strawberry; Ann Adams, Batesville; Jean Pitcock, Kathleen Gammill, Little Rock; Betty Lou Cypert, Washington, D.C.; Jenny Mildred McRae, Prescott; Mildred Bland, Nancy Ponder, Walnut Ridge; Christine Graham, Fayetteville; Sara Housley, Nadia Meadows, Hot Springs; Winnie Bob Shaver, Wynne; Sara Frances Broyles, Stuttgart; Eloise Stuckey, Lepanto.

Second semester at the University of Arkansas found the student body sharing the faculty, buildings, and equipment with the Army Air Corps and the Signal Corps. Razorback Hall, the boys' dormitory, and the field house are being used to house the men.

Arkansas A broke a four year record by making the highest grade point of any women's organization on the campus first semester. Both the initiates and pledges made a three point two five, or a C plus average. Arkansas A will therefore retain the pledge scholarship cup which was awarded to last year's pledge class.

Frances Brigance, chapter president, was the winner of the Henry Tovey Memorial Award, given annually to the outstanding senior in music school. She was recently elected president of mixed chorus.

Frances and Betty Lou Kramer were two of the five Arkansas women students to be chosen for Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Three of the five chosen were fraternity women.

Alma Jean Caldwell received one of the highest honors on the campus when she was chosen queen of the Interfraternity Council. Six of the fourteen nominees were Beta Phi. Alma Jean was awarded the diamond recognition arrow for making the highest grade point of the pledge class.

Annette Collier, Betty Gary, and Betty Lou Cypert were recently elected to Orchestis, honorary dancing organization. Betty Ruth Nix is president.

Eugenia Crawford, chapter social chairman, was one of the four women to be initiated into II K, honorary journalism society, February 12.

PLEDGED: Irene Deloney, Little Rock; Patty Green, Blytheville; Mary Stevens, Joplin, Mo.

Texas A had as its guest on February 23, Mrs. Herbert L. Brannan, Province President. During her three days visit, Mrs. Brannan was entertained with luncheons, and also a buffet supper which was attended by all members, pledges, and transfers.

Marjorie Shepherd and Kittie Ruth Jackson were graduated from the university last semester with high honors. Those making A A Δ, freshman honorary scholastic fraternity, were Lucy Gray, Martha James, Emily McKeller, Mary Miller, Virginia Meyers, Mary Wheless, Rosemary Whitaker, and Mary McInnis.

June Olcott, Eugenia Tipps, and Patsy Dunn have completed their nurses' aide training, and there are several others that have just begun the course.

In a recent contest judged by Walter Pidgeon of Hollywood, Dorothy Flowers was selected as one of the ten most beautiful girls of the university. Emily McKeller was one of the finalists competing in the annual posture contest.

Panhellenic and the Inter-fraternity Council have decided that there will be no fraternity and sorority Sing-song this spring. Plans are being made now for Round-up which will be held April 1. The campus is looking forward to this yearly homecoming event.

Mary Ann Donley was Texas B's only midterm graduate. Lora Frances Neale has been nominated by Texas B for the Amy Burnham Onken Award. Martha Lea Orth, Elizabeth McGar, Lora Frances Neale, Gene Wharton, Elaine Toler and Madi Terry are new members of A K Δ, sociology honorary.

A Φ Ω, service fraternity on the campus, held a recent campaign for the donation of blood to replenish the Baylor Hospital Blood Bank, from which a large supply is sent to the medical corps for use among the services. Approximately sixty students, including seven Pi Phi, volunteered for this worthwhile project.

On February 14 and 15 the members of Texas B were honored by a visit from the Kappa Province President, Mrs. Herbert Branan of Ardmore, Okla. Various groups of the chapter had breakfast, luncheon and dinner with Mrs. Branan.

Religious Emphasis Week was observed on the campus for four days beginning February 22. Chapel was held each morning, and inspirational talks were delivered to the war-conscious students by Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of the university.

The student council sponsored the first all-school dance of the second semester on February 25. The dance was informal, and music was furnished by the student orchestra, the Varsityes. This dance marked the farewell appearance of the orchestra, since several members have been forced to leave for the army air corps. It also marked the disbanding of the four student vocalists, a quartet of which Peggy Wyatt was a member.

Southern Methodist University was recently chosen by the government for the training of naval engineers. It is one of the 281 colleges selected for the training of army and navy specialists.

On March 2 Texas B cooperated with the Dallas Alumnae Club which sponsored a style show at Neiman-Marcus to which tickets were sold. A drawing was held and $15.00 worth of merchandise was presented to the winner. The proceeds from the sale of tickets is to be used for the Settlement School and for the fund started by the chapter for the furnishing and redecoration of the U.S.O. lounge at Dallas' Union Terminal.

Pledge Day, October 14, 1942

INITIATED, November 20, 1942: Katherine Lacour, Sally Brooks, Anita Louise Crozat, Mary Jane Fly, Joy Reynolds, Lenore Williamson.

INITIATED, March 7, 1943: Betsy Barret, Margie Carrere, Joan Harris, Kathryn Douglas, Connie Faust Patsy Gibbons, Patsy Grehan, Hartha McDonough, Dotti Hecht, Ann Johnson, Betty McIntosh, Odette Moral, Olive Eaves, Barbara Strong.

Girls on the Newcomb campus are getting into the swing of studying harder, dating less, and of devoting more time to Red Cross, dances for service men, and to all of the other activities that now distinguish them from pre-war college women. One of the newest war-inspired functions on the campus is a one hour lecture on current events which is delivered to the entire student body by a guest authority once each week.

The entire chapter looks forward to the Panhellenic stunt night which is to be held on April 3. Their rendition of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" is to be done in blackface, and whether they win or lose, the fun that goes with the planning and presentation of the skit is certainly recompense in itself for the work done. Another Panhellenic event is the annual luncheon which is scheduled for April 10. The main feature of the get-together will be an award of the plaque to the fraternity which has maintained the highest scholastic average for one academic year.

The members and pledges have won their share of the honors on campus this year, however, Louisiana A is proudest of its freshman, Connie Faust, and of Eva Douglas. Connie was elected president of her class, while Eva, who is a senior, has achieved such honors as being president of Honor Board, Who's Who on American College Campuses, and has been elected to  $\Lambda \Sigma \Sigma$ , which is the equivalent on this campus of Mortar Board.

Cross work, radio work, and mechanical drawing for the women students. Also the girls have been entertaining the service men at the U.S.O. and at the University Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Herbert Branan, Kappa Province President, visited the chapter February 20, 21, and 22. She expressed many new ideas and standards concerning college and fraternity life brought about by the war. The members hope that she enjoyed her visit as much as they enjoyed having her.

Margaret Lewis, Helen Schroeder, and Laura Mae Peyton were initiated into  $\Delta \Gamma \Delta$ , intersorority organization. A intersorority organization, took Lillian Collier. A recent military sponsor is Nancy Bryan Foley.

Panhellenic sponsored "Playnight" this year in place of the usual scholarship banquet. After the award for highest average among the sororities was made, a quiz program was presented. The girls with the highest average of their sorority took part.

The music school of the university presented "Naughty Marietta" in April. For the first time in many years the operetta was taken on tour to several of the larger cities of the state. Geraldine Sloane was a member of the first cast.

A campus canteen was opened on March 15 in the University Field House, for the students and their guests. Service men may attend only if they accompany L.S.U. coeds. The canteen offers soft drinks, floor show, and dancing. Groups on the social coordinating committee back the programs each week.

INITIATED, January 31, 1943: Beatrice Grant, Margaret McKechnie, Dorcas Stewart, Edmonton; Marjorie Hulbert, Joan Ross, Calgary; Ellen Randle, High River.

War work takes up a good deal of the girls' time for unless sixty hours have been put in by the end of the year, it is rumored that academic results will be withheld.

A drive has begun on the campus to buy a mobile canteen. Each student is asked to donate part of her caution money for the cause. The fraternities will also make a contribution.

Initiation was followed by a supper donated by the alumnae club.

The Mothers' Club gave a tea for their daughters in February. This is the one occasion of the year when the three branches—actives, alumnae and mothers are together.

The alumnae have been entertaining active members at their homes.

The chapter has been entertaining the boys' fraternities with skating parties and various other informal gatherings.

Two girls who are taking a medical course have joined the C.W.A.C.: Rhoda Neil and Marian McCrae. Doreen Fraser, alumna, has joined the woman's division of the navy. Many of the girls are planning to enter some kind of war-work after their graduation in April.

February 26, the chapter had its formal in the MacDonald Hotel.

March is a month filled with varsity activity. The C.O.T.C. (Canadian Officers Training Corps), held a military ball in convocation hall, March 8. Colour Night was on March 15; this consists of a banquet and dance at which awards to the students for activities during the year, are presented. The Wauncita banquet for the girls is to be informal this year. Beth Kerr is the president of the society.

The Founders' Day banquet and senior farewell ceremony are to be held at the Corona Hotel about the middle of March. The graduates are presented with a silver II B  $\Phi$  spoon.

The pledges presented the house with a much needed lamp which was greatly appreciated.

Many changes have been made at Montana State College during the past few months. The two housing units for women, the Quadrangle and Hamilton Hall, dormitory for freshman women, were turned over to the army at the end of the winter quarter. The chapter house, which was one of the three sorority houses in the quadrangle, is now located in what used to be the  $\Sigma X$  fraternity house.

Virginia Howell and Annabelle Talmadge were chosen as Montanan beauty queens. Virginia Cambell, Evelyn Jorud, Kay Sullivan, Betty Ann Hanley, Jane Simmons, Peg Waite, and Pat Purdy were presented as cadet sponsors of R.O.T.C. companies. Betty Germeraad and Jeanne Poirier were recently pledged to  $\Lambda \Lambda \Delta$ , freshman women's scholastic honorary. Betty Jeanne Stambaugh was initiated into  $\Delta \Phi \Delta$ , art honorary.

War bond and stamp sales have been very good on the Montana State campus. II B  $\Phi$  has been leading all other organized groups in their purchase. There are many other ways in which women on the campus may aid in the war effort. Surgical dressing rooms have been established in the Student Union Building so that college students may work during their free hours.

PLEGGED, February 5, 1943: Fern MacGregor, Spirit Lake; Betty Jean Rice, Weiser.

The spare time of the members of Idaho A has been spent at the new campus Red Cross surgical dressing unit this year. Also in the way of service, Idaho A was the first sorority to participate in entertaining the navy radio trainees stationed here on campus, by having one hour dance exchanges for them on Wednesday evenings. Now all houses are taking part in different types of programs for the service men.

Olive Holmes was elected to  $\Sigma A I$  music honorary. Lorene Bales was elected to  $\Phi T O$ , national home economics honorary, and to Cardinal Key, junior service honorary.  $K \Delta H$ , educational honorary, elected Marcia Kimble to membership. Marcia was also mistress of ceremonies at the University Associated Women Students party. Curtain, a dramatic honorary, elected Helen Gale to membership. Patricia Pugh was cast in a university play entitled "Green Grow The Lilacs." Lavona Craggs was a finalist in the "Sweetheart of  $\Sigma X$ " contest. Minnie Mae Tibbs, a mid-semester graduate has left for active duty in the WAACs. She is stationed at Daytona Beach, Fla. Vandaleers, the university choir, selected Gloria Rino for membership. Patricia Untermahrer is vice-president of W.A.A. She received an "I" blanket for outstanding achievement in athletics.

The University of Idaho is sponsoring a "Bucket Brigade of Minute Maids" who sell war bonds and stamps in the group houses and at school on Tuesdays. Gloria Rino was chosen as "Minute Maid" from this chapter.

The interior of the chapter house was re-decorated during the Christmas holidays.

PLEGGED: Joanne Horgiss, Zillah; Sally Steele, Seattle; Juanita Cobby, Lindon.

The war unmistakably settled on the campus this year. It is most clearly emphasized by the curtailment of many social activities. Formals and almost all campus dances have been banned. The girls have been busy working at the university Red Cross and doing many things to aid in the war effort.  $\Pi B \Phi$  was one of the houses chosen to hold open house to raise funds for the war chest.

In compliance with university regulations, the pledge dance was semi-formal and held at the chapter house. The pledges reciprocated with a costume dance having the theme "Frontier Days." Clever cartoons drawn by pledge Jean King adorned the walls.

Ruth Daniels Wiener was chosen to head the Associated Women Students during the coming year at a recent A.W.S. election. Jane Anne Akers, Catherine Allen and Margo Spargo became members of  $Z \Phi H$ , national speech and drama honorary.

Beth Freese, Lois Preston, Barbara Butler, Ruth Wiener were nominated for Mortar Board. The Mortar Board plaque, which is awarded to the outstanding sophomore for both scholastic ability and student activities, was given to Marie Carroll. She is also treasurer of the W-Key freshman activity honorary and member of  $\Sigma E \Sigma$ , national underclasswomen's scholastic honorary. Katherine Parrott also was initiated this fall into  $\Sigma E \Sigma$ .

Barbara Butler was elected president of the rally committee, sport promoting group on the campus and Hael Milken became night editor of the University of Washington Daily.

In the sweetheart of  $\Sigma X$  contest, Marilyn Ryan reached the finals and Jane Anne Akers was runner up as sweetheart of the engineers' Shipwreck Shuffle.

