EDITORIALS

Of Restrictions

Some day the Editor of the ARROW will write a book, and call it "Trials of a Magazine in War-Time"! Part of our changed dress for this issue is due to the war—different paper, different cover design to go with it. Some day perhaps we'll come out printed on news-print paper, but we hope not. We are limited as to the quantity of paper we may use, and the paper manufacturers are limited as to the color and quality of the paper they may make. But we still have a magazine, even if by no means all the fine material which comes to us can be used, and even if the articles for which we have space must be crowded into smaller compass than we wish. For this issue the Editor was especially happy to have so much material which has no slant towards the war—a little tone-relief is good for everyone in times of such stress and uncertainty as the present!

The story of the installation of Maryland B did not come in time for use in this issue. It will appear in the March ARROW.

Of Physiotherapy

Finer than any comment the Editor might make on the Physiotherapy project of the Fraternity, is this letter:

THE JOY ONE PI PHI FINDS IN PHYSIOTHERAPY!

"Camp Adair, Oregon

"As to my work—I love it. Our department is large and excellently equipped. Most of the cases treated here are fractures, post-operative strains, sprains, dislocations, and amputations—in other words, any orthopedic conditions. My favorite cases are the post-operative knee cartilages. We get them three days after the operation for heat and massage. By that time the greater part of the swelling and pain has diminished and the stitches are removed. Then comes the most interesting work—that of building back the muscles and teaching walking all over again. This job is my special one—and I darn near bawl when the kids take their first steps. And talk about grateful! You ought to hear the speeches they make when they're well—and see the junk they send me. Most of my pets are home now on sick-leave and they all write me—'Went bike riding and my knee felt swell—the lump is almost gone now—' etc.

"My record so far is full strength and range of motion in a knee 28 days after the operation. . . . The army used to put the leg in a cast for four months. By then the scar was healed, but it took a couple of months to regain strength. So you see, I'm in on the ground work of some pretty remarkable stuff.

"If you know anyone who is interested in therapy—tell me. I can surely recommend it!"

FRANCES CAMPBELL HALL, Arizona Alpha

Reprinted from "DARTS and DASHES," January, 1944.

Of Relief Organizations

Pi Phis everywhere are busy with good causes, both locally and in their aid to various war relief causes. Cries for help come these days from so many sources that it has been impossible for us to use all the material which comes about them, notably from the Russian Relief organization, China Relief in New York City, and from the Provisional Committee for Assistance to Warsaw, at 2 East 65th Street, New York City—all such causes are worthy, and deserving of any possible support, financial or through active work for them, which members of the Fraternity can give them.

Emma Patton Noble

Pi Beta Phi lost a most loyal member in the passing of Emma Patton Noble, I.C., old Lambda chapter (now Iowa Beta). She was initiated in 1874, and was the president who presided over the Fourth Convention held in Indianola in 1878. Her interest in Pi Phi was unflinching, and she had given active years to two chapters as housemother, to Nebraska B in 1925 and 1926, and for ten years to Oklahoma Beta, where "Mother Noble" was greatly beloved. The Fraternity honored her as its guest of honor at the Yellowstone Convention in 1934. Her service to other organizations, P.E.O. and Eastern Star, was notable also, and her whole life was an inspiration and joy to all who knew her, through all the years since first she and her husband went to the Oklahoma country as pioneers.

A Beta Tribute to a Pi Phi Son

In "Memory and Our Mystic Shrine," in Beta Theta Pi for September, 1944, the editor, Mr. Thad Byrne, pays beautiful tribute to a Pi Phi son, and indirectly to all sons lost in the war, when he writes of Lieutenant Thomas Haynes Johnson, U.S.M.C., son of Edith King Johnson, District of Columbia A, of Barberton, Ohio. Lieutenant Johnson was killed last December 30 in the Cape Gloucester action, "doing what he wanted to do, for he loved the Marine Corps," to quote his mother's letter to the ARROW Editor. "For conspicuous gallantry in action against enemy forces," says the citation which accompanied the award of his Silver Star medal, and Mr. Byrne chose him as the typical Beta who has given his life for his country. The ARROW cannot hope to mention individually the fine men of Pi Phi families who are gone—yet we do pause to honor this boy and his Pi Phi mother, who has another lieutenant son in the Navy on a sub chaser in the South Pacific, and still another in the Army as co-pilot on a B-17. Theirs is a story repeated in so many homes in these days which tear men's hearts—to all Pi Phis who are living through such griefs, the ARROW brings sympathy and special tribute to their bravery.

Oregon Gamma of Pi Beta Phi

By EUGENIA BROOKS SMITH, Indiana I

THE CULMINATION of twenty-five years of hopes and plans was fulfilled when Beta Chi local sorority at Willamette University became Oregon Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi. On Friday, June the third, fifty-six proud and happy girls were pledged to Pi Beta Phi by Anita Young, president of Oregon A, and Jo Hector, president of Oregon B, who had charge of the ceremony. They were assisted by members of their respective chapters.

Following pledging was the traditional "Cooky-Shine" at the chapter house. A very enthusiastic and efficient committee of alumnæ planned, prepared the food, and served one hundred and twenty-five actives, alumnæ, and pledges who had gathered for the affair. The center piece was attractively arranged in the shape of a large arrow which consisted of dark red peonies, silver blue sweet peas, and Spanish iris, and was banked by wine peonies. Tall silver candelabras with light blue candles were used and at each end of the cloth were the Greek letters  $\Pi B \Phi$  written with dark red roses. The arrow cookies, decorated with wine colored icing and lighted with blue birthday candles, and the gorgeous arrangement of flowers and candles made a beautiful and thrilling impression as we entered the rooms.

The evening was spent informally by singing and introducing ourselves. The new Oregon Gammæ had learned many Pi Phi songs and we, the alumnæ of Salem, were very proud of their ability to sing. At ten o'clock that evening we adjourned for home and a good night's rest in preparation for the long day which was to follow.

The day's activities began at nine o'clock on the morning of June the fourth in the parlors of the First Methodist Church of Salem with initiation of the number one candidate, Sybil Spears, president of the Willamette Student Body. The ritual was given by Ruth Barrett Smith, Grand Vice-President of the Fraternity, assisted by Hazel Reed Ellis, Province President; Louise Wheelock Dobler, Province Vice-President, and members of Oregon A and Oregon B chapters, and members of the Salem Alumnæ Club. At seven-thirty that evening Mrs. Smith repeated the ritual for the fifty-fifth initiate, Suzanne Zimmerman, national swimming champion, from Portland, Oregon.

At noon the day of initiation another fine committee from the Salem Alumnæ Club served one hundred people luncheon in the church dining room. They also served a mid-morning and mid-afternoon snack of milk and cookies to the initiates and those taking part in the initiation. Approximately two hundred bottles of milk and four hundred cookies were served that day and nothing was done during the entire weekend of activities that was more appreciated.

The banquet was held immediately following initiation in the Mirror Room of the Marion Hotel and one hundred and ten actives and alumnae were seated at tables decorated in the color scheme of wine and blue. The center pieces were arrangements of wine peonies, delphinium, and valerian, flanked by pink and blue candles. The lovely hand blocked programs with a wine motif of carnations and the Greek letters  $\Pi B \Phi$  on blue paper added much to the beauty of the tables.

The banquet theme was "The Arrow." Irene Morley Brand, Ohio  $\Gamma$ , President of the Salem Alumnae Club, was the toastmistress for the evening. Toasts were given on "The Point"—"The Shaft"—"The Wings"—and "The Chain" by Hazel Reed Ellis, Anita Young, Jo Hector, and Louise Wheelock Dobler. "The Letters of the Arrow" provided the theme for the toasts of Mary Jean Huston, last president of Beta Chi, who spoke on "Pi Beta Phi—Antipication," and Betty Andrews, first president of Oregon  $\Gamma$ , who related the thrill of satisfaction on reaching their goal. Ruth Barrett Smith climaxed the impressive occasion by telling of "The Arrow's Flight."

The customary Pi Phi songs were sung and special numbers were given throughout the banquet by the Oregon  $\Gamma$  trio, a trio of which any Pi Phi chapter could be proud. The banquet was concluded with the loving cup ceremony.

On Sunday morning the girls attended church in a body and Dr. J. C. Harrison, minister of the First Methodist Church, president of the Board of Trustees of Willamette University, and father of three Pi Phi daughters from Oregon B, delivered a sermon prepared especially for the occasion.

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon the newly installed Oregon  $\Gamma$  chapter entertained five hundred guests at a reception at University

The house was profusely decorated with exquisite flower arrangements which were sent to the girls in honor of the thrilling and happy occasion.

Dobler; also, Anita Young, official delegate from Oregon A, Jo Hector, delegate from Oregon B, Beatrice Grant of Alberta A, Sonia Rogers and Geneva Coniff, Washington B.

A thrilling incident in the banquet came in the introduction of Louise May Sawyers Linn, Iowa A, who, among those in attendance, had enjoyed more years in Pi Beta Phi than any other member. As she arose to acknowledge her introduction, the entire banquet group greeted her by singing the much-loved Pi Phi song of her composition—Ring Ching Ching.

Beta Chi local sorority came into existence on March 29, 1919, and was the first Greek letter organization to make its appearance on the campus of the pioneer university of the West. Oregon  $\Gamma$  of Pi Beta Phi appropriately becomes the first chapter of a national fraternity to be established at Willamette.

pus with the strength of the organization based upon high scholarship and careful management of finances. Beta Chi has received the scholarship trophy on the campus eleven times. The chapter house on State street just two blocks from the campus was built in 1928 and since that date the fraternity has had an unbroken record of prompt payment of interest and principal on the indebtedness.

The establishment of Oregon  $\Gamma$  at Willamette University gives Pi Beta Phi a well balanced group of chapters to maintain the fraternity leadership in the Northwest. Pi Beta Phi now has an established chapter on the campus of a strong liberal arts college, the oldest educational institution on the west coast, as well as on the campuses of the outstanding large state universities of the area.

The Editor Hears:

Leslie E. Eichelberger, Beta Theta Pi, husband of Elma McClelland, Colorado B, has the honor of owning a famous Beta badge, over a hundred years old, once the property of Philander Wiley, professor of Greek at DePauw for many years. Dr. Wiley spent the last years of his life with Chancellor and Mrs.

Buchtel of Denver University, and at his death left the pin to be given to some young Beta who needed it. Dr. Buchtel saw that need when Mr. Eichelberger gave his own pin to his bride-to-be, and so the gift was made.

Honolulu Carries On

An accompanying letter from Mrs. Helmick says:

"Honolulu Pi Phis are very closely knit together and each one is doing splendid self-sacrificing war work. Our informal meetings at the "Y" for weekly luncheon, though hurried, are lovely. We will have our Founders' Day luncheon probably at the Y so that all who work near may be able to take an hour off to attend. Gas is so limited we cannot plan anything for an evening meeting."

by ELIZABETH CLARKE HELMICK, Michigan Alpha

HERE in Hawaii we have felt the nearness of active war since that December 7 Sunday morning when the very earth and our homes were rocked by the treacherous and unmerciful attack upon our Pearl Harbor and near by garrisons. Immediately after the "blitz," upon the request of the Army authorities acting under martial law, those who had homes on the mainland to which they could go, left the Islands for safer and less belligerent areas, and until recently have not been granted permission to return. This war ruling decimated our Pi Phi ranks and our meetings became irregular and incomplete and constantly punctuated with the roar of planes overhead and the whizzing and pounding of heavy artillery fire from our near by artillery in practise.

Early in February the resident Pi Phis in Honolulu gathered at the popular Halekulani Hotel at the ocean's edge at Waikiki for an 8 o'clock breakfast together. Sunday is the only day in the week in Hawaii that can hold a semblance to peaceful and restful leisure for any of us. This Sunday was a typical, sweet-aired, balmy Sunday morning, and when the girls, one by one and in pairs, came up the flower-bordered walk to the lanai where we gathered, it was a taste of old times to see their faces and hear the hearty, affectionate greetings of the arrivals for the breakfast. We had a wonderful breakfast and a wonderful gab-fest and then adjourned to the House Without a Key, a popular open pavilion in the coconut grove on the beach, surrounded in part by foliage and brilliant colored flowers in the midst of a tropical atmosphere, for our business session. Here we discussed Pi Phi matters—business—and then came letters from national officers, Settlement School news, letters from absent members, individual activities, post war anticipations, problems of our co-members and our own, and of course Founders' Day celebration and the Fraternity. Loose threads were picked up and the Pi Phi pattern was again woven into its firm, renewed and lasting shape. It was a long-to-be-remembered reunion, but the telephone reminded us it was past 12 o'clock, and reluctantly we shook ourselves out of the trance we had fallen into and rushed out and off to the cares of war time homes and families with renewed life and the comforting inspiration of fraternity unity.

Here is a roster of Pi Phi members in Hawaii:

Dorothy McLaren Anthony (Mrs. J. Garner), Pennsylvania A, price panel chairman for war prices and rationing board.

Muriel James Bergstrom (Mrs. W. J.), Michigan B and California A, teaching, University of Hawaii, Gray Lady to invalided soldiers.

"Committee" at Gatlinburg

Each summer as various members of the Settlement School Committee start on their journey to Gatlinburg, they are envied by their friends who always exclaim, "What a grand vacation!" but if these same friends could sit day after day in the living-room at Helmick House and work with Committee as it receives and analyzes the reports for the past year, studies the present conditions and bends its energies to outline the program for the ensuing year, trying to keep expenses within the budget when there are so many places for expansion, they would soon realize that the Settlement School as it now functions is the result of conscientious planning of many members of the Committee over the year with the fine cooperation of every chapter and club in the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. Just as it is hard work to earn in the chapters and clubs the contributions for our School, so is it hard work to disburse the finances with an eye to the best results to be obtained for our mountain people.

