Of Extension

An interesting phase of fraternity life today is the increasing attention being given to the subject of extension. Even fraternities, both men's and women's, hitherto ultra conservative in adding to their chapter rolls, are working in this field. Literally dozens of excellent opportunities for entering campuses old and new are presenting themselves, and many chapters are being founded; whether this is done by taking local groups or by colonization, fine members are being added to many fraternities.

From this movement much good may come, with results which lead beyond the actual confines of the new chapters themselves, with all they mean of friendship and excellent influence for finer living standards. With each group is added not only the local strength of the active members and of the many alumnae initiated, but from the public relations angle, every chapter added means an ever-growing circle of interest in and knowledge of the fraternity—here is potentiality for good, new channels for making friends who will help counteract some of the bad publicity which has for years plagued the lives of fraternity officers. Here are new friends who can speak from personal experience in praise of college chapters and the fine young students in them whose quality outweighs the unwise acts of the few, acts vicious at their worst, silly at the best. Here will be people who will say, "No, those stories cannot all be true—I know so many splendid fraternity members!"

By making the most of such channels for new chapters as we are offered in the case of our colony at Alabama, and by possible new groups in California and elsewhere, we are taking a wise, forward-looking step along the road of maintaining present strength and guaranteeing the permanence of that strength. And besides, think of the joy to be found in those new groups! Let's work to establish our new chapters, and to support them after they are installed.

Through Bonds of Wine and Blue

This year there came to our desk a copy of a speech made last year at the Initiation Banquet of Michigan B, by Margaret Martindale Griffith, Michigan B. We liked it so much that we yield some of our space here to extracts from it, only regretting that space forbids the use of it all.

Speaking to new Pi Phis, Mrs. Griffith says,

"Advantages are often accompanied by some opposition. One of your greatest responsibilities now will be to prove that women 'tagged' by the selective methods in Panhellenic, are democratic. Each year you will be asked to help devise more modern and less hurtful approaches to rushing periods, and IN ORDER TO PRESERVE OUR GREEK LETTER HOMES, give it your best collective thinking. It will amaze you, when you are out of college and in your respective communities, to hear women going around getting paid for expressing thoughts about 'selfish, un-democratic snobs these fraternity women are.' You will practice the poem 'Outwitted' because in spite of your selectiveness, the situation is rather diabolically opposite from campus life—in modern, industrial cities, Panhellenic women are distinctly minority. You recall the poem:

"He drew a circle that let me out,
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout,
But love and I had the wit to win—
WE drew a circle that let him IN.

"And you will smile because you perhaps never classified yourself in that category. And you will also smile because your Pi Phi years prepared you for the responsibilities ahead. You will work together now to be prepared to go home and take your part on the Community Chest, Red Cross, Hospital Guilds and Hospital Boards and the various other charitable agencies, committees and boards in your communities. And whether your service remains local or becomes State or National, whether as helpers or members of the executive groups that manage them in your locals, you will join hundreds of other women who have had the added advantages of fraternity life, to join in the seeking of an opportunity for all peoples, colors, races and creeds.

"The national Pi Beta Phi organization contributes admirably to the latter—you can each of you carry your share of the former in your own spheres. You seniors going out can serve. Local art salons and state art salons—patronize and encourage them. The local symphonies and choral groups—encourage them by joining or helping them sell tickets, or lend moral support by your presence in the audience. Your local libraries are starved for people with ideas and tastes to aid them. So along with your charitable do not neglect your cultural and educational activities.

"Our Utopias are here and now—we create them for each other, else why all these sixteen years of preparation? Women, fraternity women, who should know the value of living for each other, have no business obtaining their own little homes and starting their own families and drawing a smug wall around themselves and retiring into their hermitage of complacency. (There is no intention here to belittle the home nor a woman's place in it. A successful home life is the first of all the fine arts; unquestionably of prime importance for women. I am speaking of your leisure hours as either business or professional women, wives or mothers, or as some of your Pi Phi sisters manage it—all of them.)

"Give of yourselves and you will find how enriched your lives can be. What does this have to do with freshmen and sophomores? Although campus life is a world withdrawn from adult reality, it can give you the profoundest background of any existence you could use in these years. It is not life's preparation any more; you are no longer in high school, it is life.

"Get your academic background and thoroughly; with it do not limit your culture to one period of art or architecture or modern popular music. Make the best of all times in the arts a part of your soul. Know why, for example, music is considered the universal language that knows no barrier and speaks from heart to heart. It will enrich you immeasurably.

"DO NOT neglect your Pi Phi or campus activities. Maintaining chapter traditions, at a personal sacrifice, like missing one date out of 250 a year; upholding Pi Phi in its prime place in your campus life, teaches you correct discrimination, intrinsic loyalty, and mutual respect which nothing but a decision forced upon the individual can develop or bring out. To be 'tried and true' then becomes synonymous with the truth and mutual regard, which thinking of the other person does for one. There is no substitute for character building but WORK. A bridge game cannot compete with a committee meeting where the association of others is creative. Emerson said, in an address to a Harvard graduating class, 'CHARACTER IS HIGHER THAN INTELLECT.' The longer you live the more you will realize that Victor Hugo was correct in his philosophy that 'To live is to give.'

"Yes, newly elected members of Pi Beta Phi, you have received a glorious heritage and can each day prepare, practice, and live together our own grace,

" 'MAY WE, THROUGH BONDS OF WINE AND BLUE, SPREAD THY GREAT LOVE ABROAD.' "

From Grave to Gay

From Miss Onken's March letter to the province presidents we get some amusing "quotes"—from the Readers' Digest:

"A bore is a man who deprives you of solitude without providing you with company."

"The greatest undeveloped territory in the world lies under your hat."

"Sometimes an open mind is one that is too porous to hold a conviction."

Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Home

By MARY WALLIHAN GIBSON, Chairman

AS PLANS for the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Home become better known, questions arise in the minds of many of our alumnae. These questions tend to fall into about the same pattern. "What is the purpose of the Home? Where will it be located? Will there be more than one? How will it be maintained? How administered? We must have more definite information about the Home before we contribute."

This last question, particularly, we cannot answer definitely since we must know whether we shall have the sum of money needed before we start making definite plans. However, we shall try to answer briefly such as we can.

The purpose of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Home is to provide a well run establishment where members of the Fraternity may spend their later years among women of a similar background. It would be planned to accommodate a minimum of fifty guests since it is not economical to operate with fewer than that number. For the present, only one home is planned for.

It would be located in a mild climate and near enough to a fair sized city so that cultural advantages would be available.

It would be maintained and operated as any well run home of the sort is, that is, by the payment of a substantial admission fee on entrance and by the gift to the Home of the major part of her estate upon the death of the occupant. Provision for a few needy cases, however, would be made.

The actual building would be bought or erected from the contributions from alumnae everywhere. The question arises, "Why should we contribute to build a home for Pi Phis who have the money to provide for themselves?" We can answer that by saying that well run homes are much in demand; that provision must be made for some who can pay very little, so that the ones who pay much are helping to care for those who can pay less. And of course, the project has its altruistic side—the problem of the aged is becoming steadily more acute as longevity increases and modern homes grow smaller—no spare room for the aunt or the grandmother, not to mention the fact that the aunt or the grandmother may not be too keen on sharing a relative's home!

The Alumnae Home itself, when completed, would be an example of our fraternity's pioneering spirit in looking after our own. As we have built up a wonderful school at Gatlinburg, so would we pioneer in setting up a well run home for our older members.

Actual details of administration and management cannot be outlined at this time. First, we must know whether the Fraternity as a whole wants this Home, and second, whether our alumnae are willing to contribute to it.

The Executive Committee assures you that it will take no steps hastily or ill-advisedly or without working out all plans in detail; also that money given toward the Home will not be diverted to any other use.

The questions are: Do you want this Home? Are you willing to contribute to it?

Contributions should be sent to the Treasurer, Mrs. E. J. Rupert, 18181 Clifton Road, Lakewood 7, Ohio.

Summer Workshop 1948

HOW TIME flies! And Ruth Dyer, our Settlement School Director, is more convinced of this than any Pi Phi working for or with Little Pigeon. September finds our Pi Beta Phi school buildings all set for the nine months school program. Then it's a running race with the required study courses, athletics, music, dramatics, craft-work, health program, Parent-Teachers Association, parties, holiday festivities to the graduation of another senior class.

June finds Ruth and her faithful helpers transforming the elementary school building into the unbelievably livable dormitory again. The High School building becomes a building of work-rooms with screens, paints, stencils, yardage in the textile decoration room; unusual and carefully planned exhibitions of all hand-crafts in Mr. Eaton's lecture room; rows of looms set up for the weavers and rug-makers in the two largest rooms of the High School building; and the Voorhees building is made ready for the metal-crafters and jewelry-makers. The Pi Phi Settlement School again becomes a center for graduate, under-graduate or just-for-fun study of the handicrafts for the six weeks Pi Beta Phi-University of Tennessee Workshop.

The 1948 Summer Workshop proved to be the most successful in all ways. It has now moved well beyond the experimental period showing a combined enrollment of 108 students for the two three-week (or six-week) sessions. Thirty states were represented and the quality and beauty of the work presented at the two open-house parties far surpassed that presented in the three previous summers. In the textile room (interior decoration or applied art as applied to textiles) the display included striking examples of batik work, stencils, and silk screen designs on materials of all kinds. The weaving classes exhibited examples of beginning and advanced weaving and rug-weaving. The weaving and rug-making and textile decoration were done under the guidance of Ingeborg Longbers, one of the founders of the famous Saterglantan weaving school in Sweden; Mary Elizabeth Starr Sullivan, Washington Alpha Pi Phi, formerly of the University of Washington; and Jane Glass, assistant professor of craft design of the University of Tennessee. In the Voorhees building, under the direction of Miss Marion Heard, associate professor of Craft design, rural arts, and agricultural extension service of the University of Tennessee, the craftsmen turned out leather belts, bill-folds, and purses of superlative quality. The metal workers exhibited trays of all sizes, aluminum and copper bowls. There were silver rings, bracelets, pins and necklaces. And stunning buttons, ash-trays, pins, buckles and clips made of enamel on a copper base represented part of the metal workers summer out-put.

The students in the last Summer Workshop came from diversified professions: 36 teachers, 2 graduate assistants, 3 high school students, 6 housewives, 9 home demonstration agents, 2 craftsmen, 9 college students, 1 Red Cross worker, 3 occupational therapists, 1 librarian, 1 weaving designer, 1 sorority house-mother, 1 retired business man, 1 nurse and 1 companion.

The students had competent assistance and were given ample freedom and time to create their own designs and finish their own articles. Even after dinner on the warm summer nights, lights were blazing in the school buildings and the noise of the hammers and the thuds of the beaters on the looms could be heard as the student craftsmen worked to complete their handiwork.

The three occupational therapists took one warp and designed as many articles as they could which would answer hospital problems. The articles were interesting to make, colorful, inexpensive and required a short time for completion.

Hannah Norwood, aged 16, came from Columbia, South Carolina, for weaving instruction. She and her mother weave professionally and Hannah, who joined the Handicraft Guild at age 15, plans to go to Sweden for advanced study when she finishes school.

A Mr. and Mrs. Pease from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, joined the student group last summer after doing handiwork at Penland for three summers. After Mr. Pease retired from business, the Peases built a cabin near Gatlinburg in 1940 for summer living. So Mrs. Pease was busily making rugs for the cabin while Mr. Pease was making aluminum bowls and plates for their own use as well as two very decorative clips for Mrs. Pease.

Huey Dell Mercier, a blind girl from Hazlehurst, Mississippi, was a student this summer. She learned to do simple weaving in the six-weeks session and planned to teach weaving in the school for the blind in Mississippi. Huey Dell lived in the dormitory and said, "I couldn't have had more fun or have wanted a better place to live."

As this ARROW goes to press plans have been made for an even finer summer Workshop for the 1949 summer. Workshop will open June 13th and close July 20th and students may register for the entire six weeks or for the first or second three weeks.

Last November Ruth Barrett Smith (our Settlement School Chairman) went to Gatlinburg and met with Ruth Dyer (Director of the Settlement School), Esther Mines (assistant to our Director), Jessie Harris (Vice-Dean of Home Economics of the University of Tennessee), Henrietta Sivyer (Head of the Department of Related Arts of the University of Tennessee), Ruth Buckley (Head of Department of Foods and Institution Management of the University of Tennessee), and Marion Heard (Associate Professor of Related Art and Director of our Summer Workshop). Everything for the Summer Workshop was mapped out at this meeting and plans have matured during the winter months through much correspondence.

Dr. Allan Eaton, outstanding authority on the crafts, will again lecture on aesthetic appreciation of crafts as well as the historic background of crafts. Miss Marion Heard will continue to serve as Director of the Workshop and resume her place as instructor of beginning and advanced jewelry. Mr. Lynn Alexander, Head of Applied Art at the University of Oregon, is to head our weaving department for the summer. Miss Berta Frey of New York City will teach special weaving problems. Miss Harriet Adams, Assistant Professor of Applied Design from Iowa State College, will teach metal and recreational Crafts. Miss Helen Watson from the University of Tennessee will have charge of Community and Camp Leadership.

Two new crafts have been added to our list: pottery will be taught by Mrs. Ken McDonald of Gatlinburg, and a course in woodworking will be offered by Miss Ruth Transgrud of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Pollard will again be transformed into dining-rooms and three institutional management majors will have charge of the preparation and serving of the meals.

Pi Phis, actives and alumnae, we of the Settlement School Committee urge you to follow the growth and development of the Summer Workshop as you have followed the growth and development of the Settlement School program through the years. Among the students last summer, there were 3 Pi Phi actives and one Pi Phi pledge, a Pi Phi daughter and a Pi Phi chaperon. Nancy Alexander, one of the graduate assistants, was also a Pi Phi from Iowa Gamma. When the Committee asked Nancy to return to the Workshop this coming summer, she wrote that since she plans to be married this June, she can't join our staff again. Nancy wrote: "If it were at all possible I would certainly enjoy returning to the Workshop in 1949. I had a most interesting and enjoyable time last summer. No one could ask for nicer people to work with. I certainly think Pi Phis are to be congratulated on their wonderful staff, both in the school and in the Workshop. Every minute was fun.

"My one consolation is not being able to take the position is that some other active or young alumna will have the opportunity to see and know the Settlement School. There will then be another Pi Phi who will realize so much more clearly just what we are doing in Tennessee.

"It's really too bad that each and every Pi Phi can't visit the school and Workshop. I was both humble and proud to be a member of the organization that has done so much and has come to mean so much to the people of Gatlinburg."

Mrs. Newman Sheets (Shirley de Spain), Colorado B, was soloist at the National Σ X Convention in Seattle last August. Her husband was a national officer of the fraternity.

Mrs. Charles W. Sitler (Ione Goodnight), Colorado B, is in Madrid, Spain, where her husband is a labor attache in the State Department.

Mrs. Frank J. Henry (Hilda Beggs, Colorado B and Maryland A), mother of Atlanta Alumnae Club president, Mrs. E. P. Granberry (Dorothy Henry, North Carolina B), is Georgia State Chairman of United Nations Program for League of Women Voters. Mrs. Henry was sent to Lake Success in February to sit in on the United Nations meetings now in progress.

Mrs. Henry gave a most interesting description of Lake Success and the meetings attended while there, at the February meeting of the Atlanta Alumnae Club, giving a fine inside view of the many goals which representatives from all over the world are endeavoring to achieve.

Pi Beta Phi Mothers' Clubs

By MARIE BACON HAGEE, Missouri B, Director of Extension

NOT EVERY Pi Phi Chapter has a Mothers' Club, but how lucky are those which have! To receive help with their rush parties, in refurnishing their room or house, or in getting the luxuries which their budget just cannot provide—this seems heavenly to the chapters who are wholly on their own. While it is true that some clubs have started simply because the mothers desired to know each other better, usually they have been organized in order to aid in some way the chapter to which the daughters belong.

As the clubs vary in size and type, so does the help which they give. Some clubs are small, some are large; some never fail to get together each month, while others with many non-resident members find that it is possible to meet only at the annual mothers and daughters luncheon. The few members of the small club may find all they can do is to prepare and serve the food at rush parties, while the large ones—with too many members to meet comfortably in homes—can raise astronomical amounts to buy amazing gifts for the chapter. And, perhaps because chapter memory is so short, the girls seem perpetually to be surprised at getting any help at all.

Since gifts are not acquired by wishes alone, most clubs have to struggle with projects to raise money. These are varied and follow the same lines as do those of alumnae clubs—rummage sales, style shows, Arrowcraft sales, bridge parties, lending libraries, bake sales, and reselling of clothes. It is difficult to tell inquiring clubs how to organize, because only they themselves can know how many officers they need, how often it is wise to meet, and what type of program will attract a large attendance. Usually a successful club will evolve gradually a plan which fits its needs but which can be changed when necessary.

Like all other groups, Mothers' Clubs have their problems, and perhaps for most of them membership ranks first. For many it is a question of how to attract new mothers and hold their interest, but just as troubling for others is the necessity of tactfully confining membership to the mothers of actives and pledges only, because of the difficulty of finding houses large enough to hold meetings. Programs which appeal to all are sometimes difficult to find, but usually this is no great problem. It is far-sighted to ask sometime during the year one of the deans or professors to tell of college policies and trends. Such a talk is informative and, if the choice of speaker a wise one, very enjoyable.

There is no attempt to require reports from the clubs, but each year an informal letter is sent out to them by the Director of Extension (their contact member on Grand Council) giving news of the fraternity, and restating some of its aims. In this letter there is always a hopefully voiced hint that a reply from the clubs with a list of incoming officers for the next year would be appreciated, and it is encouraging that more and more clubs do answer with pleasant, chatty letters. As always when writing or thinking about Mothers' Clubs, I come back to that intangible but greatest of all their help—the interest and affection which need not even be expressed to be felt by the chapter, but the warmth of which carries many through a difficult time.

Would that every chapter had a Mothers' Club!

Ruth Barrett Smith Scholarship—

given by the alumnae organization in accordance with the action of the last Convention, has been awarded to Peggy Baker, Kansas A.

Applications for next year's scholarship should have been sent before May 1, 1949, to Mrs. Wild.

These girls really take their football seriously. At half-time, Coach Ed Schott is talking to his bedraggled Pi Phi team, a little worse for the day's rain and the stiff competition of the Alpha Xi team.

It's the crucial moment. The Alpha Xi's are first down on the four yard line, Goal to go, as Ed Schott sends in Snooky Hudson, to strengthen the Pi Phi defensive team.

Here's the Pi Phi line-up, as attractive a group as ever graced a gridiron.

The Powder Bowl

A FOOTBALL game at Ohio University has brought two fraternities closer together and produced a friendly spirit of competition far separated from any feeling of bitter rivalry.

The Powder Bowl classic was started in the fall of 1947 when the Pi Beta Phi's challenged the A Ξ Δ 's in an effort to raise money for the National Cancer Fund. Now an annual event, the affair brings favorable publicity to both groups both on the campus and throughout the state.

Theta Chi fraternity has also entered into the spirit by offering a trophy to the winners. To date neither team has had sole possession for a year. Both years the game ended in a scoreless tie, despite valiant attempts to the contrary. As a result, each group only has possession of the trophy for a half year.

The Powder Bowl puts on an exciting demonstration of touch football. And the girls don't go on the field unprepared. A month previous, both appeal to intramural football stars for training. These coaches drill the girls daily in all the rough and fine points of the game. The schedule was so rigid, the girls even held a practice at 9 a.m. the Sunday after homecoming.

An admission charge of 25 cents is turned over to the Fund. The event has all the color of a football game, with loudspeaker announcements, cheerleaders, a band, and half-time entertainment. Adding a touch of humor to compensate for their serious play on the field, at the end of each eight minute quarter the girls repowder with large, fluffy puffs.

The Pi Phi's prevailed upon Thor Olson, Ohio varsity trainer, to serve as trainer and physician for them on the day of the Big Game. Not to be outdone, the Alfuzzies had their housemother on the bench as the water boy.

The two groups collaborated on the publicity and ticket sales. Every member had to participate in some other capacity if she failed to make the squad. Publicity pictures were sent to home town papers of the lineups of each team, cheerleaders, and mascots. Ticket sales were pushed on campus. The school and local papers cooperated with advance stories, so that even a goodly share of the townfolks came to view the spectacle.

The anticipated 3,000 attendance this past year was cut nearly in half by a drenching rain, but the prestige was raised when the girls refused to call the game.

Now a campus tradition, the game has also managed to present an outward spirit of unity and an inward feeling of cooperation between the two groups.

Quotable Quotes:

The Fraternity, more than any other organization on the campus, has, I believe, the opportunity to develop in a student the distinguishing marks of a fine personality. Some time ago I talked with one of the high officials of the General Electric Corp. who, for nearly a quarter of a century, had been responsible for the selections of college graduates entering the service of his company. He told me that in 20 years not one person had failed because he lacked technical training. Those who failed did so because they could not get along with their fellow beings. They lacked the art of human understanding. At some time or other, possibly during their college careers, they had developed warped personalities. At precisely this point, it seems to me the Fraternity faces a challenge as well as an opportunity—that of developing wholesome, Christian personalities.—Dr. Herbert L. Spencer, President of Bucknell University, in The Rainbow of Delta Tau Delta.

It is pretty much a conceded fact that fraternities constitute an integral part of the life of colleges; that in providing rooming, dining, and social facilities they are acting as an adjunct to the college, performing a college function. Fraternities may and do have many social aspects; nevertheless the social—as well as the literary, scientific, the philosophical, or the technical—is a part of the educational development and a part of college function. In short, the value of fraternities lies in their activities, including social activities, by which they participate in and supplement the work of the college in promoting scholarship, leadership, and character.—Fraternities at the University of Cincinnati, the Handbook for Rushees, 1948.

PI PHI PERSONALITIES

Col. and Mrs. J. A. Holly

From The Hague, Holland, comes this letter from Carlene Tuller Holly, wife of the Military Attache, Colonel J. A. Holly, U. S. M. A. 1918, at the American Embassy in that capital.

Dear Pi Phis:

I wonder if I can take you with me on a quick tour thru the countries of Europe I have visited recently. I hesitated, when our ARROW Editor, my good friend Mrs. Alford, asked me to tell you a few things that had happened to me over the past two and a half years, for fear I would omit the "interesting to you" bits, and perhaps dwell too long on the uninteresting. It is indeed, quite impossible for me to tell you about the many fascinating short trips we were able to enjoy into Northern and Southern England, Scotland and Wales; about the various things that happened to me in Bavaria and Austria as we drove thru the countryside; about the glorious two weeks spent driving thru Switzerland. I can just mention a few things I did and saw. I only wish you could have shared them all with me.

So often people say to me, "How I envy you and your experiences." Little do they realize the really hard work involved in the constant packing and unpacking, coming and going by train, plane and car, necessary if one avails himself of the opportunities for travel that present themselves on details like ours. However, the interesting people and may I say the ever changing Foreign Affairs more than offset any difficulties or hardships incurred.

The unusual winter of 1946 which Great Britain experienced was far from pleasant. The electricity and fuel cuts, decreed by Mr. Shinwell, Minister of Fuel, necessary of course if Britain was to recover economically from the war, plus the meager rations on which we as well as the British existed, together with the severe cold, forced all of us to show the utmost courage in order "to carry on." I, as an American, struggled, and I mean struggled "to cope with" the discomforts, the drabness, the chill, the monotonous food. Even the Beef Eaters in their gay red coats and hats at the Tower of London, the ginger beer bottles filled with hot water and given to those of us lurching at Gunther's in Mayfair, given to us to hold in our laps for warmth, failed to cheer. The weekly ounce of fat, the shilling's worth of available meat, the one strip of bacon, the four ounces of sweets, only emphasized the lack of interesting diet that fell to our lot as sojourners in England.

So it was like manna from Heaven when my husband was ordered from the Embassy in London to Athens, Greece, for temporary duty. To see the sun and feel its warmth, something seldom seen or done in London, was something to look forward to. We flew, via Frankfurt and Rome, arriving in Athens the day King George passed away. All Greece was plunged into deep mourning. We, of the Embassy, too went into mourning, even wearing black hose and black accessories with our black dresses and hats, and canceling all social events. We were saddened, too, by the tragedy. However, the actual funeral procession in which my husband marched, was most colorful, for the church in all its color and bright jewels and the King's own native guards in their white and red costumes made the occasion seem not so sad.

I believe the most awe inspiring sight I have ever seen is the Parthenon floodlighted during the full moon, three nights a month. Its architectural perfection even tho it is visibly in ruins, its seeming fragility and delicacy, its historical significance, all combine to fill me with reverence. I could almost hear St. Paul standing on the rock nearby delivering his famous lecture to the Athenians, could almost see him striding into the Temple of Athena and smiting with his rod the very statue of the Goddess herself.

I drove to Marathon, some twenty-six miles distant from Athens, always before merely a vague historical name, a monument to the brave Greeks, who defeated the Persians and thus saved their country.

Oddly enough, we could buy in Athens nearly all the items so scarce in America, towels, sheets, soap powders, etc. I settled, however, for two exquisite slave bracelets and a lovely old Macedonian pendant and chain which I discovered in a tiny little shop on a very narrow street in the old part of the city.

There was poverty in Athens, poverty at its worst, for just around the corner from the Grand Bretagne where we stayed, emaciated sore covered, hollow-eyed children silently squatted on the sidewalk, hoping, no doubt, some more fortunate person than they, might drop a few drachmas into their outstretched hands. I shudder when I think of them.

Stopping again in Rome en route back to London, we took time to see the old aqueduct, the old wall, the Triumphal Arch of Litus constructed of Greek marble, and of course St. Peter's and Vatican City, and above all the interesting Colosseum or amphitheater built about 80 A.D., where festivals, games and displays were held by the Romans.

We flew low over Pompeii destroyed in 79 A.D., by Vesuvius, low enough to see the still erect walls of the ancient city. We flew near enough to the Leaning Tower of Pisa to sense its "leaning," thence over the Swiss Alps, breath taking but beautiful, eventually to come down at the airport of London.

