Panhellenic

By the time this Winter issue is in readers' hands, National Panhellenic Conference will have held its biennial meeting at White Sulphur Springs. Many things of great importance and mutual interest in the world of the Greek letter organizations will have been discussed, and from those discussions will come recommendations. Much fine action has come in the past and will come in the future from these meetings, as well as from the concurrent meetings of the Editors and the Executive secretaries.

Aside from its advisory value, perhaps the greatest benefit to come from NPC is its opportunity for full and open discussion between groups and individuals, leading to the formation of lasting friendships among delegates and visitors. No longer will another fraternity be a mere Greek letter name—instead it is a continuing association of the name with the members present, which has gone a long way toward bringing about stronger panhellenic feeling country-wide. All fraternities owe a great debt to NPC, and to their own faithful and brilliant delegates.

We have still a long way to go on the road to perfect understanding and cooperation among organizations—truly a fine goal. But we are working towards it, and that the individual fraternities recognize this is attested by the large attendance of Council members in addition to the regular delegates. Here is a chance to know other officers and to learn cooperation with them in a real, practical way.

Watch for the story of the meeting in the Spring issue.

Of Honor Girls

Again we must postpone publishing the pictures of members of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and similar organizations until the spring issue. Perforce also, we could not use pictures of our national scholarship winners for this year, but a listing of their names was printed in the Fall issue, in the report of the Grand president.

New Clubs

The Alumnae Department announces three new clubs: Bellevue, Wash.; Milton Township, Ill. (this club is an offshoot of the DuPage Club); and Sherman, Texas, to be called the Grayson Club, from the county in which it exists. Several others are in process of formation.

Convention

California Pi Phis are hoping to make the Convention next June the greatest ever, not only in numbers present, but in its general interest and entertainment as well. In this number we give you some tantalizing glimpses of the beauty of the Huntington-Sheraton. We wish the cover picture could be in its lovely color, with the wistaria in full bloom!

Come by train (there will be a special train over the Union Pacific), by plane, or by car—but COME! A real California welcome awaits you.

Odile Taylor Alfonso

THESE GORGEOUS CHANDELIERS in the dining room at the Huntington-Sheraton are from designs created for Ludwig, the mad king of Bavaria—in fact they were made in the same workshops.

The Setting

Situated in a restful and stately atmosphere, the Huntington-Sheraton lies on twenty-nine acres of park-like grounds. Yet, it is only 15 minutes from downtown Los Angeles' shopping center, City Hall, industrial center, Wall Street, and night life.

Hospitality that has made the Huntington-Sheraton famous for over 40 years still reigns in its dignified and lovely atmosphere. Its spacious lobby is the setting for informal get-togethers, teas, bridges, and other social functions. An enchanting view of the gardens and the lights of San Gabriel Valley may be enjoyed from the lobby-length row of huge windows. The swimming pool, nestled among greenery on the hotel grounds, is often the setting for weddings, water sports exhibitions, fashion shows, dancing, luncheons or dinners.

Of particular interest to convention groups is the delightful air-conditioned Ballroom, which is the principal meeting place for lectures, receptions, dinner parties, motion pictures, and dinner-dances.

The ballroom is equipped with a large stage, orchestra section, footlights, floodlights, spotlight, color wheel, and a standard (35mm) motion picture booth and screen. It is also available for exhibits.

THE TERRACE GARDEN POOL at the Huntington-Sheraton is delightful for "free time" relaxation.

Pi Beta Phi Celebrates in 1956!

THE DATE: June 24-30, 1956

THE PLACE: The Huntington-Sheraton, Pasadena, California

THE OCCASION: The 40th Biennial Convention of Pi Beta Phi

Pi Province extends to all Pi Phis a sincere and hearty welcome to the 1956 Convention. As you know, this is the third time it has been held in Pasadena and we are very proud of this honor. Your Convention Committee and the enthusiastic alumnae and actives want to make this 40th Biennial Convention an outstanding one for you. The Huntington-Sheraton has a strong bond with the Pi Phis, as ours was the first women's fraternity to hold a convention in the hotel, the first to hold a second and, now, the first to hold a third. We look forward to renewing friendships with those who were here in 1929 and 1940 and making friends with the many who will come for the first time.