This year there were several high-lights which were unusually interesting. First, we have completed one year with the educational department of the School run by the County. In an interview with Mr. Theron Hodges, our County superintendent of Schools, an expression of mutual trust and pleasure was exchanged. The basic program which is provided by the County, was augmented by courses in Crafts and in Physical Education, sponsored by the Fraternity, both of which courses are much needed. Coal for the coming year was being delivered and land had already been bought by the County for the new elementary school building when lumber and other materials are available. Repairs to both elementary and high school buildings were under way for the fall sessions. One dollar rent was collected from the County. A full staff of teachers was being placed under contract and this fall on account of crowded conditions in the lower grades a new teacher was added to the staff. The number of teachers depends upon the enrollment.

It has always been the aim of Pi Beta Phi to preserve an even balance of half Pi Beta Phi teachers and half County selected teachers approved by Pi Beta Phi. This year for the first time in its history the Pi Beta Phi School opened with no Pi Beta Phi teacher on its staff, a condition caused by wartime emergencies.

When the Great Smoky Mountain Park was opened several years ago and Sugarlands School was of necessity dismantled, many fraternity women felt that we should do more for the children further away from the Burg. These families, however, were moved closer to the Burg and still enjoyed the benefits of our School, or their families moved entirely away from the section. This year a group of children from Elkmont were without educational opportunity unless transportation to our school was provided. For this year, only, until a satisfactory arrangement can be evolved, Pi Beta Phi is paying for this transportation. This satisfies in a small measure a feeling that we are still reaching out to those isolated children who need us most.

Another highlight this summer was "walking the boundaries." The rapid growth of the Burg and the inadequate markers on parts of our property were reasons for a new survey, adjustments and permanent markers. A survey had been made last spring by Mr. Jack Arthur and the Committee approved his work as follows.

THAT MEMORABLE TRIP

June 21, 1944

Listen, Pi Phis, and you shall hear
The tale of Grand Council you revere
Who, with Committee on this June day
Walked the boundaries and approved the survey;
Permanent markers, leaving nothing to chance,
Was the aim of Committee, mapped out in advance.

At eight in the morning at Health Center gate
The group met as suggested (no one was late);
Amy, Ruth, Lois, Mildred, Lolita,
Emma, Ann, Beth and Mr. Jack Arthur,
Equipped with stout sticks and good walking shoes
And precautionary measures from which to choose,
Citronella for mosquitoes, sulphur for "chiggers," Even Jack Arthur's machete (He "figgers"
Some branches to cut, a pathway to clear
As the whole party goes into high gear.)

A collie attracted by the unusual commotion
 Augmented the party and proved his devotion
 By following on (a canine at play)
 Faithful and loyal throughout the survey.

A "drear," iron pipe, 10 links from a gumwood,
 Wire through a beech tree, five poles from a dogwood,
 Two marks on a poplar and three for a corner
 Were some of the guides from here to "up yonder."
 Steep was the ascent from the spring to the ridge
 With many an obstacle for them to bridge,
 Barbed wire entangled, old fence rails rotted,
 (Disintegrating signs of a survey long plotted)
 A fallen tree crossed a telephone wire
 All these to surmount and others prior
 To reaching the top and straddling the rim
 Of Pi Phi Hill, reached with vigor and vim.
 Some of the group arrived running and laughing
 But most of them came a huffin' and puffin'.

On Huckleberry Ridge, a long level stretch
 With granite rocks, berries and flowers within reach
 Of all as they gazed both this way and that
 At boundaries and fences Mr. Arthur pointed at!
 Some moved o'er the years (the line surely wavers)
 As neighbors and Pi Phi exchange special favors.
 Permanent markers this survey has slated
 At corners and places which might be debated
 That now and forever our boundaries may be
 From dispute and court action forever "scot free."

The descent from the hill was made in good time,
 One after another still in single line;
 Stout canes for support, small trees to hang on to,
 Slipping, sliding and sitting down, also!
 Holding back, resisting, groping and falling,
 Too fast they came down the side of the mountain,
 With glimpses of beauty, a white rhododendron,
 A flame azalea, then a grove to sit down in.
 Back to Helmick House they came quite elated,
 "We have walked the boundaries," together they stated.

"No casualties, no first aid," they defended.
 "Walking the boundaries for this year is ended."

As an aftermath each member of the group insisted that it had been a wonderful experience which she would not have missed for a great deal, but one which she would not choose to repeat.

One of the lovely "finds" in the little grove near the fireplace on Pi Phi Hill is the Stewartia, mountain camelia. It is a rare bloom even in the Smokies and is more beautiful than the flowering dogwood which abounds in this section.

MARY L. OWENBY weaves the white bags which are so popular. No matter how fast she weaves, orders for more bags keep piling up at Arrowcraft. Cora Martin stands, awaiting her turn with Whig Rose doilies. The rural mailbox brings letters from sons and husbands all over the world and this particular mailbox is no exception. Countries well-known now were only a few years ago, unheard of and unknown. Alaska is "where my son is" or "Yes, my husband is in New Zealand." An old cabin is in the background while a clapboarded home of a later period is in the right foreground.

Wartime Weaving Problems

This summer the Settlement School Committee thought "it would be kinder nice ef" they could go with Miss Redding when she collected the weaving. ("Kinder nice ef" means "we want to very much.") In peace times the weavers start from their homes very early in the morning and ride or walk to Arrowcraft Shop, bringing in their piles of lovely woven goods, but in war times everything has changed, and the weaving supervisor meets small groups of her weavers at the bend of the river in the Glades, at the end of the mountain path at Powder Hill road, or even at some of the cabins.

All able-bodied men are in service. The women care for their families and children's families, weave, tend the garden, cook and can, feed the pig, milk the cow, pick berries, chop wood and there just are not hours enough in the day for them to go to the Burg with the products woven in their leisure(?) time.

The problems of weaving in wartime are increasing. It is becoming more difficult to secure materials; some of the older weavers have no time to weave with the added cares of home; some who receive adequate allotment checks do not feel the need of weaving for economic independence; others are having babies and for months before and after a baby is born, the supervisor allows none of her weavers to work, and there is a larger crop of wartime babies than usual this year. Thus, Miss Redding has to go farther back into the hills to get new weavers and train them to the standard that Arrowcraft desires.

The afternoon that Committee drove to the Glades with Miss Redding was clear, bright and sunny, and on account of the dry weather it was very dusty. There by the riverside were a group of four women some of whom had already walked a long distance to the meeting-place, Cordy McCarter, mother of ten children, Mary L. Owenby, who went to Boston for the Handicraft Show two years ago, Lura Profit, sister of Arlie Watson, and Cora Martin, who has woven for Arrowcraft for eighteen years. These women are all expert weavers. Cora does more weaving than most. She also has ten children. One of her sons is in New Guinea. Last year he sent home to his mother for seeds to plant a Victory Garden there. Later he sent home for a camera. The pictures of his garden are precious to Cora and are shown with shy mountain pride.

Miss Redding, "the writin'est woman," marks down the number of Whig Rose doilies that Cora has brought, then goes on to the others, counting each white bag and butterfly doily as she talks with her weavers about their homes and families.

Committee left this group reluctantly as Miss Redding drove way back into the Powder Hill Road, farther back in the ridges than she had ever gone before in search of new young weavers. Here a group of young children had brought boxes of weaving to the edge of the road. Hot and dusty! It was terrifically hot as Committee talked with the shy, reserved children in the open space by the road where there was no shade.

Gatlinburg is just as green a field for service as in 1912. In the Burg itself the needs are entirely different, but the more isolated the section the more primitive the conditions and the more poverty and ignorance. The door which Pi Beta Phi has opened to life and education in the Great Smokies must be pushed wider and wider as the mountain people with intelligence far above the average, take full measure of the advantages offered to them.

Memorial Fund

The Memorial Fund is being used for the Health Centre. It is appropriate that gifts in memory of loved ones should be used in life-giving service, and a sterilizer is being purchased with the accumulated gifts.

Please remember to use the Memorial Fund and send gifts to Mrs. Frank Prouty, 1760 Locust Street, Denver, Colorado, who in turn will send you a card in acknowledgment of the gift and a card to the relatives of the person for whom the gift is a memorial.

Old Timers' Day

The last day of the Committee's stay in Gatlinburg was the Old Timers' Day. This reunion day of all the older residents for miles around was started the second year Phyllis Higginbotham was nurse of the school. "Miz" Phyllis had come from the west where Settlers' Day was well known and popular and she based the recognition of our Old Timers' on personal experience with the Old Settlers. From its innovation until now it has been anticipated for weeks ahead and referred to months after with pride. Five hundred citizens were present in the auditorium when Amos Reagan, President of Old Timers' Day and Master of ceremonies, opened the program, and as many more were milling around on the football grounds outside where Arlie Watson presided at the "Pop" stand which he has capably managed on this day for the last nineteen years.

Mr. Reagan's remarks were pertinent to the occasion and one line echoes and re-echoes in our consciousness, "There will never be peace in this world until each nation gets down on its knees. Don't stand up to pray! We must all get down on our knees." Judge Paine, now seventy-seven years old, a friend of the School since its inception, gave the main address of the day and was shown great affection by the austere mountain people. Harp-singing was a stately measure and to watch the faces of these fine men as they sang the notes and then the words of the rugged hymns, audibly keeping time with their feet, was unforgettable.

The small boys entered the dog-calling contest and it was a wise boy who brought his own "claque." Calls "Help, boy, Help" and "Doggo, come out from under" brought the dogs as quickly as Uncle George Ogle's casual, "I'm goin' fox-huntin'." The baby contest, married couples' contest for the largest number of years of happily married life, were all eagerly entered by hearty participants and the call to lunch was an interruption which was welcomed only as an opportunity to talk things over with friends whom the Old Timers see only once a year. The afternoon was given over to matches of skill in music, corn-shucking, hog-rifle shooting, board splitting, horse shoe pitching, archery for the men and indoor contests for the women in weaving, carding, spinning and sewing.

And what are some of the needs of our mountain people? They need a full-time doctor, a dentist and a dental unit, Pi Beta Phi teachers who understand the scope of Pi Phi work and aims, a full time recreational leader (funds are included in the budget for this), a music teacher, typewriters. There are many wartime babies and layettes are welcome, also any other warm clothing for small folk. This winter materials are scarce in the Burg. Let's make the "quality of our contact" with the Settlement School this year benefit our mountain people and in so doing enrich our own lives!

CORA MARTIN is a fine example of mountain woman. Her refined face shows patience, endurance and strong beauty. Her grey hair, once golden, forms a halo as she stands in the sunshine while Miss Redding counts the Whig Rose doilies Cora has woven.

Indiana B Alumnae Establish Student Loan Fund

Alumnae of the Indiana B are shown presenting to Ward G. Biddle, vice-president and treasurer of Indiana University, a check for $3,175 for establishment of a student loan fund for initiates and affiliates of the chapter. Attending the presentation ceremonies were, left to right, Miss Sarah Cogshall, president of the Bloomington, Indiana, alumnae, Mrs. William Hoadley, Mrs. Morris E. Binkley, and Mrs. J. M. Van Hook, all of the Bloomington alumnae group.

Have you made a contribution to Holt House fund this year?

MRS. MARTHA CARVER weaves strawberry luncheon sets and her daughter, Ruth weaves bibs and butterfly napkins. Note the Red Cross sticker in the cabin window. Note also the interest of the young brother as the articles are being counted. A bit of each weaver goes into her handiwork.

The Committee for War Work Continues Its Bulletins

NEARLY TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS WAS CONTRIBUTED TO THE PHYSIOTHERAPY SCHOLARSHIP FUND by clubs and chapters during the year 1943-1944.

SINCE THE PHYSIOTHERAPY FUND HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED, Pi Beta Phi has helped 40 GIRLS SECURE THEIR TRAINING.

Recent letters tell the story:

From the holder of the first Physiotherapy Scholarship:

McCloskey General Hospital
Temple, Texas,
October 4, 1944

"I feel there is no way I can repay you for your kindness to me in opening my road to happiness. I am supremely happy in my work here. Physiotherapy is a grand field, and though we are very tired at night it is a field with which I am proud to be associated. Right now we are short of technicians and the work is doubly hard. Nevertheless, I am happy in my work. The work you are doing to further this field and to help worthy students is most admirable, and I am proud to be the possessor of the first scholarship presented by your organization. I shall do my best to make you proud of me."

Sincerely,
(Lt.) Ruth Elder

From the holder of a recently awarded scholarship:

Iowa City, Iowa,
October 26, 1944

"I have been here now since September 16th and every minute has been spent in useful work. It certainly is a shame we can't spend more time with the course as there is so much to absorb and so little time for it. We have from 25 to 30 hours of classes a week and the rest of the 44 hours we put in practice. Up to this week we have been observing but this week we start actual massages on patients.

"The campus here is very beautiful. In fact the whole school is. I have a lovely room by myself and there are four other girls in this same house. There is still a polio epidemic going on here. The frost didn't seem to make much difference this year. We students volunteer for work in isolation giving the new polios the Kenny Packs. This, of course, is on the week ends.

"There are 18 girls in our class which is rather a large class. They come from all over—one is from Panama.

"The financial situation is coming along beautifully. I must close now and be off to class."

Sincerely,
Shirley Statton

From Dr. Frank Krusen, Section of Physical Medicine, Mayo Clinic:

"It is more essential than ever to continue to train as many physical therapy technicians as possible—and I recommend that you continue your efforts next year."

THIS POSSIBLE

You Hear Her Voice

Shirley Pietsch, Indiana B, is in Chicago radio circles, where as Shirley Palmer she is the commercial staff announcer for WAAF studios atop the Palmer House. Her work entails handling all types of programs, and during her eight hour shift, she writes and produces "feature" shows that accompany the commercials, broadcasts news commentaries, handles WAAF's "Symphonic Hour," acts as mistress of ceremonies on the "Sports Edition," and engages in an ad-lib battle from 4 to 5 P.M. on the merits of sweet and swing music, Crosby and Sinatra. She is the first woman staff announcer in Chicago.

