Dear Editor ...

A Thank-You

Dear Pi Phi Sisters,

We at Illinois Iota would like to thank everyone who sent us cards, telegrams, congratulatory wishes, flowers, and gifts. Everyone made it an exciting and memorable weekend for us. Thanks again!

More Golden Arrow Twins

The notice in the winter ARROW about living Golden Arrow twins prompts me to write you.

In the fall 1965 issue of The ARROW, the sorority and the editors graciously honored the 5 Golden Arrow Baker sisters of Iowa Beta with a picture and a detailed report of each one's busy, active life over the many years.

Two of those sisters, Florence Baker Bugg and Esther Baker Ferguson, were also twin sisters, with an especial devotion to and love for each other. I, as their sister, take a happy pride and gladness in writing of them to you.

Their homes now, the one in Tennessee, the other in Missouri, are geographically close enough for them to have two yearly visits together.

The elder sister of the five, Mrs. Henry Hart, passed away some five years ago. The remaining four are still able to enjoy the more quiet living the passing years do give us all.

We have all greatly enjoyed the added bond of sisterhood in Pi Beta Phi.

→ We went to our bound copies of The ARROW and thoroughly enjoyed reading again the story of the five delightful Baker sisters. msf

Liked Convention Issue

... This little note comes as my expression of happiness over The ARROW, Volume 90, number 2—an issue that gave me such pleasure and feeling of love for all the Pi Phis I know everywhere. Recollecting the Convention via your layout of photos, reading about all those super people I met in Hot Springs and realizing again what it meant to me to be at that particular Convention brought the greatest satisfaction.

off the Arrow hook

What would you do if you were editor of The ARROW? From time to time we hear grumbles about what is or what isn't in The ARROW . . . we shouldn't picture so many queens or fraternity sweethearts . . . we should have more of such items . . . we should have more news about the "outside" world, not strictly concerning Pi Beta Phi or the Greek system . . . etc., etc., etc. So now we'd really like to give you an opportunity to express your desires concerning what you'd like to see in your magazine. Your criticism is always welcome—we might not like what you say and we may not agree with your premise, but at least it means that The ARROW is being read, and that's half the battle. We can't promise to publish all your letters, because we hope that many of you will respond, but we'll do the best we can. Please be sure to sign your name and chapter as well as your address. Now let's hear it out there from the silent majority as well as the vocal minority!

Periodically we find that we must re-state our policy on publishing pictures or information concerning fraternity auxiliary or "little sister" groups. The National Panhellenic Conference is greatly concerned about the growing influence of undergraduate women's auxiliary groups for men's fraternities, feeling that the activities of such groups are in conflict with National Panhellenic Conference policies. The avowed reason for the organization of fraternity auxiliaries is to promote fraternity philanthropies, help in fund raising projects, and other fraternal programs. Unfortunately such activities often mean that there is little time left to devote to promoting Pi Phi philanthropies, helping with Pi Phi fund raising and other fraternal programs. It is to be hoped that Pi Beta Phi interests would come first, and that if there is a conflict in scheduling, Pi Phi activities would get the nod. Since that is often not the case, we, personally, heartily endorse the NPC stand. Therefore, there will be no fraternity auxiliaries mentioned in The ARROW in the future, as there has been none in the past.

One of the stories in this issue concerns the excitement of Toronto Pi Phis when the second act of the musical, "Good News" opens with the song, "The Girls of Pi Beta Phi." Did you see the article in the April 15 People magazine about the show which is making a nationwide pre-Broadway tour? Right there, big as life, is a picture of Alice Faye, the star of the show, surrounded by "collegians," and on the sofa behind her is a pillow with the Greek letters, Π Β Φ. We think the whole thing is great and we hope to have an opportunity to see the show if it ever comes down Atlanta way.

Speaking of "collegians" gives us a perfect opportunity to air a personal pet peeve, and that is the use of the words "collegian" and "collegiate." The first is a noun, the second an adjective. Therefore, those who are attending college are collegians, and they are involved in collegiate activities. As former or current collegians, we should remember our collegiate training and use the words correctly. Right? Right!

A great idea for keeping in touch during the summer comes from Illinois Eta. Last summer Janie Hedlund served as coordinator, and consolidated messages in the form of a newsletter. According to the chapter, it was fun to hear what everyone was doing, it saved carbon copy letters, and it cut down considerably on the outlay for stamps.

It would be a great help to this editor if everyone would remember that the postmark deadline for next winter's issue is September 6.

Robert Frost said it . . . "In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life: It goes on."

California Eta

Alumnae club presidents at Irvine were Irene Frank Gill, South Coast; Nancy Gauthier Cox, Central Orange County; and Carol Meador West, North Orange County.

Greetings from the University of California, Irvine! I am the youngest link in Pi Phi's chain of friendship, California Eta. My birth was on January 26, 1974, but I was in the thoughts of many long before.

Let me tell you about my hometown, Irvine, Calif. The University lies 4 miles inland from the Pacific Ocean, easily accessible to Newport Beach, Balboa Island, and Laguna Beach. It is one of the largest of the University of California campuses, covering over 1,510 acres. U.C.I. is increasing rapidly, with 8,472 students this year, including 1,030 graduate students and 680 medical students.

Our First Steps

Pi Phi officially arrived in Irvine in the form of Francee Hoeltgen, our resident "angel-in-disguise," otherwise known as a live-in graduate counselor. She served as chapter president, vice president of moral, mental, and social, Panhellenic delegate, pledge trainer, music chairman, not to mention an invaluable encyclopedia of Pi Beta Phi heritage and tradition.

We began our toddling steps in October with formal rush, where we met our "older sisters to be" from San Diego State, U.C.L.A., and U.S.C., as well as other "famous arrows" such as Grand Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Hill; T.G.C.'s Molly Cressor and Ann Stege; our AAC Chairman, Patty Jenness; and our Province President Mrs. Ernestine Ohlson. On October 15, 38 shiny new darts were formally pledged at the Newport Beach home of alum Johanna Jonas. Cal. Eta was on its way! In open rush we gained five new pledges, bringing our number to 43.

Illinois Iota

That long-awaited event finally happened— Illinois Iota colony became Illinois Iota chapter January 18, 19, and 20, at Illinois State University, Normal, Ill. Among the thirty-two initiates were twelve charter members who had been members of Pi Beta Co-op, which became a colony of Pi Beta Phi March 23, 1973. Graduate counselor Anita Swain, Kansas Beta, was very helpful in establishing Illinois Iota as the 110th chapter of Pi Beta Phi.

The festivities began Friday night with a preparatory service in the chapter house. Following the service, the initiates had their first cooky-shine with area alumnæ. Saturday the colony was initiated and installed as a chapter by Grand President Elizabeth Orr and Julie Mendenhall, National Panhellenic Delegate, at the First Unitarian Church in Bloomington.

The Bloomington-Normal Alumnæ Club presented the Illinois Iota chapter at a banquet Saturday night at the Illinois House in Bloomington. Toastmistress for the evening was Julie Williams, alumnæ club president. Remarks were given by Elizabeth Orr, Grand President, and Deborah Lincoln gave the response from the new Pi Phis.

Sunday night an active meeting was conducted by Julie Mendenhall.

Standing: Aline Kinnison Sharp, Mu South Alumnæ Province President; Helen Boucher Dix, NPC Alternate Delegate; Julie Pratt Mendenhall, NPC Delegate; Ruth Belsterling Miller, Mu Province President. Seated: Mary Elizabeth Frushour Hill, Grand Corresponding Secretary, Elizabeth Turner Orr, Grand President; Vernah Stewart Gardner, Grand Recording Secretary.

Bloomington-Normal (Ill.) Alumnæ Club president, Julie Mills Williams; Mary Ann Way Lauder, AAC chairman, and Dorothy Hodges Kennett, House Corporation chairman, for Illinois Eta.

Concluding the weekend was a reception in the 1857 Room at the University Union where approximately three hundred guests were greeted.

Credit for a successful weekend must go to the area alumnæ who worked diligently for the Illinois Iota chapter.

Linda Linman, Barbara Kittler, Dr. Robert Bone, and Cheri Brueggeman. Dr. Bone was president of Illinois State University at the time Pi Beta Co-op was established in 1967.

Our Guardian Angels

For active chapter members, since we had none, willing alumnae volunteered to serve as our "pledge moms." They were the morale boosters we needed, sending us cheery notes, food packages during finals, and all sorts of Pi Phi goodies. Our AAC was enthusiastic, encouraging, and eternally available. They sent us wine and blue angels to watch over us at finals time, served us a tremendous Mexican feast, and helped us learn many, many Pi Phi melodies.

The Big Week

Inspiration Week and our initiation were soon just around the corner! Baby Eta was about to be officially "baptized." Inspiration Week began when soon-to-be-initiates kidnapped Francee and took her to a surprise breakfast. The week had much in store for the pledges, with each ceremony dedicated towards certain Pi Phi thoughts. Whether it be ordering an arrow, or learning the seven precious gifts, or designing a chapter crest, the chapter was pulled closer and closer together. There were celebrations too—Wednesday we had Cal. Eta's first birthday party and exchanged penny gifts. Inspiration week had accomplished its goal.

Friday night was the first of the weekend festivities. Our two honor initiates, Karen Ellis and Susan Reed, were pledged by Mrs. Hill. Then the most heavenly of surprises—a cooky-shine. We were thrilled to share the weekend festivities with many honored guests including: Elizabeth Turner Orr, Grand President; Evelyn Peters Kyle, Grand Vice President Alumnae; Sarah Holmes Hunt, Grand Vice President of Philanthropies; Margaret Walker Horning, Director of AACs; Lucille Johannesen West, Director of Chapter House Corporations; Isabel Cramer, Evelyn Peters Kyle Award Recipient; Adrienne H. Mitchell, Province Coordinator Fraternity Excellence; and many others mentioned throughout this article. We were especially pleased to meet Sarahjane Paulson Vanasse, former Grand President; and California Eta Alumnae Advisory Committee chairman Patty Jones Jenness, Phi Province President Ernestine Garcia Ohlson.

Marianne Reid Wild, Grand President Emeritus, who presented the chapter a spirit award from Arrowmont, called "Uncle Smokey."

Excitement was at a peak, and the "almost initiates" were eagerly awaiting initiation the next morning.

Initiation and Installation— At Last!

The big day started bright and early for the 35 "almost initiates" and the two honor pledges. Many alumnae from the state of California were present, and many guests from other chapters in the province also attended. Each of us was privileged to be initiated by the Grand President; and at the end of the day, the entire chapter was officially installed. We had finally made it, and the youngest Pi Phi chapter was alive and healthy!

Evening festivities were held at the Airporter Inn, where a huge banquet was given in our honor. We received many gifts, many exciting and sentimental letters and telegrams, and a tremendous amount of Pi Phi love as Pi Phi's baby chapter. The evening went entirely too fast with dinner, introductions, songs, gift presentations, the Loving Cup ceremony, speakers, and the two T.G.C.s performing the Candle Lighting Ceremony.

The weekend was over Sunday after a model chapter meeting and a lovely reception for our family and friends. It is impossible to express the deep and sincere gratitude we felt as the weekend came to a reluctant end.

To Grand Council and the many other national officers who have given so much; to the many alumnae clubs and chapters who sent

Recipe For Sisterhood

by SALLY STEITZ, California Eta

A Pi Phi. A Pi Phi, you say. Am I a Pi Phi? Just five months ago I couldn't have pointed out a Pi Phi from a piece of pie! Yet now I can even give you the recipe, filled with ever so many spices and sweets.

My first taste began with a nibble of Pi Phi divinity, served in a sparing portion, so that a mere sampler as myself could savor its richness. It seemed the more I tasted, the more I hungered for that dainty delicacy favored among the angels. As the weeks pressed on, my hunger developed into a refined appetite, to be satisfied only by the finer sweets in life.

I yearned for love, trust, and security. Soon I found that all of these delights were in my very midst hidden beneath the wine and silver-blue. They were all together in Pi Beta Phi, all together in my own piece of pie.

A spice of sincerity, an herb of honesty, fruits of faith, with an outer crust of creativity—such are the ingredients of a Pi Phi sisterhood, following the straight path led by the tail of a golden arrow.

Karen Guice Is Awarded Fellowship

Karen Sue Guice, a graduate of New Mexico State University and a member of one of Pi Beta Phi's newest chapters, New Mexico Beta, has been named recipient of the Pi Beta Phi Fellowship for 1974-75.

Karen has completed ten semester hours in graduate school in chemistry and is now attending medical school at the University of New Mexico. She received her bachelor of science degree with honors from New Mexico State University in January, 1973. She was initiated into Pi Phi in her junior year when the New Mexico Beta chapter was installed, and was elected its first Vice President of Mental Advancement. Positive scholarship innovations, begun during her term of office, are being carried through by the active chapter at this time.

Karen Sue Guice, New Mexico Beta

Following her freshman year at Baylor University, Karen transferred to N.M.S.U. and that year was Grand Worthy Advisor of New Mexico Rainbow for Girls, member of the state executive committee of Rainbow and attended the Grand Assembly in Canada. She was named to the Dean's List during all four college years, and her cumulative GPA was 3.564.

One of the highlights of her junior year occurred when the National Science Foundation awarded Karen a grant for research. She also accepted responsibility in her church by serving as a member of the Presbyterian Campus Ministry Formulation Committee.

"Outstanding and deserving are words attributed to Fellowship caliber Pi Phis, but when these words describe Karen, they should have stars around them!" These are words from one of the letters of recommendation accompanying Karen's Fellowship application.

Another letter says, "She relates well with others and she readily puts one at ease by her happy countenance. She smiles a lot. Because of this collection of attractive features of personality and style, I find her to be an unusually receptive student and a joyful person to be with."

Karen's chapter office continued through the fall semester of her senior year. Along with those duties, she was always willing to participate in the many chapter projects and activities. She was named to Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities, Outstanding Young Women of America, and was chosen New Mexico Maid of Cotton. She continued her participation in Rainbow as a member of the state executive committee and served as vice president and secretary of the Local Operating Committee for Presbyterian Ministry.

Karen's dream came true when she entered medical school last fall—a dream that had its beginnings when she was in junior high school. While in medical school she is a member of the sex education committee and on the Women in Medicine committee.

Celebrate Birthdays

A monthly birthday party is being celebrated by the Pi Phis at West Virginia Alpha. Instead of the usual individual celebrations for different sisters, it was decided to hold one large celebration on the first Sunday of every month to honor all girls whose birthdays fall during the particular month.

Housemother Frances Black is in charge of ordering the cake and setting up the table and punch. It's a good way to get everyone together after the weekend and this way no one living out of the house is ever forgotten.

Traveling Counselors Named For 1974-75

The opportunity to travel throughout the United States and into Canada, visiting chapters, helping with rush, training officers, leading retreats, answering questions, sharing new ideas, explaining "reasons why," and, above all, making hundreds of new friends—these are a few of the many objectives and benefits of Pi Beta Phi's Traveling Graduate Counselors.

Two new graduating seniors have been chosen to tour the provinces for Pi Beta Phi during the year 1974-75. Janis Coates, Maine Alpha, and Carol Wood, Illinois Epsilon, will be living out of suitcases during the next school year. As with those who have held the position before them, they will find the life inviting, exciting, and enlightening.

Jan was graduated from the University of Maine with a bachelor degree in education/science. She was very active in her chapter and on campus, and was chosen for membership in a number of honor societies, including being named All-Maine Woman. As president of the Panhellenic Council, she has worked with many fraternity field secretaries and national officers.

Traveling will not be something new for Jan. In the summer of 1972 she served as an escort for two young girls as they biked for forty days touring the British Isles. She has been a sailing instructor during summers and a skiing instructor in winters.

In explaining her desire to become a counselor, Jan says, "Through my work in Pi Phi, I developed a strong love for the Greek system and for Pi Phi. To this day Pi Phi has given to me its best. By applying for this position I feel pride as a Pi Phi, excitement, and a feeling that I want to give Pi Phi my best. I would like to have the opportunity to share my Greek love and experiences as well as to help others obtain respect, understanding, and fulfillment as a member of our Fraternity."

