"SORORITISAURUS—genus of dinosaur that became extinct in the early 21st century, colloquial—Greek 'sorority.'"

Don't bother to pull out your dictionary, Webster has not defined "sororitisaurus"—I made it up to make a point, as a matter of fact I would like to make several points if you will bear with me.

Our own wonderful, wise and witty Barbie Tootle told our collegiate leaders this past summer that, "Organizations that refuse to change are represented by a dinosaur, and they will become extinct." As many of you know, Barbie is Assistant to the President at The Ohio State University, and she knows what is happening on today's college campuses.

Are things different/changing on today's campus?

Read the articles in this issue of The ARROW and be better informed about the changing student. For that matter, read your morning newspaper—things are not the same in almost any area of our lives, why would we think it would be "like it was when I was in school" relative to college campuses and in turn to our chapters.

Can we stop change?

No, and even if we could, would we always want to do so? Remember ... it was a change for women to attend college in the mid 1800s ... it was a change for women to join together to form their own "fraternity like the men had" ... it was a change for our I.C. Sorosis to be called by the Greek letters Pi Beta Phi ... If you read about the early years of Pi Phi, there was no such thing as a pledgeship, let alone a rush skit. Although most of us do not like change, it is inevitable, and it is not always bad.

How should we react to change?

There are at least several steps we can take:

1. We can be educated and aware of what is changing and why.
2. We can plan for the changes, both short-term and long-range.
3. We can make necessary adjustments, i.e. be proactive.

I hope you will be comforted to know that Pi Phi's officers are making every attempt to do those three things. For that matter, so are the leaders of other sororities, of National Panhellenic Conference (NPC) and of National Interfraternity Conference (NIC). We, women's and men's groups, are all working together—as never before to preserve for future generations the opportunity to benefit from Greek life (as all of us did and continue to do).

What specifically is Pi Phi doing about preparing for change?

Councils, past and present, have been devoting significant time to strategic planning. Our international Directors were brought into the process last fall and are making significant contributions. This past summer at our leadership seminars we had "Consults with Council" to provide on a "grass roots level" to every chapter president an opportunity to share thoughts and concerns with a Grand Council member. We are trying to keep all our members educated and updated through The ARROW and correspondence, as well as through alumnae retreats, collegiate seminars, convention speakers, and other programming.

We are trying to make adjustments as needed, for example:

Rush: Along with other NPC groups, we are promoting more effective and meaningful rush practices, i.e. more conversation and less entertainment (less elaborate rush skits).

Programs: We are providing, and working with other Greek groups to provide, educational programs to help meet the needs on today's campuses.

Pledgeship: We are piloting a shortened pledge period which will be less demanding on the members and more uniting to the chapter. (Note: at the time of this writing all but one of the 26 NPC groups either already has or is evaluating a shortened pledgeship—to not do so could possibly effect our ability to be competitive in rush.)

Fraternity Heritage: In light of the time constraints of our collegians and the shortened pledge period, we are preparing modules about Pi Phi's history, ideals and traditions which will be for the ongoing education of all chapter members (not just pledges).

Chapter structure: We are studying our current chapter officer responsibilities in an effort to decrease and better distribute the demands on those dedicated leaders.

What can you as an individual do to help?

As a collegian, you can maintain the high scholarship you have attained (our international grade point average is over a 3.0 on a 4.0 point system!). You can continue to give time and energy to community service and philanthropies. You can increase your campus involvement and be an even better "citizen" of your university. You can lead the effort at your school to foster the best of risk management practices. You can always care about and support your sorority sisters.

As an alumna, you can pay your international dues and keep your address current with Central Office, and encourage your friends to do the same. You can participate in alumnae activities including the Directions program. You can give your time as an alumnae officer, chapter advisor or house corporation board member. You can assure Pi Phi's financial stability by contributing to our Foundation—your contribution will make it possible for us to provide the educational programming needed to maintain our standards of excellence.

Are "Sororitisaurus" and Pi Phi going to become extinct?

No, an emphatic "no"! With your help, we are going to meet the "challenges of change." With your help, we will be here for succeeding generations of young women. With your help, we will give to them the same opportunity we have had to have a "family away from home" ... to form lasting friendships ... to grow as individuals ... to develop leadership skills ... to learn to work as a member of a team ... to accept responsibility for themselves and for others ... to raise their self-esteem ... in total to be better prepared to meet the demands of a changing world, a world that will find them having both careers and families, a world that will need more women who are caring, capable and concerned. With your help, it can and will be done!

IMAGES... A GLIMPSE OF TODAY'S COLLEGE STUDENT AND THE CAMPUS

by Dr. Christine Kajikawa Wilkinson

Consider the following images you walk on a college campus today. "Anna," a 33-year-old single mother of a three-year-old daughter, has returned to school determined to make it as a "reentry" student in nursing. Anxious about succeeding in school and as a single parent, she concentrates on her education and her daughter, leaving little time for extracurricular activities—something she regrets as she watches the other younger students bonding with each other and the university through organizations and activities.

"Mary," now a 20-year-old junior majoring in English, chose to attend Arizona State University after participating in the Hispanic Mother/Daughter Program during high school. She is active in the Leadership Scholar Program, Devil's Advocates service honorary, the dance line, and serves as a residence hall peer counselor.

"Christy," an 18-year-old freshman and Leadership Scholar in her first semester at ASU, belongs to a strong, traditional Mormon family. Although undecided on her major, her emphasis on academics has resulted in her selection as a prestigious Flinn Scholar, as well as acceptance into the Honors College. She was recently chosen as Arizona's Junior Miss and was first runner-up in the national competition.

While the names are fictitious, the students are real and are representative of the student profile enrolling in higher education each year. They reflect, in large measure, the changing demographics and diversity of society as a whole.

The annual enrollment rate of students age 40 and older in postsecondary institutions has more than doubled since 1970, and women have participated at double the rate of men ("More Adults Enrolling in College Programs," 1994).

"By the year 2000, one-third of the nation's populations will be composed of minority peoples and many of our cities will have school populations in which people of color are the majority" ("Educating One-Third of A Nation," 1988).

And what about the family structure? Sixty percent of today's children will live with a single parent at some time before they turn eighteen (Hodgkinson, 1985). Almost 40% of new mothers will return to work two months after the baby's birth. Richard Hersh, president of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, wrote recently that due to social and economic factors, parents are both working and working longer hours, resulting in adults having few authentic connections with their children. This "Culture of Neglect" has created a diminished concern for ethics and personal responsibility (Hersh, 1994). The television has become the primary guardian with American children viewing 350,000 commercials by age eighteen (Connoisseur, 9/89 as reported in the Generation X book).

What about the college students' views on the world? According to a survey completed by Art Levine, President of Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, the Challenger Shuttle, the Gulf War and the fall of communism are the human events which had the most impact on current college students. And yet, even in the fall of communism, they only understood the event occurred. They did not understand the symbolic impact of such an event for their parents or guardians. For these students, war as characterized by Desert Storm is carried out on television and lasts six days. The majority of what these students do and expect is of an instantaneous nature.

Consider the numerous recent technological improvements that have contributed to the expectations of immediate gratification. While most of these significant timesavers are considered luxuries by their family members, most of these young adults consider automation as a given. Cooking dinner means driving through a fast food place or using a microwave. Instead of typing, erasing, using carbons (What are those?), students use one of many types of personal computers that all but do the work for them. PCs can format, spell check, paginate and much more just by a click of the keyboard. When they want to communicate with one another, they use their PCs to send and receive notes to and from their friends through an electronic network across the United States. Even the standard letter may be replaced by fax or voice will be able to access all types of services will not only reduce the number of cards needed, they can also be used as debit cards so students can consolidate all charges into one account. The cards also allow students to use them as access control for parking structures, residence halls and even high security research buildings. Resumes for future employment are being produced electronically, and transcripts are sent from one institution to the other electronically, reducing both paperwork and potential clerical errors. These improvements, while phenomenal, also set up a different type of culture where the instantaneous nature does not allow for any "breathing time," relaxing or thinking. Instead of giving individuals more time for contemplation or relaxation, automation has generated more options to be busier or more harried.

