SELF-WORTH...

THE PORTRAIT WITHIN

Message from the Editor

I have a confession to make. Prior to working on this issue, I thought I had a good grasp of self-esteem and my own self-worth. I had defined self-worth as the value a person sees in himself, regardless of vocation, title, socioeconomic level and, in general, circumstances. But then I had an unusual encounter. Those of you who work on computers daily perhaps can relate to my frustration when my computer system "failed," or in other words was "corrupted." The net result: fourteen days of horror and the loss of twenty-one pages of a particular document entitled "The ARROW."

For the entirety of those forlorn days I wore an expressionless look on my face. It was this electronically-induced state of panic which made me seriously reconsider my definition of one's self-esteem. Further examination brought more questions. Was I just having a few bad days, or had I been stripped of part of my identity? Was my self-esteem enveloped in a micro-chip? How closely tied to my role and performance as an editor, not to mention wife, daughter, sister and friend was my own self-worth?

Self-worth and self-esteem. These are words each of us has heard and read, but what do they really mean? For this issue on self-worth, we asked collegians for their perception of self-worth and self-esteem. The following are excerpts from their replies:

Texas Alpha Rebecca Kirk brings us this definition, "Self-esteem is an evaluation by which we grade ourselves. A young woman with healthy self-esteem is one who is aware of her fundamental value and worth."

"Self-esteem is built from within and projected outward through all of a woman's words and actions," says Wisconsin Alpha Amy Delmore.

Arizona Beta Clare Janson writes, "College women see in themselves only what they feel other people see."

Cautions Ohio Theta Jennifer Sidebottom, many women believe that "people's opinion + my performance = my self worth. A self-image based upon performance is continually asking, 'How do I measure up in my looks, physical ability, wealth, status, intelligence, spirituality, success, or anything?'"

Illinois Zeta Christina H. Brown discusses how impaired self-esteem can affect the college woman. "Being on her own for the first time, today's college woman is forced to make major life decisions and undergo many changes in lifestyle. Undoubtedly, this can often lead to self doubt. Adding to these stressors are messages, like those from the media, that tell the college woman how she should look and how she should act in order to measure up to certain standards. Somehow, our society has come to value these standards. These messages are so strong that they become hard to ignore. Without a realization that these criteria are in no way a true measure of worth, the college woman may become vulnerable to alcohol or drug abuse as well as eating disorders."

Arizona Alpha Shelley Hudson stresses the importance of having a healthy concept of self. "It is vital that a woman has a positive and strong self-esteem to meet all of the challenges of the competitive academic life and the other problems that arise in the college social scene."

Minnesota Alpha Sarah Michels gives Pi Beta Phi credit for helping to build self-esteem in young women. "I think Pi Phi offers many opportunities for the individual member to grow and gain valuable skills. Such skills can help a member have a healthier attitude about herself which, in turn, will help create better self esteem."

Tennessee Gamma Amy Cookesey adds, "Pi Phi has improved my self-confidence and self-esteem by allowing me to express my views in the leadership roles I hold, and take (advantage of) several opportunities which I never would have had."

A North Dakota Alpha sums it up well by noting, "We must realize that self-esteem can be hindered or enhanced by our everyday actions. A loving, supportive and sisterly environment is what a Pi Beta Phi chapter should strive for."

I invite you to further explore self-esteem in our feature, "Self-Worth, the Portrait Within" on page 4. The article includes insight from former Miss America and motivational speaker Marilyn Van Derbur and her Pi Phi daughter Jennifer Adler. I thank them for their time and contribution to this issue. One of the many benefits of this job, is the interaction with fellow Pi Phis. I consider it a privilege to have worked with two such inspiring people as Marilyn and Jennifer. They have touched my heart.

My thanks also go out to area Pi Phis Mary Walton Kornonkowski, Laura Ponte and Heather Dunaway Puet for their assistance with the cover and feature article photographs.

As the 125th year of the Fraternity and 1992 come to a close, so shall I. My best to each of you!

THE PORTRAIT WITHIN

A Dialogue

Laura walked toward the chapter house with her head hanging low, her steps slow and deliberate. She dragged her feet on the sidewalk, kicking each out in a jerky motion as if she were trying to scuff the bottom of a new pair of shoes. "I knew I would hate this art class," she muttered to herself. Her professor had confirmed her greatest fear when today in class he gave the final project assignment: a self portrait.

That night Laura reluctantly positioned herself in front of a mirror. She sat cross-legged on the floor with her sketch pad at her side. A blank, bare white page stared at her. In an effort to escape its beckoning call, she turned her eyes to the looking glass. Her casual glance transformed itself into a studying glare and she squinted her eyes, adjusting their focus. "A self portrait, huh?" she said outloud. "Who is this man kidding? I don't even know who I really am. How in the world can I paint a picture of myself? If only I knew the real me." The tone in her voice lightened, "Maybe the real me is a pretty good artist."

Suddenly a new voice was heard. "Hello Laura. I am the real you— your inner self. I will admit, this isn't an easy assignment. Self-evaluation is hard work, but it is only through personal assessment that one can discover her inner-self. In order to paint an accurate portrait, we must start from the inside. Maybe the two of us can tackle this project together. You shouldn't be so quick to say that you don't know who you are. Every person has a concept of self. It is how we find our self-worth, establish our self-esteem. Don't you remember last semester for psychology 220 you wrote a paper on that very subject?"

Laura:

I know you are right. But I can't begin to remember what I wrote in a paper months ago. I couldn't give you a definition of self-esteem or self-worth.

Self:

Self-esteem is a pretty popular topic these days. Walk into any bookstore and survey the number of self-help books filling the shelves. Why, in an article in Newsweek last February, Jerry Adler stated he thinks self-esteem "is a paradigm for analyzing almost every problem in American society. It is clearly a product of today's relentless search for ever more fundamental and unifying laws of nature. Self-esteem is the quark of social science."

Laura:

We sure did spend a lot of time on self-esteem in psych 220. And lately I've seen posters on campus for an upcoming seminar on self-worth.

Self:

In your paper, Laura, you quoted Nathaniel Branden as saying that "self-esteem is the integrated sum of self-confidence and self-respect. It is the conviction that one is competent to live and worthy of living." He continues, "There is no value-judgement more important to men- no factor more decisive in psychological development and motivation than the estimate he passes on himself. The nature of his self-evaluation has profound effects on a man's thinking processes, emotions, desires, values and goals. It is the single most significant key to his behavior. To understand a man psychologically, one must understand the nature and degree of his self-esteem and the standards by which he judges himself."

Laura:

O.K. it's all starting to come back to me now. I think I can remember reading from a doctor, who wrote a book on...oh, what was his name?

Self:

James F. Masterson?

Laura:

Yes, that's it, James Masterson. Well, he believes our self-esteem takes shape in the first three years of life. At a very early age, we adopt patterns of feeling and thinking that enable us to cope with reality. These patterns also help us get attention, satisfy our needs and win affection and care from the adults around us. Our 'sense of self' is developed in relation to the surrounding world. A young child's sense of self is formed through the relationship with her parents — particularly the mother, since she is often the person who spends the most time caring for the child. He adds, "Since mothers aren't perfect— and children aren't either— we all grow up with some impairment to our self-esteem."

Self:

Exactly. Our family life has a great deal to do with who we are and our self-image. When you were working on your paper, Laura, you consulted one of your role models, Pi Phi and motivational speaker Marilyn Van Derbur. You even went so far as to contact her Pi Phi daughter Jennifer Adler to get her perspective. The two of them had much wisdom to share. It was Marilyn who pointed out that some of us grew up in families where we never pleased anybody. No matter how much we did, it was never good enough. Unfortunately that leads to the feeling that we never measured up.

We need to learn as adults and young women to accept that our parents did the best they could. And then we need to understand that it was not right for them to say, "You got four As and one B, what happened?" We may have to look at the situation and say, "I understand that they wanted me to be perfect- it just doesn't work that way. If they require straight As, that is their problem, it's not mine."

Laura:

But it takes a pretty strong and secure person to be able to do that. And besides, our family is not the only thing that shapes who we are. In my research, I found so much information about the role society and the media have in how people view themselves, especially women. The fact is that body-image constitutes much of a woman's self-worth and self-esteem.

I believe it was Thomas Cash, a professor of psychology at Old Dominion University, who said, "We believe that if we have the perfect body, then we'll have the perfect life." I know I've certainly seen that on a college campus. Quite an emphasis is placed on how a young woman looks. There are still so many times I look at a sorority sister or classmate and think that she does have the perfect body and therefore, she must have the perfect life. It has taken me a long time to realize that she, like me, has problems. No one really is perfect.

Self:

Ann Kearney Cooke, a Cincinnati psychologist who specializes in body images, believes it is perfectly acceptable in our culture to obsess about your body if you're a woman. Marilyn Van Derbur points out that our society cares more about how girls look than we do boys. There's a whole different criteria for women. In addition, the media and society provide "symbols," of the perfect woman who fits in a size 8 dress. She is happy to see that some of those symbols are changing with the emergence and success of such stars as Delta Burke, Oprah Winfrey and Roseanne Arnold.

Laura:

I really like what Jennifer, who is an undergraduate at Duke University said about women and body image, "There is such a perfect image of the unattainable figure that everyone aims for. I think this is put out by the media as well as the other college women. Many of them already have severe eating disorders and thus have those tiny, tiny figures that in reality are extremely unhealthy and dangerous. However, these are the bodies that many women aspire to. I think it can almost turn into a competition. It is not about eating, though. It is about a feeling of not being thin enough, attractive enough, worth enough. It is a feeling of emptiness."

