Editorials

Rushing Again

Rushing is over, leaving in its wake as usual a crop of hurt feelings—not only of girls who did not make a fraternity, but more than that, of alumnae who are bitter in their disappointment over girls whom they recommended to chapters but who were not pledged—the Editor can sympathize, since she did not do too well herself, this year! yet as always the judgment of the chapter must be final, since it is the active members who must spend their college years with that girl. Especially does the question of legacies (again that hated word!) come up, with the old discussion as to whether the Fraternity nationally should require that all legacies be taken. That would be ideal, from the standpoint of the legacy and her mother and sister, but impossible of attainment under present systems of membership choice, at least. What about the chapter which has 25 legacies on its rush list, and a quota of 19? There are many chapters so restricted—and it is obviously impossible to limit our pledging to legacies.

So we say again, let's be good sports about rushing results—and devote ourselves to making the Fraternity nationally stronger than ever, and the individual chapters more than ever loyal to the principles of Pi Beta Phi.

International Council of Women

Pi Beta Phi was fortunate indeed in having Amy Burnham Onken, in her capacity of chairman of National Panhellenic Conference, attend the Triennial Conference of the International Council of Women, held in Philadelphia, September 5 to 12, 1947. The first such meeting since before the European War began in 1939, the gathering had deep significance for all women, and especially so for the fraternity women of America, who were for the first time taking part in it. It brings close to us all the responsibility to play a definite part in such world affairs as this. Miss Onken has sent out a full report of the meeting to all clubs and chapters, and for the benefit of members who have not had the opportunity to see it, the ARROW will hope to have a similar report from Miss Onken in the next issue.

We Apologize Again

The September ARROW was late, and again unavoidably so. It must always wait for the report of the auditors of the fraternity finances, both national and Settlement School—both of these were late, because with the Fraternity closing its accounts July 31, and the auditors getting the material the following week, the material did not come in until the last of September.

Again the ARROW will be limited in size this year—with two factors contributing to this—the continuing shortage of paper, and the greatly rising costs of publication. Again the vicious spiral of rising prices, and diminished income from endowment are combining—and in consequence much fine material must be omitted this year. Bear with us, and hope for better things in the shape of tumbling prices and increasing income!

Will You Organize a New Club?

Sometimes there comes to the Editor's desk something so timely, so compelling that it makes us give up our space to it—much as we love to fill this space ourselves! This time it is an article from a recent graduate, Laurie Pritchard, Virginia Gamma, who will be remembered at the last Convention.

"If you look at the statistics you will find that the cost of living in the northeastern states is higher than in any other section of the country. And if you look at your atlas you will find that the population is denser in the northeastern states than in any other part of the country. But, if you look at your ARROW you will find that there are fewer Pi Beta Phi alumnæ clubs in the northeastern states than in any other section.

"Let's look at the figures. (Apologies to the Canadian clubs, we're going to leave them out because their population distribution presents a problem we're not able to cope with.)

"In Alpha Province East and in Alpha Province West there are 16 alumnæ clubs in seven states. In the remaining 41 states there are 195 alumnæ clubs. This means that the northeastern states average 2.3 clubs per state while the rest of the country averages 4.7 clubs per state. This is bad. But you haven't seen anything yet! Let's look at population. These same seven states claim 16% of the nation's population, and yet they have only 7.5% of the alumnæ clubs.

"Now let us assume that Pi Phis are evenly distributed throughout the country. If we also assume that there are approximately 39,000 living members, then we shall find three Pi Phis in every 10,000 persons. And if this is so, we shall also find 6,500 Pi Phis in the northeastern states. But, where are they? Let's see.

"If we use our 3 in every ten thousand as a good round figure, we find that Connecticut is hiding 512; Maine, 254; Massachusetts, 1,295; New Hampshire, 147; New York, 4,043; Rhode Island, 214; and Vermont, 107.

"And why have I spent so much time adding and dividing to arrive at these figures? To build up the ego of other sections of the country? No. To tear down the morale of the 16 alumnæ clubs in the northeastern area? No! To make those New Englanders and New Yorkers who live in congested areas aware that there are other Pi Phis within a stone's throw? YES.

"If you live in an area where there is no organized club or group, how are you to find the other Pi Phis? Here's a suggestion. Take it upon yourself to do the job. Put an item in your local paper that you're having a meeting of local Pi Phis in your home. You may be alone the first time, or maybe you'll get only one or two responses. Try it again. Every Pi Phi brought into your group is a potential member of a potential alumnæ club. And remember that the war has displaced many people. You may find half a dozen sisters in the wine and blue just around the corner. It's worth a try, and if you believe in proverbs, 'try, try again.'

"If you do not succeed in establishing a club, you will at least succeed in finding some of those same friendships you enjoyed so much as an undergraduate."

NOTE: The figures in this article are derived from the 1943 edition of Hammond's New Era Atlas of the World. The Alumnæ Club figures are from the May 1947 ARROW.—L.P.

Just Can't Wait for '48—and a French Lick Springs Convention!

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, famous vacation resort of the Middle West, is situated on a tract of some 2,000 rolling wooded acres in the heart of the picturesque Indiana foothills. Secluded in the sense that it is away from the noise and confusion of the city, it resembles a huge country estate, with ample facilities for recreation and relaxation.

Despite its apparent remoteness, French Lick is accessible to all means of transportation. It is served by the Monon and the Baltimore and Ohio railroads, with the former having a private track which leads right up to the hotel. The French Lick airport is available to guests arriving in privately-owned or chartered planes. Motorists enjoy good highways and some of the country's most interesting scenery.

In the immediate vicinity of the hotel are beautifully-landscaped gardens which in June, convention time, will be a riot of color. Incidentally, three beneficial mineral springs are located here, the most famous of which is Pluto.

Hoosier hospitality is the keynote of French Lick. Fully aware of the importance of good health and good eating, the hotel maintains its own dairy and farms which are noted for their prize Herefords and Jerseys. Meals are expertly good and served with vegetables fresh from the soil, bacon and ham from the smokehouse, and milk and ice cream from the dairy.

The simple dignity and grandeur of the Indiana foothills afford a paradise for the outdoors lovers. And the addition of practically every kind of sports equipment enjoyed by vacationers makes a visit here a memorable one.

Two of the most challenging golf courses in the United States—annually the scene of national professional and amateur tournaments—are maintained in championship form. Other recreational attractions include skeet and trap-shooting facilities, an archery range, stables housing fine thoroughbreds from the bluegrass of neighboring Kentucky, tennis courts, badminton courts, two swimming pools, a four-lane bowling alley and ping pong tables. In other words—sports for all.

French Lick is an ideal site for a convention. It offers not only privacy but complete convention facilities. One large sprawling wing of the hotel is devoted exclusively to convention delegations, with accommodations for as many as 1,200 representatives. Meeting halls, exhibit space and conference rooms, equipped with stage, sound projection booth and public address system, are connected with the rest of the hotel by a glass-enclosed corridor.

Greetings from the Convention Guide

It seems appropriate that Pi Beta Phi, the pioneer of women's fraternities, should hold its thirty-sixth Biennial Convention in the midwest so reminiscent of the pioneer days of this country. When Convention opens June 27, 1948, at French Lick, Indiana, forty-one years will have passed since the Pi Phis in the state at the crossroads of America enjoyed the privilege of entertaining the fraternity. Be assured that Delta Province with its good Louisville neighbors waits to extend a hearty Hoosier welcome to the wearers of the golden arrow.

VIRGINIA BRACKETT GREEN

REGISTRATION FEE

The registration fee has been set at $5.00 for those who register BEFORE June 13. To avoid inconvenience and bottlenecks upon arrival at the hotel, the plan of pre-registration is being inaugurated. Anyone registering AFTER June 13, will pay $6.00. The fee will include tips and the DAILY for all those at French Lick Springs Hotel, and the banquet and DAILY for all who live at home. Those who attend only the banquet will pay $3.90 which will include the banquet and the registration fee for that one function only.

French Lick is ideally located—only a short distance from the center of population, and pleasantly accessible by motor, train or plane—it is a get-away-place that you can slip into comfortably, without need of elaborate preparations, without loss of a great deal of time, and without the penalty of exhausting travel back and forth.

Pi Beta Phi Comes to Bradley University

By SALLY STUBBLEFIELD

PI BETA PHI has come to Bradley." This is the glad news which was so thrilling to local Lambda Phi's and Pi Beta Phi alumnae who had so earnestly wanted to see the fraternity represented by an undergraduate chapter in this area.

It was on May 17, 1947, that Illinois ☉ started its career at Bradley University as Illinois' sixth chapter, ninety-second in the fraternity chapter roll. A well organized and functioning group of 600 Lambda Phis, in existence since 1901, disappeared from the campus at Bradley University and into its place stepped Pi Beta Phi. Chi Omega preceded us to the campus by only a few weeks, and Sigma Kappa installed at the same time as we did. It was the culmination of an "ardent courtship" that began some eight months previously between Lambda Phi and Pi Beta Phi. Through the aggressive and persistent suitor, Lambda Phi, felt it was a long and variable courtship, tradition tells us it was of unusually short duration. Mrs. Clifford W. Lott was one of our very first Pi Beta Phi friends who was interested in Lambda Phi. Her untiring work and efforts for us during the entire time of petitioning were invaluable in arousing fraternity interest and in helping us plan for our part of the petitioning.

After much correspondence from both groups, a tryst was planned through the visit of Mrs. Robert S. Wild, Grand Vice-President. She attended our annual Lambda Phi Founders' Day Banquet in February which was attended by two hundred-fifty of our actives and local alumnae, toured the campus and interviewed the president, deans, and faculty heads. Both sides were convinced that it was a case of mutual admiration and the romance progressed! More animated correspondence followed and the second tryst was planned—another official visit, from Mrs. Lawrence A. Burley, Province President, and the province representatives from the undergraduate chapters. They were entertained informally, and also taken on a conducted tour of the campus, meeting the president, deans and faculty. A tea was given at the lovely home overlooking the Illinois River of Mrs. Mahler Wilson, Lambda Phi alumna, to which all actives and alumnae were invited, giving the visitors and the Peoria Club an opportunity to further know the group. Miraculously, the mutual admiration continued! From then on, it was a matter of the Peoria Pi Beta Phi Club, and the Lambda Phi actives and alumnae working out details with Grand Council to make our beautiful dream come true.

Our dream finally came true when we received official notice from Miss Amy Burnham Onken that we had been granted a charter. Our memories of long-waiting were obliterated by the thrills ahead of us. In retrospection, I marvel that so many events could be crowded into two short weekends. Beginning May 8, early in the morning and extending through all the next day Mrs. James Webster and Mrs. Willis Bruniga pledged undergraduates and alumnae to Pi Beta Phi.

Our next thrill was upon the arrival of the diminutive and ever-charming Miss Amy Onken who drove from her home in Chapin, Illinois, to officiate at the initiation and installation. We were delighted to have Mrs. Robert S. Wild, Mrs. Lawrence A. Burley, and Mrs. Frank B. Wood present to assist Miss Onken with the ceremonies. We were also happy they were able to arrive in time for the annual Lambda Phi Chorus Recital.

Initiation began the morning of May 15, and continued until noon, May 17. A total of one hundred forty-seven undergraduates and alumnae joined the ranks of Pi Beta Phi. Thursday evening the Peoria Alumnae Club entertained with a "cook-shine" at the City Women's Club.

The formal installation banquet was held at Block and Kuhl Skyline Dining Room on Saturday evening, May 17. The dining room was spacious and beautifully arranged for "The First Nighter," a play in three acts. A wine and silver blue arrow hung above the speakers' table which was graced by a flower arrangement of wine and silver blue carnations, and corsage of the same at each place. Mrs. Carl O. Triebel, director, acted as toastmistress, and introduced Mrs. Lawrence Burley, Province President, who gave the prologue; the cast including Mrs. Frank Wood, Province Vice-President; Mrs. Robert Wild, Grand Vice-President; Mrs. Nettie Jobst Franke, only Lambda Phi founder living in Peoria, and Miss Amy Onken, Grand President, who gave the epilogue. Miss Sally Stubblefield, extension chairman, and Miss Betty Jane Seabury, banquet chairman, read the many notes and messages of congratulations and good wishes which had been pouring in.

We Thank You

WE WOULD LIKE to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for all the fine things which everyone did to make our initiation and installation a truly happy and thrilling event.

The loyalty displayed by the members of Grand Council, the alumnae, and the undergraduate members who came to Peoria, will always be vivid in our memories. The letters and telegrams of congratulations, the flowers, and the gifts were a sincere welcome to us as a chapter from all of those who were unable to share with us in person that happy day.

Words seem so incapable of expressing all that we really feel in appreciation and love to all of you, for all these things in making us welcome within the membership of Pi Beta Phi.

SALLY STUBBLEFIELD, Illinois ©

The next day, Sunday May 18, brought a full morning devoted to the installation of officers and a chapter meeting conducted by Miss Onken. The Installation Tea was held at the Country Club of Peoria from one until three o'clock where the officers and visiting Pi Beta Phis were introduced to the faculty and students of the University, and invited town guests. The club lounge was decorated with the flowers sent by friends and various groups on the campus. The tea table was lovely with the silver blue organdy cloth, the large silver bowl of wine and silver blue carnations flanked by tapers in silver candelabras.

All too soon it was time for our guests to depart, and for Illinois  $\Theta$  to take up the business of being another chapter of Pi Beta Phi. We deeply appreciate the effort and kindness of everyone who assisted in our installation and we hope to make them proud of us by attaining all the ideals and goals so that we, too, can further the purpose of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity.

A Glimpse of the University

BRADLEY POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE was founded in 1897 through the generosity and foresight of a very wealthy Peoria woman, Mrs. Lydia Moss Bradley. At that time there were but two buildings, and the faculty consisted of only fourteen instructors on the twenty-six acre campus. The number of students was limited to one hundred and fifty. This spring Bradley celebrated its Golden Anniversary, having achieved fame, undreamed of by its founder—its ever expanding sphere, a nucleus for educational ideals, with one hundred sixty-one faculty members, and three thousand students filling the university to capacity.

Dr. William Rainey Harper, first president of the University of Chicago, was also the first president of Bradley. Bradley's chances for recognition as a leader among privately endowed institutions were retarded for a time by the fact that it was originally founded as an academy and junior college; the junior college was dropped in 1920, and the corporate-name was changed in July 1946, long after it had become, in fact, a university. Bradley's early junior college status prevented the establishment of chapters of the leading national social and honorary fraternities. With the change to the university name and the official status, very rapid progress is being made in the curricular expansion, faculty enlargement and enrichment. Our new president, David Blair Owen, has been instrumental in promoting the expansion plans for Bradley. The funds now have been largely raised for a handsome new library building, which it is hoped may be started this fall. The first two units of the auditorium-field house have been completed, and it was used for the Golden Anniversary Celebration, as well as Convocation. Plans have been accepted for new dormitories, construction depending upon the availability of necessary materials, and plans are also under way for numerous other buildings.