And what are their views about college and future objectives? Alexander Astin and his colleagues from the UCLA Higher Education Research Institute annually survey thousands of mail, voice messaging systems, or interactive television/telephone systems. And to be sure they don't lose any time, these students can use speed dial. On the campus itself, students can register by phone, drop-add courses by phone, pay fees by phone and even receive grades by phone. The development of campus identification cards which freshmen to gain a perspective on changes in student demographics and college students' attitudes about a number of topics (Cage, 1994). For the 1993 cohort, 220,757 freshmen from 427 colleges and universities were surveyed. For the first time in the history of this survey, women appeared more likely than their male counterparts to pursue advanced degrees. This was more prevalent for those interested in pursuing doctoral, law and medical degrees.

Similar to recent years, the females chose their top reasons for going to college as follows: to be able to get a better job (82.6%), to learn more about things that interest me (78.5%), and to be able to make more money (72.6%).

The top four female responses to the objectives considered essential or very important were: being well-off financially (72.2%), helping others who are in difficulty (71.9%); raising a family (71.5%), and becoming an authority in own field (66.3%). All of these are significant goals and not without critical decisions along the way. They, also, are not compatible with one another necessarily and may result in high levels of stress as these females begin to understand the full import of seeking to reach the goal of more than one of these objectives simultaneously.

Compared to the interests of students eighteen years ago when these students were born, students were not as concerned about the financial benefits of getting a better job or being well off financially. Instead, while these issues were important, determining a philosophy of life also ranked as one of the key factors for attending college. As a consequence, the students of today will perceive things far differently than others in the work force, including their faculty, administrators, or future supervisors. The interests, backgrounds, and goals may vary while a different set of circumstances also surrounds the campus.

Campus and Greek communities are not isolated from issues and problems. Time needs to be saved for reflection on what has been evolving, as well as

"Greek communities, with the rest of the campus, should begin to look toward the year 2000 and develop a vision which will address the needs of future students."

for consideration of future choices. Greek communities, with the rest of the campus, should begin to look toward the year 2000 and develop a vision which will address the needs of future students. The Carnegie Foundation report on Campus Life: In Search of Community (1990) identifies six principles as the foundation for helping students develop as independent adults while understanding and appreciating the essential need for interdependence.

The Greek letter organizations espouse two of the principles well—CARING and CELEBRATIVE. The first encompasses the student's need to belong. One of the greatest strengths of the fraternal organizations is in their ability to help individuals bond with each other and the institution. The sense of caring that occurs through mentoring, encouraging both scholarship and sisterhood, continues to be the most positive attribute and enduring quality of the Greek community. The celebrative principle speaks to encouraging and sustaining the rich heritage and traditions of a campus community. Most individuals would agree that the Greeks know how to celebrate and maintain traditions much better than the rest of the campus communities. The chapters should consider, however, which of these traditions that have been heralded in the past have now outlived their usefulness and/or values. Instead, which ones should be continued because of their enduring positive nature and embodiment of the spirit with which they were originally intended? On the other hand, which traditions should be eliminated?

The other Campus Life principles should inherently be a part of the organizational structure, but need more attention. They are as follows:

PURPOSEFUL: The fraternity needs to be clear about its purpose, and its values. It should also share a set of consistent, clear goals. Is the fraternity in good standing and in concert with the institutional goals? Does the fraternity seriously promote good scholarship and give formal recognition to those who attain high academic achievement? What local philanthropic projects are supported? Are projects supported by just writing checks, or are members actively engaged in a project that will impact some segment of the local community or the campus itself? What has been done to encourage individual members to grow developmentally beyond the fraternity?

OPEN: This is not to discount the uniqueness of a particular chapter or fraternal order, but more about the necessity to have free expression without fear of being ostracized. Chapter members should feel free to express their concern about functions that could potentially place them in untenable situations. Administrators, advisors and parents should encourage the members to think as individuals and make appropriate decisions without any threat of retaliation or hazing.

JUST: This principle is considered the balance between a special interest group such as a fraternal organization and the larger community (university). Diversity must be deliberately pursued, with both racial/cultural awareness and understanding embedded as underlying principles. Chapters should consider what they are doing to diversify their membership. What practices tend to inhibit potential members from going through rush? What traditions/events of the Greek system tend to hurt the members themselves?

DISCIPLINED: The principle asserts that there should be standards and that they will be strictly enforced. Chapters should self-govern in a fair and equitable manner. It is often difficult for peers to meet expectations that are both external and internal and yet the strongest chapters are those that do.

The student leadership needs to be supported as they make these difficult decisions.

In summary, college women today are different in profile, background and views on life than their previous counterparts. Their values and beliefs are based often on a home environment which is void of adult supervision. The college expectations and future professional goals have changed. The competitive nature of the job market as well as graduate school will vie markedly on the discretionary time of students. The fraternal system will be challenged as to its role in the campus community and will need to assess what traditions to uphold, which should be changed and still others that need to be eliminated.

Change is both exciting and challenging. College campuses and Greek letter organizations should embrace the new student profile and become change agents in establishing a positive, evolving Greek system for the year 2000.

Founded 1867

For more than five years I have edited

The ARROW. Twenty issues have preceded this one. It seems nearly impossible to believe such time has passed and with it so many issues. And yet, each issue is unique and has its own personality. The process of putting together a magazine, like life, goes in cycles. As I say goodbye to one, I must make room for another.

Before the last pages of this issue are complete, the wheels are already in motion for future issues. In the coming year, you may look forward to magazines featuring Pi Phi families, Pi Phis in politics, updates on our convention and other fraternity events and news of individual members. In order to better serve you, the reader, we ask for your contributions to this, your magazine. Won't you tell us about the Pi Phi associations in your family, inform us of the members of the Fraternity you know who are involved in politics or share other news of your club or chapter for future issues?

Within the pages of this issue you will see a theme of change. From the feature article which reveals the changing attitudes, objectives and goals of today's collegian ... to the Collegiate News department where you will see changes in how our chapters currently educate pledges and orient them to Pi Beta Phi ... to the listing of our donors and the change or transfer of the Friendship Fund from the Fraternity to the Foundation.

How appropriate then that in an issue focused on change, we bring you an ARROW with a new look. We welcome your thoughts and input. I leave you now with my favorite definition, or more appropriately, portrayal of change taken from a book by J. Ruth Gendler called, "The Book of Qualities."

"Change wears my sister's moccasins. He likes to stay up late and wakes up early ... He wants to amuse people, and it hurts him when they yell at him. Change is very musical, but sometimes you must listen for a long time before you hear the pattern in his music."

—JENNIFER MOELLER BARCUS

This is your page made available to anyone wishing to comment on articles, the magazine or any topic of interest to our readers. Letters must be signed with full name, address and chapter. We reserve the right to edit as needed to space requirements and content.

With Thanks

Thank you very much for the "Pi Phi Forever" (new member) manual. I enjoyed reading it and learning more about your fine organization. Especially informative was the section regarding the Settlement School. It is most impressive that Pi Beta Phi made such an early commitment to a major philanthropic project!

Also, thank you for the copy of The ARROW. The article entitled "Cross Words" by Timothy M. Burke provides a good summary of the history and many facets of risk management. I have provided a copy of the article to each chapter risk management officer in the hopes it will improve their understanding of this important topic.

DAVID HOTZ

This is a letter of appreciation for Timothy M. Burke's fine risk management "Cross Words" which was published in the Fall 1994 ARROW. Great depth of understanding and knowledge accompanied each line of this article.

MARTHA MOYER BERG
OHIO BETA

Thank you for including "A Discovery of Compassion, Energy and Womanly Strength" in your last issue. Paula Boyer Rougny did an extraordinary job at conveying what sisterhood is all about. It does not end when your college years are over if you make the effort to stay in touch.

There are ten of us who gather every year for a three-day weekend. Each of us needs the break for individual reasons. But we make the effort to get together knowing how much we will need each other as we grow older. In the relatively short period of time since we left college, life has already been hard on a few of us. But our Pi Phi sisters have been there every time. Thank you for the article!

Thank you so much for publishing the article I wrote about my mom in the Fall 1994 issue of The ARROW, "One Woman Fights for AIDS." She phoned me the other day because she didn't know I wrote the article and was very happy that I did.

As you know, she's working closely with New Mexico Beta and New Mexico Alpha to raise funds for the Names Project which will be in New Mexico in November.

It meant a lot to see my mom's appreciation and excitement. Thank you for the opportunity to express myself to her in such a wonderful way.

This is just a belated note to let you know how much I enjoyed the Winter 1993 issue of The ARROW.