Sarah Pauline Wild Gordon was initiated into Wisconsin Alpha March 10, 1923. After visiting Southern California in 1928 she decided to make Los Angeles her home. For many years she was buyer of children's books and educational toys at Bullock's Wilshire. Since her marriage to Wilmot G. Gordon she has lived in Pasadena. While in Los Angeles she was active in the Business and Professional Group of the Alumnae Club and since moving to Pasadena she has been chairman of various committees in the Pasadena Alumnae Club. For the past two years she has been on the Advisory Board of the California Gamma Chapter at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

"I Am Thy Brother"

By The Very Reverend J. Milton Richardson, President of Alpha Tau Omega, Dean of Christ Church, Houston, Texas

[Dean Richardson was the principal speaker at the luncheon sponsored by the National Interfraternity Conference in honor of undergraduate members. He was introduced by Stewart D. Daniels, Executive Secretary of Alpha Tau Omega. His address, in part, follows.]

→ DOWN THE corridor of the centuries the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" has reverberated over and over again; in the answer to that question is the real meaning of fraternity.

The idea of fraternity originated out of the needs of life, the desire for companionship and friendship, and the fulfillment of the need that all men feel for a rich and rewarding group experience.

The idea of fraternity was originated by those who desired to sweeten, enlarge, and dignify life. Without friendship, without laughter, without true brotherhood, the carbon monoxide of vanity very quickly develops.

The sense of brotherhood in every fraternity represented here is symbolized by a badge and is sanctified by a pledge. It is important to remember in the National Interfraternity Conference that the things which are alike in our fraternities are far greater than those that are different. Every one of them has ideals of the highest type. In the shaping of character in the formative and determinative years of college the fraternity is a great potential.

It is important for us to remember that the fraternity is not a grip, a badge, an emblem, or primarily a house. The true meaning of fraternity is something that is intangible, something that is real and precious. It is good for us to pause and recall the ideals and the spiritual qualities that they embody. Fraternities are seeking as their ideal to love truth and use it for the benefit of young men.

The object of fraternity is certainly to contribute to the education of its members through its moral influence, its social advantages, its spiritual tone, and its cultural development.

In the formative years of college life the fraternity offers a wonderful set of techniques for civilizing men through a pattern of values. A fraternity is essentially a venture in group living. It is an experiment and an experience in mutuality, in mutual problems, in mutual ideals, and in mutual hopes. It is an organism for enriching the human spirit. It is a venture in self-discovery, in self-development, and in self-management. It is fundamentally a device for enriching the human spirit.

There is another thing that is very valuable in fraternity, that is the vows taken at initiation. It was a very common thing in biblical times for man to take a vow. I think perhaps it is a weakness of our modern life that so seldom is a man called upon to take a really serious and solemn vow. Yet it is in the making and the keeping of vows that there is focused a central problem of a man's life.

The fraternity is a fruitful place to learn about each other and to learn how to get along with each other. I am quite sure that I learned more about how to manage Episcopal vestries while serving as president of the University of Georgia chapter of A T Ω than I ever did in any other way. There is something about that experience that contributes to our education and to our growing and developing maturity that nothing else can substitute for.

I think also that a fraternity offers us a chance to get a right sense of values in formative years; certainly the world is agog today from a wrong sense of values. If we have the right sense of values, we are not fooled by noise and fads and fashions and unrealities. The test of the educated man is whether he can tell the difference between the big and the little, between the relevant and irrelevant, between the things that count and the things that do not matter.

A person can never really go through a fraternity initiation with its solemnity and with the high ideals and lessons that it portrays without realizing that there are such things as excellence and goodness and greatness and feel concerned about them.

IN PURSUIT OF Life, Liberty and Happiness

From the NPC Citizenship Committee (Mrs. Joseph D. Grigsby, Mrs. Robert S. Wild and Mrs. Fritz J. Groeneveld)

→ A NEW WAY of life for over a hundred aliens from thirty countries, most of them with tragic stories behind them of escape from persecution in other lands, all turning their eyes toward America with hope and courage, makes a naturalization ceremony, when these aliens become citizens, an inspiring and impressive sight.

When the U. S. Marine Corps Color Guard preceding a black robed Judge enter a Courtroom to receive the petitions and to administer the Oath of Allegiance there is a noticeable hush of solemnity.