At the recent scholastic banquet held for outstanding university women,  $\Pi B \Phi$  had the largest number attending.

WASHINGTON BETA—STATE COLLEGE OF WASHINGTON

Chartered, 1912

Pledge Day, September 21, 1942

INITIATED, February 29, 1943: Mary Elizabeth Corfman, Kirkland; Patrician Ann Cunningham, Spokane; Jean D. Eriksen, Everett; Geraldine Louise Fegley, Bellingham; Beverly Ann Gregory, Doris J. Haight, Joan Laurel Hanson, June Hollister, Spokane; Laura Catherine Johnson, Seattle; Elizabeth Louise Johnson, Steilacoom City; Fay Kendall, Spokane; Peggy Jean McCarty, Virginia Leigh McMath, Tacoma; Jane Ann McMicken, Chehalis; Beth Pilkey, Spokane; Virginia Lee Ray, Everett; Janet E. Roberts, Pullman.

Washington B has been adding its bit to the morale of the nation by keeping old traditions that remain efficient and by discarding other less effective ones without sighs. Record-players have replaced orchestras and library dates have become part of the campus culture. Folding of Red Cross bandages and getting up at 6:00 for military zero period are "just in a day's work."

Six girls were chosen to be Women's Service Corps officers for this semester; namely, Charlotte Kane, Second Lieutenant; Doris Haight, First Lieutenant; Carol Gleason, Captain; Lola Johnson, Second Lieutenant; Zelva Moerser, sergeant; Virginia Cunningham, First Sergeant. Beth Pilkey, Jean Eriksen, Jane McMicken, Virginia McMath, Geneva Conniff, Betty Jane Lauer, and Marjorie Hewitt were chosen to be this semester's officer-candidates.

Chapter president Carol Gleason is representing Washington B in the all-campus bond queen contest.

Betty Wilson was initiated into National Collegiate Players and  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ . Marilyn Seitz became a member of  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$  also. Irma Kokko received the  $\Phi K \Phi$  scholarship award. Pat Cunningham was tapped for Spurs and Helen Slessor was appointed to the ASSCW social committee.

Geneva Conniff was elected as AWS secretary. Betty Wilson as Y.W.C.A. president. Fay Kendall, Pat Cunningham, and Joan Hansen were chosen as Tassels by Mortar Board. Irma Kokko was chosen to be on the ASSCW board of control as junior woman.

Betty Christensen of Everett, Wash., graduated at the end of the winter semester with a B.A. degree.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Helen Slessor, West 3124 Alice, Spokane, Wash.

IRMA KOKKO

OREGON ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Chartered, 1915

Social life during winter term at the university was less prominent, and by spring term, the Red Cross, campus defense, and bond drives will become major activities. Oregon A has already played a large role in war work, yet, at the same time, has found time for social events.

Marguerite Keating was elected little major of this year's R.O.T.C. military ball. Marion Harris was chosen one of three Smile Girls—official hostesses for Dad's Day. Also, Dad's Day, Oregon A was presented with the cup which is awarded each year for the living organization which entertains the largest percentage of fathers according to the number of members in the house. Jean Baringer was honored with the title of freshman queen of  $\Theta X$ . Nancy Riesch is secretary-treasurer of Associated

PLEGGED: Mary Ann Lynch and Audrey Cordell.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Mary Jane Terry.

OREGON BETA—OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, February 1, 1943

INITIATED, January 30, 1943: Nancy Teutch, Edith Brown, Katie McMillan, Betsy Goode, Corvallis; Margaret Heinemann, Jeanne Butler, Ruth Ann Clark, Helen Jean Dyer, Kay Graham, Dorothy Gross, Janice Jackson, Joyce Johnson, Janice Oettinger, Sue Smith, Portland; Jimmie Joyce, Bend; Dorothy Angerman, Marion Murray, Freewater; Helen Harstad, Milton; Betty Behoteguy, Phoenix, Ariz.; Betty Brainard, Payette, Idaho; Helen Proebstel, Pendleton; Betty Schuttpeltz, Marshfield; Priscilla Wilson, Albany.

One of the outstanding events of this term was the Junior Prom. Pat Northrop was elected queen from candidates chosen by each sorority. Also, Larry Wright was chairman of the pageant and crowning ceremony for the dance.

The theme of Oregon B's house dance was "Pi Phi Pickaninny Party," and everyone had lots of fun blacking their faces and dancing among cotton balls and over-stuffed mummies. The girls made both the programs and decorations, and a nickelodeon saved the expense of an orchestra.

The Home Economics Club, of which Marjorie Saunders is president, sponsored a fashion show featuring clothes made by the students. The title was "Furlow Fashions." Jean Pitblado was in charge of the modeling, and several girls from this chapter modeled garments they had made.

Another event of much interest to all was the annual International Week which is held with the purpose of promoting the spirit of friendship among the students of other countries who are studying here at Oregon State. The theme this year was "When the Lights Come on Again, Will You Know Your Neighbor." Jean Ward, Jean Pitblado, Pat Boles, and Betty Burdon acted as chairmen of different committees for the week and for the International Tea.

The annual Mortar Board Ball was its usual success with the girls doing the entertaining. A dinner was served at the chapter house before the dance; afterwards, all the girls participated in a serenade. It was decided to change the date of the annual Easter morning serenade because so many of the boys are leaving at the close of this term.

PLEGGED: Pat Boles, Bend; Pat Caven, Elizabeth Palmer, Portland; Phyllis Dickey, Albany; Barbara Guderian, Pendleton.

RUSHING CHAIRMAN: Jean Ward, 2918 N.E. Edgehill, Portland.

MU PROVINCE

CALIFORNIA ALPHA—STANFORD UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1893

Stanford University has pledged itself 100% to the war effort. This puts additional duties on every living group. The girls of California A have worked 30 hours weekly at the war board, making scrap books to send to soldiers. Also many hours have been spent in wrapping bandages for the Red Cross. The chapter buys 100% war stamps each week as well as contributing money to campus organizations, i.e. Dimes for Diplomas, and the convalescent home.

Despite the death of men students, the social calendar has been adequate; exchange dinners with fraternity groups are numerous.

California A is preparing for a visit from Mu Province President, Edith Manning, and also expects an official visit from the ARROW editor.

PLEGGED: Barbara White, Bunny Reynolds, Barbara Van Cott, Marilyn Bernard, Patricia Burk, Barbara Emmons, Carol Swasey, Meryle Swift, Mary Sumner, Margie Irving, Martha Austin, Jean Richards, Betty Lou Terry, Maiya Teague, Barbara Bonner, Eleanor Stone.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Jody Scrowcroft, 1082 25th St., Ogden, Utah.

CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1900

Pledge Day, February 27, 1943

In January California B was again delighted to have Mrs. Paul Manning, Mu Province President, spend a few days with the chapter. Not only her constructive criticism, but also her charming manner was a true inspiration to all the members.

The spring semester at the University of California opened with the usual excitement of rushing. Rushing was on a smaller and less elaborate scale.

Since the beginning of the second semester, students on the campus have devoted even more time to war work. Elective as well as compulsory courses are prominent in each girl's program. The newest organization to make its appearance on the campus is that of the WOWS, Women's Organized War Service. Every member of California B has volunteered to render service in office work, typing, surgical dressings, home nursing, canning, harvesting crops, or entertaining service men.

Mavis Mahan, president of California B, was elected chairman of the women's judicial committee of the university.

PLEGGED: Jean Kennedy, Sacramento.
RUSH CHAIRMAN: Peggy Humann, school address, 2325 Piedmont Ave., Berkeley, Calif.; home address, 2470 Cumberland Rd., San Marino, Calif.

CAROL CHRISTENSEN

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1917

INITIATED: February 26, 1943: Priscilla Brooks, Alhambra; Phyllis Overton, Glendale; Sally Callahan, Lillis Van Fleet, Mary Jane Thompson, Barbara Dickson, Martha Laughren, Beverly Hills; Pat Glen, Louise Widcombe, Los Angeles; Doreen Howes, San Marino; Barbara Connelly, Rosemarie Trucano, Long Beach.

All of the pledges made their grades and participated in activities, so as a reward, they were initiated a month early.

Ruth Palmer, who graduated in February, 1943, was selected by the chapter as a candidate for the Amy Burnham Onken award. Barbara Case, who also graduated in February, 1943, was sworn into the WAACS on March 3. She is the first member of the chapter to join any part of the military service.

On March 1, 200 U.S.C. boys in the army air corps left for Lincoln, Neb. It is hoped that they will be well taken care of by the Nebraska Pi Phis. On March 5 more than 250 boys in the army reserve left for Fort McArthur, and several hundred more left on March 25. It is expected that naval pre-flight boys will take their places here. March 28, an open house was given by the women's fraternities for the pre-flight boys.

Many girls in the house are taking war minors this semester, and are doing various other jobs toward the war effort.

Panhellenic introduced a new system for February rushing. There were four actual days of formal rushing, and pledging followed. Then informal rushing and pledging may take place any time during the semester. The chapter has given several informal luncheons.

PLEGGED, February 4, 1943: Catherine Forrest, Phyllis Biggs, Beverly Hills; Jean Normile, San Diego; Elaine Glover, Winifred Atterbury, Glendale; Henrieta McLean, Barbara Whiteside, Los Angeles.

JEANNE GLOVER

CALIFORNIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

Chartered, 1927

Pledge Day, February 20, 1943

U.C.L.A. is becoming more war conscious as the campus streamlines itself for maximum efficiency. A war board has recently been formed; every activity and organization is answerable to this board, and must show its worth and willingness to comply to the war activity program. One notable example of their fine work was the war bond and stamp drive which ended with about two million dollars on that memorable day when the cross-town rival, the University of Southern California, was beaten in football; and U.C.L.A. arrived at the Rose Bowl announced by two-inch headlines.

Sororities in particular are rallying to the cause and every month vie with each other in attaining the title of "House of the Month." Blood-bank donations, 100% war stamp sales, work on quilts and scrapbooks, bandage rolling, first aid study, U.S.O. attendance, etc., all are included in the list of activities. This house, realizing the importance and magnitude that even such small activities can assume when everyone participates, is requiring each girl to give at least one hour per week to such work. It is also an excellent way for pledges to build up activity points toward initiation. A few of the girls in the house have found it possible to carry on their schooling and at the same time serve in one of the war production plants. To these girls, a salute!

There was an addition of a graduation in February designed particularly to accommodate those who wished to join the armed services. Barbara Brown graduated at this time, and is now being sent to Smith College for officers' training in the WAVES. Ethyl McCarthy and Barbara Bassett, former California  $\Delta$  Pi Phi, are now full-fledged ensigns in the navy. The men on campus are being called every day; two weeks after the new semester started, 253 enlisted reserves were called and a bon voyage ceremony was held in honor and farewell.

The Mother's Club has redecorated the bedrooms with fluffy curtains, bright bedspreads, and chair covers. This was a much needed renovation, particularly now that with gasoline rationing the house is filled to capacity, and 700 Hilgard must become "home" for 31 girls.

California  $\Delta$  came in fifth in the  $\Pi$  B  $\Phi$  magazine drive.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Patricia Barber, 6217 Fountain Ave., Los Angeles.

CHRISTINE MACKR

ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered, 1917

Pledge Day, February 6, 1943

INITIATED, March 13, 1943; Betty Blatt, Douglas; Joan Flynn, Mildred Lane, Frances MacIntyre, Marilyn Mugge, Phyllis Peterson, Patricia Smith, Phoenix; Mary Schlubach, Tucson; Rosemary Bardwell, Joplin, Mo.; Betty Dirickson; Lucille Moore, Tulsa, Okla.; Joan Erickson, Janet Redheffer, Kansas City, Mo.; Elizabeth Hack, Peoria, Ill.; Eleanor Mewhirter, Yorkville, Ill.; Mary Jo Sears, Troupe, Tex.; Virginia Wilson, Kirkwood, Mo.

Arizona A has been spending most of its time in campus and wartime activities. Many of the girls in the chapter are devoting at least two hours per week to knitting, bandage rolling, or nursery school work. Some girls are members of the Young Women's Defense League and attend regular meetings.

The university dramatic club is working on a play entitled "Heart of a City" in which Marva Jane Gale, Jessica Miller, Mary Frances Billingsley, and Rosemary Bardwell are taking part.

Recently initiated into  $Z$   $\Phi$   $\Pi$ , national speech honorary, are Mary Frances Billingsley, Helen Ahlene, and Jessica Miller. Other girls in the house who were initiated previously are Ellen McLain and Mae Virginia Jamieson. Mary Frances Billingsley was also initiated into the University Players, dramatic honorary, of which Jessica Miller is president and Ellen McLain is a member.

The whole house participated in a skit given February 18, in the university auditorium. Marva Jane Gale managed the production. The skit was part of a university sponsored competition in which all the houses on campus participated.

PLEGDED: Barbara Kruger, Coronado, Calif.; Natalie Young, Portland, Ore.; Joan Flynn, Phoenix.

RUSHING CAPTAIN: Jessica Miller, 733 W. Palm Lane, Phoenix, Ariz.

HELEN AHLENE

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, January 29, 1943

INITIATED, February 14, 1943; Virginia Bell, Betty Burkhalter, Kathryn Holcomb, Marion Holcomb, Patricia Traner, Reno.