Just a word of appreciation for your recognition of two of my friends and former sisters in Pi Phi ... Josephine Humphreys and Marguerite Weaver Sallee. The Summer 1993 issue of The ARROW magazine announced that they had been selected as Carolyn Helman Lichtenberg Crest Award winners. How proud we are of Jo and Marguerite! And how proud we are for Pi Phis everywhere to see what an outstanding chapter we had at Duke! (And still do!)

Electronic Communication

I remember seeing an announcement in The ARROW that Pi Phi was now on Prodigy. I have looked back a few issues, but can't find the information. Why don't you include the e-mail address in every issue? Besides the information for Prodigy users, you could include the internet Pi Phi address. I think this form of communication will continue to grow! I'm financial advisor to Virginia Theta and live an hour away from the chapter, so the Treasurer and I have begun to talk via the internet. It seems to be working out well.

New Studios Will Allow Innovation, Experimentation

With the new Sign of the Arrow Painting Studio and a renovated drawing studio scheduled for completion in early 1995, there will be opportunities for more experimentation with both painting and drawing according to Arrowmont watercolor instructor Ellen Murray, a professor of painting and drawing at Arizona State University. "I think you'd be able to do larger pieces with more innovative things technically, and the workshops themselves can be more varied as a result of having a better space."

Murray has taught at Arrowmont for four summers, and said she believes the improved facility will lend itself to a very exciting, well-rounded program where two-dimensional media are as well-equipped as Arrowmont's three-dimensional media.

Marcia Goldenstein, a professor of art at the University of Tennessee, has witnessed the 16-year development of the painting and drawing program and says she feels that Arrowmont is establishing a reputation as a conservatory/fine arts school.

"Not only will Arrowmont have these studios," Goldenstein explained enthusiastically, "But the Smoky Mountains are the best setting in the world for on-site landscape painting and drawing."

National Watercolor Honor Society Conference

After years of hosting outstanding craft related conferences, Arrowmont will host the Watercolor U.S.A. Honor Society Conference and Workshops in April 1995.

The society meets biennially, according to Honor Society President Ellen Murray and members are past award winners from the Watercolor U.S.A. Exhibitions at the Springfield Art Museum in Springfield, Missouri. Murray emphasized, however, that the conference and preconference workshops are "for anyone who is into watercolor."

The April 20-22 conference will be preceded by three days of hands-on watercolor workshops, April 17-20. Preconference participants may choose from seven workshops led by Miles Batt, Kathleen Jardine, Ed Shay, Pan San Soucie, Bonese Collins Turner, Lee Weiss and Milford Zornes.

Conference presenters include Barbara Cervenka, Rolland Golden, Harold Gregor, Lula Nestor, Electra Stamelos, Warren Taylor and Robert Vickery. Any interested adult may register for the preconference workshops, the conference or both. Information is available by calling (615) 436-5860.

Arrowmont welcomed four artists this past September for its 4th annual Artist-in-Residence Program. Jeff Brown, a potter from Gainesville, Florida; John Hegener, a painter from Cincinnati, Ohio; Ann Keck, a weaver and fiber artists from Charleston, South Carolina and Patrick Purcell, a potter from St. Louis, Missouri will be on campus through May working in their studios and teaching in Arrowmont's rural outreach and Artists in the Schools Program.

Registration for the Spring Workshop Program is underway. The scholarship application deadline is January 10, 1995.

Additional scholarship money sometimes becomes available after that date. Please call Arrowmont to inquire if assistance is available for select classes.

Arts Weekend to Include Celebrations

Arrowmont invites you to be part of a very special Pi Phi Arts Weekend, May 4-7, 1995. The weekend celebration will include programs honoring Arrowmont's 50th anniversary as a visual arts school, and the official dedication of Heritage Hall. Two-day workshops May 5 and 6 include Drawing with Pastels, A Taste of Clay, Enameled Tiles, Wicker Basketry, Quilting Using Photographic Images and Collage: Order from Fragments.

In Drawing with Pastels, students will create expressive color drawings from still life. The instructor is Virginia Derryberry of Rome, Georgia.

Students taking A Taste of Clay will work with terra cotta to create earrings, necklaces and small vessel forms. The class will be led by Gayle Batson from Little Rock, Arkansas.

Led by Susan Willis of Greenville, South Carolina, students taking Enameled Tiles will create a brightly colored and patterned tile by fusing glass on metal.

Wicker Basketry students will construct baskets using traditional techniques, and innovative patterns. The instructor is Lee Zimmerman of Baltimore, Maryland.

Using old family pictures and other existing snapshots, students will personalize fabric to be used for quilting in Quilting Using Photographic Images. The course is taught by Mary Perry from Hillsville, Virginia.

Collage: Order from Fragments students will create a nostalgic collage using surface design techniques and a variety of personal mementos. The class will be led by Ellen Zahorec of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Tuition is $120, with optional room and board packages starting at $81. This very special celebratory weekend will focus on the history of Arrowmont, its mission, its place in the art world past and present, its support and its supporters. Please contact Arrowmont for details.

Above: Ceramics workshops led the Summer Workshop Program to its highest enrollment since the mid 1970s. Director Sandy Blain attributes the high demand to personal contacts by Assistant Director Bill Griffith, who attends the annual convention of the National Council on Education for the Ceramic Arts in order to meet potential students and faculty. Here, instructor Farley Tobin bevels a clay tile as a student and Louisiana Beta Rachel Hastings Lambert watch.

Lower left: Arrowmont's two annual summer art auctions raised a total of $12,300. As a special feature of the 1994 events, proceeds from the auction of wood items went to the woodshop fundraising campaign, and proceeds from the auction of paintings went to the new painting and drawing studios. All remaining proceeds went, as usual, to the Friends of Arrowmont Scholarship Fund.

Billi Rothove Hired as Gallery Coordinator

In July 1994, Billi Rothove became Arrowmont's first full-time Gallery Coordinator, a position created after the establishment of the school's Gallery Endowment in 1992. The open endowment allows for expansion of gallery programs.

Billi is a former resident of Warrensburg, Missouri, where she was Gallery Director at Central Missouri State University. She is a practicing visual artist with a bachelor of fine arts degree from Kansas City Art Institute, a master of fine arts degree and an educational specialist degree from Central Missouri State University.

One of the first changes she plans to implement is the addition of explanatory text to enhance interaction between the viewer and the artwork. "There will be more text about the shows, about the artists," Billi said. "In this way the viewer, besides simply enjoying the work, can read something about the piece and perhaps learn what the artist thinks about the work. I'm interested in adding an educational aspect to the gallery."

Since mid-summer, Billi has been working on numerous exhibitions for the 1994-95 season, including the first public showing, October 20-December 10, of turned wood objects collected by Robyn and John Horn of Little Rock, Arkansas, and the Fifth Biennial Exhibition, April 20-May 13, of the Watercolor U.S.A. Honor Society.

Inquisitive People Wanted

Remember your electives in college, and how few fun classes you actually had? Imagine a college with nothing but electives. That's what Elderhostel is—freedom of choice with no grades, no credit, no homework, no tests.

Elderhostel is an educational program that has grown from a few hundred participants in 1975 to nearly one quarter of a million people in 1993. The non-profit organization invites adults aged 60 and over to "take an adventure of mind, body, and spirit," by offering inexpensive, short-term academic programs in 47 countries. The secret of the program's success is that each of its 1,800 participating institutions decide what subjects will be offered and who will teach them, so that every program has local flavor and personality.

Arrowmont certainly has personality, and has been hosting Elderhostel since 1981. Courses are held in April and October, the most beautiful times of the year in the Smokies. Lucy Baker Warner of Rocky River, Ohio took Calligraphy at Arrowmont last September and said, "People who've participated at Arrowmont enjoy the creativity and being in these surroundings. There are all levels of expertise in each class, and we work at our own speed."

"We study with instructors who are well-known in their fields. They have infinite patience with their students, so nobody feels intimidated. People who've never tried making something can come away with artwork to take home."

Elderhostel is particularly well-suited for anyone vacationing alone. For adventuresome folks who are not yet 60, anyone as young as 55 may participate if accompanied by an enrolled companion 60 or over. For information, contact Elderhostel at 75 Federal Street, Boston, MA 02110, or call Arrowmont at (615) 436-5860.

for Arrowmont

Campaign Update

$2.3 Million Goal

The Campaign for Arrowmont has surpassed the $2.1 million mark, thanks to generous support from Pi Phis, students, faculty, the arts community, gallery owners and collectors.