Carol Wood is a Northwestern University graduate with a bachelor degree in psychology. She too served her chapter in many capacities, including the office of president. As such, she attended the national Convention in Hot Springs last summer. Among her campus activities were Wildcat Council, a student public relations organization, and the Student Advisory Council. In 1972, she participated in the N.U. Summer Language Seminar in the Soviet Union.

Because of her interest and curiosity in Pi Beta Phi, she organized and worked with the chapter archives for three years. "This experience," says Carol, "has given me a great sense of pride in and knowledge of Pi Phi heritage and chapter history." She has visited Gatlinburg also and has found the first hand knowledge of our national philanthropy to be indispensable during her term as president.

"The primary reason for my interest in the position of Traveling Graduate Counselor," said Carol, "is a realization of what Pi Beta Phi has given to me, the potential it holds for others, and my desire to help make the experience of Pi Phi membership as beneficial to as many others as possible."

"Hizzoner" Is Her Honor In Lawrence

In a historic, unanimous vote on April 10, 1973, the city commission elected Nancy Schnell Hambleton, Pennsylvania Gamma, mayor of Lawrence, Kansas—the first woman ever to hold the post. Until that moment, she had been the city's first woman commission, elected to that post in the fall of 1970.

These two firsts are credited to a woman who never even planned to become involved in city government. However, the Citizens Committee for Good Government urged Nancy to run for the commission, based on her work with the League of Women Voters and other civic organizations. The rest is history.

As mayor, Nancy's main duty is presiding over the weekly city commission meetings and setting the direction of the commission's activities. "The job really does require a lot of homework," she says. "The reading is constant, with lots of reports, and then I still have things to do as a wife . . . and homemaker." She spends between 20 and 40 hours a week on her job.

Nancy's husband, William, is director of the Kansas Geological Survey and a KU professor. "He's a very understanding husband who encourages me and keeps up with a rather wild schedule," she says. Son Jeff, 20, is a KU student, and Ann, 22, attended KU for two years. The family has lived in the university city of 45,000 for 28 years.

Nancy is a loyal Pi Phi and recently served as chairman of the alumnae advisory committee for Kansas Alpha. She attended the Hot Springs Convention and returned to share many ideas with her club.

Mrs. Hambleton hopes to encourage more women to become active in city politics and calls them a great resource and one not fully utilized. In a newspaper interview following her election, she said, "Women are just as capable as men and I think it's time they should be encouraged to develop their talents. Women's rights is not the big problem right now. I think at this stage we need to encourage women to participate."

Her job includes many public appearances. She writes her own speeches because "no one else sounds like me."

As the governing body of a university town, the city commission has made an effort to get acquainted with students by inviting members of the Student Senate executive committee for a luncheon meeting and encouraging their suggestions.

"Youngsters have some ideas that are pretty good," says Nancy, "and I think they have the feeling that we're accessible. One thing, though, that they realize after coming to some of our meetings is that there are no simple solutions to all problems."

Unity Is Achieved In Greek Workshop

by LYNSEY OSTER
North Dakota Alpha

The second annual Greek Workshop for the Upper Midwest (GWUM) was held last November at the University of North Dakota. Approximately 100 delegates attended, representing fraternities and sororities from North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Montana, and Manitoba, Canada. The objectives stated for this workshop were to bring together Upper Midwestern Greeks so as to create an atmosphere of true communication and organization; to give each participant the opportunity to share in new ideas for application in his own organization; to stimulate internal unification; and to establish an atmosphere of awareness as to the role of Greeks on college campuses today.

In order to achieve these goals, the workshop was divided into nine small group discussions with time allocations allowing each delegate to attend six of the nine. The topics covered in these small groups were rush, pledge education, community service, alumni affairs, scholarship, chapter housing, campus involvement, Greeks within Greeks, and the advantages of being Greek. Two leaders from UND were assigned to each topic to keep the discussions in motion.

The culmination of the workshop was on Sunday when resolutions were reached and South Dakota State University was chosen as the site of GWUM '74. As the delegates rose to leave, one could scan the room and see that the objectives had been achieved. There were many smiling faces and minds filled with new ideas for their chapters.

Unity had been achieved for the Greeks of the Upper Midwest!

Wyoming Initiate Is Consistent Rodeo Winner

There are few of us in our impending agedness, who can even remember our eighth birthday, much less what we did at that tender age!

Deby Hall, a spring initiate of Wyoming Alpha chapter, has been rodeoing since she was eight and is attending the University of Wyoming on a rodeo scholarship.

Deby hails from Scottsbluff, Nebr. She was very active in rodeo throughout high school and has numerous honors including all-around winner at the Chadron State Little Britches rodeo and all-around winner at the Martin Little Britches for two years. Her specialty events are barrel racing, goat tying, and break-away roping.

Nineteen year-old Deby is a freshman journalism major who still finds time to be active in the house when she isn't on the road winning armloads of first places.

As a member of the U.W. Rodeo Team, Deby has been competing throughout the region since the fall of 1973. Most recently, Deby was the first runner-up to the Powder River Belle, the queen of the Laramie River Rendezvous, the University sponsored rodeo. At this time she is ranked among the top ten break-away ropers in the region.

Yakima Tribe Honors Journalist

by BARBARA ZUMWALT FARNAM

A lot of us know what's wrong with the world, and some of us even know what ought to be done about it. But few of us really do anything. One who actually works at making things better is Mary Dodds Schlick, Iowa Gamma. Daughter of Josephine Hungerford Dodds and sister of Katheryn Dodds Fletcher, both of Iowa Gamma, Mary earned the chapter Amy B. Onken award in 1946. Her life since then has been proof those Iowa Gammas knew what they were doing.

Mary was graduated from Iowa State University in home economics, with a minor in journalism. She married William Schlick, who works for the Bureau of Indian Affairs as superintendent of the Yakima Indian Agency in Washington state. Along the way they had three children. Her activities center around these facts.

She's been an editorial assistant for Women's Home Companion magazine, taught home economics at Iowa State, supervised a consumer action program for the District of Columbia community action agency, and later was director for a nationwide program to upgrade the image of household employees, based in Washington, D.C. While in the Nation's capitol, she also edited a national newsletter for homemaking for the American Home Economics Association.

Mary became involved in cooperative preschools while in Washington, D.C. During her husband's assignment on the Warm Springs reservation in Oregon she was chairman of the organizing committee for the first cooperative preschool on an Indian reservation. That successful kindergarten is now a Head Start school.

She is presently nutrition consultant for Head Start programs in the state of Washington, and was for three years general consultant for the Yakima Follow-Through program. She has designed a five-unit learning package for teaching the concepts of nutrition education to preschool children of the state. Planned Parenthood has just drafted her for its board.

For several years Mary was assistant editor of a weekly community newspaper, but now writes only features, many highlighting Indian concerns. In the December issue of American Indian Crafts and Culture, published in Tulsa, Mary's article on Yakima costumes appeared. She also conducts writing workshops for staffers of the Yakima tribal newspaper.

Through her work with health care, family life and children, and newspaper publicity, Mary and her husband have come to know the Indian people, and have been accepted by them to the extent that they were made members of a Yakima family and given names, Anapashin' Mii and Now Tah Look, at last spring's root feast.

Mary's current project is the American Home Economics Association's Center for the Family, which is headquartered in Washington, D.C. As part of the Center's 18-member advisory council, she is one of five appointed from the American Home Economics Association membership. Among its major objectives is development of informational brochures dealing with current and proposed policies affecting the family. One of its first projects was compilation of a Fact Book on the American Family to be off the presses this summer.

"The exciting thing about the center," says Mary, "is that it's zeroing in on family units—how people live together—and what can be done to help the family nurture healthy, happy human beings."

This is what most of Mary's life has been about, and it pretty much sums up her attitude about her mission in the world. She has found a lot of "exciting" things that can be done to make the world a better place in which to live.

Green Waves Swim To Pi Phi Beat

by DAINA BENNETT
Louisiana Alpha

The Tulane Swim Team sports twenty dashing swimmers and one adorable manager, Louisiana Alpha Pi Phi Debbie Darnell. Debbie has been manager for the Green Wave team and a great morale booster!

On the first impulse, one might think that Debbie's job is full of fun and games, but after talking to her it is realized that the job requires a lot of work and is extremely time consuming. Debbie says that her responsibilities involve much paper work such as writing recruiting letters and keeping records of all of the team timings. Debbie also is in charge of video tape recording the team in their practices and assisting them and informing them of any special problems. The time element comes in when Debbie has to go to the meets as well as to the practices.

Of course, the best is saved for last, as the saying goes. Being manager does have its assets and fun. Debbie is the only girl to eat at the athletic training table. Her various trips included a week in Florida when the team went to the Independent Nationals. When the team is recruiting, Debbie gets to take the recruits "out on the town." Debbie's charm and the city of New Orleans make it hard for a prospective swimmer to pass Tulane up!

This pin, honor badge of the Grand Vice President of Philanthropies was presented to the Fraternity by Edith Whiting, Iowa Alpha. It was made by Hervey Crane for Helen Van Doorn, an 1884 Pi Phi. Her monogram is on the gold piece hanging on the chain. Helen was a cousin of Edith Whiting's mother and aunt, who were Iowa Alpha Pi Phis in 1885 and 1888 respectively. Hervey Crane had a jewelry store in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. He also made the first P.E.O. pins.

Rush Retreat Features Skiis, Songs, Scenery

by KAREN DEVINCENT, West Virginia Alpha

Ski lodges and camping trips anyone? West Virginia Alpha Pi Phis decided to start off the new year together by returning to school early after Christmas break for a rush retreat.

The girls returned January 8 and made their way to a ski lodge at Chestnut Ridge to plan rush and practice new and old songs while enjoying the fun and the scenery. After returning home, rush committees again met, and out of these sessions came several new ideas including the development of a new kind of rotation, the writing and production of a new melodramatic skit, and the selection of Better Beta Buddies.

Each girl selected a sister whom she wished to know better. During the week before rush, each girl kept a journal and just before rush started, everyone found out who her Better Beta Buddy was by receiving that person's journal.

The senior elected secretly as the Spirit of Rush placed psych notes around the house and sent congratulations and small gifts to girls who deserved special recognition during rush. After preference night, the S.O.R. was announced, along with the girl voted the best rusher.

St. Louis Honors Distinguished Sisters

For the past 18 years, ten distinguished women have been selected each year by the St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat as Women of Achievement. The women are drawn from many walks of life, each following a tradition of service. Among those named as Women of Achievement for 1973 are Jane Baur Spoehrer and Harriet Baur Spoehrer, Missouri Beta sisters who married brothers.

For the past 30 years Jane Spoehrer has offered her time and talents to a myriad of civic activities, fund drives, and philanthropic efforts. One theme—the care of troubled children—predominates her activities, however, and for that reason she was selected a Woman of Achievement for Youth Dedication.

For many years the emotionally disturbed young women at the Girl's Home, a United Fund agency, have benefitted from her efforts as a member of the board of directors. Her work at the St. Louis Children's Hospital has brought her the most recognition, however.

Twenty years ago she answered a call for volunteers at the hospital, and she's worked on that basis ever since. For eight years she pushed a cart of light refreshments for the parents of the sick children. Twelve years ago the hospital opened a coffee shop with the volunteers serving as waitresses. Outgrowing that, the coffee shop became a cafeteria, and it's expanding again. Proceeds from the shop are donated to the hospital.

Three years ago Jane was elected president of the 900-member Children's Hospital Auxiliary and she has twice been re-elected to that position. In addition to patient care, fund raising has become an increasingly important job for the auxiliary. "The hospital's needs have grown and grown," Mrs. Spoehrer explained. "We have so much free care to give. We never turn a child down."

Harriet Baur Spoehrer shares the Woman of Achievement category of Youth Dedication with her sister. Her special community interest is also the St. Louis Children's Hospital, where her philanthropy made possible completion of the Hermann F. Spoehrer Children's Research Tower that was dedicated to her late husband's memory. She doesn't limit her contribution to financial gifts, however. She works at the information desk, as a regularly scheduled volunteer, and, on occasion, has served in the lunchroom, taking orders, carrying trays of food, and cleaning tables.

Although she worries about problems of crime and drugs, Harriet finds much good in America's young people and, as a naturally hopeful person, salutes the "majority who are good kids."

Harriet has been on the go much of her life but she praises her sister Jane as "the activist, who gets me involved." Those who know her consider her a genial friend, an unostentatious philanthropist and a hard-working volunteer. Her husband was a prominent St. Louis industrialist who served many years as president and board chairman of his favorite philanthropy, Junior Achievement. Both she and her husband subscribed to the philosophy that whatever they received was theirs to share.

Volunteer service is a tradition in the Spoehrer family, as it was in the Baur family. Jane and Harriet share the limelight for their dedication to young people.

Convention Skit Is Earth Shaking!

When Pi Phis plan a surprise, they do it in a big way, though it may not turn out to be quite as expected!

The Springfield (Mo.) Alumnæ Club sent out notices before the September meeting announcing a covered dish picnic and promising a surprise during the evening. The surprise was supposed to be the "We're Number 1!" skit from Convention.

As the Pi Phis were eating, a storm came up and all 55 trooped into the house. During the enthusiastic rendering of the first verse of the skit song, the group began to receive some unusual "vibes" . . . the floor shook, pictures fell from the wall, there were loud popping sounds, and there was every evidence that an earthquake was in progress! The group ran outside in the rain and although the "quake" soon subsided, nobody wanted to return to the house. They went on home, leaving dishes, picnic baskets, purses, raincoats, etc.

When firemen were called to the scene, they discovered that a layer of concrete had collapsed on top of the concrete block floor supports, and although some floor sag resulted, no serious damage was found.

"We're Number 1!" was a big hit at Convention, but in Springfield, it brought down the house—the living room, anyway!

Scholarships Available

New York City Panhellenic has voted to award three $300 scholarships to fraternity women doing graduate work at a college or university in the New York City area during 1974-75. These grants will be made in September, 1974. Those interested should request an application from Mrs. Kelso Sutton, 2 Tudor City Place, New York, N.Y. 10017, and should return the completed form by August 1, 1974.

During 1973-74 New York City Panhellenic awarded two scholarships for $300 each to students doing graduate work at New York University School of Education and Columbia University Graduate School of Business.

Musical Production Is Stunts Winner

by DEBRA COWART
Indiana Gamma

On March 9, the Indiana Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi participated in Geneva Stunts, and we won!

Every year, the YW-YMCA of Butler University presents Geneva Stunts. This is a competition between housing units, where each organization can compete singly or paired, and we were paired with the Sigma Chis. The housing units put on a 12 minute one-act musical production; ours was a takeoff on "South Pacific" called "Belly High." It featured two songs: "We Gotta Catch Miss Fitch Her Final Match" to the tune of "I'm Gonna Wash that Man Right Out of My Hair" and "He Is Someone We Can Blame" to the tune of "There is Nothing Like A Dame."

Basically our production was about a group of sailors under the guidance of Captain Charles, who had been stranded on an island since World War II. A group of elite boarding school girls, protected by Miss Fitch, become marooned on the island also. The sailors and the girls decide to match Miss Fitch and Captain Charles together with the help of two storks, who also played the role of narrators with the job of "delivering" a baby nine months later.

This was the first time in four years that the Pi Phis or the Sigma Chis had participated in Stunts, so it was a pleasant surprise to end up on top.

"Okie" Earns State's Highest Honors

Frances Rosser Brown, Oklahoma Alpha, is the recipient of the two highest awards obtainable in the state of Oklahoma. Last May she was recognized by the University of Oklahoma when she was selected to receive the Distinguished Service Citation. This is the highest honor awarded by the University which does not give honorary degrees.

Mrs. Brown was inducted into the Oklahoma Hall of Fame during Oklahoma Heritage week last November.

These honors came in recognition of her "unselfish and unceasing efforts in behalf of her community and state."

In speaking of her, one friend said, "She is a modest, original, indomitable woman, semi-invalid for the greater part of her life, widely known both inside and outside of Oklahoma, who for the most part makes headlines for others.

"A volunteer publicist, she has helped to establish two hospitals in Muskogee and her stories have sparked all manner of community projects for which she has received recognition from her church, from the Elks, the Kiwanis and Sereptomist service clubs, and from Delta Kappa Gamma and the Da-ce-tah Indian Club, the latter three organizations awarding her honorary membership."