Award for Society Editor

To residents of Southern California the name of Christy Fox, California F, comes every morning with their Times, for she is Society Editor and feature writer on that famous paper. In private life Christy is Mrs. Ludlow Shonnard, Jr. Recently her work received well-deserved recognition when the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce honored her with its Distinguished Service Award for her brilliant series of articles on the war-time social service and vocation of Mexico, based on her own research and observation during a recent trip to the neighbor republic.

Mortgage Burning

Kansas B and the Manhattan Alumnae Club have had many delightful and inspiring Founders' Day Banquets but the 1944 dinner was most memorable for a very special feature was added, the burning of the chapter house mortgage.

Fortunately Miss Onken was able to time her visit to the chapter so that she could be present which added greatly to the occasion.

The brick and stucco English house was built in 1927 at a cost of $45,000. Built for 36, it houses at present 43 girls. Upkeep, improvements and new furnishings have never been neglected. The rooms were completely redecorated this past year. The house was financed on a 20-year plan but has been cleared of all indebtedness in 16 years.

A miniature of the house centered the banquet tables and programs with a block-print of the entrance on the cover marked places for 85 alumnae and active members. Toasts on "The House" were introduced by Roberta Townley, president of the active chapter. "The Building of the House" was told by Lillian Beck Holton (Maryland A), chairman of the

The many scholarship honors won by Kansas Betas were announced by Helen Moore (Kansas A), Dean of Women at KSC, and awards were given. The program closed with a message from Miss Onken.

Congressman's Wife and Partner

There is a member of Congress from the State of Washington by the name of Horan, a "Sig-Ep" of some renown, about whom many stories are being told.

But the more you know about the man Horan, the more you know that the stories couldn't be just about him alone. That's because the big Irishman from the Wenatchee apple country has a family . . . a family that's as much a part of him as is his political philosophy.

Walt (don't ever call him Walter) Horan doesn't say: "I have done thus and so," or "I would like to do so and so" for his constituents. He says, instead: "We have done it" or "We will do it." And by we he means Sally and he.

Sally, whose real name is Helen Campbell (Washington B) is also a graduate of Washington State and it was in their undergraduate days when they were both studying economics, history and political science that they decided it would be better to combine forces.

So they did combine and it's a combination to write home about. Hence, this story about the Horans.

Sally      Walt      Kaye (standing)
Harold      Walter, Jr.      Mike      Scott
The Apple Box Story Was True

Incidentally, you can pronounce that name either Horan or Hor'n and you won't get into any arguments with them.

Walt and Sally became a part of the Washington, D.C. scene in the winter of 1943. He was elected in the fall of '42. They did it with a characteristic touch that still has some of the staid circles amazed and they have also maintained an individuality that is unique in the Capitol City.

In the first place, Walt went to Washington alone and at a time when the housing shortage was more than just another Washington rumor. He went alone only because Sally put her foot down flatly and refused to be wheedled into leaving the "regiment" or taking them along on the house hunt. That regiment consists of four boys, ages seven to fourteen, and one daughter, seventeen.

So Mr. Horan went to Washington, probably as green in the political pastures as the Mr. Smith of movie fame, and undoubtedly with far more on his mind.

How he went about making his political connections, getting desired Committee assignments, learning the ropes of Congress and at the same time hunting night and day for a place to put Sally and the "regiment" is one of those minor miracles that should be told by Walt himself to be fully appreciated. But it was done at last. And along in February came the other half of the Horan team, accompanied by the regiment.

Did you get the impression that Walt had solved the housing problem? Perhaps that is a bit of an exaggeration. He had bought a house and had gathered up a few beds. Other than that it was quite bare, indeed, and it had that queer hollow sound for days afterward until the combination got to working again and had curtains on the windows, pictures on the walls and other essentials for family living.

Washington's newsmen and photographers had a field day when the family arrived. They wrote eyewitness stories about the excursion across the country and they took pictures of the regiment sitting on crates and boxes, sleeping on the floor and eating out of paper plates. Walt hasn't yet lived down the fact that he, one of the biggest fruit producers in the state of Washington, used California orange crates for furniture.

But the housing problem was licked, the family settled down and Walt dug deep into the problems of his district and of the nation.

Walt is a farmer by profession. He believes in production and in the free exchange of those things which farmers produce. In his first venture into politics, a jump direct from his apple and pear orchard into a Congressional campaign, Walt and Sally carried with them always from one to a dozen boxes of fruit. It was fruit that the government said couldn't be sold because of some bureaucratic regulations designed to hold up the price, but which Walt felt should not be wasted. He left apples with sawmill crews and on wheat ranches. He tossed them about to miners and war plant workers. He left an opened box at every political rally or street corner meeting. Walt and Sally literally left a trail of apple cores and pear peelings throughout the Congressional district. When the votes were counted in that 1940 election, the Horans didn't win but they astounded the experts. Walt lost the election by a narrow margin to a three-term incumbent, but they had become known, widely and well.

The Horan home near the Capitol is a popular gathering place for friends and neighbors. You might go out there on any night of the week and find a representative group. Walt and Sally might be entertaining a group of Congressional colleagues or one of the youngsters might be having a birthday party with all the trimmings. Or it could only be that two or three constituents have come to town and Walt has brought them home for dinner.

Things like that don't bother Sally. She has cooked for apple harvest crews. She loves people and is filled to overflowing with that wifely wisdom and political acumen which recognizes that Walt's home and his home life are his most powerful public assets.

Other Congressmen entertain in Washington's down-town hotels and restaurants. Walt and Sally merely set another place or a dozen more at their family table. But in fairness to both of them it should be said that on the special occasions, the regiment either takes to the attic or the playroom basement and are heard from but little. The democratic atmosphere begins at home for this couple, and there's a place in the scheme of things for Walter, Jr., aged seven, as well as for the family genius, Kaye, aged 17. Their opinions on all things are both heard and considered.

Walt Horan doesn't take himself or his position too seriously. Sally and the "regiment" take care of that. He is also unique among the political fraternity of Washington, D.C. in that he doesn't envision himself either as an indispensable cog in the governmental machinery or as a future "big shot" in the party. He wants to truly represent the people of Washington's Fifth District and to have a hand in shaping the future of a country he once fought for.

In short, Walt Horan, Member of Congress, farmer and family man, and Sally, his wife, are Americans, true representatives of the people who have made this country what it is and who want to keep it that way.

Pat and Her Dolls

Remember when you still played with dolls and remember how you dreamed of dolls that could truly walk and talk? Pat Turk of Oklahoma B materialized her dreams in the form of marionettes. All that need be done is pull a few strings and her dolls come to life.

Pat's first experience with puppets occurred when she was nine years old. She made the "Wishing Fairy" for her grade school marionette show. Here was the perfect hobby for a little girl who was not ready to put aside her dolls. Pat decided to produce her own plays and began by making all the marionettes for a cast. At first the dolls were rather distorted looking creatures; long necks, heads three times too large, and limbs that were too stiff to move naturally; however, the more marionettes she made the better they were. Her first stage was merely a draped framework set on a table. Later the necessity arose for a more complete stage. A six-foot convertible screen was constructed with many backdrops, stage props and regular theater curtains. Then she was able to carry her stage around and perform for various groups. She gave shows in Oklahoma City for the public parks, libraries, Y.W.C.A., W.P.A., and schools. Among the plays presented were "Hansel and Gretel," "Cinderella," "Epaminondas," and "Bluebeard."

The marionettes are constructed from cloth, weighted with fish weights or anything handy, stuffed with cotton, and jointed in the limbs. Pat says her best marionettes are the ones that look the floppiest before the strings are added. Stringing a marionette is one of the most thrilling moments for a puppeteer. A doll is constructed and dressed; but not until it has strings does the personality develop, and the little creature come to life. Some marionettes walk bow-legged, some very erect and others are natural dancers. After Pat has strung her puppets to the control board, she feels almost as if she has created a miniature human being.

When she reached high school, with all its activities, there was no time for her hobby so she packed the beloved characters away, never quite forgetting them. And then when she was nineteen there came to her the chance of directing the marionette program of Camp Nagawicka at Delafield, Wisconsin. Here was her opportunity again to play with her dolls and at the same time pass her knowledge on to other enthusiastic little girls.

The first year an International theme was used with original plays of Russia, China, and Holland produced. The announcer for these plays was Pat's favorite, an Uncle Sam marionette. She prefers using fairy or mystical plays for marionettes, since puppets are a link between the real and the make believe.

body, but combined it with a paper mâché head. A clay head is modeled and then completely covered with strips of paste moistened newspaper. When the paper dries, the clay is removed leaving a lightweight head. This type features not possible in cloth heads. The fairy tale of "Rumpelstiltskin" was adapted in poetic form for the camp's production. Pictured herewith is the courtroom scene from "Rumpelstiltskin."

Pat hopes to enter medical school next year and again her little people must be laid aside for a few years, but not forever. Already she is dreaming of the time when her long course is finished and her hospital work has started. She has all sorts of plans for using the construction of puppets in the wards of crippled children and wounded soldiers. So the intriguing hobby of her childhood may develop into a therapeutic aid for the rehabilitation of suffering humanity and a source of deep satisfaction to the girl who pulls the strings.

Master of Letters

celebration during the week-end of May 19 to 21, 1944. This was a most unusual event, since the college policy is definitely opposed to conferring honorary degrees upon members of its own faculty. The Board of Trustees, however, made this exception to the rule (to quote their own words) "because of the special significance of Mrs. Moore's contributions to the college and her other fine qualifications." She has just completed eighteen years' service on the Hillsdale faculty, which has included sixteen years in the music department, five years in the department of German, and one year in the department of history. She is also the official college historian and the author of the recently published First Hundred Years of Hillsdale College, reviewed in the May issue of the ARROW.

She Won a Contest

When Lt. Edward A. Thurston was assigned to Camp Pinedale, Fresno, California, his wife, Helen Cook Thurston, Ohio B, came with him. She looked over the possibilities of the town and decided to enroll in Fresno State College for further work in the field of Interior Decorating, in which she had always been interested. The announcement of a contest in McCall's magazine concerning the post-war home, whether it be traditional or modern, was a challenge to Helen and immediately she submitted an article in favor of the modern kitchen. After she had almost forgotten having entered the contest, a telegram arrived one day announcing that she had won first prize, a $500 War Bond in the kitchen division of the contest.

With NBC

Jane Tiffany Wagner, Iowa Z, who was recently married to Albert Rogers Perkins, graduate of Dartmouth College in the class of 1925, film, radio, and television director for Look magazine, is director of women's war activities for the National Broadcasting Company. She is a graduate of Iowa State College and she took her master's degree at Columbia University.

The Dowell Sisters

The letter explains the picture:

I thought readers of the ARROW might be interested in the enclosed photograph of my four daughters who are members of Minnesota A, Pi Beta Phi, and who are all in attendance at the University of Minnesota this year, 1943-44. We believe it is rather unusual for a family of four children all to be enrolled at the same University at the same time.

College of Education; Hannah Dowell, graduate student, Public Administration, Ruth Dowell, senior, College of Science, Literature and Arts.

Hannah and Margaret are members of Mortar Board.

I was a member of Iowa Γ, Iowa State College, class of 1915; and my husband, Austin Allyn Dowell, Professor of Agricultural Economics, University of Minnesota, was a member of Γ II, Δ T Δ, at Iowa State College, also class of 1915.

Sincerely yours,

Thanksgiving

November—autumn—dizzy-colored leaves fall to the ground—bonfires—smoke curling to the azure blue sky—crisp, cool mornings, and even crisper, clearer, cooler nights of a million stars—russet apples and golden pumpkins—Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving—what do we have to be thankful for? We, the college people who are denied a normal college existence—our boys who are faced with uncertainty—they can't prepare for a future—there might not be one—we, who grow up before our time because war rushes life—war marriages and war deaths—what have we got to be thankful for?

I'll tell you, Young America. I'll tell you what we've got to be thankful for. For every breath of air we breathe, the breath of free America—for the courage she has instilled in her fighting men—for the right of every man to live, love, learn as he pleases—and for us, the college women of today, a chance to become bigger and better women in the face of adversity.

Thank God for us as a nation! For its account, we'll never die.

This Is the Story of a Wedding

THE PLACE was Holt House. The time was April of 1944. The surroundings were reminiscent of scenes from a dozen treasured novels concerning the remote and war-torn sixties. But the principals were as modern as any other young couple in these challenging years of World War II.

If you had been fortunate enough to be a guest, you would have ascended the stone steps to the square Victorian porch in the fading light of late afternoon. At the wide-paneled double doors, you would have been welcomed by a smiling, friendly woman with graying hair and a youthful figure. Once inside the white hall with its rose-patterned wallpaper and old rose carpeting, you would have paused to glance a second time at the period staircase with its polished walnut rail.

If you had passed into the square room at the right, with its rust-rose walls and its long pine bench (looking tidy and inviting in ruffled calico), you would doubtless have been asked to sign the guest book, spread open on the rubbed pine table.

If you had chosen to enter the room at the left of the entrance hall, you would have found yourself in the small green parlor with its air of grace and proper manners. You might have paused to admire the little melodeon near the door, as you waited for the crowd of well-groomed, busily chatting guests to move on to the adjoining room. You would have smiled amusedly at the sturdy limbed bisque figures posing complacently on the ornate what-not shelf. Neither the crowd, the greetings, nor the introductions would have prevented you from noticing the gracefully curved Victorian sofa with its gay chintz upholstery—a living proof that beauty and charm were understood in the era of its creation.