Such ceremonies take place in many cities in the U. S. A. but in only a few do patriotic and civic organizations offer to help the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service to make the occasion a friendly neighborly one.

In Washington, D.C. conceded by most people to be one of the busiest places in the world, there was found a year ago many groups willing and pleased to contribute a citizen welcome to these new Americans after the formalities of the ceremonies. On August 9, the present and past members of the National Panhellenic Conference Citizenship Committee offered their help. They were assisted by the City Panhellenic with delegates from 26 national sororities who comprise the Washington, D.C. Panhellenic. Also in attendance were representatives of the D.A.R., the Women's Bar Association and the District Bar Association. Judge Burnita Shelton Mathews, the only woman Judge on the federal bench in the District of Columbia, administered the oath of allegiance in the Ceremonial Court Room of the beautiful new United States District Courthouse in Washington and then she joined the sorority members and their guests in a nearby room where fruit punch and sandwiches were provided by Panhellenic and each new citizen received a friendly handshake and congratulations on his new status.

Commissioner Herbert W. Reichelt of Prince Georges County, Maryland, speaker at the ceremony told the new citizens: "History shows that the progress of America has been built by men and women, and their descendants, who came from other countries, as you did, to establish a home. Today it is your privilege to become a citizen of our United States, but with this privilege goes a responsibility of citizenship incumbent upon each and every one. You must be loyal to your adopted country, obey the laws of the land, and be ready to defend it against all enemies."

Among the many interesting individuals and families was one family consisting of four members, a Father, Mother and their 19 year old twin son and daughter who are now students at George Washington University. They came from Latvia and reached the United States through the underground after spending four years in a German displaced persons' camp. Another family of three was Chinese forced to flee with their small daughter. Another was a German born woman who was just completing her residency as an intern at the Doctor's and Garfield Hos-

YOU ARE AN AMERICAN and the Citizenship Committee of the National Panhellenic Conference helps explain what it means to some of the children of the hundred and six aliens naturalized at the U. S. District Courthouse in Washington, D.C. last summer. Reading from left to right, Mrs. Joseph D. Grigsby, Δ Δ Δ, Chairman; Sylvia Stark age 7 born in Germany; Colonel H. H. Rice of the Sertona Club, a civic group which presents each new citizen with a copy of the Declaration of Independence; Mrs. Robert S. Wild, Pi Beta Phi member of the N.P.C. Citizenship Committee and seated on her lap, Canadian born Rickey White 4 year old adopted son of Colonel and Mrs. Robert White of Bolling Air Force Base; Mrs. Fritz J. Groeneveld, T Φ B; Mr. Eugene F. Lane, representing the ceremonial committee of the District Bar Association and Commissioner Herbert W. pitals. There were a dozen young children one of the most appealing being four year old Rickey White, Canadian born adopted son of an attractive Air Force Colonel and his wife. To see Rickey salute the flag was a high light of the ceremonies.

Participating in a naturalization ceremony and becoming acquainted with those who take the Oath of Allegiance to our country dramatized for the sorority members the basic concepts of good citizenship they try to exemplify in campus and community life.

Fraternity and sorority members have a little explored avenue of community service in many cities in the U. S. A. in connection with these naturalization ceremonies held there. Why not volunteer assistance to the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Services and the local Bar Associations as did the N. P. C. Citizenship Committee in Washington D.C.?

News FROM LITTLE PIGEON

Edited by Louise Wheelock Dobler, Washington Beta

→ ON DECEMBER 1, Marjorie Chalmers celebrates 20 years as the nurse in charge of health education and service at the Jennie Nicol Memorial Center in Gatlinburg. 1955 also marks the 35th year of Pi Phi's health program in the community. In the accompanying article Marjorie tells, in her inimitable way, some of the experiences and impressions of her work in the Smokies where she has made 21,798 field visits and has had 49,267 office calls.

"They've been the stay of Izoria these many years." There had been a tea at Staff House honoring Grand Council, the Settlement School Committee, and the Province Officers. Izora and her granddaughter, Patsy, were leaving after visiting about two hours. She had been especially invited, for Izora has been one of Arrowcraft's faithful weavers for nearly thirty years, and knew many of the "Pi Phi ladies" who were there.