Preceding the initiation ceremonies a slumber party was held at the chapter house. The initiation banquet was held the following evening and was attended by the alumnae, actives, and the new initiates. The alumnae entertained in honor of the new initiates at a cooky-shine also.

The number of students registering this semester was considerably less than last term's, but it was augmented recently by the arrival of 250 army air force cadets who have been sent here for training. Plans are being made by the sororities to provide entertainment for the cadets.

Preparations for Mackay Day to be held in April, celebrating the founding of the Mackay School of Mines at the University of Nevada by John Mackay, consist of a beard contest, cups for the best song teams among the fraternities and sororities, and a dance to be held at the State Building in Reno. Patricia Prescott was nominated for Mackay Day queen. Each sorority nominates a girl, and their pictures are sent to Earl Carroll who selects the one he thinks most typical of the American college girl.

Katherine Little was chosen honorary major of the cadet R.O.T.C. battalion by members of Scabbard and Blade and presided at the military ball which was held recently.

Patricia Prescott was elected in to  $\Phi$   $K$   $\Phi$  for her high scholastic standing.

A silver musicale was given by members of Nevada A. A varied program was presented, and tea was served.

Nevada A was awarded the Panhellenic scholarship cup for the fourth consecutive semester having attained an average of 2.7 for last semester.

Members must now present war stamps for admittance to meetings which are being used to fill a bond book for the house. Frances Hawkins, president of Nevada A, is publicity chairman of the women's war board council at the university.

PLEGDED: Betty Flyge, Adeline Gildone, Reno; Marilyn Barton, Los Angeles, Calif.; Sydne Hamilton, Sacramento, Calif.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Beulah Haddow, Carlin, Nev.

BARBARA HEANY

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, January 30, 1943

INITIATED, February 7, 1943; Enid Ryberg, Marilyn Schmitt, Marian Strobel, Salt Lake City; Barbara Christenson, Gladys Barker, Ogden; Rula Jones, Pocatello, Idaho.

Rush week was concluded successfully under the new quota-limitation system instigated by campus Panhellenic. Under this system, membership is limited to seventy-five, to be decreased to sixty-five in 1944. This change, coupled with war times, resulted in a simplified rushing schedule. Utah A regretted the omission of the Arrow Banquet, a favorite tradition, but the gay cooky-shine provided by the alumnae the afternoon of pledging, compensated for it. That night, the annual slumberless party was held for the members and the new pledges. Flannels and pig-tails were in order at the midnight snack.

A deep sea party was held, honoring the new pledges. Myriads of fish, bearing poetry about the pledges, covered the walls.

The nation-wide war bond and stamp drive, sponsored by college newspapers, was joined by the University of Utah. Betty Hinkley was this chapter's nomination for Stamp Queen. Results have not been announced, but the contest promised to be a close one.

The tone of the campus has changed considerably. With more and more of the college being taken over by the various branches of the armed forces, new problems are added to the curriculum. The Associated Women Students Council has made plans for the women's organizations to provide entertainment for the adjustment of the newcomers on the campus. Each young man will be specifically provided for under the new system. Utah A is delighted with the opportunity of displaying its "western hospitality" to these people.

A new loving cup was added to the shelf during Founders' Week. The members of the pledge class tied with those of A X  $\Omega$  for first prize in the candy selling contest.

Three new stars have been added to the service flag of the chapter. They are those of Mary Winn Crithlow, WAVES; Jeanne Engleman and Elizabeth Brown, WAACs.

PLEGDED: Marilyn Jull, Barbara Howells, Julie Harris, Marjorie Henderson, Beverley Burns, Mary Post, Mary Ann Palmer, Royce Kane, Patricia Wilkins, Ann Adams, Marjorie Williams, Salt Lake City; Norma Williams, Shirley Stranquist, Kathryn Abbot, Katherine Ann Romney, Ogden; Aljean Ballif, Provo; Margaret Chase, Arthur; Frances Poitevin, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Merle Stevens, Dallas, Tex.; Mildred Harris, Evanston, Wyo.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Mary Wright, 125 S. 13th East, Salt Lake City, Utah.

ALUMNAE CLUB LETTERS

A Province Vice-President writes: "I have never found the clubs more interested or enthusiastic or determined to carry on, adding in all cases the responsibility of contacting the newcomers in their communities."

Miss Onken writes: "We have great pride in the way Pi Beta Phi is functioning during these difficult war years and we have confidence in the fraternity's determination to make the contribution to campus and community the most constructive possible."

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

HALIFAX

The Halifax Club has been keeping busy with their knitting for the Service girls in England and with other war work that the girls are doing individually. The club has taken an active part in planning a Panhellenic tea held recently at the home of one of our members. Another tea of wide interest was the Spring Tea for the Freshettes of Dalhousie University at which the alumnae assisted. We joined with the actives at their spring initiation and a party was held afterwards for all members of the fraternity.

MONTREAL

The Montreal Alumnae Club is steadily increasing in size, there now being over 30 members, and meetings are held regularly every month. At the October meeting the guest speaker was Mrs. D. C. Lloyd, who gave a most interesting talk on her experiences as a settlement worker in Tennessee. The November meeting was a cooky-shine, followed by a musical program under the direction of Mrs. R. B. Winsor. Mrs. C. N. Stevens sang several folk songs and explained to the group something about the different kinds of folk music. Short biographies of three modern composers were read and their work was illustrated by piano solos by Mrs. F. S. Morley.

The Christmas meeting, as is customary, was devoted to the making and filling of Christmas stockings for the patients of the Children's Memorial Hospital. Forty stockings were filled and these have been gratefully acknowledged.

It was with deep sorrow that the club learned of the death of Mrs. F. O. Anderson. Mrs. Anderson, one of the original members of the Montreal Alumnae Club and one of its most enthusiastic supporters, was its vice-president at the time of her death.

The knitting of baby garments for the Children's Memorial Hospital is still being carried on. The club buys wool and distributes it to the members who knit at each meeting and at home. The finished garments are then donated to the hospital.

The guest speaker at the January meeting was Mrs. C. W. Dumas, who is on the staff of the Montreal Women's Volunteer Service Bureau. She explained to the club the function of the Bureau, which acts as a clearing house for all volunteer workers, filing their applications and placing each one in an appropriate job.

The February meeting was a mixed party in celebration of St. Valentine's Day.

MARGARET K. SMYTH

PORTLAND (MAINE)

Portland Alumnae Club held their January meeting at the home of Dorothy Frye. This was devoted to a discussion of First Aid. The Saturday afternoon meeting was planned to see whether more members were able to attend than in the evening.

In February, a History and Constitution Quiz was conducted at Marjorie Murphy's home on Edgewood Road. The members forfeited one cent for each wrong answer. The money was spent for defense stamps.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Hazel Everett. At this meeting each member will give a brief book-review.

ALBERTA HOBSON

ALPHA PROVINCE WEST

ALBANY

A business meeting was held at Mrs. L. G. Olmstead's, February 24, with Mrs. L. T. Vessy assisting.

The election of officers for the coming year was held. Reports were given by different officers. It was reported that over five hundred dollars worth of articles from the Settlement School have been sold. A most interesting letter was read from our Province Vice-President, Mrs. R. B. Scott.

We were happy to welcome to our January luncheon and bridge several Pi Phis who have recently moved or returned to Albany, Mrs. W. B. Collins, Jr., Mrs. C. Duncan, Miss Joan Bamer. We were sorry Dr. Alyce Richardson was unable to attend.

The annual cooky-shine and Founders' Day program will be held in the spring at Mrs. F. Archibald's home with Miss Helen Chambers as co-hostess, an event we all look forward to with pleasure.

HARRIETTE M. STRINGHAM

BUFFALO

The Buffalo Club was most fortunate to have Mrs. Smith, Grand Vice-President, as guest at a luncheon meeting February 27 at the home of Martha Borzilleri.

We were also happy to welcome Lt. Jeanne Gapp (South Dakota A) of the WAACs, who is stationed in Buffalo. At a future meeting she is to tell us something of her work.

Most of our members are engaged in volunteer war work of various kinds, but we are holding our regular meetings as usual, closing the year with a picnic in June.

BETTY BLANCHARD MEINWEISER

LONDON

The outstanding event of this season was a visit to our chapter by Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President. The alumnae club entertained at the chapter house so the members could have the privilege of meeting her.

Altogether it has been a busy and successful year for the club. As is our custom, we assisted the active chapter with rushing by having a tea for the rushees. It was well attended by the alumnae as well as by the actives and rushees and everyone was delighted with the marionette show given by Clara Hall Sipherd.

The February meeting was held at the chapter house when Marion Wrighton gave a most interesting talk on the Settlement School.

The London Club is very proud of the fact that the province president has for the second time been chosen from its members, Mrs. Kenneth Murray (Elizabeth Harvey).

DOROTHY C. BURNS

MID-HUDSON

This is the news from the Mid-Hudson Alumnae Association for the May issue of the ARROW.

The Mid-Hudson Alumnae Association has lost several members this year. Mrs. Lena Wishard has joined her daughter and son-in-law for a residence in Princeton, N.J. Frances Pearson, formerly of the Hudson River State Hospital, is doing social work with the American Red Cross and is stationed at LaGarde General Hospital, New Orleans, La. Mrs. Katharine Zimmerman is now at home in Rochester, N.Y. Jane Kingsley Parker has a position in Washington, D.C., while her husband is in the navy.

Patricia Wood Dunn is a new member of our club this year.

Our first social affair this season was held in November in the Nelson House where we had lunch and played bridge.

In January, Mrs. Frank J. Leyerle entertained with a covered dish supper, followed by bridge.

Since our membership is so small this year, we invite our friends to join us at our parties. Instead of giving prizes, we each contribute a small sum which is for our Settlement School fund.

Although we have not undertaken any war relief work as a group, most of the members are involved in some individual project.

JANE JULIAN

NEW YORK

The second half of the club year began in February with a trip to two art collections, the Blumenthal and the Frick, followed by a talk on Religion in Italian Art. Tea was served at the home of Mrs. C. A. Rauch, Iowa B. At the March meeting with Mrs. Howard Katzenberg, New York P, the club will hear a talk by Genevieve Lowry, Nebraska B, formerly a member of the National Board of the Y.W.C.A. and now executive of the U.S.O. division of the Y.W.C.A. Beatrice Louise Ecks, New York A, will serve as co-hostess. Election of officers will take place at the April meeting followed by a study of the Constitution of the United States, directed by Sophie P. Woodman, New York B. Settlement School sales this year have amounted to more than $625. The Long Island group has met each month. Panhellenic activities have included the regular supper meetings followed by programs. Together with the Beekman Hill unit of the American Women's Voluntary Services, they have carried on their canteen work, opportunity shop for making all expenses, sewing shop and placing women in volunteer war work throughout the greater New York AWVS. Sunday afternoon social activities for service men have also been sponsored. Founders' Day will be observed with a tea instead of the usual banquet.

PAULINE H. NEEDHAM

ROCHESTER

The Rochester Alumnae Club enjoyed a brief visit from Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President, in February.

Thirty members met for a dinner in her honor and later Mrs. Smith held a short meeting with the Executive Board. The committee who made arrangements for the functions was: Rhea Nelson Poppink, North Dakota A, chairman; Ann Jenkins Schering, Iowa F; Katherine Baxter Zimmerman, New York A; Lydia Leuder Darling, New York A; and Florence Ford, New York A.

The March meeting was held at the home of Agnes McCoy Miller, Indiana F. Rhea Poppink, chairman of fraternity study and examination for Alpha Province West, gave an interesting talk entitled, "Priority Pi Phi—Forty-Three Model." This spring instead of the annual Founders' Day luncheon, the Club observed the date in quiet celebration at the home of one of the members.

For several years the Rochester alumnae have met for an afternoon of bridge the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The purpose has been two fold: to make a contribution to the Settlement School Fund, and to become better acquainted with other members. This spring we have added to our bridge club schedule several evening meetings so that those Pi Phi who are working and the members with small children can also attend. Ann Jenkins Schering is chairman this year.

The Club is making a constant effort to contact new alumnae who have moved to Rochester.

MOHAWK VALLEY

On account of gas rationing, severe winter weather conditions and widely scattered membership, the Mohawk Valley Alumnae Club has held no meetings since its last letter. However, although it has been inactive as a club, its members have been especially busy individually.

Christine Wolff has been in training for Nurse's Aid; Jean Lyng has taken courses in First Aid and Home Nursing; Gwen Mason has been working on the Ration Board, while others are Plane Spotters or Block Leaders and all are sewing or knitting for Red Cross or Friends' Relief.

All Vance Sullivan Reid's friends are rejoicing over the wonderful continued improvement, under the Kenny treatment, of her small daughter, Mary Virginia, who was stricken with infantile paralysis late last summer.

SYRACUSE

Highlighting our season was Mrs. Warren T. Smith's visit to Syracuse in February. The alumnae club's share of the time of our charming Grand Vice-President was a dinner meeting at the home of Marjory S. Kirk; and no one who was present will soon forget the sincere and heartening message she brought to us on that occasion.

As usual, we used the chapter house during the spring holidays for our annual "Family Party" when we took husbands and friends on a treasure hunt, followed by bridge. During these tense and anxious days, when we are individually deep in war work, we find our few traditional parties doubly significant and welcome.