"The idea of body image is an extreme pressure in college. We see the ideal and cannot reach it without putting our health in great danger. We are socialized to believe that people will not like us unless we look like the 80 lb. models in the magazines. Although on a rational level, we know this is ridiculous, on some other level, we believe there is some truth in it."

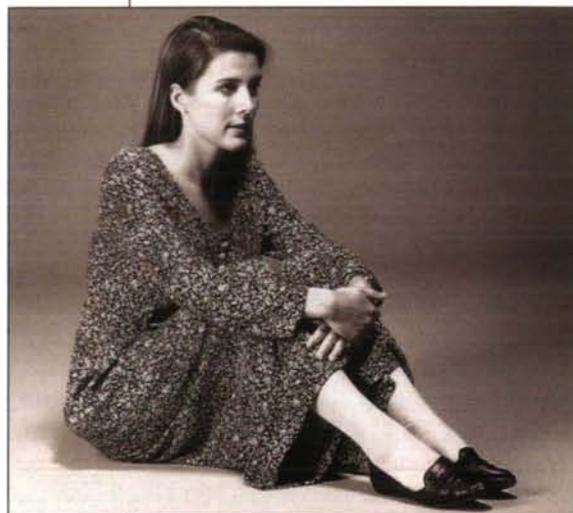

Self:

Cornell University social historian Joan Jacobs Brumberg studied the diaries girls have written over the last 150 years. She found that adolescent girls today are "overwhelmed with insidious feelings of unworthiness and low self-esteem as they obsess about boys and body image at the expense of more fruitful activities. Brumberg calls it a national tragedy, since it occurs at a time when all kinds of new opportunities and freedoms are open to young women. Girls today wind up tense, uneasy and vulnerable to a variety of behavioral problems and diseases, including eating disorders and sexually transmitted diseases."

Laura:

When Jennifer defined self-esteem, she put it in terms of the way people view themselves. A person with high self-esteem likes herself as a whole person and feels as if she is capable of tackling and conquering almost anything that comes her way.

Conversely, a woman with low self-esteem either does not like anything about herself or does not like a few areas of her personality or body image etc.

Self:

Jennifer believes a problem arises when the dislike of these few areas (which can even be just one area) often overrides any positive characteristics the woman once believed she had.

Laura:

The effects of a distorted self-image are all around me. I see it in so many women every day on the college campus. But what are some of the benefits and effects of a healthy self-image?

Self:

"A person with healthy self-esteem is able to accept criticism or rejection... and failure, too... when pursuing a goal," said James Masterson. While a person might get upset, even very upset, he is able to push those feelings aside, learn from mistakes— and move on to the next challenges. The key factor is that one doesn't lose sight of the things he is good at. A person can use confidence to help repair a temporary gap in self-esteem.

Laura:

And wasn't it Dr. Masterson who said we can increase self-esteem by attempting to stay in touch with one's real self when faced with challenging situations? This means accepting yourself for what you are—taking comfort in your abilities and at the same time accepting your limitations.

Self:

It was. Pi Phi Jennifer Atler puts it in these words, "Positive self-esteem makes people less hard on themselves. If they are a few pounds overweight, that does not mean they are failures as people. If they fail that chemistry test, that does not mean they are failures as people. If they do not get elected to that position, that does not mean they are failures as people. They are able to separate the issues and not allow their entire beings and self-worths to hinge on each success or failure."

Laura:

But the adage, "We are each our own toughest critic" is still true. It was Sally Kempton who said, "It is hard to fight an enemy who has outposts in your head." Women need to learn to be easier on themselves. It seems all the women I know tend to focus on their negative characteristics, rather than the positive.

Self:

The initial work does need to begin within each individual. But there is much we can do for each other. There is much that can be done even within the walls of this chapter house.

Laura:

You mean with Pi Phi?

Self:

Yes. Let me read to you part of the letter Jennifer Atler wrote to you when you two were working on your self-esteem paper. She said, "Pi Phi has given me the opportunity to experience college with an extremely strong group of women with many of the same interests as I have as well as many of the same experiences. Through Pi Phi I have made some of the best friends I will ever have, and it has given us a forum to discuss issues like self-esteem and problems we as women face on college campuses. Not only has Pi Phi given us an incredible 'social connection,' but the women in Pi Phi have proven to be a support system through the tough times, also."

"I think Pi Phi has the ability to affect a lot of women. We should continue to promote seminars and speakers on the problems that we are facing on a daily basis. I realize that all of us are very busy, but reflective discussions and activities can be very helpful to women. Seminars on eating disorders, sexual assault and harassment and self-esteem can be very informative and helpful for everyone.

"One on one, I think we just need to continue to listen and support each other as we have been doing all along. By sharing our own thoughts and experiences we will no longer feel alone, as if we are the only one trying to conquer the pressures surrounding us on the college campus."

Laura:

She sure makes several good points about the benefits of sisterhood in regard to self-esteem. And you know, what her mother Marilyn says about how Pi Phi can help build self-esteem not only applies to me now but it will also in a few years when I'm an alum. She talks about how Pi Phi, instead of trying to be perfect, should turn to one another and share what is really going on in their lives—to say to each other, "I don't know what to do about my eating disorder." "I don't know how to get help." Or, "I know I'm drinking too much and I'm not sure what to do about it." Or whatever the situation is.

The one quote she gave, I can remember verbatim, "We need to talk to one another about our lives as they are—instead of trying to look or be the way people think we should be."

Self:

And do you remember what she saw as the biggest challenge facing women today and what to do about it? She said we need to make our own decision as to who we want to be, what kind of life we want to live, and what areas of life we want to excel in, because we can't excel in everything. It was her opinion that we really can't do it all—be a wife and a mother and a homemaker and a career woman (at least not as well as we would like to). There have to be compromises made and we need to choose which shortcuts to take. Then we need to say, "I'm doing the best that I can, this is the way I want to do it and I'm happy about that."

Laura's grasp of the subject strengthened. It was as if she had been standing in a very small, dark closet and then suddenly someone turned on the light. Softly, she whispered, "So who we are on the outside and the image we project is merely a reflection of the portrait within."

As quickly as the voice had come, it disappeared. Its presence could no longer be felt or heard. The blank page, once imposing, appeared less intimidating. Laura picked up her pencil and began to draw.

Marilyn Van Derbur Breaks Her Silence

We have followed her career for years. The ARROW has chronicled her life since she pledged Colorado Alpha in 1955, through her involvement in student activities at the University of Colorado, to her selection as Miss Colorado and then Miss America in 1958. She was the speaker for the opening banquet at Pi Beta Phi's 1969 Convention in Pasadena. We have seen her career as a motivational speaker flourish.

The newest chapter in Marilyn's life does not have the glitz and glamour of earlier ones.

The subject is one unspeakable to many: incest. In May of 1991, Marilyn Van Derbur revealed that she had been sexually abused by her father from age 5 to age 18. It was not until she was 24 that she discovered the repressed pain of her childhood. So horrific were the memories that Marilyn "disassociated." Her "daytime child," as she calls it, had absolutely no knowledge of the violations wrought upon the "night child."

Marilyn's road to recovery has been a long one as she has gone from victim to survivor. Her story can be an inspiration to all of us.

"For over 25 years, motivational speaking has been my full-time career. I have addressed literally millions of people on such topics as success and failure, the importance of having a goal, and most often—the need to be persistent, to try again, to not give up.

"I now understand that the reason I chose motivational speaking was because I needed to tell myself over and over, day after day - don't give up, try again, persevere... because there was a battle raging within me.

"This saying was true for me, 'If you want to learn a subject, teach it.' I needed desperately to learn each and every day to not give up, to not despair, to not say 'I can't live with this one more day.'

"What is your work? It isn't your problem that determines your character or the joy in each day...or the love you receive and extend to others. We decide how we respond to our pain. We choose each day whether we will be filled with positive energy and hope and a reaching out.

It is how we respond to life that determines our life.

"Until my father's death in 1984 at age 76, I tried in every possible way to win his daytime love. I broke and trained wild horses, skied for the University of Colorado ski team, graduated from college with Phi Beta Kappa honors, was a debutante and won Miss America. And each time I turned with childlike hope saying, 'Won't you love me now, Daddy?' I won the Outstanding Woman Speaker in America, cooked his favorite foods and walked his dog. 'Won't you love me now, Dad?'

"It was only two years ago, that a psychologist said to me words that seared my soul in pain and forced me to see the truth. He said, 'You failed in the most important goal of your life- you never won your father's daytime love.'

"Some goals, no matter how we persevere, no matter how many years we try, some goals we do not achieve. And we grieve as we have to let that goal- so deep within us- go, finally and forever. It is our work.

"When my life became dysfunctional in 1984, our daughter Jennifer, our only child, was in 8th grade. Although I was an attentive mother, involved in every possible way in her life, I was still traveling two to three days a week except during the summer.

"But during her 8th grade year, my life was stopped by overwhelming anxiety and paralysis spells that would continue until I was 51 and she was off to college.

Many times, during her 8, 9, 10, 11 & 12th grade years, she would come home to find me sobbing or lying in paralysis. She would sit by my bed and comfort me and I would be there to share her joys or disappointments.

"Someone much wiser than I said you need to be home with your teenager during these years. And the only way you will stay home is if I make you literally unable to crawl to a plane to go give a speech to keep your daychild excelling.

"What a gift. My daughter and I are as tightly bonded as it is possible for a mother and daughter to be. But in looking back, I realize that it was because of my handicap that my life was stilled. My handicap had turned out to be a blessing."