The Scandinavian countries are truly beautiful. The three day Göta Canal trip across Sweden from Stockholm to Gothenburg took us thru the countryside and showed us the typical life of the Swedish farmer.

Copenhagen, often called the "Paris of the North," because it offers more of the so called night life than any other city in the Northern countries, is the city of bicycles, a sure means of transportation to the thousands of Danes who use them both for work and for pleasure. Food is rationed in Denmark, but we had enough to eat and what we had was excellent. Strange it was to see many women smoking small cigars in restaurants, on streets and in trains. Hot water was a luxury, is a luxury, I might say, for it is against the law to use the very scarce fuel to heat water in any quantities during the summer months in any part of the country.

Norway, with its fjords and snow capped peaks is the most scenic of the three countries. Food there is strictly rationed too, and the thrifty Norwegians diligently guard their precious dollars, allowing few delicacies to be imported. The Palace grounds in Oslo are open to everyone, and the many people passing thru daily are symbolic of the true democratic feeling there.

In February of 1948, my husband was transferred from the London Embassy to The Hague, Netherlands. We lived for a short time in charming Kasteel (castle) and Wassenoer. Finally, we did find a quaint thatched roof Dutch house with large gardens, quite suitable for our various needs, into which we moved and where we still live.

Wassenoer is a beautiful suburb of The Hague. It was damaged little by the Germans, tho The Hague itself shows the effect of the bombings. Thirty square blocks were demolished in a short time one night and I believe three thousand people were killed at that time.

April is the most attractive time to visit the Netherlands, as it is the beginning of the bulb blooming season. We drive to Lissa and around Harleem almost daily to see, first the crocuses, then the narcissus and daffodils, then the gorgeous hyacinths with their fragrance as well as their color, and then the famous tulips, all sizes, colors, kinds and shapes, and lastly the dahlias and gladioli, a continuous display and array of color for two or three months. Only color films could adequately depict the beauty of it all. Great piles of plucked blooms are everywhere, for it is only the actual bulb that the Dutch are interested in perfecting. During the last six months of German occupation, the bulbs were indeed precious, as they were boiled and eaten, a bit tasteless, to be sure, to satisfy the hunger all the Dutch had.

Food is strictly rationed in Holland, too. One egg per person now and then, a small portion of cheese, a few cents worth of meat, a little butter, coffee and tea, sorely try the cooking ability of the housewife, for the Dutch love to eat and eat well normally. One thing, I have found is not rationed, the ever present nutmeg, used by the cook to season nearly all vegetables, all soups and it even tops a luscious mound of mashed potatoes. It looks pretty and perhaps it does add a bit of zest to the food, but it is something to which most of us are unaccustomed, especially in such quantities, and do not relish. If ever you visit The Netherlands, you must have Rice Tauffel, a most tasty Javanese dish, interesting and good.

We were fortunate to be able to be present at the Investiture of Queen Juliana. We were escorted by motorcycle police from The Hague to the new church in Amsterdam where the ceremony took place. We left home about eight-thirty in the morning, dressed in very formal attire, and sat thru it until noon. All the Royal families of Europe were represented. I believe Margaret Rose, looking like Cinderella as she went to the Ball, won everyone's heart. It was a sad and happy event both, for the Dutch love their old Queen as well as her charming daughter.

We visited Dachau, the famous German prison camp as we were enroute to Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, Hitler's summer residence, where my husband was to recuperate from illness. The place has left an indelible mark on my mind, for tho I had said I wouldn't go into the crematory, or into the gas chamber, I did. I was filled with almost uncontrollable emotion as I fearfully peered into the many furnaces so built to hold the prone bodies of the victims, and glanced up at the numerous gas jets on the ceiling, camouflaged as shower equipment. Oddly enough when I returned to London via British European Airways, our cargo, valued at $750,000 consisted of the silver and gold fillings and inlays, wedding rings, cigarette cases, etc. taken from those sentenced to die, an eerie cargo it was, and gruesome. It was consigned to the Bank of England from the Reichsbank of Frankfurt, eventually to be turned over to the Displaced Person's Fund.

I have not mentioned Paris, France, one of the loveliest cities in the world and one to which everybody wants to return; Madrid, Spain, where one can see all the Bull Fights one cares to see. (I saw them thru my fingers, spread gingerly over my face), Tangiers, Spanish Morocco, the famous International Port during the war, full of intrigue and romance. I can only hope you will have the privilege of seeing these places yourselves.

As you can see, most of my travel was pleasant, but when I saw Frankfurt and Munich for the first time I felt sad, ill, helpless. All I could wish for was to get away quickly from the horrible destruction, ruins, rubble, pitiful old people, eager sad eyed and probably homeless children, remnants of war. What is ahead for these people?

I came home in November 1948 for the Holidays, and I am sailing April 23, 1949 on the New Amsterdam to rejoin my husband in The Hague. I'm glad to go back of course, to be in my home again, and to get into the Life once more that is ours as Representatives of our country in a Foreign land. How proud we are to be Americans, and how grateful we are to have as our birthright, freedom and democracy.

Yours in Pi Beta Phi,
CARLENE TULLER HOLLY,

At the Mardi Gras

By CHLOE LAIN, Louisiana A

Newcomb College had a holiday February 28 and March 1 for the observance of Mardi Gras. The festivities began officially with the Ball of the Krewe of Twelfth Night on January 6. On December 28, the Krewe of Harlequins presented a ball the theme of which was a circus, and in which Armande Billion, Dorothy Carrere, and Mary Foster were maids in the Queen's court. Pierrettes, a ball organization consisting of girls of high school and college age, held their carnival ball on January 4. Effie Stocton ruled as queen while Barbara Bizzell and Leila Flournoy served as maids in her court. Armande Billion appeared again in the court of the Krewe of Osiris which was held on February 5. Marie Grehan participated in three carnival balls this season. She was maid in the courts of the Krewes of Oberon, which is one of New Orleans' oldest ball associations; Achiens, given for the first time this year; and Momus. Barbara Brogan was a maid in the court presented by the Krewe of Dorians.

The climax of the season came on March 1, which is the last and gayest of all the days of Mardi Gras. Many of the students of Newcomb masked and either rode on gaily decorated trucks in the parade of the Krewe of Orleans, or joined the throngs that lined the streets to see Rex, the king of carnival. The kings and queens ruled the city until midnight, and then the season of Lent began and New Orleans became again a quiet and sober city.

Panhellenic Days at Iowa State College

"The strongpoint of the conference as I see it is that those present discussed important and fundamental ideas and didn't waste time on details," stated Miss Amy B. Onken, grand president of Pi Beta Phi following the Women's Panhellenic Conference at Iowa State College Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

"The Panhellenic spirit on the campus is very good. I'm only sorry that more of the active members couldn't attend all of the meetings," Miss Onken continued.

National officers of eleven N.P.C. sororities attended this 2-day conference which is destined to become the pattern for many such displays of inspiring Panhellenic relationships. Jeanne Hudson, K K Γ, served as the guiding hand of the conference. Her able assistance came from the presidents of Iowa State's eleven sororities: Lois Ann Morris, A Δ Π; Eucine Larsen, A Γ Δ; Ruth Peyer, X Ω; Maralyn Lister, Δ Δ Δ; Ida Rae Stocks, Δ Z; Mildred Bretnall, Γ Φ B; Bonnie Beurkens, K A Θ; Ethel Mae Hendrickson, K Δ; Joan Ahern, Π B Φ; and Jean Ory, Σ K.

To welcome this corps of national officers, sorority presidents, social chairmen, faculty department heads, residence directors and alumnae members began the parley with an informal tea at the Γ Φ B chapter house on Monday afternoon. Over 400 women went through the receiving line to meet the honored Panhellenic guests.

Representing A Δ Θ was Mrs. Sally Lipp, province president; A Γ Δ, Mrs. Tonie Eberhardt, chairman of national loan fund; X Ω, Mrs. Claudine Mason, national alumnae advisor; Δ Δ Δ, Miss Sylvia Nilsen, traveling secretary; Δ Z, Mrs. Charlotte Verplank, national chairman of the Panhellenic editorial group; Γ Φ B, Mrs. Marian Howe, national finance chairman; K A Θ, Mrs. F. M. Heath, presidential alternate; K Δ, Miss Pauline Reynolds, national treasurer; K K Γ, Miss Marjorie Cross, traveling secretary; Pi Beta Phi, Miss Amy B. Onken, grand president; and Σ K, Mrs. Helen Corbett, national pledge trainer.

The regular bi-weekly dinner meeting of Women's Panhellenic Council was host to the eleven national guests at the Δ Z chapter house on the evening of Jan. 31. Following the meeting, which was under the direction of Δ Z Joyce Edgar, president of Women's Panhellenic Council at Iowa State, the guests held a panel meeting at the Pi Beta Phi chapter house.

The second day of the conference was given over in the morning and afternoon sessions to workshop meetings for the active sorority officers. The scholarship chairmen met in the morning to exchange plans, ideas and working methods, under the chairmanship of Margaret McKee, Γ Φ B. These eleven scholarship chairmen, all interested in the standards and ratings of their individual sororities, as well as the ideals of the Panhellenic system, discussed study methods in their respective houses, penalties imposed for low grades, and suitable awards for outstanding scholastic effort.

Mary Winterbottom, Σ K, headed the workshop for social chairmen, and from this meeting came a number of new ideas for the improvement and encouragement of the social graces, and for different and unique social functions. On the same morning the pledge trainers met under the chairmanship of Mary Jean Bond, Pi Beta Phi. Here they heard the pledge problems of each group and discussed discipline, pledge study methods, and general neophyte spirit.

Rush council met in the afternoon with Muriel Farrell, $\Lambda \Delta \Pi$, in charge, to talk over the rushing system as it is at present and to suggest and discuss changes and improvements. Formal rushing is held on the Iowa State campus for one week before classes begin in the fall. After initial pledging, all rushing activities are halted until the beginning of winter quarter, immediately after Christmas. The rushing period is then opened and conducted informally until the end of the school year. The eleven national sororities have pledged over 250 women this year.

A highlight of the 2-day session was the formal dinner, given in the stately Memorial Union of Iowa State College, for over 750 pledges, active and alumnae sorority members.

Many sorority groups without affiliations on the campus were represented at the banquet that night. Each national officer present spoke briefly to the sorority women assembled in Great Hall that evening on the spirits and aims of sorority life.

The Women's Panhellenic Council of Iowa State College was aided throughout the planning and executing stages of the large-scale 2-day meeting by their charming and competent acting social director, Mrs. Doris Hoppenrath, $K \Delta$.

The conference was a milestone in Panhellenic history—the first attempt at a Panhellenic convention of pledges, actives, alumnae and national officers. The Greeks of Iowa State College feel that they have gained considerably from their efforts. From the newest freshman pledge to the graduating senior, they regard the Women's Panhellenic Days as pertinent and concrete proof of the sorority's permanence in the collegiate system—in Ames, Iowa, and across the nation.

Abuse of Words

Fraternities have as their raison d'être FRIENDSHIP. Their members are chosen solely on the basis of congeniality, mutual interests and ambitions, shared intellectual and social goals for service as citizens of community, state, nation, world. They do not discriminate against any person or any thing. Any such appearance of antagonism is a figment of confused observation and deduction by non-members.

One of education's goals always has been the development of discriminating taste, an ability to choose wisely, to select what for the individual seems the better of many things, from foods to music and morals. Like its synonyms—"Acumen, judgment, discernment, taste, tact," "discrimination" indicates selection, choice.

Only a philology dissertation could trace the "muddled thinking, or the substitute for thought" by which in the last few years this honorable word, "discrimination," has acquired an anti-social, undemocratic connotation.

That the world has not reached the Utopian mores of a "brotherhood of mankind," when that idea is misconstrued to mean everyone sharing equally all things good and bad, everyone recognizes. But any genuine brotherhood of mankind can not be attained through the denial of the individual democratic right to choose one's friends. Since personal FRIENDSHIP and CAMARADERIE are the aim and end of fraternity relationships they are in no way involved in the present turmoil for reconstructing the relations within groups and between individuals, except as intelligent citizens they seek to promote a better chance for every individual, regardless of difference in background and culture.—From Kappa Alpha Theta, February, '49.

HOLT HOUSE

ALICE McDUGALL JENSEN, Illinois A

The Holt House Committee is featuring in its section these stories of the Founders, as a special memorial.

Jennie Horne Turnbull, 1846-1932

"To live in hearts we leave behind Is not to die."

"Oh, Jennie, the love that binds we I Cs together! I thought little of its strength until we admitted into our circle a new sister. We have in her one who will do all in her power to ever be an honor and a blessing to her sex." So writes Fannie Thomson to Jennie Horne Turnbull July 5, 1867. As we delve into the lives of the twelve girls who founded our fraternity we are impressed with their unselfishness. Reaching out to others was one of their goals. This was particularly true of Jennie Horne Turnbull. As we shall see, her life was devoted to others.

Jennie Horne was born in the year 1846 at Moorefield, Indiana. The Horne family moved to Yorktown, Indiana, in 1849, where they lived until Jennie finished grammar school. As a family they were obviously interested in the educational and cultural phases of living rather than the material aspects. The basis for this assumption is Mrs. Turnbull's statement in the ARROW, 1917. She writes, "Having a desire for better educational advantages than could be had in Yorktown, my father, rather than send his children away from home, closed out his business and moved with his family to Monmouth, Illinois, to enjoy the privileges of a college town." Jennie Horne entered Monmouth College in the fall of 1864, graduating with a degree of B.S. in June, 1868.

This Founder's interest in other people was offered a fertile field when in 1874 she was united in marriage to Reverend Thomas B. Turnbull, D.D. One week later she and her new husband entered their first field of labor at Aledo, Illinois. The proof of their success in their relationships with others lies in the fact that they stayed in Aledo eleven years. During this time five children were born to this marriage. With a house full of children and duties belonging to a pastor's wife, idleness was an unknown word in the Turnbull family.

In 1900 the Turnbulls moved to Philadelphia. Here Mrs. Turnbull took up anew her interest in the outside world. She took an active part in missions, being president of the Missionary Society of her own church from the time of its founding until her death. She obviously not only liked people but knew how to live with them.

Her interest in Pi Phi was given new opportunity for expression here. Soon after the Turnbulls moved to Philadelphia an alumnae club was in process of being organized. Mrs. Turnbull made known her interest, and the Philadelphia Pi Phis were so pleased to have a founder in their midst that they have always claimed her for their own. She was a source of inspiration and counsel to this group for many years. It was a source of great joy to her to have her two granddaughters carry on the family tradition as active members of Illinois A Chapter. She was actively interested in the Settlement School, giving annually to its support. She always wore her original I C pin, and it always pleased her to have younger members notice it. It was characteristic of her to use her influence in a quiet, gentle, and understanding manner. She possessed strength without being rigid in attitude and energy without being unpleasantly aggressive.

The emphasis in Jennie Horne Turnbull's life was on the serious side. However, there was a lighter vein in her nature. This we see when we read Fannie Thomson's letter to her. She writes, "I am afraid, Jennie, you think more of carrying on a flirtation than Analytics and Calculus. The idea of your flirting with a married minister! Flirt with Bob as much as you want to. Maybe if he was flirted with a few more times it would take some of the soft out of him." It is evident that our Founders, with all their serious ambitions, were also very normal girls. They seem to have the right values as we understand values and attitudes today. They had an awareness of fundamental and eternal truths, which they expressed in their daily living. Today we could do no better than emulate this awareness.

FROM PI PHI PENS

Edited by MARY ELIZABETH BARNETTE, Ohio A

FLORENCE DORSEY, Road To The Sea, Rinehart & Company, Inc.

The quality of adventure long associated with the field of engineering has led many a young man to prepare for a career of building, and yet great engineers are much less well known to the public than are similar figures in such other fields as politics, the military, and literature. Accordingly, this biography of James B. Eads will be the first introduction of the man to many a reader.

Once they come to know him, however, through the pages of Miss Dorsey's book, they will wonder why he does not figure more prominently in the history books they read in school. Briefly, in addition to other accomplishments, he was the Henry Kaiser of the Civil War. Of the "difficult we will do today—the impossible takes a little longer" school, he succeeded in placing seven light ironclad gunboats in the water in one hundred days under government contract. Thirty days before the Monitor and the Merrimac made history these boats captured Fort Henry.

While most of Eads' achievements are in some way related to the Mississippi River on one of whose steamboats he first worked at the age of nineteen, by no means all of them concern boats directly. Brought up in Indiana, he first worked for a St. Louis drygoods firm, but from the time he began his river job, his real career commenced.

The Eads Bridge in St. Louis remains a monument to his name and work, and others of his feats include designing and building submarines for the purpose of raising sunken river boats, inventing the New Orleans jetties, and inventing a revolutionary steam gun turret.

In what critics have termed an admirably documented biography, informative, human, and distinguished for its literary excellence, Miss Dorsey has produced a true story of a man whose perseverance and belief in new ideas helped him to make numerous and lasting contributions to his country.

AUTHOR INTEREST: A Pi Phi at the University of Missouri, Florence Dorsey grew up in Alton, Illinois, on the Mississippi and has spent much of her life within its sight. It was a natural development, therefore, that she should write books such as this and the earlier Master of the Mississippi, which concerned Henry Shreve and his dredging of the Ohio, Mississippi, and Red Rivers. Always the student, she supplemented her university work with study abroad and then after she married Austin Hubbard Welch, a Missouri professor, she returned to college to study music and sociology. Despite the river influence, her first stories concerned Arkansas squatters whom she met when she and her family moved there to produce lumber for the government during World War I.

ETHEL HUESTON, Heaven and Vice Versa, Bobbs-Merrill Co., 242 pp.

Romance, both mature and youthful, combines with a touch of mystery to make an entertaining story of Lucia, her two attractive, teen-age daughters, Mac, their neighbor and kindly friend, Lucia's much married twin sister Lydia, three young GI's, and Lydia's latest marital prospect.

Reactions vary when Lydia and the young men descend upon Lucia, and mystery develops when Lydia's first husband is found bruised and bleeding near Lucia's home. The story, of course, concerns the solution of the mystery and the romantic situations among the book's various characters.

AUTHOR INTEREST: Ethel Hueston, in private life Mrs. Raymond Blim, will be remembered for her earlier books, "Preacher's Wife," "This One Kindness," and "Mother Went Mad on Monday."

ULA KING FAIRFIELD, Pioneer Lawyer. A Story of the Western Slope of Colorado, privately printed.

Ula King Fairfield has written in this book of her father's life on the Western Slope where he, Alfred Rufus King of Delta, Colorado, rolled up a succession of "firsts" as county attorney, county judge, and mayor. In putting down her reminiscences of childhood happenings, cultural pursuits, and western adventure as this town came of age, she has produced a tribute to her father's memory and to the mutual devotion of her parents.

On Fraternity Standards "We should stress the fact that the values which we want to impart to our members are good taste, understanding, and that the end of living is service—that education and our fraternity should develop the capacity to serve."

On Alumnae "... an alumnus who is really alive as a fraternity man is not merely comfortably sentimental about 'the good old days' and the group he lived with as an undergraduate. On Scholarship (In an article outlining the need and purpose of college guidance centers) "To the Greek philosopher's adage 'Know thyself,' add another, 'Know thy campus.' It may mean the difference between your success and failure, between being mediocre or outstanding, between your group's being at the top or at the bottom of the scholarship rating of organizations on your campus. If you do not yet have a guidance center on your campus, inquiring about one might suggest to your administration the need for instituting one. On Leadership "Leadership development consists of three stages or steps. First, and most important, is the development of a full and well-rounded personality to attract and interest people. Second, is that of holding their interest—impossible without No. 1. Third, if the first and second prevail, is influence—and that is leadership. ON TRAINING FOR CITIZENSHIP "Be consumed by a zeal for learning. See that the men around you are men of character, and develop your own character. Character is made . . . by making the right decisions every day. It's the accumulation of right decisions that makes a man's character great. Pledge Day, January 30, 1949

INITIATED, November 27, 1948: Beverly Huntington, Geraldine Johnson, Janet Robertson, In January Nova Scotia A gave a "Ho Down" rushing party in the Pi Phi Room, complete with straw and cider keg, which proved to be one of the most successful of the year.

The annual formal held on February 14, with decorations in honour of the day, was a dance to remember. The Nova Scotia A's enjoyed another lovely evening when the members of the brother fraternity, ΣX , entertained at their house.

This year's entry in the Connolly Shield Competition for the best one act play was directed by a ΣX . Nova Scotia A's have been active in all the major Glee Club productions on the campus. Margaret Goode starred in the play "George Washington Slept Here," while Eileen Cantwell made a charming "Patience" in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. A number of other girls played smaller roles or helped backstage with costumes and make-up.

Frances Doane, Shirley McCoy, and Beverly Huntington are the only girls on the Dalhousie Students' Council. Carol Wood is the assistant-editor of the college yearbook.

The big event of Munro Day, March 8, was the choosing of a Campus Queen. Nova Scotia A's candidates for the contest were Marg Goode, Joyce Cameron, Carol Wood, and Carolyn Scott. After that eventful day everyone settled down for a few weeks of hard study followed, for some, by graduation and, for all, by vacation.

PLEDGED: Jean Haliburton, St. John's, Nfld.; Carolyn Scott, Halifax, N.S.

The Intramural Ball was the first event of the annual winter carnival. The next day, February 22, was a general school holiday with the judging of snow sculptures taking place in the morning. The winner of this event, and therefore of the highly coveted trophy, was "Lowizie" hauling "Snuffy Smith" on a jeep through the streets, really a beautiful piece of sculpturing, and surrounded by amazingly realistic details. Yes, the theme of the sculptures was comic strip characters this year. A very good one of "Popeye" won honorable mention for the girls of North Estabrooke.

Other events that day were some exciting ski races and ski jumping done by intramural teams, with some very good skiing done by both men and women. In the evening there was an exciting and close game with Rhode Island State's basketball team.

On Friday, March 11, the annual Penny Carnival was presented. The theme this year was "Mother Goose," and decorations and entertainment were planned accordingly. Booths and side shows charged a penny admission. Ann Dibblee, Carolyn Strong, and Mary Curtis, took part in the square dance and others active in the entertainment and decorating were Tannie Small, Shirley Johnson, Peggy Hobbs, and Tessie Freese.

Plans are being made for the Panhellenic formal to be held on May 13. Also plans are being formulated for an intersorority sing for the six sororities at which the singing of sorority songs will be featured.

The week of March 7-11 is Embassy Week on the U. of M. campus. At this time speakers come from many places to lecture and discuss religious topics. The lectures are given at general assemblies for the entire university, and discussion groups are formed in the dorms, fraternities and other separate organizations to meet with the speakers. Maine A entertained a speaker on March 8.

Recently the pledges met with the actives after a chapter meeting for a general question and answer period concerning the duties of the chapter officers and other fraternity matters.

After the meeting on February 28, the pledges entertained the actives with a very humorous skit and some delicious refreshments which included a huge cake baked by the girls.

Hope Bigney is practice teaching in home economics at the high school in Westbrook, Maine. Gerry Simanonok was elected chapter delegate for the Amy Burnham Onken award.

Ann Dibblee and Carolyn Strong were awarded places on the All-Maine hockey team, while Shirley Johnson won a position on the Reserve team.

The Home Economics department held an open house March 5. The entertainment consisted of interesting displays arranged by the girls, lectures, demonstrations, and a fashion show at which the girls modeled clothes they had made. Olive Cline modeled an attractive black suit, Gloria Fisher a striking bright green suit, and Beverly Artus a beautiful suit of softer green. Barbara Richardson wore a handsome blue topper. Other girls who were hostesses and helped with displays were Jane Hastings, Marilyn Mills, Natalie Tarr, Mary Jean McIntyre, and Mary Hatt.

VERMONT ALPHA—MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Chartered, 1893

INITIATED, March 6, 1949: Betty Ahner, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Marilyn Brindley, Rockville Centre, N.Y.; Joan Cairns, Short Hills, N.J.; Louise Erb, Buffalo, N.Y.; Polly Norton, Portland, Me.; Jean Hosford, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Cynthia Hodgson Larchmont, N.Y.; Sallie Iliff, Springfield, Mass.; Mary Lee McGowan, Harmony, R.I.; Nancy Watters, Worcester, Mass.; Janet West, Tenafly, N.J.; Carol Whitham, Port Chester, N.Y.

Although heavy grey clouds had over-hung the Middlebury Campus for over a month, there was no snow for the annual Winter Carnival. Ski events were cancelled with the exception of the jumping, for which snow was transported from near-by slopes. In spite of the handicaps, Carnival Co-Chairman Peg Drysdale, with the aid of her committee, produced a wonderful, if unusual, Carnival. Peg was also nominated for Carnival queen and served on the court.

So, now that winter has tried and failed, the Vermont A's are turning their attention to spring events. This spring there will be another Cultural Conference, to which come prominent men of all fields to discuss the problems of the United States and the world. The topic this year is to be "A Positive Program for a Democratic Society." Jean Holmberg is co-chairman and Mary Hosford is working on the publicity committee.

Vermont A is making long-range plans for doing over its meeting rooms. In an effort to raise additional money, the chapter gave several inexpensive suppers for which members and friends pay a very small amount. This was found to be a very satisfactory plan, and was also used to raise fifteen dollars for the Panhellenic Scholarship given each year. The chapter hopes, with the aid of the extra money and the painting arms of the Vermont A's, to make a good start on the rooms this year.

On Dean's list for the first semester were Cynthia Hodgson, Janet West, and Marilyn Murphy. Kathy Pell was recently elected treasurer of the Sailing Club, of which she was previously social chairman. And, on the athletic side, the All-Mid Basketball team included Alice Hildreth, Marilyn Brindley, and Nancy Vogt. Nancy was one of the six finalists for Queen of the Dartmouth Winter Carnival.