In April, we took our turn as hostesses for Founders' Day and entertained the actives at the chapter house.

The annual meeting in June will wind up our year's activities, which have been of the kind to make us deeply aware of what  $\Pi \Phi$  really means to us all.

AKRON

The January and February meetings of our club were held in O'Neil's Club rooms. The highlight of the January meeting was an interesting paper on the Settlement School by Nancy Pearce. She is the newly appointed rushing chairman. Our individual members are all doing war work and as a group we are giving our services to the Kate Waller Barrett Home, Akron City Hospital, and the USO Travelers' Aid. A successful benefit bridge was held in March for the Settlement School. We have welcomed two new members to our group, Mrs. Robert W. Davis from the Portland, Oregon, club, and Mrs. J. B. Sharp from the Chicago West Suburban Club.

ATHENS

Mrs. Oscar Fulton was hostess for the November meeting of the Athens Alumnae Club. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. P. O. Nichols, Mrs. J. E. Thackrey and Mrs. Gordon Gray.

The treasurer reported 20 paid members. Contributions were made toward the community emergency lamp purchased jointly by the club and Ohio A. Other ways and means of raising the club's share were discussed.

The meeting was devoted to the study of the fraternity directed by the president, Mrs. Richard McKinstry.

The next meeting is to be held in January with Mrs. Joe Trepp as hostess.

MRS. GORDON GRAY

COLUMBUS

Our first meeting of the New Year was held at the chapter house. During the routine of business it was voted to send a check to the Red Cross Kit Bag Chairman, Mrs. Huston Fulton (Edith Julian) covering the cost of equipping twelve kit bags for the soldiers. Rhea Ahn, program chairman presented Mrs. Peter Epp, whose husband is a member of the Ohio State University Faculty. For many years she was a resident of Russia and gave us much information on a woman's life in Russia. She told many of her personal experiences prior to 1936, and stressed how grateful women in America should be for their present privileges.

Mrs. Paul Charlton Helen Leahy, 2278 Cambridge Blvd., was hostess to the club in February. We felt very fortunate in having Dr. George A. Washburn, Head of the History Department of Ohio State University, as a guest. Dr. Washburn, because of his background of travel and study, is recognized nationally as an outstanding speaker. His talk to us on "The World Today" was both interesting and timely.

The program for the March meeting took on a much lighter aspect, Benjamin Franklin, IV, incidentally a direct descendent of the Benjamin Franklin, presented a short program of magic and illusions. Mr. Franklin, a Pi Phi husband, is doing graduate work while teaching at Ohio State.

A letter was read by Mrs. Bretschneider (Helen Shephard) from Anne Worrell submitting her resignation as our Panhellenic Representative due to the fact that she had joined the American Red Cross as Staff Assistant in a club center overseas. We regret to have Anne leave us, but are very proud of her recognition by the Red Cross and know that she will do a fine piece of work in this field. Our best wishes and God-speed go with her.

BALTIMORE

Mrs. Elsie Clark Krug was speaker at the January meeting of the Baltimore Alumnae Club. Her subject was one of timely interest to everyone and was entitled Chinese Poetry. The hostess was Miss Margaret West.

Goucher College had a deferred rushing season this year with the parties coming immediately after Christmas vacation. The alumnae assisted Maryland A whenever they were consulted upon this new type of rushing.

The March meeting was one toward which the club has looked for many months. Miss Wilmar Shields, Louisiana A, was the speaker and her subject was based on her position as Assistant to the Field Director of the O.C.D. in Washington. Election of officers was the business of the evening. Mrs. R. W. TeLinde (Catherine Long) was hostess and the meeting was held at the home of Maryland A.

Founders' Day was celebrated in April, as usual, with a banquet in charge of a joint committee from Maryland Alpha and the alumnae club. Baltimore will not have a May meeting so the Induction Service for Goucher College seniors of Pi Beta Phi was conducted on Founders' Day.

CHAPEL HILL

Chapel Hill Pi Beta Phis were off to an enthusiastic start last fall when the active chapter pledged one of the largest and most attractive groups seen at North Carolina in many years. The pledges included a good percentage of Chapel Hill girls and a number of legacies. Early in November the pledges entertained the alumnae at a buffet supper at the chapter house.

The high light of the fall was the visit of Mrs. Finger, Grand Secretary, to Chapel Hill. The actives entertained at an open house on Sunday night and Mrs. Finger was present at the regular alumnae meeting on were shown which enlightened and pleased the group. In April we celebrated Founders' Day with a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel. One of our members belonged to IC and she was with us to speak of the early days of Pi Beta Phi. This year is a sort of period of finding ourselves. The coming year should find us an up-and-coming alumnae club.

MARGARET SMAIL DARDEN

MORGANTOWN

The Morgantown Alumnae Club entertained the newly organized Mothers' Club at its February meeting in the chapter house. A program was presented, refreshments were served and everyone had an enjoyable time. In fact the meeting proved so successful that the club hopes to make it a yearly occurrence.

On February 12 and 13 the club held a rummage sale to raise money for the chapter house and were pleased to report $104, despite the bad weather.

Joy Strawn (Mrs. Lucian) is a welcome addition to the Morgantown Club during her stay in Morgantown while her husband is in service.

HELEN CARLE AMBLER

TOLEDO

Our annual Christmas party was held this year on December 9, in the home of Mrs. Robert Elwell. This was an evening dessert bridge, and, as always, was a huge success. Most of the prizes given were from the Settlement School.

The club has placed greater stress than ever this year on the sale of Settlement School products. This sale was in the hands of Mrs. Frederic Rupert, and we all owe her our thanks.

The January supper meeting was held at Mrs. Fred Fuller's, and was devoted mainly to movies on the Settlement School. The February meeting, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Pollard, was concerned with the election of officers.

Plans are now well under way for the annual Founders' Day banquet. This year we are honoring one of our oldest club members, Mrs. J. Kent Hamilton, Kansas A, and the meeting will be a luncheon on April 10, at the Woman's Club.

HELEN MARTIN

Tuesday night. Her visit was both helpful and enjoyable to alumnae and actives alike.

The annual Arrowcraft sale was held the first week in December. Susan Rose Saunders was in charge of the sale. It was very successful, and since the time of the sale, Mrs. Saunders has been receiving many orders for Arrowcraft products.

In the fall Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Caldwell, and Elsie Lawrence Gribbin gave a lovely tea for the actives, alumnae, pledges, and patronesses.

With the 1800 cadets of the Navy Pre-Flight School of the University of North Carolina having liberty every weekend, the recreational facilities of the village are taxed to the utmost. It is the custom for a group of women to take charge of the service center each weekend. The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club took the service center on the weekend of January 9-10. The center is located in the old Methodist church. It is equipped with card tables, ping pong tables, magazines, various games, and a piano. The alumnae served punch and active members of N.C.A. dropped in from time to time to meet the cadets and entertain them. Evelyn Bost was in charge of arrangements and received cooperation from all the members of the club. During the weekend several hundred cadets called. It was a most successful project and the club hopes to make such service a regular part of its program.

The alumnae have been cooperating with the active chapter in one of its most recent projects, the nursery. With the increase in the population of Chapel Hill caused by the Navy Pre-Flight School, a great demand for servants has arisen. As a consequence many women find it impossible to get any help at all. North Carolina A decided that it would be a good idea to use the chapter house as a nursery one afternoon a week. The girls have organized the children into play groups according to age. One alumna is on duty each week. A small fee is charged to cover the cost of toys used by the group. The other two women's fraternities each take one afternoon a week, and so the women of Chapel Hill have three afternoons during which they can leave their children with responsible nurses. The plan has worked out very well and is a great help to the women of Chapel Hill.

COLUMBIA (S.C.)

In December the Columbia Club in conjunction with the active chapter of the University of South Carolina held a sale of Settlement School articles. The sale amounted to approximately $75. We had no meeting in January. In February there was a short business meeting. We have decided to hold our meetings at five-thirty p.m. in Sims College, this hour being chosen as most convenient in view of restricted driving. At the March meeting plans were made for an informal supper with the active chapter on Founders' Day.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The last quarter of the current club year brings to a close a series of successful meetings, well-attended, and well-planned in program material.

The March meeting was an evening business meeting mainly for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Following the meeting husbands were invited to hear Mr. C. P. Trussell of the New York Times. Founders' Day was celebrated at a luncheon on May 1 at the new Statler Hotel and was so arranged with the hope that many of the employed Pi Phis here might be able to attend.

An especially pleasant meeting is planned for May 25 which will be a supper at the home of Mrs. C. E. Pledger followed by the installation of the new officers.

ANN ARBOR

On January 30 our club held a very successful tea at the Michigan League. About thirty members were present with our president, Mrs. John Leidy (Janet Fisher) presiding. Since we had voted in October to curtail our social activities, the January meeting was our last social meeting for some time. At present the most important news is that the active chapter has pledged sixteen girls at the completion of second semester rushing. This system of second semester rushing is new at Michigan and the results are being observed with interest.

RUTH G. GAULT

DETROIT

Gasoline rationing and the resulting transportation problem have affected our Pi Phi program this year. We plan to celebrate Founders' Day with a luncheon and a showing of the Settlement School film. Throughout the year the Settlement School articles have been exhibited at every opportunity and Louise Roberts Gilpin reports that the total sales have nearly equalled those of last year when we held a large public sale. We expect to continue our support of the Settlement School and Holt House but other than that our activities have to be sharply curtailed except for the group meetings.

All of the groups are meeting monthly and are spending the evening folding bandages for one of the large hospitals in the city. The West Group holds dessert meetings and the North and Junior Groups meet for supper either in homes or at the downtown Y.W.C.A.

Pi Phis all over the city are answering the call for volunteer help. Betty Spangler Levenson has just completed her Nurses' Aide training at St. Mary's Hospital. Gladys Reineke Finch serves as a Grey Lady at the Grace Branch Hospital. Blanche Bayless Brines works with the Blood Bank. Mary Helen Ziegel is in the uniform of the A.W.V.S. and Dorothy Jocelyn acts as a hostess at the USO Snack Bar for women in uniform at the Y.W.C.A. Many others are giving a day or two each week to the sewing, knitting and canteen services of the American Red Cross.

WILHELMINA SPIESS CHAPPELL

FORT WAYNE

The Fort Wayne Club has enjoyed a quiet but pleasant season. Although the membership has been considerably depleted because of the various war activities of the members, those remaining have been able to carry on much as usual. Several members have been lost because of moving out of town to be with their husbands in the armed forces. Others have gone to work in war plants and in many volunteer activities. As two army camps, one air base and one engineers base, are located just out of Ft. Wayne, and as the city is one of the major industrial centers at this time, these activities are many, and important.

The two outstanding programs of the year were concerned with subjects related to the problems of the war. One, on nutrition and its relationship to victory, proved vitally interesting as it comes close to the daily life of every homemaker. The other was on the activities of the College Club Day Nursery, partially supported by the club through its membership in Panhellenic. The facilities of the Day Nursery have been greatly overtaxed because of the entrance of so many mothers into war production plants. A second meeting was devoted entirely to the sewing of articles needed by the Day Nursery.

FLORENCE D. HOLMGREN

FRANKLIN

Our Franklin Alumnae Club observed the founding of Indiana A with a dessert course served at the Happy Hour Club on January 12. An annual celebration, it was attended by the new patronesses of the active chapter at Franklin College as well as our own members. Two of the founders were honor guests and spoke on the days when Indiana A was organized. Mr. Becker, a professor from the college, was the speaker of the evening.

Our constitution meeting, held in February, was a most enjoyable one. At the conclusion of the business meeting our hostess conducted an "Information Please" program, all questions pertaining to Pi Beta Phi. As the members were divided into two groups the winning team received a prize. This proved to be an entertaining way to refresh our memories on the constitution.

The Red Cross center and local U.S.O. are practically headquarters for many of our members, although the Franklin Alumnae Club does not participate in any war work activities as a group.

JEAN RIDER (MRS. K. N., JR.)

INDIANAPOLIS

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi had a radio program called "Information Please" as its unique way of presenting information about the fraternity at its January luncheon at the Indiana T House.

Colored movies of Gatlinburg were shown at the February meeting held at the Central Y.W.C.A.

A Book Review is being planned for the alumnae meeting in March and a rush tea at the Indiana T House at Butler University in April.

The annual Pi Beta Phi State Luncheon in honor of our Founders will be held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club at 12:30 on April 24, 1945. Mrs. John L. Goldthwaite (Helen Whitehead, Arizona A) will be chairman of the luncheon.

MARTHA W. SCOTT

LAFAYETTE

The club entertained the January pledges of the active chapter at the February meeting. After a short business meeting the group enjoyed a social hour. The program committee has planned a card party for March. The final meeting of the year will be held in April at which time the club will entertain at dinner the members of the active chapter who will be graduated from Purdue in May. Interest in the meetings has been fine and attendance has held up well in spite of the added war duties of our members.

CHATTANOOGA

The afternoon alumnae group has disbanded due to certain difficulties and is now meeting with the night group.

The December meeting was of particular interest due to the presence of Mrs. T. H. McClure, Chairman of the Volunteer Special Services of the American Red Cross, who spoke on the many and varied services carried on both locally and abroad. At this meeting the members decided to bring a New Testament or Bible to turn over to the Red Cross to be included in kits sent to boys in the armed forces.