It was her daughter who gave Marilyn freedom from the shame she felt as a victim of incest and the ability to reach out to others. Marilyn says she was afraid Jennifer would not want her to be her mother if she knew about the incest. When Marilyn did tell her daughter, Jennifer's response was one of unconditional love and acceptance. "Mom, you have changed so many people's lives with your speeches. Think how many MORE lives you could change if they knew this about you!"

Marilyn now has a new goal: to educate victims and violators of incest.

When she confronted her own father about the abuse, he said, "If I had known what it would do to you, I never would have done it." Marilyn's response: "Let every single man and woman understand that that excuse can never be used again. We are going to tell you what it does to us for decades." She adds, "Like red dye poured into a can of white paint, incest has colored every aspect of my life."

Marilyn as she appeared in the Summer 1969 ARROW magazine, prior to Pi Beta Phi's 1969 Convention. She was, at the time, United Air Lines Youth Speaker.

During one of the many appearances Marilyn has had on national television, she turned to her interviewee and with a fierce intensity asked, "Do you think I want to live the rest of my life as an incest survivor?" Before the question could be answered, a smile suddenly appeared, erasing the anguish on her face and her blue eyes lit up. "You bet I do. I have a very strong message- I survived!"

It is how we respond to life that determines our life.

"You will never hear me say, 'Why me?'"

Marilyn believes our lives are enriched and fulfilled in relation to our courage and the risks we are willing to take- the work we are willing to do.

"You will never hear me say, 'Why me?' My question would be-

"It is how we respond to life that determines our life."

Was my childhood filled with terror so that I could better understand others' fears...Did I feel isolation and abandonment so I could enfold others into my heart?...Did I feel humiliation and degradation so I can now fight for the dignity of others?

"The closeness Larry, Jennifer and I have is, in great part, because of the intense despair we shared- not for a day, or a month, but for years. It was the trauma we survived that bonded us. It was because of the pain we shared that the joy is all the sweeter.

"It was because, finally, there were no secrets- just the three of us exposed in our truth, frailties, and our strengths- turning to one another, depending on one another."

Jennifer said this about her mother, "In the last two years she has become a hero for thousands of survivors who did not think they could live through another day. They can now look at my mother and know that it is possible to survive recovery even when they truly think they will die from the pain. When my mom was going through those tough days, she just wanted to talk to one person who had made it through with his or her family intact. She could find no one... hundreds of books and no one. Obviously, thousands of women in the past have survived this, but no one spoke of it. So the thousands experiencing it, even two years ago, still felt alone. My mother has become not a healer who can save the world, but living proof that recovery is possible."

Marilyn contends, "One of the reasons I survived my problem is because I did my work. I was never able to change what happened to me. My overwhelming challenge was to change how I thought about what happened to me."

Marilyn asks her audience to consider how they are responding to their problems, whatever they are. "Tell me how you are responding to the problem or the sorrow or the handicap - tell me how you are responding to life's challenges and then... I will know you."

Blain Gallery Endowment Increases

The Sandra J. Blain Gallery Endowment, established at $25,000 on the occasion of her 25th anniversary of service to Arrowmont, has grown to $27,130. At the tribute dinner on August 16, Sandy's friends and colleagues learned the gallery had been named in her honor. A brooch, designed and made by J. Fred Woell, was presented to Sandy as a lasting memento of the occasion.

The Sandra J. Blain Gallery Endowment will secure the quality of Arrowmont's existing exhibition program by providing financial support for professionally printed materials, curatorial assistance, gallery furniture and equipment, track lighting, and by increasing the holdings of the permanent collection. Sandy is excited about the endowment because it will "ensure that quality exhibitions will always be in the Gallery for local residents, Arrowmont students and faculty and our visitors from around the world."

Working with the Pi Beta Phi Foundation, Capital Campaign Chairman Jean Scott and Arrowmont's Director of Development Theresa Tyler, the 12-month fund-raising effort was spearheaded by a Gallery Endowment Committee of three, chaired by Clare Verstegen, former Arrowmont Assistant Director. The co-chairmen were Bill Griffith, Arrowmont's Assistant Director, and Marian Heard, Director Emeritus. Their plans were kept a secret from Sandy until she was finally told about the endowment in early summer, just weeks before the celebration on August 16.

Gallery Endowment donations came from past and present Arrowmont faculty members, current and former School employees, Sandy's art department colleagues from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, former Arrowmont students, members of the Southern Highland Handicraft Guild, and past and present members of the Arrowmont Board of Governors. In all, over 200 donations were made. More than 100 of the donors gathered on the night of August 16 to celebrate Sandy's anniversary and the success of the Endowment Campaign. After a reception in the Marian G. Heard Resource Center, guests enjoyed a candlelight shrimp dinner in the Arrowmont Dining Room. White table cloths and flowers on the tables made the dining room quite festive and slides depicting Sandy's 25 years were shown on a large screen at one side of the room. Additional contributions to the Blain Gallery Endowment are expected as former students and the many other friends of Sandy and Arrowmont learn of the opportunity.

Gift Given for Wood Studio

Longtime Arrowmont patron and student Jerry Drown made a $50,000 contribution to the Campaign for Arrowmont to be used for the main area of the new, expanded wood studio and one turning station. Jerry's gift is the first major donation for the new wood studio and the space will be named the Louise and Jerry Drown Wood Studio in their honor. Pictured with Jerry (who is on the left) during a recent wood turning workshop is Arrowmont student Carl Hipp from Racine, Wisconsin.

Board of Governors Chairman Charlotte Ann Eckel Edwards, Grand President Jo Ann Minor Roderick and Arrowmont Director Sandy Blain break the ground for Arrowmont's new dormitory. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held September 19, 1992. Construction of the dormitory began in early November.

Financial Aid

The scholarship application deadline for Arrowmont's March classes is Jan. 10, 1993. The scholarship application deadline for Arrowmont's summer classes is April 1, 1993. Pi Phis interested in financial aid have four options...Pi Beta Phi Scholarships, Friends of Arrowmont Scholarships, Arrowmont's Work Study program and its Assistantship program. For information about Pi Beta Phi Scholarships write to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation at Central Office. For information about other financial aid write to Arrowmont at P.O. Campaign

Campaign Reaches $1 Million Milestone

The $2.3 million Campaign for Arrowmont reached the half-way mark this fall as special leadership gifts to the Campaign totaled just over $1 million.

"Fewer than 60 special angels are leading the way to what is expected to be the broader-based support of many more alumnae and friends," said Jean Wirths Scott, past Grand President and Chairman of the Campaign for Arrowmont.

"The Campaign has been blessed with leadership support from the Fraternity's 'official family' - members of Grand Council, Directors, Arrowmont Board of Governors, Foundation Trustees, Campaign Committee members and some very special friends of Arrowmont. The Campaign Committee still is in the early stages of donor contact and has yet to approach the general Pi Beta Phi public," said Scott.

Campaign Steering Committee members Jan Kincaid Clifford, Janet Goode Durham, C.A. Eckel Edwards, Sandra Street Estess, Marion Enggas Kreamer, Adrienne Hiscox Mitchell, Ann Dudgeon Phy, Nancy Carlock Rogers and Jean Wirths Scott have worked with the Chicago Consulting firm of Sumner Rahr, Arrowmont Director of Development Theresa Tyler, and Foundation Director of Development Lynn Raney. As leadership gift contacts continue, plans are underway for the regional and general gift phases of the Campaign to begin early in 1993.

New Dorm Wing Named to Honor Marianne R. Wild

"Arrowmont is unique - it sets us apart and makes us different from others in the Greek world. If I am to be remembered anywhere, I would like it to be there."

These were the words of Grand President Emeritus Marianne Reid Wild a year before her death as she made provisions for the Pi Beta Phi Foundation to be her primary beneficiary. In keeping with Mrs. Wild's wishes, the Foundation Trustees have designated $200,000 of her bequest toward construction of the new dormitory, a primary component of the Campaign for Arrowmont.

Named in her honor, the Marianne Reid Wild Wing of the dormitory will be separated from the main residential building by a landscaped courtyard and walkway, home to sculptural pieces from Arrowmont's permanent collection. Eight student accommodations with private baths will provide an option of on-campus living arrangements for couples and other students wishing more privacy than the shared bath accommodations designed for the main dormitory structure. The total facility will provide flexibility for up to 52 additional bed spaces.

Under construction since November in a wooded site behind the historical Red Barn, the new building will provide contrast to other campus housing facilities, some predating 1912. The design includes a head-resident staff apartment, a screened porch, several hundred feet of indoor gallery space for displaying wall-mounted works of art from the Arrowmont permanent collection and a large multi-purpose room that will bear the name of the Nashville Alumnae Club in recognition of that club's generous gift to the Campaign.

Marianne Reid Wild's vision for Arrowmont and the role it plays in "making us different" long will be remembered by those who enjoy the benefits of her generosity.

On the Line for Pi Beta Phi

With the development of the Pi Beta Phi Foundation as the fund-raising entity for our Fraternity, new programs are being established to increase support of educational and leadership training programs for our active and alumnae members.

In an effort to communicate with more than 92,000 members who have not responded to the Fraternity's annual Friendship Fund mailings, the Foundation embarked upon a telemarketing test program involving 3,000 alumnae members last spring. Pi Phis who were to be called received a letter which explained the purpose of the call. Friendly telephone callers then invited these members to celebrate Pi Phi's 125th Anniversary by pledging a gift to the Foundation. Those making pledges received a letter of confirmation and an envelope to use in returning their donations to the Foundation. Five hundred thirty-five people pledged $15,005, more people and more dollars than projected from the random sample of alumnae.