New Dormitory

As the result of campaign gifts in excess of $1 million designated to the dormitory, students, conference visitors and Pi Phi officers at the Fraternity's fall workshop have enjoyed new dormitory facilities since late spring '94.

Artist-in-Residence Program

Five private studios and scholarship support have been provided to 14 artists since the Campaign for Arrowmont made it possible to add the Residency Program to the school's curriculum in 1992.

Painting and Drawing Studios

A 2,296 sq. ft. new painting studio and a remodel of the existing studio into one for classes in drawing will be ready to welcome students soon after the first of the year.

Gallery

Generous gifts to the Gallery Endowment Fund component of the Campaign are funding, in part, a full-time Gallery Coordinator. Additional funds are being sought for cataloging of the permanent collection, promotion and traveling exhibits.

Children's Programs

Arrowmont's outreach program has been expanded, a scholarship endowment has put personalized education within reach of more rural area participants, and a special area of Arrowmont's library has been designed to provide children's resources in time for winter '94-'95 classes.

Wood Studio Complex

Generous gifts to the wood studio component of the Campaign for Arrowmont have placed a challenge grant of $352,500 from the Windgate Charitable Foundation within sight. When the challenge grant is "matched" and additional funds are raised for studio construction, Arrowmont will break ground for the premier wood complex in the country.

Named Gift Opportunities

Named gift opportunities remain in all areas of the Campaign. Pi Phi individuals, clubs and chapters are encouraged to join Arrowmont in its quest to provide facilities and programs that will ensure fulfillment of the school's mission to enrich lives through art.

Jerry Drown, shown here hollowing out a vessel during one of Arrowmont's classes in wood, is both an artist and collector. By profession, Drown is a photographer. By avocation, his interests lie in wood and, as a very special friend of Arrowmont, Drown is a leadership donor to the proposed new wood studio complex. The entry gallery in the studio building will bear the Drown name and the gallery's first exhibition will feature Jerry Drown's collection of wood pieces.

Below left: Well-known artist and Arrowmont faculty member Judi Betts looks forward to new and expanded studio facilities when she returns to teach in 1995. Judi, an Alpha Omicron Pi, was encouraged to join Arrowmont's faculty by her Pi Phi niece Pennsylvania Epsilon Cathey Curtis. Observing Judi's techniques during her Watercolor: Creative Design and Technique Class in the summer 1994 session are Mary Titus and Lynn Lewis of North Canton, Ohio and Jane Edwards Holbrook, Florida Alpha, from Ft. Lauderdale. Ground was broken this fall for Arrowmont's new painting and drawing facilities. They will be ready for spring '95 classes and for Arrowmont to host the National Watercolor Honor Society Conference in April.

Pi Beta Phi Foundation

Peg Houston Speakers Fund Established

Margaret "Peg" George Houston, Colorado Alpha, will be remembered through a Foundation fund established by her family and friends. The Peg Houston Memorial Speakers Fund will support keynote speakers "of high calibre" at future biennial Pi Beta Phi conventions.

Peg Houston reflected Pi Phi ideals through her exceptional leadership abilities and caring manner. She gave her talents and energy to a full range of alumnae club and chapter activities including serving as Collegiate Province President. Her awards include the national Evelyn Peters Kyle Award received in 1985, and more recently, a province Emma Harper Turner Award. The latter award was given for the first time in 1994, and was awarded to Peg posthumously.

In addition to cooking, gardening, skiing and golfing, Peg enjoyed mountain climbing with her husband John. She died last year in a tragic fall while descending a 14,150 foot Colorado peak, her sixth "fourteener."

John Houston, William D. George, Jr., her brother, and many friends wanted to pay tribute to Peg's memory through Pi Beta Phi. The Peg Houston Memorial Speakers Fund will continue the Foundation's commitment to funding educational programming for members of Pi Beta Phi.

Gifts to the Peg Houston Memorial Speakers Fund may be made at any time.

Joyce Memorial Benefits Art Education

In a loving tribute, Gilbert Joyce made a significant gift in memory of his wife Phyllis Cofield Joyce, Indiana Gamma. Mr. Joyce has requested that the $10,000 gift be used in an Arrowmont scholarship fund to educate young people, an area of special fondness for his wife.

The Phyllis Joyce tribute will benefit the Artist-in-Residence Scholarship endowment which supports up to five promising artists who are selected annually to participate in a ten-month program. During this time, they live on campus and work in private studios at Arrowmont. While developing their portfolios for future professional use, the artists teach on-campus children's classes and take outreach programs to nearby public schools.

The Foundation is grateful to Mr. Joyce for his generous gift. By honoring his wife in this way, the experiences she valued will be carried into the future by all those who benefit from this program.

Foundation Receives Bequest

The Foundation has received an unexpected bequest from the estate of Mary Jane Wilson, Illinois Beta-Delta. The $10,000 gift is unrestricted and will be designated by the Trustees for the area of greatest need.

The bequest from Jane, who lived in San Francisco, was given to the Foundation through her will. The Pi Beta Phi Foundation was one of several charitable organizations to receive a bequest as a result of Jane's thoughtful planning.

In fact, one can often give greater support to a favorite charity through a bequest than is possible during one's lifetime. For those wishing to include Pi Beta Phi in their will, the Foundation staff is available to consult with you and your attorney. The Marianne Reid Wild Society allows the Foundation to thank donors who inform the Foundation of a bequest provision in their will.

Have you named Pi Beta Phi Fraternity as the recipient of a deferred gift through your will, trust or insurance policy? If so, contact the Foundation Office to inquire about the tax advantages of making your gift to the Foundation.

Nashville, Tennessee Alumnae Club's BETH WHEELER PARRISH, ALABAMA BETA, has been elected to the board of the RIF (Reading Is Fundamental) organization. Beth has taught school for eleven years. Currently, she teaches for Metropolitan Schools in Nashville, Tennessee where her particular school, Tom Joy Elementary, is serviced by the RIF program. RIF volunteers read to children in grades 2, 3 and 4 approximately five times per school year. With each volunteer visit, every child is left with a book to keep and love. Because it is her goal for all children to possess a love of reading, Beth stresses the importance of inclusion of disabled students with their nondisabled peers in regular education classrooms. RIF helps each student enjoy reading even if they are unable to read themselves.

NEBRASKA BETAS participate in Links to Literacy by volunteering their time to help staff the National Literacy Hotline and the National GED Hotline, both located in Lincoln, Nebraska. These hotlines are open seven days a week and rely mainly on volunteers. Bilingual operators are available on every shift. From answering phones, to providing personal assistance to callers, to doing mailings, the Nebraska Betas incorporated their service this year into their celebration of International Links to Literacy Week. More information about these hotlines as resources to local literacy volunteer opportunities can be found in "Links to Literacy: A Pi Beta Phi Programming Guide." Call the toll-free literacy hotline at (800) 228-8813; there may be a Nebraska Beta on the other end of the line.

Several FLORIDA BETAS are active in the all-Greek Adopt-A-School Program. The Florida State Pi Phis and other volunteers are each assigned a child at a local elementary school to visit weekly. Volunteers help the children with their homework, take them to the library and spend time talking with them. The idea is to give each child a special friend who helps them learn. Adopt-A-School is a joint effort of InterFraternity Council, National Panhellenic Conference and National Pan-hellenic.

Pi Phis from Texas A & M University tutor at the Still Creek Boys Home, a ranch for abused and abandoned boys. Each week, a group of TEXAS ETAS travel to the ranch to help the residents with reading and writing skills, giving the boys and the Pi Phis a sense of value and growth.

MICHIGAN GAMMA'S KAREN WALther was recently chosen as a member of Tower Guard, one of Michigan State's oldest and most esteemed organizations. Every year, sixty freshmen are chosen out of Michigan State University's academic best to participate in Tower Guard their sophomore year by doing an extensive service project. Karen has chosen literacy as her area of service. She is volunteering 120 hours of her time to read books onto audio tapes for distribution to the blind.

In June we said goodbye with thanks and congratulations to the collegiate members of the Links to Literacy Committee: Louisiana Alpha Amanda Blackley, Missouri Alpha Maggie Geile and Ohio Theta Audrey Snyder. As they join the alumnae ranks, we wish them the success and friendship that continues to be theirs in Pi Beta Phi. Today we welcome the three new collegiate members to the Links to Literacy Committee: Texas Gamma Angela Murray, Virginia Epsilon Anne Roberts and Kansas Alpha Ashley Roberts. The collegian's addresses, phone numbers and regions are highlighted below. Part of the mission of the Links to Literacy Committee is to consult with clubs, chapters and individuals on an as-needed basis to develop and expand Links to Literacy service in local areas. See "Links to Literacy: A Pi Beta Phi Programming Guide" for further information about your Links to Literacy liaisons. We are glad to help.