As a form of benefit the chapter members sold chances on a twenty-five dollar war bond. After the drawing, it was reported that thirty-three dollars and twenty-five cents had been collected.

A Settlement School Sale was held at the chapter house on December 4 and 5 at which $125.00 worth of goods were sold.

A special treat of the December meeting was the presence of Mrs. Donald Lyons, Epsilon Province Vice President. Mrs. Lyons gave a very inspiring talk on the Settlement School and brought a lovely scrapbook which had been compiled by one of the nurses at the Settlement School.

Plans were formed at the January meeting for an initiation banquet for the active members. This will be around the first of February and it was further decided that all WAACs who are Pi Beta Phis at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, would be invited to attend.

COLUMBIA (MISSOURI)

If alumnae of the Columbia, Missouri, Club had been rushees they couldn't have received a more enthusiastic welcome from members of Missouri Alpha Chapter on the evening of February 9, when they entertained with a supper at the Pi Beta Phi house for actives and pledges. On their arrival, the hostesses found their "guests" grouped outside the house, rush week fashion, ready to receive them. In the same manner the alumnae were entertained throughout the evening, and songs were features of a program given by chapter members. Mrs. H. E. Scurlock, chairman of the alumnae committee in charge of the supper, was assisted by Mrs. F. C. Old, Mrs. William H. Pittman, Mrs. John L. Allton, Mrs. J. H. Coursault and Mrs. Hartley G. Banks.

Mrs. J. W. Risdon, Jr., was chairman of the annual Settlement School sale in December, and others serving on various committees in connection with that annual event were: Mrs. Berry McAlester, Mrs. Hartley G. Banks, Mrs. Barton Robnett, Mrs. Sidney B. Neate, Mrs. Orrin B. Evans, Mrs. William E. Seelen, Mrs. Norman D. Asel, Mrs. Robert S. Dale and Mrs. H. M. Reese.

Election of officers was held and plans for Founders' Day were made at the spring meetings.

KANSAS CITY (MISSOURI)

The Kansas City, Missouri, Alumnae Club is emphasizing the sale of magazine subscriptions and making this their major project for the year, under the direction of Mrs. George Lombard (Dorothy Williams). Due to the success of the sale of personalized stickers and post cards last year the club is continuing this project.

At the January dinner meeting Mrs. Gilbert Stecker (Dorothy Snyder) gave a most interesting talk on the new Alcan Highway. Following the business of the February luncheon meeting Mrs. Richard J. Potts spoke regarding the Kansas City Blood Bank and the successful use of blood plasma in the present war.

Members are continuing the Red Cross Sewing and the sale of war bonds and stamps in a booth at John Taylor's Dry Goods Store.

BETTY LEE BROWN

LITTLE PIGEON CLUB

The February meeting of the Little Pigeon Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Huff, where she and Frances Brown acted as co-hostesses at a lovely candle-light dinner. We were so happy to have Mrs. Ralph Pritchard (Mary Durkee) as our guest at this meeting.

She was in Gatlinburg for four or five days and everyone enjoyed having her come back to visit us.

It was decided at the meeting that we send $5.00 to the Loan Fund, $10.00 to the Settlement School Fund, and $2.00 to Holt House.

Our March meeting will be held at the Teachers' Cottage with Mrs. Peck acting as hostess. At this meeting we will elect new officers for next year. Mary Hayward and Marilyn Abel were chosen for the nominating committee.

We have made plans for the April meeting which will be held at Mrs. John Poore's (Floribel DeWitt) house on April 17. This will be the Founders' Day meeting and is to be a Pot Luck Supper.

There are very few members of the Alumnae Club left in Gatlinburg this year, but in spite of this fact, we have carried on very successfully.

MARILYN ABEL

LOUISVILLE

The Louisville Alumnae Club held its January meeting, Tuesday the 12, at the chapter house. Elizabeth Wilson, Kentucky A, gave a most entertaining talk on her work as Director of the Louisville Service Club. It was the first of its kind to be organized in the country, even before the USO. Because of its great success, it has been used as a model to help other cities organize one of their own. The Louisville Club is indeed proud to be able to claim Elizabeth as one of its members.

For the February meeting Cissy Gregg, Food Editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, discussed some of the problems that will arise in connection with the rationing of food, and she also gave some suggestions as to how to cope with them.

At the April meeting Peggy Hausman of the Charmaine Beauty Salon will give a demonstration and talk on make-up.

Florence Hunt Isert, chairman of the Founders' Day Luncheon, is busy making plans for this event which will be held April 24.

SUZANNE NEVIN

NASHVILLE

Dean Blanche Henry Clarke of Vanderbilt University was honored at the January meeting and addressed the group at this time.

An entertaining book review was given at the February meeting by Mrs. A. F. Kuhlman. The book chosen was Each Alone, a first novel by Harriet Ball, a Pi Beta Phi, which added a note of interest.

Ann Cawthon and Mrs. Benjamin Mills, III, were welcomed as new members. The club voted to give $10.00 to be used at the Soldiers and Sailors Lounge at the Nashville Union Station.

The March meeting was devoted to a study of the constitution and to the election of officers.

Founders' Day was celebrated in April with the nearest chapter, Tennessee B.

FRANKIE M. PARKER

ST. LOUIS

The St. Louis Alumnae Club entered the year, 1945, with an unprecedented informality in its meetings which have grown smaller and more intimate since gas rationing. The feeling of accomplishment engendered by the three successful Fall projects has spurred the members on to devise many new means of raising money. The January meeting was devoted almost entirely to the planning of the Spring Settlement School Fund campaign.

In February, everyone brought "White Elephants" to the regular monthly meeting, and after the business was disposed of, these were sold under the hammer of the impromptu auctioneer, Clare Brown Williams, who doubles as a very able vice-president.

Due to food rationing, a new policy was introduced in March. Each member brought sandwiches, but still paid twenty-five cents for coffee and a side dish, the money that remained to be put in the Settlement School Fund. An interesting talk on "Color Harmony in Home Decoration" followed luncheon and the business meeting, when samples of personal post cards and stickers were distributed for members to sell.

In April, the club sponsored three Community Bridge Parties to be given at homes of members in St. Louis and its environs. Admission was fifty cents, and since almost everything was donated, there was a large return.

The setting for the May meeting will be one of the most beautiful gardens in St. Louis County, when the seniors of Missouri B will be welcomed as alumnae club members.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. R. BANKS McDONALD

JACKSON (MISSISSIPPI)

Every Friday the Jackson, Mississippi, Alumnae Members, ever mindful of doing their part, meet at Adina Wallace's to sew for the Red Cross.

We are very proud because we are one of the very few clubs that were 100% on club dues. We are all buying bonds and have applied for one of the merit awards for clubs. Our magazine sales were good, but I am unable at this time to give the figures. We did not have our Settlement Tea Sale this year, but we are going to make a donation to the school, to Holt House, and to the Loan Fund. We have lost so many members, moving away because of the war, but we will still carry on as all loyal Pi Phis must.

MIAMI

The Miami Alumnae Club had its annual Christmas luncheon for the actives at the Towers Hotel on December 30, 1942. It was well attended and a very pleasant affair. Settlement School products were on sale after the luncheon.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Stebbins with a program on the active examination and the constitution. It was voted at this meeting to give twenty-five dollars to the War Chest.

The Miami Club sends greetings to all her scattered members and a wish for their speedy return. It also extends a welcome to any Pi Phi who comes to Miami.

ELIZABETH M. WEATHERUP

ORLANDO

The Orlando Alumnae Club meets four times a year, and the next club meeting will be on March 9 at the home of Joan Miller, Florida B, president of the club.

The thoughts and interests of Pi Beta Phis are turned to war. Several members of our club have moved away to join husbands in the service. Orlando has a direct part in the war by being the location of a large army flight training center, the Army Air Force School of Applied Tactics. The Orlando Club has welcomed into its group several new members, here temporarily with husbands serving at AAFSTAT.

A majority of club members are giving unsparingly of their time to war work. Frances Daniel, Florida F, Jane Dorman, Florida F, Mildred Hill, Joan Miller, Florida B, are surgical dressing supervisors; Mrs. Loomis Leedy is chairman of Volunteer Special Services of the American Red Cross; Mrs. Joseph Rutland (Hazel Jackson, Florida B) is working at the Red Cross Nurses Recruiting Center; Mrs. Herbert Sanderson is working for Bundles for America; Mrs. L. R. Nydegger is chairman of the Orange County Red Cross Sewing, and also serves with the Church center for service men.

This is not a complete list but tells something of the work of members of the Orlando Alumnae Club.

JACKSONVILLE (FLORIDA)

The February meeting of the Jacksonville Alumnae Club was the second of a series during which the club plans to try several different types of meetings designed to meet the exigencies of wartime rationing. At this meeting, a luncheon meeting, in the home of Mrs. Robert Clayton, everyone brought their own sandwiches, which were supplemented by a green salad and tea served by the hostess. Those who lived near enough walked to the meeting, the others came by bus. It was a very well-attended meeting and everyone declared it a huge success.

The January meeting, the first in the series, was a luncheon meeting at a centrally located hotel downtown. This meeting was also a great success, and allowed the members who work to come.

Mrs. Kenyon Parsons, chairman of the magazine committee, reported that the sale of subscriptions has reached a new peak, which puts the Jacksonville Club first in magazine sales throughout Zeta Province.

Mrs. Earl Harby, chairman of the Settlement School committee, made her final report which disclosed that the sale of Arrowcraft has also reached a new high.

The new officers are to be elected at the March meeting and the nominating committee is: Mrs. Walter Schultz, Mrs. Daniel Dale, and Mrs. Earl Harby. The committee for Founders' Day is Mrs. Kenyon Parsons, Mrs. William A. Jansen, and Mrs. William Yandell.

The club is looking forward to the March meeting, as Mrs. William A. Jansen (Lois Hayworth, Wyoming A), a new member of the club, will talk on South America, which has been her home for the past eleven years.

Additional work has been done on the juvenile delinquency survey, the club project in war work, during the past two months, bringing the total number of cards made out by the club to well over 6,000.

BLOOMINGTON-NORMAL

The February dinner meeting of the Bloomington-Normal Alumnae Club was held at the Rogers Hotel on Tuesday, the 16th. Donations were voted to the Settlement School, Endowment Fund, and Holt House.

Magazine subscriptions were sent to the soldiers in the Chanute Field Hospital at Rantoul, Illinois, through the American Red Cross. Our alumnae club has purchased a war bond.

A report on the nearest active chapter was given by Mrs. E. Hudson Foreman.

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA

We have had a successful year with forty-three paid up members and a good attendance. For several years we have had our club dinners prepared at the place of meeting by the chapter house cook, Mrs. Frances Jordan. Her dinners have been so well prepared and so varied that we have been badly spoiled. At the January meeting Frances announced that, due to food rationing and kindred complications, she could no longer serve us. Our ingenious committee decided on a pot-luck or covered dish dinner, which was most successful. Cards were the diversion of the evening, defense stamps being given as prizes. At the February meeting with Mrs. Roger Adams, Mr. A. S. Whiting, the father of one of our active chapter members, showed pictures of his travels, taking us through many countries and showing points of special interest. The March meeting was with Margery Spalding and the Founders' Day banquet at the chapter house.

CHICAGO NORTH

The three groups of Chicago North have met regularly every two weeks in spite of transportation difficulties. We have done sewing for the Red Cross and have sent several boxes to Overseas Nurses Units until government regulations caused us to discontinue that project. We are now working on an extensive knitting program which we intend to carry on through next year. We buy yarn and make articles specifically for the navy men stationed at the Glenview Base. Our annual spring luncheon was held on Saturday, March 6 at the home of Mrs. C. H. Pfingst. The outgoing board members served as hostesses to the 25 members present. Annual election of officers was held at this time. We plan to unite with the North Shore Alumnae Club and the active chapter of Northwestern University in celebrating Founders' Day at a luncheon on Saturday, April 23 at the Georgian Hotel in Evanston.

RUTH RALSTON CRASE

CHICAGO SOUTH

With the second year of the war, the five groups which comprise the Chicago Alumnae Club South of Pi Beta Phi through their Board, authorized the purchase of two one-hundred dollar War Bonds, Series "F," with the intention of holding them until maturity. A gift of $15.00 to Travelers' Aid Society was made early in February.

At the March cooky-shine, several letters were read from the various nurses who have received the boxes which have been packed at each meeting. While it has been necessary to discontinue mailing these boxes, due to the ruling of postal authorities who now require that all boxes sent to the armed forces in foreign service must be sent at the request of the recipient, signed by a superior officer, we hope this ruling is only temporary. Many boxes are packed, and on hand ready to start as soon as regulations permit.

The program at the cooky-shine consisted of an analysis by Marjory Peabworth, program chairman, of the returns from a questionnaire concerning fraternity constitutions as issued by Miss Onken.

The following officers were unanimously elected: president, Mrs. R. C. Peabworth; vice-president, Mrs. T. C. Browning; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Arthur Lyons; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Claude Shortz; treasurer, Mrs. Warren Buxton.

LOIS DONALDSON KOEHLER

ELGIN

The March meeting of the Elgin Alumnae Club was a supper meeting held at the home of Mrs. Earl Coleman. The program for the evening was a study of the Revisions of the Constitution. We were pleased to have Mrs. R. L. Goben (Louise Gastman) and Mrs. F. A. McCarthy (Emma Wernham) both of Illinois Z, with us.