The Pi Beta Phi Foundation Board of Trustees is pleased to announce that a new member has been added to the Board. Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg, past Fraternity Grand President and past Foundation trustee, was elected to the Board in May 1992. She will serve a three-year term.

Mission Statement

The Pi Beta Phi Foundation is committed to fund programs which promote the intellectual, ethical and leadership development of members of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity and, through its philanthropic efforts, to benefit the larger society.

— Adopted May 16, 1992

Beyond raising money, the program gave alumnae the opportunity to ask questions and express opinions about Pi Beta Phi. Membership records were corrected as alumnae gave name and address changes to the callers. Foundation Trustees, impressed with the success of this recent program, decided to go a step further and contact an additional 10,000 alumnae. This segment of the program is currently underway and the positive response continues.

Our sincere thanks to those who have responded by pledging financial support to this Foundation telemarketing program. The callers report that you are, "so nice, cordial and polite, supportive, positive, and upbeat" even when you decline to make a pledge.

Foundation Receives Gift of Insurance

Marion Enggas Kreamer (Kansas Alpha), and 1985 Convention initiate, and her late husband John have always made a difference through their community service and through their giving. When the article about gifts of life insurance appeared in the Summer issue of The ARROW, the Kreamers already were arranging for such a gift to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation.

In May 1992, Marion and John purchased a life insurance policy on the life of their daughter with her consent. Premiums on the policy for the next ten years were paid by the Kreamers at that time with remaining premiums to be covered by dividends from the policy. This gift enabled the Kreamers to give a larger amount to the Foundation than if they had simply given the cash representing the premiums paid. The Foundation will realize a very generous gift in the future because of the insight and creative giving style of Marion and John Kreamer.

Through this deferred gift of life insurance, the Kreamers became Charter Members of the Marianne Reid Wild Society. The Society was established earlier this year to recognize planned gifts to the Pi Beta Phi Foundation made through bequests, trusts, life insurance policies and other methods. Charter Members include those individuals who notify the Foundation of their deferred giving plans prior to Convention 1993. Members of the Marianne Reid Wild Society will be recognized in future issues of The ARROW and in the Foundation newsletter.

Honorary and Memorial Gifts

Honorary and memorial gifts to the Foundation for April 2, 1992 through September 1, 1992. Honorary and memorial gift recognition will appear in the Winter and Summer issues of The ARROW.

Collegiate News

In the fall of 1992, Ohio Epsilon planned a special presentation. Representatives from the American Red Cross came to speak to the chapter at the University of Toledo on the topic of AIDS. One of the speakers was an AIDS victim. This presentation was followed by "AIDS: A Decision for Life" and "AIDS: You're Not Immune," two videos supplied by Central Office.

Florida Deltas at the University of Florida participated in People Awareness Week 1992 by attending programs and lectures designed to promote understanding of different cultures. The theme of the week was "Celebrate Diversity."

Iowa Beta Laura Roe spent this past summer in Stuttgart, Germany. She worked as an interpreter in the personnel department of Mercedes Benz. While in Germany, Laura lived in Schorndorf with the family she met during a semester abroad. In August Laura also worked as an interpreter at an international trade show for sporting goods in Munich. Laura is an International Management/German major at Simpson College.

California Delta senior Missy Gruber traveled to Barcelona, Spain this past summer. This UCLA Pi Phi was an intern for Sports Illustrated/Time International during the 1992 Summer Olympics.

Louisiana Betas Jill McKay and Chanelle Thibaut explain to the chapter the activities planned for Louisiana State University's Rape Awareness Week. The chapter participated in the campus-wide event in September.

Iowa Beta is proud to hold many campus leadership positions at Simpson College. The sophomore class president is Pi Phi Marie Lindquist. In addition, Marie is also the co-publicity chair for the Campus Activities Board. Other leaders are Lisa Freking, who was co chairman of this year's Parent's Day, and junior Angela Van Buren who is co-chairman of Simpson's Annual Phone-a-thon.

Several Indiana Deltas at Purdue University are active on campus and in the community. Molly Wrenn, a junior majoring in industrial management, is active in the Ford National Youth Council. She dedicates her time by acting as the voice of the youth market for Ford Motor Company. Tina Nerz, a junior in environmental science, is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Task Force for Environmental Awareness in Lafayette.

Last year Pi Phis from across the country met through the University of Pittsburgh's Semester at Sea program. In January the 15 Pi Phis departed for their 100 day voyage with more than 350 other students.

Senior Chris Anderson is a member of Purdue's swim team and sophomore Molly Rose belongs to the prestigious choir, the Purduettes.

Over twenty Washington Gammas at the University of Puget Sound participated and contributed to the First Annual Pierce County AIDS Walk.

Something very beneficial to Washington Alpha's academic program at the University of Washington has been watching "Where There's a Will There's an A." Fall quarter everyone views the four-hour tape which helps college students learn new study habits.

Washington Alpha's V.P. Mental, Nina Olson, has been hard at work implementing a new study program for the 1992 pledge class at the University of Washington. The pledges will spend approximately nine hours a week and five hours over the weekend at study tables. This year eight proctors were selected to help watch over, guide, and advise the pledges. Two proctors are responsible for eight to nine women.

This year Virginia Gammas at the College of William and Mary sponsored a crab in a local crab race for charity. Each sponsor paid an entry fee that went to the "Save the Bay" foundation. The money is being used to clean the Chesapeake Bay.

Kansas Beta Bridget Mahoney, an interior design major at Kansas State University, was selected as a finalist for a design competition. The competition was sponsored by KSNT, a Topeka, Kansas television station, to select a new news backdrop. Bridget was chosen from over 100 applicants from the region's schools. To qualify, she had to design the backdrop so that it could change from day to evening broadcasts, and keep the cost under $5,000.

New Mexico Beta's Marin Morrow, DeDe Jones and Diana Popp are in the New Mexico State University Dance Company. The company is devoted to intensive study of ballet, jazz, tap, and modern dance.

Many Georgia Alphas have been honored with campus and community leadership positions. Johanna Barfield has been nominated to serve as College Ambassador for the University of Georgia's College of Family and Consumer Sciences. Suzanne Pickering is an area coordinator for the University of Georgia's Communitary Big Brother/Big Sister Program. Kristin Hamilton is serving as the Vice President of GAMMA (Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol).

Florida Alphas from Stetson University have been volunteering for a variety of organizations including: Youth Motivators, an organization whose main goal is to provide positive role models for high risk children; Big Brothers/Big Sisters, helping boost the self-esteem of local young people; and "Paint Your Heart Out," painting houses for the underprivileged and elderly.

This year, many Texas Epsilons from the University of North Texas participated in "The Race for the Cure." The 10K run/walk was sponsored by the Susan B. Komen Foundation and was dedicated to finding a cure for breast cancer. The entry fees paid by those participating went to underprivileged women who are unable to pay for health care and mammograms.

During the Hillsdale County Fair, Hillsdale College Michigan Alphas volunteered their time to the Hillsdale Humane Society by selling raffle tickets and Humane Society apparel at their booth. Proceeds went to a fund established to build a new shelter.

Iowa Zeta Heather Hudson has recently joined two prestigious choral groups at the University of Iowa, Kantorei, a classical singing group and Old Gold Singers, a show choir.

Tennessee Delta Annette Bell is the 1992 president of Memphis State Student Ambassador Board. The SAB is a 60 member student organization which plans daily campus tours and Scholar's Day, among other activities.

Illinois Epsilon held their annual Twister Tournament to raise money for Arrowmont. Teams of two participated in a round robin of Twister games at Northwestern University. Top players received prizes donated by area merchants.

Iowa Zeta Amy Primus has been recently elected to the executive board of Student Alumni Association at the University of Iowa. She also serves as Vice President of Career Placement for the American Marketing Association.

New Mexico Beta has many members involved in student government through Associated Students of New Mexico State University. Vanessa Williams is the Senate Clerk, Kristin Newell is a Senator for the Business College, Christine Hoeft is the Senator for the Engineering College, and Renae Richards is an Executive Assistant. Katie Heiss, Lori Swalander, DeDe Jones, Kerry McKee, and Liz Tyler are on standing committees.

California Epsilon Susie Carter has been elected Panhellenic President at San Diego State University.

Illinois Thetas at Bradley University are very active on campus and in the community. Julie Benjamin teaches AIDS awareness to freshman students. Kristi Nix and Becky Saccaro are volunteers in Habitat for Humanity, building shelter for those in need of housing. Twenty-four Pi Phis participated in "Bowl for Kids Sake" to benefit Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Peoria, Illinois.

Pennsylvania Beta Margaret Grunow recently competed in the Olympic trials for women's swimming. The senior at Bucknell University competed in the 50 meter free-style event for the Olympic trials held in Indianapolis, on March 6 of this year. Margaret not only finished with her personal record time of 26.83 seconds but also ranked 32nd out of the 66 national women swimmers competing in the trials.

On September 12, 1992 Kentucky Alphas from the University of Louisville, participated in the annual Walk with the Animals at the Louisville Zoo. Each Pi Phi raised twenty dollars for her two mile walk through the zoo. The money is donated to Kosair Children's Hospital to help with the purchasing of prenatal monitors.

Two Oklahoma Betas were selected for Oklahoma State University's list of Top 10 Freshmen Women for 1991-1992. Heather Voth and Leigh Ann Turvey were chosen because of their outstanding grades and their involvement in many OSU activities and clubs.