News

To get to know their pledges, MICHIGAN ALPHAS at Hillsdale College have a new member of the week. New members make a page about themselves including things that are important to them such as favorite sayings, pictures or art work. These pages are posted in the house.

The TEXAS EPSILON Chapter at the University of North Texas has developed a program designed to Keep Rushing Our Pledges (KROP). Members bring notes and small gifts to show their enthusiasm that the pledges joined Pi Phi.

IOWA BETA Big Sis' send care packages to their Little Sis'. The care packages include a book of coupons for things they can do together on the Simpson College campus and other small study materials. Big Sis' also decorate picture frames and give their Little Sis a picture of the two of them together.

At TEXAS ALPHA, each pledge is paired with a house buddy, a member living in the Pi Phi house at the University of Texas. During Halloween and Christmas, the house buddies provide parties for children of the Austin, Texas Alumnae Club. The pledges provide the candy, and the house buddy a room, where the children can go from door to door, trick-or-treating or caroling in a safe environment.

PENNSYLVANIA ETAS have an annual Dine With Your Major Dinner in the spring. Each pledge is paired with an active who is majoring in the same field, and they are seated together at dinner. Both actives and pledges have reported that this program is a great way to get to know one another, as well as an ideal opportunity to talk about great classes that a department at Lafayette College might offer.

COLORADO DELTA held a Parents' Day in October. Invitations were sent to all of the pledges' parents inviting them to spend the weekend with their daughters. Parents had a chance to get a good look at the Colorado School of Mines campus. The day also gave parents an opportunity to learn about Pi Beta Phi.

WASHINGTON ALPHA seniors host a Campus Tour Day for new members. As the pledges and seniors take a tour around the University of Washington campus, the seniors introduce themselves and teach the new members Pi Phi songs.

In order to avoid everyone sitting at the same table each week, WISCONSIN ALPHAS at the University of Wisconsin alternate slips of blue or red paper at each table setting. An active sits at a place designated with blue paper, and a pledge where there is red paper. This way, there is a mix of actives and pledges who can get to know each other during dinner.

TEXAS ETA'S annual New Member Barbecue took place in October at Texas A & M University. The actives, pledges and parents all enjoyed the barbecue and live band. It was a great opportunity for the new members' parents to get a taste of Pi Phi and to tour the house. All funds raised from the barbecue were donated to Arrowmont. The chapter has developed a way to teach the new members about Pi Phi's Fraternity Heritage. Prior to their pledge test, the new members tested their knowledge by playing BINGO.

For VIRGINIA GAMMAS at the College of William and Mary, one of the most popular and successful orientation programs includes breaking into small groups with the pledges. Each class sponsors a separate party with the pledge class. The seniors planned a nachos and salsa movie night. The juniors organized an ice cream social, and the sophomores invited the pledges for bread ends and house dressing, a Williamsburg munching tradition.

In addition to weekly quizzes on Pi Phi history at each pledge meeting, UTAH ALPHA'S new members can see Pi Phi history facts placed throughout the University of Utah chapter house. Information sheets are hung in bathrooms, on doors and in the kitchen.

In order to make pledges feel at home in the LOUISIANA BETA house at Louisiana State University, the Vice President of Social Advancement and the House Manager match new members with "housebuddies," in-house actives.

For TENNESSEE GAMMAS at the University of Tennessee, Bid Day marks the beginning of a three-week period during which each pledge is paired with a different active each week. The first week, the new member has a Pi Pal, the second week a Beta Buddy and the third week a Phi Friend. In this way, the pledge has the opportunity to get to know at least three actives and to get involved in campus and chapter activities.

Each class of actives at PENNSYLVANIA ZETA has their own special week to get to know pledges at Washington & Jefferson College. During Senior Week, seniors and new members do such things as ice skating. Other activities that the different classes do include pizza parties and sleepovers.

Pledges of MISSOURI BETA at Washington University experience their first Cookie Shine following their formal pledging in September.

To help pledges and actives get to know each other, TEXAS BETAS moved their study hours from the library to the Southern Methodist University chapter house. Pledges are better able to use the older members as resources, mentors and tutors.

In their first philanthropic project as members of LOUISIANA ALPHA, the 1994 pledge class joined the rest of the chapter in support of the fight against AIDS. Tulane University Pi Phis united with the New Orleans community by participating in the 6K No-AIDS Walk. The event was concentrated around Audubon Park and the New Orleans uptown area. Members of Louisiana Alpha made donations and collected money from sponsors in the community.

INDIANA ALPHA held a Parent's Picnic in September at Franklin College. Chapter members were encouraged to bring their families for a day of fun in the park. The parents of pledges attended a brief informational meeting to help them better understand what Pi Phi is about.

To help get acquainted with actives of the ARKANSAS BETA Chapter, pledges received booklets containing each member's hobbies, interests and the importance of Pi Phi in their lives. Each pledge also received a special Beta Buddy to help them get acclimated to the University of Arkansas at Little Rock campus.

As part of their pledge education, NEW YORK ALPHA has designed a local manual that highlights all the accomplishments and strengths of their chapter at Syracuse University.

During pledge education, NEBRASKA GAMMAS at Creighton University play a variety of games such as Taboo and Jeopardy to help new members learn Fraternity Heritage. Each new member is also given a Guardian Angel.

To help pledges of OHIO THETA get acquainted with actives, each new member is given Pi, Beta, Phi, Arrow and Angel Buddies. The Fraternity Heritage Interest Group presents a skit about the Founders to pledges to help educate them on Pi Phi traditions and history. Activities such as bowling and ice skating are planned throughout the year to encourage pledge participation with the chapter members at Bowling Green State University.

A group of new initiates at TEXAS GAMMA called Dart Board, attend each pledge meeting and teach new members Pi Phi songs and skits to help them review for their pledge tests. Dart Board also passes out birthday mugs filled with candy to recognize each pledge on her birthday.

MISSOURI GAMMAS from Drury College attend an all-house retreat where songs are taught to pledges, and other special sisterhood events are planned. Each pledge class attends a pledge meeting to talk to the new members about their own Fraternity education. They go to offer help and to answer any questions new members may have.

Above: Ohio Alphas Katie Kirby, Elizabeth Coleman and Kristin Poluha lead Ohio Alpha's newest members to the Ohio University Pi Phi house on Bid Day. All three had served as rush counselors during rush.

SOUTH DAKOTA ALPHAS pair pledges with juniors and seniors for study buddies. This is a great way for the older members to get to know the new Pi Phis at University of South Dakota while encouraging good study habits.

Pledges of FLORIDA BETA at Florida State University get to know active members by being paired with Pi Pals, Phi Friends, Senior Pals, Guardian Angels, Cherub Chums, and Big Sises.

WISCONSIN DELTAS at Marquette University attend and participate in at least one pledge meeting.

FLORIDA DELTAS host a Pledge-Active Luncheon. Pledge educator Heather Johnson conducts Pi Phi review sessions before each quiz on Pi Phi history. Before each quiz, signs are posted around the house of important Pi Phi facts that the new members should know. Pledges are also given a book containing a picture and brief biography of each member at the University of Florida.

To help teach Fraternity Heritage, FLORIDA EPSILONS at the University of Central Florida encourage pledges to read A Century of Friendship.

OREGON GAMMA's pledges are being welcomed into the house by their Beta Buddies. The Beta Buddy program at Willamette University is a secret sister arrangement. Each pledge is assigned a buddy for the week. This buddy sends the new member encouraging messages and perhaps a small gift.

In order to facilitate pledge orientation, VIRGINIA EPSILON designs an Angel Information Packet for each pledge. The packet consists of pictures and information about each Pi Phi at the University of Virginia. The information sheets always include a welcoming message to the new members.

Aside from Beta Buddy activities at PENNSYLVANIA IOTA, pledges and active members are brought together for brunches, walks, monthly joint meetings, self-defense workshops, mixers, a Valentine get-together, a pledge retreat, dinners at the chapter house, and a weekly gathering to watch their favorite television shows.