Pledge Day, January 14, 1949

Rush week, which began January 10, was climaxed with the pledging of twenty-eight girls. The ceremony was followed by the traditional supper of spaghetti and Italian bread served at the house. After eating and singing, everyone went to the movies and later back to the house for a cooky-shine and some well deserved sleep. Vermont B held an open house the following day for the pledges with invitations extended to the men's fraternity pledges.

With the beginning of a new semester in February, Vermont B turned its attention to the forthcoming winter carnival, Kake Walk. Margie Le Sueur had been chosen to be the chapter Kake Walk queen candidate and everyone began planning and deciding on campaign stunts and tactics. Although in past years it had been felt by many that Vermont B had not adequately supported its candidate, this year everyone was enthusiastic and interested in the plans. Posters and skits were lively and colorful and the theme song used was "Margie." The campaign began Friday, February 18, and the following Tuesday evening an informal coffee hour was held at the house. The next evening the pledges sponsored a dessert hour for the other sorority pledges on campus and Thursday night the show began with the formal ball. Both Friday and Saturday nights the skits and "Walkin' de Kake" were presented and on Saturday night Vermont B was presented with a beautiful silver cup and big yellow frosted cake for winning first place in the sorority division for ice sculptures. Although Margie was not elected queen, Vermont B felt well rewarded for the active interest and co-operation that was put forth. Sunday afternoon the chapter welcomed everyone to a large and festive open house which brought a wonderful weekend to a close.

Kake Walk proved to be a grand opportunity for getting together with alumnae, for Lyn Derrick, Margie Bagby, Eddie Verrall, Cindy Smith, Dottie Scott and Bevie Grier, '48 graduates, were all here for the weekend.

Since Sylvia Reynolds must cook for a semester at the Home Management house, Mary McBratney has taken over the mammoth job of feeding hungry sorority mouths and has been très successful.

Turn-about is considered fair play and that's the way Janie Atwood, Gladys Clark, Betty Grow, and Toady Page have felt about the situation. They are all practice teaching at the high school and from all reports they like it!

Marty Atwood has been chosen to represent Vermont B for the Portland award.

At present Vermont B is breathing a sigh of relief that the strain of Kake Walk is past, and the pledges are already anticipating May initiation and eagerly studying their pledge duties.

PLEGDED: Jane Cook, Patricia Morse, Marilyn Bush, Jeanne Newmeyer, Barbara Ann White, Betty Astone, Janet Beardslee, Harriet Carlton, Joan Chapman, Patricia Davison, Shirley Hakewessell, Sarah Hallagan, Barbara Hayden, Sylvia Heininger, Patricia Holt, Ruth Huntsman, Sally Jackson, Nancy Leming, Joan McKerley, Martha McNamara, Nancy Neal, Florence Parker, Mary Ellen Putnam, Margaret Ross, Norma Shangraw, Ruth Shaw, Constance Stone.

INITIATION, February 23, 1949: Gloria Curelli, Lorraine Delany, Leslie Wilson.

The following girls were on the Dean's List for last semester: Arlene Brackett, Beverly Hill, Elizabeth Kirby, Jean MacKenzie, Harriet Menides, and Stella Tamke.

After initiation a banquet honoring the initiates was given at the Hotel Sheraton. The entertainment consisted of short speeches by an alumna, Mrs. Stewart, and a senior, Irene Pearson, who spoke on the values of Pi Beta Phi. Natalie Roberts, representing the undergraduates, read a poem, "When This New Badge Grows Old." Lorraine Delany spoke on behalf of the initiates. The high point of the evening was the presenting of the Anna Robinson Nickerson Awards for Scholarship by Mrs. Richard Miner, alumnae advisor on scholarship. Harriet Menides received the $25 award for having the highest scholarship in the chapter for the previous year and Jean MacKenzie received the other award for showing the most improvement in scholarship.

Election of officers for the coming year was held February 9.

An informal rush party with a sea bottom theme was held at the sorority house February 4. Refreshments were served and the main entertainment was singing. Four girls were pinned at this party.

Five girls were pledged on February 16. The chapter had dinner at DuBarry's afterward.

Aline Bangsberg was recently chosen as one of the best-dressed girls in the College of Liberal Arts.

Betty Kirby, Aline Bangsberg, Elaine Boggs, Stella Tamke and Harriet Menides took part in C.L.A.'s fashion show this year.

The new School of Theology Building is steadily growing. The foundations for the Chapel were laid in March.

Since January life has been hectic on the University of Massachusetts campus. Mid-year examinations made their brief but unwelcome appearance at the end of the month, and soon afterward everyone at the university was joyfully participating in Carnival Week activities.

This year fine Carnival weather and plenty of snow added just the right touch to sculpturing, skiing, and indoor activities as well. Massachusetts B was proud to receive the second prize among women's fraternities for its sculpture, Little Lulu in a crown and ermine robe as Queen of the Carnival. Other highlights of the week were the Ball, a Flower-Fashion Show, Interclass Plays, and a concert by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

Massachusetts B has done little active rushing this semester because the freshman quota was nearly filled last fall and the chapter is already quite large.

Mildred Kinghorn has been chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges. The chapter is justly proud of her.

Exchange dinners have been held with most of the fraternities and now exchanges are being planned among the women's fraternities. It is felt that this custom helps greatly to maintain friendly relationships with all houses on campus.

Another custom which binds fraternities closer together is Greek Week, April 25-29. Especially popular, besides the annual Greek Ball, are the traditional fraternity skits and the sing contests. For weeks previous to the big night strains of melody were heard echoing from each chapter house as ever one strove for perfect harmony in their chosen selection.

Expansion remains the dominant theme on campus. About two hundred new transfers arrived from Devens this semester and more are expected next fall. The new physics building has been almost completed and two women's dormitories are under construction and showing some progress. It is hoped that women's enrollment may be increased now that the influx of veterans has somewhat subsided.

Several million dollars worth of construction is now in progress on the University of Connecticut campus. Colonel W. A. Moyle, Superintendent of Plant Maintenance, said that the unseasonable good weather has speeded up construction considerably.

The three dormitories under construction at North Campus will be called Baldwin, Hurley, and McConaughy in honor of the three most recent governors of the state. These buildings will complete the group of eleven dormitories which will house 1600 men.

The fifty bed Infirmary, estimated to cost approximately $400,000, is also speedily being completed. The Infirmary is for both men and women and will have four resident physicians. The present building will become a Nurses' Home.

Miss Mildred P. French, Dean of Women, has just returned after an extensive tour of Peru, Ecuador, and Chile. Her trip was indeed an interesting one.

On Wednesday evening, February 9, the chapter entertained its patronesses at an after-dinner coffee while on Thursday, February 24, it helped to celebrate the eight-first birthday of Miss Edwina Whitney, a patroness and a life-long resident of Storrs. Whitney Hall, one of the larger women's dormitories, is named in her honor as is Whitney Road, a scenic campus thoroughfare branching off Sorority Row.

Following pledging on Tuesday evening, February 22, the chapter entertained its pledges at a "Grinder Party." While gathered in the living room, the girls sang Pi Beta Phi songs and the blossoming of lasting sponsor-ponsee relationships was everywhere in evidence.

Among the pledges is Peg Cardwell, a transfer from Ohio Wesleyan and a former Pi Beta Phi pledge of Ohio Δ.

On International Night, March 4, some fifty foreign students studying here in the United States gathered with University students in the Community House for dinner, entertainment, and group discussions. The dinner consisted solely of foreign dishes and the foreign scholars danced and sang in native attire.

On Saturday morning, the visitors attended classes under the auspices of the International Night Committee which is headed by Connecticut A's new president, Ora-Belle Holdridge. Ora-Belle ably heads this campus project since she spent last summer at the College Cevenol Work Camp in France and traveled through England, Scotland, and Switzerland, thereby becoming well-acquainted with the problems of the foreign student.

Other Connecticut A's on the Planning Board were Justine Hoxie, who was on the Publicity Committee, and Peg Murray, on the Dinner Committee.

Marjorie Lynch has been elected vice-president of the Education Club. Margaret Murray was initiated into A Chapter of $\Phi \Psi \Theta$, women's national honorary home economics fraternity on January 16, while Adele Wadhams has been installed as president of W.S.G.C.

Ora-Belle Holdridge is a candidate for Queen of the Military Ball and Joan Liegeot is a University Caroller. The Carolers are a group of celebrated singers who travel about the state on musical engagements.

Connecticut A's frequently found in the Campus newspaper office are Gene Goodwin, Circulation Manager; Iris Kimble, her assistant; and Jane Weber, Assistant Advertising Manager.

New York A celebrated Carrie Chapman Catt Day on January 21 with the alumnae club at the annual banquet held in the chapter house. Following the gay festivities of the dinner an interesting book review was given for the group.

With all the term papers completed and final examinations over, the chapter once more resumed its normal activities at the beginning of February. The members were sorry, however, to lose the January graduates, Belle Hanson, Barbara Cleveland, and Sally Cowan.

The scholarship chairman, Lou Arden Andrews, announced that nine girls made the dean's list and the overall scholastic average had improved over the previous semester.

The chapter's plans for reproducing a blue Pegasus in snow for Winter Weekend fell short of achievement when, the day before the dead line, freak warm weather melted most of the available snow. Hurried last minute preparations were made and the actives and pledges were able to build a head of a bull, entitling the sculpture "S'no Bull." Although most of the outdoor activities were canceled, three of the girls were able to participate in the Skating Carnival.

For the first time at Syracuse University, a Panhellenic Achievement Cup will be presented to one of the women's fraternities on the basis of the following points: (1) participation in the ten major activities including Women's Student Government, Chapel, Traditions Commission, Campus Chest, Red Cross, Book Mart, Student Union, the daily newspaper, the yearbook, and the Women's Athletic Association; (2) participation in the three important weekends, Colgate, Winter, and Spring Weekend; (3) community service; (4) cooperation with Panhellenic; (5) cooperation with the university; and (6) scholastic improvement. Both actives and pledges are working hard in all of these fields to help New York A put in a strong bid for the cup.

To get acquainted with fellow pledges on the campus, an after dinner coffee was given by the pledges class on February 23. Two representatives were invited from each of the women's fraternities and coffee, mints, and nuts were served.

June Tolley has been appointed to the Women's Athletic Association Board as ping pong manager. Mary Copeland is heading Public Relations Committee in Chapel and has been appointed to the Chapel Board. Jean Maxwell will act as publicity chairman for the Junior Prom.

Nancy Dee was recently elected president of A K Δ national honorary sociological fraternity, and Marilyn Stewart was elected president of B B B, national honorary biology fraternity.

Although the lack of snow hampered several ski meets, the women's ski team, which includes Anne Dawson as manager, Virginia Stanton, Lee Kidd, and Joanne Chequer, had a very successful season.

Theresa Howard, Adrienne Gessner and Alice Wilson played on the girl's varsity basketball team. Joanne Van Noppen and Joan Van Dusen were members of the Freshman basketball team. The chapter is making a great effort to keep the basketball trophy, which it won last year, and has thus far been successful.

Phyllis Failing has been named next year's editor of Alice in Winter Wonderland, the Freshman handbook, and also editor of Tbelmonews, the student government newspaper.

Adrienne Gessner was recently elected president of Mummer's, the campus dramatic society. Adrienne played the leading role in "Lilliom," and Patricia Hagan was a member of the cast.

The opening ceremony of Winter Carnival was the crowning of the king and queen. Marilyn Stewart was a member of the Queen's Court.

The pledges recently entertained the freshman girls at an informal bridge.

The chapter entertained several professors and foreign students at dinner on Wednesday evenings and had exchange dinners with A T Ω , $\Phi \Sigma K$, $\Delta T \Delta$, and A X A.

Scholarship improvement was emphasized last fall. A new scholarship committee met weekly to review the dates, marks, and cuts of each active and pledge. Recommendations for improvement were made to certain girls and strict study hours were enforced. Although the chapter average has not yet been computed, the chapter believes its efforts will be rewarded.

New York Δ was pleased to affiliate and welcome into our chapter Margaret Saecker, a Pi Phi transfer from Wisconsin I, Barbara Kurtz graduated in February.

Formal rushing began on February 12 and ended on February 28. The first two days open houses were given by all women's fraternities. The first period parties were coffee hours in the evening. New York Δ 's three second period parties were informal game parties. The theme was Pi Phi Vanity. The games played were definitely in the feminine mood—the rushees had their portraits painted, they created hair styles out of yarn on paper bag dolls, and enjoyed a fast relay race wrapping pretty gift packages. The entertainment of the evening traced the growth of a little girl to a glamorous Pi Phi debutante. The two final parties were the most elaborate. The rushees were impressed when ushered into Pi Phi Heaven, complete with angels wearing wings and halos. Especial praise goes to Barbara Samson, Rush Captain, who did a wonderful job.

The members of Ontario A look back on a very busy and happy winter. Early in January, they challenged the ΔI 's to an ice hockey match—no previous team practice allowed. Spectators who lined the rink cheered incessantly as the girls fought for the precious black puck, falling, skidding, and having a wonderful time. The victorious Pi Phi entertained the vanquished but undaunted team afterwards, and all thawed out over cups of hot cocoa. Plans for a return match next winter are under way.

A few weeks after this, the athletic Ontario A's embarked on a ski-less ski week-end—ski-less because of the unseasonable May-like weather. Sixteen girls retired to Ann Burton's farm outside the city, where Ann was hostess for three days. Bridge, hikes, and just plain relaxing with good friends made it a memorable time for all concerned.

But Ontario A's are not entirely athletic. On the social side of life, mention must be made of the annual Panhellenic dance, run by Janet Lewis, which netted twelve hundred dollars for the Panhellenic Scholarship Fund. It was a wonderful evening, and an excellent opportunity to meet girls from all the fraternities on the campus. Then on March 4, the chapter held its own formal. Two coffee parties first, and the friendly atmosphere that pervaded everywhere, plus the work put into the decorations by Mary Haldenby, helped to make it a huge success. Of a less formal kind was the party which the $\Delta \Phi \Sigma$ at which Pi Phi talent was shown in such classics as "Casey at the Bat" (with variations), and several musical skits. This was to provide practice for the girl who will be in charge of rushing next year.

This year the annual "Frances Shenstone Award" for fraternity service goes to Dorothy Taylor. This is a chapter award given in remembrance of Frances Shenstone of Ontario A who contributed greatly to Pi Phi during her undergraduate years. Dorothy was pledge-trainer this year, a delegate to Convention last spring, and during her four years at college has been a bulwark in the chapter. Another graduating active, Mary Alice Burton, has been given an award by the Woman's Undergraduate Association for excellence in all college activities.

Alpha Province West has recently changed presidents, and it was with great pleasure that Ontario A welcomed Mrs. Slifer on her first provincial visit. As a point of interest, Mrs. Slifer showed the girls a picture of the young French boy whom the province is helping to support. Unfortunately her visit could be only two days, but during that time everyone became acquainted with Mrs. Slifer, and all wish her success in her new office.

Individual members of the chapter have been busy in various campus activities during the term. Susie Davidson, the peppy music maestro, wrote the scores for a varsity radio show in which Valerie Carson and Margaret Fleming took part. As vice-president of I.S.S. here, Nancy LeSueur was instrumental in organizing and conducting a campaign for funds for the student relief work of I.S.S. Joan Fletcher has been elected president of the Medical Woman's Athletic Association; Mary-Claire Thomas played on the winning varsity inter-collegiate basketball team.

Now, however, the strenuous activities are coming to an end, and Ontario A's are settling down to sincere, hard work for the dreaded spring exams.

The annual Sadie Hawkins Dance, sponsored by the Panhellenic Council, was held on March 10 at the University. The students attended in "hard-times" dress, Anne Kennedy was in charge of the dance and was largely responsible for its success.

The women's swimming team presented a water pageant entitled, "Tales from the Vienna Woods," on March 23, 24, 25. Among the girls taking part were Daphne Fisher, Beverly Brough, Jane Hicks, Ruth Moffat, Joan Duffield, Betty Boyle, and Janet McKillop.

The chapter celebrated Founders' Day this year with the Ontario A's and the Buffalo Alumnae Club. A dinner was held in Hamilton on March 28. The program was capably organized by Barbara Willett and Jo-Anne Beger. A sing-song contest was held between the A's and B's with the alumnae acting as judges.

The chapter has been entertaining the men's fraternities recently. One fraternity is invited over after each meeting. The members and their guests play bridge and hold a sing-song. These social evenings have been greatly enjoyed.

PENNSYLVANIA BETA—BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

Chartered, 1875

The first semester ended with a terrific blow as finals descended upon the school. With many of the students having two or three finals crammed into one day, Lewisburg became as quiet as a churchyard. Final grades have recently been posted, listing good news for some and bad news for others.

Preceding finals the Bucknell humor magazine, The Squid, was issued. In it was a calendar with pictures of twelve co-eds representing the different months. The pictures of Mary El-Banta, Ann Cassell, Louise Fowle, and Betty Hill appeared in the calendar. Genevieve Fowle has been chosen Who's Who in American Colleges.

One week after the beginning of the new semester the alumnae of Pennsylvania B gave a cooky-shine in Hunt Rec Room for the actives and pledges. White sheets were laid the full length of the floor with a center decoration of evergreens spelling out Pi Beta Phi. A delicious fruit salad, arrow cookies, and coffee were served. The entertainment consisted of announcements and the singing of Pi Phi songs.

"Religion in Life Week" has recently inspired many Bucknellians. The week was crowded with interesting speeches, bull sessions, and conferences. Classes were shortened in order to enable every student to hear the speakers. Dr. Finley Keech, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fall River, Connecticut, conducted a bull session in the Pi Phi suite on the problems of marriage.

The actives have held several "cozies" with the pledges. K Δ entertained the chapter at a "cozy" held in Hunt Rec Room. Refreshments and singing lasted until the small hours of the morning.

The Bucknell Women's Athletic Association recently competed with several schools at Pennsylvania State College at a "play day." Out of five events, the Bucknell girls received four first honors and one second honor. Carol Van Alen, Doris Wellenkamp, and Marianne Colville participated in this event.

At present the chapter is concentrating on the M Φ E song contest in which Pennsylvania B has entered a trio, the members of which are Carolyn Kaies, Jacqueline Thompson, and Janet Woods.

For the past month, Pennsylvania Γ has been busy working on several projects. All the actives and pledges have been gathering several times a week for song practice in order to make a good showing in the song fest to be held during Panhellenic Weekend in April.

On February 19, a rummage sale was held to raise money for the chapter's adopted war orphan. In addition to being quite successful financially, the girls agreed that it gave them some valuable experience.

Religion in Life Week, February 13 to 20, was sponsored by the college to help students attain a practical, workable religion and philosophy of life. The Reverend Bert Helm was the principal speaker for the entire program, and struck the keynote when he offered his "Formula for Living." There were daily chapel programs, and nightly discussion group on specific topics of religion in life.

The annual Settlement School dance was held on March 26 at the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ house. This year it was a "Melody Masquerade," with the guests dressed as song titles.

Lois Jane Barnard was elected queen of the Midwinter Ball and Mary Ellen Dykstra was in the court. Also, five Pennsylvania Γ 's were chosen as Campus Beauties for the Microcosm, the college yearbook. Ruth Bair and Bernice Somers were tapped by Wheel and Chain, senior women's honorary fraternity.

The actives were especially proud of the splendid record achieved by the pledges on their pledge examination. All seventeen of the girls had a final average of 99 percent.

Pledge Day, February 17, 1949

INITIATED, February 18, 1949: Ann Boyd, Tacoma, Wash.; Patricia Dineen, Suzanne Miller, Columbus; Patricia Faris, Miriam Hudson, Suzanne Lattin, Toledo; Marilyn Fox, Nancy Smith, Akron; Ann Hammerle, Patricia Locke, Hamilton; Joan Herrold, Lancaster; Gloria Kyle, Gary, Ind.; Deborah Linn, Cleveland; Mary Schmidt, Cincinnati; Beverly Smith, Middletown; Marjorie Young, Mt. Sterling; Joan Vance, Athens.

On January 20 the actives entertained the pledge class with a party and the Pi Beta Phi House became a haunted house. The pledges were led through the basement which was darkened and decorated to represent a fun house. Up stairs refreshments were served and Joan Erdmann conducted games for the entire group. The evening's activities were enjoyed by everyone.

The day following Initiation, a banquet was held at the Athens Country Club in honor of the initiates who surprised the chapter with an original song about Pi Beta Phi. Congratulations were extended to Anne Routsong for arranging such an excellent banquet.

Ohio I of $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ sponsored an "all-campus" dance on February 26 with music by Sonny Dunham and his orchestra. The proceeds went into a fund for Ohio University's proposed Student Union Building. This building, estimated to cost \$2,000,000, will house the recreational facilities so badly needed due to Ohio University's increased enrollment.

On February 27, Ohio A invited the A Σ Δ 's over for coffee and bridge. At this time, Cathy Brown presented them with the trophy which had been in the possession of Pi Beta Phi during the preceding semester due to a 0-0 score in the annual I B Φ A Σ Δ Cancer Fund football game held last October.

Anne Routsong was chairman of this year's Prep Follies, an annual production under the sponsorship of Y.W.C.A. and presented by the pledges of all the women's fraternities on campus. Jane Hamilton, Joan Vance, and Marjorie Young took part in one of the main features.

The chapter is making plans for its spring formal dinner-dance to be held May 22 at the Athens Country Club. The theme will be "The Blue Room."

Ohio A has adopted a Greek War Refugee through the "Save the Children Federation" and one active member writes to her each month.

Mary Longenecker placed second in the State Oratory Contest held at Baldwin Wallace College on February 18.

The active members were surprised by the new initiates on March 10 when they converted the Pi Beta Phi House into a circus. They cleverly decorated the first floor to represent side shows and circus games were played by everyone. The refreshments were peanuts and cotton candy.

The Campus Chest campaign dominated activities at Ohio State during the Winter Quarter. Ohio B made the opening contribution among sororities with a 100% pledge from its membership. In addition, both actives and pledges assisted in the campaign as solicitors.

St. Valentine's Day found the pledges entertaining their Big Sisters at dinner at the chapter house. Each Big Sister was presented with a Pi Phi bracelet.

February 24, the Student Senate elected Nancy Ann Krieg executive secretary of the National Student Association Committee. In the March 2 Women's Self Government elections, Janet Monahan was elected junior town representative to the W.S.G.A. Board. Joan Lee Murar was elected to membership on the Arts College Council. Diane Gosner and Sue Rector were appointed as sophomore secretaries in the W.S.G.A. Office, while Diane Gosner, Sue Rector, Barbara Guy, Jo Nida, and Mollie McCurdy were initiated into A Λ Δ .

The Pi Phi House became the "House of Queens" when, in one week, Gretchen Gebhart, was chosen Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Ginny Brush was Makio Queen, and Sally Morris, Pledge Prom Princess.

"Greek Week" was held from February 26 to March 5. Included in its activities were discussions on the problems confronting fraternities and sororities, a dinner at which Dr. Roy A. Burkhardt of the First Community Church of Columbus was guest speaker, and a dance for all members of fraternities and sororities. Not a "back patting" time of the year, "Greek Week" placed main emphasis on constructive criticism.

*OHIO ZETA—MIAMI UNIVERSITY

Pledge Day, February 14, 1949

INITIATED, March 6, 1949: Joyce Hamilton, Barberton. The spring semester of 1949 was the scene of many new firsts and the revival of several traditions for Pi Beta Phi and the Miami campus.

Revived for the first time since before the war was the O Δ K carnival with sideshows, games and feminine barkers provided by sorority booths. "Dunk a Pi Phi" spelled the chilly fate of several Ohio Zetas whose perch on a swing suspended over a tank of water was suddenly disrupted by any expert throw at a target near by.

Members of Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma planned and enjoyed a Mardi Gras dance. Colorful costumes, decorations and masks as favors carried out the theme.

The S-FC passed a recommendation that each student be assessed $5.00 per semester for the future Student Union. A benefit concert was given by three local bands and the Ohio State Jazz forum, the proceeds of which went into the Student Union fund. Another contribution was made possible by the Pi Beta Phi track meet. All women's fraternities entered contestants in different events such as the bicycle relay, leap frog race, and climbing through high hurdles. Judges of the meet were varsity stars and coaches.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and the three university choirs combined in a performance for one of the artist series. Rise Stevens, mezzo-soprano, gave a perfect finish to the season's programs.

Carolyn Edwards, vice president of Y.W.C.A. represented the campus at the Y.W.C.A. national convention in San Francisco. New treasurer of Women's League is Carolyn Freed. House chairmen elected for two women's dormitories for next year were Marjorie Wagner and Mary Lou Henry. Initiated into A K Δ, national sociology honorary, were Ellen Dennison and Anne Clark.

Two new buildings, estimated to cost $2,500,000, are being constructed on the campus. One of these will be the biology building, while the other will provide classrooms for such subjects as English, business, education, French, Spanish and German.

On January 8, West Virginia A celebrated Chapter Loyalty Day by holding a cooky-shine at the chapter house. Two alumnae from the Morgantown Alumnae Club spoke on the significance of the occasion, and Eleanor Carson of the active chapter gave a brief talk. Fraternity songs were sung, and everyone present felt closer to the real meaning of Pi Beta Phi.

February 6-12 was designated as "Life Week" on the campus of West Virginia University. It was so named by taking the first letter from each word of the phrase, "Living in faith emphasis." This is the third year that such a program has been offered. During this week, leaders from the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths lectured and lead discussions on various aspects of religion. "Life Week" has been so successful that it is now a regular part of the University calendar.

Two national fraternities, A Φ Δ and A Γ P, have recently established chapters at West Virginia University.

Late in February, the students voted against accepting a new constitution which had been drawn up by the Student Council.

February 13-16, West Virginia A held Courtesy Week. On February 21, official spring rushing started.

Martha Ezell was chosen as a ROTC sponsor, and Sharon Scholl and Mary Lou Hart were initiated into Le ρ Circle Franciscans, French honorary.