Several times a semester, the New Mexico Alphas from the University of New Mexico, take a Sunday out of the week and volunteer at a local soup kitchen to help feed the homeless.

Washington Betas from Washington State University pose for a picture with the Olympic mascot in Meribel, France. Those attending Olympic festivities include Kristen Swanson, Jean Werlich, Lisa Welch, Rayme Flynn, Kirsten Braden and Tonia Farman.

Welcome Given to Former Hostage and Pi Phi Wife

Many celebrations surrounded the return to Iowa of Former hostage Tom Sutherland and his wife Jean. A special welcome home was given by the Iowa Gamma Chapter.

Sutherland, who spent six and one half years in captivity in Beirut, and Jean returned to Ames, Iowa and Iowa State University to be honored at the annual student-run Veisha celebration last May.

The festivities included a central campus rally for the couple, a 61st birthday party for Tom, scores of receptions and welcome home wishes, and a Monday morning reception at the Pi Beta Phi house. The campus leader who spent the weekend escorting the couple was a Pi Phi.

Jean, who was Chapter President of Iowa Gamma in 1955, and Tom, who fondly remembered his days as a graduate student and the time spent at the Pi Phi house, sang songs in the foyer.

Tom Sutherland was released from captivity by Islamic fundamentalists on November 18, 1991. The Sutherlands had been teaching at the University of Beirut when he was kidnapped in 1985. Jean spent several years in Beirut after he was captured.

Tom told the student newspaper reporter that he learned one good thing during his years of captivity, "America's got the world by its feet. Use that American ingenuity and willingness to risk."

His final advice to college students at Iowa State was, "When you get married, stay married. The family tie is so important. Make it work. It's not all milk and honey, of course." But it was the love of family which sustained him through the many years of captivity.

Links to Literacy

PI BETA PHI FRATERNITY

by Jean Egmon

The new national Links to Literacy Committee held its kick-off meeting October 16-18, 1992 at Pi Beta Phi's Central Office in St. Louis.

The eight-member committee comprised of alumnae and collegians from across the country, including Grand Vice President of Philanthropies Betty Blades Lofton, gathered to do strategic planning for Pi Phi's newest philanthropy.

To assist alumnae clubs, collegiate chapters and individual members in developing Links to Literacy programs, committee members have paired up to serve as liaisons for all Pi Phis planning local literacy activities. Your personal Links to Literacy liaisons are listed by province.

Watch for more Links to Literacy updates and resources in future issues of The ARROW and in future mailings.

DIRECTIONS

ALUMNAE HELP NEEDED

DIRECTIONS, Pi Beta Phi's Networking Program, is being expanded into a networking and mentoring program. It has been redesigned to broaden the personal communication channels between members and allow participation by more of the membership.

Please complete and submit the enrollment form as soon as possible. Alumnae help is needed in order to begin the database from which other members can draw information. We are currently working towards inputting the new data received on enrollment forms into a computerized database. We must continue to receive enrollment forms so that this program can be expanded, integrating both collegians and alumnae, for members to retrieve information.

An enrollment form is on the back side of this sheet. Additional forms are available from your club president, Central Office or directly from the DIRECTIONS Chairman. Additional information will appear in future issues of The ARROW.

Alumnae News

Sometimes it takes an active to identify alumnae! That was the case at Advertising Incorporated in Tulsa, Oklahoma this past summer when University of Kansas active Heather Richetto became an intern. Heather proudly displays her letters around the license plate of her car. One by one each Pi Phi alum at Ad Inc. went to Heather to identify themselves as a sister. When all was said and done, four alumnae worked in the 45 person office. So this summer more than 10 percent of the staff at Ad Inc. were Pi Phi. The five Pi Phis are Kristi Brooks (Oklahoma Alpha '83), Karen Framel (Oklahoma Beta '75), Heather Richetto (Kansas Alpha '89), Nancy Shelby Mitchell (Oklahoma Alpha '65) and Linda Alexander King (Oklahoma Beta '79).

Kentucky Beta Patricia

Barnstable Brown received several awards this past May. Her annual Diamond Derby Celebrity Gala in Louisville has raised nearly $200,000 in the last four years for diabetes research, educational programs and a camp for diabetic youths. At a luncheon meeting of the Kentucky Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association, Tricia was given the national association's President-Chairman Award of Appreciation and was told that President Bush had nominated her for a Thousand Points of Light Award. Tricia was also recognized for good citizenship by the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate, received a Heart of Honor award from comedian Bob Hope, and was named a distinguished citizen of Louisville by the office of Mayor Jerry Abramson. Saturday May 30, was declared "Tricia Barnstable Brown Day" by a representative from Governor Brereton Jones' office. Tricia, a former actress and model, appeared with her twin sister, Cyb Barnstable, in Doublemint chewing gum commercials.

Indiana Gamma Cherry Sheppard Sparks has been elected International President of THE QUESTERS, an organization whose aim is to stimulate the appreciation of antiques through study and to encourage the preservation of historical landmarks. There are about 950 chapters located throughout the United States and Canada. THE QUESTERS' motto is, "It's fun to search and a joy to find."

Pi Phi Jan Henning Green (Indiana Beta) and Rebecca Raun Westberg (Iowa Gamma) designed an angel Christmas Tree entitled "A Host of Angels" for the 1991 Festival of Trees in Des Moines, Iowa, which benefited Blank Children's Hospitals. Moss and many other natural materials were used to make the 14 angel dolls used as ornaments for the tree.

Pam Crippen Overton, an Arizona Beta, from Arizona State University was featured in the May 1992 issue of Today's Arizona Woman because of the significant impact she is having in Arizona's courtrooms. In October 1990, Pam became a senior partner in the Phoenix law firm of O'Connor, Cavanagh, Anderson, Westover, Killingsworth and Beshears. She has managed to maintain her successful law career while managing a husband and two year old twin sons Teddy Jr., and Christian. Pam's law specialties are in the areas of insurance defense, legal and medical malpractice, defense litigation, plaintiff's personal injury and condemnation.

Dr. Mary Baumgartner Scharold, Kansas Alpha, was appointed as a Training and Supervising Analyst at the Houston-Galveston Psychoanalytic Institute. She is the first woman to be so honored in the Houston Institute. While in college, Mary was the recipient of an Amy Burnham Onken chapter award and later received a Pi Phi Graduate Fellowship. Having served as president of the Houston Psychiatric Society, as president of the Houston-Galveston Psychoanalytic Society, and as a committee chairman in the Texas Society of Psychiatric Physicians, she has also been on committees of the American Psychiatric Association and of the American Psychoanalytic Association. In addition, she is a clinical associate professor at Baylor College of Medicine, listed in Who's Who of American Women, and a member of the Houston, Texas Alumnae Club.

New Mexico Alpha Anita

Romero is serving a term with the United States Peace Corps. She is serving her two year term teaching English in Namibia, Africa in the secondary school system. Anita graduated from the University of New Mexico College of Fine Arts with a double major in English literature and fine arts.

Recent passage of Tennessee legislation which requires repeat rapists and child rapists to serve their full prison term was due in part to the courage of Becky Griffith Hutchings. Becky, a member of the Nashville Alumnae Club, spoke publicly of her 1984 abduction and rape. Her testimony, along with that of four other women, was instrumental in getting this landmark legislation passed. Nations Bank has contributed $30,000 to the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center in honor of Becky and Nations' 2,000 women employees.

Florida Alpha Mary Ethel

Gilbert Prather makes baskets the old-fashioned way: she starts by cutting down a tree. In order to be considered a basket maker rather than a basket assembler, Mary Ethel began learning to make her own materials from trees. Basket making includes cutting down the tree, splitting, cutting and shaving the wood into workable pieces and then weaving the basket. Since she admires traditional Shaker forms, she often uses Shaker patterns or adds her special variation to a traditional pattern. Her baskets have been selected for gallery exhibits and for inclusion in specialty basketry shops. She continues to take classes and is always interested in new basketry techniques. Mary Ethel has received two scholarships to study at Arrowmont.

Arkansas Alpha Sheila

Boylan Parsons has been a professional artist and workshop instructor/leader for 15 years. She has led and taught workshops across the United States, in Wales, Mexico, Italy, Spain, Ireland and France. Sheila is a signature member of Mid-Southern Watercolorists, on the faculty of the Arkansas Arts Center, active in the state Artists-in-the-Schools Program, and has works in public and private collections all over the world. Sheila appropriately calls herself a "have brush will travel" workshop teacher.

Oklahoma Beta

Patricia Turk Schloesser, M. D., a board certified pediatrician who headed the Kansas State Health Department's efforts in maternal and child health for many years, was honored with the Martha Kay Eliot Award, honoring exceptional service to mothers and children. The award is given by the American Public Health Association.

Houston City Council member Eleanor Whilden Tinsley, Texas Zeta, has been selected to receive the Mayor's 1992 Proud Partners Award. It is the first time a public official has been so honored. There are now 58 neighborhood school parks in Houston as a result of her inspiration and tireless commitment to the SPARK program which she founded in 1983.

Kristina Nelson Hochmuth, Indiana Epsilon, an environmentally-minded school teacher from Lions Park Elementary School in Mount Prospect, Illinois, spearheaded a program in her school to recycle. Kris became concerned about the huge amount of paper disposed of in her school. The village of Mount Prospect offered no paper recycling program, so Kris found a local recycling company willing to come to Lions School to pick up recycled paper, but at a cost. Kris went to her faculty for support and then applied for a grant to cover expenses. Wal-Mart Corporation came through with a Community Impact Grant of $750. Because Lions was one of the first school accounts where paper was picked up, Kris Hochmuth and her students became famous. Several newspaper articles focused on the recycling project. Kris was even asked to cut the ribbon at the opening of the new Mount Prospect Wal-Mart. A field trip to the actual recycling plant was given to all kindergarten through 5th grade students and their teachers from Lions. They were the first student group to ever tour the facility.