MISSOURI ALPHAS give golden halo awards to pledges who are involved on the University of Missouri campus or within the chapter in an exemplary way. Interest groups such as Fraternity Heritage, Chapter History and Educational Enrichment design clever and informative bulletin boards throughout the chapter house. New themes are chosen throughout the semester and are reflected on the bulletin boards, either focusing on local or international fraternity events.

A new activity WEST VIRGINIA ALPHA tried this fall was the pledge social. Three different weeks, after joint meetings pledges met with a different pledge class to socialize. The chapter also has a continuing tradition called the Coke date. Each week a pledge is paired with an active with whom she may set up a Coke date. The time can include watching television, grabbing lunch or any number of other things the two decide to do on the West Virginia University campus.

At COLORADO ALPHA both actives and pledges exchange portfolios to help them get better acquainted. Information in the portfolio includes where members are from, their hobbies and favorite food. The University of Colorado Chapter also has study tables where members can quiz each other, exchange notes and study together.

Each week ILLINOIS EPSILONS hold a "fireside" for pledges and active members. Originally called "fireside conversations," the tradition began in the early days of Northwestern University when professors were invited to Greek houses, living units and club meetings to hold informal discussions on a variety of topics. Today, Northwestern students enjoy firesides because they give everyone an opportunity to discuss a variety of topics with experts in a relaxed environment.

CONNECTICUT ALPHAS at the University of Connecticut integrate Fraternity Heritage programming into their weekly meetings. At each meeting Cheryl Hackert, chairman of the Fraternity Heritage Interest Group, asks the chapter questions about local and national Pi Phi history. Anyone who can answer the questions receives a Pi Phi-related gift. Pledges are given Pi Phi word finds and brainteasers to familiarize them with Fraternity history.

Florida Deltas and pledges following rush at the University of Florida.

At Auburn University, pledges of ALABAMA GAMMA are given Pi Pals, Beta Buddies and Phi Friends. Activities for both actives and pledges include skating, bowling, picnics, dinners, pep rallies and bi-monthly all-house meetings. New members are also given Study Buddies and Guardian Angels. The Fraternity Orientation Committee presents the pledges with Pi Phi facts each week and helps them prepare for their pledge tests.

To make pledges feel a part of the chapter, the women of INDIANA ZETA plan an overnight retreat at which everyone gets to know one another through fun games. Each week there is a pledge and active "coke date" planned. This usually involves a trip to Ben & Jerry's or the Student Center food court at Ball State University.

At each VIRGINIA ETA pledge meeting, ten active members are present to be secret sisters. If a pledge is able to name these active members, she is given a special prize. In addition, the University of Richmond Chapter holds class socials so new members get to meet women in other classes in smaller groups.

VIRGINIA DELTAS at Old Dominion University plan many different events which involve pledge-active interaction. These events include car washes, weekly movie nights at the chapter house, pledge-active study hours and Parents' Weekend.

KENTUCKY ALPHAS at the University of Louisville have both a pledge and an active member of the week. To help new members learn about Fraternity Heritage, chapter members play a game similar to Jeopardy using Pi Phi clues.

ILLINOIS ZETAS at the University of Illinois participate in many activities with pledges including Pi Phi Sisterhood Night, a pledge retreat, and an ice cream social. New members are learning about Pi Phi's history through weekly quizzes and informative skits.

KANSAS BETAS at Kansas State University have class parties after pledge meetings. The juniors met with the pledges and went to get yogurt and the sophomores had a coke date with the new members.

A few activities the TENNESSEE DELTA Chapter at the University of Memphis enjoy with pledges include a Bid Day Cookout, movie nights on the Pi Phi floor of the new sorority dorm, and lunch every Friday afternoon.

ARKANSAS ALPHAS held a skating party last September for pledges and active members. Everyone met at the Pi Phi house to eat pizza before heading out to skate. Pledges enjoy interaction with a Dart Darling, an active that they get to know by meeting for lunch or ice cream, and a Beta Buddy, a Pi Phi the pledge meets right after receiving her bid at the University of Arkansas.

Each OHIO ALPHA pledge class has separate activities they plan with new members at Ohio University. Some of the activities include soccer with the sophomores, movie night with the juniors and ice skating with the seniors. Pledges also get to know chapter members through sleepovers, special house dinners and secret pals within the chapter.

IDaho ALPHAS at the University of Idaho held a Jeopardy game to help pledges learn historical information about Pi Beta Phi. The pledges played against the actives. The game was a lot of fun and served as a refresher course for all members of the chapter.

MICHIGAN GAMMAS introduce pledges to the Michigan State University Chapter by arranging activities between pledge classes. The Fraternity Heritage Interest Group helps educate new members by incorporating Pi Phi history into fun learning activities.

WASHINGTON GAMMAS assign each pledge a Beta Bud to help them get better acquainted with the chapter and the University of Puget Sound.

For a different twist on their Beta Buddy program, TENNESSEE BETAS at Vanderbilt University switch Beta Buddies each week. Beta Buddies give pledges small gifts, go out to lunch and attend Pi Phi events together.

NORTH CAROLINA BETA sophomores pair with their junior Big Sisters as secret Beta Buddies for pledges. At the end of the first week, the secret pals reveal themselves. The following week, seniors are involved with the new members as Guardian Angels.

In addition to their Big/Little Sister and Beta Buddy programs, CALIFORNIA ZETAS at the University of California, Santa Barbara pair a pledge and an active member each week at Monday night dinners.

NORTH CAROLINA GAMMAS at Wake Forest University volunteer to help tutor pledges as well as form study buddy groups. The chapter also enjoys relaxing, ordering pizzas and watching popular television shows.

Some programs ALABAMA BETAS at the University of Alabama use to help pledges get to know the chapter members include Beta Buddies, Pi Pals, and Big and Little Sisters.

University of California, Berkeley implemented a new day of rush. This new day, called "interactive" or "activity" day, was used in fall rush as a substitute for entertainment or theme day. There were five parties, half an hour each, in which the chapter was asked to do some kind of activity with the rushees. Each chapter could choose their own activity as long as it followed Panhellenic guidelines.

California Betas wanted an activity that would enable them to have a good conversation with the rushees while showing them a side of Pi Phi that they had not yet seen by doing an activity that incorporated Links to Literacy. The chapter came up with making giant children's books and donating them to organizations such as the Children's Hospital of Oakland. Before the parties, members made five large books that were covered with fun children's fabrics. At the parties, each Pi Phi-rushee pair was given a large piece of white paper that was the same size as the books. They were also given a children's poem and various art supplies. Their job was to make a page for the books by writing the poem and decorating the page. The following day was preference day, and the chapter bound the books together before the parties so that the rushees could see the final products.

Everyone realized that creating these children's books provided an excellent method of interacting with rushees and allowed the chapter to aid in the literacy of young children in the community.

This year, PENNSYLVANIA EPSILONS started a new program of study groups in which pledges are paired with actives in the same or similar area of study at Penn State University. The chapter reserved a block of tickets to see "Les Miserable" with the pledges this fall.

Pledges of INDIANA DELTA get to know active members through programs including Beta Buddies, Big Sises, and Guardian Angels. New members are also given information on each active member at Purdue University to include in their Pi Phi Forever Manuals.

Following rush at Iowa State University, IOWA GAMMAS held a chapter retreat at a 4-H camp in Madrid, Iowa. Everyone, including pledges, enjoyed a picnic dinner before attending a "house" meeting. By participating in the retreat, pledges had a chance to become familiar with actives as well as each other.

ILLINOIS IOTAS at Illinois State University use their Fraternity Heritage Interest Group to teach pledges about Pi Phi. At each general meeting, a Pi Phi fact is read for the benefit of all chapter members. Posters about famous Pi Phis are also made for chapter members to read.

NEW MEXICO BETAS at New Mexico State University instituted a new program this semester as a precursor to big sister selection. Pi Pals provided a night for an active member to take a pledge out for the evening. Some members went to the movies while others enjoyed banana splits.

OREGON BETAS use Beta Buddies to keep pledges connected with the Oregon State University chapter. Each week a different Interest Group attends new member meetings.

NORTH CAROLINA ALPHAS are encouraging chapter members to get more involved in intramural sports on the University of North Carolina campus. Pledges and active members are getting to know each other through their participation in ultimate frisbee, floor hockey, lacrosse and soccer.

New members of OHIO ETA have the opportunity to spend time with one another during their pledge retreat at a local cabin following rush at Denison University.