Pi Phi HAS been the "stay" of a great many

Mrs. Marjorie Chalmers, R.N. in charge of the Jennie Nicol Health Center

Gatlinburg folk "these many years." The increase in family income has helped to pay for homes and farms, and helped to educate the children. It has provided for an electric stove, a washer, or a cow. It has helped to pay the grocer, the doctor, or the dentist. It has bought needed glasses. It has paid for more than one permanent—one of woman-kind's greatest morale-builders; and when a woman lives in a little home on a rocky farm doing things the hard way, she is surely entitled to all the morale she can build.

For thirty-five years, Gatlinburg and its surrounding area has had health service provided by the Fraternity. And as proof that that service has been used and appreciated, there are records showing that our families continue to come—children and grandchildren of those for whom the first records were made.

We have learned much of family characteristics. We watch for tendencies to certain diseases. We know those who are subject to congenital cataract and those who have had contact with tuberculosis. We know those who are having a run of hard luck, and those who are consistently "do-less."

The stranger in our town might wonder, as he drives along the wide road that leads to the park, "Why should this busy little resort town have a health center? Why not depend on the service that is given by the Department of Public Health?"

That, of course, is a good question. The explanation would make it very clear that that service would leave much to be desired. Sevier County is large, and, in some places, quite rough. We have no public health doctor, and the county nurse has more than she can possibly do. She has about seventy schools in her charge. She inspects when she can—at least once or twice a year. She gives no physical examinations, and goes to each school but once for inoculation clinics. She does all the visitation for crippled children and tubercular patients. She does blood counts and gives preventive inoculations in the office twice a week.

In contrast, Pi Beta Phi Health Service is in intimate touch with the community. Our "well-babes" are our pride and joy. Our school children are as familiar with our care as were their parents and grand-parents. The Health Center has been "the stay" in sickness and uncertainty, as well as in matters of health and hygiene.

Now there are two doctors and a dentist in Gatlinburg who have helped us carry the health load for the last ten years. But there are times when we give something that cannot be received elsewhere. There are families that have difficulty in providing the absolute necessities of plain living, so there is nothing left for medical service. In a city, taxes or community chest may provide visiting nurse service. Here, we depend on Pi Beta Phi.

With first-aid we ward off many a serious infection. By early treatment we sometimes prevent a real illness. We can take to the doctor children who rebel at going without us. Through our various clinics we have introduced the doctor as an interesting and interested friend, and cooperation between him and the families is greater.

The Health Center is as much a part of daily life as the school or store. Folks come for service or a visit as readily as they go to the shoe-man for repairs. Children are not necessarily brought to us; they come of their own accord. Charlene and Anna Mae always come in on their way to grandmother's house. Mary, aged five, when sent to the store asks, "Don't I need a shot?" Ricky begs his father to bring his out-grown toys so that other little boys may have them to play with, when they go to see "Miss Charmer."

Mike came into the office the other morning. His arm was scraped and bleeding from armpit to wrist. As I worked I asked questions. "Wreck, Mike?" "Nope." "Did you fall out of a tree again?" "Yep, clear from the top. Like-ta broke m' neck." "What did your mother say?" A surprised look flashed over the thin, freckled face, "Why, Lord ha' mercy, Marnie, I didn't go home. I came straight here."

The "least-un" fell in the creek and cut her knee. Big brother fetched her out and carried her to "th' nurse." Middle-sized brother scuttled to the house to tell Mom. Mom called the office for particulars, and "should she come for the young-uns, or would

I bring them home?" There were a few visits for clean dressings and the wound healed without infection.

You can't get that type of service through public health, for it is just not permitted. You don't get physical examinations in the schools every year. You don't have health instruction with picture shows, nor classes for adults in first aid and home nursing.

Participation in civic affairs seems important to our job. We believe most firmly that it is our duty to cooperate in anything and everything that will make living safer and more healthful, for the community as well as for the individual.

We are very near to one of the nation's critical target areas. Knoxville, Alcoa, Oak Ridge and several TVA dams are less than fifty air miles away. Gatlinburg has been designated by the state coordinators as an evacuation center. The tourist facilities make it possible to house and feed large numbers of persons.

With the Health center designated as a Command Post for the area, we have a great deal of planning to do. That planning has given us a membership on the State Advisory Committee for Women for Civil Defense, making it necessary for us to attend workshops about twice a year.