The Birth of Illinois Theta

ON LOOKING back through the past year, one always remembers the little things as well as the big. Last year there was a local sorority on the campus of Bradley University which ranked tops. It had developed through many years with excellent leadership, and even though it was the only chapter by its name, it was considered outstanding.

In the middle of 1946 big things began to happen—a lonely organization looked toward a far-way goal. They hoped and prayed that they could pass the test to reach this new element. They pulled together their interests which had been rather lacking, and seriously undertook a new opportunity—an opportunity they had waited for years to obtain.

At last their dream was fulfilled, and Pi Beta Phi became theirs. The more they learned about Pi Beta Phi, the more absorbed they became until at last the intensity of such a step was upon them, and they strove to build on such an excellent foundation. The group found new strength and they now stand together as if a wire had been wound around them. Their common interest was and is to give themselves to Pi Beta Phi wholeheartedly, and today almost a year after the beginning you can see the change in every girl.

Our Pi Beta Phi girl has a new spirit, a stronger common interest, the will to give more than they take, a true wine and blue friendship—each one wearing her Arrow proudly as if it were a shining light.

These girls who worked and wanted Pi Beta Phi appreciate their acceptance more than anyone could explain. College education does not always limit itself to the text book, but extends into every contact one makes. Pi Beta Phi is showing the way to this "baby" chapter by constructing worthwhile contacts, eternal friendship, and a spirit that will never die as long as Illinois ☉ lives in the hearts of its members.

CAROLYN POWELL, Illinois ☉

Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund

It's our pleasure we assure you.

Fifty Thousand Dollars goes to work!

Pi Beta Phi only may be the beneficiaries!

Pi Beta Phi house corporations may borrow from the principal. Individual Pi Phis, in need, may receive benefit from the interest which is paid annually on the aforementioned loans to chapter house corporations.

That, in brief, is what will happen to the special fund of $50,000 which was set aside by vote of the 1946 Convention.

Inspired by the same compelling force which motivated the founding of our Settlement School and planned as another fitting tribute to our distinguished and loved humanitarian, the fund was designated as—The Emma Harper Turner Memorial Fund. Many years ago the late Miss Turner wisely led Pi Beta Phi into the way of sharing which has given us strength and dignity. This particular expression of our sharing is to help our own members.

A committee of three was duly appointed. Very soon the detailed plan for the proper distribution of this fund will be presented to each Alumnæ Club.

Figure for yourself the possible interest upon the loans from the principal. Truly it is not a large amount to distribute for personal aid. You can readily see that it will not pay off all the worrisome mortgages, or paint all the fences white, or even begin to set up in business every deserving Pi Phi.

But perhaps you may know of a darling Pi Phi whose life again could be made happy and useful if she could shift her burden to a new hearing device or onto a Seeing Eye Dog. It will be the little "big needs" which rightly can be served.

For the first year the maximum sum which may go to an individual Pi Phi may not exceed $180.00. Even then perhaps only ten or twelve can be helped. But think of the fun in store when we share ten times!

Quite naturally the greatest good will be accomplished if all requests are considered in confidence. Grand Council will check the committee endeavor.

Please send requests and suggestions to any member of the following committee:

Mrs. Victor E. Everett, 883 Broadway, South Portland, Maine.

Mrs. Homer Richardson, 920 Coronado Drive, Glendale 6, California.

Mrs. Joseph P. Copp, Chairman, 424 Muirfield Road, Los Angeles 5, California.

The committee greets you with its sincere pledge to do its best to help develop your generous plan into another golden link to bind our friendships.

"So long as we love, we serve, so long as we are loved by others I should say that we are indispensable, and no man is useless while he has a friend." Robert Louis Stevenson.

ETHEL HOGAN COPP (MRS. JOSEPH P.)

Honors 1946-47

THE SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE is very happy to announce the many honors won by the individual members of the fraternity for the year 1946-1947. It is particularly happy that this year it was possible to include those winning Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshman honorary, but regrets that space will not allow the departmental honors, but only the general scholastic ones. The fraternity is very proud of this long list and wishes for each member continued success in her chosen field.

No reports were received from New York I, Ontario B, Illinois E, Utah A, Texas A.

Number of those winning Phi Beta Kappa or equivalent, 66; Phi Kappa Phi, 41; Alpha Lambda Delta, 34; Other Honors, 42; Total 183.

If I Were a Pledge Again

By DR. JOHN O. MOSELEY

Sigma Alpha EpsilonPresident of the University of Nevada

I would:

1. Get acquainted as quickly as possible with those in my chapter who command genuine admiration and respect.
2. Look up friends and acquaintances of home town and preparatory school and go out of my way to speak to them on street and campus. Some snobs are born; many snobs are self made; most snobs get that way by travelling the path of least resistance.
3. Discard high school habits, paraphernalia, and thought processes not valid for college life. Even a fish evolves in freer waters.
4. At my own volition read and study the history of my fraternity. History is made by those who know history.
5. Do and overdo every chapter task assigned to me. Fraternity row is dotted with ruins caused by too many gold bricks.
6. Show hospitality to all guests. Many a man has achieved remembrance—often to his later advantage—by dancing a few minutes with a chaperone.
7. Attend every chapter meeting. Here unfolds the drama of fraternity; and not one act or scene can you afford to miss.
8. Learn to meet and know my professors on a man to man basis. Since the Garden of Eden apple polishing is in bad repute.
9. Withhold premature judgments on my fellow pledges; but search for every grain of gold in their characters and personalities. Gilt soon shows itself up; gold exists only for those who find it.
10. Write to my parents at least once a week. Loyalty begins at home.
11. Discharge promptly and cheerfully all financial, social, and other obligations incumbent on me as a member of the fraternity. One turn of the top decides if you are a "put" or a "take" and what a difference it makes in fraternity success or failure.
12. Go to church regularly. A fraternity ideal can flower into worship or wither by the wayside.

HOLT HOUSE

Last February at Holt House, most impressive and unusual initiation ceremonies were performed. They began with a mother being initiated with her daughter's arrow, and a daughter being initiated by her mother.

The mother initiated was Mrs. Blodwen Carey, receptionist at Holt House, and the arrow with which she was initiated belonged to her daughter, Constance Carey Pelton. Following this ceremony, Florence Hunt Webster, former and assistant to the Grand President, of Galesburg, Illinois, stepped proudly into the president's place and initiated her daughter, Irene, who is a student at Monmouth College and the third of three Pi Phi sisters.

Ceremonies such as these are frequent happenings at Holt House, as active chapters and alumnae clubs in and near Monmouth are encouraged to use the House for their activities. Many approved women's organizations are also privileged to hold their meetings at the House. This has cemented a most friendly relationship between Pi Phi and the community. The chairman has found in her frequent visits to Monmouth, the deep respect and appreciation the residents of this college town have for Holt House.

The committee is now furnishing the vacant room as a guest lounge. Since this room is to be used by guests to rest or leave their wraps, maple furniture in the early American period seemed more practical and durable, than the early-Victorian furniture which is in the other rooms. Braided rugs are being made in the Amana Colonies near Iowa City, Iowa, for the Founders' room and the guest room lounge, which will complete these rooms. Plans are being formulated to furnish the historical room in the near future. This room, when completed, will be a very important one in the House.

A competent interior decorator, associated with Carson Pirie Scott and Company, of Chicago, Illinois, is assisting and advising the committee. She is greatly interested in our project and has recently visited the House, to determine the furnishings needed. The store not only defrayed her expenses for this trip, but is giving a special discount on all purchases. Before starting her study of interior decorating, this decorator received her Bachelor of Arts Degree and Masters Degree from Wellesley College.

Holt House is gradually taking on a more finished appearance; and this committee and the previous Holt House committees believe, that Pi Phis for generations to come, will be grateful to this generation for restoring it, and making it a lasting memorial to the founding of our fraternity.

GLADYS STUMP NALL, Chairman of the Holt House Committee

A TOAST TO LOIS STOOLMAN

At the last meeting of the Alumnae club on Monday, May 19, held at the home of Marie F. Palmer, the club with the chapter honored Lois Franklin Stoolman for her many years of service to both groups and to the national organization. We are sure those Illinois Zeta members who were not with us feel as we did and deeply appreciate all the strenuous work she has done. We hope she will find lots of time now to enjoy the weekend case we gave her and will get around to visit with her many, many friends.

Alice Sayre, Iowa B, daughter of Ruth Buxton Sayre, Iowa B, left October 21 by plane from Washington, D.C., on the first direct flight from Washington to London. She is to spend one year in London and one year in Cairo Egypt. Her work is in the nature of secret service, under the United States Central Intelligence Agency.

The February 3 issue of Life magazine carried pictures of Pat Neal, '45, in an article titled "Actors' Weekend." Says Life: "Patricia Neal, who stars in 'Another Part of the Forest' on Broadway, is being hailed as the outstanding dramatic find of the year."

CHAPTER LETTERS

EDITED BY MARJORY McMICHAEL PICKARD, FLORIDA Γ

Letters marked with a star are unusually good in form and content.

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

NOVA SCOTIA ALPHA—DALHOUSIE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1934

After a very enjoyable summer the members of Nova Scotia A were glad to get back to college and resume their studies. Most of the girls worked during the summer at many various jobs such as office work, being camp counsellors, playgrounds directors and salesgirls.

Last March on Munroe Day at Dalhousie one of the members, Gene Machum, was made Queen of the Campus. This is the second time in two years that the queen was a member of the fraternity. The last queen was Terry MacLean.

March was a big month for the chapter in more ways than one because it was this month that our Province President Mrs. Motycka visited us. Mrs. Motycka arrived March 7, Saturday evening she was entertained at dinner and the theatre by four of the members. Sunday evening a very enjoyable supper meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Murry Macneill, when Mrs. Motycka gave an interesting talk to the members.

The fall rushing party took place October 15, at the home of Frances Doane, and was in the form of a nautical party. Over thirty girls were rushed.

The evening, which was greatly enjoyed by all, included games, such as charades and many other favorites; dinner, sing-song, recitations by Jean Mitchell, and the cake cutting ceremony.

The house was gaily decorated for the party with fish and other motifs reminiscent of the sea. The guests were met at the door by two sailors, Peggy Rundle and Nancy Mac Dermid, acquainting the girls immediately with the nautical atmosphere.

Chartered, 1920

Pledge Day, February 26, 1947

INITIATED, April 7, 1947: Beverly Spenser, Fay Jones, Helen Friend, Gloria Fisher, Constance Coyne, Lois Coffin, Ruth Berglund, Patricia Woodward.

The opening of fall classes was postponed two weeks in order that necessary facilities could be made to accommodate the enlarged enrollment. Registration was held October 1, 2, 3, and 4, with classes beginning October 6. The new library is ready for use, two men's dormitories just completed, and a recitation and laboratory building known as East Annex.

The University Football Squad started the season with two wins—over Rhode Island and Northeastern University.

Pledges and actives married during the summer were: Isabelle Sands to George Sampson, Sylvia Peterson to Eugene Everette, Lois Ricker to Kenneth Read, Phyllis Pendleton to John Bragg, Jr., Pauline Gilson to Philip Chute, Fay Jones to Shiang Eng, Cecily Johnson to David Griffin.

Evelyn Foster received the Senior Award, given to the most outstanding senior on Graduation Day.

Ada Minot Haggert is the new adviser.

*VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

Pledge Day, March 21, 1948

INITIATED, May 28, 1947: Katherine Diane Brehm, Loudonville, N.Y.; Joan Katherine Delamater, Newton Highlands, Mass.; Margaret Culbertson McNair, Rochester, N.Y.; Jane Murdoch, Fitchburg, Mass.; Katherine Ackerman Pell, Saddle River, N.J.; Janet Craigie Valentine, Lake Worth, Fla.; Nancy Barbara Vogt, Kenmore, N.Y.

October 6, 1947: Margaret Marie Fohring, Roosevelt, N.Y. Middlebury students participated in another stimulating Culture Conference last March, and chose Helen Hicks, former committee secretary, as co-chairman of this year's committee. Serving on the Conference Policy committee are Jean Holmberg and Peg Drysdale, and the college awaits the announcement of topic and guest speakers with interest.

Spring social events were highlighted by a spectacular Junior Weekend, which surpassed all expectations in entertainment and originality. The traditional prom shared the praise with a new student variety show featuring songs, dances, and comedy. The show proved such a success that preparations for another are already under way.

The initiation of seven pledges May 28 was followed by the annual banquet at the Middlebury Inn, at which many alumnae were present. Edith Gordon, former president of the chapter, was awarded the Amy Burnham Onken award for Alpha East Province. The Panhellenic Council has decided to continue second semester rushing upon the agreement of all fraternities that the system had operated very successfully.

The last weeks before graduation brought many awards to Vermont A. Patricia McFarland won the Mortar Board Cup for the outstanding sophomore, presented on the basis of scholarship, activities, and leadership. Sue Cooke, newly elected president of Student Union, received the Optima Award representing the vote of her class that she was the most typical of the Middlebury woman in character, personality, and scholarship. Jean Webster, as treasurer of Student Union, shares with Sue and the other officers the task of continuing a successful student government in the women's college. The freshmen and sophomores named for Dean's List at the end of the spring term were: Jean Holmberg, Mary Hosford, Ann Holt, Jean Scroggie, Joan Delamater, Janet Valentine, and Patricia McFarland.

Three Vermont As were tapped for Mortar Board last spring: Elaine Phillippi, president of the Women's Forum and co-editor of the Middlebury College Hand-Book, Helen Hicks, and Sally Finley. In April a Poise, Posture, and Personality Contest sponsored by W.A.A. together with the Grey Shop in town presented Sally Finley, chapter president, with first prize. She was also chosen as Junior Marshall by the graduating class, one of the highest honors a junior can receive.

Graduation weekend included all the old traditions that were absent during the war. Popular events such as presentation of "The Philadelphia Story", and parts of the variety show and Faculty Frolic were given again for the benefit of graduates, alumnae, and other visitors.

This fall's enrollment has reached an all-time high of 1,220 students with the town and college filled to capacity, and 15 new faculty members have been added to the staff. The college welcomes the new Student Union building, a war surplus recreation center donated to Middlebury by the U. S. Government, and celebrating its official opening over Homecoming weekend, October 4. The building provides a new location for the college bookstore, offices for the Campus, a snack bar, and two attractively decorated lounges for general recreational purposes.

The sports program of W.A.A. will be managed this year by Camille Buzby, president. Camille was awarded a W.A.A. blazer last spring showing her active participation in sports and the accumulation of 1,000 points, an unusual achievement for a junior. Peg Drysdale, as vice-president of W.A.A. and recorder of the Mountain Club Governing Board, has also exhibited interest and leadership in the athletic field. Middlebury's college yearbook, the Kaleidoscope, has a new staff representing the junior class, among them Jean Holmberg, the assistant editor. Virginia Main continues as an assistant editor for the Campus, and Joan Delamater holds a new position as one of the assistant business managers.