Second term is a time of elections at Goucher College and the Maryland A are proud of newly elected officers such as: Barbara Westman, president of the Students' Organization; Barbara McClave, president of the Athletic Association; Ann Shannon, vice president of the Athletic Association; Joan Clouser, Chairman of Junior Sisters; and Nancy MacNaughton and Carol Arndt, presidents of their respective dormitories. The names of a number of other Pi Phis now appear on the voting slates for class offices. In addition to these big elections on campus, Goucher girls have also elected their representatives to May Court. Connie Fields will represent Maryland A on the court.

The entire chapter is interested in doing some kind of social work, and as a result arrangements have been made with the Baltimore Home for the Incurables for two Maryland A's a week to offer their services.

Maryland A has had a socially busy term. The Baltimore alumnae were hostesses at a delicious buffet supper followed by bridge. Shortly after this the pledges gave a dessert-bridge party for the actives. The rooms were appropriately decorated with crepe paper, and colorful hearts, clubs, spades, and diamonds adorned the walls. The pledges all enjoyed the Panhellenic tea given for them at the close of the second term. During third term, Maryland A will hold a Pi Phi night twice a month to which a speaker (Pi Phi alumnae who have had interesting experiences) will be invited. April 8 is the date of the Panhellenic dance, and this year each of the five sororities on campus will nominate one girl to enter the contest for the title of Queen of the dance. Jill Mock is the chapter nominee. Also scheduled for third term are the annual Founder's Day banquet, a Pi Phi picnic, and a house party at Ocean City, New Jersey, sometime in June.

There was a special "get-together" of the senior pledges and their mothers at a midnight "tacky" party and an open house was given in their honor on March 11.

The chapter enjoyed a visit from Mrs. Lloyd Sipherd who was on campus for the "Pan-Hel Workshop." The purpose of the "Pan-Hel Workshop" is to bring together representatives from national sorority chapters in the state of Maryland and surrounding areas for a discussion of sorority issues. A national officer of each sorority represented was present and, also, Mrs. Rasmussen, National Representative of Panhellenic Council to the U. N.

Initiation was held at the Burlington Hotel. After the ceremony the actives, initiates and alumnae had a formal banquet at which the new officers were installed and awards were given. Marjorie Johnson was named Outstanding Initiate and the Freshman Honor Student was Joanne Hyde. The scholarship pin, given to the active who has made the most scholastic progress in the past semester, went to Adeline Andrews. Everyone felt that making an extra special occasion of this most important event helped to draw the chapter closer together.

February rushing was informal this year. Coke dates and lunches in the rooms substituted for theme parties generally given during rushing.

The first social event of the spring term was a Sunday afternoon exchange party with ΣX Fraternity. The Inter-Fraternity Prom, The Panhellenic Prom and various functions given by the different fraternities were also on the calendar. Pi Beta Phi's participated in the Panhellenic Sing, the Modern Dance Concert and Student Council Election campaigns.

North Carolina A is pleased and excited over the recent purchase of its house. Construction work is underway which will add a housemother's room and bath and a new three-girl room and bath. The only sorority on campus to own a house, chapter enthusiasm for fixing it up is high.

A two-day coed Student Government Forum was held February 25-26. The idea originated in the Coed Senate. Representatives from eleven colleges and universities were present, and questions of campus government, student organizations and other problems were discussed. Dr. Wood, former president of Stephens and guest speaker, addressed the group. Katherine Royall and Sally Woodhull conducted two of the six workshop groups. Katherine led the orientation and officer training discussion while Sally led the extracurricular activities discussion.

The North Carolina Athletic Federation of College Women met February 18-19 at the University. As the University was selected to be president college this year, Randy Hudson, as President of the Women's Athletic Association, made advance arrangements and presided at the conference.

Va.; Mimi Leffler, Miami, Fla.; Patricia Lester, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Ann Lundberg, Birmingham, Mich.; Mary Margaret Marsh, Swarthmore, Pa.; Donna Perkins, Winston-Salem; Pat Rose, Allenton, Pa.; Marilyn Stokes, Canton, N. Y.; Emily Sullivan, Anderson, S. C.; Ann Taylor, Maitland, W. Va.

Initiation, on March 12, was beautiful and impressive. It was followed by an informal cooky-shine. On Sunday March 13, the entire chapter attended the Duke Chapel services and then journeyed to the Hope Valley Country Club for the initiation banquet. The banquet was highlighted by original songs which the new initiates had written just for the occasion, by the giving of various toasts, by opening gifts given to each initiate by her Big Sister and silly gifts given by the chapter as a whole. Many alumnae were present to welcome the initiates. The banquet was closed by the loving cup ceremony.

The pledges who were not initiated are contributing greatly to the chapter by making Pi Beta Phi booklets and by collecting old and new songs to be bound for use in rushing next year. The chapter photograph album is also being assembled for use next year. This is to be an informal album composed of enlarged snapshots of each member.

Another new idea is used at informal meetings. During roll call each girl must answer with the name of a Pi Beta Phi chapter, no name may be repeated. This is helping everyone to keep the Chapter Roll fresh in mind.

The chapter is looking forward to its visit from Mrs. Sipherd, the National Director of Rushing and Pledge Training.

All North Carolina B's had great fun at the A T U house-warming, which was a very informal and gay affair given to celebrate the re-decoration of their chapter rooms. The chapter plans to hold several open houses this spring for the $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, $\Sigma \Lambda E$, and ΣX . Founders' Day was celebrated with the North Carolina A's at Chapel Hill.

Upon returning to college this semester the chapter was delighted to welcome Nadine Smith, a transfer student from Kansas B. Nadine is a senior. Also upon returning, the members were happy to learn that Dickerson Gymnasium, the first woman's gym in Michigan, had been converted into a temporary Union. Pledge Day, February 25, 1949

The Pi Phi House at 836 Tappan finally settled back to normal after a hurried up rushing period. Michigan B's are all so very pleased with the pledge class that it will probably be quite some time before the actives are through talking about how wonderful they are.

Rushing is now concentrated into two weeks, instead of four, making a much lighter and more agreeable schedule. Another improvement of rushing which is going into effect next year is a counselling program whereby a sorority may have more contact with a rushee if questions or problems arise. It also will give the rushee a chance to find out more about a house in which she is particularly interested.

Michigan B parties this year included three opening teas which all rushees were required to attend, three sets of parties and final desserts. The teas went along very smoothly until the last evening when one of the fraternity pledges came dressed as a demure young lady wearing quite a convincing outfit of platform heeled pumps, corduroy hooded coat and a blond wig. "She" was one of the most nervous rushees that came through. On the second set of parties the chapter had the misfortune to have an unequal distribution of guests. One evening there were seventy-six rushees with fifty actives rushing them—it is referred to now as "that fiasco of the '49 rushing season." A great deal of the evening was spent playing games and singing college songs. It was not the most orthodox method of rushing but it did keep the guests occupied. When it was over Michigan B's feared the very worst, yet it came out very well as the rushees seem to have enjoyed the informality of the party.

Last fall seems like such a very long time ago, but in the last letter the football team and game was not mentioned. The chapter had an eleven man touch football team, and usually practiced every afternoon from 5:00 'til 6:00. The two coaches were very patient and it happened that one of them was on the varsity team. As a result the girls got some very helpful information concerning various intricate plays. The game was played against the Tri-Delts one cold November afternoon and there were a good many spectators there who were mighty surprised when "Golden Toe" Ellen Van Wagoner kicked over the end zone on the kick off. The day ended happily with the score of 13-0 in favor of the Pi Phi Eleven.

After the semester vacation came J-Hop, the biggest event of the year on campus, headed by Joyce Atchison. The weekend consisted of winter sports activities with contests in skiing, skating, and tobogganing. There were dances on Friday and Saturday nights with Charlie Spivak and Eliot Lawrence providing the music.

Rehearsals for Junior Girls Play began with the new semester. It was an original play written, directed, staged and acted by the girls of the junior class. Ginnie Campbell, who was in charge of the entire production, had all the Michigan B's out for it doing anything from dance routines to making Indian costumes. The theme of the play was a take off on the world as it would be if completely dominated by women and pertained particularly to this campus.

At Panhellenic Recognition Night Michigan B was awarded third place for campus activities. Joyce Atchison and Ellen Van Wagoner distinguished themselves, and the house, by capturing third place honors for the junior and sophomore classes, respectively. Eileen Hickey was tapped for Scroll, a senior honor society for affiliated women.

MICHIGAN GAMMA—MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Chartered, February 17, 1945
Pledge Day, January 20, 1949

INITIATED, February 20, 1949: Elizabeth Schmidt, Hillsdale.

Michigan Γ's are eagerly looking forward to next fall when they will move into the lovely Colonial type house which was purchased for them by the Lansing-East Lansing Alumnae Committees. The excitement among the active and alumnae is indescribable for everyone has worked long and hard toward this goal.

At the end of the formal rushing season, Winter Term, the Chapter acquired seventeen pledges, and plans are now being made for their initiation in May. There have been two active-pledge slumber parties since pledging, and although the girls missed their beauty sleep, everyone had a great time.

The annual Sorority Sing was held in May with sixteen sororities participating. Each group sang a sorority song and another piece of their own choice. The chapter chose the "Pi Phi Dream Song" which was composed by Mickey MacMicken and Doris Woodward, two members of Michigan Γ. Parents' Day was also held during this weekend.

The first annual State Day in the history of Michigan Pi Phi Chapters was celebrated here at East Lansing, April 23, in honor of Founders' Day. The other Michigan active chapters from the University of Michigan and Hillsdale College, along with alumnae from all over the state, attended the festivities. A luncheon was held in the new Union building and tea was served in the chapter house afterwards.

Elections were held at the end of Winter Term with Mary Gravius now wielding the gavel. Senior Farwell in June is looked forward to with the Loving Cup ceremony and the traditional will and "crystal ball" skits prepared by the seniors and juniors.

The chapter was well represented in the campus activities winter and spring terms. Diane Young and Mary Gravius became members of T E, the Science and Arts honorary, and Gloria Cronwell had one of the leads in the Dionysian Show, the annual musical comedy written and produced by M. S. C. students. Pat Bruenner had a part in the chorus. Lorraine Anderson and her partner were winners of the All College Doubles Tournament in badminton, and Bark Stoerkel and Pat Gilpin were elected president and treasurer, respectively, of their dorms—Yakely and Landon Halls.

The Spinster Spin, presented in April by the Spartan Women's League, was enjoyed by many Staters and the Michigan Γ's were no exception. With Tex Beneke's band and six Pi Phis working on committees, what dance wouldn't be a success? Another big social event was the Mardi Gras, with a king and queen chosen by popular vote of the students. This dance was sponsored by members of all the classes, and Michigan Γ had many girls proving their "work-ability."

The Water Carnival, the final campus function of the school year, is to be held June 2-4 with this year's theme portraying, "It's A Great Day." Thirty-five campus groups will be participating in the float procession down the Red Cedar River. Cups are awarded for the outstanding floats and Michigan Γ's are working fast and furiously to try to capture another honor for the new house.

PLEGGED: Helene Bogden, Dearborn; Patricia Charnatz, Audrey La France, Royal Oak; Clara Gordon, Birmingham; Marjorie Stoerkel, Grosse Pointe; Barbara Wall, Detroit; Patricia Bruenner, Grand Rapids; Patty Jo Gillard, Alpena; Ann Loomis, Fenton; Marilyn Montgomery, Battle Creek; Barbara Ott, Adrian; Marian Ball, Washington, D.C.; Nancy Hagen, Park Ridge, Ill.; Midge Rieger, Western Springs, Ill.; Gerry Hansen, Toledo, Ohio; Mary Ellen Mack, Schenectady, N.Y.; Nancy Miller, Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y.

With spring just around the corner, Indiana Γ 's were very busy rehearsing for Geneva Stunts, an annual affair sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Pi Phi was one of three sororities chosen to participate this year. Practice for the Spring Sing also occupied a large part of the time.

The Indianapolis Alumnae Club graciously entertained the active chapter with a buffet supper at the house, February 9.

A large group of Butler students, including twenty-nine Indiana Γ 's, traveled by bus to Cincinnati University, February 23, for the Butler-Cincinnati basketball game. Even though Butler lost the game by a narrow margin, everyone had a wonderful time.

February 25 was a big day for Indiana Γ 's when Char Day was elected to reign over the annual Freshman Rose Dance, one of the largest of the year. She defeated the independent candidate by a sizeable majority. This was the eighteenth out of twenty times that a Pi Phi has won the queenship.

With the beginning of a new semester there was increased interest in campus and social activities. Jo Ann Givens was chosen queen of the Gold-diggers' Ball, February 11. Mary Lee Hickman was appointed assistant advertising manager of The DePauw, and Barbara Brasmer was elected exchange editor.

The chapter entertained thirty men at a Pi Beta Phi son-brother-sweetheart banquet on February 23.

For their yearly project to raise money for Indiana E's building fund, the pledges had a White Elephant Sale at the house.

March 5 was the date of the second annual Monmouth Duo. Indiana E and the DePauw chapter of K K Γ are establishing the tradition of holding their spring formal together. It has proved to be an excellent means of furthering inter-sorority relations.

The Panhellenic Council decided to abolish spring rush this year. A vote taken in all of the sorority houses indicated that the majority felt the spring calendar was already overcrowded with social activities; therefore, it would be impossible for nine houses to entertain on specified weekends as they had done in previous years. However, Indiana E began its rushing season by entertaining a group of high school seniors during scholarship weekend in April.

Indiana E enjoyed the annual Pi Beta Phi State Day held in Indianapolis in April.

Vanderbilt University is again maintaining the high scholastic record that has been part of its tradition by acquiring a freshman class of unusual ability and promise. Tennessee B led in this most important competition, for the freshman pledge class secured the highest scholastic average of any women's fraternity pledge class on the campus and was awarded the A O II Scholarship Cup.

Not only has Vanderbilt advanced in the academic field but many physical improvements have been made on the campus. The long awaited parking areas have been completed, new driveways have been opened, and the finishing of the new men's dormitory is looked forward to in the near future.

The social side of college life has also been promoted. The World Student Service Fund Drive was ample excuse for a variety of entertainments to raise money for the cause. Faculty stunt night, the faculty basketball game, a carnival, and a dance were all features of the W.S.S.F. program and contributed greatly to making the drive a success.

Tennessee B has also held a number of drives during recent months to raise Fraternity funds. The sale of perfume brought a profit of $50, and a rummage sale sponsored by the pledge class netted $70. The combined sums are being used to purchase a sofa for the living room of the chapter house.

During the winter quarter, campus recognition has come to many members of Pi Beta Phi who took active parts in the Coed Ball and Junior Prom. In basketball, the chapter won the consolation tournament and was awarded an engraved cup. The University Theater claimed some of the chapter's talented members; Emily Manchester, Sperry Knox, and Elizabeth Nixon have been in a number of productions this season. One of the outstanding honors of the year was given to Betty Ruble when she was elected to represent all the women of the student body on the governing board of the Student Union. Helen Bircher, Sperry Knox, Virginia Young, and Ann Grimes rated pictures in the beauty section of the Masquerader, the school magazine.

The Initiation banquet was impressive and enjoyable as the serious and gay sides of fraternity life were harmoniously combined. The initiates entertained a large group of actives and alumnae by singing original Pi Beta Phi songs which displayed both talent and originality. Maryly Van Leer was awarded the Best Pledge award for outstanding contribution to the Fraternity. All in all the Initiation banquet was, in spite of the snow storm, one of the highlights of the year.

As a young chapter, Tennessee Γ is just beginning to inaugurate customs which will become traditions with the chapter. One of these is an annual "Beaux and Arrows" formal, the first of which was presented February 11, in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium. With Valentine's Day so close, many hearts were incorporated into the decorations. The door-way one was framed by an enormous heart, and the balcony was adorned with a galaxy of hearts bearing each date's name and pierced by golden arrows. A huge replica of the fraternity badge, complete with eight pearls and a twelve-link chain, hung across the stage. Favours and white carnation boutonnières were given to the dates. Following the dance a breakfast was held, in a local restaurant, at which the members serenaded their guests with Pi Beta Phi songs.

The "Sharpshooters' Club," an elite society of Tennessee Γ s who have aimed their arrows well and pierced a fraternity pin, has been organized. The club entertained the whole chapter with a date party March 5. The entertainment included dancing, refreshments, singing sweetheart songs, and a skit giving helpful hints on how the other girls might become eligible for membership into the club.

At their January formal, the $\Delta T \Delta$'s crowned Verette Hannaford Queen and presented her with a large cup. The $\Sigma A E$'s moved out of their house one week-end this winter and entertained all $\Sigma A E$ sisters, daughters, and pinned girls at a dance and house party. Pi Beta Phi was represented by Kate Timberlake.

Peg Ward played one of the leading roles in the U-T Playhouse production of Joshua Logan's, "John Loves Mary." A short story written by Joy Kuykendall was published in the Tennessean, the student literary magazine. Newly initiated members of $\Phi H T$, honorary physical education fraternity, are Joanne Cowell and Mary Ralph Jared.

Molly Benson is serving as a staff of the Tennessean Farmer, a joint publication of the College of Agriculture and the School of Home Economics, and Katherine Ann Everett is sophomore representative on the Home Economics Club Council. Arlynn Pilling was chosen office manager of the Volunteer, the college yearbook.

Of great inspiration to both actives and pledges were the visit of Mrs. George M. Hagee during the latter part of February, and the report brought back from Tennessee A by Polly Murray and Joanne Cowell who attended its initiation ceremonies.

The large enrollment at Stetson this year has made it necessary to expand the campus. A new building housing the School of Business has been erected and plans are now being made to construct a religious center to be used by all denominations.

Winter activities for the student body included Religious Focus Week which brought many of the leading religious workers of the nation to the campus. During the evenings they gave informal talks at the dormitories and fraternity houses. The outstanding social event of the quarter centered around Blue Barron and his Starlight Serenade. Various members of the chapter participated in intramurals, glee club trips, and tumbling team activities.

Mrs. Tyler's visit this year was inspiring to all of the actives and pledges of Florida A. A buffet supper and cooky-shine were given by the actives and alumnae in her honor and the pledges entertained with a luncheon at Rose Cottage. Mrs. Tyler aided the chapter by renewing fraternity spirit and helping the members get a grand start at the beginning of a new quarter.

The new year brought many honors to members of Florida A. Marjorie Marks was tapped for The Honor as a reward for accomplishment in scholarship, leadership, and activities. This year has been a very successful and busy one for Wisconsin B. The initiation banquet was quite a family affair, with many mothers and sisters of new initiates attending. Even the fact that Beloit lost her first game on her home court to Duquesne that evening, could not dampen the spirit of this gala event.

The chapter has been honored with visits from both the president of Eta Province, Miss Dick, before Christmas and Mrs. Carson, Grand Secretary, on the weekend of March 5.

Phyllis Burkhardt was chosen to be Wisconsin B's candidate for the Amy B. Onken Award, because of her attaining such honors as Who's Who, Senior Bench, Φ B K, and the presidency of I.A.W.S.

In addition to Betty Jensen and Elinor Jones playing the leading roles in "Skin of Our Teeth," Jean Parliament was chairman of Publicity and Anne Knoll, Makeup. In "Kind Lady," the March production, Martha Blake had the title role, with Nancy Weiser in charge of properties and Anne Knoll, chairman of publicity. Wisconsin Γ truly has reason to be proud of its old and new actives. This has been one of its best years since the chapter was established on Lawrence campus in 1940. The initiates have particularly fine spirit and have spurred on the efforts of the entire chapter.

In February Wisconsin Γ was honored by the visit of Lucile Douglass Carson, the Grand Secretary. The chapter enjoyed its guest very much and is looking forward to a return visit.

In the scholarship line, Wisconsin Γ holds second place of all the women's fraternities on campus. Kay Elwert, Nancy Beckham, and Nancy Kingsbury were elected to Φ B K. Nancy Kingsbury is on the Board of Editors for the Contributor, the campus literary magazine. Kay is also secretary of the senior class, and was honored by being elected as one of the four Best Loved girls by all the women on campus.

Betty Flom served as co-chairman of the Careers Conference and Joyce Herreid and Nancy Beckham were on the board. Margie Wolf was elected vice-president of the Women's Recreation Association, Mary Simpson, Ann Cox, Joyce Herreid, and Jane McNamara serve on the WRA Board. Nancy Beckham and Sonia Sandeen are new members of Φ E I, the national romance language honor society.

Wisconsin Γ has been working hard along sports lines also. It received a trophy for winning first place in the inter-sports volleyball tournament. Through the efforts and hard work of Joan Leraan and Joan Furstenberg, Pi Beta Phi received first place in winter sports, which included skiing and skating. The chapter came in third in the swimming meet, and tied for first place with A Δ II in folk dancing, which has become a major sport this year.

A winter party was planned to include skating and tobogganing but the weather-man failed to cooperate. The girls and their dates spent the evening dancing and playing darts and ping-pong.

March 14, the Fox River Valley Alumnae Club held a dinner and cooky-shine for the chapter. It was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

On April 9 the chapter sponsored a spring formal with K A Θ at the Valley Inn in Neenah.

After the initiation ceremony, a banquet was held in honor of the new members. Prizes were awarded for improvement in scholarship, and Ruth Muench was named as the model pledge.

This year has been a particularly busy one for everyone on campus. It is especially satisfying, then, that the members of Wisconsin Γ have shown such a fine spirit of cooperation and have through their efforts really succeeded in making this not only one of the finest but one of the chapter's most enjoyable years.

The proceeds from the dinner are used to aid in the support of Benny, the little Dutch boy that Minnesota A adopted under the Foster Parent's Plan.

Two new gleaming cups were added to Minnesota A's collection during the Sno Week activities. Marlys Morrill organized the chapter into a button selling brigade which covered the campus and won first place in the contest. Joyce Levesee plowed her way to victory in the annual snow shoe race.

Ski pants and heavy jackets were the order of the day at the annual snow party held at Glenwood Chalet, February 5. The more hardy Pi Phis spent the afternoon skiing and tobogganing and returned to join the other members of the chapter and their guests for dinner and an evening of dancing.

Pledges were honored at a luncheon given by their fraternity sponsors February 26. The next morning, the pledges woke the sponsors and escorted them, in pajamas, to a "come as you are" breakfast.

Shirley Wall was awarded a scholarship by the National Women's Advertising Club. Joyce Levesee was appointed to the Campus Chest Board. Billie Bea Hull was elected to Chimes, an honorary junior society.

PLEDGED: Marlyn Dysthe, Gerry Johnson, Peggy Lowther, Peggy Paterson, and Margaret Ranssen, Minneapolis; Mary Louise Johnson, Redwood Falls, Minn.

Pledge Day, February 19, 1949

Another semester is on its way but many happy memories of last semester still remain. For example, Iowa A ended last semester with its winter formal. The theme of the dance was "Winters Eve" and the decorations consisted of snowmen and snow covered evergreen trees. Marshmallow coated cake in the form of snowballs was served along with punch. At 10:30 the Snow King was crowned and presented with a huge snow ball. The girls then gathered around and sang the "Sweetheart Song." Thoughts are now turned toward ideas for the chapter's annual Bowery Brawl to be held soon.

Joan Brau played the leading role in "John Loves Mary," one of the special plays presented each year.

Beverly Brown was recently pledged to Qui Est. At present, three of the nine members of Qui Est are Iowa A's.

The second semester informal rush party was held on February 14 in the sorority rooms. The evening was spent playing cards and singing songs.

At 5:00 on the morning of February 19, things were really buzzing. The pledge class went around telling all the actives to rise and shine as it was the morning of the traditional breakfast. The breakfast was held in the sorority rooms and hot chocolate, rolls and bacon were served.

PLEDGED: Mary Desenberg, Norwalk; Marilyn Compton, Bagley; Mary Ann Howell, Winterset; Doris Leiter, Chicago, Ill.; Joan Spickler, Park Ridge, Ill.

INITIATED, February 27, 1949: Betty Borthwick, Marjorie Brown, Joanna Crawford, Jeanne Hardie, Deborah Stoner, Nancy Voigt, Indianola; Luanne Clark, Macedonia; Jean Cople, Clarinda; Anita Garlock, Norwalk; Elyn Groos, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; Helen Knodle, Marshalltown; Florence Sanderson, Osceola; Shirley Scott, San Diego, Calif.; Barbara South, Henderson.

Iowa B began the new year with its annual winter formal held on January 5 at Hotel Kirkwood in Des Moines. The guests dined by candle-light, and topped off the evening with dancing in the special hall set aside for their use.

Being versatile young women, Iowa B's turned from formal attire to shorts and fraternity sweat shirts for the aerial tennis tournament. II B Φ won the "B" team trophy, and Genelle Grant and Janet Walter were chosen for the all-star team.

Marjorie Brown was initiated into M Φ E, national music honor fraternity, and Charlotte Clark was pledged to this organization. Five Iowa B's were candidates for representative women on campus this year. Elyn Groos and Joan Huffstadt were selected as candidates for Beauty Ball Queen to reign over the evening's festivities.

In an effort to further Panhellenic spirit Iowa B suggested starting exchange dinners with other fraternity women's groups on campus, and has since found this to be an unusually fine way of becoming better acquainted with the various groups and their members. Genelle Grant and Joan Slaker attended the Panhellenic Workshop, sponsored by the State University of Iowa at Iowa City the last of February, and returned with various comments and suggestions concerning fraternity and chapter life.

Just prior to Initiation, the pledge class surprised the active chapter with another party complete with ice cream and cookies. They had composed a song, dedicated to their pledge mothers, which characterized their conception of life under the wine and blue. Truly this was an inspiring evening for all, especially the active chapter.

Finally, as is the custom of this chapter, a special dinner was held in honor of the new initiates with II B Φ alumnae as their guests. As the evening drew to a close, chapter members followed a survey of current chapter activities with a fraternity song-fest, concluding with the familiar "Mm-mm, Good night to you," to end a day crammed full of fraternity events.