The Arrow of Pi Beta Phi

Texas Beta, Nelwyn Harman Reagon, was featured in Discover Waco, a magazine published monthly in Waco, Texas. She was highlighted as one who makes the community of Waco a better place to live. Nelwyn has served in various leadership positions, including YWCA Pathfinders Award chairman, YWCA Academic All Stars chairman, YWCA Board of Directors president, Keep Waco Beautiful president, "Build A New Y Now" chairman, First Baptist of Woodway Youth Division director, and Brazos Forum board member. Nelwyn is a member of the Waco Alumnae Club.

Missouri Gamma Betsy Maas-Davidson is making a difference as a pre-eighth grade teacher at Webster Middle School in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Betsy noticed a sense of interest while listening to her students' heated debates about the Kennedy assassination and film director Oliver Stone's controversial movie "JFK." She realized she had a chance to do more than just teach another history lesson to her students – students who had been targeted as "at-risk" and placed in Webster Middle's pre-eighth grade pilot project because of academic and motivation problems. Fueled by further study, including focus on current New York Times' bestseller "JFK: Conspiracy of Silence," Betsy, her students and Webster Middle School Principal Dr. Jan Borelli traveled by chartered bus to meet with the book's author, Dr. Charles Crenshaw, in Dallas, Texas. The students first met with representatives from the JFK Assassination Information Center and Museum, visited the historical sites of Dealey Plaza, the grassy knoll and the Texas School Book Depository and then participated in a luncheon with Dr. Crenshaw. Betsy's students were given a unique history lesson that they will not soon forget.

The Imperial Polk County Alumnae Club celebrated their first Founders' Day with a luncheon held at Imperial Lakes Country Club in Lakeland, Florida. The alumnae club had previously been active for 57 years and was known as the Lakeland Alumnae Club. With recent renewed interest, a new club to link Pi Phis in the Polk County area was formed. Nancy Roake O'Neil, Eta Alumnae Province President, presented the club with their charter and then installed new club officers.

The Cypress Creek Alumnae Club was proud to present four Golden Arrow Awards at its Founders' Day luncheon in April. The recipients of this honor were: Lanelle Penny Banks, South Carolina Alpha, Mildred Ellison Bean, Ohio Alpha, Marie Hansen McRoberts, Illinois Alpha and Margaret Klein, Iowa Zeta. The luncheon was held at Girl's Country, the club's philanthropic project. The complex is located north of Houston and provides temporary homes for displaced girls.

Members of the Northern New Jersey Alumnae Club successfully conducted their first "garage sale" fundraiser at the Morristown, New Jersey Armory on March 28, 1992. Club members donated "gently used" items from their attics and basements which were then sold at the Armory. The money raised was used to purchase numerous books for the preschool children and mothers staying at the club's local philanthropy, the Babyland Shelter for Battered Women.

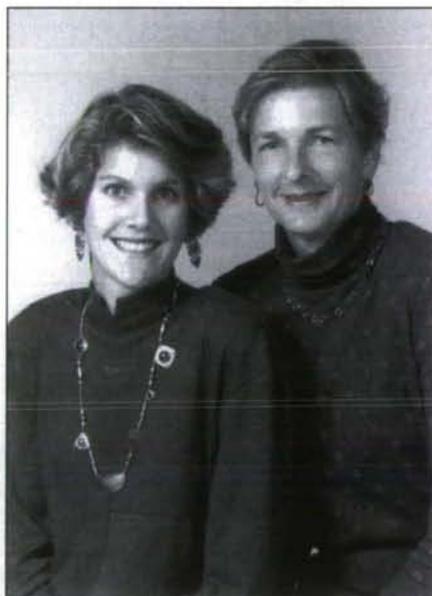

Peggy King Buchanan, Colorado Alpha, is an extremely energetic and athletic woman. Peggy and her husband Jack enjoy skiing, mountain biking, hiking, backpacking, lake swimming, fishing, gardening, and photography. Peggy, an avid swimmer, is not only involved in the Evergreen Recreation Center's masters swimming program: she started it. The international program is for adults age 20 and up who want to get into shape, have fun and set and reach their own personal goals. Peggy recently returned from the World Masters Swimming Championships in Indianapolis, Indiana, where she participated in eight events.

Pi Phi's Arrowcraft items were featured at the 3rd annual Holiday Boutique sponsored by the Lafayette Alumnae Panhellenic Council in October. Sales were brisk and enthusiasm high for the display of the three sample kits ordered from the Arrowcraft Shop. Each participating alumnae group was encouraged to display and sell crafts, baked goods, snack items, holiday notes and gift wraps in order to fund their individual philanthropic endeavors. Held in a central location and enhanced by a box luncheon (by reservation) chaired and served by Chi Omega Alumnae, the Boutique has become a popular early holiday event in the community. This yearly event has been a significant enhancement to the sale of Arrowcraft items and a member of the Pi Phi's Lafayette Alumnae Club has been general chairman for the past 3 years. Collegiate members of Indiana Delta, along with the House Director, were invited to assist the alumnae during the sale and to enjoy the box luncheon.

In September, the Louisville Alumnae Club held its annual potluck supper at the home of Martha Maier. After dinner, the evening was highlighted by a video presentation featuring the renovation of the Kentucky Alpha chapter house on the University of Louisville campus.

The Meridian, Mississippi Alumnae Club held a Mother-Daughter Tea in May at the home of alumna Melanie Mitchell. Area alumnae and actives were invited to attend and bring either their mother, daughter, mother-in-law, or daughter-in-law. A total of 16 Pi Phis and family members enjoyed the afternoon event. Organizers were alumnae club members Linda Bruister, Martha Mazingo, Melanie Mitchell, and Charlotte Chaney.

Two Pi Phis enjoy careers in the exciting world of women's fashion. Both Elizabeth Carr McElwain, Virginia Epsilon, and Nancy Garretson Morr, Illinois Epsilon, are Vice-Presidents of CMcE, Ltd., a women's custom fashions manufacturer in Lake Forest, Illinois. Beth is VP of Product Development and Quality and Nancy is VP of Sales and Marketing.

Pi Beta Phi's national Directors gather for Officers' Leadership Workshop. Front: Kay Cromb Brada, Kay Knittle Brock, Maurine Hager Jones, Joey Blume Hamilton, Kay Cross Baker, Jane Landreth Russell, Joanne MaGirl Arnold and Gayla Velvin Ferree. Back: Jo Scholes Hill, Linda Burrows Priest, Lou Ann Montgomery Carter, Sara Wareham Waggoner and Kathy Anderson Witte.

Collegiate Province Presidents join Grand Vice President of Collegians Beth van Maanen Beatty for workshops, training and general sessions at the 1992 Officers' Leadership Workshop. "Putting the Pieces Together" was the theme for the workshop held at Pi Beta Phi's Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts.

Grand Vice President of Alumnae Sara Shipley Bowers enjoys time with the Fraternity's Alumnae Province Presidents during Officers' Leadership Workshop held in Gatlinburg, Tennessee the weekend of September 19. Alumnae workshops covered such topics as resources, extension, communications, awards, programming, club visits and alumnae regional retreats.

Picking up the Pieces

by Heather Harley Koschny

As I picked up the phone to call The ARROW editor today, I surveyed my own home. There are several holes in the roof, and half of its windows and doors are missing. I lived for three weeks without electricity, refrigeration and hot water. Yet, I am so very, very fortunate; the roof structure has held and I have boards on my windows to keep looters out. I still have a home.

Since August 24, 1992 when the catastrophic Hurricane Andrew struck, it has been months of gut wrenching existence in south Dade County, Florida. Life has been tough; tougher than one can ever imagine or that television could portray. Yet, survivors of this horrific act of nature are not scarred. Instead, memories of neighbor helping neighbor and the American people's generosity stand out prominently in our minds.

Most of all, the friendship of Pi Beta Phi has provided much needed moral support. Old friends looked after one another as the Miami Alumnae Club set up its task force PI PHI (Pi Phi Involved with Post Hurricane Initiative) through which the club is contacting all Pi Phi in the area to inquire as to their well-being and to identify their needs.

Many alumnae are volunteering their time to the Hurricane Relief Effort distributing the generous and overwhelming contributions that flooded in from all over the world. Ann Jones, Virginia Beta 1929, works with the Red Cross Emergency Services to arrange military leaves for those in the Armed Forces who need to come home because their homes have been destroyed. I have been working at the Salvation Army Sharing Center distributing medical supplies to Migrant Farm workers, Haitian and Cuban refugees. Caring for the needs of 160,000 homeless is mind boggling. There are headaches and illnesses from prolonged stress, cuts and infections related to the clean-up efforts, and sick children because of inadequate, unsanitary living conditions, lack of clean water and malnutrition.

Florida Delta Diane Dugoni Soaf observing damage in the Maranja Lakes area.

Through this tragedy, I met a truly remarkable Pi Phi. Diane Dugoni Shoaf, Florida Delta 1972, is a Presbyterian minister whose parish, located in Homestead, Florida, suffered major damage as did the homes of most of the church's members. Many in the congregation are elderly and live in mobile homes. Their homes could not withstand the 200 mph winds. These fixed income retirees are financially devastated and have lost their sense of independence, having to move in with friends and family members. Most cannot rebuild and have lost their belongings. These are the hardships and heart-breaking circumstances that Diane faces every day as she personally visits all of the congregation members. Her patience and caring nature help people bring perspective to the chaos brought with Hurricane Andrew.