The Vermont As started the new term with a bang by taking a weekend vacation at a cabin on nearby Lake Dunmore. A college truck provided adequately for jovial transportation back and forth. The weekend was originally planned for last spring but was postponed because of the full schedule. The chapter also entertained the other women's fraternities on campus at a large get-together. Many Pi Beta Phi alumnae returned to Middlebury over Homecoming weekend to see the Panthers defeat Williams College in one of the most exciting games ever witnessed by students or graduates at Porter Field.

VERMONT BETA—UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT

Chartered, 1898

Pledge Day, January 27, 1948

INITIATED, May 5, 1947: Elizabeth Allen, Mineola, L.I.; Betsy Bigelow, Londonderry, Vt.; Elizabeth Grow, Katherine Kidder, Burlington, Vt.; Beverly Hillman, Brandon, Vt.; Jean Ritchie, Bellerose, N.Y.; Joan Vollmers, Rutherford, N.J.

With an incoming Freshman class of over nine hundred students making the total enrollment over two thousand eight hundred, the classrooms, laboratories, and dormitories have become rather crowded.

Freshman Week activities were held with much enthusiasm. Over eight hundred were present at the Get-Together Banquet; the largest Campus Sing ever held took place on the Main Campus; and the All-University Picnic and Pep Rally prior to the Norwich football game was held with over two thousand of the student body participating.

A Phi Beta Pi Open House was held early in the fall to which other sororities, fraternities, and the new students with the exception of Freshmen women were invited. It was a great success and they are now held several times a month. They serve to promote better inter-sorority relationships and to make the students better acquainted with each other. Bridge and other card games are enjoyed usually followed by light refreshments.

Two of last year's graduates returned to Campus this year. One entered Medical School last September and the other is working for her master's degree in chemistry.

Rushing parties will not be held until second quarter again this year but the pledges from last year will be initiated.

PLEGDED: Beverly Barker, Priscilla Hale, Mildred Johnson, Lorraine Miles, Wilma Murphy, Barbara Spaulding, Patricia Warren.

PATRICIA MALMQUIST

MASSACHUSETTS ALPHA—BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1896

Approximately 2000 of Boston University's tremendous enrollment of students registered for classes during the week of September 29 at the new College of Liberal Arts building. This beautiful edifice has been erected adjoining the College of Business Administration on the new Charles River Campus. The third building now under construction in this new location will house the Science Departments and will be ready for occupancy in season for the opening of the second semester.

Fall student activities began with a colorful demonstration of school spirit on October 3. A street parade through the Back Bay section of Boston preceded a monster football rally which was held in the Boston Arena. Movie stars, radio performers, the team, and the new University band contributed much to the great success of the evening.

The lateness of the completion of the college building program delayed the opening of school and hence, all chapter activities. Rushing actually began October 14 and was preceded by a Panhellenic Tea. The annual Rush Party was again held at the quaint Blue Ship Tea Room.

After final exams last May the chapter had a house party in historic Plymouth. A large cottage, overlooking the ocean, was rented for a whole week.

This year Friday afternoons have been set aside for informal sociability. All members and pledges are expected to meet at the Panhellenic House for bridge games, a sing, or discussion.

PATRICIA MEEKEN

MASSACHUSETTS BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

Chartered, 1944

INITIATED, March 8, 1947: Sally Authier, Chicopee; Barbara Curran, Longmeadow; Mildred Kinghorn, Pittsfield; Gloria Marchioni, Salisbury; Beryl Simmons, Amesbury.

INITIATED, September 27, 1947.
Joan Bangs, No. Hatfield; Ruth Buck, Stoneham; Rosemary Giordano, Everett; Anne Harrington, Worcester; Barbara Kinghorn, Pittsfield; Claire Lavigne, Chicopee; Marion Mood, Waban; Julia Moore, Ashfield; Carolyn Northup, Williamstown; Elinor Sleeper, Haverhill; June Swindell, Barre; Melba Trot, Ashland; Betty Young, Pittsfield; Barbara Washburn, Montgomery.

College opened for the fall semester with some of the excitement still lingering from last May when the State Legislature voted that Massachusetts State College should legally become the University of Massachusetts. May 17 was Legislature Day, the first of what will be an annual event, when Governor Bradford with the state senators and representatives visited the campus. With the recent change in status is coming the addition of new schools, classrooms, and dormitories.

Dr. Hugh P. Baker, who has been president of the college for thirteen years, retired last June, and Dr. Ralph Van Meter, Dean of the School of Horticulture, is holding the position of acting president. There are also many additions to the faculty to take care of the increase in enrollment.

Massachusetts B held an early initiation to avoid the rush of coming events. But even more important, it was thought that the sooner the pledges became active members, the sooner they would feel a part of things.

Last year Panhellenic Council, consisting of representatives from each women's fraternity, voted to try second semester rushing. In considering the advantages and disadvantages, the various chapters felt that this system would help them to get to know the incoming girls better, and likewise the freshmen girls would become better acquainted with each fraternity. A Round Robin tea took place on October 19. All formal rushing will be in February.

PLEGDED: June Simons, Haverhill; Betty Lu Tolman, Springfield; Jean Small, Southbridge.

CONNECTICUT ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT

Chartered, April 10, 1943

Pledge Day, October 7, 1947

INITIATED, April 19, 1947: Caroline Glass, Hartford; Dorothy Harless, Riverside; Ora Belle Holdridge, Madison; Aileen Leary, Groton; Elizabeth Lundin, Naugatuck; Margorie Lynch, West Hartford; Margaret Murray, Forrester; Edith Pall, Fairfield; Barbara Sciarini, Branford; Adelle Wadhams, Bloomfield; Betty Weber, Williamantic.

President Albert Jorgenson pointed out in his greeting to the students in the fall that the University is faced with the dilemma of having funds to build additional facilities which are badly needed and not being able to utilize them because of building costs and conditions.

A new hanger to be used for athletic events has been completed. The 3,200 seating capacity of the hanger will accommodate all sports fans on campus for it is estimated that only sixty per cent of the student body attend.

Construction of a new Catholic Chapel has been commenced. The chapel will be a contemporary interpretation of the Lombard style of architecture. The Chapel of St. Thomas Aquinas is expected to be completed in late spring or early fall.

The chapter house incurred considerable damage during the summer when water pipes burst and flooded the house. Repairs have been completed, although some pieces of furniture were completely ruined.

Margaret Murry who was awarded the Danforth Scholarship in Home Economics attended the convention of winners.

Jean Marie Tice and Janice Horton attended the New England Province Convention for chapter presidents and pledge supervisors in Boston, Mass.

A new system of rushing was established this year. Rushing took place during the first two weeks of the fall term. Fraternity women were allowed to speak to rushees, who paid a $2.00 rushing fee, only during scheduled parties at the chapter house. Summer rushing included several teas. The New Haven and Hartford Alumnae Clubs gave generously of their time and homes to make these teas successful.

Upon returning to the campus in the fall, many chapter members resumed their duties as officers in various extra-curricular activities. Of six women senators in the Student Senate, Joyce Hubbell is a senior senate member and secretary of that body; Adelle Wadhams is sophomore representative, and also secretary of the choir. Ellen Marie Herr is now acting as secretary of W.S.G.A. Last Spring, Dorothy Harless was made a Laural, and organization similar to Mortar Board, and a member of Gamma Chi Epsilon, the honorary scholastic fraternity at the University. Edith Andisio is now president of Gamma Chi Epsilon. Jane Spenser is performing the duties of co-chairman of the University Christian Association.

PLEGDED: Virginia Joy Clark, West Haven; Betty Fischer, Iris Kimble, Stamford; Geraldine Marthers, Middletown; Catherine Pellegrino, Stratford; Doris Berggron, Collinsville; Jean Boone, East Hartford; Grace Fyler, West Simsbury; Gene Goodwin, Farmington; Eleanor Hepburn, Patricia Moyle, Storrs; Joan Miles, New Haven; Lois Palmer, Rockville; Dorothea Saling, Newington; Helen Stiles, Manchester; Joann Scott, Westport; Jane Weber, South Windham.

INITIATED, October 10, 1947: Janet Donovan, Phoenix; Anita Kelly, Valley Stream.

New York G was pleased this fall to find that many improvements had been made in the chapter house. The entire first floor and the upstairs hall were redecorated, and a new buzzer system was installed. Each girl is notified of a visitor by Morse Code.

Mrs. Anita Eastwood, the housemother, has retired after being with the chapter for ten years. Last December the girls initiated her into Pi Beta Phi. On October 15 a Coffee was given in honor of the new housemother, Mrs. William Peckham. All the alumnae in town, the patronesses, the housemothers of the other residents on campus, and the chapter presidents of the other women's fraternities were invited. A large crowd was present and an enjoyable evening was had.

At the Moving-Up Day ceremonies last spring, Chapter President Jacqueline Fenton was tapped for Kalon, the women's senior honorary society.

Marilyn Stewart was initiated into B B B, honorary biology fraternity. She was recently elected historian of the fraternity, and Joyce Larabee was elected vice-president.

Virginia Stanton became vice-president of W.A.A. and Mildred Elliot was elected circulation and subscription editor of the Scarlet Saint, the campus humor magazine.

It was with great enthusiasm that the Pi Beta Phi and the rest of the campus went to see Angie Lambros portray Mama in "I Remember Mama" which was put on by Mummies, the dramatic society. Four Pi Beta Phi, Patricia Hagan, Jean Rugen, Ann Thornton, and Helen Farrell were in the supporting cast. Angie also played the part of Madam Arcati in "Blithe Spirit" which was presented during summer school.

Speaking of dramatics, Patricia Hagan who is publicity director of Mummies, played the lead in an original play called "Klondike Lou."

October 10, all of the five women's fraternities on the hill held open-house for the new men on campus. It was a lively and exciting night. S.L.U. has more students than ever this year.

We have a busy time ahead of us as rushing starts this month. For the first time, this year we have had open rushing all semester.

This fall Cornell returned to its pre-war schedule and opened in September. New York D held initiation on October 4, followed by an impressive formal banquet at Taughanock Farms on Lake Cayuga. The active members had a surprise "Cooky-Shine" for the new initiates after their first chapter meeting on October 6. The next event of the fall season was a reception for our new chaperon, Mrs. Madeline B. Patton. The following week New York D had an informal party for fraternity men and guests.

The preceding spring term was most successful as New York D pledged nineteen girls in one of the chapter's best rushing seasons. The local Panhellenic pledge quota for each women's fraternity was twenty girls.

Social events of the spring term included the annual pledge formal on March 28 at the chapter house with music furnished by a local orchestra. The pledges were presented to guests through an archway decorated with wine carnations and each received a corsage from the chapter. Lucile Douglas Carson, Grand Secretary, visited New York D during the spring, at which time the chapter feted her at a tea. There was a date party on May 11 and also a slumber party for those girls living outside the house. To round out the year's activity the alumnae had a pledge breakfast for the chapter at the home of Mrs. Grover.

The fall semester at the University of Toronto opened with an enrolment which surpassed last year's record of 17,000. Many of the freshmen, who were not ex-service people, have been waiting to go to college for two years.

Preparations for University College's annual variety show, the U. C. Follies, have kept many of the members busy with costuming, stage-setting, make-up, dancing and chorus practices.

One of the chapter members, Araby Lockhart, was cast as Mrs. Gardener in "Pride and Prejudice," which was the first play of the Hart House Theatre season.

The chapter held its opening meeting September 29. Plans were discussed for the entertainment of the members of Ontario B who followed the University of Western Ontario football team to Toronto for the game October 11. The members were encouraged to keep up the high standard of scholarship set the previous year.

Ontario A is proud of one of its members, Joyce Pratt, who has been chosen as an exchange student to Smith College in her junior year.

Pledge Day, March 20, 1947, September 30, 1947

INITIATED, November 29, 1947: Barbara Brown, Lenore Chambers, Joan Duffield, James Hicks, Gloria Logan, Nancy Logan, Ruth Moffat, Claire Murphy, Frances Smith, Jean

Smith, Mary Tweedale, London; Beverly Brough, Barbara Field, Lucille Robins, Windsor; Marilyn Fox, Patricia Hartley, Sarnia; Anne McMurtry, Mary Lou Savage, Valerie Voaden, St. Thomas; Gwen Jones, Exeter; Joan MacGregor, North Bay; Annetta McMonagle, Wilton Grove; Barbara Muske, Chapleau. (All these cities are in the Province of Ontario.)

After a four months' vacation, the students of the University of Western Ontario eagerly returned to their halls of learning, ready to resume their studies and their various extra-curricular activities.

Graduation took place June 11, and seven members of Pi Beta Phi were among the graduating class. A dinner was given by the alumnae of Pi Beta Phi for these girls, and immediately after graduation, the active chapter joined with the alumnae in entertaining the graduates, their families and friends at a tea held at the Fraternity House.

March 20, twenty splendid girls were pledged to Pi Beta Phi. A month later, all the members were saddened to learn of the death in an aeroplane crash of one of these pledges, Nora Gilberry, who was on her way home to Peru for the summer vacation. Nora was a fine and popular girl, and will be greatly missed by her many friends at the University.

Another tragic death was that of Mary Nichol, who was killed in an automobile accident during the summer. Mary was a nurse returning for her final year in Public Health at the University of Western Ontario, and would have been among our active members this year.

After the results of the supplementary examinations were announced, seven more girls were eligible to become pledges of Pi Beta Phi and were pledged September 30, 1947.

October 19, a freshette tea was held at the Fraternity House, and approximately one hundred and fifty girls attended. The freshman class was the largest in the history of the University of Western Ontario, and this year's pledge class is expected to be of unusually high calibre.

November 29, twenty-three pledges were initiated into Pi Beta Phi, after which a formal dinner and dance was held. This, as usual, was a tremendous success.

During the summer, the fraternity house was redecorated, and the members are very proud of their attractive residence.

The Pi Phi at the University of Toledo came back to their apartment during final registration, with very pleasant memories they had of the past summer. After school ended last June, Ohio E went to Crooked Lake in Indiana to spend a week. So much fun was had by all that reservations were made again for the end of summer. During this second visit the sophomores had a surprise for the others that evening when they were entertained by a skit in which all the week's happenings were reenacted.

The long awaited shower for the apartment was held the day before classes started, September 16.

After all were settled in classes, plans were made for the Pi Phi "Back-to-School" tea. Sue Volker was chairman of this function. Members and pledges of all sororities on campus were invited to come to the Student Union after their classes to renew old acquaintances.

A dinner was held at Cecelia Woods' home on October 5, after which new members were initiated. On October 5 Panhellenic Council held a tea in order to acquaint freshmen women with the meaning of sororities and how rushing is conducted. Each senior representative presented a speech on some phase of sorority life after which any questions in the minds of freshmen women were answered.