The County Medical Association meets at the Health Center about once a month. We sit in on the discussion of new drugs and treatments. We have movies on special surgical and medical procedures, as well as tape recordings of interesting lectures. We are a part of the professional life of the county, and can serve better because of it.

There is much to do. We are forever busy. But the people of the community are being served as they have been from the long-ago beginnings. And the work of Phi Beta Phi moves forward according to the changing needs. It is, as it has always been, "the stay" of many folk "these many years."

MAINE ALPHA CHAPTER OF PI BETA PHI

Celebrates Its Thirty-Fifth

→ MAINE ALPHA Chapter of Pi Beta Phi celebrated on Saturday its founding thirty-five years ago on the campus of the University of Maine. From a local group known as Beta Phi, twenty-five girls became initiated into the National fraternity on May 25, 1920. Of this group two charter members, Mrs. Ardis Lancey Moore, Pittsfield, and Mrs. Madeline Eastman Cousins, Oldtown, were present for the festivities on the Maine campus. Honored guests of the chapter for the occasion were Mrs. Gladys Watkins Westcott, Amherst, Mass., and Mrs. Clara Parks Haggeman, West Hartford, Conn., Province President and Province Vice-President of Alpha Province East and Mrs. Hazel Sawyer Everett, South Portland, Past-President of Alpha Province East and an active alumnae member of Maine Alpha for many years.

Registration opened the events of the day followed by a Coffee at the Women's Lounge of the Union Building. A Welcome Meeting was conducted by Barbara Ilvonen, acting chapter president, at which the activities of the present year for Maine Alpha were reviewed for Alumnae members. Slides of the Pi Beta Phi Convention held in Miami last summer were shown by Barbara Knox, past president of active chapter and chapter delegate.

Chapter exhibits, historical data, photographs, and memoranda were on display during the day in the Bumps Room. A display of beautiful hand-woven articles from the Arrowcraft Shop of the Settlement School in the Smokey Mountains, the national philanthropic project of the Fraternity, was also seen here. A luncheon was served at noon in Estabrook Hall, for all members of the active chapter and returning alumnae.

In the afternoon a history of Maine Alpha was presented by the active chapter and alumnae in the Main Lounge of the Union Building. Under the direction of Barbara Willey, introductions of the yearly periods were made by Joan Williams and Joan Hanson. A style show and appropriate songs were used to bring back memories of the years.

Following this meeting a tea was held in the Women's Lounge honoring the occasion. In the receiving line were Miss Barbara Ilvonen, active chapter president; Mrs. Gladys Watkins Westcott, president of Alpha Province East; Mrs. Clara Parks Haggeman, vice president of Alpha Province East; Mrs. Hazel Sawyer Everett, banquet speaker and past-president of Alpha Province East; and Mrs. Helen Buzzell, retiring president of Eastern Maine Alumnae Club.

In the evening a banquet honoring the Founders, the new initiates, and the thirty-fifth birthday of Maine Alpha was held at Estabrook Hall.

Miss Molly Inman was the recipient of the Pledge Cup presented to the new initiate who has made the greatest contribution to the chapter and the college during her pledge period. Mrs. Emma Thompson Ledger presented the president of the active chapter a silver plate commemorating the 35th anniversary of the founding of Maine Alpha given by the Portland Alumnae Club. Mrs. Hazel Everett presented the Sophomore Award of Alpha Province East to Miss Frances Roderick on behalf of the Portland Alumnae Club. This award is made annually to the most outstanding active chapter member of the sophomore class in seven chapters comprising this province and representing New England and Canada. Greetings were read from many Pi Phis including those from Miss Amy Burnham Onken, Chapin, Ill., who for many years was the national president of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, and two charter members, Mrs. Elva Gilman Boynton, New Jersey, and Mrs. Minerva French Anderson of Rumford. An entertainment was given by the new initiates of the chapter depicting the founding of the fraternity and its expansion throughout the years. The Pi Beta Phi Anthem was sung by a choral group made up of these new members. Lighted arrow cakes, one bearing twelve candles for the Founders and the other bearing thirty-five candles for the birthday of Maine Alpha were greeted with appropriate songs and served to all. The occasion closed with the ninety-one members joining in singing the Loving Cup Song.