Soon, however, you would have proceeded past the marble-topped table through the double doors into the banquet hall beyond. The long wine-colored draperies were drawn. The delicately traced flower design on the walls seemed alive in the soft, dancing light from dozens of white candles. Scarcely noticed were the heavy grand piano, the tall secretary, the substantial deal table, and the slender Sheraton consoles. These furnishings of the past seemed to have surrendered their place of prominence, out of deference to the occasion. There was the fragrance of many white roses arranged against a green background of plumosa, huckleberry, and palm. From the piano came the soft strains of "Evening Star." An attractive young girl sang in a clear young voice.

Awakening from the spell cast by the furnishings, the candlelight and the music, you might suddenly have become aware of the man in military uniform and the girl in a softly tailored blue suit who were standing side by side. If you had known that just below the orchid corsage, on the girl's shoulder, there gleamed the Founders' Pin of Pi Beta Phi, it might have caused you to raise your eyes to the Founders' portrait on the wall. That Pi Phi of another day, no older than this one, her successor, but seeming older with her plain hairdress and staid costume! You might have reflected that in each generation since the sixties, young Pi Phis as lovely and courageous as this one, could have been found standing close beside some young man in military uniform as this one stood today. The colors and fashions of the costumes would have varied, but the spirit would have been the same. When the ceremony was over you would have gone away with a sense of pride in the past and strong assurance for the future.

That's very much the way it was at the wedding of Maryalys Evans, past-president of Illinois Alpha and honor graduate of Monmouth College, and Lt. John H. Urey, of nearby Camp Ellis, Illinois. Lt. Urey is now in England with the United States Army Medical Corps while Maryalys remains with her family in Columbus, Ohio.

To the first Pi Phi bride to be married in the restored Holt House go the best wishes of several thousand other Pi Phis. May John and Maryalys always find a gracious welcome at Holt House!

MARJORIE BRIGHT SHARPE was unable to do her book-reviewing for this issue, and word came from her too late to pass the books on to someone else. Among books which had come to her were "William Chapin Deming of Wyoming," a biography in Agnes Wright Spring's best style; four charming and colorful little volumes of the pictured geography of Salvador, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, and Uruguay, written for children by Lois Donaldson Koehler; and a biography of Bishop Frederic Bohn Fisher, of the Methodist Church, by his wife, Welthy Honsinger Fisher. More about them in a later issue!

With the Air Lines

JANE MIDDLEMIST, Colorado A, is shown here receiving her wings from Chief Hostess Mildred "Tommy" Heck of Continental Air Lines. Hostess Middlemist was a graduate of Continental's eighth hostess class, and has assumed her duties on regular flights with the airline. Continental's hostess group was recently enlarged to meet additional demands of two new routes—Denver-Kansas City and El Paso-San Antonio, Texas.

MARY MARGARET LIVELY, Illinois H, proudly wears the wings of an airline stewardess and today is doing her part in speeding wartime air traffic. Mary Margaret recently graduated from United Air Lines' school for stewardesses in Chicago, and has been assigned to the eastern division with headquarters at Chicago. She is among the new crop of "coed" stewardesses—girls with two or more years of college education—who have been employed by United since the company waived its former requirement of a nurse certificate for its sky girls in deference to the wartime need for nurses on the ground.

PATRICIA EGAN, Colorado A, now proudly wears the wings of a United Air Lines' stewardess and today is doing her part to bring the war to a speedy close. After graduating from the United Air Lines' school for stewardesses in Chicago, Patricia now works out of the company's western section coast-to-coast route and is stationed in Denver.

Her sister, Erma Denman, also Iowa F, is a sergeant in the Marine Corps Woman's Reserve, doing aerography work.

A story in the Champaign News-Gazette recently tells of the work of Paul Bresee, brother of Louise Bresee Shappert, the new Director of the Pi Beta Phi Central Office, in perfecting an automatic parachute opening device which promises to add greatly to flying safety.

Major Augustin De Mouy Spottswood, U.S.A., husband of Mildred Burnham Spottswood, District of Columbia A, is abroad after taking the course at the School of Military Government at the University of Virginia.

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1934

Pledge Day, February 7, 1944

Dalhousie University opened the second of October with an increased enrollment. Shirreff Hall was open most of the summer to accommodate the teachers, who were attending the Nova Scotia Summer School. Joyce Nicholson is the house president and although she is only five feet tall she is very capably mothering her new charges. Due to the maid shortage in Halifax the girls are again doing their own cleaning. The medical buildings were redecorated this summer and are now very modern with special equipment, lighting and pastel paint. Night classes are being given in the faculty of Arts for the benefit of men and women in the services and are well attended.

During the first part of the summer the members of Nova Scotia A spent ten days camping at Hubbard's and thoroughly enjoyed the outdoor life after the strain of the examinations. President Ann Sanderson attended the President's Conference in Boston and brought back several helpful ideas. Now, with the term well under way, the chapter is busy with rushing plans. As usual, rushing is limited to one day on this campus and takes the form of an informal supper party. The date has not been set yet but will be sometime during the third week of October. The alumnae club is cooperating with the active chapter in order to make this a banner year. Jean Macdonald and Susan Morse are back taking their Master's degrees. Yvonne Mounsey is planning to return to Scotland this fall. Mary Foley and Merle Purtille were unanimously appointed to the Alumnae Advisory Committee. This year promises to be an even better Pi Beta Phi year than those of the past. The weekly meetings are to be alternately business and social with emphasis on Pi Beta Phi songs and historical facts.

The Panhellenic Council meets the first Friday of each month and plans are being made to hold joint bridge parties with A Γ Δ.

PLEDGE: Isabel Wilmot, Moncton, N.B.

BARBARA S. WHITE

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, March 25, 1944

INITIATED, May 22, 1944: Judith Banton, Brewer; Janice Brown, Natick, Mass.; Evelyn Foster, Bangor; Dorothy Goodnow, Rockland; Thelma Folsom, Cambridge; Priscilla Moore, Bangor; Lois Ricker, Portland.

The University of Maine opened this year with only 790 registrants. This is a 50% cut in the usual enrollment. 250 of these are A.S.T.R.P. 17 year olds. The Freshman class makes up almost half the total enrollment.

Despite the small number University spirit is strong and many University functions have been held already. The administration has sponsored a vic dance every weekend and have opened the small gymnasium to roller skating several times. These functions have been well attended.

The first intercollegiate football game in two years was held November 21st. Maine has a civilian team and although the men are young and inexperienced they won a 12-6 victory over New Hampshire.

Panhellenic Council is promising an active year. A joint meeting of all women's fraternities is being held October 30, several meetings like this are held every year. There will be a varied program; music, a talk by the Dean of Women, and a skit on rushing. Ada Minott, rush captain for the fraternity, is working on the skit.

Official rushing will begin November 12 with the annual Sorority open House. This is an opportunity for the freshmen to learn what women's fraternities can mean and to become acquainted with some of the sorority members. The following week will be one of dinner dates with the freshmen, that is followed by a week of silence, then another week of dates. The climax comes at the big party; this is what everyone has been waiting for all through rushing. The Arrow Ranch which the girls had last year seemed such a success that the fraternity voted to repeat the idea this year.

Last year two of our members were elected to All Maine Women, Constance Carter and Arabelle Banton Hodges. This is the greatest honor that a Maine girl may receive.

At the annual Strawberry Breakfast held May 26 seven seniors were honored. At that time Lillian Lewis was awarded the silver scholarship ring and Phyllis White received a recognition pin for having participated in the most campus activities.

ELEANOR CURRIER

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Since the declaration of war Middlebury College's calendar has scheduled three semesters a year, as have most colleges with Navy units. The Women's College was urged to accelerate during the summer of 1943, but both the faculty and the students found this acceleration resulted in too much pressure on all; so the majority of the women followed the suggestion of President Stratton and did not return for this past July-October semester.

About 50 women did continue; 30 to finish their senior year. Ruth Barker, Jo Kirk, and Shirley Miller graduated in the exercises held the last part of October. There were no organized activities for this group during the summer and no sorority functions. Saturdays without classes made picnics, bicycle hikes, swimming, and informal dances even more enjoyable, however.

Just before the close of the semester in June the Panhellenic council changed the quota system which governs all the sororities. Still only 50% of the college may be included in these groups, but instead of having a quota for each class the quotas for the three upper classes will be an overall one. This is a war-time measure to aid in stabilizing the sororities. If it is found to be a valuable change, this rule may continue to operate after the war.

Dottie Laux, chapter president and president of the Panhellenic council, received the Phi Beta Kappa key. She was also chosen as a member of the Mademoiselle College Board. Maine's award to the most outstanding sophomore in Alpha Province East went to Barbara Rupp, president of the sophomore class. Mary Nasmith was color girl during Navy week last June with Marcey Lynn and Ellen Chalmers as her attendants.

With an enrollment expected to be about 185 the freshman class this fall is the largest in the history of the Women's College. Rushing will start around the end of November with pledging taking place just before Christmas.

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

Chartered, 1898

INITIATED, March 9, 1944: Barbara Anderson, Montclair, N.J.; Lesley Bell, Barre; Virginia Coffman, Burlington; Elizabeth Concklin, Rutherford, N.J.; Mary Louise Robinson, Burlington; Virginia Donaldson, Glen Cove, N.Y.; Lois Eimer, Jackson Heights, L.I., N.Y.; Rita McGarry, Proctor; Gretchen Manning, Lynn, Mass.; Vera Prince, Montclair, N.J.; Ronda Prouty, West Hartford, Conn.; Maud-Ann Wiggins, Rutland; Shirley Zoll, Eimhurst, N.Y.

The fall term opened on October 4 with a large Freshman enrollment. All available dormitory space is in use.

With the departure of the Army Unit from the campus, the dormitories on Redstone Campus are once more inhabited by the women and the cafeteria and soda fountain are open to students. The Old Mill, the original college building, has been closed and all classes previously held there now meet in the Waterman Building, the newest college building.

This fall Panhellenic has issued a booklet for Freshmen which includes a calendar for the rushing season, explanations of the Honor System for rushing and the Panhellenic Council, the By-Laws, and a listing of each sorority on the campus along with their respective membership and fees.

Plans for the chapter's final party for this fall got under way in May when the various committees were appointed and the decorative scheme was decided upon.

Constance Perkins is Vice-President of Student Government this year, and Beryl Cheney is Treasurer. Eleanor Jenkins is Chief Justice of Student Union, Gretchen Manning is Secretary, and Elizabeth Concklin is Treasurer. Betty Farnsworth is President of Panhellenic. Barbara Burnham is President of W.A.A. Nancy McNamara is Editor-in-Chief of the Ariel.

MASSACHUSETTS BETA—MASSACHUSETTS STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, March 4, 1944

Pledge Day, March 27, 1944

Massachusetts State College is still cooperating in the war effort by having a group of army cadets on campus. The war bond and stamp sales are still in progress and Pi Beta Phi takes an active part.

The chapter has moved to a lovely brick fraternity house very close to campus. It has taken part of the summer and this fall to get everything settled. Thanks to the willing cooperation of local alumnae and the girls, the house is in

The fall semester at the University of Connecticut began with a freshman enrollment of over 800 students. In spite of the war, this was a great increase over past entrance figures. During Freshman Week many Pi Phis acted as Junior Counselors to welcome and guide the new students.

The chapter house again remained open for the summer session to accommodate the active members who were participating in the accelerated program. Since last spring the house has been redecorated and painted.

The chapter's social activities began the week-end of September 29th with a formal tea held in honor of our new house mother. The wedding of Gloria Marion '44 and Franklin Fuller '43, Theta Xi, took place on Sunday, October 1st in the Storrs Congregational Church. Chapter members attended the wedding and the reception which followed at the Community House. Ten alumnae stayed at the house for the week-end festivities.

In preparation for rushing which begins October 16th, an Intersorority tea was given September 29th by the Panhellenic Council. The Pi Phi representatives to the Council and two other members of the fraternity attended.

Keeping up with the accelerated program the Cornell chapter of Pi Beta Phi functioned as an active summer chapter for the first time in its history. Although the new Panhellenic system prevented rushing during this term, there were enough returning members to give an impressive representation on campus. This number was also bolstered by a group of six weeks students from other colleges who took an active part in the chapter activities while they were here.

Campus activities also claimed much of the members' time. Nancy Barone was elected chairman of the Willard Straight board and upon graduation will be made assistant social director, becoming the first student asked to fill such a position. At a recent mass meeting Alice Errig, the chapter's fall president, was elected to Mortar Board. Margaret Newell acted this summer as Straight Tea chairman and many other Pi Phis have been active on the various committees.

Among the social events sponsored and enjoyed by the sorority were a picnic on the lake, an open house for V-12's, and a picnic in the gorge followed by a serenade. Alice Errig stopped on her way back from a Province presidents' conference and gave an inspiring talk. She presented many new ideas which it is hoped may be put into practice as soon as possible.

The Fall term began as usual with the Senior-Freshie day during which every Senior was given charge of one or more Freshies. There was a tour of the campus, lunch and tea at the women's residence, talks to the Freshies by the Dean of Women, the Principal of the College, and the President of the Women's Undergraduate Association, and a musicale in the evening. The following day the Seniors helped their respective Freshies to register.

University College welcomed a new Principal, Dr. Sidney E. Smith, Dr. Wallace having retired last spring. Dr. Smith is a former Principal of the University of Manitoba, was at one time on the staff of Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia, and was nominated for leader of the Progressive-Conservative Party last year but withdrew before elections.

Another name was added to the women's residences of University College this year. Both it and one of the older ones have been redecorated throughout and new blond maple furniture has been installed.

Plans for the University College Follies are well under way with Pi Beta Phi's Joan Ebbels the associate directress. Hart House Theatre, the university theatre which is situated right on the campus, has been opened again after having been closed for three years.

Ontario A brought the house which it has been renting for the past six or seven years, and it is to be hoped that it will prove a good investment.

The chapter has decided to make an improved Scholarship its main aim for this year. A prize is to be given in the spring for the member making the most improvement.

Two more Pi Phis have joined the W.R.C.N.S., Joan Vanstone and Sally Watt. Zoe Christie is now a Lieutenant in the Army.