Ohio Z was well represented in spring activities. During the May Day exercises Maralou Juday and Marjorie Wagner were presented to the May Queen as house chairmen of women's residence halls; Ellen Dennison, Margaret Kramer, Miriam Thrall and Carolyn Edwards were presented as counsellors of freshmen women's halls. Ellen also received the position of assistant editor of the Recensio, the university year book. Mortar Board tapped Dolores Brown and Nancy Finley. At the Founders' Day banquet Ohio Z was hostess to the Cincinnati Alumnae Club. The national magnitude of Pi Beta Phi was deeply felt by everyone when each member of the alumnae club rose, introduced herself and her home chapter. Chapters from all parts of the United States were represented. The highlight of the banquet came when Mrs. Howard Dixon reviewed a biography of Carrie Chapman Catt.

VIRGINIA GAMMA—WILLIAM AND MARY

Chartered, 1925

Pledge Day, December 12, 1947

William and Mary completed registration this year with an enrollment of 1800 students, the largest number in its history. The chapter was more than delighted with the improvements made in the house during the summer. The walls were painted and the beautiful new slip covers and drapes made the house bright and shiny for rushing and homecoming. This year rushing was deferred until December, which enabled the chapter to have many weekly song fests in preparation for the big event. At homecoming, the second weekend in November, the chapter sponsored a float in the parade.

The Founders' Day Banquet was held April 27 at the Lodge, and Virginia  $\Gamma$  was happy to entertain Virginia  $\Lambda$  of Randolph-Macon and the Richmond and Norfolk Alumnae Clubs. It is hoped that this will become an annual event in the province.

At the close of college last spring Jeanne Lamb was elected to  $\Phi$  B K, and Shirley Sprague was tapped for Mortar Board and elected president of W.S.G.A. Beverly Owens was chosen feature editor of the college newspaper, and Lorabeth Moore a columnist. The chapter is represented on the cheerleading squad by Carol Achenbach and Shirley Green. Carol Achenbach was elected Secretary of the Honor Council and Jeanne Payne sophomore representative. Marilyn Allenbaugh was elected representative-at-large to the Judicial Committee. Frances Kane was chosen president of the Psychology Club.

This year Pi Beta Phi was again first in scholarship on campus. Kay Rhodes received the Corcoran merit scholarship and Jean McLeod the Scutter merit scholarship. Virginia  $\Gamma$  was proud to have won the province award for the best all around chapter and to have tied with North Carolina  $\Lambda$  for the province scholarship award.

INITIATED, May 31, 1947: Sedalia Gold, Chapel Hill (honorary member).

North Carolina  $\Lambda$  began the fall quarter with many of the members holding important offices in campus activities. Barbara Cashion holds about the biggest job on campus as Speaker of the Coed Senate. Emma Katie Guion is Speaker Pro-tem of the Senate and Sue Everette is secretary. Ruth Evans serves as president of Y.W.C.A. and also as co-editor of the Yack (the college annual). Bill Lloyd was chosen vice-president of W.A.A. Donleen MacDonald is chairman of the Women's Honor Council and chairman of the Women's Executive Council. Emily Von Borries was chosen president of Spencer dormitory. One of the cheer leaders this year is Christine White. Serving as treasurer of the Panhellenic Council this year is Mary Bright Jernigan.

The Sullivan Award which is given each year to the girl or boy who, in the judgment of the faculty, has given "unselfish service to the students and to the University" was received by Carlisle Cashion. This is the highest honor a student can receive.

Three of the five girls tapped by Valkyries the last week of school last June were Julia Ross, Barbara Cashion, and Bill Lloyd. Valkyries is the equivalent of Mortar Board. Julia now serves as secretary of Valkyries, Barbara serves as alumnae secretary, and Bill serves as treasurer.

Ann Cutts was chosen maid-of-honor in the May Court for 1947. Also in the Court was Betty Kendrick.

North Carolina  $\Lambda$  tied with Virginia  $\Gamma$  for the Gamma Province Scholarship plaque at the end of last spring. Also North Carolina  $\Lambda$  placed first on campus in scholarship. The chapter was ahead of all twenty-six men's fraternities and all four of the other women's fraternities on campus.

The All-Sports trophy which was presented this year for the first time to the organization on campus most outstanding in sports was presented to North Carolina  $\Lambda$ .

Elected secretary and treasurer of  $\Phi$  B K was Hilda Frances Lawrence.

Four of the eight marshalls at commencement last spring were Jane Lee Parker, Estelle Boyce, Bill Boyd, and Helen Compton.

Formal rush week began September 28, two weeks after the beginning of the fall session of college. We were not permitted to entertain the rushees with skits of any kind until the final party at which time we gave a Can-Can party. It was a big success. Both the actives and the rushees had a marvelous time. Pledging was October 8 after which the pledges were entertained at a buffet dinner. The pledges surprised all of the actives by singing a song to them which they had composed to the tune of "In the Evening By the Moonlight."

NORTH CAROLINA BETA—DUKE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1933

The members of North Carolina B returned to Duke this fall with a newly decorated chapter room awaiting them and it's lovely!

The chapter plans to be active in all phases of campus life this year due to the many honors won last spring. Polly Weedin was tapped into White Duchy, the highest honor a coed can receive, as well as being elected Vice President of the Woman's Student Government Association. Jane Chivers and Janet Botkin were elected to Sandals, honorary sophomore organization. Nancy Mall was elected Coed Editor of the Chronicle, the college newspaper and Mary Brinkman and Kitty Cassels were chosen as members of the Freshman Advisory Council. Representing the chapter in the May Court were Audrey Bashore, Becky Toms, and Margaret Taylor, who were chosen for outstanding activities as well as beauty.

North Carolina Beta is particularly proud of Margaret Taylor who was awarded the Amy Burnham Onken award for her outstanding work in Phi Beta Phi.

The chapter was also awarded the  $\Delta$   $\Phi$  P A Cup for the best group and individual participation in athletics on the Woman's Campus. Every dormitory and sorority entered and were judged according to the number of individuals participating in each sport with added points in the event that they won.

Jane Kornegay, president, has placed special emphasis on scholarship and participation in activities on campus. Each active is required to take part in at least one major activity during the year and each pledge must participate in two.

An excellent alumnae club was organized last spring in Durham and with their help and backing North Carolina B is looking forward to a grand year.

SOUTH CAROLINA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Chartered, 1931

Pledge Day, October 17, 1947

The fall term got off to a grand start when the chapter moved into the house which was originally occupied by the president of the University. All the members of the Fraternity put on blue jeans and set to work cleaning and painting the house to make it more comfortable and liveable. Finally the job was completed and the Chapter has been excited because they were one of the two fraternities on campus which received permission to live in its own house.

On October 11 Carolina celebrated Homecoming with the Furman-South Carolina football game. South Carolina A exhibited a decoration in competition with other fraternities to the effect that "Carolina Can Can Furman"—Showing two can-can girls working over a stove trying to "can" the opposing team.

South Carolina A is still maintaining its old custom of entertaining the entire student body with monthly Sunday evening drop-ins.

Pi Beta Phi was happy to hear the announcement that its vice-president, Joyce Hayes, was elected to  $\Phi$  B K. Eleanor Howell was named Business Manager of Carolina Review, Literary Magazine. We have two drum majorettes in our midst—Joyce Hayes having just been elected head majorette.

A new radio station has been opened on the campus. It has an eight-hour-a-day schedule during which it will announce out-of-town games and make important school announcements.

During rush week the chapter had eight routine parties and three preferentials. For the first time in the history of South Carolina A, the chapter held all the preferentials in its own house. A small room such as the chapter has always had until this year has necessitated parties in homes of members who live in town.

The Pi Beta Phi house is a duplex shared with A  $\Delta$  II. Every Sunday night the members of both fraternities participate in a candlelight service sponsored alternately by the two.

PLEGGED: Mary Arbery, Estil, Mary Byrd, Maxine Todd, Greenwood; Virginia Edmund, Charleston; Marilyn McCormick, Mountain Lakes, N.J.; Louise Wright, Cheraw.

JACKIE JOHNSON

The highlight of Miss Onken's visit to North Carolina B was a banquet held in banquet hall of the student union. Representatives from all the sororities and fraternities plus the Pi Beta Phis were present. Miss Onken gave an interesting talk on the value of inter-sorority and fraternity relations. This was the first gathering of its kind held on Duke campus.

DELTA PROVINCE

MICHIGAN ALPHA—HILLSDALE

Chartered, 1887

Pledge Day, December 6, 1947

Our president, Barbara Boughner, attended the Delta Province Conference in Indianapolis. She gave the chapter an inspiring report of the events which took place at the conference.

A formal tea, introducing our new housemother to the campus, was given September 28. The girls in formals, the reception line and the house, newly decorated and adorned with flowers, made the tea a lovely success.

Homecoming was a gala affair with the traditional football game, house decorations and dinners for the alumnus. A formal dance was held in the evening.

Again this year our chapter is active in sports, dramatics, art and other campus activities.

Plans for fall rushing are under way. Deferred rushing is being used on this campus for the first time. Barbara Boughner was elected president of the Panhellenic Council on this campus.

MICHIGAN BETA—UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Chartered, 1888

Pledge Day, February 27 or 28

The members of Michigan B returned to the University of Michigan September 22 and no sooner had classes begun, than the football season got under way. To entertain visiting Pi Beta Phis and campus friends, Michigan B held open house after the majority of home games. These open houses were enjoyed by the chapter and visitors alike.

Homecoming was held October 25 and Pi Beta Phi's display was the result of careful planning and hard work. The members of the chapter enjoyed seeing the many Michigan B alumnæ who returned to Ann Arbor for the week-end.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Delta Province President, Mrs. Benjamin C. Lewis, in November.

Panhellenic Ball was held November 21 in the Intramural Building. The chapter was very proud of Shirley Smith who acted as assistant chairman for the Ball. Preceding the dance a dinner was given in the chapter house for the members and their escorts.

The members of Michigan B held a fathers' week-end

November 8. The fathers were entertained at the Michigan-Indiana game and at a party given in their honor Saturday evening. The second floor of the chapter house was turned over to the fathers for the week-end.

Two additional highlights of the social calendar were the Halloween and Christmas parties given by the chapter. The Halloween party October 31 was a "turn about" party with the members of the chapter calling for their escorts, and presenting them with corsages. Each girl and her escort dressed as a combination, such as salt and pepper, and a prize was awarded to the couple with the best costumes. Entertainment consisted of a scavenger hunt, dancing, and refreshments.

MICHIGAN GAMMA—MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Chartered February, 1945

Pledge Day, May 6, 1947 and May 28, 1947

INITIATED, May 17, 1947: Mary Gravius, Toledo, Ohio; Donna Gillard, Lou Ann Woelk, Alpena; Jean Hess, Ellen Ude, Detroit; Mary Jean Mac Micken, Grand Rapids; Yvonne Vives, Garden City.

On September 23, Michigan Gamma returned to the campus of Michigan State College to find that the alumnae had spent another busy summer. A spinet piano had been added to the living room, also two new chairs and many minor improvements.

Again this year the enrollment has increased from 12,000 to 19,000. A new class room building, boys' dormitory, girls' dormitory and new home management houses have been built, plus numerous pre-fabricated buildings set up on the other side of the Red Cedar River for class rooms. Thus the seniors as well as the freshman are confused as to where their class rooms are.

Last spring Pi Beta Phi was greatly honored at the May Morning Sing. At this ceremony Sally Dimmers was chosen for Motor Board and Lou Ann Woelk and Dianne Young for Tower Guard, the sophomore women's honorary.

Michigan Gamma was proud of its scholastic average of 1.7 for spring term. Second place went to X Omega with a 1.6 average.

The traditional summer bulletin of Michigan Gamma was very cleverly compiled and mailed to its members by Sue Craft. The first big job of the year was to decorate for the homecoming game with Iowa State, the third Saturday of the term. Much of the remaining time of fall term was spent in informal rushing to fill a few vacancies made by members graduating. Formal rushing begins in January.

PLEGDED: Pat Tilden, Dianne Young, Nancy Huff, Detroit.

Pledging took place at the home of Mrs. Leroy Cooke, September 27. A pledge luncheon was served after the ceremony. Later in the evening the annual cooky-shine was held at Franklin Country Club. An interesting talk was given by Miss Harriett Palmer of Franklin, a charter member of Indiana Alpha. She talked about Pi Beta Phi in its early days. Two awards were given. One was given to Ann Williams, who received the diamond recognition pin for having the highest average among the pledges the preceding year, and the other to Ellen Spencer, who received the Emma May Burton award given to the senior most outstanding in the humanities.

After the cooky-shine the new pledges were dressed in white formals and held arm bouquets of red roses for the annual open house which took place in the dormitory.

Due to the delayed opening of college this year, there have not been too many activities as yet. However, exchange dinners have been planned with the various fraternities on campus. Also, there has been planned in November a hay-ride and wiener roast.

PLEGDED: Janet Chappell, Fort Wayne; Nancy Gant, Betty Hemphill, Laurel Larson, Ruth Ellen Payne, Marjorie Ragsdale, Janet Sheek, Franklin; Beverly McClintick, Patricia Russell, Phyllis Paidrick, Indianapolis; Jacqueline Pearson, New Albany; Barbara Terman, Greenwood; Norma Warrick, Sheldon, Ill.; Barbara Williams, Danville.

Indiana Gamma proudly boasts of fifty years of service on Butler University campus. The active chapter and alumnae of Indiana Gamma were honored to have two of the founders, Ethel Curryer and Emily M. Helming, and our National President, Amy Burnham Onken at our Golden Anniversary.

October 5, a memorable day in the lives of all new initiates, concluded our gala celebration. We were more than inspired by the initiation given so thrilling by Amy Burnham Onken.

The Alumnae Club welcomed us back to Butler this fall with a re-decorated home. The decorations were in true Pi Beta Phi wine and silver blue.

October 19 open house was held to introduce the pledges to the sororities and fraternities on campus. The social calendar has been filled with exchange dinners, open houses and dances. The annual pledge barn dance was held the first weekend in November. House decorations, floats and open house were all presentations of homecoming at Butler.

Miss Irene Sims, president of Indiana Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Butler University, straightens the tie of her "date"—Mr. Roy C. Sims, her father, as they attend the chapter's annual father-daughter dinner in May. Approximately 50 fathers of coeds in the active group attended the traditional affair given in the house. A stunt by pledges was a feature of the program.

At the activity last spring Ann Gill was awarded the activity cup for outstanding activities on campus. Patricia Bond was awarded the activity bracelet for the year. The scholarship ring was presented to Shirley Loucks for the highest scholastic record for 1946-47. The outstanding senior girl, Betty Beck, was presented the service ring for the year.

school started. Twenty-five actives and pledges came back for this. Fall rush plans, details, and decorations were worked out and many odd jobs were completed. A buffet rush party for town girls climaxed the four day adventure. Everyone had a grand time.

We have many activities in the house this year. Sally Ann Hammond was chosen as president of Gold Peppers, junior women activity honorary. Suzanne Finch, Lucille Broeking, and Nancy Kelsey were capped Gold Pepper. Lucille Broeking and Nancy Kelsey were tapped Mortar Board.