IOWA GAMMA—IOWA STATE COLLEGE

Highlighting Iowa Γ's winter quarter was Miss Onken's 3-day visit with us during Panhellenic days at Iowa State College. Conferences, workshops and dinners kept her away from the house far too much, but we loved every minute we got to spend with her. The 3-day conference replaced the annual Panhellenic Day, and gave fraternity women more chance to get together, talk over mutual problems and make new friends. A national officer from each fraternity spoke at the banquet the last evening of the conference. Miss Onken's discussion of the history of Panhellenic Council was warmly received by her audience.

Iowa Γ held one of its most successful formal dances winter quarter, and learned in the process that ingenuity can bring far better results than can unlimited spending. We called the dance "Passport to Arrow Island," and the favors were passports in wine and blue. Each passport had a section of "rules," a map of the house, and the girl's picture. Each room of the house was decorated to represent a different part of the world, with refreshments served in the recreation room "equator," which was decorated with crepe paper vines and leaves and hundreds of orchids made of construction paper. Pledge Rosie Iverson of Ames made the mural-like band backdrop, which covered one wall of the dining room and was a great picture of Arrow Island. Off the coast a string of islands made the arrow chain, and "Pledge Island" could be seen in a stormy part of the sea.

Outstanding among our several firesides was the Senior Party late in February. Actives, pledges and their dates arrived at the chapter house to find it transformed into a cattle judging ring—and as they entered, the men were judged and awarded ribbons.

Every member of Iowa Γ took part in intramural sports last quarter. Jo Dorsett captured top honors in ping-pong singles, and the Pi Phi teams took second in both volleyball and basketball. During the winter sports carnival, the Pi Phi-Psi team took first place in the toboggan race.

We were happy to learn that Pi Phi came out tops in scholarship among all Iowa State women fall quarter, and during the winter we worked to keep that place. Actives don't lower grades, say Iowa State psychology instructors. And, keeping up to a new theory with an old practice, Iowa Γ's kept up the activities level, acquiring new positions in Home Economics club, YWCA and publications.

The spring season has been a busy one for Iowa Z.

The week-end of February 24 found the University host to the first All Iowa Panhellenic Conference, with Julie Ferguson as chairman of the conference. Pat Hennessy led the workshop on scholarship, and the chapter entertained delegates from other colleges.

Maxine Erickson, president of Panhellenic, was chosen as chairman of the central judiciary board. Marian O'Connor and Natalie Hennessy participated in planning the inter-collegiate N.S.A. conference held April 24 and 25. Marion Guy is on the U.W.A. Freshman Council, and Marian O'Connor is a member of the Orientation Council.

Jeanne Larson and Connie Hudson are new initiates of Φ Γ N, honorary fraternity for women in commerce. The university's chapter of K. E. women's honorary pharmacy fraternity, has elected Lucretia Gehrke as its delegate to the national convention to be held in Philadelphia this spring.

Three $\Pi \Phi$'s displayed their musical and dramatic talents in university shows this spring. Phyllis Eschbach was in "Kampus Kapers," all university variety show; and Colleen Newell had a lead in "Panacea," the annual musical comedy. Florie Strate was a member of the cast in the University's presentation of "Our Town."

When the intercollegiate forensics meet was held on campus March 4 and 5, Natalie Hennessy was one of the representatives for the University of Iowa. That same week was Religion in Life Week, for which Peace Penningroth was contact chairman.

Under the direction of Florie Strate and Pat Kaufman, the girls have been rehearsing for the University song fest, held the week-end of Mother's Day as part of the University's program for entertaining students' mothers. This year the song fest is under the chairmanship of Joan Frascour.

In addition to extra-curricular activities, Iowa Z's have participated in many social events. They have recently been entertained at exchanges by $\Sigma \chi$, $\Sigma \Lambda E$, $B \Theta \Pi$, $\Pi K \Lambda$, $\Sigma \Phi E$ and ΔX . Plans are now being made for the spring dinner-dance and a Sunday night buffet supper.

Joan Frascour was selected as a Hawkeye beauty, and Phyllis Eschbach was an attendant to the interfraternity queen. Colleen Sibert was chosen as Honorary Cadet Captain of the Pershing Rifles organization. She is also a candidate for Honorary Cadet Brigadier General of the national organization. Sue Stevens, Carmalou Rich, and Jane Doornik were nominated by fraternities as candidates for interfraternity pledge queen. Jane Doornik was elected as an attendant.

The whole chapter enjoys a party given by the pledges for the alumnae on February 10. Mrs. R. Konegi read the history of the chapter on the University campus. The girls who formed $Z \chi \Delta$ seemed far away to the Π Beta Φ is of today until hearing about the first meetings, cooky-shines, parties, long hard work and final obtaining of the charter. A few weeks before this party the pledges had given one for the children of the alumnae living in Vermillion. The Wednesday night before Initiation was "Inspiration Night." All the pledges and actives gathered in the chapter room and sang Π Φ songs and read "The Seven Gifts to Π Beta Φ is," and a poem telling of the friendship and joys in Π Φ . At the Initiation banquet, February 26, Betty Isaak was awarded the diamond recognition pin and a scholarship cup with her name engraved on it for the best average in the pledge class. Betty has a 94.25 average. She will be initiated into $\Lambda \Delta$ soon. Marion Marvick received the pearled recognition months. One was held February 12 when two girls took pin for being the best pledge.

The chapter has had a number of cooky-shines in the last from Nebraska B were visiting. After the Valentine weekend more were held as two girls were pinned and one received an engagement ring that weekend. After chapter meeting on Valentine's Day, the members held a Sweetheart Serenade. Several Π Φ songs and the appropriate fraternity song were sung at each house. A.W.S. sponsored a Valentine tea for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Many Π Beta Φ is served on various committees for it. Girls from the chapter also helped on the W.S.S.F. drive. At a convocation February 24 members of the faculty offered their services in different ways and were auctioned off to the students. All the proceeds went to the drive.

Carlis Anderson was the North Dakota A attendant to the Queen at the University's annual Mardi Gras dance held February 25. Lois Milliken was pledged to $Z \Phi H$. She also has a part in the play, "Comed' of Errors."

The first of the semester seems to be one of the busiest times of the year. Since January, Nebraska B has been well represented in the various contests on the campus. Marilyn Brewster was a finalist for $\Delta T \Delta$ Sweetheart and Dorothy Travis was a finalist for Junior-Senior Prom Queen. Marcia Adams was presented at the annual Coed Follies show as a candidate for Typical Nebraska Coed.

The chapter's skit, "The Big Crash," was also chosen to be presented at the Follies, an all girl show.

The Π Φ booth, entitled "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree," was a huge success at the Penny Carnival. The "Dance of the Horse Flies" and the "Dance of the Blacksmiths" made it one of the most frequented booths at this annual event.

The All University Fund sponsored a campus-wide auction early in this semester. Mortar Boards, Innocents, Beauty Queens, Eligible Bachelors, and Professors were sold. Nebraska B bought three professors for a day's work. The chapter enjoyed a hilarious dinner on February 21 when the professors served the meal and provided the entertainment.

The University of Nebraska held a miniature UNESCO conference in February. Each organized house represented a different country. The chapter was especially fortunate in being able to represent the United States. Everyone was very much interested in the conference, and took an active part in the debate. Joris Devereux was Nebraska B's speaking representative.

The tables were turned when the actives gave a party for the pledges. Everyone with any talent, and some without, took part in the entertainment. The festivities came to an end with a midnight snack of cupcakes and milk.

Nebraska B is very proud of Jane Moyer, who was appointed assistant attorney-general of Nebraska. Jane was president of Nebraska B in 1944, during her senior year at the University of Nebraska.

Mrs. Carl Junge, the province president, paid the chapter a visit in February. The first event in Mrs. Junge's busy two days was a chapter dinner, with valentines decorating the dining room. The next day she had lunch with the house council at the Student Union. Her visit was climaxed by a program in which the chapter presented its Coed Follies skit, and some of its more talented members performed. Mrs. Junge hardly had a free moment between these social engagements and her most helpful conferences with each officer.

*KANSAS ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

Chartered, April 1, 1872

Kansas A started the second semester on Mount Oread under a heavy blanket of snow that made many of the steeper hills impassable. Sledding was quickly adopted as a popular sport and the University hospital was kept busy with broken noses, arms, and even a few legs.

The Miami Triad Dance, an annual event between semesters, was held in the Military Science Building January 31. Charlie Spivak's orchestra played for the dancing. During intermission the assembled guests looked on while sextets from the three fraternities provided some barbershop harmony.

February 3 was the evening for the first in a series of workshops which constituted an A.W.S. Leadership Conference. The topics which were discussed included "Ideals of Leadership," "Personal Qualifications of the Leader," "How to Conduct a Meeting," and "The Role of Women in Leadership." The guest speaker for the conference was Miss Thelma Mills, Directory of Student Affairs for Women at the University of Missouri, who spoke on "Human Relationships in Leadership." Each organized house on the campus elected three representatives to the conference who reviewed the meeting for the other girls. Louise Lambert and Ann Learned were publicity managers for the conference.

In February the chapter held a rummage sale in Lawrence which netted $135. This, combined with a gift from some fathers, puts the fund for a new combination radio-phonograph well on its way.

The Kansas A's have been hostesses at a series of dinners honoring the faculty members. The guests included Chancellor and Mrs. Deane Malott. The series of dinners replaces the old custom of three buffet dinners during the year to which a large number of faculty members were invited. Several fraternities have entertained Kansas A with exchange dinners, tea dances, and dessert parties this semester. Thursday night at the chapter house is guest night, and the girls may invite unaffiliated and sorority friends to dinner.

The last of February saw the campus' attention turned to the finals of the University intramural basketball tournament. The B Θ II's were playing the Φ Γ Δ 's for the championship and the competition was keen. The B Θ II's were victorious in the waning minutes of an exciting game.

February 19 was the date of the annual Pi Beta Phi dinner dance. The theme of the party was "Cupid's Capers," which lent itself easily to decorations. The stairway leading to the dining room was draped with angel's hair upon which were tied silver blue satin bows with wine hearts on the streamers. After a delicious dinner the girls and their dates entered the Crystal Ballroom of the Eldridge Hotel through a quilted wine heart framed with angel's hair, and the evening was spent in dancing.

The last week in February was Religious Emphasis Week at Kansas University. Guest speakers of different denominations were entertained at organized houses; Rev. Father George Towel of St. John's Catholic Church was a dinner guest at the Pi Beta Phi house. Following the dinner there was an informal hour during which Father Towel answered any questions which the girls cared to ask. The chapter further cooperated with the University by opening the house for a religious forum on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Representatives of the outstanding organized activities attended the Student-Faculty Conference held March 5. Problems of the campus and criticisms of the administration were the topics of discussion.

Kansas A observed Founders' Day with a formal dinner in the Kansas Room of the Student Union Building. Chapter awards for scholarship, activities, and fraternity service were presented at the dinner. The newly instituted activities award was presented to the outstanding sophomore. A series of distinguished speakers and personalities have visited Kansas University this semester. Archibald MacLeish and Leland Stowe spoke to the students at all-university convocations. Margaret Webster's production of "Macbeth" was presented, and a series of Humanities lectures attracted large gatherings.

Students of the University presented two outstanding musical productions. Gilbert and Sullivan's "Gondoliers" was a production of the Light Opera Guild of the university. The annual all-school musical "College Daze" was presented the last of April. The show, written, directed, and produced by the students, was heartily applauded by all. Carolyn Campbell wrote many of the lyrics for the show, Margaret Granger served as production manager, and Louise Lambert served on the Advisory Board.

Rita Carl has walked away with many honors in ping pong. She was runner-up in both the University intermural ping pong tournament and the Nebraska Open ping pong tournament. She represented Kansas University at a tournament in Topeka where she won in both the singles and doubles. Lucinda Stevens and Emily Trickett have been elected members of the Quack Club. Joann Ruese was a very able committee chairman for the A.W.S. High School Leadership Day to which outstanding seniors in Kansas high schools are invited. Barbara Hume has been chosen as the new business manager for Kansas Engineer; Peggy Baker is the new assistant advertising manager for the magazine. Marjorie Darby is a member of the Senior Breakfast Committee, and Elinor Frye is a member of the Senior Announcements Committee, both working toward a successful Senior Week.

KANSAS BETA—KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Pledge Day, October 10, 1948

The announcement by the Kansas State College registrar of a new all-time high in the spring enrollment did nothing to boost the morale of students who are very tired of emergency seven o'clock classes and trailer housing. However, Kansas State may now boast of a record 6,500 spring enrollment which is somewhat a compensation.

Starting the new semester out right, Kansas B joined in a whirl of parties, social events, and dances.

Teas were high on the social calendar at 505 Denison. A pledge tea was given early in the semester for the chapter alumnae, later the pledges entertained with a Panhellenic pledge tea, and a house tea was given March 27 for the Kansas State College faculty.

Besides entertaining, members have been busy in college activities. Ann McMillen and Dorothy O'Donnell have won coveted seats in the college a cappella choir. Ann was also selected for Quill Club membership.

Charter members of the newly formed Women's Athletic Association on the campus include: Evelyn Platner, Dorothy O'Donnell, Catherine Merrill, Ann McMillen, Joanne Orr, and Maryellen Phillips.

The first Fine Arts Festival at Kansas State, which presented French art, literature, and music, was attended by more than 1,400 visitors. Included in the all-week program was the presentation of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" by the Kansas State Players. Included in the cast were Catherine Merrill and Shirley King.

A Panhellenic workshop was held in February for officers of all the sororities at Kansas State. Problems common to all the chapters, such as finances, pledge training, and rushing, were discussed.

Constance Armitage was nominated by the engineering students at Kansas State for St. Patricia at their annual St. Pat's Prom. Lois Gillen represented Kansas B in the competition for queen at the annual Interfraternity Pledge Dance.

Climaxing the semester news was the announcement of the acceptance of the Kansas B script for Y-Orpheum. The skit, entitled "In No Time At All," will be presented this spring by the chapter in competition with other sororities of the college.

COLORADO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Chartered, 1884

INITIATED, February 5, 1949: Lucia Boyle, Carol Marianne Crockett, Joan Henderson, Rae Morris, Ann Wadley, Carla Wiebenson, Denver; Elizabeth Moritz, Arvada; Joan Curtis, Joanne Easley, Boulder; Eleanor Smigelow, Raton, N.M.; Nancy Morrow, Houston, Tex.; Diane Dozier, Wichita, Kan.; Suzanne Fishing, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Elizabeth Carpenter, Palo Alto, Calif.; Joan Jefferson, San Diego, Calif.; Beth Wooley, Portacello, Idaho; Ruth Morris, New Brunswick, N.J.; Dorothy Evans, Hinsdale, Ill.; Barbara Ehrat, Gretchen Wiltberger, Evanston, Ill.; Nancy Davis, Washington, D.C.

Initiation was followed by a formal banquet at the chapter house. Short speeches were made by alumnae representing past generations of the chapter including 1888, 1910, 1920, 1946, and by the president of the pledge class. The initiates introduced their pledge song, "I Love The Pin," which was composed by the pledge song leader, Joanne Easley.

The pledges have been very busy this quarter finishing their pledge project of painting the telephone booths in the chapter house. They were hostesses at a Valentine party given for Junior Panhellenic. Large red hearts adorned the recreation room where the group spent the afternoon drinking "cokes," playing games, and getting acquainted.

The talents of Colorado A's were exhibited in the A.W.S. Vaudeville. The skit entitled "Pass That Peace Pipe," demonstrating the chapter version of the '49 Gold Rush, was among the finalists.

For several weeks before the performance the hum of sewing machines and the rhythmic beat of tom-toms blended together throughout the chapter house as the Indian dancers practiced and the seamstresses produced the colorful costumes. Mrs. Shumacher, the chaperon, was one of the best workers.

The outstanding event of winter quarter is the Winter Carnival. The initial performance was a fashion show in which Beth Wooley and Carolyn Allen were models. Mary Alice Cook represented Pi Beta Phi in the queen's court which reigned over the entire weekend. Highlighting the celebration was an ice-hockey game between Colorado and Wyoming. This was followed by an all school dance featuring Duke Ellington and his orchestra. Jan Hilton, Colorado A's newest member of the Colorado ski team, placed third in the ski races at Winter Park, Colo. Eight other members of the chapter participated in the intramural ski relays. Colorado A won enough points to rank third in participation for the entire carnival.

A treasure hunt and hay ride March 5, took the place of a winter formal, as it was decided that variety was needed. A committee of juniors planned this function which topped all the year's parties for fun and suspense.

Social functions have been enjoyed this quarter with the Σ X's, the K Σ 's and the Σ A E's. Dinner was served at the chapter house and was followed by brief entertainment presented by the visiting fraternity. The whole group joined in singing songs and dancing.

During a brief vacation the last of March, most of the members "hit the slopes" to improve their skiing.

Colorado A was very pleased to have Miss Onken visit, early in April.

Student activities at the University of Denver for winter quarter started off with the Panhellenic formal, followed by the Associated Women Students Dance, "The King of Hearts." At this dance the girls escort the men, providing transportation, corsages, and food.

Beverly Tanner was named pledge queen of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Panhellenic council of the university has been sponsoring visits to Fitzsimons general hospital by each sorority. With able accompaniment on the piano by Barbara Scott, the Pi Phi evening was enjoyed by all. The chapter feels this is a very worthwhile activity.

Harriet Hardaway has been elected president of AWS for the coming year.

Colorado B has given two dinners this quarter. The first, a date dinner, was cleverly decorated with pipe cleaner figures sitting on top of world globes. The second dinner was for our most important "dates," our fathers. The theme of the banquet was built around George Washington. Dads add a certain touch to the house especially when singing.

Each sorority on campus is in charge of the entertainment at one school assembly and the "Pi Phi Platter Party" presented our version of various songs.

The cornerstone of the new million dollar classroom building has been laid, proof positive that the university's expansion program is underway.

Colorado B pledge class won the Panhellenic pledge scholarship cup.

Wyoming A's worked as enthusiastically as ever this year, but were busier than usual as a result of the huge snowstorm in January which prevented many students from returning from Christmas vacation on time, thereby shortening the winter quarter considerably.

Taking the spotlight in the year's activities so far was the dance given by the actives in honor of the pledges. The theme of the dance was "Chez Chapeau," and the chapter house was decorated for the event in such a manner as to represent a hat shop. Among the decorations were included many "real" spring hats of various styles, all of which were very gay; and a number of colorful hat boxes and other things which were appropriate for carrying out the theme. Many guests were present, and everyone reported a very nice time.

February found Wyoming A helping to promote interfraternity understanding. Each girl in the chapter invited two friends belonging to other sororities to the chapter house for a "skirt-and-sweater" party, an evening of fun. All of the chapter's talent was "rounded up" to provide entertainment for the party, and refreshments were served. Everybody made many new friends, and, on the whole, this "sorority mixer" proved to be quite successful.

The pledges were honored by the alumnae club with a lovely tea at the beginning of the year, and recently the whole chapter enjoyed a social gathering with the Laramie Mother's Club.

Several exchange dinners and open houses have been enjoyed by the chapter this quarter. The group was recently invited by the Acacias to a very original and lovely "dessert party." Wyoming A has enjoyed having pledges from the various fraternities on the campus as dinner guests on various occasions.

Glenna Sorenson was elected to Mostar Board. Incidentally, Glenna made a very charming cover girl in her ski togs for the February issue of Unquoin, a magazine published by the student body of the University of Wyoming.

Lindy Lou Storey, who was Homecoming Queen this year, is Wyoming A's candidate for the "most popular girl," and is also among those chosen by the chapter to run for "the most beautiful." These contests are sponsored by I Δ E, a National Journalism Honorary, and winners will be announced at their annual Inkslinger's Ball, in March. Dennis Morgan is to be the judge for the most beautiful girl. Three Pi Phis were chosen as candidates for the Miss Wyoming contest. Patricia Caldwell, Carol Lee Nickerson and Barbara Kahn, all of whom are freshmen this year, very adequately fulfill the requirements of "beauty, brains, personality and talent."

Wyoming A's have been very active in sports this year, participating in the basketball, volleyball and baseball tournaments. Several excellent swimmers in the chapter are planning to enter the inter-mural swimming meet to be held in the spring.

Rosemary Schilt recently represented Wyoming as the Φ E Φ Queen at the Utah-Wyoming basketball game held in Utah.

January 3 saw 9,700 students returning from all parts of the globe, after a two weeks' Christmas vacation, arriving in Salt Lake City to register for another quarter which showed the largest enrollment in the history of the University of Utah.

Utah A returned with thoughts of winter quarter Rushing and joyful faces because of their high scholastic rating on the campus, for the previous quarter.

Rush Season at the University of Utah showed changes this year with the addition of preliminary open houses, making rushing fairer for everyone concerned. After a lovely White Tea, two Chinese parties, and an impressive final party when the chapter members wore black dresses, Pledge Day came and Utah A welcomed seventeen lovely girls, whose evident eagerness and ambition will prove beneficial to the chapter.

The Arrow Banquet on January 5, and the cooky-shine on January 7 impressed the pledges. They are yearly events to which the whole chapter looks forward. The presence of forty-two alumnae at the cooky-shine was a very pleasant added attraction.

The pledge class gave a mixed open house for all other sororities and fraternities on March 4, with the theme of a "Children's Party." It proved a great success.

The chapter's first social function of the winter season was a barn dance held at the Forest Dale Golf Club at which all members, in colorful cotton dresses, and their dates participated in the square dances.

Utah A was pleased to have her share of queen material represented on the campus this quarter when Sharlene Breser was chosen as Snow Queen of Salt Lake City and Adele Mays was attendant to the Queen of the Snow Carnival, a yearly event in which Pi Beta Phi also received the lovely gold snow trophy presented to the winner of the ski races, Joanne Johnston, Donna Curtis was attendant to the P Σ M queen.

This year the alumnae club presented the chapter house with a large golden arrow for the front door, and the Mothers Club completely redecorated the dining room.

The March of Dimes contributions were an all-time high on the O. U. campus this year, reaching the mark of a little over four thousand dollars. Last year O. U. was first in the nation to donate. To promote contributions there was a contest between cities, states, and coteries at the organized houses. The "Pi Beta Phi Showboat" brought in two hundred dollars.

Religious Emphasis Week, February 20-24, had the main topic, "What is religion?" Outstanding religious speakers were brought to the campus for convocations, forums, and private interviews. Reverend Sheridan from Oklahoma City came to the chapter house for dinner and a short talk and discussion period.

The girls on the campus got their way for one week during "Now or Never Days." Oklahoma A's entertained their dates with a Sunday evening picnic. "Sooner Scandals," a variety show, was given Friday night. For weeks members and pledges were seen practicing the Charleston, singing "Good News," and learning words to "Mississippi Mud."

Thousands of Vaughn Monroe fans enjoyed an evening of dancing when he and his band played for the Independent Men's Association dance.

Camilla Duncan is Oklahoma A's candidate for freshman queen. Winner of the contest is to be chosen for beauty, and music and dramatic ability. The lucky winner will be crowned at the World Premiere of the Hollywood movie, "Mother Was a Freshman," and will receive prizes from state contributors. Camilla, who not only plays the piano and xylophone but also sings and dances, is majoring in music.

Pi Beta Phi brothers and sons were honored at a banquet at the chapter house on February 22.

Margaret Whitehurst is Oklahoma A's candidate for the Amy B. Onken award. Marietta Sipes was chosen the 1949 Sweetheart of ΣX . Sara Jean Landsaw is co-chairman for the A.W.S. Freshman Orientation program. Beverly Phillips was a candidate for $\Sigma \Phi E$ Sweetheart.

OKLAHOMA BETA—OKLAHOMA A. AND M. COLLEGE

"The Final Fling" was the name applied to Oklahoma B's last social function of the first semester. Members, pledges and dates indulged in an afternoon of dancing, followed by a barbecue, before settling down for exam week and its curtailing responsibilities.

The weekend of February 25 found the house at 923 College literally overflowing with little sisters of active Pi Phi stepping into the roles of their older sisters for a sample of life in Aggieland.

Oklahoma B got off to a rousing start this semester by bringing home from the Varsity Review, annual college production, the first place cup in the music division for its version of a perfume bar. Other honors for the chapter thus far this semester have been the leading role in "Hotel Universe" which went to Ann Lancaster; a position on the Radio Committee, a policy forming group for KVRO, campus radio station, which went to Louemma Breckenridge. The pledge class brought down first place honors in scholarship by ranking higher than all other pledge classes on the campus. The actives came in second to the X U's, dropping from first place for the first time in eight semesters.

From February 28 to March 4, the A & M campus buzzed with outstanding personages from all over the country who were here in cooperation with the University Christian Mission in launching Religious Emphasis Week.

Still following a policy of continued expansion of college building, the ground was broken for the new home economics building on February 12, and plans are now being drawn up for the architecture building which will be started in the near future.

Oklahoma B's are now formulating plans for two weekend rush parties, the annual Heaven Dance, the spring picnic, Mothers' and Dads' Day Picnic, the Senior Breakfast, but most important of all, getting back that scholarship cup.

The student body of the University of Arkansas returned from semester holidays to find a new addition to the campus. Electronic chimes had been installed in the tower of Old Main, sounding at fifteen minute intervals. Centrally located, the chimes are heard all over the campus and plans are being made for their use in brief concerts later in the semester.

Arkansas A had a successful mid-semester rush. A quota of two girls was placed on each house and no programs were allowed during the rush parties.

Vaughn Monroe brought his orchestra to Fayetteville February 26 for the Camel Caravan radio broadcast. After the broadcast there was a concert and dance in the field house. Arkansas A made a gala weekend of it, entertaining many guests and alumnae. On February 26, guests and members got together in the chapter room for an "after-dates" party. The pledges gave a buffet supper on February 27 for the girls and their dates. They presented a short skit with magazine advertisements as the theme. The chapter plans to entertain dates with buffet suppers on the last Sunday in each month for the rest of the semester.