The Chapter has bought a new house at 293 Central Ave. This house was all redecorated and painted during the summer months so that every room is bright and new and the members are thrilled and proud of the new house and look forward enthusiastically to a good year.

Interest in war activities runs high and claims the attention of the whole chapter. Each member volunteers to do two hours of war work each week—such as working in the active service Canteens, in the local Red Cross Rooms, or as Nurse's Aids in the hospitals. In addition to this the chapter has undertaken to sell War Savings Stamps at the football games. These stamps are fastened with Western colours and take the form of a tiny corsage.

Marion Kaiser, the chapter president, is the new president of the Panhellenic Council.

A progressive tea was held on November 5, for the entire freshman class. One hundred and twenty girls were invited. The table was decorated with a bouquet of bronze mums laid out in the shape of an arrow with white mums down the centre of the shaft representing jewels.

Due to the fact that the chapter is not active during the Summer School session, there is very little chapter news to report.

Three of our members were chosen as campus beauties from a total of five. They were Ann Gates, Barbara Mulford and Edith Ann Lingle.

It was decided to rent the apartment to Jo Ann Wilson, who was married to Kenneth Rose in the Spring. This made it very convenient because it permitted us to have a pre-rushing tea there for the incoming freshmen from Carlisle and vicinity.

Due to increased enrollment of girls, the fall semester prospect is quite good. There will be approximately seventy girls coming, nearly double the usual number.

Dickinson felt very much honored to have their president, Dr. Corson, chosen as the Methodist Bishop for the Philadelphia area. Dr. William Prettman, our oldest and most loved professor, has been appointed Acting President, much to the satisfaction of everyone.

Edith Ann Lingle, our out-going president, is taking the nursing course at Yale University.

Dickinson is at last to have an adequate theatrical department, filling a need of years. Under Dr. Hepler, hopes to produce three major plays.

This year Jo Ann Rose will be president of T & II, honorary dramatic society and Barbara Mulford the editor of our year book, The Microcosm, while Nancy Person will be president of A & Z, honorary journalistic fraternity. Jonne Thatcher was awarded the Junior Blazer for outstanding athletic prowess. Nancy Person and Katherine Knipe made Wheel and Chain.

MARYLAND BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Founded 1867

Since July, 1943, the University of Maryland has had ASTP students stationed on its campus and consequently has been on a quadrimester schedule. Summer quarter found Maryland B newly established and planning its first year on campus.

The chapter received confirmation of a house for fall quarter, so the most immediate objective has been to make the house livable as quickly as possible. The painters finally arrived! They have done the entrance hall and living room walls in soft grey and the dining room in a sunny yellow. Everyone helped with the final cleaning. Although the house is furnished, the chapter has obtained a few pieces of furniture and new draperies which will make the house seem really theirs.

This week Maryland B welcomes its house mother, Mrs. Butcher, who was on campus throughout the last school year as house mother of one of the dormitory annexes.

Nancy Ames, Oregon A, arrived in the last week of September. She is our official adviser. Also acting in this capacity will be Alice Van Meter, Illinois Z, who is arriving this week.

There was no formal rushing during summer quarter. Plans are underway now, however, for the chapter's first formal rush season. It will probably be a busy one, for the University is filled to capacity with women students.

The fall semester opened on October 2. At the same time formal rushing started and our three parties were held during the first week of school. This year we did not give our melodrama which has been one of the favorite and almost traditional rush parties, and gave instead an Angel Party. We also gave a Blue Champagne Party for the first time and our third party was Arrow Cake.

There was much discussion last spring as to whether George Washington University should have a yearbook during the war. Finally through the persistence and hard work of Mary Ring, editor of the yearbook, the Cherry Tree was published. Mary gained both for Pi Phi and herself much recognition for her good work.

Mera Riddell was chosen May Queen and was crowned at the May Day Program. It was a very great honor to have a Pi Phi chosen, particularly as this was the first year that we have had a May Queen.

District of Columbia A was also first on campus in the scholarship list.

Although many of the actives and pledges were attending both semesters of summer school, we still found time to do quite a bit of rushing, such as bridge parties, picnics, and teas. The junior and senior alumnae clubs gave a tea at the Washington Club for the active chapter and all rush girls going to a college which has a Pi Phi chapter.

INITIATED, June 2, 1944: Katherine Brown, Lella Brunett, Marion Dixon, Kitty Rogerson, Snookie Phipps.

Early in September, the eight province chapters met in Chapel Hill to interchange and discuss plans for the coming year. Welcomed at this meeting was the representative from the new Maryland chapter.

This year the University of North Carolina adopted the V-12 trimester system. Therefore, the year will not officially begin until November and rush week and Pledge Day will be about a month later than usual.

Several girls began the new system as campus officers, having been elected last March. Daphne Richardson began the year as Woman's Government President, the highest coed office at Carolina. Shirley Hartzell heads the staff of the Carolina Magazine as editor, keeping the job in the family since she succeeds Opie Charters. Shirley also took a seat on the Coed Senate. Betty Don Sweat and Lella Grady assumed the presidency of two of the women's dormitories and Betty Don at the same time was elected to Woman's Honor Council, and the vice-presidency of the Glee Club.

Tapped for Valkyries, woman's honorary society, were Nancy Jane King, later elected president of this organization, Betty Lou Cypert, later elected vice-president; Alice Bell and Olivia Price Charters.

Outstanding work in the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet has been done with Pat Hughes, Jackie Nimock, Carole King and Jane Wilcox taking charge of various committees.

On the social calendar last spring, every Chapter member will remember the weekend dance, scavenger hunt and swimming party which brightened the days just preceding exams. Not soon to be forgotten either was Founders' Day Banquet when the chapter entertained the North Carolina B's. Earlier in the spring this group entertained the faculty and college students at a tea.

The increasing tempo of the war encourages more time on war activities. At the first Chapter meeting this fall the girls pledged themselves to one hour a week of bandage rolling, at the same time encouraging every member to spend as much time as she could doing other war work on campus committees.

Four former members were married over the summer; Mary Bradley, Mary Jane Gott, Beverly Snyder, and Kay Lynch, 1941 President.

The first rush parties of the season were held on October 1, and October 7, and formal rushing on October 23.

Three Pi Phi's have been elected cheerleaders for this football season; Ann Smoot, Jean Rockey, and Dorothy Highland. There are four cheerleaders elected each year by the woman's student body.

The Gamma Province President's conference was a great success, and our president, Betty Pine, felt that she gained many helpful suggestions from the discussions. We are looking forward to the visit of Ruth Barrett Smith sometime this fall.

Three new transfers are now on campus; Mary Ella Hopkins from District of Columbia A; Becky Toms from Virginia A; and Shirley Route from Oklahoma B. We also have a number of new alumnae who are working on campus and who have been attending meetings occasionally.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, May 10, 1944

INITIATED, June 24, 1944: Sara Carolyn Hodges, Martha Walker, Columbia.

The hearts of the faculty and the students of the University of South Carolina are saddened. Our beloved president, J. Rion McKissick, passed away September 3 after having been president for eight years. K Σ K, an honorary leadership fraternity, is conducting a drive to erect a memorial in honor of Doctor McKissick.

In the spring South Carolina A enjoyed having its province president, Mrs. Susan Rose Saunders, down for a visit. While she was here initiation and a banquet were held.

In the results of campus elections many Pi Beta Phi names were posted. Rebecca Mertz was elected president of the Coed Association, which is the coed government. Martha Walker was named secretary of A K Γ, an honorary leadership sorority. The historian of the Junior class is Betty McLure, while the secretary of the Senior class is Patsy Patrick. Jean Sims was elected to the staff of the Carolynian, the University literary magazine. Minerva Wilson was invited to join A K Γ, and Patsy Patrick was named administrator for the University annual, The Garnet and Black, and vice-president of Co-ed Association.

Panhellenic rules that two rush weeks will be conducted the fall semester. Ten days after the term begins the first rushing period will be held for those girls who attended the summer semester. Soon after mid-semester the second rushing program will get under way, when the rushees will be the girls who started in November.

During the summer the members of South Carolina A have been very busy. A large number have been doing war work, while others have been attending school. At the U.S.O. Red Cross, and other war aid centers many Pi Beta Phis are found.

PLEGDED: Vivian Jones, Jill Lane, Betty Sims.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Chartered 1888

The Michigan B chapter house was open for only eight weeks of the summer semester and did not function as a Pi Beta Phi chapter house. There were about ten Michigan B members living in the house; the rest of the house was occupied by other sorority women and independents. Patricia Arnall was the head of the house, and she, Miriam Ruge, and Ruth Whittlesey comprised the summer graduating class. During the latter part of the summer, the chapter house was thoroughly redecorated. The fall semester at the University of Michigan did not start until October 28.

Because of the widespread dissatisfaction with the 1943-44 system of rushing which lasted for eight week-ends, Panhellenic Council proposed a new plan before the close of the spring semester. This new plan, providing for two weeks of concentrated rushing to be held directly following the Christmas vacation, was formally approved by the majority of the sororities. Recommendations should be addressed to Evelyn Lough, 836 Tappan St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

The "Cooky-shine" was held in the home of Mrs. Oren Province, a patroness, on September 16. It was followed by Open House at the Women's Residence Hall. This was the opening social event of the year and the pledges of the four women's fraternities were introduced to the public.

Three awards were presented at the "Cooky-shine." A diamond recognition pin for the sophomore with the highest scholastic average was given to Catherine Huffman, the scholarship ring was given to Lee Detmer, and the Emma M. Burton pin for the senior with the highest achievement in the field of fine arts was presented to Nancy McIntosh.

The staffs for the college publications have been organized for the ensuing year. Joan Ritchey is editor of the yearbook and Kay Hampton is managing editor of the Franklin, the college weekly.

In December three one-act plays will be presented by student directors. Two of the directors are Kay Hampton and Nancy McIntosh.

Franklin College has a football team this year. Six games have been scheduled. The gymnasium has been remodeled and this will enable many more types of sports to be played by both men and women.

The Red Cross has organized a group of young women to help entertain overseas casualties at the Wakeman General Hospital. Many college girls have become interested in this work. Others have donated time for Red Cross work and U.S.O. functions. This is one way in which the college is contributing to the war effort.

MISSOURI BETA—WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1907
Pledge Day, October 9, 1944

Missouri B has begun a scholarship drive as an appropriate way to start the fall semester. Each active must receive a 1.2 average, which is slightly higher than the C average required of pledges. With the departure of the majority of service men on campus, McMillan Hall, the former residence of the soldiers, has now resumed its original status as the girls' dormitory of Washington U. Returning war veterans are continuing their studies on campus this year. Dean Douglas Martin, whose wife is a Pi Phi, has been newly appointed as Dean of Men. The Quad Shop has been enlarged, Freshman Guide Books have been provided, and other improvements have been made.

Last spring the junior women tapped by Mortar Board were Betty Thomas, who was elected Vice President of the Senior Honorary, Marjorie Campen, and Peggy Schwankhaus. Ternion, the Junior Women's Honorary Society, elected Marian Meyer, Treasurer, Jeanne Cannon, and Joyce Altwater. Seven of the twelve members, chosen by Freshman Commission the Sophomore Women's Honorary Society, were Mary Wiederholdt, President, Martha Dunbar, Secretary, Sue Brown, Bobby George, Pat Moore, Ann Travis, and Ruth Lee Reddish. Initiates into H Σ Φ, the classical language honorary, were Gloria Herald and Jane McCulloch, who was elected secretary of the society.

The Student Congress organized last semester by the student body elected Peggy Schwankhaus as Co-Chairman. Pat Jaquith was chosen by a campus-wide vote Special Maid at the annual Hatchet Prom in May.

The procedure of summer rushing as devised by the Panhellenic Council was climaxed by three parties: the "Pi Phi Premiere," at which moving pictures of Pi Phi house parties were shown followed by the Plantation Party, and The Gypsy Party. Following the month of silence which began August 31, a very successful rush week ended the rush season.

Again, this fall, a pledge dance will be given by the actives in the latter part of October.

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914
Pledge Day, October 7, 1944

Rush season opened September 10 with the Panhellenic Tea, and was closed with the preferential teas at the various sorority houses Sunday, September 21. Missouri Γ extended invitations to eleven girls and presented them with corsages as they arrived. Rushing was highlighted by the SS Arrow Cruise, traditional Pi Beta Phi party at Drury. Due to Panhellenic restrictions it has been impossible to have this last year, so it was a novelty for the new actives as well as the rushes.

Barbara Johnson, chapter president, and Frances K. Adams, were initiated in Skiff, local women's honor society, and Barbara is also president of Wallace Hall dormitory, the Women's Athletic Association and acts as secretary for the Drury Lane Troupers, and vice-president of E.T.C., an organization in the dormitory. Dorothy Dalby is president of the other dormitory, McCullough Cottage, and of E.T.C. Peggy Lusk was elected president of Drury Lane Troupers and is on the social committee of the college. Catherine Moon is president of Σ A I, national women's music fraternity, and Margaret Johnson is vice-president. Jean Johnson is president of the French Club, and Mary Jean Moore is circulating manager of the Mirror, weekly school publication.

As usual in these days, war work has taken up a great deal of the girls' time. Charlene Baggett and Mary Jane Pool are taking a course in Occupational Therapy at the O'Reilly General Hospital. They devote every afternoon during the week to this work and at the end of the school year they will be recognized assistant occupational therapists. Mary Anne Walch is working in the medical laboratory under the same program. Dorothy Dillard and Margaret Johnson have gone in for the entertainment, and every week this past summer they sang for the patients. These girls are members of a trio and they have two daily programs over a local station. Louise Simon, Mary Sanford, Betty Alice Long and Mary Anne Walch completed their Red Cross Staff Assistants course and have been helping in local Red Cross offices. The whole chapter has turned out for bandage rolling, and all attend the patient and technical school dances at O'Reilly Hospital.