At the annual Geneva Stunts held in late spring and sponsored jointly by the Butler University campus chapters of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., members of the Indiana  $\Gamma$  chapter of Pi Beta Phi presented a skit entitled "Under Cover." The stunt consisted of singing, dancing and comedy acts based on various books, enlarged reproductions of which appeared in the scenery. The stunts are given each year to raise funds to send student delegates to the "Y" summer conferences at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Each campus sorority and fraternity enters a stunt in the performance.

INDIANA EPSILON—DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1942

Pledge Day, September 26, 1947

Indiana E members returned to DePauw September 16, for its second year in the new house. Over the summer the yard was landscaped and further re-modeling done on the house. The chapter is very proud of its home, which is over a hundred years old, and was once the residence of a DePauw president.

The chapter started its sixth year on campus with a very successful rushing season, pledging twenty-two girls.

The first all-campus event of the school year was a Field Day with a dance in the evening. Various contests were held and the climax was a greased pig chase with the lucky winner keeping the pig. The main events featured at Field Day were dunking for apples, a pie-eating contest, a suitcase race, an egg-throwing contest, and a male best-looking-legs contest.

Indiana E's social calendar was very crowded this fall. With the return of the fraternities and an increased enrollment, every weekend was full. Exchange dinners, Old Gold Day, the annual pledge dance held November 1, football games, and other social events kept the chapter busy when books and lessons weren't the order of the day.

The highlight of the fall season came when Miss Onken visited the chapter for lunch, October 6. Miss Onken stopped in Greencastle after helping Indiana F celebrate its fiftieth anniversary.

At the scholarship banquet last spring Peg Ward was awarded the scholarship ring for the highest active average for the preceding year. Ann Green made the greatest improvement in grades the preceding semester, and her name was engraved on the scholarship plaque. At the initiation banquet Joan Boeman was selected as the best pledge of the year, while Sue Day was the pledge with the highest scholastic average and was given a ring to wear for a year.

Barbara Bell is president of Panhellenic, Mary Lane Hubbell holds the presidency of M Φ E, and Christine Brown the treasurer of that organization this year.

INITIATED, October 19, 1947: Patsy Becker, Alice Nelson, Marianna Sinz, Barbara Smith, Sally Zumwinkel, St. Louis. Spirit in every sense of the word has returned to the Washington University campus with a tremendous bang. Freshman beanies, courts, mixers, football games, parades and bonfires, all definitely new and exciting, helped to start Washington University's fall semester with much enthusiasm.

Missouri B equally spirited, brought home a wonderful pledge class and wasted no time in introducing the new pledges to the campus fraternities. Opening the Pi Phi Debut was a scavenger hunt and buffet dinner at the home of Eileen Selle. This was followed by the pledge dance given in the Woman's Building and it was a huge success!

Many honors within the chapter have accumulated since the last ARROW. Most important in this line is the Scholarship Cup. This makes the third semester our chapter has been first in Panhellenic scholarship and we are striving desperately to make this Cup a permanent one.

Individually we have also scored high with Martha Dunbar the Province Amy B. Onken Award winner. Dottie Ashbaugh Johns was elected to Φ B K.

Mortar Board tapped Nancy Baber, Treasurer; Peggy Lustkandl and Helen McGavran. Two new Pi Beta Phi members of Ternion are Mary Anne Moore and Virginia Rodriguez. Freshman Commission claims Dee Kreisshauser, president; Marjorie Ritter, Grete Rice, and Betty Stake, secretary.

Mary Anne Moore succeeded Helen McGavran as new Editor of Eliot Magazine.

Virginia Rodriguez was elected Co-Chairman of the Student Senate, a most important office. Ginny also had one of the leads along with Marilyn Campen in the late Thyrsus production, "Ladies in Retirement."

MISSOURI GAMMA—DRURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1914

Pledge Day, September 20, 1947

INITIATED, September 6, 1947: Bobbi Prater, Frances Clayton.

Rush week opened September 7 with the Panhellenic tea and progressive open house. The following week the Pi Beta Phi had two very successful parties—the traditional S. S. Arrow cruise and a Southern Plantation Party. Rush week closed September 12 and September 13 Missouri Gamma delivered its bids by serenading the rushees at their respective homes with "Remember the Pi Phi Arrow." Thirteen girls were presented with invitations, ribbons, and corsages.

Last year the Pi Beta Phi on Drury College campus had the honor of winning the Panhellenic scholarship cup for being the sorority with the highest scholastic average for the year—2.87. With this to back them up, Missouri Gamma is stressing scholarship in an effort to win the cup again this year.

Every Monday night after active meeting, the pledges and actives have dinner together and a social hour. On Wednesdays, the pledges and their pledge mothers lunch together to provide a closer relationship and an opportunity to know the pledge mothers better.

Mary Helen Barrett, chapter president, is also president of Drury Lane Troupers, dramatics organization, and Red Peppers, pep club. Ann Lusk, chapter treasurer, is secretary of Red Peppers and secretary of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity. Pat Foster, chapter vice-president, is a member of the Wallace Hall house council, and Betsy Anderson is a member of Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biological fraternity.

October 31, Halloween, a bunking party was held at the summer home of one of the members at Rockaway Beach. This was a celebration and honor party for the new pledges.

KENTUCKY ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Chartered, October, 1925

INITIATED, March 13, 1947: Jean Atherton, Jean Caldwell, Ann Carter, Evelyn Ellis, Margaretta Emch, Natalie Farwell, Martha Fowler, Marian Home, Mary Lou Koch, Margaret Laudermill, Joy Neurath, Louisville.

With the increasing importance of student government at the University of Louisville, Kentucky Alpha was indeed proud to have two of its members elected to the Student Council and the All University Council respectively. They are Jane Northen and Carol Halliday. Mary Stuart was made editor of the Cardinal, the school newspaper and is doing a fine job.

Last spring the Father's Club became very active. They helped repair things and raised money to have the inside of the house painted. With such a fine start the chapter decided to redecorate the house. New venetian blinds were purchased and new slip covers and draperies made.

Early in May the University sponsored a Pan-American Dance at which every organization had a booth. Kentucky Alpha's booth was a success for they raffied off a Cocker Spaniel puppy. Also in May the chapter had a party with Phi Kappa Tau, which had just been chartered on campus.

On June 14 a banquet was held for the graduating seniors and the Alumnae Club, the purpose of which was to better acquaint the new graduates with the alumnae and to get them interested in becoming active members of the Alumnae Club. The banquet was followed by the Senior Farewell ceremony.

The week after exams the chapter adjourned to camp on the Kentucky River where each year all the Greeks on campus rent cabins for a week of hilarity. In spite of the dismal weather the trip was a great success.

During the summer Kentucky Alpha had informal meetings twice a month, and in July Betty Alford gave a slumber party for the chapter at her lodge. All the girls enjoyed the hamburgers and potato salad which Anne Scholtz had prepared. The surprise of the evening was the announcement of two Pi Beta Phi's engagements.

Each year the University sponsors a leadership camp where student problems are ironed out and plans are made for the coming year. This year the leaders of all organizations were invited to spend the weekend at a YWCA camp in Indiana. The Pi Beta Phi's had six representatives. JANE ASHTON

TENNESSEE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA

Chartered, 1923

Pledge Day, October 10, 1947

INITIATED, October 4, 1947: Martha Brooks, Doris Deakins,

Mary Margaret Haile, Mary Jacoway, and Alma Ruth Riddle. In August the Pi Beta Phi had a house party at Occoe. In spite of spending most of the time sunning and swimming, there was much discussion of the coming fall term and the rush parties.

The University began its winter session September 23. The three weeks of rushing began September 22 with a tea hosted by the five women's fraternities on the campus. During rushing each women's fraternity was allowed one off-campus and one on-campus party and a preferential party (being introduced for the first time).

The Pi Beta Phi off-campus party was given in the basement of the American Legion building in the outskirts of Chattanooga. The theme was "Ptoimaine Tavern." Two skits and several song and dance numbers served as a floor show. There was never a dull moment for between the acts of the floor show the rushees enjoyed reading the signs posted around the walls, having their fortunes told by a gypsy (a Pi Beta Phi), and having their pictures taken by Horace, the wandering photographer.

The on-campus party was "Pi Phi Candyland." This idea was taken from the dance given last spring and some of the decorations used at the dance were used again. The chapter house was decorated in red and white crepe paper with large red and white striped candy sticks standing around the walls. An awning was placed over the door supported by candy sticks. As the rushees came through the door the actives, pledges and alumnae stood in a double line singing and greeting them. The main skit used was the "Varga Girl Calendar" with Pi Beta Phi's representing each month of the year. Original poems were also read about each rushee and banana splits were served as refreshments. A song learned at conference "Everybody Is Going Pi Phi" was sung in the circle at the close of the party.

The preferential party was held October 9 and pledging October 10. Pledging was in the evening this year due to the fact that the Dean's office was occupied on the day that had been previously set aside for pledging. After the pledging ceremony, a midnight supper was given for the new pledges.

Dot Bradley, the chapter president, was among the five sponsors which represented the UC football team at the opening game this fall. Tennessee Alpha was especially honored when Martha Brooks, chosen by the football team, and Dot Fleniken, chosen by the alternate captain, served as sponsors for the team during the second game of the year.

Every fourth Monday in the month the chapter plans to entertain one of the five fraternities on the campus at the regular Monday night supper. These informal parties began October 20 when the chapter entertained the Theta Chi's. These were planned to maintain good relationship between the fraternities and the sororities.

Under the new quota system which has been instituted, eighty per cent of the campus women are considered fraternity material and the limit on each group was set at sixty-three. Completed in time for the fall term were two new dormitories, the beginning of a new quadrangle. The chapter was very happy this year with a new house mother, Mrs. Addie Berry Cannon of Leitchfield, Ky., and to welcome back to school after several terms absence Sara D. Todd, Mary Frances Green, and Edna Hailey.

The night of September 20 the chapter honored the new pledges at a "cooky-shine," and the eve of the "Ole Miss" game a spend-the-night party was held at the chapter house. ## ALABAMA ALPHA—BIRMINGHAM SOUTHERN

Chartered, October 7, 1927
Pledge Day, October 14, 1947

INITIATED, October 5, 1947: Miriam Rew, Anne Smith, Birmingham.

Alabama A was pleased to have the opportunity of meeting a very distinguished Pi Beta Phi, Ruby Mercer, who was in Birmingham to sing one of the leading roles in the Starlight Opera, "The Merry Widow" which was produced on our campus this summer. A luncheon given in honor of Miss Mercer at the Country Club with both actives and alumnae present proved most enjoyable.

Membership of Pi Beta Phis in the various campus organizations has also increased. Some of the girls of whom Alabama A is proud are: Anne Lewis and Phyllis Anderson who were tapped by Mortar Board in the early spring; Henrietta Martin, sports writer, and Phyllis Anderson, society editor of the school newspaper. College Theater claims Pi Beta Phi members Anne Lewis, Marilyn Miller, Martelle Moore, and Phyllis Anderson. Several members are also serving as presidents of different honorary organizations: Sue McNamee, Mortar Board president, Anne Lewis, M A (music), and Phyllis Anderson, Kappa Delta Epsilon (educational). The swimming cup was won by Alabama A last spring. Amelia Dabney, Betty Ray Price, and Maude Diseker were the high point swimmers.

Rush season has nearly reached completion, and once more the chapter members have begun to participate in the many fall activities.

FLORIDA BETA—FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, October 14, 1921
Pledge Day, October 4, 1947

The members of Florida B returned this fall to find the chapter house completely redecorated. Much had been done to add to its comfort and beauty. Everyone was very proud of the new furnishings and entered into the rushing season with added enthusiasm.

Rushing began September 26 with a formal reception. The next three days were filled with parties at which the guests were entertained with a fashion show, a minstrel show, and several skits.

Members of the chapter who were able to attend the house party in Miami Beach this summer are still talking about the grand time they had there. The party was held at the Coral Reef Hotel from August 29 to September 4. Those who were there were able to attend the wedding of one of the members—Patsy Crosby of Coral Gables.

Two other members of the chapter who were married this September were Sarah Ann Davis of Jacksonville, and Antoinette Minardi of Tampa.

Florida State University, which was officially changed to this title from Florida State College for Women last May by the State Legislature, began its first real coeducational session this fall. Many changes have been made in the traditions and usual activities of the campus. The students were particularly thrilled with the first football team of the college.

WISCONSIN ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Chartered, November 1, 1894
Pledge Day, October 6, 1947

The opening of the fall semester showed an even greater increase in enrollment at the University of Wisconsin. Some of us felt that we had battled all 20,000 of them in our registration lines. The campus is full of Quonset huts and barracks which are being used for temporary class rooms, but even with this the spirit has not diminished, and the feeling seems to be that this will be one of the best years ever.

Many Wisconsin A members received honors at the closing of school last year. Caroline Mahan, Maxine Trotter, and Jane Gresge were elected to Mortar Board, and Patricia Johnson was elected to Crucible.

Wedding bells rang for four Wisconsin A members this summer. Kathleen Thompson was married to William May. Katherine Wallman to Paul Hawkins, Marcia Irgens to Charles Ritter, and June Ann Smith to Stephen Atwater.

Caroline Mahan was elected business manager of the 1948 Badger, the school annual, and Jacqueline Dunne and Nancy Philipp were elected to positions on Student Board.

At the chapter house, everyone was delighted to see the changes in decoration. All the rooms have now been papered and have new draperies, and the girls are more proud than ever of the beautiful homelike chapter house.

The fall activities at Wisconsin A included the traditional open house after the football games, Homecoming Celebration and the chapter house decorations, and the Father's week-end which has become one of our favorite traditions.

Rushing activities were ably directed by Marilyn Ricker, and Wisconsin A has a very fine new pledge class of seventeen girls. The theme of the informal party this year was the Pi Phi Merry-Go-Round. Patricia Shillings acted as master of ceremonies in the manner of the Manhattan Merry-Go-Round, and the entertainment consisted of a song by Janet Williams and a skit by Julie Ramsey and Jean Wolf. Much hard work went into the decorations and planning, and Wisconsin A was proud of the result.

WISCONSIN BETA—BELOIT COLLEGE

Chartered, August 20, 1919

Pledge Day, Wednesday, October 8, 1947

Pi Beta Phi had nine graduates last spring, one of whom the chapter is exceptionally proud: Miss Shirley Peterson of Rockford, Ill. Shirley received the president's award for the outstanding graduate. Last spring Phyllis Cox was nominated to Senior Bench. Also last spring nine students of Beloit College were initiated into National Collegiate Players; of the eight girls four were Pi Phis: Alice Kneil, president; Roberta Baker, Phyllis Cox, and Virginia Wright.

The fall semester at Beloit College opened with great success for Pi Beta Phi. On the mantel were the scholarship cup, and the athletic cup for the year 1946 and 1947. The total number in Pi Beta Phi including pledges is sixty-eight, one of the largest chapters in the history of Wisconsin B.