Honor Students—1954-1955

→ ONE of the most welcome duties of the Chairman of the Committee on Scholarship is that of reporting annually to the fraternity the names of the Pi Beta Phi students who have won the highest scholastic honors awarded by their colleges or universities. The committee regrets that it is impossible to include the names of the hundreds of Pi Beta Phis elected to departmental, professional, and class honoraries. Only the general honor societies are recognized here which meet or approximate the high standards of Phi Beta Kappa or Phi Kappa Phi.

Four chapters share the distinction of reporting the largest number of elections to these honor societies. Illinois Zeta had five members chosen by Phi Beta Kappa, with four of these also elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Oregon Beta had six elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Ohio Zeta reported five names on the lists of similar honor societies, and three on the Phi Kappa Phi list. Wisconsin Alpha had four Phi Kappa Phis and one Phi Beta Kappa.

Other chapters with more than two of these honors are: Maine Alpha, 4; Indiana Beta, 3; Indiana Delta, 4; North Carolina, 3; Illinois Eta, 4; Iowa Gamma, 4; Kansas Beta, 3; Texas Gamma, 3; and Wyoming Alpha, 3.

The following chapters had more than two graduation honors: Vermont Alpha, 3; Ohio Alpha, 3; Ontario Beta, 3; Indiana Delta, 4; Indiana Epsilon, 3; Illinois Zeta, 5; Wisconsin Beta, 3; and Kansas Alpha, 5.

Paula Wolford, Kentucky A, was winner of the Memphis Sophomore Award. Her average point standing is 2.3333, which is over a B average. Paula's special talent is athletics and she has done much to serve Pi Phi in her Pledge Class with a 3,000 standing for her first semester at U. of L. Paula has served as Program Chairman for Pi Phi and is at present Social and Publicity Chairman and Recording Secretary. She was also in charge of House Decorations for Homecoming this past fall.

Paula has been very active on campus during her three semesters at U. of L. She was awarded the Mortar Board Outstanding Freshman Award, which is the highest honor a freshman can receive. At present Paula is serving on the University Student Council and in charge of Leadership Camp.

She was in the Homecoming Queen's Court, which consists of four girls chosen by the football team on the basis of personality, poise, and looks, and was chosen this fall by the student body to be one of its cheerleaders.

Despite all her activities on campus, Paula has found time to help in the community with the Polio and Heart Fund Drives. She is also a Sunday School teacher at Douglass Boulevard Christian Church.

Paula is truly an all-around girl who has given much to her college and her sorority.

The Valley of the Moon Alumnae Club of Santa Rosa, California is very proud to have as a member, Mrs. Paul B. Kelly, nee Lucile McKay, Washington B.

Mrs. Kelly worked with her husband in the lumber business as a partner since 1920.

To get to some 8,000 acres of virgin timber southwest of Cloverdale, California, some forty odd miles of road had to be built. This project was their dream but four months after the road was started, Mr. Kelly suddenly died at the age of sixty six. Undaunted by his sudden death, Lucile, then president of the company, went on bravely and finished this stupendous task.

On August 7, 1955, after a benediction by Bishop Lane Barton of eastern Oregon, The Honorable Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior, dedicated the Kelly Road. Some one thousand invitations were sent out for the ceremonies and the public was invited. Refreshments were served in a shady redwood grove at the end of the road.

Mrs. Kelly now lives in Santa Rosa and drives

The University of Kentucky's 1955 Sullivan Medallion—presented annually to the Commonwealth's "outstanding citizen of the year," was awarded to Emma J. Woerner, Ontario Alpha, retiring principal of the J. M. Atherton High School, Louisville.

Announcement of Miss Woerner's selection as recipient of the citizen award was made at the university's 88th annual commencement in Memorial Coliseum.

The Sullivan awards, made each year to a citizen and two graduates of the State university in 15 Southern states, were established in 1925 by the New York Southern Society in memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, noted New York attorney of the post-Civil War period.

The U. K. citation praised Miss Woerner as a "dedicated educator, on call as counselor, teacher, friend, and arbiter. Her service has attracted attention not only on a state-wide level, but on a national level as well."