Missouri Γ won the annual all-school sing in May, and also the plaque for the women's intramural baseball tournament.

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, October, 1925

Several of Kentucky A members have participated in the war effort in the past few months. Janellen Boggess, Virg McCulley, and Joyce Lindsay are active in the Red Cross Motor Corps; and Anne Bakrow, Annie Badham Clarke, and Mary Rodes Harris are putting in the required number of hours a week as Nurses' Aides.

In preparation for rush the first week in November, the alumnae aided the chapter in redecorating the house. The walls were painted and new slip-covers and draperies were made. In the living room, the color scheme carried out was wine and silver blue. With this fresh start, the members were very enthusiastic and anxious to entertain the incoming freshmen who had signed up for rush.

The middle of September brought forth a new idea sponsored by the Navy V-12 unit on this campus. Since so many groups of the university had entertained the Navy, the sailors are acting as hosts to the students at a series of gym dances. The first dance was a big success and was well attended. These dances are free and will be continued as long as they are supported by the student body.

Elsa Ropke, upon her graduation in June, was initiated into  $\Phi K \Phi$ , which is made up of students of the various schools of the university who have maintained a high scholastic standing.

Ensign Baird Barham, now stationed in Washington, D.C., with the WAVES, through friends that she made there, was able to attend the installation of Maryland B. She was particularly pleased to see Miss Onken again and to renew her contacts with a Pi Beta Phi chapter.

Kentucky A was thrilled to know that they were first in scholarship on the campus for the trimester of March 1, to July 1, 1944.

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, October 14, 1944

INITIATED, September 16, 1944: Jane Whitmore, Chattanooga.

War has made many changes on the University of Chattanooga campus. The 45 C.T.D. Army Air Force unit has been closed, but 150 cadet nurses from a neighboring hospital are taking classes here.

A new sorority, K  $\Delta$ , has come to U.C. this fall and will join in the competition of rushing.

Panhellenic rush rules limit the sororities to two parties which must be held at the house, due to war conditions. The first party was our traditional "Tomaine Tavern." The theme of the second was that of a Coconut Grove. The rushees were taken on an imaginary trip to convention. The house was gaily decorated with palm trees and other arrangements to carry out the suggested idea. The porch served as a stage for the more talented members of the chapter. The highlight of the party was when our president, Betty

Davis, framed by a golden arrow, presented an arrow cake with 21 candles, one for each year Tennessee A has been on this campus.

New honors have come to Tennessee A. Betty Bandy was elected president of Y.W.C.A. and W.A.A. Martha Green was elected to serve on the Honor Council, Bonnie Eichorn was elected vice president of Mocettes, honorary athletic club. Into A K were elected Betty Jean Clift and Mary Edith Gregory.

Each year a cup is given to the organization most athletic on the campus. For the past seven years the Non-Frat. group has retained this prize. The past year it was awarded to Pi Phi.

PLEGGED, October 2, 1944: Alma Lee Burkhart, Peggy Ann Evans, Chattanooga.

TENNESSEE BETA—VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

Chartered, September 9, 1940

Pledge Day, September 28, 1944

INITIATED, October 7, 1944: Louise Quayle, Atlanta, Ga.

This year Vanderbilt University has more women students than ever before, and, of course fewer men. But that does not seem to daunt the Vanderbilt spirit, for this year again there will be a victory model football team. Games are scheduled with the smaller colleges of Tennessee. The annual, after having been discontinued last year, will again be published. Freshman camp for the new women students was held three days before rush week at a near by state park. This was an orientation and get-acquainted program lasting for three days and two nights. It was directed by leading upper classmen. Tennessee Beta had three representatives among the leaders.

Due to the larger number of women students who came through rush week, the Vanderbilt Panhellenic Council raised the quota for each of the women's fraternities from forty-three to forty-five.

The Tennessee Beta actives returned to the campus a week early to paint, redecorate, and clean the chapter house before rush week. Working together proved to be an excellent way of adding to the spirit and cooperation of the chapter.

There were two days of stunt rushing and two days of tea rushing. The first day the chapter entertained with a Pi Beta Phi Charm School, enumerating the qualities that being a member can add to a girl, with a skit written by Gloria Gambill. The second day the rushees took a trip to the "Land of Nod."

After the pledging ceremony, the pledges were entertained with a cooky-shine, and the following day each sponsor took her daughter to lunch.

The chapter entertained on October 6 with a tea honoring the pledges of all the women's fraternities on campus. On October 8 the chapter honored its own pledges with an open house for parents, professors, and the Vanderbilt men.

Tennessee Beta won a plaque for having the largest number of hours of war work of all women's fraternities for the school year of 1943-44. Pat Smith and Ethel Winborn were elected to Athenians, the junior women's honorary society. Winnifred Glankler is the new secretary of the Vanderbilt Panhellenic Council.

PLEGGED, September 28, 1944: Diane du Plantier, Mary Frances Green, Edna Hailey, Laura Alice Miles, Carolyn Southgate, Azile Whittemore, Nashville; Jane Batts, Fariss Parks, Columbia; Grace, Flemming, Ann Green, Dyersburg; Betty Brasfield, Katherine Sprigg, Birmingham, Alabama; Jane Layton, Leighton, Alabama; Grace Jones, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Betty Pukett, Columbus, Miss.; Sara Dee Todd, Hopkinsville, Ky.

ALABAMA ALPHA—BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Chartered, October, 1927

Pledge Day, September 22, 1944

INITIATED, May 20, 1944: Christine Elliott, Evelyn Sharp, Mildred Thompson.

The spring quarter was terminated successfully for Alabama A with Martha Sebre, Betty Davis, and Mary Richardson being among the six girls in the May Court. The chapter again won the cup at inter-fraternity sing on May 18. Mary Richardson was awarded the senior cup by the faculty for greatest service to the college during her four years, and Charlotte Meacham won the Rosenwald Fellowship.

Chapter members began an active summer with an annual houseparty at Redstone Club on the Warrior River. Mary Catherine Gallagher, Betty Davis, and Polly Price were counsellors at various camps. Helen Hornsby figured in the chorus and Mary Elizabeth Akeroyd was on the stage crew of the city's first starlit opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," staged on the campus at the close of the summer quarter.

The Air Crew Students are no longer stationed at the college, and Andrews Hall which was used as their living quarters has been redecorated and returned to campus use as a girls' dormitory with many local girls taking up residence there.

Working under new Panhellenic rules, Alabama A will hold open rushing the first week of October, and plans have been made for a formal dinner to be given at the home of Martha Sebre on October 8.

PLEGGED: Jamie Catherine Harris.

Our 1943-44 term was ended with a week-end houseparty at Daytona Beach.

Betty Jane Amidon, president of Panhellenic, helped to make new rules to defer rushing for six weeks, due to the great increase in freshman and transfer enrollment. At the end of a three week period, an open-house will be held in the fraternity rooms for all freshmen and transfers. The regular informal and formal rush parties will be held at the end of the six weeks' period.

Jean Douglas, Ph M 2/c now stationed at the Naval Hospital in New Orleans, visited the campus recently.

Mrs. Nell Morris, Florida A, has returned to the faculty of Stetson University as a member of the English Department.

Preferential bidding has been introduced on this campus this year, and the chapter has joined in this new rushing system. Due to increase of student enrollment, rushing has been postponed until October 6.

The house has been redecorated by the help of the alumnae and actives. A reception was given October 1, honoring the new chaperon, Mrs. Frances H. Fog, and the Tallahassee alumnae.

This year the chapter and alumnae will be co-hostesses on October 28, for the annual formal dance.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, November 1, 1894
Pledge Day, October 2, 1944

This year at Wisconsin A, we returned to school to find several girls had been married during the summer, or had found just the type of job they had been looking for. However, we managed to do an excellent job of rushing which resulted in twenty-seven fine new Pi Phi pledges. Instead of the usual two hundred and fifty or three hundred rushees we found ourselves rushing over four hundred girls. The tea was grand as usual, with each Pi Phi doing more than her share to make the rushees feel at home. For the informal function we gave a western party, at which the girls came to realize that we could have fun and informality as well as be formally correct at the formal dinner.

One of the actives who had been with us last year, Gwen Frimoth, helped us rush before she received her orders from the WAVES to report to a large hospital on the East coast, where she will be a Medical Technologist.

Marion Endres, one of last year's graduates returned to tell us some of her interesting experiences as a United Airlines stewardess.

Perhaps our greatest and most pleasant surprise this fall was our newly-decorated smoking room. During the summer the alumnae had created a delightful recreation room complete with cream colored bamboo furniture, green rugs, Mexican prints and pottery and new bookcases.

We are especially proud of our scholastic rating on the campus. Among all sororities, we are third, and are first among the six largest and most important, which we feel is quite an achievement.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, August 22, 1919
Pledge Day, October 13, 1944

As far as Wisconsin B is concerned, October 2 began the "Big Week" with the chapter doing formal rushing.

Our first function, a dessert sing, was the Pi Beta Phi Hotel, a tradition here. The main event was the dramatization of the song "Pi Phi Debutante," using both of the verses. The girls dressed to represent each of the different products mentioned in the song.

The tea, this year informal to relieve the strain of formal rushing, was in the form of a nursery. The girls with artistic talent drew animals and children's pictures, painting them in bright colors. The actives, pledges, and rushees dressed as young children, carrying animals of all sizes, colors, and descriptions.

The open house will be very formal. Candle light, gold and wine and blue decorations, long gowns, all will carry out this mood. The girls in charge hope this function will be as well-received and as successful as the others.

The chapter is very proud of the activities participated in, and the offices held by its members. The dramatic club has eight Pi Beta Phis, with Shirley Wiese as its president. Ka Ne, honorary literary society, has five Pi Beta Phi members. The Round Table, school weekly paper, has Shirley Peterson as Business Manager (a position for the first time held by a sophomore girl) with Ellie Thompson, serving on the business staff; Nancy Allen and Shirley Kluger doing advertising; Margaret Collingbourne doing reporting; Sue Wortham, Nancy Ward, and Mary Russell on the circulation staff.

Some of the important offices held by Pi Beta Phis on the campus are: Jean Hovorka, president of the student body, chairman of General Board, member of Publications' Board and Senior Bench; Lois Wilson, president of Panhellenic Council; Shirley Wiese, president of Phi Sigma Iota, president of Senior Bench, vice-president of the student body;

Mary Russell, social chairman of I.A.W.S., women's organization at Beloit; Ellie Thompson, college social committee, member of the war board.

Shirley Wiese, is treasurer of the Senior Class and Margaret Gensman, secretary of the sophomore class.

WISCONSIN GAMMA—LAWRENCE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1940

Pledge Day, November 12, 1944

Graduated were: Nancy Bickle, Norma Crow, Margery Dixon, Betty Elwers, Margaret Puth, Margaret Rogers, and Jean Watson.

Living in fraternity houses, keeping up the morale of 300 Navy V-12 men stationed on campus, doing their share as bandage rollers, Nurses' Aids at the local hospital, helpers at the Ration Boards, and as guardian angels to fifty men aboard the LSM Arrow which is in the Pacific, and redecorating their sorority rooms themselves to save money for a war bond, the members of the chapter have an admirable record in their year's war effort. Betty Elwers is chairman of the local Red Cross chapter.

The summer was gay with college picnics, a Follies with sorority and fraternity entertainment, a riotous "charivari" for the new President Pusey and his wife, at which Virginia Robie presented the flowers to the latter, and colorful street dances, bright with lanterns and music.

The chapter had its fun in many informal picnics, a scavenger hunt, a gala Summer Formal at the Riverview Country Club, an old-fashioned "Home Talent Show" with a coke bottle orchestra, and group swims at the local quarry.

The college publications have been admirably handled, with Norma Crow and Margaret Puth as co-editors of the weekly Lawrentian and Patricia Torson as editor of the yearbook, Ariel, assisted by Joyce Daniels and Virginia Robie as department heads.

In music circles, Margery Dixon, Joyce Daniels, Norma Crow, and Mary Ann Hammensley are singing with the Lawrence A Cappella, and Margery Dixon is a third of the popular campus trio.

Nancy Bickle and Shirley Foresman were once more Beauty Queens; Virginia Robie and Betty Snorf were tapped by Mortar Board; Margaret Puth was on the college executive committee, Barbara Brown, chairman of the college Union committee, and Betty Snorf, college rules chairman; Norma Crow was elected to  $\Phi$  B K and Virginia Robie to  $\Phi$   $\Sigma$  I, Lawrence Women's Association presidency, and Art Guild presidency; Norma Crow was chosen one of the four best-loved of the senior class and presented at the annual banquet; Patricia Geraldson and Shirley Foresman were elected to Sunset, honorary dramatics club, while Margaret Rogers was an active participant in several Lawrence Theater productions; Patricia Geraldson and Betty Snorf were freshman counsellors.

The L.W.A. discussion group, featuring noted campus personalities as speakers on post-war adjustments in various fields has been headed by Norma Crow, Virginia Robie, and Betty Elwers.

There was no rushing period during the summer semester, so that the fall season was exceptionally large and formally conducted.

The chapter is very proud of its improvement in scholarship, being in first and second place on campus during the past academic year.

Happy occasions were the visits of Mrs. Finger and Mrs. Alford, though the latter's was only of an evening's duration.

ILLINOIS ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Chartered, 1895
Pledge Day, October 12, 1944

INITIATED, June 3, 1944: Lorena Ross, Binghamton, N.Y.; Jean Sheppard, Alton; Mary Beth Whitley, Harrisburg.

As the University of Illinois was so late in opening this fall, the major campus activity chairmen and honor students were chosen last spring. Many of the girls in Illinois Z were honored as campus leaders.