A concrete accomplishment has been the fulfillment of her dream that a museum be created which would motivate the gifted Indians of the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Cherokee, Creek, and Seminole Tribes. In the original Indian Agency Building, on Honor Heights overlooking the City of Muskogee, is now housed the heritage and hopes of those people in "The Five Civilized Tribes Museum."

On the day of the opening of the Museum, April 16, 1966, the famed wood sculptor, Willard Stone, presented his "Two Seasons" to the Museum in her honor.

The Jerome Tiger painting "The Trail of Tears," which hangs in the Museum, bears the inscription "Presented in honor of Frances Rosser Brown in recognition of her dedication to community causes including the restoration and opening of this Museum."

Besides the Distinguished Service Award for her role in establishing the Five Civilized Tribes Museum, Mrs. Brown holds a Certificate of Merit for her role in keeping the Thomas Gilcrease Institute of American History and Art in Oklahoma.

The Frances Rosser Brown Silver Pitcher Award is presented by Pi Beta Phi to honor the Fraternity's former national historian.

One observation has been made that this distinguished Pi Phi colors her exemplary life with wit as well as with dedication and wisdom. This trait was even recognized in her high school days. The year of her graduation from the Muskogee Central High School the following comment appeared under her name in the school annual yearbook:

"When Minerva stomps her foot
The bravest writhe and wriggle—
But, Holy Mackerel—
You ought to hear her giggle!"

Just recently an author gave her one of his works. In the book he wrote in part "Frances Rosser Brown, Companion in Mirth."

Marty Blakely, former treasurer of Indiana Beta, was chosen from among students at the Indiana University School of Business to serve one semester on an internship in Dallas, Texas. She spent a busy four months as an assistant buyer for Sanger-Harris, a Dallas department store.

SAVE COUPON$!

A program to purchase greatly needed potters' wheels and looms for Arrowmont, through the General Mills coupon plan, is being launched by the Board of Governors.

Since the price of a wheel is between $400-450, and a loom costs approximately $200-300, many thousands of coupons will be needed. These coupons are found on packages of General Mills products, and Pi Phis and their friends are urged to cut out and save as many as possible during the summer months. In September, after counting the coupons and noting the number, they should be given to your club's Arrowmont chairman.

If there is no club in the area, coupons may be sent directly to Mrs. W. R. Kendall, 4053 O'Grady, Corpus Christi, Tex., 78413, the board member who will coordinate this drive.

Ask friends and relatives to help in this effortless way to further equip the ceramic and weaving studios at Arrowmont.

The September "round-up" of coupons will be followed by another in January.

Community Workshop Has Enrollment of Forty

For the first time in some years, but in keeping with the early Settlement School concept of serving the Gatlinburg area, a workshop for the community was started February 4, to run for 10 consecutive Monday evenings at Arrowmont.

Instructors for the course are two young graduate students in the Department of Crafts and Interior Design, College of Home Economics, at the University of Tennessee. Wayne Deveney, from Conover, N.C., received his B.F.A. degree from Western Carolina University and has received first place awards in weaving and textile design at the Annual Crafts and Interior Design Exhibition at the University of Tennessee. Ed Cook, of Racine, Wisc., has B.A. and M.S. degrees. He has received first place in textiles at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee in 1969 and first place in show at St. Francis College in 1967. Both young men expect to continue their study of textiles in Europe after graduation.

An enthusiastic group of forty women—and one man—are learning tie-dye, tie-bleach, batik, quilting, stitchery, applique, wrapping, twining, and looping. Students pay for their own materials and a minimal tuition charge. They work at their own pace; most are beginners, some are experienced craftsmen.

Among the students are the Arrowmont Administrator, the ex-Administrator, three Arrowmont office girls, and Faye Cook and Vicki Ownby from the Arrowcraft Shop.

Potters Market Thru Arrowcraft

Bill and Sue Ashley, natives of the Chattanooga area, have both turned to potting as a way of life and the Arrowcraft Shop in Gatlinburg is one of the marketers of their fine work.

Bill, after a tour of duty in the Marine Corps, graduated with a B.A. in Fine Arts from the University of Chattanooga in 1965. Following graduation he spent time working on a shrimp boat in the Florida Keys. Later he became a member of the Merchant Marines, shipping from the West Coast to Vietnam.

After returning to Chattanooga, he taught arts and crafts in the Hamilton County schools for five years, during which time he also coached football and wrestling. During the summers he taught at the Chattanooga Art Institute and studied pottery under Charles Counts, at his studio in Rising Fawn, Ga. In June, 1973, Bill left his teaching career behind in order to become a full time potter.

Sue graduated from the University of Chattanooga with a B.S. in elementary education in 1968. As a freshman she became a member of Pi Beta Phi and at various times served as music and program chairman in her chapter. Following graduation she taught second grade for five years. During this time she continued study in the field of psychology at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, traveled in Europe, and studied pottery under Charles Counts.

Both Bill and Sue are now working full time from their home on Missionary Ridge, where they rent an older home and have converted an out-building into a studio. Their work is sold mainly through craft shops in the surrounding area and occasionally from their home studio. They enter a small number of craft shows but are known principally as producing craftsmen right now.

Both seem to feel that the satisfaction and independence gained from the potter's way of life make the long hours and hard work worthwhile. Their aim is to produce sound, functional pottery that others will enjoy using.

Sandy's Ceramics Earn Many Awards

Every Pi Phi, as well as the other individuals who have attended Arrowmont, knows and admires Sandra L. Blain, Assistant Director of Arrowmont from 1968 to present. Sandra is also Assistant Professor of Crafts and Interior Design in the College of Home Economics of the University of Tennessee. Prior to coming on the staff at Arrowmont, she was a student at Arrowmont for several months.

Sandra has received many awards for her pottery. This year at the Fifth Biennial Tennessee Arts and Crafts Association Exhibit in Memphis, Tenn., her ceramics were judged "Best In Show." Her listing of exhibitions is long and impressive, spanning a period from 1964 to present. In the past year she has had several one man shows.

"Just Pots" was the title of an exhibition by Sandra at the Drummer Gallery, Knoxville, Tenn. The exhibit included over 100 handbuilt pieces, each with a suggestion of the primitive. Subtle color combinations with glazed and unglazed surfaces and strong textural contrasts emphasized the seemingly ancient origin of the pieces. Pinch, coil, and slab methods of construction were used in creating the sculptural, but utilitarian, forms.

In speaking of her work, Sandra explains, "As a potter, I began using the wheel thrown technique of construction for almost all of my pieces, but I soon got tired of the overall sameness and general emphasis on technically proficient saleable items. My desire for simple, straightforward, earthy forms led me to the use of handbuilt construction techniques. I was thus able to manipulate the material in a free and spontaneous manner still realizing my objective of creating sculptural, but utilitarian, functional pots."

Another one man show, "Pots for Plants" by Sandra, was exhibited at Ridgeway Gallery, Oak Ridge, Tenn., April 20 to May 25, 1974. Some of her pottery is always on exhibit in the Exhibit Gallery at Arrowmont or in the display cases on the Pi Phi Mall.

Sandra has published an environmental multimedia slide series which is a work of art. This series is available on a rental basis from Arrowmont.

Her honors have been many, including: chairman of education committee, Southern Highland Handicraft Guild, 1973-74; president, East Tennessee Craft Guild, 1972-75; Tennessee representative to American Craftsman's Council, 1971-72-73-74; Crafts Advisory Panel, Tennessee Arts Commission 1972-73-74.

Pi Phi is indeed fortunate to have such a talented master craftsman as assistant director of Arrowmont. Such perfect teamwork—talent between Director Marian G. Heard and Assistant Director Sandra L. Blain would be difficult to duplicate.

Bartlett Jones, San Rafael, Calif., attended Arrowmont on a scholarship awarded by the Marin County Alumnae Club. Here he uses the facilities of the new wood-working studio.

LUNCHEON AT ARROWMONT

Other prominent guests were, l. to r., O. J. Mattil, officer of the Southern Highland Guild; O. T. Collett, vice president of Kiwanis; Miss Bernice Stevens, master craftsman with Twelve Designer Craftsman's Shop; Charles Simms, Exalted Ruler of Elks; Wade King, Southern Highland Handicraft Guild; Caroline Mills Riddle, Administrator of Arrowmont and Arrowcraft.

HOW NICE!

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received by Elizabeth Turner Orr, Grand President. Sharon Smith Pierce is a former Traveling Graduate Counselor, is Pi Beta Phi's Director of Panhellenics, and is Assistant Director of Student Activities at Western Michigan University.)

Dear Mrs. Orr,

Just wanted to take this opportunity to comment on Pi Beta Phi's Sharon Smith Pierce! Her dedication, creativity, enthusiasm, and concern for the Fraternity system and the college environment at Western Michigan University has inspired many of us. Sharon came to Western at a critical time for the Greeks—the administration was questioning our existence, the student body was anti everything; and perhaps the worst part was that the Greeks, themselves, had no idea what being in fraternities and sororities really meant . . . in other words, most of us did not know (or maybe did not believe . . .) that our membership was an honor and not a big joke. Few sororities trusted each other and there was no such thing as "Panhellenic Cooperation"—in fact, Panhel meant rush and that's about all there was to it. Now, about two years later, our Panhellenic Association is perhaps one of the strongest and most influential organizations on Western's campus—because we have learned the importance of working together from Sharon. She has made such an impact on my sorority that we want to write a special article for our national publication featuring her. Sharon stays at our house when Steve is out of town and has become a part of us—in fact, the girls get upset when he comes back from his trips and Sharon leaves!! She has inspired many women into attempting a career in student personnel and/or working as field secretaries for their own national sororities.

I guess the whole point of this letter is not only to let you know how much Western appreciates her, but to thank Pi Beta Phi for inspiring her to go on after college and work with the Greek system. Sharon obviously learned an awful lot during her college experiences about people as an active member of your sorority. I've never seen anyone enjoy her work as she does—anyone who can work eight hours a day at the office, stay in for lunch and work on material for Pi Beta Phi, go to a couple of meetings every night and then work more on sorority correspondence when she gets home after a two hour drive is either quite dedicated—or a bit crazy! Pi Beta Phi was the first exposure Sharon had with the Greek system and there are an awful lot of people at W.M.U. who are grateful that this experience was good, because she has passed on her knowledge and enthusiasm to all of us.

Thank you for letting me share some thoughts, and best wishes to an outstanding organization of women.

Sincerely,
SHARON LYNN GEORGE

Love Wide and Full of Pi Phi

My world was little and cozy-tight,
Snug and smug in its dim half-light;
And, though it was too small inside
For me to stretch my arms out wide
Or let me stand up straight and tall,
This annoyed me not at all.
I crouched in my small world each day,
Content to doze the hours away—
Till a stray sunbeam, quite lost, I'm sure,
Found its way through a crack in my door.
A wandering through it might have seemed
But it shone with a brightness I'd never seen,
And it lighted my world's dimlit way.
And it tempted me forth to a sunbright day,
Into a new world, high and wide!
With outstretched arms to embrace it all,
I felt my soul stand straight and tall!
And I knew that I could never go back
To that little world with its pitiful lack
Of all that made life glow and shine.
Now that this wider world was mine.
So I closed the door and I turned the key
On that little world and that little me,
And I raised my face to the open sky,
In a world love-wide and full of Pi Phi.

SCAN Offers Help To Abusive Parents

by DORRIS KARCHER WELLING

Little Rock A.C.

SCAN, Suspected Child Abuse and Neglect, is a non-profit organization to help abusive mothers and fathers learn constructive child rearing. SCAN in Arkansas is directed by Sharon Raney Pallone, Virginia Alpha and Arkansas Alpha, and has been in operation since August, 1972. It is one of two such organizations in the nation to offer help to parents who have a child abuse problem.

The workers of SCAN are concerned citizens, all volunteers and mostly mothers, who have compassion for distressed families. Following a thorough training program taught by professionals, these workers are designated lay therapists who usually serve two cases annually, make regular family visits, and stand by on 24 hour emergency call. Presently, there are 54 SCAN workers in Little Rock, North Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Hot Springs, Fayetteville, and Russellville.

Most SCAN workers are college graduates, with some having masters degrees. Their purpose is to provide support to abusive parents in a non-critical way, to "mother the mother so she can mother her child," and to encourage her to seek community service that can help relieve family stresses.

Sharon has served as co-chairman of the Little Rock Literary Council and has served as state chairman. She is a member of the Arkansas Council for Child Protection, a guest member of the University of Arkansas Medical Center Child Protection Committee, and is on the SCAN Board. Recently she was designated a special investigator for the prosecuting attorney's office.

Sharon, herself, stands by on emergency call and has been known to respond to a call from the Little Rock jail at midnight on Saturday night. She also speaks at churches, civic, and service organizations, by invitation, to cultivate interest in the community and state about child abuse.

Sharon is married to Sam A. Pallone and has two sons, Pete, 6, and Mike, 4. She is a former professional tennis player and consistent winner in national golf tournaments. At present scuba diving is her greatest interest when she "can find the time."

Sharon was initiated at Virginia Alpha, Randolph-Macon, in 1958. After transferring to the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, she served as president of Arkansas Alpha for two years. She was a recipient of the Amy Burnham Onken chapter award and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Following graduation she became a graduate counselor for Pi Phi at Mississippi Southern where she did graduate work in psychology. Sharon also took part in the installation of Arkansas Beta in 1963. She is a member of the Little Rock Alumnae Club.

"I am convinced that the cyclic problem of child abuse can be arrested if we who have experienced adequate parenting will reach out to abusive parents in a nonjudgmental, compassionate, and firm manner. This type of treatment is extremely effective when the SCAN worker is willing to devote at least twenty hours a week with a family. I base my opinion on statistics—SCAN provided services to over 300 families with a child abuse problem in one year. We have seen NO re-occurrences of abuse in any of these families," Sharon said.

Greeks Denounced; React To Criticism

by TRACEY MCNAMARA
New York Gamma

Recently the Greek system was subject to large scale criticism at St. Lawrence University. While reviewing its own aims, the university questioned the value of fraternities and sororities on campus. The administration and faculty publicly denounced the Greek system as promoting an "anti-intellectual" atmosphere which had no place in a university setting. Articles in the school paper posed a direct challenge to all St. Lawrence fraternities and sororities to prove them wrong.

In response, the New York Gamma chapter of Pi Beta Phi organized a student-faculty afternoon in an attempt to bridge the communication gap. Professors and families were invited to spend an afternoon sampling the culinary treats of the sisters and their colleagues. Tours of the house were given to those who had never once set foot in a sorority house.

The initial uneasiness was soon replaced by flowing conversation and a free exchange of ideas. In the process, the individual who had most vehemently criticized the Greek system admitted that his purpose in doing so was to prompt us into action. He felt that as a closely knit, united group, sororities and fraternities had an excellent base for achieving ends which require group cooperation. He believed in the intrinsic dynamic force of a Greek organization which he had yet to see being used to its fullest. Granted, being in a sorority does enhance social skills and perhaps teaches some individual responsibility. But he felt that it could become much too easy to lose sight of our responsibilities, not only to our sisters but to those of the campus and community as well. He felt the Greek system at S.L.U. had degenerated to a strictly social organization and he hoped to see some proof of change.

Perhaps the slap in the face was what we needed at St. Lawrence. It forced us out of our complacency, and challenged us to reevaluate our aims and directives. The outcome was, in our opinion, quite healthy. It encouraged the soul-searching and thought which aided each sister in redefining her role as a sorority woman.

P.I.G. Is Answer To Spring Diet Woes

by AMY WEGENER
Iowa Gamma

As the weather gets warmer, and the clothes get skimpier, most girls come to a rather unpleasant realization: It's time for The Spring Diet. The mere thought of trying on last year's bathing suit is quite enough to put anyone on a diet. Here we go again . . . two solid months of cottage cheese, Carnation Slender, and Diet Pepsi. And with the very best of intentions we utter those familiar words "and this time it is for good!"

This year the Iowa Gamma Pi Phis have decided to add a little zip to that inevitable spring ordeal. In keeping with the sorority interest group idea, we have developed a Physical Interest Group, affectionately referred to as P.I.G. Our group consists of approximately ten Pi Phis with a burning desire to "fit into that suit if it kills me!"