OREGON ALPHAS at the University of Oregon organize special events for their pledges such as weekly pledge pals, where an active and a new member are paired up and spend time together throughout the week.

To help pledges of VIRGINIA THETA at Washington & Lee University learn Fraternity Heritage, the Music Interest Group performs a song about the Founders. Pledges learn chapter history by playing Jeopardy, using Pi Phi facts as questions. New members also read weekly from the book, "Pardon Me, Your Manners are Showing."

OHIO ZETA's pledges get to know Miami University's chapter members by participating in Pi Phi philanthropic activities which include working at a soup kitchen and with children who are having a difficult time in school.

To help acquaint pledges with PENNSYLVANIA THETA at Villanova University, the chapter holds an all-house retreat. The chapter also holds an event called the Pi Phi Connection, which takes place at a local park. New and active members are teamed up and they spend the day participating in ice-breakers and competing in games.

Top: Alabama Alphas from Birmingham-Southern College had a chapter retreat at Arrowmont in September.

Arkansas Alphas at the University of Arkansas decorate shower buckets for their Beta Buddies.

Pledges of OHIO EPSILON are given an opportunity to select a Heartie, a member they met during rush. In order to help pledges get to know each other, they participate in a retreat at the University of Toledo chapter house. This is one weekend night that all new members and their Hearties come to the house and spend the night. There are ice breakers, movies, food and other fun activities.

ARIZONA GAMMAS at Northern Arizona University have a survival skills course and a personal development program to teach pledges about the history and heritage of Pi Beta Phi. "Angel Land" is a comprehensive program designed to assist college women away from home for the first time. Active members come to the pledge meetings to talk about such topics as study habits, physical and mental health, self-image, self-control, stress reduction, confidence training, time management and eating habits. By using a needle-point canvas, "angel landers" interpret the meaning of Pi Phi in ways to teach the new members about Pi Phi and to keep themselves healthy.

Tacoma,
Washington was founded on April

Agencies were sponsored by members of the St. Louis Alumnae Club and loyal volunteers of the Sign of the Arrow. A representative of each agency which received a grant was a luncheon guest of the Sign of the Arrow. This is the 28th year

MISSISSIPPI BETA MARIAN "CISSY" FOOTE ANKLAM

FOOTE ANKLAM and her unique career were featured in a recent issue of Southern Living. Cissy is the Coordinator of Special Exhibits for the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. The Smithsonian's latest exhibit is called "Spiders!" and will be open to visitors until January 2, 1995. "Spiders!" expects to receive nearly 1,000 visitors per hour this year. The exhibit includes a "claymation" film starring Tallulah Tarantula, spider silk presentation, showcase of distinctive web styles and venom display where spectators can see the four deadliest species of spiders in the world. The next special exhibit Cissy is working on is called "Ocean Planet" and will open in April 1995.

In 1971, the CLEVELAND WEST, OHIO ALUMNAE CLUB established the Ohio Pi Phi Assistance Fund. The fund is comprised of donations from all alumnae clubs in Ohio. It is a gift of love to assist any Ohio Pi Beta Phi collegian who needs financial aid to remain an active member of her chapter. The assistance is a gift and does not have to be repaid. It is intended to aid a Pi Phi who faces an extreme financial emergency. The fund is available at any time during the school year. It is designed to help with Pi Beta Phi expenses only. As of April 1994, more than $16,000 had been distributed to help undergraduate Pi Phis in need. Anyone wishing information on making a donation or receiving an application pertaining to the Ohio Pi Phi Assistance Fund, should contact Anne Slaman Lynch, Vice President Cleveland West Alumnae Club, 15080 Waterford Drive, North Royalton, OH 44133.

Apart from her responsibilities on Pi Beta Phi's Grand Council, Sarah Ruth "Sis" Mullis leads a busy professional life. Sis is currently director of pharmacy at Piedmont Hospital in Atlanta, Georgia and adjunct faculty member, Southern School of Pharmacy, Mercer University.

Since graduating from the University of South Carolina with a B.S. in pharmacy in 1965, Sis has remained an active alumna of her alma mater. She has served as president of the Partnership Board of the University of South Carolina College of Pharmacy and in 1992 received the Outstanding Alumnus Award from the University of South Carolina College of Pharmacy.

Eighty-five alumnae of MARYLAND BETA met in June to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Maryland Beta's founding. Alumnae gathered for a luncheon at the University Conference Center on the University of Maryland campus. The reception included Pi Phis from six decades.

The SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA ALUMNAE CLUB was pleased to host Omicron Alumnae Province President Louisiana Beta Kitsie Barkley Roth at their August "Kick Off" Luncheon. Kitsie spoke on news regarding Arrowcraft, Arrowmont, Holt House and chapter awards won in the Omicron Province. The luncheon was held at Dominic's Restaurant in Shreveport, Louisiana.

Last spring, ATLANTA, MACON, AUGUSTA AND ATHENS, GEORGIA ALUMNAE CLUBS together with the Georgia Alpha Chapter held their Founders' Day Luncheon. Georgia Alpha Alumnae Advisory Committee Chairman Julie Clifton, Georgia Alpha Chapter Amy Burnham Onken Award Winner Christie Purks and AAC member, Golden Arrow, charter member and first president of Georgia Alpha Caroline Burson Thrasher were among those present at the luncheon.

The OKLAHOMA BETA chapter house was the gathering place for a 1944-45 Pledge Class Reunion in May. Twelve Golden Arrows and sixteen pledge sisters from the Class of '45 attended the weekend. Golden Arrows wore blue T-shirts with a golden arrow and everyone else wore blue T-shirts with wine and blue ribbons. Reunion participants came from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Florida, Louisiana, Utah and Tennessee.

Several Pi Phis blended their voices to make a new tape of Pi Phi songs. Participants in the recording session were Suzanne Chapman Lawson, Melanie Cahill Kislan, Ginny Turner Humphries, Kay Wiley, Kimberly Englund, Jill Meynen, Karen Emberton, and Pat Cooke. The tape is available from Pi Phi Central Office.

At Founders' Day, the SEATTLE AND BELLEVUE-EASTSIDE, WASHINGTON ALUMNAE CLUBS and Washington Alpha Chapter honored Washington Beta and former Grand President Sarahjane Paulson Vanasse for her 64 years in Pi Phi. The tribute was a surprise for Sally. A poem written by Pi Phi Poet Laureate Evelyn Peters Kyle in tribute to Sally was read. Three generations of Sally's family were in attendance. Present were her two daughters Joy Vanasse Goodenough and Julie Vanasse Vaux plus granddaughter Sara Goodenough Vadset. The tribute closed with one hundred and ninety-four Pi Phis serenading Sally.

For the past several years, the San Jose, California Alumnae Club has exchanged angel ornaments at their December meeting. Many club members have almost enough ornaments to decorate their entire tree with angels. It is fascinating just how many varieties of angels there are and how few have been duplicated at these exchanges. Photo by Frances Chubb Cox, Kansas Alpha.

Pi Beta Phi Foundation Honor Roll of Donors

The Pi Beta Phi Foundation is committed to fund programs which promote the intellectual, ethical and leadership development of members of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity and, through its philanthropic efforts, to benefit the larger society.

- MISSION STATEMENT

adopted May 16, 1992

Message from Trustees

INNOVATIVE AND CHALLENGING!

Those were the words our legal counsel used to describe the new Pi Beta Phi Foundation at the first meeting of the Trustees in 1990. We had a loan from the Fraternity, no apparent means of income and the responsibility to complete a previously announced $2.3 million Campaign for Arrowmont.

Innovative, challenging and successful! That is the consensus only four years later. We have repaid the loan, developed a base of more than 7,000 donors, and the Campaign for Arrowmont is at 80% of its goal.

The most significant event for the Foundation has been the receipt of former Grand President Marianne Reid Wild's bequest. Originally, the bequest had been made to the Fraternity. When the Foundation was chartered, Marianne changed her will to benefit the Foundation, thus eliminating any estate taxes and preserving the entire estate to benefit Pi Beta Phi. Her bequest allowed the Trustees to develop the staff, materials and programs necessary for a successful Foundation.

In the past year the Fraternity has transferred to the Foundation the responsibility for administering Pi Phi's scholarship programs and certain endowments. We are proud to have nearly doubled the scholarship dollars available for undergraduates and alumnae.