Informal rushing started September 24, ending September 26. On each of these days two groups of girls came to the chapter house, one group from three thirty in the afternoon to four thirty, the others from four thirty to five thirty, for an informal get together. Sunday evening September 28, Pi Beta Phi had a very successful formal rushing party. The chapter house was decorated to the theme Camellia Room, Pi Beta Phi Hotel. Peggy Shakleton planned every detail to perfection. The menus were pink and white striped topped by a beautiful camellia.

The next formal rushing party was on Wednesday, October 1. The theme was Pi Phi Roundup. Outside to greet the girls was a live pet goat, fenced around a tree. A mail box with Pi Beta Phi Ranch written on it, and three huge milk cans, were at the front walk. The entertainment inside the chapter house consisted of the Pi Beta Phi band playing four numbers. The members are: Jane Marty, Shirley Fordham, Betty Jensen, Ann Dane, Jean Parliament, Jacky Dougan and Avis Steventon. Jane Evans was the featured vocalist, Jessie Spenser, master of ceremonies.

The last rushing function was the formal party on Friday October 3, 1947. Sunday October 5, 1947 the rushees came to the chapter house and were pinned with the wine and blue ribbons. Wednesday October 8, 1947 twenty-one were pledged.

An outstanding social event of the year given by Pi Beta Phi, was the formal dance October 25, 1947; the theme was The Gay Nineties.

INITIATED, September 27, 1947: Jacqueline Danielson, Stevens Point, Wis.; Helen Wagner, Oak Park, Ill.

Last Spring in Wisconsin I is well worth remembering. Lawrence College celebrated its one hundredth anniversary with memorable Centennial Ball, alumnae banquet, and Centennial Choir. Sorority campus histories were on display for visiting alums, and Wisconsin I was well represented at the commencement exercises with fourteen seniors. Gladys Osborne was graduated Magna cum laude, for honors in history, already having received her Phi Beta Kappa key.

Elsie Pedersen won the athletic plaque presented each year to the outstanding senior sportswoman. Mary Anschuetz was chosen for Mortar Board, and also received the Junior Spade, given to the most spectacular junior woman of her class. Wisconsin Gamma is proud of "Ash"—she's been a hard and willing worker, and deserves these honors.

Our chapter was also represented by two Pi Phis at the May Queen's Court, and five beauty queens for the Spring prom. June Eiler and Mary Anschuetz were initiated into  $\Phi \Sigma I$ , the national honorary romance language fraternity. Betty Foulk, Elaine Wilmoth, Kathryn Elwers, and Nancy Beckham were announced as winning honors last spring, too.

The fall semester began in an exciting way with the pledging of twenty-five new girls. Sport activities for the year have just been started; Jane Straub has announced our plans for a gala homecoming in November. Besides the pursuit of scholastic and extracurricular activities, we hope to have a lot of fun this year being together at meetings, picnics, school social functions, and song practices every Saturday in the rooms—giving the actives and pledges a chance to get together and enjoy themselves in the Pi Phi spirit.

Pledge Day, September 30, 1947

Fall at Siwash found Illinois B-Δ busy completing a very successful rush period by pledging nineteen girls. Rush week and pledging over, a picnic was held for the pledges at Lake Rice. Both pledges and actives enjoyed the opportunity to become better acquainted with one another. The Panhellenic House is being used weekly by the chapter for some form of social gathering.

Knox celebrated its Homecoming the week-end of October 25, with numerous exciting events. Saturday morning a brunch, welcoming the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae, was held at the Panhellenic House by this chapter. Other activities of the week-end consisted of a dinner for all Knox Alumni and the Knox Theater production of "Papa is All." Mercedes Scull had one of the leading roles in this production. Helen Turnquist, was in charge of scenery painting, and Jane Bagley, "properties." The Homecoming Dance took place Saturday evening, and was complete with "Joe Saunders" and his band. ### ILLINOIS EPSILON—NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Chartered, May 26, 1894

Pledge Day, September 29, 1947

Rush began at Northwestern September 13 with each woman's fraternity on campus holding an open house. During the following week there were many parties both formal and informal while the rushees and the rushers got acquainted. September 29 was the date of pledging, and it brought rushing to a very successful close, at least as far as Pi Beta Phi was concerned. This chapter was one of three on campus which took its full quota of pledges, that number being thirty. Each one of the girls was a wonderful addition to the Fraternity, and both pledges and actives agreed that this was going to be a wonderful year.

Harriet Rhawn, National ABO Award, May Queen, and her court.

The first open house which the chapter gave was after the football game with Michigan October 18. There was dancing in the living room, and coffee and doughnuts were served in the dining room. The affair was quite a success as have been our exchange dinners this fall with the  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$  and  $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$  fraternities. Most enthusiastic of all was the praise for the barn party given by the actives for the pledges. Everyone, pledges, actives, and dates, joined in the western spirit wearing blue jeans and plaid shirts and dividing into many sets for square dancing.

Northwestern has had a large increase in enrollment this fall with even more veterans than last year filling the quonsets to overflowing. Although the classes are still quite crowded, the University has helped alleviate the strain by adding ninety-five new professors to the faculty. There are also plans for a new housing project which is needed badly. This increase in students has been noticeable at the school dances this fall, but the packed dance floor only added to the fun.

Illinois E now has two more members of A A  $\Delta$ , women's freshman honorary, Carolyn Welch and Barbara Weaver. Outstanding on school publications this fall were Jennie Jacques who has been recently appointed to the editorial staff of the daily newspaper, and Sue Uhl who is assistant editor of the yearbook. Jennie is also on the Dean's List in Journalism school and has been awarded the Illinois E scholarship ring.

PLEGDED: Connie Achterberg, Joliet; Pat Barthell, Ann Curtis, Winnetka; Sandra Becker, Lincoln; Ann Flowers, Wilmette; Ruth Kerr, Evanston; Jane Lewis, Springfield; Mary Merris, Decatur; Lee Schendorf, Barbara Wenner, Chicago; Barbara Schwartz, Carbondale; Marjane Stryker, Springfield; Jo Sundine, Moline; Mary Sutter, Evanston; Carol Warwick, Palatine; Pat Abel, Neenah, Wis.; Connie Pember, Janesville, Wis.; Barbara Razner, Stevens Point, Wis.; Jackie Koon, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Betty Morton, Detroit, Mich.; Betty Delany, Kansas City, Mo.; Melanie Warmack, Southwest City, Mo.; Sally Essex, Rochester, Minn.; Marjorie Hendry, Ashland, Ohio; Jan Rutledge, Columbus, Ohio; Emma Ward, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Julie Gallaher, Harlingen, Tex.; Barbara Smith, Tulsa, Okla.; Nita Wellwood, Sheridan, Wyo.; Margery Engle, Long Beach, Calif.

Many other improvements have been made in the house over the summer with new equipment added for the convenience of the girls.

Homecoming this year was held November 1 with Michigan as the guest of Illinois. Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Chi joined in presenting one of the stunt show skits. The main theme this year was foreign countries so the title of our skit was "Scotlandois." We enjoyed having all our chapter friends back for that weekend.

The annual pledge dance was held November 7 in the chapter house. The theme this year was "Sadie Hawkins' Day."

ILLINOIS THETA—BRADLEY UNIVERSITY

Chartered, May 17, 1947

Pledge Day, October 5, 1947

INITIATED, May 15, 1947:

Illinois  $\Theta$  wishes to introduce itself to ARROW readers as the "baby" chapter of Eta Province chartered May 17, 1947. After the rush of initiation was over, the members set about in earnest to make this a leading chapter in Pi Beta Phi. Illinois  $\Theta$  was given the W.A.A. Award in the form of a bronze plaque for outstanding achievements in intra-mural sports. Having won this same award three years in a row, the plaque now has a permanent place on the mantle as a gift from the university.

Elaine Harmon, Marilyn Moffatt, and Miriam Beyer had leading roles in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" produced by the dramatic club of Bradley. Also in speech work, Elizabeth Coriell was initiated into  $\Pi \kappa \Delta$ , the nation's largest honorary speech fraternity, after representing the university in the State Oratorical Contest.

Patricia Cleary was elected to the Student Council and Mary Blair, Patricia Stewart, and Elva Schoaff were given high ratings in the Federation of Scholars. Miriam Beyer was given recognition in the yearbook as a distinctive senior.

The chorus recital given in the chapel was well attended. Corinne Woodruff, its director, because of outstanding achievement in the field of music, gave a senior recital as part of the program for the graduation festivities.

As summer progressed, the members organized for a complete renovation of the chapter house. It has now been completely repainted on the inside, with new carpeting and several pieces of new furniture on the way.

A very charming chaperon has been engaged for the coming year and the hospitality of this house knows no bounds. The chapter room has been repainted in wine and blue and silver-steel chairs with wine covers have just been purchased. The girls living in the house speak highly of its comforts and the rushees seemed greatly impressed by its charm.

With Homecoming well on its way, many of the girls are busy organizing the festivities. Elizabeth Knisely, a sophomore in our chapter, has been chosen for the general committee in charge, and several other girls will take part in programs during that week-end.

The rush season was very successful. We have twenty-six pledges, all rated "tops" on campus. Our informal party took place as a progressive dinner, with chop suey and all the trimmings plus a fine serenade at the Country Club by our coalition team-mates, the Alpha Pi's.

The formal dinner was highlighted by clever entertainment showing the entrance of Pi Beta Phi girl into heaven. All rushees at the formal dinner were present for pledging Sunday.

IOWA ZETA—UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Chartered, 1882

INITIATED, September 20, 1947: Audrey Folsom, Mason City.

Iowa Zeta started the fall semester with much enthusiasm. New ideas and life have been added with the new initiates living in the house. Election of officers to replace girls who didn't return and to fill resignations was held at the first active meeting.

Activity began before formal opening of classes with entertaining freshmen and transfer orientation groups in the chapter house during registration week. Julia Ferguson, Pat Hennessy, Harriet Hoegh, Kathryn Kimmel, and Mary Sayre were among the orientation leaders on campus.

On homecoming, October 11, alumnae and guests from other colleges were guests of the chapter. A significant house display was arranged by a committee headed by Margaret Ham and including Roseanna DeWitt, Mary Ellen DeWitt, Jeanne Larson, and Florence Strate. All housing units on campus participated in a contest for the most appropriate homecoming decoration.

This year the theme for the annual swimming show presented by the Dolphins, men's swimming team, was "Holiday in Paris." Mary Ann Wood was selected as a candidate for the Dolphin Queen, who reigns over the performances.

October 31 was the night of the annual Hallowe'en party, one of the big fall functions.

The chapter has received a letter from Rudolph Van Loe, the Belgian boy to whom the new initiates sent a box of food, clothing, and drug supplies as a pledge project. The chapter has now "adopted" Rudolph and is going to continue sending him and his family gifts.

Working on the Frivol staff, college humor magazine, are Harriet, Hoegh, Helen Hart, Florence Strate, Mary Ellen DeWitt, Jeanne Larson, Martha Johnston, and Iris Halverson. Marjorie Stoltz, Jeanne Larson, and Ann Ewers are devoting time to Hawkeye, university year book.

Nebraska B completed a very successful fall rush week by pledging twenty-six girls September 10.

School started September 18, and with the enrollment, plus school spirit, at an all time high, everyone is looking forward to a great year.

Week-end social events this fall have consisted of hour dances with fraternities and open house held after each football game.

October 6 the chapter invited the alumnae to the house for desert and entertainment.

Last May two of the girls, Jean Compton and Arlis Swanson Patterson, were elected to Mortar Board at our annual Ivy Day ceremonies. Genie Sampson was chosen as a freshman attendant to the May Queen.

The chapter was proud of two of its graduating seniors, Betty Stanton and Barbara Kiechel, who were elected to Phi Beta Kappa last spring.

Our annual spring formal dance was held May 2 in the ballroom of the Cornhusker Hotel. This climaxed our main social events of the year.

We are especially proud of our chapter house this year as it was completely redecorated during the summer months, and is a pride and joy to everyone of us.

The pledge class took the active chapter by surprise when they routed them out early on a Saturday morning to challenge them to a game of football. The actives managed to save their faces, however, by defeating the pledges 13-0. The pledges responded by entertaining the weary actives at the chapter house.

*KANSAS BETA—KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1915

Pledge Day, September 7, 1947

A sigh of relief was to be heard from the crowd of students in an October convocation at Kansas State College. President Milton S. Eisenhower had just reported that he expected a drop in the enrollment the next semester. Students were fatigued with seven o'clock classes and crowded housing conditions which forced many to live in barracks and trailers. A new all-time high for the college was reached this fall with 7,148 students, nearly 3,000 over the pre-war peak.

Kansas B is proud of itself for winning the Philadelphia Cup, shared in glory with Maine A. The chapter also won distinction in local scholastic circles by winning the City Panhellenic scholarship vase last spring. This makes the fifth consecutive year that Kansas B has won the honor.

This fall the Rush Week theme was S.S. II B Phi, complete with gangplank and mariner's rope. Rushees walked into a different port each of the four days of the nerve-racking week. The first day was China with exotic imported tea; then mysterious India with paper elephants and palms; Friday it was off to France and the interior of a Parisian ladies' shop; the last day was Brazil with crepe-paper umbrellas and palm trees for "A Rainy Night in Rio."

Homecoming was a gala affair with General Dwight D. Eisenhower, brother of Kansas State College's president, riding up Main Street in a float. Greeks voted to concentrate on the parade instead of house decorations this year so that when newsreel companies came to "shoot" the General, the floats would be as spectacular as possible.

Individual honors are piling up on Nadine Smith and Shirley King, Kansas B sophomores. Both girls were chosen as cheerleaders for this year. Nadine was head of the political committee on the Student Planning Committee. Shirley had the lead in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," summer school play. Shirley also was selected for A Cappella choir.

Nancy Diggle and Ann Huddleston were asked to join Mortar Board last spring. Nancy was elected president of that organization. Ann is Kansas B president this year and is a member of Student Council.

Chapter members are proud of the shining metal trophy they won for placing second in the Interfraternity Sing last spring. Songs were "The II  $\Phi$  Chant" and "II  $\Phi$  Sweetheart" by Meredith Wilson.

Shirley Pence was chosen by Prix, honorary for outstanding junior women. Shirley also sings in A Cappella choir.

Five Kansas B women won distinction in  $\Phi$  K  $\Phi$ , national scholastic fraternity for seniors. They were Ruth Halderson Long, Helen Lawson Patty, Helen Otto, Ruth Hodgson and Tess Montgomery.

Nancy Diggle serves as president of  $\Theta$   $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ , honorary for women in journalism, with Doris Brewer as vice-president, Doris also is secretary of Quill Club, creative writer's organization.

Catherine Merrill and Joline Nelson were selected for leads in the fall college play, "Twelfth Night."