Mary Anne Fehrs was elected vice-president of  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ , journalism honorary. Barbara Camp was elected to Mortar Board, while Peggy Graham and Alice Andrews were pledged to Shorter Board. Joan Crist became a member of  $\Phi \beta \kappa$ . Stella Jean Lehmann was named a member of  $\Sigma \Lambda \Gamma$ , music honorary, and was given a junior job on the Y.W.C.A. Council. Martha Dell Franklin was elected secretary of the W.A.A. Allene Eberle is a junior manager of Star Course, this year bringing Yehudi Menuhin, Alexander Kipnis, Marjorie Lawrence, Helen Howe, Artur Schnabel, and the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to the campus. Virginia Mauney, only a junior, is business manager of the Daily Illini. Nancy Kollman was named a member of the Concert and Entertainment Board and Office Manager of the Illini Union. Lorena Ross had the lead in Clandia, the production presented for Mothers' Day weekend.

The pledge class took top honors scholastically on campus. Torch, junior women's activity honorary, chose six Illinois Z girls to be its members—Stella Jean Lehmann, Allene Eberle, Flora Beth Case, Wanda Zimmerman, Virginia Mauney, and Phyllis Anderson. Barbara McKinstry was in the court of the interfraternity ball sweetheart. Denise Denny was chosen to be in the Court of Honor for the first Big Ten Track Meet held in Champaign-Urbana since 1915.

The annual pledge party had a cannibal island theme. It was carried out by having several girls dressed as cannibals, cannibal chants and entertainment, and little black yarn cannibal dolls at each place setting.

Panhellenic sponsored a very successful Work Shop at which Amy Burnham Onken was the guest speaker. After the general meeting the girls divided into three groups and discussed what sororities could do to make morale building, membership selection and development, and scholarship play an important part in university life.

MANITOBA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA

Chartered, 1929
Pledge Day, October 5, 1944

Rushing started the first week of college this year and everyone seems to find it far more satisfactory. The quota for each sorority has been raised from twelve to fourteen pledges. A Panhellenic tea was held at the beginning of rushing at the University Women's Club and proved very successful. The chapter held their first rushing function September 19, in the form of an Hawaiian Tea which everyone seemed to enjoy. The second function was a Mademoiselle Tea where a fashion show was given.

University of Manitoba has a new Dean of Women this year replacing Mrs. U. MacDonnell who has retired. Miss MacKay is a graduate of the University of Manitoba and has been a music teacher in Winnipeg for the past few years. Dr. Sidney Smith who was President of the University has been moved to Toronto and Dr. Arnes is now acting President.

War Work this year is on a voluntary basis offering a V.A.D. course, volunteer Community Work, a Something out of Nothing Shop, and classes in Group Leadership, Nursing, and Typing. In previous years the war work has been handled entirely by the University. This year it is being looked after by the students, under the auspices of the Women's Association.

Alison Schweitzer is president of the Women's Association, the sixth Pi Beta Phi in a row to hold this honor. Shirley McDiarmid is President of the Glee Club, Jocelyn Miller is secretary-treasurer of the Women's Athletic Directorate, and June Cherry is Sports Editor of the Manitoban. Leslie Laing is junior U.M.S.U. representative and Joan Smeltzer junior Treasurer of the Home Economics Faculty.

NORTH DAKOTA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA

Chartered, 1921
Pledge Day, September 25, 1944

Life at U. N. D. is back on a pre-war basis, at least as far as lack of military personnel can show. The contingents of Air Cadets, ASTP, and Medical soldiers which thronged the campus throughout last year have now left for more advanced training. In their place the school is welcoming back returning veterans. However the man shortage on campus promises to curtail many social activities which have hitherto been tradition, among them our annual Phi Shindig.

New honors have come to North Dakota A through Shirley Hubbard—Mortar Board President (the last president was one of our Phi Shindig), Newman Club President, Phi Chi Theta President, University Band President and student director, Chairman of University W.S.S.F. Drive; Jean Stephenson—Penates President; Betty Poling, one of our new pledges—Glee Club vice-president; Mina Tension—Campus Big Sister, and YWCA Senior cabinet; and Women's League representative; Claire Croner—YWCA Senior cabinet; Marguerite Todd—Freshman scholarship award.

Formal rush week began this year on the 16th of September. This plan of having rush week over before registration and classes begin is an excellent one, as both rushees and sororities have more time for the business at hand.

PLEGDED: Betty Poling, and Margaret Skovold Everard of Williston; Francis Cronquist, Gilby; Kay Willys, Alma, Mich.; Beverly Hagen, Grand Forks; Marge Benson, East Grand Forks; Nan de Waard, Crookston; Elizabeth Ann Kelly, Hillsboro.

Last spring a branch of the League of Women Voters was reorganized on the campus and two Pi Beta Phis were elected to office at the first meeting of the League. Alice Brown is the president and Jean Ferrin is the treasurer. This organization was formed to promote education as well as interest in national, state, city, and campus politics among college women.

All of the members of the Minnesota A Chapter have been much interested in college activities and many of them have been elected to office recently. Sally Haxby is on the Board of Publications, Alta Smith is office manager of A.W.S., Betty Stewart is on the Union Board, and Janet Burley is the Board's president. Margaret Ann Peterson is the president of the Student Religious Council and also vice-president of the Y.W.C.A.

Ten Pi Beta Phis received their degrees at graduation last June, among them Marjorie Benson who was graduated Magna Cum Laude and who was made a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board.

The members of the chapter joined the members of the other women's fraternities on the campus in competitive athletics last spring and Pi Beta Phi came in second in the swimming meet and won the bowling tournament.

IOWA ALPHA—IOWA WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1868

Pledge Day, October 1, 1944

Iowa A had a creditable record at Commencement time in 1944. Imogene Bates graduated Magna Cum Laude, and Meda Hauenstein Cum Laude. Rosalie Bentzinger, Jacqueline Korf, and Jane Maxwell were pledged to Qui Est, honorary women's organization. In the Commencement play, the chapter had nine members in the cast of fifteen girls.

The final event of the social calendar was the Commencement breakfast for alumnae and active chapter, held on May 29. It was a beautiful morning and the breakfast was well attended—approximately fifty were present.

This summer marked a new era in the sorority rooms of Iowa A. The location was changed to 300 North Main. The rooms include a den, a living room, a kitchen-powder room combination, and a Chapter Room and storage attic. The chapter bought several new pieces of furniture, the members redecorated the entire apartment, and reupholstered all the overstuffed furniture. The Mt. Pleasant Alumnae Club helped with this project to a great extent.

The fall formal rushing period is still cut down to one week, also the first week of college, so the chapter started the year off with much activity. Many of the alumnae came back to help us with rushing and their assistance was greatly appreciated. For the first time in the history of rushing at the University of Minnesota the women's fraternities have used the University Testing Bureau ratings and counseling from the Dean of Students' office in choosing girls who showed the most promise in scholarship and leadership.

PLEGDED: Margaret Ann Peterson, Duluth; Joan Vallentyne, Glencoe; Harriet Foster, Bronxville, N.Y.; Bonnie Bergdahl, Virginia Ebert, Betty Lynch, Joyce Stuart, Mt. Pleasant; Bea Butler, Dorothy Shaw, Morning Sun; Valesca Bleinert, Evanston, Ill.; June Brenner, North Lawrence, Ohio; Lucille Conkey, Chicago, Ill.; Carolyn Friedrich, Mason, Ohio; Margaret Gavin, Flossmoor, Ill.; Elaine Johnson, Estherville; Beverly Lane, Stockport; Marian Morrison, Morris, Ill.

September 13 saw eight actives and two pledges back in Iowa A Chapter. A successful rushing season was closed October 1.

IOWA BETA—SIMPSON COLLEGE

Chartered, 1874

Pledge Day, September 17, 1944

The members of Iowa Beta came back a week early to help make the chapter house look new and shiny. The town girls have a room of their own where they are welcome to spend the night at any time, and have thoroughly initiated its use. The alumnae club put in many long hours, besides giving financial backing to the project.

Many of us are participating in the various campus activities. Collecting scoops for the Simpsonian, the college newspaper, finds Jo Hunter and Shirley Langdon, with Irene Annan selling "ads." Fourteen girls at the Pi Beta Phi house are entitled to wear the gold sweater and megaphone of Pep Club. Ruth Pemble and Jo Hunter are cheer leaders. Lois Bowles is president of Home Economics Club, with Barbara Lockwood, Ruth Pemble and Bonnie Leitch members. Josephine Romedahl is president of Y.W.C.A. Bonnie Leitch is war activities chairman of Y.W.C.A. She is responsible for the sale of war stamps, and the Red Cross activities of the organization. The Chapter rolls bandages for Red Cross one night each week. Naoma Perrin is abbot of the Little Chapel, which was dedicated in June, 1943.

Plans for Homecoming, November 3, 4, 5, include the varsity show, Homecoming game, and dance. Each organization on the campus is responsible for a ten minute skit in the Varsity show. There will be floats and house decorations on a competitive basis. A dinner for alumnae, actives, and pledges, in connection with Homecoming will be held at the Chapter House.

A drive for one million dollars additional funds by 1947 is now in process at Simpson. The Gardner Cowles Foundation has made a gift of $100,000 for a science hall as a memorial to George Washington Carver, who was an alumnus of Simpson College.

An open house was held on September 27, for all men students on the campus. Ping Pong, dancing, and cards furnished the entertainment with plenty of "hot dogs," and cokes to satisfy their hunger.

PLEGDED: Joy Redfield, Beloit, Wis.; Virginia McCrory, Hot Springs, Ark.; Shirley McCormick, Hollywood, Ill.; Alyene Hill, Villisca; Roberta Herdman, Woodward; DeLore Larson, Marshalltown; Ruth Clemmensen, Atlantic; Janet Berka, Nevada; Sue Hargis, Springhill; Marilyn Blattenburg, Des Moines; Marilyn Davitt, Des Moines; Marynetta Leitch, Indianola; Jean Piffer, Indianola.

Lenke Isaacson has further distinguished herself by being selected for one of the leads in The Corn is Green, a university dramatic production.

The war is very close to us at the University in view of the fact that Army and Navy personnel are stationed here. It is therefore no wonder that Ann Crawford, Betty Lou Schmidt, Carolyn Well and Frances Marshall have been doing their "bit" by planning parties for, and entertaining the youngsters at the Children's hospital. ### COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered 1884

This month the Colorado A Chapter of Pi Beta Phi was honoured to have one of its members, Mary Lou Johnston, become a  $\Phi\beta\kappa$ .

Many transfers were on campus this summer session. The girls of the chapter enjoyed this very much. There were girls from New Orleans, Texas, Missouri, Iowa, and various other places.

Our regular rush week came in the latter part of October.

The chapter has been asked to have many tea dances with different fraternities this past eight weeks.

Each Wednesday the chapter has a defense stamp dinner, when the girls are not allowed to come to dinner without buying stamps. The girls have many other ways in which they try to do their bit for the war effort. Many of the girls have donated their blood. While many others are going to the Red Cross Defense Classes.

Mrs. Tyler who has been with the chapter as housemother for many years has left, much to the regret of the girls.

The first of June found the Cadet Nurse Corps claiming three of the girls. Shiela Fitzgerald, Janet Doolittle and Lois Woodward are training at Children's Hospital in Denver.

S. president, and Eleanor Bailey, former president of the chapter, were the attendants to the May Queen at the May Day festivities. Katherine Koonsman was elected vice-president of Parakeets; Shirley Van Fleet was chosen president of  $\Lambda\Lambda\Delta$ , freshman honorary fraternity. The new Mentor secretary is Barbara Foulk and the president of  $\Lambda\Sigma X$  is Helen Moenke. In the freshman class elections, Faith McVicker was elected secretary.

Rush this year at the University of Oklahoma was back on the pre-war schedule of a five-day period. More women than ever before went through rush—almost three hundred, which is an encouraging note for the fraternity system. On Sunday, September 3, Oklahoma A pledged twenty-five girls. The fall quarter opened late this year with registration September 27 and classes starting September 28. This was done so that one quarter would end as the Christmas holidays started and a new one would begin with the new year after the holidays.

One of the top publications offices on the Arkansas campus, The Traveler, newspaper, is headed by Lynette Wilson. Jane Thomas is serving as vice-president of the sophomore class. Betty Jo Oglesby is business manager of the Arkansas Agriculturist, annual Agri Day edition, and Betty Teeter is associate editor.

Mrs. T. N. Alford, ARROW Editor, visited Texas B from May 1 to May 4. Her interesting talks and helpful counsel were an inspiration to the chapter and were greatly appreciated. On May 3 Founders' Day was celebrated with a buffet supper given by the alumnae club at Arlington Lee Memorial Park with Mrs. Alford as the guest of honor. Mrs. Peckenpaugh, president of the alumnae club, presented the awards for the year. Jeannette Story was awarded the plaque for the most outstanding junior girl on the campus. On April 28 Texas B entertained the bachelor officers of the Dallas Naval Air Station with a tea dance at the Victory Room of the Dallas Athletic Club. Dancing to the tunes of the Southernaires was from seven to ten. The chapter, the first to entertain the Navy V-12 boys on the campus, had a party at the home of Dr. Rushing in Dallas on September 23. Swimming and rides on a miniature train provided an afternoon of entertainment for all.

The annual concerto concert by the Southern Methodist University symphony, a tradition begun in Dallas by Dean van Katwijk, was given on June 4. Many Dallasites as well as Southern Methodist students, were privileged to hear the concert this year. Another outstanding attraction on the campus was the appearance of Metropolitan soprano Helen Traubel on March 14.

The fall activities of the chapter are in full swing after a very eventful summer. Many rushing parties were held at the homes of members. They took the form of breakfast parties, scavenger hunts, teas and card parties. A most original Circus Party proved very delightful. It was held at the home of Bunty Soley and it was complete with its fat lady, fortune tellers, strong man, and the traditional popcorn, pink lemonade, and hamburgers.

Mrs. Rankin, the charming house mother was married recently to Mr. Branion K.C. of Prince Albert.