The Friendship Fund, Pi Phi's annual giving program, has just been transferred to the Foundation. Again, a tax advantage is involved since all gifts to the Foundation are tax deductible for the donor to the full extent of the law. The Friendship Fund annually provides funding for Pi Phi's leadership training, special educational grants and projects and scholarships.

The Campaign for Arrowmont is a one-time capital campaign to provide the School with much-needed dormitory and classroom buildings as well as endowments to support programming. Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts is an internationally-known leader in the arts and crafts field. Already the positive impact of the new dormitory has increased Arrowmont's ability to "enrich lives through art."

All fund-raising activities for Pi Beta Phi will be conducted by the Foundation.

The Foundation has developed programs to involve all members including collegiate phonathons, Senior Focus for graduating collegians, and the Marianne Reid Wild Society to recognize those members who have made a provision for the Pi Beta Phi Foundation through their wills or other deferred giving method.

As we reflect on the success of the Foundation since 1990, we look forward to the future and to your involvement in our achievements.

Senior Focus

In 1992, the Foundation began the Senior Focus program which offers graduating seniors the opportunity to support the scholarship program. Each senior is invited to make a pledge to the Foundation to be fulfilled over a period of four years.

Due to the generosity of so many of our seniors, the first Senior Focus Graduate Fellowship was awarded for the 1994-95 academic year.

Campaign for Arrowmont

Donor generosity to the Campaign for Arrowmont has provided new housing facilities, an artist-in-residence program with studios and scholarships, expanded opportunities in art for children, and a gallery endowment. New painting and drawing studios will open early in 1995 and ground will be broken in the fall of '95 for a new wood studio complex.

Continued campaign efforts will endow maintenance of facilities and programs, as donors assist Arrowmont in fulfilling its mission to ... enrich lives through art.

Foundation Grants

The Foundation was created to help Pi Beta Phi Fraternity achieve its educational and leadership development goals. Already the Fraternity is experiencing these benefits through a number of important projects which have received Foundation dollars.

Since February of 1993, the Foundation has awarded over $20,000 in grants to Pi Beta Phi Fraternity to support educational programming such as the "Friend to Friend" program, "Links to Literacy: A Pi Beta Phi Programming Guide," "Sex, Alcohol, and Self Esteem" video, Collegiate Leadership Seminars, and the 1993 Convention Keynote Speaker.

"One of my big interests always has been the Pi Phi settlement school in Tennessee ... There is a greater demand for good programs, but the stumbling block is budgeting. The real need is for enough money to provide good leadership, for it is the keystone of all such programs."

Wild Bequest Benefits Arrowmont

With a bequest from Grand President Emeritus Marianne Reid

Wild and gifts from hundreds of donors to the Campaign, Arrowmont has expanded its housing options with construction of the new 32-room Heritage Hall of shared accommodations and the nine-room Wild Wing of private accommodations. The new housing facility includes several large areas for recreation and relaxation.

Rooms are available to be named in honor or in memory of someone, as designated by the campaign donor.

Friendship

Fund

The Fraternity thanks the thousands of dedicated Pi Beta Phi alumnae who contributed to the 1993-94 Friendship Fund. Your gifts have made possible the establishment of new collegiate chapters and alumnae clubs, development of educational programming for our members and provision for a promising future for this, the first national fraternity for women.

Donors are listed whose gifts were received between July 1, 1993 and June 30, 1994. Giving circles indicate cumulative gifts by members.

Gifts to the Pi Beta Phi Friendship Fund from alumnae totaled $317,722, with 50 percent going to Arrowmont. This was the last annual drive to be conducted by the Fraternity. All future fund-raising activities, including the Friendship Fund, will be conducted by the Pi Beta Phi Foundation.

Call to Convention

Pi Beta Phi will be "Blazing New Trails, Reaching New Heights" as we gather in Palm Desert, California June 24-29, 1995 for the Fraternity's 60th Biennial Convention. • Our convention hotel, Marriott's Desert Springs Resort, is truly an oasis. Located on 400 acres of beautifully landscaped lawn and gardens, it has two 18-hole golf courses, 16 tennis courts, beautiful swimming pools and a 27,000 square foot spa. The eight-story atrium lobby with lake, gliding boats, palm trees and parrots will delight all those attending. • Venture west with Pi Beta Phi, a fraternity of women who find ways to make a difference. Convention is a time for renewing old friendships and forming new ones. It is a time for conducting business, electing officers, voting on legislation, presenting awards and participating in meaningful ceremonies and outstanding educational sessions.

It is a time for celebration and fun! There will be many opportunities for sharing hopes and dreams for the future. There is no

"last frontier"—the friendship of

Tuesday Morning Tours

AERIAL TRAMWAY CARAVAN

An exciting adventure awaits you. Imagine being whisked away from the desert floor to the top of a magnificent mountain (8,500 feet), all in approximately 18 minutes!

The Palm Springs Aerial Tramway is the largest double reversible tramway in the world, and each of its cable cars is capable of carrying 80 passengers at one time.

Once atop the peak of Mt. San Jacinto, you will have a chance to take in the magnificent views. Lunch is not provided. $33.00

EL PASEO GALLERY CARAVAN

The Palm Desert area is home to many renowned artists, and their work is displayed in a variety of quaint galleries. As the beautiful desert and Indian heritage provide inspiration for the culturally minded, a stay in the area would be incomplete without a tour through some of the local art galleries.

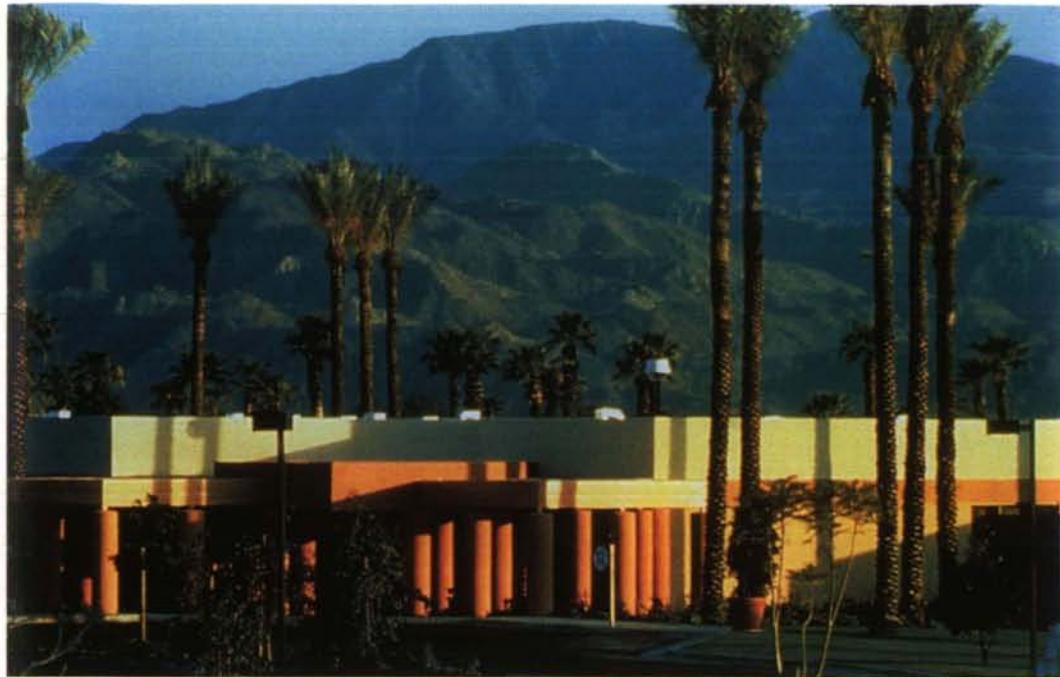

You will travel down El Paseo, known as the "Rodeo Drive" of the desert, visit two galleries, with a very eclectic cross section of works including contemporary, realistic, impressionistic and expressionistic in medias of pencils, inks, watercolors, oils and bronzes. Local renowned artists will be featured.

These galleries play host to some of the finest group exhibitions of Southwestern and Indian art in the desert. In addition to visiting the galleries, other shopping will be available. Lunch is not provided. $29.00

\ An organized postconvention tour is not offered this year, but convention attendees will have the opportunity to receive convention rates at the Marriott hotel five days before and five days after the official meeting dates.*

Alumnae Advisory Committee or House Corporation Seminars

Information and special registration forms for these seminars will be mailed directly to the chairman of each Alumnae Advisory Committee and House Corporation. You must be an official member of an AAC or House Corporation to register.