Arkansas A has welcomed Margaret Rice from Missouri B and Madge Westbrook from Texas A to the campus this semester. Madge has been nominated for Law Queen and editor of the Razorback, the school's annual.

Idaho A celebrated Chapter Loyalty Day in a unique and most successful manner this year. A special dinner was held for the husbands of Moscow alumnae. Vocal solos and group singing, following dinner, provided entertainment. The twelve husbands who attended all agreed with the chapter that it should be made an annual affair.

Through their active participation the members have shown keen interest in Spring Term campus activities. Bonnie Graham serves as advertising manager of the Argonaut, the University's bi-weekly newspaper. Ruth Lotspeich was announced as head of the Vandal Community Chest Drive, a combination of all drives sponsored on the Idaho campus. Beverly Brainard was elected treasurer of ΔM , college organization for members of Job's Daughters. Shirley Molen was chosen by Idaho A as its candidate for the "Esquire Girl" contest which is sponsored by the $A T \Omega$ Fraternity. The chapter chose Corinne Schumaker as candidate for queen of Little International. Ann McKay was candidate for the title of L.D.S. Sweetheart. Hell Divers, swimming honorary, announced the tapping of Joanne Paulson and Ann McKay.

Initiation this year was one of the most impressive ceremonies Idaho A has seen. Mrs. C. N. Teed and Mrs. R. D. Raber, members of the Boise Alumnae Club, attended the initiation of their daughters, Connie Teed and Jody Raber. Joyce Freeland, president of Idaho A, presented a diamond jeweled Scholarship Arrow to Naomi Nokes who held a 3.75 average, the highest grade point average of her pledge class. The pin was purchased by Corporation Board and is to be passed on to the initiate having the highest grade point average of her pledge class. Idaho A deeply appreciates the thoughtfulness of the members of Corporation.

With the coming of spring there are many gala social functions. Committees are beginning work on the annual Spring Initiation Dance to be held April 23. A Sweetheart dinner for all girls and fellows pinned, engaged, or going "steady" was held March 13. A dessert bridge for Mrs. George Waith Lee, chapter housemother, was given March 12. A banquet honoring brothers and sons of Pi Beta Phi will be held soon. Tentative plans have been made for a faculty dinner.

Idaho A is very grateful to the Boise Alumnae Club for their Christmas gift of beautiful silverware. It will aid greatly in future entertaining.

University of Washington students are eagerly watching the progress of the many building projects on the campus. Perhaps the most interesting, is the construction of the Student Union Building. INITIATED, March 6, 1949: Gwyneth Brusso, Patricia Hadron, Gene Halbert, Margaret Jensen, Marjorie Ludwig, Shirley Mallander, Marilyn Morgan, Helen Rankin, Beverly Warner, Irene Yelle.

Climaxing the winter activities for the chapter was the annual winter formal, held on February 26 at the chapter house. The beautiful flowers and colored lighting, along with the spirit of the members, made the dance as successful as those of previous years.

Recent events include the faculty dinner to which professors on the campus were invited, and the pledge party, carried out successfully by the pledge class. Decorations followed a Valentine theme.

Ann McGlade was elected secretary of A.W.S. and Marilyn Hahn, regional representative of Y.W.C.A. Marilyn has already begun her job, having attended the Y.W.C.A. Regional Conference in Portland, Oregon. Pauline Danielson was recently elected president of $\Phi \Delta \Delta$, national art honorary. Jerry Newell won the coveted lead in the Junior class production, the Junior Review, and Gwen Barker, besides directing all the dances for the show, was the star dancer.

Another campus production in which several Washington B's took part was the operetta, "Song of Norway." Gwen Barker took one of the leads again with her dancing. Gwyneth Brusso sang, and Joanne Fisher played in the orchestra.

Still retaining a full quota at the end of the first semester, the chapter did not take part in second semester rush.

A new fraternity was organized on the campus Spring semester. Organized as a local with the intent of going national, the men of $\Pi T \Omega$ have thus far had a very successful semester. Shortly after the beginning of the new year the $K \Sigma$'s moved into their new house which provides enough room for comfortable living and varied social functions.

Early in February, Lambda Province President Emily Babcock Draper came for a three day visit. During her stay she occupied the guest room in the new boys' dormitory. On Mrs. Draper's last night in Tacoma, the actives and pledges entertained at a "fancy" potluck. Afterward, with the help of a few Tacoma alumnae, she taught the chapter many clever fraternity songs. For the three days that Mrs. Draper was with Washington Γ , she gave each member, and the chapter as a whole, renewed inspiration.

The biggest social event of the year for Washington Γ came on February 5. All actives and pledges gathered for the annual dinner-dance. Held at the Tacoma Golf and Country Club, this year's dance surpassed all before. There was a delicious ham dinner followed by dancing, even to a conga line; but spontaneous entertainment was the highlight of the evening when two guests, a $K \Sigma$ and a $\Delta K \Phi$, garbed in tux, sculptured a snowlady on the lawn.

Jeanne Williams was elected president of Otlah, senior women's honorary, Jeanne Gudmundson was elected by campus men to reign as queen of the Ski Carnival.

Work on the new field house is still in progress. The student body and the athletic department hope that by next basketball season games can be played there. The basketball team finished second in Evergreen League play this season and will compete in the N.A.I.B. Tournament preliminaries in Yakima.

Something new has been added to the college curriculum this semester in the form of ski classes at Mount Rainier. These are the only classes of this type offered in the northwest and C.P.S. has the rare opportunity of having Shirley and Martin Fopp, internationally famous skiers, as instructors. Every Saturday and Sunday Washington Γ 's, along with other students, boarded the school bus for a day on the slopes. Everyone returned weary but happy, and sometimes with sunburns, even in March.

Doctors Helen and Paul Fossum have taken a leave of absence from the faculty this semester to tour France. Dr. Paul Fossum will gather more material for lectures and Dr. Helen Fossum will further her study of the French language.

PLEGDED: Harriet Haines, Enumclaw; Noreen Knutzen, Union.

Many Oregon A's busied themselves in campus activities at Oregon. Jordis Benke and Beverly Pitman are members of Mortar Board; Marilyn Turner is a member of $\Phi\Theta$, junior women's honorary; and Connie Jackson and Anne Case are members of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary. Anne has also just been elected secretary of the A.W.S., and Helen Caldwell is the new Y.W.C.A. upper-class advisor. Joan Carr is the new vice-president of W.A.A.

Oregon A and K Σ formed a team for the W.A.A. Carnival, a special kind of "mid-way," where campus living organizations competed with each other with side-shows and contests, enticing the crowd by prizes and shouting barkers. Marilyn Thompson was in charge of the Pi Phi booth.

Roberta Tusing was chosen a "Little Captain" for the annual R.O.T.C. Military Ball, and was honorary commander of Company "C." Betty Arnold and Katy Carter kept spirit high for the Oregon "Ducks" at the basketball games with their fine work on the rally squad.

Fall term grades were announced, and Oregon A was proud to learn that the chapter had again topped all living organizations on the campus.

Father's Weekend, an annual event at which fathers are weekend guests, was a great success. There were many functions designed to honor "Dad"; among them were a father-daughter luncheon, basketball games and Sunday dinner at the various living organizations.

The junior class triumphed over the freshman class in their contest for high grades and were, as a result, treated to a steak dinner by the freshmen.

The freshmen, as a surprise at dinner, presented the "girl of the month" bracelet to the new chapter president, Ann Gillenwaters, for her friendliness, cheerfulness, and cooperation.

On Valentine's Day a fireside was held to honor Miss Devereaux, house chaperon, and to show appreciation for her help and guidance.

During International Week, a student from India was Oregon B's dinner guest and speaker. The members of ΔT shared the evening with the chapter. Other functions with fraternities included exchange dinners with ΣN and $\Sigma\Phi E$.

This term, a steak dinner served as recognition for Pi Phi's with honor grades and the girl who had made the greatest improvement in scholarship. Each girl was presented with a wine carnation. Oregon B placed second among all living groups on the campus in scholarship.

Mrs. Mary Drake is again Oregon B chaperone. Mother Drake first came to the house on September 22, 1925, with the intention of finishing out the year, but she stayed with the chapter for nineteen years. It's grand having her back.

The Mortar Board Reversia Ball was looked forward to with anticipation as the girls worked for weeks thinking of clever ideas for corsages. A dinner preceded the annual Ball for the girls and their dates. The major social function of the term was a fireside following a basketball game with Washington State College.

Shirley Allen and Marilyn Melson were elected to the Round Table executive council, and Dona Lee Greiner was chosen to be a member of the Lower Division Council. Karen Kaer was elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the Home Economics Club, and Annetta Deitz is the new treasurer of that organization. The $\Pi\beta\Phi\Delta X\Omega$ second annual dance was held this year at the Oregon Γ house. The theme, "Final Fling," referring to final examinations starting the next week, was carried out by the couples entering through a report card consisting of all "A's" into "A" Heaven.

"Three Little Words" brought Valentine's Day closer to the members and pledges as the theme for the annual Valentine formal dance. The living room, dining room, and solarium were transferred into a huge Valentine with red hearts, bearing the names of each couple present, hung from the white paper ceiling. This dance, given in honor of the spring pledge class, was a big success.

Religious Emphasis Week held the attention and interest of Willamette students from February 15 to 17. During this time ministers from neighboring towns and communities held firesides at each of the eleven living organizations. The purpose of these firesides was to ask and discuss any question about religion that might be present in the minds of the group. This week was climaxed by the presentation of "R.U.R.," a play by Karel Capek, given in the Chapel of Waller Hall.

The chapter was extremely happy over the results of the class elections in February. LuDene Hargrave and Janet Stark are to be treasurer and secretary, respectively, of the sophomore class. With finals over on January 27, California B's left the chapter house for a two week vacation spree. After having a wonderful time skiing, the chapter returned to rushing with enthusiasm. A new system was tried this year. The first function just included invitations to girls with recommendations, this was considered the courtesy date. The next day there was a general open house and then followed the first, second, and third periods as usual. "Pre-sents" was January 19.

During rushing this spring, the K K Γ new house was just being completed. They are to be the chapter's neighbors across the street. They had the opening tea in their living room on orange crates, and their following events were held in the International House. California B invited them to have their rush meetings in the chapter dining room, an offer the K K Γ's were happy to accept.

Again this spring one of the biggest university projects was the World Students Service Fund Drive, April 11 to 20. The members solicited money and served on many committees. Barbara Bell was in charge of the successful Argyle Sock Raffle. Eleanor Penfield was Chairman of Living Group Solicitations.

March 23 was the University Charter Day Celebration. Guest speaker was Sir Alexander, Governor-general of Canada. At the banquet following, Susan Thomas was an honored guest.

Another tradition was followed this year. On March 25 the senior class, Rally Committee, and Glee Club sponsored the All-university Sing. This affair is a competition between living groups. It is held in the old Greek Theater, and all students attend.

Marilyn Tupper was committee head of the Freshman Weekend February 25 and 26. The variety show and dance in the gymnasium were a great success. Caroline Edmonds and Carolyn Huber were participants in the Sophomore Week which included a show, a dance, and stunts.

California B was pleased to have Mrs. Wild, Grand Vice-president, for a visit March 7 to 10. The members enjoyed meeting and talking to her. March 8, women's living groups' chaperons and presidents, university deans, the members' mothers and alumnae met Mrs. Wild at a tea.

On May 6 the active chapter and the Berkeley Junior Alumnae Club sponsored a formal dance. The proceeds from this party were contributed to the loan fund that the junior alumnae are starting. The fund is for the benefit of foreign students in the United States who are in need of financial aid. The Crystal Ball was a great success with many friends of alumnae and active members attending.

This spring festivities also included several exchanges with fraternities. In April California B had a beach party with the Φ K Ψ Fraternity and a picnic with the Φ Δ Θ Fraternity. The chapter was host to the Δ Γ women's fraternity for a dessert and fashion show, and also had an exchange with K A Θ. An all campus dance was held April 2; it was the Intersorority Formal. A large number from California B attended and thoroughly enjoyed the affair.

PLEGDED: Sally Allen, Lafayette; Joyce Angwin, Audrey Eggert, Piedmont; Virginia Dole, Oakland; Connie Snodgrass, San Francisco; Patricia Sumner, San Mateo.

RUSH CHAIRMAN: Martha Helm, Route 3, Box 12, Fresno, California.

CALIFORNIA GAMMA—UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Chartered, July 27, 1917
Pledge Day, February 6, 1949

A party honoring the new pledge class was held on March 11 at the home of Jean Olds.

Mrs. Wild, on her visit March 24-26, gave California Γ an inspirational start for the new semester by conveying a deeper understanding of the size and greatness of the Fraternity. She stressed National projects and scholarship, and asked the chapter to keep up its leadership on campus.

On February 28, the chapter gave its semi-annual scholarship dinner. The guest speaker, Dr. Clare, spoke on women's position on campus with particular emphasis on the integration of scholarship and activities. The members left the dinner with a desire to set higher goals for themselves and to work harder to attain them.

Barbara Kiggins is a new member of Key and Scroll. Pat Quint is on Freshman Council, Freshman Women's Council, and in Troeds. Nancy Ridgeway is on Freshman Council and in Troeds. Carolyn Schiller has a service scholarship to the University and is in Troeds. Betty Cassidy and Joan Hunt are in Troeds and in the YWCA. Diane Gump is a new Phratares pledge, is a Powers model, and has a movie contract. Paula Hinckley was one of the ten finalists in the Σ Φ Epsilon Sweetheart contest.

Pat Cameron, last year's Dream-Girl of Θ X, won the Bates' Fabric contest and was chosen to represent the West in New York this February. She will select the new fabrics which will be seen next year in college dorms, and she will also model for Powers.

The Mothers' Club gave a benefit on March 10, to raise money to present a gift to the house. A fashion show was presented during the course of the afternoon.

The University Panhellenic formal was given in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel on March 19.

The chapter decided this semester to have only luncheon exchanges and tea dances to be held at the house. We felt we could get to know the different fraternity boys more personally in this way.

A formal dance will be given in conjunction with the Junior Alumnae of California Γ on May 7. It will be called the Gamma Spring Formal.

PLEGDED: Jan Ashford, Santa Monica; Katherine Haney, Texas; Patricia Quint, Glendale; Nancy Ridgeway, Diane Gump, Long Beach; Carolyn Schiller, Pasadena; Suzanne Earle, Joan Hunt, Betty Cassidy, Patricia Tinkham, Gloria Wells, Los Angeles.

CALIFORNIA DELTA—UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

Chartered, September, 1927
Pledge Day, February 12, 1949

INITIATED, March 11, 1949: Mandy Beckner, Carol Bird, Genevieve Christopher and Audrey Somers, Los Angeles; Lorraine Stickney, Ann Hicks, Mary Mayfield, Hollywood; Marilyn Jones, Glendale; Virginia Thies, Alhambra; Beth Thompson, Pasadena; Joan Newcomer, Fresno; Lona Olson, Fairview, Utah.

Having thoroughly recovered from finals, California Δ is now in the full swing of the spring semester. With beach weather almost here and snow still in the mountains, the girls are busy with many activities and good times.

First important event of the semester was the pledging of eight wonderful girls, "cream of the crop." Pledging ceremony was followed by the traditional cooky-shine and the presentation of the girls which ended a very important and exciting day for everyone.

A visit the chapter will long remember was the three day stay of Grand Vice-President Mrs. Wild. Arriving Monday evening, February 28, she was greeted by the entire chapter with coffee and cake in the living room. A number of the girls put on a very clever fashion show depicting Pi Phi life.

Outstanding events of the spring semester which California Δ's are looking forward to are such things as the Delta Ball which is given annually with the Σ A E's, the Spring Sing, the Father-Daughter dinner which always proves to be so successful, the Scholarship dinner, the Initiation dance, the Senior Farewell dinner, Founders' Day with the Gamma chapter, and many wonderful exchanges including all day outings with the Phi Psis, A T O's and Phi Deltas. Along with these events will be many campus activities such as Women's Week, All-U-Sings and "elections" which always cause so much excitement.

A surprising and greatly appreciated gift was that of the Mothers' Club when they presented the chapter with a lovely Singer sewing machine. It now holds down a very important corner of Town Girls' room and is in constant use by the suddenly domestic Pi Phis.

PLEGDED: Peggy Burbank, Marion Craddock, Clair Jackson, Evalyne Miller, Margie Redman, Los Angeles; Edna Boughn, Santa Monica; Peggy Erwin, Kingsburg; Pat Gray, San Gabriel.

NEVADA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

Chartered, 1915
Pledge Day, February 12, 1949

INITIATED, February 26, 1949: Georgia Ames, Oakland, Calif.; Maxine Brockett, Pioche; Mary Engle, Caliente; Mary

Jean Etcheverry, Eureka; Odile Frost, Joan Metzger, Reno; Betty Miller, Beverly Simon, Las Vegas; Judy Morrison, Piedmont, Calif.; Patti Zahm, Henderson.

The chapter house was transformed into a ski lodge, "Shuus Inn," for the open house during the Annual Ski Carnival, February 18, 19, and 20. The theme was carried out in complete detail with burnt umber scalloped cornices that were hand painted. The entrance hall was converted into an impressionistic hotel lobby and huge flower-pots with gigantic paper flowers bedecked the archways. In the living room a blazing fire and candle lit tables added a welcoming touch. Five pledges sang songs welcoming the visiting ski teams from University of Utah, University of California, College of Pacific, Stanford, U.C.L.A., Modesto, and San Jose State.

February 27, the pledges and initiates were honored at a banquet. Speeches by Jane Bergendorf representing the pledges, Mary Jean Etcheverry representing the initiates, and Phyllis Baker representing the actives, were presented. The pledges and initiates were honored again at a pledge dance on March 4 at the chapter house. Joan Powell was in charge and did an excellent job in carrying out the theme, "Pink Elephants."

Nevada A won the Mu Province Scholarship Cup. Nevada A also won the Rifle Plaque for the second year in succession. Joylin Johnson and Marjorie Simon were elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Marjorie was also co-chairman of the Mackey Day Committee.

Marianne Reid Wild, National Vice-President, visited the chapter March 11, 12, and 13. Founders' Day Banquet was held March 12 this year in her honor. Also a tea honoring her was held March 13.

PLEGDED: Donna Batt, Carlin; Jane Bergendorf, Berkeley, Calif.; Ruth Eachus, Las Vegas; Benita Mellon, Truckee, Calif.; Rita Muñoz, Reno; Bette Priest, Sacramento, Calif.

*ARIZONA ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA

Chartered, 1917
Pledge Day, February 8, 1949

INITIATED, March 5, 1949: Ann Arrington, Canadian, Texas; Barbara Beeman, Oak Park, Ill.; Suzanne Gillespie, Elizabeth Jordan, Ann Mills, Patricia Olsen, Tucson; Mary Ann Carlisle, Jeanne Mercier, Phoenix; Elena Blake, Morenc; Nancy Calvin, Downey, Calif.; Sue Ellen Groover, Jeanne Moer, Tempe; Carolyn Hyde, Castle Hot Springs; Virginia Jenkins, Kansas City, Mo.; Louise Oman, Columbus, Ohio; Judy Walsh, Sherman, Texas; Sally Wright, Oakland, Calif.

Following Initiation, a formal banquet was held at the chapter house with alumnae and active members present. At this banquet, Virginia Jenkins was named as the outstanding pledge of her class, and Louise Oman was presented with a jeweled recognition pin for having attained the highest scholastic average among the pledges.

Highlights of a busy season for Arizona A were the visit of Grand Vice-President Marianne Reid Wild, who was a guest of the chapter February 17-20, and the impromptu visit of Grand Treasurer Lolita Snell Prouty, who stopped briefly in Tucson enroute to Honolulu. Mrs. Wild was entertained at a cocoa party and a junior-senior dinner during her stay, while Mrs. Prouty had time for only a glimpse at the house and a short chat with some of the members. These officers' suggestions and comments have proved very helpful, and their visits have been a source of added inspiration to the chapter.

The actives awakened to the tune of "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" on January 9 when the pledges were hostesses at a chapter breakfast. Several songs, a skit, and a monologue provided the morning's entertainment. Other social activities included an open house to introduce Arizona A's six new pledges to the campus, exchange dinners with $\Sigma A E$ and $\Lambda X A$, the Founders' Day banquet given by the Tucson alumnae, and the $\Pi B \Phi$ spring formal.

Georgia Ellsworth was selected as the Sweetheart of ΣX at their formal dance on February 19. In addition, Sally Wright was chosen as one of the five finalists.

The annual University of Arizona rodeo was held March 13 at Kinsley's Ranch, thirty miles south of Tucson. This ranch is famous throughout the Southwest as the source of rodeo stock for many of the commercial rodeos. A "go-western" week preceded the University rodeo when plaid shirts, levis, straw hats, and boots became the campus fashion for clothes and social life alike. Sally Wright and Carolyn Hyde were entered as contestants in the mixed team tying, the women's calf roping, and the cow milking events. Sally was also a candidate for rodeo queen.

Bonnie Robinson is serving a two-year term as Regional Director of Spurs, sophomore women's honorary. Kathryn Pender was chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and for $\Phi K \Phi$. Three Arizona A's were recently initiated into Hammer and Coffin, journalism honorary.

PLEGDED: Barbara Brooks, Safford; Jo Ann Comer, Chicago, Ill.; Minerva Hobart, Canadian, Texas; Alice Leman, Peoria, Ill.; Donna McElroy, Phoenix; Adana Smith, Encinitas, Calif.

RUSH CAPTAIN: Carol Calvin, 7942 E. Fourth Place, Downey, Calif.

NEW MEXICO ALPHA—UNIVERSITY OF NEW MEXICO

Chartered, 1946
Pledge Day, February 9, 1949

INITIATED, March 20, 1949: Thelma Hoyt, Pat Scalan, Carol Woods, Jan Oakes, Rosemary Stockton, Mary Lee Griffith, Albuquerque; Eunice Geht, Cleveland, Ohio; Jacque Casler, Tulsa, Okla.; Isabelle Burney, Denver, Colo.; Jean McNay, Charline Rutter, El Paso, Texas; Rosemary Robinson, Santa Fe; Pauline Martin, St. Clairsville, Ohio; Sarah Krakow, Davenport, Iowa; Jane White, Durango, Colo.

Now a reality instead of a dream is the beginning of a house for New Mexico A. The contract was signed January 16, and ground was broken January 17. The club room will serve for a meeting place and for all social functions. Work on the club room was finished in May, and it will be furnished and ready for use during rush week next fall. It is part of the original house plan that will be completed as soon as funds are available.

Mrs. Frank H. Prouty, Grand Treasurer, was a guest of the chapter in April. Her visit was an inspiration to everyone.

Rosemary Stockton, harpist of great ability, played for the $A \Phi \Omega$ installation banquet. She is a member of the Albuquerque Civic Symphony.

Joan Schulze has withdrawn from school because of a severe back injury suffered while tobogganing at La Madera Ski Run. New Mexico A hopes she will be able to return next fall.

With spring here, outdoor sports are again beginning to take a prominent place on the New Mexico campus. Nancy O'Brien qualified in the round-robin tennis tournament and was one of two girls to represent the university in a tennis tournament at the University of Arizona. The chapter took top honors in an intramural volleyball tournament held February 19.

A new position, that of Director of Student Affairs, has been created on the university campus. Dr. Sherman E. Smith, formerly head of the chemistry department, has assumed his new duties and will be responsible to President Tom L. Popejoy for the efficient operation of administrative units on the New Mexico campus.

The alumnae club entertained the chapter at a buffet supper, April 28, at Abbott Hall in observance of Founders' Day. A skit on the history of Pi Beta Phi was given by members of the chapter.

In February, 124 students finished work toward degrees, three of whom were members of the chapter. Registration was held February 3 and 4, with an all-time high for midyear enrollment of 4472 students.

The chapter assisted the alumnae club in selling tickets for a chuckwagon supper followed by a "cake walk" held May 6, at the Heights Community Center. Proceeds went to the house fund.

Formal pledging was held February 15, at the home of Kathleen White, and was followed by the traditional cooky-shine.

PLEGDED: Dona Mills, Glendale, Calif.; Jane Burk, River Forest, Ill.; Frances Curran, Albuquerque. Repledged: Mary Lee Griffith, Rosemary Stockton, Albuquerque.

ALPHA PROVINCE EAST

EASTERN MAINE-ORONO

The Eastern Maine Alumnae Club held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Irwin Douglass in Orono on February 3. A discussion of the topics in the annual fraternity examination was held. During the business meeting several requests for aid to Europeans were presented, but it was decided that until the club is firmly established, especially in a financial way, it should limit its contributions to fraternity projects.

On March 3 the members of the club met at Thompson's for a Dutch treat supper before going to the home of Mrs. Emmons Kingsbury for the business meeting. The election of the officers was held and the results were as follows: President, Mrs. Howard Bartlett; Vice President, Mrs. Parker Cushman; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Rex Buzzell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. David Griffin; Treasurer, Mrs. Benjamin Hodges.

Mrs. Fred Haggett gave a report on the active chapter and announced that an initiation was held March 7 and that alumnae came and brought cookies for the cooky-shine.

Contributions to Holt House, Loan Fund, and Settlement School were voted.

PHYLLIS PENDLETON BRAGG

MONTREAL

The Montreal Alumnae Club held a meeting on March 8 at the home of Mrs. M. C. Archibald, when the General Manager of the Canadian Marconi Company gave an address on Radio and Television.

On April 2 Founders' Day was marked by a luncheon held at the University Women's Club, at which we were fortunate to have present the Province Vice-President, Miss Ernie Pollard.

The final meeting of the season is planned for May 10 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Stewart. There will be a brief active chapter talk followed by a business meeting.

Mrs. J. G. McDiarmid, who has been in charge of sales of magazines and Christmas cards, reports totals of $105 and $71 respectively.

ELAINE GIBSON

ALPHA PROVINCE WEST

ALBANY, NEW YORK

During the current year the Albany Alumnae Club has been glad to welcome several newcomers to this vicinity to membership. The open winter we have had, in contrast to last year's, has also helped to keep our attendance at a new high average.