Our meetings have been small due to members leaving town to join their husbands who have enlisted in the service.

Barbara (Haeger) Estes has joined her husband, Lt. Joseph Estes, Instructor on Tactical Staff, Army Air Corps, Miami Beach, Florida. And this month Beth (Fredericks) Dunn is closing her home to be with her husband, Lt. Commander E. H. Dunn, Marine Base, New River, North Carolina.

The club plans to close the season with a program in recognition of Founders' Day at the home of Mrs. Edmund Haeger.

MARION V. H. MARTIN

FOX RIVER VALLEY

The Fox River Valley Alumnae Club assisted the active chapter at Lawrence College with rushing this Fall. We were represented at all rushing functions, including the pledge banquet, by at least one alumna. We were very much pleased with the twenty attractive girls the group pledged at the end of the rushing season.

We alumnae attended the Fall initiation at which time we initiated two girls. After the ceremony we entertained the chapter at a cooky-shine held at the home of Mrs. Donald Porter.

The second meeting of the year was held at the home of Mrs. L. A. Burley and was preceded by a luncheon. Only those of us in Appleton and Neenah could be there.

On December 7 we were delighted to be able to entertain Miss Williams at luncheon held at the Candle Glow tea room. We look forward to Miss Williams' visits and consider them one of the highlights of our Pi Phi year. We also attended the tea given by the active chapter for Miss Williams that afternoon at the Pi Phi rooms. The rooms have recently been redecorated and are most attractive.

On February 3 a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Porter. Mrs. Frank Wheeler who is President of the Advisory Committee gave us a report on the chapter. We also discussed our various Red Cross activities and how we could give even more help to the War effort.

The alumnae chapter was represented at the initiation ceremony held on February 21. Twenty-six girls were initiated. We also were present at the initiation banquet held at the Conway Hotel.

We plan to celebrate Founders' Day with the active chapter. Plans for the party are well under way.

GALESBURG

The club members joined the girls of the active chapter at their initiation ceremonies in January at the home of Jean Porter. Later in the evening the club entertained the Knox chapter at a cooky-shine at the home of Florence Webster. The March meeting was held in the new home of Charlotte Wetherbee. A contribution of $25 was made to the Red Cross and the group voted to serve as hostesses on certain days at the Servicemen's Center. Plans also were formulated for the Founders' Day banquet to be held at the Galesburg Club in April. Florence Webster reported on recent changes in the constitution.

MADISON

Our January meeting was a most enjoyable one in spite of the extreme cold on that evening. It was held at the apartment of one of our newly married members, Patty Slidell Deutsch, and perhaps for that reason we seemed to have a goodly number of the younger members, of the alumnae group. It is always fun to have a meeting at a bride's home where we are served our good Pi Phi buffet supper on shiny, new dishes and silver.

Our February meeting was affected by the war for it was scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Lemmerer, but she left Madison for a short time to be with her husband before he left for overseas. We did not, as a consequence secure another hostess and so our March meeting will be held at her home. As we have had to change several of our officers during the winter there won't be much changing to be done with election of officers held in March.

At the above mentioned January meeting Mrs. H. S. Williams reported she had already sold $88 worth of Pi Phi Settlement handicraft goods, and as she had her remaining stock on hand at the meeting, she was completely sold out when she left, which would make about $100 worth, which we feel very proud of.

April meeting will be at the Pi Phi house, our usual Founders' Day gathering, which we all enjoy, and May gives us a picnic meeting, rounding out the year.

LOUISE DUNLOP FELSHER

MILWAUKEE

Of interest to all, but especially to mothers of boys was the February meeting of the club at which the personable Mr. Morgan, Milwaukee recreational director, spoke on "Biking Youth Hostel Trails." Many in the club were unfamiliar with the fine overnight facilities the network of hostels throughout the country offers the youth of America for a very nominal fee and along beautiful trails and educational routes.

In April the club will commemorate Founders' Day informally at a dinner at the College Women's Club. The May meeting's program will be most timely, since our Milwaukee Park Commissioner speaks on "Gardens, Large and Small."

MARJORIE OVIATT CRABB

CHICAGO NORTH SUBURBAN (NORTH SHORE)

War relief activities have occupied members of the North Shore Alumnae Club both during and between the two meetings since our last letter.

The sixty-five members present in January were pleased to see the afghan for the Red Cross which our president, Mrs. William N. Erickson, had sewn together from squares knitted by the club. Meeting again in February, members were surprised to find that their efforts of the previous month had caused a second afghan to be completed and displayed.

Besides these afghans, fourteen helmets have been knitted for men in service overseas; and a plan has been adopted to help maintain a supply of eating apples at the Evanston Service Men's Center.

A though provoking talk was given at the January meeting by Mrs. George W. Robnett (Florence Schge, Iowa B and Illinois E) who spoke on the question: "Is Progressive Education Really Progressive?" The next program was presented by our hostess in February, Mrs. Leland D. Case (Josephine Altman, Illinois E). She entertained the club with an extensive handicraft display, stories, and songs, of Indiana friends in the Southwest, Illinois E were guests at one of our meetings; and Charlotte B. Choppening, who dramatizes and directs children's plays for the Goodman Memorial Theater in Chicago, spoke at another.

We are looking forward to continuing our activities, and to a luncheon with the active chapter and the Chicago North Alumnae Club on Founders' Day.

BEATRICE CARLSON

OAK PARK AND RIVER FOREST

Our club is divided into two groups, each of which holds a monthly meeting, with three joint meetings during the year. One group meets in the evening with the majority of its members girls who are in business, and the other group meets in the afternoon. We have 34 paid members so far this year.

At our January and February meetings the members have assisted in White Cross sewing. Several of our members have been blood donors for the Red Cross when the Chicago Chapter of the Red Cross brought its Blood Bank to Oak Park recently. Although the sending of packages overseas has now been prohibited, before this occurred our club sent 15 boxes of gifts to nurses serving overseas. So we are helping the war effort not only as a group but as individuals.

The final report on the sales from our Settlement School Sale and Tea held last November, shows a total of $250 worth of goods sold.

NORMA FARNSWORTH WILLIAMS

SPRINGFIELD (ILLINOIS)

Our first meeting in October was a tea in the home of Julie Macpherson. We decided to have afternoon and evening meetings during the year. Mrs. Donald Smith, our president, suggested a unique way to make money for our donations; each of us is to have a "junk bank" in which we are to deposit money earned by selling old clothes, junk, et cetera.

A lovely Christmas party was held in the home of Mrs. Hanna in the form of a dessert bridge.

BURLINGTON (IOWA)

Founders' Day was observed with a dinner and appropriate program at the home of Ida Southwell Waite (Mrs. Clay M.) April 29. During the business meeting officers for the coming year were elected and installed.

Laura Storms Knapp (Mrs. Seaman A.), Theta Province Vice-President, was the honored guest at a supper meeting held at the home of Lucia Blake Wilson (Mrs. Harold J.) February 11. Mrs. Knapp gave a most interesting discussion of Pi Beta Phi which was appreciated by those present.

Conscientious efforts have been made to contact and welcome all Pi Phis coming to Burlington as a result of the establishment of the huge government ordnance plant here.

The club has undertaken no specific war work as a unit but practically every member is doing her share in various fields of endeavor.

ELINOR THOMPSON LUNDGREN (MRS. J. B.)

DULUTH-SUPERIOR

The year is progressing rapidly under the stimulating leadership of Florence Collins, who stepped into the breach and became our president after Evelyn Deighton (newly elected) decided to break the home ties and go to Minneapolis to seek her fortune. We certainly wish Evelyn all the luck in the world—it is deserved. We do wonder how Florence accomplishes so much. She is a past president of the College Club—and still very active—a member of the Board of Directors of the Duluth Symphony Orchestra, one of our best and most sought after accompanists, ad infinitum. We had an unusually successful evening party this year. It was at the home of Donna Jones Roberts, Oklahoma B, who, though she has been here but a short time, certainly "belongs." We do hope she stays here for a long time. Jessie Blu is on the Hospitality Committee for the Women's Institute, and is another of our members who accomplishes a great deal in the way of civic work. Our members are engaged in various phases of war work and while Duluth may not be as war-minded as coastal cities, we are doing our bit.

RUBY BURTNESSE OLNSTEAD

GRAND FORKS

Our January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Frances Billingsley with Carol Miles Humpstone assisting. It was strictly social with Mary Cave, who awaits orders for the WAVES, and Doratha DuBois, a mid-semester graduate as special guests. Gifts from the Settlement School were given them.

Conditions of the chapter and house association were reported most favorably at a well attended February meeting with sisters, Mrs. Veronica Bird Arnold and Mrs. Marian Bird Webb on the hostess committee. A nominating committee and one to serve with the active chapter in preparation for a quiet and inexpensive observance of Founders' Day was also made.

We expect to benefit from our March meeting at which time a study of the History and Constitution is given.

SYLVIA NUSTAD HICKS

INDIANOLA

Iowa B held its initiation Sunday morning, February 28, and afterward the alumnae club served breakfast. Mrs. Ann Tauber of Ames, province president, has been visiting the chapter and was present for initiation. After the breakfast the alumnae and actives all went to church together. The advisory board had a dinner for Mrs. Tauber at Hornaday's tea room Saturday night.

The Indianola members of the Order of the Golden Arrow are planning to have a tea for the alumnae and actives some Sunday in April to celebrate Founders' Day. Several Golden Arrow members who live in Des Moines have been invited.

MRS. H. A. STONE (AGNES WRIGHT)

IOWA CITY

With no December meeting held because of the conflict between the Christmas holidays and the regular meeting day, the Iowa City Alumnae club opened the new year with a joint session with the active chapter members in the chapter house January 11. The occasion marked the annual "House Corporation Dinner" when actives and alumnae join in a discussion of the matters relative to the care of the house.

The February meeting of the club which was to have been held February 22, was cancelled because of the death of tiny Virginia Anne Stickford, daughter and granddaughter of Mrs. William Stickford and Mrs. Nyle Jones, respectively.

The annual "box social" honoring senior members of the chapter was held March 22. This affair serves as a farewell courtesy to the graduating actives.

EULALIA K. SEILER

MINNEAPOLIS

The nature of the times is reflected in the activities of the Minneapolis Alumnae Club. Its program has, of necessity, been flexible. Speakers vanish into thin air, but fortunately, also appear from thin air. Members come and go as their husbands enter the service or are transferred in their work. Informality is the keynote of our meetings.

Founders' Day Banquet plans looked doubtful until we decided that if the principles for which Pi Beta Phi stands are among those for which this war is being fought, we here at Minnesota A could surmount the circumstances of the moment. The result is to be a buffet supper cooked by members of the club in the chapter house kitchen and a large scale fireside chat about what Pi Phi means to us. We think it will be inspiring and fun.

Spring may find us with a box lunch picnic at a public park instead of the usual day in the country at the home of some Pi Phi. But we intend to carry on.

MT. PLEASANT

The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club was happy to have Mrs. Seaman Knapp visit the club for the February luncheon meeting. Her personality and interesting talks are always an inspiration.

Mrs. Frank Wright (Mary Dutton) will review De Sales' The Making of Tomorrow at the March meeting.

Plans are being made to have a banquet and program on Founders' Day in April. Iowa A will observe the founding with the alumnae club.

MRS. FRANK GRUBE

WINNIPEG

The club started the new year with the Initiation Banquet, which was held at the Fort Garry Hotel in January.

On February 16 a supper bridge-meeting was held at The University Women's Club. Isabel Clarke, Dorothy Coulter, and Norma Jane Verner were responsible for the arrangements. This was the Constitution meeting with a quiz contest on the Constitution. At this meeting separate knitting groups were formed in districts, to enable all the alumnae in the city to keep in contact with the club and also make things for Winnipeg Bundles Unlimited. The new Service Club Centre, opened March 2, 1943 has a number of the Fraternity girls as volunteer hostesses or canteen workers. This club is for only men and women in the services and is run by volunteers. It provides numerous games, reading and writing rooms and a canteen.

IOTA PROVINCE

CASPER

The Casper Alumnae Club has been holding its regular meetings and enjoying the fine companionship found waiting there. It seems to us it is a living example of the fact so often told to us when we were active—that Pi Beta Phi means so much even after one is out of school. This has been found to be true for one of the soldier's wives who attended our last meeting too—Mrs. Bert J. Lange (Jean Black), Pennsylvania I from Dickinson College.

Bridge and friendly gossip seems to be the main method of completing our evening upon the conclusion of the business for the month.

We feel justly proud of our magazine chairman, Mrs. Cecil Bon, who has led us to third place in our province and a sizeable commission. We are looking forward to the final day of the magazine sales to see if we may again have national recognition.

In short, though we have been helping in the war effort in the form of cookie and magazine donations, we all feel that Pi Phi meetings have been a happy respite from "war worries."

JANE BON

BOULDER

This year we have had our usual monthly meetings but they have been dessert meetings instead of dinners. Attendance has been good although everyone is exceptionally busy with Red Cross and other war activities. Our club had charge of the initiation banquet for the active chapter in January. There were sixty-seven present. We have started a Panhellenic register on the campus of the University of Colorado so that all members of Greek organizations can become acquainted with the large number of wives of Navy men on the campus.