Nightly, we don our "jog togs" and head to the gym for a quick mile or more. Our industrious endeavors will not only benefit the body (also appeasing the starch-covered and guilt-ridden conscience), but the house will gain intramural points for every mile jogged.

Note: An excellent way to meet fellas, particularly when one wears her Pi Phi jersey with her name spelled boldly on the back. As soon as we can fit into our bathing suits we are going to start checking out the surf-side scene at the pool!

So You Want to Go Back to College

by HOLLY MILLER

Blame it on the gray-haired lady who substituted in your bridge club last week. Midway through your sole attempt at a Grand Slam, she casually announced she was entering Community Hospital the following day for tests. Before you could offer condolences, she explained she was a student nurse about to embark upon her clinical work.

"At your age?" You almost blurted out, checking yourself just in time.

Actually her ambition and enthusiasm were contagious. You felt wistful, and slightly envious of her spunk. How often you had entertained the thought of returning to school! The provisional teacher's license that accompanied your Bachelor's degree expired years ago. Only an M.A. would reinstate you in the eyes of the State Teachers' Association now. If a woman several years your senior could play Cherry Ames, couldn't you do a two semester rendition of "Betty Co-ed?"

If this sounds familiar, join the club. Each year thousands of "matrons" reenlist in the ranks of academia either to complete or to further their educations. If you happen to be one of the liberated throngs contemplating re-entry into university life, wait just a minute. Before you sharpen your pencils or dash down to Woolworth's for a Goldenrod Tablet, let me advise you of the pitfalls of middle-age matriculation which I encountered on my recent return to student life. Let's "trip-out" together to the current college scene and see how you fit into the picture.

The first obstacle to surmount on the comeback trail to higher education is the enrollment procedure. This is an endurance test designed to weed out the less than hardy student bodies. After transferring transcripts, filling out forms in triplicate, obtaining a student I.D. (complete with fetching portrait), registering the family car, and affixing a parking permit on the rear window, you feel you've already survived a degree—the third degree, that is.

Upon acceptance, you are deluged with university correspondence. All mail is addressed: To The Parents of (your name). Included are offers of insurance policies, order blanks for a yearbook and class ring, and an invitation to a TEKE smoker (apparently they failed to notice the Ms. preceding your husband's name.)

The first day of school finds you nervously scanning the closet for something appropriate to wear. Your fingers pause briefly at the three piece double knit suit, bought on your last trip to Florida. You wisely pass it by, knowing that high heels and hose would brand you immediately as a Senior Citizen—1960 variety. You don't want to appear that obvious, so you opt for the more casual.

Whoops, something's wrong. Strolling across campus to your first class, you notice several students eyeing your knee socks, saddle shoes, and pleated skirt curiously. Sometime within the last twelve years the university must have adopted an official student uniform. Blue jeans, tee-shirts and boots now seem to be in order.

You're shocked by the apparent decline of student morals. Half the girls are wearing maternity tops but are sans wedding rings. Two days later you notice with relief these same co-eds have rejoined the tee-shirt masses and you realize the maternity tops actually were smocks. Very camp. You make a mental note to purchase one first chance you get.

Your classes seem an exhilarating change from The Edge of Night, Days of Our Lives, and Another World. Although one professor is five years your junior, you squelch the desire to call him "son."

You find yourself constantly enlightening your family and friends on the wonders of Advanced Linguistics, Introduction to Black Studies, and Ecology 500.

"Just think, this same water I used to make coffee, once spent two days at the Sewage Treatment Plant." You marvel to your husband this pattern of education, which though interrupted (usually by marriage) either before or after college graduation, can be picked up with renewed confidence and motivation in middle life.

So, be happy that, based on these first 13 good-luck years, continuing education is yours for the asking. Plan ahead for it, if you are 20. Brush up with it, if you're 40. And it's not too late to pamper yourself with it, if you're 60 or even 70. As Elizabeth Cless comments, "We believe that little else can so effectively resolve the excruciating dilemma of today's intelligent woman."

Missionary Trip Is Inspirational

by SALLY HOLT, Texas Gamma

Last summer, Texas Gamma's Pam Martin had an opportunity to go to Malaysia and South China as a summer missionary. She traveled with the First Baptist Church of Amarillo for a three-week mission trip. The thirty adults and twenty students traveled all along the coast of Malaysia in a bus. They visited many youth groups, YMCA groups, and school children. Included in the trip were a visit to Hong Kong and one to Japan.

Pam said about her trip, "Amazing as it may seem, I had the opportunity to see Christ work miracles in hundreds of young Buddhist, Hindu, and Islamic lives. It's thrilling to me, as I look back over my trip, what a fantastic experience it was. Let us never forget to always thank the Lord for all our many blessings here in America."

Pam has entertained the chapter by showing slides of her trip, and she has been an inspiration to everyone.

Province Clubs Support Scholarship Fund

by JEAN B. WEAVER, Cleveland-West A.C.

A gift to keep Pi Phis IN Pi Phi—that is the idea behind the Eta Province Scholarship Fund.

Begun over two years ago as a project of the Cleveland-West Alumnae Club, the fund is now being supported by donations from most of the alumnae clubs in the province. Monies are provided not to keep girls in school, but rather to keep them in Pi Phi. Many of our collegians work to help pay their school expenses and some come to the conclusion that they must give up their Fraternity membership in order to remain in school. This is where the alumnae step in with a grant to cover a girl's local dues or some other expense and thereby keep her wearing that arrow. Twenty-one grants have been made since the inception of the project, ranging in amount from $50 to $150. The reasons given for needing the grants have been as varied as the amount of monies sent!

Alumnae clubs with local collegiate chapters have always aided "their" girls, but this is the first time that an entire province has joined to offer outright gifts. These confidential grants are available to Ohio Pi Phis—girls attending Ohio schools or Ohio residents going to school out of state. Information is available through Barbara Olsen, Eta Alumnae Province President, through club presidents, or the Cleveland-West Alumnae Club Scholarship Committee which administers the fund and selects the recipients. The amount of the grant is determined by financial need, family responsibilities, a girl's scholarship, her activities—both in Pi Phi and on campus—and AAC recommendation.

Most satisfying is the knowledge that through this fund we show our interest and concern by giving a girl the help she needs. We hope that our Eta Province "helping hand" proves in a very tangible way that the friendship and loyalty of Pi Beta Phi continues to grow long past college days!

Runner Holds World Marathon Record

"A little old lady in tennis shoes" might describe Ruth Purney Anderson, Nebraska Beta, except for the fact that she's far from being a little old lady, and her tennis shoes are track shoes instead! Ruth, a resident of Oakland, Calif., broke her own world record for masters women marathon runners last February 10, when she ran the 26 mile 385 yard course in three hours, 20 minutes!

Ruth is on the staff of the Lawrence Radiation Lab in Livermore, Calif., dealing with radio-active isotopes. Her husband, John, a veterinarian, says it was Ruth's custom to go to the large swimming pool at the lab during her noon hour. One day she found the pool closed for repairs, so she joined some of her friends in a bit of a jog around the area. She enjoyed it, but what she really liked was the fun of doing this with her friends, since she went home pretty stiff. As time went on, she and her associates ventured out farther until she was running about six miles daily.

"The running became easier," says John, "but there were some rather strange changes taking place. She was beginning to feel much better, alive! She lost about 20 pounds . . . and I found a new girl. I am almost a nut on the topic of how our family, including myself and our daughter, Rachel, have enjoyed this exercise together."

Ruth entered several races last year before she and two teammates from the Lawrence Lab team went to Phoenix last December where she first broke the world's record for women over 40, in spite of the fact that she pulled a tendon in her foot four miles from the finish line. It was in Phoenix during the Fiesta Bowl football game that Ruth had a second memorable moment. She was introduced to and cheered by a crowd of nearly 70,000. In winning this marathon, Ruth received a trophy, T-shirt, plaque, and tickets to the Fiesta Bowl.

"Victory, or even entry, in the Phoenix Marathon would not have been possible without Cathy Switzer," said Ruth. "Switzer broke the AAU's ban on women in marathons with her militant entry into the Boston Marathon a few years ago."

The February marathon in San Mateo, Calif., was a national race and Ruth bettered her own world's record time by about 5 minutes.

Ruth was born in Omaha, Nebr., just 44 years ago. Her mother was a Nebraska Beta Pi Phi and her aunt was a California Beta Pi Phi.

She has been running just a little over a year, and is self-coached.

Her husband John says, "Ruth fell upon a sport that she enjoys and is healthful and that she excels in. It so happens that Rachel and I enjoy it too, and we don't mind leading the cheering when the nature of the race is beyond our ability. I am awfully proud of my Ruth!"

gifts and kind wishes; to Phi Province alums and actives—we send Pi Phi love and thank yous. Most of all our appreciation goes to the three alumnæ clubs, Central and North Orange County and South Coast, for their affection and support. From the youngest of Pi Phi's chapters, we have grown to know her deepest meaning. May we some day, in some way, return this Pi Phi love to all of you! Thanks for the memories.

Chapter Is Host To Exchange Student

by BARBARA GILLINGS

Washington Beta

Washington Beta members learned many things about Japan during spring semester as they hosted a Japanese student, Noriko Shukatani. Noriko, a 22 year old senior at Shiga University in Japan, won the Rotary International Scholarship entitling her to spend one year in a foreign university with tuition, transportation, and living expenses paid. The Rotary Clubs around the world have a major Rotary International educational foundation whereby students are selected to attend universities in other countries. The purpose of this program is to promote better communications between countries of the world. Noriko applied for the scholarship, hoping for an exciting experience and an opportunity to communicate with foreign students. This program has, in turn, sent many U.S. students to Europe for the same objective.

The Pi Phis met with Noriko after she expressed her desire to her advisor to get to know more people. It was arranged for Noriko to move into our house for the second half of her stay at WSU. Since there are no sororities in Japan, this increased her ever-growing collection of new experiences.

Noriko, when asked how American students differ from Japanese students, said that basically a student is a student, no matter what nationality.

Noriko's cure for occasional bouts of homesickness was talking to her many Pi Phi friends. She couldn't manage to stay lonely long that way! Noriko felt lucky to have us; we felt lucky to have her adding so much in the true spirit of Pi Beta Phi.

"Scholar Sisters" Assigned To Pledges

by PEGGY UNSWORTH

Missouri Alpha

Towards the end of winter semester 1973, an interest group was formed by the Missouri Alpha pledge trainer to formulate new ideas which might be beneficial for the pledges of 1973-1974. One of the ideas was to have Scholar Sisters or "Study Buddies." At the beginning of the fall term in 1973, the scholastic chairman had each active fill out a notecard with their courses, the grade they expected to make in each course, their major, and whether or not they wanted a Study Buddy. Those who did want one were assigned to a pledge with the same or similar major. The purpose of Study Buddies was to help the pledges with any problems they might have with any course and to advise them as to which courses and teachers were the best. Of course this was also a great opportunity for the actives to get to know the pledges better.

Another idea which the pledges seemed to like was having "Guardian Angels." This idea was designed to give the juniors and seniors an opportunity to become more involved with the pledges since most of the pledge moms are sophomores. Each junior or senior who wanted to be a Guardian Angel was assigned to a particular pledge. It was then her job to send the pledge a card or note to congratulate her for something special or merely to liven up her spirits. Instead of signing her name, she just wrote "Guardian Angel" on the card, for the pledges did not find out the identity of their Guardian Angels until the night before initiation. This idea not only provided excitement for the pledges and involvement with the upper classmen, but it also helped the pledges feel more at home.

What Others Are Saying

In their magazines—papers—speeches

Actions speaking louder than words, we decided that for this issue of THE ARROW we would select items concerning what others are doing rather than what they are saying.

Architectural Barriers— A Problem

In a survey of public buildings, over 40 Alpha Chi Omega volunteers measured doorway widths, checked for level entrances, parking facilities, measured the heights of water fountains, telephones and handrails, and checked the width of restroom doors using prepared check lists and survey sheets provided by the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Only three buildings were found to be barrier free. It was a shock to realize that over 50,000 citizens were unable to use public buildings for worship, employment, education, recreation and shopping.

The results of the non-critical survey were published in a directory called a Guide for the Handicapped—Flint, Michigan.

City Panhellenic Makes Money

The Alpha Xi Delta alumnae of Rockford, Illinois have the task of providing Ways and Means for the City Panhellenic this year. The money-making project they organized was far more successful than they had anticipated. A local theater group was asked to put on a Children's Theater performance of "Alice in Wonderland" twice in one day. From the 1,600 tickets sold at a dollar each, the Panhellenic was able to pay its expenses and still have $1,150 for two scholarships of $500 which it awards annually. All sororities sold tickets. Letters were sent home with elementary and nursery school children telling of the show and its purpose. Alpha Xi Deltas paid for additional tickets to be donated to underprivileged children.

Entertain Deaf At Hayride Party

Folk and square dancing highlighted the Midwestern hayride party the Indianapolis

Alumnae gave for members of the Horison Club at the Indiana School for the Deaf. A teen age square dance club from the Prentice Presbyterian church came to help teach the dances.

Give Subscriptions To Prisoners

The cover story for Delta Rho chapter at the University of Mississippi is their donation to the prisoners at Parchman, Mississippi. Each member made a contribution to allow the chapter to order yearly subscriptions of five different magazines for the prisoners, who had been in desperate need of reading materials. By ordering the magazines through the Kappa Kappa Gamma Agency, the chapter was able to also help our Rose McGill Fund.

Survey Traffic

Bowling Green city officials were aided by Western Kentucky Taus who distributed survey cards to determine downtown traffic patterns

Book Exchange Benefits All

As is done each year, we (at the University of Colorado) began the semester with a book exchange for the College of Business and Administration. Through the exchange, students and pledges who cleaned an historic site and the town square during Help Week. The chapter also helped with the Muscular Dystrophy Campus Carnival.

Garden Honors Chapter Workers

Contributions made in honor of more than 80 Phi Mus, both living and deceased, have made Epsilon Gamma Chapter's Honor Garden (University of Tulsa) a living project. The garden honors Phi Mus who have worked with the chapter throughout its 33 years on campus.

The garden designed in consultation with landscape architects and horticulturists stretches

Phi Mus were especially pleased with their Honor Garden project when the extensive landscape plan for the entire campus was made public in the city papers and on television. The garden enhances the beatification of sorority row.

Co-op Effort Benefits Camp

The Associated Students of the University of Arizona, and the Greeks on campus are having a White Elephant sale on November 7.

This will be a great opportunity for Greeks and non-Greeks to get to know each other and work together on a project. The profits of the sale will be donated to Camp Wildcat which is a camp for underprivileged children.

Establish Blood Bank

Last June one of our Long Beach actives required a large amount of blood. Individual Alpha Phis donated in her name. Because of this emergency and the possibility of more blood being needed in the near future, the chapter adviser checked to see if there was an Alpha Phi Blood Bank. On finding that there was none, the idea of establishing such a bank was proposed to the chapter. The chapter enthusiastically voted to take on this project. The chapter adviser and her husband made the initial inquiries and set the project in motion. The Red Cross was extremely cooperative in establishing this account.

It was decided that the Alpha Phi Blood Bank would care for the needs of alumnae and their immediate families in Orange and Los Angeles counties and Alpha Phi collegians at the University of Southern California, UCLA and Long Beach State.

Greek Marathons Are Worthwhile

The Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc., through its New York City office, has announced that the 52-hour dance marathons last year at colleges and universities sponsored by fraternities and sororities raised over $206,000 to fight MD and Neuromuscular diseases.

Amgisirt

Amgisirt? What is an Amgisirt? It's the service project of the Beta Pi chapter at University of Wisconsin-Stout. This ambitious chapter invited the help of other Greek organizations to help paint trash cans for the city of Menomonie, where the University is located.

Approximately 40 Greeks gaily painted 150 large trash cans which will be distributed throughout the county. The service may seem a little crazy, but it was greatly appreciated by the local residents.

Clown Entertains And Teaches

A special kindergarten class in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, often has a clown come to teach them. The kindergarten is a special project of the Okmulgee school system designed to develop children physically and mentally in preparation for entrance into the first grade. The program has been planned for two classes—one for mentally retarded and physically handicapped; the other for a developmental class for borderline students. Rhythm games and music are used to encourage physical coordination. Communication must often begin with basic vocabulary development since several of the children speak only the Cherokee Indian dialect. The Tulsa Alumnae Chapter is generously donating money for rhythm instruments. Their time is given on Saturdays when they bring cookies and drinks and help with the class.