The Mothers' Club spent many useful hours canning fruit and painting cupboards at the chapter house during the summer months. Their efforts were greatly appreciated by those living in the house.

The girls have taken it upon themselves to 'redecorate' this term—they have accomplished everything from trimming the hedge and painting the front of the house to making dainty curtains. The interior of the house has also received a fine paint job.

Freshman week at the University of Alberta campus was far superior to previous years, with an entertaining Prosh Court for those offenders who did not follow rules as prescribed by the senior students.

The rugby series promises to restore much activity as it has been arranged to include Saskatchewan teams. The University residences have also been restored for student use after four years of Navy and Air Force use. All in all the year promises to be most enjoyable.

Fall rushing begins on Tuesday, October 3, with Tuck Day, followed by an At Home, Semi-Preference Tea, and Formal Dessert Party. Bidding will be on October 12.

WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, July, 1912

Pledge Day, September 16, 1944

The fall semester at the State College of Washington began with an extended rushing period. The rushing system was somewhat changed this year with teas and informal desserts instead of the original luncheons and formal dinners. The rushing period was climaxed by a formal dinner given in honor of the pledges.

This semester the W.S.C. campus has seen the greatest change since the beginning of the war with the dispersion of the college training program for men. Although there is a comparative shortage of men, the girls do not lack for entertainment as the college has arranged many intercollegiate parties and activities. Instead of the annual registration ball, an all-girl function was given in which each group house and dormitory put on a humorous skit or playlet. Washington B was chosen to represent the Women's Service Corps, a military organization on this campus. Also arrangements have been made for exchange dinners with other houses on this campus at which time the members of the various groups can become better acquainted with their classmates.

With the coming of the new semester the girls have turned out for campus activities. Beverly Gregory is editor of the Evergreen, the weekly school paper, a member of the rally committee, and member of the Board of Control. Beverly was also chosen as the outstanding junior sorority woman on this campus. Virginia McMath is associate editor of the Chimook, the school annual, and chairman of the hospital board. Mary MacNamee is one of the divisional editors and Dorothy Miller is desk editor of the Evergreen. Zelva Moeser is publicity chairman for Associated Women Students. Anne Robinson, Barbara Critchlow, Gail Gunn, and Jane McMicken are on A.W.S. committees. Geneva Conniff and Zelva Moeser are members of Mortar Board. Zelva is also president of  $\Theta \Sigma \Phi$ . Ethel Lou Bowers has been given one of the leads in the all school play "Arsenic and Old Lace." The girls all have been interested in Y.W.C.A. Jane McMicken is treasurer of this organization and Fay Kendall, Beverly Gregory, and Martha Gray are on the Y.W.C.A. Cabinet. Gail Gunn is the president of the sophomore council.

As in the past two years the defense activities on the campus are of major importance. The girls spend their free time rolling bandages for the Red Cross. Once a week is Defense Stamp Day and each girl buys a defense stamp before she can go to dinner. In this way many girls have bought bonds by their weekly savings. Marilyn Marsh is Defense Chairman.

PLEGDED: Marjorie Canup, Spokane; Marilyn Corkrum, Walla Walla; Betty Ann Cox, Gladys Cox, Richland; Phyllis Day, Athena; Gloria Doble, Olympia; Kathryn King, Spokane; Winifred Lang, Olympia; Joan Lee, Colfax; Delpha Loney, Walla Walla; Gloria Miller, Yakima; Marilyn Miller, Bellingham; M'Emma Nunemaker, Pullman; Marjorie Orr, Compton; Marilyn Roberts, Tekoa; Maryella Stevens, Spokane; Norma Tipple, Yakima.

CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF

CALIFORNIA

Chartered, 1900

Pledge Day, July 14, 1944

INITIATED, July 24, 1944: Geraldine Beckman, Altadena; Virginia Horton, South Pasadena; Barbara L'Angevin, Elizabeth Shaw, San Francisco; Barbara Reinkens, Piedmont; and Ann Thomas, Fresno.

The summer semester at the University of California began July 24. Although some of the girls decided to vacation this summer, most of the members of California B have returned to pursue their studies. The rushing period was two weeks long, and representatives from the twenty-one women's fraternities on the California Campus decided to omit mid-semester rushing this summer.

Although the opening of this semester found the California Beta chapter smaller than usual, the girls have entered into many college activities. Martha Walrond received an appointment to the Freshman Council, and Elizabeth Shaw and Barbara Reinkens received appointments to the Sophomore Council of the University. Alice Rae and Patricia Andrews received appointments to Blue and Gold, the college year book. Mary Ann Van Sicklan and Barbara Reinkens have been elected to the Rally Committee. Juniors Paula Hansen and Jean Kennedy have been appointed to Secretary of Women's Executive Board and the Post-War Planning Committee respectively while Sharon Wells, a senior, has been elected Eligibility Chairman of Intramural.

In accordance with the war program here at the University of California each member is doing some sort of war work each week. Most of the girls are doing work as Nurses Aides, or spending their extra hours making surgical dressings and knitting squares for afghans for the Red Cross. The University is sponsoring class lunches with service men to arouse "school-spirit," and Pi Beta Phi attendance has been 100% each time.

The chapter was delighted to have Province President Edith Manning here for initiation on July 24.

PLEGDED: Ronnalie Birbeck, Piedmont; Harriet Hess, San Marino; Jean Mahan, San Francisco; Jane Patterson, Patterson; and Martha Walrond, Fresno.

PAULA HANSEN

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Our long "war time" vacation is drawing to a close and as we glance back, it wasn't a peace time, relaxing summer, but one in tempo with the world conditions.

Many of the girls are on the accelerated program and have been kept busy with books these last few months. Mary Quinn and Jean Working, vice-president of the Student Body and Mortar Board, will graduate this October.

Summer session has kept up with its many war and school activities and a great many Pi Phis have had responsibilities in the War Board, Red Cross, and Y.W.C.A. The University is still having gay Friday night "digs" for the V-12 students, many of whom we will be saying goodbye to in a few weeks; only to say hello again in four or five months, to a Commissioned Officer.

Our chapter house was open this summer to boarders for six weeks, and then was closed in order to have many of the rooms re-decorated. Mrs. Ethel Peabody, our house mother, is back to start a new term after enjoying a month in Mexico City this summer with her sister.

Barbara Connelly spent a month in New York City with Mademoiselle Magazine as a guest editor from a Pacific Coast college. She attained this honor after much "stiff competition." She now is Fashion Advisor at one of our leading Los Angeles Department stores.

Many of our other girls have been working this summer also, some in "defense jobs" and others in war work, such as Pat Glen, Mary Jane Thompson, Ann Pierce, and Pat Smith in Nurses Aid.

We said goodbye to one of our March Pledges, Demetra Noble, this summer, as it was necessary for her to return to her home in Honolulu. Louise Widdicombe is also going to Hawaii this November for a few years to work for the Navy Department.

California Gamma was very thrilled to have had the Mu Province presidents Conference at our Chapter House September 1, 2, and 3. Mrs. Manning, president of Mu Province, and Mrs. Alford, Arrow editor officiated, and Mrs. Finger, Grand Secretary attended one session and later entertained the girls at a barbecue luncheon. California B, California Delta, California Gamma, Nevada A, Utah A, and Arizona A were represented. They accomplished a great deal of important work and had lots of fun in doing it.

Rushing has kept us quite busy this past month, and our formal period has been very successful with Priscilla Brambila as Rush Chairman, and Betty Olerich as her assistant.

Football has once again taken its important place at the University, and we believe with a "terrific team." Fraternity Fall Formals, a N.R.O.T.C. Formal ball, and a combined U.C.L.A., S.C. dance, has gotten the fall social program off to a good start.

With summer and the beach, books, work, etc. behind us, we are looking forward to a prosperous formal rush week, and a wonderful school year.

INITIATED, April 21, 1944: Phyllis Bickerstaff, West Los Angeles; Shirlevon Brintle, Sally Carewe, Ann Dodge, Beverly Hills; Bessy Carter, Pamona; Precilla Crosby, Jane Funkhouser, Mary Jo Langsohr, West Los Angeles; Charlene Daggs, Santa Monica; Kathleen Jacks, Sherman Oaks; Carolyn Menderson, Pacific Palisades; Ruth Read, Pamona; Marian Semmelmeier, Pat Woodard, Janet Comlossy Marjorie Evens, Los Angeles; Joan Yates, Long Beach.

During this summer semester beginning July first, our chapter has not been functioning; but our house has stayed open all semester and it has been filled by Pi Phis in college. There have been many exchanges with the various dormitories that are housing the Navy R.O. boys and V-12 boys on campus.

On August twenty-third at a Panhellenic meeting, the Scholarship Cup for the fall semester ending in February was awarded to us. We earned this cup because the chapter had a scholastic record of about a "B" average.

In June the chapter won the war bond drive on campus with a total of $20,650. That total exceeded that of any other organization on campus. Also the Pi Phi had more hours of work in the War Board Production department of the Red Cross than any other women's organization. For the selling of Southern Campuses, U.C.L.A.'s year book, all living organizations were in competition with each other and California Delta came in first.

The war activities of the girls outside of the campus are varied. Many are Nurses' Aides and still more are working for their caps. Other girls are busy rolling bandages, serving at the Red Cross Canteen, and entertaining at the U.S.O. and Officer Clubs.

During the months of September and October there were nine rush parties which are of different types as dessert bridges, swimming and tennis parties, barbecues, and dinners. Formal rush week started October thirtieth and pledging was the following Saturday, November fourth.

Peggy Parsons was elected the president of Spurs in July. On September twentieth Jean Bauer was elected vice-president of the Student Body. Both Jean Lapp and Jean Bauer are members of Mortar Board and Cal Club; the former also being a member of Guidon. September 27 three Pi Phis were chosen for Key and Scroll, a Junior women's honorary; they were Mary Lou Williams, Peggy Parsons, and Marjorie Schieber.

PLEGDED: Cornelia Bezin, Diane Crosby, Donna Smart, West Los Angeles; Margaret Curtis, Long Beach; Eileen Baggs, Sally Jones, Zaida Keeney, Los Angeles; Betty Dunlap, Marjorie Schieber, Pasadena; Barbara Ford, Bel Air; Kathy Kistner, San Marino.

The alumnae club gave a cooky-shine for the actives and pledges on September 19 at the chapter house. The pledges were introduced to the alumnae. A buffet supper was prepared and served by the alumnae followed by the singing of fraternity songs.

A slumber party was held September 22 at the chapter house in honor of the new initiates. Initiation was held Saturday, September 23. The ceremony was preceded by breakfasts held at the homes of Patricia Traner and Florence Gonzales, who were assisted by Pauline Sirkegian and Florence Miller. The initiates were presented with corsages of red carnations and welcoming letters written by the actives. Sunday night a banquet for the new initiates was held at the Riverside Hotel. Speakers for the evening were Charla Fletcher, for the alumnae, Florene Miller, for the actives, and Eleanor Corle, for the initiates.

A social for campus men was held on September 16. Games, dancing, and music were enjoyed during the evening.

Gloria Rosaschi was elected to the Pre-Med Society. Lola Mae Dunbar was chosen by the chapter to represent Pi Beta Phi in the contest for "Campus sweetheart" for the Homecoming Day celebration. INITIATED, May 8, 1944: Nancy Anderson, Jean Baker, Sue Brayton, Mary Lou Cassidy, Lois Jordan, Geraldine McCarthy, Sally Ralph, Pauline Ray, Bonnie Service, Virginia Moyle, Joyce Snow, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Spring quarter closed last year with several Pi Beta Phi elected to campus offices for the coming year. Mary Wright is chairman of all campus Red Cross activities. ## New York Beta Anniversary

By SOPHIE P. WOODMAN, New York B

1904

New York B was installed Saturday, May 28, at the Bretton Hall Hotel, 86 Street and Broadway. A banquet followed.

1944

New York B will gather Saturday, May 29 in the Barnard College Club Room, Bar-bizon Hotel, 63rd Street.

WITH this challenging heading, a notice was sent to the sixty-nine initiates and thirteen transfers associated with New York B of Barnard College during its brief life of eleven years. A committee consisting of Florence Hubbard, founder; Sophie Woodman of the first initiation after installation; Elizabeth Thomson of the "middle group," and Regina Murnane of the last class, arranged a reunion which brought out a goodly number. All those living from the first class of 1904 were present, including Nell Thomas Hart who came in from her home in Connecticut. Greetings and family news were received from three transfers, Pansy Jackson Branson Theiss, Eileen Weaver Robinson, and Mary Wadsworth Reed. Elizabeth Nitchie, our only college professor, sent a special delivery to the reunion from Baltimore and many others who could not come sent us news.

Several of the girls present had photographs and clippings of distinguished sons in the service (Virginia King Wilson's is a much decorated Captain); and others of their grandchildren (Lizette Metcalfe Meikeljohn has a grand daughter and so has Mabel McCann Molloy); three brought daughters, one Dorothy Keier Thelander with Ramona who has just been admitted to Barnard; Edith Valet Cook of New Haven had Edith, Jr.; and Dorothy Griffen Davis brought Margaret who is a student of Physical Therapy at Yale.

Altogether everyone agreed that old friendships are good and that the "years" bring many rewards.

Who will be back for a fiftieth?

U.S.S. "Arrow"

To Wisconsin Gamma has come the honor of sponsoring a new Navy LSM, powerful secret attack craft, and the added honor of being allowed to give her a name—of course, she is now the ARROW! It came about through the fact that Lieutenant Laurence Burley, U.S.N.R., husband of Gertrude Scanlon Burley, Wyoming Alpha, new Eta Province Vice President and member of the Advisory Board of Wisconsin Gamma from its founding, is serving in that ship. The chapter is taking pleasure in making their sponsorship a very active one, for they have made many gifts to the ship's company, among them a fine collection of records, cigarettes, and candy.

"Good Hunting!" to U.S.S. Arrow!