MRS. IRWIN DEMMON

CHEYENNE

The Cheyenne Alumnae Club has continued to hold interesting meetings during the winter months. Entertainment programs are being varied this year, and attendance has been consistently good in spite of the fact that everyone is very busy.

At the January meeting the Rev. Charles A. Bennett, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, gave an excellent review of the play "The Eve of St. Mark." In February Dorothy McDonald gave an instructive report on the Constitution, stressing the changes made since the founding of the fraternity.

Election of officers was held in March and a program by the high school dramatic club. Because of war conditions and rationing it is not likely that the club will hold its annual Founders' Day cooky-shine in April, but will be content with a simple dessert and coffee.

DOROTHY McDONALD

DENVER

The activities of the Denver Club have continued with enthusiasm. It is true that the more we have to do, the more we can do, as we have found out. Our main project has been to furnish and decorate a lounging room for the Woman's Army Auxiliary Corps at Lowry Field in Denver. There have been 200 WAACs assigned permanently at the field and there were no such facilities for these girls. The committee in charge is headed by Mrs. Byron Dumm. The club members have been helpful in acquiring and refinishing furniture, making curtains and doing other necessary sewing. The interest in this project seems to indicate that the club will continue to work for the lounge during the next year in making additions and helping with upkeep. Our members are continuing their many war duties and seem to be the happier for so doing.

MILDRED BAILEY MACDONALD

LAWRENCE

Our first meeting this year was a business meeting held at the chapter house and followed by an informal tea. We decided that it would be wise to have only four luncheon meetings, due to gas and food restrictions. Therefore we are meeting every other month instead of once a month. The group at the October meeting enjoyed seeing the newly decorated house. In November we met with Mrs. Justin Hill, entertaining the seven pledges and their mothers. The next meeting was held in January at the home of Mrs. F. H. Smithmeyer. We regretfully accepted the resignation of Miss Madge Billue, chairman of the chapter advisory committee, as she is moving to Topeka. Mrs. Warren T. Smith, Grand Vice-President, was our guest at the March meeting.

PEGGY BELLWEG WARNER

LINCOLN

A year ago in March the club participated in the initiation of pledges of Nebraska B and held an initiation banquet in conjunction with the Founders' Day banquet. In April the club provided a cooky-shine for the actives at the chapter house. Election of officers was held at the March meeting. We have found the ARROW quiz interesting and popular as a program feature.

MANHATTAN

The Manhattan Alumnae celebrated spring initiation with the Kansas B girls on March 6. The alumnae club gave a luncheon at the country club for fifteen girls to be initiated later in the afternoon. A delightful cooky-shine was held at the house in the evening.

Mrs. Holton, and her committee on Settlement School sales, have had a very successful year. They expect to have sold one thousand dollars worth of Arrowcraft products by the end of the school year, which is the largest sale by this club. They held their annual sale at the chapter house, but sell all during the year. Arrowcraft products were also used in the raffle concluded at the time of the initiation luncheon.

With our raffle, rummage sales, magazine sales, and sales of Settlement School products we have been able to make our usual contributions.

Meetings have been well attended this year despite the general feeling of uncertainty. Our calling committee has found a number of new members from other chapters, mostly among the army people. They all seem so delighted to attend Pi Phi meetings again, and find such satisfaction in them.

EDITH PEAK

KANSAS CITY (KANSAS)

The members of our club have been devoting most of their time to war work. One of our outstanding projects is Red Cross work. We have completed over 450 hours in Red Cross activities. Jean Darby and Elizabeth Wilkinson Vaughn are supervisors in the surgical dressings division. One day a week the club works as a unit in this department. Mary Jean Haynes is an instructor in First Aid and is busy conducting classes. Cornelia Washburn Edwards has organized a motor corps unit and has charge of the group. The club has charge of a booth in a department store where war bonds are sold. Betty Jo Glanville, a former student at Kansas University, has been selected as one of 400 students in the country to attend the Curtiss-Wright Aeronautical School. She is now at Ames, Iowa, for a ten months' training course and afterwards will be employed by Curtiss-Wright to do war work.

MARY KAY FOTHERGILL

WICHITA

The Wichita Alumnae Club has continued to hold its regular monthly supper meetings at the homes of various members with an average attendance of about thirty-five. Each meeting finds the war has taken some older members from the city, and brought some new members to it, and each month the war and defense activities participated in are broadened.

In the name of the Wichita Pi Beta Phi the members are serving as volunteer workers in the canteen and selling war bonds and stamps, under A.W.V.S., in booths in the various stores and hotels downtown. Most of the members have taken or are taking the Red Cross First Aid course, and courses in nutrition and home nursing and some are instructing in these courses.

The election of new officers will take place at the March 9 meeting, and Founders' Day Banquet will be held in the home of Mrs. Sam Ranson, Jr. Cooky-shine will be on the Courtney Davis Farm a few miles outside the city, and it has been decided each shall bring her own basket lunch, in view of the food restrictions. Any new Pi Beta Phi in Wichita are most cordially invited to attend the meetings.

KAPPA PROVINCE

AUSTIN

A delightful meeting of the Austin Alumnae Club was held in January at the home of Mrs. Robert Thrasher (Dorothy Hill). War work, along with a complete report of the Christmas party for Del Valle Air Base soldiers, was the chief topic of the business session.

Only light refreshments are served at all meetings this year, as half of the regular hostess fee has been put into the war fund.

February and March meetings were combined and held February 26 so as to coincide with the visit to Austin of the new Kappa Province President. This meeting was at the home of Mrs. Raymond Hill (Frankie Cochran).

In the absence of the club president, Mrs. Ben Parrish (Lucille Camp) whose mother-in-law was critically ill, Mrs. Ted Thomas (Nell Ezell) presided. A special pleasure for all members was the presence of Mrs. Charles Potts (Ada Garrison), of Dallas, Texas A charter member.

Mrs. Berry Whitaker (Inge Walling) was elected vice-president in place of Mrs. J. R. Allen (Marjorie Amason) who has moved to Houston; and Mrs. Hulon Black (Adele Houssels) was elected secretary in place of Ann Roberdeau, who since her recent marriage to Lt. Robert Merriweather, is living on the West Coast. A new member was welcomed into the club, Mrs. Donald Gay, formerly of Dallas.

Plans were made for the Founders' Day banquet, with Mrs. Robert Amman, Jr. (Mary Helen George) as chairman. The last meeting of the year will be held in May at the chapter house.

MARY MOORE SEARIGHT

DALLAS

Dallas Alumnae Club initiated 1943 with a joint meeting of the junior, senior and business groups January 8 at the home of Mrs. Chas. F. Steineger. The pledges of Texas B were introduced. A clever quiz program on the Constitution and History was conducted by Mrs. C. E. Granger and Mrs. Frank Garrott.

On February 12 a business meeting and luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. W. M. Longnecker.

The Dallas Club held a Fashion Show March 2 at Neiman-Marcus. Mrs. R. A. Minter was in charge of ticket sales and Mrs. John S. Loomis made arrangements with the store. The proceeds will be divided between the Settlement School and the USO Lounge at the Union Terminal.

A Settlement School exhibit was opened to the public at the Dallas Art Museum March 14 to April 11. Mrs. A. Cole Stevens and Mrs. Jerry Bywaters were co-chairmen. Ulna Milner Gregory was the speaker the opening day and also for the Guest Tea March 19 held at the exhibit by the Alumnae Club. Mrs. Chas. F. Steineger was in charge of the Tea.

The April meeting was a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Claranel Lewis, at which time plans for a Founders' Day cooky-shine will be completed.

The final meeting of the year will be a joint meeting of the junior, senior, and business groups held May 7 at the home of Mrs. C. S. Potts. The new officers will be installed at this time.

FLORENCE HALE PECKENPAUGH

FORT SMITH

Our club meets the first Monday of the month. With two members as hostesses we have a business meeting followed by bridge. Our attendance this year has been exceptionally good with visiting Pi Phi's at every meeting. All members are doing some kind of war work, Red Cross, USO, or Gray Ladies. A committee has been appointed to select some special war work our club can do as a unit. At each meeting we bring games, puzzles, and magazines for the convalescent hospital at Camp Chaffee. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewett (Maude Bryan) have established a fund known as the Mary Jewett Milk Fund for needy babies and expectant mothers. It is under the supervision of the city health officer and his nurses who select the babies and mothers who are to receive the milk. All babies are to be immunized in order to be eligible to receive the milk. This fund provides forty quarts a day besides furnishing layettes and linens. The benefits are given regardless of creed or color. Thyra Cordell is chairman of the recommendation committee.

MRS. DORSET CRANE

HOUSTON

The Houston Alumnae Club held the January meeting at night so that members who work might attend. At the Panhellenic war bond raffle, Pi Beta Phi sold more tickets than any other fraternity. The money made on the sale was used to entertain men in service.

A highlight in programs was a talk by Mrs. Ralph Keilholtz (Marjorie Smith, Illinois E) who presented "Country Around the Bay," the East Harris County of Texas, where many historical events took place and the seeds of the revolution were planted.

It is often Houston's pleasure to entertain visiting Pi Phi, and at the last meeting Mrs. E. G. Hestwood and Mrs. Frederic C. Sigler were introduced. Mrs. Sigler, a former National Chairman of Federated Garden Clubs of America, said that she was from Iowa B. Mrs. Hestwood immediately exclaimed, "Sara." They embraced and kissed each other, for Sara Eikenberry and Ethel Gilbert had not met since they were in school together in 1893.

MARY TANCRED THOMPSON

LITTLE ROCK

Little Rock alumnae, immersed in war work and having curtailed their mileage, are missing those frequent meetings that we have had to give up for the present. The twice-monthly meetings, noted more for their friendly atmosphere than for their adherence to parliamentary procedure, we hope can be resumed before many months. We miss seeing each other. But for a while we must be content with getting together once every month or two for a strictly rationed luncheon. In March we gathered at Martha Parnell Warren's (Mrs. Eugene).

Everyone is busy. Florence Kruger has added the Nurse's Aide course to her already phenomenal list of accomplishments toward the war effort. Eleanor Forwood Cooke (Mrs. J. E.) is helping to defeat the teacher shortage by serving as a regular teacher at West Side Junior High School. Pauline Hoeltzel spent the first week in March at the University of Chicago where she represented Little Rock Junior College in the Cooperative Study on General Education. Claire Norris Moody (Mrs. W. F.) is busy looking after her first grandbaby. Doing canteen work, serving as rationing assistants, promoting Red Cross drives, being helpful at the USO, knitting, making surgical dressings, feeding our families, victory gardening, canning, writing to our husbands and brothers in the service, and releasing workers for vital industries by doing our own work—we're as busy as all Pi Phis everywhere: helping to win the war.

ELIZABETH PAISLEY HUCKABY

MUSKOGEE

At the January meeting of the Muskogee Alumnae Club, Frances Rosser Brown showed us photographs of the new figurines of the founders. We were all greatly impressed with the distinct personalities shown in the figures, and wished we could all go to Holt House and see the actual figurines. Frances Peck Thompson talked to us about the Settlement School, contrasting the school of earlier years and the school of today.

The club made its contribution to the Red Cross at the February meeting.

NELLIE CLONTS

OKLAHOMA CITY

The January meeting of the club was an informal and enjoyable one. A discussion took place as to the most convenient time for holding the meetings and it was decided that evening was best, since many of our members are busy with war work during the day. At this meeting there were reports on the achievements and whereabouts of many former members and their families in relation to the war. The magazine committee turned in a successful report.

NELL CHILDERS LEHNHARD

PONCA CITY

Mrs. Hugh Allspaugh spoke on the Settlement School at the February meeting of the club which was held at the home of Miss Mabel Esther Donahoe. Mrs. T. R. Boggess was assistant hostess. Mrs. Lee C. Harsh gave an account of her visit to the school and the Arrowcraft Shop. Mrs. J. C. Hampton, the president of the club, presided. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Orville Savage.

MRS. LEWIS J. MCCOY

SHREVEPORT

In spite of the ration restrictions, our meetings have been well attended this year but we had to change our luncheons to afternoon tea parties.

At the January meeting we had the pleasure of seeing the new films of Gatlinburg and the Settlement School. They were most interesting, especially to those who had been there. The club has also been working on plans to have one of our local gift shops handle the Arrowcraft articles throughout the year.

As the school year draws to a close, the rushing committee is beginning to activate itself to be ready for the fall rushing season.

BOISE

Members of the Boise Alumnae Club have been busily engaged in Red Cross and other war work this winter. A number have given generously of their time on lar meetings even though the members are very busy with the many activities connected with war work.

At the September meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. D. C. McIntosh, a large number of alumnae were present. This meeting was held in the interests of the Settlement School.

On Tuesday, October 13, a large tea was given at the chapter house by the club, honoring the new hostess, Mrs. Robbie Schubert.

The alumnae and their children were entertained at a Christmas party given by the active chapter. Santa Claus was there with toys and candy for the children.

Many alumnae members have been busy with small parties in their homes to entertain the soldiers, sailors, and WAVES who are stationed here on the A. and M. Campus.

Five overseas kits were purchased by the club to give to the Red Cross.