Generation Gap Is Revealing

Tallahassee, Florida alumnae gave a pledge party that has everyone asking for more! Upon arrival, alumnae drew a pledge's name from the hat and circulated through the group until they found their pledges. They were to discover, as casually as possible, at least one interesting fact about the girl and at the proper time introduce her to the group and reveal the fact. Of course more than one interesting fact was mentioned each time and often when the alumna had completed the introduction, the pledge would have something interesting to say about her. After refreshments the group played the "Generation Gap" game using the format of the TV Newlywed Game and pitting alumnae against pledges. The questions were about dorm hours, drug laws, the proper age for marriage, the importance of college sports, the number of children a family should have, the importance of grades, vocational planning and other relevant topics. Panels were composed of three alumnae vs. three collegians and the results were revealing. Pledges liberal and alumnae conservative? Not a bit! But there was lots of lively conversation and a great deal of communication.

Kentuckians Adopt-A-House

Many fraternity and sorority journals carried reports from their chapters of participation at the University of Kentucky of the "Adopt-A-House" program sponsored by Governor Ford's Commission for Beatification of Kentucky. The program consists of selecting a house in the Lexington area and then cleaning, painting, and doing general repairs to it.

University Pageant Is Produced By Pi Phi

by LOU ANNE WOLFE

Oklahoma Beta

General chairman and director of the 1974 Miss Oklahoma State University Pageant, held March 22, was Elaine Horkey, Oklahoma Beta.

Thanks to Elaine's achievements, the pageant was televised this year for the first time and set a record in attendance.

Just what does a production of this type involve?

One of Elaine's first jobs was that of leading and organizing the men of the sponsoring organization, Intercollegiate Knights, to understand the workings of a pageant. She suggested ways of making money to put on a professional show.

Elaine wrote the national and state pageant officials, judges, and Stillwater merchants. She also invited Andrea Hanson, Miss Oklahoma, to emcee the pageant.

The program book was another responsibility. She typed the format and organized material for the book, and solicited advertising throughout the Stillwater area.

Those scholarships, awards, and prizes don't just happen; Elaine visited banks and large national corporations as part of her job.

She typed and wrote press releases and directed ticket sales, along with writing the entire pageant script.

Finally, Elaine was co-emcee for the program.

Little Rock Alumnae Carry Crustacea

Hat sales, cookbooks, calendars, Arrowcraft sales, rummage sales—the list is endless. These are but a few of the money making projects undertaken in the past by the Little Rock (Ark.) Alumnae Club. This year, however, the club needed a project that was new and different in order to interest Pi Phis and their friends in the greater Little Rock area.

During Convention last summer a project was found—a live Maine lobster sale.

Skeptical at first of chances for success, the group started working in early August. Their Maine contact came through a food dealer in Ohio who was amazed to find that "people down there" ate lobster. After many letters and phone calls, November 10 was set as the sale date with a sale goal of 700 lobsters.

There was free advertising from local television, radio, and newspapers in the area and window space from local merchants. As the day of the sale grew nearer and nearer, the order number grew larger and larger and finally stopped at 1,500.

Lobsters arrived air freight and, with the help of Pi Phi husbands, were loaded into a dairy truck, complements of another Pi Phi hubby, to arrive for delivery alive and pinching.

Saturday morning Pi Phis and husbands handed out pre-sold lobsters. Amazingly enough, not one single order was forgotten. Success of the sale was overwhelming and far exceeded expectations. Club members think lobsters will become Little Rock's Maine Thing.

Earns Official Ranking

Florida Delta has a real live national volleyball official among the sisters! After many long hours of hard work and preparation, Cathy Vonarx, a senior, gained national recognition as a volleyball official by obtaining her national rating in volleyball officiating. Cathy is a physical education major who is very active in intramurals and synchronized swimming. She is currently the chapter's intramurals chairman and was the past rush chairman. She also has made the dean's list throughout her college career.

Phyllis Isbell and Tassy Lawson, Indiana Zetas, play games with several Head Start children during Ball State's Junior Panhellenic sponsored philanthropic project. 45 pre-schoolers were taken to the campus where races were run, games played, and refreshments served. Approximately 100 pledges participated in the project.

Named Paper Editor Over Three Males

Monde Murphy, Alabama Beta, has brought a number of honors to the chapter at the University of Alabama lately by being selected editor of the Crimson-White, the campus newspaper, and by being tapped as one of the first women members of Omicron Delta Kappa.

As a woman editor of the paper, Monde was selected over three male applicants for the coveted position. After being selected editor, she said, "Women are getting involved more all over campus, so I see no reason why a woman couldn't be editor of the Crimson-White." She is the first sorority woman to have the job in the past ten years and the first woman editor since 1971.

In addition to being selected Crimson-White editor, she was tapped to the previously all men's honorary ODK, one of ten women on campus selected for the honor and the only Pi Phi nominated.

Cook Earns Plaudits of Satisfied Chapter

by CLAUDIA ROBERTS
Illinois Eta

Mrs. Mattie Harvey has been the cook for Illinois Eta at Millikin University for more than eight years.

Mattie not only fills our kitchen with fantastic odors and food like we're used to at home, but also with a warmth and sincere interest in all that the girls in the house are doing. She's there to tease (she doesn't like to be called Matilda), but mostly she's there to do her best to serve whatever she knows we'll like. She'll try new recipes and even give us hers when we want to try our hand in the kitchen!

Mattie is the first to greet us every morning, arriving at 6:30 A.M., before most of us are awake, to provide us with breakfasts ranging from eggs any style, bacon, and OJ, to delicious apple fritters or pancakes. She never leaves for home until our evening meal is complete with delicious desserts. Mattie cooks for forty-three girls regularly and one night a week for sixty-seven girls, when all of the pledges come to the house for dinner and pledge meetings.

Mattie's responsibilities don't end, however, when she's through cooking three meals a day for the Pi Phi house. She has ten children, four of which are still living at home.

As mentioned before, Mattie cares about the girls in the house—she's only missed a few days in all the time she's been with the Pi Phi house. She even pops questions about girls many of us can't remember.

This is a tribute to Mattie Harvey, who is above all, a real friend to those of us who've grown to love her. Through eight years of Pi Phis, Mattie's been there to hear it all.

Regain Honors

West Virginia Alpha once again held top honors scholastically during fall quarter on the university campus. Although the chapter had maintained their first place standing for six straight semesters, they had been surpassed for three semesters. Now that they have regained their position, they intend to hold on to it.

Serves On Two National Commissions

Whether she's lecturing on vocational education, attending Oklahoma Beta House Corporation meetings, presiding over a meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's Association, or dashing off to Washington to meet with the National Advisory Council on Vocational Education, it's a sure bet that Caroline Erickson Hughes is busy with some type of civic activity.

Caroline's Pi Phi activities have been no less important than the rest. At the Hot Springs Convention she completed a two-year term as chairman of the national committee on amendments. She is a past province president of Nu Province and Omicron Province. She is a former member of the national committee on standards. Currently she serves as chairman of the Scholarship Foundation of Oklahoma Beta, in addition to her house corporation duties.

Caroline makes her home in Cushing, Okla., where her husband, Hugh, owns a lumber yard. Her interest in education goes back to college days when she earned her bachelor of science degree in home economics education. She taught for three years in Cushing High School and then, in 1960, she was the first woman to serve on the local board of education, holding the position for five years, and serving as president in 1963.

The Oklahoma State Advisory Council for Vocational Education was formed in 1969. Caroline was appointed to that committee by Gov. Dewey Bartlet, and reappointed by Gov. David Hall, and she was chairman and administrator for the first two years. In 1971, she was appointed by President Nixon to the National Advisory Council on Vocational Education, and she is currently serving on that committee. The purpose of these two councils is the evaluation of vocational education. The National Council reports to the Commissioner of Education for transmittal to the President and the Congress. Caroline's particular interest and involvements have been in the area of counseling and guidance, developing interaction of business/industry/education, and chairman of the sub-committee on American Indian Education.

In 1971 Mrs. Hughes was appointed by the U.S. Attorney General as the educational representative to the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals. She was the only layperson on the committee whose purpose was the development of standards and goals in the criminal justice system, applicable at state and local levels. Task Force reports on police, corrections, courts, and community crime prevention, and commission reports are now being implemented.

Caroline is listed in Who's Who in American Women, and Who's Who in the South and Southwest. She has received the Merit Award for Outstanding Service from the National FFA, and is an honorary member of the Oklahoma Association, Distributive Education Clubs of America. She's active in PTA, the Chamber of Commerce, Federated Women's Club, DAR, and her church, where she was the first woman to be elected elder to the local session.

"Hizzoner" . . .

Fellow commissioners praise Nancy as energetic, enthusiastic, and hard working. Pi Phi alums and other townspeople have much respect for this talented woman who hopes that one result of her election will be the development of community interest in the city commission's activities.

Television's Gain Is Cal Delta's Loss

by KATHERINE HOWITT
California Delta

During fall rush at UCLA the voice and vitality of rush advisor Ruth Henderson Walsh was a welcome experience for Cal Delta Pi Phis. Now this pleasure can be enjoyed by all Pi Phis, and for that matter all residents, of the Seattle, Wash., area. On October 10, 1973, Cal Delta's rush advisor became the first full-time femme sports reporter in Pacific Northwest television. Mrs. Walsh co-anchors as a regular on the Monday through Friday telecast of the hour long "Morning News" on Seattle's ABC-TV affiliate, KOMO-TV.

A Pi Phi at the University of South Carolina, Mrs. Walsh graduated with a BA in journalism and a minor in advertising and public relations. Since that time she has appeared in numerous TV commercials, television news broadcasts, and theatrical performances.

Cal Delta is not only grateful to Mrs. Walsh for making rush so successful the past two years, but the chapter is especially proud of her and wishes her the best of luck in her television career.

Ginger Rogers, Texas Gamma, was named first runner-up in the national Miss Rural Electrification competition last February. Ginger entered the contest as Miss Texas Rural Electrification, and she continues to represent the eighty Co-ops of Texas at conventions and at Rural Youth Week in Washington, D.C.

Hold Greek Workshop

by CATHY STRUZYNSKI, Illinois Theta

Illinois Theta participated in a Greek Workshop in February, sponsored by Bradley's Dean of Men. Officers from all seven sororities and fifteen fraternities, along with the Dean of Men and Women, and representatives from the Bradley Student Center Board attended.

At first all of the specific officers met together; i.e., all twenty-two presidents met together to discuss problems pertinent to their office. After a break for lunch, fraternity and sorority officers met separately. Problems and ideas for improvement were exchanged in all of the groups.

Plans for Greek functions were discussed and several have already been put into effect. A cocktail hour and banquet dinner closed the Workshop. It proved to be a very rewarding experience for all, providing new ideas and strengthening the Greeks on Bradley's campus.

Ann Mitchell, right, instructs two students during the Creative Workshop. Ann was one of the Houston Alumnae Club's scholarship recipients to Arrowmont in 1973.

Houston Stages Creative Workshop

On March 6 and 7 the Houston Alumnae Club sponsored a Creative Workshop at the Contemporary Arts Museum. Because of our ties with Arrowmont and our desire to spread knowledge of handcrafts in our community (last year we produced a Folk Art Workshop), we chose this format of a Creative Workshop. Ninety women attended classes taught by four outstanding Houston craft instructors, all of whom have been frequent winners in designer arts and crafts shows.

Participants chose to take one of the following courses for the two-day sessions: needleweaving, cardweaving (both off-loom weaving techniques), macrame, or batik. At the conclusion of the workshops most students had completed a creative piece of work. Instructors included Ann Mitchell, Alice Merz, Mary Ruth Smith, assisted by Pi Phi Margaret Borders Ryan, and Phyllis Tucker, assisted by Mary Jean Stoddard Fowler, current member of the Board of Governors of Arrowmont.

Of special significance to Pi Phi is the fact that two of the four instructors involved in the workshops were former students at Arrowmont. Mary Ruth Smith, now a University of Houston instructor in weaving and design, studied at Arrowmont while receiving her degree from the University of Tennessee. Mary Ruth's first teaching assignment following graduation was at the Pi Beta Phi Elementary School in Gatlinburg. She plans to return to the University of Tennessee next fall to work on her doctorate. Ann Mitchell was one of the Houston Alumnae Club's scholarship recipients to Arrowmont in 1973. Ann has trained extensively in the fiber art field and is accomplished in stitchery, braiding, and weaving.

Co-chairmen Ann Denker Webster and Susan Ray Dunlap worked many months to organize and stage the workshop. Supplies had to be assembled, cardboard looms constructed, and instruction sheets printed; color coordinated sack and box lunches were prepared both days by Houston Pi Phis.

Proceeds from the show benefitted the club's Scholarships to Arrowmont program and the Contemporary Arts Museum's Art after School program, providing tuition free art classes to areas of Houston where students are unable to pay. In addition to this special workshop, Houston Pi Phis operate and staff on a Monday through Saturday basis our Pi Beta Phi Craft Shop. Featured in the shop are items from Arrowcraft, articles made by talented Pi Phis, and items placed on consignment. Profits from this continuous project benefit both Arrowcraft and Arrowmont.

Houston Pi Phis agree that the enthusiasm of our four outstanding craftsmen and their students combined with the exciting background of the Contemporary Arts Museum proved that there is a need for such creative workshops in our community and that Pi Beta Phi can provide the leadership to make it a success. We will be glad to help any club desiring to try a similar project in their own community.

Nova Scotia Alpha

In the spring ARROW of 1971, Alberta Alpha wrote an article pleading for closer contact with Canadian chapters. Now, in 1974, Nova Scotia Alpha would like to renew this request.

While at the Hot Springs Convention, our president discovered that there were several girls who had no idea that there were Canadian chapters, let alone knowing where Nova Scotia is. Contrary to popular belief, Nova Scotia is not a fishing village on the Arctic Circle, nor do we have snow all year round. Our winters are quite warm and we have very little snow, while our summers average about 70-80 degrees.

These misconceptions and this lack of knowledge cause us to feel a bit detached. Distance adds to the feeling. Our closest sister chapter is at the University of Maine, approximately 500 miles away, while our closest Canadian chapter is 1,183 miles. It is small wonder that Canadian chapters have trouble relating to Pi Beta Phi as an international organization. It is our hope to correct this situation by explaining our feelings and giving U.S. chapters some understanding of us.

Nova Scotia Alpha is a small chapter, with only fourteen members. The reason for this can be attributed to the fact that Dalhousie is mainly a commuter university. This means that most female students have already developed their interests and friendships so that there seems to be no urgent need for fraternal bonds.

However, because we are so small in number we have the opportunity to become extremely close. Thus, when you see one sister, you usually see two. We can understand how large chapters would have problems relating to a chapter of our size, but hopefully, through communication, a closer connection and better understanding of our sister chapters and of Pi Beta Phi can be achieved.

We are proud of our chapter and proud to be Pi Phis. It is because of this pride that we want you to know about us and, conversely, us about you. We are bound together by our traditions, ideals, ceremonies, and projects. Should not our obligations as sisters of Pi Beta Phi extend to acquiring a knowledge and understanding of ourselves and each other? It is through communication that a sense of unity is achieved. Friendship comes with understanding. It is our responsibility to extend our love and loyalty to one another and the bonds of Pi Beta Phi should not be restricted by territorial boundaries.

The journey of a thousand miles begins with a single stamp!

Wyoming Dean Is Cited By Honoraries

Margaret C. Tobin, Wyoming Alpha, University of Wyoming associate dean of students, has been cited as one of two Outstanding Faculty Members by members of Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Dean Tobin, a UW graduate, has been a faculty member at Wyoming since 1964. She is the past president of the Colorado-Wyoming Association of Women Administrators and Counselors, and is a member of the National Association of Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors. She was appointed in 1970 to a four-year term on the Wyoming Commission of the Status of Women by Governor Stan Hathaway and has served as chairman of the legal rights and responsibilities committee.