PLEDGED: Lillian Hanson, Clay Center; Jeannette Hargis, Highland; Carol Campbell, Kansas City, Mo.; Mary Lou Neeley, Joan Newcomer, Joanne Orr, El Dorado; Maryellen Phillips, Dorothy O'Donnell, Connie Armitage, Hutchinson; Mona Peterson, Anne Russell, Wichita; Carol Bates, Hays; Joan Frank, Seattle, Wash.; Patricia Adams, Norton; Joanne Brewer, Leta Jean Christie, Shirley Barham, Cecile Cary, Manhattan; June Graff, Marysville; Ann McMillen, Minneapolis; Nancy Steinstra, Buenos Aires, Argentina; Catherine Merrill, Ellis.

The following night a tea dance was given to which all the fraternities were invited to meet the new pledges. Formal pledging was October 5.

The chapter gave a tea to introduce the new housemother, Mrs. Marjorie M. Kennedy, to the other sorority presidents and housemothers.

After the grand officers had their meeting in Colorado Springs, Colorado A was honored with their presence in Boulder and a large dinner was given for them.

Homecoming was celebrated the weekend of November 1. All of the girls worked diligently on the float and the house decorations and many of the girls held chairmanships and worked on various committees.

Among the outstanding events of last spring was CU Days. The chapter house decorations won second place and the float was given honorable mention. Kathy Butto was co-chairman of the dance committee and the chapter had twelve participants in the all school show. Also, Mary Alice Cook was an attendant to the CU Days Queen.

Four girls from this chapter received the  $\Phi$  B K key last spring. They were Nancy King, Barbara Burns, Nancy Holtzman, and Elaine Merritt.

The new college year brought the largest enrollment of students ever seen on the Denver University campus. Many new temporary buildings, facilities, and administrative personnel, have brought about a great change on the campus.

Janet Brazile and Sylvia Houghton were made members of  $\Phi$  B K.

In order to promote better relations with other campus organizations, Colorado B had an informal "coffee hour" October 4, before the Oklahoma A. and M. football game for all of the women students at the University. Inner fraternity luncheons and dinners as well as serenades have also been in the program.

June Newton, chapter president, and Norma Moe, pledge trainer, brought back many enlightening ideas from the Province convention held in Lawrence, Kansas, August 22 and 23.

The active members contributed $96.00 for the complete support for one year of a foreign child.

Pledge Day, September 27, 1947

INITIATED, October 4, 1947: Jean Christensen, Newcastle; June Humbert, Laramie.

Although fall quarter was cut two weeks, Wyoming A managed to complete the planned social schedule.

Open houses for each of the fraternities were started at once after rush week ended. To avoid any show of partiality, they were invited in alphabetical order. The open houses proved an effective way to meet new people on the campus.

Early in the quarter a reception was held for Mrs. Marguerite Clark, the new chaperon, of whom all the girls are very fond. Also new to the chapter was Shirley Wright, a transfer from Indiana Epsilon at DePauw University. Wyoming A considers her a welcome addition to the chapter. They also have a new cook, Mrs. Sides, who serves meals that are just like Mom's.

Pi Beta Phi was well represented on the committees chosen to effect the state-wide drive to supply means to provide a Field House and Stadium as a living memorial to World War II veterans.

Homecoming again found Wyoming A out in front with house decorations featuring the motto "our opponents have de-feet but Wyoming has de-fence." The float was a huge yellow chrysanthemum tied with Wyoming's colors—yellow and brown.

The traditional Thanksgiving dinner and Halloween party were held, creating better pledge-active relationships through companionship.

Although handicapped by a greatly reduced chapter, Wyoming A had one of its most successful rushing seasons. Rush parties were highlighted by novelties such as, a plantation party, a night club, a perfume bar skit, and the ever-loved Pi Phi wedding.

Besides social events, Wyoming A had its share of honors on the campus. For six consecutive years they have won the scholarship cup. They are now proud owners of the 2nd permanent cup, which can only be won by being highest scholastically for three consecutive years.

On Mortar Board are three Pi Phi, Martha Ballantyne, Donna Jean Frey, and Ann Schmidt, Iron Skull representatives are Shirley Laughlin and Glenna Sorensen. Spurs chose June Humbert, Peggy Corthell, and Polly Hamm. Polly is also one of the cheerleaders.

Senate members are Betty Ellen Hill and Jean Christensen. Both of these girls hold positions on important committees which are part of the student senate.

UTAH ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Chartered, 1929

Pledge Day, February 2, 1947

INITIATED, May 4, 1947: Jeanne Anderson, Darlene Christiansen, Pat Clawson, Paddie Jarvis, Adele Mays, Salt Lake City; Jane Layton, Layton; Margene Steinbach, Tooele.

At the University of Utah's Homecoming game, Utah A met the situation well prepared for the busy week. There was a joint street dance given by the Sigma Nu chapter and Pi Beta Phi. The Pi Beta Phi quartet looked beautifully typical of "Ute" tradition in their white beaded Indian dresses and white moccasins. Other members represented the chapter in the red, white, and blue float with Ruth Jean Snow as the Ute maiden poised in resplendent Indian costume and headdress holding a bow and Pi Beta Phi arrow.

The Pi Beta Phi fashion show has almost become a tradition in Salt Lake City; November 22, 1947, made the tenth consecutive year that this has taken place. The fashion show is one of the major activities in which the chapter participates to raise extra funds and is also one of the functions at which alumnae and actives may become more closely acquainted. This fashion show is put on thru the co-operation of the alumnae and active chapters; Mrs. Lee Waldren (Norma Williams) was chairman for the alumnae and Kay Wheeler for the active chapter.

Utah A was proud but sorry to lose one of its most outstanding graduates of 1947, Jean Bickmore, to U.C.L.A., where she has accepted a professorship. Jean was not only outstanding in the chapter but also in her many activities on campus and on the Salt Lake City Tribune. She is a member of  $\Phi$  B K,  $\Phi$  K  $\Phi$ , and was awarded the Schropman Club's Graduate Scholarship. Jean has had a most worthy school record and will carry on in this manner. Utah A is proud to have Jean Bickmore representing it.

OKLAHOMA ALPHA—OKLAHOMA UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1910

Pledge Day, September 5, 1948

INITIATED, September 28, 1947: Jean Johnson, Oklahoma City; Buie Gibbs, Okmulgee; Gala Wilhite, Anadarko.

September passed quickly by on the Pi Beta Phi calendar as rush came to the O. U. campus and, on its departure, left behind a prize pledge class for the arrow girls.

Enthusiasm reached its peak at the completion of the summer house redecorating, and the Pi Beta Phi proudly displayed the many new improvements that had been made.

Prewar days were definitely back this year, and so were the queens that had stepped down from their thrones while the boys were away. Thelma Back was the Pi Beta Phi candidate for R.O.T.C. queen and Joyce Peters for music queen.

October brought the dads down for their day, and a big buffet dinner and entertainment in the house put them in the spirit for the football game with Kansas.

Among the girls who have brought fame for the chapter were Jean Bailey, chapter president, and Carolyn Cooley Smith, president of the A.W.S., who, as members of Mortar Board, have acted as leaders for the entire University.

Next on the calendar was Homecoming, and everyone was busy decorating and entering into the spirit of the occasion. During November the chapter entertained for Mrs. Quigley, the new hostess, with an open house at which all the faculty and Pi Beta Phi friends were invited. Mrs. Quigley has been doing a beautiful job in her difficult task of filling the shoes of Miss Gladys Scivally who left the chapter last spring to take the position of Director of the Central Office.

PLEGDED: Elizabeth Vanderver, Patricia Vanderver, Judy Beth Berry, Thelma Back, Tulsa; Catherine Ledbetter, Alden Obering, Jane McCauley, Virginia Holcomb, Oklahoma City; Beverly Nicholson, Carol Howell, Enid; Joan Roberts, Pawnee; Josephine Taylor, Quapaw; Barbara Whitehurst, Ponca City; Joyce Peters, Hobart; Judy Wheeler, Clinton; Carolyn Moody, Pauls Valley; Justine McDonald, Brownsville, Tex.; Pat Young, Chicago, Ill.

MARY BURKE

Last spring Joan Kelley, Elizabeth Angerer, Fern Marie Merrifield, Virginia Vandergrift, Mary Jo Breidenbach, Ruth Ann Schneekloth, and Margie Lou Adams were selected for Orange and Black Quill, junior women's honorary society. Tapped for Mortar Board were Betty Clifton, Jo Ann Mullendore, and Mary Martin, who was elected as its president. New Pi Beta Phi members of  $\Phi$  K  $\Phi$ , this college's equivalent of  $\Phi$  B K, were Carol Merrifield Gyles, Rosalee Deardorff Rock, and Jean Marie Kerns Krebs.

The chapter's presidents of college organizations are Betty Clifton, W.A.A.; Jo Ann Mullendore, Y.W.C.A.; Mary Jo Botkin,  $\Theta$   $\Sigma$   $\Phi$ , honorary journalism fraternity; and Dorothy Bradford, Order of Gregg Artists. Charlene Schick was elected vice-president of the Southwest District of International Relations Clubs at the annual convention. Jo Ann Mullendore was elected campus Senior Senator in the spring elections.

Mary Bobo Fickett was one of five beauty queens chosen for the 1947 REDSKIN, the college annual. Mary Ann Shepherd Hicks was also on the REDSKIN beauty section. Rosemary Patten was elected Honorary Cadet Colonel by the campus ROTC, and her picture will appear in the 1948 REDSKIN.

Fern Marie Merrifield played the part of Bianca and Lee Carman, Curtis, in the all-college production of The Taming of the Shrew, presented October 22 and 23.

ARKANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

Chartered, 1909

INITIATED, October 1, 1947: Polly Cole, Brenda Stuck, Jane Dwiggins, Martha Harlan.

Arkansas A started the year with a very successful rush week. As our quota was 25 this year the Chapter could only take 25 pledges. Edith Siveley was hurt and had to leave for the semester, so another girl was pledged.

The Chapter held a circus party honoring the pledges. Dancing was in the Student Union and then dinner and the party took place at the Chapter house.

Open houses have been held after all home football games.

Arkansas A has set new goals for this year. A new pledge-sponsor program is being worked out, and we are stressing study hours for each pledge and initiate.

*OKLAHOMA BETA—OKLAHOMA AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL COLLEGE

Chartered, August 12, 1919

Pledge Day, September 13, 1947

With registration at Oklahoma A. and M. at an all time record of over 12,000 students, campus activities are swinging into a new high. Faculty visitors from various neighboring universities were on hand to observe the new registration system at A. and M. A new freshman women's dormitory is being constructed and many temporary buildings are being built to alleviate the acute shortage of classroom space. The new chapter house of Alpha Chi Omega Women's Fraternity, colonized last year, is nearing completion. Last spring the college was the site of the Regional Collegiate United Nations Assembly at which Eve Curie was the principal speaker.

Chartered, February 19, 1902

INITIATED, October 9, 1947: Joyce Cox, Emily Ann Finch, Jean Gaddis, Nona Goddard, Marilyn Hobart, Jane McCullough, Peggy Mullins, Cecile Ragland, Priscilla Scott, Camilla Shear.

Texas A enjoyed a very successful rush week in September, when forty-two girls were pledged. As there were at least four rush parties daily, a great variety of decorations and programs were required. At the first party, a Pi Phi heaven, the guests were greeted at the door by Saint Peter and escorted into a room of white pillows and filmy clouds. The next party carried out the deep sea theme, all the windows being covered with blue cellophane and fish to resemble the ocean. Sea weed adorned the chandeliers, and this time Neptune greeted the rushees. Still another party carried out the Gay Nineties theme, and the last one was entitled "Pi Phi, U.S.A."

The highlight of the fall semester was, of course, Miss Onken's visit to the chapter. Between conferences with the officers, pledges, and transfers, there were several social events given in her honor. A tea was held by the actives the afternoon of her arrival, and the alumnae financial advisor, Mrs. Thrasher, gave a buffet supper for Miss Onken and all Pi Beta Phi at her home Monday night. The following night a cooky-shine was held at the chapter house.

November 7 all Pi Beta Phi and their dates were present at the annual masquerade ball. Other social events of the year have been open houses for various fraternities and dessert parties for the pledges.

Campus honors have also come to several members. Charlotte Mickey has been elected president of the Campus League of Women Voters; Betty Bollman, president of Alpha Lambda Delta (honorary freshman scholarship club); and Cynthia Rowan, vice president of A.C.E.

*TEXAS BETA—SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Chartered, June 10, 1916

Pledge Day, October 3, 1947

Rush week for Texas B began September 21 with open houses. Unlike previous years, only out-of-town rushees were invited to these parties. The Dallas girls had been entertained with coke parties during the summer. The bids were given out on the 25 and on the 26 the annual pledge night dance was held.

This year there are about 7000 students enrolled in Southern Methodist University. The college has grown accustomed to a large number of students and now has many more facilities to accommodate them. The newest improvement is the student union building. It is only a temporary one, yet it serves its purpose well. The interior is decorated in western style with wagon wheels, rope, rough maple furniture, brass lamps, and high beam ceilings. Such a building has long been needed and is a great addition to the campus.

Texas B was honored by a visit from Miss Onken September 27. The members of the executive board had breakfast with her the morning of her day here. That afternoon a tea was given for her. Before the tea, she spoke to all the Pi Beta Phi members and alumnae in town. In the evening a dinner was given by the alumnae club to which many of the officials of the University were invited. All the members, pledges, and alumnae enjoyed her visit greatly.

A picnic honoring the new pledges was given October 12 at Joan Thompson's farm. There was barbecue and singing and fun for all the girls and their dates. A big event, held October 25, was the annual dance given for the members and their dates and also members of other fraternities.

Bette Pierce is editor of the yearbook, The Rotunda, which promises to be an excellent book. Marilyn Souder is a representative of the College of Arts and Sciences on the student council this year. Edythe Chan will play the lead in Joan of Lorraine in the Dallas Little Theatre production.

Formal pledging was held October 3. Afterwards there was a dinner for all the members and pledges.

Pledge Day, October 6, 1947

INITIATED, May 21, 1947: Betsy Griffen, Beverly McArthur, Elaine Prados, Norma Lewis, New Orleans; Evelyn Shaddock, Lake Charles; Helen Ann Garrett, Shreveport; Violet Whitehead, Jeannine McGee, Memphis, Tenn.; Jean Orr, Carolyn Montgomery, Nashville, Tenn.; Nea Hoffmeyer, Hattisburg, Miss.; Margaret Conder, San Antonio, Tex.; Beverly Lyle, Bay City, Tex.

Campus activity began with a bang this year, with Rush Week falling during the first week of school. Aided by an excellent Alumnae Advisory Committee, the Newcomb Panhellenic, under its new constitution, functioned smoothly and made possible a very successful and happy Rush Week. After an initial open house given for the entire freshman class, the Pi Phis entertained at a series of rush parties, including the "Dream Party" and the "Pi Phi Purgatory," traditional with Louisiana A; and the "Cajun Party," at which the "Freshies" were introduced to old French traditions and cooking. Two of the events, the "Pi Phi Circus" and the "Hawaiian Party," were held in the big back yard of the chapter house, and were particularly enjoyable during a typical New Orleans hot spell, which descended upon us for Rush Week.