FRANCES JENKINS ESCUE

TEXARKANA CLUB

The Texarkana Club has concentrated on war work this year. Active in the Red Cross Motor Corps were Frances Fouke Kresge, first captain of the organization, Ruth Schifflin Blair, Loma Fouke Dorsey, Katherine Steel Kizer, Jane Irene Morriss. These girls were required to study and complete five Red Cross courses and serve a certain amount of time before they received their certificates. Thelma Phair Cox and Alcene Enright Clark were among the girls who worked at the Red Cross Canteen. Other Pi Phi members gave their services to bandage folding and collecting service kits for soldiers. We feel we have filled our time profitably. Meanwhile we plan to hold our annual luncheon this summer for rushers. Each year a skit is planned and given as entertainment, and many visitors attend from alumnae chapters in surrounding territories.

Many of our members have left the club temporarily as they have followed their husbands in the service to war camps. But due to the defense plants in this area, the club shows and welcomes an increase of alumnae representatives from other states, and the number of memberships as a whole stays approximately the same.

KATHERINE STEEL KIZER

TULSA

The Tulsa Alumnae Club met in February at the home of Mrs. P. G. Weidner (Louise Birch, Missouri B). This meeting was in the interest of our nearest chapter. A good report of Oklahoma B was given by one of the alumnae. Coffee and cake were served which shows a most sacrificial spirit on the part of the hostesses and deserves special mention.

The club is making plans to have a certain day set aside at the Red Cross headquarters for Pi Beta Phi members to work as a group. This should stimulate interest among those who are not actively engaged in some special branch of the work.

In January we joined two other sororities in entertaining Panhellenic at the Y.W.C.A. building. Two speakers gave instructive talks on the woman's place in the war effort. Tea was served following the talks. A large number of Pi Phis were present to greet the members from the other groups.

Founders' Day Banquet is planned for late April. Let us hope that alumnae members will show the same enthusiasm for Founders' Day in its simplified form as they have in years of candle light and formals, speeches and toasts.

The Pi Phi Bridge Club composed of twenty-four of the alumnae club continues to carry on. A streamlined luncheon is served and a few games of bridge are played every other Friday. This year fifty dollars was turned over to the alumnae treasurer. This club has been a steady source of income during its twenty years of existence.

GEORGINA DAVIS TRUEX

ration boards and the like. In spite of other activities, only three members were absent from the February meeting.

Our main project this Spring was a rummage sale, held the latter part of February. Mary Lou Walker and Margaret Teed were in charge of the affair. We have been quite pleased with the increase in magazine subscriptions and sales of Settlement School goods this year. Bridge parties at 25 cents per person continue to be the most popular method of raising funds. We are planning to have a lawn party later this season in order to accommodate more members and their friends.

Our March meeting was a luncheon, at the home of Joy Stevenson. The annual Founders' Day program will be followed by a picnic meeting in May, which will close the Club Year.

RACHEL BRAXTON

BUTTE-ANACONDA

Members from Butte motored to Anaconda in September for our first meeting of the year. We were entertained with a buffet supper in the home of our vice-president, Katherine Moore. Owing to gas restrictions, we have not been able to continue these combination meetings. In October we had the great pleasure of hearing Lieut. Joyce Burton, a WAAC here at the Army Induction Center, tell us of her work. The November meeting was with Jo Avery and the December meeting with Edith Roberts. Our magazine subscriptions have been sent in and we are continuing our club work although all of us are busy with the war effort which comes first. There was no January meeting but we met in February at the home of Margaret Fabian when correspondence was read and the History and Constitution studied. Daisy Thompson had the delightful experience of attending the initiation of her daughter Martha and her close friend Shirley Smith, when they became members of Montana Alpha. Mrs. Thompson is a Nurse's Aide and gives much time to hospital work. Betty Ashworth and Edith Roberts are supervisors of surgical dressings at Red Cross. Many of our members have sons and brothers and husbands in the service. May peace come soon to this very troubled world.

EDITH Z. ROBERTS

CALGARY

Meetings of the Calgary Club have been very well attended and the girls are busy with various kinds of war work. We have undertaken a considerable amount of Red Cross knitting and sewing as a group.

Our programs have included Home Nursing talk by Dr. Geraldine Oakley, Ontario A, a First-aid demonstration by Margaret Mitcheltee, as well as Fraternity Constitution and Settlement School reports and book reviews.

BERKELEY

The February meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Johnson (Sue Boot, Colorado A). Arrowcraft articles were on display and as usual the opportunity for gift and home shopping was eagerly received. Plans for the initiation banquet were made. The date, March 8, was tentatively set awaiting the approval of the chapter. Founders' Day celebration was discussed and plans made for a suitable location to include as many alumnae as possible, travel being difficult in the Bay Area. At the February meeting each person brought her own teaball and sandwiches so that food preparations should present small difficulties for our hosts. In spite of long street car travel for many, the meeting was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

GLENDALE

The February meeting of the club was held at the Y.W.C.A. with a luncheon attended by 25 members. The program was devoted to the Settlement School. Two delightful readings were given by Irene Postel. We look forward to the celebration of Founders' Day in April.

MARJORIE FULLER CAMPBELL

EDMONTON

The January meeting of the Edmonton Club was held at the home of Mrs. McCuaig. Doreen Fraser presented the News Letter. A social hour included several guests from the active chapter and the pledges. In February the club met at the chapter house. Reports were read by Lois Fraser and the Social Convenor. Ruth Shipley gave an interesting talk on the Settlement School.

SALEM

(NANCY BLACK WALLACE)

Again, the returns from our annual spring rummage sale were very gratifying. We plan to use a great part of the proceeds for war relief.

Election of officers was held at the February meeting. Mrs. James Brand was elected president for the coming year. A committee was appointed to work with the active chapters in rushing.

Our Founders' Day observance will be especially significant this year since we have been invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wallace who are the son and daughter-in-law of our founder, Nancy Black Wallace.

A picnic in June will conclude our activities for the year.

TACOMA

(INEZ SMITH SOULE)

The club held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Norman Iverson. Following the dessert the business meeting was held, the report of the Settlement School sale showing a good profit. Our project of selling calendars was also profitable. Due to war conditions, our meetings have been streamlined, giving us more time to get acquainted with our many new members.

JERRY EKBERG

WENATCHEE

Prior to Christmas we donated twelve gaily wrapped gifts to the soldiers at the nearby army air base. We have given $205.40 to the Settlement School and have given $5 to the Red Cross. Mrs. Roy D. Hansen (Vera McCaslin) is temporary chairman of the club. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nicholson (Becky Allen, Washington B) are the parents of a daughter born in February, 1943. Mrs. Walt Horan (Helen Campbell, Washington B) has left for Washington, D.C., with her family, to join her husband, Representative Walt Horan.

ELSIE MCFARLAND

LONG BEACH

The Long Beach Alumnae Club has continued with its dinner meetings. The Red Cross Rooms and the A.W.V.S. (American Women's Voluntary Service) have taken the work needed to their quarters so the meetings now are given to relaxation after the chapter business has been expedited. "Visiting" bridge is the pastime.

The Club is the proud possessor of one $18.75 Bond and the voluntary collection will be taken at each meeting for the duration so that more Bonds can be bought.

The personnel of the chapter has been changing due to the many war transfers; regrettable the loss but new members have joined the group. The wish is to keep the average number of members.

MARJORIE WHITNEY PRATT

LOS ANGELES

The combined all day meeting held in January at the home of Julia Wright was well attended. The morning speakers were Gertrude Millikan who gave "Living with Shortages" and Ethel Copp (Settlement School Chairman) who spoke of "Settlement School in War Days." Both were most interesting and very instructive.

A pleasant intermission followed which gave an opportunity to get acquainted with new members during which time a delicious luncheon was served.

The afternoon program, presented by The Book Group was given by Mrs. Betty Roadman. Having been on both stage and screen her plays and readings were delightful, expressing her talent in a charming manner.

The February meeting was a Dessert Bridge held at The Gray Lady Hut where the Gray Ladies of Pi Phi serve daily except Saturday and Sunday from 10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. for the Ex-Service Men. The chairmen of the day were Gray Ladies, wearing their uniforms. Helen Waugh, Mu province vice president, gave a talk on "Streamlining The Constitution" which was inspirational and interesting.

The Book Group had its first separate meeting of the year in February at the home of Mrs. Charles McCarthy, the mother of four Pi Phi daughters. The program, followed by tea, was given by Mary Greer Scarborough. She reviewed a number of books, recommended by her as good reading for War books.

The March meeting was a dinner at The Delta chapter house, inviting husbands and escorts. The sale of the tickets for the coverlet, made at Settlement School, is well under way and the drawing will be in June when the annual picnic is held. The returns will be a part of the contribution to Settlement School as no benefit will be given this year. The letter asking for donations from all members of Los Angeles Alumnae Club will soon be sent and it is the sincere desire to be able to send your usual quota.

Founders' Day plans are in the making and will be sponsored by the Delta and Gamma active chapters. There will be one more separate Book Group meeting in March, another combined all day meeting in May, at which time the installation of officers will take place. The year will end in June with the annual picnic when the year's reports will be given. Another very happy and successful year ended for our club, and though much time has been devoted to war work the programs have all been very interesting and well attended and never was the Pi Phi spirit lacking.

RUTH ROSE POSTELL (Mrs. P. S.)

MARIN COUNTY

The Marion County Club continues to meet monthly. We are sewing on layettes for the Red Cross. All of our members are exceedingly busy as the tempo of life has been stepped up to a lively pace in the west coast defense area.

HAZEL W. BROWN

RENO

The January meeting was held at the home of Hilda Herz. After the business meeting Mrs. James Coleman read some of her original poems and a local vocalist entertained with several selections. Those on the entertainment committee are responsible for some form of entertainment, either educational or musical.

A "Cooky-Shine" was held at the chapter house in February honoring the actives and pledges.

MRS. E. J. PATRICK (Billie Geyer)

SALT LAKE CITY

The city Panhellenic gave a tea March 1 in the Union Building at the University of Utah for all the new pledges on the campus. The Pi Phis were well represented. The alumnae club had already made their acquaintance at the annual cooky-shine held in January. This was sponsored by the advisory board. The March meeting was held in the evening in order to give business girls a chance to attend. Plans for the Founders' Day celebration have been made and officers elected for the coming year.

KATHRYN BLACKETT TEMPEST

SAN DIEGO

San Diego is still very much in the picture as a wartime city. Rather to the consternation of the older citizens, our lovely little city has attained full stature (and running over!) in a period of some twelve or fourteen months! This means a complete interruption of our usual mode of living and this fact, in turn, has affected our social and club activities to the extent that it is most difficult to arrange meeting places, because of transportation difficulties. We are all of us either sans car, or rationed on gasoline, and travel by public conveyances is necessarily crowded and most uncomfortable, to say nothing of the fact that most of our members live at points distant from the traffic lines. The hotels and tearooms where we used to have our monthly luncheon meetings, in "the good old days," are now refusing to serve group meals because of food rationing, and help shortages. So, everything seems to be conspiring to make it impossible, or at least decidedly difficult, for us to hold our San Diego Alumnae Club meetings.

As an instance of how mushroom-like is San Diego's growth, an article published in a local Parent-Teacher magazine, gave the following figures: There were enrolled in the San Diego City Schools 5,251 more children in the month of December, 1942, than in September of that same year—an increase of over three thousand in our school registrations in three months!

And speaking of food rationing! Last Saturday, February 27, was our regular monthly meeting day. But because such a large number of our members were volunteering their services at the Rationing Board depots, our meeting was postponed until March 20—no meeting in February!

The Committee is working on plans for a celebration for Founders' Day, in April, but as yet no definite plan has been announced. In all probability, it will be in the form of a pot luck supper in some member's home, not too far from the street car lines.

GLADYS A. ROGERS

SAN JOSE

The San Jose Alumnae Club still functions once a month in spite of "War" and the fact that every member is either employed or working in war work directly or both.

Our meetings are short since transportation and "dim-outs" make night gatherings undesirable.

We sold over $380.00 worth of Settlement School products and bought furniture for the U.S.O. hut with our share. Some member supplies cookies for the cookie jar each week. We are responsible for all the sandwiches to be served March 30 at the hut. Many of us are also knitting for the Red Cross. I know all Pi Phis are doing much the same. But this is the only sort of news we have. All send best wishes to all clubs and hope to continue as we are throughout the "duration."

RUTH SMALE

TUCSON

The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Tucson has had a very interesting year so far. On January 16 we had a "Bicycle" luncheon at the home of Helen Murphey. Quite a few alumnae turned out for this affair and some even appeared on bicycles. After lunch a business meeting was held. A very interesting and inspiring letter from Helen Waugh was read. It told of the activities of other alumnae clubs. Our club decided to start a Rental Library. The books will be contributed by members and the money taken in is to be used for War Bonds.

On Thursday, February 11, after a morning at the Red Cross production room, the club met at the Studio Patio for luncheon. The president, Frances Beal, appointed a nominating committee and our next meeting on March 16 will be purely business at which time officers for the coming year will be elected.

Plans are being made for some kind of celebration on Founders' Day, April 28. No doubt, in keeping with the time, the celebration will be much more simple than in former years. Margaret Herndon is chairman. In May there will be a Senior party at the home of Mabel Hill. Installation of officers will also be held at this time. This will wind up the year's program.