Arkansas Beta's fall pledge class held a slave auction as their project to help raise money for a new carpet in the chapter room. Invitations were sent to other fraternities and sororities, and jobs included washing cars, cleaning apartments, and raking yards. The group earned $65.00 through the activity.

Club Changes Name To Honor Alumna

by VIRGINIA ROBINSON HADFIELD

The Fayetteville (Ark.) Alumnae Club has officially changed its name to Fayetteville-Mary Campbell Gregory Alumnae Club to honor Arkansas Alpha's first lady.

For three years Mary Campbell worked to gain a Pi Beta Phi charter at the University of Arkansas. She was the first initiate December 29, 1909, and the first chapter president of Arkansas Alpha. In February, 1910, she was invited to aid in the installation of Oklahoma Alpha at the University of Oklahoma.

Living in other cities with her husband, James, Mary was active in alumnae club activities. Elected to the presidency of the Kansas City Alumnae Club in 1917, she helped to increase the membership from 8 to 125. Moving to Los Angeles, she accepted the position of vice president of the Los Angeles Alumnae Club in 1924.

Returning to Arkansas in 1928, Mary resumed her service to Arkansas Alpha, which has continued without interruption to the present time. She has served continuously as the chapter's financial advisor and she has been treasurer of the Arkansas Alpha House Corporation since its organization. She, aided by her husband's knowledge of building, played a key role in the construction of the chapter's handsome present day home in 1956, now completely free of debt.

Mary Campbell Gregory was chairman of the national Endowment Fund Committee and has attended nine national conventions, as well as the installations of both Arkansas Beta and Tennessee Delta chapters. She has been active in the local alumnae club and was instrumental in starting the Fayetteville Mothers' Club.

Each year at the Founders' Day banquet "A Tribute to Loyalty" is read and a Mary Campbell Gregory Service Award is given to the Pi Phi, "be she an alumna or active member who has strived and excelled in exemplifying the same spirit and loyalty of Arkansas Alpha's first lady."

The tribute concludes, "Although the Fraternity owes its beginning . . . to the Founders, its development through the years is due to the devotion and loyalty of its members. To us, this particular member's devotion is a joy, a blessing and an inspiration. . . . This woman is to us the epitome of fraternity and fellowship. This woman symbolizes the very ideals for which we stand."

Now retired, Mary's activities have been curtailed for health reasons, but she continues her love and affection for "her girls" of Arkansas Alpha and all Pi Phis everywhere.

Cooky-Shine Fetes Special Housemother

Winter quarter was the first time Washington Alpha has ever had a cooky-shine for a housemother. It was pretty exciting for us to surprise Mrs. Ethyl McKennon Hart, a Pi Phi from Washington Beta. Mrs. Hart is an active alumna and will be a Golden Arrow in 1975. Not only does she play bridge with Pi Phi alumnae, but she is also an opera buff, and attends the repertory theatre.

We began the evening by blindfolding Mrs. Hart and taking her down the stairs and into the living room. We were anxiously waiting for her and singing the cooky-shine song. The candles were lit, she was led into the room by the president, and placed in front of all of us. Her blindfold was taken off and she was so surprised to discover a Pi Phi angel with her own Pi Phi nightgown underneath it. But the biggest surprise for Mrs. Hart was that the cooky-shine was for her!

Nancy Smith, Indiana Epsilon, was one of five juniors named to Phi Beta Kappa at DePauw University in March. This is the first year that juniors were elected to the honor society. Nancy is majoring in bacteriology and plans to do laboratory work or research after graduation.

Powder Puff Hockey Stimulates Greek Spirit

by CORRINE PERRY, Vermont Beta

As part of the University of Vermont's Winter Week activities, Vermont Beta's Pi Phi Pucks opposed Delta Delta Delta sorority in a powder puff hockey game. Hoping to clinch the title for the fourth year in a row, we went into action with high spirit.

The boys from UVM's Division II Championship hockey team filled the coaching roles and did a commendable job explaining the basic rules as we violated them.

Subie Allen proved to be the stellar player, scoring Pi Phi's two goals. Unfortunately, Carol McManama's goal effort was disqualified and Pi Phi lost 3-2.

But Greek spirit was high, which was the game's actual goal, thus the game was a huge success in this respect. Vermont Beta is looking for a revenge in 1975 and hopes to bring the title back to the original holders.

Senior Participates In WHIP Program

by ROBIN BROWNE
Michigan Alpha

Michigan Alpha is especially proud of its senior member Kitty Steidl who participated in Hillsdale College's WHIP program for the fall semester of 1973.

WHIP stands for Washington-Hillsdale Intern Program and consists of sending four outstanding students studying political economy to Washington, D.C., each semester. These students are selected for their interest in the program, scholastic ability, and character.

Kitty lived in Arlington, Va., attending classes at George Washington University, Georgetown University, and working on Capitol Hill. This experience gave her the opportunity to meet with various political figures, attend both Republican and Democratic party functions, and gain an insight into the workings of our government.

Kitty describes her experience as quite rewarding. Not only did she learn about aspects of government which cannot be gathered from textbooks, but she experienced the excitement of living in Washington, D.C.

Attends Arrowmont

Ginny Land, a sophomore at the University of Nevada, Reno, had the honor of being chosen to represent the Nevada Alpha chapter of Pi Beta Phi at Arrowmont for a two week session. Ginny left for Tennessee the first week of June. Ginny selected stitchery and ceramics to study while she is there. Her major is special education and she felt that these could be beneficial to her in her future profession as she may be able to teach the children these crafts.

Upon Ginny's return, the chapter will get a full account of her memorable experiences.

Florida State Hosts Panhellenic Meet

by TERI MORRIS
Florida Beta

Over 700 representatives from southeastern colleges and universities attended the biannual SEPC (Southeastern Panhellenic Conference) March 29 and 30, hosted by Florida State University in Tallahassee. Florida Betas were extremely involved in the success of the two-day conference-workshops through the efforts of Panhellenic delegate, Billye Heritage, assistant programming chairman for the conference.

The guests arrived Friday afternoon, registered, and participated in a mixer in the union complex for all delegates early that evening. The participants were divided into groups which enabled freer conversation and then drew posters demonstrating the purpose of college Panhellenic. These posters were later displayed at the banquet Saturday evening which concluded the two-day affair.

The visiting delegates returned to the chapter houses of their hosts where they participated in mixers. Those staying with FSU Pi Phi enjoyed pizza and entertainment by the "Band of Angels," a newly formed ensemble headed by song chairman Peggy Brady. The group focused on a few popular country-western numbers.

Saturday morning following breakfast, delegates, leaders, and recorders met at the union for the first of the day's workshops. Seven topics were covered by the conference: sorority organization—activity coordination in chapter and Panhellenic, idea exchange, rush techniques, rush organization, chapter goals and membership involvement, campus communication, and alumnae involvement. These topics were decided upon earlier by the hosting Panhellenic. The Florida Betas were very much a part of the success of the conference with four leaders of task or discussion groups—Billie Bivins, a leader of the leaders; Mary Donahue; Billye Heritage, assistant programming chairman for the conference; and Susan Respass; three recorders—Sharon Peach, Susan Snow, and Julie Stein; and 15 delegates, the maximum number allotted to any chapter.

A business meeting followed lunch when it was decided to hold the 1976 conference at Auburn University. The remaining task groups were completed during the afternoon.

Dinner, buffet style, was served in the union complex. Guest speaker, Dr. Dean Dugger, Ph.D. in Guidance in Education, spoke on the qualities of leadership. Following her most enlightening talk, recognition of conference organizers was given by the FSU Panhellenic president. Summaries of the day's groups were given by the seven leaders of group discussion.

The conference was truly successful. Many useful ideas were gained by all, but perhaps the most important was that if Greeks are to continue to be successful, they must work together for the benefit of all fraternities.

Coordinates Careers, Opportunities Conference

Joan Simonetti, a senior member of West Virginia Gamma, recently concluded her duties as student coordinator for a Careers and Opportunities Conference in Business and Administration at the Thomas E. Millsop Leadership Center in Bethany, W.Va. The program, sponsored jointly by the Economics Department, the Student Board of Governors, the Placement Office, and the Continuing Education Department, was held during the evenings of March 11-14, 1974.

Guest speakers, representing businesses, administrative agencies, and graduate schools, discussed a variety of job opportunities. This was one of the first student-initiated career programs at Bethany for the benefit of area high school and college students.

A trend has been set at Bethany, and student interest in this area of conference planning is now greatly increased. With the recent development of a Continuing Education Department and a new curriculum program which gives academic credit for various practicum and curriculum projects, many more conferences of this nature will be planned for the benefit of students and community members in the Wheeling, Bethany, and Steubenville area.

Cooperation Results In Spirit Award

by DENISE GUNSEL
Pennsylvania Epsilon

Through the combined efforts of everyone in this chapter, Pennsylvania Epsilon was able to capture both first place and the Spirit Award in this year's Sigma Chi Derby Day.

This event was spread over a four-day span. During each of these days, the sororities competed for points through various activities.

Thursday began with "Golden Derby Day." The Sigma Chis placed four golden derbies at various locations on campus, phoning each sorority the clues. We were fortunate to find the second one, giving us ten points.

The "Derby Snatch," taking place on Friday, pushed our score even higher, as we were able to "snatch" the most derbies—almost thirty. The Sigma Chis wore their derbies to classes, spending a hectic day dodging the sorority girls chasing them—if they were clever enough to make it from their house to campus.

Having the most girls at the "Free for All" on Saturday, which took place on our student union building lawn, lifted our spirits even more. We were lucky again to grab almost thirty hats—without too many casualties! During the entire afternoon we sang and cheered ourselves along.

That night at the dance "jammy" at the Sigma Chi house the Derby Day Queen was announced. Although we didn't win this, we were proud to hear Patty Spencer, our representative, announced as second runner-up.

Games, relays, and best coach's costume were the activities that filled the final day. We took several first places in games such as the bat spin, quick-change (in sleeping bags), and second places for our costumes and in the "musical mud tubs."

Throughout these four days we made posters to put up in the Sigma Chi house, a life size drawing of our Derby Day Darling, cheered at the Sigma Chis intramural games, and sang songs about Derby Day, Pi Phi, and the Sigma Chis. All this, along with our enthusiasm and togetherness, acquired for us the Spirit Award.

We enjoyed all the activities and winning, but the best aspect of this Derby Day was the sisterhood feeling of working together for Pi Phi, and seeing all the love working towards something we all wanted.

Riverboat Cruise Is Formal Dance Setting

Illinois Beta-Delta took advantage of their close proximity to the Mississippi River for their spring formal in May. With early planning, they were able to rent the "Julie II," a beautiful four hundred passenger old fashioned riverboat, to cruise the Mississippi for three hours. The evening began at 6:30 with a gourmet meal served aboard the ship for the chapter members and their dates. Two hours later, other guests arrived and prepared for launch at 9:00 P.M.

Not only was everyone able to enjoy the soft, romantic view of a river at night, but those craving excitement enjoyed dancing to a Dixieland band on the lower level of the riverboat. Everyone agreed that this unique idea for the formal was a huge success, as all enjoyed the evening.

Two Earn Positions On Alabama Swim Team

Two University of Alabama pledges have set their goals high this year in the area of women's swimming and diving. Marsha Crouch and Beth Sprigg have represented the University at meets throughout the South as members of the University of Alabama Women's Swimming and Diving Team.

Marsha's biggest thrill this year was winning first place in the one meter diving competition at the University of Alabama Invitational tournament.

Beth is a member of the women's swimming team. Her specialty is in the breast stroke.

Both girls participated in the A.A.U. meet before their college competition. This meet is the highest area of competition before trying out for the Olympics.

"Old South Week" Charms Texas Belles

by CYNTHIA GROSSMAN
Texas Beta

Among the many exciting activities in which Texas Beta participated this spring semester, one of the most fun-filled weeks occurred during March. The Kappa Alpha fraternity invited the Texas Betas to participate in the traditional "Old South Week." The big event started off with an informal dinner on Tuesday night. The following night the KAs planned a cocktail party in a private residence. The Pi Phi belles appeared in semiformals contributing Pi Phi elegance to the affair.

The KA beaus, bedecked in the traditional gray and blue Confederate uniforms, gallantly rode up to the Pi Phi house delivering invitations to the grand finale of the week, the Old South Ball. The rider on horseback, an antique cannon, and a brigade of Confederate soldiers intensified the patriotism and spirit which filled the entire week. Afterwards, still singing Dixie tunes, all belles and soldiers boarded buses and went to a popular Mexican restaurant in Fort Worth for a good spicy meal. The Pi Phi charm was never lost even though everyone's mouth was on fire from the hot food!!

The week reached its climax at the Old South Ball on Friday night. Southern hospitality prevailed and the spirited atmosphere never ceased. The ladies displayed Southern Belle outfits and the men wore Confederate attire. A huge Confederate flag, belonging to the KA chapter since the late 1800's, covered a sizeable portion of the ballroom wall. Familiar southern tunes were played throughout the party, emphasizing the celebration that it was.

The week came to an end with a casual party at an amusement park.

To the Kappa Alpha Southern Gentlemen and the Texas Beta Belles of SMU there was no doubt that the "South has Risen."

Scholars Get Sundaes At Special Dinner

by MEGAN McCLOSKEY, Ohio Epsilon

Scholarship is one of the many aspects of the life of a Pi Phi and Ohio Epsilon has found a very special, fun way to reward those sisters who have done well during the preceding quarter. We all get together for a scholarship dinner.

After a full course meal, desserts are served according to grade point. If your grades happen to have slid down to a 2.2, all of a sudden graham crackers become your craving. On the other hand, if you were a bookworm last quarter and were lucky enough to get a 4.0, you ask yourself, "What is a diet?", and then dive into a double-decker hot fudge sundae.

Awards are presented to the sister with the highest grade average and the sister showing the most improvement. The favorite award of the active chapter is the "Smarty Pants Award." A pair of light blue bikini underwear, with Smarty Pants in wine letters, is given to the pledge with the highest grade point.

Julie Parker, Mississippi Beta, represented the Commonwealth of Virginia as the 1974 Virginia Cherry Blossom Princess in the annual festival held in March. Julie attended the University of Mississippi during her freshman and sophomore years, and is a graduating senior at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Va.

Tracie Overturf, Oklahoma Alpha, keeps her feet moving during the muscular dystrophy dance marathon at the University of Oklahoma.

Dancers' Efforts Aid Dystrophy Drive

by CINDI MYERS Oklahoma Alpha

For the past two years the chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon at the University of Oklahoma has sponsored a dance marathon. The purpose of the dance marathon is to raise funds for muscular dystrophy.

Anyone can participate in the marathon as long as there is a backing group. This year 29 couples participated. Since there may be more than one couple still participating at the end of the three day marathon, the final winner is determined by which couple has the most money backing them. Both years Oklahoma Alpha has won!

This year our representatives were Tracie Overturf and her partner, Kevin Craig. The amount of money that the chapter helped raise by collecting and contributing was $1,756.00.

Sell For Easter Seals

Members of the philanthropies interest committee of South Dakota Alpha recently participated in Casino Night, this year's theme for the annual USD Charity Carnival. The carnival is a fund raising activities fair for the Easter Seal Society. Pi Phis busily prepared by baking brownies, cookies, and other goodies to sell at their table.

Hold Party For Toronto Favorite

An annual event which has long been a favourite of the Ontario Alpha chapter is the birthday party for Mary Herdman Scott. Mrs. Scott, a lively 84 years young, is the oldest Pi Phi in Toronto.

Although Mary Scott was a California Alpha active, she has adopted Ontario Alpha as her own since her residence is in Toronto. She has always been an inspiration and help to the chapter, and sets a good example for Pi Phis by her community involvement in the Toronto area, in addition to her activities in the local alumnae club.

The programme for Mary Scott's birthday party included a speaker from the Toronto Indian Community Centre. Centre Assistant Director, Mrs. Smith, herself an Ojibwa, spoke of the problems of newly arrived reserve Indians in a city the size of Toronto, and also told of the services performed by the Centre.