At the January meeting, held at the home of Mary More, a most interesting discussion of their work in the New York State Health Department was conducted by Florence Manley and Ruth Erwin. The constitution meeting took the form of a written quiz program given by Virginia De-Nike. This consisted of twenty short answer questions which, however, were self graded to avoid embarrassment to the participants. Since not marks, but information, was the goal everyone felt that she had refreshed her memory on important fraternity facts at the conclusion of the evening.

We had the usual Founders' Day cooky-shine which is the high light of the year.

GRACE K. ATWOOD

BUFFALO

The January meeting of the Buffalo Alumnae Club was held at the home of Lena Dunning Kirby. Frances Whiting gave a book review of "Dr. Faustus" following the business meeting.

In February a group of the members attended the annual Young Women's Christian Association meeting and heard Anne Guthrie speak. At the regular February meeting Patricia Stone gave an interesting talk on Holt House. Lucille Shideler, Mezzo-Soprano, sang a group of songs.

In March new officers were elected. Virginia Fraser gave a talk on Interior Decoration and showed colored slides. On March 28 we joined Ontario A and Ontario B at a dinner at the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton, Ontario to commemorate Founders' Day.

In April the new officers were installed after which we played bridge. In May we will have a regular business meeting and a talk on flower arrangements by Mrs. Joseph Cleveland.

ELISABETH VAN WINKLE PERSON

LONDON

The London Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the new year at the home of Myra Moorhouse, when Miss Dian Camwell, personality consultant, gave us valuable tips on posture, grooming and wardrobing. In February we held a Valentine Bridge, our annual money-making project, under the able convensorship of Marion Taylor and Elizabeth Dillon.

Early in March, we entertained at tea for Judith Evelyn, Manitoba A, who was in London to appear in the premiere of the play, "The Ivy Green." Our meeting this month took the form of a "Sit and Stitch" evening at the home of Margaret Hamilton. Founders' Day was celebrated on March 28 at a dinner in the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton. Active chapters from Toronto and London attended, as well as alumnae club members from Hamilton, Toronto, London, Rochester, and Buffalo.

We entertained the Hamilton Alumnae Club at our April meeting when a Games' Night was held. Our season's activities will close with a Graduation Tea at the chapter house in honour of the graduating active chapter members.

RUTH MUSTARD

NEW YORK CITY

The New York City Alumnae Club had a great thrill at the January meeting, when Alda Wilson, Iowa G, talked informally about her experiences as secretary to the late Carrie Chapman Catt. Miss Wilson related many intimate details about Mrs. Catt and showed the club pictures of Mrs. Catt's home and special events in her life.

Beatrice Ecks, N.Y. Δ, entertained the group, which met at the home of Helen McKendrew, Mo. B, at the February meeting. She talked about "Women in Aviation," drawing on the material which she used in her recently published book on this subject.

At the March meeting held at the Beekman Tower Club Rooms, we had the opportunity to go traveling. Jean Sherwood, Ind. A, prepared a very interesting talk to accompany the motion pictures of the Settlement School.

Founders' Day, celebrated with a luncheon at the Lexington Hotel, was the high point of the year. Sophie P. Woodman, N.Y. B, now retired and living in Greenfield, Massachusetts, made a trip to be with the New York Alumnae Club. With her she brought a group of her slides of Guatemala which were very fine indeed.

In the absence this spring of Mary Arms Coombs, Ver. B, Elizabeth Peck, Cal. B, has been serving as president of the group. We are fortunate in having two such able people to serve in one year.

ELIZABETH L. MORGAN

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY

Any members of Pi Beta Phi in the northern New Jersey area are cordially invited to attend the regular meetings of the Alumnae Club on the afternoon of the third Monday of the month.

Delicious luncheons and excellent programs have produced delightful and well attended meetings. In January at the home of Elizabeth Hutchinson a question and answer program on fraternity history and constitution brought out many little known facts and incidents concerning Pi Beta Phi. February 21 over forty met at the home of Mrs. Zelle Whitmarsh Letts to hear Marjorie Fort Taylor speak on better world understanding. She challenged everyone to do her own thinking in this confused world to-day and to accept her full responsibilities as college women and members of Pi Beta Phi.

We are looking forward to future meetings, such as a talk on successful decoration; and the annual meeting in Westfield in May.

ELIZABETH JONES BARNARD

POUGHKEEPSIE

Our first meeting of the new year was a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Dane Jackson. In February we met at Mrs. Russell Hadden's for bridge.

The newest member of our club, Frances Corbally, New York Δ, was to have told us about her chapter at the February meeting but because of illness, this was postponed until March.

We have a very small group and illness has made it difficult for us all to get together throughout the winter but we have averaged eight members at each meeting.

ELIZABETH OSBORNE HADDEN

SCHENECTADY

The Schenectady Alumnae Club met January 13 at Mrs. Burt Newkirk's home for a short business meeting followed by a musical program. Mrs. Homer Asmus played several Gershwin piano numbers, Mrs. Robert Kistler played two violin solos, and as the climax, Mrs. Asmus and Mrs. Newkirk played the Grieg Concerto in A Minor as a two-piano duet. We very much enjoyed listening to the music of our talented Pi Beta Phis. On February 10 we enjoyed a social evening and business meeting at Mrs. Paul Frank's home. Gladys Bergman discussed the Constitution for us and Carole Hiatt gave a very interesting talk on new spring fashions. The bridge party with the Pi Beta Phi husbands was held on March 5 at the home of Mrs. Carter Davidson, a member of our group, who is the wife of the president of Union College in Schenectady. We are looking forward to the June meeting when all the Pi Beta Phi families in Schenectady get together for a picnic supper at Mrs. Flower Buhra's camp.

FRANCES FOSTER DOYLE (MRS. C. D.)

SYRACUSE

The Syracuse Alumnae Club has only held two meetings since the date of our last letter.

On January 21 we had a joint meeting with the active chapter to commemorate the birthday of Carrie Chapman Catt. At this time the program chairman Alta Mason, presented Mrs. Robert Herriman who gave a delightful book review of "Smile Please."

Then on February 2 Martha Coursen entertained the club at a very enjoyable luncheon meeting.

One of the high lights of Syracuse University Circles this winter was the 25th Interfraternity Conference. This celebration took the form of a luncheon held at Hotel Syracuse and commemorated 25 years of unity and service among fraternity women on the Syracuse University Campus.

Active and alumnae fraternity members of past and present women's fraternities here joined in the celebration. Our own Estelle Hillegas handled the publicity for the event.

Pi Beta Phi was honored by three at the head table, Marie Wills, present president of Interfraternity, Gertrude Brooks, one of the Founders, and Elizabeth Broad, dean of Social Activities at Syracuse.

CHARLOTTE CHAFFEE

WESTCHESTER COUNTY

Westchester Pi Beta Phis have enjoyed an uninterrupted season this winter—in direct contrast to last year when winter's fury completely stopped activities during January and February. It might be interesting to report a mid-winter heat wave 71° on February 15 when all existing records were broken.

In January, Grace Bradford Bonnet of Bronxville opened her home for the chapter Loyalty Day luncheon meeting with special attention given to the life of the late Carrie Chapman Catt.

At the regular March luncheon meeting in the White Plains home of Josephine Sniffen Nichols, new officers were elected and the sewing group exhibited five completed layettes ready for shipment to the Settlement School.

The sewing group and the bridge group meet monthly with interest at a high level in each activity.

Two large parties, namely, the Founders' Day Luncheon at the Westchester Golf Club with Josephine Nichols in charge and the May dinner "bridge and dance" for husbands in the Bronxville home of Marion Hedley Buckley with Rachel Silvus McNeir in charge, brought our '48-'49 year to a close with zest and enthusiasm, and a real desire to begin next year's activities under the inspiring leadership of our President, Opal Rains Braham.

SALLY CALLEN HINSEY

BETA PROVINCE

AKRON

Our alumnae club has had a very successful year under the leadership of Juanita Spors Varner. A lovely luncheon in January celebrated Chapter Loyalty Day. Louella Jackson Beresford, Colorado A, a new member, who is manager of Akron Women's City Club, helped with the arrangements.

Our February meeting was most interesting. We met at the Akron Art Institute for a lecture on the paintings of Akron's artist, William Summer, then went to Marguerite Hill Lacher's home for a business meeting and social hour. The nominating committee was appointed.

Pi Beta Phi dance was held March 19, under the chairmanship of Dale Hood Handshey. The agenda for the spring meetings include a Holt House movie, election of officers, a talk and movie on Settlement School, and a cooky-shine. Plans have been made to have a rummage sale next fall with Mona Kerr Ott, chairman.

We have been very happy to welcome many new members to our club this year.

LOIS CALLAWAY SCHERER

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA

The Central Pennsylvania Alumnae Club held a cooky-shine with the actives and pledges of Pennsylvania B on February 5 at Hunt Hall. Many alumnae and 54 actives thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Dr. Harris entertained the alumnae at a card party on March 26. Founders' Day dinner was held on April 28 at the Lewisburg Inn for the active chapter and alumnae. Several alumnae and active members joined the Harrisburg-Carlisle group for luncheon on April 30 in Harrisburg.

The Pi Beta Phi alumnae of Williamsport have invited the Lewisburg and Milton alumnae for luncheon on May 21.

The year's activities will close with Symposium on June 3 when many Bucknell alumnae return to join with our local group in welcoming the new graduates into the alumnae body.

ALICE MARSHALL BLAKE

CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA

Our January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. B. Peyton Anderson, II. Following a short business meeting, our president, Mrs. William A. Thornhill, Jr., Mrs. William Blue, Mrs. G. H. Zimmerman and Mrs. Harry Brawley conducted a very clever and unique quiz on the Constitution. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the quiz.

At a social meeting in February, Mrs. William A. King was hostess to our club and a bridge party was enjoyed.

Mrs. William Blue was hostess to our group in March and she entertained us with a very interesting talk and demonstration on Flower Arrangements.

Founders' Day was celebrated with a dinner party at Wrens Nest, Mrs. Edward K. Reymann was in charge of the dinner and program.

KATHLEEN ANDERSON (MRS. B. PEYTON)

CINCINNATI

In February we held our annual cooky-sline meeting and in March the election of officers was the main order of business. We have been trying a new type of meeting since January and it is very successful. Previously we had an evening meeting preceded by dessert and coffee, but the club has grown so large that we had to make a change. Now we have our business meeting and program first and follow it with a social hour at which we serve cokes and snacks. It simplifies the meeting for the hostess and we have more time to visit.

We celebrated Founders' Day with the active chapter and alumnae club at Oxford, Ohio and a large group drove to Oxford for luncheon and a program. The first weekend in April we held a rummage sale to add a little more money to our treasury.

We are looking forward to our annual picnic to be held in June and hope that it will be the biggest and best ever to round out the year in which we have had the most paid members in the history of the club.

JANE PASCHE CRAIG

CLEVELAND EAST

Jeanette Luce Millard, our president, was hostess to Cleveland East Alumnae Club February 9, at her home. Dinner was served by a committee with Margaret Schowe Franckle as chairman. Under the capable direction of our program chairman, Hope Sciever Campbell, five members gave most interesting talks on philanthropic projects undertaken by other women's fraternities, with emphasis on Settlement School. Alberta Milton Cutter, in charge of Settlement School products, was kept very busy with the sale of Arrowcraft, which she displayed. Interest in the Pi Beta Phi home was manifested by the many questions Mary Wallihan Gibson, committee chairman, was asked to answer.

We are very proud of our own Lois Stonebraker Vasek, president of Cleveland Panhellenic. Pi Beta Phi was well represented at the annual Panhellenic luncheon March 5. Miss Onken was the guest speaker, on the topic "The Privilege and Responsibility of Fraternity and Interfraternity Affiliations." The day following the luncheon, Cleveland West and East entertained representatives and presidents of all Panhellenic groups at a tea at the home of Dorothy Loomis Kingsley. Following this a general open house was held for all Greater Cleveland Pi Beta Phis where Miss Onken met and renewed acquaintances.

The March meeting was held at the home of Dorothy Jones Loofbourrow. Election of Officers was held. The speaker was from the United World Federalists.

Founders' Day was celebrated April 30 with a luncheon at the Higbee Company. Cleveland West was hostess to Cleveland East.

Mary Wallihan Gibson opened her home for the May meeting. "Interests of the Active Chapter" was the subject for the program.

The Annual Bridge Tournament for Settlement School will be held May 20 at the home of Virginia Hansen Ismond. The club year closes in June and East Side Juniors will join us in a meeting at the home of Hazel Knapp Cole.

ALBERTENA STUART MOGRAN

CLEVELAND WEST

Cleveland Alumnae Club West entered the year 1949 with one of its favorite programs, a book review, by one of our members, Anna Darrah Bishop, who gave "The Garretton Chronicle" in her own inimitable style, this time using the first person medium.

In a rut but happy with it, we invited two more speakers for our next meetings. In February a representative of the Cleveland Better Business Bureau gave us helpful hints on "How To Protect Your Pocketbook," which resulted in an enthusiastic audience participation program. Mary Wallihan Gibson, a member of the Cleveland Alumnae Club East, came over to share with us her recent trip through France, Holland, Belgium, and England, informally and fascinatingly presenting her reaction as a housewife viewing the political and economic conditions in Europe.

This year Cleveland Alumnae Club West was in charge of the Founders' Day program, which is customarily commemorated jointly with the Cleveland Alumnae Club East, and asked Florence Nicholson Whitney as its guest speaker. Mrs. Whitney is especially well qualified to speak on "What Price Greeks" as she served as Panhellenic Advisor, while Dean of Women, at several midwestern colleges. It was while serving in this capacity at Ohio Wesleyan, following her marriage that a special dispensation was made at the request of Ohio Δ to allow her to become a member of Pi Beta Phi.

We shall close for summer vacation with an informal "Poetry Round Table" to which each member is asked to bring her favorite poem be it gay, sad, sentimental or nonsense.

JEANNETTE CURTIS

COLUMBUS

The Chapter Loyalty Day program will be long remembered by the Columbus Alumnae Club. Despite a stormy, foggy night, seventy-five of us met at the home of Natalie Bateman. Her beautiful antiques were a perfect setting for the radio skit on the life of Carrie Chapman Catt.

In February a dinner meeting was held at the chapter house. One of our own members, Dorothy Irwin Lambert, gave a most interesting talk on her experiences as an actress on Broadway and her overseas USO tours in the Pacific area during World War II. The "financial report" from the Christmas wrapping paper sale was given, $290 profit and still more to come!

BALTIMORE

The Baltimore Alumnae Club has had two fine meetings thus far in 1949. In January we attended a bridge luncheon at the Park Plaza Hotel. Spring flowers and favors made by the chairman, Ruth Paper, really made us think of warm weather and pretty colors.

On February 6 in the Goucher College Alumnae Lodge, eighty alumnae and actives of Maryland A enjoyed a delightful dinner planned and served under the direction of our president, Nellis Gibson. Following dinner, some of us remained to play bridge and found a real party planned by Mildred Moore.

JANICE CORDRAY

CHAPEL HILL

The Chapel Hill Alumnae Club raised about $8 at its February meeting by "playing charades." If a member didn't guess a charade in three minutes, she paid five cents; if she still didn't know the answer in five minutes, she forfeited ten cents. Katherine McGimsey Wilson won a prize for deciphering the greatest number of charades.

Our Pi Beta Phi Settlement School sale, under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Caldwell, netted us $20. We always schedule the sale just before the Christmas holidays.

The club project for the year is to compile a list of alumnae in key towns in North Carolina who may be called on from year to year for recommendations for rushing. Lack of prompt recommendations has been a bottleneck in the past, according to rush chairmen.

We have had a party and four meetings so far this year, which included our Constitution quiz and report on Convention by Marianne Browne, one of our delegates.

SIBYL GOERCH POWE

Also attending were the new President of Gamma Province, Elizabeth Stovall King, the Vice President, Marie Tunstall Lingo, and the President of D.C. Alpha Mothers' Club, Margaret Shippen Babcock, all of whom are members of Washington Alumnae Club. After the business meeting a scrap book of colored pictures was made for the Finnish orphan, Viano Aho. It is hoped that it will inform him with the variety of American scenery, climate, and actively portrayed.

Nesbitt, the Settlement School sale on November 11, and bridge with Julia Hedrick Campbell on November 16. December 7, at Helen Rush's, we planned and made favors for our Christmas party at St. Joseph's Orphanage on December 21. Under Mary Foster, our social chairman, the party was a huge success, to judge by the number of empty coke bottles and cookie boxes.

Our next meeting, March 15, was held at the home of our president, Kent Hutchinson Castle, where we had a talk on the methods used in making perfume; the speaker was a Mr. Sumner. On April 3 we gave our annual tea for the graduating seniors of D.C. A at George Washington University and Maryland B at the University of Maryland. In February we had a Valentine Day Luncheon at Beverly Klueberg's home and all refreshed our knowledge of the Pi Beta Phi Constitution by a clever question and matching answer game. Plans for the Settlement School tea in May at a nearby country club are progressing, and we hope to make it a distinctive and money-making occasion.

We were glad to send $25 to the Save the Children Federation. We continue to work on Cancer pads, magazine subscriptions, and Arrowcraft products at each meeting.

The state-wide Founders' Day Celebration was held at Lansing in April.

JANE HOUGHAM

GARY, INDIANA

Gary alumnae concentrated their efforts this year on re-viving the Settlement School tea to which 500 local women were invited. The tea, which was held October 15, resulted in the sale of over $600 worth of merchandise from samples exhibited in appropriate settings. For example, place settings were arranged with the table linens, and a bassinette and child's clothes rack were props for carriage robes, sacques, and bonnets.

As a local project the group recently decided to provide material assistance for the rehabilitation of needy families in the care of Gary's Department of Public Welfare for which one Pi Beta Phi is a case worker. Individual members will donate unused clothing, household equipment, and books which a club committee will collect for the D.P.W.

Aside from the regularly monthly meeting programs, the remainder of the year will be devoted to planning and making preparations for the summer rushing party. Last year's was a cooky-shine, and it was tentatively decided to make this peculiarly Pi Beta Phi function an annual affair.

During Christmas vacation, a luncheon was given by the alumnae for the Mobile pledges of $\Pi \Phi \beta$ at the Mobile Country Club, and monthly meetings have been devoted to the needs of the chapter at the University. The members are all looking forward to the coming installation this Spring and many planned on attending Founders' Day there.

Mobile is basking in beautiful weather and surrounded by gorgeous camellias and azaleas. The alumnae club all took an active part in the Mardi Gras festivities which lasted for six gala days.

Several new Pi Beta Phis have come to Mobile, and the club promises to show an ever increasing membership. Mrs. Albert Pierce, Jr., President, is doing an admirable job in promoting Pi Beta Phi.

BETTE SMILEY LITRELL

ETA PROVINCE

AVON (LIBBIE BROOK GADDIS)

The Libbie Brook Gaddis Alumnae Club held its first meeting for the year 1948-49, in August, in the form of a picnic on the spacious lawn of Ruth Woods. She was assisted by Ethelin Ray Prittinen and Martha Welch Davis. No business was transacted, as high school graduates were entertained, and the affair was strictly a social one.

The September meeting was a cooky-shine, in true cooky-shine style, at the home of Carrie Clary Chain. The convention report was given by the delegate, Marie Fenessey Hatch. Mrs. Arthur Freilund, Illinois B, from Glasgow, Mont., was a guest.

The November meeting was dispensed with because of the sale of the Arrowcraft goods, at the home of Mrs. Kutschler, the mother of Ula Kutschler Wingate, one of the club's members. A lovely tea was held in conjunction with the sale, which was a most successful one. All of the articles were sold and some re-orders were taken.

Marie Fenessey Hatch entertained the club in February at her country home. This was a postponed meeting because of icy roads. Her aunt, Elizabeth Bliss, gave the program on the constitution.

The club has lost during the year, two of our most beloved and loyal members, Edith Crissey, a member of the "Golden Arrow" and Louise Ross Yoeman, who in five years would have been one also.

HELEN LEONARD BALL

BELOIT, WISCONSIN

The January meeting of the Beloit Alumnae Club was a dinner at the home of Mrs. Arthur Shogren. At that time the treasurer's report showed a gross sale of $561 from Settlement School goods and tea held in October. The club voted to continue its part as in the past to the Save the Children Federation.

A dessert meeting for the active chapter was held at the house in February. Many alumnae were able to attend initiation and banquet at which time twenty-three new members came into Pi Beta Phi. The club joined the actives in observing Founders' Day in April.

Plans are being made by the club to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of Wisconsin B at commencement time. Since the war made it impossible to do anything special for the twenty-fifth, this year seems the logical time for a gala occasion. Any suggestions you may have will be welcome and the Beloit Club hopes many of you will come back and help make it a great success.

BIRDIE NEWTON

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA

CHICAGO BUSINESS WOMEN

The Chicago Business Women's Alumnae Club had a business and general discussion meeting on January 21.

At the College Club on February 18, after an enjoyable dinner, we elected our officers for the coming year. Then we listened to a most interesting talk by Patricia Henchie, Indiana E. of her activities as a Society Reporter for the Chicago Tribune. She said one of the prime requisites of her job is an unlimited supply of white gloves as she frequently appears at several functions on the same day, at each of which she must look "as fresh as a daisy."

Our March meeting was a television party. On April 30 we celebrated Founders' Day, together with all the Pi Beta Phi groups in the Chicago area, at a luncheon at Marshall Field and Company. We will have our final meeting of this year in May at the College Club.

The Business Women's Group extends a cordial welcome to all Pi Beta Phi's interested in evening dinner meetings in or near the loop.

A very interesting and instructive discussion on convention was given by our delegates, Mary Lou Agur Calvert, and Jane Edwards McPherson.

On November 4, a very successful Settlement School sale, which preceded a delightful plate luncheon was also held at the Bryn Mawr Church. A demonstration and short talk on table arrangement which followed the luncheon was most appropriate for this occasion. Dorothy Hughes Browning was chairman of the sale.

Our money raising project for this year was a huge success. It was put on in co-operation with the Towle Silver Co. Mrs. T. Browning graciously opened her home for the occasion.

The February meeting was held in the attractive home of Gloria Crawford Marsteller. Election of officers was held. The new officers assume their duties in June. We joined the clubs in the Chicago area for the Founders' Day luncheon April 30, at the Wedgewood Room at Marshall Fields. Miss Amy Onken was the principal speaker.

DUPAGE COUNTY, ILLINOIS

NINA HARRIS ALLEN

The December meeting of the Nina Harris Allen Club was held at the home of Anne Spang, Elmhurst. Following the regular meeting, bridge was played with pot holders from the Arrow Craft Shop as prizes. Due to the bad weather and hazardous driving conditions, both the January and February meetings were canceled. As our club embraces suburbs of Chicago which are quite a distance from each other, winter meetings are definitely a problem.

On March 2, we met at Florence Gentry's home in Glen Ellyn with an unusually enthusiastic group in attendance. It was decided to elect officers for a two year term, the president automatically becoming the convention delegate. It was also decided that henceforth we will plan only four regular meetings: October, November, March and April. If enough interest is shown, meetings will be held between November and March in the respective suburbs for their own girls. We were happy to welcome Carol Anderson Spreen, Michigan B, as a new member of our club.

NESTOR THORWALDSON

ELGIN

The Elgin Alumnae Club opened its 1948-49 season in August with a picnic for its members and local members of active chapters of Pi Beta Phi. In October and November, the usual buffet style dinners and meetings were held in the homes of members, and in December, the group enjoyed the customary Christmas party.

Our club did not meet during January, but in February, we resumed our meetings with Mrs. J. Howard Schultz presiding. Several new members have joined our club during the year, and the roll call numbers approximately sixteen at each meeting. At the March meeting, our magazine chairman, Carole Collingbourne, announced that the Elgin Club was third in our province of twenty-six clubs in the sale of magazine subscriptions this year. Mrs. Robert Ayles, treasurer, sent contributions from our club to the Settlement School, Loan Fund, and Save the Children Federation. Our second meeting of the year was held in November at the home of Jane Reynolds. Ruth Rogers was appointed chairman for the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Home. Jane Reynolds led a discussion on the Settlement School and a forthcoming sale. Following the meeting a clever quiz show concerning Pi Beta Phi history was put on by the program committee.

Due to so many activities in December it was decided to cancel the December meeting. Our January meeting was a pot luck supper held at the home of Louise McKee.

The February meeting was held at the home of Mary Lou Kinnally. It was decided to sell Arrow Craft goods through the mail and not have a tea. The Founders' Day banquet was held at St. Charles Country Club.

THETA PROVINCE

DULUTH-SUPERIOR

Our February meeting was held at the home of Marian Turnquist with Eleanor Abbett assisting; a small meeting, but a good one. By the way, the hot dish served was Tomato Rice Chop Suey, a recipe of Hazel Murdock Murkland, Wisconsin B, who was with us at our September meeting at the home of Christine Hill in Superior. We are always so glad to see her. We are so sorry to lose Jean Prendergast who had definitely made a place for herself in our group. We wish her every happiness in her new home in Chicago. We have dispensed with the evening meeting this year and plan to have a summer picnic for husbands and friends instead.

RUBY BURTNES KEFGEN

MILWAUKEE

The Milwaukee Alumnae Club of Pi Beta Phi entertained Mrs. Edward Middleton as our guest at the January meeting. She was the originator of the Home for Pi Beta Phi project and told us how the idea originated and the plans for raising $250,000 before our next Convention.

In February, Miss Onken came to Milwaukee to be the guest speaker at our annual spring City Panhellenic luncheon. The Milwaukee Pi Beta Phi took advantage of her presence in the city. Our Executive Board was privileged to have dinner with her. This was followed by a reception in her honor, to enable all local Pi Beta Phi to meet her. Her visit was an inspiration and all who met her or heard her speak at the luncheon realized how fortunate we are to have her as our Grand President.

Our regular February meeting was the time for our election of officers and routine business.