Speaking on "Privilege and Responsibility" at Rutgers' Greek Week, W. Hubert Beal, President of Δ K E said:

The fraternity also bestows the gift of responsibility upon its alumni. To the older, wiser, more experienced, you entrust the care and guidance and upkeep of your particular lodge. Your fraternity's members would not be here today if thousands of older brothers over the decades had not felt that obligation . . . answered their debt to the fraternity with service and unceasing interest. That is true of every chapter on every campus. Yet, have you not noticed that the health and strength of a chapter is almost in direct ratio to its alumni support? That is why we can never interest too many alumni in taking a long post-graduate course in responsibility to the fraternity. It should be easy to do because: it isn't work, it's fun as well! There is immense gratification for an alumnus, young or old, in continuing to help in the job of building young men which is our business. There is always need for someone to take up where another has left off, and I would hope that all of you men here today will follow your fraternity wherever you go.

The fraternity gives the gift of great privileges to its undergraduates.

The pledge becomes a member of a closely knit fraternal family . . . a home away from home . . . one that he has selected and whose members have selected him. He is given the opportunity to adjust himself more quickly and smoothly to the new life of college, and to learn good habits through inti-

The Dallas Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi honored Dora Beggs Foster, Missouri Γ, executive director of the Freeman Memorial Clinic at its own "Distinguished Pi Phi" Wednesday evening at the Dallas Country Club.

A jeweled arrow was presented to Mrs. Foster by Mrs. S. W. Marshall Jr., incoming alumnae president. Mrs. Marshall succeeds Mrs. Jerry Bywaters.

The presentation to Mrs. Foster marks the first time that Dallas alumnae have selected a person for the honor.

In 1925 she became secretary of Freeman Memorial Clinic and three years later, she was made executive director, which position she continues to hold.

Mrs. Foster was instrumental in organizing the first state hospital auxiliary which led to the national organization of women's auxiliaries. She founded the Women's Auxiliary of Freeman Memorial Clinic and from this grew the Presidents' Council, composed of presidents of hospital auxiliaries in the city.

mate, next-door acquaintance with older and wiser boys. The fraternity provides for every undergraduate the good times and pleasure which will be among his brighter memories. It teaches experience and responsibility in the management of a large institution—the fraternity house. It sets up codes of cooperation, honesty and justice, morality and other elements of building character. The fraternity is a great equalizer: a balance wheel. Its comradeship picks you up when you are down, and cuts you down to size when that hat begins to be a little too small to wear. The fraternity's final gift—its greatest privilege—lies in the lasting friendships which are already experienced by everyone of you here in this room.

The fraternity also gives the equally great gift of responsibility to its active members. Too few men, I believe, at the time they join a fraternity thoroughly recognize the importance of such a step. The first responsibility is to scholarship. I need not point out that getting an education is the one and only reason why you fellows are here at no small expense to your parents—a fact that is patently and sometimes painfully clear to you who are working your way through. It would seem that the factors of fraternity living should—by all common sense—contribute to good scholarship. Fraternity men are sequestered, to a great degree . . . enjoy opportunities for privacy and the climate for study. We learn to cooperate and help each other within the brotherhood.

Creed Must Be Lived

In youth people are easily impressed and are usually idealistic. Here is the sorority's opportunity to inculcate its spiritual basis and ideals. Lip service, however beautifully expressed, is not enough. The philosophy embodied in the creed must be lived. The unhappiest girls I have ever seen in college were not those who were not chosen by a sorority but those chosen who found that some sorority members in their group were only "professors and not doers of the word."

There is a strong feeling in many educational circles that our greatest need today is the realization of our spiritual weaknesses and the need of definite religious training in strengthening our spiritual life. What an opportunity for the sororities! Careful study of all of our ritualistic literature will lead us back not only to the culture of Greece but also the ethics of the Bible. What finer sorority education program could one have than a study of the Biblical sources and references in its rituals. Perhaps such a study might lead to a better understanding of the moral and religious values, individual and on the campus, and the resultant strengthening of these values.

Fraternity rituals emphasize the idealistic, the altruistic, the spiritual. Even though at times we fail to exemplify them completely in our lives, shall we throw them overboard? Have not all of us felt their power in developing our characters?

Today let us sorority women accept the challenge to develop leaders and choose other members who are not only socially acceptable, but moral leaders who humbly and courageously are morally responsible not only for themselves but for those in the bond of sisterhood.

May we realize the debt we owe our sorority for the insight it has given us into our problems and the way to solve them.—MARY B. MERRITT, Dean of Women, Univ. of Miami from Themis of Z T A.