Good Rush Results Follow Discussion

by SUE MARRA, Colorado Beta

In the fall of 1973, formal rush brought the Colorado Beta chapter closer together. We have always been a close group of girls, and in that respect we are lucky to be working with only 40 members. Our house faced the problem of keeping the rushees we wanted interested in Pi Phi and hopefully pledging. We often find ourselves too preoccupied with the happiness we have with the house and our "sisters" and forget that we should be rushing and selling Pi Phi. We had group discussions, thinking of topic discussions and the meaning of Pi Phi, and how to convey this to our prospective pledges.

We performed a skit which had not been done in years. Needless to say, the cast had just as much fun as our audience. With the outgoing personality of Caryl Lenahan, membership advisor, our spirit and enthusiasm were kept in the drive to have a great pledge class.

Named Tucson Woman of the Year

by JUDITH PLANTING

Tucson A.C.

The Tucson Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi salutes Mary Lucas Acosta, Illinois Theta—an outstanding alum and a significant feminine force in the changing civic and cultural horizon of Tucson, Ariz.

Voted Tucson Woman of the Year for 1973 and one of 20 Arizona women named to "Outstanding Young Women in America" in 1972, Mary is the wife of Surgeon Reuben Acosta and the mother of two daughters, Pilar, 9, and Melissa, 7.

Recognition from male community leaders was extended to Mary in 1973, when she was named the first and only woman member of the Tucson Chamber of Commerce. She is also the only female member of Development Authority for Tucson Economy.

These accolades have come to Mary as a result of years of dedicated community service, beginning when her husband was still in medical training. In 1966 she served as chairwoman of a massive cancer-prevention program directed to the Spanish-speaking citizenry of Tucson. She was president of the Pima County Medical Auxiliary and currently serves as a director.

Recognition of the unique cultural blendings in Tucson, situated near the Mexican border, stimulated in Mary a desire to preserve its special qualities and to foster intercultural understanding and cooperation.

Una Noche Plateada (One Silvery Night) was the child of this interest. Originally conceived as an annual ball to benefit the Cancer Society and to bring together the various ethnic groups of Tucson in a common effort, UNP has since grown into an independent organization benefitting its own charities. Mary was first chairwoman of the ball and first president of the organization, which has to date contributed over $60,000 to various charities.

Mary's community activities stretch out to encompass arts, music, history, education, and medicine. With others, Mary founded Los Tucsonenses to present Hispanic cultural works to the community. She organized the Historic Tucson Committee to involve citizens in preserving historic sites and the heritage of Tucson. She was subsequently named to the first Tucson Historical Committee. She is current president of the Cultural Exchange Council, which she founded in 1972 to develop exchanges between Tucson and Old Mexico in hopes of increasing the appreciation of each for its neighbor. To this end, she served as chairwoman of "Fandango in Old Town," a fund-raising benefit for the council.

In 1971, Mary organized Project Unity for persons of all racial, religious, and ethnic backgrounds. It aims toward eradicating discrimination and opening communication between these groups.

With activities and accomplishments almost too numerous to list, Mary Lucas Acosta may seem like a Super Pi Phi to some of us living at a slower pace. With all, she has not been too busy to stay close to Pi Beta Phi, contributing to the alumnae advisory board in Tucson and continuing to open her house and heart to various Fraternity and alumnae activities.

Mary says she is also a sports fan, who enjoys fishing, golf, and horseback-riding. She is a self-taught artist, who "loves" to oil paint, though her time at this is limited by her apparent first-love—community involvement and PEOPLE!

Mary is the third Pi Beta Phi alumna in four years to capture the coveted Tucson "Woman of the Year" award.

Spends Junior Year Studying In Rome

by CHRISTINE VAN DEVELDE
Massachusetts Alpha

Last year, Massachusetts Alpha chapter had a Pi Phi abroad! Betsey Hitchcock spent her junior year abroad studying at the Rome Center Campus of Loyola University of Chicago.

The Rome Center Campus, the largest American study program abroad, has been in existence for ten years. Approximately 250 Americans study there every year in the humanities curriculum.

Betsey enjoyed many trips throughout Europe during her stay. Over spring vacation, she toured western Europe and Scandinavia for three weeks. Students would take week-end trips to Florence, Venice, Assisi, and other small towns in Italy, also.

While in Europe, Betsey was able to enjoy many cultural activities such as the opera, museums of art, and the European architecture. Betsey particularly enjoyed herself, because she is an art history major with a special interest in Italian Baroque painting.

Betsey came back this year, fluent in Italian and chock full of stories about her stay. While she was there, we Pi Phis in Massachusetts sent her some of the things she missed the most about the U.S. in a CARE package—snack food not sold in Europe.

"Traveling in Europe makes you want to travel in the U.S., to explore your own country. And going to school with people from all over the U.S. gives you a reason—to visit all your new friends!!!" says Betsey.

Performs At Duke

Liz Kern, North Carolina Beta sophomore, was a member of the cast for the production of "Promises, Promises." Hoof'n Horn, Duke's theatrical organization, held its annual performance April 5-6 and again for graduation in May. Liz also performed at an outdoor concert held at the school, and enjoys singing at local coffeehouses. As co-rush chairman for the coming year, Liz feels music is a very important aspect of rush because the songs represent the unique qualities of each chapter.

Maureen Maloney, Indiana Delta, has been chosen as one of 33 princesses in the 1974 Indianapolis 500 Festival. Maureen is a junior, majoring in education, and is a Pep Girl.

"Good News" Musical Is Good News To Pi Phis

Something new has been added to the updated version of the musical "Good News," and it provided a special thrill for pledges, actives, and alumnae of Ontario Alpha.

The production, at the O'Keefe Centre in Toronto, sets the mood for the second act with the song, "The Girls of Pi Beta Phi." The stage is set in pink satin and chinitz to resemble the interior of a sorority house. The Pi Phi song is sung by a lead character, Pat, played by Jana Robbins.

The new version of "Good News" is adapted and directed by Abe Burrows, and stars Alice Faye, John Payne, and Stubby Kaye. Among the better known songs of the show are "The Best Things In Life Are Free," "You're the Cream In My Coffee," and "Button Up Your Overcoat."

True to its genre, there is a lively display of jitterbugging in "Good News." "The Varsity Drag" number, sung and danced by Barbara Lail and company, is almost a show stopper.

But what really stopped the show for the Pi Phi was that first solo of the second act, "The Girls of Pi Beta Phi."

Austrian Student Lives With Chapter

by ANNE COURTNEY
Montana Alpha

There was a bit of "The Sound of Music" at the Pi Phi house in Bozeman, Mont., this year. Agnes Klotz, a foreign exchange student from Salzburg, Austria, lived with the chapter. Agnes added greatly to the spirit of the house, with her midnight talks in German—in her sleep. Her main subject at Montana State was English, and she kept up on her German by exchanging tapes with friends and family in Austria. Often Agnes could be heard talking into her mike in the wee hours of the morning. Before coming to Montana, Agnes taught English in an Austrian school.

Although an English major, Agnes branched out into other subject areas at MSU. In the winter quarter she enrolled in five physical education courses, including skiing, badminton, bowling, swimming, and judo. We could just see her throwing down some of her less cooperative students back in Austria!

Christmas was one of Agnes's favorite times. She gave each of us the Austrian form of "Silent Night," which was composed in Salzburg. With a slide presentation, Agnes also showed the members of Montana Alpha what Christmas is like in Austria.

Hidden Talent Surprises

The clanging of metal on metal brought a swift round of applause from the spectators as Cal Delta Pi Phi Sandy McNamara made her victory ringer and walked off with the UCLA coed horseshoe throwing championship. Sandy, having played horseshoes since she was young, teamed up with a friend from her home town of Salinas and found little competition from the city folk at UCLA. They won their matches 17-6, 16-3, 15-11, and 15-11, with frequent ringers made by both Sandy and her partner.

The Pi Phis at UCLA were surprised and excited to have Sandy win this championship and have her skill and hidden talent recognized.

Jambalaya Jamborie included "A Man For No Seasons," presented by Louisiana Beta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Cajun Festivities Provide Campus Fun

Every spring on the campus of LSU the traditional "Jambalaya Jamborie" is held. Better known as Jam-Jam, this Greek sponsored event combines food, entertainment, and fun into a day of Louisiana Cajun Festivities. Sororities and fraternities get together and work up skits for the entertainment and they set up booths serving such Louisiana delicacies as boiled crawfish, jambalaya, and boudin. Much like a circus, the whole campus turns out for this day of fun.

This year Louisiana Beta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity combined efforts to present a skit entitled, "A Man For No Seasons," or better known as "The War of the Oranges." The skit was a trial to convict Coach for the use of bad grammar in his latest commercial, and it was a great success.

Winter Carnival Queen

Kathy Swanson, Nevada Alpha, was chosen Winter Carnival Queen 1974 by the male student body on campus. Kathy took part in snow activities for that week with the other seven contestants, building snow sculptures, watching ski races, and presiding over the Winter Carnival party. Pi Phis were very proud to have the Winter Carnival Queen for two consecutive years.

Several Involved In Student Government

by JACKIE NICHOLS
Minnesota Alpha

Minnesota Alpha Pi Phis are involved with the government of the University of Minnesota.

Carolyn Houpt was appointed to the University Greek Consultative Committee, the executive body which coordinates all Greek, alumni, and University activities and stimulates the system in carrying out effective programming. Carolyn has served as chairman of both the communication and rush committees and works closely with Panhellenic on several other committees.

Ann Zoebisch and Carolyn both worked with the University Community Program, with Ann serving as the over-all U of M coordinator. The University Community Program acts as an orientation program for high school seniors and their parents. Ann Zoebisch is also a senator to the Minnesota Student Association, representing the School of Pharmacy.

Terri Wray is a member of the governing body of the College of Liberal Arts. Wendy Wildung is a member of the Board of Publications, another governing body of the University. Miki McGee served on the Student Behavior Committee and has been selected to serve as an orientation leader.

Yacht Is Asset

A pledge with a yacht is a terrific asset, especially when planning a big sister kidnap. Little sisters of Oregon Delta awakened their big sisters early one brisk morning, loaded them aboard the yacht, and set sail up the Columbia River.

After docking at Parkers Landing in Camas, Wash., the big sisters were led to a beautiful buffet breakfast, followed by a stroll through some of the shops before sailing for home.

Six o'clock in the morning didn't seem too bad after the wonderful surprise and delicious breakfast.

Legacy Luncheon Previews Fashions

by BETTY MANAHAN MORAU

Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Central Orange County held its Second Annual Legacy Luncheon on March 2, 1974. A preview of spring fashions for children through collegians and a bridal gown finale were shown. Nina McConnell Winn was general chairman for the event.

Decorations were centered around brightly colored, candy-filled apothecary jars tied with "country-look" plaid-gingham ribbon. These were used as centerpieces and were offered in a drawing. In addition several all-expense paid trips and a coveted gourmet-dine-out dinner restaurant package were raffled.

A successful Arrowcraft sale was held immediately preceding the benefit.

Entertaining before the luncheon was the Southern California Acrobatic Team—home of Kathy Rigby. The young ladies did their floor exercises and then each did an individual specialty "act."

Proceeds from the fashion show benefit will go to March of Dimes on Birth Defects, Outstanding Pledge of Phi Province, and Arrowmont.

The program cover was a drawing of the bust of a mother and child, carrying out the "legacy" theme. This was designed by Arthur

Beaumont, formerly the official artist for the United States Navy. His paintings hang in the Pentagon, the White House, and in numerous private collections. Mr. Beaumont is the father of Barbara Beaumont Dreibelbis, the president-elect of Central Orange County Alumnae Club for 1974-1975.

Taking advantage of the historical beauty of the Old South, Pi Phis from Louisiana Beta gathered one afternoon for a group portrait. The chapter is shown in front of the servant's quarters on Burden Plantation, located a few miles from Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. The picture will appear in the 1974 edition of the GUMBO, LSU yearbook.

Bride's Pin Honors Helen Eisenhower

by JULIE HEMBROCK
Pennsylvania Epsilon

Nineteen years ago, Pennsylvania Epsilon decided to start a tradition in honor of one of our alumnae—Helen Eakin Eisenhower. Mrs. Eisenhower was the wife of Penn State's past president, Milton Stover Eisenhower. As a charter member of the State College Alumnae Club, she watched Pennsylvania Epsilon become the one-hundredth chapter of Pi Beta Phi. As a tribute to the time and love devoted to the Fraternity, the Helen Eakin Eisenhower Bride's Pin was chosen as our remembrance to her.

The pin is worn or carried on the bridal costume of every member of Pennsylvania Epsilon. A book is sent with the pin for every girl to sign her name, her husband's name, the date and place of marriage. This pin serves as our remembrance and, just as importantly, strengthens the bonds between the actives and alumnae of our Fraternity.

Is Distinguished Woman

Betty Forney Mitchell, Colorado Beta, was one of fifteen outstanding women from around the world to receive the Northwood Institute Distinguished Women's Award in Houston, Tex., last November.

The purpose of this annual award, established in 1970, is to give individual recognition to the women for their involvement with, and assistance in the development of the college, and their outstanding contributions to their communities and to the nation.

In announcing Mrs. Mitchell's award, Dr. Turner, president of Northwood Institute, said, "Betty Mitchell has been named a 'Distinguished Woman' because of her continuous dedication to civic and humanitarian activities within her community, her belief in higher education and in the Northwood idea, and her outstanding efforts on behalf of the Northwood of Michigan Library League, the Little Gallery and the Town and Campus Organization."

Planning Results In Successful Parties

by SANDY PORTZ
Washington Gamma

Rush for the University of Puget Sound Pi Phi was full of new parties and new costumes, and resulted in twenty new pledges. The first party was a Roaring 20's Bash complete with flapper dresses, old movie posters, popcorn machine, Charlie Chaplin skit, and our traditional teaching of "Pi Phi, Beta Phi" (which was heard the entire week in the rushees' dormitory). The only problem with this party was an occasional Chaplin moustache falling to the floor.

The second party was held at the university chancellor's house overlooking beautiful Puget Sound. Fortunately no rain fell on our Ice Cream Social that featured ice cream sundaes, a barbershop quartet, and a favorite song "Our House."

The third party had the Hawaiian touch of long, colorful dresses, fruit salad, an original hula, and many fresh flowers native to Hawaii, sent to us especially for this party. Our preference party was the usual success with the reading of an open letter to a little sister from her soon-to-be big sister in Pi Phi. After receiving our twenty new faces, we scrapped our usual banquet idea for a much more relaxed atmosphere of swimming, talking, tennis, and all the picnic fixings we could eat.

Bake Valentine Cookies

This year for Valentine's Day, Oregon Beta decided to share the occasion with a local nursing home. The girls baked heart-shaped sugar cookies to give to the old folks. We went from room to room singing songs, giving out the cookies, and talking with the people there. We talked with them for quite a while, as we could tell they enjoyed visitors. We got a lot of surprised looks as they watched fifty girls come in to each of the rooms. I think we gained as much from it as the old folks did—all of us left with a lump in our throats after talking with them and decided that we don't need a special occasion to visit those who aren't as fortunate as we.

ATTENTION ALUMNAE:

Can you help? Our collegiate chapters need voluntary information about prospective rushees more than ever before. In some instances, your advance letter or Rush Information Form may be the only way a chapter can learn of girls for consideration. Your assistance is vital! If you know of a girl planning to attend a school where there is a Pi Phi chapter, will you please forward information without delay. Don't wait for the formal rush period because most chapters today have informal and open rush periods as well.

Any alumna may be a personal reference for any girl, regardless of where the girl lives.

Please fill in as much information as available on both sides of the form.

All Greeks Benefit From Innovations

by KAREN DEVINCENT
West Virginia Alpha

West Virginia Alpha, as well as other Greeks and the university Panhellenic Council, will feel the loss of a sister and an outstanding worker because Paige Cornwell was graduated this spring.

Paige became a member of Pan during her second semester as a sophomore. The second meeting she was elected assistant rush chairman and the following year, was elected head rush chairman. Since she became a member of Pan, she has initiated so many new programs and ideas that the Greek system as a whole benefited.

One of the most important programs she initiated was the rush counselors program which provides that every rushee has a personal rush counselor. The first time this program was put into effect, the rate of rushee drops decreased almost 50%, and for the first time in WVU history, every rushee who signed a bid slip pledged a sorority. The counselor system also initiated friendships between rushees and counselors which lasted long after rush was over.