In March, we had our Pi Beta Phi Style Show and Dance at the Milwaukee Athletic Club. Last year this project was received so enthusiastically that we decided to have a bigger and better affair this year. For our Founders' Day celebration this year, we had a Cooky-shine rather than the traditional banquet.

A committee was appointed to recommend awards which might be made by the alumnae club to active members in recognition of outstanding scholastic and activities attainments.

A brief, but most encouraging report was given concerning the improvement in health of Margaret, our little blind infant orphan.

A break in the weather which melted some of the coat of ice from the pavements, permitted the club to attend the February meeting at Martha Suffield's beautiful country home on the bluffs overlooking the Illinois River. Reports were given by the two alumnae committees appointed to: (1) plan for enlarging the present Pi Beta Phi house; (2) raise funds to finance the enlargement.

Election of officers was held at the March meeting. An enjoyable event of March was the Cooky-shine given by the alumnae club following initiation of the 1948 pledges.

ANNE M. O'CONNOR

IOTA PROVINCE

DENVER

The Denver Alumnae Club held its regular January meeting at the home of Alberta Bloom Iliff. At that time a decision was made to co-operate with the Denver Woman's Club in their effort to reduce the trend toward crime by urging local radio stations and moving picture houses to eliminate the selection of programs that tend to give youth a distorted view of crime.

In order to interest more Pi Beta Phi's of Denver in joining the Alumnae Club, the members formed a junior group for those Pi Beta Phi's approximately ten years out of school. The first two meetings of this new group brought out about eighty-five alumnae at each meeting. The four required meetings during the year will be held together with the senior group.

The guest of honor at the regular February meeting held at the chapter house was Marie Quillen Divisek, Iota Province Vice-President and a member of our Denver Alumnae Club, who gave an inspiring résumé of the projects of the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity.

One of the most important events of the season was the initiation banquet which was held this year at the Fort Garry Hotel on February 3 and at which the honored guests were seven new initiates. Undergraduate scholarship and activity awards were presented to members of the chapter. The dinner was an outstanding success and the alumnae club was especially pleased at the large number of their groups who were in attendance.

Proceeds are for the Pi Beta Phi Scholarship which was established last year for a worthy student in the Faculty of Home Economics.

Our Omaha Alumnae Club has continued to meet once a month alternating evening dinner meetings with noon luncheon meetings at the homes of various members. Our attendance averages between 45 and 55 and most of the houses fairly burst at the seams with all the Pi Beta Phis, but we do have wonderful times.

At our February meeting we made plans for our Founders' Day Banquet which we celebrated with the Lincoln Alumnae Club and active chapter of Nebraska B in Lincoln on March 26 at the Hotel Cornhusker. We also spent part of the meeting singing songs, so we wouldn't be too rusty at the banquet.

The slips were exchanged and read aloud. A few personal reminiscences of Carrie Chapman Catt were given, and Nonie Field gave a brief resume of the history of the Settlement School, contrasting its beginnings with impressions of the school gained from her recent visit there. Handwoven articles from the school were displayed, and the question of a school sale was discussed.

Our average attendance is about eight or nine, and our Pi Beta Phi friendships grow stronger through the years. One of our most loyal members, Louise Dobler, Province Vice-President, has been in Olympia with governmental duties for several months, and we miss her interesting companionship. Some of our Pi Beta Phis joined the Seattle Alumnae at their Founders' Day Banquet, while we had planned a Pot Luck supper at a member's suburban home. The May meeting will end our year's activities, and we're adjourning for varied summer vacations.

MILDRED WOLFE

OLYMPIA

The Olympia Alumnae Club has had a successful year. Mrs. G. Noyes Talcott assumed the presidency for the second consecutive year, and her capable leadership has proven that experienced officers are of great value. Our Arrowcraft sale was combined with a tea in the charming home of Mrs. Robert M. Gilmore, at which friends of the members were entertained. Our membership has increased considerably this year and we also have several new actives from Olympia.

MRS. BETTY ANN DOWNARD

PORTLAND (OREGON)

The Portland Alumnae Club enjoyed watching six of its members model new spring hats at its Valentine party. Eleanor Norblad Sorrels was in charge of the bridge-dessert. Prizes were handicraft articles from the Settlement School. In March the annual business meeting and election of officers was held at the home of Lois Reeves Jordan with Ella Auld Meissner as chairman.

The club is looking forward to a visit from Louise Wheelock Dobler, Lambda Province Vice-President, in the spring. Founders' Day arrangements were under the direction of Louise Clausen Leslie. This concluded the activities of the club for the year under the very able leadership of Rita DeTemple Dunkin.

MRS. ROBERT SINCLAIR

PULLMAN, WASHINGTON

We have been busy planning for our spring activities. Because of our severe winter we are looking forward to spring. We are looking forward to the annual Smorgasbord which we give the Washington B seniors.

At our last meeting we donated $10 for the care of our Finnish boy. We all feel that this is a most worthy cause and hope our small donation will help in some small way toward the happiness and future of this boy. If only all the underprivileged children could be helped it would be a better world to live in.

GLORIA SCHILL

SEATTLE

The January meeting of the Seattle Alumnae Club was a joint meeting with the active chapter of Washington A celebrating its forty-third birthday. We had a grand dinner with the girls at the chapter house and were graciously entertained by them. The active chapter presented a fashion show dating back to the early days of the chapter up to and including the "new look."

In February we were cordially welcomed by Hazel Wallace Paddock in her beautiful new home. She with her hostess committee served a most delicious buffet luncheon. This was our constitution meeting which Frances Hopkins McDonald conducted in the form of a quiz, both entertaining and informative.

The Seattle Auxiliary Alumnae group have met regularly this season with good attendance. The "Shamrock-Shindig" which they held at the Bellevue Community Club was very successful and enjoyed by all present.

Our Founders' Day Banquet was held at the Seattle Tennis Club again this year. We had a grand turn out including guests from our neighboring clubs in Vancouver, B.C., Bellingham, and Everett.

HELEN G. KAMPENBORG

SPOKANE, WASHINGTON

The big event for the Spokane Club recently was our semiformal Valentine Dance which was held February 12 at the Roundup Room of the Desert Hotel. This dance is an annual function and is anticipated with much pleasure by our members and their friends. The decorations were carried out in the Valentine theme. Mrs. G. E. Pierce was chairman of this dance and did a splendid job.

A beautiful Arrowcraft bedspread was raffled at our January meeting. It was won by one of our members, June Van Loven. Tickets were sold in advance of the drawing which was held at the meeting.

This spring we also had our Founders' Day Banquet and a style show and bridge luncheon.

MRS. ROBERT M. BEIL

VANCOUVER

The January meeting of the Vancouver Alumnae Club was held at the home of Kay MacLeod with Ann Crane as co-hostess. Miss Jessie Faunt from the Art Gallery gave a very interesting review of Canadian Art. At our February meeting at the home of Elizabeth Larmonth, with Grace Cameron as co-hostess, a film was shown on "How to Arrange Flowers." The next meeting will be held at the home of June-Rae Matthews with Barbara Moddin as co-hostess. There will be an election of officers at this meeting.

Marion Linnell has just returned from an extended trip through the United States and Canada.

We have several new members in our club including Patricia Bachelor, Laurenda Francis Daniels, and Barbara Hall, all from Manitoba A.

Kay Shand is now dietitian at the North Vancouver General. Doreen Fraser has accepted the responsibility as head of the art department in the University Library.

In a recent devastating fire at the University, Aureen Ross, instructress of dietetics, lost much of her equipment.

KATHLEEN MACLEOD

MU PROVINCE

BERKELEY

The Berkeley Alumnae Club held its February meeting at the chapter house. It was an afternoon meeting and proved very successful. A very enlightening report was given by Katherine Brown Aywalt, California B and member of the Advisory Board. Jean Hawley, California B active, discussed functioning of house procedures.

Our March affair was a really big event for both actives and alumnae. We had a visit from Marianne Wild and a tea was held March 8 in her honor. Initiation banquet was another March highlight.

With Founders' Day in April, and the installation of officers in May, we completed our most successful year's activity under the guidance of Irma Riley, whose devotion and untiring efforts on our behalf have been endless.

ALICIA METHMANN

EL PASO

The El Paso Alumnae Club has been holding regular meetings the third Tuesday of each month. We alternate afternoon and evening meetings and have found the idea very successful. The average attendance is about eighteen members.

At our September meeting we enjoyed a very detailed report of happenings at convention. This news was presented to us by our convention delegate, Grace Malloy and by Louise Rosser Kemp, former Mu Province Vice-President, who is a member of our club.

In November we held a Settlement School tea at the home of Mrs. Francis Broadbuss. Approximately seventy guests called and proceeds amounted to about one hundred dollars.

We are happy to be able to contribute to Holt House, the Loan Fund, and the Emma Harper Turner Fund.

Founders' Day was celebrated by having a luncheon for all El Paso Pi Beta Phis.

GEORGIANN BURDICK HALLA

FRESNO

The Fresno Alumnae Club held its first meeting of the year in January at the home of Pauline Hansen. It was a wonderful turn out, with several new members attending.

We had the distinct pleasure of honoring Mrs. J. D. Hare on her eighty-eighth birthday. The group presented her with an orchid. She is one of the oldest living members of Pi Beta Phi, having belonged to I. C. Sorosis, at Monmouth College. Mrs. Hare is a very active person and an inspiration to us all.

The club voted to support the national projects one hundred percent. We are also continuing our Scholarship Fund at Fresno State College, with funds raised through our annual auction sale.

Our Founders' Day was celebrated with a luncheon at the newly completed Sunnyside Country Club.

EVELYN DENNIS SCHWARZ

GLENDALE

The February meeting of the Glendale Alumnae Club was a guest night for daughters at the home of Peggy Forbes Turner. The program was an informal question and answer period with a prominent fashion coordinator as moderator.

Irene Oliver Postel was hostess for the March meeting when Mrs. Herbert Hartley gave a most interesting travelogue on Guatemala. Election resulted in so outstanding a group of officers that next year's success is assured.

Founders' Day Luncheon was held at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, a joint celebration with the other alumnae clubs in the Los Angeles area.

A brief visit in February from our Grand Vice-President, Marianne Wild, was most helpful. The Board gave a luncheon for her, and the only regret was that all the membership could not have had the inspiration of meeting and hearing her. Come again soon, Marianne.

BLANCHE CHARLTON CURTIS

LONG BEACH, CALIFORNIA

The Long Beach Alumnae Club climaxed its 1948 activities with a Christmas party in the lovely home of Laura Barr. A Christmas musical program, arranged and conducted by our talented Louise Malin, formerly of Long Beach, but now of Glendale, was greatly enjoyed. Members donated dolls to be distributed at Christmas to unfortunate children.

Our January meeting was a dessert bridge in the home of Ruth Miller. Plans had been made for the showing of some Settlement School films, but, unfortunately, a heavy rain storm prevented their arrival. A short business meeting was held and plans for a forthcoming rummage sale were discussed. Kathryn Cody Smith will be in charge of the sale.

In February, we had the pleasure of entertaining Marianne Wild at dinner in a private room at the Victor Hugo Restaurant. Her message, delivered in an intimate manner, was an inspiration to all.

We held our traditional Cooky-shine in March, always an informal meeting devoted to singing and pleasant visiting.

HELEN CUNNINGHAM

LOS ANGELES

That the Los Angeles Alumnae Clubs have presented many interesting programs is borne out by the fact that the joint, and individual meetings of our three groups, the Senior, Junior, and Business and Professional, have shown excellent attendance. Our paid members now total over two hundred.

At our luncheon meeting in January we had the great pleasure of hearing one of our Pi Beta Phis, Mary Greer Scarborough, give us her fine reviews of current books. In February, another Pi Beta Phi, Pauline Berg Graves, feature writer for magazines and newspaper, informed us of the trends in her field of interest, home decoration. Mrs. Edward Carter was the hostess and a lovely Valentine tea was served.

We were honored to have Marianne Reid Wild, Grand Vice-President, as our guest at our March tea at the home of Mrs. Herbert Webb. Mrs. Wild's inspiring talk brought us up to date on extension, as well as the national activities of the fraternity. We were fortunate to have Olga Siburg, Mu Province President, with us for the same meeting and enjoyed her report on the active chapters.

The Pasadena Alumnae Club was host for the Founders' Day luncheon held at the Huntington Hotel. The beautiful outdoor setting and excellent program made a memorable day for the hundreds of Pi Beta Phis of the Southern California Area clubs and active chapters who attended.

The volunteer program for our local philanthropy, the Crippled Children's Society, is increasing steadily. The opportunity to assist in the work with crippled children has a great appeal and Pi Beta Phis are giving hundreds of hours each month to help with their program.

ANNE JENKINS SCHERING

MARIN COUNTY

The January meeting of the Marin County Alumnae Club was held at the home of Mrs. F. T. Fogarty. Plans were formulated for our club to be hostess at a Panhellenic tea this spring. We are in hopes that Marin's first Panhellenic Association can be formed. A representative from the Berkeley Panhellenic will be present to help organize the group.

Mrs. John George was hostess at the February meeting. Plans were made for members of the Marin Club to attend the Founders' Day Luncheon in April which was held in San Francisco. Our Golden Arrow member, Mrs. Franklin Smith, was one of the honored guests.

The Marin County Pi Beta Phis looked forward to a visit from our Grand Vice-President, Marianne Reid Wild, who was the guest of honor at a March luncheon at the home of Mrs. George Stapleton in Ross. Election of new officers was scheduled for this meeting.

Founders' Day breakfast in April was at the home of our president, Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain. A May luncheon will be at Mrs. Merritt Webster's; and a barbecue in June at the home of Mrs. Eugene Robinson.

Our meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month and all Pi Beta Phis in Marin County are cordially invited to attend.

MEREDITH LUTHER

ALBUQUERQUE

The January meeting of the New Mexico Alumnae Club was held at the home of Carolyn Harris McDonough. Following the business meeting a Loyalty Day talk was given by Mrs. McDonough.

Plans for the observance of Founders' Day in charge of June Maust Novak were made at the February meeting held at the home of Mayme Ross Meier, and it was decided to have a covered dish dinner at the Y.W.C.A. jointly with the active chapter members from the University of New Mexico.

A rummage sale in charge of Helen Kuver Hooper was held early in March, the proceeds to go to the building fund of the active chapter. The regular March meeting was held at the home of Mary Moulton Lovelace.

In April Pi Beta Phi and $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ were in charge of a dessert bridge for members of City Panhellenic, with Jean Meier, Panhellenic representative, as chairman for Pi Beta Phi. The Founders' Day dinner took the place of the April meeting, and the final meeting in May was at the home of Helen Hooper.

The active chapter and alumnae club are planning a spring chuck wagon dinner, square dance and cake walk, for which tickets will be sold, for the purpose of raising money for the building fund.

JEAN MEIER

PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

The Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club of Palo Alto enjoyed the visit of Marianne Reid Wild on Saturday, March 5. Mrs. Wild was honored at a luncheon at Ramor Oaks, where the Burlingame and San Jose chapters joined us.

On March 10 the club presented Mrs. Atha Hillback, play reader, at the home of Mrs. John Davenport. The play was "Streetcar Named Desire." Tea was served to approximately 100 guests.

Our January meeting, a dinner dance at Moffett Field for 20 couples, was held on January 29. Preceded by a gay party at the Paul Manning's, the dance was voted a huge success and plans have already been made to hold such a post-holiday gathering next year.

An evening dessert and business meeting was held February 17 at the home of Mollie Wand Means. Election of officers took place and plans were discussed for our part in the fund drive for a Home for Pi Beta Phis.

MARGARET MULLEN

PASADENA

The Pasadena Club was fortunate enough to have the pleasure of a visit from Marianne Reid Wild, Grand vice-President, for the February meeting, which was held at the home of Betty Cerini, Pasadena Alumnae Club president. Mrs. Wild gave a most informative and very enjoyable talk, and everyone present counted herself lucky to be present for such an occasion.

Our next momentous event was the night of March 14, at which time we took over the Pasadena Playhouse for a benefit. It was a real occasion, for the play was "Elizabeth the Queen," with the illustrious Jane Cowl as its star.

Founders' Day was a Southern California Area one which took place on April 30 at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, as it did last year. We again had as fine an attendance.

May will see installation of officers, with Mrs. Rockwood Nelson of San Marino acting as hostess for that meeting.

In June we are planning an out door barbecue with our husbands as our guests, in the attractive Altadena patio of our well-known Maudie Prickett. Maudie's parties are always fun, so even our husbands are looking forward to this one!

AGNES E. DOWNER

PHOENIX, ARIZONA

The alumnae club of Phoenix enjoyed the visit of the Grand Vice-President, Marianne Reid Wild, on February 20. She was only able to stay for one day. During that time she had a luncheon meeting with the executive committee at the Cathay Gardens and a tea was held at the Valley Garden Center for her. At the tea she was able to meet the Panhellenic representatives and all the club members. Her charm captured everyone as she explained colonization.

The next meeting of the club will be at Virginia Miller Scott's. Mrs. Milton G. Sanders will give a talk on flower arrangements. The election of officers will be held. Founders' Day was observed April 28. In May we will have our Settlement School tea at Alice Pafford's home.

MRS. WILLIAM PORTER

RENO, NEVADA

At the last several alumnae meetings our club has been lucky enough to have some former members back with us. Two of the most interesting, Evelyn Semenza Honts and Ruth Clarke, have both been traveling in Europe and gave our club vivid descriptions of the sights they saw and the things they did while across. Evelyn, who has served the last twenty-six months as a recreational director with the army's special services branch in Germany, is now on a recruiting tour of the western states, seeking additional recreational personnel for the European theater. While in Europe, Evelyn was club director and supervisor of several clubs in Germany including the Eagle Club in Wiesbaden, the largest service club in Germany. Ruth, taking time off from her movie work in Hollywood, took a pleasure trip to Europe which included an audience with the King of England. Her descriptions of the royal family, Churchill, and the royal palace were very interesting to us.

We will miss one member, Charlotte Johnston, who has moved to Montgomery, Ala., to be with her husband, a Lt. Colonel in the Army Air Force, who will attend war college in Montgomery.

BETTY TRACY

SACRAMENTO

Our March meeting was a high spot on the club calendar because Grand Vice-President, Marianne Reid Wild, visited in Sacramento, and the members met her at a Brunch March 11, at the home of Pete Hamilton. We were all delighted that she included this club on her trip.

In early April our spring sale of Settlement School articles was held and members asked friends. Approximately one thousand dollars has been grossed from the sale of these articles already this year and we hope to increase this amount by another several hundred dollars.

Founders' Day celebration was an evening Cooky-shine. Our club activities for the year will be completed when the annual picnic is held at the Robie Ranch in Auburn, Calif., with husbands and escorts as guests. Mr. and Mrs. Robie entertain with such wonderful western hospitality that it is one of those "we wouldn't miss it for anything" affairs!

MARY ALLEN DAVIS (MRS. HAL G.)

SAN DIEGO

The San Diego Alumnae Club held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. T. J. Carter at the Naval Training Center. The program was dedicated to chapter loyalty, and Maxine Stanford presented an interesting talk on the life of Carrie Chapman Catt. She also suggested ways in which the club could prove its loyalty.

The February meeting proved to be a memorable one, the club being privileged to receive simultaneous visits from the Grand Vice-President, Marianne Reid Wild, and from Anne Guthrie, former YWCA observer on the United Nations. These guests and the club's officers met first at Mary Schmitt's for a buffet supper, from there joining the rest of the club for the regular meeting at Kathleen Bach's home. Mrs. Wild's talk on many phases of Pi Beta Phi was truly inspirational, as was Miss Guthrie's informal discussion of the United Nations Assemblies she has attended.

New officers for the coming club year were elected at the March meeting held at the home of Esther Jenkins. Founders' Day was celebrated the following month by a luncheon planned by Agnes Child.

BETTY K. TINKER (MRS. W. R.)

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

The 1948-49 year of the San Fernando Valley Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club has been a full one. One of the highlights of the year was a barbecue held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pyle. It was the first affair that the husbands had attended and we all had a wonderful time and intend to make it a yearly affair. There was swimming, badminton, dancing, and cards for entertainment.

The club members have all been helping with the Los Angeles Area Council's philanthropy, the Crippled Children's Home. There was the Bazaar at the home in October, where this year we were in charge of the candy booth. For the past two years the proceeds of the bazaar have gone to purchase station wagons for the home. Since the bazaar the members have given of their time to help with therapy work, the Christmas parties, and anything else that is asked of them.

The programs have been varied and interesting, ranging from social evenings to talks on flower arranging, interior decorating and a play reading by Maudie Prickett, a Pasadena Alumnae Club member and a very well known Southland Pi Beta Phi and radio and screen actress.

At present the club has just finished working on a rummage sale, their ways and means project for the year and it was a tremendous success. Also in March was the Guest Day tea at the Delta house on the U.C.L.A. campus. At that time Mary Scarborough gave us one of her sparkling book reviews and the Settlement School articles were on display.

SAYRE W. LAWRENCE

SAN FRANCISCO

The San Francisco Alumnae Club met in January at the Sea Cliff home of Mildred Metzner Mettler. A discussion was held with reference to the club's acceptance of a local charitable project. The program did honor to the memory of Carrie Chapman Catt.

In February Wilma Grace Logan entertained the club at her home. Plans were made toward the sponsorship of a lecture with Anne Guthrie as speaker. Miss Guthrie, a California A, is an internationally known leader in Y.W.C.A. work as well as world traveler and lecturer. We were privileged to have as our guest at this meeting, Mrs. Estelle Carlson, who represented International House at the University of California, Berkeley. Mrs. Carlson explained to us the Foreign Loan Fund, its purpose and the manner in which it functions.

On Sunday, March 6, we welcomed our Grand Vice President, Marianne Reid Wild, to San Francisco and honored her at breakfast at the Olympic Country Club, followed by a tour of the city.

At our March meeting we had as our guest, Miss Rose Resnick, representing the Recreation For The Blind, Inc., who showed her film of the summer camp for blind children and explained the need for assistance in this work.

Founders' Day was observed in April with a luncheon at the Palace Hotel, and our club will close its year with the traditional Cooky-shine.

HELEN MULDOON BURESH

SAN JOSE

The San Jose Alumnae club met with Mildred McKee in January. Two delegates from the group have been active in helping to organize a city Panhellenic. Over $575 has been taken in from the sale of Arrowcraft articles.

In February the club met at the home of Louise Woolf. Ida Karsten reported that magazine orders amounted to $300. The members are cooperating with the Pi Beta Phi Area Council and the Panhellenic group in helping to support philanthropic projects, besides aiding a Latvian family which is enroute to this country.

Two new members have recently been welcomed to the club, Mary Whittaker, Louisiana B, and Mary Callan, Washington P.

The club met with other alumnae clubs in the area at a luncheon for Marianne Wild, Grand Vice President, on March 5.

RUTH WOOD

SAN MATEO COUNTY

The San Mateo Country Alumnae Club met in January at the home of Kathleen Day and decided to assist a needy family in a neighboring community.

Canned goods and clothing were brought to the February and March meetings held at the homes of Ada Jones and Kathryn Hockey.

On March 5, the club joined the Palo Alto and San Jose Alumnae Clubs in honoring Marianne Wild, Grand Vice President, at a luncheon at Ramor Oaks.

In April, in addition to participation in the San Francisco celebration, the club observed Founders' Day at a luncheon at the Menlo Country Club. Laura Means and Ada Wilson, Golden Arrow members, were specially honored.

Through the efforts of Kathleen Day, calendar sales chairman, $85 was added to the treasury.

ALEXIA McCARTY DRAPER

SANTA BARBARA

The Santa Barbara Alumnae Club enjoyed their December meeting with a luncheon at the Montecito Country Club. There were several Pi Beta Phis present from the Los Angeles area.

January found the group meeting at the home of Mrs. H. V. Doolittle. Plans were made for entertaining members of area council when they held their January meeting in Santa Barbara. The latter meeting was at the Hope Ranch home of Mrs. Harry Jackson, and was attended by representatives of many alumnae clubs of southern California.

Mrs. C. C. Christiansen was hostess to our club in February when we gave recognition to our many new alumnae members of the past year. The club enthusiastically planned for the March meeting when our Grand Vice President, Marianne Wild, was with us. Our Settlement School Chairman raffled off a beautiful ten dollar shawl at the close of the meeting.

In April the Santa Barbara club had its annual rummage sale. We are looking forward to a most successful and happy spring season.

MARTHA POLLITT

SANTA MONICA-WESTWOOD

We have had evening meetings each month in the homes of members, with a good attendance. In February we had the pleasure of having Marianne Wild, Grand Vice President, with us and received both inspiration and much enjoyment from her visit.

Founders' Day luncheon was again held at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, a celebration combined with other clubs in the Area Council. Our club presented a gift to the outstanding freshman of each of the two chapters, California P and A.

Our president, Katharine Bourne, has headed the newly organized Santa Monica-Westwood Auxiliary to the Metropolitan Area Panhellenic in which thirteen fraternities are represented. We are proud of her work in this connection and grateful for her devotion to the work of our club.

Much research was necessary before the book was completed since it deals with a region and period about which relatively little has been written. Of it the "Colorado Magazine" said: "It is a good book . . . the author writes with fidelity and humor and with a nostalgic yearning that most of us have for the people and region that cradled our youth."

Agnes Wright Spring, herself a Pi Phi and a writer, declared: "Without reservation, it is the most delightfully entertaining 'family story' I have ever read. I think Mrs. Fairfield has established a new pattern for those who are writing historical books. It is like a well-cut stone—with the dry, superfluous bits pared away and only the parts left that reflect real enjoyment to the reader. Her characters are vivid."

The text is interspersed with pioneer photographs and some rare, early scenic views of the Western Slope.

AUTHOR INTEREST: An alumna of Colorado B and past president of the Denver Alumnae Club, Mrs. Fairfield has long been interested in writing. Since the death of her parents, documents have come into her possession which helped her to realize the importance of putting into book form this fragment of the history of the old West.