ALPHA PROVINCE

MAINE ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF MAINE. Chartered, 1920. INITIATED, April 17, 1955: Betty Buzzell, Old Town; Julia Dinsmore, Machias; Virginia Freeman, Kennebunk; Marilyn Graffam, Brewer; Mary Anne Holt, Corinna; Molly Inman, Houlton; Winona Moreshead, Gardiner; Caroline Nason, Ann Rubin, Auburn; Deborah Plummer, Malden, Mass.; Jane Quimby, Farmington; Sally Rand, Kathleen Vickery, Bangor; Cynthia Rockwell, Medford, Mass.; Betsy Sleight, Eastport; Dale Starbird, Winterport; Roberta Wyr, Westbrook.

Everything is in full swing again here on the University of Maine campus with one of the largest freshman classes in several years.

The new men's dormitory was the topic of much conversation for the first few weeks. A new women's dormitory is in the process of being constructed, and it will be ready for the fall semester of 1956.

We were very fortunate to have Carlos Romulo as our first speaker of the University Lecture Series.

At the Leadership Conference many Maine A's attended as participants and leaders of discussion groups.

The chapter held a Scotch Auction in October. The proceeds went to the Pi Beta Phi Music Fund at the Augusta State Mental Hospital.

Again Pi Beta Phi was on top in scholarship at the University of Maine with a Dean's List average. Several girls had all A's.

Maine A was the recipient of the Vera Moss Bowl for the most chapter improvement.

JANE WISEMAN

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, Chartered, 1893. INITIATED, May 12, 1955: Dorothy Bigelow, Natick, Mass.; Helen Dickey, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Jane Gordon, Danvers, Mass.; Ann Grafton, Louisville, Ky.; Penelope Groll, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Nancy Gurney, Burlington, Vt.; Helen Johnson, Glen Ridge, N.J.; Eleanor Josephson, Plainville, Conn.; Leigh Kaltreider, Baltimore, Md.; Joanne Legler, Larchmont, N.Y.; Margaret McCoy, Pompano Beach, Fla.; Ann Martin, Portland, Me.; Miriam Packard, Vero Beach, Fla.; Lyndia Smith, South Portland, Me.; Janet Von Wettburg, Wilmington, Del.; Grace Warder, Washington, D.C.

Soon after their initiation the new initiates gave a picnic for the entire chapter. Everyone enjoyed the afternoon and evening of swimming, baseball, and dancing and all declared it to be one of the biggest successes of the entire year.

Second semester of the last school year, Pi Beta Phi ranked second in scholastic standings on campus with an average of 83.50. Lucy Boyd was elected to the 1955-56 Mortar Board and will serve as Secretary.

Now the fall semester of 1955-56 is upon us and one of the big projects ahead of Vermont is a complete redecoration program for the Pi Beta Phi rooms.

Rushing on the University of Vermont campus is being carried on in a different manner than in the past. Formal rushing will take place between the first and second semesters thus enabling the freshman women to know the various fraternity members to a larger degree. It is also hoped that this will encourage higher scholarship.

KAREN MILLER

Standards and Ideals

By Value Timmons Williams, President Beta Province East, A T Δ

What is a standard? "A standard is a rule of obtaining or determining what is good or admirable. It can be a rule, principle or measure and can be used as a gauge, yardstick or touchstone. It is important in our individual groups to decide what standards to use."

There is a line in a poem, "Life's Mirror," by Madeline S. Bridges which says "Then give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you." As individuals and as a group we must constantly remind ourselves that life is a mirror. There are times when we would like to ignore this fact, yet we do know that the lives of those around us reflect exactly what they are—whether they are brave, loyal, and strong. You and I, then, need to be concerned with our personal mirror, to make it reflect that which is of value in the world. We may try to hide our real selves, to cover up the blemishes with a bright, false front. But the mirror reflects that which is there—the good, the bad, the falseness. We need to go one step further than the line from the poem and be sure we have the best to give to the world. This is the responsibility of each of us as individuals. But within the undergraduate chapters of the fraternity it is the particular function of the Standards Committee to instill into the membership ideals which enable them to have the best to give to the world.

The key to our ideals and standards will be ours if the Standards Committee of each undergraduate chapter fulfills the responsibilities entrusted to it, determines desirable standards for the group and sets in motion the tools for achieving them. Alpha Gamma Delta Quarterly.