The environment has also suffered massive amounts of damage. Three million cubic feet of debris has been collected and dumped into what were once lovely tropical parks.

The rebuilding process is going to take an extremely long time...years, maybe decades. In total, 65,000 houses suffered damage, of which 28,000 were destroyed. 80,000 households lost phone service as did 1.4 million electric customers. One month later, 28,000 households were still not energized and that is with more than 5,000 workers from Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Kentucky, and Tennessee working around the clock. $20 million in total property damage was caused by the storm's rage.

The effects are overwhelming and the Miami Alumnae Club is asking for all Pi Phis to open their hearts and help. As the task force PI PHI seeks to locate all area members we ask that if you know the whereabouts of anyone who has been forced to relocate we ask that you send their name and address to the listing below.

The Miami Alum Club is collecting very small and inexpensive toilet articles and toys. If any member, chapter or alumnae club can help us in these desperate times please send items to: Heather Harley Koschny, 7690 SW 156th Street, Miami FL 33157.

All Miami area Pi Phis would like to thank everyone who has sent wishes during these extraordinary times. We appreciate it so very much.

Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg Crest Award

Play Your Best Card!

If you aren't using your Pi Beta Phi Visa Classic, you're not playing your best card. Every time you make a purchase, First Tennessee Bank makes a contribution to the Fraternity that supports innovative chapter programming, the expansion of the DIRECTIONS program, and continued ARROW excellence.

If that isn't enough to make you reach for the Pi Beta Phi Visa Classic, remember these great features:

- ♣ Low annual fee ... just $18 per year.
- ♦ Competitive 16.5% Annual Percentage Rate.
- ♥ Interest free grace period on purchases.
- ♠ Exceptional travel benefits at no extra charge.

If you're already holding the Pi Beta Phi Card ... play it.

If not ... call 1-800-669-7474, ext. 023 for an application, and start playing with a full deck.

Alumnae Scholarships

If you have been out of school at least two years, plan to pursue a career requiring further education and have evidence of need for scholarship help, consider applying for an Alumnae Continuing Education Scholarship. For more information and a scholarship application write to:

Jean Nees Tulin
R.R. 1, Box 73B
Knoxville, IL 61448

Deadline for the completed application has been changed from February 1 to January 15, 1993.

Elections

At the 1993 Convention, members of Grand Council and Fraternity Directors will be elected to serve two-year terms of office.

During the spring, all chapters and alumnae clubs will receive forms to be used in making recommendations for these offices. The Nominating Committee requests that your recommendation forms be completed and returned, as directed, prior to convention.

Individuals are invited to send letters of recommendation for Fraternity officers to the Nominating Committee Chairman Anne Chestnut Bartlett, 282 Curtis Point Drive, Mantoloking, NJ 08738 no later than May 1, 1993.

The Grand Council of Pi Beta Phi

Attention 25-Year Members

To recognize those who have been Pi Phi members for twenty-five years, Pi Beta Phi introduced the Silver Arrow Society and the 25-year recognition pin. Its simple diamond design with bevel cut arrow elegantly proclaims twenty-five years of dedication to Pi Phi. This custom designed silver-tone lapel pin is available for $12.00 (including shipping and handling). Please direct your order and check, made payable to Pi Beta Phi Fraternity, to Central Office.

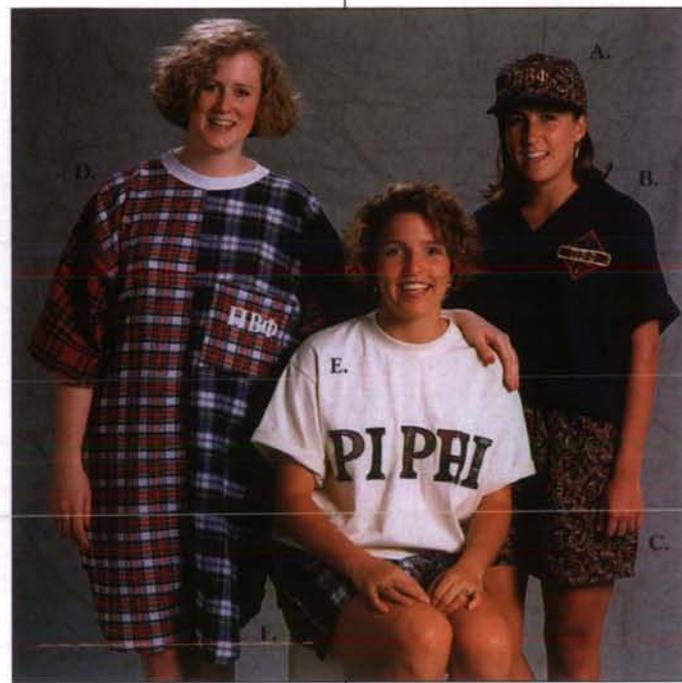

Grand President Jo Ann Minor Roderick and Grand Vice President of Collegians Beth van Maanen Beatty admire a pottery bowl in the Arrowcraft Shop while attending the Officers' Workshop in Gatlinburg in September. Officers toured the Arrowcraft Shop and were introduced to the wide range of handcrafted and handwoven items that are for sale in the shop and that have been in Sample Kits sent to alumnae clubs.

THE MAGIC OF FRIENDSHIP IN PI BETA PHI

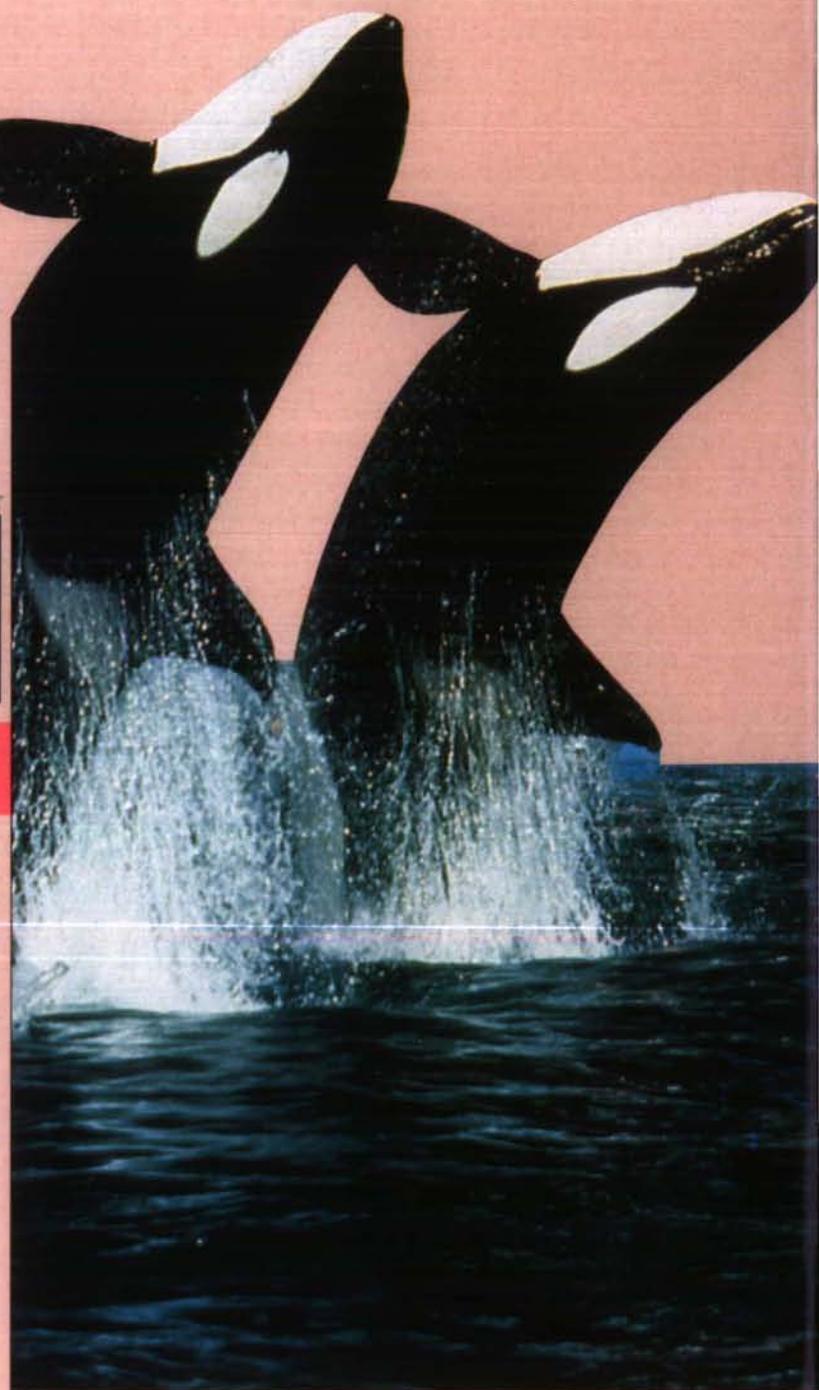

Convention 1993 will provide exciting programs and speakers, educational workshops and information about current issues pertinent to our Fraternity. Pi Phis of all ages and from all parts of the United States and Canada will convene at the Stouffer Orlando Resort June 19-23, 1993.