Paige was responsible for starting a Greek get-together before rush. She began with her own sorority. Pi Phis sent out invitations to all other sororities inviting them to a brunch the day before rush began. It was so successful that there was 100% participation. Now Pan has taken over the idea and sponsors the get-togethers to keep the Greek spirits high.

Other ideas which Paige initiated include the establishment of a quota system by which every rushee can be placed in a house. The idea of helping girls move into the dorms at the beginning of the fall term became effective. Paige herself edited a new rush booklet. It was her idea to allow houses to go to a more individual type party planning and execution. Informal rush was started, allowing rushees to dress more casually than before.

Exchange dinners between Greek houses were experimented with in the past year and Pan has sponsored fraternity and sorority pledge get-togethers. Pan now tries to send two girls from each house to the National Panhellenic Convention. Greek Week was changed so that it is now of value to the entire campus as well as to the Greeks. The system by which Pan rotated the presidency from house to house was changed so that each sorority now has a fair chance to field the best girl for the job. And through Paige's work, Pan meetings are held at the various sorority houses so that the members can get to know each other on a more personal basis.

It's a safe bet that Paige Cornwell's influence will be felt on the West Virginia University campus for many years to come.

Is Homecoming Queen

The Pi Phis of Tennessee Beta upheld their reputation as campus leaders of school spirit last fall when junior Kari Peterson was crowned the 1973 Homecoming Queen. Accompanying her on the court was another of our juniors, Emily Martin. Kari's reign again brought campus recognition to Pi Phi, as three of the last five homecoming queens at Vanderbilt have been members of our chapter.

Judy Kepler joined Kari and three new pledges, Cindy Love, Ann Sillard, and Pam McCreary, in cheering the Commodores to a basketball victory in the Southeastern Conference.

Mrs. Kent Advances To Vice Presidency

Glodean Kerkmann Kent, California Delta, has just been named executive vice president of radio stations KKZZ and KOTE-FM Stereo in Lancaster, Calif. In her new position she will be responsible for the overall management of the stations.

Glodean pledged Pi Phi and was initiated at UCLA where she graduated with a major in English. She attended the University of Michigan her junior year.

In 1956 she joined the staff of KBVM (now KKZZ) as a sales representative. In 1971 she joined the staff of KOTE-FM as an account executive and in November of that year was appointed sales manager.

Glodean served four years as president of the Antelope Valley Alumnae Club and attended the Centennial Convention in Chicago as its representative. In addition, she is active in several other local organizations.

Two Are Special To Kentucky Alpha Chapter

by DEBBIE DALTON, Kentucky Alpha

Next October Kentucky Alpha will celebrate its 50th anniversary. Our chapter has two people who have special connections with Founders of the Fraternity and this chapter.

The first is Thelma Knebelkamp Long who was one of the founding members of this chapter. Her granddaughter, Leslie, is our president, and both women have made great contributions to our chapter.

Mrs. Long is active in the alumnae club and is Arrowcraft chairman in the Louisville area. She represented Iota Province at the 1973 Convention as our Angel Award recipient. Leslie is carrying on in her grandmother's footsteps. She was in Cwens, and acted as pledge supervisor for the recent pledge class.

The second person, although not a member of the Fraternity, has a relative who was a famous Pi Phi. He is Dr. James Grier Miller, president of the University of Louisville, and his grandmother, Ada Bruen Grier, as we all know, was one of the founders of Pi Beta Phi at Monmouth College. His sister was also a Pi Phi at Tulsa. Dr. Miller has a soft spot in his heart for our sorority, and we enjoy talking to him. He recently joined us at our annual spring formal dinner.

Not only does this chapter have people with connections with the past, but some of our current members are setting some pretty high records. Freshman Karen Leibert was named the U of L's Mountain Laurel queen candidate, and junior Karen Shuff was a runner-up in the same contest. Ms. Leibert was also chosen Outstanding Freshman Woman.

Scholarship Cup Retired

We're always hearing comments that Greeks are all-social with no pursuit of scholastic achievement. Not so with the Michigan Alphas! After retiring the scholarship cup several semesters back, we were determined to win the new scholarship cup, which we did! With all the girls in the house working hard, the result was an all-house average of 3.1—enough to place the Michigan Alphas at the head of the class. Our goal now is to retire the cup once again—the requirement being three semesters consecutively.

Executive Receives Appointment

The appointment of Pat Penney, Kansas Alpha, nationally known public relations executive, to the faculty of the University of Southern California School of Journalism, was announced in February by Dr. Theodore E. Kruglak, school director.

Ms. Penney, who is vice president-corporate relations for a Los Angeles-based health-facility organization, joined the USC faculty as a senior instructor in advanced public relations. A former president of the Women's Division, Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce, Ms. Penney served as national secretary of the Public Relations Society of America. She is the only woman ever elected president of the Los Angeles chapter of PRSA. A former president of the Los Angeles chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional fraternity for women in journalism, Ms. Penney was the organization's "National Headliner" in 1965.

The new USC faculty member is the winner of many awards, including PRSA's Silver Anvil Award for excellence in the field of banking, finance and insurance.

The Hot Springs (Ark.) Alumnae Club recently donated $100 to Arkansas Beta in the name of the chapter president, Becky Green, a Hot Springs native, for her services to Pi Beta Phi. The money will be used to help buy carpeting for the chapter room.

Three Elected To Panhellenic Posts

by ELLEN BLISS Colorado Gamma

Colorado Gamma is proud of the three members who were elected to Panhellenic Council offices for 1974-75. Barb Wallace is vice president of pledge relations, Ellen Bliss is treasurer, and Marti Moore holds the office of inter-Greek coordinator. Ellen succeeds another Colorado Gamma member, Cody Seiler, as treasurer. Zanne Green was panhellenic rush chairman for 1973-74.

This spring, in an effort to promote Greek and non-Greek relations, Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council, along with the Associated Students of Colorado State University, sponsored a special handicapped Olympics for children in Fort Collins and Loveland. Over 200 Greeks and independents worked on a one to one basis with the handicapped children. Panhellenic hopes more cooperative events such as this will help the Greek image on the C.S.U. campus.

Receive Grants From Scholarship Fund

This past year, Pat Mugge and Gail Whitney, Ohio Zeta, were the recipients of grants from the Eta Province Scholarship Fund. Alumnae clubs from Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Dayton, and Portsmouth contribute to this fund which is available to chapter members at Miami University, Ohio University, and Ohio State University.

Gail, from Manhasset, N.Y., graduated from Miami University in June, 1974. Receiving a bachelor's degree in Applied Science, Gail plans to continue her education in Urban Studies at the graduate level. Pat, a junior at Miami University, is from Kettering, Ohio. Pat's major is interior design.

The grants are awarded for the purpose of helping the recipients pay local and national Pi Beta Phi expenses. Factors considered in awarding the grants included activities within the chapter and on campus, scholarship, family responsibilities, financial need, and recommendations. Five grants in all are awarded annually.

Completes 26 Years Of Chapter Service

After twenty-six years of dedicated service, Miss Marie Helmer has retired from the Washington Gamma alumnae advisory board. She was the first board chairman when Kappa Sigma Theta became Washington Gamma in September, 1948.

During her years of working with the chapter, it has won many national and province honors including three Amy B. Onken awards, the Harriet R. Johnstone Scholarship award, the National Scholarship Plaque in 1967 and again in 1971, the Alice Weber Johnson Bowl, and the Dr. Hazel Rutherford McCuaig Scholarship Award.

In leaving the alumnae advisory board Marie said, "It has been a wonderful long love affair. Washington Gamma has been good to work with. There have been lean years, problems, decisions; but they are marvelous women. We have a high regard for one another. It is special to be a Pi Phi, but it carries a real responsibility. High standards and ideals must always be maintained."

Washington Gamma has been very fortunate in having Marie Helmer.

Choi Yung Mee

Korean Child Is Adopted by N.C. Beta

by MARGO SOULÉ, North Carolina Beta

Choi Yung Mee is an adopted friend of North Carolina Beta. Duke Pi Phi is sponsoring Yung Mee through the Christian Children's Fund. Yung Mee is in the fifth grade at her school in Korea, where her favorite subject is Korean. Her favorite play is jump rope and her chores involve running errands. Duke Pi Phi enjoy corresponding with Yung Mee. At Christmas she sent us a beautiful Christmas card which she made and painted herself.

Last year we sponsored Yung Mee with the interest from our savings account. However, for next year we are discussing special projects, such as an afternoon jazz concert, with which to raise the money for Yung Mee. North Carolina Beta is proud to have Yung Mee as our new friend!

Swimmer Places In Championship Events

Once again honors are due to Cinda Shrader, Arizona Alpha, for her accomplishments in swimming. The last weekend in February, Cinda participated in the Western Athletic Conference (W.A.C.) Women's Swimming Championships held at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City. She placed first in the 100 butterfly, third in the 100 backstroke, fourth in the 50 butterfly, and fifth in the 50 backstroke. Cinda's University of Arizona team came in second behind Arizona State University.

Held on March 14, 15, and 16 at Penn State University was the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) National Swimming Championships. Cinda swam the 50 butterfly in 27.7 for seventh place, finished fourteenth in the 100 butterfly, sixteenth in the 50 backstroke, and eighteenth in the 100 backstroke. Most of the events had approximately 100 or more entries so Cinda deserves congratulations!

Alumnæ Are Special

by SUE ORNER, California Zeta

One important and necessary asset to each Pi Phi chapter is its alumnæ. At Santa Barbara we feel that ours are exceptionally helpful and enthusiastic.

Last winter quarter our alumnæ club put on a rummage sale to raise money for our chapter, and with their tremendous efforts the sale turned out to be a huge success.

The alumnæ always get excited about any of our activities, and are great supporters for our rushes. They raise our morale at hash meetings by bringing us special treats, and by reminding us that Pi Phi is number one!

Mrs. Smith, who is our pledge advisor, has each pledge class over to her house for a dinner to get to know the girls better, and she really enjoys coming to the pledge meetings to hear from the new members.

The alumnæ pull together with our chapter, and are always encouraged by any of our new ideas.

A rush workshop can get to be a serious business, so time out for relaxation is important. Here a group of Minnesota Alpha Pi Phis manage a spare moment or two for the photographer.

Special Dinners Are Favorite Activity

by PAM FITE, Arkansas Beta

Dinners seem to be a favorite activity of the members of Arkansas Beta this year. These dinners have produced a better unity with other sororities as well as within our own chapter.

Pi Phi held a lasagna dinner in our house with the Delta Delta Deltas bringing salad and bread. Favorite sorority songs were taught and sung around the piano with a lot of gossip and getting to know each other.

Arrowboard planned our annual awards dinner. Pledges gathered on the floor wearing the baby bibs made by their pledge moms, while members served the hamburgers and fixings. Afterwards, awards for funny experiences, weird songs, and campus achievements were presented. The big award was the Smiley award presented to the happiest Pi Phi of the month.

The "Invite a Friend" dinner was a big success when each member brought a "prospective" Pi Phi. Midst barbecue chicken and potato salad, Pi Phi talked to the girls about chapter activities and functions. The evening ended with songs and laughter.

Singer-Dancer Thrilled With Career

by VICKI TARNOW
Indiana Beta

Kathy Clark, Indiana Beta, returned to school last semester after four months as a featured singer-dancer at a Fort Worth, Texas, dinner theatre. "It's the most exciting thing in the world," Kathy said, speaking of her career. "What could be more thrilling than doing what you love to do and being paid for it?"

This was not Kathy's first experience in the entertainment field. She is a seasoned veteran of two summers as a singer and dancer at Cedar Point Amusement Park, performing in "Frontier Town" and "Centennial Theater." She has performed with the Indiana University Singing Hoosiers as one of their featured dancers, and served as a Pom-pon girl for two years.

In the little spare time that she has had, Kathy has contributed to the chapter as social chairman and choreographer for I.U. Sing, a fraternity-sorority musical production contest.

Kathy Clark, Indiana Beta

Jan Hill, an Illinois Eta senior, has received the Outstanding Marketing Student Award at Millikin University from the American Marketing Association. Jan received the award at the association's annual meeting in St. Louis.

Contributions Are Many

Maryland Beta will be sorry to see senior Dale Ganley leave but we are very thankful for all the contributions she's made to Pi Phi and to the campus.

Dale has always been an active member in Maryland Beta. Beginning as vice president of her pledge class, she worked her way up from program chairman, assistant pledge trainer to pledge trainer and finally to president.

Not only has she helped the sisters through her chapter work but she's always there to offer advice—be it personal or business. Her cheerful smile and zany antics keep her sisters in stitches.

She has been an active member in the University Panhellenic Association. She was social activities committee chairman, on the University Program Board, and chairman of the 1974 Bridal Fair.

For all her work she was named Panhellenic's Outstanding Sophomore Woman in 1972 and Outstanding Senior Woman in 1974—awards she well deserved.

Housemother Given Hawaiian Holiday

Two Chapters Give To Blood Program

Indiana Delta was without a cook for three weeks! Our housemother worked preparing meals, and spent long hours in the kitchen. The extra work was rough on her, but she wouldn't give up. However, even though she had endurance, it was evident that Mother LeVor needed a break, and a time of rest and relaxation. The chapter put heads together and came up with a plan.

It was a late night surprise party for Mother LeVor—it was "Mother LeVor, This Is Your Life!" Michelle Fishbough gave an excellent performance of "M.L.," wearing her clothes and acting her part.

For the grand finale, the chapter presented M. L. with a certificate for a week's vacation in Hawaii. Totally spellbound, Mother LeVor couldn't believe her eyes and asked someone to read to her what she thought she might have seen. With excitement all about, cookies and punch were served to make the night complete.

Talent Is Shared . . .

delightful talk show concerning food and fashions.

Pi Phis are proud to share Cathy and her talents with the city of Yakima. She has held several offices in our Fanny Whitenack Libbey Alumnae Club.

In January Cathy was appointed public relations director for a local hospital. To round out her busy life, she is homemaker to three young sons and husband, Kent.

The need for blood is increasing constantly, and two chapters helped alleviate that need during winter quarter.

The only collection spot in Wyoming is in its capitol, Cheyenne, and it is responsible for collecting and donating throughout the state and the western portion of Nebraska.

WYOMING ALPHA became involved in helping with this situation in February. Mary Fisher, a Laramie alumna, is one of the ladies who assists when the blood mobile visits Laramie, every fourth Thursday. The usual turnout has been ten or twelve people, but they were happily surprised when over twenty somewhat willing Pi Phis gave a pint a piece in mid-February.

Gennifer Giustina organized the house, so that there was a steady stream of girls there all day. Many had never donated before and were surprised at the simplicity of the task.

Each term ILLINOIS BETA-DELTA plans some sort of service project for the chapter. During winter term, the project directly effected the chapter itself.

The mother of one of the Knox College Pi Phis had been seriously ill since July, 1973. In January she underwent open heart surgery to alleviate the pain, replace her missing heart valve, and return her to a normal life. In order to have this operation, she needed blood, and that blood came from the Pi Phis at Knox. When they heard of the need, they eagerly organized a blood drive, donating numerous pints of blood in the mother's name.

Nancy Molander says, "The Pi Phis at Knox College have shown that they truly know what sisterhood means, for they have given to their sister a gift of true friendship in giving the gift of life to her mother."

Lost Pi Phis!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Somewhere along the way, many Pi Phi have been misplaced—at least insofar as the Central Office address list is concerned. It is important that all Pi Phi be located, and in an effort to find the lost members, THE ARROW will publish a list, by chapter, each issue. If the reader knows the current address of one of those listed, please forward that information to Mrs. Ralph Schulenburg, Director of Central Office, 7730 Carondelet, Suite #333, St. Louis, Missouri 63105.

Pi Beta Phi is like a song; and, like all pieces of music, it is very hard to describe or define. Like music, you oftentimes feel it without completely understanding it. Like a song, it drifts through your memory. It touches your heart. It touches your mind. It touches your life.

You cannot define Pi Beta Phi in so many words because you can talk and talk without ever really giving its true meaning. But I can tell you that Pi Beta Phi is found in this house and in these girls. It is found in laughter and in tears and in song.

I am offering you a very precious gift, this music of Pi Phi. If you accept it, it is a song you will always remember and a feeling that is yours for life.