Another activity, occupying the time of many members, was the Freshman Orientation Program, during which both city and out-of-town freshman lived together in the dormitories. A Freshman Dance, the Dean's Garden Party, and fraternity open houses provided entertainment for the newcomers, while campus tours and handbook classes helped them to become familiar with the college, its traditions, and its government. Among those acting as "Big Sisters" or on various orientation committees were Jeannine McGee, president of "Assets", Page Cary, Janice Carter, Gladys Bloom, Elaine Sarre, Jane Logan, Lucile Bernard, Anne Landry, Charlene McCorkle, and others.

In the Student Body elections last spring, several Pi Beta Phis were chosen for offices they will hold during this year. Adelaide Phillips, our chapter president and last year's Newcomb editor of the Tulane yearbook, was elected president of the Senior Class; Anne Landry, vice-president of the Student Body, and Charlene McCorkle, secretary of the Junior Class. Others members who received honors last semester were Margaret Conder and Carolyn Montgomery, members of the Freshman Beauty Court; and Violet Whitehead, one of the winners of a beauty contest, sponsored by the Urbis, a campus magazine, and judged by John M. Powers.

Lucile Bernard, Yvonne Brown, and Elizabeth Nicholson are three Pi Beta Phis enjoying an exciting winter this year, as they are being formally introduced as debutantes in New Orleans. Elizabeth has returned this fall from a summer abroad, and has entertained the chapter with glowing accounts of her travels in England, France, and Switzerland.

OREGON GAMMA—WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1944

Pledge Day, November 17, 1944

INITIATED, October 13, 1947; Betty Lou Edwards, Salem; Genevieve Bush, Medford.

After a summer filled with an unusual number of weddings, a picnic with Oregon A and Oregon B in Portland, and jobs and trips of every variety, Oregon G returned September 14 to launch forth on a successful fall rush week.

Before those three exciting months, the chapter had divided its time between the traditional May Week-End activities, the Father's Day Banquet, picnics for each of the other women's fraternities, and classes enough to average a collective 2.92 G.P.A.

In addition to twenty-three new faculty members, Willamette enrolled an all-high of 1192 students coming from many corners of the world. By the fall opening carpenters had reached a sixty-five per cent completion mark on the new one-million-dollar men's dormitory to be occupied spring semester. Colonization of Phi A to petition Sigma A E began previous to the fall rushing of the other three fraternities, the Miami Triad.

Willamette's champion football team of last year got off to a winning start again by coming out on the long end of a 19-0 score over Whittier College. Helping boost the team's spirit were eighteen of Oregon G's enthusiasts as members of the rally squad, the 'Pepcats, and the song squad.

Under the direction of Kathleen Secord, the chapter sponsored the campus drive for the Chir-Up Club of Oregon September 29, raising over $100.

Cap and Gown, senior women's honorary, tapped Kay Karnopp and Muriel Oliver while members of B A I, sophomore women's honorary, are Dolores Bauer, Geri Bowles, and Betty Dahlberg. Addye Lane was elected student body secretary for the '47-'48 college year.

With the advent of summer, came parties and showers for the many Washington As who planed to be married.

Also during the summer, the erection of many new buildings began on campus. One of the most prominent is the Medical-Dental School, which will be finished in time for winter quarter's classes.

Registration this fall quarter reached the all-time high of 17,500, and more students are expected.

Formal Pledge Night and open house was held on the twenty-ninth of September, at which time the new pledges stood in a receiving line to greet and meet all the well-wishers who came to congratulate them. ## WASHINGTON BETA—WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, July, 1912

Pledge Day, September 13, 1947

INITIATED, September 6, 1947; Lois Anderson, Bellingham; Beverly Burke, Spokane; Patricia Dalzell, Spokane; Marilyn Hahn, Spokane; Janet McMath, Tacoma.

The Pi Beta Phis pledged eighteen girls this fall semester at the conclusion of a very enjoyable rush week. After the initial open house all the parties up to the last day were informal, an arrangement agreeable to both fraternity members and rushees. The informal atmosphere implemented getting better acquainted in the short time, and provided more opportunities for variety in the parties.

The program of rush week was also different in another respect. The Young Women's Christian Association and Women's Recreation Association secured permission from Panhellenic to sponsor similar parties as a regular part of the week's activities. Invitations to these parties were issued in the same manner as invitations to the group houses, and on Friday, when the group houses observed a "day of silence," all the rushees attended a picnic sponsored by these organizations. The enthusiasm with which these extra-rush parties were received has given this phase of rush a welcome and permanent place on the Washington State College campus.

A new twist was given to the pledge sneak this fall when the pledges awakened the active members early the morning after the sneak for a special breakfast together, where they entertained with an original song written for the occasion.

The men were free to come and go from the houses as they pleased during Open House this year, and the chapter house was always crowded. Dancing from eight to twelve was interrupted only by time out for punch.

Among the outstanding football rallies was the Bow-Tie Rally to which the Pi Beta Phi's turned out en masse dressed in identical sweaters and skirts, laden with signs and noise-makers, and wearing huge fluffy bow ties. Again this year the girls of Pi Beta Phi and their guests enjoyed after-game coffee hours. After a football game on a cold fall day, hot coffee and doughnuts, together with the warm fire and friendly atmosphere of the chapter house made it a popular meeting place.

One Sunday dinner was set aside to honor high scholarship of the preceding semester. Special awards were given to Marilyn Hahn for the greatest improvement and to Shirley Glann for the highest grades.

Four Pi Beta Phis are serving on the cabinet of YWCA, one on the cabinet of AWS, and Helen Yelle, her third term on the Associated Student Body Board of Control. Helen Bendixen has been promoted to Head News Editor on the campus newspaper and Joan Lee, Chapter President, was chairman of Homecoming Weekend. Also an ASSCW committee chairman, Shirley Glann is editor of the new Cougar Code.

The outstanding social events of last semester were the traditional Pi Phi Tea Dance, a semi-formal dinner dance from five 'til eight, and a party at the Idaho A chapter house on Founders' Day. Also in honor of Founders' Day the Pullman alumnae club was entertained by the active chapter at a dessert. Members and pledges of K K I and K A Θ were jointly entertained at a picnic supper and twenty-five members of A T Ω came to dinner.

OREGON BETA—OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, 1917

As usual the Oregon State campus was alive with activity during Spring term. The girls were hostesses to their Mothers on Women's Week-end. Junior Week-end was an eventful one for the campus with an A.W.S. carnival, picnic on lower campus, and a mid-night show. Oregon B entertained twenty high school girls at this time. The traditional Spring term house dance, given by the Freshman class, was an outstanding success as ever. Gardenia leis for the boys and a house decorated entirely with flowers gave a true atmosphere for the Aloha Dance!

Girls elected to honor societies Mother's week-end were: Talons—Shirley Allen and Helen Caldwell; A A Δ—Doris Emerson; Rookess Counselors—Bonnie Scott, Marilyn Melson, Shirley Allen, and Doris Emerson. Barbara Anderson walked away with all the honors by being elected president of Mortar Board, secretary of Θ Σ Φ, vice-president of O N, and by being appointed Associate Editor of the Barometer. ### CALIFORNIA BETA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Pledge Day, October 3, 1947

INITIATED, October 20, 1947: Janice Knight Hecker, Barbara Jane Kendrick, Nancy Jane Majors, San Francisco; Martha Helm, Fresno; Lorraine Jackson, Piedmont; Margaret Louise Lacy, Stockton; Lucille Jane Paxton, Los Angeles.

The chapter had its Spring formal May 9 at a private club in San Francisco. Each class had a dinner party before the dance at the homes of local girls.

Nancy Clapham, Beverly Birbeck, and Druccilla Lane, modeled in the Panhellenic Fashion Tea at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco October 2.

The registration this fall reached a high of 23,000 and new temporary buildings are going up all over the campus to accommodate the larger numbers. At a University meeting in the Greek Theater President "Bob" Sproul greeted the new freshmen, saying that while there were 10,000 too many students, he still welcomed everyone. His plan for the University of California in the future is to have only serious minded upper division students and graduates while the lower division students could go to junior colleges and trade schools.

The football season started out this year with a Football Festival on the weekend of the Navy game. September 26 a group of the girls from the house went out in a sub-chaser on the bay to the Golden Gate to welcome the fleet in by waving and cheering. In the evening there was a parade through Berkeley in which there were floats entered by local merchants and men's fraternities. After the parade there was a rally in the stadium which 10,000 students attended. Wayne Morris was master of ceremonies and introduced Admiral Halsey who crowned the queen. The weekend reached an exciting climax when California was victorious over Navy 14-7.

Honors and appointments for the spring semester were: Mary Ann Quackenbush, Φ B K; Polly Mansfield, Vice-President of Senior Class, Mortar Board, and Torch and Shield; Susan Thomas, Cal Club and Associate Manager of Blue and Gold; and Jean Mahan, Prytanian, and Associate Editor of Blue and Gold.

PLEGDED: Beverly Bechman, Lodi; Catherine Campbell, Sacramento; Constance Carrau, Joan Crawford, Berkeley; Patricia Greene, Alameda; Carolyn Huber, Ross; Janice Kimball, Pasadena; Jane Mannex, Long Beach; Marilyn Miller, Elaine Zwierlein, San Mateo; Louise Ricketts, Hawaii, Mary Stevenson, San Francisco.

Chartered, July 27, 1917

Pledge Day, September 13, 1947

INITIATED, September 28, 1947: Jeanne Gastlin, Rynthia Job, Joan Tanner, Los Angeles; Jean Roesch, Nancy Thompson, Beverly Hills; Barbara Wright, Peggy Lee Speights, North Hollywood; Patricia Rutherford, Dorothy Walker, Long Beach; Alice Stone, Glendae; Patricia Haskel, Encino; Beverly Heiss, Orange; Marilyn Holter, Pasadena; Barbara Smith, Arcadia.

October 17, was a big day for the Pi Beta Phis in Southern California as a Garden Festival at the Crippled Childrens Center was a success. All the girls of California Γ and Δ knitted articles for a booth as well as selling raffle tickets. Everyone had a good time and furthered our philanthropic work.

The recognition assembly brought good news to California Γ as usual with the election of Kay Didricksen and Barbara Potter as new Amazons, which is the all-university service honorary for women, and Mortar Board tapped Madeline Hale as one of its number. Barbara Potter was selected as a new member of Key and Scroll, national junior honorary, as well as president of the organization. Barbara also holds an office on the A.W.S. cabinet. Spurs, the sophomore honorary, chose three new members from our group. They are Pat Haskell, Pat Rutherford, and Dorothy Walker. Kay Didricksen was placed on the Y.W.C.A. council and Pat Haskell was elected secretary of freshman orientation. Jean Roesch is a member of the Red Cross director cabinet. Barbara Butterfield a very talented member of California Γ won honor by being in the semi-finals among 1400 aspirants in the Atwater Kent Contest. Barbara Thompson was chosen as women's chairman of the university homecoming activities, and on the senior class council and social committee along with Marilyn Holly. The social life of the chapter has started off for the fall semester with many good times. Lunches with the  $\Delta \Gamma \Delta$ 's and the  $\Pi \kappa \Lambda$ 's both proved most successful. The  $\kappa \Lambda$ 's and the  $\Pi \Phi$ 's had a barbecue party at Mary Lou Harris' house and fun was had by all. Of course initiation proved to be a day to long remember. The initiation banquet and the party following at Jean Callahan's were both outstanding affairs. The month of November was just as full of good times and the Golden Arrow dinner dance at the Bel Air Bay Club November 7 with California  $\Delta$  again proved to be the dance of the year.

The University of Southern California has a new president this year, Dr. Fred D. Fagg, Jr., formerly of Northwestern University. The Professional Panhellenic has established its program on the campus and is in full operating power this semester.  $\kappa \kappa \Gamma$  has a chapter house on the row now, and is settled, after having to be separated for a semester without a house.

Panhellenic rules were changed quite a bit this year, but it was for the best and the chapter is very proud of the new pledge class.

PLEGGED: Marjorie Lesnett, Janet Palmer, Bingo Piver, Los Angeles; Paddy Eubanks, Ruth Prentis, Maren Jorgenson, Pasadena; Maxine Ewart, Long Beach; Martha Strout, Burbank; and Pat Nickolsen, Ventura.

Pledge Day, September 20, 1947

INITIATED, October 24, 1947: Joyce Felson, Mary Ellen Hunter, Barbara Speer, Los Angeles; Beverly Lake, Hollywood; Janice Moody, Hawaii; Jean Peterson, W. Yellowstone, Mont.; Patricia Seay, Beverly Hills.

California  $\Delta$  started the fall semester with one of the most important rushing seasons that this campus has seen for many a year. The chapter was pleased to have nineteen girls pledge Pi Beta Phi. Pledging and presents were held September 20.

Initiation was held October 24, when seven girls became active members of Pi Beta Phi. The ceremony was followed by a banquet for the new initiates and then a dance at the home of Barbara VanDeGrift.

One of the most important events of the year occurred November 1, which was the Homecoming Game followed by a dance at one of the large hotels. Homecoming this year was in honor of the University of California and October 31, the festivities began with a rally in the campus' Greek Theater. Here the different women's and men's fraternities displayed their floats and competed for the Grand Prize. Everyone in the chapter entered into the excitement and did his part so that the Pi Beta Phi float was very successful.

The traditional Golden Arrow Dinner Dance, given jointly with the  $\Gamma$  chapter, was held November 7. This year California  $\Gamma$  gave the dance for California  $\Delta$ ; next year this situation will be reversed. The dance was held at the beautiful Bel Air Bay Club overlooking the blue Pacific.

Exchanges with many of the men's fraternities continued the social activities. One of the most successful ones was the B exchange at which the chapter went to the ranch home of Carolyn and Jacqueline Yarbrough. Here an "unforgettable" afternoon was spent swimming, playing badminton, and topping it all off with a large Bar-B-Que dinner. The Christmas Season was opened December 7 for the U.C.L.A. Bruins by an Open House held at the Pi Beta Phi house. The festivity was given jointly with the  $\Delta \theta \Pi$  chapter.

California  $\Delta$  started the season off in an admirable way and will continue these activities throughout the remaining months.

PLEGGED: Barbara Bacon, Doris Chase, Pat Frick, Margaret Heyler, Carol Morrissey, Ruth Agnes Murray, Jacque Phillips, Betty Jane Winslow, Los Angeles; Smiley Cook, Pasadena; Mary Ann Dudley, Santa Monica; Virginia Noelle Gregory, North Hollywood; Joan Emilie Little, Whittier; Marilyn Manville, Fresno; Nancy Anne Noble, Locketa; Colette O'Keefe, Carlyn Smart, Beverly Hills; Johann Marie Wertz, La Crescenta; Joan Wight, San Diego.