The focal point of this magnificent hotel is a ten-story atrium where a waterfall cascades into a crystal-clear pool filled with glimmering Japanese Koi fish. Tropical foliage and colorful flowers bloom as exotic birds fly free in a spectacular Victorian aviary. In your free time or during a pre- or post-convention vacation, enjoy the hotel's huge Mediterranean-style pool, fully equipped fitness center and tennis courts.

We hope to see you in June 1993 in Orlando, where there is something for everyone!

Tuesday Recreation Afternoon Options

AN AFTERNOON AT SEA WORLD

The sea's mystery and wonder await discovery at Sea World of Florida, the world's most popular marine life park. New shows include the spectacular "Shamu: New Visions" killer whale presentation; "Gold Rush" water ski show; "Clyde and Seamore 10,000 B.C." sea lion and otter show; "Discovery Cove" whale and dolphin show and the spectacular "Chinese Golden Dragons" acrobatic show. Also new is "Terrors of the Deep," where visitors come face to face with eels, barracuda and dozens of toothy sharks. A prearranged group lunch will be provided. $34.50

Annie's, ensure a most memorable experience. A delicious lunch will be provided in one of Lili Marlene's private parlor rooms. $26.50

HISTORIC WINTER PARK

A one-hour open-air boat ride offers a unique waterway tour of historic Winter Park. This cruise travels over five beautiful lakes and canals and affords a splendid view of Winter Park mansions, gardens and attractions. Browse along Park

Avenue and informally tour the quaint "Little Europe" shopping district, a haven for boutique shoppers and gourmet palates. Enjoy the Morse Art Gallery featuring the largest selection of Louis B. Tiffany glass in the world. A box lunch will be provided. $31.50

ORLANDO UP CLOSE

Enjoy a delightful tour of historic Downtown Orlando. Dine and shop at Church Street Station, a renovated, historical district in downtown Orlando. The Victorian style buildings feature authentic antiques, stained glass, pressed tin ceilings, elaborate wood paneling and objects d'art. The Church Street Exchange, with its three levels of shopping and over 40 specialty and clothing stores, combined with Rosie O'Grady's, the Orchid Garden, the Cheyenne Saloon and Apple

AN AFTERNOON AT COCOA BEACH

Need to relax? Fun in the sun awaits you at Cocoa Beach — a little piece of paradise on Florida's Atlantic coast. Situated slightly off the beaten track, Cocoa Beach is one of our best kept secrets. A box lunch will be provided. $23.00

Post Convention Recreation Options

A DAY AT UNIVERSAL STUDIOS FLORIDA

Don't miss the #1 movie studio and theme park in the world, Universal Studios Florida! Ride The Movies with E.T., King Kong, Earthquake and Back To The Future... The Ride— it's the greatest ride of all time. Enjoy exciting new shows like Beetlejuice's Graveyard Revue and the Rocky & Bullwinkle Show. Visit the spectacular new Fievel's Playland based on the movie "An American Tail—Fievel Goes West" and enjoy a bite to eat at the world's largest Hard Rock Cafe. $43.00

A DAY AT MAGIC KINGDOM® PARK

Just imagine a world where you can take flight with Peter Pan, join a Mission to Mars, ride a run away mine train or travel

20,000 Leagues Under the Sea. Investigate a Haunted Mansion. Soar through the inky blackness of space or relax and see your favorite stars from "The Disney Afternoon" TV hits in person at Mickey's Starland. Add the fun of an all new parade and special shows featuring your favorite Disney characters and you have an incredible place called the MAGIC KINGDOM Park, a showcase for seven lands of fantasy and fun. $12.00 (Admission NOT included).

A DAY AT EPCOT® CENTER

High-action adventure, space-age ingenuity, and Disney "magic" come together in one of the most exciting entertainment creations ever. EPCOT Center takes you on incredible "journeys" through time and space, across continents of the world, and beyond your wildest imagination! Explore the two dazzling worlds of EPCOT Center: Future World and World Showcase. $12.00 (Admission NOT included).

A DAY AT DISNEY-MGM STUDIOS THEME PARK

Go behind the scenes on a tour of a working studio back lot, complete with city scenes, suburban settings, and even Catastrophe Canyon where you will find yourself in the middle of floods, fires and explosions. Observe movies and television in the making. Visit Disney's "The Magic of Disney Animation," where animated features come to life from pencil beginnings to the complete films, and enjoy a "hands on" and "ears on" experience at the Sound Effects Studio, where you can try your hand at creating sound effects! $12.00

All recreation options are handled independently of Pi Beta Phi Central Office.

For information about recreation options for Tuesday afternoon or post convention, please contact Joan Stevenson at USA Tours. Phone 407-352-8750, Fax 407-352-8252

ATTENDEES WITH ALTERNATE ACCOMMODATIONS

Daily registration fee for Pi Phis attending any general and/or workshop without Stouffer hotel accommodations is $25.00. If an individual would like to attend special meal events, she may request meal ticket information by filling out the form below.

GETTING TO ORLANDO

Pi Beta Phi is proud to have Delta as its official carrier for the 1993 Convention. To obtain the lowest available airfare, call Windjammer Travel Service in St. Louis, Missouri. The toll-free number is 1-800-633-1545. If Delta does not service your city, Windjammer Travel Service will confirm the best possible route and fare to Orlando. Please make your call between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. (Central Standard Time) weekdays.

ALUMNAE ADVISORY COMMITTEE OR HOUSE CORPORATION SEMINARS

Information and special registration forms for these seminars will be mailed directly to the chairman of each Alumnae Advisory Committee and each House Corporation. You must be an official member of an AAC or House Corporation to register.

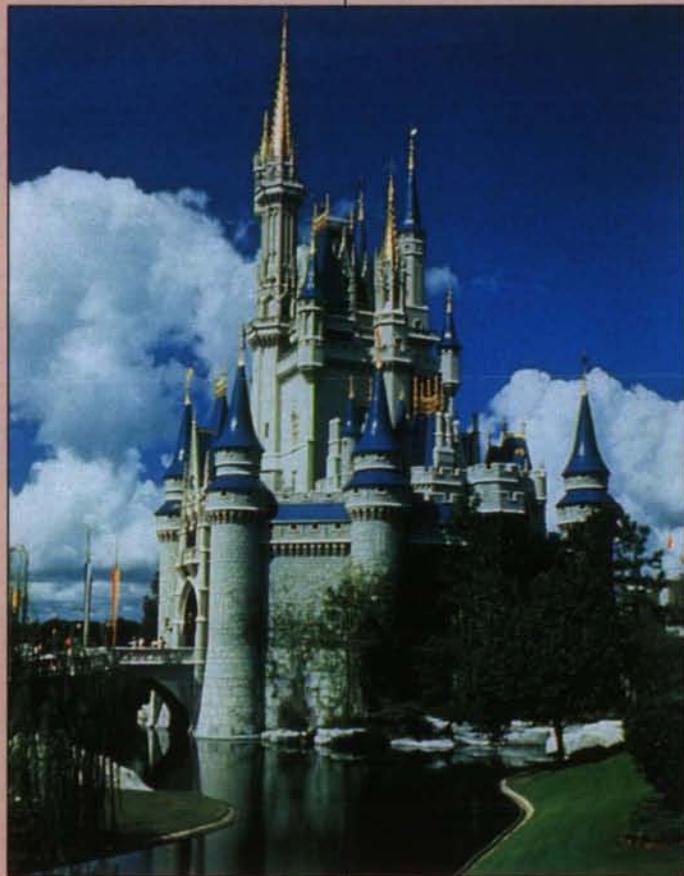

INDIVIDUAL MEAL TICKETS

Pi Phis who are not staying in the hotel may buy individual meal tickets. Tickets must be purchased at least 72 hours prior to the time of the meal. To request individual meal ticket information by mail, fill out the form below. Pi Beta Phi recommends purchasing tickets prior to arriving at convention as payment must be made 3 days prior to the meal event. The hotel will allow no exceptions.

CONVENTION DEADLINES

Forms and fees are due Thursday April 22, 1993. Requests cannot be guaranteed if correct payment is not post-marked by April 22, 1993.

Request for Convention Visitor Information

I will be a Full-Time or Part-Time registrant. Please send me visitor registration materials for a Full-Time or Part-Time Package which includes information for convention and hotel registration.

I will not need accommodations at the Stouffer. Please send me visitor registration materials for attending convention activities.

Please send me Visitor Meal Ticket Registration materials. I understand that because I will not be a Stouffer hotel guest, I must pay the daily registration fee if I wish to attend general sessions or workshops.

★ Only visitors need to send for registration packets. All official personnel will receive forms directly through chapter, alumnae club and individual mailings.

★ Please leave your mailing label on the reverse side of this form.

★ Convention materials will not be available until after January 15, 1993.

CALL TO CONVENTION

in Pi Beta Phi as we gather for the Fraternity's 59th Biennial Convention in Orlando, Florida June 19-23, 1993.

Our convention hotel will be the beautiful Stouffer Orlando Resort, just minutes away from the Walt Disney World Resort®, EPCOT Center®, Disney-MGM Studios Theme Park and Universal Studios, and directly across the street from Shamu and Sea World.

Convention 1993 promises opportunities to renew Pi Phi sisterhood, make new friends and have fun while perfecting leadership skills and enjoying outstanding speakers. Our conventions bring together alumnae and collegians. They are for every Pi Phi, not just for presidents and officers. Convention is truly what Pi Phi is all about... friendship.

Help create the future direction of the Fraternity. Come to Florida, June 19-23 and help us legislate, educate and celebrate "The Magic of Friendship in Pi Beta Phi"!
